World News In Brief

U.N. Advance Headquarters, Korea, Aug. 1—(AP)—Because the flood-swollen Imjim river washed out a pontoon bridge, only five United Nations correspondents will go to Kaesong tomorrow for peace talks.

Unusually 20 go by truck convoy. The five who make the trip tomorrow will travel by helicopter. Normally only the delegates go by helicopter.

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Aug. 1.—(AP)—T. L. Macdonald, New Zealand Minister of Defence, arrived in Korea today for an inspection of the war front.

He left Seoul airport by plane to visit New Zealand units with the new British Commonwealth division.

Macdonald said in an interview more New Zealand units would be sent to Korea if needed.

Hong Kong, Aug. 1 —(Reuters)— This British crown colony has drastically slashed the volume of her exports to communist China in recent months, though soaring prices have caused the value of exports to fall only fractionally.

Official figures for June show that exports to China fell to $24,675,000 compared to $25,550,000 in May.

The decrease in volume was approximately 31 per cent.

Tel Aviv, Israel, Aug. 1 — (AP) — Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion indicated today that new parliamentary elections may be called if he fails to form a stable new government for Israel.

The leader of the Mapai (Labor) party, which won 46 of the 120 seats in the Knesset (parliament) in Monday's election, reiterated his belief that an absolute Labor party majority is necessary for Israel.

Washington, Aug. 1.—(AP) — Military personnel in battle zones soon may be wearing body armor that will deflect a 45-calibre bullet fired at point-blank range.

Prorgess in developing the armor was outlined by navy spokesmen to the appropriations committee of the house of representatives during hearings on the 1952 military budget. The testimony was made public today.

Toronto, Aug. 1. — (CP) — Imperial Oil, Ltd., today announced price increases to cover the 12-per-cent increase in freight rates which became effective July 26.

Even Red Seamen Are Superstitious

Berlin, Aug. 1—(AP)— A communist law providing that women be granted equality with men in trades and professions has shipwrecked an old sailors' tradition that it is bad luck to have a woman on board.

A female apprentice sailor, Gertrude Fritsch, working with men aboard an east German fishing boat, wrote the Berliner Zeitung, communist paper, saying:

"Our law promises me equality with the male sailors but when our nets are torn by a stone or we run into a storm what happens? The men blame me. It's all that old superstition which should have no place in our progressive state."

No Agreement Is Sighted As Truce Delegates Continue Discussion Of Buffer Zone

Seventh Session Over Truce Line Will Be Held Tonight.

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN

U. N. Advance Headquarters, Korea, Aug. 1. —(AP)— United Nations and communist truce teams again today refused to budge from their opposing stands on where to establish a buffer zone across Korea.

Vice-Admiral C. Turner Joy, chief U. N. delegate, talked for an hour and 13 minutes telling the Reds what was wrong with their demand.

It was the longest speech that has been made in the 16 Kaesong cease-fire talks.

The communists want a buffer zone back along the 38th parallel, the old political boundary line between North and South Korea. That is inferior terrain for military defences.

"Since this is a military armistice," Joy told the five Red generals, "we are interested only in military realities."

The U. N. insists that the cease-fire zone be established along present battle lines, where both armies would be in good defensive positions.

Brig-Gen. William P. Nuckols, deputy U. N. public information officer, told a press conference:

"Lt.-Gen. Nam Il, chief Red delegate, seemed to understand the United Nations position but couldn't appreciate the logic that we used to arrive at that position."

Joy quoted a definition from The Hague convention to emphasize the logic of the U. N. position. The Hague agreement says:

"A military armistice is a suspension of military operation by mutual agreement between the belligerent parties."

An official communique said delegates "failed to make progress toward an agreement" in their two-hour and 25-minute session Wednesday. Nuckols said he wouldn't call the talks stalemated.

Negotiators agreed to meet again Thursday. That will be the seventh session at which creation of a buffer zone was the paramount issue. The meeting was set to start at 11 A.M. (9 P.M. Wednesday EDT).

U. N. spokesmen say that the old political boundary between north and south Korea is militarily indefensible. The allies want, in the words of Wednesday's U. N. communique, "a realistic demilitarized zone, equitable to both belligerents."

At Tuesday's session, Joy had explained how the communists would benefit from the allied plan of creating a buffer zone along present lines.

The battlefront now extends across Korea from a point in the west just south of the 38th parallel, northeasterly along the Imjin river between Kaesong and this U.N. advance camp into North Korea and thence eastward across mountain ridges to the east coast about 25 miles north of the parallel.

At the end of Wednesday's session, the U.N. communique announced: "The basic views of both the United Nations command and the communist delegation remained unchanged."

Communist propagandists outside the conference hall told U.N. correspondents they thought a two- or three-day recess might be proposed to break the deadlock.

An American spokesman at Kaesong said he had heard nothing of such a possibility.

Red propagandists who suggested a recess might be profitable were trying to create the impression that the "victorious North Koreans" agreed to cease-fire talks only because of their generous nature.

Czechs Lose United States Concessions

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Aug. 1— (AP) — President Truman is expected to cut off all American tariff concessions to communist Czechoslovakia shortly. The State Department yesterday announced the decision to take such action.

It would be the second time the United States has slapped out at Czechoslovakia since the arrest there last April of Associated Press correspondent William N. Oatis. Oatis recently was sentenced to 10 years in prison after a spy trial denounced here as a farce.

On June 2, the State Department announced a ban on travel by American citizens to Czechoslovakia.

The decision to cut off trade concessions was announced in a statement circulated among countries belonging to the general agreement on tariffs and trade. They are scheduled to meet at Geneva Sept. 17.

Under the prosposed move, the Czechs would lose competitive advantages in American markets and American merchants would lose similar advantages in Czechoslovakia.

The State Department proposed: (A) withdrawal from Czechoslovakia of "the benefits of trade-agreement tariff concessions," and (B) termination of "all the obligations exisiting" between the United States and Czechoslovakia through the General Agreement of Tariffs and Trade.

Whereas the ending of tariff concessions required only a Presidential proclamation, the ending of obligations under the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade —mainly fair-trade commitments will require approval by the G.A.T.T. members. State Department officials expressed confidence this approval would be given.

In its statement to the G.A.T.T., the State Department gave a long list of charges against Czechoslovakia which, it said, demonstrated that political relations between the two countries have broken down to the point where economic contracts no longer have meaning.

"The property of American nationals in Czechoslovakia has been confiscated without compensation or any serious attempt on the part of Czechoslovakia to settle this matter," the statement said.

"American firms have been persecuted and harrassed to such a degree that it is virtually impossible for them to do business with Czechoslovakia. . .

"American citizens have been imprisoned without justification."

Montreal, Aug 1. —(CP)— Robert Masson, 8, and Francois Parent, 7, were fatally burned last night when trapped in a shed in suburban Ville St. Michel.

Police said the boys were playing with some cellophane which caught fire. Volunteer fireman Ovila Corbeil and constable Eugene Corbeil brought the unconscious boys from the burning building. They died later in hospital.

Royal Visit Reply Due This Week

Sherbrooke city officials are hopeful that a reply will be received this week to their letter inviting Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh to visit this city during their trip to Canada this fall. So far the only response received from the Department of State at Ottawa has been a formal acknowledgement of the letter of invitation sent by City Clerk Antonin Deslauriers in behalf of Mayor Charles B. Howard and the City Council.

A report from Ottawa states the Royal Couple have approved the itinerary for their visit and that it has been returned to Canada for approval of the Canadian cabinet—regarded as a mere formality. With two cabinet sessions scheduled this week, it is expected the itinerary will be made public by the week-end.

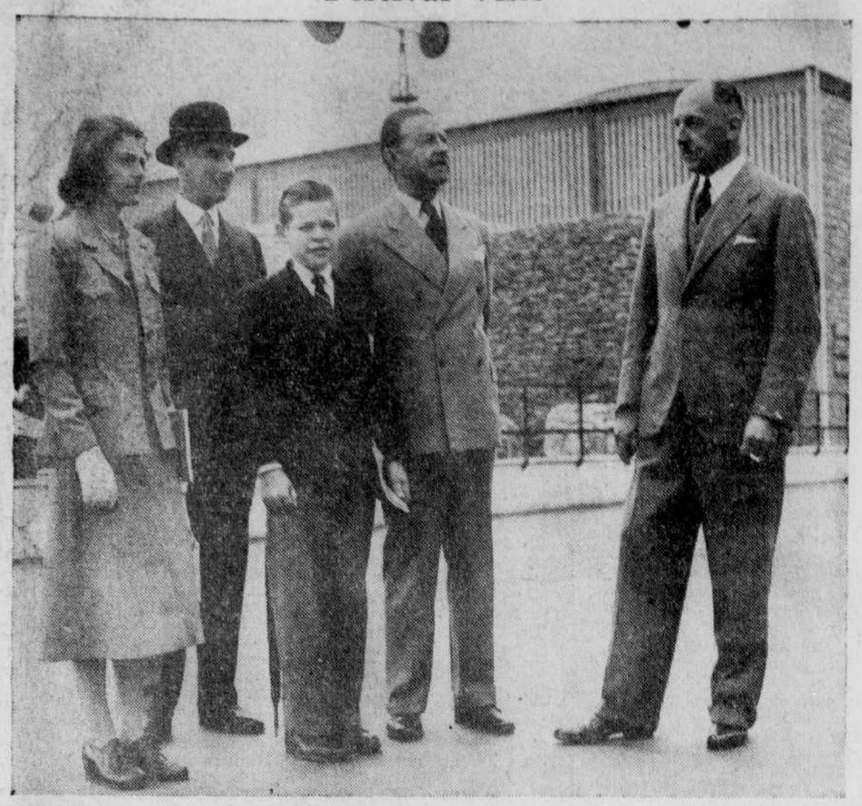

The contents are a state secret, but the Royal Couple is expected to land at Quebec City about October 1 or 2. The itinerary will take them to as many Canadian centres as possible and still keep within the Princess' request that the tour be kept informal.

The Royal Couple is expected to spend one week on a private holiday, probably on the West Coast, and to make a side trip to Washington and New York.

If the Sherbrooke invitation is accepted and a visit is arranged even for an hour, a tremendous organizational task will fall upon the city authorities. Committees must be established for the reception, for traffic control and protection, for decorations

Bigger, Broader Air Training Scheme Is Under Consideration For Canada

By DOUGLAS HOW

Canadian Press Staff Writer

Ottawa, Aug. 1—(CP)—An even bigger and broader Canadian air training scheme, with more schools opening on the Prairies, is in the wind.

Western European allies are clamoring to get Canada to train more and more of their fledgling fliers, to expand the scheme—nicely getting started — beyond present plans to train 3,000 Canadian and allied airmen annually.

That possibility is under consideration at high levels here because it is recognized as one way Canada could make a fairly early and important contribution to Gen. Eisenhower's drive to close the gap between what strength western Europe has and what she needs to deter Russian aggression.

The Canadian government is under pressure from the Eisenhower headquarters and elsewhere to do more just as the other 11 Atlantic pact powers are under pressure to do more.

Present plans call for the R.C.A.F. to train 1,700 Canadian and 1,300 pact fliers here annually and so far the R.A.F. has most of the 1,300 N.A.T.O. places for the year ahead. About 100 R.A.F. men are here now. About the same number of Europeans have received pilot and navigator training and gone home.

Qualified opinion here is that an expansion of the training scheme—a modest parallel of the wartime Commonwealth scheme that trained 131,000 airmen—is one of the more likely methods for Canada to boost her pact contribution.

This is so even though it will be a year yet before the R.C.A.F. really is in the advanced training business and currently is mainly giving only basic training.

The bulk of the advanced training program will have to wait until the Canadair aircraft factory at Montreal starts producing 500 T-33 two-seater jet trainer planes which will be used to school men for the shift from basic-training, propellor-driven Harvards to jet

Rents Freeze Is Lifted As Of Today

Quebec, Aug. 1.—(CP)—Landlords and tenants who haven't come to an agreement since the Federal government abandoned rent controls will have to argue it out before rent administrators starting today.

This is the day a province-wide freeze on rents, provided for by Quebec legislation, is lifted and Quebec's rentals control system begins its official operation. The freeze on rents and evictions was imposed April 30th.

The law does not prevent voluntary agreements.

Montreal and Quebec are the two centres of rentals control operation and thousands of landlords and tenants already have applied for a hearing by rent administrators.

Hearings begin here tomorrow in a Quebec superior courtroom.

Roughly, there is one rent administrator for every 100,000 of population in cities and towns. His decisions may be appealed to a three-man rent control board headed by Magistrate Andre Regnier and composed of tenants' and landlords' representatives. Board rulings will be final.

The whole rent system organization has had to be set up in three months and much of the personnel appointed to date is operating in public schools, vacant because of summer holidays.

The system will be effective until May 1st, 1953, and other quarters will have to be found for rent personnel when schools open in September.

In Quebec City, 300 to 400 persons a day have been given advice by rent officials since headquarters opened in a downtown school.

U.S. Controls Bill Signed By Truman

By STERLING F. GREEN

Washington, Aug. 1—(AP)—President Truman prepared today to hammer again on Congress' door for a "good, strong price control law" to replace what he called the "deficient" act he signed last night.

Truman emphasized that he accepted the new, one-year defence production act—"the worst I ever had to sign" — only because he could not risk the lapse of its rent ceiling and strong priority control clauses.

But the bitterly-disputed law was on the books, and its Republican and Democratic backers defended

Fierce Battle Is Fought For Korean Hill

By JOHN RANDOLPH

Eastern Korean Front, July 31 —(Delayed)—(AP)— "Fool Mountain" was stormed by allied infantrymen who knew they could be sacrificing their lives in the last days of the Korean war.

Some died, but the high ridges, from which the Reds had been able to watch every allied move, were taken.

Capture of this towering hill mass in east Korea Monday can be reported as one of the war's most-savage actions — a five-day assault while truck talks droned on at Kaesong.

It was by far the largest action since the armistice conference began—in fact, the only bit of "real war" since the delegates first met July 10.

Why did the allies take it?

From its heights, the reorganized and retrained North Korean army watched every move in the allied lines and on the main supply route to them.

The hill had to be taken or life in allied lines would be unbearable—and lives can be frittered away in bad positions as easily as in assault.

From their observation posts in the rocky crags, the Korean Reds continually called in mortar and artillery fire against the allies, forcing all road traffic to run the gauntlet on its way to the front.

Worse, "Fool Mountain" had three guardian hills—placed as strategically as the bastion of a scientifically-planned fortress.

Each hill was covered with pillboxes. For five nights in a row before the jump-off date July 26 the air force bombed and blasted the hill positions.

At dawn the infantry started up the guardian hills. They made 2,000 yards and then were stopped cold. Then began a see-saw fight that went on for five days and parts of five nights.

Monday, preceded by a withering artillery barrage, they advanced against "Fool Mountain" under cover of fire from one of the guardian hills.

The tough infantry men moved slowly up the rocky slopes.

They had close support from tanks. Some of the enemy bunkers had only one entrance — their firing slit — and were defended to the death by North Koreans.

The infantry used grenades and flame throwers against some defenders. Finally the last assault position was reached late Monday.

Once again artillery blasted the craggy slopes and—as it suddenly stopped—the infantry stormed upwards.

Allied guns laced the top of the crest. That did it. The attack by the crack troops swept up, broke the last of the resistance in 45 minutes and finally secured the crest.

Pravda Gives Prominence To Exchange With Morrison

By CHARLES E. WHITING

London, Aug. 1— (AP) —Russia opened the Iron Curtain a crack today to let the communists faithful read a "let's be friends" appeal from Britain's foreign secretary, Herbert Morrison.

