Enemy Repulsed in Attempt to Recover Lost Ground. French Make Further Advance East of Lorette. Italians Have Whole Austrian Fleet Bottled Up at Different Ports Through Effective Blockade of the Adriatic. Officially Denied That British Battleship Agamemnon Was Sunk by German Submarine in the Dardanelles.

Paris, June 15.—(Special)—The War Office this afternoon gave out the following statement: "There is nothing of importance to add to the announcement given last night. An attack by the enemy against the trenches occupied by us June 6, at Quenneviere was repulsed. A long-range piece of German artillery threw two projectiles into Compiègne. No one was hurt and no damage was done."

TURKS CLAIM MORE VICTORIES.

Constantinople, June 15, via wireless to Berlin and London.—(Special)—An official statement issued last night at the Turkish War Office was as follows:

"On the Caucasian front we occupied enemy positions in the direction of Olti, on the Russian border in Trans-Caucasia. "On May 24 an aviator who went up from an English cruiser near Eudian, Ehusian Province, Persia, was shot down."

DENY THAT BATTLESHIP AGAMEMNON WAS SUNK.

London, June 15.—(Special)—Official denial was made to-day of the report circulated in the United States that the British battleship Agamemnon had been sent down in the Dardanelles by a German submarine. It was further announced that no other fighting unit not already officially reported had been lost at the Dardanelles.

ALLIES KEEP UP THE PRESSURE ON THE GERMANS AND MAKE ADVANCES

Paris, June 15.—The following official communication was issued by the War Office last night: "In the sector to the north of Arras we repulsed during the course of Sunday night several attacks against our trenches on the road between Aix Noullette and Souchez, consolidated the positions gained by us to the east of Lorette, made a further advance to the right of these positions of about 150 metres, and progressed in the southeast section of the 'Labyrinth.' The artillery struggle in this sector has been nearly continuous. "To the southeast of Hebuterne we arrested by our fire an attack against our trenches on the road from Serre to Mailly-Maillet. The check to the enemy was followed by a violent bombardment. "In the region about the Quenneviere Farm we made slight progress in the branch trenches and saps and inflicted serious losses to the enemy reconnoissances. Throughout the day the artillery engagement has been quite lively. "In Lorraine we have carried our lines forward in the region of Emburment and the Forest of Parroy. Our progress in that sector continues without interruption."

ITALIAN FLEET HAS BOTTLED UP AUSTRIAN SHIPS IN DIFFERENT PORTS

Rome, June 15.—An Italian official statement concerning the progress of the campaign against Austria says: "From Tonale to Carnia all the enemy's attempts against the positions we captured have been successfully repulsed. In the Nola sector, in Carnia, we occupied Valentia. "Friday night our heavy artillery cut the railway from Gorizia to Maltoncone, in the vicinity of the Sagrado Railway Station."

ITALIAN FLEET IS ACTIVE

Rome, June 15.—Silence about the naval operations in the Adriatic must not be thought to imply inactivity of the Italian fleet which, on the contrary, is paralyzing successfully every attempt of the Austrians by maintaining an effective blockade of the Adriatic, which it continually patrols. Austrian warships and torpedo-craft do not dare to leave their ports, and are thus prevented concentrating at any one port or reinforcing the insufficient naval forces scattered along the Dalmatian coast. "For all practical purposes the Austrian fleet has ceased to be a fleet in being. Observation and wireless station on the Dalmatian Islands have been destroyed, and thus the movements of the Italian fleet are unknown to Austria. Yet the entire Austrian fleet, although condemned to inactivity, keeps steam up and is always ready, since surprises are feared, and especially night attacks. The strain upon the officers and crews is tremendous and as a consequence their morale is of the lowest. The majority of the crews, indeed, belong to the Italian unredeemed provinces, and their sympathies are with the enemy. "As to the actual fighting of the Italian fleet, it has twice during the last fortnight bombarded Monfalcone, which the Italian troops now occupy, once the Dalmatian coast and once the islands, with good results, while naval airships dropped bombs over Pola, Fiume and Sebenico. "If the result of the naval operations had consisted only in paralyzing the Austrian fleet, such result would be sufficient, since it proves the superiority of the Italians, which the Austrians fully recognized."

BATTLES RAGING AT VARIOUS POINTS ALONG WHOLE EASTERN FRONT

Petrograd, June 15, via London, June 15.—The official communication issued from general headquarters last night is as follows: "On the Windows River on Sunday we repulsed the enemy's repeated attempts to cross the river with strong forces in the neighborhood of Liatzkow and also checked all attempts of the enemy forces, which had already crossed at this point, to assume the offensive. "The battle for possession of the position near Shavil continues with alternating success. The town of Shavil has been bombarded by heavy artillery. "On the Neimen and Narew fronts, as well as on the left bank of the Vis-

AIRMEN DO GREAT DAMAGE

In Recent Aerial Raid on Brussels One Zeppelin Was Completely Destroyed

FRAMEWORK OF A PARSEVAL AIRSHIP WAS INJURED BEYOND REPAIR AT THE SAME TIME.

New York, June 15.—(Special)—A cable from London to the Tribune says: "Allied airmen who raided the Zeppelin sheds in Brussels on June 7, not only destroyed one Zeppelin, but one Parseval airship as well. The visit of the Allied airmen, it is said, created a great excitement in the Belgian capital. "It was well known what had happened, but the Brussels newspapers have not been permitted to publish a single word of the occurrence, while no Dutch papers are allowed in the country. "The raiding airmen, variously estimated from seven to eleven in number, came at two o'clock in the morning. The German soldiers opened a violent fire but failed to bring down a single airman. The latter came close to the sheds, dropping bombs, instantly causing several violent explosions. One Zeppelin was completely destroyed, while the framework of a Parseval airship was injured beyond repair."

OPTIMISM IN WASHINGTON

Believed That Such a Feeling in Official Circles is Not Well Founded

GERMANY HAS MADE NO SIGN THAT SHE WILL CONCEDE ANYTHING IN WAY OF SUBMARINE WARFARE.

Washington, June 15.—Official information has been received here that the German Government has sent notification to newspapers that they should be moderate and conservative in their comments on the recent American note and situation produced by the American protests over the conduct of Germany's submarine warfare against merchant vessels. This notification is supposed to explain the absence of hostile expressions on the part of the German press toward the United States since the text of the American note was made public in Germany. It is to these fairly friendly opinions that most of the optimistic feeling that prevails in certain quarters in Washington is due. "Without doubt a rather general impression that the outlook for German-American relations inclines to the side of a peaceful continuance exists in Government circles, but well-informed officials do not overlook the fact that the German Government has shown no disposition to concede anything in the way of modification of the submarine warfare."

