Levesque urges 'Common front' for prosperity

By CUTHBERT JONES
(Record staff writer)

The extraordinary development of Quebec in the fields of autonomy, science and technology during the past few years were dependent upon three factors, Natural Resources Minister Rene Levesque told a gathering of French language doctors at a dinner meeting Saturday night.

The provincial cabinet minister listed the three supports for this development as democracy, nationalism and the state.

Mr. Levesque stressed that he was not using the word nationalism in the sense adopted by the FLO and Le Phalange. Rather, he said, "We must employ our forces so that all will benefit. We must present a common front. We contribute to meeting the needs of others but we also benefit from the contribution of others to the common good."

If the people of Quebec wish to continue their remarkable progress they must end their fear of the state, Mr. Levesque declared.

"We must remove this fear of the state," he said, "because the state is the only lever we have to assure the expansion of our autonomy."

Quebec had achieved a degree of freedom it never had enjoyed before, according to the cabinet minister, but this had been accomplished by the leadership given by the state.

Similarly the scientific, technological and transportation advances during the past decade had not been equalled anywhere else in the world and guidance of the state was essential for the continuation of this progress.

Mr. Levesque's address to the French-language physicians of the district concluded a two-day visit to Sherbrooke during which he also met with the students of the University of Sherbrooke.

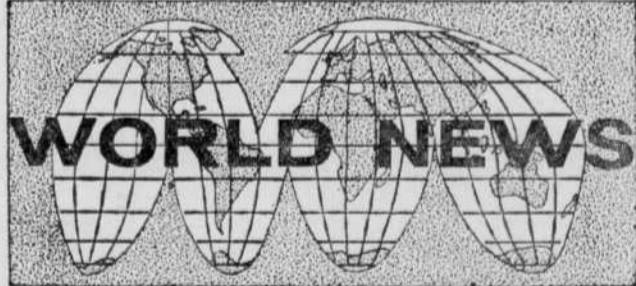

The meeting was presided over by Dr. Zepherin Cote, president of the Sherbrooke Association.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The big question of whether to allow the sale of U.S. wheat to Russia lies in the decision for President Kennedy, returning to his White House desk today after a 10-day western tour.

Some high officials expect him to say yes.

The Russians have made no formal request to the United States. But Soviet negotiators have been talking in Ottawa of deals for American grain. One report mentioned 3,000,000 tons for $250,000,000.

VICTORIA (CP) — There was talk of a record turnout today as British Columbians went about electing their 27th government since Confederation.

A heavy percentage of the 872,718 eligible voters was expected at the polls between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m. PDT (11 a.m. to 11 p.m. EDT) to make their decision on such issues as power development, medical insurance, automobile insurance and revamped tax proposals.

WASHINGTON (CP) — Canada has thrown its full support behind long-term studies of the adequacy of free world currency and credit resources.

The studies are to be conducted by the International Monetary Fund and by a committee of the 10 major industrial countries, the so-called "Paris club." Canada is a member of both groups.

BIG CATCH — Osborne Quinn, 43 left; his father, Dougall Quinn, 70, and son Dale, 19, pose before the two bears they shot Wednesday afternoon after they invaded the Quinn farm on the Cookshire-Bury Road and did more than $250 damage to beehives owned by Dougall Quinn. The Quinns shot two bears in 1961 after they had caused similar damage estimated at $400.

Two sweet-toothed bears shot on farm near Bury

BURY — (Staff) — Two bears, one male and one female, were shot on a farm near here Wednesday after they invaded the farm's beehives, smashing frames and causing an estimated $250 in damages.

The owner of the farm on the Cookshire-Bury Road, insurance broker Osborne Quinn said Saturday that more than 150 pounds of honey had been eaten or destroyed by the two animals before one was killed and the other caught in a trap.

Raiding of beehives owned by Mr. Quinn's father, Dougall is an old story in this area.

In September, 1961, the Quinn's shot and killed two black male bears, one weighing over 400 pounds. The bears broke 350 frames, smashed six hives and caused an estimated $400 damage. More than 1,400 pounds of honey were destroyed.

The most recent attacks on the beehives began Monday night according to Mr. Quinn. The bears returned Tuesday night and attacked two beehives. A trap had been set Tuesday but the bears evaded it, he said.

On Wednesday the Quinns set up a board wall around the undamaged hives in hopes of keeping the bears out. "They tore the wall down," he said.

Osborne Quinn and his 19-year-old son, Dale, laid in wait for the bears Wednesday and shot the male bear around 6:30 p.m.

"Dale and I shot at the same time," he said, "I got him in the neck and Dale got him between the eyes." They used 308 calibre rifles.

The female bear, the first ever caught by the Quinns was caught in a trap the same evening. Although neither bear has been measured, Mr. Quinn said the female weighs about 275 pounds and the male 300 pounds.

The Quinns had set up a lantern in hopes of keeping the bears off. Mr. Quinn said, but the female bear was trapped only 20 feet from the light.

Neighbor Dick Aulis whose farm is on the Bury Road about one and one-half miles from the Quinns' wounded a bear in his orchard Tuesday. The bear was apparently after the honey in beehives owned by Dougall Quinn and kept on the Aulis farm.

Mr. Quinn plans to bury the bears. "The bounty is off them. I wouldn't skin one of them for $100. We keep away from them as much as we can," he said.

Mr. Quinn says he believes there are more bears around. There are no immediate plans to track them down he said.

All parties altered as parliament opens

OTTAWA (CP) — Parliament resumes its labors today after an eight-week recess during which internal stresses mounted in all four parties.

The Commons picks up its work where it left off Aug. 2 without the formality and pomp that attends the opening of a new parliamentary session.

While on the surface all will appear as though the Commons merely adjourned overnight, each of the parties approaches the resumed session with new and diverse viewpoints.

For the Liberals, an incipient revolt of back-benchers who wanted a more decisive voice in policy-making was arrested Sunday with a compromise arrangement for strengthening the Liberal caucus' consultative machinery. Back-benchers, however, claimed that they had in fact won a stronger position in dealings with the cabinet.

For the Conservatives, during the summer recess the machinery was set in motion for the calling of an annual general meeting of the Progressive Conservative Association next year, at which Opposition Leader John Diefenbaker will submit his leadership to a test of confidence. An executive meeting of the party is to be held here at the end of October.

SOCCREDS SPLIT

For the Social Credit party—which at adjournment was the third-ranking party in the Commons—the recess saw a cleavage between National Leader Robert Thompson and his Quebec deputy, Real Caouette. With 12 Social Credit back-benchers following him, Mr. Caouette established his group as a separate wing which intends to sit apart from the 11 orthodox Social Crediters.

While the Social Credit split moved the 17-member New Democratic Party group into third position in the parliamentary hierarchy, the socialist group was quietly struggling with its own internal differences. They revolved on the question of whether the NDP should continue to give tacit support to the minority government of Prime Minister Pearson to keep it in office and avoid another general election soon.

The Liberals have 129 members in the 265-seat house, and lose one vote in any division with Alan Macnaughton in the chair as the Commons Speaker. The Conservatives have 95 members, and a combined vote of all opposition parties is needed to upset the government.

The Senate will hold its first post-recess meeting Tuesday night.

Endorse church change

VATICAN CITY — A proposed redefinition of the Roman Catholic Church won general endorsement today from the first prelates to speak at the second phase of the Vatican ecumenical council.

Two cardinals and six bishops took the floor in St. Peter's Basilica as the 2,500 council fathers resumed working sessions. Pope Paul VI reopened the council Sunday after a nine-month recess with a strong appeal for church reform.

The council press office, summarizing today's three-hour meeting, told reporters the schema (topic) before the assembly — "de Ecclesia," concerning the church — was accepted by speakers as "a good foundation on which to build."

The schema, considered the key to all the council's work, proposed a new way for the Roman Catholic Church to look at its structure. It came up originally at the council's first session last year and was criticized by many fathers as being too juridical and academic and not sufficiently pastoral.

During the recess today a council spokesman said 372 proposed corrections and amendments to the first half of the schema were mailed to the Vatican by prelates around the world.

A feeling was evident among the church fathers that the session would move with greater speed and efficiency than the first, which ran from Oct. 11 to Dec. 8 last year. This session will continue until Dec. 4.

A young bishop summed up this spirit. "I think all the bishops are coming back to this session with a lot more enthusiasm. They know now what is intended and what it is they are trying to do."

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Two white men were placed in city jail early today for further investigation into the series of bombings that have rocked this racially-troubled city for several years.

Col. Al Lingo, head of the state highway patrol, said that others picked up in the investigation have been released. He declined to say how many others had been questioned.

Night warden L. A. Holcomb identified the two being held as R. E. Chambliss and Charles Cagle, both of Birmingham. Both appeared to be in their late 30s.

Lingo would give no information on the men, nor on results of the questioning. He also declined to link them with the blast at the 16th Street Baptist Church Sept. 15 in which four young Negro girls were killed.

COVER FACES
The two men arrived at the city jail—the same one where some 2,400 Negro demonstrators were held last spring—in a highway patrol car with two troopers. Dressed in sport shirts and slacks, they covered their faces as they were led into the jail.

Although the investigations into the bombings—there have been at least 40—had been intensified since the church explosion, these were the first arrests. A tipoff that they were coming came Sunday night in Montgomery from the office of Governor George C. Wallace.

A statement said that "arrests were imminent" in the church bombing. But the actual announcement of the arrests did not specify the church blast. It said:

"State investigators have taken into custody and are holding two persons in connection with the Birmingham bombings. Their identities are being withheld in the interest of the continuing investigation."

