EGG-LAYING CONTEST

International Egg-Laying Contest under the joint auspices of the British Columbia Poultry Association, Vancouver Board, and the Provincial Government.

Total eggs laid up to end of sixth month, April 20th, 1912.

Average price received for eggs, 33c per doz. Pen temperature—highest, 63 degrees; lowest, 51 degrees; average mean temperature, 57.68 degrees.

INTERFERS WITH HATCHING OPERATIONS.

Blasting is still carried on, and is sufficiently heavy to interfere very seriously with hatching operations of nearby residents.

The month just passed, together with next month, are the periods generally recognized as those in which the heaviest egg production takes place.

Other pens deserving special mention are pens 4 (85), 22 (85), 12 (85), 14 (84), 7 (82), 8 (80), 5 (80), 11 (80), 13 (80), 17 (80), 18 (80), 23 (80).

The following pens produced 4 eggs in one day—18 (twice), 17, 1, 7, 9, 4 (once each).

In this month's standing pen 13 goes up three places, pen 5 displaces pen 12 for fifth position. Pen 12 has two notes, pen 18 on June 6, and pen 1 drops five places.

Pen 8 deserves special mention for producing 75 eggs with only five pullets throughout the month.

The first case of broodiness among Class One occurred during the month, pen 10 furnishing a pullet.

In Class Two the pens producing the largest number of eggs were—pens 2 (102), 28 (90), 28 (87), 38 (87), and 28 (77). Pen 40 managed to hold sixth place but by the appearance of the pullets, their performances during the first three or four months seem to have completely exhausted their laying powers.

All the runs were swept and litter cleaned out during the month. Each run was also partly dug up.

Green food in the shape of clover, chickweed, and dandelion is supplied regularly and much relished by all the birds.

The fowls in Class One consume more green food than the fowls in the heavy class.

HAS AFFECTED THE EGG YIELD. The broody season has affected the egg yield in the North American International Egg-Laying Contest at Storr's, Conn., for the twenty-fifth week, just closed.

The highest record to date is from a pen of S. C. White Leghorns from England with a total of 511. All Canadian birds are well.

On comparing the results of the two competitions it will be seen readily that the North American is much in advance of the British Columbia competition.

In the North American the Barred Rocks have averaged 62.2 eggs per bird, while in B. C. the average stands at 55.1. In Buff Orpingtons the former the average is 62.4 while in the latter it is 52. In White Wyandottes it is 66 in the former and 45.5 in the latter. In Rhode Island Reds it is 77.7 in the former, and 47.4 in the latter. In White Leghorns it is 66.4 as compared with 59.5 in Brown Leghorns 58.1 and 51.1, and with Anconas the averages are 44.6 for the North American and 26.8 for British Columbia. The hens of the Pacific Coast will have to lay a large number of eggs yet to catch up to the Atlantic Coast hens.

EGG-LAYING TESTS IN TASMANIA.

Egg laying competitions under Government auspices in Tasmania are proving a successful means of promoting much popular interest in the subject of intense egg production and are serving as a great lesson to poultry raisers as to the methods which give the most profitable results.

REARING OF DUCKLINGS

Mrs. W. N. Seay, writing in the New Zealand Poultry Journal, says: 'I have been incubating and rearing ducklings now for the past three years, and have managed to hatch out an average from 57 to 90 percent of all eggs set. I consider that with fairly good management 90 percent of the hatch ought to be reared. All the ducklings that are not going to live should go off in the first week after hatching. There should not be any deaths after that time, except accidents.'

'Now, the stock from which you are going to hatch should be in perfect health and properly mated. I like two-year-old ducks mated with one-year-old drakes. I mate runners two males to twenty ducks. Breeding ducks should have a swim every second day, and whatever you do not force them to lay while collecting the eggs for incubation. Just let them lay what they will steadily; also see that they have enough stock to save the number of eggs required in about five or six days.'

'I would not try to incubate duck eggs eight or ten days old, as I consider that is why there are so many dead-in-shell in duck eggs. Of course, there are a great many peculiarities in duck eggs, and we get more added eggs and more weak germs than in hen eggs; yet I much prefer hatching out ducklings.'

'In the morning I feed my stock ducks on a mash consisting of shreds, bran, cut-up green stuff, blood meal, and meat meal, and a little of the mash or scalded mixed combs. The mash is generally mixed with skim milk, so I do not use a great deal of the meat meal. In the winter I give maize in the morning mash, and in the summer I give a little of the mash and a little of the maize. I like to see them feed their own grit from boxes in the pens. The evening meal is generally steamed grain, principally oats. I often throw them a little wheat, and I like to see them eat it with their bills. Feeding on this system, I have gathered as many as 124 eggs per day from 138 laying ducks.'

EGGS FOR INCUBATING.

'For incubating I collect my eggs as near the same size as possible, and, as much as possible, I like to have them old. I wash them in water with the chill off. The machines are set to go off at 102 degrees, but I let them go back to about 90 degrees. I then put the eggs in a tray and let them sit for a day or two before I set them. I do not let them get over 100 degrees. During the second week I let them gradually rise to 102 degrees. I like them to stay at 102 degrees until the fourth week, and then up to 103 degrees. Of course, it does not harm the eggs if the incubators run up to 104 or 105 degrees occasionally, but I do my best not to let them run over 103 degrees. I like to see you get a good hatch on the low temperatures, and your ducklings on the above system will not hatch until the 25th day. They will come out unassisted, and you will be able to rear them, provided you feed and care for them properly.'

'After setting the eggs I do not turn them until the third day; after that time I turn them twice daily. I let them for about ten minutes at first, and gradually increase the length of time as the hatch goes on. In the last week, on a hot day, an hour would not be too long, but on a cold day not so long. I have the first test in the sixth day, and take out all interlites. On the twelfth or fourteenth day I test again, and take out all doubtful eggs. About the eighteenth day I begin to go through my eggs and mark all with small air cells on top, thus: x. These I air three times a day till they begin to pip. I like to see them pip in the small air cells down wonderfully. After the fourteenth day I spray with water, about 90 degrees, once a day in a dry season, but in a moist season I spray with little water. I do not keep the wet blanket to assist the hatch at all. You cannot rear a good percentage of ducklings so hatched. I use Tamin machines, one hot water and one hot air. I like the water machine best for hatching ducklings, for at the finish of the hatch you have less drying off than in a hot air machine. I keep a tray filled with wet sand all through the hatch, and in dry windy weather I keep the floor under the machine fairly wet.'

