

Mourning politicians must now choose a new leader

QUEBEC (CP) — With Premier Daniel Johnson's body lying in state amid the dour decorations of a colonial past, stunned politicians today searched in their mourning for a Quebec leader who could make mighty reforms for a brighter future.

With their leader suddenly dead at the age of 53, the senior members of the Union Nationale party decided Thursday night to hold a caucus meeting next Wednesday to discuss choice of a successor to Quebec's 20th premier.

The problem of succession is clearly much on the minds of Union Nationale men as they prepare a state funeral Monday for the man who led the party out of the darkest of political pasts.

Mr. Johnson died in his sleep Thursday morning in a small chalet on a mountainside at Manicouagan, scene of a northern Quebec power project that symbolized the pride of a people doing big things.

Cause of death was apparently a heart attack. Results of an autopsy were to be announced today.

UNTIL MONDAY

Mr. Johnson's body will lie in state until Monday in the ornate, gilt-laden legislative assembly chamber, or, as he often called it, "the shop" where he rose to the height of provincial power in a 22-year career.

The state funeral will be held at the Basilica, ancient cathedral of the old capital, with Maurice Cardinal Roy, archbishop of Quebec and primate of the

By DAVE BAZAY

Roman Catholic Church in Canada, presiding. Public men from across Canada and, perhaps elsewhere, are to attend.

The body then will be taken to Montreal where it will lie in state at the provincial justice building until Tuesday. The doors will be open throughout the night at the request of the premier's wife, Reine.

HIS PERSONAL DESIRE

The burial will be Tuesday afternoon at St. Pie de Bagot, the small community 40 miles southeast of Montreal in Bagot county, held in the legislature by Daniel Johnson since Dec. 18, 1946. The burial place was Mr. Johnson's personal choice.

The next day, at Quebec City, the caucus of Union Nationale MLAs will meet along with members of the legislative council, the upper house, to appoint a successor, who would then form a new government.

The death of Mr. Johnson, third Union Nationale leader to die in office in nine years, left the party in an uncertain situation. No one in the Union Nationale would say that the matter is automatic.

SEVERAL CHOICES

Among the men who could be Quebec's next premier are:

—Jean-Jacques Bertrand, a 52-year-old lawyer who lost to Daniel Johnson in a 1961 leadership convention. Mr. Bertrand, justice minister in the Johnson government, may not be interested in the job now, however.

—Jean-Guy Cardinal, 43-year-old former dean of law at the University of Montreal. Mr. Johnson's recent recruit as education minister, who lacks political experience.

—Paul Dozois, 60-year-old insurance broker, Mr. Johnson's finance minister. Although he suffers from heart troubles, he could serve a short term if the circumstances were right.

—Remi Paul, 47-year-old lawyer, one of the best speakers in the history of the legislative assembly. He is competent and ambitious, but must be listed as a dark horse.

—Mario Beaulieu, 40-year-old notary, appointed director general of the Union Nationale party by Mr. Johnson last month. He was so close to Mr. Johnson he considered the premier his brother.

Friends weep openly for the premier

ST. PIERRE DE BAGOT, Que. (CP) — Daniel Johnson's friends wept openly on the streets of this Eastern Townships village Thursday when they heard the news of the premier's death.

A group of his neighbors gathered outside the late premier's summer home in the community 40 miles southeast of Montreal where many regarded Mr. Johnson as an adopted son.

They had voted him into office for 22 consecutive years in Bagot riding.

The Johnson family had maintained their summer home here for most of his political life, through the seven provincial elections he contested.

Paul Petit, Mr. Johnson's secretary here, said the premier worked hard for his constituents.

"His door was always open. Politics is a tiring business. People only come to you when they have problems and Mr. Johnson did everything possible to help out."

Mr. Petit said Mr. Johnson came to the village only at the opening and closing of the last two election campaigns—"but we had confidence in the Bagot people and they had confidence in him."

State funeral to be held Monday at Quebec Basilica

QUEBEC (CP) — The body of Daniel Johnson, late premier of Quebec, will lie in state in the Quebec legislative assembly until Monday, when a state funeral will be held at 10 a.m. EDT in the Quebec Basilica, a spokesman for his government said Thursday night.

Jean-Jacques Bertrand, justice minister in Mr. Johnson's government, said the premier's body will be placed in the legislative assembly at 11 a.m. today.

The premier also will lie in state, after the funeral, in Montreal and in St. Pie de Bagot, where Mr. Johnson maintained a residence in his own provincial constituency of Bagot.

The Quebec Basilica, where the state funeral will be held, is the church of Maurice Cardinal Roy, Roman Catholic archbishop of Quebec and primate of Canada, but it was not announced immediately who will sing the requiem mass.

Mr. Johnson died early Thursday at Manicouagan, Que., 250 miles northeast of Quebec City. He was to have officiated at the pouring of the last bucket of cement at a massive dam and power project there.

The funeral cortege will leave the legislative assembly chamber at 9:30 a.m. Monday for the basilica in the old walled city of Quebec.

After the funeral, the cortege will leave at 11:30 a.m. for Montreal, proceeding via Highway 20 and arriving at 3 p.m.

In Montreal, Mr. Johnson's body will lie in state at the provincial justice building until 9:30 a.m. Tuesday. At Mrs. Johnson's request, the building will remain open throughout the night.

At 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, the premier's body will be taken to St. Pie de Bagot, 40 miles southeast of Montreal, where it will lie in state at a school from 11 a.m. until shortly before interment at 5 p.m.

Mr. Bertrand said the province of Quebec will be officially in mourning until Tuesday. Government offices in the province will be closed Monday.

Mrs. Johnson has asked that instead of flowers, donations be sent in memory of the premier to La Fondation de Quebec des maladies du coeur (The Quebec Foundation for Heart Diseases).

Donations may be sent to the foundation at 6565 Decarie Boulevard, Montreal, or care of Dr. Yves Morin, Laval Hospital, Quebec City.

Tributes flow in for Johnson

Tributes, sadness and shock were expressed Thursday following the death of Quebec Premier Daniel Johnson.

Prime Minister Trudeau, moved by the "deepest grief and shock," said Mr. Johnson's death deprived the people of Quebec of a dedicated political leader.

"While a staunch defender of the interests of his province, Mr. Johnson nevertheless attached great importance to the preservation of Canadian unity," the prime minister's statement said.

In Paris, President Charles de Gaulle said it was a "very great loss for all Frenchmen, those of France and those of Canada."

No Frenchman would ever forget what Mr. Johnson had done "in contributing so ardently to tightening fraternal relations which were insufficiently close for too long and which now are in full renewal," he said.

Gov.-Gen. Michener said Mr. Johnson's death "is a tragic loss for the province of Quebec which he served so well and for Canada as a whole."

'GAVE HIS LIFE'

Conservative Leader Robert L. Stanfield said Mr. Johnson "quite literally gave his life" to work of building a country in which all Canadians could find fulfillment.

Former prime minister John Diefenbaker, suggesting the House of Commons should adjourn for a day as a gesture of respect, said the late premier was "a great Canadian... a man of sincerity marked by moderation."

In St. John's, Nfld., Education Minister F. W. Rowe, speaking in the absence of Premier Joseph Smallwood, described Mr. Johnson as a champion of "fair play."

"This tragic loss will be felt not only in Quebec, but on the whole Canadian scene," said Premier G. I. Smith of Nova Scotia.

Premier Louis Robichaud of New Brunswick said: "Premier Johnson gave himself totally to his exacting task of administering our sister province."

