EIGHTY-NINTH YEAR

Memorial Wing, Huntingdon County Hospital to Provide Nine Extra Beds

Will Be Fireproof Addition at Rear of Present Building

Huntingdon County Hospital Memorial Wing to the honor of the late Dr. H. R. Clouston is to provide space for nine extra beds, standard operating room and various other desirable features. The Memorial will be a fire-proof addition located at the rear of the present building. The X-Ray equipment will be moved to a new location and the present room made into Hospital Office. Such in brief, was the information given out at the annual meeting of the Huntingdon County Hospital, on Thursday evening.

Mr. W. E. Barrie, who has been a Hospital Governor since the founding of the Hospital, was made an Honorary Governor. Other Honorary Governors are N. F. Manning and Adam L. Sellar.

In the absence of Gilbert MacMillan, Chairman of Board of Governors, the Vice-Chairman, Francois Cleyn, presided. Mr. Cleyn, after making his preliminary remarks, presented the report as prepared by Mr. MacMillan. The report reads as follows:

CHAIRMAN'S REPORT

We are again assembled in our Annual Meeting of the members of the Huntingdon County Hospital, and you will be presented with the Financial Statement and Medical Superintendent's report, which will show a considerable increase in patients given service.

The work of the Hospital has followed the usual course, and has given real service to the community. We have perhaps had wider variations in the volume of work between quiet and rush periods, with the latter emphasizing the need for more accommodation. The major event of the year was the joint drive to raise funds for both the Huntingdon County Hospital and the Barrie Memorial Hospital at Ormstown, of which you will receive a special report.

We think this meeting should put on record its appreciation of the work voluntarily done during the campaign. I think it should also send some appreciation to Mr. Turner of Plattsburg, N.Y., for his many donations to the Hospital, not the least of which was the closing in of the front porch, which added to both the appearance and comfort of the Hospital. I would suggest that the painting of this be attended to at once.

While there have been considerable changes in the staff, the work was carried on without interruption, and splendid co-operation rendered by everyone.

The major problem confronting this year will be the addition of the Clouston Memorial Wing, to which you must give serious consideration, and all the aid possible. Due to the death of Mrs. MacMillan I am asking Mr. Cleyn, the Vice-Chairman, to take over my duties at this meeting, and would further ask that I be relieved of active duty for this year. My plans at the moment are very uncertain, and I may not be available for much of the summer. I do, however, intend to remain in Huntingdon, and in later years will be willing to assume a share of the work in connection with the Hospital which I consider of very great importance to the community.

Signed: Gilbert MacMillan.

Protest Closing Chateaugay Port of Entry

The decision of the United States Customs to close the Chateaugay Port of Entry from 12:00 midnight Saturdays until 8:00 a.m. Sundays brought protests from local business men this week who fear that this curtailment of service will considerably hamper local trade from Canadians.

Many people from across the border come to Chateaugay on Saturday nights to shop and seek entertainment. It is now necessary for them to re-enter Canada before midnight or else make the long trip through other American Customs.

With the arrival of spring and better traveling conditions the usual number of Saturday night visitors from across the border normally shows a sharp increase.

The Chateaugay Chamber of Commerce voiced its protest this week to Leo Trombley, the Collector of Customs; Senator Irving M. Ives and Representative Clarence E. Kilburn. A copy of the letter sent to these officials is as follows:

April 4, 1952.
Honorable Clarence E. Kilburn,
Washington, D.C.

Dear Sir:
It has been brought to the attention of the Chamber of Commerce that the Customs Department has decided to close the port of Chateaugay from 12 o'clock midnight to 8 a.m. on Sunday mornings until further notice.

The Chamber of Commerce feels that this action will definitely do a great deal of damage to the tourist trade in Chateaugay, since we have a large group of people coming up from Canada over the week-end for trading, entertainment, etc. and we would like to request that if it is at all possible that the Customs Department close the port on some other morning during the middle of the week.

Whatever cooperation you can

Times Goes Ahead One Hour Saturday

Daylight Saving Time will go into effect on Saturday next, April 26th and will be in full force on Sunday morning, April 27th, for the summer months. Everyone should see that their watches and clocks are put on one hour before they go to bed on Saturday night. They should be aware that bus times will coincide with D.S.T., but trains will run on Standard Time and the times given for these will be S.T.

Keep this in mind for this Saturday and when putting out the cat remember to put the clock ahead one hour.

ELECTED PRESIDENT

G. HAYNES DAVIES of Chateaugay Heights has been elected president of the Quebec Chapter, Canadian Industrial Editors' Association for the 1952-53 session. Mr. Davies is managing editor of the Canadian Car Journal, publication of the Canadian Car and Foundry Company Limited.

Police keep Strike Front Trouble Vigil

Police in Montreal and Valleyfield are keeping close watch on the textile strike fronts as a result of week-end statements by union leaders that "if provoked, we must have another demonstration."

Madeleine Parent, chief organizer of United Textile Workers of America (AFL), and R. Kent Rowley, Canadian director of the union, have planned a new "demonstration," it was learned, but are awaiting word from their international head office about new efforts to meet officials of the Dominion Textile Co. and Montreal Cottons Ltd.

Threats of "new action" in the three-week-old strike of 6,000 workers were voiced by Miss Parent at Cafe St. Jacques Sunday night.

Similar promises of "demonstrations" were made by union leaders at Valleyfield.

Time for such "action" or "demonstrations" has not been set.

Labor Heads Scored

At the meetings Claude Jodoin, president of Montreal Trades and Labor Council, and Roger Provost, president of Quebec Federation of Labor, were blamed for confusing the real issue of the strike, which the union said was the companies' refusal to pay wages sought by the union.

The union called the walkout after refusing a 10 per cent wage increase offered by the companies. The union had asked a 21-cent hourly boost.

The union accused Azelus Beaugre, a former organizer now working for a CIO affiliate, of trying to "split" union membership during the strike.

No new proposals for settlement have been made by the union or the companies.

Excellent Attendance at Grass Land Farming Meeting

Two-day Conference is Held Under Auspices of Huntingdon Farm Forum

The first meeting of the Huntingdon Farm Forum's Grassland Farming Conference was held Monday evening in the Huntingdon High School. One hundred and thirty farmers attended to hear a panel discussion on Hay and Pasture Improvement and Farm Machinery.

Mr. Jim Davidson, secretary of the Quebec Farm Forum Association, acted as discussion chairman. The experts on the panel were Professor Howard Steppler and Professor Angus Banting, both of Macdonald College. Three district farmers completed the group: Wallace Rennie, Dan Tully and Roland Greenbank.

The discussion centered on the improvement of pastures, through better management, selection of proper species and the introduction of a good fertilization program. Emphasis was placed on the idea of setting aside a portion of the farm land for use exclusively as pasture.

The use of hay balers and forage harvesters in putting up hay was discussed but while both methods

Blood is Vital Need in Today's Medical Service

Dr. C. Harris Urges Community Minded Blood Donor Programs

On Tuesday morning, a visitor to the Gleaner Office was Dr. Cecil Harris, of the Provincial Medical Division, Red Cross Blood Service, Quebec, and he had much of interest to say about the need for blood.

As a Blood Donor Clinic is being held here on Thursday, April 24th, at the Legion Hall, Fairview Road, what Dr. Cecil Harris has to say will no doubt assist in helping to secure more donors. The following is what the doctor gave in his message:

The Red Cross has been supplying plasma for the soldiers in Korea which made the demand for plasma much greater.

"An adequate supply of fresh blood and of plasma for transfusion is essential for modern medicine and especially surgical treatment. With elimination of the epidemics, fevers, as a major cause of death, with anesthetics and antiseptics, making surgery safe and with the Sulfu Drugs and the Antibiotics to overcome infections, such as blood poisons, the most important of preventable deaths today are those due to shock and hemorrhages. The call for transfusion may come of accidents, of severe hemorrhages, especially in childbirth or because of the shock or loss of blood associated with most major operations.

"Experience throughout the world has limited the only way in which an adequate supply of the vital fluids can be assured is by community minded Blood Donor programs. On this basis, every healthy man or woman has a moral obligation to contribute. The more who volunteer the less often does each have to be called upon.

"Success of this program in Canada has been assured by the co-operation of the medical profession and of the hospitals who make no charge whatever, direct or indirect, to the patient for any blood or plasma received. Not all hospitals are yet covered, for example, the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, still has to be incorporated in this scheme. But in the meantime from a community, such as Huntingdon, which supports a Red Cross Clinic, any patient hospitalized in the Royal Victoria Hospital who required blood, will have it supplied at no cost from a Red Cross Depot in Montreal.

"To give blood is easy, painless, and cannot possibly harm the health. Those who have never given may have some fear, such fear is understandable but is quite unnecessary. The least anyone can do is to try it once.

Dave'll Never Give Up

By Harold Poltras
Daily Editorial

David B. Macfarlane

All set to receive the degree of Bachelor of Arts at Sir George Williams College, David B. Macfarlane of Daily Editorial, can now share in the feelings of around 100,000 students whose graduating ceremonies he has reported for The Star.

David Bell Macfarlane, his grey hair contrasting nicely with the black of the covering mortar board, will in May step forward with the rest of the youngsters at Sir George Williams College to accept his Bachelor of Arts diploma.