'THE REARING AND FEEDING. Now that you have got the ducklings, the next thing is the rearing and feeding. I try, if possible, not to use a heated brooder for ducklings. As soon as ducklings come out of a heated brooder in the morning, they are sick, go dizzy, and drop off. I have reared them very successfully in an improved free-rear brooder, and one of 112 I have reared 108 very strong ducklings. What I like best of all for ducklings is to have two or three hens set, so that you can give them the ducklings when hatched. They are less trouble this way than any other, and you will rear a much larger percentage. Two hens which are good mothers will easily care for 60 ducklings. More than 60 or 70 young ducklings should never be run together. They do not do well at all in too large numbers. They do not require too much warmth, but for the first week they like a lot of nesting, and the hens guide them to a place of safety to do this. The same thing applies when using a free-rear brooder. For the first week or so they want to be nestled up in a brooder after every meal. By taking a little extra care like this for the first week you will lose very few ducklings after that time.'

'You must never let ducklings get wet on the back; you cannot possibly rear them if you do. Therefore, you must have long, dry drinkers with a bar down the centre, so that they can stand all along in a row and drink, and not crowd as I have seen them do. I give each duckling with the fountain drinkers, too, they get their backs wet. I have drinkers on both sides with a bar down the middle, which needs to be fairly wide, with sufficient room for the sides for the ducklings to drink.'

NEVER OVER-FEED THE DUCKLING.

'I would rather underfeed ducklings for the first two or three weeks than overfeed them. I never use eggs or oatmeal for ducklings. I feed three parts of one winning mash, mixed with water to a nice crumbly mash, for the first week or ten days. After that I gradually increase sharply until I give a half bran and half mash, and I give a little extra when I have it, and if not I add a little meal meal. I give no chopped stuff or grit to young ducklings for food. I give water each morning with the first drink, and I give them their own puddle holes, which they will do very soon by their water tins. They know best how much sand or grit they require, and I gradually work them on to the food the old ducks are having. For instance, I begin gradually adding a few grains to their food, and then gradually increase it until they are fully feathered.'

WORK FOR THE FANCIER.

The poultry fancier should now turn his attention to weeding out the worthless specimens among his prospective show birds. The remaining birds should have frequent changes of run and keep them in cool, dry places. A supply of green food is also a necessity. With growing birds it is no harm to give them some stimulating food, especially if they are of a heavy type, and the development makes a big one on their stamina. The old stock should also be looked to and those that are of no use got rid of. It is not desirable to keep old birds that are past their days of prime. This is especially true in the case of the growing stock. The present is also a good time to buy birds at a reasonable rate. As a rule, early in the summer most fanciers are ready to sell their surplus stock at a low price, and are often secured in this way at a very low price.'

DISTINGUISHING VARIETIES.

It is a rather difficult matter to distinguish the breed in chickens as soon as they are born, yet, with a little practice, one will be able to have a good idea of the breed of a chick, especially in the one-day chick trade. Houdan chickens can always be told by the black spot on the top of the head and their five toes. The muffs at the side of the face, and the feathered legs distinguish the averages. White Wyandottes have rose combs, while Barred Rocks can be told by a little grey patch on the top of the head. One might expect to find a few of the latter in the one-day chick trade. The former are usually darker on the legs and about the feet. There is a similarity between Partridge Wyandottes and Brown Leghorns, but the former are usually darker on the legs and about the feet. LABOR BUREAU STATISTICS A TRIFLE WORSE

There was a larger return of industrial accidents to the Department of Labor in the month of April, 1913, than in the corresponding month of the preceding year. Altogether 62 workmen lost their lives and 237 were seriously injured. The reason of the increase was favorable, there being 28 fewer fatalities recorded than in March, and 17 less than in April, 1912.

GREEN FOOD IS MEDICINE.

This is the time of the year when poultry most requires green food. Greens are cooling to the system, and in hot weather, and for proper development are best supplied in this form. Green lucerne, endives (bitter lettuce), silver beets and clover are good in suits, and are therefore the best to use. The green food these will be less trouble through ill-health. Green food contains salts and minerals in the organized form in which they are assimilated. It is of very little use to give inorganic salts and minerals with the expectation that they will cure all the resulting ills.

SAND FOR FOWLS.

Those who have from necessity to keep their birds in a limited space should always remember that shales and sand must be provided in the run. The latter is the best, even though it costs more trouble to procure it. Too often in shales there are bits of rubbish, and the sand is of very little use. Sand also helps in providing a shell for them. This is a necessity where the birds are confined to a small run. It will be seen that sand serves two purposes, both keeping the birds clean and assisting the egg output.

NEW POULTRY BULLETINS.

A new and valuable poultry bulletin has been published by Macdonald College, and deals with practically every phase of the poultry industry. It is a bulletin of sixty pages, and is very well illustrated. It is full of practical information.

THE WORLD OF POLITICS.

DR. DESAULNIERS ON HIS VICTORY. Dr. Desaulniers, who defeated Mr. L. T. Marchal, K.C., by a large majority, also said in an interview: 'My victory is actually a protest against the interference of the Ottawa Government in provincial politics. In spite of the action of one of the federal members of Parliament, who spent the whole of the election day on the banks of the canal with an evident design, the electors have not allowed themselves to be imposed on, and in spite of the Federal Government, they have freely exercised their rights of citizenship. The history of the "tunnel" has been taken as a bluff, and the electors have not even for the ridiculous position that it was designed to be placed in the hands of the Government.'

For the first time in the political history of the County of Chambly, St. Hubert has given a Liberal majority of 110 votes. Dr. Desaulniers was elected by a majority of 506 votes. At the previous election he defeated Mr. Tancred's Liberal by 575 votes.

DOM. STEEL STILL HIGH AND ACTIVE - WALL ST. STEADY

Within the first few minutes of the opening of the Stock Exchange this morning hundreds of shares of Dominion Steel Common were sold at 22-1/2—the highest price of yesterday, with 24-1/2 bid and 25 asked for Steel Company of Canada. Scotia opened strong, with sales at 97, while 1-3 point higher was asked for the first quotation. Spanish River was quiet with 89 bid and 91 asked. Illinois preferred was quoted at 93, with Toronto R.R. firm at 128. Up to 10.15 clock there were no quotations on Richardson. On the other hand, during the first half-hour of trading Dominion Steel was the big leader, holding firmly around the 68 mark with a few higher levels. Higher levels appeared to be no shortage of steel, as the demand was quickly supplied.

WALL STREET STEADY TO HIGHER.

The New York market opened practically on a level with last night's closing, with the exception of one or two leaders, which showed advances up to 10.15 o'clock. Lehigh Valley and Reading showed a gain over yesterday's latest figures, while Canadian Pacific was steady, and was sold during the first half-hour of trading Dominion Steel was the big leader, holding firmly around the 68 mark with a few higher levels. Higher levels appeared to be no shortage of steel, as the demand was quickly supplied.

London Money and Rates Firmer—Stocks Shows Tendency to Sag—C.P.R. Down

London, May 18.—Money and discount rates were firmer to-day. The stock market ended the week in heavy decline, with quotations generally sagging. Consols and foreign securities declined on the firmer discount rates and Continental political rumors. The closing was quiet with C. P. R. two points lower and the rest of the list 1-1/2 to 2-1/2 below Friday's New York closing.

