Unity Boys' Club

Summer program outlined,
zoo and camping top list

By MAURICE MARIASINE

It was announced this week that the Unity Boys' Club 1960 summer program will begin on Wednesday, June 29, with a bus trip to the Granby Zoo. Tentative plans also include weekly tours through industrial firms, bi-weekly trips to St. Helen's Island, a cruise on the S.S. Island King, a learn-to-swim project, arts and crafts, sports days and other special events.

All club members are urged to register early for the Granby Zoo trip. Only 60 youngsters will be eligible to go, so please get your names in at the earliest convenience.

It is also time now to register for summer camp in the Laurentian Mountains. The boys are asked to see John Meister for Camp Lewis and the girls should see Crystal Cunningham for information about camping for girls.

The Club Champion in table tennis is Ben Fernandes.

The Club Champion in checkers is Wayne Dallas.

The Club Champion in chess is Wayne Dallas.

PHOTOGRAPHY: Noel Ryan's photography class, the Brownie Club, after having received their basic photography fundamentals during the past several months, have now advanced to learning the techniques of enlarging. The group plan to have a display at the Hobby Show.

HANDICRAFTS: The following groups are currently engaged in producing and completing articles for the forthcoming Hobby Show: The puppet class under Joseph Barg; woodwork under the instruction of Matthew Roguski; embroidery under the leadership of Mrs. S. Simmons and Mrs. J. Warren; paper sculpture under Texas Crogan; Crystal Cunningham and the Scrap Book Club; Art under the direction of Miss D. Gage; creative crafts with Mrs. Fitzpatrick and Crystal Cunningham's Pillow Craft; fretwork and Indian Lore with Louis Thomas. Michael Ryan's woodworking group is also making preparations for the big event.

REUNION SIDELIGHTS: It was very gratifying to witness the presentation of bronze plaque awards to three staunch supporters of the Unity Boys' Club for more than a decade — those honored were: William G. Moxley and Donald B. Ross, pioneers in the early development of the Club and Clarence A. Wylie, executive director of the Montreal Boys' Association. Mr. Wylie has been affiliated with the operation of the Club since 1947.

Another presentation worthy of note was the special awards to three long service and present active members who have been associated with the Unity Boys' Club in the dual roles of members and leaders; since 1948: They are: Keith and Douglas Gavin and Douglas Wright.

The interview with several of the former members was very illuminating and most interesting. Many had a story to tell and there was an area of success surrounding most of the stories.

The 10th Anniversary Reunion of former members was very successful and most of the 100 that attended were hopeful of a continuation of this event.

Westmount Masons will hold annual service at Valois

The annual church service of Westmount chapter Royal Arch Masons will be held this year in the Presbyterian Church of St. Columba By-The-Lake, Valois, this coming Sunday evening May 8.

The Rev. W. Lorne Lemoyne, minister of St. Columba, will preach the sermon and the hour of service is 7:30 p.m. with the Royal Arch Companions and the Brethren of Craft Lodges assembling at 7 p.m. Regalia will be worn, either Royal Arch or Blue Lodge.

In an endeavour to make this service interesting, certain forms and rituals familiar to Royal Arch Masons will be adapted.

Two years ago Westmount Chapter held its annual church service in The Church of the Resurrection, Valois, of which the Rev. A. E. Hawes, a Companion of Westmount, is the Rector.

All Masons, whether Royal Arch Companions or Craft Lodge Brethren, are invited to be present. It is particularly desirable that Brethren and Companions from jurisdictions other than that of the Grand Lodge or Grand Chapter of Quebec accept this opportunity of forming an acquaintance with local Brethren and Companions.

It is expected a full turnout of Grand Chapter officers will lead the processional. Rt. Ex. Comp. Gordon E. Laurie, Grand Superintendent of District No. 2 will be present.

SIR CHARLES CARSON

Funeral for Sir Charles Frederick Carson, B. Eng., MC, CBE, 1321 Sherbrooke west who died Tuesday at the age of 76 at Montreal General Hospital after a lengthy illness, was held from the Church of St. James the Apostle, yesterday, at 2 p.m., with burial at Kingston, Ont.

Born in Kingston, in 1884, Sir Charles attended the Royal Military College, from which he graduated in 1908, having won the Sword of Honor and the Governor General's Gold Medal. He also attended Queen's University and Staff College in England.

He served with the Royal Engineers from 1908 until 1944, and played an active part in both world wars.

He was seconded to North-Western Railway, in India, in 1913, where he became general manager in 1935, a post he held until retirement in 1940. Sir Charles was knighted in connection with his Indian railway service.

During the First World War, he commanded the 130th Field Company Royal Engineers (25th Division), the 78th Field Company Royal Engineers (17th Division), and the 3rd Field Squadron Royal Engineers (3rd Cavalry Division).

During the Second World War, Sir Charles served as Chief Engineer, Special Force, London, and later as Director of Transportation in Iraq and Iran. Upon his retirement from active service in April, 1944, he was created a Commander of the British Empire for his service in the Middle East.

In 1944, he was appointed executive vice-president of the Montreal Locomotive Works, Ltd., a post he held for seven years until his retirement in 1951.

Keenly interested in sports, he played hockey and football for Royal Military College and Queen's University, and rugby for the Army Field at the Imperial Staff College at Quetta in India and in England.

At the time of his death, Sir Charles was a member of the United Service Club, London; the St. James' Club, Montreal; the University Club, Montreal; the Royal Montreal Golf Club; and the Royal Montreal Curling Club.

He was honorary chairman of the Herbert Reddy Memorial Hospital and, at the time of his death, was on the advisory committee of the Church of St. James the Apostle.

Sir Charles is survived by his second wife, the former Nadine Kerr, whom he married in 1949 after the death of his first wife; three sons, Col. R. J. Carson, F. S. Carson, and P. J. Carson; and by a daughter, Mrs. J. B. Claxton.

PC financial policies criticized by Marler

The Canadian government should use the good years to budget surpluses for the recession years instead of running up deficits, Hon. George C. Marler, former Liberal MP for St. Antoine-Westmount, said last Wednesday.

Speaking to the Montreal Chapter of the Society of Residential Appraisers, in the Reform Club, the former Liberal Minister of Transport said the Conservative Government has added $1,250,000,000 to national expenditures since 1956-57, the year of the last Liberal budget.

"These increases, we are asked to believe, were deliberate. The government has repeatedly told us that all it has done is a part of a carefully prepared plan aimed at meeting the recession," Mr. Marler said.

"What I find disconcerting is that the increases have been so large, and seem to be so permanent," he declared.

Mr. Marler said that nearly half the increase has gone for health, welfare and social security.

"These now account for about 25 per cent of our expenditures," he said.

"I find it hard to believe that these expenditures were increased merely to boost consumer spending, for no one really thinks that they will be reduced."

On the contrary, he stated, "I predict that the Conservatives are going to increase old age payments before the next general election."

In speaking of taxes, Mr. Marler said:

"In the election campaign of his father in 1907 as president of Ahern Safe Co. Ltd., founded in 1880.

A lifelong resident of Westmount, he attended local schools and McGill University, graduating in civil engineering.

Mr. Ahern was a member of the Mount Stephen Club, the Rotary Club of Montreal, the MAAA and the Lawyers' Club of New York.

He is survived by his wife, the former Marion Radcliffe; two daughters, Mrs. W. P. Naumann and Mrs. R. H. Schaedel, both of East Orange, N.J.; and two grandsons, Robert and Peter.

1957, Canadians from coast to coast were told that every man, woman and child had had his or her pocket picked of $30."

TAX INCREASE

The average Canadian in 1960, however, will be called upon to produce nearly $47 . . . an increase of "nearly $17 more in taxes than he did when it was said that his pocket was being so badly picked," Mr. Marler declared.

The decision to convert the three per cent Victory Loans was taken, according to Mr. Marler, "quite unwisely". The move was necessary, however, he said, to finance the $1,400,000,000 overall deficit called for in the Conservative budget of 1958.

This conversion turned out to be "a very expensive operation."

"In the first place it added $75,000,000 a year to debt service charges; second, it committed the government to pay for long terms rates of 4 1/4 and 4 1/2 per cent because, even if rates dropped, the government could not redeem the conversion bonds which were made non-callable; third, it brought about a substantial further increase in the money supply; and, finally, and perhaps more important, it led to a new and much higher level of interest rates than Canadians of this generation had ever known."

CHINESE YEARS

Coat in door, man injured by automobile

An 85-year-old man, Louis Prevost, 364 Elm avenue, suffered a fractured left arm, cuts and abrasions on his forehead Saturday afternoon when he was dragged along the street for a short distance by a car driven by his daughter, Miss Eileen Prevost.

Miss Prevost told police she had let her father out of the car at 4168 Sherbrooke street and started away when she heard a man cry out, telling her to stop. She immediately applied her brakes and got out to investigate.

A passerby, Norman Leonard, 1855 Bourbonniere, noticed the old man's coat was caught in the car door as Miss Prevost started to drive off. He shouted for her to stop, but the man had already been dragged to the street, causing the injuries.

Sweeping grass on public street is City offence

Westmount Chief of Police Richard Edmonstone has instructed his department to issue summonses to any residents caught sweeping rubbish on to the public streets or sidewalks instead of placing it in proper receptacles.

The Chief said residents commonly swept their cut grass and similar articles into the gutter, although there is a City bylaw prohibiting this.

"Any caught doing this throughout the summer will be hauled into court," he warned.

The Chief also reiterated his department's cry over the past few weeks that residents should obtain their bicycle licence plates at City Hall any day except Saturday from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. Licences were due for renewal on May 1.

He said bicycle owners and parents whose children have tricycles or small wagons should register the serial numbers where applicable, and put their name and address and telephone number under the seat or some such place to aid police in identification purposes should the vehicle be stolen or lost.

