TRAGIC SCENE AT ST. DAVID D'YAMASKA WHEN YOUNG MAN WAS KILLED IN ACCIDENT YESTERDAY MORNING (Story in accident roundup, Page 3)

Jordan Authorities Charge Bias Shown In Favor Of Israel

AMMAN, Jordan. — (AP) — The Jordanian government in conjunction with other Arab states concerned intends to ask the United Nations to replace Gen. E. L. M. Burns as chief of staff of its Palestine truce supervision organization, a defence ministry spokesman said today.

A list of cases in which the Canadian officer is said to have shown a biased attitude in favor of Israel is being prepared by Jordanian authorities for presentation to the UN, the spokesman declared.

Egypt, Syria and Lebanon have been approached to prepare similar lists to support a joint demand for Burns' removal, he added.

Burns' contract with the UN is due to end next month.

Burns, 59, has been chief of staff of the UN truce supervision organization since the fall of 1954. It is his job to oversee four different armistice agreements: Between Israel and the Arab states on its borders, Lebanon, Syria, Jordan and Egypt.

Rising Clamor In UK For Military Action In Suez Canal Crisis

LONDON — (AP) — Western Big Three diplomats studied new blows today to counter Egypt's seizure of the Suez Canal amid a rising clamor in Britain for use of armed force.

The British press likened Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser, who announced last week his government was nationalizing the great waterway, to Hitler and denounced him as an international bandit and blackmailer.

There were signs of revolt within Prime Minister Eden's Conservative party should he fail to produce effective retaliatory action.

The loudest demand came from Conservative Julian Amery, who said Britain and France should use force if necessary, whether or not the United States joined in.

Informants said Eden's government was pressing the United States and France to join it in a stiff warning that any Egyptian limits on shipping through the canal might bring Western military action.

Foreign policy leaders of Britain, the United States and France held an inconclusive five-power huddle here Sunday. They were to lunch with Eden today before another conference.

Britain is represented by Foreign secretary Selwyn Lloyd, France by Foreign Minister Christian Pineau and the United States by Robert Murphy, deputy under-secretary of state.

Sub-committees for aides of the three diplomats were set up to analyze the military, financial and legal aspects of the crisis touched off by Nasser's abrupt action. A spokesman announced that Lloyd, Pineau and Murphy were "in agreement about the gravity of the situation and the need for preserving the canal as an international waterway, in accordance with the terms of the Constantinople Convention of 1888."

That nine-power treaty specified that the canal be kept open to all shipping.

So far, canal traffic is reported proceeding normally.

But on the international economic front moves and counter-moves continued:

1. Britain and France already have frozen the assets of the seized canal company in Paris and London. The British treasury also blocked payment of all Egyptian funds, public and private, banked in Britain.
2. Egypt retaliated with an announcement that cheques

Explosion Kills 19 In Texas

DUMAS, Tex. — (AP) — A burning petroleum tank exploded in a towering mass of white-hot flames that seared 15 men to death in an instant Sunday. Four other died later from burns.

At least 31 others were burned by the blast that shot an orange fireball thousands of feet high and scorched a quarter mile radius.

Horrified spectators saw friends and relatives stumble moaning and crying, their clothing afire, from the smoke and flames at the Shamrock Oil and Gas Corporation tank farm. Ensnared explosions burned and shattered three more big storage tanks and blackened others nearby.

A shirtless boy stumbled out with his naked back in flames. He said the dead were caught in a "pool of fire."

Some of the burning bodies set fire to blankets used to wrap them. A railroad bridge burned a quarter mile away.

Bob Bower, Shamrock public relations official, said the men were fighting a small ground fire when the 20,000-barrel tank containing pentane, a butane-like fuel, caught fire. Firemen who were attempting to cool other tanks were caught in the first explosion at 6:53 a.m.

The other tanks, ranging from 10,000 to 20,000 barrels in capacity, quickly caught fire from the initial blast. They contained crude oil or its byproducts. Bower estimated damage at $500,000.

Nine of the dead were Shamrock employees and the others volunteer firemen from nearby towns.

For a time the burned sat in corridors at the hospital. Some got only morphine injections at first. The small hospital staff soon was joined by doctors and nurses from nearby towns.

At Least 10 Die As Storm Hits Britain

LONDON — (Reuters) — An air and sea search was intensified today for the ocean-going yachts still missing after weekend gales lashed the English Channel and tore a path of destruction through southern England. At least 10 persons died.

At dawn today 13 of the 23 yachts racing from Le Havre, France, to England, still had not been sighted.

The gale, worst of the year, battered sea defences, toppled chimneys and trees, felled power and telephone lines and ruined crops.

Several persons were crushed by falling trees and three men drowned off the Isle of Wight when their yacht capsized. One man was killed when he was blown off a ladder in London.

Mountainous waves wrecked the British freighter Teekwood, and sank the 103-ton Ketch Moyana, winner of the recent England-Portugal sailing race. The crews of both ships were saved but one of the Teekwood's crew died later.

Six yachts were blown ashore on the French side of the channel with their crews clinging to them.

One of them, the Right Royal, earlier reported drifting six miles off Cap Gris Nez, France, with broken masts, later managed to dock in Boulogne harbor.

Deposed Hungarian Moves To Moscow

BUDAPEST. — (AP) — Informal sources here said Sunday that Matyas Rakosi, who was deposed July 18 as head of the Hungarian Communist party, has gone to Moscow to stay for a year. Some people speculate he may not come back. These sources said the object was to get Rakosi out of the country while the party leadership is rebuilt.

Capital Hill Roundup

CBC Gets Another Round Of Criticism; Liberal Charges Bias

OTTAWA — (P) — The trend of CBC operations indicates its spending will be more than doubled in the next five or six years, an Opposition Commons member contends.

John Diefenbaker (PC—Prince Albert) said in the House Saturday the CBC's present trend could send expenditures to $100,000,000 a year by 1961 or 1962. In the fiscal year ended last March 31, the corporation spent about $38,600,000.

Mr. Diefenbaker suggested the CBC should not be encouraged to overspend, opposing a $12,000,000 grant asked by the government to meet an expected 1956-57 deficit for television development in the current year. He said it should be a loan.

In the Commons' first Saturday sitting of the session, the CBC and the government came under attack on several fronts on matters ranging from financial policies to CBC news.

The House also heard Health Minister Martin announce a civil defence policy calling for evacuation of major Canadian cities even before the outbreak of actual war.

Mr. Martin previously had made public his officials' thinking on civil defence, but Saturday laid it down as government policy.

The program now, he said, is for orderly evacuation on short notice of main urban areas should "the possibility of attack on such areas by nuclear weapons appear to be imminent."

In a press statement amplifying his House speech, Mr. Martin said evacuation of parts of the population — mothers, children, sick and elderly — should start when there was evidence of a "general deterioration in the international situation that suggested the probability of attack."

Cities involved in these plans would be Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa, Hull, Windsor, Niagara Falls, Halifax, Vancouver, Hamilton, Winnipeg, Edmonton, Quebec, Saint John, N.B., and Victoria.

The first stage of evacuation, he said, would be precautionary and progressive. Further withdrawals would come on the alarm that enemy aircraft actually were approaching Canada. The populations of other communities would not move unless their evacuation was ordered by CD authorities.

