WEDNESDAY MORNING OCT. 20.

THE "RACE AND RELIGION" CRV.

We find the following in the Montreal Gazette of yesterday:

"The fanaticism of race and religion, added by the savage appeals of the Mail and Sir John, have done more to divide the people than any thing more false and more stupid. The Mail's independence has been recognized by every respectable Liberal paper. It is no more the property of Sir John or his colleagues or the Conservative party."

There certainly is something "more false and more stupid" than anything that has appeared in L'Electeur; it is this statement of the Montreal Gazette. The assertion that the Mail was recognized as an independent paper when it was waging its war on French-Canadians and the Roman Catholic Church is not true. Indeed, it is as far removed from the truth as possible. For six months before Sir John repudiated the Mail's sentiments, the Mail was denouncing the Province of Quebec, the French and the Catholics. No one thought of calling the Mail an "independent" journal all that time; and now that the Gazette has been unwise enough to revive these matters in the midst of the crisis in Quebec, the truth must be made manifest and Sir John's responsibility for the crusade of his organ made clear.

Sir John Macdonald has been a daily reader of the Mail. Every anti-Quebec, anti-French, anti-Catholic article that appeared in the Mail was read by him. He saw from hour to hour the efforts of his organ (by means of inflammatory editorials, bitter local correspondence, letters ascribed to the "Eastern Townships," special letters from Ireland, false and incendiary telegrams and one-sided quotations from various newspapers) to arouse sectional hatreds and awake national and sectarian antagonisms. He saw all this, and he was a CONSERVING PARTY TO IT. It was his daily pabulum; it was always before his eyes; and until extreme pressure was put upon him by his supporters in Quebec province he did not lift a finger to arrest a crusade which, if supported generally by the Conservative party in Ontario, can have only one ending, the disruption of the union. The truth is that during the six months in which the Mail was engaged in its dangerous work, it was not only the recognized organ of the Government, but a member of the Mail staff was a constant attendant on Sir John, receiving his suggestions and counsels and fashioning the opinions of the Mail to suit Sir John's views; and the political announcements in the Mail were the announcements of the Government.

If Sir John Macdonald was sincerely desirous of stopping the Mail's crusade would he have waited six months before uttering the slightest protest? If he was in earnest in his pretended repudiation would he have coupled it with a certificate of character to the Mail that could not fall to give weight, in the eyes of his partisans, to the editorials of the Mail? Would he say in one and the same breath, "The Mail shouldn't do so" and "The Mail is the greatest newspaper in Canada?"

What change has Sir John's single reference to the Mail made in the Mail's relations with its party? None whatever. It is still the great Conservative organ. It remains Sir John's staunch ally. It is by means of the Mail's war upon the race and religion of Sir John's Quebec allies that Sir John expects to carry Ontario. Has the Mail lifted its voice in favor of a candidate or a politician who is a Liberal? Not once. Has the Mail ventured to utter a protest against a Conservative politician or candidate anywhere? Not once. The Mail is still the organ of its party, with this difference, that to its former stock of party ammunition, it has added the fires of religious and race intolerance. It is supported by Sir John's Conservative supporters. It speaks for them. It acts for them. It lives by them. To say that it is not Sir John's right hand in Ontario is to speak idly. However it may have professed to differ from him or from the paper, the fact remains that in Ontario Sir John Macdonald is the recognized leader of the Conservative party and the Mail is the recognized Conservative organ of the province.

We understand the difficulty in which the Gazette and its French allies in Quebec are placed, and the public generally must be made to understand it too. They are all co-operating with a Dominion Premier and a party who expect to profit politically by denouncing the race to which these Frenchmen belong and the religion that they profess. The French Conservative politicians of Quebec are willing that their race and their religion should be subjected to every form of insult, threat and intimidation from their party allies in Ontario, provided that they are left undisturbed in the enjoyment of the Government patronage here in Quebec. These politicians—without heart, feeling, self-respect, pride of race or religion—accept the contempt and outrage that are being cast upon French-Canadians and Roman Catholics by their Ontario allies, provided that their own pockets and positions are made safe! It is in this condition that the once powerful Conservative party in Quebec have been brought! It is to this humiliating pass that love of office and patronage has reduced the men who once dictated the laws of the party for the Dominion. All honorable sentiments, all proper pride, all ideas of justice and equity for their race and religion have been sent overboard, and the Conservative politicians are reduced to the position of place holders who are willing to see everything else sacrificed as long as they may enjoy their offices and emoluments. To this pitiable position has Sir John Macdonald reduced his followers in Quebec.

