All Records Broken For Havelock Fair – Over 1200 Dinners Served

Havelock Fair was another tremendous success this year. Held on Saturday, September 11th., it began crowding right from opening time. By about 1 p.m. space on the grounds and extra parking lot for cars was moving toward a premium. People were still waiting at 2 p.m. to get their turn at the excellent dinner served at this Fair. Here again there was a record number of meals served. Exhibits in the vegetable, fruit, cooking, sewing, etc. were much larger in numbers and of very high calibre. Cattle exhibits were down somewhat for some reason, but the Red and White Show helped to some extent to make up the deficiency. Very few sheep and swine were on hand, but a fair amount of various species of poultry and such were on view. The Horse classes of all kinds were well filled and this show ring attracted a very large crowd all day long.

An extra large crowd patrolled all parts of the grounds and there was little space in any part that was left. The parking grounds were all filled by early afternoon as the crowds continued to roll in up to 4 p.m. and past. A little relief was obtained as some people began to leave about that time and some of the exhibitors removed their exhibits. It is probably the very best attendance ever recorded for Havelock Fair.

The Highland Band and Dancers from Maxville, put on a performance just inside the gates and at other spots in the grounds and in all cases a large part of the crowd followed them around. Finally in about middle afternoon two young dancers staged a dance on a platform in the open arena and won the applause of all waiting to see this attraction. The two girls danced the highland fling to the accompaniment of a piper. The band played a few selections and then another young dancer performed the schottische. A few more selections by the band and the performance was ended. There is no doubt but what this band and dancers did prove an attraction for this year's Fair.

The regular run of sports for children took place in the arena at various times during the day and kept this part of the grounds humming and people amused.

Not too many people gathered around the cattle show rings, but nearly all made the rounds to see the type of cattle showing. Frank Napier has an account of the Red and White Show in this issue and he refers to other cattle showings in his column under "Round Byre and Ring". Look to these for further accounts of the cattle section of the Fair.

The Ladies looking after the booths along Bazaar Row did a very good business for their organizations and were quite well pleased. The refreshment stands out in the grounds were also well patronized. Over 1200 dinners were served this year as against 1,000 for 1964. This gives some indication of the increased attendance at the Fair. It may be considered that this feature is one of the main stays of the increased attendance. No ordinary caterer could hold these patrons.

The Ladies work sections of the Fair were quite strong in exhibits and proves that there are still some very good cooks and housewives in the Havelock area. The cakes, pastries, bread and rolls stretched half way around the lower floor of the building in which these exhibits are housed. A change was made in the fact that these exhibits were on the ground floor instead of being upstairs as has been the case. There was not a space between the exhibits either on the front counter or on the one at the rear which held the preserves, canned items, etc. The flowers and plants which occupy the centre section were filled to capacity also. Sewing, handicrafts, etc. filled the remainder of this floor and were in extensive array. Upstairs were several excellent table displays and a quantity of fancywork.

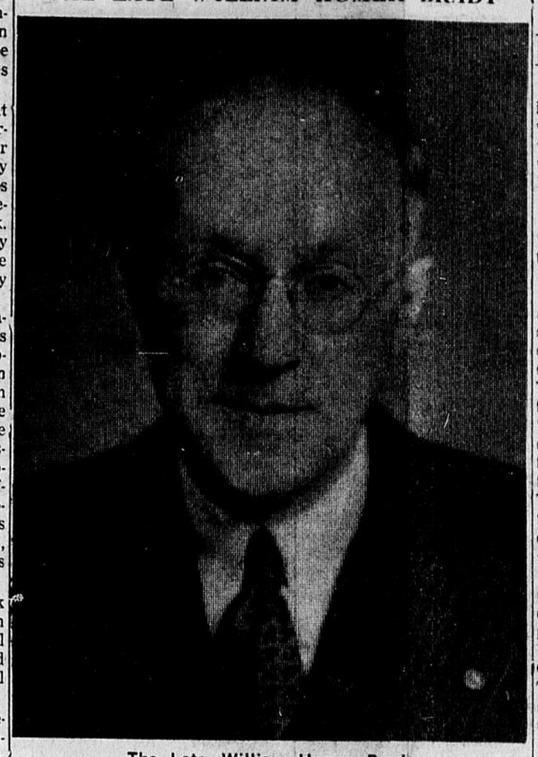

In the vegetable and fruit dept. were to be seen the largest quantity of exhibits for several years past. The display of apples and other fruit was exceptionally good, being reminiscent of a few years back. Vegetables of almost every variety were to be seen in the vegetable exhibit and of very fine quality and size too.

A good industrial exhibit along the side road to the barns and just inside the gate provided fans with what is new in various implements and farm tools. While on the other side of the grounds the Lacolle Curling Club provided the usual midway attractions and appeared to be doing a land office business. Plenty of people were taking away baskets of peaches and other prizes, so no doubt everyone was happy.

There you have Havelock Fair for another year and from the remarks of most people all had an enjoyable time and were loud in their praise of all that makes up this Fair.

Through circumstances beyond our control, we are unable to print the prize winners for Havelock Fair in this issue. We hope however, that they will be available for our next issue on September 22nd.

THE LATE WILLIAM HOMER BRADY

The Late William Homer Brady

William Homer Brady, who passed away Sept. 6, 1965, at his home in Howick, will be long remembered by many throughout this area.

Mr. Brady was born June 30, 1891 in Hartford, Connecticut, but spent most of his early life with his mother and grandfather on a farm at Stanbridge Station, Que., and later near Frelighsburg, Que. He graduated from Bedford Academy in 1909 and that year entered Macdonald College for a one year teaching course.

After teaching for a year at Como, Que., he entered the McGill University Faculty of Arts. After completing three years of university he took sick and had to spend some time in hospital at Ste. Agathe where he stayed for a year and taught in the school there.

Following two more years of teaching in Montreal, he returned to McGill and graduated in 1918 with a degree of Bachelor of Arts.

On July 10, 1918 Mr. Brady married Margaret Manson Murdoch of Dalesville, Que. They settled first at Knowlton, Que., where Mr. Brady was principal of the Knowlton High School for three years. After serving as principal of High Schools at Richmond and St. Johns, Que., he was appointed School Inspector by the Department of Education and moved to Montreal.

From 1925 until his retirement in 1960, Inspector Brady became well known to many teachers, pupils, and school boards throughout his district, which always included the counties of Huntingdon, Chateauguay and Beauharnois. He was a strong advocate of school consolidation in order that rural children could have the opportunity of obtaining a standard of education equal to that of urban pupils. When he started inspecting in 1925 there were over 70 one-room schoolhouses in his district. By the time of his retirement in 1960 these were virtually a thing of the past.

Five years prior to his retirement Mr. Brady moved to Howick and settled into the life of the community there.

Mr. Brady received the Order of Scholastic Merit, Second Degree from the Department of Education in 1941 and was honored by being awarded the Coronation Medal of Queen Elizabeth II in 1953.

The work of the church was always a strong interest of Mr. Brady and while living in Montreal he was a member of Wesley United Church, and was also a regular worshipper at First Baptist Church. After moving to Howick he became a member of Howick United Church and following his retirement put much of his time and energy into the work of his church. He was Clerk of Session and Chairman of the Christian Education Committee at the time of his death.

The work of the Orange Lodge was also a great interest during his life and he was for many years a member of the Lorne L.O.L. in Montreal. He also served at various times as an officer of the Provincial Grand Orange Lodge of Quebec, of which he was a Past Grand Master, and of the Grand Orange Lodge of British America. One of his major interests was the Orange and Protestant Children's Home in Rosemere, Que.

Other organizations to which he devoted much time, particularly during his very active retirement, were the Howick Home and School Association, the Howick Boy Scout Group Committee, the Chateauguay Valley Historical Association, of which he was a founding member, The Gideons, and the Board of Feller Institute, Grande Ligne, Que.

Mr. Brady is survived by Mrs. Brady and their four children, Homer, Honora (Mrs. Eric R. Smith), Donald, and William, and eight grandchildren.

What's In A Name?

In the minutes of the Hinchinbrooke Council Meeting it will be noted that a decision was reached to name several new streets in the Fairview Road area of the municipality.

One of these streets, that which leads off Fairview Road past Kelly's Farm Supplies, is to be given the name Kelly Street.

This will likely prove quite confusing in many ways, for on the other side of the Town of Huntingdon there is another street named Kelly St. This one leads off from Cemetery St. and is near Chalmers St. It has no outlet for vehicles, although people can pass through to Dalhousie St. and the Huntingdon Woollen Mills. This street was named after the late Rufus Kelly, when he opened it up for building houses there.

While the new Kelly St. is not in the Town of Huntingdon, it is practically so, as people more or less consider Fairview Road (and Garden City for that matter) in the Town of Huntingdon when referring to it. Thus if people are asking for this new Kelly Street, they will probably be sent to the old one.

We might suggest that before this name is actually registered that a slight change be made from Street to Avenue, in order to make the difference between the two Kellys. There would be less chance of confusion all around if such a change could be made.

AN ENJOYABLE TIME WAS HAD BY ALL

In this photo a view of the inside of the Dining Hall is seen, showing the people partaking of the splendid meal served at Havelock Fair. It also gives some idea of the large number to each serving as the hall is quite big.

Teachers' Convention Date Change

The Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers' Convention, which usually takes place over the Thanksgiving week-end, has this year been changed to be held on Thursday and Friday, November 4th and 5th.

Graduating Dance

(By Toni Cyngot)

The annual Graduation Dance of Huntingdon High School was held Friday night, September 10th. The theme this year was Spanish and the gymnasium was gaily decorated with bright splashes of color and figures and silhouettes of Spanish dancers. "The Buddies", provided enjoyable music for the evening and the teenagers were also unintentionally entertained by their parents who danced in such a style they rarely have a chance to see at a school dance.

At 11:00 p.m. the Grand March began with the Graduates walking in a procession to the cafeteria led by Board members and wives, where they sat at a table especially decorated for them. Tasty refreshments were served and the graduation cake was cut. Each graduate received a piece of the cake with his or her name on it which became more or less a memory of the evening.

Mr. Brockman and Dr. J. S. Gaw addressed the graduates and made them realize that this would be the last time they would be together as a group. Mr. Brockman said that they were welcome to come back and visit members of the staff or school anytime they wished. One particular interesting point is that the majority of the graduates are entering college this fall, while others are taking grade 12 or a business course.

The dance ended at 1.00 a.m. and was very successful. Special thanks go to all who gave their help and co-operation for making it possible.

Huntingdon High School Opening Exercises Held Last Saturday Evening

The school opening exercises held at Huntingdon High School, on Saturday evening, September 11th, drew a capacity attendance and proved to be a very interesting event. Promptly on time, members of the Board, Principal and Guests made their way to the platform and the evening opened with O Canada and then the Invocation by Rev. H. Lowenberger.

The Chairman of the Board, Dr. J. S. Gaw, led off the speakers with his address to the gathering. Others then followed as given below and the prize awards concluded the program.

Chairman's Remarks

It is a pleasure for me on behalf of the School Board to welcome you to what is probably the 112th annual commencement exercises of Huntingdon High School.

It is the beginning of a new term and one part of starting that term is the presentation awards for work well done in the past school year.

We are thankful to those individuals and organizations, who by the donation of bursaries and prizes, encourage our pupils to greater effort. These people will be mentioned when their prizes are awarded. It is needless to say that these awards are deeply appreciated by student, staff and school board alike, but most of all by the student so honoured.

We are very fortunate in having a competent teaching staff and the success of Grade 11 students attests to that fact.

The Home and School Association deserves special mention for their efforts in raising funds for the school library and in organizing the annual church service for the graduating class each spring. The school fair is also one of their projects.

Our enrolment is about the same as last year. We have 6 new teachers but the overall number is the same. There have been some innovations in teaching methods, but I had better leave that for Mr. Brockman.

It is just a year ago now, that the Department of Education announced an all out campaign to divide the province into regions for educational purposes. This was "Operation 55"

The Chateauguay Valley Protestant Regional School Board is composed of representatives from the following boards: — Huntingdon-Dundee (1), Ormstown-Howick (1), Hemmingford-Franklin (1), Valleyfield-Beauharnois (1). Chateauguay (3). This board will be responsible for all secondary education in the Chateauguay Valley. Our representative on this Board is Mr. Jack Blake and he will tell you of their plans for the future. Mr. Blake has also been chairman of the Board since June.

REPORT ON REGIONAL SCHOOL BOARD

by J. Blake, Chairman

I have been asked to address you briefly tonight on school regionalization in our area.

The Department of Education calls this Operation 55 but I like to think of it as Operation 55 plus 9. There are 55 Roman Catholic Regional Boards and 9 Protestant Boards in the Province of Quebec. I should point out that I am speaking for the Protestant Board in our area. All the 64 Boards have been formed and are in various stages of planning and building Regional Schools.

Regionalization is the next step forward from Central Schools and was conceived by Mr. Gerin-Lajoie and developed by him and his department mainly from the material and research obtained from the Parent Reports. A basic objective of Regionalization, is to educate youth according to their capabilities and to prepare them to meet today's and tomorrow's rapidly changing conditions and responsibilities.

According to the Canadian Chamber of Commerce report in May 1965, teen-age unemployment (school drop-outs) accounted for 23% of the total Canadian unemployed and this percentage is expected to rise as automation increases. Another interesting statistic is that 63% of the total Canadian unemployed have a Grade 8 (or less) education. The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports that in Canada just 9% of those who start school enter University and only 6% of those who start school obtain a University degree.

The worker displaced by automation can be retained, perhaps to run the computer or machine that displaced him, but the Boss won't invest time and money in retraining workers he feels haven't enough education to be retrained. The retraining of workers outdated by automation is already underway in the areas where vocational and technical facilities are available. Last year nearly 18,000 workers took advantage of these facilities. As Regional Schools with technical/vocational facilities are built this number will increase many fold and add new skills to the labour force.

SOME OF THE CROWD WAITING TO GET INTO THE DINING HALL

Every year the church groups which cater for the dinner at Havelock Fair, have to serve more and more people. This year a record of over 1200 dinners were served to patrons of the Fair. The above photo shows a line-up of people waiting to get into the dining hall to have dinner. It was getting to be early afternoon when this photo was taken and dinners were being served from 11 a.m.

Parents Object to Children Being Sent Out of Area to School While Outsiders Come In

Monday night, September 13 at Notre Dame School, a very important special meeting of the Huntingdon Catholic School Commission was held with more than one hundred interested parents in attendance. Suggestions or solutions were put forward at this meeting which, it is hoped, will put an end to more than a week of troubles of all kinds.

Since the official opening of schools, some parents of high school students had refused to have them sent out of town according to arrangements taken by the Salaberry Regional School Commission until the planned semi-regional school is built. It would seem that the reason for the parents' reluctance to send their children to surrounding schools, mainly in St. Anicet and Valleyfield, was that students from Valleyfield, St. Anicet and other points were coming to Huntingdon schools; they claimed that if students coming from outside were able to find room here, there was no reason for their children to go somewhere else.

After making representations with the Regional Board, apparently without result, they came to the local board with a petition requesting "th[illegible] strangers leave the local classrooms". President Gerald Crete explained that while the local board had rented 14 classrooms to the Regional Board, after they had lodged all their elementary students, they had really no jurisdiction over the Regional Board which looks after all students from the 8th grade and up.

The meeting was deadlocked until Mr. Tardif, Principal of all Catholic High School students in Huntingdon, arrived and made some suggestions to satisfy the parents. With the new arrangements, three first grade classes will be amalgamated into two which will free one room. The 8th and 9th grades will be taught here and class was supposed to be back to normal by Tuesday. Mr. Marleau, Regional Principal, accepted in principle the new arrangements but the consent of the Regional Board is yet to come. It is expected however that they will agree to these arrangements at their meeting tomorrow (Thursday) in Valleyfield. Mr. Tardif deserves a great deal of credit in the settlement of this affair, because he has done a tremendout amount of work to accomodate everyone.

The elementary students however will have to put up with much discomfort until the new school is built. Concerning this new school, it was reported that in an interview with Messrs. Doris Montpetit, Fernand Guerette and Gerry Lambert, Mr. Gérin-Lajoi, at the recent Diocesan Congress of School Commissions, assured them that the construction would start no later than January 1966. The Minister had explained that, since the original plans were now dating three years back, they were no longer adequate and had to be drawn up again.

MAXVILLE HIGHLAND BAND AND DANCERS PERFORM AT HAVELOCK FAIR

Above will be seen, on the left, one of the Maxville performers as she danced the schottische to the accompaniment of a piper. She was loudly applauded by the large audience around the ring. On the right is the Highland Band which played a number of selections during the afternoon of the Fair. Many a person was thrilled with this performance of band and dancers.

LEGION AUCTION SALE REAL SUCCESS

The steer at top left was sold by auction on September 2nd, opening night at Huntingdon Fair, to Mr. and Mrs. Jean Lussier of Huntingdon, shown holding the halter in the sales ring. At left is Mr. Romain Menard of 'Metro', Huntingdon, closest contender for the steer. Mr. and Mrs. Lussier paid $275. for the animal, donated by Mr. Athol Lester. The Hereford calf at right, donated by Hillside Sales Arena,, was sold to Builders' Supply and Feeds for $110. — The pair of pigs shown were donated by Mr. J. M. Smellie and were knocked down by Auctioneer Higgins to Mr. MacArthur Kelly, Kelly's Farm Supplies for $55. — The sale, on behalf of the Huntingdon Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion was a stellar attraction.

Athelstan

took over Biggar, Sask., charge of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church last Sunday and preached his first sermon here. He and Mrs. Bernhardt arrived here last week from a motor trip from Montreal and have taken up residence in the Presbyterian rectory. A native of Huntingdon, Que., Mr. Bernhardt graduated from Sir George Williams University in Montreal with his B.A. degree and took his training in theology at Westminster Seminary in Philadelphia where he received his bachelor of divinity degree. As an American graduate, he has had to take an additional course to study standards of the Canadian Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Bernhardt, a native of Philadelphia, is a graduate of Temple University, and has taught school in Philadelphia and Montreal. — From Newspaper at Biggar, Sask., Aug. 12th.

Ladies Aid

The Ladies Aid met in the church schoolroom on Thursday afternoon, September 9th. The ladies spent the day quilting. Mrs. Hampson opened the meeting with a hymn and Mrs. Bernhardt led in the devotions. Eleven members and three guests were present. The Treasurer reported that $198.15 had been taken in at the Fair booth this year and everyone was quite pleased. Plans were made for the turkey supper which will be held in October. Mrs. Hampson was asked if the ladies would cater for the Legion supper in November. The ladies agreed on this and plans would be made at the next meeting. Two get-well cards were signed and sent to two members of the Aid. A letter of thanks was read from Rev. Johnston for the $25.00 donation to the Bible Society. Mrs. Stewart Ross asked if any of the ladies would like to join the Chateauguay Valley Association for Retarded children or to buy Christmas cards in aid of this cause.

A vote of thanks was extended Mrs. Bernhardt for all her help in many ways since she came into our midst. Mrs. Hampson then presented Mrs. Bernhardt with a gift from the Ladies Aid, and wished her good luck and health in her new home. The meeeting closed with a hymn and the Lord's Prayer. Refreshments provided by the members were then enjoyed.

Visitors

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. Bouthillier were Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Peters and Mrs. Amelia Lambert of Marcy, N.Y.; at the same time they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roy, and accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Sylvain Galipeau, Mrs. Harold McConville, Mrs. Margaret Roy and Mrs. O. Bouthillier they visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Isidore Pilon in Verdun.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Bouthillier and Mr. and Mrs. Sylvain Galipeau motored to Bedford and there visited friends, on their way they stopped in Hemmingford and spent a short time with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chambers, Mrs. Margaret Roy was also visiting there.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tobin of Barrie, Ont., have been guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norris Herdman for the past week.

Kilbaim

Best wishes to Miss Pauline Trepanier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francois Trepanier of Lee's Corners, who has entered nurses training at the Verdun General Hospital; to Rita Cosgrove who has entered the School of Nursing at the Montreal General Hospital; also to Michael Ryan who has been accepted at Loyola College, Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. François Trepanier motored to Montreal on Saturday and attended the wedding of their nephew, George Leblanc. They were accompanied by their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Trepanier of Rigaud.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Gallagher, Maureen, Sharon, Robert and Stephen of Montreal, on returning from their summer home at St. Gabriel, spent the weekend at the home of Mrs. Gallagher's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Connor. Sunday visitors at the same home were Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Anderson and family of Malone, N.Y.

She was accompanied by her nephew, Gerry Labelle who is spending this week with her before starting his classes at Loyola College. They are presently staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ryan.

N. Sample, Hemmingford Heads Newly Formed Farmers' Group

At a well-attended meeting of the Provisional Committee on Protestant Settlement in southwestern Quebec in McDougall Hall, Ormstown, Wednesday night, it was decided to form the Southwestern Quebec Settlement Society, with the eventual aim of becoming part of the Federation of Quebec Protestant Colonization and Settlement Societies.

With more than two dozen farmers present from all parts of Huntingdon and Chateauguay counties, the meeting was welcomed by Rev. A. E. Lorre of St. Paul's Church, who called on Mr. O.R. Evans, Executive Secretary of the Protestant Colonization and Land Settlement Society of Montreal to read the minutes of a previous meeting. He then called on Mr. T.G. Sevigny, president of the Protestant Society of Montreal to explain the reason for calling the meeting.

Mr. Sevigny, an agronome and Agricultural Freight Development Officer with the C.N.R. described the work of the Protestant Colonization and Settlement Society in sponsoring settlers in Rouyn-Noranda county. He also mentioned that there were two groups doing similar work in the Eastern Townships, which are active in settling Protestant farmers in that area. The Laurentian Protestant Colonization Society is also active in promoting better farm practices in the north end of Argenteuil county.

These four groups make up the Federation of Quebec Protestant Colonization and Settlement Societies, which is supported by grants from the provincial Department of Agriculture and Colonization. Their aim is to keep farmers on their land and to assist them in any way possible.

In the general discussion which followed there was wide-ranging comment on the present state of farming in the area. A majority were in favor of government help for farmers. Marketing controls and minimum prices for basic commodities were asked for. The consensus was that, if the government wants cheap food for consumers in order to avoid inflation, it must subsidize the producers A request was made for marketing boards to control interprovincial trade in foods, to avoid temporary surpluses which cause fluctuations in prices.

Apple growers deplored present day marketing practices, which make for variations in price. Several wondered how the Quebec Liquor Board could manufacture a uniform good quality hard cider. The 4-H program in southwestern Quebec is in a demoralized state, lacking leadership.

In the election of officers Mr. Norris Sample, Hemmingford became president with Gerald Duncan, Ormstown, first vice-president Huntley Greig, Ormstown, second vice-president, and Keith Greig, Ormstown, secretary treasurer. Floyd Stevenson Franklin Centre, John Dickson, Ormstown, Clifford Williams, H'ford, and Chas. Reid Huntingdon, were named directors. Next meeting will be held in Ormstown, Oct. 12.

St. Agnes

STE-AGNES — With the inevitable passing of the summer months, the young people have once again changed their meeting night from Wednesdays to Sundays.

Their last week night get-together, Sept. 1st, proved to be most entertaining as well as instructive. Mr. Neilson, summer resident at Fraser's Point was present and showed the group slides of his visit to the Far East, accompanied by an interesting and amusing commentary by Mr. Neilson.

On Sunday the student minister, Mr. Charles Carpentier, and his group of young people made their last trip to Fraser's Point for the season. The services once more proved to be an inspiring experience to all who attended, and the young people thoroughly enjoyed the opportunity afforded them in being able to participate each summer in these Lakeshore Worship Services. To commend the group for their good work, the congregation at the Lake made a $25.-donation to the young people which will help greatly to augment their financial standing.

On Sunday, Sept. 12, Mr. Carpentier began instructing a group of four young people in preparation for their reception to the full church membership when the Communion of the Lord's Supper is observed during the month of October.

On Sunday evening the group, under the able chairmanship of their new president, Cary Carpentier, met in the Church Hall. The evening was spent in discussing plans for the coming months, including money-raising schemes.

The attendance was smaller than during the summer due to the fact that many of the young people who were able to be a part of the group from June until September have now gone back to college or to new jobs.

The best wishes of the Hi-C were sent along to Doug Watterson, who recently underwent surgery in the Huntingdon County Hospital.

Schools Open

Students are all back in their classes, school having opened Tuesday, Sept. 7th. Dundee school has an enrollment of 50 pupils, 27 in the Primary Grades and 23 in the Elementary, with 17 pupils in Grade 3, a record high for this grade. There are 9 beginners this term.

Best Wishes To Former Local Boy

It was noted with interest this past week that Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Normandeau have purchased a large, new restaurant in Phillipsburg New Jersey. They have several employees under them and are reported as doing a thriving business. Lawrence, his wife and four children have resided in Malone for a number of years, where Lawrence was associated with Sears in their insurance division. The best wishes of his old friends in Ste. Agnes go to him and to his family for every success in this new field of endeavour which he has chosen.

News of Old Friends

Mr. and Mrs. Sam R. Dixon of Lachine, who are known in this area, have moved to Portland, Oregon where Sam is acting consultant for Dominion Engineering of Lachine, who are working on a large consignment to South America. Although Sam has been retired for approximately five years, his services to Dominion Engineering were thought sufficiently valuable for him to be called back into active duty for at least the next two years.

Congratulations

Mr. George Sutton has been busy attending last-of-the-season Rifle Competitions in Mansonville, Sherbrooke and St. Bruno. He is also in line for hearty congratulations as he has done extremely well in all classes which he entered.

Attends Classroom on Wheels

Mr. Keith McPherson, who is employed as a mechanic by Brewer's Sales and Service in Fort Covington, N.Y. spent a busy four days last week attending classes in Malone, N.Y. sponsored by the Napa Echlin Field Training Center. Keith learned about the techniques of repairing the electrical and carburetor products of this company, also their testing equipment.

Personals

Master Craig Fleming of Ottawa spent Labour Day week-end with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. V. Elder, while his parents enjoyed a holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Everett Arnott in Ormstown.

Mrs. George Sutton and Wendy spent a couple of days recently with Mrs. Sutton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Cookman, in Lacolle.

Franklin Centre

FRANKLIN CENTRE — School opened on Tuesday for half a day. On Wednesday the pupils settled down for the usual school work with the following staff in charge: Grade 1, Mrs. Edna Erskine; Grade 2, Miss Julia Sturrock; Grade 3, Mrs. Joyce McKell; Grades 4 and 5, Mrs. Ruby H. Aubrey

25th Wedding Anniversary

Aubrey-Riverfield. — A surprise silver wedding anniversary party was held at Riverfield Curling Club on September 11th in honour of Mr. and Mrs. Osborne Orr. Upon arrival at the rink after having been taken out to dinner by their family they were greeted by some eighty-five relatives, neighbours and curlers. A corsage was pinned on Laura by her sister, Mrs. L. Stacey and all joined in singing Happy Anniversary. Then the guests in turn congratulated them on this happy occasion. Euchre was played for a short time and prizes were given, after which dainty refreshments were served.

The guest table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake and white and silver candles. Baskets of gladioli decorated the rink.

Mr. Everett Orr acted as master of ceremonies. Mr. Andrew Allen, on behalf of the curling club, presented Laura and Osborne with a well-filled purse. Their daughter Marjorie and son Reginald preesnted them with a five-piece silver tea service from the family, relatives and neighbours. They also received a silver butter dish and many beautiful anniversary cards.

Laura and Osborne each thanked everyone for remembering them on this occasion and all departed wishing them many more years of happy married life.

Mr. and Mrs. Finlay Milne returned home on Friday from their trip to the Canadian West and report having had a most enjoyable time seeing so much new country and magnificent scenery and meeting so many old friends.

Miss Sandra McFarlane who has resumed her studies at Macdonald College spent the week-end at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stacey are to be congratulated on becoming great grandparents for the third time when their granddaughter, Mrs. Lindsay (Sandra Brown) gave birth to a girl on Saturday. This also makes Mrs. Elsie Robb a great-great-grandmother for the third time.

Mrs. Murray Templeton who underwent surgery at the Barrie Memorial Hospital on Thursday is recovering well and hopes to be home in a few days. Her many friends wish her a rapid return to her usual health. While she is convalescing, Mrs. John Holmes is substituting for her in her class in Howick High School.

Miss Marjorie Orr and Miss Shirley Mills spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Osborne Orr.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bunbury on the birth of a daughter at the Barrie Memorial Hospital on Saturday.

Mrs. Maude Gruer, who was in hospital for two weeks in Montreal having an operation on her foot, has returned home and is able to get around with a crutch. Her foot is to be in a cast for some time but we hope it will soon be as well as ever.

The sympathy of the whole community goes to Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Templeton and family on the tragic death of their son Lorne last Monday.

Tax Rate For Town For 1965 Set At 18 Mills

Huntingdon Town Council met on Monday evening for an adjourned meeting with all members present. Actually it was two meetings in one for immediately following, a special meeting was held to fix the Tax Rate.

The principal part of the adjourned meeting was occupied in making a budget for the year 1965 as the basis for fixing the tax rate. It was finally decided to budget for $196,000.

Mr. Roch Trepanier came before the Council to ask for a reduction in his assessment. It was pointed out that this could not be done at this time as the Tax Roll had been homologated and it was too late for this year.

Mayor Cappiello presented a plan to the meeting which covered a proposed development in the north end of town and to be used in connection with a sewage disposal plant in the future. Council studied the plan, but action on this was delayed to a future meeting.

It was decided to extend some water mains in the vicinity of Hunter Street while this type of work is being done. Such a change would also increase the pressure in this part of town.

The adjourned meeting was then closed.

The special meeting then proceeded with the Secretary reading the opening formula and stating the nature of such a meeting was to set the tax rate on a notice of motion given at a previous meeting.

