DRIVEN TO BAY THE QUARRY TURNED

Would-Be Lynchers Meet a Very Warm Reception

NEGRO SLASHES THREE MEN
THE MOB INTENDED TO LYNCH HIM, BUT HE FOUGHT THE CROWD SINGLE-HANDED AND FINALLY ESCAPED.

Panther, W. Va., June 28.—Peter Price, a negro, cornered in a house by a determined band of infuriated citizens bent on dealing summary justice to him, charged with insulting a lady, in his desperate effort to escape cut and killed George Hooks and F. M. McGraw and seriously cut Charles Davis. The murder occurred at large, a small town five miles south of here. Price, on seeing his pursuers, took refuge in a small room in the rear of a saloon. The mob battered down the door, and as they entered the room Price threw himself at them with the ferocity of a tiger, with a knife in each hand. Hooks and McGraw fell to the floor. The revolvers in the crowd were discharged at Price, inflicting but slight wounds. With one desperate swing of his knife he laid open Davis' abdomen and then leaped from the window. He was pursued and captured by officers, who hurriedly sent him to jail at Welch to avoid the vengeance of the infuriated populace. Hooks and McGraw were both well-known citizens and indignation runs high.

ONE MORE LYNCHING.
Georgetown, Ga., June 28.—A young negro on John Whitaker's plantation in this county made an attempt to enter Whitaker's daughter's room by raising the window. The noise awoke Miss Whitaker, and the negro was recognized by her. She told her father, who sent for the sheriff and had the negro arrested and placed in jail. Last night a crowd of masked men overpowered the Marshall, forced him to open the jail door, and then took the negro from the jail. They went in the direction of the Alabama State line, and nothing has been heard of them or the negro since. It is certain he has been lynched.

FOUR ARE DROWNED
Newbern, N.C., June 28.—Hon. W. N. Clarke, his two daughters, Mary B., aged 12, and Frances B., aged 9, and George B. Bryan, the 10 year old son of Green Bryan, were drowned here to-night. The party was out rowing opposite the water works when the boat was swamped by the waves.

KILLED BY THE TRAIN
St. Evariste, Beauce, June 28.—Arthur Laguenex, station agent at St. Ephem, Beauce, was killed yesterday by the train. Wishing to speak to a friend on the train, he ran along the platform while the cars were still in motion. He went too close, was struck, and rolled under the cars, the wheels passing over his chest. Death was instantaneous.

PROSTRATED BY HEAT
Montreal, June 28.—Intense heat prevailed all to-day and to-night at Montreal and many people were overcome. Mrs. D. Gallery, mother of Mr. J. Gallery, M.P., of Montreal, an old lady 80 years of age, died from the effects of the heat to-night.

IN NEW YORK.
New York, June 28.—New Yorkers experienced the hottest weather of the year to-day, the official thermometer registering 92 degrees at 4 p.m., while street thermometers ran up as high as 100 with humidity 62 per cent. In Greater New York eight deaths and fifty prostrations from the heat were reported up to midnight.

TRACKMEN DISCOURAGED
Toronto, June 28.—The striking trackmen were not much encouraged by the meeting at the Junction to-night, at which they laid their case before prominent men of the Engineers, Firemen, Conductors and Trackmen's and Telegraphers Unions. Those present at the conference promised to secure consideration of the case at the meeting of the various Brotherhoods, but no definite pledges of support were secured. The trackmen here are discouraged. They state that men on the line in Western Ontario and on the Owen Sound division are going back to work and for lack of funds they cannot reach them to tell them of the firm stand of the men on the main line and the Ontario division east of Toronto. The Company's officials say they are gradually replacing the strikers and that no real trouble is being caused on the division by the strike.

SHOE TROUBLES IN ST. ROCH

Two Thousand People Meet On Request of Mgr. Begin

TO DISCUSS THE DIFFICULTIES

A LETTER FROM THE ARCH-BISHOP TO THE SHOE OPERATIVES READ FROM THE CHANCEL OF ST. ROCH CHURCH — IF THEY ARE NOT REASONABLE THEY MAY BE CENSURED BY THE CHURCH — A MOST INTERESTING MEETING.

During the last two or three weeks there has been trouble in the boot and shoe trade of this city, owing to a number of the employes in certain factories leaving their work. As this only appeared a forerunner of what was going to happen, it was considered advisable to stop the evil, if evil there was, as soon as possible, and apparently with that object in view His Lordship Archbishop Begin, who is now on his pastoral visit, and who was requested during last winter by both employers and employes to try and settle the existing difficulties, wrote a letter to Rev. Mr. Garneau, curé of St. Roch's, requesting him to convene with Father Tourangeau and Rev. Mr. Bouffard, curés of St. Sauveur and St. Malo to try and settle the difficulties. Accordingly these reverend gentlemen inserted an advertisement in the evening papers requesting the members of the unions connected with the boot and shoe trade to meet in St. Roch's Church this evening. At the appointed hour, 8 o'clock, about two thousand men were present, and after the removal of the Blessed Sacrament from the Church Rev. Mr. Garneau, who was accompanied by several clergymen, opened the meeting with a short prayer. He then informed those present that the object of their meeting was to communicate to them a letter from His Lordship written at St. Michel on the 21th instant, which referred principally to the employes of the boot and shoe trade. He could only infer from the letter a further proof of the great interest Mgr. Begin took in the difficulties between capital and labor, remarking that if His Lordship wanted the ruin of the laboring class he would only have to allow them to continue in the path already taken by them. As a number of the men appeared not to have understood the decision arrived at by His Lordship on the 11th January last, when both sides referred their difficulties to him, Mgr. Begin thought it again opportune to draw their attention to the agreements made on that occasion by both parties.

The letter read last evening from His Lordship was a lengthy one, and began by reminding the men of the award made in January last by Mgr. Begin, in which he remarked that the constitution of the different unions in the shoe trade were admissible only on condition that certain clauses therein would be struck out. These clauses at the time, the men, to show their good will and sincerity in the matter, agreed to set aside, but after the employers and employes accepted His Lordship's decision, none of the rules appeared to have been changed. His Lordship did not want the men to abandon the trades union, but what he insisted upon was that they stand to the agreement they signed in January last and set aside the objectionable clauses of their constitution, other wise he called upon those present who did not want the boot and shoe trade to be taken from Quebec to stand up and say they would have these objectionable clauses struck or else form another union. What was required to produce harmony in the trade was for the unions to revise their constitution as they would exist to a priest for approval, the latter to be selected by His Lordship. Rev. Mr. Gauvreau remarked: I suppose some of the men say: We could not submit to the wishes of our Archbishop without having our just rights affected, and losing all our rights in the benefits of the unions. We would reply: Rise as a man, form a separate union with the present constitution revised, and we will help you.

Rev. Mr. Gauvreau, after reading His Lordship's letter, said that what Mgr. Begin required was that individual liberty be allowed each man to do as he thought right, and not to be forced to join a union if he did not wish to, that the constitution of the leather cutters, lasters and machinists unions be revised, and that both sides conform to the agreement made and accepted in January last. He hoped that the men would look to their own interests and not bring starvation to their families, and force the leather trade, which was the principle business now out of the city.