RECENT BLAST WORST
The city has had more than 40 bombings since the Second World War, but the one which nearly destroyed the 16th Street Baptist Church was the worst. About 20 persons also were hurt in the blast, which inflicted more than $44,000 in damage to the church as well as damaging nearby cars and buildings.

The church bombing sparked a near riot. Sporadic outbreaks of violence continued through the day and night. Two young Negroes were shot to death—one by police officers and the other as he was riding a bicycle. Two white youths are free on $10,000 bonds in the death of the second Negro.

A reliable informant says "a number of strings must be tied together" before a private union trusteeship could be laid before federal Labor Minister MacEachen as a workable plan endorsed by both the CLC and AFL-CIO.

Pearson tells nation

Canada's pension plan dependent on Ontario

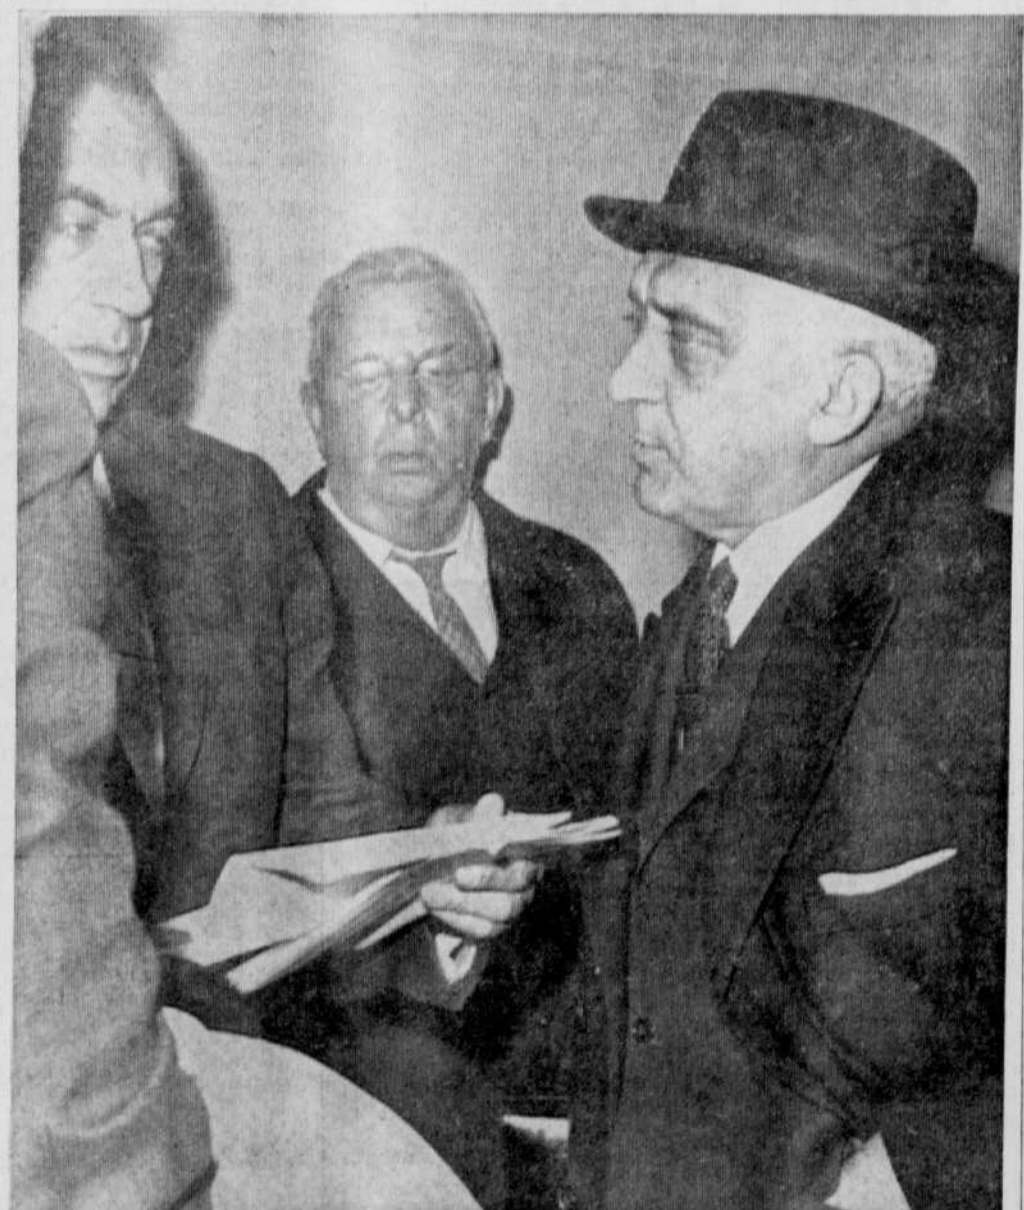

OTTAWA (CP) — Ontario can make or break the federal contributory portable pension plan, Prime Minister Pearson told the nation Sunday night in a fire-side-chat preview of today's resumed parliamentary session.

The pensions plan and bicentennial pose serious problems although wheat sales to Red China and Russia have sparked a brighter trade and balance-of-payments picture, he said in a recorded radio and television address.

As he spoke to Canada, he was in Cleveland getting the highest award of the United States National Conference of Christians and Jews. In Cleveland he said only a matter of degree separates the "criminal racial acts of Birmingham and the gentle bigotry of a prominent Canadian club that bars a distinguished Canadian Jew."

Later, Mr. Pearson told reporters he had no particular club or individual in mind. Canada's problem of racial discrimination is "less pressing only because our situation is different and more fortunate for us," he told a dinner of 1,800 after receiving the award from State Secretary Rusk of the U.S.

He confessed that neither he nor Mr. Rusk had been briefed on the latest meetings in Boston between Labor Minister MacEachen and Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz of the U.S. In his national address, Mr. Pearson spoke from his official residence to review five months of Liberal government and sketch some pending problems.

Explains state's position

The Quebec government must have a part in setting up the province's first steel mill, because if French-Canadian capitalists attempted it, "It'd belong to Stelco within six months," Resources Minister Rene Levesque said at the University of Sherbrooke yesterday.

Asked by a student how much of the investment in the industry the government's General Investment Corporation would make, Mr. Levesque had said "I couldn't care less" about the precise formula.

But there must remain "Quebec control."

An African student asked the minister in a question period following his lunch-hour speech to university's students how he could reconcile his desire for Quebec control of the economy with his call for investments from such foreign lands as France.

France itself participated in the European common market without losing its identity, he said. "The Simca Automobile firm has recently been bought out by Chrysler, but the Renault firm can never be bought out, because it belongs to the French government."

But, the minister explained later, the government's participation must limit itself to certain "springboard" industries, of which steel was one.

"I've been to Russia," he said. "Even Khrushchev is obliged to try to introduce a little private enterprise, individual initiative into the system."

The students, who were the resources minister's exclusive hosts on his visit to the campus — students' association president Ronald Fecteau guided him around the campus without a single university official's presence—also wanted to know what he thought of their own activities of late.

Were the University of Montreal students going far in their demands for reduced prices in their cafeteria?

"At a time when you are talking of student trade-unionism," Mr. Levesque said, "it seems to me you must strive to merit the respect of the public."

A boycott of the cafeteria, he had thought, would mean "asking your girl-friends or your mothers to make you cheap lunches."

TRUMP BREAK NEED NOT SET

It is always bad luck when you lose a game or slam because of a bad break in trumps, but it is bad play when you fail to guard against the bad break.

South's six-spade contract was reasonable indeed. He only needed a 3-2 break in trumps and a 5-1 break in clubs to make all 13 tricks. South won the opening heart lead with dummy's ace. He led a trump to his king and a second trump to dummy's queen. East showed out and the fat was in the fire. South could not make his slam any more, in fact he could not even make five-odd. He played two more rounds of trumps in the vain hope that West did not hold a second heart to lead to his partner, but West had that second heart.

South commented that he had guarded against finding four trumps in the East hand. He had done that all right. If East held four trumps he would have been able to finesse against the jack and make all the tricks, but South could have guarded against any 4-1 break.

All he had to do was play his ace and king of trumps. East would have shown out, but South would be in no trouble at all. He would simply have started on the club suit and discarded his two hearts on the second and third club leads. West could have trumped in, then or waited while more clubs were played, but the result would have been the same. Whenever West trumped he would have had to let declarer

VANDALS DESECRATE EAST ANGUS CEMETERY

EAST ANGUS — (Staff) — Two police forces are searching for clues concerning vandalism in a Roman Catholic cemetery here Saturday night.

Municipal police said this morning that 23 grave-stones were torn from their bases and overturned in the cemetery of La Fabrique St. Louis de France. Four of them have been partly smashed police added.

Provincial and municipal police who are carrying out the search said this morning that they have as yet uncovered no clues. No footsteps or tools were left in the graveyard, police said.

Police were at a loss to explain the motive for the crime. They have never experienced a similar incident in the area.

Municipal police suggested that next week's annual pilgrimage to the cemetery might have some connection with the incident.

Great strides made by Nigeria towards self-sufficient life

By SANDRA PICKFORD
(Record staff reporter)

Despite the great need for guidance in such fields as education and medicine, the Nigerian has made great strides towards self-responsibility and self-sustainment in the last 15 or 20 years, according to a Canadian couple who retired last year after 35 years of missionary work in the bush of Northern Nigeria.