After a short discussion, a bylaw was read and passed setting the tax rate for 1965 at 18 mills, or $18 dollars in the thousand of assessment.

BOWLING

Farmer's Bowling League

The league started it's season on September 7th. High singles were Murray Rennie, 161; Ronald Dineen, 170; Aart Bonenberg, 152; High triples were Murray Rennie, 417; Ronald Dineen, 397; Lorne Henry, 391. Herdman, Brooklet and Trout River got 6 points, Rockburn and Powerscourt got 4 points and Dundee, Boyd Settlement and Franklin got 2 points.

Glenelm

Bridal Shower

Miss Anne Steele was taken by surprise when friends, relatives and neighbours gathered at the Grange Hall, Kensington on August 19th for a shower in her honour.

Anne was met at the door by Miss Janie Salter who pinned on a corsage and along with Miss Ann Donnelly escorted her to a pink and white decorated chair. The hall was tastefully decorated with streamers, umbrellas, flowers and bells.

The guest of honour was assisted with the presents by her mother, Mrs. Wm. Steele and her future mother-in-law, Mrs. Dot Hoxie, as well as by the Misses Ann Donnelly, Janie Salter, Dianne Legault, Carmen Saumier and Carol Roy, all neighbour girls. After the many beautiful and useful gifts were opened they were passed around for all to admire. Anne thanked the guests and invited them to visit her in her new home in Syracuse, N.Y.

Refreshments were served to about 80 guests by the hostesses: Miss Ann Donnelly, Mrs. Jimmy Steele and Mrs. G. French assisted by other neighbourhood ladies.

Dundee

DUNDEE — Monday guests of Mrs. Elizabeth Fleming were Mrs. Charles Grant, Miss Queenie Grant of Westmount, Miss Agnes Alguire and Miss Grace McCracken of Cornwall also Mrs. Edgar Brown of Vanleek Hill, Ontario.

In Memoriam

SUTTON, Earl — In loving memory of a dear husband who was accidentally killed on September 19, 1964.
I was not there to see you die,
To hold your head or to say goodbye,
But I'll remember my whole life through
The last few words I had with you,
Memories are treasures, no one can steal,
Death is a headache, no one can heal,
Some may forget you now that you are gone,
But I will remember no matter how long.
Sadly missed by Margaret

SUTTON, Earl — In loving memory of dear Earl accidently killed on September 19, 1964.
We were not there to say goodbye,
Perhaps it was just as well.
We never could have said goodbye,
To a son and brother we loved so well.
We mourn for you in silence,
No eyes can see us weep.
But many a silent tear is shed,
While others are asleep.
Sadly missed by
Mom and Gordon

Cards of Thanks

I would like to thank Dr. Lefebvre and Dr. Shannon for their care given to me while a patient in the Montreal General Hospital. Also a sincere thanks to all our relatives, friends and neighbours for cards, visits and phone calls. All was much appreciated.
Elmer Duheme

We wish to extend sincere thanks to all who helped in any way to make Havelock Fair Dinner a huge success. Especially those volunteer helpers who turned in and scraped plates, washed and dried dishes and lent a hand wherever needed, and to John Thompson of Thompson's Snack Bar for capable handling of our canteens and to his family for capable help generously given and to anyone who donated extra baking. Thank you very much everyone, it was all sincerely appreciated.
Members of St Paul's Anglican and Gore United

Women's Auxiliary of H.C.H. Report Successful Fair Projects

An Executive meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Huntingdon County Hospital was held on Monday evening, September 9th, with nine members present. The president, Mrs. Gordon McLean, opened the meeting expressing her grateful thanks to everyone for all their generous help at Fair time on all the different projects.

Sewing — Mrs. Mayall reported that there were no groups in July and August but that she had been carrying on herself with the kind help of Mrs. Fred Bolton, who came in very often to assist her. The result of the two months were as follows: mended 98 articles, cut out 276, made 106 new articles, marked 44 and took from cupboard supplies 176 articles.

Membership: Mrs. John McCallum reported $40 taken in memberships at the Fair and expressed her pleasure with this result. She stated that membership renewals for 1965 have been most encouraging but that new memberships would be welcome. Please call Mrs. John McCallum 264-2110 or Mrs. Gordon McLean 264-3070 and they will be pleased to accept your fees at your convenience.

It was decided at this meeting to use the donation of $250 from the Board of Governors of the Hospital to purchase sides for the two new beds at the hospital.

The Fair projects were reported on as follows: Mrs. Mayall, Convenor of the Parcel Post stated that this department took in $315. The drawing, convened by Mrs. Law. McCallum, took in $200. Mr. L. A. Sanderson, Chairman of the Board of Governors, presided at the drawing and the winners were as follows: Card table and chairs were won by Master Stanley Whyte, East St.; the lamp was won by Mr. John Lowden and the winner of the towel set was Miss Gloria Arthur.

At this point the president expressed her thanks to all the ladies who did the calling for the Parcel Post and a special thanks to Mrs. Lucien Galipeau for her extra help in this calling.

Mrs. Francois Cleyn was in charge of the tagging, which was done by a number of teenagers and this project brought in $40.47.

It was also suggested at this meeting that we might try to devise some sort of drapery for the booths for another year to make them more attractive and comfortable. This will be discussed again at a later date.

The Corresponding Secretary was instructed to write thank you letters to those who took in parcels for Parcel Post, namely, Mrs. Mae O'Connor, Arnold's Men's Wear, Garden City Grocery, Remi Leblanc, prop., Mrs. Lucien Galipeau and Mrs. Gordon McLean; also letters to Mr. James McCoy and Mr. Irvin Laberge for donating cans for the tagging; to Mrs. Moring for donating a braided rug; Booth's Florist for flower arrangement; Vilna Furniture for donting table lamp as a prize and also for furnishing the booth and for supplying transportation of the furniture to and from the booth as also items back to the hospital; to Miss Nancy Wettlaufer for making posters, to Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Rennie for their help in many ways, to Miss Melina Murphy for her large donation of 182 parcels for the Parcel Post and a special donation from Mrs. Laura Patterson. The Pres. and the Auxiliary members are very grateful to all the people for their time, efforts and donations given to help make these Fair projects once again, successful events.

It was decided at this meeting that there will be no further projects until the December Tea and Food Sale which the members plan to make a really special event this year.

The next meeting will be a General Meeting to be held in Notre Dame School on Tuesday, October 5th at 8:15 p.m.

Celebrates 98th Birthday

Mrs. James Simpson of Howick, celebrated her 98th birthday on Saturday, Sept. 11th., and members of her family called at Mrs. Preston's Home, bringing gifts and good wishes. Mrs. Simpson has fairly good health for one born on September 11, 1867. Her visitors were: Mrs. Gertrude Peddie, Howick; Miss Margaret Simpson, Chateauguay; Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson, Spraykers, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs and 2 children, Montreal; Douglas Burdon, Woodlands; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Simpson Noyan and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Tipping, Franklin Centre.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs brought a decorated birthday cake to mark this special occasion.

HUNTINGDON W.I. PRESENTS GIFT TO MRS. BERNHARDT

Huntingdon W.I. met on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Mildred Helm with 21 ladies present. Motto for the meeting "Say all that should be said, not all that could be said." Roll call was answered with an item for "Current Events". Two notes of thanks were read. Mrs. Chas. Reid read some interesting items received from a W.I. member in New Zealand. Mrs. Allan Reid reported on certificates and prizes for school pupils. Mrs. Ottney reported on arrangements being made for a sewing class. This will be held in October with afternoon and evening sessions, and will be open to members and non-members.

Publicity read several items regarding a school in Huntingdon for retarded children, which will commence this fall. Memberships costing $2 are available to the public and it is hoped that many will purchase memberships; the funds thus obtained will help to carry on this worth-while school

Health and Welfare. — A timely article regarding poisonous leaves and flowers. Some of those listed were rhubarb leaves, hyacinth, narcissus, daffodils, castor beans seeds and rosary pea. The last two are fatal, and a child can die from eating one seed. Information regarding such poisonous seeds, bulbs, etc., is contained in summer issue of "Canadian Farming" and every household would do well to obtain a copy.

Members were requested to bring in articles for the contest prize box. Arrangements were made for the School Fair, and Mesdames Ferry, Anderson, Ottney and Lindsay appointed to look after arrangements. There was considerable discussion on giving more publicity to children's exhibits at Huntingdon Fair. Arrangements were made for a Fod Sale to be held in Marchand's Store. Mrs. Leboeuf and Mrs. Wood were appointed to be in charge of sale.

Miss Frances Turner was introduced by Mrs. Anderson as guest speaker. She gave a most interesting and informative report on her recent trip to Arizona, Mexico and California and showed many pictures which made the information even more interesting. The ladies were particularly interested in hearing about Disneyland. Mrs. Chas Reid thanked the speaker for her splendid talk.

The members deeply regret that one of the most active and well informed members on W.I. work is leaving our midst. To show their sincere aprecpiation of faithful work done, Mrs. McCartney presented Mrs. Bernhardt with a lovely travelling case, on behalf of the members. In thanking the members Mrs. Bernhardt expressed the joy it has been to be associated with the W.I. and her regret at leaving this community. All wished her safe journeying and happiness in her new life.

The members signed cards to be sent to four members who, we regret to say, are on the sick list. The hostess, Mrs. Helm,, served a bountiful supper to all present.

School For Retarded Children Opens Sept. 27th, United Church

The school for the retarded children of the area starts on Monday, September 27th, at the United Church in Huntingdon and it is hoped that it will prove to be a success.

The group is starting off at rather a disadvantage in the fact that they have little money with which to buy their needs. To this end Christmas Cards are to be sold and also memberships. Sometime in the near future a card party will be held and of course donations are in order at all times. The idea behind these small campaigns is to raise sufficient money to defray the expenses of school supplies, etc. With such assistance the school can be made to supply a long felt want in this area and help to keep these handicapped people with an aim in life and something worthwhile to do.

Those wishing to offer any assistance can contact either one of the following: Mrs. L. Lewis of Rockburn or Mrs. T. Ross at 264-5926. Your help will be appreciated at any time.

For further information with regard to the school, please contact Mr. P. Dobrik, phone 264-5415.

The alternative to staying in school until graduation is a lifetime of limited job opportunities, low pay, unemployment, insecurity, and worst of all, the realization, too late — that things could have been different.

The Teacher's Magazine for May 1965 had an excellent article by Saul Ross which suggests that the 3 R's will gradually have to be augmented by the 3 L's: Education for Life; Education for Living and Education for Leisure.

Education for Life: because of rapidly changing conditions of employment, retraining and upgrading will become a life-long process.

Education for living: the world is getting smaller as modes of transportation speed up and we travel more; we've got to learn to get along with others without prejudices.

Education for leisure: New York electricians now have a 25 hour work week. Senior men in the United Mine Workers Union have a 13 week annual vacation. The work week is getting shorter and training will have to be given in useful pursuits of the leisure time that results.

Competitions are being sponsored by the Dept. of Education to recruit instructors and teachers for the technical/vocational courses the Regional Schools will offer. Good qualified instructors are going to be hard to find because of the rapid expansion in the need for this calibre of person.

Where are we now in the Chateauguay Valley? We're about the end of Stage 1. Our Planning Committee Brief and our Educational Specifications are in Quebec. We're expecting a go-ahead any day to proceed with the selection of school sites. Stage 2 comes next. This is the selection of the sites and details of all the services and reports on these sites. If this is O.K'd by the Dept., we select an Architect and Engineer. Stage 3: If our selection of Architect and Engineer are approved, plans and specifications in detail are prepared. This includes all of the land and buildings and costs.If these plans are approved we call for tenders. Stage 4: We select our choice from the Tenders and send all the Tenders to the Dept. If they O.K. our choice we sign up the Contractor and we're under way.

There is very much more detail to these stages but time and space restrict me.

The original goals set up were: Dec. 65: Preparation of Building Plans; Feb. 66: Submission of Tenders; Apr. 66: Begin construction; Apr. 67: Completion of construction; Sept. 67: School in use.

This is quite a target and we are subject to delays from the Department if they become overloaded with work or require too many changes in our recommendations. However, you can be sure it is our intention to do everything possible to meet these deadlines.

A word about the wives or husbands who sit at home while their partner is off at meetings in connection with Regionalization. In general, we who participate enjoy what we're doing. Sure it's nice to get a word of encouragement but the real heroes in this drive for more adequate educational facilities are the wives or husbands who, with all sorts of wants and needs around home, must smile and wave a good-bye night after night as their partner heads out for another meeting. I ask that you do what you can to keep up their morale because we've a long to go yet.

PRINCIPAL'S REMARKS

The Departmental Results were excellent. In Grade X — there were 6 with first class average, and in Grade XI — 86% passed. About 15% above the usual provincial average. Top student — average of 87.3.

I tried to make a check through back records and found the following; In 1945-46 Donald MacNaughton, 85.1 In 1942-43, Marjorie Clouston 85.6. Do not know when there was one higher.

This Academic success is due to: 1, Good teaching; 2, Good facilities; 3, Hard work by the pupils; 4, Encouragement by the parents.

One can have good teachers and facilities but without encouragement by parents the seeds we sow in the school are less likely to germinate. The soil for future success is cultivated largely by you, the parents, both in the example you set for your children and the interest you show in their work. Even very intelligent children often do not do well academically, if their parents have not tilled well.

Thus, you the prizewinners, have your parents as well as your teachers, to thank for your success.

This year there are exactly 200 prizewinners and honour students. Allowing for duplication there is still over one-third of the school population who have won awards.

First, I wish to congratulate you all. Excellence in school work and in citizenship is its own reward, but it is always satisfying to have it officially recognized. I would urge all students to strive for perfection, not for the prize itself, and not because you can hope to achieve the ideal. Few of us ever can.

But it is in reaching for the stars that we come to know our full potential and we become better people. Moreover, there is great joy in knowing that we have done our best.

Once again, prizewinners, congratulations and keep up the good work, at school, at home, at work!

These two mushrooms held by Walter McCallum of Huntingdon Dry Cleaners were picked one morning last week. Each edible plant measures eight inches in diameter which we believe is something of a record locally. Both mushrooms were perfect inside; most large mushrooms being either wormy or woody. Walter gave one to a sister who lives in Massena, N.Y. and the other he kept for himself. These mushrooms grew in the blacktop in front of Huntingdon Dry Cleaners' Regd' pushing their way through the hard surface and breaking the paving. For some years the Huntingdon Dry Cleaners have experienced trouble each mushroom season as the seemingly delicate plants break the blacktop, causing considerable expense.

Mr. Robert Campbell,H'ford Celebrates His 90th Birthday

by Mrs. L'Epérance

MR. ROBERT CAMPBELL

It was open house at the Home Farm' on Wednesday, September 1st, where Mr. Robert Campbell of Hemmingford, lives with his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Campbell, and where he was born 90 years ago. Shortly after dinner relatives, friends and neighbours began arriving bringing their birthday greetings gifts and very soon the afternoon party was in full swing. Two very welcome visitors well-known to many of our senior citizens on account of their musical talent, were Mr. Wilmer Mannagh and Mr. James Mannagh, (who, himself, is 91 years young) James does not play much now but Wilmer had brought his violin and, accompanied by Mrs. L'Espérance, very soon had feet tapping in time with his rollicking reels and merry tunes. Refreshments were enjoyed and then, to the accompaniment of clicking cameras and popping flashbulbs, Mr. Campbell cut his birthday cake made and decorated by Mrs Kenneth.

The evening party was a repetition of the afternoon. Car after car drove into the yard and very soon the large kitchen and sitting room were filled with friends happily visiting, reminiscing and exchanging 'do-you-remembers'. There was no music, but instead Mr. Campbell was persuaded to talk about his early days, and what a memory he has! He went right back to the time when, as a young boy, he would walk with his grandfather through the bush to fetch the cows. And so that these memories might not be lost, Mr. Alister Somerville brought along his tape recorder and, urged along now and then by Mrs. L'Esperance, Mr. Campbell told us of his grandfather, Robert Campbell, who, born in the Highlands of Scotland in 1802; left his sheepherding in 1821 and came to Canada. He walked through, what was then, the thick bush and wilderness until he came to this rise in the land and there he decided to build. To put up a shack one had first to cut down some trees for lumber and so the young man started to chop down a tree. But having no experience he was hacking away all round the tree, 'just like a beaver', chuckled Mr. Campbell. Coming from the village (Sherrington?) following in the tracks of Robert came another man, he was experienced in lumbering and he quickly showed Robert how to notch the tree so that it would fall right where he wanted it. Mr. Campbell told us his grandmother was a McLean and his father, Allan, married Margaret Thompson, who had come over from Ireland. His grandfather spoke Gaelic and he well remembers him walking to the Beechridge Church once a year to hear the visiting minister preach in Gaelic.

Another family well remembered by Mr. Campbell as friends of his grandfather were the McKinseys who lived near St. Chrysostome They, too, had come from Scotland. The two McKinsey boys married French girls and their children spoke English, French and Gaelic fluently!

Mr. Campbell well remembers the school he attended. It was quite near his home,

St. Paul's Church Sunday School Awards

On Sunday, September 5th Sunday School attendance awards were presented at the morning service of St. Paul's United Church. Pins were awarded for perfect attendance and certificates and seals for missing no more than two Sundays. Memory work prizes were also given. Two senior girls, Joyce McDougall and Roberta Wallace, received pins for a record of perfect attendance of fourteen years.

Mrs. John Wallace, Retiring Superintendent, thanked the Session, Sunday School Executive, Staff, pupils and parents for their support and co-operation during her privileged term of office. She then called on Rev. A. E. Loree and Mr. Ewen McDougall, who had acted as Assistant Superintendent, to present the awards.

Mr. A. K. English, the new Superintendent, presented Mrs. Wallace with a suitably engraved copy of The Hymnary on behalf of the Staff of the Sunday School in appreciation for her many years of faithful service.

NOTICE
Collection of Arrears of School Taxes
Huntingdon Protestant School Board

In view of bank loans and charges the Board is obliged to collect all arrears of school taxes due as of June 30th, 1965. Unless the said arrears of school taxes and interest are paid by Sept. 30th, they will be handed to the board attorney for collection or the properties will be listed for sale with the county secretary. The method of collection to be decided at the regular meeting to be held on October 7th.

The board is reluctant to take these steps but must do so in view of loan charges and rising expenditures of operation and teachers' salaries.

E. C. MARTIN,

MUNICIPALITY OF THE TOWN OF HUNTINGDON
PUBLIC NOTICE

Is hereby given by the undersigned that the Council of the Town of Huntingdon at a special meeting held on the thirteenth day of September, nineteen hundred and sixty-five, has passed by-law No. 321 levying a rate of eighteen mills on the dollar upon all the immovable assessable property situated in the said town and as appears on the valuation roll of the said municipality, to the exception of lands under cultivation, of farms used for pasture of cattle, which are taxed only at ten mills.

Such assessment shall become due and exigible at the office of the Secretary-Treasurer according to the requirements of the law.

Given at Huntingdon, Que., this 14th day of September, 1965.

This and That In Town

✔ Havelock Fair was all that The Gleaner predicted: good weather, a fine crowd of congenial people, excellent displays in fruit and vegetable classes, the Lacolle Curling Club attractions, a very good dinner in the dining hall until 1200 hungry men, women and children devoured all the ham, beef, potatoes, gravy, salads, beans and pies and several scores of would-be diners were turnd away; excellent entertainment by the Maxville Pipe Band; musical pads, potato races and other entertainment for spectators and participants alike as youngsters competed on pony back for awards; cattle show, etc. Brian Adams of Chateauguay had a booth for the first time and he displayed and sold some of his fine oil paintings; church groups did well at their booths selling handicrafts, home cooking, novelties, etc. Mr. J. J. Alexander of Huntingdon, who celebrated his 99th birthday last week, was there with Mr. J. A. Brown. So was Mr. Robert McCarroll of Detroit who attends Havelock Fair every year and renews acquaintances in the district. As we mentioned last week, Aylmer Hadley is hospitalized and he was missed, but Mrs. Hadley did a fine job and we predict Aylmer will find things right in order when he gets back on the job next year; Mr. Hugh Chambers of Ormstown, another senior citizen, remarked "I haven't seen as many old friends at one place for a long time;" missed was Mr. Walter Barr, President of Havelock Fair for 18 years, who at present is a patient in the Barrie Memorial Hospital . . . The Gleaner understands Mr. Barr hadn't missed Havelock Fair for 85 years until this year. Ken McNiece had a good display of chain saws and the 1966 model Ski-Doo that attracted a lot of attention. Some of the prize-winning entries of bread, cake, etc. were sold on towards evening to eager purchasers. The one bugbear of the whole fair is that parking faciiites appear limited, but this is mostly because each succeeding year sees at least a couple of hundred more patrons.

✔ Canadians will now go to the polls for the third time in four years. Prime Minister Pearson announced last week that a Federal Election will be held November 8th. With greater than ever decisions looming in the near future, it is to be hoped that our next government will have a satisfactory working majority, whichever party is in power.

✔ A rash of accidents around the countryside the past week including two truck mishaps: a soft drink truck overturned on the Plank Road near Huntingdon on Friday and a ready-mix concrete truck overturned Saturday on Route 52. (See accident report elsewhere).

✔ Did you know the Catholic Regional School to be built in Huntingdon early in 1966 will be much larger than anticipated? More classrooms and an Arts and Crafts School. Rumor has it that the gymnasium will be large enough and constructed in such a manner that if a Protestant Regional School is built in the same area, the one gym will do for both. Now that is sense, especially for the students and the taxpayers. If this is more than rumor, let's hope the Protestant Planning Board intends to cooperate.

✔ C. M. 'Chet' Oney recorded a dozen or more comments about Havelock Fair on his tape recorder and also part of the programme by the Maxville Highland Pipe Band: welcome news for shut-ins!

✔ Mr. Pierre Halle, with The Gleaner three years as news editor of Le Journal and also translator of our publications, has accepted a position as transiator for Simpson-Sears catalogue and will leave for Toronto in two weeks. Because of this, The Gleaner has an opening for a thoroughly bilingual person interested in newspaper work. Man or woman, age no barrier. Interested persons are invited to call The Gleaner, 264-5365, for an interview (see advt.)

✔ 18 mills on the dollar was struck as the tax rate for the Town of Huntingdon at Monday night's council meeting.

✔ Quite often a note is enclosed when subscribers renew their Gleaner subscriptions and this time we are taking the liberty of printing the note sent in by Mrs. Jas. R. McKell of Riverfield: "The Gleaner's weekly arrival is gladly welcomed in our home and also in the homes of our three married daughters who live very far from here. In pioneer days, both sides of our grandparents subscribed, back as far as 1885. The Gleaner is just like a friendly visit in all phases of its newsprint. Keep up the good work and best wishes to all the workers. (signed) Mrs. Jas. R. McKell."

✔ Thank you, Mrs. McKell: we want The Gleaner to be the best weekly newspaper in Canada and we'll keep trying.

✔ Ormstown is making plans for new sidewalks. New streets, too. (See town council report).

✔ And talking about our towns: water pipes are being laid at a good clip in Ourtown, but are shut-offs being installed at strategic places so that if a break occurs in one ward the water doesn't have to be turned off all over town? Maybe this could be looked into?

✔ Telephone service in parts of Huntingdon were disrupted early in the week when workmen inadvertently cut throuh a main line containing more than 200 cables. Repairmen are hard at work repairing the damage.

✔ These graceful dogs, "Freya" and "Wee Nan" owned by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley J. Brooks of Dykebar Farm, Hemmingford, were much admired at Havelock Fair on Saturday. Purebred Whippets, they were not entered in the Fair as there were no dog classes, but everyone who saw them with their owners either spoke to the dogs or patted them. The taller of the two, Freya (Champion Tip Top Alluring Deer) is solid fawn and became a champion at nine months old. She has 126 ribbons, the poorest of which was Second, and as many rosettes. The smaller of the two is Wee Nan (Champion Tip Top Saucy Deer) multi-colored. Wee Nan's father is an international Champion of Canada, U.S.A. and Bermuda and Freya's father is Field Trial Champion of Britain. Whippets are well-known in Britain, Germany, Western Canada and Western U.S.A. Both Freya and Wee Nan have been clocked at 376 yards in 17 seconds.

✔ It's said a man parts his hair one of three ways: on the side, in the middle or departed.

✔ And did you know Sea Cadet Allan Hawthorne of R.C.S.C.C. St. Francis left H.M.C.S. Hochelaga (Montreal) by jet airliner on Friday for H.M.C.S. Esquimalt (Vancouver, B.C.) where he will leave for a cruise abroad H.M.C.S. St. Croix to California waters for a period of three weeks? Allan has been a member of the Huntingdon Corps for three year and was one of twenty cadets chosen from corps across Canada. He is a student at Notre-Dame High School.

✔ FLASH: Bob Johnson, proprietor of Huntingdon Theatre, phoned this a.m. at nine o'clock advising that he has obtained The Beatles' newest film, "HELP" direct from Montreal and it will start showing in Huntingdon on Friday for one week! This is it all you Beatles Fans, and we suggest you thank Mr. Johnson for his untiring efforts to bring the newest movies to Ourtown.

✔ AND: Don't forget the Fashion Parade tonight (Wednesday) in Ormstown sponsored by the ladies of the Barrie Memorial Auxiliary.

✔ UNUSUAL: A local farmer dropped in to The Gleaner Office one day last week and told us he and a number of his friends were wondering if quadruplets had been born to a Holstein cow on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Hovorka on the Athelstan road just outside of Huntingdon and nothing had been mentioned about it in The Gleaner. We checked and Mrs. Hovorka explained she was pleased we had phoned because several people had stopped in to ask about the cow mothering four calves. To make a long story short, it appears that Bossy is just the motherly type and her four calves are foster off-spring, but the accompanying snap shows just what made some of our alert local farmers curious.

One Big Accident This Week, Others of Minor Nature

Last weekend was relatively quiet in the Huntingdon area, with only one serious accident reported.

The New Erin Rd. caused more damage the past week. On Labour Day, at about 11.30 a.m., Mr. Marcel Leduc, of Huntingdon, had the windshield of his car broken by a rock. Tuesday, September 7, Mr. Adrien St. Onge, of Huntingdon, had his windshield and headlights broken in the same manner on that road. These incidents are blamed on the soft gravel covering New Erin Rd.

The only serious accident of the week occurred Saturday, September 11, when Mr. Bernard Primeau of Ormstown, lost control of the readymix truck he was driving on Route 4 and left the road near Huntingdon between Davies' and Brown's places. The truck was a total loss but fortunately Mr. Primeau was not hurt. Damage is estimated at $15,000. The accident happened at about 4.30 p.m.

Celebrates His 90th

and he told us of the teachers and the lessons he learned. The building was later moved up to Fisher St. on to what is now Major Short's property, but is now burned down.

His grandfather died in 1889 and in 1906, on October 24th, Mr. Campbell married Agnes Gertrude Geddes who lived on the farm now owned by Mr. Arthur Derrick. No, said Mr. Campbell, we were not married in church, most weddings in those days were held at home and we were married at my wife's home. I well remember seeing The Reverend Mr. Lee and his daughter Flossie driving up in the buggy. Those were busy years, said Mr. Campbell, much land to be cleared and I ran a threshing mill and a sawmill and did a great deal of custom work for my neighbours. We made our own entertainment in those days. Then he told us of the enjoyable time they had at his sister Lillian's wedding, held at home, when the Mannagh brothers had brought their violins and played for the dancing.

Mr. Campbell had four sisters, Margaret (who died when a baby); Agnes Jane, Mrs. J. F. Cleland of Alburg, Vt.; Gertrude Rosena, Mrs. J. G. Rae of Irma, Alberta and Lilian, Mrs. R. Lucas of Champlain. Of these, only Mrs. Rae is left and she still lives in Irma. His only brother, Herbert Allan of Edmonton passed away a few years ago.

Mr. Campbell's wife passed away in 1931. He had six children and all, with the exception of his daughter Edith, who passed away at 14 years were with him on this eventful birthday. There was Marguerite, Mrs. Fred Greer, who has a son and daughter and also three grandchildren herself, Anna, Mrs. Sherwood Boyse of Lacolle, who has two sons and two daughters, Mildred, Mrs. Albert Robert of Covey Hill with a son and two daughters, Allan with his two sons and three daughters and Kenneth with three sons and one daughter.

On the home farm where Mr. Campbell lives there are about 230 acres and he is still a daily visitor at the barn and wherever work is in progress. Until quite recently he himself worked regularly with the team. He needs no glasses and his hearing is that of a man in the prime of life, excellent proof of the old saying, hard work killed no man. The family kept a guest book for the occasion and upwards of 150 names are entered. The visits of so many friends and the large number of gifts brought speak well of the high esteem in which Mr. Campbell is held in this community. And those who lived too far away sent their good wishes over the wires, long distance calls kept coming in all day. Happy birthday Mr. Campbell and may we celebrate many more with you.

Tout semble rentrer dans l'ordre au cours secondaire à Huntingdon

Fructueuse assemblée lundi soir

Lundi soir, le 13 septembre avait lieu au gymnase de l'école Notre Dame, sans doute l'une des assemblées de la commission scolaire locale les plus animées et les plus fertiles en émotions de toutes sortes. Plus d'une centaine de parents, indignés du fait que des élèves de l'extérieur, au secondaire, venaient étudier dans les écoles de Huntingdon et que leurs enfants, toujours au secondaire, devaient voyager soit à St-Anicet, soit à Valleyfield, ayant obtenu des commissaires locaux que soit tenue cette assemblée spéciale, étaient venus appuyer leur demande "pour faire évacuer les classes aux étrangers", comme ils le disaient, et exiger qu'on trouve des solutions.

