Calgary seminar

Hear farmers, unions on New Party policy

CALGARY (CP) — With the founding convention of the New Party still seven months away, delegates made clear at a weekend seminar here just what kind of performance they want from their left-wing political movement.

Discussion among 525 farmers, CCF leaders and trade unionists was the order at the second of two conferences aimed at airing views on the New Party's policy and structure.

The first seminar was held in Montreal last weekend. Both were sponsored by the national committee for the New Party under the chairmanship of Stanley Knowles, executive vice-president of the Canadian Labor Congress.

The Calgary seminar concluded that:

1. Large corporations, by way of "special privilege," are dictating terms to Canada's "old line" parties — the Progressive Conservatives and Liberals.
2. More capital should be accumulated and spent by Canadians.
3. The New Party must represent not only CCF and labor groups, but farmers, small businessmen and professional people.
4. Wealth must be redistributed among all levels of Canadian society.

Mr. Knowles said the lives of Canadians are not being democratically determined but are controlled and dominated by "powerful corporations" by their interests, by profit sheets and balances.

WANTS PRICE CONTROL
Dr. Stuart Jamieson, an economics professor at the University of British Columbia, said some form of price control should be established by any New Party government. More Canadian capital should be accumulated by Canadians in "one way or another."

Dr. Jamieson suggested, however, that unions must moderate wage demands in line with the size and number of co-operatives. National CCF Leader Hazen Argue said co-operatives, providing member control of investment, are the "essence of democracy."

Donald C. MacDonald, leader of the Ontario CCF party, interjected at a Saturday discussion that Dr. Jamieson's "ivory tower" suggestion of moderation in wage demands is "worthless" unless governments are empowered to regulate corporation profits.

Mr. Argue told delegates at the closing session Sunday that they should be prepared to field New Party candidates immediately in case of a federal general election next spring.

Protest arrests in Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE (Reuters) — Strong anti-white sentiment gripped supporters of ousted premier Patrice Lumumba in Stanleyville today but prompt United Nations action appears to have averted trouble for the time being.

The UN filed a strong protest in Stanleyville, capital of Oriental province, with Antoine Gizenga. The Congo's deputy premier under Lumumba, after several whites were arrested in the Oriental province town of Bunia.

So far the pro-Lumumba regime in Stanleyville has not carried out its threat of last week to arrest and behead whites in Oriental province unless Lumumba is released from imprisonment by Congolese army Col. Joseph Mobutu.

No arrests of whites have been reported from Stanleyville thanks to the immediate offer of protection by the United Nations, which rushed Ethiopian Gen. Mengasha Iyasu to Stanleyville to take charge of operations.

Race fans killed by stock cars

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Fourteen persons were killed and about 40 injured in three accidents during Argentina's Gran Prix stock car races Sunday.

Most of the victims were struck by two cars which plunged off the track and into crowds of spectators.

Riots force de Gaulle to call off his tour

ALGIERS (AP) — French troops and Moslems battled into the second day today in Algiers and the casualty toll rose to 79 dead and hundreds wounded. Eight Moslems were killed this morning.

The Algiers Radio carried an urgent appeal for all medical students in the embattled city to report to hospitals to care for the flood of wounded.

Fighting started again this morning when some 2,500 Moslems charged into the streets of Mairon Carre, a suburb on the edge of the city. Some of the armed Moslems in the crowd fired on a barrier of troops barring their way and the troops returned the fire, killing four Moslems.

Meanwhile, it was learned President de Gaulle has decided to cut short his six-day tour in the wake of the bloody rioting.

The French president will end his handshaking search for support of his self-determination policy for Algeria on Tuesday, a full day earlier than planned, and will return to Paris.

No official reason was given but the uprisings Sunday in Algiers and Oran bordering on open insurrection may have led to his decision.

Resentment against his trip and proposed policy promoted rioting among Europeans to riot in Algiers and Oran. The Moslem masses broke their stifled silence to get into the fighting.

Restless crowds of Europeans and Moslems began massing

Plane crash fatal for 32

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Thirty-six persons were killed in two plane crashes in Argentina Sunday.

An Argentine air ministry airliner with 32 persons exploded and crashed about 80 miles north of Buenos Aires on a flight from Lima, Peru. All aboard were killed. Cause of the crash was undetermined.

Near Concordia, three Americans and an Argentine died when their chartered plane crashed in stormy weather.

Livestock market

MONTREAL (CP) — Morning offerings on the Montreal livestock markets amounted to 522 cattle, 184 calves, 39 hogs and 289 sheep and lambs.

Pilots puzzled

Mystery flash sighted

MONTREAL (CP) — A Trans-Canada Air Lines captain, C. Ward, is trying to find an explanation for a spectacular flash in the skies seen Saturday evening by him and several other pilots in Eastern Canada and New York state.

Capt. Ward, flying near Bagotville, Que., on a run from Sept-les to Montreal, saw the phenomenon "within two minutes either way of 5:39 p.m., EST" and said it lasted about 20 minutes.

He said he first noticed what seemed to be a circular aurora, reddish in color. Above the centre rose "diffuse white cloud formations" and the whole configuration became brighter toward the centre, then radiated outward "almost like an explosion."

Several other pilots, including those of a Lufthansa aircraft, an unidentified CF-100 RCAF fighter and a second TCA flight over Albany, N.Y., also reported seeing the aerial display.

The operator at the Quebec City airport tower confirmed the brilliant lights although the Montreal airport control tower and the weather office in suburban Dorval did not see them.

Capt. Ward discounted the possibility of an exceptionally bright and prominent aurora borealis since everyone placed the phenomenon in the southwest, not in the north.

Rebel chief raps policy

TUNIS (AP) — The Algerian nationalist rebel government in exile today said President de Gaulle's program for Algeria could only aggravate the six-year rebellion.

The statement by rebel premier Ferhat Abbas was directed at de Gaulle's policy of installing a home-rule Algerian administration and giving the Algerians the right to determine their own future.

"The proposed statute would settle nothing," Abbas said. "Far from hastening the hour of peace, it will only aggravate the war."

The statement was the first official comment on the rebel regime since de Gaulle began his tour of Algeria to woo Moslem support for his policy.

Abbas said any Algerian administration under French rule would be a puppet of "the army of occupation and the colonialist administration."

Society seeks bi-lingual ads

QUEBEC (CP) — A committee of the St. Jean Baptiste Society, French-Canadian cultural organization, wants Quebecers to stop buying products not advertised in French.

The committee launched a campaign Saturday to promote products advertised in French, or in both Canadian languages with equal prominence.

Hits Eastern U.S. today

Storm paralyzes Mid-West

CHICAGO (AP) — A pre-winter snow and ice storm, sweeping out of the southwest and across the midlands, struck damaging blows in the eastern part of the U. S. today.

The first heavy snow of the season, up to a foot in some areas, blanketed wide areas eastward to the Atlantic coast and into parts of the south.

The storm was blamed for at least 15 deaths during the weekend.

Nearly a foot of snow piled up in the western Maryland mountain region. In northern Virginia, with more than six inches on the ground, falls of a foot high were predicted.

Between four and eight inches covered areas in Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey and foot-high falls were in prospect in some sections of Pennsylvania.

STORM TO MOVE EAST
Heavy snow was forecast from southeastern Pennsylvania northward into southern Maine.

Traffic was a mess in the big cities and the drifting snow was a virtual car-stopper in some rural sections. In Philadelphia, Washington, New York, Cleveland and many other cities, travel was bumper-to-bumper as gusty winds whirled the falling snow or glazed streets made motorists extra cautious.

Airline flights were cancelled or delayed in some cities. Schools in many parts of Ohio and New Jersey and in suburban areas of Washington and Philadelphia were closed.

Gale warnings were posted along the Atlantic coast. Ship sailings were cancelled out of Baltimore and inbound ships anchored in Chesapeake Bay.

CITIES PARALYZED

Across Pennsylvania the storm paralyzed communities and cities, including Philadelphia.

