PRICE—THREE CENTS

Westmount Hobby Show To be Held Next Week

Twelfth annual Westmount Boys' and Girls Hobby Show will officially open on Wednesday, at 7.30 p.m. in the Westmount Y.M.C.A. This year's show is expected to be one of the largest ever held. Already a number of exhibits have been received from boys and girls resident, attending school or in the membership of the Y.M.C.A., in Westmount.

A special attraction of this year's show will be the department of special exhibits which are entered by adults or by firms to illustrate to boys and girls possibilities opened up to them by the pursuit of hobby interests.

Canadian Industries Limited has planned a special display as has the Westmount Public Library, Canadian Youth Hostels Association and a number of other organizations. A special attraction will be a living exhibit by the Canadian Institute for the Blind, which has arranged to have an exhibit in handicrafts for the blind; a weaving loom will be erected and will be operated by members of the Institute in the evenings. Entries and exhibits by boys and girls will be received at the Westmount Y.M.C.A. until Monday at 9.00 p.m.

Departments of Show

Following are the various departments which may be entered:

Department of Art — Including still life, landscape and marine, commercial and general art. A special prize of a year's free tuition to Sir George Williams College will be awarded to the winner of this department.

Department of Collections — Includes postage stamps, coins, paper money, scientific collections, miscellaneous collections and scrap books. A special prize for this section awarded by the T. Eaton Co.

Department of Crafts — Includes model aeroplane building, model ships, model work, radio and electrical work, woodcraft, metal work, leather work, basketry, meccano and miscellaneous crafts. A special prize will be awarded to the winner of this department.

Department of Games — Including chess, checkers and table tennis.

Department of Household Science — Includes cooking, embroidery

Young Purse Snatcher Soon Captured

About 2.30 on Wednesday afternoon, the Westmount Police Department received a call that a youth had just snatched a purse from the hands of Mrs. Grace MacLaren, of 515 Clarke Avenue, at the intersection of Clarke Avenue and Anwoth Road.

Inspector Edmunstone and Lieut. C. Baker immediately responded and within a short time they apprehended the thief on Anwoth Road.

Found to be a juvenile and still in possession of the purse, he was taken to the Police Station and charged with theft.

The second case occurred on March 12, when a man snatched a purse from the hand of an employee of M.H.N. Gruner Co., 394 Victoria Avenue, as she was climbing the stairway to her office. The purse contained about $85.

The following Monday she was notified by an employee of the Bell Telephone Co. that he had found the purse and identified it by certain personal papers it contained. The money had been removed, with the exception of approximately $20 in a change purse, which the thief apparently missed.

Westmount's Red Cross Drive Goes Over Top

Westmount Division of the Canadian Red Cross campaign for funds attained its objective of $33,000 before the official close of the campaign, local divisional headquarters announced this week, adding that many contributions have been received since, with more to come. It is estimated that the total amount received will be about 15% greater than the initial objective when all the donations are received.

Commenting on the success of the local campaign, Paul B. Pitcher, Westmount Division chairman, declared the results extremely gratifying, and said that the ladies who ran the campaign (only two men took part) are to be highly congratulated for having done a fine job.

He also stated that, on behalf of the organization, he wishes to thank all individuals and organizations which co-operated splendidly to put the Westmount drive over the top.

Advertising To Be Aired By Claude Root Of BBB

Advertising, the best means business has found of telling the greatest number of people about a product in the quickest possible time at the lowest possible cost, will be the subject of CBM's "Better Business Bureau" broadcast on Monday, at 7.45 p.m.

Claude Root, 481 Victoria avenue, manager of the Montreal Better Business Bureau, will tell how advertising shortens the gap between invention and utilization, how it reduces costs and lowers prices, assures quality and has educational values.

Dr. Lamb Urges Rotary Support Spirit of Fair Play

This week's regular meeting of the Rotary Club of Westmount was held, for a change, in the main dining room of the Laurentien Hotel. This was made possible through the kind offices of Rotarian C. W. Wright, General Manager of Murray's Lunch Ltd., and the hotel authorities, who are turning the proceeds of the dinner over to the Paraplegics' Fund.

Guest Speaker at the dinner was Dr. A. Lamb, widely-known director of the Department of Physical Education at McGill University, who addressed the members on the subject "Sanity in Sport".

There is a regrettable tendency nowadays on the part of a large percentage of the population, he declared, to be mere spectators of organized sport. He emphasized that he was not "taking a crack" at professional sport, but that he believed that the falling-off of amateur participation in various types of sport deprives too many people of the important benefits to be gained in learning to "play the game".

"Nobody grows old by living a certain number of years," he declared, "people grow old when they stop playing — many die at 30, but are not buried until they are 60 or 80."

Opinions as to what good sport is may vary, he continued, but the spirit of play is a basic fundamental, and to "play the game" has become part of the tradition of our society.

It is a spirit which, when properly directed, becomes ingrained in character and leads to attributes of honesty, loyalty, justice, chivalry and fine human relations,

Police Chiefs Launch Campaign For Courtesy In Metropolitan Area

Police Chiefs Arthur Harris, of Hampstead; H. Hunter, of Montreal West; and R. A. Byford, of Westmount, were included among the many police authorities attending the Metropolitan Police Chiefs Discussion Club, under Chairmanship of Director Albert Langlois M.B.E., Montreal Police Department, when an all-out Courtesy Campaign was launched this week. The campaign is plugging for better driving conditions and to make pedestrians in all areas of Greater Montreal traffic conscious.

One aspect of the Campaign is to placard the back of street cars with suitable slogans asking motorists to keep clear of tracks; to drive always to the right and not splash pedestrians.

Lecture Given On Proper Care Of Food Utensils

Last of a series of three lectures to proprietors and operators of eating establishments in Westmount, sponsored by the Public Health and Sanitation Department and conducted by Sanitary Inspector A. G. MacNab, was held at Victoria Hall on Monday afternoon.

The operation and care of various types of kitchen equipment was discussed, advice on what to do and what not to do in using it was given. Equipment discussed included gas equipment — ranges, coffee urns, etc; refrigeration equipment — with discussion of types, walk-in and reach-in, in which emphasis was placed on the necessity for free circulation of air and the different temperatures and humidities needed for preservation of different types of food; and all kinds of equipment likely to be found in kitchens.

The meeting concluded with presentation of a color film entitled "Hash Slingin' to Food Handling" which graphically contrasted good and bad methods of restaurant operation.

Such slogans were also recommended by Prof. Amos Neyhart

Administrative head, Institute of Public Safety, the Pennsylvania State College and consultant on road training to the American Automobile Association, a major lecturer at the Police Discussion Club, for insertion, where possible, in newspapers, that the public might have before them constant daily reminders.

Twenty of the main traffic by-laws out of 120 of the most important by-laws regarding parking, slowing at safety zones and at intersections, will be outlined in the next two weeks, it was announced. The Police Chiefs heartily endorsed the campaign and all that it stands for as regards traffic hazards in all districts.

The driver is considered an important factor in promoting better driving conditions and in making pedestrians more than ordinarily cautious in an effort to prevent accidents.

The suggestion was made to have all motorists seeking licenses to first pass a police test, and in this regard it was further advised that the Provincial Government be approached for support by legislation of such a measure.

Other local Police Chiefs who were present for the discussions were Chiefs Hector Hetu, of Ville St. Laurent; E. Lavallee, of Ville St. Pierre; Director Pierre Gatinneau, of Verdun and Dan Demers, of Ville LaSalle.

Public Relations Director, W. A. Higgs, anticipates a busy season ahead with the necessary publicity to put the campaign over in a way that will bring the desired result, better driving conditions for the motorist in Montreal and area, and better safety conditions for the pedestrian who must cross the street, with the all-out courtesy being extended by both people on foot and drivers of vehicles.

Annual Spring Flower Show Opens Today

The Annual show of Spring flowers in the Westmount Conservatory will open today and will continue for three weeks.

Tulips, Daffodils, Hyacinths, Cinerarias, Schizanthus, Hydrangeas, Roses, and Polyanthus are included in the display which is arranged in a very pleasing manner.

The Conservatory will be open from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. week days, and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sundays. Admission is free and the public is cordially invited to view the display.

Recent digging around City Hall has been due to a plugged drain which brought about a flood in the basement of the building, due to torrential rains, on Tuesday of last week.

Queen's School Holds Impressive Easter Assembly

Impressive Easter Assembly was held in Queen's School Monday morning. The programme included the singing of familiar Easter Carols and the participation in the usual Monday morning devotional exercises (including a Scripture reading from the sixteenth Chapter of the Gospel of St. Mark). Three violin selections were played most pleasingly by some members of the Advanced Class in Violin Instruction, including Georgina Bell, Helen Mader, Beatrice Oliver, Joan Thompson, Donald Harterre, Nathan Shaffer. The pupils were under the direction of Miss Lydia Davison and the accompanist was Mrs. G. Harterre.

Principal R. N. Bagnell congratulated the athletic teams which recently had won inter-school championships—the girls' basketball team and the boys' junior basketball team. Mrs. A. E. Nickels, physical training instructor, presented the trophies for these championships to the captains of these teams—Helen Mader and George Todd. Mr. Bagnell praised particularly the fine sportsmanship and fair play manifested in the various athletic activities of SPRING ! . . .

"If Winter comes, can Spring be far behind?"

Not this year, 'cause it's already here — Spring, that is — according to both the almanac and the signs, although even the almanac had to be different this year. It says that Spring arrived on March 20th instead of on the 21st when we had always been taught to expect it — another illusion shattered!

Yes, Spring is here, according to the signs, and we're not sorry! Robins have been reported in Westmount on many occasions during the past week, and one local resident, cleaning up his garden, found a bright pink primrose blooming there on Tuesday morning.

We feel so good about it all that we are moved to reproduce herewith our favourite Spring poem:

SPRING

As I was driving
Down the lane,
In the rain,
Caroling—
I struck a hidden
Rut,
And bounced
Right out again,
But . . .
The gosh-darned thing
Broke my spring!

Scouts & Cubs

BY REG GROOME

By REG. GROOME

There was no meeting of Trinity Memorial Pack this week because of Holy Week. The usual paper collection will be held Saturday and it is hoped that all the Cubs will turn out to assist. Last Saturday, 4,910 lbs. of paper were collected, establishing a new record. The latest report on Bagheera Armstrong is that he is improving and should be out of the hospital soon. The next Pack meeting will be on Easter Monday. Coming events include another going up ceremony in April, and the Pack is planning to attend Cub Camp for one week this summer. The usual Spring Party will be held early in May when those qualifying for Team Player Badges will receive them and the Newman Trophy will be presented. House Orderly Badge Classes will be conducted during the month of April. Sixers Maitland Hannaford, Norman Bedford, Dick Christensen, Bob Manktelow, Arthur Armstrong and Acting Sixer Roy Smith — be sure to check your boys for attendance — phone them — if you know why they are away — no bites are deducted.

Last Friday was a big night for St. Matthias Pack with a visit from the Area Examiner and the play-offs in floorball. The Red and Green Sixes had a very close game which the Red won, 2-1. The following results took place in the badge examinations — Chris Carr, Guide, Artist and Toymaker; Sean Mack, Guide; Phillip Reidford, First Aider; Chris Swan, Collector; Allan Ross, Second Star; Hugh Ross, Second Star and Team Player; John Seeley, Second Star and Team Player; John Gibb-Carsley, First Star. Hugh Ross was appointed as Second of the Brown Six and Acting Sixer; John Seeley was promoted to Second of the Grey Six. There will be meeting of the Pack Good Friday but the following Friday, April 2nd, St. Matthias will be hosts to Calvary and Westmount Park Packs at a joint meeting in the St. Matthias Hall.

Another Scouters' Preliminary Training Course will be held for Monday evenings during April if a sufficient number of Scouters signify their intentions to attend. Send your registration card in now if you are planning to go.

Roslyn News

By Peter Safford and Dick Dunbar

Roslyn's Grade Five girls played a basketball game with King's School on Thursday, March 18th. Roslyn won; the score was 12-11. Roslyn scorers were Susan Christmas—10 pints and Barbara Burke—2 points.

Today our Easter holidays will begin and will last until April 5th.

Room 22 Grade Four occupied an art lesson to make Easter favours for the Junior Red Cross to send to hospitals as tray decorations. They were little yellow bunnies with purple wheelbarrows.

The final meeting of the Home and School Association, to be held on Monday, April 26th, will include selections by the boys' and girls' choirs. It is expected that there will also be brief demonstrations in French and some English choral speaking.

and its development through active participation in sport accompanies physical development as well.

Rightly directed, the normal competitive instincts of youth develop finer individuals; uncontrolled, they can and do lead to trouble, he continued, adding that the social aspects involved are serious and that it is our responsibility to guide youth on its way toward a better future.

The rising generation has a right to inherit, unweakened by neglect, the tradition of fair play from which we and our ancestors benefited, Dr. Lamb concluded. Let us see that they have our support in getting it.

A Minnesota man admitted writing 120 rubber checks. Lay the offenses end to end and they should bring a long stretch.

Y Notes

Third annual get-together of the Young People's organizations of the churches of Westmount, will take place in the Westmount Y.M.C.A. on April 9th at 8 p.m.

