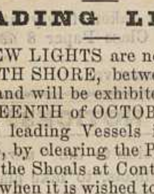
Indian and Woolwich Government Appointments.

THE PRINCIPAL, with the view of encouraging Young Gentlemen to compete for these appointments, is now forming a LIMITED class for the ensuing June examinations, and begs to intimate as a further inducement to his young friends to offer, that no tuition bills for attendance at these classes will be rendered, until the Candidates have passed their examinations in London.

This Branch of the College is under Mr. WALSHE'S immediate charge, and he would remind Parents, Guardians, and others, that at the lowest rate of salary the E.I. Appointments are £1,000 Sterling per Annum.

Further particulars can be had on application

Montreal, Sept. 17, 1856. 222



PUBLIC NOTICE.

LEADING LIGHTS.

TWO NEW LIGHTS are now placed on the NORTH SHORE, between Lavaltrie and Lanoraye, and will be exhibited on the night of the THIRTEENTH of OCTOBER next, for the purpose of leading Vessels into the SOUTH CHANNEL, by clearing the Point of Vercheres Island and the Shoals at Contrecœur.

Vessels (when it is wished to take the SOUTH CHANNEL,) coming up with the Two Lights on Lavaltrie Island in one, so soon as they close the Lights on the NORTH SHORE, will alter their course and keep them leading, until they get inside of the Point of Vercheres Island, or until they take their present marks on Isle Bouchard; when desiring to run the NORTH CHANNEL, this will lead them all clear of the lower part of Lavaltrie Island, as also of the Reef at the upper portion of it.

TWO LIGHTS on Isle Ste. Therese will also be exhibited at the same time, and are for enabling Vessels to take the upper entrance to the SOUTH CHANNEL, by leading them clear of the lower part of Pouillier du Calvaire and the upper point of Isle Deslauriers.

ANIMOS NOVITATE TENEBO. OVID.

THE MONTREAL HERALD

SATURDAY MORNING, OCT. 25, 1856.

SAUGEEN DIVISION.—We received the following telegraphic despatch, by the Montreal Line, last night:—

"Six townships heard from, viz: Barrie, Collingwood, Oro, Vespra, Sunnidale, and Nottawasaga. The following are the figures:—Patton, 236; McMurrich, 312; Beatty, 125."

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF EDUCATION FOR LOWER CANADA FOR 1855.

We have had this report a long time on our table, and we owe an apology as well to the Superintendent of Education as to our readers, for not having noticed it sooner, and for thus delaying to give it all the publicity in our power. This apology is the more due because the present report appears to be in many respects more noteworthy than its predecessors. Mr. Chauveau has evidently entered upon office full of zeal for his work, and he has accordingly produced a paper, which in character much more nearly approaches to the reports of the Upper Canadian Superintendent than those we have been accustomed to, as the annual histories of the progress of our Lower Canadian schools. Whether as a literary production, or as a departmental document, the school report for 1855 is worthy of the occasion, and promises that whatever is in the power of one man will be done to raise our system to the highest excellence of which it is capable.

Having said thus much, before considering that part of the report which most properly belongs to the present Superintendent—that is to say, the part which contains his opinions of the present and his views for the future—let us turn a moment to the past. The statistics of the present state of the schools, those which enable us to see the advance they have made, prove that, however much room there undoubtedly is for the profitable employment of vigor and activity, much has already been done in the right direction. This is a fact which it is desirable to note especially here, for further use hereafter.

The number of educational establishments in Lower Canada reported in 1855 was 2,869, being an increase of 74 over 1854, and of 517 over 1853. The number of pupils in 1855 was 126,677, or 6,940 more than in 1854, and 18,393 over 1853. While the contributions levied from the taxpayers in 1855 amounted to £62,284—£2,776 more than in 1854, and £20,822 more than in 1853.

There is a comparison in this respect of Upper and Lower Canada, which placed in the form of a table appears thus:—

1855.	U. Canada.	L. Canada.
Institutions	3,600	2,869
Pupils	228,000	126,677
Contributions	£180,000	£62,284

Thus we find that with a population only slightly in excess of our own, the people of Upper Canada have about 30 per cent more schools, and what is more remarkable, with 30 per cent more schools, they have nearly 100 per cent more scholars; and for the teaching of this hundred per cent more scholars they contribute nearly 300 per cent more money than we do in Lower Canada. They have, therefore, in Canada West larger schools and much better paid masters than in Lower Canada. Mr. Chauveau meets this truth in a proper spirit. Acknowledging the fact, he adds:—

But the difference in the annual progress is not so great against Lower Canada, which, on the other hand, has the advantage with respect to higher and secondary education. There is nothing humiliating in the comparison I have made; it is always well to examine our position coolly, and endeavor rather to overcome it than to disguise its difficulties, and to look the evil in the face in order to know and combat it.

He proceeds to point out that Model Schools have increased in Lower Canada from 67 in 1853, to 152 in 1855; girls' High Schools from 53 in 1853, to 78 in 1855; and that during the same period Academies have been augmented in number from 19 to 40; Convents devoted to teaching from 44 to 52; and Colleges from 14 to 21. It is also in the opinion of the Superintendent, a sign of improvement that the system of voluntary contribution has been abandoned almost entirely in favor of the system of assessment.

He adds:—

"Notwithstanding the extreme misery which has prevailed in many districts only five municipalities have availed themselves of the clause in favor of indigent Townships: There is everywhere a noble repugnance to taking advantage of that provision."

It appears that at the time of preparing the report there were but seven municipalities in Lower Canada without schools. The race of the Eteignoirs is nearly extinct. Parish Libraries have also been begun and already number 90. Perhaps this is the place to notice that among the institutions which the Province owes to the Catholic Clergy, are two deaf and dumb schools, one for femalee at Longue Pointe, and the other for boys at St. Laurent.

We have not room for the interesting account, which we find in the report, of the Laval and other Catholic Colleges, and of the McGill College. It is prepared with care, and contains some facts which may be perused with interest by those who attach themselves to educational investigations. In brief, it may be quoted that there are two Universities with five Faculties organised, and seven special Superior Schools, making altogether twelve Superior Schools, namely: five Theological Schools, of which there are four Catholic and one Protestant; two Faculties and one School of Law, two Faculties and one School of Medicine, and one Faculty of Arts.

There are 13 Professors and 143 students of Theology; 10 professors and 46 students in the Faculty of Law; 25 professors and 105 students of Medicine, and 6 professors and 37 students in the Faculty of Arts, of McGill College. The Faculty of Arts of the University of Laval is not yet organised; but several students from the College of Quebec are now in the highest educational institutions of Europe, preparing themselves for professorships, and their return is awaited for the opening of that important department of the institution.

The united libraries of the Superior Schools and Colleges give a total of 78,300 volumes.—The cost of the museums and of the apparatus for the classes of natural philosophy comes up to £12,750.

The value of the buildings belonging to these institutions would appear to be £155,500, a figure which I am sure is much below the reality; and it will be seen that the greater part of these edifices has been erected within the last few years.

It is perhaps departing a little from the even thread of our story, but being upon statistics it may be well to notice here a statement that strikes us as somewhat extraordinary. The Superintendent says:—

I ought to add further that our statistics are generally far below the real number. I shall cite two facts. In 1853, Mr. DeCoucy, in a work accompanied with statistics collected by Mr. Jacques Viger, showed that our Convent Schools had 10,429 pupils.

That same year the Report of the Superintendent set them down as only 2,796, and 3,041 in the higher schools for girls, under which denomination it is true were comprised many of these institutions. Still the two numbers united give little more than half of that in the statement of Mr. Viger, whose information was drawn from a correct source.

This is a wonderful discrepancy; but how comes it that Mr. Jacques Viger should be able to account for 4,000 children in conventual schools more than came to the knowledge of that officer of the government especially charged with the superintendence of education? In the ordinary course of things it might be supposed that the figures of the amateur would be tested by those of the official statistician.