$20,000 for haul — Saint Laurent Police Friday night uncovered what is believed to be part of the operations of an Island-wide stolen furs ring and seized some $20,000 in allegedly stolen furs. Ward of the Westmount Police Department who is checking his stolen furs list against those recovered by Saint Laurent Police and Constable, Jean-Marie Babeau who is connected with the investigation.

Civic departments ordered to reduce accident claims

Approval of a claim for $108.26 from Westmount's insurance reserve payable to Mrs. Rosalind Goodman to cover cost of damages to her car at the intersection of Chesterfield and Prince Albert on March 10 brought a terse comment from pro-Mayor C. H. Drury: "We have these claims appearing in Council minutes from time to time and I wish to assure Council we are trying to reduce them."

Mr. Drury further elaborated that many of the accidents involving city vehicles occurred in the winter, and especially during snow removal.

"In spite of the care taken by operators," he said, "they are often working under difficult conditions with poor visibility. It seems to be an occupational hazard, but all departments are trying to reduce these claims."

Mrs. Goodman was proceeding west on Chesterfield when her automobile was struck by a shovel loader of the Public Works Department, which backed on to the roadway. The driver applied his brakes when he saw Mrs. Goodman's car, but was unable to stop in time to avoid the accident.

Her original claim was for $183.55, but was revised by the City to $108.26, on which settlement was based.

The City Attorney is of the opinion that the City driver was at fault.

OTHER BUSINESS

Alderman Backler labored through the second reading — and called for the third reading — of a by-law to amend by-law 146, to provide for electric lighting. Updating the 1904 original, the first reading was given last week.

The call for the third reading prompted pro-Mayor Drury to ask Mr. Swan if it was legal to give the second and third reading at once.

On learning that the motion was quite right, Mr. Drury declared the amended by-law as law.

In the wake of unofficial criticism of the City's parks and playgrounds organization Alderman Bovaird managed a beaming smile at a letter read to Council by Mr. Swan. The letter in contrast to criticism was written by Dr. G. Buchanan complimenting Alderman Bovaird and his department for the excellent rink facilities provided at Roslyn school.

The letter said the ice surface was always maintained in excellent condition throughout the winter, and the rink this winter was the best in the history of the school.

Mr. Bovaird said he would pass along the letter to the men in his department.

Mr. Swan then read a letter from Mrs. McSween, 6126 Monkland, who thanked the City of Westmount for its gift of flowers for her mother on her 100th birthday, celebrated recently.

Mrs. McSween, it was explained was for many years an employee of the City.

City announces tender details

Graham, Armstrong Securities Limited on behalf of a syndicate composed of Geoffrion, Robert & Gelinas Inc. and themselves have been the successful bidders in the City's call for tenders on non-callable debentures amounting to $1,010,000.

The announcement was made to Council by secretary-treasurer A. W. D. Swan at a regular meeting Monday night.

The tender calls for a coupon interest of 4 3/4 per cent at 94.76, giving a yield of 5.638 per cent.

A special session of Council was held at 2 p.m. Monday afternoon for the purpose of opening and examining the nine bids received. Details of the bids were immediately telephoned to the Quebec Municipal Commission which worked out the most advantageous one to accept from the City's standpoint.

The reply was made in time for the announcement at the regular evening meeting.

Alderman Common, noting the successful firm had already been notified, offered the congratulation of Council to the firm's representative, Jean St. Pierre, who was present, on their successful bid.

The debentures are dated from May 1 and redeemable serially from November 1, 1960 to November 1, 1974, payable semi-annually on May 1 and November 1 each year.

OTHER BIDDERS

Details of the eight other bids were made public at the regular meeting:

Boulet Ltée and themselves, $839,000 of debentures maturing from November 1, 1960 to November 1, 1974 at 5%; $171,000 maturing from November 1, 1970 to November 1, 1974 at 5 1/2%. The price worked out at 95.42 for a yield of 5.912%.

Forgotten cigarette in locked automobile starts serious fire

Urgel Chabot of St. Blaise has learned not to leave a burning cigarette in his car when he goes visiting.

Westmount Fire Department was called Monday to extinguish a fire in the interior of a parked car at 3065 Sherbrooke street west. When they arrived they found the driver was not there and the car was locked.

They had to break open the vent window of the car to gain entrance to put out the flames.

The firemen reported the upholstery and the interior of the car was gutted.

WE SAY YOU SAY

Clean up, paint up; everyone's doing it

THE call to clean up and paint up isn't heard so insistently these springs.

Time was it was an annual exhortation. Mayors proclaimed special days and weeks, suppliers of all the necessary paints, hoses, seeds, etc., enthusiastically got behind the beautification drives.

Times have changed.

Haven't heard of proclamation over the twittering of the birds.

And the hardware stores are so busy dealing with home-improvers and do-it-yourselfers that they take the clean-up-paint-up season in stride.

Reason, of course, is change in basic attitude. More folks now make mortgage payments where they used to pay rent. The property is theirs — or so they like to think — and pride of ownership manifests itself.

Folks also have more leisure. After all, one can watch only so much TV — and then must do something.

Keeping up with the Joneses — or whatever their name next door — these days makes status seekers out of normally indolent types. A peeled porch or a brown lawn no longer is a mark of individuality and character; these neglects are the royal route to social oblivion.

No. No need to proclaim a clean-up.

Everybody's doing it.

BY THE WAY

THE "Nibblestone Argus and Piff Cross Messenger," undeterred by my threat of an action for libel, alleges that apart from any sums of money I may have received from Snibbo, I accepted sundry gifts. They mention 124 tins of tooth-paste, a day trip to Boulogne, a macintosh, a pair of braces, a mustard-pot, a sieve, free tickets for a lecture on cement and a lorry-load of scrap. I would recommend this scurrilous rag to get its facts right.

Send questions to WMA today

Sir: We all, and especially the children, are delighted to see the swings going up, and know that soon will follow the sand and the slides.

Why not let everybody see the new plans for Westmount Park? Why keep them SECRET? It could just be that 30,000 people might come up with some good ideas and suggestions as to how to spend $60,000. Anyway, that is what the experts advise, and it is DEMOCRATIC.

Now, I am very sorry that I will be unable to attend the Municipal Association meeting on Tuesday, May 10, but I am going to send in some questions, and hope those who can will do so too, by May 6 to Mrs. Lyman Duff, and that as many as possible will go to this meeting, and try to help broaden the base of this organization and make it more democratic, and so make it and the City Council more responsible to the needs and wishes of the people, instead of being the private preserve of the few.

Certainly we are extremely proud of Westmount in so many ways, but that does not mean to say that there are not some things that we are ashamed of. "Unto whom much is given, much will be required." 52 years is a long time by anybody's standards for people to be run by a kind of consent, passive, lazy democracy.

What can I tell the people of the French Cameroons, where I am going this summer? Can I tell them that I believe in DEMOCRACY but in the fine City where I live we really don't practise democracy? What an opening for the Communists!

I sincerely hope that there is a good turnout next Tuesday night at Victoria Hall, and that a new, free, friendly, and democratic spirit will move among those present, so that a new and better day will dawn for Westmount, and dreams become realities.

They will, if we but try.

—Rev. William Morris.

All the gifts mentioned (except the sieve, which I refused) were presents from a firm which had no official connection with Snibbo, until it was taken over by them shortly afterwards.

International law his specialty

ON April 6, 1957, the American oil tanker, Kern Hills passed through the Straits of Tiran at the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba and a few hours later discharged its cargo of Iranian oil at the port of Eilat in Israel.

This simple act had great international significance for it marked recognition by the United States that the Gulf of Aqaba was an international waterway and that no nation had the right to prevent "free and innocent passage in the Gulf and through the Straits giving access thereto."

Within a few weeks — on March 4 and 7 respectively, many nations, constituting the overwhelming majority of world shipping tonnage, followed the American example field, an interest that led to the appointment by the International Law Association of Mr. Bloomfield and Dr. Gerald FitzGerald of the New Brunswick Bar to investigate and prepare a report on boundary waters.

This resulted in publication, in 1958, of "Boundary Waters Problems of Canada and the United States" with special emphasis on the Columbia River controversy.

Mr. Bloomfield's interest in international law was first aroused in the '30s by the Hitler atrocities and further stimulated by two cases with which his present partner Mr. Lazarus Phillips, OBE, was associated, revolving around the legal intricacies of international waters.

Born in Westmount Aug. 8, 1906, Louis Mortimer Bloomfield was first introduced to law by his father who served as a justice of the peace in Montreal and who was appointed as one mont is named after his great-grandfather) Louis Bloomfield has actively carried on the philanthropic and community work traditions that played such a large part in the lives of his ancestors.

Among other community activities his father and uncle were two of the founders of the Montreal Young Men's Hebrew Association and his father founded the Baron de Hirsch Book Club, the first public library for Jewish immigrants in Canada.

Major Bloomfield is a Life Governor of the YMHA, a member of the Board of Governors of the Weizman Institute of Science in Rehovoth, Israel, a member of the Board of Governors of the American Israeli Cultural Foundation and chairman for the past three years of the Montreal Histadrut campaign. He and his brother, Bernard M. Bloomfield, were recently honored at the 36th annual Histadrut banquet here commemorating 15 years of service and leadership to Histadrut in Canada.

His activities, however, are not sectarian in nature. He has been entrusted with several important legal missions for the Vatican, has been vice-president of the Reddy Memorial Hospital for the past 25 years; is a director and member of the Executive Committee, Quebec Council, of the Order of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem; is a life governor of Jeanne d'Arc Hospital; and was actively engaged as a member of the Board of Management of the Loyola Development Campaign, a multi-million dollar expansion program for Loyola College.

Among the many personal tributes that have been accorded Major Bloomfield, he is justifiably proud of a small portrait on one wall of his office that bears the inscription "To my friend and lawyer" and is signed Carol R. It was presented to him by the late King Carol of Rumania, and hangs a short distance away from a personally inscribed portrait of Mde. Lupescu, who now lives in Lisbon, Portugal.