This will be the mid-way point—not the climax—in a career which in just 48 years has taken Dave from his first job as a mail carrier (at five years of age) to present-day reporting and later... well, who knows?

After all, a man who can swing a B.A. while carrying on a full-time reporting job should not have any trouble realizing the rest of his life's program, even as ambitious a one as Dave has set out for himself.

But before crystal-balling the future, let's have a look at the known past. This should give a fair estimate of what this determined Scotsman has accomplished as a mailman, milkman, farmer, merchant, salesman, householder, plumber, radio technician, painter, gardener, ping-pong ex-champ, newspaperman and scholar.

Oh yes, Dave also knows the meaning of such words as hypersynchrony, is jug-full of Freudian lore and has hopes that someday he will be member of a modern philosophy lyceum modelled after the days of Plato and Aristotle.

Probably no one in Montreal is more deserving of a sheepskin than he is. For more than 25 years, Dave has exerted himself in the competitive reporting of the graduation class of around 100,000 students of McGill and other institutions of higher learning. His is a record which will probably stand for all time.

Many of his "victims" such as fellow members of the class of '27 are today well established in the professional world. Doctor William, the African diamond king, is one of them. However, Dave has never received any of the doctor's samples.

For a quarter century, D.B.M. (not to be confused with Dominion Building Materials) has seen and written about our growth and expansion of McGill. He has written many features about the university, yet when asked recently by a freshman if he were a journalist, Mac replied: "Not I have many by-line stories to prove it."

So first arrived on the McGill campus in the fall of 1924 as a science student in Engineering Physics. He withdrew for financial reasons after his first session but after a year employed as a radiation inspector, returned to McGill this time as an arts student. He recalls that while working that first year he had realized how little he actually knew about the University. Determined to learn more, he joined The McGill Daily on his return thus receiving his "bap-

Red Cross Campaign In Valleyfield Complete Success

The annual financial campaign of the Valleyfield Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society was completed in the latter part of March although a number of subscriptions are still being received to swell the total amount collected.

This campaign carried on in Valleyfield and its environs has met with a wonderful response from the citizens. The parishes of Grande Ile, Ste. Cecile, St. Stanislas de Kostka, St. Louis de Gonzague, St. Timothee and the Village of Nitro have all played a part in the success of the campaign. The citizens of Valleyfield and these localities have contributed over $5,000 which surpassed the objective of any previous campaign total.

The General Campaign Committee wish to thank the religious bodies, the municipalities, schools, societies, industries and other groups, as well as every single person who has helped to make this campaign a success. This generous subscription to the Canadian Red Cross Society gives much needed help and encouragement to an organization that well deserves it.

Visitors From Australia At Misses Walker Home

The Misses Jean and Marie Walker of Sydney, Australia, and their two friends, Miss Beryl Farby of Sydney, and Miss Margaret Weir of Glenn Innes, arrived in Huntingdon, Que., last Wednesday night. They plan to spend two or three months visiting the Misses F and M Walker, Huntingdon, Jean and Marie are nieces of the Misses Walker and daughters of the late Montgomery Walker and Mrs. Walker of Australia.

Miss Jean Walker, the older of the two, works as a lady tracer, or a draftsman, as we call it here, and her sister, Marie, is a school teacher. Their friend, Miss Beryl Farby, is a trained nurse, in Sydney and Miss Margaret Weir lives at home on a farm at Glenn Innes, New South Wales.

The girls left Sydney by boat, the "Esperance" and visited five different countries on their trip. Their first stop was at Ceylon and then Aden, Malta, Seute, and on to Southampton, England.

Their impression of London, where they spent two weeks, was most favourable. They tell us that the lawns and flowers are much further advanced than in either Canada or Australia. They liked Scotland but their visit to Edinburgh was marred by a heavy rain.

They left Liverpool for Canada, on the "Empress of Canada" and arrived in Montreal five days later. The first nine weeks on the water were very smooth but on the last lap from Liverpool to Montreal, they hit bad weather and choppy seas. In all, they were on water ten weeks, in London two weeks and in Scotland three weeks, and one of the most outstanding things they noticed, was that on crossing the equator there was not even a tiny ripple on the ocean. They crossed the equator at the best time in the year, before the mon-

Barn Meeting at Trout River Well Attended on Saturday

Announcement Made Special Prizes Being Offered to Holstein Breeders

Over one hundred and seventy people were in attendance at the barn meeting of the Huntingdon-Ormstown Holstein Club on April 19, at the farm of J. R. Macdonald and Sons, Trout River.

Oakley McRae, Howick, President of the Club, announced that two prizes are being offered, by the club, for the highest records made by district Holstein breeders who had entered their cows for the first time this year in the Record of Performance. Similarly two prizes will be awarded for the highest records made by district Holstein breeders whose herds have been under the Record of Performance for two or more years. This being an effort to stimulate and extend R.O.P. testing in the Club Area. The winners may select either models of the Holstein True Type cow or bull or else gate or herd signs.

An effort will also be made, said the President, to interest more Holstein breeders in exhibiting at Ormstown Exhibition. In that respect arrangements will be made for looking after entries, by small breeders who cannot conveniently spare the time entailed in showing at Ormstown. A drive will also be made to interest more breeders to exhibit at the Black and White Show which will be staged at the time of Huntingdon Fair. The President also announced that the Club directors are investigating the possibility of employing a Club Sales Agent.

Hermas Lajoie, Secretary, Quebec Holstein Association, gave a Holstein type demonstration prior to the judging competitions. He was also the chief speaker at the meeting which followed the judging competitions and other bad weather.

They tell us that in Australia conditions are much more like Canada than England, as there is no shortage of meat especially. There, almost everyone works a 40 hour week and there is some shift work.