GOVERNMENT OR OPPOSITION?

The Gazette keeps up its foolery over the names of the classes into which the majority against the Ross Government are divided. It keeps on begging and praying the Etendard and Verite to help the Government, now that it is defeated, reminding them of the party names by which sections of the successful Opposition have been known in the past. Leaving our morning contemporary to its grovelling before journals whom it but a few days ago reviled and abused, let us point out once more that the struggle has been between the Ross Government and the opponents of the Ross Government. There was no other issue before the electors. In every constituency, with possibly one exception, the issue was gamely fought out. The Government, aided by the Ottawa Government, and by every influence, lawful and unlawful, that the two Governments could bring to bear upon the electors, accepted the issue. They were in high spirits before the day of election. They were going to carry everything before them. They were about to submerge Liberals, Catholics, Nationalists—everything in opposition to them. They accepted the lists which had appeared in the press—Government men in one column, Opposition in the other; they recognized the division; and they predicted that the Government would have fifteen to twenty of a majority all over the Province. They fought out the fight for their existence, and they were hopelessly defeated. So far as they are concerned there is an end to them. The story of their defeat is known in every hamlet in the land, in every section of the Dominion. From the official residence of the Lieutenant Governor to the lowliest home in the backwoods there is but one opinion on the subject. The only further question is, How long are a Government, so beaten, so driven from the position of advisers to the Lieutenant-Governor, to remain in office? How long should men, of whom it has been proved that they have lost the confidence of the electors, remain to advise the head of the State? They are no longer a Government; they are no longer His Excellency's constitutional advisers; they are in nothing different in this respect from any half dozen citizens who may be met upon the streets. Then how long should such persons usurp the right to act as the constitutional advisers of the Governor, as if they had not lost their Attorney-General, as if they had been successful at the polls, as if the electors had sent them back with a handsome majority to support them?

These questions answer themselves. They suggest the scandal that must follow any attempt by a discredited and beaten Government to advise His Excellency to grant another reformation. They reveal the hollowness, impropriety and folly that would turn the Governor into a mere partisan and plunge the province into a sea of excitement and violence, merely that a beaten faction may have another chance to avert disaster! The Government have been beaten after a fair fight. Their opponents outnumber them from five to ten votes in the Assembly. Their plain duty is to resign without delay; and having resigned, the Lieutenant-Governor will send for the recognized leader of the Opposition to form a new Government. No other course can be constitutionally pursued. That Government, we have reason to believe, will be formed on the broadest lines, no important political interest being left unrepresented.

