ORCHARD FACED CROSS-EXAMINER ON HIS THIRD DAY IN THE WITNESS BOX WITH HIS IRON NERVE UNSHAKEN

Witness was Taken Over His Career From 1899 to 1902 and Admitted He Gambled a Great Deal—Justice Gabbert Says Orchard's Story Fits in with Facts.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Boise, Idaho, June 7.—Haywood, Moyer, and Pettibone spent most of the night with their attorneys going over the transcript of Assassin Orchard's testimony against them and conferring with Attorney Edmund F. Richardson, who is cross-examining the informer to-day.

Orchard is apparently ready for the ordeal. He shows no sign of breaking down. He is endeavoring to send Haywood and his associates to the gallows with the same sang froid with which he assassinated a score of men, and then told of his acts without a tremor in his voice, a change of tone or the suspicion of repentance or regret.

Orchard is a nondescript without conscience, without imagination, without sentiment, and always emotionless. He stands cross-questions with the same mien that carried him through two days of friendly interrogation by Prosecutor Hawley.

BIG VERBAL DUEL ON.

To-day is the beginning of the long siege to break down the State's chief witness. It will be a hard fight between him and Richardson—a contest of cunning versus intelligence. That it will be an antagonistic contest is certain.

Orchard is free and apparently frank in all his replies to the defence, but he is also sarcastic and facetious. Richardson is not trying to lead him nor cajole him into contradictions, but is assailing his testimony, attempting to annihilate it completely.

Hawley is guarding Orchard's recital zealously and he makes frequent objections to Richardson's tactics.

CONFESSION HAUNTED HEARERS

Awed by the horror of Orchard's confessions, amazed by his heartless descriptions of his assassinations, the spectators and jurors sit waiting to see if he is telling the truth. His statements seem too monstrous to be true; it is almost beyond belief that men like Haywood and Moyer sent him around the country like a commercial drummer, killing any man who was designated, and returning to headquarters for a new assignment to assassinate.

He had not uttered a word that indicated his motive in plying his trade of murder.

He has not professed to have been a zealot. He does not act nor talk like a fanatic, and his statements that he received meagre sums of $50 and $100 for wholesale assassinations seem impossible of having been a sufficient inducement.

He is sinister to the last hair in his head. He shows it in his testimony. He has never pretended a decent impulse, nor claimed to have a motive, good or evil.

The State's officers asseverate that he is entirely sane. Lombroso might find the key to this mysterious creature. No ordinary person can understand him.

Judging from the appearance of the court room and the jail-yard, not much housework is being done in Boise to-day. The cross-examination of Assassin Orchard by Richardson, which is now on, is drawing business men, laborers, army officers and housewives from their various vocations.

HAYWOOD IS COOL, TOO.

Haywood appeared care-free as he sat chatting with his mother before the day's work began. Then he moved to Richardson's side as judge and jury enters. Hawley and Borah are on hand to scrutinize every question that the State's chief witness is called upon to answer.

Orchard was not brought in by his gun-squad until after the court minutes were read. Judge Wood announced that the jurors would be paid from time to time during the trial.

CROSS-EXAMINATION RESUMED.

At the outset of Orchard's cross-examination to-day, he made a few corrections to his previous statement. He had stated he had no partners while in the wood business in Burke, Idaho. There were two men to whom he owed money and to whom he had promised an interest in the business.

Mr. E. F. Richardson, counsel for the defence, then resumed his cross-examination. He asked Orchard if he had gambled considerably while in Idaho and received an answer in the affirmative.

"How did you vote when the unions decided to go to Wardner and blow up the Bunker Hill and Sullivan Mills."

"I do not remember."

Witness said the train which carried the gloting miners to Wardner consisted of 13 cars, freight and passengers.

"Are you sure," asked Mr. Richardson, "that you were not at Burke or Mullan playing poker when this explosion occurred?"

"I am sure. I lit one of the fuses which fired the powder under the mill."

"Did you know Haywood, Moyer or Pettibone at this time?" "No, sir."

"They were not with you at Wardner when the mill was blown up, were they?" "No."

HIS GAMBLING EXPERIENCES.

Orchard said that he left Idaho after the blowing up of the Bunker Hill and Sullivan Mills to avoid arrest. He was taken over the years from 1899 to 1902 in detail, explaining where he worked, where he got his money, and where he went from time to time. Orchard said he worked on an average of ten or eleven months a year in the mines of Utah, Nevada and Arizona. He gambled part of the time.

"Did you lose when you first began to play?" "Not always."

"But you finally got so that the other fellow always lost, didn't you?" "I nearly always lost."

Orchard traced his journeyings from place to place, and admitted that a large percentage of his wages went over the gambling table. He seldom remained more than from one to three months in any mining camp.

Up to the time he went to Colorado in 1902, he had never heard of Haywood, Pettibone, Moyer or Simpkins.

Orchard said he did not hear of Governor Steunenberg's action in suppressing Coeur d'Alene troubles until some time after he left Idaho. It was his own initiative which took him to Colorado. At that time, July or August of 1902, there was no trouble in Cripple Creek. Arriving in Colorado, he went to work in the Trachite mine and renewed his membership in the Federation, joining a local headed by Owen Davis, who had been in charge of the party, which blew up the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mills.

JUSTICE GABBERT AND OTHERS CONFIRM PARTS OF ORCHARD'S STORY.

Denver, Colo., June 7.—Following the testimony of Harry Orchard in the Haywood trial, interviews here with several persons referred to are printed to-day. Supreme Justice Gabbert, who, Orchard says, was the intended victim of a bomb, says that Orchard's testimony fits in with the incidents connected with the killing of Walley. Mrs. James H. Peabody, wife of the former governor, recalls distinctly the night when two men followed her carriage. Jacob Wotten, through whom Orchard said he communicated with Pettibone, vehemently denied the truth of the story.

Max Malich says that Orchard told him he would kill Governor Steunenberg because the latter had prevented him from becoming a millionaire. Orchard reasoned that Steunenberg's request for troops during the Couer d'Alene strike, compelled him to leave the country and to dispose of his interest in the Hercules Mine. The purchasers of the mine afterwards became millionaires.

We Have Gone and Done It Again

in the highest qualities, best make and finish of one of our leading manufacturers. We did not need them; we already had prepared for our season's trade. But the inducement of a very low price for cash and the fact that the goods were made in the latest Young Men's styles from the finest Worsteds and Tweeds, made the offer tempting. The manufacturer wanted money and wanted it quick.

We've got the goods now, and we are going to turn them into money as quick as we can. The quicker we sell them the cheaper we can afford to sell them. So, to make them go quick, we are going to mark them at the lowest prices ever heard of for such high-class goods; in fact, our prices will be just a very little higher than the manufacturer's, and the values will tempt all our customers to buy now.

Our only reason for reducing price is that we bought below regular value, and we want to sell them quick. But you'll save from $3.00 to $5.00 on every suit.

STILL ANXIOUS TO GRATIFY IRELAND

Rejection of Council Bill Will Make No Difference in Government Policy.

London, June 7.—"The foremost Liberal principle of the Government in the administration of Irish affairs is that they should be conducted in accordance with Irish ideas," said the Marquis of Ripon, Lord Privy Seal, and Liberal leader in the House of Lords, speaking last night before the Eighty Club, at the Hotel Cecil. He referred to the withdrawal of Mr. Birrell's Irish Council Bill, and declared it was quite natural that the Nationalists should have rejected the measure, when they honestly believed it would have been an obstacle to their ultimate goal—Home Rule.

The speaker was greatly applauded when he announced that he was a "wholly unrepentent Home Ruler," and said that the rejection of the bill would make no difference in the policy of the Liberals toward Ireland. His party hoped that it might, some day in the near future, be able to effect a permanent settlement of the difficulties in Ireland in consonance with the wishes of a majority of the people of that island.

JAPAN'S HOSTILITY IS POLITICAL MOVE

Special to the Montreal Star.

Tokio, June 7.—Count Okuma's utterances and hostility toward the United States are regarded by Japan's leading statesmen as principally for home consumption and part of the Progressive party's efforts to overthrow the present ministry in the interests of Admiral Yamamoto, navy minister in the last Cabinet, who is now travelling in Europe. The recall of Viscount Aoki, ambassador to the United States, is also one of the Progressives' plans. They desire a more aggressive representative at Washington, and Baron Kaneko is mentioned as his successor. Foreign Minister Hayashi declares the Japanese and American Governments are at one in their views, and there's no likelihood of international complication.

APPEAL TO THE LAST MEASURE.

Tokio, June 6.—The Hochi, which is supporting Count Okuma in his position on the San Francisco question, this morning says: "The San Francisco outrages are worse than the murder of a missionary in China, which resulted in the occupation of Kiao Chow. Who would blame an appeal to the last measure, if an impotency to protect treaty rights is proved. We hope, however, that Ambassador Aoki will be able to make the Washington Government quickly take measures to mete out justice to the Japanese."

MURDER IS FEARED AT MURRAY RIVER

Charlottetown, P.E.I., June 7.—Daniel J. Macdonald, a prominent merchant of Murray River, was found dead about 20 yards from the bridge. He was last seen on Wednesday night when he left the Ross drug store, saying he was going home.

A sailor of the schooner Dictator, lying at the railway wharf, says that some time between ten and eleven he heard a cry of distress from the bridge, but heard no splash. The doctor who performed the autopsy says Macdonald did not drown as there was no water in the lungs. The bridge has a low railing, and it is thought that as the night was dark deceased may have made a misstep and fallen over. Some fear that there has been foul play.

Inquest is now in progress.

Responsibility of Contractors.

In the case of Ware vs. the Dominion Express Company, Mr. Justice Archibald gave judgment for $150 and costs of an action of that class. The main point at issue was the responsibility of the defendant or the contractor. A hole some eighteen feet deep was dug by order of the architects, and it had not been filled up when plaintiff's son fell in and received injuries which form the basis of this action.

SIX BROTHERS HELD FOR CAR ROBBERY

Ranged in Age From Twenty-four to Nine—Youngest Smoked and Drank.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Belleville, Ont., June 7.—Six brothers, Reuben, Charley, Stanley, Tracey, William and George Belch, were charged before Magistrate Masson, the three former with entering and stealing from Grand Trunk cars, and the latter with receiving the goods, knowing them to have been stolen. The youngest was nine years old and the eldest twenty-four years. Grand Trunk Detective Harnott, of Montreal, had a long list of articles missing from cars in the yards here. Reuben, Charles and Stanley pleaded guilty, and the two latter were sentenced to the Industrial School at Mimico for an indefinite period.

Reuben, nine years old, told of drinking whiskey and smoking and chewing tobacco since nearly a year ago, and another little chap, ten years old, told the same story. They were allowed to go home. Tracey Belch was found guilty of receiving stolen goods, and sentence was deferred. The two elder boys were remanded.

CABINET VACANCY WAS NOT FILLED

Special to the Montreal Star.

Fredericton, N.B., June 7.—A caucus of members of the Legislature supporting the Government, held in the executive council chambers last evening, was presided over by Mr. Barnes, of Kent. Matters in connection with the policy of the party were discussed. Premier Robinson said that the vacant portfolio of Attorney-General was not discussed. It is said that J. H. Barry, K.C., of this city, stands a good chance of securing the position. Another name mentioned is Mr. G. W. Allen, M.L.A. for York; Mr. D. J. Purdy, of St. John is a Cabinet possibility.

At the conclusion of the caucus ex-Premier Pugsley entertained the members of the Legislature supporting the Government, and head officials of departments at a farewell dinner at the Queen Hotel. There were more than fifty guests. Dr. Pugsley had on his right Premier Robinson and Speaker Osman, and on his left F. B. Carvell, M.P. for Carleton, and Hon. C. H. Labillois, Surveyor-General Sweeney occupied the vice-chair.

Hon. F. J. Sweeney proposed the health of Dr. Pugsley. The latter, replying, said that he had been a member of the Government since 1857, and had done his best to advance the interests of the Province. He believed that the Government would be sustained when next it appealed to the people.

Venezuela Will Pay Debts.

Caracas, Venezuela, June 7.—President Castro in his message to Congress said that within a short period the claims of Great Britain, Germany and Italy, which were given preference at The Hague, would be fully paid. As soon as these were settled, the appropriation to meet them would be employed to pay the remaining claims against Venezuela.

THE WEATHER

PROBABILITIES FOR THE NEXT 24 HOURS.

Fair and a little warmer to-day and Saturday.

Slowly but surely the weather cycle is moving. Yesterday the West was sweltering in the intensity of a 75 degree heat, while we and our friends in Hogtown and Bytown had a rather shivery feeling. But "a little warmer" is now the foreword. We will soon have our sufficiency. So if that be any consolation, take comfort.

MRS. GOULD'S CASE AGAINST HUSBAND

Serious Charges Made Which Counsel for Defence is Prepared to Deny.

New York, June 7.—The case of Mrs. Howard Gould, who has instituted suit for a separation from her husband, Howard Gould, was commenced yesterday.

The grounds on which Mrs. Gould is suing her husband, as shown by parts of the complaint read by counsel for Mrs. Gould, are, first, abandonment of Mrs. Howard Gould by her husband; second, that the habits and conduct of Mr. Gould were such that it was impossible for his wife to live with him; third, that since last September he neglected his wife and refused to provide for her, except paying for her support at a New York hotel since then; fourth, that Gould treated his wife with extreme cruelty, employed spies to harass her, caused her mail to be tampered with, was immoral and employed an ex-convict and several detectives to procure improper evidence against her.

Delancey Nicoll, who argued the case for Mr. Gould, said that every allegation against him would be denied when the answer to the suit was filed. He maintained that the charges, which he characterized as scandalous and irrelevant, did not tend to support the allegation of cruelty.

In replying to Mr. Nicoll's argument, Clarence Shearn, counsel for Mrs. Gould, said that if the defence asked for a bill of particulars, specific charges would be made of so serious a character that he would not presume to mention them in court in the course of his argument.

BARTLS' FIGHT TO EVADE LAW

Millionaire Brewer Using Every Means to Escape Extradition.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Welland, Ont., June 7.—There were further indications yesterday of the strenuous fight which Millionaire Herman Bartis, of Syracuse, N. Y. will put up to save himself going back to New York State to serve a sentence for attempting to burn one of his breweries, at Auburn, N. Y., at the risk of great loss of human life.

H. H. Dewart, K. C., of Toronto, counsel for the prisoner, held that the perjury charge upon which the New York State authorities sought to extradite Bartis was too flimsy for a British court to consider. In his trial he had given evidence in his own behalf, and had been asked if he knew Martin Wittig, the fire bug, who, it is said was engaged to fire the building. Bartis said he didn't know Wittig, and that constituted the commission of perjury charge against him.

It is stated by state officials from Auburn that Bartis has practically spent his big fortune, and has comparatively little left. The judge promised to give his desision on Saturday.

Improved Mail Service Desired.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ottawa, June 7.—A deputation fifty strong waited on Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, and asked for a service of two mails a day on the Ottawa and New York railway. The deputation was headed by Col. McMillan, of Harrison, and G. C. Smith, president of the Cornwall Board of Trade.

Public Utilities Bill Passed.

Albany, N.Y., June 7.—The much discussed Public Utilities bill is now a law, having been signed by Governor Hughes to-day. It was repassed by both Houses over the veto of Mayor McClellan, of New York city, and reached the executive chamber late yesterday afternoon. The Governor filed no memorandum with the bill.

The party will leave Bonaventure Station, Montreal, Monday morning, June 10th, at ten o'clock, and will visit Ottawa, Brockville, at which point steamer will be taken for the trip through the Thousand Islands to Kingston, where train will be awaiting to convey the distinguished party to Niagara Falls. After spending a few hours at the great cataract sight seeing, the party will leave for Toronto, arriving there at 2.55 p.m., June 12th, remaining in Toronto until the following morning at 11 o'clock, when the journey to the Pacific Coast will be continued over the Northern Division of the Grand Trunk via North Bay.

The principal stations along the line will be profusely decorated, the Imperial colors, scarlet and white, predominating and British and Japanese flags in profusion. In connection with this important tour the Grand Trunk will present His Imperial Highness and suite with a set of souvenir books descriptive of the railway and country, through which he will pass, and richly bound in handsome covers. They will include the following:—

An Annotated Timetable, printed on hand-made antique paper, enhanced with a series of illustrations in colors printed by the Prisma Print process. This Timetable will give the names of every station passed, with descriptive notes regarding the interesting features on route, the time of the train at each station, the interesting features en ruote, the time of the train at each station, the altitude above sea level at each point, population and distance from Montreal. The whole will be enclosed in a handsome crimson French smooth calf cover richly engrossed in gold with a handsome title, including the Coat-of-Arms of Japan, and the word "Welcome" in Japanese characters. The inside of the covers will be lined with white watered silk and include pockets containing a map of the Grand Trunk Railway System and a map of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, both mounted on silk and bound in solid Morocco covers, with the titles printed in gold on each cover.

Another book will be a history of the old Victoria Tubular Bridge, with interesting descriptive information regarding same, as well as a story of the Victoria Jubilee Bridge, together with prints in half-tones of both bridges direct from photographs. This souvenir is a very handsome one, bound in real Russia leather.

Another souvenir of the tour will be an illustrated description of Niagara Falls and vicinity, beautifully gotten up in Japanese style, the text being printed on double pages on special Japanese paper, the illustrations being half-tones from photographs interspersed with the reading matter, tipped in at their proper places. The book is bound in ooze calf, Roycrofters style, the title being in gold.

Still another book will contain a handsome series of half-tone prints reproduced direct from photographs of scenes along the line of the Grand Trunk Railway System. This book will contain sixty-four beautiful scenes, giving the Prince an idea of the beauty spots that are to be found in Eastern Canada. This book is bound in a scarlet Morocco title page, being stamped in gold with the Japan Coat-of-Arms, the Grand Trunk trade mark and the word "Vistas."

Everything that will tend to make the tour over the Grand Trunk Railway System a pleasant one has been done, and will be carried out in the admirable way for which the company are noted for doing things.

Mr. H. R. Charlton will be the official representative of the Grand Trunk who will accompany the Imperial party while on their lines.

Permanent Shapeliness in Outing Suits

There is only one thing that can make an Outing Suit hold its shape. That's hand tailoring.

Summer Tweeds and Worsteds, Flannels and Serges, must be moulded in shape by hand—and held in shape by hand stitching—in order to stay in shape.

Best and Safest Light for Country Homes

There's no artificial light made to-day that can begin to compare with a Beck-Iden Acetylene Lamp for use in country homes.

They can knock the lamp over and break it, but it cannot explode—nor cause fire, as the light would be immediately extinguished.

Although a comparatively new light, it is now recognized by insurance companies as being the safest artificial illuminant in use to-day.

This is a great feature in its favor, as insurance agents are usually strongly prejudiced against new lights.

For full descriptions, cost of light per hour, etc., write for booklet.

Cases in Supreme Court.

Ottawa June 7.—The case of Robinson vs. Scott, in the Supreme Court, was concluded and judgment reserved.

The court took up the case of Sinclair vs. the Town of Owen Sound. The proceedings were to quash the local option by-law. The question raised was whether a voter at the election on the by-law had one vote only or a vote in each ward in which he had property. Justice Maybee had quashed the by-law, but his judgment was reversed by the Exchequer division, whose decision was affirmed by the Court of Appeal, Judge Meredith dissenting.

THE LOSING HABIT IS GETTING CHRONIC

Mr. Kittredge Bumped Again at Newark After a Hard Day's Work—Some Record Long Distance Throwing Performances.

Making another pleasing effort to get into last place, Mr. Kittredge and his employes dropped a contest to Newark.

It will be observed from the detailed description of the wreck that Ms Hughes exploded at an early stage, while Mr. Herbst, his successor, failed to stop the enemy from its enthusiastic advance.

If Mr. Kitredge intends to win the pennant this year there is no time like the present to start and get busy.

The other teams are fast disappearing over the horizon on a mad gallop.

When Mr. Kittredge's band of brigands gets back to Montreal the Star will possibly furnish a ball throwing contest, providing visiting teams think they have a long distance flinger who can trim our Mr. Madigan.

There is a deep rooted impression locally that Mr. Madigan can stand in right field and hit a man in the coco in the Hochelaga car shops.

For many years John Hatfield, an old ball player held the record by hurling the sphere 133 yards, 1 foot and 1 1-2 inches.

Then Ed. Crane came along, in 1884, and made the startling heave of 135 yards.

These are the only two official performances worthy of a sudden shower of bouquets.

Some enterprising king of romance says that Mr. Crane threw a ball 139 yards at Pendleton, Ohio, but the man who held the tape measure was an escaped porch climber and the powers frowned upon the figures when there was a request to perpetuate them in history.

The claim is made to-day that the best living heaver is Mr. Pat Dougherty, of the Chicago Americans.

Mr. Dougherty modestly announces that he once threw a ball 132 yards in Boston, but while his wing has lost its cunning during the fleeting years, Mr. Dougherty's nerve is intact, and he announces that with a heave of 125 yards he can beat all comers.

Mr. J. Dunn, the well and unfavorably known Baltimore soprano, is out with the official announcement that he has the best pitching staff in the Eastern League.

In Mr. J. Dunn's twirling menagerie are Messrs. Burchell, Van Anda, Adkins, Taren, McCloskey, and Hardy.

Mr. J. Dunn made the alarming announcement on Tuesday.

On Wednesday, which, as everyone knows, is the day after Tuesday, the Buffalo team hammered the daylights out of Messrs. Van Anda and McClosky, collected 16 hard biffs from their slants, and beat them 14 to 2.

new first baseman, second baseman, third baseman, three new outfielders four fresh pitchers and two new catchers and it will have a fine team.

Newark has made more double plays than any other team in the Eastern league.

What Chicago did to Mathewson was plentiful in the extreme.

Bob Wood, who caught the game Toronto played in Montreal, has been released.

Wood was about ready to grow a crop of grey whiskers when he quit the game. He has been playing baseball for 23 years, and when Manager Kelley gave the 23 signal he lit out.

Mr. Wood has salted some coin away, owns a farm at Girard, Ohio, and intends to settle down there and grow onions for the export trade.

The greatest first basemen in captivity to-day are Chase, of New York, Donohue, of the Chicago Americans, Chance, of the Chicago Nationals, and Tenney, of Boston.

Yesterday he shot a ball out with the home run tag on it, and it was captured by a robber named Jones.

Several times at Atwater Park Kit thumped out long drives that were nailed by the enemy.

There is one prominent difference between Kittredge and Dooley. When Kittredge loses he doesn't always blame it on the Ump.

BEAUTIFUL CATCH SAVED NEWARK

Special to The Montreal Star.

Newark, June 7.—A sensational running catch by Jones, in the ninth inning of Kittredge's long fly, saved the day for Newark here yesterday afternoon, and the Royals went down to defeat by the score of five to three. Hughes, who went on the firing line for Montreal nine, lasted one inning when the locals got a start good enough to beat the visiting team. Herbst, who replaced Hughes in the second session, was pounded hard enough where hits meant runs.

When the Canadian batsmen located McCarthy's puzzlers, Burnham replaced the youngster with Pardee and the veteran held the opposing batter safe for the balance of the game, aided by good fielding of the locals.