Leaving this short history of what has been done in the schools during the past year, we next proceed to Mr. Chauveau's recommendations for the future. In most of those which relate to the ultimate object to be attained we cordially concur. As to those which relate to the means of attainment we shall shortly show why we are obliged respectfully to differ from him. The greatest importance is imputed, and justly imputed, to the improvement of the body of teachers. To this end there is a repetition of the recommendation of the establishment of Normal Schools, on principles of which we need only say here that they are substantially those which were adopted by the Legislature during the last session of Parliament, and which are, we presume, about to be put into active operation. Without approving of all parts of the scheme, we say with Mr. Chauveau that the worst plan was no plan at all; and we await the result of the experiment before pretending to repeat objections already urged in vain. Growing out of this establishment of a Normal school, it is to be expected, not only that there will be a better class of teachers available for the purposes of instruction, but that these teachers will be better paid. The report, in several places, points out the action and reaction between bad teachers and low salaries. On the one hand, the school commissioners and the tax payers grudge the payment of even a small salary to the man broken down in health and character, and never, at his best, possessed of sufficient talent and energy to succeed in any more agreeable career, who too often is the only recruit that offers for the educational army. On the other hand, the wretched salaries, and still more wretched treatment, which form the only reward of the school teacher, present few inducements to men who really possess the gifts and acquirements necessary for that office. The great prizes in life, indeed, fall everywhere to men who possess the diplomatic and governing faculties—the intuition and strength of will—the powers of persuading and controlling their followers, which, in different proportions, make up the characters of the great soldiers, statesmen, merchants, and lawyers of the world. Yet the power of acquiring knowledge, and then of employing it in situations where contention is not required, has its money value too; and he who reflects upon the salaries paid to good book-keepers, who have only the faculty of steady attention, in addition to their art, will feel how miserable is the reward usually paid to schoolmasters, who ought to have all the book-keeper's steadiness and a much greater variety of knowledge. We find, from the report, that anything above £100 per annum is a prize that can be gained perhaps by only from a dozen to twenty teachers in all the rural parts of Lower Canada, while the scale runs down to £25. Even these salaries, it must be remarked, are not received regularly for long periods. The schoolmaster is frequently engaged only for a few months, and is then perhaps discharged because the children are wanted to help with the harvest, or because he has not been able to agree with the Commissioners. This state of things would, undoubtedly, be much changed by the creation of an efficient body of schoolmasters. If the parents saw that their children would be confided to a capable instructor, able and willing to confer good habits, as well as the elements of knowledge, they would doubtless be ready to pay something more for the advantage. They would learn, at any rate, speedily to be of that mind. On the other hand, no man could go through a thorough Normal School training, without feeling in himself sufficient force to be independent of any miserable municipality which should grudge him a fair reward.

It is well suggested by one of the Inspectors, Mr. Dorval, that a house for the teacher should make a part of the property of every school section. There could be no plan devised more efficient than this for improving the teachers' position at small cost to the rate payers. The next recommendation of the Superintendent is the establishment of uniformity in school books. It is only necessary to describe the present system to show the need of this reform. The children in one school may now have half a dozen different grammars, reading books, geographies, or books of arithmetic, according to the legacies of their relations, or the course of the literary speculations of the village storekeeper. The consequence is, the utter hopelessness of any attempt at simultaneous teaching, and the necessity of going over the lessons of every child alone with that child.

The report farther advises the establishment "in every county, or division of a county, of at "least one of the schools to which our Legisla-"ture has given the name of Academy, and of "a Model Primary School in each municipal-"ity." In this recommendation, also, we heartily join. Nor are we disposed to quarrel with any extension of the school grant which can be made consistently with the great principle, never to be lost sight of, that these grants being only a mode of gilding the pill of direct taxation, and, in fact, affording to no solid good, since the public pays what the Government gives, must yet not be carried so far as to beguile the people out of the habit of feeling and acknowledging their own direct duty in the education of their children.

It seems that in practice a difficulty has occurred in this wise: A sum of money was originally set apart from the Consolidated Fund for educational purposes, which was to be divided among all the municipalities—Upper Canada and Lower Canada each taking an exact moiety. Then no municipality in Lower Canada was allowed to levy a tax exceeding that which would yield an amount equal to the Government grant. But the population of Upper Canada having increased till it has arrived at an excess over Lower Canada, the grant, once equally, is now unequally divided between the two Provinces; and the whole amount continuing the same, Lower Canada has lost exactly by so much as Upper Canada has gained. The effect has been that notwithstanding their willingness to increase their contributions for school purposes, many municipalities have seen themselves curtailed at both ends of the account. They have received less from the general government, and have been obliged to reduce their local contributions in proportion, instead of augmenting them to make up the deficiency. The report proposes to meet this inconvenience by fixing the Lower Canadian grant at a certain sum, giving to the Upper Canadians a proportionably greater one according to their population, and by allowing the municipalities to tax themselves to any amount they please. We believe these changes have been also substantially made by the Legislature.

In addition, the report recommends another, or rather one which its author supposes necessary in order to give full effect to all the others, and it is here that our opinion diverges from his. This great remedy for the irregularities and deficiencies of the present system is the establishment of a series of rigid rules to embrace all probable cases, the administration and enforcement of which it is proposed to commit entirely to the superintendent, who would also have considerable discretionary power in some circumstances not included in the rules. This absolute dictatorial power of the superintendent he would have exercised by and with the advice of the several inspectors who would, according to the plan, have, in some instances, an authority of their own, subject to appeal to the head of the Department. In this respect, too, the Legislature has, to some extent, adopted the views of the superintendent; especially it has left to his arbitrage the distribution of public money, among the institutions, for superior education. The whole of this class of recommendations in fact points to the establishment, so far as education is concerned, of a bureaucracy as absolute as that of France or Prussia, in which the government officer shall be everything and the people themselves nothing. We do not impute the desire for this change to any inordinate love of power on the part of Mr. Chauveau. We rather see in him a zealous public functionary conscious of large defects in the working of the department over which he presides, willing to put his shoulder manfully to the wheel, but cramped by the petty opposition which he meets with from a crowd of local authorities, whose obstructions to his efforts are like those which were felt by Gulliver when he could not rise, because ten thousand Lilliputians had each pegged to the ground one separate hair of his head. He fancies that, with the legal authority to correct these defects and abuses, he would have the power as he feels himself to possess the will to do so. In this we think he would find himself mistaken. The zeal and energy of the most ardent and energetic functionary is incapable of moving all the parts of so complicated, detailed and scattered a machine, as the school system of this Province. The vis inertiæ of those whom he would have to set in motion, with which he would have to contend would prove as fatiguing and as obstructive as their more active determination to set his council at naught, now that he has no legal authority to enforce it. Thus beginning full of ardor, like all men placed in similar circumstances, the Superintendent would become first disgusted, then cold, and at last sink into the usual torpid routine of an official charged with a business to which no individual strength is adequate. Nothing can have a finer appearance than the symmetry of the theories of social operations, planned and worked out by an intelligent and powerful Governmental hierarchy; but in practice the clumsy inconsequent action of the people is found to be really more efficient. And after all, we may well ask here whether the School Commissioners, of whom Mr. Chauveau, no doubt often justly complains, have as a whole been found so much behind their duty, as to make it desirable to degrade them to mere taxing machines, giving the whole control of the schools and of the pecuniary expenditure to a central officer, seeing, hearing, and judging through the medium of Inspectors? We do not think the history of the school laws in Lower Canada as we find it recorded in this and other reports should make us despair at all of the result of an honest dependance on the people themselves. It is not many years ago that the country was filled with Eteignoirs; but the little leaven of education no sooner began to work than a love for it was diffused in every direction; and now we learn that only seven municipalities are without schools, while every year affords more pleasing signs of an approach to a state of general education equal to that which prevails in countries which a short time ago seemed to have a long start of us. We confess that with all the confidence we have in our present Superintendent, we doubt how far he will succeed in doing more than the people have done themselves. The Inspectors, though their duties are confined almost wholly to supervision and advice, are well known to be by no means a popular part of the present system, and we greatly fear that an increase of their legal powers will not tend to render more favorable to the cause of education those who must after all be the prime agents in making any advance. When the State assumes to be a universal Providence, it simultaneously reduces the real strength of the people to weakness, and replaces what it has destroyed by an authority whose power is diminished just as the area of its exercise is augmented.

With these few frank observations on an important point of the recommendations of the report, we take leave of it, giving again our hearty praise to the excellent spirit which appears throughout its pages, in spite of some ideas which we regard as erroneous.

