Huntingdon Town

Annual Holstein Banquet.—

The Annual Banquet of the Ormstown-H'don Holstein-Friesian Association will be held at the Huntingdon Chateau on Tuesday, November 24th at 8 p.m.

It will be recalled that last year the attendance at the Holstein Banquet was so large that the capacity of the Chateau Banquet Hall was heavily over-taxed. J. Walter Jones of Charlottetown, P. E. I., was the guest speaker and gave a very interesting outline of his own experience as a Holstein breeder. Since that time Mr. Jones has been honored by receiving from the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada a Master Breeder's Shield as a testimony of his outstanding success.

To avoid overcrowding and to assure that all guests will receive equal accommodation, only 175 tickets will be sold this year. The various committees are busy making the best arrangements possible for the comfort and entertainment of all guests. At the conclusion of the banquet and programme an orchestra will dispense music for those inclined to dance.

Tickets for the banquet may be obtained from the Directors of the Association.

Evidences of Summertime Weather.—

Summer-like weather still continues despite the fact that the month of November is half over. Mrs. Alfred Farquhar of Athelstan recently brought a large bunch of pussy willows into the Gleaner office. Mr. C. A. McHardy brought in a beautiful bunch of purple pansies on Monday afternoon, and one afternoon this week Mrs. Alex. Brown picked a bunch of violets in her garden.

Y to Assist Friendly Home.—

On Monday evening, Nov. 16th, the regular monthly meeting of the Y was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Milne, about thirty members and friends being present. Letters from absent members were read, also a poem, "In Flanders' Fields," and an interesting account of the life work and heroism of Nurse Edith Cavell. It was decided to send a box of jams and jellies to the Friendly Home and to carry out an efficiency plan at last year. Some of the world's greatest men who are abstainers were named and quotations of Thomas Edison and Dr. Kellogg, concerning the use of alcohol were read. Five new members took the pledge and a number of others promised to do so at a future meeting. A social hour was then spent in games and refreshments, after which the singing of Auld Lang Syne and a hearty vote of thanks to the Milne family and the various committees brought the meeting to a close.

The Gleaner circulation continues to increase even though financial conditions are not the best. This week the circulation list was again counted and in comparison with that of three months ago it shows a substantial gain. The press run of the Gleaner is 2750 per week. Your friends like to read the news, and that is why the Gleaner circulation is increasing. This paper does its utmost to supply news when it is "news". We will appreciate your co-operation.

The Rebekahs held a party in their Club Rooms, Monday evening. The prize-winners were Mrs. N. J. Farquhar and Mr. N. J. Farquhar, first; Miss Helen Hall and Mr. Dave Ross second.

On Sunday, Mr. R. J. R. Nelson, of Halifax, visited with a number of his relatives and friends in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Fallon and family of Malone, N.Y. were Sunday visitors at the home of Mrs. C. Fallon.

Mrs. Albert Brosseau and Miss Louise Brosseau of Boston, Mass., were recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Michaud.

Miss Lillian Stewart of Montreal has been a recent guest of her friend, Miss Beatrice Fallon.

The Misses Alice and Elizabeth Brown of Montreal spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Brown.

Mrs. Cassidy and daughter, Miss Helen Cassidy of Montreal spent the week-end at the home of her brother, Mr. E. C. McCoy.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Baldwin spent Monday with friends in the city.

Mrs. H. R. Clouston entertained on Friday afternoon in honour of her daughter, Marjorie's birthday.

Mrs. C. J. Kyle will be 'At Home' to her many friends this Friday afternoon, from three to six o'clock.

Mrs. Dave McFarlane of Montreal, spent the week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Reid.

The Misses Shirley Malloy and Lomyra Popeck of Montreal, spent the week-end at their respective homes.

Mr. C. L. Hall of Lachute, spent the week-end with his sister, Miss Helen Hall.

Miss Margaret Duncan of Pointe Claire and Mr. Fred Sanford of Lachute Mills, were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Duncan.

Messrs. Robert Helm, and W. G. Tannahill are attending the Royal Show this week.

Mr. W. L. Carr, accompanied by John S. Ross and Max Arthur, left today by motor for the Royal Show. While in Toronto Mr. Carr will attend meetings of the Executive and of the Extension Service Committee of the Holstein-Friesian Association.

Miss Norah Hughes, of Malone, was a guest of her friend, Miss Rucie O'Hare over the week-end.

Miss O'Hare recently spent a day with her sister in Montreal.

Mrs. A. Cowdhurst and Mrs. W. Conners of Montreal spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Allan Dawson.

Huntingdon Town Council

The adjourned meeting of the Huntingdon Town Council was held on Monday evening, all members present.

The accounts as presented were ordered paid: D. Faubert, $12.65; John Macrow, $34.; Mose Galipeau, $3.; Levi Kelly, $30.90; Fire Committee, $5.19; Dominion Floral Co., $15.50; Department of Roads, $185.50.

Fred Laberge presented his account for the painting of the bridges. The balance due was $300, plus extras to the extent of $14.25. The account was ordered paid.

Mr. C. M. Oney, collector of Customs and Excise, appeared before the council in regards to an account rendered for the sending of fire engine to Customs House on day of fire. Owing to the fact that the engine was not used and that the charges in connection with the transporting the engine was but $2. the council accepted the offer of Mr. Oney of $10. to settle the account. The council was pleased to accept the offer, for in no way does the town wish to impose upon the N.Y.C. who ordered the engine sent to Athelstan. Mr. Oney stated that the fire was started by a cigarette and that the costs entailed will fall upon the individual who was responsible.

Mr. J. D. Bicknell: Before you vote on that question, how are you going to treat the resolution on the Town books saying the charge shall be $50. for the engine when sent out to a fire?

Ald. Kelly: As the reels and engine were not used, and furthermore if some day Huntingdon was in a predicament on account of fire perhaps we would have to call upon the N.Y.C. to bring in tank cars of water. Their co-operation at such a time would be inestimable. The N.Y.C. is also a taxpayer of Huntingdon.

Mr. Bicknell: That is all quite true, and I am in sympathy with the N.Y.C., but how are you going to overrule the resolution.

The vote was taken and carried unanimously in accepting the offer of $10.

A letter was read from David Higginson re charge for business tax. Mr. Higginson claimed not to be in business and being present at the meeting presented the facts. The council were unanimous in striking off the business tax charge of $4.

Mr. Bicknell: 7½ months ago I came here and made comments on the present water by-law which I thought needed modification. The charges for water service are not equally levied, particularly to the garages and the hotel. At that time Ald. Derochie said "that was a matter under consideration, and insinuated that new rates could not come into effect before the first of the year. I have looked over the minutes of the various council meetings and nothing appears to be in them on this question and it is therefore believed it has never been dealt with. You will have but one more regular meeting this year. I think you should have the by-law modified, otherwise we will all have to pay the same rate next year, which is not exactly just. For comparison purposes let me cite a few water tax rates: New York Central Railway, $400; Canadian National Railway, $400; O'Connor Bldg. $64.25; O'Connor Bros., garage, $12.50; Huntingdon Chateau, $50. Here might I cite that the Chateau has 30 bedrooms with bath, public toilets, urinals and water is used in liberal quantities in its kitchen and laundry. The Chateau also has a 3 inch connection. J. H. Demers pays $37.50, Wallace Warden, $37.50, the Brown Bldg., $37.50. I could mention other similar cases. I am quite prepared to support the calling of a public meeting of the ratepayers to revise the water rates. It takes 20 days to introduce a new by-law. The water work department of the town is not carrying itself financially, as you all very well know. You are obliged to take money out of the general fund and when you take money from that fund it leaves you short to accomplish the needed works in the town. When the money shortage is noted, money has to be borrowed, then all the taxpayers have to contribute, and that is not altogether fair.

Mayor Brown: We should work fast if we hope to do anything.

Mr. George Hunter: I would like to have an expression of all the aldermen on this subject.

Ald. Lefebvre: I happen to be on the directorate of the Chateau and know some of its problems in connection with the water service. Owing to the lack of pressure the Chateau was obliged to install a booster pump. The pump cost $800. The electric power required to operate the pump each month is $3.75. The deterioriation and upkeep of this pump and power costs $172. per annum plus the $50. for water. Therefore the Chateau pays $222 for its water annually.

Ald. Hunter: Had the Chateau installed the ordinary type of toilets, the booster pump would not have been necessary. This water rate question was brought up before, and it was then said it wiuld be dealt with before the new year.

Ald. Derochie: I think the rates could stand jacking up, not all of them, but several. The water loss has been known to the board for some time.

C. M. Oney: If you had the water coming down the town mains that overflows the tank you could afford to reduce the water rates. (laughter). Occasions occur at my place when we can't go to the garage without getting wet, unless we phone the power house beforehand.

Ald. Kelly: If our water rates were sufficient to pay the water department costs we would have somewhere between $1000 and $1400 per year to spend on town improvements.

Ald. Caza: I am in favour of having new rates for water and corrected so as to come into effect January 1st.

Mr. Bicknell: I am not asking, or suggesting that all water rates be increased, but suggest the list be revised, especially for hotels and garages.

CORNWALL MAN DISAPPEARS

Left Gun and Clothes at Huntingdon Chateau to be Sent Home

The mysterious disappearance of Lt. Col. F. G. Robinson, of Cornwall, is giving a great deal of worry to many people. The Lt. Col. was in Huntingdon, and it was from here that his hunting equipment was expressed back to Cornwall after his staying at the Chateau overnight.

According to the press reports available, Lt. Col. Robinson, in company with a Mr. H. G. Pitt, also of Cornwall, left on a hunting trip on November 3rd. The men were to meet with friends at Lancaster. Mr. H. G. Pitt is said to be quite well off and that Lt. Col. Robinson is also quite at ease financially. The men did not return to Cornwall as was expected but they did register at the Huntingdon Chateau. When at Huntingdon they intended to cross the border, but not having a hunting permit Lt. Col. Robinson was obliged to leave his gun in Canada. He requested the Chateau management to express his gun and hunting clothes to Cornwall. He left money to prepay the shipment. The Chateau was instructed not to ship the goods until the week following. On Thursday last the parcel was received at Cornwall, and his wife was much surprised. The telephone wires were put into play and they gathered clues from Huntingdon that more or less set Mrs. Robinson at ease. She then knew he had not been killed or suffered injury when hunting, but as to his whereabout was still a mystery.

Lt. Col. Robinson was the organist of St. Paul's United Church Cornwall, and on Sunday, Nov. 8th the special anniversary music had to be cancelled on account of his not being present. On Nov. 11th as commanding officer of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highland regiment, he was expected to attend the Armistice dinner and Remembrance Day ceremony, but did not put in an appearance.

The police of Cornwall, as well as of the Provincial force have taken a keen interest in the case, although without request from the interested parties.

According to the Gazette of Monday, Mrs. Robinson has received a letter written by Robinson and mailed in Los Angeles on Nov. 8th. The letter says he left to get away from business and to take a rest. His letter further intimated that he might start up business in that part of the country. A further letter has been received from him at Vancouver, B.C.

On Sunday, friends of the Robinson family were in Huntingdon and called at the Chateau. They informed the clerks that Robinson's disappearance was still a mystery, and that before his leaving Cornwall had left his insurance papers exposed upon his office desk.

"D. A. F."

November Meeting of W. M. S.—

Mrs. Jessie Vass entertained the W. M. S. at her home on Thursday afternoon, 12th inst.; Mrs. Jas. Colquhoun presided at the meeting where the usual routine of business was carried on. The meeting was well attended and a considerable amount of work accomplished. Luncheon was served by the hostess assisted by her daughter, Mrs. John Fleming.

Church News.—

The Zion United Congregation had the pleasure of having Rev. T. A. Wilson, Ph. D., of Montreal, conduct the Divine Services on Sunday morning.

Local News Items.—

Mr. and Mrs. H. Horton and Mrs. Burpee of Massena, N. Y., recently visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Colquhoun. Mrs. Ronald Dick of Arundel, is spending a few days also at the Colquhoun home.

Mr. Arch. Colquhoun left on Tuesday morning for Ogensburg, N. Y., where he intends receiving treatment in the hospital. Mr. Colquhoun's many friends earnestly trust that he may be greatly benefited thereby and enabled to return to his home in better health than he has for some time been enjoying.

The "Y" Society are preparing a play entitled "Country Folk" which they intend staging in the community Hall on the evening of the 27th. We expect it will be very interesting and trust they may enjoy a fine evening and have a goodly audience.

Miss M. McMillan of Huntingdon, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McMillan.

ACADEMY WINS FROM LACHINE

Victorious in Rugby Game Over Prospective City Champion by 10-6 Score

On Saturday the Academy Rugby Team journeyed to Lachine to play Lachine High School, leaders of their section of the Intermediate School League, and prospective champions of the city of Montreal.

The local school had no respect for reputation, however, so just went ahead to win, keeping their season's record, clear of defeat. The final score was 10-6. A beautiful 40 yd. forward pass, Chambers to Watson, in the first quarter, resulted in a touchdown which was converted by McPherson. A place kick by McGill and a rouge gave Huntingdon their 10 points against 6 scored by Lachine.

The girls of the Lachine High School served refreshments after the game.

A return game will be played in the very near future, possibly Saturday afternoon.

The local boys were accompanied by their coach, Mr. C. Leslie Beattie.

New Customs House

A contract has been let to the Salem Construction Company of Salen, Mass., for the construction of a new U.S. customs house at Trout River, 11 miles north of Malone on the Montreal highway.

The bids were opened last week and the Salem firm's bid of $40,500 was the lowest submitted.

Bids for the construction of the customs house were opened some time ago, but none was let due to the fact that the government did not have a clear title to the proposed site.

Covey Hill

Havelock Soldiers' Monument Decorated.—

The observance of Remembrance Day in Havelock Township consisted of a brief but appropriate memorial ceremony at the monument near the Town Hall which was erected to the memory of the four young men from Havelock who fell in the World War.

After the singing of "O Canada" by Miss Edna Curran's pupils and brief remarks by Mayor W. R. Perry, a wreath was placed on the flag-draped monument by Mrs. Mary Stewart, one of the mothers bereaved by the war. The two minutes silence was then observed, followed by the singing of the National Anthem.

In connection with the above program, thanks are due to Mrs. E. R. Lowden who fashioned the very graceful wreath, to Mrs. M. H. Semple for flowers, and to Mr. L. A. Waddell, who conveyed the school children.

