Red Cross Blitz Campaign Set For June 14th

The date for the Red Cross Blitz Campaign has now been set for June 14th between 1 and 5 p.m. Headquarters will be the Legion Hall, on Fairview Road and any contributions can be made there between those hours.

Meantime canvassers are going out from now on and will be calling at various homes throughout the area to pick up contributions. Contributions may also be sent to either one of the following: Mrs. Cole, Mrs. Lawrence McCallum and Mrs. Payne of Huntingdon. All canvassers will report to the Legion Hall, on June 14th between 1 and 5 p.m. to hand in their collections and have totals, etc checked. The campaign will close at that time and be final.

We suggest that the people in the area when the canvasser calls to give generously to the campaign, as there can be no calling back. If you do miss the canvasser then you can send your contribution to one of the ladies mentioned above, or you may call at the Legion Hall between the hours of 1 to 5 p.m. on June 14th and make your contribution personally.

The recently held Blood Donor Clinic was a great success, now try and make this Blitz Campaign another success. It can be done, it just means making the effort.

Receives Long-Distance Phone Call From Earl Mountbatten

Arnold McNaughton, Hemmingford, and LaSalle, was the surprised recipient of a long distance phone call from the uncle of The Duke of Edinburgh on May 20th. The Earl Mountbatten, who is perhaps better known as Lord Louis Mountbatten, had been approached by McNaughton for a request to write a Forward for the forthcoming publication of "The Book of Kings" a massive genealogy of some 12 to 15,000 names of descendants of George I or Great Britain now under consideration by the London publishing firm of Hutchinson.

Athough Mountbatten has made it a practice to not write Forwards he felt that this work was something exceptional and that the rule would be broken at this time but in order to write the Forward he would have to consult H.M. The Queen for permission. A copy of the Book of Kings was mailed recently to the Earl Mountbatten and this copy he will be taken before The Queen and The Duke of Edinburgh. He also requested of McNaughton that a copy of his work (there are seven copies presently compiled by the author) be sent to H.M. the Queen as she would be most interested and pleased to have this. The Earl Mountbatten is presently in Ottawa and took time from a very busy schedule to get in contact with McNaughton."

CAR OWNERS EAGER FOR CHECK-UPS

"It is evident all over North American that automobile owners are anxious to have their vehicles in safe operating condition," according to James Vernon, Brampton, Ontario, a member of the Canadian Highway Safety Council's vehicle safety committee. Communications managers of American Motors Canada Ltd., Mr. Vernon pointed to the highly successful annual car-check program in the United States and the annual April-May car-check drive in Canada, sponsored by the Canadian Highway Safety Council. He also referred to the long lines of vehicles that attend voluntary vehicle check lanes wherever they are set up.

"Vancouver", Mr. Vernon said, "is the only place in Canada where periodic re-examination of motor vehicles is compulsory, and it has been an extremely successful operation there for more than a quarter of a century" He saw provincial and municipal authorities becoming more aware of the need for such a program, convinced, in most instances, by the impressive drawing power of voluntary check lanes.

"If every motor vehicle in Canada were checked regularly, the road accident rate would drop significantly," Mr Vernon said.

He urged every motorist to have his vehicle thoroughly examined by trained experts before the end of May.

C.G.I.T. 50th Anniversary

The C.G.I.T. of St. Andrew's Church closed their year's work with a special gathering. It was held in the Church Annex on Monday evening, May 17.

For this banquet the girls invited their parents to share the festivities. The guests were seated at a large L-shaped table decorated with seasonal flowers and laden with food. A beautiful anniversary cake, along with other cakes, was served with ice cream for dessert.

Many toasts were proposed. Rev. McMichen spoke briefly of the C.G.I.T. and its place in a church organization.

He expressed his gratitude to the leaders and girls for all that they had done and congratulated them on their success. He encouraged them to return next Fall with a greater desire to uphold the traditions of the organization.

Two graduation pins were presented to Misses Louise Ottney and Roberta Middlemiss by Mrs. Ottney.

One had been sent to Miss Patricia McCaig, who is also a graduate.

Miss Merlene Smith presented Mrs. Ethel Smellie with a gift in appreciation for her generous assistance on so many occasions.

Mrs. Gladys Reid, who was unable to attend the gathering was also remembered with a gift as a token of thanks for all her work in connection with the "Mission Study and other studies" which had been completed.

Mrs. Ottney gave a resumé of the year's work and thanked the parents and everyone who helped, for their co-operation and assistance during the year.

Holiday Weekend Fairly Free Of Accidents In This Area

This area was quite free of accidents over the long weekend and the police are particularly happy about it. They hope they can have the summer kept free of accidents and all measures of prevention will be used to keep it that way. It is reported that traffic on No. 3 Highway was particularly heavy on Sunday and Monday and extra police cars patrolled this Highway to keep close check.

However, our circulation area was not entirely free from accidents and one which happened near St. Chrysostome on Sunday night claimed the life of one person.

Andre Barbeau, 43 years old, of St. Clothilde was driving his 1953 Pontiac near St. Chrysostome when he lost control of the car and struck a tree. The accident occurred at about 10 p.m. Provincial Police at St. Martine were notified and the man was removed to the Barrie Memorial Hospital at Ormstown. First aid was rendered at this point and he was transferred to the Montreal General Hospital. Some time after arrival there, the man died.

He had been alone in the car and the car hit the tree with the right side front. The car was a complete loss.

Accident Rate In Quebec Makes Insurance Premiums Higher

Quebec motor vehicles — trucks and private passenger cars — had 8,545 more accidents in 1964 than vehicles in Ontario, although Ontario had almost 1,000,000 more vehicles on its roads. Henry Findlay, Secretary and Assistant Counsel of All Canada Insurance Federation, said at the annual meeting of Prudentia at Quebec this month.

Mr. Findlay used official government figures to show that 1,498,250 vehicles had 119,777 accidents in Quebec last year, although 2,471,500 vehicles had only 111,232 accidents in Ontario.

As the total accident bill was higher in Quebec and at the same time had to be spread over one million fewer vehicles it is obvious that the cost-per-vehicle of all accidents in Quebec had to be much higher than in Ontario", said the insurance association executive. "That is why insurance costs in Quebec have to be higher than in Ontario".

If you take the total cost of all accidents in Quebec and spread it over all the vehicles in Quebec, then take the total cost of all accidents spread over all vehicles in Ontario, you readily find that the Quebec vehicles bear an accident load which is 75% higher than the Ontario load".

Mr. Findlay also compared the 119,777 accidents to Quebec's 1,498,250 vehicles with the 15,758 accidents in which Saskatchewan's 397,500 vehicles were involved and showed that 7.99 vehicles out of every 100 in Quebec had accidents last year while in Saskatchewan the rate was 3.97 out of every 100.

"More than double the accident rate in Quebec as compared with Saskatchewan and yet some people claim the insurance cost in Quebec should be the same as in Saskatchewan," he remarked.

Trouble Brewing In Catholic Regional School Circles

High ranking officials of the Salaberry (Catholic) Regional School Commission have recently sent in their resignations to the Regional School Commissioners following a decision that the latter took at a meeting held not to re-hire Mr. Laurent Guay as Principal of the Edgar Hebert Secondary School in Valleyfield, for the year 1965-66.

Mr. Guay has received a registered letter dated May 13, informing him of the Regional School Commissioners' decision to relieve him from his present duties as of the end of this academic year, July 1st. According to law, the commissioners can make a decision of this nature before May 31, every year.

The letter gives no explanation to Mr. Guay. But there again, the commissioners stand on legal grounds, the law specifying that they may abstain if they wish from any comment, should they wish to discharge a teacher or a director of a school provided that he has been working for the said body less than two years. Since the Salaberry Regional School Commission was founded last year, it is not necessary for its members to explain their action.

There are growing rumors however that this decision by the commissioners is the result of a disagreement which occured between the parties concerned a few months ago, and was centred around the dismissing of a student and the terms of his re-admission to the Hebert School.

Explanations will no doubt come, because this action has made Mr. Guay's immediate superior, Mr. Maurice Marleau, Director of Studies for the Regional, announce his resignation. As a result, a chain reaction got underway last week, and four high-ranked educators announced that they will leave their post at the end of the present term. They are, Mr. Alphonse Caron, assistant director of studies at the Regional (he had been appointed only a few weeks ago), Mr. Florian Tardif, Principal of the St. Joseph Secondary School in Huntingdon, Miss Marie Paule Goyette, Principal of the Ste. Cecile Secondary School in Valleyfield, and Mr. Bernard Quesnay, Educational Councillor at the Salaberry Regional School Commission.

In well informed circles, it is believed that other resignations will follow shortly.

The many resignations have attracted attention on a provincial scale, the Montreal daily La Presse reporting on this last week.

Presbyterian Young People Hold Paper Drive

One of the most successful paper drives ever sponsored by the Y.P.S. was held in Ormstown, on Saturday. The young people came out in force and they sincerely hope they did not miss anyone. Two huge truck loads of paper will soon be on the way to the buyer in Montreal. Some of the more knowledgeable older boys estimate that more than a ton of paper was collected.

The members of the Y.P.S. take this opportunity to thank all who so kindly co-operated by placing papers on the curb and especially to all those who tied papers and magazines in bundles. The handling was much easier this year.

Mr. Merrill Tannahill kindly put two of his trucks at the disposal of the group and also allowed the young folks to use his riverside property for a weiner roast during the evening.

Constable Goyette was present to give a talk on safety to the children and several others gave of their time to instruct the 22 (under twelve years) children to get their O.H.S. Safety Pennants.

Cattle Being Imported From France Direct To This Country For First Time

OTTAWA — Permits have been issued to 67 Canadian cattlemen for importing 124 pure blood line cattle from France, it was announced today.

It is understood most of the cattle are Charolais. Owners will take delivery next spring and it will be the first time that Charolais have been brought direct to this country from Europe.

Foot-and-mouth disease prevented this in the past.

Improved testing techniques for disease, together with rigorous safeguards — including establishment of a new federal livestock quarantine station on Grosse Ile, about 40 miles below Quebec City — now allow entry of livestock from certain previously prohibited areas of Europe.

At the beginning of September, the 124 cattle will enter a month-long quarantine at Brest, France, where they will undergo a series of health tests. All cattle delivered to the Brest station must also have been tested and certified as to health within the previous 30 days.

After the overseas isolation period, the cattle will arrive in one shipment at Grosse Ile late in October. They will be held there for a minimum of three months and subjected to another series of health tests. Slaughter of all animals is mandatory if one of them shows symptoms of foot-and-mouth disease.

Navigation on the St. Lawrence River likely will be closed for the winter by the time the lengthy testing and quarantine procedures are completed. In this case, the cattle will remain on the island until shipping resumes in the spring.

On release from Grosse Ile, the cattle and any offspring will be added to the purchasers' herds and all herds involved will be quarantined for three months. During this time, they will be inspected regularly by federal veterinarians.

Canada Department of Agriculture officials say the demand for permits far exceeded the quarantine capacity at Grosse Ile. Of the 124 cattle, four will go to British Columbia, 55 to Alberta, 34 to Saskatchewan, six to Manitoba, 16 to Ontario, and nine to Quebec.

A federal veterinarian will be assigned to inspect the farms in France from which the cattle originate. He will stay with them during the quarantine period at Brest, accompany them to Canada, and maintain a watchful eye during the quarantine at Grosse Ile.

Surveys To Be Carried Out In St. Regis Indian Reserve

OTTAWA — The Surveys and Mapping Branch of the Federal Department of Mines and Technical Surveys, is carrying out legal surveys in the south shore area of Quebec this year as part of its summer program. A survey party headed by D. Andre Tetreault, Quebec Land Surveyor, began work in the area on May 17th.

Purpose of the project is to assist the Indian Affairs Branch of the Department of Citizenship and Immigration in the administration and disposition of Indian Lands, and the Parks Branch of the Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources in the administration of Park Lands, in Quebec.

Specifically, the work consists of the survey of boundaries and holdings in a portion of St. Regis Indian Reserve near Huntingdon; and, the survey of Ft. Lennox National Historic Park on Isle aux Noix in the Richelieu River near Rouses Point, New York.

Project is one of many being carried out by the Surveys and Mapping Branch this year in all of Canada's 10 provinces, the Yukon and Northwest Territories.

Fire Sunday

At about 5 p.m. on Sunday, the firemen were called to a barn at 98 Lake Street, and owned by A. C. H. Picard where some hay was stored and it is reported some children playing with matches had set on fire. When the firemen arrived however neighbours had put out the fire which was in some of the bales of hay and no damage had resulted. The firemen made a check and pulled out a few bales of hay to make sure there was no danger of further outbreak.

FORT LEE AFS, VA. — A retired Air Force enlisted man had to wait nearly two years to receive an award which he helped his unit receive while on active duty, but he was presented his framed certificate in a belated ceremony recently.

James A. McGugan, whose sister, Mrs. James Manning, lives at Franklin Centre, received his award from Lt. Col. Carter H. Cowan who was squadron commander when McGugan retired and serves in the same capacity now.

McGugan served as first sergeant of the 4638th Support Squadron here in 1963 when the unit received the Air Force's Outstanding Unit Award. An overseas assignment by Colonel Cowan took place after McGugan turned in his Air Force blues for a civilian uniform. It was upon Col. Cowan's return he learned of the oversight from the former first sergeant.

McGugan, who retired from the Air Force in October of 1963, just prior to the presentation of the outstanding unit awards at Washington Air Defense Sector (ADC) headquarters here, has settled in Petersburg and lives at 939 Custer Street.

Alister Somerville, M.P.P., Praised By Premier Lesage For Promoting Harmony

Premier Jean Lesage yesterday held up this province as an example of racial harmony for the rest of the country.

The Premier was speaking during traditional birthday greetings to an English-speaking member of the Legislative Assembly, Alister Somerville (NU — Huntingdon).

"The Scots and the Irish and the English have, here in the province, done a great deal to show to the others in Canada what can be done," he said.

"And I am sure that the member for Huntingdon is an example of what can be done by a man who enjoys the full rights of a minority by mixing himself with the majority to understand its aspirations.

"On that score he certainly is an example that could be followed not only outside the province of Quebec but by, unhappily, certain examples that still exist, alas, in the Province of Quebec itself and especially in Montreal."

Mr. Somerville in his reply to greetings from the Premier and Opposition Leader Daniel Johnson agreed.

"I believe that a lot can be done to promote . . . . . better understanding between the two races of people," he said.

BE SEEN, BE SAFE

"Everyone should know the value of clean, correctly-focused headlights for use in rain, fog and after dark," stated Owen C. Good, Toronto, of the Canadian Highway Safety Council's vehicle safety committee. Mr. Good, director of accident prevention for the British American Oil Co., advised, "Never drive with parking lights. They are ineffective and illegal." He said there was plenty of reserve power and little danger of running down the battery by using headlights while driving.

Referring to the Council's April-May car-check campaign, Mr. Good said, "Use the headlights to be seen and to see. Another driver is less likely to hit your car if he sees you in time. Keep a check on all lights by frequent inspection — headlights, high and low beam; tail lights, stop and brake lights, and turn signals."

Married at Rennie's United Church

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in Rennies United Church, on May 15th, 1965, at two o'clock, when Joyce Bertha Dear, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Harold S. Steele, Rockburn, became the bride of William Baxter Lindsay. Rev. David M. Lockhead officiating at the double ring ceremony.

Her long sleeves came to a point over the hands with buttons at wrist, worn with a bouffant tulle illusion veil held in place by a crown of sequins and simulated pearls. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. She wore a single strand of pearls, the gift of the groom.

