Agree to a proposed corridor road

FREDERICTON (CP) — Governor Kenneth Curtis of Maine joined officials of three Maritime provinces Monday in agreeing in principle to the proposed corridor road that would join the province of Quebec to New Brunswick through Maine. Governor Curtis told reporters after a closed meeting further discussions on the road would be held in the near future by Maine's James F. Keefe, commissioner of economic development, and Economic Growth Minister Robert Higgins of New Brunswick. He said a 208-mile stretch of the proposed road at this time in Maine would only cost about $25,000,000. However any federal participation required "more clearly defined" information on costs. One proposed route from New Brunswick would go through Vanceboro and Lincoln, Me., through to Sherbrooke, Que., and connect with the new Autoroute to Montreal. Governor Curtis had called for the top-level conference to help bring the road to reality after two pulp mills closed at Lincoln and Brewer, Me., leaving 1,200 people out of work. He got a shot in the arm from Premier Louis Robichaud of New Brunswick who said Maine's economic problems were of concern to New Brunswick.

Premier Alex Campbell, because of the market and tourist potential offered by the corridor road, was "enthusiastically" in favor of the concept. Earlier, the closed meeting accepted a brief endorsing the road from the Atlantic corridor road committee headed by Donald Dennison of Lincoln, Me.

Foster votes for union plan

By JOHN McCAGHEY
(Record staff reporter)

FOSTER — The Foster town council held a special meeting last night where it was resolved unanimously to enact a bylaw proposing the amalgamation of the villages of Foster, Knowlton and the Township of Brome. Knowlton rejected the proposed amalgamation at a special council meeting held Mar. 21. Mayor Harry Parkes said he would resign prior to amalgamation if the name of Knowlton was not retained in any new set-up. The proposed name for the amalgamated communities is Brome Lake. The Township of Brome unanimously accepted the proposal at a special council meeting held Mar. 22. There will be a special meeting in Knowlton tomorrow night at which time four councillors will table a motion indicating that they request a bylaw approving amalgamation of the three communities be adopted at the next regular council meeting. A two-thirds majority constitutes a unanimous vote for town council purposes. Those present at the Foster meeting included Mayor Lester Mizener, alderman Leo Dagenais, Fred Wing, Fernand Bedard, Bernard De Solla, Baxter Williams and Hugh Strange. Secretary-treasurer Stan Quilliams read the proposal to amalgamate the three communities to the aldermen. Alderman De Solla proposed that a bylaw be adopted approving amalgamation. The proposal was seconded by Hugh Strange and approved by a show of hands. A meeting of the joint villages of Foster, Knowlton and the Township of Brome was held Mar. 14 and at this time it was decided in committee that the name of the new municipality, if granted letters patent, would be the Town of Brome Lake. Mayor Harry Parkes of Knowlton, following a special council meeting, said he was not opposed to the proposed amalgamation but he objects to the change of name. Aldermen I. Roderick Crandall and Fred Partridge of Knowlton said they would table a motion at the next regular council meeting calling for the resignation of Mayor Parkes. When questioned this past weekend, Mayor Parkes neither confirmed or denied current rumors in Knowlton to the effect that he had already turned in his resignation. At the Brome meeting Mar. 22, Aldermen D. F. Tibbitts, E. Foster, D. Mason, H. Acres, A. C. Webster and L. B. Goyette unanimously approved all clauses of the proposal which includes not only the change of name but financing, pooling of tax revenues and municipal services in the fire and police areas. The proposal also includes a request that the provincial government grants for snow removal in the three interested municipalities be continued when and if the Town of Brome becomes a reality. Secretary J. A. Byers said in an interview that a bylaw was adopted indicating preference for amalgamation. Mayor George Johnston said that about 40 persons attended the meeting. All the towns when incorporated into the Town of Brome Lake will retain their original identity through postal telegraph and telephone designations, the proposal indicates. It also shows that the communities would be referred to as the Knowlton Ward of Brome Lake, the Foster ward of Brome Lake and Brome Township ward. A point of conflict arising from the proposed amalgamation is that if the name of Knowlton is retained, it would be entirely unacceptable to citizens of Foster and the Township of Brome. The proposed merger of the three municipalities into a town is aimed at thwarting any move by Bromont to annex the communities.

Enemy hits base

SAIGON (CP) — Nearly 1,000 North Vietnamese troops, armed with flame-throwers and rocket-propelled grenades, attacked a U.S. artillery base in the central highlands of South Vietnam today. The attack touched off the heaviest fighting on that critical front in four months. The U.S. military command said 121 North Vietnamese soldiers had been killed so far in the battle. U.S. casualties were not immediately disclosed. Near Saigon, U.S. and South Vietnamese forces pushed through rice paddies and hedgerows pursuing a battered Viet Cong force that broke off a sharp 24-hour battle shortly before dawn. It was the biggest clash so far in efforts to sweep the guerrillas from the Saigon area. GUERRILLAS CRUMBLE The spokesman said a guerrilla force estimated at about 300 men was virtually annihilated in a battle Monday near Trang Bang, 28 miles northwest of Saigon. Infantrymen, tanks, government rangers and U.S. and South Vietnamese planes killed 284 of the guerrillas in a seven-hour battle, he said, and U.S. troops were still chasing the Viet Cong remnants early today. The U.S. military command, meanwhile, announced that the swing wing F-111A—the biggest and hardest hitting American fighter-bomber—flew its first combat mission Monday. The U.S. command said 10 U.S. soldiers were killed and 71 wounded in the fighting. South Vietnamese casualties were described as light. The battle near Trang Bang was part of operation Will-to-Win which is attempting to clear the five provinces around the capital, where there are an estimated 15,000 Viet Cong. Southern allied forces claim to have killed 1,553 guerrillas in the big drive. U.S. losses have been put at 67 killed and 528 wounded, and South Vietnamese losses at 71 dead and 192 wounded. The operation involves 50,000 U.S. and South Vietnamese troops. The swing-wing F-111A jets, which can carry up to 30,000 pounds of rockets, missiles and bombs, was used to bomb bivouac and storage areas 20 to 30 miles northeast of Dong Hoi, the southernmost city in North Vietnam. All bombs were reported on target, but weather conditions prevented assessment of damage, he said. F-4 Phantom jets, meanwhile, attacked storage areas a few miles further west, and F-100 Super Sabres attacked communications lines and storage areas. Carrier-based navy Intruder jets bombed a Hai Duong chemical plant 20 miles west-northwest of the North Vietnamese port of Haiphong and pilots reported the factory erupted in flames. The plant produces nitrates and phosphates used in munitions.

When will Mike give up reins?

OTTAWA (CP) — How soon after a new Liberal leader is elected April 6 will he take over the reins of government from Prime Minister Pearson? Mr. Pearson has said he is willing to give up his job to the new man the day after the leadership convention, if his successor wants it that way. But current betting is that the changeover will not take place for two weeks after the convention, and many people think the best bets are being put on either April 22 or April 23. Both dates have significance in Mr. Pearson's life, and the fact that they are important anniversaries recalls the reverence that the late W. L. Mackenzie King had for anniversaries. Unlike Mr. Pearson, however, Mr. King was by no means anxious to drop the reins of government as soon as his successor, Louis St. Laurent, was chosen in 1948. FIFTH ANNIVERSARY On April 22 this year, Mr. Pearson—if he is still in office—will celebrate his fifth anniversary as prime minister. Many observers think he would like to finish out the fifth year before handing over the office to his successor. And April 23 will be Mr. Pearson's 71st birthday. He first announced his intention to retire last December to his wife, on her birthday, and some think he'd like to step out of office on his own. In the case of Mr. King, he had been in office longer than any other prime minister in the Commonwealth—20 years and six months—when on Jan. 20, 1948, he asked the National Liberal Federation to arrange a leadership convention. After Mr. St. Laurent was elected leader on Aug. 7, 1948, Mr. King remained in office for more than three months, until Nov. 15, 1948. Looking back on the government succession of 20 years ago, most observers now agree it was an orderly if a slow and gradual affair. WILL TAKE TIME The changeover this year will come quickly. But certain procedures have to be observed and they will take time. Once Mr. Pearson's successor is elected April 6 by the leadership convention, the two men are likely to meet to discuss the transfer of duties. When they have set a date, Mr. Pearson will go to Governor-General Michener to tender his resignation. A prime minister's resignation as the Queen's first minister carries with it, automatically, the resignations of all his ministers. Mr. Pearson will formally recommend that Mr. Michener invite his Liberal party successor to become prime minister. Mr. Michener then will ask Mr. Pearson to remain in office until he has spoken to the new man. The successor will be invited to Government House and asked to form a government. The prime minister-designated then will have to submit a list of his cabinet appointments. These may be much the same as the present cabinet, or radically different—depending on the choosing of the new prime minister. Once the cabinet list has been settled, the Governor-General will accept Mr. Pearson's resignation and immediately swear in the new prime minister and cabinet.

deau will arrive at the Reform Club at nine o'clock to present his views on the leadership issue. At noon Wednesday, Health Minister Allan MacEachen will be host to the regional delegates at the King George Hotel. This will be preceded by a press conference at 11:15 a.m. With these visits local delegates will have had the opportunity of meeting first hand all the major contenders with the exception of Agriculture Minister J. J. Greene, who has given no indication he will be in the area.

Leadership hopefuls wrap up local visits

The next 24 hours should see the end of campaigning in the Sherbrooke district by the major contenders for the national Liberal Party leadership, with the visit of three cabinet ministers here tonight and Wednesday. Lined up to invade Sherbrooke tonight are Industry Minister Robert Winters who will meet the delegates from the area at the Reform Club at 7:30 p.m. Mr. Winters is holding a press conference at 4 p.m. Following Mr. Winters, Justice Minister Peirre-Elliott Trudeau will arrive at the Reform Club at nine o'clock to present his views on the leadership issue.

NDP lifts its money blockade

OTTAWA (CP) — The way was opened Monday for an early parliamentary recess as the NDP voluntarily lifted its blockade against money bills in the Commons. Faced by a split within party ranks, the New Democrats called a halt to their near-filibuster of bills to tidy up the government's 1967-68 spending and to give it money to meet day-to-day bills during April and May. The NDP staged the blockade in an attempt to get the government to act now on its bill to lower drug prices. The party lifted it Monday without the solid assurance it had demanded that the drug bill would not be allowed to die on the vine. With the NDP talk barrier gone, the Commons whistled through supplementary spending items for a half-dozen departments in quick time. That left about a dozen items still to be considered, plus the voting of interim supply for April and May, before the Commons could adjourn for a recess until April 23, covering Easter and the April 4-6 Liberal leadership convention. Barring last-minute hitches, most observers figured adjournment could come today or Wednesday.

The developments pointed up a clear switch in position within the NDP. Stanley Knowles (NDP—Winnipeg North Centre), party House leader, said outside the Commons Monday that his party would settle for a commitment by Prime Minister Pearson that the drug bill would be called by the government soon after April 28. He added that "there is no indication yet that we are going to get it." This was a far cry from what Mr. Knowles had demanded in a Commons speech last Wednesday. He said then he was fed up with government promises that certain things would be done, because they never followed through. The NDP pullback was evident almost immediately Monday as the House settled into the spending estimates debate. Murdo Martin, NDP member from the gold mining riding of Timmins, spoke on the world gold situation during consideration of mines department spending. But he wasn't backed up by filibuster-style by other party members. Several departments went through without any discussion, from New Democrats or other members. From there on, it was the usual type of debate—M.P.s jumping in on a particular estimate whenever they had a constituency axe to grind or a particular point to get across. CLAIMS 4 POTENTIALS In other political developments: —The National Coalition for a Republican Alternative, a moderate group, said it has four potential presidential candidates: New York Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller, New York City Mayor John V. Lindsay, Senator Charles H. Percy of Illinois and Senator Mark Hatfield of Oregon.