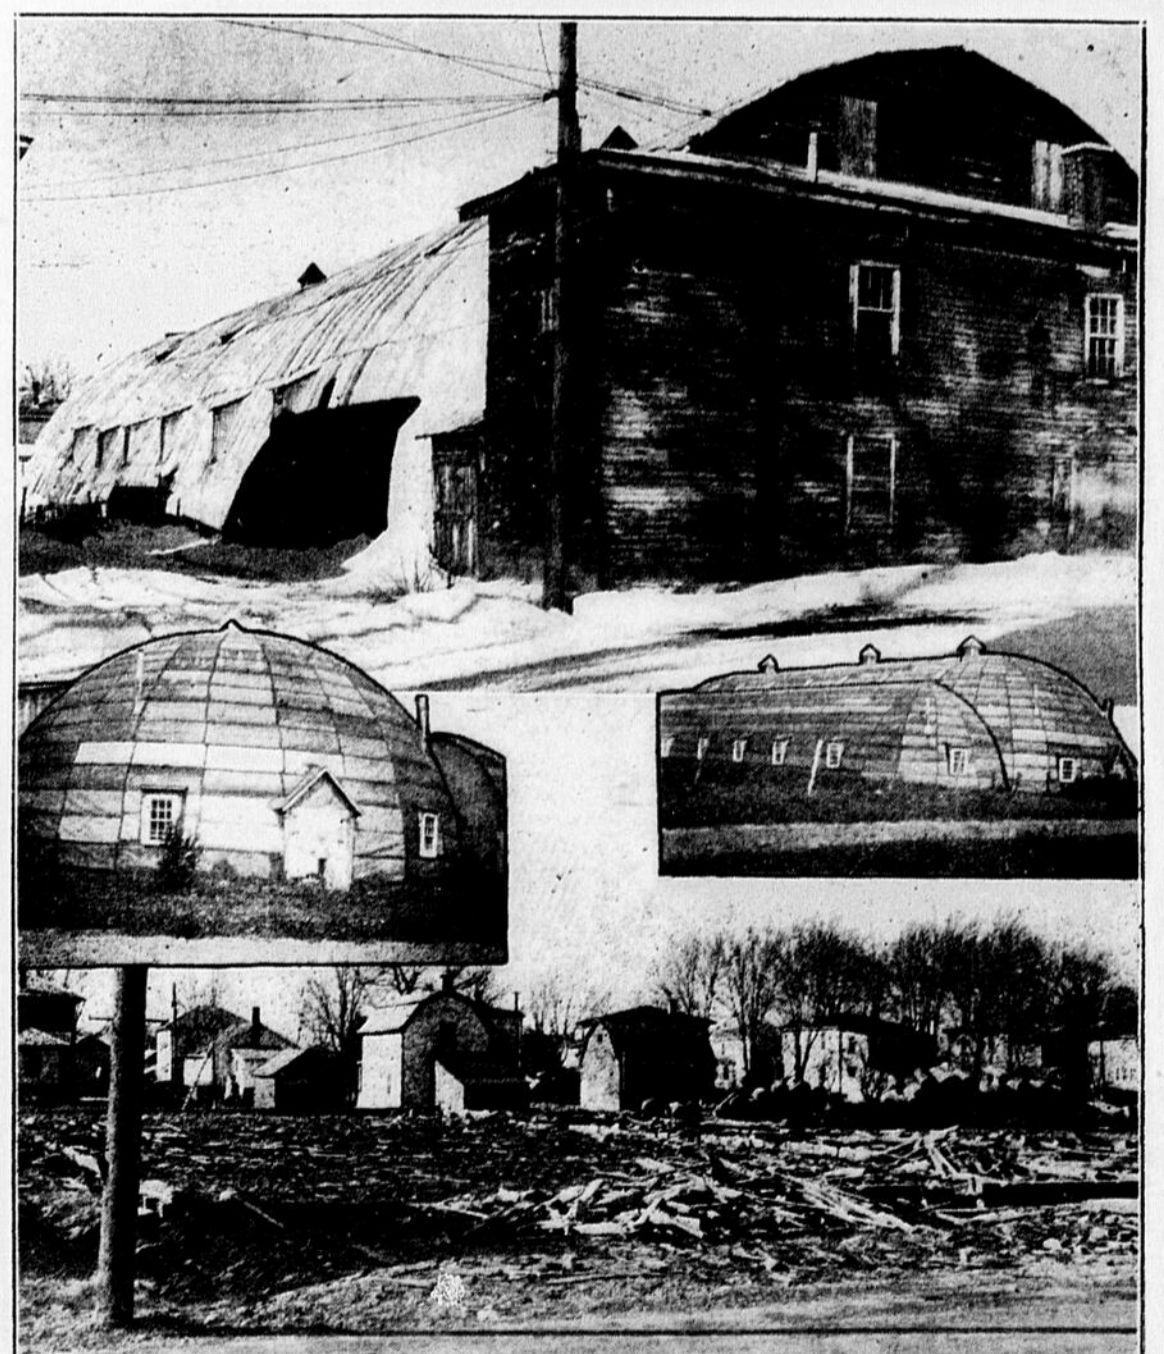

It is hoped that after the girls have been here a little longer that they will be further able to compare the Canadian and Australian ways and give us a better idea of their country.

Tenders Being Called For New Customs Houses

Word was received Wednesday morning that tenders are being called for the building of new Customs Houses at two points in the Huntingdon County area. These new buildings are those to be erected at Herdman and Covey Hill.

Both of these were mentioned in the article published in The Gleaner a few weeks ago which stated that sums of money had been allotted for this purpose.

An Original Has Been Lost

Huntingdon no longer has a skating rink, yet for years it was a proud boast that it had a covered rink for all who would want to use it. But then this rink had stood for many years and despite the constant work of making repairs, its strength finally gave out and it became unsafe. Pictured above in the top of the photograph is the rink before it was pulled down this past winter. Inset below are two views of the original rink. At right, one can see the lean-to's at the side of the skating rink which housed the sheets of curling ice in days gone by. There was one of these on either side. On the left is shown the front of the skating rink. Later these were taken down and the front of the skating rink was squared off as in the top photograph. The lower section shows the lot on which the skating rink stood until it was taken down. A lot belonging to the town is at the right where the rolls of snowflake can be seen piled up. The original rink as shown in the insets was built in the year 1907 and opened in 1908. It is hoped that a new rink will be built in the not too distant future and perhaps a start can be made on it this summer with its possible use again for next winter.

Easter Pageant
ATHELSTAN—The friends from Rockburn repeated their Easter Pageant in the Athelstan Presbyterian Church Hall on Sunday evening, with a good representation of listeners from both congregations. An introductory service was opened by the smaller boys singing "Jesus Keep Me Near the Cross." Mr. Mawhinney read the story of the Resurrection from Mark's gospel and led in prayer. Mrs. Mawhinney sang "The Holy City." Then the curtains were drawn for the presentation of the Pageant, which was carried through without a break, showing much careful preparation. Mrs. Trainer and Miss Alice Cain sang a number of appropriate hymns throughout. The various age groups also sang, with the closing hymn, "Christ the Lord is Risen" sung by all. A voluntary offering amounted to $21.50 which will augment the funds of the two W.M.S. groups. The thanks of the local W.M.S. Auxiliary are due to Mrs. Gibson, pianist, Mrs. Trainer and all others who helped to present the Pageant.

Commission to Study Distribution and Sale Of Farm Products

QUEBEC. (CP)—A three-man commission created at the last session of the Quebec Legislature to look into the distribution and sale of farm products has been appointed and will set to work immediately. The commission is made up of Magistrate Georges-Henri Heon of Montreal, chairman; Abel Marion, president of the Catholic Farmers' Union, and Antonio Larue of Neuville, Portneuf county prefect. Premier Duplessis, announcing formation of the commission, said at his regular press conference last week: "Many persons complain that the producer—that is the farmer—does not get a just and adequate price and that on the other hand, the consumer is obliged to pay too high a price for farm products... These problems are very complicated and it is necessary to study them and gather all the information necessary to find a solution." The premier said the government will apply the commission's recommendations "if they are found to be in the interest of the province."

That the solution of housing and unemployment problems were intimately linked with a sound immigration policy; 3. ## Huntingdon County Hospital Progress

AT this time of year we hear much about hospital reports and in every case a deficit of lesser or greater degree is recorded. It just seems that hospitals are not in business for profit and after all, considering their business is treatment for human sufferers, it is hardly proper to capitalize on misfortunes. Just the same, hospitals cannot continue to operate if they are unable to meet their expenses.

Last week we published the report of Barrie Memorial Hospital and there was a deficit in the operating account; this week we publish the report of Huntingdon County Hospital and here again, there is a deficit in the operating account. In both cases the deficit is not too large and neither does it reflect anything upon the efficient administration of the institutions. It merely shows that the revenue is insufficient to support the running expenses.

There is one way to offset these deficits and that is higher rates per patient per day. This is not a remedy that any hospital is anxious to impose however, as it is felt that rates are high enough as it is. One other way is for more people to make donations and bequests and thus increase the revenue from this source. In some cases an increased grant from the government would work wonders.

However, all told, the report of the Huntingdon County Hospital can be considered very good and it is shown that the deficit was considerably cut down by increases in donations of cash and kind during the year. There is still need for such donations in each and every year. The drive put on last year did much to increase the number of annual memberships and it is to be hoped that these will be renewed when they expire.

Plans are underway to build a new wing to the hospital, to be known as the Dr. Clouston Memorial Wing. This will provide increased accommodation that has been needed for some time past and allow for better working of the hospital in general. Funds were raised through the recent campaign for this purpose and several people contributed independently to this fund.

Aside from the fact that this wing is to be a memorial, it is a progressive step and the fact that this hospital is able to progress is a very healthy sign. It shows that the people feel a need of this institution in their midst and are willing to support it. This is most encouraging in itself and when the new wing is built and in operation, we feel sure the community will benefit greatly by the investment made. With such faith and continued support, The Huntingdon County Hospital will continue to aid the people of this community and provide a place where those needing it will receive the care and attention they seek.

Watch The Children

ON Monday, school children again began the daily trek to schools throughout the district, following the Easter recess. In the meantime Spring has actually opened up and the highways and roads are now clear of the snow of winter and more cars are appearing on them daily. Car travel has started its annual sequence.

Not only from our district, but all over the province, reports have already been made public of children being struck down by cars and trucks. Not in all cases have the children been to blame and this makes such accidents all the more serious. Lives have been lost and injuries sustained.

With this in view, we want to make an appeal to all motorists to exercise extra care where children are playing and near schools and when school buses are taking on or discharging their charges. Despite warnings given by parents to exercise care, children are most apt to forget when they are engaged in play. Their reasoning power is not as advanced as adults and this must be taken into consideration — they are after all, just children. It is better to slow down if a school bus has stopped, until sure that the children will not dart across the road in front of your vehicle. When children are playing, it is better to sound a warning of your approach and then slow down so that you can control your car if an emergency arises. It is not always possible to attract the attention of a child engaged in play, by the warning of your approach, so take extra precautions.

There are some children who defy the car driver, by remaining on the road and daring the car to come on. Parents should instruct their children against such practices as it is hardly fair to expect the driver of a car to take all the precautions. Very small children should be discouraged from playing on the road, for their actions are most unpredictable. To allow such children to play on the road amounts to carelessness on the part of the parents, even if the road is little used by traffic. Early training will help avoid many later accidents.

Speeding in towns is something that should be checked upon and those responsible for such acts should be quickly punished by law. The speed limit in Huntingdon is twenty miles per hour and yet there are many who travel at far greater speed. In some cases and on some streets, this speed can be still further cut down as the hazards are too great for excessive speed. The driver must be prepared to exercise caution at all times and to drive his car or truck according to the hazards he knows to exist.

Promising Discoveries

TWO medical discoveries that may pre-empt the elimination of one of the scourges of mankind have been announced in the United States.

First, 20 human volunteers have consumed polio virus and thereby were made immune to the disease. The virus had been weakened beforehand, but it still could prompt the human body to make antibodies or natural disease-fighters against it.

Second, it has been learned that the polio virus apparently gets into the blood first, before it enters nerves and destroys them to cause paralysis. And while the virus still is in the blood, it can be killed by giving antibodies by injection. The antibodies will come from human blood. Many people have had polio without even knowing it, because they made their own antibodies to destroy the virus.

What do these discoveries mean? They may mean control of polio, in the long run — or they may be merely two more steps in medicine's gradual collection of information that will lead at some later time to a means of control.

Politics and Unions

RESPONSIBLE trade union leaders in Canada have been more than skeptical about the wisdom of trade union organization becoming involved in direct political action. A notable exception to this point of view is the Canadian Congress of Labour, which for a number of years has been formally affiliated with the CCF party.

