RUSSIANS CUT AUSTRIANS
OFF FROM THE GERMANS

RETREAT TO CRACOW IS CUT OFF AND AUSTRIAN ARMY IS PRESSED AGAINST THE CARPATHIAN MOUNTAINS IN DESPERATE FLIGHT.

Rome, Nov. 8.—A special despatch to the Tribuna from Petrograd says:

"The Russians have cut off the Austrian army from the Germans. The Austrians were encircled on their left flank and compelled to precipitately retreat, but Thursday the Russians, with a swift movement, occupied all the ways of retreat toward Cracow and thus the entire Austrian army was pushed toward the Carpathian mountains, against which they were closely pressed.

"Their condition here is desperate as their only line of retreat lies across the Carpathians into Hungary. But the Carpathians at this time of the year and with the recent snowfalls are almost impassable to a million and a half of men with provisions and munitions trains and artillery.

"Petrograd is rejoicing over the present victory, which surpasses all former ones because of its decisive character. Great demonstrations have been held at which the army, Grand Duke Nicholas, the commander in chief and Emperor Nicholas were cheered and in all the churches services to celebrate the event also have taken place.

"Emperor Nicholas remains at the front."

KAISER CALLS
COUNCIL OF WAR

RUSSIAN VICTORIES WORRY HIM—"GOTT" EVIDENTLY NOT CONSULTED

London, Nov. 9.—A despatch to Reuters Telegram Company from Rome says:

"German advisers received here say that Emperor William, much affected by the Russian victories, has held a council of war which was attended by General Von Hindenburg, the Duke of Wurttemberg and the Austrian chief of staff, Field Marshal Baron Conrad Von Hotzendorf, to decide on a further plan of campaign."

GERMAN AND AUSTRIAN ARMIES ARE NOW ON THE DEFENSIVE
BOTH IN THE EAST AND WEST

Squeezing Process Has Begun---British And French Have Begun To Advance---In The East The Germans Have Retreated Over Their Own Frontiers And Crossed The Border Of Poland---Russians Have Cut The German Railway In Silesia And Cut The Retreating Austrians Off From Cracow---Enemy Is Retiring Through Poland---German Success West Of Argonne Is Offset By Gains On The Part Of The Allies---Belgians Also Make Progress---Turks Sink Greek Steamer---More South African Rebels Are Rounded Up

London, Nov. 8.—The German and Austrian armies are now on the defensive both in the east and the west. They have, at least for the present, given up their efforts to break through the Allied lines around Ypres, in Belgium, where the British and French have taken the offensive, and, according to the reports from French headquarters, have commenced to advance, and in the east they have fallen back to and over their own frontiers in East Prussia, and in Poland have crossed the border, while the Russian cavalry has penetrated Silesia, to the north of Kalisz, and cut the German railway.

The Russians are also following up their advantage in Galicia, and, it is said, have succeeded in cutting the retreating Austrians off from Cracow, and the German army is retiring through Poland. In fact, at only one point on the two battle fronts do the Germans claim success. That is to the west of the Argonne region, where the German Emperor's forces have succeeded in taking from the French an important height near Vienne-le-Chateau.

Elsewhere the French troops have made progress and retaken the positions which they had lost during the course of the week. This is notably so in the Aisne valley around Soissons, where they have regained the ground which the Germans by fierce assaults had taken from them.

The Belgians, who are holding the line reaching to the coast, have also made progress, and it would thus seem that the Germans are still waiting for additional reinforcements before renewing their attempt to smash through to the French seaports.

The fighting was carried on today in a fog, which interfered with the work of the airmen and likewise with the artillery.

While the reports of the Allies offensive in the west have given hope in London that the Germans will fall back to a line further removed from the sea, all uneasiness has not passed, for they have previously shown wonderful recuperative powers. The presence of the Russians in East Prussia and Silesia, however, although the latter are only cavalry, it is believed here, will prevent the Germans from sending any more troops to the west, if it does not compel them to withdraw some of their troops from that front.

The roads in Russia are hardening with frost and armies can now be moved more quickly, although the Russians don't possess the strategic railways that the Germans do. Silesia, too, with better going for the horses, offers an excellent field for the use of cavalry, in which Russia has proved herself to be superior, both in numbers and efficiency, to the other nations at war. The Cossacks are regaining the reputation which they lost in Manchuria, and the raid they have already made into Silesia, it is expected, will be repeated many times.

The Austrians have apparently sent stronger forces against Serbia and have driven the Serbs out of Slavonia. Of what is going on in Bosnia, which the Serbians and Montenegrins invaded almost to the capital, Sarajevo, nothing has been disclosed for weeks, but the operations against their northern border must have had an effect on the Serbian plans in Bosnia.

Nothing of first-class moment has occurred up to the present in the Near East, but Turkey is being attacked in isolated places by the Russians and British, and the Turks are apparently coming very close to war with Greece, the situation having been aggravated by the sinking of a Greek steamer by the Turks and the threatening of Greeks in Asia Minor. Neither Bulgaria nor Roumania has made any move as yet.

The Union defence forces continue to round up the rebels in South Africa. Those in the northern part of Cape Province, which have been a worry to the government, have been completely routed, while those in the Transvaal, where another four hundred have been captured, are scattering.

In the Orange Free State, however, several small commands are showing activity and have been looting towns and damaging railways.

OFFICIAL

FRENCH STATEMENT.

Paris, Nov. 8, 2.50 p.m.—The Sunday afternoon French official War Office statement said:

"Yesterday between the North Sea and the Lys, the fighting was less violent. Some attacks, not general, of the enemy were repulsed in the direction of Dixmude and to the north-east of Ypres. On almost all of this front, we, in turn, took the offensive and advanced, notably in the region to the north of Messines.

"In the neighborhood of Armentieres, the British troops progressed slightly. Between La Bassée and Arras the attacks of the enemy were repulsed.

"From Arras to Soissons, nothing worthy of note took place.

"Around Soissons our forces made a marked advance. In the region of Vailly and equally on the right bank of the Aisne we strengthened our progress to the north of Chavonne and Soupir. A German attack on Craonnelle and Huertebize was repulsed.

"In the neighborhood of Verdun to the north-west and to the south-east of the place we are establishing the supporting positions recently gained.

"A dense fog prevailed all day in the north as well as in Champagne and Lorraine, hampering the action of the artillery and the aviation corps."

Paris, Nov. 8, 10.38 p.m.—The following official communication was issued by the War Office tonight:

"To the north the enemy appears to have concentrated his activity in the region of Ypres, without result. On the remainder of the line we are holding our ground everywhere.

"On the river Aisne we have reached to the north-east of Soissons the plateau of Vregny, on which we had not previously gained a foothold.

"Elsewhere there is nothing to report."

RUSSIAN STATEMENT.

Petrograd, Nov. 8.—The following official communication was issued from General Headquarters today:

"On the East Prussian front our troops have dislodged the Germans from the region of Wirballen, which was strongly fortified, and have progressed as far as Stalluponen (16 miles east-north-east of Gumbinnen). In the region of Rominen forest and Lyck, our troops continue to press on the heels of the rearwards of the enemy.

"On the left bank of the Vistula our cavalry has penetrated German territory, damaging the railway near Pleschen station, to the north-west of Kalisz.

"On the roads to Cracow on Nov. 6, we attacked the Austrian rearwards along the Nida river, and the next day were operating on the river Nidzica.

"In Galicia our troops are continuing their offensive movement. In the latest engagements on the San river we captured 125 officers and 12,000 soldiers, as well as rapid-firers and munitions of war. South of Przemyśl, on Nov. 6, we took more than a thousand prisoners."

Petrograd, Nov. 8.—The follow-

WAR SUMMARY

Beyond the fact that the Allied, French, British, and Belgian forces are taking the offensive, little has been made public regarding the operations in Belgium and northern France. The French official communication says that the Germans are particularly active in the region of Ypres, but that they have achieved nothing, and that everywhere else on the Aisne, the Allies are holding their ground. To the north-east of Soissons, however, the Allies have made rather notable progress in gaining the Vregny plateau, on which they had not previously been able to gain a foothold.

In the eastern field of the war, according to all official reports, the Russians have made decided progress against the Germans and Austrians, and Russian cavalry have penetrated German territory. Likewise the Russians have succeeded in driving back the rearwards of the Austrian forces along the Nida river, in Poland, and in Galicia are carrying out a strong offensive movement, which is indicated by the official report that they have succeeded in capturing more than 12,000 soldiers including 125 officers in recent engagements on the San river.

A newspaper despatch gives the estimate of about 3,000,000 Austrian and German troops on the line from Cracow, Galicia, to Thorn in East Prussia.

Regarding the Russian operations, Earl Kitchener, the British Secretary of State for War, has telegraphed his congratulations to Grand Duke Nicholas on the success of the Russian arms against the Germans and Austrians. He ventured the prediction that the joint efforts of the Allies would result in the final crushing defeat of the enemy.

A cruiser of the Breslau class, formerly owned by Germany and now attached to the Turkish navy, has bombarded the seaport of Poti, on the Black Sea. Little damage was done and the fire of the Russians drove off the cruiser.

German reports received at Rome say that Emperor William and his generals at an army council have discussed a new plan of campaign.

Advices from Warsaw say that twenty-one persons have been killed there in the past few days by bombs dropped from German aeroplanes.

South American points on the Pacific have received no confirmation of the reports of several days past of new encounters by British, Japanese and German squadrons. Neither have they reported the presence of Japanese warships.

Tsing-Tau, in the German concession of Kiaochow, will be formally surrendered to the Japanese and British on Nov. 10.

ing official communication has been received from the Russian General Staff in Caucasus:

"Our troops on Nov. 6, after a fierce battle seized the Turkish position at Koprukeui, (in Turkish Armenia, 30 miles east of Erzerum), a naturally strong position and well fortified. The position covers the route to Erzerum.

"Our troops continue to pursue the defeated enemy."

GLIMPSES OF OLD QUEBEC

From the Files of The CHRONICLE, October, 1884, and 1814.

A HUNDRED YEARS AGO TODAY

The Ghent Negotiations.

Whilst the United States think that Great Britain has been unreasonable in her proposals it appears there are those in Canada who are of the opinion that she has not asked enough, particularly in not making any proposal tending to the security in time of war of the navigation of the St. Lawrence between Montreal and Lake Ontario. That is indispensably necessary to this security, as well as to the preservation of the Canadian to Great Britain, the Americans should be compelled to abandon to the British Crown the tract of territory lying between Lakes Ontario and Champlain, insisting that an increase of American population in that tract will in time become fatal to the hold of Great Britain on these colonies. It is highly desirable that our communication with the lakes should be freed from all danger of interruption and molestation and were it an ex parte difference, and that Great Britain had it in her power to decide as she could wish, there is no doubt but she would find it very convenient to make herself secure at all points, as she is at present, free to make any further demands, should her success in the further prosecution of the war enable her to augment her expectations, the tract of country in question may be made a new sine qua non to a peace.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Great Storm.

