World News In Brief

Rome. — (Reuters) — Industrial production in Italy came to a halt today as 4,000,000 workers downed tools for 24 hours to back a demand for higher basic pay.

Christian-Democrat, Social-Democrat and Communist-led labor unions, in a rare show of unity, ordered the stoppage. In addition to seeking a higher wage scale they are protesting against recent widespread dismissals in industry.

Farm workers will follow suit with a one-day strike Oct. 5.

Lauenburg, Germany—(AP)—West Berlin's anti-communist mayor, Ernst Reuter, crossed the Iron Curtain border into West Germany safely and without hindrance today after Red guards had sent him home to get his identity papers amended.

Enroute to Hamburg for a meeting of West German mayors, Reuter and his wife and driver were stopped at the East German border here Wednesday night. The communist frontier guards said the mayor's papers gave his address only as the "Senate of Berlin," instead of his home location in West Berlin's U.S. sector.

Tonawanda, N.Y.—(AP)—The district attorney ordered an investigation opened today in a series of explosions that killed at least 10 workmen, injured 27 persons and blew a peroxide plant into rubble.

Fearing the death toll from Wednesday's blasts might run as high as 12, searchers today probed the ruins of the one-storey brick building for more bodies. Ten have been recovered but it was reported that 12 men were in the building.

Cabinet Meeting Being Held Today

Ottawa. —(CP)— The cabinet met today for the fourth time since the election to discuss the government's legislation plans for the new session of Parliament opening Nov. 12.

"We will be considering the accumulation of routine matters which must be dealt with before the opening of the new session," Prime Minister St. Laurent told reporters shortly before the meeting started.

The prime minister said he did not expect to make any announcements following the meeting.

One of the most important matters the cabinet is expected to consider is the application of Canadian Pacific Airlines for a licence to operate scheduled air cargo flights from Montreal and Toronto to Vancouver. The cabinet's decision on the application is expected to be announced soon.

Allied Troops Remaining With Reds Are Surrendered To Neutral Nations Custody

379 South Korean, American And British Prisoners Decline Release.

By SAM SUMMERLIN

Panmunjom — (AP) — The Communists today surrendered to neutral nations custody 379 war prisoners — one Briton, 23 Americans, and 355 South Koreans — who the Reds say asked to remain behind the Iron Curtain.

Communist correspondent Wilfred Burchett told Allied newspaper men the names of the Americans and the Briton, but U. S. army censors would not pass the list. The censors said names would be cleared only if prisoners changed their minds and decided to go home.

The Americans looked happy and contented. The communists quoted them as saying they love their country and some day will return—when the American people have achieved "freedom."

"We hope to play our part in achieving this and we know the American people will receive us back on that day with open arms," said a statement the Reds said was drafted and signed by the Americans while at nearby Kaesong.

Allied "explainers" are to begin talking to U.S., British and South Korean prisoners at the camp a mile above Panmunjom Saturday, telling them they have the right to be repatriated if they wish.

At the same time, communist representatives will visit 22,600 North Korean and Chinese prisoners who refuse repatriation at another Indian camp five miles southwest of Panmunjom, trying to make them change their minds.

The Allies Thursday boosted the number of missing United Nations soldiers for whom they demand an accounting from the Reds by 17 to 3,421. Three Canadians are included in the original list.

The UN command deleted 27 names from the original list of 944 Americans, then added 41 more American names. They also added the names of two British soldiers and one Canadian.

The Reds have answered that most have never been prisoners. The communists said some died in captivity, while others either were repatriated, escaped, or released at the front during the war.

Most of today's returning Allies shook hands and thanked the Chinese and North Korean communists who helped them from the Russian-built trucks.

They were dressed in drab blue Chinese uniforms and wore white pins with the Picasso peace dove symbol on their jackets.

Five of the South Koreans were women. One was pregnant and a child clung to her hand.

Some of the South Korean prisoners carried placards on which were painted the Picasso communist peace dove and Korean symbols saying "peace for the people."

Burchett released the text of the statement he said all the Americans signed in Kaesong Wednesday.

"We fully realize that this is a momentous step that we are taking. Therefore it was only after much thought and deliberation that we made our decision," the statement said.

". . . Our staying behind does not change the fact that we are Americans, we love our country and our people. Therefore we love personal freedom. Our greatest concern is to fight for peace and freedom, not only for ourselves but for the American people and the people of the world.

"Unfortunately under present day conditions in America. . . the voices which shout the loudest. . . are those of McCarthy (Sen. Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin), the book burners and those who demand 'preventive war.'"

Strike May Extend To Hollinger

Timmins—(CP)—The threat of a strike at the Hollinger gold mine continues to hang over this northern Ontario mining town where employees of five other gold producers already are idle.

Mayor J. W. Spooner plans to discuss the situation with Labor Minister Daley in Toronto Friday in an effort to end the strike outbreak which is crippling the economy of this community of 30,000.

Sport and recreation have also taken a setback as a result of the strike. Picketing of the big McIntyre arena by unionists who went on strike at McIntyre mine Tuesday led the arena management to announce the combined rink and community centre will be closed and locked.

A few families have started to drift southward, fearing economic calamity in this 40-year-old town if the mines decide to defy the striking United Steelworkers of America CIO-CCL and close down indefinitely.

Already hit by the strike are McIntyre, Broulan Reef, Preston East Dome, Hallnor and Delnite Mines. Some of the employees of Broulan Reef have returned to work since the union called the strike there July 11.

The union indicated last week that it may call out the Hollinger workers.

C. H. Millard, Canadian director of the union, Wednesday night invited Hollinger officials to meet with him for what he called "a final endeavor to work out the issues between our union and the company."

He said he will be available for such a meeting at the company's convenience. He added that the Timmins situation is tense and the meeting should not be too long delayed.

The union, which has 2,500 miners on strike here and 1,600 at Noranda in northwestern Quebec, seeks a check-off of union dues, wage increases and shortened hours.

In nearby South Porcupine, a union official and a hardrock miner Wednesday were committed for trial on charges of attempted murder, attempted arson and possession of offensive weapons. Pat Walsh, 26-year-old former RCMP officer and president of the union's McIntyre local, and Alphone Norkum, 32, face the charges which arise from what police charged was an attempt early Sept. 2 to burn down the headframe housing the valuable hoisting equipment at the Broulan Reef mine.

Police waited in ambush on the mine property and said they were shot at by two men whom they surprised and pursued.

Woman Wages War Against Executions

By DEREK JAMESON

London— (Reuters) —No execution is complete in Britain without a fiery old lady in a black astrakahn-trimmed cloak standing atop her Rolls Royce outside the prison gates singing "Abide with Me."

Reforms in British capital punishment laws recommended in a royal commission report published Wednesday will not alter this national institution.

For Mrs. Violet Van Der Elst, who has waged an independent campaign against the death sentence for 25 years, is not satisfied. She spent Wednesday reading the report on her sick bed and decided: "The fight must go on."

The fight may kill her first. "I've got inflammation of the lungs," she said today. "I've been outside so many jails in all kinds of weather that I'm completely worn out."

She hopes to be out again soon, taking her customary place at the head of the crowd which always gathers outside a jail in the chilly dawn of an execution day.

Illness kept her away from the hanging of mass-slayer John Christie last July. And in this case—Christie confessed to the sex-slaying of six women—even Mrs. Van Der Elst admitted "there was nothing I could do." Not that she has ever stopped an execution.

Most of the fortune she made marketing the first brushless shaving soap has dwindled in taxes—and the cost of her crusade against capital punishment. She has been arrested for obstruction outside jails six times, fined at least another 25.

Nowadays she just turns up at prison in mourning. her Rolls plastered with anti-hanging slogans. In her wealthier days, she hired planes, loudspeaker vans playing "Abide With Me" and anything up to 100 sandwich-board men carrying slogans like: "Another state murder has been committed."

Most people smilingly regard her as an eccentric. Even members of the royal commission itself took little notice when Mrs. Van Der Elst turned up at one of its public hearings in February, 1950.

Women Need Financial Education

Toronto — (CP) — Canadian women may hold the purse strings but not all of them know how to use them properly.

That's the opinion expressed by Mrs. H. E. Vautelet of Montreal, newly-elected president of the Canadian Association of Consumers.

In an interview Wednesday after her election as ahead of the consumer education and liaison group, she said the housewife is Canada's chief purchasing agent but nothing has been done to prepare her for that job.

"What has education or society or even public thinking done to prepare the housewife for the immense power that her hand has over the steering dollar of the household budget expenses?

"I have often wondered why universities and schools has not begun before this to train girls who will do the nation's spending in a greater awareness of what their dollar can do to the Canadian economy."

Mrs. Vautelet herself brings to her new job a wealth of experience and information in the field of economies. No stranger to the kitchen, she plans to edit a cookbook of old French recipes that have been used in her family for generations.

During the Second World War she made a six-month survey of Quebec women's economic position and legislative needs on behalf of the provincial government. She was the only woman member of the economic advisory board of Quebec, a post-war planning board created by the Quebec government.

She has been connected with the Canadian Association of Consumers since its beginning and has led the movement in Quebec as national French vice-president and as provincial president.

In the national office, she succeeds Mrs. W. R. Walton, Jr., of Oakville, Ont.

The two-day national convention which ended Wednesday asked that the effective annual rate of interest be clearly stated on all loan or sales contracts and in all advertising of time payment plans.

The Quebec section sponsored the resolution asking for this and Mrs. W. V. George of Montreal told the convention:

"We are always urging proper labelling. This is only asking for labelling of credit buying so that the consumer wil' know the price being paid, including interest."

The meeting also went on record as urging labelling of all products made from pasteurized milk or cream, so as to protect both manufacturer and consumer. It reiterated its disapproval of coupons and premiums as forms of advertising, called on food processors to make available a more generous supply of apple juice enriched with vitamin C, and recommended removal of the 10-per-cent sales tax on tea and coffee.

Communists' Accounting Of Missing Prisoners Termed Wholly Unacceptable

Tokyo — (AP) — Gen. Mark Clark told the Communists today he considers "wholly unacceptable" Red answers to United Nations demands for an accounting of missing Allied soldiers believed to have been prisoners of war.

In a letter delivered at Panmunjom tonight, the UN commander demanded the "immediate return of those United Nations command personnel remaining in y our hands, and an honest accounting for all others who have been so clearly identified as having been in your custody."

The Allies on Sept. 9 demanded an accounting of 3,404 men identified at some time as Red prisoners. The total was revised upward to 3,421 today. Three Canadians were mentioned in the original list and a fourth was added in the revision.

The Reds replied that some of the men already have been repatriated, others were released at the front, some escaped and some died. But the Communists said most of those on the list were never prisoners.