TEXTILE STOCK AT LOW PRICE

The advance in the Cotton Securities recently has not been reflected in the price of Dominion Textile Co. Common. The latter is at 22, although the low price of the raw material and the coal strike in England has undoubtedly increased the margin of profit on the company's operations this year to a great extent.

MR. SMITHERS IS HERE TO DISCUSS G.T.R. PRESIDENCY

States that Rumors of Success or are Unwarranted—Public Will be Duly Notified

New York, May 20.—Sir Donald Mann, vice-president of the Grand Trunk Railway, who returned on Saturday from England, says that the mention of his name in connection with the Trunk Railway system is pure nonsense.

Mr. Alfred W. Smithers, chairman of the board of directors of the Grand Trunk Railway, arrived in the city last evening, having returned from New York, where he had, the previous day, landed from the 'Mauretania' from London. He was accompanied by Mr. William Wright, vice-president of the Grand Trunk Railway, Mr. D. E. Galloway, assistant to the president, and Mr. E. H. Fitzhugh, president of the Central Vermont Railway.

Mr. Smithers was apparently much fatigued and depressed at the unfortunate nature of his mission, and was closely confined to his apartments at the Windsor Hotel, where he apparently wishes to seclude himself from importunate visitors for a day or so, in the hope of obtaining a much-needed rest, before taking up the duties which await his immediate attention in connection with Grand Trunk matters.

He is evidently anxious to check the flow of unfounded rumors regarding the succession to the late Mr. Charles M. Hays, and in this connection, officials of the company state that the rumors already published have been done so at the origination of the authors.

"I cannot mention the name of any of those," said Mr. Smithers previous to his departure from New York to Montreal, who have been suggested to succeed the late Mr. Hays, but I will say that Sir Donald Mann is not among the possibilities.

My stay in Canada depends upon the company's business. I will be there just as long as I can be of service to the company. If I return to Montreal in a short time, I will come back for a long visit in the autumn. Conference to be held on this side to provide a successor for Mr. Hays will be held in the company's offices in Montreal.

No definite action, emphatically stated Mr. Smithers will be taken until after I return to London. In discussing the many rumors regarding this matter for a long time, the president Mr. Galloway said to the 'Witness' that no name had even yet been mentioned in this connection.

When the selection is made, he concluded Mr. Smithers will no doubt make a public statement. Until then, it is advisable to await official notification.

The royal standard covers the coffin, while on the floor and about the walls have been arranged hundreds of wreaths sent in by every class in the community. There will be no funeral ceremony attending the removal of the body to Roskilde. In the same train will go the Danish and the royal personages, and the representatives of the foreign governments who, on arrival, will march in procession from the station to the cathedral. After a short service at the cathedral the body will be removed to Frederick V.'s Chapel.

COMPENSATION FOR FOREIGNERS

B.C. Mining Company Must Pay Damages to Relatives in Austria

PRIVY COUNCIL RULING.

Case Pending in Which Ireland is Held to Be a Foreign Country.

Vancouver, B.C., May 20.—The Vancouver Trades and Labor Council has been advised that appeal has been decided by the Privy Council in London in their favor in the case of Kraus vs. Crow's Nest Pass Company. The case is of great importance, for under this decision foreign relatives of workmen in British Columbia may benefit under the provincial Workmen's Compensation Act. Claims of eighty thousand dollars dependent on this decision have piled up in British Columbia in the last twelve months.

Kraus was a miner in the employ of the Crow's Nest Pass Company, and met his death by a mine accident. His wife and family live in Austria, and when a claim was entered under the Workmen's Compensation Act, the defence was raised by E. P. Davis, K.C., that the act could not apply to dependents living outside the province. It was argued that as British Columbia could only legislate for provincial affairs, a foreign plaintiff could not secure benefits under a provincial act. It was further argued that as the intent of the act was to insure the province from having to support destitute dependents, the province had no interest in passing legislation to relieve foreign countries from the responsibility of looking after their own destitute dependents.

Kraus's case was taken up by the Miners' Federation, which engaged S. Taylor to argue their case for them in the Supreme Court trial before Justice Clement. The trial judge decided in favor of the miners. An appeal was then entered by the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company, in the Court of Appeals, which upheld Davis' contention and reversed the decision of Justice Clement. A further appeal to the Privy Council was then decided upon by the Miners' Federation, with the result that the original judgment of Justice Clement has been restored, giving the dependents of men killed in the province the right to claim under the Workmen's Compensation Act. There is no further appeal possible. Among the cases which have been held pending the Privy Council decision is one where the dependents reside in Ireland. Had the appeal court decision been upheld it was the intention of the counsel to argue that under the act Ireland was a foreign country.

MEN'S WAGES

Detroit United Railway Attempts Settlement With Employees by Offering More Money

Detroit, Mich., May 19.—The Detroit United Railway has offered the Detroit Street Railwaymen's Association a proposal which will increase their wages an aggregate of approximately $100,000 a year, provide for a nine-hour day to be worked within 12 1/2 hours, and make arbitration unnecessary, unless the men turn down the offer when the referendum vote is taken, which some of the officers believe is unlikely. This proposal was sent to President Mahon of the Association for consideration, last night, as a result of conferences yesterday between President J. C. Hutchins and Frank W. Brooks, for the D. U. R. and Mr. Mahon, for the International Association.

WHAT HAS BEEN OFFERED.

Mr. William D. Mahon explained the details of the latest agreement this morning, and he seemed to think that the men would ratify it in the referendum.

That nine hours, with one-half trip keyway on each respective line, shall constitute a day's work on all week day schedules for all regular motor-men and conductors to be completed within twelve consecutive hours, excepting where it is absolutely necessary to accommodate the service that it be completed within twelve and one-half hours, is the proposition, said Mr. Mahon. "That proposition, if accepted, means that no motor-man or conductor will be required to work in any case over twelve and one-half hours in the completion of his day's work. As many runs as possible to be made in twelve hours and one-half hour to be used only in case it is necessary to complete the schedule."

"They offer on the question of wages that they will raise the first six-months men, who now receive 25 cents, to 25 cents per hour; that they will raise the men from six months to eighteen months to 28 cents per hour, and the men over eighteen months in the service to 30 cents an hour, being a one-half cent increase in each of these two cases. "The company has withdrawn their three-year proposition and the length of time will be left as now provided in the agreement, to be determined by the both parties, as it has been heretofore. The committee representing the men feel that this proposition should be submitted to the men for a vote before proceeding further, and they have arranged to inform the men of this by circular, which will be sent out Monday morning and a referendum vote taken upon May 24. All of the motor-men and conductors of the entire system on this question."

SYMPATHY FOR MRS. HAYS.

The committee representing the Locomotive Engineers of the Grand Trunk Railway, which was in session in Montreal when Mrs. Charles M. Hays returned after the "Titanic" disaster, sent a letter to Mr. W. D. Robb, Superintendent of Motive Power, requesting him to convey to Mrs. Hays their sincere sympathy in her great grief. The reply of Mrs. Hays, in which she expresses her appreciation of the sympathy of the engineers, has been posted on the bulletin board at Belleville, and other terminals on the Grand Trunk system.