Mrs. E. M. Churchill Celebrates 82nd Birthday.—

A very happy and unexpected family reunion took place at Elm Crest cottage, the home of Mrs. Ellen M. Churchill on Saturday, Nov. 14th, the occasion being Mrs. Churchill's eighty-second birthday. She was very pleasantly surprised when her three grandchildren, J. Herbert Barr and Mrs. Edward Bird of Randolph, Vt., and Mrs. Roy Newton of Waterbury, Vt., also her three great-grandchildren, James, Katherine and Earl Bird, arrived Friday evening to help her celebrate the anniversary, her supper guests being the above mentioned grandchildren, also her son William A. Churchill and Mrs. Churchill. It was regretted that her other grandson Aaron Churchill was unable to be present. The chief table decoration was a very pretty birthday cake made by Mrs. J. Herbert Barr, appropriately trimmed with pink rosebuds, bearing "Birthday Greetings" and the dates 1849-1931. The grandchildren departed Sunday morning for their homes in Vermont, after a pleasant week-end with Grandma, and wishing her many happy returns of Nov. 14th.

Mr. S. M. Simpson paid a recent visit to Champlain friends. We are sorry to report the illness of his sister Mrs. Haggerty, formerly Miss Lily Simpson.

Mrs. Jas. Simpson was a guest on Tuesday of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Simpson before her departure for her home in Los Angeles.

Mr. A. Macdiarmid of Quebec, spent the week-end with his mother and sister.

Mr. Frank (Jack) Gough, Mr. R. K. King and Mr. Frank J. Connor of Montreal, were recent guests at W. R. Perry's.

Miss Patton spent Remembrance Day with her cousin, Miss Edna Curran.

Mrs. M. Brooks has been visiting her daughters, Mrs. I. McKinney, Ellenburg, and Mrs. C. B. Edwards.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Evans and Mrs. Alex. McAllister and son James of Montreal were recent visitors at Mr. W. D. Hamill's.

Franklin Centre

The annual old fashioned supper which was held in the R. C. Hall, Tuesday evening, Nov. 10th at St. Antoine Abbe, was a grand success. Supper was served to over three hundred people. The proceeds for the evening were $150.

Those from a distance who attended the funeral of the late Mary O'Donnell were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cassidy, Mr. John Cunningham, Miss Mary Gorman and Miss Regina Fulton, all of Montreal.

"Dad, which is the most warlike nation?"

"Vaccination. It is nearly always in arms."

LADY CURLERS' DRAWING HELD

Thirty-Three Prizes Awarded —Hope Chest Won by Arthur McFarlane

The drawing for the prizes given on tickets sold in aid of the Huntingdon Ladies' Curling Club was held following the picture in the Garden Theatre on Thursday night.

Great credit is merited by the ladies who applied themselves so diligently to the task of starting the hope chest and disposing of the tickets. As a result of a lot of work the ladies' treasury has been augmented by about $400.

The following persons were fortunate in securing prizes: K. Thompson Brooklyn, N.Y.; D. M. Rowat and Miss O. McDonald, Montreal; Dr. C. O. Ostiguy, Valleyfield; Miss M. Kelly, Malone; Mrs. F. H. Cosgrove, Fort Covington; M. H. Patenaude, St. Chrysostome; J. E. Ness, Howick; Miss A. Sayer, J. C. Barr and L. Stevenson, Havelock; Miss E. Smallman St. Agnes; Wm. Greig, Allans Corners; Mrs. R. S. Dunn, and W. E. Sadler, Ormstown; Mrs. J. A. McCracken, Miss Mabel McMillan, G. G. Aikman, Miss Agnes Myers, J. F. Walsh, Miss Laura Leahy, Rufus Kelly, Mrs. W. C. Hunter, Miss Mildred Goodfellow, Dr. J. C. Moore, Mrs. Geo. T. Hunter, Miss Mellina Murphy, Mrs. Chas. Kyle, W. K. Philps, Miss Margaret Millie, Elie Gohier, Mrs. C. W. Thomas, all of Huntingdon. Mr. Arthur McFarlane of Huntingdon, won the Hope Chest itself.

Hemmingford

The Y.P.S. of St. Andrew's United Church held their first meeting of the season on Tuesday evening, Nov. 4th. Mr. and Mrs. Fulcher led the games which were enjoyed by all. The hoop game and huckle buckle bean stalk proved especially amusing. After the games there was a short business meeting over which Mr. Fulcher presided. He explained that the objects of the society are to develop the members physically, socially, mentally and spiritually. Fifteen members were enrolled and the following officers chosen for the coming season: President, E. Hadley; Vice President, Miss Reid; Secretary, Miss Thompson; Treasurer, D. Orr; Organist, Miss Pelletier; Programme Committee for December and January, Jean Cameron, A. Merlin and Charles Barr. Refreshments provided by Mrs. Fulcher Miss Reid and Miss M. Orr were then served. The last half hour was spent in the usual way and the members feel that this is the most helpful period. They are given food for serious thought and a desire to develop those inward qualities which will make them better citizens and help them to be happy under any circumstances. The meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction and God Save the King.

Dr. McDonald of Kong Moon China, gave an interesting illustrated talk on the work there. On Monday Dr. McDonald called on Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cairns, their daughter, Miss Bessie Cairns, being teacher at Kong Moon, where Dr. McDonald has been for the past 25 years.

Mrs. Robertson, Miss Maud Robertson and the Misses L. and E. MacDiarmid of Montreal were guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Blair on Remembrance Day.

Mrs. Philip Marlin, who has been a patient in the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, was able to return home early in the week.

Mrs. Alfred Fisher has gone to be with her daughter, Mrs. Baldwin at Ayers' Cliff.

TURKEY TO PAY OFF NOTE AT BK. OF MONTREAL

35 lb. Turkey is to be at Bank of Montreal Tonight and Tomorrow Night

It's almost unbelievable that a 35 lb. turkey should have so much intelligence as to know where to go to pay off a note. Money was borrowed from the Huntingdon Branch of the Bank of Montreal for an improvement made in town on Lake Street. The feathered kind have contributed in the past towards improving the town's appearance through the building of the Bowling Green. So tonight, Mr. Sparrow has been informed, a 35 lb. turkey is going to walk in the front door of the bank into the vestibule and make an announcement to the general public. The announcement, Mr. Tom is going to make is that he is going to be raffled off at the Garden Theatre on Friday night. For fear some of the people who are to buy the 25c raffle tickets do not see Mr. Tom tonight, (Wednesday, Nov. 18th) he will take up his roost in the bank lobby again Thursday night.

The 35 lb. Tom will be at the Garden Theatre on Friday night, where the Bowling Club Stag party is being held. The chairman of the Stag party committee is Dr. H. R. Clouston, and it is to the Doctor the honor belongs of leading "Old Tom" about the hall on a small boy's waggon.

Yes, Friday night is to be a night of fun. Bingo, under the direction of Stanley Popeck is to be in one of the amusement corners.

A year ago a similar Stag party was held. 50 turkeys were raffled, 30 geese and 50 roosters were given as prizes. This year the roosters will be given as card prizes but only turkeys will be raffled. No geese or ducks being purchased. The door prize a year ago was a little pig. It was D. Lloyd Kelly who let the pig out of the box with a baby's bonnet upon its snout. The door prize this year is not being divulged before hand, but it will be a lively actor and one that will provoke much merriment. The bowlers look for cards being played at 50 tables.

The refreshments are being served by Mr. Fred Langevin, of the Huntingdon Chateau. The refreshments are to be dry, but the party is to be lively. Free smokes for those who wish to draw upon the weed.

Rockburn

A most enjoyable program was presented in the Church Hall on Saturday evening which was sponsored by the Misses Robb and Mr. and Mrs. Raper, and in which they were ably assisted by Miss Dorothy Barr, elocutionist, Miss Fanning pianist, and Messrs. Whitelaw and Stevenson, soloists, all of Montreal. The Robb sisters are not strangers to audiences in this district, and their appearance assured a full house, numbered in the gathering being many from Ormstown, Elgin, Athelstan and Huntingdon.

The program opened with a chorus by the entire cast, followed by vocal duets, quartettes, solos and recitations, interspersed with some very amusing skits, such as the corn husking and scare-crow scene, radio-broadcasting and the camp-fire scene. If special mention were made of any number it would be the Dance of the Paper Dolls, which brought down the house and elicited repeated encores.

During their stay in Rockburn the entire company was entertained in the homes of Miss E. Dunsmore and Miss F. Johnston, and we anticipate with great pleasure their return at some future date.

On Sunday afternoon the pulpit in the Rockburn Church was occupied by Dr. Leatham of St. Andrew's Church, Ottawa, assisted by the Rev. P. McK. Sampson of Athelstan and the pastor, Rev. W. Ross. Dr. Leatham is visiting the Churches in this district in the interests of the Budget Committee of the Presbyterian Church in Canada in an endeavor to raise the funds necessary to wipe out the deficit which now exists. He presented a very clear and concise statement of the work and needs of the Church and expressed the thought that the present financial condition will be quickly overcome.

The musical part of the service was conducted by the concert company which had kindly remained over for the occasion, special numbers being a quartette by the Misses Robb and Mrs. Raper, and solos by Messrs. Raper, Stevenson and Whitelaw.

Mrs. Nelson Gowan and children of Swift Current, Sask., arrived recently to spend the winter with Mr. J. H. Gowan.

Miss L. Arnold of Athelstan, was the guest over the week-end of Mr. and Mrs. John Arthur.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Atkinson of Malone, were visitors Sunday at the home of Mrs. George Rennie, who accompanied them on their return home where she intends to spend a few weeks.

The Messrs. George and Clark Henderson of the Gore were guests over Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. A. Pollock.

Miss Ross of Montreal and Mr. J. Hendry of Ottawa, were recent visitors at the home of the Misses Cain.

St. Anicet

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Normandeau of Tupper Lake, N.Y., have been recent guests with friends and relatives here.

Father: "Did you ever tell that young man that late hours were bad for one?"

Daughter: "Yes, but he said they are all right for two!"

GAME OFFICERS ON THE ALERT

Caza and Pilon Find That Man Near Hopkin's Point Had Trapped More Than 40 Muskrats

Game Warden Avila Caza of St. Anicet and Officer Isaie Pilon of the Quebec Department of Fish and Game had rather an exciting time near Hopkin's Point Saturday afternoon when they went to investigate the report which had been previously given to the Game Warden that muskrats were being trapped in that vicinity.

One of the suspects was Jock Ozar, who resides on an island directly below Hopkin's Point. The officers went to his home where they found more than 40 muskrat skins which they confiscated, but Ozar was absent. Going out a short distance from the island in their boat they met a stranger in a row boat. Pulling up alongside they asked the stranger his name to which he replied Jock Ozar. The man thereupon noticed his muskrat skins in the bottom of the officers' boat, and demanded their return at the same time lifting his gun. Pilon grappled with him, striking his arm and throwing the gun into the water. An axe was also taken from the boat and the man sent to his home.

A case is being made against Ozar by the Department but it is not yet in court.

Nurse Claire McIntosh of Montreal visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McIntosh, over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Chauncy Hawke and Mr. Albert Coupland of Granby, also Miss Margaret Sevenson of Verdun were week-end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ovans.

Miss Mary Tate spent the week-end in the Gore the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Graham.

Miss Wynetta Greig of Brysonville spent last week with her sister, Mrs. Preston Hooker.

A number from this vicinity attended the chicken supper in Riverfield, on Tuesday night.

Mrs. Eddie Hooker visited with her mother, Mrs. Wm. Orr, Sunday. Mrs Orr had the misfortune of spraining her ankle. Miss Marjorie Hooker is spending a few days with her grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Upton and sons, Lionel and Rupert spent the week-end in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar McKell and little daughter, Thyra, visited Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. John Whiteford.

Miss Anna Sommerville of Montrea' spent the week-end with her sister Mrs. Duncan Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Kerr and family, also Mr. Henry Sommerville of Howick, spent Sunday the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Brown.

Ormstown Village

Mrs. John A. Cluff and little son, John Dewick and niece Frances L. Winter spent the week-end in Ormstown with her mother, Mrs. Dewick and sister, Mrs. M. G. Winter.

Mrs. D. Gruer and children spent the week-end in Montreal, the guests of her mother, Mrs. Wm. Cullen.

Tenders let for School Conveyance.—

No. 1, Upper Ormstown Concession to Edward Upton, at $5. per day.

No. 2, Lower Ormstown Concession to Edward Upton at $4.75 per day.

No. 3, Island Rd., River Rd., to Robert L. McCaig, for $500. per school year.

No. 4, River Outarde to Kenneth McCartney, at $4.50 per day.

No. 5, Upper Tullochgorum to Cairnside, to Harold Williams at $4.75 per day.

No. 6, South side of Chateauguay River, George Hope at $3.75 per day.

No. 7, North side of Chateauguay river, to Albert Nussey at $3.10 per day.

Arrangements Completed for Consolidation.

At a joint meeting of the School Boards of the village and parish the contracts for school conveyance were let. It was also decided to advertise for another teacher for Grade VI at a salary of $60. per month. Arrangements are being made to provide accommodation for two classes in MacDougall Hall to take care of the increased attendance expected. The bus drivers to whom the contracts for conveying the pupils have been awarded, will commence their trips on Monday morning, November 23rd.

Football.—

Huntingdon Academy football team defeated the local aggregation 18-5 on Armistice Day. As this is the first year that rugby has been played in Ormstown the local boys put up a very spirited battle against their experienced rivals. There was a large crowd on the school grounds and this support helped inspire the players to action. Huntingdon gained one point in the first quarter and led by 6-0 at the end of the first half. In the last quarter Ormstown earned her only touchdown. Chambers of Huntingdon had the ball in his own back field and on being tackled tried to pass to one of his own men. Kearney of Ormstown speared the ball out of the air and raced to garner five points for the purple and white. Ormstown failed to convert on a poor snap.

Basketball.—

The Ormstown High School girls defeated Huntingdon girls in a basketball encounter here on Armistice Day by the score of 11-10. Although the score was close the speed and skill of the local girls again led them to victory. This team has not been defeated this year and incidentally won all of its games last season.