Rev. Messrs. Tourangeau and Bouffard also gave words of advice to the men, who were asked by Rev. Mr. Gauvreau to ask any questions they wished. Among the men who spoke and explained the men's side of the case were Messrs. Tanguay, Debicis, Deponty, Miller and Brunet. Some of the men state that the Claims Committee and Reconciliation Committee had not done their duties, while others considered that they would lose all their rights in the benefits of the unions, and considered that they had not done anything immoral or illegal in dropping their work when they had some men who refused to continue in their dues.

Mr. Brunet, who made the most sensible speech for the men, asked that copies of the letter be sent to the three unions so as the question should be discussed in full, and an answer given to His Lordship. Rev. Mr. Gauvreau inquired how long it would take to receive an answer, when one of the leaders replied that the lasters would give a reply in three weeks. The reverend gentleman then remarked that he would inform His Lordship of the result of the meeting, and that the unions requested copies of his letter. In conclusion he advised all those who had left their work to return immediately and if there was any difficulty between employer and employe to submit it to the claims and conciliation committees, as agreed upon last January.

TOLD OVER THE WIRES

Boston, Mass., June 28.—The Right Rev. Wm. O'Connell, the newly consecrated Bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Portland, Me., was greeted by a large gathering, including clergymen and other friends, upon his arrival here to-day after an absence of five years in Rome, where he has been President of the American College.

London, June 28.—The sale of surplus wine from the Royal cellars was concluded to-day. The bidding for the last lots was sentimental, several lots of pale sherry from Windsor Castle, bottled in 1829, fetched as high as 579 shillings ($112.50) per dozen.

London, June 28.—During the debate on the army re-organization bill in the House of Lords to-day, Lord W. Sneyler, the former Commander-in-Chief of the Forces, declared the United States army was the finest of its size in the world. He said its superiority was due to good wages. Great Britain must face the alternative of a conscription or pounds, shillings and pence to secure recruits.

Rome, June 28.—During a conflict between Italian troops and agricultural strikers at Ferrara the soldiers fired a volley into the crowd, several of whom fell. A Socialist paper here asserts that 52 strikers were killed and 20 wounded, but it is believed that the figures are exaggerated.

Constantinople, via Philippopolis, June 27.—Great excitement was caused here yesterday afternoon by the seizure by Cyprian officers of 35,000 rifle cartridges concealed in boxes of olives consigned to an American.

London, June 28.—A despatch from Cologne states that it is now doubtful whether the Emperor goes on his contemplated trip to the North because of the serious condition of his mother, the Dowager Empress Frederick. Authentic information is unobtainable, but her health is known to be growing worse.

Berne, Switzerland, June 28.—The bill constituting a Federal Bank with the monopoly of issuing bank notes, has definitely fallen through because of disagreement as to the location of the central institution. The National Council wanted the main bank located at Berne, and the State Council was in favor of establishing the central bank at Zurich.

Gloucester, Mass., June 28.—The Portland fishing schooner Ella M. Doughty came into this port to-day, considerably damaged, and reported that she had been run down by the battleship Massachusetts, off the scath shoal lightship, last night. Her captain does not blame the battleship, but instead praises the officers and crew for the prompt assistance which they gave him after the collision. The accident occurred in a dense fog, and in spite of the fact that both vessels were sounding frequent warnings.

Paris, June 28.—The automobile accidents yesterday in the Paris-Berlin race are causing an outcry, and Deputy Gauthier brought the matter up in the Chamber of Deputies this afternoon. He asked that measures be taken to stop the running of automobiles at excessive speed, and remarked, amid loud applause from the Rightists that it was a singular and saddening idea to organize a race to Berlin, passing through Bazelles and Sedan. The Premier, M. Waldeck-Rousseau, replied that the race would not have been authorized if it had only been started for pleasure or sport. Regulations were about to be issued to control the speed of automobiles, and henceforth, no races would be authorized at a speed exceeding that used in normal traffic. The roads would not longer be placed at the disposition of automobile drivers. The statement was greeted with cheers.

OVERCOME BY HEAT.

Ottawa, June 28.—The heat was intense in Ottawa to-day. Thermometers registered 99 in the shade at four o'clock and then a thunder storm cooled the air. A number of prostrations are reported and one death, J. B. Joannis, a Hull laborer, aged 73, who was found dead in his chair a victim of the heat.

THE STREETS.

We have spoken once or twice before on the practice of rendering the streets unsightly and even dangerous by throwing paper, banana skins and other unconsidered trifles into them, but without any apparent effect, as the practice still continues, and the city authorities, who are exceedingly zealous in seeing that other people remove the extra snow with promptitude and despatch from the sidewalks in winter, are apparently exhausted with their efforts, and take no interest in the summer streets. It is a consolation to think that there are other cities which have as much reason for grumbling on this score as our own, and which are not at all backward in coming forward to do so, as may be gathered from the following, which we take from a recent issue of the Ottawa Citizen:—"There has long been a habit in Albany of throwing bits of paper and even larger pieces about the streets. Especially is this true of pocket cuttings and other incidental scraps that one may have occasion to gather about his person sometimes. They are tumbled into the highways and left to blow about until they find a chance lodgment.—Albanus Argus: Something was said about this the other day, and attention is called to the fact that not only is the practice productive of untidiness, but of danger also. Who has not seen a horse shy at a piece of paper going 'before the wind?' Lives have been lost and limbs broken as a consequence."

A RARE JUDICIAL TRIAL.

The indictment of Lord Russell by the Grand Jury for bigamy will give rise to a legal proceeding which has not been witnessed in England for over fifty years, namely, the trial of the defendant by the House of Lords, as is his privilege, and not by the ordinary criminal courts. Peers of the realm are summoned before this tribunal in all cases of treason, misprision of treason, felony, or misprision of felony, though for misdemeanors they are answerable to the ordinary courts of law, as are the lords spiritual in all cases. During the sitting of Parliament the trial proceeds before the House of Lords, or, more properly, before the High Court of Parliament, presided over by the Lord High Steward, and when Parliament is not in session, before the Court of the Lord High Steward, a proceeding which, previous to the reign of William III., was open to very serious objection, as that functionary was permitted to summon whatever peers he pleased, with the sole proviso that the minimum number should amount in all to twenty-three, and this all but placed the verdict to be rendered at the dictation of the summoning officer. A statute passed in the reign of the third William requires that all the peers who have a right to sit and vote in Parliament shall be summoned to form the Court, and an act passed early in the reign of the late Queen Victoria provides that a peer is liable on conviction to the same punishment as any other British subject. Thus the jury of peers is the most remarkable one known in criminal law. The panel includes the whole House of Lords, from junior Barons to Bishops and Princes of the Royal House. Every peer having a right to take part in ordinary business can present himself as a juror in this bigamy case, and can be exempt from challenge. Neither are the jurors sworn to deliver a true verdict according to the evidence, but in rendering it use the formula "Guilty, (or not guilty, as the case may be), on my honor." A bare majority of those unsworn jurors suffices to determine the guilt or innocence of a brother peer, and, in this particular instance, to determine the precise bearing of an American divorce on the obligation of marriage in England.