News in brief

Fire seven

WARSAW—(AP)—The Polish government fired seven intellectuals Monday in the biggest stroke of a purge following recent student demonstration and street rioting. The government ousted six teachers at Warsaw University on charges of implanting in their students political views contrary to the state's, the official news agency PAP reported.

Approve merger

MONTREAL — (CP) — Power Corp. of Canada Ltd. and Trans-Canada Corp. Fund have approved a merger which would bring together assets in excess of $225,000,000, the two concerns announced jointly Monday. The directors of Power Corp. had approved an offer for all the common shares of Trans-Canada. Gelco Enterprises Ltd., which owns 53 per cent of all the common stock of Trans-Canada, had agreed to accept the offer.

Discretion

TORONTO — (CP) — Attorney-General Arthur Wishart declined to be drawn out Monday on whether he agreed with a decision by Magistrate Lucien Kurata to exclude the press from a court hearing in Guelph last week. Replying in the legislature to Opposition Leader Robert Nixon, Mr. Wishart said the magistrate "exercised a discretion that he felt he had under section 428 of the Criminal Code of Canada."

Wants conference

BRUSSELS — (AP) — With three days until the Stockholm conference that seeks final accord on "paper gold" as international credit, France called today for a conference to create a monetary system ruled by real gold.

Backs Trudeau

Justice Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau learned Monday that he will have the backing of a former cabinet minister in Ottawa April 4-6 when Liberals gather to select a man to replace Prime Minister Pearson.

Peace comes to three main ports

MONTREAL (CP) — Labor peace and the full operation for at least a year of the St. Lawrence River's three main ports appeared assured Monday with the signing of an "agreement to agree" between the Shipping Federation of Canada and the International Longshoremen's Association. The agreement dispersed months of gloom in shipping circles. It had been predicted the two parties would be unable to reach a settlement of their contract dispute in time to avoid a complete close-down of the ports of Montreal, Quebec and Trois-Rivieres before the opening of the summer shipping season. The two parties went before a federal conciliation board and agreed to both binding arbitration of contentious issues and to a moratorium on strikes and lockouts until March 31, 1969. Judge Alan B. Gold of Quebec provincial court, chairman of the conciliation board, said later that by their gesture the federation and the ILA had demonstrated "a mature approach which bodes well for the future." Terms of the agreement were worked out at the end of last week between representatives of the shipping federation and the ILA. Terms were ratified by the membership of the 40-company federation and the six locals of the ILA, representing 4,500 workers, at Monday meetings. Sources close to the shipping industry suggested Monday night that the agreement could only be the result of behind-the-scenes, top-level talks involving the federation, the union and the federal government. The ILA is seeking a new two-year contract to replace one that expired Dec. 31, 1967, but the federation has said the union's demands would cost it $14,000,000

About television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—Television, young as it is, already has built some traditions. One of them is the "highlights" program.

Sunday night TV presented the annual highlights of an ice show. Next Friday there will be highlights of a circus making its tour.

If you've seen one ice show or one circus, you have pretty well seen them all, yet there is a fascination to both that time cannot dim—which comes through on the tube.

NBC's hour-long ice special had nothing unusual to present Sunday but was graceful, tuneful and colorful, with here and there the required touch of broad comedy.

As the seasons roll by, the only thing that seem to change in ice shows is the music, the costumes and the hosts. The music is more likely to be from the latest Broadway hits than from the Skater's Waltz.

Over the seasons and on all three networks, the ice shows have all taken much the same form, and even the hosts act the same—they arrive gingerly on skates and make jokes about how badly they skate.

COMEDIANS HOSTS
NBC's Highlights from the Ice Capades '68 was really not much different from Highlights from the Ice Capades '67, except that the comedy team of Rowan and Martin, wobbly in the feet, were around in place of past hosts. In an effort to add a little more spice to the proceedings, Joanie Sommers was on hand for a couple of songs.

NBC has added two comedians as regulars to the summer series replacing the Dean Martin show. They are Paul Lynd and Shecky Greene. Stars of the show will be Frank Sinatra Jr. and Joey Heatherton.

The next CBS National Geographic special, on April 16, will be a story of Portuguese cod fishermen whose work takes them onto the seas for six months at a time. The show is called The Lonely Dorymen.

Irish program feature of annual St. Patrick's tea held by Bury UCW

BURY — The St. Patrick's tea, an annual event sponsored by the U.C.W., was held in the Mackenzie Hall on March 15 with a good attendance of local and out-of-town visitors.

The guests were received by the U.C.W. president, Mrs. I. Flanders. A delightful program, appropriate to the season, had been arranged by Mrs. Earl Goodenough and Mrs. Lena McGee. It consisted of songs by Grades one to five of the Pope Memorial School, under the direction of Mrs. E. Dawson, a trio by Helen Allison, Marjorie Kirkpatrick and Kathy Taylor and Irish songs by a quintet, Mrs. Earl Goodenough, Mrs. Walter Atkins, Mrs. Lena McGee, Mrs. Cathcart and Mrs. Dawson with Mrs. Merylyn Coates as pianist.

Two readings, The Origin of the Shamrock and Who Put the Overall in Mrs. Murphy's Chowder, were given by Mrs. Goodenough. Mrs. H. Nugent played two selections on the accordion.

Mrs. Keith Vintinner entertained in honor of the tenth birthday of her daughter, Nancy, on March 12, eight little girls being present at the party. Games were played, following which a supper was served, featuring the traditional birthday cake. Nancy received many lovely gifts.

The Christmas Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Harrison on March 12. Games were played, the prizewinners being Mrs. Gordon Clarke, Mrs. Henry Nicholson and Mrs. Lyle Herring. Mrs. Lloyd Betts received a gift from her secret sister. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. L. Herring and Mrs. H. Nicholson. The dining table was attractively arranged with shamrocks and green decorations in keeping with St. Patrick's Day. The next meeting will be with Mrs. L. Herring.

Mr. and Mrs. Knight George, Allen and Eric, accompanied by Dana Harper, of Bury, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Forgrave in Sawyerville.

Foster

Master Dani Ricard had the misfortune to suffer a bad fall, cutting his face. He was taken to B.M.P. Hospital, Sweet'sburg, where the wound necessitated four stitches.

Mrs. Erwin Johnson and daughters, Brenda and Doris, Algonquin, Ont., are spending some time at the home of Mrs. Elvia Johnson. Mr. Johnson was a weekend guest at the same home.

Bedford UCW shows clothing for shipment

BEDFORD — The monthly meeting of the U.C.W. of the Wesley Church was held on March 14 in the church hall with a good attendance. The president, Mrs. William MacArthur opened the meeting with prayer and a hymn.

Report of the treasurer, Mrs. R. Oakes, showed a balance of $104.30. Miss Lottie Casey had on display knitted articles, including scarves, mittens and caps, which will be sent to Montreal for distribution. A donation of children's clothing was also received.

Permission was granted Mrs. Stuart Bird to hold a recital for pianoforte pupils in the church hall on April 27.

A report on the Women's World Day of Prayer was given. 51 attended and the collection amounted to $28. No member attended the recent meeting of the Presbyterial in Montreal.

The devotionals, led by Mrs. Ewart Martin and Mrs. Ronald Martin were based on the events leading up to the Crucifixion.

Following the meeting refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Jack Fiddess and Miss Dorothy Perault. The next meeting will be held on April 17.

The proceeds from the recent canvass for funds for Save the Children was most gratifying with $243.25 being realized from points of the Bedford charge, Bedford, Mystic, Stanbridge East and Philipsburg. Included in the amount was $10 voted at the meeting and proceeds of food sold following the Ecumenical service.

Names winners at 500 party

GRANITEVILLE — A card party was held in the church hall on Mar. 16 when 500 was played at nine tables.

Ladies high score prize went to Mrs. Reg Eryou, low to Mrs. Lyle Hand.

Men's first prize was won by John Hamilton with low going to Malcolm Elliot.

Door prizes winners were Mrs. Chas. Bullock, Mrs. John Hamilton, Mrs. Roy Parrish, Malcolm Elliot and Bert Bachelder. Prizes for this party were donated by Mr. and Mrs. Warren Soutiere of Stanstead.

CGIT girls of Waterloo hold St. Pat's tea

WATERLOO — The St. Patrick's Day Tea, sponsored by the girls of St. Paul's C.G.I.T., was a great success.

The group of about 20 girls, led by Mrs. Clara McKergow and Miss Sheelagh Bokus, worked hard all afternoon, in charge of tables, taking tickets at the door, or serving on the welcoming committee at the entrance.

The tea tables were each centered with green and white Irish theme decorations. Mrs. Myrtle Pope, president of the U.C.W. and Mrs. Heath poured tea.

A highlight of the afternoon was a short concert of Irish songs, and selections from The Sound of Music.

If you own 1959 Canada Savings Bonds

Here's a special offer just for you

The Government of Canada has created a special new high-yielding security for the advance refunding of 1959 Canada Savings Bonds. These Special Replacement Bonds will be dated May 1, 1968, and will mature in 10 years 5 months on October 1, 1978. They will be available only in exchange for an equal amount of 1959 Canada Savings Bonds, and not for cash. Their average annual yield to maturity will be 6.88%. They will retain all the standard features which have made Canada Savings Bonds the most popular investment in Canada's history. This includes the right to cash them any time at any bank for full face value plus earned interest.

In addition, Special Replacement Bonds offer the opportunity to double your money. If you choose not to cash your regular interest coupons during the life of the bond, 3 Compound Interest Certificates then become payable for a total of $280.00 extra (on each $1,000.00 bond). This amount plus your regular interest coupons doubles your money. You can take advantage of this compound interest feature in various ways.

And that's not all. There will be two Prepayment Coupons, cashable May 1, 1968, attached to each Special Replacement Bond. They represent the 6 months' interest already earned by your old bond and the prepayment of the 3% non-taxable premium originally due November 1, 1968. On a $1,000.00 bond, these two Prepayment Coupons will be worth a total of $55.00.

The exchange procedure is simple. Take your 1959 Canada Savings Bonds to your bank, authorized investment dealer, trust or loan company. They will make all arrangements for you. Exchange your 1959 Canada Savings Bonds for the new high-yielding Special Replacement Bonds without delay. This offer expires on May 15, 1968.

How to recognize your 1959 Canada Savings Bonds

your 1959 Canada Savings Bonds

First, the serial number in red in the upper corner of each bond is preceded by "S14" in black. Second, the name of the issue, "Canada Savings Bond" "1959 Series" is shown just below the serial number.

Immigrants not credited with previous experience

By PETER VERRAL
 (Record Staff Reporter)

A number of recently arrived immigrants in Sherbrooke, well-qualified in their particular profession or trade, have found experience gained in their native countries carries little weight on the local industrial employment scene.

And, these immigrants strongly feel that they should be receiving a higher wage for their hard-earned skills.

Richard Silberman, an Israeli who has 20 years experience as an industrial electrician under his belt, as well as a French electrician's certificate, dated 1946, to back up his qualifications.

Mr. Silberman, his wife and two sons lived in a community of 50,000. He had the best job in his trade there.

But when he first arrived in Sherbrooke about six months ago, the Department of Immigration broke the news that Mr. Silberman would be regarded as an apprentice until he received a competency card in his trade for the province of Quebec.

The Israeli-born electrician said he would take the exams over the year but added it will be difficult because although he speaks fluent French, he cannot write it very well.

A spokesman for the Eastern Townships Regional School Board said the Board "hasn't been notified of a need" for an English-speaking course for immigrants, but one could be opened up if it was felt necessary.