ALLIED POWERS AGREE TO DEMANDS OF ROUMANIA

Definite Understanding as to Country's Intervention in the War is Imminent

GREECE AND SERBIA WILL SEND NOTE TO ENTENTE PROTESTING AGAINST CESSION OF MACEDONIAN TERRITORY

Rome, via Paris, June 15.—A despatch to the Giornale D'Italia from Sofia says: "M. Filipesco, leader of the Rumanian Conservatives, declared yesterday that the Quadruple Entente powers (Great Britain, France, Russia and Italy) have agreed to the demands of Rumania. Therefore, a definite conclusion of an understanding for the intervention of Rumania in the war is imminent. "Greece and Serbia will send an identical note to the Bulgarian premier, M. Radoslavoff, and his cabinet, declining the proposals of the Quadruple Entente powers for the cession of Macedonian territory to Bulgaria."

The correspondent of the Giornale D'Italia in a despatch adds: "I am assured that Greece and Serbia are sending a note of protest to the great powers, declaring that it is impossible to accept a Balkan understanding upon such terms. M. Radoslavoff and his cabinet will use pressure on Serbia and Greece, because in the end the conception of the and a just consideration of national aspirations in the Balkans must prevail."

RUMANIA WITH RUSSIA

London, June 15.—It is reported from Rome that Rumania has signed a tentative agreement with Russia which removes the obstacles preventing Rumania from entering the war on the side of the Allies. The report is unconfirmed. Fresh despatches from Bucharest yesterday said that the negotiations were continuing.

THRILLING FIGHT IN AIR

'Eye-Witness Recounts Adventure of Two British Airmen Against Germans

PILOT WAS SHOT THROUGH THE JAW AND NECK, BUT SUCCEEDED IN LANDING SAFELY.

London, June 15.—(Special)—An extraordinary adventure of two British aviators was recounted in an "Eye-witness" narrative dated June 12, published yesterday. "On Monday," says the writer, "two comrades of the Royal Flying Corps had a most adventurous flight while performing a reconnoissance about twenty miles from the front. They were attacked by several German aviators, and during the engagement the British pilot was shot through the jaw and neck. At first he collapsed and lost control of the aeroplane, but quickly recovered sufficiently to right the machine. Then began a running fight in which our men were fired at by a succession of hostile aeroplanes. The pilot gradually became weaker and weaker through loss of blood, and at last was scarcely conscious of what he was doing. His companion meanwhile handed him bandages and helped bind the wound, which was a dangerous one. Despite these handicaps, the observer did not fail to take notes, performing a complete reconnoissance. In the end our men escaped from the German pursuers and landed safely with valuable information."

SWITZERLAND PASSES NEW EXPORT ORDER

Dwitzerland Bern, June 15, via Paris.—(Special)—The Swiss federal council, at the suggestion of the political department, has decreed the prohibition of exports of a new series of commodities, including alcohol, cotton waste and finished or unfinished articles made of copper, zinc, lead and other metals.

PROPOSED NEW GAS PLANT

Ald. Brault Recommends that Work be Proceeded With at Proposed Cost of $70,000

INSTALLATION OF NEW PLANT WOULD MEAN A REDUCTION OF PRICE FROM $1.25 TO $1.00.

At the Council meeting last night, Ald. Brault, chairman of the Gas and Electric Committee, gave an account of his recent trip to Boston, New York and Philadelphia and made a long report on the question of the proposed new gas plant. He recommended, after a careful study of the matter that the old site be utilized for the purpose. "The approximate total cost was estimated at $70,000 and Ald. Brault said that the proposed plant would be adequate if the city grew during the next twenty years as it had during the last twenty years. "The chairman of the committee further stated that the department had debentures and cash to the extent of $66,000, which could be applied towards the cost and that the balance could be provided from the current revenue. He had no doubt that with a new plant the price of gas could be reduced from $1.25 to $1.00 per thousand cubic feet, besides paying head charges and showing more profit than at present. "In answer to the Mayor, Ald. Brault said that there was no nuisance from modern plants located in the heart of the cities, and that the smell round the plants he had visited raised no objection. "The matter was referred to the Finance Committee."

LUSITANIA WAS NOT ARMED

Statement Made at Opening Inquiry into Loss of Gunard Liner

BARON MERSEY IS PRESIDING AT INQUIRY — BOARD OF TRADE IS REPRESENTED

London, June 15.—(Special)—The Lusitania was not armed and she never was fitted out for a transport, was one of the remarks made by Sir Edward Carson, Attorney-General in the Board of Trade inquiry into the loss of the Cunard liner which was sent to the bottom off the south coast of Ireland, May 7, by a German submarine with a loss of over 1,100 lives. "Baron Mersey, president of the Board of inquiry to investigate the sinking of the Lusitania, is assisted by Admiral Sir Frederick Englefield and Lieut.-Commander Hearn, as naval assessors, and Captain Davies and Capt. Speeding of the mercantile marine. "Attorney-General Carson and Frederick E. Smith represented the Board of Trade, while the Cunard Line and the passengers of the Lusitania, including the late A.G. Vanderbilt, all were represented by counsel. "MANY PRESENT IN COURT "Public interest in the case was evidenced by the large number of spectators who crowded the court. It was noted with interest that virtually simultaneously with the opening of the investigation there was received news of the finding of two more bodies at sea near where the Lusitania sank. One was of a boy about 14 years old and the other of a man. Neither was identified. "Sir Edward Carson, who opened for the Board of Trade, said he courted the fullest inquiry. He was able to give complete denial to the contention of the German Government that the Lusitania was an armed ship."

WAR PARTY IN GREECE CARRIES ALL BEFORE IT

Returns of Election Show That Venizelos' Adherents Have Large Majority

AUGUST IS NOW LIKELY TO SEE GREECE ARRAYED ON THE SIDE OF LIBERTY AND CIVILIZATION.

