BOYS BENEFIT GREATLY FROM AIR CADET LEAGUE ROTARY SPEAKER AVERS

Squadron Leader H. P. Illsley Addresses Regular Meeting of Westmount Club — Says League Provides Members With Grounding For Future Career

The Air Cadet League of Canada not only provides boys with a basic training that will prove of value to them should they join the R.C.A.F., but it also provides them with a thorough grounding for a career in commercial aviation. Squadron Leader H. P. Illsley, of the No. 1 Westmount Squadron, stated while addressing the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Westmount Rotary Club in Victoria Hall yesterday.

The speaker pointed out that the first Air Cadet League unit was formed in Westmount and that Mayor Walter A. Merrill, K.C., and Major Scott, had played an important part in its organization.

SUM RAISED BY LOCAL FIREMEN ACKNOWLEDGED

Hold Tag Day on Behalf Of British Fire Fighters Relief Fund

Westmount and district firemen whose recent campaign on behalf of the British Fire Fighters' Relief Fund realized a total of $14,597, received thanks for their efforts in the form of a letter from R. J. Heslop, Canadian chairman and treasurer of the International Association of Fire Fighters, acknowledging the receipt of cheques for that amount. The Westmount Fire Department, which conducted a tag day, raised $259.

The letter, addressed to Director Raymond E. Pare, of the Montreal Fire Department, who was instrumental in organizing the campaign and whose department collected $13,255 of the total, reads in part as follows: "Please convey to the membership of your department, to the chiefs and members of the fire departments in Verdun, Westmount, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, St. Michel, and Pointe Claire, our sincere and most grateful thanks. This splendid contribution, and the kind thought and generous spirit, which has inspired your efforts in raising this sum and assisting us to relieve some of the sufferings of Great Britain, are indeed greatly appreciated by this Association. I would also ask you to convey to the general public of all these cities, our heartfelt appreciation for their magnificent response to your appeal."

LAST RESPECTS ARE PAID LATE MRS. J. EVANS

Funeral Held Tuesday for Wife of Lieutenant Colonel W. B. Evans

Friends and relatives paid final tribute to Mrs. Jean Blackader Evans, of Westmount, Tuesday afternoon at the Church of St. James the Apostle, the service officiated at by Rev. F. H. Wilkinson. Mrs. Evans, who was the wife of Lieut.-Col. W. B. Evans, D.S.O., died suddenly on Saturday in the Western Division of the Montreal General Hospital.

Born in Brantford, Ont., Mrs. Evans was the daughter of the late L. E. Blackader and his wife, Mary Ross, and the niece of W. B. Blackader and Miss Alice Blackader of Montreal. Mrs. Evans was for many years an active member of the I.O.D.E., and during the Great War she served as a volunteer with the Red Cross Association of London, Eng., where she devoted herself unsparingly to the care of the sick and wounded returning from France. Greatest tribute of her many friends was that "she gave herself for the happiness of others." Survivors include her husband, and three daughters, Mrs. Arthur C. Evans, Mrs. Peers V. Davidson, and Mrs. Gordon Wheelock, all of Montreal.

True Or False Contest Held By Club

The Westmount Stamp Club held another well-attended meeting last Thursday evening, with 34 members present. The major part of the evening was spent in the participation of the "True or False" contest. After an interesting session Robert Kearney proved the winner of the juniors while S. Booth captured the senior contest.

The Club will hold another get-together this evening when general trading will predominate. The meeting will be held in the Oak Room of Victoria Hall and will get underway at 8.15 p.m. All stamp enthusiasts are welcome.

RESIDENTS IN FATAL HIGHWAY CRASH TUESDAY

Daughter And Mother of Mrs. Joseph Hanley Killed When Car Hits Truck

Four-year-old Gloria Hanley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hanley, of 4555 Sherbrooke street west, and Mrs. E. Blakey, 55, of Kingston, Ont., mother of Mrs. Hanley, were among four persons killed when the automobile in which they were riding crashed into a truck on the new Lakeshore highway, near Beauport, Tuesday night. Clifford David Peterkin, of Toronto, and an unidentified man about 25 years of age, also lost their lives in the collision.

Mrs. Hanley, 25, who was driving the car at the time, is in the Lachine General Hospital suffering from severe internal injuries. Mrs. Blakey and her granddaughter were killed instantly. The two men died shortly before midnight at Lachine General Hospital.

Hospital authorities were informed that Mrs. Hanley, with her daughter, had spent the weekend at her mother's home in Kingston and was motoring the latter into Montreal to spend a week's holiday here. The unidentified man and Peterkin, recently given honorable discharges from the Canadian Army, were also heading for Montreal, where they were to join the crew of a merchant ship today, according to a conversation overheard during the journey. They were given a "lift" by Mrs. Hanley at Kingston.

The accident, the worst of a number of mishaps which have occurred since the opening of the new boulevard, happened almost directly opposite the Beauport railway station shortly before 8 o'clock last night. There were no witnesses to the actual collision. The automobile, driven by Mrs. Hanley, was going towards Montreal when it hit the rear of the parked truck. There was no one in the truck at the time, and it could not be established whether the parking lights of the vehicle were on.

Mrs. Hanley said in hospital later that she did not see any sign of the truck until it was directly in front of her. Then, seeking to turn out, she saw two autos coming towards her, blocking any attempt to swerve away from the truck. Although she was severely injured, Mrs. Hanley did not lose consciousness. When her car overturned in the ditch, she said, she looked around for the others, but none could talk to her. Help came a short while later, she said.

Jewish leaders from the various parts of America, North and South, will meet in conference commencing November 23rd in the city of Baltimore. The sessions for the most part will consist of closed meetings. Sumner Welles, Secretary of State for the United States, will be one of the speakers at an open session. Rabbi Harry J. Stern plans to attend this first Inter-American Congress.