For two days at this time thirty years ago a great storm prevailed along the Lower St. Lawrence, causing death and destruction in its path. In the immediate vicinity of the city the disasters arising from it have been chiefly confined to the damage and loss of property. In the Lower Town, where stores face the river front, owing to the high tides, increased by the violence of easterly gales, raised the water higher than has been known for fifty years. Dalhousie street was so much flooded that the traffic was carried on by skiffs, and passengers were taken on and off the ferry boats by boats at a cost of 10 cents each, and subsequently the ferry service had to be suspended for some hours. In some places Peter street, Champlain and Finlay markets were below water. In the large new store of Messrs. Thibault Bros. there was about four feet of water, while Messrs. Hamel & Co., Nazaire Turcotte, Messrs. Renaud & Co., and other merchants along Paul and St. Andrew streets were all sufferers. The St. Charles River overflowed its banks, flooding not only Hedleyville but also the lower streets of St. Roch's. The storm seems to have reached its climax around Father Point, where three men lost their lives. Pilots of fifty years experience, state they never remember having seen such a storm, in the signal service bureau there the waves mounted to a height of sixty feet.

CAPTURE OF TWO GERMAN
CRUISERS QUESTIONABLE

NO OFFICIAL COMMUNICATION FROM BRITISH, JAPANESE OR FRENCH SOURCES HAS YET BEEN ISSUED TO CONFIRM THE NEWS.

Lima, Peru, Nov. 8.—It is reported here that a Japanese squadron cruising along the coast of Peru has captured the German cruisers Scharnhorst and Gneisenau.

Vague rumors of the capture of the cruisers Scharnhorst and Gneisenau have been persistent since October 31, when a despatch to London from Sydney, N. S. W., said they had been taken as a result of the failure of their coal supply.

Friday a Tokio rumor, coming by way of London, fixed the date of the alleged capture as Saturday Oct. 31, but failed to designate the place, saying merely that the cruisers were coaling when surprised.

This obviously was wrong as the engagement in which the British squadron was defeated and in which the Gneisenau and Scharnhorst took part, was fought the following day. The latest tidings of the cruisers was that after coaling at Valparaiso, they put to sea last Wednesday.

The present report in circulation in Lima may be a result of numerous inquiries sent to the South Pacific ports asking information as to the report in the capture of the vessels. A Callao despatch received shortly before the one from Lima, made no mention of the reported taking of the German cruisers by the Japanese. Callao is the principal seaport of Peru and probably would be better informed as to movements off the coast than Lima, which is inland.

Felicitations expected by the British and Japanese Admiralties over the fall of Tsing-Tau made no mention of the capture of the Gneisenau and Scharnhorst.

AUSTRO-GERM
FORCES IN BAD WAY

FUGITIVE TROOPS COMMUNICATING PANIC TO THEIR RESERVES.

Rome, Nov. 8.—Official communications received in Rome from the Russian army headquarters state that the Austro-German reverses in Galicia and Russian Poland are being augmented daily by the fugitive troops communicating panic to their reserves.

The Austro-German cavalry forces are depicted as being in an especially pitiful condition.

The Austro-German casualties are said to aggregate over 30,000 men in dead and prisoners. The Russians also claim to have captured 200 cannon.

CHILIAN STEAMERS
LOOK FOR MONMOUTH

LOST VESSEL IS SUPPOSED TO BE THE OBJECT OF THEIR SEARCH.

Valparaiso, Nov. 8.—The Chilean steamers Valdivia and Chiloe flying Red Cross flags have sailed with sealed orders from the government. The transport Maipo was despatched earlier.

It is assumed that the mission of the vessels has to do with the report that the British cruiser Monmouth was driven ashore on the Chilean coast after the naval engagement of Sunday last.

GERMAN STATEMENT.

Berlin, Nov. 8, by way of London, 5.40 p.m.—The following communication from German general headquarters was issued today:

"Our attacks near Ypres and west of Lille continued yesterday (Saturday)."

"An important elevation near Vienne-La-Chateau on the west side of the Argonne, which has been the object of fighting for weeks past, was taken. Two large guns and two quick-firers were captured."

"For the rest, the foggy day passed calmly on the western theatre of the war."

"On the east nothing new has transpired."

HON. THOS. CHASE CASGRAIN
ELECTED BY ACCLAMATION

NEW POSTMASTER-GENERAL IS OBJECT OF GREAT OVATION FROM HIS CONSTITUENTS—WILL WORK FOR ADVANCEMENT OF THIS PORT.

Seldom if ever before in the political annals of Quebec County was there such universal jubilation as on Saturday afternoon at Loretteville when a large meeting was held to celebrate the election by acclamation of Hon. T. Chase Casgrain, Postmaster-General, successor in the Dominion Cabinet as well as in the County of the Hon. L. P. Pelletier, who has been obliged to withdraw from public life due to ill-health.

Among the many notable statesmen who have in turn represented the County of Quebec in the Dominion House as well as in the Quebec Legislature it is safe to say that none was more popular, and justly so, than the Hon. T. Chase Casgrain.

The press, both Conservative and Liberal, heralded the coming of Mr. Casgrain with satisfaction and paid just tribute to his worth. The public in general, and particularly the electors of Quebec County, regardless of party ties, all united to acclaim the new minister as a decided acquisition to the public life of Canada, and a worthy representative of the District of Quebec in the Borden Cabinet.

Saturday was nomination day and Loretteville being the chief town of the county, a special train left Quebec at 1.30 p.m., bearing throngs of citizens and residents of all parts of the district, while from every parish in the county electors gathered at Lorette. On the arrival of the train at Loretteville the crowds proceeded to Montcalm Hall and shortly afterwards Hon. Mr. Casgrain accompanied by Hon. C. J. Doherty, Minister of Justice, and others arrived from the city in automobiles when they were lustily cheered and preceded to the hall in procession by the brass band from the Indian settlement.

The announcement of the return of Hon. Mr. Casgrain by acclamation was made by Mr. Renaud, the returning officer, and was a signal for the wildest cheering and enthusiasm, and as the new minister and his friends mounted the platform, he was presented with four beautiful bouquets by charming young ladies representing different sections of the county.

The organization for the reception of the minister was looked after by the Pelletier Club of Lorette and suffice it to say that they left nothing undone. The hall was tastefully ornamented with flags and draperies, while a number of inscriptions of original and appropriate design were conspicuously displayed.

The meeting was presided over by the Mayor of Loretteville, Mr. A. St. Armand, and among those who occupied seats on the platform were Hon. C. J. Doherty, Hon. Thos. Chapais, Messrs. A. Bernier, Mayor of Lévis, Lawrence Stafford, Dr. Verge, Allyn Taschereau, E. Baillargeon, Lt.-Col. Vohl, Chas. Smith, Ex-Ald. Gauvreau, Victor Chateaufort, John T. Ross, J. G. Scott, Gaspard Lemoine, D. O. Lesperance, Ald. Lockwell, Ald. Dussault, Ex-Ald. P. Campbell, Dr. Jos. Paquet and many others.

Hon. Mr. Casgrain delivered a vigorous speech in the course of which he thanked the electors of Quebec County for the signal honor which they had conferred upon him in returning him by acclamation. He deplored the disappearance of Hon. Mr. Pelletier and pointed to the numerous works which the former Postmaster had accomplished, as monuments to his memory. Speaking of himself Mr. Casgrain affirmed that he had come to carry Mr. Pelletier's programme to completion and knew full well that it was on those grounds that he had been returned by acclamation. Despite the economic crisis brought about by the war he assured the gathering that the works in Quebec harbor and the surroundings were a national undertaking and it was absolutely essential that they be completed with the least possible delay. The termination of these works was not only of import to Quebec, but to all Canada. Sir R. Borden understood this and he called upon his colleague the Minister of Justice to pledge with him the uninterrupted continuation of all the works here. Mr. Casgrain appealed to his colleagues for support in his work, saying that if this was denied him he would be impotent, but if granted him he would be strong as Mr. Pelletier had been. He urged upon his auditors the importance of stimulating agriculture and industrial development to make up for the shortage of products in Europe. He hated to use the word, but the fact remained that Canada must profit by the unfortunate situation caused by the European war to increase her agricultural and industrial products. At the close of his speech in French Mr. Casgrain observing that there was a number of English-speaking electors in the gathering, welcomed them saying that he was proud to have their support. Valcartier, he said, had stood by him in 1886 and he knew it was with him again. He told the

GERMANY ANGRY
OVER TSING-TAU

"BLONDE BEASTS" FROM THE RHINE ARE GNASHING THEIR TEETH.

Amsterdam, via London, Nov. 8, 9.10 p.m.—The Berlin Local Anzeiger, commenting on the German defeat at Tsing-Tau, says:

"Germans will never forget the heroic fighting at Kiaow Chow and those who defended the colony. Never shall we forget the brutal violence of the yellow robber's nor England, who instigated them. We know that we cannot settle our account with Japan at present; for years she will enjoy her booty. Our mills will grind slowly, but even if years should pass before the right moment comes at last, then a shout of joy will resound throughout Germany. Woe to you, Nippon!"

BELGIAN SUCCESS

FLYING COLUMN TOOK KISSENGI, GERMAN FORTIFIED POINT.

Havre, via Paris, Nov. 8.—A report of the operations of the Belgians in the Congo as published in the Courrier L'Armée Belge, says:

"Our troops have conducted themselves bravely in the colony of the Congo. A flying column has just taken Kissengi, a fortified point on the bank of Lake Kivu. The troops in their assault on the fort inflicted heavy losses on the enemy."

"A German attempt to take Albertville, on the west shore of Lake Tanganyika, failed."

"A Belgium column from Katanga has entered British Rhodesia to aid the British forces from Abercorn in an operation directed against German East Africa."

EARTHQUAKE CAUSES
ALARM AT MESSINA

ACTIVITY OF VOLCANOS LATELY ADDED TO THIS, GIVES ALARM.

Messina, via Rome, Nov. 8.—A strong earthquake shock which was felt in this vicinity on Saturday, has caused considerable alarm among the population, especially as following so closely the fresh activity of Mount Vesuvius. Fears are entertained that the new shock is but the forerunner of another period of earthquakes. According to the registration at the observatory the center of the earthquake was about 77 miles distant from Messina.

Harriston, Ont., Nov. 8.—A splendid response has been made by the farmers of Minto township to the call of the county of Wellington for a donation of produce to the British government. Some 3,500 bushels of oats were loaded into three cars yesterday and will be sent to Guelph.

GERMAN SCHOONER
INTERNEED.

Honolulu, Nov. 8.—On instructions received here from Washington, the North-German Lloyd's steel schooner Lockau, which arrived here recently, was interned here last night under the ruling that the vessel was a naval tender.

GENERAL HUGHES
BACK FROM ENGLAND

SAYS CONTINGENT MAY GO TO CONTINENT AT ANY MINUTE NOW.

New York, Nov. 8.—General, the Hon. Sam Hughes, Canadian Minister of Militia, returned last night from England and the Continent on board the steamship St. Paul, which arrived from Liverpool.

Active service at the front will be seen by the Canadian troops recently sent to England from Ottawa, according to General Hughes.

The stories printed in this country to the effect that the Canadian contingent will be used to help to strengthen the coast defenses of Great Britain were repudiated by General Hughes as being without foundation. Neither will the Canadians be sent to Egypt, as also has been reported, said the Colonel.

"There were 33,000 men in the first contingent which Canada forwarded to the help of the Mother Country," he continued. "They comprise the finest body of men that I have ever seen, and are enthusiastic over the prospect of getting into the active part of the fray. Weeks of training has practically made them seasoned regulars, and I feel sure their presence on the field will prove of great advantage to the Allied forces."

