Homeopathic Hospital Receives Donation From Solar Club Draw

Mrs. E. Handelsman and Louis Carangi Are Lucky Winners in Draw for Washer and Hoover

Presentation of a cheque for $475.00, part of the proceeds from the $900.00, which was from a drawing for the purchase of equipment for the War Emergency Operating Room and the Anti-Cancer Research of the Homeopathic Hospital of Montreal, 2100 Marlowe Avenue, was made on behalf of the Solar Club, by J. F. Whately, the president, to Dr. H. R. Griffith, medical superintendent of the Homeopathic Hospital, at the meeting held last Tuesday, when over 50 members, with their wives and guests attended the function.

The drawing for the electrical washing machine was won by Mrs. E. Handelsman, whose husband has a clothing store at 4640 Wellington street, Verdun; and the winner of the Hoover vacuum was Louis Carangi, local barber at 4970 Sherbrooke street, Westmount.

It required two telephone calls to convince Mrs. E. Handelsman that she was really the lucky winner of the washing machine which was delivered to her in time for Christmas. The happy recipient was so thrilled with her luck that she generously sent along a cheque donation to the hospital to show her appreciation.

Both tickets were single ones purchased with no thought of winning, but with the sole idea of helping the humanitarian work of the Solar Club, whose motto is "Sunshine For Humanity," an organization devoted to the welfare work of the Homeopathic Hospital.

A. Ross Grafton, of 4263 St. Catherine Street, Westmount, was one of the members who had the high gross on the ticket sales for the drawing.

Games, dancing and music were enjoyed and refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

ROTARY IS "SANTA CLAUS" TO HOSPITALS
 The total of over $100,000.00 during the last few years raised by Westmount Rotary Club and donated to children's and other hospitals in the district of Montreal was further augmented by two fat cheques as "Christmas presents" donated on behalf of the club by C. W. McBride, president, left, and F. C. Whitaker, past president of Westmount Rotary, to H. O. White, representing Montreal Children's Hospital, and S. R. Noble, president of the Julius Richardson Memorial Hospital (right).

Boys' Brigade 1st Company To Attend New Year's Rally

Salute to the Colors Will Take Place At Knox Crescent Presbyterian Church, Saturday

As in past years, the 1st Company will attend the New Year's Rally in Knox Crescent Presbyterian Church, on Saturday, and will have charge of the ushering and collecting of the offering. During the service, the salute to the Colors will also be handled by the 1st Company with the band playing the salute. Lieut. Alex Upham will carry the King's Colour, Corp. Alan Keith the Brigade Colour and Corp. R. Burris, L/C James Dugan and Pte. J. Durocher for the escort. The buglers will be under the direction of Color Sgt. Edwin Goring.

Much time is being devoted toward developing an impressive programme for the Father and Son Banquet. Lieut. Chas. King is devoting much time during the school vacation toward building up the strength of the brass section and is rehearsing several numbers for the display on January 14th. This will be the first appearance the brass band has made in public.

L/C Ian Campbell is endeavouring to arrange a successful handicraft display for this occasion and has met with an enthusiastic response from the Company. The judges will be W. F. Freshner and T. W. Ritchie.

Westmount Sailor In Pack That Sank Big Hun Warship

W. Stratford Clouston Is Commander of Destroyer Scorpion

Lt.-Cmdr. William Stratford Clouston, in command of H.M.S. Scorpion, one of a pack of destroyers which dealt the death blow to Germany's prize battleship, Scharnhorst, on Sunday, is a Westmount sailor, son of Mrs. William Stewart Clouston and the late Mr. Clouston, of 17 Weredale Park. Born in this city 35 years ago, Lt.-Cmdr. Clouston has been with the Royal Navy for the past 18 years. He was educated at Montreal High School and Royal Military College, Kingston, joining Britain's navy as a midshipman on "special entry". He served on two missions to China and in various other areas before the war, and since September, 1939, has been in command of several destroyers, the last before the Scorpion being H.M.S. Inconstant. Lt.-Cmdr. Clouston's two brothers, only other sons of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Clouston, were also "in the navy" and gave their lives in that service. One of them, Lt.-Cmdr. Campbell Clouston, R.N., was killed in the evacuation of Dunkirk, and the other, Lt. John Douglas Clouston, R.C.N.V.R., was lost in the North Atlantic about two years ago. A sister, Miss Janet Clouston, is with the First Air Nursing Yeomanry in England.

Quiz Contest At Victoria Hall

An unusual form of quiz contest was held at the Westmount Rotary Club's meeting yesterday which took place in the Oak Room of Victoria Hall.

Roy Campbell, a member of the Westmount municipal commission and of the C.P.C., was master of ceremonies. He brought a novel machine with him. The latter enabled the contestants to answer yes or no to questions by turning a dial. When they turned the dial one way a red light would flash and in this manner all the contestants were able to answer each question.

The Rotarians were divided into four teams under Cecil Medler, Fred Whitaker, Bert Cuthbert, and Dave Kerr.

The questions ranged all the way from natural history to questions concerning Rotary clubs. Mr. Campbell kept the members in gales of laughter with his frequent comments.

When the scores had been tallied by Gordon Burgoyne, chairman of the program committee, it was revealed that Bert Cuthbert's team had come first.

Bob Stanger introduced Mr. Campbell and Charlie Wright thanked him.

During the business part of the meeting, president Chester McBride, who presided, announced that the board had chosen Ewart Everson as chairman of the carnival committee for the next carnival. At the same time Tom Warren was nominated for the presidency of the Rotary International by the club.

The meeting adjourned shortly after two o'clock with the national anthem.

C. J. Wheatley Becomes Legion Branch President

Annual Meeting of R.M.R. (Que. No. 14) Held in The Armory

C. J. Wheatley was elected president of the R.M.R. (Que. No. 14) branch of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L. at the annual meeting in the armory of the Royal Montreal Regiment, 4625 St. Catherine street west, Westmount. He succeeds W. Runtz.

Other officers elected were: First and second vice-presidents, E. H. Dodd and W. G. Stevens; secretary, M. LeRoy; treasurer, A. Walker; sergeant-at-arms, R. Forsyth; executive committee, J. D. Thomson, W. A. Pulling, R. McLachlan, L. H. Evans, C. S. Rooke and J. Logie. The auditors will be C. G. Cowan and Douglas Haik. Mr. Dodd was elected the representative on the Montreal District Council, and Mr. Walker will be the alternate.

Roy Campbell Named Head Of Municipal Association

Roy Campbell, 52 Forde Crescent, was named president of the executive committee of the Westmount Municipal Association at the annual general meeting of the association held Wednesday night in Victoria Hall with the retiring president, Dr. Keith O. Hutchison, in the chair.

Other officers elected were: J. W. McCammon, first vice-president; G. W. Bourke, second vice-president; V. F. McAdam, secretary-treasurer, and W. W. Williamson, honorary auditor.

In the president's report, Dr. Hutchison noted an increase in membership of nine, bringing the total number of members of the association to 397. Of this number 26 are honorary members on active service. He expressed the assurance that the good work of the association will continue in the future.

The Westmount Municipal Association is unique in that it has no charter but was set up by a group of far-sighted citizens to watch over the city council, said His Worship Mayor Walter A. Merrill, K.C. He pointed out that all civic matters had functioned very smoothly during the year with almost no contentions between the council and the association.

Speaking of the bylaw dealing with the closing of stores after 7 p.m. in Westmount, the Mayor said that it was passed by the city in compliance with the citizens' wishes. He also said that ration board No. 2, which is administered by the City of Westmount, had been noted by officials at Ottawa as "almost a model for the whole of Canada."

In connection with the bylaw

F-O N. D. Johnston Wins Promotion In R.C.A. Force

Former Westmount High Schoolboy and Member Of Hi-Y Club Overseas

Word has been received that Flying Officer Norman Douglas Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman D. Johnston, 754 Upper Lansdowne Avenue, has won promotion from Pilot Officer.

F/O Johnston, who is a navigator in the R.C.A.F., in England graduated from Westmount High School in June 1940 and then joined the firm of P. S. Ross, chartered accountants, working at McGill University at night for two years on his accountancy course.

He enlisted on March 1st 1942 had two months leave to take his intermediate accountancy examination and on May 1st was posted to the Lachine Manning Post. Later he went to St. Hubert, then to the I.T.S. Toronto and was among the first ten who were made navigators last year. He was a member of the Hi-Y Club when at school and was a keen enthusiast of tennis and skiing.

City Water Off Six Inch Break

Bucket Brigade Used At Gladstone and Atwater Aves.

Over 150 Westmount families formed a bucket brigade Christmas morning after a six-inch main burst at the intersection of Atwater and Gladstone avenues.

Without water from the faucets from early Friday night when the break was reported until noon Christmas Day, the residents of both sides of Dorchester street between Atwater and Greene avenues were forced to get their water from the city water wagons which were rushed into service.

Waterworks officials said little damage was reported as the result of the break, although at least one lower apartment was slightly flooded.

Officials said difficulty in locating the break was responsible for the length of time the water was disconnected, but that once it was traced repairs were speedily completed.

Rooms For Nurses Sought In January

Accommodation Needed Near Hospital for New Class of Students

Due to the enrolment of a new class of students at the Homeopathic Hospital during the month of January, 1944, the hospital will require several double rooms with twin beds, within close proximity of the hospital.

People living in Westmount interested in renting rooms to the hospital for this purpose, would assist greatly by describing, in writing, the type of accommodation, rent requested, to W. Hatch, Secretary, Homeopathic Hospital, 2100 Marlowe Ave., as soon as possible.

Church Of Advent To Repeat Service

The Carol Service of Nine Lessons which was held at the Church of The Advent last Sunday, will be repeated next Sunday at 7 o'clock.

