Wilfred Spearman Speaks To Rotary On Beaver Club

Bringing back with him greetings to the Rotary Club of Westmount, from various Rotary Clubs overseas, Wilfred Spearman, former manager for two years of the Beaver Club of London, England, told Westmount Rotarians at the weekly luncheon held Wednesday in Victoria Hall, that all the Rotary Clubs that he had visited in England close their meetings with a Toast to "Rotary Around The World." These clubs which numbered 14, varied from the London Club with a membership of 250 to the St. Ives Club with a membership of 7.

Speaking about the Beaver Club, located on Spring Gardens just off Trafalgar Square, opposite Admiralty Arch, Mr. Spearman said, it was ideally situated for it was close to Canada House, C.P.R. and C.N.R. offices, the Royal Bank of Canada and the Sun Life building.

The Board of Management was composed of Canadians who have lived in England for a considerable time, the Right Honorable Vincent Massey, Canadian High Commissioner being the Chairman of the Board. The staff is composed of 800 voluntary workers and there are 120 paid workers, he said.

The club is well equipped and gives excellent service to the servicemen including, canteen,

Westmount Honor Roll Erected At Victoria Hall Entrance

The Honor Roll of Westmount consisting of the names of 2,115 citizens serving in the Armed Forces, which has been compiled and erected by the Municipal Association of Westmount at the entrance hall of Victoria Hall, was formally handed over to the City of Westmount yesterday afternoon at an informal ceremony at 5.30 o'clock, in Victoria Hall, when His Worship, the Mayor of Westmount, members of the City Council, and members of the executive of the Municipal Association were present.

Roy Campbell, President of the Municipal Association, who was in the chair, introduced Major P. Lindsay Hall, chairman of the Honor Roll Committee, who made the presentation on behalf of the Municipal Association, to His Worship Mayor Walter Merrill, who accepted it on behalf of the City of Westmount.

Short addresses were given by Mayor Merrill, Major Hall and Roy Campbell, and appreciation was voiced on the splendid accomplishment undertaken by the construction of the Memorial Plaques, placed each side of the entrance hall.

Feeling reference was touched on the names that were starred, showing those who had made the supreme sacrifice.

The Honor Roll plaques, which were made of Masonite donated by the Masonite Company of Canada, were designed by Campbell Wood, architect, and have the general appearance of bronze tablets. The Coat of Arms is inscribed at the top of the Honor Roll and the City of Westmount Crest is engraved at the bottom. The names engraved in gold are arranged in vertical columns permitting alphabetical arrangement and are constructed in moveable strips, a feature that was made with the purpose of inserting additional names. A box with forms for additional servicemen's names has been placed in the entrance for that purpose. The Honor Roll is now open and is on view to the public.

Among those attending the ceremony were Percy E. Jarman, General Manager of the City of Westmount, members of the City Council including, Aldermen C. K. McLeod, Irving P. Rexford, W. Stokes Greene, J. Senecal and R. P. Adams; members of the executive of the Municipal Association; Reverend Harold Laws, secretary-treasurer, and members of the Honor Roll Committee, including R. Bainbridge Hall, Alex. O. McMurtry and John H. Richardsodn.

PUBLIC SPEAKING CLUB

The West End Public Speaking Club will open the present season at its first meeting to be held in the Community Hall on Wednesday.

Local Women Receive Injuries In Collision

Miss Madeleine Keenan, 50, and Miss Marguerite Blanchard, 45, of 245 Clarke Avenue, were injured on Monday night when their auto collided with another car driven by Nathan Rubin, of 4517 Royal Avenue, at the intersection of Terrebonne Street and Wilson Avenue, shortly after seven o'clock.

It was reported that the two injured women were taken to the home of A. Thomson, 4471 Wilson Avenue, and were treated by Dr. Walter Mingie, and were later able to return to their home. Lieut. Medard Lamoureux investigated the accident.

Rotary To Entertain Boys Internationally

As part of the International Service Committee of Rotary, it has been arranged by the Westmount Rotary Club with Governor John M. Brownell, of the 170th District of Rotary International, to choose two High School boys who are studying science in American schools located in that district, to visit here with all expenses paid by the Westmount Rotary Club.

It is reported that the boys will be the guests of the local club here for two days, and will be taken through the libraries and institutions which will be of assistance to them in their studies.

Victory Loan Headquarters Here At Westmount "Y"

"Invest In Victory" is the slogan for the Seventh Victory Loan Campaign, which is now being organized to launch on Monday, October 23. The national objective is $1,300,000,000. This figure exceeds by $100,000,000 the objective of the Sixth Victory Loan in May of this year, but is $107,576,650 under the amount then actually subscribed. The total to be asked of individuals is $75,000,000 higher at $600,000,000. The Honorable J. L. Ilesly, Minister of Finance, sees no reason to alter his budget estimate of probable borrowing requirements — $3,200,000—and considers it probable, in view of developments in the last few months, that war expenditures will involve an additional $500,000,000. He expresses confidence that the new loan will be the most successful of all. He is appealing to a people who have over-subscribed all previous issues and who will now be lending to complete the victory. The eight war loans to date, including six Victory Loans, have yielded $7,156,178,750, and subscriptions, exclusive of conversions, have always run ahead of mounting objectives.

Unit 201 have announced that they are again using the Westmount "Y" premises, located on

Local Policemen Popular With School Children

We know of no one more popular with children than our Westmount policemen, who are on duty at busy crossings and in front of schools ushering the youngsters across the street.

The other day we noticed four little elementary school children clinging to a big kindly looking fellow who was guiding them to safety across a crowded intersection.

Policemen are diplomats, for they know how to banter and meet every age of childhood, they are full of fun and have a joke for everyone. But they are also firm disciplinarians, and demand immediate obedience, and we have seen them stop rough-and-tumble fooling with unruly boys who have started a fight, or remind some thoughtless boy to be courteous to a girl. They can handle ten or a dozen youngsters at once and never seem to get fussed about anything.

The children eagerly share their interests with their own special 'cop', for they know he genuinely cares about them, and they respect his high standards and try to measure up.

There is a great tenderness and kindness in all relationships between children and policemen. It is noticeable, especially with their gentleness in handling the tiny tots. Children know and realize this and are grateful for the many services that they receive from the corner policeman each morning on the street in front of the school.—N. LEB.

Lt. W. R. Trudeau Wounded Overseas

It is reported that Lieut. Warren Richard Trudeau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lucien F. Trudeau, of 5041 Grosvenor Avenue, is wounded while serving in western France with the 1st Battalion, Black Watch (R.H.R.) of Canada.

Lieut. Trudeau's wife, the former Lillian Howard, daughter of Col. and Mrs. A. T. Howard, is overseas with the Canadian Red Cross.