Mr. Ford, the able London correspondent of the New York Tribune, speaking of this trial, said that the last instance of the trial of a peer on a criminal charge by the House of Lords was that of Earl Cardigan, some forty years ago. It occurred, however, more than fifty years ago, some time, in fact, before Lord Cardigan led the famous charge of the Light Brigade at Balaklava. His relations with his subordinate officers were of the most unhappy kind, and in the frequent quarrels that arose he was most frequently the aggressor. It was one of these quarrels which led to his arraignment before the House of Lords on the charge of duelling. A squabble concerning the appearance at the mess-table of some wine in a black bottle instead of in a decanter had caused the retirement from the regiment of a certain officer, with the style and title, after he had quitted the service, of Captain Harvey Tuckett. This gentleman then sent a challenge to Lord Cardigan, who accepted it, and the duel was fought on Wandsworth Common, near London, with the result that Captain Tuckett was shot through the body, but not fatally, while the Earl walked off to Wandsworth Police Station, and gave himself into custody.

He was in due course of time put on his trial before the House of Lords, and, though the facts were notorious, and the defendant was virtually self-acquitted, was acquitted. This was due to an ingenious legal quibble of his counsel, Sir William Follett, who disputed the identity of the Captain Tuckett who was named in the indictment with the Captain Tuckett who had received the bullet from Lord Cardigan's pistol in his body. In the exchange of cards which took place prior to the encounter on Wandsworth Common, Tuckett's card bore his full name, which included three Christian names, whereas the peer on trial was charged with having unlawfully fired at Captain Harvey Tuckett. The objection was held to be valid, and a majority of the peers thereupon acquitted Lord Cardigan with the usual formula, "Not guilty, on my honor," with the exception of the Duke of Cleveland, who modified it to "Not guilty, legally, on my honor." The trial and its result produced great public excitement at the time.

A PRAISE-WORTHY AIM.

At the meeting of the Royal Canadian Society in Ottawa last May, in response to a circular asking the Society to take a direct interest in the aims and work of "The National Trust for Places of Historic Interest or Natural Beauty," of which the Council is composed of the Marquis of Dufferin as President, and of many other distinguished men in Great Britain and Ireland, it was announced that the Council believing that the best way in which the Royal Society could assist the very desirable object aimed at by the National Trust would be to form a Canadian committee for the preservation of places of scenic and historic interest within the Canadian Dominion as a part of the British Empire, and one was accordingly formed, consisting of Sir James LeMoine, B. Sulte, Dr. S. E. Dawson, Honorable Pascal Poirier, John S. Willison, Lieut-Colonel Geo. T. Denison, and Sir John Boninot, with power to add to the numbers. At the same time the Council, congratulated the Government on its decision to purchase the historic Plains of Abraham, mentioning also the desirability of preserving for public use the site of the once famous fortress of Louisbourg, in the Island of Cape Breton. There is a considerable similarity between the two cases. Both sites marked important events in the great struggle between England and France for North American empire; both were in danger of passing into the hands of speculators or of individuals for private purposes; and about the position of both there appears to be some doubt, inasmuch as the fortress of Louisbourg was not formally handed over to the Dominion Government with other Imperial property after Confederation according to a statement made in the Senate in 1895 by the then Premier, Sir Mackenzie Bowell.

This Committee is named the "Committee for the Preservation of Scenic and Historic Places in Canada," and is to be further augmented by one member from every historical society, all of whom are to be asked to cooperate. It requires only to be brought more particularly before the public notice than can be done by the annual report, from which we have extracted the above facts, to secure for it the public sympathy, and, we trust, the heartiest public support and assistance. The object in view is a patriotic one, and one which, in the words of the Council, is "eminently calculated to stimulate a truly Canadian spirit among the races who possess the Dominion." We in Quebec have an especial interest in the matter, for around this city gather the traditions of the country since the time when Jacques Cartier first dropped anchor in the bay, traditions running so far back that many of them are becoming faint and amorphous, and are in danger of being blotted out entirely. The localities to which they refer have in most instances passed into private hands, and though they are to a certain extent preserved in the guide books, and books of topical reference, where they have found loving treatment in the hands of such able litterateurs as Sir James M. LeMoine, Mr. E. T. D. Chambers and others whose names will readily occur to our readers, yet these principally come under the notice of enquiring tourists from foreign parts, and the great bulk of our own population is entirely ignorant of the priceless historical treasures of which it is the possessor. A local sub-committee of that appointed by the Royal Society might do much good work here by reviving our own interest in these matters, and also in the many natural beauties with which our district abounds, and in doing so would invest both traditions and scenery, with a fresh charm which would not fail to react to our advantage abroad. This is preeminently an age of work and of business activity, but, paradoxical as it may seem, our relaxations contribute in no mean degree to their furtherance, and the man that comes unsuspecting on an errand of pleasure, to enjoy our sporting facilities, to drink in the beauties of our scenery, and to revel in the memories of old heroic days, not unexpectantly ends by combining business with pleasure, and remaining to invest. The fact of the matter is that we are well worth advertising, and the more people we can induce to visit us, and the more attraction we can hold out to them, the better for ourselves as well as for us. Should, therefore, such a local sub-committee as we have suggested be formed, we trust that the general public will heartily co-operate with it and furnish it liberally with the sinews of war to carry out a good and patriotic work.

SEVEN-MASTED SCHOONER.
Boston, June 28.--Captain J. G. Crowley, of Taunton, Mass., and the Fore River Engine and Shipbuilding Company have signed a contract for the construction of a seven-masted steel schooner. The craft will cost, when ready for sea, about $250,000, and about twenty persons have subscribed the sum necessary for the construction.

TWO BRAVE MEN.
They Save a Steamship from Destruction by Fire.
New Orleans, La., June 28.--The British mule transport Monterey, from Cape Town, has arrived in port after a terrible experience with fire at sea. Twelve days out from St. Vincent flames were discovered in the after-hold and gained such headway that the heat prevented the usual means of extinguishing fire on shipboard. Flames and clouds of smoke poured out from the hold, and when the officers and crew were about to abandon the ship First Officer Reid and Fourth Officer Harrison volunteered a daring plan. They proposed to tie wire cables around their bodies and have their companions lower them down the side of the ship until they were abreast the port opening into the burning section. It was a desperate experiment, but after a short consultation was adopted. As the fire was near the water line Reid and Harrison were lowered down until they were submerged in the sea, nearly up to their waists. Hanging thus half buried in the waves, with the ship under headway, the men battered in the port, a hose was then lowered to them and for several hours they hung, swinging outward and inward, pouring a stream into the blazing hold. In this way they finally succeeded in checking the flames. The vessel was badly damaged.