"More than one thousand men among the first contingent are Americans, and a large proportion of these were members of the American National Guard. From the far West we obtained a particularly fine body of men, well trained in the handling of arms and inured to hardships equal to any they may face on the European battlefields."

The report that there is a feeling of unrest among the Canadian troops now in England or that their commissary department had been a source of complaint met with a vigorous denial by General Hughes, when he was asked about the matter. The Canadians received a welcome when they arrived in England and that for their enthusiasm has seldom been equalled, he said, and their commissariat is of the highest order. The contingent is now encamped on the Salisbury Plain and may be sent to the Continent at any minute.

"Here is the message," Gen. Hughes said, "that the Canadian troops asked me to take back for their folks at home:

"Give our love to our dear ones in beloved old Canada. We will see them again soon, when we have beaten the Germans."

"I spent the whole of my fifteen days at the camp," Gen. Hughes said, "and had several talks with Lord Roberts and Lord Kitchener, who said they were delighted with the splendid contingent from Canada and wished me to convey to the people of Canada their appreciation of the work done for the Empire."

With regard to the conditions in England, General Hughes said there was a spirit of optimism everywhere. "The big struggle has yet to come," he said, "and Canada will go on training her militia, especially the overseas, till the war is over." Colonel E. W. Wilson, who returned from England with the Minister of Militia, left tonight with him on the train for Montreal.

RUSSIAN FLEET SINKS BOATS CONTAINING ARMY SUPPLIES FOR TURKS.

Washington, Nov. 8.—The Russian Embassy has received supplementary statement to official reports given out in Petrograd, which says:

"In the Black Sea our fleet bombarded the Turkish port of Sangak and sank four Turkish transports, three with supplies of clothing for the Turkish army and one presumably with troops."

ANOTHER CROWN
PRINCE IS WOUNDED.

London, Nov. 8.—Owing to a serious wound in the leg received in action on the battlefield in France, Crown Prince George of Saxony has arrived at the Royal Castle at Dresden and will take no further part in the campaign, says a despatch from The Hague to the Exchange Telegraph Company.

JAPAN CELEBRATES FALL OF TSING-TAU FORTRESS

EXTRAORDINARY ENTHUSIASM EXHIBITED AND POPULARITY OF ANGLO-JAPANESE ALLIANCE IS EVIDENCED BY TRIBUTE PAID BRITISH.

Tokio, Nov. 8.—Japan is still celebrating the fall of Tsing-Tau. Extraordinary enthusiasm is manifested throughout the Empire. In every city there are lantern processions and merriment nightly. Every house supports a flag.

In Tokio, cheering crowds serenaded the high officers of the army and navy and the diplomatic representatives of the Allies. The popularity of the Anglo-Japanese alliance is shown by the recognition everywhere of Great Britain's share in the victory. Imperial edicts congratulated the British as well as the Japanese warriors.

The Admiralties of Great Britain and Japan have exchanged felicitations and the municipality of Tokio cabled congratulations and thanks to King George.

It is stated that the combatants who were not captured during the final assaults upon Tsing-Tau will be surrendered formally on November 10. Every steamer in the harbor of Kiaow Chow was sunk and navigation has been made perilous by the mines. It is understood that the terms of surrender were practically unconditional.

Among the rumors such as are always set afloat at a time like this one is that Governor Mayo Waldeck of Chow, was mortally wounded and committed suicide. This gained some credence despite the fact that it was officially announced that the German governor conducted the negotiations for the surrender of the town.

It is also reported that the garrisons of the coast forts fought up to the last minute and then tried to escape by a train firing their small arms as they fled. Many, it is said, did escape across the bay in junks and are now being pursued.

Emperor Yoshihito and Empress Sadako have sent messages of appreciation to the forces of the Allies that participated in the operations resulting in the fall of Tsing-Tau, the seat of Government of Kiaow Chow, the German leased possession in China.

To the Japanese, His Majesty expressed gratitude for the "faithful discharge of their duties by the officers and men of the army and navy."

The following was sent by the Emperor to the British forces:

"The Emperor deeply appreciates the brilliant deeds of the British army and navy, which, co-operating with the Japanese, fought bravely and achieved the object of the war. The Empress expressed similar sentiments in two messages."

The formalities of the surrender of Tsing-Tau are described in an official statement issued this afternoon as follows:

"The German and Japanese plenipotentiaries on the evening of Nov. 7, concluded the parleys for the surrender of Tsing-Tau. Our terms were accepted in their entirety. Another meeting will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. On Nov. 10, the forts and equipment will be turned over to us."

"Our casualties on the night of Nov. 6 and on the following morning, (when Tsing-Tau surrendered) were 14 officers wounded and 426 soldiers killed or wounded. We took 2,300 prisoners in the battle."

FEW GERMANS HURT

Husbands of German Women at Peking are Unharmed

Peking, Nov. 8.—The German legation makes known that it has received a telegram from Tsing-Tau, the transmission of which was made possible by the courtesy of the Japanese, stating that the husbands at Tsing-Tau of all the German women who found refuge in Peking are unharmed. As there are about 103 women and children here the legation accepts the message as indicating that the German casualties were few.

Great relief that the struggle is over is expressed through one of the most prominent women of the German colony upon hearing the news. Patriotically declared her regret that her husband had not been able to fulfill the command of the German Emperor.

ANOTHER TRIAL
IN VANCOUVER CASE.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 8.—After three hours deliberation the jury trying the case of Bela Singh, charged with the murder by shooting of two other Hindus in the local Hindu temple, failed to arrive at an agreement tonight and there will be another trial. The defence was that Bela was attacked in the temple and that he was obliged to protect himself, which he did by drawing two heavy revolvers with which he shot two of his competitors dead. Bela is accused by his countrymen of having been in too close communication with the immigration officials.

GERMAN ATTEMPTS TO BREAK ALLIED
LINE HAS FAILED

TOWN OF YPRES BECAME "NO MAN'S LAND" UNDER HEAVY BOMBARDMENT.

London, Nov. 8.—A despatch to the Times from Dunkirk, France, filed Saturday night says:

"After a desperate attack lasting the whole week, the German attempt to break the Allied line at Ypres has failed."

"It may be admitted that the position at Ypres two days ago was serious. The town itself was bombarded by the Germans with extraordinary violence and under the fierce cannonading the Allies had to withdraw from the town which because a 'no man's land' across which the shells from both sides burst."

"The Germans made a superhuman and final effort under cover of a fierce bombardment of the British positions. They had prepared a determined onslaught. Masses of men were launched in succession at chosen points of our front. The assault was met in a supreme way. Two regiments, one Scottish and one of the Guards, went down with bayonets to stem the advance. It was the most terrible bayonet charge of the whole war. It succeeded, the break in the line was repaired and the German attack was once more driven back."

"That was their last effort. Today the Germans are dropping an occasional desultory shell into Ypres, but their attacks have ceased. They are now assailing the Allied line at Arras forty miles further to the south but not with the same fury as they exhibited in the onslaught of the past week."

"So fierce has been the fighting around Ypres that the casualties of the Germans are believed to have reached the enormous figure of 100,000, but these figures may prove to have been exaggerated."

The correspondent of Reuter's Telegram Company at Athens says:

"Two British destroyers bombarded the telegraphic stations at Sarmausak and Ayasmat. The Turks sank a Greek steamer that was flying the British flag at Aivali."

"The Greek inhabitants of Smyrna are fleeing panic-stricken. A British destroyer went to Aivali to embark the British consul but the Turks refused to permit this."

"It is stated that forts Sedie Behr and Kum Kaleh in the Dardanelles have been completely destroyed by the bombardment. The Turks, under the direction of German officers, are hoisting a 'fortifying Aivali'."

A despatch from Copenhagen quotes the Politiken as saying that three German officers wearing civilian dress, arrived safely at Copenhagen on the Danish steamer Esrom, which sailed from Baltimore on Oct. 4. According to the paper the officers were provided with what purported to be passports issued by the Swiss consulate general in New York. British warships in the Atlantic searched the Esrom without discovering the disguised Germans.

EARL KITCHENER CONVEYS CONGRATULATIONS OF BRITISH ARMY TO GRAND DUKE.

Petrograd, via London, Nov. 8.—Grand Duke Nicholas has received from Earl Kitchener, the British Secretary of State for War, a telegram conveying the congratulations of himself, Field Marshal French and the British army on the brilliant termination of the second stage of the Russian operations. Earl Kitchener adds: "We are convinced that the joint efforts of the Allies will result in the final crushing defeat of the enemy."

CASE OF THE GEIER.

Washington, Nov. 8.—The German warship Geier, which had been undergoing repairs at Honolulu for several weeks, today has either interned or left that port, according to officials here. The limit of the Geier's stay at Honolulu terminated at midnight last night, it was announced.

The Quebec Chronicle

Printed and published by The Chronicle Printing Company, 11, Watson, General Manager, at the building of the Company, 9 D'Arbo Street, Quebec.

QUEBEC, NOVEMBER 9, 1914.

HON. MR. CASGRAIN.

The election of Hon. Thos. Chase Casgrain by acclamation is generally hailed as most gratifying and means much not only to the constituency which he will now represent but to the district of Quebec as a whole. "Tom Chase," as he is popularly known, is a man who is admired alike by all races, creeds and parties. He has a clean and honorable record against which no reproach can be made, has proved himself possessed of much administrative ability, blends tact with firmness, and the citizens of Quebec may rest assured that their interests are in the keeping of a man who will carry out to the full the programme which Hon. L. P. Pelletier had mapped out for this port. What is more his re-entry into politics is attended by considerable personal sacrifice.

He is the type of Quebec public man who typifies the highest ideals of the French Canadian race. Shortly before being sworn into office a few weeks ago, he said in the course of a public address:

"No sacrifice is to great when we are confronted on another continent with a situation which might spell disaster to British arms and prestige, and absolute ruin and disaster to Canada."

In taking the position that Canada should do its utmost to strengthen the arms of Britain in the present crisis, Mr. Casgrain is in accord with the popular current of sentiment in the Province of Quebec, but his worthy record shows that any position which he takes on matters of National or Imperial policy is not dictated or in any appreciable degree influenced by the mere fact that what he is doing is the popular thing. He has an elevated conception of the duty of a public man and the strength and courage to give emphatic public utterance to his convictions. Mr. Casgrain is a welcome addition to the Federal Cabinet in the present Empire crisis.

THE FRENCH COMPANY.

We confess we are much surprised that more was not made of the departure from this city of the French Canadian company which will go to the firing line with the "Royal Canadian" Regiment. Surely this was an occasion where the City should have been officially represented. For their leaving marks an epoch and, if its significance is not fully realized now, it will be appreciated later on. It shows that the spirit of the men who shared in the repulse of Arnold and Montgomery and of those who fought with De Salaberry is still present in the hearts of their descendants.

PAGAN AND TEUTON.

When they are called Huns or barbarians, the Germans write. They protest that no culture in the world is the equal of Germany's. It may not be fair to call their soldiers pagans but if unfairness exists it is to the pagans and not to the Germans. Plato was a pagan philosopher. He wrote his "Republic" 2,300 years ago. In it he drew up his laws of civilized warfare. He wrote: "Non-combatants to be spared, no houses to be burnt, no farms to be devastated, the dead to be honorably buried, no trophies of war to be placed in the temple of the gods." That was the pagan rule of warfare.

