Arabs May Protest To Americans

CAIRO — (AP) — Irate Arab states are reported thinking of protesting to Washington because an American tanker sailed through the Gulf of Aqaba with oil for Israel.

The semi-official Middle East news agency says the anti-Israeli powers feel that the United States violated Arab territory by permitting the tanker Kern Hills to pass through the disputed Tiran Strait en route to the southern Israeli port of Eilat.

The report did not specify which countries are considering the protest, but Egypt, Jordan and Saudi Arabia have the most direct stake in Aqaba, and Syria can be counted on to follow their lead.

The U.S. State Department denied that it sent out the tanker to demonstrate American belief in all countries' right of free passage through the strait. But a department spokesman acknowledged that the U.S. could have stopped the Kern Hills had it so desired.

REPORT VIOLENCE

Israel in the last two days reported minor flareups along her frontiers with Jordan and Syria.

In Washington, Britain is reported to be advising the United States to throw back to the United Nations Security Council the dispute with Egypt over future operation of the Suez canal.

Britain, along with several Allied countries, is said to feel that direct American negotiations are making no progress toward getting any major concessions in Egypt's new operating plan.

Richardson of Toronto, 1st vice-president of the National Chapter, will be the speaker, will culminate the day-long sessions. (Story on Women's Page, 2nd section.) (Record photo by Gerry Lemay)

PCs Ask Parity Prices

Clucking, Crowing Ends Farm Debate

OTTAWA — (AP) — With mock clucking, crowing and bleating, the Commons concluded a day-long consideration of agricultural products.

The debate Tuesday saw the Progressive Conservatives espouse a system of parity prices for agricultural products. It ended with the Liberal majority rejecting the idea.

Opposition Leader Diefenbaker opened the debate with a motion of non-confidence in the government demanding legislation this session—due to dissolve by Friday for a June 10 election—ensuring a flexible system of price supports for agricultural products to give farmers a reasonable share of the national income.

His motion was amended by the CCF by specifying this aim should be sought through a system of "parity prices."

NEW PC POLICY

Proposing the CCF resolution, H. A. Bryson, Humboldt-Melfort, described the Conservative motion as "unveiling" a new agriculture policy for the official position. But he added there is little to choose between the "new" Conservative policy and the CCF's repeated demands for farm parity.

At one point near the end, Agriculture Minister Gardiner referred to chickens as he defended the government's agriculture policies. There were some chickens that clucked all the time but never laid any eggs.

"There never have been more cluckers than there are in this government," said Hon. Earl Rowe (PC—Dufferin-Simco).

Mr. Gardiner was the "prize clucker in Canada."

Later, when votes were called on the motions, the sound of roosters crowing came from opposition benches. Liberals replied with bleats.

MOTION DEFEATED

The Liberals, supported by two Quebec independents, rejected the CCF motion 125 to 62. The Conservatives joined Social Credit in supporting the CCF request for parity prices.

The CCF then joined Social Credit and the two independents in supporting Mr. Diefenbaker's motion, but the Liberals Continued on Page 6

Tax Cuts Protested By Labor

LONDON (AP)—Ominous rumblings from the dissatisfied working class were heard today as Britain sized up the government's new budget easing the tax on higher incomes.

Presenting the budget to the House of Commons Tuesday, Chancellor of the Exchequer Peter Thorneycroft described it as a program of "opportunity, expansion and incentive." His outline was greeted with cheers from the Conservatives and boos from the Labor opposition.

"It means more for those with most," declares a front-page headline in today's Daily Herald, voice of the Labor party. The paper implies that the budget will spur demands for wage increases such as those which recently pulled 1,700,000 shipyard and industrial workers out on strikes.

Thorneycroft told the Commons that Britons earning more than £2,000 a year will pay less surtax, a move apparently aimed at slowing the rate of emigration among highly skilled and executive groups.

Margarine Tax "Discrimination"

OTTAWA — (AP) — Senator W. D. Euler said Tuesday the federal government's 10-per-cent sales tax on margarine is the "ranked sort of discrimination."

The Ontario Liberal, former federal trade minister, said in the Senate that removal of the tax would reduce the cost of margarine by some two cents a pound.

Senator Euler also said he opposes the prohibition against the coloring of margarine in all provinces except British Columbia and Newfoundland.

Reds Protest Discrimination Against Ships At Panama

LONDON. — (AP) — Russia has protested to the United States that Soviet ships going through the Panama Canal are being subjected to long "discriminatory" inspections.

Moscow radio said Tuesday night the U.S. State Department was handed a note Monday stating that since Jan. 1 American armed guards have stopped three Soviet vessels for many hours while inspectors combed through their cargoes and photographed "all technical equipment."

A State Department spokesman in Washington said he knew of no such protest being delivered. He added that the Russians had "tried to make propaganda in the canal area before about such things as not being able to buy hydrographic maps there."

Waterfront sources in Panama said the Russian ships got much the same treatment as that given American ships calling at Soviet ports.

The Moscow broadcast called the inspections "a flagrant violation of the principle of complete equality in the use of canals under international importance to all countries proclaimed in the Panama Canal Treaty of 1901."

The note said 18 armed canal guards boarded the motorship N. Ostrovsky Jan. 2 at Balboa and inspected it for seven hours. It said the ship was held up until the following day, when it sailed with the guards still aboard and a police cutter acting as escort.

The note also told of discrimination against two other Soviet ships—the I. Babushkin and the Admiral Senyavin.

Illness Hits Quebec Ministers

Absenteeism Throws Load On Duplessis

By RICHARD DAIGNAULT

QUEBEC — (AP) — Speculation that major cabinet changes are being considered by Premier Maurice Duplessis is fast spreading through the provincial capital's lively political world.

Some cabinet ministers have been seriously ill — two of them are just out of hospital — and others are in poor health.

Still others have taken extended holidays following the annual session of the Legislature which ended in February.

Circles close to Mr. Duplessis say "absenteeism" has thrown the bulk of the business of several departments into the premier's lap. Mr. Duplessis is reported to have expressed serious "concern" over the work pile-up.

Some high-ranking party officials expect him to spread the cabinet changes over the next three years. Others—particularly the younger members of the party—expect sweeping changes this year.

GAGNON ILL

Cabinet ministers mentioned as likely to drop out of active political life are:

Finance Minister Onesime Gagnon, 68-year-old former member of the Conservative cabinet of Prime Minister R. B. Bennett. Mr. Gagnon has been seriously ill since suffering a stroke and is convalescing at his home;

Dr. Camille Pouliot, 59, minister of game and fisheries, back at work now but still suffering from severe rheumatism and a heart condition which kept him in hospital for several weeks last year;

Agriculture Minister Laurent Barre, who will be 71 in May and who is said to be considering retirement;

Works Minister Romeo Lorrain, convalescing after a long stay in hospital.

Any cabinet changes are not expected before May when the Union Nationale party plans the biggest celebration of its 20 years—15 of them in power—to mark Mr. Duplessis' 67th birthday, his 30th year as legislature member for Trois-Rivieres, and his record as the Premier longest in office in Quebec's history.

Security Exchange With US Reviewed

OTTAWA — (AP) — External Affairs Minister Pearson was to make a statement in the Commons, touching on arrangements between Canada and the United States for exchange of security information.

Officials indicated Tuesday that existing arrangements may be changed as a result of the suicide last week in Cairo of Herbert Norman, Canadian ambassador to Egypt. Mr. Norman's death occurred after the U.S. Senate subcommittee on internal security recently revived charges against him of past Communist associations.