Prince Edward Island will observe a period of mourning, Premier Alex Campbell said.

LOYAL LEADER

Quebec Justice Minister Jean-Jacques Bertrand, who lost out to Mr. Johnson at a Union Nationale leadership convention in 1961 and who served as acting premier during Mr. Johnson's convalescence from a heart attack in July, called the late premier a "seasoned, intelligent and loyal leader."

Salutes his courage

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Trudeau saluted the courage and moderation of Daniel Johnson Thursday as a sombre Commons marked the death of the Quebec premier.

Mr. Trudeau, often an opponent of the Quebec leader during his lifetime, said Mr. Johnson's death could not have come at a worse moment.

Both Commons and Senate met in a subdued mood following news of Mr. Johnson's death earlier in the day at Manicouagan, Que.

After tributes from party spokesmen, the Commons adjourned until today, the Senate until Tuesday.

Both Mr. Trudeau and Opposition Leader Stanfield, making their statements mainly in French, said Mr. Johnson had contributed to building national unity.

Mr. Trudeau said all Canadians know the country is going through a period of crucial importance for its destiny. Fundamental values were being questioned.

Mr. Johnson had been a chief spokesman in the dialogue through which Canadians were finding common values on which they could unite.

HAD EXEMPLARY TRAITS

He had exemplified traits which anyone could choose as standards: "Dedication to his country and his province; pride in the achievements and beauty of his culture and its language; courage in the face of adversity; both political and personal; calmness and moderation on occasions when a lesser man would have exhibited neither; loyalty to his party and its convictions, devotion to his family."

Mr. Trudeau extended sympathy to Mr. Johnson's family and to the people and government of Quebec, and then concluded: "Death could not have chosen a worse moment to strike down this great Canadian."

Mr. Stanfield said Mr. Johnson was dedicated to both Canada and Quebec, and had consecrated his life to building a country in which every Canadian could achieve his aspirations.

He had led Quebec in a stage of its evolution that had caused anxiety in other parts of Canada, and it was inevitable that up to a point he would be a controversial person.

But Mr. Stanfield said it would have been impossible for a Quebec premier of his time, who loved his people and country, to be other than controversial.

Patient's new heart is 'beating beautifully'

MONTREAL (CP) — The new heart of Canada's fourth heart transplant recipient, 51-year-old Edouard Desrivieres, was "beating beautifully" after it began its functions Thursday night at the Montreal Heart Institute.

Chief surgeon in charge of the transplant, Dr. Pierre Grondin, said at a news conference following the operation that the Quebec City native's new heart "took over the load of circulation beautifully at 9:00 p.m. EDT."

Mr. Desrivieres, an engineer and father of three girls, had been "totally incapacitated" before receiving the heart of 19-year-old Jacques Boudreau of Cap-de-la-Madeleine, Que.

The young high school student was the victim of a motorcycle accident in Trois-Rivieres, Que., early Saturday morning and died of severe brain damage just minutes before the transplant operation began at about 6:45 p.m.

Dr. Grondin said the techniques used in the operation were no different from the other three heart transplants he has performed at the institute.

"The only outstanding factor was when the heart began to beat by itself without the use of an electric shock," he said.

Dr. Paul David, director of the institute, said Mr. Desrivieres had been "totally incapacitated for about a year and was suffering from cardiac failure which caused three severe heart attacks."

Mrs. Paul Emile Boudreau, mother of the donor, said after the operation that she felt her son was somehow still alive and "I do not really feel that he is dead."

Dr. Grondin said that in the last hours before the operation the young donor was failing rapidly and his circulation was being kept up by "extreme measures."

Washington, sounding ground for dissenting Roman Catholics

NEW YORK (AP) — Protests in Washington may become a test case for American Roman Catholics dissenting against the Pope's ban on artificial birth control.

In Washington, Patrick Cardinal O'Boyle's insistence on compliance with the order has brought church walkouts and defiance by some priests.

Cardinal O'Boyle has penalized 13 priests and threatened penalties to 31 others for refusing to withdraw their objections to the encyclical.

"Throughout the country, many bishops apparently are waiting to see how the crack-down there comes off," said Toby Stein, communications chairman of the National Association of Catholic Laymen.

"If it works, some may go ahead with similar measures. That's why it's so important that the effort there be countered."

Elsewhere, there has been scattered lay conflict with ecclesiastical authority, including a walkout of a half dozen people from St. Patrick's Cathedral here.

But most of the lay opposition has been in statements and studies, as has that of some clergymen. Few bishops have acted to force a showdown, although Bishop James A. McNulty, of Buffalo, N.Y., did transfer seven dissenting faculty members from a seminary.

Some laymen and priests have expressed support.

The board of directors of the National Council of Catholic Men, a lay body under episcopal supervision, said papal authority on birth control "cannot be rejected."

Fifty-three Jesuit professors at Fordham University have also backed the encyclical, as did 16 faculty members at Immaculate Conception Seminary in Darlington, N.J.

Many institutional theologians have taken opposing views, and 735 priests across the country signed a statement originated at the Catholic University of America in Washington defending conscientious dissent.

Among laymen, there have been protest "pray-ins" in some European churches, along with a petition for the encyclical's revision by a meeting of 5,000 West German laymen.

A Gallup poll indicated 54 per cent of American Catholics oppose the contraception ban, and 65 per cent think it possible to practise contraception and remain a "good Catholic."

Public opinion polls abroad found 70 per cent of Dutch Catholics think the encyclical is wrong, and half of French Catholics think it should be ignored.

In Philadelphia, an assembly of Pax Romana, an organization of lay Catholic intellectuals to promote cultural development, said the matter needs "further investigation" and varying views should "not be considered disloyal."

At a meeting of the National Student Association in Manhattan, Kan., student presidents from 20 Catholic campuses said the encyclical did not represent "the consensus of the majority of the church" and jeopardized its unity.

Sherbrookers mourn Johnson's death

Sherbrookers mourned Daniel Johnson yesterday. Raynald Frechette, MLA, Sherbrooke, said "he was stunned to learn of the premier's sudden death."

He described Mr. Johnson "as an exceptional man, endowed with all the great human qualities."

The premier was first and foremost a friend of long standing, and his sudden death grieves me profoundly," said Mayor Armand Nadeau.

"This sudden death is a sign that no man controls his own destiny," said Mr. Frechette.

Mayor Nadeau said "Mr. Daniel Johnson was the politician who was the most severely criticized by the press during the past few years, today they are as one in rendering their eulogies."

The mayor offered the Johnson family the sympathies of the citizens of Sherbrooke, "a city he loved so well," as well as his personal expression of grief.

Former Sherbrooke MLA J. S. Bourque, who represented the riding in the Legislative Assembly for 25 years, said "that the death of Premier Johnson is a dire loss, not only for the party, but for the province."

The former minister of finance, who worked with Mr. Johnson for 15 years, said "he was a tireless worker, and a human politician."

Mr. Bourque added that the responsibilities of the premier grow tremendously, year by year, and that they take a greater toll on the human resources of the province.

Mr. Johnson, born in Danville, always remained attached to the Eastern Townships. Official business not withstanding, he visited the area regularly.

Mr. Johnson, in the course of his career, made several speeches in Sherbrooke and the area. He actively campaigned on behalf of Mr. Maurice Allard in the federal election of 1958.

When in Sherbrooke, as in the rest of the province, Mr. Johnson was always approachable, and often answered direct questions from the man in the street.

CAL candidate gets strong backing

Civic Action League leaders were out in full force last night at Christ Roi parish hall in support of their candidate, Marc Bureau, who is seeking to oust Ald. Gerard Berard, a South Ward representative on the City Council for the past 14 years.