Men against whom the electors have pronounced can carry on the Government despite the will of the people. Anarchy has come. Provincial rights is something more than a name. The demand for the preservation of provincial rights must soon become a question of momentous importance. The right of a province to hold its local elections without interference from other provinces and the Federal Government, is one of those rights which cannot be too soon insisted upon. The election just closed has furnished some glaring examples of lawless and impudent interference with the rights of the great body of the electors of Quebec. The Federal power has been used without stint or scruple. Federal Ministers have been active campaigners. Under their auspices an immense Bribery Fund was distributed throughout the province. Capitalists in Ontario, too, have not been ashamed to interfere in Quebec elections, even to supplying funds for the most corrupt purposes. Was anything of the kind anticipated when the Constitution gave the people of Quebec complete self-government in regard to all provincial matters? Is this to be the practice through all our future? Must the electors of Quebec hold their provincial elections subject to such interference, such abuse of power and such abominable corruption, emanating outside of the province altogether? There is something here calling for serious reflection, something that cannot be passed over lightly. Either this province has the supreme control of its local affairs or it has not. If it has, then impertinent and unconstitutional interference from beyond its borders should cease for good, or the gravest consequences must ensue. It is not to be tolerated that the engines of corruption which the Federal authority and their agents and sympathizers in Ontario choose to import into a Quebec election should be set to work to enslave the people of our province. It is simply disgraceful that the moment the electors of Quebec move to punish the authors of their political degradation, the harpies and camp followers and contractors of the Federal Government should be let loose upon the province, to corrupt, intimidate and cheat the people of their rights. Do the people of Quebec interfere in the elections of Ontario? Do the people of New Brunswick seek to control the elections of Nova Scotia? If similar outside interference were attempted in any other province than Quebec, there would be such an outcry raised as would effectually prevent a repetition of the outrage. But the Federal Government and its Ontario sympathizers regard Quebec as fair game for anything in the form of interference that they may think fit to indulge in, and in the late election they acted without concealment and without shame. It is time the voice of the people was heard on a matter of such momentous consequence. It is time the electors of Quebec demanded, in language not to be misunderstood, that the Federal Government, their minions and contractors, as well as their sympathizers in Ontario, shall no longer seek to interfere with the polls in Quebec or attempt to destroy the independence of the province by means of corruption gigantic in character and widespread in its application.

of his sentence would be a graceful concession. They were promised by La Minerve and Le Monde, the mouthpieces in this matter of Sir Hector Langevin and Mr. Chapleau, that their request would be granted, that Riel would not be hung, that they need not be alarmed, his life would not be sacrificed to please Orangemen or any other votes. It was the execution in spite of these assurances that created that anger which led to mass meetings, violent denunciations of the Government, and so on. It led also to an examination of Sir John's claims to continue as the autocratic ruler of Canada, and to the determination that he should give place to another. The Mail's complaint that the habitant, "or rather the vast institution which controls him, has ruled Canada ever since the Union of 1841," and its appeals for war against Lower Canada, are deprived of what force they might otherwise have by the fact that from the time when the first number of the Mail was printed until the hour when Quebec showed signs of withdrawing its support from Sir John, not a line against the church or the French ever found place in its columns. It readily accepted their support; it was warm in its eulogies of those it now attacks; its columns were ever ready to defend them so long as they supported Sir John; and therefore its discovery of the evils which for so long were championed by the Mail is not of that value which it might otherwise have. Even the Conservatives of Ontario will hardly be much moved by the Mail's appeals, and the Reformers, unless they are very silly people, instead of being the hard headed reasoners they are described, will recognize the fact that their hour of victory is near at hand and that their enemies are merely trying to destroy them by appealing to what they hope may be an unreasoning hatred.

THE GAME LAWS OF THE NORTH-WEST. The sportsmen of the west are not quite satisfied with the game regulations of that country, but although the Dominion Government are responsible for rules affecting fishing, we should have imagined that the game laws were, or should be, controlled by the North-West Council, as they are by the provinces. The Calgary Herald says: It seems to be the general opinion among the sportsmen of the west that the commencement of the close season for trout is too early, and might be deferred for at least a month without the slightest harm to the fish. They also fail to understand why the old date, September 1st, for beginning the close season has been altered to August 15th, which it is agreed is too early, the birds then being too young and feeble on the wing for fair shooting. During the latter part of August the young prairie chickens can almost be knocked down with sticks. They congregate on the trails or other uncovered spots at certain hours, as the older birds do, but they are too weak on the wing and too fearless of their enemies to save themselves. At that date they cannot be kept, and it is not uncommon to see birds that have been killed with ease left to rot by the way. The 1st September is quite early enough to begin shooting and the Government controlling the matter would do well to change the date before next season. It is said "the Conservative party" met in caucus in this city and resolved to advise the Ross Government to "hold on." This is doing "the Conservative party" great injustice. It knows nothing of these unconstitutional proceedings. Contractors may advise this course. Officials may wish to postpone the evil day. Jobbers and ringsters may not care a fig for what is right or what is wrong provided something is done which they fondly fancy may help their schemes. But "the Conservative party" has not been consulted, and we are confident that all respectable members of the party will feel thoroughly ashamed of men who advise that efforts be made, by resort to trickery, to defeat the will of the people of Quebec as expressed at the polls.