The party newspaper, Pravda, published the Morrison statement and, in the same issue, lashed back with a bitter reply denouncing all he said as lies or distortions.

The unprecedented east-west exchange resulted from a challenge by Morrison last June daring Pravda to print his views. Pravda agreed, provided the British press would give equal prominence to its reply. Six London newspapers printed the full text of the exchange today.

Said Morrison:

"We are a peaceful people who want to feel secure" but can't while Russia maintains "vast armed forces and military establishments."

Why not, he asked, topple the barriers set up by Russia across Europe and allow a free exchange of news, broadcasts and even tourists?

Oh, no, Pravda answered, the British and Americans are warmongers who threaten the Soviet Union and we cannot allow freedom to "thieves, subversive agents, terrorists and assassins."

Morrison pegged his appeal to the Russian people on the argument that ignorance breeds fear and leads to violence. He said the possibility of a third world war would be lessened if Russia lifted restrictions and permitted western views and visitors to circulate freely.

Meanwhile, Russia's new English language propaganda magazine, news, offered to open its columns to American writers for the purpose of promoting "friendly relations." The offer was directed specifically to the New York Times.

(In New York, the Times said it had no comment.)

In his 1,500-word statement, Morrison called untrue the Soviet propaganda line that Britain, in alliance with other European countries and the United States, is "arming to the teeth to attack the Soviet Union."

He said the main purpose of the Atlantic pact is to avoid war and preserve the peace.

The foreign secretary said his government had intended to devote its energies to the economic recovery of Britain, but was forced to switch to rearming when it realized that Russia had adopted a post-war policy "whose only purpose seems to be to stir up trouble and international hatred."

Pravda, which has a circulation of more than 2,000,000, rejected Morrison's charge that there is no freedom in Russia.

"In no country is there such freedom of speech, and freedom of organization for workers, farmers, and intellectuals as in the Soviet Union" it said in a 2,600-word rebuttal. But, the paper added:

"In the U.S.S.R. freedom of speech, freedom of the press and freedom of organization does not exist for the enemies of the people, for the landlords and capitalists overthrown by the revolution. Nor does it exist for incorrigible thieves, for subversive agents, terrorists and assassins sent in by foreign secret services."

It said the prisons and labor camps of Russia exist "for all these criminals."

As for allowing BBC broadcasts to reach Russian ears untortured by jamming, Pravda argued:

"They are known to be aimed primarily at encouraging the enemies of the Soviet people in their efforts to restore capitalistic exploitation."

Most London newspapers ran editorials welcoming the Morrison-Pravda exchange as perhaps opening a chink in Russia's propaganda armor.

But the Daily Express, which devoted only half a column to the story, commented editorially:

"Only the cable companies benefited from the exchange."

The Times (independent) regretted that "to minds long prepared against it, an exposition such as Mr. Morrison's may not have much chance of acceptance as a complete chain of argument." But, the newspaper added:

"Many Soviet citizens, passionately interested in world events, have developed a talent for reading between the lines of their own newspaper, and they are eager to read and hear foreign opinions ... on the whole it (the exchange) has been worth while."

Canadian Destroyer Nootka Back Home From Far East

Victoria, B.C., Aug. 1—(CP)—The Canadian destroyer Nootka came back yesterday from the Korean war zone with her log showing 202 days at sea and a series of attacks on shore installations.

The Halifax-based warship was greeted by shrill whistles from the cruiser Ontario, the destroyers Athabaskan and Crusader and other naval craft as she entered Esquimalt harbor.

The Nootka will leave Esquimalt Thursday for Halifax.

Cmdr. A. B. Fraser-Harris, her captain, said the ship spent 202 days at sea and 67 days in harbor since starting service with the United Nations naval forces last January. During 10 patrols her four-inch guns fired 2,138 rounds of ammunition at enemy-held shore installations.

During one early patrol, he said, the Nootka intercepted a fleet of 10 enemy-operated fishing vessels off the northwest coast of Korea. Thirty-eight prisoners were taken and nine of the fishing vessels were destroyed.

Rear - Admiral Wallace B. Creery, Pacific coast flag officer, led an official welcoming party aboard from a naval launch.

Cmdr. Fraser-Harris said Canada looked good to him and to the ship's crew of 250, most of them from eastern Canada.

H.M.C.S. Nootka was relieved in the Far East by the destroyer Cayuga.

The captain said the enemy was using "anything that floats" to sow mines.

"We were constantly worried about air attacks. But fortunately we didn't have any trouble of that sort."

He said there had been no "tangible evidence" of enemy submarines off the coast of Korea. A total of 1,142 hours had been spent in anti-submarine operations, he added.

Early last month Ls. Glenn Kekewich of Silver Mine, N.S., required emergency attention for a kidney ailment.

In an operation in the yellow sea he was transferred by cable seat from Nootka to an American carrier while both ships were under way. The stricken man was then taken by helicopter to Seoul and from there to Kure, Japan, in a hospital aircraft. Kekewich was flown to this coast last week-end and yesterday rejoined his ship.

This is the first time Nootka has been at a Canadian west coast port. During her brief stay here her officers and men will attend several social functions.

Q—What is the relationship between peat and coal?

A—Peat is the first step in the changing of vegetable matter into coal. If there had been enough pressure and heat it would eventually have become coal. Deposits of peat are being formed today in marshes and bogs in Ireland and in swamps such as the Dismal Swamp in Virginia and North Carolina.

DIXVILLE

The spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bellows, on the Norton Road, was the scene of a pleasant social gathering on Wednesday afternoon. The rooms were arranged with summer flowers, where upwards of thirty-five ladies met as a farewell for Mrs. Herbert J. Ferris, who is leaving shortly to join Mr. Ferris and their daughter, Miss Norma Ann Ferris, in Quincy, Mass., where they will reside. The time was enjoyably spent socially, after which several of the ladies served delicious refreshments. Regrets were expressed at the departure of the family, coupled with good wishes for their happiness in their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jean Marie are spending some time with their granddaughter, Mrs. Theophite Major and family, in Coaticook.

The many friends of Mr. Norman Cutler will be sorry to learn that he is a patient in the new Sherbrooke Hospital, where he expects to undergo a major operation. Mrs. Cutler accompanied her husband to the city.

Mrs. H. J. Ferris, Mr. Kenneth Norris and Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Champagne, were visitors in Magog.

The Ladies' Aid held a pleasant meeting at the home of Mrs. Willis Wiggett, on Thursday afternoon, with a good attendance. Work was carried on and plans made for future meetings. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

TOMIFOBIA

The picnic sponsored by Miss Mosher proved a big success. It was held on Saturday, July 21, in Ben Cote's pasture. The children won many prizes on races and games. Swimming was enjoyed. Miss Margaret and Jean Yates entertained the audience by singing French and English songs, which were much enjoyed. These young ladies live at Beebe and are only ten and twelve years of age. Mrs. Buckland, the president, brought the meeting to order. A number of the members were present also many visitors and a large crowd of children.

Miss Mosher spoke to the people on "Publicity," which was very interesting to the community and appreciated. Plans were made to send a box of children's clothing overseas. Mrs. E. R. Embury gave her report from Macdonald College, Ste. Anne de Bellevue. It was undecided where the next meeting would be held and another picnic would be very favorable. At the close of the meeting, Miss Mosher, the hostess, served a beautiful picnic dinner. She was assisted by Miss Clair Dubois. A weenie roast was also enjoyed.

★ IN HOLLYWOOD ★

by Erskine Johnson

NEA Staff Correspondent

Hollywood — A movie queen who's been toting the crown and scepter night on to a quarter of a century in Hollywood dimpled her dimples today and said that "most stars need a good, sound spanking once a month."

Her Majesty Loretta Young, was getting right down to the bottom of what's wrong with gorgeous dolls who fall flat on their faces while sprinting to the big throne.

"Spanking?" I gulped.

"Yes," said Loretta.

Would she care to name some candidates for the woodshed treatment? About 10 or 12 would be just right. A "Ten Movie Queens Who Should Be Spanked" list. We could start with a shapely blonde and—

"I worry about them so," Loretta sighed. "Somebody new and exciting comes up. Then the divorce thing starts. I say, 'Hang on, girl, get solid.' I'm pulling for her every inch of the way."

"Shelley Winters," I said. "Would you say that Shelley needed a paddling?"

Loretta ignored it.

"To be a star, you have to be a woman first," she opined. "Nobody likes a shell. Actresses are inclined to be shells in the motion picture business.

"It's easier for us. But you have to fill up that shell with real things to stay on top and hold the public. You have to fill it up with everything your mother taught you."

"What about Ava Gardner in the spank-spank line?"

"Hollywood," Loretta went on, "let's its actresses get away with too much. Not saying anything to a star when she's two hours late for work is bad discipline. Forgiving her when she storms off the set isn't good, either.

"Hollywood falls down by not teaching stars that we're all in a very serious profession."

I coughed and weakly muttered: "Judy Garland, Barbara Payton, Gloria de Haven, Corinne Calvert?"

Loretta knitted her brows together thoughtfully.

"I was very lucky," she said. "I had a marvelous family behind me, a wise mother. If you can have this wonderful, moral background behind something solid. Otherwise"—Loretta shook her head woefully—"you live too quickly and you're gone at 21.

"Important responsibilities go with stardom. I've seen stars who were unwilling to take on these responsibilities come and go in Hollywood. They were interested in the money and the thrills and the glamor.

"I know it isn't easy to accept all sides of Hollywood. But there's nothing concerned with this business that I haven't learned to live with and even enjoy."

About the spankings, I reminded Loretta.

How did Pat Neal and Linda Darnell fit into the hairbrush-poised-over-the-backside picture?

Hmmmmmmm?

Loretta clapsed her hands together.

She said that actresses fret and worry their careers away.

"They brood because another actress has won a big role. They misuse their talents by being overconcerned with everything about a picture but their own performances. If you're an actress, editor, producer, critic or press agent. You're just an actress."

You don't catch Loretta whining about the plum part that Jane Wyman just snagged or the it's-got-cop-first-honors role that Irene Dunne is about to play.

She Passes

She spurned membership in the Ulcer of the Month Club when she won her Oscar for "The Farmer's Daughter."

She laughed:

"People said, 'Betcha you're going to be mighty careful from now on kid.' That was a joke. I didn't get the award by being careful. An actress who is out to get an award is crazy. She'll never get it."

I made one last stab at pinning her down on the spanking angle.

"What," I small-voiced it, "about Rita?"

"Rita Hayworth?" asked Loretta.

I nodded happily.

The Young orbs widened.

"Rita," said Loretta, "I have cried and cried over that girl. God love her, God help her, that poor, poor girl."

A. J. O'Boyle Marks 50 Years' Service With Sherbrooke Record

Just a half century ago the Sherbrooke Daily Record purchased a newly-invented device for setting up type.

It was known as the monoline and as few people around here knew how to operate the machine, the publisher, L. S. Channell applied to the company's office in Montreal for an operator.

A young man, Austin J. O'Boyle, who had served a period of apprenticeship at the monoline factory, was recommended and in August of 1901, Mr. O'Boyle joined the staff of the Record as a monoline operator.

Today, after 50 continuous years of service, Mr. O'Boyle, now 77, is being honored by the Record company.

In the "shop" where Mr. O'Boyle now operates a more modern linotype machine, John Bassett, Jr., vice-president and director of the Record, made a presentation to Mr. O'Boyle on behalf of the company.

On hand was the only other Record employee with a half century of service to his credit. He was Charles Pearson, press room foreman, who joined the company in 1900. Mr. Pearson's anniversary was marked last September.

"Naturally," said pipe-smoking, congenial Mr. O'Boyle today, "I am not producing type the way I did when I was younger, but I am pleased to be doing something."

Mr. O'Boyle, who works on a restricted time basis, hopes to stay on with the Record for a while longer, although he is eligible for retirement.

"Unless, of course," he said with a merry twinkle, "this gathering today is for the purpose of firing me."

Mr. O'Boyle, affectionately known by his fellow workers as "Old Top," was born in Lindsay, Ont., and became interested in type-setting in his native town. He worked for a time in a printing office, moved into the type section and has been a type-setter ever since.

When he joined the Record the four-page paper was being composed on the new monoline machines and some of the news was being set by hand. The monolines remained for 15 years when three linotypes were purchased and it has been on linotypes that he has worked since.

He has no idea how many millions of words of copy he has set in his 50 years, but it would fill many, many volumes. Some of the biggest stories of the half century came into print through his hands, wars were fought, great men and women lived and died, there were great disasters and great achievements.

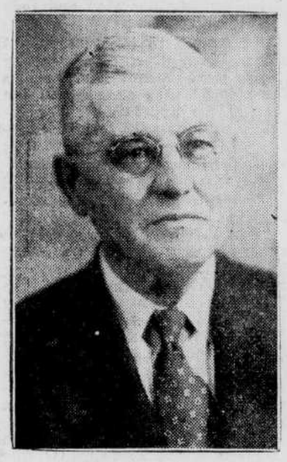

Copy, in those early days, he recalls, did not reach the paper on modern teletype machines, but came by morse. He tells about difficulties with the monoline machines when they were first installed.

Sherbrooke was just growing up, with a population of 10,000 or 11,000. The Record building itself was little more than a converted house and was shared with what now has become the Page-Sangster Printing Company.

But through all the changes, Mr. O'Boyle's loyalty, his cheerfulness and his keen, Irish sense of humor, have remained unaltered.

Admired and loved by all his fellow workers, Mr. O'Boyle has always had a ready smile for them, and, as experience grew with the years, sage advice that has been invaluable to many a young newcomer to the company.

Mr. O'Boyle was married three years after he came to Sherbrooke to Marie Louise Coulombe and the death of his wife in 1923 is the one sad recollection that he has of his half century here. He has six children, three sons and three daughters.

Island Brook Resident Found Shot

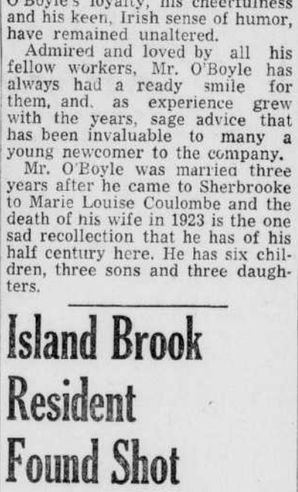

A coroner's inquest will be held today in Sawyerville in connection with the death of 70-year-old James Dougherty, of Island Brook.

Mr. Dougherty was found yesterday afternoon near the farm of Archie French, where he stayed. His body was found beside the house and a rifle with one shell fired was found at his side.

The deceased disappeared around 6 a. m. yesterday and left his watch on the kitchen table. A search party was organized and Howard Seale and Franklin Kerr found the body.

Provincial Police Traffic Officer Hubert Lawrence and Sgt. Det. Stenio Brasseur investigated. Dr. Louis Gagnon, coroner for the district of St. Francis, will preside at the inquest.

Y's Men's Camp Visit

Members of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club paid their annual visit to the Y's Men's Club at Shore Acres last night. A softball game between Rotarians and campers and boxing bouts among the campers were features of the program. In the upper picture Rotarian Phil Mathias (at bat) seems to be taking the ball game quite seriously. The catcher is Jeff Wilson, incoming president of the Y's Men, while Bobby Talks is acting as umpire. Buddy Bennett of Sherbrooke is seen tagging Rotary president Emile Levesque at first base in the second picture. A boxing bout is pictured at the bottom. In spite of the scowl on young Raymond Cloutier's countenance, it was all in fun as he and his opponent Tyler J. Crandall of Knowlton (left) battled to a draw. Cloutier is from Foster. (Gerry Lemay Photos).