Ex-President Of Eaton Company Dead At 81

MIDLAND, Ont. — (P) — Robert Young Eaton, one of Canada's leading merchants who was president of the T. Eaton Company Ltd. for 20 years, died Saturday at the age of 81.

He had been holidaying with his family near this Georgian Bay district town and became ill last week.

A man of distinguished appearance who commanded respect wherever he travelled, Mr. Eaton was the third president of Eaton's, the largest retail organization in the Commonwealth.

In 25 years he rose from a shipping clerk to president, a job he held from 1922 to 1942. He was head of the firm through the good times of the 1920s, the low of the 1930s and the war years of the 1940s.

Girl Killed, Many Hurt On Mountain

TIMBERLINE LODGE, Ore. — (P) — One girl was killed and several others were severely injured Sunday when 19 young mountain climbers slid 100 feet down an icy chute on Mount Hood and plunged into a crevasse.

Doctors worked all night on the mountainside in an attempt to save the injured who could not be moved immediately by snow tractor to a hut 2,000 feet below the accident scene.

The teenaged climbers, all joined by a rope, apparently fell when two members of the party lost their footing. The group came here from eastern and mid-western states during a bike-and-train tour of the U. S.

Rescue efforts were organized swiftly. The U. S. Air Force sent a plane to drop plasma and other medical supplies and the RCAF sent a helicopter to McCord air force base in Washington.

The disaster occurred near Crater Rock at the mountain's 9,000-foot level.

37 Are Still Missing, Many Believed Safe From Ship Accident

NEW YORK — (P) — A crew member of the Stockholm says the powerful engines of the Swedish liner were reversed before the ship plowed into the liner Andrea Doria in dense fog off the New England coast Wednesday night.

Bernabe Polanco Garcia, 36, also said Sunday he was sure the foghorn on his ship was silent before the disastrous collision which sent the Doria to the bottom of the Atlantic.

The Italian line, meanwhile, listed two passengers from the sunken Doria as known dead, 18 missing and presumed dead and 37 unaccounted for. The sleek ship carried 1,706 passengers and crew.

The line trimmed the number of unaccounted for from 73 to 37, and many of the 37 are believed safe. They may have failed to register with the line in the confusion that surrounded the return of survivors aboard rescue vessels.

The streamlined Stockholm and the modern 30,000-ton Doria collided off Nantucket Island, Mass. The Doria plunged to the bottom of the Atlantic the next day with a fatal gash in her side.

The captains of both ships have declined to voice publicly their opinions as to how and why the accident occurred. They say the causes must be determined by official investigations later.

All 19 Canadians or Canadian residents aboard the Doria have been accounted for. Several were injured and required hospital treatment after they arrived here. There also were 50 Canadians among the Stockholm's passengers.

Two Stockholm crew members died in the collision and three others are missing and presumed dead.

Garcia said he could not be mistaken about the silence of the Stockholm's foghorn. When the horn is operating, he said, the sound is overpowering.

He also insisted that the Stockholm's propellers were in reverse before the crash. He said years at sea had taught him to recognize the "braking" sensation.

In the wake of passenger criticism and praise of the part played by the Doria crew after the collision, two Stockholm passengers said the officers on their ship gave no directions in the emergency.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Post of Farmington, Conn., said Stockholm passengers rushed to the deck after the collision but found no one there to give instructions or describe the condition of the ship.

However, the couple commended the officers and crew for their later rescue work.

Some passengers on the Italian liner have said there were no orders to abandon ship and that some of the crew scrambled for lifeboats first.

The crew denied the allegations.

In another development Sunday, the Italian line announced it has not abandoned legal possession of the luxurious Doria. The $29,000,000 liner is lying on her side 160 feet beneath the waves.

A coast guard cutter at the scene reported that floating debris covered an area nine miles wide. The cutter said she fished out a crate of film but no "survivors, bodies or mail."

Meanwhile, a 14-year-old girl once reported "dead" aboard the Doria was making a good recovery at a hospital here.

The girl, Linda Morgan, was cheered Sunday by a visit from Stockholm crew member Garcia. Garcia was the man who found her lying badly hurt in the smashed bow of the Swedish ship. She apparently had been catapulted from the Doria to the Stockholm by the impact.

Rockingham "Dies" In Explosion; Bitter Fighting Expected Today

CAMP GAGETOWN, N.B. — (P) — Under a new commander, soldiers of the friendly Blueland nation will try to push back the invading Fantassians today but bitter fighting is expected in the fifth day of Exercise Morning Star.

The biggest blow came Sunday when an atomic simulator was quietly placed near the Blueland headquarters and the battle umpires ruled that Maj. Gen. J. M. Rockingham, commander of the 1st Division and assistant director of the exercise, died in the explosion.

The fatal bomb was taken right through the front lines and detonated near the well-hidden and partially-buried headquarters.

Brig. J. V. Allard, commander of the 1st Division's 3rd Brigade, was given divisional command after Gen. Rockingham "died."

The mythical death of the general came shortly after a Blue-land dispatch rider was captured and the enemy took from him a map of unit headquarters location. This was believed responsible for the sneak attack on the main headquarters.

Fantasia, a hypothetical aggressive and power-seeking country, saw its troops advance nine miles down into Blue-land Sunday to disrupt the predictions of exercise officials who expected the democratic Bluelanders to gradually crush the aggressors.

Before the exercise started the army gave both countries colorful histories, wrote many propaganda leaflets, gave each government an obvious purpose, and built the scene into a realistic trouble spot. When war was finally declared, only blank ammunition separated the battle from realism.

But the Blue-land forces were meant to win, and officers still predict ultimate victory. In the meantime the much-smaller Fantasia army is mopping up.

Besides real soldiers, the Fantasia army has several mythical divisions which keep Blue-land troops away from certain sectors. The exact number of "dead" wasn't known Sunday, but 100 per cent casualties in some areas. Umpires tag the dead and wounded and they are kept out of action until they later re-enter battle as reinforcements.

The war is expected to end Wednesday or Thursday with a formal surrender ceremony.

World News In Brief

TAIPEI, Formosa. — (Reuters) — A violent typhoon with winds of 130 miles an hour in the centre was sweeping today across the Pacific toward Formosa from a point 700 miles east-southeast of the island, the Formosan weather bureau announced here.

The bureau said typhoon Wenda would hit the Formosan coastline Wednesday if it continued on its present course.

NEW YORK — (P) — A three-year-old girl was raped and flung from a rooftop to her death Sunday and a man accused of the crime was nearly mobbed by 2,000 angry people.

Five detectives with drawn guns rescued suspect Diego Lugo, 21, from the mob that surrounded him a few minutes after police said they had a confession from him. Lugo was released from psychiatric observation at Bellevue Hospital about two weeks ago, police said.

LONDON. — (Reuters) — Eight passengers in a British Viscount airliner were injured Friday night when their plane flew through a violent storm en route from London to Birmingham. A 12-year-old girl broke her arm when she fell to the floor. Another passenger broke his ribs.

SAINT JOHN — (CP) — A petition to Russian Premier Bulganin and his government was unanimously adopted Saturday night by 1,300 delegates to a district assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses.

It called for the release of thousands of witnesses allegedly held captive in Russia; for freedom to practise their religion and to publish and distribute Watchtower magazine in the Soviet Union.

The four-day assembly, attended by delegates from the Atlantic provinces, Quebec and eastern U.S. points, ended Sunday.