C'était là le point culminant d'une semaine d'incertitude pour les enfants, d'attitudes négatives, et même de certaines initiatives douteuses, de la part de certains parents. En effet, depuis la rentrée des classes, le 7 septembre, certains parents avaient refusé obstinément de faire voyager leurs enfants au secondaire, et ceux-ci étaient invariablement retournés chez eux chaque matin depuis ce temps.

Le fond du problème, ou la cause directe de l'impatience du public, semble être la lenteur avec laquelle les autorités, au niveau provincial,ont procédé en ce qui a trait à l'école semi-régionale promise. La raison à ceci, comme l'a expliqué lundi soir M. Montpetit, qui avait rencontré, en compagnie de MM. Gerry Lambert, et Fernand Guérette, M. Gérin-Lajoie lors de son passage à Valleyfield, est que les plans, qui datent déjà de trois ans, sont maintenant inefficients et doivent être revisés au complet de façon à les adapter aux nouvelles exigences. M. Montpetit rapporta par ailleurs que M. Gérin-Laoie lui avait assuré, ainsi qu'aux autres, que l'école sera mise en chantier dès le début de 1966. L'école sera polyvalente, c'est-à-dire comprendra plusieurs sections telles que arts et métiers, etc.

Il restait cependant lundi soir que les parents présents s'objectaient toujours à ce qu'on déplace leurs enfants au secondaire en attendant cette école, et après des représentations auprès de la Régionale Salaberry, c'est à la commission locale qu'on demandait de trouver des solutions. Le Président, M. Gérald Crête, tint d'abord à préciser que le secondaire était sous l'entière responsabilité de la régionale et que la commission locale ne pouvait s'immiscer dans ses affaires. Il affirma cependant, de même que tous les commissaires, MM. Léonard Grenon, Lawrence McCallum, Raoul David et Laurent Nadeau, qu'on était prêt à coopérer dans la mesure du possible. Plusieurs personnes dans la salle prirent ensuite la parole prétendant que la régionale n'avait pas tenu ses engagements, que la commission locale pouvait faire quelque chose, affirmant avec emphase que le problème était urgent et qu'on voulait des solutions le soir même.

L'arrivée de M. Tardif avec quelques propositions concrètes mit un terme au débat. Celui-ci fit d'abord le point. A la suite des évènements du début de l'année scolaire, il avait commencé vendredi à reviser le classement des élèves. Il s'agissait de regrouper les élèves de Huntingdon, mais à ce moment là, il n'y avait pas de locaux disponibles. Il avait sub-divisé la classe de 10ème mathématique, comprenant 24 élèves garçons et filles, de façon à prendre les garçons en un seul groupe; les filles iraient à l'école Ste-Cécile compléter des classes de 25 élèves. Pour éviter le trouble qu'on connait, il avait téléphoné aux parents concernés; certaines réponses avaient été affirmatives, certaines autres, négatives. Il disposait aussi à ce moment-là d'un local pour la 9ème générale, mais il n'en avait pas pour la 8ème générale qui devait compter de 28 à 30 élèves. Pour donner justice à tous, il affirma qu'il lui fallait les déplacer tous ou n'en déplacer aucun.

Comme solution, M. Tardif proposa, vu que l'on avait trois classes de 1ère année au primaire, soit un total de 72 élèves, on pourrait peut-être les fusionner en deux classes de 36 élèves, ce qui libèrerait un local; ceci céerait évidemment certains problèmes, comme celui de l'institutrice laissée sans classe, ce lui du transport à St-Anicet etc. De plus, il faudrait s'attendre à certaines réactions de Trout River, Ormstown et St-Antoine-Abbé. Vers dix heures, M. Tardif téléphona à M. Marleau, directeur général des études, pour demander son assentiment à ce projet Celui-ci ne vit pas d'objection à ce qu'on règle le problème de cette façon et affirma qu'il tenterait de faire sanctionner le projet, jeudi, à l'assemblée de la commission régionale, et qu'on verrait à ce moment-là à s'occuper du problème de l'institutrice en cause, en l'occurence Mlle Lorraine Plante. M. Tardif pu donc annoncer que dès le lendemain mardi, on pourrait reprendre les classes comme à l'accoutumé pour ne pas faire perdre plus de temps aux élèves affectés.

La situation, telle que présentée par M. Tardif, était donc celle-ci lundi soir. Le lendemain, mardi, les élèves de 8ème et 9ème générale pourraient se présenter à l'école. La 9ème générale serait logée dans un excellent local de l'école Notre-Dame, la 8ème générale serait logée dans la cave de l'école St-Joseph. Les parents qui désiraient continuer d'envoyer leurs enfants à St-Anicet pourraient le faire, ce qui créerait de nouvelles places pour les autres qui ne veulent pas voyager.

En conclusion, M. Tardif a tenu à parler fort à propos de l'autorité d'un directeur d'école. Il a rappelé que les évènements de la dernière semaine n'ont pas été sans causer un tort considérable aux étudiants. Il a insisté sur le fait que pour que l'école fonctionne bien, il faut qu'il garde toute son autorité et reste maître dans l'école, et il a demandé la coopération des parents à cet égard. Les dernières remarques de M. Tardif ont suscité de chaleureux applaudissements de la foule. A tout évènement, M. Tardif mérite l'appui et l'estime de tous pour son inlassable dévouement et la somme incroyable de travail qu'il a dû déployer au cours des dernières semaines.

Enfin, M. Laurent Nadeau a tenu à préciser que la commission n'a pas fait ces concessions "le coeur léger". Il a rappelé que ce sont probablement les élèves du primaire qui auront le plus à souffrir, puisqu'ils seront extrêmement à l'étroit à la suite des nouveaux arrangements pour loger les élèves du secondaire. C'est donc avec cette réserve que la commission consentait.

On passa ensuite une résolution pour louer 2 locaux de plus à la régionale, soit 16 au lieu de 14. et l'assemblée fut dissoute.

Il reste maintenant à la Régionale Salaberry à sanctionner ces nouveaux arrangements lors de son assemblée de demain soir, jeudi.

Le taux de la taxe demeure à $18. du mille dollars d'évaluation à Huntingdon

Une assemblée ajournée du conseil de la ville de Huntingdon avait lieu lundi soir en présence de tous les membres. En fait il s'agissait d'une double assemblée, puisqu'immédiatement après, une assemblée spéciale avait lieu pour fixer le taux de la taxe.

La majeure partie de l'assemblée ajournée fut consacrée à l'établissement d'un budget qui servira de base à la fixation du taux de la taxe municipale pour l'année 1965. Les prévisions budgétaires furent finalement établies à $196,000.

M. Roch Trépanier se présenta devant le conseil pour demander une réduction de son évaluation. On lui fit remarquer que la chose ne pouvait se faire puisque le rôle était homologué et qu'il était trop tard pour cette année.

Le Maire Cappiello présenta au conseil un plan montrant le développement qu'on entend aménager dans la partie nord de la ville et devant servir de critère pour l'aménagement d'une future usine d'épuration des eaux. Le conseil étudia attentivement le plan, mais il fut décidé de retarder à une prochaine assemblée toute action à cet égard.

Il fut aussi décidé d'étendre la pose de nouveaux tuyaux d'eau à la rue Hunter pendant qu'on est à exécuter des travaux similaires. Cette mesure aura pour effet d'augmenter la pression de l'eau dans cette partie de la ville.

L'assemblée se termina.

Le secrétaire débuta alors la réunion spéciale par la formule de circonstance mentionnant la nature et la raison d'être de l'assemblée, soit l'établissement du taux de la taxe pour l'année 1965, tel qu'énoncé dans un avis de motion présenté lors de la dernière assemblée.

Après une courte discussion, on adopta un règlement fixant le taux de la taxe à 18 mills ou $18. du mille dollars d'évaluation.

Obituary

The Late
VILLIAM HOMER BRADY

The funeral of the late William Homer Brady was held at 1 p.m. Wed., Sept. 8, at Howick United Church Mr. Brady died at his home, 2 days after his return from the Montreal General Hospital following an illness of six weeks.

The deceased became a beloved and well-known figure around Howick during the past 10 years. His mind was a storehouse of knowledge but his unassuming and gentle manner made it easy for young and old to communicate with him.

The United Church of which he was Clerk of Session, and Chairman of the Christian Education Committee, will miss him in many ways, as will the Boy Scouts and other organizations.

The minister's meditation was based on the text "The Spirit of Man is the Candle of the Lord". The departed brother's life was exemplified by the lights of Faith, Truth and Love, which he left to guide us on life's journey.

The pallbearers, representing the Boy Scout Committee, and church officials were John Fingland, Robert Tolhurst, Donald McKell, Des Stuckey, Donald Templeton and Kenneth Younie.

Interment was at Dalesville Cemetery, Dalesville, Que.

3058 étudiants inscrits à la Régionale Salaberry cette année

Le manque de locaux se fait sentir en plusiers endroits

Le directeur général de la Commission Scolaire Régionale Salaberry a annoncé au cours d'une assemblée de cet organisme tenue jeudi soir, le 9 septembre, à Valleyfield, que l'inscription totale des élèves fréquentant les cours dispensés par la Régionale se chiffre à 3058 étudiants.

Ce nombre représente une augmentation de 168 élèves sur les effectifs de l'an dernier.

Les élèves sont distribués dans 104 locaux, alors qu'il en fallait 101 pour les accommoder pendant le dernière année académique.

L'école Edgar Hébert accueille 956 élèves; l'école Sainte-Cécile, 605; l'école Sainte-Eugène, 265; l'école Sainte-Agnès, 95; l'école Sacré-Coeur 240; l'école Saint-André, de Saint-Timothée, 178; l'école Notre-Dame de Huntingdon, cours anglais, 184, et le cours français, 233; l'école Saint-Antoine, 79; l'école Saint-Anicet, 86; l'école de Ormstown, 83. 54 élèves sont inscrits au cours des Arts Familiaux. La moyenne d'élèves par classe est de 29.4.

Le directeur général a déclaré que la plupart de élèves avaient commencé la classe le 9 septembre, tel que prévu, sauf pour certains cas isolés à cause d'événements particuliers.

Il est à remarquer que l'école Sainte-Cécile accueille 22 classes dans 18 locaux. Il faut donc à cet endroit procéder par rotation. Par ailleurs, il a fallu créer des classes volantes à l'école Edgar Hébert où on accueille 32 classes dans 28 locaux.

Accidents on Week-End

At least two accidents occurred on route four between Ormstown and Dewittville on Saturday. The first reported mishap occurred near R. Meikle's when a car with three young men careened off the road and came to rest in the ditch. All three occupants were sent to the Barrie Memorial Hospital. A short time later a car load of teenagers heading toward Huntingdon lost control of their car and ended in the ditch. A taxi with a lady driver spotted the accident and slowed to a stop only to find she was almost immediately hit from the rear by a third car. All were treated for injuries at Barrie Memorial Hospital.

Rally Day Services were held in the Ormstown Presbyterian Church last Sunday, with Mr. Gary Wilson and Donald Mc. Ewen assisting the minister, Rev. L. McLean.

Ormstown W. I. Meeting

The September meeting of the Ormstown W. I. met at the home of Mrs. F. Martin on Tuesday, Sept. 7, at 2 p.m. with the president Mrs. J.O. McKell presiding and 16 members and one visitor responding to the roll call with "Characteristics of a good W.I. member.

The meeting opened with the Ode followed by the Collect, after which minutes of the preceding meeting were read also the correspondence. The secretary reported having a reply to her letter to Salvation Army re the sending out of a pick-up truck for salvage — if enough for a truck-load could be guaranteed they might send one — if not suggested articles be sent in by transport which often took them in free of charge. Notices of the pick-up to be advertised in the various churches, and those having any, to contact the Secretary Mrs. R. Ovans or Mrs. W. Kilgour.

The Convener of Education was asked to get in touch with Mrs. J. Ryser to see if she would give a talk and show slides at our October 5 meeting in the O.H.S. The treasurer reported that proceeds of the food sale held in August netted $46.00.

Convener reports followed:

Citizenship read the outline of what grounds this convenership covered. Education told how when the 300,000 or more children started back to school they would find that they will be given more free text books;

(2) They'll be going to larger, newer schools;

(3) They'll be watching more education TV;

(4) Both French and English students will be learning more English and French respectively;

(5) Protestant students will be able to specialize in their best subjects for the first time.

The trend is to increased specialization and efficiency. Montreal English language schools where Franch had formerly been taught from Grade 3 up will now start at kindergarten level where possible. French language schools are also expected to place greater stress on bilingualism—both are being held up by lack of qualified teachers.

Efforts to have pupils stay in school and complete their education are the prime consideration in Quebec curriculum. Three new courses are being provided for this purpose.

Welfare and Health said that Health minister Judy Marsh said that a campaign to have an alleged Cancer cure returned to the market, was underway — This drug Latrill, was claimed by some cancer users to have been of great benefit to them. This drug had been withdrawn from the market because manufacturers of the drug had been asked to prove their claim to it effectiveness and had refused and under terms of the Food and Drug Act, their product had been withdrawn from the Can. Market.

Home Economics: spoke of magazine canvassers, and offers made by them, which were costlier in the long run than if you got your subscription direct from magazine.

Told how a new nylon Thread Trimtex could be had in two colours light or dark and was invisible when used for mending or sewing but also had its drawbacks — heat — or a hot iron being one of them.

When buying fruit see that the baskets are marked 2,4, 6 or 11 qts. to avoid thinking you are getting more than marked simply by looks. She gave a recipe for a sauce for fryer chicken which enhanced its flavour.

Agriculture Convener spoke of a hybrid tomato which she had grown. Also told of a visit to the Fair at St. John, N. B., and the beautiful display and arrangement of the vegetables there. A bee and honey display showed the bees at work making combs, etc. Small bales of sweet smelling hay and a dog show, completed the visit.

Publicity — spoke of the Drama project — that has been initiated in the province. Also of a Carnival week held at Oka when guests from Caughnawaga including the Indian chief and his wife came to entertain the guests with customary songs and dances.

Told how Salada Tea Co. gave special rates on quantities of tea and coffee for special gatherings.

Guest-speaker was County President, Mrs. Robertson, who brought the minutes of the board meeting of convention held at Macdonald College in June, also some highlights of the Convention itself.

Re the Leadership Course, branches were asked for suggestions as to what the courses should consist of, these to be sent in to our semi-annual in November then to Provincial board meeting in January.

The Mosaic-history of all the provinces is completed, but still has to be published this is a centennial project of the F.W.I.C.

Regarding the office at Macdonald Miss Holmes is still there, but no technicians, Miss McOaut has gone to the McConnell Home in Montreal. Mrs. Wells is quite busy at Quebec and no others have yet replaced them.

Special donations (Thanksgiving) were asked for the Northern Extension Fund from our Quebec branches. There are 106 branches in 24 counties.

Re Christmas Stockings — put your name in stocking sent and you may get a reply from child who receives it.

Mrs. W. Kerr introduced the speaker and Mrs. Bruce thanked her for her interesting and informative address.

The meeting closed with the National Anthem after which dainty refreshments were served by the hostess Mrs. Martin, assisted by Mrs. McKell Mrs. McCartney, Mrs. McNeil and Mrs. Bruce, and a social hour enjoyed.

MEETING OF PARISH CO.

A regular session of the Municipal Council of the Parish of St. Malachie d'Ormstown was held in the Town Hall on Wednesday, September 8th at 8 p.m. at which were present Mayor J. P. Riendeau and Councillors Douglas Sproule, Wilfrid Bryson, James Smith Gérald Dagenais, John Rodger and Secretary; Councillor Gilles Gagnon absent.

Moved by Councillor Smith seconded by Councillor Bryson that the following accounts be approved for payment — John K. Dickson $7; Shawinigan Water & Power Co. $82.41; M. E. Barrington A.I.B $126; The Huntingdon Gleaner inc. $27.14; Le Journal $14 Municipal Corporation of the Village of Ormstown $500; M E. Barrington, Sec'y.-Treas $100.

On motion of Councillor Rodger seconded by Councillor Bryson, the following changes of ownership of property to be made in the Valuation Roll: René, Germaine Georgette Raymond to Georges Raymond Nos. 1012 and 1013; Estate of Late Edith McKell Alexander to Maurice Parent Nos. 59 and 68-24 James E. Smyth and Uxor to Lyman E. Smyth Nos. 666, 667 and 771; George Warden to B. G. Simpson P-199; Tancrede Parent to Gérald Parent No 68-11; Konstantin Markovitch Zaric to Zdenka Godina Sadlkovic Nos. 111 and P-110; Rosario Laberge and Maurice Guerin to Ernest Sauvé P-728 Alcide Chantigny to Paul Boldizar and Uxor No. P-636, Lucien Usreau to Roger Moquin Pt No. 720; D. Baird McCartney to Mary Ann Walker P-633; Exchange between Adrien Beaulieu and Howard Geddes Nos. 634-15 and 634-9

On motion of Councillor Sproule seconded by Councillor Smith, Mayor J. P. Riendeau was authorized to sign the Location Approval Certificate Mc No. 37 of the Bell Telephone Co. of Canada.

The report of Rural Inspector John K. Dickson was approved as read.

On motion of Councillor Rodger seconded by Councillor Sproule, the amount of $500. was voted to the Municipal Corporation of the Village of Ormstown towards the renovation of the Town Hall and the new equipment and furniture purchased for same.

The Secretary was instructed to contact the Provincial Roads Department re. the poor condition of the road near the properties of Mr. Lionel Bolduc, Mr. Wm. Smith and Mrs. E. Sadler on the River Outarde Road.

It was moved by Councillor Rodger, seconded by Councillor Dagenais that the Secretary-Treasurer's salary be increased in accordance with the Minimum Wage Commission Ordinance No. 41, retroactive to May 1st, 1965.

Recent Wedding In Huntingdon

KEITH-HENDERSON

Standards of pink gladioli and white poms were used to decorate the church for the recent wedding of Dawn May, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Henderson, to Robert James Keith, which took place on August 21st., the Rev. H. Lowenberger officiating, at the double ring ceremony. Mr. Gary Blake played the wedding music and Mr. Jon Proudfood sang during the signing of the register.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a floor length gown of white sata poult, with A-line skirt, having a semi-fitted empire waistline, the bodice and elbow length sleeves being of Spanish lace. A chapel train fell from the waistline where it was held in place with a bow. Her shoulder-length bouffant veil of tulle illusion, was held by a wedding ring circlet of sata poult, appliqued with Spanish lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink delight roses and her only adornment being cultured pearl earrings.

Miss Isabel Foster, as maid of honor, wore a floor length A-line gown, of party nile green taffeta, having a scoop neckline, semi-fitted empire waist, elbow length sleeves and decorated in back with a panel train, held at the waist with a bow. She wore a matching headpiece, fabric shoes, white wrist gloves and tiny pearl earrings and carried a semi-cascade bouquet of yellow miniature carnations.

The bridesmaids Miss Susan Ferns and Miss Susanne Carson were dressed alike, in petal pink taffeta gowns, similar in style to that, of the maid of honor. They carried semi-cascade bouquets of orchid carnations.

Miss Debbie-Lee Henderson sister of the bride, as junior bridesmaid, wore a petal pink, floor length gown, with matching headpiece. The gown of nylon over taffeta, was fashioned with fitted bodice appliqued with lace, a gathered skirt with nylon and lace panels, falling to the floor from her shoulders. She carried a basket of orchid miniature carnations.

The bride's mother, wore a sheath gown, with lace sleeveless jacket of jade crêpe. She wore black accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

The mother of the groom wore a sheath gown with jacket, in pink shantung, with matching hat, white accessories and corsage of white carnations.

Mr. Howard Osgood, acted as best man and the ushers were Mr. Bruce Sutton, cousin of the bride, Mr. Cyril Stewart, Mr. Howard Duheme and Mr. Wayne Milne. They all wore white dinner jackets and black trousers.

Following a reception at the Rod and Gun Club, Port Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Keith left on their wedding trip, the bride travelling in a matching dress and coat of turquoise print, black accessories, pearl necklace and earrings and a white orchid corsage.

Out of town guests attended from Ormstown, Franklin Centre, Montreal, New Brunswick New York State and Ontario.

The bridal couple have now taken up residence in Montreal, where they are both employed.

Previous to her marriage, the bride was intertained at a bathroom shower, held at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Ferns given by the bridesmaids, Miss Susan Ferns and Miss Susanne Carson.

A Miscellaneous Shower was given by Mrs. Howard Rutherford and a linen shower by Mrs. Kenneth Sutton. The hostesses of these various showers served delicious refreshments. The bride-to-be in her usual charming manner, graciously thanked her hostesses and her many friends for their generosity and thoughtfulness.

Noyan

NOYAN — The regular monthly meeting of the Anglican Ladies' Association was held on Wednesday afternoon in Noyan Hall. Mrs. A. L. Cameron opened the meeting and several items of business were discussed. Refreshments were served.

Russell Taylor left on Wednesday evening for Montreal where he will be staying with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Rankin and family. While there Russell will attend West Hill High School for the 65-66 term. Good luck, Russell.

Sunday evening guests of Mrs. John Mosher and Miss Doris Mosher were Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Dean of Philipsburg.

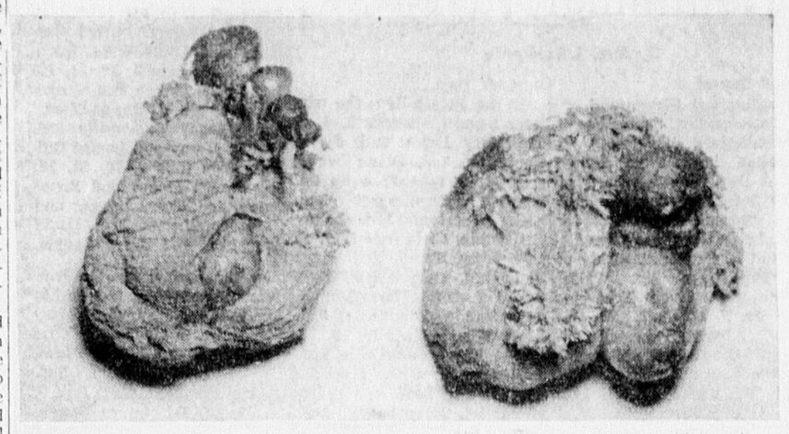

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Taylor and family of Burlington, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Versil Taylor. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Taylor and Mr. James Taylor at the Bullock home.

ROCKBURN — Mr. and Mrs. William Baird of Huntingdon and Miss Mary Johnston of Montreal were Sunday afternoon callers at the home of Miss Florence Johnston.

The Rockburn Ladies' Aid booth of sewing, home cooking, etc., at Havelock Fair on Saturday was well patronized. Practically everything was sold and well over $80 was realized.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Patenaude spent several days last week in Malone, N.Y., visiting their son Elmer, and other relatives. They returned home Sunday evening.

SOME REALLY ODD POTATOES — UNCONVENTIONAL AT LEAST

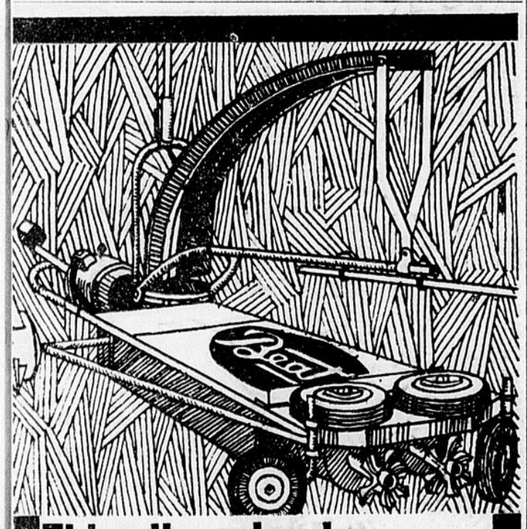

From time to time, The Gleaner gathers up some oddities in the news which make good and interesting reading as well as passing along information that might not otherwise be obtained. In some cases we are indebted to the people of the area for bringing these things to our attention and sometimes we manage to stumble on something ourselves. This time, we are indebted to Mrs. Wilfrid Duheme of Glen-elm, for bringing the above to our attention and providing the information.

Mrs. Duheme came to The Gleaner Office on Wednesday afternoon, September 8th, bringing with her some rather curious potatoes. The photo of what these looked like appears above and should be studied. The potatoes formed the harvest of the 1964 crop dug in the Fall and kept in a bin in the basement from then until this time. Mrs. Duheme has been using the potatoes from the bin as she needed them. However, the quantity is getting low and the season drawing to a close with a new crop in the offing. We all know that potatoes in a basement especially if it is on the dark and damp side will send out sprouts and even roots and plants at about this time of keeping. Not so with these specimens. Mrs. Duheme had several of them and all had developed in much the same way. Sprouts there were, and also several developed "new" potatoes, even a potato growing inside the original, or "seed". This will be noticed from a look at the photograph. Those growing within the seed, have split it wide open. There is an absence of plant growth however and the seed is still in quite good condition and not rotted as usually happens with the ordinary seed of the potato plant.

We are not sure of the variety, but it might be Irish Cobbler, as the new potato is quite red skinned. On each potato there are a number of very small ones forming from the tubers. Apparently the seed, which has merely become soft and slightly shrivelled.

Several different people have viewed the specimens but none could say they had ever seen anything like it before.

Some of the original crop have been used as seed and they are growing in a normal manner.

This silo unloader can take the hard work out of feeding your cattle

It's part of the Beatty Automatic Feeding System built to make livestock feeding easier and more profitable for you.

How much time do you spend every day digging silage out of your silo?

Figure how much you'd like to save that time and effort. Or perhaps use it to add extra profits to another part of your farm operation.

A Beatty Automatic Silo Unloader will do this tough job for you every day, and do it easily and reliably too. The rugged 9" steel augers are built to move silage fast, so you can feed 50 head in 5 minutes.

The special shearing action of the augers chop loose even the hardest frozen silage, to keep your silo walls clean.

1966 PLYMOUTH

1966 PLYMOUTH BELVEDERE SATELLITE 2-DOOR HARDTOP

Slim, trim and exciting — a completely new car designed to appeal to the young-in-heart of all ages in Canada's motoring public — is the all-new Plymouth Belvedere for 1966. Restoring the favoured and familiar Belvedere name to the Canadian automotive scene, this latest entry by Chrysler sets a new high in show and go.

Crisp roof contours and lithe body lines stamp the Belvedere as a car that provides action. Ten new colours in a range of 18 exterior finishes in the amazing Acrylustre are offered.

Interiors are all-new and luxurious with the accent on comfort and beauty.

Eighteen models are offered in the Belvedere line of cars in the three series — Belvedere I, Belvedere II and Satellite.

All models except the station wagons are built on a 116-inch wheelbase and have an overall length of 200.5 inches. The style-setting station wagons are built on a 117-inch wheelbase.

A broad finely constructed grille gives the Belvedere a low wide look.

Sides of the Belvedere are etched into a sleek silhoutte which is highlighted by bright metal ornamentation.

Rear end styling is crisp and uncluttered.

The ultra-smart Satellite series has a wide decorative aluminum panel across the rear deck.

Interiors have distinctive trim styles for each series.

Satellite interiors are set off by new style bucket seats trimmed in a choice of five attractive colours of vinyl. Tasteful designs have been worked into the vinyl trim on the insides of doors to give a rich appearance.

The instrument panel is of a unique design with the speedometer cluster matching the shape of the glove compartment.

A new style floor console adds beauty and usefulness to the Satellite interior. It accommodates a choice of two new types of gear selector lever, for automatic transmission and four-speed manual transmission. Both these systems feature a unique lockout mechanism that prevents a driver from inadvertently selecting reverse gear.

Engines offered for the Belvedere range from the optional 383 cubic inch V-8 that comes equipped with 4-barrel carburetor and twin exhausts, through the 318 cubic inch V-8 to the economical 225 cubic inch six cylinder engine.

A host of other exciting options are available in Belvedere for 1966, including tachometer, air conditioning and power windows.

All Belvedere models carry the Chrysler five-year, 50,000-mile power train warranty.

Models available are:

Belvedere I: two-door sedan; four-door sedan; six-passenger station wagon.

Belvedere II: two-door hardtop; convertible; four door sedan; six-passenger station wagon; nine-passenger station wagon.

Satellite: two-door hardtop; convertible.

All the children were then treated to a soft drink and potato chips and so ended another most enjoyable and funfilled afternoon. The Hemmingford Playground Association very much appreciate all the help and donations given by several interested persons.

Playground activities for the Fall will be restricted to Saturdays, when the weather is suitable.

The next regular meeting of the Association is to be held at the home of Mrs. Lyle Simpson on Wednesday, September 22nd at 8 p.m. when plans for the annual Hallowe'en Dance will be discussed and preliminary arrangements will, get underway. All interested persons are asked to make a point of attending this meeting.

Church School

The annual Interdenominational Church School held during the closing days of August, came to a close on Tuesday, August 31st. with a display of handicrafts and songs in the Anglican Church Hall at 7.30 p.m.

The children this year, were divided into four groups. The Nursery - Kindergarten group was taught by Mrs. J. Blair, Mrs. D. Fisher, Mrs. J. Robertson, Mrs. A. Roberts, Mrs. E. Napper, Mrs H. Davis, Mrs. G. Ellerton, Mrs. R. Lee, Jeannette Robertson, Ruth Marlin, Susan Deery and Miss Ral. The Primary group was under the direction of Mrs. Andrew Somerville, Mrs. G. Bond, Mrs. Jeaurond, Mrs. S. Lemoyne, Barbara Dey, Carol Churchill, Karen Keeton and Shirley Warner. The leaders of the Junior group were Mrs. D. Woolley, Mrs. C. Petch, Mrs. G. Ficko, Mrs. E. Cleland and Margaret Cleaver. The Reverend R. Prendergast and Mrs. Thompson led the Junior-High group.

The Dircetor of the school this year was Mrs. G. Ellerton and the Secretary-Treasurer was Mrs. J. Robertson.