Rev. and Mrs. William Collins, who now make their home in St. Catharines, Ontario are in Sherbrooke until Tuesday, staying at the home of Mr. Collin's daughter, Ruth McCombie wife of Rev. Alex McCombie of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

The retired couple and another missionary couple, Dr. and Mrs. Donald Wilson of Formosa took part in a weekend missionary conference hosted by St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

Supported by missions and the government the Nigerians have formed a voluntary fellowship known as the Association of Evangelical Church of West Africa. It is controlled entirely by the Africans, Mr. Collins said.

This organization, in turn, has formed a mission society called AMS (African Missionary Society) through which Africans send out their own trained workers as missionaries to their fellow countrymen.

"There are 34 missionaries in Northern Nigeria now teaching their fellow countrymen," said Mr. Collins. Some 500 churches have been established, all completely self-sustaining and reaching out to the areas with their own workers.

The African still needs help in the fields of education and medicine, however, says Rev. Collins. There are very few doctors, he said. Although there are government-trained doctors there are no mission doctors.

The missions, however, train male nurses at mission schools.

"The Nigerian people will feel the need for the white man's help for many years to come," Mr. Collins said.

Mr. Collins went to Nigeria in 1925 under the Sudan Interior Mission an evangelical, inter-denominational, inter-racial mission founded in 1893 by Rev. Rowland Bingham of Toronto. His first wife died there.

His second wife went to Nigeria in 1930. They met in Jos, a tin mining area in the central plateau.

Their work took them into the bush, away from the railway lines where Mrs. Collins was often the first white woman ever seen. Work began near Zungeru, former capital of

RC and Protestant school board nominations set for tomorrow

Roman Catholic and Protestant ratepayers at separate meetings Tuesday morning will nominate candidates for one seat on each of the Catholic and Protestant School Commissions.

But a contest seems assured for the North Ward seat on the Roman Catholic Commission. Mr. Bachand announced his nomination to stand for re-election several days ago and over the weekend Michael Marengo, an insurance agent, also threw his hat into the ring.

He agreed to seek the seat when waited upon by a delegation of 150 North Ward residents Sunday.

Important differences exist in the method of electing members of the two Commissions. Members of the Protestant Board are elected at large, with Protestant voters in all sections of the city voting for each vacancy.

But representation on the Roman Catholic board is determined on a geographical and language basis.

One French-speaking member is elected for the North, East and West wards and one for the combined Centre and South wards. An English-speaking member is elected at large.

Members of both commissions are named for three-year terms, two retiring in each of two years and one in the third year.

Candidates may be proposed at the nomination gatherings being held Tuesday from 10 a.m. to noon and require only a proposer and seconder.

In the event of a contest, elections will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 8.

An expensive session of Parliament

The session of Parliament that resumes in Ottawa today may well turn out to be one of the most expensive for the people of Canada in some time.

Among the thorny issues that the MPs — with their new pay raises — will have to deal with will be a number that will require tremendous extra outlays on the part of the central government.

One of these — and sure to be among the most controversial — is the Canada pension plan. According to present outlines, the fund, when set up, will act as an enormous pipeline funneling money from the taxpayers right back to recipients, with no investment process in between.

There are two obvious disadvantages to this.

The first is that it is going to mean an increase in taxes with no guarantee that the plan will be nearly as beneficial a welfare measure as it is made out to be. As a matter of fact, the reverse seems more likely.

The second disadvantage is that the money that will go into the pension plan will have to be removed from the private investment and savings field. Under existing private pension plans, contributions are invested in a variety of Canadian enterprises, with resulting economic stimulation. No such investment is contemplated under the federal plan.

Other items which will undoubtedly cost the Canadian taxpayer more of his hard-earned dollars include:

Increased assistance for the provinces under the Technical and Vocational Training Assistance Act, aimed chiefly at expanding vocational schools;

Wide-ranging amendments to the National Housing Act, including increased assistance to municipal slum-clearing projects.

And there remain the great bulk of the 1963-64 spendings estimates, which have not as yet been touched.

It is true, of course, that much of what the Pearson government is proposing are measures which could be of benefit to Canada. But there is serious doubt that all of them are, or that as many of them as the government seems determined to push through are necessary or even desirable.

Corporate and individual taxation levels in this country are already disturbingly high. Raising them still higher in the name of welfare may well be a self-defeating line of action.

Annual October sports fest is here

It has already been pointed out by a number of observers of the Canadian scene that the sports minded this season are going to be better served by television than ever before.

And the biggest helping — on television and other media — comes up right about this time of year.

In two days, the World Series begins. Football is approaching a climax.

Hockey will be starting up any week now.

Soccer is going strong.

Golf is enjoying a final fling.

Davis Cup tennis is in the news.

Basketball is almost upon us.

Horse-racing, that year-round pastime, is in full swing locally and elsewhere.

And there are hundreds of other lesser sports such as bowling, sports car racing, chess and lacrosse.

An outsider would imagine that residents of this continent are sports crazy athletes, judging from the activities going on.

Well, sports crazy we might be. But athletes? That's something else again. Most of us are armchair athletes. As we gradually grow bald on top and thick around the middle, we cheer our paid heroes on to victory after victory after victory from the comfort of a stadium seat or a television chair.

Those of us who like to do that sort thing are in a kind of spectator's heaven right now.

Those others — wives, daughters and people who like more balanced fare? They'll just have to wait until this October peak has passed.

Haydn S. Pearson's COUNTRY FLAVOR

Crickets sounding off in the house

When nights grow chilly and gray shadows stretch long in the late afternoon, crickets begin to come into the house.

There are two points of view concerning this. Some housewives dislike the dark-colored, saltatorial, orthopterous insects with their slender forelegs, powerful jumping legs and two waving antennae for feelers.

If crickets, like people, would only learn to keep still, the antipathy engendered could be eliminated. But a cricket in the house feels obliged to sound off, especially during the evening. It is a penetrating, altoish call that sounds loud and clear.

The problem boils down to this question. Does one like the steady chanting? The countryman enjoys a cricket in the house on these coolish, pre-fall evenings.

The black field cricket has legend and lore that goes far back in history. Ancient Greeks believed the cricket was a symbol of the art of music. Since time immemorial the Chinese have delighted in crickets and have kept them as pets in artistically woven grass baskets. "Merry as a grig" is an English saying, and "Cricket on the Hearth" is a cherished part of English literature.

Thoreau wrote, "Their song has the security of prose. They have drunk no wine but the dew." Whether the cricket's song in the house has the security of prose, depends on one's view. But as a man peruses the paper, studies the farm journals and pokes the fireplace logs from time to time, he enjoys the cricket that from somewhere beneath the sofa, repeatedly sounds the warning that fall is here.

Maintaining habits aid to health

(St. Thomas Times-Journal)

An American medical columnist says he crossed his fingers one day last year when he read that Sir Winston Churchill's physicians had advised him to give up smoking cigars and drinking brandy. Then a few days later he read that his medical advisers had rescinded the order. When he broke off with his habits of a lifetime, he became a sick man. When he resumed them he became a well man again.

The medical columnist expressed himself strongly against changing lifelong, or nearly lifelong habits. A man eats and drinks certain things every day, or nearly every day, and this regularity of days becomes part of him. The medical man is against too early retirement, and especially against changes of habit that go with it. The worst thing a retired man can do, he says, whether he has led an active or a sedentary life, is to make a bee line in the morning for a rocking chair and practically stay there for the rest of the day until it is time to make a bee line for bed.

The same practitioner lined up against the common practice of athletic coaches drawing up a special diet sheet for the athletes they may be training.

"Leave their diet alone," he says.

Many years ago we interviewed "Professor" Marquis Bibbero, the man who trained Captain Matthew Webb for the first successful English Channel swim in 1875.

"I do not believe in special diets," he said. "I let Webb eat what he liked, because whatever a man likes will do him more good than something that is supposed to give his strength, but which he does not enjoy.

"The same with what he drinks. Webb liked old ale, and I gave him all he wanted of that."

The modern coach would have a fit at such a suggestion.

Failure to stand fast

Word 'Munich' gained infamy 25 years ago today — in 1938

MUNICH, West Germany (AP)—Twenty-five years ago this month the word "Munich" came to have a new meaning and the umbrella became a bitter symbol.

Adolf Hitler and the prime ministers of Britain and France signed an agreement in Munich sealing the fate of Czechoslovakia. Observers of the political scene today still speak of "another Munich" to condemn real or imagined failure to stand fast in the cold-war struggle which has followed Hitler's downfall.

In September 1938 the world was on the brink of war.

A week before the Munich signing Hitler brought the crisis to a climax in a meeting with Chamberlain at the Dresden Hotel at Bad Godesberg. There Hitler declared he could no longer wait for a popular vote in the German-speaking border areas of Czechoslovakia—the Sudetenland he coveted.

At Birmingham only a week before he had agreed to the voting. Now he insisted on marching in and occupying the area's fortifications by Oct. 1.

CHAMBERLAIN SHOCKED Neville Chamberlain, Britain's umbrella-carrying prime minister, was shocked—but he didn't say so.

The Munich agreement, virtually as Hitler wanted it, was signed between 2 and 3 a.m. Sept. 30, 1938, at the Fuehrerbau, the building where Hitler had his Munich office.

Chamberlain made his first trip to Germany after the French urged him to make the best deal he could on Czechoslovakia, which they were bound by treaty to defend. Hitler had him go all the way to Berchtesgaden at the extreme southeast tip of Germany, then an all-day trip from London by air and rail. It was the first time that Chamberlain, 69, had been in a plane.