Under the chairmanship of Gordon Clarke, program director of the Westmount Y.M.C.A., a committee, comprised of representatives from these Young People's organizations, has arranged an all round program of interest and entertainment. One of the main features of the evening will be the showing of the film "Oslo 1947", the official documentary film of the Second World Conference of Christian Youth held in Oslo in July of last year. Swimming, gym games, a socio-drama, and dancing will complete the program.

You missed it last Friday if you weren't at the St. Patrick's Dance. The superb decorating was obviously directed by an expert. Bob Hopkins' orchestra was "rite on the bit"; the music simply grand; the women were beautiful, and the manpower was just right—not too much, not too little, not too young, not too old. Featured were spot dances with real prizes and cabaret-style dancing with Gordon Clarke as Master of Ceremonies. It was really good. You should attend the Y. Opportunity begins at the Y door, all you have to do is "come on in."

The committee in charge of arrangements was John and Doris Ridd, Ken and Shirley Ransom, Pat Brown, Carl Kaufman and Gordon Clarke, Program Director.

The Y Clubs are functioning as usual this week. New members are always welcome. The phrase "Drop in soon" is going to appear in this column every week until you're all here—do it NOW!

This week's teen-age Dance at the Westmount Y.M.C.A. will not be held due to the Easter holidays.

There will be no movies shown at the Westmount Y.M.C.A. this week (Saturday) due to the Easter holidays.

Westmount Boys' & Girls' Hobby Show

Saturday, March 27th, last day to deliver entry forms to the Westmount Y.M.C.A. (No post entries accepted.)

Monday, March 29th: all exhibits except pets and cooking to be delivered to the Westmount Y.M.C.A. Last day for exhibits.

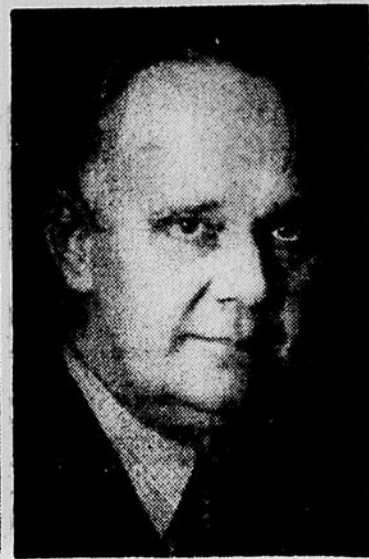

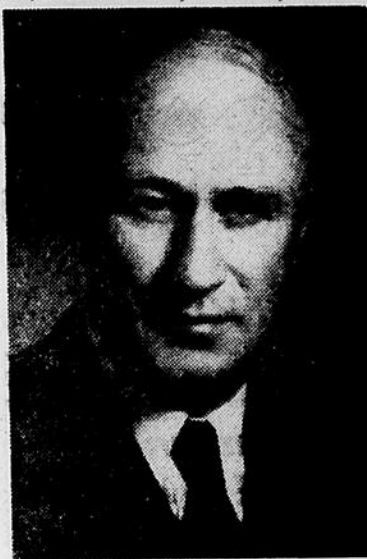

Tuesday, March 30th: cooking entries to be delivered by 2.30 p.m. Judging of exhibits for the Main Show, 4 p.m. - 9 p.m. Preview for the Press and photographers, 5 p.m.

Wednesday, March 31st, 7.30 p.m. Official opening. 8.30 p.m., demonstration in apparatus, fencing, etc.

Thursday, April 1st, 4.00 p.m., chess and checkers; 8.00 p.m. boxing and indoor athletics, followed by demonstrations in fencing, judo, etc.

Friday, April 2nd: 7.15 p.m., boys' & girls' swimming; 8 p.m., music and entertainment at Westmount Y.M.C.A.

Saturday, April 3rd: 2 p.m., entries for pet show. 2.30 p.m., pet show at Westmount Y.M.C.A. 8 p.m. Official closing and presentation of prizes. 9 p.m. Hobby Show Dance.

DISTRICT GOVERNORS TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

Governors William S. Emery, 170th District; G. LeRoy Collins, 171st District; and Harold F. Albest, 172nd District, of Rotary International, who foregathered in Montreal recently to discuss plans for Montreal's biggest convention of the year, the forthcoming Tri-District Conference, under sponsorship of the Rotary Club of Montreal, at the Mount Royal Hotel, April 25, 26 and 27. Feature of the Conference will be the presentation of a particularly fine programme by the Mendelssohn Choir of Toronto, under direction of Sir Ernest MacMillan, at the Forum, at 8.30 p.m., Sunday, April 25.

Literary Ramblings

With the sole object of providing avid perusers (no, Art, a peruser is not a native of Peru) of this Pillar of piffle with a fund of quotable poetry and prose, I have been poring through various tomes during the past week and have come up with the following:

"Poure out the wine without restraint or stay, Poure not by cups but by the bellyful."

—Edmund Spenser.

"Unmarried men are best friends, best masters, best servants, but not always best subjects, for they are light to run away, and almost all fugitives are of that condition."

—Francis Bacon.

"When in silk my Julia goes, Then, then, methinks how sweetly flows That liquefaction of her clothes."

—Robert Herrick.

"Authors are paetial to their wit, 'tis true, But are not critics to their judgment took?"

—Alexander Pope.

"Will no one tell me what she sings?"

—William Wordsworth. (Could it be "The Big Brass Band from Brazil"?)

"O wind, if Winter comes, can Spring be far behind?"

—P. B. Shelley.

The following was probably written after a dream had warned the poet of the coming of Arthur Aurel Voronka, the theatrical man:

"Awful shape, what art thou? Speak!"

—P. B. Shelley.

Were P. B. a denizen of Sol's he would have omitted the last word.

Trivia

The Westmount High Old Boys' Association annual meet is slated for next Thursday evening, April 1. The place: the Canadian Legion Hall on Mountain street. The number one man on the entertaining end: Bob Goodier, star of the "Meet the Navy" show... Westmount will be represented in the select Snowdon Senior Football League this summer. The representative: a team from Ascension Parish which will boast such mushball luminaries as Kev Kennedy and the Provost freres.

More than a million Canadian homes depend on a stove for heating equipment.

J. Wallace Beaton Wins Accountancy Award

J. Wallace Beaton, of 31 Thornhill Avenue, tied with Adolphe Wexler, 4611 Hutchison Street, in obtaining the highest marks in Quebec in the qualifying examinations for the degree of Chartered Accountant.

Each will be presented the gold medal of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Quebec at the annual dinner of the Institute at the Windsor Hotel on Thursday.

On St. Patrick's Day, the pupils of Mrs. Bickford's class, Grade V (Room 10), held a birthday party for two members of the class, Ann Reddon and Maureen Rosenberg. Recitation, solo and plays made up the programme. Sandwiches, cake and ice cream were served.

The Help the Children Fund Campaign which has been carried on in Queen's School for some weeks closed Friday. A very substantial sum of money was subscribed to it. Mr. Bagnell thanks the pupils and members of the staff of Queen's School for their generous contribution to this worthy cause.

A schoolmistress asked a child what "S-e-e" spelt.

The child hesitated. "What do I do when I look at you?" said the mistress.

"Thquint," replied the scholar.

Girls' Hi-Y Clubs Annual Conference

Maida LeBaron, of the Westmount High School Hi-Y Club, is president of the Grand Chapter of Girls' Hi-Y Clubs for Montreal and district, which will hold its Annual Conference on Tuesday, at the Central Y.W.C.A., Dorchester Street West. Other Westmounters on the executive are Anne True-land, president of the Westmount Girls' Hi-Y Club, and Georgine Ferguson, treasurer of the Grand Chapter. The Westmount Club is in charge of the entertainment.

Main theme of this conference will be: "What Kind of a World Citizen are You?", which in teenage language becomes: "You're sitting on top of the world - are you going to let it explode under you?"

Key-note speech on this theme will be given by Miss A. Ann Silver, General Secretary of the Y.W.C.A., who came to Montreal last fall direct from Lapland, where she spent the previous summer as co-director of a work camp operated by the American Friends Service Committee.

Others on the programme will speak on such topics of interest to teen-agers as: "Dating and Mating"; "The Right Job for You"; "What Really Matters" and "How Tolerant Are You." Each subject will be followed by a round-table discussion and a "cracker-barrel" session.

There will be a morning and an afternoon agenda with an interval for lunch, and following the afternoon speakers, a banquet and entertainment. The Conference will close with a "splash party" and the members of the Conference will then be guests of the Boys' Hi-Y Clubs at an informal dance at the Y. M. C. A. Notre Dame de Grace Branch.

CHILD CLINIC PLANNED
 Because of plans to close the Welfare Federation's Child Welfare Clinic in N.D.G. on April 15th, Westmounters who have been taking their children to the clinic have been referred to the projected baby clinic of the Westmount Public Health Department, which is expected to open around the middle of April.

Dr. R. B. Bell Noted Sportsman, Funeral Held

Many attended a funeral service, which was held at Dominion Douglas Church on Tuesday afternoon, to accord final tribute to Dr. R. B. Bell, of 29 Thurlow Road, who died on Sunday at the Western Division of the Montreal General Hospital after being stricken at his home on Saturday night.

A Montreal dentist for the past 20 years, "Bobby" Bell, as he was widely known to sportsmen, had been actively associated with McGill University sports, notably hockey and football, since he entered McGill in 1923.

Dr. Bell attended Westmount High School and graduated from McGill in 1928. He played hockey for McGill and later became coach of its intermediate intercollegiate championship teams and student-manager of its intercollegiate football team.

He was an enthusiast in many sports—captain of squash at the Montreal Badminton and Squash Club, a member of the Mount Royal Tennis Club, a director of Knowlton Golf Club, a past president of Brome Lake boating club and an active member of the McGill Memorial Gymnasium

PUTTERS' SOCIAL CLUB

Westmount Putters Social Club held a court whist drive at Victoria Hall on Monday evening. Court whist was a new innovation and the members derived plenty of fun from the variety of hands played, the "silent hand" having an attraction all its own for the men folk. Mrs. J. Edwards won the Ladies prize. P. Kent was successful in winning the men's prize.

The club will meet at Victoria Hall on Monday, at 8.00 p.m. when a movie evening will be held for which a number of interesting films have been secured.

Campaign Committee. Last year he was president of the Canadian Davis Cup Committee.

Dr. Bell had a keen interest in church and philanthropic work. He was a member of the Board of Stewards of Dominion Douglas Church and a director of the Sailors' Institute.

He was a prominent member of the local dental profession. He was an honorary and past president of the Montreal Dental Club, and last autumn acted as president of its fall clinic. He also had been a lecturer in dental anatomy at McGill.

Son of the late J. Ritchie Bell, for decades head of the Sailors' Institute, and Mrs. J. Ritchie Bell. Dr. Bell also was a nephew of Arthur F. Bell, secretary-treasurer of the City of Westmount from 1913 to 1940.

He is survived by his wife, the former Ruth Penfold, of Montreal; two sons, Robert and Ritchie Bell; his mother, Mrs. J. Ritchie Bell and a sister, Mrs. W. A. Messenger.

The service was conducted by Rev. A. Lloyd Smith, D. D., assisted by Rev. William McLean, Chaplain of the Montreal Sailors' Institute and Rev. R. Graham Barr.

CANADIAN ART IN NEW MEDIUM

During the war Canada's National Gallery commissioned a number of well known Canadian artists to design pictures for the silk-screen process which would serve as decoration for military canteens and service quarters. The manner in which Canadian artists rose to the occasion can be testified to by many an ex-service man, both in Canada and in Britain where supplies were also made available to the British Army and the R.A.F. Since then the prints have proved an excellent adjunct to the study of Canadian art in our schools and have also been made available to the public. Now they promise, through their use by Canadian business firms as decoration for offices and public rooms, to reach an even wider field.

"The recent decision of the Bank of Montreal to purchase quantities of these large silk-screen prints for display in its branches across Canada, indicates how widespread interest in modern Canadian painting has become", is the comment of H. O. McCurry, Director of the National Gallery of Canada. "We are anxious to encourage the bringing of the work of Canadian artists before the public in this way, and an institution, such as the Bank of Montreal, with public offices located in every part of the country provides a broad outlet. We hope more and more business corporations will take advantage of this service".

The series of prints now comprises some 31 subjects by 27 Canadian artists and the bank will use practically all of them at various points.

In deciding to use the work of Canadian artists to brighten up their banking offices the Bank of Montreal feel that they could have no sounder ally than our own National Gallery. Regarding their decision to purchase the prints, Gordon R. Ball, general manager of the bank, comments, "It is, perhaps, another indication that the fine arts are no longer a strange bedfellow of business, and that a practical and popular approach is not incompatible with the high standard undoubtedly set by the National Gallery".

The prints purchased by the Bank of Montreal will, through their hundreds of branches, reach the farthest corners of Canada. Among those already on their way are three which will await the break up of winter ice before reaching Dawson, Yukon.

MANY NEW CANADIAN INDUSTRIES

A new meter company in Montreal — a new winery in Toronto — a new multi-million dollar bleached sulphate mill in Terrace Bay — a new bakery at Calgary — a new wood working plant at Edmonton — a new mill in Fredericton — and so the story of industrial progress in Canada goes.