The theme of the School this year and the activities were based on a study of 'God and His World', and all who participated agreed that it was the most interesting programme of all which have been studied over the past years. All the handicraft done by the children during the sessions was on display in the Hall and the large number of parents and friends who attended were agreeably surprised by the variety and excellence of the work done. Interesting additions to the daily routine were provided by Mr. Thompson of the Lazy-J Ranch, who gave the children a fine talk on 'Horses' and brought along one of his fine riding horses to demonstrate his points, and Mr. C. Morgan of Morgan's Kennels who gave a talk on 'Dogs' and he, also, brought along a lovely 'live' specimen which quickly captured the hearts of all the children. Additional interests provided by the Reverend Prendergast and Mrs. Thompson for the Junior-High group included a visit to Montreal's Museums and other places of interest.

In the Hall on Tuesday evening, after the display of handicraft had been inspected, the audience were treated to a review of the lessons on the stage by the Nursery group, then came five songs, some in French, some in English by the Primary group, accompanied by Carol Churchill on the piano. The Junior group, led by Mrs. Ficko, gave four songs and these, also included French numbers and action songs. The Junior-High group gave a Puppet Show and this delighted the audience, particularly the younger members. All the puppets had been made by the children themselves and were manipulated by them. They told the story of the Good Samaritan after the parable had been read from the Bible by one of the children. The young people in this group are to be commended for the work they put in to this project and for their ingenuity in designing and making the puppets.

Following a report by the Secretary-Treasurer (this was given in French by Mrs. Jeaurond whose kind help proved invaluable during the School sessions owing to the large number of French children who attended) certificates of attendance were presented to all the children present and the evening closed with prayer and the singing of 'O Canada.'

Hemmingford Township Council

The regular meeting of the Hemmingford Township Council was held in the Town Hall on Tuesday, September 7st at 8 p.m.

In the absence of the Mayor Pro-Mayor W. J. Brown presided. Present were Councillors R. Poissant, B. Barr and M. Bouchard.

The Secretary was authorized to write Mr. Pietramala requesting him to contact the Rural Inspector in order to arrange for a joint inspection of the line ditch between his property and that of Mr. Lockhart and Mr. McDonald.

The Rural Inspector was requested to inspect the roadside fence bordering the Embio farm and the boundary of the municipality of Ste. Clothilde.

In response to a request from the Havelock Council for permission to use the official dump, now maintained on Fisher Street by the Hemmingford Township Council, it was agreed that permission be given, the charge to be $150 per annum. Admission to the dump may be gained through the gate at the roadside and along the roadbed of the abandoned railroad track. This has now been put in good repair, the dump and the road thereto is completely fenced in and the gate is opened by the custodian, Mr. Albert Dubois, on Saturdays only during the hours of daylight.

It was resolved to ask for tenders immediately for the ploughing and sanding of the Winter Roads. Contracts will be given for a period of two years and will be in accordance with Government road ploughing contracts.

The Secretary was authorized to pay the following bills: A. P. Smith (fencing and gate for dump) $176.33; Secretary's salary $175.; Office rent $42.50; Department of Health $500.; Department of Agriculture $500.; Department of Social Welfare $500.

Hemmingford Village Council

The regular meeting of the Hemmingford Village Council was held in the Town Hall on Wednesday, September 8, at 8 p.m. Mayor Walter Smith presided. Also present were Councillors Walter Keddy, Roger Tobin and André Germain Absent were Councillors Rene Poissant, Bruce Wallace and Ross McNaughton.

It was resolved that By-law 113, which lays down the regulations under which the furnishing and payment of the Town's water supply will be governed, be mimeographed and mailed to all water users property owners and tenants

Resolved that the Secretary forward to the C.N.R. the bill for the repairs which had to be made when the water main was damaged during excavation work done by railway workmen.

It was unanimously agreed that support be given to the request of the municipalities of Melocheville and Point-des-Cascades for the construction of a bridge from the south to the north shore.

The Secretary read a letter from the Fire Commissioner's office which gave details of courses which the Department is offering to municipal firemenmen who are members of local fire departments. These courses are of varying lengths the usual being for 8 days, and are held in several centres throughout Quebec. The nearest to Hemmingford would be Beloeil or Point Claire (in English). Details of the type of student and ability required were given and the only cost to the municipality would be for transportation and board. Authorizations for firemen to attend must be signed by the Mayor of the municipality. The letter and pertaining documents were passed to the Fire-Chief for his consideration.

The Secretary informed Council that the Valuation Roll was completed and deposited on August 25th and will be homologated on September 27th at a meeting of Council to be held in the Town Hall at 8 p.m. when the Assessors will be present.

The Secretary was authorized to pay the bills presented: K. Johnson $45.; Bell Telephone $82.; Shawinigan Water and Power Co., $122.47; H. Duquette $47.; C. Menard $5.; H. Webb $5.; D. Dame 20.; F. Poissant $32.50; I. Poissant $33.; P. Simpson $6.; R. Hawkins $12.75; Regional Construction $6.76; J. R. Priest $5.; Green Valley Growers (landscaping around Cenotaph) $250. W. Gauthier $77.; C.N.R. $3,037.

A Family Picnic

On Sunday, September 5th., the Campbell family held their annual picnic. It took place this year on the shores of Lake Champlain at the summer cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Robinson who kindly loaned it for the occasion. The weatherman cooperated and provided a beautiful day and by dinner time about 50 members of the family, with their friends sat down to enjoy a delightful picnic dinner, with Mr. Robert Campbell, the head of the family, at the head of the table. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. L'Esperance were among the several friends who dropped by during the afternoon.

A Farewell Party

On Tuesday, August 31st., a group of friends, around 15 in all, gathered at the home of Mrs. Amy Winter, to bid farewell to Mrs. Tom Cleland who is moving from Hemmingford to Lachine. Mr. Cleland is an officer in H. M. Immigration Service and is now in post at Dorval Airport so the home in Lachine will be within a few minutes of his work. The majority of the guests on Tuesday evening were members of the W.I. and Ina has been a valued member of the Hemmingford Branch for the past 20 years holding several offices including that of President, Secretary and several convenerships. In addition to her work with the W.I., she was the Cub Leader for 10 years and during that time the pack grew rapidly, it now numbers around 40 cubs. Her help was always freely given at many community projects and it is certain she will be sadly missed. Mrs. C. Petch, a charter member of the Hemmingford W.I. and a close friend of Ina's over the years, with an appropriate little speech, presented her, on behalf of all present, with a dainty china cup and saucer and a candy dish. Expressing sincere thanks in reply, Ina invited her friends to visit her in her new home. The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Amy Winter and Mrs. Ann Robertson.

During the past week the members of the Knitting Club, in which Ina has been a member of many years, invited her to dine out with them and they, too presented her with a keepsake in remembrance of many happy years.

They are, in alphabetical order, Mark Boone, Henry Buettner, Sophie Bychowski, Kenneth Dey, David Ficko, Barry Palmer, Hartman Schimmelpfeng, Jim Robertson, Phyllis Ward, John Webb, Dennis Williams and Linda Winter.

Another Grade 11 Result Through

Happy to report that Carol Pelletier has received word from the Department that she has passed her Grade 11 examinations.

Week-end Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Greer on Route 52 were pleasantly surprised on Sunday afternoon when visitors, whom they had not seen for a few years, called in. They were Miss Noela Langlois and her brother Jerry from Ville St. Laurent and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Potvin from Montreal West. Evening callers at the same home were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Grundy from Scarboro, Ont., who were passing through on their way to Plattsburgh and Rochester, N.Y.

Going Away

Mr. and Mrs. Alister Somerville left this, Monday, morning en route to join their ship for a cruise in the Mediterranean. Their trip will take them to the Greek Islands and they will be away for a little over 5 weeks, returning on October 19th. Bon Voyage.

Hemmingford Golfers

About 20 members of the Hemmingford Golf Club will be playing in the Tournament which the Huntingdon Legion are organizing to take place at Malone on September 19th. Play will commence, we understand around 8-30 a.m.

(By Mrs. W. J. McKay)

It is said history repeats itself and I find I am repeating myself. Last year I reported Havelock Fair "bigger and better than ever". This year the voices of many people said, "Bigger and better than ever".

The weather was ideal, exhibits were good in all classes, dinner was as usual, all anyone could desire. The pony rides for the children made a big hit. Bingo was well patronized There was something to attract everybody, as well as shaking the hand of the friend you hadn't seen since last Havelock Fair Day. A special feature was the presence of the Maxville Highland Pipe Band which was greatly appreciated.

I overheard one man say, "Havelock Fair is getting so big it should be a two-day fair." Well, maybe, but I think it's just fine the way it is. Whether one day or two days there is that friendly atmosphere that prevails, which makes it what it really always is "bigger and better than ever".

Three of our senior citizens, Mr. Walter Barr, Mr. Emmet Cleland and Mr. Robt. Campbell as well as Mr. Avlmer Hadley were all missing from Havelock Fair this year owing to being a little indisposed but we all sincerely hope they will be soon back in their usual form and enjoying good health again.

Miss Eleanor Spearman, Mrs. Ralph Hayden, and Mrs. W. J. McKay, recently spent a day in Burlington, Vt., as the guests of Mrs. McKay's aunt, Mrs. Chas Harrington.

A reception was held in St. Andrew's United Hall, Hemmingford on Friday evening, September 3, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Marlin, who were married August 7th, at Crawford Park United Church, Verdun. About 150 relatives, friends, and neighbors attended. Music was furnished by the Meltones Orchestra from Huntingdon. After the refreshments a well-filled purse was presented to this young couple by the Rev. G. Ficko with all good wishes. Mr. and Mrs. Marlin have taken up residence in Bedford, and are now both teaching in Bedford High School.

The community was saddened Saturday morning to hear of the death of Mr. Wilfrid Gagneau (Fred), one of our highly respected citizens. Mr. Gagneau had been in failing health for quite some time. To Mrs. Gagneau and other members of his family we offer our sincere sympathy. Funeral service was held on Tuesday, September 14, at St. Roman's Church, at 10 a.m.

Mrs. Eileen Drummond has returned home from Edmonton, Alberta, where she was visiting her daughter, Jean and son-in-law, Rev. C. Wilkinson and three grandchildren.

Recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pelletier were Mrs. A. Lemieux and daughters Louise and Terry from Winnipeg, Mr. and Mrs. A. Ireland, daughters Deanna and Laurie from Peterborough, Ont. Mr. and Mrs. A. Maher, Betty, Evelyn and Alberta and Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Burnside and Cheryl from Chateaugay.

Miss Mary Hebert is attending High School in Maxville, Ont. and is taking Grade 13 this year.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Stanley Waddell on the death of her sister, Miss Etta Stewart on September 9, at Howick.

Mrs. Ralph Hayden recently donated the famous oil painting "The Meadow Pool" by W. Knipp to the Queen Elizabeth Hospital in memory of her husband, Ralph Booth Hayden, who passed away March 27, 1964. Mrs. Hayden has received an acknowledgement of the gift with thanks from Miss Bryant, R.N., Director of Nursing, in the absence of Dr. Harold Griffith of the Queen Elizabeth Hospital.

Miss Geraldine Clayland of Montreal was the Labour Day week-end guest, of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Miller.

Mrs. Frank Wallace and Mrs. R. M. Monk, left Saturday, September 11th., by plane from Dorval to visit Mrs. Monk's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Darker, in California.

Mr. Alister Somerville, M.P.P., and Mrs. Somerville, accompanied by Mr. Raymond Johnston, M.P.P. for Pontiac County and Mrs. Johnston left New York on Tuesday, September 14th, for a five-week Mediterranean Cruise on the S. S. Atlantic. Bon voyage to both these couples.

Havelock

HAVELOCK — Saturday was Havelock Fair day and what a lovely day it was to enjoy in the out of doors. Everyone, especially the children, reported an enjoyable time.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Proud and son Priest and Tommy of Huntingdon were Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. Laurin and attended the Fair. Mrs. Proudfoot remained for the week-end. Mr. and Mrs. A. Laurin and family were callers at the same home and attended the Fair.

Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gibbs were Mrs. Joe Laurin and Karen, Mrs. Helen Lockhart and Gladys. They also attended the Fair.

Mr. Gamble of Herdman was a caller on Mr. and Mrs. O. Mannagh on Saturday.

Mrs. Geo. Laurin, Gordon and Gerald of Huntingdon enjoyed Saturday at the Fair and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. Allen and family.

dress with gold brocade hat, light brown accessories and natural mink stole. A corsage of yellow mums, completed the ensemble.

Mrs. H. W. Welburn, the groom's mother wore a navy blue nylon jersey 2-piece dress with white accessories, and a corsage of red carnations.

A reception, attended by fifty guests was held in the church hall following the ceremony.

The bridal table was centered with a round 3-tiered wedding cake decorated with yellow roses, and yellow candles. Bowls of yellow pansies carried out the colour scheme on the tables.

Unit B. served a dainty and delicious salad luncheon, with the touch of yellow on the frosted cakes.

The guests were invited to the groom's home where a happy gathering was held until later in the evening, when the young couple left for a trip to Atlantic City and Cape Cod.

For travelling, the bride wore a wine velvet suit, trimmed with white satin and a white garden corsage.

Out-of-town guests were from Toronto, Trenton, Ottawa, Gramont, Lachute, Rivington, Montreal, Montebello, St. Lambert and Bathurst, N. B.

Editorial Notes...

Election November 8th!

WELL despite what we have written before, there will be a Federal Election on November 8th, as announced by Prime Minister Pearson, on Tuesday evening of last week. We really did not think that there would be one this year in view of all the various reasons against it, but we are wrong. But why there is to be an election, we have no answer. We fully believe Mr. Pearson could have carried along until next year at least. He might have been uncomfortable at times, but we believe he could have remained in power a little while longer yet. He had also promised that there would be a resumption of the ajourned session at the end of this month and no election would be called during the recess. It is just another case of this man's unreliability. His has been a pussy-foot government from the time it came to power, he never seemed to be able to make up his mind.

We wonder what the camgaign will be like. We cannot envisage the platform that the Government Party will use to sustain itself in the eyes of the voting public. Sure they put through some good and useful legislation, but then again they put some that did not sit so well with the public. The handling of some affairs and the stigma that remains, must also have a future effect. Now with this latest move, much unfinished business remains when the public must put two and two together if it wants to make four.

What about the opposition, what a "ball" they are going to have as they sift through the good and the bad and they place this on a platter for serving up with a flourish to the public. It will be garnished by choice remarks tended to arouse the indignation of the public at the way the country has been run for the past while. That unfinished business will be mulled over and pointed to as the probable reason why Mr. Pearson did not want to face another parliament session at this time. There was no other way out it would seem. Will the Liberals want this same man to lead them into this battle, or will they choose a new leader in mid stream, so to speak? There may be many surprises before this election is over. The campaign will no doubt be bitterly fought by all Parties seeking to be elected.

Just how soon the campaign will start and who will lead it off is anyone's guess. However, we feel that before it is over, it will become quite hot and some nasty things may be said. What the voters better decide to do, is to cast their vote in a manner that can leave no doubt as to the Party they want at Ottawa. There have been enough of these minority governments and too many elections.

The Sea Cadets and Other Such Organizations

THERE are some commendable organizations in Huntingdon of which a number of our boys are members, but from which some other would be members are barred due to parental objection. We have in mind at the moment, cadet movements, because the members wear a uniform that is almost identical to the regular units of our armed forces. They also take part in a routine of drills, perform same in snappy military manner and address those in charge with respectful salutation — probably, Yes Sir, No Sir and so on.

We would like to point out to those parents who feel these organizations are of military nature and therefore not for their sons, that they are wrong. No boy will go wrong by being a member of a Cadet Corps or the Boy Scouts, the Cubs and any such. He is more than likely to go right. All boys, no matter who they are, or where they are from, like to wear a uniform of some kind and belong to a unit which has a uniform and some training program. They like to be seen marching along with other boys in similar uniform. Such boys are obliged to keep themselves and their uniforms clean and neat at all times and they lose marks if they don't. You will never see a dirty boy in a dirty uniform and invariably that boy will take a pride in keeping himself and his uniform neat and clean at all times. After a short time such a boy becomes quite mannerly due to the fact that he is being taught the discipline of respecting his elders or those placed in charge of him. His time is being occupied with something that is useful, therefore he does not go around getting into mischief or doing those things which could lead him into a life of crime.

Sure he may carry a rifle, he may go to summer camps where military personnel are also based, but he is still a cadet. There is no question of his being a regular member of the armed forces, unless when he is old enough, he chooses this for himself. He does get a good training in good habits and gets plenty of recreation which serves a useful purpose when he might just lie around looking at TV, or reading, and getting bored with the existence. In the organizations mentioned he gets constant change, plenty of companionship and an entirely new outlook.

In an article on this page "Women Drive Men To Crime" it is pointed out that very few boys who belong to a cadet organization get themselves into trouble with the law. Is it not better that your boy leads a good life than that he should be bored and seek excitement by turning to a life of crime? Have we not more than enough juvenile deliquents already.

These people who devote their time to these young boys do so on a voluntary basis and with no regard to recruiting young boys for the armed forces or to make soldiers out of them. They enjoy working with boys and helping them to get something worthwhile. Ask the boys who belong to these groups and you will learn that they get enjoyment from doing and belonging.

Back To School Means Drive Carefully

ACCIDENTS the past few weeks have been on the increase rather than otherwise and we feel a word of warning to motorists to be in order. When a car is on the road, the only people who can relax are the passengers. The driver must stay alert and keep his attention on the driving, there are so many hazards to keep a watch for that the driver cannot afford to relax. Now, there are among the passengers sometimes, a person who is also a driver and he or she are continually putting on the brakes and helping the driver subsconsciously as various situations arise. Naturally such persons do not relax.

However, the point is this. Children are back at school and more of them are concentrated in various spots as they go to and from school. Some of these are transported by buses and the school bus is an important vehicle on the road to watch. It is against the law to pass a stopped school bus in either direction, when it is engaged in picking up or letting off passengers. This means that the motorist must stop his vehicle whether he is coming toward, or travelling behind it, when the bus stops on the highway. This is very important both morning and afternoon.

It is also important to watch for the children near schools. Just drive slowly and be ready and alert for a child suddenly darting out in front of your vehicle. Also watch when going through towns for parked cars that children do not suddenly step out from between the cars onto the road in front of you. Many an accident is caused in just that way. It is the child's fault you will say. Well, maybe, but if you keep your vehicle under control at all times an accident may still be prevented. It just means a few minutes of extra precaution until you once more reach the open highway.

Even on the highway, there is need for precaution beyond the fact of the school bus. Many children ride bicycles to and from school and sometimes they do not always ride as they should. It is up to you Mr. Motorist to watch out for them, not to create a hazard by being bull-headed. Try to avoid accidents — not create them.

Yes there are still too many accidents on the roads and so many are the direct cause of carelessness. Our roads are hazardous at the best, but with a little common sense they could be less so. Many of our roads are narrow as travellers to other parts of the country are gradually finding out. This is another reason for greater precaution. Pull to your side of the road when passing and avoid this sideswiping that is getting prevalent today. When the road is narrow take extra precautions especially when passing and going around other vehicles. This especially applies when passing groups of children on bicycles and they should not be passed at excessive speed.

Keep our children safe — keep yourself safe.

AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

SUGAR AND SPICE by Bill Smiley

FAREWELL TO A FRIEND

After a couple of thousand miles of traveling, there's nothing so delightful as to sit in one's own backyard and contemplate the folly of the world. And that's what I'm doing right now.

Two kittens are tight-rope-walking the back fence, as grave and cautious as Blondin crossing Niagara Falls. They have survived the attentions of Wilson, our two-year-old neighbor, who has a utilitarian approach to picking up cats: ears, tail, stomach-fur, or whatever's nearest.

The garage sits there, brooding. When summer began, it was a faded blue. Kim began painting it as a school project. It is now two-tone, half faded blue, half dazzling green.

Peering through the picket fence on the left are the Little Horrors. There are five of them. I'll swear they're all the same age, about two and a half. They lurk like Indians watching a wagon train. The minute we leave the place even to go shopping, they bat down the loose board in the fence and sack the place. They use our lawn chairs as trampolines and the picnic table for mountain climbing, dismantle my power mower and employ our hose to squelch civil demonstrators among each other.

Across the street, where there are two teen-agers, swirls the daily ballet, a kaleidoscope of sound and color. Kids arriving and departing; swim suits and shorts and pyjamas; motorbikes and sports cars, tennis rackets and golf clubs and footballs.

From the great oaks spreading over the house drop the acorns, thumping the ground with a gentle irregular rhythm. Two lazy pigeons have found an old starlings' nest under our eaves and are squashed in there, purling their throaty growl.

The lawn sprinkler is turned off, but there's a dribble from it, and a young robin is revelling in a shower, doing everything but soaping his armpits.

Up a maple tree, twice around the trunk, along the hydro wire, jump to the cedar, leap to the vine, scrabble up the side of the house and straight into my attic, lickety-split, hurtle two black squirrels. Object, either love or war.

Backyard smells: new-cut grass on the lawn; fresh-washed sheets on the line; cedar and spruce from the trees; and, gently stealing through the back door, the excruciating waft of coffee.

Color everywhere. Six shades of green in spruce and cedar, elm and oak, maple and walnut. Vivid splash of tiger lilies. Yellow sun dappling trees and patching grass. One delicate pink rose and pale mauve of phlox. Gay striped lawn chairs.

And what more pleasant place to look back over the pattern of summer. Early morning golf with dew-thick carpet underfoot and air like champagne. Beach afternoons: warm, silky sand and hot sun, the world a million miles away; water like cool silver. Home for cold beer, barbecued steak, new, little potatoes and juice-spurting corn.

Luxury of boat cruise abruptly changed to roughing it in a tent. Tense long-distance phone calls from remote outposts to learn whether son had passed his year. Huge relief to learn that he had done well. Sunday jaunts to visit daughter at camp, going with great gobs of goodies, sitting around for two hours trying to think of something to talk about, returning with load of scummy camp clothes to wash.

Son claiming an 18-year-old can get along on four hours sleep, and trying to prove it. Daughter busting out all over, as fourteens are wont to do. Wife like cat with cream because I haven't been away from her side for more than four hours all summer. Father promising to write a book, and barely able to find time to write a column.

Goodbye, Summer, you seductress. There'll never be another like you.

"COUNTRY NOTEBOOK"

BY WALKER RILEY

"Country Notebook" by Mr. Walker Riley, Agricultural Extension Specialist with Macdonald College is a weekly feature which we trust will be of interest to all in the Chateauguay Valley.

For one reason or another, we have not been able to take in so many of the fairs this year. But we did make it to Sherbrooke for Wednesday's soggy afternoon.

I can't help it, but I like the new dairy judging classification. From a spectator's point of view it makes the show very much tidier. The simplified classes mean that even a non-farm person can follow the placings. And we can't overlook public relations value of our fairs; it is one of the reasons the fairs exist.

The inter-breed best-udder class may be causing controversy among breed showmen, but it is a real crowd-pleaser. At Sherbrooke, it brought the greatest number of spectators into the stands of any class. And when Judge Fitzsimmons ordered the top four cows to be milked out before final placing, there was quite a stir of approval from the crowd. We wouldn't be at all surprised to see this competition become the featured highlight of next year's show. And we'll guess that the lone Jersey has company in the ring for the ceremony of milking.

Noticeably absent from the show under the new rules were the tail-enders which in past years have been brought in to fill up classes.

Most striking is the improvement that has resulted from the best herdsman's competition. It is a pleasure now to visit the barns, and in fact there has been a noticeable increase in the number of people going out to the stables. We can guess that next year this herd display competition will be really something to see. It just got off to a good start this year.

Now that we have done a good job of revising the livestock classes, let's bring the other sections of our fairs up to date also. For instance, in the field crops section is there any good reason for keeping the class of "fodder carrots"? Is there one farm in Quebec still growing carrots to feed to the dairy herd? And is there any practical reason to still divide the ensilage corn class into "dent" and "flint" as it is in the Shawville prize list?

Let us instead replace them with some new classes that will focus attention on to-morrow's money-making crops and practices. What about including classes for ear corn, dry shelled corn and high-moisture shelled corn, as well as ensilage corn? And classes for grass silage and haylage in plastic bags? And classes for canning crops in the form the buyer and the processor likes to see them? And cash crops like white beans, soybeans, tobacco and sugar beets?

What about featuring a hay show of four-inch flakes baled hay in clear plastic covers? With classes for legume hay, mixed hay, grass hay from first and second cuts? And why not show the grain classes in plastic bags instead of "eight quart pails" and sap buckets?

The possibilities for revision and improvement in our prize-lists are endless. Tradition plays an important part in our lives, but let it not bind us to out-dated classes at the fall fairs.

To many people, our fall fairs are simply grand annual re-unions, but the underlying reason for their existence must still be their educational and public relations value.

Congratulations to those local young people who did so well at the Provincial Judging Competition for Young Farmers' Clubs at Quebec City. The St. Hyacinthe team, led by Robert Beaudry, placed first, followed closely by the Howick team (Sandra and Ken MacFarlane) and by the Lachute team (Robert Rodger and Andre St. Pierre). In the individual scoring, Robert Beaudry, Sandra MacFarlane and Robert Rodger placed first, second and third out of twenty competitors. Congratulations to the leaders, too, who quietly and voluntarily give much of their own time to their clubs.

At Quebec Fair, we had the pleasure of attending the banquet to honour this year's winners of the Agricultural Award of Merit. And believe me, it was a really impressive ceremony and well done.

This year's gold medal winner of the "professional" class, Fernand Perras, from Lapraire was the youngest since the award was first made seventy years ago. Robert Ness, Howick, was fourth and Allan Hammond, Lachute, seventh in this large class. Congratulations.

A highlight of the evening was the presentation to the Premier of 85-year-old Arthur Belanger from St. Eustache, who won the gold medal back in 1915. Mr. Belanger had just returned from a trip to the C.N.E. in Toronto, and Niagara Falls.

To Serve As Army Chaplain

Rev. Father Hervé Charlebois, vicar at St. Joseph's Church, Huntingdon, will leave on Monday for Montreal where he will serve with the C.A.S.F. as Army Chaplain.

Havelock Fair

Havelock Fair was held yesterday when ideal weather conditions prevailed. Shortage of farm labour and two local fairs in one week attributed to the greatly reduced number of entries, other than that of flowers and sheep. There was however, a large attendance and the fair will be a financial success.

Officers Visit Huntingdon

Lt. Col. C. C. Brooks, M.C., V.D. who is to be the Officer Commanding the Canadian Militia Training Centre No. 41 at Huntingdon, along with Capt. A. T. Stikeman of the Victoria Rifles, were in Huntingdon on Friday.

Tax Rate At 6 Mills

It was moved by Commissioner Sloan that a rate of six mills on the dollar be levied on all taxable property in the municipality at a meeting of the School Commissioners of the Township of Hinchinbrooke on Sept. 6.

Building Expansion

The Huntingdon Woollen Mill Ltd. is undergoing a programme of expansion which will bring their working floor space up to 55,000 sq. ft. There are employed at the present time about 170 employees. It is expected that by spring this will be over the 200 mark.

Win Championship

Dundee Girls proved themselves the champions at Huntingdon on Friday evening when they won their third victory in the District Girls Soft ball final by 6-3. The presentation of the James W. Ross, M.L.A. Trophy is expected to be made to them on Friday at Huntingdon Fair.

The Slacks Live On

Another summer is slipping by and slacks, which have become so prevalent a part of modern woman's attire that critics have begun to note their fitness for street wear, are being packed away for another year.

1920 - 20 Years Ago

Prices quoted of Montreal market were: Potatoes, $1.90 per 80-lb. bag; Lard, 24c to 25c; select eggs, 60c dozen; creamery butter, 59c lb.; bacon, 50c lb.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Parents and Teachers:

The time has come to take a serious look at the problem of equipping our children with the kind of education they will require in a rapidly changing world. I feel, that many of our students are being "bogged down" with the memorization of highly controversial issues, particularly with regard to religion. Rather, they should be encouraged to rationalize and think. Let us also cultivate in their fertile minds, by our example, true charity.

Here I would like to quote from the prayer of St. Francis of Assisi, who said it more eloquently than I.

The Prayer of St. Francis of Assisi

Lord make me a channel of Thy peace:
That where there is hatred —
I may bring love,
That where there is wrong —
I may bring the spirit of forgiveness,
That where there is discord —
I may bring harmony.
That where there is error — I may bring truth,
That where there is doubt — I may bring faith,
That where there is despair — I may bring hope,
That where there are shadows — I may bring light,
That where there is sadness — I may bring joy;
Lord, Grant that I may seek rather to comfort — than to be comforted;
To understand — than to be understood;
To love — than to be loved:
FOR
It is by giving — that one receives;
It is by self-forgetting — that one finds;
It is by forgiving — that one is forgiven;
It is by dying — that one awakens to eternal life.

Amen.

Then for a more recent example of our times let us look to the late and great Albert Schweitzer, whose life was a shinning example of what can be done to promote love and understanding. Let us follow their example in Huntingdon and have the halls of one great school echo and re-echo to the sound of happy voices in a truly bilingual school where Catholic, Protestant and all others will mingle and exchange ideas. And last but not least, let our school boards consist of truly progressive thinkers.

A Parent.

ROUND BYRE and RING

By Frank Napier

Elsewhere the Editor of The Gleaner will doubtless have related the success that again was Havelock's (Fair) "Homecoming" day, and, of course, the provertial good weather that Fair enjoyed. Insofar as the designation "Homecoming" is concerned, we venture to say that probably only a quarter of the people at that event, albeit a sizeable number, are permanent residents of Huntingdon County and the Ormstown and Howick areas of Chateauguay County; that the balance would doubtless have been comprised of sons and daughters, of the said areas now living in other places, together with their wives, husbands and children; with a considerable number of similar groups from other areas who have for long been annual visitors. In quite a few instances, elderly men who take just as much of a kick out of renewing old acquaintanceships, and the resulting reminiscing, as they do in the Fair events. For instance at least a score of men in that category called by the cattle section to say hello!, to our car-mates, the octogenarians George Elder and Gilbert Macmillan. In the former instance a lifetime regular attender, and the latter a regular attender for some fifty years.