BURNED TO WATER'S EDGE

'Iona,' of Montreal, Destroyed at Midnight on Saturday on Lake Ontario

CREW DRIFTED ALL NIGHT.

The Vessel Carried an Insurance of Twenty Thousand Dollars.

The steamship 'Iona,' owned by Messrs. F. E. Hall & Co., of Montreal, was burned to the water's edge shortly before midnight on Saturday. The whole crew of twelve men, embarked in a lifeboat and drifted all night, landing at Henderson Harbor, N.Y., early Sunday morning.

At the time the fire broke out the 'Iona' was steaming on Lake Ontario, about 15 miles north of Oswego, with a cargo of 1,000 tons of coal. It was blowing hard, and the boat was having a fairly hard time when the fire was discovered near the boiler room. The flames had gained considerable headway before being discovered, and soon broke through the deck, there being little chance of saving the boat, which was ten years old and almost entirely constructed of wood. Distress rockets were sent up, but there was no answer to these, and Captain Hymond gave the order to take to the boats. Long before they were out of sight the 'Iona' was burned to the water's edge and plunging forward sank to the bottom of the lake.

The 'Iona' was a wooden steamer, and a wooden screw propeller, 150 feet long by 25 feet beam and 12 feet deep. She was built in 1902, at Trenton, Ont., and had been engaged in the lake and canal coal-carrying trade. The loss is estimated at $20,000, fully insured.

MONTREAL SOUTH

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Town Council was held on Saturday evening, in St. George's Hall, presided over by the Mayor, Mr. J. Smith. J. P. Campbell, the councillors were present. The Fire Committee reported that the former road master had refused to deliver the town's fire engine over when requested to do so. This engine has been housed on his property, and he states that he will not give it up until he is paid rent for it. After some discussion, Council decided to place the matter in a lawyer's hands to obtain an order from the court to demand the release of the engine.

It was also decided to terminate the agreement between the Corporation and the Registry Office of Longueuil for the supplying of the names, dates, etc., of all taxpayers of property within the municipality. The question of the payment of dog taxes was brought up, and it was stated that the 8th of June was the last day for payment. Instructions were given to the officers to see that they were paid.

After discussing the matter of providing shelters at all places where the cars stop, Council decided to pay the cost of the shelters. The Mayor and Councillor McKay were requested to wait on the manager of the railway to confer with him on the subject.

Councillor Rochon gave notice of motion for the next meeting respecting a by-law for sidewalks, informing the members that permanent sidewalks were being laid by proprietors less than four feet wide, and his motion is, that no sidewalk shall be less than four feet wide. Another notice of motion was given by Councillor Egan, for a by-law for the capitalization of the town's debts, his intention being to submit the by-law to a public meeting of the ratepayers before passing it. Councillor Campbell introduced the subject of a municipal ice house, but as Council was in doubt whether they had the power to establish and operate such a plant, it was decided to obtain further information for the next meeting.

BRAKEMAN SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Morrison, 23 years of age, a Grand Trunk Railway brakeman, was run over by a train at Point St. Charles late Saturday night, and after being taken to the General Hospital, his right leg and arm were amputated. Morrison is now in the hospital, and is expected to recover. He resides in Magdalen Street, Point St. Charles.

APT TO GET INTO EARS, CAUSING DEAFNESS, OR TO REACH THE LUNGS AN END IN CONSUMPTION.

You Can Cure Catarrh in Any Stage by Breathing the Healing Balsamic Fumes of Catarrhones, and Here is Proof.

Mr. Urie Beraut, a young gentleman who has lived for years in Sweetburg, Que., inherited catarrh from his mother. The disease spread through his system, till he was a physical wreck. "As a child," said Mr. Beraut, "I was prone to an ulceration of the mucous lining of the throat and nasal passages. "I grew pale and emaciated, lost all desire for food, and got into such a dreadful condition that my friends said that Catarrh was fairly eating me up. "Every one of my body aches, and I am affected, and the doctor said it was the first stage of consumption. He advised Catarrhones and I inhaled it ten minutes at a time every few hours, and was rewarmed in a few days by a wonderful improvement. "Catarrhones pleased me and the doctor so well that I used it continually, and took Ferruzza Tablets after each and every few hours, and the doctor said I was quite recovered, and the doctor says no remedy but Catarrhones could work such a miracle."

"Everyone in town knows I was just about dead with catarrh, and my cure is an evidence of what Catarrhones can do. It is a pleasure to recommend Catarrhones." "Two months' treatment, large size, price $1, and guaranteed. Three boys, five, nine and eleven years of age, were burned about the face, neck, hands and arms Friday evening in a vacant lot in the rear of St. Henri Street, St. Henry, where they were playing with gunpowder. The oldest boy, Honore Leonard, of 78 St. Henri Street, was taken to the Royal Victoria Hospital in an ambulance. The other two were brothers, Hormidas and Henri Belac, and were not as seriously burned as their companion; they live at 70 St. Henri Street. Captain Masse, of the St. Henry police station, learned that the powder had been found by a small boy near the Grand Trunk Railway tracks. This boy traded his find to another lad for some cigarette pictures, and the second possessor in his turn exchanged the powder with young Leonard for some boyish treasures. Leonard and the two Belac boys set off some "devils" with the powder, and then decided to set fire to the box. "When they did so, it exploded."

BRITAIN'S PERIL.

Sir William Ramsay Sees Danger in Shortage of Nitric Acid.

New York, May 18.—A London cable says: A new danger threatens Great Britain, according to Sir William Ramsay. Speaking at the British Science Guild, he said that Great Britain's supply of nitric acid, which came from Chili and Peru, and was an absolute necessity for the manufacture of explosives, might be cut off if Great Britain was involved in a war. The Government ought, to be warned that it was living on the edge of a precipice. Unless it did the same as the other European countries and made nitrates from the atmosphere, Great Britain would be without ammunition a few months after war broke out.

STABLE BURNED.

A stable belonging to John Wheeler, 207 Centre street, was burned early last evening. Five horses were rescued from the building. The cause of the fire is not known.

NEW USE FOR FOUNTAIN.
Boys Hide In It and Throw Missiles at All Who Pass.

The fountain on Place d'Armes is being put to a novel and uncomfortable use by certain small boys who take refuge in its depths during the interval of firing various missiles at unoffending persons standing on the corner of the square. In common with all fountains in the squares of Montreal, this is a fountain of water. It is a fountain of water, and has now been cleaned preparatory to turning on the water for the summer. In the meantime it presents a good hiding place, as when a few yards away one cannot see inside the cement basin. A party of boys on one or two occasions got into this basin, taking with them a supply of ammunition. When a crowd gathered on a corner the fountain was opened, and if any of those under fire turned around those warriors who were carrying on the attack would promptly duck out of sight. The attack appeared to be particularly directed against people waiting for the cars, and those passers by who were not themselves under fire seemed to appreciate the joke. The boys were not in keeping up the fusillade but they, however, might wander by, but renewed the attack later.

