St. Andrew's foundation truly laid

D. Lorne Lindsay president of the congregation sets the stone for the new St. Andrew's at the impressive ceremony held last Sunday afternoon. Presiding minister the Reverend D. M. Grant who officiated stands by.

Foundation stone laid in impressive ceremony

St. Andrew's Church laid the foundation for its new building on Sunday at four o'clock in the afternoon in an impressive ceremony which included clergy and guests of the congregation as well as the presiding minister the Reverend D. M. Grant, officials of the church and members.

The ceremony opened with the singing of a hymn and an opening prayer by the presiding minister after which Mr. Roswell T. James, chairman of the new building Committee, presented the trowel to the minister, Rev. D. M. Grant.

Clerk of Session Douglas O. Bremner gave a brief historical statement and Rev. J. Ralph Watson, secretary of the Montreal Presbytery read from Holy Scriptures.

The ceremony continued with an anthem sung by the choir and prayers by the Rev. Norman Slaughter, president of the Montreal and Ottawa conference, and the Rev. E. J. Munson, chairman of the Montreal Presbytery.

Mr. D. Lorne Lindsay, president of the congregation laid the foundation stone, receiving the trowel from the hands of the minister, Mr. Grant.

After a prayer of thanksgiving and intercession and the singing of the hymn "The church's one foundation", the benediction was said by the presiding minister who added an expression of gratitude from the congregation to all who had contributed to make the service a memorable occasion.

In the sealed lead box contained in the stone, were replaced all of the documents and artefacts which had been taken from the first corner stone of the original St. Andrew's which was destroyed by fire.

Many new additions went into the foundation stone box as well.

Among them sets of coinage of 1966 and 1967 and a centennial $1.00 bill which is without a serial number.

Current newspapers included the Westmount Examiner with a special issue which included accounts and pictures of the fire which destroyed the former church. A Golden Jubilee booklet of 1950 and one for the Diamond Jubilee of 1960 were also placed along with a copy of 'Old Westmount', a Centennial Guide to Principal Events in Canada, and an Official Guide to Expo.

The capsule also holds many new documents and a history of the church up to date as well as the church's St. Andrew's News' and copies of many Church periodicals and letters.

Mayor Tucker guest of 'Y'

W. D. Macdonald, chairman of the board of the YMCA chats with guest speaker Mayor Michael Tucker after the annual meeting and banquet held at the Westmount 'Y' recently.

Mayor presents challenge to YMCA in Westmount

At its 55th annual meeting and banquet, the Westmount YMCA heard Mayor Michael Tucker in his greetings from the city say that no longer do city administrators concern themselves with purely local matters. Concentration of population in urban areas have increased problems so that a new pattern for the development of services is emerging to deal with them the mayor continued.

"More and more of the time of civic administrators have to be devoted to intermunicipal and regional affairs. A start has been made in the area of mass transportation, but much remains to be done before the needs of the Montréal Region are adequately served. Control of air and water pollution is an urgent necessity but no united approach to these matters which threaten our very existence has as yet been taken. These and many other problems which extend beyond municipal and regional boundaries are demanding of attention which can no longer be delayed. Solutions will not come easily since vast expenditures of money and all levels of government are involved."

Reverting to local issues Mayor Tucker continued: "It is felt that the physical requirements of our youth have been well catered to and that it is now time that the problems of urban renewal and the housing and care of the elderly and under privileged within our community should receive priority. ... Solutions must be found which will relieve distress but at the same time give purpose to the lives of older people.

"Much has been done to relieve the physical distress of families and individuals, but a great deal remains to be done in the way of restoring a feeling of usefulness and self respect to these peoples lives.

"Here lies a challenge which is not exclusive to the city. Yours is the Young Men's Christian Association. How young is young?"

Norman W. Wood named Co-ordinator of Curriculum

Norman W. Wood

Principal Norman W. Wood of Westmount High School, who has headed the faculty since a year before the new school was built six years ago, has been appointed to the new North Island Regional Board as coordinator of curriculum for three high schools, Chomedey, Rosemount, and Lake of Two Mountains.

Mr. Wood said in a recent interview that he would do little or no teaching in his new appointment, but would work as a consultant to improve present teaching programs.

It is the intention of the newly formed Regional Board to create composite schools which will combine the curriculum of the present technical and academic high schools into one comprehensive program, Mr. Wood explained, and his job will be to do just that.

He feels that this will give students a chance to combine courses to suit personal aptitudes and thereby enrich their high school experience greatly. "At present" he stated, "for some reason a student must take Latin if he wants to study Art, and many students are forced by the rigid separations of the present program to miss courses they are well suited to."

Mr. Wood who has both his

B.Sc. from University of New Brunswick and his M.A. from Columbia, has been with the Protestant School Board of Greater Montreal since 1943. Before that he was principal of several small schools in Quebec. He has been a Special Officer with the Department of Education in Quebec, and was Supervisor for Course of Study at the School Board offices.

During his term as principal of Westmount High School he served on several committees of the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers, and is at present President of the Quebec Association of Protestant School Administrators.

Westmount High School meets new principal

On Wednesday morning retiring principal Norman W. Wood introduced his successor, H. Noel Hamilton to the student body in an informal assembly at the Westmount High School.

Mr. Hamilton, like Mr. Wood came to Quebec from New Brunswick and received both his B.A. and his M.A. degrees from Dalhousie. His first school in the Montreal area was Van Horne and later he headed the English department at West Hill High School for two years going on to the Vice-Principalship of Montreal West High School for three, and then to Sir Arthur Currie High School where he has been Principal for the past three years.

Before his recent work in this province Mr. Hamilton was the first principal appointed to the new High School at Oromocto in New Brunswick. Oromocto was built in Camp Gagetown for the children of Army personnel in the largest army camp in the British Commonwealth.

Very much interested in curriculum improvements, the new principal for Westmount has worked on many committees for this cause and is co-editor of the official poetry text for grades eight and nine for English schools in Quebec, 'Words on Wings'.