This was a marriage of convenience born of the gloom and depression of the thirties, and the Canadian Congress of Labour has more often than not been confronted with serious criticism from among its own membership because of the decision to tie this branch of organized labour to the political star of the CCF. Never, however, has the relationship proved more embarrassing than in recent weeks. For, by some unfortunate quirk of fate, the CCF party's newly-announced line of anti-Americanism in foreign policy has found an unhappy parallel in the feud between CCL president A. R. Mosher and United Steelworkers director Charles Millard.

Mr. Mosher's quarrel with Mr. Millard revolves about the issue of "domination" of the trade union movement in Canada by American union bosses. The CCF party's policy line revealed a few days ago by the national council of the party is also concerned with American "domination," this time of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The significance of the fact that both the national council of the CCF and an official publication of a trade union body headed by CCL president A. R. Mosher should have chosen to give utterance to charges of American "domination" in two distinct areas of interest almost simultaneously will not be lost upon those who believe that politics and unions should not be mixed. — The Printed Word.

On the valentines going their yearly round on Monday they found that there had been practically no new buildings erected during the last twelve months. They made few changes and the roll remains substantially as it was.

There are heavy deliveries of coal being made. John Hunter is unloading at the Boyd and Co. 11. The price for immediate delivery, spot cash, is $6.45 per ton of 2,000 lbs.

The burial ground of the Catholic church having become filled, the procurator of more land has been forced upon the congregation. Negotiations with Major Whyte resulted in his offering whatever land might be required in the field east of the church. Surveyor Sullivan is at the moment today when it will be decided how much of it will be taken. The price agreed on is $300.

Persons who have sold real estate of late have been annoyed to find, on passing deeds how heavy the new tax on transfers is. On one transaction the amount payable to the government was $90. The tax is 1 1/2 per cent on the amount of sale and until paid the deed cannot be registered. Mercier's extravagance and robbery has left its sting for honest and thrifty folk.

They have already caused the death of several animals on the American side. They are described as resembling the house fly but not quite so large and of a greenish tint. A man near the Fort has just been telling me that, upon examination he found his cattle infested by them. They use an oil for killing and keeping them off.

Weekly Review

Gluttonous For Problems

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

"Questions People Ask" is the title of a new book containing a series of sermons preached by Rev. Robert J. McCracken to crowded congregations in Riverside Church in New York. The book is reviewed in The British Weekly of March 13 by Rev. Murdoch Ewan MacDonald (obviously a Scot) and he offers some rather sharp criticism of that type of preaching, which he thinks is being over-emphasized especially in America. "God knows," he says, "we have enough problems without looking for one every week in place of a text. This problem preaching may have its place within strict limits, but too much of it in the present state of the world becomes sickening and trivial." He quotes Prof. Lucock of Yale as saying: "There are preachers who are so mesmerized by all things modern that they would change scripture to read, 'Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will reduce your blood pressure,' and only succeed in comforting the sentimental and neurotic."

Mr. MacDonald thinks that this kind of preaching is "fraught with all sorts of dangers, and congregations exposed to it develop a gluttonous appetite for problems." That is a timely preachment to the preachers who, as Mr. MacDonald says, no longer deal with "the question of all questions, 'What think ye of Christ?'" He might have added that other question, "What shall I do to be saved?" to which the Christian churches have or used to have an explicit and positive answer. But that question has become so involved with political, economic and psychological problems that the real answer is forgotten and the poor sinner is confused. He can't make up his mind whether the way to salvation is to join the C.C.F., become a Communist, or to consult a psychiatrist. But the preachers are not altogether to be blamed for this confusion. Most of them are faithful to their commission, and Dr. McCracken was doubtless doing his best to unravel all the questions people were asking him. Most of the questions, however, are foolish ones such as could be and must be answered by the people themselves and with a little common sense and personal responsibility. But that kind of individualism is out of date, and ambitious politicians and quick economists claim to have all the answers.

The radio indeed has developed into a regular problem factory. The CBC has a special department that is devoted to thinking-up some new problem for discussion on its weekly "People's Forum," with the result that people are becoming more and more problem-conscious. They never realized before that they had so many problems, or that those they were aware of could be solved so easily by the government. This idea naturally appeals to many people because it elevates Government to the position of a sort of divine Providence and offers them relief from any personal responsibility for their present shortcomings and future needs. If that were all man required for his happiness or contentment in this life, then Communism, theoretically at least, offers the perfect solution to all problems. But it sidesteps the fundamental problem of the complex crop is a failure on clay and black muck.

September 22
There were 200 entries at the fair last week and $1,434 paid out in prizes. That does not look as if Huntingdon Fair was declining. Cows, 35 to 36c per 40 lbs. with a few deliveries. Potatoes 75c to 80c per bag. They are a plentiful crop in the Ottawa Valley, so that they can be brought here and sold at this figure.

September 29
Huntingdon Academy again leads, taking precedence over similar institutions by 53,496 marks. The next to it is Lachute with 32,792 marks; Sherbrooke comes third and Waterford fourth. The grant for the current year is $440. This result is due to Principal Holiday. The grants to model schools are, Hemmingford $100 and Ormstown $75.

October 13
Considering the lateness of the season, the prices of cows continued fair. C. A. Gavin reports that at the sale on the Allan Cameron farm, Dundee, the average price of nine was $28.30 and of eight at Mrs. Biggar's sale $25. The latter sale realized $1,120. At the Dickson sale there were bids for the farms; $4,000 for the home place and $1,975 for the 75 acre lot. Both properties were bought in.

After reconstructing the telephone line between the Lachine bridge and Athelstan, the gang left. The work of putting up the line from Hemmingford is going on rapidly. The poles are up to Rockburn and the wire strung to Franklin Centre.

October 27
Hugh Rankin, who was in the village on Tuesday, selling his remaining lot, stated that his removal will make the third Scotch family that has left the Port Law Settlement since spring. The places of all three are occupied by French Canadians.

November 3
The telegraph office has been moved to the Post Office, a most convenient place for the public.

November 17
Those who have travelled both are at a loss to say which is the worse, the Athelstan or the Trout river road. The portion of the latter between here and Robb's is in a dangerous state.

The Week At Ottawa...

OTTAWA, (CP)—Hopes of getting electric power soon from the proposed St. Lawrence sea-way and power project have been given a big boost.

Canadian authorities termed it a great stride ahead when President Truman decided to by-pass the United States congress, which had held up joint development of power sites for a long time. Truman agreed to a joint application by Canada and the U.S. to the International Joint Commission for authority to go ahead with the power aspect.

And the prospect of an early start on developing power sites on the St. Lawrence waterway wasn't the only piece of good news for Canadians. Some were just as pleased with the announcement of a subsidized reduction in freight rates ordered by the Board of Transport Commissioners for May 1. However, this news didn't meet with universal approval.

Besides these developments, which came while Parliament was on its Easter holiday, an old controversy—Flying Saucers—showed up again. This time they were treated with cautious respect where before they had been mostly scoffed at.

Transport minister Chevrier conferred in Washington with President Truman on the St. Lawrence project. As a result, Mr. Truman agreed to have his government join Canada in applying to the International Joint Commission for permission to build joint Canada-U.S. power facilities on the river.

On his return here, Mr. Chevrier said Canada will move quickly to get the application before the commission. The Canadian part of the application is "pretty nearly ready" and the whole submission will go to the commission as soon as the Canadian and U.S. phases are coordinated.

It will ask the commission to authorize the Ontario government and a U.S. agency, to be designated by the U.S. government, to establish a 2,200-000-horsepower hydro development on the International Rapids section of the St. Lawrence river.

Canada already has announced its intentions of going ahead alone with the navigation works for deep-draught ships as part of the overall project.

Refusal by the U.S. congress to ratify a 1941 treaty between U.S. and Canada has held up the plan. Mr. Truman's action by-passes this block although Congress still may get in on the scheme if it ratifies the treaty before construction starts.

May Challenge Rates
The Board of Transport Commissioners ordered a $7,000,000-a-year cut in freight rates for western Canada last week but Alberta may challenge the whole thing in the courts.

The reduction amounts to roughly five per cent on some $150,000,000 a year on traffic moving between eastern and western Canada. It was a compromise settlement between Manitoba's demand for a reduction on a cents-per-pound basis and the other western provinces' demand for straight percentage decrease.

Worked out partially on a percentage basis and partially by cents-per-pound, Alberta loses perhaps $175,000 a year of the federal subsidy it would have received on a straight percentage basis.

The board's order was for a 2.53 reduction of existing rates plus 5.8 cents per 100 pounds.

The chief effect will be to lower rates on goods going from western Canada to western consumers over the northern Ontario rail "bridge" between the regions. This is in line with the federal government's policy to reduce the differences in freight-rate levels between east and west.

Unaffected by the change are rates on goods going from Alberta and eastern British Columbia to Ontario; "transcontinental" rates between B.C. and the east and a group of Alberta rates which are held by 1951 statute to a maximum of 1 1/3 the transcontinental rates.

Can't Ignore Saucers
Flying saucers were reported sighted by air force men at North Bay, Ont.

This was the type of reaction here. "We are as mystified as anyone else... and are keeping an open mind," said Dr. O. M. Solandt, chairman of the defence research board. "We can't laugh off these observations," said Dr. Peter Millman, dominion astro-physicist.

"These reports cannot be ignored as nonsense," said Dr. C. J. MacKenzie, chairman of the atomic energy control board.