A SMALL MATTER BUT NOT UNDESERVING OF NOTICE.—We have to acknowledge the receipt from Mr. Bidder, the active and obliging General Manager of the Grand Trunk Railway, of what we feel justified in designating as an extremely beautiful work of art—albeit its ornamental and decorative features may be considered as only accessary to the useful and practical information, which it conveys to the public. It consists of a large—we scarcely know what to call it, but let us say—card of the Grand Trunk Railway, containing, besides a correct Map of the entire line of the road, the names of the Principal Officers of the Company, with various tables of the local and connecting stations and of Distances between the leading cities and centres of travel traversed by and connecting with the road. We are conscious that the word "card" will give the reader a very imperfect idea of the work before us, which, we should mention, occupies a very large sheet of the finest quality of tinted Indian paper—say, from 2½ to 3 feet square. In the centre is a beautiful view of the Victoria Bridge, as it will appear when completed, taken from the St. Lambert shore, with the city and mountain in the distance. In the compartment above, is an equally beautiful view of the St. Anne's Bridge across the Ottawa, as it leaves the Lake of the Two-Mountains, and in the compartment below is the map, which we have already mentioned. In compartments on either side of the centre landscape, are beautiful views of the Falls of Montmorency and of the Chaudiere near Quebec, and in four compartments, at the corners of the titanic "card," are views of Quebec, of Ottawa City, of the Credit Bridge, near Toronto, and of the White Mountains of New Hampshire. These compartments are each framed, as it were, in, what we suppose we may call architectural scrolls, and adorned with charming and characteristic vignettes, and the whole are delicately colored in the varied hues of nature. This strikingly beautiful and highly artistic work is from the pencil of Mr T. S. Scott, of this city, and has been most admirably lithographed by Messrs. Larouy, Major & Knapp, of New York. As decidedly one of the most artistic compositions and beautiful specimens of lithography we have ever seen, in connection with the somewhat prosaic and utilitarian object to which it is devoted, we have deemed it only just to afford our readers this imperfect sketch, of the correctness of which, we may add, they can satisfy themselves by a visit to Mr. Dawson's shop, in Great St. James' Street.

SABBATH SCHOOL TEACHERS' CONVENTION.—A specially convened meeting of several persons from different cities of the Province, was held at Kingston on the 25th of last month, for the purpose of considering the expediency of holding a Convention of Sabbath School Teachers. The feeling in favor of the proposition was unanimous, as it was thought that such a meeting would exercise an important and beneficial influence upon the Sabbath School cause. It was, therefore, decided upon.

A local committee and a committee of arrangements, the latter consisting of two branches, one in Toronto and the other in Montreal, were appointed.

It will be held at Kingston on Wednesday, the 11th day of February next.

As soon as all necessary arrangements are completed, full particulars will be published, and an invitation will be given to every Sabbath School to send one or two delegates.

This being the first Convention, on a large scale, ever proposed in Canada, and as its object is simply the increase of the usefulness of Sabbath Schools, by mutual interchange of thought on their interests, and by an endeavor to create wider sympathy on the part of the Christian public; it is hoped that every School in Canada will be represented. The expense to each will be exceedingly light, as the delegates will be furnished with private accommodation during their stay in Kingston, and the arrangements with the different railway companies to secure a material abatement in the current rates of fare have, so far, been very successful.—Communicated.

ANDREW'S PANORAMA.—This Panorama consists of representations of all the principal cities of that most interesting region known as the Great West.—All our citizens have heard of the wonders of that fertile country, which, from a wilderness, has, in a quarter of a century, grown up to be highly populated. All, however, cannot go in person to see the result of large emigration on a rich virgin soil. The present exhibition affords the opportunity to become acquainted with the most remarkable of these places.

COURT OF QUEEN'S BENCH.

CROWN SIDE.

FRIDAY, October 24.

Present:—The Hon. Sir L. H. LAFONTAINE, Bart., Chief Justice, and the Hon. T. C. AYLWIN.

Edward Schneider, was indicted for the murder of Timothy Moreau.

The prisoner pleaded not guilty.

Mr. Driscoll, Q. C., conducted the prosecution, and Mr. Devlin the defence.

Moreau's deposition was handed in and read; after which

Charles J. Coursol, Esq., was examined:—I am the Inspector and Superintendent of Police; that is my signature (attached to Moreau's deposition); when I took the deposition of deceased, he was in bed in the Montreal General Hospital; about 12 o'clock on the day in question I received a note from Dr. Craik, to proceed to the hospital, as the young man was in a dying state; I did so, when the doctor informed me that Moreau was very ill; I saw Moreau, who informed me that if he did not get some good remedy he would die; but deceased did not say that he thought he was in a dying state.

Nelson Sanderson, examined—I am a sailor on board of a barge, and was so on the 29th Sept. last, and knew Timothy Moreau, and I know the prisoner. About the 29th of Sept., at Point Claire, on board of the Grand Trunk barge 22 between two and three o'clock in the afternoon, the prisoner began to play with another boy, and in playing, Schneider hurt the other boy, and Timothy Moreau said, to the prisoner, "You would not do that to me." Schneider then said, "I am not talking to you; hold your tongue;" and then Moreau said he would not hold his tongue. Schneider went up to him, and as he did so, Moreau took up a stick, when Schneider put his foot on it, and gave deceased two slaps on the head over a woollen cap; they were moderate slaps; Schneider was a sailor; the slaps could not have hurt deceased; I then went up to Schneider and pushed him away from the deceased, when he said, "You did well to put him (meaning the prisoner) away from me, for I meant to take up a stick and knock his brains out." That is all that I know. Moreau was a cook on board the barge; Schneider had no other quarrel with the deceased on that day; they were loading the barge on that day; the deceased and the prisoner had no quarrel the day before, and were good friends afterwards. I swear that the prisoner did not make use of any other violence to the deceased. After this affair Moreau's illness increased; but he continued on board about five days after. The deceased had not worked for two days before the quarrel; he was lying in his bed, and used to walk about sometimes; a few days previous to the quarrel, they had to waken Moreau up, as he had a suffocating sensation, while in bed; after the quarrel, Moreau was taken to the Montreal General Hospital.

To the Court.—I cannot say whether the blows were on the top or side of the head; I cannot say with what hand the blows were struck. Moreau had some medicine previous to this; it was mercurial ointment that he used to rub his head with; there was nothing said about this ointment on board of the boat; the captain of the barge wanted to send the deceased home after this affair to be cured, but he would not go, as he wanted to go to Montreal.

Joseph Hurtubise, examined.—The Captain gave the deceased salts, and he had some mercurial ointment as a remedy for the effects of a fever.

Cross-examined.—Had no knowledge of any other quarrel between deceased and Schneider.

George Sanderson, examined.—On the 29th of last September I was Captain of barge No. 2, belonging to the Grand Trunk Railway; I was absent from the barge on the day in question; the deceased complained very much for some days previous to the affair; he was also swollen in the face; he complained of a cold; this did not alarm me; I wanted to send him home to his father, but he would not go; I had to waken the deceased on the Friday night, as he had a choking sensation; the 29th was a Monday; I was away on that day; on the Thursday the deceased got worse; I then took a cab and took him to a tavern; I do not think there was any enmity between deceased and prisoner; they were both together on board of the barge more than a month; the deceased told me he used some ointment for vermin he had in his head; when I returned on board of the boat on Monday they were playing at cards, and appeared to be good friends; the cook had bought some crackers, and divided them between the prisoner and the others; prisoner is a very harmless man.

Dr. Craik, examined.—I am the House Surgeon of the Montreal General Hospital, and recollect that Moreau was brought to the hospital on the 3d October and died the same day; he was very ill, and he coughed and wheezed and was spitting blood, and could not lie down; I assisted at the autopsy, and opened the chest and found the outer part of the right lung inflamed; the chest, on the same side, was filled with about a pint and a-half of fluid; on the left side the lung was completely glued to the side by inflammation; on opening the head, I found behind the right ear some blood, but there were no external marks of violence at all; the proximate cause of death was inflammation of the lungs and pleura; the inflammation was more intense than I ever recollect to have seen it; the deceased was between 14 and 15 years of age; his eyes were not swollen; recent inflammation might have caused the fluid; cold might have produced these symptoms, and so might violent beating; it would require severe blows to produce the inflammation; the ordinary cause was cold; had I known nothing of the circumstances I should not have attributed them to violence; the boy did not say he was dying.

Cross-examined—A person using the mercurial ointment would be exposed very much to cold, and, when I prescribe it, I advise my patients not to go out, because the use of mercurials makes the body more susceptible to cold; the erruptions on the head would undoubtedly tend to absorb the ointment, and subject the person using it more readily to catch cold; the wheezing is commonly called dropsy on the chest, and if it were excessive, it would tend to shorten a person's existence; in a debilitated constitution the mere rubbing would not produce the extravasation of blood; I would not attribute the cause of death to the slaps given the deceased by the prisoner; I should say they did not produce death.

To the Court—I do not attribute the death to the extravasation of blood behind the ear; if the two slaps had been given with the open hand, I do not think they would have produced the disease of the pleura.