GENOVA, Italy — (P) — The Italian Lines announced Sunday the 23,842-ton passenger ship Conte Grande is being transferred to the North Atlantic run temporarily to fill the gap left by the loss of the Andrea Doria.

The 28-year-old Conte Grande had been on the South America run. She will be replaced by the Toscanelli. The Conte Grande will sail for New York from Naples Aug. 27 and again Sept. 25.

HULL, Que. — (P) — A Saturday night fire at the E. B. Eddy Company plant here put out of commission a mill with a capacity of 170 tons of newsprint a day. Company officials said Sunday they did not know the cause of the blaze which started in the mill's basement and roared through the rambling, two-story cement structure. The fire was controlled within an hour.

No official estimate of damage was available, but one unofficial report placed it at $250,000.

Communism In Ferment

The West could not help but be suspicious when a virtually unanimous chorus of criticism was leveled against the Kremlin by foreign Communists. That happened after Russian leaders started reviling Stalin, but subsequent events suggest the suspicions were warranted.

It was guessed the attacks might have been designed to give the world a false show of independence among the Communist parties outside Russia.

If that was the intent, the show was not very impressive, since Italy's Togliatti and France's Thorez soon indicated they were ready to swallow the new anti-Stalin line like any dutiful Communist.

If the attacks were genuine, again they were short-lived. Apparently boldness at best comes in fits and starts to satellites and Western Reds accustomed to operating under Moscow's thumb.

Russia acted as if it took criticisms seriously, though this might just have been part of the show.

Naturally the Kremlin wants no real trouble with outside Reds. But it is quite obvious that whatever the truth of Russia's present relationship to foreign Communists, the Russian rulers would be quite happy to have the free nations believe there is more independence within the Soviet orbit.

They want Communist parties to seem acceptable in Western European lands as elements in new "popular front" governments, while still maintaining tight ties with Moscow.

The Western onlookers may question whether the extremes of the anti-Stalin drive are a way to this goal, whatever other end it may serve.

Red leaders abroad continue to be embarrassed at being made to look stupid. They cannot hide the fact they acquiesced in Stalin's brutal rule and now, after criticizing his critics, are once again following the twists and turns of the tortuous Kremlin line.

Other leftist parties in Europe would indeed have to be extraordinarily gullible to see even momentary advantage in combining, however briefly, with parties whose leaders endorsed the wickedest of crimes so long as these offenses did not imperil their own position.

And less radical leftists can hardly find much encouragement in the fact that men like Togliatti and Thorez have gone back to servile parroting of Moscow after temporarily appearing to assert themselves.

Both within and beyond Russian borders, communism is in real ferment. The West's opportunity is ideal to make capital of its confusions, contradictions and boiling cross currents. It would be a great pity if, out of the whirlpool stirred by the Kremlin, Western leaders could not find the force to drive home to wavering free men the inevitability of crime and death under Red tyranny.

Fire And Nightdresses

An interesting, if rather indelicate statistic has recently been quoted by the Birmingham Accident Hospital in England.

The statistic is this: loose-flowing nightdresses have been associated with 48 per cent of the cases of accidental burning reported at the hospital during the past five years. The figure for pyjamas, on the other hand, is four per cent.

There are, of course, two conclusions that can arise out of this finding, if anyone happened to be in the mood for drawing conclusions on this particular subject. The first is that Britons may be quite modern during the day, but plainly, when they retire, then a nation-wide regression occurs. The majority of people in Britain still wear nightgowns instead of the more up-to-date pyjamas. This conclusion may be rather a loose one, but by quoting the above figures, it can quite easily be arrived at.

On the other hand, since the figures concern burning by accident, then quite another conclusion may be drawn: namely, that if one wears a nightgown at night, then one is more likely to catch fire than if one wears pyjamas.

The "British Medical Journal" has evidently drawn the latter conclusion.

In that publication, members of the burns research unit operated at the hospital suggest a revolution in night attire. They say that the fire risk would be greatly reduced if, instead of nightdresses, someone should design a comparative form of garment embodying the comparative safety of pyjamas.

Canadians should find this whole situation rather curious. Although, to the best of our knowledge, no survey has ever been conducted on the subject, it is, we assume, quite safe to say that most Canadians wear pyjamas, even women. In the heat of summer nightdresses are, of course, normally out of the question. And they are hardly necessary in winter, because our houses are centrally heated.

This, of course, is not the case with many homes in Britain, despite the fact that their winters are severe enough to warrant it. Thus, nightgowns, especially for children and women are essential for a comfortable night's sleep in the winter. This can be a refreshing thought in the hot days ahead for us Canadians.

And at least we can be thankful, that, winter or summer, the wearing of nightdresses is one thing at least that doesn't constitute a fire hazard here.

Fixing Unjust Law

(Sudbury Star)

One of the most iniquitous features of Canadian law will be removed if the Parliament concurs with a recommendation contained in a report from a penal reform committee, headed by Mr. Justice Gerald Fauteux, of the Supreme Court of Canada. The recommendation proposes repeal of provisions authorizing jail terms in default of payment of fines by persons unable to pay.

This is the "one law for the rich and another for the poor" that has attracted the attention of all people interested in the administration of justice. It is the law which gives a wealthy man his freedom and a poor man a jail term. Often the offence of the wealthy man is much greater than that committed by the poor man.

The Canadian Bar Association has made representations in the past for the repeal of these provisions. The new Criminal Code, which went into effect in April, 1955, gave judges the discretion to allow the payment of fines on the installment plan. How many times has this discretionary power been used in the past 15 months?

If the laws of the land are kept under constant review there would be no necessity for months-long studies to bring them up to date. There are a number of weaknesses in the administration of justice including the disparity in sentences. In the magistrates' courts one magistrate will impose a fine where another will send the guilty party to jail for a similar offence. It just doesn't make sense.