Mr. Silberman pointed out that although he has 20 years experience in his trade, his son, would be paid the same salary as he is now being paid.

He went on to say that he considers his work superior to his fellow workmen as he has had more experience, but these men are receiving more money.

Extra income would be a great help for Mr. Silberman for his wife and other son recently joined Neison and his father in Sherbrooke. Neison followed his father to Sherbrooke five months later and Mr. Silberman said it cost him about $654 for both his wife and son to bring them to Canada. He paid both his own and Neison's passage to Canada without any aid from the Immigration Department.

According to Mr. Silberman, the Department of Immigration told him that since he's working he had to pay the whole shot if he wanted his family together.

But the slight, intense, Israeli now worries that with the family reunited, he will not have enough money to clothe them against the frigid winter weather.

Sitting on an iron cot in a sparsely furnished one-room apartment, Mr. Silberman said that during the cold weather he and Neison have had to take turns wearing their heavy winter coats and boots. The Silbermans recently moved to a High Street apartment house.

Annam Elkabas, a fellow Israeli who arrived in Sherbrooke last July from Tel Aviv with his wife and young son, sat in his small room recently and explained his difficulties in obtaining a job, while his young wife smiled sadly from time to time. Mr. Elkabas, who is a welder of ornamental iron, had been practising his trade for 10 years before he came to Sherbrooke.

He said the Canadian Consul in Tel Aviv assured him he would be able to get a well-paying job in his profession when he arrived in Canada.

Yet his first job in Sherbrooke was bobbing thread six days a week, and he only obtained this job after filling out endless applications which brought no response.

And according to Mr. Elkabas, the Immigration Department in Sherbrooke said they couldn't assure him of a job in his profession. He is presently working as a welder at Dominion Textiles for $54 a week.

But, the 35-year-old welder isn't really happy in this work as he would rather start up his own business. Faced with rather a bleak prospect for his family in his present job, Mr. Elkabas decided recently to take a five-month soldering course which he hopes will enable him to earn more money and make a brighter life for his family.

Another well-qualified welder who arrived in Sherbrooke recently is Claude They who came to Sherbrooke from Paris about eight months ago followed by his wife and five children two months later.

Mr. They has 18 years experience as an oxygen welder and has a Paris certificate to back him up. But when he arrived in Sherbrooke he found out that most of the welding work done is electrical.

As a result Mr. They intends to enroll in a provincial government sponsored electric welding course in Sherbrooke this September.

He echoed a common complaint of many immigrants now living in Sherbrooke that the Canadian Immigration offices overseas don't give an honest picture of the employment story in Canada.

Mr. They said many leaflets are circulated telling of the many job opportunities awaiting immigrants in Canada but most of these are misleading.

The local department got him a job about three weeks after arriving in town but he said the company only paid $1.50 an hour and in his opinion, it was taking advantage of immigrants.

Since then he has obtained a job with another company and says the working conditions are much better.

However, he has been laid off for the past month and a half for the first time in 18 years. Mr. They said the Immigration Department has paid his rent and $20 a week while he has been unemployed.

But this apparently only applies to people who have been in the country for six months and are eligible to receive unemployment insurance.

Mr. They borrowed $1,000 from Canadian Immigration to bring his family to Sherbrooke and he is now paying that amount back.

Jean Rene Rhe is a raw-boned gregarious young man who was a fireman in France but despite his experience he as yet has received no reply from an application to join the Sherbrooke Fire Department.

Jean first arrived in Sherbrooke last May following the advice of a friend in Montreal. "I came to Sherbrooke because it is smaller than Montreal and I was told that the Immigration office handles the cases faster."

Once again the point was made that a good job had been promised when he arrived in Canada but "I found out that you have to take what you can get," he said.

The 22-year-old Frenchman said he landed a job in construction after his arrival but was

Trudeau sweeps Bish poll of hopefuls

The votes trickled in and it was Pierre Elliott Trudeau all the way.

Students at Bishop's University voted overwhelmingly in favor of the mod young justice minister in an opinion survey conducted by the Liberal Club over the weekend. Trudeau's 160 votes crushed his two closest opponents, John Turner and Robert Winters, who each polled 11 votes.

The vote count, completed yesterday, gave Finance Minister Mitchell Sharp third place with seven votes followed by Eric Kierans with six votes. Paul Hellyer polled five votes, Paul Martin, four and Joe Greene three. Health Minister Allan MacEachen got two votes and Rev. Lloyd Henderson came up in the rear with one lone vote.

Films to depict art development

The Sherbrooke public will have an opportunity to view a series of films outlining the development of modern art in France this evening, free of charge.

The films will be presented at the University of Sherbrooke's Art Gallery at 8:30 p.m.

The first film, Contemporary Art, retraces the events of a group of contemporary German artists, who with the help of another group called Le Bauhaus, would like to build a cathedral-like structure that would be regarded as a symbol of the art of the modern world in their time. All of the arts would help in the construction of this building.

The second film describes the career of a Russian artist who admist all the happenings of his time, brings out an artistic conception where he must submit to unconscious elements of life. There is a slow and minute elaboration based on the laws of analytic reasoning added to a synthesis which the artist considers as the supreme expression of his art.

The third film reveals the work of a much discussed painter, Pierre Bonnard. His work and art offers a curious mixture of a spirit of adventure coupled with a conservative nature.

This film deals with the grand artistic movements at the end of the nineteenth century and the beginning of the twentieth: impressionism, symbolism, and fauvism.

The enthusiastic painter Jean Fautrie, is presented in the fourth film. Fautrie is the inventor of a reproduction process called "original multiples." He has become known for the liberation and exposing of a series of works under the theme "des Otages."

Gets three months for theft

A 23-year-old Sherbrooke man was sentenced to three months in jail by Judge Benoit Turmel in Sherbrooke Sessions Court yesterday after the accused pleaded guilty to two counts of theft.

Yvon Beaudoin pleaded guilty to stealing a $200 coin collection from Richard Wallace of Stanstead on the evening of March 12.

Following the Wallace money theft, the accused, on the same evening, stole a .32 calibre pistol, valued at $55, from the home of George Buckland in Beebe.

Beaudoin, upon arraignment last Wednesday, pleaded not guilty and opted for a trial before Judge alone.

Pleading the defendant's case, defence lawyer Arcadius Denis said the accused committed the crimes while under the influence of liquor.

He asked for clemency for his client saying Beaudoin had been put through an ordeal at the time of his arrest.

Mr. Denis referred to the fact that the accused was not formally charged with any crime until four days after his arrest in Montreal.

Crown prosecutor Stanley Steinman told Judge Turmel that Beaudoin had cooperated fully with police and left sentencing to the discretion of the court.

Rape trial wrapped up

Both Crown and defence have wound up presentation of their cases in the rape trial of a 25-year-old man who gave his address as Island Brook. A verdict is expected some time today from the 12-man jury.

Richard Stickles is charged with raping a 19-year-old East Angus girl last Christmas Eve.

This morning Crown prosecutor Stanley Steinman presented his summation following that of defence lawyer Warren Lynch late yesterday afternoon.

Following the Crown's summation, Mr. Justice Evender Veilleux will address the jury.

The accused is represented by Dewey Zaor and Warren Lynch.

In his summation, defence lawyer Lynch cautioned the jury to be sure of their verdict as the charge carries a maximum life imprisonment and whipping sentence if the accused is convicted.

He attempted to discredit the testimony of the victim.

75 on Thursday

STANSTEAD — (Special) — Birthday greetings are being extended to Mrs. Walter Mosher, Stanstead, RR. 1, who observes her 75th birthday on Thursday, March 28. Mrs. Mosher was born in London, England, and says that on that day in 1893 London had six feet of snow.

City arena to get facelifting

After 30 years of weathering a weary schedule of hockey games and exhibitions, Sherbrooke's arena will finally be given a long awaited housecleaning starting with approved finances of $20,175 which could be boosted to $54,775.

The $20,175 figure can be broken down into three definite work areas:

— Renovation to the Administration Offices of $5,875.

— Improvements to the banquet hall of $10,337.

— New furniture which will amount to $3,963.

A $34,600 figure for general renovation is presently under study by city council. Mayor Armand Nadeau said there was no question that the arena needed a fresh look as it is over 30 years old.

City council passed a three-pronged report from the urbanism, hydro and parks committees.

After a brief discussion the aldermen decided to close St. Laurent and Godbout Streets between Denault Street and Galt Street West.

Council refused a request from Ruel and Freres, and Claude Neon General Advertising to install billboards to the west of the future site of L. G. Balfour Company of Canada.

The request was contained in the ten-page brief from the urbanism committee. The committee advised council to refuse the installation of billboards as they tend to devalue city property and the general appearance of the city.

The Parks Committee granted a request by the Florists Association of the Region of Sherbrooke to hold the provincial congress of Canada Flowers in Sherbrooke.

The committee met on Monday, March 18, and at this meeting, presided over by Gerard Berard, Andre Caron, the city's greenhouse superintendent stated it was impossible to hold an exhibition at the city greenhouse during the congress.

The congress is to be held Oct. 20 and 21 and the committee okayed a reception for 50 people.

Mr. Caron did say in the report, however, since the flower exhibition could not be held in the city greenhouse, the florists will be able to visit the greenhouse at any time during the congress.

City council agreed to allow the establishment of a horticultural society in Sherbrooke.

Gerard Marchand, president of the Florists Association, made the request and his demand was supported by Mr. Caron.

This new society would inform the public of the culture of plants and flowers and will also contribute to the beauty of the city.

In a hydro committee report, city council has accepted a suggestion by Hydro employee representatives to prepare a press release that will clarify cloudy reports released to the public concerning overtime pay chalked up by employees.

Hydro representatives have stated that stories in local newspapers have brought unpopular remarks over the hydro employees overtime hours.

Simple good behavior could reduce tax bill

Quebec taxpayers may expect grim news when the 1968 budget is presented in the Legislative Assembly this week, probably Wednesday.

Following the lead of the Ontario, Saskatchewan, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island governments, the Quebec administration may be expected to boost taxes on gasoline and other fuels, automobile licenses and permits, tobacco products and liquor, as well as to broaden the base of the retail sales tax to include many services that are now tax free.

Probably the justification for these particular boosts will be the claim that many of them represent imposts on luxuries and that they will be met by those who can afford to pay.

The reliance of governments everywhere on so-called luxury taxes as a major source of revenue raises some rather interesting possibilities.

Opportunities for a tax strike are many. If you believe the government is spending too much money there is a simple solution.

And you might even improve your health. Consider your automobile.

Just leave it a home and walk — the exercise will do you good.

And if your suit has not worn too thin already, you might make it do for another year.

To give up smoking would help relieve that rasping cough too many of us enjoy (?) in the morning.

And think of the hangovers that might be avoided by simply giving up liquor.

The only trouble is that government revenues may be so depleted that we would lose any savings through an increase in the income tax.

A snack for those who would lose weight: cold, mashed turnips.

NDP action out of line

The New Democrats who have been so free with their criticism of the older parties for playing politics at the expense of national interest, accusing the Liberals of irresponsibility in their conduct of the nation's affairs and the Conservatives of obstructionism in delaying major pieces of legislation, are now engaged in one of the most unjustified filibusters in the recent history of parliament.

Their insistence on blocking departmental appropriations and supplementary estimates until the Government passes its promised legislation designed to bring down drug prices is an act of political blackmail.

The exact purpose behind the NDP action is uncertain.

Perhaps it is designed to embarrass those cabinet ministers seeking the party leadership in their campaign.

Or it may be an effort to gain some of that political popularity for which they criticize the older parties.

But whatever the reason, the blockade runs against the basic interests of the country.