Clark declared in his letter that the Allied list "did not constitute the names of personnel merely missing in action — it was comprised of those persons who spoke over your radio or were referred to in your broadcasts, were listed by you as captives, wrote letters from your prison camps or were seen in your prisons."

French Attack In Indo-China

Hanoi — (AP) — French union troops supported by planes and armored and naval units at dawn launched a big mop-up action against the Communist-led Vietminh's "ambush capital" in the Red river delta, 30 miles southeast of Hanoi.

The French high command announced that "several battalions," possibly 5,000 troops, were driving against several Vietminh units which for a long time have been troublesome to the French within the vital defence bastion of the delta.

They have principally operated around the town of Hung Yen, along the Red river where frequent enemy ambushes of French patrols has earned the sector the nickname "ambush capital."

Fighters and bombers were hitting hard at Vietminh troops. Naval units moving in the Red river shelled Vietminh positions and tanks and armored cars helped spearhead the French advance.

Associated Press correspondent Max Clos in Saigon reported that the Vietminh losses so far in the Hung Yen operation were 54 dead and 100 prisoners. French figures were not given. Resistance, the French command said, was very heavy. The French were pitted against three Vietminh battalions.

Heavy battles were expected tonight and Friday. The operation is the most important mop-up action yet undertaken in the Tonkin delta. It is the first time that such forces have been thrown against the Vietminh there.

Two Or Three Die In Fire

Moncton — (CP) — Two persons, and possibly a third, were burned to death today when fire burned through a frame dwelling at Pork ton, on the city's outskirts.

The bodies were reported still in the wreckage two hours after the fire was extinguished. Firemen said the ruins were too hot to enter. Police were not sure whether there were two or three bodies. Police said the victims might be Edward Saulnier and his wife. If there was a third victim it might be Edward Gallant, who owned the house.

The Saulniers went to visit Gallant Wednesday night and had not returned today. They have six children, the youngest a year old. A New Brunswick forest service tanker and Moncton's street flusher were rushed to the scene to haul water, from the nearest hydrant for the pumpers.

Cause of the fire is not known.

The blaze was the third serious fire in the Maritimes in the last two weeks. On Sept. 15, five young children were burned to death in a fire at Sydney Mines. A $150,000 outbreak raced through a Yarmouth business block earlier this week, but no lives were lost.

British POW Refuses To Come Home

Panmunjom. —(AP) —The lone Briton among more than 300 Allied prisoners of war whom the Reds say refused repatriation was quoted tonight as saying the "result of our Western, Capitalistic way of life is mud and blood."

The statement attributed to the Briton, whom the Reds identified as a marine, was released as the Reds delivered to Indian guards the United Nations prisoners of the Korean war who they say don't want to go home.

Censorship did not immediately permit use of his name.

The statement attributed to the Briton was handed to Allied news correspondents by Communist correspondend Wilfred Burchett of the Paris L'Humanite.

"I like my American friends, am a very ordinary type of person," the statement said. "I like to listen to music, read good books and I like my occasional pint of beer."

". . . Not only do I want to enjoy these things but I like to see everyone else enjoying them, too.

"Perhaps that makes me an idealist, a humanist, a Communist or whatever you will. The sort of world I have been living in the past denies these simple pleasures to hundreds of millions of people. And the result of our Western, capitalistic way of life is the mud and blood, the orphans and widows and tortured people of Korea, of Viet Nam, Malaya and other countries."

"I am determined to play my small part in fighting for the better sort of world I believe in," the statement said.

It said the Briton hoped he could play "even a small part" in helping cement friendly relations between British and Chinese people.

"These are my main reasons for refusing repatriation," it said.

U.S. Offers To Return MiG To Its "Rightful Owners"

Washington — (AP) — The U.S. today offered to return to its "rightful owner" the MiG-15 jet plane flown into American lines by a North Korean pilot.

At the same time the Far East command withdrew for the duration of peace talks the offer to pay $50,000 for MiGs delivered to the West.

The statement by Gen. Mark Clark, UN commander, had nothing to say directly about payment to the Korean pilot who delivered the first MiG last week. Defence department officials, however, noted that there was nothing in the Clark statement to make it retro-active. On that basis the Korean would get his money—$50,000 for the plane plus another $50,000 bonus as the first to take up the U.S. offer.

Clark's statement, released simultaneously here and in Tokyo, said:

"The traditional policy of the United States of America to grant asylum to those seeking freedom remains unchanged.

"However, during this period of armistice discussions the offer by the Far East command on 27 April, 1953, to award $50,000 for undamaged MiGs brought to our side is withdrawn.

"When the rightful ownership of the MiG that recently landed at Kimpo has been established we will offer to turn it over to that owner."

The statement raised a question whether the MiG would be brought to the United States, as the air force had previously indicated would be done.

Washington — (AP) — For a hefty slice of take-home pay, you can't beat flying a Russian plane into a United Nations airport.

The 22-year-old North Korean lieutenant who did it, bringing a MiG-15 to an airstrip near Seoul, picks up the $100,000 reward the United States government had offered anyone who first delivered a Russian plane.

Let's take a look at what that $100,000 means:

The internal revenue people have said it is tax free, even if the pilot should go to the U.S., since it was income earned outside the United States.

Furthermore, in answer to a question, they figured out that anyone in the United States who is single, with no dependents, would have to earn $940,550, in a year to have $100,000 left after federal taxes.

"Of course," said the income tax man, "he probably would be nicked by state taxes, and maybe by city taxes. He undoubtedly would have to make well over a million dollars."

The income tax people don't announce figures on personal income, but it's a safe bet that not many 22-year-olds make a million a year.

In 1950, for example, the highest salary reported was the $626,300 paid by General Motors to Charles E. Wilson, now secretary of defence. This, of course, was before the tax collector got to Wilson.

Of the companies reporting that year, 317 executives had salaries of $100,000 or more, but they then had to pay their taxes.

The internal revenue man said, the way he heard it, the plane was worth $300,000 or $400,000, so he figures it was a bargain quite aside from its scientific worth.

"But I keep thinking about that $100,000, without taxes," he said. "You know, how about sneaking into Russia, stealing a plane, flying it back and picking up $100,000 ourselves?"

There is just one little gimmick. The offer was $50,000 a plane, plus a $50,000 bonus for the first Red flier to deliver one. But even $50,000, tax free, is not to be jeered at.

Canada Will Do Its Share To End Dollar Shortages

By BOB JOYCE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Montreal—(CP)—Canada has told the United States she'll do her part to end the world dollar shortage and prevent depression, but it's up to the U.S. to carry the main burden.

Prime Minister St. Laurent said Wednesday night all countries—buyers and sellers—have a contribution to make, but "the largest contribution will have to come from the United States."

Canadians don't intend to shirk their responsibilities he told the International Municipal Congress, but "Americans are the leaders of the free world with all that that implies."

The meeting, attended also by R. Douglas Stuart, new U. S. ambassador to Canada, marked the official closing of the congress held jointly by Canadian and U. S. mayors.

Speaking at the University of Montreal in French and in English, the Prime Minister said Canadians, who sell more than half their exports to the U.S., know that if they can't keep trade high enough there "is bound to be unemployment, unrest, and, if it goes far enough, a depression with all its evil consequences both social and political."

"A man's mind is much more receptive to communistic theories, and ideas," he said, "if he feels his own society does not give him a chance to look after his legitimate material needs."

Canadians didn't want special treatment from the U.S., but they would like to know where they stood.

Canada was asking "for as free trade with the United States as can reasonably be achieved without upsetting your economy or ours."

Most U. S. officials, he found, were sympathetic to Canada's views, but there were people on both sides of the border "who seem to think trade can be turned on and off like the water behind a tap to suit the conveniences of a particular moment and a particular group."

Dealing with the dollar shortage the Prime Minister said he believed the U. S. could have its taxpayers money by encouraging other nations to sell their goods in the U. S. and Canada.

"They would be helped substantially to do that," he said, "if the exporters could be sure of the interpretations that will be put on customs and other import regulations."

"Another helpful factor—as we in Canada well know—would be the investment of more dollar capital in certain oversas dollar shortage areas.

"The impact on the American economy would not be serious. In fact, it would probably in some matters be welcome to many consumers who would have a cheaper source of supply for some of their needs," Mr. St. Laurent said.

Ambassador Stuart, in a brief speech replying to the Prime Minister's first public welcome, said he thought Canada faced a "tremendous future," and that there would never be any insoluble difficulties between the two countries.

Earlier George S. Mooney, executive director of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities, was awarded the distinguished service award of the U.S. Conference of Mayors "in recognition of his faithful work in government."

Mayor Thomas A. Burke of Cleveland, newly-elected president of the U.S. conference, said the award had only been made once before. In 1949 it was given to Gen. George Marshall. The conference now was making an exception from the usual rule that it could only be awarded to an American, because of Mr. Mooneys' work for Canadian municipalities.

At the closing ceremonies mayors and delegates rose to repeat the pledge of the citizens of ancient Athens undertaking never to disgrace their city by dishonesty or cowardice and to "strive unceasingly" to quicken the public's sense of civic duty.

Bottled Note For Princess

London — (Reuters) — A bottle containing a note from an American addressed to Princess Margaret was picked up on the beach at Southwick, southern England Wednesday.

The bottle also contained a model harbor, showing a lighthouse, pier and several boats.

On the back of the note, addressed to "Buckingham Palace, London, England" was written: "S. S. American Inventor. J. A. Rinkostki, pier N.R. 59, New York."

The finder, Cyril Todma, of Southwick, said he will send the bottle, with the note unopened, to Buckingham Palace.

Princess Margaret is in Scotland.

London. —(Reuters)— One of London's historic churches, now a bombed-out war ruin, will be rebuilt and used by the RAF as a permanent church. Saint Clement Danes Church will be restored to the richly carved delicate style of Sir Christopher Wren, famous 17th century architect who designed it. The church was fired by German bombs and only its stone walls and tower remain.

Britain Will Voice Views On Korean Peace Confeence

United Nations, N.Y.—(AP)—The UN General Assembly reached the halfway mark in its policy debates today with a major British declaration slated to give strong support to U.S. views on the Korean peace conference makeup.

Eleven countries, including two Iron Curtain delegations, were on the day's list of speakers. Britain's minister of state, Selwyn Lloyd, was scheduled to take the rostrum late in the morning session.

Lloyd previously had told the assembly in procedural discussions that Britain was against reopening debate now on the communist Chinese demands for an expanded "round-table" peace conference with four Asian countries and Russia included as neutrals.

Russia's Andrei Vishinsky fought hard early in the week to get the assembly to reconsider the stand it took in August that the conference should be a two-sided parley with only belligerents representing the UN. He failed but is expected to try again to force a debate on the Chinese demands.