Presentation Made To H. B. Houghton On Changing Post

Employees in all departments of the Examiner Publishing Company gathered in the business office on Hampton Avenue on Saturday at noon to pay honor to H. B. Houghton, former plant superintendent, who has been made general manager of the company's Verdun paper, the Guardian. Mr. Houghton assumed his new duties on Monday of this week.

H. E. McCormick, president of the company, in opening the proceedings referred to Mr. Houghton's long association with the Company, dating back to the time when he was superintendent of a Montreal printing firm which handled the work of the Company in its early days. He spoke of Mr. Houghton's loyalty, enthusiasm and knowledge of printing which had been a great asset to the publication throughout its history. Mr. McCormick introduced H. V. Stoddard, advertising manager of the company, who made the formal presentation of a brief case and spoke in highly appreciative terms of Mr. Houghton's services to the company.

In reply, Mr. Houghton commented on the progress The Examiner has made during the years of its service to the West End and of his enjoyment of his tenure of office with the company. Co-operation of all individuals and departments had been the secret of success, he asserted, and in the continuance of this co-operation lay the finest prospects for the future. In going to Verdun, he said, he was well aware that he could look with perfect confidence for the necessary co-operation from all concerned.

Robert MacKenzie is now plant superintendent in succession to Mr. Houghton, while Fred Bennett succeeds Mr. MacKenzie as composing room foreman.

The Department of National Revenue took in last month from its three departments, customs excise and income tax, $205,051,736, over an increase of nearly $3 1/2 million the same month last year.

Canada's breeding stock is destined to play a great part in rebuilding devastated Europe's livestock and horses for farm power. It is estimated horses of Britain, Belgium and Holland have been reduced by half, in Russia by one-third, and that only a third remain of the original horses in Poland, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and Greece. Germany by her plundering is believed to have even more than before the war.

Reception For New Principal To Be Held Here

The opening meeting of the Westmount High Schools Home and School Association will take the form of a reception for R. O. Bartlett, the new principal of the High School, and Mrs. Bartlett. Mr. Bartlett has replaced H. B. Barker whose retirement was announced last spring.

The Association hopes that all parents will avail themselves of the opportunity of meeting Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett and renewing their acquaintance with the school staff. The school buildings will be open for inspection and any of the class and work rooms may be visited.

The meeting will be held in the Junior High School, Academy Road on Monday evening, October 16th, and it is hoped that a large number of parents and friends may be present to meet Mr. Bartlett. There will be a short business meeting preceding the reception. Refreshments will be served and a musical programme is being arranged.

Caledonian Society Resumes Tonight

The Caledonian Society of Montreal resumes its fall and winter activities with a social evening in the club room of the Victoria Hall tonight at 8.15 p.m. Whist will be played, refreshments will be served and Bob Frame will play for the dancing to follow. Service men and women in uniform will be admitted free and will be cordially welcome.

These social evenings have been arranged for the first and third Friday of each month till April, 1945. Military whist will be played some evenings to vary the programme.

Local Wing Cmdr.

Wing Cmdr. Russel has a brilliant record of service, and his wing has been credited with one of the class and work rooms may planes knocked down since "D-Day." He is also one of the first Canadians to win the Distinguished Flying Cross, and was one of the first R.C.A.F. men to fly in the Battle of Britain, and one of the first Canadians to land in France on D-Day. He is now on his third tour of operations.

A graduate of Selwyn House and Trinity College School, Wing Cmdr. Russel went overseas with the 1st Canadian Fighter Squadron under Wing Commander Ernest McNabb in 1940.

Welfare Campaign Reports 2 Percent Short In Drive

Although the Westmount Division of Welfare Federation's annual campaign ended on Tuesday with two per cent short of their objective, according to reports received by the local chairman, Mrs. F. G. Ferrabee, it is pointed out, however, that when all cards and returns are sent in by many of the residents who are out of the city, it will in all probability net the amount hoped for.

The objective for Westmount was $41,750 and the amount collected up to date is $40,903.

Mrs. Ferrabee paid high tribute to the 137 canvassers and 18 team captains on the campaign here, who had worked with her so faithfully for the past two weeks in this district.

New Ration Book Distribution Set For Oct. 14 To 21

It is reported that the new Ration Book No. 5, will be ready for distribution here between Saturday October 14th to 21st, and will be good for 50 weeks.

With the end of the war expected in the not too distant future, officials of the Ration Administration were able to gauge the supply situation better than a year ago, making it possible to figure rations for 50 weeks ahead instead of the usual 36.

Persons applying for ration books must sign their name, address and serial number of their No. 4 book on the "K" coupon sheet provided for that purpose in Ration No. 4, leaving that sheet in the No. 4 book for the officials at the distribution centres to tear out of the books and keep for the records.

Westmount residents who do not get their new books during the distribution period of October 14 to 21, will have to wait two weeks longer and apply after November 6 at the ration office at 55 St. James Street.

Following is the distribution centre here, days and hours, of the local ration board M-2, for the distribution of No. 5 ration book: Westmount City Hall, Sherbrooke Street, Monday to Friday, October 16th to 20th, both dates inclusive, 10 a.m. to 5.30 p.m. daily.

KNOW YOUR WESTMOUNT

Q.—I am a black spaniel puppy living in Westmount and I would like you to tell me what I must do so that I can keep out of the clutches of the Westmount Police.

A.—The most important is not to bite, at least without provocation, but if you feel you have to bite someone bite your master or one of the family on your own premises; it makes less trouble for everyone that way.

If you visit any lawns or flower beds be satisfied to just smell around a bit. Don't scratch up everything in sight; the gardeners don't like it and are liable to complain to the police department.

It is a bad thing to bark or howl, especially late at night, as this does not enhance the popularity of your owner among the neighbors, and, further, if you are on good terms with the neighbors you may get the odd bone.

Now, if you do any of these things and are unfortunate enough to get caught you will make a whole lot of trouble for your master and for yourself too.

Your master cannot keep you within the limits of the city nor can you appear in any public place unless you carry a numbered tag or plate indicating that a licence has been purchased for you during the current year.

You cannot be allowed at large unless accompanied by your keeper or a member of your keeper's household.

You and all other puppies, also all older dogs, must submit to being muzzled if the City Fathers think it necessary or proper to give such an order.

If the Guardians of the Law find you running around loose, they will place you in what is called a "pound" and tell your owner about it, and your owner must pay a pound fee of one dollar within two days, "or else" bye-bye Black Puppy!

Your master is liable to a fine of not exceeding $40.00 and costs for each infraction of the law and in default of immediate payment, shall be liable to imprisonment of not more than two months. However, we have not heard of any dog owners recently who have served the two months in jail but there are probably many gardeners in Westmount who would like to see some of them behind the bars.