What is Germany's rule? "Cause the greatest amount of suffering. Leave to the non-combatants nothing but their eyes to weep with." These are the words of their accredited spokesman on the ethics of war, Louvain and Rheims and the woe of Belgium show how well the Germans have followed that rule, and sometimes they did not even leave the eyes to weep with.

The pagan would have spared non-combatants. Germany shot them down in batches to teach those left a wholesome respect for German authority. No houses to be burnt, the pagan said. The civilized Germans carried scientifically prepared ignition wafers to set fire to houses and whole cities in a quick and cultured manner.

The apologists for Germany ask the world to look at their fine men who are so honorable, kind and home loving. Would these men, they ask, act wantonly, cause suffering to non-combatants? But read any of their numberless war books. One and all deal with war in its most ruthless aspect. Pity, they say, should be exterminated from the human breast. No form of humanity should soften war's rigors. Nothing should be permitted to stand in the way of the sovereign state of Germany.

The writings of the German militarists and the German apologists do not jibe. Belgium gives the lie to the apologists while showing that the words of the preachers of extermination have been well heeded by the advance agents of German culture.

GETTING DISCREDITED.

As a warlord, Kaiser William commences to look—in the picturesque expression of the Edmonton Capital—like a "busted phenom." In the outbreak the legions of the kaiser were scheduled to perform several tremendous feats; march to Paris, clear the coast to Cherbourg, back the Russians into Poland, raid England, absorb Austria and extend the German empire to the Adriatic, the Black Sea and into Mesopotamia.

It is quite a little task that the Kaiser had marked out for German arms, but forty-four years contemplation of the fact that in wars they had with France and Austria they excelled tremendously as soldiers, not unnaturally led to the belief that German arms were invincible. "The Day" was all they asked to secure their place in the sun.

All things Teutonic led to this. All Prussian diplomacy pre-supposed a time when German armies would march forth to conquest. All taxation, all industry, all education was predicated upon the belief that Germany's ultimate destiny was to rule the world. "Germany over all" was the motto. For this tremendous tribute was taken from German industry to deck the cult of soldiery in shining armor; for this the whole thinking of a kindly nation was subverted and a horrible philosophy of militaristic cannibalism was superimposed. Into the minds and teachings of a peaceful and peace-loving race was deliberately inculcated a fiendish justification of ruthless might and an implacable enmity towards their nearest neighbors. Strength, valor, the power of arms were alone the title for survival.

The clash came. Belgium lay along the border line—unprotected, undefended, presumably spiritless because unwarlike—a fit, easy and inviting mark for the erstwhile German eagle which now discloses itself in the plumage of a vulture.

Launched upon a rush to Paris which was to strike terror into the heart of France, the Kaiser's legions made a detour through Belgium which more than doubled the distance to the capital. "Military necessity" was the reason given, but now we know from the performance of their tremendous guns in the reduction of Belgian fortresses that even this alleged necessity did not exist; that Germans had the cannons which could have blown to atoms in no time the fortresses along the French frontier and converged upon Paris from Metz with less mileage and in fewer hours than by going out of their way to outrage a non-offending people.

What wanton insanity led the kaiser into the folly of going out of his way to brutally assault a non-combatant nation for no apparent reason than that it was unarmed and unprepared? What strange mental infirmity led him to imagine that Britain would not surge into action at the sight of an offensive people beaten down and ruthlessly trampled within sight of her own door? What estimate of the world's processes of thought led the Prussian to believe that the rape of a nation could pass as valor?

The outcome of the kaiser's brutal folly has been to hedge Germany on its two sides with a hedge of steel. Slowly, steadily, terribly, the pressure increases from all sides. Thousands and hundreds of thousands of German lives are being sacrificed in the vain attempt to find a weakness in the ring. Irresistibly it closes in. The greatest battles in the history of the world are being fought; but the splendid superiority of readiness to strike, which constituted the kaiser's greatest advantage, was squandered in the days consumed in crossing Belgium. The time lost was fatal. Squeezed now on all sides by superior strength, Germany is bleeding to death at the rate of thousands of lives per day.

When the kaiser's actions come to be viewed through the perspective of history, the world will wonder how a man capable of the blunder of going out of his road to get into Belgium could have ever been counted better than a dunce at the war game.

PRESS COMMENT.

Following are samples from speeches of the Kaiser delivered in the years preceding the war: "We are the salt of the earth; we must show ourselves worthy of our great destiny." "There is only one law—my law; the law which I myself lay down." "The best word is a blow—the Army and the Navy are the pillars of that State." "A ruler may be very disagreeable, and I will be disagreeable if I think it necessary." "The soldier must not have a will of his own—they must all have only one will, and that will mine." "Only one is master of this country. That is I. Who opposes me, I shall crush to pieces." "We Hohenzollerns take our crown from God alone, and to God alone we are responsible in the fulfillment of duty." "The mighty German Army is the mainstay of the peace of Europe." "The ocean is indispensable to German greatness. Neither on it nor across it must any great decision be again consummated without Germany and the German Emperor." "Our German people will be the granite block on which the good God may complete His work of civilizing the world." "Any opposition on the part of Prussian noblemen to their King is a monstrosity." "God liveth as of old. Our great Ally still reigneth." "My course is the right one, and in it I shall continue to steer." "Neptune with his trident is a symbol for us that we have new tasks to fulfill. That trident must be in our hands." "Hurrah for the dry powder and the sharp sword, for the end we have in sight and the forces we are bending towards it, for the German Army and the General Staff!"—New York Times.

One of the saddest reflection pressed upon the mind by the present terrible conflict is the vast extent to which the discoveries of modern science have added to the terrors of war and the mysteries of mankind. If the Nightingales and the Listers have labored to diminish the sufferings of humanity, the inventors of new explosives, new forms of gun, new methods of warfare in the air and beneath the waters, have, it may be feared, more than counteracted the labors of philanthropists. Of course, no legislation and no treaties can fetter the industries of the men of science, but it is to be devoutly hoped that the future may see them leaning towards the side of utility and mercy rather than toward the perfecting of the means of destruction. Once again we have before us an example of the necessity of subordinating the intellectual to the moral education of mankind. It is encouraging to observe that in spite of all the sorrow and sadness that fill every heart; in spite of the gloom which hangs over the future, there is springing up in the hearts of man a profound hope that from out of the welter of bloodshed and misery may arise a better state of things; that the very horrors of this war may prove the deathblow to the war in the future.—Rt. Hon. Sir Edward Fry, G. C. B.—London News and Leader.

IN AND ABOUT TOWN

THREE HUNDRED RECRUITS ARRIVE

DETACHMENTS FROM THE
WEST QUARTERED IN IMMIGRATION BUILDINGS

With the arrival yesterday of three hundred volunteers for the second Canadian overseas contingent, there was much activity when the trains bearing the westerners pulled out to the siding at the Immigration Buildings, where half of the 23rd Battalion is being quartered.

There are, up to the present time 337 non-com. officers and men at the Quebec Recruiting Station in command of Major S. H. Hill. Of this number two hundred arrived by the special train yesterday morning in charge of Captain J. A. Birney, 103rd Rifles, Calgary. Half of this detachment entrained at Calgary and the other hundred at Edmonton. In the evening special coaches attached to the 6:30 train from Montreal brought in another 100 men from Winnipeg. Fifty of these hail from Estevan, 25 from Winnipeg and 25 from Strathairn, all in charge of Major A. C. Gray, of the Fort Garry Horse, Winnipeg.

The men, selected from a large number of applicants for places on the second contingent, are a likely-looking lot and are in the best physical condition and in high spirits. Many of them have been three and four days on train and were glad to at last reach Quebec.

There is little lacking in the arrangements for the comfort of the volunteers. When they arrived in the morning from Calgary and Edmonton, breakfast awaited them. They were then shown to their quarters in the upper portion of the buildings which are being well fitted out from supplies issued from the militia stores.

Lieut. R. S. Smith, R.C.E., Quebec, is adjutant of the detachment; Q.M.S. Vaughn, R.C.R., acting Sgt.-Major Instructor. He will be assisted in his duties by a number of other instructors of the R. C. R. and by several ex-army N. C. O.'s who have come in from the west. Q.M.S. Campbell, R.C.R., is apparently the right man in charge of the equipment and rations.

The companies will, as far as possible, continue to be designated by their local titles.

They are known as Calgary, Edmonton, Quebec and Winnipeg.

The 23rd Battalion will be commanded by Lt.-Col. F. W. Fisher, a former commanding officer of the Victoria Rifles, Montreal. The machine gun section and four companies have been raised in Montreal and now occupy, with the 24th Battalion, the old High School Building on Peel street. The four Montreal companies are recruited largely from members of the Westmount Rifles, McGill University Officers' Training Corps and the Grenadier Guards of Canada.

Major Grey returned to Winnipeg last night. In an interview with The Chronicle representative he said he was agreeably surprised in finding such complete arrangements made for the reception of the men. He thought the quarters at the Immigration Building far surpassed in convenience and comfort those provided for troops in any other city in Canada. If additional troops are to be sent from the west he hoped to be privileged to again visit Quebec in charge of them.

DEATH OF MRS. B. J. BOLDUC.

Daughter of Late Mr. Jobin, Succumbed After Month's Illness.

The death occurred yesterday of Mrs. Benjamin J. Bolduc (nee Ida Jobin), wife of Mr. B. J. Bolduc, jeweller, of this city. The deceased, who had been ill scarcely a month, is a daughter of the late Mr. P. J. Jobin, whose untimely death through a street car accident, occurred during the period of his daughter's illness, and there is no doubt that it contributed in a great measure to the inability of the late Mrs. Bolduc to rally through the effects of an operation through which she went on Friday last.

The late Mrs. Bolduc, who has been married only seventeen months, apparently enjoyed the best of health up till last month and her death will come as a great shock to all who knew her.

The bereaved husband and grief-stricken mother, brother, Mr. James Jobin, and sister, Miss Isabella Jobin, who have so severely tried within such a short time, will have the sincere sympathy of a wide circle of friends and the community at large in their sad affliction.

DAMAGING FIRE ON ST. JOSEPH ST.

BLAZE BROKE OUT OVER MAR-TINEAU HARDWARE STORE YESTERDAY.

Fire, which caused damage to the extent of about $10,000, broke out in one of the upper storeys of the building occupied by the J. E. Martineau Co., hardware merchants, St. Joseph street, at an early hour yesterday morning.

The alarm was rung in by M. Dussault, a watchman on St. Joseph st., who noticed flames issuing from the second story and sounded the alarm at 3.40. With the arrival of the first detachment of the firefighters, a second call was immediately given and this was followed by a general alarm. With a good pressure of water at their disposal the firemen soon had five streams playing on the burning building from the front and rear.

In about fifteen minutes the flames were subdued under the supervision of Chief Hamel and Deputy Chiefs McManus and Talbot. The interior of the building, which is of four storeys, was badly damaged by fire, smoke and water. The loss, it is said, is covered by insurance.

The fire is thought to have been caused by careless smokers occupying a meeting room on the second flat, someone evidently leaving a lighted cigar butt, or something of the sort, about.

A section of one of the upper apartments is occupied by Mr. Duval, notary, and the balance as meeting halls, for railroad conductors, and also by Foresters. The chief damage was wrought to the second flat where the fire broke out. But for the timely sighting of the flames by Mr. Dussault there is little doubt but that the whole structure would have perished.

MAN HURT AT DUFFERIN TERRACE.