Roy McKelvie presents work of YMCA to Rotary

The challenge of 'Y' work in the social climate of today was presented by Roy McKelvie, secretary of the Westmount Y.M.C.A. to the Rotary club at their luncheon meeting yesterday.

"We are in Danger of becoming ble doing," stated Mr. McKelvie.

"Let's find a community need for what we are doing," he added.

"we are in Danger of becoming obsolete as an association." "To keep in Step" and continue to be a vital force in the community we need not become a completely new organization, but we must and are changing. Many of the services which we once were able to claim as our private domain have since become the property of many private and civic agencies.

"We don't any longer have ready-made answers for the person. But we can enter into his searching, choosing and striving, as he seeks to become what he wishes to become." Mr. McKelvie continued . . . "To do this, means we must continue to be a growing, experimenting association, sensitive to the needs of others (The community and people), ever alert to learn what will the "Y" of tomorrow look like, what kind of person will the "Y" Secretary be?"

The "Y" Secretary may be dressed in a Physical Directors uniform, a business suit or clothes appropriate to his being able to meet hard-to-reach youth on their own ground — youth that don't and won't have contact with any community organization. He may work out of a building like the traditional "Y" — a small leadership training building, housing only meeting rooms and offices or perhaps only a "brief case". The "Y" Secretary may be highly trained technician or a person trained to work closely with all groups in the community to "strengthen the overall fabric of resources in the total community".

What is certain is that the "Y" must and is desirous of again becoming much more involved in the total life of the community. We must work more closely with other community organizations to meet the problems of the TOTAL community.

Of his own work he said: "The "Y" Secretary must be an "innovator" — a creator of CHANGE; as well as a technician he must become competent in the fields of human relations training, supervision and Community organization."

We Say PERHAPS

WARMER, brighter weather following a malingering spring — in turn after an interminable winter. Our spirits should be cheered.

Our Centennial celebrations swinging across the country with Expo '67, its centrepiece, a head-swirling success in its first fabulous month. We should be gay.

The economy, jobs, business all booming, the soft spots insignificant against a broad landscape of unexcelled signs of affluence. There should be contentment.

Across the world, trouble.

Vietnam, a major but undeclared war, enjoying no clear-cut understanding of its purpose or necessity even among our good neighbors, the Americans, who wage it. Uncomprehending Canadians by and large ignore it.

Now, in another distant part of the globe, the ancient animosities of Arab and Jew flare anew. There is instant talk of instant war there, too. Through the marvels of instant communication, Canadians read, listen and view with a detached alarm, a cool apprehension born of overexposure to crisis.

If we gauge the country's mood, there is an unexpressed relief that for once Canadian men in uniform are, by circumstances, swiftly departing instead of entering a region of trouble between other men. There is a sense that Canada no longer needs to expose its guts to prove it has them.

Indeed, perhaps fate is showing us we have reached a point where we can decide for non-involvement, if that's our choice. It well may be.

It's been a week of convocation for our young people. It's the month of promise of summer after a hard winter. It's the season for holidays. It's the year of gaiety and celebration after a trying first century.

Why should we spoil it?

Selfish? Perhaps. Perhaps tending our own concerns, successes and pleasures here at home might be an example in sanity to others who would shoot each other.

Perhaps the best help we can give them is to stay away and leave them to it.

Perhaps.

You Say Credit is due

Sir, At a time when international tensions are running high, and when conventional fund raisers often meet a stony reception, I believe full credit should be given to two gentlemen who are showing a commendable example in providing harmony and happiness locally.

I am referring to Mr. Albert Lean of the Silver Slipper Club in Montreal, whose forebears come from the Lebanon, and to Mr. Harry Blank, the busy and idealistic MPP who is Jewish.

When the Jews and their Arab neighbors seem bent on tearing each of the pieces in the Middle East, these two men, in their own time, and without recompense, are making it possible for thousands of underprivileged children to visit Expo and have a wonderful time there.

Credit should also be given fully to the operators of amusement concessions, who are spending their own time and money, and talents in extending their hospitality to the tots.

These are examples worthy of emulation.

Francis Allen

Westmouter in Britain: Dangerous words

By Stephen Schofield

Three sisters, calling themselves The Cherry Sisters, performed on a stage. I say they performed on a public stage. I do not say where.

The sisters, when attractive young women, had been the toast of the stage, but most unwisely attempted a comeback,— they were no longer young.

After the performance a reporter (1) wrote the following:

"Effie is an old jade of fifty summers; Jess is a frisky filly of forty; and Addie, the flower of the family, is a capering monstrosity of thirty-five.

"Their long skinny arms, equipped with talons at the extremities, swung mechanically, and anon waved frantically at the suffering audience.

"The mouths of their rancid features opened like caverns and sounds like the wailing of damned souls issued therefrom.

"They pranced around the stage with a motion that suggested a cross between the danse du ventre and a fox trot—strange creatures with painted faces and hideous mien.

"Effie is spavined; Addie has stringhalt; and Jessie, the only one who showed her stockings, has legs with calves as classic in their outline as the curves of a broomhandle."

LIBEL

Of course the sisters sued the newspaper for libel. But the court ruled, perhaps surprisingly, that the statement was not libellous, and the court commented, "A person who gives a public performance may be freely criticized; and if a person makes himself ridiculous he may be ridiculed by those whose duty it is to inform the public.

For the following points I am indebted to Mr. Alexander Stark, a Toronto lawyer for, I believe, the Toronto Daily Star. Presumably he knows:

1. A publisher, publishes at his own peril.

2. A libel is a false (incorrect) statement about a person to his discredit.

3. Typographical errors can be costly if a person is thereby discredited. But an error in listing the price of stock, say CNR at 37 instead of 87: although this may induce a reader to lose a fortune, he cannot recover from the newspaper. No person is discredited.

4. A reporter does not protect himself by writing "it is rumored that . . ."

5. It is no excuse that the statement is copied from another paper or news agency.

6. The defence of libel is truth. The successful proof in court of the truth of a libel is always a complete defence. If you are able to produce satisfactory evidence of statements published, you have nothing to fear.