During 1947, according to a tabulation prepared by the staff of Industrial Canada, 139 new industries were established across Canada and 507 existing industries extended their plants. This tabulation does not claim to be absolutely complete, but it does give a fairly clear picture of industrial expansion across the Dominion during the last year.

What this table does paint in clear and bold detail is a picture of a practical demonstration of the worth of individual and enter-life for the donkey? This is not the place to embark on a discussion of the remedies—indeed it would be presumptuous to pretend that the answers are at all clear. But a few preliminary remarks may not be out of place.

The Labor Government in England has at last been compelled to recognize the truth. The recent issue of "The Economist" states the case in these words:

"They, (the members of the Labor Government), will have much educational work to do, both on themselves and their followers. They will have to show what the alterations are: a mere increase in money incomes which secures only a passing improvement in real wages at the expense of other members of the community, or a further impetus to rising costs, stagnation in exports, threatened unemployment and a thriving black market."

PROMISES TOO LAVISH

This, of course, is only a brief reference to the process going on in the ranks of labor throughout the length and breadth of England. What has brought it about? The force of circumstances. There is no other answer. A government came into power in England with promises more lavish than Major Douglas proffered to Alberta, perhaps as our Socialists now proffer to the voters of Canada. They thought that capital was an almost endless source of supply for higher standards of living for the workers. They thought to combine higher earnings, shorter hours, with higher standards of living.

Unfortunately or perhaps fortunately they began to realize that wages and salaries are a means of distribution of goods and that production must precede distribution.

The facts are being driven home with telling force. In the absence of increased production, prices rise. With the increase in prices comes the reduction in real wages. The worker has more money but it will buy less goods.

The laws of economics are which much of our economic effort depends.

The London Economist, the leading economic and financial journal of England, has carried on this battle for a year at least with sharp bluntness of statement. It put the case before the British people in a long editorial entitled "The Carrot And The Stick". It dealt with the need of incentives. There had to be an urge of some kind or progress would be retarded:

"The whole process of removing both the carrot and the stick has culminated in the extraordinary circumstances of today. Shrunken as were the incentives and the sanctions of pre-war days, they have now, for the time being, vanished completely. Nobody gains anything from activity or suffers anything from inactivity. There is hardly a flavour of carrot or a shadow of the stick. And yet we wonder why the donkey does not break into a trot." It went on to add:

"The Soviet economy made an original attempt to do without incentives, or sanctions, but it has long ago re-introduced them. Nowhere in the world today is a bigger premium paid for skill or intelligence or effort or (within the limits of a planned economy) enterprise. And nowhere, certainly, are the penalties of incompetence or laziness more sharp. Both the Russian and the American economies are, avowedly and deliberately, carrot-and-stick economies; the British is rapidly becoming a sugar-candy economy."

Discussing the question of sanctions and incentives it presented this problem:

"How can sanctions for failure or slackness be reconciled with the principle of social security? How can the carrot and the stick be combined with a pleasant

BRITAIN IS LEARNING

British labor is learning, slowly at first, in the hard school of experience.

Sir Stafford Cripps is a good teacher. "We would be courting a disaster," he said recently, "if we pursued the will-o-the-wisp of increased personal incomes when we have not got and could not get the goods to match the incomes."

"We must," he went on to say, "exercise the restraint of a democrat unless we are forced into methods of totalitarian control."

"There was," he continued, "no case whatever for any further general increase of personal income though there might be cases where wages needed to be raised for some special reason."

STERN HAND AT CONTROLS

There is now a stern hand at the controls. Sir Stafford Cripps was the first of the labor statesmen to face the facts. For years labor has been told that wages could be raised substantially. The funds were to be taken from profits. Now a new and more powerful light is being brought to bear on the scene—the light of experience.

The Manchester Guardian Weekly had this to say in a recent issue:

"The main obstacle to be overcome—which, unfortunately, the White Paper ignores—is the belief that profits are excessive and can be squeezed in order to give wage increases without raising prices." It goes on to add:

"Dividends are often deceptive; in most companies profits are a very small proportion of the turnover. They cannot be taxed much more severely without causing very real hardship to many people and seriously weakening the incentives on

A NEW SHINTOISM

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

Someone has said that man is "incurably religious"; and Voltaire, who was popularly regarded as an atheist, said, "If there were no God, it would be necessary to invent Him." This is strikingly borne out in Soviet Russia where religion was abolished and the very idea of God was eliminated or scoffed at in the education of the young. But a change has taken place. The Soviet has discovered that the Russian people are incurably religious, and they have capitalized on that fact. Having declared that there was no God, they have found it necessary to invent, not one but several gods to fill the vacancy.

The supreme deity of Communism is, of course, the State; but the State is too impersonal for fervent worship and it was necessary to set up personal deities for adoration and inspiration, namely, Lenin and Stalin. Gigantic portraits of these two national gods are exhibited everywhere and are borne aloft in processions as idols for public worship.

Mrs. Malborne Graham, who has travelled widely in the Soviet Union, recently completed a study of Russian juvenile textbooks, and she presents some of her findings in an article which appeared in the New York Times Magazine of February 8. She says "Soviet children are taught that Russia, the Fatherland, is always wonderful and powerful and brave above all other nations," and she quotes from a school textbook: "... only one dream, that our Fatherland shall be better and more beautiful than ever... Long live our Holy Fatherland." There is nothing very wrong about that. But it is something more than mere patriotism, for it continues: "It is a land watched over and guided by the great Lenin and the powerful Stalin... You are the sons of your Fatherland. Stalin in thinking in the Kremlin how to make you happier, more clever than others, braver than all the others on earth."

Moscow is the Mecca of this new religion. The tomb of Lenin is there, and the Kremlin where Stalin is thinking in the Kremlin is a story for Russian children:

"At the same time as the sun Stalin rises in the Kremlin. In that wonderful house he will wash himself with his hands and with water from the Moscow River, and dry his dark face with a snow-white towel. Good morning, the whole country will tell Stalin... He will go on the balcony, opening the glass door. He will look out and admire how Moscow is growing. He will start puffing his pipe, a golden ring will rise from it and move all over the country. The shepherd will look up and say: See, that means Stalin has started smoking. The whole country will look up at this golden ring and say: 'Good morning, Stalin.'"

We may smile at this, but it is not intended to be funny. In the songs for children Stalin is exalted thus: "Stalin is the wisest, the beloved Father... Stalin is the symbol of happiness stern and implacable. We reap what we have sown. In the new Nirvana, if it ever comes, labor will cease to fear. It will know that, with increased production, comes prosperity for labor in England and a prosperous world, on which after all England's prosperity depends.

and life... Stalin is brighter than the sun in June, a powerful eagle." With Lenin, he has no competitors in the minds of the younger children. "Now and then," says Mrs. Graham, "another" stands beside the two (Lenin and Stalin) currently enshrined, but it is a figure in the shadows, without a name... If there is anyone who might be said to stand a little above the others, it is Molotov."

A single verse in the books examined was given over to him:

"Molotov is a true follower of Lenin,
He is a friend and helper of Stalin,
He is a friend of children,
Children know and love Molotov."

It would thus seem that a theology of this new religion is in the making, and it might well eventually develop into a form of ancestor worship—a new Shintoism.

Christian Science

"Reality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The Golden Text is from 1 Chronicles 29:11, "Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty: for all that is in the heavens and in the earth is thine; thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou art exalted as head above all."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible:—"Now if Christ be preached that he rose from the dead, how say some among you that there is no resurrection of the dead? But if there be no resurrection of the dead, then is Christ not risen: If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men most miserable. But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that slept." (I Corinthians 15: 12, 13, 19, 20).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science of Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. "Our Master reappeared to his students—to their apprehension he rose from the grave—on the third day of his ascending thought, and so presented to them the certain sense of eternal Life. Truth will be to us 'the resurrection and the life' only as it destroys all error and the belief that Mind, the only immortality of man, can be fettered by the body, and life be controlled by death." Stanley Presbyterian

Rev. J. D. Wilkie will conduct the morning service of worship. His sermon text will be "They Have Taken Away My Lord." In the afternoon at 4.30 p.m. a Choral Candlelight service will be held.

Communicants' Class meets Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m.

Thursday, April 1st, at 8.15 Rev. Joseph Muchan will address a meeting in Franklin Hall Memorial under the auspices of the Isabel McConnell Auxilliary. Mr. Muchan's reputation as an outstanding speaker and missionary leader is excellent. Mr. Muchan will show a colored film of India.

Westmount Baptist

The Easter Services in Westmount Baptist Church will be of unusual interest. "Gloom Yields Place to Glory". This will be the title of the morning sermon, in which will be depicted and interpreted the Descent of the Shining Ones, the Flight of the Soldiers, the Breaking of Caesar's Seal and the Emergence of the Conqueror. Westmount Choir, under the direction of Hibbert Troop, will present an inspiring programme of Easter Carols and Choruses.

The morning service will climax with an impressive Baptismal scene. In this scene is portrayed most vividly the Death, Burial and Resurrection of our Lord. "They That Gladly Received His Word Were Baptized."

"Eye Witnesses of His Majesty". This will constitute the caption of the evening address. In this will be portrayed types ancient and modern, of men and women to whom the Risen Christ comes. Another fascinating series of Easter Anthems will be presented by the Choir.

Westmount Bible School will meet in the Church on Sunday morning at 10 a.m., under the direction of Mr. Wilfred Williams, Superintendent. Mrs. Violet Roberts will present the Easter Story in beautifully coloured flannel-graph. Parents and friends of the pupils are expected to attend this service.

"Advance In Christ" Meetings At Stanley Presbyterian Church

Why do you go to Church? Many people called to give a reason for the faith which is within them would find it rather difficult to do. We are Christians because our parents were Christians. We go to Church because it is rather a good habit to get into. The deep religious convictions of a previous age are sadly lacking amongst many Christian people today.

In order that the faith of the church-going people may be deepened, the Presbyterian Churches in Westmount and the west end of Montreal have joined together to present a great teaching mission under the leadership of one of Canada's leading Bible teachers, Rev. Robert Barr of Knox Church, Toronto. These meetings will be held Monday, April 5th, through to Friday night, April 9th, in Stanley Presbyterian Church.

Since coming to Knox Church from South Africa, Mr. Barr has drawn such attention that it is necessary to be at the church well in advance of even the evening service if one hopes to get a seat. This Church, which is situated on the edge of the University campus, is making its impact felt on the University youth of Toronto. These meetings in Stanley Church should attract a large crowd of people, and in anticipation of this, broadcasting equipment is being brought to accommodate the overflow crowds who will meet in the Sunday School rooms of the church.

PERSONAL SOCIAL ENGAGEMENTS WEDDINGS

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Clark, 659 Lansdown Avenue, Westmount, left last night for New York where they will spend a week.

Mrs. Harold Hicks, and daughter Joyce, of Grosvenor Ave. are leaving for Kitchener, Ont., Thursday morning, where they will spend the week-end, visiting their aunt.

WEDDING

HAVILAND-SANDWELL

The marriage of Dominica (Donna), daughter of the late Flight Commander Arnold Hugh Sandwell and of Mrs. Sandwell, of Montreal, to Mr. Richard Heath Haviland, son of Mr. T. H. Haviland, of Outremont, and of the late Mrs. Haviland, took place at three o'clock on Saturday afternoon at Knox-Crescent and Kensington Church, the Rev. Dr. I. A. Montgomery officiating. The decorations consisted of standards of snapdragons and spring flowers, with bows of white satin ribbon, each centred with a white tulip, marking the pews. Mr. John G. Ringwood played the wedding music, and Mr. H. Western McCallum sang "O Perfect Love".

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Bernard D. Sandwell, of Toronto, and attended by her sister-in-law, Mrs. S. D. Sandwell, as matron of honor. Mr. Gordon R. McKean acted as best man for Mr. Haviland and the ushers were Mr. E. V. Mildenhall, Mr. Harold Mayer and Mr. Ronald W. Bower.

The bride was wearing a two-piece dress of ice blue silk, with coachman capelets, fitted bodice, the skirt with unpressed pleats in front. Her matching hat was a wide silhouette toque with roses and violets cascading over one side, and she carried a bouquet of Rapture roses and pastel hyacinths. The matron of honor was in light spice brown crepe silk with fitted bodice and swathed waist-sash draped at the back. Her chamomile-colored hat, similar in shape to the bride's, had apricot and brown flowers and she carried a bouquet of Johanna Hill roses and freesia.

Mrs. Helen B. Sandwell, mother of the bride, was in a navy dress with touches of white, navy and white hat, and wore a corsage of pink carnations and white freesia.

The reception was held in the Blue Room at the Ritz Carlton where decorations were carried out with rosy snapdragons and tulips; mounds of pink carnations

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leopold Clement. A reception was held at the Cercle Universitaire and later the newlyweds left on a trip to Florida.

Miss Hilda Palin, of Vendome Avenue, left by plane yesterday, enroute to South America, where she will take up a secretarial position in Caracas, Venezuela.

Dr. Margaret Davies Edwards, and his sister, Mrs. Eric Gower, now residing in Westmount, and formerly of Somerset, England, are leaving by plane to spend the Easter holiday season in Bermuda.

Miss Mary Hicks, of Grosvenor Ave., is leaving for Ottawa, where she will spend her Easter holidays, visiting her aunt and cousin.