McCarthy weakened in the sixth inning, and the men from over the border had a run in at his curves. Joyce was passed, Phalen singled, but Joyce was caught out trying to reach the third sack. Connor's two sacker to right field brought Phalen and Morgan over the pass, and Hill's hit to left field tallied Connor, making the score even up. Montreal never scored again.

The sailors pushed Muller across the home plate in their half of this round, on a base on balls and a two sacker by Zacher. Newark clinched the game in the seventh session on a single, and errors by Herbst and Needham.

In the ninth with one down, Hill and Brown singled and Kittredge drove a long fly between left and centre field. It was easily Zacher's ball, but the centre guardian fell and the runner tore for home plate. In the meantime Jones had started for the ball and just got under it in time. He hurled to Mullen and the latter doubled Brown.

Buffalo Winning.

Baltimore, June 7.—The Buffalo bunch gave as aggressive and scientific an exhibition of baseball as was ever seen on the local grounds yesterday, and as a result defeated the Orioles 8 to 4. The Bisons went at both pitchers, Hardy and Adkins like demons, with the result that Hardy was relieved in the fourth, and Adkins was put on the run in the seventh. Score:

SLUGGING WON GAME FOR JERSEY CITY

Special to The Montreal Star.

Jersey City, June 7.—Seven is Larry Hesterfer's unlucky number. With six consecutive victories to his credit, the former Newark twirler aided and abetted by his fellow-members of the Toronto Club, tackled the Skeeters yesterday.

He was pie for them, however, and lost the game in the first inning, when his old-time enemies obtained three runs. After Clement retired, Bean waited and walked. Larry being unable to locate the rubber. Halligan slammed the ball for two bases, scoring Bean. Hanford also waited and walked, and Keister went out on a fly, but Merritt connected with the ball and smashed it to the left field fence, sending Halligan and Hanford in with the second and third runs. Merritt made a desperate effort to win one of the five dollar gold pieces offered by the Jersey City Evening Journal for a home run, but he was nipped at the plate.

In the fourth inning another Skeeter scored, Keister making the circuit on a single, a steal, Merritt's sacrifice and Frick's juggle of Santelle's bounder.

School-boy playing gave the Toronto's a boost in the fifth. Whiting became wild and walked Frick, and Bean fumbled Carrigan's grounder and lost a chance to make a double play. Vandegrift, who relieved McManus after the latter had a finger smashed by Conners foul tip, held Hesterfer's bunt, filling the bases. Thoney's hit to the pitcher forced Frick at the plate. Whiting became nervous and walked Connor, Carrigan scoring the first run for the Canadians. Kelley proved himself the man of the hour by smashing the ball to left for two bases and scoring two more runs.

In the sixth the Skeeters again pulled away from the visitors, after Hanford rapped a two-bagger over third base, Hesterfer decided he was all to the bad and he walked off the field. Rudolphe tried to pull the game out of the fire, but his curves were easily straightened out by the Jerseymen. Hanford took third on Keister's sacrifice and scored on Merritt's out to right field.

The Skeeters fattened their score by three in the seventh inning, on hits by Vandegrift, Clement and Halligan, and another bad error by Frick.

Still another run was obtained by the Skeeters in the eighth, on Merritt's hit, Santelle's out to centre and Vandegrift's two-bagger.

CHICAGO AGAIN TRIMS NEW YORK

Special to The Star.

Chicago, Ill., June 7.—To the great joy of another standing-room-only crowd of baseball enthusiasts, Chicago yesterday afternoon again defeated the New York giants, this time to the score of 3 to 2.

The attendance was 18,000, and included Mayor Busse, Corporation Counsel Brundage, Commissioner of Buildings Downey and other City Hall celebrities, who cheered with the rest of the merry villagers whenever the local players at bat stung the McGinity's deliveries.

The first two innings were lacking in runs and features with the exception of a high jump in the air by Dahlen, in Chicago's half of the second, which put a stop to the activity and usefulness of a heavy line drive by Steinfeld.

In the third Taylor beat bad, bounded over McGinnity's head, but was forced when Slagle hit to McGinnity, Dahlen taking the throw. Slagle was caught stealing by a throw from Bowerman to Dahlen, Randall walked, and on pretty single to short to third. Shannon let the ball get through him, and Randall came home, sliding under a great throw by Seymour to the plate.

Sheckard reached third on the play. Chance drew a pass. Steinfeld then hit ball that bounded back from McGinnity to the plate. McGinnity tried to scoop the ball to Bowerman, but Sheckard slid under him, and put over the second run of the inning. Hoffman went out on a throw from McGann to McGinnity.

In the fourth, Shannon, Browne and Devlin passed out in one-two-three order; then Evers came to bat for Chicago and beat out a bad bounder to Devlin. Kling bunted a pop fly to McGinnity, and Taylor hit to right, sending Evers to third. The infield came in, but McGinnity walked Slagle, filling the bases.

A long fly by Randall to Browne scored Evers and Taylor, and Slagle moved a notch on the throw home. Then Sheckard popped to Dahlen, and Chicago retired with the score 3 to 0.

The score was still the same when New York came to bat in the eighth inning. Bowerman singled to centre, and McGann followed suit, Bowerman going to third, and McGann to second on a bad throw-in by Slagel. Dahlen then singled, scoring Bowerman and McGann. Corcoran sacrificed, and Strang, who batted for McGinnity flied to Slagle. Shannon walked and Browne filed to Slagle. The Giants gave up the ghost. Score:

Two Bouts End In a Draw.

New York, June 7.—Willie Lewis and Jack Robinson, of Chicago, fought a six-round draw at the Sharkey Athletic Club last night. Lewis seemed anxious to end the fight early, and waited to put the sleep-producer over. Robinson took advantage of this and jabbed his left into Lewis' face many times, getting a few returns. In the closing round Lewis started to rush matters, and landed several hard rights to the body, evening things up, and the bout ended in a good draw.

In the other star bout, Frankie Madden and Bert Keys fought six rounds to a draw, neither doing any damage.

LOTS OF ENTRIES FOR TORONTO MEET

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, June 7.—Additional entries for the Canadian Amateur Athletic Association championships at the island were received by Secretary Crow yesterday, which increases the number of competitors to an even hundred with about twice that number of entries, which is the largest entry list ever known in an athletic meet in Canada.

The order of the programme will be as follows:

Event No. 1, two mile race, special for Indians; 2, 100 yard dash, trial heats; 3, half mile run; 4, 100 yard dash, finals; 5, half mile bicycle race, trial heats; 6, 120 yard hurdles; 7, one mile run; 8, 440 yards run; 9, half mile bicycle race, finals; 10, 220 yard dash, trial heats; 11, two mile walk; 12, 220 yard dash, finals; 13, five mile run; 14, one mile relay race, four men each running 440 yards; 15, three mile run, special matched race between Longboat and Nebrich; 16, running high jump; 17, running broad jump; 18, pole vault; 19, 16-pound shot put; 20, 16-pound hammer throw; 21, discus throw.

The field events and the track events will be conducted simultaneously on account of the large number of entries.

MOUNT ROYAL TENNIS CLUB.

Grand Opening and Tea Will Take Place To-morrow.

Invitations have been issued by the officers of the Mount Royal Tennis Club for the opening tea of the new club. All members and their friends are cordially invited to be present at this function, which will take place to-morrow afternoon.

This club is very much larger than anything of its kind in Canada, and will be very popular with the tennis-playing world of Montreal. All of the nine beautiful grass courts will be open for play and a keen afternoon's fun is anticipated. This club was somewhat of an experiment when started, but the overwhelming success that has attended the efforts of its directors shows that just such a club was needed here and its future success is now guaranteed. The membership list is fast nearing the limit of 100 men, and prospects are that tennis is coming in here again with a rush. In another year it is the intention of the directors to put up a substantial club house and it will then be Montreal's only real country club within easy reach of the city.

St. Patrick's Harriers.

The St. Patrick's Harriers will hold a run to-morrow night, starting from St. Patrick's school at 7.45 sharp. The school is situated on the corner of Palace and St. Genevieve streets. Another run will be held on Monday evening from the same place.

These will practically be the two last runs before the track meet of the Montreal and District Harrier League, which will be held on June 15th, on the M. A. A. A. grounds, and as the entries for the meet close on Tuesday next, it is important that all members interested be on hand for these two runs.

Opals vs. Gordons.

One of the best games in the Mount Royal Amateur League takes place on Saturday, June 8th, on St. Denis Baseball Park, when Opals and Gordons meet in a scheduled game. Neither team have lost a game, and those who attend will no doubt see an interesting contest. There will be a double-header on above date, Celtics meeting W. M. C. A. at 2 p.m., and Gordons vs. Opals at 4 p.m. The other game scheduled in this league for Saturday, June 8, is Westmount vs. R.R. Y. M. C. A., at Point St. Charles.

Another Double Header.

The double-header on the Star's grounds, at the corner of Boulevard and St. Urbain streets next Sunday afternoon is causing quite a lot of interest, and the matches promise to be very well contested. The first game starts at 1.30 p.m. sharp with the Richmond club, who are now greatly strengthened, as the Stars' opponents, and at 3 p.m., the strong Balmoral nine will try and defeat the Stars, who are now playing very fast ball.

The Westmount Cricket Club meets McGill to-morrow on the College campus. The following men will represent Westmount: R. C. Lawrence, H. J. Dalton, A. Starkey, E. A. Pritchard, C. Scott, E. A. Mahon, R. V. Carleton, W. L. Thom, K. Dowie, A. E. Howell and J. J. Boyes.

Spares—S. Hargreaves, A. B. Manning and W. Dalton.

Canadian Baseball News.

When the Rock City team and the Montreal Reserves take their places to-morrow, several changes in the line up will be seen.

The official standing published in some papers is not right, the Reserves are charged with a loss to Rock City, they did lose to Rock City, but protested the game, because Rock City played Griser, who was and is still under contract to Quebec, the game was annulled and ordered to be played over, so that the Reserves have not lost a game and Rock City have three wins and four losses.

The Nationals go to play Quebec two games, Saturday and Sunday, the team will be very fast and may surprise Quebec, the same as they did Rock City.

Capt. Smith expects to be in the game here against Rock City, taking his place behind the batter.

A Challenge for Boxers.

A man by the name of Frank Ford, who claims to be the 110 lbs. champion boxer of Maine, challenges any man in this city to a boxing match at that weight. He says he has met some of the best men in the United States in that class, and is especially desirous of of meeting Charles Stewart, with whom he fought some time ago.

PROBABLE LINE-UP FOR LACROSSE TO-MORROW

There Will be Junior and Intermediate Games on the M. A. A. A. Grounds, Also the Same Afternoon—Tecumsehs Promise to be Pretty.

The match between Montreal and Tecumseh on the M. A. A. A. grounds tomorrow is a leading topic in sporting circles and with favorable weather, there promises to be a record attendance. The acceptance of the Toronto team's application for membership in the N. L. Union proved a boom to lacrosse last year, but this year the reported strength of these two teams promises to make the present season the best in the history of the game. Certainly no Toronto team for years, has stirred up the enthusiasm that is in evidence over the coming visit of the Tecumsehs.

The Tecumseh team is comprised of the best material available in the West and Charlie Querrie's bunch will take a lot of beating. The defence is the heaviest in the league, the field is very fast, and the home is made up of five men of stalky build, besides being fast and very accurate in their shooting for goals. Murton, Durkin and Querrie are first-class home men, and Graydon, although a defence player, is evidently fitting in nicely at the inside home position.

The Montreal team completed practice last evening, and it is hoped that the members of the team on the injured list will be able to take their places to-morrow. Barney Dunphy, who has been under the weather, has been in attendance all week, and with Roddy Finlayson assisting, has worked a marvellous improvement in the team, so much so, that the boys feel that they will give a very good account of themselves to-morrow.

It is expected that the two teams will line up as follows:—

Tecumseh.	Montreal.
Clark.....Goal..	..Muir
Griffiths.....Point..	Haynes
Davidson.....Cover point..	G. Finlayson
Stewart.....1st defence... ..	Neville
Rountree.....2nd defence..	Angus
Felker.....3rd defence..	R. Finlayson
Pickering.....Centre,.	Nolan
Querrie.....3rd home..	Povey
Adamson.....2nd home..	Hamilton
Murton.....1st home..	Dade
Durkin.....Out home.. ..	McGuinness
Graydon.....In home..	H. Scott

Aid. O'Connell will be referee and Mr. Tom Moore will be judge of play, both of Shamrocks.

The junior game will commence at 2 p.m. sharp and intermediate game will be played immediately after the senior match, besides excellent arrangements have been made to report progress of National-Toronto game and Cornwall-Capital game.

Stewart, Davidson and Griffiths look all to the good on the Tecumseh defence. The Montreal home will certainly have their work cut out for them to beat this trio.

Murton did not go to Australia with the Canadian team, therefore will be on hand to assist the Tecumsehs tomorrow. Murton is one of the best.

The reserve seats have been picked up very rapidly, but Treasurer Davidson says there are a few good seats left yet, besides, if demand warrants the reserve seat sections can be extended.

MARATHON RACE AT CHARLOTTETOWN

Charlottetown, P.E.I., June 7.—The first Marathon Road Race in Prince Edward Island was won yesterday over a course six miles, by Colin McNevin, of the Abegwett Athletic Club, Charlottetown in 33 minutes, 50 seconds. Heavy rain fell during the race making the roads very heavy. The event created great interest. Thousands thronged the course despite the downpour. Harley, of the Victoria Club, Charlottetown, finished second. Peter McDonald, of the Abegwetts, Charlottetown, third. There were ten starters. The course was from the McDonald Consolidated School to Charlottetown. McNevin, aged nineteen, weighs only 110 pounds, the lightest runner in the bunch. He began racing last year, and did a lot of physical training at the Y.M.C.A.

Rosemount Soccer Club.

Members are requested to note that the dressing rooms and gymnasium are now completed and strict training will in future be indulged in. Practice will be held at Mascotte Park, corner of De-Lorimier and Ontario street, on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, from 6 p.m. The trainer and coach will be on the field at that time. The committee is arranging for a visit by the famous Winnipeg Celtic A.F.C., in the early fall. Rosemount have both teams engaged at home on Saturday next. The intermediates play Colonial House and the seniors play Caledonians. On Friday, June 14, a grand concert and ice-cream social will be held at the club rooms, 1044 St. Catherine street east. A host of well-known local talent have kindly consented to appear on this occasion. Spectators are always welcome at practices.

READY FOR CORNWALL AT THE CAPITAL

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ottawa, Ont., June 7.—The Capitals were prevented from holding their scheduled practice this evening by the rain, which came down nearly all day. The players will now be given a final work-out Friday afternoon at the oval. There is no attempt here to hide the fact that the players are not in the best of condition, as the men have not had a full practice since the team returned from England. Many followers of the game and some of the players acknowledge that it is pretty lucky for the Senators that the opening game is on home grounds.

As one of the officers put it, "We should be able to pull out a victory over the Cornwall team on our grounds, and we have two weeks then in which to get ready for Nationals. During that time the executive intend seeing that all the players turn out at practice or there will be something doing."

The officials agreed upon by the two teams are Bob Taylor and Wm. Bramley, both of Montreal.

MONEY INVESTED.

About Six Thousand Dollars Subscribed for Sherring.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Hamilton, Ont., June 7.—The greater part of the money which was subscribed to Wm. J. Sherring, the winner of the Marathon, by the citizens of Hamilton has been invested by the trustees in Dominion Power and Transmission Company's bonds. The amount invested is $5,000, and it will yield $200 per year. There is still a balance to Sherring's credit in the bank of about $1,000.

IS "GRAFT" THE NATIONAL SIN?

The contention of Mr. G. M. Macdonnell, K.C., of Kingston, at the General Assembly yesterday that Canada to-day is not suffering from intemperance to anything like the extent she is suffering from "graft," is, we must not forget, the opinion of a temperance man and a religious leader. Mr. Macdonnell's statement was not made as an attack upon the temperance movement. He is a worker in that "movement," and has no illusions as to the magnitude of the evil against which it is directed. But it has been borne in upon his conscience that "graft" is to-day in Canada an even greater and more menacing evil; and he desires that the General Assembly shall give to this new foe of morality the attention it deserves.

Mr. Macdonnell's protest will strike a note which is already vibrating throughout the country. A new crusade rises before the moral leaders of the Dominion as the necessity of the hour; and the moral people of the community will respond to such signs of an awakening to their more modern duty on the part of these leaders, as has been given by Mr. Macdonnell, with an enthusiasm which will show how widely the need is felt and how deeply the decent men amongst us have been stirred by the revelations which have proven that need. It may take some time for many of our moral leaders to realize that the old battle in favor of common honesty must be fought again. They have for so long regarded that field as won and finally deserted by the enemy that they cannot quite bring themselves to believe that the ultimate wisdom of honesty has once more been challenged.

But, as Mr. Macdonnell says, they have but to "go to Ottawa," or "go to the election courts," or "look at the report of the Insurance Commission" to discover that "we are not an honest people in Canada to-day." This is not a pleasant confession to make; but what is there to be gained by playing the hypocrite and closing one's eyes to plain and pregnant facts? A theory seems to have been born among us and to be acted upon by an astonishing number of people, that it is not a sin to steal from the country. When a man has dealings with the Government—which is simply another name for the representatives of the country—he very often appears to proceed upon the theory that any money which he can "lift" from the overflowing national treasury is so much "found money" which he may carry away with an easy conscience. He would not steal a silver spoon from a neighbor's table; but he would glory in stealing a silver mine or a timber limit or a railway concession or a dishonestly fattened contract from all his neighbors taken collectively as the nation.

On all sides, we find men striving for unearned money. The old test that a man must not take money for which he has not given an honest equivalent, is never thought of now by such an army of people that the Presbyterian Church may well regard the practical abrogation of the eighth commandment as the foremost moral evil of the day against which it should preach. In politics, we see it in its most dramatic form; but the poison has spread far deeper into our commercial life than any political excuse can follow it. The spectacle of public men enriching themselves dishonestly out of the revenues of the State, has apparently been too much for less conspicuous citizens who realise that they may never have a chance to loot the national treasury, but who see no good reason why they should not apply the methods taught them by their great men to the smaller dealings of private life which are within their reach. They have heard for years protests against corruption in high places: but have seen very few of the guilty men punished or compelled to disgorge. What wonder that they have wearied of always shouting themselves hoarse with the protesting and tax-paying public, and have begun to ask themselves whether they would not be better off to join the pilfering and tax-eating few!

It is against such tendencies surely that the Christian Church lives to fight. It is the keeper of the true standards of morality; and, when false standards get in circulation among the people, it is its duty to call their attention again to the true and to point to the penalties which they will suffer if they reject the teaching of the experience of the ages.

THE PLATFORM AND THE PRESS.

Mr. Winston Churchill insisted the other day on the ability of the Radical and Free Trade platform to beat the Conservative and Protectionist press. This remark was called forth by a statement admitting that the press was pretty generally against the Liberal party which made it necessary for that party to find some other means of reaching the people. It is probably not for a journalist to urge in such a connection the posible power of the platform, and it is hardly necessary to point out that only by getting reported in the press can the platform do its best work; but there is no doubt that we are inclined in this generation to neglect the platform as a means of political agitation. We have come to depend almost entirely upon the press.

Yet there is a value in personal contact that the best press in the country cannot give. People ought to have more opportunity to see and hear their public men than they have to-day. Leaders of opinion should come into personal contact with the people whose opinion they seek to lead; and the result would be that the people would know the leaders and the leaders would know the people far better. We are all apt to form wrong impressions of people whom we do not see. No one is more prone to do this than a public man who does his studying of the public in his library. He creates for himself a fancied public which is very apt to be quite unlike the real public, as he would discover if he were to meet it in public meetings face to face.

As for the ability of the platform to beat the press, such a contest can never come off. Both the press and the platform would be very much divided. If, however, the press could be ranged against the platform on an issue to which there were two good fighting sides, it is not at all likely that the appeal to audiences of a thousand or two would run farther than the appeal to audiences of fifty and a hundred thousand at a time. A great speech usually does its best work among those who read it the next day in the papers. Those who go to hear it are very commonly men who agree with the speaker beforehand and who merely desire to have their prejudices rubbed the right way by a skilful hand. But if it is reported in the press, its arguments are laid before thousands of men who either disagree with the thesis or have an open mind; and it is among such that converts are made. If the British Liberal party finds itself weak in its press, it had far better devote some energy to strengthening this arm than to depend upon the extraordinary platform activity of such leaders as Winston Churchill. But it must always be remembered that the press which opposes it in its editorial columns assists it in its news columns; for even this utterance of Mr. Churchill's was reported by the papers he attacked.

JOHN MORLEY AND INDIA.

Hon. John Morley, than whom there is no better Liberal in British politics, is firmly of the opinion that Britain should stay in India. He gives it as his opinion that the educated Hindus who dream that they could carry on the government of the country better than the British do, "could not work it for a week"; and adds decisively that "British rule in India will continue, ought to continue and must continue."

After this, it ought to be impossible for anyone to say that the British Liberals encourage the native agitators in India by supporting their theories and giving them to understand that half the nation is on their side. No Tory Minister could have been more downright or more explicit than John Morley, and John Morley belongs to the left wing of the Liberal party. This being the case, there is no use to discuss for a moment the possibility of Britain withdrawing from India. The nation seems to be a unit against such a policy.

Mr. Morley has doubtless seen that the withdrawal of the British would mean disaster for the people of India. Britain is giving the people immensely better government that they could as yet give themselves, and is moreover keeping off foreign disturbers who would otherwise easily conquer the divided population of India and subject them to exploitation and mis-government which would soon set them longing for the just rule of the British. There is an educated Hindu class today which would like to rule their own people; but there is not the slightest reason for believing that their own people would permit it. Their divisions and their respect for the power behind the British Government make them willing to submit to British rule, but their very divisions would raise up opposition to native rulers, and there would be no army behind the "baboo."

Still, it will be in accordance with permanent British policy for the British Government to endeavor to slowly work the educated natives into the government of the country and so prepare them for genuine "home rule" when the entire nation shall have reached a stage of development to warrant it. An Oriental people must be taught the system of Occidental democratic government before it can be expected to work it. This, doubtless, so good a democrat as John Morley intends to do as rapidly as he may. He will not throw India into confusion by suddenly flinging the reins on its back and bidding it go where it likes; but he will hope to gradually teach it to take its freedom without immediately dashing off across country and smashing the costly carriage behind it to pieces. And this is the only policy for the long future. The time will come when India will take its freedom anyway; and it will be better for India, for Britain, and for the world, if, when that time comes, the Hindus will desire that a British adviser shall continue to sit upon the box.

Col. Rhodes.

Col. Rhodes, of Quebec, says in a brief letter to the press that the gravity of the injury by the Colorado Potato Bug to the potato growers of the province can be best comprehended from the knowledge of the fact that many parishes in the new concessions of the Laurentides depend almost entirely for food on this tuber. A loss of crop would thus precipitate a famine.