In addition to the candidate, the orators of the evening included Ald. Romeo Quintal of the East Ward and Ald. Hilaire Beliveau of the West Ward. Both members of the City Council and supporters of the CAL, Gerard Dezil elected by acclamation Wednesday as East Ward alderman who has not as yet taken his oath of office.

Opening his remarks, Mr. Bureau said he did not hope to achieve miracles at the City Hall but he believed that certain economies could be made in the municipal administration which would permit the city to prepare an interesting future for the next generation.

At present the administration suffered from a policy of uncertainty and lack of planning. Messrs. Beliveau and Quintal spent some time in replying to attacks made on them by Ald. Berard at the nomination day meeting.

Replied to charges by Mr. Berard that he had "voted with closed eyes," Mr. Beliveau maintained that he had supported all proposals before the Council that were for the benefit of the population.

He admitted that he had seconded no motion of Ald. Berard because the latter had not made any good propositions.

Referring to attacks by Mr. Berard on his administration of the Hygiene Department, Ald. Quintal said that the problems existing at the present time resulted from the lack of foresight on the part of the previous Hygiene Department chairman, Mr. Berard himself.

Voting in the South Ward election, the only one necessitated by Wednesday's nominations, will take place on Wednesday, October 2.

Slightly over 1,500 voters are on the lists and five polling stations have been established by City Clerk Paul Emond who acts as returning officer.

The polls will be open from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m., Daylight Saving Time.

An advance poll for transport workers, commercial travellers, etc., will be operated at the City Hall on Saturday from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Bishop's University opens its 1968-69 concert series Monday with a presentation featuring Alicia de Larrocha, hailed by critics as the great pianist to come out of Spain in our generation.

Miss Larrocha was destined for stardom from the time she was four years old and caught the eye of Frank Marshall, the eminent piano pedagogue and successor to the renowned Granados as the principal exponent of Spanish classical music.

She gave her first concert at the age of five and went from there on to a brilliant career in her native Spain and then world prominence.

Her first tours outside of Spain came in 1947 with Paris, London, Edinburgh, Geneva, Brussels and Lausanne being just a few of the cities where audiences have been amazed at her prowess on the keyboard.

Monday's concert at the Bishop's Centennial Theatre is scheduled to begin at 8:30 p.m. Admission is $2 for adults and $1 for high school students. Tickets may be obtained from the theatre box office prior to the performance.

the King George Hotel are Lieutenant Gaetan Blais of the Sherbrooke Police Department; Jean-Paul Lajoie, City of Sherbrooke engineer; Municipal Court Judge Pierre Beaudry, Q.C.; Jean-Marc

Donahue, the committee's new president; and Raymond Blais, Regional Driving Monitor of the Commission Scolaire Regionale de L'Estrie. (Record photo: Gerry Lemay)

Forms road safety committee

The battle against speeding cars in city streets, dangerous driving and even dangerous walking was greatly boosted last night when a group of men met in the King George Hotel and officially formed the Highway Safety Committee.

The committee's new chairman was named last night, Jean Marc Donahue.

Present at the meeting and now full-fledged members of the committee to wage war against deaths and injuries in the streets were Municipal Court Judge Pierre Beaudry, Q.C., Lieutenant Gaetan Blais of the Sherbrooke Police Department and city engineer Jean-Paul Lajoie who will soon be in charge of traffic circulation.

The city has been fighting against speedy, reckless drivers in Sherbrooke all summer Judge Beaudry said last night.

He said when the city's new radar equipment is in use it will be a boon to the policemen and should make it even more difficult for drivers to escape the law's justice when they are caught driving at high speeds through Sherbrooke's thoroughfares.

Judge Beaudry, speaking informally at the dinner, remarked that something should also be done about jaywalking.

He said Sherbrookers now have the dangerous habit of crossing any street at any point.

He said stricter enforcement of the jaywalking law would curtail these infractions.

He said pedestrians need to be taught that jaywalking is dangerous and he asked for the cooperation of the police force to see that the laws are followed.

Raymond Blais, Regional Driving monitor for the Commission Scolaire Regionale de L'Estrie, said he and his colleagues are starting at the grass roots level and are teaching secondary school students how to drive safely and courteously.

He informed the men at the meeting that the course has been a part of the school curriculum at some schools for three years.

He said some of his driving students conducted surveys in Sherbrooke to determine what was going wrong.

They came up with statistics such as in 40 minutes, 14 out of 30 drivers drove their cars through one red light, 43 per cent of the drivers were speeding in a school zone, 454 drivers out of 500 were driving in the wrong lane and 75 per cent of the pedestrians watched crossed the street against a red light.

Lt. Blais pointed out with a report that from January 1 to August 31, 14 people have been killed in accidents in Sherbrooke.

Accuses city of spewing sewage

MAGOG — (Staff) — The battle of letters continues between the City of Sherbrooke and Eric Reford, the owner of a cottage on the Georgeville Road who claims the city's pumping station in that area is spewing sewage Lake Memphremagog.

Mr. Reford wrote Charles Langlois, the city's Director of Services, that he will contact his lawyer, Yves Forest, to prepare a suit which claims the City of Sherbrooke is liable for decreasing the property values along the lakeshore.

During the first week of September, one cottage resident said that it was impossible to bathe in the lake in front of his cottage because of the pollution caused by the pumping station on the lake.

He said when the water level of the lake is low enough, one can see the pumping station's pipe which vomits the residue into the lake.

The cottage owner, Marcel Courchesne, thought the green substance was a concentrated chloride solution.

Charles Langlois answered the charges when he wrote a letter dated September 18 to Mr. Reford and pointed out the water that was gushing into the lake was water used to clean the pumping station's micro-filter.

He said in his letter, "To accelerate the filtering process, we (the city) have to add a very small amount of chlorine in the fall due to the high quantity of algae in the water of the lake."

Mr. Langlois said that although this process does not contribute to the pollution of the lake, it is objectionable to the appearance of the water.

He said that after his inspection of the station, the city is "contemplating" the installation of retention tanks to permit the clearance of the algae because this water is sent back to the lake (water with algae).

This water saturated with algae is pumped into the lake by the city's pumping station.

He said this installation would be only temporary, and next spring the city will proceed to analyze the algae to determine the appropriate treatment for the water.

Mr. Langlois explained to Mr. Reford in his letter that algae develops with the help of three factors: nourishment, water temperature and the amount of light on the water.

He says the only factor the city can control is nourishment and that the main source of nourishment is fertilizer washed into the lake by the rain

For Quebec province - where do we go next?

After the numbing shock occasioned by the sudden death of Premier Daniel Johnson, the first question in the minds of Quebec residents is:

Where do we go from here?

This results from the monolithic nature of the Union Nationale party which has retained much of the Duplessis image despite reported efforts to give it a wider foundation.

Founded on a fusion of sharply conflicting groups whose only common link was a hatred of the old Taschereau regime, the Union Nationale was held together by the dominating personality of Maurice Duplessis who exercised complete control over every aspect of the party's operations.

Ministers and MLAs had the choice of two options — to follow the line set down by The Chief or get out.

This resulted in a near disintegration of the party following the deaths of Mr. Duplessis and his immediate successor Paul Sauve.

A semblance of unity was restored only when the reins of power were assumed by Mr. Johnson, who found himself surrounded by a combination of discordant elements.

To keep control over the opposing factions, Premier Johnson retained most of the power and all the policy-making decisions in his own hands, although giving his ministers to express their views than was permitted by the party founder.