APPROACHING MARRIAGE

The marriage of Miss Margaret Montgomery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Sharp, of Glasgow, Scotland, to Mr. Pearson Robertson, son of Mr. J. G. Robertson, of Westmount Blvd., is taking place today at 4.00 p.m., at the Knox Crescent-Kensington church.

The reception will take place at the home of Mr. J. G. Robertson, of Westmount Blvd., at 4.30 p.m.

For going away the bride wore a navy and red ensemble, with hat to match and corsage of carnations and hyacinths. The bridal couple spent a few days at the Seignory Club and are now in New York. They will reside in Ottawa.

Out-of-town guests were Dr. and Mrs. B. K. Sandwell, and Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Sandwell, and Mr. and Mrs. G. R. McKean, all of Toronto; Mrs. Jack Dennis, of Long Island, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Mildenhall, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Oastler, Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Sanburn, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Swanson, all of Ottawa; and Miss J. Weir, of Kingston, Ont. Mr. P. R. Sandwell, en route from Paris, France, to his home in Vancouver, was able to drop in to the reception for a very brief visit.

Heirloom Tile Table Hobby Proves Lucrative to Couple

Aida and Daniel Whedon of Port Washington, Long Island, are one young couple who in the past year or two, have found immense satisfaction and considerable profit in an enterprise they have been able to work out under their own rooftop.

Mr. and Mrs. Whedon are makers of their heirloom tile tables, sold exclusively by W. & J. Sloane, famous Fifth Avenue, New York, firm. Using tiles, which Mrs. Whedon decorates and paints and Mr. Whedon bakes in their own cellar kiln, this artistic couple are turning out a charming series of original "portrait" tables which sell at a price range of from $130 for a small size, to $250 for a large size "family group" table.

Aida Whedon incorporates each small unit with its separate detail into one large tile painting. When the picture is complete, her husband mounts it on a hand-hewn base he designs himself. For clients whose especial love is their house and garden, she sometimes designs a table showing only these, but usually a design is planned to include one or two members of the family and a family pet. Even a hobby is sometimes tucked in.

Planned for Herself

The idea of using tile-top tables as a portrait medium originated with Mrs. Whedon from a need in her own home.

Although the idea of making a tile table was entirely new to Mrs. Whedon, that of painting on china was not. For several years this artist has been teaching painting, clay modeling, sculpture, and painting in oils and water color.

For her first try she experimented with ten-cent-store tiles, and, although the effort failed, it gave her enough encouragement to buy more tiles and try again.

QUALITY COUNTS

One can actually stuff up with food and still starve the body, according to nutrition experts. It's quality, not quantity which counts. This is particularly worth remembering if one is doing heavy work, such as logging or farming, which burn up a lot of energy.

Some foods are just so much stuffing, authorities say. Therefore, more than tantalizing taste should be the guide to good eating. Also, Canadians are reminded that food should be prepared properly and served cleanly, to ensure maximum health.

Dewdrop Glitter Part Of Adornment

Many well defined styles appear at the moment in cozy dresses intended for home wear, hostess gowns, informal dinner-at-home outfits and true house-coats of the glorified wrapper type.

One hostess costume, equally suitable for any informal evening occasion, is Pierre Balmain's black wool pullover bodice studded with rhinestones, like so many dewdrops scattered at widely spaced intervals, teamed up with a pleated ground-length skirt of black wool crepe. This embroidery style is just

Glamor Touch-Ups

Model Elaine Bassett, above, had her long bob freshened up with a few curls.

Eve Wygod, hairdresser to both Hollywood film stars and New York glamor girls, claims she may put as few as two curls in the hair of customers who come in for partial-permanents.

These gals call their new curls "fresheners". They have them put in at those spots where an old permanent has given up its spring. It may be in hair above the temples, if that's where a girl likes deeply-furrowed waves. Or it may be in the hair at the nape of the neck or at the droopy end of a long bob, says Miss Wygod.

Suggestions For Bride-Elect Planning Trousseau Lingerie

Many a girl's first serious consideration of the important points in purchasing lingerie presents itself when she plans her trousseau. At this time she forms buying habits that usually stay with her.

Experienced bridal consultants are available in every well-appointed store throughout the country, and these experts invariably advise that it is practical to map out a buying plan before you find yourself suddenly captivated by clouds of lace and ribbon. "Remember," they warn with one voice, "you'll motor and market, garden and golf, as well as waltz in the things you buy." The point is to plan a debt balance between frou-frou and practicality.

Nightgowns and pyjamas

Begin with a list. In case you're interested, a well-balanced lingerie trousseau today includes: for night wear, one lovely gown of satin, crepe, or sheer; three simple, pretty gowns that are both comfortable and crisp and easy to launder, and pair of pyjamas with matching coat for travel.

Plan on three negligees; a frothy affair for your finest gown, or something in white, tailored if you prefer it; a plainer robe for everyday; and a hostess gown for evenings at home.

Six slips are a minimum in today's trousseau. Of these, select two that are lacy and luxurious, three tailored and easy to launder (these provide one to wear, one to wash and one to spare), and one black or dark taffeta slip for wear under dark dresses. Three girdles will see you through for a while: a panty girdle for sports and to wear under slacks; one step-in for more support; an all-in-one for wear under form-fitting evening dresses.

Six panties and six bras are a minimum, matching your bras to your slips. When it comes to hosiery, six pairs will do for a starter—three in service weight of 30 or 40 denier nylon and three sheer, 15 or 20 denier, for festive occasions.

If you would get the most out of your bridal lingerie — and everyday lingerie, too, for that matter—examine each piece of lingerie as you buy it. Be fussy. Seams particularly indicate the wearing possibilities. They should be smooth, flat, strong. Just because a seam is machine sewn does not mean it will outlast handwork if the latter is carefully done with a fine quality thread and short, even stitches.

Did you know that water constitutes almost two-thirds of the weight of the body? That's why water is even more necessary to maintain life than food. Water regulates the temperature of the body, aids digestions, thins the blood, assists circulation and helps to carry off waste. So, it's a good health habit to drink a quart of water every day.

Girl Scouts Stir Interest Of Latin American Nations

A Scout official, Miss Ethel Rusk, Assistant Director of the World Bureau of the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts, has returned to New York after two and a half months spent in training South American Scout leaders. Miss Rusk had some first-hand experience with the combination of Scouting and the Good Neighbor policy and she was encouraged by what she saw.

Miss Rusk visited Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, Chile, Argentina, Brazil and Haiti. She said that while Girl Scouting is well established in Brazil it has made relatively slight headway in most of the other countries she visited. Miss Rusk was sent to Latin America to do an organizing job.

"The Latin-American temperament, with its color and gayety, is full of inspiration", she stated. "We saw some altogether charming programs presented by Girl Scouts.

"The young women of Latin America are forward-looking about social improvement and international ties and they were happy to get a better understanding of what the Girl Scout movement really is."

Scouting too often has been identified with outdoor and ruggedly physical activities. Actually, the Girl Scout program carried out in Canada and the United States centers largely in the ideal — a better girl, a better home, a better community. Its emphasis on child care, homemaking, cooking, interior decorating, and safety, Miss Rusk discovered, offered something close to the heart of the most sheltered Latin-American girl.

AN UNUSUAL CAKE FOR THE CHILDREN'S EASTER PARTY. Cover your favorite layer cake with chocolate frosting, roughing it up considerably to make it look like earth. Or color the icing green to make it look like grass. Scatter candy corn on top and place tiny, fluffy toy chicks here and there to look as if they're eating the corn.

English Rubber Toys Return

C.S.L. Gift Shop

Remember those lovely English rubber toys that were so safe for little fingers to play with . . . they are now returned to The C.S.L. Gift Shop, 1480 Sherbrooke Street West, being filled with kapok, and will float on water or used to bounce around baby's carriage. There are ducks and swans, for 65 cents and 75 cents, ideal for Easter gifts. Have you ever seen the exquisite antique china in the "SHOP"? . . . It has been reduced considerably. I was looking at something out of the ordinary this week, white fur lined quilted tartan children's slippers, sizes 1 to 4 only, for $3.25, another Easter suggestion. A gift for the bride-to-be is a three-piece lingerie case set, pale blue satin, lined in pink, beautifully made, for $18.50. There are two pale blue hob-nailed decanters that could be made into attractive lamps, for $3.50 each. Recently arrived from England are 100% pure wool bed jackets, double knit, having long sleeves, in pink, blue and peach, for $10.50. They have a very delicate lace-like effect and may be the very gift you have been looking for. I noticed a 21-piece tuscan china tea set, with rose buds and a grey leafy design against a pale pink background, complete for $25.00. I wonder if you ladies are aware that you may open a charge account at The C.S.L. Gift Shop, without embarrassing questions being asked. Many ladies are using this favour which is proving so convenient. If it is an inexpensive, yet attractive gift that you are looking for, HERE is where you will find IT.

An Easter Gift For The Master

In a few days Easter will be here, and if this fine weather keeps up, it will not be long before the golfers will be out swinging the clubs, getting ready for the many friendly games ahead. At this time of the year especially, the ground is bound to be a "bit" wet in spots, and if the MASTER of the house has a new golf bag he will probably want to treat it as if it were the new family car. If you have been wondering what to give him for an Easter gift, you can't go wrong in presenting him with the new "CADDYMASTER" Golf Stand. This new innovation is proving tremendously popular, and I'm sure this summer, many of them will be found on the links. "THE CADDYMASTER" can be attached very simply to any golf bag in 30 seconds. It is made of lightweight aluminum and weighs about the same as the average golf club. It has two legs that automatically fall into position when the bag is lowered, and then hold the bag in a perfect position for you to select the club for your next drive. There are no divots to replace after lifting the bag, and as the golfer strolls down the fairway this handy equipment neatly folds up against the side of the bag, ready for use again at the next lie. You will be amazed at the lightness of this "CADDYMASTER", it is available at all sport shops and departmental stores, and retails for $5.95.

AN ATTRACTIVE TABLE DECORATION FOR THE EASTER SUNDAY DINNER can be made with a head of cabbage, carrots, and a few tall bunnies. Arrange the bunnies to look as if they are enjoying their dinner of lettuce and carrots.

Key To Loveliness

Elizabeth Arden Salon

Where is there a woman who does not crave to have the Key to Loveliness, whether she be under twenty or over forty. A visit to The Elizabeth Arden Salon, at Simpson's, will convince you that the means are very simple if you bring your beauty problems to the experienced consultant at the salon. This season's styles denote femininity, which calls for slim waists, clear skin, and the proper hair styles. One needs only to note the glowing complexions of any of the Elizabeth Arden assistants to realize what results can be achieved by the constant use of Ardena products. If you have added a few extra pounds this winter, make an appointment for a series of the Passive Reducing Treatments. These will smooth away the inches as you lie relaxed, in other words, the alterations are made on your figure instead of on your clothes. You will be enchanted by the immaculate treatment rooms, and the absolute privacy provided. This week, Mr. Paul Edwards, leading hair stylist for the Elizabeth Arden Salon, from London, England, has been in attendance at the branch of this famous establishments at Simpson's. Those of you who have not had the opportunity of meeting Mr. Edwards will now have the privilege of knowing his latest hair ideas which he has passed on to the resident hair stylist at Elizabeth Arden's Salon in Montreal.

Chests Of Drawers Now Designed To Suit Many Rooms In Home

"Versatile," says the dictionary, means "turning with ease from one thing to another." This is just what much of the new furniture does—be it Modern, 18th Century, French Provincial, Early American—be it made from oak, mahogany, walnut, maple, hickory, or knotty pine.

No longer do chests of drawers, for instance, remain in the bedroom to hold grandfather's shirts or lavender-scented "company" sheets. Chests switch easily to other places in the house—to the hall, living room, or to the dining room to act as servers.

Heights and proportions are correlated so that two or more chests may be placed together.

Qualities That Give Long Wear In Sheets

Percale sheets are woven of finer threads than muslin and therefore have a softer texture. In addition, many percales are made from combed yarn. Combing is a

Easter Saturday

This Saturday ushers in the Easter season which means Spring has arrived. No doubt many of you ladies have by this time selected your Spring bonnet, perhaps a new suit, and are therefore, just itching for the opportunity to wear your ensemble at some smart restaurant. If you have not as yet visited the beautiful Corinthian room at the Mount Royal Hotel, you should choose this spot for your Easter Saturday entertaining. Before dining, visit first the adjoining new Piccadilly. You will be delighted with the friendly atmosphere here, and enchanted with the warm red carpet and red chairs, not to mention the waiters in their vivid red livery. While sipping your favorite drink you may like to have your character read by the amazing graphologist, Jacquemaine, after which you should enter the Corinthian Room directly from the "PIC". You will be charmed by the dignity of the Mount Royal's New Main Dining Room, which is very different from any other eating place in Montreal. One does not become lost in a swarm of diners. This room is a nice comfortable size and is decorated in the soft tones of maroon and turquoise. You will find an extensive menu to choose from, in fact, I would call the outlay a gourmet's dream, and when one is celebrating Easter Saturday why not insist on the best. To help digest the appetizing food is the delightful organ playing of Dorothy Perron, who is always so accommodating with requests. If you are contemplating a large party, it would be wise to call the Maitre d'hôtel, PLateau 7777, and reserve your table.