By early morning the storm, which began Sunday, had dumped as much as 15 inches of snow in the Philadelphia area, bringing traffic to a standstill and disrupting public transportation.

Philadelphia declared a weather emergency and schools closed. The Philadelphia transportation company line stopped running in some parts. Manufacturing plants were closed.

THE WEATHER
Cloudy with scattered snow flurries today; clearing during the night; Tuesday, mainly sunny and continuing very cold; 5 below and 12 above.

Man crushed under truck

WEEDON (Special) — A Valleyfield man, Roger Cote, 37, father of six, was killed Saturday afternoon on route one between Weedon and Marleton when his truck overturned crushing him underneath.

Cote had stopped his truck on the highway after having a minor accident with a car. A few minutes later a heavy truck driven by Armand Drouin of Sherbrooke hit Cote's truck from behind. The violence of the crash caused Cote's truck to overturn crushing him underneath.

Claude Giraud, brother-in-law of the victim, who was with Cote at the time of the accident escaped injury.

Judge is called back to order

BUTTE, Mont. (AP) — A judge carries the dignity of court with him but to one person he's just about what he was when he started.

Judge T. E. Downey and his 92-year-old mother were ready to leave the courthouse. The mother looked her son over closely and scolded: "Timmy, where are your overshoes?"

Brother Claude Lejeune, 53, teacher, and pupils Rene Gonneville, 16, Michel Cote, 15, Yvon Gazes, 15, Pierre Cyr, 15, when their station wagon hit a tree Saturday near Phillipsburg, Que., 50 miles south of Montreal.

VISITS SHOPPING CENTRE — Santa Claus paid a visit to the Sherbrooke Shopping Centre on King Street, West Saturday. But at times it was hard to find him, smothered as he was by hundreds of children who came to see the jolly old fellow. The picture above was taken just moments after he landed by helicopter. ## 23 die across Canada

Snow-covered roads 'deathtraps'

As near-zero temperatures gripped the country this weekend, snow-covered roads became deathtraps in Ontario and Quebec.

A Canadian Press survey from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday showed that 23 of the total of 30 deaths were caused in motoring accidents.

While Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and British Columbia were free from highway fatalities, Ontario and Quebec's combined death toll was 21.

Newfoundland and Alberta reported one road death each. Fourteen teenagers died with their teacher near Phillipsburg, Que., Saturday when their station wagon careered across a snow-covered road and hit a tree. Six other persons were severely injured.

HIGHEST ROAD TOLL
Ontario had the highest road toll of 12.

Five persons died in fire in British Columbia, and Ontario accounted for a sixth. One person died in a plane crash in Quebec.

The survey does not include deaths in industrial accidents, suicides or natural deaths.

Quebec deaths:
Martin J. Rabin, 38, Montreal, whose car went out of control Saturday and plunged into a ravine near Piedmont, Que., 40 miles north of Montreal.
Joseph Laflamme, 75, St. Octave de Metis, Que., when his car collided with a truck Saturday near Scott Junction, 20 miles southeast of Quebec City.

About Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Brett Maverick walked off the Warner range. So did Cheyenne, Kookie and others from time to time. But Stuart Bailey always stuck to his office at 77 Sunset Strip. This may be a lesson in how to deal with feudalistic studios. Bailey, known off the TV tube as Efram Zimbalist Jr., now is doing a prize role in a bigtime movie, By Love Possessed, while his fellow stars still are fighting it out in the courts or in their series.

How did Zimbalist get out of the "prison?" "Simple," he replied. "I simply gave the studio four years of my life." During that time, he worked almost continuously and uncomplainingly in the Friday night whodunit. "I didn't see any good in complaining," he reasoned. "Besides, I like Jack Warner."

Zimbalist admitted there were times when he might have got restless. While he was grinding out the TV hours, other studios sought his services in feature films. "But what did I miss?" he asked. "I missed Butterfield 8, but I'm not sure that would have done me good. Portrait in Black didn't turn out too well. It was the same with most of the other pictures I could have done."

He is obviously pleased with By Love Possessed, as well he should be. The James Gould Cozzens novel has been extensively cast with Zimbalist as the small-town lawyer and co-stars Lana Turner, Jason Robards Jr., George Hamilton, Susan Kohner, Barbara Bel Geddes, Thomas Mitchell.

And what happens after Zimbalist finishes the film? "I go right back to 77 Sunset Strip," he reported. "I don't mind. The show has been good for me."

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "The biggest one-night gross in the history of show business"—that's what Frank Sinatra is planning to celebrate John Kennedy's inauguration as president Jan. 20.

It's no secret that the thin singer has been one of Kennedy's biggest boosters. Sinatra has been put in charge of a gala to end all galas on the night of Jan. 19 in Washington. Who appointed him?

"The gang in Washington, including Jack," he said.

Sinatra disclosed details of the event in his Devil at 4 o'clock dressing room: "This is something that hasn't been done before. Usually there is a ball after the inauguration and that's it. BOX SEATS 10,000

"This year we're having a show on the night before the inauguration. It will be held at the armory, and it'll be a theatre-in-the-round — the stage in the centre and seats all around. The place holds 10,000 and the seats will sell for $100 apiece. Some of the upper seats might be scaled lower; boxes will be sold for $10,000.

"We expect to raise $1,700,000 for the one night. There's never been anything like it in show business."

The proceeds will help pay off the democratic party's $2,000,000 debt from the 1960 campaign.

Sinatra listed those who will help erase the Democrats' red ink on Jan. 19: Harry Belafonte, Gene Kelly, Louis Prima and Keely Smith, Ella Fitzgerald, Joey Bishop, Tony Curtis and Janet Leigh, Nat King Cole, Dean Martin, Peter Lawford, Milton Berle, Sammy Davis Jr., Mahalia Jackson, Juliet Prowse, Red Skelton — and I hope Judy (Garland) will be able to come over from Europe."

Clarenceville bank holdup

2 masked bandits flee with $5,000

CLARENCEVILLE — (Staff) — Masked bandits held up the Clarenceville Branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce about 7:15 p.m. Friday evening and made off with an estimated $5,000.

According to the Cowansville detachment of the Provincial Police, two armed and masked men entered the bank and ordered the 15 customers in the bank to lie face down on the floor.

After everybody was lying down, they walked over to the only person in the bank, manager, Yvon Bernard and ordered him to hand over the contents of the till.

Bernard said the amount stolen was about $5,000.

Thieves then climbed into a waiting car in which a third member of the gang was waiting and took off in the direction of Baie Missisquoi. No trace of the hold-up car has been found. No one was injured during the theft.

Routine police check prevents theft of $2,800 in cigarettes

A routine check by a patrolling constable early Monday morning prevented the theft of $2,800 worth of cigarettes from an East Sherbrooke warehouse, Capt. Armand Genest of the municipal police department reported Monday.

He said the constable found the warehouse door forced open and 14 cases of cigarettes piled nearby ready for removal. Each case contains 50 cartons, representing 140,000 cigarettes.

The warehouse, at 700 Papi-neau Street, owned by Louis Bureau of Sherbrooke, had been broken into between 8:30 p.m. Sunday and 2 a.m. Monday.

According to Capt. Genest, the thieves had apparently been frightened away by the patrolling police.

No sign of the burglars could be found.

SAWMILL DESTROYED BY BLAZE

DIXVILLE — (Special) — A sawmill caught fire and burned to the ground here Monday morning when a diesel engine used to power the saw, exploded in flames.

Losses were estimated at between $12,000 and $15,000 to the building which was owned by J. Des Lauriers of Dixville. Formerly a barn, it was recently renovated and was being operated as a sawmill by G. Paquet of Dixville.

According to Mr. Paquet, the engine exploded when he attempted to start it at about 7 a.m. and the flames spread rapidly.

The Dixville volunteer fire brigade was called to the scene, but the building, which is situated on the edge of the village, burned to the ground in an hour's time.