WESTMOUNTER

A friend of mine had to prove a story which inadvertently placed a well known Westmouter in a most embarrassing position. The name of my friend is Don Delaplante. And the name of the Westmouter is Hon. C.M. "Bud" Drury, MP.

Don Delaplante of North Bay, Ont., prowling around Camp Petawawa, Ont., produced a story evincing corruption in the Canadian Army. His newspaper, The (Toronto) Globe and Mail, would not print a word of it, until he documented every statement, which he did.

This instigated investigation by a firm of Montreal accountants, McDonald, Currie & Co., which attested the veracity of Delaplante's account; and for the hearing Mr. Drury was given the extremely difficult task of defeding the military department.

It must be added that Mr. Drury behaved admirably. I know because Mr. "Chubby" Power said that he "had never heard a department defended so ably." (2)

DANGEROUS

Don's words, because they were true, were dangerous to a government, but not to him. In fact the story earned him the national newspaper award for spot news.

In his little car he often carries a Christmas tree, the most effective means of getting out of the mud.

(1) The Des Moines (Iowa) Leader.

(2) Mr. Power's opinion might well be respected because I believe it was he who first recommended for politics an unknown Quebec lawyer, Louis St. Laurent, who became Prime Minister.

Paragraphs on Philately

By MARK WEINER

Tunisia has noted her EXPO participation with a most interesting stamp program, which will be enticing to many a stamp collector, as all of the stamps being issued for this occasion will be on sale in the Pavilion. On April 28th an Expo set was issued consisting of five values: 50 and 75m — showing native costumes from Ojerba and Gabes; 100 and 110m — showing a common design depicting the theme "Man and his World"; 150m—Flamingoes. On each of the stamps appears the text "EXPO 67 Montreal" and the EXPO symbol. This set is to be followed by four values, 65, 105, 120 and 200m, to be issued June 13th to coincide with Tunisia National Day at EXPO. The stamps portray a cut-away view of the Pavilion and on the right side the effigy of the President, two of the values are printed in reverse thus creating a silhouette effect. Once again the EXPO symbol appears on each stamp, and this time the text "Journée de la Tunisie — EXPO 67 Montréal." A third set to be on sale in the Pavilion will be issued July 25th consisting of three values, 25, 40 and 60m, commemorating the 10th Anniversary of the Republic. In addition to the sale of the stamps of the three foregoing sets, the cacheted First Day Covers will be sold as they become available.

Yugoslavia has a very diversified collection of stamps, from 1955 to date, on exhibit in her Pavilion and many of these are available for sale to the interested collector. The latest set on sale is the six values issued May 25th in celebration of Youth Day, this set is the VIIIth in the Flora series and depicts Yugoslav Medical Plants. Printing was by four-coloured heliogravure in the following denominations: 0.30 — Arnica; 0.50 — Flax; 0.85 — Oleander; 1.20 — Gentian; 3.00 — Sweet Bay; 5.00 — Pegan. A set of six values which will be of equal interest to the collector of EXPO stamps as well as to the collector of Space Capsules on stamps, will be issued in June, commemorating the International Exhibition "Man and his World," Montreal 1967 and the 18th Congress of Astronautics, Belgrad 1967. Values and designs are: 0.30 Sputnik I and Explorer; 0.50 — Tiros, Telstar and Molnia; 0.85 — Luna 9 and Lunar orbiter; 1.20 — Mariner 4 and Venus 3; 3.00 — Vostok and Gemini with

They Say Easily Understood

If the men behind the now-defunct CBC television program Sunday ever got together and asked each other, "Where did we go wrong?" it would be a long session indeed. "Where did we go right?" would be a simpler one to answer. The program seemed to operate on the assumption that the only viewers who counted were those under about 24 and so "with it." — Campbellton (N.B.) Tribune.

Must Check Cars

Compulsory vehicle inspection is coming in every province in Canada. Three provinces already have it, one is enforcing it, two are setting it up, and most of the rest are studying it. Twenty states in the U.S. have compulsory inspection and the results are enough to scare a sane person off the highways. Of the 3,400,000 cars checked in the U.S. last year, 500,000 failed to meet minimum safety standards. — Stanstead (Que.) Journal.

Still to Come

It has been said many times of late that the source of revenue for our schools should not come from taxes on property. In fact it has been suggested that some new form of financing the schools is in the planning . . . This should not deter school boards from planning now what and where they can effect economies or the taxpayers from becoming inquisitive and wanting to know what the boards are doing, if anything, in this direction. — Huntingdon (Que.) Gleaner.

Motorist Pays

It is becoming increasingly necessary for the community to insist that if a person wishes to own and use a vehicle, he must provide space on property which he himself owns or controls for its stationing when not in use . . . While these measures may recruit the powers of the community or the state, the cost must be borne by the individual owners of the vehicles, not by society as a whole . . . Those who seek to avoid making such provision must be punished as are those who perform any other sort of anti-social act. — Cochrane (Ont.) Northland Post.

Hanging the End

When capital punishment is the final act of a process in which untruth has led to injustice, there cannot be any real rectification. There can be but little consolation for anyone in clearing the name of a man after he has been put to death by due process of the law. Capital punishment is fully irrevocable. Once it is done it cannot be undone.—Altona (Man.) Red River Valley Echo.

Boy-bicycle team pass through test

Donald Rolfe, and his bicycle, are checked through by officers A. St-Denis and E. Hughes, of the Westmount Public Safety squad, during the safe-driving tests for young bicycle riders sponsored by the Rotary Club. The tests were held in the recreation arena last Saturday morning and included a free bicycle check-up.

Westmount Rotarians hosts to travellers

by E. C. Gannon

Westmount's Rotary Club is rapidly becoming known throughout the world judging from the number of foreign visitors attending the weekly luncheons held in Victoria Hall. Every week the roster of visiting Rotarians shows members attending from all sections of the globe as far away as Australia and India as well as important centres of Europe and even Africa.

These visiting Rotarians attend locally in order to keep up their attendance record and indicates the international scope of the world-wide organization. Expo 67 is believed responsible for the sudden influx of foreign members and the fact that Wednesday is a day of the week convenient to all.