Lt.-Col. G. S. Challies Named Staff Officer

Lt.-Col. George S. Challies, 34, has been promoted to that rank from major and appointed general staff officer (1st grade) in the directorate of staff duties at National Defence Headquarters, Ottawa, it was announced here on Monday.

A barrister here in civilian life, Col. Challies has been in the active army since 1941 and except for a brief time in Washington on special duty, has been with N.D.H.Q. for the past two years.

He is the son of the late J. B. Challies and of Mrs. Challies, who lives at 8 Grove Park. He graduated from the McGill Law School in 1935 and was practising law with the firm of Montgomery, McMichael, Common, Howard, Forsyth and Ker

Dr. C. W. H. Rondeau Is Honored By Friends

Dr. Charles W. H. Rondeau, of 407 Metcalfe Avenue, was the guest of honor on Saturday night at a dinner given at the Summerlea Golf Club by a group of his friends on the occasion of the 50th anniversary of his dental surgeon's degree.

He was presented with a gold watch, from members of his family, and a Gladstone bag, a gift from a group of his friends. Mrs. Rondeau was the recipient of a bouquet of roses.

Dr. Rondeau, who started his career at 17 years of age and obtained his degree at Bishop's College at the age of 20, had his preliminary training at Granby, Que., before coming to Westmount where he has practised at 4211 St. Catherine St. W.

MUCH TO BE THANKFUL FOR

CANADIANS, in common with all peoples of the United Nations, will have cause for rejoicing and thankfulness this Thanksgiving, for our armies, navies and air forces are now supreme and victory appears just a matter of time. We have escaped a tyranny that would have set the world back a thousand years, perhaps forever. We can be thankful that our lack of foresight and unpreparedness did not ruin us. We can be thankful that the turn of events gave us powerful allies in the fight against Italy and Germany. We can be thankful that Britain, Canada, and the United States, being prosperous in peacetime, possessed the trained men and the machines to build more and better materials of war than our enemies. And we can be thankful that, by God's grace, we had the time to convert our great peacetime establishments to wartime use. Yes, we have much to be thankful for this Thanksgiving, and much to think about.

NEWSPAPER WEEK

NEXT week is newspaper week. It will be observed by publications right across Canada. Most newspapers will devote some space to acquainting the reading public with the aims and purposes of the publication, and the services rendered the community.

The principal function of a newspaper is, of course, to give its readers the news of the community it serves. In this respect it is a looking glass in which the members of the community can see themselves and their activities. A good newspaper will also use the power at its disposal for the good of the community—to oppose evil, and to foster good. Running a newspaper in the best interests of the community inevitably brings it into trouble, but a worthwhile publication will prepare to meet the adversities of publication as well as the rewards and will not be deterred in its purpose by threats or promises of benefit.

Newspapers inevitably exaggerate a little. A great philosopher once described the newspaper as "the second hand of history". If the seconds weren't exaggerated—if the news of the week weren't dressed up and made attractive—few people would take notice. That is why newspaper pages are dressed up with as much care as a good shopkeeper dresses up his windows—to attract attention. Most newspapers attempt to draw conclusions from the day to day history they cover by editorial comment, but as a general rule they leave the perspective of history to later historians.

As far as this newspaper is concerned, we shall try, as in the past, to be fair in our comment, to give our readers as much of the news of the neighbourhood as we can get, and to devote as much space as paper exigencies will allow to the task of publicizing local clubs, societies, associations, churches and athletics. Our aim is to keep this newspaper an independent, clean publication for the home, devoted to public service.

THE LIGHTS ARE ON

LOCAL business men have been slow to take advantage of the lifting of the lighting restrictions. Outside of the theatres there hasn't been any great change in the brightness of our main thoroughfares. Perhaps it's because the stores haven't got as much to advertise in the windows as they would like. Perhaps it's because a habit once formed, takes time to break. Perhaps the business men just haven't got around to thinking much about the matter as yet. It's good, however, to see the few windows that have been lit up again, and the bright lights at the theatre entrances again. It is a promise of better days to come, a forerunner of peace and prosperity. Let's get the rest of the lights working again as soon as possible.

TIRE TROUBLE

ONE of the biggest problems the government will have to face in the next few months will be that of tire distribution. It is becoming obvious to everyone that it is only a matter of time until the whole system of automobile transportation is heading toward trouble. Take a ride along any highway these days and notice the number of cars pulled up at the side of the road to make tire repairs. For those who don't rate permits to buy tires, but whose car is absolutely essential for limited driving, the situation is becoming critical. It is becoming a question of getting a tire or two soon or taking the car off the road entirely, and adding to the burden of already overcrowded trams and trains. The situation is aggravated, furthermore, we are informed, by delay in getting replies to applications for new tires—delay which sometimes runs into weeks and seems entirely unnecessary to the worried applicant. A prompt "NO" would be more satisfactory and businesslike than the apparent tardiness with which applications are considered and dealt with. It is to be hoped that the situation will be alleviated in the not too distant future, or at least that some explanation will be given of the basis on which these applications are dealt with, and that we shall soon get some indication as to when tires will again be available for the general public. We would then know where we stood.

RIGHTS

WHEN, an English mother was told that her son had been caught in the act of damaging park property, she replied that he had as much right to do damage as anyone else, since the trees belonged to the city.

This is one more example of the confusion that exists concerning "rights." A few patriots cherish the right of free speech and the right to worship their own God, but the mass of people when told by a policeman to move on because they are blocking traffic, exclaim, "I have as much right to be here as you or anybody else, see?" When the bus driver tells them to move to the rear, they scowl and defend their right to stand where they please.

The Bill of Rights, as generally conceived, seems to include the foregoing and the right to drop used chewing gum anywhere, the right to deface the walls of washrooms, the right to disturb others by loud chatter in the theatre, the right to wear one shirt six days in succession, the right to occupy a busy telephone booth as long as one pleases, the right to preempt extra seats while others are standing, the right to muscle into the front end of a queue, and the right to block the view of 300 people during an exciting play in any sports event.

HOW TO BRING UP CHILDREN

A YOUNG mother had just come from a lecture by a child expert and I asked her if she had learned anything that she could use immediately, writes William Feather.

She said she had learned that the worst fault of parents is inconsistency. Very young children can't adjust their behaviour to satisfy parents who are lax one day and stern the next. Children react to physical punishment only in their tender years. Hence the lecturer said that was the time to smack them if they had it coming.

The expert said that at the age of two a child is at the peak of its intelligence and that never again in its life would its faculties be so open and alert. Beyond the age of two the child begins to make the paths that it will follow. Once these paths are formed there is no turning. Prejudices acquired at two continue till death.