Maj. Bloomfield also holds the distinction of being the first and only Canadian to be admitted to practice before the Tribunal Mixte, a court set up in the International zone of Tangiers in 1950. The court was abolished April 10 of this year when Tangiers was formally included into Morocco, the international powers having surrendered their control over the zone.

Created a Queen's Counsel in 1948, Maj. Bloomfield is an honorary counsel, with the Hon. Antoine Rivard, QC, attorney-general for the Province of Quebec, of the International Association of Chiefs of Police. and gave official recognition to the international character of the Straits of Tiran and the Gulf of Aqaba.

This practical recognition of "free and innocent passage" coincided with a book written by a Montreal lawyer which created a sensation in international legal circles.

In a terse introduction Louis M. Bloomfield, Q.C., stated that "the limited purpose of this volume is to assemble, in convenient form some of the basic source material and references to data, papers and public statements, in the hope that it will contribute to a fuller and more enlightened understanding of the present crisis."

But the book—"Egypt, Israel and the Gulf of Aqaba in International Law"—did more than that.

It proved — for the first time — that the Sinai Peninsula does not belong to Egypt but to Turkey, and the author, acknowledged as one of the world's foremost experts on international law, provided proof based on a careful examination of documents traced back over a period of 150 years.

The legal principles governing the uses of the waters of international rivers have long intrigued Mr. Bloom-of six judges selected by Jewish citizens of Canada to protest against the Czarist persecution of the Jews in Canada.

He received his education at Westmount High School and earned his B.A. at McGill University in 1927. He received his LL.M. cum laude from the University of Montreal in 1930 and was admitted to the Bar of the Province of Quebec the same year.

He joined the firm of what was then Jacobs and Phillips and has been ever since, and is now a partner of the firm, now known as Phillips, Bloomfield, Vineberg and Goodman.

At the outbreak of the World War II, Mr. Bloomfield joined the Canadian Army and six years later, in 1945, retired as a major, commanding officer 9th Infantry Brigade Coy., RCASC.

Police warn dog owners

As a result of complaints from Westmount residents in various locations throughout the City, the Police Department has issued a strict warning that effective May 1 all dogs must be kept indoors or on a leash.

The most common complaint against dogs is they defile lawns and public parks and cause people who are busy gardening great annoyance by digging up lawns and plants.

The City has bylaw 535 which prohibits residents from allowing dogs to run loose during the summer months.

Motorcycle struck, driver refuses aid

Loszlo Mate, 19, 939 Atwater avenue, refused medical treatment for a sore knee caused when his motorcycle was struck by a car driven by Romeo Gendron, 54, 9105 10th avenue, Ville St. Michel, on Saturday.

Gendron told police he was going west on St. Antoine when he was part way across the Atwater-St. Antoine intersection the green light turned to amber. He said the motorcycle started away from the opposing green light before he could stop.

Mate complained of a sore right knee, but refused medical aid.

Lighting cigar causes accident

A man lighting his cigar while driving his car caused Miss Chris Kugee, 20, to be taken to the Queen Elizabeth Hospital Saturday for treatment to cuts on her forehead — the result of an accident.

Antonio Kyriacou, 27, 3838 St. Zotique, told Westmount police he was driving west on Sherbrooke and as he approached Metcalfe he went to light a cigar, not noticing a car in front of him stopped for a red light.

The driver of the parked car, Gilles Beaulieu, 33, 6838 Garnier, told police his auto was suddenly struck from behind.

Miss Kugee, a passenger, was released after being treated for a small cut on her forehead.

Council ultimatum:

Cut down on expenses or find more revenue

Although the financial statements of the City of Westmount for 1959 have not yet been made public, they have been the subject of some discussion in Committee by the Mayor and Council, and they find the City's net loss of $67,740 for the year is quite perturbing.

Alderman Frank B. Common Jr. recommended to Council Monday night that the audited statements prepared by Riddell, Stead, Graham & Hutchison, Chartered Accountants, be accepted, adopted and filed in the City's archives.

The same firm of accountants, incidentally, were again appointed City auditors. "Attention of Council should be drawn to the fact that expenditures exceeded revenue by nearly $68,000," Alderman Common remarked.

In the absence of Mayor J. C. Cushing, pro-Mayor C. H. Drury said: "It is apparent that even with careful budgeting throughout the year we have nonetheless spent more than collected as revenue. It is obvious the various City departments must cut down on expenses, or we must find more revenue."

As it is with most non-profit organizations, Westmount has obviously laid money away in the good years to provide for the lean years. The loss was charged against the reserve under by-law 436.

There was no further comment on the loss by other Council members.

Bicycle stolen minutes after it was bought

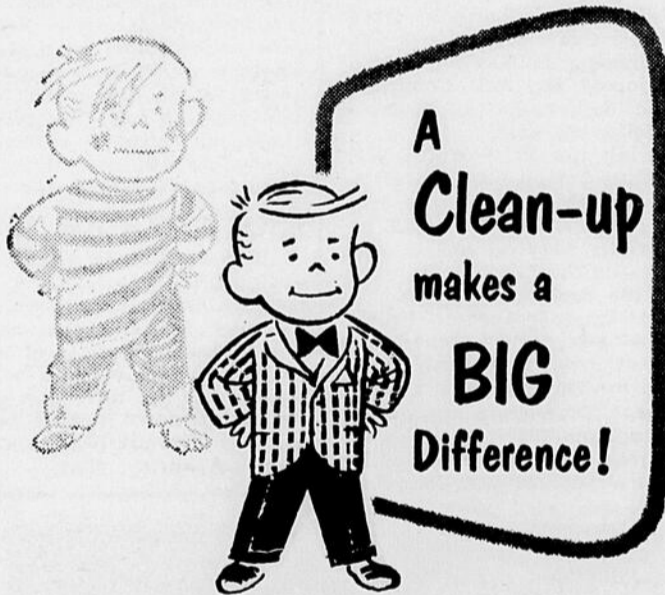

A youngster who lives at 4118 Western, J. McCormick, was a very unhappy boy on Tuesday — he had his brand new bicycle stolen minutes after he had bought it.

The lad reported to police that he had just bought the bicycle, and on his way home with it stopped for a soft drink. Before he could get out of the store he saw a man drive the new bike away.

He did not have time to obtain a licence plate or register the serial number with the police.

Inspector Andy Lowson, who says he deeply sympathizes with the boy, has his men on alert in the hope of recovering the bicycle at an early date.

Hot exhaust LCC hockey, ski teams carry off top honors

Gasoline splashing from a motorcycle gasoline tank on to the hot exhaust pipe caused a fire severe enough to send Westmount firemen rushing to the scene, 234 Wood avenue, Tuesday.

The cycle owner, Mr. Donahue, stated he was working on his machine when it suddenly caught fire.

Damage was not too extensive, and the flames were quickly doused.

Proud fathers and beaming children gathered Friday evening in the dining hall of Lower Canada College to pay tribute to the school's senior and junior hockey teams, and the ski team, who completed the winter sports circuit with an impressive array of awards and trophies.

The banquet, sponsored by the Old Boys' Association, was filled to capacity as Tommy Robertson, Gerry Heffernan and Hector Sutherland made the awards.

The senior hockey team proudly displayed its two trophies. The first, the Martlet Trophy, was won in a series of competitions sponsored by McGill University. The other, the Ashbury Trophy is top prize in a four-team hockey league of private schools: LCC, Ashbury (near Ottawa), Stanstead (Eastern Townships) and Bishop's. Tommy Robertson made the presentations.

The junior hockey team finished the winter as GMIAA (Greater Montreal Interscholastic Athletic Association) champs for 1960. Gerry Heffernan presented crests to everyone who played on the team.

The school ski team took all four classes in the GMIAA. The Price Trophy was presented to Peter Rose by Hector Sullivan. Highlight of the evening was the presentation of the Redpath Memorial Trophy, donated in memory of athlete Peter Redpath who drowned last summer. The first winner is G. B. Maughan. The trophy will be given each year to the youth who best combines leadership, ability and sportsmanship. Headmaster Dr. D. S. Penton made the presentation.

Telephone industry veteran, John S. Farquharson retires

A 37 year veteran of the telephone industry, John S. Farquharson, formerly of 710 Upper Roslyn, retired on pension last Friday as vice-president and general manager, Montreal area, of the Bell Telephone Company of Canada.

On the evening of his retirement he was honored by his colleagues at a dinner in the Mount Royal Club at which president Thomas W. Eadie presented Mr. Farquharson with the president's wallet and C. L. Brooks, assistant general manager, presented a movie camera on behalf of his colleagues.

Born in Jamaica, Mr. Farquharson studied at Trinity School in New York City, the Stevens Institute of Technology in New Jersey, and graduated from McGill University with the degree of bachelor of science in 1922.

He began his business career with the Cadwell Sand and Gravel Company in Windsor in 1922, and joined the Bell Company's traffic department at Montreal the following year.

During the First World War, Mr. Farquharson served overseas with the 7th Siege Battery, later becoming a cadet in the R.A.F. Between the wars he took a keen interest in the Reserve Army and held the rank of major in "A" Corps Signals in Toronto. He was granted a leave of absence from the Bell company to serve as major in the Directorate of Signals, National Defence Headquarters, Ottawa, from 1942 to 1945.

During the early years of his telephone career Mr. Farquhar-son gained a wide knowledge of the engineering and traffic aspects of the business, and held a series of supervisory positions in Montreal and Toronto.

He remained with the Company's traffic department in Montreal until 1931, when he was transferred to Toronto. In May, 1949, he was appointed general traffic manager for Bell's western area, with headquarters in Toronto.

He returned to Montreal in 1951 as general plant manager of the eastern area. In 1955 he became general manager of Mon-

Queen's choir to hold show Monday night

By VALENTINA RAHR

Queen's School Choir, 25 strong, made up of students from different grades, will take part in the amateur night to be held in the school gym Monday, May 9, at 8 p.m. Another 78 pupils were auditioned in the search for local talent, and 12 were chosen to perform. Tap dancing, ballet, piano recital, and harmonica solo, are on the program, all sponsored by Queen's Home and School Association, with the full cooperation of Principal Craig.