President Frank Starr is enthusiastic in welcoming the visitors and with the exchange of international emblems from the various overseas clubs, Westmount is rapidly increasing its collection of colorful insignias. The visiting Rotarians are equally eager to accept the Westmount club's miniature banners to bring back to their home clubs. The same situation applies to visiting members from other parts of Canada. Within recent weeks as many as ten to fifteen visitors have been greeted by local members visiting from other sections of the world including Bombay, Hong Kong, Kinshasa, India and other foreign ports.

To inform visitors, Westmount Rotary have issued an attractive and picturesque card showing Victoria Hall and a map indicating its location as compared with the centre of the city of Montreal to assist visitors in finding the luncheon meeting place.

Members and visitors were treated to the showing of a splendid film issued by the National Film Board concerning Centennial Year which showed the beauty of Canada in natural colors from coast to coast entitled "Celebration." The film was thoroughly enjoyed by the out of town guests who were loud in their praise for the beauty of Canada brought to them in such a relaxing manner.

Percy Jarman reported on the condition of members on the sick list informing them of the members who were hospitalized. Allie Boire and Dave Youngson were both welcomed back after a short absence while members were asked to apply for duty at the Expo Information Booth on July 6th, and 20th; August 3rd, 17th and 31st.

ANIMALS trained by animal psychologists, a modern breed of teachers, will perform tricks in the "Children's Farm" at Expo 67. The lambs, ducks, and ponies were trained at an animal school in Hot Springs, Arkansas. The Children's Farm is located in the Man the Provider Pavilion, Expo 67's agriculture exhibit that covers seven and one-half acres.

Library reports serious reference room losses

A valuable reference work is missing from the Westmount Library. It cannot be replaced, say Library officials, since it is one of a set of English biography which contains 22 volumes and 6 supplements and is out of print.

If such a set came on the market it would cost in the environs of $200.00, and a single volume cannot normally be bought.

Number 12 of the Dictionary of National Biography, is the missing volume of the most authoritative work on this subject. It has been taken from the one section of the library which does not allow its books to leave the building.

The librarians are hoping that the selfish individual who took the book for personal use will think of the many members now unable to look up the information they want. The Library provides the means for photocopying any part of any book or periodical for a small charge.

Other essential books which have disappeared recently are the latest editions of Canadian Who's Who and the Canadian Newspaper Service's National Reference Book and Statesman's Year Book. If anyone should find any of these books, please return them to the Library, where their loss is causing great concern and distress.

The Reference Room of the Library contains many useful volumes in the area of biography. In addition to the more general works, such as the Dictionary of National Biography, there are also more specialized works, concerned with a particular field or subject area, such as music, technology, art, etc. Among the more recently acquired biographical works which can be found in the Reference Room, are the following:

Asimov, Isaac. Biographical encyclopedia of science and technology; the living stories of more than 1000 great scientists from the Age of Greece to the Space Age. (R503 A832)

McGraw-Hill modern men of science; 426 leading contemporary scientists. (R503 M147)

Cummings, Paul. A dictionary of contemporary American artists. (R709.2 C971 — Nearly 700 comprehensive entries including biographical data, exhibitions, special commissions, collections, bibliography. Illustrated with 101 photographs.)

The author's and writer's who's who. (R920 A939a5 — "essentially only living authors from the English-speaking world, or those whose works have been translated into the English language" — also includes a list of pseudonyms.)

Canadian Broadcasting Corporation. Thirty-four biographies of Canadian composers; prepared and distributed by the International Service of the C.B.C. (920 C212t — text in English and French.)

Contemporary authors; the international bio-bibliographical guide to current authors and their works.

Financial Post. Directory of directors; executives of Canada. (R920 F491 — Consists of two parts: 1) an alphabetical listing of key Canadian directors and executives resident in Canada, with their directorships, official positions, business and home addresses; and 2) an alphabetical listing of key Canadian companies with addresses and names and positions of their executive officers and directors.)

European authors, 1000-1900; a biographical dictionary of European literature. (R920 K 96e)

Lonn, George. Canadian profiles; portraits, in charcoal and prose, of contemporary Canadians of outstanding achievement. (R920 L861 vol. 1)

Segal, Ronald, ed. Political Africa; a who's who of personalities and parties. (R920 5454)

Sylvestre, Guy, ed. Canadian writers; a biographical dictionary. (R920 S985a2 — Includes a chronological table relation important dates in Canada's history with those of significant events in Canadian literature.

The stamp portrays Kobe Harbor, where the Inaugural Conference of the Association was held in 1952. The second commemorative, 15 yen, was issued May 12th to mark the 50th Anniversary of Volunteer Workers in Welfare Service, while the special stamp, also 15 yen, was issued May 22nd to mark the opening of The National Campaign of Traffic Safety. All three stamps were printed multicolored photogravure on white paper without watermark.

U Thant, Secretary-General of the United Nations, will be the guest speaker at the National Annual Banquet of the United Nations Association in Canada on Friday, 2nd June.

The Banquet, which will be the highlight of a four-day National Annual General Meeting, will take place in the Windsor Hotel, which will be followed by entertainment. The public and members of the UN Association are invited to attend.

Delegates will visit Expo on Saturday 3rd June which has been designated "United Nations Special Day". They will attend a ceremony at Place des Nations and will be received at the Pavilion of the United Nations by Commissioner General Peter Casson, who will introduce the Secretary General.

After a short address to the delegates, the Secretary-General will depart to attend an official luncheon at Helène-de-Champlain restaurant.

Educators found new Centennial Academy

Years of teaching experience and a profound study of the best methods of imparting knowledge have led two educators to found a new school which will have the important aim of graduating scholarly ladies and gentlemen.

James C. Logan M.A. and John N. Parker B.A., the founders of what will be known as the Centennial Academy say that it will operate without government assistance of any kind.

As co-chairmen of the board,

James C. Logan M.A.

Mr. Logan and Mr. Parker will therefore be free to institute the curriculum which they believe will lead to the goal they have in mind.