The Service is one of great beauty and represents a perfect combination of worship and instruction. The use of the new Memorial Organ for the first time also enhanced the beauty of the service.

Lieut. Spearman Home On Leave

Lieut. Clifford Spearman, 2 who is attached to the American Army Air Forces at Los Angeles, California, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spearman, 3055 Sherbrooke Street West, arrived home on Friday to spend Christmas with his parents and also to attend the wedding of Tuesday, of his sister Miss Joan Spearman to Fl. Lieut. Jean Saint-Pierre, R.C.A.F.

Lieut. Cliff Spearman, who was educated at Argyle, Westmount High School and McGill University, received his degree of B. Sc. at Queen's University, Kingston, Ont., where he studied engineering. Prior to enlisting in January, 1942, he was a mining engineer with the United States Gypsum Company in Texas and Ohio. His brother, Donald, was also educated at Argyle, Westmount and McGill University and is a psychologist in the Northern Electric Plant.

WOMEN WANTED AS INSPECTORS IN WAR PLANTS
 The Inspection Board of the United Kingdom and Canada has issued an urgent call for more than 600 women between the ages of 20 and 40 for inspection work in Canadian war plants. Responsible positions inspecting guns, fire control instruments, explosives and radio parts await applicants who have had advanced training in Chemistry, mathematics or radio. They will join hundreds of other women in munitions plants doing vital war work such as that performed by the two girls in this photograph. They are shown preparing bench reports at day's end.

Westmount Boys Are Promoted

The following promotions of Westmount officers now serving overseas have been announced by the Public Relations Officer of M. D. No. 4.

To be acting captain is Lieut. Bertram Ellison of the R.C.A.S.C. whose mother Mrs. B. B. Ellison resides at 541 Lansdowne Avenue, Lieut. R. L. Prince, C.I.C., whose wife Mrs. P. M. Prince lives at 3239 Cedar Avenue; and Lieut. F. F. Rejall, C. A. C., whose wife, Mrs. Margaret Rejall, resides at 4450 Western Avenue.

Skis Are Requested

Gifts of skis, poles and other paraphernalia of the sport are sought by the commandant of the R.C.A.F. training station at Mountain View, Ontario. At least 300 pairs of skis could be put to immediate good use at the station.

Westmount Women's club heads believe that many homes in this district have available equipment stored in attics. Those who are able to help in this matter are asked to get in touch with Mrs. Harold Mills, DE. 3290.

HENRY EMO HONORED
 Tribute was paid to the memory of the late Henry Emo, former advertising manager of the Verdun Guardian, at the opening of The Examiner Christmas party last Friday afternoon. At the call of H. V. Stoddard, chairman, the entire assembly rose and stood in silence for a minute in thoughts of their departed colleague.

Lieut. F. A. Banks Wins Promotion

Joining the Seventh Reconnaissance Regiment (17th Duke of York's Royal Canadian Hussars) early in the war Lieut. Banks has been commissioned from the ranks, according to word received here. He went overseas in September, 1941, as a trooper and won promotion until he became a sergeant. He held this rank when awarded his lieutenantcy. His wife, the former Olive Chisnore, and small daughter, live at 1063 Greene Avenue, Westmount.

rank of major in the Canadian Army in 1940 as second in command of the 5th Field Regiment. For a short while in 1942 he was in command of the 1st Anti-Tank Regiment, but was transferred shortly before going to Sicily with the 1st Division. He fought with the Canadian artillery in both Sicily and Italy. In private life Lt.-Col. Hague was a member of the firm of Hague, Henry and Hague, harristors of this city, and shortly before going overseas he was made a K. C. His brother, Maj. Edward Hague, is with Canadian Headquarters in London, and his sister, Lt. Helen Hague, is with the C.W.A.C. at Ste. Anne.

WESTMOUNT, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 30, 1943

DRIVE CAREFULLY

MOST dangerous night in the year, for motorists, is New Year's Eve. Whereas everyone condemns driving by people who have had a bit too much to drink, and whereas most people are sensible about their drinking, there are nevertheless a few who celebrate unwisely, fill the car up with their friends, and try to get home without driving on the sidewalks. These few make New Year's Eve driving full of peril for the sensible ones. Winter driving is always hazardous, especially when a mild spell is followed by cold weather and the streets become glazed with ice. If you are driving New Year's Eve, drive slowly.

ISLANDS

AMERICAN planes are systematically bombing the Marshall Islands. These attacks will grow heavier as the Seabees repair the captured air strip on Tarawa. But experience demonstrates that Japanese island strongholds cannot be neutralized from the air. Sooner or later the Marshalls must be attacked and occupied by landing forces.

But despite the lessons learned in the battle of Tarawa, storming the Marshalls promises to be even a harder task. The reasons are obvious. Under cover of a League mandate the Japanese have been fortifying the Marshall group for two decades. (It was their nearest base to Pearl Harbor.) There are more than twice as many atolls in this cluster as there are in the Gilberts. They are arranged in a double chain called Radak and Rakik, the defenses of which are mutually supporting. Tarawa was the only real stronghold in the Gilberts and its conquest assured the occupation of the entire group. But there are five fortified atolls in the Marshalls, at least four of which are reported to have first-rate air strips. Wotje, Kwajalein, Moloelap and Jaluit are all larger and probably stronger than Tarawa.

Like the Gilberts, the Marshalls are low-lying islets and coral strips encircling lagoons. Unlike Ocean Island and many of the Carolines, where volcanic peaks push up from the sea, the greatest elevation on the Marshalls is 33 feet. But the machine gun nests which the Japanese build of coconut logs, sand, cement and iron can hardly be destroyed except by a direct hit from a bomb or heavy dynamite charges. American flame throwers reduced many of them on Tarawa, but this involves costly exposure to enemy fire. A fleet investment of the Marshalls against a network of air fields and submarine bases will be a major operation. Crossing the reefs of these atolls in landing barges is always risky. A sudden shift in the wind, as in the Gilberts, may endanger the whole enterprise. But to fighting Marines no defenses are impregnable.

FREEDOM FROM CAR WORRIES

MANY of us, for the first time in our adult lives, can now report on what it is like to live without an automobile in a city. The relief from the financial burden comes first, because in pre-war days the cost of owning and operating an automobile ranged from $600 to $1,000 a year, perhaps more, what with depreciation, upkeep, fuel, oil, license, insurance, washing, and so forth. The second most noticeable relief is freedom from finding parking space and parking attendants, filling forms for the insurance company when a bumper is dented, making trade-in deals with salesmen, and counting ration coupons. The third great freedom is freedom from the responsibility of guiding a car through traffic and around blind curves, watching for traffic lights and stop signs, parking the car at curbs and backing out of tight places. Fourth is freedom from worry about the battery, tires, gas tank, plugs, lubrication, ignition lock, and door lock. All together, they add up to quite a bit of relief.

"But how can you ever get along without an automobile?" people ask. Although taxicabs are fewer, they are still available. Sometimes you must be patient and tolerant, waiting for a call to be answered or sharing the ride with a stranger. Generally you find that the public transportation system is satisfactory. The buses move as fast as private automobiles, and the street cars and trains are a good place to read the newspapers. Sure, you have to stand in rush hours, but what of it? No need to feel sorry for yourself.

Westmount Park

The year 1943 has ended, but time marches on. A new year begins and the church must stand at the ready. How we begin very often determines how we shall end. In the portentous days which lie ahead the church must take its place in the world scene. A new challenge will be made to Christian men and women. How shall we meet it? These are some of the thoughts which arise in our minds at the beginning of a new year and Mr. Goth will deal with some of these pressing matters in his sermon next Sunday evening.

The minister invites all Westmount Park Church folk to come to church on this first Sunday of 1944 as well as they did on the final Sunday of 1943.

The next meeting of the Red Cross will be held on Wednesday, January 5.

St. Luke's Church

At the morning service in St. Luke's United Church next Sunday the topic will be "How God Answers Prayer". In the evening the minister will speak on "A Tale That Is Told", after which the Young People's Union will present a pageant and the congregation will take part in the singing of Christmas carols. At this service also the young people of the Union will be installed in office for the coming year.

The Executive of the Women's Association will meet at the home of the president, Mrs. F. M. Van Wagner, 3549 Northcliffe Ave., N.D.G., on Monday, January 3rd, 1944, at 2:45 p.m.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Association will be held in the Ladies' Parlor on Wednesday, Jan. 5th, at 2:45 p.m.

The Week of Prayer will be observed by the Protestant Communities of Notre Dame de Grace in St. Luke's United Church, as one day of prayer, on Monday, January 3rd, 1944, at 8 p.m.

THE FORUM

Conducted by HOWARD S. ROSS, K.C., D.C.L.

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this newspaper, and it does not accept responsibility for them.

Somewhere in the South Pacific on an island is one of Uncle Sam's strangest institutions—a hospital that furnishes neither food nor linens to its patients. And almost every time the hospital takes a new patient, it gets two or more new inmates.

It is a 125-bed establishment run by the U.S. Navy. Although it frequently handles Navy and Marine cases, its main work is with the natives.

What makes the hospital different is the ever-present "friend." When a new patient arrives he is attended by at least one, sometimes five or six. They move in with all essentials of everyday living—breadfruit and other native food-stuffs; a kerosene burner or two to cook with; and plenty of mats, linens, and sacks of cloths. They set up housekeeping on the floor by the patient's bed.

The friends even do the patient's laundry, and their own, at the hospital.

During the day there is no limit to the number who may stay with a patient. But at night, only the best friend is allowed to remain. He, or she, simply crawls under the patient's bed and sleeps there.

The question of native rank sometimes complicates this set-up, particularly when a patient who is a mere talking chief is attended by a high chief. But the patient usually solves the problem by giving his bed to the high chief, and crawling underneath himself.