Athens, via Paris, June 15.—Returns received up to one o'clock this morning from the general elections show that former Premier Venizelos' adherents have returned a majority everywhere except in Macedonia, where his candidates were defeated by the Government representatives. "Venizelos' nominees were elected in Attica, Boeotia, Crete, Epirus, Achia, Elias, Mytilene, Chios, Samos, Cyclades and other provinces. "Not a single candidate of M. Gounaris, the present premier, was elected in Attica, Boeotia and Epirus. "M. Venizelos carried fifteen of the sixteen seats in Patras, M. Gounaris' own division. "Two members of the Gounaris Cabinet, M. Stratos, minister of marine, and M. Protopapadakis, minister of finance, failed of election. According to ministerial reports the Gounaris followers won only 120 out of 316 seats."

HAS LARGE MAJORITY

London, June 15.—An Athens' despatch to the Daily Telegraph says: "So far as is known, 172 Venizelos adherents have been elected, and 69 Government candidates and independents in Macedonia have not yet been received, but as Macedonia is inhabited by Turks and Jews it is likely to give a majority for the Government. The complete returns, however, are certain to give a majority for the premier, who says if he has a majority of only one he will enter the Chamber and assume power."

VENIZELLOS VINDICATED

Paris, June 15.—M. Venizelos, who left Greece last week for a month ago, a voluntary exile, was yesterday vindicated by his countrymen, and the entry of Greece into the war on the side of the allies is considered imminent. Athens despatches denote that throughout the kingdom the candidates of the Liberals, the party of M. Venizelos, have been everywhere triumphant. This is a hard blow for the court party and King Constantine, the Kaiser's brother-in-law. But the King is still dangerously ill and has not yet been told of the result of the election for fear of the ill-effect on his physical condition. "The King is obliged by law to call the newly-elected Parliament to meet within forty days. To the nationalist ministry of M. Gounaris must face the alternative of joining in the war or resigning office. If the ministers give up their portfolios the King will be obliged to seek a new Cabinet in accord with the popular will. Otherwise his throne may be endangered. August, therefore, is likely to see Greece arrayed on the side of liberty and civilization."

SCHOOL TAX

A communication was received from the joint boards of school commissioners advising that the school tax for next year had been fixed at 5 1/2 mills on the dollar, and a special Protestant school tax of 1 1/2 mills. "SUGGESTION FOR BOULEVARD AND NEW CITY HALL. "Ald. Edwards drew the attention of the council to the extensive operations being carried on in connection with the building of the new St. Michael's Cathedral, and suggested that it might be an opportune time to reconsider the advisability of constructing a grand boulevard, which would extend from Terrace street, in front of the Court House, through to King street. This plan had been under consideration for several years and had been highly recommended by many of our prominent citizens, but no definite steps had been taken. At the present time a large area of rock to the depth of twenty-five feet and a great quantity of earth had to be excavated. (Continued on Page 6)

BUSINESS AT CITY COUNCIL

SUGGESTION MADE THAT BOULEVARD BE MADE FROM TERRACE STREET THROUGH TO KING STREET

A special meeting of the City Council was held last night under the presidency of the Mayor. The Aldermen present were Jencks, Genest, Ewing, Fortier, Brault, Gauvin and Edwards. "TENDERS FOR FIRE HOSE "On the motion of Ald. Ewing the Council accepted the tender of Codere Sons & Co. for 750 feet of Arrow Brand single jack fire hose at 95 cents per foot, and that of J. S. Mitchell & Co. for 250 feet Red Cross brand at $1.00 per foot. "FIRE DEPARTMENT WANTS EXTRA APPROPRIATIONS "The Fire Committee made the following recommendations:—"Whereas the appropriations set aside for the fire department for the current year do not include the increase in salary of firemen which becomes due from time to time during the year, your committee respectfully request that the matter be referred back to the Finance Committee for reconsideration."

POLICE MATTERS

The Council confirmed the appointment of Constable Prunier as lieutenant at No. 1 station at a weekly salary of $16 to take effect from May 1st. "A recommendation from the chief of police for the purchase of 31 constables' caps at $1.50 each, six constables' caps at $3 each, and 35 cap badges at $1.50 each, was adopted. "REPAIRS TO CITY PROPERTY "Ald. Edwards presented a report of the Parks and Real Estate Committee asking for an appropriation of $1,000 for repairs, etc., to the city property on Galt Street. This was passed by the Council on the recommendation of the Finance Committee. Ald. Edwards and Ald. Brault were appointed a committee to sign contracts. "ADDITIONS TO JULIUS KAYSER FACTORY "The Council agreed to an appropriation of $2,000 for the addition of a dyehouse to the building leased from the city by the Julius Kayser Co., the city attorney having advised that this must be provided, according to the contract. "The company has decided to buy the raw materials and make their own silk here for the manufacture of their goods in order to save the additional duty imposed through the war."

There have been some miners working of late on the farm occupied by Mr. E. Croto in St. Catherine's district and they claim to have found copper and nickel ore. They expect to make a further search.

Messrs. J. and M. Casady of Boston arrived home yesterday to visit their mother, Mrs. Lawrence Casady.

RAIN MUCH NEEDED. Towards midnight on Sunday the lightning began to play and the thunder accompanied by heavy fall of rain, which continued until 4 a. m. Monday. The rain was much needed. The thunder was very loud and almost continuous. Monday was a dull cloudy day with occasional glimpses of sunshine and showers.

Hervey B. Ferguson, former Congressman from New Mexico, who recently resigned as private secretary to William J. Bryan, died of apoplexy at his home in Albuquerque.

The Federated Guild met on Friday June 11, at the home of Mrs. Richard Findley. In spite of the wet day and long drive the attendance was good, there being twenty-eight present. At the close of the meeting a vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Findley for her kind entertainment and the use of her beautiful home. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Miss Florence Findley.

MILBY. The W. C. T. U. met at the home of the President Mrs. H. H. Nichol's last Thursday afternoon where a pleasant time was spent. It has been arranged to have a "tea" at the Hall next Thursday, June 17 to clean and prepare the basement for cementing. It will be remembered that it was flooded this Spring and therefore needs much repairing. The Ladies will serve dinner to all who attend, and it is hoped that there will be a good turnout.

Reports received in Berlin state there is a possibility of a ministerial crisis in Petrograd and that a coalition ministry is demanded.

