Excited Westmount Students Hear Vishinski at U.N. in N.Y.

A complete success. That was the way adviser J. K. Snyder described the recent visit of the Westmount High School Current Events club to the United Nations in New York. He waxed enthusiastic over the behavior and general attitude of his charges. A group of 40 left by bus from the school for a weekend in New York. Their arrival was marred only by the large storm which had just hit the city; however, they spent the next day inside. After attending Radio City Hall on Thursday night, most of the time Friday was at the United Nations. The UN put on a go-go show. The members of the Russian delegation were present and excited students saw Andrei Vishinski deliver a stirring speech.

At the UN they received two briefings - one from Roy Crepeau of Montreal, permanent adviser to the Canadian delegation. They also met Mrs. Caldwell of Saskatoon, Canadian delegate on social welfare.

Among their tour of the buildings they included the secretariat first of the three groups that have gone down to do this. Dinner was eaten in the delegates' dining room.

Afterwards practically all went to theatres or plays, and Saturday morning they visited the Metropolitan Museum of Art. The afternoon was spent shopping, and in the evening they were guests of an ABC TV show.

The return trip was started Sunday morning and they arrived in Montreal at 8.30 p.m.

He and two passengers were taken to Western Hospital where they were treated for injuries.

2. Taxes are to be paid January 1, 1954, with interest at 5 per cent on arrears.

3. School taxes remain 15 mills on all immovable property belonging to Protestant and other non-Catholic owners who are not corporations on the neutral panel and at 16½ mills for those on the neutral panel.

4. To cover the city's share of the cost of local improvements, a tax of 2.5 mills will be imposed on the assessed value of the land of the city, whether buildings are on it or not.

Law's Long Arm Reaching Out For Fugitive

Westmount police this week continued their search for the hit and run driver who critically injured Berry Shine, 20, 2045 Grey avenue, on Nov. 2. Chief R. A. Byford believes the man is hiding out somewhere in Northern Ontario, and has circulated descriptions of the suspect throughout that province.

Meanwhile, Miss Shine is making steady improvement at the Montreal Neurological Institute. Officials say she is talking and moving around, and are hopeful of a quick recovery.

The abandoned car was found soon after the accident, which occurred at the corners of Metcalfe and Sherbrooke streets, near Ottawa on route 17.

A picture and description of the owner, believed to be the driver, have been given to Ontario Provincial Police, who are keeping watch for the man. Reports have also been sent to other Western provinces.

Westmount Loses B Final To LCC;

Westmount 5
L.C.C. 17

Mickey Anderson, a Westmount resident and son of the well-known Boo Anderson, starred for L.C.C. yesterday afternoon when he raced over the Loyola gridiron to score two touchdowns against the Westmount 'B' league finalists to lead his team to a challenge game victory. The score was 17-5.

Carl Dennis kicked the convert on each occasion.

The third L.C.C. touchdown was made by Donaldson from the 30 yard line.

The younger, lighter Westmount team held the L.C.C.

stalwarts to a 5-5 draw for half the tussle but were snowed under in the final 30 minutes, their line buckling badly as darkness closed in.

Fumbles, missed opportunities also played a big part in the result of the game.

Westmount's lone major score was by Don Ferrier, who with Marty Raff and John Fuller showed up best for the battling locals.