The talks were held in Hitler's favorite residence, the Berghof, on a mountain overlooking Berchtesgaden. (Badly damaged in the war, it has been rebuilt as a restaurant.)

HAD TO GIVE IN Chamberlain agreed that Hitler could have the Sudetenland "on the basis of self-determination"—that is, the local population would decide by a vote. There was resistance but the Czechs had to give in.

By CARL HARTMAN

Then, at Bad Godesberg, Hitler reneged. War looked almost certain despite all the British and French could do. They urged Hitler's fellow dictator—Benito Mussolini of Italy—to mediate. But the two dictators agreed that they must one day fight the West side by side.

They met Chamberlain and Edouard Daladier, the French premier, in Munich, Sept. 29. Czechoslovakia was not invited, nor was the Soviet Union, which insisted on its readiness to fight for the Czechs if the French would.

Mussolini presented a compromise drafted for him in Berlin. The German occupation of the Sudetenland was set for completion Oct. 10 instead of Oct. 1. Everyone promised a vote later and guarantees for the rest of Czechoslovakia—promises never carried out.

It took 13 hours to arrange the details.

HITLER SIGNED QUICKLY After a few hours' sleep, Chamberlain brought Hitler a pledge that the agreement before them was "symbolic of our two peoples never to go to war with one another again."

Hitler was quick to sign.

"I believe it is peace in our time," Chamberlain told a jubilant crowd when he returned to London.

Less than six months later Hitler took over the rest of Czechoslovakia, and six months after that he invaded Poland. Britain and France then declared war.

What France and Britain should have done in the Munich crisis still is debated.

In his history of the period, Winston Churchill speaks of the "tragedy of Munich" and says: "FATAL COURSE"

"For the French government to leave her faithful ally, Czechoslovakia, for her fate was a melancholy lapse from which flowed terrible consequences... the British government not only acquiesced but encouraged the French government in a fatal course."

Had the French kept their pledge to fight for Czechoslovakia, many people believe, Britain and the Soviet Union would have followed suit. The Czechs had a considerable army.

Inside Nazi Germany a conspiracy of generals, already organized, might then have toppled Hitler and prevented the Second World War.

Others think Chamberlain did as well as could be expected.

TODAY IN HISTORY

Canada was elected to the United Nations Security Council for a two-year term 16 years ago today—in 1947—to fill one of three vacancies that would occur at the end of the year. The two-year terms of Australia, Poland and Brazil were due to expire. The council contained 11 nations—the permanent members, the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain, France and China, and six members elected for two-year terms.

1929—The first BBC television broadcast took place.

1950—The Canadian dollar was freed to find its own level, a situation that continued for 12 years.

REGULAR REVIEWS

Some results have been achieved and the pattern is to switch to regular annual reviews which will see a confrontation of agricultural policies and keep a fair balance of advantage between the mainly industrial exporting members and those who depend on food exports. These inter-farm EFTA questions apart, it was inevitable that most attention should be devoted to GATT and the UN Trade conference. On GATT,

Towards one Europe Free trade talks are always calm

by M. H. Fisher

From the very first discussions which led to the creation of the European Free Trade Association, meetings of the Seven have always been characterised by an absence of drama and the latest ministerial meeting in Stockholm proved no exception.

Admittedly the main problem facing the Seven, after the breakdown of the Brussels negotiations, had been resolved in Lisbon in May. The basic decision to press on at high speed with the freeing of trade within the Association was taken then.

This decision represented more of course than merely a settlement of the tariff issue. It involved the acceptance of the fact that some time would have to pass before EFTA could hope to see the realization of one of its two main objectives - the creation of one European trading area.

It was based on the consideration that the best way of preparing for an eventual opening of negotiations with the EEC was to strengthen EFTA, and this quite apart from the economic benefits which a more rapid move towards freer trade would bring to the members.

EFTA-EEC RELATIONS

It is in the light of this attitude that one must interpret the remarkable matter-of-factness with which Ministers in Stockholm discussed the problem of the future relations between the two European groupings.

A proposal was made to seek to establish some kind of more formalized contact between EEC and EFTA. But it was soon discarded as it is obvious that for the time being EFTA must on the one hand further consolidate itself, on the other hand work for freer trade within a wider framework—the GATT and the UN Trade conference.

As regards the expansion of trade inside EFTA the framework is now in place. By the end of 1966—with one year's grace for Finland—industrial products will circulate freely throughout the area.

Now it is up to industrialists and businessmen to make the most of the advantages which are there for them to exploit. Governments can only create the conditions for expanding trade, and that they have done; the expansion can only come as a result of individual effort.

In agriculture too EFTA should make further progress. Almost inevitably, agricultural questions have been dealt with on an ad hoc basis hitherto as the food exporting countries, notably Denmark, have pressed for concessions as a counterpart to their agreement to a more rapid dismantling of the industrial barriers.

CONCERN OVER DEVELOPING COUNTRIES

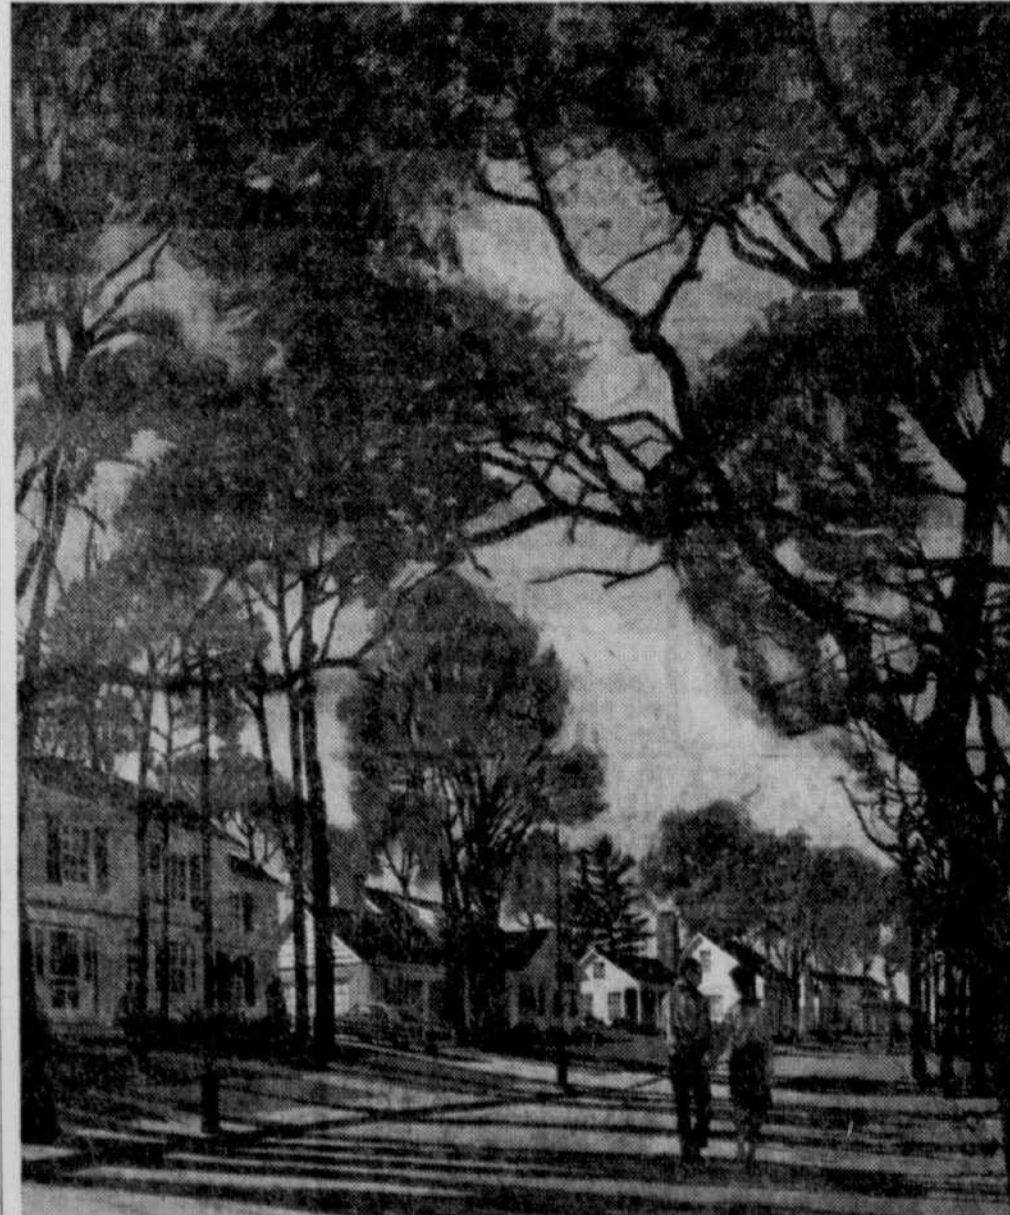

That the EFTA members are not, however, merely thinking of how best to further trade between the industrialized nations of the world came out when they turned to the UN Trade conference scheduled for next Spring. It was unavoidable that the debate on this point did not go into any great detail.

So far the agenda for the conference has not yet been settled. But the Seven did stress that helping the trade of developing countries is very much a subject with which they as a group must concern themselves.

Until such time as the possibility of a closer European union once more becomes practical politics, the achievement of EFTA is bound to be measured by trade statistics. The best possible advertisements for the group are higher export and, (too often forgotten) higher import figures.