Bird Flies Out Window

A canary belonging to Miss Marjorie Tremaine, of 88 Somerville avenue, managed to get out of its cage and fly through an open window of the house this morning. Anyone in the neighborhood who may happen to capture the bird is asked to communicate with its owner. The phone number is ELwood 9395.

RADIO STATION IN GREENLAND

This is not the Nazi radio station discovered in Greenland by U.S. naval forces. But it was one like this, nestled in the rugged mountains of the American-protected island, that the navy silenced. The "Norwegian-controlled" station, above, at Torgilshov, was reported to be run by Norwegian fifth-columnists with the same purpose—to send vital weather reports and other data to the Germans—and was in operation before the establishment of the patrol which nabbed the secret Nazi station.

War Effort Needs Support Of All, D.C. Abbott Avers

If the war is to be won and the chaos of inflation avoided, the task must not be left entirely to the efforts of government agencies, but demands the all-out co-operative support of every citizen, Douglas C. Abbott, K.C., M.P. for St. Antoine-Westmount, declared in addressing the Young Men's Canadian Club in the Ritz-Carlton Hotel Monday night.

Mr. Abbott said that while the state was exercising greater control over many phases of commercial and social activity, the Democratic system for which the war was being fought made the Government only the directive agency and not a fairy godmother as so many people seem to think, he stated.

While the Government was determined to head off the disruptive menace of inflation by such measures as "the prices-wages ceiling," he said, every individual had a definite responsibility in this regard. To the average person inflation was just a word and he had never bothered about its practical application to himself, Mr. Abbott remarked.

"The new policy of general price and wage fixing involves grave dangers, and inevitably will result in some injustices and inequalities," he declared. "But I am convinced it is necessary if we are to avoid inflation and that the policy must succeed if we are to exert the maximum effort of which we are capable in this war. If they are to succeed, the new controls will require the whole-hearted co-operation of every one of us."

Canada had now virtually reached the stage of full production where efficiency would have to be increased and civilian consumption decreased if production was to be expanded, Mr. Abbott stressed. As an alternative to control of production, selling, and buying power to curtail public spending, he saw inflation as "the most disastrous method of reducing civilian consumption."

"By that process," he warned, "governments can secretly and unobserved confiscate a substantial part of the income of its citizens. Its consequences cannot be calculated and it imposes the most severe hardships on those least able to bear them. It is inevitably followed by a period of deflation with its painful and bitter readjustments, which can destroy the confidence of the people in themselves and in their system of government."

Mr. Abbott pointed out that despite the superficial appearance of prosperity and the soaring level of both war production and industry generally, only part of the goods produced were available for purchase and consumption in the normal way. "The part produced for war purposes is purchased by the state and is blown or thrown away," he said. The result in effect was that workers had "eight hours' wages to be spent on the product of five hours' labor," that is, on the civilian goods manufactured. Unless controlled, this excess purchasing power could readily lead to inflation, he asserted.

Pastor Will Preach On "Keys Of The Kingdom"

Sunday morning in St. Andrew's Church, Rev. Dr. F. W. Kerr will preach a sermon based on A. J. Cronin's book "The Keys of the Kingdom". This book depicts the life, struggle and sacrifices of a Catholic priest, as well as his temptations.

The scene is cast first in his home parish in England and then transferred to the heart of China. The problem of pacifism is dealt with in a very realistic way. Although he was a convinced pacifist from an intellectual and religious point of view, when an actual situation arose, his pacifism proved ineffective, and he became a valiant defender of those committed to his care. On Sunday evening Leonard Griffith of McGill University will preach a special sermon to young folks his topic being "Be Either Hot or Cold". In this sermon he will deal with the weaknesses of neutrality and the necessity of making clear-cut decisions in respect to the great issues of life.

BRIGADE UNIT WILL ATTEND BOYS' MEETING

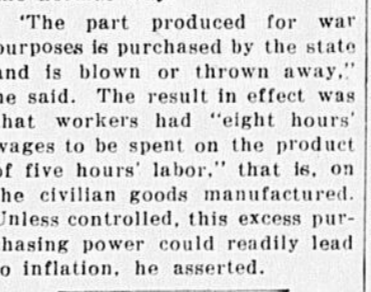

Trans-Canada Conference To Take Place This Weekend in Montreal High School

The First Westmount Company of the Boys Brigade will attend the Trans-Canada Boys' Conference to take place this coming weekend in the High School of Montreal on Saturday. The boys are asked to meet in front of Melville Church for 1 o'clock, when they will proceed to the High School in a body. The Company's Color Party will also be in attendance. The band of the 5th Company is to be in charge of the musical portion of the program.

The Company spent an interesting evening last Friday with the 11th Company. The Company has announced the resignation of Corporal Paul DiCocco, due to night work which makes it impossible for him to attend. His squad will be commanded by Lance-Corporal McKinlay from now on. The following new recruits were welcomed into the ranks by Captain Richardson: A. Burnett and Graeme Russell.

Plans for the Company's annual Christmas concert will shortly be announced and this year will take the form of a Father and Son Banquet, followed by the concert. As the company has much musical talent in its ranks, a variety concert will be arranged. National Service work is proceeding in all centres and by the end of the session many of the boys should have complete their 100 hours required for their badge. A group of the boys will start a new service this week, enabling them to steadily complete their requirements. The toy repair group will meet on Tuesday to complete last week's pick-ups, which are very numerous.