THE late Hon. William Rhodes, served for many years as an officer in the British army, retiring in Quebec, where he settled down as a successful agriculturist. He was Commissioner of Agriculture in the Mercier Cabinet from December, 1888, to July, 1890, when he resigned. He was in Ireland at the time of the potato rot and famine, when the people of England, Scotland and the colonies subscribed over twenty million pounds to mitigate the miseries of the poor Irish peasantry in 1847.

Mr. John Dewey, of the Dominion Post Office Department, left Ottawa yesterday morning for Manitoba, on business connected with the increasing of mail facilities to newly settled districts in the Province and North-West Territories.

THE late Mr. Dewey was Chief Inspector of Post Offices for a very long period, and was originally connected with the British Post Office Department, before joining the civil service of the Dominion. He had very much to do in the expansion of the postal system of Canada on proper business methods in the post offices of the large cities and towns.

At a meeting of the County Orange Lodge last night, in the hall, St. James street, the action of Lieut.-Col. McKay, Garrison Artillery, in regard to the volunteers of his command attending the Orange brother's funeral was discussed and condemned. A committee was appointed to draft a petitio nto the Federal overnment on the subject.

THE late Lt.-Col. McKay, who passed away some years ago, was port warden of Montreal. In refusing to permit any man of his corps to attend the Orange funeral, he was fully sustained by the General Commanding and the militia authorities. The military orders and regulations forbid soldiers attending party processions in uniform.

Joseph Mackay.

The corner-stone of the new building for the Protestant Institute for Deaf Mutes, now in the course of erection on the Cote St. Luc Road, by one of our foremost merchants, was laid a few days ago, before a large gathering of friends of the afflicted children.

THE late Mr. Joseph Mackay was the generous, benevolent gentleman who first made the erection of this institution practicable by his beneficent donations of land and money. His brother Edward also assisted, as well as other members of his family, in placing "The McKay Institution," as it is appropriately named, on a sound financial basis. A noble, humane work is being carried on within the walls of the place, for the poor deaf mutes, and since the opening of the institution much success has resulted, most gratifying to the memory of the kind-hearted founder and the friends of the afflicted.

Statue Was Decorated.

To the Editor of the Montreal Star:

Sir,—I read with great interest your very full and graphic account of the ceremony of unveiling the statue of Her late Majesty Queen Victoria and the presentation of same to the city of Montreal thirty-five years ago by the late Lord Dufferin, whose loyal and patriotic speech must have been a great pleasure to hear, and is now a great pleasure for us to read. However, I wish to call your attention to the last paragraph in the item regarding the above. You say: "While the good Queen lived and for some years after her demise, the monument was regularly decorated on the anniversary of her natal day with a beautiful wreath of flowers. Strange to say, and it was remarked by many that last "Victoria Day" the statue was destitute of a single flower, even the Daughters of the Empire and the Army and Navy veterans, let alone the officers and men of the militia and the Mayor and councillors forgot on this important day to place a few flowers on the pedestal. There were plenty of plants in bloom in the city greenhouses for the purpose. It brings to mind the trite saying 'how soon we are forgotten.'" I am quite at one with you, and some of the parties above named should have remembered the day and her statue, but you are slightly in error; the good, old Queen was not entirely forgotten, for one loyal citizen was in Montreal that day and placed a large bouquet of calla lilies, purple and white flowers and ferns, gotten from one of our principal florists.

Ethics and Conventions.

To the Editor of the Montreal Star:

Sir,—Having noticed an "Old Sailor's" injudicious support of the action of two of our irresponsible countrymen in tearing down the U.S. flag on May 24th (in your issue of the 3rd inst.), permit me a word on the subject. As a comrade and member of the sister service to an "Old Sailor" I regret such sentiment should prompt him to support such an unwarrantable action and it appears to me, if an investigation is held, it will be found that no insult was intended to our flag. I am not posted in the laws of international courtesies, but it appears to me the Vice-Consul of any nation is justified in displaying his national colors at the mast-head and any others beneath, as a matter of courtesy. Whether my supposition is correct or otherwise, some of your readers may be able to enlighten me; at any rate, such an unwarrantable action as that performed by those Englishmen should not be supported by members of the British army or navy without Government sanction.

Mount Royal Road Trust.

To the Editor of the Montreal Star:

Sir,—Recently I was approached in regard to helping McGill to rebuild. It has seemed to me that the crying need of the city of Montreal is civilized roads and pathways, and that a far greater benevolence would be the creation of a "Mount Royal Road Trust," formed by a donation of half a million each from ten men such as have helped McGill. To such a "Trust" people of lesser wealth would willingly contribute as to any benevolent obligation. I should. A committee, one from McGill Science, one from Laval Science, one from the Engineers' Society to administer and to engage a competent superintendent of roads to carry out. It is probable that such a "Trust" would bring more prestige, certainly more wealth, to Montreal, than the combined universities of McGill and Laval, for, after all, their benefits are mainly to non-residents.

BABY'S AWFUL MISERY
Eyes Sore and Inflamed and Lashes Fell Out.
SPEEDILY CURED BY CUTICURA

"My little son had an attack of measles which left his eyes in a shocking state. The lids were inflamed and sore, and every lash fell out. They would be stuck in the morning, and bleed when washed, causing untold suffering. I tried everything without success until I got Cuticura, and with the first application had cause to be thankful. Before I had used one box of Cuticura Ointment the lashes were growing, and in a short time he had a crop of lashes of which any person might be proud.—Mrs. C. Little Hope Held Out to Grocers.

Little hope was held out to the representatives of the Retail Grovers, who yesterday waited on Hon. Lomer Gouin, Premier of Quebec, to renew former attempts to secure a reduction of the rates for liquor licenses for grocery stores

The Premier declared that the Legislature had adopted the measure after due deliberation, and it would be difficult to change it now. He promised, however, that the Government would study the question and protect the interest of the grocers if they needed such protection.

GRANITE STRIKE NEARING ITS END

Indications That Men and Employers Will Reach An Agreement Shortly.

There are indications to-day that the granite cutters' strike, which has been in progress for some time, will be settled within the near future. The men are as united and determined as ever, and they say they have all the financial assistance required.

Mr. John A. Flett, of Hamilton, Ont., who arrived in town a few days ago, to settle the dispute, desires the Star to deny statements that have been made to the effect that he is a resident of Quincy, Mass.

"I am a Canadian," said Mr. Flett, when seen to-day by a representative of the Star, "but that has really nothing to do with the dispute except to misrepresent things.

"The question of recognition of the union," continued the speaker, "is a refuge on the part of the employers. The question, said Mr. Flett, is a very simple one, so far as the strike is concerned. It is simply for an eight-hour day, and a minimum wage of $3.

"These same granite cutters, who are now contending for better conditions, at one time formed a Canadian national union. The same employers who are now advocating this brand of unionism in opposition to the international, fought the granite cutters just as vigorously when they were a Canadian national union until they broke up their organization."

Mr. John A. Flett has been connected with the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress for more than twenty years, and is undoubtedly the best known labor man in Canada. Mr. Flett will remain in the city until the difficulty is finally settled.

An Outrage in Dublin.

An outrage of a malicious type was committed in Dublin one night recently when Messrs. Patterson and Co.'s match factory in Hammond lane was broken into and a quantity of the machinery so damaged that work has to be suspended. Over 200 hands are thus thrown idle. A valuable gas engine, which had only been erected a week previously, was rendered useless, as also was eleven match-filling machines. The office and safes, containing a large sum of money, were left untouched, making it clear that the motive of the raid was to wreck and not to rob the factory.

THE GROWTH OF ENGLISH METHODISM

Mr. Perks, M.P., Tells What is Being Done to Promote Union and Uphold Protestanism.

"Wesleyan Methodism as the Champion of Protestantism in England" was the theme of an address Wednesday night at St. James Methodist Church, by Mr. R. W. Perks, M. P., the English Methodist leader. In his speech he referred to his project for fraternal federation of Methodists, and in detail sketched the progress of Wesleyanism during the past quarter of a century. This progress was the greater as the Church of England had ceased to be Protestant in its formalistic and ritualistic tendencies, and was open to the sharpest criticism.

There was a large audience to meet Mr. Perks.

Mr. William Hanson presided, and with him on the platform were Rev. Dr. Shaw and Rev. Dr. Torrance, and Dr. Young, the pastor of the church, who opened with prayer.

In introducing Mr. Perks, the Chairman said that the Methodists of Canada welcomed him as the leader of progressive and aggressive Methodism in England, and especially referred to his success with the famous million guinea twentieth century fund of the English Wesleyan Methodist Church.

Mr. Perks expressed his pleasure at meeting the Methodists of Canada, and compared their unity with the six-branch division of the English Wesleyan Church. There was before the House of Lords, however, a bill for the consolidation of three of the smaller branches. Methodism in England was still the friend of all and the enemy of none. It was not the suppliant sister of any religious community, and was not envious of the Established Church, though prepared to vote against it. In the past quarter of a century, said Mr. Perks, the balance of power in England had been transferred to the working-classes, "and the Methodist Church has changed with the nation," he continued. "The real bonds of Empire are not mere armies and material resources, but churches, nations and communities are held more closely by mutual interest, by the offer of self-government, and, above all, by the gifts of freedom and liberty of action. The old Wesleyan Church, once so conservative and iron-bound in its theological views, has changed greatly simply because it followed the practices and precepts of John Wesley."

One of these great principles was education. The power should rightly be to an educated and Christianized democracy. Forty years ago, to cope with secession of members, the Wesleyan Church broadened its whole basis of government to enlist the sympathies of all and further the social reforms advocated by Wesley. As a result of this movement, the Church has steadily grown in influence and power all over England. "The Church of England," said Mr. Perks, "has also been active, but on quite antagonistic lines, and towards sacerdotalism and Romish practices.

Without criticising that Church, nevertheless the Church of England is reverting to it to the misuse of its great endowments. To-day in thousands of her churches masses are said for the dead. The confessional is encroaching more and more; the ministers affect the most priestlike vestments.

Incense, Latin hymns and the stations of the Cross are other features rapidly gaining vogue. This has made it a duty to the free churches, and especially the Wesleyan Methodist Church, to maintain the purity of Protestantism."

Mr. Perks, in illustrating the growth of the non-conformist churches, said that to-day they provided upwards of eight and three-quarter million sittings, all absolutely free as compared with seven millions of the established church.

"Now," said he, "we can build our churches on the main thoroughfares and not in side streets. Not long ago all mayors had to belong to the established church. To-day the mayors of three-fourths of the towns of England belong to the free churches, and we have fifty members in Parliament and young people no longer leave our church for social considerations."

All this Mr. Perks traced to the federation of free churches in England, which was a purely religious and social movement. Wesley, he remarked, was a great social reformer, a man of broad ideas, who had the advantage of being a great autocrat and believed in enforcing them, ruling his preachers with a rod of iron.

He had founded a methodism resembling in its ideas of government the Roman Catholic Church, and characterized by a sort of vast ecclesiastical free masonry, which bound its adherents more closely together than did any other church except the Roman Catholic Church.

It was to further the use of this immense power Mr. Perks said he had come to Canada, that its organization might be used to aid members in emigration, desire for work and other such ways. Such a department of the church, he urged, would be most desirable, and he hoped it would be perfected before the next decennial congress of the Methodist Church at Washington.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Ferks for his address, several members in the congregation making short speeches.

Conductor Howe Was Acquitted.

John William Howe, the Grand Trunk conductor charged with manslaughter, was acquitted at Montreal Wednesday afternoon by the jury of the Court of King's Bench.

The charge was brought in connection with the St. Bruno smash-up as a result of which two men were killed. Howe was in charge of a ballast train part of which had been left on the main line, and with this portion another work train came in collision. The verdict of the coroner's jury at the time of the inquest left Howe open to the charge of responsibility for not having protected with signals the section of his train occupying the main line.

Mr. Samuel P. Kramer, G. T. R. master of transportation stated that regular trains had the right of way against extra trains, and that the latter could not occupy the main line unless they had orders.

The conductors of the two trains concerned in the accident having failed to comply with these regulations Crown Prosecutor Hibbard arrived at the conslusion that there had been contributory negligence and gave up the prosecution.

Upon the direction of Chief Justice Taschereau, the jury at once returned a verdict of not guilty, and Howe was accordingly dismissed. He was defended by Mr. J. C. Walsh, K.C., M.P.

Wanted on Charge of Manslaughter.

Although High Constable St. Mars has a warrant to arrest the C. P. R. brakesman, James Roberts, he has not yet put it into execution as at the present time he is not aware of the exact whereabouts of the man wanted. Roberts is charged with manslaughter in connection with the freight train collision at Ste. Rose in July last, which resulted in the death of an engineer.

HOPEFUL OUTLOOK IN SAN DOMINGO

A Visitor From the Island Republic Now Visiting Montreal, on the Situation.

Dr. W. A. Morris is in Montreal for a few days, and goes on to Newfoundland to visit his brother, Sir Edward Morris.

The Doctor and his wife and child left San Domingo, fearing the rebellion and possible danger to his family. He speaks of the state of affairs in San Domingo, holds out prospects of immediate peace and great prosperity, and gives useful facts as to trade in the West Indies. He calls San Domingo the "Garden of the West Indies."

Dr. Morris is a brother of Sir Edward Morris, of the Newfoundland Government, and is at present visiting his sister, Mrs. C. A. Lebel, at 15 Park ave. He took the Degree of M. D., at Edinburgh University, and two years ago was appointed Physician for the United States Fruit Company, at Puerta Plata, San Domingo. He arrived here on Monday, and leaves shortly for St. John's. His wife, child and nurse have gone on to Jamaica, to stay at Mrs. Morris's home.

Things have been very unsettled for some time in San Domingo, and the Doctor feared for his wife and child, and left with them.

He now says that there is every prospect of peace.

Things are already quieter. The trouble anticipated was on account of the U. S. Convention.

If the Convention runs true, there will be ultimate peace. Its terms are that the principal customs-houses should be looked over by Americans, and that Americans should occupy the posts of Chief Collectors and Travelling Auditors. The Convention was the idea of Mr. Roosevelt, and has been working for some time, but has till now only been recognised as a temporary arrangement. However, it has now passed the Dominion Congress, except for small details that do not seem to the Doctor likely to cause trouble. When the treaty is settled, Koune Lobe & Co., the bankers intend to make a loan of twenty million dollars. Fifty-five per cent. of the revenues will be handed over by the American collectors to the Island for mining expenses, such as payment of officials, etc., and the remainder will be devoted to clearing the debt.

As this means the disappearance of the wholesale plundering, bad administration and careless financing that so long obtained in San Domingo, the Republic will benefit more from the percentage than it did previously from the whole revenues. The doctor speaks enthusiastically of the Island and its prospects. There is a marvellous return to agriculture. "Yes," said he, "if peace is assured, as I think it will be by the convention, we shall see great prosperity in the Republic. Things have suffered slightly this year by the three months drought, but that has been exceptional, and most other places have also suffered. This island is a perfect "Garden of the West Indies," and I do not see, as a Britisher, why Canada should not do more trade with the Island. Trade is falling altogether into the hands of the United States, and I do not see why the simple restrictions as to size of packages should interfere with West Indian trade. We could easily supply them with dairy produce. Germany caters for all the trade in these parts, and the Hamburg and American line have almost a monopoly, and, "I see no reason why it should be so."

The Doctor is a powerfully-built man, with strong features, and the utmost geniality, and of conversational qualities, both humorous and interesting.

A British Columbia Land Case.

Word was received at the Canadian Pacific offices here to-day that a suit of unusual interest will be heard in New York, on Saturday next. A United States western millionaire, named F. A. Hinze, owns 600,000 acres in British Columbia, but he has so far refused to take the title to it and define the limits. The C. P. R. want to know just what he intends to do so that they can use adjoining land. The suit is to force Mr. Hinze to make a declaration, but, it is alleged, he does not wish to do so in order to avoid the land tax. The British Vice-Consul in New York will hear the case.

Second Death From Lacasse Fire.

Cyril Fournier, 116bb Montcalm street, who had his spine fractured while jumping from the window of the Lacasse Hall, Notre Dame street, during the progress of the fire on June 1, died yesterday in the General Hospital. The inquest will be held to-morrow morning at the morgue.

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Cured a Severe Case of Anaemia and Weakness.

Anaemia—poor watery blood— is the cause of most of the misery which afflicts mankind. The housewife especially falls an easy prey to it. The long hours and close confinement necessary in performing her household duties sap her strength. She becomes run down and often suffers extreme misery. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the housewife's friend. They make new blood—lots of it—and pure blood banishes all women's ailments. Mrs. E. St. Germain, wife of a well known farmer of St. John des Chaillons, Que., found new strength through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says:—"A year ago I was extremely weak. I could not attend to my work, I suffered from dizzy spells; my head ached; my blood was poor; I had a bad cough and the doctors feared I was going into consumption. I followed their treatment for some time but without relief. I grew discouraged and finally gave it up in despair. I was strongly advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills so procured six boxes. Before they were all gone I felt relief. The headaches and dizziness became less frequent and I felt a little stronger. I continued the pills for a couple of months at the end of which time I had gained in weight; the pains had left me, my appetite was good and I felt as strong and well as ever I did. I cannot say too much in favor of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, for I certainly owe my good health to them."

The woman in the house, the man in the office, the boy or girl in the school will always find a friend in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills actually make new, rich red blood and good blood banishes rheumatism, general debility, kidney troubles and those aches and pains caused by overwork or overstudy; good blood builds up the tired unstrung nerves and makes pale thin cheeks rosy and healthy. The pills are sold at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by all medicine dealers or by mail from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

HER DOG TAX IS STILL UNPAID

It Took More Courage Than Usual to Collect In This Instance.

"Just let me ask you, Mister, what is the meaning of the city sending me that?"

As she ceased she slapped on the desk of the License Inspector at the City Hall a paper bearing the civic crest.

"Well, Madame," replied the polite clerk, "that is a tax bill."

"A tax bill, is it, and for what?" She put her hand akimbo, straightened back her shoulders and waited, with a fiery look in her eyes for the answer.

The clerk took up the bill, glanced at it and then smilingly replied: "This bill, Madame, says that you own a dog and that you must pay for it."

"Pay for it," she echoed in astonishment; "pay for what? Why the dog was given to me two years ago when I came from Ireland. The dog is not owned by the corporation."

"You do not understand, Madame," was the patient reply, "the bill is simply a notification to you that you must pay the city two dollars tax for owning and keeping the dog. Yes. Madame, that is it." He smiled and bowed pleasantly.

"You villainous lot," she was in a temper immediately, "you mean to say that in this city they make a person pay for keeping a dog."

"They have to pay every year, Madame."

"They have, eh? Well just let me tell you that there is a woman from Ireland in this room that is not going to pay a cent for her dog. I own the dog, not the corporation. If I want to keep it that is my business. Now is that clear to you?"

The clerk stroked a very slim, but aspiring looking moustache, but ventured no reply.

The irate lady had full use of her tongue by this time and vehemently continued: "In the part of Ireland I came from you can keep as many dogs, cats or any other animals you want without having to pay any taxes for them. I never heard of such a cheeky piece of business in my life! Pay a tax for a dog that I have to feed and care for! Let me ask you, Mister Clerk, if this two dollar tax means that the corporation will feed the dog for a year?"

"Sure, Madame, it does not mean that."

"If you have any wits left," she waved a lusty fist in the air, "tell me just what the city charges the money for, then?"

Nervously fingering the books in front of him the unhappy clerk answered: "The tax, Madame, is what the aldermen charge people for the pleasure of living in the city; they must pay something towards the support of the city."

"So it is to support the city you are asking me? St. Patrick! This beats Ireland altogether! Two dollars for the pleasure of living in your dirty city!" She was actually panting with anger and indignation.

The clerk looked very awkward. "Yes, Madame," was all he could think of to say.

The woman from Ireland suddenly reached for the tax bill. In a twinkling she had torn it into shreds. Throwing the pieces on the floor, she exclaimed: "Now, there is your bill, Mr. Clerk. I won't pay it. Do you hear that? Just let me tell you, too, that if any of you tax collecting men come to my home and bother me about the tax that I will do to him what I did to the bill. So just do you dare to come!"

"No, Madame," ejaculated the clerk, not knowing what he was saying.

As she marched in martial way from the office, she said in extreme disgust: "Two dollars because a woman keeps a dog. What a fool of a city!"

Judgment in SS. Sovereign Case.

Mr. Justice Archibald has maintained the suit of Dale & Co. to revendicate the ownership of the steamer Sovereign, which was bought at bailiff's sale by Arthur Brooks. The hull, which had been burned to the water's edge, was bought by Mr. Brooks on a seizure made on a judgment by Mr. M. J. Griffin against Mr. J. B. D. Legare, to whom the hull had been sold by Dale & Co. Mr. Brooks bought the hull at the sale for $125, but the court held that a previous seizure held good and that the sale should not be considered. Mr. T. Chase Casgrain, who appeared for the defendant Brooks, declared that the case would be appealed to a higher court.

IN LABOR CIRCLES.

Matters of special interest to organized labor in general will be discussed at to-night's meeting of the Bricklayers' Union.

There will be a farewell smoker to Charles H. Brown, general organizer of the I. T. U., on Saturday evening. A good programme is being prepared and all the printers in the city have been invited.

The New Bedford Textile Council has started a movement in the Textile Unions in all parts of the New England States to have all mills shut down during the last week in August, so as to give all works a vacation.

At Wednesday night's meeting of District Council of the Carpenters and Joiners, it was stated that the strike against the Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company was still on. Nearly all the strikers are at work for other employers.

The cigarmakers held a big meeting in the Labor Temple Wednesday. Trade conditions were reported as being fairly good in all parts of the country. It was said that the local union was never in better shape in every way. The demand for the union label is increasing in Canada and the outlook is encouraging.

Twenty-five new members were initiated at Wednesday's meeting of Victoria Lodge, No. 111., International Association of Machinists, and 40 applicants for membership were received. It was decided to turn out on Labor Day, and an effort will be made to capture the prize offered by the Trades and Labor Council for the union making the best showing in the line of march.

Louis Beuloin, the business agent, has his office at 242 St. James street, but the meetings are held at 251 St. James street, in the Oddfellows' Hall, the 1st and 3rd Wednesdays of each month.

At a largely attended meeting of the Bookbinders' Union, in St. Joseph's Hall, Wednesday, it was stated the Executive Council of the International Union had named October 1 as the day for putting the eight-hour work day into effect, subject to the referdum vote for a ratification of the proposition. Several new members were initiated and good reports were received from the standing committees.

Boise, Idaho, June 7.—Orchard faced Richardson during the examination and never shifted his eyes from those of the lawyer. Haywood was at Richardson's elbow, and his eyes never left Orchard for a moment and he listened to every word.

Friction between Orchard and his cross-examiner showed at the start. Mr. Hawley insisted that the witness be permitted to answer a question before another is asked. "If this interruption is for the purpose of starting a row," said Mr. Richardson, "we might as well stop and have it out now."

All incidents relating to the Bunker Hill affair, the coming of the federal troops and efforts to evade them were all gone over and repeated, Orchard being pinned down to every move made every day.

Orchard said he took orders from W. F. Davis.