Dr. Alfred Nelson examined:—The inflammation appeared to be the result of external violence; but I did not observe any violence on the body. There is a possibility that the inflammation was caused by cold, but my opinion is that it was caused by violence; there was a large quantity of serum; it would have taken 7 or 8 days to have effaced the marks of violence, if the deceased received any; there is a possibility that death might have been the result of some other cause than violence, but I do not think so.

Cross-Examined:—I do not think the slaps alluded to were the cause of Moreau's death, but my impression is that the inflammation was caused by blows directed to the chest.

The Court here prevented the further examination of the witness, stating that the charge of murder could not be sustained against the prisoner, as both the medical witnesses had stated that the two slaps which it was said the prisoner had inflicted on the head of the deceased were not the cause of death, but that it it was caused from inflammation of the chest. Under these circumstances the Jury, under the direction of the Court, returned a verdict of not guilty.

The prisoner was then discharged.

A meritorious act on the part of Mr. Devlin, we think worthy of mention. Schneider, we understand, was so poor, that he had not sufficient money to pay his counsel, Mr. Devlin, for defending him. Rather than allow Mr. Devlin's services to go unrequited, Schneider proposed to sell his only cow, a proceeding which Mr. Devlin would not allow, but gave his services gratuitously. We understand that this is not the first praiseworthy act of the kind on the part of Mr. Devlin, but that he has acted in a similar way in many other cases. This has been brought under our notice by an influential officer of the Court.

Noel Roy was indicted for arson on the premises of Mr. Carlisle, in Great St. James Street.

The prisoner pleaded not guilty.

Mr. Driscoll, Q.C., prosecuted, and Messrs. Carter and Cassidy defended the prisoner.

John Carlisle examined—I leased the premises in Great St. James Street from Mr. Campbell; I subleased a portion of the same to the prisoner on the 20th May last; the prisoner sold cordials and fruit; he took possession a few days after the sublease, and occupied the same to the time of the fire on the 3rd June; there were two alarms of fire, and I got up at about half-past one o'clock to go to a fire in St. Antoine Suburbs; on my return I met one Maguire who informed me that the fruit shop adjoining my premises was on fire; when I got there I found a policeman in charge of the prisoner and his brothers; I asked him how the fire occurred, and the prisoner said some one had set the place on fire; I examined the place, and found under the counter pieces of wood suspended by a string, so as to bring it near the counter; the strings corresponded with the strings of ginger beer bottles; the pieces of wood were portions of a shelf split up, which the prisoner admitted he had split up; there was a curtain extending from a table to the counter, but whether placed there by the prisoner or not I cannot say; it was in its usual place; on the following night I examined a cupboard near the entrance; the door of it near the angle was secured by a screw, and the lock had been forced off; I unscrewed the door, and found an empty plate, which had the appearance of containing some burning fluid; it had a coating round it, as if it had contained some fluid which had been set on fire; the shelf above it and a portion of the door were scorched; the prisoner kept his back against this door; the prisoner told me he had left his shop about half-past eleven, and finding that he had forgotten his cane he returned to his shop, and found, on opening the door, that it was on fire. There is an entrance to this shop from a cellar which communicates with the yard, and any person could enter from this yard to the shop.—(The witness here identified pieces of burnt wood found in the shop, and produced in Court.)

Cross-examined by Mr. Carter—I have had possession of the premises since I told Mr. Abbott that if I could get a tenant I wonld try and turn out the prisoner. That was before the fire.

Patrick Nolan, examined.—At about half-past eleven at night, on the third day of June, the prisoner came to the house and stated that a house was on fire in Great St. James street; he said it was in Mr. Carlisle's house. I went with the prisoner, he opened the door, the smoke was so dense that at first we could not enter. I afterwards entered and found fire under the counter; I removed some sticks and pieces of wood, and by so doing spread the burning pieces. I then ran and got the hose, and with a little water extinguished the fire.

This closed the case.

His Honor Sir L. H. Lafontaine, now charged the jury at considerable length, after which the jury retired to their room, and remained absent about an hour, when they entered the Court, and said that there was no likelihood of their agreeing. They were then locked up for the night.

James Brisset was arraigned this morning for having forged a notarial instrument. He pleaded not guilty, and was admitted to bail to stand his trial, which was fixed for Tuesday next, the 28th inst.

The trial of a person named Marooney, charged with attempting to murder his wife, will take place this morning (Saturday).

Mr. Devlin, Counsel for the prisoner.

The trial of McDonnell, accused of larceny and forgery, will also take place this day.

Messrs. Carter & Devlin, Counsel for the prisoner.

The Court adjourned till ten o'clock on Saturday.

POLICE COURT.

Before CHARLES J. COURSOL, Esq., Inspector and Superintendent of Police.

FRIDAY, Oct. 24.

Joseph Marsan was charged by Charles Benoit with having assaulted complainant on the 22nd instant. The defendant was fined 1s and costs; and, in default, eight days' imprisonment at hard labor.

Mr. Desjardin appeared for the prosecutor, and

Mr. Berthelot for the defendant.

Michael McMahon was charged by Emelie Gendreau, the defendant's wife, with having, on the evening of the 21st, violently assaulted complainant by kicking her; the defendant also threatened to stab her. With leave of the Court the case was settled by the defendant paying costs.

Francois Lesage was charged by Thomas McConville, grocer, of this city, with having, on the 22nd instant, stolen a piece of ham, weighing ten pounds, from complainant's shop. The accused was fully committed.

THE CRIMPING SYSTEM AT QUEBEC.

By the polite attention of the Board of Trade, we are enabled to make the following communication to the Superintendent of Police, public. It is a proof, at all events, that the Executive has found it necessary to take action in the matter. The circulation in Europe of such disgraceful reports, is calculated to reflect discredit not merely on the port of Quebec, but on the Government of the Province. But the fact of the existence of such a system, tolerated and blinked at, has become too serious to be longer silently submitted to, notwithstanding the inconvenient effects of publicity in the first instance. Whether any satisfactory result can be reasonably expected by seeking explanations or inquiries from the Superintendent of Police, who had so much to do in these cases, does not seem very probable:—

SECRETARY'S OFFICE,
Toronto, 10th October, 1856.

SIR,—I have the honor to enclose to you, by command of His Excellency the Governor General, for your information, a copy of a letter this day addressed to the Inspector and Superintendent of Police, Quebec, calling for that Officer's report on the subject of certain outrages alleged to have been committed within the Port of Quebec.

I have the honor to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient servant,
E. PARENT.

The Presidnet of the Board of Trade, Quebec.

SECRETARY'S OFFICE,
Toronto, 10th October, 1856.

SIR,—His Excellency the Governor General has had his attention called to the enclosed paragraph in Wilmer & Smith's European Times of September 13th.

His Excellency cannot believe that the facts therein alleged can be substantiated; but it is necessary that it should be promptly contradicted, if untrue. Their circulation in Europe is calculated to inflict serious loss and discredit on the commerce of Quebec.

His Excellency requests, therefore, that Mr. Fry, and other parties, may be called upon to give in writing all they know on the subject of such outrages, and that the truth or falsehood of these charges should be at once investigated and reported on by you. A copy of this letter is forwarded to the Mayor of Quebec, and to the Board of Trade of the City.

You will be good enough to return to me the enclosed paragraph, with your report on the same.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) E. PARENT.

John Maguire, Esqre.,
I. & S. of Police, Quebec.

UPPER CANADA.

ANTI-MINISTERIAL MEETING.—A political meeting, to which considerable importance seems to be attached, took place a few days ago at Beverley, a part of the county represented by Mr. Spence. Resolutions were passed asking for a dissolution of Parliament. The Leader, however, boasts that the opposition triumph was incomplete.

LANDS ON ST. JOSEPH ISLE.—At the sale of Crown Lands on St. Joseph's Island, on Monday, about 20,000 acres were sold, at an average of from 6s 3d to 7s 6d per acre, the land not commanding so high a price as at the previous sale.

UNITED STATES.

BISHOP ONDERDONK OF PENNSYLVANIA—HIS SENTENCE REMITTED.—The Pennsylvania Ledger of this morning says:—

Yesterday, we learn that the Episcopal Convention, sitting in this city, by a very decided majority, remitted the sentence upon Bishop H. U. Onderdonk, of this state, which suspended him from all clerical functions. This sentence was imposed twelve years ago, about the time his brother, Bishop Onderdonk of New York, was also suspended.

The remission of his sentence will restore him to his ministerial functions, but, we presume, not to his Bishopric, which is now filled by Bishop Potter. On Sunday morning next Bishop Onderdonk will preach a sermon in the Church of the Ascension.