MURDERED A PRINCESS.
Rome, May 18.—The trial of Baron Vincenzo Paterno, a former cavalry lieutenant in the Italian army, took place today in camera, the public being entirely excluded. Paterno declared that the crime originated from his jealousy. He testified that he had intended to commit suicide, but in a moment of aberration unconsciously killed the princess.

START WORK WEDNESDAY.
Long Step in Direction of 'Closed Shop' for Which They Have Contended.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 20.—By a vote of 323 to 64, the anthracite mine workers in convention on Saturday ratified the agreement entered into by their sub-committee with the coal operators and ordered the 170,000 men and boys employed in and about the mines to return to work next Wednesday. Repair men have been given sanction to return to the collieries on Monday, so as to assist in preparing the mines for the resumption of work. The suspension which is thus ended, began on March 31, or seven weeks ago, when the agreement entered into in 1909 expired.

MACDONALD NOTES

The Ladies' Guild of the Union Church held their May meeting in the Household Science Department on Monday afternoon, at which Mr. Soyev gave a demonstration on bread cooking. A large number of students were also present. In a very short time Mr. Soyev prepared and cooked in a few minutes a certain amount of food, two chickens, breaded veal, chicken saute, roast apples, salt herrings, grilled steak, spaghetti and saute kidney. At the close of the demonstration a hearty vote of thanks and appreciation was tendered to Mr. Soyev by Miss Fisher, head of the School of Household Science.

The King's Daughters will hold their monthly market in the little school-house on Saturday afternoon; tea will also be served. The Willing Workers of St. George's Church cleared $16 at an entertainment on Saturday night, at which they performed the play, 'Dick Whittington and his Cat.'

Miss Hurlbutt, of the Royal Victoria college, accompanied by Miss Penrose, of Wimbledon, England, spent Wednesday at the college.

J. P. B. Casgrain, Dorchester street. Mr. Casgrain, who is the oldest practicing lawyer in the province, was received into the legal fraternity when Mr. Henry Black was attorney and Mr. Cyrille de la Grave secretary. Abbott, secretary, at the New Art Gallery, Sherbrooke street, West.

Of Interest to Women.
The 'Witness' Daily Fashion Hint.

Fashions for the young girl of sixteen or eighteen years are very charming in their simplicity. For out of door wear serge is always popular and the suit illustrated is in this material. The coat shown in the other photograph is in the Norfolk style and particularly attractive on a young figure. The new design promises to be popular.

FOR THE BRIDE AND HER MAIDS.

The June bride has an interesting time this year in planning her wedding. The picturesqueness of the new season's modes is quite in line with bridesmaid requirements, and whether the wedding is to be elaborate or simple and the attendants many or few, it should not be a difficult thing to secure an unusually happy effectiveness in the costume of the bride party.

The bride's own toilette is, of course, more important than that of her attendants, but in it there is not the same latitude for choice. Some of the brides in the past season have worn wedding gowns almost entirely veiled in lace, the lace lying over chiffon, and satin being relegated to the role of foundation. There have been some charming chiffon bridal gowns, too, and a sheer material is often used for bodice and skirt, with a train in satin or simple brocade. Fanlike frocks and similarly draped gowns leave much to be desired when one regards them as part of a bridal toilette, and one may make the same criticism upon almost all of the experiments in altering the conventional wedding gown. Its principles were laid down upon laws of artistic harmony, and the simply draped clinging gown, giving a slender outline, veiled by cloud-like floating tulle or lace, remains the ideal bridal toilette in point of effective silhouette. This type of gown works out better in the very simple satins than in any other material, but this year the satin is often combined with very considerable quantities of fine lace or chiffon, the supplementary material showing in a petticoat glimpsed between clinging tulle draperies, of satin, in bodice drapery, etc. The veil must be becomingly arranged in respect to the face, even if the traditional way must be changed. Cap forms are almost universal. The old time coronet and soaring puffs—too often stiffly unbecoming—have given place to softly draped folds following the shape of the head and framing the face in the best becoming way.

Orange flowers remain the brides' flower par excellence and may be used in a tiny garland heading the cap drill over the ears, just behind the ears, or for such touches. Lilies of the valley and white orchids, combined or separate, seem to be the favorite flowers for the bride's bouquet, but charming things are done with white lilies and white roses.

The bridesmaids, as has been said, have the modes all in their favor this year. The panniers, the Watteau effect, the quaintly lowered cuffs, the lace petticoats and flounces, the fichus, the little coats worn over sheer skirts, all these are suggestive for the bridal party frocks, and if one does not want to launch into extreme picturesqueness there are plenty of models more conservative which by virtue of their effective coloring and details are effective for bridesmaids' wear. There are innumerable pretty costumes in which a skirt of sheer lace or lingerie is associated with a coquettish little coat of gray silk—tone or light blue or cerise or apple green. The coat is of one thing more than a little fichu or pelerine or a bolero bodice, but sometimes has cutaway coatlets or pelerines. The lovely sheer flowered stuffs, many of which are comparatively inexpensive, work up into satisfactory bridesmaids' frocks if they have the hint of quaintness in making which is their due, and the flowered taffetas

WHAT PARADES ARE FOR?

Many people who read of the big parades by the woman suffragists in London and other cities wonder what is the use of such a demonstration. Those who are prejudiced against the idea of women in public life explain the parades to their own satisfaction by saying that they are simply one way the misguided of their sex have of making themselves notorious. Even to friends of the suffrage cause the value of a parade is not always apparent, and, in fact, whether such a demonstration accomplishes favorable results or not must depend on various extraneous circumstances, local conditions, the attitude of the community to parades in general, and so on.

The suffrage association of New York have had a big parade, which, according to accounts, went off satisfactorily. Mrs. Harriot Stanton Blotch, in the 'Women's Journal,' explains the reason for suffrage parades. She quotes a poet, who says that 'logic does not convince.' Humanity is moved by its emotions. The stirring of our feelings carries us to high convictions. It is for this reason that persons in all ages, in an endeavor to push forward a cause dear to them, have marched forth in procession to impress the general public with their principles. The parade for suffrage has not only the value of stirring the emotions of the on-lookers, but it also convinces the public that there is a great and widespread movement. Last year, in summing up the result of a procession, the New York Times said that at last the suffrage associations had proved that they were composed of more than leaders. For the first time the New York public seemed to be impressed with the fact that there was a rank and file. The idea that there were only some leading individuals in the movement gave way when the marching ranks of women demonstrated in the eyes of all that there was an army behind the officers. For those who take part in the procession it means the gaining of enthusiasm. As we march shoulder to shoulder with our fellow workers we feel that we are marching for a noble cause, and our own gains and give inspiration. The march is a demonstration of the solidarity of womanhood. Women of all ranks should be encouraged to take part in the parade, thus being the profound influence of democracy. We are marching together, and marching for one great cause.