Truck Driver Loses License After Smash

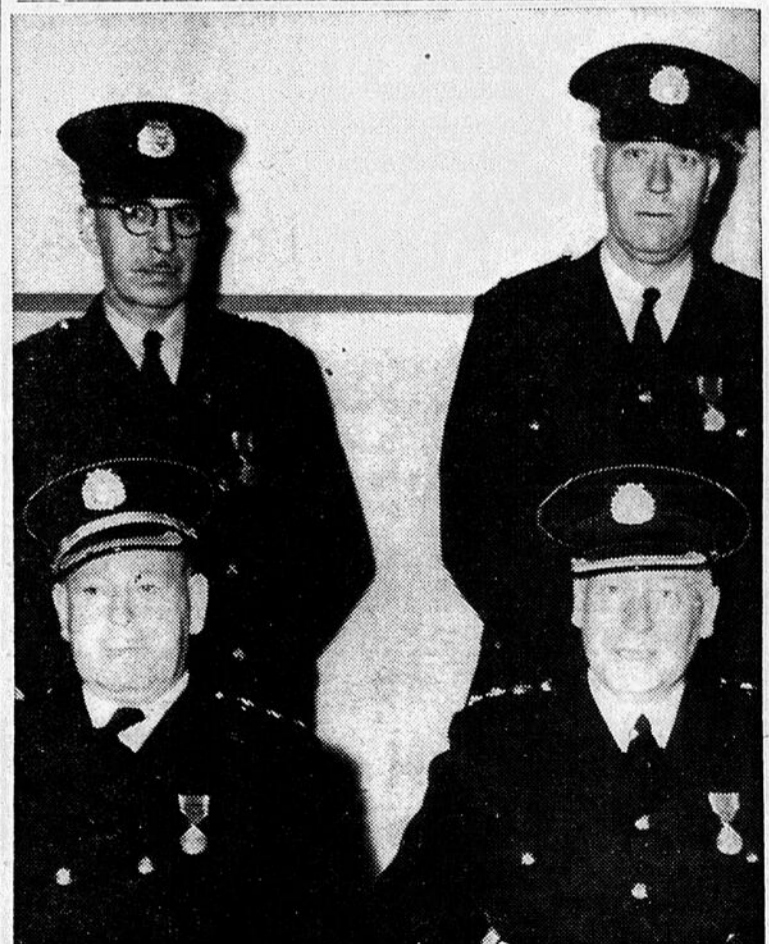

Westmount police were successful with their second hit and run case in a week when Real Allain, 23, 11748 Bellivoix, Montreal North was sentenced to a fine of $50, costs of $5, or two months in jail, and had his licence suspended for three months by Municipal Judge A. E. Laverty.

The sentence was for failing to stop after an accident.

Allain was driving a transport truck west on Sherbrooke street when he collided with the car of Dr. Pembroke N. MacDermitt, 53, 629 Belmont avenue, who was going south on Metcalfe avenue.

He then ricocheted and struck three cars parked on Sherbrooke. Allain kept going, and was chased by Dr. MacDermitt along Sherbrooke, up Mount Stephen, west on Cote St. Antoine, and south on Claremont. The doctor here obtained the identity of the driver, who was later arrested by Westmount police.

He pleaded guilty to the charges in Municipal Court.

 Is Difficult
 Students Told

The mechanics that run the machine that is the city of Westmount were explained to the members of the WHS Current Events Club by A. W. D. Swan, secretary of Westmount City Council Tuesday's meeting. Judy Swan introduced the speaker, her father.

Mr. Swan first gave a sketch of Westmount's history, one of the oldest in North America. The early Indians had a burial ground near Aberdeen avenue and Westmount Boulevard long before 1400. Mr. Swan briefly illustrated the French and British influences on Westmount.

The members of the Current Events Club presented two flags to Bill Green for the homecoming of his son. The flags were purchased by the Current Events Club during the recent trip to New York and the United Nations. The president, Margie Klein, informed the club members that during the next week's meeting movies on historical topics would be shown.

Hoedowners Spotlighted At Festival

Westmount Y.M.C.A. "Hoedowners" will be one of the groups who will be spotlighted at the Second Annual Square Dance Festival to be held to night at 8 p.m. at the McGill Gym, 475 Pine Avenue West.

The "Hoedowners" have been active in local square dance circles since January, 1950. They have met every Tuesday night since then under the leadership of Howard Fairburn. This Group has done much to promote and stimulate the refinement of Square dancing as a rhythmic, relaxing activity.

6-Lane Tunnel, 60 Feet Wide Offered As Traffic Solution

A six-lane tunnel, 60 feet wide, is the latest answer to the Montreal transportation problem.

According to J. F. Forman, 625 Victoria avenue, a tunnel should be put through from Craig street, to emerge at Fletchers Field, where over and under passes would be developed to allow northern and eastern traffic absolutely free movement.

A similar tunnel should connect with these passes and proceed to Westmount Boulevard at Cote des Neiges, allowing northern and western traffic to disperse gradually. Buses using these tunnels should not only handle a large proportion of the approximately 70 per cent of our transients now using street cars and buses, but would also be attractive due to non-stop free movement, he claims.

Forman says that the mountain causing a bottleneck in traffic is the primary consideration in relieving Montreal congestion. He contends that it is caused principally from automobiles, trucks and buses, which would not be relieved by subways. He also says that it is not entirely caused by street cars, as can be noted by the congestion on Pine Avenue and Sherbrooke streets, where street cars do not operate.

Tunnel Entrance

Down town entrances for tunnels only recently presented itself, when the city expropriated a row of houses on the west side of University street below Dorchester. This space is now principally occupied with grass lawns, but could be available for tunnel entrances.