Mr. James Massey, organist played the wedding music and Mrs. Osburn Pringle sang "O Perfect Love", during the signing of the register. Baskets of white and pink gladioli and white and yellow carnations were used to decorate the church.

Mrs. Richard Maynard, sister of the bride, as Matron-of-Honor, was dressed in a yellow sheer chiffon over taffeta bouffant skirt, short sleeves and scoop neckline. Her headdress was a large yellow flower with small veil and shoes to match. She carried a cascade of aqua carnations. Little Miss Donna and Darlene Steele, twin sisters of the bride, were flower girls. They were dressed alike in pale blue terylene batiste, peter pan collars, lace frosted bodies with lace trimmed long sleeves. The pale blue headpieces matched the Matron's of Honor, they carried baskets of pink carnations.

Mr. Gordon Lindsay, brother of the groom was best man. Mr. Ernest Lindsay and Mr. Larry Dear acted as ushers.

Mrs. Harold S. Steele, mother of the bride, was in a powder blue, lace jacket dress with matching accessories and had a corsage of pink carnations.

With the marginal notation that "It could happen here," a reader forwards a clipping about the Washington administration's War on Poverty.

"From the directing side," says the Wall Street Journal, the war on poverty seems to be succeeding splendidly. The director of the antipoverty program in Paterson, N.J., is drawing $18,500 annually, which is about $1,000 more than the city's mayor is paid in Newark, N.J., there are two dozen program staff members being paid from $10,000 to $23,000 yearly. The New Jersey state director gets $25,000. The local Washington, D.C., director also gets $25,000, the same amount being paid annually to two of the three District Commissioners who run the whole capital city. Of the $74,000 given to Gum Spring, Va., to fight poverty for a year, $54,000 is going for staff salaries."

And it is an absolutely safe bet that the big salaries are going to persons who are of the same politics as the party in power.

Emphase sur le besoin de nouvelles facilités à la dernière assemblée de l'hôpital du Comté de Huntingdon

L'assemblée annuelle de l'Hôpital du Comté de Huntingdon avait lieu en l'édifice du comté récemment en présence de bon nombre de personnes.

Les minutes de la dernière assemblée annuelle furent lues et approuvées.

M. Gilbert MacMillan, Président, adressa alors la parole; voici le texte de son allocution:

"Il me fait plaisir une fois de plus de vous accueillir au nom des Gouverneurs à notre assemblée annuelle et de passer en revue brièvement les activités de notre hôpital en 1964.

Il s'agissait de notre 4ème année d'expérience avec le plan d'assurance hospitalisation provincial. et nous avons maintenant une bonne idée de la demande des services d'hospitalisation pour la région que nous desservons, dans des conditions normales de santé.

Pour l'année écoulée au 31 décembre 1964, 976 patients, dont les nouveaux-nés, ont reçu des soins à l'hôpital. Ceci indique clairement que nous satisfaisions un besoin très défini dans cette région. Les gens de demandent pas à être admis dans un hôpital à moins de n'avoir un réel besoin de ses services, et sans cette institution, où iraient ces gens?

Examinez attentivement notre position géographique, et vous verrez un triangle entre le fleuve St-Laurent et la frontière américaine, les seuls hôpitaux existant à distance raisonnable opérant déjà à pleine capacité. Pensez à la différence qu'il y a pour les malades et leurs proches de pouvoir compter sur des services d'un hôpital qui ne les éloigne pas trop les uns des autres, plutôt que de se trouver peut-être à 50 milles de distance. Les Gouverneurs ont constamment à coeur d'éviter que pareille situation ne devienne fait accompli ici.

Aucune mesure d'importance ne peut être prise en vue d'obtenir un autre hôpital sans l'autorisation de Québec.

Dans le but d'obtenir l'autorisation et le support du Gouvernement pour un nouvel hôpital, une délégation des Gouverneurs se rendait récemment à Québec pour obtenir une entrevue avec le Ministre de la Santé. Les délégués étaient le Dr McCrimmon, M. L. A. Sanderson et M Kenneth Fraser.

On présenta des faits et des chiffres à l'appui, lesquels seront pris en considération par les autorités, après quoi on s'attend à d'autres rencontres

Le Sous-Ministre indiqua clairement cependant qu'une condition essentielle à une réponse favorable est un support financier local substantiel

L'installation de facilités locales modernes et adéquates dépend donc de l'autorisation du Gouvernement. en partie de son aide financière, mais surtout, de la volonté des citoyens, hommes d'affaires et institutions de la région d'apporter une aide financière généreuse.

Le fait que cet hôpital n'ait pas à faire face à de grosses dettes, et qu'elle soit bien administrée, nous permet de terminer une autre année avec un bilan presqu'égal.

Ceci est dû toutefois aux dons que nous recevons de nos amis, auxquels nous vouons d'ailleurs adresser nos sincères remerciements. Nous réservons parmi ce groupe une place particulière aux Dames Auxiliaires, qui en plus de nous accorder une aide financière, nous rendent un grand service, de bien des façons, tout au long de l'année.

Il est aussi très encourageant pour nous de pouvoir affirmer que nos relations avec nos patients et le public en général continuent dêtre extrêmement bonnes.

A plusieurs occasions, des patients de l'extérieur m'ont témoigné leur appréciation des soins reçus dans notre hôpital ici.

Ceci est en grande partie dû au dévouement et à la compétence du personnel que nous avons pu maintenir; dans ce domaine, nous pouvons dire que avons été très choyés. Nous devons souligner que plusieurs anciens membres de notre personnel ont établi leur demeure ici et sont prêts à offrir leurs services si le besoin s'en fait sentir.

En terminant. j'aimerais dire ceci, et ici je suis certain de parler pour tous des Gouverneurs, c'est que nous sommes très reconnaissants du loyal soutien que nous accordent nos médecins et notre personnel."

Le Directeur Médical, le Dr F. G. McCrimmon, donna alors son rapport.

"Je donnerai d'abord les statistiques des opérations de l'hôpital en 1964 (sa 21ème année) en comparaison avec les chiffres des trois années précédentes.

L'hôpital a pendant 21 ans permis à trois médecins de donner des soins médicaux a-

En 1964 il y a eu une légère diminution dans les admissions par rapport à 1963. soit de 66 ou de 5.37%. Cette diminution est en grande partie, sinon totalement, attribuable au fait que le Dr Lefebvre dut laisser presque toute sa pratique pendant près de 5 mois le printemps et l'été passés et que ses patients furent traités par des médecins de centres voisins qui, naturellement, les envoyèrent à leurs propres hôpitaux quand la chose s'avérait nécessaire.

Malgré cette baisse dans les admissions, les jours d'hospitalisation de même que le pourcentage d'admission ont augmenté. Ceci est dû en grande partie aux nombreux cas de trombose coronaire (attaque du coeur) que nous avons eus, et qui nécessitèrent des périodes d'hospitalisation prolongées.

Il est à noter cependant que, quoique le pourcentage d'occupation du premier plancher soit quelque peu moindre que 80%, ce qui est généralement considéré comme une situation requérant plus de lits. nous avons dû à plusieurs occasions durant l'année envoyer des cas à d'autres hôpitaux à cause du manque de lits. L'absence d'un élévateur et le fait que le département de la maternité soit logé au deuxième plancher limitent en quelque sorte le genre de cas que l'on peut y accomoder, et l'endroit ne peut que rarement être utilisé pour soulager le plein du premier plancher, même s'il arrive qu'on y trouve des lits vides. Le pourcentage d'occupation du deuxième plancher est beaucoup plus bas que celui du premier. Ceci a pour effet de diminuer considérablement le pourcentage d'occupation dans son ensemble mais ces chiffres ne donnent pas une idée juste de la disponibilité des lits.

Tout comme je l'avis affirmé l'an passé, je ne crois pas que les services internes de l'hôpital puissent être étendus du tout tant que nous travailleront dans les cadres présents. On vous a surement signalé déjà les déficiences de notre installation matérielle tout spécialement en ce qui concerne la vieille bâtisse.

Comme M. McMillan vous l'a dit, une délégation s'est rendue à Québec et a fait une application officielle auprès du Gouvernement pour un nouvel hôpital. Nous espérons obtenir une réponse favorable d'ici deux mois.

Adéquats à toute la partie ouest du comté de Huntingdon. Sans l'hôpital il faudrait au moins six médecins pour dispenser une partie élémentaire des soins médicaux donnés présentement, même si les cas d'obstétrique seraient probablement confiés à des hôpitaux voisins. Il y a actuellement un centres ruraux, et il n'y a aucune raison d'espérer que cette situation change dans un sérieux manque de médecins prêts à travailler dans les avenir rapproché. Un hôpital, dans un centre comme le nôtre, n'est donc pas un luxe mais une nécessité absolue . . .

Comme je l'avais aussi souligné l'an passé, notre Département Externe de Chirurgie prend une large part dans le travail de l'hôpital. On constate une augmentation de 21.6% par rapport à 1963 dans le nombre des cas s'y rat- représente environ 10% du revenu total re l'hôpital. Notre achant. Notre revenu externe travail de laboratoire a également augmenté de 60% sur 1963. De ce chiffre, 15% était pour des cas externes.

J'aimerais remercier de la part du personnel médical tous ceux qui ont contribué au succès des opérations de l'hôpital; les Gouverneurs remplis l'esprit civique, les Dames Auxiliaires, les généreux donateurs d'argent et de services et tout le personnel de l'hôpital".

Mme D. Hawley, Matrone poursuivit avec son rapport.

"Il me fait plaisir de don Suite à la semaine prochaine. ier le rapport suivant pour 1964.

En parcourant nos records je crois justifié de dire que nous avons eu une année très remplie. Nos jours d'hospitalisation montrent une nette augmentation, notre département des patients externes continue de bourdonner d'activité, comme le savent tous ceux qui ont dû s'assoir dans le corridor et attendre leur traitement. A la différence de la plupart des hôpitaux où ce département est entièrement séparé des autres, le nôtre fait partie des fonctions régulières de l'hôpital et est desservi par le personnel régulier d'infirmières.

Nous espérions toujours que nous aurons dans un avenir pas trop éloigné un nouvel hôpital, mais entre-temps nous essayons de garder la vieille bâtisse aussi présentable que possible. Les corridors du sous-sol et du premier plancher, de même que la salle à dîner du personnel ont été fraîchement peinturés. On a recouvert de tuile les planchers de la salle des cas et du sous-sol, ce qui a amélioré considérablement l'apparence de ces endroits.

On a dressé enormément de plans pour rendre la cuisine plus fonctionnelle. Du nouvel équipement est ce dont nous avons le plus besoin présentement, et les Dames Auxiliaires ont gracieusement consenti à nous l'acheter. Pour que ce nouvel équipement soit installé de manière à rendre plus efficace toute l'opération de préparation des repas, du service et du lavage de vaisselle, il sera nécessaire d'apporter quelques changements à l'installation actuelle.

On nous a soumis des plans déjà, mais nous n'avons pu en venir à une décision quant à celui qui répondrait le mieux à nos besoins.

Nos changements dans le personnel ont été légèrement plus hauts en 1964 mais heureusement nous avons pu obtenir du remplacement, et avec l'aide du personnel à temps partiel, nous avons fait notre possible pour maintenir nos soins d'infirmières à un haut standard.

Il me fait extrêmement plaisir une fois de plus de remercier les Dames Auxiliaires de leurs efforts continuels et de leurs généreux dons. Nous avons été désolés de perdre notre préposée à la couture, Mme Galipeau, mais heureusement nous avons pu obtenir les services de Mme Mayall. Mes sincères remerciements aux groupes de couture, qui donnent si généreusement de leur temps, et aux dames qui participent à l'opération du comptoir ambulant, un service qui est très apprécié des patients.

En conclusion, j'aimerais remercier notre Président, M MacMillan, les membres du bureau, le personnel des médecins et le personnel de l'hôpital pour la coopération et le soutien qu'ils m'ont accordés au cours de l'année".

M. Harold Bickford, Trésorier du Bureau des Gouverneurs, lut alors le bilan de l'année qui s'établit comme suit:

Le rapport du comité de l'édifice fut présenté par M. L. A. Sanderson de la part de M. Charles J. Kyle, Président.

"Au nom du comité de l'édifice de l'Hôpital du Comté de Huntingdon, j'aimerais rapporter que les travaux suivants ont été faits: installation d'alarme contre l'incendie; réparations et améliorations aux sorties de feu de la résidence des infirmières, installation d'une porte contre le feu dans le sous-sol; examen du boyau d'arrosage, remplacement ou réparation selon le cas; dessus d'armoires en acier inoxydable installés dans la salle d'utilité et la poubonnière; nouvelles portes tout acier et asbestos dans la chambre des fournaises; tuiles posées dans le sous-sol; différentes réparations mineures aux escaliers, portes etc.; réparation d'une chambre de bain; chambre de bain plastrée au 3ème plancher; peinture dans les salles du bas dans la salle de Raqons-X dans la salle à manger des infirmières, dans la salle auto clave et dans la salle des médecins.

Le coût total des différentes réparations et améliorations apportées s'élève à $1,875. De plus, un électricien a inspecté tout notre système électrique et y a apporté les cangements nécessaires, de façon à rendre notre système des plus sûrs et à rencontrer les exigences du Gouvernement. Nous avons aussi installé des lumières fluorescentes dans le hall principal, la salle d'urgence et la salle des cas. Le coût estimé de ces travaux sera d'environ $750."

Mme Gordon McLean déposa le rapport des Dames Auxiliaires de l'hôpital. Mme McLean mentionna que depuis la parution du rapport, les Dames Auxiliaires avaient pris des abbonnements a la Gazette de Montréal et à La Presse; ces journaux seront distribués chaque jour à l'hôpital pour l'usage des patients.

Les rapports précédents furent tous acceptés tels que lus.

Pierre Quenneville fut à nouveau nommé auditeur, aux mêmes conditions, pour une autre année.

L'élection de cinq Gouverneurs était l'item suivant à l'agenda. Les Gouverneurs se retirant étaient: K. Fraser, R. W. Rowat, A. Sommerville, Mme Mac O'Connor et G. MacMillan. Après fermeture des nominations, furent élus: K. Fraser, R. W. Rowat, G. MacMillan, Mme G. McLean et H. Primeau. Ils furent tous élus pour un terme de cinq ans.

Suivirent d'autres nominations pour remplacer les Gouverneurs ayant encore un an pour compléter leur terme mais ayant demandé d'être remplacés; il s'agissait de Mme Gordon McHardy et de M. E. Watterson. Furent élus pour les remplacer, MM. Jon Proudfoot et Wallace Rennie.

Le Dr. McCrimmon remercia les Gouverneurs sortis de charge pour leurs nombreuses années de dévouement à la cause de l'hôpital et proposa que chacun d'eux soient nommés Gouverneurs Honoraires à vie de l'Hôpital. M. F. Cleyn fit aussi part de son appréciation des services qu'ils ont rendus. M. Watterson exprima ses remerciements de la part du groupe pour l'honneur conféré.

En rapport avec l'élection des Officiers du Bureau des Gouverneurs, M. Watterson demanda de n'être pas réélu à la présidence pour une autre année. On respecta sa demande et M. L. A. Sanderson fut élu à la présidence pour la prochaine année. M. R. W. Rowat fut nommé Vice-Président, M. H. Bickford, trésorier, et M. Rowat garda aussi son poste de Secrétaire.

M. Cleyn remercia M. MacMillan pour ses nombreuses années à la présidence du Bureau des Gouverneurs et mentionna qu'il était heureux que M. MacMillan demeure Gouverneur. M. Rowat remercia aussi M. MacMillan.