There is more at stake in the Liberal convention than the mere selection of a party leader — the man to be named next week will serve for a time as Prime Minister of Canada and it is vital that the party select the man believed best suited for the post.

To achieve this purpose the candidates must have an opportunity of meeting the delegates and give them a chance to size up their capabilities, something they obviously cannot do if they are tied up in the Commons by discussion of their departmental estimates.

The NDP could better its public image by showing a degree of responsibility at this time.

Ask any woman — automatic laundry equipment is wonderful wife insurance.

Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone: but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit. (John 12:24).

PRAYER: Eternal God, our heavenly Father, we thank Thee for the gospel, which has brought life and immortality to light. This day reveal Thy presence more clearly to us, and send into our hearts the spirit of the Savior, who has taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

Detroit's whites and Negroes in arms race

DETROIT (AP)—Mayor Jerome P. Cavanaugh says whites and Negroes in Detroit and its suburbs are in an arms race that must be stopped. He pleads for a "return to sanity."

What does the arms race involve? —A 46-per-cent increase in the rate of pistol registrations in the city since last July's riot.

—Booming sales of shotguns and rifles, which are exempt from gun registration laws.

—Stepped-up gun-running to Detroit from Toledo, Ohio, where pistols can be bought without registration.

—More gun thefts in the Detroit area since the riot than during the entire preceding year.

—Clinics teaching hundreds of citizens how to load, aim and fire handguns.

—Unsigned posters, publicly displayed, which say: "Warning Black Power, this area protected by white citizens militia."

Individual residents have been flocking to gun stores. GUN SALES UP

Norman Weast, owner of Neumann's Gun Shop, says: "We're getting business from people who want to protect their families and their homes. I'd say sales are up about 30 per cent over last February."

The shop is located just south of what was the main area of trouble in last July's violence.

A salesman at a major chain outlet says: "We just began selling pistols this year because of the increased demand. I would say about 80 per cent of the people who buy guns from me say it's for home protection."

Some gun buyers desiring training in the use of their new weapons found their way to gun clinics, two of which were in operation before the riot. One, in Detroit, was conducted for grocers, many of whom had been hit frequently by holdup men.

Detroit police earlier had criticized the gun clinic, warning that "rule by gun" could not be allowed.

But police in Highland Park, a city of 39,000 persons surrounded by Detroit, started a gun clinic for Highland Park citizens. Highland Park Police Chief William E. Stephens backed the idea.

Another gun clinic was formed in Dearborn, which juts into Detroit's southwest side, following the Detroit riot.

LARGE WAITING LIST

The clinic has trained 280 persons so far—all of them white women—and has a waiting list of some 350 more. One-third of the trainees in Highland Park are Negroes, the rest white. The Detroit clinic aimed at grocers drew some whites, some Negroes.

In some homes in suburbs ringing Detroit, basement rifle ranges have been built for target practice. Some homes have stocked extra food in the event trouble isolates them for long.

The "Black Power warnings" have appeared in suburbs to the northeast of Detroit. Police say they don't know who is posting them. Officers rip down the signs wherever they find them.

In the wealthy Grosse Pointe section, 190 men and one woman recently volunteered for duty as auxiliary policemen in case trouble erupts.

Rev. Albert Cleage, a militant black nationalist, through the city's major Negro weekly, the Michigan Chronicle, has urged Negroes to store one month's food against the possibility of trouble.

EXPRESSES PESSIMISM

He says he is pessimistic about the coming summer. He says his main fear is that "hysterical whites will provoke some kind of violence."

The Inner City Voice, a militant Negro periodical which claims a circulation of 15,000 in Detroit and bills itself as the Voice of the Revolution, tells its readers that revolutionaries must be willing to die, if necessary, for their cause. The paper prints a recipe for a Molotov cocktail.

"What we have is a public hysteria," declares Capt. Raymond McConnell, the top detective in the Michigan State Police.

"A lot of people are going out and buying guns and that's the worst thing they could do."

Leadership campaign — 7

Will stand or fall on unification

By CARMAN CUMMING

OTTAWA (CP) — Paul Hellyer, as transport minister and a former builder, has aimed much of his Liberal leadership campaign toward plans for new and better cities.

But on April 6 the tall, grey-haired Torontonian probably will stand or fall on his reputation as the man who unified the armed forces.

Mr. Hellyer concedes that the unification war has left political scars, but his campaign literature does not back away from the issue.

Says a profile: "In deciding to unify the armed forces he (Mr. Hellyer) carried through a reform that has been advocated by many experts all over the world, but no one—until Paul Hellyer came along—had the courage to actually do it."

What Mr. Hellyer's supporters call courage, his enemies call stubborn arrogance. And probably no man in Ottawa has had more critics during the last few years.

He himself has said that his press ratings are not good and that "I don't think the image the people have of me is an accurate one."

AIMS AT THE TOP

To both friends and enemies, the image is one of a determined man, standing a ramrod-straight six feet 3½ inches and weighing 205 pounds.

It is also the image of a young man who has come up fast and wants to go all the way.

Mr. Hellyer has been running longer and harder than most of his fellow candidates. He entered the Commons at the age of 25, became a cabinet minister at 33 and hopes to be prime minister before his 45th birthday.

Typically, he has planned thoroughly for the race.

Last year, before Prime Minister Pearson announced his retirement, Mr. Hellyer's aides were saying frankly that he would try for the leadership when the job came open.

And when the race started in January, Mr. Hellyer was the first of eight cabinet candidates to run.

As a former businessman and advocate of fiscal restraint, Mr. Hellyer has generally been termed right wing.

But in announcing his candidacy, he called himself a "genuine reformer" and told reporters he is "more radical than you think."

WANTS NEW CITIES

Certainly some of his proposed solutions for urban problems have a radical ring. He has called for creation of new cities with populations of up to 4,000,000 designed around mass rapid transit systems.

The "uncontrolled fury of megalopolis" would be controlled by drawing definite limits around existing cities to permit their orderly redevelopment.

The new cities would be designed with many open, green areas for "softness and coolness."

Mr. Hellyer's affinity for greenness is in keeping with his origins—on a farm near Waterford, Ont.

As a youth he trained as an aeronautical engineer in California, then worked in an aircraft plant in Fort Erie, Ont., from 1942 to 1945. He joined the air force in 1945 and switched to the artillery because the air force no longer needed pilots.

Mr. Hellyer opened a Toronto dress shop with his wife's help, took his BA degree and made his first move into politics with a 1949 victory in the Conservative stronghold of Toronto Davenport.

He was named associate defence minister in 1957, just six weeks before the Liberal government fell, and he himself was defeated in both 1957 and 1958.

But he came back with a by-election victory in Toronto Trinity late in 1958, a win which his campaign literature says started the Liberal "resurgence."

While in opposition he also was prominent in the Toronto construction industry, becoming president of Curran Hall Ltd. before resigning in 1962 to concentrate on politics.

Bygone days Highly destructive Westmoreland will be known for massive use of firepower

TEN YEARS AGO Preliminary plans for a 10-day carousel to be held in Sherbrooke next year were made at a meeting of representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, cultural, artistic and other groups.

The festival will be known as the Carousel of Sherbrooke and will be held from July 23 to Aug. 2, 1959. Its purpose is to promote interest in the Eastern Townships tourist potential.

President of the Chamber of Commerce Sarto Roy, who was chairman of the meeting, emphasized that a great deal of work would have to be done by local citizens if the Carousel was to be a success. He warned that it would take two or three years before the dividends would be received in the form of increased tourist business.

Two Eastern Townships names appeared on the list of ticket holders who drew horses in the sweepstakes conducted by the Quebec Air Force of the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans Association on the Grand National Steeplechase at Aintree, England, Saturday.

MANSONVILLE — According to a message from the headquarters of the 46th Fighter Wing stationed in Guam, Private First Class Grant I. MacDonald, son of Mrs. H. F. MacDonald of Mansonville is now serving as orderly clerk in the 10th Communication Squadron, 46th Fighter Wing, Marianas Islands.

Pfc MacDonald, graduated from Heroes Memorial High School, Cowansville, and enlisted in the air forces in July of 1947. He was assigned to the San Antonio, Texas, aviation cadet center for basic training and upon its completion was transferred to Hamilton Field, California for overseas processing and assignment in the Pacific Theatre.

SAIGON (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland will be remembered for one tactic above all others in Vietnam — his use of massive firepower. Some Americans here are highly critical of it.

"This is the first war in history that the infantryman has been used to support the artillery and the air strikes, and not the other way around," a U.S. battalion commander said early in 1967.

In the strategy of the U.S. commander, who will leave here in July to become U.S. Army chief of staff in Washington, American units pull back whenever contact with the enemy is made. Then aircraft and artillery are called in to do the job that infantry did in other wars.

This strategy has served its basic purpose of saving the lives of American and South Vietnamese troops at each battle scene.

But more and more observers are beginning to question the wisdom of the relentless use of firepower that has scarred the countryside, obliterated hamlets, and lately contributed to the destruction of as much as 50 per cent of some major Vietnamese cities.

Some Americans see this massive use of firepower as the major weakness in U.S. military tactics in Vietnam.

"All that heavy stuff on our side tends to give a U.S. infantry commander a comfy feeling," said an infantry staff officer. "He will use it against a sniper, if necessary."

"It builds a defensive stance in us, permitting the enemy the offensive."

INFANTRY NEEDED

Another officer with two years experience in Vietnam said: "Every effort is made to keep losses down. But without the infantry follow-through, a jungle battle will never result in victory for us."

A senior civilian with military experience assailed what he felt were the overly defensive tactics of U.S. field com-

Sweetsburg Courts

Robbers get heavy sentences

SWEETSBURG WARD — (Staff) — Sessions Judge Gerard Normandin gave members of a province-wide gang of armed robbers, who specialized in robberies in homes a thorough tongue lashing to go with heavy sentences.

In Bedford District Court he sentenced Jean - Marie Boudreault, 39, and Gerald Boudreault, 30, to seven years imprisonment for their part in the robbery at the Granby home of Jules Crevier, when $25,000 in cash, fur and jewelry was stolen. Masicotte also received two years to be served consecutively for an $8,000 robbery in the Town of Mount Royal, and one year consecutive for a $150 robbery in Vimont - Laval. The robberies took place between November 1967 and January 1968.

Boudreault was handed three year consecutive sentences for his part in five other robberies. They are to be served concurrently.

Judge Normandin told the pair that they were extremely fortunate that they had not gone beyond binding their victims, as he would have imposed the lash. The judge told the duo that he had studied depositions from the Quebec Provincial Police and the victims prior to rendering his sentence.

Crown Prosecutor Claude Noiseux had asked for an eight year term for Boudreault, and seven for Masicotte, as both had long standing records. He mentioned that they had cooperated fully with the QPP and helped uncover other members of the gang.

Judge Normandin told two other members of the gang that the remarks applied to them as well. He sentenced Marcel Desjardins to seven years for his part in the Crevier robbery, and another term of seven, to be served concurrently on another charge of armed robbery. He said he had no pity for them.

Diane Drolet, 20, the bell ringer who gained admittance for the gang, was handed three and a half year terms on five charges of armed robbery. They are to be served concurrently.

Judge Normandin said that he could in part sympathize with her case, as she had an unfortunate youth. He said he hoped she would earn an honest living after completing her sentence.

Judge Normandin said that he hoped this would serve as an example to Montreal area bandits who think the District of Bedford has easy pickings and light sentences.

REGIONAL SCHOOL DISCUSSED — Warren Brown, left, Heroes Home and School Association, Tom Blacklock, Philip Lawrence, District of

Bedford Protestant Regional School Board, and E. Bonar Lindsay, Heroes Home and School Association, discuss some of the features of the regional school at a Home and School meeting at Cowansville High, March 19.