Few changes made

Pass building by-law

Sherbrooke's new construction by-law was adopted in its entirety by city council at a special meeting Saturday morning.

A 65-page, 14-chapter document, the by-law establishes seven distinct classes of construction, including four classes of principal buildings and three classes of accessory buildings such as garages and water-houses.

The four classes of principal buildings are: (a) reinforced concrete and steel structures with wood or steel structures with size of wood beams and fire-proofing requirements specified (c) wood structures, with exterior of brick, stone or other incombustible material (d) wood structure with wood exterior.

It is essentially the same by-law as the one it replaces, with a few changes to improve and bring it up to date according to Director of Services Charles Langlois.

Before being approved by city council, the by-law was submitted to the urbanism consulting committee which is made up of delegates from the various local organizations which take an active interest in municipal affairs. That committee returned the by-law to city council with the recommendation that it be approved.

The aldermen were unanimous in their approval.

Santa visits again

Drops out of the blue, is mobbed by crowds

Santa Claus paid another visit to Sherbrooke Saturday morning, but at times it became a little difficult to spot him.

It was easy enough to tell his general location by the huge crowd of children and their parents surrounding him.

But try to get through to be close. That was a different matter.

He arrived at the Shopping Centre, on King Street West by helicopter shortly after 11 a.m. After that things became a little confused.

Immediately mobbed, he had to get quickly away from the helicopter so that the whirling rotor blades would not hit any of the people rushing towards him.

His first stop was the Dominion Store, about 30 yards from where he landed. It took him nearly five minutes to get inside.

Inside the store, all shopping ground to a halt as parents held the smaller fry up in the air to have a good look at Santa.

Moving again, the old boy went out and paid a brief visit to each of the stores at the centre, still trailed by at least 200 men, women and children.

All the same, Santa's visit was as wonderful as any child could imagine.

He dropped in right out of the blue just to be with them. One little fellow was ecstatic: "I saw him," he grinned "I really saw him."

SPIT n' POLISH

Being a good serviceman requires a lot of common sense, and to be smart in appearance demands a comfortable, proper fitting uniform. If you don't exercise your good judgement more than likely you'll be a misfit, and far from a credit to your service and corps.

Occasionally you'll see someone who is dressed in a smart suit with well matching accessories, but it's all spoiled by the person's poor looking shirt. In the Army and Air Force particularly, shirts are now a visual part of the issued uniform, and should be carefully selected. The services have more than the "too big" and "too small," and receiving shirts that fit properly is largely your concern.

It isn't all in the size of a shirt though. Washing and ironing is important. The army incidentally, doesn't advocate starching, and if you ever wear stiff scratchy clothing in battle-conditions, you'll see why. Remember, it's generally the little things that make the big differences between smart and shabby appearances. Be a snappy looking serviceman, dress with care, and see that your shirt is clean, well pressed and properly fitted.

Anti-Canadianism?

No one can deny that Canada and the United States have common interests and common objectives.

But Canadians are not Americans and American policies are not necessarily Canadian ones.

Often the national ambitions of both nations conflict and friction results. Witness the anti-American sentiment that has been widespread in this country in recent years.

Now, it seems, the shoe may be on the other foot.

In the coming weeks we can expect a growing and vocal campaign of anti-Canadianism in the United States.

The controversial issue, of course, is the position we have taken in regard to trade with Castro's Cuba.

Many Americans seem to think that Canada should identify herself with the United States and voluntarily join in their trade embargo.

Granted, it may prove irritating to Americans to see their economic sanctions partly cancelled out by increased Canada-Cuba trade.

Getting rid of snow

One of the unpleasant things about snow is getting rid of it. Montreal, for example, will spend about $6,000,000 for the job this winter.

Sherbrooke expects to spend $174,000 in 1961 on snow clearing and removal operations.

Man and machine

There's no real danger of machines taking over the world as many pessimists predict.

Recently a new, fully automated post office was opened in Providence, R.I.

But now comes comforting word from that Canadian policy and American policy on the question of Cuba are at odds.

Canadians recognise that the present regime in Cuba leans well toward Communism.

Castro came to power with the backing of rank-and-file Cubans as well as that of his Red-tinged immediate supporters.

That many Cubans were hoodwinked is now obvious. But this does not make them Communists nor does it follow that Cuba will go all the way over to the Communist bloc.

One way to achieve that end, however, would be for Canada and all other trading nations of the West to go along with the American trade embargo.

Sheer necessity, if nothing else, would then drive all Cubans — not just Castro's crowd — clearly into the Communist bloc for good and for all.

Trade Minister George Hees, in entertaining the Cuban trade mission in Ottawa last week, was simply doing what any good businessman would do under the circumstances.

Let the anti-Canadians make of that what they will.

Fortunately, however, most Americans are well-disposed toward Canadians.

And as long as Canada restricts her Cuban trade to non-strategic materials and doesn't allow herself to be used as a trans-shipment depot for American goods, they will remain that way.

Involved. Digging out one's car, clearing the driveway and walk — these are things most individuals do many times over each winter.

And those who feel it's a lot of work are right. It has been calculated that shovelling 15 inches of snow from a sidewalk 50 feet long requires as much energy as lifting 1,950 pounds — almost a ton.

Anyone asking for a miniature snow blower for Christmas?

Providence that the machines are mangling between 30 and 40 letters a day.

Engineers are seeking a solution to the problem but in the meantime they're blaming it on 'human failures'.

It seems that scientists are able to design elaborate electronic devices but so far no one has found a means of persuading people to follow rules and regulations.

CURIOUS "MULE" — The mule deer gets its unhappy name from its distinctive long ears. The type predominates in Banff National Park, where this young, handsomely-coated buck was snapped knee-deep and curious in early winter snows.

Montreal's international terminal

Airport world's most beautiful?

MONTREAL (CP)—Soft music floats through the reading room. In the nursery, a baby's cry is hushed by warm milk and his weary mother rests.

Two elderly Dutch ladies seated on a canary yellow lounge beneath a black marble pillar chat about life in Canada. An American businessman sips a martini and reads the evening paper.

This is the new terminal at Montreal International Airport. It is described by the department of transport as probably "the largest and most beautiful" in the world.

Its lavish interior and country-club atmosphere shatter the traditions Canadians have learned to associate with air terminals. It isn't crowded and confusing, its facilities extend far beyond the bare necessities.

The $30,000,000 structure is regarded as the crowning effort in a program to modernize Canadian air terminals.

The main passenger area overlooks the airfield and is supported by imported Italian marble columns. The walls are of teak or polished granite and the floors of terrazzo or marble.

Off this area are the nursery, with its sealed-down washroom for tots, and the reading room. A striking cantilever staircase containing 21,000 hand-set tiles in its teak steps leads to the $500,000 main dining room on the third floor.

Passengers caught between international flights or by delays, will benefit most from the spacious lounges and facilities in this area.

Smaller waiting rooms and quick-service snack bars in the east end of the terminal, where domestic flights will park, are designed for passengers bound to Canadian points.

The customs, immigration and health department offices are located near the international arrival and departure points in the west end of the building.

A unique system developed in Canada brings baggage into the terminal by belt and deposits it on revolving carousel-like machines from which the passenger can easily pick it up.

The customs counters are set up supermarket-style near the baggage carousels, with 26 officers checking passengers through.

There are 41 washrooms on the first two floors and 89 in the whole building. Concessions include two banks, a barber shop, a beauty parlor, showers, dining room, snack bar, coffee shop and newsstands. For passengers caught by lengthy delays, a 200-room inn will be built near the terminal.

Acres of imported Belgium glass, 15,000 yards of draperies and more than $200,000 worth of colorful Canadian-made furniture decorate the lower floors.

There are 50 miles of copper tubing in the air conditioning system, which at one point was removed from the plans as an economy measure. The system

Lone spy in Hawaii before Pearl Harbor

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Japanese Navy's lone spy in Hawaii at the time of Pearl Harbor says his work had "little to do with mysterious methods of communication, lush lady spies or single brilliant coups."