The system developed when the Navy first opened the hospital to natives. "They wouldn't come in unless we let them have their friends," explained Lieutenant Commander William K. Stowers, U.S.N.R., who heads the staff. Dr. Stowers, who formerly was a surgeon at Natchez, Miss., joined the Navy about a year ago and was immediately assigned here.

"But it all works out very well," he said. "Since we don't have to furnish food or linen we can run the hospital on a very economical basis—only 90 cents a day per patient."

The natives are not charged any fees for services, unless they want to take one of the private rooms for $1 a day.

The hospital is staffed by Dr. Stowers, an assistant and a small group of corpsmen; five Navy nurses; two native male "practitioners" (graduates of the Suva Medical School in Fiji); and some 75 barefoot nurses in training.

The nurses train for four years under the American nurses, and then are assigned to various outstations.

Mysterious "Nuraghe" in Sardinia a prehistoric dwelling used 10,000 years ago. The manner of construction has baffled engineers for centuries. The rough unhewn stones are mysteriously held together by gravity alone. No cement or binder was used.

Motoring will be safer after the war if predictions of Harvey S. Riestone, Jr., rubber magnate, are realized. Mr. Riestone forecasts that electronics, now shrouded in military secrecy, will be of indescribable value in aiding police to cut down accidents after the 35-mile-an-hour speed limit is removed.

"Plans are now being made to equip all principal highways with specialized sending apparatus tuned to an available frequency on standard car radios," he discloses. "This will enable police authorities to keep in contact with every car on the highway and advise drivers of traffic conditions ahead or warn them of approaching difficulties."

The manufacturer says that electronically-controlled bumpers which prevent cars from getting into collision, signals which direct traffic and regulators which vary car speeds are all within the range of possibility. He quotes authorities as saying that electronic controls may some day make it practically impossible for any vehicle to collide with another.

With the arrival of the day when autos cannot collide, the motoring millennium will have been reached.

In years to come when the oil resources of the continent approach the depletion point, the farmers of Canada and the United States may provide the fuel for internal combustion engines. If and when this stage arrives, agriculture will find an almost insatiable market for its products.

Let us all begin the New Year in church. The theme of the New Year services to be held Sunday in St. Andrew's Church, Westmount. In the morning Rev. Dr. Kerr will preach on the swift passing of the years, his title being "So Little Time." This is the title of a recent book in which modern youth is attempting to crowd every form of experience into a few fitful and uncertain hours because life had become so precarious and they were conscious that they might have so little time.

In the evening Mr. A. Leonard Griffith will preach, stressing the value of looking upon the New Year as a starting-point for a new and higher kind of life.

The Alpha Omega Society will meet after the evening service for a group discussion. The program for the next few months will be presented and discussed

Sin, Dilemma of Character Topic of Rev. F. S. Morley

REV. FRANK S. MORLEY (Stanley Presbyterian Church)

I have had a teasing melody running up and down the corridors of my brain the last few days: "I'm dreaming of a white Christmas." It tugs at my heart for I was brought up in a land where Christmas was always white. Such tunes, however, are dangerous; it is so easy to make that day merely a sentimental experience which never gets beyond a Christmas hamper. So easy to make that great day no more than a futile, nostalgic song. We all know people who can be very sentimental over suffering or beauty in fiction, but are cruel and ugly in life. Let us be practical: what does "White Christmas" mean?

White in the Bible is used to describe three things; innocence, joy, and victory. "Though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow," is the promise of Isaiah. The eager company of the redeemed in Revelation were told that since "They have not defiled their garments they shall walk with me in white." The curtains of the Tabernacle were white. The priest's clothes were white. When Jesus was on the Mount of Transfiguration His raiment was "white as the light." The angel at the sepulchre had a "countenance like lightning and his raiment white as snow." In all these are innocence, joy, and victory.

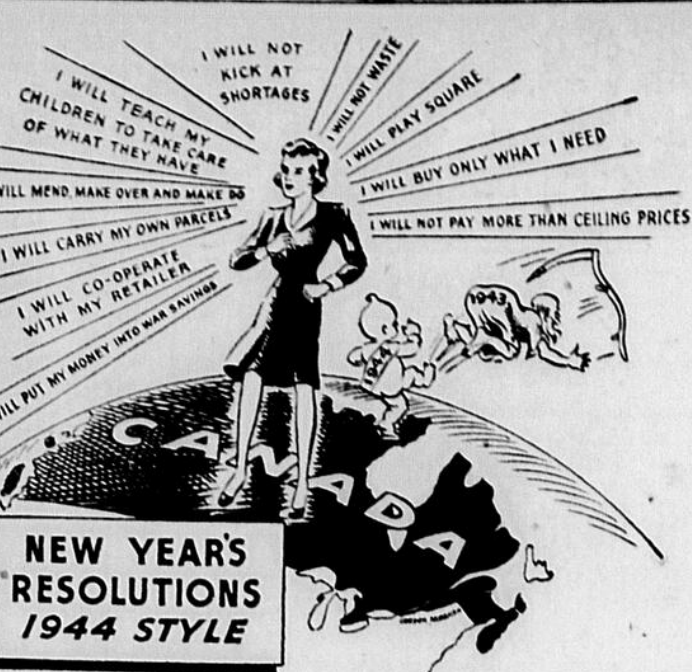

Innocence is one of the most prominent features of the Christian story: the angels, the shepherds with their flock, motherhood, a baby, and the Wise Men. The whole story is one of purity, simplicity, and innocence. That was the first reason for Christmas: Christ came to bring innocence back to the earth. Man has always dreamed of a fountain in which whoever bathed grew young and clean again. Christmas is the eternal promise of the reality of that dream.

We have not worried very much about sin in our modern thinking. We were firmly convinced that there were some defects in our culture but science and education would quickly remedy that and our world was on its evolutionary way to perfection. We shifted the whole edifice of our western civilization from a religious to a secular basis. Today we must see that sin is more than a cultural defect; it is a dilemma of character. There is a sense of abandon in all living. On the one hand is a sense of drift without purpose or ultimate meaning. Thus H. A. L. Fisher writes in his history of Europe that he finds no scheme or pattern in history, harmonies, but only emergencies. On the other hand determinism has become a prevailing philosophy and many men act with a sense of fatalism. Thus Hitler says, "I go my way with the assurance of a somnambulist, the way which Providence has sent me." In consequence there has been a vulgarization and barbarization of life that draws comment from every sociologist. A tragic sense of sin engulfs the world as the great principles and standards, the magnificent idealism, the glory of unselfish passions, fade from the vision of mankind and we find ourselves caught in the maelstrom of murderous passion, a vast cruelty, a tidal wave of sadness and fear and barbarism. So Kipling's tankers sang:

"We are done with hope and honour, We are lost to love and truth; We are dropping down the ladder rung by rung; And the measure of our torment Is the measure of our youth God help us: for we learned the worst too young."

There are two theories of morality: that morality is imposed from without and that it issues from within; that morality is arbitrary, a moral straitjacket put on by God and that it is an expression of man's nature. Christianity believes that morality is not a quixotic invention, but the way in which man expresses his true nature. Christianity believes also that morality is a law of God, written in the heavens. Outside these principles of living lie ruin, chaos, and despair. To these principles Jesus came to restore us: to teach us the way to the Kingdom of Heaven; to bring innocence back to the earth; to make us clean again: "Thou shalt call His name Jesus, for He shall save His people from their sins." The innocence Jesus came to bring was not merely the whiteness of a sheet of paper that has no writing on it, but the white flame of holiness, of

During 1943, United Nations' Armies were victorious on many of the world's battlefronts. At home, during the year, conservation campaigns, government regulations and a general tightening of the belts helped to change the living habits of many Canadians. A major drive for fuel conservation was begun so that the Dominion's war industries could keep running at top speed. Government authorities throughout the year also suggested curtailment of unnecessary travel in order that essential business and war freight might have priority on the railway lines of Canada.

(1) Puny, weak and twisted little bodies receive the latest in scientific treatment in modern children's hospitals in Canada. Government-sponsored nurseries have also been set up in many parts of Canada in industrial sections and are doing much to further the cause of "presentism" in the Dominion's war factories.

(2) A woman worker tucks up a notice calling for conformity in the general interest, to wartime regulations.

(3) Mrs. Canada stands on guard with her crop of New Year's resolutions. Every one of them has a bearing on the winning of the war.

A Lecture on Christian Science

Entitled CHRISTIAN SCIENCE: THE SCIENCE BY WHICH WE COME TO KNOW OUR TRUE SELVES

by HERSHEL P. NUNN, C.S.B., of Portland, Oregon

Member of the Board of Lecturers of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts dedication, of purposeful living: "No heart is pure that is not passionate; no virtue is safe that is not enthusiastic."

Joy is the second keynote of Christmas. But joy must not be sought for itself. Joy is the product of creative work, of an integrated personality, of self-respect, of hope and faith. As we have seen our world, meaningless and godless, a victim of selfish lust for power, we have made of it an idiotic madhouse. Our world has lost the eternal significance of life and so we are suffering from "barbed-wire sickness," a disease of prisoners who, confined behind barbed-wire, shut up in great prison camps, find life so utterly futile that their prison activity can rouse their interest or keep enthusiasm alive. Men must have purposeful striving for true joy. No wonder Christmas is the happiest day of the year. Christ came to bring gladness back to the world, to teach men to laugh again. Joy is the daughter of freedom and Christ came to set us free, free from the prison of selfishness, free from worry and fear, free from sin, free from death.