School discussed at meeting

COWANSVILLE — (Staff) — Philip Lawrence, Principal of the proposed Cowansville Regional School, and Jim Blacklock, a staff member of the District of Bedford Protestant Regional School Board, discussed the soon-to-be constructed school with members of the Heroes Memorial Home and School Association, March 19.

Mr. Lawrence told the audience how the house system within the school will operate and he assured the parents that they would be able to discuss any problems with the housemaster.

Mr. Lawrence said that the house system will allow a student from a small school to be able to identify with a group, and that the group will remain as a unit from first to last year in the school. This will be most important, with almost 4,000 students attending the school.

Mr. Lawrence anticipated that there would be a five year period before obtaining anticipated results from the school.

Mr. Blacklock made a slide presentation of the proposed school, its location and facilities. He emphasized the color scheme that will prevail through each house, thus further establishing identity within the vast complex. The color scheme, envisioned by Industrial Designer, Jack Cook, takes in furniture, class room decor and locker areas.

Bids on construction of the new regional school will be opened in public at the Cowansville Town Hall, March 28, beginning at 7 p.m.

Politican and wife share math interest

OTTAWA (CP) — Mrs. Mitchell Sharp and her husband share a keen interest in mathematics.

But that's not surprising. Mrs. Sharp holds a degree in maths and physics from the University of Manitoba.

And her father taught the young Winnipeg high school student who was destined to become not only his son-in-law but also federal finance minister and one of the top Liberal leadership contenders.

Mrs. Sharp, then Daisy Boyd, had come to Canada with her mother and father, two sisters and a brother from Ireland in 1911.

As a young girl, she was active in sports and an above-average student.

She loved to skate and became captain of a local hockey team.

WAS TENNIS CHAMP

In the summer she played tennis and at one time won a Manitoba junior tennis championship.

"I played hockey and tennis myself in those days," Mr. Sharp recalls, "but Daisy was better at both than I was. It was a little disconcerting."

In 1934, when Mitchell Sharp was a third-year student at the University of Manitoba, he met Daisy Boyd, also a student there.

She had originally started on a pharmacy course.

Indeed, after graduation, her interest in medicine led her to work for several years at a Winnipeg medical school in the fields of pathology, bacteriology and cancer research.

April 3, 1938, about four years after they met, the Sharps were married in Winnipeg at a United Church ceremony.

KEPT WAR REFUGEE

For about six years during and after the Second World War, the Sharps cared for a little English boy, Lawrence Holden, as well as their own son, Noel.

Lawrence was sent to Canada at age three by his parents when England was being battered by the Luftwaffe in 1941.

"He was just like a son to us," Mrs. Sharp says. "He and Noel, who was also just a small child at the time, had some very good times together."

A love of music also helped to make the Sharps' home gay.

"There has always been music in our home. I played the cello, Mitchell played the piano and our son, Noel, played the clarinet. We made music a good deal together, and had great fun doing it."

Now Noel Sharp is married and a high school vice-principal and French teacher in Bassano, Alta.

His mother is the proud grandmother of Erin, 7, Donna, 5, and Mitchell, 2.

Although Mrs. Sharp has always had a strong political interest, poor health in recent months has made her ruefully resigned to the fact that she will not be able to take too active a part in her husband's leadership campaign.

She hopes, though, to accompany him as much as she can.

Keep Out Dirt

The oftener you use your carpet, sweeper or vacuum, the better. Don't let dirt get ground into your rugs.

Starch-Remover Hint

When starch discolors the bottom of your iron use the special paste cleaner for copper to remove it. Rub a thin paste on the iron, rinse out the sponge with clean water and wipe off the bottom until water forms in droplets. This film will make the iron slide easily.

"Company Linens"

Good advice on "company" linens: Keep using them—don't save them! Launder often to prevent yellowing and fading.

ST. PETER'S GUILD

On Thursday evening March 21, St. Peter's Guild held a meeting in St. Peter's Anglican Church Hall, chaired by Mrs. J. D. R. Franklin, in the absence of Guild President, Mrs. H. Bennett.

Minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. P. LeGallais, in the absence of Secretary, Mrs. H. Howes. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. R. Bartlett.

It was decided to have a cosmetic demonstration, tentative date being May 22 or 29. This evening is open to anyone interested, coffee and cookies will be served and a small admission charge made.

A card party will be held in the Memorial Hall of the church, at 8 p.m., Wednesday, April 17. Conveners are: Mrs. J. Gillam, Mrs. J. Northey and Mrs. E. Hurley. It is hoped for a good attendance, prizes are most attractive. Anyone wishing to place a table reservation should phone Mrs. J. Gillam, 562-2367. Hostesses for this event are Mrs. A. Allenger, Mrs. F. Povey, Mrs. C. Coombs, Mrs. E. Hurley, Mrs. V. Hedenbergh and Mrs. K. Bartlett. There will be a door prize and lunch will be served by the Guild members. Homemade fudge will be sold.

On Wednesday evening at 8 p.m., April 24, and Thursday morning at 9 a.m. April 25, rummage sales will be held in the lower hall, Montreal Street entrance. Mrs. A. Allenger is in charge and will accept calls for pickups, phone 567-8506.

A series of talent evenings are to be held and supervised by the Guild. The first such event held in the Memorial Hall, Monday evening at 8 p.m. March 25, was an evening on bridge.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday April 3, at 2:30 p.m. Members will please note the April evening meeting will be held Tuesday, the 16th at 8 p.m. instead of the 17th as planned.

Following adjournment lunch was served by hostesses, Mrs. K. Bartlett and Mrs. H. Munster.

UNIT THREE UCW

Unit Three United Church Women, Lennoxville United Church, held the regular meeting recently in the ladies' parlor, presided over by the leader, Mrs. D'arcy Bennett. Devotions were led by Mrs. A. B. Lovelace with Mrs. Philip Walton at the piano. The treasurer's report showed a satisfactory balance.

Forty-three visits to sick and shut-ins were reported. The social welfare committee reported that the regular visit to Grace Christian Home had been made. In April two members from Unit Three and two from Unit Five will visit the Home.

Five members planned to go to the cancer dressings workshop this month. All present signed a get-well card to be sent to a member in hospital.

It was reported that plans are proceeding for the annual lawn social in June.

The following dates were noted for attention, April 24, 25, Thrift and rummage sale; and Sept. 21, Unit Three rummage sale.

Mrs. James Green and Mrs. Gregory Bird were in charge of the program and organized a penny sale. A social hour followed during which time tea and coffee were served from a lace-covered table with a centerpiece and decorations appertaining to St. Patrick's Day. Hostesses were Mrs. Fred Hicks, Mrs. Albert E. Bartlett, Mrs. Alex Hodgman and Mrs. Douglas Hadlock.

Baby Oil Keeps Hair Shiny

In the winter, your hair suffers from excessive dryness caused by artificial heat and from perspiration from wearing those pretty fur hats. This creates the dual problem of dry hair that needs more frequent shampooing. The solution to the winter hair problem is to shampoo and condition all in one step. Add a capful of baby oil to your regular shampoo and the mixture will condition the hair and the right amount will be absorbed to preserve shine, softness and manageability.

THE TOTAL PRETTY-GIRL IMAGE FOR SPRING isn't told simply with ruffles and bows by Preston Smith, designer for Fab. Ltd. He believes that shape plays the biggest role in creating a soft feminine look. His bright yellow rayon gabardine jacket (left) is worn over a two-part crepe dress with white top and navy pleated skirt. Double-crepe black and white (center) has bias cut skirt and shiny patent belt. Geometric wool costume (right) is shaped to leave no doubt that it was created for the girl on the go. The twin jacquard pattern reverses, creamy white with brown or blue for the coat and the opposite for the companion dress.

Gibson Girl shirtwaist dress look revived

NEW YORK (CP) — The shirtwaist look is the big spring news. It's not only the ribbed and tucked shirtwaist to be worn with a skirt or a suit, but it's also a one-piece dress, with shirtwaist interest and a definite waistline.

It must not be confused, however, with the slim and unbelted shirt dress that has been around for a couple of seasons and is still popular. This shirt dress was based on men's shirts even to button-down collar and frequently to shirt-tail hemline.

As fashion expert Eleanor Lambert says: "The dress that is barely more than a shirt and the shirtwaist dress which carries echoes of generations of shirtwaisted heroines from the Gibson Girl to Kitty Foyle form one of the major trends of the spring season."

The Gibson Girl was the prototype of the shirtwaisted "new woman" who achieved economic emancipation at the start of this century. For the first time, women worked at other than menial jobs. They became secretaries and store clerks. White shirtwaists and black sidewalk-sweeping skirts became their badge of freedom. Illustrator Charles Dana Gibson put the new worker on record, using his young wife as the model for hundreds of fashion illustrations.

INSPIRE '68 TREND
Kitty Foyle was the heroine of a movie about the "white collar" wage slave who learned about office love the hard way.

So generations apart, these two shirtwaisted heroines are the inspiration for today's latest trend. Both would have swooned with delight over some of the shirtwaisted looks for spring, especially for evening.

Donald Brooks designed a short version in white silk organza with a completely ruffled skirt, ruffled collar-and-front and ruffled cuffs. Navy satin bands the natural waistline. For a formal shirtwaist gown, he mass-ruffled ruby red organza to the floor and added ruffled cuffs and a ruffled collar on the V-neckline.

Count Sarmi, too, likes ruffled organza and lace shirt dresses. One of his combines a jewel buttoned shirt of white lace ruffles with a full skirt of black organza. Suzy Perette creates a champagne organza shirtwaist dress with a ruffled front and a champagne satin belt.

Burlington Industries lined up for its runway showing several of what it called the Kitty Foyles. One was a striped cotton, white bow-collared, by Oscar de la Renta. Another was a shirt dress in a tattoo print with the Mao collar.

STYLES SWING BACK

Shirtwaists and blouses have come and gone in fashion over the years since they were first introduced. In the 1880s shirtwaists were the new look, to go with the first tailor-made suits. The first shirtwaist business was opened in 1891. The early ones were white lawn, surah silk and duck or cheviot. Jessica Daves, in her book, Ready-Made Miracle, mentions there were 472 shirtwaist manufacturers in New York in 1900.

After the First World War, the shirtwaist lost out to the waistless dress. The 1940s brought back the blouse look along with introduction of the dirndl skirt, another 1968 feature. Since then suits and their blouses have been more feminine. But a few seasons ago, the masculine cult took over and the shirt appeared again.

Engagements

Mrs. Barbara Wright, Capleton, Que., announces the engagement of her daughter, Judith Barbara to Mr. Michael Ernest Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Williams, Waterville, Que. No date has yet been set for the wedding.

The engagement is announced of Marilyn Gaye Culverson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Culverson, of Toronto, Ont., to Mr. Reginald Maxfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Maxfield, of Sherbrooke, Que. The wedding will take place in Toronto.

For and about Women

Quick Change

(hair, not clothes) to suit the mood, need no longer be a lengthy process requiring a trip to the hairdresser. A girl needs only a mirror and a collection of wigs. Sylvette Blanc from Toulouse, in London as a competitor for the coveted title, "International Cover Girl," shows how a wig can project the mood a girl feels. With her own brown hair (right) she holds a wig in her hand to see if it suits her present mood.

This is more like it. The Mod Head wig gives her that "saucy" look and it seems that's the kind of mood that Sylvette is in right now.

Still in her "saucy" mood and wearing a wig to match, Sylvette poses among the wigs in a West End salon. What mood will she be in next?

Bringing herself up-to-date with the "Bonnie and Clyde" wig, she looks somewhat like a siren, but a screaming mood is not what she's in. How does she fix that?

Maybe a change of color will help. Here Sylvette tries out the Harlow wig. But although it brings a gleam to her eye, it doesn't suit her mood.