ANTIQUÉ SHOP

Its grimy windows hardly let the light shine through, and there was little on that block

To tempt the prudent shopper or invite a second look—the usual shabby stock of things that no one wanted any more. Yet in such places, often tucked away on upper shelves, too cluttered to explore, The past may hold some treasure for today.

A bit of amber or a willow plate,
An album with a clasp of silver-gilt;
A tarnished sword with tassels on the hilt—
Lost in the dustiness of years they wait.
Nothing worth buying. What if you had seen
My jaunty Dresden china figurine!

—Leslie Nelson Jennings.

THE FORUM

Conducted by HOWARD S. ROSS, K.C., D.C.L.

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this newspaper, and it does not accept responsibility for them.

In an autographed letter, President Roosevelt congratulated the Times upon its air edition. He wrote: "I feel sure it will promote understanding and strengthen the ties of friendship between the British and American people". Of this incident Dr. Edward Shillito (correspondent from London, G.B., of the Christian Century of Chicago) wrote: "This may be the right occasion to explain that the Times is regarded by Englishmen not simply as an interpreter of views with which they may or may not be in agreement, nor as an organ of the Government or of a political party. It is recognized as a newspaper in which an honest and remarkably thorough attempt is made to present news, neither garbled nor tendentiously edited."

Louisville, K., is to have religious music and a religious message broadcast each week-day except Saturday, from station WHAS, without commercial sponsorship or solicitation of funds. C. E. Burns, formerly president of Milligan College, Tennessee, will be in charge. His title will be "religious co-ordinator" of the station which is owned by the Courier-Journal. This is a new program and is to be given as a public service.

Chancellor Cherrington of University of Denver, in a recent address, declared that "every minister should have an airplane." He recalled how the ministry has been preaching the unity of the human race but that radio and the airplane have made this unity a reality. "The air is one and from the air we realize how meaningless most of men's barriers are. We must learn to adjust our behavior to this 20th century fact."

Prinwi Y. Rathnam of India, in the U.S.A. to study the customs of that country, declared Christianity the chief hope of his country. He said: "Although there are only 8,000,000 Christians in India, they are making a dent on the other 400,000,000."

A. P. Herbert, M.P., and one of Punch's most famous contributors likes to stir public debate. Recently, in a letter to the London Times, quoting the Chesteronian aphorism: "Christianity has not been tried and found wanting; it has been found hard and not tried." Mr. Herbert said: "Christianity has been tried too hard and Britain must be on guard lest it does it again." He was, of course, referring to the years before the wars and Britain's unpreparedness.

About 120,000 men and women have been employed in shipyards in and near Portland, Oregon, during the past two years, and the same number will be needed for at least one year more. As they feel the end of the war is in sight, the labor turnover increases. Thousands have returned to their former homes and recruiting agencies are exerting every effort to replace these greatly needed workers. Several of the Kaiser Yards are still operating on a seven-day week.

New York celebrated widely the freeing of France. Throughout the community and especially in the French colony, great crowds attended the Roman Catholic Church of St. Vincent de Paul and the French Episcopal Church of the Holy Spirit, where worshippers, unable to get inside, stood in the streets with bared heads during the services. Rector John A. F. Maynard described the liberation as "the Easter day of a New Europe. In Paris, the city of the French Revolution, a new Bastille has been destroyed."

A meeting held in the Town Hall, New York, sponsored by the Chinese Institute of America, celebrated the liberation of France.

Mr. Edward Clarke has left to pursue his studies in Toronto.

Mrs. James T. Rogers is the convener of the drama group of the Westmount Subdivision of the Catholic Women's League who are to present the play "Sinister House" shortly in Victoria Hall.

Mrs. A. Leslie Ham, Grosvenor Avenue, returned recently from Winnipeg where she visited her mother, Mrs. Oliver Gilmer.

Mrs. S. S. MacInnes, columnist of the Welland Tribune under the pen name of "Patty Perkins," is returning on Monday from a stay in the Maritimes and will stop over for a few days with her mother-in-law, Mrs. E. S. MacInnes, 5124 Sherbrooke Street W., before returning to Ontario, where she will give a recital in Hamilton. Mrs. S. S. MacInnes is a cousin of the late Canon Allan Shatford, and since the outbreak of war has given over 300 recitals in aid of the Red Cross. Many people may recall that she gave a recital — "The White Cliffs of Dover" — some time ago here for the Red Cross under the auspices of the Maritime Women's Club.

F/O. Edryn P. McGuire, R. C. A. F., is spending his leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jos P. McGuire, of 2370 Hingston Ave. Flying Officer McGuire has recently arrived in Canada after having served three years overseas as a pilot with the R.A.F., in the Middle East Theatre of war.

Mrs. George Berthon and Mrs. J. E. L. Hollyer will preside at the tea table, and Mrs. George Daly will be in charge of the tea arrangements at the tea for new members being held at the hospital next Wednesday by St. Mary's Hospital Maternity and Nursing Committee.

Many fathers are keeping a scrapbook record of their sons and daughters in the Services. These snapshots of them in their uniforms, write-ups of their promotions, etc., will be of much interest long after the war is finished. And don't forget that the clippings of little personals in this column telling of their leaves at home look well in the scrap books too, and are a tidy way of keeping the record complete.

The marriage of Miss Florence Leonora McGain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. McGain, to Mr. Robert Lee Cordner, son of Mrs. Cordner and the late R. L. Cordner, took place in Queen Mary Road United Church, Hampstead, recently the Rev. Dr. L. H. Fisher officiating. Poms with Picardy and white gladioli adorned the church.

Mr. Paul Kellogg, was at the organ and Miss Alison Huntley, soprano, sang "I'll Walk Beside You" during the signing of the register. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Pauline McGain as maid-of-honor, and Miss Mona McGain, another sister, as junior bridesmaid. The best man was Flt. Sgt. Reginald Rault, R.C.A.F. Mr. Carl Major and Mr. Charles Studer were ushers.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of bridal satin made in princess lines, a veil of self material and carried a bouquet of Briarcliffe, roses. The maid-of-honor was in turquoise crepe, the dress made on long torso lines, wearing a Dutch cap of self material and carried a bouquet of Picardy gladioli. The junior bridesmaid was similarly attired, in salmon pink and she carried mauve gladioli.

Sunday School Class enters Thirty-eighth Year Of Work

A Sunday school class known as "The Stars" began its thirty-eighth year of activity with its opening meeting of the season held on Tuesday evening. Miss D. M. Bridgman is leader of the class.