A New Face..... .....A New Feature

Today the Record is bringing to its readers two new attractions—a new type face that will provide easier reading and the radio listings of the English-language stations in Montreal and Sherbrooke.

The new type, Corona 8-point, has been working its way into the paper over the last few days as the fonts of old type on the linotype machines were changed.

This switch has now been completed and henceforth this more legible body type will be the daily fare for readers.

Already the Record has received many favorable comments from readers who find this easy-to-read type a welcome improvement.

In resuming publication of radio listings, abandoned some years ago, the Record is acceding to requests received from a number of readers, especially in the country districts. These listings will appear daily on the classified advertisement page.

The stations chosen by the Record have been the local English-language station, CKTS, and three Montreal English-language stations, CFCF, CJAD and CBM.

Listings from 5 p.m. until closing on the day of publication and for the entire following day will be given for each station.

Rotary Club Members Visit Y's Men's Camp

It was difficult to determine who has having the better time at the Y's Men's Camp last night—the Rotarians who visited the boys at the camp, or the youngsters themselves.

On their annual visit, the Rotarians turning out in good numbers, found that they were somewhat out of practice and as a result were held to a tie by the boys in a closely contested softball game which provided the spectators with plenty of laughs.

Prior to the game the Rotarians and guests enjoyed an excellent meal, thanks to Mrs. Waldie and Mrs. Brown, and did full justice to the home cooked food.

Incoming president of the Y's Men, Jeff Wilson, extended a welcome to the Rotarians on behalf of the boys and his fellow members, expressing the hope that they would make themselves at home and would have an enjoyable evening.

Highlight of the evening was the exhibition of fisticuffs put on by the youngsters under the able direction of camp director Glen Brown. It was evident from the manner in which the boys handled themselves that they are receiving expert instruction in the manly art of self defense and also being taught the importance of good sportsmanship.

Taking part in the boxing were: William Buck, Bromptonville and Philip Jackson, Putnam, Conn., who fought to a tie; Pete Rogerson, of Knowlton, who defeated Buddy Bennett, of Sherbrooke; Bobby Talks, Sherbrooke, Sid Engler, Asbestos, tie; Tyler J. Crandall, Knowlton, Raymond Cloutier, Foster, tie.

In the wrestling Ralph Rogerson, Knowlton, won out over D. Rider, also of Knowlton; Lynn Maysenhoelder, of Sherbrooke, defeated Howard Rawlings, also of Sherbrooke, and Lloyd Howe, of Sherbrooke, won out over Doug Wootton, of Sherbrooke.

Mayor Gets Requests For Pen Pals

Among the many incidental duties attached to the office of Mayor appears to be the task of contacting pen pals. This at least seems apparent from a letter received by Mayor Charles B. Howard from Malaya. The letter reads as follows:

B//CHX 4292 S. G. AITKIN
H.Q. 3 COMMANDO BDE.
(ROYAL MARINES)
ASHAY RD. CAMP
c/o G. P. O. IPOH
PERAK, MALAYA.

Dear Sir or Madam,

I am writing from Malaya where I am serving in the Royal Marine Commandoes, (British Forces).

My reason in writing to your particular town is to obtain three pen pals for myself and two friends.

Your town was picked as our choice for correspondents by the age-old method of closing our eyes and sticking a pin in a map of Canada.

We were in a quandary for some while regarding who to send our letter to, and we finally came to the conclusion that writing to the town mayor was our best bet!!

Hoping that this most irregular type of request does not put you out too much, as we fully realize how busy you must be kept at your work.

We would like to hear from girls between the ages of 17-21, our own ages all being twenty.

We would also appreciate it if you would send on to us any booklets or pamphlets concerning your town.

Wishing you and your town every success for the future,

Thanking You,
Yours Sincerely,
Sidney Aitkin.

P.S. — The following are my friends' names, their address being the same as my own:
R.M.B.X. 2578 Ronald Pether,
P.L.Y.X. 5628 Cpl. Ronald Adam.

Fusiliers Assoc. Meets Tonight

An important meeting of the Sherbrooke Fusiliers Association will be held this evening at the William Street Armoury. The meeting will start at 8 p.m.

Lt.-Col. Aime Biron, Association president, urged as many members as possible to attend.

Story Of Radar, With Emphasis On Local Unit, Is Told To Rotarians

Radar—what it consists of, and its importance in the national defence program—was the subject of an address delivered to members of the Rotary Club yesterday, by FO. Paul Giguere, public relations officer and controller of the local Radar Unit.

FO. Giguere, who is with McColl Frontenac Oil Company, and will be transferred to Three Rivers shortly, was a member of the famed Alouette squadron during World War II when, as a bomber pilot, he counted 15 sorties over Germany.

Describing radar as the transmission of ultra-high frequency radio waves which travel at the speed of light, he said that when these waves strike an object the echo is reflected back and picked up on a cathode ray tube, in the form of a sausage-shaped ray of light, known as a blip.

It is thus possible, to detect the presence of aircraft within a range of approximately 100 miles. Radar also estimates the direction, distance, height and rate of speed at which the aircraft is flying. It is a boon to civil aviation besides being invaluable in the interception of every aircraft.

The speaker dwelt at some length on the local aspect of the Radar Defence Network, describing the operations of the Sherbrooke Unit, with Squadron Leader Bud McCrea, as commanding officer and Flt.-Lieut Gregory O'Boyle, second in command.

"In the Sherbrooke squadron there are three main groups," he continued, "the controllers, the communication section and the technical section. Lectures on Fighter Control are being conducted at the Unit by a regular force officer, FO. K. Smith."

He pointed out that a good number of the personnel enrolled in the courses of instruction are veterans of the R.C.A.F. and other branches of the service, but stressed the fact that the courses are by no means limited to ex-servicemen.

Many of the squadron's personnel is composed of new recruits who were under military age during the last war. The Unit has recently taken on strength over 40 high school students, from Grades 10 and 11, ages 16 and up, for summer employment.

In addition to receiving active rates of pay plus subsistence allowance, netting approximately $35 per week, the young airmen whether or not they remain in the service, receive highly technical instruction which will enable them to hold responsible and well paying positions and may even guide them in the choice of a vocation.

The Unit hopes, of course, that once the summer is over, the students will choose to remain in the R.C.A.F. (Reserve) and continue the training which will equip them to serve their country efficiently in the event of a national emergency.

F/O Giguere extended, on behalf of Squadron Leader McCrea, an invitation to the Rotarians to visit the Unit's headquarters on Depot Street, and said in conclusion that "Our goal is to make the Sherbrooke Aircraft Control and Warning Unit one of the strongest links in the chain of stations throughout the country which combine to make a closely knit network of radar defence."

The speaker was introduced by Cliff Bryant and thanked by Carbery Christmas.

Two new members were inducted into Rotary at yesterday's meeting, by President Emile Levesque. They are Phil Rennert, introduced by Lewis Rosenbloom, and Frank Pearson, introduced by Hubert Johnston.

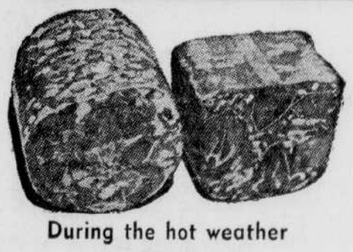

A brief report on the District Assembly held recently in Stowe, Vt., was given by Hawley Griffith, and Claude Willard announced that the Quebec Club would visit the local Rotarians next Tuesday, and that a golf tournament would be arranged in the afternoon at the Country Club.

Those eligible for the Birthday Table, all of whom received boutonnieres of roses, were Halton Clark, Alphee Gauthier, Phil Mathias, Lennox Wilson, George B. Murphy, Hawley Griffith, Emilien Gingras, Henry Delorme, Ogden Glass, Rev. R. C. Tait, Peter Pollock and Hubert Johnston. A decorated birthday cake was presented to these members, while their fellow Rotarians sang "Happy Birthday to You," with Jack Lenaghan at the piano.

Sherbrooke Daily Record

The Oldest Daily in the District

Established Ninth Day of February, 1897, with which is incorporated the Sherbrooke Gazette, established 1837, and Sherbrooke Examiner, established 1878.

The Record is printed and published every week-day by the Sherbrooke Daily Record Company Limited, of which Edna A. Beerworth is Secretary-Treasurer, at the office, 69 Wellington St. North, in the City of Sherbrooke, incorporating the news service of The Canadian Press, The Associated Press and Reuters.

The Record is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulation, its circulation being regularly audited and guaranteed.

Subscription Rates: Carrier delivery in Sherbrooke and Eastern Townships: 25 cents weekly, $13.00 per year. Mail subscription in Canada, Great Britain or the United States: 1 year $9.00, 6 months $4.50, 3 months $2.50, 1 month $1.00. Single copies 5c. "Authorized as second class mail, Post Office Department, Ottawa."

A PURCHASE FORGOTTEN

Back in the dim and distant past, in the days when Canadian industry was concentrating upon the production of war material to support the troops overseas, the Sherbrooke City Council appropriated a sum of money to finance the purchase of refuse disposal cans. These were to be placed at strategic points in the center of the city so that pedestrians and even motorists would have somewhere to throw empty cigarette boxes, chocolate bar wrappers and even banana skins, the idea being to keep the streets neater than is possible under existing conditions.

The aldermen of those days even went as far as to purchase a sample container which for several seasons stood at the corner of King and Wellington streets. Several more of the same type were to be bought, but because of the acute metal shortage at that time the acquisition of these was delayed. After hostilities ceased, no move was made to complete the deal, and today even the demonstration unit is missing.

It would seem that in the years since the cessation of hostilities, some move might have been made to provide these containers for use of the citizens. A neat street is the best advertising any town can have when it seeks to attract tourists. Visitors may be impressed by big buildings, by attractive parks, but if the streets are cluttered with refuse of various sorts, their opinion is soon undermined.

No complaint is being registered as to the manner in which the street-cleaning department employees are carrying out the tasks entrusted to them. The streets are thoroughly washed every morning and the accumulated debris removed, but with nowhere except the odd sewer opening for the disposal of waste, the day is not far gone before the thoroughfares are again littered.

The rather modest expenditure required would be more than justified by the results achieved.

A HALF-CENTURY OF SERVICE

The directors and staff of the Sherbrooke Daily Record today are honoring a man who is completing a half-century of service on this paper. Austin J. "Old Top" O'Boyle is the oldest in point of service of the typesetting staff of this paper, coming here in August, 1901, as one of the two monoline operators and has continued in its employ during the many changes that have resulted from the steady growth and expansion of the Eastern Townships English-speaking daily.

During his half-century with the Sherbrooke Record, Mr. O'Boyle has earned the affection and esteem of all those with whom he came in contact, whether the small handfull of men who have served as long or even longer than himself or the larger group who have entered the employ of the company in more recent years.

These all join in wishing him health and happiness in the years ahead, whether he sees fit to continue his association with the company or enjoy a well-earned retirement.

THE SOFT COAL PROBLEM

The soft coal industry in the United States is not sitting in a comfortable position. Even in a booming defense economy the markets for coal are not sufficiently large to keep the mines working full time.

Discussing the situation, Business Week says over-capacity has hung over the coal industry for years. But since the end of World War II, periodic strikes and slowdowns have usually kept supply from outrunning the market. This year John L. Lewis is sewed up with a firm contract; there is no threat of a stoppage. And this year, coal is piling in stockpiles; mines are shutting down to a two- or three-day week.

Industrial coal is moving — slowly. But stockpiles of domestic coal are climbing very steadily, with no real relief in sight.

Home users of coal are slow to buy — scared off by the high cost of laying in their winter's supply. And this year there is no call for them to rush out and buy. With the soft coal labor contract scheduled to run another year, they can be sure of getting all they want when they want it.

Not only are coal users shying away from their coal dealer for as long as possible, but more domestic users are dropping off their dealers' list every year—switching to natural gas and oil. Coal retailers in Cleveland have lost 60% of the customers they had in 1940 to oil and gas, and haven't been able to get replacements.

The coal operators counted on the two-week July vacation of UMW miners to get users into a buying frame of mind again — and to chop a few layers off their stockpiles. But closing of the mines during the two-week period didn't cause a ripple on the market.

Stockpiles on June 1 were the highest since September of 1948. Industrial consumers and retail dealers held 74,807 million tons of bituminous and lignite coal — enough to last an average of 69 days, as compared with a 60-day supply on May 1. Normally, around 50-million tons are regarded as sufficient cushion.

"FRUSTRATION" KEEPS MANY EXPERTS OUT OF WASHINGTON

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington—(NEA)—Mobilization Director C. E. Wilson once asked a business associate he had known for many years to come to Washington and help him out on the three-year national defense production job. The reply he got was something like this:

"If you're fool enough to give up your job, to give up your home, to give up your time—and go to Washington to live in an apartment, to work six days and six nights a week, and to be smeared all over the place—if you're fool enough to do those things, go ahead. I'm not going to."

There you have it in a nutshell one of the biggest problems in Washington. It is to recruit competent experts with wide experience in some highly technical field like steel production or distribution, for temporary jobs with the government. Plenty of second stringers can be hired. What's tough is getting the good ones.

Edwin T. Gibson, retiring as acting head of Defense Production Administration, says there are three principal reasons why most businessmen dodge the draft for defense jobs. Mr. Gibson himself is executive vice president of General Foods in private life. Despite the fact that he was 67 years old and had two heart attacks, he came to Washington last February to help set up DPA, and get it going.

It is now a going concern. Mr. Gibson doesn't feel that in the present state of his health, he is the right man "to have to make tough decisions right up to six o'clock every evening," as he puts it. So he is stepping aside for younger, tougher Manly Fleishmann. But Mr. Gibson himself will stay on as an adviser and as chairman of the International Materials Conference.

THEY HAVE THE CHIEF OBJECTIONS

His three reasons why businessmen won't take Washington jobs are: 1—They are needed by their companies, who won't release them. 2—They don't realize there's an emergency. 3—They are frustrated by Washington.

This last point, which is the most intangible, is also probably the most important. Businessmen aren't trained in politics. They can't understand why, if something has to be done—it has to be cleared with Congress, the White House, State, Defense, Commerce, Agriculture, Interior Labor and the Attorney general.

Then when a temporary government official does back some course of action he considers necessary for the good of his country, he gets beat over the head unmercifully.

The chastisement which C. E. Wilson and Stabilization Director Eric Johnston have recently taken from the National Association of Manufacturers is on a par with what President Truman wrote to the music critic.

Mr. Johnston reports that some business friends he has known for years now won't speak to him when they pass. Mr. Wilson had Sidney Weinberg and Gen. Lucius D. Clay as his assistants for a time. But they refused to take the punishment and went home. In trying to replace them, Mr. Wilson gets called "a fool."

There is of course a fourth reason why businessmen won't come to Washington. Government doesn't pay enough. Top government salaries—outside of cabinet officers and ambassadors—are $17,500. But most government bureau heads are in the $8000 to $12,000 bracket. And men whom private industry would pay $10,000, the government expects to hire for $5000 to $7500.

CANADA'S INTERESTS INVOLVED IN THE ISSUE OF SPANISH BASES

(Toronto Telegram)

To Canadians the name of Admiral Forrest P. Sherman, U.S. Chief of Naval Operations, recently became prominent when he was delegated by President Truman to conduct negotiations with Generalissimo Franco with the view of obtaining naval and air bases in Spain for U. S. forces. It is evident, from statements of officials in Madrid and Washington, that the death of Admiral Sherman in Naples will not interfere with these negotiations and that the two countries will pursue the policies he was instructed to initiate, namely the exchange of American economic aid for Spanish bases and possibly, active Spanish participation in the event of war.