One authority said arrangements for exchange of security information now are under review by an inter-departmental committee representing all Canadian government agencies involved.

At present there is close co-operation between Canada and the U.S. on security matters, especially between the RCMP and the U.S. Federal Bureau of Investigation. Mr. Norman's suicide apparently has raised the question as to whether there is risk that information exchanged confidentially between the two governments may become public through its availability to U.S. congressional committees.

$6,000 Theft At Thetford

Between $5,000 and $6,000 in merchandise was stolen in a break-in Monday night from a jewellery store belonging to Laval Couture in Thetford Mines.

Pendants, watches, bracelets, rings and diamonds were included in the loot, police said.

Municipal police were notified by a neighbour when he noticed that one of the store windows had been broken.

Some hours after the robbery, a local citizen discovered a part of the loot on his property.

The value of the recovered jewellery was estimated at approximately $2,000.

Police said they hoped to make an arrest soon.

Heavy Smoker Five Years Old

FORT WORTH, Tex. — (AP) — Billie Smith has to take his thumb from his mouth before he can light up a cigar, puff on a cigarette or chew tobacco.

Billie, who has been smoking and chewing for four years, is five.

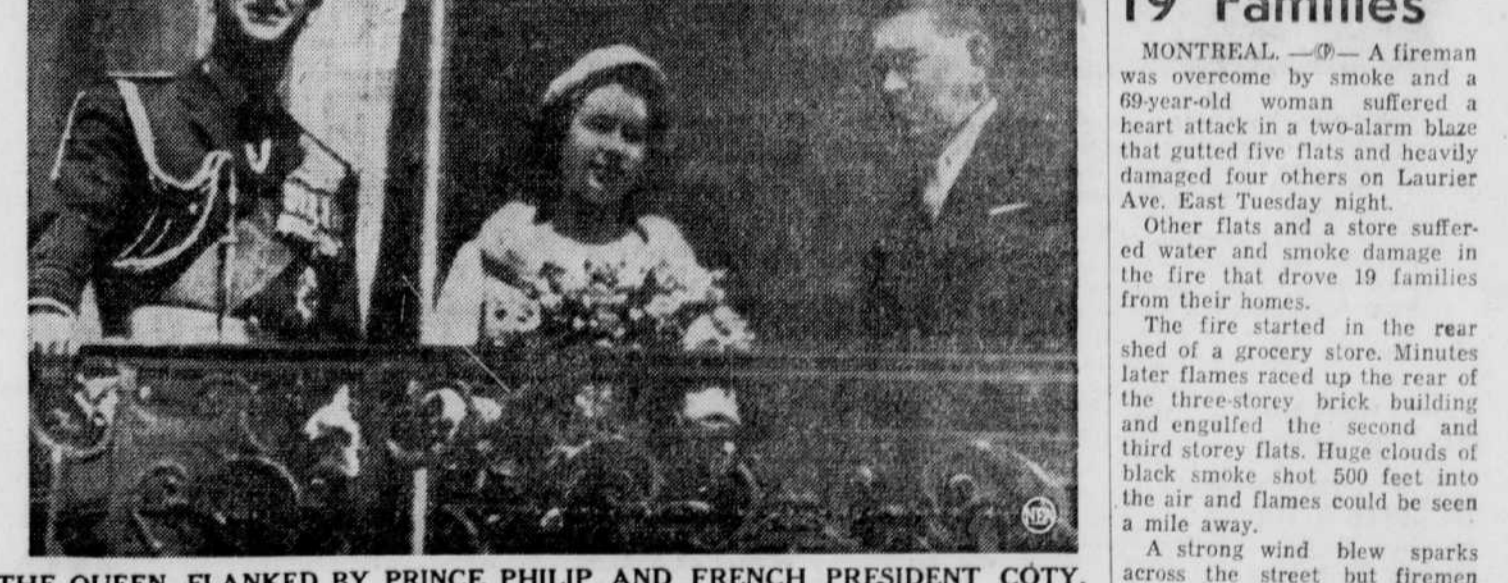

"He just has a craving for it," explains his mother, Mrs. Bill Smith. "He started out on chewing tobacco when he was a year old, wanting bites off daddy's plug."

Says his father: "Billie smokes a pack of cigarettes a day and about one cigar. Of course, I don't let him smoke a pack every day. Cut him off about every third day. Because that's pretty expensive."

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — A 13-pound landlocked salmon, caught in Lake George April 2, is the largest of its kind landed in New York State, the conservation department said Tuesday.

Million Parisians Watch Queen Sail Seine

THE QUEEN, FLANKED BY PRINCE PHILIP AND FRENCH PRESIDENT COTY, ACKNOWLEDGES CHEERS OF PARIS CROWD.

PARIS — (Reuters) — The weather took a turn for the worse today as Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip embarked on the third full day of their state visit to Paris.

The Queen wore an elegant white-edged black overcoat over her white silk dress to keep out the cold wind as she drove out of the presidential Elysee Palace and through the fashionable Rue du Faubourg St. Honoré to the British embassy. The thousands of persons who lined the streets to catch a glimpse of her also wore overcoats.

At the embassy she met deputations of the 7,000 Britons living in Paris. Afterwards she had lunch with Foreign Minister Christian Pineau and later was to pay a visit to the supreme Allied commander in Europe, Gen. Lauris Norstad, at his home near NATO headquarters outside Paris.

The day will end with a state banquet and French government reception tonight in the Louvre, former palace of French kings and now a renowned art museum. Parisian women were waiting with bated breath to see what the Queen — who has already captured Paris with her styles — would wear tonight.

Tuesday night the Queen topped her visit to Paris when she sailed down the River Seine while 1,000,000 persons — almost half the population of Paris — looked on. The evening-gowned Queen, Philip and President Coty made the hour-long fairy-tale voyage seated in a bullet-proof glass observation lounge of the river boat Borde Fretigny.

As the vessel circled the two islands which form the heart of the city, 5,000 searchlights along the river banks turned the pageant route into a brilliant path of color.

Unfolded before the waterborne guests was a display of French life down through history. At Notre Dame, where soft light streamed through the stained-glass windows, hundreds of white-robed choirboys sang a medieval chant.

The biggest fireworks display seen in Paris since the visit over 50 years ago of both Elizabeth's and Philip's great-grandmother, Queen Victoria, filled the Paris skies.

Newsprint Man Blasts Americans

MONTREAL — (P. M. Fox, president of St. Lawrence Corporation Ltd., in an outspoken attack today on American criticisms of the Canadian newspaper industry, said there is "great public harm in the smear-neighbor tactics long practiced by United States congressional committees and their publicists."

Addressing the company's annual meeting he stated that "U.S. newspaper publishers, unlike publishers in other countries, seem to have acquired a habit of grievance and self-pity not unlike that of a man afflicted with the delusion that the world owes him a living."

He said a report by the American Newspaper Publishers Association, which described the newsprint price as a "crushing burden" was "the phoniest and worst of all."

Mr. Fox's comments were contained in a text issued to the press in advance of delivery.

GIVES FACTS

Mr. Fox said the facts were that a newsprint price advance of $4 a ton which brought the New York price to $134 became generally effective March 1 and was the second $4 increase in nearly five years. It was an increase of three per cent and its effect on U.S. newspapers was to increase their total costs by a fraction of one per cent.

The advance was not made by Canadian producers alone, nor did it apply only in the U. S. market. It was made by all North American producers and in all world markets.