This interesting group was formed about thirty-eight years ago in what was known as the old Sherbrooke Street Methodist Church, located at the corner of Sherbrooke and Clarke streets, in the central part of the city. When the church property was sold near the end of the last war, it was decided to continue as a group and meet once a month. This has been done up to the present time, members meeting regularly in various homes. For over a quarter of a century this group has done welfare work in connection with their Church Missions, and, since the present war, has carried on with knitting articles for seamen as well as for friends and relatives in the services.

It is interesting to note that eight of the ladies shown in the photograph are now living in Notre Dame de Grace, as well as three other members of the group, namely, Mrs. C. H. Ferguson, Miss Violet Lawton and Miss Willow Lavery, who were not present when the photograph was taken, making a total of eleven residing in this district. It is also worthy of notice that seven of this class are at present members of Wesley United Church, Mrs. John Freeman being president of the Wesley Women's Association and Mrs. Royal Werry leader of one of the groups. Other members include Mrs. Chas. Wirth, Mrs. W. Leslie Gatehouse, Miss Alice Smith, Miss Lily Lawton, Mrs. James Wells, Mrs. H. G. Phillips, Mrs. Royal Werry, Mrs. E. H. Brown, Mrs. Edgar S. Young, Mrs. John Freeman, Mrs. W. R. Denovan, Mrs. Rita Chatham, Mrs. Robert White and Mrs. C. R. Johnson.

It is doubly interesting to note that seven of the husbands of the ladies were from the corresponding boys' classes of the same church, namely, Messrs. Harold Brown, Leslie Gatehouse, John Freeman, the late Mr. Walter Chatham, Mr. Harold Phillips, Mr. Crawford Johnson and Mr. Royal Werry, K.C. Most of these men served in the last war, and Mr. Harold Phillips has served in both wars, being presently on active service overseas.

ther are people, and that courtesy begins at home.

"Bobby is always opening the bureau drawers and pulling out my things," complained a mother. "Today he found his birthday present that I had hidden, and now I'll have to get him another one for a surprise."

"What a bad start for Bobby! He should learn to leave other people's things alone. It is an important lesson, and his mother could teach it to him kindly and firmly on this occasion and so save him future trouble both in the family and in the world outside. Perhaps his mother might make up a rhyme to help him remember; something like:

I do not need a lock and key;
I trust you not to open me.
Sometimes there is embarrassment or annoyance when Jane, insisting on playing with Mother's handbag, eventually spills the contents over the floor. Important possessions may be lost that way, and usually there is a scramble to pick everything up. Why not save trouble by teaching Jane in the beginning that it is not courteous to inspect anyone's pocketbook or handbag, except her own.

In most homes, the different members of the family naturally have their own closets and many personal articles. When this is the case, no one should be allowed to use any except her own. What is discourteous with regard to adults is discourteous with regard to children.

"How did you do it, Mother?" asked a grown-up daughter who had been visiting a family of children and had returned rather weary of their quarrels and strife. "I never remember any of us abusing each other's things or being punished for meddling with what was yours and Dad's. What was the secret?"

"Perhaps the old and gentle art of courtesy," replied the mother. "Dad and I believed that courtesy is a part of character development and should be taught and used continually from babyhood up. It sweetens family life."

LYDIA LION ROBERTS

"Why did you knock on your mother's bedroom door?" asked little Mary. "I thought people knocked only on the doors of strangers."

"We have a verse about it," answered Phyllis. "Mother made it up:

"When you see a door shut tight, Knock and wait, for that's polite."

"That sounds like when there's company," said Mary.

The beautiful art of courtesy is the foundation of harmony in the home, because it is really the Golden Rule in operation. Little children taught over and over, day by day, by rule and example to watch for the many possible ways of respecting other people's privacy and possessions, will learn that kindness and consideration are the basis of good manners. It should be inculcated by practice that Dad, Mother, Sister and Bro-

And So It Goes . . .

By Betty Bruce

There is an old hymn which begins "Count your blessings, count them one by one, and it will surprise you what the Lord hath done." As this Thanksgiving rolls round once more, and we look back at the dark picture of the years behind us, we are filled with a mighty sense of gratitude. Whether or not our own dear ones are among those who have paid dearly for wounding the jungle beasts that so nearly got peace-loving peoples by the throat, we can still say thanks to God and to our fighting men that little Canadian children need never know fear, cold, hunger and murder like the children of Poland, Greece and other occupied countries, and that the principles of justice instead of brute force, will dominate the years to come.

Somebody said the other day that women's big task in post-war days will be to keep alive idealism. What one of us at home can begin to match the idealism of those men in the air, on land and on the sea, who have already proved their idealism? We can say thanks very humbly for the privilege of knowing and loving them, even though we knew some of them for such short while.

The fruitfulness of this Dominion has always been cause for thankfulness at this time of the year, when delicious odors stream from kitchens upon the autumn air and stores are piled high with harvest of garden, farm and orchard. Hundreds of brides from overseas will have their first taste of a real Canadian Thanksgiving dinner this year and have an opportunity to see for themselves what our good land can produce.

"Coming home Saturday. Set extra places." When I get a telegram like this," said one mother to me. "I know my son will be bringing home about six pals with him. I just give them plenty to eat and fix them up as well as I can with sleeping accommodation and they're really no trouble. I like to have the house full of boys, and I get letters from them from even as far away as the South Pacific." There is a woman who keeps her Thanksgiving spirit all the year round and expresses it practically in the work of her hands—in good old apple pie.

A week or two ago part of a letter from Italy was quoted here, telling of the birth of pups to an infantry battalion's quartermaster's dog. A further bit of news about the regiment's pups has come to hand, and we quote from a letter sent by B.D.S.:

"You will be glad to hear that all the pups born to the beloved quartermaster's dog are doing very nicely, thank you, and have reached the age where they can get into more mischief than a treeful of monkeys. And they have all kinds of opportunity to play the fool around camp. Besides tumbling heedlessly in front of harassed truck drivers and curling up in jeep seats where they periodically get squashed by some pretty formidable military posteriors, they visit company kitchens many times a day and usually manage to poke their funny little noses into a bag of flour, or a tin of lard or (and this really does the trick) both. But, like all healthy pups, they are lovable little devils, and I've never seen anyone lift a finger to them!"

B.D.S. adds a further note on the tribulations of eating by the roadside in Italy: "The wasps now (September 2nd) are incredibly bold," he remarks, "and are ravenous for jam, so that as soon as you spread some on a bit of bread, you are practically overwhelmed by squadrons of them and you have to be darned careful not to bite off the wrong end of a wasp along with your bread and jam."

And so it goes! Happy Thanksgiving, everybody!

AT WESTMOUNT THEATRE

The birth of a popular song on a moonlight night thirty-five years or so ago, was graphically and audibly recorded for the Warner Bros. picture "Shine On Harvest Moon," now playing at the Westmount United Theatre, starring Ann Sheridan and Dennis Morgan.