At noon on Saturday, a laborer named Jones, employed on the reconstruction of the Dufferin Terrace, fell from one of the steel cross beams to the ground below. His comrades rushed to his aid and found him unconscious. They carried him up to a shanty in which cement is stored and where he recovered consciousness. The ambulance was telephoned for and on its arrival the victim was conveyed to the Hotel Dieu Hospital. Enquiry at the hospital last evening elicited the information that the patient's condition was favorable. The unfortunate man's wife arrived at the Terrace on Saturday with his dinner just as he was being carried up from the place where he fell.

TO HELP SOLDIERS.

Concert by R. C. G. A. Band in aid of Funds of The Soldiers' Wives' League

The Soldiers' Wives' League has been formed to look after the wives and families of Quebec soldiers, of the permanent and non-permanent forces, who are on active service in Europe. A large number of Quebec ladies, officers' wives and others are interested and are meeting regularly in the Drill Hall, Grande Allee.

This worthy organization should readily commend itself to all, and the announcement that the Council of Laval University have granted the use of their concert hall to the R. C. G. A. Band for a concert in aid of the funds of the league on the evening of Friday, November 13th, should be received with pleasure.

Opportunities to hear the Garrison Band under favorable conditions are all too few, and as the Band shows to better advantage indoors, an evening of enjoyment may be anticipated by the public, who will also have the satisfaction of helping in a good cause. As the prices are reasonable there should be a full house. Advertisement in another column.

NAMES MENTIONED IN CONNECTION WITH BISHOPRIC

VERY REV. DEAN WILLIAMS,
BISHOP THORNLOE, CANONS
TUCKER AND GOULD.

Notices summoning the diocese Synod to meet in Quebec on December 16th for the election of a new Bishop, were read in all the Anglican churches throughout the diocese of Quebec yesterday. Several names have been prominently mentioned in this connection.

Bishop Thornloe, of the diocese of Algoma, was formerly rector of St. Peter's Church, Sherbrooke, and is well and favorably known throughout the diocese of Quebec. He is a forceful speaker, keenly interested in missionary and Sunday School work, and is a man of deep spirituality.

The Rev. Canon Tucker, of St. Paul's Cathedral, London, Ont., as the first General Secretary, of the Missionary Society of the Canadian Church, rendered a service to the whole Church of England in Canada, and in a large measure determined her missionary policy. He is a member of the continuation committee of the Edinburgh Missionary Conference, and is in great demand as a speaker at missionary conferences. Canon Tucker is a graduate of Bishop's College, Lennoxville.

The Very Rev. Dean Williams is the most prominent and highly esteemed clergyman in his diocese of Quebec today, and has spent all of his ministry in Quebec City. He is a graduate of Oxford and of Bishop's College, Lennoxville, and has the unique distinction of having already declined one bishopric.

The Rev. Canon Gould is the present General Secretary of the Missionary Society of the Canadian Church. For many years he was a medical missionary in Palestine. Last year he travelled around the world visiting all the missions supported by the M. S. C. C. His gifts as a speaker and organizer, combined with his intense zeal, have made him a dominant figure in Canadian church life.

WRECK DELAYS THE MONTREAL TRAIN

Train Due Here Saturday at 6.30 p.m.
Only Arrived Yesterday

A wreck on the C. P. R. line in Portneuf County on Saturday afternoon so damaged the road that the passenger train due here from Montreal at 6.30 p.m., did not reach the city until 3 o'clock yesterday morning.

No lives were reported lost, but the derailment of a freight train disorganized the service for several hours.

Wrecks on I. C. R.

There were also a series of three small wrecks on the I. C. R. line below here on Saturday which delayed the passenger service. There were no fatalities, but one of the engineers was reported to be seriously scalded.

SPY WITH CONTINGENT.

Letters received from one of the Quebec boys now on Salisbury Plain, say that he was friendly with one of the spies who was on the Alania, and was shot on reaching Plymouth Dock. The Quebec boy was much surprised to hear this man was a spy, as he was very popular with all the men.

Another story is to the effect that an attempt was made to poison a number of the men, many of whom were thus rendered dangerously ill.

CITY OF ROULERS SUFFERS TERRIBLY

Has Been Bombarded Twice and Partly Burned Down

Roulers, Belgium, via London, Nov. 8.—This city, which is the headquarters of the German staff during the attack on Ypres, has suffered terribly. It has been bombarded twice and was partly destroyed by an incendiary fire after the Germans had accused citizens of shooting at German soldiers and in retaliation had burned down a large section of the districts occupied by the working classes. The Belgians, however, contend that French cavalry were responsible for the shooting and deny any participation by Belgian citizens.

It is impossible to determine the truth of these accusations and counter charges but it is commonly reported that up to the present time forty-three private citizens have been shot by the Germans while a fine of 100,000 francs was levied upon the town. Later this fine was doubled and the money to pay it was collected by the daughters of a number of

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM
PLAY IN MONTREALMADE A GOOD SHOWING
THOUGH LOST BOTH GAMES AWAY.

Though defeated in two games of rugby football which were played in Montreal on Friday afternoon and Saturday morning last, the Quebec High School team has no reason to be discouraged on their showing as considering the small amount of practice which the boys have had, due to the lack of suitable grounds as well as a dearth or rather an utter lack of local teams to practice against, the scores being 21-6 and 8-5 against them by their Montreal rivals, are not by any means overwhelming margins.

On Friday afternoon, the Westmount High School were opposed to the Quebecers and before the boys from the Ancient Capital had found their bearings the Westmount squad had amassed a total of 20 points to 1. In the second half the Quebecers played much better and kept the pigskin in their opponents' half of the field for a considerable portion of the period. Amaron finally going over the touch line for a try. Westmount's last point resulted from a kick to the dead line by Fowler when attempting a drop kick.

Montreal High vs. Quebec High.

Undaunted by their defeat of Friday, the Quebec High School team played a hotly contested game with the Montreal High School team on Saturday morning and despite its heroic efforts to come home with a win the Quebecers were forced to admit a second defeat, this time by the score of 8-5. The first half was stubbornly fought out and neither side succeeded in scoring. In the second half, however, the Montrealers forced the play and a kick to the dead line scored the first point for the winners. This was followed by a drop kick counting two more and the Montrealers then bucked over the line for a try which was not converted, bringing their total to 8. The Quebecers were playing strongly and Amaron was pushed over for a try, but though the Quebec High looked dangerous for the balance of playing time they were unable to add further to their score.

The Quebec players allege, that though they had challenged the intermediate teams of these schools, the captains of both teams which they played against stated that they were obliged to use senior men owing to the absence of regular intermediates. The Quebec High School team lined up as follows:

Flying wing, Josephs; right half, Home; centre half, Amaron; left half, Jewell; quarter, Jones; right scrum, Mathews; centre scrum, Bignall; left scrum, Endler; right inside, Murphy; left inside, Brown; right middle, Roy; left middle, Love; right outside, McNaughton; left outside, Doucet.

Referee—Wallace, Westmount.

ELL WITH SECOND STRING
BACKS, A HARD TUSSELE

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 7—Yale played below form today and the eleven was forced to extend itself to the limit to defeat Brown fourteen to six. With all the regular Yale backfield except Ainsworth watching the Harvard-Princeton game at Cambridge, the second string backs played loosely and made costly fumbles when within the scoring zone.

SCORE

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 7—Harvard crushed Princeton by a score of 20 to 0 in the annual football game between the eleven of the two universities here this afternoon. Aside from the surprising weakness of the Princeton team, the contest was almost without feature, the Crimson completely outclassing the Tigers in every department of the play. Opposed to Harvard, the New Jersey collegians had little offensive or defensive strength, which made the victors' task of rolling up the biggest score that a Cambridge team has ever registered against Princeton an easy one.

Boston, Nov. 7—Alfred Goulet, of Australia and Fred Hill, of Watertown, tonight won the six-day bicycle race which has been in progress ten hours each day during the past week. Reggie McNamara, of Australia, and James F. Moran, of Chelsea, won second money. A team composed of Iver Lawson, of Salt Lake City, and Peter Drobach, of Boston, was third.

These three teams were tied at 1383 miles, five laps.

The winner was decided by a new method. During the last hour, the three leading teams participated in a series of sprints, points being awarded for the positions at the end of every two miles.

VARSITY DEFEAT
MCGILL OUTFITTWELVE TO SEVEN WAS THE
SCORE—SUPERIOR WEIGHT
A FACTOR.

Toronto, Nov. 8—There is joy in the halls of Varsity, for after one of the most strenuous games seen in the Stadium in years McGill yesterday went down to defeat before the Blue and White by the score of 12 to 7. The result of the game means a play-off between the two teams for the championship of the Intercollegiate Union.

McGill's seven points were made entirely in the first half, six of them due to a touch which resulted from a fumble. In the first quarter they had the edge, but for the rest of the game they were victims of the superior weight of the local students line. In its strenuousness the game is reminiscent of that with Ottawa College three years ago. On the back division the Blue and White men also had the edge.

Carr especially, and Sheehy, contributed stellar back division work, while Lindsay at centre half, after several bad fumbles in the first quarter, did some good bucking and kicking. Cassels, on the line, bore the brunt of the attack, and proved a consistent gainer against the much-touted line. Gage and Stratton worked hard. Stratton's long passes to Carr were responsible for the large gains. Adelard and Sinclair as outside wing, tackled very low and hard. Laing did the kicking for McGill, and interspersed good booting with several effective trick plays. Jeffery and Paisley were good, but for effective running could not be compared with Sheehy and Carr. McGill's touch-down in the opening quarter of the game, which Laing converted, was the result of a bad fumble by Lindsay and a diving recovery by Kennedy.

BEATING OTTAWA FORTY-SEVEN TO FOUR.

Ottawa, Nov. 8—The Toronto Argonauts made an Inter-Provincial record for the season and assured themselves of a tie with the Tigers Saturday afternoon in the last local game in the Big Four. They defeated the Ottawa's by the overwhelming score of 47 to 4, scoring their points on eight touchdowns, four of which were converted; two kicks to the dead line and a rouge. They outplayed the Ottawa's at every turn, their backs putting up the cleverest exhibition seen here this season, while the line smothered that of the Senators, who fumbled everything. Play grew rough towards the finish and Referees Roberts and Duckett, who handled the game exceptionally well, had a busy time. Captain McCann was the only man to distinguish himself on the Ottawa team and he did nobly. All the Argonauts played great football and local critics say they will win out in the race. Murray at outside wing was the most conspicuous man on the field. He scored two tries. It was noticeable that the Argonaut "second string" men were also stars, Duke, who succeeded Knight, scoring two touchdowns and Everett Smith capping the climax with a magnificent run. Ottawa only got dangerously close to the Argonaut line once and on that occasion Snelling was downed before he could execute a long pass.

SWITZERLAND, AN ISLE IN A SEA OF WAR.

Switzerland is unique among nations. It has no proper physical unity, and its political unity is the unforeseen outcome of events which occurred more than six hundred years ago. It is prosperous beyond other Continental countries, and its principal cities are undefended. Yet today Switzerland lies a cool oasis of peace in the midst of a burning, glaring desert of war.

The independence and neutrality of Switzerland are guaranteed by the powers of Europe, just as in the case of Belgium. It is her position alone which has thus far prevented an invasion by the Kaiser. It is too far from Paris to Switzerland for the uses of the present German campaign. Nevertheless, a splendid path into France lies through the western cantons, and it is there that the Swiss have massed their soldiers in case of more German treachery.