"But," Mr. Fox commented, "it is only in the United States, the wealthiest and most fortunate market, that outcry has arisen and it is only more the Canadian industry that has been singled out for defraction as extortionists and law-breakers."

Fire Evicts 19 Families

MONTREAL. — (AP) — A fireman was overcome by smoke and a 69-year-old woman suffered a heart attack in a two-alarm blaze that gutted five flats and heavily damaged four others on Laurier Ave. East Tuesday night.

Other flats and a store suffered water and smoke damage in the fire that drove 19 families from their homes.

The fire started in the rear shed of a grocery store. Minutes later flames raced up the rear of the three-story brick building and engulfed the second and third storey flats. Huge clouds of black smoke shot 500 feet into the air and flames could be seen a mile away.

A strong wind blew sparks across the street but firemen prevented the fire from spreading.

Adopt Provincial Speeding Penalties

The Municipal Police Announce New Policy To Curb Speedsters

A new policy to curb speeding within the City limits has been adopted by the Municipal Police Department, Chief Edouard Moreau said this morning.

He said the police will prosecute speed offenders under the Quebec Motor Vehicle Act rather than the municipal traffic laws.

This means that infraction of the speed law will carry a $50 fine and court costs compared to the City's $40 and costs. An operator's permit can be suspended for a minimum of three months under both regulations.

In announcing this new policy, Chief Moreau said "We always want the co-operation of motorists. But there are some who travel at 70 miles an hour on our streets.

"In all these cases of speed, we will proceed immediately under the Quebec Motor Vehicle Act. The same will apply for repeaters."

As an example, he cited the arrest of a man last Saturday night who was speeding at 70 miles an hour on Galt St., between Belvedere and Short Sts.

NO PROTECTION
 "High speedsters will not be protected," he said "It is usually the children who suffer. But when a child dies, it is too late to do something about it.

"Children often come out of school and play on the streets although they may be warned by their parents to stay in the playgrounds and back-yards. It is up to the motorists to think for these youngsters because they cannot think for themselves."

Chief Moreau explained that drivers are careful in the winter when ice and snow cover the streets but on bare pavement they become less cautious and Continued On Page 6

The Importance Of Making Music Told To Rotarians

Leo Bernache, Canadian manager of the Community Concerts Association, spoke on the importance of music in the community, last night at the meeting of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club.

Children today, he felt, were missing a great deal of creative enjoyment because of TV. Mr. Bernache said that he had come from a large French-Canadian family where music played a large part in their lives. They spent their time making music, something which does not happen too often nowadays. He said that children should be encouraged to hear "live" concert artists, and to participate in amateur musical groups in the community, choirs, glee-clubs, etc.

LIVE AUDIENCE

Having been a former radio, TV and concert artist himself, Mr. Bernache spoke with conviction about the various entertainment media. A performer can only enjoy a "live audience," he said, and as far as he was concerned TV killed all the joy in making music. It is exhausting and not very satisfying and he felt therefore that the public never received the benefit of a top performance. The accent in TV is on "doing something," not in creating the best music, which he added was how he got into concerts. There is no substitute for a "live" audience as far as the performer is concerned, he said, which is why the Community Concerts mean so much to a young artist.

Sherbrooke has been one of the leaders in the Community Concert field for over 20 years, Mr. Bernache pointed out, and he commended the local interest in trying to promote good music, not only through this Association but through the Symphony and other concerts.

The Community Concerts Association is trying to promote Canadian talent, he said, and to give new, young artists, the "live and paying" audiences which they need and want.

Mr. Bernache was introduced by Rotarian Lewis Rosenbloom, who is also president of the Sherbrooke Community Concerts Association, and was thanked by Fred Sangster.

Seated at the head table were President Art Kerridge, Mr. Bernache, Mr. Rosenbloom, Mr. Sangster, Gordon Armitage, Cliff Bryant, Howard Simms, and two guests, Paul Fortier and Georges Sylvestre, both of the Association.

Vienna Academy Chorus Gives A Scintillating Performance

By HUGH DOHERTY

The Vienna Academy Chorus last night closed out the local Community Concerts series at the Granada Theatre in a storm of thunderous applause with a scintillating all-German performance that could never be matched for sheer beauty and precision.

Under the direction of Gunther Theuring, the hand-picked body of 24 male and female voices, almost casually, showed why it is ranked today as one of the leading vocal groups in the world. There was more than singing to be enjoyed last night — there was humour, instrumental entertainment, colourful costuming and program arrangement — in short, there was quality showmanship combined with great artistry.

SACRED MUSIC

Perhaps the most impressive portion of the program was the first part in which the Vienna Chorus sang sacred music. The second item of the evening — "Crucifix" by Antonio Lotti — might be regarded as the technical and emotional showpiece of the performance. In it, the Vienna Chorus displayed the superb control, the fine contrasts in tone and shade, the sweet, clear timbre, and spine-tingling thrill of precision and richness which, as the rest of the performance proved, are the hallmarks of this remarkable group.

For the most part, the chorus was accompanied on the piano by one or another of two of its members. But where it sang unaccompanied, it became almost an instrument of its own; an orchestra, even. The voices blended in harmonious whole, yet each individual voice still possessed and expressed its own fine qualities. One almost regarded the piano in other selections as a superfluous and rather bare noise, not because the accompaniment was not judicious (it was) but because it took away in some part from the music of the voices.

Maple Syrup Harvest

Local Experts Scoff At Reports Of Worry Over Price Situation

Eastern Townships maple products experts today scoffed at a report that the bumper maple syrup harvest in Quebec is causing concern to farmers and wholesale buyers who are worried about the price situation.

The claim was made this week by Jules Methot, Chief of the Agricultural Department's maple products division.

A spokesman for the Quebec Maple Products in Lennoxville said: "Maybe they are concerned in the rest of Quebec, but as far as we are concerned, things are going along very smoothly. Farmers are receiving a fair price for their syrup, and do not appear to be holding any back, waiting for a higher price."

SLIGHT FLUCTUATION

Prices do fluctuate, even at the local market, but this is to be expected in accordance with the grade of the maple product for sale. Prices have been quoted as low as $4 a gallon but they have very seldom risen above $6.50 thus far this spring.

For the past three years, the industry has suffered under a wide fluctuation of prices—from $5 to $10 a gallon. This was caused by American tobacco firms who were willing to pay a very high price for the syrup to flavor their tobacco. Consequently, the farmers held back their stocks, hoping to sell at a killing. Mr. Methot explained that when the American companies, who were at war with each other, settled their differences, the prices suddenly fell. An 8,000 pound surplus was sold eventually, but for far less than the standard price.

OBSTACLES

At the present time, most of Quebec's 22,000,000 maples have yielded their sap for this year, but there are some obstacles in the way yet. According to Mr. Methot, "buyers who don't know the difference could wreck the Quebec industry unless our products are packaged and priced competitively." As it is, the Quebec industry, which produces 85% of Canada's harvest, is a small and scattered industry.

The department is pressing for new ways of putting up syrup. Traditional gallon cans are being scrapped for one-pound tins which can be emptied before flavor deteriorates. A grading system is to be started. In order to insure a fair and secure market, the farmer is being urged to expand his sales to local markets where he will know the demand, the buyer knows the product and a fair price is a simple matter.

Another problem is the increased overhead. Instead of boiling the sap outside in pots or big kettles, the sap is being processed about 10 times as fast in huge evaporators and the farmer has become accustomed to selling about half his crop for export.

The problem now is that it is doubtful whether the farmer will take kindly to the suggestion that he concentrate his product in the local store rather than to huge concerns across the border.