Naturally therefore victory is the third glory of Christmas. An angel came from heaven to earth and when he returned said he missed most on earth "the sound of the trumpets in the morning." The Christians have lost that note of confident victory. Dr. Glover says that the early Church conquered rival doctrines because the Christians "outlived, out-thought, and out-died" all others. In the Bible three great victories are recorded. Isaiah promises that, "He will swallow up death in victory," and Paul states that "Death is swallowed up in victory." Christmas comes to remind us of the birth of the Conqueror of death. David rejoices, "Thine O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty: for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine." Do you remember the gifts of the wise men: gold—the treasures of the earth belong to Christ, the factories, farms, mines, and forests; frankincense—the treasures of the mind belong to Christ literature, music, art, and statecraft; myrrh—the treasures of the soul and heart must be dedicated to Christ, all our idealisms and passions, all our loves and loyalties. Then John tells us that, "This is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith." The world must not have our hearts: there is a constant tug-of-war here. We are citizens of another country; we look beyond the seen to the unseen, from the temporal to the eternal. The hope of the world lies in the new birth of Jesus in the heart of man.

"Though Christ a thousand times in Bethlehem be born. If He's not born in thee, thy soul shall be forlorn."

Down through the ages He has been born in men's hearts: Paul, Augustine, Wesley, Luther, Calvin, Knox, Moody. . . The ultimate meaning of Christmas must lie in this, that Christ not only was born two thousand years ago and lived a life of redemptive purpose, but that He stands today at the inn of our hearts and if we open the door He will come in. We keep Him out, for to many of us Christmas is but a pagan celebration with little notice except barbarian amusements and sensations. We refuse Him still. Yet if we do admit Him, He brings innocence, joy and victory: "He lifts a banner to the sun And wakes a music in the heart; Yours may the triumph be, if won. But His the vision to impart."

We can never learn the lesson too deeply that our action in the common places of life is deciding our destiny. — B. Meyer.

Prayer For New Year

Bless Thou this year, O Lord! Make rich its days With health and work and prayer and praise, And helpful ministry To needy folk. Speak Thy soft word In cloudy days; Nor let us think ourselves forgot When common lot Of sorrow hems us round, Let generous impulse shame the niggard dol.

That dwells the soul. May no one fall his share of work Through selfish thought; Each day fulfil Thy holy will In yielding lives, And still the tumult Of desires Debased. May faith, and hope, and love, Increase, Bless Thou this year, O Lord.

universe is known as the divine Principle of His universe then we can think of God as conscious only of that which is in entire accord with His divine nature. Whatever is not in accord with God, good, is not the creation of God. This fact removes forever the possibility of evil of any name or nature having existence in His universe.

Understanding of God Reveals True Selfhood

Salvation results from the recognition and understanding of man's at-one-ment or oneness with God, and that is the only salvation there really is, or could be. Man—the real man, the perfect man, the spiritual, divine idea—does not need to be saved. Salvation, then, is a present recognition of God and of man's true selfhood. This selfhood is the man of God's creating, the divine idea, the spiritual image and likeness of Mind, Soul, Spirit. This is the man that you really are now and always have been. In salvation, you lay off the old sense of man and put on the new. This is a new sense of being appearing. The old being of material sense has no consciousness of the new being of spiritual sense. As St. John says in his Gospel, "And the light shineth in darkness; and the darkness comprehended it not."

Christian Science teaches that the human must be overcome by the divine in every detail of human existence. Unlovely traits of character disappear in this overcoming. Because of this, unlovely conditions of the body are healed; the light and beauty of true being once seen and understood reveals the unreality of mortal mind's false concept of selfhood apart from God. The dawn of day comes quickly, and in the new day in human experience, with the coming of the Christ, one who has hugged the tattered robe of material sense about him for years, may find it dropping away and realize that he is clad anew in righteousness. The Healing Prayer of Petition and Affirmation

Prayer is truly the Christian Scientist's "vital breath." From the new light on prayer which comes to him from his study of this Science he can well understand what Paul meant in his letter to the Thessalonians when he said: "Rejoice evermore. Pray without ceasing. In every thing give thanks." One prays without ceasing when his thought is based on the realization that there is but one Mind and that he himself is the reflection of this one and only Mind. God as Mind is the one infinite intelligence constituting and governing the universe of ideas. Divine Mind is the source and substance of all that really is. The affirmation and realization of these facts of being is prayer itself. Such realization identifies one with the divine Mind as its idea. This realization enables one to find and express his true selfhood as the expression or manifestation of divine Mind. One rejoices evermore and in everything gives thanks in this ceaseless prayer of the consciousness of real being.

An individual afflicted with some malady is not expressing his true selfhood because that selfhood, being the image and likeness of God, is the expression of wholeness, completeness, and harmony. The full acknowledgment of spiritual perfection will bring instantaneous relief from discordant conditions of belief. A practitioner received a call from a man whom she was treating in Christian Science. He said to her over the telephone, "If only my heart would stop pounding, it would be such a relief." Instantly to the practitioner's thought came a phrase from our textbook: "The unlabored motion of the divine energy." The entire sentence reads (p. 445), "Christian Science silences human will, quiets fear with Truth and Love, and illustrates the unlabored motion of the divine energy in healing the sick." A few minutes later the man whom she was helping called back and said: "Right after talking with you I went to my chair and sat down. I suddenly realized that all that heart pounding had ceased and I am comfortable, and very grateful." That occurred several years ago and there has never been a recurrence of that heart difficulty. Solomon asked, "Give therefore thy servant an understanding heart." Our beloved Lord says in her Message to The Mother Church for 1902 (p. 6), "All Christian faith, hope, and prayer, all devout desire, virtually petition. Make me the image and likeness of divine Love."

Christian scientific demonstration is not concerned primarily with so-called material things or conditions, but rather it is primarily proof of divine facts. Better conditions, abundance, harmony appear as the result of the application of one's knowledge of divine Principle and its laws.

Men Loitering In City Sent To Bordeaux Jail

Charged with loitering in Westmount three young men, Eugene Richer, Joseph Thibodeau and Lucien Lacombe, who were arrested by Sergeant Beaton and Constable Stephens on Barot Road, December 22nd, were sentenced Tuesday by Recorder Charles A. Hale in the Westmount Recorder's Court to two months without fine in Bordeaux Jail.

Two of the men did not have National Registration cards and for that they drew two months without fine. For loitering they got fined $40 and $42.00 for costs, or the choice of two months at Bordeaux.

They chose the latter sentence of two months in jail.

Westmount Highlights

By Buddy Cochrane

Director Michael Fitzgerald and adviser Parker L. Wearing conferred Tuesday and as a result of that conference the cast of "The Wedding," the short play which is the highlight of the Purple and White Revue, has been tentatively chosen.

There are seven characters. The bridegroom is Michael Fitzgerald and his bride is Valerie Dube. Pam Arbo is Mike's mother and Howard Chamberlain is the father of Valerie. The best man is Bob Sproule and the groomsman (whatever that is) is Bob Munro. The bride's Aunt Juliet will be portrayed by Daphne Allen. Big things are expected of this cast.

The artists of the Purple and White Revue will get down to serious work as soon as the clientele return to the institution on Monday. The co-directors, Mike Fitzgerald and Wilma Pettigill, are going to be very busy for Parker L's basketball team will be occupying much of his time for the next couple of months.

Skigulls Dance

The Skigulls is a select society of skiers whose members are all super men on the wood. But the super men need some cash to continue their skiing. To raise this cash they are holding a big dance on the evening of Friday, January 21, at the institution's gym. The Moderaires, whose music has delighted many this year and who are gradually driving Johnny Holmes to selling insurance, will be on hand and will be giving out with their hottest and best.

Tickets are obtainable from Dave Mackenzie, room 12.

Hockey

G. P. Smith's practices haven't been well-attended of late but that isn't the fault of the boys. Most of them are helping the war effort by working in the post office and in various department stores. However, a couple of practices have been held and when the opener rolls around Westmount should be ready.

It looks as though it is going to be a struggle between West Hill and Westmount in the Senior A loop.

Basketball

Parker L. Wearing, coach of Westmount High's basketballers, has called no holiday practices so when the boys return to the institution on Monday they will have to get the kinks out of their muscles after a two-week loaf.

Items

The Hi-Y will resume its weekly meetings next Thursday. No speaker has been obtained as yet. . . Those of you who keep appointment books can write something down for January 21 and February 4. They are both Fridays. The first is the night of the Skigulls dance and the second is the Purple and White Revue. After the Purple and White Revue show there will be a dance in the junior high school gym. The show will be held in the auditorium over there. Moderaires will be present. The revuers have not yet decided whether to sell one ticket for the revue and another for the dance or to sell only one ticket. Opinions will be welcomed by Mike Fitzgerald, Wilma Pettigill, and Parker L. . . I wish you all a Happy New Year.

HOME EMPLOYEES SEND GIFTS MONEY TO BRITISH KIDDIES

Many homes in Britain must have been brightened considerably this year, especially for the children, by the gifts of money and clothing and toys which have been sent overseas by the Home Employees Club who number members in all parts of this city.

Not only charities overseas have benefited by donations from this club, but Canadian war activities as well. At the very outset of the war, however, these girls devoted themselves giving special help to war projects in Britain which is the home land of many of the members.

This year, within a few hours of the announcement of the "Children's Christmas" appeal by the Queen's Canadian Fund, a donation of $160.00 was mailed to the Fund from the Home Employees Club.

A letter from Miss Catherine Scott Louttit, leader of this group, says: "The members of the Home Employees Club have always taken a great interest in the work of the Queen's Canadian Fund and lent it their loyal support. We now enclose a further gift and ask that it will be earmarked 'Children's Christmas.' Wishing the Fund continued success in its splendid work."

$5300 to Wings
 The Home Employees Club is a group of girls who spend their time working for many war charities. Soon after the outbreak of war they subscribed $5,300 to the Wings for Britain Fund.