Gordon LeClaire, McGill's Dramatic Star.—

The McGill University Players' Club Workshop under the direction of Gordon Le Claire successfully presented an evening of one-act plays, to a crowded auditorium in the Central Y.M.C.A., Montreal. The criticism of Mr. LeClaire's performance of the title role in the tragedy "The Valiant" given in an editorial in Tuesday's edition of "The McGill Daily," gave Gordie the highest praise and mentioned particularly the usual ability displayed by Mr. LeClaire who gave an excellent understanding of the difficulties confronting an amateur actor and an intelligent attempt to overcome them. The critic also stated, "I need only say that Mr. LeClaire's appearance last week was an auspicious one for the McGill theatre.

Mrs. H. Elliott Honored by W.M.S. Life Membership.

At the monthly meeting of the W.M.S., Mrs. H. Elliott was the recipient of a certificate of Life Membership, the gift of a friend. Mrs. Elliott, though taken by surprise expressed gratitude to the unknown friend. Miss Bazin made the presentation. Letters of grateful appreciation for bales received were read from Saskatchewan. Next meeting will be held on Dec. 12th, when all completed work and donations will be brought in to be packed and shipped to the Presbyterial Supply Sec. The chapter on Korea was read by Mrs. R. Mather. Mrs. G. Gentle led in the opening prayer. Members answered the roll with a verse of Scripture. The Mizpah benediction ended the meeting.

Miss Greig of Saskatoon, Sask., is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Alice Cavers, prior to entering the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal where she will take a course as dietitian.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Tomson, Swanton, Vt., accompanied by their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Tomson, who are on a motor trip from Texas, were in town for a few hours on Friday.

Mrs. J. R. McOuat returned home on Sunday after spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. Cottingham in Montreal.

Cancelling C. N. R. Train Service

Saturday morning official word came to Huntingdon that the morning train from Montreal and the afternoon train going to Montreal on the local C. N. R. branch line would be cancelled after November 21st. The same train service going to Hemmingford in the morning and to Montreal in the afternoon is also to be cancelled. These cancellations figure along with many other train schedules which are to be withdrawn on that date throughout the Dominion. The reason for so doing is credited to Sir Henry Thornton who hopes to curtail expenses. Sir Henry is perfectly justified in taking such action in some cases, but not in all. Curtailment can certainly be made of many trains on main lines, especially where train services are run almost hourly and for competitive reasons.

It was in the year 1929 that the Hemmingford train was first ordered cancelled. The people asked the late Hon. J. A. Robb to intercede on their behalf, and the train service was re-instated. After the death of Mr. Robb, D. J. O'Connor was accorded an acclamation and was the Member of Parliament for this electoral division at the session held in the winter of 1930. The Hemmingford train service was again about to be discontinued, but again the people preyed upon the parliamentary representative, and the train service was maintained.

It has long been said that the C. N. R. is out of the hands of the Government but the above is ample proof to the contrary. Will the people allow the present C. N. R. service be discontinued? It is quite true the passenger service on these particular trains in question is light, but to the communities which they serve, these trains are necessary, and indispensable for express and mail service.

To mail a letter from Huntingdon to Franklin or Hemmingford, according to the proposed mail service, it will take over two days time. Suppose a letter was addressed to someone on the Franklin rural free delivery, or to the Hemmingford community, how long will it take to get to its addressee? Mailed in Huntingdon Monday noon, it would go to Ormstown on Tuesday morning. Tuesday night it would be taken to Franklin and on Wednesday morning or afternoon it would be delivered. The same service would be accorded mail to Hemmingford.

As the late Hon. J. A. Robb and Mr. O'Connor interceded for the train service, so surely can the present member, Dr. J. C. Moore.

It is not to be expected that our member will take it upon himself to see that the railway service is continued; but if the present service is desired it is the duty of the municipal councils to pass such resolutions. Resolutions expressing a desire for the continued rail service sent to Dr. Moore would give him reason to approach the powers that be, and with such resolutions in his possession it is reasonable to believe cognizance of his request will be adhered to.

The Town of Huntingdon passed such a resolution at its adjourned meeting on Monday night. The new railway schedule is supposed to come into effect on Sunday, November 22. It is therefore advisable that the municipalities that will be affected and wish this railway service continued meet immediately and pass the necessary resolution and have it in the hands of Dr. Moore this week.

The Hazardous Cooper Corner

Once again our Town Council in Huntingdon has passed a resolution pertaining to the dangerous corner at the Cooper corner on the highway at the west end of the town. The Minister of Roads, the Hon. J. E. Perrault is well informed upon the hazards of this corner for many private individuals have taken it upon themselves to inform him on this matter. The Government engineers have filed reports on the site and surely all the data is now before the minister for his information. As a matter of fact, it has been recommended to the Department of Roads by individuals that the property in question be purchased and thereby improve the highway, and make that portion of it one of the most picturesque spots throughout its entire length. Our local member Mr. Martin B. Fisher is acquainted with the corner and will do his utmost to see to it that the Roads Department makes favourable progress towards rectifying this hazardous curve. With cold weather coming on, and slippery roads, it is hoped the Roads Department will now take immediate action.

Anonymous Letters Are Not Strategic

Strategy in business means just what strategy means in war—making conditions around you most advantageous to yourself and most disastrous to your adversary. And as in war so in life. Strategy can be developed during a period of partial inactivity. The romance of business lies in strategy and creation of ideas and the dynamic application of them. But the ideas set forth in the anonymous letter addressed to W. G. McGerrigle last week are neither dynamic nor strategic. The secretary of a school works for the school board, not for his personal benefit. Mr. McGerrigle is not intending to go to the needed consolidated school, nor will his family who are already grown up. Mr. McGerrigle, like many other citizens possibly favours the new educational method and that is no reason why an anonymous letter such as appeared in last week's Bulletin should be sent him. The remark, threatening the burning of McCormick's barns is also distasteful. A letter such as that makes one feel the new school is needed more than ever, for only an insufficiently educated person would have such an undeveloped mind to conceive and write such a letter.

No doubt the Gleaner will receive an anonymous letter after writing the above, but that's nothing. Newspapers throughout the country grow accustomed to receiving such letters, and strange as it may seem can usually trace their origin. No doubt Mr. McGerrigle could inform the Gleaner as to who the author of the letter was, but that is of no particular interest to anybody. The letter has unquestionably done much harm to the cause of the people unfavourably disposed to Consolidated School for Ormstown. In the eyes of the public, some of the innocent will have to suffer along with the guilty individual, being credited in the minds of some as having possibly mailed the letter in question which read as follows:

Ormstown, Nov. 9th, 1931

Mr. W. G. McGerrigle

Dear Sir:—

This is to warn you that if you go ahead any more with consolidation and do not open the small schools we will tar and feather you and pitch you in the river, also we will send McCormick's barns up in smoke.

Now be careful,

A Friend.

Here and There

How true it is, as the Bowmanville Statesman says, that most newspapers are reminded of their mistakes. A newspaper can pursue its happy course, giving praise to local organizations and individuals, encouraging the living, speaking well of the dead, giving many columns of free publicity to this and that cause, and boosting the community and its interests generally, but let one inadvertent mistake occur, and the paper hears of it, in some cases before the ink on the printed page is dry. It was ever thus. A newspaper must ever be ready to use freely the medium of publicity for good and weal of its readers and community, likewise must it have always handy the cloak of charity—the supreme virtue. A newspaper, in the eyes of many, was intended to give service only—free or otherwise—not to make mistakes that he who runs may read. To pursue this course most newspapers strive hard, but oftimes the element of human weakness enters in and mistakes are made. Despite this fact, however, the newspaper continues to be a powerful instrument for good and we believe, without boasting, that most people in the district make this admission.

Ford Rebuilds Rural School

The little red brick schoolhouse that was known as Willow Run until it was abandoned ten years ago, is the scene of activity this Fall, as thirty children from the district of Ypsilanti, Mich., study and play and recite in the same room where their grandparents were taught seventy-two years ago. Willow Run school was restored because Henry Ford, the automobile magnate, noticed it. The broken windows, the sagging door and the decaying white pine floor first caught his attention. Then he learned Frank Cody, superintendent of Detroit schools, taught his first class there forty years ago. Ford bought the school and ground. The state was searched for white pine to replace the old floor. Ancient desks were found, but only five of them. Ford workmen made twenty-five replicas of the five authentic pieces of a past generation. An old brass hand bell, such as called the children from recess decades ago, was located. Even the paint on the wainscoating is the same shade as when Cody taught the school.

Real Monkey Business

With nearly every crime but murder laid to her charge, a little brown-faced monkey, named Jenny, for ten days successfully evaded capture on board the White Star liner Majestic. Her crimes, it is alleged, include stowing away, stealing fruit, and attacking an officer with intent to do him bodily harm. The monkey, which came from nobody knows where, climbed to the highest point on the bridge, and made her way into the officers' quarters. She was caught in the act of stealing grapes from the captain's cabin. Hastily closing all doors and windows, an officer, protected in fencing mask and gauntlets, entered the cabin and pinioned the monkey after a hard struggle. Her grimaces when caged were quite insulting.

Pair Steal Auto With Baby

"Hey, Bill, lookit what's in the back seat!" Imagine the embarrassment of two midnight auto thieves when they discovered a three-months-old baby in the car—a lusty-lunged boy baby at that. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Chevais of Santa Clara, parents of the child, left him asleep on the rear seat of their machine at San Jose, Calif. At 1 o'clock in the morning police received a hysterical report from the parents that child and auto had been stolen. The city was searched frantically. In the midst of what appeared a futile search, Mrs. M. T. Murray, phoned that the baby had been hastily deposited on her front porch by two men.

Woman Kills Self in Trunk

Clasping a pillow saturated with ether, Mrs. Freda Harvey, 40, climbed into a trunk in her apartment at Seattle, Wash., and calmly awaited death. Her husband, George, janitor at that address, smelled the drug while passing his door and investigated. He opened the trunk and found his wife's lifeless body inside, her face buried in the pillow. She left a note asking forgiveness and declaring she had reached the limit of her endurance. On the dresser she also left a deed to a piece of Seattle property and $35. According to her husband, she had been ill for several months.

Boy, Nine, Saves Mother

Joseph Escott Jr., 9, of Kansas City, is being mentioned for a bravery medal because he saved his mother when the brick wall of a burning building crushed their home. The mother, Mrs. Jennie Escott, 38, was caught between the steel reinforcment rods of the wall. Joseph sent his 6-year-old brother Johnnie for help and remained in the wrecked and burning house, lifting the rods from his mother's body so that she could crawl out. Immediately after Joseph had freed his mother, the house collapsed.

Dog Committed Thefts

Peculiar behavior of a little dog who was found scratching the floor under a bed in the home of its owners in Warsaw, Poland, led to the discovery of a number of valuables which had been missing from the owners' home and from friends they happened to visit. The people had been accused of theft, but had been able to prove their innocence. It was not until his treasure store was discovered that it was realized that the dog had committed all the thefts himself and had hidden his "booty" in a crack in the floor under the bed.

Travelling Parcel Post

The strangest parcel that has ever travelled by air was delivered in London recently. The parcel was a Belgian journalist, G. Lantecheere, who had posted himself at the General Post Office in Brussels to an address in London. Duly labelled and postmarked, he travelled in the parcels compartment of the aeroplane. For a passenger between Brussels and London the fare is $20.00, but the human packet came for $12.00. He had to make his return journey as an ordinary passenger. The G. P. O. does not accept livestock, whether human or not, as parcels for delivery outside the country.

Stolen Kisses Worth $80,000?

Mary G. Ridgeway, 24, told the District Supreme Court, at Washington, she thinks William W. Burdette, retired merchant living at the Ambassador Hotel, should be required to pay $80,000 for some stolen kisses. Through Attorney George D. Horning Jr., the young wife stated Mr. Burdette called at her home four times. May 30, last, he put his arms around her and tried to kiss her, she said. June 12 he succeeded in kissing her and September 8 he attempted to do so, while on September 27 he embraced and kissed her, she charged.

Hoover's Brother-in-Law

Charged with possession of a gunny sack containing 19 pints of liquor, C. Van Ness Leavitt, brother-in-law of President Hoover, was at liberty in Santa Monica, Calif., under bail of $250. Leavitt, who is 57, was arrested as he attempted to leave a grocery store owned by a friend, C. R. Dailey, 43, also accused and released under similar bond. The two men appeared in police court, pleaded not guilty and were ordered to stand trial this week for alleged violation of the Wright Act, California's liquor statute.

$50,000 For Ape's Bite

For the bite of a chimpanzee—$50,000. That is the amount asked in one of the most unusual damage actions ever filed in King County, Washington. The suit was brought by Ray W. Young, of Seattle, in behalf of his daughter, Marie, 10, who, it is claimed, suffered permanent disfigurement to her right hand when she was bitten by a chimpanzee in front of the Columbia police station. Defendants are Joseph Stien, trainer, and William Estep, lecturer and owner of the ape. According to the complaint, the girl and her father were passing the police station when the ape, not under leash, jumped at the girl suddenly and fastened his jaws in her hand. Attorneys Burt C. Ross and T. H. Patterson, who filed the suit, declare that the ape's teeth were so set in the girl's hand that passersby had to pry them loose.

Odd Insurance Claims

A great many odd accidents have been recorded. A report of a large indemnity insurance company recently listed some of these "freak" cases: "Insured's daughter poked a sardine can in right ear." "Insured was on vacation. Was sitting on a piazza with a young lady on his lap. In getting up, legs gave way under him (they being numb). Sprained left ankle." "At work, glass eye exploded. Rendered unconscious—lacerations of eye socket." "Playing ball with pipe in my mouth. Missed ball and ball hit pipe, driving it back into my mouth." "Slipped on rubber heels, fell on left thigh, breaking a glass flask which severed two arteries in hip." "Insured was pacing floor with baby when moth flew into his right ear. Moth went further into ear when insured and his wife tried to extract it." "Insured had tacks in mouth. Swallowed one when someone slapped him on back."

Boy Killed Playmate

Without remorse or other emotion a 9-year-old boy admitted that he had put his 6-year-old playmate to death. After maintaining his innocence for three days, Bobby Labourd, a colored boy, of Bakersfield, Calif., calmly "confessed," it is said, that he caused the death by drowning of George Leistikow, a white schoolmate. A resident of San Francisco until recently, the youngster was a "problem" child frequently brought to attention of juvenile authorities. His confession came shortly after a coroner's jury had returned a verdict of "accidental death" in the case of young Leistikow, whose body was found in an irrigation ditch.