DON'T WASTE ENERGY.

The housewife should make it a rule not to stand at any task that she can do just as well sitting. For instance, why stand up when you peel potatoes, shell peas, or hull berries? You are simply using up strength that should be saved for more important matters.

Again, you may waste strength by taking unnecessary steps. This is peculiarly likely to be the case when you have to go up and down stairs a great deal. A little thought and care will save you a good many tolling trips. When you have to go upstairs for something, think up several other errands that may require your presence on the upper floor, and contrive to do them all in one trip.

Speaking of going upstairs, do you know the most people perform this feat in the most tollsome manner possible? They bend from the waist, thus cramping up their chests until they cannot get a free breath. Then they laboriously haul themselves up by clinging to the banister, dragging their feet uselessly after them, and putting the whole strain of the climb on their back. In preparing to go upstairs, stand perfectly erect, throwing out the chest. Keep away from the banister. Lift the feet, bending the knees freely. Let the knees do all the work. In addition to wasting energy about their work, many women frayer away nervous force when they are supposed to be resting. For instance, there is the woman who rocks violently to and fro in her favorite rocker. She may think she is 'taking things easy,' but she is really playing the spendthrift with her nervous vitality.

DETROIT MAN'S DEATH.
The remains of the late Robert F. Snow, of Detroit, who dropped dead on the corner of St. Lawrence and Vitre Streets, on Saturday night, were interred in Mount Royal Cemetery on Saturday. Mr. J. W. Gordon, of Detroit, is in Montreal winding up the affairs of the deceased.

DOMINION PARK
Thousands Witness Opening of the Amusement Resort on Saturday.

Summer has arrived at last. This must be admitted in spite of this morning's temperature. Dominion Park opened for the season on Saturday afternoon—a sure sign, for, although one swallow does not make a summer, the opening of the big amusement park in the East End is a guarantee that the 'good old summer time' has returned once more. Not once in the six years that have been completed has the opening day of the amusement season been more successful than was that of Saturday, for the beautiful grounds were crowded in the afternoon, while at night there was a 'mob' there to see the sights. It was a merry crowd, out for a good time, that the president of the Park Company, Mr. H. A. Dorsey, had to entertain on the first day of the season, but not even the dash of rain that fell late in the evening could dampen its ardor or spoil the fun it was after—and found.

The grounds of the park were in splendid condition—clean and neat—while the great buildings in which the various attractions are housed shone in all the glory of fresh paint. Thousands of dollars must have been spent by the management in fitting the place for the play of Montreal's thousands. With the old St. Lawrence rolling along to the sea at the foot of the embankment before the park, it is one of the delightful breathing spots in the city.

The Mecca of the pleasure seekers was, of course, the Wild West show. Long before the show began, standing room was at a premium, and the lions park constable, who was expected to maintain 'law and order,' was ready to collapse or go home, for the crowd refused to obey him and took possession of any places that they could reach and from which a good view of the ring could be obtained. As a result, those who sat at the back of the stand had a splendid view of heads and hats, but saw no cowboys, Indians, steers or maulangs. The exhibition was a good one throughout, the cowboys of Circle D Ranch showing some remarkable feats with horses and steers. And the steers were of the Texas type, 'wild and woolly,' and consisting largely of horns. To ride them was one of the tricks of the game, but one that several of the cowboys found too strenuous even for them. A big, white one, which looked as innocent as a lamb, and as if it would eat out of any one's hand, tossed one who attempted to ride it as if he were a more novice in rough riding. The bronchos were an ugly bunch and afforded a good deal of sport by their terrible 'punching' and endeavors to throw their riders—which they accomplished in one way and another.

The Indians were a fine attraction, and probably the best feature of the show. Generously decorated with feathers and garbed as was the fashion in the days when they were 'monarchs of all they surveyed' the continent, braves, squaws and children, executed a fine 'war dance and pow-wow' to the fancy of the audience and received great applause. After a battle with cowboys, the band returned to carry to their village their dead and the mourning wails and ceremonies were typical of the early races.

The fight between the cowboys and the Indians would not lose in attractiveness by a little chaffing. The language used by the cowboys may be that of the class of people whom they represent, but it need not be quite so realistic. Then, too, it is doubtful if many will find very much real 'sport' in seeing a cowboy chase an Indian around the ring, cracking away at him with a revolver until the brave goes down. It is a little too realistic for Montreal.

The trick riding of the young lady of the company is among the best seen in the city in a long time. The other shows of the Park were well attended and were pronounced 'fine' by the visitors. The bob-sleigh, a new feature, tickled the crowd and promises to be one of the big attractions this summer.

MAISONNEUVE LAUDS HON. MR. DECARIE

Four Thousand Electors Praise Provincial Secretary and the Gouin Administration

Liberals of Maisonneuve fittingly elected their new member, the Hon. Mr. Decarie, provincial secretary, on Monday night. Four thousand people gathered in the immense hall of the Hotel de Hochelaga to offer the victor a rousing ovation...

As soon as Mr. Mayrand had finished his two little girls, Lucienne Blain and Juliette Leserte, offered the distinguished victor two most beautiful bouquets of roses. The crowd on witnessing this could not restrain its enthusiasm, and for several minutes the hall resounded with cheering and joyful demonstration. Then all sang "O Canada"...

When silence was restored, the Provincial Secretary said: "To-night's demonstration will extend not only over Maisonneuve, but over the length and breadth of the province. This demonstration says to all men in the province that a new era has arrived, an era of liberty and of progress."

"Thanks to the Liberal clubs of Maisonneuve, in my name, in the name of the Liberal party, and in the name of our leader, Sir Lomer Gouin. I have done, and for the encouragement you give to the policy of progress I have followed this far, and which I intend to continue with greater ardor than ever."

Having been the son of a small farmer and laborer myself, I know what are the needs of the working population. In the four new divisions of Montreal which the Liberal party gloriously won on May 15th, Sir Lomer will find the representatives capable and sincere supporters of his policies in the new Legislature...

"I shall never forget the demonstration of enthusiasm and sympathy which you have offered me this evening. I mean the demonstration of an obligation to work harder than ever for the improvement of education and for the development of the province, and this obligation I shall try to keep. Once more, accept my thanks from me."

IMPOVERISHED BLOOD Common and a Dangerous Trouble—You Must Enrich the Blood to Escape Danger

Anemia is simply a lack of blood. It is the most common and at the same time the most dangerous disease with which growing girls suffer. It is common because the blood becomes impoverished during development when girls are too heavily allowed to over-study, over-work and suffer from a lack of exercise...

PARK BY-LAW WAS DEFEATED

Westmount Electors Refused to Endorse Park Scheme of Council

The by-law passed by Westmount City Council last month under which power was sought to borrow $601,033.33 for the purpose of acquiring the Park and effecting the widening of the Park and the improvement of the golf links, was defeated on Saturday by a majority of 133 votes on a total of 213. The electors of the city represented only about twenty percent of the proprietors in the city.