Driver Hurt, Cars Smashed

One man was slightly injured last night when five cars were hurled into the ditch on the road near Orford Lake by an unidentified truck, Provincial Police reported this morning.

Robert Dube of Sherbrooke suffered minor injuries when he lost control of his machine after it was hit.

The cars were travelling beside the lake on the icy pavement. Beside Dube's car, the other cars damaged belonged to J. Pelletier, of Sherbrooke; Mrs. Beatrice Raymond, of Magog; Oscar Gaulin, of Stanstead; and a fifth machine of unidentified ownership.

Anglo-French Solidarity

The warmth and enthusiasm with which the Queen and Prince Philip have been received on their state visit to France demonstrates again the solidarity that exists between the French and British people.

It was only 17 years ago, in the dark hours of 1940, that Winston Churchill made his historic offer of union to France at a time when German armies were overrunning the country and the outlook was black indeed. Last autumn, Britain and France again found themselves allies in isolation as their ill-fated attempt to prevent Col. Nasser from controlling the Suez Canal was blocked by the force of world opinion. Whether their choice of action was correct or not, their assessment of the Egyptian dictator was correct.

Now Britain and France are turning their attention more and more to the possibility of a third force based on Western Europe. The proposed European customs union, the atomic power pool and other plans for breaking down the old, artificial barriers between nations are signs of this new approach.

Britain, as the central nation of the Commonwealth, is in a position to act as a bridge between Western Europe and the Commonwealth. An eventual union of those two groups of nations has been proposed and is not so unrealistic as it sounded only a year ago.

The affection of the French people for the British Crown may seem a little incongruous in a republic that has treated its own monarchs so roughly. But it represents more than love for a show. It represents a genuine feeling of cordiality and friendship between long-established allies.

The Royal visit will help to ensure that it endures for many years to come.

Mudslinging Minority

The almost unanimous sympathy and embarrassment expressed by responsible American newspapers and officials over the suicide of Canadian ambassador in Cairo Herbert Norman is reassuring. It emphasizes that the professional mudslingers and muck-rakers of the Senate internal security sub-committee are in a minority.

Yet the severe strain put on Canadian-American relations by the smear campaign and the resulting tragic death remains. Committee counsel Robert Morris is unrepentant and vows that the committee will continue its so-called investigations. The committee's work will have been discredited for responsible Americans, but there is always the lunatic fringe of the right-wing in American politics that takes up such causes.

The American executive is hamstrung by its own constitution, which gives Congress a free-hand to operate independently of the president and his cabinet. Yet it surely would be wise to let some responsible and non-political agency such as the Federal Bureau of Investigation handle security investigations. The president, by making it known that the committee's work is strictly unofficial, might do something to minimize the damage to American foreign relations which is bound to result.

A Body Of Wit

The Senate is sometimes regarded in Canada as a repository for our national political heroes who have earned a rest. Constitutionally, of course, its function is to act as a check on Commons' legislation — but few Canadians take much interest in it. Yet, there is a great deal of zest to be found in Senate debates as this little gem from the irrepressible Senator, Jean-Francois Pouliot shows.

Commenting on the second reading of an appropriations bill, the Senator said: "This bill would vote a large sum of money — an amount that is equal to 44,912 times that spent for stationery for the use of members of this house. . . ."

"We are not here to put obstacles in the way of the Government; we are here to protect the rights of the people of Canada. . . ."

"I must express my gratitude to the members of the Government, for what has been done to improve the condition of the Senate. The new senators do not have any idea of how bad it was when we came in here last year. The walls were dirty, the lights were poor. Now the walls are clean, and the lights are better. I thank the Honourable Leader of the Government in this house for what he has done, and I thank also the Minister of Public Works: They deserve our appreciation.

"Some honourable senators have complained that the purchase of a new rug is an extravagance. The present rug has been here since the construction of this building at the time of the First World War. There are holes in it; it is worn out.

"Is it not right that when Her Majesty comes here next fall she shall be honoured with a new rug, and that none of her suite shall be exposed to the danger of falling by tripping over a hole in this rug? I congratulate the honourable Leader of the Government, and all honourable senators who made this purchase. They showed vision; they knew that the time had come to make some improvements in this room. . . . The Woollack has been consigned to the attic. So much the better. There is now a good postmark, with bilingual wording, and wherever our correspondence goes, to all corners of the world, there may be seen an attractive picture of our Parliament buildings. That is progress.

"Some may say that all this is not enough. For my part, I do not expect progress in the Senate at a rate faster than sound. But little by little we advance."

There is at least ready wit in the Senate. And who would deny that a body whose members are witty is of worth whenever money matters are being discussed.

SERENADE TO A SMELL

(Brandon Sun) By tonight of Fair Week it can be cut with a knife. Visitors unwittingly carry chunks of it on their garments to the outer world. It permeates wool and fur, gloves and shoes. "Been up to the Fair! I can smell it!" is the downtown jest. The wearer sniffs his sleeve sheepishly and says, "Yep, that's it!" Compounded of animal emanation, dust and disinfectant, the blended essence is distinctive, recognizable; an entity in the twenty-odor range of the normal olfactory repertoire. Winter Fair effluvia boasts a potency and endurance which the Provincial Exhibition lacks. The open sky and the ternal fresh wind blowing from the west disperse and vitiate the pungency of the summer scene. Its major impact is a cacophony of sound; a strange blood-stirring symphony pre-dating the bizarre dissonances of Hindemith. Winter Fair blasts the consciousness with odor; harking back to something atavistic in the human race—a primitive kinship with the animal kingdom, evocative of the excitement and challenge of the chase, a dependence on beast as sustenance in the fierce fight for existence.

The reek of disinfectant in the fume marks man's triumphal march against disease with test-tube-begotten weapons. The acrid bite to the membrane of the nose is protection for man and beast. To the credit of Winter Fair management is a long record of controlled contagion essential in its brief traffic with Aga Khan animals worth their weight in gold or with money in their genes. There are delicate types among Fair visitors to whom the fume is less pleasant than the reek of tuberoses, jasmine or patchouli. But to people who love the Fair and what it represents, the fume is more heady and nostalgic than a compound from Grasse wrapped in fancy box and name to retail at a dollar a whiff. To the cattlemen, the swine-breeders and the horse-men the smell of the Fair wins by a nose against all the perfumes in Arabia.

THERE MUST BE LOVE

(Fort William Times-Journal) The daughter of a famous Hollywood actress ran away from home at the age of 13. She was finally found wandering around the slums of downtown Los Angeles.

Explanation? Home had lost interest for her when father and mother were divorced. A beautiful home, nice clothes and money to spend, do not make the life of an adolescent complete. There must be love.

There is no more damning accusation against divorce, and its effect on the children involved, than this little story from the glamorous movie colony.

"It's the First Time It's Ever Been Done"

Bloody Battle 40 Years Ago

Canada's Day Of Glory At Vimy

By DAVE McINTOSH
Canadian Press Staff Writer
April 9, 1917, was Easter Monday.

On that day in France 40 years ago zero hour was 5:30 a.m. Sleet swept over the countryside, changing to blinding snow as that bloody day of glory wore on.

Under a thunderous barrage by 983 field, heavy and siege guns, the men crawled out of their shell holes, tunnels and trenches and swept through the mud, wire and murderous chatter of the machine-guns.

The Canadian Corps did not halt until it had captured Vimy Ridge. The ridge never fell from Allied hands during the rest of the First World War.