The Cattle Show

Mention will also have been made not only of the tremendous number of people in attendance but also of the magificent task of the two Church Women's Organizations in catering for over a thousand dinners. The said organization being doubtless one of Havelock Fair's greatest assets.

Unfortunately, however, there was a very sparse interested attendance around the cattle section of the Fair; that is, as apart from those who just passed by with casual, disinterested interest in the said exhibits. As a matter of fact, there was a much larger crowd around the adjacent ring devoted to Horse Riding classes.

The Holstein Show was but a semblance of what it has been in former years. As a matter of fact, the animals on exhibit were mostly from the herd of W. R. Tannahill, Trout River, Albeit a most worthy exhibit mainly comprised of the prize winners of the week before at Huntingdon.

While it is still in its infancy, so to speak, the district 4-H Club put on a very commendable show.

The Red and White Show

The annual Red and White Show of the Howick-Huntingdon Ayrshire Breeders' Club was also much smaller than usual, was in fact largely comprised of the same animals that had been exhibited the week before at Huntingdon Fair: Viz—Melbourne Acres of W. O. Carcaud, St. Chrysostome, 11 head; Terrace Bank of J. Earle Ness & Son, Howick, 10 head; Colonial Acres of Davies Bros. Huntingdon, 6 head; Oscar Vaillancourt, St. Chrysostome, 2 head; together with 3 head from the Balquhidder herd of Archie Roy, Howick; 1 each from the James W. Scoble, Howick, and the Linda McMillan, Franklin herds. Between them Keith and Henry McAdam showed five of their 4-H Club animals in the regular classes. Nevertheless, because of the extremely high quality standards of the animals paraded before him, the judge, John D. McCaig of Ormstown, had to make a considerable number of intricate decisions. Inasmuch as Mr. McCaig is the Chief Classifier of Ayrshires, Jerseys and Guernseys under the Advanced Registry Plan, thereby a man of wide experience his assertion to that effect evidences that it was a real top-quality Ayrshire Show. Gilbert Macmillan and several other well-known cattle authorities also asserted that quality-wise it was one of the H-H Ayrshire Club's best Red and White Shows. The Ring Master's duties were capably performed by A. Mitchell Ness of Burnside Farms.

As it was at Huntingdon Fair, Terrace Bank Finest Blend was first prize bull calf, junior and grand Champion male for J. Earle Ness & Son. Another Terrace Bank product, in Terrace Bank Pearl Star, was first prize junior yearling bull, reserve junior and reserve grand champion for W. O. Carcaud.

Also as at Huntingdon, the junior champion female was Terrace Bank Candy Floss, first in a class of 6 junior yearling heifers for J. Earle Ness & Son; with Rose Terrace Queen of Hearts, first prize senior heifer calf, as reserve junior champion for Oscar Vaillancourt.

The senior and grand female champion, as well as the winner of the R. J. Roy Challenge Trophy for the Best Udder, was Elm Creek Ruby for Archie Roy. In leading up to those awards that cow was first in the 3 to 4 year old in milk class and it may be of interest to note that, linked with her fine udder and other conformation qualities, she recently completed a record of 13,022 lbs. milk, 556 lbs. fat 4.27%, or a Breed Class Average of 167% milk, 173% fat, which record was commenced at the age of 3 years, 237 days. The reserve senior and the reserve grand champion female was Terrace Bank White Freda, first prize 3 to 4 years old dry cow for J. Earle Ness & Son.

With the exception of the first prize for Senior Get of Sire, won by W. O. Carcaud, all the firsts in the group classes went to Terrace Bank.

A Terrance Bank Sale

At the time of the Havelock Fair we casually learned from J. Earle Ness of J. Earle Ness & Sons, Howick, that after an interval of three years a Mr. Guimond of the Lower Quebec Area came back to Terrace Bank to purchase there his second Terrace Bank sire in succession. In this instance, it was a bull calf sired by the Howick Ayrshire Breeding Club's imported sire, Rottenrow Password. The dam of the calf is the "Excellent" cow Terrace Bank Fernie which has to her credit two over 12,000 lb. milk records, with an average test of 4.35% butterfat.

Farm Competition

While we are not aware of the exact status or figures in that respect we understand that the Terrace Bank Farm of J. Earle Ness & Sons, Howick, was third high in the annual 1965 Silver Medal Competition organized by Quebec Department of Agriculture.

Women Often Drive Men To Crime

The best thing a mother of a teen-age son can do to prevent his turning to crime is to enrol him in a cadet unit.

"Of 7,000 case histories of young prisoners which I have studied, there was only one incidence of a boy having had service in a cadet unit," says T. W. Hall, Director of Penitentiary Services for British Columbia and the prairie provinces, in Montreal to attend the 5th International Criminological Congress recently in session at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel.

"And that boy was thrown out of the cadet movement because of petty pilfering," continued Mr. Hall.

A father of two, whom he blesses with the "gift of an intelligent mother", Mr. Hall would like to see more emphasis put on the first offender, the young person who errs for the first time.

"The woman's influence in crime is tremendous", says Mr. Hall. "A mother can drive her son to crime through indifference, through lack of love, lack of direction. A girl can be the reason why a young man steals — he may only need the money and the car for a date, but he'll steal to get it. A wife can influence her husband to "white collar crimes" because she demands a mink stole, a "house in a nicer district, a second car".

For none of these crimes will the woman in the case be prosecuted. But, "cherchez la femme" is something criminologists have learned to do.

"After all", says Mr. Hall, "it was Eve who instigated Adam to his first theft".

From a mother's point of view, 13 to 17 are the "dangerous ages" in a youth's career. "That is the critical time in the formation of character", says Mr. Hall. "If the home training has not been such where a boy learns to take advice, it still isn't too late to remedy the lack. He can, by entering a cadet movement, learn to accept discipline, learn to become a part of a directed, happy group.

"Yet so many mothers won't let their sons join any part of the cadet movement. They say, "You'll teach my boy to kill. I didn't raise a son to be a soldier".

Mr. Hall reasons that the ability to accept orders, the learning to conform, the mental attitude which says, 'Yes, sir' and the fact that these boys are kept occupied in a group, are excellent factors in forming character.

"Cadets don't teach boys to kill. They teach them to keep alive, to stay alive and to live decently and with direction", he says.

Council Meetings

HUNTINGDON COUNTY COUNCIL

The regular quarterly session of the Huntingdon County Council was held on Wednesday, Sept. 8th. Mr. Charles Reid, Warden presiding. The minutes as read, were adopted and signed by the Warden and the Secretary-Treasurer.

The Casey discharge was declared a County watercourse under the exclusive control of the Corporation of the County Huntingdon.

The Acte d'accord on the Casey watercourse was adopted as read.

Mr. Alcide H. Caza was appointed special superintendent over the Pinsonneault discharge, to replace Mr. Eloi Laberge, whose resignation was accepted.

Mr. John K. Dickson was appointed special officer over the Cunningham and Biggar Brook, to replace the late W. L. Carr.

The Godmanchester Council meeting was held on Tuesday, 7th. Members all present, except Councillor Racine; Mr. Charles R. Reid, Mayor, presiding. The minutes of the previous session were read approved and signed by the Mayor and Secretary-Treasurer.

Councillor McGratchie reported a broken tree in the Dewittville area and also a dead tree cut off and removed by Geo. Monique.

A letter from the Department of Roads dated Aug. 9th was read and filed re speed limit.

The Secretary was asked to obtain further information with regard to an application from a ratepayer for aid for family, through Service Social de Valleyfield.

A letter from The Quebec Government dated Aug. 9th, re. campaign of embellishment, in view of the coming Expo 1967 was read and filed.

Aimé Leblanc is hired as auxiliary sander with his own truck at the rate of $6.00 per hour while on duty and that he hires his own helper at $1.25 per hr.

The Secretary was authorized to write Mr. J.P. Cossette, advocate, Valleyfield, asking him to return copies of by-laws No. 210 and 224, and that no action be taken in the matter, and to forward his account for a previous interview with the Mayor and Councillor Hunter.

A rate of 2 mills on the dollar was imposed on all taxable property within the limits of the Township of Godmanchester to defray the expenses of administration during the current year.

An amendment was then made that a rate of 4 mills on the dollar be imposed on all taxable property within the limits of the Township of Godmanchester, to defray the expenses of administration for the current year. The amendment was defeated and the first motion carried.

The following bills were ordered paid: — The Huntingdon Gleaner Inc. $12.60; Municipal Forms Ltd., $22.30; M. A. Barrett $150.; Office Stationers $17.49; Philps & Bourgon Ltd. $229.70; Ildori Quesnel $2.

Hinchinbrook Council

The regular meeting of the Hinchinbrooke Council was held Tuesday, Sept. 7, at the usual hour and place of meeting. A petition was presented by residents of Fairview and Kelly Sts. requesting gravel. This was forwarded to the Quebec Roads Dept.

ENTRY BY PRIVATE CITIZEN — NOT LADIES' DUTCH CLUB

It was reported in two places in last week's issue of The Gleaner, that the above Float was an entry from the Ladies' Dutch Club. Information has been given The Gleaner that this was not so — it was entered by a private citizen. When it was known that the Float had won first prize, the party went to the stand and donated $10 each to the following: Canadian Legion Building Fund, Huntingdon Agricultural Society, The Ladies' Dutch Club and kept $10 for expenses in connection with the float. There was no exhibit from the Ladies' Dutch Club this year.

Huntingdon County Hospital Notes

The Huntingdon County Hospital gratefully acknowledges the receipt of annual memberships in the amount of $10 each from Mr. Hugh Quinn and Miss Mabel MacMillan, a $5 donation from Mrs. Dan Faubert in memory of Mrs. M. Winter, a $10 donation in memory of the late Carl Wheeler from the Wheeler family, a $25 donation from Mr. and Mrs. James Wheatley and a donation in the amount of $150 from Mrs. Byron W. Allen.

Ladies Aid Meets

St. Andrew's Ladies Aid met on Sept. 8th. in the Annex with Mrs. Bickford, Mrs. Napier and Mrs. Purcell as hostesses.

Bible reading was given by Miss McMillan and Lord's Prayer repeated in Unison.

Sixteen members answered the Roll Call and one visitor.

Mrs. Napier welcomed members back after the summer holiday. Various committees gave their reports. A donation was given Retarded Children Group on motion of Miss McMillan and Mrs. McCartney.

The October meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Helm, with Mrs. Ferry taking the Bible reading.

A delicious salad supper was served by the hostesses and a social hour enjoyed.

Bridal Shower

A very pretty bridal shower was held for Miss Marilyn Brown on Monday, September 6th at the home of Mrs. Nicol Stark with Mrs. Emmett Duheme, Mrs. Ken Cameron, Mrs. Albert Rolleri and Miss Heather Stark as co-hostesses.

The bride-to-be was taken by surprise as she was greeted at the door by Mrs. Rolleri who pinned a corsage of pink carnations on her. She was then escorted to a nicely decorated room where friends, relatives and neighbours had gathered. The decorations were pink and white bells and balloons and the chair to which the bride-to-be was escorted was beautifully decorated with an umbrella over the top in pink and white also.

Little Miss Darlene Cameron and Robin Rolleri then carried in a basket of gifts consisting of kitchen items.

After opening the gifts, Marilyn thanked everyone present for their thoughtfulness and generosity and extended an invitation for them to visit her in her new home. Refreshments were then served and an enjoyable time spent by all.

Obituary

The late Mrs. M. Everett

Mrs. Milton (Mary Alice) Everett, of 12 Lawrence Ave. Malone, died suddenly Monday evening, Sept. 6, at her home.

Born in Stottville, N.Y., she was a daughter of Chas. and Mary Anne Morrison Tanner.

Mrs. Everett was a member of St. Mark's Episcopal Church, and of Elm City Chapter, Order of Eastern Star.

Besides her husband, she leaves one daughter, Mrs. Clark (Marjorie) Bowhall of Norwood, N.Y., one sister Mrs. Jos. (Catherine) Boisseau of Huntingdon, Que., one nephew, Robert F. Boisseau of Simcoe, Ont., and several nieces. Two brothers died a short time ago.

Funeral services were held Thursday, Sept. 9, at 11 a.m., in St. Mark's Episcopal Church with the Rev. Edward Fiebke officiating. Burial was in Morningside cemetery.

Covey Hill

Messrs. Edgar and Brent Sutherland of Greenfield Park were Labour Day guests of Mrs. A. L. Stewart and Miss W. Stewart. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stewart, Dawn and Ian of Lakeside Heights, were also Sunday guests at the Stewart home.

St. Bridget's Parish Celebrates 100th Anniversary

St. Bridget's Parish at Trout River, celebrated its 100th anniversary Sunday, September 5th, with an evening Mass with the Most Rev. Thomas Donnellan, Bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Ogdensburg, assisting the Rev. Anthony Pompei, administrator of the parish, who was celebrant of the Mass.

Assistants to the bishop were the Rev. Frederick Shue of Brushton, a former pastor and the Rev. John McNamara of Constable.

Other clergymen present were the Very Rev. Msgr. E. H. Dumas of Malone; the Rev. Gerald Charland of Bombay, and the Rev. Earl Taylor of Morrisonville, both former pastors and the Rev. Maurice O'Neil of Massena a former administrator of the parish.

The Rev. Thomas Robillard of Ft. Covington, read the gospel. The Rev. Anthony Pease of Malone, and the Rev. Frederick Brockway, of Watertown both natives of the parish were also present. The Rev. Lucien Leduc, a native of the parish, was unable to attend because of illness.

Clergymen guests from the Diocese of Valleyfield, Que., were the Rt. Rev. Msgr. J. David of Huntingdon, the Rev. A. Chagnon of Ste. Agnes de Dundee.

John Hughes a member of the parish, was among the detail of members of Our Lady of Victory General Assembly, Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, who formed a guard of honor for the bishop.

Commentator was Theodore Brooks, a parish trustee and Arthur Taylor, another trustee, was head usher.

The Rev. Earl Mayo of Malone, played the newly installed electronic organ and directed the parish choir.

Father Pompei welcomed all who were present.

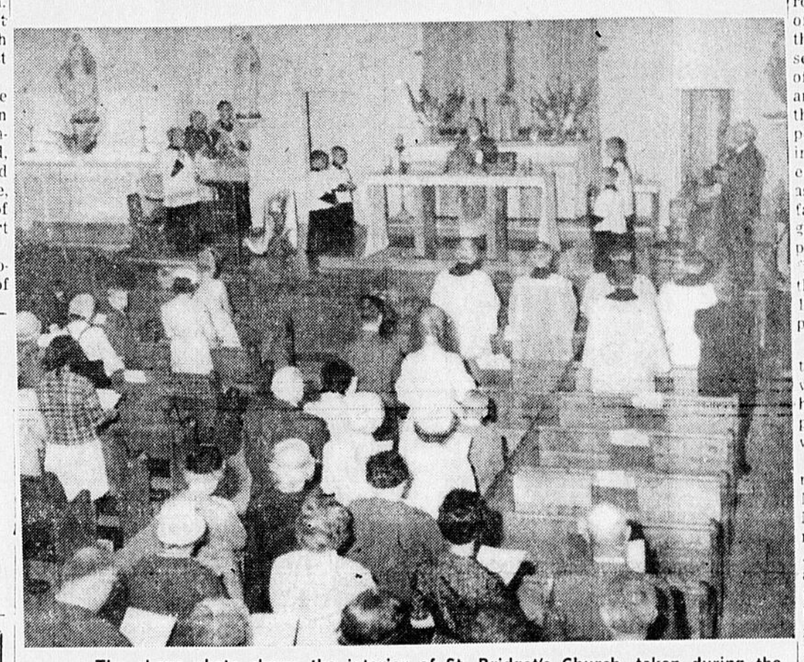

Bishop Donnellan, using the theme, "The Kingdom of God Is Within You", explained the role of the bishop as father of his people, who must guide them and direct them. He stressed the fact that the people of the parish are its family and the church the father of the people. He said that the people of the parish have to invest some of their time and energies to the parish, just as they would in their own families if the church is to grow. He commended the people of St. Bridget's for their fidelity to this purpose, so that the celebration of its 100th anniversary could take place.

The bishop also welcomed the Canadian clergymen, whose co-operation, he said, has always been a source of public esteem to both dioceses which border each other.

The church and altar decorations were prepared by Mrs. Mildred Lunan, Mrs. Gladys McCaffrey, Mrs. Kathleen Donnelly, Miss Mabel Brady, Miss Ann Brady, Mrs. Louise White and Miss Caroline White. Altar boys were Billy and Roy Dineen, Gary and Melvin Derouchie, Mario and Daniel Mongeon, Tommy Brockway, Stanley Pilis and David Rousseau.

The above shows part of the procession to St. Bridget's Church, Trout River, N.Y., on Sunday evening, Septembeer 5th, on the occasion of the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the parish. On the right of the photo, second from the right, is the Most Rev. Thomas Donnellan, Bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Ogdensburg N.Y. On the left of the photo and second also, is the Rt. Rev. Msgr. J. David, of Huntingdon.

EYELASHES GROWING IN WRONG DIRECTION CAN BE TROUBLESOME

Dear Dr. Molner: My 10-year-old daughter pulled out all her upper eyelashes because her eyes itched. Our family doctor said it was because a few lashes turned downward instead of upward or outward, but that the lashes would grow back again. How long will this take? — MRS. M. S.

It will take from 30 to 40 days for them to grow a quarter of an inch.

This is a rather rare occurrence, but obviously if a few lashes grow in the wrong direction they will scrape the eyeballs and cause itching.

The problem is not serious, but it can be quite annoying.

Your daughter, like virtually everybody else who has had this trouble, couldn't tell which of the lashes were causing the trouble, so she pulled them all out.

That solves her problem for the moment, but what if the few offending lashes grow in again in the same direction And even worse, suppose some of the others after the pulling-out process, grow in on the bias and scratch? Then the itching will be worse than ever.

If that happens, fortunately there is a solution. Your doctor can refer her to a specialist — a plastic surgeon, or in some cases an ophthalmologist, and a small tuck can be taken in the eyelid, so the change in skin tension will make those lashes aim out and up — —instead of inward scratchily.

Dear Dr. Molner: My sister had a stroke early last year. After an operation and physical therapy she regained use of her hands and fingers and legs. She can walk with a cane.

Following two months of therapy, her husband stopped the treatments. Now, after 15 months, her condition remains the same, I believe more therapy would help her, but her husband says, "It's up to her to use her willpower and exercise herself." What do you say? — N.T.

Her husband may be right or he may be wrong. Sheer willpower cannot overcome a stroke. However, when some movement is possible, persistent exercise will gradually improve the usefulness of the limbs.

Whether more therapy after a lapse of 15 months would prove helpful is something I can't guess. It might, but the valid answer would have to come from the doctor and therapist who were treating her. If her husband stopped the therapy against their advice, I think he is wrong. If he stopped it WITH their advice, then things are up to your sister now.

Dear Dr. Molner: I would like your advice on the protruding navel of our little baby. The doctor says there is nothing that can be done now but that it may have to be corrected surgically at the age of one year.

Could this be corrected now? Would taping it help? — MRS. G. H.

Protruding navels are not unusual. Frequently they are taped. Sometimes a half dollar or an object of equivalent size, is taped over the bulge. Quite often the bulge corrects itself rather soon. The taping may or may not help.

In any event, I wouldn't worry, if it corrects itself, fine. It it doesn't there is ample time for surgery, because this can be done within the next several years. The condition is easier to correct when the child is older.

Your doctor will keep track of the problem. If it gets worse, he can arrange for surgery, not necessarily at the age of a year, but perhaps later, depending on his diagnosis. But maybe no operation will be needed at all. Wait and see.

Of all the problems that pediatricians encounter in children, pinworm is the commonest. To learn the newest methods of treatment for this pest, write for the booklet "The Commonest Pest, Pinworm", enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover the cost of printing and handling.

BELL LINES

by Laurent Bouchard, your telephone manager

Measles and the telephone

Everybody knows that measles bring spots, but how many know that measles brought the first telephone numbers into use?

Way back in 1879, when a measles epidemic hit the town of Lowell, Massachusetts, a local physician named Dr. Moses Greely Parker realized that if the town's four operators came down with the measles, the telephone service would come to a halt.

Dr. Parker suggested that numbers be used instead of the names of the 1200 Lowell subscribers, so that substitute operators, if they were needed, could learn to operate the exchange as quickly as possible.

We're not told whether or not the regular operators ever did come down with the measles, but we do know that numbers have been a very important part of telephone service ever since!

The Directory and the Telephone

Early day telephone directories were usually just lists of people in town who had telephone service, with an explanation of how to crank the phone to get the operator's attention. But not anymore! The first few pages in today's phone books are filled with lots of useful information: numbers to call in emergencies, for telephone repair service, for assistance on calls, and a list of Area Codes. These "how-to" pages are there to help you get top value from your telephone service. And that's a pretty good reason for using them!

Tycoon-To-Be

Here's a little story that should warm the heart of any Huntingdon businessmen:

A small-town boy went into the neighbourhood drugstore to use the pay phone. The druggist could not help overhearing the lad's side of the conversation, and it was a model of smooth salesmanship.

"Dr. Jones? Doctor, do you need a hard working boy to take care of your lawn? Oh, you already have a boy. Is he good... I mean does he really know his job? Are you satisfied with his work? You are? OK then... thanks anyway."

The druggist couldn't help expressing his regret. "Too bad, Jim. Sorry you didn't get the job."

"Oh, I already have the job," was the cool answer. "I was just checking up on myself!"

Ian Watson M.P. Presents Brief to Redistribution Board of Commissioners

The Gleaner is pleased to report on the representations made by Ian Watson, M.P. for Chateauguay - Huntingdon - Laprairie at the hearing with regard to the new Redistribution Plan.

He acted as the spokesman of one of the objecting parties, namely, the municipal corporation of the Township of Havelock. As Havelock representative, he said, I am going to present to you on behalf of all objecting parties from the counties of Beauharnois-Salaberry, Chateauguay-Huntingdon - Laprairie and Longueuil an alternative plan to the Commission's proposed redrawing of the electoral boundaries in the triangle bounded by the St. Lawrence River, New York State and the Richelieu River. The arguments in favour of this alternative plan follows.

MEMORANDUM

The objecting parties will now outline briefly what they consider to be the general arguments in favor of the minimum possible change in the constituency boundaries of the counties of Chateauguay - Huntingdon - Laprairie, Beauharnois - Salaberry, St. Jean and Longueuil, provided the populations of these counties are maintained as closely as possible to the population average of 70,000 desired by your Commission.

The most basic argument is that in a democracy like ours, it should be the aim of every level of government to provide citizens with the most effective way possible of exercising their influence upon government, through their elected representatives. It was with this object in mind that your Commission was set up. When your Commission's work is accomplished, Canadians from coast to coast will be more equally represented in the House of Commons than they have ever been in the past.

Although it is the Commission's duty to equalize constituency populations within the Province of Quebec, it is, we would submit, also the Commission's duty where possible to consider factors of geography, regional organization and common interests.

When people have for generations worked together in regional organizations, ranging from livestock exhibitions and purebred livestock clubs to hospitals, recreational and school associations and committees concerned with water problems along an entire river valley, when people in an area are linked closely together by trading patterns and communications, when people in an area have a community of interest, be it waterfront development along the St. Lawrence River, or a regional approach to industrialization and agriculture, the Commission should be prepared to recognize these areas of common interest and to give consideration to these when redrawing electoral boundaries.

As the population per constituency grows steadily larger, it becomes more necessary for citizens to exercise political influence by group action and by regional co-operation. Important as is equalization of constituency population, it is the view of all those municipalities and organizations represented here today that the influence which citizens have with their elected representatives and their governments can be reduced drastically by an indiscriminate redrawing of electoral boundaries solely to achieve a population total close to the provincial average.

We recognize however that it is impossible for the Commission to be aware of these regional and geographic factors without a public hearing such as you are holding today.

Although most people seem to have taken the view that it is a hopeless objective to have the Commission alter the electoral boundaries it has redrawn for Quebec, we have taken the view that the purpose of these public hearings, provided for by the Electoral Boundaries Readjustment Act, is to supply the Commission with information which, provided the population averages are maintained can be used to alter the Commission's plans so as to give the fullest possible recognition to geographic and regional factors.

A thorough study has been made of the regional, geographic, trade and communications factors affecting the population which lives south of St. Lawrence River between the St. Lawrence and the American frontier west of the Richelieu River.

Because this area is a distinct geographic unit with New York State to the south and the St. Lawrence River to the north-west, it has been possible to arrive at an alternative plan without altering the boundaries of more than the 6 counties existing in the triangle formed by the Richelieu, the St. Lawrence and the border with New York State a feat which would be almost impossible elsewhere in the Province.

The plan which the municipalities represented here today, propose, amounts to a complete revision of the Commission's plan for this area. The plan we propose, in our view, gives the citizens of this triangle region better representation and places them in a position to more effectively influence the Federal Government, while at the same time sticking close to the population average of 70,000 per county.

Now follows an outline of the area of common interest, geography, communications and regional organization which affect the countries of the area as presently constituted. This outline will indicate how those areas will be affected by the Commission's redrawing of the electoral map. At the end of the exposé on each constituency, we will give you the details of our alternative.

Beauharnois-Salaberry:—

As constituted before the boundary changes proposed by the Commission, Beauharnois-Salaberry is an almost strictly urban constituency made up of the city of Valleyfield with approximately 35,000 population, and the towns of Chateauguay, Chateauguay Center, Chateauguay Heights, Lery and the town of Beauharnois. It also contains five rural or semi-rural small municipalities which contain less than 10% of the population of the constituency, which in 1961 was approximately 70,000. The Chateauguay-Beauharnois-V'field complex is linked closely together by highway route 3, by common frontage on the St. Lawrence River, and by a railway line linking the three communities. The three communities belong to the diocese of Valleyfield.

Chateauguay, Beauharnois and Valleyfield have a common interest in the industrialization of this area of the south shore of the St. Lawrence River. The plan as proposed by the Commission would lump with Valleyfield the rural and agricultural areas of Huntingdon and Chateauguay counties, which have little in common with industrialized Valleyfield. Under the proposed plan, Chateauguay would be placed with St. Lambert, an area of the south shore with which it has much less in common than it has with Valleyfield. The alternative plan as proposed by the objecting parties would leave boundaries of Beauharnois-Salaberry unchanged from the existing situation with a 1961 population figure of 70,191.

Chambly: —

As presently constituted, the county of Chambly is a predominantly urban and suburban constituency with a number of rural municipalities located in Rouville county and one such rural municipality in the southern portion of Chambly county. In the plan proposed by the Commission, Chambly loses most of the rural areas in Rouville county but acquires rural areas in Vercheres county together with the south shore suburb of Notre-Dame-du-Sacré-Coeur. Under the plan as proposed by the Commission, the constituency of Chambly retains its predominantly urban and suburban character and has a 1961 population of 71,630.

The alternative plan which we are presenting, if anything, increases the urban and suburban character of Chambly, by taking approximately 23,000 population from the south and east sector of Ville Jacques Cartier and removes from the county of Chambly the municipalities of Chambly, Fort Chambly and St. Joseph de Chambly and removes the county of Rouville the village and municipality of Richelieu and the parishes and municipalities of Notre-Dame de Bonsecours and St. Mathias, and places these aforesaid six municipalities with the center for the Richelieu River area, which is the city of St. Jean. These six municipalities are situated approximately 15 miles from St. Jean and are the natural extension of St Jean county along the Richelieu River and the highways and trading patterns which follow the said river.

In the northern part of Vercheres county which has been added to Chambly by the Commission's plan, the alternative plan returns to Richelieu county 4 rural municipalities which are at present attached to the Sorel Richelieu area, namely the Village and municipality of Contrecoeur and the parish municipalities of St. Antoine de Padoue, St. Antoine sur le Richelieu and Contrecoeur. In our alternative plan, it became necessary to return these municipalities to Richelieu in order to reduce the Chambly population to what we consider to be a reasonable figure of 76,206. These municipalities have much more in common with Sorel and Richelieu than they have with Chambly.

Insofar as dividing the city of Jacques Cartier and placing 24,000 of its population with Chambly, is concerned, we have a precedent in what the Provincial Commission is doing, as it has also divided Ville Jacques Cartier. It is our opinion that Ville Jacques Cartier is not a homogeneous unit with the sense of identity that tends to exist in so many other areas of the region covered by the alternative plan. The newer sections of Ville Jacques Cartier are in the southern portion of the city which has been added to Chambly. This area has more in common with the new suburbs of Chambly than it has with the other part of Jacques Cartier.

Richelieu:—

We have dealt with the county of Richelieu only in order to remove from Chambly approximatively 5,000 population and thereby to reduce Chambly to a reasonable population figure. In so doing, the population of Richelieu has been raised from the figure of 69,696 contained in the Commission's plan to 74,875. Consultation with the communities involved has convinced us that all their lines of communications and their areas of common interest lie with Sorel and Richelieu county, rather than with Chambly.

Longueuil:—

As presently constituted, this constituency is completely urban and is a compact grouping of several south shore communities including St. Lambert, Greenfield Park, Jacques Cartier, Lemoyne, Laflèche, Préville and Longueuil with common interests but with a population considerably higher than the provincial average of 70,000.

The new boundaries proposed by the Commission remove the hub of this constituency, St. Lambert, and places it with Laprairie and Chateauguay, areas with which it has little in common. The alternative plan returns St. Lambert to Longueuil and removes to Chambly approximately 23,000 of the population of the City of Jacques Cartier. In the plan proposed by the Commission, the population is 75,922. In the alternative plan, the population is 74,843.