These arrangements, because they are linked with the defense of western Europe, inevitably concern Canada as a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, and there is every indication that Canadian agreement to this development will be sought by the United States. While Ottawa to date has remained silent on the question of Spanish bases and Spanish participation, the United Kingdom and France have both expressed opposition, as the result of which there is a move afoot in the United States to submit the issue to a conference of the Atlantic Treaty members.

Canada, like the United Kingdom, recognizes the right of the United States to enter into a bilateral agreement with Spain. In the matter, however, that involves the defense of western Europe it is important that the relationship among the powers should go farther and extend to harmony in policy. Toward this end, and bearing in mind its own interests, this country has a part to play.

DEAL KINDLY, YOUTH, WITH AGE

I know a frail, and aged man
Of whom I'd like to speak;
Who well portrays Life's checkered span
. . . No need to farther seek.
He, more than Ninety years has known
Of Life, diversified;
His withered form has feeble grown
On Time's remorseless tide.
Once, strong and rugged in his right
Life held so much of cheer;
But, fairest morn must have its night,
And length of days must sear.
So many of earth's hopes, and plans,
He never yet has seen;
. . . The cause he'll know when Death's broad spans
Have bridged the gulf between.
(The young, and buoyant lives can't know
The jolts Time hands to Age;
'Tis years alone can only show
Life's tattered, checkered page.)
His family chain by Death snapped twice
Seems now, so incomplete,
Though sad the loss, and great the price,
It has not bred defeat.
For, as he lives out his last days,
He haltingly does tell
God has him blest, in many ways,
And all still, must be well.
He waits the Master's call to rest,
And yearns to meet once more
His loved ones, mingled with the blest
Who have but gone before.
. . . That aged soul so well portrays
The "Tapestry Of Life";
Threads bright, or dark, mark all our days,
Depicting joys, and strife.
Age surely can a lesson teach
To Youth, as days drift by;
Life's cherished goals we ne'er here reach,
. . . They're in the "Bye-And-Bye."

PUSH YOUR RIVAL IF YOU WANT TO WIN

You can't sit still in a championship tournament and have points drop into your lap. When you get the right sort of hand you must try to push the opponents around a bit. If they fall down, you get a fine score. If they step aside, you probably find yourself on the floor with no points at all.

In last year's tournament there was a great deal of jockeying for unusual results, just as there is in the tournament now being held in Washington. One of the best bits of hornswoggling occurred in the hand shown today.

Dave Warner, of Philadelphia, held the South cards. He knew he had a miserable hand but hoped to get a good result by playing at some low diamond contract. For that purpose he made a psychic bid and then got on his bicycle.

South's spade overcall was promptly doubled, exactly as he had expected. If he had then immediately bid the diamonds, the opponents might have seen the trap and avoided it. Hence he first went to one no-trump.

West promptly doubled one no-trump also—and who can blame him? Now the time was ripe for Warner to mention the diamonds.

West quite properly passed. He had already shown a good hand and good spades. He didn't have good diamonds, so he could afford to pass and hear what his partner had to say.

East bit and never felt the hook. He should have known that his partner was short in diamonds since he had failed to double. He himself had only three diamonds, so it was fairly clear that South was in a fairly good trump suit. What's more, South must have known in advance that he had this spot to run to—and if South liked the contract it was pretty sure to be useless for his opponents.

However, East doubled, and all passed. West opened the king of diamonds, and dummy won with the ace. Now all Warner could lose was two trumps, two clubs and a heart. Two diamonds doubled and made was a very fine score considering the fact that East and West were spread for game in no-trump.

Q—The bidding has been:

South	West	North	East
1 Spade	Pass	3 N.T.	Pass

You, South, hold: Spades A-K-J-7-3, Hearts A-10-5, Diamonds K-4, Clubs 9-6-3. What do you do?

A—Bid four no-trump. Your partner's hand is equal to a minimum opening no-trump bid. Therefore you are on the verge of a slam and can afford this general slam invitation. This raise in no-trump does not ask your partner to show aces.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding has been the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades A-K-J-7-3, Hearts A-10-5, Diamonds K-4, Clubs Q-6-3. What do you do?

The Record Short Story

NEW TOWN, NEW FRIEND

By HOLEN WHELEN

Harriet wondered how she could ever have imagined that coming to California to live would be a wonderful adventure.

She hadn't been dissatisfied back in Chicago, her home town. She'd lived with an aunt, her only relative, and worked in a fairly large, congenial office. The girls in her high school sorority hadn't drifted apart after graduating, but got together regularly to have fun. Harriet had had boy friends to take her places, too.

Then her company had opened a new branch office out here. Mr. Mathews, whose stenographer she'd been for two years, was named to take charge of it. He wanted a secretary familiar with home office procedures, and he persuaded Harriet it would be a wonderful chance for her to see California and advance to a better job at the same time.

They'd arrived in the rainy season, so any plans she had had of spending hours on the beach weekends acquiring a spectacular tan, had to be postponed. To start with the office force consisted of Mr. Mathews, who was happily married, and herself, so she had no chance to make friends during business hours. She worked late every night.

Weekends she cleaned her apartment and watched it rain, wondering if she'd be able to keep from adding to the general wetness by crying from homesickness.

She supposed she was lucky to find an attractive place to live waiting for her. Her Aunt Lydia had remembered that an old friend of hers owned a small apartment building, the Cornish Arms. Mrs. Cornish had saved an apartment for Aunt Lydia's niece.

One evening, getting off the bus at her stop, she noticed a young man with a dog approaching. He was a couple of years older than Harriet, maybe, and the type she'd always regarded with interest—tall, sandy-haired, with a pleasant expression. Maybe it was her lonesome mood, but Harriet found herself wishing the dog would make a leap at her. She wasn't afraid of dogs, he was on a leash and couldn't harm her, anyway—and she'd get to talk to someone young and friendly-looking.

But the dog, an airdale, trotted past her with complete lack of interest. Harriet went home, made herself a sandwich, read the newspaper and decided she was positively not going to put her hair up in pincurls again tonight. The dampness in the air would make her hair straight again tomorrow, anyway, and besides—what was the use? It seemed unlikely she was going to meet anyone who would notice if she had sea-green hair or was bald.

Saturday was the day Mrs. Cornish, the landlady, came to collect the rents. The small apartments, built around a patio each with its own entrance, were Mrs. Cornish's pride. She was totally unlike Harriet's easy-going Aunt Lydia. Mrs. Cornish delivered detailed instructions about how she wanted her tenants to take care of her property. Even an askew venetian blind aroused her disapproval.

Nevertheless, she was a link to people Harriet knew, so Harriet greeted her warmly, and told her she had a pot of fresh coffee waiting on the stove, just for her. Mrs. Cornish drank a cup hurriedly. Afterwards Harriet walked to her car with her.

It was while they were standing there that a young man hurried up the street to Mrs. Cornish and handed her his rent. He'd been out when she rang his bell.

Harriet's eyes widened. He was the young man she'd seen walking his dog, the one she had thought she'd like to know. And he lived in the same building! Mrs. Cornish murmured Harriet's name and his, and said Harriet had just come from Chicago.

"Yes, I know, I heard about your saving an apartment for her," Ben Wilson said.

He said a polite good-by and walked away. Hurriedly Harriet said good-bye to Mrs. Cornish and walked after him. She said, "I saw you airing your dog the other night."

Ben Wilson shook his head, said curtly, "I must have a double," and turned toward his own door.

Maybe, Harriet thought, he imagined she'd made up the story about the dog, just to make conversation, and disliked girls who took the initiative in becoming friendly. Maybe he was a woman-hater. Or maybe he had a steady girl. Harriet was surprised at how much that idea disturbed her.

She saw him again, entering or leaving the apartment occasionally, but her pleasant smile of greeting brought only a nod in response. Sometimes, coming home nights she worked late, she would see him about to come out of his apartment door. But he'd always dart back inside at sight of her.

His evident aversion to her irritated Harriet.

But what made her madder was her inability to put Ben Wilson out of her mind. What if he did look like the kind of man she always liked best? He wasn't, really. He was obviously disagreeable and rude, so how could any girl in her right mind give him a second thought?

It was on a Friday evening that she'd worked overtime again that Harriet was to tired she forgot to watch for her bus stop and rode three blocks past.

She decided to take a short-cut home, through a path cutting across some vacant lots. Just as she stepped into an alley at the rear of the apartment she practically collided with Ben Wilson—and the airedale. There was no mistaking his identity this time.

Ben himself was too startled and dismayed to pretend to be someone else.

"For Pete's sake!" he said in anger and disgust. "Can't a pretty young girl like you find something better to do with her time than help that dragon of a landlady track me down? What am I supposed to do with the poor old dog I've had since I was a kid—chloroform it just because she doesn't want her varnished floors scratched? Old Pal would pine away in a kennel."

Harriet's mouth popped open in amazement. "It so happens," she retorted indignantly, "that I don't know what you're talking about. It was only a short while ago that you denied I'd ever seen you with a dog at all."

"Because," he said grimly, "the landlady positively refused to rent me that apartment if I had a dog there, and it was the only place I could find. So I've been hiding him ever since, sneaking him out for walks, and taking him to a friend's house the day she comes to collect the rents.

"I've got a promise of another apartment, but it won't be vacant for another month—if I live that long!"

"But why accuse me of trailing you?" Harriet asked.

"When she kept that apartment waiting for you when a horde of people warted it," Ben said, "the other tenants got the idea you were her niece. And it seemed that every time I was trying to get Pal out of the place at night you would come walking past."

Harriet explained. "The landlady's an old friend of my aunt, but she's been strictly formal with us. In fact," she leaned over and patted Pal who was nuzzling her hand affectionately, "she hasn't been as friendly as Pal."

Ben's sigh of relief was tremendous, and he grinned widely. "Pal—and his master—would like to be a lot friendlier, now they both know it's safe," he said. "What do you say to starting this mutual friendship society with a walk together?"

Suddenly Harriet wasn't tired at all. And she wasn't remembering to be homesick. She said happily, "Let's" and started off on what Harriet and Ben, if not Pal, knew would be the first walk of many.

High School Leaving Examination Results Headed By Westmount Youth

Rsults of the high school leaving examinations in Provincial Protestant schools were announced yesterday by Dr. W. P. Percival, director of Protestant education.

Daniel Nathan Slatkin of Westmount High led the top students with 947 marks out of a possible 1000. Mary Violette Szwarc, High School for Girls, came next with 942 marks, followed by Jack Cohen, Baron Byng High School, with 939.

Of the 1,929 students who wrote the complete examinations this year, 1321 or 68.5 per cent passed. Last year, when 1,825 wrote the complete examinations, 1,353 or 73.1 per cent passed.

The average percentage for the past ten years is about 71.8.

In addition to the 1929 who wrote complete examinations, 129 candidates wrote partial examinations and 133 wrote supplementary examinations making a total of 2,191 candidates. 73 students received certificates by means of supplementary examinations.

The percentage of failure in the major subjects was as follows:

Subject	Failure	Failure Last year
English Literature	14.8	12.8
English Composition	11.9	11.8
Written French	19.2	15.5
Oral French	9.1	12.8
Chemistry	20.3	16.1
History	21.2	14.6
Elementary Algebra	21.1	21.8
Goemetry	20.2	13.5
Physics	19.1	17.1
Biology	20.3	20.1
Latin Prose & Composition	18.0	19.1
Latin Poetry & Sight	15.3	18.2
Trigonometry	20.5	20.5
Geography	18.8	19.5

To obtain high school leaving certificates, candidates must pass in English literature and composition, oral and written French, and at least four other subjects from a lengthy list of options. When students write on more than six optional subjects, the six highest marks are taken with the compulsory subjects of English and French to make up a maximum of 1,000 marks.

In the following list after the name of each candidate appears the class standing obtained as follows: Class 1—800 marks and over; Class 2—650 to 799 marks; Class 3—below 650 marks. Those whose names are followed by (S) received their certificates after writing supplementary examinations.

it against the angry White House blasts.

Meanwhile, Michael V. DiSalle's office of Price Stabilization hastily explored techniques for lifting price ceilings to the levels now required.

DiSalle ordered thousands of price cuts—and a goodly number of increases—into effect last night in the final hours before Truman signed the new measure.

New ceilings, held back for a month during the Congressional debate, were applied to consumer items such as radios, television sets, refrigerator and other home appliances, shoes, apparel, cotton textiles, wool yarns and fabrics, machinery, chemicals and many building materials.

By rushing the orders out last night, O.P.S. avoided the immediate necessity of rewriting the ceilings to conform to the new act, which entitles each manufacturer to pass on to buyers his full business cost increases up to July 26.

Individual price adjustments now must be made. A month ago O.P.S. said the orders would bring consumers more cuts than increases.

Today it said the impact on family budgets is "uncertain."

and for the invitation of special guests. These must all be kept within the limits of protocal and thus considerable delay may be experienced from time to time as approval for detailed arrangements must be awaited from Ottawa.

However, the experience received at the time of the visit of the King and Queen should prove of use and eliminate the danger of many false starts in the arrangement plans.

Story Of Radar

RICHMOND

Miss Claire Lebrun, of Montreal, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. George Martineau, and Mr. Martineau, on College Street.

The Markets In Summary

LIVESTOCK

Montreal, Aug. 1—(CP)—Trading was extremely slow and prices about steady on the Montreal livestock markets today.

Offerings were 34 cattle, 14 sheep and lambs, 27 hogs and 78 calves. Total receipts from Tuesday was 267 cattle, 128 sheep and lambs, 651 hogs and 497 calves.

A few medium cows sold at 24-26.50, common 21-24 and canners and cutters 15-21. Some common and medium bulls brought 22-27.

Calves were selling well following a fair demand at about steady prices. Good quality vealers were 35-36 and common and medium veal 28-34. Grassers and drinkers sold at 22-26.

Lambs were mostly 34-35, some common down to 30 and sheep 15-23.

Hogs were steady at 39 for grade "A" and sows 29-30 dressed.

TORONTO

Toronto, Aug. 1.— (CP) —Prices were mixed at the opening on the stock market today. Retail stores and agricultures were ahead in a slightly weaker industrial section. Foods, banks and utilities were in balance.

Base metals showed little trend, with gains and losses about even. Western oils were mixed. Senior golds were quiet, and a few secondary golds climbed pennies.

MONTREAL

Montreal, Aug. 1—(CP)—Securities were narrowly mixed at the opening on the Montreal stock exchange today after slight easiness yesterday. Trading was quiet.

Plus and minus signs were about evenly divided with a number of issues unchanged. Changes were mostly fractional.

Former B.C.S. Student Gets New Navy Post

Ottawa, Aug. 1. — (CP) — A 35-year-old sailor from Burma and Nova Scotia was named yesterday to command Canada's biggest warship, the 18,000-ton aircraft carrier Magnificent, starting late this year.

That appointment for Capt. Kenneth L. Dyer of Grand Pre, N. S., and Ottawa, a native of Burma, was one of 11 announced by naval headquarters in a big shift of captains and commodores — rank equivalents of the army's colonels and brigadiers.

Another switch saw Commodore Roger E. S. Bidwell, 51, of Halifax and Ottawa, assistant chief of staff for plans, named to temporary command of H.M.C.S. Naden at Esquimalt and officer-in-charge as commodore of R.C.N. barracks of the navy depot there.