In fact, 248 acres of the ridge remain forever Canada. This plot on Hill 145 was ceded to Canada in perpetuity by the French nation. On it, July 25, 1936, in the presence of 8,000 Canadians, King Edward VIII unveiled the Vimy memorial on which are inscribed, in English and French, these words:

"To the valour of their countrymen in the great war and in memory of their 60,000 dead this monument is raised by the people of Canada."

Since April 9, 1917, the great rampart of Vimy has been inseparably connected with the name of Canada.

It forms a barrier nine miles long across the western edge of the Douai Plain. Its commanding position, overlooking Arras to the south, Douai to the east and Lens to the north, made it one of the most important tactical features on the western front and thus a focus for continual fighting throughout the war.

The French tried three times to retake Vimy and failed. The Canadian Corps, released from the Somme battles, took over the sector in the fall of 1916. In January, 1917, elaborate

UPSTARTS FROM BOSTON

(Toronto Telegram) The sports world, which includes most people in Canada at times like the Stanley Cup playdowns, loves an upset. This year the upset has been provided by the Boston Bruins, whose early prospects in the hockey season were about as low as could be. Now the Bruins are playing for the Stanley Cup against the Montreal Canadiens. . . .

The miracle that brings a team from behind to win is something about which the sports writers have never agreed. Somehow, the Boston Bruins caught fire after the 1956-57 season was well under way, and they crawled up the ladder of the National Hockey League standing like a man making toe holds on a mountain cliff. Now they have disposed of the Detroit Red Wings, as the Canadiens have the New York Rangers, and they take on the real Goliath of professional hockey for the celebrated cup.

To preserve the romance and give the story a happy ending, the Bruins should win the Stanley Cup. Think of Canadians like Rocket Richard, Boom Boom Geoffrion and Jean Beliveau, and one must conclude that Boston will need a fairy godmother as well as the Bruin players. The only thing to do is to wait see, with fingers crossed.

preparations began for an Allied spring offensive.

The frontage of the Canadian Corps for the attack on Vimy was 7,000 yards. Across this whole front, to a depth of 700 yards, the German field works comprised three lines of trenches protected by dense belts of barbed wire. Behind this was another network of trenches and wire linking concrete machine-gun forts and on the crest were more belts of wire.

There were 97,184 Canadians in the corps. The four Canadian divisions faced six German divisions on the ridge.

The Canadians planned openly for the battle and the Germans knew exactly what was up. The commander of the German 79th Division correctly assessed the situation at the end of March, 1917, and closed his summation with the words: "The Canadians are known to be good troops and are therefore well suited for assaulting. There are no deserters to be found amongst the Canadians."

The artillery bombardment before the assault lasted two weeks. Under direction of the corps commander, Lt. Gen. Sir Julian Byng (later Baron Byng of Vimy, Governor General of Canada), a fullscale plan of the battlefield was laid out in the rear area on which the troops rehearsed repeatedly.

The Canadians, on April 9, downed a lot of rum and went over the top. Across the mass of shell holes, craters and churned mud of No Man's Land they swept in wave after wave. In 35 minutes, the 1st Division under Maj. Gen. Arthur Currie (later Gen. Sir Arthur Currie) had carried its first objective and by 1 p.m. was over the skyline and pursuing the Germans down the far side of the escarpment.

The 2nd Division (Maj. Gen. H. E. Burstall) and 3rd Division (Maj. Gen. L. J. Lipsett) had equal success, the latter penetrating 1,200 yards in two hours.

Hill 145 was taken by the 4th Division (Maj. Gen. D. Watson) after first being checked by machine-gun fire, losing pace with the barrage and suffering heavily.

The Canadians suffered 11,297 casualties. Of these, one-third were killed, one-third were knocked out of the war and one-third came back to fight another day.

There is no record of total German casualties but two German divisions lost more than 3,000 men each.

King George V sent a telegram to the commander-in-chief of British armies in France: "Canada will be proud that the taking of the coveted ridge has fallen to the lot of her troops. I heartily congratulate you and all who have taken part in this splendid achievement."

ulations you and all who have taken part in this splendid achievement."

The importance of Vimy did not become wholly apparent until the great German offensive in the spring of 1918. Vimy, held by the Canadians, was the only part of the Allied line between Rheims and Ypres, a distance of 125 miles, which did not yield.

Canada still holds the crest.

SPRING NUISANCE

(Peterborough Examiner) One of the sights we now associate with spring is that of packs of marauding dogs. For some reason most pet dogs, and many cats, seem always to be hungry and prefer any garbage can but that of their owners. Occasionally a dog breaks off from its pack to harass a passing motorist, or dig a pit, or chase a cat, or even ingritingly wag its tail at a passer-by, but mostly, on garbage collection days, it joins in the general pastime of strewing garbage up and down the street.

BAD BREAK SETS BIDDER

If South's play had been as strong as his bidding he would have made his ambitious slam contract. Let's see how South went wrong.

He won the opening diamond lead with the ace, drew three rounds of trumps and led a spade to dummy's jack. When that card held South thought he was home. He returned to his hand with the ace of clubs and led a second spade. Dummy's queen held that trick but when East was so unkind as to show out South had to go down one trick.

The way South played the hand it was correct not to take the club finesse. He would not have needed it had spades broken three-two.

The correct play was to find out about the spades before it became necessary to lead a club. South should have done this by taking the spade finesse at trick two. Then he could have played the three rounds of trumps and taken the second spade finesse. This would have shown the bad break in spades and South would see that he would need the club finesse also. He would have gritted his teeth and taken it.

After that worked he would lead a spade to dummy's ace and trump a fourth spade with his last trump. The ace of clubs would be played and a club ruff. Dummy's fifth spade would produce the twelfth trick and the slam would be home.

Car Buyers Keeping Up With Joneses

OTTAWA. — The desire to "keep up with the Joneses" is perhaps the major reason why the automobile has its present unique position in North American society, says the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada. In a special study for the Gordon economic commission, the company had this to say about the prestige factor in automobile sales: "As income levels rise, more people are permitted the indulgence of non-economic desires on a scale hitherto reserved only for the wealthy. "The adroitness with which the North American motor industry has capitalized on this national frailty has resulted in making the automobile market in the U.S., and to only a slightly lesser extent in Canada, peculiarly susceptible to advertising pressures and styling in a manner unknown in the rest of the world. "This has been indicated in recent years by the increase in sales of deluxe models complete with many accessories at the expense of the stripped-down car affording very adequate and cheaper basic transportation . . ."

croft declared, "that in the society we are seeking to create there shall always be room at the top."

The cuts equal £100,000,000 in tax payments, but will mean little for the great majority of the British people — the most heavily taxed in the free world.

Parents will get better tax allowances for children over 12 and still bigger allowances for children over 17.

The purchase tax will be reduced from 30 per cent to 15 per cent on retail prices of kitchenware, cutlery, some furniture, carpets and linoleum. Gasoline taxes will be cut one shilling a gallon — the amount they were raised at the outbreak of the Suez crisis.

To pay for some entertainment tax cuts, Thorneycroft increased the cost of annual television licences from £1 to £4. Tickets for live theatre and sporting events will not be taxed, while movie ticket taxes will be cut.

Frankfurt in West Germany is mentioned as a town in records as early as AD. 793.

Annual Inspection Of Richmond Cadet Corps

RICHMOND. — The annual inspection of St. Francis College Cadet Corps, No. 371, of Richmond, was held on Friday, with Lt.-Col. J. N. Wood, E.D., Officer Commanding, 7/11 Hussars, R.C.A.C., as inspecting officer. Included in the inspection party were the Corps instructors, Capt. K. H. Annett, Lt. L. F. Somerville, Lt. M. J. Butler and the representative of the officer commanding, Quebec Command, Lt. Conover, Strathcona Regiment.