PARKING REGULATIONS ON SHERBROOKE ST. ALTERED BY COUNCIL RESOLUTION

Many Changes Made in Present Ruling — Prohibited Entirely in One Area And Cut to 30 Minutes in West End — Adopted to Relieve Congestion — Council Authorizes Purchase of Horses

Westmount City Council adopted a resolution greatly altering traffic parking regulations on Sherbrooke street, at a regular meeting Monday night. By-Law No. 501, concerning street traffic, empowers the Council to make resolutions regarding the restriction of traffic.

Under the new ruling parking regulations on Sherbrooke street will be as follows: On the south side from the eastern limits of the city to Melville avenue parking will be limited to 60 minutes; from Melville to the point opposite Arlington avenue, no restriction; Arlington avenue to Lansdowne avenue, no parking; from Lansdowne to Grosvenor, 60 minutes; Grosvenor to the western limits of the city, 30 minutes. On the north side of Sherbrooke street, from the eastern limits of the city to Grosvenor avenue, 60 minutes; from Grosvenor to Victoria, no parking; from Victoria to the western limits of the city, 30 minutes. The new ruling will create the only 30 minute parking area in the city.

It was adopted, primarily, to remedy the situation which now exists in one of the principal shopping districts of Westmount, on Sherbrooke street from Grosvenor to Claremont avenue, where considerable congestion is caused by the fact that many cars are left at the curb for long periods. At the same meeting Council gave authorization to the Roads Department to purchase five horses.

Mayor Walter A. Merrill, K.C., presided.

KING'S HOME, SCHOOL GROUP HOLDS MEETING

Movies Shown in School Every Second Week, Gathering Is Told

King's Home and School Association had their first evening meeting last Thursday. Hugh Nowise, the president, was in the chair. Amongst other things, he told the parents that selected movies were being shown in the school every second Monday afternoon, and any parent desiring to see the kind of pictures shown the children, was welcome to attend.

He also requested mothers who can, to listen in to two C.B.M. broadcasts every Tuesday, one from 10.15 to 10.45 a.m., called "Wellsprings of Music", and the other at 5 p.m., called "The Child in War Time". George Lessard, the principal, spoke on the Art Centre at Rosslyn, where every Saturday morning classes will be held for all Westmount school children who wish to join. There is accommodation for 75 pupils.

The speaker for the evening was Hugh Noble, B.Sc., director of physical education at the Westmount Intermediate School. His subject was "Physical Activity and Your Child." He explained to parents that as the school had their children for only a few hours out of a whole day, that the prime opportunity for all education began in the home, and that it was the parents' responsibility to see that such things as cleanliness, sportsmanship, conduct, posture, generosity of spirit, and all the elements of fair play, were carried out not only on the athletic field, but in the home. He emphasized that it needs the co-operation of both the home as well as the school to shape and fashion the child's emotions, attitudes and appreciation. There were about 40 or 50 parents present, and everybody was delighted with the helpful hints, and the interesting and instructive talk given by the speaker. The meeting closed with the showing of an amusing little sound movie called "Getting Together."

DAVE CAMPBELL, FORMER COACH, IS RECRUITING

District Recruiting Officer From Ordnance Unit Touring Province

The former coach of the Canadians, Verdun and Victorias in the Quebec Senior Hockey League, Dave Campbell, of 4129 Western avenue, today holds the rank of Lieutenant and is District Recruiting Officer for No. 1 Canadian Base Ordnance Unit, which is being recruited at the present time and may shortly go overseas. Lieut. Campbell is now making a tour of the province. Campbell led the M.A.A.A. to the Allan Cup in 1930. His aim is to make the squad an all-sportsmen's unit under command of Lt.-Col. J. A. Secord, of Toronto.

"We have room for skilled men," Campbell said before starting on his swing round the province. He planned to be in Quebec City and in Three Rivers. Men who enlist with his unit can be assured of rapid movement overseas, according to the former coach. "Naturally I am unable to divulge information on troop movements," Campbell said, "but I can say that fellows who enlist in our unit won't be in Canada very long."

The No. 1 Canadian Base Ordnance Workshop is seeking men of skilled trades, including mechanics, precision repair mechanics, instrument repair men, spare parts men and cooks. Special Services Celebrate 45th Year of Calvary Organization

Memorable week-end services marked the 45th anniversary of the Calvary Men's Own Brotherhood. On Saturday evening, the anniversary banquet was held under the chairmanship of Rev. T. W. Jones, with W. Seaton, secretary, assisting in the arrangement of the program. After the supper, at which some 112 persons sat down, the proceedings opened with singing of "There'll Always Be An England", "O Canada", followed by two minutes' silence in memory of brothers who had departed. Then followed community singing, led by W. Lawrie, with Mr. Meets at the piano. A tribute to the founder, T. B. Macaulay was made by Rev. T. W. Jones, and replied to by W. Seaton, who read a letter from Mrs. Macaulay, expressing the regrets of Mr. Macaulay, who was laid up with sickness, and not able to be present. It was decided to send a letter to Mr. Macaulay expressing the good wishes of the meeting and hoping for a speedy recovery. A tribute to Calvary Men's Own Brotherhood and to the

Although more and more Canadians are becoming regular investors in War Savings Certificates, and although large numbers are increasing the size of their monthly War Savings investments as a result of the current war weapons campaign, there is an astonishing number of people who are failing to grab their share of just about the best investment Canadians are offered in these unsettled days.

Leaving Windsor street station early this afternoon and stopping at Westmount and Montreal West stations to pick up west end residents, will be a special train bound for the little village of St. Lin — a few houses, barns, warehouses and shops clustered around a huge twin-spired church close to the Laurentian foothills thirty-six miles north of the Metropolis.

On Sunday, anniversary exercises were continued at 3 p.m. with Federation president, F. G. Herder, as chairman, assisted by Vice-President L. Albers, with W. Seaton, secretary, and Mrs. F. Houston, president of the Sisterhood Federation, also on the platform.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH NOTES

After the Sunday evening service the Alpha Omega Society will meet with Douglas Phillips and Mary Latimer will be in charge of the meeting.