From 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. the vote was received by the electors of the city. Only a few minutes were necessary to total the 213 votes, and Mayor Rutherford made the announcement that for the by-law was 133, while against the by-law were 237, representing a valuation of $3,474,010. Majorly against by-law 133. Valuation for by-law 133, 1,407,375.

The mayor voiced his regret at the failure of the by-law to carry, and ex-Mayor Galbraith upheld the action of those who voted in the city. He said that the electors had reflected upon the good intentions or honesty of the Council.

The following circular, which was sent to every elector in the city, was a copy of the by-law a good many voters and assisting in sending it down to defeat. To the electors, owners of immovable property in the City of Westmount:

On Saturday next, the 18th instant, between the hours of 8 a.m. and 8 p.m. a poll will be taken in the City of Westmount, City Hall, 21 Stanton street, for the purpose of approving or disapproving of By-Law No. 250. Only electors, proprietors of immovable property in the City of Westmount, can vote upon the by-law, for the reason that the tax imposed affects only the real estate in the City of Westmount.

Dr. E. M. Desautels, M.P.P. for Chamby, was banqueted on Saturday night by the Constitutional Club at the residence of Mr. J. Howard, Greenfield Park.

ROYAL REVIEW Immense Crowd Gather in Queen's Park, Toronto.

"Cured the Piles, That I Know"

There is no lack of evidence to prove that Dr. Chase's Ointment is a positive cure for piles. It is not only cured by its use, but it is pleasant to think of the painful suffering caused by these wretched diseases, but it is satisfactory to know that there is a cure, for all who will avail themselves of it, in Dr. Chase's Ointment.

TAG-DAY A GREAT SUCCESS

$15,000 Collected by Local Council of Women and Federation National

About fifteen thousand dollars was realized by the workers who tagged the town on Saturday. The money was counted by a staff of fifty-seven, at the branch of the Montreal City and District Bank, 504 St. Catherine street east. It took about two and a half hours to do the counting.

The bank presented a busy scene. Its employees were ranged around eight tables, counting stacks of silver coins and assorting them in packages. The empty boxes were taken to the manager's office, and there a committee of the charity organizations gave them a vigorous shaking to make sure that no money was left in them before they were thrown away.

Mrs. F. Choquet was in charge of receiving the boxes at the bank all day. They were so heavy that she believed twenty thousand dollars would be realized. But the amount fell short of that mark.

SUCCESSFUL PLOT Alleged Attempt to Prevent Man Voting by Drugging Him—He Dies.

Quebec, Que., May 19.—The strange death is reported of a man at Lewis street, Quebec, who died on the night of Wednesday last (election day). The deceased, according to reports in circulation, was kept in a committee room with another man named Blason, and kept under the influence of liquor so as to prevent them going to the polls. The son of Bernard, who was 54 years old, found out the plot and started to look for him, and according to the story, found him in the committee room. As he could not be arrested, a physician was summoned, and he was taken to the Hotel Dieu, where he died shortly afterwards.

WAS TROUBLED WITH Headache AND Constipation.

After Suffering For Two Years Was Cured By BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS. Headache of whatever nature is nearly always symptomatic of other diseased conditions, rather than a disease itself, but in most cases a disordered stomach, constipation, or bad circulation is the chief source of the difficulty. Burdock Blood Bitters removes the cause of the trouble through its cleansing, strengthening and tonic action on the stomach, liver, bowels and blood. Mr. Wm. Redmond, Curdigan Bridge, P. R. I., writes: "I have been troubled with headache and constipation for about two years. After trying every doctor I knew, a friend advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I found myself better, and after using three bottles I was completely cured."

HORRIBLE TRAIN WRECK

Thirteen Killed in Collision Near Gare du Nord in Paris Saturday

Paris, May 19.—Thirteen persons have succumbed, forty-five are seriously injured, and the whole city of Paris excited as the result of a collision of two trains late Saturday night near the Gare du Nord. Eleven persons were killed outright, while two of the more seriously injured lingered until to-day before their lives were added to the roll of victims.

The collision occurred on the Northern Railway at Marcadet Bridge, a suburban tract from Pontoise and a train from Montsoult, crashing together. The accident, which now appears to have been due to a defective switch, was unusually horrible. Among the victims was a wedding party. The bridegroom's head was completely severed before the eyes of his bride of an hour, who herself had both legs fractured.

One of the survivors relates that after extricating himself he went to the assistance of a woman, but she was so badly mutilated that she could not be removed from the wreckage.

WESTMOUNT MUST PAY

Court Says Police Did Not Take Proper Precautions in Making Arrest

That the chief of police of Westmount had not taken reasonable precautions in fulfilling his duties in regard to an arrest was Mr. Justice Greenfield's criticism in his judgment in the case of Henry Currie in the Westmount Corporation an action for $200 damages for false arrest. His Lordship held that there was not reasonable or probable cause for the arrest and awarded $200 to plaintiff.

On October 8, 1910, plaintiff was arrested in connection with the theft of iron pipe from the city, and on the 14th of the same month was honorably acquitted when it was shown that he knew nothing of the pipe which was placed on his son's cart by a third party. For some time prior to the arrest quantities of pipe had been mislaid, and a plain clothes man was put on the case. On October 8 he saw workmen placing some pipe on a cart on Clarendon avenue. A few minutes later plaintiff and a boy came along, got up on the cart and drove away. The constable followed, stopped the rig, and unearched the pipe, taking Mr. Currie in custody although he denied that he knew anything of the pipe. The police next obtained a warrant for plaintiff's son who owned the cart, and Mr. Currie promptly entered an action for damages.

BRAVE ARMENIAN

Rescued Man Who Was Being Carried Over Niagara Falls.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., May 19.—One of the most daring rescues in the history of Niagara Falls was effected to-day by a twenty-year-old Armenian named Aron Kevorkian, of this city, who waded out waist deep into the rapids a short distance above the cataract and pulled to shore with a rope a man who was being carried over the falls.

Henry J. Smith, 50 years old, a resident of No. 18 Beech Street, Buffalo, Kevorkian was assisted by David Gordon and Constable Thomas Harrington, who formed a human chain anchoring the Armenian to the shore and enabling him to resist the current which was especially strong to-day on account of the high water.

Smith was walking along the narrow path skirting the river about 300 feet above the falls when he missed his footing and fell into the turbulent stream. He soon became exhausted in his efforts to reach shore, and was floating with his head under water when caught by Kevorkian with his pole less than 100 feet above the brink. Smith was taken to police headquarters and soon restored to consciousness. He expressed his appreciation as a great relief for his services in the 'Titanic' disaster.

WANTS WELLS CLOSED.

MR. TAFT'S VINDICATION

Election in Ohio Will be Emphatic Endorsement of His Administration

FOUR CLAIM OHIO.
This State Conceded to be Deciding Point in Battle for Presidential Nomination.