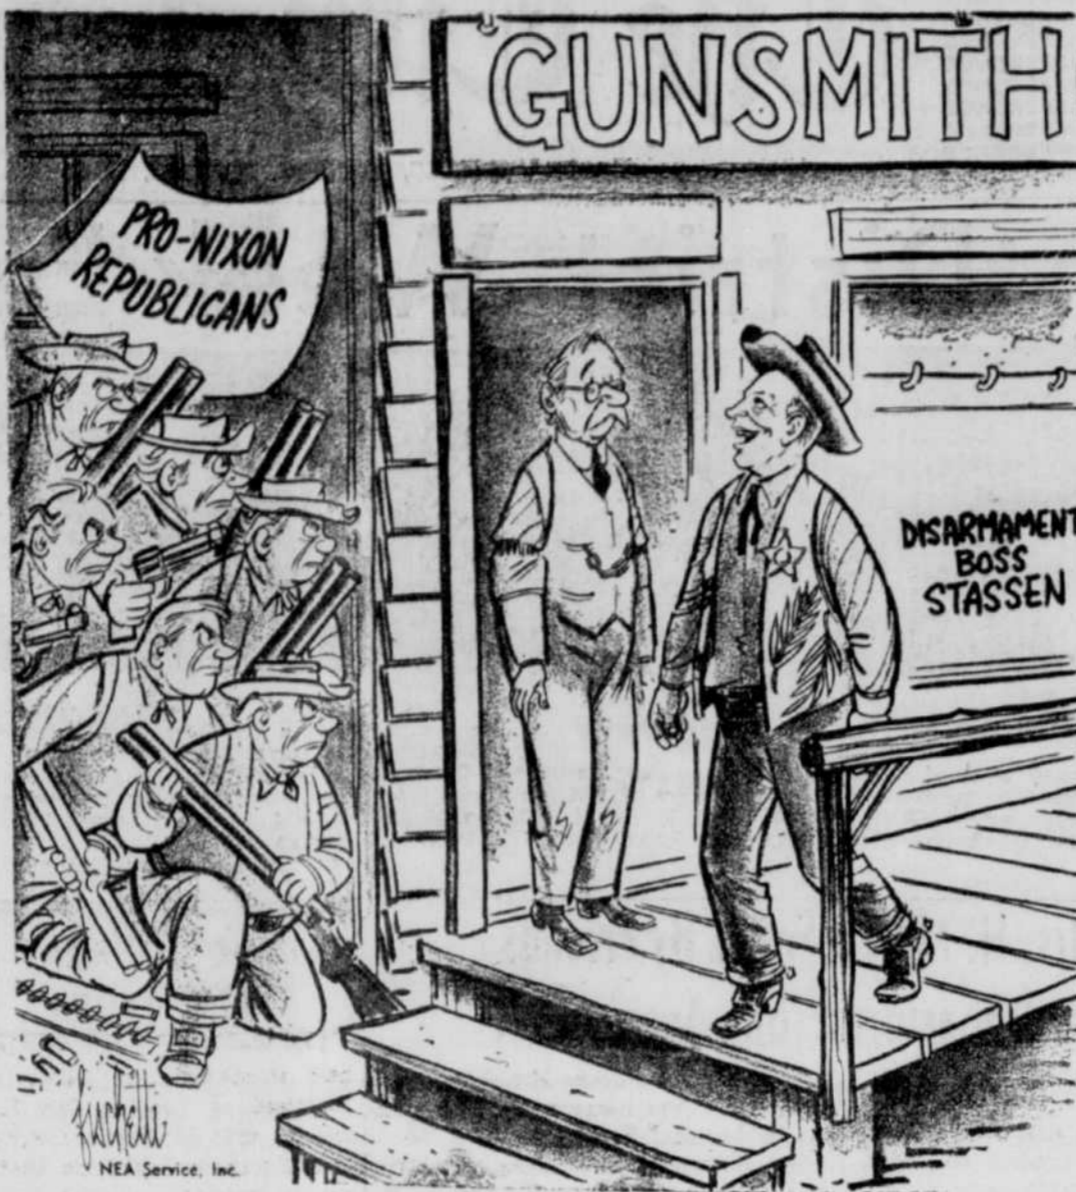

However, it is a step in the right direction to destroy the "rich man-poor man" law. It is not justice that one man can buy his freedom by paying a fine while another must serve out a prison sentence. And there is no doubt that in many cases the greater hardship is worked on the family of the poor man when he is the breadwinner.

THE OLD SWIMMING HOLE
 From the Winnipeg Tribune. Maybe we thought it was OK at the time, but how could we possibly have had fun at the old swimmin' hole without a mattress, suntan oil, portable radio, beach umbrella, dark glasses, towel, water skis and an inflated horse? Or, come to think of it, swimming suit?

CONCEALED BRAINS
 [Port Arthur News Chronicle] A sociologist tells girls not to show brains; just marry success. But it takes quite a lot of brains, sometimes, to hide the fact of their existence.

The ancient Phoenicians needed about 4,000,000 snails to make a pound of Tyrian purple dye.

TAX MONEY FROM BLOOD

 It may be impossible to squeeze blood from a stone but Ottawa has found a way to squeeze tax money from blood. The national revenue department has held that if a person is paid for donating blood, this is part of his income and the department wants a tax on it.

TAKING OUT THE BITE

Owen Sound Sun-Times
 Stingless bees have been developed and, it is reported, stingless mosquitoes are on the way. While the stingless bee is of interest to a comparatively few, the breeding of mosquitoes which are minus their sting is of interest to almost everyone. Reports from Germany, where these great developments are taking place, do not say if the stingless mosquito is also "humless".

PITY THE WIFE

 Pity the poor professor's wife in Los Angeles who won a divorce on the grounds that her husband spent morning, noon and night working calculus problems in his head. WOMEN IN RUSSIA

Letter To The Editor

July 26, 1956.

The Editor,
 Sherbrooke Daily Record,
 Dear Sir—
 Being both a Mother and a Driver, I heartily agree with both the Anxious Mothers and the Anxious Driver in the controversy over the unfortunate accident in Lennoxville on July 18th. However, I am inclined to lean towards the side of the Mothers in the district as I have walked as well as driven the stretch for which they are pleading to have a sidewalk made. Perhaps, Anxious Driver, if you would walk this yourself you would see how truly treacherous this is both for young and old, particularly from where the sidewalk ends in the Town to Elmwood Inn.
 Granted there are those children who would not use the sidewalk if one were made (let us hope the Town Fathers will see that it is before school re-opens) but I am sure the average mother sends her youngster off to school in the morning with the warning: "KEEP OFF THE ROAD." What the rascals do from the moment of departure until they reach the school yard is left in God's Hands. But in the matter under discussion the Mothers in the controversial district cannot even give a fair warning to their children to keep off the road because there is no other spot for them to walk.

 Let us leave the children out of the question, Anxious Driver, and ask any of the residents from Downs St., to the end of the Town Limits and I am positive you will find they are petrified to walk into Town. Also, we must remember the object in these Mothers having their letter published was to get protection in the form of a sidewalk, for their children, so let us help them in their aim and not discourage them.
 AN AVERAGE MOTHER.

WATCH OUT FOR TRICKY DISCARDS

East made the wrong discard in today's hand, but only a very hard taskmaster would blame him. Put yourself in his place and see if you would do better!
 West opened the nine of diamonds, and South won with the queen. South next led a low heart, and West began a signal with the eight to show that he had only two hearts. Dummy put up the king of hearts, and East correctly refused the trick.

Now declarer led the jack of clubs from dummy, and East had to make a discard. What would you throw from the East hand?

East dared not part with a spade and didn't want to discard a diamond, since each diamond was a potential trick. He therefore discarded a low heart. Reasonable enough, but fatal.

South put up the ace of clubs, held the next trick with the jack of hearts, and then took his three top spades. Another heart forced East to take the ace, after which East could cash the jack of spades. But then East had only diamonds left and had to lead a diamond to dummy's king, giving dummy a second diamond trick and also an entry to the last good heart. South made game with three spades, three hearts, two diamonds, and a club.

East would have defeated the game by discarding a diamond on the jack of clubs. The play would proceed in much the same way, but East would be able to get out of the trap by leading his last heart to dummy. The king of diamonds would never make a trick, and South would win only eight tricks.

KILLERS OF WILDLIFE

Toronto Globe and Mail
 Everybody who has driven any distance on our fine Ontario highways has noted the number of animals and birds which lie crushed and dead on the pavement. One driver saw a large turtle, several skunks, a brindled cat, a raccoon, two or three squirrels, and many birds in one day on a recent trip on Highway 7. The flattened carcasses of these creatures were often well to one side of the normal path of the wheels, suggesting that some misguided drivers had deliberately run over them. There can be no defence for this senseless slaughter.