Five Tons of Dust

Vacuum cleaning of Rouen Cathedral has just been completed and five tons of medieval dust were removed. Every nook and cranny was carefully penetrated and cleaned, and special scaffolding and rolling platforms had to be constructed to reach otherwise inaccessible parts. In the cleaning process four valuable paintings of Biblical subjects, lost for centuries, were discovered in the tower.

Fright From a Snake

Killing a snake with a hayfork, a farm girl on the road near Branne, France, picked it up on her fork to toss it into the field. Just as she hurled the reptile across the road a motor car passed. The snake fell into the car. Its four passengers yelled for help. The driver became hysterical, threw up his hands in despair, and the car, now driverless, went off the road and hurtled against a stone wall. Fortunately nobody was hurt, even though the car was wrecked, but the snake was dead.

Moves Barn 30 Miles

Neighbors of G. A. Hilley, farmer at Raven Creek, Berwick, Pa., assisted him in moving a barn 30 miles to a new location. Hilley's own barn was destroyed by fire. He purchased a barn on the Creasy farm at Miffinville, 30 miles away. Eighteen of his neighbors joined him in dismantling the Creasy barn, transporting it to the Hilley farm and re-erecting it. Seven trucks were used in transporting the structure.

Leopold and Loeb

Leopold and Loeb are not so much in the public eye now. They are still in jail at Stateville, Ill., where they were sent for life in 1924 for killing a little boy. Leopold has been made a yard foreman in charge of 100 prisoners at the new state penitentiary. The post is regarded by the convicts as a "plum" and that Leopold will have an opportunity to see Loeb, also under life sentence, at intervals. Loeb is in charge of the prison's greenhouse and nursery, and often visits the yard.

Football at Sing Sing

Football has come to Sing Sing, but the teams won't make any road trips. Warden Lawes thinks the game will do the prisoners good—"teach them to play according to rules," he explained. Two dozen football outfits have been donated. The warden said that the teams would be coached by several high school and college men among the prisoners. One advantage Warden Lawes sees in prison football over the college kind is that the alumni is hardly likely to squawk about the way the team is handled.

Leaves Oral Will

An Englishman has announced his intention of making his will on a gramophone record. There seem to be drawbacks to this method of making a will. Almost every language contains groups of words which, even when spoken by the most careful speaker, sound almost identical with other groups. For instance, there is told a quaint story in which a humble family was thrown into a flutter by the announcement received by telephone, that the head of the household was bringing "the Countess of Ayr" home to dinner. At the end of the story it emerged that what he had said was "the County Surveyor."

To Perfect the Race

Prof. Rudolph Kinast, a Bavarian doctor, stated he has organized a society, the members of which pledge to get up from the table feeling hungry. He claims that if the Germans follow his plan in one generation they will become a race of perfect men and women.

THE NATION'S PLAYGROUND

The national parks of Canada are attaining a world-wide reputation as natural playgrounds. Originally set aside by the Dominion Government as areas in which the unspoiled beauties of nature might for all time be available to "the people," the national parks soon won more than local recognition, and "the people" for whom they were reserved now include a great number of visitors, mainly from the United States. The largest national parks are in the Rocky Mountain area in Alberta, where Rocky Mountain National Park comprises 2,585 square miles, Jasper National park 4,200 square miles and Waterloo Lakes National Park 220 square miles. There are good roads and fine hotels in these parks for the accommodation of the tourist, but much of the area is maintained in all the beauty and grandeur of its natural conditions.

TASCHEREAU SHOWS LARGE YEAR SURPLUS

Despite Slightly Reduced Revenue, Finances in Healthy Condition

FIGURES CLARIFIED

One Million Dollars From Liquor Profits For Charity

Hon. L. A. Taschereau, Provincial Treasurer, was able to show when he tabled the public accounts for the fiscal year ended June 30th last that there is a surplus of $776,775 as between ordinary revenue and ordinary expenditure. The ordinary receipts are $41,630,620, and the ordinary disbursements $40,853,844. The surplus would have been one million dollars more, but under an act of the legislature one million dollars of the receipts from the Quebec Liquor Commission are deducted since they were turned over to a trust fund, the Quebec Charities Act. The province received $8,700,721 from the commission but counts only $7,700,721 in its ordinary revenue.

The public accounts present still more changes from the report shown last session. The position of the province and the conduct of financial affairs are shown in much more simplified fashion, and in addition there are a number of supplementary tables which group together much information hitherto distributed throughout the volume. Each item of revenue is given followed by the amount of reimbursements, and the net amounts are given here. Succession duties brought $6,675,219; the Motor Vehicle Act and gasoline tax brought $5,409,747 and $4,405,160, respectively, a total of $9,814,907 from the motor vehicle and its ramifications. The Companies Act brought $3,424,850; the tax and transfer of securities brought $397,896; hotel and restaurant licenses brought $360,228; minor taxes brought $140,121; the Insurance Act brought $124,759; permits under the Liquor Act brought $2,132,611; the federal subsidy brought $2,128,595; liquor commission, trade account, $7,700,721; lands and forests brought $4,845,966, a drop of about $700,000 for the year; mines brought $565,552; colonization, game and fisheries brought $385,991, and other minor amounts brought the total to $41,-630,620. This revenue compares with $43,585,140 for the year ended June 30, 1930.

Expenditure Slightly Up

The expenditure totalling $40,853,-844 compares with expenditure of $39,379,910 for the previous year.

Included in the list of expenditures is an amount of $1,104,277, making the amount for debt account $4,399,-639. The administration of justice cost $2,055,589; public instruction, $4,-385,822; hygiene, exclusive of money spent under the Charities Act, $748,-881; insane asylums, $1,015,352; public works and labor, $3,012,082; Roads and Mines Department, $11,532,547; agriculture, $3,422,259; lands and forests, $2,611,686; colonization, game and fisheries, $2,636,767; charges on revenue, $834,738; miscellaneous services, $848,183, and the other smaller amounts make up the $40,853,844.

For the first time the Quebec Public Accounts produce a statement of assets and liabilities, which is of a definite nature. No valuation is given of the natural resources of the province, such as forests, lands and hydraulic powers. The example of Ontario in capitalizing the federal subsidy is followed and an asset of $42,579,184 included in the total list of assets valued at $184,200,663. The other assets given are: Public works and buildings, $19,657,231; dams and other such works, with allowance for depreciation, $6,762,080; warehouse of the Quebec Liquor Commission, also allowing for depreciation, $1,902,337; value of toll bridges, $1,578,662, against which is deducted $1,133,170 of net receipts against the cost, leaving a net asset of $445,492; roads are given as an asset of $48,743,464, this representing expenditure under the Good Roads Act, 1912, and allowing for reductions totalling $16,340,274; aid to colonization, $6,013,862; aid to unemployed, $2,150,044; discount on the consolidated debt, less proportion amortized, $1,381,081; Quebec's share of the common school fund, $1,189,-972; capitalized value of the federal subsidy, $42,579,184; money in bank, accounts receivable, and accrued interest, $9,390,748; special funds, including trust funds or receivable from the federal Government for unemployment account, $6,901,223; advances to municipalities under the federal workmen's dwelling law, $4,621,-625; current assets of the Liquor Commission, $3,564,135; due from the Federal Government, $1,075,603; equipment, machinery and furniture of the different departments, $3,478,-886; money available against future revenue, $526,433; Banque Hochelaga, $15,000,000, made up of $1,026,800 of repayments and balance of $13,973,-199; sinking fund, $8,817,254.

Liability Statistics

The liabilities show $10,042,673 of accounts payable, including warrants not paid, and interest on the consolidated debt; a total of $10,020,581 on account of judicial deposits, deposits of insurance companies, deposits of contractors, amounts due to municipalities re unemployment balances due to the Public Charities Act fund, etc.; due to the Dominion of Canada, re workmen's dwellings, $5,-384,687; companies tax payments in advance, $2,414,750; debentures re Banque Hochelaga, $15,000; consolidated debt, $69,235,291, of which repayment at due dates is provided for by sinking fund payments to the extent of $49,874,907; reserve for sinking fund, accumulated from revenue and held as a reserve to meet depreciation on buildings and for amortizing purposes, $8,817,254. This leaves an accumulated surplus of $18,607,-267, and to this is also added as liabilities the sum of $1,189,972 on school fund, and the $42,579,184 credited in the assets for capitalization on federal subsidy. There are indirect liabilities totalling $4,455,072. The statement of assets and liabilities is signed by the firm of Price, Waterhouse and Company, and covers the situation as of June 30, 1931, and is given as representing the real financial position of the province. The statement is signed as of October 5th.

Large Favorable Balance

Comparison of the assets and liabilities, consequently, shows a large amount on the favorable side, especially taking into account the fact that the contract with La Banque Hochelaga is being fulfilled year by year, and there is over 26 millions of reserves under the two headings mentioned.

Turning to the details of the consolidated debt it is to be noted that there are 19 loans in all. The province does not need to worry about the New York discount on Canadian funds as far as existing loans are concerned, since there is nothing due in New York funds until 1950. The consolidated debt stands at $84,235,-291, and the net consolidated debt allowing for $9,843,842 in sinking fund and the $13,973,199 of the Bank of Hochelaga issue, makes the net consolidated debt $60,418,249.

This compares with $54,022,526, for the previous year, an increase of $6,-395,722. During the year there was borrowed $2,850,000 under the Unemployed Aid Act of last session, $2,-000,000 under the act of the same session for bridges, and $2,650,000 for roads.

The figures for the past five years, starting for the year ended June 30th, 1926, are as follows, respectively: $56,-426,557; $58,812,951; $58,827,531; $56,-751,141; $54,022,526 and $60,418,249.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS

LOST 30 lbs. FAT IN 3 MONTHS

AT THE AGE OF 40

"I was very stout, and I have taken Kruschen Salts for 3 months, and have reduced from 212 lbs. to 182 lbs. (age 40). I am a hearty eater, and have never dieted in any way. Also I have never felt any ill effects whilst I have been taking Kruschen salts."—T. H.

That is an instance of Kruschen succeeding without assistance. But if any fat person will be satisfied with a moderate diet, and will take one half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning—they can lose fat in just the same way.

This is what Kruschen Salts does—it cleans out the impurities in your blood by keeping the bowels, kidneys and liver in splendid working shape, and fills you with a vigor and tireless energy you'd almost forgotten had existed—you get the needful exercise.

As a result, instead of planting yourself in an easy chair every free moment and letting flabby fat accumulate, you feel an urge for activity that keeps you moving around doing the things you've always wanted to do and needed to do to keep you in good condition.

Mission Band Concert.—

The patriotic concert given by the Senior Mission Band in the Presbyterian Church on Tuesday night was very successful in the quality of programme presented. Music by Dr. Douglas and his orchestra between the various numbers was much enjoyed, also solos by Mr. Campbell. The tableaux of the seasons, Spring Summer, Autumn and Winter were especially fine and showed much careful work on the Mission Band leaders, Mrs. McCaffrey and Mrs. Elder, who, assisted by Mrs. Wells planned the programme. The Athelstan Senior Mission Band is unique in that it is composed of boys and girls who have outgrown the regular band, but have not lost their interest in the work. The Juniors had a sale of candy and receipts from sale and concert amounted to $24.

The regular monthly meeting of the Young Women's Auxiliary was entertained on Wednesday evening by Mrs Archie Rowat. There was a good attendance of members and the work on hand was the autograph quilt which they are making for one of their number.

Rev. P. McK. Sampson and Miss Sampson motored to Montreal on Monday, returning on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon McCaffrey and son Bobby of St. Agnes were guests on Tuesday of Mr. and Mrs. Harold McCaffrey.

Misses Grace Rowat and Lizzie Grant of Montreal spent the week-end at their homes.

Mrs. Jane Henderson and Mr. Fred Henderson of the Gore have been recent guests of Mrs. R. H. Elder.

Rev. P. McK. Sampson and Mr John Ross attended a meeting of the Presbytery in Montreal on Tuesday.

Mrs. Stacey Booth and two daughters motored from Montreal West on Saturday, bringing with them Mrs. Booth's mother, Mrs. P. McArthur, who had been spending a couple of weeks with her. On their return in the afternoon, they took back with them their aunt, Mrs. Ferguson.

Mr. Eddie Lucas spent a day recently in Montreal, visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Denman.

Mrs. Sparrow and Miss Ida Holiday were guests of Mrs. Law in Ormstown on Tuesday last. They also attended meetings in connection with the 100th anniversary of St. Paul's Church.

Mrs. John Feeny and family were guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tessier, on Friday.

Misses Mary Van Vliet, Dixie Ferguson and Dorothy Slack motored from Montreal on Saturday. On their return on Sunday they were accompanied by Mrs. Van Vliet, who will spend a couple of weeks with relatives and friends in the city.

Mr. Matthew Gilbert had the misfortune to dislocate a shoulder last week. He was leading a horse, and it reared, throwing him off his feet, and he landed heavily on his shoulder on the hard ground.

Mr. and Mrs. David Van Vliet and family of Lacolle called on Mrs. Van Vliet on Sunday on their way to spend the day with Mr. and Mrs. B. Rankin.

Rev. Mr. Pollock of Ormstown, Rev. Mr. Sanderson and Rev. Mr. Norman of Montreal, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Moore, Armistice Day, on the way home from services held at the Soldier's Memorial Monument in Huntingdon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Cairns and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest McEwen and family had supper Nov. 11th with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Moore, also Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Yeoman and sister with another car of friends and Mrs. Wm. Thompson were callers at the Moore home the same day.

Mr. and Mrs. James Burrowes and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Strike of Montreal, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Graham.

Japanese Skiers Coming to Placid

Far-off Nippon will be represented at the III Olympic Winter Games at Lake Placid February 4 to 13, 1932, by a team of 10 skiers, according to information received from Y. Kagami, secretary of the National Ski Association of Japan.

The Japanese team will sail from Yokohama on December 24, arriving in Lake Placid about January 10. This will give the Far-East ski stars nearly a month in which to familiarize themselves with the Lake Placid Olympic jump and the 250 miles of ski trails from which the Olympic race courses will be selected.

Members of the Japanese Olympic ski team will be G. Adachi, T. Tsubokawa, K. Yamada, H. Huriyawaga, Y. Takada, S. Iwasaki, I. Ageishi, M. Makita, K. Taniguchi and I. Sekiguchi.