IN MONTREAL the Government candidates did not poll one-third of the votes of either the English or the French electors. Two tickets were set up in opposition to the Government, and these left the Government in the miserable minority in which they were found. In Quebec city one of the Opposition candidates was elected by acclamation, and Dalhousie street, the centre of the commercial element in that city, gave the Opposition candidate a large majority. Even in the more English of the Townships, the late Ross-Tailion Government came out of the elections no stronger than they went in. They gained Megantic and lost Shefford. In Huntingdon Dr. Cameron in the French parish of St. Anicet led the poll.

MR. TAILION, the late Attorney General, is reported as saying that he will fight the Montreal East election to the bitter end. Perhaps he will yet eat his words by denying he used them. He is no novice at repudiating his own utterances. If he has a surplus of energy remaining after his rout, perhaps he will summon up energy enough to explain why he paid ten thousand dollars for the report of the Civil Service commission without making the slightest use of it? THE "GAZETTE," as an excuse for its friends holding on to office after the people have declared against them at the polls, alleges that the last of the elections will not be held before November 20. How is this, when the last poll will be held in "Chicoutimi and Saguenay" to-morrow? These drowning men are grasping at straws.

HIS GRACE ARCHBISHOP DUHAMEL has been called to Rome on important business. We do not believe, however, that this summons from His Holiness is due to any influence on the part of Sir John Macdonald or Mr. Chapleau as was claimed in the Cardinal matter. SPECIAL NOTICE. ON YOUR RETURN FROM THE COUNTRY OR SEASIDE, DO NOT FORGET TO CALL AND GET YOUR OWN AND THE CHILDREN'S PHOTOGRAPHS TAKEN, IN ANY STYLE, AT NOTMAN & SONS, 21 BUREAU STREET. DIED. THE LIQUOR TRADING ACT is the moment without constitutional advisers. How long is this state of things to continue? AS SIR JOHN SAYS. According to the movements of the wire-pullers in this city representing the Ottawa Government and the Ross Provincial Government (defunct), the decision of the electors of Quebec does not count for anything. It makes no difference what the electors say; everything must be made to go as Sir John Macdonald says. The Province of Quebec has said the Ross Government must go. Sir John Macdonald says they must stay. Thereupon the wire-pullers meet and resolve to advise the defunct Government to "hold on." And perhaps in the next breath they will boast of the independence of the late Government, what a "good" Government it was, and how fitly it represented what should be a province independent in the management of all provincial affairs! But the mask has been dropped; it cannot be readily resumed; and the ugly features of the Ottawa Premier are seen in place of those of Dr. Ross. The wire-pullers of the Conservative party in the province have left nothing undone to humiliate their province and show their subserviency to Ottawa dictation. "WE DO NOT CARE what the people have decided—we will remain as 'the Government of the province,' such as the defunct Ross Ministry. Such a challenge to the people cannot be shirked. It must be met. A reasonable time must be allowed to these lofty gentlemen to settle up the affairs of the several departments; and then— THE GAME LAWS OF THE NORTH-WEST. The sportsmen of the west are not quite satisfied with the game regulations of that country, but although the Dominion Government are responsible for rules affecting fishing, we should have imagined that the game laws were, or should be, controlled by the North-West Council, as they are by the provinces. MISCHIEVOUS FALSEHOODS. The manufacture of lies at Ottawa for transmission to the glib newspapers of New York, Boston, Detroit and elsewhere, is not by any means a harmless enterprise. The effect of the Labrador story was extremely mischievous, and the latest falsehood about the Indians appears to be likely to have equally pernicious effects. Not that the American newspapers care a straw for that; they will publish any nonsense an accredited correspondent chooses to send them, or even that any other correspondent who has brains enough to work up a sensational lie, having sufficient local color to make it possible; if any protection is to be had against these creatures Canada must find it for herself. They are the scum of the journalistic profession and are utterly callous to any consideration which has weight with honest or decent men. One of the last emanations from this source was an account of some disturbance amongst the Indians. Whatever trouble there may have been amongst Indians themselves and was confined to the United States territory, but one of these Ottawa gentry so twisted and manipulated the occurrence as to give the world the impression that there had been an Indian rising in Canada. The St. James Gazette got hold of the story, and, of course, jumbling up names and localities as is the custom of English newspapers when speaking of American events, said: "The Indian outbreak which is reported from Canada will of course be put down easily and quickly. But the havoc already wrought by the Grosjean is horrible to read. The tribes started on the warpath on Monday, for some reason which does not seem to be clearly known. They have carried on operations in genuine Indian fashion, ruthlessly murdering every living creature they came up with, firing their homes and scalpings the dead, and annihilating the tiny settlement of Hudson, killing the entire population of six men and ten women and children. They are said to have murdered a hundred white settlers scattered in lonely farm houses, and two Roman Catholic missionaries. As they near the American border they fell in with the hostile tribe of Grosjeans. A desperate fight followed, the Grosjeans losing about forty dead, and the Grosjeans about fifty in number. The mounted police are already in pursuit. Following so soon on the heels of an Indian outbreak under Riel, this disturbance seems to show that some more regular system of supervision is needed over the tribes of the North-West."

