PASTOR SAID GOODBYE.

Rev. P. L. Richardson Delivers His Valedictory Sermon.

There was a large attendance at Sherbrooke Street Methodist Church, Montreal, Sunday night to hear the Rev. P. L. Richardson preach his valedictory sermon. Mr. Richardson always treats his hearers to bright, practical, up-to-date thoughts, expressed in choice language, and his discourse that evening was no exception to the rule. In concluding the sermon, Mr. Richardson expressed the regret which he felt at having to leave a pulpit and a people that had become endeared to him by the associations and memories of a five years' pastorate. He once more thanked the congregation for their many kindnesses and the generosity which he considered more complimentary to them than to himself. He would ever look back with pleasure to the pastorate at Sherbrooke Street Church. He bespoke the heartiest sympathy and cordial welcome for his successor, the Rev. Dr. Williams.

Referring to the changes in the congregation during the past five years, Mr. Richardson said that more than half of the congregation had changed. Two-thirds of the present members were not connected with the church five years ago. By death and removal 134 members had been taken away, while 184 had been received. There was consequently a net gain of fifty in the membership of the church. In the five years sixty-four members and adherents had died. Over one-third of those who had passed away were over seventy years of age, which was remarkable. Mr. Richardson during his present pastorate officiated at 138 baptisms and 60 weddings.

It was Mr. Richardson's intention to move to Sherbrooke on Wednesday of this week, but those arrangements may be interfered with by the death of his father, which occurred at Kingston this morning.—Montreal Witness.

LIVE STOCK TRADE.

Montreal Market Active and Strong.

Montreal, June 16—Receipts of live stock at the East End Abattoir market this morning were 600 cattle, 400 sheep, 300 lambs, and 200 calves. A feature of the market was the larger arrivals of grass fed stock, but this fact had little influence on the general tone of the market, which was very firm as the quality of the above stock was poor, and, therefore, butchers had little use for them. Another feature of the market was the demand from shippers to complete shipments.

ACCEPT CARNEGIE'S OFFER OF $15,000.

City Council Will Erect Library Building.

COST WILL BE ABOUT $19,000

An adjourned meeting of the City Council was held last evening in the Council chamber. Dr. J. C. Camirand, mayor, presided, and there were present Councillors Cate, Jenckes, Olivier, Fuller, Weston, Thompson and Royer. In attendance, Mr. F. J. Griffith, secretary-treasurer.

As it was expected that the library question would be settled last evening, there was a fairly good attendance of citizens who are interested in this question. Councillor Cate, in introducing the resolutions to accept Mr. Carnegie's offer for a grant to the library, said that the petition of the Library and Art Union and Mr. Carnegie's offer of a grant had been read at the last meeting of the Council, and were laid on the table in order that the members of the Council might take communication of them. The scheme, as he Councillor Cate explained at the last meeting of the council, practically involved this: It will be remembered that it had been suggested by some members of the Council that they should provide in connection with the new city hall accommodation for the library and art union. Others were of the opinion that it would be wiser to accept the generous gift of Mr. Carnegie and have two distinct buildings. The question at this stage was referred to the Finance Committee with a view to ascertaining in a general way what the two schemes would involve, and the figures which he had submitted the other evening was the result of the Finance Committee's enquiries. While the figures which they had submitted were not correct estimates, the figures and estimates were supplied by architects, and they estimated the cost of a city hall building without any provision for the library would be from $30,000 to $32,000, and the estimate of a building that would accommodate the library also was estimated to cost from $38,000 to $42,000. That would be a difference of from $8,000 to $10,000 that it would cost more to construct the building if accommodation were made in the new city hall.