Cuisinaire method explained at Waterloo H and S meeting

WATERLOO — (Special) — The Waterloo Home and School Association held its first meeting September 26 in the high school gymnasium.

This meeting provided an opportunity to meet the teachers who were introduced by the principal, Sam Waye. There was also an interesting talk by Mrs. Freda Horrell of Baie D'Urfe on the Cuisinaire method of teaching arithmetic. It was an opportune time to give information on this new method which is being introduced at the Waterloo High School in grade one this year.

Mrs. Horrell said it was a subject foremost in the minds of the parents. She explained it fully with blocks and rods. Children first played with the rods, then they learned to add by color, shapes and on to the more complicated mathematics, she said.

Macdonald College has not yet adopted this method but is expected to soon she said. The inventor of a system was a Belgian business man by the name of Cuisinaire, who devised it to help his own children. He saw they were not advancing with the old system. The new one stimulated much more interest.

A period of questions and answers followed.

Coffee and cookies were served in the cafeteria.

It is estimated that between 150 and 200 persons were present at this interesting meeting.

Asked about the Lesage ultimatum to Ottawa, on fiscal sharing he said the result of an Ottawa refusal couldn't be announced beforehand, but "it won't be gay." Students would be "informed at the earliest occasion."

Quebec's unemployment and educational lacks led to "the witchery of a Caouette," but "you can hardly blame the people who fell for him."

Asked for direct comments on Bill 60, the provincial legislation which will create the first Quebec education ministry, he pleaded, "Can't you wait for Gerin-Lajoie?" Mr. Levesque's cabinet colleague will be at the University next Monday at another lunch hour talk.

One student questioner wanted to know if more "socialistic" measures wouldn't be necessary to attain Quebec's aspirations within confederation.

"Until we have gotten rid of these scarecrow words — like socialism — there is only one question to be asked about a measure proposed by the government. Is it good or is it bad for the people of Quebec."

The Family Security Check-Up helps you check the facts. It compares what you have with what you need for a clear picture of where you stand. It can uncover errors that could cost your family dearly. It helps you plan for retirement. It may even help you get more value from the dollars already put aside for security.

Family Security Check-Up

WHAT IT IS AND WHAT IT DOES FOR YOU

With the help of your Metropolitan man—

1. You check the facts: your pension plan, your home, your life insurance, your savings and other assets. You may be surprised to learn how much you're worth.
2. You weigh your responsibilities: mortgage or rent payments, education, retirement, accident and sickness emergencies; how much your family would need to live without you.
3. You learn where you stand. You determine your weak and strong points... whether the provisions you have made for your family will do what you intend. You get the facts in front of you.
4. You plan for the future. Based on these facts, you decide what action, if any, may be needed to give you a family security plan tailor-made to your own needs and ambitions—one which makes good sense for you.

American Legion Auxiliary installs new executive

NEWPORT — The September meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. Helen Hunter, second district president, who installed the new officers.

Prior to the installation a short business meeting was conducted. It was decided that all the obligations to department be met immediately. A sum of money was voted to Mrs. Hunter, who is asking each unit to help further the education of a girl in Lima Peru.

Ways of raising money were discussed and it was decided to have an auction at the October meeting. This had proved profitable as well as fun at a meeting last year. Each member is asked to bring an item, or items, to the meeting, which will be held on Oct. 21, at the home of Mrs. Ruth Darby, Derby Line.

The installation of officers followed adjournment, with Mrs. Hunter installing the following as the leaders of Foster Cosby unit in Derby Line: President, Mrs. Ruth Darby; vice-presidents, Mrs. Velma Curtis and Mrs. Gertrude Stevens; secretary, Mrs. Harriet Downing; treasurer, Mrs. Merle Grow; chaplain, Mrs. Effie Gray; historian, Mrs. Janice Palin; and sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Gertrude Cross.

After the installation ceremony, a question and answer period about different phases of Auxiliary work proved most informative. Lunch was served buffet style from the dining area, where the table was attractive with a floral centerpiece of multi-colored petunias. Before departure the group toured the beautiful home.

The Lingwick Cemetery. On the 18th day of August From the North Hill MacKinnon family, There was a dedication At the old Lingwick Cemetery.

Reverend Sandford here paid tribute To the Scottish pioneers Who retained their faith and courage In the face of countless fears.

Their faith in God ne'er faltered Nor their integrity And rich the heritage they brought From Lewis o'er the sea.

And they brought the Gaelic language Sweet were there songs of yore And how we loved to hear them So rich in Highland lore.

As the trail's end drew nearer And the toil worn hands sought rest Sing the Twenty Third in Gaelic Often was a last request.

Here the pioneers of Lingwick Have their earthly resting square And OH! How clear the memories As we read the names carved there.

Here is now a wreath of roses Farther on some other flower All placed there in kind remembrance Of some friend they knew before.

See the steps so slow and feeble Stop now near a certain mound Clapped hands that with age do tremble This to them is hallowed ground.

Here now rest the men who laboured On the trails and farms around, With axe and hoe they tilled the lands That now with crops abound.

There was nought here but the forest Ahead long days of toil 'Ere they could reap a harvest From the virgin forest soil.

On some stones the names are dim Where the green moss now does show, Yet we find some dated back To a hundred years ago.

In the hush of summer evenings People still will journey there For the sake of loved ones gone And remembering say a prayer.

Walk humbly then while you are here For no matter who you are You too one day will be but clay Beneath the shining stars.

Yes! Pioneers of Lingwick That now rest beneath the sod May we leave as fine a heritage To our country and our God.

After-bowling supper for the team

If you have been planning to have the team over for a meal after bowling, better do it soon or you'll have to wait until the fall. You don't need to make a big production out of it — everyone will be so hungry that they will appreciate whatever you serve, as long as there is plenty of it!

Meat Pie with Herb Biscuit Topping, Spring Salad, Pickles or Relish, Layer Cake with Ice Cream, Coffee.

Here's a meal that will satisfy your guests. Though they may think it took hours to prepare, it need not be much work for you. Good planning is the secret. The main thing is to have practically everything ready ahead of time.

In other words, have the meat mixture in a baking dish that you can set on top of the stove to heat before putting it in the oven; and have the topping mixed in a bowl, except for the milk which you will add and mix in after you get home. Also, have the salad vegetables chopped and in the salad bowl so that all you have to do is add the dressing and toss. Incidentally, don't forget to turn on the oven as soon as you get home from bowling; pre-heat to 425° F.

MEAT PIE WITH HERB BISCUIT TOPPING

For the meat mixture, we suggest the following recipe in which leftover cooked roast is used. Of course, if you have no leftover roast you can make up canned stew. In any case, be sure to include the mushrooms because they give the pie glamor as well as flavor.

1 pint (½ pound) mushrooms, sliced, 1 small onion, chopped 2 tablespoons fat 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 beef bouillon cubes dissolved in, 2½ cups boiling water, 2 cups cubed, cooked roast, 2 cups cooked vegetables (peas, carrots, potatoes), 1 tablespoon catsup 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.

Saute mushrooms and onion in hot fat for about 5 minutes. Sprinkle on salt and flour and stir in bouillon (if you have leftover gravy, use it instead of some of the bouillon). Stir and heat about 5 minutes. Add meat, vegetables and sauces and pour into flame-proof casserole. Store in the refrigerator until needed later in the day (or the next day).

TOPPING

2 cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ cup shortening, ½ teaspoon paprika, ½ teaspoon savory, 2 tablespoons (or more) chopped parsley, 1 cup milk. Sift flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening, then add seasonings and stir in milk to make a soft dough. Drop by spoonfuls on hot meat mixture.

Bake in 425° F. oven until lightly browned (25 or 30 minutes).

Relax -- he's just looking

A young wife feels insecure because her husband is quick to cast an admiring glance at any pretty girl.

"He says he loves me," she writes, "but it's hard to believe he does when he's so quick to appreciate every other girl's looks even when we're out together."

Get it out of your head that your husband is different from other men. That's just normal behavior for a man — and marriage doesn't change it.

Some husbands are better than others about not seeming to notice other women when their wives are with them. But that doesn't mean they aren't aware of every pretty girl who crosses their path.

Men enjoy looking at pretty girls, and there's nothing a wife can do to change a man's nature.

If a man was shipwrecked on a lonely island, he'd somehow manage to put together something that looked like a pin-up girl and hang it on the wall of his hand-built hut.

Don't take his roving eye so seriously. He probably hasn't the slightest intention of doing anything but looking.

And remember—those pretty girls who draw his admiration have their own husbands or dates to think about.

If your husband is in love with you—and if he says he is you ought to take his word for it—he's perfectly safe.

A man's appreciation of pretty girls won't hurt his marriage, not unless his wife makes something of it.

Today's recipe

CRANBERRY REFRIGERATOR CAKE

2 cups fresh cranberries, chopped
1 large banana, diced
2/3 cup granulated sugar
2 cups crushed vanilla wafers
½ cup margarine or butter
1 cup confectioners sugar
2 eggs
½ cup chopped nuts
1 cup whipping cream

Mix together chopped cranberries, banana, and granulated sugar. Set aside while you prepare rest of recipe. Place one-half of the crushed vanilla wafers in bottom of an 8x8" pan. Cream margarine, and confectioners sugar together, add eggs and beat well. Spread this mixture over the crumbs. Now top with a layer of the cranberry-banana mixture and sprinkle with the chopped nuts. Whip the cream until it peaks and spread over the cranberries and nuts. Cover all the remaining crushed wafers and chill at least 4 hours before serving. The best flavor results if chilled overnight. Serves 9-12 depending on size of piece.