A CAPTAIN'S TROUBLES.
The master of the bark Annie Reed, which was wrecked at the entrance to Bahia recently, has gone through a hard and unsuccessful battle to procure his rights in getting his freight money on the vessel's cargo. He succeeded in collecting freight for that portion of the cargo removed by him from the wreck, but was unable to obtain more, because of the sharp practices of the local (Brazilian) insurance company in which the cargo was insured. The insurance company gave him written permission to sell the wreck, and agreed to remove the balance of the cargo within fifteen days after the sale, and informed the master that he would have no further responsibility. After the sale he accordingly turned the wreck over to the purchaser, the insurance company, and withdrew his crew. Later, unknown to the master, the company had the wreck judicially passed upon as an abandoned wreck, and as such the master lost all freight on the remaining cargo, the cargo being subsequently sold by the Federal Court for the benefit of the insurance. An attempt was made to recover the remaining freight, but it was ascertained that the master had forfeited all his rights by relying on the integrity of the insurance company's directors and had no case at law.--N. Y. Maritime Register.

HOME LIFE.
The happiness of home life depends largely on the health of the wife and mother. When her strength is unequal to the daily cares and duties of home, the evening hour finds her utterly worn out, too tired to talk, too weary to read. At first even she is glad to have her husband go out for the evening. She wants rest and quiet at any price. And so the foundation for marital misery is often laid in ill-health.

But when the housewife is healthy and strong she finds in her day's duties only a sufficient outlet for her energy. She looks forward all day to the evening hour spent with her husband over a book, or passed in quiet conversation. And every evening so spent draws the wife nearer to the husband and knits together the twin who are "one flesh" in the higher unity of one mind.

Every woman should know that the general health depends on the local womanly health. Irregularity, weakening drains, inflammation, ulceration and female weakness are disorders which sap the woman's strength and destroy her happiness with her health.

In ninety-eight cases in every hundred the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will effect a complete cure of womanly diseases. It is a reliable regulator. It dries the drains which enfeeble women. It heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

Sick and ailing women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as sacredly confidential and womanly confidences are guarded by strict professional privacy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

In a little over thirty years, assisted by his medical staff of nearly a score of physicians, Dr. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, N. Y., has treated and cured more than half a million women.

There is no similar offer of free consultation by letter which has behind it a physician of Dr. Pierce's eminence and success, or an institution of world-wide fame such as the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y.

Write to Dr. Pierce and obtain a specialist's opinion absolutely without charge or fee.

WAS NEARLY CRAZY.
"I was pleased that Dr. Pierce answered my letter," writes Mrs. C. C. of South Regent Street, Leam, Wilkesbarr, Penna. "I am perfectly willing for you to use my name and address, as I think it my duty to let the people know what a wonderful medicine you have. When I had those mishaps I began to think I would never have children, and my husband always said that if I would take your medicine I would soon be all right. My back used to almost break and I would get sick at my stomach and have such a terrible headache. I don't know what to do; they used to set me nearly crazy, and I used to dread to get up, I felt so bad. Then I began to take your medicine. When baby was expected I took it all the time. It was that way I felt fine all the time and I never get those dizzy spells now. I have ever had a nervous headache any more. I have a perfect record of a boy; he is the light of our home. I am now twenty years old and my baby is almost eight months old. I now feel well, and weigh 150 pounds, and the baby 25 pounds. We feel very grateful for the good your medicine did for us. We are both healthy, thanks to Dr. Pierce's medicine."

ALMOST A SKELETON.
"Your Favorite Prescription" has done so much for me," says Mrs. Susan West of Lawrence, Cleveland Co., N. C. "that I feel, if my child were to die, I would not be sorry. It saved my life. I had been under the treatment of two doctors--had two mishaps. I was almost a skeleton, weighed only seventy pounds. A friend of mine recommended Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and when I commenced to take it my health began to improve greatly. In ten months I was a happy mother. I had only taken six bottles and have never taken any medicine since, of any kind, and now weigh 115 pounds. I am now awaiting the coming of another child in the best of health. I cannot say too much in praise of your Favorite Prescription."

A New Cure For Catarrh in Tablet Form.

The old time treatment for catarrh was in the form of douches or sprays; later on, internal remedies were given with greater success, but being in liquid or powdered form were inconvenient and were open to the same objection to all liquid remedies, that is, that they lose whatever medicinal power they may have had on exposure to the air.

The tablet is the ideal form in which to administer medication, but until recently no successful catarrh tablet had ever been attempted.

At this writing, however, a most excellent and palatable remedy for catarrh has been placed before the public and sold by druggists, called Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, composed of the most recent discoveries in medicines for the cure of catarrh, and results from their use have been highly gratifying.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets contain practically highly concentrated antiseptics, which kill the catarrh germs in the blood and mucous membranes, and in this respect are strictly scientific and modern, as it has been known for some years past by the ablest physicians that the most successful catarrh treatment was by inhaling or spraying antiseptics.

The use of inhalers, douches and sprays, however, is a nuisance and inconvenience, and moreover can in no wise compare with the same remedies given in tablet form, either in efficacy or convenience.

A clerk in a prominent insurance office in Pittsburgh relates his experience with Stuart's Catarrh Tablets in a few words but to the point. He says: "Catarrh has been almost constantly with me for eight years; in this climate it seems impossible to get rid of it. I awoke every morning stuffed up and for the first half hour it was cough, gag, expectorate and sneeze before I could square myself for my day's work; no appetite, and a foul mouth which annoyed me exceedingly."

"I used Stuart's Catarrh Tablets for two months and found them not only pleasant to take but they did the business, and I can sincerely recommend them to all catarrh sufferers."

Druggists sell Stuart's Catarrh Tablets at 50 cents for full-sized package. They can be carried in the vest pocket and used at any time and as often as necessary. Guaranteed free from cocaine, mercury or any mineral poison; absolutely safe.

NOTES FROM SOUTH AFRICA

There has of late been an epidemic of lies from South Africa. Lord Kitcheener has effectually squelched one or two anti-Boer creations of the kind, just as, earlier in the war, it has been his duty and the duty of the British Ministers and the press, to squelch equally flagrant lies against the British officer and soldier. A particularly aggressive misrepresentation was that in which the New York Sun, Mr. Courtney's conciliation committee, and the London Daily News managed in combination to give the British public a totally false notion of the evidence of Mr. Morrison, a Canadian officer. This week we have another telegram from Montreal speaking of it thus: "Colonel Steele, formerly commander of Strathcona's Horse, who is leaving shortly for England en route for South Africa to assume his duties in connection with the South African constabulary, gives an official denial to a report which has been published in London, and telegraphed to America, to the effect that a troop of Strathcona's Horse captured two Boers and were preparing to hang them, threatening at the same time to hang an Imperial officer who remonstrated. Colonel Steele declares that this is an old allegation revived. The incident, which has been attributed in turn to both the New Zealand Bushmen and Strathcona's Horse, never took place, and the latter force never was within 250 miles of the place where the affair is alleged to have occurred." So that 'Ye is nailed to the counter.—Canadian Gazette (London).