The estimate for the erection of a separate library building was placed from $10,500 to $10,000. Taking the highest of these two figures, and if two separate buildings were erected, it would cost $51,000, but from that amount Mr. Carnegie's gift of $15,000 would have to be deducted, which would mean a total cost of $36,000 for the two buildings. If they constructed a joint building the cost would be $42,000 or $6,000 more than if they were to construct two separate buildings. Taking the figures at $6,000, the interest on that would be $240, and as they were now giving a grant of $800 to the library and art union now, would make a total of $1,000. To that amount would have to be added the sum of $400 to make up the $1,500 which they would require to give if they accepted Mr. Carnegie's offer. Continuing, Councillor Cate said that the time was coming when the city would have to bear the total expense of the library and reading room because the gentlemen who had been in the past in the interests of the institution felt that they could not carry it on much longer on account of the difficulties encountered in raising the necessary subscriptions. There was a strong feeling among the citizens that the city should assume the responsibility of maintaining this institution. He (Councillor Cate) had no hesitation in expressing his own opinion that it would be in the interests of the city if this offer of Mr. Carnegie's was accepted.

He had much pleasure in moving the following resolutions: "That the generous offer of Mr. Carnegie to contribute $15,000 for the erection of a library building in Sherbrooke upon a site to be provided by the city, be accepted, and that the city agrees to undertake to pay $1,500 annually towards the support and maintenance of the said library."

"That the city council approves of the terms of the letter of the Library and Art Union of date 28th, May, and that the management of the library shall be in the terms of the said letter, and it is declared that the offer of Mr. Carnegie is accepted, and that the library is to be conducted in the terms of the said letter."

Councillor Thompson seconded the resolutions. He thought they should have no hesitation in accepting the gift of $15,000. By doing so they would be taking a step in the right direction. The motion was then put and carried unanimously.

Warm Praise for Canada's Troops

London, June 17—The Official Gazette tonight publishes a long despatch from Lord Roberts, being a continuation of the field despatches written when he was in command in South Africa. The communication throws no new light on the operations in the field. Appended thereto is a long list of those signalled for distinguished mention. Lord Roberts speaks highly of the Canadian contingent, especially in connection with the unsuccessful attack on Cookson's camp March 31, 1902, in which he says the Canadian Mounted Rifles sustained the heaviest loss of the day. He particularly comments on the gallantry of Lieut. Bruce Carruthers. In conclusion Lord Roberts says he wishes to record the fact that in April, 1900, Queen Victoria entrusted him with four wool scarfs worked by herself, which she desired to be distributed to four distinguished private soldiers of the colonial contingents of Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa.

The selection of the recipients in each case was left to the colonial officer commanding the contingent. The Canadian scarf goes to Private, now Lieut. Richard Rowland Thompson, of the Royal Canadian Regiment, for personal gallantry in the field.

KITCHENER'S TRIBUTE.

The Gazette has published despatches received from Lord Kitchener dated April, 1902, which refer to the defeat and capture of Gen. Methuen. In these messages Lord Kitchener expresses the opinion that Gen. Methuen's reverse was due to the behavior of the bulk of the mounted troops of his command who offered a feeble and inefficient resistance and then left the infantry and the guns to struggle against superior numbers.

In another despatch, dated March 31, in which he refers to the action, Lord Kitchener praises highly the gallant stand made in this engagement by a handful of Canadians in an isolated position. In referring to this matter Lord Kitchener remarks:—"There have been few finer instances of heroism in the whole course of the campaign."

PREMIER LAURIER'S PLANS.

Will Endeavor to Encourage Immigration to Canada.

New York, June 16.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, premier of Canada, and Lady Laurier, sailed on Saturday for England on the 'Etrovia,' to attend the coronation of King Edward. They expect to return home about the end of July or the middle of August.

"I hope to have an opportunity while in England," Sir Wilfrid said, "to devise some plans for the greater encouragement of emigration to Canada. Canadian immigration has increased materially within the last three years, but it is far below what it should be, when one considers the comparative greatness of the country and the unequalled advantages which it offers, particularly to the agriculturally inclined. "Emigration from the United States I am glad to note is increasing every year. Fully 50,000 have gone from this country across the border during the last three years, and we will be glad to have all the fifty thousands more she can send."