BEAUTY CONTESTS

Brockville Recorder and Times
 Of the 1956 Miss Canada contest a Toronto newspaper reporter has written: "This year's conscientious search for the tops in Canadian beauty and talent was the most embittered display of public name-calling, pushing, pulling, and bad feelings in the contest's stormy 10 years." A fine commentary we must say!
 This contest has become nothing but a farce—undignified and pointless in the extreme. Let there be an end to it.

 drawn on British or French banks would not be accepted for canal tolls. The Egyptians said they would take cash in sterling or cheques on banks outside Britain or France.

3. Egypt early today cancelled a short-lived ban on exports to the sterling area and declared that she has no intention of "freezing" British assets here in retaliation for British exchange control measures against Egypt.

Dr. Abdel Moneim Kassuny, Egyptian finance minister, in a midnight announcement said his country was rescinding the ban it imposed a few hours earlier on exports to Britain and the sterling area. The goods were to be banned unless they were paid for in "acceptable foreign currency" of countries trading with Egypt.

As a result, four ships in Alexandria, which has started unloading consignments of Egyptian cotton and rice for Britain, will be able to begin reloading.

4. The Cairo government contended the British freeze on Egyptian sterling balances "has no legal basis whatever" and violates the British-Egyptian sterling agreement of 1951. But Nasser told reporters Egypt had no intention of freezing British and French assets in Egypt.

The Egyptian embassies in London and Washington issued statements assuring that the flow of canal traffic will be maintained "in a most efficient manner, with the obvious objective of giving no cause for complaint or threats of intervention by any of the maritime powers."

It's Right To Keep Some Secrets From Husband

By RUTH MILLETT
It's a wise woman who has a few secrets from her husband.

For instance, it's much better for a wife to quietly and unobtrusively keep her weight under control than to make her diet one of her main topics of conversation. A man appreciates having a slim, trim wife. But no man cares about hearing what an ordeal it is for her to stay that way.

It's also a mistake for a woman to run to her husband when she has a misunderstanding with her best friend. The friends are almost sure to make up and let bygones be bygones. But the husband may not forget the things his wife said in anger about the friend and may forever wonder how she could be through with her forever one week and back to bosom friendship the next.

A woman's beauty secrets ought to be secrets even—or maybe especially—from her husband. He is interested in the finished product, not the less-than-romantic routines that serve to accomplish the miracle.

If a woman ever has any doubts about her husband's love that, too, is best kept quiet. Whether she is sure of her husband's devotion or not, she ought to hold her head high and act as though she is. An uncertain, do-you-really-love-me attitude is most unbecoming.

Another time a woman ought to keep a secret is when her husband makes what she considers an unwise decision and, sure enough, it turns out that she was right. "I was afraid you were making a mistake" are hardly words that endear a woman to a man.

And it is just as well if a wife who is a good manager isn't always calling attention to the fact. A man will appreciate her scrimping and saving far more if he just sees the results.

Keeping some secrets from a husband fall under the heading of charm—rather than deception.

IT is very bad manners to read another person's mail without being asked to do so. Even though the letter has been opened and was received by a member of one's family it still should be regarded as private property.

And that doesn't mean that one can read another person's letter and make it quite all right by telling the person and adding, "I knew you wouldn't mind."

Here's How Snapshots Can Show Up Beauty

By ALICIA HART.
Soon women will be tottering back home and back to offices with fistfuls of vacation snapshots. Most of them will be ghastly and not because the photography is poor.

If you haven't gone on vacation yet, take a look at last year's photos to get an idea of why you, generally so pretty, look like cold fried eggs in photos.

Try Smoked Fish For Tasty Salad

Smoked fish are a real discovery in good eating. In this country they are most often served hot, but they are equally good served cold in smorgasbord tradition. The home economists of Canada's Department of Fisheries tell us that their smoky fragrance is not lost as a result of the cooking and chilling processes and is a delight in tossed salads. Vaguely suggestive of neither regions, it prompted a delectable treatment with a mild mustard salad dressing. The result is this tangy, consumer tested, Devised Smoked Fish Salad, delicious made with such varieties as finnan haddie, smoked cod fillets or smoked Alaska black cod.

To prepare any of these fish for the salad, the Fisheries home economists recommend covering with cold water, bringing to the boil and simmering gently 5 to 10 minutes or until the flesh will separate into flakes on testing with a fork. After cooking, flake the fish or cut it into bite-sized pieces and chill. The amount of smoked fish to purchase for this salad will depend on the amount of bone present. A guide to remember is that 1 pound of bone free fillets will give 2 cups of flaked cooked fish.

- DEVILED SMOKED FISH SALAD
- 1/4 cup mayonnaise
 - 1 1/2 teaspoons prepared mustard
 - 2 cups cooked, flaked, smoked fish
 - 2 cups cold, diced, cooked potatoes
 - 1/2 cup diced celery
 - 1/4 cup grated carrot
 - 1/2 cup diced cucumber
 - 1/4 cup chopped onion
- Blend the mayonnaise and prepared mustard. Combine fish, potatoes, diced celery, grated carrot, diced cucumber and chopped onion in a bowl. Add the mustard dressing and toss gently until well mixed. Serve on crisp lettuce. Makes 6 servings.

These are the main ailments of vacation snapshots:

Feet stuck into the camera. This generally happens in beach shots, where one is sitting down. If you're going to have your picture taken, make an effort to see that the perspective won't be out of whack.

Standing with weight on one leg. This casual pose may be comfortable, but it makes the hips look extra large and the clothes appear to fit poorly. If you stand for your picture, stand with weight equally on both legs.

Extra fat in bathing suit shots. This comes from not standing or sitting up straight. Get the abdomen in and the chest up when your picture is being taken, to iron out those rolls of flesh that aren't bad in actuality but look wretched on film.

Stringy hair hanging in face. This happens after swimming, on boats and in the wind. It's silly to try to comb hair down for a picture when the wind will loosen it again anyway. Smart women keep their hair under a chiffon scarf, tied peasant-fashion under the black hair. This also aids in keeping it out of picnic lunches.

Sour expressions. You may not want to have your picture taken while changing the baby, but resign yourself and smile anyway. If you look unpleasant, someone will surely save it as a regrettable poke for the snapshot album.

THREE IMPORTANT QUESTIONS FOR FATHERS

... the answers are vital to their families

The answers to three simple questions may help show the difference which would occur in the standard of living of a family if a father were not here. These are the important questions:

Question 1. How much does his family spend monthly on groceries, rent, heat and light, clothes, medical expenses and other necessities?

Question 2. How much would the family spend if the father's expenses were eliminated?

Question 3. How much income would the family receive regularly without his pay check?

If the answer to question 3 is subtracted from question 2, one will get the minimum amount of monthly income a father should be planning to provide to protect his family... and a good way to do this is through the Metropolitan Family Income Plan.

Every father should consider these important features of the Metropolitan Family Income Plan:

1. Each father can choose the amount of monthly income needed—$100 a month, $200 or more.

2. If he should die at any time within 20 years, the Metropolitan Family Income Plan will provide this income for his family each month for the remainder of the 20 years, and then a cash settlement equal to the face amount of the policy.

3. If the father should live beyond the 20 years, he and his family can have continuing insurance protection for the full face amount of his policy as long as he lives.

Here is a way a father can help solve the problems of protecting his family today. Ask your Metropolitan Representative to give you the details on the Family Income Plan. It is easy to get in touch with him, for...