Cape Town, June 27. — Boer invaders under Malan and Smit, about 3000 strong, attacked Richmond early Tuesday morning. The town was defended by a detachment of the North Staffordshire militia under Capt. Hawkeshaw and the town guard. Three sangars outside the town were captured by the Boers, the garrison being distributed principally at Jail Fort and Flagstaff Hill Fort. Owing to the capture of the sangars, Flagstaff Hill Fort was exposed to a heavy fire. Three times during the day the Boer commandant sent messengers demanding the surrender of the town, and each time the demand was refused. The Boers took advantage of the opportunity during the cessation of hostilities to better their position, and on the last occasion the messenger was sent in a party of burghers entered the town and effected the capture of a sangar in the market square. Not a shot was fired on account of the white flag carried by the messenger. The Boers were now only 200 yards from Jail Fort, and securely covered, and directed a continuous fire for two hours upon the defenders, who stoutly held the position. Firing it impossible to capture Jail Fort or Flagstaff Hill Fort, the Boers turned their attention to another sangar in the town which was held by eight men. These eight men, after having held the position for eleven hours, surrendered at five in the afternoon. After dark the British garrison strengthened the fortifications, as they anticipated a renewal of the attack in the morning. During the night, however, the Boers learned that relief was approaching, and withdrew. They captured twelve horses and looted the stores. The engagement lasted twelve hours. The Boer loss is reported as five men killed and seven wounded. The British casualties are not given. On Wednesday morning Col. Lands, with a relieving column, entered the town.

Cape Town, June 27. — A patrol of six Cape Police and twelve border volunteers unexpectedly encountered a portion of Fouché's commando north of Jamestown. The Boers endeavored to outflank the British, who retreated, fighting from kopje to kopje for nine hours, finally reaching Aliwal North unscathed. The corporal commanding has been promoted.

THE CRISIS.

Messrs. Copp, Clark Co., Ltd., Toronto, have just published "The Crisis" by Mr. Winston Churchill, author of "Richard Carvel," etc. Mr. Churchill is a strong man. The Crisis has placed him among the leaders of the sentiment of our age. Long after this book has been read, closed and put aside, the people who lived, loved and suffered in its pages will be a part of your life. You will meet them again and again masquerading under other names introduced by lesser men. Young children and grand-children will know them, and I can see them now, beckoning with one hand to the past, pointing with the other hand steadily to the future.—Daily News.

Mr. Winston Churchill has been fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Howard Chandler Christy to illustrate his latest novel, "The Crisis." This deservedly popular book does not need to depend upon pictures for its success, but it would have been sadly marred by had illustrating.

Mr. Christy has succeeded in imbuing his work with the spirit of the times, of which the author writes, and in placing before the reader actual portraits of the characters in the book as the reader cannot but imagine they must have looked.

Virginia Carvel, as the artist pictures her; is certainly beautiful enough to capture the heart of any man; and Stephen Brier, the hero, bears out the description the author has given him—strong, manly, handsome, not easily swayed by his emotions, and still less easily diverted from the line of action he decides to pursue.

Colonel Carvel is a fine type of the "chivalrous" Southern gentleman, firm in his convictions that the South is right, and ready to sacrifice all for what he thinks to be his duty—yet, at the same time tolerant of the views of his opponents.

Literature in the Century, by A. B. de Mille, E.A., Vol. II in Linscott's 19th Century Series. 8vo., cloth: London, Toronto, Philadelphia, the Linscott Publishing Co.

The Linscott Publishing Co. of Toronto, have made a most notable success of their Nineteenth Century series, Vol. I, dealing with the progress of religious thought in the century, has already been spoken of in this column. The second volume takes up the advance of literature and belle lettres from 1800 to 1900, and it is a most creditable production. The author, Prof. A. B. de Mille, of King's College Windsor, is already well known among Canadian writers, and his latest work will still further increase his reputation. He says in his preface: "The book is a purely popular presentation of the best that has been written during the past century. In preparing it, I have aimed especially at clearness and such adequacy as might consist with a short review of a very great subject." Twelve chapters deal with English literature, three with American, three with German, three with France, one with Italy and Spain, and one with Russia and Scandinavia. The distinctive schools of English poetry are clearly explained and the author has treated his whole subject with a fairness which is most enjoyable. The book contains about 550 pages; it is well printed on good paper, and contains some very creditable portrait illustrations.

The Annals of the Port of Quebec, 1535-1900. By Sir James Macpherson LeMoine, Quebec. The Chronicle Printing Co. The story of the port of Quebec takes us back across more than three and a half centuries to the first arrival of ocean vessels recorded, namely, the Grande Hermine, 120 tons, Jacques Cartier, master, and her two companion vessels, of 60 and 40 tons respectively, which cast anchor, after their voyage direct from St. Malo, France, on September 14, 1535. Over seventy years passed before Champlain in 1608 founded the city of Quebec, the Gibraltar of Canada, "the walled city of the North." Five siglos has Quebec sustained, and many great historical incidents adorn the city's history. Among the notable events in the port annals was the arrival of the warship Albemarle, 28 guns, commanded by Captain Haratio Nelson, on July 1, 1782. The famous Great Eastern was at Quebec in 1861. But to mention even a few of the conspicuous incidents recorded in the present little book would take up more space than is at our command. Needless to say, Sir James LeMoine has presented the story of the port of Quebec in a most attractive style. The present little book is another proof, if proof were needed, that the pen of this graceful historian of old Canada dwells on none of its chosen themes without adorning it.—Manitoba Free Press.

TWO BODIES FOUND DROWNED

ONE NEAR ST. PIERRE, ISLAND OF ORLEANS, AND THE OTHER IN THE RIVER AT DESCHAMBAULT.

Yesterday afternoon Coroner Belleau was notified that the dead body of a man had been found on the beach near the church of St. Pierre, Island of Orleans. The body will be brought up to the city this morning by the first boat from the island and will be conveyed to the Morgue, where an inquest will be held to-day.

ANOTHER GHASTLY FIND. Early yesterday morning the body of a lad, apparently about 14 years of age, was found floating down the river with the tide in the neighborhood of Deschambault. Coroner Belleau was notified and immediately gave instructions to have the body conveyed to Quebec. It will come here this morning. No description of either of the bodies has yet been received.

ZEBRAS FOR HORSES. British Consul Sturdy, reporting on the tsetse fly and horse disease in Uganda and British East Africa, advises the taming of zebras. The zebras are immune against the tsetse and exist in great numbers. It would be the work of a few years, the Consul thinks to substitute immune zebras for horses in the fly country and thus solve the transportation and cavalry problem throughout a large part of Africa. It is only necessary to capture the animals and train their colts to familiarity with man. "A few months after birth," says Consul Sturdy, "the young animals could be caught and by various ways accustomed to the sight and presence of man. I am very hopeful that in this way a number of young animals of both sexes would become domesticated and prove useful for transport service and also in propagating their species. The second generation, if my experiment prove any way successful, would be even more domesticated than their parents, and I am sure that in course of time a large supply of the domesticated zebra would be forthcoming for the future use of transport work at home and abroad." At present the zebra is a wild animal and harder to catch and tame than a mustang, and a more vicious plunger than the broncho.