Under the command of Cadet Capt. Wayne Sage the Corps honored its inspecting officer with a general salute and march past. After the Corps colors were marched off, demonstrations of training in drill, weapons, map using, signals and fundamentals were given. Directing the demonstration groups were Cadet Lieutenants Delbert Blanchette, Norman Badger and Russel Lowry, together with Cadet Sgt.-Maj. Rodney Mills and Cadet Sgts. Richard Peart and Ronald Smith.

Following the demonstrations the Corps reformed to hear remarks by the inspecting officers. The MacDonald Trophy, awarded annually to the first year cadet judged most efficient was presented by Col. Wood to Cadet Cpl. Wayne Sage.

Cadet Capt. Wayne Sage was invested with the Strathcona Medal as the Corps' most efficient senior cadet. The Canada Decoration, awarded in recognition of twelve years meritorious service in the regular and militia forces, was presented by Col. Wood to Capt. K. H. Annett.

At the close of the annual inspection the visiting officers were guests of the Corps for lunch. St. Francis College Cadet Corps follows a tradition dating from 1864, when the first Rifle Company was established at the school three years before Canadian Confederation.

In addition to the primary objectives of development of citizenship and leadership potential, the Corps has made possible an annual opportunity for one of its cadets to travel across Canada to attend Cadet Summer Camp. This year's candidate to the camp at Banff is C/Lt. Delbert Blanchette. C/Capt. Wayne Sage made the trip in 1956. He was cadet lieutenant at the time.

The Corps is affiliated with the 7/11 Hussars, R.C.A.C. The Corps cadet flag, a gift of the parent Regiment, was presented in 1953. Former cadet officers, Dale Crook and David Gee, are successful students at Royal Military College and College Militaire de St. Jean respectively this year. Other former cadets are serving in the regular and militia forces.

Two items concerning speed are worth noting in the municipal laws.

"Article 76—In all parks of the City, the speed of vehicles will not exceed 15 miles an hour."

"Article 76—In all parks of the City shall be driven in the streets at a speed exceeding 30 miles an hour except as hereunder when the speed shall not exceed 20 miles an hour:

Miss Stevens said that a total of $2,914.45 was collected.

"These splendid results," she said, "were made possible because of the genuine generosity of the citizens of this area who always came to the aid of the Red Cross Society, and also due to the faithful work of our canvassers."

Miss Stevens expressed thanks to the local Red Cross Committee, to all contributors, and to all canvassers, including Mrs. Douglas Pitman, Mrs. Paul Falgout, Belvidere Heights, Mrs. T. H. Beef Cattle Sale On April 25th At Fairgrounds

The annual auction sale of beef cattle for breeding purposes will be held at the Sherbrooke Fair grounds on April 25, it was announced recently by D. J. MacMillan, agronomer for Compton County and secretary of the Beef Cattle Raisers Association.

It is the seventh such sale organized by the association. Males and females of the Hereford, Shorthorn and Aberdeen Angus breeds will be up for sale.

Mr. MacMillan said that since the inauguration of the annual auction the number of beef cattle breeders in the Province of Quebec has doubled.

This sale, he noted, gives buyers and opportunity either to start or improve beef-cattle herds.

A special committee has been appointed to choose the animals for sale on the evening before the auction. The committee chairman is Robert Laberge of Danville.

Woodcock Confession Admitted

TORONTO — Peter Woodcock, 18, charged with the murder of a four-year-old girl, listened impassively Tuesday while a statement allegedly given police by him was read in court.

The statement was admitted as evidence by Mr. Justice Spence of the Supreme Court of Ontario. It concerned Woodcock's activities on Jan. 19, the day Carole Voyce was slain beneath a Danforth Ave. viaduct over the Don River Valley in east-central Toronto.

Police said the statement was given them freely by Woodcock two days after the slaying. Woodcock has pleaded not guilty to the charge.

The statement, said in part: "I have actually attacked many children, even though I love children as a rule. I have been sexually inclined to."

"I won't go into the number but I say there must have been 11 or 12 before I met the girl."

VIENNA

program was given over to Austrian peasant dances, folk songs, and yodelling songs. For these, the entire chorus, including the director, donned traditional Austrian country dress. Here the chorus members bantered rapidly and boisterously with each other, yet never stepped on each other's notes.

The final portion of the program consisted of classical Vienna music. It was essentially flamboyant and ornamental, and the chorus adjusted to the mood accordingly. The highlight of this last section was the solo-singing of coloratura soprano Klothilde Rothbart, one of the most promising young singers in Europe today, in Strauss' familiar "Voices of Spring."

It is doubtful if members of the Vienna Academy Chorus were much aware of the audience. They sang to, and for, director Theurig — the secret, perhaps, of the fire and cohesion they achieve.

CARRIER — Mr. and Mrs. Emile Clement and son James, were in Montreal for a day, Mrs. Clement remaining for a few days longer visit. Mr. Leslie Millar, of Drummondville spent a few days at his summer home.

"Gros Bill" Tallies Winner As Plante And Company Blank Bruins 1-0

Sherbrooke Dow Invitation Bospiel Opens Tonight; 32 Rinks Entered; Three Shifts Slated First At 6.00

The annual Sherbrooke Dow Invitation Bospiel opens tonight with nine games on tap. The first shift is slated for 6.00 followed at 8.00 and 10.00.

Thirty-two rinks will be competing for the Dow Trophy, which is in play for the second year. Sid Cross of Sherbrooke, last year's winner, will be on hand to defend his laurels. Tomorrow evening three more shifts are slated at the same time while on Friday the games will commence at 2.00 followed at 4.00, 6.00, 8.00 with the final trio playing at 10.00.

On Saturday morning the remaining foursome will commence at 10.00 with games booked for 12.00, 2.00, 4.00 and the finals in the main and consolation sections taking place at 8.00.

On Friday afternoon between 5.30 and 6.30 a cocktail party will be held for the contestants in the competition while Saturday noon a dinner will take place in the local clubhouse at 1.00.

A total of twenty-one rinks from outside have been invited to take part in the annual tourney. Magog and the Lennoxville Curling Clubs top the list with four rinks each. Windsor, Border, Danville and Granby will have two quartets apiece battling it out for the trophy.

Theford, Richmond, Drummondville, Brae Manor of North Hatley and the Sutton Curling Club each have single entries entered in the annual competition.

Ivan Dugre, local representative for Dow Brewery, will be on hand for the tourney and in co-operation with the Sherbrooke Club will play host to the winners in both sections and to the runner-ups as well.

STOPS FIGHT — Linesmen George Hayes moved between Boston's Leo Labine and Montreal's Jean Beliveau after the two started highsticking each other in the second game of the Stanley Cup final. Hayes holds Labine in check as Beliveau prepares to skate away. Doug Harvey of the Canadiens, at right, appears to be more interested in the crowd than the fight. (CP)

Doug Harvey Standout; Plante Comes Up with Outstanding Save On Gardner; Boston Turns In Battling Performance

MONTREAL — (CP) — One of the tightest struggles ever waged in playoff hockey, a bitter checking game that moved to its denouement in a welter of tense excitement, was tipped in Montreal Canadiens' favor over Boston Bruins Tuesday night by Jean Beliveau's goal.