Every Wednesday from ten o'clock in the morning until five in the afternoon both the ladies' parlour and the lecture hall of the church are crowded with busy workers for the Red Cross.

The moving picture hour is every Friday evening at seven o'clock, and is under the direction of Mr. C. A. Wylie, executive secretary of the Montreal Boys' Association, assisted by Mr. Leonard Griffith and Mr. Wm. Muir.

Mr. Leonard Griffith has got off to a good start in his afternoon Bible Class of young folks that meets every Sunday at eight o'clock.

REPERTORY THEATRE PLANS SAROYAN PLAY SPEIRS-MILLER GIVES PERFORMANCE

With MRT's production of "My Heart's in the Highlands" at Victoria Hall, Thurs, Fri. and Sat. "My Heart's in the Highlands" is a drama about a poor poet, his loyal son and a grand old Shakespearean actor who plays golden melodies on a trumpet, drawing the neighbors as to a Pind Piper.

A LONDON MOTHER REMEMBERS

London, Nov. 6—Every Monday morning, "rain or shine," the woman with the soft gray-white hair and the great sadness in her eyes and the bouquet of flowers in her arms comes to "Billy Square"—which is what they call Tabard Garden in Southwark, London.

There comes a hush as people in the neighborhood stop talking, stop working—but with eyes charitably averted from the woman with the flowers.

The woman slows her steps as she nears a small wooden cross standing crookedly above a jagged hole in the ground. She stops, reverently places her flowers at the base of the little marker, then stands staring for a moment at the jagged hole.

The hole leads down into a bomb shelter where the woman's family—two girls, a boy and a tiny grandson—all were killed by an enemy bomb as she stepped out to fetch a warm coat for the baby.

The mother is Mrs. Kate Lindmeyer, who now lives in another part of London. Her husband is a full-time warden in London. Her only remaining son, Alfred, 17, is in the home guards.

Your Child And You

By Dr. Frances S. Alexander

Dr. Frances Alexander of Westmount is a graduate of Smith College, B.A., and of Columbia University, M.A., and Ph.D. (1935). She was Exchange Fellow, Institute of International Education and attended University of Vienna, 1931-32.

She took training at New York State Employment Bureau, and Vocational Adjustment Bureau, New York City, was Placement worker and director of job studies at Emanuel Federated Employment Service, N. Y. C. and Vocational Counsellor, Board of Education, N.Y.C. for Continuation Schools. Other posts were: Director, Vocational Service, New York Section, Council of Jewish Women, N.Y.C. This service dealt primarily with the refugee. (1 year) and Director, Survey of Vocational Opportunities for Youth of Montreal, Federation of Jewish Philanthropies, Montreal, 1936-37.

She was Psychological Intern at Psychiatric Institute and Hospital, N.Y.C. while studying for Ph.D. Dr. Alexander is a registered psychologist with the State of New York and has been in Private consultation work in vocational guidance and child guidance since 1938 with mental testing at Montreal High School in cooperation with Department of Psychology, McGill University.

In the mental life of a child a feeling of security is very important. His home must be his haven, his parents' affection and attention to him must give him self-confidence. When father gives permission to his little girl to have an extra piece of candy which mother has forbidden the child is placed in a position full of insecurity. If he takes the candy, he is aware he is doing so in opposition to his mother's wishes—if he does so without her knowledge, he goes a step further and cheats. The situation is a pulling here and there. He feels insecure.

When father and mother differ in their instructions to the child, the child feels lost. The effect is harmful even though the divided authority is not an intentional reaction on the part of the parents. Mother is at home all day, buying herself with the baths, meals, supervising the play activities of her children. Little four-year-old Tom has refused to wash his hands before his meal. He is sulking in the corner. Mother has stated emphatically that when Tom has washed, he may have his lunch. In the meantime mother busies herself with father's lunch. Father makes his entrance and is greeted by Tom who says: "I'm hungry—I want my lunch." Looking at his watch, father sees that Tom's lunchtime is long overdue. So he sits Tom at the table and Tom eats—with dirty hands. Tom has put one over, but he retains a feeling of insecurity towards his mother.

CZECH FAMILY MAKES SEQUINS FROM BONES

Sequins, the coloured spangles used for dress decoration, are being made in Wales from the bones of dead animals by a family of refugees from Czechoslovakia. Their fashion creations in sequins are exported to countries which used to get them from Czechoslovakia in peace time.

In lovely shades of royal blue, emerald, scarlet, mauve, gold and silver, the sequins are got from the gelatine in the bones which is pressed into thicknesses sometimes as fine as one thirty-second of an inch and dyed.

The Czechoslovak family who run the factory, the only one of its kind in Britain today, came from Galhonz, in the Sudetenland, where they had been making sequins for over thirty years. They brought nothing with them but their experience and their knowledge of what the United States, South Africa, India and Australia required, but in the three short years since they opened at the Treowest Trading Estate in South Wales they have evolved their own intricate machines for cutting and threading the sequins, trained a complete staff, and attained the high standard of workmanship for which their Galhonz factory was famous.

A REMINDER THAT WINTER'S HERE

Along with winter comes a pleasing parcel of pictures like this of elastic Vera Zorina in Hollywood, designed to take your mind off snow, chill winds and coal bills and remind you the sun still shines.

Red Cross Office Work Is Widely Diversified

"The Office Administration Section of the Canadian Red Cross Corps offers a field where in women with office experience can serve best their country's war effort, and which, when coordinated with the professional and technical side of the picture, will further the work not only of the Red Cross, but the thing for which all women in Canada are working—the victory of democracy!"