Redfern Park, known for many years by that name, and located at the corner of Kensington and St. Catherine street west, was originally used as a storage place for construction equipment around 1912 by John Quinlan Construction Co. It has recently been taken over to form part of the plan for the new Composite High School. The site of the Caledonia Curling Club on Hillside avenue was a stone quarry occupied by the Quinlan Cut Stone Co., which fabricated cut stone. The property was owned by John Quinlan, Forde avenue, and sold to the curling club. Thus two old landmarks of Westmount have disappeared.

Seda Zare, founder of the Classical School of Ballet, Melville avenue, will present excerpts from "Les Petites Mains," a special ballet commissioned by the International Ladies Garment Workers Union of Montreal, based on fashion themes from the turn of the century to the present day, for the annual meeting of the Independent Art Association to be held Wednesday evening, May 18, at Channing Hall. ## Can't define skiffle, but it sounds good

By VALENTINE RAHR

A West End quintet, the River to get a better response). Blended City Skiffle Group, has been introducing Montreal to skiffle, with this accompaniment are the enthusiastic voices of the players.

The group consists of Sandy Cambe, a commercial artist from Scotland who now attends L'Ecole des Beaux Arts; Dave Winston Grey, who once had a group in England; Gunther Isenberg, a German Guitar enthusiast; Pat Tee, a Chinese, born and raised in England; and Dave Taylor, the only Canadian. Tee founded the group about two years ago when they were known as the "Applejacks" and were appearing in various amateur performances. Isenberg met one of the other 'musicians' at the Westmount Y last year.

"Skiffle may be defined as folk music with a stomping beat," according to Dave Taylor, "and is played with a variety of instruments, none of which we invented ourselves. They are mostly of the string type. Conventional guitars, conventional bass, washboards, banjos, kazoo's, tambourines, can be used. The groups can be as large as ten members, or as small as two. Sometimes bongo drums, or African drums are added to other skiffle groups."

If you are trying to find out what skiffle really means, don't look in the dictionary. It isn't there! But any one of the River City Skiffle Group can give you a good demonstration of what it really is.

The group appeared at RCAF Lachine, Shawbridge Boys Farm, St. Agathe, Queen Mary Veterans' Hospital, and the Traditional Jazz Club of Montreal. They all wear black turtle neck sweaters when on a skiffle program.

Ranged in different positions around the basement playroom at the home of Dave Taylor, 533 Lansdowne avenue, each member plays his own instrument with enthusiasm. There are three guitarists, Dave Taylor, Gunther Isenberg, and Sandy Cambe, a bass player, Dave Winston Grey, who uses a tea chest with a hole in the bottom and a ski pole attached securely at one corner, and Pat Tee and his washboard, to which is attached an upside down fry pan which he bought for $1.25. (He wears metal thimbles on the ends of his fingers

Ronny needs a home can you help him?

An article which appeared in The Examiner on April 14 about mental illness blighting the lives of many children brought a telephone call from Mrs. Jessie Dorrian, supervisor of the homefinding department of the Children's Service Centre, 5 Weredale park, asking readers to find a home for six-year-old Ronny, now a pupil of the school run by the Montreal Society for Emotionally Disturbed Children on Richmond Square.

As Homefinder, Mrs. Dorrian is responsible for finding foster homes needed for the nearly 2,000 Protestant children cared for annually by the Children's Service Centre.

Ronny is a slim, good-looking boy with "fine, straight features and an appealing manner, who needs the special schooling provided by the Society."

"This little fellow is doubly handicapped," Mrs. Dorrian said, "by the fact his own mother cannot care for him because of her own illness."

The Children's Service Centre, a Red Feather Agency, has been asked to find a home for him in the western part of Montreal, between Atwater avenue and Dorval on the Lakeshore, so he can be picked up each day and taken to the school.

"He needs kindly, understanding foster parents," Mr. Dorrian said, "in a home where he will be the youngest."

The Agency will provide board, clothing and all medical expenses.

Severely emotionally disturbed children often have superior intelligence and relatively rich endowments, but they are incapable of using them because their minds are clouded by their illness. The Agency feels such children should be given the benefit of normal homes to keep them from finding their way into mental or penal institutions later in life.

The Children's Service Centre, WE, 7-9581, would be glad to hear from anyone who would be a partner with them in helping to make Ronny's life a happier one.

2,000 years ago mankind received "new lamps for old" with the message of Christ which brought fresh illumination to the age-old spiritual truths. How this has happened again in the last century will be the theme of Mr. Estall's presentation.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Gwethalyn Graham

Famous novelist returns to writing

By RAE RESNICK

"I was running neck and neck with Forever Amber," was the way Gwethalyn Graham put it, and "Forever Amber" was fast company, indeed, when you consider that Miss Graham, of 4652 Sherbrooke street west, was talking about the sales of her own best-selling novel, "Earth and High Heaven." It sold one and a half million copies in hard cover. (For the sake of comparison, Lolita sold 350,000 copies, according to figures published this past winter).

Miss Graham didn't write anything in 13 years. Now she has returned to writing, but not to the novel just yet, because the novel, she found, is too much of a gamble and takes too long. She has turned to television.

Born in Toronto, Miss Graham lived most of her life in Montreal. In 1950, her husband, to whom she had been married three years, joined the staff of the University of Virginia and she went to live down south. She and her husband have since been divorced and she returned to Montreal in the fall of 1958.

It was during these 13 years of marriage that she did no writing, in spite of the fabulous history her best-seller had. During the post-war period, it was translated into 14 languages. It was a book club selection. It sold to Collier's. It sold to the movies (although it was not produced). Unprecedented were the feelings of guilt the people at Collier's had for having paid her too little for the serial rights to her book. There isn't a writer who can think of a publishing firm that felt they had underpaid the author.

When Collier's bought the rights to serialize her book in the magazine, Miss Graham was an unknown author with one book to her credit. Her first published book was "Swiss Sonata." Collier's was wary about buying serial rights for another reason. This was the first novel that tackled the controversial problem of religious prejudice. (It was after Earth and High Heaven that other books on anti-Semitism were written). At the time, the subject was still taboo. No magazine touched it.

Collier's felt they were taking the author for it that they took Miss Graham shopping and tried to ease their conscience by offering to buy her an expensive tea set.

The movie sale for $100,000

made up for it, though.

But Miss Graham got to keep only a small percentage of what her book earned.

Those days saw the highest tax period in Canadian history, and she was in the highest tax bracket. Her financial downfall came, too, because she was paid all this in one taxable year.

Soon after, Canadian tax laws applicable to authors were changed because of what had happened to Miss Graham.

Earth and High Heaven took three years to write, yet she was taxed as though she had earned the money in one year, simply because she was paid the money in one taxable year. A committee headed by Hugh MacLennan went down to Ottawa, and that committee, with Miss Graham used as an example of someone who had suffered an unjust tax bite, was responsible for new tax legislation.

Since Miss Graham's best-seller was published, tremendous changes have taken place in the book publishing business. She believes a sale of one and a half million copies is not very likely these days. She does not blame the advent of television for this. She believes it is the cost of books to the public that accounts for it. Her book cost $2.75. A book of that length would cost between four and five dollars now, if not more.

She noted that paperbacks are the answer to the colossal sale of books in France. If someone there wants to keep a book as part of his permanent collection, he has the book bound.

Recently, her publishers wanted to advance her the money to write another book. But she feels this would be just another debt, and having worked in a publishing house for four years, she knows the problems of publishers too well to waltz on a debt.

She plans to do another novel, but first, she wants to do some non-fiction and television plays.

Passion music will be sung at First Baptist

On Thursday, May 12, at 8 p.m. in the First Baptist Church, 6215 Cote St. Luc road, the choir of the Church of St. Andrew and St. Paul, under the direction of Phillips Motley, will present music from the "St. Matthew Passion" by Bach. The students visiting the House of Commons in session were accompanied by Mr. G. E. D. Lane and Mr. C. P. Lawes.

Following a tour of the building and lunch in the Parliamentary Restaurant, the students were interested spectators to the Question Period in the House of Commons. The Postmaster General, who addressed the group, was also joined by Mr. Heward Grafftey, MP for Brome-Missisquoi.

The speakers were thanked by John Fieldhouse.

General Chairman, Howard J. Ross; and Campaign Chairman of Women's Division, Mrs. James R. Beattie.

Red Feather Campaign sets $1,930,000 goal

The goal for Montreal's largest maintenance appeal, the 1960 Red Feather Campaign, has been set at $1,930,000, it was announced Monday afternoon by Howard I. Ross, general chairman of the big drive.

Mr. Ross said that Red Feather had led the way in attempting to consolidate the number of health and welfare appeals, and that only by making Red Feather successful could citizens hope for a united fund, raising money for all organizations.

He appealed to thousands of volunteer workers who have worked for the campaign in the past, and asked them to continue their vital job for Red Feather's 31 services. He said he realized many of the campaign's most devoted workers were also called on by independent drives, but urged them to assist Red Feather, pointing out that a successful campaign would be more attractive for other drives to join.

FAIR SHARE

Fair-Share Giving will be the theme for this year's drive, Mr. Ross stated. He said the average citizen has little or no opportunity to decide what constitutes a fair-share gift for the 31 Red Feather agencies as compared with gifts to campaigns with smaller goals.

A scale of giving based on various salary levels has been developed, he said. The gifts are what people could give if Red Feather was the campaign in which they were primarily interested.

He declared that 85 per cent of all gifts to Red Feather were five dollars or less, which means about 17 cents for each agency for its year's work.

A man or family earning, for example, $6,000 a year could give a donation of $28. Someone earning $9,000 could give $57.

RISING POPULATION

The campaign goal is $80,000 more than was raised by volunteers last year. The increase is necessary for two reasons, Mr. Ross stated. The first is the continuing increase in population, and the second is the increase in the cost of living.