Mrs. Lawrence Fisher Heads Mtl. School For Nursing Aides

The Board of Trustees of the Montreal School for Nursing Aides announces the appointment of Mrs. Lawrence Fisher as Director of the School. Mrs. Fisher is a graduate of The Montreal General Hospital and the School for Graduate Nurses, McGill University and previous to her marriage was for several years Chief Instructor in her home school, following which she was appointed Director of Nurses at the Woman's General Hospital, which has since been re-named the Herbert Reddy Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Fisher was during the war years engaged in local Red Cross activities and will take over her duties at the School for Nursing Aides in April.

The School as previously announced is being conducted at the Montreal Convalescent Hospital under the auspices of: The Herbert Reddy Memorial Hospital; The Homoeopathic Hospital; The Jewish General Hospital; The Montreal Convalescent Hospital; The Montreal General Hospital and St. Mary's Hospital.

The course which has been approved by The Association of Nurses of the Province of Quebec and the Montreal Hospital Council will cover a period of six months instruction and supervised practise in the care of the non-acutely, chronically ill and convalescent patient in general and convalescent hospitals.

Upon successful completion of the course the nursing aide will receive a pin. She will then be given six months supervised experience as a salaried employee in one of the participating institutions and upon successful completion of this period of experience she will receive a certificate.

Montreal hospitals in common with all others in the country and abroad have struggled for for quite some time with the problem of meeting the ever-increasing patient needs coupled with the desire and determination to meet those needs and at the same time to attempt to improve the working conditions of the nurses who staff these institutions.

Better Facilities

With the ever-increasing facilities for the hospitalization of the sick, which has resulted in a tremendous increase in the numbers being admitted to hospitals, the authorities have been sorely tried to provide them with adequate skilled nursing care, and convinced that a great deal of assistance can be rendered to the skilled nurse by workers specially trained for that purpose.

Through this newly organized school for nursing aides those responsible for its creation and administration believe there lies the answer, for these workers will be prepared carefully and adequately to work under the close supervision of qualified professional nurses in general and convalescent hospitals, where they will be assigned such duties as they are considered qualified to perform for the non-acutely ill, the chronically ill and the convalescent patient.

This plan will not in any way remove the need to campaign for more and more students to schools of nursing because the shortage of nurses still continues to be a major problem in present day hospital administration.

Staff Vacancies

In 1946 the staff vacancies for nurses in the English language hospitals of Quebec province numbered 207 and in 1947 the number had increased to 323, and at that figure they remain. In some of these institutions which conduct schools of nursing, the number of students has increased steadily since the recruitment campaign began in 1940 but many more will be welcome to the classes which form in September next.

For further information those interested are requested to apply to: The Director, Montreal School for Nursing Aides, The Montreal Convalescent Hospital, 3001 Kent Avenue, Montreal, P. Q.

HINTS ON Fashions

The suit with the boxy jacket is gaining in favor and is highlighted in fashion news throughout the country. It offers a nice alternative to the bolero and the long, nipped-in jacket. Beige gabardine is used for this suit which has a rolled collar and two rows of elliptical pockets. The jacket is lined with black. The skirt is straight and pencil-slim. A black blouse completes the outfit.

Mrs. M. J. Miller Heads I. O. D. E.

The eleventh annual meeting of Canon Allan P. Shatford Chapter, I.O.D.E. was held on Wednesday, 17th March, in the home of the Regent, Mrs. M. J. Miller, 4631 Sherbrooke Street, West.

The Chapter contributed to the various funds for education and welfare work, also the second War Memorial.

Officers for 1948-1949 are: Honorary Regents; Mrs. A. A. Charters and Mrs. C. Harding; Regent, Mrs. M. J. Miller; 1st. Vice Regent, Mrs. W. E. Shepherd, 2nd. Vice Regent; Mrs. R. Witcher, Secretary; Mrs. A. Green, Treasurer; Mrs. C. Harding, Educational Secretary; Mrs. A. A. Charters, Echoes Secretary; Mrs. C. Taverner and Standard Bearer; Mrs. A. N. Painter.

Christening Ceremony

On Sunday afternoon, March 14th, the Rev. R. Kenneth Naylor officiating, the christening of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Corbett Kennedy, took place at Trinity Memorial Church, the baby being given the name of Karen Elizabeth.

Godparents were Mr. and Mrs. Keith Cameron and Miss Doris Anderson.

After the ceremony, Mrs. P. E. Pepler, Lacombe Avenue, aunt of the baby's father, entertained at tea, while Mrs. H. Kennedy, paternal grandmother of the infant, was presiding at the tea-table.

Favors, Novelties Are Her Business

How zest for simple make-believe to please a child became a business is the career story of Mrs. Dorothy Day, of Louisville, N.J. She stays at home and yet accumulates a profit from her hobby of fashioning small novelties from odds and ends.

Mrs. Day's son, David, was the first member of the family, she says, to recognize business possibilities in her pleasant pastime. It was several years ago and she was amusing him by trimming egg shells with witches' hats, ears, clowns' faces, and the like. Immediately he wanted to show them to his playmates. When he returned from doing so, he was empty handed and asking for more such trinkets to sell. Thus the business began.

Surmounts Handicap

Here it should be stated that Mrs. Day's achievement is the more remarkable because she makes all her novelties with only one hand. Having lost her right arm some years ago she had to give up playing the piano, which she dearly loved; so she sought another outlet for her artistic interests. She always had liked "to fuss around with trifles that many people throw away," and she was deft about making pretty favors from them, such as place cards, party novelties, bridge tallies.

Gradually she has added more and more items to the first ones that she made, and she has had little difficulty selling them.

Popular Bird Item

Her birds are another popular item. These stand about nine inches high and their bodies are made of pine cones combined with genuine turkey feathers. Halloween favors, 1,000 Easter bunnies at a time, the widely popular shell jewelry, are other items that have kept Mrs. Day more than busy during the past few years.

A RELIEF

When the kindhearted woman shut the door and turned, she found herself faced by her irate mate. "Why on earth must you feed every tramp who comes to the door?" he demanded, heatedly.

"You've no idea," she replied sweetly, "what a relief it is to see a man eat a meal without finding fault with the cooking."

An Illinois night club charges seventy-five cents for a glass of milk. No wonder the cows are contented.

Prof. Chatel Lectures On Educational Guidance

The eighth lecture on Vocational Guidance, sponsored by the St. Mary's Hospital Nursery and Maternity Committee, was held at the hospital board room, yesterday, at 3:00 p.m. The subject, "The organization and administration of Educational and Vocational Guidance" was given by Prof. Louis Chatel, director of Vocational Guidance School of Graphic Arts, and Psychologist of St. Mary's Hospital Child Guidance Clinic.

"A program for educational and vocational guidance in an educational system or institution can best be conducted by a special bureau or separate department, responsible directly to the superintendent of schools, the school principal, or the president of a College or University. Such a department should cover all the specialized activities listed in our last lecture.

Matching "Frames" Make Enticing Team

Bright red shantung is used both for gay bandanas and for matching sun-glass frames.

The primary role of protective glasses is to keep your two bright eyes safe from glare, if you are pursuing winter sports or if you are lucky enough to take your fun on sunny sands.

Your sunglasses this season can be used, however, to fill another role—as high-fashion accessory to duplicate a costume note. Clever use of sunglasses as such will convince your public that you are a whiz at matching your "specs" to your costume.

Thanks for all of this go to the bright-idea boys in the plastic field. They will laminate any fabric you choose between two clear, colorless layers of plastic to make sunglass frames match a costume.

Such a "frame-up" of fabric enables a girl who wants her sunglasses to match her ski sweater or her bathing suit, her bandana, neckerchief, cap, cummerbund or dress to make a team of "specs" and costume.

The Practices of Educational and Vocational Guidance, unless the placement function is carried on in co-operation with a public employment office, should be conducted by someone especially designated to this activity and bearing such title as Director of Educational and Vocational Guidance. If it is necessary to combine the work of the educational and vocational guidance department with that of research, attendance, vocational education or other parts of the school program, the title of the official head should be such as to indicate the several functions of this educational division. Every safeguard should be provided that there be no confusion as to the separate and specific nature of educational and vocational guidance work.

Because of the variation in local conditions, it is impossible to prescribe an exact form of organization. In the school system of a large community, however, the director of educational and vocational guidance should have assistant directors each in charge of a division of the work.

The educational and vocational counselors in each junior and senior high school should receive technical assistance and supervision from a director of this branch of the work, and should meet together to discuss mutual problems.

The director of the department of educational and vocational guidance not only co-ordinates all the specialized activities but should work in close co-operation with those engaged in related activities and, whenever possible, with the classroom teachers themselves, whose understanding and help are essential to the continuous guidance of young people of the city.

Through a centralized personnel office the activities of an industrial or business organization should be carried on. A personnel director should be held responsible for the organization, supervision and administration of whatever policies may be determined upon by the administrative authorities of the business or industry.

The relationship among public and private schools, the college, public employment offices, social and civic agencies and industry, should be so developed that these institutions may offer a complete and continuous program of educational and vocational guidance to those who are in school and to those who are no longer connected with any educational institution. In certain localities, this might be accomplished through a Community Council on Educational and Vocational Guidance. For such problems as the co-operation between secondary schools and colleges, joint committees of the appropriate national association can be organized.

Through the Council, the local Vocational Guidance Association, and teachers' organizations and institutes, every effort should be made to receive the intelligent interest and co-operation of all teachers, educational administration, employment officials and others concerned with the vocational life of young and old in the community.

DOUGHNUTS WITH SYRUP

For each serving, slice a doughnut crosswise, into 2 rings. Then toast cut surface until golden-brown. Arrange hot, toasted rings on heated serving dish. Pass pitcher of heated maple, corn, or cane syrup or molasses, to pour over doughnuts. Serve hot.

Charming Memory of Royal Wedding

Here is an excellent study of Princess Margaret wearing the gown in which she attended her sister, Princess Elizabeth, at her wedding to the Duke of Edinburgh.

Thermostatic Control Banishes Sizzle, Chill

Temperamental March weather makes the life of the average home-owner very difficult, points out the Canadian Institute of Plumbing and Heatink. One day it is freezing cold and the furnace must be stoked furiously. The next day is balmy and fine, and the home becomes almost unbearably hot with the slightest fire.

The problem of opening and closing drafts with changing weather can be overcome by thermostatic controls, advises the Institute. These can be installed on any type of furnace and will automatically regulate the drafts to keep the home at an even temperature, thereby saving fuel as well as patience.

Military Whist

The St. Augustine's Young Ladies Sodality will hold a Military Whist on Wednesday, March 31st, at 8:30 p.m., in the Church Hall, Marcell Avenue, Notre Dame de Grace.

Tickets are now on sale and may be secured from the members of the Sodality or by contacting Miss Rita Lemieux, Ticket Convener, at DE.7192.

Miss Mary Carter, Social Life Chairman, reports that a large collection of attractive door and table prizes have been obtained and these will be awarded to the lucky winners at the close of play while refreshments are being served.

HOME EDUCATION

A KIND WAY

HELEN GREGG GREEN

"No doubt he has a kind way," remarked a guest on looking at a photograph of one his host's relatives.

A kind way!—could we ask for a more desirable personality trait for ourselves or our children?

An intimate acquaintance of mine left the state in which she had been brought up and went to live amidst unaccustomed surroundings. The people she met seemed reserved and cold; she missed the greetings of old friends very keenly and soon became so homesick that she felt actually ill. Then she moved to another locality; here there was a more neighborly spirit. The smiles and friendliness of these later acquaintances acted as balm to her lonely heart, and she was soon restored to normal health and happiness through their kind ways.

Even very small children can be taught neighborliness, thoughtfulness, and tact; and these are, after all, really kind ways.

As soon as children are old enough to write, they are old enough to have birthday books in which to note the dates of the birthdays of members of the family and close friends. Sending simple birthday messages, writing their own thank you notes, selecting and buying small gifts for Christmas and other anniversaries help our boys and girls to establish the habit of kind ways.

A great minister once preached a sermon on being kind in a kind way. "If kindness is performed as a duty, in the spirit of do or die," he declared, "a great deal of its balm is lost."

One of our neighbors, who is particularly desirous of teaching her black-eyed twins that "only the kind are great," encourages the children to take bouquets of gay flowers grown in their gardens, as well as some of the delicious soups and custards which she makes, to their friends and hers when any of them are ill or in trouble.

"In this way my children are forming a habit of sympathetic thoughtfulness that they will never lose," she remarked. "It is becoming a definite part of them. They receive grateful smiles and words of appreciation and are happy to bring the messages that are sent to me."

Teaching courtesy and a kind way takes time. But how important it is to acquire gracious habits in early childhood, and what an excellent way this is to utilize time! One of the simplest ways of teaching children to become thoughtful and gracious is, of course, to present qualities for imitation that are commendable. We all know how highly imitative the little ones are.

Shriners' Hospital
Aided by DON Work

Active participation by the Daughters of the Nile, Oasis Temple No. 46, in working for the Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children was indicated in the reports given at the annual meeting held recently in Victoria Hall, with Mrs. Norman G. Johnston presiding.

Mrs. W. R. C. Field, Orthopaedic chairman reported that well over 100 articles of clothing, bedding, etc., had been made during the past year, as well as three hand-made bedspreads. Parties at Easter, Valentine and Halloween also had been given the children.