This was the highlight of a speech given by Miss Edith Nicolson, Commandant of the Montreal Detachment of the Office Administration Section, Canadian Red Cross Corps, at a meeting sponsored by the Westmount branch of the Quebec Provincial Division of the Canadian Red Cross Society.

Mostyn Lewis, president of Westmount Branch, presided and introduced the two guests of honor, Mrs. Andrew Fleming, co-chairman of the war-works committee at Red Cross House, and Miss Nicolson.

"I would not have you believe," said Miss Nicolson, "that the work of the Office Administration Section is confined to only typing letters and answering telephones. True, this service is one of the very important details which is carried out with accuracy and efficiency, but a visit to the newly opened Montreal Clinic of the Voluntary Blood Service on Bishop street will present an excellent example of the widely diversified branches of the work being done by one group of 30 members of the Section."

From the very beginning, the people of Britain have had a deep undercurrent of religious faith, the speaker continued, telling of Stonehenge, where men were "seekers after God before history was written," and mentioning the Martyrs' Memorial at Oxford, erected to the memory of Ridley, Latimer and Cranmer.

Captain Jones praised the common people of London, in their unflinching performance of their duty throughout the "blitz." The milkmen who delivered the milk with dutiful regularity every morning despite the raids and dangers were as heroic as men who go over the top at the sound of a trumpet, the speaker remarked.

People have opened their hearts and homes, and given of their best to Canadian armed forces overseas," the speaker told his audience, "we have no need to fear that our lads are losing their fine standards of personal life and conduct; you may be proud of your boys."

Women can do their part in the war effort, Captain Jones concluded, by "keeping the home life and religious life vital and vibrant, and guarding the altars of remembrance—only thus can we deserve the victory that we are confident will come."

Mrs. R. M. Macaulay, president was in the chair, and the speaker was thanked by Mrs. C. D. French. Miss Vera Groves introduced the soloist, Andrew MacMillan, baritone, and accompanied him at the piano. William Gardiner, of the War Savings Committee, spoke briefly, urging women of the club to purchase war savings certificates regularly. Tea was served by Mrs. Harry Griffin and her committee, tea hostesses being as follows: Mrs. Will Harrison, Mrs. Gordon Blair, Mrs. F. S. Rosevear and Mrs. J. F. Hillenbrand.

Incidentally...

by Jack Hirshberg

Hollywood, Nov. 20—There's a semi-private war raging out way, with Deanna Durbin on one side opposing the gentrified members of Universal Studio's brain trust.

What's more, it's hard to say who'll win, for late dispatches from the front indicate an immediate deadlock, Miss Durbin losing $5000 weekly on suspension while her studio is stuck with a story property and no one to star in it.

Miss Durbin requests several concessions not yet accorded any star in recent history. She desires full personal right to choose her role, story and cameraman, and to supervise script and major casting. Next week she'll probably want more.

Deanna is not so much on strike for herself as for her husband. Mr. Durbin—pardon, please, Vaughn Paul—is an assistant-director at Universal when he and Miss Durbin fell in love. Assistant-directorial positions do not grow on California date palms, and Mr. Paul was fortunate in his job. Just how he came to win it is another story—perhaps the fact that his father once ran the studio had something to do with it. Perhaps not. I still think politics helps!

At any rate, love blossomed between the couple, and they confided to studio intimates their intentions to wed. Universal could not very well see its top glamor girl hitched to an assistant-director, however, so Mr. Paul was promoted overnight to a producer's berth.

Now, Neighbours, such a promotion is almost without precedent. An assistant-director is not nearly as important as his title implies. He is little more than handy-man to a director, and seldom does he become a director himself. He needs only a hearty voice, fair knowledge of production routine, and an uncle who owns a good-sized slice of studio stock.

On the other hand, a producer handles the whole process of film fabrication. He hires directors and cast and writers, handles the purse-strings, and answers only to production chiefs or the high mucky-mucks who chew cigars in the New York "front office."

Promotion from assistant-director to producer parallels instantaneous advancement from street-cleaner to head park commissioner in a metropolis, or from sandlot umpire to dean of the Big Leagues. It just ain't done!

Miss Durbin's real plight against Universal is that the studio hasn't given her husband a fair break. He has an office and steno, a projection room and salary, but thus far his superiors have given him nothing to produce. Now, a producer with nothing to produce is like a car without gas both get nowhere in a hurry.

Apparently, Mr. Paul is fed up—and I can't blame him. Deanna feels his fight is her fight, and she wants Universal to put him to work. Studio executives, apparently, feel otherwise—possibly with good reason—and Mr. Paul, a thoroughly likeable chap, is caught in the middle.

What the outcome will be nobody knows, but possible results

CHILDREN'S THEATRE Directed by Dorothy Davis & Violet Walters PRESENTS LITTLE LONDON HEROES by MIRIAM STEIN VICTORIA HALL - SATURDAY AFTERNOON, 2:30

COMEDY OPENING AT THE SNOWDON UNITED SUNDAY

Robert Newton, Rex Harrison and Wendy Hiller contribute their brilliant talents to the comedy and drama in George Bernard Shaw's "Major Barbara," which opens at the Snowdon United Theatre on Sunday afternoon.

GREER GARSON STARS IN STIRRING DRAMA

To her "Mrs. Chips" of "Goodbye, Mr. Chips" and Elizabeth Bennett of "Pride and Prejudice," Greer Garson has added another brilliant and heart-warming performance as a woman who falls in love with 2000 babies in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Blossoms in the Dust," which is now playing at the Snowdon United Theatre.