Paul Willey Defeats Barry McKay For Canada's Only Davis Cup Win

Americans Cinch Tie With Victories Friday And Saturday; Bedard Stars; Canadian Tennis Championship Opens

VICTORIA — (CP) — An untried Vancouver tennis player Sunday scored Canada's only victory in the North American Davis Cup semi-finals and prevented a United States march to the zone championship in five straight matches.

Paul Willey, making his first appearance of the series, rallied after a gruelling 30-game defeat in the opening set of the final singles contest to take the next three and defeat Barry McKay of Ohio 14-16, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2.

Earlier in the day the U. S. team had threatened to make a walk-away of the best-of-five series when Ham Richardson trimmed Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., 6-4, 6-4, 13-11.

The American side had clinched the tie Saturday by winning the doubles. Richardson and Herbie Flam had all but crushed Canada's hopes Friday when they defeated Toronto's Don Fontana and Bedard, respectively, in opening singles matches.

Richardson, a Rhodes scholar from New Jersey, was pushed to the limit in preserving his straight-sets victory over Bedard in Sunday's opening match. He nearly lost the third set when Bedard, the retriever, switched several times to an aggressive game.

Willey leaned hard on his serves in the final game against McKay and fought him through deuce four times before he forced the U. S. youngster to smash a return out of bounds and give the match to Canada.

The jubilant Willey spun his racket high into the air before jumping over the net-first leap of the tournament and shaking hands with McKay.

VANCOUVER — (CP) — Former United States Davis Cup player Bob Perry and Canada's top tennis ace, Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., share top billing today at the start of the week-long Canadian lawn tennis championships.

Perry, 23, of Los Angeles, played against the Canadian Davis Cup team in 1952.

Officials at the Vancouver Lawn Tennis Club, host for the 57th annual championship ranked Bedard who lost two singles matches to U. S. Davis Cuppers during the North American zone semi-finals right behind Perry.

Third seeding went to Noel Brown of Los Angeles, a former professional recently readmitted to amateur ranks, while Don Fontana of Toronto got fourth seed.

Veteran Henri Rochon of Montreal was seeded sixth and Paul Willey of Vancouver, eighth.

Today's play was to be concentrated mainly on weeding down the formidable singles list of 77 entries. The singles crown was captured last year by Bedard at Quebec.

Bedard and Fontana, defending men's doubles titlists, have been given top rating in that division.

Linda Vail of San Francisco got first seed in the fight for the ladies singles title being vacated by Mrs. Hanna Sladek of Montreal, not entered this year. Mrs. Val Harit of Montreal was second.

Barring rain, play should wind up Saturday with finals in most of the 11 separate events.

IS THIS THE RIGHT ONE — Here's Grant Warwick, former playing coach of the Penticton V's with the world hockey championship trophy who traveled with the V's during their overseas swing to Krefeld, Germany, broke one of Penticton's best-kept secrets when he said the real trophy is still in Penticton and Russians this year won a duplicate. Scottish Team Wins Grand Prix Race Driving Jaguar; One Driver Killed

LE MANS, France (AP) — The Scottish team of Ron Flockhart and Ninian Sanderson streaked to victory Sunday after 24 hours of gruelling driving in a renewal of the Le Mans Grand Prix endurance race marked by accidents, foul weather and one death.

Driving a private Jaguar Flockhart and Sanderson covered 2,321 miles, an average speed of about 104.3 miles an hour, to win by minutes from an Aston-Martin driven by ace British racers Peter Collins and Stirling Moss.

Rain fell through most of the race, making the 8.3-mile asphalt circuit slick and trickier than usual.

Collins and Moss drove full-throttle in the closing laps and several times managed to get a few seconds lead only to lose it to the bigger engine Jaguar.

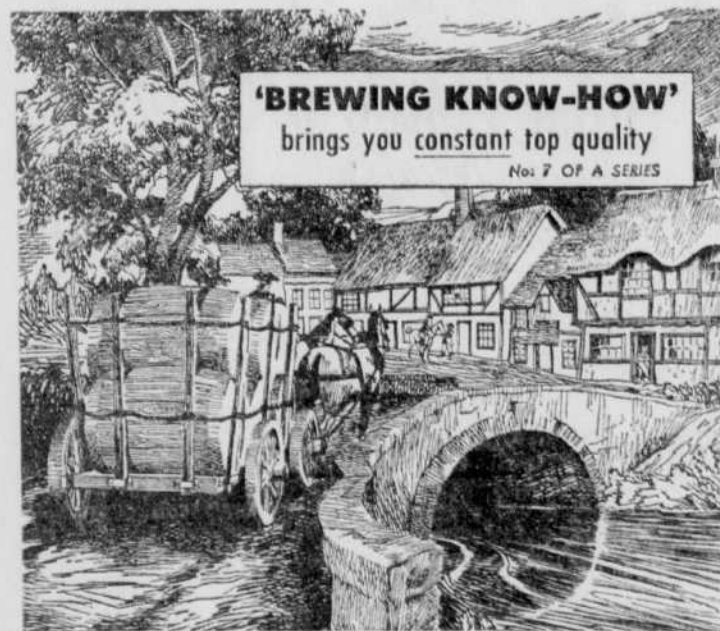

Victory enabled a Jaguar to win the famed sports car test for the second straight year, although the factory-entered Jaguars fared poorly. During the race, the winners set a lap record of 115.1 m.p.h.

Although officials breathed a sign of relief when there was no repetition of last year's disaster when 90 persons-many of them spectators-were killed, the race brought death to French driver Louis Hery and caused several minor injuries.

Hery piled his Panhard into a tree during the first lap Saturday and died of head injuries in a hospital several hours later.

At the finish, only 14 of the 49 cars which started were still running. The course was littered with wrecked or damaged cars.

A crowd of 150,000, many of them Englishmen and Scots, saw the race.

St. Jerome Wins In Little League

In the Regional Little League semi-finals played at Montreal on Saturday afternoon in the first game of a doubleheader St. Jerome caused an upset defeating American "A" All Star 5-1, the second game saw Valleyfield win against American "B" by a 3 to 5 score. Valleyfield and St. Jerome meet this Wednesday at Montreal in a sudden death game, the winners to go against the Maine Region winners on Saturday, August 4 at Montreal.

In the opening game Saturday St. Jerome got away to a big start getting four unearned runs in the first inning, they added one more in the fourth to take a 5 to 0 lead; American A got their only tally in the top of the fifth inning.

Valleyfield had a little tougher time with American B but managed to get the lead in the first inning and this they held on to all the way. American B did threaten in the top of the fourth, but three more runs crossed the plate for Valleyfield in the last of the fifth and they ran out winners on the long end of an 8-5 result.

Valleyfield and St. Jerome are evenly matched and their game Wednesday should be a thriller. Members and players of the Sher-Lenn little league travelled to Montreal Saturday afternoon last to see the little leaguers from Montreal, St. Jerome and Valleyfield in action.

To Revive Yacht Supremacy Cup

NEWPORT, R.I. — (AP) — The famed America's Cup, symbol of international yachting supremacy since 1851, may be revived after a lapse of 19 years.

Henry Sears, commodore of the New York Yacht Club, announced Sunday night that the club plans to request the New York Supreme Court to change the deed of gift governing the cup competition.

The last America's Cup race was held in 1937 when Tom Sopwith, the millionaire British airline magnate, challenged with Endeavor II. The British challenge was turned back to Harold Vanderbilt's Ranger, representing the United States.