The Garrison Lane School, Birmingham, this season received two large crates containing hundreds of Christmas gifts for the children. The majority of these dolls and play materials were made or donated by The Home Employees Club. Miss Louttit told a representative of the Fund that "the members had a great deal of pleasure making the presents. Many of the girls are from Britain, and they realize the need there is for money and gifts."

This group has subscribed well over $500 to the Queen's Canadian Fund.

residence of the bride's parents, where white flowers were used to decorate.

MACKINNON-PURDY
 The marriage of Margaret June, daughter of Mr. G. M. Purdy and the late Mrs. Purdy, of Londonbury, N.S., to Sgt. William Laidlaw MacKinnon, R.C.A.F., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. MacKinnon, of Montreal West, took place recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Rutherford, 2068 Sherbrooke street west. Rev. Dr. T. W. Jones officiated at the four o'clock ceremony.

Mrs. D. A. Rutherford was the bride's only attendant and Mr. Wendall Richards was best man for Sgt. MacKinnon.

In the absence of her father, the bride was given in marriage by Mr. A. J. Rutherford.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Miss M. Crowe, of Winnipeg, Man.; Lieut. Nursing Sister D. Taylor, of Petawawa; Mrs. D. A. Rutherford, of Kentville, N.S.; and Pilot Officer G. G. Agnew, of Rockcliffe, Ont.

The bride is a graduate of the Woman's General Hospital, Westmount.

McMULLEN—MacGILLIVRAY
 At the marriage of Miss Margaret Marian MacGillivray, R.N., eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angus A. MacGillivray, of Kirk Hill, Ont., to Mr. Charles B. McMullen, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. McMullen, of Albany, N.Y., which is taking place quietly this afternoon, at St. Andrew's United Church, Mrs. H. B. Graves will be matron-of-honor, Mr. Willis G. Clark, cousin of the bride, will be best man and the ushers will be Lieut. H. B. Graves, R.C.A.M.C., Flying Officer Jack Roper and Mr. Archibald MacIntyre.

The reception following the ceremony is being held at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. G. Malby, 4871 Hinshaw avenue.

While hobbies, as history and biographies will show, often develop into the main lifework of an individual, they will always contribute to fuller and richer living.

Round Table Chats

A SUMMARY OF HOPES AND HEADACHES

With all their hopes and prayers for the New Year, Canadians realize that this is no time to relax and let down the barriers; they know that the toughest battles on the home front are just beginning. It is difficult when the overseas picture brightens to fight inflation every day of the week by watching prices and the smallest expenditure, to continue saving paper, rags, fats and bones, to bundle up and live in a cool house in order to save fuel, and to stay at home rather than jam transportation facilities.

In Canadian homes, housewives are taking rationing in their stride although a listener-in can hear from time to time "Who's getting the canned vegetables? Somebody's hoarding!" "Isn't it terrible trying to find some underwear for the youngsters," and so on.

In the first instance, Victory gardens were successful, more people canned fruit and vegetables than ever before, but that unpredictable old man Weather just didn't co-operate during the year. This has resulted in a lessened supply of fruits and vegetables for consumers to purchase this winter. Despite this, most families are well fed, quite used to meat and other rationing, and realize that it is because they can afford to buy more milk that the dairy man says "No cream today," and that evaporated milk is reserved for babies. In every way Price Control hovers over the family table like a benediction, for most foodstuffs are under a price ceiling.

The overall wool situation improved during 1943. Cuffs on trousers and two-pant suits are again legal, also fuller skirts, deeper hems, and patch pockets on dresses and skirts. More children's underwear will be on the markets in the New Year.

Another burning problem which affected Canadians during the year, was the housing situation in many centres. Government legislation fixed rentals for every kind of housing accommodation, and clarified by orders the rights of tenants and landlords and the terms of leases. Although the housing situation is still acute, abuses are controlled.

In the broader picture of Canada, 1943, the government was faced with man-power shortages together with its other headaches. In essential war work the difficulties were alleviated by the application of priorities, transfer of workers, postponement of

CATHOLIC WOMEN'S WAR WORK GROUP SUMMARIZES WORK

At a meeting of the war work group of the Catholic Women of Westmount, held at the residence of the President, Mrs. A. A. Pare, recently, a summary of work since the last general meeting in June was given.

Mrs. John Colford, knitting convener, reported that 25 knitted articles were given to the Montreal Convalescent Hospital, 37 knitted articles were sent to H.M.C.S. "Westmount" and 175 knitted articles to the boys of the Armed Forces.

Mrs. M. S. Milloy, Treasurer, reported the following donations: a Radio to St. Anne's Military Hospital, $10.00 to the Navy League Campaign, $25.00 to the Catholic Women's League, Westmount Subdivision, Cigarette Fund; $10.00 to the Knights of Columbus Huts for Christmas cheer; $25.00 to the 14th Canadian General Hospital Unit; $50.00 to St. Anne's Military Hospital and $50.00 to H.M.C.S. Westmount.

Food Values As Well As Prices Should Be Carefully Compared

Any housekeeper knows that a cent or two saved here, a nickel there, and a dime somewhere else, quickly mounts up into a sizeable proportion of the weekly budget.

Women everywhere are price conscious today and to advise them to shop where they get the best value for their money is like "teaching your grandmother to suck eggs." However, when it comes to shopping for food, food values as well as price come into the picture.

Women who shop with food values in mind pick up a little extra vitamin A here, some extra calcium in B there, some extra iron or iron somewhere else. These extra food values, which can often be obtained from lower priced foods, add up just like saved pennies and nickels into quite substantial amounts that can make a real contribution to family health.

According to Nutrition Services, whole grain cereals and bread are among the best of the "bargain" foods.

You pay no more for a loaf of whole grain bread than you do for a white loaf but look what you get for your money! More protein, more B vitamins, more calcium and more iron—all that extra food value "for free." Whole grain cereals give the same extras, and often for less money than you pay for the same type of cereal in refined form.

Take the mineral calcium as an example. Dr. L. B. Pett, director of Nutrition Services says that when whole grain bread and cereals are served, the extra calcium obtained amounts to about 6% of the total daily needs.

"The war is changing the food habits of the Canadian people," says Dr. Pett, "and for the better. As supplies of certain foods become more restricted, people become more conscious of the need for getting the best possible food value from the foods they buy. And they are realizing that any increase in food value through wise selection, no matter how apparently small, is significant."

To protect painted or polished floors, home-made coasters can be easily achieved. Cut pieces of felt from old hats and with glue, fit them to the legs of the furniture.

NEWS OF THE THEATRE WORLD

AT WESTMOUNT THEATRE

From vaudeville, night clubs and musical comedy, as well as from Hollywood, 20th Century-Fox has assembled an array of entertainment headliners for their top-notch musical, "Stormy Weather," which opened last night at the Westmount United Theatre.

Something new in musicals, "Stormy Weather" has a filmfull of stars combined with a story that is a cavalcade of rhythm. Boasting the best tunes of all, its production numbers are among the finest ever filmed. "Stormy Weather" is the story of swing on the upbeat . . . from the era of jazz, ragtime and blues to the terrific, tuneful tempos of today.

Lena Horne, Bill Robinson and Cab Calloway and his band top the cast of the tune-packed film.

Are No Two Ways About Love, "I Can't Give You Anything But Love," and especially the tantalizing title number, "Stormy Weather," are rhythmic masterpieces.

As for Bill Robinson, there never was a tap dancer who could touch him—and that holds true in "Stormy Weather." In addition, Bill proves himself a talented comedian by his deft handling of the key role.

Cab Calloway, renowned for his band's music as well as his own singing, stands out. His capers are aimed at bringing smiles, and his music sets one's toes a-tangling as they play "Walkin' the Dog," "Aln't Misbehavin'" and "Diga, Diga Doo."

Other headliners in the cast include Katherine Dunham and her troupe, Fats Waller—whose magic at the keyboards is sensational—and the Nicholas Brothers, masters of the art of terpsichore, Ada Brown and Dooley Wilson.

AT THE MONKLAND FRIDAY!

Gloria Jean and Donald O'Connor in a scene from "Mr. Big," which opens at the Monkland United Theatre on Friday playing until Monday night.

AT THE WESTMOUNT SUNDAY!

Charles Boyer in a scene from the film "Back Street," which opens at the Westmount United Theatre on Sunday playing until Tuesday night.

Eighty motion picture dancers are learning old-fashioned steps for a series of dancing numbers in Paramount's "National Barn Dance," which Walter MacEwen is producing. Jack Crosby is directing the troupe in the American folk dances.

YOUNG STAR

Loretta Young, currently in Paramount's "And Now Tomorrow," was a Hollywood star at the age of 15 when she appeared in a Lon Chaney film.

LONGEST ROLE

Her co-starring role with Sonny Tufts in Mark Sandrich's "I Love a Soldier" is the biggest of Loretta Young's career. She works sixty days without missing a scene.

Chinese Visitors Hear Popular Song

HOLLYWOOD:—Anna May Wong paid a visit to the "Hour Before the Dawn" set at Paramount, and brought along as her guests some members of the Chinese Air Corps, among them a Colonel and two Majors.

Binnie Barnes and David Leland entertained the distinguished visitors by singing a lusty rendition of "Roll Out the Barrel," a song featured in the picture.

At York Theatre

Well, deserving the superlatives which heralded its arrival, "Phantom of the Opera," that thrillingly magnificent screen classic, opened yesterday at the York United Theatre.

Yet, despite the fact that he plays a little English boy with Franchot Tone and Veronica Lake in Paramount's "The Hour Before the Dawn," and speaks off stage as well as on, with a decided English accent, he is American.