Lloyd told the assembly in a prelude to today's statement of British policy that the Red Chinese and North Koreans should accept the suggestions of chief U.S. That the peace conference itself delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. determine whether any "neutrals" should be invited to the parley.

Britain also had indicated previously that they thought any debate on Korean political questions should be delayed in the assembly until the United States, as spokesman for South Korea and the 16 UN allies with troops in Korea, could get the peace conference arrangements effected.

The whole tenor of Britain's statements in the UN during the debates has indicated that the British-American breach, caused by U.S. opposition to India as a peace conference member, has been repaired.

The two Allies also are sticking together in support of Turkey for the security council seat which Greece will yield at the end of its two -year term in December.

The Phillippines came out late Wednesday with a surprise announcement that they were a candidate for the council and that the Arab-Asian group of 15 countries, whose support Turkey had been counting on, would back them to keep an Asian country in the council. Pakistan is also bowing out in December, with New Zealand due to be elected to fill what is regarded as a British Commonwealth chair.

Poland is being pushed by the Soviet bloc for the Greek seat on the ground that it belongs to an East European country friendly to the Soviet Union. The Russians said this was provided in a 1945 "gentlemen's agreement of the big powers."

The United States tore up any such agreement in 1949 when it supported Yugoslavia successfully against Soviet-backed Czechoslovakia. Greece wa selected in 1951.

Turkey, a Eurasian country which sat in the council as a Middle East representative in 1951 and 1952, was promised both U.S. and British support when it came out for the East European chair three weeks ago.

Both Turkey and the Philippines were among the 16 UN allies sending troops to Korea and both vote solidly with the Western democracies.

Mac Bradshaw Succeeds Jeff Wilson As President Of Sherbrooke Y's Men

Reports of activities and entry into office of the new executive highlighted the annual meeting of the Y's Men's Club, held last night in the Magog Hotel. At the conclusion of business, Mac Bradshaw took over the president's gavel from Jeff Wilson, who had held office for two years.

In the president's report, Mr. Wilson said that in the fiscal year the Y's Men's Club had made great strides not only in the increase of its members but in its reputation in the city and district. He extended thanks to his hard-working executive, the Y.M.C.A. board of directors, press and radio, Don Watson and Leonard Curtis of the MacDonald-Currie accounting firm and to the members for the success of the Club in 1952-53.

In extending best wishes to the new executive, Mr. Wilson thanked also "the members of our great community, who gave us a helping hand not only physically but financially."

The new president, Mr. Bradshaw, remarked that Mr. Wilson was one of the best presidents the local Y's Men's Club has ever had.

As co-chairman of the Club's summer camp, Mr. Bradshaw reported that in the past summer attendance was 149 boy-weeks and two boy-days of which 69 boy-weeks were enjoyed by non-paying youngsters. The Y's Mens' Club spent $881.10 to give free camping to underprivileged boys last summer. Among major improvements at the camp in the past season was the opening of the two-bed infirmary, made possible through the generosity of A. C. Skinner.

Mr. Bradshaw paid tribute to Alex Leslie, camp director and aides Jack Dauncey, Mrs. Waldie and Bill Jeffries. Hally Evans club director, co-chairman Ed Bryant, Pete Baird and Ross Hunting also came in for praise for their efforts on behalf of the camp.

Other reports given were as follows: boys' work, Mac Sanders; new club extension, Ed. Bryant; publicity and bulletin, Gordon Whatley; E. T. Track and Field Meet, Mac Sanders; and financial statement, Ross Hunting.

In the boys' work report, Mr. Sanders stressed three activities—the club's mentorship of the Hi-Y club, the track and field meet which attracted more than 500 entries from E. T. schools and the camp.

Doubtful Water Is Dangerous For Drinking

Sherbrooke citizens cannot drink water classified as "doubtful" without danger to their health, declares Dr. Emile Poisson, medical officer of the local Health Unit, in reply to a letter addressed to him by the City Council.

The letter, the second dealing with the problem of doubtful water, was designed to clarify an earlier statement in which the doctor classified many sources of water in Sherbrooke, including that supplied by the municipal waterworks, as "doubtful" and recommended the boiling of all drinking water. Then the city asked if "doubtful" water could be used for drinking purposes without danger and received the following reply:

In reply to yours of September 16 last, I would inform you that we had an interview today (Monday) with the Provincial Engineer, Mr. Lafreniere, on the subject of doubtful water.

"To reply directly to your question, we are authorized to reply to you no, it is not possible to drink without danger water declared doubtful."

In the meantime, all moves toward dealing with the local situation appear at a standstill until the Council deals with a resolution urging the holding of a referendum on the improvement of the water supply.

Kiwanians Discuss Show

At a brief business session following the Sherbrooke Kiwanis weekly dinner meeting at the New Sherbrooke Hotel last night, plans were discussed for the Club's latest coming project the Horse Show, Oct. 14, 15, 16, 17.

R. L. Bishop, chairman of the Horse Show committee, reported that preparations for the show are well in hand. One of the feature attractions at the show will be the Royal Canadian Mounted Police musical ride.

It was announced that the Laramee bus service has agreed to take the Mounties to and from the Arena daily, and music for the musical ride will be provided by the Sherbrooke Regiment band.

Les Memory announced that the Sher-Lenn Operatic and Choral Society's Kiwanian-sponsored entertainment in February will be the operetta "Merrie England." The rehearsals got under way last night. The operetta will be presented Feb. 10, 11 and 12.

A closing note to the meeting was that tickets for the horse show are available at the Arena, from Kiwanis members and also are being sold at Hart's Jewelery Store on Wellington Street.

Seated at the head table with Norman Farrell, second vice-president were Harry Blain, Les Memory, R. L. Bishop, Bill Charlebois, Ross Sturrock and Bill Hammond.

Kiwanians Are Guests Of Lions At Magog

President Al Swoger was in the chair, and asked Lion Allen Smith to give the invocation. Deputy District Governor Lion Robert E. White presented past president Wendell Bresee with his past president's button, and Mr. Swoger received the president's pin.

Jack Peters, president of the Kiwanis Club thanked the Lions for their invitation, and extended an invitation for them to be guests at the Kiwanis banquet to be held at the Union Hotel next Tuesday evening.

The main business of the meeting was a round table discussion on the Lions-Kiwanis Fair held last summer. Henry Jorgensen, joint secretary for that event, distributed mimeographed statements to each of those present in order that everyone might know what were the final results of their joint effort. Plans were also laid for early preparations for the second annual fair to be held again next summer.

President Swoger, welcomed back Lion Elmer Dagenais who has been absent from the Magog Lions Club for some time. Mr. Swoger also spoke of the urgent need for more members.

Dan Ramage gave the meeting its humour last evening, when he auctioned off a dozen of eggs. Mr. Ramage said that he guaranteed all the eggs contained at least two yokes, and he was sure several had at least three yokes. After jumping from fifty cents to $2.75, the eggs were sold to Robert Vaillancourt.

The next meeting of the Lions Club will be Wednesday, October 14.

Man Is Hurt, Hospitalized

Emanuel Foley, 48, of Cookshire, is a patient in St. Vincent de Paul Hospital here today suffering from lacerations to the face and an injured arm, received when a car which he was driving collided with a truck on the Megantic highway, four miles from Scotstown yesterday.

It is believed that the car hit the rear of the truck.

Monfette's ambulance rushed the victim to hospital. He was unconscious for a short time but regained consciousness soon after being admitted to hospital.

St. John Ambulance Is Conducting Annual Appeal For Financial Aid

The annual campaign of the St. John Ambulance in Sherbrooke, Coaticook and Magog is now under way, funds being sought to continue the work of the Brigade in the coming year.

St. John Ambulance is an organization which does a tremendous amount of good work, much of it unheralded.

Its members are present wherever there are public gatherings, whether they be sports events or religious assemblages. Their first aid teams are always on the job and there are countless hundreds of persons who have benefitted in one way or another from the skilled assistance of a brigade member.

Another feature of the work done by the St. John Ambulance is the assistance given the cadets in such projects as the Vacation colony and, for the last two years, the camp for the blind of the district.

Half a dozen cadets spent two weeks with the blind this summer, acting as eyes for the sightless, guiding them in their activities, serving their meals and helping in the entertainment program.

Instruction is another phase of St. John Ambulance work and first aid courses are provided which in addition to being of value in the daily course of events will be of tremendous worth in times of emergency.

Naturally, these projects of the St. John Ambulance cannot be carried out without funds. Not the least of the expenses are the bandages and other equipment which are used in the never-ending first aid work.

The current campaign to raise funds to continue this work is being conducted by individual and letter appeal. Contributions may be sent to the St. John Ambulance, 43 King Street, West.

CANADIANS LOSE OUT

For many years there has been a popular misconception that the meat packing industry makes vast profits. Actually, the portion of the meat packer's dollar representing profits is very small; one year recently about one cent in the dollar was paid out as profits to shareholders. However, it was still a profit, making things reasonably pleasant for the shareholders if enough dollars were taken in, and attesting to the fact that the industry could be operated profitably.

When governments go into the industry, however, it is a different story, since these bodies operate on a different basis. They enter it and related fields to maintain prices through the purchase of surpluses, and this can be a very costly basis of operations. The Canadian Government already has incurred a loss of $50 milions in meat, and it still has some 60 million pounds of meat left to sell. The Canadian taxpayer may have a still higher bill to face before the transaction is completed.

The United States Government has had a similar experience, with staggering losses. Its price support program is more comprehensive, and it has accumulated vast supplies of storable products while burning or giving away more perishable stuff. This program has cost the taxpayers of that country billions of dollars; it will cost them billions more before it ends, and the end is not in sight.

In the United States there are approximately 130 million taxpayers who are not farmers to meet this enormous bill. In Canada, taxes are gathered in one way or another from a non-farm population of some 12 million. Yet agriculture is one of the country's biggest industries, and if the Federal Government persists in its program of purchasing surplus products, it could mean a very heavy additional burden for Canadian taxpayers.

ON UNDER-ESTIMATING RUSSIA

The recently concluded agreement between Russia and North Korea provides for extension of great economic aid from the Soviets to their Far Eastern allies, including such items as a cash grant of $250,000,000, equipment, materials and technical advisers for reconstruction, supplies of consumer goods and postponement of credits granted during the war.

Such manifestation of Soviet economic power may surprise many. Yet the September print of the Nation's Business, published by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, reports that in the past seven years Russia's steel output has risen 198 per cent while the U. S. output rose 73 per cent; that between 1948 and 1953 the rise in Russian output was 17 per cent to the U. S.'s 4.3 per cent; that Russia's per capita income, though far below that of the U. S., Canada, Australia and a few North European countries, is three-fourths that of France, half that of Britain, above that of Italy and Spain, and on a par with those of Japan and Argentina. It is away above the per capita income of a billion Africans and Asiatics.