The high cost of building such large yachts has prevented the cup competition from being resumed. Yachtsmen estimate it would cost $5,000,000 to build a yacht similar to the J class craft that formerly competed.

Armand Pepin Shoots A Sizzling 69 To Win East Angus Field Day

Armand Pepin fired a sizzling one-under-par 69 to win the East Angus Field Day on Saturday.

Pepin, who is a member of the East Angus Club, turned in the best round of his career. He beat over 100 golfers and to do so he shot a 33 on his first trip around the tricky nine hole layout and carded a 36 for his second nine. Par for the course is 35 and on Saturday a high cross wind, in addition to rain, made conditions tough.

Fern Cote, of Orford, won low net for the field with a 62, Cote a 30-handicapper, shot a 92.

The top three in class "A" who received gross prizes were: Bertrand Trepanier, East Angus, 74; Henry Sellakwe, Theford Mines, 75 and Kermit Reid, East Angus, 77. Kermit Grant, of St. Johnsbury, Vt., tied for 3rd gross in class "A" with a 77 but lost out on a prize as the committee decided on a playoff and Grant was on his way home and was not available for the playoff.

E. Bushnell, of East Angus, won low net in "A" with 77-10-67. Gordon Conway, Dufferin, with 79-10-69 was second while D. Bell, East Angus, with 79-9-70 was third.

The three gross winners in class "B" were: Gerald Gosselin, East Angus, 81; P. Gauthier, Sherbrooke Country Club, 83 and N. Allard, Windsor Mills, 83.

G. Blanchard, East Angus, with 86-19-67 won low net in "B" followed by R. Boisvert, Sherbrooke Country Club, with 85-17-68 and I. Savaria, East Angus, with 89-19-70.

In class "C" all 6 prize winners were from East Angus. Lionel Dube had 88, Jean Luc Reid had 91 and E. Fomerleau had 94 to win the three gross prizes. Robert Gray with 95-30-65, R. Fuller, with 94-26-68 and G. Gray 99-30-69 were the net winners.

8 SAVE STROKES

By DOW FINSTERWALD
Written for NEA Service

Too many average players look for the perfect shot every time. They don't settle for the shot which can put them in a favorable position.

During the course of any round a player's timing may get off to a degree where hooking or similar flaws will crop up. I say most of them would find the round better if they would allow for that fact and stop pressing to overcome it. All pressing does is hurt.

Save strokes under a situation such as this by being patient. Wait until you see your professional or reach the practice tee before over-hauling your swing.

The relaxed performer does the best. A lot of things go into the swing and if your body is tense, instead of natural, trouble will result.

Next: Walter Burkemo on timing.

Palmer Captures Eastern Open; Kesselring 3rd

BALTIMORE. — (AP) — Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., shot a final round par 72 Sunday to finish with a 72-hole total of 277 and win the $14,000 Eastern golf open tournament by two strokes from Dow Finsterwald who faltered in the stretch.

Jerry Kesselring of Kitchener, Ont., came on strong to finish in a tie for third place with Bob Rosburg of San Francisco with a total of 281. The Canadian and the Californian each earned $1,400.

Palmer won the top prize of $3,800 and Finsterwald, of Bedford Heights, Ohio, took $2,150 second money for his total of 279. Kesselring was under par for all his four rounds with 69, 71, 69 and 70 today.

Palmer, in winning his second tournament on the U.S. circuit this year, was 11 strokes under par for the 72 holes.

Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla., overslept and was five minutes late to the first tee Sunday. It cost him $533.33.

Mayer was penalized two strokes and sent off last. He shot a 68, four under par, but posted a 70 because of the penalty. That gave him a total of 283 for which he won $533.33.

A 281 would have netted Mayer, the 1953 champion, $1,283.33. Mayer said he overslept because he had been bothered by a cold and took a sedative to help him sleep.

Althea Gibson Wins 1st Title

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Althea Gibson won her first major American grass courts tennis championship Saturday, defeating Mrs. William du Pont, Wilmington, Del., 6-1, 6-4, in the final of the Pennsylvania and eastern states tourney.

Argentine Wins Naples Event

NAPLES — (AP) — Argentina's 25-year-old Alfredo Camarero won the 19-mile Capri-to-Naples swim Sunday night in seas so rough all but six leading swimmers were ordered out of the water after 10 hours.

Among those ordered out was Montreal-born P. S. Navy Lt.-Cmdr. Jean Maurice Poiras, 39.

Cincinnati Closing In On Milwaukee As Braves, Dodgers Start 4-Game-Set; Skowron Hits 4 Homers For Yanks

Cincinnati's chance has arrived to close ground in the National League race while Milwaukee and Brooklyn slash away at close range in a four-game series.

The Redlegs climbed within 2½ games of the pace Sunday by polishing off the fading Pittsburgh Pirates in both games of a doubleheader. Milwaukee continued to find trouble in Philadelphia and Brooklyn had to settle for a split with Chicago.

After Cincinnati dropped three straight to Brooklyn, there were hints the Redlegs were cracking. But they swept four from the Pirates and moved back into contention.

Cincinnati plays in Pittsburgh again tonight and then takes on the last-place New York Giants in four games while the Braves and Dodgers wrestle.

Brooks Lawrence threw a fourth-hitter at the Pirates for Cincinnati's eighth inning. It was the fourth straight for Simmons and the Phil's ninth victory in 15 games with Milwaukee, the best record of any club in the league against the Braves.

Pee Wee Reese ran the Dodgers' winning streak to eight with an eighth-inning homer for Don Newcombe's 100th big-league win, 1-0, but the Cubs bounced back with a 4-2 decision as Bob Rush won his 100th game.

The Dodgers are four games behind Milwaukee and 1½ games behind Cincinnati.

St. Louis pushed the Giants deeper into the cellar with a 3-2 triumph in 10 innings on Stan Musial's single, following singles by Don Blasingame and Al Dark. Dark, ex-Giant shortstop, had four hits.

Casey Stengel celebrated another birthday party at Kansas City with a 5-3 New York Yankee victory over the last-place As. Bill Skowron continued to murder opposition pitching. He hit two homers Sunday, two Saturday night and now has 17 hits including seven homers, and has driven in 18 runs in the last seven games.

Bob Turley almost went the route in his first start since July 6 but Rip Coleman came in to get the final out in the ninth. Hank Bauer homered for the Yanks and Lou Skizas for the As.

Cleveland picked up a half game on the Yanks and now trails by nine after shutting out Baltimore twice 3-0 and 4-0. Herb Score allowed four hits in the first and Hank Aguirre, recently recalled from Indianapolis, gave seven hits in the second, a brilliant pitching performance by two young lefthanders.

Larry Doby had a big day in Chicago's double romp over Boston, 11-2 and 6-3. The White Sox centre fielder drove in eight runs with a pair of homers and a two-run double. Walt Drogo matched Doby's five RBIs in the opener, backing up Billy Pierce's pitching. The talented lefty now is the majors' top winner with 16 victories.

Detroit and Washington split a pair on fine pitching jobs by Detroit's Billy Hoelt and Washington's Dean Stone.

An oddity of Cincinnati's double sweep at Pittsburgh was the fact that Burgess' double was the only extra base hit by this fence-busting crew. Buster Freeman was the winner in relief of Don Gross as the Reds staged another ninth-inning spurt in the second game.