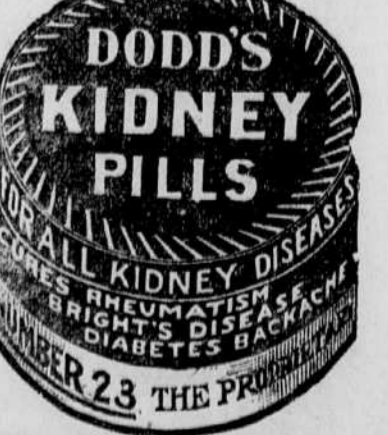

NOTES FROM WINDSOR MILLS

CONTRAVENTION OF BY-LAW IN PLACING SIGNS ON TELEPHONE POLES IN TOWN.

Windsor Mills, June 15.—(Special)—Mr. A. Provencier has greatly improved the appearance of his block opposite the Chateau Windsor by putting a new verandah around the first floor and building a concrete retaining wall at the end of the block, with steps up to the verandah and protecting rail. It adds greatly to the appearance of St. George's Road.

SIGNS ON TELEPHONE POSTS. A year ago the Town Council passed a by-law that no advertising signs should be allowed on any telephone or electric light poles and they removed all of the signs, but during Saturday night a representative of a manufacturing firm put up two signs on a telephone pole opposite St. Philip's Church. The Town Council should get after him and make him remove them.

LETTERS FROM E. T. SOLDIERS
WITH OVERSEAS CONTINGENT

THE RECORD AT THE FRONT.
East Angus, June 15.—(Special)—
Mr. and Mrs. James Currie have received a letter from their son Richard, who is at the front, in which he says:

"I am still in the land of the living, and having some time. The Canadians are doing some good work
over here. The people in England
think the Canadians are just fine.

We are having a rest now, but hope to be in action again soon. I would rather be doing something than lying around. We have had some
lively times since we came here,
sometimes a little too lively. We have had quite a few wounded and
two killed that started from Sherbrooke with us.

"I saw some records the other
day and saw Charlie Westgate's letter in one of them. It was good,
and it was true, too. I have not seen Charlie for some time. It is awful to see some of the nice places
blown to pieces, and the horses catch
it, too. I hear Italy is in with us
now. Well, it will all help to finish
the war, for it is terrible.

"The town of Ypres is in an awful
state. We went through there when
the men, horses and wagons were all
blown to pieces.

"Has the second contingent left Canada yet? and what are they doing? What contingent is Clarence Tincarre in? Did Lyster Learmonth's people ever hear from him? I never have."

ROYAL HIGHLANDERS SUFFERED
HEAVILY
The following extracts are from a letter received by Mr. E. W. Sears,
of Sherbrooke, from his brother-in-
law, James Anderson, at the front
with the Royal Highlanders of Canada.

"I am still alive and well after my first experience in action. We have not many left now in my regiment as
we got an awful cutting up—it was
pure hell. The French left their trenches
and allowed the Germans to come through. I believe in one hour thousands came through. As we were next to the French we had to hold
our own for a considerable time under heavy fire, but we were forced to retire about 500 yards and dig ourselves in. We stuck it until morning when the Germans started shelling us at such a force that we were being lifted out of our trenches so the
order came for 'every man for himself,' and oh! for a slaughter it was terrible. Our boys were dropping
right and left, how I got out alive
the Lord only knows as we retired in front of the Germans' fire which was terrible. We have been in the trenches ever since."

PRINCESS PATS WILL REMEMBER
MAY 1-9
Brompton, June 15.—(Special)—
Further letters have been received from Wm. Knapp of the Princess Pa-
triciacs. The following are extracts:—
May 13—As long as I live the date
May 8 will be remembered—the papers will probably tell you why. Cameron Harrison was killed with many others on May 7th by a shell. Al
Williams was wounded quite seriously, but not dangerously. I think he will be all right.

"You may believe anything you read of the 'Pats' between May 1 and 9 inclusive. We are back about eight miles from the firing line now."

May 19—I didn't get my last epistle finished before we got pulled back to the trenches so sent it as it was.
I imagine this brigade won't see such hard fighting again as we have had lately. We are back for a rest now but it is uncertain for how long.

Someone asked about the language.
It is mostly Flemish here, a funny lingo something like Scotch, a good many words end with 'en.' They say
"Yat a bit ye!" for "wait a minute."
"Yen a bit ye!" "Only a little." The "numerals" are near enough to ours so as to be easily recognized.

"The land in Flanders is very low so it is impossible to dig the best kind of trenches, either ours nor the Huns' are dug more than 2 or 4 feet, then built up with sand bags.
The constant shelling tears these so that they have to be repaired nearly every night. There are trenches everywhere and all sorts of barbed wire.

"The water is none too good, tastes more or less of dead Frenchmen, but as it does not make us sick, our incubation must be some good."

GUNNER COUSINS BACK AT THE FRONT.
Farnham, June 15.—(Special)—
The following are extracts from further letters received from Gunner Morton A. Cousins since he was wounded:

"France, May 17.—I am well and getting along fine. I came out of the hospital about a week ago. I am all right now. My wound healed without any scar. Send socks about twice a month, for we cannot get any here, and also a corncob pipe or a clay, and maybe some Old Chum or some Derby cigarettes. Outside of that, I guess I will be all right."

"May 21.—Well, we have moved to another part of the line, where we are resting up a bit after the hard fight at —. We were under terrible shell fire for over a week, and under ordinary fire for twenty-odd days. You cannot imagine the effect those large shells have on a man.
A half dozen men in our battery went crazy and broke down. It was a good thing I got wounded when I did, I guess, for I was commencing to think I could not get hit. Well, I can say the battery is full of new faces. One Sherbrooke man was killed outright, but we have made good, I guess. The gas used by the Germans is terrible stuff. I guess I won't be able to attend that funeral just now. I am sleeping out in the open now, and I am as tough as a steer. This is the most beautiful country around here that I ever saw,
all hedges, apple trees and rose bushes, in full bloom. I have lots of clean clothes now, about $20 in my pocket, and over $100 in the pay officer coming to me, so I am as happy
as a lord."

"I am still in the land of the living, and having some time. The Canadians are doing some good work
over here. The people in England
think the Canadians are just fine.

We are having a rest now, but hope
to be in action again soon. I would rather be doing something than lying
around. We have had some
lively times since we came here,
sometimes a little too lively. We have had quite a few wounded and
two killed that started from Sher-
brooke with us.