En considération de ses nombreuses années de dévouement, M. MacMillan fut nommé Président Honoraire à vie des Gouverneurs.

M. MacMillan remercia tous et chacun de cet honneur et mentionna qu'il prendrait toujours à coeur les intérêts de l'hôpital et de ses affaires.

M. Sanderson pour sa part remercia les personnes présentes de l'avoir élu à la présidence et s'engagea à consacrer tous ses efforts à l'hôpital. Il mentionna aussi qu'un nouvel hôpital est la question de l'heure présentement et qu'une délégation s'était rendue à Québec à ce sujet. M. Sanderson croit qu'il est possible d'obtenir un nouvel hôpital, à la condition cependant que les gens soient prêts à contribuer généreusement à cette cause. Il est possible qu'an sache d'ici deux mois si le Gouvernement accordera la permission.

Pélerinage à Marie Reine des Coeurs samedi dernier

Samedi dernier, Mme Ernest Leboeuf dirigeait un groupe de Dames de Ste-Anne et quelques messieurs en pèlerinage à la magnifique chapelle Marie-Reine des Coeurs, Montréal.

Durant le parcours, Mlles Lucie Leboeuf et Marie-Paule Fournier chantèrent de jolis cantiques à la Ste-Vierge, auxquels tous répondirent avec enthousiasme. Nous avons prié pour tous les gens de notre paroisse sans oublier nos prêtres, en particulier Mgr J. A. David qui célébrait le jour même son 77ème anniversaire de naissance et notre nouveau vicaire, H. Lavigne, présentement hospitalisé.

Nous avons été accueillis par le Rév. Père J.G. Alain (Montfortain) qui nous a fait connaitre tout le Centre Marial Montfortain.

Nous avions une messe à 11 heures avec Action de Grâce prêchée; ce fut ensuite le dîner. De retour au centre pour le rosaire prêché par le Rév. Père Alain suivi de la bénédiction du St-Sacrement.

La journée sembla se passer comme une heure.

Et nous sommes revenus le coeur rempli de joie, espérant que la Sainte Vierge nous exaucera.

Rallye Guide 1965

Samedi dernier le 22 mai avait lieu le Rallye annuel des Guides du diocèse de Valleyfield.

Grâce à la coopération de tous, cette rencontre fut un grand succès, tant au point de vue nombre, plus de trois cents guides, ainées, guides et jeannettes, qu'au point de vue esprit de fraternité.

Dès dix heures et demie les membres se réunissaient dans l'église St-Clément de Beauharnois pour entendre la proclamation de la parole de Dieu et participer en grand nombre à la fraction du pain eucharistique distribué à son troupeau par Mgr Percival Caza, administrateur apostolique.

La messe terminée, toutes les compagnies se groupèrent dans la salle de l'école secondaire St-Clément pour partager avec leurs invités d'honneur, un frugal repas. avec grand coeur. . .!!!

Le "banquet" terminé, les guides du diocèse de Valleyfield, par leur commissaire diocèsaine, Mlle Marthe Beaudin, remirent à Mlle Marie-Paule Goyette, au nom du "Mouvement Guide Catholique du Canada", une décoration d'honneur au mérite et lui offrirent une gerbe de fleurs. Une assistante de la première compagnie lut une adresse à Madame Marc-Y. Trépanier, ex-commissaire diocésaine, en reconnaissance des quatre années de service à ce poste; deux guides portèrent à leur ancienne commissaire une assiette décorative en cuivre repoussé, avec très fle guide à l'intérieur accompagnée d'une corbeille de fleurs.

Les décorations remises, les invités d'honneur Mgr P. Caza, Mgr Dominique Julien, curé de St-Clément, Mgr Lucien Beauchamp, recteur du Séminaire et aumônier honoraire diocésain, Madame Marc-Y. Trépanier, Mlle M. Paule Goyette, Madame Raphael Bourgie assistante secrétaire diocésaine, Mlle Marie-Marthe Ménard, commissaire régionale, Mlle Marthe Beaudin, commissaire diocésaine, Monsieur l'abbé Gilles Daoust, aumônier diocésain, Mlle Andréa Poissant, commissaire à la branche guide, Mlles Gisèle Arsenault et Mireille Pilon, responsables des jeannettes.

Aumôniers, cheftaines, assistantes, guides et jeannettes se dirigèrent à l'extérieur vers la cour du collège, où Mgr Caza alluma le flambeau des compétitions sportives qui durèrent jusqu'à la fin de l'après-midi.

Selon la coutume guide, la chaine de l'amitié, réunit pour une dernière fois les chefs et les membres en gage d'unité d'esprit et d'action au service du diocèse.

Tous remercient les autorités paroissiales et les guides de Beauharnois à qui le guidisme diocésain doit en très grande part le succès éclatant du Rallye 1965.

Les travaux d'amélioration au système d'eau sur le point de débuter

Une assemblée spéciale du Conseil de la Ville de Huntingdon avait lieu mardi le 18 mai en l'édifice du Comté, sous la présidence du Maire Léo Cappiello et en présence de tous les membres, afin de procéder à l'ouverture des soumissions pour les travaux de conduits d'eau en marge du règlement d'amélioration du système d'eau.

Six soumissions furent reçues et ouvertes:

J.P. & R. Legault Enr., Pointe-Claire, $29,863.00.

Civil Construction, Corp., Montréal, $32,450.00.

Gérald Théorêt, Beauharnois, $29,239.35.

Lecompte & Frères, Valleyfield, $27,476.36.

Luji Enterprises Ltd., Montreal, $34,066.50.

J.R. Caza & Frères, St-Anicet, $40,500.00.

Le conseil préféra garder les soumissions une semaine pour étude, après quoi il rendra une décision.

Les soumissions pour l'agrandissement de l'usine de filtration elle-même seront ouvertes à une assemblée spéciale le 26 mai.

On sait par ailleurs qu'il avait été décidé d'inviter des soumissions d'un certain nombre de compagnies spécialisées pour ce qui est de l'installation et l'équipement.

Hemmingford

Une assemblée régulière du cercle des fermières de Hemmingford avait lieu mercredi soir à la salle paroissiale, sous la présidence de Mme Roman Priest et en présence de 15 membres. Le pique-nique annuel ne fut qu'un des item discutés. Celui-ci aura lieu en juillet, et de plusieurs endroits mentionnés, plusieurs membres favorisèrent une visite à Sorel.

On demande aux membres d'apporter à la prochaine appel se fit sous forme de questionnaire des idées pour le programme de l'an prochain. L'option, "que feriez-vous si vous étiez conseillère ou officier de la section?", et les réponses s'avérèrent à la fois intéressantes et amusantes.

La partie sérieuse de la réunion terminée, les dames entreprirent l'heure sociale qui prit la forme d'un hommage à la Fête des Mères. Mlle Kathleen Perras lut un court article sur la Fête des Mères et récita un poème spécial en l'honneur de la doyenne de la section, Mme Joe Deneault, et de toutes les mères présentes. En tant que doyenne, Mme Deneault reçut un bouquet de fleurs et fit part de son appréciation.

Un délicieux goûter fut ensuite servi, avec Mme Deneault assise à la place d'honneur. Il s'agissait de la deuxième assemblée consécutive où une présentation était faite. En avril, on avait présenté à Mme A. Laplante un présent à l'occasion de son départ de Hemmingford. Mme Laplante, de même que sa fille et son beau-fils, M. et Mme Thomas Payant, sont déménagés à Ste-Philomène. Pendant de nombreuses annés, Mme Laplante avait été une Fermière consciencieuse et travaillante, et en faisant la présentation, les membres lui avaient exprimé toute leur reconnaissance pour son travail généreux au sein de la section.

L'homme et la femme

L'amour de l'homme et de la femme est un acte riche et compliqué, le summum de ce que l'homme peut accomplir; de cette union naît Dieu, puisque nous sommes fils de Dieu.

Tout être connait et aime. Tu aimes comme tu connais, et tu dois aimer pour l'amour de Dieu. Tu prends Dieu par la foi, cette saisie de Dieu. Quel magnifique moyen d'aimer sa femme que de l'aimer par la foi, en voyant en elle l'être que Dieu aime!

Pauline, Dieu aime Pierre plus que toi tu ne l'aimes. Tu es le don de Dieu à Pierre, pour l'aider à posséder Dieu.

Mets du sang dans ta peau, du coeur dans ton sang, de l'âme dans ton coeur et Dieu dans ton âme.

L'AMOUR SE MEDITE

L'homme ne connait pas ce qu'est la femme et la femme ne connait pas ce qu'est l'homme. Il faut prendre l'homme comme il est: corps, coeur, âme. Le conjoint doit prendre son conjoint avec tout son être, il doit voir en l'autre le fils de Dieu, il doit méditer l'autre, il doit étudier son amour. Il est impossible d'être au fond du mystère de l'autre. Contemple ta femme, elle change tout le temps. Mesure la pesanteur de ses paroles, étudie l'éclat de ses yeux, l'amour qu'elle a pour toi. Demande à Dieu de pouvoir lire en elle.

L'amour d'un chrétien pour une chrétienne est dans la ligne de l'amour de Dieu. L'amour est grand à condition d'être complet; amour de tout l'être, corps et âme.

"Qu'ils soient un". Union miraculeuse au modèle de Dieu; union de deux êtres tellement complexes, qui doivent adapter leurs rouages. On y arrivera à condition de bien connaitre l'autre et accepter qu'il soit homme, qu'elle soit femme. Autrement c'est le malheur, ce qui arrive souvent, parce que les hommes sont des imbéciles, de l'autre!

des égoistes.

L'homme doit se servir de son intelligence et de sa maîtrise de soi. Le problème de l'homme c'est de s'éduquer, d'étudier sa femme, de lui donner du bonheur.

Ton bonheur, ta sécurité, femme, c'est ton Pierre. Le mâle, qui est le fils de Dieu, est fier quand il a sa femme; il se dit: "Je suis devenu elle. Je vis par elle". Et la fierté de la femme qui a la sécurité totale est de se dire: "Mon homme, je le tiens, il est à moi, je ne suis rien sans lui. . ."

N'oubliez pas que le mariage est un sacrement efficace. Après 50 ans de vie conjugale, dans une vie conjugale où il y a Dieu, vous n'aurez jamais fini de vous découvrir, car Dieu est infini.

JOIE ET ASCESE

Dieu est un Dieu de joie. La souffrance, c'est le péché. Notre religion est une religion d'amour et l'amour est joie. Les joies du mariage, prends-les. Le mariage t'offre un chemin plus facile vers le Paradis. L'ascèse doit se faire dans l'entente et la continence est un gros problème, parce qu'il y a deux personnes concernées.

Bref, l'amour suppose la connaissance et la connaissance suppose la méditation.

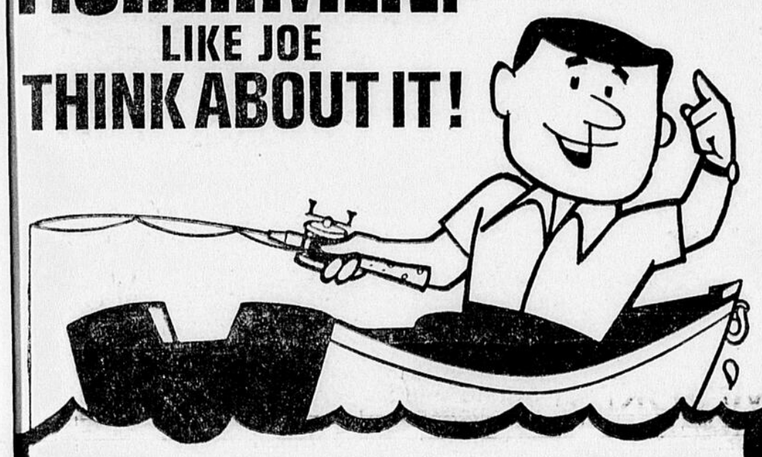

TROUVER L'AUTRE

Quand apprend-on à aimer; dans les fréquentations. Trouve la tienne ou le tien. Fais des fiançailles de loyauté, promets de nourrir ton amour dans ton coeur, de défendre ton amour contre les amourettes. Alors, vois ta Pauline dans tout son être, sauf sa chair. Pauline, cache ta chair, car il n'y a pas droit. Toi, Pierre, enfonce des racines de ton amour dans tout ce qui n'est pas la chair. Plus il y a d'amour, moins il y a de luxure. La vie est un triomphe. Dieu confie l'âme de chacun à chacun.

Mets le bon Dieu dans la vie

Gleaner, Huntingdon

This and That In Town

Lilacs are in full bloom now. Despite the lack of rain, farmers report grass is making rapid progress. Some beautiful ornamental trees in Huntingdon, Ormstown, Howick and Hemmingford are at their best right now. Scores of motorists drove through the Franklin area over the week-end to admire the apple blossoms.

Lake Street and area residents in Huntingdon are taking in their porch and patio furniture at nights... seems one couple lost a couple of chairs.

Those stretches of Highway 4 between Georgetown and Brysonville / Dewittville and Huntingdon where the road work was done are pretty dusty these days. One householder phoned The Gleaner to say she can't take her double windows off because the dust just rolls into the house. And of course it's impossible to hang clothes out to dry. It's just one of those cogs in the wheels of progress, but surely some calcium or old oil could be spread on the gravel to reduce the dust... it wouldn't be too bad, but week-end traffic is heavy on No. 4. And Ormstown Ex. is coming up fast: residents along No. 4 where the roadwork hasn't been finished dread the inches of dust they expect to have on everything.

And talking about the Ormstown Ex. and Highway 4, some patching has been done between Georgetown and Ormstown, but there's a lot more to do in the next few days.

Ascension Day is Thursday and the Catholic Schools in the Valley will be closed. It will be a long week-end for most students of these schools as Friday has been declared a holiday too because of conventions and inspectors' visits. This just might be your big chance to bone up on some of those tricky subjects youngsters.

Dust or no dust, we see foundations for several new houses between Dewittville and Huntingdon, on the south side.

Muskie season doesn't open until June 15 this year.

The Gleaner will have a booth at Ormstown Fair, as usual, where renewals will be accepted at the prevailing rate of $4.50 per year in Canada and $5.50 in the U.S.A. We will also have samples of wedding invitations, stationery, envelopes, forms and all kinds of printing and will be pleased to quote on any commercial printing requirements. Arrangements may also be made for a Gleaner photographer for weddings and any other special occasions.

The County Hospital Nurses' Dance at the Legion Hall on Fairview Rd., Saturday evening, was a tremendous success. Credit is due all concerned in the arrangements, especially Mrs. Kennedy Scott, who conducted several specialties and a skit that drew hearty applause. Everyone who attended reported an enjoyable time.

O.H.S. already reports a complete sell-out of their 1965 year book, 'The Oracle' so, as we predicted, they'll be mighty scarce at the Ex.

T.B. clinic in Huntingdon next week (see advt.)

See article about St. Clothilde man who was killed at Sherrington.

It appears to be quite a year for caterpillars... the things are hanging in clusters on every fruit tree in the area that hasn't been sprayed. Most people are burning the nests on ornamental trees, but spraying must surely be better.

J.O.C. fast-ball is rapidly shaping up and Rejean Racine of The Gleaner tells us a schedule of games will be ready next week.

The new Hemmingford Golf Course is now open for play. In fact it has been in operation since Saturday, with a good crowd enjoying ideal conditions for golfing Monday. The Club House is not finished yet but it is reported it will be in a few weeks from now.