The ski sport has made great strides in Japan during the last decade, the mountainous islands affording an ideal terrain for cross-country racing. Japan was represented by a ski team at the II Olympic Winter Games at St. Moritz, Switzerland, in 1928. Her skiers hope to make a strong showing at the Lake Placid Games, where they are expected to vie for international honors with powerful teams of European nations where skiing has become a winter tradition, among them Norway, Sweden, Germany and Finland.

DOES ADVERTISING RAISE PRICES?

An Advertisement Addressed to the Public of this Community

When you hear of a manufacturer who spends $100,000 or more each year on advertising, you may feel like saying—"Terrible! What waste! and it is we—the public—who have to pay for it all!"

But stop! Before you make judgments, look at facts.

Manufacturers who advertise spend from 2 to 5 per cent of their sales on advertising. Let us put it at 3 per cent of the price which you pay for their article of sale. So if you pay 25 cents for an advertised article, you are paying three-fourths of one cent to pay for making it known to and wanted by you. The price would not be less—indeed, it might easily be more—if the article had no money spent on it to make it known to and wanted by you.

It is economy, so far as you are concerned, to have manufacturers develop a huge demand for their product, by the agency of press advertising. You pay for the advertising, of course, but you pay a smaller price for the advertised article than would be necessary if the manufacturer's output were smaller!

Advertised articles have to be better than non-advertised articles, and since they are made in larger quantities, they can be made and sold at least as cheaply as imitative non-advertised articles.

If you are a thrifty and wise buyer, you will buy the article made known to you by faithfully-maintained press advertising. The stranger product should be shunned.

Be very friendly, therefore, to nationally-advertised products—foods, toilet aids, motor cars, radio sets, and all else—which are also locally advertised—in this newspaper.

Huntingdon Town Council

Mayor Brown: I could name a couple of others.

Ald. Kelly: I suggest a notice of by-law to revise the water rates.

Ald. Hunter: One day last summer when the water was shut off a garage man came to me and asked how long the water would be off. I told him probably all day. The reply I got from the man was that he would probably lose $20. that day on washing cars.

Mayor Brown: What would you suggest charging the Chateau?

Mr. G. T. Hunter: That is surely an easy matter to arrive at. You can find out how many people are in the hotel, how many baths and its many uses of water and check that with a private home and a little division and multiplication will give you an answer.

Mr. Bicknell: Another matter pertaining to water is that of a levy against contractors for the use of water when building in town. This summer three outside contractors had jobs in town. The Farmer's Factory, the Catholic School and the Post Office. Contractors estimate upon having to pay for water so why not collect it. Mr. Bicknell here cited the case of the John McGregor Co. who tendered on the Post Office Bldg.

Ald. Hunter: When private individuals build, such as in my case, I think the water rate should apply from the day the connection is made. When contractors have the work on hand the charge should be made against them. The council all agreed to the suggestions made.

Moved by Ald. Derochie, seconded by Ald. Hunter that the contractors of the Post Office and the Catholic School each be assessed $25. for the use of the Town Water during the course of construction.

Mayor: The flag pole in the Park is in need of repairs.

Mr. Bicknell: Whilst the flag pole is as crooked as the Chateauguay River it cost the town nothing. I would suggest your taking the top part of pole off and put a larger and heavier length of pipe at the base. I have a new ball for the top of the pole which I will be pleased to donate. I would like to see a fine pole erected and in keeping with the monument.

Moved by Ald. Kelly seconded by Ald. Caza that the Park Committee look after the repairing of the flag pole and have the guns in the park painted. Mr. Bicknell was invited to assist the committee in carrying out its work.

A vote of thanks was extended by the council to Mr. Bicknell in appreciation of his services on Remembrance Day. Mr. Bicknell thanked the council for their vote of appreciation and stated he would also be pleased to lend assistance to the Park Committee.

Ald. Derochie stated he thought it would be advisable to send another resolution to the Minister of Roads suggesting that the curve at Cooper's Corner be improved. Send the resolution now when parliament is in session and send a copy of the resolution to the local member, Mr. M. B. Fisher. The motion was seconded by Ald. Hunter.

Ald. Derochie: The C.N.R. train service is likely to be reduced after November 21st. It will be missed if the curtailment is made and I suggest that this council pass a resolution asking Dr. J. C. Moore, M.P., to intercede and endeavour to have the train service continued. The motion was moved by Ald. Lefebvre and seconded by Ald. Caza.

Mayor Brown: What about the water overflow at the tank?

Ald. Hunter: I shall investigate this matter tomorrow.

The council then adjourned to Nov. 23rd, when the water by-law will be

IN MEMORIAM

Seaward—In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. W. H. Seaward, who departed this life, Nov. 15th, 1930.

When shadows are falling soft and still,
And the heat of the day is done.
We see thro' the dusk as loved ones will,
The face of the one who is gone.
And every night as the sun goes west,
And the toil of the day is done,
We long for mother who loved us best
And the smile of the one who is gone.
The rolling stream of life goes on,
But still the vacant chair
Reminds us of the face, the smile
Of one who once sat there.

Inserted by family.

Mistress (reading applicant's references): "What! You have had six places in a month."

Maid: "Yes, ma'am. The days of the good mistresses are over."

Obituary

The late Albert Blair

Another well-known and highly respected resident has passed to his eternal reward in the person of Mr. Albert Blair, whose death occurred on Monday afternoon, November 9th, in Montreal, after a short illness. The deceased was born at Franklin Centre in 1866, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Blair. He was united in marriage to Idia Towns, 41 years ago and he has been farming ever since. Although Mr. Blair was a man well up in years, he was always found to be an industrious farmer and one who did not care to idle time away. He was a member of the United Church and also a man of splendid Christian character, one of high ideals, a true husband and a kind friend and neighbor and his loss will be keenly felt. Sincere sympathy is extended to the surviving members of the family. He leaves to mourn his loss, his wife, one brother, Mr. Henry Blair, one sister, Mrs. George Brooks, 10 nephews and 4 nieces. The funeral service was conducted at Black's United Church by the Rev. T. F. Duncan, who preached most appropriately. Interment was in Black's cemetery. The pall-bearers were six nephews of the deceased: Messrs. Murray Blair, Willard Blair, Clarence Blair, Otis Blair, Fred Towns, Lawrence Towns. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The large number of those present to pay their last respects to the deceased included friends from Shawinigan Falls, Montreal, Hemmingford, Huntingdon and Ormstown.

The Late Mary O'Donnell

Another well known and highly respected resident has passed to her eternal reward in the person of Miss Mary O'Donnell whose death occurred on Monday afternoon, Nov. 9th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hercule Delisle, St. Chrysostome, Que., after a few days illness. The deceased was born at St. Antoine Abbe, Que., in 1855, was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Peter O'Donnell. Miss O'Donnell had resided at St. Antoine Abbe until five years ago when she went to live with Mr. and Mrs. Hercule Delisle in St. Chrysostome. Miss O'Donnell is the last one of a family of six. The deceased was a sister of Rev. Father Peter O'Donnell, former pastor of St. Mary's Church, Montreal, who predeceased her several years ago. The funeral service was held at St. Antoine Abbe, Wednesday morning.

The late John E. Wright

John E. Wright, prominent Mason and past president of the Dominion Commercial Travellers' Association, died early Friday at this home, 4364 Earnscliffe avenue, Notre Dame de Grace, in his 78th year. Mr. Wright retired from active business four years ago and since then had been confined to his home through illness.

Mr. Wright was born at Barnford Stanstead County. He was educated there and in Montreal and in 1880 went to Montreal for permanent residence, representing a clothing firm and becoming widely known among eastern Canada retailers

Half a century's membership of the Dominion Commercial Travellers' Association was a source of pride with him. He held office before 1915 as a member of the board and in that year was elected president of the association. In 1910 he was made a justice of the peace.

Mr. Wright, as a Mason, was grand master of the province of Quebec in 1913-14, a life member of the Montreal Kilwinning Lodge, A.F. & A.M. No. 20, a 32nd degree Scottish Rite Mason, and a member of the Loyal Order of Scotland.

He was predeceased by his wife, the former Miss Jeannie McKee, eleven years ago. Surviving are one son, Evan S. Wright, of Montreal, and one daughter, Mrs. W. S. McLaren, of Ormstown, Que.

Matrimonial

RAYMOND-SCOTT

A quiet, autumn wedding was solemnized on Tuesday, Nov. 10th at 2 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Morton, Ashton, Ont., when the latter's sister, Helena Jessie Scott became the bride of Rev. Roy Cedric Raymond of Powerscourt, Que. Rev. Jos. Smith of Richmond, Ont., officiated, assisted by Rev. Oliver Raymond, of Ogdensburg, N.Y. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Frederick Scott, of Smith's Falls and entered the living-room to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by her niece, Miss Isobel Morton. The ceremony was performed under an arch of trllie work interwoven with ferns and baby 'mums.

During the signing of the register, Miss Effie Paul of Smith's Falls, niece of the bride, sang O Perfect Love by Burleigh.

After congratulations the guests assembled in the dining room where a dainty buffet luncheon was served. The table decorations were prettily carried out in yellow and white, a basket of 'mums formed the centre and over it hung a large white bell with streamers of white ribbon knotted with fern and button 'mums.

Later Rev. and Mrs. Raymond left for a motor trip in New York State and will return to their home the latter part of the week where a reception is being held in their honour by the congregation of the Standard Church of America, of which the groom is pastor.

Guests from a distance were Rev. and Mrs. J. Smith of Richmond, Ont., Rev. and Mrs. Oliver Raymond, Ogdensburg, N.Y., Mrs. Isabella Paul, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Scott, Mr. A. S. Paul, Miss E. M. Paul and Mr. W. A. Scott, all of Smiths' Falls and Miss E. Holden of Napanee.

Messages of congratulations were received from Regina, Sask., and from Brockville, Ont.

Brooklet

Y. P. B. Meets.—

The Brooklet Y. P. B. met Tuesday evening, Nov. 10th, at the home of Mrs. Chester Wilson. The president, Mrs. Chester Wilson conducted the meeting. Miss Violet Dow took charge of the devotional exercises. The patriotic plan was discussed and a number signed. St. Paul's Church Centenary Brief Resume of the Past 100 Years of St. Paul's Church.

A century ago the Ormstown Presbyterian settlers joined those of Georgetown in presenting a memorial to the Glasgow Colonial Society in which reqest was made that a minister be sent out to take charge of the work here. The society acceded to this request and sent out Rev. Archibald Colquhoun, but shortly Ormstown became a separate charge with a minister of her own. Thus a move to erect a church 20 x 26 at the north-west end of the present building was made in 1831, but owing to lack of funds was not rendered fit for use until 1832. This, however, was not floored until 1835; previous to that time the sleepers were covered with boards to serve as seats for the congregation. Mr. Colquhoun having received a call to Ontario, decided to accept and left Ormstown in the spring of 1835. In July of the same year, Rev. James Anderson was inducted. At that time the annual subscription was $200. from his entire flock; he never received more than $200. in a year; he received an equal amount from the Clergy Reserves and the seignior. During Mr. Anderson's pastorate the church previously built was completed in 1839. Most of the work was done by farmers holding bees while the finishings were paid for by contributions, mainly of wheat. Mr. Anderson continued his ministry to the time of his death, April 6th, 1861. He was succeeded by Rev. James Seiveright, M.A., who was inducted in 1862 and ministered for three years. On April 15, 1865, Rev. William Clark, B.A. was inducted but resigned in 1873. On the 4th day of March 1874, the Presbytery of Montreal met at Ormstown was constituted and dealt with the call extended Rev. David W. Morrison, B.A., which call was sustained by the Presbytery and Mr. Morison was inducted on a salary of $1,000. per annum, and continued his ministry for a period of 40 years, when he was compelled to relinquish his work in the fall of 1913, owing to ill health.

McDougall Hall Built

It was during Mr. Morison's pastorate that McDougall Hall was presented to the congregation of St. Paul's by Mr. Alexander McDougall in 1898, in memory of his brother Daniel, in appreciation of which the congregation placed on record at their annual meeting the following January. In 1906, too, Mrs. Alexander McDougall presented a clock which hourly reminds the people of Ormstown the flight of time. The Ladies' Aid provided the bell to be used in combination with the clock and to announce the hours of service. Among other gifts from Mr. McDougall was the communion service now in use, a thousand dollars, the interest of which went to Dr. Morison while he lived and the congregation continued to give to his widow until her death in 1930. Mr. McDougall gave $12,000 to missions in 1911. Dr. Morison was succeeded in the pastorate by the Rev. D. N. Coburn, B.A., who was inducted March 24th, 1914, and remained in charge until 1925 when church union was consummated and the local union between St. John's and St. Paul's had been effected.

Then came the induction of the newly called minister, Rev. T. A. Wilson, Ph.D., into the pastorate. Mr. Wilson resigned this charge in 1928, and in September of the same year, a unanimous call was extended to Rev. A. F. Pollock, B.D., who is still in charge of the work of St. Paul's United.

Improvements Made

The present building was erected in 1869. In the fall of 1900 extensive repairs, consisting of hardwood ceiling bowl floor, curved pews and new pulpit furnishings, costing in the vicinity of $2500. were made. Still later 1910, a vestry was added. Fine new sheds were erected in the year 1920 at a cost of upwards of $3000. In 1931 the building underwent further improvements in order that a new Casavant pipe organ might be installed as a fitting memorial to the present celebration. The walnut pulpit furniture set from St. John's Church, as well as fine stained glass windows were installed and add to the beauty and chasteness of God's house of worship. From 1832—1931 there were 2,563 baptisms in St. Paul's; 569 marriages and 1185 burials. The manse was built during the years 1863-64.

Centennial Began Nov. 8th

The centennial celebrated was begun on Sunday, November 8th under very favorable weather conditions and continued each evening until Thursday. The congregational supper was held on Wednesday evening when over 600 people were served. Sunday services, Nov. 15th, culminated the celebration of 100 years of St. Paul's service to Christianity.