Instead it was based solidly on scholarly research, meticulous observation and painstaking attention to details.

Breaking a silence of 19 years, retired Ensign Takeo Yoshikawa tells his story dispassionately in the current issue of the U.S. Naval Institute Proceedings.

Yoshikawa had spent more than four years intensively studying the U.S. Navy, particularly the fleet and the bases in the Pacific. Then, at the age of 25, he was sent to Hawaii in 1941 as a spy, posing under the cover name of Vice-Consul Morimura.

He was in Honolulu on that fateful Dec. 7. As a consular officer he eventually was repatriated to Japan without his spy status having been discovered.

He wrote that he found his job easy in respect to things and happenings he was able to see for himself. He found it "disappointingly difficult" in that he got little or no help from the large Japanese community in Hawaii.

The Japanese spy used no unusual methods of communication, relying solely on the regular diplomatic codes and message channels employed by his consulate there.

He hired no assistants of any nationality and at no time did he co-ordinate intelligence operations with German and Italian officials in the islands.

He found out about the movements, the numbers and the preparations of U.S. battleship forces simply by walking to the end of Pearl City peninsula that jutted into Pearl Harbor. There he used his eyes.

He found out about flights and dispositions of aircraft on army air force fields by hiring a small commercial plane, flying low at times to take pictures.

On the very day before the Pearl Harbor attack, Yoshikawa sent a significant message, which was relayed promptly to the Japanese task force. He had previously reported that the U.S. military authorities were planning to put up a balloon barrage around key points. On Dec. 6, the Japanese agent reported no balloons in sight.

The absence of a balloon barrage meant that the Japanese could employ low-flying torpedo bombers.

Yoshikawa said he did not know in advance the exact date of the big attack on Pearl Harbor. He awoke early on the morning of Sunday, Dec. 7, to hear the sound of explosions from the direction of the big base. He still did not know it was the real thing until he tuned in on a regular news broadcast from Tokyo. The broadcast carried only routine news, except that twice within the broadcast one phrase was repeated.

"East wind, rain" was the phrase, Yoshikawa knew that war had started with the United States.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

DECEPTIVE PAY AIDS WEAK HAND

Most declarers make it a habit to win a trick with the highest of any group of equal value cards. They think they are making a brilliant false card, but on many occasions the best deceptive play is to win with the lowest.

South won the first trick with the king of spades and tried the diamond finesse. East got in with the king and it did not require much thought on his part to see that it would be useless to return a spade to his partner.

Obviously, declarer held the queen of spades since otherwise West would have held a spade suit headed by queen-jack-ten and would have opened the queen, not his fourth best.

Now all East had to do was to choose between clubs and hearts, and he decided on the clubs. He also chose the ten spot as the right club to lead. South had no way to keep the defense from collecting four club tricks and South was down one.

If South had simply won the first lead with the ten of spades, East still might have shifted to the club, but there is a good chance that he would have played West for a five-card spade suit, headed by the king-jack and simply returned his partner's lead.

We will never know. South's false card had made things too easy for East.

Market Struggle, recession Threaten Canada-US relations

WASHINGTON (CP) — An era of increasing strain threatens friendly relations between Canada and the United States as the two countries struggle for markets and fight recession at home.

The great warmth between these neighbors, which developed in part from mutual confidence in the face of totalitarian aggression, tended to cool in 1960 as the danger of war receded and Canadians paid more heed to the state of their independence and national identity.

While statesmen from both sides publicly extolled the virtues of Canada-United States relations as a model for the world, American authorities anxiously listened to increasing reports of "neutrality" in Canada coupled with growing criticism of American domination over Canadian industry.

This American anxiety increased with the Canadian government decision to seek new laws forcing foreign-controlled industry to publicize information about their holdings in Canada.

Qualified Canadian informants said American authorities were mystified and stunned when Canada steered clear of the U.S. embargo on exports to Cuba.

On the Canadian side, there appeared to be increasing distrust of American leadership, especially after the U-2 spy plane affair and the collapse of the summit conference at Paris.

There may be some change in 1961 when Democrat John Kennedy replaces Republican Dwight Eisenhower as president of the United States.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker got along well with Eisenhower. Meanwhile, the two countries worry about markets amid signs of temporary recession at home.

Canada is vastly more dependent on exports than the United States, but the U.S. is worried about its diminishing gold supply.

Both countries plan big export drives at a time when world competition is increasing, with West Germany and Japan showing a big spurt through lower prices and lower labor costs.

What may aggravate Canada-U.S. difficulties is the rise of demands in the U.S. for more protection and John Kennedy's own pledge to pay closer attention to domestic industries hurt by foreign competition.

The U.S. still remains Canada's top market. While more Canadian natural gas will undoubtedly flow across the border in 1961, the flow of Canadian uranium will continue to decline because of world surpluses.

But there also are signs of optimism. After years of effort, the two countries finally got to the stage where they agreed to join in developing the big west coast Columbia River for power.

And in June, when Diefenbaker visited Eisenhower, the two leaders said they noted with pleasure the extent to which problems "yielded to the process of friendly and continuing consultation."

"They expressed their belief," a communique said, "that there has been established between the two countries a model for the relationship between neighbors."

In the U.S. Congress, continuing efforts to increase import curbs on lead and zinc were beaten down along with pressure for diversion of Great Lakes water for Chicago sewage disposal.

Months of haggling over the military worth of the Bomarc anti-aircraft missile, of which Canada is to get two squadrons, finally ended with congressional approval of the weapon.

But as the year ended, there were signs of fresh friction. The Bomarc would be virtually useless without its atomic warhead, Diefenbaker said he would not accept American atomic warheads in Canada without joint Canadian control over their custody.

There was little likelihood of early change in American law which requires the U.S. to retain sole control over American atomic warheads.

Maureen Forrester

Laud Canadian artist in European concerts

LONDON (CP) — When Canadian contralto Maureen Forrester sang in Vienna for the first time, she felt she would gladly settle for fair-to-middling reviews.

She didn't dare hope for a headline such as "an evening which shows perfection" — but those were the words used by the Vienna Express in reviewing her program of 34 songs in four languages.

"A wonderful mezzo-soprano, vibrant, strong, soft as velvet, dream-like and reliably trained," the Vienna critic wrote. "Intonation as clear as a bell, a performance marked by taste and culture."

That was probably the outstanding notice received by the Montreal singer in a tour that started Nov. 2 and took in Barcelona, Trieste, Vienna, Milan, Turin, Vicenza and London.

Miss Forrester, who sings in English, French, Spanish, Italian, German, Russian, Hebrew and Latin, also received flattering notices from the Corriere del Sera of Milan and two Turin papers, La Stampa and La Gazzetta del Popolo.

Her husband, conductor Eugene Kash, said the most impressive part of the tour from his standpoint was that Italian audiences, partial to opera music, were so enthusiastic about Miss Forrester's non-operatic recitals.

The blonde, 30-year-old singer, who also gave performances in Holland, will return home in time for Christmas with suitcases chockful of "hopjies" — little boxes of a coffee-tasting toffee popular in The Netherlands.

"They were sent to me by complete strangers, people who had read that I have three children and wanted to send something for them," she said. "I think it's a delightful gift."

She had some worrying moments before her Vienna concert. She arrived on a Saturday night, with a recital set for the following evening. Then she learned that her luggage, containing most of her wardrobe, had been sent by mistake to Istanbul.

It was returned to Vienna just two hours before the concert was to start.

Her tour concludes with engagements in Rome and Genoa. After that it's back home to prepare for the birth of her fourth child, expected on Christmas Day.

Face lifting for Indian Cities before Royal trip

BOMBAY (CP) — Many towns and cities in India and Pakistan will get a face lift in preparation for the Queen's visit early next year.