The future of the province undoubtedly will be determined, for the time being at least, by the outcome of the power struggle that will inevitably follow Premier Johnson's death.

Of chief interest to the English-speaking minority is whether the moderates will manage to retain control of the party machinery or whether power will fall into the hands of the nationalist extremists.

On this depends largely whether the policy announced by the Premier on the eve of his death will be followed or whether the trend to unilingualism will be accentuated.

Our trigger-happy era

The automobile has long been a symbol of one sort or another in North America.

At the beginning of the century and for decades thereafter it was a symbol of progress.

Later, it became a symbol of affluence and status as car manufacturers loaded on horsepower and chrome.

Recently, since psychology became popular, writers have had fun analyzing automobiles as sex symbols.

But none of these symbolic interpretations exactly fits the $500,000 heavily armored vehicle which has been constructed for President Johnson and his successor.

According to a new story, the six-ton automobile resembles a tank and is designed to stop .30-calibre bullets or Molotov cocktails. It has bullet-proof glass and plastic said to be thicker than that used on fighter planes.

Nothing like it has been seen since the days of Al Capone and Hermann Goering.

Nations, like individuals, reveal their characteristics by the way they spend their money.

The new presidential limousine reveals some disturbing things about the current state of society in the United States.

It is a painful reminder of the risk of assassination. U. S. public figures run these days.

As such, it is a symbol of fear.

Youth Hostels

Richard Schirman, a German schoolmaster, originated the idea for a chain of youth hostels about 60 years ago. Schirman concluded that hotels were too expensive for many of his students who would like to explore the countryside and he persuaded fellow teachers to put mattresses in classrooms during the summer holidays. He opened the first youth hostel in an old castle in 1910 and by 1914 there were 200 hostels in Germany.

"... And What Poll Do You Folks Believe?"

French Canada says:

Constitutional committee report prompts rush of calm reflection

Montreal La Presse—The report by the constitutional committee tabled ... at the annual convention of the Chambre de commerce de la province de Quebec, in Beaufort, is a capital piece of work.

Let us begin at the beginning and point out that the document dealt with the problem of constitutional options in terms of their economic consequences. In this respect, its tone may seem abrupt, but how can we not recognize the pragmatism of its objectivity?

In sum, it is exactly what the public wanted to know: the authors of the document, who were outspoken and not in the least interested in playing with words, described the many constitutional options as follows.

1. "Independence would have unfavorable repercussions on the economic life of Quebec and on the standard of living enjoyed by its residents." Could anything be more clear? 2. Sovereignty-association has little chance of becoming a reality in terms of association (of the sovereign state) with the rest of the country. "Thus, only sovereignty would remain, which is the equivalent of independence." This too is clear, is it not? 3. Federalism offers French-Canadians the best chance to organize their economic life. "But this federalism must be revised, rejuvenated and become really Canadian."

The authors have shown themselves clairvoyant in their examination of the MSA and RIN movements. But they had something good to say about these people who stirred up things—for example that ... their discussion of the constitutional problem in extreme terms has proven fruitful. ... Thanks to actions which were not always moderate but which had the vigor of fiercely-supported demands, it is evident that corrections have been made, points have been won, and that a few insulting and iniquitous situations, of which French-Canadians have always been the victims, have been, shall we say, improved.

But the mass seeks continued growth within an ordered system.

Personal income per capita in Quebec is $1,185 and $2,454 in Ontario. After the Atlantic provinces, Quebec places a sad second with its unemployment rate of 6.3 per cent. The answers to these rather staggering figures ly a number of hard truths but at least its frankness gives rise to a rush of calm reflection. And that will do a little bit toward transforming all this violence, both verbal and otherwise.—Roger Champoux (Sept. 21) will not be found in disruptive options.

The document takes on a categorical tone when it says: "In this area, the province of Quebec, perhaps more than any other, has responsibilities it must act upon with dynamism. Federalism places no constitutional obstacle in the way of Quebec initiative in this matter, but federalism will have to smooth the way financially for the province to accomplish this priority task." It is up to serious men to understand the truth of this. The others can go on agitating. That's their right. But let us hope that the Chambre de commerce will publish his hard-hitting document in book form. ... It states quite clear-

'In with jumper set

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Jumper jargon is being spoken in the best of circles, and it's more than just talk. Jumpers are assuming major status as part of the sport-wear renaissance. One major sportswear house scores jumpers so high that it has over a dozen different styles scheduled to swing into action.

There are V-neck, low pleated jumpers in wool plaid with 1930s overtones that are especially evident when a long rope of pearls is added to the costume and knotted low. Another style has a bias cut overall-type bib top. The skirt is flared and easy.

Anyone can enter the fun and games and wear a "rompa"—a jumper with a divided skirt. If jogging is part of the day's activities, a wool flannel or twill "rompa" is zoned for any current jog-in.

The jumper craze works on the buddy system which rules that tops to wear underneath are of equal importance. First in line this season are shirts—the artist's shirt, the dandy ruffled shirt and the very important stock-tie shirt. All come in washable crepe and in a wide choice of colors.

tion was won by Mrs. E. M. Goodfellow with Mrs. D. Cullen as second.

A hand painted picture was donated to the WI by Mr. Stuart Billing to be raffled at the Christmas Tree held annually in the Brompton Road Community Hall.

Floating prize, donated by Mrs. S. Billing, was won by Miss Elsie Winget.

The next meeting will be 2nd Vice - President's day, to be held at the home of Mrs. Norman Hatch in North Hatley on Oct. 8, with Mrs. Gordon Hatch as co-hostess.

Following adjournment of the meeting refreshments were served.

Anderson - Raymond marriage

MASSAWIPPI — A pretty fall wedding took place in Massawippi Union Church, Sept. 7, 1968, at 2:30 p.m. when Gail Elizabeth, daughter of Mrs. Irving Lord and the late Wilfred Raymond became the bride of Mr. Edward Martin Anderson, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Anderson, Sherbrooke, Que. Rev. Geoffrey Joyce officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Mr. Ernie Turner, soloist, sang "O Perfect Love" before the bride entered the church and "I Love You Truly" during the signing of the register accompanied by Mrs. Gordon Shipway, organist. Arrangements of summer flowers were used to decorate the church and hall and the guest pews were marked with white satin bows.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Douglas Raymond, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white brocade peau de soie featuring a fitted bodice with a rounded neckline and bell-shaped skirt with a detachable train of the same material. Her shoulder-length veil of four tiered layers of tulle illusion was held in place by a flowered headpiece and she carried a colonial bouquet of red Sweetheart roses. Her jewelry was a cultured pearl necklace, gift of the groom.

She's a writer who housewives

TORONTO (CP) — Joy Carroll says she isn't a housewife who writes. She's a writer who housewives.

Husband Jack, four children, a 13-room house, three cats?

"No trouble at all. I don't feel the least bit handicapped."

She puts in a steady two or three hours a day at her typewriter—"mostly by not dusting very often, not belonging to clubs and thinking about stories while I do household chores."

Her latest book, a paperback novel, has created a stir in the family. Jack disapproves of it, not so much for its naughty words but because it is entitled The Weekend and he works for Weekend magazine.

The Weekend is risqué—not a few critics will call it sexy—and not in character with a young matron who has written magazine pieces on such topics as remodeling an old house and getting a thousand and one things free, produced a couple of murder mysteries and edited a book on Canadian etiquette.

Her new novel, written under the pseudonym Marguerite Ford, is on sale in the United States, put out by Pyramid Books. When it is published in Canada this fall there undoubtedly will be much tut-tutting in the Carroll neighborhood in Toronto's east end.