Remembrance Day Observed

On Remembrance Day, the services were continued when the church was filled and the weather conditions ideal. The decorations were beautifully arranged and in keeping with the occasion, flags being the outstanding scheme. A very beautiful bouquet of chrysanthemums, in memory of Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson, and presented by the Anderson family graced the table before the pulpit. Mr. Anderson was a son of Rev. James Anderson, 1835-61. The Boy Scouts in uniform were in attendance and helped to make the service more impressive. Rev. J. G. Greig of Valleyfield, led the devotional period and brought greetings from his congregation. Letters of regret for absence and congratulations on the anniversary were read from Professor Corbett of McGill University, Dr. Jas. Patterson, Revs. Jas. Pletts, C. A. Haughton, A. C. Reeves, W. R. Cruikshank, E. M. S. Coates J. H. McConnell and Dr. A. S. Ross. Rev. Dr. Munroe wrote regarding of carload of produce for the needy, designating its destination as Family Welfare Bureau in Montreal

The pastor, Rev. A. F. Pollock spoke briefly of the years of conflict up until Nov. 11, 1918, and expressed the hope that in time to come there would be no more war. He then introduced the speaker of the evening Rev. David A. MacLennan of Emmanuel United Church of Montreal who said he felt a great honor had been conferred on him by being asked to take part in this event and brought greeting and felicitations from the comrades of Emmanuel. The Christian church stood for unity and peace and on this day we should pause and remember. Let us never forget those who paid the price and gave their immortality. They have arrived at the chancel of peace, behind them the tomb, before them the altar. War was wholesale murder, but we do not remember them as murderers in our tribute of love and memory. There is another war that we wage as sons of God. This is our war. In war, on one side is blind hatred to the enemy, on the other, loyalty to our country. Taking Samuel 2:25, "Then Abner called Job and said, 'Shall the sword devour for ever? How long shall it be then ere thou bid the people return from following their brethren?'" Men were not afraid to go forth to fight. Abner's advice was to disarm and pursue peace. We have identified ourselves as followers of the crucified Prince of Peace and therefore should disarm. If we do not end war, it will end us. Disarmament does not make world peace, but is a big step towards Jesus' command. War is one nation's greed over another, regardless of what means are taken to gain possession. That will be the condition until the world takes Jesus seriously. We cannot hope to live as one family if there is a constant grasping for the things of Mammon. Lloyd George said during war-time the whole world went mad together. At the coming Peace Conference all nations will meet together for the first time. The speaker then spoke of the tragedy of the past war with its cost of millions of men and money, and said that as he stood in the silence of remembrance on this day he seemed to hear the tread of phantom legions; their spirits were near us and their eyes were searching us to see if we were "keeping faith" with those who sleep in Flanders Fields. We had better disarm or our children will be witnesses of the collapse of civilization. We suffer today through the economic depression. What institutions for the advancement and good of the world could have been built with the money spent in the Great War, instead, it was used for destructive purposes. Nations talk of world peace and in the same breath speak of the next war. Last year $5,000,000,000 was spent on armaments for the next war, when nations stood in the bread line and men are dying for food. Science has made great strides in discovering destructives for war. So terrible are the destructive forces that London could be destroyed in three hours; gasses so terrible that the human body can be almost immediately destroyed; cannon that can hurl balls for many miles; and many other powerful guns. What will be the cost of the next war? Shall the sword devour forever? But we must secure, we must depend on arms in the word of the nations. Preparing for war to get peace is a mistaken idea; in preparing for war we get war. Then we should close our churches and not talk of God. If we disarm, we commit ourselves to peace. We can have war or Christianity. We cannot have both. We tear God up in wor; each side praying for success. God is not one to bless wholesale slaughter. Some scientists claim war as a great discovery to get rid of the unfit, but the unfit are not the only ones. Instead it causes losses to all branches of life and activities that can never be made up. War gets the weeds and flowers too. God is not the God of battles. God is the Father of Jesus Christ. We must live life by disarming our own individual lives of evil urges. A meek attitude is not enough. The moral equipment against war is Christianity, and it promises no easy road, but a constant battle. Let us join the crusade against them in the name of Christ; let us enthrone the principles of Christ instead of hatred bitterness, and strife. Christ lives, that is religion. Let us love one another and help the world to live.

The speaker was wounded in the war, and lay in mud, and not far from him lay a very badly wounded Hun, who spoke good English. They spoke to each other and in their distress and suffering each did what he could for the other. The Hun said, "I would have killed you for the sake of Fatherland, you would have shot me for your Motherland and now you help me here in my condition for the Brotherland." Let us be builders of the Brotherland, let it reach over all the world and a better day will dawn for all. The Saviour bares His heart, pleading with us to rout the armies of evil out of the land. May it be ever so.

At the close of this address the pastor rose to his feet and being so greatly impressed with the message stood in silence for some moments which was a fitting tribute for the occasion and then said he should never forget this hour and that we could not help being better after hearing such a message as had been brought us by the speaker.

A very hearty vote of thanks was extended to Rev. Mr. MacLennan. The Valleyfield United choir furnished the music, opening the service by singing, "Lord of the Lands, Beneath Thy Bending Skies," which was most appropriate for Remembrance Day. A solo, by Mrs. Green and an anthem by the choir were greatly enjoyed.

Travelogue of British Isles

The last week-day service was held on Thursday evening, when in spite of showery weather the church was once more filled. Rev. D. Morison, of Howick United Church took the devotional period. This being Brotherhood night he chose for his reading Paul's epistle to Philemon and stressed the point where Paul sent Philemon's servant back to his master and asked him to take him back, not as a servant but as a beloved brother. He brought greetings and congratulations from his people to St. Paul's congregation in their anniversary of 100 years of service and expressed his pleasure and profit from the meeting in these services of celebration.

Rev. A. F. Pollock read a letter from Rev. Wm. McDougall, St. Paul's missionary to China, now in Barrie who has been ill and was unable to accept the invitation to be present at the services. The pastor voiced his gratitude for the beneficial services of the week that were sure to spread through a large community because of the splendid attendance at each meeting.

Rev. T. W. Jones of Calvary United Church then brought messages of congratulations from his congregation. At this time in the celebration services we would look far afield. The forefathers had mostly come from different parts across the sea and we would travel over the British Isles and see some of the beauty of landscape and architecture that are to be found in the Motherland and help to cement the bond between the old land and the new. The views were very interesting and beautiful. Many historic ruins, also buildings of fame and importance as well as beauty spots of nature's making were shown; the clear and instructive description of each view made a splendid ending for the week's activities, taking us back to the land and scenes of our forefathers and teaching us lessons from the past and present in the lands beyond the sea and making us feel stronger the ties of brotherhood. The Howick choir provided the music which was appreciated and thus another evening of uplifting influences drew to a close.

Sunday Services

In spite of rather unfavorable weather conditions a large congregation was present Sunday morning to hear Rev. W. R. Alp, B.A., of Chalmers United Church, Ottawa, who spoke on the "Relationship of the Church to the Sunday School" and chose for his text Psalm 45:16, "Instead of thy father shall be thy children, whom thou mayest make princes in all the earth." "The Bible sees things as they are, guides us in the things, and reminds us of the days coming when our children will have to carry out the plans and work we have to leave unfinished. We, who are in control now must give place to the boys and girls of to-day. People go on living and act as though they would live forever, never seeming to realize a day will come when they must lay off; they are shocked when an illness overtakes them. Then and only then, do they awaken to the realization that there is an end coming. If it is true, and it is true, that the care free children of the present must take our places; then child life is of supreme importance. It is our wealthiest possession, our brightest hope, far greater than our wealth of forests, mines, lands or any other things. The youth of our land is the most priceless possession and therefore a heavy responsibility rests upon us. It is our duty to train and fit them for their duty in the years to come It is under our influence their lives are to be moulded and shaped for the future. What kind of men and women they grow to be depends on how we train and mould them now. Man should pause and ask himself this question. Am I setting a good example? Am I walking in a way I would wish them to walk? Children are easily influenced and great imitators. They are continually reproducing what they see in others. The saying "He is is a chip off the old block" is a very true one because it is a very evident fact that children are influenced by the example of their parents. They are constantly in touch with each other and therefore the influence is great, and should be of the right kind. None of us can help influencing someone. Life is like the whispering gallery in an edifice in the old land where if one speaks in a whisper at one end the sound emerges at the other in a very loud tone, and so is our unconscious influence as it goes forth into life. Let us realize this fact. In a large factory a long bar of steel weighing 500 pounds is suspended by a wire so that it may swing, while near to it is a cork hung by a cord, and this cork by constant tapping against the iron bar sets it in motion so that it swings. This is an example of the weight of our influence upon the lives of others. By just being what we are, what we are interested in, what we are careless about how we act, and live, are all noted by the children and has an influence upon their actions, so we must realize this fact and be the means of showing them the right way.

There are cases of boys and girls being brought up in bad homes under evil influences who have been saved and live good lives, and help their fellowmen by works and example. The Saviour said, "You cannot gather grapes from thorns nor figs from thistles," so unless the influence is of the best kind, the boys and girls cannot develop into the best men and women. Another question, What is my example? As you consider your life and its character would you like to see your life reproduced? Is your life such that mounts higher as the days pass by? Then God forbid if it is not. Am I giving forth a character and training to fit them to play a good part in time to come? In sowing wheat, the best crops are gathered from well prepared soil, so in the lives of boys and girls they must be prepared and trained. A Christian character does not drift into the individual, they must be trained. Children left untrained develop uncouth lives, lacking honesty, truth and all good. If they are left untrained it is not good for themselves or the community where they live and their bad influence will reach out and mar other lives. The children here today, under our influence, if of the best kind, will take our places in days to come, will live honorable lives and help the world to better things. We want our children to be courageous in reverses, to be strong and upright men and women of character and to more than measure up to our ideals when they step into their shoes. We can shape their lives to give high ideals but it is no easy task. It can be done, not by our preaching to them alone, but by our daily practice of what we preach. It is better to win respect than fame to have a noble character than great wealth. Am I doing anything to give the boys and girls around me the blessing of the Christian faith? That is their best gift. Then they can play their part manfully. Some parents work to give their children wealth as their legacy and neglect their religious training which is the only force that inspires men and women to good qualities and gives them the true values of life. What is the good of education that is not based on the principles of righteousness? Life based on the Christian faith is bound to be upright and of supreme importance, and will bring the principles and character of Jesus Christ to bear upon the lives of the children. Therefore we must see to it that the youth of our land have religious training. We must be the bearers of the Gospel and bring them into the faith of Christ. Do this and you will have given the best gifts of this life. Possibly they may at times disappoint you but the seed sown in youthful lives will be seen to by God and by His power it will bear fruit. We must grasp the opportunity when it is here. Time goes on and our children grow older and the opportunity passes so let us see to it that our boys and girls go forth into life equipped with the knowledge of God and His love and then they will reach their Father's home. Will they be good men and women? The answer lies with you in no small measure."

This was followed by a prayer for blessings on the youth and that our example be such as would lead them aright. The pastor expressed gratitude to the speaker for bringing such a practical top to us in his message and said the crux of the whole problem lies in the home and with the right teaching there the results would be right and far-reaching.

A letter of regret for absence was read from Rev. A. C. Cleland.

On Sunday evening, Rev. W. R. Alp again addressed a good congregation and his subject was "Obedience to God's call." His text was from Jer. 8: 7 and 20. The stork in the heaven knoweth her appointed time" . . . "The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not saved." The days are growing shorter leaves have fallen and winter is drawing near. Up in the sky we hear the cry of the wild geese as they wing their way to the south land on their long journey to escape from the cold and snow. They know the summer is ended. What a marvelous thing is the migration of the birds. They hear the call, they are up and away and need no instruments of direction to guide them in their southward course. The birds make no mistake. Jeremiah admired the wisdom of the birds and their obedience to the call that meant safety for them. Why are men not as wise as the birds? They make no effort to answer God's call, ignore the still small voice that says, "Come, follow Me" and would make life so rich and full. Why is man not as obedient as the birds? Why is man content to live a barren life when he could live a gloriously worthwhile life? Jeremiah saw his people going from bad to worse, enemies threatening them with destruction and ruin staring them in the face. They refused the call to obedience and would not turn to God. Jeremiah loved his country and his people and suffered very keenly seeing them go to pieces. He sacrificed and did his best to help them back to God but they would not heed the call. Jeremiah was the most Christlike character of Old Testament history and one can hear the sob in his voice in the words of the text, "The harvest is past and the summer is ended and ye are not saved." His people were less wise than the birds who, when they heard the call obeyed at once.

In our day the words mean as much as then and our young people could do no better than receive the text as their own. As the call comes to the birds, so it comes to every young person to move onward and upward living and it is not God's will that any should stand apart. The call comes again and again to bestir our indifference, bids us on to help us to see what we can become. No one who has made a mess of his life can say he was never warned because God's voice has called many times, each time to be ignored. The call of God comes to each one in youth especially and each call obeyed means experiences of uplift and shows the attractiveness of a good life. Calls of God come in various ways. It may have come to you in the House of God through some spoken word or some song or hymn, through a good book, through a friend or a picture. In whatever form it comes do not let it go unheeded. We see in life many things we ought to do. This is God's spirit blowing over your soul in the good impulses of your mind, and appealing you to walk in His way, like the call to the birds. When you grow dissatisfied with yourself, when you are stirred to be and to do better, when you see the beauty of the Christian life, then, God's call is coming to you and you are listening to the "Come, follow Me." The result depends on your answer to the call. If you refuse to hear, to respond then you do not profit by the call and receive no lasting benefit. It continues to come but you keep putting off till tomorrow or some later time. God does not deal in tomorrows. Today is the only time that is ours. God has promised forgiveness now, not tomorrow. If you fail to answer the call if you refuse to heed God's voice in your heart, then you are less wise than the birds who hear and obey the call. God must be weary knocking at the door of our hearts. We have the will to choose or regret. To choose means work for us to do and we are indolent and do not like to labor. The promises of evil seem easier than Christ's ways. It is a bitter mistake to reject the call as opportunities do not continue to come. In days of sailing vessels they had to wait for a signal before they could sail into the harbor and they had to go at once. If they did not their chance was lost. So it is like that in life. There are times that seem favorable. That is the time to obey God's call and not miss the opportunity. God is very near at times when we feel a special visitation and we are happy if we respond immediately. Saul was not disobedient to the heavenly vision when the light shone round about him. Rev. Chas. Spurgeon heard the call through the voice of a local preacher in a strange church. John Newton obeyed the call and through his obedience has given many beautiful hymns to the world. Hear and obey the call and move into true good manhood; ignore the voice of conscience and miss the way of life. It means barren and useless spiritual life, a withering away, darkness instead of light, low view of life, and not being what you could have been if, like the birds you had obeyed. Men make false moves, waste talents and are useless so far as good deeds go, by not responding. There is no finer thing for youth than to listen and respond to God's call. Quiet decisions help us, and help our usefulness and our victory over indolence. Wherever and whenever the call comes, do not delay, decide at once. By making the choice of right you will receive a full rich and better life. Respond immediately, now is the time, Life hurries on, "the summer is ended and we are not saved." If we despise God's call then is our life barren and unfruitful; but if we heed we will give all the service of our being, our lives will be abundant and we will have the everlasting satisfaction of that fulness and receive the "Well done, good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of the Lord." Would you rather hear that than the cry of Jeremiah "The harvest is past, the summer is ended and we are not saved." The answer lies in your response to the call of God.