"Was not the powder given you by the Superintendent of the Frisco mine?" "I don't know."

"Did you know McDonald, the superintendent?" "Yes."

This line of interrogation was to lay the basis for a showing that the wrecking of the mine was the outcome of a mine owner's row.

Richardson asked: "Why did you make arrangements with D. R. Collins to display a signal."

"We did not want the soldiers to get us."

"When you were at Wardner did you see Jack Simpkins?" "No sir."

"You knew him later and knew he was put in the bull pen?" "Yes, we talked about it."

"You knew he was kept there ten months and he told you indignities were put on him?" "Yes."

From Utah Orchard went to Arizona and worked in a mine 80 miles from St. George for a man named Pickett. Orchard became a bit uncertain about the time he was in Arizona, and finally concluded that it was in 1900, in March. Returning from Arizona he went back to Bingham, Utah, via Salt Lake, and gambled with the miners part of the time. Back to Salt Lake after a month he went broke in a few days, and then went to Nevada where he remained a month working in a mine and occasionally gambling.

Orchard's next move was prospecting in South Idaho, from November, 1900 to June, 1901. He then went to California. When he arrived in San Francisco he had $75, and remained there two weeks, spending only $15. He went to Bartlett Springs and took a contract to get out wood for a hotel. This job netted him $300, and he made a trip to Los Angeles to see a man named Grant, whom he had known in Utah. Grant was a miner.

Orchard said he joined in the Cripple Creek strike of August, 1903.

Richardson asked him if by "high grading" ore in the Vindicator mine, Orchard did not mean he was merely an ore thief.

"I don't know what you call it," replied Orchard. "We took the high class ore out secretly and sold it."

"You often made as high as $25 or $30 a day, didn't you, from high grading?" "Yes."

In his direct testimony Orchard said he had reported to Davis the finding of a carload of powder in the Vindicator mine.

"Up to the time you told this to Davis, had there been any talk to you of proposed violence to the mine?" "No, sir."

"You broached the subject?" "Yes, I'd heard the leaders of the federation had blown up mines before."

The witnes believed Arthur Doolin had told him of this.

"Your object was to suggest to Davis the firing of this powder?"

"I felt some enmity to the mine owners and had thought of it. The soldiers had been brought in there and were running us around."

Asked how he came to know there was powder in the mine, Orchard said he had stolen some and sold it.

"Was there anything in your experience at Wardner, Idaho, which also suggested the touching off of the powder to you?" "It may have."

"Did the suggestion that the powder in the mine be touched off come from you or from Davis?" "From Davis. He said he would give me $200 to touch it off."

Orchard said he had communicated his "thoughts" about blowing up the mine to Davis.

Orchard said that "Bill" Easterly, among others had discusesed with him the method of blowing up the Vindicator mine.

Mr. Richardson called Easterly from the audience. He was identified by Orchard.

There were fifty non-unionists in the mine. Orchard said Moyer, in an address at Cripple Creek, advised against overt acts of violence, which, he said, would be charged to the Federation. Haywood spoke to the same effect and cautioned the strikers against drinking and gambling.

"Didn't Haywood say that the mine owners would like violence, for they could then bring in troops and break up the union?" asked Richardson.

"I don't remember that."

"Didn't he say that any violence would react on the union and was not to be countenanced?" "I believe he did."

Court took recess at 11.30 till 1.30 p.m. Orchard was still on the stand.

Empress Made a Record.

The Empress of Ireland arrived at Quebec at 8.30 this morning, thus bettering by about three hours the record which was made last year for the trip from Liverpool via Cape Race.

The Empress left Liverpool at 6.30 p.m., on Friday last, and at midnight on Monday night, signalled east of Cape Race, one of the fastest runs yet made across the Atlantic. Since then she has been very fortunate in obtaining good weather and has made her record between that point and Quebec. She crossed Crane Island Flats only half an hour before the tide went out. Had this chance been missed several hours' delay would have been necessary.

The Empress carries a large number of passengers—184 first, 459 second, and 860 third class. Four special trains were required to bring them to Montreal, the first of which arrived early this afternoon.

MAY ESTABLISH DEACONESS ORDER

Two important issues were considered by the General Assembly at this forenoon's sederunt.

On the first, the proposal to establish an Order of Deaconnesses, the Assembly decided to appoint a committee to report next year.

To the second, that the clerks of Assembly and conveners of standing committees be ex-officio members of the Assembly, there was such strong opposition that it was withdrawn.

The discussion in regard to deaconnesses was founded on two overtures. One proposed the extension of the scope of the Ewart Training Home for Missionaries, of Toronto; the other suggested the organization of an Order as nurses, parish visitors, dispensers of charity and many other ways that may prove to be desirable." the overture regarding the Ewart Home also sugested that a method be provided of specially designating the graduates and of setting them apart for work in home as well as foreign field.

Principal McLaren, of Knox College spoke in support of the overture regarding Ewart Home extensions, which came from Toronto Presbytery, but did not see the need for establishing a new organization. The present machinery was, he thought, sufficient if it were authorized to broaden its scope. Homes might be needed in east and west of same character, but that was for the future.

The Deaconness overture came from Winnipeg, and was supported by Dr. Duval. He found the two overtures essentialy one, but said the same need felt in Toronto was felt in Winnipeg. He did not know whether the new proposal was according to law, but it was "sinse."

Rev. J. A. Turnbull, of Toronto emphasized the need of having the "Imprimaur" of the Church, as well as of the school upon graduates of the Ewart Home. He pointed out that there were precedents in the Anglican and Methodist churches even for going as far as the Winnipeg Presbytery proposals.

A SCOTTISH PRECEDENT.

Principal Patrick gave hearty support to the broader overture, pointing out that the Church of Scotland had secured valuable workers through such an institution.

Ralph Connor told of the practical work of the Presbyterian Nursing Mission in Winnipeg, and paid tribute to the value of the services of Methodist deaconnesses in that city. "The sooner we get back to visiting the sick and ministering to the poor, the sooner we will get blessing," he declared.

Principal McLaren moved for the appointment of a committee to consider the whole problem and report at the next Assembly, while approving of broadening the scope of Ewart Home, and emphasizing the great importance of the work of Christian women.

Judge Forbes, of St. John, seconded the resolution and paid a tribute to the work of Catholic Sisters among prisoners in his city.

Prof. Baird, of Winnipeg, wanted a report from the committee of this Assembly.

Principal Forrest, of Halifax, would go slowly. There was too much machinery now.

Then he made an uncomplimentary reference to the Methodist deaconness' bonnet.

"I am pretty loyal to Methodists," he said, "but if the Methodists could not get a better bonnet than that——"

"Oh, but that is trivial," he ended, though his incomplete sentence did not lack in expressiveness.

Discussion ensued over the meaning of Principal McLaren's resolution. The Principal maintained that it implicitly approved the general principle. Prof. Baird was doubtful. Principal McLaren declined, however, to accept an amendment making the approval more definite, and the resolution was finally carried in its original form.

Mr. Peter McKenzie Writes.

To the Editor of the Montreal Star:

Sir,—I have read in the issue of the Herald, of the 3rd of June, a report of an interview with the Honorable Mr. Weir, in which he states that Mr. P. S. G. McKenzie, K.C., who is a member of the Legislature, has been caused a good deal of annoyance by a similarity of his name with mine in connection with the recent Prevost-Asselin trial in Quebec.

I also saw in Le Canada, a notice to the effect that Mr. P. S. G. McKenzie was not the Mr. McKenzie who gave evidence in that case, and that Mr. P. S. G. McKenzie did not even know me. Similarity of names always causes confusion, and no doubt in this particular case, both Mr. P. S. G. McKenzie and myself have suffered a great deal of annoyance on account of the fact that our first names are the same.

In Quebec it has caused me a great deal of trouble, owing to the fact that my correspondence has occasionally been delivered to him, and as I am connected with very large mining interests throughout all parts of the province, sometimes the delay in receiving my letters has been a cause of serious trouble.

The form of Mr. McKenzie's notice to the newspapers was apparently intended to reflect on me, and I beg to state that my record is as clean as any man's can be, and it would appear to me as if Mr. P. S. G. McKenzie was trying to make himself known in a broader circle than that of his own constituents with some possible political motive.

I wish, sir, further to refer to Mr. Laflamme's address to the jury in this case. If he is correctly reported in the newspapers, he has mentioned my name as if I had willingly taken part in a fraudulent transaction with the Government, in order to obtain mining lands, to which I was not entitled. I cannot believe that Mr. Laflamme would ever have used such words, for in the first place, it would have been a deliberate lie on his part not supported in any way, were the evidence given in court, and in the second place it would have been a technical mistake for him as a lawyer to make any such statement, as it in no way benefited his client, Mr. Asselin. My solicitor informs me that any words Mr. Laflamme may have used are privileged, and that I have no action against him for any statement he may have made affecting my business reputation, unless such words were maliciously used by him, therefore, I believe that the papers have reported him incorrectly. Any applications I made to the Government for mining lands were made by me in good faith and received by me without the slightest intimation that anyone else was even attempting to get the same lands for which I applied.

I would further state that in all my dealings with the Minister and officials of the Government in Quebec, I have never asked for favors, nor have I received any whatsoever. I have always been received with courtesy and with the utmost fairness, but beyond that, I have not received any more than any other man, who has had business with the department.

TWO MEN KILLED ON GRAND TRUNK

Two Montreal men were killed at 9.30 a.m. to-day by being run over by the Grand Trunk Railway International Limited, bound for Chicago, about one mile west of Vaudreuil. One of the victims was identified as O'Leary. Both men were frightfully mangled and cut up. The train was going about 45 miles an hour and the unfortunate men, who were standing on the centre of the track watching an eastbound freight train, when they were hurled in the air.

Their remains were gathered up and taken to the Vaudreuil station platform. The Coroner was notified and he ordered the bodies to be taken to the morgue where the inquest will be held to-morrow morning.

The railway officials at Vaudreuil are of the opinion that the men were under the influence of liquor. They say there were no houses to obstruct their view, and the engine driver of the International Limited blew his whistle and the bell was ringing automatically for some time.

BUYING IN STEEL IS NOT BY THE CLOSE INSIDERS

It is Said by an Observer That Small Traders are Going in.

MACKAY PREFERRED GOES LOWER AGAIN.

The Wall Street Market Was Strong All Round—Power Holds Up Well.

A close analysis of the trading in Dominion Steel stock reveals the fact that it is largely confined to the scalpers and smaller traders who jumped in, in the hope of making a turn if the settlement plans materialized.

A broker who watches Steel pretty closely told the Star that there were so far no signs of any inspired buying, by people who are well informed on all that is going on.

One rumor that chilled bullish enthusiasm in Steel a little was the statement that the recent earnings have been disappointing in spite of the fact that the output has been increased during the last two months.

Steel opened strong at 21 and a good deal of stock was taken from that level up to 21 3-4. Towards the close it was fractionally easier at 21 3-8, but wound up at 21½ bid.

The preferred was higher again at 52½, but there were no sales of bonds and there was nothing doing in Dominion Coal which shows no signs of added strength on the settlement rumors.

POWER UP, MACKAY DOWN.

One feature of the local list was the further marked weakness in Mackay preferred, which sold off to 65½.

Power, on the other hand, shows a little more strength, and sold around 89½.

Sao Paulo sold at 121 to 121¼, and Detroit United at 65.

There was scattered trading in the rest of the list, with no feature of importance. Street Railway sold at 210.

DETROIT UNITED.

General Manager Brooks, of Detroit United, has promised the street car men a definite reply to their demands for better working conditions this afternoon. A conference was held this morning at which the demands were presented by President Mahon and discussed in detail. A compromise is hoped for.

DOMINION COAL.

The Dominion Coal output for May was given in these columns the other day, but the following affords a much more complete comparison:

IN WALL STREET.

Wall Street continued to show a strong tendency toward improvement this morning, and there were indications of a stronger following upon the constructive side of prices. Advances of from 1 to 2 points were recorded in the opening hour, but later in the session announcements of a series of old engagements for export amounting to over $3,000,000, throw something of a damper on bullish enthusiasm.

The preliminary estimate of the week's money movements shows that the banks have lost some $4,000,000 during the week. To-morrow's figures, however, will not include to-day's engagements.

Sales to noon in Wall Street were 314,-000 shares.

THE MACKAYS.

In some quarters it is argued that the new issue of $21,925,000 stock by the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. is a bear point on the Mackays, as the Mackay Company will presumably have to take a block of the new stock. However, there are those who argue that it is really a bull card. American Telephone stock is down to 107, which is pretty cheap for an 8 per cent. stock, and the new stock will probably be bought cheaper, making it attractive from the investment point of view alone, while if the Mackay Company is as well fixed financially as is believed, it will gladly take stock which smaller investors will be unable to take up.

SHAREHOLDERS MEET 10TH.

Toledo Ry. Will Have a Complete Monopoly in City.

Shareholders of the Toledo Railways & Light Co., says the Wall Street Journal, will hold a special meeting for the purpose of approving the agreement covering the acquisition of the Toledo Gas, Electric & Heating Co., and of approving an increase in the company's capital stock of $3,000,000 next Monday. There appears no doubt that both matters will receive the support of the stockholders.

With the acquisition of the Gas Company, the Toledo Railways & Light Co. will have absolute control in Toledo of street railways, artificial gas, electric light and power and heating by steam and water. The merging of the two companies should place the Railways & Light Company in a much improved position, not only because of the saving in operating costs, but because the two companies have engaged to some extent in a lighting war, especially as to electric lighting.

OUR FARMERS.

EASY MONEY.

(Wall Street Journal.)

HEAD OF MACKAY CONCERN.

Mr. Clarence Mackay, who it is said is scheming to create a giant telephone and telegraph combine.

CONSOLS AT THE LOW LEVEL.

British consols were again at the record low level, closing at 83 9-16 for money, and 83¾ for account.

MR. E. L. PEASE RETURNING.

Mr. E. L. Pease, general manager of the Royal Bank, is returning on the Empress of Ireland.

THE WORK IS NOT ABANDONED

Work on the Duluth extension of the "Soo" line has not been abandoned, as reported, but is progressing rapidly. This branch leaves the main line at Brooten and runs north-east to Duluth.

Another Broker Quits in London

A cable from London says: "The failure of Starkey, Leveson & Cooke, brokers, was announced on the stock exchange this morning. They are understood to have been involved in unsuccessful African mining speculation.

This makes the tenth failure on the London Stock Exchange since the beginning of the slump in the stock market.

OPINION OF LOCAL BROKER.

Crop Outlook Not as Black at It is Painted.

McCuaig Bros. & Co., in a letter to clients, say:

"There seems to be a little greater disposition in financial circles to take a somewhat more cheery view of the situation. It is beginning to be felt that the crop outlook is not so black as has been painted, and that the season is not so far advanced but that crops can be decidedly bettered by a period of warm sunshine. A period of favorable weather would also improve wonderfully retail trade, and infuse confidence throughout the commercial world generally.

"Speculatively, the market seems to give further indications of a sold-out condition. There is no buying aggressiveness, but there is less selling pressure, and prices do not decline in the manner that they did. A few keen traders express belief that the market is near the bottom, if the lowest prices have not already been reached, and they are therefore more inclined to base their operations on the upside."

TORONTO RAILS DIVIDEND.

The regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent. has been declared on Toronto Railway stock, payable July 2 to holders of record June 15.

WHY THE LINTON APARTMENT HAD A LONG DELAY

Bank Refused Further Advances and Bonds Were Hard to Dispose of.

ARRANGEMENTS HAVE BEEN MADE NOW

And the Massive Structure Will Be Completed at a Cost of Over $800,000.

No little interest has been aroused over the difficulties encountered in the financing of the massive Linton Apartment building on the corner of Sherbrooke and Simpson streets.

When work was virtually stopped on the big structure some weeks ago, all sorts of rumors were circulated in regard to the sudden money scarcity encountered, and there was talk at the time that the actual cost of construction was exceeding the early estimates by many thousands of dollars.

It is understood that when the project was in its infancy there was an issue of $200,000 common and $200,000 preferred stock.

The work on the foundation proved exceedingly costly, as the excavation was made through solid rock. Then came the erection of the building itself, and the Canadian White Company, the contracting firm, has seldom done a finer or quicker piece of work, for, in spite of the severe winter weather, the enormous walls shot nine stories in the air with astonishing rapidity.

A large loan had been arranged for with a bank, but before the roof went on no more money was forthcoming from that source, and operations received a sudden check.

Efforts to dispose of bonds were not successful for some time owing to the extreme tightness of the money market, the bonds being offered, it is said, in England as well as in Canada.

At present it is rumored that stockholders and others have agreed to take an issue of $250,000 second mortgage bonds, while an issue of $400,000 5 per cent. first mortgage bonds will be taken up upon the completion of the structure.

It is believed now that work will be resumed upon the building, and that it will be completed as quickly as possible in order to accommodate the many who have already signified their intention of renting apartments.

It is said that the total cost of the big structure will be over $800,000, while if all the apartments are taken the annual gross revenue from rentals alone will approximate $100,000.

Mr. C. A. Bogert Is in the City

Mr. C. A. Bogert, general manager of the Dominion Bank, was in Montreal to-day.

Mr. Bogert expressed the belief that money would, no doubt, work appreciably easier during the summer months, but said that it would undoubtedly tighten up again in the fall.

"The fact is," said Mr. Bogert, "Canada, is suffering from an overdose of prosperity and there is barely enough money to go around.

"While a bumper crop is not yet assured in the West, with a fair yield and high prices, about the usual amount of money will be necessary to bring the grain to the seaboard.

"I do not believe that we will see a business set-back in Canada in the near future, although there are many evidences of over trading, and real estate speculation in the West must be checked.

"While in Europe recently I was greatly impressed with the widespread interest taken in Canada.

"On the boat coming over three quarters of the passengers were from the Continent.

"Germans, Frenchmen, and others talked of Canada more than any other country. It is the introduction of foreign capital that is going to help us very materially."

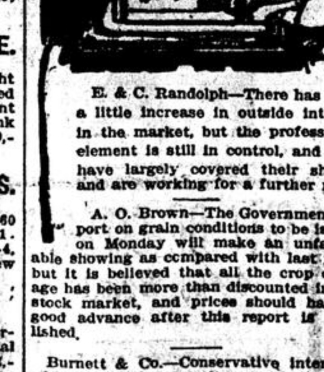
GENERAL ELECTRIC DIVIDEND.

The regular quarterly dividend of 2½ per cent. on Canadian General Electric and the regular half yearly dividend of 3 per cent. on the preferred stocks have been declared, payable July 1. Books close June 15 to 29.



E. & C. Randolph—There has been a little increase in outside interest in the market, but the professional element is still in control, and they have largely covered their shorts, and are working for a further rally.

A. O. Brown—The Government report on grain conditions to be issued on Monday will make an unfavorable showing as compared with last year, but it is believed that all the crop damage has been more than discounted in the stock market, and prices should have a good advance after this report is published.

Burnett & Co.—Conservative interests, which are disposed to be more optimistic, say that while they do not look for a big rise in securities in the near future they believe that conditions are considerably better than they were a few weeks ago.

J. B. Picken—Less favorable reports are received from the wheat-growing area as a result of which the Liverpool markets are somewhat higher.

On the whole, there has been comparatively little weeping and wailing among the Foster and Trethewey shareholders because they have been suddenly cut off from their dividends.

Cobalt stocks are not patronized by the "widows and orphans," and are not investments.

The man who buys a Cobalt stock knows he is treading on dangerous ground and knows that he is going in for a straight, unadulterated gamble.

He knows, too, that the odds are very much against him, unless he is one of the lucky ground floor operators.

There is, therefore, not much sympathy wasted on the man who take chances on an uncertain proposition and get trimmed.

In some respects the Cobalt game has been played well in the open, and the public has been extensively informed as to its uncertainties.

Every one knows by this time that the camp is remarkable for its veins of immensely rich ore that will pinch out overnight.

That directors will get the pinch-out information ahead of the shareholder is almost a certainty.

This is how this year's Montreal Power statement compares with the years 1905 and 1904. The 1906 figures are omitted, as that comparison has already been made:

Senator Forget said yesterday that the Payne mine was purchased for the bondholders.

The Payne is being leased just now to a Western mining man, who is spending considerable money sinking a shaft to find a very rich vein of ore that he believes is in existence.

Bucket Shops Quit Business

Pittsburg, June 7.—Bucket-shops in this city have practically gone out of business since the new Mesta Anti-Bucket-Shop Bill has become a law. This occurred Saturday, and only two firms are taking a chance on what may happen.

The new law places the penalty on the proprietors of the building in which are the bucket-shops. The fine is not less than $1,000 nor more than $2,000. Telegraph and telephone companies are likewise responsible under this new act. The bucket-shop man is liable to a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $500 for each offence. It is said that about 3,000 telegraphers in the State will be out of employment.

INCREASED ITS DIVIDEND.

The directors of the Hocking Valley Railway Co. have declared a semi-annual dividend of 2 per cent. on the common stock, raising the rate from 3 per cent. to 4 per cent. per annum.

DETROIT UNITED IS FINED.

Found Guilty of 20 Violations of Ordinances.

Judge Connolly Wednesday assessed the Detroit United Railway a total of $355 on 20 counts for violations of city ordinances.

These are the cases brought by the city in the Mayor's campaign of retaliation following the taking of the good service ordinance into the federal court by the D. U. R.

Five of the complaints are for failing to place lights at crossings, and the penalty in each case was $25. Thirteen complaints were made for not posting schedules in the cars, and the assessment of $16 was levied in each case. Two fines of $50 were imposed because the statements of the company on its freight business were not filed with the city treasurer.

6,000 SHARES AT AUCTION.

Toronto's Method of Disposing of its Gas Stock.

Ten shares of Consumers' Gas stock sold at 185 on the Toronto board yesterday morning, the lowest price on record. The sale was made, no doubt, in view of the auction of new stock held at noon, when six thousand shares were sold at prices ranging from 190¼ to 193, and averaging 190¾. Previous Gas auction with prices realized were:

November 4th, 1903, 2,000 shares at 206 to 179½.

December 6th, 1904, 5,000 shares at 214½ to 209.

April 3rd, 1906, 5,000 shares at 200 to 201⅞.

THE "SOO" LINE.

Vice-President Pennington, of the Soo, says that no negotiations with the Northern Pacific to acquire its Little Falls branch have been entered into. He says they have no use for it. The Brooten extension should prove a benefit to the Soo line. It will establish a direct haul between Duluth and points along the main line and branches west of it, and will directly connect Duluth with Canadian Pacific points and the Pacific coast.

A GIANT PROJECT THAT INVOLVES MACKAY CONCERN

Said Mackay Seeks Control of Great Telephone and Telegraph Co.

THE CAPITAL STOCK IS $250,000,000.

Said Mackay Will Give 4 Per Cent. Bonds in Exchange for Telegraph Stock.

There was a report in Montreal to-day coming from a prominent brokerage house in Wall Street that for some months past the Mackay Companies has been quietly at work getting control of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

The Mackay Companies is already the largest shareholder of the great telegraph and telephone system, which has an authorized capital of $250,000,000 and a funded debt of $150,000,000.