A native of England, Commodore Bidwell attended Bishop's College School at Lennoxville where his father, later Anglican Archbishop of Ontario from 1913 to 1926, was headmaster.

The Daily Telegraph (Conservative) saw "one very solid advantage" in that "the Russian people will have had the satisfaction of reading for once something about the outside world which normally is presented to them only through the distorting lens of Soviet propaganda."

The News Chronicle (Liberal) called the exchange "disappointing" in that Morrison's simple statement of "the British way and purpose has produced an unbending restatement of the communist party line."

Rotary Club

Judges were Rotarians Emile Levesque, Don MacLennan and Frank Simms.

Two prizes, a bat and a softball, donated by the Rotary Club, were won by Lloyd Howe and Wayne Redway, respectively.

Before the showing of movies, which brought the evening to a close, President Emile Levesque expressed the thanks of the Rotarians to the Y's Men, the camp officials, the boys and Mrs. Waldie and her staff, for the cordial reception extended to them. "The annual visit to the Y's Men's Camp is always eagerly anticipated by all of us", he said, "and although many of us have sore backs and stiff muscles the next day, it is still a most enjoyable event."

Rotarians who attended were President Levesque, Past President E. W. Gilbey, Gerald Spafford, L. Lindskow, Bill Richardson, Bert Ross, Dan Towne, O. Broadbelt, Tom Keeley, H. Walker, Lee Audet, Jay Joslin, Past President Douglas Stevenson, Past President D. J. Salls, Past President E. E. Goodenough, Lewis Rosenbloom, F. Sangster, Cliff Bryant, Don MacLennan, Phil Mathias and Frank Simms.

BROME

Miss Beverly Soles accompanied them home and will be their guest for a time.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Lahue and Miss Norma Lahue, Mr. J. Boule and Mrs. Vincent, of Sutton, were visitors at the home of Mrs. Ida Robinson.

fighters such as the F86E Sabre and the CF100 Canuck.

But the European countries, trying to build their air forces anew, are quite willing just to get basic training for their men and by this fall Canada is expected to be in a good position to do more in that field.

There are two main reasons. One is that war veteran airmen have reacted in considerable numbers to the bid for instructors. The other is that by fall new Harvard trainers should be available in growing numbers.

Meanwhile, mainly on the Prairies, wartime schools selected for the scheme as it now exists are beginning to come back into operation.

The basic training is to be given at Centralia, Ont., Claresholm and Penhold, Alta., and Moose Jaw, Sask., with the present basic centre at Gimli, Man., eventually switching to advanced training. Other advanced schools are to be at Saskatoon and Portage la Prairie, Man.

Navigation schools are at Summerside, P.E.I., and Winnipeg and there is to be an advanced gunnery school at Macdonald, Man.

IN MEMORIAM

ROSS—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, who passed away August 1st, 1939.
Quietly and quickly came the call,
Your sudden death surprised us all,
Deep in our hearts your memory is kept,
We smile with the world but never forget.

CATHCART — In loving memory of Herbert, who was called to his eternal rest August 1st, 1947.
Peacefully laid one of the best,
In God's own garden now at rest,
He left us suddenly,
His thoughts unknown.
But left a memory
I am proud to own.

Wheat Carrying Charge Defended

London, Aug. 1—(Reuters)—Canada and the United States emerged today from a meeting on the international wheat council still clinging to their right to impose a carrying charge on wheat they sell to foreign countries.

Under the international wheat agreement, signed in 1949, they sell wheat to importing countries at a maximum of $1.80 a bushel. They have since imposed a "carrying charge" of six cents a bushel which has been hotly attacked by the importers.

The assault on the charge, led by Britain at the fifth session of the secret council session Monday and Tuesday, produced no decision. The matter now is in the hands of the executive committee, which will report back to the council either at the next session in October or earlier.

The U.S. and Canada contend the charge is justified by the unforeseen rise in other prices since the agreement was negotiated. They say this general price rise is working against their wheat producers, forced to sell at the fixed price.

The importing countries argue that the carrying charge violates the principle of the agreement. They said that if they paid the charge they did so under duress and without prejudice to their eventual rights.

High School Graduates!

become Commissioned Officers in the Canadian Army Active Force

Armour • Artillery • Infantry

Young men recently graduated from High School with a minimum educational standard of Junior Matriculation, may become officers in the Canadian Army Active Force.

If accepted you begin training at Camp Borden as an officer cadet to qualify as a Second Lieutenant in the Active Force. You will receive Second Lieutenant's pay while in training. This training will consist of three courses totalling a period of twenty-eight weeks. When you are granted a commission you will then serve for periods of 3, 4 or 5 years as you choose under the Short Service Commission Plan. At the end of this service you may apply for a permanent commission.

This is a chance to serve Canada at a time when defence stands as a most important national concern. The training and experience in leadership will be invaluable assets to any young man throughout his whole life.

TO QUALIFY YOU MUST BE:

- Single
- Physically Fit
- Between 18 and 25 years of age
- A Junior Matriculation Graduate

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel — And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out about 2 pints of bile juice into your digestive tract every day. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the digestive tract. Then gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

It takes those mild, gentle Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these 2 pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." Get a package today. Effective in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. 35¢ at any druggists.

Fifty Members Of McMahon Family Gather At West Shefford For Reunion

West Sheford, August 1.—Sunday, July 22nd., was a great day for the McMahon family of West Shefford, when over 50 relatives gathered at the home of Mrs. Bruce Payne, and Miss Ellen McMahon, in West Shefford, for dinner and reunion.

This provided the three brothers and several sisters of the McMahon family an opportunity to compare notes and remininisce back to the far-off, happy days of the yester-years, when seven sons and 10 daughters comprised the family, who then lived under the parental roof of Thomas and Mrs. McMahon, (the former Mary June Dunlavey), in their farm home, at St. Joachim.

To West Shefford, 60 years ago, came the late John McMahon. His brother James Patrick, soon followed with Michael coming later. A few years ago, Joseph established himself in business here. Mrs. Arthur Dunn has for many years resided here. And two years ago, Mrs. Payne joined Miss Ellen McMahon, and took up residence here.

In the story of West Shefford there may well be a part devoted to this fine Irish Catholic family, whose sons have successfully tilled the soil all the while remembering their responsibilities as citizens and whose daughters, one of whom, Susie, Mrs. White, was a nurse and another, Emma, deceased, a nun, of the Presentation Order, are capable women fond of family life and bound together with ties of a family affection that is remarkable and worthy of imitation.

The immediate members of the family included Mr. and Mrs. J. P. McMahon, Mr. and Mrs. Michael McMahon; Mr. and Mrs. Jos. McMahon, all of West Shefford; Mrs. Elizabeth Carey, of Granby; Miss Ellen McMahon, West Shefford; Mrs. Jane Carroll, St. Mary's; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McGowan (Tilly) of St. Joachim; Mrs. (Col.) J. B. Payne (Clare), West Shefford; Mr. and Mrs. Frank White (Susie), of Springfield, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dunn (Rose), of West Shefford; Mr. and Mrs. Edward McDonald (Agnes), Granby.

So, the 95 or more descendants of the late Thomas and Mrs. McMahon, 40 of whom are grandchildren and 38 great-grandchildren, have a fresh challenge to maintain and strengthen their splendid family tradition.

General Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Snodgress with Mr. Irving Snodgrass motored to Cowansville, on Monday evening, to express their sympathy to the family of the late Mrs. George Burnet.

Mr. and Mrs. Miles Enright accompanied by the Misses McGuire were in Waterloo on Sunday evening last calling on Mrs. Leroy Hayes, upon her return from the Western Division of the Montreal General Hospital.

On Sunday morning Mr. Frank McMahon en route from Boston, Mass., to Montreal, called and had breakfast with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael McMahon.

Callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Donaway lately included—Mrs. Alice Savary, of Farnham, Mrs. Crawford, of Montreal; Mr. George Chapman and son, and Mr. and Mrs. Orval McGovern, Frost Village; Mr. Edward Garnet, Montreal.

To mark the completion of his two year term as president of the Quebec Retail Merchants' Association, Mr. Luc Marchessault was tendered a testimonial dinner in Montreal last week. Mrs. Marchassault accompanied by Messrs. Jacques and Victor Marchessault and Miss Lucy Marchessault, also attended the banquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank White, who during their stay here whilst they visited the various members of the McMahon family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dunn, returned to Springfield, Mass., early last week.

Mr. Alfred Gervais has arrived from Regina, Sask., to spend the remainder of the summer with Mr. Viens and Miss Viens.

Mrs. John R. Garland with her two small sons, Bruce and John, Jr., of Montreal, spent a week with her mother, Mrs. Bruce Payne.

Mr. Alfred Daudelin with his son, Robert, spent a week in Montreal holidaying.

Sheffordians regretted the unfortunate accident which caused Raymond Labreque, 22, to be thrown from his motor cycle, on the Roxton Road early Sunday morning, and badly mangle his leg. He is at present in a Montreal hospital.

On Saturday afternoon, July 21, Mrs. Clair Enright pleasantly entertained at a tea and a presentation in honor of her sister-in-law, Miss Ethelyn Enright, an August bride-elect and Miss Marilyn McMahon, whose marriage to Mr. Martin Enright took place on July 28. The decoration motif was that of Spring flowers, they also formed the centrepiece of the table at which Mrs. Joseph McMahon and Miss Mary Dunlavey, aunt of Miss Enright, poured tea. The guests of honor—two of Shefford's most popular young ladies, sincerely thanked the hostess and their friends for not only their useful gifts but also for their good wishes for happy and successful marriages. In this wish their many friends here and elsewhere join.

BY AL KARALFA

BORN May 29, 1736, in Hanover county, Virginia, this man married at 18 and, after failing successively at storekeeping and farming, he became a lawyer in 1760. His great eloquence seemed suddenly to develop itself to such extent he soon found himself the leading American orator. Once, by mistake, he argued in behalf of his opponent in court, then answered his own arguments and won the case. He became Virginia's first governor in 1776 and framed the state's first constitution. While advocating the arming of the Virginia militia for immediate war against Great Brtain, he originated the famous declaration: "I know not what course others may take, but as for me, give me liberty or give me death." He died June 6, 1799. Who was he?

Mrs. J. W King and Mrs. A. L. King, of Montreal, were joint hostesses at a kitchen and pantry shower at the former's home on Camirand Street, on Saturday evening, in honor of their niece, Miss Juanita Mouldy, an August bride-to-be. About twenty guests were present to greet the bride-elect who was taken by surprise, when she entered the room, to the singing of "She's a jolly good fellow."

The guest of honor was then escorted to her special place under an arch of wedding bells and yellow mauve and green streamers which pointed to a table on which was placed a large decorated basket heaped with gaily wrapped kitchen utensils and groceries. After the parcels were opened and duly admired, Miss Mouldy graciously thanked her friends for their lovely gifts and best wishes. The balance of the evening was then spent in music and dancing.

Later the hostesses served refreshments in the dining room, where mauve, white and pink phlox centered the tables, flanked by tall green tapers. The hostesses were assisted by the Misses Kathleen King and Elsie Mouldy.

The tea table was arranged with a lace cloth and white hydrangeas and centered with the christening cake, decorated in white and pale blue. Toasts were proposed to Michael Gregory.

IN THE WOMEN'S SPHERE

MARRIAGES

BLAKE—BELL

Beulah United Church, Ayer's Cliff, decorated with cedar, peonies, roses, and lacy arch, was the scene of one of the season's prettiest weddings when Miss Margaret Bell, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bell, became the bride of Mr. Kenneth Blake, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Blake, all of Ayer's Cliff, on Saturday, June 30, the Rev. W. Harold Boomhour officiating. The wedding marches were played by Miss Irene Boomhour and Mrs. R. Gordon McHarg sang "The Lord's Prayer" before the marriage, and "Because" during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was in a slipper-length satin brocade gown, styled with frill around a net yoke of the fitted bodice, pointed sleeves over the hands, and full skirt. Her silk tulle illusion veil, falling in a train, was held by a pearl coronet, and her cascade bouquet was composed of American Beauty roses and baby's breath, while rosebuds were tied into long satin streamers. She wore a three-strand pearl necklace, the gift of the groom.

Mrs. Russell Taylor, her sister's matron of honor, wore a gown of mauve brocade, fashioned with a fitted bodice, having short cap sleeves, and a floor-length skirt, matching mitts, and a fingertip-length mauve veil, held by a wreath of apple blossoms. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow gladioli centered with mauve sweet peas.

The bridesmaid, Miss June Frappied, was gowned in a frock of yellow brocade with matching mitts, a fingertip-length veil of yellow, and she wore a wreath of apple blossoms in her hair. Her colonial bouquet was mauve gladioli and yellow sweet peas.

Little Miss Margaret Gaylor, of Wells River, Vt., cousin of the bride, as flower girl, was dressed in a frock of pale green organdy with a full floor-length skirt and frilled sleeves, and she wore an apple blossom wreath, and carried a basket of flowers, strewing rose petals up the aisle.

Mr. Russell Taylor acted as best man, and the ushers were Mr. Freddie Bell, the bride's brother, and Mr. Newton Blake, brother of the groom.

Mrs. Bell, the bride's mother, wore a frock of navy and white printed silk, blue and white accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. Blake, mother of the groom, was in a wine and white printed silk frock with grey accessories, and her corsage was of yellow roses.

The reception, following the ceremony was held in the church hall, when the Beulah Evening Association catered to about fifty guests from Knowlton, Wells River, Vt., Montreal, Baldwin's Mills, and Ayer's Cliff.

Later the happy couple left on a wedding trip through the White Mountains, to Hampton Beach, thence to Rhode Island. The bride travelled in a navy blue taffeta dress, trimmed with lace, a navy shortie coat, blue and white hat, and she wore white accessories, and a corsage of red roses.

Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Blake took up residence in Ayer's Cliff.

KEMP—REID

A quiet but pretty wedding took place in the Manse of the St. Andrew's church, Portland Avenue, Sherbrooke, on Saturday, June 30, at half-past three o'clock, when Agnes, daughter of Mrs. Edward Reid and the late Mr Reid, of Sherbrooke, was united in marriage to Harold Kemp, son of Mr. Charles Kemp and the late Mr. Kemp, of London, England, the Rev. Ross Adams officiating.

The bride wore a street-length dress of powder blue taffeta with matching hat trimmed with white flowers, white accessories and a corsage of American Beauty roses and stephanotis.

She was attended by Miss Bella Heath, of Sherbrooke, who wore a street-length dress of pink, floral nylon, matching accessories, and a corsage of pink roses.

Mr. Edward Harrison acted as best man.

Following the ceremony the reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. E. Reid, Wellington Street, and later Mr. and Mrs. Kemp left on a trip to Montreal, the bride travelling in a pink crepe dress, a matching hat and white accessories.

The out-of-town guests were from Ottawa, Toronto, Ont., and Montreal.

GRANBY EDGES A'S 3-2; QUEBEC BRAVES HERE TOMORROW

Locals Rally In Late Stages Of Game But Sox Maintain Supremacy Over Roland Gladu's Faltering Squad

The staggering Sherbrooke Athletics dropped another close one last night in the late stages of the game when one of their almost forgotten rallies was nipped by Big John Griffiths to allow the Red Sox to walk off with another decision over the locals in a closely fought battle.

The starting hurlers, Lou Shapiro and Roy Partlow, were staging a real hurlers' duel until the last two innings of the game when each had allowed only three hits going into the eighth. The local tosser went the route but Partlow required help from Andre and Griffiths to finish the game.