These are figures to ponder!

Ever since the Russian revolution, the "ten days that shook the world," wishful thinkers have been predicting Russia's collapse. Always events sat hard on them. Russia's planes, they said before World War II, couldn't leave the ground. Russia's planes left the ground, and Russia now has her "MIG". Russia, they said, couldn't make the atomic bomb, not for years and years. Russia now has the atomic bomb, and the hydrogen bomb, too.

So it goes; year after year Russia grows stronger, militarily and economically, possessing the world's largest air force, the world's second or third largest navy, admittedly the greatest land force. That the while she grows storngер economically, there can hardly be doubt.

We are told sometimes that Russia couldn't fight an air war because she lacks oil. Russia's oil production is far below ours, but so is her oil consumption; Russia hasn't got scores of millions of private automobiles daily on her highways with vast oil consumption. And surplus oil can be stored.

Press Comments

TIME FOR SHOWDOWN

Calgary Herald

We have consistently tried, in thesce columns, to see the Doukhobor problem from the Doukhobor point of view. We do not retreat an inch from our belief that the Doukhobor question represents, in its essence, a failure on the part of Canadian society at large, and that all Canadians should be ashamed that this nation has done nothing to help the Doukhobors to be assimilated into our way of life.

But having said this, we must also say that law and order must be preserved; that the Doukhobor reign of terror in the Kootenays has become quite intolerable and must be stopped; and that the Doukhobors, including the Sons of Freedom, must either accept the terms upon which life is lived in Canada or take the consequences. The consequences, as we see them, are: either for the Doukhobors to pack up and go some place else, or, for them to remove themselves to a remote part of Canada where they can do pretty well as they please; or, for them to stay where they are and conduct their lawless activities, which will mean that many of them will spend most of their lives in jail.

We see that the Doukhobor who is now the leader of the sect at Krestova has announced that his people will never swear an oath of allegiance to the Queen and will never give the authorities information on vital statistics (i.e., records of births, marriages and deaths). This man, and all others who think as he does, must somehow be made to realize that allegiance to the Queen is an act without which no person can claim Canadian citizenship. The Doukhobors claim to base their strange beliefs on religious foundation; but honorable conduct is part of any religion that is worth the name, and for anyone to claim the sanctuary of Canadian society while refusing to recognize his allegiance to Canada's Queen is essentially dishonorable. It puts the Doukhobors' sincerity — even that twisted form of fanaticism which in their case passes for sincerity — in serious doubt; and if they are not sincere there is no defence for them at all.

The Doukhobors cannot be made to leave Canada, since most of them are Canadians by birth; they cannot be made to go and live in northern British Columbia aganist their will, and even if they were taken there (short of keeping them in confinement) there is no way of making them stay. It is essential that the problem be solved without tinkering with the previous basic liberties of the individual which the law affords to all men in Canada. But we agree with Premier Bennett of British Columbia that the time for a showdown is here, and that the Doukhobors must be taught that they must obey the law.

SENATE REFORM

Sudbury Star

The rumor is circulating around Parliament Hill that Prime Minister St. Laurent may appoint some Opposition members to the 12 vacant seats in the Canadian Senate.

As there seems to be no intention to abolish the Senate in Canada, any reform, or trend to reform, will be welcome, even if it does mean disappointed party stalwarts who hoped for retirement on the public treasury plan.

The Senate has become about as useful as a horseshoe to an automobile mechanic and is but little more than the rubber stamp of the government that appointed the senators to office.

EISENHOWER ECONOMY CUTS BEING KEPT A BIG SECRET

Washington — (NEA) — Real teeth have now been put into President Eisenhower's Denver economy message to federal agencies.

He sent the letter after Congress refused to raise the legal debt limitation of $275 billion. Eisenhower does not want to call a special session of Congress spending threaten to put the debt over that figure.

The order to each agency on how this savings is to be accomplished, which the White House has issued, a smart administrative device if it works. But it's sure to set up an awful howl from many quarters.

It forces just about every bureau and office in government to start making cuts in personnel and spending as of the start of the second quarter of the present fiscal year. It means that the screams will start when specific services begin to be reduced in October.

It also means the departments will not be permitted to spend all of the money which Congress appropriated for them.

Cuts Are Best-Kept Secret

The size of these new cuts in spending, which the White House has imposed, is a better-kept secret than the number of atomic bombs in the stockpile. In each department, only the secretary and budget officer know the amount. It's the same for bureaus and offices down the line.

And woe be to anyone who spills this figure. The White House has let it be known in no uncertain terms that the size of the new cuts is a top administrative secret.

From January to July the President was able to lop, 88,000 persons off the federal payroll. The new reductions could be bigger than that.

There are actually two goals in the White House economy move, a spokesman explains. The first is obviously the saving of money. The second is the hope to avoid a package of drastic firing at the start of the next fiscal year, July 1, 1954. This is the way the latter plan will work:

Budget ceilings have been set for the fiscal year '54-'55. They're considerably lower than the last appropriations, in hopes of maybe balancing the budget. Thus the idea of the present cuts is to get the operations of the agencies down to that level by July 1 of next year.

Therefore, for the next nine months there will be steady firings and program cutting to get to that level. The device avoids drastic cuts and firings all on one day. It spreads the reduction over a long period of time, making the whole thing more palatable. At least that's what the White House hopes.

Give Money Back, Maybe

It also means that when administration officials go to Congress for next years appropriations they can report that they didn't need several hundred millions, and maybe more than a billion, which had been given them. They will all be turning money back to the Treasury, it is planned, an almost unheard of situation.

By spreading out the cuts over the next nine months the White House also probably hopes to make them less of a campaign issue for the 1954 congressional elections.

The best estimate is that reductions range from five to 20 per cent below amounts appropriated by Congress. The Department of Justice is socked hard, according to reliable reports. Labor, Commerce, Interior, Agriculture and Defense have all been given substantially lowered ceilings.

The White House hopes the cut-back program is well under way by the time Congress returns, unless there's a special session, the administration will have three months to get going on it before the legislators return and start asking embarrassing questions.

That's one of the reasons for all the secrecy. The White House doesn't want specific congressmen to find out about program reductions which will affect their districts. It is hoped that by spreading the whole thing over nine months they will be able to pull it off with a minimum of complaints.

Verdict In Indo-Chinese War May Be Long Time In Coming

(Editor's Note: Jack Macbeth as an Associated Press Correspondent, spent six months earlier this year in Indo-China where French and Vietminh forces have been struggling for control for almost seven years. Now working in Ottawa with The Canadian Press, Macbeth reviews the situation as things now appear to shape up.)

By JACK MacBETH
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Bold steps appear to have been taken in an attempt to reach a military decision in Indo-China. But a verdict may be a long time coming, if at all.

For nearly seven years fighting has see-sawed in a costly stalemate between French Union forces and their Communist-led enemy, the Vietminh. Now, possibly seeking a verdict, the United States has decided tentatively to double military aid to the French.

This strategically-timed move is reported to have as its objective the final and complete defeat of Vietminh troops in about two years. However, it's anybody's guess as to whether it will succeed. It depends to a large extent on French ability to meet commitments.

French Undertaking

To obtain additional U.S. support, the French government is understood to have promised:

1. To move nine battalions of French troops from Europe to the Indo-China battle front to reinforce 150,000 men already in the field.

2. To accelerate training of loyal Indo-Chinese manpower to create a tough anti-Communist force capable of winning the present war and countering any future threats.

The French have begun to raise 54 battalions in Indo-China this year to reinforce 200,000 already under arms.

3. To grant complete, visible independence to the three Indo-Chinese states of Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia, all of which have been complaning about French rule.

There seems little doubt that the French can provide another nine battalions—about 7,000 men. This will help.

Officer's Opinion

When I was in Indo-China three months ago, a high-ranking officer said he would need another 60,000 French troops to crush the Vietminh. He said it would take "many years" to train and equip enough loyal Viet Namese soldiers to do the same job.

He added that experience had proven that, with heroic exceptions Viet Namese units were not always thoroughly reliable. It was a question of their loyalty.

If the French government carries out its third promise, giving full independence to the three associated states, the indicator line on their loyalty chart will climb. However, after nearly seven years' subjection to Communist propaganda, it is doubtful that they will be convinced to a man that the French finally are on their way out.

Competent observers in Saigon have said that while the raising of a national army in Korea was an eminent success—after two difficult years—equal success could not be expected in Indo-China. They cited the fact that Koreans never were colonized by Europeans.

They were subjugated by the Japanese for years but, when the time came to fight communism, there wasn't a Japanese in sight. In Indo-China, the Viet Namese inhabitants have seen French soldiers and civilians for many years, and still see them every day.

When and if the French finally leave, observers feel that it will be a long time before Communist charges of Western imperialism stop ringing in the ears of thousands of Viet Namese. All three states have agreed to remain with the French Union as independent countries. That means there will be sizeable French representation within their boundaries, a factor which Communist propaganda would not likely ignore.

Meanwhile, increased U.S. aid appears to have two immediate aims: To prod the defensively-minded French high command to attack; and to discourage possible Chinese Communist intervention.

The decision of the U.S. national security council to recommend that $385,000,000 be added to the $400,000,000 already voted for In-Go-China aid this year, following so closely the Korean cease-fire, could be considered as still another warning to the Chinese against any new military adventure.

American sources in Ottawa say it is "a foregone conclusion" that the council's recommendation will meet with congressional approval. They added that perhaps some of the additional sum already may be available from "other" funds already voted.

Meanwhile, the war in Indo-China continues. It has cost the French Union roughly 50,000 killed, 12,000 missing and nearly 100,000 wounded. Vietminh casualties have been even higher. There are almost 1,000,000 men in action on both sides, the French having committed slightly more than the enemy.

It is no secret that many French military and political leaders want to evacuate the country. They say that they are not getting enough exports from it to justify the cost in money and blood.

Others, however, with strong support from Britain and the U.S., insist that Indo-China must be held at all costs to prevent a possibly-fatal Communist thrust at rich Malaya, Burma and Thailand.

Jacoby On Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY

'FINESSOMANIA'—CAN RUIN YOU

One of the worst diseases that can attack a healthy bridge player in finessomania. Everybody has seen the symptoms. The player is unable to resist a finesse even if it means jeopardizing (or losing) his contract. In today's hand we see a very sad case of this ailment.

West opened the ten of hearts, and declarer carefully won the trick in dummy with the queen of hearts in order to finesse the jack of spades. This play may have been careful, but it was far from successful and even farther from sensible.

West won with the queen of spades and brilliantly returned a club. South won with the ace of clubs and returned the ten of spades, but West was not to be deceived. West promptly put up the ace of spades and led another club, forcing out dummy's king.