St-Jean:—

As presently constituted, St-Jean is an industrial centre with a population of 30,000 and is the natural centre for approximately a dozen rural or semi-rural municipalities surrounding it on both sides of the Richelieu. The new constituency boundaries proposed by the Commission for the county of St-Jean would add to St-Jean municipalities in Chateauguay and Huntingdon counties which have no direct communications link with St-Jean and which are regionally associated with Huntingdon and Chateauguay counties, economically, by common agricultural interest, and by numerous regional associations.

The alternative plan we propose would remove these areas of Chateauguay and Huntingdon from St-Jean and replace them with the 3 municipalities in Chambly and 3 municipalities of Rouville mentioned in the Chambly exposé, which six municipalities are a natural extension of St-Jean and have many common interests with it, including the Richelieu Canal System. The population figure proposed by the Commission for St-Jean is 71,841 while under our alternative plan, the population would be 66,297.

It is the conviction of all the municipalities and organizations represented here today that the alternative plan herein proposed will give to the citizens of the entire triangle region, better and more effective representation in our Federal Parliament than would be the case under the plan proposed by the Commission. There is no doubt that some areas of the region, namely, the counties of Chateauguay and Huntingdon are more seriously affected by the Commission's plan than others, however we are convinced that our plan is better for a vast majority of the citizens of this region, and will mean more democratic representation for all its residents.

One final word on the question of the names of the counties in the region involved. We would argue that where county names have an historical significance and where they contribute to local pride and help stimulate local political interest, that these names should be maintained. There are no two more historical names in the Province of Quebec than the names Chateauguay and Salaberry. The names Huntingdon, Beauharnois and Laprairie are historic in their own right. We have noted with interest that Newfoundland has managed to maintain its Bona Vista, Twillingate and that British Columbia has maintained many counties with two and three names. It would make much more sense for the House of Commons to institute modern voting machine methods for House voting procedures rather than have its officers indicate to the Chief Electoral Officer their desire to reduce the length of names of constituencies in order to save voting time in the House of Commons.

Chateauguay-Huntingdon-Laprairie:

As presently constituted, the electoral division of Chateauguay - Huntingdon - Laprairie comprises 36 municipalities, the largest of which Brossard, had a population in 1961 of approximately 7,000. The other major towns in the electoral district are Laprairie with a population in 1961 of approximately 7,000 and Huntingdon with a population of approximately 4,500.

With the exception of Brossard which could be classified as a Montreal suburb, and is located in the easternmost section of the county, the electoral district could be called rural or semi-rural. With the exception of the labor force which is employed in a major textile industry in Huntingdon and a major brick industry in Laprairie, most of the non agricultural labor force in the region tends to travel to work in Montreal and other industrial centers outside the electoral division. A substantial percentage of the population is employed either directly or indirectly in agriculture or related industries and services.

Because agriculture does fulfill an important role with in almost all the 36 municipalities, it has in the present electoral division a means of exercising an influence upon the elected representatives for the region at both the provincial and federal level.

It is important also that the semi-rural character of the non-agricultural portion of the electoral division, be distinguished from the urban character of the cities of Valleyfield and St. John with which it is proposed in your Commission's plan to place the counties of Chateauguay and Huntingdon. Whether the inhabitants of the municipalities located in Chateauguay and Huntingdon counties are directly or indirectly engaged in agricultural or are commuters to industries elsewhere, it is obvious that these towns have more in common with other towns in the region than they would have with either of the two large industrial centers of Valleyfield and St John.

Since the area was first colonized, almost all of the municipalities located in Chateauguay-Huntingdon counties have been linked together by the Chateauguay River and its tributary, the English River from the point where they cross the American frontier to the mouth at Chateauguay Basin. Initially, this link was water transport but this was followed by the link established by the major highway routes in the area which, from the earliest days, have tended to follow the rivers.

Communities in Chateauguay and Huntingdon counties have cooperated for more than 100 years in educational associations, livestock exhibitions, clubs for the encouragement of purebred livestock, recreational and sports associations. More recently regional committees have been established to deal with problems relating to water control in the rivers of the region and even more recently, a committee has been set up to deal with Expo '67. It is likely in the near future that a regional approach will be taken to problems of industrialization and transportation because these counties are a distinct geographic unit. Trading patterns and commerce tend to follow highway route 4 which parallels the Chateauguay River and route 52 which parallels the American frontier and binds together Huntingdon county.

The counties of Chateauguay and Huntingdon have comprised an area which is now generally called the Chateauguay Valley and a large number of associations have been formed in the last 25 years which are prefaced by the name "Chateauguay Valley". Needless to say, this contributes to a very strong local sense of identity and pride.

The 3 municipalities of Lacolle, namely, the Village of Lacolle, the parish of Notre Dame du Mont Carmel and the parish of St. Bernard de Lacolle, although they are in St. John's county provincially, are within the federal electoral division of Chateauguay-Huntingdon-Laprairie. These 3 municipalities are bound to Huntingdon county by highway route 52 and share with Huntingdon county a community of interest in agriculture and in the customs and immigration ports which are a major industry in the area along the New York frontier with Quebec. There are 13 customs and immigration ports in the electoral division as presently constituted and there is no question that many local interport, and personnel transfer or related problems are more easily resolved when all these ports form part of one electoral district.

Under the plan proposed by the Commission, some of the ports would be in St. John and others would be in the Beauharnois electoral division.

As presently constituted, the electoral division of Chateauguay-Huntingdon - Laprairie contains two Indian reserves, located at Caughnawaga and St. Regis, containing a total Indian population of approximately 6,000. As both Indian groups belong to the Mohawk nation, an important community of interest exists between the two Reserves and together they form a more effective pressure group and consequently, are more capable of exercising an influence, when both are located within the same electoral district. Under the plan proposed by the Commission, the St. Regis Reserve would be placed with Beauharnois and Caughnawaga Reserve with Laprairie.

The counties of Chateauguay and Huntingdon are closely linked to the county of Laprairie by Highway route 4 which joins route 9 and 9C at the Mercier Bridge and forms a natural extension of Chateauguay county. Although on the map, the electoral division of Chateauguay linked with Laprairie may appear unwieldy, this is in fact not so because the electoral division as presently drawn follows the major communication routes. Trading and social patterns tend to follow these well established transportation routes.

The plan as proposed by the Commission would place most of the municipalities located in Chateauguay and Huntingdon counties with the industrial city of Valleyfield with an urban population of 35,000 a city with a completely different set of problems and interests from those of the rural and semi-rural municipalities of Chateauguay and Huntingdon counties. The remaining municipalities of Chateauguay and Huntingdon counties would be placed with the city of St-Jean, an industrialized center of 30,000 population, an area completely remote from Chateauguay and Huntingdon counties from the transportation point of view an area that has no connection economically, socially, or from the point of view of common problems, with any part of Chateauguay and Huntingdon counties.

The alternative plan which we propose to the Commission, would leave the present boundaries of the electoral division of Chateauguay-Huntingdon-Laprairie, unchanged except that for the purposes of meeting the population requirements established by the Commission, the municipalities of Préville and Greenfield Park would be added to Brossard, at the east end of the electoral division.

MARRIED AT HUNTINGDON

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Huntingdon, was the scene of a very pretty late summer wedding, August 28th, when Carmen Ruth, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ruddock, was united in marriage to Mr. Peter Ralph Mason eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Mason of Brome Quebec. The Reverend W. H. Brown of Georgetown Presbyterian Church and the Rev. Wilmur Davidson of Brome Anglican Church jointly officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given away by her uncle, Mr. Malcolm Ruddock, wore a floor length gown of silk organza over taffeta with chapel train, fashioned with high empire waistline, long pointed sleeves and high collar of lace extending in a V to the waistline. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and white stephanotis. Her elbow length veil was held in place by a coronet headpiece.

The maid of honor, Miss Melodie Williams, of Chateauguay, N.Y. and the bridesmaid, Miss Heather Blake of Toronto, wore identical rose taffeta with frosted organza overlay street length dresses fashioned with high empire waistlines. Their headdresses were off-the-face rose tulle falling to shoulder at back and held in place by fabric roses the same shade and material as the dresses. Their cascade bouquets were a deeper shade of rose carnations.

The junior bridesmaids, the Misses Lee Ann Ruddock and Nancy Mason wore identical princess dresses with matching cummerbunds also in the rose taffeta and frosted nylon overlay. Their bouquets were smaller replicas of those carried by the senior attendants. Their headbands were covered in the frosted nylon and decorated with smaller fabric roses.

The mother of the bride wore a two-piece, sleeveless sheath in metallic silver grey. Her hat and bag were of marine blue silk knit. Her corsage was of yellow carnations. The mother of the groom wore a jacket dress of crepe and lace in cocoa and off-the-face hat in the same shade trimmed with autumn colored feathers. Her corsage also was of yellow carnations.

The church was tastefully decorated with pink and white gladioli and asters and the same color scheme predominated in the church hall where the reception followed the ceremony and the ladies of the Evening Auxiliary catered to one hundred and eleven guests.

Mrs. Eugene Williams of Chateauguay, N.Y. sang "Love is of God" to open the service then after the opening prayer the entire congregation joined in the singing of "Praise My Soul, the King of Heaven" while the wedding party assembled at the altar. During the signing of the register Mrs. Williams sang "Great is Thy Faithfulness". Mrs. Wm. Smellie played a beautiful organ prelude, accompanied the soloist, and after the signing of the register "The Trumpet Voluntary" as the recessional.

A unique feature of the wedding was a tape recording of the ceremony and reception speeches made by Mr. C. Olney for the benefit of the bride's father and distant relatives who were unable to attend.

Following the reception the bride and groom left for their honeymoon in Prince Edward Island after which they will reside in the Diocesan Residence, Montreal.

Lacolle

LACOLLE — Mr. and Mrs. Allan Tait of Lachine and daughters spent last week as guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Van Vliet.

Mrs. Jas. Robinson underwent surgery in the Royal Victoria Hospital in Montreal last week. Her many friends wish her a speedy convalescence.

Rev. and Mrs. Boomhower are enjoying a three-week vacation.

The U.C.W. held their first meeting of the season in the Church Hall on September An interesting feature of the evening was a film put on by the Clark Company. It showed all the process needed in canning various vegetables. There were forty-three ladies present. Each received a gift package of Clark products. Refreshments were served by Mrs. C. Hewson, Mrs. T. Van Vliet, Mrs. D. Van Vliet, and Miss Mary Van Vliet. The annual church supper is to be held early in October.

Lacolle was well represented at Havelock Fair on Saturday. The usual good weather prevailed. The gate receipts exceeded all other years by $180. The dinner was excellent. The Lacolle Curling Tombola had a successful day financially.

Week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Don Robinson, were Mr. and Mrs. Don McTaggert, the Misses Fiona McFarlane, Willa Denison and Gloria Nixon all of Montreal.

Powerscourt

This community was well represented in the prize list at the High School on Saturday evening. Among the winners were Glen, Brenda and Murray Wallace, Peggy and Phyllis Wood, Jackie Hamilton and Martha Chodat. Congratulations to these young folk.

EGLISE ST-JOSEPH — HUNTINGDON

Liturgie — Ce jeune homme de l'Evangile que Jésus rend à sa mère n'a pas été tiré à un unique exemplaire, Hélas! Quelle famille ne gémit pas sur une mort spirituelle, qui peut frapper le fils, la fille, ou même l'époux? Jésus, résurrection et vie, s'offre à nous les rendre. Nous pleurons nous nous lamentons, nous sermonnons sans relâche nos "échappés"; mais cela s'appelle-t-il toujours aider efficacement celui ou celle des nôtres qui se perd? Je suis prêt à partir à la conquête du monde, et j'oublie de de sauver une âme en perdition sous mon propre toit, La leçon de ce jour est pourtant claire: Je dois relever d'abord et sauver qui est près de moi, et le faire en toute douceur. Aider mes proches financièrement peut laisser autour de moi de beaux morts spirituels. Si je commençais par présenter aux miens le sourire, la compréhension, l'oubli des torts, bref une main de douceur et de pardon qui sauve l'âme.

Liturgy — Now is the time to build a strong and lasting dialogue between the parents and the teachers. The duty of establishing this dialogue remains primarily with the parents since eduucation is their rseponsibility. In general, whatever transpires in the school is the responsibility of parents since the school is the extension of the home. Teachers conduct classes by the authority delegated to them by the school boards who represent the parents of the pupils. Dialogue between parents and teachers is necessary because parents must be fully aware of what is being done in each classroom. Strong impressions are being made on pupils; new views, new values are being gathered by them. Parents must see to it that only the best sense of values, only the best views and impressions are given to their children while at school.

Un lourd camion de béton prend le fossé

Le chemin New Erin a par ailleurs fait des siennes à nouveau, la semaine dernière. Le jour de la Fête du Travail, M. Marcel Leduc, de Huntingdon, a fit briser son pare-brise par un caillou. Mardi, le 7 septembre, ce fut au tour de M. Adrien St-Onge, également de Huntingdon, de se faire briser son pare-brise et ses phares de la même façon, sur cette route. On attribue ces incidents au gravier mou dont on a recouvert le chemin New Erin.

Le seul accident sérieux de la fin de semaine s'est produit samedi, le 11 septembre, vers 13.30 heures p.m., sur la route 4, près de Huntingdon, alors que M. Bernard Primeau d'Ormstown, conduisant un camion de béton (ready-mix) perdit la maîtrise du volant et fit son lourd véhicule laisser la route. Le camion est une perte totale, évaluée à $15,000 Heureusement cependant, M. Primeau ne fut pas blessé.

Ormstown

M. et Mme Gérard Daoust assistaient à Montréal, le lundi 6 septembre dernier au mariage de M. Gaétan Bruneau et de Mlle Rachel Moreau, fille de feu le Dr Jean-Louis Moreau et de Mme Moreau (Anita Daoust) de Montréal.

M. Bruno Beaulieu, maire du Village d'Ormstown, et Mme Beaulieu, M. Jean-Paul Riendeau, maire de St. Malachie, et Mme Riendeau, M. Merrill Barrington, secrétaire-trésorier du Village d'Ormstown et de St. Malachie et Mme Barrington assistaient en fin de semaine au congrès des municipalités à l'hôtel Reine-Elizabeth, à Montréal.

Mardi, le 14 septembre, à 8h. p.m., en l'école Jean XIII aura lieu, sous la présidence de Mme Laure Lauzon, la réunion mensuelle du Cercle des Fermières. Un film décrivant les travaux de couture et d'artisanat exposés durant la dernière exposition d'Ormstown tenue en juin fut présenté et apprécié de toutes.

Mlle Lucille Varin a passé la fin de semaine à St-Jérôme avec des amies.

Nous désirons souhaiter la bienvenue et offrir nos respectueux hommages à notre nouveau vicaire dominical M. l'abbé Jean-Guy Primeau.

Nos sympathies à M. Albert Billette à l'occasion du décès de son père, M. Théodore Billette, de St-Jean-Chrysostôme. M. Billette est un ancien résident d'Ormstown où il a demeuré une vingtaine d'années.

La construction de l'école de Huntingdon commencera dès le début de 1966, assure M. Gérin-Lajoie au congrès diocésain

Le ministre de l'éducation, l'honorable Paul Gérin-Lajoie, a déclaré dans un discours qu'il prononçait au banquet de clôture du congrès annuel de l'Association des Commissions Scolaires du diocèse de Valleyfield, tenu à Valleyfield dimanche dernier qu'il fallait absolument dominer la mobilité et le mouvement qui caractérisent notre temps.

Dans son message, le ministre a déclaré que nous sommes dans une société en plein mouvement. Après avoir crié gare à ceux qui ne craignent pas les problèmes, "car toute notre société moderne est dans un rythme de transformation jamais connu", le ministre a ajouté qu'il est très important que tous les éléments dirigeants fassent comprendre aux parents que le mouvement et le changement sont aujourd'hui loi générale et universelle. "Il ne faut pas rechercher à stabiliser; ce qu'il faut, c'est de nous adapter à ce nouvel ordre social dont le mouvement rapide est un élément primordial."

"Il faut dominer cette situation. Il ne faut pas en être à la merci. Il faut avoir le courage et la détermination de s'y adapter et de donner au mouvement qu'on ne peut arrêter l'orientation que l'on désire. Et ce qu'il y a de plus la présente réforme scolaire, c'est d'être des phares qui indiquent la façon dont il y a lieu d'orienter le mouvement pour l'ensemble de la société et des enfants". Le message du ministre préparait justement de chemin à ses remarques concernant la construction de l'école de Huntingdon.

M. Gérin-Lajoie a déclaré que ce projet avait été décidé en principe il y a trois ans. Il a reçu plusieurs approbations dans cette période où la régionalisation scolaire est née où le Rapport Parent a été présenté, où l'Opération 55 a été lancée, avec ce résultat que si le chantier commençait demain matin, l'école serait déjà hors détat de répondre aux be-

Mariage Carrière-Tessier

Dimanche, le 31 juillet, en l'église St-Joseph de Huntingdon, était célébré le mariage d'Andrée, fille de M. et Mme Alex Tessier, de Dewittville, à Richard, fils de M. et Mme Samuel Carrière, de Ste-Agnès de Dundee.

C'est Monseigneur David qui officiait la cérémonie. Le garçon d'honneur était M. Roger Tessier,, de Dewittville, et la fille d'honneur, Mlle Joyce Bowen, de Ste-Agnès de Dundee. Mlle Suzan Taylor, de Bridgeport, N.Y., agissait comme bouquetière. Les placiers étaient MM. Laurent Tessier et Alcide Latreille.

Après la cérémonie, la réception eut lieu au Chateau Huntingdon; près de 80 invités y assistaient. L'heureux couple partit en voyage au Chutes Niagara. M. et Mme Richard Carrière ont depuis établi leur résidence à Huntingdon.

Questions et réponses

1—On prétend que la MESSE EST UNE ASSEMBLEE de chrétiens présidée par un prêtre: celui-ci dit la messe, mais chaque membre de l'assemblée célèbre avec lui. N'y a-t-il pas confusion quant au sacerdoce?

Oui, confusion dangereuse. Rappelez-vous l'enseignement chrétien: il ne dit pas que la messe est une assemblée, mais c'est le sacrifice du Corps et du Sang de Jésus-Christ, offert à Dieu par un prêtre sur l'autel; c'est le renouvellement non sanglant du Sacrifice de la Croix, qui constitue un hommage à Dieu d'une valeur infinie."

A la messe, le prêtre représentant de Jésus-Christ agit comme cause instrumentale. Appeler président d'assemblée, c'est déprécier son rôle, c'est rabaisser la messe. La preuve: que le prêtre célèbre en présence de mille personnes ou qu'il célèbre seul avec un servant, c'est toujours la Messe-Sacrifice dont la communion est partie secondaire et intégrante.

Des assemblées se forment à l'occasion de la messe, soit. Mais ces foules assistent simplement à la messe, unies, d'esprit et de coeur au prêtre célébrant; elles participent à l'offrande et aux prières, mais elles ne célèbrent pas, ne consacrent pas: ce rôle appartient au seul prêtre qui a reçu le sacrement de l'Ordre.

Des personnes se croient ministres de la Sainte Eucharistie, de par leur Baptême? C'est le sacrement de l'Ordre et non le Baptême, qui donne le pouvoir de consacrer la sainte Eucharistie, de célébrer la messe. Actuellement, par le renouveau ligurgique, la messe est remise en honneur, ainsi que la participation des fidèles aux Saints Mystères. Mais prenons garde de ne pas fausser les principes par une démocratisation téméraire et croire que tous les crétiens sont prêtres au même degré.

2—Le Pape Jean XXIII disait qu'il avait lancé le Concile du Vatican II sous l'inspiration du Saint-Esprit. Il y en a qui disent que le Mauvais Esprit en profite pour organiser son ANTICONCILE?

Puisque Dieu a permis à son adversaire Satan de combattre son Eglise, tout comme il lui a permis de persecuter le Christ jusque sur le Calvaire il n'y a pas à se surprendre si l'Enfer tâche de nuire à la Sainte Eglise, surtout dans la période cruciale d'un concile. C'est l'Homme ennemi de la parabole évangélique qui vient semer la zizanie dans le champ du Père de famille. Voilà le sort et le mérite de l'Eglise Militante.

Il ne faut donc pas être surpris des attaques infernales dans nos milieux. Déviations à l'occasion du renouveau liturgique, pour nuire à la piété des fidèles. Abandon du culte eucharistique, du culte marial (surtout le rosaire), du culte des saints (nouvel iconoclasme). Décadence de l'Art sacré, qui tourne à la caricature. Conjuration du silence sur l'Enfer, sur la Passion du Christ, sur Lourdes et Fatima, etc. On ne veut plus parler de vérités fondamentales. Au lieu de former la jeunesse dans l'esprit chrétien, à base de renoncement pour dominer la mauvaise nature, on l'encourage au scepticisme, à la jouissance effrénée, aux danses frénétiques et aux sots spectacles. Tous les chrétiens doivent porter leurs regards vers le Concile du Vatican d'où viendra la lumière céleste.

Le taux de la taxe du comté fixé à ¾ de mill du dollar

Lors de la dernière assemblée trimestrielle du conseil du comté de Huntingdon, tenue mercredi le 8 septembre sous la présidence de M. Charles R. Reid, Préfet, il fut résolu qu'on demandera à tous les conseils municipaux du comté de faire dresser leur rôles montrant 100% de l'évaluation. Le taux de la taxe du comté fut par ailleurs fixé à 3/4 de mill du dollar d'évaluation, soit une augmentation de 1/4 de mill sur l'an dernier. La paroisse et le village de Hemmingford paieront 50% de leur évaluation taxable.

Le cours d'eau Casey fut déclaré cours d'eau du comte et sous la juridiction exclusive du comté de Huntingdon. L'Acte d'Accord du cours d'eau Casey fut adopté tel que lu.

M. Alcide H. Caza fut nommé surintendant spécial du cours d'eau Pinsonneault, en remplacement de M. Eloi Laberge dont la résignation fut acceptée.

M. John K. Dikson fut nommé officier spécial de Cunningham et Biggar Brook, en remplacement de feu W.L. Carr.

Des lettres de drainage furent lues et filées: cours d'eau McPherson; branches 3 et 4 de McPhee; les cours d'eau Ouimet et Poirier.

On choisit un voyage sur le S.S. Carmania, concernant l'Union des Conseils de comté (congrès), qui se tiendra du 2 au 8 août, 1966.

On fit don de $250. à la Société Canadienne de la Croix-Rouge.

On approuva le paiement des comptes suivants: Co. de Tél. Bell, $7.48; Mme M.A. Barrett, $125.; Jack Construction Co., $48.; Co. Shaw. Wat and Power, $15.01; J. O'Hare, $5.; Minist. des Finances, Unité Sanitaire, $1,514.16; Co. Tél. Bell, $6.27; Albert Derepentigny, $150.; Bell Tél., $8.01; M.A. Barrett, $125.; Co. Shaw, $14.10; Fleuriste Booth, $15.90; Laberge & Lalonde, $55.29; Sauveur Gosselin, $50.; A. Génier, $5.; Agnès Varin, $6.; Soc. Canadienne de la Croix-Rouge, $250.; Nap. Lafleur, $11.

Le taux de la taxe baissé à 2 mills du dollar d'évaluation dans Godmanchester

Lors de la dernière assemblée du conseil de Godmanchester, tenue mardi le 7 septembre sous la présidence du Maire Charles R. Reid et en présence de tous les conseillers, sauf le conseiller Racine une première motion ayant pour effet d'établir le taux de la taxe à 2 mills du dollar d'évaluation fut adoptée, en dépit d'un amendement voulant que ledit taux demeure à 4 mills comme l'an passé, proposé immédiatement après et défait.

Le conseiller McClatchie rapporta qu'un arbre s'était brisé aux environs de Dewittville, et que Geo. Monique avait coupé et enlevé un arbre mort.

On lut et fila une lettre du département de la Voirie concernant la vitesse limite.

Au sujet d'une demande d'aide présentée par un contribuable au Service Social de Valleyfield, on demanda au secrétaire d'obtenir d'autres informations.

Une lettre du Gouvernement du Québec concernant la campagne d'embellissement en vue d'Expo 67 fut lue et filée.

M. Aimé Leblanc fut engagé comme aide pour sabler les chemins, avec son propre camion et au taux de $6.00 l'heure de travail; il engagera son propre aide au taux de $1.25 l'heure.

Le secrétaire fut autorisé à écrire à M. J.P. Cossette, avocat de Valleyfield, pour l'aviser de retourner les copies des règlements No. 210 et 224, lui enjoignant de ne rien faire à ce sujet, et lui demander de faire parvenir ses frais pour une rencontre précédente avec le Maire et le conseiller Hunter.

On approuva le paiement des comptes suivants: The Huntingdon Gleaner Inc., $12.60; Formes Municipales Ltée, $22.30; M.A. Barrett, $150.; Office Stationers, $17.49; Philps & Bourgon Ltée, $229.70; Ildori Quesnel, $2.

Ann Landers...

Answers your problems

Dear Ann Landers: It happened again today and I'm furious. A busybody at a church meeting who had just heard we adopted a baby said, "Oh you adopted! That's what I call doing it the EASY way!

Only the woman who wants a child desperately and is unable to have one can fully understand the depth of my feelings. First there is the optimism — the hoping and praying, month after month. Gradually the doubts creep in and there's a depression. Finally comes the realization that nothing is going to happen — over. Then the difficult decision to accept someone else's child as your own.

I'm sure you know, Ann, that often, before parents decide to adopt, they go through hell. For me it was four miscarriages and two stillbirths.

I'm not belittling childbirth, but please remind people that when they hear a couple has adopted, it doesn't mean they have done it the "easy" way — A THANKFUL MOTHER.

Dear Mother: Thank you for giving us a better understanding of a problem few people give much thought to unless the problem happens to be their own. Almost every letter I've received from adoptive parents expresses regret about only one thing. They say, "We should have done it sooner!"

Dear Ann Landers: For many years we have had our nationality picnic on a certain day. Food and other items are donated by the city's business men. The proceeds benefit our clubs.

A nice looking teen-age boy volunteered to sell soft drinks. Since I was in charge of the soft drink concession I was happy to have his help.

Toward the end of the afternoon I saw him do something odd. Instead of tearing up the tickets after a sale he slipped them in his pocket. Then he went to his relatives and gave the tickets to them so they could buy raffle chances and other items.

When it came time to go home the boy's family carried off large shopping bags filled with prizes and food. They were in high spirits when they put the sacks of loot into the trunks of their cars and drove off.

I said nothing but I wonder what this boy with the honest face will grow up to be? — DISGUSTED.

Dear Disgusted: Probably a crook, if others he tries to cheat don't show more courage than you did.

When you saw the boy hand the tickets to his relatives you should have explained to him (and to them) that perhaps he didn't know the tickets should be destroyed, not given away. Knowing that he didn't get away with it just might have discouraged future rinky-dinks.

Dear Ann Landers: I have a relative who means well but I need to know if she is out of line or I'm off base.

Mrs. Z who is away on a vacation has been writing little notes to her friends back home. On the back flap of every envelope she scribbles, "Prayer Changes Things in Our Lives."

Several of us who have received envelopes with this message resent it. I am not anti-religious. The fact is, I believe in prayer and I do believe it changes things, but I don't wish to be reminded this way. Your opinion is wanted. — RESENTFUL.

Dear Resentful: All personal messages should be inside the envelope. Tell your friend you've been praying that she will knock it off and since prayer changes things, you hope it will change this annoying habit of hers.

To solve some of the frustrations, disappointments and disillusionments of married life, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "What to Expect from Marriage" enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

tually the goal keeper managed to get his hands on it and save the day for the Rovers. When our boys took the initiative in the 1st half and the Rovers were hard pressed one of the Rover's boy's remarked to his team mates, "Gosh! Seigniory Park couldn't have had their full team out the last time we played them".

On Tuesday, September 7th., our Pee Wee's played their last league fixture of the 1965 season against the C.C.R.A. Warriors. They lost the game by a narrow margin of 2 goals to one. Grant Wilson opened the scoring for our boys in the first minutes of the game his shot through a ruck of players left the goalkeeper unsighted. Play continued from end to end with both teams missing many chances and defences generally on top until late in the 1st half when the Warriors equalized with a very good shot. The warriors 2nd goal, another good shot, was scored early in the 2nd half. Play alternated from one end of the field to the other with no team able to take advantage of their many opportunities. The referee had to blow the final whistle about 5 minutes early due to the fading light. Scott Rogers who has an awkward way of jumping in to tackle was cautioned a number of times by the referee, this certainly put Scott off his game, up till then he was like a Terrier after the ball. Our forward line didn't really "click" at all in this game. Garry Birch on defense is learning rapidly how to kick the ball with his instep and more important he has learned a lot about positional play which is one aspect of the game that is very difficult to instill in the boys of this age.

Ken Jones New President of Seigniory Park Home Owners' Association

By Fergus Horsburgh

The Annual Election Meeting of the Seigniory Park Home Owners Association was held last Wednesday evening at the Clubhouse. Outgoing President Colin Mason was in the chair.

Following disposition of routine business, Mr. Mason, in delivering the President's address spoke of the negotiations he had had with Mayor Joseph Laberge on the Town's expropriating land between St. Francis Boulevard and the junction of Montcalm and Montmorency. The Association is seeking the provision of a pedestrian right of way just West of the Country Club premises. Mr. Mason reported that the Association had played a leading part in setting up a Committee which will seek to bring the Y.M.C.A. to Chateauguay. The Committee is currently scheduled to interview civic and business leaders in the community with a view to establishing the extent of local support to the idea of the Y coming to Chateauguay. The outgoing President recommended that future editions of the Association's monthly news letter be in bilingual form.