Forman suggests that the cost of such a project might be borne by Municipal, Provincial and Federal governments. There would be very little expropriation required, he says, as the city appears to own all properties concerned, maintenance should be low, and there would be no snow removal expenses. The tunnels could also serve as bomb shelters and escalators to the Chalet could be installed to allow citizens easy access to the mountain.

The tunnel running north under University street should be connected with escalators from Phillip's Place, allowing passengers to embark and disembark to and from buses. This would mean surface buses would only serve transients travelling a few blocks and greatly reduce the number of them required, he declares.

Forman goes on to another matter causing concern, that in which traffic is to be handled from the new Montreal General Hospital, as traffic at this point is greatly congested. He suggests that it would entail very little tunneling to connect the hospital with the proposed tunnels. Other connections from present dead end and northern streets might also be made.

Friday afternoon . . . the U.N. . . . this exceptionally interesting and enlightening day was made more exciting by the good old-fashioned snow-storm which welcomed the group as they left the United Nations building . . . the rest of the waning afternoon was spent in a hunt for rainettes etc . . .

Broadway shows such as "The King & I," "South Pacific," and "Guys & Dolls" kept the gang busy all evening . . . the Montrealers were disappointed in what they thought was poor audience approval . . . by the wee hours of the morning some of the boys were still chattering in their rooms . . .

The tour scheduled for Saturday was called off due to "technical difficulties" . . . the day was free for shopping and museum visits . . . after dinner at some "swanky" restaurants the "Canadians" inspected a T.V. studio . . . we understand there were some cute ushers present . . . from thence the tourists went to see "From Here to Eternity," following it up with a promenade on Broadway . . .

Most of the delegation had little sleep that night . . . Sue Pepal, Di Johnson, Di Young and Jenny Palmer vetoed "shut-eye" completely.

At about eight, on the morning of Sunday the eighth, 40 tired, cold, but nonetheless enthusiastic Current Eventers left New York . . . accompanied by Mr. Snyder and Miss Macmillan they boarded a homeward-bound bus, thus ending what had proved to be a truly enjoyable experience . . . we hope this project will be repeated next year . . .

Westmount Barbecue Offers The Finest In Repast And Decor

Barbecued chicken—much as it was first introduced to Louisiana by Jean Lafitte and other pirates who had picked it up in the Caribbean—will be introduced today to westenders at the Westmount Barbecue, on the north-west corner of Sherbrooke and Vendome.

But there will be one important difference.

Westmount Barbecue, which is designed and equipped to serve the most meticulous, has put a high hat on chicken barbecue, given it more than a touch of suave savoir-faire.

The premises are tastefully decorated, and the walls replete with free-hand drawings by Jean Herbert, whose creations sparkle in the decor of Casa Loma, Folies Bergeres and Casino de Paris. These drawings, as a matter of fact, are a main attraction in themselves, depicting as they do life in the metropolis as it might look to a pre-barbecue chicken.

Indirect lighting, individual booths, muted music, air conditioning, all go to add the atmosphere to a new restaurant that is equipped to provide the tastiest.

There is a small private dining room in the rear for parties or family trade, and the barbecue pits are of brick—essential according to the connoisseur for the proper barbecuing of chicken.

From silex coffee to walk-in refrigerator Westmount Barbecue is modern throughout.

ST. GEORGE'S SCHOOL

Monday evening, Alfred Pinsky will speak to the parents of St. George's School on "Child Art." Anybody interested in hearing Mr. Pinsky is invited to attend. The meeting will be at the school, 3100 Westmount Boulevard, at 8.30 o'clock.

Recollections, Rotary Topics

Recollections of his own experiences and reflections in general were given in a Remembrance Day address of Brig. James de Lalanne to the Westmount Rotary Club Wednesday.

The speaker, past president of the club and active in civic and sports affairs, recalled that he was in Belgium at the cessation of hostilities of the First World War, and his main remembrance was of the Belgians being pleased to have them there as the Canadians paid more for cognac than the Germans did.

He said there was a complete change after four years of war, featured by a complete letdown in discipline. It was an entirely different life, he commented. Parades became more of a show than a military manoeuvre.

It was also his first experience with strikes, as the supply columns went on strike for a few days after the Armistice. Reorientation went in everywhere, people began to think of more than the immediate future. Educational classes were started, so that the men could plan their rehabilitation to civilian life. They all wondered what type of reception they would receive when they returned home.