A CHILD BEATEN TO DEATH BY A ROMISH PRIEST FOR ATTENDING A PROTESTANT SUNDAY SCHOOL.—On Saturday evening Councilman Paddock received information that a German child, named Barbara Forman, had just died from the effects of a severe beating received at the hands of her teacher in the St. Mary's (Roman Catholic) parish school, who is also a priest. He informed Chief of Police Stedman, who having satisfied himself that there was good reason for believing the story true, gave information to Coroner Erwin, and an inquest was held yesterday.

After a long and patient investigation, the jury unanimously gave the following verdict:—

That the deceased came to her death in consequence of whipping and beating received from and by the hands of Frederick Bauer, on or about the 21st of September, A.D. 1856. The said whipping and beating having been done with a stick or other weapon.

Mr. Bauer was arrested yesterday, and is now awaiting his examination in the police court.—He manifests no feeling, we understand, and says nothing.

The verdict says the beating was administered on or about the 21st—it was done on Monday, which was the 22d.

Flinda Hick deposes, and says as follows:—I was acquainted with the deceased, Barbara Forman; have been attending the same school with Barbara; during the last month Barbara has not attended school; we attended the school at the Catholic church on the Flats, in the city of Cleveland; the teacher of the school whipped Barbara by laying her on a chair upon her belly, and beat her with a stick; he made her take hold of the rounds of the chair as he whipped her; he makes all the scholars take hold of the round of the chair when he whips them; he used a piece of cane having a crook on it; taking hold of the crook, he struck her about the shoulders and back, and struck her a few times lower down; cannot say how many times he struck her; did not see him strike her on the head; he took her by her hair when he was whipping her; she screamed and halloed very hard and loud while he was whipping her; his blows were real hard, and he made ugly faces while he was whipping her; she cried real hard until recess, when she went home with one of the other little girls. She tried very hard to get up when he was whipping her, but she could not get up, because he was sitting on her so that she could not get up; she was on her belly on the chair, holding on the lower round of the chair, and the teacher had hold of her hair crushing her down into it. The teacher told Barbara she ought not to have gone to the Ragged school, and whipped her for going to the Ragged Sunday school he caled her up on the floor for going there, and whipped for her that. When Barbara went to her seat after the master whipped her, she could not sit up straight, because she got such a whipping on her back; and Barbara said it hurt her to sit up. School commences about eight o'clock; we have to go to church first, and Barbara was whipped soon after school commenced. I am going on twelve years of age. Barbara has not been to school since she got her hard whipping at the school. The master used to whip all the scholars as he whipped Barbara, previous to her whipping; but he has not whipped them so since Barbara was whipped.—Cleveland Herald.

A NEW BUSINESS.—The Daily (Bangor) Journal.—says "Brig Kate Anderson, Bagley master, is now loading at Railroad pier with orange and lemon box shooks for Messina and Palermo in the island of Sicily. They are manufactured at Pittsfield and Newport on the line of the Pen & Ken. Railroad, and are loaded into the brig directly from the cars."

NICARAGUA.

The news received last night by telegraph from Nicaragua, by the way of New Orleans, is important. It appears that Walker carried out the programme indicated in the HERALD of last Tuesday, by marching out of Grenada and giving battle to the Central Americans at Massaya; but this time both parties were better prepared for each other. The forces of the Central American States had combined in considerable strength, and while Walker was fighting desperately with four thousand of the enemy near Massaya, fourteen hundred Gautemaleans besieged Granada, where Walker had left a small force. This movement compelled him to abandon Massaya and return to Grenada, where he succeeded in routing the Gautemaleans.

This intelligence indicates that the whole of Central America is aroused against the North Americans. It shows that Walker, notwithstanding his successes in these two battles, is in a very critical position, and nothing but extraordinary skill and good luck will save him from annihilation. The military combinations and tactics of the Central Americans, as exhibited in these fights, mark a decided improvement in skill and courage in the forces now brought into the field. We apprehend that Walker must be getting uncommonly near the end of his rope; for he has fallen into such bad company that he allows that hair-brained adventurer, Monsieur Pierre Soulé, to go to Granada and make laws for him—even such laws as the revival of negro slavery in Nicaragua.

Mr. William Walker once enjoyed the good will and sympathy of the public of the United States. It was supposed that he would inaugurate a regime of law and order in a country where there had been nothing but bloodshed, butchery and rapine for a couple of generations; that he would be a wise ruler in Nicaragua, and a regenerator of that most unhappy, though most blessed country which lies between the two continents. These expectations—to which the hopeful have clung through all kind of evil report—must now be abandoned; for Mr. Walker after a series of inexplicable blunders, has now capped the climax by an act in which it is hard to say whether wickedness or folly preponderates. We can now safely leave him to the fate which seems impending. He may win a few filibusters from the South; but he may rest assured that throughout the North people will henceforth feel the most utter indifference to his fate.—N. Y. Herald.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Her Majesty will return to Windsor Castle from Balmoral on the 15th instant. The rumour of the demise of Baron Pennefather is incorrect. The venerable Judge attended Divine service on Sunday last, when he was in perfect health.

REAR-ADMIRAL DUNDAS'S SQUADRON.—The squadron under the orders of Rear Admiral the Hon. R. S. Dundas, K. C. B., took its departure from Gibraltar, under steam, on the afternoon of the 25th September, for the eastward. This squadron consists of the following screw steamships:—Duke of Wellington, 131, flagship, Captain Caldwell; Conqueror, 101, Captain Yelverton; Creasy, 81, Captain Warren; Osprey, 4, Commander Bloomfield and the Wanderer, 4, Commander Luce.

Matters on the Continent are still in an unsettled state. From Constantinople we hear that a French squadron is ordered to co-operate with the British fleets, as the Isle of Serpents' question is not satisfactorily settled. An Austrian squadron is also ordered to Constantinople, at which place a telegraphic despatch had arrived from London, for the entrance into the Black Sea of three steamers and six gunboats.

FRANCE.

TUESDAY EVENING, Ocober 7.

Rise in corn again checked, and a decline expected, it having been now well ascertained that the crops exceed an average year, and foreign sales being ample.

Within the last few days a considerable number of persons have been arrested in Paris on a charge of being implicated in the posting up of placards, some menacingly demanding cheap bread, others threatening death to the proprietors of houses, in consequence of the enormous rise in rents, and several using disrespectful and even menacing expressions to the Emperor himself. It seems that the working classes and persons with small incomes are suffering severely from the high prices of food and the extraordinary increase of rents, which have been trebled and quadrupled within the last few years. The Government is evidently very anxious on the subject of house accommodation for the poorer classes, for the Moniteur, referring to its recent statement that pecuniary aid had been granted from the funds of the State for the construction of workmen's lodgings, announces that these encouragements do not solely apply to constructions entirely new, for they may be granted also to proprietors wishing to add one or more stories to their houses for the purpose of letting them as small apartments.

A singular change has taken place in the tone of the Constitutionel; but it still continues to see in the English journals things which other eyes cannot discern, or to look at obvious things through a medium of its own. It now "notes with sincere satisfaction the protestations of friendship, which the serious and elevated portion of the English press is now pleased to offer to the French Government," and it hints that the actual attitude of the London journals is due to the unexpected appearance of the Russian circular.

The Paris correspondent of the Morning Post thinks that the Ministerial journals of France will now cease to sing the praises of Russia; that the "change of tone will be more true to the Emperor, to the dignity of France and the feelings of the people, who have paid so dearly for the late war, brought on by a country which may ere long again demand the soldiers of England and France;" and that, no matter what reasons may be assigned by the Constitutionel for ceasing to be Russian or Austrian, the change is wise, just and honest.

Louis Blanc, in replying to the article in the Moniteur relative to the treatment of the French political exiles at Cayenne, describes the statements of that journal as confused, vague, and contradictory, and denies that any answer is given by the Moniteur to the charge that the system of secret transportations to Cayenne has been going on until now.

Letters from Paris affirm that the Emperor is about to issue paper money, and to order the suspension of specie payment by the Bank of France. The drain, notwithstanding all the arrivals of gold and silver that takes place, is said to be proceeding at a greatly increased rate.

Paris papers contain details of the visit of the Emperor and Empress to Bordeaux; the Emperor made no public speeches there.

From Paris we learn that it has been determined to increase the strength of the garrison which protects that city. The reason assigned more than confirms the strange statements that had gone abroad about insurrectionary clubs and conspiracies, for we are told the garrison must be strengthened on account of the number of political arrests. Marching orders have been transmitted to several regiments in the provinces.