The reports came from two veteran airmen—WO. E. H. Russell and Pfc. Sgt. Reg. McRae—who said they saw a "bright amber disc" over the airfield. They said it moved across the field, reversed direction and disappeared after a climb at "terrific speed."

R.C. Blood Donor Clinic to Be Held Here Thurs. Apr. 24

At Canadian Legion Hall, Fairview Road, Thursday Afternoon and Evening

The Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic will be held in the Canadian Legion Hall on Thursday afternoon and evening, April 24th. The local Blood Donor Clinic Committee headed by Miss Frances Walker, has made all arrangements and each section of the district has been canvassed for donors. If, by an error or oversight, you have not been personally requested to donate blood and arrangements have not been made for your donation with a solicitor, contact Mrs. E. C. Martin or Mrs. P. Girard, Huntingdon. Those who have previously donated blood will have a blood type card, this should be presented to the officials at the time of the clinic. If your name has been taken, the blood donor committee will make an appointment and contact you, giving you the time of your appointment. Last year's objective of 200 donors was over-reached by 83 donors. This year it is the objective of this committee to surpass its objective of 400. Your hospital, the Huntingdon County Hospital, is among those in this Dominion with free blood for transfusion purposes. The service is for any person needing an emergency transfusion. Adequate transfusion facilities locally mean that illness, previously rated as hopeless, can be cured. Every year thousands of Canadians — children struck down by accident — mothers in childbirth — patients on the operating table, depend for their very lives on blood transfusions. On the battle fields countless lives are saved by the blood of Canadians freely given. In peace, the lives of many of your countrymen — your neighbours — your friends — your family — even your own — can be saved by the same free gift. Therefore it is the duty of every able person in this community to donate his or her blood to help this very worthy cause.

“... the willingness to find a way”

A man who started a new business a few years ago recently wrote to pay tribute to the bank's part in helping to make it a success:
 “We were fortunate in having, as our banker, a man who could combine with experience the willingness to find a way that called not for experience alone but for imagination as well.”
 The chartered banks are forever alert to the fresh problems, the changing needs of their customers. At all times, in all your banking problems, you can depend on your local bank to bring experience and imagination to the task of helping you to “find a way”.

of candy to take home. Myra thanked all her little friends for the nice gifts then all left for their homes after a pleasant afternoon.
 The Willing Workers held their meeting in the Nitro Church on Thursday evening, April 17th, with 20 present. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. B. Clarke. The minutes were then read and all business discussed and arrangements made for annual meeting to be held May 1st. The meeting closed with all repeating a psalm and refreshments were then served by Mrs. D. Smith and Mrs. J. Hales.
 Mrs. S. Chamberlain has returned to Shawville, Que., after spending the past few months here at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. Swartz on Laurier Avenue. Mrs. R. Swartz accompanied her as far as Ottawa.
 Quite a few in Nitro are confined to their homes due to measles. All wish them a speedy recovery.

Water Spaniel Makes Good Fisherman

Stories have been told of the capabilities of Water Spaniels to retrieve game for their masters while out hunting, but here's one with a new slant to it.
 Mr. Rene Lapierre, who lives at Dundee on the shores of Lake St. Francis, has a Water Spaniel that has taken to doing a little fishing on his own.
 A week or so ago, Rene observed his pet swimming across a small creek near his home. To his surprise the dog climbed out on the opposite bank and grabbed a good sized pike that was in shallow water in the marsh. With the pike in his mouth, the dog swam the creek again and tugging away for all he was worth (the pike incidentally was a five pounder) he brought it to the house for his boss to see. Since that, the dog has brought home two other pike, both 3 1/2 pounders.
 It remains to be seen whether game laws will compel the dog to take out a license for fishing or not.

Fire Destroys House Near Cazaville

DUNDEE — A 1 1/2-storey house on the farm of Mr. Fred Cartier, 2 miles west of Cazaville, was destroyed by fire last Friday forenoon. Mr. Howard Russell who, with his wife and family, occupied the dwelling, had gone up the road to a neighbour's a short time before and was returning when he saw smoke coming from the house. He rushed home and with the help of close neighbors managed to get out all the movables from downstairs. The fire, which broke out in the ceiling, prevented them from removing anything from the upper storey. Fanned by a strong west wind the dwelling burned to the ground very quickly, scattering sparks on the adjoining fields and causing a grass fire which threatened at one time to race in the direction of a neighboring house. However, more help by this time had arrived and it was brought under control. It is reported there was $1,000 insurance on the house.
 Mr. James Houghton, of Ottawa, and Miss Anita MacConnell of Aylmer, Que., were guests on Wednesday evening of Easter week of Mr. and Mrs. John Fleming and Mr. Arthur Gordon.
 Mrs. Christena Skinner and Mrs. Margaret Carr of Dewittville and Mrs. Mary White, of Elgin, were Sunday afternoon callers at the Fleming home. They also called on Mrs. Chas. Fraser, who has been ill this past two weeks. Her case was first diagnosed as rheumatic fever but later tests at the Barrie Memorial Hospital did not show definite signs of the malady. She is now feeling considerably better but will still be unable to resume her teaching duties this week.
 Miss Mabel MacMillan, of Huntingdon, spent several days during Easter week at the “MacMillan” home.
 Mr. and Mrs. Ben Presley and son Bill of Danford Lake arrived here on Sunday and will spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Stowell.
 Messrs. Guy Stowell and Gilbert MacMillan motored to Ottawa, on Sunday, and Miss Isabel Stowell, who is employed at the Ottawa Civic Hospital, returned home with them.

Biographical Sketches of Past Students of Huntingdon Academy

In view of the impending celebration of the Centenary of Huntingdon Academy this summer, The Gleaner will carry some biographical sketches of some of the past students. From now until the time of the celebration at least one and perhaps two sketches will be published each week. They will deal mostly with those who have gone forth and carved names for themselves by their careers after graduation. The first of these appears below and deals with Judge T. Brown.

JAMES T. BROWN
 Was born October 22nd, 1871 on a farm near Atholstan, P.Q., son of Samuel Brown and Margaret White. He was educated at Huntingdon Academy and McGill University from which he graduated with a B.A. degree, with first class honors in mental and moral philosophy in 1893. He studied law at Winnipeg 1893-1896. In this last year he was called to the Bar of Manitoba and the North-West Territories. He was elected member of the first Saskatchewan Legislature in 1905; appointed a K.C. in 1907; awarded an LL.D. from McGill University in 1921; appointed Supreme Court Judge of Saskatchewan in 1910 and Chief Justice of the Court of King's Bench, Saskatchewan in 1918, a position which he still holds; Chief Commissioner of Dominion Customs Commission 1926-27; Chief Commissioner Saskatchewan Grain Commission, 1928-29; Administrator of the Province of Saskatchewan 1931; Commissioner of Dominion Government Lord Stamp Grain Commission 1931; Chief Commissioner on Saskatchewan Regina Riot Commission 1935; Chief Commissioner of Dominion Government Board of Review adjusting farmers' debt in Saskatchewan 1936-43; appointed Appeal Judge by Dominion Government under the Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act 1943 to the present time; Commissioner to inquire into and report on alleged irregularities in Dominion election Meville constituency 1945; Commissioner to inquire into and report on alleged irregularities in Dominion election Regina constituency 1946.

 Mr. Fernie Beattie and Mr. and Mrs. Willie Beattie visited at the Martin and George Beattie homes in Huntingdon, Sunday evening.
 At the afternoon service in Wesley-Knox Church on Sunday afternoon, Communion Service was observed. There was a good attendance.
 Not given to “seeing things,” John Pitch of Mooers, N.Y., was considerably upset recently when he discovered a snake of no mean proportions coiled around the stalk of bananas from which he had just cut a cluster of fruit. Mr. Pitch was waiting on a customer at his store when the reptile was disclosed, only an infinitesimal distance from the hand that had severed the bananas from the stalk. The snake was 34 inches long and about one and a half inches in diameter. Needless to say, it was dispatched promptly, being examined subsequently with much interest. Various conjectures as to its identity were made. Copied from The North Countryman.

Repairing Damage to Fruit Trees Done by Field Mice

The Horticulture Department of Macdonald College suggests that all orchardists should examine their trees carefully for signs of bark damage. During the winter months mice cause considerable damage to orchard trees by eating off the bark of the trunks. Frequently these rodents eat the bark off continuously through the full circumference of the trees. In such cases the trees will die unless remedial action is taken.

Professor Taper of the Horticulture Department, Macdonald College, says that the best way of saving trees damaged in this way is through bridge grafting. This method consists of bridging the bark gap in order to permit foods formed in the leaves to reach the roots. Sometimes the mice gnaw the bark entirely around the tree, but do not damage the cambium layer. In this case he suggests mounding the tree with earth or covering with brush wax. This operation should be carried out as soon as weather conditions permit so that drying out of the cambium layer is avoided. This will provide the tree with sufficient protection so that the new bark will be formed without the necessity of resorting to bridge grafting.