Wawanesa Mutual Color Pictures Has New Offices End Of World

Culmination of a vision by Quebec general manager John Fisher is the new Quebec headquarters of The Wawanesa Mutual Insurance, Wawanesa Manitoba, now opened at 8585 Decarie Blvd.

Motorists of greater Montreal in driving just south of the Decarie Circle, have probably wondered what has been going on behind the four walls of this ultra-modern structure.

Now that the news is out—it can be stated without question that this building is the headquarters of an entirely new kind of automobile insurance sales and service, never before available in Canada.

Modern as tomorrow, this unique development by one of Canada's largest and oldest mutual insurance companies, is a practical and realistic application of the Wawanesa principle of providing automobile insurance protection at lowest possible cost, while maintaining adequate reserves for safety.

In Quebec this means a realistic approach to provincial traffic conditions and a streamlining of underwriting methods that enables Quebec motorists to benefit by the lower premium rates and the speedy claim adjustment service made available by The Wawanesa.

Wawanesa Mutual, already well established in the confidence of Montreal and Quebec car owners for its direct service in the selling of low-cost automobile insurance, is now able to do a still better job of serving them in its suburban Mount Royal home.

Visitors from overseas spent $18,000,000 in Canada in 1952.

"AFTER THE END . . . WHAT?" is the title of the Bible message to be given Sunday night, in the seventh-day Adventist Church, 4250 Western Ave., Westmount. Harold Brendel, Pastor-Evangelist will continue his subject of last week when he showed how soon the end of the world would come. Sunday night he will use colored pictures to prove the truths of the Bible on what happens after the end of the world.

This meeting is free to the public and everyone is invited to attend. Music begins at 7:00 p.m. and singing at 7:30 p.m. with 11 year old Dian Brendel at the Hammond Organ.

A Last Resort

Home Nursing Services Better Than Institutions for Ill

Institutions usually are both the most expensive and the least desirable way of providing care for the aged and infirm, including the chronically ill of all ages, for whom home treatment or the thing nearest to it is possible.

The great shortage of hospital beds in all parts of Canada could be relieved at the least cost with the most benefit to many patients by the development of home nursing and home-making services.

The medical profession, the home nursing organization, the educational institutions and the Red Cross have proved that the pressure on institutions can be relieved to the benefit of all concerned by varying degrees of coordinated institutional and home care.

Thousands of chronically ill people who now occupy hospital beds would be much better off at home if home nursing and home-making aid could be secured.

The building of more institutions should be a last resort.

All Saints

By Rev. Canon R. Kenneth Naylor

(Rector of Trinity Memorial Church)

This second article has a very tenuous connection with the first. Its intention is to discuss the question which always comes to mind at All Saints' Day: What do we believe about those who have passed away from us? And naturally we go back to the New Testament for our answer.

In the first century there were several ways of looking at the universal problem of death. There was the way of the common people, probably a good ninety per cent of the population, many of them slaves, many more impoverished and on the edge of starvation, the depressed proletariat of a great empire. Death came to them as to all others and they accepted it with the dumb misery of their class; it could not be much worse than the fate they had always endured.

The other tenth were divided in their ways of thinking about death. There were the Stoic philosophers who steeled themselves to accept whatever good or evil Fate might bring to them. They refused to be overborne by adversity or to be overmuch elated by prosperity. There is something extraordinarily sad as well as noble in the acceptance of family loss by a man like Cicero. They observed family and State and religious duties as part of the great scheme of things, and they would not shirk their obligations. It was a creed that made a strong and rather pitiless people.

The second great philosophic creed of the day was the Epicurean. They started from the fact that the great evil is not death but what lies beyond it — the divine punishment for the misdeeds of men. They met the dread of a future life by denying it. They said in effect that the gods, if there are any, do not care about us at all. They asserted that men do not need to fear death because there is absolutely nothing beyond it. In fact, their creed was, let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we die.

Then there were the members of the fortunate classes who had no philosophy at all. They enjoyed life and hoped if they pleased the gods by offering the proper sacrifices that the future would not be too grim. But they were not sure.

Then there were the Jews: the Sadducees with little more expectation for the future than the Epicureans; and the Pharisees with their expectation not simply of a future life but of a Resurrection. This belief of the Pharisees had grown out of the fact that God is good: He has allowed the righteous to suffer in this world; therefore He must correct the balance by granting due reward in the world to come; but further, no life in the spirit can be a complete life, therefore there must be a Resurrection. It was a good argument but there was no evidence to support it.