Also given to the hospital were a Canadian Moded Stryker Cast Cutter (Electric) and a Campbell-Boyd Pneumatic Tourniquet. Donations were received by the hospital from Daughters of the Nile Temples in St. John, N. B., Toronto, Ont., Watertown, N. Y., Indianapolis, Ind., and Detroit, Mich., amounting to well over four hundred articles.

The D.O.N. in Montreal also contributed to the All Masons' Hospital Fund, which helps defray expenses of the dental clinic, the occupational therapy room, etc., and provides follow-up service after the children leave the hospital.

A contribution was also made to the Convalescent Relief Fund, through which it has been possible to assist many crippled children of the out patients' department in the purchasing of crutches, boots, braces, etc.

A new unit of Daughters of the Nile, organized by Mrs. K. W. Matheson, Supreme Deputy Organizer, was constituted in St. John, N.B., on October 9th, on which occasion their Charter was presented.

Annual reports were also heard from Mrs. W. S. Andrews, Paraphernalia, Mrs. Alex. Leslie, Sick Visiting, Mrs. E. D. Bonnell, Banquet, Mrs. K. W. Matheson, publicity, social, Mrs. Robert Loane and Miss Florence Fox, Courtesy, Mrs. Susie Bleakley, Lapsation, will report at the April session, as well as Mrs. Ellen Thomas, Banker.

Officers elected for the ensuing year were as follows: — Mrs. Ewart D. Bonnell, Queen; Mrs. L. J. Skaffe, Pr. Royal; Mrs. J. Benson, Pr. Tirzah; Mrs. J. Davies, Pr. Badoura; Mrs. K. W. Matheson, Recorder and Mrs. Ellen Thomas, Banker.

Preview For Summer Swims

Anyone who would rather think of sun and balmy breezes instead of slush and snow will be glad to hear that knitting mills are clicking 24 hours a day to meet next season's demand for bathing suits. On the complicated automatic machine above in Los Angeles, nine patterns, resembling rolls of an old-fashioned player piano, are needed to guide the thousands of needles turning out the new Catalina angel fish design. Bette Stewart models a completed suit as the cloth leaves the bottom of the machine.

Spring Goe To The Ankles
In Parisian Fashion Exhibits

With Lucien Lelong, Schiaparelli and Jean Desses leading the way, its a foregone conclusion that the leading designers of Paris have unanimously endorsed skirts even longer than those shown last season.

Hems continue the downward trend, 12 inches from the ground for all informal wear, with cocktail gowns just above ankle length. Waistlines are waspier; bosoms have stressed cutouts inspired by men's evening vests or else are deeply shaped, filled in with the daintiest of muslin tuck-in dickers or draped brassieres.

The man-tailored suit is definitely outmoded in the design for spring. The emphasis is feminine.

Lucien Lelong, for instance, shows styles which evoke an essentially feminine and sheltered woman, completely alien to the rush and bustle of modern living. His new silhouette features an elongated torso, stressing a small waist and molded but unpadded hips from which the fabric flows in fluid and untrammelled lines.

In the Lelong collection, interest is focussed on skirts which hover two or three inches above the ankle and are divided into two styles — all-round fullness fanned out at the hem by unpressed or pleated godets, and a "1948 sheath" with pleats stitched to the kneeline but allowing perfect freedom of movement. These are teamed up with dolman or kimono-sleeved jackets with dipping, fluted basques.

Afternoon dresses introduce another clever skirt technique with deep folds over the hips simulating paniers. Coats are divided between formal redingotes with full skirts swinging from a low hipline and ample bias-cut casuals, sometimes held in at the belt. Evening gowns are glamorous; one has a peacock train contrasted by the briefest of strapless bodices. Decolletes are alluring, barely covering the bosom, with waist-deep V's.

Schiaparelli presents an Amazon silhouette in a collection inspired by the racetrack, and typified by jackets and habit skirts in racing colors such as "stunning", red, shady green, and tanbark. Daytime hems creep down almost to the ankles, but these are by no means arbitrary and are adaptable to the individual wearer. Skirts are extreme, whether voluminous or skimpy, the latter ensuring freedom of movement by means of a slit hem or cleverly contrived back fullness.

"Wild Harvest" at Seville Saturday

Alan Ladd, Dorothy Lamour, Robert Preston, Lloyd Nolan, young Dick Erdman and comedian Allen Jenkins, appear in the very exciting "Wild Harvest" which starts Saturday at the Seville Theatre.

The picture has the unusual and interesting background of America's great wheat fields. It tells the story of the men who handle the giant harvesting combines, and their adventures are colorful and thrilling.

Ladd is seen as the leader of a combine crew — tough fighting men, every one of them. They have need to be, for their work of harvesting involves them in brawls with rival crews, has them battling the elements, wheat fires and many other hazards. The story provides high spot after high spot of action and excitement, punctuated by romantic complications provided by the beautiful Dorothy Lamour.

She and Ladd are attracted to each other but when he finds her interfering with his work, Ladd walks out on her. Dorothy, in a huff, marries Robert Preston, Ladd's best friend and co-worker. Dorothy immediately proceeds to foment trouble between the two men. Things come to a dramatic, punch-packed climax that finds Dorothy getting the worst of it.

Credit the luscious brunette with an outstanding performance, entirely different from anything she has yet done. Ladd is terrific as the not-to-be-taken-in-man who prefers the camaraderie of his fellow crew members to the kind of love Dorothy has to offer. Robert Preston, who scored such a hit in "The Macomber Affair," comes through again with a well-rounded characterization as does the dynamic Lloyd Nolan.

The companion feature "Thunder in the Valley" has an outstanding cast including Lon McCallister, Edmund Gwenn and Peggy Ann Garner. Louis King's supremely sensitive direction, Robert Basler's breath-takingly beautiful production, and Jerome Cady's brilliant screen play combine to make "Thunder in the Valley" a perfectly marvelous screen achievement. Rarely, indeed, is it that a motion picture can draw claim to such sincerity and warmth in its telling, or mark the measure of deep human emotions with such dramatic power and excitement as does this one.

"Thunder in the Valley" is essentially the story of a simple and gentle people, and of the events that filled them with hatred and a lust for vengeance as hard as the rocks of their beloved valley in the highlands of Scotland. The brooding under-current of this vengeance to come had, in fact, been always in the air, but it remained for the sly and embittered Adam M'Adam to unleash its full force and, ironically enough, for himself to feel the full brunt of its power.

The film's drama is sparked by a bitter conflict between father and son, and is flamed to white heat by the fury of the valley people when they rise in arms against a mysterious killer in their midst. There is romance too — poignant and tender; the love of a boy for a girl that is almost thwarted by the strange code of the valley. And there is excitement of a very unusual and absorbing kind in the Border Cup Trials that play so important a part in the lives of these Highland shepherds.

Church Choir To Sing Handel's "Messiah"

Handel's "The Messiah" will be presented in Westmount Park church on Good Friday, at 8 p.m. by the choir augmented to more than one hundred voices.

Soloists will be: Agnes Scott, soprano; Olive B. Lewis, alto; Alfred Wellens, tenor and J. C. Scott, bass.

Orchestra and choir will be under the direction of J. Christie Scott, a resident of N.D.G.,

AT THE SEVILLE SATURDAY!

Films On Game And Fish Give Exhibition Interest

Cleveland P. Grant, one of the world's most eminent wildlife camera artists, will personally present many of his beautiful colour motion pictures of the game and fish of North America at the Sportsman's Exhibition which the Anglers Association of Quebec is holding from March 31 to April 5 in the Armoury of the 17th R.C.D. of Y. Hussars, Cote des Neiges Road, in support of its conservation work.

NOW WITH CJAD

Tracy S. Ludington, former editor of The Examiner, and for the past ten years with the editorial department of the Montreal Gazette, who has now joined the staff of radio station CJAD as public relations counsel and news supervisor.

Trinity Players Producing Play, This Happy Breed

"This Happy Breed", Trinity Players fourth and last production of the season is well into rehearsal and will be given at Trinity Memorial Hall on April 14th to 17th inclusive, Basil Donn, C.D.A., directing.

The play opens in June, 1919, and runs through a period of twenty years. Many changes are noted in the dresses and hats worn by the ladies—even the "hair-do's" change through the years. The "new look" of today is very much the "old look" of 20 years ago. Mrs. John Rowat and her Costume Committee are taking every precaution to have the play perfectly dressed in the manner of 1919 to 1939.

Olive Sanborn Lead, well known to Montreal audiences, will play the part of Ethel, the mother of this average middle class English family, portrayed on the screen by Celia Johnson. Billy, the sailor lad, will be played by John Martyn-Baxter, a newcomer to Trinity. This part was played on the screen by John Mills.

and well known to Montreal audiences for his brilliant work as soloist and conductor of Oratorio and Opera. The organ will be played by George Flower, organist of Westmount Park Church.

Motion pictures will be one of the many outstanding attractions at the Ex. In the wildlife movie auditorium, a hall which is being reserved especially for the purpose, there will be continuous showings with a new programme every hour on the hour, from 2.30 to 11.00 p.m.

For the past fifteen years, "Cleve" Grant, who has his studio and outfitting base at Mineral Point, Wisconsin, has been producing spectacular documentaries of Canadian and American wildlife, from humming-birds to grizzly bears, from baby partridge to charging bull buffalo. Some of his films are among the finest ever made of the birds, fish and mammals of the North American Continent. His only snares are his camera, his infinite patience, and his artistic talent, coupled with a great fondness for his subjects.

Work As Team

His wife, Ruth, is also an able camera artist, and the Grants work together as a team. Both combine a wide knowledge of the lives and habits of animals with a rare ability to photograph them expertly and artistically. They have designed much of their highly specialized photographic equipment. Each year, they spend from six to eight months producing new films. Working together, as lecturer and projectionist, they have given more than 4,500 motion picture lectures, including many repeat performances at the American Museum of Natural History, Columbia University, Philadelphia.

Mt. Royal Chalet Annual Easter Sunrise Service

Again this Easter hundreds of young people from all parts of the City will join in the Annual Easter Sunrise Service at the Chalet on the Lookout on Mount Royal.

The Service is under direction of the Montreal Presbytery Young People's Union of the United Church of Canada, but it is open to young people of all denominations throughout the City.

The Service will begin at 7.30 a.m. and the speaker will be Rev. C. Gardiner Ward, announces Vera Moore, Chairman of Committee, Easter Sunrise Service. The Service will be broadcast over Station C.J.A.D. at 7.30 a.m.

John Lund, one of the stars of Paramount's "Night Has a Thousand Eyes," has never appeared in a screen musical. Yet two of his stage successes were the musical shows, "Early to Bed" and "New Faces."

Academy of Natural Sciences, and scores of fish and game associations and service clubs.

In addition to Cleveland Grant's motion pictures, and to other outstanding outdoor life film productions, Rev. Father Louis-Roger Lafleur, O.M.I., will show some of the many short subjects he made in the north country with his friends the Indians.

An Oblate missionary, Father Lafleur has produced dozens of excellent colour documentaries of fishing and hunting, during his travels which have taken him from Labrador to Aklavik on the shores of the Arctic sea. He has addressed a great many geographic societies both in Canada and across the border, and his films have been judged among the best ever made. His documentaries are now being shown in England, France, Belgium, Holland, and in the United States.

"Many Moons" Appealing Play For Children

On Saturday the Canadian Art Theatre will open its fifth children's production at Victoria Hall. Written by James Thurber (author of "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty"), "Many Moons" is a charming fairy-tale in a modern setting. Directed and designed by Joy Thomson, this story will prove appealing to younger children.

Playing the leading role of the Princess Lenore, whose illness causes the Royal Court to send far and wide for a collection of "raspberry tarts", will be Gayle Calder. Gayle appears with the Canadian Art Theatre for the first time this season. Two years ago and last season she portrayed Zan in "The Emperor's New Clothes" and the Bootblack in "Kings in Nomania". Gayle is at present attending the Westmount Junior High School, where she is an excellent student as well as being extremely active in extra-curricular activities.

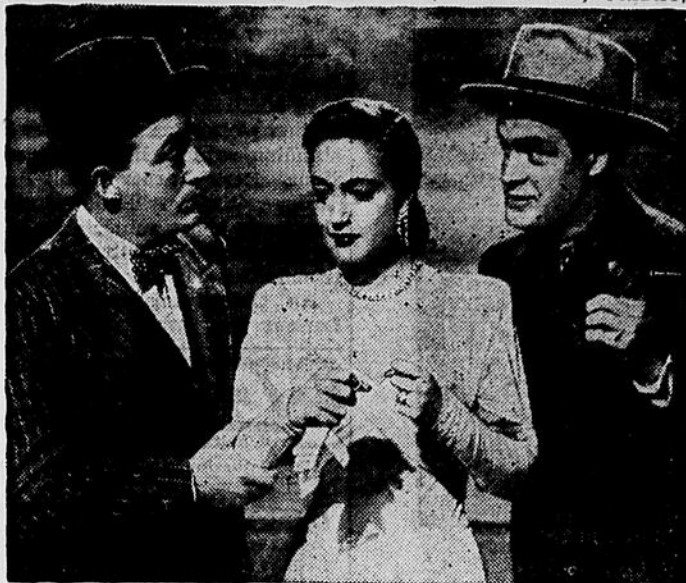

Another young lady appearing in the production will be Audrey Ireland, who was last seen in "The Emperor's New Clothes," as well as in "Kings in Nomania." Audrey will shortly play a role in the McGill University Experimental Plays, being the youngest child ever to appear in a McGill University production.