The Mackay Companies common stock issue is $41,380,400, and preferred issue $50,000,000.

It will be seen by the figures that these two concerns together would make a giant combination, only exceeded in size by the United States Steel Corporation and one or two others.

Several Mackay representatives are already on the American Telephone and Telegraph board.

The terms mentioned in the Wall Street rumor were vague, and the wire merely said that Mackay 4 per cents. would be offered in exchange for American Telephone stock.

Mackay stocks have been weak lately, and the dividend increase predicted for June did not come off.

Some years ago a gentleman close to the Mackay Companies said that this deal was a certainty of the future, and this may be the time.

TO FOSTER MEXICAN TRADE.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, June 7.—Continuing the policy established some little time ago, of bringing the Canadian commercial agents back to Canada from time to time, for the purpose of visiting Canadian trade centres and personally meeting Canadian business men, the Department of Trade and Commerce has instructed Mr. A. W. Donly, of Mexico, to visit Canada during the coming summer.

In view of the two services now in operation between these two countries and the very largely increased trade, this was thought an opportune time to recall Mr. Donly for the purpose of addressing boards of trade and kindred organizations in Canada.

Boards of trade and other commercial associations interested in Mexican trade, desiring a visit from Mr. Donly, are requested to communicate with the Superintendent of Commercial Agencies, Ottawa.

Grain Crops Coming on Well

Special to the Montreal Star.

Winnipeg, June 7.—The C. P. R. weekly crop report from the central division indicates good weather and that the crop generally is coming on well. In most localities the grain has already attained a growth of from four to five inches. In the Brandon section, at Poplar Point, the growth is three to five inches. Similar growths are reported at Melbourne and Chater. Three inches are shipped from La Salle and Gretna. Other points have equally favorable records to date.

The crops are doing well in the southwest district, and no damage is reported. The weather throughout Southern Manitoba is favorable. At Stockton wheat is up five inches. Throughout the Emerson, Teulon, and Minnedosa sections wheat is showing up well. In some places the grain is up four inches. Brookdale announces the grain up three inches.

Throughout the Broadview section the growth is well advanced, the wheat looking strong. At Pheasant Hills the grain is well up, especially at Grayson. All through the Yorkton section the grain looks good, and the weather continues favorable. Fields are getting green in the Lenore district. Wheat is up five inches at Forest. No damage has been done in the Estevan country. Only at Alameda is the growth a little backward. At Pilot Mound the grain is up four inches.

In the Reston and Arcola sections the crop is in good condition. Grain is coming up well in the Moose Mountain district and Moosejaw district.

BUTTER AND CHEESE MARKET

BUTTER.—The market this morning is a little on the quiet side, and occasionally it has been necessary to shade prices in order to make sales. The prospects are that with the larger arrivals the prices will have to decline a little for they are still above an export basis.

The official quotations are: Quebecs, 20¼ to 20½; Ontarios, 20; Townships, 20½ to 20¾.

The local receipts to-day were 2,484 packages.

CHEESE.—At a decline there is more business passing, but the prices are unremunerative owing to the original high cost in the country. The recent purchases in the country show a decline of 3-4c per pound over the price paid a week ago. This makes the market at the moment very ragged as the spot goods were brought in at a higher range.

The official quotations are: Quebecs, 11 5-8 to 11 3-4; Ontarios, 12 to 12 1-8; Townships, 11 3-4 to 11 7-8.

The local receipts to-day were 14,828 cases.

POTATO AND EGG MARKET.

POTATOES.—The market is somewhat firmer to-day, and there is a better demand from the West. The prices quoted are unchanged from yesterday though higher figures are looked for to-morrow. Whites are quoted at $1.20 in broken lots, delivered; at track, $1.10 to $1.15 single lots; at track, $1.08 to $1.10 in car lots; reds, $1.18 in broken lots, delivered; at track, $1.08 to $1.13 in single lots; at track, $1.06 to $1.08 in car loads.

EGGS.—The market is unchanged from yesterday, and is quiet. The prices are in wholesale lots 18 cents; single cases 19 cents; selects 20 1-2 to 21 cents.

The local receipts to-day were 2,311 cases.

HAY AND OATS MARKET.

HAY.—The market to-day showed a continued light demand. Prices are quoted from $16 to $17 for No. 1, $15 to $16 for No. 2, and $14 to $15 for clover mixed.

OATS.—The market was easier to-day. Manitoba No. 2, 49½ to 50c; Ontario No 2, 49½ to 50c; No. 3, 48 to 48½c No. 4, 47 to 47½c.

CORN—63 to 66c, according to quality and condition.

TOTAL SILK PRODUCTION.

The syndicate of the Lyons (France) Silk Dealers' Union has published an estimate of last year's production of silk throughout the world. The total is given as 20,100,000 kilos (kilo equals 2 1-5 lbs.), as against 18,830,000 kilos in 1905, or a quinquennial average of 19,668,000 for the period of 190-1905.

METAL QUOTATIONS.

New York, June 7.—Pig iron, steady. Copper, nominal. Lead, quiet. Tin, quiet. Straits, $41.25 to $41.70; spelter, dull.

"We have not yet recovered from the effects of the recent strike on the wharves," declared a wholesale dry goods merchant on the Exchange to-day. "The notoriously slow shipments in imported dry goods have been made worse by this condition, and practically every jobber and manufacturer has been affected. Retailers whom are impatient over delayed shipments are beginning to cancel their orders on this account, but they should appreciate the difficulties the manufacturers and jobbers have had to contend with."

"The bulls predict a loss in the next Government report on winter wheat for May of 5 to 10 points. The bears claim the improvement east of the Mississippi will make a stand-off for the deterioration west of it."

A letter received by a local fruit house to-day said:

"New Mexico has suffered heavily as a result of the recent exceptionally cold weather, according to reports received from there. The losses have been greatest in the fruit-growing sections of the territory, where scarcely half a crop of even the most hardy fruit is left, while in many cases the trees themselves have been killed."

"It does not follow that because cotton may be scarce that the price will be high," said a merchant to-day. "The question to be determined is whether there will be a large demand for cotton from September, 1907, into September, 1908."

The following gentlemen were introduced on 'Change to-day: Messrs. C. H. Bigelow, St. Paul, Minn., by J. L. McCulloch; E. Tiffin, Moncton, by W. H. Wm. Carruthers.

Olive; M. H. Kittleman, New York, by

New York, June 7.—Sugar, raw, quiet; fair refining, 3.34c; centrifugal, 96 test, 3.84c; molasses sugar, 3.09c. Refined, steady.

WHEAT PRICES ARE HIGHER AGAIN TO-DAY

From the Special Correspondent of the Montreal Star on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Chicago, June 7.—According to a report circulated on the Board of Trade to-day the condition of the wheat in Kansas on June 1 indicated a crop of only 40,000,000 bushels for that banner wheat-raising State which is counted upon for more than 80,000,000 bushels yearly, getting 81,530,611 bushels last year and 77,101,104 bushels in 1905.

TO-DAY'S QUOTATIONS.

The market bulked up sharply on this report, July selling from 95 3-4 to 97 3-4, September from 98 1-8 to 100 1-4, and December from 99 3-4 to 101 5-8. July closed last night at 97 1-8, September at 99 1-4, and December at 100 5-8.

TRADE BULLETIN FIGURES

The daily Trade Bulletin will publish figures made up from millers' reports late to-day, showing that Kansas will have at least 62,000,000 bushels.

ENORMOUS TRADE.

The volume of trade was enormous, and while prices were choppy, the big men in the trade refused to allow the market to become a runaway affair early. There was a lower average of prices during the first hours, when July sold at 96 3-4, off 96 1-2, September from 98 7-8 to 98 5-8, December from 100 3-8 to 99 3-4, the lowest prices of the morning showed recessions of 1-2 to 3-4c, as compared with the resting spots of last night.

CONDITIONS GOOD.

Northwestern conditions were reported as ideal with the exception of the late seeding of wheat up there.

KANSAS SITUATION.

J. T. Milliken, the big man of the St. Louis wheat market, wires John Barrett:—"The R. C. Stone Milling Company, of Springfield, Mo., has had its experts canvassing the condition of the Kansas wheat crop and reported some damage in the southern part of the State but as a whole it will not exceed 10 per cent."

BETTER THAN EVER.

A southern Illinois miller in a message to John Barrett says the wheat crop promises to be the best in 7 years. Havana, Illinois wires the same party: "Prospects for bumper crops of wheat, corn and oats."

Spot corn was in excellent demand at Liverpool, and the market there was higher. Contract corn is higher causing shorts to cover.

Figures to Prove It

A farmer, Mr. Weir, of Saltcoats, Sask., in the very district in which we are selling our block of ten thousand acres of land, last year, out of 320 acres, had under cultivation 265 acres.

From this he raised an average of 30 bushels of wheat to the acre, making a total of 7,950 bushels.

He sold it at 60c per bushel—$4,770.

The farmer and his son did all the work, excepting $50 paid for wages in the spring and $275 at threshing time.

His profits were $4,770 less $325—$4,445, or an average of about $14 for his entire 320 acres, although not all under cultivation.

In other words, land in this district will yield in one year its full purchase price. Could you imagine a better investment than the buying of land that will produce such results.

Such conditions are unheard of, outside of Western Canada. A farm in Ontario, Quebec, or the Northern States which would cost $75 per acre wouldn't yield even as much in many cases, for the land is not as productive. These conditions are sure to right themselves. In the meantime the wise investor is going to take advantage of his opportunities, for, certain it is that the present ridiculous prices of Western Canadian farm lands must increase enormously.

The longer you hesitate the more money you are letting slip through your fingers. The upward trend of prices is just as resistless as the flow of Niagara.

Why not be one of the thousands who will become wealthy through Western investments in the next few years?

Just call at our office, or communicate with us, and we will place before you, we venture to say, the safest, surest and most profitable investment you could think of.

A COBALT MONEY MAKER

Do you want to put a couple of hundred dollars where it should soon net you one thousand—and all this with practically no risk?

If you do (and who does not) get our terms for Cobalt Development Stock.

You, of course, know about the stock. You know that it is admitted to be the best low-priced Cobalt stock obtainable.

It is stock in a company with a high-class directorate, which has five splendidly situated mining claims and plenty of money to work them, and four thousand building lots in North Cobalt.

Buying stock in this company at the price we can sell it, is an opportunity for money-making which seldom comes, and one that should be grasped.

The big Bonanza vein discovered on the property adjoining one of the Cobalt Development properties, and apparently running right through it, should alone make this stock worth par in the near future, to say nothing about the other four splendid claims and the four thousand building lots

The regular price of the stock since June 1st is thirty cents, and it is considered worth it.

LOCAL TRADE IS IMPROVING.

Dun's Bulletin, of to-morrow will say of Montreal trade:

Some days of more seasonable weather have been of benefit to retailers of dry goods, etc., and payments in this line due on the 4th were well met.

Wholesalers report travellers as sending in very fair orders for Fall stuffs, and deliveries of the same are now being made. Crochet cottons, silkine threads, have been advanced.

First spring rush in the hardware and metal trade is over, but excellent business is reported for the season, and all values are firmly held. Both cut and wire nails are now up to $2.50.

Refiners report a good demand for sugars, with quotations steady on the basis of $4.60 for standard granulated, and general groceries are moving out freely. In other lines nothing of special interest has developed since last report.

The season is still a very backward one as regards the crops, but moderate showers, which were badly needed, are proving helpful.

The make of cheese is light, but prices are notably easier this week; butter rules firm.

General collections are favorably reported on, and failures are few, only four being reported in this district for the week, with small aggregate liabilities.

SUDDEN DEATH OF LOYOLA'S RECTOR

Rev. Father Gregory J. O'Bryan, S.J., Died Suddenly In His Room Last Night.

Rev. Father Gregory J. O'Bryan, S. J., Rector of Loyola College died suddenly last night in his room at the college. At 10.30 he was seized with an attack of heart failure, and half an hour afterwards he passed peacefully away. Shortly after the attack he said: "I know this is the end." For a long time Father O'Bryan suffered slightly from heart trouble, but yesterday morning he made the remark that he never felt better.

Rev. Father O'Bryan was among the best known priests in the city, and he was extremely popular with all classes of the community. He was born in Halifax, in 1858, and he studied at the old St. Mary's College, in Halifax, and later came to Montreal, where he was received into the order in 1890. Since then Father O'Bryan was one of the best known preachers of the order, and his work in this direction included the province of Ontario, where he was well and favorably known as an earnest preacher and worker for the Church he loved.

The deceased priest leaves two brothers—Mr. Joseph O'Bryan, who is assistant postmaster at Halifax, and Mr. R. N. O'Bryan, of Montreal, Mrs. Judge Wallace, of Halifax, and Miss Grace O'Bryan, of New York, are sisters of the late priest.

Arrangements for the funeral of the late Rev. Father O'Bryan have not yet been made. The body, robed in the vestments which the deceased priest wore at the celebration of Mass, lies in one of the reception rooms at Loyola College. A large concourse called during the day, to recite the prayers of the dead over the remains of the beloved priest, who as rector of the first Loyola College, at the corner of Bleury and St. Catherine sts., and after an intermission of some years again as rector of Loyola, acquired the love and reverence of the pupils of the institution as well as of their parents and guardians. The arrangements for the burial of members of the Jesuit Order are of the simplest, yet these arrangements will not be completed until some news has been received from the relatives of the deceased priest in Halifax and in New York.

SENSATIONAL RUNAWAY DOES STRANGE STUNTS.

One of the most remarkable runaway accidents on record happened yesterday, when a horse attached to a buggy became frightened at a passing electric car and bolted down St. Catherine St. East from the corner of St. Charles Borromee street.

Wilfrid Lafortune, a youth of fifteen had been left in charge of the horse and he made a desperate effort to pull him up after the bolt. It was no use, however, and the horse went between cars bound north and south on St. Lawrence street with but a foot to spare of being crushed to death. At St. Domitique, Lafortune jumped and the horse took to the sidewalk. Just how it was done it is difficult to say, but horse and buggy kept to the sidewalk until St. Denis street was reached. Here the animal turned and went north, knocking down Jean Constant, who attempted to stop him. Constant's left wrist was broken. At Ontario street the horse turned east and another man who tried to stop him was badly hurt.

At the corner of St. Timothee there is a cigar store and to this the frightened animal steered. Right through the window he went, leaving the buggy on the sidewalk. The woman, who was in attendance got out of the way in safety, but the horse was so badly cut that it was thought better to shoot it. The buggy was uninjured after the mile run.

The Late John J McCarthy.

The remains of John J. McCarthy, eldest son of the late Michael McCarthy, of 19 Mentana street, who died of pneumonia, at the St. Boniface Hospital, Winnipeg, Friday, May 31st, were buried yesterday morning in Cote Des Neiges Cemetery. Funeral service was held in St. Patrick's Church this morning at 7.30.

"Ralph Connor" Will Preach.

Teh Rev. Charles W. Gordon, D.D. (Ralph Connor), of Winnipeg, who is attending the Presbyterian General Assembly, will occupy the pulpit of St. Paul's Church, Dorchester street, Sunday evening.

Newspaper publishers who have examined The Standard's circulation say the growth is unprecedented in Canada. IS THIS TRUE?

Montreal is well supplied with good daily English newspapers, claiming all sorts of circulation.

1st—That The Standard at the end of the first year has a larger bona fide circulation than any of the others after more than 5 years.

2nd—That The Standard, at the end of the first year, has a larger circulation than any of them at the end of more than 10 years.

3rd—That the bona fide established circulation of The Standard to-day is larger than any of them, with one exception.

4th—That The Standard circulation is many thousands ahead of any of them except one.

5th—That The Standard circulation in the city of Montreal is many thousands ahead of any of them, except one.

6th—That a great many Standard newsdealers sell more of The Stanadrd than any other paper.

These are big claims, but money talks.

The Standard challenges a test of strength, and puts up six thousand dollars for charities on the result.

TERMS OF COMPETITION.

There are four English dailies in Montreal. At least three of them must enter this competition. The Standard puts up $1000 on each of its six claims.

"THE WOMAN'S CORNER"

About Town

Living In Dust.

"Mary," said a mistress reprovingly to her maid, "I can write my name on the piano." "Sure, ma'am, and so can OI," was the happy reply. Such is the condition of the average Montreal house at present. It is almost impossible to keep it dusted. Once a day is not sufficient. No matter how carefully the duster goes over the drawing-room in the morning by the time evening comes and visitors are expected, it is possible once more to write one's name on the piano.

One little housekeeper who boasts only a single maid, and a not very competent one at that, has a pretty idea. Just outside the drawing-room door hangs a silk brocade bag. Inside this is kept tucked away a cheese-cloth duster. Then at odd moments she whisks out the duster and gives the pretty little living-room an extra dust. In this way it always looks fresh and spotless.

Some persons seem content to live in an atmosphere of dust. Whenever you go to see them the room looks as though it wanted dusting. This disinclination to go to the trouble of a little dusting shows a lazy and not particularly clean method of managing things. The woman who has a dusty house may be counted upon to wear soiled and crumpled clothes and to have untidy hair and far from immaculate nails. This sense of personal fastidiousness is all in one with the sense of having a fresh and dainty home. If a woman has not this quality of cleanliness and neatness she should cultivate it. Some women pride themselves on being so superior that they have not time to be neat and fresh and dainty, either in their household or personal belongings But it is well to remember that neatness and cleanliness are quite the equal of many virtues that are usually given a much higher place. The Bible did not say "Cleanliness is next to godliness," but it might well have done so.

The Candy of Antiquity.

We are using to-day, if in different combinations, very many of the prime equivalents for sweets; the various delicacies "au miel et pistache" are only another form of the "honey and nuts or almonds" of which the earliest records tell us; in all probability, too, the candied fruits especially in evidence at this time differ only slightly from the "melipekta" and "dulciaria" of the old Greeks and Romans. Etymologically, too, at any rate, the popular marzipan of to-day may be the "martius panis" of Italy, as it is certainly the marchpane, that prime favorite with our mediaeval ancestors.

Before the general use of sugar it is evident that the variety of sweets, as we understand the term, must have been limited; even when it became known, its price—according to some authorities equal to thirty shillings a pound of our money—must have made them in a very special sense caviare to the general public.

But when sugar came into general use sweets blossomed forth into a thousand varieties; indeed, a thousand is but a paltry estimate when we recall the boast of the Spanish confectioner in Beaumont and Fletcher's play: "I can teach sugar," he tells, "to slip down your throat in a million ways." The old dramatists give us here and there feeling allusions to the furore for sweets that came in with "the spacious times of great Elizabeth."

The Pergola in Modern Gardens.

Again there can be a mis-use in the employment of the pergola—and every one is pergola mad these days. The pergola affords a very beautiful means of training roses and other climbers, but it is also capable of becoming a cumbersome and meaningless object. In Italy it used to support vines and to afford a cool greenery in the middle of the day. Many of the large Italian villas have massive pergolas covered with vines, roses and wistaria and passion flowers. It is a species of outdoor room or passage which is necessary in a warm climate, but not in these regions. It has its uses, this pergola, but it must be in accord with the landscape or surroundings. A pergola on a lawn, or beside a path or erected as a species of temple, is absurd.

Design by May Manton.

THE FASHIONABLE GRAY AND WHITE.

Striped suitings of all sorts are greatly in vogue, but the gray and white ones are peculiarly well liked and are especially attractive for spring and summer wear. Here is a costume that shows one of the new fitted jackets combined with a plaited skirt, and that is admirable for a thousand uses. It is well adapted to shopping, walking, business and all occasions of the sort while it will make a really ideal travelling suit. The little jacket is made with the seams that extend to the shoulders, and which mean such becoming lines while the skirt is seven gored and kilt plaited. In the illustration it is trimmed with a band of the material cut on the straight and such trimming is greatly in vogue, the band being cross or bias as liked, but where plain material is rhosen contrasting fabrics are used in much the same way, the folds being either stitched flat both edges or at the upper only after the manner of applied tucks. The season is a generous one, however, and the plain skirt is quite correct, braid of various sorts can be used, and, indeed, almost any finish employed that may suit the individual fancy. For the jacket removable collar and cuffs of white linen or embroidered muslin are exceedingly dainty and charming, and are well liked, but the simple tailored finish is always correct and is all that is really needed. For the medium size will be required, for the jacket 1½ yards of material 27, 2¾ yards 44, or 2½ yards 52 inches wide; for the skirt 7½ yards 27, 4¾ yards 44, or 4½ yards 52 inches wide if there is neither up nor down, but if the material is of the sort that must all be cut one way, 8¾ yards 27, 6¼ yards 44, or 5 yards 52 in will be required.

A May Manton pattern of the jacket, No 5653, sizes 36 to 46 inches bust, or of the skirt, No. 5496, sizes 22 to 30 inches waist, will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of ten cents for each. If in haste, send an additional two-cent stamp for letter postage, which insures more prompt delivery.

The Baby's Trousseau.

Not "How many pounds does the baby weigh?" but how many dollars can baby's parents afford to expend for its outfit? How much for the dainty dimity morning frocks without a line of embroidery or stitchery, but so carefully cut and exquisitely put together? How much for the filmy French linen afternoon robe, hand-embroidered and trimmed with real lace? How much for the lingerie cloak of dotted Swiss over rose silk, of turquoise mull or of the imperishable crepe de chine? Only the presiding geniuses of establishments who dress children from the moment of their early debut until the fourth anniversary is celebrated, can answer these questions satisfactorily. That long, cumbersome robe in which baby is exhibited to curious friends—but not on a gold platter like the babe born to Queen Victoria—is trimmed with tiny tucks and lace entre deux bordering a panelled front and finished round the bottom with a deep ruffle of tucking and lace insertion. Or the robe may have a small square yoke, embroidered in tiny flowers and vines, outlined with lace and around the bottom a lattice of tucks and lace, forming squares enriched with fine embroidery. Knots of pink or blue ribbons ornament the puffed sleeves at the wrist, and the shoulder bows have long streamers which delight and puzzle their wearer.

The Day's Little Story.

Mrs. Noobride—Yes, dear, I'm married. You must come and visit me, I've the dearest little flat.

Miss Jellusse—I've seen him, dear.

The Flower Mission.

At the thirty-second annual meeting of the Flower Mission, held in the Natural History Society rooms, Drummond street last week, it was announced in the general report, that during the past year 5,944 bunches of flowers had been distributed, the flowers having been sent daily to the Montreal General, the Victoria and the Homeopathic Hospitals, the smaller institutions being visited when the supply was sufficiently large. Regret was expressed at the death of a devoted member, Mrs. Kirkpatrick; and the thanks of the members were extended to the Natural History Society for the use of the rooms, and to the officials of both the C. P. R. and G. T. R. lines for care of the flowers left at the stations. Notice was given that the meetings would re-open the morning of June 8th.

A Verdict of Accidental Death.

A verdict to the effect that Hermanagill Legault, 80 years of age, met death while he was walking on the track, at his own risk, was returned by the Coroner's jury at the inquest Tuesday afternoon. The evidence showed that the old man lived at Hawkesbury, Ont., and that he was struck by a G.T.R. locomotive running light between Point Claire and Dorval. Legault had left his home on Monday morning, intending to go to Point Claire, in order to visit his sister.