South still had the king of spades in his hand and was never able to get back to dummy to cash the nine of spades. He thus succeeded in making only one spade trick, three hearts, and two tricks in each of the minor suits.

As I have hinted, the spade finesse was just so much nonsense. South should have won the first trick in his own hand with the king or ace (thus making sure that he could get to dummy later by means of the queen of hearts). South's next step is to lead the king of spades, deliberately giving up any chance of finessing in that suit.

South doesn't care who takes the ace of spades, since he still has two stoppers in each of the side suits. If the defenders switch to clubs, South will take the ace of club and lead the jack of spades.

Assuming that the defenders promptly win again and force out dummy's king of clubs, South can unblock the offending ten of spades and still get back to dummy through the queen of hearts in order to cash the nine of spades. South is thus quite sure to make nine tricks no matter how the defenders wriggle or squirm.

You, South, hold: Spades K-8-3-2, Hearts A-Q-J-7-5, Diamonds A-Q, Clubs 3-2. What do you do?

A—Bid three spades: This rebid shows strong support (four cards or more) for your partner's suit with a total count of 17 to 19 points. In this case you have 16 points in high cards, 2 points for the doubletons, and 1 point extra for the king of your partner's suit.

Letters to the Editor

THE WHEAT CROP

Dear Sir: In your always piquant feature "Press Comments," I was duly impressed with these somewhat nostalgic and sombre lines, entitled "The Old Gamble" (Regina Leader-Post) just three weeks ago: "The air is cool these August nights . . . But out on the prairie, the land, rolling away to the far horizon, is strangely green for this time of the year. Except in a few fields the gold of autumn is absent. An unusual quiet pervades the countryside, which should be humming with the racket of tractors and combines and the bustling noise and activity which denotes harvest time on the prairies . . . A late harvest means a race between the slowly ripening grain and the coming of the first killing frosts . . . The old annual gamble, man versus nature, is on again."

The above went into my clipping book just three weeks ago. As of today I have seen no reference in the news columns reporting the arrival of the "first killing frosts"—so it looks as if our prairie brethren are "coming down the stretch" toward another bumper crop.

Of course, some fields are bound to be overtaken by rust, frost and hail, even in a bumper season; so we will have to wait and see how we hurdle the rural adage, which is current coin in the unpredictable prairie weather: "A wheat crop isn't a wheat crop, 'til it's in the bin."

Any interest, or individual endeavoring to translate the current cereal abundance into a burden or calamity, must be blithely unaware of today's dangers around the hungry world. Undoubtedly today's plenty will involve certain marketing difficulties and storage problems; but in this reader's opinion, these will merely invigorate our thinking and keep us "on our toes." They are not a feather's weight, compared with the ills which would stem from thin crops and half-empty bins.

Those are my sentiments, Mr. Editor. We should get away from the anti-social game of punishing the farmer, simply because, with the aid of a friendly weatherman, he has produced abundance.

IRISHMAN.

SHORT STORY

Epicurean Error

By Isabelle Snyder

Laura Fenton viewed the rutted road dubiously. "Are you sure this is the road, Amy?"

"Oh yes—'third road on the left'—just as you wrote it in the notebook when Mrs. Edwards told us about it . . . a wonderful country home that serves divine food. Hurry, I'm starved. And it sounds so divine!"

3-Minute Fiction

Laura turned the carefully-cared-for coupe into the narrow road, guiding it cautiously up the steep grade.

Amy giggled like a girl. "It's a good thing it isn't much farther, Laura. I'm starved!"

Laura smiled gently at the exaggerated speech of her flighty friend who refused to grow old, gracefully or otherwise. "I believe the food will be worth the long drive off our main route. Mrs. Edwards is most discriminating."

"There's the place," announced Amy coughing from the thick dust. "Just look at all the cars in the yard—the food must be wonderful."

Laura turned the coupe into the crowded farm yard and carefully selected an ample parking spot.

Amy pouted, "The food may be perfect but we'll have to wait ages to get in—just look at all those others waiting!" She bounced from the car like a child and stood impatiently while Laura fastidiously changed driving gloves for fresh white one before leaving the car primly.

"Goodoness, Amy Bowen, straighten your hat," Laura scolded as they walked to the house. "It seems strange that they don't have a sign on the road or out front," she commented as they ascended the steps to the veranda where other people already waited.

They were greeted by an unsmiling woman in black. "Would you care to come inside or will you wait here on the porch?"

"Oh, outside, please," answered Amy warmly. "It's much too nice a day to stay inside." She continued to chatter of the weather and the lovely view while they found chairs in the shade. Then she turned to the woman next her. "Isn't this a lovely place?" she asked enthusiastically.

Her enthusion apparently was not transmitted by her speech. In fact, Amy had the peculiar sensation that comes to one who has committed a grave social error.

The woman murmered something polite and turned away but Amy was not to be denied. "I'm Amy Bowen and this is my friend, Laura Fenton. We are school teachers from over in Ohio," she said.

The woman looked at them in a puzzled way, acknowledged the introductions briefly and changed her place.

"Well, really!" Amy said in disgust before turning to Laura to say in a whisper. "Where do you suppose they feed folks, Laura? I don't smell any food nor hear any dishes."

Laura answered quietly, "Don't fret so, Amy. There are so many flowers around that you couldn't smell food."

Amy squirmed around in her chair, peering curiously into the house. "Goodness," she said, "the place is banked with flowers." "Oh" she gasped, turning an odd greenish white, "Laura, I'm going to be sick," she cried.

Laura moved quickly, grasping the smaller woman by the arm to help her to the car. As they passed the open door, Laura glanced inside, then stifled a cry with a white-gloved hand. Reality had arrived with abrupt suddenness.

Not till the two women were safely in the car and ready to turn onto the paved highway did either speak. Amy wailed, "Oh, Laura, that horrible place! We'll never live this down."

Laura stopped the car and looked at the directions in the notebook "'Third road on right.'" she read. She turned to her stricken companion. "Amy Bowen," she said sternly, "maybe this will teach you to read the directions as they are written and to follow them carefully. The idea of taking us to a funeral instead of a restaurant!"

Community School Opens At Boundary; Addressed By Lt.-Col. G. R. Stephens

Derby Line, Sept. 24.—The 13th annual session of the International Community School opened at Stanstead College Tuesday evening with a large number present to enroll in the various interest groups and hobby classes of their choice. There were short get-acquainted meetings of the various groups, a talk by Lt.-Col. George R. Stephens, O.B.E., of Montreal, and a lunch of sandwiches and coffee to wind up the evening.

The first regular sessions of the different interest groups will start next Tuesday evening in various class rooms of Stanstead College. The speaker next week will be Professor H. S. Babcock, of the University of Vermont, whose subject will be "World Affairs." There will also be an opportunity to register for the school for those who were unable to be present this week.

"The trend of the press in the English-speaking countries is toward accuracy and honesty," said Lt.-Col. Stephens in the course of his talk on "The Role of the Press in World Affairs."

"The number of words being written and printed is staggering. To cite just one example, the Sunday edition of the New York Times averages about two million words. If you read at the rate of 200 words per minute, it would take you from 11 a.m. on Sunday until 8 a.m. the following Sunday just to read it all, thereby leaving you three hours to rest until you started over again!

"The editor of a daily paper has three groups of people to satisfy: his readers, the advertisers, and the owners. Each have their own interests and their own ideas, and each have rights that must be considered.

"So far as the raider is concerned, the paper must give the news, provide entertainment and also at least a modicum of education. The news must be readable and attractive. The headlines should reflect the sense of the story so far as it is possible within the space limitations. Honesty is the first consideration. The news must not be distorted to satisfy the owner or the advertiser. Consideration must be given to the effect of the news upon the welfare of the country and of the world.

"What can the reader do to correct the faults in a newspaper? Actually not too much as an individual, but considerable as a group. After all, if the paper does not please the reader he will not continue to buy it.

"When you spot a genuine error in a newspaper or periodical, write and call their attention to the mistake. Be sure you are correct, however, as they will naturally be reluctant to admit this error.

"Read with discretion, understanding and thoughtfulness. Try and learn the viewpoint of the writer, and allow for his prejudices. Your knowledge and understanding of world affairs depends upon what you read, and accordingly you should strive to read rather widely and above all thoroughly."

Lt.-Col. Stephens was introduced by E. J. Struthers, and thanked for his fine talk by Rev. E. C. Amaron, D.D. The president of the school, Victor Griffiths, expressed the regret of the school at loosing Dr. Amaron for the year, and wished him the best of luck and happiness during his year of absence from Stanstead College.

Classes

The class in advanced French Conversation will be led by Miss Colette Marcottee, with Miss Catherine MacKenzie leading the beginners group. Raymond Jensen of the staff of Stanstead College will replace Dr. Amaron as the leader of the class in English Conversation for French speaking people.

Mrs. Ann Butterfield of Newport will be the speaker at the You and Your Home class next Tuesday, September 29th.

The Stamp class, under George Slawson will meet on Tuesday evenings at Stanstead College. Recognition of Trees and Woods will hold their meetings on Monday evenings.

Square Dancing will be held at Sunnyside auditorium on Friday evenings. The Bridge class will meet Monday evenings at the Domestic Science rooms of Stanstead College. Chess will meet on Thursday evenings, for the present at the home of the leader C. B. Narraway.

It was again emphasized that anyone wishing to attend for one evening was more than welcome, and that there would be a chance to join the school next Tuesday evening.

Rita, Haymes Try Marriage Again Today

By JAMES BACON

Las Vegas, Nev. — (AP) — Rita Hayworth and Dick Haymes today gambled once more with matrimony.

The 34-year-old actress and her crooner, 35, will recite vows each has said three times before in a civil ceremony at the Sands Hotel.

Jack Entratter, general manager of the Sands, will be the only attendant.

The unpretentious rites will be quite a contrast to the screen star's lavish French wedding to Prince Aly Khan in 1949. Miss Hayworth will not even have a new wedding gown. She said she would wear a blue linen straight dress which she has worn before.

Only guests invited are business and legal associates of the couple. The only relatives on hand will be the bride's two daughters. They are Rebecca, 8, the offspring of Miss Hayworth's marriage to Orson Welles, and the princess Yasman, 3½, like her Moslem father a direct descendant of the prophet Mohammed.

Final barrier to the wedding was cleared Wednesday when Haymes copped a seven-minute divorce decree from Nora Eddington Flynn Haymes. Less than an hour later, he brought Rita back to the courthouse, where they obtained a marriage licence.

Both Haymes and Rita claimed permanent residence in Nevada, but said they will soon move near Greenwich, Conn., where they are looking for a house.

"All my work is in the east," the crooner explained.

Miss Hayworth said she plans to commute between the east coast and Hollywood for picture making.