Supporting in the cast will be Arthur Voronka, Madeline Anber, Mary Sheppard, Ruth Cohen, Silvio Narizzano, Neil Madden, Harold Whitehead and Bruce Raymond.

"Little Women" Performance Showed Talent

Keeping up the excellent standard, the Children's Theatre, under the capable direction of Dorothy Davis and Violet Walters, gave further evidence of their fine work in Saturday's performance of "Little Women" which played to a capacity audience at Victoria Hall.

The fine acting of the cast of young players, together with artistic settings and costumes, went towards the success of the production. Shirley Grant as the tomboy of the family, Jo, gave an excellent interpretation of the role, while Elizabeth Krafiner as the youngest sister made a very sweet Amy, with Anette Heller as the older sister Meg and Ruth Heller as Beth

AT THE MONKLAND SATURDAY

"Road To Rio" With Bing, Bob And Dotty At Monkland

America's number one laugh highwaymen—Bing Crosby and Bob Hope—are hitting the road again, this time the merry, merry "Road to Rio". Of course they have for their co-star and co-traveller the luscious Dorothy Lamour, without whom no "Road" picture would be complete.

The comedy, opening Sunday at the Monkland Theatre, is reported to be the funniest of all the three stars' adventures in hilarity. Bing and Bob will be seen as a couple of footloose musicians, Bing a clarinet player and Bob a whiz with the trumpet. For reasons stemming from Bing's interest in pretty girls, the two men are down to their last buck and are forced to do carnival work. When they manage to wreck the place, as only they can, it becomes urgent to leave the country in a hurry.

Without anything to their names but Bing's suit and Bob's circus tights, they stow away on board a luxury liner bound for Rio. They make themselves cosy in a lifeboat from which vantage point they see the lovely Lamour about to commit suicide. Bing hops to the rescue in spite of Bob's frantic efforts to keep him from the inevitable disaster he's sure Dotty represents.

At this point the plot thickens with the discovery that the very rich Dorothy is under the influence of her wicked guardian, portrayed by Gale Sondergaard, who is determined that the girl will marry her brother, even if she has to hypnotize her to get her to go through with it. Dorothy's behavior when under the influence of hypnotism is vastly different from her normal moments, which makes life for Bing and Bob pretty complicated. How they resolve Dorothy's problem and their own is said to make "Road to Rio" reach riotous proportions.

Lending assistance to the hilarious proceedings are Jerry Colonna in a surprise bit, Frank Faylen, the Wiere Brothers and the Andrews Sisters.

Added Attraction

The added attraction is the exciting film "The Unsuspected". All of the leading characters play highly important parts in the unravelling of this thrilling mystery story.

They are: Joan Caulfield, Claude Rains, Audrey Trotter, Constance Bennett and Hurd Hatfield, Michael North, a newcomer, is introduced to the film going public for the first time, in a major role.

The plot revolves around a radio personality who commands a wide listening audience through his weekly airings of murder stories over the ether waves. The action moves briskly, is embellished with considerable humor, and climaxes in one of the most exciting auto chases ever depicted on the screen. One is kept in the dark as to both gave fine performances of the other sisters.

Willa McKillop made a motherly Mrs. March and Don McMullen gave fine support as her husband. Myrna Rappoport gave a good characterization of Aunt March, and Gloria Wolfe shows great promise as a character actress in her portrayal of the old family servant Hannah.

George Kasatcheno in the role of Laurie was perfectly at ease, and Walter Wakefield and Bernard McMurray as Prof. Bhaer and Prof. Brooks both gave fine support.

The directors of the Children's Theatre, Dorothy Davis and Violet Walters are justly proud of their third production of the season, and add "Little Women" to their list of splendid achievements. Rehearsals are now under way for "Snow-White" which takes place May 15th.

Rains plays the soft-spoken radio commentator, whose perfect diction attracts millions to the radio. Miss Caulfield and Miss Trotter vie for main feminine honors, with Miss Bennett in close second for her breezy performance of a smart radio producer. Much of the action takes place in behind-the-scenes-in-radio which is very interesting.

"Kiss Of Death" At Westmount Theatre Sunday

Loaded with the terrifically powerful impact achieved through the realistic on-the-spot shooting technique that proved so sensationally successful in "The House on 92nd Street," "13 Rue Madeleine" and "Boomerang," the newest film drama, "Kiss of Death," opens Sunday at the Westmount Theatre. Most of the scenes in the film, which stars Victor Mature, Brian Donlevy and exciting screen newcomer, Coleen Gray, were photographed against actual settings in New York City and vicinity to gain the full flavor of realism and believability that eludes even the finest of Hollywood sets.

The original story for the straight-from-the-shoulder drama of a mobster's adventures inside and outside prison walls was written by an assistant District Attorney (Eleanor Lipsky) and is based on fact. The screen play was written by Ben Hecht and Charles Lederer, famed for their exciting plot construction, sense of drama, and pungent, realistic dialogue. It is the story of a shocking betrayal that explodes in a man-hunt unequalled in the annals of violence and vengeance. In its telling, it unfolds the gripping drama of a gangster who is caught between three fires: the love for his wife and children, his battle to remain true to the gangland code, and the temptations put before him to accept the brand of "squealer" in turning in his "pals" who betrayed his wife while he languished in prison.

"Kiss of Death" was selected as a starring vehicle for Victor Mature as a result of his brilliant performances in "My Darling Clementine" and "Moss Rose." The complex role of Nick Bianco, the gangster who is tormented by a love that leads him to accept the most dangerous choice any member of the gang world could make, is a most challenging role.

Brian Donlevy appears in one of his finest roles as the assistant District Attorney who, wise in the ways of the underworld, gambles a man's life to achieve justice.

Beautiful Coleen Gray who, after a small part in "State Fair," waited two years for a real opportunity, gets her big break playing opposite Vic Mature in "Kiss of Death." As Mature's second wife, shielding his two children from the murderous wrath of a gangster, she has a role that calls for the tops in dramatic talent.

The added feature, "That Hagen Girl," co-star Ronald Reagan and Shirley Temple. Both of the stars, Reagan and Miss Temple achieve new highs in their careers with their distinctive performances in this

AT THE WESTMOUNT SUNDAY

With District Attorney Brian Donlevy's men present as witnesses, Victor Mature, convicted of a hold-up, is ready to risk "pals" on the spot in "Kiss of Death," the dramatic picture starting Sunday at the Westmount Theatre.

"Frieda" New British Film At Snowdon Saturday

Coming to the Snowdon Theatre on Saturday for a one week engagement will be the latest British-made picture, "Frieda," which features well known English motion picture stars David Farrar, Glynis Johns, Flora Robson (who is appearing in person in the stage play, Macbeth, now playing at His Majesty's theatre), Albert Lieven and introducing a lovely newcomer to the English screen, Mai Zetterling, who hails from Sweden.

The story concerns a young Englishman who marries the German girl responsible for his escape from a German prisoner-of-war camp in April 1945, and brings her back as his wife to his home in England. She loves him, but he is not in love with her. He has married her merely in order to get her a British passport. In England Frieda poignant story laid in a small midwestern town.

"That Hagen Girl" which is the added feature tells a dramatic story of two pitted against idle gossip. The girl grows up under a cloud of backyard gossip, there being a mystery surrounding her antecedents. As the girl grows up and goes on to junior college, the stories linger and when she is confronted by catty girl friends, the drama motivates into a near tragedy. The story abounds in dramatic punch. The small-town reveals itself with glances, whispers and innuendoes.

Converters Take Series Lead

Meet Ottawa Here Saturday

Canadian Converters' Juniors defeated Ottawa University 39-30 in the first game of a total point home and home play-off series in Ottawa last Saturday. Thus the Westmounters will carry a 9 point lead in the 2nd game to be played on the Westmount Junior High floor this Saturday, March 27th, at 8.30 p.m.

The first game of this series was originally scheduled to be played in Montreal last Saturday, but last minute changes made it necessary for the locals to play the first game in Ottawa.

Jack Dudley led the Converters' to victory, racking up 13 points, closely followed by Gordon MacLeod and John Field with 11 and 10 respectively. Leroux and Rheame were top scorers for Ottawa University with 7 and 6 each.

TAKE FIRST HALF LEAD

The Converters assumed a 17-11 lead at the half way mark on the Ottawa tile court, but the homesters rallied in the second half to come within 2 points of the visitors. However, the last three minutes of the game saw the visiting Westmounters tally 7 points without a reply from the University boys and thus troop off the floor with a 39-30 victory. Gordon MacLeod and John Field sparked this last minute drive with some brilliant basket potting, ably assisted by Jack Dudley and Wenty Young.

Jim Henderson and Marvin Greenbaum showed some steady defensive work for the Converters while Jolicoeur and Trudeau came up with effective efforts for the Capital City boys.

Scoring Summary

Converters (39) — Field (10), S. MacLeod, G. MacLeod (11), Silver, Dudley (13), Wray, Young, Greenbaum, Putnam, Henderson (5).

Ottawa U. (30) — Jolicoeur (5), Trudeau (5), Barrette (4) Rheame (6), Leroux (7), Bonneau, Monforton (3), Diguier, Proulx, Bondy.

St. Leo's Sports

With another highly successful hockey season officially closed, interest will center around boxing, plans for next football season, softball and the selecting of athletic awards for the year. The past hockey season established a new record of hockey activity, with St. Leo's teams engaging in a total of a 149 hockey games. The school iced eight teams with seven of them in active competition. Every year St. Leo's Junior and Senior squads play more hockey games than any other high school team in the city. Nowhere else could one find more hockey opportunities than St. Leo's. A boy can be started in Pee Wee at ten or eleven years of age and with four Pee Wee teams to accommodate the youngsters, there's little left to chance of any boy being overlooked. The Pee Wee League plays a full schedule of games with every club participating in at least fifteen games exclusive of play-offs. The next step is Bantam Q.A.H.A., for those graduating the Pee Wee class and here they start the serious trail up the hockey ladder. If there are some boys not gifted with enough of natural ability to advance, then they are placed on the Midget B Club. After a year or two in Bantam Q.A.H.A. the next move is Bantam Interscholastic and here is the testing ground to gain much needed experience as this club engages in at least twenty-five games every year and they enjoy a five month season. The next and last step is the Senior school team and by the time he arrives in senior company with close to a hundred hockey games under his belt from competing on the school's minor teams, he should be fundamentally sound for a year or two of top notch senior hockey. These figures give the answer to the question of how a small school like St. Leo's can produce so many first class senior B hockey teams. It is certainly not by accident, importing players from other schools or the size of the school but simply a lot of hard work by those behind the hockey scene and good co-operation from the boys themselves taking part in the schools' extensive hockey program.

That the school has won four city Senior B city hockey titles in the past five years with three completely different groups of boys is sufficient proof that the system is stronger than the individual in the success of St. Leo's in senior B hockey circles. Given the necessary material and co-operation it would be hard to find any more productive hockey system for sustained results.

W. H. S. Old Boys Tie School 4-All

The Westmount High Old Boys' puck aggregation, long in spirit but a little short in wind, battled to a 4-4 stalemate with the Purple and White's Senior A squad at the Forum last Friday afternoon. This was the second such annual School vs Old Boys game. The Old Boys took the honours last year.

The scoring stars of last week's fray, which ended up with a scoreless ten-minute overtime period, were the school's George McLanders and the Old Boys' Jack Mowatt.

G. P. Smith, athletics' director, at Westmount High for 32 years until his retirement in June, 1945, mentored the Old Boys. An unusual feature of the contest was that George Hanson, the man who piloted the school squad this season, was between the pipes for the Old Boys.

FALS FOREVER

Five boys of the Leamington Junior Athletic Club from 10 to 15 years-of-age, were the special guests of Ted Kennedy and Howie Meeker of the Toronto Maple Leafs when the Leafs played the Detroit Red Wings in the Olympia recently.

Last year the four boys were presented with trophies by Kennedy, who then promised them that he would take them to a Toronto-Detroit game. Before the game started, Ted and Meeker both took the boys on a trip around the Olympia.

DOUBLE ACE

CLEVELAND—SENSATIONAL HOCKEY CLUB!

One of the most remarkable records ever compiled in professional hockey is that of the Cleveland Barons of the American Professional League. The Barons, who are coached by Bun Cook, the old Ranger smoothie, just finished the current schedule of their league with ninety-eight points, a full ten points ahead of the second-place Pittsburgh Hornets. The Barons were in last place in the middle of January when they started their drive to the top. The team seemed to find themselves suddenly after wallowing at or near the bottom for weeks after the season opened. Their drive to the top parallels the showing of the famous 1914 Boston Braves in baseball, who shot from last place in the National League on July 4, to the world's championship in October.

The Barons took over first place from Pittsburgh on February 28, and have increased their margin with an unbroken string of victories since. Not only have they been winning, but they have been on a perpetual scoring spurge, frequently running their goals into double figures. On the entire season's play they have averaged five goals per game. They went undefeated in their last twenty-eight games of the season.