A trip to Benares, the holy city of the Hindus on the banks of the Ganges, is understood to have been included in the Queen's itinerary.

This colorful pilgrim centre, a tremendous focal point of Hindu worship, has already been undergoing renovation for the last two years and this process is being expedited. Its century-old bathing ghats — stone steps leading to the river to help pilgrims take their sacred dip — are being repaired at considerable expense.

The Queen will be shown some of the magnificent Benares temples and permission is being obtained for the royal party to enter the shrines to see the jewelled idols. The Queen will not be exempted from the rule requiring all visitors to leave their shoes outside.

May See Jewels The Queen may also be permitted to see the jewel collections of some of the temples. Seeing them, one former British viceroy of India is said to have exclaimed: "If India is the jewel of the British Crown, Benares is the real jewel of India!"

During her 22-day tour of India — she arrives in New Delhi Jan. 21 — the Queen will get an idea of old-time paganism when she visits the cities of Mysore, Jaipur and Udaipur, once ruled by maharajas.

Katmandu, the capital of the adjoining kingdom of Nepal, which the Queen will visit for three days, will receive the royal party of 30 with a procession of richly-captioned elephants and silver palanquins. A splendid procession of elephants is being arranged by King Mahendra Bir Bikram Shah.

The Queen also will see hydro-electric dams, agricultural research institutes, oil refineries, atomic reactors including the Canada-India reactor at Trombay, near Bombay, and the steel plant being constructed with British assistance at Durgapur in eastern India.

Miner's condition remains critical

TORONTO (CP) — British miner Alan Rose remained in critical condition in hospital early today, grimly holding on to life three weeks after being crushed in a mine cave-in.

He was trapped for 69 hours in a Northern Ontario gold mine. He suffered internal injuries and his right foot was amputated Friday.

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Two Wyandotte County jail prisoners attacked a jailer Sunday night and took his keys, but they got so many keys they couldn't find the right one.

CHICAGO (AP) — Former president Harry Truman, being honored as the "Man of the Century" by the National Israel Bond Organization, said Saturday night he sees no differences "between Israel and her Arab neighbors that cannot be peacefully resolved."

Horses now sold by instalments

LONDON (AP) — That old custom of a dollar down and a dollar a week will buy a horse now. People are doing it throughout rural England. One dealer in Essex peddled 10 horses on credit within a few days.

William Foyle of Wickford advertises: "Pay as you ride. Hunters, hacks and children's ponies. Any horse taken in part exchange. All horses fully warranted."

A young lady was interested in a chestnut mare offered at $65 ($162). She had a Shetland pony. Foyle swept into action like the star salesman on a used car lot: "Thirty pounds for the pony, against the purchase price of $65."

The sale was made with the pony as down payment. In came a tractor driver who liked a gleaming Palomino priced at $120 ($336). The customer, Frank Down of Hullbridge, made his deal — one-third down, the rest over 18 months. He commented: "I could never afford to buy one otherwise, I'd rather have a horse than a car any day."

Border group holds Christmas party, meeting

ROCK ISLAND — Stanstead South church hall was decorated with evergreens, poinsettias and lighted red candles for the Christmas party on Dec. 7 of the Helping Circle.

At three tables decorated in Christmas motif, the hostesses, Mrs. C. R. Darby, Mrs. C. W. Ladd, Mrs. Effie Gray and Mrs. A. S. Judd, Sr., served a salad supper.

A business meeting followed with the president, Mrs. Darby, presiding. Mrs. Darby expressed special words of welcome to Mrs. William Dustin, who had recently returned home from Germany, as well as to the other guests.

A sum of $50 was voted for the Missionary and Maintenance fund treasury, and $25 to complete the year's pledge to the Church Board.

It was also decided to donate money to the Dixville Home for Retarded Children, to North Eastern Vermont Association School for Retarded, in Newport, to the Cecil Memorial Home, Austin, and to St. John's Hall in Quebec.

Mrs. Lloyd Selby will be in charge of decorating the church for Christmas prior to Dec. 18. Mrs. Darby, the retiring president, thanked all members who had supported her since she had been leader of the group.

Officers elected for the coming year are: Mrs. Lloyd Selby, president; Mrs. Merion Davis, 1st vice-president; Mrs. T. W. Tyson, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. Frank Anderson, treasurer; and Mrs. Aileen Arbery, secretary. The two latter were re-elected. Mrs. Golda Standish, on behalf of the Circle, voiced appreciation to Mrs. Darby for the wonderful leadership of the past years. After the business meeting the remainder of the evening was in charge of Miss Ruth Wing, program chairman.

The program included the singing of O Little Town of Bethlehem, and a reading on the carol, by Mrs. Golda Standish. The roll call was responded to by other Christmas recitations, poems, and readings. A duet was rendered by Miss Ruth Hethrington and Mrs. George Hatch, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Standish.

Mrs. H. D. Ames read the Christmas story, and other readings were given by Mrs. Standish, Mrs. R. E. Grow, Misses Mildred Blake, H. Cowles and Ruth Hethrington. A carol concluded the program.

Save The Children Fund at work

Out of every seven people in Hong Kong, two are refugees. And a quarter of a million refugees are children, thousands of them completely alone in the world, abandoned by their parents and left to starve, because they could no longer be looked after. Many of these children beg on the streets for food, and sleep in any corner they can find.

Hong Kong has always been a crowded merchant centre and for many years the overcrowded slums have posed a problem for the authorities. Now, with refugees still crossing from the Chinese mainland at the rate of 300 every day, conditions are indescribable.

The local authorities are tackling the housing problem by Chinese children playing in a Hong Kong nursery. The Canadian Save the Children Fund appeal hopes to raise money for the provision of other nurseries for needy children in the city. Of refugee population 250,000 are children and thousands live in squalor.

building great new "resettlement blocks" which are making vast differences to the conditions of the people lucky enough to live in them. And in February this year, the Save the Children Fund opened the first children's nursery centre to be incorporated into one of these housing areas.

The nursery has aroused enormous interest, and already has become the model for other nurseries in other resettlement areas. All children in the Wong Tai Sin "block" may apply to the SCF centre, and administrators have a heartbreaking task visiting all the homes to decide which hundred children are most needy. Children with only one parent living have first priority; so, too, do those with a parent undergoing treatment for TB and therefore unable to work. For six days a week the children are well cared for. They have three good meals a day at the nursery, a bath once a week, toys to play with and even elementary school lessons. Their sole parent is free to find work, and able to build a new life and new self respect safe in the knowledge that his child is happy.

As well as providing the money for salaries for eight nursery teachers and the administrator, the Save the Children Fund bought all the fittings and equip-

Accept diabetes as a challenge

EDMONTON (CP)—When Mrs. M. D. Muttart was told she had diabetes, she was given a maximum of 18 years to live.

That was 28 years ago. Since then Mrs. Muttart has spent most of her time helping others. She is a partner with her husband in Muttart Foundations, which they established and which does such philanthropic work as giving educational aid to young people, supporting scientific research projects and aiding children's camps.

Mrs. Muttart was president of the Canadian Diabetic Association during three of its early years and lectured across the country for the association.

She says her many interests have contributed to her present health and she has three rules for living: Accept diabetes as a challenge, not a handicap; watch diet and health habits and believe there is still work to be done.

When Mrs. Muttart became CDA national president in 1954, there was a national association but few local branches. She set out to organize branches, first consulting doctors in each city she visited from British Columbia to Newfoundland. There now are 24 branches across Canada.

The CDA also has built a large collection of publications available to diabetics in French or English and imported literature in other languages from other countries, for new Canadians.

Camps for diabetic children have been established, diabetics are encouraged to keep in close touch with their doctors and identification cards have been printed for diabetics who in the past were often mistaken as being intoxicated while having an insulin reaction.

ment for the Wong Tai Sin nursery. And now that this first project is established, plans are being made to extend the Fund's work to a second nursery. Build-

Two children from the Wong Tai Sin resettlement block where the first nursery has been set up by the Save the Children Fund. Children with only one parent have priority for care, enabling the parent to work to maintain them. In Hong Kong, 250,000 children are refugees and thousands are alone, abandoned by their parents.