In the past decade Montreal has grown by one-third, or close to 600,000 persons. Last year alone the population jumped by 73,000.

Services given by the various agencies has increased accordingly with the population rise.

The Cost of Living Index has shown a rise of 23.3 per cent in the past 10 years.

Population change as well as population growth is adding to the work of the agencies, Mr. Ross stated. There are more old people and more young people in the population total today, and the percentage is increasing every year — more years have

Conversion hampered by pranksters

The Westmount Fire Department is in the throes of converting all their equipment for spring and summer use, and they are finding it a busy job.

Chief E. C. Harper said the conversion work is being hampered by children turning in false alarms. He said it always happens when the warm weather comes, but he issued a warning that the penalties are severe if caught.

The department will commence an extensive series of training exercises in May to make the firemen more proficient in the use of various hoses and pumping apparatus. The work will take place at Westmount pond and on the mountain.

Meanwhile, during the cool period all vehicles have had their oil and grease changed for summer use, and extensive painting has been done to the equipment.

At a later date, probably some time in May, representatives from the department will go to all public schools to check and repair, if necessary, all fire safety and fire fighting equipment.

In June the fire inspectors will

Prof. Purves wins award for research

Dr. Clifford B. Purves, 2 Hudson avenue, professor of industrial and cellulose chemistry at McGill University, has been awarded the Chemical Institute of Canada Medal for 1960, it was announced in Ottawa.

Awarded annually by the Institute, the medal recognizes outstanding contributions to chemistry. Dr. Purves was chosen for his development of "Purves lignin"—a manufactured form of the carbohydrate which occurs naturally in trees and acts as a cement to hold the wood fibres together.

WOOD CHANGES

The Institute said that Dr. Purves' discovery will enable scientists to obtain information on changes which take place in wood during the "cooking" process in pulp mills.

The medal will be presented at the opening of the Institute's annual general meeting June 13 to 15 in Ottawa.

A native of Scotland, Dr. Purves took his training at St. Andrews University. He came to McGill in 1943.

High school sod turning set Monday

McGill Construction Company has been awarded the $2,000,000 contract for erection of the new Westmount High School on the site of the old Westmount Athletic Grounds on St. Catherine street.

The announcement was made Monday by A. R. M. MacLean, secretary-treasurer of the School Commissioners for the Municipality of the City of Westmount.

The Board has not as yet received a target date for completion of the modern building, but a spokesman for the Protestant School Board of Greater Montreal, who are also concerned with the Westmount school system, said it would be ready for the fall classes of 1961.

There will be a short sod-turning ceremony Monday afternoon at 4 p.m. at the construction site. The Mayor and some members of Council, representatives of the School Board of Greater Montreal, and the Westmount Board are expected to attend.

Most children like to taste anything mother is cooking. When vegetables are being prepared for the meal, if the children ask for "samples" they should be given bits of the raw vegetables, since these are richer in vitamins and minerals than those which have been soaked and cooked, often for longer than the advisable minimum time.

'Contemporary' greeting cards will set Mom chuckling Sunday

More mothers than ever will be chuckling this Mother's Day, Sunday, May 8.

They'll be chuckling because greeting card producers have recognized the fact that like other people "mom" too has a funny bone. This is evident from the wide variety of "contemporary" greetings — sharply humorous cards — on display in many shops.

Take, for instance, the card showing a smiling, bedraggled, cross-eyed brat holding a mouse by its tail. The youngster admits: "Only you could have loved me."

Another announces in loud orange lettering: "Happy Mother's day from your Baby." Inside we see the "baby": a cigar-smoking, sleepy-eyed, fully grown man (a five o'clock shadow on his chin) peering out of a carriage.

"Such contemporary Mother's Day cards were introduced in Canada two years ago," said William E. Coutts, chairman of Coutts Hallmark Cards, "and proved to be an immediate hit. We've found that although it is still largely a sentimental occasion, mom enjoys a little humor on Mother's Day."

Consequently, the number of humorous "contemporary" Mother's Day designs has more than doubled since they were first introduced in 1958, he said.

But not all the cards are "contemporary," he stressed. There is a wide assortment of greetings expressing the sentiments of the sender in a more traditional manner.

Many feature delicate flower and bird reproductions on perfumed satin puffs. Others sparkle with rhinestone, and gold and silver embossing, he said.

Although Mother's Day as we know it only dates back to 1908, man has for centuries shown his esteem for Mom in one way or another, said Mr. Coutts.

The Romans, for instance, showed their reverence through once-a-year celebrations in honor of Hilaria, their Mother-Goddess. In Mexico, more than 1,000 years ago, the Nahuatl Indians held flower festivals for Chicomehuatl, the Earth Mother Goddess. The people of Asia Minor also had a mother goddess—Rhea—and set aside a day to honor her.

Early 17th century England developed the practice of "going a mothering." This custom saw boys and girls, working away from home, going home to spend "Mothering Sunday" — still celebrated in some parts of England — with their families.

In Canada and the U.S., Mother's Day came into being as a result of the efforts of a Philadelphia Sunday school teacher, Anna M. Jarvis. Miss Jarvis talked Philadelphia officials into setting aside the second Sunday in May to honor mothers everywhere. This was done in 1908.

It didn't take long for the idea to catch on. Within a few years, said Mr. Coutts, it was celebrated in most cities across the U.S. and Canada. Now it is also observed in all parts of Europe, Japan, China and Mexico, each of which has adapted the idea to local customs and traditions.

Westmount Baptist

Special service Sunday morning for Mothers' Day

At the Mother's Day Service at Westmount Baptist Church the minister will discuss "A Family Faith." The children of the Sunday School will attend the service and honor the mothers. At the evening service the Rev. E. J. Bailey will preach on "Do not Disturb."

The midweek service of the church will be addressed by the Rev. Rubin Bonney, Baptist Missionary to Bolivia, now home on furlough.

Sunday, May 15, will be President's Day when Professor Harold Lang, president of the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec, will address the Baptists of Montreal in Westmount Baptist Church at a Rally Service at 8.30 p.m.

First Baptist honors mothers

The services on Sunday at First Baptist Church are "Christian Family Week" services, with the mothers in the congregation being especially honored. The theme of the morning service, in which a church family will participate, is "The Family As A Christian Community." The service will be conducted by the minister, Rev. R. S. Dunn, and the Director of Christian Education, Miss Daisy MacNeill, will speak on the subject, "God Setteth The Solitary In Families."

WJHS pupils spend happy hours at carpenter's bench

By VALENTINA RAHR

The sound of sawing and scraping, and the smell of freshly cut wood mingle with the joyful noises of boys happily at work in the basement of Westmount Junior High every afternoon. This is where the woodwork classes take place, and students from all grades come year after year to improve their skills.

All sorts and sizes of wood objects have been made by the eager students. Eight years ago a wood class was begun by H. T. Johansson, and since then the project has grown until today there are two duplicate classes every afternoon.

Born in England, Mr. Johansson came to Canada in 1901 with his father, C. J. Johansson, who started a wood working shop in Westmount.

"I didn't conduct woodwork classes all the time," Mr. Johansson commented. "First I taught general subjects at Arvida, Lachine, Lakeshore and Point Claire for the Protestant School Board. Eight years ago this project was started, and I have been with it ever since."

Seventh, eighth and ninth year students acquire different skills with each grade. "They start with small things, each with a set purpose requiring the use of tools like a saw, hammer, plane, chisel, and others," Mr. Johansson continued. "Then they begin to learn secondary skills, and use all the tools we have, including electric drills. A good course of technical drawing is given along with the woodwork."

Almost all the boys at Junior High participate in this activity. Seventh year boys make match-scratchers, pump lamps complete with handles and chain, tie racks, and tea pot stands. Eighth year students make simple furniture of their own choice. This includes turning, and lathe work. When a student reaches ninth year, he is able to make furniture of a finer finish, such as coffee tables and small bureaus. All these are shown at the end of the school term.

Westmount Junior High was a swimming and surf board, which was used successfully for several seasons at a local summer resort.

"Hand polishing of furniture is required by ninth year students, and a good job is essential," said Mr. Johansson. "About 300 boys take woodwork at Junior High, and they very often make some good things."

The secondary or duplicate class is under the direction of a graduate of a Government Training School, in England.

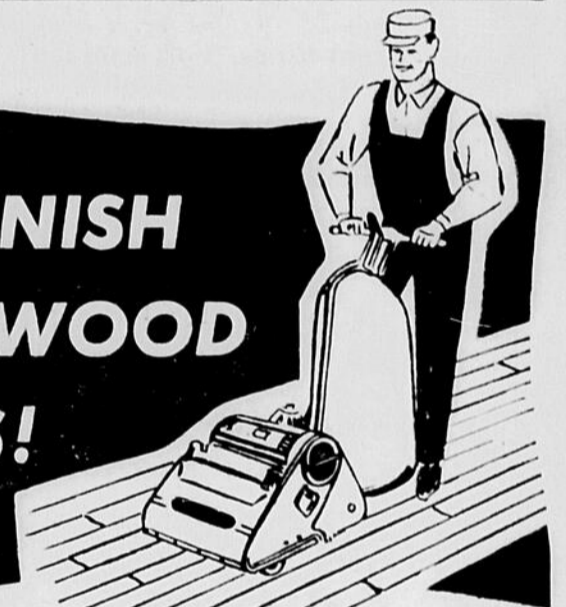

"Once a week I have the same students over again — about 17 or 18 of them at a time," said Mr. Tucker. "They work on the large wood table with all the tools available for their grade. They seem to be glad to come down here for their weekly lesson, and sorry when it is time to leave. I think that working with their hands is a welcome change after having studies all day."

Mr. Tucker's program is very complete. Every two hours he has another class of boys. "The boys here in Canada are perhaps a little bit more noisy than in the old country," he commented. "But they learn their skills quickly, and are about the same as boys everywhere else, I guess."