HAMILTON TIGERS DEFEAT MONTREALMUCH COSTLY FUMBLING AND WEAK TACKLING WAS IN EVIDENCE.

Montreal, Nov. 8—Running up a lead of seven points on the home team in the opening quarter of Saturday's "Big Four" rugby fixture at the Westmount grounds, the Hamilton Tigers held Montreal safe for the balance of the contest, and won 12 to 5, thus assuring the saw-off for the inter-provincial championship between Argonauts and Tigers.

The match was a hard grind from beginning to end, and while at times there was some good football played, there was most costly fumbling and weak tackling in evidence. The ground was soft from the effects of the wet weather, and a rain and snow-storm, combined, in the latter half of the struggle turned the gridiron into a sea of mud.

Players of both sides showed an inclination to rough it at every opportunity, especially when it was discovered that the officials paid little attention to scrapping, and it was a common sight to see the opposing outside wings rolling over one another with the ball in another part of the field.

BOWLING GAME WAS CANCELLED.

The game which was to have been played on the alleys of the Quebec Bowling Club on Saturday evening last between the Nationals of Quebec, holders of the McCallum Cup and a Montreal club, challengers, was cancelled owing to the fact that all the Montreal players were unable to leave town.

MCGILL SECOND BEATEN.

Montreal, Nov. 8—St. Michael's rugby players secured a hold on the Intermediate Inter-Collegiate rugby honors on Saturday afternoon, when they took the measure of McGill H.L. in the first of a series of home and home games which was played on the McGill campus. The final score was 8 to 6, the visitors having the edge on the locals in all departments of the game, with the exception of the kicking.

HERE'S A POSER

If you found a roll of bills in a shabby purse, showing that it probably represented the hard-earned wages of a working man, what would you do with it? Keep it, and so enrich yourself at the expense of some poor family's food and shelter? No, certainly not! Try to find the owner, and return it to him? Yes, every time!

There aren't many workmen losing money on the street nowadays, but there are more than you would suppose who are losing jobs, and jobs mean money, so it amounts to the same thing.

If it would give you real pleasure to hand a laborer back his lost money, it ought to be equally pleasing to be able to hand him back his job.

Simplest thing in the world to do! All that's necessary is to remember when you go into a shop to buy anything, that the article you pick out means somebody's job. If it's an imported article, well, that's a job for a fellow in some other country, but if it's "Made in Canada", it's a job for one of your fellow Canadian citizens, who for the time being, is a little down on his luck.

Take your handkerchief out right now, and tie a knot in it, just to remind you about Swiss constitution prohibiting a standing army, the country actually has a large and most efficient body of soldiers. It numbers well over 200,000 men. Its equipment is the best. Although nominally a militia body because of the constitutional provision, it is actually a federal army.

These soldiers do not serve continuously, and there is no such thing as an enlistment for a term of years. Instead, all male citizens between fixed ages are members of the militia and serve for short periods at stated intervals. In this way every man in the country is made a good soldier without seriously interfering with his occupation. A powerful fighting force can be put in the field in a few days.

Another advantage of the system is the low cost. By keeping only a small force in active service the Swiss maintain what is generally regarded as a thoroughly satisfactory military force for the low rate of about twelve francs per capita per annum.

"FABER SYSTEM"

Long span Reinforced Hollow-Tile Flooring

This system of Fireproof Flooring consists of porous hollow tiles bonded into slabs, it does away with the beams and may be used for every ordinary span and live load in buildings of all kind.

It is a very cheap floor, because its simple construction makes a great saving in labor and material. It is the lightest and thinnest without exception, on the market.

It is fireproof, being built up with hollow terra cotta blocks, cemented together and reinforced by steel rods, it is classified by the British Fire Prevention Committee under "Full Protection."

The safest and strongest without exception.

GERMAN CRITIC GIVES HIS VIEW

SAYS GERMAN ADVANCE BETWEEN LA BASSEE AND ARRAS CONTINUES

Berlin, Nov. 8, via The Hague and London.—The first reference showing the direction and extent of the German retirement from before Warsaw was contained today in a report mentioning the defeat of the Russian cavalry near Kolo, 25 miles from the German frontier. This shows that the Germans have retired behind the Warthe River, which, roughly parallel to the German eastern frontier, and according to Major Morant, military correspondent of the Berliner Tageblatt, that the German forces have also probably been withdrawn north of the Warthe on the West Prussian frontier.

There have been rumors for the past few days regarding the penetration of the Russians into German territory, some even mentioning Bromberg, which lies 69 miles north-east of Posen, and timid inhabitants of the border regions, from Breslau north to Posen, have been abandoning their country houses regardless of the presence between them and the Russians of General Von Hindenburg's strong army.

No indications are published here regarding the line of the new German positions, and the movements of the Russian cavalry screen, of which there were three defeated divisions, were uncertain; nor is it divulged whether the Russians were repulsed by cavalry or infantry.

Major Morant, discussing the situation in the western arena, says the last three bulletins have showed that an attack on a large scale along the coast against Dunkirk has been rendered impracticable, but declares that the situation is equally hopeless for the Allies' left, which has repeatedly indicated an intention to force the Germans back upon Antwerp and render the position between Lille and Arras untenable.

The Germans, he adds, are now able to use the troops from the Yser district elsewhere and need only small forces to check any enterprise along the dunes, artillery preparations between the Ostend Holland frontier being sufficient to repulse any attempts to embark an expedition against the German rear.

A decisive struggle on this wing continues Major Morant, is progressing around Ypres, which is now enveloped from the east, south and south-west, and he declares that the Allies' retirement is practicable only in northerly or westerly directions and that an attempt to break through the strong forces in the region of Lille would be fruitless. The Allies will have held Ypres to no avail if the German advance on the front between La Bassee and Arras continues.

"The French," says the critic, "cannot indefinitely continue strengthening their forces there, and at the same time remain strong enough along the Arras-Noyon-Verdun front against the increasing German pressure. German progress on the Aisne the last few days is gratifying; the Germans now hold thirty kilometres, (about 18 1/2 miles) on the north bank between Vailly and Berry-Aube, and also the crossing over the stream and canal. The abandonment of Soupir and Sapigneul are regrettable; but only local."

NO TRACES FOUND OF MONMOUTH YET

BUT TWO STEAMERS STILL CONTINUE QUEST FOR THE MISSING WARSHIP

Valparaiso, Chile, Nov. 8.—No confirmation has been received here of the reports that have been prevalent for the last few days that naval battles have taken place off the coast of Peru and off Coquimbo, Chile. Both reports are considered here as baseless.

The Chilean Government is endeavoring to maintain the strictest neutrality in the war. It even has gone so far as to relieve the naval authority at Coquimbo for having inadvertently sent a wireless dispatch noting the sailing of the British steamer Orona while the German fleet was nearby.

The Chilean transport Maipo has returned to port at Callao after a fruitless search in territorial waters.

TURKISH TREASURY REPORTED EMPTY

London, Nov. 9.—245 a. m.—According to private information received here from Constantinople, "says the Morning Post's Berner correspondent, "the Turkish treasury is empty and an economic crisis threatens the country. The Turkish customs receipts for August were only $40,000 against $350,000 last year during the same period. The government employees have received no salaries for several months. The money advanced by Germany already has been exhausted."

GERMANS CIRCULATE IN CONSTANTINOPLE

GERMAN MONEY EVERYWHERE—ARMY TOTALLY UNPREPARED FOR WAR.

Rome, Nov. 8.—Despatches from Constantinople describe the situation there as outwardly much as it was during the Balkan war. Foreigners are regarded with suspicion and kept to themselves except in the case of Germans who may be seen everywhere. German money is so plentiful that it is often accepted as though it were Turkish.

In the cafes the German language is constantly heard and this is true also of places of amusement.

The governing classes are described as appearing solemnly confident but the army is declared to be totally unprepared for war. The store houses are said to be empty and no commissariat exists. Many soldiers are still wearing the uniforms worn in the last previous war and the army officers have not all been paid, it is asserted. There is a scarcity of ammunition, according to the correspondents who add that since the beginning of the present war, the Germans have been trying to overcome these drawbacks and to a certain extent have succeeded. They have poured into Turkey German officers, privates, sailors, arms and ammunition and above all money. It is also said that they have sent a submarine to Turkey.

Enver Pasha, the Turkish Minister of War, and General Liman von Sanders, the German commander of the Ottoman army, are the idols of the moment, says one correspondent, who adds:

"They have promised the people military glory and certain conquests followed by riches and prosperity through the spoils of war. Enver Pasha already is depicted as the Ottoman Napoleon, but meanwhile, notwithstanding German assistance, the financial necessities are so pressing that a new taxation has been imposed and the salaries of officials including the diplomats have been curtailed."

LABOR LEADERS RETURN TO AFRICA

THEY WERE DEPORTED TO ENGLAND IN JANUARY
LAST.

London, Nov. 8.—The Durban Natal correspondent of Reuters' Telegram Company says that Labor leaders who were deported to England after the Rand riots last January, have returned in conformity with an amnesty decree recently issued.

Dr. H. J. Poutsma, one of the deported, stated that in behalf of his companions that all had come back unconditionally, but had promised not to embarrass the government during the war. Their landing was not accompanied by any demonstration.

and for twenty miles out at sea between Cape Carranza and Mocha Island for the cruisers that have been missing since last Sunday's naval battle. The steamers Valdivia and Chiloe, flying Red Cross flags, continue their quest, which thus far has been negative. It is supposed here that any floating wreckage from the vessels of the squadrons engaged in the battle has been carried out to sea.

There is also a confirmation here of the report that a Japanese fleet has been seen off the coast.

MAJOR PALEY KILLED

Ottawa, Nov. 8.—Major G. Paley, of the Rifle Brigade, whose name appeared in the list of killed with the British forces in France, was attached to the Canadian Headquarters for several years as director of military training. While in Canada he was commissioned by the British War Office to observe the operations of the United States army along the Rio Grande in 1912.

Major Paley, who was a most popular officer, had seen extensive service, having been in the Nile Expedition, at the battle of Khartoum and participated in the defence of Ladysmith during the South African war in 1899, when he was dangerously wounded during a sortie. He was mentioned in despatches several times.

BATTLE IN PACIFIC EXPECTED SOON.

Tokio, Nov. 8.—A well authenticated report is in circulation here to the effect that the Japanese Admiralty has received information that a battle in the Pacific between the Japanese and German fleets is impending. No indication has been given as to the present whereabouts of either the Japanese or the German men-of-war.

HON. THOS. CHASE CASGRAIN ELECTED BY ACCLAMATION

electors there to come to him if they had any little difficulties, for they must remember that he was their minister, not only the Minister of the Conservatives but of the Liberals as well and he would do all he could for any of them regardless of party ties.

Hon. C. J. Doherty, Minister of Justice, thanked the electors of Quebec County for having given the Government of Canada such an able man as the Hon. T. Chase Casgrain. He expressed the general regret that was felt in the Cabinet at the disappearance of Hon. Mr. Pelletier, but said that it was characteristic of Quebec County to return men of exceptional worth and in Mr. Casgrain a man had been found who was worthy of following in the footsteps of Hon. L. P. Pelletier. The Government of Canada he said was happy to feel that at the present time they were dealing with a people who were all united in respect of party, and were prepared to do all in their power to maintain the noble traditions of Canada.