The information contained in the last four lines of this extract shows how the position is understood in England. This paragraph will be copied in other papers throughout the United Kingdom, and besides alarming numbers of people who have relatives in the North-West, will create the impression that the North-West of Canada is subject to periodical Indian risings. This impression may be removed, but not without a good deal of trouble, but of course the anxiety and alarm which it will have caused must run its course. The only persons who are in a position to remedy this state of things are the citizens of Ottawa. They can have no difficulty in discovering the delinquent and they should be able to devise means of making him mend his ways. It is much to be hoped that they will warn those whom it may concern, that Ottawa cannot be made the base of operations intended to injure the country.

THE LIQUOR TRADING ACT is the moment without constitutional advisers. How long is this state of things to continue? AS SIR JOHN SAYS. According to the movements of the wire-pullers in this city representing the Ottawa Government and the Ross Provincial Government (defunct), the decision of the electors of Quebec does not count for anything. It makes no difference what the electors say; everything must be made to go as Sir John Macdonald says. The Province of Quebec has said the Ross Government must go. Sir John Macdonald says they must stay. Thereupon the wire-pullers meet and resolve to advise the defunct Government to "hold on." And perhaps in the next breath they will boast of the independence of the late Government, what a "good" Government it was, and how fitly it represented what should be a province independent in the management of all provincial affairs! But the mask has been dropped; it cannot be readily resumed; and the ugly features of the Ottawa Premier are seen in place of those of Dr. Ross. The wire-pullers of the Conservative party in the province have left nothing undone to humiliate their province and show their subserviency to Ottawa dictation. "WE DO NOT CARE what the people have decided—we will remain as 'the Government of the province,' such as the defunct Ross Ministry. Such a challenge to the people cannot be shirked. It must be met. A reasonable time must be allowed to these lofty gentlemen to settle up the affairs of the several departments; and then— THE GAME LAWS OF THE NORTH-WEST. The sportsmen of the west are not quite satisfied with the game regulations of that country, but although the Dominion Government are responsible for rules affecting fishing, we should have imagined that the game laws were, or should be, controlled by the North-West Council, as they are by the provinces. The Calgary Herald says: It seems to be the general opinion among the sportsmen of the west that the commencement of the close season for trout is too early, and might be deferred for at least a month without the slightest harm to the fish. They also fail to understand why the old date, September 1st, for beginning the close season has been altered to August 15th, which it is agreed is too early, the birds then being too young and feeble on the wing for fair shooting. During the latter part of August the young prairie chickens can almost be knocked down with sticks. They congregate on the trails or other uncovered spots at certain hours, as the older birds do, but they are too weak on the wing and too fearless of their enemies to save themselves. At that date they cannot be kept, and it is not uncommon to see birds that have been killed with ease left to rot by the way. The 1st September is quite early enough to begin shooting and the Government controlling the matter would do well to change the date before next season. It is said "the Conservative party" met in caucus in this city and resolved to advise the Ross Government to "hold on." This is doing "the Conservative party" great injustice. It knows nothing of these unconstitutional proceedings. Contractors may advise this course. Officials may wish to postpone the evil day. Jobbers and ringsters may not care a fig for what is right or what is wrong provided something is done which they fondly fancy may help their schemes. But "the Conservative party" has not been consulted, and we are confident that all respectable