The story was inspired by the life of Mrs. Edna Gladney of Fort Worth, superintendent of the Texas Children's Home and Aid Society, who has devoted thirty years to finding happy homes for babies. Both Miss Garson's portrayal of Mrs. Gladney and the film's powerful and fascinating theme can only be compared with Spencer Tracy's interpretation of Father Edward J. Flanagan in "Men of Boys Town."

Walter Pidgeon has been ideally cast opposite Miss Garson as Sam Gladney in depicting the colorful lives of a man and woman who, having lost their own child, fill the void in their hearts with thousands of babies.

When Edna Kahlby fell in love with Sam Gladney as a gay young Gibson girl of 1908 she had no thought of the great work she was to do. Her first effort was to care for the babies of mill workers who labored in her husband's flour mill at Sherman, Texas. When he lost his fortune they moved to Fort Worth where Mrs. Gladney continued her fight for babies, ringing every doorbell in Texas to obtain funds for her home and going before the state legislature to push through a bill forever freeing illegitimate children from the stigma of their births.

The rest is a memorable motion picture, tenderly human but mighty in the sheer simplicity of its dramatic impact. The film has been richly enhanced by Technicolor, used as a frame for Miss Garson's red hair. You have never seen anything until you see red-headed Miss Garson holding a red-headed baby in her arms. burg and studied and composed all artists great classical stand-

Children's Theatre Cast Is Prepared

Everything is set for the performance of The Children's Theatre, directed by Dorothy Davis and Violet Walters, which takes place at Victoria Hall on Saturday afternoon at 2:30. The performance is under the patronage of Miss Martha Allan, Mr. A. E. Holt and Mr. Louis Armstrong, and the proceeds are being devoted to the Junior Red Cross (British Bomb Victims Fund).

This delightful four-act play, "Little London Heroes" written by Mont-real's well-known author, Miriam Stein, is a thrilling story of four evacuated children, and their exciting experiences when they leave London and become guest children in Montreal.

Dorothy Davis and Violet Walters, always to the fore with new ideas, with their usual attention to details, are sparing no efforts to make this timely production one of their outstanding successes. Lillian Wilkinson plays the role of the mother of the four children who are to leave for Canada, and the four youngsters will be played by Estelle Mendelsohn, Annette Milstock, Joyce Litwin and David Robinson. Other Children's Theatre favorites will be seen in important roles, including Bonnar Stuart, Ruth Lichtig, Marilyn Silverstein, Freda Cook, Ella Pollett, Eileen Nemtin, Billie Levy, Reina Aron, Esther Oster, Robert Stein, Jon Robinson and Eleanor Zabitzky. There are 100 children in the cast, and one of the interesting fea-

MONTGOMERY STARS IN WESTMOUNT FILM

In a motion picture comedy so unusual, so fascinating and so delightfully different that the entire motion picture industry gains in stature, Robert Montgomery yesterday brought to Westmount United Theatre audiences an entirely new conception of joyous screen entertainment. His new Columbia comedy, "Here Comes Mr. Jordan," even as it defies every law of film-making, is the most surprising screen accomplishment of the year, combining laughter and thrills in gay abundance, and telling its uproariously fruitful story against a background of deep emotional value.

The delightful hilarity and appeal of "Here Comes Mr. Jordan" is founded upon a situation which really should be seen to be fully appreciated. The greatness of the picture, one of the greatest of all time, is readily evident during its unfolding on the Westmount Theatre screen.

Russia reports there are now 243,000 collective farms, embracing 18,800,000 peasant households, in the Soviet Union.

MUNICIPAL HOCKEY LEAGUE MEETS; MIDGET GROUP HAS FOUR TEAMS, BANTAM THREE

The annual meeting of the Westmount Municipal Hockey League was held last week in Victoria Hall. E. J. Anderson, Superintendent of Parks, presided at the meeting assisted by Jimmie McCormick, recreation supervisor. Eight teams were represented at the meeting but many more clubs are expected to enter before the season starts.

The Midget group lead in numbers with four entrants, the bantams had three and the juveniles only one. The lone juvenile entrant was Dougie Alexander's Golden Eagles, last year's runner-up to the champion Canadiens. The Canadiens will not be in the league this year as Bert Dalzell who ran the club is now in the R.C.A.F. However, it is expected that at least two more teams will play in this group. John Peirson is endeavouring to line up a team, while Dick Beattie is trying to get some St. Leo Academy players as a nucleus for another squad. Mr. Kitchen who operated the Staynor Hawks last year is also interested and may put in either a juvenile team or a team in the intermediate league.

The midgets are all set with four teams ready to start, with the probable addition of a fifth team. The four clubs represented at the meeting were the Panthers, last year's titlist, Harold Fairhead represented the Panthers. John Peirson represented the Beavers who finished first in the midget section last year but were eliminated in the play-offs by the Panthers. The Beavers will have most of their team with the exception of Peirson himself intact for another season. Herbie Kert entered the Flyers and will use most of the players from the Eagles bantam team of last year as a nucleus for his team. Donald Davies entered the Cyclones, a new team this year.

The three teams in the bantam section were Warren Chipendale's Aces, pre-season favourites in this group. The Aces were in the bantam section last year and were coming along very well at the end of the season. All of the players are again eligible for the bantam series this year so that the experienced gained last year should prove invaluable. Logue McDonald has another Argo team. The Argos were runners-up in the bantam section last year, while the Pee Wee Argos captured the Prince Albert league title so that McDonald will have some fairly good material to work on. The Panthers headed by Ross Gillingham will also play in the bantam league. The Panthers were the second place team in the Prince Albert Pee Wee loop last year and should be a strong team in the bantams this season.