This evening the two teams will meet in Granby and tomorrow the A's will return home to receive a visit from the up-and-coming Braves of Quebec. George McQuinn's club gained a full game on the locals and are now in a threatening position to bypass the locals for third spot.

Shapiro hurled one of his better games and gave up six hits. He fanned two and didn't issue any free passes to first. Partlow accounted for two at the plate but gave up four walks during his sojourn. Andre, who relieved him in the eighth, was nicked for two. Griffiths accounted for the last two men of the game.

Granby started the scoring when Armour lifted a high ball to deep centre field which Pages let bounce out of his glove and came home to tally the first run of the game. Shapiro failed to give up a hit until the sixth when the first two men to face him slapped out singles. Armour sacrificed and then Kimball came home on Brucella's long fly ball for the second tally.

Garcia drove out a bingle in the opening inning and Pages got another in the third but that was all until the sixth frame when Bill Metzig accounted for the third local hit. But these failed to produce any runs as Partlow was tough in the clutches and was given fine support by his mates.

PASCUAL K.O'ED BY MONTEIRO

In the top half of the sixth Joe Monteiro lashed out a lusty triple to deep right field. Barbee was tossed out, short to first, and when Cash lifted a fly ball to Ballester, which he snared, Monteiro broke for home but the local shortstop made a perfect peg, to beat him by a good ten feet. Pascual with the ball in his hand stood crouched and Monteiro deliberately crashed into him after he had been tagged out and knocked Pascual out cold. It didn't met with the fans' approval and they didn't fail to let him know with the loud shouts.

In the eighth the Red Sox picked up another point and seemed to be coasting home with another win all wrapped up. In the lower half of the frame the locals got to Partlow and drove him to the showers. Pascual singled, Shapiro walked and Pages hit a fielder's choice to retire him and when Metzig drew a free pass Manager Kimball called in John Andre.

Garcia worked a free ticket and things looked bad. Duany singled but only one run crossed the plate. Ballester killed off the rally when he drove into a double play to end things.

In the ninth it was 1-2-3 as Shapiro was short and snappy. The A's came back with another rally. Gonzalez flied out but Mantaras picked up a bingle and then the pinch hitters were called to the rescue. Gladu drew a walk and Brown singled but Mantaras was held at third. Manager Kimball lifted his ace right hander, Andre, for Griffiths. Pages flied out to short left field and Bill Metzig went down, short to first, to end the rally and give the Red Sox another victory over the locals.

Ben Hogan To Enter All-American Tourney

Chicago, Aug. 1—(AP)—While the field was being arrayed for the three-in-one All-American Golf Tournament starting Thursday, promoter George S. May landed a prize entry for his even bigger show next week, the $50,000 "World" championship of golf.

Lured by the $12,500 top payoff, U.S. Open Champion Ben Hogan ended his four-year disdain of May's Tab O'Shanter golf.

"Ben said he will be in Chicago next Monday and will be all set to play Thursday," May said.

Cardinals Chalk Up Fifth Straight Win

Cardinals pounded out a 22-5 decision over the Rockets to maintain their unbeaten string in the Lennoxville Bantam Softball League.

It was the fifth consecutive victory for the Cards and practically ensures them of the loop title as they have only one game ramaining to complete their schedule.

Charlie Fraser led the way for the winners in the hitting assault with a round-tripper and three triples while his mates, Way and Jimmy Wray each connected for circuit blows as well. Clark Smith and Wray drove out triples also. The Rockets picked up three two-baggers.

The line score follows:

Rockets	00 0 23— 5 10 0
Cardinals	1013 8x—22 23 0

Dan Bankhead Drops Second With Royals

Dan Bankhead, 30-year old right-hander of Montreal Royals, is having a rough time in his second stay in the International League.

Bankhead made his second start last night since arriving from Brooklyn Dodgers and suffered his second defeat as the Royals dropped the second game of a double-header to Toronto Maple Leafs 3-2.

The veteran negro, who won 20 and lost six for the Royals in 1949, departed in the seventh inning after Les Fleming tagged him for a two-run homer that gave the Leafs a 3-0 lead.

Lefty Hal Hudson blanked the Royals until the ninth when Bob Morgan slammed a two-run homer. The victory was Hudson's 11th.

The Royals copped the seven-inning opener 1-0 behind the two-hit pitching of lefty Chris Van Cuyk. Morgan doubled home pinchrunner Johnny Welaj with the only run in the final inning.

Brilliant pitching by Ed Wright and George Bamberger enabled Ottawa Giants to take a double-header from Buffalo Bisons, 4-0 and 9-0. Wright blanked the Bisons on two safeties in the seven-inning opener and Bamberger shut Buffalo out on four hits in the nightcap.

The Giants sewed the nightcap up with seven runs in the seventh inning. Rudy Minarcin suffered his first loss after 10 straight victories in the nightcap.

The setbacks dumped the Bisons out of second into third place in favor of Syracuse Chiefs who dropped a 6-3 decision to Springfield Cubs. Vern Fear limited the Chiefs to six hits.

Baltimore Orioles turned back Rochester Red Wings 8-4. Blix Donnelly scattered eight Red Wing hits including first-inning home runs by Jay Van Noy and Steve Bilko.

Two Title Matches To Be Held This Month

New York, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Titleholder Joey Maxim and Irish Bob Murphy signed officialy for their light-heavyweight championship bout and welterkiing Kid Gavilan and Billy Graham for their welterweight title fight at the New York Athletic Commission office yesterday. Neither contract provided for a return match.

Maxim and Murphy will meet in a 15-rounder in Madison Square Garden Aug. 22. Gavilan and Graham, occupy the same arena Aug. 29.

U.S.H.L. To Decide Today About Future

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Governors of the United States Hockey League are to meet here today to decide the fate of the circuit. There has been speculationu it may suspend operations for a year.

The governors and president Ron Cook met here in June but put off any decision on the league's future. Since then, one of the members, Milwaukee, has applied for a franchise in the American Hockey League. Another St. Paul, has announced it will enter a team in the Minnesota semi-pro circuit.

The remaining members are Denver, Kansas City, Tulsa and Omaha.

Today also is the last day in office for Cook under the one-year contract awarded him a year ago.

Joe Louis Favored Tonight Against Brion

San Francisco, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Aging Joe Louis, whose great ambition is to become the first ever to win back the heavyweight championship, battles it out tonight with Argentina's best prospect of 25 years — Cesar Brion.

Their 10-round fight at the Cow Palace expected to return better than $50,000 in gate receipts, is highly important to both.

Louis will be at the end of the road if defeated. The ex-champion must win this one or else his chances of getting a crack at the crown will be gone, probably forever.

At 37, Joe hasn't many years left for the ring. Louis beat Brion for a 10-round decision last November in Chicago but the 24-year-old contender from the Argentine has improved greatly since then.

Louis has been established a 4-1 favorite to defeat the South American champion in their second meeting.

Louis is expected to weigh in around 212 pounds. Brion is a 195-pounder.

Robert Bedard, Local Net Star, Chalks Up Victory In Maritime Tennis Tournament At Halifax

Halifax, Aug. 1.— (CP) —Junior players staged an onslaught in the second day of play in the Nova Scotia Tennis Tournament at the South End Club here today.

A comely junior from Truro, Carolyn Flemming, figured in two matches which threw the seeding out the window. She defeated Mrs. Anna Ross, North Sydney, seeded three in the ladies singles, and last year's finalist in this event. Carolyn, Nova Scotia's junior champion, won 6-2, 6-1.

She was then paired with Himmy Scriven, Nova Scotia's junior men's champion. They took on the first seeded team of Bill Pope, Halifax, and Mrs. C. H. Mitchell, Sydney, yast year's Eastern Canadian Champions, and knocked the senior pair out of the running 6-4, 12-10.

Another young combination, Anne Stacey and Joyce Hollett, Halifax, threw a scare into the first seeded pair in the women's doubles when they forced Mrs. C. H. Mitchell, Sydney, and Mrs. T. W. Thompson, Halifax, to three sets before bowing out 6-1, 3-6, 6-1.

Sally Roper, Halifax, took the second seeded women, Marion Edgar, Toronto, to three sets before losing in the women's singles. The scores of this match were 3-6, 6-4, 6-2.

While the women were figuring in all the surprises of the day, things went along according to the records in the men's events.

Robert Bedard, Sherbrooke, Que., ranked number two, was extended in beating Bev. Piers, Halifax veteran, in three sets. After dropping the first set to the Haligonian 6-4 Bedard took the next two 6-3, 6-3 but had to fight all the way for his win.

All favored teams advanced in the men's doubles. With play in the women's singles and doubles getting down to the quarter final stages strong matches are expected from now on.

Baseball Warned If Freed Of Anti-Trust Laws That Players Rights Must Be Protected First

Washington, Aug. 1.— (AP) — Baseball was told yesterday that if it expects to be exempt from anti-trust legislation, it has to change its thinking.

National League President Ford Frick was up as a witness in a congressional hearing on the game when Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY) suddenly snapped this fast one at him:

"You are so imbued with the spirit of maintaining the status quo that you are like the people who ride in railroad cars sitting backward. You don't see anything until you've passed it.

"If we exempt you from anti-trust legislation, you are going to have to reorient your thinking."

Celler's comment came after Frick had tried to explain why there has been no change in the way the major leagues are set up even though the population shift has been steadily westward.

Frick said he thinks the time will come—in the "foreseeable future"—when major leagues will expand westward. And he read a National League report to show baseball has been thinking about the question.

Celler sniffed and took off on his lecture.

The New Yorker is chairman of the House Judiciary Subcommittee which is studying whether baseball violates anti-trust laws, and whether it should be exempt from those laws.

He announced later in the day that Leslie O'Connor, counsel for the Pacific Coast League, will be called later to give his views on the West Coast's efforts to turn into big leaguers.

Frick also heard and implied warning that if baseball is exempted from anti-monopoly regulations, some way must be found to protect the rights of players.

Indians Rise As Chief Threat To Yanks As Red Sox Lose Winning Touch At Home; Dodgers Extend Lead

Cleveland's onrushing Indians loomed today as the chief threat to New York's hopes of retaining its American League crown now that Boston's Red Sox are showing signs of losing their magic touch at Fenway Park.

Continuing to rebound from two straight lickings at Yankee Stadium, the Indians last night made it four victories in their last five games by conquering the Senators in Washington, 5-3.

The triumph gave the Tribe undisputed possession of second place, two games behind the Yankees and one in front of the third-place Red Sox.

The Red Sox, in absorbing a shocking 3-6 setback at the hands of the lowly St. Louis Browns, now have lost four out of seven since returning to Fenway Park.

Chicago's plunging White Sox dropped a 4-2 decision to Philadelphia Athletics. The defeat, the 10th in their last 11 games, dropped the fourth place White Sox a discouraging 7½ behind the idle Yankees.

The arrival of August finds the Brooklyn Dodgers sailing along serenely with a 9½-game advantage in what is laughingly called the National League pennant race. The runaway Dodgers ran their victory skein to 10 in a row with an 8-3 win in Pittsburgh.

New York's runner-up Gaints kept pace with a 4-3 victory in Chicago. Philadelphia's defending champion Phillies swept past St. Louis into third place with a 7-5 triumph in Cincinnati while Boston Braves were shutting out the Cardinals 6-0.

Bob Feller, baseball's biggest winner, notched his 16th triumph as the Indians rallied for three runs in the top of the ninth to overcome a 3-2 Washington lead.

Two big innings—a three-run fifth and a four-run seventh—helped the Browns to victory over the Red Sox. Third baseman Fred Marsh singled to spark the fifth-inning uprising and singled again to drive in two mates in the seventh.

Ned Garver, Brownie ace, appeared on the way to his 14th victory but was forced to leave in the fifth inning after pulling a muscle in his left leg. He suffered the injury in the top of the fifth while diving back to first after driving in his second run with a single.

Although leading 4-2 when he left, Garver did not get credit for the win. The league rule, changed last year, states that a starter must work at least five innings to gain credit for the win. Satchell Paige, who took over, picked up the victory.

Hank Majeski, obtained from Chicago in a mid-season deal, paced the Athletics to their win over the White Sox. The slugging third baseman made three of Philadelphia's eight hits, scored three runs and homered against his former mates.

Don Newcombe hurled his 15th win for Brooklyn as the Dodgers hammered Howie Pollet and three successors for 16 hits. Newcombe starred at bat, too, with three hits. Duke Snider and Pee Wee Reese homered for the league leaders.

Bobby Thomson drove in all New York's runs with a pair of homers in the Giants' 4-3 victory over the Cubs. Jim Hearn was credited with his 10th victory although he needed help from Sheldon Jones and Sal Maglie.

The Phills, still smarting from Manager Eddie Sawyer's tongue-lashing on slacking, rallied for six runs in the ninth to overcome a 5-1 deficit and whip the Reds. Del Ennis' three-run homer off Howie Fox highlighted the assault.

Rookie Chet Nichols hurled the shutout for the Braves, limiting the Cards to four singles for his fifth victory.

Dick Huffman Ordered To Remain With Los Angeles Rams By Court

Charleston, W.Va., Aug. 1.—(AP) —The first court test of a National Professional Football League player contract resulted yesterday in a clear-cut victory for club owners.

Judge Julian F. Bouchelle made permanent an order restraining tackle Dick Huffman, who jumped to Winnipeg Blue Bombers, from playing with anyone other than Los Angeles Rams with whom he has starred for four seasons.

The circuit court decision upheld the validity of a Ram contract with Huffman which expired May 1, but which granted the club a further option—which it exercised—on the big tackle's services until May 1, 1952.

The Huffman case developed after he signed May 26 to play with the Blue Bombers of the Western Canadian Interprovincial Football Union in 1951-52. He argued that his Los Angeles contract was unfair to him, and that he had signed no agreement for this year.

Carl Davis, counsel for Huffman, said after yesterday's hearing the case probably would be carried to the West Virginia Supreme Court.

Huffman himself was not in court and Judge Bouchelle noted that. The jurist was angered at an earlier hearing by news stories that Huffman already was in Canada, despite a temporary restraining order against him.

Present, however, were coach Joe Stydahar of the Rams and coach Alvin (Bo) McMillin of Philadelphia Eagles, both called by the Rams' lawyers.

Stydahar explained the contract to which Huffman was signed on July 17, 1950, at a salary of $9,000. McMillin called him one of the top four such linemen in pro ranks.

Bouchelle noted earlier, in overruling Huffman's objections to the temporary restraining order, that the total period involved in the tackle's contract actually was two years, counting the option provision.

He said, however, that he viewed this as "not unreasonable from the standpoint of either party in view of the problems of training, managing and operating a professional athletic team."

Huffman's lawyers had contended the contract was illegal because it lacked "mutuality"—an interchange of something of value between the parties. Bouchelle took the stand, however, that mutuality "exisists by reason of the reciprocal promises of the parties."

Stydahar admitted today that it would be "virtually impossible" to replace Huffman this fall. Even if one could be found with his physical ability, Stydahar said, "that player wouldn't have Dick's experience."

Three-Horse Pileup Occurs At Buffalo

Hamburg, N.Y., Aug. 1—(AP)—Two harness race drivers were injured last night in a three-horse pileup at Buffalo Raceway.

Levi Harner, the leading driver at the track, suffered injuries to the back and pelvis.

William Sheaffer had head, leg and hip injuries.

Both were taken to hospital. Attendants said they were not in serious condition.

The accident happened in the third race.

Sheaffer's horse went down. Dick Webber, driving the third horse, piled into Sheaffer's sulky and Harner's sulky crashed into Webber's.

Harner was thrown about 10 feet into the air. Webber was not hurt.