"I saw some records the other
day and saw Charlie Westgate's letter in one of them. It was good,
and it was true, too. I have not seen Charlie for some time. It is
awful to see some of the nice places
blown to pieces, and the horses catch
it, too. I hear Italy is in with us
now. Well, it will all help to finish
the war, for it is terrible.

"The town of Ypres is in an awful
state. We went through there when
the men, horses and wagons were all
blown to pieces.

"Has the second contingent left
Canada yet? and what are they doing? What contingent is Clarence Tincarre in? Did Lyster Learmonth's people ever hear from him? I never have."

ROYAL HIGHLANDERS SUFFERED
HEAVILY
The following extracts are from a letter received by Mr. E. W. Sears,
of Sherbrooke, from his brother-in-
law, James Anderson, at the front
with the Royal Highlanders of Canada.

"I am still alive and well after my first experience in action. We have
not many left now in my regiment as
we got an awful cutting up—it was
pure hell. The French left their trenches
and allowed the Germans to
come through. I believe in one hour
thousands came through. As we were
next to the French we had to hold
our own for a considerable time under heavy fire, but we were forced to retire about 500 yards and dig ourselves in. We stuck it until morning when the Germans started shelling us at such a force that we were
being lifted out of our trenches so the
order came for 'every man for himself,' and oh! for a slaughter it was terrible. Our boys were dropping
right and left, how I got out alive
the Lord only knows as we retired in
front of the Germans' fire which was terrible. We have been in the trenches ever since."

Brompton, June 15.—(Special)—
Further letters have been received
from Wm. Knapp of the Princess Pa-
triciacs. The following are extracts:—
May 13—As long as I live the date
May 8 will be remembered—the papers will probably tell you why. Cameron Harrison was killed with many
others on May 7th by a shell. Al
Williams was wounded quite seriously, but not dangerously. I think he will be all right.

WRITES OF BRAVERY OF CANADIAN SOLDIERS.

Captain Haymad, of the Belgian Army, who formerly spent several years in Sherbrooke, writes to a friend in the city praising the bravery and fine behaviour of the Canadian soldiers at the front. He says in part: As you know, I am in the Intelligence Branch of the Belgian Army, under our heroic King Albert, and often have occasion to visit the English and French lines.

Everywhere I hear of the Canadians! Since Langemarck, nothing else is talked of and they have been a revelation to the commanders of the Allied armies. Their initiative is wonderful and they are the heroes of the day.

I have seen old French peasants pull off their caps when they saw a Canadian soldier, and tough old seasons 'pious-pious' shed tears over a wounded Canadian. I have looked everywhere for a Sherbrooke boy for I know there are some here, but so far have not met one.

Captain Haymad was well known in Sherbrooke. He had belonged to the regular army of Belgium in the Congo before coming to Canada and when he returned home he went into his father's banking house at Spa.

When the war broke out he immediately took up arms again.

SIGN POSTS OF OLD LONDON.

The numerous friends of Hon. Justice and Mrs. Hutchinson assembled by special invitation at their residence on Prospect street last evening to hear a lecture by the Rev. Dr. McVicar, of St. John, N.B., brother of Mrs. Hutchinson, on "The Sign Posts of Old London," which, it goes without saying, was entertaining as well as interesting to a marked degree. The lecture was preceded by a charming vocal solo by Mrs. Malcolm Mackay, and Dr. McVicar was introduced by Judge Hutchinson in a few suitable words.

The lecturer began by speaking of the quaint symbolism of the crooked, narrow streets of old London, and quoted the fine descriptive passage of Wordsworth as most applicable to the subject. Some of those blazoned names of which the poet spoke are still to be seen in England and Greater Britain, but they are fast disappearing from London, and at every visit more have vanished.

Those who were so fortunate as to be in England at the coronation of King Edward would remember the wonderful reproduction of Lombard street with its old sign posts, precisely as it existed in the middle ages. The religious conceptions of that period were largely reflected in the sign posts, and it is interesting to recall that signs were employed in Pompeii and Herculaneum in the same manner. The signs of Old London had their origin in the illiteracy of the middle ages. People could not read or write, and some method had to be adopted to indicate the various trades and occupations and to attract custom. To the animal and vegetable kingdom, the heavens above and the waters beneath the earth were resorted to find emblems. The barnyard fowls were drawn upon; the cock was a favorite sign, as was also the peacock, which by the early Christian was emblematic of immortality and was highly esteemed by the Greeks and Romans. The Golden Fleece, typified by a lamb, was the symbol of the wool trade, and to this day one of these signs may be seen in Notre Dame street, Montreal, a survival of the past.

Horses were largely represented, but in odd colors such as green, blue, magenta, etc., and sometimes the horse was winged, from the story of Pegasus.

The "Cat and the Mill" of the familiar nursery rhyme was frequently used, also the "Cat and the Cucumber." The signs in old London were not placed on the houses, as in these days, but attached to posts and the latter soon became so numerous that the sky could scarcely be seen. Finally a law abolishing sign posts was enacted, but it was not till well on to the end of the 18th century that the edict was carried out.

As education advanced in a school system was adopted, signs were no longer necessary, and gradually were seen no more, with the exception of the mortar and pestle, the symbol of the chemist, the barber's pole of red and white, which in mediaeval times denoted that the proprietor of the shop was experienced in phlebotomy, or blood-letting, and the three balls of the pawn broker, really the heraldic device of the mediator.

The lecture throughout was punctuated with witty anecdotes, apt quotations and well told stories, some of which, though familiar, assumed a new guise as related by the speaker, whose wide stores of knowledge, profound culture and reminiscences of travel, together with his polished diction and vivid eloquence, have made him a man of mark, not only in the pulpit, where he is best known, but on the lecture platform.

In the beautiful story of St. George and the Dragon, dear to all British hearts, was emphasized the victory of right over wrong, the final triumph of the cause which England champions. The lecturer in

MARRIAGES

O'BRIEN-HARVEY.

Farnham's Corner, June 15.—(Special)—A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mrs. Emily Harvey at 3 p.m. on Wednesday, 9th, when her daughter, Miss Ruth E. Harvey, and Mr. Albert J. O'Brien, Sutton, were united in marriage, the bridal couple standing beneath an arch of evergreens and wild honeysuckle. The bride was gowned in white silk muslin, wearing the bridal veil and orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and maidenhair ferns. She was attended by her sister, Miss Emily Harvey, who wore a dress of white mull and carried a bouquet of violets and ferns. The groom was supported by Mr. Llewellyn Westover, East Dunham. Rev. T. Knowles performed the marriage ceremony. The bride's gift to the groom was a watch fob with gold locket and pendant; to the bridesmaid a pearl and sapphire pendant, and to Miss Harvey, who presided at the organ, gold circlet pins. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold chain and locket, and to the best man gold cuff links. The many useful presents, consisting of furniture, silver, cut glass, linen and cheques, testified to the high esteem in which the bride is held.