Milwaukee overcame a 2-0 deficit to tie the score in the fifth.

Quebec Youth Wins Two Titles

MONTREAL — (CP) — Fifteen-year-old Louise Jobin of Quebec City Saturday won two titles as the Quebec junior championships came to a close.

The stylish youngster took the junior ladies final 6-2, 6-4, over Margaret Bibace, Montreal, and then won the girls' finals by defeating Maureen Mills, Montreal, 7-5, 6-4. The classes are 18 years and under and 15 and under respectively.

Francois Godbout, Waterloo, defeated Yvon Leblanc, Marieville, 6-1, 6-1, 6-0 to win the junior men's final.

In the junior men's doubles final, Francois Godbout and Yvon Leblanc defeated Keith Carpenter, Montreal, and Charles Heinrich, 6-1, 6-1, 6-1.

Doctor Man Scores Upset At Local Track, Pays $143.60 Straight; Gypsy Queen, Maryland Queen Also Surprise

No less than three major upsets were registered over the weekend at the local harness racing track.

The biggest surprise was registered in the ninth race, last night, when Doctor Man, owned by A. Hamel, of Sherbrooke, and handled by R. Demers, lead the field to the wire as a 69 to 1 shot. Doctor Man returned $143.60 on the nose, $26.20 to place and $6.90 to show.

The other two upsets were scored on Saturday's program during the third and eighth races. In the third race L. Huckins guided Maryland Queen home first to pay $57.70. Gypsy Queen with A. Theroux at the reins paid $83.30 on a straight bet in the eighth.

The fastest time for the mile was posted when Amedee Beaudoin's Direct Harvester crossed the wire in 2:12 2/5 Sunday night.

Saturday night's 3 - 8 Daily Double ticket holders received $13.50 and Sunday's 7 - 3 combination returned $30.40.

One accident occurred during the weekend and this happened in the 9th race Saturday evening. Miss Brady with A. Theroux at the reins and Westinghouse, handled by J. Beaudet piled up at the first turn and both drivers were thrown from their sulkies. However, neither was seriously injured, although both were badly shaken up. The horses returned to the stables under their own steam with slight limps.

The next harness racing program to be presented by the Sherbrooke Racing Club will be held Wednesday evening at 8:00 p.m.

Miami Moves To Top Of International As Leafs Lose And Red Wings Split; Marlins Win 20 Of Last 25 Games

Miami Marlins, with 20 victories in 25 games since July 6, have moved to the top of the International League by one percentage point over Toronto Maple Leafs.

The Marlins displaced Toronto as the leader in the opening game of a Sunday day-night doubleheader when they defeated the fading Montreal Royals 5-4 in 13 innings while the Leafs were bowing to the Sugar Kings 2-1 at Havana.

But with a chance to widen the lead, the Marlins dropped the second game 5-4. Rochester also lost a chance to move into the lead when Richmond Virginians defeated the Red Wings 7-3.

Columbus Jets swept both ends of a twin bill from Buffalo, 9-2 and 1-0, for their first doubleheader sweep since June 10.

Satchel Paige pitched six scoreless innings in relief for Miami in the first game with the Royals and touched off the rally which led to the winning run in the 13th. The victory was No. 8 for Paige in 11 decisions. A single by Ed Bouchee drove in the winning run.

Bob Bowman hit his 19th homer for Miami but a four-run attack in the seventh was too much for the Marlins to overcome in the nightcap.

Ultus Alvarez, Havana first baseman, smashed a two-run ninth inning homer to upend Toronto. After seven scoreless innings, the Leafs tallied in the eighth on Sam Jethroe's single, a forceout, a walk and Archie Wilson's sizzling single.

Niles Jordan picked on his favorite fall guys, the Red

Don Doe, Godel Win Berths On Willingdon Team

MONTREAL — (AP) — Veteran Don Doe of Granby, Que., and Eli Godel of Montreal Elmridge Sunday won berths on Quebec's Willingdon Cup golf team but it will be necessary to determine the fourth member of the team.

Joe Leblanc of Montreal Whitlock automatically qualified for the team a week ago by winning the Quebec amateur title.

Doe, for many years one of the province's leading amateurs, carded a 76 and a 73 over the par-70 Mount Bruno course Sunday to go with his 72 at Beaconsfield Saturday for a total of 221.

Godel rallied from an 80 Saturday for rounds of 72 and 74 Sunday and a 54-hole total of 226.

Tied at 229 were Brian McGuigan, Bob Spence, Neville Best, John Turner, and Mike Darling all of Montreal and D'Arcy Boucher of Ottawa.

The six will battle for the last team berth in an 18-hole playoff at Mount Bruno course Wednesday.

Interesting Meeting Of Bury W. I. Follows Program From Holland

BURY. — The July meeting of the Women's Institute was entertained at the home of Mrs. J. Dougherty, Hardwood Flat, with Mrs. J. D. Harrison as co-hostess. It was a busy and interesting meeting as the agenda included the exchange of programs with Holland. The large attendance of members and several visitors were welcomed by the president, Miss Palmer.

The sum of $10 was voted to the Sherbrooke Hospital. Mrs. Fisher read thank-you letters from the Cecil Memorial Home and Save the Children Society and also gave a report of her visit with other members to the Cecil Home. Mrs. MacRae read a letter from Holland, outlining the program for the month.

Mrs. A. Hunt gave a most interesting report of the convention at Macdonald College, to which she was a delegate. Mrs. Parsons also gave some highlights and spoke of Mrs. Harvey's forthcoming trip to Ceylon. Each branch of the W.I. is asked to give five articles for her to take as gifts to the ladies in Ceylon. After some consideration as what would be advisable, purchase of the articles was left in the hands of Mrs. G. Parsons. The various conveners gave brief reports of their departments. Mrs. Taillon gave a report of the recent dental clinic showing much done and more left undone by lack of time. Mrs. Buchanan reported on the benefit drawing and read a letter from Mr. K. Bryant of Magog, who was one of the winners, in which he returned his $25 to further the work of the W.I. This gesture was greatly appreciated.

The program was then turned over to Mrs. A. Olson, convener of the country, telling how much new, Education, who gave very comprehensive accounts of the geographical and historical aspects of Holland.

Mrs. Olson, with the aid of maps, showed the shape and size of the country, telling how much of the land had been regained by the building of dykes, and gave many other interesting facts.

Mrs. Mayhew, in her usual thorough handling of her subject, stated that these were the first people to throw off the yoke of Spain and gave other information.

The two ladies were thanked by Miss Palmer, who added some facts she had learned about food, wearing of rings, wooden shoes, etc.

On behalf of the members, Mrs. A. Whitehead expressed regret at loss of Mrs. Taillon who is moving away, and voicing the best wishes of all, presented Mrs. Taillon with a gift of jewellery. Mrs. Taillon thanked her for her kind words, and the members for the gift.

A dressed doll, donated by Mrs. A. Hunt and sold by Chinese auction by Mrs. A. Whitehead, was bought by Mrs. W. Buchanan.

The August gathering will meet with Mrs. A. Olson at the pond weather permitting, otherwise with Mrs. A. Hunt, when Miss C. Mackenzie, of Stanstead, will be the guest speaker.

The class for remodelling hats, with Miss McQuat as instructor, will start on August 20.

The meeting adjourned and the hostesses, assisted by some of the ladies, served refreshments.