The book is the story of a weekend spent on an island by six wealthy, bored, over-sexed men and women who casually swap mates.

Lauds Johnson's use of finesse

PARIS (Reuters) — Le Figaro says the late Premier Daniel Johnson of Quebec, had to use all his finesse after President de Gaulle's visit to Quebec last year to steer a middle path between Canada's federal government and the French president.

"Mr. Johnson had to call on all his finesse—and he had a lot of it—to manoeuvre between a federal government which had become sharply suspicious and keenly aware of Quebec's excessive desire for independence, and the important and stubborn friend who was waiting his visit to Paris," the newspaper says.

"English-speaking Canadians accused Mr. Johnson openly of having 'indoctrinated' his visitor. That was to misunderstand Gen. de Gaulle. The 'separatists' bitterly reproached him for not having shown as much separatism as his illustrious guest."

"Mr. Johnson will be remembered in history as the man who had the redoubtable task of receiving Gen. de Gaulle on Canadian soil."

The right wing daily l'Aurore says: "Daniel Johnson was a French-Canadian."

"Is it politics to call his compatriots, as de Gaulle did in his telegram yesterday, 'Frenchmen in Canada'?"

"Certainly it is. For two centuries the French speakers of Quebec have been treated as poor associates by the English speakers of Ottawa."

But Mr. Johnson did not dramatize the matter, the paper said. One would rather do without the diplomatic consequences of what happened 14 months ago.

"Let us salute in Daniel Johnson a great French-Canadian. That is to say enough and to say everything."

"To speak of Frenchman from Canada would be to say too much, unnecessarily," the paper concludes.

SEES SACRIFICE
The Gaullist newspaper La Nation says:

"It would not be going too far to say Johnson sacrificed his life to the cause which was his own: That of the liberty of the people who had confided in him their destiny."

"Daniel Johnson had understood that the French community of Canada could not live without a direct co-operation with France. That is why, far from becoming emotional about Gen. de Gaulle's famous cry 'vive le Quebec libre,' he understood immediately its significance."

The newspaper extended its sympathy, friendship and sadness to those grieved by the premier's death.

Post office has machine

KNOWLTON — (Special) — The Knowlton Post Office has been the recipient of a brand new automatic cancelling machine.

This will help the overworked and under-spaced staff to deal more efficiently with the ever increasing flow of out-going mail. It is also a considerable aid to the frayed nerves of the staff, who no longer have to contend with the continual hammering of the old steel date stamp, and at the same time converse with the customers.

The work of dealing with the outgoing mail will be considerably speeded up.

Jacques Monette, Gaston Bouchard and Luc Tessier sign, meet Barons Sunday

Jacques Monette, Gaston Bouchard and Luc Tessier signed contracts with the Beavers last evening, announced Real Veilleux, general manager of the Sherbrooke club, following the workout.

Manager Veilleux announced that the Beavers now have ten players under contract. Lee Hardy and Bob Eastman are among the number. The former was picked up in the draft while Eastman was secured by trading Gilles Cartier to St. Hyacinthe.

Lee Hardy didn't play in the Beavers' opening exhibition game but will be on hand for Sunday's tilt against Cleveland of the American loop. It was rumored that both Hardy and Eastman wouldn't play with the Beavers but the solid rearguard stated he is ready for the season.

The case of Bob Eastman is a little different as he has changed positions and with his new job it will be almost impossible to play. This is the only reason as he is obliged to follow a new course in the evenings and at the same time he will be in charge of several men.

Manager Veilleux was happy in signing Luc Tessier. Last year he played with Matane under Yvon Lacoste and during the training camp has been one of the top men at the blueline. He tips the scales at 165 and stands 5 ft. 7 in. but despite this he can play his position very well.

Coach Bruce Cline has been impressed with his work and he figures his addition will be a big factor giving the Beavers extra defensive power. Tessier was chosen last year as the top defenseman in his league. He tallied 20 goals and picked up 35 assists for a total of 55 points last year.

Monette last year finished with an average of 3.66 for the 14 games he played in. He joined the club after Andre Gagnon was out of action with a knee operation.

"Never have I ever reported to any club in the league in such good condition. My weight is the same when I played in the Eastern Hockey League some years ago. I feel fine and am ready for a good season," stated the veteran goalie after signing his name to a new contract.

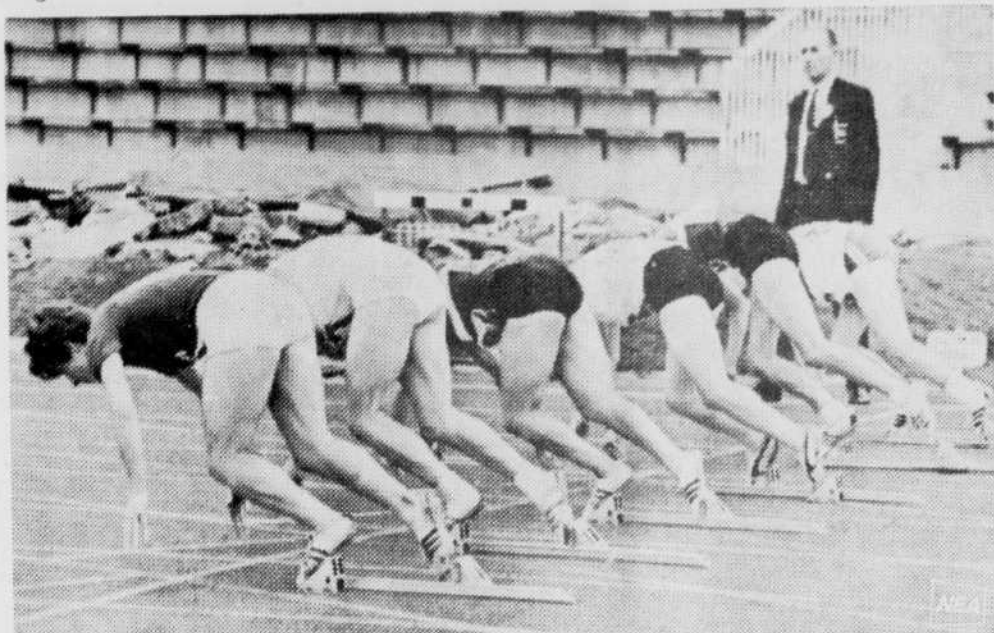

Gaston Bouchard, who tallied 14 goals and registered 25 assists last year, with the Beavers, is confident he will have a good season. Coach Cline is figuring on using him at center between two new mates.

Bill Dupre, who was injured in last Sunday's game, will dress this evening. He hurt his back in the tilt but feels he is ready to get back in action against the Barons of Cleveland at the Sports Palace Sunday evening when the teams clash at 7:30 p.m.

Manager Veilleux is waiting for Coach Cline to decide on his young players. Normand Sara-Bournet and Yvon Bergeron are two Coach Cline is figuring on. Sara-Bournet played with the Bruins of Shawinigan last year while Bergeron was a member of the Drummondville Rangers in the Provincial Junior "A" Hockey League. Both players have been impressive in the workouts.

Ray Carpenter's case will be decided upon his return. Manager Veilleux claimed that they had contacted New Haven regarding his release and the team stated since he was working in Montreal they didn't think there would be any trouble. Carpenter is presently in Virginia on a training course pertaining to his position. He will be back next month and will join the club as he is signed.