After congratulations and refreshments Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien left for Sutton, en route to Montreal, Toronto and Niagara Falls, the bride travelling in a suit of navy blue with hat to match. On their return they will reside in Sutton on the farm of Mr. O'Brien.

Those who had a distance attending the wedding included Rev. A. Mangio, wife and children, Morston, Vt.; Mrs. John Channell and Miss Vivian Channell, Mrs. T. O'Brien and family, Mr. and Mrs. N. O'Brien, Mrs. J. Knuckey and Mr. W. Knuckey, Sutton.

closing paid a high tribute to the women of the Empire, and especially to the women of Canada, for their noble work for the Red Cross, and took his seat amidst sincere and appreciative applause. A cordial vote of thanks was tendered to Dr. McVicar on behalf of the audience by the Rev. G. Ellery Read, who made a few appropriate remarks, and a vocal duet by Mrs. Mackay and Miss Horton, with the National Anthem, brought a thoroughly enjoyable evening to a close. A very satisfactory silver collection was made for the Red Cross funds.

GRAND TRUNK APPRENTICE IN ROYAL FLYING CORPS.

Among the twelve hundred Grand Trunk men who have enlisted for Overseas Service are several apprentices from the Motive Power Department of the Railway. These young men are variously employed, many of them in the firing line with the Canadian Expeditionary Force, while others have turned their technical skill to advantage in the other branches of the service.

Among those who enlisted from the Grand Trunk Shops at Battle Creek, Mich., on the outbreak of the war was an English apprentice, A. J. Locke, and the Master Mechanic at Battle Creek has just received the following letter from the young man's mother, who resides at Godalming, Surrey:

"I am writing to thank you very much for the gift of money sent through you to my son, A. J. Locke, and to thank you also for your kindness to and interest in him while he was employed in the G.T.R. Shops. I can assure you that both my husband and myself will ever feel grateful to you for the welcome you extended to him amongst you, and for the very thorough tuition which he must have had while with you, though for a short time (these unforeseen circumstances interrupting his apprenticeship) which has enabled him to go out and do his duty for King and Country. He is working as a fitter (1st class air mechanic) in the Airship Factories in the Royal Flying Corps, somewhere in France, and I am glad to tell you that he is keeping well, working very hard, long hours, too, cheerfully, loyally doing his share, amidst many dangers, to keep these vile barbarians away from our homes, and it is just what I would have him do. He is my one boy and I wish I had others—who could help in this awful struggle—for such it is and will be until we finally crush these monsters forever, which by God's help we shall do, at a terrible cost, we know, and great sacrifices."

G. HAROLD POWELL TELLS ADVERTISING MEN ABOUT CITRUS FRUITS

Chicago, June 15.—G. Harold Powell, of Los Angeles, addressed a gathering of seventy-five representatives of the leading newspapers of the country today in the offices of Lord & Thomas on the subject of the marketing methods and business aims of the great California Fruit Growers Exchange of which he is general manager.

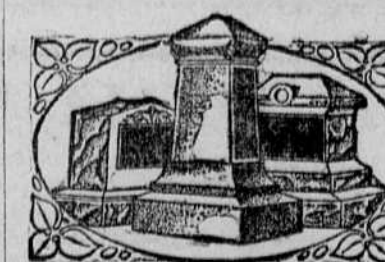

Mr. Powell explained the operations of the exchange, which does a business of approximately $60,000,000 a year without capital and without profit, and pointed out the advantages of the exchange principle to both the grower and the consumer of California oranges and lemons. As a result of the extreme care and scientific methods of handling the 6,500 grower-members of the Exchange, California citrus fruits reach the Eastern housewife's table as fresh and perfect in every way as when picked from the trees in the Golden State, the grower profiting in his turn because the fruit is salable and because economical handling prevents excessive selling costs.

"One thing, we believe, is misunderstood by the average consumer," said Mr. Powell, "and that is this—the California orange purchased during the summer months is not a winter orange which has been held in cold storage but is a fresh picked summer orange. The orange known as the Valencia variety begins to ripen on the trees about May 1st, and is picked and shipped fresh from the trees every day thereafter until about November 1st, when the Navel variety comes into the market. It is, therefore, possible to have fresh picked California oranges every day of the year now."

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK MARKET

CATTLE PRICES STEADY; LAMBS DECLINED 50 CENTS A HEAD.

Montreal, June 15.-The top grade of butcher steers offered on the local market yesterday were not considered worth as much as last week, owing to the fact that the offerings of other good cattle were larger and were not selling too fast on account of the warm weather.

The offerings of cows were in the majority, but prices were holding steady under good buying by packers.

The run of butcher cattle was larger than usual, and this helped to hold prices steady.

On increased receipts of lambs prices were easier, and showed a decline of 50c a head, while old sheep held steady.

Hog prices were rather irregular, and the range was wide. Some lots were bought as high as $10.10; these were mostly contract stock. Mixed lots sold as low as $9.00. The large run of sows has caused a cut of $2.00 off the select hog prices for these.

Calves were steady under fair demand.

MAY GET TWO MEDALS

In This War the Problem Unusual and Complicated

It is safe to say that of all subjects which form topics of conversation in the trenches during the moments which the enemy leaves the British soldier for social intercourse, none is more popular (unless the soldier has completely changed his character) than the great question: "How many medals shall we get for this war and what shall be the bars?" That has always been, since the British army received medals, the one subject which has interested him more than any other.

In the argot of the barrack room, the medal is a "song" and it is the ambition of every soldier in the army that the "song" should not be bars of bars (the little strips of silver across the ribbon inscribed with the names of action which mark the quality of the award), and the more bars there are to a man's medal the higher does he stand, not only in his own estimation, but in the estimation of his comrades.

It is curious how, when discussing the war, generally, with wounded soldiers, the topic of conversation invariably veers round to this medal question. The optimistic think that there will be three. One given by France, one by Russia, and a third by England. Others believe that the medal will be of bronze, and will be issued in uniformity by the five nations engaged. This would not be very popular with the soldier. In the Egyptian campaigns there were two, one British and one which was presented by the Egyptian Government. In the South African War there were also two, but that was due to the fact that the war was continued under two sovereigns.