If, however, bridge grafting is found to be necessary it should be done in early spring, usually in early May, just after the buds begin to swell and the bark slips. Professor Taper says that the scion wood, of pencil thickness, should be cut from last year's growth in moist sawdust or sand in a cool place so that it will remain in a dormant condition until needed. The scions should be set right side up as they grow in the tree, and at intervals of 2 to 2 1/2 inches around the trunk. They should be cut to a length of 4 or 5 inches greater than the distance between the upper and lower trimmed bark edges. He suggests making an L-shaped incision in the bark an inch or two above and below the wound of the wound. Below the wound the L is inverted. Each arm of the L should be about 1 1/2 inches long. The scion is cut to a sharp wedge with a longer slope on the side that is to be set against the tree. The bark of the L-cut should then be raised and the scion inserted. Small nails should then be driven through the bark so that the scion can be held in place.

All cuts or exposed surfaces should be well covered with grafting wax as soon as the scions have been set. The soil should be mounded slightly around the base of the tree so as to prevent the mice from working on the newly set scions.

Several other methods of grafting are in common use; these differ, however, only in detail from the method described above.

St. Lawrence Seaway Project Step Nearer Realization

The controversial St. Lawrence seaway project was a step nearer realization after a White House conference at Washington Monday, when President Truman agreed that Canada and the United States should join in asking the International Joint Commission for approval of the power development plans. This would clear the way for Canada to get started on the seaway. Canada has laid plans to construct the seaway herself since the American congress has taken no action, but Canada first must obtain the commission's approval of the power aspect.

Canada's External Affairs Minister L. B. Pearson, and Transport Minister Chevrier attended the meeting with Truman and others. Pearson explained that some parts of the great project, such as a deep-sea channel, can be built on the Canadian side without commission approval. But the power part and commission approval is needed. Truman's agreement to a joint power application was a big step forward.

United Church W.M.S. Evening Auxiliary
On Thursday evening, April 17th, this group met at Elva Moore's home, with a good attendance. Knitted squares for afghans were sewn together during the evening.
After the business period, Nina McClatchie, Christian Stewardship secretary, read "Daily Dozen for Worriers." Ruth Miller Stark, Christian Citizenship Secretary, read an article on the teen-age alcohol problem and what Allied Youth is doing about it.
Frances Rennie conducted the devotions and led the study period which dealt with new Canadians of Chinese and Japanese origin. Two interesting sketches were presented, one in which Florence Reid and Beulah Murray represented Japanese ladies, and one in which Edna McCoy and Margaret Mack portrayed two Chinese ladies.
Ruth MacNaughton sang the lovely Easter song "Stranger of Galilee."
The Senior Auxiliary has invited this group to their Thank offering meeting on Wednesday, April 23, Margaret McCoy, President, closed the meeting and doughnuts and coffee, served by the refreshment committee, and a social period were enjoyed.

Rotary Club Meeting
At the Rotary Club meeting on Monday, President Noel Foisy announced that the incoming president, as from July 1, 1952, would be Rotarian George Dixon and the vice-president, Rotarian Alex Fawcett.
Rev. Wm. McLean, Chaplain of the Sailors' Institute, Montreal, and formerly minister of Outremont Presbyterian Church, was the speaker of the day. Mr. McLean told of some of the problems they have to contend with at the Montreal Water Front. The discouraging features do not arise so much from the actual sailors of the ships, but more frequently from men rated as sailors who are on land and are not engaged by ships or endorsed for employment by the unions. The Chaplain naturally has to do the best he can with all these people, though he may sometimes feel it is wasted effort to deal with some of these problem men; every now and again these men come to their senses and turn out to be worthy citizens of Canada. Toward the end of his interesting talk, Mr. McLean appealed to the Rotary Club members to arrange to send the Institute any magazines they may be able to spare. During a season some 90,000 magazines are done up in bundles and given to the sailors on boats out of Montreal port. Undoubtedly the Club will arrange to send a quantity of magazines to Mr. McLean, as requested.

Blood Donor Clinic
Members of the Huntingdon Branch of Canadian Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic Committee and 3 representatives of the Junior Chamber of Commerce attended a very enthusiastic meeting on Monday evening. This meeting was held in order to enable the committee to prepare the names of the donors and to make appointments for same. These donors will be telephoned in due time and notified of the time they are expected to attend the clinic. Although this year's objective was set at 400 donors it is expected that only approximately 300 donors will report at the clinic. This is due to circumstances beyond the control of the committee which are expected to be overcome before the 1953 clinic. With the exception of the Athelstan, Road and one or two streets in Huntingdon this district has been thoroughly canvassed and per chance that anyone may have been omitted through an error, they may receive full particulars by telephoning Mrs. E. C. Martin or Mrs. Paul Girard. The clinic is to be held in the Huntingdon Legion Hall, on Thursday, April 24th and it is the duty of every able person in this district to attend.

Across the breadth of Canada, in Europe and on the Korean battlefield 21-gun salutes will thunder out as the Canadian armed forces pay their first respects to Queen Elizabeth on her official birthday. Although the Queen was born on April 21, official celebrations will be held in Canada and among Canadian forces abroad on June 9. From Newfoundland to British Columbia, guns will roar royal salutes beginning at noon. Naval ships and shore establishments will dress with flags.

Official salutes will be fired at St. John's, Nfld., Charlottetown, Halifax, Fredericton, Quebec City, Ottawa, Toronto, Winnipeg, Regina, Edmonton, Vancouver, Victoria and Esquimalt.

WAYS WITH CANNED FOODS

The use of canned foods has greatly widened the horizons of modern cooking. What a variety of out-of-season food we can have, and at such reasonable prices, too. The ingenious homemaker knows how easy it is to transform a can of food into something new and exciting.

The home economists of the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture say that canned corn is ideal for appealing and thrifty dishes. Standard Quality is satisfactory to use in many cases and it is cheaper than either Choice or Fancy. Many people think that the proportion of solids to liquid is smaller in Standard Quality vegetables. This is not true. There is the same amount of drained vegetables in a can of Standard Quality as there is in the same size can of Fancy or Choice Quality.

Scalloped corn is an old, but still a favourite way to serve canned corn. It can be prepared with a can of cream style or whole kernel corn as the only vegetable or combined with some other vegetable, potatoes for example. Either tomato juice or milk can be used in the sauce. Strips of bacon or cheese add flavour and colour as a garnish.

Why not try pork chops stuffed food pennies as well. To make the

with a savoury corn stuffing? They are most delicious and extend your stuffing, mix equal quantities of corn and soft bread crumbs, add onion and salt and pepper to taste. Appetizing cornburgers make a quick and easy supper dish. To prepare the patties, mix a can of whole kernel corn with ground beef and some tomato sauce or condensed tomato soup. Season and place under the broiler, then serve on toasted buns.

Another suggestion for using canned corn is this recipe from the home economists for Baked Corn Ring.

Baked Corn Ring
3 eggs
1/2 cup evaporated milk, undiluted
1 1/4-ounce can whole kernel corn
1/2 cup soft bread crumbs
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons melted butter
Beat eggs slightly, add evaporated milk, corn, bread crumbs, salt, pepper and melted butter. Stir until well blended. Pour into a buttered ring mould and oven-poach in done, about 30 mins. Fill ring with creamed pork, ham, chipped beef or chicken before serving. Yield: six servings. Fluid milk may be used in this recipe, but evaporated milk makes it richer.

Canned fruit should not be overlooked as a way to add variety to meals. Here again precious pennies may be saved by using Standard Quality in many desserts. Use canned peach or apricot halves to make up-side down cakes and cobblers, or dress up custards and other milk desserts with drained canned berries. The syrup from canned fruit should be saved to use in puddings and gelatine desserts or with fruit juices. For a special treat, serve the family cherry or peach pie. It's a distinguished dessert that is simple to make with canned fruit.

Colourful fruit salads, either plain or moulded are favourites with everyone. Canned peaches can be coloured with fruit colouring for an interesting note and the hollows filled with cottage cheese, jelly and other fruits. Salads allow much scope for imagination as practically any combination of canned or fresh fruits can be used.

Garden Notes

By Gordon Lindsay Smith

No Garden Handicaps

There is one nice thing about gardening. No matter what sort of a spot we have there are some things that will grow. In this business one hears much of fine, rich loam and sunshine, and while those conditions may be ideal for a lot of plants, there are others that actually prefer a location far from favorable. In poor dusty soil, for instance, there are hardy flowers like portulaca, alyssum, zinnias, and many more that will make a good showing. Then the dark corners near walls or under fairly dense shade are ideal places for begonias and pansies and certain fern like flowers that shrink away from the bright sun. Even soggy corners have their favorites and poor windswept rocky slopes. Rugged climates, too, are no handicap. Indeed in some northern gardens are grown the very finest of vegetables and the brightest of flowers. Away up or rather down on the northern tundras in the summer time the ground is adorned with bright bloom. In any good Canadian seed catalogue will be listed flowers and vegetables that will thrive in unusual places and it will pay to study these special likes if we are to do the best with unusual locations.