MUSICAL SOUNDS FROM SAND. Perhaps the most interesting experience of musical sounds is that recorded by Kingslake in his journey across the desert. He says: "As I drooped my head under the sun's fire and closed my eyes against the glare that surrounded me, I slowly fell asleep—for how many minutes or moments I cannot tell; but after awhile I was gently awakened by a peal of church bells—my native bells—the innocent bells of Marten, that never before sent their music beyond the Blandon Hills! My first idea naturally was that I still remained fast under the power of a dream. I roused myself and drew aside the silk that covered my eyes and plunged my bare face into the light. Then at least, I was well enough awakened; but still those old Marten bells rang on, not ringing for joy, but properly, prosily, steadily, merrily ringing for church. After awhile the sound died away slowly." Kingslake thought he had been the victim of a hallucination; but it is probable that he heard actual musical sounds either issuing from the rocks beneath the sand, or caused by the friction of the particles of sand over which the travelers were walking, as in the case of a curious mountain, which Darwin visited in Guyana. It is called by the natives El Bramador, or the Bellower, because of the sound given forth when the sand covering it is put in motion.

CANADA AHEAD. Philadelphia, June 28. — The Canadian cricket team started its first match of the series with the Belmont Cricket Club here to-day, and when stumps were drawn the score was 185 for the Canadians first innings and Belmont 131 for seven wickets. The contest is the first of four arranged for the Canadians, each of which will last two days.

McFADDEN WON. Wilmington, Del., June 28. — George McFadden, of New York, to-night knocked out Jack Daly, of this city, in the ninth round of what was scheduled as a fifteen round fight. McFadden had all the better of the fight from the first round. Daly was knocked out eight times in the ninth round before he received the right swing on the jaw which put him out. The men fought at 138 pounds.

OPERA AT THE GARDENS

A LARGE COMPANY, COMPRISING 63 PEOPLE, WILL APPEAR AT THE TIVOLI GARDENS, NEXT MONTH.

Mr. E. W. Varney, jr., the energetic manager of the Tivoli Gardens, returned to the city last evening, after making a short and very successful business trip, he having secured a great comic opera company of 60 persons, who will appear for a limited season of light opera at the Tivoli next month.

On Monday night next the managers will present the finest vaudeville bill ever seen in this city. Among the artists who will appear will be Campbell and Dare, the funny musical artists, the Robinson Sisters, singers and dancers, Ramsa and Arno, comedy bar performers, who will introduce their trick donkey Blondin, the California trio of comedy acrobats, and Gilbert's goats. Other important turns will also be presented. Last night the performance was of a high quality and the audience was thoroughly delighted. Unfortunately the rain came just about the time the performance concluded, but the management, with their usual good nature, kept the house open to accommodate those of the audience who were caught without adequate protection against the rain, and there were many. The shelter was much appreciated.

There will be a matinee this afternoon at three o'clock. The last opportunity of seeing Le Clair, Arminta and the Meeker Baker trio will be at this evening's performance.

MOONLIGHT EXCURSION. A moonlight excursion will take place on Thursday, July 4th, which has so many attractions to recommend it that it will no doubt be largely patronized. In the first place it is in good hands, being under the auspices of the ladies of St. Andrew's Church, Lewis, who scored such a success with a similar excursion a few seasons ago. The fine safe steamer Queen, of the winter ferry service, has been secured, and will make the grand tour of the harbor, from the Island of Orleans to the site of the new bridge. A first class military band will be on board, and ice cream and other refreshments will be served.

This excursion will give a rare opportunity for a delightful sail in pleasant company, and should not be missed.

LACROSSE. TO-DAY'S MATCH.

The Sherbrooke Record has the following to say concerning the lacrosse match between Quebec and Sherbrooke to be played in that city to-day. — The Quebec Lacrosse Club and supporters are making big preparations to accompany its team to Sherbrooke on Saturday, and great interest is being taken in the match between that club and ours. From all reports the Quebec team is in good shape, having defeated the M.A.A. team in Montreal on Saturday last by a score of 6 to 3. It will be remembered that Sherbrooke had a walk over with the Montrealers on the 21th of May, so that considering everything the match on Saturday will be a hotly contested one. There is no other attraction for that day, and the home club expect a record crowd. It is to be hoped that such will be the case, as the club has been rather unfortunate in its gate receipts so far this season. The team is putting in good practice. Harry Loughde, Sherbrooke's old goal keeper, will captain the Quebec team. Harry knows a thing or two about Sherbrooke's tactics, so the home team will not be found wanting.

The Quebec team leave this morning for Sherbrooke by G. T. R.

Judge Brown, of the United States Circuit Court, sitting at Boston, has decided that the Bell Telephone Company no longer has a legal right to the Berliner microphone, and that its patent on that invention is void. News received from Rominten, Prussia, shows that the whole of the Rominten district has been devastated since June 24, by hailstorms and cloudbursts. Emperor William's estate at Rominten has been greatly damaged. His Majesty, on receipt of the news, ordered speedy relief to be sent, and forwarded a large amount of money to be distributed among the sufferers.

The fact is noted that this year the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall will see three winters, but no summer. They will have first a spring, then an autumn, then a winter a few days of another spring and then autumn again. Their winter, especially that part between Fremantle and Natal, will be exceptionally severe, though the visit to Mauritius keeps them north of the ordinary route.

The Neue Freie Presse announces that Austria has begun to import grain from the United States, and remarks that American agriculture is becoming as dangerous as American commerce to Europe. Several Bohemian mills have ordered wheat and oats from the United States. The Neue Freie Presse declares that there is consternation in grain circles over the idea of America sending grain to a country which itself is a grain-grower before everything else.

Belgian troops have been ordered to establish stations along the Portuguese frontier of the Congo Free State. The Congo Government reports that it has just discovered that the Portuguese in the vicinity of the border are regularly supplying the rebellious Lulaba natives with arms and ammunition. The War Department at Brussels promptly instructed Major Malfait, commander of the Belgian forces in Central Africa, to station outposts opposite Portuguese territory, with a view to resisting the continuance of filibustering operations.

The Newport Express and Standard thus expressed itself: "Through the Grace of God, and our reporter, and several kind friends, we devoted over six columns of locals to Newport last week, and yet were told that the paper was a little dull. Will someone kindly commit a murder in town, or knock somebody on the head, or create a big scandal, or do something devilish, so we can write up a page of excitement? Verily, if the inhabitants goth in the paths of virtue and right-doing, how the deuce are we to knock out a sensational paper—eh?"

The comparative trials of the cruisers Hyacinth and Minerva, which are equipped respectively with Belleville and cylindrical boilers, and which have lasted for several weeks, have been concluded. The results show comparatively trifling differences, the respective advantages and disadvantages virtually balancing each other. The ships are now being prepared for more exhaustive tests under rigorous conditions, the final trial being a race from Gibraltar to Portsmouth. Naval men, especially engineers, are keenly interested in the tests, and the crews of the two cruisers are displaying acutely the competitive spirit. The trial is now as much one of the human elements as of the boilers.

The President of the Supreme Court of Venezuela, Dr. Lopez Fontaines, and his secretary, have been arrested and taken to prison for having attempted to put into operation the code of Venezuelan justice, which imposes on judges the obligation of visiting the prisons and satisfying themselves that the prisoners are not subjected to arbitrary treatment by political personages. President Fontaines visited the Caracas prisons in the performance of his duty, and found more than 100 persons who had been arrested without cause and were suffering detention from five days to sixteen months. He ordered an inquiry to be made, and that several of the prisoners be set at liberty. This order has been cancelled by the provisional president of the Republic, Gen. Castro, and the judge has been arrested and thrown into prison.