What is probable is that there will be a British medal and one issued by the allies in conjunction, that is to say, the Russian soldier will wear the Russian medal and the allies', and the French soldier will wear the French medal, issued by the French Government, plus the allies', and the same decorations will be offered to the British soldier. It is said that the color of the new ribbon, made up of the national colors of Belgium and will either be a black ribbon, with red and yellow stripes on each edge, or will be a red ribbon, with a black and yellow edging, the exact pattern of which has not yet been decided upon.

Germans Rally North of Arras and Recapture Some of Their Lost Trenches

London, June 15.-[Special].-It is apparent that the former premier of Greece, M. Venizelos, and his followers have won an overwhelming victory in the Grecian general elections. The latest news claims a majority of two-thirds for the war party in parliament.

The British press is of the opinion that this means a deliberate choice on the part of the Grecian people to cast their lot with the Allies.

GERMANS RALLY NORTH OF ARRAS.

London, June 15.-[Special].-Reports from Paris make mention of slight progress all along the line, but nothing is said of the situation north of Arras where the Germans have rallied and recaptured some of their lost trenches.

German official reports represent recent fighting on the River San, in Galicia, as having resulted in victory for General von Mackensen, who has effectively countered the Russian blow at Eurawna, on the Dniester River.

Italian heavy artillery has begun the bombardment of Malborgath, one of the pivots of the Austrian defenses between the Carnianph and the Upper Isoneo River. Tarvis, an important railway junction twelve miles further east, also is threatened.

NO GERMANS NEED APPLY

Britain For the Britons After the War is Prevailing Sentiment

There is a very strong feeling in the British Isles and also in the army on the subject of enemy aliens, particularly the treatment of enemy aliens after the war. It must be remembered that the army has been recruited from the civilian population. Of course, all recruits come from the civilian population, but the young men who join the standing army under ordinary conditions do virtually adopt soldiering as a profession, and remaining for some years in the service lose touch with civil life. But the men of the new army stopped directly out of civil life into the ranks, and have taken with them to the front the civilian outlook upon national affairs. They are men who had to get their living as civilians before the war and will have to get it again if they come back alive.

These men are "fed up" with Germany and the Germans. The bulk of the working population at home are in the same mood. They want to know how the Germans are to be treated when the war is over. In many letters sent to England there occurs the significant statement: "Our men in the trenches want to know whether when the Germans are driven out of France and Belgium they will be allowed to come to England and take their jobs?" It is a subject to which the people and the Government will have to give serious attention. The British people do not want their markets flooded with German goods, and London writer points out. They do not want the labor market flooded with German cheap labor. They do not want the country mapped out and patrolled by German spies. They do not want any Germans in the country at all nor any German goods.

SCOTSTOWN AND DISTRICT

Ladies Patriotic Society Striving Hard to Keep Up Work to Capacity

APPEAL MADE TO THOSE WHO REALIZE THE GREAT WORK THAT IS REQUIRED

Scotstown, June 15-(Special).-The Scotstown branch of the Red Cross Society met at the home of Mrs. Peter Taylor on Friday last, there being twenty of the ladies present. Although the warm weather is coming on there has been no diminution in the energies of this enthusiastic band of workers for this patriotic work, as one and all seem to realize that the efforts being put forth will have to be continuous as the need is so great. The matter of raising further funds was discussed at considerable length, but no satisfactory means could be devised for increasing the resources of the Society by a concert, garden party, etc., so it was decided to rely upon the generosity of the members and friends of the Society as they have not been found wanting on any former occasion. Any member who can subscribe can hand their donation to Mrs. J. A. Gifford, the secretary treasurer, at the next meeting, or if that is inconvenient, the amount can be given to her at her residence, Vieux Fort. It is hoped that a generous response will be made as the ladies of the society have bound themselves to send a certain amount each month in cash to Sherbrooke for the purchasing of bandages, and they do not wish this to lapse, especially as they have been able to send double the amounts promised on three different occasions through the generosity of private citizens and the Ladies' Guild of St. Alban's Church. Any subscriptions from those outside the membership will be very acceptable, and it is reported that the

WEST WARD VACANCY

Nomination of Candidates For Vacant Seat on City Council Takes Place Next Monday

VERY LITTLE INTEREST MANIFESTED UP TO PRESENT TIME POSSIBLE CANDIDATES.

Monday next, June 21st, is the date fixed for receiving nominations for candidates for the seat in the City Council for the West Ward, rendered vacant by the death of the late Ald. Prunier.

Very little activity is being shown in the Ward at present in connection with the election, and so far it does not appear to be known whom the candidate or candidates will be.

The name of Mr. Joseph Landry, 71 Galt Street, has been mentioned as a possible candidate for municipal honors. A delegation waited upon him last week and urged him to allow himself to be nominated, but up to last night he had not decided whether he would accept the nomination.

Another name mentioned in connection with the vacancy is that of Mr. F. R. Darche. It will be remembered that Mr. Darche was one of the representatives for the ward from January 1913 to January 1915, having been elected for the other seat at the same time as the late Ald. Prunier. When, however, Ald. Darche's term of office expired in January last, he did not seek re-election and Ald. Gauvin was elected to succeed him.

It is felt amongst a large number of electors in the ward that Mr. Darche's candidature would be most acceptable, and that if pressure were brought to bear upon him, he might consent to come forward again.

PATRIOTIC WORK IN SHERBROOKE

Dr. Williams Returns Thanks For Literature Sent to Hospital Near Boulogne

WOUNDED SOLDIERS APPRECIATE KINDNESS OF THE SHERBROOKE LADIES FOR SENDING BOX.

The members of the Soldiers and Sailors Committee feel much encouraged in their literature work for the wounded in the hospitals since the receipt of the following letter from Dr. Williams, written to Mrs. Sylvester Jenkes, as convener of this committee, and have redoubled their efforts in carrying on the work. No. 1 Canadian Stationary Hospital.