Timely Hints

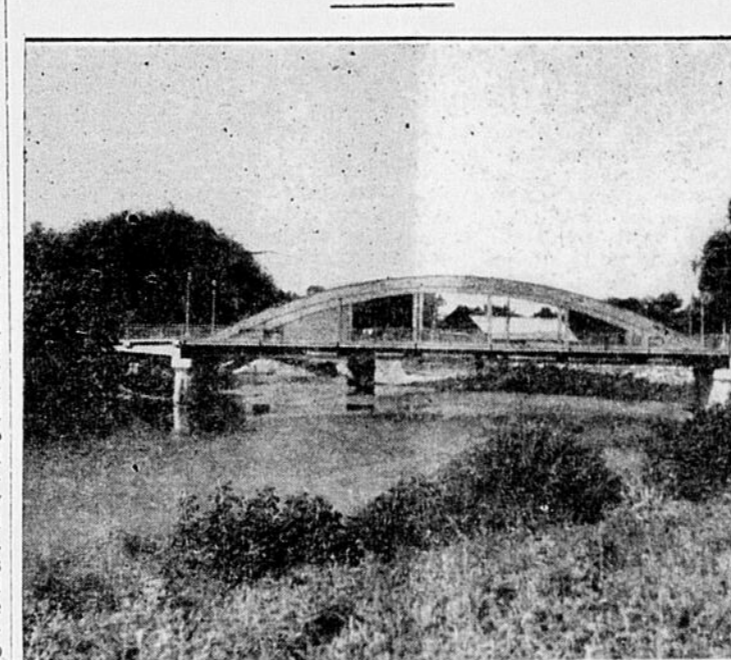

Experienced gardeners have all sorts of little tricks that will add to the interest and satisfaction of gardening. One of the oldest is to soak seed before planting. This applies especially to vegetable seeds like peas, beans, beets and lettuce. By soaking for a very few hours just before planting, germination is hastened and several days are saved. With the earliest potatoes, sometime it is a good thing to allow a few of the tubers to sprout in warm sunshine in a widow or warm room. Then we plant very carefully with the sprouts undamaged and pointing upwards. With carrots and beets it will help to prepare the rows with special care, digging out the poor or hard soil to a depth of six inches or a foot, and filling with rich soil with plenty of humus and manure. In such the seeds will germinate quickly and the young vegetables grow without being crowded. Because this special soil is very open there will be less need for thinning and the roots will grow straight. With melons, cucumbers and squash we usually sow in specially rich hills with some old rotten manure if we can find it. We may also cover for a few weeks with glass or some of the special paper caps to protect from late frost or cool nights. With all bedding plants, it is a good plan to pinch back after transplanting and especially to remove any flowers or

Know Your District Photo Quiz

This is the second week that the Gleaner has printed photographs of places, buildings, persons, etc., with the idea of trying to interest our readers in knowing the district in which they reside. It is not intended that it should be a competition in which prizes are awarded, but merely to provide an interest in naming the places so pictured. By doing this, we hope a better knowledge of the district will be gained. Some people will recognize the photographs right off, while others may have difficulty. They will all be from within the District of Beauharnois and thus everyone should find at least one that they can name.

A. What Dam is this?
B. Where is it situated, Athelstan, Huntingdon, Ormstown, Valleyfield or Kensington?

A. Where is this bridge situated?
B. What river does this bridge span, the Trout River, the Chateaugay River, the River Outarde, the English River or the Salmon River?

buds. This pinching encourages stouter and healthier growth and in the end we get much hardier and bigger blooms.

Watering
In watering it is well to remember that one thorough soaking in dry weather is worth a dozen sprinklings. This rule applies to lawns too. A light sprinkling that only lays the dust, encourages the roots to come near the surface where the hot sun will injure them. Deep soaking on the other hand encourages the roots to go down where they will be safe from the heat near the surface and where they will also find more plant food. In a great many cases where there are trees nearby light sprinkling also brings the roots of the trees close to the surface where they will ruin both the grass and the lawn mower. With lawns incidentally it is advisable either to use a very fine mist of water or else remove the nozzle altogether and really soak.

Less Seeds and Faster
On the market are certain hormone sprays, which will make things like tomatoes, cucumbers, melons, etc., fruit faster and earlier, and also very substantially reduce the number of seeds. So often in our climate the first blooms fall to set fruit or do so only in a limited way. That's where these special sprays come in handy but they must be used exactly and according to directions. They are fine for some plants but deadly to others.

The other is James W. (Jamie) Scoble who was mostly reared at Glen Campbell Farms, Dundas, Ont., worked there for a time as a herdsman when the original Glen Campbell herd was in existence. From Glen Campbell he came to Burnside Farms (R. R. Ness & Sons) Howick, where he served several years as herdsman. However, a few years ago he took unto himself a wife (the former Miss May Anderson) and also went farming on his own account at Fertile Creek, Howick.

For those who did not recognize last week's photos in our Quiz, one was the Covered Bridge at Powerscourt, and the other was the Huntingdon County Building, Huntingdon.

Below are this week's photographs, do you know what they are and where they are situated?

Gen. Eisenhower Soon to Return to United States

Will End His Job as Supreme Commander North Atlantic Forces June 1st

General Dwight Eisenhower aims to be home in Kansas by June 4, just 33 days before the Republican national convention opens in Chicago. The official announcement came from Washington that at his own request Eisenhower's job as Supreme Commander of North Atlantic Treaty forces in Europe will end June 1. That means his well-lighted to fight for his nomination as Republican presidential candidate in the United States elections next November.

At his headquarters in France, Eisenhower said that until he leaves he will not discuss any kind of political questions, and that he has not made any definite plans to campaign for the nomination. But he said that if he is nominated for president he will resign his permanent army commission as a five-star general, so that he would be "free to speak like any other citizen on any subject." But he stressed that he would resign from the army only if he is nominated.

His talk to reporters included a plea to keep N.A.T.O. going strong "because the quest for peace is always with us." At Washington the pentagon was preparing to meet a presidential request that it name a successor to Eisenhower as supreme commander in Europe. Among probable choices are General Alfred Gruenther, chief of staff to Eisenhower, or General Matthew Ridgway, supreme commander in the Far East.

It's Still "Windsor" Queen Elizabeth II has perpetuated the "House of Windsor" as the name of the ruling family. An announcement in the official London Gazette said the youthful monarch will retain the name Windsor, instead of using her married name of Mountbatten. Her children, too, will be Windsors.

There had been some discussion as to whether the new Queen would use her married name, which would break the Windsor succession that started when the name Windsor was adopted by George V. during the First World War because the original Saxe-Coburg-Gotha sounded too Germanic. The latter name derived from Prince Albert, consort of Queen Victoria, the last sovereign of the House of Hanover.

The Queen still has two important family matters to decide — when confer the title Prince of Wales on her three-year-old son Charles, who at present is Duke of Cornwall; and secondly when the frame a royal decree giving her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, precedence next to herself. At present a few royal dukes outrank Philip in protocol. The Queen may raise him above these by special decree, but it was 17 years after her marriage before Victoria did the same for Albert.

Costly Bolivian Revolt Unofficial reports are that 1,000 persons were killed and over 3,000 wounded in a revolt against army officers who seized power in Bolivia 11 months ago. The rebels claimed success for their uprising in the Central American state and Hernan Siles, leader of the rebels, controlled La Paz, the capital, along with most of the country.

Siles said that he would hold power until the exiled Victor Paz Estensoro, leader of the National Revolutionary Party, could return and form a cabinet.

Pan-American Crash No hope was held for survival of any of the 39 Easter holiday passengers lost in the shark-invested Caribbean sea after a Pan American Airways plane crash near San Juan, Puerto Rico. Thirteen bodies had already been recovered, putting the total death toll at 52.

A near-miracle saved the 17 who escaped alive after the plane plunged into rough seas and broke in two. Among those saved was the pilot, Captain John Burn, husband of the singer Jane Froman who herself was injured in a plane crash in Portugal nine years ago. Burn saved Miss Forman in that crash and the romance developed which led to their marriage.

Southern Floods Along 1,000 miles of the muddy Missouri river in Iowa and Nebraska great floods threatened major cities after causing heavy damage at Pierre, capital of South Dakota. Hundreds were homeless and damage estimates ran into the millions. Among cities still threatened were Sioux City, Ia., Omaha and Council Bluffs, Neb. A 30-foot flood crest was expected at the two latter cities by Thursday and they were making great efforts to avert disaster.

Thousands of acres of rich farm land were under water as other rivers played supporting roles in the flooded areas of at least five mid-western states. The Red River burst its banks along a 150-mile stretch from Wahpeton to Grand Forks in North Dakota. Some families were evacuating Fargo, N.D. in anticipation of the floor crest there about Wednesday.

In Northern Montana the Milk River made 3,300 homeless and caused $2,000,000 damage. Malan's New Measure The pro-government newspaper Die Burger of Capetown presented an outline of a bill to restrict the authority of the courts which the South African government of Prime Minister Daniel Malan plans to introduce in parliament.

The appeals court, highest tribunal in the union of South Africa, recently ruled invalid an act which was the keystone of the Malan government's racial segregation policies. That act restricted the voting rights of 50,000 "coloreds," or persons of mixed blood, in Cape Province.

Prime Minister Malan after the court decision announced he would introduce legislation to make parliament supreme over the courts, and a bitter dispute sprang up. The opposition United Party and an ex-servicemen's organization known as the Torch Commandos have been campaigning vigorously against the government. Non-whites are also planning a campaign of civil disobedience to defy the segregation laws.