2,000 Tiny Lives Accidentally Lost

Of the 1,289 pedestrian fatalities in 1963 in Canada, four out of every 10 were children under 15. Approximately 500,000 children are injured and more than 2,000 killed annually in accidents in this nation.

What is more tragic than cold statistics, reported the National Safety League of Canada and the Canadian Highway Safety Council, co-sponsors of Child Safety Day on Sunday, May 2, is that almost all those tiny lives were lost needlessly. The League and the Council put the blame on parents. "The predominant reason for playtime accidents among children," they claim, "is lack of supervision."

On May 2, the League and the Council will enlist the active participation of clergy, parent-teacher groups, women's organizations, service clubs, safety organizations — every possible Canadian adult — in bringing to the realization of every citizen his responsibility for the safety of the child. "This will be an awareness day, a day to recognize the duty of everyone to instill safety into the daily habits of every child," stated the League and Council.

A lie, turned topsy-turvy, can be prinked and tinseled out, decked in plumage new and fine, till none knows its old carcass.

It has become almost standard practice today for people to go to their bank to finance the purchase of cars and other family items. You, too, may have found it a good idea to borrow where you save — at your local bank. It is often simpler, because the bank already knows you as a savings customer. And it also may save you money because bank loans are low-cost loans. For borrowing and saving, and for any other bank service you may need, just visit your local chartered bank. It's the one place where you can get all your banking done, under one roof.

Chats '67 Committee To Sponsor Tribute To Expo '67

By Fergus Horsburgh

Following four months of negotiations with civic officials, the Chats '67 Committee announced last weekend that a project in Chateauguay Centre had been approved by the Canadian Corporation for the 1967 World Exhibition. Expo's Joint Committee on Promotions and Licensing will co-operate with a committee representing civic-minded residents, under the Honorary Chairmanship of Mayor Richard Sutterlin, in sponsoring a Project to honour Expo 1967. This will be a unique project, the only one of its type to be approved by Expo to date anywhere in the world.

Complete details of the project will be disclosed next Friday, at a press conference in the Chateau Gai Motel. I understand that in addition to the principal news media, School Board Chairman, Town Councillors and other prominent Chateauguay residents are expected to attend, and that representatives of Expo '67 will be present. It is reported that American authorities will play a prominent part in Chats '67, which is expected to go into operation early in July 1965.

Chairman of the Chats '67 Committee is Mr. Thomas Mc Dade, former chairman of the now defunct Greater Chateauguay Mercier Bridge Committee. Vice Chairman and Treasurer is Mr. Ernest Koening Chairman of Unichat. Directors are Messrs. Patrick O'Reilly, Garry Austin and Emile Adamyk.

Kennedy - Sutterlin Promote Expo Beauty

(By Russ Faughnan)

Georges Kennedy, our Liberal member of Parliament and Mayor Richard Sutterlin, helped to distribute more than three hundred "Red Pine" trees at the Chateauguay Centre town hall, last Friday.

The trees were provided by the Ministry of Lands and Forests and distributed through the 4-H Clubs to local residents. This is part of a government program to beautify the province for Expo 67 through the planting of young trees on both private and public grounds.

Mr. Sylvestre, supervisor of the local 4-H Club, informed us that 50 acres of land had been turned over by Romeo Laberge of St. Martine for that organizations tree planting efforts. More than 6500 saplings, have been seeded for future distribution. These nursery grown trees have a much higher rate of growth over the 'field' variety. In fact, they could reach up to four times their present one to two feet height by the time Expo rolls around.

Mr. Kennedy had high praise for the government program and expressed his pleasure at being able to provide support for this program. Mayor Sutterlin was especially pleased at the tournout of Chateauguay Centre residents on such short notice. The town hall grounds were crowded with parents and children for several hours before the trees arrived. Word-of-mouth advice of the event seemed to spread like wild-fire.

One of the happy recipients, Mr. Clark Anderson of Louise Crescent, told the Gleaner that he thought the government program would be well received by all citizens. He was, however, dissappointed with the extremely short notice and with the small number of trees distributed. Mr. Kennedy hopefully advises that more than 1,000 will be available next year. We guess the dogs will have to wait.

Chateauguay High School Red Cross News

(By Riki Stanford)

On Thurs., May 20th. a delegation from our Council went to the new "Mackay Center for Deaf and Crippled Children" to present our donation of a small wheel chair, which we had purchased through our pledge to the Inter-High Council. I had the pleasure of presenting the wheel chair to Dr. D. L. Patterson, Director of the Mackay Center, on behalf of the entire Council. We were very pleased when Dr. Paterson told us that the wheelchair would be put into use the very next day.

Afterwards we were conducted on a tour of the new building, to see the facilities and other articles which other J.R.C. Councils donated. The building itself is very modern and when put into use, will greatly help these many children with deaf and crippling handicaps.

Next year's President and Vice-President, will be chosen from this year's council, which is new in our order or procedure, as a result of the Constitution. The new officers will be elected by June 2.

The final meeting of the Inter-High School Council will be held on May 31st., and a delegation from our Council will definitely attend.

Co-operative Pre-School Visits Macdonald College Farm

On Wednesday, May 19, the children of the Seigniory Park Co-operative Pre-school went to Macdonald College Farm. Thirty-six children were accompanied by twelve adults. The trip was made in a chartered bus.

Upon arrival, the first visit was made to the cattle barn. The herd was feeding, so the children were able to come close without hazard. Had it been possible to extend the visit by half an hour, the milking could have been seen, but late afternoon traffic coming back had to be considered.

There were several calves of assorted ages, one just twenty-four hours old. The young animals, of course, held the greater appeal.

A big bonus in the cow barn was a fine litter of kittens, about three weeks old. These the children were able to fondle, and they were instinctively tender with them.

A random prowl led to the discovery of a barn partly filled with hay bales. Instinct asserted itself again, and those lucky youngsters had a glorious time, jumping, climbing, and sliding. The mothers stood by, overcome by nostalgia or envy, or both.

On the way to the piggery, there were several enormous pigs in an outdoor pen. It is surprising how forgettable is the appearance of pigs. There was equal wonder among mothers and children. Inside the barn, there were many more pigs, all obviously well fed. Again, there were small ones to be admired, and these gave the greater pleasure and interest.

Unfortunately, it was not possible to see the horses and sheep, which were out to pasture. The poultry barns are forbidden for tours of this kind, because the hens and chickens are upset for days afterward.

Everyone gathered for snack time. Four pounds of cookies and ten quarts of grape drink were consumed in short order.

Heads were counted and recounted until the bus was properly full once more, and the homeward trip began. It was interesting on its own account. The children saw perhaps as many as five trains, including two very long freights, planes in the air and on the ground at Dorval, and a grain freighter in the seaway.

Many of the children sang lustily all the way home, and others were tired enough to sleep.

The fun the children had in being together on this excursion was almost justification enough. This kind of trip, however, has great importance in the lives of young children. A bit of travel is especially broadening at this age. It is good that they see men working at a variety of jobs. It is important, too, to extend their ideas of animals from pets, or story books, or caged animals in a zoo. With every experience that goes beyond daily routine, they increase their collection of mental pictures and the ability to connect ideas. As an elderly Scotswoman would have put it, "It makes the young ones smart".

Mrs. Thomas Fullum Former F.C. Woman Dies At Chateauguay

Mrs. Thomas (Regina) Fullum a former resident of Fort Covington and Bombay, died suddenly at her home, 290 Crossant Dubois, Chateauguay Center, Quebec, on Tuesday, May 11. According to information received here she had not been feeling well and was getting ready to go to a hospital when she suffered a fatal coronary attack.

A referendum was held to choose the time of service for the months of July and August Results of the referendum will be published in next week's Gleaner.

Rev. W. A. (Dick) Brittain, B.Th., will be guest speaker at the Gideon's Annual Conference in Memorial Hall on May 29th.

Safety Campaign At Maple School

In the past week, students of Maple School have viewed films, received folders on bicycle safety and been treated to a very informative talk by Lieut. Giroux of the Town of Chateauguay Police Force. All this is in conjunction with a campaign sponsored by both Maple School and the Home and School Association. Their aim is to get the children to think safety all the time, whether they drive bikes or are pedestrians.

Apparently there are very few children using the roads properly in the school area. The infractions range everywhere from traffic violations to just plain rudeness to passing motorists. The school officials and the Home and School are asking the co-operation of parents and their support in this endeavour through road safety education of their children, and agitation for a firmer approach to traffic violators by our law enforcement agencies.

The programme has already started with last week's display of safety posters and the items mentioned in paragraph one.

This week the campaign continues with much the same material, culminating in a Bicycle Rally and Obstacle Course on Saturday, May 29th.

The Rally is intended for Grades 4 to 7 students and will be run over a two and a half mile course commencing and ending at Chat. High School. The Obstacle Course is for Grades 1 to 3 students and will be laid out on the Maple School Playground. All students are required to answer questions during class some time during this week based on traffic regulations and bicycle condition. In addition, all entrants to the Rally or Obstacle Course will have to submit to a bike inspection first. Those receiving a large number of demerits will not be allowed to participate.

Spotters will be located along the Rally route and will register demerit points for traffic violations, reckless or careless driving.

Students who maintain a high standard in the written test, inspection and the Rally or Obstacle Course will receive a crest which they will be permitted to wear only so long as they remain good drivers.

The bicycle inspection list includes 1. Tight handle grips. 2. Horn or bell (no siren). 3. Rear red reflector. 4. Front headlight (battery or generator driven). 5. Spokes. 6. Pedals. 7. Properly inflated tires. 8. Tires in good condition. 9. Seat: proper height and position. 10. Bicycle proper size. 11. Brakes: satisfactory. 12. Chain: properly fitted.

The spotters for the Rally will be watching for all traffic violations including — a) failure to signal turns. b) failure to obey traffic signs. c) failure to drive on right side of road. d) failure to drive in single file. e) reckless or careless driving.

Parents — won't you spend some time each day this week telling your children how important it is for them to obey the traffic rules? And then a little reminder once in a while certainly will do no harm, and this can be done in a way that will not sound like 'nagging'.

Children's Hobby Show At St. George's Last Saturday

St. George's Men's Club sponsored their 2nd Annual Hobby Show on Saturday afternoon, May 22nd., in the Church Hall, with not nearly as many entries as first expected. LIONS' WIVES ATTEND ELECTION NIGHT SUPPER

In the above photo we see the Chateauguay Lions and their wives, who were present at the Lions' last General Meeting. During the meeting the election of officers took place and plans were laid for the Chateauguay Lions Second Anniversary Supper and Dance.

At the last general meeting of the Chateauguay Lions the members' wives were the invited guests. As has always been the case in the past the wives once again turned out in good number and added greatly to the enjoyment of the meeting.

The guest speaker was Ian Gardner of Air Canada, who gave a talk and showed a film on "Travel in Britain." It proved to be a very interesting topic; the only problem being that now all the wives are wanting their husbands to take them on just such a trip.

Plans were laid for the Lions' Second Anniversary Dance and Supper. A buffet will be served and there will be an orchestra, door prizes and souvenirs.

Election of officers for the new year starting July 1st, also took place. The following were elected to the Lion's executive:

President, Larry Gardner; Immediate Past President, Ed McElroy; Secretary-Treasurer, Bill Edwards; 1st Vice-President, Arthur Beaumier; 2nd Vice-President, Lucien Des-Jardins; 3rd Vice-President, Bernie Desrosiers; Directors, Herb Archambault, Bob Johnson, George Land; Lion Tamer, Serge Gervais; Tail Twister, Jean-Claude Theroux.

Town of Chateauguay Heights Water and Sewage Bylaw Read

By Furgus Horsburgh

"If any man knoweth of any reason why this Town should not forthwith be joined to a modern water and sewage system, let him now speak on forever hold his peace".

This in effect was the notice served by the Heights Council on the electorate at an adjourned Council meeting held at Town Hall, on Tuesday May 18th. The meeting had been called to hear the first reading of a By-law to provide funds for the installation of a modern water and sewage system. Previous information meetings held by the Council were featured by vociferous objections from a minority group of ratepayers. A remarkable turnabout in public opinion saw — or heard — not one dissenting voice raised, and it is now confidently predicted that the By-law will go to Quebec for approval without the necessity of holding a local referendum. Such a delaying tactic could, of course, be forced on Council in the event that 20 electors register their objections, as prescribed by law. Mayor Jean Laberge stated in a recent message to property-owners that a referendum would postpone the start of installation, and might possibly lead to a delay beyond the 1965 construction season in completion of the project. Such a delay would inevitably lead to an increase in the present estimated cost.

Reading of the By-Law proved to be something of an endurance test for Aldermen John Friedlander, Roland Thauvette, Ted Lunn, Fred Behrens and Secretary-Treasurer Mrs. Thelma Clarke. A sharp rise was reported in the retailing of therapeutic throat lozenges, resulting from the severe strain placed on Aldermanic vocal chords.

Prompt approval of the $862,500 By-law by Provincial authorities is expected, as it is an open secret that in the event that the Heights did not proceed voluntarily with their modernization plans, these same provincial authorities would themselves force the issue.

Repayment of the borrowing to finance the project is scheduled over a thirty-year period, but Alderman Friedlander stated to the meeting that the terms of the loan would be determined by money market conditions. In Mr. Friedlander's opinion, it might be necessary to borrow on a ten-year repayment basis, and refund the balance remaining unpaid, ten years from now.

Plans for the system were prepared by Town Engineers Messrs. Lindsay, Cosgrove and Associates, who supervised a $20,000 survey of soil conditions and the topography of the area. As a result of this survey, Town officials have a high degree of confidence that the estimated cost of $862,500 will not be exceeded provided a start to installation is made by early June.

The Late John Mosher

The deceased is the father of Mr. Russel Mosher, Superintendent of the Protestant Schools of Chateauguay, and brother of Mrs. J. A. Brown of Huntingdon. Mr. Mosher passed away suddenly Sunday evening at the Queen Elizabeth Hospital, Montreal.

THE "NEW" LONDON

In Canada, where many of the major urban governmental systems are under review, it is perhaps of interest to view the way in which the cumbersome, involved system governing the metropolis of London has now been streamlined into an efficient working body.

As the result of a Royal Commission, which reported in 1960, and discussions between local authorities and the Government, a new system of government was decided upon. Later, a panel of four Town Clerks investigated the objections and suggestions of local authorities involved. The re-

Claude Noble Speaks Out For C.A.A.A.

(By Ron Lee)

With only four years under his belt as a Chateauguay resident, Claude Noble stands out as an ideal type of sports executive. His first two years in Chateauguay were spent as a coach of softball and hockey. Last year he was elected to be C.T.R.A. as sports chairman and this year he was elected First Vice-President of the Chateauguay Amateur Athletic Association.

On Monday, May 17th, Frank McIlwaine resigned as Secretary of C.A.A.A. due to the amount of time required for him to carry out his duties as Softball President.

Claude immediately resigned as 1st. Vice-Pres. and was then elected as Secretary. Asked why he was so eager to take over such a big job he replied "My heart wasn't in the Vice-Pres. job and I found myself shirking some of my duties, but to me, the duties of being a Secretary are both appealing and challenging and I feel I shall be able to do more to help C.A.A.A. in this capacity."

When asked why he accepted a C.A.A.A. position he said "I have two children, a son eleven and a daughter nine, and I'm going to be sure that sports exist in Chateauguay and continue to exist for years to come, not only for my family but for all children in the area. The only way this can be done is if everyone digs in and helps".

There is a definite lack of sports in the Chateauguay area for girls but it is hoped that this situation will be overcome before too long.

A lot of the credit for the development of Sports in this area should go to Pat D'Arcy and Horace Meades as far as Mr. Noble is concerned. He feels that these two men have done more than anyone could ask to make C.A.A.A. a reality.