Ticats, Rough Riders win, Bombers dump Esks

Als drop tilt 24-14 while Argos are belted 30-12, Marv Luster gets both Montreal touchdowns

If any of the four Eastern Football Conference coaches have a cure for home-sickness, it could be worth the title.

The EFC clubs—with the exception, of course, of the Toronto Argonauts—are terrors at home but bust on the road.

Ottawa Rough Riders, Hamilton Tiger-Cats and Montreal Alouettes have yet to lose a game at home. Ottawa, however, has won one on the road which could give the surprising Rough Riders an edge.

Toronto? The Argos only two wins have been at home.

The Argos were rapped 30-12 Saturday afternoon at Ottawa and the Alouettes took a 24-14 beating Sunday afternoon at Hamilton. The result left Ottawa and Hamilton tied atop the standings with 10 points. But Ottawa, with a 5-3 record, has a game in hand.

The Als are two points off the pace with a 4-5 record and the hapless Argos are last with two wins and seven losses.

BOOTS THREE GOALS

Dave Viti was a kicking star for the Ticats Sunday, booting three field goals—24, 42 and 34 yards—in the second quarter as Hamilton took a 17-0 halftime lead. He also added two converts and a single. Bernie Faloney hit Tommy Grant with a touchdown pass in the first quarter and the Ticats' other touchdown was scored by rugged Bobby Kuntz.

The Als, who still remember the 30-7 pasting they took in the season opener at Hamilton, needed a Ticat fumble and a blocked kick to set up their two touchdowns, both scored by Marv Luster. Gino Beretta kicked the converts, both in the third quarter, and the margin was cut to 17-14.

Fullback Dave Thelen was the workhorse for the Rough Riders and barged for two of their four touchdowns. Quarterback Russ Jackson and halfback Ron Stewart got the others, Stewart on a 20-yard pass from Jackson. Moe Racine, leading scorer in the East with 46 points, kicked a field goal and three converts.

Toronto's Dick Shatto scored one touchdown and Jackie Parker, effective as a target for Sandy Stephens' passes, scored the other.

The Argos looked hungry in the first half at Ottawa and held a 6-3 halftime lead which was rapidly wiped out when the Rough Riders got hot in the final 30 minutes.

It was Parker's first touchdown of the season and his passing—10 for 123 yards—dazzled the 18,022 fans.

Bishop's University gridders open season with impressive 43-6 win over Rosemount Nationals Saturday

Led by a hard running attack, the Bishop's University Football Gridders defeated the intermediate Rosemount Nationals, 43-6 in an exhibition game at the University on Saturday. It was the season opener for both clubs.

Twin fullbacks Mike Sommerville and Brock Thomson accounted for five touchdowns in the penalty-filled contest, with the former scoring three. Starry quarterback John Milligan and back Glenn Way each tallied once with Doug Calhoun adding a lone convert.

The only standout for the visitors, Gord Coones went 40 yards on a pass-and-run play late in the fourth quarter for Rosemount's only points.

Bishop's coach Bruce Coulter was extremely pleased with the outcome. The offensive line opened up countless gaping holes for the speedy backfield, while the defensive squad was characterized by gang tackling and a strong pass rush.

The Gridders open the Ottawa St. Lawrence season next Saturday, October 5 when they meet the Aggies at Macdonald. Other teams in the Eastern division are St. Patrick's College of Ottawa and the University of Montreal.

Quebec High sweeps tilts from Stanstead

STANSTEAD — Quebec High School Senior and Junior football teams posted wins over Stanstead College here Saturday.

The Juniors played in the morning and, all who saw it declared it an excellent game. Quebec won 12-6 over Stanstead. Touchdowns for Quebec were scored by William Duminval and Doug Morrasi. For Stanstead Godfrey Greenfield tallied the TD.

The Seniors game, played in the afternoon, resulted in a score of 52-6. Touchdowns were made for Quebec High by Craig Thomson, Bill and Dale Mitchell, Russ Trudeau, Don Harriet and Marty Hicks accounted for two. They added four converts, two safety kicks and two rouges. At the beginning of the last quarter Bob Wilton came through to make a touchdown for Stanstead.

The Seniors are playing a home and home series for the Dunn trophies, won last year by Stanstead. The second game will be played at Quebec in November. The trophy will be won by the team scoring the most points in the two games.

Rudolph Huot, professional from the Royal Quebec Golf Club of Quebec City, and his foursome emerged the winners in the first Pro-Amateur Calcutta staged at the Sherbrooke Country Club Sunday.

The Quebec quartet paced a field of 18 foursomes under adverse conditions to register a six-under 65 to win the event. The Quebec foursome posted six birdies on their round. They picked up birds at the first, second, sixth and seventh on the out-going nine and on the back nine they had birdies at the 18th and 17th for their victory.

Dendlocked with 68's were Harry Fowles and his Country Club foursome and Henri Linteau's quartet from the Orleans Golf Club. The Fowles' team finished the front nine even par with a bird and a bogie while Linteau's quartet picked up three birds on the front nine but went one over at the eighth. On the out-going nine they managed three more birds but also picked up a bogie at the 18th hole for their 68.

A quartet of amateurs from East Angus, Andre Maltais, Yvon Gendreau, Marcel Dion and Doug Bell posted a 69 for their round. They finished the front nine even par with a bird and a bogie. On the out-going nine they went two-under for a 34. They registered birdies at the 11th and 17th for their 69.

Gordie Howe seems to improve with age.

Ready to enter his 18th National Hockey League season, the 35-year-old veteran of Detroit Red Wings has been the outstanding player of the exhibition trail.

He continued his streak Sunday night, scoring three goals and adding three assists as the Wings bombed Buffalo Bisons of the American Hockey League 9-1.

He had another goal Saturday night as Detroit lost 4-3 to Pittsburgh Hornets, also of the AHL.

Each of the other five NHL teams also played a pair of exhibitions during the weekend.

Toronto Maple Leafs shut out the Western Hockey League All-Stars 3-0 Sunday after edging the WHL's Portland Buckaroos 2-1 Saturday. New York Rangers beat Los Angeles Blades of the WHL 5-1 Saturday and clubbed St. Paul Rangers, of the new Central Professional Hockey League, 12-3 Sunday.

Montreal Canadiens and Boston Bruins each won and tied against AHL opposition, while Chicago Black Hawks split a pair with the AHL teams.

B.C.S. made a game of it in the first part, but fell apart in the second.

R. Warren had three, J. Hafenden and K. Black each had two and R. Stewart one, were the Sherbrooke scorers.

Hitchcock fired by Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP)— Baltimore Orioles, slumping at the gate and on the playing field, began a search today for a manager to replace Billy Hitchcock.

Hitchcock was fired after the final game of the season Sunday—following two seasons as manager—and offered a front office job.

The Orioles, who battled New York Yankees for the American League pennant in 1960 and finished third in 1961 under Paul Richards, slipped to seventh last year under Hitchcock. They improved to fourth this season, but were just as far behind the pennant-winning Yankees.

Attendance dropped to an all-time low of 790,254 last year and tumbled farther to 744,343 this season.

General manager Lee MacPhail, who hired Hitchcock, indicated he may seek a more aggressive personality as his replacement.

"I'm not looking for a policeman or disciplinarian," MacPhail said. "But, perhaps someone who is just a little tougher."

"It is evident that Billy's way of handling the players was not completely successful.

Kenny Ploen paces Bombers to 38-30 win, Stamps take on Lions in Vancouver tonight in big one Winnipeg Blue Bombers threw their biggest offensive punch of the season at the Eskimos at Edmonton Saturday night for a 38-30 Western Football Conference victory.

Sparked by the passing of veteran quarterback Kenny Ploen, Bombers drove for 512 total yards in a display reminiscent of the power that propelled them to four Grey Cup victories in the last five years.

The win boosted Blue Bombers into third place, one point ahead of Saskatchewan Roughriders.

They try to consolidate their goals, two singles and three converts tonight when they return home.

Ploen combined with end Farrel Funston for two touchdown passes and halfback Leo Lewis went over from the five for the other Bomber points.

A Winnipeg victory tonight coupled with a Calgary defeat would put the Manitoba club in second place with 14 points, one more than Stampeders.

Ploen completed 19 of 22 passes for 306 yards in leading Winnipeg to its 12th consecutive victory at Edmonton's Clarke Stadium. Bombers also rushed for 206 yards. Their total yardage was good for 23 first downs.

COLI GEATS 20 POINTS

George Fleming, a kicking specialist cut adrift by Toronto Argonauts of the Eastern Conference at the start of the season, picked up 20 points for the Bombers to boost his league-leading total to 98 in nine games. Included in his scoring was a 94-yard touchdown run on the kickoff return, three field goals, two singles and three converts. Ploen combined with end Farrel Funston for two touchdown passes and halfback Leo Lewis went over from the five for the other Bomber points.

Guard Bill Mitchell led Edmonton with three field goals and three converts. Halfback Jim Thomas ran for two touchdowns, one on a 29-yard run around right end and the other on a three-yard jump over centre.

Halfback Eldon Fortie, an all-American at Brigham Young last year who was cut then rehired by Edmonton, came off the bench in his first game since his return to pitch a 32-yard touchdown pass to quarterback Lynn Amedee.

Eskimos, also displaying their best offensive punch of the season, picked up 94 yards rushing and 334 passing for 18 first downs. Amedee was good on 14 of 27 pass attempts and Fortie the kickoff return, three field goals, but the Bears were too far in front.