More Disorderly Houses Raided.

The Montreal police are still prosecuting their raids upon disorderly houses, and yesterday the keepers and inmates of three of these establishments appeared at the Recorder's Court. The keepers were each fined $100 or six months, and the nine inmates $25 or three months. Two thousand five hundred dollars of fines have been imposed within three days.

Women the World Over

Women and Politics.

The whole controversy (on woman suffrage) seems to turn on the question whether politics and legislation are a sphere of labor or a privilege. If political power be a mere privilege which can be used without either care or study, and which is yet certain to bring in its train an increase not only of wages, but of personal freedom, by all means let it be all of either sex who can get it. But if politics and legislation (even our modern legislation by constituencies) are tasks involving hard work and calling for serious study, then let them be undertaken by those whose hands Nature has left free. You cannot legislate with one hand and rock the cradle with the other. —Caroline E. Stephen, in the Nineteenth Century.

Women in the Quaker Parliament.

The same writer has this to say about the part women play in the Quaker deliberations: "In our Quaker Parliament (as we may call the yearly meeting of the Society of Friends) there has been for more than one hundred years a separate women's meeting, which, though without legislative power, exercises a very marked influence on the action of the society, through the opportunity it provides for the voice of Women Friends to be heard on all its affairs and for their views to be placed on record.

The Silent Opinion.

Clever women, says the London Spectator, are very hard on the men they imagine to be fools. Able men, on the other hand, are not at all hard on women they know to be stupid. Where youth and beauty are concerned, the fact is easily understood; but youth and beauty by no means explain the whole of this phenomenon. Many men are inclined to think that the kind of mental power in women which we colloquially call brains exists in inverse ratio to their common sense and serves only to carry them with fatiguing rapidity through verbal fallacies to a false conclusion.

Father Vaughan on Woman's Follies.

Father Bernard Vaughan has been of late more outspoken than ever on the subject of society's sins. His Lenten addresses this spring attracted crowded congregations to the noted church in Mayfair, and it was interesting to mark the expressions of his fashionable hearers as they emerged into the outside world. The worship of the pet dog came in for his animadversions, and little wonder, in view of the ridiculous way in which some women treat their Fidos. One is always so sorry for the dog. Apparently, the remarks of this modern Savonarola have gone home, for a species of intellectual revival has been the outcome. Bridge has given way to lectures, card-rooms are converted into salons.

The Intellectual Movement in London.

Dr. Emil Reich's lectures at Claridge's last year were so popular with society people, who crave variety in any shape or form, that several hostesses have adopted this mode of entertainment, and invitations are sent out for lectures on some topic of the moment.

The Duchess of Sutherland, ever to the fore in anything original, has organized for her friends a series on the French salons. The Bishop of London has given private lectures at Fulham Palace, other people are following the fashion, and there is a likelihood that we shall be inundated with lectures, for society people invariably over-do everything with a rush and tire of their new toy in a week or two. The movement may result in the revival of the long-ago political and literary salons, a consummation for which several of the more serious-minded English hostesses have long striven.

Judgments in Review.

Messrs. Justices Mathieu, Pagnuelo and Bruneau, sitting in review, have confirmed the judgments of the court below in the cases of Lamoureux vs. Blanchard and Blanchard jr., garnishee, and of Levinson vs. Heirs of the late Mark Axelrad. In the former case the Superior Court at Sherbrooke had declared that $31.50 out of $126, a yearly payment made by the garnishee to his father, the defendant, was seizable. In the other case, Levinson claimed certain furs which the court below had refused to grant him, on the ground that he had not proved that these furs had not been accounted for long before, that the entry of furs did not appear in the books of the deceased and that defendants had proved plaintiff's reputation for telling the truth was not good.

In the case of Villeneuve vs. Tetreault, the court below had dismissed a suit for damages because though defendant had gone into a partnership with a merchant tailor after selling out his business as trouser maker, with a promise not to do business as a trousers maker for five years, no damages had been proved. The Court of Review held that the defendant had acted in bad faith in the matter and condemned him to pay $100 costs.

Funeral of Mrs. Harry Williams.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Williams, of Joliette, wife of Mr. Harry Williams, of the Canadian Northern Railway, who died at the Royal Victoria Hospital Wednesday, took place from the residence of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Russell, 88 Union avenue, to Mount Royal Cemetery at three o'clock p.m. yesterday, and was attended by a number of personal friends and acquaintances of the family. The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. Dr. A. J. Mowatt, pastor of Erskine Presbyterian Church. The chief mourners were the husband of the deceased, who was formerly a resident of Montreal; her only son, Mr. Shirley Mann Williams, and Messrs. William Russell and Thomas Light, nephews.

Little Boy Killed by Waggon.

A little fellow named Samuel Spector, 4 years of age, whose parents reside at No. 5 West Dorchester street, was taken to the General Hospital in battered condition Wednesday night. His parents said he had been run over by a horse and express. He died a few hours later. His body was taken to the morgue and the coroner will investigate the case.

CHARLES CUSHING THE NEW CHAIRMAN

Montrealer Chosen Head of Congregational Union—Reports of Societies Presented.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Hamilton, Ont, June 7.—The new chairman of the Congregational Union of Canada is Mr. Charles Cushing, notary public of Montreal, who, for years, was chairman of the Home Missionary Society of the Church.

Several reports were presented to the convention. The Jubilee Fund now amounts to $203,000. The central fund, including a grant of $20,000 from the Colonial Missionary Society of England, amounted to $62,600. Of thus fund 86 per cent. of the estimated amount had been paid out to churches in need of help. Liens had been given by churches to the committee in return for the advances. This revelation caused a warm debate and a bitter attack on the committee for accepting liens for help out of the Jubilee Fund. Some of the delegates claimed that the committee exceeded the powers and instructions given to them last year at the convention in Montreal.

Rev. John Eames, of England, spoke on church union. He said that the church in the Old Land regarded the Canadian movement with every satisfaction and approval. He thought it would be an excellent thing and the Old Country people wished the movement God-speed.

At the afternoon session Rev. A. F. Pollock presented the report of the Congregational Foreign Missionary Society showing subscriptions of $5,146.66. Ontario gave $1,750, while Quebec gave $1,100. It was proposed to establish an industrial school at Caesambra, South Africa, but the cost would be $10,000 and most of the members thought that the money should be first forthcoming. Others thought it would be a paying investment. The society was indebted to the American Missionary Society for $4,000 and the laymen appointed a committee to raise the money to pay it. The churches will likely be asked for a special subscription. The officers elected were: Rev. F. B. Hyde, president; Rev. E. Munson Hill, vice president; Rev. D. S. Hamilton, secretary; H. W. Barker, treasurer.

The annual meeting of the Provident Fund Society was held, the financial report showing assets of $27,000. The directors elected were: C. R. Black, G. Gurd, J. Ross, T. Moodie, C. Cushing, of Montreal; T. B. Macaulay, H. O'Hara, A. McMurphy, B. W. Robertson, W. W. O'Hara, and A. E. Hanna and G. H. O'Hara auditors.

In the evening Rev. Dr. Currie, South African Missionary, gave an address on his work, he said that the assistance rendered by the Canadian churches was indeed valuable.

Rev. F. J. Day, Congregationalist representative of Quebec, spoke of immigration. He was afraid that as the years went on the proportoin of English immigrants to Canada would diminish and foreigners swamp the country.

Public Had a Good Day In Wet at Blue Bonnets Against the Professionals

Three First Choices Finished in the Money, and There Was Good Play on All the Other Winners—First Victory For a Seagram Entry Proved Popular With Montreal Race Goers.

Yesterday's winners:—

First Race—Columbia Lad, 1; Guarda, 2; Truro, 3.

Second Race—Schroeder's Midway, 1; Azelina, 2; Canopion, 3.

Third Race—Main Chance, 1; Col. Jack, 2; Monkey Puzzle, 3.

Fourth Race—Dr. Keith, 1; Esterjoy, 2.

Only the regulars turned out to attend the races at the new Blue Bonnets track yesterday afternoon. They were fully repaid for their trip, as the card furnished on the third day was one of the best of the meeting, and brought together some of the finest horses at the track. The feature event of the afternoon was the running of the Blue Bonnets Stake, which was won by Main Chance, owned by Joseph E. Seagram, president of the Ontario Jockey Club. This was the first event in which the colors of this well-known racing stable were carried to the front, and the victory was a most popular one, many of the officers of the club congratulating Mr. Seagram, through his agent Mr. John Evans, who is here in charge of the horses.

Notwithstanding the heavy downpour of rain during the morning and afternoon, the track was in fairly good shape, which is shown by the good time made in each of the events. It was an even break for the books and the public, as three out of the six favorites landed the money, they being all heavily played.

Main Chance was the shortest priced horse of the day, but in a field of three starters he looked like a 1 to 10 shot in place of a 2 to 5 chance. Col. Jack in this race was easily the next best, and place money was offered against him.

GOING CAUSED SCRATCHES.

There were more scratches on the card yesterday than on either of the previous days. This was entirely due to the rain, as all of the horses withdrawn do not like the heavy going. It was too bad that the field in the feature event was such a small one, but such things sometimes happen. The steeplechase was another with only three starters, and had Kara not fallen it would have been one of the prettiest jumping races ever seen in Montreal, and that is saying a lot. When Esterjoy fell, throwing Brazil, the rider had his collar bone broken. Boyle, who fell off Kara, the favorite, was not hurt, although badly shaken up.

THE FIRST RACE WON EASILY.

The first race of the day was a half-mile run for two-year-olds. In this event there was a field of nine starters with Columbia Lad the good thing and favorite at even money and 4 to 5. There was a lot of play on this colt, and he lived up to the expectations of his supporters by winning without trouble. Columbia Lad was by pounds the best of a fair field, and held the others safe all the way from start to finish.

When the barrier was released the lot went away well together. The favorite was the first to get a call. He opened up a running gap going the first furlong, while Guarda was in second position as easily the best of the rest. Truro was lengths in front of the others, who looked to be outclassed. This was the way they started out and finished, so that the public got away to a good start by the first favorite landing the money.

A GOOD THING LANDED THE MONEY.

When the slates were hung out in the second race Azelina was the favorite at even money, and remained so to the end. As the horses paraded at post time she was being played at even money in the majority of the books, while some offered as good as 7 to 5. There was a rush for Schroeder's Midway, his price being backed down from 4 to 1 to 2 to 1 as the lot left the barrier. This colt went off in front, and held the lead all the way, making his own running, simply tiptoeing his field. He is only a three-year-old, and had a big pull in the weights. When the lot turned into the stretch for the run home, Jaugel eased up on the colt and won by two lengths when he could have made it twice that distance. The race was between Azelina and Canopian for the place. Canopian did not seem to like the going, and the favorite outgamed him in the last few strides.

FIRST FOR SEAGRAM.

The third event was the running of the Blue Bonnets Stakes. Out of an entry of six, only half that number went to the starter's hands. The odds-on favorite in this event was Mr. Seagram's good colt, Main Chance, and eligible for the Buffalo Derby. The price offered against the chances of Main Chance were most liberal. Some of the books laid as good as 1 to 2, while others held him at 2 to 5.

Many of the wiser ones did not know whether this colt would run up to his form in the heavy footing, but it did not take long to find out. When the barrier was released, M'Daniels rushed the Seagram horse to the front, taking no chances of getting into a pocket with him. Main Chance did not take long to open up a winning gap, which he held all the way for the mile and an eighth. He made his own running, and was never more than hand ridden at any time. Going down the back stretch, Monkey Puzzle went to second place, with Diggins riding him out. Bullman waited with Col. Jack in hope that the first two would race themselves into submission and give him a chance to come on at the end. When Bullman saw that he had no chance to catch the winner he took after Monkey Puzzle with Col. Jack and finished a good second.

THREE STARTED, TWO FELL.

What promised to be a first-class steeplechase was turned into more of a burlesque than anything else. Out of an entry of five horses only three faced the flag in the jumping race, with Kara the odds-on first choice at 4 to 5. The winner was well played at 8 to 5, while a few took a chance on Esterjoy at 5 to 1, looking for the long shot to beat the favorites.

When the lot were let go, Kara assumed the lead to make the pace, but was soon outfooted by Esterjoy, who was in front the first turn of the field. As the lot started on the second trip, Saffel, who had waited with Dr. Keith, took after the leader, and was soon in front setting the pace. Kara lost his rider soon after this, and Esterjoy fell at the Liverpool, breaking Brazil's collar bone. This left the winner to finish alone. A stable boy caught Esterjoy, mounted him, and finished out the race, getting second money.

LADY POWELL ALL THE WAY.

It was Lady Powell all the way in the fifth race. She outbroke her field, made her own running, and won by two lengths without trouble. Campfight, who was beaten off his last start, ran a good race, being the contender with Patrician third. This is about the way they ran from post to finish.

THE LAST RACE OF THE DAY.

A field of ten went to the post in the last race, there being four scratches out of the original field of fourteen. Principia and Bonnie Reg were equal choices in this event at 2 to 1, while the winner was held at as good as 6 to 1. When the bunch was despatched Oriflamme started out to set the pace. She did it successfully for the first part of the journey, but could not stall off No Trumper, who had the speed at the end and was running over the top of his field. Abjure finished strong, getting second place from Principia.

SEEN AND HEARD ABOUT THE TRACK

It was capital racing even if the weather did muss up things.

The track had been whipped into fine shape to try out the mile chute, but the downpour made the going pretty sticky. However, this is every indication that the Jockey Club course, as it is called, will be all right.

Western critics had a lot to say in derogatory manner previous to Blue Bonnets opening, and some of the horsemen here tell of gentle chirps that might have served to send the tide of racers some other way.

The first flash of the Seagram colors in front pleased the crowd, and as the public was well on with Main Chance, the victory was doubly pleasant.

The track stood the rain well. It is good throughout, and there is not a bad spot in it, a surprising thing for a new course.

Saturday's card will have a race for gentlemen riders. Here is a good chance for some of the Hunt members to show their skill.

There was a merry smile raised over Woodbine's victory in the plate, when it was remembered that some of the well-played choices had been sent to Toronto to shape out for the event. The moral is obvious.

If it should interest any person to know the reason why the winner of yesterday's second race is so named, it may be mentioned that Schroeder's Midway is the name of a resort prominent in New Orleans.

Col. Jack was fancied quite a bit in the Blue Bonnets Stakes, but the Holland entry did not have the power left to nail the Seagram horse in the stretch.

The steeplechase event was an unfortunate one. Brazil had his collar bone broken when he was hurled from Esterjoy, and Boyle had a toe broken when thrown from Kara.

Paul Clifford is not a likely starter to-day, but will be seen again, and will probably have a good following because of his good win in the first race Wednesday.

The experts say that when the grass grows along the way, Blue Bonnets steeplechase course will be the prettiest and best in the country, yet even now there are no excuses to be offered for it.

"Say, they're pretty generous people here," commented a visitor. "Just think of having open wire fences. Pretty easy for outside information."

Already there are indications that the Quebec King's Plate will be a popular institution, and there are some murmurings of preparations for next season's event.

So many centres are interested in Montreal racing that the services of half a dozen telegraph operators are required from early morning until after the last race. They have plenty of business, too.

Wise ones say that when Kelvin and Woodbine, the rival plate winners, get together, the Ontario horse will lead the Quebec winner by a wider gap than the Penniston mare led his field on the opening day. At that there are a lot of persons who have another opinion.

In Wednesday's races at Louisville, Lee rode the six winners on the card, a remarkable performance. Some of the horsemen at the track know the jockey, who is a colored boy. They figured up the prevailing odds, and someone doped it out that a dollar parlay would have netted something like $8,500 by following Lee's mounts for the day. Looks like a new Cobalt.

Clubhouse folk were not numerous yesterday, only a score braving the wet to see the fine card.

Big fields are in order to-day, and it looks like some difficult picking to figure it out ahead of time.

The fall meet is likely to be a pretty big affair. The Blue Bonnets date follows Saratoga and precedes Woodbine, and this trio should make an attractive circuit.

A half-mile in fifty seconds, after two hours of heavy rain, on a track soaked the night previous shows the kind of going there is at Blue Bonnets.

Mrs. R. W. Walden, widow of the late Wyndham Warden, arrived in Montreal to-day, accompanied by her son, Alfred Walden, and his wife. They are here to visit R. J. Walden, who heads the list of winning owners at Blue Bonnets.

In most cities where racing is comparatively new, and where there is no stone wall of regulars behind an association, rainy weather depletes the gate receipts. It is a good omen that, despite the rain yesterday, the attendance at the track was larger than on the previous day.

Fine Weather For the Races At Hamilton Yesterday

Special to the Montreal Star.

Hamilton, Ont., June 7.—Finer weather and an improved track were the conditions for yesterday's racing, for which a large crowd turned out, nearly six hundred coming up from Toronto by special G. T. R. train. The sport is very popular here, and though the club had two rainy days, the attendance has been quite up to high water mark. The track was drying out unevenly, the dust flying in some places, while other spots were wet.

It is expected to be in good shape to-day however.

Brazil, La Pucelle and Ketchemike were the winning favorites yesterday. Frank Somers, the second choice, took the steeplechase, and Scarecrow, at 30 to 1, and Affinity, at 6 to 1, were the winners of the first and sixth races, respectively.

The feature event of the day was the Wentworth Plate of $1,000, a handicap of six furlongs. Of the seven horses carded, Tongorder, Martin Doyle, La Gloria and St. Joseph were scratched on account of the track conditions. There was much interest in the anticipated appearance of the first named, as many horsemen believe Tongorder to be the fastest horse in Canada at this distance, whether Canadian owned or not. Only La Pucelle, Scarfell and Herman Johnson were left in, and the mare, after her victory over Charlie Eastman on the opening day, was an overwhelming favorite. She won, but Moreland had to shake her up in the stretch, and perhaps it was fortunate for her chances that little McCarty came very wide into the stretch with Scarfell and lost a lot of ground. Herman Johnson had early speed, but he was outclassed in this company. The race was run in 1.15 1-5, very good time for the slow track.

The other stake of the afternoon was the steeplechase for the Walker Cup. The club has been anxious for years to get rid of this trophy, but no owner has yet arisen to win it twice, and yesterday a new name was added to the list that opened in 1893, when Alex Shields won with Pat Oakley. Yesterday's race fell to Mr. J. F. Hynes, of Toronto, when Frank Somers got home in front of Ruths Rattler, after the keenest kind of a struggle the whole way between the two. The other starters were Kuro, Ohnet and Flying Plover. Ohnet refused as usual, and did not complete the course. Flying Plover went down at the first jump, and Kuro also fell after going a turn and a half of the field. The latter was remounted by Corbley and came home in time to draw third money. The race between Ruths Rattler and Frank Somers was a desparate one. Somers was all the time trying to run out, but Murphy stopped every effort the horse made to get away from the course. He kept him inside of Ruths Rattler most of the journey, and this helped some. In a whipping finish on the turf course Frank Somers outclassed his opponent, and won a brilliant race.

Merry George, whose connections are able to get a tremendous lot of backing when they think they have the horse in the right spot, was a warm order for the opening race, but he did not make good. After causing a long delay at the post by his usual antics, Merry George got away in his stride and opened a big gap, but Ralbert and the 30 to 1 chance Scarecrow overtook him in the stretch run, and the long shot landed first money from Ralbert, with Merry George third, all three being head and head under a fierce drive. Chippewa, who was caught in a jam at the start, made up a lot of ground, and finished in fourth place.

The stewards did not like the lack of effect in jockey Moreland's riding of J. W. O'Neill, who was passed by almost every horse in the field before Moreland set to work to keep his place. The rider and owner Ed. Trotter were questioned, and Moreland was cautioned.

Beazie, the 2 to 1 favorite, took the lead from Alegra, at 12 to 1 at the head of the stretch in the second race, and won in a drive by half a length. Bitter Hand, also an outsider, finishing third by a head. Comic Opera, the second choice, reared at the raising of the barrier, and was the last to get away. True Dora ran awy two miles after finishing tenth.

Ketchemike, tthe 2 to 1 choice, won the fifth race, for maiden two year olds, at 4 1-2 furlongs, by a head, with Revery, at 4 to 1, second, and William Penn, at 30 to 1, third. It was a furious drive between the first and second horses.

The sixth race, at 1 1-16 miles, witnessed the defeat of Harmakis, the 7 to 5 choice by Affinity, who was at 6 to 1, and led all the way, winning by six lengths. Harmakis a half length in front of Demon.

PROSPECTS GOOD TO-DAY AT HAMILTON

Hamilton, Ont., June 7.—To-day, the fourth day of the Hamilton meet, promises to be by far the best yet. The fields are large enough to insure keen races. The weather to-day is fine and warm, and the track is dry and fast. The track has dried out very quickly, and yesterday in spots the dust was flying. The warm weather will give the sports the chance they have been waiting for. The attendance so far this meet has been surprisingly good, but it will greatly exceed the previous attendances if the weather stays warm and bright. To-day there are no stake events, the races being mostly selling.

Judging by the form the horses have been running in so far this meeting, Amberly and Moonvine would seem to have the best chance in the first race. In the second choice goes to Oleasa and Bazil, and in the third race Emma G. and Dew of Dawn. The fourth race looks as if it is between Round Dance, Elwin H. and Simon D., and the fifth race should go to Miss Gaiety or Caper Sauce. Court Martial is entered but was easily beaten by Miss Gaiety the other day. Posing and Lagloria look good for the sixth race. There is no steeplechase to-day for the first time in the meet. To-morrow some of the big events of the meet will be pulled off.

To-morrow's Big Card Jockey Club Stakes and More Inaugural Features

There will be seven races on the card for to-morrow, with the Jockey Club stakes as the feature event. Next in importance comes the first race, which is the renewal of the Inaugural Cup, run on opening day. There will be a race for gentlemen riders, and many will come from Toronto and other points to ride.

The following is the card:

TRACK IN FAIR CONDITION TO-DAY

The heavy rain all day yesterday and last night has turned a lightning fast track into a slow one, so that it is unlikely that fast time will be made to-day. The clearing weather at the race course this morning only went to make the going sticky as there is hardly time enough to dry it out properly before the first race. The steeplechase field is not as bad as one would imagine. It was hard and dry on opening day and the rain, if anything, has improved the footing. The take off will be slippery in the jumps, but the rest of the field will be in fairly good condition.

The horses were allowed to gallop on the outside of the track only this morning, so as to give the inside a chance to dry out and keep it from being cut up. Men were put to work early this morning, so that everything has been done to get the track in shape.

BIG HANDICAP RACE FOR TUESDAY

Sir Ralph and Deuce will likely be the Seagram Stable starters in the Canadian handicap to be run on Tuesday next. This is over a distance of one mile and a furlong. Main Chance has been nominated, but will not likely go, as it is too close to his trip to Buffalo.

The field in this event will be a fair one and it is likely that the following horses will face the starter:

Deuce, Sir Ralph, from the Seagram string.

Factotum, from the G. W. Cook stable.

Sir Edward, owned by J. J. Walsh.