It was the only goal of a defensive classic and came at 2:27 of the second period. The 1-0 shutout for lanky Jacques Plante, Canadiens roaming goaltender, gave the jubilant Montrealers a 2-0 lead in the best-of-seven Stanley Cup final. The series now shifts to Bruins' home ice for the next two games — Thursday and Sunday.

It wasn't until the last second ticked off on the Montreal Forum clock that anyone in the shrieking crowd of 14,500 was sure the goal by Montreal's six-foot-four centre had won the game.

The last-minute driver of the Bruins—with goalie Don Simmons on the sidelines in favor of another forward—was savage and relentless but Canadiens fought back just as viciously to protect the thin lead.

Beliveau's glitter goal was a thriller all its own, climax to a perfect forward pass by his line-mate Bernie "Boom Boom" Geoffrion. The burly Boomer, taking a relay from defenceman Dollard St. Laurent just outside the Montreal blue line, carefully timed his long pass after crossing centre ice. The puck got through defencemen Bob Armstrong and Leo Bolvin of the Bruins.

The powerful Beliveau, his long legs picking up speed, whipped between the two defencemen, grabbed the puck and raced in on Simmons. The goalie made the first move. That was all Beliveau needed. He finished off the play with a neat bit of stick-handling and sending the puck into the net just as Bruins forward Leo Labine came speeding up from behind too late.

Only a few minutes before the end Plante had made his most spectacular save of the night, cleanly robbing Cal Gardner of a goal. The Boston veteran centre split the Montreal defence of Jean-Guy Talbot and Tom Johnson and came straight in on Plante.

"He faked to the outside, about 15 feet out," said Plante afterward. "I didn't make a move. Then he shot from only four feet or so out. I flung up my arm and knocked the puck away with the back of my glove."

The shutout was something of a shock to the Bruins. The game was the 69th since they were last blanked—a 4-0 whitewash by Chicago Black Hawks in Chicago last Oct. 30. The second successive loss marked the first time the Bruins have suffered two reverses in a row in 20 games.

Hurrying to catch a train for Boston with his players, coach Milt Schmidt said Plante's save on Gardner's shot was the killer for the Bruins but he thought on the night's play his team should have scored two or three goals.

Coach Toe Blake called the game "a real old-time type of playoff hockey."

Usually a free-wheeling offensive team, Canadiens were forced into defensive play by the Bruins, who fore-checked brilliantly and broke fast. It was cover up, fight them at their own game or let them run over you.

In the cup semi-final against New York Rangers and up to this second game against the Bruins, Canadiens have been averaging around 40 shots on a goal. The Bruins cut that to 23 Tuesday night and had 24 shots themselves on Plante.

Dressing Room Comments

MONTREAL — (CP) — Jean Beliveau of Montreal Canadiens, whose goal beat Boston Bruins 1-0 Tuesday night in the second game of the Stanley Cup final, said he knew he had goalie Don Simmons beat after Simmons had made a move.

Telling about the goal in the happy atmosphere of Canadiens dressing room, Beliveau said:

"When I started in on the Boomer's (Bernie Geoffrion's) pass, I was going to shoot. But Simmons moved out to meet me and then moved back again. I knew I had him beat. Then he moved to my right and I put the puck in on his right."

The players came in to the room calling out "tee going Jacques," to goalie Jacques Plante for his shutout.

"I wasn't any more nervous towards the end of the game than I was at the start, but I'll admit I was looking at the clock during stops in the play. Our team usually plays offensive hockey. Tonight they played more defensive. It was tough going near the end and I was glad to see the line with big Jean come on just as the game ended."

Coach Toe Blake said "It was a real playoff game, of the old-time type."

"It wasn't our particular style of game. We had to play more defensive tonight against the Bruins; it just turned out that way. I think we outplayed them only in the first period. That was Doug Harvey's best game on defence in a long time, and I was pleased with the defensive work on Rocket Richard's line."

Blake was loud in his praise of Plante, particularly on a save against Boston's Cal Gardner in the third period.

"Gardner faked to the outside about 15 feet out," said Plante. "I didn't move. Then he shot from about four feet out. I got the puck with the back of my glove. I was lucky on another of Gardner's shots earlier when he flipped the puck high and I barely got my hand on it."

The Bruins cleared out of their dressing room fast in order to catch a train for Boston. Canadiens leave tonight.

Coach Milt Schmidt said "we lost because we couldn't get a goal but on the play I thought we should have won by two or three."

Schmidt said Plante's big save on Gardner in the third period was the turning point of the game.

Burke Emery Of Sherbrooke May Clash With Yvon Durelle For Canadian Light Heavyweight Title

MONCTON — Canadian light heavyweight champion Yvon Durelle will lay his title on the line here May 30 when he meets Gordon Wallace of Brantford, Ont. or Burks Emery, Sherbrooke, Que., promoter-manager Chris Shaban said Tuesday night.

Wallace and Emery are No. one and No. 2 contenders respectively. Durelle has not defended his crown since he stopped Toronto's Billy Fifield two years ago.

The Baie Ste. Anne, N. B., fisherman stopped Wallace, present British Empire light heavyweight champ, three times but the two have not met since Durelle won the title.

Emery, a newcomer to the sport, is currently campaigning in the United States. He turned professional in 1954 and has 13 wins, five losses and one draw. Meanwhile, Shaban announced Durelle will meet Angelo de Fendis in a 10-round bout at New York, April 23.

The Brooklyn battler was to have met Durelle March 25 but he developed a sore elbow and arm while in training. Durelle dropped last minute substitute Clarence Floyd in the seventh after losing his first bout of the year to Clarence Hinnant of Washington in Miami.

The card will also feature Norman Gautreau, a Moncton welterweight. Gautreau stopped Charlottetown's Gaston Roy in his last outing.

Hollywood, Calif. — Carlos Ortiz, 137 1/2, New York, stopped Lou Filippo, 139, Los Angeles, 7.

YMHA Blues Cop National Crown

MONTREAL — (CP) — Montreal's Snowdon YMHA Blues stretched a 28-game winning streak into a national championship Tuesday night by defeating Winnipeg St. Vital Bulldogs 60-50 for the Canadian Senior Men's basketball title.

Montreal turned back the western champions 73-59 and 87-73 in the first two games of the best-of-five playoff here during the weekend and had no trouble clinching their second championship in seven years.

The Blues polished off competition in their own league. They averaged 8 points a game during the regular season.

Patrick's Will Quit Hockey

VICTORIA. — (CP) — Lester Patrick said Tuesday he and other members of the famous hockey family are quitting their connections with the game.

Patrick 73-year-old patriarch of Western Canadian and Victoria hockey, said his two sons, Muzz and Lynn, have instructed him to sell their shares in the Victoria Cougar club of the Western Hockey League.

Lester sold his shares in the club last year and his sons transferred their shares to him.

He said in a brief interview the main reason behind the move is that "I'm getting too old to maintain an active interest in hockey."

Major Ball Clubs Approach Opening Day With Flock Of Positions Still Unsolved; Managers Are In Daze

Who's going to play second base for Brooklyn Dodgers? Third base for Boston Red Sox and Cleveland Indians? First base for Detroit? Catch for Chicago Cubs?

Probably never have so many major league clubs closed in on baseball's opening day with as many vacancies still to be filled. At least 10 managers will have to come up with decisions before the wraps are taken off the 1957 campaign next week.

Junior Gilliam, Brooklyn's regular second baseman last season, is a cinch to be in the opening day lineup. But he may start at third base with Charley Neal at second and Gino Cimoli in left field.