Advantages

When questioned on the advantages of having one main body such as C.A.A.A. to represent all sports, Mr. Noble said that the only way to eliminate a duplication of effort was to organize and have each man's effort be to the benefit of all. He also said "To have a common, strong body to represent sports and recreation in Chateauguay is a big thing as all areas are able to meet together and pool their resourses for one common interest, the children".

Mr. Noble pointed out the fact that there are over 500 men in the C.A.A.A. structure. This figure includes coaches, sport directors and C.A.A.A. Executives. It does not include the many thousands of children that play in organized sport under the C.A.A.A. banner.

C.A.A.A.'s Future

When asked about the future Claude replied "I can see C.A.A.A. being the only representative body of the whole of Chateauguay. We have a lot of hard work ahead of us but we must keep going if Chateauguay is to become the great sports centre that everyone would like it to be. We need a lot of help in our drive to the top and if people can't support us bodily, verbal support would be much appreciated."

In closing, Mr. Noble stated "Last year was a formative year, an organizational year. There have been problems and there will continue to be problems but I personally feel that C.A.A.A. is here to stay. As long as we continue to keep good executives in office, our problems will be kept to a minimum.

With Larry Toop as President and Claude Noble as Secretary, C.A.A.A. is off to a good start.

Soccer In Chateauguay

The C.M.S.L. season opened in rather a haphazard fashion last Saurday due mainly to shortage of suitable playing fields. The Town of Chateauguay with 14 minor soccer teams totalling 250 - 280 boys has only one field suitable for playing and this was almost rendered unplayable by the people who scraped it to make it playable. Deep tire ruts remained all over the field on completion of the scraping operation.

Where are all the public-spirited sports-minded men of the West End development? The three minor soccer teams registered by that area had to be withdrawn as not one man volunteered his services as a coach. This is a deplorable situation when eager youngsters are deprived of the opportunity to play this healthy, energetic game due to the lethargy of adults.

Chateauguay United — our representative in the Metropolitan League started the season by being trounced 9 goals to 1 by St. Paul at Newman Park on May 16th. Last Sunday, May 23rd., they had a very convincing win at home over Dorval, the score being 6 goals for and 1 against. The United's next home game will be against Canadair on Wednesday, June 9th., at 6.30 p.m.

Stagemasters Praised In Drama Festival

By Russ Faughnan

The Stagemasters, representing Chateauguay in CF-TV's Drama Festival, received high praise from adjudicator Charles Rittenhouse at the conclusion of the series... but did not win.

That honour went to the Hub Players of St. Hubert's Airforce Base, for their performance of "The Monkey's Paw." Their selection cannot be questioned as, to this reviewer. The Hub Players stood out in the entire festival, at least as far as acting skills are concerned.

Mr. Rittenhouse commended the Stagemasters as the best TV production. That is he felt that they were the only group who approached the festival as an assignment for TV. All the others gave a stage performance without regard to the particular limitations of television. In this, we fully concur. The Stagemasters were the only group who made any use of TV staging and cameras. Unfortunately, their vehicle was a poor choice and they were hampered by the use of British accented players in what was supposed to be an American farce.

Nevertheless, their efforts were well received. The festival as a whole was painfully Amateur but worthy of continued exploitation. There seems little doubt that the television station was trying to add to their "Canadian content." But this is the kind of thing that local television should be doing. The fact that the production is only fair or even lousy, should be secondary. Development is the prime factor and there is every evidence from this festival that continued exposure to the harsh lights of public reaction could produce considerable improvement in local amateur dramatics. We can only hope that CFTV will be equal to the challenge and will give groups like our Stagemasters another chance to provide good amateur entertainment. Not all of us look for the slick Hollywood treatment everytime we turn on the "monster."

Meanwhile, we congratulate the Stagemasters for their efforts. If at first you do not succeed, etc. . . . etc. We hope you get the chance.

Chateauguay News Notes

By Fergus Horsburgh

Full details of "Chats 67" — a tribute to Expo 1967 are to be disclosed at a press conference in the Chateau-Gai Motel on Friday, at 5 p.m. Further details are to be found elsewhere in this Gleaner.

It is reported that vandals have destroyed the football posts recently erected by a Town work force on Seigniory Park's Sports Ground.

Parents of children presently and about to attend Maple Elementary School this coming September will be happy to hear that tenders have been called for the extension to the school. Plans were to break ground somewhere between the 1st and 15th of June, and it now looks as if these plans will be realized. More news in these pages later re developments.

News of more tenders: The Town of Chateauguay has called for tenders for the lighting of playfields and associated works. Another tender for the alteration and widening of the Lake St. Louis pumping station.

Amateur gardeners were all busy the week-end of the 24th. Watch For Tent Caterpillars. There are thousands this year — each "tent" has practically millions of the pests inside, and the only way to eliminate them is to CUT the branches right off, and burn them in an old barrel — if you have one. Also Watch the usage of your hose. This warning directly from Police Headquarters. They have asked the writer to repeat the By-law again this week.
In the Town of Chateauguay watering (use of hose) is permitted every odd number day except from the hours of 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. In other words you may use your hose from midnight to 7.59 a.m. and from 1.01 p.m. to 4.59 p.m., from 8.01 p.m. until midnight. Even number days the hoses should not be used at any time. Chateauguay Centre residents are to use their hoses on all even number days with the same restrictions applying as to hours. These by-laws are quite simple and easy to remember — so please try to co-operate and be fair to your neighbours and friends.

Chateauguay Centre Police report a very quiet week-end, with just a few minor accidents.

A visitor to the Quinlan's of Ashmore St. in the Terrace had the misfortune to have a very severe fall May 21st, around three in the afternoon. Mrs. A. Injuries include a broken jaw, cut chin and lip, cuts on left leg and broken teeth. Mrs. Cardinal fell from the front steps on to the asphalt paving of the drive. Constables 101, Black and 106 Asselin, investigated.

Two boys have been reported missing by their ward, Mrs. Gerard Boutin, of 56 Provost, Chateauguay Station. The two boys from La Service de la Protection de la Jeunesse were both French-speaking and one, Jean-Pierre is partially crippled and has great difficulty walking. He may give a false address — "Ste Agathe." Michel may also give an address in Sherbrooke, Que. Police of Chateauguay Centre, and the Provincial Police have been notified, as well as the Agency from where the boys came from.

An accident to a child, Robert Clement, 2½-years-old, of 322 Duquette, who pushed out a window screen and fell to the ground was investigated by Constables 103, Gauthier, and 108 Bougie. The accident on May 19th shortly before 7 p.m. caused head injuries, numerous bruises and both arms also injured. The child was rushed to the Medical Centre and examined by Dr. Desrochers, who advised to continual watch for 24 hours. for lapse into unconsciousness because of the head injury.

Ginette Grondin age 2½ years fell from a 6½' step, through railings of 51 Perron, May 19th, around 9.45 a.m. Investigating the accident, Constable 104, C. Pregent, and on the orders of Dr. C. Boyer, of the Medical Centre, was rushed into the Montreal Children's Hospital for examination and treatment.

Lieut. Giroux was the recent guest of Maple School, when he gave a talk on Bicycle Safety. Principal Colin Harrowing was pleased with the reception given Lieut. Giroux by the students. More elsewhere in these pages concerning the Rally to be held this coming Saturday 29th, at Maple School.

Town of Chateauguay Police advise that Bicycle and Dog Licenses are still available at their office on St. Francis Blvd.

Well, hello again. Start off with another birthday this week. Although the birthday girl is a resident of the Heights I'll still wish her a very Happy Birthday, belated though it is, to Louise Airlie, of Mountain Avenue. Louise has just returned from a very nice trip down south to Barbados. Although I saw Louise a half dozen times on Sunday, May 23rd. I didn't know it was her b.d. until later-so let me be extra early with a greeting for next year.

I had a nice trip myself last week, in the company of a few other ladies of my acquaintance. We made a short journey down to St. Johns, Que., for the day, as the guests of the Ladies of St. James Anglican Church. Attending from the Chateauguay area: Mrs. W. Parker, Mrs. S. E. Seale, Mrs. R. Houldsworth, Mrs. G. Airlie, Mrs. B. Clayton, Mrs. Chretien, Miss W. Fullerton, Mrs. R. Hastie, Mrs. F. G. Barnett, and Mrs. K. Keeler.

Have a look this week at the Coming Events column. There's to be a children's Fashion Show at St. George's Hall, on Friday evening. The models will be both boys and girls, and I've heard that the clothes are extra specially nice.

I'm writing this on Monday evening, May 24th. There's been lots of planting done in gardens all around Chateauguay this lovely day. This includes my own effort too, although I still have more than half yet to plant. For goodness sake read all about the restrictions for the use of hoses, before you end up with a fine from the authorities. See the News Notes for hours and days in which you may use hose.

The Women of the Church are still collecting good used clothing. It would be most sincerely appreciated if, when you are looking over the clothing before storing away until next season, you will remove those items you know will not fit your child or children, and take these to the Church Office on McLeod Avenue.

St. George's Church News

Book Covers donated by St. George's Senior Choir for the Music Hymn Books were dedicated to the Glory of God and in loving memory of Mrs. Marjorie Johnson (late of St. John Blvd.) Also in memory of Marjorie, the Choir sang the anthem "I Know My Redeemer Liveth" by J. Michael Bach.

On Ascension Day, Thursday, May 27th, there will be a celebration of Holy Eucharist at 10 a.m. in the Church.

Camp Farthing details may be obtained at the Church, also the application forms for the Anglican Camp at Laurel P.Q.

That's about it for this week. See you in the garden!

Handy hints for homemakers

To condition and prolong the life of a wooden ladder and also to help prevent splintering, apply a sparing coat of boiled linseed oil and polish with a soft cloth.

Frozen cookies

Thaw the cookies wrapped so they will not dry out.

To make wood more durable and weatherproof, cover it with several coats of hot linseed oil varnish.

C.H.S. Reports

This week the main event is the Student Council elections for president and vice-president. All week long speeches and campaigns will be in vogue.

The nominees for president are Judy Horton, Greg Fry, and Yours truly. The nominees for vice-president are Stuart Currie, Doug Campbell, Nancy Ryan, Louise Allinson, and Iris Glenn. The elections will be Friday. They have been run by the Public Speaking Club and are real elections. As you can see it's quite interesting. The candidates have rallies and speeches, put up posters, and make themselves known to try to collect votes.

Next week I'll be able to tell you the results.

Friday, the Liberal Arts Club is planning a trip to Mr. Green's farm in the evening. A speaker will be present lecturing on Newfoundland. It should prove very interesting. If any students of grades 8, 9 and 10 of C.H.S. wish to go please tell Connie Newton and she will arrange it.

That's it till next week and remember — VOTE!

LETTER FROM

SEIGNIORY PARK

(by FERGUS HORSBURGH)

Route Boys:

CHRIS DULLEGE
398 Montmorency 691-1683

Some weeks ago the Home Owners Association asked postal authorities for a mail-box within Seigniory Park. Chateauguay Postmaster Mr. Taché replied that although this appeared to be beyond existing regulations, he would do his best to oblige. Seigniory Parkers in general and those above the transmission line in particular were delighted last week when a new mailbox was installed at the corner of Woodbine and Montmorency. Congratulations to the Home Owners, and sincere thanks to Postmaster Taché.

After many months of Big 12 Bowling League tidbits from Mrs. Rhoda Rowntree, I have a sense of loss with nothing to report this week on the previous week's play. Of course, the Big 12 First Annual Banquet is being held at the Country Club on Friday, May 28th.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Horst Harczewski of Colonia on the birth of their second child, second daughter, last Friday. Mother and baby are doing well in La Salle General Hospital.

It is now confirmed that the next monthly meeting of the Home Owners Association will be held in the clubhouse on Thursday, June 3rd. This will be the last general meeting until the election meeting next October.

It was reported that mosquito-spraying started in Chateauguay last weekend, but I saw no sign of it in Seigniory Park. Let's hope it starts here soon, because mosquitoes were up to their old tricks last week making life miserable for us all.

How about a couple of volunteers to help move the park bench out of the scrub into a more suitable location? I'm willing to help, but I cannot do it on my own.

One of these pre-dinner discussions last weekend turned to the derivation of the L.S.D. of the British monetary system. One of our foursome remembered that L was for the Latin "Librae" — pounds. Another recalled that the D was for "denarii" — pence. My wife, following her normal practice of talking the louder the less she knows on any given subject, was most insistent that L.S.D. was "Librae, shillings and denarii". That didn't sound night, somehow. My Pocket Oxford came to the rescue with "Librae, solidi, denarii."

A surprisingly large number of hardy (or foolhardy) swimmers took the plunge at the County Club's pool last weekend. As previously announced, deadline for membership under the group discount plan is May 31st 1965.

The Home Owners Association holds an executive meeting in Vice-President Lynn Dullege's home tonight at 8 o'clock.

Seigniory Park Pee Wees played their first game of the season against the Terrace Ferriers on Sat., May 22. Although they lost by the narrow margin of two goals against 1 they dominated most of the play but missed numerous chances in front of the goal. The S.P. goal was scored from a well-taken penalty kick by Terry Murphy. The games scheduled for the week commencing Wed., May 26 are Mosquitoes — home to St. Joachim Hearts Thurs., May 27 at 6.45 and Tuesday, June 1st at 6.45 p.m. the Pee-Wee are away to Hearts.

There was a cheering sight on Friday when the Town erected soccer goal posts on the S.P. playing field, but by Sunday vandals had uprooted 3 of the 4 uprights and making off with 2 of them.

Parents are requested to arrange transport for their boys to away soccer games as Glyn Fletcher's car will not hold 14 boys plus himself and family.

Introducing The C.H.S. Teachers

(By Heidi Pemoller)

This week we introduce Mr Arne Peterson, Miss Dale Perry (our gym instructors and Miss Linda Kurm, the school nurse. This will be my last introduction for this year since it covers all of the C.H.S. staff, but next September I would like to continue by introducing the new teachers that will be joining this year's staff.

MR. ARNE PETERSEN

Mr. Petersen was born in Copenhagen, Denmark, where he got all his education.

In 1951, he came to Canada with his family. Here he began to lecture about Physical Education to a McGill College class. Later he went to each Physical Education in Lachute High. Here he remained for ten years, after which he came to C.H.S.

While still in Denmark Mr. Petersen travelled all over Europe, playing soccer and competing as a gymnast. In 1948 he coached the Danish Olympic Gymnastics team.

When he came to Canada curling became one of his favorite sports.

Mr. Petersen has been married for seventeen years and has three children — Sandi, who is sixteen, Ronny, who is nine and Brian, who is eight.

Mr. Petersen, besides being the boy's Phys. Ed. teacher helps in anything asked of him. He is a great asset to decorating committees and such, but most important his coaching of our sports teams is bringing Chateauguay High, closer and closer to provincial champions.

Mr. Petersen likes teaching at C.H.S. and we certainly hope he'll be here for a long time to come.

MISS DALE PERRY

Miss Perry was born in Petitcodiac, New Brunswick where she took elementary and high school training. Later she attended the University of New Brunswick and also the New Brunswick Teachers College in Fredericton.

Miss Perry began teaching Physical Education in Port Elgin. Later she taught in the Department of National Defence School, in Oromocto. Her next stop was C.H.S.

Miss Perry is a fan of all sports. She enjoys hockey particularly. Besides being a fan of all sports, she plays them all. She also enjoys reading. Travelling has taken her through the Maritime Provinces, the Eastern United States, and a little of Ontario and Quebec.