Principal of Academy

The principal will be Professor Arthur Monroe Henry, who holds an M.A. in education and is professor of Education and chairman of the Division of Practice Teaching at McGill University.

High Attainment Possible

The staff will be handpicked, but not the pupils because the founders contend that any young person with average intelligence can attain a high academic standard if properly guided to a love of learning for its own sake.

Nondenominational, and preaching no code except that of honorable conduct, the Academy will encourage students to develop as free individuals. It will include Grades 7 to 11, with no more than 20 to 25 in each class, and with an initial enrolment of around 125. All registrations should be received before the end of June.

Mr. Logan, is well known in the Town of Mount Royal as a teacher at the Protestant High School but his reputation as an educator extends well beyond the local field.

He has a B.A. from McGill

John N. Parker, B.A.

(where he won several scholarships) and took his M.A. at Columbia University; he also attended Bishop's University. He has a first-class high school teacher's diploma and a special certificate in the teaching of history and English, having trained under Sir

Motor League announces motorbike driver education

Starting on June 5th at The Queen Elizabeth Hotel (on the Convention floor) the Quebec Motor League will introduce a new Driver Education Course for Teenagers and for Adults.

The Teenager's Course of 27 hours Classroom Work, 6 hours of Practical Driving and an additional six hours of observation-time will be supplemented by a new Motorbike Driver Education Program. The purpose of this supplementary program is to cover a new dimension of Canada's motoring habit: the two-wheeled motorbike; and to provide the prospective motorbike operator with knowledge and training that will enable him to operate his motorbike more safely. It will follow the general format of the existing Driver Education Program, including classroom instruction, written examination and practice driving.

Two different courses are being offered for Adults. One featuring 27 hours classroom work which deals with the broader aspect of vehicle operation; and it will Fred Clark of London, England.

A versatile teacher, his specialties include mathematics and Latin. He has been a chief examiner in economics and is a lecturer in mathematics at Sir George Williams University, and teaches English and social science at its High School.

A member of the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers, he has served on several committees, and was a member of the Protestant School Board committee drawing up a course on economics for use in Montreal schools.

Mr. Logan was principal of St. Francis College, Richmond, and of the Kenogami High School before coming to Mount Royal in 1944 as a Latin specialist. He is co-owner with Mr. P. H. Baugnet of Camp Bella Coola in the Laurentians.

Mr. Parker, winner of a Robert Bruce bursary, attended McGill University, graduating in arts in 1940 with honours in history and economics. In 1952 he was granted a French specialist's certificate first class, and is fluently bilingual.

In 1957 he was appointed principal of Lorne School and is now principal of Lorne and of Riverside. He has taught evening classes at Sir George Williams University for 16 years.

In his profession, Mr. Parker has filled important positions — president of the Protestant Men Teachers Association of Greater Montreal, 1956; director of Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers, and chairman of its building committee, 1958-59; member of the Canadian College of Teachers and the Headmasters' Association of Greater Montreal.

He has naturally been very active in home and school associations and in May 1961 was elected president of the Quebec Federation being the official to present the Home and School brief to the Parent Commission in 1962. He is also a past-chairman of the finance committee of the Canadian Home and School and of the Parent-Teacher Federation.

Leading computer manufacturers in the United States are lending a number of machines to Expo 67's "Man the producer" theme pavilion to illustrate the wonders of modern science. In this pavilion visitors also see edible food made from petroleum, an automated factory, the most advanced type of appliances, and a futuristic car by Alfa Romeo.

EXPO 67's network of canals will be filled with water pumped from the Saint Lawrence River. The water in the canals will be tinted blue.

Elementary mechanics is an integral part of the course, during which modern audio-visual training aids are widely used in order to produce all possible traffic situations right in the classrooms.

For "BUSY ADULTS", the programs have been condensed into 12 hours of classroom work, and both courses offer six hours of practical driving in a dual controlled car, accompanied by a certified instructor.

Special feature of the first night at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel is the Movie Film: "HOW TO PASS A DRIVING TEST" (produced by the Quebec Motor League, to which admission is free.

'Teach us to pray'

The following prayers were taken from the service at the ceremony of the foundation stone laying held at the new St. Andrew's Church, recently.

O Lord Jesus Christ, one of the Living God, who art the brightness of the Father's glory, and the express image of His person; the one foundation, and the chief corner stone; bless what we now do in laying this stone in Thy name, and be Thou, we entreat Thee, the beginning, the increase and the consummation of this our work, which is undertaken to Thy Glory; who with the Father and the Holy Spirit livest and reignest, one God, world without end . . . Amen.

* * *

Our loving Father, Lord of Heaven and earth and of all things that are therein, we acknowledge Thy lordship. Thou hast made possible for our use the treasures of the earth — the mines, the quarries, the fields, the forests.

With deep thanksgiving we acknowledge that we cannot make anything for ourselves, that we can only take and fashion those things which Thou hast given us — with the hands and brains and strength which are also gifts from Thee.

May Thy Holy Spirit descend continually and rest upon this place that our gifts and our service may be sanctified; and that all who are involved in the construction of this place of worship may be inspired by the greatness of the task that is entrusted to from all danger, and find joy in their hearts as together they work — in teamship with each other, and through fellowship with the Carpenter of Nazareth, even Thy Son, our Master and Lord, Jesus Christ . . . AMEN.

Scripture selections will include this from Psalms: "And them remembered that God was their rock, and the high God their redeemer." Relevant citations from the denominational textbook will include: "Man as the offspring of God, as the idea of Spirit, is the immortal evidence that Spirit is harmonious and man eternal" ("Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy).

Mrs. A. H. Ransom funeral services held at residence

Funeral services were held for the late Mrs. A. H. Ransom at 11 a.m. Tuesday from her residence at 22 Windsor avenue.

Widow of the late Andrew H. Ransom, Mrs. Ransom died on May 20 at the age of 95.

A native of Masham, Quebec, Mrs. Ransom was born Clara Gagnon, she attended school at Pointe aux Trembles and at Ottawa Ladies College.

Before her marriage to Andrew H. Ransom, she taught school in Montreal. In 1966 on October 17th the couple celebrated their 66th wedding anniversary.