The wood, tools, and other materials are all supplied by the Protestant School Board of Greater Montreal. Every spring there is an exhibition at Junior High showing the results of these profitable hours of work and instruction.

Mathematical competitions

More than 1,100 Grade XI students throughout Quebec will compete for $2,500 in prizes and scholarships in the second annual Quebec Mathematical Competition, May 7. The competition is under the auspices of the Canadian Mathematical Congress.

The examinations will be written at McGill University or the University of Montreal, for Montreal Island students participating; and 37 other schools throughout the province will serve as examination centres. Students may write either in English or French.

Cash prizes will be given to the 30 top ranking competitors. Scholarships of $250 each will also be awarded the top six candidates by the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada.

The students competing come from 139 schools in the province, including such areas as Montreal Island, Quebec City, Three Rivers, Sherbrooke and the Eastern Townships, The Laurentians, Gatineau, Lake St. John, Abitibi and Gaspé regions.

The purpose of the competition is to arouse more interest in mathematics, and to encourage good students to pursue mathematical or scientific studies. Dr. L. F. S. Ritcey, secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Mathematical Congress, said. The most serious shortage is now in the teaching profession, he added.

The Congress conducts similar competitions in five other provinces — Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Ontario, Manitoba and Alberta.

Roslyn H&S names five delegates

The Roslyn Home and School Association will be represented at the 16th annual conference of the Quebec Federation of Protestant Home and School Association being held in Montreal May 6 and 7 by 5 delegates and observers.

Named as delegates to the conference are A. A. Bruneau, W. G. Buchanan and Bonar Hodgson, while Mrs. J. B. Fisher and Mrs. H. Shapiro will attend as observers.

They will be among some 425 parents and teachers representing the 184 Home and School Associations throughout the province. With an overall membership of some 28,000 families, these 184 associations represent over 70 per cent of the families with children attending schools attached to the province's Protestant school system.

This year's conference, which will again be held in the Physical Science Building at McGill University, has been expanded to two full days at the request of the member associations, who wanted more time for workshops and discussion of mutual problems by delegates.

The workshop this year will be devoted to leadership training. Other features of the conference will include adoption of a new federation constitution, extended discussion of resolution and policies, and the beginning of a new project, "Operation Bootstraps", designed to examine fully the role of education.

The conference will wind-up Saturday night, May 7 with the annual dinner, at which Dr. David L. Thomson, vice-principal of McGill University, will be the guest speaker.

Examiner advertising pays-off, new entertainment group founded

By VERONICA SINEL

On Monday night, May 2, members of the Montreal Association for the Blind were entertained by a group of singers and instrumentalists known as the "Dawn Wayne Group." This was the group's first public appearance having been formed only about a month ago.

Dawn Wayne, the very attractive looking mother of a teenage son, has a full time job with the Credit Bureau as manager of the Charge-a-Plate Service of Montreal and how she finds time for her extra-curricular activities amazes even her husband.

In private life she is Mrs. Alf Bowden of 2159 Marcell avenue. "Don't ask me how she does it!" laughed her husband. "I don't know where she gets all that energy!"

Several weeks ago in the Examiner and its sister publications, Dawn Wayne inserted the following advertisement:

"Musical talent wanted for variety group, non-professional. Gain experience and do a good turn by giving your talent to group catering to hospitals and institutions."

At that time she had been toying with the idea of getting together a few talented people who were willing to donate their time and talents to perform, free of charge, for charitable institutions. However, the response to the advertisement was so great she was overwhelmed with offers and her idea of a little quartet or small instrumental group had perforce to be extended to include more acts.

After interviewing about 47 performers, Dawn picked out 16 acts for inclusion in her group.

Having rounded up the performers, the next step was to book the group for appearances at various institutions. The Women's Volunteer Service was happy to line up engagements for them, and the first to benefit from their services was the Montreal Association for the Blind.

A major problem was finding a place to rehearse. The group was too large to be accommodated for rehearsals in her home, so Dawn scouted around and finally got permission to use one of the rooms in the N.D.G. Community Hall on Cote St. Antoine road every Tuesday night. The room is equipped with a piano and has lots of space to accommodate the various instruments brought along by the members.

The program which was presented on Monday night at the Montreal Association for the Blind, 7010 Sherbrooke street W., was indicative of the talent offered by these performers. They all have jobs, and yet, between them, they chucked up 127 hours of rehearsals in preparation for their debut as the "Dawn Wayne Group."

Several of them, of course, have had previous experience in public appearances. For instance, Miss Yolande Rivard, a very talented pianist, appeared last year on the weekly CKVL-FM program, "Concert Recital." She has also been heard on the CBC and in many public appearances. Miss Rivard specializes in classical music, Canadian music and music for children.

Twenty-two-year-old Norma Washer, who hails from Pointe St. Charles, was accompanied on the piano by Alan Downey as she sang, "I Can't Begin to Tell You," and "Always." The only other girl singer in the group, Roslyn Cohen, 19, entertained with, "I'll Be Loving You," and "An Affair to Remember." Roslyn is a former member of the Little Players of the Air and has been singing as far back as she can remember.

Three very enthusiastic teenage guitarists from Caughnawaga, known as the "Western Warriors," specialize in western type music. Paul Galipeau, 18, also sings, as does Elmer Jacobs, 15, while Randy Diabo, 17, concentrates on playing guitar. They got together about a month ago and have played at social affairs and weddings. They were dressed in red shirts, black string ties and black pants.

A tenor from the Salvation Army, who intends to enter the Ministry when he is old enough, sang two hymns. Gilbert St. Onge of 587 Chatham street, had to hold his music sheet in one hand while accompanying himself on the accordion with the other. Quite a feat. He sang, "God Will Take Care of You," and "Just a Closer Walk With Thee."

Philip Bayliff impersonated the singer Al Jolson and delighted the younger members of the audience with his antics. Twenty-one-year-old Drew Speirs, who appeared in the Montreal Musical Comedy Theatre's productions "Brigadoon" and "Guys and Dolls," sang a couple of songs and "The Falcons," consisting of Bill Charlton and Eric Richard, showed how guitarists can handle rock 'n' roll. Bill also sings. They looked very smart in their tartan jackets. Ralph

Asselin wins fish award

N. D. G. Councillor Ed T. Asselin's record arctic char won him a special award in Field and Stream magazine's 1959 fishing contest and established Quebec's Finger Lake as the undisputed haven for this big cousin of the brook trout.

Asselin's beauty of 19 lb., 15 oz., easily surpassed the previous mark of 17 lb. 12 oz., set by R. Douglas Percy in 1957, also at Finger Lake.

The lake is in the Ungava district of Northeastern Quebec, just west of Fort Chimo.

Asselin took his prize on spinning tackle and a smorgasbord lure last Sept. 6.

It highlights the final 1959 results in the authoritative outdoor magazine's annual contest.

They cover fish caught on spinning tackle and special awards.

Two other fish from Canadian waters show in the spinning list—a pike of 22 lb. 6 oz., caught by Fred E. Martinitz of Merriam, Kan., on a dardevle in Manitoba's Lake Aimee, about 380 miles northwest of Winnipeg; and a 9¼-pound brook trout taken by Thomas McCormick of North Bay at Blue Lake in the Chapleau district of Northern Ontario.

McCormick's fish, which went for a Williams Wabler, placed third in the brook trout open division announced earlier. Martinitz' pike failed to place in the top 10 for fish caught by methods other than spinning, indicating the difficulty in nailing the larger specimens of these hard-jawed fish on spinning gear.

No muskie was included in the spinning awards. Biggest catch recorded on spinning gear was a 196-pound striped marlin caught by Don F. Hott at Guaymas, Mexico.

Interesting sound effects planned by Regency group

By VERONICA SINEL

"The Ghost Train" by Arnold Ridley, will be presented by the Regency Players at 650 Woodland avenue, Verdun, on Friday and Saturday, May 6 and 7. Curtain time is 8.15 p.m. Tickets $1.00. This play is an interesting experiment in sound effects. Backstage a group of twelve people will be working in the "Noises off" department supplying train noises, thunder, lightning and rain, and at one point in the play an explosion occurs. Steam from the train will be accomplished by the use of dry ice.

Props backstage include drums, a thunder sheet, an air cylinder, a garden roller and, above all things, a milk churn! Nelson Weipert, who is in charge of sound effects, has stretched his ingenuity to the limit in an endeavour to make this play as realistic as possible. Other amateur groups might learn a thing or two by dropping in to see this production of "Ghost Train".

An enthusiastic cast, under the direction of that very versatile actress, Gladys Richards, should add up to a wonderful production.

The Fossil Club's annual show, "Who's at Sea?", which was presented last week at West Hill High School, was a riot of fun from beginning to end. A great deal of work and planning must have gone into the designing of the costumes for this revue, they were colorful, varied and quite realistic. Vera Carr, assisted by Dot Sexton, designed and made the costumes for this year's show, as she has done for past shows.

All the members of the very large cast surely worked hard and long to make this revue such a rousing success. They had a wonderful time prancing around the stage, singing the songs with gay abandon, tossing wisecracks around generally reducing the audience to helpless hysterics.

Pat Irwin was Prime Minister Diefenbaker to the life, he had all his little mannerisms down to a T. Jos. Watson was a very funny Prunella P. Pepper, a culture-conscious civil servant from Toronto. John Rice gave a very clever impersonation of Khrushchev. The most hilarious item on the program were the ballet dancers. To see these big, muscular men cavorting around the stage in ballet costumes, doing all the dainty little steps, was simply side-splitting. The lyrics were witty and topical and the music very tuneful indeed. No wonder this group has such success with their shows year after year.

"Dear Charles" which will be presented by the E/Z Players of Greater Montreal in the Lachine High School Auditorium on Thursday and Friday, May 5 and 6, will star Valda Dalton as the vivacious "widow". She will play a witty French novelist living in a charming house on the outskirts of Paris with her three children in their late teens.