Bun Cook has the team playing a super brand of combination, according to reports from Cleveland — team-play reminiscent of the old Rangers of which Bun was a star.

CLOSE, RIGHT DOWN TO THE WIRE

Last week-end was one of the wildest and woolliest, from a statistical point of view, that the National Hockey League has ever experienced, as at least three league championships came right down to the final games of the season.

First — the defending Stanley Cup champs, the Toronto Maple Leafs, whipped the Detroit Red Wings twice to cop the championship of the 60-game schedule. The Leafs thus enter the play-downs definite favourites to retain the Cup.

Second — In that final two-game series, the Leafs outscored the Wings by five goals, Leaf goaler Turk Broda's final margin over Harry Lumley. Broda thus won the Vezina Trophy, the first time in five years that a goaler other than Bill Durnan has won that prize. Lumley had some consolation, however, for he led all goalers with seven shut-outs, the best showing since Frankie Brimsek ran up his string of eight ten years ago — the year he broke in with Boston.

Third — Elmer Lach came up with five points in the final two games to win the league scoring crown for the second time in four years. He had 61 points to edge out Buddy O'Connor by a single point.

SOME NOTABLE PERFORMANCES

There were several other notable performances in the week-end's play. Syl Apps scored four goals in the two games to give him the 200 N.H.L. goals he wanted before retiring. Boston Bruins, in winning their last game while the Rangers lost theirs, slipped into third position in the standing. Rocket Richard rammed in three goals to give him 28 for his "slump" season. Those three markers gave Richard seven in the last three games of the schedule.

TWO ALL-STAR SELECTIONS

With the Stanley Cup playdowns already under way, the time has arrived for the selecting of all-star teams. The selecting this year will be the most difficult job the experts have had in this respect for several years. At the start of the playoffs there didn't seem to be a single player in the league absolutely certain of making a spot on the dream team. The day is past when you could write down five Canadiens and one other player and believe that you had selected an all-star team.

For what it is worth, here is our selection:

If you like Lumley of Detroit better than Broda, or Reise also of Detroit better than Reardon, we won't quarrel with you about it.

TIE GAMES SHOULD BE PLAYED OUT

A final note on the 1948 season. Almost twenty percent of the games played resulted in ties, most of which could have been decided in one period of overtime. The tie game is getting to be too prevalent and is a definite drawback to modern hockey. Something should be done to remedy this situation.

St. Leo's Sports

room revealed that they have lost none of their spirit or pep that used to feature their play when at St. Leo's. Vic Lattimer, Moe Strachan and Jack Martin were the Old Boys scorers while Albert Losito, Vince Heney, Stew McGarr and Pat Plamer were the marksmen for the winners. Yves Hudon coach of the Old Boys was well pleased with his hired help for the day and also expressed much admiration for the smart play of this year's newly crowned city Senior B Hockey Champions.

Bob Bulger, attributes the defeat of the Old Boys to his absence on the defence and modestly feels his presence would have made the difference of a couple of goals but refrained from saying which way.

Dave Wright, fourth high's only representative in the boxing class is showing fine form in early workouts and looks like a sure fire bet for a place on the boxing program.

Morey Barré, St. Leo's top fistic ace, is again on the sick list and chances are he will not be back in shape in time for the boxing show. Morey is a colorful fighter and he will be sorely missed from the card. Letters were received last week from a couple of former St. Leo's athletes. Gerald Berry sends along his best regards from St. Francis Xavier U.C.L.A. in California also sends University in Nova Scotia and Richard Ciceri now attending along his best wishes. Bob Lunny dropped in this week on his way to Halifax with the Inkerman Junior Club, to engage St. Mary's in the Junior C.A.H.A. play-downs.

Vic Obeck, popular McGill University Football coach, will be the guest speaker at the opening meeting of St. Leo's 48 Club. The purpose of this Club is to formulate plans for next Autumn's Senior B Football Club. Mr. Obeck will bring along some football films

G. A. Smyth, 4881 Patricia Avenue, who succeeds F. J. Curtis, 4250 Sherbrooke Street West, as Superintendent of Pensions and Staff Registrar of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Many Attend Charles E. Frosst Funeral Service

A large gathering of friends, relatives and former business associates assembled at Westmount Baptist Church on Saturday afternoon to pay final tribute to Charles E. Frosst, Sr., founder and chairman of the board of the internationally-known pharmaceutical firm which bears his name, who died at his Forden avenue home in his 81st year last Thursday.

Born in Richmond, Va. in 1867, of New England ancestry, Mr. Frosst, as a young man, came to Canada as manager of the Canadian branch of H. K. Wampole and Company of Philadelphia.

He opened up a business for himself in 1899, and it grew to such an extent that in 1926, the present plant was established in Westmount.

One of the city's most prominent businessmen, Mr. Frosst was always interested in the welfare and progress of young people, and he gave freely of his time to help those who sought his advice. Many medical and pharmacy students were assisted toward successful completion of their studies through benefit of his scholarships and bursaries.

Mr. Frosst was a member of the Royal Montreal Golf Club, the Royal Montreal Curling Club and the Engineers Club. He was a member of Westmount Baptist Church.

He is survived by his widow, the former Stella Burr of Richmond, Va.; three sons, Eliot S., John B., and Charles E. Frosst, jr., all of Westmount; three daughters, Mrs. Dougall Cushing and Mrs. Colin Webster of Montreal and Mrs. J. M. Alexander of Charlotte, N.C.; several grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Rev. J. A. Johnston, D.D., minister of Westmount Baptist Church, officiated at the funeral service. Interment took place at Mount Royal Cemetery.

RETIREMENT AND APPOINTMENT

John Schofield, O.B.E., 340 Ballantyne Avenue West, who retires as Chief Architect, C.N.R., but retains same post with T.C.A. lines, and George F. Drummond, 222 Melville Avenue, Westmount, who succeeds Mr. Schofield with the C.N.R. as Chief Architect.

STAMP CLUB

A grand total of $200.00 was realized on behalf of the Red Cross when the Westmount Stamp Club held a Red Cross auction in the Victoria Hall on Thursday, 18th March.

Stamps, Covers, Philatelic Catalogues and Albums, donated by members were auctioned off in a spirited manner by Club member J. E. Pickering, with eighty-seven persons, including a number of visitors and guests, participating in the evening's business. Welcomed to the club by the chairman were several guests from the Union Philatelic.

The next meeting of this expanding club will be held in the Victoria Hall on Thursday. Junior members, under 16 years of age, meet at 7.15 p.m. and Seniors at 8.15 p.m.

Annual exhibition of the Club will be held in the Victoria Hall on April 15th, 16th and 17th. Further details will be released as they become available.

Historical Corner

By Charles W. Clark

Early English Period in Westmount

The change from French to English dominion over Canada did not affect the little settlement much, save that the farm lands gave way to country homes. When there was a sufficient community thereabouts, "the Cote", as it was known became a part of the Parish of St. Henry, which was a subdivision of the original parish of Montreal. In 1873 the growing Protestant community secured a room in an old house, which used to stand at the corner of Cote St. Antoine and Clark Avenue, for a schoolroom, with a Miss Turnbull as its first teacher, and a Miss Greenshields as its second.

The following year, the Cote, along with Notre Dame de Grace, was detached from St. Henri and became the Village of Cote St. Antoine.

By 1890, the Village had two thousand inhabitants and was elevated to the status of a town. The little schoolroom overflowed so that the English-speaking population had to purchase a parcel of land from the Westmount Home-stead Company to build a complete school. After its first big Academy (now Argyle School) was built in 1893, the original school became the city hall and finally a police station, following the construction of the present City Hall in 1920. Sherbrooke Street was opened that year, and with a street car linking the town more closely to Montreal, citizens of the Town of Cote St. Antoine felt it was time to begin an era of town planning.

WHAT?

"Anything new in the paper, dear?" Asked the wife.

"Yes, there's been an earthquake at town called Kneojkar-eslau," replied her husband.

"Does it say what it was called before the earthquake?"

BOYS' BRIGADE

1st Company Welcome Additional Instructors

Wanting to see their band in full swing once again, members of the 1st Company were overjoyed to see a new bandmaster take over last Tuesday. Additional members will be added to the band this week.

Members of the company regret to hear that Lieut. Bob Morrow has been in hospital and trust he shall speedily recover from his illness. They look forward to seeing him back in the Company.

Physical training was undertaken by another new instructor last week. Sports are being handled by Eric Paterson and the inter-Company play-offs will commence Tuesday, with the Team from the 8th present.

Swimming each Saturday from 4.30 in the Canadian Legion Pool will draw keen interest from members, who are eager to enter the Swimming meet on the 3rd of April. A number of fine swimmers from the Company will be trained this Saturday for their respective teams. John Fuller, Michael Fuller, Bob Marshall, Hadden Whitelaw, Bruce MacBean, Bryer Rice are all strong swimmers and eligible. Others will be tried out this week, and if necessary, the Company will enter several teams.

U OF M THANKS CITY

Letters of thanks to the City of Westmount for its recent contribution of $7,000 to the University of Montreal Campaign for funds, were submitted to members of the Municipal Council of Westmount at the regular meeting this week. The letters were received from F. P. Brais, K. C., M.L.C., chairman of the campaign committee and Archbishop Joseph Charbonneau, chancellor of U of M.

FOUND AT LAST

"Did you ever hear of the straw that broke the camel's back?" asked the guest at a country inn.

"Yes, sir," replied the landlord.

"Well, you'll find it on the bed I tried to sleep on last night."

C. T. Cresswell Funeral Service

Many relatives, friends and former business associates gathered at the chapel of the D.A. Collins Funeral Home, on Tuesday, to accord final tribute to Charles T. Cresswell, of 24 Ramsay Road, who died suddenly last week, in his 59th year, at his winter home at Daytona Beach, Florida.

Born in Syracuse, N. Y., Mr. Cresswell came to Canada with his parents as a child and was educated at Galt, Ontario.

In the past 30 years he had become a prominent figure in the construction industry in Montreal, and was widely known in building circles in Canada, Australia and England.

Mr. Cresswell was president of the Unique Sash Balance Co., Ltd., proprietor of Winco Products and director of Cresswell - Pomeroy, Ltd., and Cresswell-Rowell Forming Company. He also was director of British and Australian affiliates of the Canadian Companies.

A Mason, he was also a member of the Mount Stephen Club and was actively connected with several other societies and associations.

He is survived by his widow, the former Edith J. Uren; two sons, Charles W. and Thomas B. of this city and one daughter Mrs. Joseph (Margaret) Takamine, of Williamstown, Mass., and a sister, Mrs. R. Saunders of Syracuse.

Rev. G. C. Wadsworth, of Montreal West United Church, officiated at the service. Interment took place in Mount Royal Cemetery.

Easter will bring us hard-boiled eggs, some of which will raise Cain about the price of wifey's new hat.

STAY-IN STRIKE

A doctor was called upon to attend the butler of an aristocratic but impecunious patient. When he arrived he found the man in bed, and a superficial examination revealed that there was nothing whatever the matter with him.

"It's like this, sir," said the butler in a hoarse whisper. "Er ladyship owes me £6 in wages, and I'm goin' to stop 'ere until I get it."

"And a darned good idea, too," said the doctor. "Moreover — she owes me £50."

S.P.C.A. Appeals For Cessation Of Traffic In Live Easter Toys

With the Easter Season at hand, the S.P.C.A. calls the attention of responsible adults to the inadvertent cruelty which often follows the custom of giving tiny chicks and bunnies as Easter presents to children.

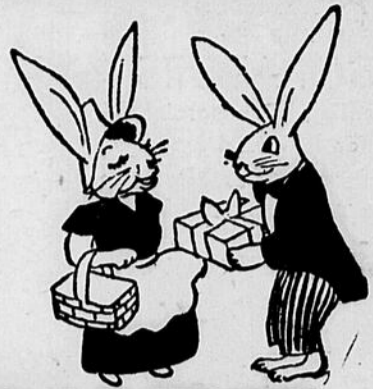

"We can only say as we have said before," declared W. N. Dunlop, general manager of the C.S.P.C.A. in Montreal, "that it is a paradox that the Easter Season should be chosen as a time for cruelty — cruelty brought about by the sale of tiny chicks and bunnies as pets for children. Thus, the time of year when all Christianity should turn to thoughts of kindness and compassion is also the period when thoughtless parents and tradesmen join in a business often resulting in torture and death."

"Every year, at this time, we ask dealers not to sell baby chicks, ducklings or bunnies as pets; every year we urge parents to refrain from buying these living creatures for their children to fondle and then discard. The sufferings of these tiny creatures, handled by inexperienced clerks in retail stores, must be untold. They are subject to food and temperatures ill-suited to their need. Almost invariably, the purchasers do not know how to handle or care for them."

"Our Government," he continued, "has again asked that a greater number of fowl be raised for the production of eggs and meat. Stores which have never before handled chicks are dealing in them now, but it should be pointed out to these establishments that the chicks should not be sold in lots of less than 12, unless good evidence is given that the purchase is for legitimate purposes — the raising of poultry. The use of chicks for other than the production of food would be harmful to our efforts on the conservation of necessary food."