For five years David lived in Italy. The children he went to school with were English—with accents. His mother also had her English accent. It was natural that David spoke British rather than American.

Little English Boy Is Really American

HOLLYWOOD:—There isn't a change in the world for David Leland to escape being referred to throughout Hollywood, and likely the remainder of the United States, as "that new little English boy." He'll be so called for a long time, no doubt.

Yet, despite the fact that he plays a little English boy with Franchot Tone and Veronica Lake in Paramount's "The Hour Before the Dawn," and speaks off stage as well as on, with a decided English accent, he is American.

the most colorful role of his career. Miss Foster, appearing as the singer, wins new laurels in a part which reveals her exceptional dramatic ability as well as her musical talent.

Rains is the "Phantom." His sinister portrayal of the musical composer who mystifies and terrorizes the personnel and patrons of the Paris Opera, is one of the screen's all-time acting classics.

Roles Are Important Featured in important roles are Edgar Barrier, Leo Carrillo, Jane Farrar, J. Edward Bromberg, Fritz Feld and Hume Cronyn. All deliver memorable performances. Many other notables and a multitude of atmosphere players are seen in various spectacular sequences of the film.

Ice anaesthesia is not really new. It has been known ever since men slipped on the ice and bumped their heads.

Musical Sharps Flats and Naturals by Frances Goltman

WHEN THEY ENDED Since the article we wrote two weeks ago appeared, entitled, "When They Began," we have received requests for an article telling how long the various composers worked. As most of the great masters composed to the end of their lives, we would have to tell you the different ages of these celebrated musicians. So we made our own little survey and found that out of fifty-six of the world's most famous composers four lived to past four score; fifteen passed away in their seventies, nineteen lived to over sixty; six died in the fifties; five departed in their forties and seven only reached their thirties. These are: Franz Schubert, 31; Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, 35; Felix Mendelssohn and Stephen Foster, 38, and Frederick Chopin and George Gershwin, both 39 years.

The five who lived to a very ripe old age, three Frenchmen and two Italians, are Jean Philippe Rameau, 81; Vincent D'Indy, 80; Luigi Cherubini, the great Italian director of the Paris Conservatoire for over twenty years, died at 82; Camille Saint-Saens, 86; and the celebrated composer of thirty operas, Giuseppe Verdi was 88 years old.

Those who lived to seventy and over include Richard Wagner, Palestrina and Massenet, all three being 70; Domenico Scarlatti, 72; Gluck, 73; Handel and Johann Strauss, Jr., 74; Charles Gounod and Franz Liszt, 75; Rossini was 76; Robert Franz, Sir Edward Elgar and Haydn 77; John Philip Sousa, the "March King" 78, and Gabriel Faure 79. Many Smiths In Minesweeper

HOLLYWOOD.—The clan does all right in Paramount's "Minesweeper," with four of the principal characters in the picture named Smith.

Richard Arlen plays the stellar role of Jim Smith. Appearing opposite him is Jean Parker as Mary Smith (no relation to Jim). Guinn (Big Boy) Williams is Flixit Smith and Emma Dunn, again doing a mother role, is "Moms" Smith.

Find Cat Allergic To Ghosts for Film

HOLLYWOOD.—To find a cat allergic to ghosts was the task confronting Lewis Allen who had to round up four-footed support for his cast in "The Uninvited." This, as you probably know, is the thriller by Dorothy Macardie. It is set in a haunted house, with two ghosts, and the cat will have his work cut out.

Luckily for Paramount, Allen is pretty good with animals. Before long he ran into Whiskey, an ex-alley pirate who has risen to high rank in horror films. Whiskey can smell a ghost ten yards off. He then fluffs up his tail and utters a yowl blood-curdling enough to scare a phantom out of its wits.

Back to songs Binnie Barnes began her career as a vaudeville singer in England, gets her first screen chance at a song in Paramount's "The Hour Before the Dawn."

So, why worry? "I'm sorry, old man, but I make it a rule never to lend money. It ruins friendship." "Why let that worry you? We never were what you might call wonderfully zood friends."

We suggest that Mussolini's dismissal of the King of Italy is unconstitutional. The King got in his dismissal of Mussolini first.

HOME EMPLOYEES SEND GIFTS MONEY TO BRITISH KIDDIES

Many homes in Britain must have been brightened considerably this year, especially for the children, by the gifts of money and clothing and toys which have been sent overseas by the Home Employees Club who number members in all parts of this city. Not only charities overseas have benefited by donations from this club, but Canadian war activities as well. At the very outset of the war, however, these girls devoted themselves giving special help to war projects in Britain which is the home land of many of the members.

This year, within a few hours of the announcement of the "Children's Christmas" appeal by the Queen's Canadian Fund, a donation of $160.00 was mailed to the Fund from the Home Employees Club.

A letter from Miss Catherine Scott Louttit, leader of this group, says: "The members of the Home Employees Club have always taken a great interest in the work of the Queen's Canadian Fund and lent it their loyal support. We now enclose a further gift and ask that it will be earmarked "Children's Christmas." Wishing the Fund continued success in its splendid work."

$5300 to Wings
 The Home Employees Club is a group of girls who spend their time working for many war charities. Soon after the outbreak of war they subscribed $5,300 to the Wings for Britain Fund.

The Garrison Lane School, Birmingham, this season received two large crates containing hundreds of Christmas gifts for the children. The majority of these dolls and play materials were made or donated by The Home Employees Club. Miss Louttit told a representative of the Fund that "the members had a great deal of pleasure making the presents. Many of the girls are from Britain, and they realize the need there is for money and gifts."

This group has subscribed well over $500 to the Queen's Canadian Fund.

residence of the bride's parents, where white flowers were used to decorate.

MACKINNON-PURDY
 The marriage of Margaret June, daughter of Mr. G. M. Purdy and the late Mrs. Purdy, of Londonderry, N.S., to Sgt. William Laidlaw MacKinnon, R.C.A.F., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. MacKinnon, of Montreal West, took place recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Rutherford, 2068 Sherbrooke street west. Rev. Dr. T. W. Jones officiated at the four o'clock ceremony.

Mrs. D. A. Rutherford was the bride's only attendant and Mr. Wendall Richards was best man for Sgt. MacKinnon.

In the absence of her father, the bride was given in marriage by Mr. A. J. Rutherford.

Following a reception, the newly married couple left for the Maritime Provinces where Sgt. MacKinnon is at present stationed.

For travelling the bride wore a mink trimmed black cloth coat with her wedding costume.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Miss M. Crowe, of Winnipeg, Man; Lieut. Nursing Sister D. Taylor, of Petawawa; Mrs. D. A. Rutherford, of Kentville, N.S.; and Pilot Officer G. G. Agnew, of Rockcliffe, Ont.

The bride is a graduate of the Woman's General Hospital, Westmount.

McMULLEN—MacGILLIVRAY
 At the marriage of Miss Margaret Marian MacGillivray, R.N., eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angus A. MacGillivray, of Kirk Hill, Ont., to Mr. Charles B. McMullen, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. McMullen, of Albany, N.Y., which is taking place quietly this afternoon, at St. Andrew's United Church, Mrs. H. B. Graves will be matron-of-honor, Mr. Willis G. Clark, cousin of the bride, will be best man and the ushers will be Lieut. H. B. Graves, R.C.A.M.C., Flying Officer Jack Roper and Mr. Archibald MacIntyre.

The reception following the ceremony is being held at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. G. Maltby, 4871 Hingston avenue.

While hobbies, as history and biographies will show, often develop into the main lifework of an individual, they will always contribute to fuller and richer living.

Round Table Chats

A SUMMARY OF HOPES AND HEADACHES

With all their hopes and prayers for the New Year, Canadians realize that this is no time to relax and let down the barriers; they know that the toughest battles on the home front are just beginning. It is difficult when the overseas picture brightens to fight inflation every day of the week by watching prices and the smallest expenditure, to continue saving paper, rags, fats and bones, to bundle up and live in a cool house in order to save fuel, and to stay at home rather than jam transportation facilities.

In Canadian homes, housewives are taking rationing in their stride although a listener-in can hear from time to time "Who's getting the canned vegetables? Somebody's hoarding!" "Isn't it terrible trying to find some underwear for the youngsters," and so on.

In the first instance, Victory gardens were successful, more people canned fruit and vegetables than ever before, but that unpredictable old man Weather just didn't co-operate during the year. This has resulted in a lessened supply of fruits and vegetables for consumers to purchase this winter. Despite this, most families are well fed, quite used to meat and other rationing, and realize that it is because they can afford to buy more milk that the dairy man says "No cream today," and that evaporated milk is reserved for babies. In every way Price Control hovers over the family table like a benediction, for most foodstuffs are under a price ceiling.

The overall wool situation improved during 1943. Cuffs on trousers and two-pant suits are again legal, also fuller skirts, deeper hems, and patch pockets on dresses and skirts. More children's underwear will be on the markets in the New Year.

Another burning problem which affected Canadians during the year, was the housing situation in many centres. Government legislation fixed rentals for every kind of housing accommodation, and clarified by orders the rights of tenants and landlords and the terms of leases. Although the housing situation is still acute, abuses are controlled.

In the broader picture of Canada, 1943, the government was faced with man-power shortages together with its other headaches. In essential war work the difficulties were alleviated by the application of priorities, transfer of workers, postponement of

At a meeting of the war work group of the Catholic Women of Westmount, held at the residence of the President, Mrs. A. A. Pare, recently, a summary of work since the last general meeting in June was given.

Mrs. John Colford, knitting convener, reported that 25 knitted articles were given to the Montreal Convalescent Hospital, 37 knitted articles were sent to H.M.C.S. "Westmount" and 175 knitted articles to the boys of the Armed Forces.