The latest news from Algeria reports a victory of the French over the insurgent Kabyles, on the 24th ult. But it says nothing about the war being concluded by it, which would be the only really important part.

PARIS, October 6.—The Emperor is to pass a review of the Guards on Wednesday.

On dit, that Baron Brunow, the Russian Minister in this city, has expressed the regret of his government at the publicity given to the circular of Prince Gortschakoff on Naples and Greece. The French Government is said to be willing to accept this as an amende honourable.

It seems, from all I hear, to be definitively settled that Count de Morny shall remain permanently in Russia as French Ambassador.

From Constantinople we have a new arrival to day, which says that the English had obtained possession of the railway to the Persian Gulf; also that they had again sent some vessels into the Black Sea, and that the departure of Admiral Lyons had positively been postponed. It is worthy of remark that all letters from French sources in Constantinople attack the Austrians with great vehemence for the obstacles they threw in the way of the French obtaining a concession of steam navigation on the Danube.—The French Ambassador, it appears, has protested against a withdrawal, by the Porte, of a concession of that kind made to a Captain Magnan. The Austrian Ambassador is accused by the French of having been chiefly instrumental in causing that withdrawal, and the Russian Ambassador is charged with having assisted him.

NAPLES.

The Paris correspondent of the Morning Post writes on Monday evening:—"If I am correctly informed, despatches must have reached London showing the necessity of immediately sending vessels to Naples for the protection of British subjects. There seems to be no doubt that the police of the court, headed by Compagnia, have received orders to organise the Lazzaroni with a view of attacking the property of any one who may be pointed out by their leaders. The Lazzaroni of certain quarters of the city are said to have already received money from the court."

The Times' Paris correspondent says the latest accounts from Naples describe the King as less disposed than ever to make concessions, while the fermentation in the public mind was at the highest pitch.

A Vienna letter of the 1st, in the Borsdnhalle of Hamburg, says:—"Baron Mohrenheim, Russian Councillor of state, arrived here to-day from St. Petersburg, with very important despatches from Baron de Budberg, relating to the affairs of Naples and Montenegro. With respect to the former, it is certain that the passive policy announced by the circular of Prince Gortschakoff must not receive too much credit. Russia will not renounce so easily the principle of the Holy Alliance, and will employ all her efforts to obtain the co-operation of Austria in her Neapolitan policy. With respect to Montenegro, every effort will be made to maintain Russian influence in that State; and Prince Danoil's pretensions to independence and to an increase of territory will be supported by Russian diplomatists."

Communications from Naples, of the 28th ult., state that the King had sent or was about to send a very voluminous despatch to the great Powers, containing a defence of himself and his Covernment.

SPAIN.

MADRID, Oct. 6.—General Narvaez arrived in the capital this day.

M. San Triteban, Madrid merchant and journalist, has committed suicide in consequence of unsuccessful stock speculations.

The latest intelligence from Spain informs us that a royal decree has been published in the Madrid Gazette, dissolving the Commission on Codes, and appointing a new one of seven members, under the Presidency of M. Cartina.

A Madrid journal states that the squadron which the Spanish Government is about to send to cruise in the Mediterranean will consist of four sailing vessels and three steam vessels, altogether mounting 200 guns. The object of the squadron, according to a semi-official print, is to protect the Spanish possessions in that sea, in any eventuality which may arise from "the events in preparation at Naples."

PORTUGAL.

The last advices from Oporto confirm the previous intelligence as to the fate of the vintage. Every one who had gone to the wine district has returned having had little or nothing to look after when there. Hardly 1000 pipes of sound wines can be produced throughout the demarcation

PRUSSIA.

A letter from Berlin of the 2nd October states that the marriage of Prince Frederick William with the Princess Royal of England will take place on the 18th October, 1857, the anniversary of the Prince's birthday.

From Berlin we have accounts which state that the question of Neufchatel will be taken into serious consideration during the sojourn of the King of Prussia at Hohenzollern; and in the conference which will take place on the subject, it will be endeavoured more particularly to draw out the positive propositions which Prussia will have to make upon the question, the powers which signed the protocol of May 2, 1852, having admitted in principle the rights of Prussia over the Principality.

DENMARK.

The Danish Ministry has not been formed, all the endeavours made having failed. The Chambers, which opened on the 4th inst., have been porogued to the 1st December. The King will preside at the Grand Council.

PRINCIPALITIES.

It is stated that the majority of the Commissioners for the Danubian Principalities have refused to discuss the proposed question until the Austrian troops evacuate, and until the Sultan decrees the meeting of the Divans on such terms as are embodied in the protocols of the Treaty of Paris.

TURKEY.

A despatch from Constantinople, of the 29th ult., informs us that an order had been received by telegraph from London, directing that three steamers and six gunboats shall re-enter the Black Sea. Admiral Lord Lyons remains at Constantinople. Reschid Pasha has give a fete to his lordship. The railway of the Euphrates has been definitively conceded to an English comp'y. Another despatch from Constantinople, dated October 1, intimates that a French squadron is ordered thither to co-operate with the British fleet, as the Isle of Serpents question is not satisfactorily settled, and an Austrian squadron is also ordered there.

A frightful tempest has lately taken place at Varna. All the crops have been dostroyed; the houses, the French bridge on the lake and the post have suffered severely. Several casualties have occurred in the Sea Azoff, by vessels running upon the sunken ships there.

Travellers from Syria give a lamentable account of that country. They state that at no former period were the Christian population more oppressed by their Turkish masters. The pashas, as hitherto, are more intent on enriching themselves than in promoting the interests of the Sultan.

LATEST.

BERNE, Oct. 7.

Six hundred delegates of the people assembled at Morges. They have declared that the sovereignty of the people is in danger from monarchic intrigues, and constituted a Central Committee. They have voted an address to the authorities and a manifesto to the people of Switzerland.

The Railway agitation in the Canton de Vaud is on the increase.

APPALLING BURNING OF A SHIP.

The following details of a horrible case of piracy and burning of a ship at Macao have been received at Loyd's. "The Dutch ship Banca, Captain Heymans, 700 tons burthen, with between 300 and 400 emigrants (coolies) for Havannah, put back to Macao, about a month since (the despatch is dated Hong Kong, August 10,) with her water casks leaking and cargo shifted, having encountered boisterous weather and on reaching the outer roads brought up to an anchor. There she remained repairing, her officers exercising strict vigilance in preventing the coolies from going ashore for fear they should make their escape. For three weeks, whatever discontent may have prevailed no fears of an outbreak would seem to have been entertained, until a Chinese doctor warned the captain that mischief was brewing. In preparing for such a contingency as a rising of the coolies, the small arms were placed on the poop, and two guns were loaded with grape and pointed forward. About nine o'clock of the night of the 6th the disturbance commenced, and the crew took refuge on the poop.

The captain first fired a shot or two overhead, but as that had no effect, and the coolies advancing towards them, yelling frightfully, armed with belaying pins, bricks torn from the cooking places, &c., the captain gave orders to his men to fire, and immediately a volley was poured into the infuriated mass from the two guns, and also from the small arms. This had the effect of checking and putting down the riot, and the coolies were driven below, but they sought revenge by setting fire to the ship, and in a few minutes the captain was appalled by seeing flames rising up from the fore hatch. A frightful scene of carnage followed: the coolies rushed up on deck, and no doubt murdered all the officers of the ship. None of them, nor the captain, were afterwards seen. The ship was soon in a blaze, fore and aft. In about an hour the mainmast fell with a crash, then the fore and mizzen, and about midnight the magazine blew up with a temendous explosion. The ship was instantly hurled to fragments, and a vast number of poor creatures, who clinging on the chains, perished with her. Of the number who were on board, including crew and passengers, about 500, only 150 escaped with their lives; the remainder were either burnt in the ship or drowned. The affair has produced a great sensation at Hong Kong.

The Italians residing at Constantinople have contributed towards the purchase of the 100 guns of Alessandria a first sum of 1500 livres, which will, no doubt, be shortly followed by a second instalment. The royal consul at Barcelona has forwarded for the same purpose to the foreign office a sum of 141 francs. The municipality of Alessandria has voted a sum of 1000 livres towards the above subscription.

A number of Italians, belonging to other states of the Peninsula, residing in Piedmont for political reasons, have subscribed 1000 livres towards the purchase of the 100 guns of Alessandria, with a request that the gun, represented by that sum, should bear the following inscription:—"The Italian refugees to Piedmont."

The number of prisoners confined at Neufchatel for having taken part in the royalist insurrection is reduced to 32. Among them are four Protestant ministers. Many have been liberated on bail or on parole.