The late Mrs. Ransom was a member of St. Andrew's Westmount for almost 60 years and was active in church work. She was a life member of the MacGillivray Auxiliary of the Women's Missionary Society, which was her special interest. She also had a long association with the work of the Dicken's Fellowship and with the Westmount Y.M.C.A. She was a life member of the Canadian Bible Society and contributed greatly to its work. On her 90th birthday she was made a Life Member of the newly formed United Church Women.

Dear mother of Gwyneth, (Mrs. Harold Vrooman), of Hamilton, Rosmore H. Ransom, of Montreal, and the Reverend R. Malcom Ransom of Toronto, she also left eight grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Dominion-Douglas starts early service

Commencing next Sunday, Dominion-Douglas will hold a 9 o'clock Service as well as the regular Worship at 11 o'clock. This innovation is an answer to the changing conditions of our modern society and will also help people to attend church at a time other than the middle of the day.

It is hoped that visitors from out of town who will be attending EXPO and also Montrealers will avail themselves of this opportunity of attending church and still being able to have the day for other plans.

Dominion Douglas is within easy access of the Decarie Expressway at the Cote St. Luc Exit. There is ample parking for cars and buses. City Bus Routes 66 and 124 stop at the door.

This Sunday Dr. R. Douglas Smith will commence a series of sermons on The Christian Pavilion, the first being "The World God gives Us".

My Responsibility as a Canadian

A century ago, Europeans considered Canada worse than Siberia in regards to her terrain. We can now say to them: Look at us. We have blossomed into "one of the richest and most envied countries on earth." We have more than our country's wealth to be proud of. Our responsibility as Canadians involves loyalty as well as pride. Many of our fellow Canadians take a pessimistic view on Canada. They believe that there is no reason to celebrate our Canadian centennial of Confederation. They are wrong.

Canada has given us, is giving us, and will give us much to be proud of and thankful for. We can be proud of our heritage, our achievements, and our aspirations as well as the beauty of our country. Many of us are sons and daughters of immigrants who came more than a century ago. Canada has a mixed origin stemming from the French, the English Loyalists from the United States, the Scottish, and Irish. These groups bickered with each other and wanted to hang onto their own idea of themselves and did not want a union. In the beginning, Confederation was not much more than just a "political and administrative solution." The Canadians were against the melting pot, and the differences between the French and the English made things difficult. This problem between these two factors still exists today. Will the next century solve it?

I will now attempt to prove that we really do have reasons to have pride in Canada's achievements. I will discuss a very few in this essay. They can be divided into the following categories: radio and T.V., literature, painting, sports, and the theatre.

In 1927, the first "national hook-up" was used by Mackenzie King to give a message to all of Canada. In 1932, the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation was set up. In the 1960's, the C.B.C. declared that it was determined "that like radio, T.V. shall be primarily Canadian." We can now say that the Canadian broadcasting system, split as it is by the language barrier and very much influenced as it is by the United States, is still obstinately nationalistic — very much like Canada herself.

The national attitude here in Canada towards our literature is a gloomy one. Some think along these lines: Where is our great poet? When will we produce a novel that the world will think is necessary to read? When Hugh MacLennan's "The Watch that Ends the Night" or Douglas LePan's "The Deserter" were published, they were greeted with some embarrassment. Why? Is it because we are afraid of self-examination? We have many writers and poets of whom we can be proud. The library in Massey College contains about 4,000 volumes of Canadian fiction and poetry and this collection is only half-way to completion. We do have great poets and writers. Isn't it our responsibility to learn about them and then be proud of them and their achievements?

Canada's history in art is extensive as well. Canadians are beginning to achieve a new appreciation of art in Canada. We are proud to give the world the Group of Seven — consisting of MacDonald, Harris, Lismer, Varley, Johnston, Carmichael, and Jackson. They have long been heralded as the founding fathers of a new national school of art. All were interesting artists and they captured the rugged beauty of Canada's nature.

Because of its hearty climate, Canada has been called the "Sporting Nation." Canada's history in sporting goes back to the Algonquin Indians.

Canada's achievements in sports can be seen as great because there are 117 names in Canada's Sports Hall of Fame. We have produced a great boxer, Noah Brusso, who fought under the name of Tommy Burns. Did we remember him? No. It was only five years after his death that his grave was even marked. Louis Cyr — "The Giant of Canadian Supermen" — was billed as "The Strongest Man in the World" There are countless others who deserve credit for helping to make Canada "The Sporting Nation".

Theatre began in Canada with an attempt by the Théâtre du Nouveau Monde was made to create an indigenous theatre. It was also the first to survive as a company. The Théâtre du Nouveau Monde still exists today. French-language Canada is further ahead than English-language Canada, in respect to having a style particular to itself. We have given many promising playwrights among whom are Ted Allan and Arthur Murphy. Do we even realize this?

Have we any reason not to be proud of our country's achievements? Have we ever really stopped to think about just how much we have to be proud of and thankful for?

What does the next century hold for Canada? Will it be another century of progress? Will our descendants have as great achievements to celebrate in 2067 as we have to celebrate this year, 1967?

"Y" camp program

Thirty-three high school and college students spent all day Sunday, May 28th, planning a program of fun and learning for younger children. At 9:30 a.m. the staff of the Westmount YMCA Summer Fun Club and Happy Holiday Club met at the "Y" and began to work. The Camp Director, Mr. Andrew MacDonald, opened the meeting with a briefing on the day's activities. This was followed by brief program outlines given by Mr. Brian Stevens, Arts and Crafts Director, Mr. Gavin Hubley, Aquatics Director, and Mr. Arden Thurber, Athletics Director. The fact that the campers' fun and personal growth come first was stressed by all three.

The staff then broke up into groupings with the area directors and spent two hours brainstorming around the interests of campers and program ideas. The end result of these sessions will be known on June 3rd when final reports are turned in to the Camp Director.