Grandmother says outdoor life best way to retain youth

TROIS-RIVIERES, Que. (CP)—One of the best ways to retain youth and vigor is to live a hardy outdoor life, says Mrs. Emma Alice McCulloch, 73-year-old sharpshooting grandmother.

From early spring until late autumn she lives alone in a cabin on Lac-a-Beauce, 65 miles north of Trois-Rivieres. In the winter she lives in Trois-Rivieres.

During the long summer days she fishes and collects driftwood from the lake. On crisp autumn days she hunts. Her trophies include a bear, shot because he was tramping her flowers, a moose and various types of small game.

Talking to a reporter, Mrs. McCulloch told how she shot the bear. She first poured molasses into a pail which she hung on a nearby tree. Then she spread newspapers about the trunk to "give me a background for sighting the critter."

"He made a perfect silhouette," she said, recalling the just-after-sundown shooting. "I dropped him with a single shot from the old .35."

The hide of the black male bruin now adorns the floor of Mrs. McCulloch's cabin. The meat was given away to friends. A sturdy woman with a firm, tanned face and shoulder-length white hair, Mrs. McCulloch was born in La Tuque, Que., of Irish-French-Scottish parentage. During the winter she travels to nearby Ste-Anne-de-la-Parade for ice-fishing.

These are ambitious plans and will be expensive. The Canadian Save the Children Fund is appealing now for funds to send to Hong Kong towards this massive task.

Today, there are a quarter of a million children without anyone to care for them. Canadian dollars from you can do much to bring that number down. Your help is needed now, to continue this vital program, please send your contribution now to THE CANADIAN SAVE THE CHILDREN FUND, 68 HAYTER ST., TORONTO, Ontario.

Beauty Tips

If you want to compliment another woman on a new hair-do or lipstick shade, don't tell her that it's a "one hundred per cent" improvement. You may mean well but the implication is that she looked anything but attractive prior to the change. Simply tell her how pretty she looks and let it go at that.

Women's Groups

BAPTIST CHURCH LADIES' AUXILIARY

A delightful Christmas meeting of the Baptist Ladies' Auxiliary was held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fred Bampton, Fulton Avenue, when a large number of members and visitors attended the last meeting until after the holidays. The hostess conducted the opening devotional period during which Mrs. N. Peveril sang The Anthem Celestial.

The secretary-treasurer, Mrs. M. McKeage read the minutes and reported that the Christmas tea and sale was the most successful held for many years.

The president, Mrs. H. Mills, expressed her thanks to all who had contributed in any way to make this event such an outstanding success.

During the business session which followed, plans were made for the Business and Professional Women's Christmas party to be held in the church hall on December 12th.

A nominating committee was formed consisting of Mrs. E. Wheeler and Mrs. G. Flanders. The next meeting of the Auxiliary will be held on January 11th.

A social time followed when Mrs. Paul Burns poured tea at the beautifully appointed table covered with a colorful Christmas cloth and miniature lighted tree with Christmas tapers in candleabra.

Assisting the hostess in serving were Mrs. H. Leech, Jr., Mrs. Paul Bedard and Mrs. N. Bradley.

ST. ANDREW'S GUILD

At the closing meeting of the year of St. Andrew's Guild Mrs. Donald McIntyre was elected as its president.

The meeting was held in the choir room and was chaired by the retiring president, Mrs. D. Jones, who thanked the executive and members for their loyal support during the year.

Other officers comprising the slate are vice-president, Mrs. Wyatt Savage; secretary, Mrs. John Leekie and treasurer, Miss Jean Miller.

During the business session the various committees gave reports on the tea held on November 26 after which the members attended the tea being held in the church hall by the Auxiliary.

BOILED WATER

The flat taste of boiled water can be avoided by pouring it from one container to another several times to renew its oxygen content.

Vamps of 20's return — to short shift

The vamp is going to make a comeback, more slinky, more sice-eyed, more fur-bearing even than when she made her last appearance back in the roaring 20s.

The vamp getup will be complete with long beads, long cigarette holders, jewelry so heavy it should be sold by the pound, face-concealing hats, pale faces and shadowed eyes. All this with no change of expression on the face — just a world-weary look from morning to night.

Well, that's what the fashion writers are predicting and from the look of the latest fashion magazines the new look, sure enough, is going to be the old vamp look making a comeback. Somehow I have a feeling that the vamp, however enthusiastically launched, isn't going to stick around very long this time.

I can't think of a single age group that is going to fit into the vamp role easily and gracefully. The teen-agers are too addicted to their sweaters and skirts, jeans and loafers, and their ardent enthusiasms to find playing the world-beating vamp anything but confining.

Young housewives are sure to feel a little silly trying to look like vamps as they car-pool kids, attend PTA meetings, shop at supermarkets and preside over their household appliances. Of course, they could go "vamp" in the evening at big parties. But can you imagine a sultry-eyed, slinky vamp sidling up to her host and hostess to say, "We simply must leave. We promised the baby sitter we would be home by midnight?"

The working girl would have to confine her "vamping" to off hours—but it would be quite a switch from crisp, clear-eyed business girl to slinky, world-weary vamp and it might prove just too much trouble.

The truth is, the American woman has become such a vital, busy, energetic, enthusiastic individual that the role of vamp may seem a bit ridiculous to her.

We'll probably buy the clanking jewelry and the heavy eye shadow and the slinky clothes and the long cigarette holders and give them a whirl. But chances are they'll soon be gathering dust as we slip back into the roles that really suit us.

Spiced prune cake

1 Cup cooked chopped prunes
3/4 cup chopped walnuts, 1/2 cup shortening, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 3/4 teaspoon cloves, 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon soda, 1/4 cup prune juice, 1/2 cup milk.

Prepare prunes and nuts, set aside. Cream shortening with sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beat well after each addition. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with liquid beating smooth after each addition. Stir in prunes and nuts. Bake in greased and floured 8 x 8 x 2-inch pan in moderate oven (350° F) 45 to 50 minutes. Cool. Frost thickly with Apple Sauce Frosting.

HONEYCOMB QUILT

Welsh honeycomb woolen quilts, knitted with the design of the wax cells of a beehive, are reputed to provide as much warmth as an eiderdown.

FIRST AND LAST — Zoo history is made with the arrival in Washington, D.C., of a two-year-old tigress named Mohanc Rewa. The extremely rare blue-eyed, white animal is the first of her type to set paw in the Western Hemisphere. She was obtained from the Maharaja of Rewa who reputedly has a corner on the animals and values them at about $10,000 each. The Indian government, disturbed by the Maharaja's action, has banned further white tiger exports. Mohanc Rewa will live at the National Zoological Park.

SHERBROOKE DAILY RECORD, MONDAY, DEC. 12, 1960 9

Rockets Edge Beavers 5-4, Vics Blank Lions 2-0

First Place At Stake This Evening In Junior Hockey League, Indians Meet Beavers, Saints Visit Maroons

First place will be at stake this evening in the Sherbrooke Junior Hockey League when the four top teams in the Dugre circuit clash at the Arena. In the first tilt of the twin-bill the Indians will visit the Beavers while in the second game it will be the St. Francis hooking up with the Maroons.

Three teams, Maroons, Indians and Beavers, are deadlocked for first place in the circuit but the Maroons and Beavers have a game in hand over the Guy Lindley squad who have played five games, winning two, tying one and dropping two. The Maroons have two wins, a loss and a tie to their credit the same with the Beavers.

The first tilt is slated to commence sharp at 7.15 while the second is booked for 9.00. Coach Pat Murphy will have his crew going all out for a victory in order to remain on top of the loop but Coach Guy Lindley will have his Indians gunning for a win.