Then came a new display of the mighty acts of God to bring life and immortality to light through the Gospel; and two groups profited by the acts. The Pharisees — who were ready to listen — profited because there was now concrete evidence for the truth of the Resurrection. But those who benefitted most were those hopeless members of the ninety per cent who were now offered as a free gift the promise of a new life in the world to come in the presence of God Himself. It was not to depend on the correct offering of a sacrifice, or being drenched in the blood of a bull as in the mysteries of Isis, or on philosophic contemplation, but simply on faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, who had been declared Son of God with power through His own Resurrection; who had become the first fruits of those who had fallen asleep; who had been declared Victor over the great enemy of mankind — Death. A new epoch had opened in the history of the human race, of which one of the key-words was to be — "I would not have you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning them which are asleep, that ye sorrow not, even as others which have no hope."

Christian Science

The bankruptcy of materialism, as contrasted with the healing power of pure Christianity, will be brought out at Christian Science services on Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon title is "Mortals and Immortals". The Bible passages include the following words of Christ Jesus "He that is of God heareth God's words" (John 8:47).

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the following will be read: "Mortals must gravitate Godward, their affections and aims grow spiritual, — they must near the broader interpretations of being, and gain some proper sense of the infinite, — in order that sin and mortality may be put off."

The Golden Text is from I Corinthians: "As we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly."

D. J. Von Bommel Buried Tuesday

Final rites were held Tuesday for Dick von Bommel, former international YMCA secretary and well-known welfare worker, who died Nov. 9 at the age of 72. He lived at 352 Metcalfe avenue.

Born in The Hague, Holland, in 1882, he received his early education there and then spent three years in government in Amsterdam, where he took active part in YMCA work and was named honorary secretary and later vice-president of the Amsterdam Association.

In 1908 he went to the U.S. and attended Springfield Y.M.C.A. College, graduating with a Bachelor of Humanities degree three years later. During 1920 and 1921, he did special work in psychology at the University of Pittsburgh, and was awarded an honorary M. H. degree from Springfield College in 1921.

In 1911, he was called to the staff of the foreign committee of the Y.M.C.A., and served, during the Balkan War by superintending the feeding of thousands of war refugees in Greece. In later years, and during the First World War, he served in various capacities in Turkey and Italy.

For his work during the wars, the British government awarded him an O.B.E.; the French government awarded him the Legion of Honor and the Turkish government honored him with the Red Crescent Medal.

After the war he did various international jobs until, in 1930, he came to Montreal to join the Y.M.C.A. staff here as secretary of the international branch.

He retired seven years ago from this position to serve with the Moore Home, a Protestant refuge for elderly persons.

He has survived by two daughters, Mrs. L. Easterbrook and Mrs. F. McLearn, of Montreal; and two sons, Bill, of Montreal, and Dick, of Toronto. His wife died in 1947.

Burial was in Memorial Park cemetery, Ville St. Laurent.

PAINTING BY A WESTMOUNT ARTIST, all done during the past year, will be on view every afternoon and evening for the next two weeks at 231 Elm Avenue. Stanley B. Wilson the artist received his training under E. Dyonnet, and the late Wm. Brymner in Montreal, and at the Art Students' League in New York. He has a fondness for water colours, both landscapes and portraits. This exhibition includes work in oil and pastel as well. He has had pictures in some of the Spring Exhibitions at the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts, and was also represented at the First Spring Exhibition given by Les Amis de l'Art; but most of his best work has been exhibited by the Independent Art Association during the last twenty years. He is a firm believer in sound drawing and clean colours. The present exhibition consists of about 70 paintings, the majority of which were made at St. Adophe de Howard, and also a number of portraits.

the beans which bring forth the wonderful beanstalk which leads Jack to Giantland.

Jack and The Beanstalk is an ever popular and delightful story. All the fairy tale personalities which have made this story a universal and timeless favorite will be there to take their bows. They will boo the villain in the person of Rafe Heywood, the meanest man in town, and applaud the heroic deeds of young Jack. Unique costuming and the fairytale settings lend an atmosphere of "Long Ago" when giants and fairies inhabited the earth.

An unusual feature in connection with this production is that the role of Jack will be a boy in the first performance, and a girl in the second. Joseph Oliver and Eleanor Kalmanasch, both talented young thespians, will be seen in the roles respectively. Walter Wakefield plays the Giant with Elaine Tomaschuk in her first big role as the giant's wife. Music will be by Eileen Drummond.