At 2 p.m. the total group got together for a general meeting. This meeting covered how the camp was going to make the best possible use of Expo '67, other side trips such as the Granby Zoo, ideas for Special Program Days, co-ordinated by Miss Barbara Hood, and the importance of camp spirit. Mr. Kes Winwood, who is in charge of leadership development and supervision, outlined the program for the staff training weekend to be held at Camp Kanawana on June 24th, 25th, and 26th. The meeting ended with a general swim in the "Y" pool.

Sharp-McAdam

The marriage of Patricia Gail, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid J. McAdam, of Montreal West, to Mr. William Morris Sharp, son of Mr. and Mrs. William O. Sharp, on Upper Lansdowne avenue, took place recently in Wesley United Church, the Rev. J. Miller D.D., officiating. Mr. Gordon C. White played the wedding music and the University Alumni choir was in attendance. Standards of white gladioli, yellow chrysanthemums and white daisy pompons decorated the church.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was in a gown of white shantung, fashioned with an empire bodice and an A-line skirt, under a coat of crocheted lace falling into a chapel train. She wore an elbow-length veil of tulle illusion, and carried a cascade bouquet of white butterfly orchids, pale yellow Sweetheart roses, baby's breath and ivy leaves.

Miss Elaine Kennedy, as maid of honor, and Mrs. Carl E. Plet, Miss Sally M. Sharp, as attendants, were in frocks of buttercup yellow Venetian chiffon, having empire bodices of crocheted lace. They wore clusters of white shasta daisies, baby's breath and ivy leaves, and carried cascade bouquets of similar flowers.

Mr. Carl E. Plet acted as best man for Mr. Sharp, and the ushers were Mr. Brian S. Sharp, brother of the bridegroom, and Mr. Michael P. Pick, of Toronto.

Mrs. McAdam, the bride's mother, was in a sheath gown of printed chiffon, and wore matching accessories and a cluster of orchids pinned to her handbag.

Mrs. Sharp, mother of the bridegroom, wore a sheath gown of printed silk, with accessories of the same shade and a spray of cymbidium orchids pinned to her purse.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Montreal Badminton and Squash Club. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Sharp left for Eleuthera, the Bahamas, the bride travelling in an ensemble of emerald green and pink linen, with matching accessories, and carrying a single pink rose.

It is all part of the Fun-'n-Fashion show being put on by Royal Mount Kiwanis tonight at the Skyline Hotel.

Marilyn Hayes and her many models will show the latest in and out of summer fashions, there will be two dance bands, go-go girls, travel pictures, displays and door prizes.

We See and hear

Expo has been hailed as all things to all men; certainly it has become more than a mere fair, we noticed it also very popular as a meeting place for our local groups and organizations.

The Pavilion of Judaism has already been host to two Sisterhoods from Westmount, Temple Emanu-El and Shaar Hashomayim. Besides the usual annual reports and election of officers, these groups were able to feature guided tours of the pavilion as an added attraction at their annual meetings.

Coming up shortly at Expo is the International Women's Day on June 5th. Among other events on this Special Day will be three concurrent lectures beginning at 2.30 p.m. and lasting for forty minutes. Two of the three speakers will be Miss Ann Landers, of Chicago, and Mme. Francoise Giroud, of Paris. For further information and a free invitation, as the space is limited, you are asked to write to Mrs. Louise Stuart, Co-ordinator of Women's Activities, Expo '67.

Talking of Expo as a meeting-place, the Hospitality Pavilion has been host to many groups from all over the world. The National Council of Women in Canada will be there on Saturday, June 10th as hosts to representatives from their counterparts in Central and South America, the Caribbean countries and the United States. This one-day meeting begins at 10.99 a.m., with a luncheon at 1:00 p.m.

phans to Expo, Christmas parties and wheel chairs for crippled children.

Why not call your friends and join the fun party at the Skyline tonight?

Home and School elect new officers at annual meeting

At the Annual Meeting of the Westmount High School Home and School Association, held on Thursday evening, May 25th, Mr. J. W. R. Meadowcroft, President, reviewed the year's activities in his speech, pointing out that it had been a particularly eventful year, due to the ferment in education in the Province and the meetings that were held to discuss the Parent Report and the notorious Bill 25.

He described the course in Effective Reading started for pupils in Grades 10 and 11, which proved popular and successful in up-grading the students' work, and said that it is hoped the School Board would assist in making this course available for more students.

Mr. Meadowcroft went on to speak about the French Course introduced for Westmount students by Mrs. G. M. Bourke, and consisting of conversational French classes to be conducted at Roslyn School during the month of July.

He then read the Treasurer's Report, pointing out that the Association needs greater support from the parents in order to carry out an effective program.

In his speech Mr. Meadowcroft also paid tribute to Mr. Wood, the Principal of Westmount High, who is leaving to become Curriculum Supervisor for three schools in Laval, thanking him for his tremendous service to the school in his six years as Principal and to the community as well.

Roslyn School's Centennial Pageant

The settlers meet the indians during the performance of Roslyn School's Centennial Pageant presented by grades 4, 5 and 6, last Thursday evening. The production, attended by over 400 parents, was considered a spontaneous and refreshing change, containing Canadian music and dancing woven around folklore and history. A culmination of the school's Centennial activities for this term, the pageant was aimed at teaching the children more about their country.

Mr. Boyer, and the principal, Mr. Wood, were honored at the assembly and were given a standing ovation by the pupils. Alice Goodfellow, president of Mr. Boyer's homeroom class presented him with a gift. It was estimated that he has taught over three thousand students during his twenty-five years at Westmount. For the last five years he has headed the Latin department. Mr. Boyer plans to continue teaching somewhere in Ontario, possibly Toronto. Steven Simcoe gave Mrs. Lancey, who is retiring after twenty years in the English department, a present. After some rapid calculation, it was decided that she, too, had taught over three thousand students. Mr. Wood was given a round silver tray with the Westmount High School crest engraved in the centre. He has been principal of Westmount High for the last six years.

We all wish Mr. Wood, Mrs. Lancey and Mr. Boyer the best of luck in the future and hope that they will look back on their years at Westmount with fondness and pride.