This will be the second meeting between the Maroons and the Saints and Coach Jacques Rousseau hopes to be able to reverse the roles from their first outing against the Maroons. In the first engagement the Guy Joubert team posted a 5-1 victory in the opening game of the schedule.

The fans can expect two hard-fought games as all the four teams will be seeking victories to help them in the standing. Bishop's will not be playing until after the New Year as the University squad is at present in the middle of their Christmas exams.

Former Champion And Challenger With Long Police Record Testify At Prize Fight Probe, Liston On Carpet

WASHINGTON (AP)—A former champion whose identity has been shielded and heavy-weight title contender Sonny Liston today move into the Senate's prize fight hearings.

Investigators want to know more about the reported covery of underworld figures behind Liston, who has a lengthy police record to go with his sensational 30-1 ring record.

The Senate subcommittee inquiring into undercover skullduggery in boxing heard a St. Louis police officer testify last week that Liston's manager, Joseph (Pep) Barone of Allentown, Pa., is a mere front for mobster Frankie Carbo, Frank (Blinky) Palermo, St. Louis thug John J. Vitale and two unknown others.

Since he started boxing in 1953, the 27-year-old Liston has averaged his lone defeat and scored knockouts in 20 of his 30 victories. He is the top-rated challenger for Floyd Patterson's title.

As far as police are concerned, Liston has a record of 16 arrests in St. Louis and two major convictions on pleas of guilty. They were for robberies in 1950 and assaulting a policeman in 1956. The interest of a prison chaplain in helping Liston toward rehabilitation through boxing aided in gaining his release after two years of a five-year sentence for the holdups.

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) subcommittee chairman, said during the weekend that a "web of hoodlumism and racketeering" envelopes prize fighting. Kefauver said he will introduce legislation that would at least impose sharp penalties for splitting purses under the table or exacting tribute to obtain matches. A national authority, created by law, would be the most effective approach, he said.

Asbestos Downs Magog 4-1 In St. Francis Loop

ASBESTOS — Asbestos moved into sole possession of fourth place in the St. Francis Intermediate Hockey League here yesterday afternoon when they downed the Magog Aces 4-1.

Prior to the game three teams, Cookshire, Magog and Asbestos were deadlocked for fourth position in the standing but the first two named dropped their tilts on the Sunday program.

There was no scoring in the first period but Patry opened it on the middle session just after the half-way mark. It was the only goal of the frame. In the third stanza Champagne, Patry and Roux came up with markers before Vachon saved Magog from a shutout in the last couple minutes of play.

Paper Makers Edge Braves To Retain Top Spot

RICHMOND — Windsor Mills came up with a close 5-4 decision over Richmond Braves to keep their hold on first place in the St. Francis Valley loop Sunday before about 550 fans. The game was marked by a total of twenty-four penalties, including two majors and a misconduct. The major infractions came in the third period to Claude Major of Windsor and Paul Desmarais of Braves.

The ten-minute misconduct was given to Major for voicing his views on a call. It was hotly-contested with both clubs playing a driving game. Braves took an early lead in the first period when Pat Desrosiers scored unassisted. Spenard evened the count with Lessard earning the assist. These were the only goals of the period.

Nine penalties were handed out with Braves taking five of them. The Windsor goalie was kept busy making 11 saves while Beauchesne had only three stops.

The second frame saw only three penalties dished out but six goals were scored to put Windsor ahead 5-3. At the end of the first period, Jette and playing-coach Frank Bergeron were sitting out penalties and Braves had to play less two men for a minute and a half after the start of the second.

Houde, Asselin and Desrosiers held the fort at this time but when they returned Leblanc, Windsor, scored. The diminutive Maurice of Braves tied the game on a neat play with Jette and Smith. Leblanc got his second marker from a face-off near Beauchesne's nets to put Papermakers ahead 3-2.

Houde was serving a penalty when Braves tied the game up again at 16:29 when Jette raced the length of the ice to beat St. Laurent and make the score 3-3. Dupuis of Windsor beat Beauchesne with Audet and Leblanc getting assists.

Seventeen seconds later, Claude

Major slid one past the Richmond goalie on a neat play with Lapierre and Bachand to put Windsor ahead 5-3.

The third period was the most hectic and exciting. The parade to the penalty box started early with Brave defenceman George Asselin going off for tripping. Windsor's Spenard was next. Bergeron went off three times. Houde was sent off for high-sticking and the rough stuff started as Desmarais and Major met on the boards and started a mild scrap. Each were given majors for fighting. They were joined by Emond and Bergeron and Codere was next to earn a place in the already-stuffed sin-bin.

At this call, Major said something to the referee and was handed an additional ten minutes. Lessard then joined the 'select circle' for high-sticking. Houde snared a puck in center ice, eluded a couple of others and slipped the rubber disc past St. Laurent to keep Braves in the game.

The score was 5-4 for Papermakers and with less than two minutes to play, Bergeron yanked goalie Beauchesne out for a sixth attacker which almost worked. Braves were off the target and just couldn't tie the game. The goalies had their work cut for them in this hard-fought tilt. Braves' next tilt is for Friday night 16th when Cookshire will visit here.

Joe Lacoursiere Outstanding In Nets As Locals Bombard Him From All Angles, 2,000 On Hand In Wide-Open Tilt

Three goals at the start of the game, all tallied within two minutes and a half, was sufficient lead for the Rockets and from then on they managed to hold the lead and emerge with a close 5-4 victory over the Sherbrooke Beavers at the Arena before 2,000 fans.

Despite their poor showing the Beavers kept plugging and as the game went on they seemed to settled down and play better. C. Aubry was the top pointer-getter for the Rockets with his two goals while Gilles Boivin, Roger Gaudreau and Leon Michelin accounted for the others. For Sherbrooke Marc Bouvrette was the top marksman with two goals while Al 'Yore' and Gilles Dube registered the others.

A total of seventeen penalties were dished out by Bill Roberts of Montreal all for minor infractions. Gaudreau drew a misconduct when he swung his stick at a spectator and Drummondville drew a bench minor when Coach Poliquin spoke out of turn when the referee was giving the penalty.

Gilles Boivin got off to a flying start as the Rockets moved to attack right from the opening faceoff. Dube was in the sinbin for charging at the time. He returned but the Rockets banged two more by Andy Pratte from close range to take a 3-0 lead after two minutes and five seconds of play.

Maurice Vachon was off when Albert Moore got Sherbrooke's first tally on a passing play with Ray St. Cyr and Fortin. The Beavers kept driving and finally when Rogers and Michelin was tagged at the same time for different offences Marc Bouvrette made it 3-2 for Drummondville when he made the light go on behind Joe Lacoursiere.

Sherbrooke had good scoring chances when the Rockets had men in the cooler but they were missing right on Lacoursiere's door-step or the Drummondville goalie was coming up with big saves.

In the middle session checking was close and only one goal was registered by Gaudreau on a breakaway. Dube, St. Cyr, Moore and Rousseau had good chances but were missing in close as they kept the pressure on.

In the third period Dube came up with a nice goal when he slid the rubber under Lacoursiere for Sherbrooke's third goal. Drouin then hit the goal post on a hard shot. Dussault blew his opportunity in close as it seemed no one from Sherbrooke was on the target.

Leon Michelin got away on a long pass and coasted in to beat Andy Pratte for what proved to be the winning tally. Sherbrooke argued this one claiming it was offside but it counted. The Beavers kept driving and finally Bouvrette came up with his second with ten seconds left in the game. Coach Dube yanked his goalie but they couldn't get going before the final siren ended the game.

United States Eliminated From Davis Cup Round By Italian Duo, Drop Last Two Single Matches

PERTH, Australia (AP)—The United States missed the Davis Cup challenge round for the first time in 24 years today when Earl (Butch) Buchholz and Barry Mackay were upset in the concluding singles matches of the interzone finals by Italy's veteran pair of Nicola Pietrangeli and Orlando Sirola. The two triumphs gave Italy the series 3-2. Pietrangeli first defeated 20-year-old Buchholz of St. Louis 6-1, 6-2, 6-8, 3-6, 6-4 to square the series. Then Sirola downed the 25-year-old Mackay from Dayton, Ohio, 9-7, 6-3, 8-6.