Over her fireplace hangs the portrait of "Dear Charles" to whom she constantly refers as her late husband. The announcement from her two older children that they want to marry into an influential family prompts her make a long-delayed confession. The portrait is merely an item she picked up cheap in an antique shop. Each of the children, she tells them, has a different father, and she herself nary a husband ever. She thinks it is now time to remedy this situation, and the action of the play reveals the results of this decision. "The Corn is Green", by Emyln Williams, opened at the M.R.T.

Young singer at Bonaventure

The lovely young singing star of "Up in Central Park," Maureen Cannon, brings her bright and breezy talents to the Queen Elizabeth's Salle Bonaventure on May 9th.

Chicago-born, the little star with the big, husky voice once gave a gravel-throated treatment of "The Fireman's Bride," that resulted in her becoming the star of her own Gay Nineties program.

Far from confining her style or her repertoire to that of the music hall, Maureen Cannon has become equally adept at belting out rock 'n' roll or crooning a sentimental ballad.

A favorite of the critics, a singer's singer, the girl who made, "Man in the Raincoat," a national figure has created a provocative, melodious act that she renders with great poise and charm.

As always, the music for this room is provided by Denny Vaughan and his orchestra alternating with the Louis Bannet Trio.

HIDDEN WEALTH

Oceanographers state that only a small part of the ocean bed is known in any detail. But recent surveys have shown that large areas of the bottom are covered with rounded, blackish nodules that have grown as crusts, around some nucleus, sometimes a shark's tooth. They are mostly iron and manganese oxides, but they often contain considerable amounts of copper, nickel and cobalt that can be worth up to hundreds of thousands of dollars per square mile.

Playhouse, Closse street, on Tuesday, May 3, and will run for two weeks. Starring Eleanor Stuart as the English school teacher, Miss Moffat, the cast includes Tom Owen, Kay Tremblay, William Armstrong, Marilyn Gardner and Donald McGill. Set designer is Michael Devine, costumes by Fat Wolstencroft.

The bird sanctuary

By
The Venerable
R. Kenneth Naylor, D.D.,
Rector, Trinity Memorial Church

Two weeks ago I sat in a restaurant just out of Quebec City, facing the St. Lawrence. It was during the Snow Geese migration, and it was a joy to watch dozens of gaggles of Snow Geese parading up and down the river, stopping to feed for a while and then taking wing for a short flight, completely indifferent to the other bipeds who were watching them. They had a sanctuary.

Then we drove down to Beauré, where the hundreds became thousands, and every moment were being joined by fresh flights from the South. They were grazing on the marsh grass in complete security. Judging from the noise they were having a conference before they moved on to their nesting grounds in Northern Quebec. That, of course, is not a new idea. Aristophanes tried it out 24 centuries ago, and Chaucer had his Parlement of Fowles, and Solomon, too brought his wild life together in conference. But Snow Geese are the only ones I have actually seen.

It could not be said of the geese that their voices were musical as they welcomed the newcomers, but I am ready to assert that there was an approving note in them. The burden of their discussion seemed to be their acceptance of what the Quebec Government had provided for them—a place where they could rest and feed for a week or two before moving North. They might well be grateful, for without sanctuary one of our lovely bits of wild life might well have become extinct.

It is comparatively easy, I suppose, to protect the Snow Geese, for we know its habits, and hunters have learned to spare it. Something is done for other wild life but it is a pity that more cannot be done for our deer and caribou and moose. We have thousands of square miles of bush country which is their natural home, and if we could learn that a live deer is a lovelier thing than venison chops, our north country would be even more desirable than it is now.

Mrs. Arthur Weissler:

Tolerates sculpture, loves grandchildren

By SHIRLEY FENTON

Of a summer morning, there will be two ladies in the garden at 396 Lansdowne avenue — one, the Stansted granite lady, who meditates and waits; the other, Margaret Weissler, who meditates as she dashes up and down with a lawnmower who hasn't time to wait.

Mrs. Weissler tolerates the works of sculpture in her garden because they were the gift of Stanley Lewis, well-known Montreal sculptor who exhibits at Galerie Dresdnere.

"Stanley is the brother of Ingrid's husband," she said, laughing over the complexity of the explanation (Ingrid is her daughter). "He gave them to us and my husband likes them. I have a husband who is very, very nice," she added.

Mrs. Weissler took two courses in modern art in order to understand and gain something from the two figures on her lawn, but "It was no use." She is pleased that her husband and passers-by enjoy them, however.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weissler are very happy people.

They are happy even at breakfast time. They sit at the table and watch as shoppers and workers leg-it towards the MTC stop outside the window.

"It's so exciting living at this corner — do they catch the bus or don't they catch the bus?" Margaret Weissler says they have put the house up for sale on more than one occasion — "but at the last minute we change our minds."

One day she was summoned by the front bell. She answered and found a burly policeman waiting. "You know, your door is beautiful!" he said.

The Weisslers made the last boat from Germany and arrived here as war was declared. Their daughter, Ingrid, grew up here and became a nursery school teacher. One of her hobbies, carpentry, proved valuable to herself and to many West-End boys. She devised jig-saw puzzles of wood and taught the children how to make them. Entered in hobby shows, they took prizes and Ingrid received orders from people who had seen them. Now married to a Doctor of Philosophy at Acadia University, she hopes to win her doctorate in clinical psychology. They have two children. Mrs. Weissler is somewhat eloquent, especially on grandchildren: "You never know what real love is until you have grandchildren... and it's nice, too. When you want them, you say 'Come', and when you have had enough you can say 'Here'."

She believes in giving back what joy and usefulness she has been given. She has played the accordion and sung to hospital patients and charitable and social organizations the city over and has received a sheaf of elaborate testimonials of gratitude.

"When I finish playing, they can't clap — they do this —" banging one hand on the sofa, "and the tears stream down their faces," said Mrs. Weissler of the patients at the Hospital of Hope.

She entertains the Golden Age Club frequently, but says that although she is almost eligible for membership, "I have no time to be old."

During the war, and for several years afterward, she acted as nurse's aide. Of her volunteer work she says, "I'm sick before and I'm sick afterward—they're sitting and crying and I'm singing funny things."

Margaret Weissler thinks she is privileged to be able to walk about and perform the ordinary activities without help.

"The Talmud teaches us that sleep is 60% death," she said. "What about the other 40%?"

Minister to French Africa

REV. WM. MORRIS

Rev. William Morris, 8 Winchester, and a minister at St. James United Church, has been selected to accompany a party of students on a study-work-camp project in Africa, called Operation Crossroads Africa 1960.

Rev. Morris is the only Canadian group leader to go on the project. He will be in charge of 13 students from the U.S. who will build a church in the French Cameroons — in the extreme east of the country at Batouri.

The project will be made up of 165 top-notch students from all over Canada and the U.S. and will include Catholics, Protestants and Jews. They will spend two months on the West Coast of Africa, scattered in 14 groups from Dakar to the Belgian Congo.

The project is directed by the famous Dr. James H. Robinson of New York City, who directed a similar operation in 1958 with 60 students.

The purpose of the operation is to build friendly relations between these new rapidly emerging nations and Western Democratic nations.

Nelson Morrell, singer, is accompanied by guitarists Rene Brouillet and Garry Bowden. They wear white jackets with black pants and white-dotted bow ties.

Poster Contest planned to emphasize water safety

A Water Safety Poster Contest will this year be the incentive for creating greater interest in Water Safety precautions, according to Mr. Donald T. Rose, chairman of the Water Safety Committee of the Canadian Red Cross Society's Water Safety Service in Quebec Province, and Mr. W. A. Edge, chairman of the Water Safety Committee, Montreal branch.

The two contestants judged as winners will be awarded an all-expense-paid two-week summer vacation at a private camp. They will be honored by meeting the Mayor, His Honor Sarto Fournier, in Montreal, in addition to signing the Golden Book at the launching of the National Water Safety Week — June 19-25.

Open to boys and girls between the ages of 8-12 years and 13-18 years, this Poster Contest is intended to spread information on water safety rules that can drastically cut the needless toll of lives and accidents in Quebec, occasioned each year by carelessness in the water. Pictures should portray any one of the Water Safety Rules outlined below. Any medium may be used: tempera, oils, wax crayons, water colors, india ink or pencil. Minimum size of picture is 9 x 12 inches. Maximum size of picture is 18 x 24 inches.

Pictures must be forwarded to "Water Safety Poster Contest", The Canadian Red Cross Society, 2170 Dorchester street west, Montreal, not later than May 31.

Would you cast a stone?

Only those without sin, said the Master, may judge the erring.

This girl and her unborn babe may be the victims of betrayal, or of the mother's weakness or folly. The Salvation Army merely asks, are they friendless and in need? In its hospitals, havens and homes, mother and child receive loving care and the opportunity for a happy future.

To maintain this and its other works of mercy, The Salvation Army asks your help. Your contribution will bring you the joy of helping others to build happy, useful lives.

Motherhood

She sang soft lullabies,
While yearning hands caressed
She held us close — secure
On her sweet, yielding breast.

But now, the years have passed,
Patient, she strives to know
How can she meet the test?
To loose, — and let us go.

Fete des Fleurs entry forms must be sent in by May 25

Entry forms are now available for the 9th annual Fête des Fleurs, to be held at the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts, on June 1 and 2, and anyone wishing to enter this competition in floral arrangement for amateurs, should have the completed entry forms back in the hands of the committee by May 25. The forms may be obtained at the museum, 1379 Sherbrooke street west. Early completion of the forms is urged, since several of the 15 different classes will be limited to a stated number of entries.

Now on this year's list of classes is one calling for the creation of a hat of live flowers, with members of the Ladies' Committee, sponsors of the event, modelling the hats. This class will be limited to 10 entries.

Also new will be a "futuristic arrangement" in which flower arranging in the year 2000 will be anticipated (the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts is this year celebrating its 1860-1960 centenary). Vegetables, as well as flowers, will be permitted in the futuristic class.