The pastor reminded all that this was the closing hour of the centenary celebrations, and hoped that the impression received from the services would find expression in words for our Master of tenderness and love and renewed activity in our labor for our fellowmen; and as we launch out on the next hundred years of service we build better than our predecessors on a larger scale because of large opportunities; keep as our companion Jesus, as our friend and brother who gives power to overcome the temptations of life and help us to be faithful in small things and going on to larger attainments in the carrying out of His commands.

The choir sang special music for the day consisting of solos and choruses. St. Paul's congregation is very grateful to all who helped in any way in making the centenary services such a success and blessing to each and everyone who came under their influence.

"Faith of our fathers, holy faith!
We will be true to thee till death."

CHAPTER XIV

The door flew open and Mark Travers, beaming, boomed a greeting from the threshold. In three skips and a leap Norma was in his arms. She was laughing, touching his cheeks with reassuring fingers, raising her lips for his kiss all in one instant. She was aware there was film before her eyes.

"Oh, Mark! I've been such an idiot. I was afraid something had happened—!"

"Happened? Well, I should think there has. I'll tell the world something's happened. What do you suppose I've been doing all this time? Listen, baby, we're starting on a honeymoon in exactly two hours. Look—!"

One of Mark's hands dived into a pocket and came out with a dangling unfolding strips of green paper. Railway tickets. He tossed them toward Norma. A second dive and he was displaying more paper. Greenbacks. More of them than the girl had ever seen. They were folded into a huge roll.

"What—! Why, where in the world—?" Norma floundered for the words.

Before she could go on Mark had caught her arms and was whirling her into a crazy whirl-i-gig pirouette.

"Don't you hear me, Norma, darling? Don't you understand? We're going places! Come on—we've got just two hours to make the train. Blue Springs, Mrs. Travers! How does that strike you? Blue Springs where the sun shines and skies are almost as blue as your eyes. Riding and bathing and lots of golf. Oh, you will love it! Blue Springs is the grandest place to play in these here United States. You and me, Norma! Why—why, what's the matter?"

He could not understand the expression in the girl's eyes.

"What's the matter?" Mark repeated. "Don't you want to go to Blue Springs?"

"Of course—only, Mark, do you think we should? I mean do you think right now?"

"Right now? Say, when is it customary to go on a honeymoon? After the ceremony or 15 years later? If there's some place you'd rather go than Blue Springs I suppose I can change the tickets. I was sure you'd like it there!"

"No, no! It isn't that. I'd love it, of course. I'd—I'd love any place with you."

She could not endure to see the light of enthusiasm fade from his face. Norma went on, laughing. "Did you say we start in two hours? Oh I'm glad I packed things before you came. We'll have to hurry, won't we?"

Travers was not satisfied. He put a hand on her arm, studied her face searchingly.

"Tell me why you don't want to go to Blue Springs," he said.

"I do want to go, Mark! I guess—well, all the time I was here alone I was thinking we'd have to find some place to live that doesn't cost too much. You—you aren't going back to your father's office, are you? I thought we'd have to save our money until you'd found another job—"

"So that's it!" Mark's laugh was a shout. "But we're not poor, darling. We've got money—lots of it! Here! Take a look at this wad again. There's $1445 in that fistful of filthy lucre. Enough for a fair sort of honeymoon, don't you think? That's the kind of a man your new husband is, Madam. Walks out without a single penny in his pockets and comes back with $1445!"

He had not answered the question about returning to his father's employ but Norma did not notice this. Her eyes were dazzled by that tremendous roll of bank bills.

"Oh, Mark, it's such a lot! You wouldn't spend all that just on a trip!"

"Would I! Lady, Mark Travers' wives always get the best. Look—do you want to know how I got it?"

She nodded, round-eyed.

Mark grinned again. "Sold the car! Might have got more out of it but this had to be cash. That's why I was gone longer than I expected to be."

"You sold your roadster?"

Mark nodded. "Quickest way I could think of to get car-fare and a little extra. We could have driven to Blue Springs but how'd we pay this hotel bill? Eureka—enter Mark Travers, the financier! Now tell me, don't you think you've married a bright boy?"

"Of course I do! Oh, of course I do!"

She knew it must have cost him deeply to part with the roadster, pride of his heart. And he had done this for her! Norma's economic principles, result of grim experience in stretching one week's pay check to meet the next, went glimmering. Here was proof of the love that meant more to her than anything else in life.

They began to make hasty preparations for the trip. Ten minutes of the two hours which Mark had allowed them were gone. The little brown over-night bag which Norma had brought with her the evening before—all the luggage they possessed—stood waiting. Mark held the polo coat and the girl flung her arms into it.

"Look here," he announced suddenly, "there's a shop where my sister used to buy things. You can get clothes at Blue Springs but you ought to take something more along. (He knew she had only the one brown dress.) "We'll check out, climb into a taxi and dash around to that place—Fanchon's, I believe it's called. You can buy a dress in half an hour, can't you?"

"I can if you'll help me!"

It was all delightful, impossible and exciting fun. They went down into the handsome hotel lobby. Norma was self-conscious, imagined the eyes of evryone about were on her. And why not when such a handsome distinguished youth as Mark Travers was by her side? Her cheeks flushed.

They stepped into a taxicab and were whisked away into traffic. Here on either side of the street were familiar buildings and yet everything looked different. Mark's hand pressed the girl's. He stole a quick kiss and made her blush more deeply.

"Happy, kid?"

She assured him to his complete satisfaction that she was. Another 10 minutes and they had arrived before the impressive white stone front of "Fanchon's." Twin show windows exhibited each a single frock. Even the name, "Fanchon" on the inconspicuous metal tablet hinted at exclusiveness and expense.

Norma hesitated, wondering if she had the courage to enter such a place. Travers had turned to the cab driver. "Wait for us," he instructed.

They went into the shop and a svelte, black-satin clad woman came forward to meet them. Somehow Norma made it known that she wanted to buy a traveling dress or perhaps a suit. She was in a fever of self-consciousness, aware of the shabbiness of her costume in comparison with those about her. She thought of the taxicab outside, its meter clicking away dimes and quarters. What a way to shop!

Mark's face, smiling loomed before her and she was reassured.

They bought the traveling suit—a gray tweed with threads of blue in it and snug, trimly fitted collar and cuffs of tight-curled krimmer. They selected gray because Mark reminded Norma she had worn gray the first time he saw her. There was a black hat that came down closely over the head but hid none of the glory of the soft-waving hair about her face. It was a beautiful costume and fitted without alteration. Fanchon brought out even shoes and purse and gloves to go with the tweed suit.

The minutes were flying. Norma, getting into her new finery hurriedly, reappeared from the dressing-room.

"I'm ready now Mark!"

He had caught sight of another frock which she must have—an evening dress of lovely peach-colored soft stuff with shoulders dropped like an 1860 belle's and beneath the bouffant skirt a bit of lace-trimmed petticoat.

"Oh, but we don't have time!" the girl protested.

"Is it the right size?" Mark asked the saleswoman.

"It should be. The young lady is so slender. She wears the gowns exactly as they have been created."

"We'll take it," Mark announced. "Trust to luck it will fit."

"And, madam, what about sports clothes—?" suggested the saleswoman, emboldened by this wholesale manner of purchasing.

When they finally emerged from Fanchon's barely 15 minutes remained before departure of the train for Blue Springs. Boxes of assorted sizes jostled about them in the taxicab. Bark's roll of bank bills was $425 thinner.

The taxi driver complied with Travers' instruction to "step on it." The cab careened through the crowded streets, turned corners on two wheels, jolted to abrupt, breath-taking stops for traffic signals, and discharged them at last at the cab entrance of the huge railway station.

"Fifty seconds to make it!" Mark whistled sharply. "Red cap!" he shouted. "Red cap!"

Two colored boys rushed up and loaded themselves with the packages. Mark thrust a bill at the cab driver whose eyes widened as he realized its denomination. Then with the boys in red caps leading Norma and Mark ran pell-mell for the train gates.

A brakeman was shouting "All aboard! All aboard!" for the last time as they swung onto the car. Breathless, they floundered to seats in their compartment. The colored boys dropped the luggage and made a swift retreat. The train had begun to move, was gradually gathering speed.

Norma looked at Mark.

"We—we got here!" was all she could manage to gasp. She raised one hand to straighten the little black hat that had been pushed back at a foolish angle in the run for the train.

There came a tap at the door. Mark answered. It was the conductor. Something about the tickets needed to be settled. Only a moment and the couple were alone again.

Norma had discarded the troublesome little hat. Mark helped her out of her coat. Somehow this led to slipping his arms about her, whispering precious nonsense. Norma's hair became badly disarranged but neither of them noticed that.

"Happy, kid?"

It was to become a habit of Mark's during the next few weeks to make that inquiry. As habitually and with emphasis the girl was to answer as she did then:

"Of course!"

Without talking they watched the landscape stream past. Mark's arms were about his bride. Her head rested on his shoulder. They had passed the suburbs now and were flying through wooded ravines. The foliage touched by the first frost of October had begun to show gorgeous tones of gold and scarlet.

"What time is it, Mark?"

"Nearly six. I'll have the porter bring a menu. You'd rather eat here than go into the dining car, wouldn't you?"

She nodded. Instead of summoning the porter, however both preferred to prolong that perfect interval. The shadows on the countryside grew longer.

Why at that moment of all times should memories she had relentlessly put behind suddenly reappear to plague Norma? She turned away from Mark. What was he saying? She heard the words dimly:

"Oh, there's something I forgot—something important!"

CHAPTER XV

Mark dug one hand down into his waistcoat pocket before he spoke again. He drew out a box. A very tiny box of dazzling whiteness. He snapped the lid back and a gleaming circlet of diamonds appeared. They were set in a band of platinum.

"Almost forgot about this," he said. "Let's see if it fits."

He slipped the jeweled band over the third finger of Norma's left hand. The ring twinkled up at her like star-dust. The tiny diamonds became a disc of fire. They flashed white heat into the dusky train compartment. Or were they tear drops frozen and strung like beads?

"How—how beautiful—!"

Words were such useless things. They failed Norma completely. Something hot and choking gathered in her throat. She could not speak. Almost she could not breathe. Never had she dreamed anyone could be so frighteningly, ecstatically happy.

And so because she could not find the words to answer the girl raised her two hands, one to either of Mark's cheeks, held his face closely for a long instant, and then pressed her lips to his.

Oh, these two were so young, so very much in love!

"But the ring does fit! See—it's just right!" she was insisting a little later.

Mark disagreed. He held up the encircled finger to prove the band slipped about too loosely. There was the possibility of losing the ring. He had not realized what slender, delicate fingers his bride had.

"We can have it made smaller at Blue Springs," he suggested.

Fear that she might lose the wedding ring made Norma agree at once. Words came easily now. Over and over she told Mark how beautiful the diamonds were. She meant this, yet it was not the beauty of the stones and their setting which awed her. It was the significance of the ring. This band on her finger was the symbol of marriage. It told the world she was Mark Travers' wife.

"Good heavens—it is late! You'll be starved!" Mark made a lunge at the electric button which summoned the porter. Within 15 minutes they were being served dinner.

"Happy, kid?"

"Oh—of course!"

At Blue Springs there began a world of only Norma and Mark with dimly visionary strangers occasionally drifting in and out of the background—waiters who served their meals, chauffeurs who drove the motor cars in which they rode, golf caddies, an orchestra, other dancers who might have been miles away for all their presence on the dance floor meant to these two.

Blue Springs was completely perfect when they arrived. True to Mark's prediction the sun was shining. Great fleecy clouds moving so slowly that they seemed stationary, darkened the azure sky by their whiteness. It had been crisp October in Marlboro. Blue Springs was cool enough for light wraps, warm enough that seasoned bathers were still taking their daily dips.

The arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Travers had not been unheralded. Clicking cameras were the first indication of the welcoming committee. Newspaper photographers, having secured informal photographs, asked the newly married couple to pose. While Norma hesitated Mark gave cheerful assent. There was a girl reporter on hand to ask details of the romance. Mark's replies to her questions were sketchy, satisfactory because about them the young woman was able to weave a glowing, modern Cinderella story about the beautiful stenographer who married a millionaire's son.

They were talking earnestly in the clubroom.

"Jove!" said Higgs. "It was a weight off my mind when my wife told me she could cook."

"That's a change these days," said his friend. "And I suppose she really can cook?"

Higgs grimaced. "No; the weight is on my stomach now," he replied.

Have Your Radio Tubes Tested Free!

Don't blame your radio if you are not getting perfect reception. It may not be at fault. The trouble may lie in defective tubes—perhaps in a single tube that is not functioning properly.

To ensure getting the best results from your radio at all times you should have your tubes tested every six months. Any defective tube should be replaced to put the instrument in perfect working condition.

We will be glad to test your tubes free if you will bring them to us. This is a service we are glad to render customers in order that they secure the fullest pleasure from their radios.

Typewriters to RENT

Occasionally people in this community are desirous of securing the use of a typewriter for a brief interval and calls have been made upon the Gleaner for the loan of same. We have always been pleased to accomodate our friends, but owing to the calls being so numerous we have deemed it advisable to rent such machines either by the day or by the week. In this way people will not feel they are obliged to hurry up with the use of the borrowed machine or be without one when most desired.

The rental rates are:

One day	50c
Each additional day	20c
One week	$1.25
Each additional week	70c

People who desire a certain type of typewriter and know a few days in advance that they will want such, might advise us, so that we can secure one from Montreal in the event of our having no machines available.

PROVINCE OF QUEBEC

Municipality of Hinchinbrooke

BY-LAW NO. 181

At a special session of the Municipal Council of the Municipality of Hinchinbrook in the County of Huntingdon, held at Herdman, in the Town Hall there, on Thursday the twelfth day of November nineteen hundred and thirty-one, at which session were present His Worship the Mayor, Mr. Robert Anderson and the following councillors: Messrs. Henry E. Wilson, James J. Murphy, Allan H. Crutchfield, J. Wesley Goodfellow, Harry A. Hampson and James O. Levers, forming a quorum under the presidency of the mayor.