Miss Perry enjoys teaching at C.H.S. She coaches the girls' teams and goes to just about every game with them. She's doing a good job keeping the girls fit, and we need an active gym instructor like Miss Perry.

MISS LINDA KURM

Miss Kurm was born in Estonia, where she got her education and nurse's training. She came to Canada in 1949. Since qualifications for nurses are different here she took more courses and successfully completed them at McGill University. Later she rose to head nurse at the Verdun General Hospital. She taught ward nursing at McGill. Later, to further her knowledge in several diseases, she went to work at the Royal Edward Laurentian Hospital.

During World War II Miss Kurm was a nurse in Military Hospitals. During this time she travelled all through Europe.

Among her hobbies, Miss Kurm's favorite is any kind of water sports. She also enjoys reading and classical music. She is in the school to help students with problems and of course in case of accidents. Last year was the first year Chateauguay has had a school nurse and she is doing a very good job.

commendations of the panel were accepted by the Government and incorporated in the London Government Act of 1963. under which the changes took place on April 1 of this year. On that date the London County Council, which has guided the metropolis for 76 years, handed over the reins to the Greater London Council.

H.M. Queen Elizabeth, in a special message, thanked the 13,000 councillors who had served the L.C.C. since its foundation and wished "good fortune" to the G.L.C.

The process of forging a new London has been far from painless. Middlesex, a large county authority which had its origins in Saxon England disappears in the new region the name "Middlesex" remains only as the name of a cricket club and a postal address.

By a process of merger and severance, the number of local government units has been reduced from 100 to 34 and these have been linked to form the new London area, covering 620 square miles and with a population of 8 million. Embracing the whole area is one authority, the Greater London Council, designed to provide certain services which can only operate efficiently as large units. These included the management of traffic, the main highway system, the drawing up of major development plans, the carrying out of major rehousing schemes, fire-fighting, ambulance service, the drainage system and the disposal of refuse.

Working in co-operation with the Greater London Council are 32 new borough councils serving a population varying from 225,000 to 340,000 which will run the more personal local services such as health and welfare of the sick and elderly. care of deprived children, of housing and parks. The L.C.C.'s education service was renowned, and this department is not being broken up, but is perpetuated as an offshoot of the Greater London Authority through the Inner London Education Authority. The 20 Outer London boroughs are Education Authorities in their own right. The 34th authority is the City of London (one square mile) the business and commercial centre, which remains unchanged and will continue to provide the Lord Mayor of London.

What Price Insurance

By Homeowner

Last week, I took a swipe at insurance salesman who sold "cheap" insurance. Let me make it clear that by cheap I mean insurance that does not cost you, the buyer, much money. The salesman doesn't make much Commission, therefore, why bother to sell it.

Well, I believe that "Personal Liability" insurance is the most important insurance policy you will ever buy. If you do not have a Personal Liability insurance policy, run do not walk to your nearest Agent and buy it. Do not pass go, do not collect $200.

So it only costs four to seven dollars per year. And your Agent cannot make a buck. It still might save you a heck of a lot of grief. Misunderstood? Brother it's the most!

In technical terms, Personal Liability insurance Protects you from damages arising from your Liability imposed by law, resulting from bodily injury or damage to property of others. In short, if you negligently cause injury or damage, you are covered.

Now let's look at this. By "you", the policy includes your wife, your children and any other relatives living with you. There are certain exclusions. Such as damages resulting from the use of your car but generally speaking you are protected against all damage caused by you or your family. Everyone knows of the classic case of the mailman slipping on the icy front step. But how about the golfer who wangs one into another's eye. Or how about your pride and joy tossing a rock through the neighbour's window. Or even ramming a hockey stick down the other kid's throat. Or even the adventurous lad who falls out of your rotting apple tree. For all of these, you will probably be held responsible. In each case, your Personal Liability insurance will protect you and pay for any resulting damages.

These days, the Courts are inclined to make rather grand awards for such trifling incidents as broken limbs facial scars and the loss of a finger or two. Such accidents can result in lawsuits involving thousands of dollars (not counting lawyers fees), which may tie up your income for life. One recent case where a salesman fell through a broken step and caused permanent injury to his back, resulted in a judge granting fifty dollars a week to the injured party from the uninsured homeowner... for life. Awards of twenty-five or fifty thousand dollars or more are not rare these days.

A fire or a burglary can cause you to lose what you own. But your Legal Liability can take away part of your earnings forever. For five dollars "a year", can you afford not to have this protection?. The minimum policy limit is ten thousand dollars for twelve dollars and fifty cents for "three years". That's what the insurance salesman will offer you. A good Agent will tell you that fifty thousand dollars worth of protection will cost only about eighteen dollars and one hundred thousand dollars will cost less than twenty dollars for three years. Think of it. The next time your lad picks up a stone from the driveway. Is he going to cost you fifty dollars a week for life?

By Madeleine Levason

Did you ever wonder why male fashions get so little attention from press, radio and TV? Women busily boning up on feminine trends may be forgiven for assuming there is never any news in men's wear. The truth is simply that female reporters have more interest in clothes than their male confreres.

A fashion show of male attire is usually reported with sneers, jeers and giggles by newsmen whose own appreciation of sartorial elegance would make a respectable tailor faint dead away. Humorist Russell Lynes, described this approach as one form of clothes snobbery by males. Other snobs he defined as the "sharp dresser" and the "conservative snob".

Women reporters are rarely the fashion types he called "screamingly up-to-date". They may be "undressed", "Band Box", or plain "dowdy", but nothing dims their enthusiasm for fashion news. A sable wrap or a couturier gown will be reported with appropriate awe by female reporters in well worn duds, and even by those with runs in their stockings.

We were reminded of this difference in the approach to fashion by Men's Wear of Canada, a trade magazine which commented in dismay at press reaction to several important Canadian men's wear fashion shows. The editor, W. E. W. Granger, wrote: "Newspapers fell into the trap that anything to do with men's fashions must be the occasion for sniggers. They ignored good fashion items, of which there were many. And they completely missed the point that matador suits, leather-type coats and avant-garde styles were merely ideas from which new style trends may develop."

Summing up the new trends in Canadian male styles. the magazine's reporter said the theme was "fashion without fuss", a far cry from the comments made by the newspapermen who denounced many garments as outlandish.

The new fashion idea being translated into suits, topcoats, tailored sportswear and formal clothes for Canadian men is the shaped silhouette. Suits are to have a suppressed waistline, the degree of suppression ranging from very slight in conservative styles to more pronounced in avant-garde models.

Shoulders are to be neatly tailored and there is more cutaway at the front of the jackets; trousers remain trim and unpleated. Suiting fabrics tend more to fine worsteds than to woollens and are very muted in color and pattern. The lustrous look of such fabrics has given way to quiet stripes, and there is a stronger trend to blues.

Sports jackets will show the shaped look to a more pronounced degree, and bolder checks and plaids are favored for casual wear. These style trends will emerge more strongly next fall and winter.

None of this sounds very alarming to us women. However, to be fair we must report that the items which upset our male confreres were those we usually refer to as "fun fashions" which generate new ideas and at least brighten up most shows.

Authentic clothing worn in 750 and loaned by a museum for the occasion included a silt brocade housecoat and a gold braided dinner jacket. More contemporary conversational styles were sportshirts with the LBJ western look, a tuxedo fashioned like a matador's costume, a Victorian swimsuit complete with suspenders, plus a shapeless hairy creation defined as a nightshirt from Iceland.

	$ 967,620.31
SURPLUS OF CURRENT YEAR:	5,738.34
	$ 973,358.65

I consider it my duty to emphasize that in 1964, your Municipal Council, through its administrators, has succeeded in erasing completely the deficit of $51,231.23 accumulated in 1962 and 1963, and balance the budget in 1964 with a surplus of $5,738.34.

I take this opportunity to add certain comments and establish comparisons capable of drawing the attention of all citizens on the most important items of the administration of the Town in 1964, as follows:

GENERAL IMMOBILIZATIONS

	1963	1964
WATER AND SEWERS SYSTEM	$2,573,655.39	$2,936,406.76
STREETS, PASSAGES AND SIDEWALKS	901,639.77	1,425,867.48
PARKS		121,161.83

In order to establish that immobilized value of the water and sewers system has been increased of $362,751.37, that immobilized value of streets, passages and sidewalks has also been increased of $524,227.71 and that your Municipal Council has paid a very special attention this year to youth in general, in elaborating a long term programme of municipal parks, by spending $121,161.83 in 1964 for parks and playgrounds alone.

1963	DEBENTURE DEBT	1964
$ 3,621,000.00	DEBENTURE DEBTS	$ 4,539,500.00
200,000.00	TEMPORARY LOANS	600,000.00
$ 3,821,000.00	TOTAL	$ 5,139,500.00
$34,300,520.00	ASSESSABLE VALUATION	$43,594,710.00
11.139%	PERCENTAGE	11.789%

The debenture debt itself, as mentioned in the financial statement for 1964, being of $4 539,500.00, we have decided to add the $600,000.00 temporary loans on by-laws which will be sold through an issue of debentures in 1965 only, in order to determine more precisely this very important item of the financial position of the Town.

May I add that in order to permit the publication of these figures and comments in this issue, we have used the assessable valuation figures given to us by the Town Valuators, and that these figures may be changed a little when the valuation roll will be definitely homologated by Council.

MUNICIPAL STATISTICS DECEMBER 31st 1964

I have also received instruction to condense certain statistics which were compiled and submitted to Council by Mr. Benoit W. Marcotte, Town engineer, as follows:

The Not-So-Comfortable Pew

it at the alluring attractions of an affluent and pleasure-loving society, fears that it cannot compete. If fears that the secular life, free of the inhibiting influences of the Church, will win out. If the bars are lowered, if more concessions are made to the relaxed moral code without the Church; if, too, the element of fear is removed from religion, what will be left? Will the Church be able to hold its following? The Church fears the answer and its lack of decisiveness stems from this lack of confidence in itself Stripped as it is of its powerful position as the stablizing force of society, it is confined to a back seat like an old maid at a beach party. The irony of the Church's position is that its greatest failure is in the very area that could save it and transform it into a positive force, with renewed vigor and ever-expanding opportunities to save mankind and create a saner society.

This most tragic weakness of the Church today, this inner sickness, manifests itself in countless ways — in reduced attendance, a lack of lay leadership, a pathological apathy. The sickness has no name but it is a kind of frigidity that emanates the chill of death. The lack of warmth is keenly felt by those who seek shelter in the shadow of the Church. The church-goers are not those, primarily, who seek God. Those who seek Him most ardently look for Him in the wonders of His creation, in the beauty of a winter sky, with dark thrusting trees reaching skeleton hands to Heaven; in the wild, lonely sound of the wind, wrapping itself around them and catching them up in the fierceness of its passion; in the wholeness and sanity and closeness to the source of life and God, that is a child. They look for Him in music and friendship and find Him in the warmth of family love.

There are the habitual church-goers, those springing from stanch Methodist and stiff-necked Presbyterian stock, who are assailed with uneasy guilt if they are not in Church on Sunday morning. But there are many church-goers who are seeking fellowship, a release from loneliness, a feeling of belonging, or a rudder in the unchartered seas of living. Those who seek warmth and shelter are too often disappointed. The service is depressing or seems to be aimed at some exalted personage to which the seeker cannot aspire. Often there is no friendly greeting from other members. If a lonely woman tries to find a place in the church's organizations, all too often she discovers these are cliques run by an elite group to which the late-joiner never really belongs.

A woman told me, "I have attended church all my life, except for one interval. I was friendless and as desperate as I think one can be without taking the last fatal step. It was at this period that I fell away from the church. I was not able to attend services. I was well acquainted with the doctrines of the church, I had given my financial support, helped in fund-raising activities. But when I was unable to work for the church, I fell away. In my greatest need, the church had nothing to say to me." Others tell the same story. We read of padres who help the derelicts of skid row, but what of the ordinary citizen who faces failure or loneliness? Is there no place in the Church for him?

What is this sick Church then? It is, of course, a collection of people, led by clergymen. And the clergyman is blamed, as a rule, for all the ills of the Church, as though could transform those seated by some magic power he before him and send them out to change the world. He is not superhuman. He cannot do the impossible, and, in any case, the Church is chiefly composed of people, ordinary people, brought into its midst for a variety of reasons. Could there not be, I have wondered, some kind of life-given power created among the people themselves? Could each of those who are whole and well and have warmth and life within them not reach out to all others who cannot share because they have not enough for themselves. And might not this lifegiving spark generate and grow, in the barren souls where it is planted, and create further warmth until the life-force of Christian love becomes the strongest power in the soul of man?

But the ministers can do much, too. Recently I attended service where a very humble man preached. No, not really preached at all. He talked to his members, as though they were his friends and as though he was concerned about each one of them. He spoke of those who have been patients in mental hospitals, and how difficult it may be for them to adjust to life without help from friends and community. He spoke of lonely people and how each of us must seek them out within our midst and offer them friendship, and he spoke of the need for true and deep fellowship one with another, that we might sustain each other. And it seemed as though I see a vision of other humble men in other churches speaking thus, and in each church was created a place of warmth and healing, a kind of hospital of spirits where the wounded could be made whole. All the souls therein would be rekindled with the joy of life and concern for their fellowmen that is called love.

The church that offers warmth and food for the emotionally and spiritually starved, and broad horizons that reach beyond the mundane concerns, will be packed to the doors. Those who are weary of the competitive rat race, the striving for status symbols, the jaded search for escape from boredom, will crowd its pews. It will be a place to go not for escape, not because it's the "in" thing to do, but because there is something within the Church people need for themselves, something to renew them and refit them to do their jobs. Perhaps then, too, church will become a place where people can truly worship God and feel His presence in their midst.

God grant that the empty pew or the uncomfortable pew can yet become the joyful pew. It may be the only hope of the Protestant Church.

FUN AFLOAT

PROPER EQUIPMENT VITAL TO BOATING SAFETY

Some boatmen are equipment bugs who overload their rigs with seldom-used accessories. Every boatman should realize that certain basic gear, neatly stowed and easily accessible, is vitally important.

While the new season is still young, it's good to make a routine equipment check. The Outboard Marine News Bureau recommends that you know the location and proper usage of required and useful gear aboard your boat.

Government-approved life preservers are a must. You must have one preserver for every person aboard the boat at all times. Buoyant cushions are suitable for adults, but life jackets are recommended for youngsters and non-swimmers.

Many boaters underestimate the need for an anchor and plenty of line. It can prevent mishap during emergency. A minimum of 100 feet of anchor line is recommended. Bow and stern lines are needed to moor your boat properly. Line is inexpensive, and one of the most common and irritating mistakes is to have too little aboard.

Every rig should have a government-approved fire extinguisher. It should be secured in a bracket located near the steering position for immediate access. It should also be checked periodically to see that it operates properly.

Smaller gear should be secured in a locker or storage compartment. A tool kit, consisting of pliers, screwdriver, spark plug wrench, cotter pins, extra spark plugs and a spare prop. should always be aboard. A first aid kit will come in handy for temporary treatment of minor injuries.

Additional recommended equipment includes: Flashlight, flares or other signaling devices, a bailing device, two-tone whistle or horn, boat fenders, a reserve fuel supply

Ladies' Aid Meeting

ROCKBURN — The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society was held at the home of Mrs. A. Bruce on Thursday evening, May 20th., with thirteen members present. Mrs. Bert Rennie conducted the meeting, assisted by Mrs. Bruce who read the Scripture lesson, followed with prayer by Mrs. C. Waller.