An extraordinary case of cannibalism has been for several days before the court at Marburg, in Styria. Husband and wife, named Bratusa, the owners of a small wineshop, were accused of the murder of their daughter aged 12, in an adjoining forest. After the murder the body was brought home and cut up, part of it being cooked in a baker's oven, after which the inhuman pair sat down and devoured it. The father at once confessed the crime, and gave the court full and disgusting particulars. He declared that he had murdered his child in obedience to a vivid dream, as there was no food in the house. The man was sentenced to be hanged, and the woman to three years' hard labor.

For some weeks there have been indications of unrest in the Khalial and Kharbin districts, and the authorities are greatly alarmed. It now develops that the trouble is due to an organized gathering of hostile Manchurian and Mongolian fanatics. In response to urgent appeals, considerable numbers of troops are being hurried to that locality to cope with the disturbances, which have got completely beyond the control of the local forces. The Russian authorities have ordered all Russian women and children to leave immediately.

A SHREWD HEN

How She Worked a Scheme to Save Her Neck.

"I don't care nothin' 'bout a hen's morals s'long as she's a good layer," remarked a beetle-browed man to a fellow vegetable vender as they were about to enter a restaurant on State street the other day. "No, sirree! An if she can't lay I get rid of her mighty suddingly. Yes, sir."

"But I had a hen las' fall what was a caution. Lay! She couldn't lay down! She wa'n't no earthly good as a layer, an yet she was the most likely hen I had. She was a gay deceiver, an, say, she netted me more egg money than all the rest of the flock put together. I had noticed for some time that she was a dead loss in the yard, an one day I said to my old woman that I guessed the next time we had company we'd better let her figger in the dinner. She was a-eatin' corn right at my feet at the time, an when I went on to state to the woman that there was no use in keepin' a hen what didn't lay none she perked up her head an looked at me long an earnestly. Says my woman, 'I'll let that hen know what you are sayin, Daniel.' Says I: 'I hope to gum she does, for I mean business. No aigs, no fodder, in my yard.'"

"That hen stood as if she was turned to stan for 'bout a minnit and then scuttled off. The next mornin when I went out she come up a-cluckin' an actin' queer. At last I made out that she wanted me to foller her. She led the way to a ole toolhouse, an if there wa'n't close to a dozen of fresh laid aigs. Course I was surprised. I knowed she hadn't laid no aigs for several weeks. Well, I took em in, an the next mornin I found the same thing. I begin to feel interested, more so 'cause George Perry told me at the store that afternoon that his hens wa'n't layin none. He's my neighbor, you know. That night I watched. Purty soon I see'd my nonpayin hen a-leadin' a hull colony of Perry's hens across lots to the toolhouse."

"Then I understood. She couldn't lay no aigs herself, but she was tryin to save her hide by influencin her neighbors. An do you know, she kept that up till snow come. An I'm savin her, 'cause she knows on what conditions she keeps out of the stew. Yes, sir. She's a shrewd hen, an if she was a man she'd lift my mortgage inside of a year."

DOCTORS BAFFLED

BY THE CASE OF MRS. HARRISON OF ORANGEVILLE.

She Was Completely Run Down—Racked with Pains in the Back, Head and Limbs—Again Rejoicing in Good Health.

From the Sun, Orangeville, Ont. Many cases are constantly being brought to light of persons being cured by that wonderful remedy—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—after doctors have failed to be of benefit. Among them may be noted the case of Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, a well known lady who resides in the near vicinity of Orangeville, Ont. A reporter of the Sun, hearing of Mrs. Harrison's wonderful cure, called at her home to inquire into the facts of the case. Mrs. Harrison said she was pleased to be able to testify to the great curative powers of these pills. She said: "For some years I have been a constant sufferer just what to call my disease I do not know; even the doctors were unable to diagnose it. I was completely run down. I had racking pains in my head back and limbs. I was unable to secure sound sleep, and on arising in the morning would feel as tired as before going to bed. My stomach was in bad condition, and the least movement caused my heart to palpitate violently. Doctors treatment failed to be of benefit to me, and I was in a very discouraged state when a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Thinking that they might relieve me a little, I procured a supply and began taking them according to directions. From the first I could see they were helping me, and by the time I had taken half a dozen boxes I was free from the ailments that had made my life miserable. It is now several years since I took the pills, and not the least sign of my old trouble has since shown itself. I would strongly urge the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for any person who has a weak or run down system, and I am sure they will not fail to be beneficial."

To those who are weak, easily tired, nervous, or whose blood is out of condition, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills come as a blessing, curing when all other medicines fail, and restoring those who give them a fair trial to a full measure of health and strength. Sold by all dealers in medicine or sent by mail post paid, at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

tricks of this trade, you will also know that it does duty as 'spice'.

How spicy it really is depends upon what is mixed with it. At any rate, it is too good a fuel to be thrown away.

But the fibrous outer shell of the coconut was until very recently thrown into the bay, to float off and finally disfigure the surrounding beaches.

THE COCONUT TREE. A Chinese proverb says that the coconut tree has as many properties as there are days in the year.

The fruit of the tree is the only part imported into California, and it is now put to many and widely different uses.

One atom being thrown away, 100,000 cocoanuts a month. Only a small portion of them is kept for the 'green trade'.

as it is called when the nut is sold in its original state, the greater bulk passing to the factory, where the husk is removed and the inner nut steamed to facilitate the removal of the meat.

About thirty-five boys, who are employed there in peeling off the thin brown skin. This is carefully preserved and sent to the oil and lead works, where a substance resembling lard and known as coconut butter is extracted.

This is worked into all sorts of toilet articles. The white, meaty part of the nut, after being washed, is thrown into different machines to be ground according to the quality required, some grinding it almost as fine as flour, others cutting it into strips half an inch wide.

The next process is the cooking, which is done in immense brass kettles, continuously revolving to insure an even result. Only the milk contained in the heart of the nut is used in the cooking.

After the nut is sufficiently cooled—that is, when the moisture has wholly evaporated—the pulp is placed in shallow iron pans and dried in drying closets, and the 'desiccated coconut' of commerce is the result, which enters into many different confections.

That part of the coconut whose properties are not so well known in California is the outer covering, or husk. The inner woody shell of this makes excellent fuel. If you are initiated into the mysteries, or rather

BRITISH AND AMERICAN ORE TRANSPORT.

It is an absolute fact, such is America's advance in the movement of traffic on railroads, that it does not cost the Carnegie Co. more to take their ore from Lake Erie to Pittsburgh, a distance of more than 150 miles, than it does in Wales to take the ore the short distance of a little over 20 miles.