JOHNVILLE.

The annual repairing of the roads has been in order under very unfavorable conditions of weather.

We wish some philanthropically inclined citizens to start a new mode of beneficence and devote a million or two to our municipal highways. We are not sure but that it would result in as great public good as even scholarship or libraries. The good roads question is not merely a financial proposition it has a social as well as a commercial side. The common roads of a country are not only necessary to its development, but their condition is a measure of its civilization. The highest type of mental and moral culture and development cannot be attained without the means of easy and rapid communication between all parts and sections of the country. The railway and telegraph lines follow the missionary and are the great material modern civilizers of the world, but they are limited in their sphere, for they do not reach the church, the school house, the farm the home. The common road is the connecting link between these and upon its sufficiency depends much of the comfort and progress of our country neighboring. We are not sure that the lack of highways that minister to the comfort, pleasure and utility of the people is not a great factor in driving so many of our young people to forsake the country for the real or financial advantages of the centres of population.

A plain question: Do you really get the only Painkiller—Perry Davis—when you ask for it? Better be sure than sorry. It has not, in 60 years, failed to stop looseness and pain in the bowels.

KING IS MUCH BETTER.

London, June 16.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra reached Windsor Castle from Aldershot this evening.

King Edward bore the journey to Windsor well, but it has been decided that he will not go to Ascot today. Queen Alexandra, however, accompanied by the Prince and Princess of Wales and other members of the royal family, will attend the races in state.

MUST BE CAREFUL.

The Prince of Wales, conversing with the Mayor of Windsor upon his arrival there, said:—"King Edward caught a chill in the stomach; he is much better, however, although he will have to be careful. His Majesty is still troubled with slight pain."

Sir Francis Laking, physician in ordinary to the King and who has been in constant attendance upon His Majesty since he became indisposed at Aldersdot, is pleased to get King Edward to Windsor Castle, where he can receive better attention than at Aldersdot.

King Edward has lately undergone a regular course of a sage for rheumatism, which has troubled him as a result of the bad weather.

A Heavy Suit for Damages.

A case came up at Sawyerville where Mr. Freeman Hibbard was plaintiff and Mr. Jas. Montgomery defendant. The trouble arose in this way: Mr. Hibbard went to the Canaan fair and got cold. Mr. Montgomery guaranteed to cure his cold and cough with one bottle of Smith Indian Cough Syrup and Grip Killer. He stuck to it that it would not cure him until his cough had entirely stopped and his sore throat had disappeared.

Here is what he says: In twenty minutes from the time I took the remedy, my cough stopped and I never coughed again all night. It was a great relief to me to have a night's rest, without coughing. All the night before, I never slept a wink. I have great faith in this grip killer, and I never yet have found anything like it to cure a cold.

Eggs for The British Museum

A notice of the collections recently bequeathed by the late Mr. Philip Crowley to the natural history branch of the British Museum appeared a few days ago in the "Times." A very important portion of the bequest is the collection of eggs, from which 15,000 specimens have been added to the series previously possessed by the museum.

Among the items in the Crowley collection are an egg of the great auk and one of the extinct pied Labrador duck. Both these specimens were acquired by Mr. Crowley from Canon Tristram. The great auk's egg is one of the last "batch" despatched in 1844 from Iceland to Denmark. The 1790 specimens in the museum previous to this addition were both cracked and in otherwise poor condition. An interesting item in the collection is the number of batches of eggs of various species of birds with a cuckoo's egg among them. The Crowley collection has added about 15 per cent. to the species of birds represented by their eggs in the museum, the increase being especially marked in the cases of forms, in which a national collection was previously

Friends of Mosquitos.