RED FACE RACE? Starters at women's athletic meets in London are complaining about being embarrassed because the new mini-shorts worn by some female athletes are too revealing. An unidentified starter tries to keep his cool as he stands by the side-line prior to a race at the British Women's Championships.

Jean-Paul Thibault elected president of the Alouettes

Sherbrooke pharmacist, Jean-Paul Thibault, last night was elected president of the Sherbrooke Alouettes for the 1969 Provincial Baseball League season.

Mr. Thibault has occupied several posts in baseball since the founding days of the Alouettes. Fernand Dube, immediate past - president, remains in the league executive at the post of honorary president. Mr. Dube refused re-election to the presidency because of business matters.

The Als' direction also made other changes in the formation of the executive, this year electing three vice - presidents. The three are Yvan Dugre, Raymond "Spike" Bernier and Conrad Gagnon. Mr. Gagnon is a new figure in the Als' executive with the others having been associated with Sherbrooke for some time.

Jean - Marc Donahue, who last year was elected to the post of secretary - treasurer, last night was re-elected as treasurer. The secretary for the year is Jean Denault. Normand Ainslie, who, along with Nick Testa, guided the Als to a third place finish, 3½ games behind the PBL league champion Cards, accepted the post of general-manager for the second year. His return will please many local baseball enthusiasts.

President Thibault was reported to have said last night that there will be changes in this year's edition of the Alouettes. The intention of general-manager Ainslie, he said, is to keep six or seven players from last year's team and to attempt to fill the weaker gaps by trading with other teams in the Ellyson circuit.

Bishop's Gaiters open season sporting lots of hope for '68

Bishop's University Football Gaiters open their 1968 season Saturday against the University of Montreal Carabins sporting a lot of hope and a few question marks.

The new season should see Bishop's playing a more exciting brand of football than they displayed last year as the emphasis is now on offence, whereas before it was the defence which led the purple and white to their 3-4 record in '67.

"The idea this year," said Gaiter Assistant Coach Al Gazyas, "is to outscore the opposition—not out-defence them."

There should be quite a bit of scoring if for the sole reason that a healthy Ken Chipman is back in the lineup. He played two outstanding games at the

ETABO to hold referee clinics

The Eastern Townships Association of Approved Basketball Officials with the co-operation of IAABO will stage a series of clinics for referees.

The annual general meeting will be held Tuesday, October 1, commencing at 7:30 at the Sherbrooke High School Cafeteria. The purpose of this meeting will be to register and to set the dates for the eight weekly clinics that are to follow. The 1968 rule books will be available and any rule changes will be discussed. The clinics will be under the guidance of the Executive of ETABO.

To be eligible to referee this season one must be a member of ETABO and pass the required exams. The cost per referee will be $5, payable to ETABO and all desiring to attend are asked to be on hand early.

beginning of last year before being sidelined with knee injuries for the rest of the season, but this year the knees are solid and he poses a scoring threat from anywhere on the field.

Willie Mitchell has departed from the Massawippi shore, but his quarterback spot is being filled by John Stephenson who, despite limited experience, nevertheless boasts a strong passing arm.

Les Black is back as flanker and the fullback will be sophomore Eric Innes. The backfield is rounded out by rookie Larry Smith, a six-foot, 195 pound speedster on whom Coach Gazyas places a lot of hope.

Whereas the backfield shows promise and the offensive line is stronger, the defence has been seriously depleted. The line has been all but wiped out by graduations and conference all-star Don Cooper has also finished his stint at Bishop's.

Ron Smith has been moved from his fullback spot to defensive tackle, but he is a question mark for Saturday's game as is Mark Ensio of Knowlton who is bothered with knee trouble. Defensive back Paul Legendre, a St. Pat's grad, will dress, but is not expected to play.

The Gaiters downed the Carabins in their opener last year by a 16-12 count on the U de M turf, but the Montreals are stronger this season, boasting 27 returns, with star quarterback Marcel Gaboury the only significant loss.

Game time is 2:00 p.m. at the Bishop's field at the Lennoxville campus.

Red Wings shutout Leafs 2-0, Blues down Americans 4-3

Goaltender Bruce Gamble of Toronto Maple Leafs has only two weeks left to find out how to stop Detroit Red Wings.

The chunky netminder was the villain of the piece Thursday for the second consecutive night as the Red Wings blanked the Leafs 2-0 in Detroit in a National Hockey League exhibition game.

Wednesday, Gamble shared goaltending duties with Al Smith as the Wings hammered Toronto 5-0 in Maple Leaf Stadium. And with only three weeks to go before the league opens regular season play Oct. 11, Gamble either has to learn some new moves or buy some bricks.

Frank Mahovlich, traded by Toronto to the Wings last season, opened the Detroit scoring in the first period and rookie Nick Libett beat Gamble three minutes later.

At the other end of the rink, meanwhile, goaltender Roger Crozier played the first half of the game for Detroit, making 15 stops, and was relieved by Roy Edwards who made 14 saves.

RESTS FORWARDS

Toronto coach and general manager Punch Imlach rested ace forwards George Armstrong, Norm Ullman and Mike Walton while Bruce MacGregor and Gary Bergman did not dress for the Red Wings.

Gordie Howe, Detroit's great winger, left the game in the second period with a bruised knee. In Thursday's only other exhibition game, St. Louis Blues downed Rochester Americans of the American Hockey League 4-3.

Camille Henry, Red Berenson, Terry Gray and Ab McDonald shared the St. Louis scoring while Dick Gamble picked up two for Rochester and Bronco Horvath one.

Boston Bruins, meanwhile, announced the signings of wingers Eddie Shack and Ed Westfall, the last of the Bruins to come to terms with the exception of defenceman Ted Green who is holding out for contract renegotiation.

CANUCKS TO TOUR

Elsewhere around the league

Thursday, the Stanley Cup champion Montreal Canadiens left for an extended pre-season exhibition series that will take them to New York, Detroit, Chicago, Minneapolis - St. Paul, Cleveland and Boston.

Terry Harper, veteran Montreal defenceman who missed several exhibitions because of a knee injury, rejoined his NHL team-mates.

As the Canadiens moved out of Montreal, coach Red Kelly put his Los Angeles Kings through a series of speed trials at Barrie and decided they were good enough to challenge the league.

General manager Larry Regan agreed and wants the 11 other NHL teams to send up their fastest skaters to race against Ted Irvine and Howie Hughes, who were timed in 14 and 14.4 seconds respectively around the Barrie arena.

But Regan also threw in a personal challenge to Imlach to race against Kelly, who was timed around the rink in a blazing 12.9 seconds.

Als and Rough Riders meet Saturday Whit Tucker man to watch — Dalton

MONTREAL (CP) — Both Ottawa Rough Riders and Montreal Alouettes will have some backfield changes when the two teams meet in an Eastern Football Conference game here Saturday night.

Coach Kay Dalton must find a defensive backfield candidate capable of stopping Ottawa's fleet flanker Whit Tucker, while coach Frank Clair is pondering whether it is time to rest a pair of veterans who have failed to impress him with their customary defensive skills of late.

The last time the two clubs met here was Aug. 22 when the Als snatched a fourth-quarter 25-24 decision from the Riders on a 40-yard field goal by John Baker.

Since then the fortunes of both clubs have deteriorated rapidly, with the Riders — pre-season favorites to win the Eastern title — slipping to second place with nine points on a 4-3-1 record one less than Toronto Argonauts.