The powerful Carnegie engines of 127-ton weight take from the Lake port to Pittsburgh thirty wagons carrying 50 tons each of ore, 1,500 tons at one time; the tare of these 50-ton trucks is only 15 tons each, the total dead weight being 2,100 tons. If this 1,500 tons was required to be sent, say from Newport to the Blagovest or Elbow Valley Works (and about the same would apply from Cardiff to the Downlows and Cyfarthfa works), it would require 150 trucks, the tare of each being 5 tons. The engines employed could not take right through to works more than 150 tons each of ore in 20 feet iron trucks, and thirty men, require ten engines and thirty men, with a dead weight of ore, trucks and engine of about 3,500 tons, to do the conveyance of the 1,500 tons, which is done in America with one engine and three men only. This is the kind of thing that goes on (more or less) to ensure dispatch and quantity in all departments from the mine to the mill in America—E. Phillips, in The Engineering Magazine for June.

Pale, Anaemic Young Women.

Anemia, or thin, watery blood, is increasing to an alarming extent among the school girls and young women of our land.

Pale gums, tongue and eyelids, muscular weakness, inability for exertion, deficient appetite, impaired digestion, swooning, hysteria and irregularities of the feminine organs are among the unmistakable symptoms of anaemia or poor quality of blood.

Anaemic persons are frequently said to be going into a decline, and as a fact do usually contract consumption or some fatal constitutional disease if they neglect to restore normal vigor.

Fresh air, sunlight, moderate exercise and the regular use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food after each meal will restore new vitality to the body and new color to the cheek of any anaemic person.

Gradually and thoroughly it forms new red corpuscles in the blood and wins back perfect health and strength.

THE LATE MR. LAINE. Mr. Damase Laine, of Carrier Laine & Co., Levis, whose death occurred so suddenly on Thursday last, was born in St. Gervais, County of Bellechasse. He was educated at the Industrial College of St. Michel and came to Levis in 1861. In 1864 he and the late Mr. Charles William Carrier founded the iron works now so well known under the name of Carrier, Laine & Co., which at present gives employment to over 300 men. For a great many years the late Mr. Laine was a member of the Provincial Council of Arts and Manufactures and in 1889 he was elected to the Levis City Council. He was a man of singularly acute business ability and personally was affable and kindly to all.

THE STANDARD LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY OF EDINBURGH, SCOTLAND, (ESTABLISHED, 1825). The 75th Annual Meeting of this Company was held in Edinburgh on the 3rd May last, the results reported being most satisfactory. For the last five years will be 25 p.c. in excess of the Bonus previously declared, besides laying aside a large amount to strengthen the reserves. These results will be exceedingly gratifying to the Policy-holders, especially in view of the fact that some Companies have been reducing their rates of Bonus; and so to show that notwithstanding the keen competition to obtain business and the means adopted to that end, the STANDARD goes steadily forward, gaining and retaining the confidence of the insuring public more and more by its careful management. It offers the absolute security it offers, moderate rates charged, and without ambiguous clauses in its Policies to raise dissatisfaction in after years. The Investigation Report will be out shortly, together with the Bonus Certificates. Any further information, Rates, &c., will be gladly furnished by Mr. S. WILSON DRUM, GENERAL AGENT, Office—Commercial Chambers, No. 92, St. Peter Street, Quebec. Telephone 411.

THE ST. THOMAS CAMP. We are requested to remind the members of Nos. 1 and 8 Companies of the 8th Regiment Royal Rifles, as well as those men of other companies who will accompany them, to St. Thomas, that they will muster at the Drill Hall to-night at 6.45 o'clock sharp, as all overcoats must be rolled prior to departure, and they must cross on the 7.30 ferry for the special train leaving Levis at 8 o'clock. The Maxim gun squad under Lieut. Wells, and the bugle band, under Sgt. Bugler Wilkinson, will also accompany the parade. It is satisfactory to learn that the cadet corps will also form part of the parade, and will be under the eye of Capt. Prie, who will see that the boys are properly cared for. These will muster at 6.30 sharp, to have their new felt hats and haversacks. No doubt this excursion will be long remembered by all who will have the pleasure of being present, and an excellent programme has been drawn up for the occasion. A novel feature of the programme will be a boxing exhibition between representatives of the military and their civilian friends. Transport Officer Jos. Gingras will represent the military profession in this event, and Mr. Jos. Vincent the civilian element. On Sunday morning there will be a big church parade, after which the men will be free to amuse themselves as they wish. The spot chosen for the camp is a most beautiful and picturesque one, and those participating in the trip will be glad to know that Col.-Sgt. Jacques and a fatigue party of ten men left yesterday to erect the tents and otherwise prepare the camp.

THE PAN-AMERICAN. The management of the Pan-American exposition has notified the Canadian Pacific Railway Company that July 1st will be "Dominion Day" at the Pan-American, and Canadian authorities will dedicate the Dominion building on that day with appropriate and interesting ceremonies. Officials of the Dominion Government and prominent Canadians will be present to participate in the ceremonies. The popular 48th Highlander Regiment, of Toronto, will also be present. An interesting programme is being prepared and it ought to be a great occasion, with an immense attendance.

After Marriage. They are going to be together just as much as before; going to ride the wheel, take little pleasure jaunts, etc., enjoying everything together. Isn't that what many a young couple promise each other? And yet, how very soon the wife begins to say "No, I don't think I care to go. You go alone, dear." Young women don't reckon on the great physical changes which follow marriage. How can they when they are allowed to grow up in entire ignorance of vital physiological facts? They feel languid, weak and nervous. Sometimes there is headache and backache. The pulse no more leaps in answer to the thought of a spin on the wheel. Women who have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription know how promptly the languor, headache, backache, nervousness and weakness are cured by this medicine. Many husbands write in gratitude to Dr. Pierce for the medicine which gives them back the wife's companionship, as it gives her back her health. "All praise is due to you for your wonderful 'Favorite Prescription,'" writes Mr. John W. Coffman, of Hillsburg, Casey Co., Ky. "My wife suffered with female irregularity, was confined to bed every three weeks. After using two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription she was cured, and has not suffered any derangement since. Your 'Favorite Prescription' is a boon to delicate women."

There is no alcohol in "Favorite Prescription," and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics.

THE ST. THOMAS CAMP. Never was there such a crowd at the Park as there was last night to witness the entertainment provided by the Montrealians. Throughout he proved himself to be the peer of any mind reader ever seen in the city. Being a young and sturdy man he performed many tests that a man more advanced in years could not be expected to do, owing to the wear upon the system from the strain put upon it. The first part consisted of mind reading tests in which the Professor successfully found many articles scattered about the audience. He received round after round of applause as he detected the ladies in his great ribbon test, and never could an audience be said to have been more truly convulsed with laughter than when the hypnotist tests were given. Montalio uses many new and novel methods to edify and entertain his audience that have not been previously attempted. Do not fail to see this wonder of the 20th century at Tara Hall next week.

TRINITY CHURCH PICNIC. The annual picnic of the children of Trinity Church Sunday School will be held Monday, 1st July, (weather permitting), to the Island of Orleans, by the 9.15 a.m. boat.

AN END TO EVERYTHING. It must be remembered that Mr. P. J. Cote's great sacrifice sale cannot continue indefinitely. It would be impossible to do business at such prices and continue. We have to move and we will move on or about July 20th, and until that date we will continue our sale. This gives about fifteen days for the buyers to obtain stupendous reductions. We are crowded every day, but we can attend to many more. P. J. Cote, Buade street, opposite Basilica.