Plans for the coming season were talked over and the rules passed. A few innovations will be attempted this year. The first game in the evening double-header will be started an hour later, that is at 7:30 p.m. instead of the usual 7:00 p.m., in an effort to make it easier for the team having to play in the first game. Players generally find it

Play-Off Games Predominate At Parks

Play-off games in the rugby leagues will predominate in Westmount Park this week. The Westmount English rugby team holders of first place in the English Rugby League standing will meet the Australian Air Force "C" team in a sudden-death game on Saturday afternoon for the loop title. The Westmount team has remained undefeated so far, but have drawn one game. The Airmen in second place have only lost one game. Weather permitting the game will get under way at 2:30 p.m.

Westmount Park will also be the scene of two or possibly three play-off games in the Westmount Six Man Rugby League. The second game in the junior series play-offs will be played this afternoon, with the University School team meeting the Panthers. Tomorrow afternoon the Beavers will play the Dodgers in the second game of the senior group play-offs, with a third game if necessary to be played on Saturday morning.

TEAM DEFEATS PANTHERS 3-0 IN PLAY-OFFS

The University School team, unbeaten in the league schedule, had a narrow escape on Saturday morning, when they eked out a close 3-0 victory over the Panthers in the first game of the play-offs in the Junior section of the Westmount Six Man Rugby League. The two teams will meet this afternoon in the second game of a two-game total-points to count series, with the University School squad, who of course hold a three-point handicap.

The winners were very fortunate to finish the game with a three-point lead, for although they probably had the best of the play throughout the game, their only score came on the last play of the first half. The University team were in possession 25 yards out from the Panthers' goal line, when Mickey Darling booted one to Bill Dryden. Dryden who was right on the Panthers' line, let the slipper ball go through his hands and Hugh Brodie coming in fast dropped in it for a touch-from-fumble. This gave the blue team two points but Brodie made it three when he converted from a placement with Darling holding the ball.

While the Panthers held the first place school team very well they were very seldom in a scoring position and will have to show more scoring power in the last game of the series if they hope to win out.

Mickey Darling, Hugh Brodie and Hayden were the stars of the University win, while Bruce Marshall and Roy Howard were the outstanding players on the Panthers, all of whom played an improved game.

Blunose Does Bit for Defense

Returning to her old-time role as queen of the Nova Scotia deep-sea fishing fleet, to help supply food for an empire at war, the famed racing schooner Blunose will put to sea a prized memento of more carefree sailing days.

Her new storm sails have been cut from a big sail presented to her skipper, Capt. Angus Walters, by H. Late Majesty King George V.

Six years ago, when the unbeaten Blu nose was on an exhibition voyage overseas, a heavy storm slashed her mainsail and forced her to seek refuge in an English port.

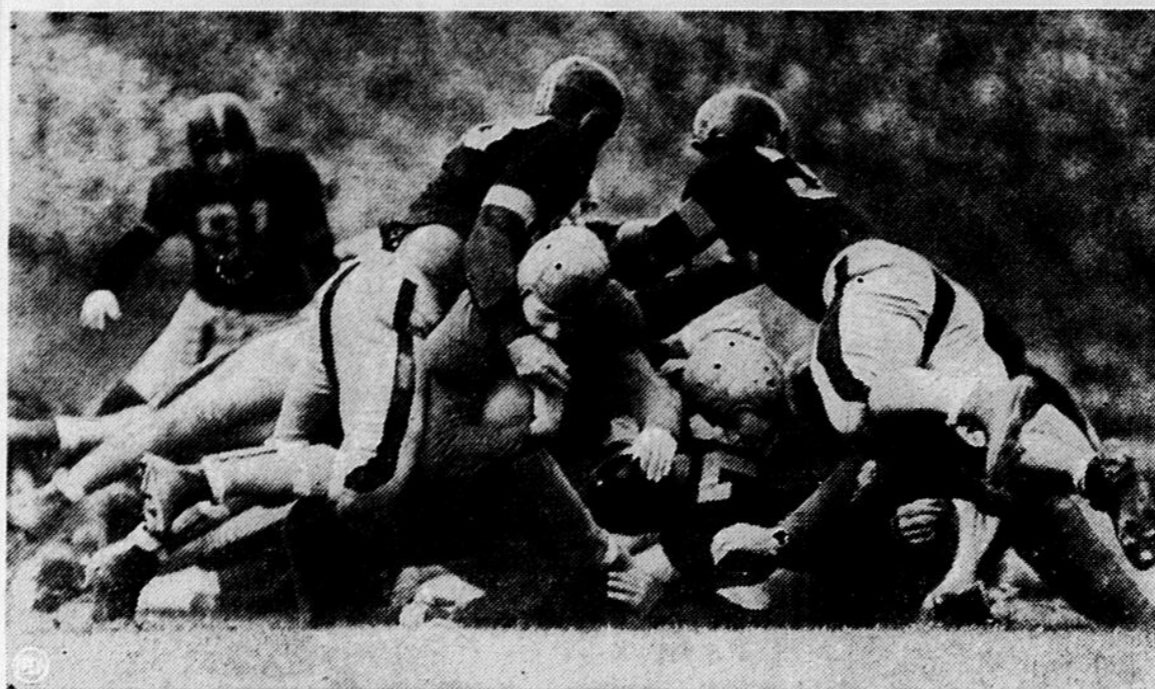

The King made Cap'n Walters a gift of the mainsail of his racing yacht Britannia. It was too large, so the skipper brought it back to Canada.

Today in Canada everything of practical value to the wartime economy is being pressed into service, and the resourceful Blu nose will head out into the Atlantic with royal storm jibs, foresail and jumbo.

What Are the Reasons for Seeking Good Posture?

The reason why it is important to cultivate the best possible posture are as follows: (a) for comfort and endurance in maintaining the upright posture, and for skill in other bodily acts; (b) for health of the bones, joints and muscles; (c) for the sake of the organs and general health; (d) for its esthetic value; (e) for its psychological effect; (f) for the impression it makes upon others.