The President then asked ex-Acting President John McKay to take over election proceedings. Mr. McKay reminded the meeting of the constitutional requirement that at least two of the executive must be French speaking, or alternatively, two must be English speaking.

Elected President by acclamation, was Mr. Ken Jones of 352 Oliver, Chat. Mr. Jones is a relative newcomer to the area, coming to Chateauguay last April from Verdun. Mr. Jone's election was warmly applauded by members, perhaps reflecting that the newcomers to Seigniory Park are likely to have more urgent problems than householders in the first area to be developed in Seigniory Park.

Also elected by acclamation were: Vice-President, Mr. Warren Hart; Secretary, Mr. Jean-Ives Arsenault; Treasurer, Mr. Ken Lyne.

Ballots were required for the election of three Directors, and voting took place for one directorship per ballot. Elected by majority vote were Mr. Roland Gaudet, Mr. Linn Dullege and Mr. Bob Ellis.

On taking over the ceremonial gavel from the outgoing President, Mr. Ken Jones named the most urgent problem facing the new area is the provision of a paved road on Oliver. It had recently come to light that Town of Chateauguay territory ended, and the Town of Chateauguay Heights started, at a point approximately in the middle of the road on Oliver. This had prevented the Town from hard-topping the road serving four homes. Mr. Jones had been informed that Town Hall was taking steps to rectify the situation, but that a paved road for that part of Oliver within Seigniory Park was unlikely to be provided until next Spring.

Mr. Jones then turned the chairmanship of the meeting back to the outgoing President, who reported to members that the Town's plans for developing Woodbine Park had been delayed. Work on the Park had originally been scheduled to start last July. A Parks Bylaw had been scheduled for first reading the previous (Tuesday) evening at the regular monthly meeting of the Town Council.

It was suggested by Mr. Mason that with the enlarged scope of activities now handled by the Home Owners, the time had now come to change the constitution to a form more suitable to the affiliation of the Big 12 Bowling League and the Seigniory Park Sports Association. This would be a problem for the incoming executive.

ELECTED PRESIDENT

Mr. Ken Jones, who was elected President of the Seigniory Park Home Owners Association last Wednesday. An engineer by profession, Mr. Jones came to Chateauguay last April from Verdun. See story elsewhere in this Gleaner.

Town of Chateauguay To Annex Part of Heights Territory

(By Fergus Horsburgh)

Following a request from the owners of certain land within Heights boundaries, the Town of Chateauguay has set in motion necessary legal measures leading to the annexation of the property from The Town of Chateauguay Heights. The necessary Bye-Law had its first reading at a recent Council meeting and the Town now awaits precise details of the disputed area from the Town surveyor, Mr. Guy Faubert. When copies of the surveyor's plan are available, the Heights Town Council will be requested to pass a similar bye-law.

I understand that the area in question, known locally as the "Trudeau Farms", extends beyond Oliver, largely up to Maple and the Indian Reservation. The main area, comprising lots No's 43, 44 and 47, totals 92.8 arpents (1 arpent equals 36,801.7 square feet). An adjoining smaller parcel is 49,000 square feet in area, which the Town will also seek to annex.

I understand that according to the Cities and Towns Act, 75% of the owners of land may demand annexation by a bordering municipality. The land in question is owned entirely by the Trudeau family. Annexation proceedings have been prompted, I believe, by the Town of Chateauguay discussing recently that a strip of road, within the Seigniory Park Development, and scheduled for paving this summer, was within Heights territory. Work crews were halted, and the disputed section of road remains unpaved while surrounding roads have been completed. Anxious property-owners were frustrated to see their near neighbours supplied with a hard-top surface while they were left with an unfinished stretch. Representations were made to Town Hall, who are now striving to correct the surveying error. It is probable that snow will fall before the legal technicalities can be overcome, but given good-will between interested parties — the two towns, the land-owner and the entrepreneur, Oliver residents are assured of satisfaction early next Spring — or so it appears.

Annexation of the land by the Town of Chateauguay would presumably make possible the erection of further houses on the western side of Olivier.

Amalgamation — Joint Council Meeting Soon

(By Fergus Horsburgh)

I understand from Mayors Joseph Laberge and Richard Sutterlin that a joint meeting of the Town and Centre Councils will be held in the near future to discuss the next move on amalgamation of the two municipalities.

The Centre Council is now ready to process an amalgamation By-Law which would specify eight wards in the new City of Chateauguay, or, at the discretion of a Commissioner appointed by the Minister of Municipal Affairs, six wards. In the case of the Centre's first preference for eight wards, five would be in the existing area of the Centre, and the remaining three wards in the present Town of Chateauguay.

I understand that the Town of Chateauguay Council are standing by their original acceptance of a six-ward City, as agreed at the last Joint Meeting of the two Councils.

The Centre has proposed that it should be obligatory for each prospective candidate for Alderman to be a resident of the ward he seeks to represent. This feature is unlikely to be disputed by the Town. The Centre has also proposed that the election of a Council for the new city be postponed until February 1966.

It is reported that informal agreement has been reached between the two Councils that the equity requirement for Aldermen should be as laid down in the Cities and Towns Act, namely $1000.

2600 Students This Year — Schools Open With Greatly Increased Enrollment

The Chateauguay Protestant Schools opened on Wednesday, September 8th, with a total enrollment of approximately 2600 pupils as compared with last year's September enrollment of 2150, or an increase of over 20 percent. The greatest increase is in the High School, which now includes all of the Grade Seven classes. The Kindergarten classes instituted this year, for the first time, in each of the Elementary Schools also contribute substantially to the increased numbers.

To take care of the increased enrollment, the teaching staff has been increased from 98 to 119. The new teachers assigned to the various schools are as follows:

Julius Richardson School

Mrs. Phyllis Taylor will be in charge of new Kindergarten classes.

Miss June Coleman, Grade 1 and Mrs. Beryl Redcliffe, Grade 3, taught at Mary Gardner School last year and Mrs. Margaret Steeves, Grade 5, transferred from Maple School. Miss Gloria Welden, Grade 2, Miss Valerie King, Grade 4, Miss Gail Godin, Grade 4, and Mr. Rodney Askester, Grade 5, are recent graduates of Macdonald College.

Maple School

Teachers of the new Kindergarten classes are Miss Rosalie Moscovitch, B.A. and Miss Nancy Rafman, B.A.

Miss Sandra Kalezic is a new French Specialist. Miss Sheila Carr, Grade 1, Miss Beryl Amy, Grade 2, and Miss Elka Cohen, Grade 4, have been teaching in other Quebec Schools.

Recent graduates from Macdonald are:

Miss Linda Woo, Grade 3, Miss Janice Greenberg, Grade 3, Miss Jacquelyn Kittson, Grade 4, Mr. Peter Stickney, B.A., Grade 5, Mr. Victor Skripka, Grade 5, and Mr. Ray Mader, Physical Education.

Mary Gardner School

Miss Judy Norton and Miss Judy Peterson, Kindergarten Teachers are recent graduates of Macdonald College.

Miss Noreen Singh and Mrs. Susan Beharry are Special Class teachers and were trained in Trinidad. Mr. Derrik Lambert comes from the Macdonald School Board and will be Librarian for the Elementary Schools. Miss Carlene Webb, Grade 1, Miss Carole-Ann Thompson, Grade 4, come from other Quebec schools. Miss Helen Hawthorn, Grade 1, Miss Marguerite MacDougall, Grade 3, Miss Kathryn Coates, Grade 4, Mr. Christopher Jones, Grade 6, and Mrs. Frances Shuster, B. Sc., Grade 6, are recent graduates of Macdonald College. Mr. David Cude, also a recent graduate of Macdonald, is the Physical Education Instructor for Mary Gardner and Julius Richardson Schools.

$455,000 Parks Bylaw Read

(By Fergus Horsburgh)

The Council of the Town of Chateauguay gave first and second readings to By-Law No. 272 (the Parks By-Law) for $455,000 at last Tuesday's (September 7th) regular Council meeting.

First reading, proposed by Alderman Phil Bonneau and seconded by Alderman Aldor Hebert was passed by seven votes to one. The dissenting vote was cast by Alderman Ernest Dupont. Second reading, proposed by Alderman Paul Garand and seconded by Alderman Paul Merette, was likewise passed by seven votes to one.

The Elector's Meeting, at which ratepayers may object to the Bye-Law, will be held in Town Hall, on Tuesday, September 21st., between the hours of 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. If twenty or more electors object, a public referendum would be held within 30 days. Failing a referendum, a speedy passage of the Bye-Law by the Provincial Government seems assured, and work on the various parks would commence this Fall, for completion in the Spring and early Summer. It appears that should a referendum be required, the starting date for the vast parks development programme would be delayed at least until the Spring.

On an estimated total Town evaluation of $32 million, an initial incremental tax burden of less than 8 cents per $100 evaluation is indicated. As the Town population and evaluation increase over the years, the individual tax assessment will decrease. The estimated 8 cents per $100 is therefore a maximum figure. For a $10,000 house this would mean an increase in taxes of $8 per year. The growth of Chateauyuay in the years ahead, following erection of the second span of Mercier Bridge, already seems assured. The new parks programme is likely further to enhance the attraction of the area, leading to further population growth.

Mr. C. A. Laberge, Town Engineer, told The Gleaner last week-end that provided there is no referendum, the waiting period between seeking and obtaining approval from Quebec will be used to line up provisional contracts for the placing of back-fill in selected areas this Fall.

The Town, either by purchase or as the result of donations of land, already own a large percentage of the area required for the parks and playground expansion, but the purchase or expropriation of further land will be required.

Playground parks in the plan are Seigniory Park, Terrace, Colonia, Mercier, Laberge, Chateauguay North and St. Jean Baptiste Boulevard.

Also included in the By-Law are various "Green Parks" with only a minimum area set aside for very small children's play. The main theme of the "Green Parks" will be of a rest area, with paths for strolling and park benches. Included in these are Woodbine Park, Ranger Park in Terrace, Longueil Park behind St. George's Church and Ricard Park on Ashmore.

The borrowing under the By-Law is scheduled to be repaid in thirty years. Exact terms of the borrowing, including the rate of interest payable, are not yet known, and will be determined by the state of the financial market when the debentures are placed.

I understand that the Town plans expropriating the old school building on Salaberry for an extension to Laberge Park.

PERSPECTIVE

GO, GO, Go Back

by Russ Faughnan

This is the time of year when thousands of youngsters are feeling the true meaning of that popular song "What kind of fool am I?" They are having second thoughts. They are on the outside looking in. With perhaps a tinge of envy. These are this year's crop of drop-outs. Shocking as it may seem they number in the thousands. They are perhaps looking at their friends in school, noting that THEY have time for play, time for dances, time to enjoy life. A few of them might even entertain that nagging thought about loss of future pay. The conservative estimate is one thousand dollars per year in reduced earnings for each year of schooling lost. Is it worth it?

Of course, a youngster might consider that he now has a few dollars in his pocket. That pay cheque looked big at first. Then he discovered the facts of life. Transportation, clothes, lunches, rent (if his parents have any brains), it just doesn't leave much. And your non-working friends expect you to be a big spender. Is it worth it?

Then there are the parents. Sure, the kid bugged you. They can be that way. Don't like school — can't concentrate — poor marks — teacher has it in for me etc. ad nauseum. You just gave up. You did all you could. Nuts and phooey. You did all you were willing to do and nothing more.

Is it worth it?

Right about now there are some brave youngsters willing to see the light. They are over the brink. Waiting, almost begging to be pushed into going back. For most, it will be a last chance. And it is not too late to give it to them. Push, plead, beg, persuade. Show you care. If this chance is missed, you will regret it the rest of your life. Drop out and parent alike, you will regret it.

Is it worth it?

CHATEAUGUAY SCHOOL TEACHER VACATIONS IN BRITAIN

STIRLING, Scotland: Miss Sheila Carr (left) of 107 McKee Street in Chateauguay, emigrated to Canada eight years ago from Birmingham, England. While visiting her grandparents there this summer, she took the opportunity to visit such nearby places of interest as the revolutionary new cathedral at Coventry, and Shakespeare's birthplace Stratford-upon-Avon, where she saw a performance of TIMON OF ATHENS at the Royal Shakespeare Theatre. Our photograph shows Sheila, a teacher at Maple Elementary School, during a trip to Scotland with Miss Patricia Vokey of Verdun. In the background stands the forbidding fortress of Stirling Castle, where Mary was crowned Queen of the Scots in 1542, at the age of six months. During a day's drive from Edinburgh, the girls also visited the beautiful hills and lochs of the Trossachs, including world-famous Loch Lomond. Edinburgh at this time is staging its 19th International Festival of Music and Drama, drawing visitors from all over the globe.

Chateauguay News Notes

By Fergus Horsburgh

✓ Trophy for "Swimmer of the Year" at C.P.O.A. Pool was awarded to 10-year-old Margaret Irvine of Lemoyne Street. Congratulations!

✓ Both Town and Centre Police report a very quiet week — purely routine matters.

✓ The Radar in the Town is producing results. During August and part of September one hundred and fifty cases of traffic violators were "nabbed" in the act. Warnings were posted in this column a few weeks ago.

✓ Another warning from Police of the Town — this concerning Dog Licenses. In 1964 over 400 licenses were issued — this year so far only 280. The dog population has increased and there are many running about loose — so if Fido or Rover fails to show up for supper, you may find him in the local pokey. See By-law 136 Article 1.

✓ The Provincal Government is building a cement stairway leading from Salaberry Blvd., up to the new bridge. Some months ago the Government claimed that lighting on the bridge was the responsiblity of the Town — however pedestrians desiring to cross over the bridge had no access, except the roundabout road for auto traffic, hence the stair. There are sidewalks already on both sides of the bridge.

✓ Salaberry Blvd. between Lang and St. Paul will soon be brighter after sundown. This stretch is usually particularly dark — however Shawinigan has been authorized to add one lamp of 4,000 lumens with an 8 foot bracket. Also three existing lamps with 4 foot brackets will be replaced with lamps of same intensity but 8 foot brackets.

✓ Salaberry Blvd. between Pie XII School and Gilmour will soon have double white lines painted on black top. Also necessary white lines on Gilmour near Salaberry. The same on St. Francis Blvd., from Maple to Lafayette.

✓ A "SLOW" sign will be erected in front of Pie XII School on Salaberry.

✓ The regular Council meeting of Town of Chateauguay was held on Sept. 14th. Watch this column in next weeks' issue for details.

✓ J. Sarto Blais, Sec.-Treas. of Chateauguay Centre on vacation. News of their last Council meeting will appear in next week's issue.

Memorandum From McLeod

Correspondent:
Mrs. Edith Bate,
282 McLeod Ave. 692-9453
Route Boy:
Peter MacLean,
246 McLeod Ave. 692-9669

All sorts of bits and pieces this week because the busy busy busy season has started with a BANG — the telephone is always ringing (NOT WITH THE NEWS FOR THIS COLUMN).

I am continually darting here and there in the car, and already the panic button is about to be pushed. Here it is only Sept. 15th and all the lovely leisure of the Summertime has been almost forgotten.

Anniversaries: A belated but sincere Happy Anniversary to Helen and George Airlie, of Mountain Ave., in the Heights. They celebrated their 26th on Sept 9th.

And to dear friends and neighbors Rose and Bill Young of McLeod Ave. — a sincere wish to you both for many more happy years together. We're such good friends that I forgot to ask what year they are celebrating but I do know the date — Sept. 13th. Forgive me.

Birthdays next — and I meant to put this one in last week but you all know me by now: head like a tack. Heather Lynn Parker was one year old on Sunday, Sept. 12th, 1965. A very Happy Birthday to you, Heather from your grandparents in Chateauguay. Here I must explain. Heather lives with her Dad and mother (Lt. Roy Parker of Royal Canadian Navy and "Bootsie of Darmouth, Nova Scotia) and she is the first grandchild of Bill and Mona Parker of Desrochers St. in the Station. Heather's mother is keeping a scrapbook for her, and this item is to go into that book—so that in years to come Heather may leaf through the pages and read her own life story.

Another birthday, I can't let go by is of Mrs. Dulcie Donaldson of Austin Ave. in the Heights. She celebrated last Friday Sept. 10th with a little tea party for her birthday guests. Not only Happy Birthday but also Get Well wishes to you, Mrs. Donaldson.

David Rees of Lang St., Colonia, will be 11 years old on Sept. 20th. David has just returned from Wales in time to enter Grade 6 in Maple School and I think a trip like that was a pretty swell birthday gift. Happy Birthday David!

Mrs. Pat Hollingdale of St Francis Blvd., has also been travelling across the Atlantic by air. She and her two little daughters, 6 year old Stephanie and 5 and a half month old Belinda had a lovely visit with the family back home in England.

Such a happy event recently in the Leonard Bourgeois home on St. Marc Street. Twins, boy and girl were born on Sept. 2nd to Mr. and Mrs. Bourgeois. They now have 3 girls and 3 boys and that's quite a good sized family these days. Congratulations.

Another happy event (they used to call it blessed) is the birth of a girl to the Laberges of Lemoyne Street on Monday morning, Sept. 13th. Also congratulations to you.

Margaret Irvine of Lemoyne St. is the proud holder — for the period of one year — of a lovely trophy from CPOA pool. She received the award for being "Swimmer of the Year". She is very proud and happy and I'm sure she deserved it.

THE HEIGHTS IN NEWS

Heidi

Hi, looks like the Heights is rather quiet during week days now. It's back to school for the kids and peace for the mothers.

Another event that's back is the meetings of the 1st Chateauguay Brownie Pack. They are once again meeting at Julius Richardson School, 25 Abbotsford Avenue, Chateauguay Heights. The meetings are from 7 p.m. to 8.30 p.m. each Monday evening.

The requirements are being a girl and being 7 years old as of September 15, 1965. That isn't asking very much, especially for the fun that everyone has. It's an experience for every girl at that age and will teach her to get along with other people, so come on, let's see a good turnout — September 20th.

Last week at the Rec "M.G. and the Escorts" played for the teen dance.

As always they went over big with a great crowd. This Friday the "Haunted" will be playing and again it promises to be a good show and dance.

ST. ANDREW'S NOTES

by Fergus Horsburgh

With the Sunday School reopening in Memorial Hall last Sunday when a Rally Day Worship Service was held, the normal schedule at St. Andrew's United has pretty well been re-established. Still missing at the organ, however, is Mr. Alun Hughes, now on a business trip in Europe. Assistant organist Mrs. Lee Gilbert has taken over the direction of choir practices and the music at Morning Service. Nursery service for small children during Worship Service was re-instated two Sundays ago, and the Call to Worship has reverted to the normal hour of 11 a.m.

Church Treasurer, Mr. R. W. Raine,, is finding it very difficult to fulfil his function now that he is spending a large portion of his work week outside of Montreal.

Reading books for each Department have been issued to the children by their respective Sunday School teachers. Children from 3-6 years of age meet for classes each Sunday in Memorial Hall, with all older pupils meeting in the Sanctuary at the same hour. All classes are dismissed at 10.40 a.m.

An Adult Study Group is being organized with the assistance of the Sunday School Services. Eleven 1 1/2 hour sessions will be held before Christmas, commencing next Sunday evening, at 7.30 p.m. Copies of the Basic Book and Study Guide are available at the Church Office. Christian Education is for all the family.

A plain wooden cross made to specifications approved by the Church Mission was erected in the Sanctuary last week, and will be dedicated at next Sunday's morning service.

The Women's Prayer Fellowship was scheduled to meet yesterday (Tuesday) morning in the Manse.

The Explorer Group is planning a hike in the Heights woods next Sunday. The expedition, for girls aged 9, 10 and 11, is due to leave the church at 9.30 a.m. Girls should bring their own lunch a plastic bag and a glass jar.

LETTER FROM SEIGNIORY PARK

(by FERGUS HORSBURGH)

The big event in Seigniory Park last week was the annual election meeting of the Home Owners Association in the Clubhouse. For the first time at a monthly meeting, numbers present from the new area above the Transmission Line far exceeded the "veterans" from the first phase area. An account of the meeting is to be found elsewhere in this issue of the Gleaner.

A dozen or so Home Owners ladies got together in the Chappells home one night last week to work on decorations for the Home Owners Fall Dance. A recent meeting of the Activities Committee voted in favour of a Mexican theme for the Dance.

Commercial artist Keith Strike, with assistance from Martha, is doing the designing, and the rest of the voluntary help do clever things with scissors and paint brushes. Martha says she hasn't seen Keith enjoying himself so much on a job in years.

St. Francis Boulevard became quite civilized last week with the laying of turf on the centre island.

Providing there is no referendum on the Parks Bye Law which had its first and second readings at last week's Council meeting, preliminary work on developing Woodbine Park is expected to start in October.

After a two-hour discussion two week-ends ago, the outgoing executive of the Home Owners Association voted unanimously in favour of requesting the Town of Chateauguay to expropriate the entire area of vacant land between the Clubhouse and St. Francis, Montcalm, Montgomery. This is in relation to the Home Owners' endeavous to obtain a right-of way for pedestrians passing between the corner of Montcalm, Montgomery and St. Francis Boulevard.

I was rather puzzled at last Wednesday's Home Owners' meeting to hear that fourteen Seigniory Park residents had objected to the placing of a road sign at the corner of St. Francis and Woodbine. What is the nature of the objection? Frankly, I just don't see what business it is of anyone other than the property-owner himself.

I am told that the Radar Warning signs on St. Francis are by no means make-believe, and that one couple on the corner of Woodbine and Seigniory Drive missed being picked up by a narrow one tenth of a mile per hour.

An interested (non-member) spectator of John McKay's performance as Officer Commanding Elections at the Home Owners meeting last Wednesday was John's mother-in-law, Mrs. Oscar Miess. I had the pleasure of meeting Mrs. Miess during a vote-counting lull, and she seemed to be enjoying the entertainment provided, particularly the "Let ME run the election, please" attitude adopted by John. Joyce's parents have been visiting Seigniory Park from their home in Florida.

A meeting of the Home Owner's new executive was called for last night. This will be the first such meeting I have not attended in two years.

Rhoda Rowntree tells me that she was favourably placed, on the corner of Craik and St. Francis, to see the large number of speeding cars stopped by the Police last Sunday, thanks to the new radar trap.

Mrs. Nadon of Northern Circle is quite ill in hospital following surgery. Mrs. Nadon has been sick for quite some time, and we hope she will be back home soon, fully recovered.

In the Big 12 Bowling League, High Triples last week were won by Rita Foster with 385 and Dave McCarthy with 515. It was disappointing to have eleven regulars miss the first night, especially as they had said they would play. Spares would have been available if the Committee had only known.

The Gibbs have had young Geoff's tricycle with the fringe on top returned under quite mysterious circumstances after a search of the area, the Gibbs had spotted in the Centre, the blue station-wagon which had been reported as having played a part in the theft, and had reported the location to the Police.

Andrew McKay and Garry Rowntree have been awarded the Bronze Medallion for the Life Saving Course by the Royal Life Saving Society.

If there are other cases of mysterious disappearance of moveables from homeowners property in Seigniory Park, I would be glad to have details at 691-1581. If the Gibbs were able to get the fringe on the top back by showing a little initiative, perhaps others can do likewise.

Seigniory Park Soccer

Not a very good week for Seigniory Park Soccer teams; 4 losses and no wins. Three of the four games were lost by the narrow margin of one goal, the fourth game was the Mosquito challenge cup semi-final against the older, bigger and more experienced St. Joachim Hearts, this we lost by 6 goals to one. In the opening minutes of the game David Maclean of Seigniory Park opened the scoring with a good solo effort. Midway through the 1st half the Hearts equalized with at least one player yards offside and a similar goal was scored when Hearts netted their 4th just before half time. The second half was played mainly in our half of the field, our defense worked like Trojans and used the offside trap very effectively allowing this strong Hearts attack to score only twice more. We have some very good prospects in this Mosquito team for next season. One incident marred the game, the Hearts supporters used really foul language, with women and youngsters within earshot, when one of the Hearts boy's was ordered by the referee to leave the field for an infringement. This sort of thing we can well do without in minor sports. Our boys, on the whole, played very well and are certainly no discredit to the area they represent.

Our Mosquito's lost a close game to the Terrace Terriers by 2 goals to 1. The teams were evenly matched except that the Terriers had the edge on fighting spirit. The majority of our boys will not go in to tackle and fight for the ball, this is all that is wrong with the team at present. David Maclean and Robbie Vincent came close to scoring on a number of occasions in the 2nd half. Seigniory Park were leading by one goal at half time but they seemed to run completely out of steam in the 2nd half and allowed the eager Fighting Terriers to take the initiative and score 2 goals. Saturday morning our boys lost another close game, this time against Shamrock Rovers by a score of 1 to 0. Our boys were unlucky in as much as the ball was lying on our opponents goal line for a period of about 15 secs. while the boys scrambled for possession, another two inches and the hall would have been completely over the line for a goal but not one player could get his boot on the ball. Even

Soccer Highlights

Provincial Tournament of Champions: Sat. Sept. 11.

Atomes:

Chateauguay Hearts vs St. Genevieve.

It was a tragedy for our Atomes the way in which they lost this game which they dominated from start to finish. Our opponents who never had a single shot at goal won on the toss of a coin. Under the championship rules, if at the end of regular time the game is tied then two periods of overtime shall be played. If at the end of overtime the score is still tied the winner shall be the team having the greater number of corner kicks and in the event that the teams are levels on corner kicks then the game shall be decided on the toss of a coin. Hard luck, Atomes.

Pee Wee: Chateauguay Colts vs. St. Emile Kiwanis.

This game was a thriller keeping everyone in suspense until the final whistle. Our boys won the game on corner kicks after going to extra time with a final score of 2 goals apiece. The Montreal team were by far the more polished soccer side, some of their combination play was a delight to watch. The skill our boys lacked was amply made up for by their enthusiasm and hard tackling. The score at half time of regular play was 1-0 for the Montreal boys. Early in the 2nd half the Montreal goalkeeper fumbled a shot and in the ensuing scramble our boys levelled the score. They went ahead later in the period and held their advantage until a matter of seconds before the final whistle when the ever dangerous Kiwanis equalized. During the end to end struggle in the exciting overtime periods neither team took full advantage of their opportunities so our boys ended up winners by virtue of their advantage in corner kicks. Well done both teams for an exciting and sporting game.

Midgets: Chateauguay Rovers vs. Quebec City.

This was a very cheerful and sporting group of players and officials that came from Quebec City; people like these are a credit to the game and to Minor Sports. This was another ding-dong struggle with neither team really being on top at any stage of the game. The Chateauguay inside forwards were on the weak side otherwise this was a very good team. Both defences were on top throughout the game with the big Quebec City centre half dominating the whole of the field, he covered well in defense and was also up with the attack. Chateauguay opened the scoring early in the first half, the Quebec goalkeeper dropped a hard shot, our forwards did not give him a second chance. The Chateauguay left winger put many perfect centres right across our opponents' goal but the remainder of our forwards were not in position to convert. Chateauguay was awarded a penalty shot midway through the first half, the Quebec goalkeeper made a brilliant save on a well-placed shot, which should have had a little more power behind it. Shortly afterwards Quebec was awarded a penalty which they missed on the first attempt but scored on the second attempt when the shot had to be re-taken due to one of the Chateauguay boys moving into the penalty area before the ball was kicked, so this tied the score at 1-1. The end to end battle continued until about the 20th minute when Chateauguay went ahead making the score 2-1 and this was the score at the end of the game. Special mention must be made of the Chateauguay goalkeeper, who made some brilliant saves, of the outside left and of the centre half of Chateauguay and of the

VALLEYFIELD NEWS

By P. Stewart

On Saturday, August 28th., a mixed tournament was held at the Moco Lawn Bowling Club in Valleyfield. There were thirty-two rinks which participated in this event. Each rink was guaranteed three games, the winners being determined by the total wins plus highest total difference of score in these games. The winners of the day were as follows:—First place — Lachine Rink skipped by M. Craig with a total of three wins plus twenty-five. Second place — Verdun Rink skipped by J. Johnson scoring three wins plus fifteen. Third Place — Verdun Rink skipped by J. Brodie scoring three wins plus ten. Fourth place — Westmount Rink skipped by S. Knot scoring two wins, one tie plus eleven. Fifth place — Lachine Rink skipped by M. Elliot scoring two wins plus twenty-eight. The sixth place was a tie between two Lachine rinks skipped by A. McCauley and F. Marsden with a total score of two wins plus twenty.

Mr. Whitehead, President of the Men's Bowling, welcomed and thanked those who had attended, then called upon Mr. K. Mayoh to present the prizes to the winners.

This was a very enjoyable day, and gratifyingly, the most successful for many years, as regretfully, four entries had to be turned down due to a full house.

Appreciation is extended to the men who worked to make this day such a success, and also to the ladies who kindly donated their services by assisting in the kitchen.

The Ladies' Lawn Bowling Club held their annual invitation tournament on Tuesday, August 31st. Fourteen rinks participated in this event. Each rink was guaranteed three, games, the system of scoring being total wins plus the highest total difference in score.

The first game got underway at 10:30, following this, the ladies retired to the club house for lunch. At the far end of the hall was a long table centered with a huge vase of lovely flowers, which was surrounded by the fine display of prizes; flowered sheets with matching pillowcases and blankets. On the left hand side of the hall was the "HERO" table of the day, as this contained a superb variety of foods consisting of potato salads, tossed salads, colorful jellied-salads, ham, tongue, and other cold meats, an assortment of pickles, and the delicacy of any menu — French bread. The table was centered with beautiful flowers placed within a silver flower container.

Following this appetising treat, the next two games got underway. At the finale of the tournament, the ladies then enjoyed a friendly social gathering in the club, thoroughly appreciating the warm tea and squares following the two latter games which were played in the rain and dampness.