Glimmer, owned by the Hendrie string of Hamilton, has been nominated, but will not likely come to keep the engagement.

Main Chance Entered For Buffalo Derby

Mr. John Evans, the racing manager of the Seagram stable, stated that "he was more than well pleased with the race run by Main Chance yesterday." It was the best performance that he has ever shown Trainer Littlefield, and he beat a good one in Col. Jack. This colt is nominated to start in the Buffalo Derby to be run at Kenilworth track on Saturday 15, and will leave here next week to keep his engagement. Main Chance is a better colt than Inferno was as a three-year-old and should take some beating in the feature event at Kenilworth. This is the only future engagement Main Chance has, and he will be heavily supported by Canadians. Main Chance will be ridden by McDaniels in the Buffalo Derby. If nothing goes wrong with him he will be shipped on Tuesday or Wednesday to the Kenilworth track.

YESTERDAY'S RACES AT LOUISVILLE

Louisville, June 7.—Louisville, first race, Etrina (Perkens), 7 to 1, and 5 to 2, won; Spendthrift Helen (Powers), 6 to 1 place, second; Nellette, (Austin), 5 to 1, third. Time, 1.14 1-5.

Second race—Western (Powers), 15 to 1 and 5 to 1, won; Hazel Patch (Dearborn), 2 to 1 and 4 to 5, second; Solly M., (Bilac), 11 to 2, third. Time, 1.42 3-5.

Third race—Minder, 8 to 1 and 5 to 2, won; Little Lighter (E. Martin), 15 to 1 place, second; Beau Brummek (Dearborn), 3 to 2, third. Time, 1.40 2-5.

Fourth race, seven furlongs, handicap—Frontenac (J. Lee), 2 to 1 and 7 to 10, won; Fantastic (Trueman), 4 to 5 place, second; Light Wool, third. Time, 1.26 3-5.

The riding of J. Lee, a colored jockey, was the excitement at Churchill Downs yesterday afternoon. He won all six races on the card, and some of his mounts were at long prices. One dollar played on Lee's mounts would have netted $13,000. This record has been equalled but twice, by Fred Archer and George Fordham, both in England, but Monk Overton, another negro, one day at Washington Park, Chicago, sixteen years ago, won the first six races. He did not have a mount in the seventh.

When Lee rode back to the stand after winning the last race, he was cheered by the big crowd. In his race on Foreigner, he lowered the track record for a mile and three furlongs by nearly two seconds. The time was 2.22 4-5. Two favorites won.

The weather was clear, and the track fast.

Lee won on the following horses:—First race, Bucket Brigade, 8 to 1; second race, Mattie E., 6 to 1; third race, Wool Stone, 11 to 2; fourth race, Alecon, 6 to 5; fifth race, Wing Ting, 11 to 10; sixth race, Foreigner, 7 to 2.

Bisley Team Now Complete.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ottawa, Ont., June 7.—The Bisley team has at last been completed. Corporal R. L. Snowball, 43rd rifles, Ottawa, has accepted and makes the last man. Captain Hunter, 56th, is reserve.

EXCITING BETTING AT GRAVESEND

Special to The Montreal Star.

New York, June 7.—The betting ring at Gravesend yesterday was the most exciting place on earth just before the horses went to the post for the Westminster.

The crowd had been betting on various horses when suddenly half a dozen husky young men in shirt sleeves rushed into the ring carrying rolls of 100 dollar bills. They made a bee line for different sides of the enclosure and were slapping down wagers in a great hurry on Flip Flap, before the crowd knew what was in the wind. Then the word was passed that there was skilling framed on Flip Flap. As the commissioners combined to load the books up with the "yellow backs" there was a frantic rush on the part of hundreds to get aboard.

SHLECHTER LEADS AT CHESS.

The Latest Reports of Tourney at Ostend.

Ostend, Belgium, June 7.—The chess players in the two tourneys were busy disposing of unfinished games when time was called. Schlechter is still in the lead in the championship tournament, while Mieses occupies a similar position in the masters' event.

The games resulted as follows: Championship tourney—Marshall managed to draw an adverse position against Tarrasch, while the latter went down before Tschigorin, as was expected, the Russian having had the better position. Tarrasch drew also a game with Janowski. Burn went down before Janowski. Schlechter drew with Janowski and Burn defeated Tschigorin. The record to date:

	Won.	Lost.
Schlechter	9½	5½
Tarrasch	9	5
Janowski	8½	6½
Marshall	6½	8½
Burn	6½	8½
Tschigorin	5	10

THE BOOKMAKERS WHAT THEY'RE DOING

On opening day about forty bookmakers and their clerks turned up at the track looking for business. As the racing game is a somewhat new one in Montreal, there was only business for about half that number, so that the first to weigh in took the preference. The others being around for the first couple of days in hopes that some of the others would pull out. The looked for pulling out did not come to pass, and those who did no business on the opening day have drifted away from Montreal. Some twenty bookmakers had orders on opening day and have kept it up all week. The winning of so many good things has made it hard for them, and almost every man in the ring is a loser to the meeting. The odds laid against the winners at this meeting have been most liberal, with one or two exceptions, and the public have had all the best of the game.

Twenty pencillers will be furnished with advance information again to-day, which means that they will do business.

MUCH MONEY MADE ON SELECTIONS YESTERDAY.

Those who followed the published selections of the Star's professional at the track, and Nordac, the amateur, yesterday made money. The professional picked three winners, the amateur two.

The professional in the third race picked 1st, 2nd and 3rd.

The amateur in the fifth race also picked 1st, 2nd and 3rd.

PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLY DISCUSS GRAFT AS A NATIONAL FAILING--INTEMPERANCE IN CANADA IS ALARMINGLY ON INCREASE

The General Assembly had its first big debate Thursday afternoon. The subject was the relation of the church to temperance and moral social reform.

The debate arose over the consideration of two overtures from the Synods of Toronto and Kingston and of Winnipeg, proposing the organization of a special standing committee on temperance and moral reform; proposals which were varied by "Ralph Connor" with the suggestion for the appointment of an agent of the Church who should devote his time to this line of work.

The note of advance was clearly and strongly present; but the call back to the old methods found vigorous utterance also.

Dr. Pidgeon, of Toronto Junction, who comes fresh from local option fights, introduced the subject and was followed by another veteran of political ministerial activity, Rev. C. W. Gordon, better known as Ralph Connor.

The Methodists, said Dr. Pidgeon had taken a prominent place on the platform of reform, with such energetic leaders as Rev. Dr. Chown and Rev. H. McGee. These men were not only doing the work of their own Church, but the Presbyterian and other churches.

Ralph Connor made a strong plea for advance. The last five years, he said, had seen a great change for the worse in the matter of temperance in the West. There had been a striking increase in the number of convictions for drunkenness, especially in Manitoba. The liquor business had been established on a stronger basis. A man who had recently visited Winnipeg, had asked what had hapepned in the West. "I have spent the last three quarters of an hour refusing drinks," he had said.

Mr. Gordon made a vigorous appeal for action by the church. The brewers, he said, wanted the ministers to attend to 'spiritual work."

"It is wonderful," said he, "how interested some men get in the simple Gospel when they have some scheme afoot. They say, 'You preach the gospel and we will see to business.' And the Church has too often said 'yes.' The result is commercial life and methods have become to a very great extent corrupted. You put down the probe and you come upon the pus."

This condition was even more prevalent in political life, declared Ralph Connor, and then qualified his statement with a quotation from Dr. Shearer that we in Canada were "governed by an honorable body of men." Again he balanced to the other side. "We are holding down our faces," he said, "because of the examples of men in public life. What we want is to level up the standard of morality among those who chcose our representatives. It is said these men do not represent us. Unfortunately they represent standards of political morality that are too much in vogue in Canada.

"Is the church doing all it should do or can do?" he again asked. "The church has stood too much aside."

Then he added a reminiscent touch from his late campaign in Manitoba.

"I have got over that," he said.

"It is not always pleasant," he continued, "to pass through the experience of getting over it."

"It is not fair for the pulpit," he went on, "to ask the pew to go into dirty politics to uplift, if the pulpit will not go down also and bear the heat of the struggle."

Touching briefly on the battle with vice in Winnipeg, he compared present days with the days when vice went around in silks and satins, cited the labors of a Presbyterian missionary in bringing about the change and pointed to that campaign as an encouragement to greater victories.

"Is the church losing its grip?" he asked in conclusion. "Perhaps in some ways it is. But I am confident that the Presbyterian Church has a message for the laboring man. Let us meet our opportunities."

CANADA SUFFERING FROM GRAFT.

Mr. G. E. C. McDonnell, of Kingston, Ont., struck a discordant but striking note. "I object," he said, "to the title 'Temperance and Moral Reform.' We should call it the 'Committee of Graft and Moral Reform.' That would be much more to the purpose. Canada is not suffering from intemperance to the one-hundredth degree as much as she is suffering from graft. Our forefathers in Scotland were honest, even if they did take more whisky than we do. We are not an honest people. If you do not believe me, go to Ottawa, read the Insurance Report, or visit an election court. I am a temperance man and my good minister will certify to me; but I believe in putting first things first."

"I have been a temperanc man ever since I was a boy," declared Mr. C. W. L. Totten, of Sydney, C.B. "But the Presbyterian church did not teach me, though it ought to have. The church deals with the young. It is not graft that is affecting the young; it is intemperance. The Presbyterian church has given out an uncertain sound on this matter."

Cries of "No, no."

"I am sorry to say it," he went on, "The church should teach that it is a sin to drink a glass of alcoholic liquor. You will say I am a crank, but I noticed the other day when the crank broke on an engine in my mill, that the whole machinery stopped."

John Mackay, of Sault Ste. Marie, joined in the chorus of elders, who were taking a prominent part in the debate. He proposed that the church should open a campaign for Government control of the liquor traffic. It would make easier the road to local option, he believed, and in addition, it would enlist the support of the Episcopalians and Catholics who were opposed to prohibition.

It was at this stage that the note of advance was most strongly sounded. The speaker was Professor Magill, of Halifax. "The work of the church in the future will be in social problems," he declared. "There is no use of preaching to men, women and children who have nothing to eat and who are living in a room where no dog should sleep."

Mr. Walter Paul, of Montreal, believed that intemperance was the cause of "slumdom." He would make temperance as prominent as possible.

Rev. Alex. Miller, of Localsh, Ont., feared that the proposal would take the church too much aside from its great engine for social reform, the preaching of the old Gospel, which the retiring Moderator had urged upon them, the gospel of man's sin and Christ's salvation.

Here the debate concluded, and the overtures were referred to a committee to report a resolution to the Assmbly carrying out their general import, which probably means the appointment of a standing committee to deal with the subject in some form.

DISTRIBUTION OF PROBATIONERS.

The passing of a long used instrument in the ecclesiastical machinery was indicated in the report of the Committee on the Distribution of Probationers. This committee has in the past had full charge of the filling of vacancies temporarily, but it has been found impracticable to continue the system longer, owing, the report says, to the scarcity of probationers. The Assembly has appointed a Committee which will consider the selection of a substitute instrument for that which has been found inadequate, and will report to the next Assembly.

Some twelve ministers are applying for admittance from other churches, and five young men ask for special ordination. Fourteen of the veterans are seeking retirement, the list includes. Rev. D. McDougall, Presbytery of Inverness; Rev. K. J. Grant, Halifax; Rev. Duncan Henderson, Miramichi; Rev. John MacKenzie, Quebec; Rev. Donald Stewart, Montreal; Rev. E. F. Seyler, Ottawa; Rev. Peter M. Duncan, Peterborough; Rev. W. T. McMullen, D.D., Paris; Rev. Hector McQuarrie, Bruce; Rev. J. A. F. Sutherland, Winnipeg; Rev. John Mowatt, Winnipeg; Rev. James Carswell, Winnipeg; Rev. D. Sutherland, Minnedosa; Rev. Charles McKillop, Macleod.

Rev. W. J. Dey, of Simcoe, read the report of the Hymnal Committee which, after providing for the Aged and Infirm Ministers' Fund and Widows' and Orphans' Fund, to the amount of $1,500, showed a credit balance of $1,020. In regard to the contract with the Oxford Press, made ten years ago, Dr. Somerville thought that the publishers should allow them 15 to 20 per cent., instead of the present 10 per cent. Dr. Somerville's financial acumen was commended by the Moderator.

THE MORMON QUESTION.

In the evening "Home Missions" had the floor. Reports were presented from eastern and western fields. One common note was struck in the scarcity of candidates for the ministry.

Rev. Alex. W. Gordon evoked the greatest interest of the sederunt by his speech on the Mormons. Mr. Gordon has spent much time in work among these people and he spoke from experience.

His speech was moderate in tone, but he stated positively that polygamy existed among the Canadian Mormons, though in a very limited degree. Its form, too, was such that it was almost impossible to bring Canadian law to operate against it, as one Mormon would not give evidence against another.

The whole Mormon system was a most intricate one, he said, and probably controlled the members of the sect in an even stronger degree than did the rules of the Roman Church, its adherents. Owing to the credulity, ignorance and aloofness of the general run of Mormons, combined with their strong social system and disinclination to mix with "Gentiles," he did not think that the mission could achieve any very great results, although, having been started, it could hardly be dropped. In general, Mr. Gordon gave the impression that the best that could be hoped for with the Mormons was a gradual leavening and uplifting by the influence of Christian settlers in their midst.

Rev. James Carmichael, superintendent of Missions in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, spoke of the difficulties of work among the Galicians. The difficulty arose, said Dr. Carmichael, not merely because of the difference of language, but because many generations of misrule had bred in the Galicians a dread of all forms of government and authority, which they had grown to regard merely as a system of extortion and oppression, until they were incapable of appreciating the possibility of philanthropic work per se. Again the medical branch of missionary work filled the gap, and it was by using this that the missionaries were finally enabled to reach the people. Eventually they adopted the plan of selecting young men and training them at the Manitoba College, and the English non-conformist catechism was translated for them into Lithuanian. Then they induced the Galicians to form an independent modified form of the Greek Church, for which the ministers trained at the Manitoba College officiated, and in his way they hoped to gradually reach the mass of the Galician settlement.

EASTERN WORK.

The statement on the eastern section of the work was presented by Rev. D. MacOdrum, of Moncton, N. B., who reported 18 ordained missionaries, with 66 preaching stations, with an average attendance of 3,615 and 1,439 communicants, of whom 92 had been added during the past year. There were 49 catechists employed as against 44 in the previous year, of whom three were assistants to settled pastors. These supplied 113 preaching stations, with an average attendance of 6,485, including 1,528 families and 1,743 communicants, of whom 159 had been added during the past year. The financial aspect wes excellent, the missions having contributed $1,600 more for their own support than during the previous year in the field served by the catechists, while in the mission stations they had contributed $8,728 to the support of the students who labored amongst them, while they had a credit balance of $3,175, so that their funds were in excellent condition. The main trouble was that they were not able to spend enough owing to the difficulty of getting men for the work.

Rev. Dr. Somerville, for the Western field announced an increase in the mission centres, from 528 to 558, since last year. In addition, 39 others had become augmented congregations, making practically an increase of 627, almost 100 more during the year.

In the Far West one of the difficulties was the influx of Americans, continued Dr. Somerville, whose home churches had not kept up with their march westwards, so that many of them came in without the Canadian sense of law and order and observance of the Sabbath day. Last year no less than 215,000 people came in from abroad, equal to 3 1-2 per cent. of our population, a tremendous number for so small a people to take care of from a religious point of view. To meet this the three great requirements are money, men and faith. To meet the work this year they needed $200,000, but had only asked for $175,000. This would be divided $55,000 for Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, $50,000 for British Columbia, and the balance for New Ontario.

HOW DEBATES ARE CONDUCTED.

The new moderator brings to the presiding chair a manner all his own. He is possessed of a humorous vision, which enables him to hold the "fathers and brethren" close to business without harshness or bitterness. He has quite often already seated a commissioner rather quickly, but even the subject of his humor can scarcely fail to join in the laugh at his expense.

"Mr. Moderator" does not always stand by the strict letter of the law in the matter of rules of order, but his departures are always accepted by the Assembly, which is a law unto itself. Wherefore the irregularity is no irregularity, but the will of the law-giver.

The Assembly has a habit which conduces much to audibility of the speakers. It insists that they always speak from the rostrum. Often the speakers, both ministers and elders, prefer to stay in their own places. "I have only a few words to say" is the explanation. But the Assembly is inexorable. "You may as well save your breath," says the Moderator with a directness not usually associated with Presbyterian methods; and the speaker yields to the inevitable.

Six of the New Summer Styles

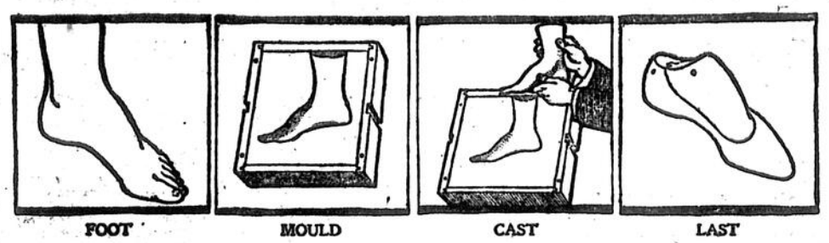
FEMININE FOOT COPIES No. 1.

"ONE OF THE 14"



Style 3218—Fine Vici Kid Blucher Oxford $4.50

Style 205—Fine Black Kid dull top $4.50

This Style, in all sizes.....$4.00

Dolly Varden Lasts are exact copies of Perfect Feminine Feet.

How did we copy them?

We scoured Europe and North America for Perfect Feminine Feet. Where permitted, we took plaster of Paris moulds, from which gutta percha casts were made. The casts were then carved into wood lasts. Thus we procured exact copies.

How did we classify them and decide on a certain number of basic foot types?

With the assistance of notable orthopedic surgeons we studied with infinite pains the lines and shapes of all the thousands of lasts we had made, and found that in groups the lasts were almost alike, so we determined that they could be divided into a number of classes.

Example: We found what we call the New England class, where the lasts were all long, slim, low instep, flat arch; the Western North American class, where the shapes were short, wide and thick, medium instep and arch; the Southern class, where the forms were short, slim, high instep, high arch, high heel and so on.

We then made one composite last from the last of each class. These composites we call the Dolly Varden "Feminine Foot Types."

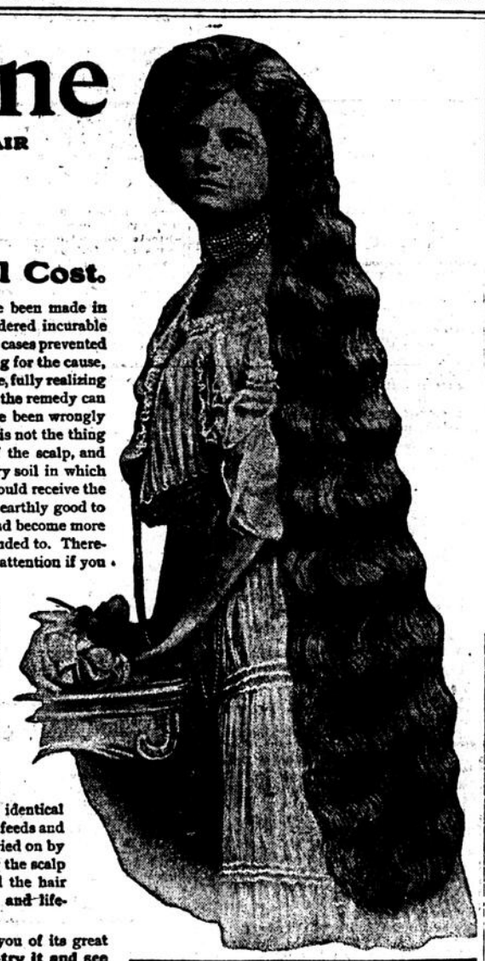
GREW MISS CARROLL'S HAIR

AND WE CAN

PROVE IT

Beautiful Hair At Small Cost.



WITHIN the last decade great and rapid strides have been made in Materia Medica. Many diseases that were considered incurable fifteen years ago are now cured in a few days, and in many cases prevented altogether. The scientists of late years have been delving for the cause, the foundation, the reason and the starting point of disease, fully realizing that the actual and true cause must be ascertained before the remedy can be located. Hair troubles, like many other diseases, have been wrongly diagnosed and altogether misunderstood. The hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp, and wholly dependent upon its action. The scalp is the very soil in which the hair is produced, nurtured and grown, and it alone should receive the attention if results are to be expected. It would do no earthly good to treat the stem of a plant with a view of making it grow and become more beautiful—the soil in which the plant grows must be attended to. Therefore, the scalp in which the hair grows must receive the attention if you are to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

Loss of hair is caused by the scalp drying up, or losing its supply of moisture or nutriment, and when baldness occurs the scalp has simply lost all of its nourishment, leaving nothing for the hair to feed upon (a plant or even a tree would die under similar conditions).

The natural and logical thing to do in either case is, feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should.

is the only remedy for the hair ever discovered that is identical with the natural hair foods or liquids of the scalp. It feeds and nourishes the hair and does all the work originally carried on by the natural nutrients or life-giving juices generated by the scalp itself. It penetrates the pores of the scalp quickly and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and life-producing qualities.

One twenty-five-cent bottle is enough to convince you of its great worth as a hair growing and hair beautifying remedy—try it and see for yourself. Now on sale at every drug and toilet store in the land. Three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00.

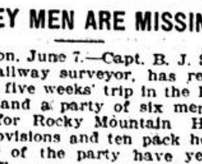
TRADE MARK.



SURVEY MEN ARE MISSING.

Edmonton, June 7.—Capt. B. J. Saunders, a railway surveyor, has returned from a five weeks' trip in the Rockies. He and a party of six men left Innisfail for Rocky Mountain House, taking provisions and ten pack horses. Only four of the party have yet returned. The men are two days overdue now, and unless they arrive within another two days Captain Saunders will go in search of them. Rocky Mountain House, where are the ruins of an old Hudson Bay post, is two hundred miles up the Saskatchewan River.

The purpose of Capt. Saunders' trip was to ascertain the feasibility of the construction of a railway running north and south between the Grand Trunk Pacific and the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway. He thinks there is no question as to the practicability of constructing it. The proposed railway will be on the east side of the mountains.

LIGHTING QUESTION IS AGAIN LIVELY

Gas Company Asked to Bring on Their London Sliding Scale System for Discussion.

The lighting question will soon be in full swing again. It was decided by the Fire and Light Committee yesterday afternoon to ask the Light, Heat & Power Company to forward to the city all the information on what was termed the London sliding scale of prices for electric and gas lighting.

Discussion on the matter was brought up when the company's letter was read saying that the company could not accept the city's offer regarding proposed prices for lighting. The company, however, was willing to discuss with the aldermen the London sliding scale scheme; or it was willing to discuss any other project the City Council might propose.

Ald. Lavallee—"What this committee should do is to ask the company to forward all the information it has on the London sliding scale system. Does any member of the committee know what this system is?"

There was a general admission that there was much ignorance concerning the matter.