Other members of the cast include: Gissa Israel, Ann Craig, Michael Oliver, Martin Petlock, Keith Ballantyne, Rosalind Warhaft, Wilma Goldstein, Mary MacDonald, Flora Zukerman, Elaine Tomaschuk, Elizabeth Goldner, Alan Jack, Barry Cracower, Sydney Priddle, Marilyn Rodin, Arlene Sailor, Felicia Bonaparte, Joanne Brown. Indian Dancer To Be Featured In Recital Here

Westmount art-lovers will get their chance to see Shivaram, Hindu temple dancer of international fame, when he presents his Montreal public performances at Victoria Hall Nov. 18-19. The brilliant young Kathakali dancer arrived in Canada last March for a one year tour under the patronage of R. R. Saksena, High Commissioner for India in Canada.

Tickets and plan for the November 18 performance at Victoria Hall are available at India Crafts, 1322 Sherbrooke street west. Tickets for November 19 at the door.

Shivaram has now performed in Ottawa and Toronto, and after a number of intimate recitals in Montreal during the summer and fall makes his first public performances Wednesday and Thursday. He leaves immediately after to make his debut at India House in New York. Later he will return to complete his tour of Canadian cities.

His impressario and manager is Louise Lightfoot, known in India during her 12 years stay there as Scrimati Louise. She is an Australian and graduate of Melbourne University. Formerly one of Australia's leading ballet producers, she was the first ballet dancer to tour India with Indian dance companies. She has just completed an autobiography of her adventures, which she hopes to have published in New York.

Miss Lightfoot's presentations of Shivaram in London, Australia, New Zealand, Paris and Japan have received glowing reports, and he has been acclaimed as the first Indian dancer to present pure Indian dance without trace of commercialism. Indians consider him the ideal interpreter of the east to the west.

Shivaram himself is of the Nair caste and was born in a remote village in Travancore, South India.

Seniors Take Two Wins To Gain Challenge Spot

By MARTY GOODMAN

Westmount's senior B football team, fighting an uphill battle all the way, won the right to challenge Lower Canada College for the league championship when they beat Montreal West and Mount Royal in their final games of the season.

The final Thursday at Loyola marked the third game in eight days for coach Ron Sharp's overworked crew.

A week ago today they stood on the last leg of the trail after whipping Montreal

West 17-5. The battered and weary squad pulled themselves up by their bootstraps, and sparked by the passing of a junior player, beat Mount Royal 10-1 to win second spot and the challenge position.

LCC Not Beaten

LCC went through an undefeated season, only one tie blemishing their record, to take top spot. The locals, though defeated once, in their first game of the season, ended up in a second place tie with Cardinal Newman. Since they hadn't met LCC during the season, they were eligible to play them in a sudden death match for the title.

Marty Raff, Lance Thomson and Bill MacFarlane were all brought up by Sharp for the Mount Royal game, and Raff saw action in only five plays. In them, however, he threw five passes and completed four, two of them ending in touchdowns. Grant Gill and Don Ferrier were on the receiving end of his touchdown heaves.

Good Defensively

Westmount came up with another sparkling defensive effort in limiting their opponents to a single; this came on a kick that rolled out of bounds immediately after crossing the goal line.

Against Montreal West, Dick Christensen was a going concern and scored two majors, one converted. John Fuller kicked a field goal and a rouge, while Dave Smart got a safety touch on the last play of the game.

The Mount Royal tilt was close all the way, with the locals ahead 5-0 at half. Gill took a pass from Raff 25 yards out and went across for an unconverted TD.

Raff to Ferrier

Mount Royal picked up their single in the third quarter, but Raff again connected, this time to Ferrier, for another major. The convert was missed again.

The line turned in a good game, with Job, Carr, Decary and Fox playing well. Bruce Wilson's pass interception and Christensen's miracle catch were two other deciding factors.

The victories were the fourth and fifth in a row for Westmount, undefeated since they dropped their opener 10-1 to Cardinal Newman. In that time they ran over Verdun, Strathcona and Rosemount before connecting against their weekend opponents.

Battered and Bruised

Sharp's boys were in fine mental fettle for the playoff, but very bruised and battered. Yards and yards of good white tape went into preparing his team for the task, but this is one game they were really "up" for. They had some new pass patterns and running plays, and Sharp figured they could cop the duke by passing.

It was a great uphill climb by a team that was figured to win at most three games this season, and even then only if their reserves and players held up. They lost two star players at the beginning of the campaign, saw many others refuse to come out for fear of not being able to play hockey.