Mrs. M. S. Milloy, Treasurer, reported the following donations: a Radio to St. Anne's Military Hospital, $10.00 to the Navy League Campaign, $25.00 to the Catholic Women's League, Westmount Subdivision, Cigarette Fund; $10.00 to the Knights of Columbus Huts for Christmas cheer; $25.00 to the 14th Canadian General Hospital Unit; $50.00 to St. Anne's Military Hospital and $50.00 to H.M.C.S. Westmount.

Each housekeeper knows that a cent or two saved here, a nickel there, and a dime somewhere else, quickly mounts up into a sizeable proportion of the weekly budget.

Women everywhere are price conscious today and to advise them to shop where they get the best value for their money is like "teaching your grandmother to suck eggs." However, when it comes to shopping for food, food values as well as price come into the picture.

Women who shop with food values in mind pick up a little extra vitamin A here, some extra calcium or iron somewhere else. These extra food values, which can often be obtained from lower priced foods, add up just like saved pennies and nickels into quite substantial amounts that can make a real contribution to family health.

According to Nutrition Services, whole grain cereals and bread are among the best of the "bargain" foods.

You pay no more for a loaf of whole grain bread than you do for a white loaf but look what you get for your money! More protein, more B vitamins, more calcium and more iron—all that extra food value "for free". Whole grain cereals give the same extras, and often for less money than you pay for the same type of cereal in refined form.

Take the mineral calcium as an example. Dr. L. B. Pett, director of Nutrition Services says that when whole grain bread and cereals are served, the extra calcium obtained amounts to about 6% of the total daily needs.

"The war is changing the food habits of the Canadian people," says Dr. Pett, "and for the better. As supplies of certain foods become more restricted, people become more conscious of the need for getting the best possible food value from the foods they buy. And they are realizing that any increase in food value through wise selection, no matter how apparently small, is significant."

To protect painted or polished floors, home-made coasters can be easily achieved. Cut pieces of felt from old hats and with glue, fit them to the legs of the furniture.

AT WESTMOUNT THEATRE

From vaudeville, night clubs and musical comedy, as well as from Hollywood, 20th Century-Fox has assembled an array of entertainment headliners for their top-notch musical, "Stormy Weather," which opened last night at the Westmount United Theatre.

Something new in musicals, "Stormy Weather" has a filmfull of stars combined with a story that is a cavalcade of rhythm. Boasting the best tunes of all, its production numbers are among the finest ever filmed. "Stormy Weather" is the story of swing on the upbeat... from the era of jazz, ragtime and blues to the terrific, tuneful tempos of today.

Are No Two Ways About Love. "I Can't Give You Anything But Love," and especially the tantalizing title number, "Stormy Weather," are rhythmic masterpieces.

As for Bill Robinson, there never was a tap dancer who could touch him—and that holds true in "Stormy Weather." In addition, Bill proves himself a talented comedian by his deft handling of the key role.

Cab Calloway, renowned for his band's music as well as his own singing, stands out. His capers are aimed at bringing smiles, and his music sets one's toes a-tangling as they play "Walkin' the Dog," "Ain't Misbehavin'" and "Diga, Diga Doo."

Other headliners in the cast include Katherine Dunham and her troupe, Fats Waller—whose magic at the keyboards is sensational—and the Nicholas Brothers, masters of the art of terpsichore, Ada Brown and Dooley Wilson.

Little English Boy Is Really American

HOLLYWOOD:—There isn't a change in the world for David Leland to escape being referred to throughout Hollywood, and likely the remainder of the United States, as "that new little English boy." He'll be so called for a long time, no doubt.

Yet, despite the fact that he plays a little English boy with Franchot Tone and Veronica Lake in Paramount's "The Hour Before the Dawn," and speaks, off stage as well as on, with a decided English accent, he is American.

For five years David lived in Italy. The children he went to school with were English—with accents. His mother also had her English accent. It was natural that David spoke British rather than American.

the most colorful role of his career. Miss Foster, appearing as the singer, wins new laurels in a part which reveals her exceptional dramatic ability as well as her musical talent.

Rains is the "Phantom." His sinister portrayal of the musical composer who mystifies and terrorizes the personnel and patrons of the Paris Opera, is one of the screen's all-time acting classics.

Roles Are Important. Featured in important roles are Edgar Barrier, Leo Carrillo, Jane Farrar, J. Edward Bromberg, Fritz Feld and Hume Cronyn. All deliver memorable performances. Many other notables and a multitude of atmosphere players are seen in various spectacular sequences of the film.

Ice anaesthesia is not really new. It has been known ever since men slipped on the ice and bumped their heads.

Musical Sharps Flats and Naturals by Frances Goltman

WHEN THEY ENDED

Since the article we wrote two weeks ago appeared, entitled, "When They Began," we have received requests for an article telling how long the various composers worked. As most of the great masters composed to the end of their lives, we would have to tell you the different ages of these celebrated musicians. So we made our own little survey and found that out of fifty-six of the world's most famous composers four lived to past four score; fifteen passed away in their seventies, nineteen lived to over sixty; six died in the fifties; five departed in their forties and seven only reached their thirties. These are: Franz Schubert, 31; Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, 35; Felix Mendelssohn and Stephen Foster 38, and Frederick Chopin and George Gershwin, both 39 years.

The five who lived to a very ripe old age, three Frenchmen and two Italians, are Jean Philippe Rameau, 81; Vincent D'Indy, 80; Luigi Cherubini, the great Italian director of the Paris Conservatoire for over twenty years, died at 82; Camille Saint-Saens, 86; and the celebrated composer of thirty operas, Giuseppe Verdi was 88 years old.

Those who lived to seventy and over include Richard Wagner, Palestrina and Massenet, all three being 70; Domenico Scarlatti, 72; Gluck, 73; Handel and Johann Strauss Jr., 74; Charles Gounod and Franz Liszt, 75; Rossini was 76, Robert Franz, Sir Edward Elgar and Haydn 77, John Philip Sousa, the "March King" 78, and Gabriel Faure 79. Alessandro Scarlatti, Carl Weber, Corelli Dvorak, Maurice Ravel, Leoncavallo, Francois Couperin, Offenbach, Puccini, Victor Herbert, di Lasso, Rimsky-Korsakoff, Cesar Franck, Grieg, Brahms, Bach, Rubenstein and Berlioz all lived to past three score.

Six famous men who died in their fifties were Granados, Gustave Mahler, Claude Debussy, Beethoven, Tchaikowsky and Glinka. Death in the forties claimed Robert Schumann, Modeste Mousorgsky, Ernest Chausson, MacDowell and Scriabin.

Many Smiths In Minesweeper

HOLLYWOOD:—The clan does all right in Paramount's "Minesweeper," with four of the principal characters in the picture named Smith.

Richard Arlen plays the stellar role of Jim Smith. Appearing opposite him is Jean Parker as Mary Smith (no relation to the great Italian director of the Paris Conservatoire for over twenty years, died at 82; Camille Saint-Saens, 86; and the celebrated composer of thirty operas, Giuseppe Verdi was 88 years old.

HE'S A HEAVY. For the first time in his extensive stage and screen career, Barry Sullivan is playing a villain, the occasion being Paramount's "And Now Tomorrow."

BACK TO SONGS. Binnie Barnes began her career as a vaudeville singer in England, gets her first screen chance at a song in Paramount's "The Hour Before the Dawn."

SO, WHY WORRY? "I'm sorry, old man, but I make it a rule never to lend money. It ruins friendship." "Why let that worry you? We never were what you might call wonderfully good friends."

WITHDRAWAL OF ROYALS TEAM IN JUVENILE SECTION TURNS IT INTO A FIVE TEAM LOOP

Golden Eagles, Monarchs, Staynors And Two Teams From Claremont Barracks Will Open League on January 3rd

The withdrawal of the Royals from the juvenile section of the Westmount Municipal Hockey League, has turned that circuit into a five team affair and recreation supervisor Jim McCormick has been forced to draw up a new schedule.

The five clubs left in the loop are the Golden Eagles, Monarchs, Staynor and two army teams from the Claremont Barracks.

The league will open on the original date set for Monday, January 3rd with the Monarchs meeting the Golden Eagles at Westmount Park. The other three teams will see action on Wednesday, January 5th when they all play in a twin bill slated for Westmount Park.

The Monarchs and Golden Eagles have had early season drills at the Loyola rink, but it is not believed that the other three clubs have practiced together yet.

The Staynor outfit is being rounded up by Lorne Macdonald and Gordie Craig. They will be set in the nets as Kenny Brambell, who starred with the Staynor midgets last year, will be out with them. The Staynor club should also benefit from the coaching of Beau Thurston who has been appointed to supervise the hockey teams in the Staynor district this year.

The following is the result of the drawing held by the Golden Eagles hockey club: first prize was won by Conrad Brisebois, 10648 Laverdure Street; second prize, Mrs. J. D. McLeod, 462 Grosvenor Avenue; third prize, Miss A. Ryan, 123 Arlington Avenue.