It might be said therefore that a person should stand straight and sit straight for good looks, for health and for self-confidence. Parents should begin early to teach children to carry themselves well, so that they will grow into strong, straight, well-built men and women.

Correct posture helps the organs of the body to do their work properly, with a minimum of waste effort. It is a sign of self-respect and plays an important part in winning the respect of others. The person with poor posture is likely to be one who looks upon himself as a failure. Also, people are inevitably inclined to respect those who respect themselves, and who show their worth in a fine bearing. Posture may unconsciously reflect a lack of self-confidence and pass this opinion on to others.

Annual Meeting Is Held By Schools Ski Union

Ski jumping will have a lower score rating in the Protestant Schools Ski Union this year. It was decided at the annual meeting of the organization held Tuesday afternoon.

Last season in what was considered by most school sking officials a miscarriage of justice, Montreal High won the senior school championship, not through extremely high merit on the part of its representatives but because it was the only school to have the minimum of three men entered in the jumping. The fact that other high-ranking institutions such as Westmount and West Hill couldn't muster a squad to take in that event prevented them from winning the championship, as later scores showed.

So yesterday, after some wrangling, 11 delegates convening at Baron Byng High School arrived at a new ruling. Downhill, slalom and cross-country events will rate 100 points as they did before, but jumping will count for only 50, with the school stacking together the highest total over the four events gaining the title.

TAKE LEAD IN MUNICIPAL RUGBY LOOP; SECOND GAME WILL BE PLAYED TOMORROW

Donnie Mann's Dodgers took a one game lead over the Beavers in the first game of the play-off series to decide the winner of the senior section of the Westmount Six Man Rugby League. The Dodgers outscored the Beavers 16-5 on Saturday morning at King George Park. The second game of the series will be played on Friday afternoon with the third game if necessary scheduled for Saturday morning.

The Beavers who went through the league schedule undefeated couldn't untrack themselves on Saturday morning and suffered their first loss of the season. In addition to this they lost the services of Johnnie Peirson, star half-back, who is out with a bad shoulder.

The Dodgers strengthened by the appearance of Noel Romney, lost little time in getting down to business. A couple of forward passes and a running play brought the ball to the Beavers' one yard line, from which spot Donnie Mann had little trouble getting over for a major score. Ken Cairns kicked a placement for the convert making the score 6-0 for the Dodgers in the first five minutes of play.

The Beavers struck back rapidly with Ian Fraser going over for a touch on 25 yards out. Dave Harvie missed the convert, leaving the score 6-5 in favour of the Dodgers.

The Dodgers scored again before the halfway mark when Stan Hughes, the league's leading scorer, broke away on an end run and outtraced the nearest Beaver player to rack up another five points for the winners. Hughes went over from about the 20 yard mark. The convert was missed leaving the score at half-time read, 11-5 in favour of the Dodgers.

The Beavers were without the services of Peirson for the most part of the second half but held the Dodgers to a lone touch, scored by Stan Hughes when he gathered in a forward tossed by Noel Romney.

Noel Romney, Donnie Mann and of course Stan Hughes with his two tries were outstanding for the winners. Dave Harvie and Ian Fraser were the best for the Beavers.

A return to form on the part of the Beavers would indicate that the series will go to the limit.

The Beavers ended up their schedule on Thursday afternoon when they edged out the Bulldogs 7-5 in a four point encounter. This eliminated the Bulldogs from any mathematical chance of catching up to the Dodgers and enabled the play-offs to get under way on Saturday morning.

The Beavers held a 7-0 lead at half-time in this game as the result of a touchdown scored by Eric Swaine. Swaine caught a forward pass thrown by John Peirson from the Bulldogs' 15 yard line, right on the goal-line. Dave Harvie converted with a placement and later kicked a rouge for the Beavers seventh point.

The Bulldogs came back in the latter half, scoring an unconverted touch when Kevin Shea gathered in a long forward pass

Witnessing the group in action one could not help but feel that here was a program which should be extended to include every able-bodied man and woman in Westmount.

JOE HITS DOUBLE

Joe DiMaggio, who made baseball history last summer by hitting safely in 56 consecutive games was chosen recently the American League's most valuable player for the second time in three years. The Yankee power house trailed the 400-hitting Ted Williams, of the Red Sox, in batting average and home runs, but he led the A.L. in runs batted in.

DiMaggio, king-pin slugger of the world champion Yankees, succeeds Hank Greenberg, who had succeeded DiMaggio as the American League's most valuable player a year ago. Greenberg, the ex-Detroit Tiger star, of course, was out of baseball since May this season, having signed a new contract with the U. S. Army.

from Bill Graham and then ran 60 yards more to the Beavers' goal-line. The Bulldogs threatened continually from then on but always bogged down when nearing their opponent's goal-line.

Dave Harvie, John Peirson and Eric Swaine starred for the Beavers with Pierre Rodier, Bill Graham and Kevin Shea shining for the losers.

Scoring honours in the league were captured by Stan Hughes of the Dodgers with 34 points, two points more than team-mate Ken Cairns. Dave Harvie of the Beavers was next in line with 28 points, while Donnie Mann of the Dodgers accounted for 24.

FALCONRY IS RULED OUT IN ENGLAND

Formerly a sport of kings, falconry—the art of taming birds of prey for use in the chase—has been outlawed by the British Government.

This action was taken because falcons swoop down upon pigeons bearing vital messages from R. A. F. aircraft to their bases. The Air Ministry authorized destruction of falcons and their eggs wherever found.

It was from about the ninth century to the middle of the 17th that the sport of falconry was at its height. Falcons and hawks, the birds with which the sport is practised, were incorporated in orders and degrees according to rank.