Whereas a notice of motion has been given for the adoption of the By-law given below, and

Whereas the public notices have also been given, and

Whereas it is also in the interest of the taxpayers of the municipality to have street lighting in a manner below mentioned, and

Whereas it is also in the interest of the taxpayer to have the benefit of domestic lighting and motor power, and

Whereas the Beauharnois Electric Company, Limited has proposed a contract to the corporation, which is related below, and

Whereas it is in the interest of the municipality to accept the contract.

It is hereby Resolved, Enacted and Ordained that there be installed in the municipality as soon as possible after the By-law is in force fifteen street lights which will be placed by the Beauharnois Electric Company, Limited at the following places:

Ten street lights to be placed at Athelstan, one street light to be placed at Herdman, three street lights to be placed at Rockburn and one street light to be placed at Powerscourt.

The cost of the said street lights to be Eighteen Dollars ($18.00) net for each lamp of one hundred (100) watts per year, payable as specified in the contract below.

The cost of the said street lights will be charged to all taxable ratepayers of the municipality. The ratepayers mentioned in paragraph C. D. E. F. G. of article 693 will be held responsible for the payment of the public lights, but for the real estate value of the land only, according to article 694 of the municipal Code. The amount necessary to pay for the said street lights will be collected and received at the same time as the general tax.

The Mayor and the Secretary-Treasurer are hereby authorized to sign the following contract which is considered part of the present By-law with the Beauharnois Electric Company, Limited which contract is as follows:

1. The municipality, in consideration of the advantages that it will derive in securing for itself and its taxpayers, and electrical service capable of meeting all the necessities and exigencies that may arise, grants the Beauharnois Electric Company, Limited the right to install and maintain within the boundries of the Municipality all the electrical apparatus and materials required or useful for the transmission and distribution of electric current.

2. The Municipality agrees to buy and take from the Company all the energy which it may need for itself, for street lights, public places, municipal establishments, electric hearing or motive power, etc., which the Company agrees to furnish at the tariff and conditions specified hereunder.

3. The Company in consideration of the present contract for the public lighting and other needs of the Municipality and of the right of exploitation that the Municipality accords it, agrees to install and maintain the necessary apparatus for the distribution of electric current during the existance of this contract.

4. The Company shall have the right to install, construct, repair, replace or remove the lines and apparatus for transmission and electrical distribution, under or on the property of the Municipality at any time during the period of this contract.

5. The Company shall be given by the Council of the Municipality a clear right of way for its lines at all places, where they pass on the streets, public roads or places, which will include all necessary tree trimming. The trimming of trees shall be done under the direction of an official of the Municipality appointed for this purpose. The Company shall, however, pay for the cost of trimming. The Municipality shall be given eight (8) days' notice in writing of the Company's intention to commence the trimming of trees. If the Municipality fails to send an official to direct the work, the Company shall take charge of it for the Municipality, but it must be done with the least possible damage. In urgent cases, the Company shall give notice verbally and the official must come to direct the work immediately, failing which the Company shall do it as above mentioned. The Company shall not be responsible for damages caused to trees.

6. The Company shall be responsible for damages to the property of the Municipality in consequence of work undertaken under this contract. The Company shall guarantee the Municipality against all damages caused to a third party, but only in cases where the third party can legally make a claim against the Municipality, and the damages must have been caused in consequence of the work undertaken under this contract. No damages, however, shall be guaranteed for work done under clause No. 5.

7. The Company must come to an agreement with the Municipality as to the location of additional poles which the Company may wish to add to its system. Lacking an understanding after eight (8) days' notice, the Company may place the poles at such points as are most convenient to it. All changes requested by the Municipality shall be at the expense of the Municipality.

8. When the Company does any work in the streets and public places the Company must restore everything to the same condition as before the work started, without unnecessary delay.

9. Employees of the Company must when entering a house, produce some form of identification showing that they represent the Company. On presentation of this the employee shall have the right at all convenient times to enter the houses to examine, place, remove or repair the meters or other equipment owned by the Company.

10. All energy or power sold will be measured by meter and the rates to be paid the Company for the said energy or power for lighting purposes shall be as follows:

On a sliding scale of six to one and a half cents (6½c) per Killowatt-hour. The minimum payment for one month shall be One Dollar ($1.00) and plus according to type of contract. Details of the different types of contracts are filled in with the Secretary.

A discount of ten percent (10%) shall be allowed when payment is made within ten (10) days from the date of the account. All consumers shall furnish a convenient place for the meter.

11. In the interest of public safety, and as required by statute, the Company will not connect its wires to the premises of the consumer unless the consumer produces a certificate from the Board of Electrical Examiners of Province of Quebec approving the installation, according to the Canadian Electrical Code.

12. The present contract is made for a period of ten (10) years.

The Municipality hereby contracts with the Company for fifteen (15) street lamps of one hundred watts (100) each for the period of this contract. These lamps shall be placed at a distance not exceeding two hundred and fifty feet (250), one from the other. However, by an agreement between the Municipality and the Company, the lamps may be placed at a distance greater or less than above specified. The instalation shall be made within a reasonable length of time.

13. The price for the said street lighting is Eighteen Dollars ($18.00) without discount per lamp of one hundred watts (100-w) per annum. Moreover, as additional consideration, the Municipality will reimburse to the Company, an amount equivalent to the amount of licenses, which are or will be imposed upon the Company during the period of the contract. Moreover, and as additional consideration, the Company will only pay twenty-five percent (25%) of the taxes which are or will be imposed by the Municipality, as enacted by Statute 21 Georves V, chapter 119, being article 656a of the Municipal Code. The Municipality grants the present commutation of taxes as an additional consideration to the price for street lighting.

14. Should the Municipality desire additional Street Lamps, the Company shall furnish them under the same terms and conditions as above mentioned up to a total of fifty (50) provided that these lamps are ordered during the first eight (8) years of the present contract. The Municipality for all additional lamps until the expiration of the contract.

15. The payment of accounts due by the Municipality to the Company shall be made on the fifteenth (15th) day of each month. The Municipality shall pay six percent (6%) interest per annum on all accounts due or in arrears exceeding thirty (30) days. All payments must be made without reduction for claims or counter claims that the Municipality has or pretends to have against the Company. All claims that the Municipality may have against the Company, resulting from the present contract or which there may be in consequence of the present contract must be made in writing and submitted to the Company at its Head Office within thirty (30) days following the date of the event giving rise to the claim.

16. It is understood that nothing in the present contract shall be interpreted as giving the Company an exclusive right to furnish current to individuals or taxpayers of the Municipality.

17. It is understood that the service referred to in this contract must be from the Canadian Light & Power Co., St. Timothee, Que., and delivered over transmission lines. As interruptions may occur, in the generation and transmission of the said electrical energy, this agreement for furnishing said electrical energy is expressly subject to these interruptions or accidents.

18. Notwithstanding the conditions mentioned above, the Company reserves for itself the right to deliver electrical energy from any source under the same conditions as stipulated herein.

19. In case of total interruption in the furnishing of electrical energy resulting from any cause or reason whatsoever, for a period of over twenty-four (24) hours, a rebate proportional to the amounts charged for street lighting will be allowed the Municipality for the period of interruption. The Company will not be responsible in any way for damages or accidents resulting from interruptions other than the rebate mentioned above.

20. Each customer must conform to all reasonable regulations of the Company. It is understood that the Company shall not be held liable to make connections to its lines if the house or establishment is at a distance greater than that determined by general order No. 1362 of the Quebec Public Service Commission and amendments which shall form part and parcel of this contract.

21. The Company shall not be required to make a connection to the consumer's premises at a height greater than thirty (30) feet, nor less than fifteen (15) feet, from the ground, as stated in the regulations of the Canadian Code, Rule No. 403 (D) and amendments.

22. In the case of the Company reducing its rate in the district actually served, the Municipality will be entitled to the same rates, that is the same reductions.

Valleyfield

The ex-soldiers of Valleyfield took part in a parade on Wednesday evening the 11th, celebrating the Day of Remebrance. Gathering round the City Hall a wreath in memory of the honoured dead was placed in position. There were a few minutes of tense silence during which Bandmaster F. A. Ainsworth sounded the "Last Post." Leaving the City Hall the procession marched through the town to the Catholic Church in St. Laurent St., where a large number of people were waiting. The church was crowded to witness a display of tableaus each representing some striking incident of the Great War. One scene was particularly impressive, where, when the roll was called of the men who had fallen, was answered by a number dressed in white who each placed a wreath on an imaginary grave as the name was called.

Valleyfield paid tribute to the memory of the dead, as again the "Last Post" was sounded and the "Retreat."

The W. M. S. of the United Church held their usual meeting in the Church Hall on Friday afternoon last at 3 p.m. Mrs. Edith Stafford and Mrs. Wilbur Shannon were in charge.

PAIN like INDIGESTION

WHAT many call indigestion is very often nothing but excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. You feel distress when you leave the table. Two hours later there is often acute pain. But you need not suffer when you know what to do.

The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. The best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. The stomach is soothed. All sourness and gas is dispelled. The entire digestive tract is sweetened by magnesia in this form. Phillips' Milk of Magnesia is magnesia in perfect suspension. It's the scientific and sensible thing to take for the relief of acidity. You have the word of highest medical authority for this.

Be careful to ask for Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, the preparation of magnesia prescribed and used by physicians for the correction of excess acids.

Every mother should know certain uses of this preparation. For herself, and for her children—babies too. Complete directions in each package. 50c bottles at drug stores everywhere in the dominion.

The ideal dentifrice for clean teeth and healthy gums is Phillips' Dental Magnesia. A superior toothpaste. (Made in Canada.)

3 cups rolled oats	¼ teaspoon salt
2½ cups flour	1 cup brown sugar
3 teaspoons Magic Baking Powder	½ cup lard
	½ cup butter
	½ cup milk

Put rolled oats into a bowl. Sift flour, baking powder and salt and sugar together, add to oats. Melt butter and lard, add to dry mixture with milk. Mix all together, roll, cut with round cutter and bake in moderate oven.

Fill with following mixture: 1 pound chopped dates, 1 cup brown sugar, 1 cup hot water. Cook well and put between cookies.

Or finish cookies as Illustrated. Have filling ready when you make cooky dough; when cookies are shaped with small cutter, cut centres from half the round, place a spoonful of the thick date filling on uncut rounds, put the open ones over the filling, pinch edges together well and bake at moderate heat.

Sudden Death of Mr. John C. Reid

Huntingdon people were shocked this morning to hear of the sudden death of Mr. John C. Reid which occurred at about 8 a.m. at the Montreal General Hospital.

Yesterday afternon Mr. Reid visited Dr. Moore when he was advised to go home to bed. He was removed to the General Hospital in Montreal last night, and his family was informed at four o'clock this morning that an operation had been successful. At eight o'clock Dr. Moore received the message that Mr. Reid had passed away, and he and Rev. Mr. Miller conveyed the message to the family.

Other members of Mr. Reid's family have been sent word of the sad death, and pending word from them funeral arrangements have been incompleted.

The Presbyterian Young People's Society met on Monday night at the home of Mrs. John Graham and a very interesting programme prepared by the members in charge was carried out. The President, Miss Helen Anderson conducted the meeting and Rev P. McK. Sampson continued his study of the Life of Ulrich Zwingli, Swiss reformer. For the educational part Miss Ethel McMaster had prepared a list of words for a spelling match Mr. Archie Hampson and Miss J Steele, in charge of the social hour had prepared two novel contests, A Floral Courtship and a Ring Contest words terminating in -ring. The next meeting on Dec. 7th, will be held at the home of Mr. James McFarlane.

As there was no service in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning a number of the congregation attended St. Andrew's, Huntingdon in the morning, while others went to Rockburn in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooper, Mr. and Miss Young of Ormstown were guests at the manse on Thursday evening.

Recent guests at the home of Mrs. Lavery include Mrs. Joseph Gamble Mrs. Amos Myatt and Mrs. Ernest Mason.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hampson and Miss Betty, Mrs. D. F. Grant and Miss Arline motored to Shawville on Friday where they visited friends over the week-end returning home on Tuesday.

Miss Gladys Ross, who has been quarantined at her home for the past fortnight with an attack of chickenpox, is now convalescent and will soon return to her duties as teacher in Drummondville, Que.

The November meeting of the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid Society was entertained on Thursday by Mrs Thomas Ross at her home, Powerscourt. Mrs. Grant conducted the business meeting. As Mrs. Rowat, owing to poor health, wished to be relieved of her office as treasurer, Mrs. Geo. Elder was appointed to fill the vacancy. At the close of the business meeting a delicious hot supper was served by the hostess. Mrs. John Elder invited the Aid to meet at her home for the December meeting.

Robson

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Clayland and Nurse Eliza Horne of Burlington, Vt., motored here on Sunday and were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Horne.

Mrs. Harold McNaughton and Mr. Wilber Sample motored to Plattsburg on Saturday.

Miss Almira Rowe of Plattsburg, spent Sunday here with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Blair motored to Plattsburg on Sunday and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Jackson. Bob's many friends here hope that he may soon be well.

Mrs. Rufus Fisher spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Clark.

Mr. Antoine Cere lost a horse the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Whiteside Kearns celebrated their 38th wedding anniversary on Saturday. They and their son Kenneth and his wife motored to Montreal and spent the day with their daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. Barr and Miss Ella Barr motored to Lacolle on Wednesday and spent the day with Mrs. Elmer Robinson.

A number of the Catholics of this street attended the services in the R. C. Church, Hemmingford, very faithfully the past week. The school was closed the most of the week.

Dr. J. McDonald of Kong Moon, South China, occupied the pulpit here on Sunday and gave a very interesting account of the work being done there. Several from here attended the service at Hemmingford, Sunday night.

The mistress took a friendly interest in her maid, and one day asked her how her love affair was going.

"Oh, I've given 'im up," said the girl, bitterly.

The mistress said she was sorry, and hoped she would soon find another young man. Two days later, however, she was surprised to see the girl out with the same man, and when the girl returned to the house, she said: "I thought you told me you had finished with that young fellow."

"Oh," replied the girl, airily, "I have finished with him, but he hasn't worked out his fortnight's notice yet."