The following is the new schedule for the juvenile section: Mon., Jan. 3, East rink, 8.00, Monarchs vs Golden Eagles; Wed., Jan. 5, East rink, 8.00, Staynor vs Army "B"; Wed., Jan. 5, 9.00, Army "A" vs Golden Eagles; Fri., Jan. 7, East rink, 8.00, Staynor vs Monarchs; Mon., Jan. 10, East rink, 8.00, Monarchs vs Army "B"; Mon., Jan. 10, Staynor, 8.30, Army "A" vs Staynor; Wed., Jan. 12, East rink, 8.00, Golden Eagles vs Army "B"; Wed., Jan. 12, East rink, 9.00, Monarchs vs Army "A"; Fri., Jan. 14, East rink, 8.00, Staynor vs Golden Eagles; Mon., Jan. 17, East rink, 8.00, Golden Eagles vs Army "A"; Mon., Jan. 17, Staynor, 8.30, Monarchs vs Staynor; Wed., Jan. 19, East rink, 8.00, Army "B" vs Army "A"; Wed., Jan. 19, East rink, 9.00, Golden Eagles vs Monarchs; Mon., Jan. 24, East rink, 8.00, Army "A" vs Army "B"; Mon., Jan. 24, Staynor, 8.30, Golden Eagles vs Staynor; Wed., Jan. 26, East rink, 8.00, Staynor vs Army "A"; Wed., Jan. 26, East rink, 9.00, Army "B" vs Monarchs; Mon., Jan. 31, East rink, 8.00, Army "A" vs Monarchs; Mon., Jan. 31, 8.30, Army "B" vs Staynor; Wed., Feb. 2, East rink, 8.00, Army "B" vs Golden Eagles.

Guides books for towns and counties should be brought up to date. C. F. Hawks, of the British Museum, told archaeologists in London, "If the most important building in the gas works of the city should be so stated," he said, "We should get away from the antiquarian prejudice."

That sharp protest from the British people against release of the fascist Mosley from custody, even on grounds of ill-health, is interesting. Certainly no sign there of complaisance or appeasement!

Games will be played every Tuesday night at the Wireless School rink, on Thursday nights at the Loyola rink and on Friday nights at the Provost Corp's rink at the Westmount Barracks.

Most of the teams comprising the loop played in the municipal softball loop last summer, four of the teams, R.C.A.F. No. 3 Training Command, R.C.A.F. No. 1 Wireless School, No. 4 Ordnance Corps and the Provost Corps, all played in the intermediate section of the Westmount Municipal Hockey league last year. The two newcomers to the loop this year are the R.C.A.F. No. 11 A. I. Division and the Longue Pointe Ordnance Depot.

The R.C.A.F. No. 1 Wireless School won the league honors last year and then went on to capture the provincial title.

P. R. Minto, president of the league, has issued the schedule for the season and it is as follows:

Tuesday, Jan. 4 at Wireless, No. 4 Ordnance vs. No. 3 Command; No. 1 Wireless vs. No. 11 A.I.D.

Y's Chats

Tomorrow is the last day of the Y's special holiday program for boys. In the morning at 9.30 there will be gym, at 10.30 the craft work, and at 2.00 the final session of the ball hockey league.

On New Year's Day the Y will be closed most of the day but in the evening it will be opened for the servicemen's party. Last Saturday night, for the first time since their inception four years ago, there was no servicemen's party.

The International Board of Young Men's Christian Associations, of New York, has informed the local Y that its current world service campaign still needs $68,900 to meet its full obligations. Of this amount $29,300 is in sight but this leaves $39,600 which the board hopes can be secured through extra gifts from friends and by over subscription of objectives. The local HI-Y is expected to donate $45 to the fund.

This fund provides money to carry on work in China, India, Jerusalem, Egypt, and many other countries.

All remittances and reports must reach world service headquarters, New York, not later than Monday, January 10.

On Monday, January 3, the boys' business girls' and business men's gym classes start again. The classes were not held the last two weeks due to the holidays. The swimming pool, which is at present undergoing extensive repairs, will also re-open on Monday.

The Y's hockey league starts on Saturday, January 5, at the rinks at Westmount, King George Park and Roslyn school. Bob Bennett is in charge. The teams have not yet been finally drawn up. The hours are from nine to eleven.

The HI-Y will resume its weekly meetings this Thursday. The Listening Group, which has been floundering lately due to lack of members, will resume on Tuesday when the subject for discussion will be "The Questions People are Asking."

Bantams Urged To Turn Player's Cards In Early

It had been hoped to get the bantam section of the Westmount Municipal Hockey League off to an early start this week but the mild spell that set in the early part of the week sent all these plans sky-high. At the present it appears as if the bantams will not get underway until the original scheduled time of Friday, January 7th, at Westmount Park.

The teams in the bantam section are urged to turn their players' cards in as soon as possible to recreation supervisor Jim McCormick, along with the birth certificates if possible.

The Mohawks have lined up the greater part of their team with Chilian Heward in the nets.

while the defence will be comprised of Donald Webster, Jackie Walsh, Ian Murray and possibly Ned Mundell. The Mohawks will have two forward lines, one line being centered by Paul Reaper with Kevin Drummond and Wally Reaper on the wings while the other line will have Jamie McCall at center, with John Fry and Ian Dolg on the wings.

A new team called the Regals will probably have Bobby Gough in the nets along with other players including Derek Hannaford, Jim Nesbit, Allen Smith, Malcolm Goard, Fred Hofman, Robert Complin, Keith Laidley, Dave Ross and others. This team will be coached by Mr. C. S. Smith.

Yesterday, Today And Tomorrow

There are two days in every week about which we should not worry—two days which should be kept free from fear and apprehension.

One of these days is yesterday with its mistakes and cares, its faults and blunders. All the money in the world cannot bring back yesterday.

The other day we should not worry about is tomorrow with its possible adversities, its burdens, its large promise and poor performance. Tomorrow also is beyond our immediate control. Tomorrow's sun will rise either in splendor or behind a mask of clouds—but it will rise. Until it does, we have no stake in tomorrow, for it is as yet unborn.

That leaves only one day—today. Any man can fight the battles of just one day. It is only when you and I add the burdens of those two awful eternities—yesterday and tomorrow—that we break down.

It is not the experience of today that drives man mad—it is remorse or bitterness for something which happened yesterday and the dread of what tomorrow may bring. Let us, therefore, journey but one day at a time.

Staynor and Prince Albert Pee Wees Need Entries

Entries are still needed in the Staynor and Prince Albert pee wee sections of the Westmount Municipal Hockey League. Any team wishing to enter the Prince Albert section is asked to be represented at the comfort station at the Prince Albert rink tomorrow morning, Friday, December 31st, at 10 a.m.

Two clubs have already signified their intentions of entering the Prince Albert section, the Panthers and a team entered by Don MacDonald, and it will not be necessary for those teams to have representatives at the rink tomorrow morning.

Down at Staynor, Richard Lord's club is the only entry so far, but as soon as the schools open again it is hoped to organize two or three more teams.

Beau Thurston To Be In Charge At Staynor

Beau Thurston, well known in local hockey circles as a referee in the Westmount Municipal Hockey League for the past three years, has agreed to take charge of hockey at the Staynor rink this season.

Mr. Thurston will supervise the hockey at that rink, help out in coaching the bantam, midget and juvenile teams. In addition to this he will take charge of the pee wee section that will play its games on Saturday afternoons.

The new mentor at the Staynor rink has had plenty of experience in hockey, much of it with young teams, so that he should be a great help to the Staynor clubs.

SEVEN TEAMS WILL COMPETE IN TWO GROUPS OF MIDGETS IN WESTMOUNT MUNICIPAL LEAGUE

In "A" Group Are Royals, Golden Eagles, Falcons and Olympics, "B" Group to Have Panthers, Greyhounds and Staynors

As announced sometime ago, the midget section of the Westmount Municipal Hockey League has been divided up into two groups. Four clubs will participate in the "A" group, the teams are the Royals, Golden Eagles, Falcons and Olympics.

For a while it was thought that a Staynor club would enter the "A" group, but it was found that not enough players of this calibre would be available for this season, so a group "B" team was entered instead.

The teams in the "B" group are the Panthers, Greyhounds and Staynor.

If time is available at the end of the season, the winners of the two sections will play-off, but only the winners of the "A" group will participate in the city playdowns.

The league has been fortunate in having Mr. James Cameron volunteer to look after the affairs of the two groups in the midget section. Mr. Cameron was a Q.A.H.A. executive in the Sherbrooke district before coming to this city and has had much experience in hockey affairs down in the Eastern Townships.

The managers of the teams are warned to turn their players' cards in as soon as possible, so that they will not have to go searching for them on the night of the first game, most of the clubs are very slow in this matter, holding their cards out till the last moment and then running into trouble when they can't find the card belonging to one of their star players. The cards should be turned in as soon as possible to recreation supervisor Jim McCormick.

First prize in the drawing held by the Royals hockey club was won by Bob McAllister of 632 Victoria Avenue.

The following is the schedule of the "A" group in the midget section of the Westmount Municipal Hockey League:

Mon., Jan. 3, West rink, 8.00, Olympics vs Royals; Wed., Jan. 5, West rink, 8.00, Golden Eagles vs Olympics; Wed., Jan. 5, 9.00, Falcons vs Royals; Fri., Jan. 7, West rink, 8.30, Golden Eagles vs Falcons; Mon., Jan. 10, West rink, 8.00, Olympics vs Golden Eagles; Wed., Jan. 12, West rink, 8.00, Golden Eagles vs Royals; Wed., Jan. 12, 9.00, Falcons vs Olympics; Fri., Jan. 14, West rink, 8.30, Royals vs Falcons; Mon., Jan. 17, West rink, 8.00, Royals vs Olympics; Wed., Jan. 19, 9.00, Falcons vs Golden Eagles; Fri., Jan. 21, West rink, 8.30, Royals vs Golden Eagles; Mon., Jan. 24, West rink, 8.00, Olympics vs Royals; Wed., Jan. 26, West rink, 9.00, Golden Eagles vs Falcons; Mon., Jan. 31, West rink, 8.00, Falcons vs Olympics; Wed., Jan. 28, West rink, 8.00, Olympics vs Royals; Fri., Jan. 26, West rink, 9.00, Golden Eagles vs Falcons; Mon., Jan. 31, West rink, 8.00, Olympics vs Golden Eagles; Mon., Jan. 31, West rink, 9.00, Royals vs Falcons.