Sheaffer was trapped under his sulky and dragged about 20 feet.

Al Schact, World's Outstanding Baseball Comedian, Here Tomorrow; Show Slated To Commence At 8.00

The Sherbrooke Baseball Club in an effort to give their supporters the best in the world of baseball entertainment has secured Al Schact, the outstanding comedian in baseball, for tomorrow evening.

Last year the club brought Johnnie Jones to the local park and earlier this season Johnny Price supplied the fans with an exhibition of acrobatic stunts.

In Schact the team has secured the service of the ace man in the profession. He is the only comedian who has entertained the fans of the world series for straight twenty-five years. His reputation is now a legend in baseball entertainment and a series wouldn't be complete unless Schact was on hand to perform.

Schact gives a half an hour show and tomorrow he will commence at 8.00 to go through his antics. He is so sure that his fame has reached the City ahead of him that he made a wager with the local club that he would draw over 3,500 people at the park. If this is true then a new attendance record would be made.

Everywhere he has performed the crowds turned out in large numbers to witness him. Our fans from across the border know of his fame and judging from the demand for tickets there should be a good representation on hand tomorrow to welcome him.

George McQuinn and his youthful Braves will be the opponents for the A's and this should supply the fans with a very good ball game. Boston Braves, who sponsors McQuinn's club, has supplied them with a young bunch of hustlers. Their pitchers can hold their own with the best in the loop. This was more than proved over the week-end when Willey stepped in Sunday evening and retired Brown and Gladu with the bases loaded.

The rest of the staff are just as capable and anyone can turn in good performances when called upon. At present the Braves are right on the heels of the A's and a win would help to reduce the margin. On the other hand the locals must win if they wish to get back in a contending position for the coveted top position in Molini's circuit.

Cubans And Canadians Go Through Strenuous Tennis Workouts; Starters To Be Named By Captains Tonight

Montreal, Aug. 1.—(CP)—Canada and Cuba will name their starters for the three-day North American Davis Cup tie here at the stroke of midnight tonight.

The tennis matches start Friday afternoon with two singles matches.

Names of the starters of the Canadian team remained a guarded secret although Captain Gordon MacNeill admitted the speculators were "about right."

The consensus was the teams would line up this way:

Cuba—singles: Dr. Juan Weiss, 28, and Jose Aguero, 30; doubles: Weiss and Aguero.

Canada—singles: Brendan Macken, 28, and Lorne Main, 21; doubles: Macken and Henri Rochon, 28.

Bluntly, the attitude of Captain Eric Williams of Cuba is that he will have to use his two best players, Weiss and Aguero, to "stand up to the Canadians."

The Canadians are 3-1 choices in light betting to win the tie within four matches. However, the Cubans are far from gloomy. They feel they will be far from disgraced losing to a squad which has gained experience at the Wimbledon matches. The Cubans are handicapped by the lack of grass courts in their country.

Macken, a three-time Davis Cupper, is the No. 1 Canadian and is playing at the peak of his career.

After watching the Canadians work out in torrid 80 degree weather today, Williams said he thought Weiss and Main should provide the best match of the best-of-five series.

"Main is powerful and so is Weiss. They both play the back courts and should come up with some beautiful strokes."

Main, a native of Vancouver, says he's in top shape and might come up with the best tennis of his life in this series. He is confident, but not cocky.

"We have to win on the courts," he said. "These Cuban fellows are used to the heat and will quickly take advantage if we relax for a moment."

Fierce Rivalry Of Big Four And Western Canada League For Grey Cup Filling Pockets Of American Imports

Toronto, Aug. 1 —(CP)— Fierce rivalry among the clubs in the Big Four and Western Canada Football Leagues is filling the pockets of American players with Canadian cash.

As a direct result of what has become a supercharged struggle to get into the East-West final for the Grey Cup and the Dominion Championship, most of the eight teams this year have sought high-priced American stars.

In the process they have antagonized American club owners who have gone to the courts in the United States in an effort to stop what they call "player raiding" tactics. The rift may be hard to heal.

The influx of imports this season is the greatest yet in Canadian football. The number of "Name" players heading North of the Border emphasizes Canadian clubs are stepping into competition with the U.S. club owners for the best football talent available.

Many club officials fear that the keen competition for high-salaried imports will eventually harm the Canadian game since they say most teams barely make a profit. Some would like to see a salary limit for Americans or a decrease in the number allowed each team, if not a complete ban.

Again this year the import limit is seven but under a new rule any American who has played four seasons in Canada no longer is considered an import.

The demand for big names had its birth in the Frankie Filchock case. When the former New York Giants quarterback was suspended in the United States for alleged failure to report an attempted bribe offer, Hamilton was quick with an offer he readily accepted.

Two years ago Montreal Alouettes, seeking a name player as a gate attraction, lured Filchock from Hamilton with a reported $20,000 contract for two seasons in addition to a job. This season he was released to Edmonton where he is expected to move into the coaching job next year.

In the shopping for imports this season the big money offered is indicated in the hefty salary bids which enticed stars like quarterback George Ratterman of New York Yankees, tackle Dick Huffman of Los Angeles Rams, ends Bill Blackburn of Chicago Cardinals and Jack Nix of San Francisco '49ers to desert American pro ranks.

Actually, the amounts paid the imports have not been disclosed but reports have said they range from $5,000 a season for a fair player to close to $20,000, which the Alouettes are reported to be paying for Ratterman.

It was the departure of Ratterman to Montreal, Huffman to Winnipeg Blue Bombers and Blackburn to Calgary Stampeders that made the American club owners react violently to this year's raiding. American clubs have taken out injunctions in the U.S. trying to prevent them lining up with the Canadian teams.

Frivolous Salvage

The four crew members of the raft "Lethargia", which was on a cruise to New Orleans as a proving ground for human relationships, start salvage operations after the craft capsized in the Ohio River at Moundsville, W. Va. From left to right are Geraldine Garcia, Milt Bordon, Don Brown and skipper Mary Ellin McCrady. They hope to continue after repairs.

Boundary Rotarians And Guests Meet McGill Geographers At Dufferin Heights Country Club Supper Meeting

Derby Line, Aug 1. — "The rumor has got around that the Arctic is unfriendly, and that rumor has a basis of truth," said Brian Bird, of the staff of the McGill Geography Summer School, at a special meeting of the Rotary Club of the Boundary, held at Dufferin Heights Country Club, on Monday evening.

With the idea of showing that they were appreciative of the speakers furnished by the school, and with the purpose of getting acquainted with the staff, the Rotary Club of the Boundary invited members of the McGill group to a special meeting of the club, and made it ladies' night. With a fine turkey dinner supplied by Sam Abbott and his helpers, of the Dufferin Heights Country Club. The group met in this beautiful spot and enjoyed the opportunity of getting better acquainted.

Brian Bird gave a humorous but nevertheless rather accurate picture of life in the Arctic, based on exploratory trips in 1948 and 1950. "Thanks to the rumor that the Arctic is unfriendly,' said the speaker, "it is difficult to persuade people to go there. If we could picture it as a friendly, happy land, this school would be buried with applications and the American and Canadian armies would have streams of applicants for trips there! The rumor that the mosquitos are so big that they resemble huge planes, and they puncture cans and drink great quantities of gosoline, is simply not true.

"There are mosquitos in the Arctic, and they are fierce and large. Cut yourself a piece of steak and before you get it to your mouth it is completely limp and you get a mouthful of mosquitos.

"There are three ways to study the Arctic," said Mr. Bird,—"One, by means of books in a nice, comfortable library well in the South; two, by studying photos (and photos have been taken of virtually the whole of Canada) in an equally comfortable spot; and, three, by actually exploring the country itself,—by no means as pleasant as the first two methods but more accurate and probably the proper thing for a geographer to do.

"There is air service to the Arctic, and to most people that is the way to go. There is a saying, however, that goes 'If you have time to spare, go by air,' and that is often correct. Air line connections and weather often make a five hour trip take five weeks. We did go in by air, and we were absolutely certain that the pilot had missed the air-strip. He hadn't, it was just too narrow and too short —and it is still in use.

"We took a canoe trip up-river and for some days things were truly delightful, with temperatures in the 70's and 80's. The North soon decided, however, that it was being too kind, and it rained 46 of the next 47 days!

"On our second trip we went by boat through a lot of the Hudson Bay country, and once again the Arctic came through with plenty of sea ice, lots of fog and generally bad weather. Nevertheless, during the two trips we did learn a great deal about the Arctic, and we are going to go there again. It is after all the only way to really see and know this vitally important part of Canada.'

Mr. Bird told the story of the owner of the boat on which they explored in 1950. The owner had two wives, one quite young and attractive, the other older. Becoming a Christian made it necessary to limit himself to one wife, and accordingly he kept the younger one. Not wishing to see the older one suffer, he contacted a young man some distance away who was an expert with a boat, and arranged for him to marry the older wife for an interest in the boat.

Vice-president Rene Monty presided at the meeting, and a welcome to the guests and visitors was extended by Vincent Davis. There were 50 present, and among them the following members of the McGill Geography Summer School: Kenneth Hare, the director; Mr. and Mrs. Began Zaborski, Mr. and Mrs. John Teal, Col. Pat Baird, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Summers, W. F. Christians, and Mr. and Mrs. Brian Bird.

Besides the Rotarians and Rotary Anns, there were a number of guests among them were Mr. and Mrs. Heron Hudson, Miss Mary Flint, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Pocock and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Campbell.

Visiting Rotarians present were Percy Protector, of Babylon, N. Y.; Ward McLaughlin, of Bay Shore, N. Y.; Robert Davis and Fred Davis, of Newport, Vt.; Pat Patterson, of Montreal, who was accompanied by his wife.

Music for the singing was played by Kenneth Hare and led by C. R. MacLean. The speaker was introduced by Maurice Moore, and thanked by E. J. Struthers.

A Young Robin Makes Its Home At Mr. and Mrs. A. Taylor's, Cowansville

Cowansville, Aug. 1. — While constant warfare is carried on with starlings, which are intent on destroying the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Taylor, of Cowansville, a young robin of doubtful age has become determined to attach itself permanently to the family circle. Many heads would wag with scepticism at the tales told of this young feathered boarder but the Taylors will vouch for them on request. Having arrived about two weeks ago, via the pocket of one of the young Taylor boys it now resolutely refused to go off on its own and so a regular routine of housing and feeding has been established.

When hungry the bird will chirp long and loudly at the screen door where Mr. Taylor has a supply of first quality worms in a box. At sight of any member of the family coming to the rescue the bird will fly up and perch on an outstretched finger from which place it will receive its ration of food. When fed it will rest on the porch in spite of the family dog and cat, which take little heed of it. When asked about the relations between the bird and the cat, Mrs. Taylor replied, "Oh, the cat will cuff it around now and then, but like the bird it is too well fed to prepare its own meals". At first, in an attempt to lessen feeding time, Mr. Taylor gave his little friend a night crawler but since it was nearly choked more time and care is given to dividing worms into sizes more suitable for a baby. Feeding hours start with breakfast at 6 a.m., and continue throughout the day until dusk, when the Robin will retire into a tree next door for the night. When called it will show up more readily than the Taylor children under similar circumstances.

When attention wavers at home the bird will visit at the farm of Mr. John McClure, just across the street, and as he carries his early morning milk to the milk house it will perch on Mr. McClure's finger and practically ask for an "eye opener" until the Taylors wake up. Although the McClure farm cats show some hostility the bird, so far, has come through unscathed.

Mr. Taylor intends to place a band on the Robin's leg against the day when it will find it must leave, with however the possibility of returning next Spring to take its place along with the starlings in the garden, where it will do its share of stripping currants, and other delicacies before they may be put to more useful purposes.

General Notes

Mrs. D. W. Smith, Mrs. Craigie, Mrs. C. Hamilton, Mrs. K. Elvidge and Mrs. C. McCormick attended the Women's Missionary Society meeting in Brigham on Wednesday afternoon, July 25. The guest speaker was Mrs. Porritt, president of the Montreal Presbyterial, and gave an excellent talk.

Miss Doris Bridgette and Mrs. C. McCormick entertained a number of former C.G.I.T. girls and near neighbours, at the home of the latter in honour of Miss Barbara Ball, whose marriage took place on Tuesday evening, July 24. The gifts were attractively arranged coming from a horn of plenty. After all had been admired, Miss Ball thanked the gathering in verse in her usual pleasing manner. After a social hour, Mrs. C. Longeway and Miss Heather MacDonald assisted the hostesses in serving delicious refreshments.

Mr. J. Prendergast, of Montreal, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. Stocks and family.

Beebe Women's Institute Plan To Hold A Bazaar In The Hall In September

Beebe, August 1. — The July meeting of the Beebe Women's Institute was held at the Knight Farm, on the Beebe-Griffin Road, and the hostesses were Miss Kearns and Miss Hancox, who are now the residents at the farm. There were 21 members and 12 visitors present. The president, Mrs. Brevoort, opened the meeting in the usual manner, and the roll call was answered by the members naming a flower or plant mentioned in the Bible.

The treasurer, Mrs. Leon Miller, reported that there was a balance of $104.11 in the bank. Miss Hancox, Education convener, and Miss Viola Moranville reported on the school closing prize-giving and entertainment. Several bills were ordered to be paid.

There was considerable discussion on the exhibits for the forthcoming Stanstead County Fair, to be held at Ayer's Cliff, and it was requested that all articles for the fair exhibited should be handed in before fair week. Miss Hancox was appointed delegate to the August quarterly County meeting, which is to be held in Stanstead North school-house, on August 2nd.

It was moved by Mrs. Woodard and seconded by Mrs. Leon Miller that the Beebe Women's Institute should hold a fair or bazaar in the town hall on Saturday, September 1, from 1 to 5 p. m., at which food, flowers and vegetables, fancy work and other articles to be offered for sale, and committees for the different departments were named.

A sunshine basket was suggested for one of the good friends of the Institute, Mr. Eugene Shepard, who was ill. It was also moved by Mrs. Stubbs that the Institute should send greetings and a small gift to new residents of Beebe, Mr and Mrs. Wenzel Muller and family, who had recently come to Canada from Poland.

The president welcomed the many visitors, and gave a very fine report of her trip to the Annual Convention of Quebec Women's Institutes, at Macdonald, in June. Three new members were added, Mrs. Charles Bullock, Mrs. Reginald Eryou and Mrs. Sam McAllister.

At the close of the meeting refreshments furnished by the various members were served in a picnic style of repast, which was very much enjoyed by everybody.

The circus came to town on Wednesday and put up their tents on the ball grounds, near the C. J.M. Factory. A splendid program was put on in three rings. The elephants especially were liked by everyone. Unfortunately the circus caravan broke down, coming through from Thetford Mines and could not put on an afternoon performance, which was a disappointment to many.

Mr. and Mrs. George Laxson and son, Robert, left on Monday, for Watertown, N.Y., where they will be joined by Mrs. Laxson's sister, Mrs. Denham, and Mr. Denham, who will accompany them on an extended motor trip. They will pass through Centralia, Ont., and visit Flight Cadet Donald Laxson, who is stationed there.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Copeland, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Laxson and daugter, Joyce, have returned home, after a trip to Springfield, Mass., where they were visiting relatives.

Mrs. Bisgard, of Montreal, is visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Norman de Valois, and Mr. de Valois, Manville Avenue. Mrs. Bisgard's friends in Asbestos, are very glad to know that she is able to be about again.