The mail from Algiers brings news from Kabylia to the 24th ult. The divisions of General Renault and Yusuf have had a brilliant engagement with the insurgent Kabyles in which the loss of the latter was very considerable.

The royal family of Sweden is about to contract an alliance with the ducal family of Nassau. The marriage of Prince Oscar, second son of the King of Sweden, born in 1829, with the Princess Sophie, born in 1835, the youngest sister of the reigning Duke has been determined on.

The Nord of Brussels calls particular attention to the following letter, dated Vienna, Sept. 26:—

"The sensation which I mentioned in my yesterday's letter as having been caused by the proximate appearance of an allied squadron in the Bay of Naples has somewhat subsided to-day, from the conviction entertained in government circles that, if such a demonstration is intended, at all events, it will not take place just now. I think I may assure you that our diplomatic agents at London and Paris received a few days since urgent instructions from Count Buol to induce the Western Governments to adjourn the execution of their maritime demonstration against King Ferdinand.

"There is every reason to believe that the two great allied powers will show sufficient consideration for Austria, who is more or less engaged in this deplorable conflict, to await the result which our envoy to Naples, Gan. Martini, may succeed in obtaining from the King of Naples.

"According to a report which has been current here for some days, the number of our troops in the Roman legations is to be considerably increased, with as little delay as possible. It is even said that two additional regiments of infantry and one of cavalry have already entered the legations. The ground for this is, that France having resolved to send reinforcements to her troops at Rome, our safety and political interests render it necessary for us to strengthen ourselves in the legations.

"As regards another piece of news, no less serious, which is circulated at Vienna, I cannot speak positively. It is said that the Piedmontese government has notified to Paris and London its intention of joining a squadron to that of the two great maritime powers in the Bay of Naples.

"I need scarcely tell you with what feelings this news was received by our government and by the public; it is to be hoped for the peace of Italy that the active interference of diplomacy will prevent the realization of a project which would singularly complicate a state of affairs already so much endangered in the Italian peninsula."

THE PRICE OF DISCOUNT.

(From the London Chronicle.)

Another and more extensive increase in the rate of discount was yesterday announced by the Bank Directors. The previous augmentation, enforced only so recently as Wednesday last, had extended but to one half per cent., the minimum rate for commercial paper having been raised from 4½ to 5 per cent. Yesterday's increase much exceeded that amount—the new rates being 6 per cent. for short dated bills, that is to say, for securities of not more than 60 days' date, and 7 per cent. for all bills having a longer period to run. These prices are moreover, the lowest rate for first-class paper. The total change in the Bank system, therefore, involves something more than the ostensible result of augmenting, by 1 or 2 per cent., the price which merchants must pay for accommodation. When 6 and 7 per cent. are charged for disconts at the minimum rate and for unexceptionable bills, the inevitable consequence must be, that an enormous mass of second rate securities, which, under ordinary circumstances would be considered perfectly safe and readily negotiable, could be no longer discounted at any percentage. The consequent trouble and paralysis caused in many circles of commerce must, therefore, be enormous.

Under ordinary conditions, the precautions now adopted by the Bank Directors would have signified the approach of some serious crisis, heralded by a rapid ebb in the bank stock of bullion, and a collapse in the general monetary affairs of the country. At present, however, there are no such formidable symptoms apparent. There has, doubtless, been a considerable and protracted drain of bullion from the bank; but the movement of the precious metals has not arisen from any exhaustion in our domestic trade, and still less from any depreciation in our home credit. Our commerce was never in a more sound and prosperous condition than it is at present; and, considering the immense development it has recently undergone, and is still experiencing, in all quarters of the civilized and uncivilized world, it was never conducted upon principles requiring a smaller provision of metallic currency, combined with the fullest assurance of commercial solvency. As a matter of fact, the reserve of bullion now remaining in the vaults of Threadneedle street, considerably exceed eleven millions sterling. In the crisis of '47, the stock was drained down to less than four millions before the "screw" was applied to the present extent.

That era, however, was one of home calamity. At present the pressure, which is slightly felt in England, comes from abroad. The step which in '47 was one of self preservation, becomes now merely a measure of precaution. The rate of discounts in one case was kept unknown to the last moment for fear of augmenting the panic and accelerating the current of bankruptcy, which was rapidly sweeping away so many of the oldest and most respectable firms. At present there is no necessity for such forbearance. We have in England no crisis impending, no collapse to dread. The Bank is therefore left at full liberty to adopt, at the earliest moment, whatever measure may seem calculated to prevent any unpleasant drain of its resources, and to secure the largest profit that could safely and legitimately be made upon its transactions as a business establishment. These have been the motives for the large rise in the rate of discounts announced yesterday morning. Though somewhat sudden, the proceeding cannot be called precipitate. Although the minimum rate had been increased on the previous Wednesday, the demand for advances sustained no visible check, and the drain of gold proceeded nearly, if not quite, as rapidly as ever. It was clear, therefore, that the Continental requirements for bullion could not be stopped by a price of 5 per cent; and the Directors have, therefore, wisely determined to charge a higher rate. If the new price can check the outflow of gold, we shall be relieved from some anxiety touching the supply for home purposes. If not, it will at all events be a consolation to know that the foreigner has paid a higher price, and that the British lenders have secured a larger profit upon their advances, for the benefit of themselves primarily, but ultimately of the country at large.

A single hour before the announcement of the enhancement in the Bank rate, a telegraphic despatch from Paris reported that the directors of the French Bank had resolved to give no discounts for commercial paper of any description, having more than sixty days to run. The connection between the London and Paris Money Market is now so close that the great monetary establishments of the two nations are always affected by the same events, and may be almost said to beat with the same pulse. The stringent rule adopted at 10 o'clock in Paris would have thrown a vast mass of paper—irreproachable in quality, but inconvenient in quantity—upon the London market. In anticipation of this pressure, the English Bank Directors, by twelve o'clock, adopted the resolution for raising their own rate to 6 and 7 per cent., according to the period for which advances were required. The proceeding was dictated by mere prudence, and has occasioned no alarm on this side of the Channel. Some further advance in the price of money was, indeed, previously foreseen, and it is better for all parties that the change should come speedily and at once, rather than remain in suspense for an indefinite period, and be accomplished by small instalments which would have kept the commercial world in a perpetual state of uncertainty and worry, without presenting any prospect of a permanent settlement. High as the present rate may be, it is at all events an advantage that the trading public can arrange their affairs according to the new conditions, and feel tolerably certain that they will not be vexed for some time to come by further changes.

DR. J. C. AYER, the world-renowned Chemist of New England, is now stopping at the Burnet house in this city. He has been making a tour of the Western States, with his scientific associates, to investigate their remedial productions, or such as he can make remedial. We notice he has been received with marked distinction by our leading citizens of the West, and are rejoiced to find they have shown a proper estimate of the man who has perhaps done more for the relief of human life than any other American.—[Daily Journal, Cincinnati, O.

WHAT THE NEW YORK CITY FOLKS SAY OF
DR. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE.
MANUFACTURED BY FLEMING BROS.

NEW YORK, August 25, 1852.

This is to certify that I am well acquainted with a man fifty years of age, for many years a resident of this city, who has been extremely ill, but could not tell from what cause, unless it was worms. He told his physician his suspicions, but the physician at once ridiculed the idea, and refused to attend him any longer. His son then mentioned Dr. M'Lane's Vermifuge, and asked him if he would take it; his reply was—I must take something to get relief, or die.

They at once procured a bottle of Dr. M'Lane's Celebrated Vermifuge, and he took one half at one dose. The result was, he passed upwards of three quarts of worms, cut up in every form. He got well immediately, and is now enjoying most excellent health; and, like the good Samaritan of old, is endeavoring to relieve his unfortunate neighbors. He makes it his business to hunt up and select all cases similar to his own, that may be given over by regular physicians, and induces them to try Dr. M'Lane's Vermifuge. So far he has induced more than twenty persons to take the Vermifuge, and in every case with the most happy results. He is well satisfied that Dr. M'Lane's Vermifuge, prepared by Fleming Bros. of Pittsburgh, is far superior to any other known remedy, and that if more generally known would not fail to save many valuable lives. For further particulars inquire of Mrs. Hardie, 124½ Cannon Street, New York City.

☞ Purchasers will be careful to ask for Dr. McLANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE, manufactured by FLEMING BROS., of Pittsburgh, Pa. All other Vermifuges in comparison are worthless. Dr. M'LANE'S genuine Vermifuge, also his celebrated Liver Pills, can now be had at all respectable drug stores.—None genuine without the signature of FLEMING BROS.