Despite a steady rain at Cleveland, Ryan completed nine of 15 passes for 152 yards as he led the way over his old team. Jimmy Brown ran for 95 yards in 22 tries, and now has 489 yards in 57 attempts in three games. He scored on an 18-yard run.

Down 10-6 after three periods, the Steelers got 17 points in the final quarter with fullback Bob Ferguson gaining key yardage. Bill Triplett's 63-yard touchdown run on the third scrimmage play on the game stunned the Steelers. The Cards now are 2-1.

Tittle, an old '49er, completed 12 of his first 14 passes and passed to Joe Walton, Del Shofner and Joe Morrison for touchdowns. Morrison also plunged one yard and dashed 70 yards for other touchdowns.

The Packers, trailing 17-14, had third down and four yards to go on the Colt 35 as the fourth quarter opened.

The ball was fumbled in the backfield on an intended end sweep and bounced around on the Colt 45. Bart Starr nabbed it and threw it to Boyd Dowler on the 25. He trotted over for the touchdown. The Packers are now 2-1.

Units completed 19 of 30 for 233 yards for the Colts, now 1-2.

RUNS 78 YARDS

Washington Redskins, 2 - 1, hung the third straight defeat on Dallas. Jim Steffen intercepted a pass by Don Meredith and went 78 yards for the first Washington touchdown.

Dallas fought back to take the lead twice but Norm Snead organized an 80-yard march for the winning touchdown.

Dallas end Bill Howton broke Don Hutson's career record for yardage gained on pass receptions with 82 yards on four completions. He now has 8,667 yards, compared to the old Green Bay star's 7,991. Howton is 10 behind Hutson's record of 488 catches.

The Vikings set a team scoring mark against the '49ers as they ran their record to 2-1. San Francisco is 0-3, one of the four clubs yet to win in the NFL this season. Minnesota's old scoring mark was 42 points against the Rams two years ago.

GIANTS CLOBBER EAGLES

Another castoff quarterback, Y. A. Tittle of New York Giants clobbered the winless Philadelphia Eagles 37-14, to run the Giants' record to 2-1.

In other games, Green Bay Packers downed Baltimore Colts 31-20, Washington trimmed Dallas 21-17 and Minnesota Vikings routed San Francisco '49ers 45-14.

In the American Football League, Houston beat Buffalo 31-20 and New York Jets nipped Oakland Raiders 10-7 in Saturday night games. Sunday, San Diego defeated Kansas City 24-10 to remain undefeated and Denver edged Boston 14-10.

Wade — the NL's leading passer—fired a 18-yard scoring pass to Angelo Coia midway in the first period for the Bears. A fumble recovery and an interception led to two second period scores, with Wade throwing for both, and then Richie Pettibon scored on a 66-yard interception. Wade carried over from the one in the closing seconds of the half for a 35-0 lead. Earl Morrill replaced Milt Plum for Detroit in the second half and threw for three touch-

Don Loney's X-Men upset McGill 14-7 for their first victory in exhibition before sell-out crowd

ANTIGONISH, N.S. (CP)—If Don Loney could have planned in advance just how the game was to go, it would have gone almost as it did.

Loney, the tough St. Francis Xavier coach, steered his X-Men to a 14-7 victory over McGill University Redmen in an exhibition football game before a sell-out of 2,700 here Saturday.

The margin of victory was small, but Loney said it was "just right we won and by not too much."

The former professional football centre says he hates to win easily. He worries most about games with weak teams because he feels easy victories are bad, psychologically, for his team.

The record shows that lopsided wins have given his team no complex that should concern Loney — they haven't lost in the Maritimes in five seasons. But Saturday's close win was sweet revenge for a team that has been beaten the last two years in exhibition games with the Redmen.

Joe Francoise and Tommy Delaney, two veteran American backs, scored the St. FX majors. Ed Amaral kicked a convert and the X-Men's 14th point came on a single.

SCORES LONE TD

McGill's lone touchdown came on a punt return of 34 yards by Leon Abbot, a fullback from Edmonton. It was the first play in the fourth quarter. Willie Lambert kicked the convert.

St. FX struck fast—stunning the favored Mountreals—and then had too much defensive strength when the Redmen perked up in the second half.

St. FX broke into a 7-0 lead before anyone had worked up a sweat and they made it 14-0 before the first quarter ended.

They had two more scoring changes in the first half, which Loney said were lost through "stupid mistakes."

McGill was far stronger in the second half, after rookie quarterback Glen St. John overcame his early jitters.

While the X-Men couldn't muster an offence in the second half, their big defensive line held the Redmen in check. St. John showed a deadly passing arm late in the game but his receivers let him down.

St. FX had 13 first downs to McGill's 10. The big statistical edge for St. FX was in passing—152 yards to McGill's 48.

National loop sets attendance record in 1963

NEW YORK (AP)—The National League smashed all baseball attendance records in 1963, surpassing the mark established last season when the circuit expanded to 10 clubs.

However, a drop of almost 1,000,000 in the American League resulted in an over-all major league decline of 4.2 per cent.

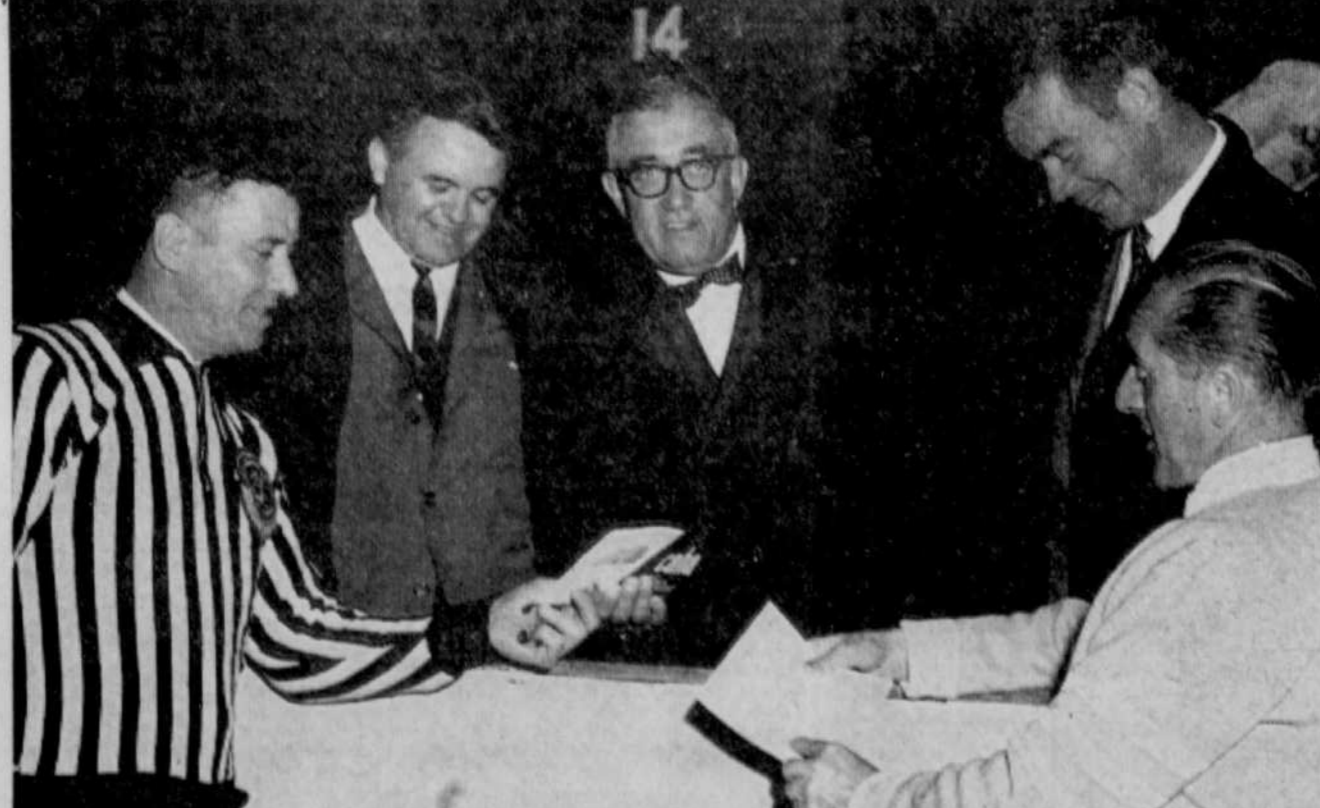

The National League attendance after Sunday's final games was 11,382,233 compared with 11,360,159 last year. The American League wound up with 9,085,232, or 919,824 under the 1962 total of 10,015,056.

The big league aggregate was 20,477,465. In 1962 it was 21,375,215.

Los Angeles Dodgers led both circuits with 2,538,602. However, they were among five National League clubs under last year's figures with a decline of 217,582. The others with decreases were Pittsburgh, Houston, Cincinnati, and San Francisco.

Chicago Cubs had the largest increase in the National League, 369,749. Others who finished ahead of last season were St. Louis, New York Mets, Philadelphia and Milwaukee.

Seven American League teams finished below their 1962 totals. They were Detroit, Los Angeles Angels, Washington, New York Yankees, Cleveland, Minnesota and Baltimore.

Stan Musial steals final day with two-hit display

Elston Howard has been picked as 'key man' in coming World Series, must stop Dodgers' speed demons

NEW YORK (AP)—If there is a key man in the coming World Series, it is Elston Howard, the durable New York catcher, who could be the man in the upcoming season struggle between the Yankees and Los Angeles Dodgers.