"Dear Mrs. Jenkes:

I have just received the box sent by the Committee of Sherbrooke Ladies for our wounded soldiers, and hasten to thank you for your kindness in sending so many things which will prove most useful in the hospital for the poor fellows who have been sent back to us. I note what you say about more following and assure you that your kind efforts in this direction

"Had we held you back in weakness—women's words can work such shame."
Pleading love of home and children, soiling thus our country's fame."
"Could we bear the years that found us with our menkin by our sides."
"Could we bear the stern accuracy and the scorn of those who died."

tion will be very much appreciated, not only by the wounded of the hospital, but by the medical staff of the hospital. We are at present three miles north of Boulogne, and have 310 beds which are always full provisions are being made to increase this number to 520. During the past three weeks our work has been very heavy and is continuing so. I am sorry to say that the majority of our patients have been Canadians. I am on the look out for Sherbrooke boys at all the different hospitals here and at Boulogne (30 in number) quite frequently, but the rush has been so terrible during the past two weeks that some may have been in other hospitals here and then transferred to England before I could find them.

"We are prepared for a long siege of it here but do not expect such heavy casualties all the time we will certainly have them sporadically in the future when special big movements are being carried on."
"Kindly convey the thanks of the officers and nursing staff of this unit to the Ladies Committee. Yours sincerely, E. Williams. (Major)"

WORK WILL BE REDOUBLED

cavated to prepare for the foundations of the new cathedral, and these could be advantageously used in constructing the proposed boulevard. Ald. Edwards had been given to understand that the church authorities would be willing to cooperate with the city to the extent of donating the necessary land in the rear of their property, and it was within the bounds of possibility that the city would some day acquire the property on King street on which to erect the new City Hall. This step would give a clear road through from Strathcona Square, opposite the McBain block, to King street, and would make one of the most attractive spots in the city. It would be to Sherbrooke what Dufferin Terrace is to the city of Quebec. The council was very favorably impressed with the proposed scheme, and a resolution was passed authorizing the city engineer to prepare plans and an estimate of the cost of the work, and submit same to the next meeting.

SEWERS, ETC., FOR NORTH WARD.
Ald. Ewing asked if there was any report in reference to sewers, sidewalks, etc., on Montreal, Queen and London streets, Portland avenue, Brompton road, etc.
The mayor replied that he understood the city solicitor would have the proposed by-law ready for next week.

SUGGESTIONS FOR ROAD COMMITTEE.

Ald. Edwards made the following suggestions for the road committee to consider:

"To lower and level St. Edward street and put in water pipes, thus making it unnecessary to give J. Sorel water free for use of his land."
"Renew sidewalk in front of Skinner's store on Dufferin avenue."

"Make steps for sidewalk leading from Frontenac street to Peel street."
"Raise crossing at foot of Montreal street and sidewalk on north side."

"Fix sidewalk on Walton avenue, between London and Queen, as petitioned for."

MR. BOUDREAU'S POSITION.

A long discussion took place relative to Mr. Boudreau, the late engineer of the fire department, who left without notice on May 3rd, but reported yesterday for duty on the authority of Ald. Ewing, chairman of the department.
By a vote of 5 to 2 the council declared the position vacant, and decided that Mr. Boudreau must make a fresh application if he wished to re-enter the service of the city. The voting was as follows:

For re-instatement—Ald. Ewing and Edwards.
Against—Ald. Jenkes, Genest, Fortier, Brault and Gauvin.

The feeling of the majority was that having deserted the service in a manner which could not be tolerated, Boudreau must make a request in writing before the Council could re-engage him.

Ald. Ewing made a strong plea for Boudreau's reinstatement on the ground of his age and his long and valuable service to the city. He admitted he should not have left as he did.

Ald. Edwards took the view that as the chairman of the department had told Boudreau that he could go back, and in view of the fact that he probably had some grievance when he left, and was an old employee of the city, he should be shown some toleration. While not supporting Boudreau's action, he would reprimand him this time for desertion of service and stop his pay, but allow him to keep his job. He was a very valuable man and Ald. Edwards understood the Chief would be glad to have him back. In his opinion Boudreau had been the victim of instructions (a reference to the previous trouble as well as the present).

On the advice of the City Attorney the Council decided to pay Mr. Boudreau at the previous rate of $1,200 per year up to the time he left the department. This rate had been reduced to $1,000 some five or six months ago.

tured the village of Tuchla. "On the Diester the enemy attacked fiercely, but fruitlessly, on the night of June 13-14 our bridgehead near the village of Nizniow, on the left bank. We delivered an exceptionally audacious counter-attack, in the course of which several companies of Tyrolese riflemen and the 20th Jaeger Battalion were almost entirely sabred and dispersed. In the same region a detachment of our territorials, supported by other units, made counter-attacks yesterday and took eight officers and four hundred men prisoners."

"We are prepared for a long siege of it here but do not expect such heavy casualties all the time we will certainly have them sporadically in the future when special big movements are being carried on."
"Kindly convey the thanks of the officers and nursing staff of this unit to the Ladies Committee. Yours sincerely, E. Williams. (Major)"

FIRST VISIT FROM MR. BRUIN IN MANY YEARS.

Bolton Centre, June 15.—(Special)—When Mrs. Silas Johnson, of this place, went into the shed Monday morning she heard a queer noise and on looking out of the door she got the fright of her life, for just at a short distance from the barn in the meadow, next the main road, stood a monstrous black bear. She called to the men, but by the time they reached the spot Bruin had crossed the road and C.P.R. track into the woods below. His immense tracks showed what a big fellow he was. Those who saw the tracks say they were unusually large. Mr. Johnson's farm is only about three-quarters of a mile from the village on a road which travelled a well cleared farm with no thick woods near. Bears have not been in this vicinity for so many years only the oldest inhabitants can remember when.

STATIONS CHANGE NAMES ON C.P.R.

North Troy, Vt., June 15.—(Special)—The strange changes in names of stations on the C.P.R. which has caused wonder and consternation to many travellers along this line causes the Palladium of the village to remark:

"According to the new time-table recently issued by the C.P.R. several stations along the road have been renamed. Eastman Junction, scintillates as Eastway. Troy Junction now bears the sylvan designation Elk-hurst, Melbourn conjures visions of wealth as Golden Bay, Iversville Junction carries the cryptic title of Cumandes, Brigham Junction appears under the idyllic cognomen, Brookport, while that unfortunate hamlet situated a short distance north of Sutton, Que., that has had at various times in its history a confused existence as Washers Station, Sutton Junction, Drummondville Junction, is now struggling under the appellation of Enlaugra. This last one appears to be a case for the doctor."