The London Chronicle points out that the dead-set that science has been making of late against the mosquito seems to be provoking a sort of reaction. Defenders are arising to declare that a mosquito is not always the criminal he is painted, and that there is a strong Jekyll as well as a strong Hyde element in his composition. A short while ago Professor H. Collins declared that mosquito-borne malaria appears to have a preventive and curative effect on cancer; and now another partisan has arisen in the person of a New Jersey legislator. New Jersey is famous for the vigor of its mosquitoes, and the State entomologist recently came before the Legislature with a request for $10,000 to exterminate the pest. The appropriation, however, was opposed by one of the assemblymen, on the ground that a mosquito bite, if taken regularly, before or after food, was a sovereign sure cure for rheumatism.

Four would-be sailors from Coaticook came very near losing their lives one day recently. They went out in the middle of the lake in a sail boat. It capsized and all were thrown into the lake. They were rescued by another party, after hanging to the up turned boat for half an hour. Mr. A. P. Herd, of Massawippi, is well known in that vicinity, and all who know him know that he is a man of truth and veracity, and all of his neighbors know how he had rheumatism. Here is what he says:—"I here certify that I had rheumatism in my hip and leg very bad. I could not sleep or work or walk, or even sit up. I was hard up. I used Smith's North American Indian Balm, and it cured me. I never had any since, now about two years. I believe this remedy is a good thing for rheumatism."

A REAL MARVEL.

The Only Aereic Artist Who Can Not Be Imitated.

WORLD'S GREATEST UNICYCLIST.

Most Astounding Individual Act Ever Seen.

There is a man who is called Minton, the Marvel, with the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers Shows, who is quite the most extraordinary athlete in the world. His feats are the most hazardous yet attempted by any circus performer and the wonder of it all is that he has not broken his neck. As he has been performing this feat for about ten years in Europe and one year in this country and has a spine that is intact he will, it is to be hoped, keep it so for years to come. It would be a pity for such a daredevil to lose his life, for examples of such dauntless courage as he shows are all too few.

Minton rides on only one wheel of a bicycle without any support whatever save his feet upon the pedals. Now there are but few professional trick cyclists who can do this upon a level floor. What then must be thought of this fellow who rides this single wheel, or unicycle, up and down a spiral tower that reaches from the ground to the extreme top of the huge, high tent? It would be a pity for such a daredevil cyclist with two wheels under them to ride up such a tower if it was as wide as a highway, and but few would undertake to control their wheel sufficiently to undertake to ride down such a grade. The track Minton uses to make these perilous ascensions and descensions is less than two feet in width, and it has no railing along the sides to keep the wheel from slipping off.

One of the most eloquent testimonials as to the altogether extraordinary character of Minton's marvelous feat is to be found in the fact that it is not imitated. It has been for years the highest salaried act in the circus world and Minton can command his own figures for it. Any other man who could do it could also command a greater salary for it than he can get for anything else in the circus business, and if it were possible to imitate it the imitation would have been seen years ago and Minton's monopoly of the greatest individual circus feature in the world would disappear. But they simply cannot find another man who commands the nerve, skill and strength necessary for its performance.

Minton will be seen in his wonderful feat at both the afternoon and evening performances of these shows. It is placed late on the afternoon programme, but at the evening performance it is one of the first things done after the show begins in order to give them time to take down and pack up the enormous spiral tower. The circus will be at Forepaugh's Sells Shows with Minton, the Marvel, in this city, is Saturday June the 28th.

Damp-proof

Moist feet are cold in winter! Sole leather is cellular, and carries street fluid to the foot as the wick carries oil to a lamp.

Two-thirds of street moisture, which reaches the foot, comes up through the outside, in ordinary shoes.

Between insole and outsole of the RESILIA shoe is placed the cushion centre-sole of live rubber, through which moisture cannot pass, making it wet-proof, as well as springy and ventilated.

Its cross channels permit the air to dry the inner sides of both outsole and insole.

It thus prevents the retention of moisture, cracking, hardening, mouldiness, and keeps the feet dry, clean, hardy and healthy.

Observe beneath, the rubber centre-sole and its cross channels.

Want Exemption From License.