Mrs. Lyman Morrill left for Vancouver, B.C., by plane, where she will be visiting her son, Mr. Russell Morrill, for a short while.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rothney and son, Tommy, left by motor for Yarmouth, N.S., where they will visit Mrs. Rothney's parents for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Hector Martin, of Montreal, spent a few days at the home of Mrs. Martin's sister-in-law, Mrs. L. T. Dean, Belvedere Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm McGinnis and their guests, Captain and Mrs. William Pokowski, of Fort Knox, Ken., have been enjoying a few days at Brompton Lake.

Mr. J. E. Morrison has left for Pittsburg, N.H., and Los Angeles, Calif., where he will be on business for two weeks.

Mr. A. D. Tector has returned home, after a field tour in the Toronto area for the past week.

Mr. J. W. Roberts, of New York, has been in town for a few days at the home of Mrs. L. T. Dean.

Mr. and Mrs. Hawley Morrison, of Toronto, Ont., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Morrison, for a few days.

Miss Joan Wilson, of Montreal, spent the week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Wilson, on Belvedere Street.

Mr. K. V. Lindell has been in New York on business. Miss Ruth Lindell accompanied her father as fas as Montreal, going on to Ste. Anne's, where she was interviewed for a position at Macdonald College, Ste. Anne de Bellevue.

Mrs. Edith Boyd spent the week-end in Montreal with her son, Donald Boyd, and Mrs. Boyd.

Miss Gertrude Grapes, Of Eaton, Was Feted By Friends At A "Shower"

Eaton, August 1. — Mrs. Kingsley, Mrs. Davies and Mrs. Jenkin were hostess at a linen shower at the latter's home, on July 6, in honor of Miss Gertrude Grapes, a popular bride-of-the-month.

The rooms were decorated with streamers and flowers. The color scheme was pink and white.

Following the presentation of the gifts in a gaily decorated basket carried by little Betty Harrison and Janice Alden, Miss Grapes charmingly thanked all her friends in a few well chosen words.

After the gifts had been admired by all, refreshments were served by the hostesses and a social afternoon was spent.

General Notes

Miss Helen Sharp, of the Town of Mount Royal, spent a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Grapes.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Lowry included Mr. and Mrs. Clem Lowry and two children, Lois and Gary, Mr. and Mrs. Ervine Graham, Mr. and Mrs. William Graham and two children, and Mr. and Mrs. John Jones, all of Sawyerville, Mrs. George Lowell and two children, of Oshawa, Ont., and Mrs. Clifford Brazel and two children.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Burton, of Latuque, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. Grapes and Miss Gertrude Grapes.

The Ladies' Guild of St. Andrews Chapel was pleasantly entertained by Mrs. C. Jenkin, at her home. There was a good attendance. Some business was transacted and during the afternoon the Guild members presented Miss Gertrude Grapes, a bride-to-be, with a suitable gift on the occasion of her approaching marriage.

The sympathy of the community is extended the family of Mr. I. O. Glen in their bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Jones, of Toronto, Ont., were called here by the passing of their bro... in-law, Mr. I. O. Glen.

Callers at the home of Mr. G. E. Merrill included Miss E. Jenkin, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Merrill and Miss Margaret Merrill, of Lennoxville, and Mr. F. Pierce, of Bulwer.

Mr. G. E. Merrill and Mr. Robert Jenkin were calling on friends in East Hatley.

Miss Alma Clark and Mr. Frank Pierce, of Bulwer, were in Sherbrooke, where they were calling on Mr. Willard Ainsley, who is a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert McCafferty were in Montreal, where Mr. McCafferty has entered a hospital there for eye treatment.

Mrs. James Parkinson Of East Clifton Was Feted On Her Birthday As The W.I. Members Presented Her With A Gift

East Clifton, August 1 — On Wednesday evening, July 18, as had been planned, Mr. and Mrs. James Bellam called on Mr. and Mrs. James Parkinson and asked them to go for a short drive. Finally they drove up at Mr. Ray Waldson's house on a pretense and Mrs. Waldron came out and said, "Come on in, there is someone here who would like to see you."

As Mrs. Parkinson entered the room the Women's Institute members and a few friends present began to sing "Happy Birthday", as this was her natal day. The first that she had realized the party was in her honor.

At the request of Miss Darlene Bain, a corsage of pink rosebuds and fern was pinned on by Mrs. Waldron.

The evening was spent socially and in playing "500" under the leadership of Mrs. Frank McConnell. Those winning the highest scores were Mrs. F. McConnell and Mr. James Parkinson.

At the close of the games, delicious refreshments were served by the W.I. members, and including a birthday cake trimmed in pink and white with sixteen pink candles, the number of years Mrs. Parkinson has served as secretary-treasurer of the East Clifton W.I. The cake was made and decorated by Mrs. Desmond Bain. The candles were blown out by a niece of the guest of honor, Miss Diana Bellam.

After all had partaken of the delicious repast, a treat of ice cream from her husband and her niece, Miss Gwendolyn Bellam, was served.

Those seated at the table with the guest of honor were her husband, her father, Mr. Fred Bellam; her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Bellam; her cousin, Mrs. James Towers, a niece of Mr. Parkinson, Mrs. Warren Burrows, of Sidney, B.C.; and a life long friend, Mrs. Guy Waldron, of Sawyerville. Another cousin, Mrs. Frank Barber, and Mrs. Barber, were also present, and Messrs. Ross and Wayne Bellam.

The president of the W.I., on behalf of the members presented Mrs. Parkinson with an electric table lamp with the best wishes and in appreciation of her many hours of untiring efforts in the interest of the W.I.

Mrs. Parkinson was the recipient of other gifts, cards, etc.

Mrs. Parkinson was overcome by this kindness and thoughtfulness but thanked each and everyone for the pleasant surprise and enjoyable evening given in her honour. She thanked the hostess for her extra efforts in making it such a success, and to one and all for the lovely gifts, and stated how much that they were appreciated.

Those present from out of town were Mrs. Warren Burrows, of Sidney, B.C.; Miss Gwendolyn Bellam, of Sherbrooke; Miss Patricia and Mr. Donald Waldron, of Hudson Heights; Mr. and Mrs. Guy Waldron and Rev. R. A Cameron, of Sawyerville; Mrs. Dixon, of Lachute; and several W.I. members with their husbands and families.

A pleasant evening was brought to a close and the company dispersed with good wishes to the guest of honor, in response to "A Thank You" from her.

Quebec Upsets Drummondville To Gain Ground In League Standing

Granby Red Sox strengthened their hold on the Provincial Baseball League's first place last year, downing Sherbrooke Athletics 3-2, despite an eighth inning two-run spurt by the Athletics.

In other games reported, Quebec Braves trounced Drummondville Cubs 13-3, St. Hyacinthe downed Three Rivers Royals 9-5 and St. Johns Braves beat Farnham Pirates 3-1.

Louis Shapiro worked the nine innings for Sherbrooke and was charged with the loss, while Granby fielded three hurlers. Roy Partlow earned the victory, pitching seven innings before he was replaced by John Andre.

At Farnham, St. Johns hung a 3-1 defeat on the Pirates, bunching all their runs in the sixth inning.

P. Gosselin was winning pitcher, working six innings before he was succeeded by Ruben Gomez. Willie Morales was the loser.

Playing at home, Quebec Braves pounded two Drummondville pitchers for 19 hits to take a 13-3 decision.

After centrefielder Frank Neri homered in the first with no one on, the Braves started hitting start Len Hooker. His successor, Lou Bilbrey, fared no better.

At St. Hyacinthe, the sixth-place Saints won an easy 9-2 victory over the cellar-dwelling Three Rivers Royals.

F. Parker started for the Saints and gave Three Rivers four of their runs before he was replaced by Will Pope who held the Royals at bay. Losing pitcher was S. Hadlock who went all the way for the Royals.

Three Rivers outhit St. Hyacinthe 14-13.

Charles To Insist For Bout With Jersey Joe

New York, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Ezzard Charles will insist on Jersey Joe Walcott going through with his return bout within 90 days of their July 18th battle at Pittsburgh.

Ton Tannas, co-manager of the dethroned heavyweight champion, made this positive today when he arrived for a meeting with Jim Norris, President of the International Boxing Club, and Felix Bocchicchio, manager of Walcott.

The three men will get together this afternoon to iron out the heavyweight situation.

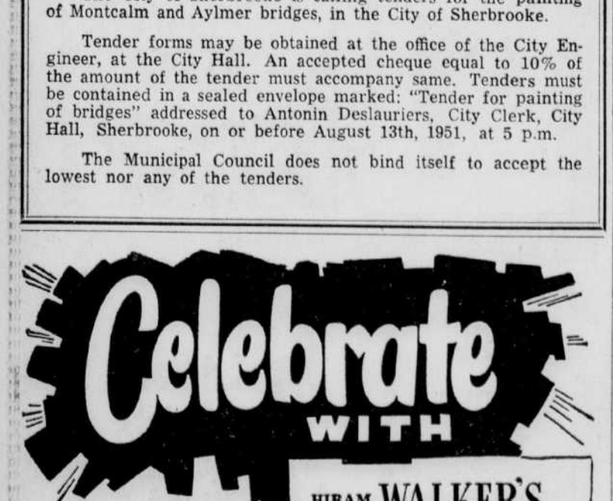

It is known that Bocchiocchio wants to put off any title bout until next year, possibly January. The 37-year-old champ is busy cashing in on his newly-won crown.

Yanks Grab Two Stars From Kansas City Club

New York, Aug. 1. — (AP) — The league-leading New York Yankees grabbed two hot shots from their Kansas City farm — outfielder Bob Cerv and lefthanded pitcher Bob Wiesler — to holster their bid for another pennant.

To make room for the newcomers, outfielder Jackie Jensen was optioned to Kansas City and outfielder Cliff Mapes was sold to St. Louis Browns for the $10,000 waiver price. The Yanks explained they wanted Jensen, a .298 hitter, to play every day.

Final Tune-Up In Order Today For Canadian Ladies' Golf Title

Montreal, Aug. 1.—(CP)—The big field of 92 in the Canadian ladies close golf championship got down to all-important final practice rounds today in preparation for the tournament's star Thursday.

The best tryout performance over the Laval-Sur-Lac course so far was that reported turned in yesterday by 17-year-old Marlene Stewart of the Lookout Point Club, Fonthill, Ont. The budding Ontario star shot a par 77.

Many of the players did not complete the course yesterday. Many called a halt at the 14th green, near the clubhouse.

Coinciding with the close championship play, the Provincial team championships will be decided. Next week the Canadian Ladies' Open Amateur Championship will be fought out over the same course by a field of 106.

The close tournament is a 54-hole medal-play affair, with 18 holes played each Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Included in the field are seven Provincial teams of four members each—the Maritime provinces entered as one team and the other provinces represented individually.

The team championship, won last year by Ontario, will be decided on the basis of 36 holes—the first two day's play of aggregate scores of each team's members.

The final 18 holes Saturday will round out the close championship, being defended by Mrs. Graeme Pyke of Montreal Whitlock.

The open amateur will get under way Monday with a medal-play qualifying round. Only 32 survivors will be left to go into match play that will end the following Saturday in a 36-hole struggle between the finalists. Losers will go into consolation flights.

Players tied for 32nd place in the qualifying round will have to settle the tie in sudden-death play.

The 1950 Open Amateur winner at Winnipeg, Dot Kielty of Los Angeles, is not an entrant this year. Neither is the 1951 runner-up, Grace De Moss of Corvallis, Wash.

But the American contingent will be spearheaded by Grace Lenczyk of Hartford, Conn., winner in 1947 and 1948, and a scratch player.

Hanover Names Its Own Horses, And Tags Stick As Badge Of Racing Merit; 22 Have Done 2.00 Or Better

Hanover, Pa.—When you go to the trots, there seems to be more Hanovers than horses.

It's Something Hanover this or Hanover's Something that.

L. B. Sheppard

The runners never had anything remotely aproaching this extraordinary situation even in the days of the many Valdinas and Darbys, or when the Army preceded the names of all its thoroughbreds with Reno.

The Jockey Club's registration department finally prohibited reiterative monickers. They caused errors in making up programs, confused $2 bettors.

But apparently no one minds in the booming standardbred sport.

The Hanover Shoe Farms horses are named as yearlings by Lawrence B. Sheppard and members of the office staff.

The name of a trotter or pacer can be changed for a fee of $1 immediately after it has been sold, but very few switch.

The reason is that the Hanover tag is a badge of merit.

World's Largest By Far

There is no particular pattern in the naming of Hanover horses, although a considerable percentage are identified so the first name, as in Edward Hanover, coincides with the first letter of the name of the dam, in this case Earl's Princess Martha. The horses are named for well-known owners, i.e. Phellis Hanover, Blake Hanover, etc., and renowned trainers, White Hanover, Egan Hanover and so on.

The Farms consist of several wrapped into one of 2000 acres, situated in the rolling and fertile valleys of the Dutch country, just outside Hanover, Pa., 11 miles from the halowed ground of Gettysburg, 14 north of York and 40 northeast of Baltimore.

This is the 25th anniversary of the founding of Hanover. That occurred in 1926, when H. D. Sheppard, his son, Lawrence B., and C. N. Myers purchased the stock of the late A. B. Coxe of Paoli, Pa. L. B. Sheppard is the Farms' head man and president of The United States Trotting Association.

767 Horses On Farms

Coxe had collected outstanding gaited racing mares and the great stallion, Dillon Axworthy. From then on, Hanover just grew and grew.

There are 767 horses on the Farms, including Farms and customer-owned mares, stallions, yearlings and weanlings. There are 110 Farms-owned and 96 customer-owned sucklings. There are 170 Farms-owned mares and 121 of them foaled this year, both record totals. A total of 100 mares, sent to the Farms to be bred, foaled there this spring, also a new mark.

Hanover is consigning 121 yearlings to The Standardbred Auction Sale in Harrisburg, Pa., the game's only million-dollar auction, in November. This is a new high for any farm, the previous having been 100 sent by Hanover two years ago.

22 Did 2:00 Or Better

Hanover has produced 22 trotters which have done 2:00 minutes or better. The only four two-year-old trotters to go in 2:00 or better—Hanover's Bertha, Titan Hanover, Lawrence Hanover and Rodney, which was Edwin Hanover—were bred there.

The highest-priced yearling of all time, which brought the largest amount ever paid for a harness horse at auction, is Imperial Hanover, which went for $72,000 two years ago. The top prior to that was the $42,000 brought by White Hanover in 1947.

Hanover has accounted for nine Hambletonians.

Star's Pride Goes There

Hanover's roster of stallions, either 2:00 sires or 2:00 performers, which have stood or are standing at Hanover show the importance of the place to the standardbred.

Earmarked for duty at Hanover after his racing career is Star's Pride, the world record-wrecker of recent weeks.

Star's Pride, brilliant four-year-old son of Worthy Boy-Stardrift-Mr. McElwyn, wasn't bred there, accounting for the name, but his get will be Something Hanover this or Hanover's Something that.

Injury To Force Turpin To Stop Hard Training

London, Aug. 1.— (AP) —World middleweight Randy Turpin had his injured left ear drained today.

The ear swelled after being bumped in an exhibition bout Saturday night.

Dick Turpin, Randy's brother and trainer, said that because of the ear, the champion will do no hard sparring until he opens his training camp in the United States for his return title match with Sugar Ray Robinson in New York on Sept. 12th.

SHIP SHAPE—Lois Beck, who has interesting lines of her own, checks the halyard of Thistle Class sailboat Wee Winn in preparation for the Cleveland Lake Front Regatta. The boat is owned by Lois' brother, Russ, of the Cleveland Yacht Club. (NEA)