Mrs. W. Currie read the minutes of previous meeting after which several business items were discussed. Mrs Rennie reported that Mr. L. Lewis was willing to make the doors for the Rockburn Hall kitchen cupboards, so it was decided we engage him to do this work when convenient for him to do so. A food sale was dicussed and all agreed we hold same early in July.

Several letters of appreciation were read from the shutins and bereaved. A number of quilt blocks were handed in.

As the ladies decided to order more Pictorial Plates of our Stone Church, Mrs. R. Williams brought a sample which she received from Toronto. This matter was left over until the June meeting so that we might contact another firm in regard to same. During the social hour refreshments were served by the hostess. The proceeds for the evening a-

Editorial Notes...

There's Something Wrong With Quebec Drivers

Many owners of automobiles, trucks, etc., are exclaiming over still another increase in insurance premiums when it comes time to renew the automobile policy. If yours has not come for renewal yet, then be prepared for another few extra bucks on the premium. You are a good driver, you say, don't have accidents, not even little ones, yet I am soaked to pay for the reckless ones. True, that is just what happens, but just the same it won't do to be of the don't care type, for it will mean you will have an accident and that will increase the number in the ranks.

It is just that there are far more accidents in Quebec in ratio to the cars in the Province than in other Provinces thus Quebec is rated as high incidence accident Province. Who is to blame—the vehicle drivers, who else?

The All Canada Insurance Federation came up with figures at their annual meeting in Quebec a week or so ago and it explains a lot. Ontario has 8,545 fewer accidents with 973,250 more vehicles than Quebec. Quebec vehicles bear a 75% heavier accident load than the load in Ontario. (read the article in another part of this issue for further facts).

Meanwhile, those drivers and owners who drive carefully and do not have the accidents, are being penalized for the percentage that does. In other words the safe drivers are paying to clear-up the accidents of the unsafe, who are literally getting off scott-free when they should be paying the increase themselves, or get off the roads with their cars and such. Going on at this rate, very soon large numbers of drivers and owners will not be able to keep their cars on the road due to the high insurance rates. The innocent under this scheme would be punished for the guilty. We believe someone should put a foot down and put it down hard. Perhaps the insurance companies would be better not to write policies for some drivers and again, the Government should probably refuse to issue either license plates or drivers permits, or both to some drivers. Some cars should be banned from the roads too and insurance companies should refuse to insure cars that are not in proper condition. We believe it would save a lot of headaches all around for everyone if some drastic measures were taken.

It seems that the driver will not help himself to safer measures, then someone must do it for him and it must be done the hard way. Such a reputation is not an envious one and it gets all Quebec drivers a bad name whenever a car bearing a Quebec licence plate is seen. It seems that punitive measures will have to be taken and in all ways to make the careless driver come to time, or take him off the road entirely. All accidents, however small, should have to be reported and these should be endorsed on the driver's permit with remarks as to the magnitude. When the permit goes in for renewal, or as the case may be, then due cognizance of the endorsements should be made to determine if another permit will be issued to the same driver. This same measure could be used in the renewal, or issuing of automobile insurance policies. Policies issued also should be marked with such information, when the companies could weed out there bad risks, or suspend them until they agreed to do better. If Insurance Companies and Government worked together in an effort to cut down this ratio, it might be found that this Province would have a better rating than the others.

We feel that there are certain cars that should be banned from ever being on the road. If such cars are found after checks have been made, they should be impounded until put into safe condition, or retired to the junk heap. This would help to make people more conscious of the car they are driving and induce them to keep a car in good repair, or leave it at home. There is no doubt it is high time the authorities took steps all down the line in an effort to cut down on traffic accidents in this Province.

United Headquarters – Canada Possibility?

RECENT items in the news at the week-end hinted at the United Nations Headquarters being transferred from New York to Montreal. The site of the headquarters being the present site of Expo '67. This means that the move if it came, would be after the Expo had completed its run.

It is stated that discussions have been going on and Mayor Drapeau of Montreal has hinted at something big after Expo '67. However, at this time no one seems to want to talk.

The reason for the move seems to be the present involvement of the U.S.A. in various parts of the world and the fact that Canada has an international reputation as conciliator and arbiter. It is also thought that if the Headquarters were transferred here there would be less tension in debate. The Headquarters in New York are overcrowded and many branches are housed in different buildings. Some of the branches are already here in Canada.

There is no talk of re-action from the U.S.A., but we feel there would be if such a move was ever made. The U.S. has put a great deal of money into this organization and it has become a part of that country today. It is unfortunate that the U.S. has become embroiled in a number of incidents which are causing world-wide tension, but she feels it is her duty to take the initiative in these matters as the U.N. takes considerable time to reach any decision and sometimes fast action is necessary. If there is any case of sour grapes anywhere, then Canada would be wise to weigh the matter very thoroughly before becoming involved. It could create a rift between this country and the United States and which would be something we would not want to happen and especially at this time. There have already been some touchy matters between Canada and the U.S., but this is one that could really blow a gasket.

There is no doubt that such a headquarters would be an asset to Canada and Montreal and it would be another tourist attraction as much as it has been in the U.S. But if it is gained at a chance of friction between our two countries, we would rather see it turned down.

A number of countries are not seeing eye to eye with the U.S. on several problems that have arisen, and some hot words have been said. But no one has actually come out and accused the U.S. of being wrong except possibly Russia and China. Negotiations have gone on in an effort to stop action by the U.S. and advice has been bandied around. The U.S. has stood firm against all who have offered advice and has even become a little irritated at some of it. We do not believe there is any intention to arouse bad feelings or to make war on a universal scale. We believe the plan of the U.S. is that by taking positive action, it will be a deterrent rather than arousing greater action. In several other instances this has proved to be the case. We do not believe any nation wants to provoke war at this time.

The U.N. may feel that it has been slighted by the country in which its headquarters are located and that it is not a good position to be in. In some ways perhaps this could be right. The U.S. has always been an upholder of peace and therefore there was considerable backing to U.N. plans. Within the U.N. however, are those who have and still do cause trouble when matters are being discussed and whose co-operation is not to be relied upon. The U.N. is still a vital link in the chain that controls peace. Had it not been for this organization, there may have been another world war long ago. Several outbreaks have been curbed and there are some which could get out of hand. However, the U.N. is not an entirely free agent and that being the case, some things which require immediate action in order to stop them, can not get it due to the machinery of the U.N. In such instances the U.S. has stepped in on its own initiative and no doubt prevented another war. One instance of this was that of Cuba. By now that country could have been the stepping off place for the third world war and it might have been a success too. Another instance is that of the Dominican Republic and it is still a menace.

No doubt this newest bubble will either get bigger, or burst, and then the secrecy that is presently shrouding the matter will no doubt be revealed. It is said that New York would be glad to be rid of it, on account of the terrific expense. Under those circumstances, Montreal better think real well about it.

SUGAR AND SPICE

MAKES YOU WONDER

Is everything cut-and-dried, black-and-white, for you? Or do you sometimes wonder? I do. Here are some of the things I wonder about. Maybe you can supply the answers.

What is it about spring that turns normally tolerant, sweet-faced, mild-eyed women into tail-twitching, yellow-eyed tigers who prowl the premises in a perpetual rage, snarling, "Lift that barge, tote that bail, wash those windows, paint that trim?"

Second question. Why are normally devil-may-care, lion-hearted chaps, who would mix it up with an adult male gorilla if they didn't like the look on the ape's face, frightened white, at this time of year, by these 110-pound tigers?

How do you tell a nice mother, wearing rose-colored glasses, that her son, whom she insists is going to be a brilliant surgeon, will be lucky if he catches a job at the supermarket meat counter?

Why does the sun beat down unmercifully when I wear a raincoat while trout fishing? And why, when I don't take a raincoat, and the inevitable cloudburst comes, am I always a mile and a half down the stream from my car?

What kind of nuts is the world producing these days? First example. The other night there was a teenage rumble near here. Police and firemen broke it up. One kid was hand cuffed and stuffed in the police car. The cops jumped out to aid fellow officers. The kid jumped out the other side presumably to aid himself. Four days later, he turned himself in, still handcuffed. What did he do during those four days? I mean, did he ever try to...uh...well, you get the idea?

Second example. Maybe you read this in the paper. Fellow named George Wilson was arrested. Why? Because he had just thrown Harold Wilson (no relation) through a plate-glass window. As Harold lay there in his own blood, he protested vigorously, the arrest of George. "Hey! You can't do that! He's my buddy" Figure that one out.

What, short of going up and strangling the lot, can I do about the black squirrels who hold bowling matches, foot races, country-style hoedowns, and hootenannies in my attic, in the dead of night, every night?"

Why are 14-year-old daughters so dreadful? They are sullen, sulky, stubborn, slouchy, grouchy, pouty, resentful. They fight with their mothers. They wreck the third pair of nylons in three days. They weep wildly at the slightest admonition.

Why are 14-year-old daughters so wonderful? (This is the next day). They are sunshine, not showers. They are helpful, not hopeless. They are sweet and shy and funny and full of vitality and eager to learn and idealistic and you wonder what you did to deserve such a bundle of blessedness.

Why do 17-year-old sons think their parents should be put in wheelchairs and trundled off to an institution for the feebleminded? And why do they get that long-suffering look when dad is telling them something extremely important, like how hard he used to work in school? And why do they laugh tolerantly when mother, whom they tower over, is dispensing pearls of wisdom, like if you don't get enough sleep you won't grow up to be big and strong and wise like your father?

Why do the wives think their cancer, or their heart attack, or arthritis, or piles or whatever they have every morning at breakfast, is so much more serious than the genuine ailments of the poor wretch hiding behind his paper, across the table?

And why do all wives, everywhere, think they can't trust their husbands with liquor, other women, the children's upbringing, or the best china?

This is the age of questionnaires. I'm sure you have some of your own.

Send them along, and we'll make up the first sensible questionnaire in the 20th Century, even if nobody in the world knows the answers.

The Not-So-Comfortable Pew

By Keitha K. MacIntosh

IT IS QUITE OBVIOUS to habitual church-goers that the gentleman who lately referred to the Protestant pew as one of comfort, has not recently been seated therein. Let me describe to Mr. Burton a typical Sunday morning service spent in so-called comfort and he may begin to see that far from being comfortable, it is frequently an hour of sustained torture when the psyche is stretched on the Christian rack, passed down to us from the martyrs. And even the spiritual triumph that sustained the martyrs as they were devoured by lions or consumed by flames is denied us, for the martyr was aware of his sacrifice and made it a public performance, but there is no one to witness the inner crucifixion.

Well, Mr. Burton, to get on with Sunday morning. If you are a woman you have coped with breakfasts, early and late ones, with ears to wash before dinner.

Next may come an announcement that clothing is being collected for Korea. This will undoubtedly be accompanied by a heart-rending picture of homeless war widows and starving children and finish off with the soul searing question, Don't we as Christians CARE? Try that, Mr. Burton, while you're struggling to remember whether you forgot to turn on the roast and whether the pie can be stretched if your mother-in-law comes to dinner.

Quebec Beginning To Air Its Pension Plan

WHILE small outlines of the Quebec Pension Plan have filtered out of the reports on it, it has never been fully aired. Now it is being studied in the Legislature and the public is getting filled in on it.

It looks like a good plan and will be payable at 65 if retired, after the plan goes into effect, however if retiring say in 1967 certain adjustments will be made up to 1976, when the plan goes into full effect. Contributions will start in January, 1966, with first benefits starting in January, 1967.

The contributory rate will be 3.6% of contributory earnings which is presumed to be the salary or wage of the employee and this is split 50/50 between employer and employee. If the presumption is correct, then a person earning $4,000 per year would have deducted on a weekly basis about $1.22 as his share of the contributory rate and his employer a like sum. This would put into the pension fund from this one employee a sum of something like $127 per year.

$5,000 is the largest salary amount that is considered as applying in the plan and $600 as the smallest amount. Thus a person who earns $5,000 or more contributes $79.20 to the plan and his boss a like amount each year, when he retires he would get $179.17 a month (or the dollar equivalent at that time) $75 coming from the Ottawa old age pension, the balance from Quebec. This is if the contributor has paid in for the full time required. Those who will only have paid in for a part of the time will have the amount adjusted accordingly.

The point is however, that those people who do not have pension schemes as part of their fringe benefits, will after 1967 be taken care of to the extent of their remaining years to age 65. The younger they are at 1967, the more likely will they be to receive full benefit and according to their salary capacity. Contributions start at 18 if such person is earning $600 or over. Contributions to the fund are also Income Tax deductible.

The plan is fully portable and the contributor gets full credit wherever he goes. It is expanded that it will also be international in its scope by the time the plan is in full effect. There are many other clauses in connection with the plan which help in other ways to keep a man's family from starvation and want. Contributors must be in possession of Social Insurance Number and if they do not already have one, they should start making enquiries about same.

This is just another step toward making sure that older citizens are taken care of when the need is required. However, further restrictions will need to be put into effect to see that these persons are not charged up to hilt when having to go to homes and such. A part of this pension should be left to them for personal wants and recreational spending if required. A practice today is to take all they receive and even when increases are made, a similar increase is made in the charges to secure all that is received. In a large number of cases, this leaves the person without a cent to buy personal needs. With a much better pension, some protection should be provided so that the pensioner is not fleeced of everything.

However, as we have said, the plan looks good.

Ormstown Fair Cancelled

On Saturday at a special meeting of the Board of Directors of the Ormstown Exhibition it was decided to cancel the 1940 fair owing to the fact that the annual federal grant of approx. $4,800 is to be cut off this year due to the effects of Canada's war programme. This will be the first year there has been a break in the consecutive string of 31 annual exhibitions.

New Huntingdon Academy To Be Opened

Unquestionably the finest school in the Chateauguay Valley and one of the most modern ones in the province, will be open on Friday afternoon.

Trees in Cemeteries Blessed

An important ceremony was held in St. Joseph's Church Cemetery, Huntingdon, on Sunday for the blessing of the 125 trees which had been planted in the cemeteries of the Catholic Church, at the Huntingdon Convent and at St. Joseph's School.

Rev. Father Pigeon stated that there are more than one thousand persons buried in this cemetery, and they are the pioneers of this parish. It is only just and fair that we should upkeep their resting place as well as possible.

Shades of Ye Old Days

Soil taken from the excavation at the Huntingdon Academy building site is being used to level the ground in the front of The Gleaner plant preparatory to making a lawn of it. During the spreading of it Jerry Ryan came across an interesting piece of metal. It was a piece from an old oxen shoe which had been buried deep in the soil about the Huntingdon Academy.

Anglican Bishop to Visit

Rt. Rev. Arthur Carlisle, Bishop of Montreal, will visit the parish of St. John's on Sunday, May 26 for confirmation.

"COUNTRY NOTEBOOK"

BY WALKER RILEY

"Country Notebook" by Mr. Walker Riley, Agricultural Extension Specialist with Macdonald College appears in The Gleaner with this edition. The column will be a weekly feature which we trust will be of interest to all in the Chateauguay Valley.

More summer feed with Sorghum — Sudangrass hybrids. The new miracle crop. A five-way forage for your farm. These are the headlines which have stirred so much interest in this new annual forage in the last year or two. Five or six companies have developed their own trade-marked varieties.

In the warmer parts of Quebec, Sorghum — Sudangrass may well be worth a cautious trial. But don't look for the spectacular results reported from south of the border. It's basically a southern crop and needs long periods of hot weather.

Sorghum-Sudan hybrids are used mostly as an alternative crop to Sudan grass or corn for a green-chop forage or mid-summer pasture. They do give some regrowth after cutting or grazing which corn does not. They are reported satisfactory also as silage, but hard to harvest as haylage or hay.