members of the party will feel thoroughly ashamed of men who advise that efforts be made, by resort to trickery, to defeat the will of the people of Quebec as expressed at the polls. IN MONTREAL the Government candidates did not poll one-third of the votes of either the English or the French electors. Two tickets were set up in opposition to the Government, and these left the Government in the miserable minority in which they were found. In Quebec city one of the Opposition candidates was elected by acclamation, and Dalhousie street, the centre of the commercial element in that city, gave the Opposition candidate a large majority. Even in the more English of the Townships, the late Ross-Tailion Government came out of the elections no stronger than they went in. They gained Megantic and lost Shefford. In Huntingdon Dr. Cameron in the French parish of St. Anicet led the poll. MR. TAILION, the late Attorney General, is reported as saying that he will fight the Montreal East election to the bitter end. Perhaps he will yet eat his words by denying he used them. He is no novice at repudiating his own utterances. If he has a surplus of energy remaining after his rout, perhaps he will summon up energy enough to explain why he paid ten thousand dollars for the report of the Civil Service commission without making the slightest use of it? THE "GAZETTE," as an excuse for its friends holding on to office after the people have declared against them at the polls, alleges that the last of the elections will not be held before November 20. How is this, when the last poll will be held in "Chicoutimi and Saguenay" to-morrow? These drowning men are grasping at straws. HIS GRACE ARCHBISHOP DUHAMEL has been called to Rome on important business. We do not believe, however, that this summons from His Holiness is due to any influence on the part of Sir John Macdonald or Mr. Chapleau as was claimed in the Cardinal matter. SPECIAL NOTICE. A PLAGUE STRICKEN CITY. Terrible Ravages of the Cholera in Corea—A Thousand Deaths Daily in the National Capital. CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—A special from San Francisco says:—Private advices received in this city state that cholera is still raging furiously in Corea. No idea can be formed of the extent of the scourge. REMARKABLE PROGRESS SOUTH. Eighty-Three Millions in New Investments. The Baltimore Manufacturers' Record in its latest issue says: "Even the West, in the days of its greatest progress, probably never saw such tremendous strides of progress as some portions of the South are now making. New enterprises of gigantic proportions are following one upon the other so rapidly that there seems to be no limit to the possibilities of the South in the development of its enormous mineral wealth. The centre of interest for some time has been in the progress of the iron and steel industries, and in these the activity during the last nine months has been simply startling."

A Complete Breakdown. "For ten years," says Jennie M. Harrett, of Wallaceburg, Ont., "I did not see a wall day—was all broken down with dyspepsia, liver complaint, catarrh and debility. Three doctors abandoned hope for me, when Burdock Blood Bitters came to my rescue. It is the best medicine I have ever taken. I say this for the benefit of all suffering as I did."

THE GREAT DR. DIO LEWIS

His Outspoken Opinion. The very marked testimonials from college Professors, respectable Physicians, and other gentlemen of intelligence and character to the value to the world of his SAFE Cure, published in the editorial columns of our best newspapers, have greatly surprised me. Many of these gentlemen I know, and recapping their testimony I was impelled to purchase some bottles of Warner's SAFE Cure and analyze it. Besides, I took some, swallowing three times the prescribed quantity. I am satisfied the medicine is not injurious, and will frankly add that I found myself the victim of a serious kidney trouble I should use this preparation. The truth is, the medical profession stands dumb and helpless in the presence of more and more kidney malady, while the testimony of hundreds of intelligent and very respectable gentlemen hardly leaves room to doubt that Mr. E. H. Warner has fallen upon one of those happy discoveries which occasionally bring help of an erasing humbug.