The mechanics of the scene were probably more difficult to work out than the idea itself.

With Jack Norworth's help — he wrote the original song for which the picture was named—in reproducing the background, the script writers were content to provide the obvious time and circumstance and trust to Director David Butler to do the rest.

The props were, as might be suspected, a big yellow moon of the harvest variety, fields of

Ann Edberg Resumes Classes

One of the newer teachers, Ann Yelin Edberg, has just resumed the teaching of piano and music appreciation at 4186 Girouard Ave., near Monkland. She feels that every normal person has some ability to understand and appreciate music, if he can just find his level.

Besides years of intensive study in all branches of music here in Montreal, Mrs. Edberg has spent several seasons in Paris, France. Recently she has had much experience with younger children and believes in introducing the young child to instrumental music by leading him gently in participation in musical games and rhythm.

For the older child or adult beginner, Mrs. Edberg offers a quick method that is musically and artistically sound, yet attractive to maturer mentalities.

shocked corn and yellowing pumpkins, a country lane with a lighted house in the distance, a balmy night, a horse and buggy and two people in love.

At this point the Western Defense Command under the rules put down by the Commanding Officer, stepped in unofficially, and added considerably to Director Butler's problems. Exterior night filming, with its necessary accompaniment of arc lights and flares, had been positively ruled out and studios have been meticulous in their obedience to that ruling.

Consequently, for the love scene in a buggy which Ann Sheridan as Nora Bays and Dennis Morgan as Norworth were to play, the actual countryside of Hollywood and vicinity could not be used.

A large exterior set was built inside one of the Warner Bros.' sound stages, and a country lane was laid out in the studio grass used to floor the set. The camera, mounted on a pivoting crane in the middle, followed the buggy in which Ann and Dennis rode around the complete circle, past the old barn, past the fields of corn and pumpkins and straight toward the huge harvest moon that appeared at one end of the set.

For half the distance Dennis toyed with the beginning of an idea for a song, both words and music. Then, about half way around the large oval, he first hummed and then tried to sing some words of the chorus of "Shine On Harvest Moon." Ann helped him— as Norworth had said Nora Bays helped him — with some of the rhymes, especially by supplying, after "January, February," the words "June or July."

NEWS OF THE THEATRE WORLD

At York Theatre

"Follow the Boys," Universal's widely-heralded all-star film which came yesterday to the screen of the York United theatre, is something more than a pictorial parade of some two score of Hollywood's greatest personalities, although it is all of that.

Such names as George Raft, Vera Zorina, Orson Welles, Marlene Dietrich, Jeannette MacDonald, Dinah Shore, W. C. Fields, Sophie Tucker, Donald O'Connor, the Andrews Sisters, Charles Butterworth, Maria Montez and Susanna Foster in the same cast attest to that.

"Follow the Boys," for its sheer entertainment content, is as good a piece as Hollywood has turned out in this war. But additionally notable is the wisdom of Producer Charles K. Feldman in providing a human story as well, about which to weave the history of the show world, from the demise of vaudeville to the present day.

Further strengthening the fabric of the entertainment-laden film is an appealing romantic theme, involving George Raft and

AT THE WESTMOUNT SUNDAY!

John Harvey and Betty Grable in a scene from the hit film "Pin Up Girl," which opens Sunday at the Westmount United Theatre.

lovely Vera Zorina, who are co-starred.

"Follow the Boys" faithfully records the contributions of show people to morale at home and abroad, and sketches the founding and the functions of the Hollywood Victory Committee. That record needs no embellishment, and the film attempts none. It is traditionally American, plain John Doe, in its treatment.

It is, at the same time, as dazzling an assemblage of famous stars as Hollywood has ever come up with, and for this reviewer there was not a moment in almost two hours when the picture was not wholly diverting.

Musically, "Follow the Boys" is exceptionally varied and melodic, running the full scale of personal tastes, from boogie-woogie to the pianistic genius of Artur Schnabel.

At The Monkland

Bubbling with some of the gayest nonsense ever put on the screen, Samuel Goldwyn's Technicolor production of "Up in Arms" came to the Monkland United Theatre yesterday to hit a new high in clever turefilm entertainment, and to establish the Broadway favorite, Danny Kaye, as the comedy "find" of the year.

Kaye is starred in the RKO Radio release, with Dinah Shore, Dana Andrews, and Constance Dowling, another brilliant newcomer; and between them the foursome keep the laughter-laden farce plot rolling at a merry pace.

The story, adorned with catchy new song numbers, deals with the adventures of a hypochondriac who, with his pal, is drafted into uniform and sent to the South Pacific, along with the pair's nurse girl friends. Danny's mythical ailments and his frantic efforts to keep his girl out of trouble lead to much of the hilarious action, which is well summed up by his colonel's comment that Danny is the biggest menace to the Army since Benedict Arnold.

A spectacular dream sequence with the luscious Goldwyn Girls, Danny's side-splitting experiences as a prisoner of the Japs, and his heroic capture of a whole platoon of Nip soldiers, are among the many novelties which maintain the sparkling amusement values of the picture.

Kaye himself turns in a remarkable performance in a part that reveals his versatility to the full, and Miss Shore's portrayal is delightful. Andrews and Miss Dowling as the other couple furnish perfect co-operation. Elliot Nugent's smooth direction and the two sets of songs by Harold Arlen and Ted Koehler and by Sylvia Fine and Max Liebman help to make "Up in Arms" a delightful entertainment for every picture-goer.

Accused Domestic Denies Thefts

Laura Latour, 19-year-old domestic servant, who pleaded guilty last week to five charges of stealing jewellery and other articles from different homes in N.D.G. and Westmount where she was employed, changed her plea before Judge Amedee Monet this week, to one of not guilty.

In addition, the accused was re-arraigned in another court before Judge Edouard Tellier on another charge of theft as a servant, and was remanded to police cells pending her trial on all charges on October 11.

After receiving the judge's permission to change her original plea, her lawyer asked the court's authorization to have the accused sent for mental examination. Instead of awaiting the judge's decision on the matter, the accused informed the court that she had told detectives where she had disposed of some of the alleged stolen material.

His Honor rejected the defence lawyer's demand for a mental examination, because, he said, the accused's explanations were too sound for a magistrate on the bench to find her mentally unbalanced.

Black Watch Holds Recruiting Parade

A regimental recruiting parade over a route through Notre Dame de Grace and Westmount was held last evening by the Black Watch (R.H.R.) of Canada, commanded by Col. P. P. Hutchison, E.D.