Many of the players were still of junior age, and occasions were rare when the coach could field a full team for practice. Nonetheless, they battled right down to the wire, filling in with spirit and determination when the ability was not there. Congratulations.

Barbs And Scots To Meet Again; Beavers Beaten

Westmount Barbarians get another chance to beat their sister club Westmount Scottish when the two teams tee off at Westmount Park Saturday.

The Scots are one of the two teams that have beat the Barbarians this year, and they avenged their only other loss, the first game of the season, when they walloped Ottawa Bytown Beavers 9-0 Saturday at the Park.

Last time out these two clubs played to a six-all draw, in a bitterly fought game with no quarter asked and none given. This time Scots will be out to maintain their undefeated record while Barbs will seek to even the score.

Little Opposition Given

Ottawa proved little opposition to the powerful Barbarians as the latter slipped and skidded to the win. The Westmount club, despite the hail and icy field, played heads up ball and again showed a powerful pack.

Blair Taylor, Jim Nairn, and Don Munroe all scored unconverted tries, while Barry Ward, Tom Tynan and Brian McPhillips all turned in strong efforts.

The Barbarians were without the services of starry Pat Garbutt, but he will be playing in Saturday's game. This tilt coming up could prove to be one of the best seen, with two of Canada's best clubs in action.

Unity Banquet Features Many Sports Figures

The Unity Boys Club first annual father and son banquet will be held in the club house on Greene avenue in conjunction with Sports Night on Monday, Nov. 16, at 6.30 p.m. The head table take in the gym, where the banquet is to take place, will resemble a who's who in local sporting circles.

Sports personalities in hockey, baseball, football and basketball have been invited to attend.

Grads Beat Trinity In Golden Ball Play

The high flying Westmount Grads, with one victory tucked under their belts in Intermediate Montreal Basketball League Golden Ball play by virtue of a lopsided 58-34 decision over the Holy Trinity Club played on the spacious Mount St. Louis gym, will next take on the Sir George Williams College Georgians. Game will be played at Westmount Junior High Monday at 8 p.m.

The Grads will be further strengthened for their game with the Georgians with the return of Dennis Skinner and Jack Stryde. Skinner just returned to Montreal, while Stryde finished playing football with the Verdun Bulldogs, recently eliminated by the Lakeshore Flyers.

Game Starts Slow

The game against the Trinity outfit Sunday evening started at a slow pace, with the Grads running up an early 10-0 lead and gradually widening it to 24-8 at the half. Led by bucket man Ian McIntosh, the Grads toyed with the home squad and only some erratic shooting by the visitors held down the score.

The second half saw some better basketball, as each squad found the range more consistently, with the Grads outscoring the losers 34-26 in this stanza. The Grads' Ian McIntosh was tops with 21 points, followed by Gerry Rowntree, John Field and Sonny Smith 12, 10 and 8 respectively. George Tjelios was best for Holy Trinity with 11 and was their only consistent point getter.

Westmount Grads (58) — McDonald 4, McIntosh 21, Rowntree 12, Field 10, Siemers, McLeod 1, Gregor-Pearse, Sykes, Smith 8, Bogue 2.

Holy Trinity (34) — Sinamis, T. Pappas 4, Tjelios 11, P. Pappas 7, Stauros, Topoulos 4, Arniotis 1, Notar 2, Simatos, Andrews, Apostolantis 4, G. Pappas 1.

Earl McDonald's Staynor crew remain unbeaten to date by virtue of their close win over Avenue Stars on Tuesday night. McDonald led his team with 20 points, and Bobby Brown came up with his best game of the season, as his 8 points was the margin of victory. Al Turner was best man for the Stars with a 10 point performance.

Frosst made their debut in the league; although they lost to the Royals by a 40-27 count, they gave a good account of themselves. High man for the Royals was lean Logue McDonald with 15 points, and Kev Kennedy's improved play sparked the winners. Clive Ellis and Craig Uphold were best for Frosst while young Reg. Timm worked like a beaver.

First round play-off results in Grade 7 section are as follows:— St. Leo's Whites led by Sonny Gavin, Dave O'Brien and Paul Ricardi, beat W.J.H.S. 7 B 3 by a score of 23-10. Kenny Clark was outstanding in a losing cause. 7 B 1 defeated 7 B 4 by a score of 21-13. The final game will be played at R.M.R. on Monday, November 16th, at 3:45.