Should the government win its deportation case against the Argentine-born crooner, what country will he and Rita then live in?

"I'm not going to be deported," he answered. "We both intend to live in the U.S.A."

Immigration officials contend Haymes, still an alien, failed to obtain a re-entry permit after visiting Rita in Honolulu recently.

The crooner said he will move into Miss Hayworth's suite at the Sands right after the wedding.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

Written for NEA Service
By OSWALD JACOBY

BE LENIENT WITH KIBITZERS

"Please explain the rule in this case," asks a Florida correspondent. "We were playing three-handed canasta. After a few unimportant plays by each player, the first man put down an initial meld. It happened to be 5 points short, but nobody noticed at the time, and the kibitzers made remarks that indicated that the meld was correct.

"Whether it was the kibitzers or just plain forgetfulness, the first player didn't check his meld, but went ahead and discarded. The second player likewise accepted the meld, drew a card, and began to meld. Halfway through the second player's meld, the error of the first player was discovered.

"What should be done so far as the players are concerned. What should be done about the kibitzers?"

The rule about the players is very easy indeed. The insufficient meld is condoned or forgiven, exactly as though it had been correct to start with. The second player continues with his meld, probably making a mental resolve to count all melds from then on. The third player likewise wakes up and should be less trustful of kibitzers thereafter.

The rule about kibitzers is not at all easy. Kibitzers, or spectators, are always with us. For the most part, especially if they are friends, they provide the players with company, an audience, with glory, or with mockery. Sometimes they take a hand in the game from time to time and are therefore participants as well as spectators.

The well-behaved kibitzer is an asset to most games. A talkative kibitzer is about as usual as a broken leg. But there is no denying the fact that kibitzers sometimes do talk; and sometimes, as in the case under discussion, they babble in error. When they do so, there is nothing you can do about it.

There is no rule in the books that says you can give a mistaken kibitzer ten hearty strokes with a cat-o-nine-tails. And even if there were such a rule, the kibitzer would probably turn out to be your wife or your rich uncle. So put the "cat" down and make up your mind to bear talkative kibitzers as you must bear with plague and famine.

Mr. Jacoby is unable to answer individual questions on Canasta from readers. However, he will include the most frequently asked questions in his column.

Farnham Theft Cases Heard

Sweetsburg, Que. —(CP)— Two men were ordered Tuesday to appear before criminal assizes on a charge of theft of military huts in 1949 from the army camp at Farnham, Que. A third man was released.

Georges Couture and Rene Lusignan were ordered for trial after Judge Patrick Delaney had taken under advisement evidence presented at their preliminary hearing Aug. 28. He said evidence against the two warranted trial.

However, he found evidence insufficient to commit for trial Raymond Chevalier. A fourth man, Real Angers, will appear next Tuesday to hear Judge Delaney's decision in his case. He faces similar charges in connection with the thefts.

Madrid —(Reuters)—Spaniards today sought in vain in the pages of the Madrid newspaper ABC for further details of its report that Lavrenti Beria, ousted Soviet interior minister, had escaped to Spain.

A note on page 1 said: "See page 19 for new and exclusive details of the Beria case." But not a line of Beria appeared on page 19 or anywhere else in today's paper.

The report of Beria's flight to Spain, where he was said to be in contact already with U.S. investigators, was splashed Wednesday by ABC. Both Spanish government and United States embassy officials professed "no knowledge of the case."

Palermo, Sicily—(Reuters)—Two persons were killed and six seriously injured Wednesday night when a spark touched off an explosion in a small fireworks factory. The explosion razed the factory near here and started a fire which damaged several buildings in the vicinity.

Montreal. — (CP) — Five cars of a CNR freight train today jumped the tracks near Vaudreuil railway station, 25 miles west of Montreal.

SUTTON

On Friday afternoon, in Grace Church Parish Hall, the first meeting for the newly organized Cub Pack will be held under the leadership of the Rev. Kenneth Keefe. Small boys between the ages of 8-12 are eligible to join. A meeting will also be held in the near future for the reorganization of the Brownies, with Mrs. Donald Dow as the leader.

Mrs. Winston Dyer, captain of the 1st Sutton Company Girl Guides, will spend the week-end in North Hatley, where she will attend the training school for Guide and Brownie leaders being held at the Pleasant View Hotel.

OBITUARIES

MRS. WILLIAM A. SMITH, OF ST. ARMAND.

Bedford, Sept. 24.—The death took place at Notre Dame du Rosaire Hospital, in Bedford, on Sunday, September 13, of Mrs. William A. Smith, after a long illness.

Mrs. Smith was the former Frances Louisa Krans, and was born 87 years ago in St. Armand.

She was predeceased some years ago by her husband, and is survived by one daughter, Miss Clara Smith, of St. Armand.

Her remains rested at the Woods Funeral Home in Swanton, Vt., until her funeral on Wednesday afternoon, which was held at St. Paul's Church, Philipsburg, at 2:30 o'clock.

Most of the animals native to ancient Egypt were regarded as sacred in those times.

WOMAN WAGES WAR

Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, was speaking on the church attitude to capital punishment. Suddenly the little round lady with the rasping voice rose: "Do you call yourself a Christian?" The primate and commission hurriedly left the room. 'Cowards," roared Mrs. Van Der Elst.

Outside her crusade, Mrs. Van Der Elst is a clever business-woman and composer—police once refused a request to allow hired bands to play some of her 200 compositions outside prisons.

Little is known of her early life beyond the fact she was born the 10th child of a poor engineer in London. She studied pharmacy and founded the manufacturing chemists' concern that made her fortune.

Born Violet Gundry some time before the turn of the century—she does not reveal her true age—the crusader married a wealthy Belgian army officer. He died in 1935.

The University of Naples, largest in Italy, was founded by Frederick II in 1224.

The shire horse, world's largest work-horse, usually weighs around 2,000 pounds.

Richmond, Sept. 24.—St. Anne's Guild and W.A. met in the parish hall on September 10, with a good attendance of members and visitors.

The president, Mrs. George Walker, was in the chair and the minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. D. D. Nixon.

Mrs. Ivy Fuller, the treasurer, gave the financial report.

The W.A. Deanery meeting, which is to be held in Drummondville on Wednesday, October 7, was discussed and the members were urged to do their best to attend the meeting.

Plans were made for the harvest home supper, which is to be held on September 30, and a committee was named to work on this. One hundred and twenty-five church calendars are to be ordered and Mrs. A. Smith was named for convener of this sale.

A rummage sale is to be held in the near future. Articles may be left with Mrs. A. Smith or Mrs. D. D. Nixon. At the close of the business meeting, Rev. Mr. Harrington, in a few well chosen words, presented Mrs. V. Ignatieff with a Waterman pen and pencil set. Mrs Ignatieff is leaving Richmond to make her home in Washington, D.C. Rev. Mr. Harrington expressed the feeling of all her friends when he said: "She will be sorely missed from this community."

Mrs. Ignatieff expressed her thanks and appreciation for the gift and to Rev. Mr. Harrington for his kind words and said that she would always cherish pleasant memories of St. Anne's Church and her many friends in Richmond.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the officers from a lace-covered tea table centred with a silver basket of autumn flowers. Several baskets and vases of flowers adorned the hall.

The Doctor Says:

SCALP CONDITION LAID TO GENERAL LOWERING OF HEALTH

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.

What can be the cause of a scalp disorder with big red blotches, white flakes, and itching, asks T. L. C. These go away, he says, but then come back as bad as before.

The most likely explanation for Mr. V.'s difficulty—which, by the way, is also often associated with falling hair—is a condition known as seborrhea.

Seborrhea is commonly divided into two varieties, one, dry seborrhea, or dandruff, and the other, oily seborrhea. Both of these conditions are more common in the scalp than elsewhere, but many extend down to the eyebrows, face, and even other parts of the body.

In oily seborrhea, the hair and scalp feel greasy and are hard to keep clean because dirt floating in the air sticks and the hair follicles tend to clog up with oil and tiny scales of skin, dirt and the like, and this certainly does not make for healthy scalp or hair.

Sometimes a true inflammation of the skin follows or accompanies seborrhea and then the condition is called dermatitis, and this can be painful as well as annoying.

What is responsible for either form of seborrhea has not been determined. No germ has been associated with the condition. However, seborrhea of either kind commonly starts after the general health has been lowered by such things as infection or fatigue.

Anemia, constipation, indigestion, lack of fresh air and exercise, and the wearing of still and ill-ventilated hats are also said to contribute.

No Easy Cure

There is no quick or easy cure for seborrhea. If some chronic, weakening disease is present, it should, of course, be treated.

The local treatment of seborrhea involves first the removal of the crusts and accumulated fatty material and later the use of stimulating applications. The accumulations are soaked with an oil fluid to aid removal. This is followed by thorough and frequent washing with soap and water.

Boundary Rotary Fair Receipts Almost $4,500; Club Entertains Fair Helpers

Derby Line, Sept. 24.—Those who helped at the ninth annual Boundary Rotary Fair were entertained at a banquet at the Del Monty Hotel as a part of the regular Monday evening meeting of the Rotary Club of the Boundary. About 70 Rotarians and helpers were present.

According to the report of the treasurer of the fair, Gordon Petrie, the total receipts were almost $4,500, the second largest since the fair started, Returns from the booths were over $2,800, and from the drawings $1,620.

Those of the helpers who were present were introduced by the chairmen of the various booths, and a report and the thanks of the club were given by Maurice Moore, chairman of the event.

Mr. Moore said that it was the united effort of the members of the club plus the invalable assistance of the non-members that made it possible to hold the fair each year, and expressed his personal thanks to all who helped.

In thanking those who helped, special mention was made of Romeo Rodrigue, whose announcing for the old "corny" game was of such real value.

Thanks were also expressed to Don McNally of the Derby-Port Drive Inn for announcing the fair each evening, and to radio station WIKE for giving the news of the fair over the air.

The Stanstead Journal, Newport Express, Sherbrooke Record and La Tribune were also thanked for the help they had given the fair by means of the news items they had carried.

Earl Heath expressed the thanks of the club to Maurice Moore for his work in handling the fair, mentioning that the task started several months ago and will not be entirely over until all the bills are in and checked and paid.

Singing was led by C. R. MacLean, and the music played by Miss Aline Ricard. Visiting Rotarians at the meeting were Linton Wells and R. E. Costigan, of Newport.

Beverly Haselton was welcomed into the club as a new member by C. R. MacLean, who presented him with a membership certificate as well as various books about Rotary.

Fred Gilman, president of the club, presided at the meeting.

Cowansville, Sept. 24 — Fordyce Women's Institute met in Trinity Hall Cowansville for the September meeting, and invited Cowansville and Dunham members to join with them. A short business meeting was held. Roll call was answered by giving "News items dealing with the W.I."