The last time the U.S. failed to make the challenge round was 1936 when Great Britain defeated Australia. Since then the U.S. and Australia had met 16 times for the coveted trophy with the Aussies holding a 9-7 edge.

PLAY AUSSIES NEXT

Italy, in the challenge round for the first time in history, will meet Australia at Sydney Dec. 26-28.

The U.S. apparently was headed for the final round without too much trouble when Buchholz and Mackay won the two opening singles matches last week. But Pietrangeli and Sirola, veterans of ten years of cup play, whipped Buchholz and Chuck McKinley in the five-set doubles match, 3-6, 10-8, 6-4, 6-8, 6-4 and then rose to their greatest heights for today's deciding victories. Pietrangeli, who had bowled to Mackay in a heart breaking five-set match extending over two days, was favored to defeat Buchholz. But Sirola was strictly an underdog even though he had beaten Mackay the last time they met in the 1959 French championships.

It was the second time this year that Mahovich scored four markers in a game. He now has 26 goals—the league's best—and nine assists for 35 points and fourth place among the leaders.

Canadiens' Bernie Geoffrion who scored three goals and assisted on another over the week end, still leads the race with 24 goals and 25 assists for 45 points.

The leaders:

Sherbrooke Saints Edge Bury While Independents Extend Lead With Win Bell; One Game On Tap This Evening

Sherbrooke Saints posted their second win of the season Thursday night against Bury at Sherbrooke High School by a score of 36-32; the victory putting the saints in third place in the ETABA.

Independents extended their hold on first place when they strung up a 77-38 victory over Bell Friday evening at the YMCA; the win being their fourth in as many starts.

This evening, the Bell travels to Drummondville for a crack at the Clippers who have won three of their four games this year. The bell is still looking for their first victory and tonight's tilt—which starts at 8:00—may be their opportunity to break into the win bracket.

Sherbrooke Saints, coached by Jim MacKinnon, pulled a 36-32 victory out of the hat Thursday evening thanks to strong young players who turned in an excellent game against the aggressive Bury powerhouse.

The hosting Saints came up with a 19-10 lead by the halfway mark in the tilt after some fast-paced action on the part of both teams.

However, in the final half, the visitors really put on the pressure and outscored Sherbrooke 22-17. This wasn't enough to take the game and the visiting Bury club dropped their second loss of the season.

For the Saints, Mike Bryson and Mike Allatt led scoring with eight points each while Lynn Maysenholder and Jim Wray followed up with seven and six respectively. For the losing Bury team, Wayne Cook was far and away the hottest player of the night, getting a total of 22 points for his squad.

The high-flying Independents chalked up their fourth victory of the season Friday night when he dropped the Bell 77-38 in a lop-sided tilt played at the YWCA.

The first half of the tilt was the closer of the two with the Independents leading 31-21 by the halftime whistle. The Bell came through with some excellent plays in this half and kept the Independents hopping.

However, in the final 20 minutes, the visitors tore into the hosts and dumped in a total of 46 points as compared to 17 for the Bell.

Garth Smith led the power-backed Independent squad as he dropped in 30 points. Dan Patridge had a good night of it also over the faltering Bell club as he tallied 15 for his team.

H. Clarke and R. Goodhue were the top scorers for the Bell, getting 10 and nine respectively. John Evans was third on the list with seven points to his credit.

Bury: W. Cook (22), E. Chiarrelli (2), O. Anderson (2), D. Fisher (2), D. Harrison (2), B. Parsons (2), MacLeod, A. Sutherland. Total—32.

The Junior boys of the two schools played two fixtures Friday with St. Pats taking the first 19-17 while the hosts grabbed the second by a 29-22 tally.

In the Senior boys game, St. Pats stacked up an early lead in the tilt and never relinquished possession of their advantage for both halves. ## Roll Over Red Wings 6-4, 5-1 To Continue Winning Ways; Mahovlich Pots Four As Leafs Sweep Hawks Big Frank Mahovlich would have a good reason for wishing Toronto Maple Leafs could play all their National Hockey League games on weekends.

The husky, 22-year-old left winger has had phenomenal success around enemy nets this season on Saturdays and Sundays.

He scored five goals during the last weekend as the Leafs routed feared Chicago Black Hawks twice, 5-2 at home Saturday and 6-1 at Chicago Sunday. Four of them came in Sunday's game.

The goals raised Mahovlich's total for the season to 26—tops in the league—in 29 games. All but one of the goals have come during weekend games.

Montreal Canadiens also had a big weekend, defeat Detroit Red Wings twice to stretch a consecutive game-winning streak to eight. They came from behind to beat the Wings 6-4 at home Saturday and then overpowered the Detroiters 5-1 away Sunday.

New York Rangers and Boston Bruins also played back-to-back home games, Rangers winning 3-0 at Boston Saturday and tying 2-2 on home ice Sunday.

HABS WIDEN LEAD
The results upped first-place Canadiens' lead to seven points over second-place Toronto. Montreal has 40 points to Toronto's 33.

Detroit fell to third with 31 points. Chicago, winless in its last seven games, remained fourth with 27 points. Rangers are fifth with 21 and Boston has 20.

Mahovlich's four goals against the Hawks Sunday marked the second time he has been able to get that many goals in one game this season. He also had three goals in another game.

Thirteen of his 25 weekend goals have come at home on Saturdays and the rest on the road on Sundays. The only goal he has been able to get during mid-week games was against Canadiens in Montreal Dec. 1.

Bert Olmstead, George Armstrong, Eddie Shack and Dave Keon each scored once besides Mahovlich's single goal Saturday.

Olmstead fired the Leafs' other two goals Sunday while Bobby Hull scored all three weekend goals for the Hawks.

STAGE FOUR RALLIES
Canadiens came from behind four times before winning against the Red Wings Saturday.

Dickie Moore got the 200th goal of his NHL career, becoming the 32nd player in league history to do so. The goal, his 24th this season, came late in the third period on a pass from Marcel Bonin.

Bernie Geoffrion had two of Montreal's other goals while singles went to Jean Beliveau, Henri Richard and Bonin.

NHL LEADERS

Standings — Montreal, won 18, lost 7, tied 4, points 40.

Benny Paret, Winner Of His First Welterweight Title Defence, Is Eyeing Middleweight Championship

NEW YORK (AP) — Benny (Kid) Paret, winner of his first welterweight title defence, already is eyeing the middleweight title.

At least that's what is manager, Manuel Alfaro, said he had in mind after the aggressive Cuban's crowd-pleasing, unanimous decision over Argentina's Federico Thompson at Madison Square Garden and over television Saturday night.

The 23-year-old Cuban is a hot property now in the talent-scarce boxing industry. Alfaro knows it, too, and expects to throw his weight around.

The manager mentioned a battle of champions with National Boxing Association middleweight king Gene Fullmer after Garden matchmaker Teddy Brenner offered a March title fight with the winner of next Saturday's Luis Rodriguez-Emile Griffith clash. Rodriguez, another Cuban, is unbeaten and the No. 1 contender. Griffith is ranked fourth.

"What's the rush with them?" said Alfaro. "We'd like three or four non-title fights first, and then maybe a shot at middleweight champion Gene Fullmer. We've also got offers from London, Spain, Japan and Italy that I'd like to look into."

Paret, at 147 pounds, was sharp and fast Saturday. He swarmed all over his 32-year-old, 145½ pound foe with a two-fisted attack that seldom left Thompson with enough punching room to exert all his power. There were no knockdowns.

The Cuban was a 6-5 favorite. He has a 33-7-3 record. Thompson's three-year unbeaten streak was snapped at 32. His record is 100-8-9.

He's a citizen-soldier serving in The Canadian Army