In the Grade 4 division Roslyn Reds ousted King's Crowns by a score of 10-8. This game was a thriller all the way. With 30 seconds left Crown's Eddie Topping attempted a field goal from 20 yards out which would have given his team an 11-10 margin, however, the ball hit the crossbar and bounced back on to the field as the whistle went to end the game.

Roslyn All Stars beat out Roslyn Roughriders 3-0 in a hard-fought encounter played at Prince Albert. Peter Mendell's Stars, with deceptive little Harvey Freedman and Tim Powell, just about the fastest man in the loop, now loom as favourites in the sudden death play-off scheduled for Wednesday, November 18th, at 3:45 on the R.M.R. field.

A total of 161 games were played by 25 teams during the regular schedule of the touch rugby league. The Recreation Department would like to thank the boys who turned out to referee most of these games. Howie Haines, Roy Smith, Bob Parker, Bob Robinson, Doug Perry and Jim Liddell gave their time and co-operation to help make this programme highly successful.

Bantam, Jr. Grid Laurels Decided, Soccer Poor as Winter Sports Begin

The Westmount bantam and junior teams both ended up well behind the leaders in their respective football leagues, as Loyola took junior honors and McGee the bantam title.

The bantams tied in their last game of the year with Mount Royal 16-all, and ended up tied with their opponents behind McGee, each with four wins, a loss and a tie.

St. Leo's ended up with a perfect record — no wins and six losses. Their record left them in last place in the eight team league. Ross Firth's juniors saw McGee and West Hill finish ahead of them in the race to catch up to Loyola. The Warriors took the title with a close 12-11 win over McGee in a challenge game Tuesday. Their season finished a week ago when they lost 12-6 to McGee.

The senior soccer entry ended up tied for last place with the High School of Montreal. Rosemount won with a perfect 6-0 record. The locals had 1-3-2.

In bantam soccer play last year's defending champs ended in fifth spot with a losing 2-4 count. Westward School, undefeated, walked off with loop laurels.

Hockey and baseball practices get underway in all schools now, with senior B entries in each from Victories in their last two games brought the Westmount senior B football team to the threshold of success. These two wins, under considerable stress, were taken by a team lightly considered at the beginning of the season. Despite the fact they were dropping from senior A to senior B competition, pre-season misfortunes seemed to point to another losing campaign.

Thanks to many factors, the Westmount crew found themselves in a position to challenge for the league championship. It is not whether or not they won, but the fact they are there that is most important. It shows that sound coaching, good spirit and the desire to win are also matters to contend with on the gridiron.

They have a young, inexperienced team, and were continually hampered by injuries to key players. But they overcame all of this to scrape and battle their way into second place. Many games saw a key play used that gave them the edge—that was coaching. At other times a boy came up with a super-human effort to knock down a pass or make a tackle—that was spirit. And finally, they dug in when the cause seemed hopeless to turn back a threat, or make yards when they seemed stopped—that was the desire to win.

Westmount Teams Highly Rated

Champions or not, we salute you. Wide renown has now fallen upon the Westmount rugby club, sponsors of two teams in English rugby play. Both the Scottish and Barbarians boast fine records in play this year; just how good they are might not be appreciated by a great majority.

Scottish have yet to be beaten this year, while their sister team, after losing games earlier to Ottawa and Scottish, has also gone unbeaten. It is the praise they have received from noted rugby authorities throughout the Dominion, though, that makes people realize their strength.

The rugby higher-ups in Toronto, at present the leader in the sport's upsurge in Eastern Canada, readily admitted recently that the local clubs when combined, are the finest in Canada. Even when split up it was agreed they would give any team a battle. This praise also took into account the fine squads in British Columbia, long considered the hotbed of Canadian rugby, for the speakers have travelled throughout the Dominion and seen many clubs.

Westmount and McGill are the only rugby clubs in Montreal right now. The sport used to thrive in the Maritimes but recently many of the colleges gave it up in order to play Canadian football. After a couple of years' trial, a few are thinking of reinstating the old sport, however.

These three teams here are a far cry from the 17 performing in Toronto, but their calibre is not to be denied. McGill easily won the intercollegiate championship from the University of Toronto, while the local clubs proved their worth against any and all comers.

The game Saturday at Westmount Park, when Scottish will again face Barbarians, shapes up as one of the season's best battles. Despite their close relationship, the teams will be going all out for wins. Scottish are desirous of keeping their unbeaten string intact, while the Barbarians would like to prove that they are superior. One thing is sure—they'll have a tougher time than if they had picked any other opponents for themselves.