Members decided to send a case of milk to a needy mother for her twin babies.

Reporting on the luncheon held for the A.C.W.W. Delegates, Mrs. Lewis said that it had been very successful, and that our County Institutes were very honored to have had this opportunity to meet members from so many lands. Publicity convener Mrs. Dustin had the proofs of the pictures taken at the luncheon. They were very good and orders will be taken for copies at the semi-annual meeting in Cowansville.

The publicity convener had arranged for a Film on Publicity, "What Do You Think"? and a colored film "Canadian Heritage". These films were procured at the Film Library at Macdonald College. Through the kindness of Mr. A. Rousseau, an employee of the Provincial Government, Mr. Brousseau, came with a projector and showed the films.

During intermission Mrs. J. Syberg and her daughters, sang two lovely selections.

The meeting was closed by all singing "O Canada".

Refreshments were served by six members of Fordyce W.I.

The meeting was opened with the Salute to the Flag, and the recital of the Ode, and the Creed, followed by a few moments of silence in memory of Miss Mary Black, a former member, who passed away in August.

Eighteen members answered the roll call and four visitors were present. The secretary read the minutes of the June meeting, which were adopted as read. The treasurer, Mrs. K. R. MacLeod, gave the financial report which showed a fair balance on hand.

The correspondence consisted of three "thank-you cards", and a letter and a copy of the Coronation issue of "Home and Country" from the members of the Calstock Women's Institute, at Calstock, England.

The conveners present all read items from outlines on their departments.

Mrs. Mayhew reported that two members had sent in cotton for the Cancer Society and other members were reminded to send their cotton in a soon as possible.

Mrs. Boy reported that there was a need of more readers if the library was to be carried on this winter.

The secretary was asked to get in touch with Canterbury W.I., to make further arrangements for the painting class to be held the last of September.

Five dollars was donated to the School Fair Committee for prizes and the secretary gave the committee $2.00, which she had received from Compton County Women's Institute secretary-treasurer, Mrs. A. E. Leonard, in Bishopton for school prizes.

Rocky Marciano Favored To Retain Heavyweight Title

Meets Tough Contender Tonight In 15-Rounder At Polo Grounds; Bets Vary; 32,000 Expected For Fight

New York — (AP) — Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano risks his one-year-old crown tonight against Roland LaStarza in a 15-round title fight at the Polo Grounds.

The 26-year-old New Yorker firmly believes he can beat Marciano. (Rocky won a split decision) in their first meeting 3½ years ago and he is sure he is going to make it official in the ball park with some 32,000 fans looking on.

Despite the challenger's optimism there were only a few of the fight experts who believe the ex-collegian will be able to escape the numbing blows of the powerful 29-year-old champion.

The odds were 4-to-1 that the undefeated Brockton blaster would win; 12-to-5 that LaStarza would be knocked out; 9-to-5 that Roland wouldn't finish 12 rounds and even money he wouldn't complete eight rounds. It was 8-to-1 that LaStarza wouldn't stop the durable Marciano.

Starting time for the outdoor bout is 10:30 p.m. EDT. There will be no television or broadcast into homes direct from ringside. A telecast will be beamed over a closed circuit to 45 theatres in 34 cities from coast to coast and some TV and radio stations plan brief summaries at the end of each round.

With the weatherman forecasting fair and warmer weather, president Jim Norris of the International Box Club, stuck to his prediction that the fight would gross about $400,000. The IBC will collect a minimum of $100,000 from the theatre-cast, making a possible total of $500,000.

If the total reaches $500,000, Rocky, in for 42½ per cent, will receive about $170,000. LaStarza, who gets 17½ per cent, will collect about $70,000. Roland's previous highest purse was the $13,000 he earned when he dropped the controversial ten rounder to Rocky in Madison Square Garden, March 24 1950—the turning point in the careers of both fighters.

That fight was rated an even money affair in the betting. LaStarza had won all 37 of his fights while Rocky was unbeaten in 25. Rocky's manager, Al Weill, sidestepped a promised return bout and skilfully guided his fighter to the heavyweight title a year ago Wednesday.

LaStarza, meanwhile, seemed out of the picture completely when he lost decisions to Dan Bucceroni and Rockey Jones. He beat both in return fights and catapulted back into the top ranks of the talent-decimated division when he edged Rex Layne last Feb. 13.

"I'm going to win," said the challenger. "I beat him before and I know I can outbox him and I can outsmart him. He can be hit by a jab, a hook, a right and practically any kind of a punch. I may stop him or even knock him out. Probably stop him because he cuts easily and his eyes close up.

Marciano told reporters at his camp a week ago that he would win "within seven rounds." He now says he was misunderstood. But there's no doubt that the brawny-armed, heavy-fisted champ feels he can do it that quick.

The bout will be scored by rounds with a supplementary point system to break draws. The points were needed when Marciano beat LaStarza for the first time.

Dave Adam Causes Upset Paying $74.30 On Straight Ticket In 4th; Favorites Backed By Wagers

Dave Adam, a little chestnut gelding owned by the Desrochers brothers of Richmond and driven by F. Desrochers, registered the main upset last night in the mid-week card of the Sherbrooke Racing Club at the local track.

It was in the fourth race that the wagers overlooked the smooth-going chestnut gelding and he came home the winner to pay his faithful, or lucky, backers the sum of $74.30 on a $2.00 straight wager and $15.70 on a place ticket. He teamed up with Stan H to reward the quinnella pickers the sum of $31.35, also top in that department.

The rest of the prices were just average as the railbirds backed the favorites. In the sixth H. K. Volo, with owner L. R. Huckins, of Derby Line, Vt., at the reins, came through to pay $35.30 on a straight investment. In the fifth race Sara Brooke came up with the third high of the evening when she edged out Smoky Grattan, a Montreal horse, at the wire to pay $11.50.

All classes were two-heat affairs but the evening racing produced only one double winner. It was in the B Pace and Trot event that Allie Truax, owned by L and M Branch, of Lyndonville, Vt., posted two wins. In the first dash, a six furlong, the Vermont mare edged by June Gray in a close finish while in the second she came from behind a second time to edge by Dr. Veilleux's Star Boy to finish the winner.

Dave Adam and Stan H divided the honors in the BB Pace when the Richmond horse copped the first half of the event with the American placing second. In the second part the roles were reversed. Smokey Grattan copped a first and a second while Linda C. Grattan, owned by Pelletier Brothers, of St. Hyacinthe, also picked up a first and second.

Sherbrooke Saints Play To 4-4 Stalemate With Edmonton; Last Year's Members Turn In Good Games

Sault St. Marie, Ont.—Sherbrooke Saints, of the Quebec Hockey League, and Edmonton, of the Western Hockey League, played to a 4-4 stalemate in a training camp fixture Tuesday evening.

Playing coach Jake Forbes was highly pleased with the performance of his newly formed team and with a few changes hopes to have a well balanced club before camp breaks Saturday. The Saints have a couple more exhibition tilts slated for this week.

Dave Gatherum attended to goaling chores for the first two periods and when he turned over the duties to young Don Wilson, of Iroquois Falls, Ont., the Saints were ahead 4-2. Wilson, who is only a junior, misjudged two long shots to allow the Edmonton team to knot the count.

Gilles Dube tallied the second goal for the Saints and turned in a very good game. Tod Campeau, another member of last year's team, was playing under difficulty as he had received a severe cut on his head the day before. Roger Roberge displayed a strong game on the blueline until he was forced to retire to have three stitches taken in his head when he was clipped by a stick.

Ed Stanguick, a right winger and newcomer to the team, tallied the first marker for the Saints. Nels Podolosky registered the third goal for the Forbes' squad and turned in a strong two-way performance.

Coach Forbes was highly pleased with the work of Young Palamar, a rookie defenceman, and the Red Wings' executive is looking for great things from the young rearguard. He throws a hard body check and fears no one on the ice. Gerry Cotnoir, who played out West last year and whose contract was purshased by the Saints, arrived in camp Monday.

The Saints will leave camp Sunday and are expected to arrive in Sherbrooke by Tuesday. Coaches Forbes expects to have twenty players report in Sherbrooke with him for the final check over before deciding on the members of his team for the coming season.

Two More Records Set By Indians; Osinski Posts 19 Wins While Bowes Has E.R.A. Of 2.44 For New Local Mark

Waters' championship average was .348. He also led the league in base hits, total bases and had a remarkable RBI total of 76 — for a leadoff batter.

Sherbrooke's Bob Diers led the Provincial League in home runs with 26 to his credit. His 105 RBI's was second in the loop only to the 118 pounded across by Quebec's John Werner. Among the hurlers, Danny Osinski of the Indians had 19 wins to place second in the amount of games won by a pitcher, behind Mike Munsinger of St. Hyacinthe and Bill Diemer of Thetford Mines, each of whom posted twenty victories.

Osinski's 19 is the all-time high for a Sherbrooke pitcher in a single season, besting Lou Shapiro's mark of 18 set in 1950. Osinski originally was credited with only 18 wins but Mr. Vidal gave him another game, reversing an official scorer's decision from St. John's. Another reversed decision, from Thetford, gives Len Nayman of the Indians 11 victories instead of 10.

"Major" Jack Bowes, Indians' southpaw ace, set a new all-time earned run mark for Sherbrooke of 2.44. This bettered another Shapiro record of 2.48, of the 1951 campaign. Bowes' 171 strikeouts during the regular schedule was second in the loop to the 294 posted by Marco Mainini of Three Rivers who worked in eight more games than did Bowes.

The ERA of the "Major" during the season just past was second to that of Al Dumouchelle (2.28) of Quebec Braves.

Bill Doe Of Granby Cops Field Day Staged By Archdeaconry Of Bedford

The first annual field day of the Archdeaconry of Bedford was held over the Cowansville Golf Course Saturday, September 19 with 60 participants taking part.

The idea of a Church group sponsoring an open field day for golfers was dreamed up by "Pat" Patterson of Farnham and Father John Peacock of Cowansville last year but they never got around to doing much about it then. However, this spring while playing at Granby against Archdeacon "Mac" Lidstone and Jack Reath, Bill Lickfold and Father John did a bit of talking with the result that a Field Day was actually arranged. This was the first of what is to be hoped, is to be an Annual Event, especially as a handsome Trophy has been donated for Annual play by "Cap" Capsey as veteran player from Frelighsburg.

The honours for the field day were evenly shared by Granby and Cowansville, with Granby taking first place in Class "A". This was won by Bill Doe who shot a gross of 70, net of 65 to be the first to win the new trophy. Archdeacon Lidstone in announcing that this was to be a permanent feature of the Archdeaconry of Bedford said that the next year's field day would most likely be held at Granby.