A petition has been presented to the City Council from the Silver Springs Brewery Co. asking that they be exempted from the payment of the brewers license in the city owing to the fact that they have to compete with other firms which send in their products from other cities and have not to pay any license. The Finance Committee will report on the matter at the next meeting of the council.

Condition of Street Railway Track.

The condition of the Sherbrooke Street Railway track was brought to the notice of the Council last evening by Mayor Camirand, who stated that he thought the company should be asked to keep their track in proper condition as at present, in many places in the city, the rails were some six inches above the ground. Councillor Jenkes made the suggestion that perhaps some arrangements could be come to with the city and company whereby the former when they were repaving the streets could also use the portion which the company has to keep in order. He thought this could be done satisfactorily, and at a small cost to the company. The matter was referred to the Road Committee to see if some arrangements on the above lines could not be come to.

There was also another matter which he intended bringing before the council that evening but as there was not a full attendance he would hold over what he had to say until there was a full board. He referred to the rumours and remarks which had been circulated in regard to his attitude to the vote on the water power deal. All that he would say that evening was that these rumours and remarks, in so far as he was concerned, were in the main absolutely false.

After the ceremony the newly married couple drove to the station and took the C.P.R. train for Montreal and Ottawa, where the wedding trip will be spent. Both were the recipients of very useful and handsome presents.

The condition of the Sherbrooke Street Railway track was brought to the notice of the Council last evening by Mayor Camirand, who stated that he thought the company should be asked to keep their track in proper condition as at present, in many places in the city, the rails were some six inches above the ground. Councillor Jenkes made the suggestion that perhaps some arrangements could be come to with the city and company whereby the former when they were repaving the streets could also use the portion which the company has to keep in order. He thought this could be done satisfactorily, and at a small cost to the company. The matter was referred to the Road Committee to see if some arrangements on the above lines could not be come to.

Superior to Stone Sidewalks.

The members of the council have been invited to see the new concrete platform in front of the Central station, which is being put in by Mr. Adams, of Rutland, Vt. In this connection Councillor Thompson stated at a meeting of the council last evening that he had seen the work of this firm in Rutland, Vt. The principal streets there were laid with this concrete and he understood that they were guaranteed for ten years. He thought that this concrete was very much superior to their present stone sidewalks.

Bridge Company Ask For Extension of Time.

The National Bridge Company of New York have written to the City Council stating that owing to the scarcity of steel that they would not be able to complete the new bridge at Wolfe street in the time specified in the contract, and that it would be at least three months longer than the contract called for before it would be completed. The secretary treasurer has been instructed to notify the company that city will look to within the specified time under the penalty contained in the contract for every day's delay after the first of September.

The New City Hall.

At a meeting of the City Council last evening Councillor Thompson moved that the council adjourn until Thursday evening when the question of the erection of a new city hall will be discussed. There was also another matter which he intended bringing before the council that evening but as there was not a full attendance he would hold over what he had to say until there was a full board. He referred to the rumours and remarks which had been circulated in regard to his attitude to the vote on the water power deal. All that he would say that evening was that these rumours and remarks, in so far as he was concerned, were in the main absolutely false.

PLANT--WIGGETT.

A very pretty though quiet wedding was witnessed in St. Peter's Church yesterday morning when Miss Louise Wiggett, daughter of the late James Wiggett, was united in the holy bonds of wedlock to Mr. Arthur F. Plant, of this city. Only the relatives and friends of the contracting parties were invited, but quite a number of friends of both parties assembled in the church to witness the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. C. W. Balfour, curate of St. Peter's. Miss Isabella Wiggett was bridesmaid, and the groom was supported by his brother, Mr. B. Plant. After the ceremony the newly married couple drove to the station and took the C.P.R. train for Montreal and Ottawa, where the wedding trip will be spent. Both were the recipients of very useful and handsome presents.

The arbitrators appointed to form a new wage scale for C.P.R. trackmen have given an award allowing an average increase of about 15 per cent.