In "Le Triomphe" wig, she takes on that sophisticated look. And at last Sylvette is happy. Her hairdo suits her mood. See how simple it all is with a wardrobe of wigs?

Potential figure skating champions going to Banff for summer training

Any girl or boy who hopes to become a Canadian figure skating champion must be full of self-discipline, possess a strong determination to succeed, and be willing to give up most of the playtime and fun things of life that young people generally take for granted. A figure skating champion isn't made overnight. So if you ever hope to make the grade, you'll have to keep working at it both during the summer as well as the winter months. That's the advice of Osborne

Colson, one of Canada's top professional figure skaters. And he should know because he's been a Canadian Gold Medalist, a seven season star of the Ice Follies, three times Canadian champion and the coach of several Canadian and United States champions. During the winter, Osborne Colson is director and skating professional at the Leaside Memorial Gardens and the Varsity Arena in Toronto. In the hot summer months, he can be found in the Canadian Rockies acting as director of a special figure skating school which is now part of the Banff School of Fine Arts.

This summer, from all parts of Canada and the United States, more than 50 young figure skating hopefuls will pack their bags and head for Banff to receive special training from Colson. Each has hopes of eventually becoming a champion and is prepared to make any sacrifice to achieve that ambition.

So when the temperature hits the 80's or 90's next July, and most other young people are out swimming or playing tennis, these 50 skaters will forget about the bright sunlight and enter a cold, dark rink in Banff, Alta., to concentrate on figure skating and nothing else.

The Banff school is sanctioned by the Canadian Figure Skating Association and training discipline is strict. This isn't a summer course that's taken just for fun. To be accepted, every student must be very serious and gifted with enough talent to make the championship dream a real possibility.

Daily classes begin at 8:30 a.m. and carry through until 9:30 p.m., with advanced training on weekends. Coming off the ice after a long practice, to relax during a rest period, most skaters look for a hot drink and tea or coffee is not always the answer. At Banff last summer, several skaters were the first in Canada to test a new soup - drink called Chug A Mug which is now available in Ontario and Quebec.

Back on the ice after a rest period, Banff figure skaters report that the long training hours pass quickly because of the efficiency of the teaching staff.

Grits try to chill non-serious men

OTTAWA (CP) — The Liberals are trying to put the chill on so-called non-serious candidates who may attempt to grab prime television time at the leadership convention here April 4-6.

A candidate first must have 50 signatures of convention delegates before his nomination is official.

As a further measure to weed out unknowns, the convention's organization committee decided Monday to allot specific speaking times to only nine candidates: The eight in the federal cabinet and Eric Kierans, former Quebec revenue and health minister.

Any other candidates officially nominated may speak only before or after the nine. For all practical purposes, this freezes them out of the live television coverage of the convention.

The nine candidates will be given 30 minutes each between 1:30 p.m. and 6 p.m. Thursday, April 4, at the policy workshops and another half-hour each for their leadership bids between 7 p.m. and 11:30 p.m. Friday, April 5.

Order of speaking will be determined by draw.

This means that any "non-serious" candidate who does manage to get nominated officially can speak only before 1:30 p.m. or after 6 p.m. Thursday and before 7 p.m. or after 11:30 p.m. Friday.

At these times, few, if any delegates are expected to be present. Moreover, there is unlikely to be any television coverage at such times.

There are at least five would-be candidates, including an unemployed actuary and an unemployed camera salesman.

The actuary, John Kroeker of Ottawa, described the committee's action as blatant discrimination.

The organization committee said in a statement that it has a responsibility to ensure "the most orderly procedure."

The party's executive met for more than six hours Monday to work on convention details.

NOTHING ON COWAN

However, the question of barring Liberal MP Ralph Cowan as a delegate did not come up. Senator John Nichol of Vancouver, president of the Liberal federation of Canada, said last week he anticipates Mr. Cowan, MP for York-Humber who voted against a government income tax bill in the Commons, will be barred as a delegate.

All Liberal MPs are automatically delegates unless their credentials are withdrawn.

The credentials committee is expected to deal with Mr. Cowan's eligibility next week before the convention opens.

Voting for the new leader will be conducted Saturday afternoon and evening, April 6.

Financial report from Greenshields Ltd.

With an adequate and flexible supply system, supported by substantial reserves, Charles Hay, President of British American Oil Co., Ltd. said that the outlook for the Canadian oil producing industry is viewed with optimism for the long range. B.A.'s net profit of $44 million ($2.01 per share) for the year 1967 was an increase of 3.5% from $42.5 million ($1.95 a share) for 1966.

Working capital amounted to $17,731,000 at the end of 1967 as compared with $198,389,000 a year earlier. Shareholders' equity amounted to $646,830,000 or $29.50 per share as against $624,529,000 or $28.58 per share the year before.

Directors of Woodward Stores Ltd. have declared a dividend of 26¢ per A and B share, payable April 30-68, to shareholders of record April 5. Dividends are paid semi-annually. Previous payment in October last year was 18¢ per share. On April 29-67, prior to a 2 for 1 split, an extra of 5¢ was paid along with a dividend of 40¢ — equal to a total of 22½¢ per present share. During the three preceding years, semi-annual payments were 35¢ per pre-split (17½¢ per present share) with an extra 5¢ (2½¢ per present share) paid in April 1966.

QUEBEC SCENE:

Will table budget tomorrow

QUEBEC (CP) — A spokesman for Premier Daniel Johnson said Monday the provincial budget for the 1968-69 fiscal year will be presented Wednesday night.

Minister Paul Dozois, recovering from illness in hospital.

Son appears

MONTREAL (CP) — The son of one of the owners of a shoe plant in which a woman was killed in a bomb explosion in 1966 appeared as a defence witness Monday at the non-capital murder trial of Pierre Vallieres, 30.

Pierre La Grenade, a 24-year-old social worker, told Mr. Justice Yves Leduc that as a University of Montreal student in 1965-66 he gave active support to striking workers at the family plant.

Confirm rumors

QUEBEC (CP) — A spokesman for Premier Daniel Johnson Monday confirmed rumors that "telephone espionage" is going on in the offices of several cabinet ministers.

He said in a telephone interview wiretapping was practised in government circles just as it was being carried out in world affairs.

Uncertainty

MONTREAL (CP) — Uncertainty of Quebec's current political situation is not a major factor in the current shortage of capital in the province, a spokesman for Canada's life insurance companies said Monday.

At a news conference, A. Hazlett Lemmon, president of the Canadian Life Insurance Association said:

No mediator

MONTREAL (CP) — The Quebec government has refused to appoint a mediator in its lengthy dispute with 4,500 trade and technical school teachers, Claude Proulx, president of le Syndicat des professeurs de l'etat du Quebec, said Monday.

But times have been rough for Jean as he said his salary usually varied from $30 to $50 a week while in Sherbrooke and he had to pay $20 a week for room and board.

laid off and went to Ontario to pick tobacco. When he returned to Sherbrooke he picked up another job in construction work and the last he heard he hadn't changed his job.

Not long after he arrived, Jean who has 13 years of formal education, thought of taking a course at the University of Sherbrooke but discovered that the shortest course was three years.

But Jean decided this would be too long a period as he doesn't want to be tied down in one place. At present he is looking for any kind of an inside job.

Asbestos Guild plans hat show

ASBESTOS — (Special) — A hat show is being sponsored by the Evening Auxiliary of the United Church in its hall on April 3, when the hats will be supplied by Chez Denise. Plans for this money-raising project were completed at the meeting held March 20 at the home of Mrs. M. McEwen and it was also decided to hold a rummage sale on May 2.

Many other items of business were discussed including the appointing of members to care for the communion service in readiness for Palm Sunday, when the congregation will celebrate communion.

A social hour was enjoyed at the close of the business meeting and refreshments were served by the hostess.

Make agreement

QUEBEC (CP) — A projected agreement to end or at least regulate the encroachment of Quebec unions on one another's territory has been adopted by the Confederation of National Trade Unions, it was learned Monday.

Terms of the entente, approved at a weekend meeting of the 50-man central council of the CNTU, were drawn up by directors of three Quebec union organizations in early March and were submitted to each of the three groups for study.

Panama assembly wants guards to leave palace

PANAMA (AP) — The National Assembly asked the National Guard, backing deposed President Marco A. Robles, to withdraw from around the legislative palace today so it can get to work with the new president it installed.

A spokesman for the 4,000-man guard, the country's only military force, said the request from Assembly President Carlos Agustin Arias was under study. But it was learned that the guard has notified Max Delvalle, sworn in as president Sunday, that he is not authorized to enter the assembly hall.

In impeachment proceedings Sunday, Robles was convicted by a 30-to-0 vote, with 12 minority assemblymen abstaining, on charges that he was promoting his finance minister, David Samudio, to succeed him in the May presidential elections.

The opposition said such support violates constitutional law but Robles countered that the law does not prohibit him from merely expressing a preference. Behind his was the opposition's low regard for Samudio, whose tax reforms have offended Panama's wealthy elite. The opposition National Union, a five-party coalition, is backing former President Arnulfo Arias in the elections.

The guard has said it could not obey the assembly decision to change presidents but would await an opinion from the Supreme Court, which convenes next Monday.

Guardsmen smashed windows and doors of the National Union headquarters Monday and moved in behind a tear-gas barrage to arrest Hildegrando Nicosia, the union's secretary-general, and some 300 others opposed to Robles.

In Washington, U.S. officials said today nothing has occurred so far to force a decision on whether to recognize the Delvalle government. The state department underscored its commitment to work with whichever of the two men Panamanians determine is their president.

Panama's ambassador to the White House, Jorge T. Velasquez, told reporters: "The Robles government is in charge in Panama. Robles was elected by popular vote in a fair election. And I am maintaining my usual relationships with officials of the U.S. government."

QFA reports interest shown in broadcast

PINNACLE — A meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Monahan on Mar. 13.

Continued interest was shown in the broadcast over C.K.T.S. at 7:45 each Monday evening.

The president, Walter Baker, gave an excellent report of the semi-annual meeting of the Q.F.A. which he attended in Montreal, when many of the farmers' problems, were brought before the meeting. They feel they do not receive a fair price for products.

Mr. Baker also reported on the meeting held in Richmond, when results of the pasture competition were announced. Members were pleased to know that Roy Monahan had received honorable mention.

Mr. Monahan, asked to outline the project he plans for the coming season, explained he will not plow the land but use phosphate and other suitable fertilizer and harrow to seed mixture. Mr. Martin, Richmond County Agronomer and Walker Riley, Macdonald College, will visit the farm and examine the results of the venture. If the project is successful it could well be that the plow would find a home in the museum beside great-grandmothers butter churn.

After the meeting refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

Mrs. Isaac Morrill will entertain the members at the April meeting.

OBITUARIES

MRS. C. B. KELLEY, OF DERBY LINE, VT.
DERBY LINE — The funeral of Mrs. C. B. Kelley was held on Tuesday morning, March 19, 1968, from Converse Funeral Home to St. Edward's Church for the Requiem Mass at eleven o'clock. The service was largely attended by relatives and friends.

Father Joseph Connolly was celebrant, assisted by Father Joseph Dussault and Father Lavariere, both of Newport, as deacon and sub-deacon. Mrs. Denise Goudreau was at the organ and accompanied the men's choir and the soloists, Conrad Haselton and Hubert Lussier.

The bearers were Nelson Beattie, Dr. Gilles Bouchard, Charles Taylor, Roy Petelle, Felicien Beaulac and Tony Michaels.

Spring interment will take place in a Coaticook cemetery. Mrs. Kelley, the former Adela Tremblay, was born at Baie St. Paul on March 23, 1910, the daughter of Clovis and Marie (Tremblay) Tremblay. She grew up in the Coaticook area and there attended school. Later she was employed at a business establishment and then taught school.