Columbus, Ohio, May 20.—Four presidential candidates ended a week of almost continuous travel and speaking last night and rested, while their managers made claims of certain victory at the Ohio primaries next Tuesday.

The state is conceded by most politicians to be the deciding point in the battle for the presidential nomination and especially in the fights of the two native sons, President Taft and Governor Harmon. President Taft declared at Cleveland during the week that he considered Ohio the pivotal point in the pre-convention campaign. Col. Roosevelt, while insisting that he will carry the state declared that he could win the nomination even should he be defeated at the primaries next Tuesday. President Taft, Col. Roosevelt, Senator LaFollette, among the Republicans, and a score of lesser lights, have spent the greater part of the week on trains and there has been no section of the state neglected. Candidates even spent one day in West Union, Adams county, unmindful of the fact that the great majority of men in the county had been disfranchised for frauds in former elections and were quite voteless.

Competition in the Democratic ranks is scarcely less keen than among the Republicans. Col. William J. Bryan, backed by National Committeeman Harvey C. Garber, urging Wilshire of New Jersey, to defeat Governor Harmon, toured the state just ahead of the Ohio executive.

Lewis C. Laylin, who managed President Taft's campaign, adds the following prediction to the foregoing: 'The primary election next Tuesday will be a complete vindication of President Taft by his native state and an emphatic endorsement of his administration.'

PROSPEROUS OLD ENGLAND

Optimistic Views Never so Pronounced—Not Even Coal Strike Checked Progress

Accompanied by Mrs. F. W. Thompson her two daughters and Miss Henty, the party having crossed the Atlantic on the S.S. 'Mauretania', Mr. Charles R. Homer, president of the Ogilvie Paper Mills Company, Ltd., returned to the city on Saturday from Europe. Mr. Homer, after referring to the terrible shock caused by the sudden death of Mr. F. W. Thompson, refused to discuss the future of the company except to say that with Mr. Black who had come to Winnipeg some months ago to take a good part of the work of Mr. Thompson's shoulders, everything moved along as usual. Mr. Homer said that Mr. Thompson's demise would be keenly felt in banking and commercial circles, and the fact that Port William had sent its chief magistrate to the funeral was a good indication of his worth to Western Canada. Mr. Homer said he had never seen so much general prosperity in London as at the present time. He pointed out that he had heard such optimism expressed. The Banks and big financial interests had supposed that England was on the eve of the greatest commercial crises in its history, owing to the coal strike, but the results were very limited in their character. As a matter of precaution the Banks had husbanded their resources, and consequently are not in the bad shape as had been the provincial situation was concerned. In all her local interests he said that London was particularly prosperous as also was the country as a whole.

As to the political situation Mr. Homer said that England was sick of politics and even the passage of the Home Rule bill through the House of Commons caused very little interest.

IN PRAISE OF CARTIER

Splendid Tributes Paid Great Canadian in Monument National Last Night

The Monument Nationale was crowded with a distinguished company—many ladies being present—last evening, when addresses in connection with the Cartier anniversary were delivered by the Rev. Father Auclair, of the Archbishop's Palace, Mr. C. H. Cahnan, K.C., and Mr. Horace J. Gagne, secretary of the Cartier Monument Committee. Mr. E. W. Villeneuve, president of the Centenary Committee, occupied the chair, and, in a few appropriate words, introduced the speakers of the evening, whose remarks were followed with the keenest interest, and frequently aroused loud applause.

Abbe Elias Auclair, in an admirably worded oration on Cartier and his work, referred to Sir George Etienne Cartier's close association and alliance with Sir John A. Macdonald. The speaker closed an eloquent but dispassionate appreciation of Sir George Etienne Cartier with eulogistic references to his fine character, his splendid patriotism, and his great love for Canada.

Mr. Horace J. Gagne, in a few remarks, warmly advocated the claims of Cartier, as a great Canadian, to have his life commemorated by a monument to be built by his fellow-countrymen.

Mr. C. H. Cahnan, K.C., in an eloquent and finely phrased tribute to the work of Cartier, said that they honored themselves, their race and their country, when they paid honor to their immortal dead. As for Sir George Etienne Cartier, he could only say after life's fitful fever he sleeps well. The lessons and the example of Cartier's life should inspire them to greater deeds in their own provinces and their country. Cartier taught particularly to the English people, that Canada was their home, and their country, a country worth loving for and a country worth dying for. How Cartier was filled with that cry, 'O Canada, my country, my love.' It was for them as individual members of a race which was growing vigorously strong and healthy, prosperous in material things, reverent in spiritual things, but a country with strong courage and high devotion.

$1,000,000 FIRE

Business District in Houston, Texas, Wiped Out.

Houston, Texas, May 20.—Fire in the upper business district, starting at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, at 7 o'clock last night had caused a loss approximated at $1,000,000.

The fire spread rapidly from a large six-story building, affame when the firemen reached the scene early yesterday morning, to surrounding structures, and the resulting conflagration burned for the whole day.

FRANCO-RUSSIAN WAR

Inaugurated by London 'Daily Telegraph' Did Not Work Satisfactorily

ALL OVER M. LOUIS
Whose Wife Found Russian Climate So Unsuitable He Was Compelled to Resign.

London, May 18.—A war scare launched by the 'Daily Telegraph' on Saturday morning has fallen flat in London. It is virtually ignored there. The scare was based on a story in the Paris 'Le Temps' that Georges Louis, the French ambassador to Russia, had been recalled on a demand by M. Isvolsky, the Russian Foreign Minister, on Premier Poincare. The demand was made, it is stated, because M. Louis worked contrary to Russian plans to help Italy diplomatically against Turkey and secure as a reward, opening of the Dardanelles to its navy.

The scare plot was thickened by tangling it up with the Von Bieberstein incident. Europe was described as being in a helpless drift towards a crisis which was due to Russia's schemes to grasp spheres of influence in Asia Minor and open the Dardanelles.

Germany was ready to take advantage of the scheme by regularizing her status in Syria and Asia Minor. The outcome indicated in the commercial partition of Turkey. England was to be bribed to accord by the offer as a liberal share of the spoils. Unfortunately, the 'Times' simultaneously discounts the story by showing that M. Louis was slated to go several months ago because his wife could not stand the Russian climate. The paper adds that Russia has no complaint against M. Louis, who is now in Paris and has formally announced after an interview with M. Poincare that he intends to return to St. Petersburg.

No change is expected until after the meeting between M. Sazonoff and Premier Poincare, which is expected to take place in a few weeks hence. Therefore, there is obviously no crisis. Indeed all the premises after the 'Telegraph's' deductions are granted, remain misty. It is admitted that no power is working to produce a convulsion. The greatest danger seemed to lie in the theory that Great Britain, as the world's greatest Mohammedan power, might find it to her interest vigorously to negotiate any sort of spoliation or partition of the dominions of the Sultan, whom all her western subjects regard as the vice-regent of the prophet.