The parade started in N.D.G. Park, at Girouard avenue and Sherbrooke street, at 8.15 p.m., and the route of march was via Girouard avenue, Terrebonne avenue, Cote St. Luc road, Decarie boulevard, Queen Mary road, Victoria avenue to Mira road. A halt was then called, and the march resumed via Victoria avenue east to Bleury street.

United Kingdom aircraft production is now equivalent to 60,000 yearly. This figure covers 27,273 complete new aircraft, 60,000 engines, spares and production, equal to between fifty and sixty per cent of the output of complete aircraft.

WESTMOUNT HIGH LIGHTS

By GEORGE COCHRANE

Say what you will, folks, we still like our football team. Sure, they got beaten 44-0 by Chesley's West Hillian hefties. Sure D'Arcy McGee blanked them 30-0 and Catholic High took them 10-0 in an exhibition game.

But these maroon and white clad warriors have got more of what G. P. Smith calls guts than any other team in the circuit. And they've got spirit, fight, a never-say-die attitude. They're a real battling team.

The age limit in this league is 19. Westmount has not a single 19-year-old on their roster. Bruce Marshall, one of the best halfbacks to serve Westmount for some time, is the only 18-year-old on the team. The other 26 players are 16 and 17 years old with three 15's thrown in for good measure.

And on the weight side the heaviest Westmounter is 16-year-old Bas Boxer, 197 pounds. The lightest player is sub quarter Jimmy Ross whose torso amounts to only 116 pounds. Team's average weight: 150 pounds.

Just to get away from the local scene for the minute, let's take a look at West Hill's ageing troopers. The average weight of their line is said to be 175 pounds while the backfield averages 170.

Now, you guys who have been running down Westmount's 1944 football aggregation, what do you expect a team who are out-weighted on an average of 20 pounds to the man, and who are out-experienced as well, to do against the two A-1 teams that Chesley had out Saturday.

You can take the "red raiders." We'll take the tightest team that G.P. has ever had under his wing. The team that made West Hill fight for every yard they made at Molson Stadium last week. The team that never gives up.

VICTORY?

It was a bruising game last Saturday and with the difference in weights playing into West Hill's hands, there was scarcely a single yokel who was not nursing at least a bruise at the end of Saturday's tussle. Starry plunging half and assistant captain, Eric Swaine, whose defensive work has been one of the bright spots on the Westmount horizon, was taken out of the game by Chesley's boys and watched most of the second half from the sidelines. Bud Emo, his successor, whose plunging has been a pleasant surprise to Westmount fans, met a similar fate. Quarterback Chuck McCrae, who played one of the best games of his career last Saturday, was likewise taken out. Aside from a number of bruises due to two and three man "tackles," his right knee was swollen with a bump the size of an egg.

But by the time they take the field against Montreal in tomorrow's second game, Westmount should be filled with that vim and vigour that characterized their play last week.

Charlie Barbour's M.H.S. aggregation is in the same boat as Westmount—they haven't scored a point this season. West Hill took them 34-0 on opening day and Catholic High blanked them 16-0 last week.

Indications are that this is going to be a close tussle. With another week on intensive practice behind them don't be surprised if Westmount romp home with their first win of the season tomorrow.

They'll be playing a team that won't have such a great weight advantage as the West Hillians enjoyed.

HI-Y

After a week of comparative inactivity, the boys' and girls' Hi-Y clubs swing into action next week with the girls holding a meeting at the school on Wednesday and the boys scheduled to meet at the Westmount Y Thursday evening. The two clubs will get together for a joint meeting on Friday, October 20.

Rev. Reginald Fourniret, who has served overseas in this war as an army padre, spoke to the boys' club last week on "The Sort of Peace." His speech was well-received by more than 40 boys who attended the meeting.

Also present at last week's meeting was R. O. Bartlett, Westmount High's new and popular principal, who told the club that he was very interested in the Hi Y platform. Jean-Charles Harvey, editor of Le Jour, has been asked to speak at next Thursday's meeting.

SOCCER

You've all at least heard about Westmount's senior A soccer team. The boys haven't done extraordinarily well so far but they feel that for their first year in the league they're making a good show. Captain Peter Jessop, has announced that a few more supporters would be welcome at the games and has given us the list of the 26 players on the team.

EXECUTIVES

With Parker L. Wearing supervising, the executives of Westmount's student organizations were elected last Friday. Here are the results:

Red Cross: Bill Raymond, Bob Keefler, Betsy Badgeley, Jerry

Wright and Rosemary Macpherson. Dramatic society: Roy Howard, Ian Roberts, Rita Weissler, Chippy Batshaw, and Terry Drummond.

Debating and public speaking: Jack Shayne, Ingrid Weissler, David Wood, Charlette Snow, and yours truly.

Board of publications: Joe Duffin, Sandy Edmison, Lia Margulies, Charles Kennedy, and Natalie Fochs.

The president of each of these organizations automatically becomes a member of the students' council. The latter will swing into action after Thanksgiving.

Why not follow Joe's example and see that the boys in the firing line have a good supply of "fags"? There's nothing so comforting as a cigarette when the shelling's heavy—ask any old soldier.

Tobacco Companies and Service organizations will cooperate in this friendly gesture, so make it your regular habit to assure that a steady stream of good Canadian smokes will flow to the boys over there.

 snack bar, barber shop, valet service, shoeshine parlor, post office and bank, tuck shop, information bureau, first aid post, library, newspaper room (with papers from 80 cities in Canada) and field comforts.

In regards to the entertainment provided for the armed forces, Mr. Spearman spoke about the popular Sunday evening Forum conducted by Beverley Baxter, where the men have an opportunity to ask questions after Mr. Baxter's talk. There is also a musical program held every Sunday afternoon, when three or four of the leading artists in London contribute with their talent.

Special parties are held at Christmas, New Year's Eve, Dominion Day and Hallowe'en, and special Provincial nights are held from time to time, when outstanding speakers from the various provinces speak for a few minutes.

Once a week a Quiz is put on, usually four members of the Forces competing against four of the voluntary ladies. Tours are arranged to places of interest such as the Tower of London, Houses of Parliament, Wax Works, Lloyds, Stock Exchange, Newspaper offices, and are very much appreciated by the men. About 1200 men take in these trips each week. Dances are held every evening except Sunday and Moving Pictures are held two afternoons a week.

Mr. Spearman concluded by saying that too much cannot be said about the manner in which the English people look after our men. "They are absolutely tireless in their efforts on behalf of the men," he said, and he added, "There are over 500 names on the hospitality list . . . many of these homes being opened to the men for week-ends, or for their seven or fourteen days' leave."
 Mr. Spearman has now resumed his duties as executive secretary of the Westmount branch of the "Y".

ball and gym work. On Tuesdays, weekly, swims have been arranged at the Westmount Y.M.C.A.