Ald. Lavallee—"As this is the case we should ask the company to enlighten us. The company says it is willing to adopt this plan, whatever it is; in consequence it ought to have lots of information concerning it."

Ald. Robillard—"We had better appoint a sub-committee to see the company."

Ald. L. A. Lapointe said he would support the suggestion of Ald. Lavallee. The company in its letter declared that it was prepared to make a contract on the sliding scale. If so, the company must have its own project ready to discuss, and the object of the remarks of Ald. Lavallee was to find out what this project is. The company informed the city it did not want to accept the offer made, but they made another offer, and the committee now wanted to know what it was. Some details of it had been seen in the papers, but nobody could be sure that such information was correct. The only procedure to follow, it seemed to him, was to ask the company for full information as to what it was prepared to do, and no doubt after the committee was in possession of this it would study it fully.

TIRED OF LONG DELAYS.

Ald. Robillard:—"I think a subcommittee ought to be appointed in order to prevent endless delays. If we write the company it may take another five months to answer."

Ald. Laviolette: — "We have now been years discussing the lighting problem with the company; we seem to get no further ahead. What I favor is the municipalization of the gas lighting business. I think such a plan would give general satisfaction. In many big cities the corporations own the gas plants, and it should be the same in Montreal."

Ald. Lavallee then made the following motion: "That the Light, Heat and Power Company be asked to give the city all the details concerning the London sliding scale system, and to state what it would be willing to sell gas and electric lighting for on this system at the start; that the company also furnish to the city all other details pertaining to this scheme, seeing that the company has made a proposal to the city concerning it."

Ald. Laviolette:—"This will lead to more long delays."

Ald. Robillard:—"The motion does not specify what time the company is given for answer. The motion should be more definite than this. We shall never settle the problem in this way."

Ald. Lavallee:—"It would appear that the company is in earnest in regard to this new system, and I do not think there is any danger that it will take another four months before it sends a reply to the city."

Ald. Robillard:—"I say we should order the company to reply within a few days."

There was then added to the motion a request that the company should send in a prompt answer.

Ald. Laviolette—"I am not a lawyer like Ald. Lavallee and I fear his long motion will result in another year's delay."

Ald. Lavallee did not like the remark concerning his motion and said as much.

In reply Ald. Laviolette said he had no desire to cast reflections on the manners lawyers had of drawing up motions; all he desired was that the company should be compelled to send in an answer promptly.

Ald. L. A. Lapointe—"I am inclined to think the company will be prompt this time in its reply. It must be remembered that it is the company itself that has made an offer to the city concerning the sliding scale. We are simply asking the company what this plan is. Before any sub-committee goes to see the company it would be wise to get an answer from it in writing. The sub-committee will then be in a position to know just what steps it ought to take."

Ald. Lavallee—"We are giving the company a chance to reply at once. I feel sure that there will be a prompt reply. As soon as the answer is received we can sit every day till the matter is settled in one way or another."

It was then decided to adopt Ald. Lavallee's motion.

Ald. Lavallee then moved that Superintendent Parent, of the Light Department, be instructed to procure all information possible between cities and companies where the London scale is in operation, either in England or elsewhere, and that the said information be secured with all possible diligence.

Ald. Yates—"This looks as though we have a summer's work before us."

LARGE DECREASE IN MEMBERS OF CHURCH

Unsatisfactory Reports Received at Bay of Quinte Methodist Conference.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Bowmanville, Ont., June 7.— Rev. Richard Duke, who was last year pastor at Selby, and who is put down this year for Newburgh, was yesterday elected president of the Bay of Quinte Methodist Conference, in succession to Rev. J. J. Rae. Rev. C. H. Coon, of Bobcaygeon, was elected General Secretary.

A surprise was caused by the reading of the report of the statistical committee, which showed an exceptionally large decrease in the membership of the churches, Sunday schools and Young People's societies. The principal figures were as follows: Number of members in church, 38,707, a decrease of 652; total Sunday schoool force, 37,612, a decrease of 1,295; membership of Young People's societies, 8,346, a decrease of 453.

The financial statement showed a somewhat better result. The sum raised by Sunday schools was $26,133, a decrease of $1,095, by Young People's societies, $10,316, an increase of $1,244; and for ministerial support $105,642, an increase of $2,136. During the discussion of these figures it was stated that there were fewer children within the borders of the conference than ten or twelve years ago, by probably 25 per cent. The day schools in some places registered decreases in attendance. There was a strong feeling that there was a lack of organization and activity somewhere. A report on this subject was ordered from the educational committee.

Rev. J. W. Graham, assistant secretary of the General Board of Education, addressed the conference at some length, urging upon the conference a united effort to raise the sum of $44,000 which amount was required.

Newton W. Rowell, K.C., of Toronto, chairman of the Canadian executive of the World's Laymen's Missionary Movement, and Rev. T. E. Shore, associate secretary of Foreign Missions, addressed a large gathering of delegates and townspeople at the evening session.

Rev. Mr. Shore made a stirring appeal for greater support for the missionaries.

Will Lessen Congestion.

On the 15th of June a new by-law, which sets a stricter limit to the time that freight may remain on the wharf or in the sheds after its discharge from the carrying vessel, will go into force. In the past considerable congestion has been experienced through the carelessness of the agents in this regard, but henceforth any freight which is not removed within five clear working days of the discharge will be charged additional amounts for wharfage; and then if not cleared away by the end of ten days, may be removed by the Harbor Commissioners and stored at the expense of the owner or agent. In the case of goods delayed because of the necessity of being gauged by H. M. customs, a further period of four days is allowed.

Dominion Here on Sunday.

The steamer Dominion, of the Dominion line, from Liverpool, is coming up the gulf to-day and will probably be in Quebec on Saturday and Montreal on Sunday morning. She carries on this trip 22 first, 269 second and 910 third-class passengers.

The Kensington Sails.

The Kensington, of the Dominion line, sailed from Liverpool for Quebec and Montreal at 3 p.m. yesterday, with 290 cabin and 1,320 third-class passengers.

The Campania Signalled.

Halifax, N.S., June 7.—A special Marconigram to the Montreal Star reported the Campania passing about 650 miles east of Sandy Hook at midnight, bound for New York.

Change in Mail Service.

With the incoming of the Empress of Ireland yesterday, an innovation was introduced in connection with the handling of the British mails at Rimouski. To lessen the chances of delay at this point incoming and outgoing vessels will not take on or land any parcel post packages but at Quebec only. Parcels for Europe will, therefore, have to be posted several hours earlier than hitherto to catch the same steamer as the ordinary mails.

The Empress carries an enormous mass of mail on this trip. There are on board 953 sacks of mail and 386 sacks of parcel post. The passenger list includes 208 first 495 second and 846 third-class passengers.

The Virginian's Sailings.

The turbine steamer, Virginian, of the Allan Line left port for Liverpool at nine o'clock this morning with a very large list of passengers, who went on board here. A number also will be taken on at Sydney. The original programme of landing mails at the Cape Breton port has been so far upset by the continued prevalence of ice in the vicinity, but now the government has issued instructions that it must be adhered to. Shippers will watch with interest whether or not the delay by calling at Sydney will be of a very serious degree.

The Virginian has every passenger berth filled in first and second class, and there are also over three hundred steerage. On the first class list is the Right. Rev. Bishop Evington, of London, a large number from the United States, and the following Canadians:

J. J. Anderson, Mrs. Anderson, Montreal; C. V. Allen, Montreal; Mr. Austin, Toronto.

Mrs. T. A. Beament, Miss Beament, Miss Beament, Miss Beamen and maid, Ottawa; Miss J. M. Buchanan, Hamilton; Mrs. T. Bradburn, Miss M. Bradburn and child, Peterboro; H. J. Bedham, Winnipeg.

Mr. Percy Cowans, Mrs. Cowans, child and two maids, Montreal; E. Crepaud, Montreal.

BOYS' CLOTHING.

Nothing much has been said lately about boys' clothing at the dry goods store of Messrs. Jas. A. ORCHARD DECLARES THAT MURDER OF FORMER GOVERNOR STEUENENBERG WAS PLANNED BY MINERS' LEADERS

Three Attempts Made Before Assassin Succeeeded—Under Cross-Examination Orchard Adds Wife Desertion, Bigamy and Arson to Other Crimes—His Cool Demeanor Never Forsakes Him.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Boise, Idaho, June 7.—At the close of the most gruesome recital of murder and assassination ever told from a witness chair, Harry Orchard was yesterday afternoon turned over to the defence for cross-examination in the Haywood trial. During the short time cross-examination lasted before adjournment, a few more black spots in the chequered career of the witness were held up to the light.

Eighteen men is the total of his confessed murders and it was shown that he is a bigamist, that he has one wife living in Canada, and another in Cripple Creek, and that for a time he travelled through the country with the wife of another man during which time they lived as husband and wife.

DEFENCE MADE A MISTAKE.

It was not alone the marital relations of the witness that the defence attempted to show, however, in the opening cross-examination Mr. Richardson wanted to show that the witness is an unqualified liar, and in his eagerness he made what is believed to be a serious mistake. He asked the witness if he had not told Pettibone, in conversation, that he had burned a cheese factory in Canada, where he was manager, and collected insurance on it after stealing all the cheese. Witness replied that he had told Pettibone such a story.

"When did you tell Pettibone about this?" immediately interrupted Senator Borah, who was watching every opportunity to make a point. Witness said it was some time during the year 1904, and the prosecution will use the answer to prove that the witness was on such friendly relations with the defendant as to be telling stories of his early youth about the time the alleged criminal conspiracy began.

That the defence is in possession of certain information regarding the early career of Orchard, which will be used with a view to impeach his veracity, was shown by questions put to him by Richardson. After telling of his boyhood days at Brighton, Ont., witness was asked when he was in Detroit. He said it was in 1895, and he passed there under the name of Little. In spite of the unpleasant nature of questions put to witness by Richardson, he answered them without the slightest hesitation.

He told of leaving his wife and daughter in Canada, and marrying again in Cripple Creek, without obtaining a divorce. In the same unconcerned way he told of setting off bombs or lying in wait for victims with a shot gun. It developed in cross-examination that Orchard has a brother and six sisters, who are living in Canada and parts of New York, but he could not tell whether his sisters were married, as he had lost track of them.

COURTROOM WAS CROWDED.

It was expected he would reach the Steunenberg assassination early in the afternoon, and as a result the stairways and entrance to the court rooms again were crowded before the opening of the court in the afternoon. Bailiffs were stationed on stairs to keep back the crowd, and they seemed to favor the women visitors for the court room was filled largely with members of the fair sex.

Steunenberg was popular in this city and throughout the State, and although the manner in which he met his tragic death had been made public at the time Orchard first made his confession, the gruesome details, as related by the murderer himself were eagerly awaited.

Orchard made a detailed confession of the murder of Frank Steunenberg, by an infernal machine, that directly opens the way for his own conviction and execution, for the mortal offence. He swore that the assassination of Steunenberg was first suggested by Haywood, was plotted by Haywood, Moyer Pettibone and himself, was financed by Haywood, and was executed by himself, after the failure of an attempt in which Jack Simpkins participated.

ORCHARD CONTINUES STORY.

Resuming his evidence after the noon adjournment yesterday, Orchard outlined the events preceding the assassination of Governor Stenenberg. In the forenoon he had described the attempt to murder Judge Gabbert, Governer Peabody and others. Continuing he said former adjutant general Sherman Bell, who helped break up the strike, was the next victim selected. Haywood and he rode in a rig which they bought for $115 in Pettibone's name. Later Orchard and Pettibone on several nights drove to Bell's house. Moyer returned to Colorado at this time and ordered their operations stopped while he was in Denver, as he would surely be arrested. Besides, he said, he had some outside work which was more important. This was in August, 1905.

Orchard said Moyer told him they should get rid of Johnny Neville "who knew too much about the Independence depot affair and was demanding money. Haywood," Orchard continued, "said we ought to get ex-governor Steunenberg. He thought that if we got him after letting him go seven or eight years and then went back to Paterson, N. J., and wrote letters to Judge Gabbert, Judge Goddard Peabody, Bell and the others, telling them they would get the same thing as Steunenberg, it would show them they were not forgotten either and would have a good effect. Moyer said it would be better than killing them.

"Haywood said he would send several men to Caldwell to do the Steunenberg job. Among them were Minister, Art. Bascott, McCarthy, and Steve Adams."

Orchard said Adams told him he had not gone to Caldwell because the money Haywood and Pettibone had sent to him had miscarried. However, Adams said he and Jack Simpkins had got rid of some claim jumpers they had been after in Idaho.

Orchard traced his movements for some weeks in preparation for the the murder of Steunenberg. He started for Idaho two days after talking with Moyer and the others on the subject. He put the Peabody bomb prepared for use at Canyon City into his trunk and took it along. Pettibone knew this. Haywood gave him $240, and he was sent to Pettibone for any additional funds.

LAYING PLANS FOR STEUNENBERG.

Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone were all present when this arrangement was made. Orchard went from Denver to Salt Lake, spent a few days there, and then went to Nampa, Idaho. He registered at the hotel there as Thomas Hogan. After being there several days he went to the Pacific Hotel at Caldwell, and registered again as Hogan. He began at once to make inquiries about Steunenberg. This was early in September, 1905. He stayed in Caldwell two or three days, found where Steunenberg lived, and learned that he was not at home. He came to Boise to try to find him, and was told he was living at the Idaho Hotel. The Portland Exposition was going on at the time, and Orchard decided to go there a few days. Then he went to Seattle, to look at a ranch. Pettibone had told him to do this, thinking it might be a good thing to have a ranch where they could hide whenever necessary.

KIDNAPPING MERE SIDE LINE.

From Seattle he went to Spokane, and then to Wardner to see Simpkins. He told Simpkins what his object was, but remained in the mining district for a month. While there he consulted about kidnapping the child of one of the mine owners, but nothing came of it.

Finally Simpkins decided to return to Caldwell with Orchard, to help murder Steunenberg. From Wardner they went to Wallace, Idaho, where Orchard decided to get rid of the Peabody bomb. Simpkins had said it was a dangerous thing to have. Orchard said he gave the bomb to a friend named Cunningham to throw into the river.

At Spokane Orchard and Simpkins bought ten pounds of powder, with which to make a new bomb when they reached Caldwell. Simpkins bought a pair of field glasses.

On the way to Spokane Orchard said his trunk was lost and Simpkins took him to a firm of lawyers as to suing the railroad company. The firm was Robinson, Miller and Rosenthal. Mr. Miller is now one of the counsel for Haywood. This firm, Orchard said, Simpkins told him, represented the Western Federation of Miners.

Arrived at Caldwell again, Orchard registered as Hogan and Simpkins as Simmons. Orchard identified his writing on the Pacific Hotel register, introduced in evidence.

BOMB FAILED TO EXPLODE.

"We tried to locate Governor Steunenberg at once," said Orchard, "but could not. We went out to his residence several times and then finally saw him in the Saratoga Hotel on Sunday evening. In the meantime we had fixed up the bomb, so Simpkins and I took the bomb out at once and set it under the sidewalk with a string stretched across the walk so when he struck it would upset the bottle of sulphuric acid. We went back to the hotel to wait, but heard nothing. After two or three hours we went out and got the bomb. We found some one had broken the string, but had not upset the bottle. We hid the bomb in some weeds. The bomb was made in a wooden box just big enough to hold ten pounds of powder.

"Next day Simpkins concluded he had better not stay around any longer for fear that he had seen several persons who knew him. He thought it might go hard with him if I was caught in his company. He said I had better remain and finish the job alone. This was some time in November, 1905.

SECOND ATTEMPT FAILED.

"Simpkins, all this time was a member of the executive board of the Western Federation of Miners. After he went away I tried to catch Governor Steunenberg down town some night, so I could slip out and plant the bomb for him near his home. He was out of the city a large part of the time. Once I came to Boise, but could not find him there. I returned to Caldwell and stopped at the Saratoga Hotel, carrying the bomb in my grip. I finally located Governor Steunenberg on Christmas night, 1905, and taking the sawed off pump shotgun Pettibone had given me, I went out to his house. I heard the Governor coming and tried to get the two parts of the gun together, but had not succeeded before he passed into the house. I then went down town again.

THIRD TIME SUCCESSFUL.

"The next time I saw the Governor he was sitting in the Saratoga Hotel. I went up to my room and got the bomb and hurried out to Steunenberg's house, and planted the bomb by the gate. I then started back to the hotel, and when about two blocks away, I met Steunenberg on his way home. I ran as fast as I could toward the hotel, but had not reached it when the explosion occurred.

"I went to my room to do up some acid and giant caps, and things in a package. As I was doing so, a giant cap in my pocket exploded and tore one side of my coat out. I was afraid everybody in the hotel had heard the explosion. I waited a while, but there was no indication that anyone heard what had occurred in my room. I went downstairs and remained at the hotel until Monday, when I was arrested."

After his arrest, Orchard said, in answer to questions by Mr. Hawley, he received a telegram which he destroyed.

When he was asked who this was from, Attorney Richardson, for the defence, objected. The telegram itself was the best evidence, he declared. "We'll produce the original telegram," declared Senator Borah.

Orchard declared the telegram was unsigned. He testified to receiving a letter while under arrest, which he destroyed. The handwriting, he believed, was that of Pettibone. The defence objected, saying it was not the proper way to identify handwriting. The objection was overruled.

The attorneys for the defence moved to strike out the answer, on the ground that it was merely witness' belief. Judge Wood overruled the motion.

CROSS-EXAMINATION OPENED.

Attorney Richardson of the defence, in beginning the cross-examination, wanted to know all the geography of Northumberland county, Ont., where Orchard was born. The witness supplied the information unhesitatingly. His parents, he said, were both dead.

Orchard has a brother and six sisters, some living in Canada and some in New York State. Orchard gave the names of five sisters, Clara, Florence, Maggie, Mabel and Edith. All are married, except Edith, he said, but he could remember the married name of only one—Maggie Frazer, who lives near Brighton, Ont. His brother, Joseph Horsley, lives at Wooler, Ont. Orchard said he married in 1888. He has heard from her since his arrest. He has one child. He once lived in Detroit. He has one wife in Canada and another in Colorado.

Mr. Richardson was very aggressive with the witness.

Orchard said he ran away from Canada with another man's wife, going to Nelson, B.C. The woman was Hattie Simpson. Orchard next went into the restaurant business, and then moved to Pilot By, B.C., and ran a boarding-house. He there went by the name of Little, he said.

Orchard said Mrs. Simpson returned home from Pilot Bay, and he went to Spokane. In Spokane he adopted the name of Orchard. From Spokane he went to Wallace, Idaho, where he acquired an interest in the Hercules Mine, now largely owned by Ed. Boyce, ex-president of the Western Federation of Miners. Boyce is reputed to be a multi-millionaire. Orchard sold out his interest in 1897, and bought a wood yard at Burke, Idaho.

He had borrowed some money on his mining stock before selling it. He remained in the mining country until 1899.

Orchard admitted having told Pettibone about burning a cheese factory and collecting the insurance, and having stolen the cheese, and sold it prior to the fire. He also admitted having told Pettibone that he had an altercation with his brother in Utica, N.Y., and had pitchforked him.

Here Senator Borah, for the prosecution, had Orchard give the date of this conversation with Pettibone, so as to correct it with him.

It was in 1904, said Orchard.

Orchard added that he never, as a matter of fact, had any trouble before leaving Canada, and never was in or near Utica.

The court then adjourned.

THE CANADIAN END OF ORCHARD'S EXPERIENCES TOLD BY ACQUAINTANCES

Cobourg, Ont., June 7.—Alfred Horsley, cheesemaker at a factory north of Brighton, left this part of the country about 1896. His name is that to which Orchard confesses, and though the published pitcure is not a good likeness of Horsley, there is no doubt here as to his identity.

Horsley was born of respectable parents who kept a garden farm about two miles from Wooler. Wooler is a small place some eight miles from Brighton. After working on the farm in his younger days, Horsley became a cheesemaker at Wooler, going afterwards to the Brighton factory.

Up to this time his record had been good, but he is said to have left the factory after the occurrence of a fire. There was some investigation of the incident, but nothing was proved.

Horsley was looked upon as a good cheesemaker, and is described as a hustler. He had an off-hand manner, and made friends easily, but, as one who knew him says: "He did not improve upon acquaintance."

Horsley left the country, and not alone. It is said he went with a woman who later returned to her husband.

His wife was left deserted, and has lived at Wooler up to this spring, where she has supported herself by working in an evaporator factory, and for farmers. She has one little girl.

Horsley's parents are both dead. One brother lives at Wooler, where he is highly respected.

A telephone message from Brighton indicates that Horsley has a married sister living there. "Even as a boy," said a resident of Brighton, "Horsley showed the spirit of a gambler, and he was always very fond of gambling. Wooler was quite a place for playing cards, and Horsley was passionately fond of them."

It is said the woman with whom Horsley disappeared belonged to Campbellford. She was away only a month.

County Councillor Henry Belford, who is in town, has clinched the identity of the Idaho murderer. He knew Horsley as a barefoot boy, says his name is Albert, not Alfred, and that he left this vicinity about a dozen years ago. Mr. Belford had heard since of his being in the mining region, where Orchard became notorious.

As a boy he was quiet and unassuming. His mother was a good Christian woman, declared the councillor, and his father a hard-working man. They did not have the easiest struggle for existence. Mr. Belford thinks that Mrs. Horsley is in New Ontario. Others believe that she went to Campbellford.

MRS. FRANK STEUNENBERG FORGIVES HARRY ORCHARD FOR SHARE IN MURDER.

Seattle, Wash., June 7.—A despatch from Walla Walla says: "Harry Orchard has done many wrongs, but I hope that he has repented, now that he understands their magnitude, and that he will be given a chance to lead a good, true and honest life after the present ordeal has passed."

This is the statement of Mrs. Frank Steunenberg, who is attending the annual camp meeting and conference of the Seventh Day Adventists at College Place. She seems to be above hatred of the man who killed her husband. As to Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone, she expressed no opinion, saying she had not though of their connection with the case.

She leads a secluded life, spending most of her life reading the Bible and other religious works. She said yesterday: "The trial of Moyer, Haywood, and Pettibone, is the comencement of a national struggle between the United States government and organized labor, and will eventually lead to rebellion. When the Coeur d'Alene trouble arose, Mr. Steunenberg was greatly worried and one evening after he made his final stand, he told me he thought it would cost him his life."

THE MARVELS WROUGHT BY Automatic PIANO-PLAYERS

The wonder of the musical age is the automatic piano-player. It enables people who are devoid of musical education to produce at will the works of the greatest masters or the simple melodies of the people. A person may be musically uneducated and yet have a great taste for music. This taste he is enabled to gratify by means of a Chase and Baker attachment, or a Kurtzman player piano.

The chief merit of these instruments is their simplicity of operation. No dazzling blue, black or red lines to follow with straining eyes. Such were the bewildering features of the old style "Players." In the Chase and Baker Player, or Kurtzman interior Player, these complicated distractions are conspicuous by their absence. A child can operate them after 10 minutes' instruction. Come in and let us demonstrate these facts to you. Even if you don't purchase we will know that we have made another friend for these instruments.