"When the war ends," he said in his concluding remarks, "in the only way it can end—for there is a God in Heaven—then indeed we will be able to say of ourselves, and the entire world will say of us, that we have done our duty as men."

The other speakers were: Mr. D. O. Lesperance, M.P. for Montmagny; Hon. Thos. Chapais, M.L.C.; Dr. Paquet, M.P. for L'Islet; Mr. Joseph Girard, M.P. for Chicoutimi and Saguenay; Mr. Paul Lacoste, of Montreal, and others.

Hon. T. Chase Casgrain.

A veritable pandemonium reigned when Hon. Mr. Casgrain was presented to the gathering. Enthusiasm was contagious and with his auditors Mr. Casgrain enthused also. He delivered a striking speech which was marked by vigor and eloquence and his remarks were frequently applauded.

It was with profound emotion and feelings of pride that he found himself returned member of the House of Commons for Quebec County for the second time. In 1886 he had received the confidence and the votes of the electors and had been given a brilliant victory. On his return to the County in the present instance he had received the same greetings, the same warm hand-claps, and all had joined in paying him the signal honor of election by acclamation.

It was no ordinary honor to be returned in the County of Quebec, he said, and he referred to some of the important statesmen who had represented the County in the House of Commons, mentioning Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, who had attained the highest position that could be reached by a Canadian as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. Sir Charles was still his friend, Mr. Casgrain said, although they had differed in politics, and it was the same in Quebec County where he still retained a large number of friends among the Liberals.

Quebec County had also been represented by Hon. L. P. Pelletier, he said, and at the mention of the name of the ex-Minister the hall rang out with cheers. It was quite unnecessary for him to sing the praises of Hon. Mr. Pelletier, he said, for that statesman would rank as the greatest representative which the County of Quebec had ever had. Since his return in 1911 monuments had sprung up on all sides as tangible testimony of the good work accomplished.

There was no denying that all parties had for a number of years neglected the County of Quebec. He was not talking politics, he said, for he was dividing the blame equally. Quebec County saved the situation, however, in giving its confidence to Hon. Mr. Pelletier and in three years he had worked wonders.

Mr. Casgrain then related how the Prime Minister had sent for him when Mr. Pelletier was obliged to resign due to illness. Sir Robert Borden had asked him to come back to public life and take over the portfolio of postmaster-general, as well as seek election in Mr. Pelletier's constituency. At first he had considered that it was preferable to remain out of politics and stick to his practice as a lawyer, but on second consideration and when he saw so many young Canadians shouldering their guns and going to the front, he decided to return to the fray and do all he could for the benefit of Canada.

When he learned of his election by acclamation, he said, he might have gone back to Ottawa and have attended to pressing work which awaited him in his important department, but he preferred to remain and explain to his electors what he intended to do as well as to enter into a contract with them for the future.

Reviewing the present European conflict, Mr. Casgrain briefly explained how Germany after years of preparation had hurled herself on France, and England while endeavoring to maintain peace had finally gone into the fight as an ally of France. He expressed the hope that the Teuton barbarians would soon be driven out of France. He was gratified to see that Canada had hastened to the aid of the Mother Country, at the first sound of the trumpet.

England had her dissentions when the war broke out, and there was the burning question of Home Rule, but Redmond soon dispelled all doubts by declaring that the Catholics of the South would fight shoulder to shoulder with the Protestants of the North for the defense of Ireland against any foreign invader, and that England might send her troops to the aid of France. All the colonies had respon-

DUTCH FORTS WILL FIRE ON STRANGE CRAFT IN THE SCHELDT

London, Nov. 9, 3:05 a.m.—A despatch to the Daily Express from a correspondent in Holland says:

"The Burgomaster of Flushing announces that all boats except mail boats and recognized harbor craft found in the River Scheldt will be fired on by the Dutch forts."

"The appearance of strange vessels near Flushing made this regulation necessary. The Dutch intend that the Germans shall have no opportunity of using Antwerp as a naval base."

ded, and Canada, true to her traditions, had already sent 33,000, and was organizing 25,000 more to fight for the triumph of civilization against barbarism.

He had been happy, indeed to sacrifice his personal leisure and to give to his country. While Canadians owed to England, France and Russia a duty they also owed an urgent duty to Canada. Europe was practically devastated; all the countries were at war, and there was no time for agriculture or industry. Under such circumstances there was the economic side of the situation as it concerned Canada, and the people in this country should do all in their power to encourage agriculture and industries to make up for the deficit in European products. It was for this reason that there would be an early session of the House of Commons.

Speaking of Quebec, Mr. Casgrain said that it was destined to become a national port. He recalled when as a member for Montmorency county in 1903, he had protested with the other members of the Quebec delegation against the project of the Grand Trunk Pacific to construct their line only as far as North Bay. "The natural result of this would have been that Western grain and freight would have been diverted to the ports of the United States. All the Quebec members had on that occasion insisted that western freight had to be shipped from the ports of Eastern Canada."

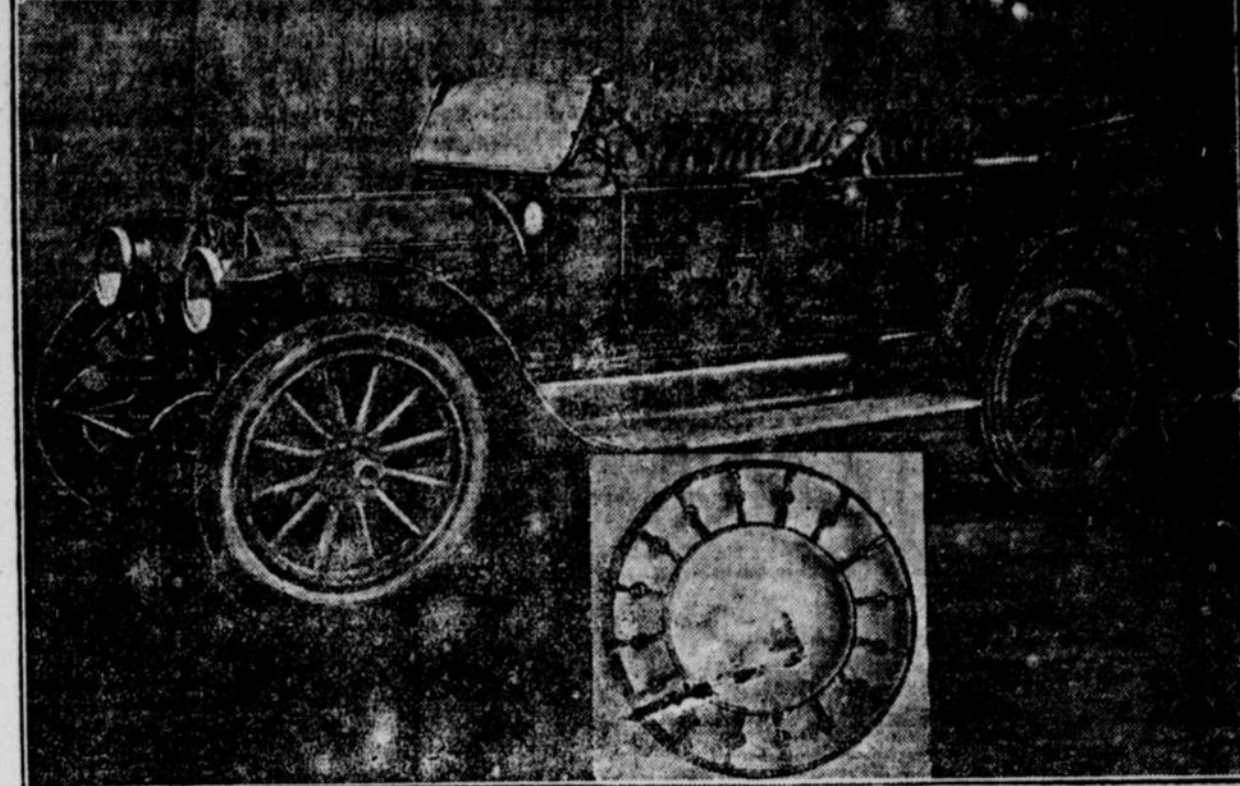

Quebec was being prepared to handle this vast shipping trade. Immense wharves were being constructed, the tunnel would be built, elevators would be erected while the Transcontinental workshops were well under way. All these works were not only essential for the future prosperity of Quebec itself but for that of Canada at large. This had been avowed by Sir Robert Borden himself at the Banquet given in Quebec in his honor in the fall of 1913.

Some of the public works in different sections of the country would have to be curtailed in view of the crisis produced by the war, but improvements of the important nature of those going on here would have to be pushed ahead to completion and he called upon his colleagues the Minister of Justice to witness his declaration. He fully realized, he said, that the main reason for his election by acclamation was because the people of Quebec county were confident that he would carry out the entire program so well undertaken and conducted thus far by Hon. L. P. Pelletier.

Mr. Casgrain declared that he was happy and grateful for the confidence extended to him by the electors and now what remained for him to secure was the assistance of his colleagues. He would ask them for their confidence, their esteem and their help, and if they denied him he would be nothing, while with their full concurrence and assistance he would be strong as Mr. Pelletier was. He expressed his thanks to the Pelletier Club for having organized such a splendid demonstration. He did not take such a reputation for himself but for the cause which he was defending.

Some had criticized him on the grounds that he was a Montrealeur and came to Quebec for election, but he wished to assure his electors that he was more of Quebec than of Montreal, and preferred to seek the suffrage of people whom he knew and who knew him, than to go into a strange constituency. In going to Montreal he had merely transferred part of his office there.

He wished to assure all, however, that he was neither a Montrealeur nor a Quebecer, but he was a Canadian.

DIRECTORS: Paul Tourigny, member of the Legislative Assembly of the Province. Ernest Roy, Esq., Broker. John Paradis, Director of the Quebec Hide and Skin Co., Quebec. Eusebe Roberge, Merchant of Laurierville. Octave Gingras, Mechanical Engineer, Quebec. Legal Adviser, Alcey Taschereau, Advocate, Quebec.

AIM OF THE COMPANY:

The company has just been formed and has bought the patent of an (automatic tire) which can be fitted on all wheels and particularly on automobile wheels. This new invention will be exploited by the present Company, will be put on the market, manufactured and sold at reasonable prices.

EXPLANATION OF INVENTION:

It is a rubber tire hard or full, which rests on the horizontal springs. The dimensions vary with the size of the machine to support, and is placed on the wheel just as easily, with the same rapidity, and the same manner as an ordinary tire.

RESILIENCY:

The rubber tire filled with air is more resilient than the air pressure and lies strong. At a certain pressure this tire becomes as hard as a rubber one not filled with air, such as we see on the big trucks, and the machine or automobile which is equipped with big rubber tires has a high pressure, is not very comfortable and the mechanism consequently suffers considerably. Here, on the contrary, we have a wheel always having the same flexibility, which is equal, if not superior, to rubber tires with normal pressure, this tire offers the biggest comfort and is to the machinery a guarantee of long life.

IMPORTANCE OF THIS DISCOVERY:

Since the big increase in auto business in the entire world, it was sought to replace the empty tires, that is to say the tires that are filled with air, first of all, on account of the considerable amount necessary to pay to buy this merchandise, and besides the small use that it gives compared with the price given, and besides on account of the inevitable accident the automobilist must suffer. Experience has proven up to the present time that the price of tires was 20 per cent, per year at the price of tires was $2.00 on a $2.00 car, an annual expense of $400.00; a $5.00 car an annual expense of $1,000. That is repeated every year.