Bill Moxley, Chairman of the Boys' Work Committee of Westmount Rotary, has been the spark plug behind this club which has started so auspiciously. Helping him is Mr. T. Hargrave, who acts as organizer and supervisor.

"We would certainly like to see the parents at our club meetings," states Mr. Moxley. "They are always welcome and I think that if they were to come down and see how the club is operated and how enthusiastic the boys are about it, they would get a new conception of what we are trying to do and the importance of this particular project. We have great plans for the future and at the moment we are making active arrangements to conduct classes in various handicrafts, including leatherworking, woodwork and metalwork. In this connection, we would certainly welcome the assistance of any adults in the district who themselves have skills in various handicrafts and who would be prepared to assist us in planning these activities and possibly in assisting us personally in training the boys."

At Cedar Rapids, Iowa, the Department of Agriculture reports that success attended the innovation of square quarts and half pint milk bottles, which increases cold storage space as well as truck loads. Grocers and retailers found they could put 36 square quarts on a frig. shelf that held only 25 round bottles.

"THE WHITE CLIFFS OF DOVER" Starts Saturday at the Snowdon Theatre!

Irene Dunne stars in the epic film "The White Cliffs Of Dover" with a stellar supporting cast including Alan Marshal, Frank Morgan, Dame May Whitty, C. Aubrey Smith, Roddy McDowall and Van Johnson. It is the heartwarming story of a young American girl who meets a young English Baronet while visiting England before the outbreak of World War I. They marry and though the first World War claims the life of her husband, she never is able to return to America. Roddy McDowall plays her son, as a child, and Peter Lawford is her son as a man who, like his father, gives his life for the promise of a better world to come.

Each of us is both consumer and producer.

As a producer each of us would like to get MORE money for our goods or services,

If prices are to be kept down, then costs of production including salaries, wages and raw materials must also be controlled.

Obituary

MRS. T. H. JORDAN

Final tribute to one of Westmount's leaders in social and philanthropic work was paid Wednesday afternoon when a large number of friends and representatives of local organizations attended the impressive funeral service for Mrs. Thomas H. Jordan, held at the chapel of Jos. C. Wray and Bro., 1234 Mountain street, at which Rev. Canon Gilbert Oliver, of the Church of St. Matthias, Westmount, officiated.

Mrs. Jordan, the former Mary Louise Scott, who resided at 446 Mount Stephen avenue, died on Monday at the Ross Memorial Pavilion, Royal Victoria Hospital.

The chief mourners attending the service included: her husband, Thomas H. Jordan; one son, Herbert S., and a sister, Miss Maude Scott, of Montreal. One brother, William Scott, of New York, was unable to attend the service.

Another reduced rate is announced on overseas mail now, with Airgraphs—"the letters on film that travel by air"—may be sent for just 5 cent; to civilians in which the airgraph service operates as well as to members of the Armed Forces. It is interesting to know these letters are flown to Toronto, photographed on reels of microfilm—1 600 messages being contained on a 3 3/4 ounce reel of film—over 6,800 messages to the pound. Enlarged prints are made overseas after being flown across the briny. If a reel is lost, a duplicate can always be made and despatched.

THE FORUM

celebrated the 2,495th birthday of Confucius. The two principal speakers were Wendell L. Willkie and Dr. H. H. Kung, vice-premier of China and lineal descendant of the great Chinese philosopher. Dr. Kung also dedicated "China House," a cultural centre for Chinese students and their Americans and Englishmen to think of Street was presented to the China Institute by the Henry Luce Foundation as a memorial to Dr. Henry Winters Luce, late missionary to China, father of Life magazine.

A new "Liberal Party" has been formed in the U.S.A. which is trying to combine the liberals with the right wing labor groups who lost out recently in the American Labor Party controversies. Prominent in the new party are Dr. George S. Counts, of Columbia University, David Dubinsky, president of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union and Dr. John L. Childs, who is New York State chairman.

"It may be possible for Americans and Englishmen to think of Europe's future in terms of the capitalist democracy with which they are familiar, but it is no longer possible for the people of Europe to do so. To them the nature of the alternatives is clear, and there can be little doubt as to their choice. The old European capitalism failed to provide the necessities of life for millions, turning to fascism, it plunged the continent into war and destruction. The programs of most of the underground movements of Europe show clearly their recognition that there can be no return to the days before 1939. From France to Poland, they demand the socialization of banks and factories, railroads and mines. They have no intention of again tolerating the rule of monopoly capital. Nor will the people of Germany feel differently when the Gestapo is destroyed and they again have some freedom to speak, to assemble, to form political parties and labor unions. And monopoly capital will be unable to turn to its last resort—a war economy.

"German capitalism is the keystone of European capitalism. Its collapse will have repercussions throughout the continent. In the occupied countries, the end of the war will, of course, mean the elimination of German capital. A large part of the industrial life of these countries was in the hands of firms either controlled by or intimately connected with German interests; as a result of German policy in the occupied countries, there are today substantial German interests in almost all Europe's major industries. Moreover, many of the leading industrialists and financiers of the conquered countries collaborated actively with the Nazis. The liquidation of these interests is high on the agenda of most of the European underground movements. When they are eliminated, European capitalism in its pre-war form will also be gone." — Dr. Fritz Sternberg, in "Common Sense" magazine.

Don't worry. The postal department advises that letters from Canadian prisoners of war in Germany, or in the reverse, may cease to arrive altogether for a time because of cut in German mail connection due to the speedy Allied drive. As soon as certain regions are cleared it will be possible for allied authorities to collect P. O. W. mail from Swiss postal people and fly it to their country of destination. At the moment mail from Canadian prisoners is still arriving, but it is mail which reached Lisbon before disruption of German connection with Portugal.

Don't let them down. Mail your Christmas parcel overseas to the fighting forces at once because soon closing dates will be past.

IN a broadcast referring to the invasion of Normandy, Field Marshal Montgomery, congratulated his troops on the results they had attained. He closed on a note of sober warning by quoting a prayer of Sir Francis Drake, the man who defeated the Spanish Armada in Queen Elizabeth's days, beseeching God to grant the knowledge that "it is not the beginning, but the continuing" of a task that "yieldeth the true glory".

A RECORD VICTORY LOAN... WILL SPEED US TO THE FINISH!

Our military leaders and men in high places who know of what they speak, warn us that the road ahead is going to be tough and bloody. The enemy is at bay in his lair.

Whatever the future holds, we at home must continue to provide all the material aid that our fighting men need to assure Victory. We mustn't let them down.

This year $320,000,000 more than ever before is needed to guarantee the supply.

Combined operations are vital to a steady and successful advance. And combined operations depend on war supplies. Your dollars must keep pouring in to assure these supplies in adequate quantities and when needed.