Frank Malone and Ted Lepcio are in a dogfight for the Red Sox third base job. Bobby Avil and Billy Harrell are in the running for the same post with the Indians. Ray Boone and Eddie Robinson are the contenders for first base with the Tigers.

The regular catching spot with the Cubs is a tossup among Cal Neeman, Charley Silveira and Ray Katt. White Sox manager Al Lopez is undecided about Jim Rivera and Walt Dropp for first base. There's no sure thing at third base for New York Giants with Daryl Spencer, Ossie Virgil and Foster Castleman all competing.

Neal, in his second season with the Dodgers, and Neeman, the No. 1 choice on last fall's draft list, did themselves the most good in Tuesday's exhibition games.

Neal slapped a two-run double off Corky Valentine with one out in the ninth to give the Dodgers a 54 victory over Milwaukee Braves. Brooklyn went into the final frame trailing 4-1.

Neeman and righthanded pitcher Moe Drabowsky combined to lead the Cubs to an 8-3 triumph over Baltimore. Neeman

Cleveland Barons Edge Rochester 2-1 In Opener For Calder Trophy

CLEVELAND (AP) — A fist fight and a disputed goal kept 4,818 hockey fans in a frenzy here Tuesday night as Cleveland Barons scored in the opening seconds of an overtime period to defeat Rochester Americans 2-1 in the first game of the best-of-seven American Hockey League Calder Cup final.

The game-winning shot was fired by the Barons' Ron Ingram from just inside the blue line.

The Barons' defence got off to a shaky start and it appeared in the early stages of the game

Junior Baseball Meeting Tonight

A meeting of the Junior Baseball League will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the New Wellington Hotel.

The meeting is most important because a league will be formed for players who can no longer meet age limits of the Little League and Midget league organizations.

Organizers of the league have been assured of at least four teams participating in the circuit and have also been assured of the use of the stadium.

Tonight's meeting will elect an executive so the league can be organized on a more solid basis.

All indications point to the fact that the Intermediate A. team will not function this year so this means that the junior circuit should be of the strongest caliber.

Boxing Probe Papers Filed In New York

NEW YORK — (AP) — The government Tuesday filed proposed decrees asked by Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan last March 8 after he declared the International Boxing Clubs of New York and Chicago a monopoly in promoting championship fights in the U.S.

The IBC is expected to file its proposals by next week. Judge Ryan then will conduct a hearing before signing a final order. The government's proposals were sealed and not opened for inspection.

The government had charged that the IBC and others conspired between 1949 and 1953 to restrain and monopolize interstate trade and foreign commerce in the promotion of title bouts in the United States.

Miss H. Guiton Describes Vocational Opportunities For Girls At Waterloo

WATERLOO — Forty eager teenagers worshipped together in St. Luke's Anglican Church, Waterloo, and later in the day listened to Miss Helen Guiton, noted speaker from Montreal, describe this innumerable vocational opportunities for women in the world today.

G. A. groups from Knowlton and Granby were guests of the Waterloo group at a regional rally whose theme was "Lord, what wilt Thou have me to do." The day started with a celebration of Holy Communion in the parish church. In his short address, Rev. Paul Busing elaborated on the conference theme.

Following a period of games, organized by the Knowlton group, the girls gave enthusiastic attention to a hot lunch, contributed by members of the congregation and served by G. A. mothers,

Mrs. Stronmanis, Mrs. Osborne and Mrs. MacIntosh. Seated at the head table were Martha MacIntosh, president of the Waterloo group, who acted as chairman, Miss Guiton, Mrs. Orrin Rexford, Mr. Busing, Rev. T. R. Nurse, Rector at Knowlton, president of the Knowlton group, and a representative from Granby. A sing-song, led by Granby followed lunch after which Mrs. Rexford was called upon to introduce the speakers.

Miss Guiton described the vast expansion which has taken place during her own lifetime in the field of employment for women. Today few doors are closed to the girl who is willing to prepare herself, she pointed out. Miss Guiton urged a broad course of study wherever possible until a person is completely sure what her vocation is. Nothing learned is a waste of time, she said. She directed her listeners to the many questions they must ask themselves in seeking their life work and said that ideally one's work should be an extension of one's own personality. Nor is her job the only way in which a girl may express herself; Miss Guiton warmly recommended the cultivation of hobbies and secondary talents.

At the conclusion of the speaker's formal address, the group divided into six discussion groups in which questions were formulated and later presented to Miss Guiton, who gave specific and most helpful answers. Martha MacIntosh thanked Miss Guiton and gave her a bouquet of chrysanthemums on behalf of the rally.

Each of the three G. A. groups ter which soft drinks and cookies were enjoyed before the day closed with a brief devotional period led by two members of the Waterloo group, the singing of Jacob's Ladder, and Taps.

On Friday night in the Teachers' Room of Waterloo High School, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Reid were the dinner guests of Grade Eleven's Household Science Class at their annual dinner event.

Three attractive arrangements of chrysanthemums by Tryphena Flood and Gwyneth Hayes decorated the table. The girls proved themselves gracious hostesses as well as excellent cooks. A shrimp cocktail, prepared by June Smith and Suzanne Busing introduced the meal, the main course centered around a golden and savory turkey, the proud achievement of Carol Hanson and Lorraine Char-

est. A light dessert had been prepared by Myrna Cook, and the meal concluded with cheese and fruit cake. T. Flood poured coffee.

There was no doubt that the class passed its test with flying colours and the only regret was that, as one of the guests remarked, no supplementary would be needed. The class is taught by Mrs. B. Hanson.

COOKSHIRE —

Mr. and Mrs. K. Fraser entertained on the occasion of Miss Mabel Fraser's birthday when guests included Miss Evelyn Livingston, of New York, Miss Myrna Savage, of Lennoxville, Miss Elaine Kerr, of Montreal and Messrs. Charles Fraser and Douglas Parker, of Montreal; Bobby Bowen, of New York and Bob Wright, of Lennoxville.

Miss Hazel Johnson and Miss Helen Cook were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Cook.

BOLTON PASS —

Miss Sadie Rogerson accompanied Mr. and Mrs. D. Flewelling, of Knowlton, to Cowansville, where they called on Mrs. Glen Brown, who is a patient in the B.M.P. Hospital in Swetsburg. Mr. Alex Rogerson, of Montreal, spent the week-end at his home here, where Mrs. Peter Rogerson, of Knowlton, was also a visitor.

Mr. Keith Wing, of Montreal, spent the week-end at his home here.

The Ladies' Guild of St. Andrew's Church met at the Guild Hall with Mrs. A. Charby as hostess. Twelve members and two visitors, Mrs. G. McCracken, formerly of Dundas, Ont., and Rev. T. E. R. Nurse, of Knowlton, were present. Twenty-five dollars was donated to the Anglican Nebitt Residence. A chicken pie supper was discussed, the date to be decided at the next meeting, at which Mrs. D. Charters, will be hostess. Lunch was served by the hostess at the close of the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Paige, accompanied by Mrs. Walter Fuller, of Knowlton, visited Mrs. Paige's mother, Mrs. Alma McClay at Bromo Centre.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, Mr. B. Ling and Mr. Raymond Smith, of Knowlton, Mr. and Mrs. G. Tanner, of Sutton, recently visited Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Feasey have returned home, after spending a three month's vacation in Florida.

Friends of Mr. H. Daniel will be sorry to hear that he has returned to the Sherbrooke Hospital for treatment.

Mrs. Holmes and daughter, of Montreal, visited their husband and father, who is spending an indefinite time at Elliott Rest Home.