WE OFFER TO CONSUMERS AND WE GUARANTEE OUR MERCHANTS—AN AUTOMATIC TIRE OF THE SAME UTILITY OFFERING THE SAME COMFORTS BUT WHOSE DURATION WILL BE AS LONG-LIVED AS THE CAR ITSELF.

THE COST:

Our tires will be sold about the same price as the rubber tire. Thus at the end of 5 years a proprietor of a $2,000.00 machine will have saved $2,000.00 only on the purchase of tires, and will be exempt from inconveniences of all kinds that accompany the use of tires with compressed air.

EXPERIENCE:

For six months the Company has experimented this new tire, and you can see at their office

Noting the large number of ladies present at the meeting Hon. Mr. Casgrain thanked them for having thus graced the assembly by their presence. He had made many campaigns and had always won when he had the ladies with him. Despite the fact that he was getting old he was happy to see they still loved him. (Laughter and cheers.)

Mr. Casgrain then addressed the meeting in English and remarked that he observed a large number of English-speaking electors from all parts of the county, but notably from Valcartier and Sillery. He always remembered the way he had been received by the people of Valcartier in 1886, and he assured them that if they had any little difficulties at the present time, that he would be at their service at all times and they must not forget that he was their minister. He was not only the minister of the Conservatives but of all the electors and they must come to him with troubles regardless of party ties.

Loud cheering and applause followed the closing remarks of the Postmaster and these were renewed for the Hon. C. J. Doherty, Minister of Justice who was next presented.

Hon. C. J. Doherty.

It was the proud privilege, he said, of his old friend Mr. Casgrain, to thank the electors of Quebec County for having constituted him their member for the Parliament of Canada. It was a recognized fact that the honor was much appreciated by Mr. Casgrain who would add to his laurels in the Dominion Cabinet.

The Minister of Justice thanked the people of Quebec County on behalf of his chief for having given them such an able colleague as Mr. Casgrain in this period of stress. Many times the ministry had endeavored to induce Mr. Casgrain to abandon the comforts of private life and return to the turmoil of public affairs, but it was all of no avail. Quebec County had succeeded in calling him forth and had given to the service of the country a man whose untiring energy and unsurpassed devotion to his country would make him a tower of strength for the administration.

In Hon. L. P. Pelletier the electors of Quebec County had contributed a man of whom the Canadian Government was justly proud. By his great ability and his wide grasp on affairs in general the ex-minister had been one of the most valuable members of the Cabinet, but even with Mr. Pelletier the party had hoped to have Mr. Casgrain amongst them also. Unfortunately the country was not to be doubly blessed, and Mr. Pelletier suffering from a cruel malady had been forced into retirement. It had been a sacrifice for him to withdraw as it was for his colleagues to lose him. Quebec County had always returned men who were the best products of the country and when the Government lost Hon. Mr. Pelletier the electors had wasted no time in finding one who was worthy of filling his place.

He would be doing less than justice—and as Minister of Justice he was duty bound to give full measure—if he failed to thank Hon. Mr. Casgrain on behalf of the Government for having made such great sacrifices to respond to the call of his country. The Government was happy to feel that they were dealing with a united people at the present time, and when the war would come to an end in the only way that it could—for there was a God in Heaven—then the people of Canada would indeed be able to say of themselves, as the world would say of them, that they had done their duty like men.

Hon. Mr. Doherty was warmly applauded as were the other speakers who followed.

London, Nov. 9, 3:10 a.m.—The Daily Mail today gives prominence to an estimate of a distinguished French officer, whose name, it says, cannot be divulged but who is in a position to make such an estimate, that the Germans will not be driven back over the Rhine until Feb. 1916, and that peace will not be concluded before 1917. The officer bases on this estimate a strong appeal to Englishmen not to refrain from joining the army on the idea that the war will soon end.

COMMERCIAL NEWS

NEW YORK MARKET.
(Canadian Press.)
New York, Nov. 8.—The hopeful sentiment which developed last week was sustained by various circumstances this week. Chief of these were many evidences of the increasing flood of this country's export trade. Commerce department officials estimated an October excess of merchandise exports of $60,000,000. Further buying of wheat and other grains for export continued on a sensational scale and cotton shipments to foreign ports expanded to one-third or more of last year's rate. The effect extended to many lines of industry; even the steel trade felt increased confidence, despite additional contraction of currency business.

The international exchange problem advanced sufficiently to end the necessity for further emergency arrangements under discussion by the British Treasury delegates in conference at Washington. Credits were reported to be arranged in New York by foreign governments, including Russia and Austria, for expenditure in this country. This detracts from apprehension over gold exports, which are thus certain of an early return of the low.

Increased demand for bonds and high grade stocks reflected the growing force of the reservoir for capital accumulating with the bottling up of three months of securities markets.
Ending of the British moratorium, government security for London market loans, re-opening of the Liverpool Cotton Association and prospects of an early re-opening of the New York Cotton Exchange—all these gave impetus to the discussion looking to the re-opening of the Stock Exchange.
Heavy tirements of emergency currency and clearing house certificates marked the strengthening of bank reserves and this was followed by an interest reduction in long time loans to 5½ per cent. The bank statement showed a further increase of reserves and a moderate cash gain in place of an expected loss.

Wall Street drew its own inferences, mainly favorable, from the elections.
Turkey's entrance into the war, the closing of the North Sea and developments in the Mexican snarl were counted among the week's adverse features.

THE EIGHTH C.T.C. HAS GOOD MARCH

FIFTEEN MILE WALK AND A SHAM FIGHT WERE SATUR-DAY'S FEATURES.

The members of the Eighth R. R. Officers' Training Corps, had a strenuous experience last Saturday when they turned up at the Drill Hall at two o'clock in the expectation of going through a few manoeuvres on the Cove Fields or the Plains. When they returned, at the end of the afternoon, they found the Hall a good deal more welcome than when they had left it, for by that time it was seven o'clock and they had covered a good fifteen-mile walk around Cap Rouge and Ste. Foye of most of them had been (figuratively speaking), wiped out in a sham fight.

It was a good march, and except for the penultimate stage, i.e., from the foot of Maple Avenue to Claire Fontaine street, where a pace that was neither march nor double nor good red herring was set, the going was pretty good and the men, no doubt benefited considerably.

It was Major Hay who was responsible for thus taking advantage of the youth and innocence of the confiding candidates for military advancement. When the latter had assembled at the outset in the Drill Hall and girded on their shining armor, he called for the eight most perfect specimens of manhood to step to the fore, which they did, being led by Messrs. and (names deleted by censor) These gentlemen were told off to be the hated enemy and, led by Captain Fletcher, they marched out in the direction of Cap Rouge, there to prepare an ambush for our gallant defenders still left in the Drill Hall.

After the treacherous foe had got a reasonable distance, Major Hay divided up his forces into advance guard and main guard, taking command of the latter himself and placing Mr. Rattray in charge of the former.

Shortly after leaving the Drill Hall Mr. Rattray threw out his scouts and the whole of the defending army proceeded cautiously along the St. Louis Road, interrogating all and sundry as to the whereabouts of the insidious invader. As the latter had, however, commandeered the Silvery car, it was not until neighboring burg was reached that any information was procured. From then on the excitement was sustained by the news furnished by the friendly inhabitants of the countryside and, when in the vicinity of the bridge, the important information was vouchsafed that Captain Fletcher and his collection of muscular males were perfecting their deadly designs in the woods by the roadside about a mile farther on.

This information, alas for many of our gallant forces, proved all too correct. Captain Fletcher proved himself a veritable De Wet at the art of ambuscading and, had his command been as strong numerically as they were physically, every single man of the defenders might have bit the dust, so to speak. A less seasoned veteran might have betrayed his presence by firing on the scouts or by annihilating the advance guard, whose reconnaissance was by no means effective. But these were evidently considered merely as a "contemptible little army" by the general of the ruthless invading forces and, with the consummate strategy and thirst for slaughter of a von Kluck or a Hindenburg, he waited till the main army had walked all unsuspectingly into the trap.

There, according to the scout and meagre reports that can be gleaned from the few survivors, he poured such a withering fire from mail shells into the ranks of our gallant countrymen that they were almost annihilated at once. One account has it that our brave general fell at the first onslaught, having been picked off by a marksman who had been selected especially for the purpose of perpetrating this fell deed. Naturally there was some confusion for the moment, but Captain Rattray at the first shot executed a circling movement, taking the enemy in the rear and working such havoc in their ranks that all who survived were glad to throw their hands up and their arms down. Thus was our honor avenged and our country saved from the dastardly despoiler.

This done and the battle over, the victors with that magnanimity so characteristic of their race, mingled freely with their prisoners, friend and foe sharing cigarettes and tobacco after peace had been proclaimed. It had been expected that the company would now return to the Ancient Capital, but to their momentary surprise the route homeward lay past Cap Rouge and round Ste. Foye, although the shades of night were falling fast. However, everyone was soon resigned and all were soon marching along gaily singing and whistling martial strains. Major Hay set a good pace and, although none of the villagers by the wayside brought milk and eggs or other provender to our famished soldiers, the time slipped along until the welcome soiree of Ste. Foye church hove in sight and a halt was called for a raid on the local store for ginger pop and biscuits.

Another four miles. And here the company proceeded in single file along the wooden sidewalk with its many ups and downs until the foot of Maple Avenue was reached where they formed fours and marched to the Drill Hall, the sight of which began to look pleasant about this time.

OUR DEBT TO GREAT M'NDS

Just such is the feeling which a man of liberal education naturally entertains towards the great minds of former ages. The debt which he owes to them is incalculable. They have guided him to truth. They have filled his mind with noble and graceful images. They have stood by him in all vicissitudes, comforters in sorrow, nurses in sickness, companions in solitude. These friendships are exposed to no danger from the occurrences by which other attachments are weakened or dissolved. Time glides on; fortune is inconstant; tempers are soured; bonds which seem indissoluble are daily sundered by indifference, by emulation, or by enviousness. But no such cause can effect the slight converse which we hold with the highest of human intellects. That placid intercourse is disturbed by no jealousies or resentments. These are the old friends who are in glory and in obscurity. With the same in wealth and in poverty, in glory and in obscurity. With the dead there is no rivalry. In the dead there is no change. Plato is never sullen. Cervantes is never petulant. Demosthenes never comes too long. No difference of political opinion can alienate Cicero. No heresy can excite the horror of Bossuet.—Lord Macaulay.

Gripped With Rheumatism

And Skeptical After Trying Many Medicines—Dr. Chase's Kidney-
Liver Pills Cured Him

When the kidneys fail to purify the blood the poisons left in the system cause pain and suffering, such as backache, lumbago and rheumatism. Read how this skeptic was cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Mr. F. W. Brown, Kingsbury, Que., writes: "I have been completely cured of backache and lame back by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I also recommended the pills to a man who was a cripple from rheumatism. He was skeptical, as he said that he had tried nearly everything on earth. Finally he consented to try them and to his surprise was greatly benefited in the first week, and the pains left his legs until he was so supple he could walk without pain or difficulty. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have worked wonders in this place, and we think there is no medicine like them."