Mrs. J. McFarlane, President of the Ladies' Bowling Club, welcomed the visitors and thanked them for attending the tournament. She then called upon Mrs. J.H. Stewart, Rink Chairman to present the prizes to the winners. The first place was taken by the Valleyfield rink skipped by Mrs. McFarlane, third, Mrs. E. Neadney, Second, Mrs. S. Grace, and Lead, Mrs. H. McDowell, scoring three wins plus nine. The second place was won by a team from Riverside, skipped by Mrs. E. A. Rowell, third, Mrs. A. L. Norton, second, Mrs. S. Hickey, and lead, Mrs. C. S. Saunders, scoring two wins plus 10.

Regardless of tne very unsettled weather, the day was nevertheless a great success.

Appreciation is forwarded to the many who assisted to make this day such a success, Mr. McAlpine, Mr. Boyd, those responsible for the fine display of flowers, to all the ladies who voluntarily gave their service in providing the food, assisting in the kitchen, serving, and in charge of the collection of entries.

Get well wishes are extended to Mr. C. Gurnham, who is critically ill and in the hospital.

Get well wishes are extended to Mrs. R. Ross. Mrs. Ross has always been an active Ladies' Lawn Bowling Invita- she was greatly missed at the Ladies Lawn Bowling Invitation Bonspiel, as you could always count on "RUBY" as a dependent worker. She was inquired about considerably by the many outside competitors, who were most sympathetic to hear that she was ill.

Speedy recovery is extended to "wee' Luke Godbout, who is now nicely recovering following a severe illness with jaundice. Unfortunately, Luke had to miss his last ball game with the Cardinal Pee Wees. I bet he loved his doctor for this prescription!!

Mr. and Mrs. K. Anderson and Glenda were weekend guests at the home of Kenneth's parent's, Mr. and Mrs. R. Anderson.

Kindly accept correction and apology from my last write up — Mrs. E. Robson enjoyed a few days visit at the home of Mr. Martin Corcoran in Greenfield Park.

Mrs. W. Wilson of Nitro left for a trip to Scotland on Thursday, Sept. 9th. Unfortunately, this cannot be classed in the category of a pleasure trip, as this was an emergency flight due to Mrs. Wilson receiving word that her father was in the hospital and critically ill. She will be staying at the home of her mother, Mrs. Shaw in Paisley, Scotland. Before departure, her many friends wished her the very best of luck.

Sympathy is extended to the Stewart family at the passing away of Miss Etta Stewart following a lengthy illness. Miss Stewart is a very well known long standing resident of Howick, and the sister of Mr. John W. Stewart of Valleyfield.

Get well wishes are forwarded to Mrs. Ellel, who is at the moment in the Barrie Memorial Hospital, Ormstown.

Mrs. Waddell spent a few days visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stewart.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Gaston, Linda and David, of Chateauguay, were weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Calvert.

A delicious chicken supper was held at the Venise Bowling Alley on Sunday past, for the youngsters who had played in the Little League Pee Wees this year. This was a very exciting affair for the boys, as seeing that the baseball had finished for the season, it was a real treat for them to be able to get together with their baseball buddies once again. I repeat what I previously stated in my column, much credit is extended to the coaches and directors who take such an interest in these youngsters.

OBITUARIES

The Late K. H. Anderson

Funeral services were held in Valleyfield, on Wednesday, Sept. 8th., for Keith H. Anderson, a well known and respected man, who died very suddenly at his home in Pointe Claire, on Saturday, Sept. 4th., at the age of 53.

Mr. Anderson was born in Valleyfield; the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Anderson. At the completion of his schooling, Keith moved to Montreal and resided there until the outbreak of war, whereupon he joined the services, spending the majority of these years overseas on active duty.

Following the war and to date, Mr. Anderson became a long standing and valuable employee at the Canadian Aviation Electronics Ltd., Montreal, — Cote de Liesse Division — He also maintained many activities and interests, several of these being the Masons, assistant Cub Master, and the Canadian Legion.

Mr. Anderson is survived by his wife, the former Ruth Isman, a twelve year old son Arthur, three sisters, Olive, Margaret and Georgena, and two brothers Sidney and Harold.

Sympathy is extended to the family in the loss of a dear husband, father and brother.

The Late Mrs. Abram

Sympathy is extended to the Abram family at the passing away of a dear mother on Sunday, Sept. 5th., aged 78 years. Funeral services were held on Wednesday, Sept. 8th.

Mrs. Abram was a resident of Valleyfield since the year 1943, and was greatly respected as a fine lady and admired for her devoted services to church work. During these years, Mrs. Abram was an active member in the afternoon group of the U.C.W., also holding several offices in past years in the Ladies Afternoon Group.

Mrs. Abram is survived by her two daughters, Evelyn and Martha.

Well, friends, as I sit here in deep thought, gazing upon a beautiful bouquet of mums which center my table, I gather that further news is nil, so, once again I bid you "ADIEU" until next week.

High School

The following teachers have transferred from the Elementary Schools as class teachers for Grade VII — Mr. P. Royle, Mr. M. Jorden, Mr. J. Klemba, and Miss J. Smith, from Maple School; Mrs. N. Wolff and Mr. K. Atkins, from Mary Gardner. Miss L. Iarrera and Mr. J. Lingard have been added from Macdonald College. Mr. R. Fullerton has returned to the staff after completing two years on loan to the Armed Forces Schools in France and Germany. Mr. V. Bush and Miss M. Morrison have been added to the French Department, while Mrs. J. Furcall and Mr. H. Bye, have joined the English Department. Mr. D. Evans and Mr. H. Kamper, are augmenting the Science Staff. Mrs. A. Jacobs is now part of the Home Economics Department, while Mr. K. Dixon has been engaged to teach Electricity in the Industrial Arts Department, and Mr. I. Plewinski has been added to the Physical Education group.

In keeping with the rapid developments in Quebec Education, the Chateauguay Protestant School Comimssion is providing many new facilities and making several changes and advances in the educational programmes of the schools.

A 15 classroom addition is presently being constructed at Maple School. At Julius Richardson School, a spacious Kindergarten classroom has been provided and considerable paving has been done on the play areas. Two new Kindergarten classrooms and a Library have been constructed at Mary Gardner and sections of the playground levelled and paved.

Among the new educational programmes being instituted or in progress are: Kindergartens in all Elementary Schools, the Cuisenaire Method for teaching arithmetic starting in certain Grade Ones, a full time Librarian for the Elementary Schools, additional Special Classes; Reading Programme (grouping) extended to Grades 5 and 6, all Grade 7 pupils transferred to the High School.

In the High School, subject promotion has been adapted to be used in conjunction with individual timetabling. Team Teaching will be used as a teaching aid, and the guidance services have been increased in scope and made into a Department. This service will utilize teacher counsellors, as well as Guidance specialists. With the incorporation of Grade VIIs into the High School, a programme is being worked out for a Junior (VII-VIII) and Senior (IX, X, XI) High School level.

Remedial Reading Groups have been organized for the first time at the High School level, while the remedial French classes started last year will be continued.

Finally, a new partial course in Electricity has been added to the woodworking programme, and the commercial subjects are now complete with the addition of an Office Practice Course.

The Chateauguay Protestant School Commission is to be highly commended for its foresight, initiative, and leadership, in keeping their schools well in the forefront among Quebec Educational Systems in these critical times of educational progress and development.

News from Howick

Miss Clair Ann Rich spent the weekend with her grandmother Mrs. Ann Rich, leaving from there to go to St. Bruno, where she teaches.

Mrs. Janet Reddick and Mrs. H. Reddick spent a week visiting relatives at Picton, Belleville, Wellington and Campbellford, Ont.

Mrs. Wm. Hudson and Karen spent a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warner of Lachine, at their cottage at Seely's Bay, Ont.

Mrs. Cecil Younie, Margaret, Elaine and Harry enjoyed a 10-day holiday at Campbellford, Ont. with trips to Guelph and Toronto to visit sisters. Roy joined them for the final weekend and the drive home.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Esdon, Cornwall, Ont. and Miss May Orr, Weyland, Mass. were dinner guests on Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Craig.

Mrs. W. Stewart spent the holiday weekend in Quebec City and visited Lac St. Joseph in the Laurentians.

Dave and Carol Bates of Quebec City spent the past week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Tennant. They are leaving for Oswego, N.Y., where Dave will attend State University College for the course for Bach. of Science in Industrial Arts Education.

Mrs. Mary Button, Lucknow, Ont., is spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kerr and other relatives. Her mother, Mr. Kerr's sister, was born at the old home in Fertile Creek. On Thursday, Mrs. Button will sail for Ireland on the Franconia.

REUNION

A party of unusual interest was held on Wednesday last week, when cousins from distant places met for a day at the home of Miss Flora Currie and Mr. Norman Tebby, Fertile Creek Rd.

The guests were: Mrs. Agnes Leitch of Aberdeen, Washington, who in her 90th year flew east several months ago to visit relatives and will return on Sept. 18; her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Stackhouse, Ormstown; Mrs. Flora Trick in her 90th year also, drove from Toronto with her daughter Marjorie, Mrs. Smart. They were joined by two cousins of the next generation, Mrs. Percy Lawrence of Dorval and Howick, and Mrs. Ernest Martin of Dewittville.

What a wonderful day they had together! Dinner and tea were served by their hostess, Miss Currie, and they talked about all the things that interest relatives who have not met for years.

Mrs. Trick and her daughter stayed overnight, before making the return trip.

Barbecue

The weather on Saturday night was ideal for the Curling Club Bar-B-Q. The old reliable, homemade-to-order-grill worked to perfection and chefs Ralph Reddick and Freddie Letto (Chairman of the Social Committee) with a flock of assistants were kept busy for several hours. 260 steaks were served, with potatoes, vegetables, tossed salad, apple pie and ice cream.

Mrs. Archie Peddie won the door prize, a transistor radio.

We are glad to learn that Mr. Adolphe Bourcier has returned home from the Barrie Memorial Hospital and is feeling better.

Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Beaudin of St. Jean, visited in Howick last week. They were overnight guests of Miss Laurianna Desgroseilliers and early morning callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tellier.

Miss Desgroseilliers is spending a holiday of 2 weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Beaudin at St. Jean.

The Cubs will open the new season on Monday, Sept. 20th. The leaders hope to see all the boys that night and new cubs are welcome to join the ranks.

An air of sadness hung over the community last week as the news spread that death had removed three fine people from our midst.

Mr. W. H. Brady at 74 had reached the allotted span of life but was active and occupied continually with good works that involved young and old. His death occurred early Monday morning. Later that day, Sept. 6, Lorne Templeton son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Templeton passed away at the Neurological Hospital, Montreal, 12 days after he suffered a skull fracture. Lorne was 14 years of age, a bright student, member of the United Church Sunday School, and active in Boy Scout and 4-H Club work. He was beloved by a large family circle and many young friends with whom he worked and played.

Throngs of friends visited the McGerrigle Funeral Home and attended the funeral services held at Howick United Church, Mr. Brady's funeral was held on Wed. at 1 p.m. Lorne Templeton's on Thursday at 2:30 p.m.

On Friday evening Sept. 10, Miss Ethel (Ettie) Stewart died at Mrs. Preston's Home. Miss Stewart was very active for most of her 83 years but she had been an invalid for 7 or 8 years. Mrs. Preston and Mrs. Russell Stewart did everything possible to make her happy and comfortable during her last illness.

Ettie as she was fondly known by her many friends was the first president of the Howick Ladies' Curling Club and highly regarded as a skip both locally and farther afield.

She was a loyal friend, and many who knew her gathered at the McGerrigle Funeral Home on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 12, to attend the funeral service

Her Minister, the Rev. W.M. Brown, who had visited her faithfully through the years, conducted the service. At the close Mr. Brown sang the beautiful solo, "Under His Wings".

Among the mourners were, Mr. Ross Stewart, Mrs. May Anderson, Montreal; Mr. Ben Scott and William Scott, Grand'Mere; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Hilliard Anderson, Mrs. A. C. Neate, of St. Lambert; Mrs. Mabel Smith, Brockville, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Blampiel, Lyn, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart and family from Valleyfield; Mrs. Tena Waddell, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McKee, Havelock, Mr. and Mrs. Angus Orr, Barrington.

Mr. Sidney Stewart joined these relatives at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Stewart, following the interment service at Georgetown Cemetery. Deepest Sympathy is extended to all these families who were bereaved during the past week.

Two of the happiest people in Howick are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tellier, who have returned from a motor trip across Canada, taken to celebrate the 25th anniversary of their marriage. They left on Aug. 3, accompanied by two daughters, Yvette and Cecile. They travelled via Ottawa and Sudbury spending the first night at Nairn Centre a mining town, the second night they reached Kenora in the beautiful lake district of North Ontario, the third night, 2 miles out of Winnipeg, then Regina and Saskatoon. They left Saskatoon in the early morning and drove to North Battleford for breakfast. There they saw a Museum of old tractors, tread mills and other machinery used by the pioneers. Finally on the sixth day they reached Bonnyville, a beautiful clean modern city and Mr. Tellier's brother Albert lives on a nearby farm. They received a warm welcome and were treated royally for almost 2 weeks. There were fishing trips and steak barbecues at Cold Lake, Moose Lake and Muriel Lake. Side trips were taken to Edmonton to visit nieces, Mr. and Mrs. Riopell and Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Finnan, and Mr. Tellier's nephew Gerald Tellier, who is a student at the University of Edmonton. Storyland Valley Zoo was viewed with interest. From there they went to a new city, St. Paul North-east of Edmonton to visit Mr. and Mrs. Robert Piquet, half-sister of Mr. Tellier, then back to Bonnyville before they headed back to Edmonton. Mr. Riopell accompanied them as far as Jasper Park where they saw Mietee Springs (lovely restaurant) and Mr. Tellier took a trip on the Sky Tram. They spent the night in Jasper Park Camp where they met people from many distant places and some were happy to have conversation in French.

Overnight stops were made at Revelstoke and Hope, then finally Victoria, where they spent two days. At Nanaimo they visited a plywood factory, of special interest to Mr. Tellier — a builder. They stayed overnight at Fort Victoria Cabins and attended Mass at the Victoria Cathedral on Sunday, before driving along Marine Road where they saw the Undersea Gardens and had dinner at the Oak Bay Marina.

A brief visit at Vancouver then east again using the border route 3, with overnight stops at Hope and Anks, visisted Michel a coal mining town, then Lethbridge, Swift Current, Moose Jaw and south to Estevan and U. S. route 5, with an overnight stop at Sault St. Marie, U. S. before crossing the New International Bridge into Canada. (While travelling No. 5 they were impressed by the rich farming country, where they saw fat plums, juicy apples, peaches, grapes, etc.) Once again on No. 17 they stopped for the last night near Sudbury, then home by Pembroke. They stopped sometimes to see paper mills, arriving home in time for supper on Aug. 28.

They remember in particular the wonderful entertainment provided by relatives in Bonnyville, scenery at Jasper Park, Banff, Victoria, the ferry trips, sunshine all the way, and the hospitality of people right across the country.

They arrived home with gifts from western relatives to mark their 25th wedding anniversary which fell on Saturday ,Sept. 11, but that evening their immediate family, Mrs. Tellier's Mother, Mrs. Jenneau and a few friends, arrived with a grand wedding dinner (turkey) ready to serve. There was a pretty Book Cake decorated in silver, and a large basket of 25 red roses and yellow and white Mums. Mrs. Jenneau presented a gift of money and their children a substantial sum of money to buy an electric stove.

Other friends arrived for the evening and presented gifts of money. There was dancing and talk about their trip.

On Sunday the Telliers arrived home from Mass to find another party in the making. Mr. Tellier relatives had arrived from St. Melanie, Joliette. The family and guests set the table and 14 sat down for dinner.

The Tellier family, Arthur, Yvette, Cecile, Catherine, Therese and John planned and prepared for the weekend festivities, which made their parents very happy.

Wedding

Welburn — Thibodeau

A pretty wedding took place in Howick United Church, on Saturday, Sept. 4, at 3 p.m. when Anne Joyce Thibodeau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Thibodeau of Bathhurst, N. B., was united in marriage to William Henry Welburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Welburn of Howick and St. Lambert. The Rev. E. C. Armstrong of Montreal officiated at the ceremony, assisted by the student-minister Mr. Wm. Hudson. The groom's uncle Mr. John Laurin sang The Lord's Prayer and I'll Walk Beside You, accompanied by the organist Mrs. Russell Stewart who played the wedding music. Baskets of gladioli decorated the chancel.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. Darryl Tebbutt of Trenton, Ont. was charming in a long gown of white velvet, with a shoulder length veil of tulle illusion, held in place by a white velvet bow. She carried a nosegay of yellow roses.

Her matron of honour was Dorothy Anne Horton, sister of the groom, who wore a long gown of powder blue velvet, trimmed with white velvet, and carried a bouquet of wine gladioli.

Mr. Elton Currie of Montebello was groomsman and the usher was Mr. Keith Horton of Montreal.

Mrs. J. E. Thibodeau, the bride's mother wore a dark brown 2-piece jersey and wool

Gilbert Park certainly looks empty these days now that the youngsters are off to school, but it is wonderful that the small fry have a place to play that is fenced in. Was happy to see that they put the fence up but felt rather sad to see them uproot another tree before the last part of the fence went up. I couldn't believe my eyes when I saw the bulldozer tearing it down for it seemed to be in no one's way but alas it stood right in the path of the fence so down it had to come. It seems like in every part of this wonderful province of ours people do their utmost to preserve the trees but not so in Chateauguay.

No doubt many a youngster started school for the first time this year and the following poem I found perhaps expresses the way many a parent must feel.

THE FIRST SCHOOL DAY

He's starting to school today,
And his studies have just begun.
I see him hop on his joyous way,
My rollicking carefree son.
He's only six years old,
With his pencil and book and rule;
His greatest adventure begins to unfold,
For he's starting today to school.

He's starting to school today,
As his dad did long ago.
Still the happy school grounds ring with play;
Ah, where do the fleet years go?
For the seasons bring their care.
And leave them while they pass,
And my boy today will find his share,
In the same beginner's class.

He's startng to school today,
But an infant, yet, he seems;
And his mother wipes a tear away,
For the first born child of her dreams,
Before him the world is large,
There are plenty of knocks in store.
God take him into Thy holy charge,
He's our baby now no more.

Just starting to school today,
Dear God, will he play the man,
And honest be on the world's highway,
And serving Thee where he can.
With his hoppity-hop, and his sweater red,
Holding fast his pencil and rule,
A new generation it must be said,
Is off with my boy to school.

Would like to wish a happy birthday to a very special young lady I know on Gendron Street. Happy birthday Brenda Lortie hear you'll be celebrating your 8th Birthday on September 16. Hope it's a happy one.

Also a very happy birthday to my son Ricky, who will be 9 years old on September 17th.

And to a young lady in 2630. Crown Homes, Miss Brenda Lange a very happy birthday to you Brenda. Hear that on the 26th of September you'll be entering that wonderful world of the teenager when you'll be 13. Hope it's a very happy birthday for you too.

And I guess that's all that I have for you this week folks — no news must be good news and guess you folks are keeping it all to yourselves, 'cause I haven't heard any.

THIS WEEK'S SCRAMBLED NAMES

1- FIELD ORS HAND MOT
2- SHOETH LOOP
3- EST WEEF BERN
4- DORK FETEX STACO TION
5- SAL AUTY ANBE NAON

Everything is set for The Chateauguay Gleaner "Scrambled Names Contest" which gets under way this week.

Sponsored by merchants throughout the Chateauguay area and by The Chateauguay Gleaner, the contest is open to all customers of participating merchants, the names of whom appear on the contest pages in this week's edition. These merchants all display "Scrambled Names Contest" posters and balloons in a prominent place in their store windows.

The grand prize, which will be given away at the conclusion of the fifth week of the contest, is a magnificent Hi-Fi Stereo Console.

In addition, each week three weekly prizes will be given away. These prizes include camera kits, sports equipment, watches, men's jewelry, and name-brand household appliances.

This week, all contest prizes are on display in the window of Dragon Sports.

Each time you shop at one of the merchants participating in the "Scrambled Names Contest" you increase your chances of winning. The contest winners are determined by the number of entries and contest entry blanks may be obtained only when you shop at one of the participating merchants.

There couldn't be anything simpler. . than playing "Scrambled Names".

1-During the five weeks of the contest, the name of each and every participating merchant will appear in a scrambled form at least once and possibly more.

2-Customers of these stores must unscramble these names and match them with the correct name as it appears on the contest pages.

3-The correct names of each week's scrambled names should be written on the back of the contest slips available from each participating merchant, and mail these slips to:
Scrambled Names Contest
Chateauguay Gleaner,
Huntingdon, Quebec.

4-weekly prizes will be awarded to the three contestants sending in the largest number of correct entry forms.

Remember, you have a better chance of winning the weekly prizes and the grand prize by shopping locally at every opportunity.

5-The grand prize will be awarded to the contestant who sends in the greatest number of correctly filled out entry forms.

Football Fever Grows

(By Russ Faughnan)

Chateauguay is the scene of frenzied activity as far as minor football is concerned. The Chateauguay Minor Football Club informed us that all but one age group is loaded to capacity as local kids get in on the fun of our fall pastime. Full practises have been underway for boys in the Mosquitoe, Pee-Wee and Bantam groups for the last three weeks.

The Mosquitoes, aged 8 to 11, has five teams in operation, consisting of a four team house league with the fifth playing Lachine, Dixie and Bishop Whelan.

The Bantams, aged 13 to 15, hope to open their season this coming Sunday, September 19th., at 2 P.M., on the Ramblers field. Coached by Euard Read and John Jennings, the Chateauguay team will play the Lasalle colts and St. Anselme. Two other Montreal teams were scheduled to join this league. But the word is that they have dropped out for lack of support.

The Pee Wee group aged 12 to 13 will have one travelling team which will play against Dixie, Lachine, Bishop Whelan and St. Françoise Romaine. The first game is set for Saturday, September 18th at 3 P.M. on the Ramblers field. It is planned to have a Pee Wee house league but more players are needed. All those in this age bracket who might be interested, should turn out for practise at Laberge park, corner of Salaberry and St. Francis Blvd., on Monday, Wednesday or Friday, at 6.30 P.M.

Further information on any aspect of Minor Football can be had by contacting John Dempster, 691-2210; Jack Cushing, 692-9471; Jim Meldrum, 692-0654 or Ray Powis, 692-

Thoughts That Are Making C.A.A.A. Grow

(By Ron Lee)

Out of our meeting of August 30th, with the different Recreation and Home Owner Presidents, some interesting and thought provoking comments and suggestions were made.

One of these comments concerned the purchasing of sports equipment.

At present, each Sport is required to purchase their own equipment from any store they so desire and Mr. Fontaine, President of C.P.O.A. (Colonia) wondered why the Chateauguay Amateur Athletic Association does not have a Purchasing Agent responsible for the purchase of all the sporting equipment required by the whole of Chateauguay.

I will not say that the idea of having a Purchasing Agent has not been discussed by the C.A.A.A. Executive body but I will say that it has not been given serious thought at this time.

In a new organization such as ours, the first problem is obtaining the proper types of individuals who are capable of running a sports group efficiently and effectively. If any Association is to become a leader of it's community, it must have sound knowledgeable men at it's head or in no time at all it will fall flat on it's face.

We in C.A.A.A. are doing our best to make this Association the leader in the sports field, and many of us feel that there is someone somewhere in our community, who is more qualified to do the job, but until these people are made known to our organization, we must move forward with what we have.

Once the growing pains are conquered, there is no reason why we can't have a Purchasing Agent. This is something that must come eventually as we cannot overlook any possible way of cutting expenses. There is no doubt that a considerable amount of money could be saved by bulk buying. There is also the possibility of someone having an "in" with a sports equipment manufacturer and we could buy articles direct thus increasing our savings.

There are numerous ways to save money in any organization and this is one way that the C.A.A.A. will be taking a good long look at.

We welcome the comments and suggestions made by Mr. Fontaine and wish that more people would take the time and interest to come forward and make their thoughts known. It this way we will become a strong, solid, athletic Association.

Remember, by supporting C.A.A.A. you are in fact supporting sports.

Centre half and left half of Quebec.

A reception was held for the Quebec team and officials at the Rustik Hotel after the game. At the reception a presentation a best player award was presented to the Quebec Centre half.

A word of thanks to the league officials and to Chateauguay Centre Works Dept. who were out early on Saturday to make the waterlogged Sutterlin Park fit for play during the afternoon. Apart from one or two soft spots, they did a wonderful job.

The game between C.P.O.A. and Ville St. Pierre was postponed.

The date, place and time for the next round of the Provincial Tournament are not yet known except for the game between C.C.R.A. Warriors and Verdun Hurons which is scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 18th, at 2 p.m. at the Verdun Auditorium.

Our own local challenge cup competitions have been somewhat upset to meet our commitments in the Provincial competition, but one or two games were played. By beating Seigniory Park, St. Joachim Hearts qualify to meeet the C.P.O.A. Rovers in the Mosquito Final.

Bantam Semi-Finals: Warriors 6, Rovers 0; Beavers 3, Colts 2.

Heights Beavers will now meet the C.C.R.A. Warriors in the Final. The Pee Wee semi-finals between Warriors and Hearts and Colts vs. Rovers should be played off this coming week-end.

"Break' For Mother

By Edith Bate

Last Friday, Sept. 10th, and Monday the 13th, Maple School Gym was the locale for a series of Coffee breaks for mothers and a few Dads too.

First day in class for the Grades one and Kindergarten children used to be a bit painful and emotional for both the parents and the brand new students. This year however, the little ones were integrated into the classroom; sat at their desks for a period of approximately 40 minutes coloring pictures, and incidentally meeting their new teacher — all this while mother or Dad waited in the Gym, sipping coffee. The parents chatted with each other, compared notes and children too, until teacher brought the children back to the Gym.

All the parents were surprised and delighted when served coffee and it did help to make them relax — both the coffee and conversation.

Six groups of 20 in each group were served on Friday — both morning and afternoon and a like number on Monday. Members of Maple Home and School Asociation Executive acted as "hostesses".

Minor Soccer Association Plays Three Games

(By E. Bate)

The Provincial Championships of the Quebec Minor Soccer Association were held last Saturday, September 11th., in Chateauguay, with three games played.

First game boys age 7 to 9 years: Chateauguay - nil, Ste. Genevieve-nil. With a toss of a coin, Ste. Genevieve won the chamionship. Both teams played very hard — but couldn't score.

The second game Pee Wee group of boys - 11 to 13 years. The score was Chateauguay 2 goals, 3 corners and Kiwanis Maisonneuve 2 goals, 1 corner. The Chateauguay team now goes into semi-finals playing the Verdun Eagles. Next Saturday, September 18th., at 2 p.m., in Sutterlin Park, corner of Orelans and St. Ferdinand.

The big event was the Midget game boys - 15 to 17. The score was Chateauguay 2 — Quebec City 1. The Chateauguay Midget group will now go into the finals at Jarry Park on Ooctober 3rd., with either Ottawa or Montreal East End.

After the game a reception was held at the Rustik Restausented to Jean Dansereau of the Quebec City team for outstanding sportsmanship and good play on the field. Jean was both surprised and delighted to receive the award — although it is not his first. He was named general all-round outsanding athlete of Quebec City for 1965. Jean is from a very large family, having 7 brothers and 2 sisters and no doubt in the future will prove to be an all-round good citizen.

The boys from Quebec expressed their sincere appreciation and thanks to the Chateauguay Association for the hospitality extended to them. They also expressed a desire to play here in Chateauguay next season.

To sum up: a quote from George Brown, President of Chateauguay Soccer Association: "I wish our boys were as well behaved and as mannerly as the Quebec City boys were."

Chateauguay Centre United Church

Church School commenced Sunday morning at 9:00 a.m. with a most inspiring Rally. Mrs. Joyce Ryner led a lively singing session of children's hymns, Spirituals and songs the children had learned at vacation Bible School. The minister, Rev. R. De Witt Scott, addressed parents and children, and led, those present, in prayer.

Mr. Nelson Weippert introduced the Church School teachers, and appealed to parents present to assist in the search for more teachers. If expected enrollment materializes, it is feared many children will have to wait until such times as sufficient teachers are available. Dr. Scott repeated the appeal at the Worship service.

The third Sunday of September will be Baptismal Sunday and anyone having a child to be baptized is urged to get in touch with the minister. Plans are to have the third Sunday of every month designated as "Baptismal Sunday."

Choir practices resume Wed., Sept. 15th, at 7:45 p.m. in the Church. Anyone wishing to join the choir is invited to come along.

CHATEAUGUAY LEGION NEWS

The regular monthly general meeting of the Chateauguay Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion was held Sept. 7th, with First Vice-Pres. John Haworth in the chair. The meeting opened promptly at 8.30 p.m. with 38 members present.

Two new members were initiated and two social members accepted into the branch.

A letter was read from Quebec Command informing the branch that the Per Capita Tax for 1966 would be raised from $5.00 to $6.00. To compensate the branch it was evident that some action was necessary re annual dues and after much discussion it was finally moved, seconded and passed that commencing 1966 membership fees would be raised to $10.

Comrade Joe Dagnall accepted the chairmanship of this year's Remembrance Day activities.

An oyster party was proposed with Oct. 16th, the suggested date.

Comrade John Haworth, Chairman of the Christmas Building Draw, said the books were ordered and he hoped members would make a special effort this year in disposing of as many books as possible.

Legion Blood Donor Clinic will be held the evening of Nov. 22 in the Willibrord School. A good turnout of members is requested.

Bill Cooper, chairman of the Legion Bowling League requires six more members Friday night this year at 7.30.

The Ladies Auxiliary donated $100.00 to the Senior Branch.

The monthly building draw is being resumed this month and tickets are now available.

Saturday, Sept. 11th, the branch held its Annual Corn Boil and Dance, and members' children were invited, as per custom, to their corn boil the following Sunday afternoon.