THE GREAT

FIRE AT NIXON & SWALES',

CITY WHARF, HAMILTON.

ANOTHER TRIUMPH FOR WILDER'S SAFE, (RICH'S IMPROVEMENT!)

HAMILTON, 13th October, 1856.

DEAR SIRS,—A very extensive fire occurred here on Friday morning last. The Storehouses on the City Wharf, occupied by Messrs. Nixon & Swales, Forwarders, were consumed. Two of your Safes were in the fire, exposed to an intense heat for a length of time, coming out as usual thorough Salamanders, as the annexed certificate will show.

Very truly yours.
A. BOOKER, JR.,
Agent.

Messrs. Stearns & Marvin,
New York.

HAMILTON, 13th October, 1856.

We certify that we were present, and did see Mr. Booker open the two Salamandar Safes (Wilder's Patent) with Rich's Improvement, referred to above.—The contents were taken out without being injured in the slightest degree. We consider the test a very severe one, and have full confidence in the Fire Proof qualities of the Safes made by Messrs. Stearns & Marvin.

A. HAMILTON, M. O'REILLY,
NIXON & SWALES, ADAM BROWN,
JOHN TURNER, WM. IRWINE.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
FOR THE RAPID CURE OF Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

BRIMFIELD, MASS., 20th Dec., 1855.
DR. J. C. AYER: I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold, is your CHERRY PECTORAL. Its constant use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints. EBEN KNIGHT, M. D.
A. B. MORTLEY, ESQ., of UTICA, N. Y., writes: "I have used your PECTORAL myself and in my family ever since you invented it, and believe it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold I should sooner pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.
SPRINGFIELD, MISS., Feb. 7, 1856.
BROTHER AYER: I will cheerfully certify your PECTORAL is the best remedy we possess for the cure of Whooping Cough, Croup, and the chest diseases of children. We of your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people.
HIRAM CONKLIN, M. D.
AMOS LEE, ESQ., MONTEREY, IA., writes, 3d Jan., 1856: "I had a tedious Influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks; took many medicines without relief; finally tried your PECTORAL by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs; less than one half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your remedies, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis.
WEST MANCHESTER, PA., Feb. 4, 1856.
SIR: Your CHERRY PECTORAL is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years. HENRY L. PARKS, Merchant.
A. A. RAMSEY, M.D., ALBION, MONROE CO., IOWA, writes, Sept. 6, 1855: "During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your CHERRY PECTORAL for giving ease and relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."
We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial.

Consumption.
Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach; but even to those the CHERRY PECTORAL affords relief and comfort.
ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK CITY, March 5, 1856
DOCTOR AYER, LOWELL: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your CHERRY PECTORAL has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dangerous symptoms of Consumption, from which no aid we could procure gave her much relief. She was steadily failing, until Dr. Strong, of this city, where we have come for advice, recommended a trial of your medicine. We bless his kindness, as we do your skill, for she has recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and calls herself well.
Yours with gratitude and regard,
ORLANDO SHELBY, OF SHELBYVILLE.
Consumptives, do not despair till you have tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is made by one of the best medical chemists in the world, and its cures all around us bespeak the high merits of its virtues.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these PILLS have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they win unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow-men.
The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing directions for their use and certificates of their cures, of the following complaints:—
Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from a foul Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels and Pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Ulcerous and Cutaneous Diseases which require an evacuant Medicine, Scrofula or King's Evil. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.
Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with some other pill they make more profit on. Ask for AYER'S PILLS, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

John Frothingham, Esq.	J. G. Mackenzie, Esq.
Alfred LaRocque, Esq.	Theodore Hart, Esq.

CHARLES F. TILSTONE,
Manager.
D. D. MACKENZIE,
Accountant and Cashier.

THIS OFFICE insures against Loss or Damage by Fire, all descriptions of Buildings, including Mills and Manufactories, and the Goods, Wares and Merchandise in the same; Ships in harbor or in dock; Craft on Navigable Rivers and Canals, and the Goods laden on the same; and Farming Stock of all descriptions.
The "Equitable" Fire Office will, by a constant analysis of its own experience from time to time, adopt such rates of Premiums as the nature of the risk may justify.
With this view, an annual investigation will be made into each class of risk, and a return of one moiety—or fifty per cent;—of the nett excess will be made to all classes of Insurers, whose Policies have been in force for three years.
The engagements of the Equitable are guaranteed by a responsible proprietary, and an ample subscribed Capital. The insured are free from the liabilities of a Mutual Insurance Society, and entitled, according to the plan of the Company, to a return of half the profits.
Losses are made good, without deduction or discount, and are adjusted and paid in Montreal, without reference to London.
☞ By a Resolution of the Court in London, PREMIUMS ARE RETAINED IN MONTREAL to pay Losses and ACCUMULATE a FUND of £10,000.
THE LOCAL DIRECTORS MEET WEEKLY.
☞ Agents have been appointed throughout Canada.

ALBION LIFE INSURANCE COMP'Y, LONDON.
ESTABLISHED A.D. 1805.

THIS COMPANY has now been in successful operation for half a century, during which period the amounts paid to the families and representatives of Policy-holders have exceeded £1,700,000.
The conditions on which Insurances are granted by the ALBION, offer important advantages to the assured; for which reference is requested to the prospectus.
The Profits are divided every Third Year, and may be made payable in Cash, or applied to the reduction of the Premium, or the increase of the sum insured, as may be chosen on effecting the insurance.
The amount returned in cash to each Policy-holder who elected that mode of appropriating his share of the profits has exceeded a fifth of the total amount of premium paid. The bonus added to the sums insured has, of course, been of much larger amount.
☞ The Prospectus, with the rates of Premium, may be had on application.

GREAT BRITAIN MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY OF LONDON.

THIS Society is established on the tried and approved principle of MUTUAL ASSURANCE. The Funds are accumulated for the exclusive benefit of the POLICY HOLDERS, under their own immediate superintendence and control. The PROFITS are DIVIDED ANNUALLY, and applied in reduction of the current Premiums.
The result of the present year's investigation into the state of the Society's affairs, at a General Meeting of the Members on 30th May last, was a reduction of 31½ per cent from the premiums payable during the year on policies of five or more years standing; an ample fund, amounting to over £113,000 having been reserved to provide for all outstanding liabilities, and maintain an equal extent of reduction at least on all similar policies in future years.
Credit given, if required, for half the amount of the first five annual premiums.

For Cobourg, Port Hope, Toronto and Hamilton, connecting at Hamilton with the GREAT WESTERN RAILWAY, for London, Chatham, Windsor, Detroit, Chicago, Milwaukie, and all Ports on Lake Michigan; and at Lewiston for Niagara Falls, Buffalo, and all Ports on Lake Erie.
Passengers taking the Evening Train of the Grand Trunk Railway, meet the Steamers at Coteau Landing, thereby avoiding Hotel expenses at Brockville over night. The Lake Steamers also connect at Brockville with the Morning Express Train, and is the only Direct Line for Kingston, Cobourg, Port Hope, Darlington and Toronto.
To Tourists this Line affords a most comfortable, pleasant and expeditious conveyance, the Steamers being fitted up with elegantly furnished Saloons and State Rooms, passing through the beautiful scenery of the Lake of the Thousand Islands and all the Rapids of the St. Lawrence by daylight. In point of speed they are unsurpassed.
To Families moving West, either to Western Canada or the Western States, this Line possesses unequalled advantages, the Steamers running direct to the Great Western Railway Depot at Hamilton, saving the annoyance of the transhipments Passengers are subjected to by other Lines. ☞ Tickets can be procured on board the Steamers, or at the Office, 40 McGill Street.

To Farmers and others.

THE Subscribers have just received a small Cargo of ROCK SALT, so useful for Cattle and Horses, which they offer to Farmers and others, in large or small quantities, at a LOW PRICE.
This Mineral production, so necessary to mankind, is universally distributed over the globe. Most animals have an instinctive relish for it; and from its frequent presence in the solids and fluids of the animal economy, it may be supposed to perform an important part in nutrition. It certainly promotes digestion, and the almost universal animal craving for it proves it to be a salutary stimulus in health; indeed, neither man nor beast can live without it. In all the countries of Europe, so necessary is Salt thought to be for animals, that it is always within their reach, whether in the stable or in the pasture. From its being in large lumps it is not very soluble, so lasts a long time when exposed to the weather. This Salt is also much used for Dairy purposes, and with certain kinds of lands is a valuable manure.