The appeals court disqualified the Malan act providing separate voting rolls for Cape coloreds on the ground it was passed by a simple majority in parliament, whereas the South Africa Act on which the constitution is based provides that legislation of this nature must obtain a two-thirds majority of both houses of parliament in South Africa.

very shortly these deficiencies will be corrected. As a result of the Community's generous response to our campaign for funds last October, plans for a new one-story, fire-proof building with basement are now in the process of completion. This building will extend back from the present one for a distance of about 50 feet. It will enable us to have nine more patients' beds and proper facilities for laboratory work and a standard size operating room. Present plans call for moving the present kitchen to the basement which will be mostly above ground, either for patients' beds or an X-ray room. The X-ray room in any case will be moved back either as far as the present kitchen or into the new building, and the front room presently occupied by the X-ray can supply office space which is sorely needed. The plans are still not final but this is a general outline of the change we have in mind. We hope that we may be able to start building this Summer.

The Medical Board has received at all times the utmost in co-operation from our very able and enthusiastic Board of Management. I should like to mention specially the Chairman of the Board, Mr. Gilbert MacMillan, who has given unstintingly of his time and talents for the furtherance of the Hospital's welfare. His efforts and those of all the Managers and Governors are greatly appreciated.

Following Dr. McCrimmon's report considerable comment was heard as to the addition that is to be built as a memorial to the late Dr. H. G. Stout. It is to be stated, the addition will provide rooms that can be utilized as private rooms or with two, or even three beds to a room. These rooms will also be provided with connecting lavatories and bath. Operating room and other rooms essential to the Hospital. It appears quite possible that the present laundry will be disposed of and the laundry placed in the Hospital basement.

As the Hospital has high foundation walls, the architect has recommended that a modern and large kitchen be built in the basement. The basement kitchen would be well supplied with daylight and at the same time, would greatly eliminate kitchen odors from circulating throughout the hospital. Whether the X-Ray room will be located in what is presently the kitchen, or in the new hospital these churches for the present. Starting next Sunday D.S.T. will have to be observed, so it will be 10:30 at Franklin.

Master Norman Moneyenny has returned home after spending some of his Easter vacation with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Josie Moneyenny, at the Gore.

Mr. James Lamb is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Goudey, at Riverfield.

addition, is not yet definitely decided. $34,000 is now available for the building of the hospital addition. It is believed, and based on good authority, that when the addition is built there will be no building fund debt to contend with. The $34,000 fund will undoubtedly be augmented by the Provincial Department of Health.

The financial statement was read by the auditor, W. L. Carr. From the reading of the statement and explanations received it was revealed that of the money subscribed last fall, $9,049 yet remains to be paid and will be due in the fall.

HOUSE COMMITTEE We would like to join the other members of the Hospital Board in offering sympathy to our Chairman, Mr. MacMillan.

The House Committee has had a fairly active year. Out stock of linen is quite complete and we might add that most of the sewing for the Hospital has been done by women in their own homes. The women seem to find it more convenient.

We received a donation of woolen blankets from Mrs. G. A. McHardy for the patients' beds. Through the generosity of a friend of the Hospital the kitchen has been equipped with a new stove, refrigerator, sink, lights and many other articles, for which we are very grateful.

Our association with the Nursing Staff has been most pleasant and we would like to assure the Matron, Mrs. Grant that we are always at her call.

Mrs. G. A. McHardy, Mrs. Mae O'Connor, Joint Chairmen

HOSPITAL PHYSICAL STANDING 39 new Life Memberships and 525 annual memberships were enrolled during the financial campaign. The total number of donors during the campaign being 1,442. These figures are very impressive, for they indicate how sincere the people of this community feel toward the worthiness of Huntingdon County Hospital.

The financial report indicated that the Hospital operated with a deficit during the year. The deficit represents approximately $700 a month, but fortunately financial donations and gifts of provisions and other Hospital essentials, enabled the 1951 deficit to be reduced to $1,850.64.

The House Committee raised a point when discussing the Hospital Assets, as to whether the linen in use should be carried as a $699.61 asset. Hospital linen is washed daily and its life is not of three years' duration as is so considered in preparing this statement. The feeling expressed was that it is an item that could be written off 100% each year. Mr. Carr stated that such is quite an arbitrary figure and that he would certainly not question such to be the case. However, the Province of Quebec is now submitting manuals for the direction of compiling such hospital statements so that when annual reports of hospitals are issued in the future, all will be funded upon the same basis of depreciation or valued as assets of commercial value.

The election of officers resulted in John Blake, W. E. Hughes and C. J. Kyle being elected as three new Governors, whilst J. A. Brown and M.C.A. Kelly were re-elected. These five Governors are appointed to office for three years. The Board of Governors Management Committee is to be composed of all the Huntingdon Town Governors, viz Gilbert MacMillan, Francois Cleyne, John Blake, Secretary, Mrs. F. G. McCrimmon, Treasurer, Mrs. George Colium will continue as the acting secretary-treasurer.

The Board of Governors Management Committee is to be composed of all the Huntingdon Town Governors, viz Gilbert MacMillan, Francois Cleyne, Mrs. O'Connor, Mrs. McCrimmon, Mrs. McHardy, John Blake, C. J. Kyle and Alex. Fawcett. Any three of these members shall constitute a quorum for a meeting regularly called.

The House Committee remains unchanged, with Mrs. O'Connor and Mrs. McHardy the joint chairmen. Dr. F. G. McCrimmon remains the Hospital Superintendent.

Finance Committee is composed of W. E. Barrie, W. D. Fraser and W. U. Hughes.

Grounds Committee is composed of A. L. Sellar, W. E. Barrie, Mrs. McCrimmon, Gilbert MacMillan and M.C.A. Kelly.

150,000 CHICKS ON FUL-O-PEP ...BEST RESULTS IN 28 YEARS!

1952 FUL-O-PEP IS FORTIFIED WITH TRACE MINERALS

GEORGE SUTTON St. Agnes BUILDERS' SUPPLY & FEEDS LTD. Huntingdon ELDER'S GRIST MILL Athelstan

We specialize in four weeks old chicks, and this past season brooded 150,000 chicks on Ful-O-Pep. The results were the best ever obtained in the 28 years we've been in business. Many customers commented on the firm bodies and extra activity of the chicks.

Our Ful-O-Pep raised breeding flocks showed fewer losses, and fewer culls; with bigger, better-boned, heavier birds. Ful-O-Pep is tops with us!

Planting for Modern Homes

Gardening fashions change with changes in architecture and living habits. So, with the increasing use of the automobile in winter and the advent of the "ranch house" on fifty foot lots, our ideas of suitable planting must change.

The principles of using plants to extend the lines of the house so that house and garden form one harmonious picture and of providing special interest at strategic points, still hold firm, says R. W. Oliver, Chairman of Horticulture Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

Winter driving requires snow to be piled high near drives and streets. Evergreen plantings, except a few low spreaders like Japanese yew and horizontal juniper, will not stand such treatment.

Most of our formerly popular shrubs are too tall to be used around the low spreading, flat roofed bungalows that are being built.

Among evergreens the rounded forms of mugo pine and globe cedar, the spreading forms mentioned above, and the broad pyramids of dwarf varieties of spruce are the most suitable.

Small trees such as weeping mountain ash, camperdown elm, Japanese lilac and rosybloom crab, are most suitable but larger shade trees look out of proportion except at considerable distance from the house.

As with all changes, says Mr. Oliver, it will take us some time to adjust ourselves to these new fashions and in the process mistakes may occur. It is always wise to plan carefully on paper before doing the actual planting.

Crime in the U.S.A. has come in for much publicity lately, and here in Canada we're very busy hanging over the backyard fence playing scandalized Peeping Tom.

We haven't so much to boast about. Recently there's been a rash of arrests by the RCMP attempting to break up gold-smuggling and other racketeering. In the midst of a protracted and not very impressive vice probe, Montreal has discovered it nurtured in its bosom a thriving international racket in black-market babies.

Color Harmony In The Home Discussed
A Conference on "Colour Harmony in the Home" and the showing of a "Paint Film" was presented by the Lowe Brothers Co. Ltd., under the sponsorship of the Farm Forum. This conference was held on Tuesday afternoon, April 22nd in the Auditorium of the High School.

Mr. Allister Neely of the Farm Forum introduced P. R. Arcand, who is the manager of the Quebec-Maritimes Division of the Lowe Brothers Co. Also present at the conference were Mr. G. M. Pride, Eastern Sales Representative, and Mr. Harry Van Zant, General Sales Manager for the Dominion, J. R. Fox, Local Agent.

Mr. P. R. Arcand gave an address on the history of Colour Harmony in the Home, telling the ladies present of the three primary colours, red, yellow and blue and then of the three secondary colours, orange, green and purple. He showed how these colours can be separated and mixed to produce such colour as aqua, brown, and navy of the other 93 shades he played. Colour plays a major part in our day, or even more specifically, our life. When we wake up we find ourselves in a colored bed; when we dress we find ourselves using and blending many different colours to make ourselves more attractive; when we eat our breakfast, there is also colour. A colourless meal is not appetizing.

The same principles rule the colour harmony in the home. Colours in home decorating are grouped according to a percentage. Thus 60% covers walls and ceiling, 30% covers floors, drapes, and furniture. The remaining 10% covers the rooms' accessories such as lamps, etc. Mr. Arcand displayed a colour chart with which someone who is decorating a room could learn how to use new colours without changing the rug, drapes and furniture.

Following this address a Paint Film was shown. This film was the true life story of a farm. The reason for paint chipping, peeling and the correct application of paint and its many uses on the farm were clearly explained.