There have not been sufficient local trials to judge this new crop fairly. It was grown last year at Macdonald College with moderate success. And it will be in the plots again this year. Of its two parents, Sudan grass does well here in hot summers, but can fail completely in cool seasons.

Sorghum is adapted to the hot, drier areas of the United States.

In Ontario where it has been tried for three years, it consistently outyielded Sudan grass and approached corn in dry-matter yield when allowed to grow to maturity. But it was lower in feeding value than corn. And when it was cut or grazed more than once, total yields were considerably reduced. Regrowth has not been spectacular.

Here is a summary of production practices gathered from several sources. Generally the crop is handled like corn. Seed ten days or two weeks later than corn, preferably on fall ploughing, 10 to 25 lbs. per acre in 7, 14 or 20 inch rows. Like corn, high fertility is needed, but don't drill in more than 150 lbs fertilizer with the seed. Control weeds with Atrazine, one lb. active per acre before the crop is up, or with 6 oz. 2-4-D Amine per acre when the plants are 6 to 8 inches tall.

Start grazing in strips when plants are 18 inches high. Don't pasture shorter than 6 inches, to encourage regrowth. Or green-chop when in the 24 to 48 inch range. Because of some slight risk of prussic acid poisoning, don't feed the crop after frost until it is well dried out. My own feeling is that there might be a place for this crop in south-west Quebec as August pasture on farms where corn in not grown. But where corn is grown, it will be more efficient to plant an extra few acres for green-chopping when pasture runs short. If you are outside the corn belt, then Sorghum-Sudan hybrids are not likely to do well, either.

Round Byre and Ring

By FRANK NAPIER

Ormstown Exhibition is just around the corner, so to speak as evidenced by the news items regarding same in last week's Gleaner. Particularly so the list of judges. Since the light horse show is now one of the major features, as were the heavy horses of former years, it is interesting to note that both the Harness and Saddle Division will be judged by an outstanding horseman and horsewoman, respectively. The same also as regards the Holstein, Ayrshire and Jersey classes. The Holstein judge, Sam Rathwell of Navan, is an outstanding long time breeder in the Ottawa Valley area, whose herd has several outstanding R.O.P. records to its credit. The Ayrshire judge, Laurence McOuat of Ashburn, Ont., is originally a member of an old time Lachute, Que. Ayrshire family with an outstanding record as a Herdsman and Herd Manager, in the latter instance, presently of the Reidell Ayrshire herd which was formerly the Ann Brae herd.

The Jersey classes will be judged by Alister E. McArthur, owner of the Cherry Bank Ayrshire herd. However, during the past several years, as a Type Classification Inspector for Ayrshires, Jerseys and Guernseys he had attained considerable knowledge of Jerseys; apparently sufficiently so to warrant his being selected by the Jersey men as their judge at Ormstown.

No Free Passes

Following a procedure of several years standing on the part of several Western Canada Fairs, the Western Fair of London, Ont., will this year try out a new policy. With the exception of the Midway, eats and souvenirs, the new policy is designed to give visitors free attractions and entertainment throughout the grounds, as well as free grand stand shows and free horse show. To achieve this a new policy is set for the perimeter gates. It eliminates the old pass privileges and complimentary tickets. Even directors and staff will be required to pay outside admissions. The gate admission, good for the whole day, will be $1.00 for adults and 25c for children.

Balig Animals

We are not aware of the relationship of the Balig-bred herd sires at Burnside Farms of R.R. Ness & Sons Ltd., Howick, and the Clear Brook Farms of Allan H. Wilson & Son, Franklin Centre, to the Balig winners at this year's Classic Ayr Show, but they are doubtless more or less of the same strain or bloodlines.

In a class of 25 heifers-in-milk in the Quey (heifer) Derby, John McIlwain & Son of Balig won first with Balig Yellow Kate 5th., which heifer subsequently won the Champion Silver Cup for the best female and the Ladykirk Perpetual Cup for the breeder of the Quey Derby winner.

Incidentally, the Quey Derby is a long standing Ayr Show event (in Canada and U.S.A. known as a Futurity Class) for which the entrants are nominated when calves. In this instance there was a catalogue entry of 103 of which, however, only 25 were forward, evidencing that only the very best were exhibited.

Balig also won first in the following open classes — Cow or heifer in milk born after August 1, 1962, on Balig Yellow Kate 5th (winner of the Derby); Cow in milk (born 1961) on Balig Dorothy 27th., also several other prizes including first for pair of cows or heifers in milk.

Groundhogs

Groundhogs may not be so numerous in this area as they are in some areas, but the following recipe for their eradication, as given in Farmer's Advocate may be of interest. In this instance a correspondent wrote:

"When groundhogs invade a garden, one might as well give up. I had extra early cabbage transplanted and next morning the leaves were eaten off. The carrots were trimmed to the ground, and even some strawberry leaves were sampled. I took a couple of dozen cabbage plants to a friend and told him of my trouble. He advised me to get a bottle of carbon bisulphide, which I promptly did.

"The fumes from this chemical are heavier than air. When sprinkled until saturated, a handful of rags was poked as far down the hole as possible, then it and any other entrance were plugged with stones or chunks of wood, and covered with garden weed trash. I had nearly a dozen holes to treat at intervals and a little later a new hole was dug right beside the cellar foundation wall. "Groundhog (or woodchuck) holes are a nuisance in hay or grain fields, especially those with sandy or gravelly subsoil. But this way of getting rid of them seems safe and sure. It certainly saved my garden from destruction this past spring."

Eastern Breeders Inc.

Victor McCalpin, Gananoque, Ont., was recently installed as President of Eastern Breeders Inc., of which Artificial Insemination Service this area is a unit. A dairy farmer and a longtime supporter of "A.I.", Mr. McCalpin was elected an Executive of Eastern Breeders when same was formed as the result of the amalgamation of Quinte District Cattle Breeding Association and the Eastern Ontario Cattle Breeding Association. Other Officers elected were W. F. Moore, Cobourg, Ont., as 1st. Vice-President; Raymond Kemp, Ramsayville, Ont., as 2nd. Vice-President; with Gordon Parks, Bloomfield; John Thompson, Brinston as Executive Directors, plus Russell Osborne as Immediate Past President.

Fly Time

Fly time is just around the corner. Insecticides to control them may seem expensive but their cost is only a small percentage of the harm they do. Experimental work at the University of Illinois proves that for each stable fly per cow, milk flow is reduced 0.7 per-cent there's a 10-14% production loss per cow between mid-June and mid-September if stable flies are not controlled. Sanitation, screening and insecticides all have a role to play in controlling flies on your dairy farm.

as a cash crop. It hasn't as high value per acre as corn or sugar beets, or even barley, but it can be handled with the usual farm machinery. It will do well outside the corn area, there is a guaranteed market, and it transports easily. The area seeded to flax in Quebec has jumped from 5000 to 35,000 acres in the last ten years.

Usual yields are in the 15 to 25 bushel range; the highest I have head of is 38 bushels per acre. Last fall, the price was $3.08 bushel. The year before it was close to $4.00.

Recently, I went with the students on a tour of the Canada Linseed Company plant in Montreal — the principal buyers of Quebec-grown flax. Mr. Schiller, the company's agronomist told me they could use five times as much local material. They prefer it because it saves the cost of freight from the west.

The company therefore has an active program to encourage flax growing. They will supply seed on loan, guarantee a market in the fall, and provide free storage until January. The grower may name the day of sale and take that day's market price. Mr. Schiller says he will give on-the-farm advice to new growers, and will meet with groups interested in pooling their resources. I understand that there is provincial transportation assistance for growers outside of a reasonable distance from Montreal.

Flax grows well on any clean soil that is suitable for cereals but does best on the heavier loams that retain moisture well. Because of its rather limited root systems, it may not thrive on sandy soils, is rather drought susceptible, and competes poorly with weeds.

Flax is one of the few grains that tolerate both herbicides that kill grassy weeds and those that kill broad-leaved ones. It responds less to fertilizer than most grains. In Quebec, the variety Marine has been commonly used, but Norland gave very good results last year.

There are several sources of information. Canada Department of Agriculture has a bulletin, No. 545 — "Growing Flax"; we have a supply of these at the college. There was an article on flax growing in Quebec in the November 1964 Macdonald Farm Journal. The Quebec Department of Agriculture is preparing a new bulletin, and the Canada Linseed Company can give personal service.

Ormstown High School Notes

We present the results of the Intermediate Track and Field Meet held in Ormstown on May 15, we regret that as yet there is not a complete report on the Senior Event held in Chateauguay on the same day, however, congratulations to Rita Barrington and Steve Heizler, both of whom won top honors in all events, by placing first.

Wednesday, May 19 a final debate for the trophy took place between Grades nine and ten with grade ten winning the argument that, "Unmarried Life is better than married Life". The stalwarts upholding the theory were Jim Sproule, Dale Begbie and J. Moore. Come on now fellows.

Final Oral French Exams have been completed by grades ten and eleven. All available spare time is being spent by the band, majorettes and moppets preparing for the opening night of Ormstown Fair. A brand new routine is being worked out, under the eagle eyes of Mrs M. Coulombe, Mrs. D. Brown Bandmaster Mr. L. Cullen and our school board chairman Mr. B. McGerrigle.

A track meet is scheduled for May 29, in Valleyfield We wish the representatives from Ormstown High every success.

Rockburn

ROCKBURN — The Lady of Shady Lane is back after spending 10 days at the Barrie Memorial Hospital, Ormstown, after having surgery, and wishes to thank all who made it a pleasant stay, even the Lady herself was not always cheerful; Dr. John McCallum; each nurse individually, although I would not remember your names; all my dearest friends who sent flowers; my Franklin W.I. members for cards and gifts. I am sure if anyone ever be in hospital would know just how wonderful it is to receive a card with a cheerful greeting and the sender's name. Thanks for the surprise birthday cake from Mrs. Sandra Lindsay; to the Frontier Boy Scout Group Committee for flowers, and Beagle Club, for flowers.

Now the ladies that are getting ready for the Fair coming up in June, the afghan class, watch out: I have a knock-out of an afghan ready, so let's get thinking of the Fair. Of course, I am slowed up for the next 6 weeks but my thoughts are full of the Fair. See you all at the Fair, and again, from my heart, my deepest thanks to the nurses who cared for me and Dr. John McCallum.

The Hungarian couple that Mr. and Mrs. Lewis took in 9 years ago, Mrs. Fried and young son Louis, is now visiting at Shady Lane for a couple of weeks.

Just over the week-end, at Shady Lane, were Georgina from Iona Academy, Ont., Mr and Mrs. Ken Lanktree and children, from Malone, Mr and Mrs. Jean Brault and family from Verdun.

and a container of fresh water. The Department of Transport regulations require that every pleasure boat not over 18 feet in length carry the following: One approved small vessel lifejacket or lifesaving cushion for each person on board; two oars and rowlocks or two paddles; and one bailer or one manual pump.

If properly stowed, the required and recommended equipment will not interfere with your fun. But, in case of emergency, it will be ready for immediate use.

Traffic regulations have been adopted to make automobile travel as safe and enjoyable as possible. The same is true of boating. Rules of the road have been established to insure maximum safety afloat and, when correctly followed, they even add to the fun of boating.

Both newcomers and veterans should occasionally review these rules. Here's a guide prepared by the Outboard Marine News Bureau. The smart skipper also checks additional regulations on the lake where he plans to do his boating.

MEETING — When two boats approach head on, each skipper steers to the right or starboard and the boats pass port side to port side.

OVERTAKING — When one boat is overtaking another, he must keep clear of the slower boat.

CROSSING — Similar to automobile regulations, the person to the operator's right has the right of way, and you must give way to him. If necessary, the operator is required to slow down, stop or reverse his craft to accomplish this.

GETTING UNDERWAY — Boats leaving slips, wharves and piers have no rights until they are in open water. Therefore, you must proceed with caution.

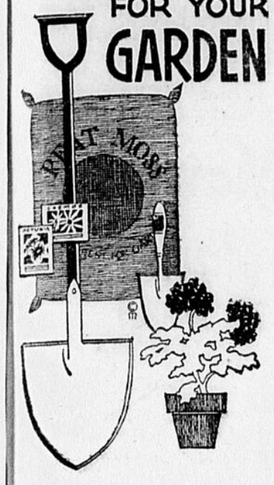

SAILBOATS — With only one exception, the sailboat has the right of way over power craft. This only exception is the unlikely situation of a sailboat passing a power craft.

FISHING BOATS — Take it easy when you are passing near fishermen. Fishing boats whether anchored or underway with nets, lines or trawls out, have the right of way.

ACCIDENTS — In any emergency, it is the duty of the boatman to stand by and render all possible assistance.

COURTESY — Many day-to-day boating situations do not come under written regulations. The answer then is simple common sense and boating courtesy. Just remember one thing: Would you like it if the other boatmen were doing the same thing?

Dundee

DUNDEE — Last Friday evening, Mr. C. Walter Smallman was guest speaker at the May meeting of the U.C.W. of Zion United Church. Mr. Smallman is curator and owner of the Fort Covington Historical Museum. He illustrated his talk by showing slides of people who lived during the early part of this century, also of places and buildings as they appeared many years ago. They recalled nostalgic memories to many in the audience. Mr. Smallman gave much of the history of "The Lost Dauphin of France" who is believed to have been the Reverend Elzear Williams, who was once well known in the vicinity of the Fort and Hogansburg, N.Y.

In introducing the speaker, Mrs. Donald Fraser reminded her listeners how fortunate we, of the beautiful St. Lawrence Valley, are to have had our history preserved by such writers as Robert Sellar, Robert Fraser, Rev. Hagar, Walter Smallman and others.

The meeting opened with a short worship service, led by Mrs. A. H. Fraser. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

A Sunday School workshop was held in Montreal West United Church, May 14-16. Mrs. Clarence Platt and Mrs. A. H. Fraser, teachers of the Intermediate and Junior Classes in Zion United Church, attended. Sunday School classes in all departments were observed on Saturday and Sunday and were then evaluated. It is hoped that such a Demonstration School can be held in the Chateauguay Valley in the near future as much help for teachers can be obtained by attending such a school.

Mr. John MacMillan of Lachine and Miss Carol Arthur of Chateauguay, Que., spent the weekend with Miss Thelma and Mr. Gilbert MacMillan.

"Why The Sea Is Boiling Hot" Studied By U.C. Women Unit 1

Unit Number 1 of United Church Women held an interesting meeting on Wednesday, May 12th at the home of Mrs. A. Sellar. Twenty-five ladies were present with Unit Leader, Mrs. G. McHardy presiding. Mrs. McHardy welcomed all present and expressed thanks to Mrs. Sellar for her hospitality.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. E. Darby, who read two poems, followed by prayer. The poems were entitled, "Cleaning the Cupboards of our hearts", and "If God Forgot the World".

Mrs. R. Beal conducted the study period, which was based on the first six chapters of "Why the Sea is Boiling Hot", a Symposium on The Church and The World, which was published in 1965 under the direction of the Board of Evangelism and Social Service of The United Church of Canada. Mrs. Beal's review of these chapters was instructive and extremely interesting, the ladies were held in rapt attention and their interest in this controversial book was thoroughly aroused. Printed sheets containing questions relative to the chapters which had been studied, were distributed for further study at home.

The business meeting included reports by Secretary, Mrs. J. McCoy and Treasurer, Mrs. C. Reid. A clothing drive is being held in May. A committee was appointed to work on the program for the General meeting which is being held on June 23rd with arrangements in charge of Unit No. 1; those appointed to this committee are Mrs. G. W.