In January 1938 she was married to C. B. Kelley and thereafter made her home in Derby Line. Mr. Kelley predeceased her on Feb. 28, 1962. After coming to Derby Line, Mrs. Kelley was manager of the Kelley restaurant. She was popular with the customers and made a success of her position. She retired from the restaurant in 1955 and afterwards operated Kelley's Gift Shoppe, of which she also made a success.

Mrs. Kelley had been spending a few days in Boston, Mass., attending a gift show and preparing for summer business. She returned home Friday night and was found dead in her bed the following morning at the home of friends in Beebe, where she had spent the night.

Mrs. Kelley was a former member of the Border Curling Club and the Newport Women's Club and was active as a trustee of the Orleans County Memorial Hospital and the Hospital Auxiliary in Newport. She was also a member of the Altar Society of St. Edward's Church and was on the church pastoral committee.

Mrs. Kelley is survived by two daughters, Shirley, Mrs. Richard Rivard, and Nancy, Mrs. Brian Denney; a grandson; step-grandchildren; and three sisters, Laurette, Mrs. Wilfred, Arnold, Pawtucket, R.I., Simone Mrs. Wilfred Therrien, of Coaticook, and Mrs. Lucia Cameron, of Lewiston, Me.

Among those attending the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Rivard, Derby Line; Mr. and Mrs. Denney, Stanstead; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kelley; Mr. and Mrs. Winston Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. Prescott Kelley, all of Derby Line; Mrs. Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Therrien, Mrs. Cameron, two Reverend Fathers, one from Burlington and another from Graniteville, Vt., both of whom were in the sanctuary; as well as other relatives and friends from Montreal, Sherbrooke, Coaticook, Putnam, Conn., Fort Devens, Mass., and the Boundary Villages.

ORVAL L. LEWIS, of Waterloo
WATERLOO — The death of Orval Leland Lewis occurred, after a prolonged illness, at the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, early on Wednesday, Feb. 29. He was sixty years of age.

Mr. Lewis had been in business in Waterloo for more than twenty years, operating a retail furniture house on the corner of Foster and North Streets. He was well known in the business world of Waterloo and at St. Paul's United Church, where he had been on the board of stewards and had remained an active member.

He had served for about seven years on the Waterloo Protestant School Board, retiring eight years ago. He was also a director of the Plambeau Home in Bondville and had been store, a huge variety of footwear was added, in which shoppers have the choice of latest styles by the best makers of shoes for men, women and children.

Sherbrooke Daily Record Advertising Department Photos

For many years, the names of Smith and Savard have meant clothing to the people of Sherbrooke and this district. Several years ago, through a change in operations, Mr. Gerard Savard became new proprietor of the famous Smith store, which resulted in the firm's present name. The development was a good one, and had special significance for the people of this area, who concerned themselves with the availability of their clothing. To uphold the reputation of both the Smith and Savard names, the new merger saw Smith-Savard continue to give their clientele a good range of quality clothes for men, women and children. The firm's principles of value and selection was stimulated by expansion, which has resulted in today's Smith-Savard Department Store, one of the most impressive clothing establishments in the Eastern Townships.

In our small way, we have contributed to making this new Smith & Savard store a more beautiful and pleasant place to shop.

SHERBROOKE HIGH completed a sweep for the Eastern Townships Saturday when they walked off with the Visser Trophy. Their win gave local cagers the triple crown this year.

LENOXVILLE HIGH Senior girls last week won the MacLeod Trophy for schools off the Island of Montreal and Saturday SHS copped the boys' section. Earlier an All-Star team from the Sherbrooke Basketball League captured the Provincial Catholic High School Tournament.

THESE THREE BIG wins must definitely put our local cagers in the spotlight and proves that basketball has strong roots in the schools and that the girls and boys have come a long way during the past few years.

CONGRATULATIONS ARE in order to Wayne Nugent for a job well done with his SHS squad. Last week it was Rollie Dewar and LHS girls so all in all the local schools have made a name for themselves in Provincial cage circles.

MONTREAL CANADIENS struck with a vengeance on the weekend belting the Detroit Red Wings 7-4 and then wallowing Chicago Black Hawks 7-2 to seal up first place in the NHL Eastern Division. From now on in they can coast but I don't think they will. Coach Toe Blake will make more use of his rookies to give his vets a little rest.

AT CHRISTMAS the Habs were in last place and a lot of people were wondering what was wrong. Since then they have rolled along and finally copped top spot. That is quite a job and the Habs certainly have proven they have it and when they are rolling they are tough to stop.

THE BATTLE for second place is a real one and may only be decided by the last game. The Rangers hold a two point spread over the Boston Bruins and each team has three games left to play. I would assume that neither club is interested in playing the Canadiens in the first round. No doubt they would prefer the Hawks.

THE RANGERS visit Boston Thursday and that will be the big one for the Bruins as they will have to win as they go against the Habs Saturday while the Rangers are at Detroit. The Bruins will no doubt be going all out to cop the tilt and even the battle. It could go to the final game of the schedule.

VICTORIAVILLE TIGERS are proving to all that finishing first in the Quebec Senior League was no fluke. They knocked over the Gauls of St. Hyacinthe and now hold a 2-0 lead over Drummondville Eagles.

COACH POLIQUIN has certainly done a great job with the Tigers in guiding his club through the season and now in their march to the title. It was reported that the Tigers could be stopped by hitting but with a few pointers from their coach the lighter men are sticking to their speed and are using it to good effect.

PAUL-EMILE MICHEL, in his silent way, with Lou Poliquin did a very good job in securing players at the start of the season and it has paid off. They made several trips last spring to sign new men and now they are reaping the reward for their work.

THE EAGLES HAVE failed to get back in high gear since knocking over the Sherbrooke Beavers. The layoff hurt them a lot. Their timing and shots around the net are way off which comes from failing to play for a week or so. The Tigers had a tough series with the Gauls and when they opened with the Eagles they were in high gear. The results have proven this.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON I dropped up to the Arena to see the youngsters in action and I saw some very good hockey. The kids had plenty of fight and drive and gave a good exhibition. It was a shame there weren't more fans on hand to watch.

GERRY HANSEN and his Sherbrooke Minor Hockey Association along with City Sports Department have done a wonderful job and they certainly deserve a lot of credit. They have put in a lot of hours but the youngsters are certainly enjoying themselves.

QUITE A FEW of the kids have all the moves and they know what to do with the puck. It was nice to watch them and I enjoyed every minute of it. Pie X School won their section title and you would have thought it was the Stanley Cup or Allan Cup. Everyone was congratulating each other and after the game they lined up at centre ice and shook hands with their opponents who just a little while before they were battling. They were all smiles. It was quite a show.

CURLING IS GRADUALLY coming to an end but just at present the interest is still high with a few final bonspiels listed for the next couple of weeks.

RON NORTHCOTT and his rink proved that the Canadians are still tops in the game with their victory over Chuck Hay and his Scottish rink. Friday evening it didn't look too rosy for the Canadians but Saturday they went to work and when Skip Hay made two misses the Northcott rink jumped right on them to chalk up some points.

AT LENOXVILLE some good curling was witnessed in the Labatt Mixed Bonspiel before the winners emerged. Ossie Smith pulled through over Harold Mooney in an extra end while Forrest Lord copped the consolation over Roy Wiggett.

THIS WAS SOMETHING new that was tried with all rinks mixed up. The chairman of the men and ladies committees picked the rinks and I think they did a wonderful job. If the men players were from Sherbrooke the ladies came from Lennoxville and vice-versa. This was quite a change from the usual procedure when the skip picks his own rink.

I DON'T KNOW whose idea it was but I believe it was a great thing as a lot of curlers met people they never knew and maybe would never had the opportunity of doing so. After watching the games during the week I would say that everyone who took part in the event certainly enjoyed themselves and are looking forward to it next year.

CHARLIE WARNER was looking after reporting scores along with Harold Mooney so things were under good control. Lynn Maysenholder of Labatt's, who sponsored the Spiel, presented the prizes to the finalists to complete a great week of curling.

Claude Hardy and Coach Lou Poliquin unanimous choice on QSHL All-Star

The first All-Star team of the Quebec Provincial Senior Hockey League was released by President Len O'Donnell yesterday afternoon following a special poll. It was decided that the newsmen who covered the league during the past season would select the All-Star squads. Each player named to the first team collected two points while those on the second picked up a point.

There was only one unanimous selection and that was Claude Hardy, goalie for the Victoriaville Tigers. He was the first choice on all the votes while Lou Poliquin was named as the coach of the All-Star team on all ballots cast. They were the only two who were picked by all voters. Jean-Guy Charbonneau of the Granby Vics was named coach of the second All-Star squad. Charbonneau, who was in his first year as coach of the Vics, was chosen for his work with his club. Although they didn't make the playoffs the voters decided his work was sufficient for him to earn the second choice.

Jean Therrien and Lee Hardy, both from Drummondville, drew the defensive spots on the first team, while Bill Dupre copped the centre position with Rene Pepin of Sherbrooke and Bob Berry of the Nationals as the wingers. Therrien picked up nine points out of a possible 14 while Hardy drew eight. Veteran Rene Pepin picked up 10 points while Bob Berry earned the same number. Dupre at centre picked up nine points out of a possible 14.

The voting for positions on the second team were closer. Claude Cyr of Drummondville was chosen as the goalie while Jacques Begin of Drummondville copped one defensive spot with seven points while Roland Campeau of Granby and Clemeant Boudreau of Victoriaville were deadlocked with five well picked as they saw all the teams in action during the schedule.

Among others who picked up votes were: Andy Payette, St. Hyacinthe, 2, Steve Rexe, Nationals, 1, were the only goalies voted on. For defencemen Lionel Robidas, Sherbrooke, 3, J. C. Marcotte, Tigers, 2, and Dion Mascotto, St. Hyacinthe, 1.

The forwards who drew votes were, Gilles Gosselin, St. Hyacinthe, 3, Wayne Freitag, Nationals, Real Viens and Gilles Gratton, both of St. Hypoints each.

The centre post was won by Andre Laguerre of Drummondville with five points while Clement Tremblay and Guy Black, both of Victoriaville, took the wing positions each with four points.

The voting was very close as number of points indicate and well divided. It was the first time the league has ever had the All-Stars chosen by members of the press, radio and TV and the selections seem to be cinthe, all had 2 points. Gilles Renaud, Granby, Andre Besette, Victoriaville, and Derek Holmes, Nationals, drew one point each to complete the voting.

EAGLES IN TOUGH SPOT Drummondville Eagles find themselves in an unaccounted position this evening when they face the Tigers of Victoriaville in the third game of the best of seven finals in the Senior Hockey League. The Eagles are down 2-0 in the series.

There's no doubt Habs are in first place, while goalies eye the Vezina

MONTREAL (CP) — About the only things that appear certain in today's National Hockey League statistics are that Montreal Canadiens have won first place in the East Division, while their netminders—Lorne (Gump) Worsley and Rogation Vachon—have a stranglehold on the Vezina Trophy.

In both the East and West Divisions jockeying is still going on for the other orders of finish.

New York Rangers are currently second to Montreal in the East, with Boston Bruins and Chicago Black Hawks giving the New Yorkers a battle. Only five points separate the three teams. All have three games left to play.

In the West Division, Los Angeles Kings and Philadelphia Flyers are tied for first place with 71 points, although the Flyers have a game in hand. Minnesota North Stars and St. Louis Blues are in third and fourth place respectively four and seven points behind the leaders.

The individual scoring race also appears likely to go right down to the wire. Stan Mikita of Chicago Black Hawks is holding the top spot with 83 points on the strength of 39 goals and 44 assists.