One of the most popular of all classes with contestants, the miniature class, is back on the list but in a slightly larger form. This year the "small arrangements" may extend to six inches, including the container.

A party theme, to be arranged, with props, on tables supplied by the committee, will be another class. The committee will also provide antique commodes, from the museum's collection, for a commode arrangement class.

For those with a liking for the informal, there will be a class combining a flower arrangement and a 10-inch frying pan. But for those who prefer the formal, the mass arrangement in a classical urn is also on the list.

Other classes will include a novice class (open only to persons who have not previously been winners in a Fête des Fleurs competition), a "quick arrangement" class which will be done at the museum between 10.30 and 11.30 a.m. on the opening day of the show; a still life arrangement within a picture frame; a red, white and blue arrangement; a dried arrangement "in the Victorian manner"; and a monochromatic arrangement which will co-ordinate the flowers used with a yard of fabric supplied by the contestant.

Anyone desiring further information about the Fête des Fleurs (which usually attracts some 4,000 visitors to the museum), may obtain it by writing to the Fête des Fleurs committee, in care of the museum. Entry in the competition is free. Co-chairman of this year's event are Mrs. Allan Matthews, and Mrs. Leo Thibault.

Among the guests at the Park Plaza Hotel in Toronto are Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Keeley, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Farish, Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Matheson and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Spencer, all of Westmount.

Recent guests at the Park Plaza Hotel in Toronto were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Petrie, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. White, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Seybold, all of Westmount.

Mrs. H. L. Taylor, chairman of the Drama Group of the Notre Dame de Grace Women's Club recently entertained the group at her home.

Present were Mrs. H. H. Schurman, president; Mrs. A. H. Mason, Mrs. I. K. Lowry, Mrs. Norman Muir, Mrs. Sydney A. MacSween, Mrs. K. E. Norris, Mrs. J. C. Britton, Mrs. F. Lindsay, Mrs. C. W. Thomson, Mrs. A. M. Shaver, Mrs. R. Sykes, and Miss K. Tremblay.

Members and friends of the Business & Professional Women's Club will leave by bus at 9 a.m. on Saturday, May 7, for Ste.

Adele where they will be weekend guests at the Chantecler.

"The Importance of Africa," will be the topic of Eunice Harriet Avery, world traveller and news analyst, when she speaks to the Women's Canadian Club at the meeting in Ritz-Carlton Hotel on Monday, May 9, at 2:30 p.m. Members may bring Montreal women as guests to this meeting only.

Children's pottery to be exhibited at potters' Club

Mrs. Prichard started teaching children in the country as a "rainy season project," when she introduced youngsters from 4 years upwards to the art of pottery making. During the first season the children earned over $100, by selling their work at 50¢ a piece, and were thus able to purchase their own kiln.

Mrs. Gordon, like Mrs. Prichard a senior member of the Club, also took a course in pottery at the Ecole du Meubles. She has taught ceramics at the Town of Mount Royal and at the Potters' Club.

A film demonstrating the children at work was shown on the Junior Magazine program of the CBC on Sunday, May 1.

Softball diamonds won't remain idle

IT'S softball time again, but with the unfortunate passing of the Snowdon Fastball League there has been a dearth of information concerning the formation of local leagues of senior or intermediate calibre. However you can rest assured that the diamonds in Verdun, Westmount and the West End won't remain idle this Summer.

There may not be any league operating of the calibre of the Snowdon League, but all those fine ball players won't be sitting around holding their hands. They all want to play ball and they will play ball. Sure, they won't be getting paid for it — certainly not as well paid as the Snowdon League had coughed up for the past six or seven years.

With the game returning to the amateurs and the American import non-existent look for the likes of those who formed the Snowdon League to get their fingers back into the pie after a few courtesy visits to Trenholme, N.D.G., Willibrord and other hotbeds of the past-time. The league may not be called the Snowdon League and the uniforms may not be so posh but the ball players will be there just the same giving their all for the fun of the sport.

HOCKEY TALK:— What do hockey players do off-season, besides fish like Doug Harvey, play golf like Don Marshall or just relax. Jean Beliveau is currently on a cross-Canada tour to speak at several service clubs and colleges . . . Maurice Richard and his missus are going to Europe on a guided tour, but young Stan Mikita of the Chicago Black Hawks is going on an unguided tour behind the Iron Curtain. Mikita, born Stan Gvoth at Scholce, Czechoslovakia, was brought to Canada in 1948 when he was eight years old and was adopted by the Joe Mikitas, changing his name to Stan Mikita. This summer Stan plans to return to his native Czechoslovakia and visit his parents and brother and sister whom he hasn't seen for 12 years.

One of five children Major Bloomfield is the only one to have pursued a law career. His brother Bernard established an exporting firm in which he has continued, and a sister, Prof. Dorothy Freeman, is a member of the faculty of the McGill School of Social Work. Another sister, Mrs. Myrtle Paull lives in Chicago. A third sister was the late Mrs. Max Pascal.

Too busy to entertain thoughts of marriage, Maj. Bloomfield types himself as a confirmed bachelor who was very devoted to his late mother, the former Sadie Bloomfield who passed away last year. He is distantly related to Admiral Hyman

Pete Pilote, top-scoring defenseman in the league last season, operates a laundrette business in St. Catharines, Ont., and Earl Balfour is a carpenter in Toronto . . . Black Hawk Coach Rudy Pilous has a public relations job in St. Catharines and will spend part of his time riding in a blimp which advertises his company's activities.

BALL BITS:— There's been more face-lifting at Comiskey Park than just the new players brought in to aid the defending American League champion Chicago White Sox. Some of the physical improvements made by President Bill Veeck, at a cost of around $600,000, include:

The once-drab exterior has been painted white . . . The seats are baby blue . . . There's a picnic grove underneath the left field stands ready for business . . . Concessionaires will have a special

Mr. Bloomfield's duties keep him travelling the equivalent of four times around the world every year. When not en route he keeps in close contact with his far-flung interests by telephone and cable with an average of half a dozen foreign calls a day coming to or from his office.

He is a member of the United Services and Bonaventure clubs and relaxes with his hobby — writing. With the above-mentioned books he has published "The British Honduras Guatemala dispute." His most recent publication is a German-language work dealing with German-Canadian corporation law.—H.L.

Shooters from near and far for meet here on week-end

A record number of shooters from Canada and the United States will compete in the fifth Canadian and 11th Province of Quebec skeet championships which will be held at the Montreal Skeet Club, May 6, 7 and 8.

Stuart Molson, shoot chairman and president of the National Skeet Shooting Association, said here today that advance entries show a registration of over 300, considerably higher than advance registrations last year.

This will be the last time these annual championships will be held at the present location as the land on which the Montreal Skeet Club is situated has been expropriated for airport expansion.

No definite plans as to a new site for the skeet club have been finalized.

Mr. Molson said the majority of last year's top winners will be defending their titles at the 1960 championships.

Among these are Al Stott, Fairfield, Conn., 410 gauge open champion; Joe Sullivan, Springfield, Mass., 20 gauge open champion; Bob Bogie, Loon Lake, N. Y., provincial open all gauge champion; Mrs. Katherine Dinning, Ruxton, Md., open lady champion, and Squadron Leader Barney Hartman of Ottawa. Hartman made practically a clean sweep of the field in last year's shoots by winning the Molson Open, the Canadian open all gauge, Canadian closed all gauge, Canadian open all-around, provincial open all-around and the Canadian closed in all other events.

Committee in charge of arrangements for the skeet championships includes A. N. Francis, H. S. Garland, R. R. Johnston, R. J. Tobin and W. K. White.

During the shoot the following will officiate: A. W. Guthrie, field captain; George Deyoe, Washington, D.C., chief referee; William Hoffman, Buffalo, N. Y., assistant chief referee; F. E. Gillet and H. P. Glencroise, cashiers; A. Fraser and A. T. Stikeman, information.

St. Leo's Academy held their annual Athletic Award Day Tuesday afternoon in the Academy Hall with the Rev. Msgr. Edward J. Lapointe presiding. In addition to the school athletes was Mrs. Howard Tyrrell representing Catholic Mother's Club and members of the staff including Gérard Côté, school director.

Proceedings opened with the presentation of championship crests to members of the pee wee hockey club, 1960 Westmount Public School champions.

RAINBOWS

Rainbow trout are hitting pretty good at Lake Memphremagog. Boats are bringing in six or seven and for Rainbow this is good day's catch.

Last Sunday, we were fishing at Lake Memphremagog on the surface, but learned late in the morning that they were feeding in about twenty feet of water. (In the Spring, this can often fool you).

I remember a day last Spring at Lake Massawippi, having only surface gear with me, I was having a terrible day. However, I met an old fishing pal of mine who was taking trout like crazy. He was fishing right down on the bottom; so a good rule is to start at the top and work down until you hit fish and then you are usually in business for the rest of the day.

Thus far, Lake Memphremagog has not yielded very many salmon. The biggest one we have heard of was around three pounds, which is unusual since the first five days after the ice goes out of the lake is the time when salmon are hitting like mad.

It might be a good tip to fish at Lake Memphremagog this weekend as it could be really hot fishing. Yours truly will be there!

The lakes up north are now open, but I understand the road conditions are not so good — MUD! It might be wise to take along a set of chains if you are heading that way this weekend.

The best time of day to fish this coming week is as follows:

Friday, May 6 — 9:00 to 5:00 p.m.

Saturday, May 7 — 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Sunday, May 8 — 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Monday, May 9 — 5:00 a.m. to 9:00 a.m. and 1:00 to 5:00 p.m.

Tuesday, May 10 — 5:00 a.m. to 9:00 a.m. and 1:00 to 10:00 p.m.

Wednesday, May 11 — 5:00 a.m. to 9:00 a.m. and 1:00 to 10:00 p.m.

The fish are most active during the New Moon and the First Quarter. Good luck and fish with reason in season. If you want any information on fishing, and I can help you, please feel free to call me. RE. 7-3624.