ALS IN CELLAR

The Als lost their last two outings to the Argos on successive weekends and find themselves shelved in the league cellar with Hamilton Tiger-Cats. Both clubs have six points on 3-4 record. While the Roughies and Als are settling their differences in their non - televised match, the Ticats are at Edmonton against the Eskimos Saturday night and the Argos then journey to Winnipeg for a game against the Blue Bombers on Sunday.

Tucker currently leads the EFCF scoring race with 60 points on 10 touchdowns. Dalton says he has to find a shadow for the fleet Whit so he can't fatten that point total Saturday.

Either Phil Brady, the Brigham Young graduate, or Billy Woods will get the call. Brady has been on the injured list with a shoulder separation, while Woods has a knee problem and has also been sidelined.

KNEE MAY GO

Dalton figures either of these candidates could do the job if they are healthy. However, he describes Woods' knee as "liable to go on the first play of a game."

Dalton said Thursday he thought Brady would be in the lineup and in preparation for Phil's return promptly placed import tight end Fritz Greenlee on waivers.

Greenlee's departure was hastened by the fact that Donnie Davis will return for Saturday's game at either tight end or in the backfield.

Clair said Thursday he plans a few changes.

One of these would see Tom Pullen, a reserve end, spelling off the ailing Ron Stewart at the wingback spot. Barry Arden, a rookie used mainly as a punt return man, will go into the Ottawa defensive backfield.

Clair said the insertion of Arden was because he hasn't been impressed with the play of veterans Gene Gaines and Joe Poirier there.

THURSDAY'S FIGHTS

Miyazaki, Japan — Sulfredo Basco, The Philippines, stopped Kiyochide Yuzudo, Japan, junior featherweights, 10.

Portland, Maine—Jimmy McDermott, 168, Holyoke, Mass., stopped Augie Simmons, 162, New York City, 2.

Taunton, Mass.—Gerald Pate, 177, North Easton, Mass., out-pointed Randy Stevens, 175, New York City, 10.

St. Louis and Detroit ready for World Series

St. Louis Cardinals and Detroit Tigers go through their final World Series tuneups as baseball's regular season draws to a close this weekend with a batting title and several positions in the standings up for grabs.

In the National League, Cincinnati Red's Peter Rose and Pittsburgh Pirates' Matty Alou move into their final three games tied for the batting lead at .332. The Reds are at home for a three-game series with San Francisco Giants while the Pirates close the schedule with three in Chicago.

In the American League, Boston Red Sox hold a one - half game edge over Cleveland in the battle for third place after the Indians absorbed a 7-1 whipping from Baltimore Orioles in the only major league game played Thursday.

DRIVES IN RUN

Dave McNally won his 22nd with a six-hitter and contributed two hits, driving in one run and scoring two.

The Indians, because of a cancellation against Washington Senators last week, have only one game left to play—tonight against Baltimore — while the Red Sox have three left against New York Yankees.

Detroit Tigers plan to start John Hiller tonight at Washington with Joe Sparna and Pat Dobson working the final two regular games. That leaves 31-game winner Denny McLain with eight days rest if Manager Mayor Smith chooses to use him in next Wednesday's World Series opener.

Bob Gibson, St. Louis' likely first game pitcher, gets his final Series tuneup tonight against Houston. The Cards will pit Steve Carlton Saturday and Ray Washburn on Sunday.

Thanksgiving Service held at Cookshire

COOKSHIRE — The annual service of Thanksgiving for the Blessings of Harvest was held in St. Peter's Church on Sept. 15, amidst a beautifully decorated edifice. The ladies of the congregation had used colored maple leaves, flowers, fruits and vegetables to good advantage, a reminder of the blessings so freely bestowed.