Attention will be focused on Howard right from the start. Ellie, along with Mickey Mantle, represents the main right-handed power against the Dodgers' left-handed pitching. And this series shapes up as one of the most exciting duels after another.

Two of baseball's best left-handers, the Yankees' Whitey Ford and the Dodgers' Sandy Koufax, will start in Wednesday's opener at Yankee Stadium. Another southpaw duel between Dodger veteran Johnny Podres and Yankee youngster Al Downing is slated for the second game.

The expected 70,000 customers for the opening game will be watching Howard intently the moment one of the Dodgers' speed demons, Maury Wills and Willie Davis, reach base. The pilfering pair have 65 of the team's major league-leading total of 123 stolen bases. In contrast, the Yankees have stolen only 41 bases.

Howard knows all about the Dodger speedboys but if he is concerned he does not show it. "They're good," he admitted today, "and I'm not making the mistake of underestimating them. But we have some pretty good base stealers in the American League, too, and they don't give me too much trouble."

"I'd have to say that Luis Aparicio of the Baltimore Orioles is as good a base stealer as there is in baseball today. Well, Aparicio tried to steal on me five times this season and I got him five times. He stopped trying."

Baseball people say, however, that runners steal bases on the pitcher, not the catcher. If so, the Dodger daredevils will find a real touchie in Ford, who can handle base runners as well as any pitcher in baseball.

The prospect of batting against left-handers in a majority of the games is pleasing to Howard. The 34-year-old catcher always has hit left-handers better than right-handers. Two of his five World Series home runs were hit off Warren Spahn and Jim O'Toole, two of the National League's better left-handers.

The Dodgers may be without the services of their young third baseman, Ken McMullen, for the series opener. The 21-year-old rookie pulled a hamstring in his left leg last Thursday. If McMullen cannot play, manager Walter Alston will move Jim Gilliam, his veteran all-purpose infielder, to third and play Dick Tracewski, another youngster, at second.

Stan Musial bows out of baseball with a prayer on his lips and two hits, dignitaries pay tribute. Stan Musial bowed out Sunday with a prayer on his lips and two hits off his bat.

Before the 14th inning game in which St. Louis Cardinals beat Cincinnati Reds 3-2, Musial stood with his head bowed as 27,756 fans gave him one standing ovation after another.

Musial told them: "I want to thank God for giving me the talent I have had and the good health I've been blessed with."

Then he proceeded to almost duplicate his first major league game against Boston Braves (now Milwaukee) Sept. 17, 1941, when he got two hits, drove in two runs, and helped the Cardinals win 3-2, the same score as his final game.

Musial got the Reds' first hit off starter Jim Maloney, a single up the middle in the fourth inning.

Stan Musial to toss out first ball at Series

NEW YORK (AP)—Stan Musial, retiring all-time great St. Louis Cardinal outfielder, will be the special guest of honor of the New York Yankees and will throw out the traditional first ball at the World Series opener Wednesday.

The Yankees invited Stan and his wife Lillian to be their guests in New York immediately after the Dodgers eliminated the Cards from the 1963 National League pennant race. The Musials flew to New York today after Stan played his final game in St. Louis Sunday.

The great Cardinal record-holder in 1963 played his 21st consecutive season of 100 or more games, an all-time major league mark. His major league career dates back to the 1941 season.

Musial will be welcomed into the ranks of the retired by the Yankees' own Joe DiMaggio, who threw out the first ball at the 1962 New York portion of the series. DiMaggio will accompany Stan to the club box next to the Yankees dugout and present him the new ball for the first ball ceremony.

Jean Clap H wins in driving finish

BY A WHISKER — Jean Clap H, with Florent Brochu driving, is seen at the top of the picture just as she crosses the wire to nose out Guertin's.

The Exacta Saturday evening at the Sherbrooke Race Track paid the sum of $213.00 to top anything on the weekend card presented at the local oval. The second high was the double, also Saturday night.

In the Tenth Mrs. C. Surprenant's Marty Creed and William Dyalball's Easter Dell formed the winning Exacta while the double consisted of Mrs. C. Gorsline's Starlight Hal in the first, and Maurice Langlois' Lyon Abbot in the second.

Marty Creed paid the best across the board when $28.70, $14.80 and $12. The best time of the evening was in the Eighth when Florent Brochu teamed his Jean Clap H under the wire in 2:12 3/5. The first quinella in the fourth was Linda B. Hall and Tom Boy and $43.20 was shelled out. The second quinella paid $22.20 for the winning combination of Maid of the Mist and The Boxer.

Adrien Gravel's May Thunder and Miss G. Pelletier's Miss Princess Dell formed the Exacta in the Tenth. League's Brightside walked off with the Invitational Handicap Pace when he led the classy field under the wire in 2:21 1/5. It was the lowest time posted during the afternoon.

On Sunday afternoon the heavy track prevented any low times being registered. The heavy downpour turned the track into a muddy field but despite this the drivers went all out in their efforts to win the major share of the purses.

The double of Arden Direct, in the first, and Florence Dillon paid their backers $160.50. The quinella in the fourth was Linda B. Hall and Tom Boy and $43.20 was shelled out. The second quinella paid $22.20 for the winning combination of Maid of the Mist and The Boxer.

Import half Geoff Webster injured his ankle late in the first half, and was out for the remainder of the game. As a result, Bishop's had to play a man short throughout the second half.

Both goalers were impressive as the play raged from end to end. Macdonald goaler Vandivest foiled Bristowe on several breaks, and gave up only one other goal, to Dave Dawson on a breakthrough. Bishop's netminder Richard Davis worked hard for his shutout, and was instrumental in the victory.

Finishes his record-studded career in fine fashion, gathers 3,026 hits over 22 years, Dodgers lose 3-1

The pennants belonged to New York Yankees and Los Angeles Dodgers, but 1963's final day belonged to Stan Musial and Warren Spahn.

Musial finished his record-studded career with St. Louis Cardinals Sunday the same way he started it 22 years ago, with two hits in a 3-2 victory. Musial left his 3,026th and final game in the sixth inning after helping the Cards to a 2-0 lead over Cincinnati Reds. St. Louis won out in the 14th on Dal Maxvill's run-scoring double.

Spahn, 42, pitched a masterful four-hitter for Milwaukee Braves in a 2-0 triumph over Chicago Cubs, winning his 350th game and matching his best previous season's record—23-7. He also hit that mark in 1953.

Meanwhile, the National League champion Dodgers were beaten for the third straight time by Philadelphia Phillies 3-1, and the American League champion Yankees were rained out of their regular season finale, at New York against Minnesota Twins.

Next on the agenda for the two champions — their eighth World Series showdown, beginning Wednesday at Yankee Stadium.

In other NL action Sunday—Felipe Alou's three-run homer in the eighth inning carried San Francisco Giants over Pittsburgh Pirates 4-1; and Houston Colts, led by 18-year-old John Paciorek in his first big league competition, belted New York's last-place Mets 13-4.

Elsewhere in the AL—Detroit and Cleveland both won, finishing tied for fifth, with the Tigers whipping Baltimore Orioles 7-3 and the Indians edging Kansas City Athletics 2-1 behind Jim Grant's six-hit pitching; and Washington's tail-end Senators clouted Chicago White Sox 9-2. The wind-up at Boston, between the Red Sox and Los Angeles, was canceled by rain.

In the AL Saturday, Minnesota downed New York 6-3, Baltimore topped Detroit 8-6, Chicago outdistanced Washington 7-2, Boston edged Los Angeles 4-3 and Kansas City lost 7-4 to Cleveland. In the NL Cincinnati won 3-1 over St. Louis, Chicago outscored Milwaukee 4-1, San Francisco squeaked past Pittsburgh 3-2, Houston swamped New York 9-1 and Philadelphia nailed Los Angeles 12-3.

Baltimore's loss Sunday had an unhappy aftermath for Billy Hitchcock. He was fired as manager of the Orioles after two seasons. Meanwhile, Sam Mele was signed for another season as manager of Minnesota Twins.

Musial, who broke in Sept. 17, 1941 with two hits that helped St. Louis down Boston 3-2, bowed out with his last two singles. One was the first hit off Cincinnati starter Jim Maloney, in the fourth inning, and the other drove in the game's first run, in the sixth. Maxvill's double in the 14th knocked in winning reliever Ernie Broglio with the deciding run.

Musial's two hits gave him a 1963 average of .251, well below his sparkling lifetime mark of .331.

POSTS 62ND SHUTOUT Spahn was magnificent against the Cubs, registering his 62nd career shutout. The ageless marvel finished his 18th full season with the Braves with an amazing 22 complete games, an earned run average of 2.60 and seven shutouts.

Hank Aaron hit his 44th homer in the first for Milwaukee, tying San Francisco's Willie McCovey for the league high, and scored the game's other run in the third after a single and steal of second.

The Phillies ruined Don Drysdale's shot at the 20-victory target, coming up with two runs off Dodger reliever Peter Richter in the seventh on Bobby Wine's homer and Johnny Callison's run-producing double. Drysdale had left after five innings with Los Angeles ahead 1-0.

Paciorek, one of eight rookies in Houston's starting line-up against the Mets, had a smashing major league debut—3-for-3, two walks, three runs batted in and four scored.

Rookie Dennis McLain was Detroit's winner over Baltimore, going all the way even though he allowed 10 hits and seven walks. He struck out 11 and the Orioles left 13 men stranded.