HOWE A CLOSE SECOND However, with three games each to play, Gordie Howe, who will reach his 40th birthday

March 31, is only three points behind Mikita. The season closes on that date, and if Howe could overtake the Chicago centre it would mark the seventh time in his 22-year career he has won the scoring title.

Howe's 39 goals are the most he has scored in 11 seasons. He scored 44 in the 1956-57 schedule. Last week he scored three goals and collected three assists to narrow Mikita's margin.

Another player with a chance at the title is centre Phil Esposito of Boston with 79 points, four fewer than Mikita. Rangers' Jean Ratelle is fourth with 76, followed by Chicago's Bobby Hull—who leads in goals with 44—and Rod Gilbert of New York, each with 75 points.

Norm Ullman of Toronto Maple Leafs is seventh with 70 points. John Bucyk of Boston and Detroit's Alex Delvecchio are next with 68, one more than Canadiens' Ken Beliveau and Chicago's Jean Wharram.

The runner-up award for the Vezina Trophy is still a two-team race, with Philadelphia's twosome of Doug Favell and Bernie Parent currently holding a six-goal lead on Johnny Bower and Bruce Gamble of Toronto.

The Worsley-Vachon combo leads the Philadelphia pair by 14 goals.

Baltimore pitchers stretch shutout string to 33 innings

It's only baseball spring training, but Baltimore pitchers are bringing back 1966 memories, erasing 1967 nightmares and raising 1968 hopes.

Oriole hurlers extended their shutout string to 23 innings Monday before Chicago White Sox scored once, not enough as Baltimore beat the Sox 2-1 for its fourth straight victory.

Two errors by Chicago pitcher Gary Peters on a sacrifice bunt set up Mark Belanger's winning sacrifice fly in the seventh.

During last year's disappointing sixth-place finish, when sore arms and injuries hampered the hurlers, the Orioles came up with many new faces. They include rookie Roger Nelson, Brad Dillman, Jim Hardin, Gene Brabender, John O'Donoghue and Pete Richert, the other weekend shutout pitchers.

HORTON INJURED

At the same time Detroit Tigers' pennant hopes suffered a blow when slugging Willie Horton bruised a shoulder tendon in a 5-1 loss to Atlanta Braves as Tito Francona homered and later scored the winning run.

Horton, injured while making a tumbling catch in left field, is expected to be out a week.

California lost pitcher Jim McGlothlin in the second inning with a muscle spasm in his back, but Chuck Hinton's bat powered the Angels to a 9-3 victory over San Francisco Giants.
--

Houston Astros had their eight-game winning streak snapped when Philadelphia Phillies broke a 2-2 tie with eight runs in the last three innings for an 8-2 triumph as Grant Jackson and rookie Larry Colton combined on a three-hit-ter.
--

Rich Nye held Cleveland Indians to six hits and no walks in eight innings in a 7-2 Chicago Cub victory.

Nancy Greene, Canada's ski queen, announces retirement

ROSSLAND, B.C. (CP) — Nancy Greene, Canada's ski queen, said Monday she will retire from international competition after the remaining two World Cup meets.

Miss Greene, 24, who won gold and silver medals in the 1968 Winter Olympics at Grenoble, France, will ski before her hometown fans at a World Cup international meet that begins Thursday on Red Mountain here.

"It was a tough decision to make," said Miss Greene, who began skiing on Red Mountain when she was only 2½ years old.

"When I was at Aspen the weekend before last, the thought that I might be skiing my last downhill race... well it almost made me cry."

The Rossland meet will be the first World Cup race for the Canadian girl since the Aspen, Colo., meet and she won't have the opportunity to ski any more downhill races. The remaining two meets consist of slalom and giant slalom only.

Miss Greene, who arrived here Monday from Sun Valley, Idaho, said she has been considering retirement for the past two weeks.

"I know I have to stop skiing sometime—but it's really going to be hard," she said in an interview.

Miss Greene, the defending World Cup champion, said that after the final cup race at Heavenly Valley, Calif., she will return to Notre Dame University at Nelson and write examinations. She is in her freshman year and is taking history.

"I've missed a lot of classes this year," she said. "But I've been doing lots of reading to make up for it."

"After that? Well, I'm going to keep active in skiing. Maybe by helping the juniors or coaching or possibly by doing some public relations for amateur skiing."

She added with a laugh: "I have no specific plans—I'm open for offers."

Miss Greene leads women skiers for the World Cup with 176 points, followed by France's Isabelle Muir with 150 points and Florence Steurer, also of France, with 124.

Miss Wendy Hadlock, Gary Labrecque and Keith Jenne, Cowansville attended the Young Farmers' Club Conference, held recently at St. Anicet. They represented Cowansville at this, the first conference for English Clubs in the Province of Quebec. The three topics discussed were: What Do We Need for Young Farmers' Organizations? What We Have in 4-H Clubs Now? What Further Possibilities are There? and How Are We Going to get What We Need? What Action Must We Take? A social evening with dancing and a sing-along was held on the final evening. The conference lasted three days and was most enlightening.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucien LeBlanc have left to spend a holiday in Florida, visiting their son Robert, who went down there to live last November, and other relatives. They will be gone several weeks.

The management and staff of The Missisquoi and Rouville Insurance Company were sorry to learn of the sudden death of Mr. James A. Jolley, Knowlton. Mr. Jolley was an agent of the company for several years and visited the office frequently.

Miss Kathy Boast, Bishop's University, spent a week's holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Boast.

welcomed several Vietnam students who came from the Sherbrooke University. The guests were great table tennis players and the visit was much enjoyed.

Mrs. Archie Mosher, St. Anastead, spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. Harry Webster, Lennoxville, and visiting other relatives and friends there and at the Sherbrooke Hospital.

Mrs. Raymond Grow has returned to her home in Derby Line after spending the winter months with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Grow and family at Irving, Texas. En route Mrs. Grow visited a niece, Mrs. Robert Terry and family at Fayetteville, N.C.

Mrs. W. H. Davis and her brother, Mr. Forest Hills, Rock Island-Beebe Road, have returned home after spending over two weeks with their sister, Mrs. Justin Wendell and Mr. Wendell at Worcester, Mass. On March 16 Mrs. Davis and Mr. Hills were weekend guests of Mrs. Davis' son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Davis, North Hatley, where a birthday anniversary on March 15 and Mr. Davis' on March 16 were celebrated.

Miss Patricia Sisco, a student at Bishop's University, Lennoxville, has returned after spending the holiday week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Galeon Sisco, and family, Rock Island-Beebe Road, Galt, Ont., spent a few days with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Sisco and family.

they visited Mr. Comstock's mother, Mrs. Albertie Comstock at Youville Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Reg Cramer, Fairlee, Vt., were recent visitors of their cousin, Mrs. Geneva Lyons, Rock Island.

Miss Susie Young, Maplemount, Cookshire, spent the weekend with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Rollins and family, Rock Island. While here Susie observed her tenth birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell French, Karyn and Kimmy, Ville LaSalle, were weekend guests of Mrs. French's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earle Farley and Ronnie, Rock Island. March 16 was Mrs. French's birthday and the family dinner included four generations at the table.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bowen and family entertained at a dinner party on Mar. 15 to honor the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Bowen's mother, Mrs. W. H. Davis of the Rock Island-Beebe Road. The dinner included the traditional birthday cake, made and beautifully decorated by Mrs. Gaston Mongeau. Mrs. Davis was the recipient of several gifts and cards from her family and many of her friends. The dinner party included three generations, Mrs. Davis, her brother, Mr. Forest Hills, Mr. and Mrs. Bowen, Sheila and Susan, also Miss Sharleen Bowen a student nurse at the Sherbrooke Hospital, Mr. and Mrs. Gaston Mongeau and two children and Mrs. Byron Ellis. After dinner the remainder of the evening was spent playing cards and chatting.

Drugs-Diet Program Helps In Bladder Infections

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—A urologist says I have a nonspecific bacterial infection in my bladder. Antibiotics have not helped. Is there anything that will clear it up? Would the fact that my uterus presses on my bladder cause this infection?

A—Different bacteria require different antiseptics and, in some cases, tests must be made to determine whether the organisms causing the infection have become resistant to the treatment used. Pressure from inside the pelvis may irritate the bladder and cause frequent urination but will not cause infection.

Q—I am a woman, 72, and have a constant urge to urinate. When I do, I have a burning pain. What can I take for it?

A—First, have your doctor determine the cause. A treatment program might include drugs and diet that will change the acidity or alkalinity of your urine, urinary antiseptics and drugs to soothe your bladder. In stubborn cases, it may be necessary to irrigate the bladder with a weak solution of silver nitrate or some other antiseptic.

Q—Can an ulcer of the bladder be cured? Does it turn to cancer?

A—Chronic ulcers of the bladder are notoriously hard to cure. Local treatment through a cystoscope is usually required. Chronic irritation of the bladder may be a precipitating cause of some cancers.

Q—My doctor found pus in my urine. What is the cause?

A—The cause is an infection in the kidneys, bladder or both. Urinary antiseptics usually clear up this condition.

Q—My bladder has fallen. My doctor says I should have it repaired but it doesn't bother me. It has been like that for 20 years. Are there any exercises that would help? If the bladder is put back in place, will it stay put?

A—A repair operation for a bladder that protrudes into the birth canal is usually advisable to prevent a bladder infection. I know of no exercise that will hold your bladder in place. Since your cystocele is a result of one or more deliveries and since I assume you are past the childbearing age, there should be no danger of a recurrence after the operation.

Q—My doctor says I have scar tissue in my urethra and must have more cystoscopic dilations. Won't this instrumentation cause more scarring? If not, how many more treatments will be necessary?

A—If the instrumentation is properly performed by a qualified urologist, it will not cause scarring. Many treatments are usually required. The number depends on the progress made toward correction of the underlying cause. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Scotstown social notes

Sergeant Ronald Claricoates, Mrs. Claricoates, Philip and Elizabeth, Kingston, Ont., arrived on March 15 to spend a week with Mr. and Mrs. Philip Boy. Mr. Eddy Echenberg and daughter, Kathy, Sherbrooke, were also guests at the same home and were accompanied home by Mrs. Echenberg, who had spent two days with her parents. Congratulations are being extended to Mr. John J. MacIver, who celebrated his 85th birthday on March 16. Mr. MacIver is in good health, plays shuffleboard and attends the weekly card parties.

Mrs. Real Boulanger was taken by surprise on March 16 when five little friends of her son, Michael, arrived to help him celebrate his birthday. Michael had invited his friends but failed to tell his mother he had asked them. The children played games and Michael received several gifts. Mrs. Bill MacAskill assisted Mrs. Boulanger in serving refreshments, including a cake she had planned to use on Sunday, which she decorated with candles for a birthday cake.

ARDA

PACING PROGRESS...

No Canadian should remain indifferent to the fact that there is, in this country, a program whose objective is to promote progress in disadvantaged rural areas.

ARDA is a joint Federal-Provincial program and its goals are to increase income and employment opportunities of rural people and increase the efficient use of rural lands.

In order to achieve these objectives, ARDA is using various means:

- the regrouping of small farms into larger units in order to increase their efficiency.
- the dredging, water flow control and other drainage works to permit cultivation of a greater area of land or to increase existing output.
- the enlargement and modernization of fisheries and processing centres.
- the encouragement of growth in existing nurseries and the building of new ones.
- the establishment, in Quebec, of camping and tourist sites and outdoor recreation areas.
- the elaboration of regional development plans such as the BAEQ (Bureau d'Aménagement de l'Est du Québec).

In brief, social and economic development for rural people and optimum utilization of natural resources are the two concepts inspiring ARDA.