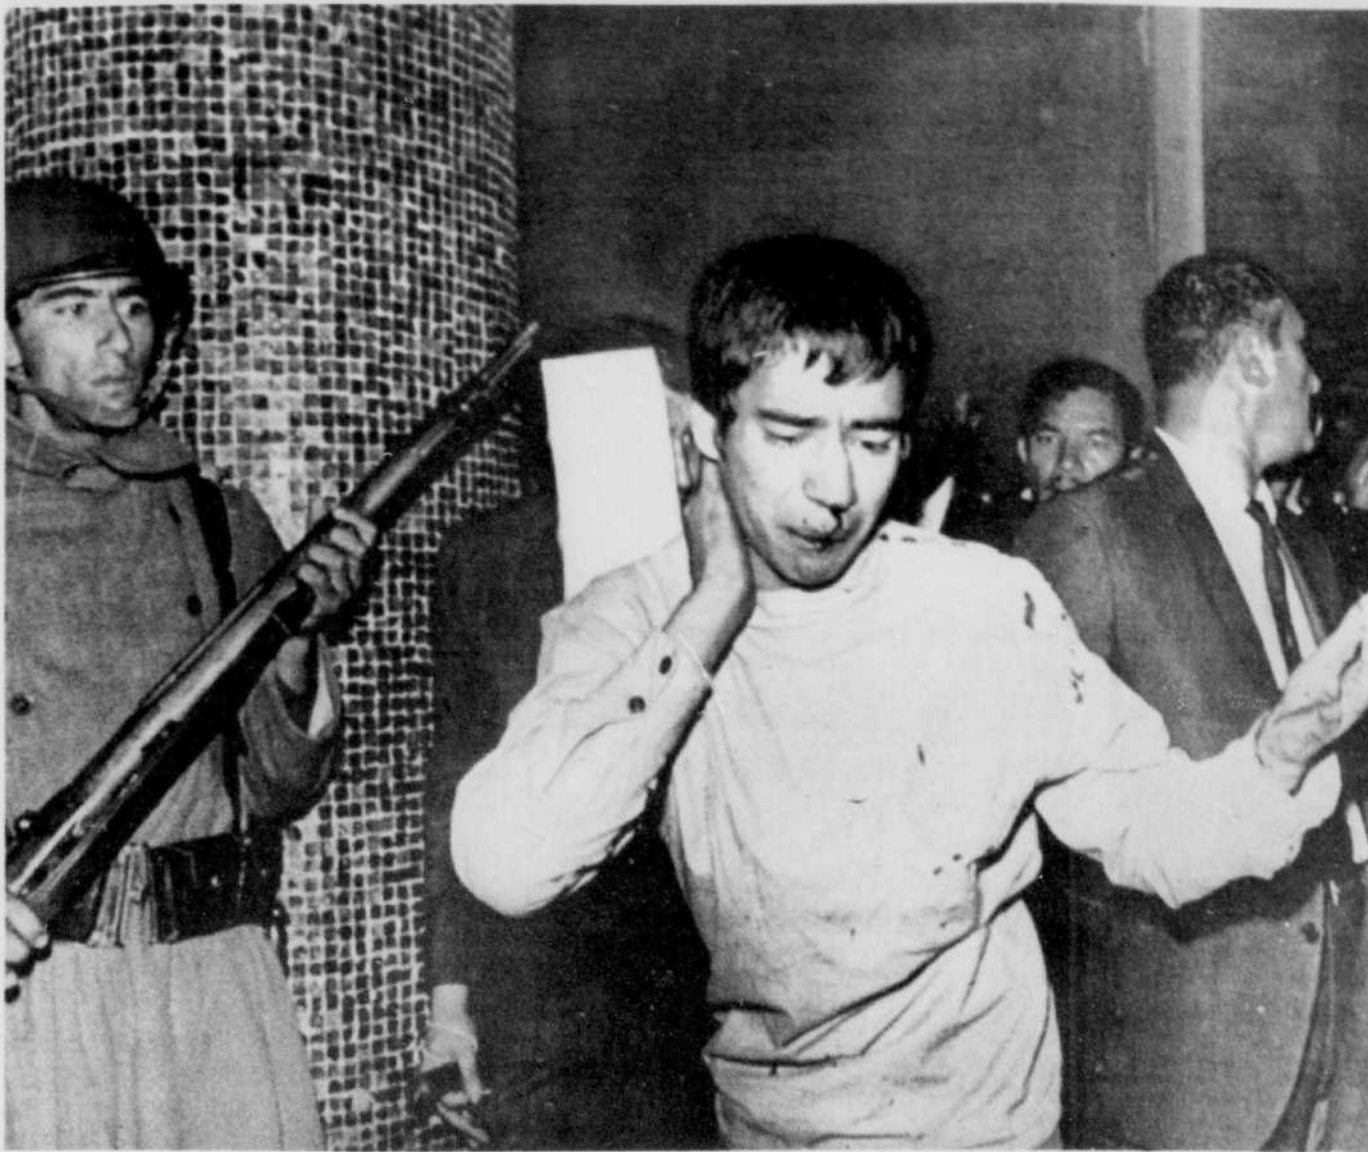

The rector, Rev. A. Fairbairn, officiated at evensong, and the sermon was preached by the Rev. David Genge, who has taken up residence in Marlinton, while on leave from the Parish of Kellings in the Diocese of Newfoundland, in order to take graduate studies at Bishop's University.

Mr. Genge's sermon brought home the blessings of the season, and he pointed out the necessity of appreciating fully the blessings close at hand, rather than looking farther afield for more opportunities and more material things of life.

The Rector gave a short resume of the Lambeth Conference which had been sent out by the Bishop to all congregations.

Heredity Is a Factor In Some Psoriasis Cases

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

(Last of Two Related Columns.)

Q—I have scaly patches of psoriasis over my entire body. Can this disease spread to the inside? Would it help to bathe more frequently or would this aggravate it? Although my skin specialist says this disease is not catching, my daughter and son have it. Could it be that what they have is not psoriasis but a disease that resembles it?

A—Psoriasis almost never involves the mucous membranes but there is some evidence that the incidence of arthritis is higher in persons with this disease than in the general population. Bathing as often as needed for cleanliness helps to control psoriasis but excessive bathing is not recommended.

Methotrexate has been used to treat very severe cases such as yours but this treatment should be taken only under medical supervision, preferably in a hospital.

Although psoriasis is not contagious, heredity is a factor in some cases. Since no other disease closely resembles it, your children probably have psoriasis.

Q—How is a diagnosis of narcolepsy made? Is there a cure for it?

A—The diagnosis is based entirely on a history of uncontrollable sleepiness occurring several times a day. They may come on when a person is sitting, standing or even engaged in conversation. In one form of the disease, when the victim laughs he falls to the ground and, even though conscious, he may be unable to move for a minute or two.

The cause is unknown. There is no cure but the victim may outgrow the attacks after several years. Meanwhile, frequent planned naps throughout the day, and taking amphetamine, may help to minimize the attacks.

Q—Four men from a local ranch are taking rabies shots because a veterinarian said that bats are among the worst carriers of this disease. How great is the risk? Our doctor says it is more important for a rancher to have tetanus shots. What do you think?

A—Rabies is a very serious disease and it may be transmitted by a bat bite. Persons who are at risk of being bitten by bats or any other rabid animals can be protected by a new HEP (high egg passage) or DEV (duck embryo) vaccine. The risk of tetanus following any deep wound that has been contaminated with soil is so great that every man, woman and child should have tetanus toxoid.

Mrs. Erwin Watson, R.N., presided at the Compton County C.N.I.B. meeting held recently in the Health Unit. Mr. Campeau is regional field secretary. Through this county, a worthy blind person, Mr. Turgeon, is being assisted in taking a physiotherapy course in England. The annual CNIB campaign for the district will take place from Sept. 15 to Sept. 20. Canvassers were appointed and will be calling on the townspeople.

toll. Taking care of the annoying squeaks will take care as well of potentially dangerous situations.

A stairway consists of treads, the horizontal part you step on; stringers, which are the sides and are clearly visible in basement stair construction but which will be masked as part of the woodwork elsewhere; and risers, the vertical boards at right angles to the treads.

Squeaks come about from friction between tread and riser. Friction results as construction begins to loosen with wear and age.

Drive pairs of finishing nails at angles through the tread and into the riser. Have someone stand on the tread to force it down while you make the repair.

Sometimes the riser fits into a joint on the underside of the tread. Thin, wood wedges, coated with glue, can be driven into the joint to tighten it. This joint is sometimes covered with molding which will have to be removed and then put back after the repair is made.

When nailing, drive the nails below the surface. Use a nail set to get the nail head down and then fill with plastic wood.

Treads, if not protected with a cover (rubber, linoleum, carpeting, etc.), will become worn at the edge. In time this may splinter and break off.

Chisel out a recess where the wood is worn and replace with a piece of hardwood. Glue it in place and plane it flush with the rest of the tread. Round the edge so that the contour is the same. Then finish it to match.

If a tread is damaged to the extent that it cannot be repaired, remove it and make another. Use the old tread as a pattern for the new. Reassemble with wood screws for greater strength.

Handrails are fastened to the wall with metal brackets. Wall brackets may become loose because screws were not run into the studs. Remove the brackets and replace the screws with anchor bolts, toggle bolts or some combination of anchor and screw so that the screw is not in plaster alone.

An outside handrail (away from the wall) is held in place by a post at its base and supported by balusters (smaller posts) throughout its length. A loose handrail can be traced to a loose post. Run long wood screws through the base of the post and into the stringer to draw it up tight. Countersink the screws and fill with plastic wood. Loose balusters should be glued and nailed to make them more secure.

Missisquoi County Institute hears reports at semi-annual convention

ANSVILLE — The semi-annual convention of the Missisquoi County Women's Institute met on Sept. 18 in the United Church Hall.

Mrs. Calvin Harvey, County president, chaired the meeting. Mrs. George Fernihough, County secretary, read the minutes of the annual convention held last May in Stanbridge East. Mrs. Simon Bidner, County treasurer, presented the financial report, which showed a satisfactory balance.

The committee for the erection of historical markers throughout the county gave the report, with suggestions for other places to be designated.

The highlight of the meeting was an address by Vance Patterson, former principal of the Mansville School, and now co-ordinator of Elementary Education in the District of Bedford. His talk was timely and interesting; he presented an outline of the New Education, the problems to be overcome and the aims they hope to achieve. The interest of his listeners was shown by the many questions they asked him in the period which followed.

Mrs. Harvey then told of the main decisions made at the Provincial convention held at Macdonald College in June. She announced that the County board meeting would be held in Fordyce and the next annual meeting in Dunham.

Afternoon tea was served by the members of the Cowansville Branch.

House Plan of the Week

NEW HOUSE DESIGN — This four-bedroom split-level house, by Architect Earl R. Dunlop of Toronto, has its sleeping area and two bathrooms at the back away from street noises.

Below the bedrooms is a basement with space for recreation, work, furnace and laundry rooms. The living area is well worked out with a generous hall leading to all the main spaces of the house — carpet, bedrooms, living room, kitchen and basement. There is good space in the kitchen for dining and, from it, doors lead onto a patio protected by a brick wall. This should be an important area for summer living. The best orientation for this house would be to have the front door facing either east or west.

The floor area is 1,622 square feet exclusive of carport and patio. The outside dimensions are 49 feet eleven inches by 37 feet eight inches — approximately 2,780 square feet. Working drawings for this house, known as Design 853, are available from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.