After the presentation of awards, Martin Heppner swore-in the new Executive of the Students Council. He turned the Assembly over to Lynne Kassie (next year's president) and the old Executive left the stage. Lynne's first job in office was to present Martin with a gavel, and to thank him, on behalf of the whole student body, for the fine job he did during the last year.

On Friday, May 26th, the athletic awards were presented and the head prefects for the next year were introduced. The head prefects, Mary Shapiro and Peter Chodos will be assisted by Kathy Berg and Howie Lord. Mr. McEwan announced that the number of prefects will be decreased from forty-two to thirty, thus making the group even more select than in previous years.

St. Leo's sports

Tennis tourneys completed

by Andy McGillis

The sport season is fast drawing to a close but not before the senior tennis tournament is completed and with only a few matches left all should be finished by the end of this week. Results so far in the tournament show Reid Sheriffs beating Peter Herzegh; Wayne Colomb returned winner over Mike Friedrichs; Gerry Fortin disposing of Jacques Gendron and Jimmy Thomson; Peter Dickson taking the measure of Ross Sheriffs and Neil Fernandes eliminating Peter Dickson. Mike Gormley and Dalton Barhoff two members of the graduating class will add problems for coach Andy McGillis, in seeking replacement for these two senior hockey stalwarts. Dalton is headed for an American college, while Mike Gormley will be making a move to Ottawa with his family.

SPORT SHORTS:

St. Leo's and St. Paul's Academies graduation dance will be held on Friday, June 23rd in the Gold Room, Ritz Carlton Hotel. Serge Bousquet gym instructor made a fine showing with his recent gym display before a good size gathering of students and parents. A wise bit of advice to those successful in athletics; is to remember that when you let success turn your head, you only turn it in the direction of failure.

Empty those shelves of old books

By E. C. Gannon

Maury Robinson, prominent Westmount Rotarian has not given up his pet assignment of seeking discarded books even though this years Rotary Carnival has been called off. He is still calling for residents to clean out their library shelves or attics of unwanted volumes. Paperbacks or other types are all welcome and are to be sent to the Unity Boys' Club where they will be reconditioned and used to raise funds for Rotary Community work.

"We will take any amount and in any condition. At least 15,000 books are being sought and will be built up and prepared for next years Carnival" stated Mr. Robinson. "Let us all get behind this good work and this is one opportunity whereby residents can clean out their shelves and by so doing will help a good cause. Books, books and more books, that is what we want" emphasized Mr. Robinson.

Excerpts from 'Old Westmount'

A history hard to trace

The 'Old Westmount' Club of the Westmount High School, which has produced the story of our city in book form as a Centennial project so successfully, has given permission to the Examiner to reprint excerpts from the book.

Early Records

Whoever tries to trace the story of Westmount is soon ready to concur with statement which appeared in the Westmount News and Suburban Life on December 30, 1914:

"It is difficult to ascertain the nature of the activities of this flourishing municipality in its youthful days. The records are few and intermittent. There are no archives of the town's doings until 1874, when it stoutly refused to be embraced in or by Montreal."

The scarcity of records does make accuracy difficult, and yet, from the personal reminiscences, private papers, historical studies, registry files, books, paintings, photographs, and even from the houses, the streets and the soil itself, there emerge pictures which catch the imagination and invite further investigation.

Earliest Inhabitants

Those who think Westmount has only a recent history are mistaken, for it is the site of one of the oldest Indian communities north of Mexico.

On a warm day in mid-July, 1898, a gardener was digging on the grounds of the St. George Snowshoe Club. He unearthed topsoil, stones and three skeletons. Police Chief Harrison ordered that the bones be sent to the City Morgue. This was a case, however, not for detectives, but for historians. The skeletons had once belonged to three North American Indians.

This startling discovery was followed by similar ones in the same area, bounded by Argyle, Montrose, Aberdeen and the Boulevard. An observant citizen took away an Indian skull from several boys who had been kicking it back and forth in a macabre game of foot-ball. Another lucky gardener turned up a six-foot skeleton in a flower-bed on Montrose, and a second on Aberdeen.

Scholarly interest was aroused. When the next three skeletons appeared, their position was carefully noted. The bodies had been buried with the knees bent up. This burial practice indicated that no Christian influences had yet been felt. These Indians must have lived prior to white settlement.

The climax of sepulchral excitement came on September 10. The searchers came upon a grave covered with a stone like an inverted V under which lay the skeleton of a tall, young Indian, face down and knees drawn up. But stonelined graves were never used by the Indians of Hochelaga and those, who had lived along the northern shore of the St. Lawrence since 1400. Westmount, therefore, must have been settled in the late Middle Ages!

The last important discovery was made a week later under a similar heavy stone. A slender Indian girl lay among animal bones and a single white wampum bead. A noted Indian authority commented, "As white wampum was the gift of a lover, this sole ornament tells the pathetic story of early loved and death."

There is other dramatic evidence of the more recent presence of Indians in Westmount. First, some trees in the old Westmount Park ravine bore Indian pictographs. Second, the Hurtubise house on Cote St. Antoine Road was well-fortified against Indians. Trees were kept at a safe distance so that Indians could be spotted before they swooped upon the house.

James Gervin Brown of 319 Grosvenor avenue, a student in the fourth year of the Commerce course at Macdonald College of McGill University in Ste. Anne de Bellevue, will receive his Bachelor of Science degree in Agriculture at graduation ceremonies to be held on June 2nd.

William Gordon Bonn of 323 Grosvenor avenue, a student in the fourth year of the Plant Pathology course at Macdonald College of McGill University in Ste. Anne de Bellevue, will receive his Bachelor of Science degree in Agriculture at graduation ceremonies to be held on June 2nd.

Premier Johnson to speak at A.J.C.S. banquet

Guest speaker will be the Premier of Quebec, Daniel Johnson. Other participants in the program will include Samuel Bronfman, 15 Belvedere Road, honorary president; Jacob M. Lowy, current president; and Alvin Bronstein, executive director of AJCS. Monroe Abbey, Q.C., 519 Clarke Ave., will be master of ceremonies and Mr. Lowy will be dinner chairman.