The list of winners follow:

CLASS "A"
Bill Doe, Granby	70
Jack Reith, Granby	80
Mac McCormack, Cowansv.	82
R. Rogerson, Cowansville	83
CLASS "B"

CLASS "C"

bird's nest soup

Bird watching in the Orient is a mercenary pursuit, and it is done chiefly in caves.

Here, Chinese searchers find thousands of nests, about the size and shape of half a teacup, built by certain species of swifts from a gelatin substance secreted from glands in the bird's mouth. These nests are eagerly sought by Chinese epicures as the chief ingredient of a soup which is flavored with the gravy of a fowl. The nests are collected after the young birds begin to fly, and are then cleansed and dried in a long, tedious process.

Chinese gourmets are so eager for this delicacy that they pay as much as $25 a pound for it. At one time the business ran into millions of dollars a year.

The Canadian swift doesn't build its nest in exactly the same way. There is, however, a Canadian swallow which provides epicures with just as great a taste treat. It's the swallow that comes with every sip of Molson's. The Molson "swallow" first became popular in Montreal in 1786. Since then it has spread over the entire Province of Quebec, and is the most popular swallow in large stretches of adjacent territory. Bird watchers and others will instantly recognize it by its distinctive green coat; when tilted it reveals a rich amber coloring, and it has a snow-white head. It is a friendly bird, and instantly answers to the well-known call, "Make Mine Molson's".

Quebec Wins 9-8 From Granby For First Win Of Series

Quebec— (CP) —Quebec Braves, fighting elimination in the Provincial Baseball League finals, edged Granby Phillies 9-8 Wednesday night.

Granby grabbed a strangle hold on the series with three straight wins to lead the playoffs 3-0, until the Quebecers came back Wednesday night in the fight for the Brouillette Cup, to take the victory and remain in competition.

Granby used five pitchers in the tilt while Quebec used two. Dumouchelle of Quebec, who relieved Ray Lague in the fourth, was credited with the win.

Quebec sent home one run in the second, two in the third, one in the fourth, one in the eighth and four in the ninth for the win. Granby exploded for six runs in the fourth when Lague was yanked and added another two in the fifth. Dumouchelle held them scoreless from that inning on.

Royals Eliminate Buffalo; Play Wings In Final Playoff

Montreal—(CP)—Montreal Royals eliminated Buffalo Bisions from the International Baseball League playoffs Wednesday night downing the Herd 7-0 before 6,115 chilled fans to take the Governor's Cup finals against the pennant-winning Red Wings in Rochester.

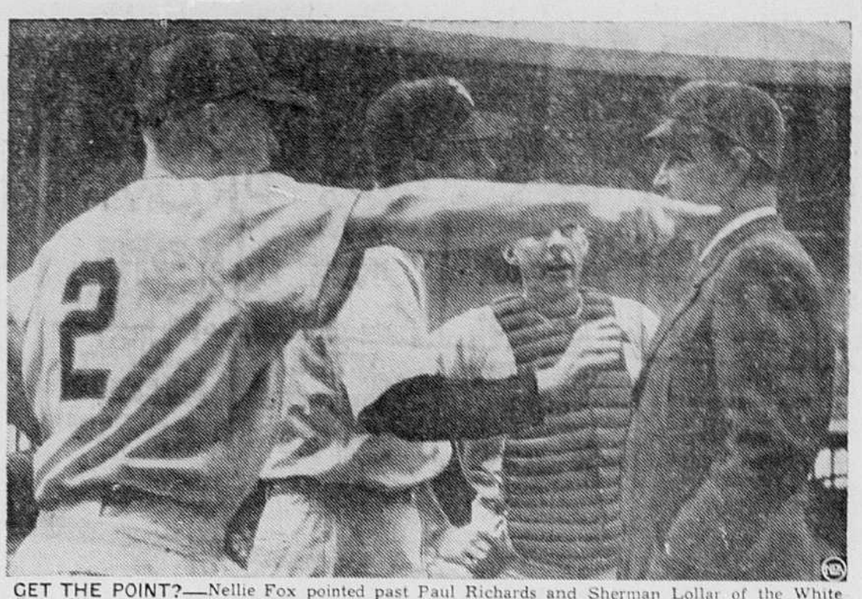
Montreal's ace lefty, Tom Lasorda, who had 17-8 record over the regular season, travelled the route, blanking the Herd with only four scattered hits. He fanned two, walked one and hit one.

Montreal scored three times in the third inning. Roy Hartsfield singled to start the frame then advanced to second when Ken Johnson uncorked his second wild pitch of the contest. Hartsfield tallied when Sandy Amoros hit safely and Amoros strolled home in front of Rockey Nelson after the first baseman walloped his second homer of the series—his 36th of the season.

The Royals added a pair of runs in the sixth with three hits and Johnson's error. Lefty Johnson was replaced by Dick Hoeksema who only last an inning as Montreal sent him to the showers when they scored twice in the seventh. Dave Madison finished up.

Johnson, who won both playoff games for the Herd, was charged with the loss.

STILL BEATING PAR—Ben Hogan was just as hot with a fishing rod as he was in the United States and British Opens on a trip by plane to Canada's Jasper National Park lake region. The greatest of precision golfers beams happily on his sizable catch of trout. (NEA)



GET THE POINT?—Nellie Fox pointed past Paul Richards and Sherman Lollar of the White Sox telling John Stevens that Al Rosen's 38th home run looked foul at Cleveland's Municipal Stadium, but the Indian slugger's long smash stood. (NEA)

Robin Roberts Had Good Year But Failed To Live Up To Expectations; Indians Clinch Second Spot In Loop

Robin Roberts is going to fall considerably short of some of the glowing predictions made for him early in the season but the Philadelphia strong boy has still had quite a year.

Contrary to some of the optimistic experts, Roberts didn't:

1. Win 30 games.
2. Pitch 400 innings.
3. Start every third day without a break.

But with one more starting assignment to come before the season 'ends on Sunday, the Phillies' righthander is sure to

1. Win 23 and possibly 24 games, as many or more than anybody else in either league.

2. Pitch more innings than any National League since Grover Cleveland Alexander in 1920, and more than anybody except Alexander in the league since 1907.

3. Start more games than any other pitcher in the league this year.

Roberts won his 23rd game Wednesday night, edging the New York Giants 2-1 on six hits. It was his 40th start and his 33rd complete contest. For the 14th time this season he didn't walk a man.

Despite a bleak month starting in early August Roberts' control record has been phenomenal. He leads the league in strikeouts with 196 and has walked only 61 men, an average of less than one every five innings. Christy Mathewson pitched 18 games in 1908 without giving up a walk, but the best the great Walter Johnson could do in one season was 10 walkless games in 1913.

Roberts probably will start Sunday against the champion Brooklyn Dodgers. So far he's worked 340 innings, 10 more than last year. With another two innings there'll be nobody between him and Alexander on the workhorse list. Alexander pitched 389 innings in 1916, 388 in 1917 and 363 in 1920.

Another pretty fair pitcher turned in one of his usual excellent performances Wednesday night as Warren Spahn of the Milwaukee Braves beat the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1 for his 22nd victory. Spahn has lost only seven games. Roberts has been beaten 15 times.

The combination of Roberts and Spahn moved the Phillies and Cards into an exact tie for third place in the National League. Each club has three games to play.

In other action the pennant-winning New York Yankees defeated Philadelphia 3-1 and Cleveland clinched second place in the American League with an 8-3 verdict over Chicago.

Cincinnati nursed its hopes for a fifth-place finish with a 4-3 decision over the Chicago Cubs. The Redlegs, assured of at least sixth where they've finished the past three seasons, trail the fifth place Giants by a game and a half.

Ed Lopat took a seven-inning World Series workout against the Athletics and everybody on the Yankees was satisfied he's really ready. He gave up a run, eight hits, walked no one and struck out four.

The Indians will finish second for the third straight year and still have a chance to match their 93-61 won and lost records of 1951 and 1952. With three games to go their mark is 90-61. Larry Doby broke a 3-3 tie in the eighth inning with his 29th home run. Bob Lemon went the distance for his 21st victory.

Baltimore Ready To Pay $1,115,000 For Control Of Browns

Baltimore— (AP) —A group of wealthy Baltimoreans was all set today to plunk out $1,115,000 for working control of St. Louis Browns if American League owners okay the transfer.

Meanwhile, a group of St. Louisians announced last-ditch plans to fight the transfer, saying they would fly to New York to seek a hearing before league owners at the special meeting Sunday.

The developments came as a time for decision neared on Bill Veeck's second attempt to move his Browns from St. Louis. The league turned down his request to come to Baltimore last spring by a 5-2 vote.

The feeling here was one of confidence that this year's attempt would succeed with local baseball men claiming the necessary six votes for the franchise shift would come Baltimore's way.

Most of the club owners who voted against the transfer last spring were reported solidly in the Baltimore camp. Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators—a previous foe of the move—has publicly stated he will vote for Baltimore regardless of what other owners do.

A special American League committee has said only that it will commend transferring the Brown recommend transferring the Browns to "another city" to be determined by the owners.

Financial arrangements aimed at giving Baltimoreans control of the Browns were said to include these main decisions:

1. Local interests, headed by lawyer Clarence W. Miles, would pay an estimated $1,115,000 for hauf of the stock now held by a Chicago-St. Louis combine headed by Veeck. This is approximately 79 per cent.

2. Veeck would remain president of the club, to be renamed the Baltimore Orioles, and Miles would be chairman of the board.

3. Local members would hold six of the 11 seats on the board of directors, and the Chicago-St. Louis group would retain the others.

Veeck, reached in St. Louis, said there could be no financial arrangements made until such a time as "we have something to sell, and we have nothing to sell."

Nancy Nylon's HOUSE at

Levesque Limited FURNITURE

September 23, 1953

TO OUR CLIENTS AND TO THE WHOLE POPULATION OF SHERBROOKE AND THE REGION.

We are happy to invite you to see your dream house, which will be on display at our store for three weeks.

This dream house is, evidently, Nancy Nylon's. This little woman, whose nylon wardrobe is the nation-wide subject of all feminine conversations, now owns the house which suits her.

Two young Canadians made the plans and decorated the house and their original ideas will not fail to inspire our aspirant-decorators. Each visitor will wish to own a pretty pastel shade kitchen and coquette rooms.

Nancy Nylon's house has nothing of a doll house. It is the exact replica of a modern one-storey bungalow — with its picture windows and inviting furniture. Everything is built to scale, and the whole is 5 feet high.

The furniture is made according to Nancy's 27-inch height. The decoration harmonizes with her personality — it is modern, clear, gay, and practical.

This unique house is full of new ideas for construction and decoration which will not fail to please the lady of the house. The draperies, furniture coverings, carpets, curtains, and even the sheets are nylon. Come and see it.
