

BURGLARS AT COATCOOK.

Blow Up Safe in Gerin's Store.

HAVE FIGHT WITH CONSTABLE AND MAKE THEIR ESCAPE. Coatcook, Oct. 20.—(Special)—Burglars paid Coatcook a visit last night. They first broke into the store of A. Gerin on St. Jean Baptist street, and with a charge of dynamite blew up the safe. They only secured about three dollars in silver. About 3 a.m., they began operations at George Paige's store, but were disturbed until a revolver was thrust through the door. Constable Garçon came along and engaged the desperadoes single handed. The seized hold of one of the men but received a terrific blow in the face from another breaking some of his teeth. The constable however, did not desert until he was thrust with a six inch knife in his back which he distinguished his hold. The men made their escape and the constable hastened to his house for fire.

The three men were seen about town during the afternoon and seemed somewhat nervous for liquor. The operations at Gerin's store would indicate that they knew their business and are old hands at safe-blowing.

Chief Davidson has been notified to be on the lookout for the three burglars who paid a visit to Coatcook this morning, and wrecked the safe belonging to Mr. Gerin. The description sent by Officer Garçon is rather meagre as he could not get a very good look at the men owing to the darkness.

TROUBLE IN MOSCOW.

COLLISIONS BETWEEN STRIKERS AND SOLDIERS ARE FREQUENT.

London, Oct. 20.—The Moscow correspondent of the Standard says the strikers in one trade can hardly resume work before those on another quit. Collisions between the mob of strikers and their sympathizers, and the police and soldiers are of daily occurrence. The Cossacks are particularly brutal. Their favorite method of operation is for a dozen of them to cut out a few unfortunate victims from the crowd as cowboys separate cattle from a herd and then circling around them until they are senseless or dead. On Thursday a squadron of dragoons returned to their barracks in an exhausted condition owing to their prolonged duty. Their appearance was significant of the work they had been engaged in. One trooper had his head swathed in bandages. Two horses were riderless. The uniform of nearly every man was bloodstained and the tunics of seventeen of them resembled butchers' bibs. The affair in which the Cossacks were engaged was beyond the centre of the city. Thanks to the precaution taken to prevent rioters from approaching the better class district, the centre of the city is peaceful.

BROKEN ENGLISH.

English is said to be one of the most difficult languages in the world for a foreigner to learn. The words and phrases are particularly puzzling. A professor in an Eastern college tells of the troubles of a Frenchman with the word "to break." "Begin to understand your language better," said his friend, "to break your way, 'break your way' is to break down a wall, 'break down' is to break down a school, 'break' than usual have said, 'Oh, yes, I remember; break up school.' 'Why does she do that?' I asked, 'because her health is broken into.' 'Broken down?' Oh yes. And, indeed, 'broken down' she intends to break down her school earlier than usual. Am I right there?" "Break up her school, she must have said, 'Oh, yes, I remember; break up school.' 'Why does she do that?' I asked, 'because her health is broken into.' 'Broken down?' Oh yes. And, indeed, 'broken down' she intends to break down her school earlier than usual. Am I right there?" "Break up her school, she must have said, 'Oh, yes, I remember; break up school.' 'Why does she do that?' I asked, 'because her health is broken into.' 'Broken down?' Oh yes. And, indeed, 'broken down' she intends to break down her school earlier than usual. Am I right there?"

THE EXCEPTIONS ARE DISMISSED.

Judgment on Preliminaries In Magog River Case.

PROCEEDINGS OF PETITIONERS REGULAR—CASE WILL NOW BE PROCEEDED WITH. His Lordship Mr. Justice Lemieux, this morning, rendered judgments on the exceptions made by defendants in the action to annul the letters patent to the bed of the Magog River, being the case of Hon. Lomer Gouin vs. D. McManamy and D. O. E. Denault. The exceptions were dismissed with costs. On the 31st May last, 1905, the Crown granted defendants letters patent to that certain water lot or portion of the bed of the river Magog between the townships of Orford and Ascot in the county of Sherbrooke. On the 18th July, 1905, Hon. Lomer Gouin, under his signature granted as His Majesty's Attorney-General for the British American Land Co., to use his name in a demand to annul the said letters patent. In virtue of that permission, a writ was issued in the Superior Court, on the 27th July, 1905, in the Attorney-General's name, calling upon Messrs. McManamy and Denault to appear before this Court and answer to the demand in annulment. They appeared separately and attacked the demand by exception, alleging that: 1. That the action was not brought upon information to the Attorney-General. 2. That it was not supported by affidavit. 3. That the writ was issued without order of the Court or Judge. 4. That plaintiff's attorneys had not been authorized to act as such. 5. That the writ had been issued without a fiat from the Attorney-General. 6. That the declaration had been amended without the authorization of the Attorney-General. 7. That the Attorney-General had no power to delegate his functions. The Court considered that the demand in writing annexed to the writ was tantamount to an information, and fully met the requirements of the Code of Procedure in such cases. As to the affidavit, it was not required, and this also applied to the third objection. The demand in annulment of letters patent being subject to the rules of ordinary cases, according to 100 C.P., plaintiff's attorneys had a right to sign the documents as such, and their client, Hon. Lomer Gouin, only could take exception to it by disavowal. As to the other objections, the information did not exist, and everything was according to procedure. The preliminary exceptions are dismissed with costs. The case may now be proceeded with on its merits.

SARNIA PEOPLE SMUGGLE.

Sarnia, Ont., October 20.—Business men of Sarnia will appeal to the Government for more stringent customs inspection at the examination of President McKinley's report. They claim that they lose heavily every day by reason of Sarnia people shopping in Port Huron and smuggling the goods across the river. Mayor David Barr, who is a business man, says that a count was taken Saturday and that 2,200 Sarnia people went to Port Huron to do shopping. Women particularly are the worst smugglers, the Sarnia merchant said, and scarcely one goes to Port Huron without bringing back a parcel under fluffly skirts.

Participated In Line House Raid.

AN OFFICER MUST STAND HIS TRIAL FOR REMOVING A BOX VALUED AT ONE DOLLAR. Mr. Stowell was required to appear for trial at Mansville the same day to answer to the charge of the taking of a packing case valued at $1, which he is accused of using to pack the seized liquors in. Mr. Stowell denies the charge, and not being ready to proceed to Mansville at once, upon arrest, procured bail in the sum of $200, which was furnished by Mr. L. E. Dyer, of this village, for Mr. Stowell's appearance at Mansville on Thursday to give answer to the charge brought against him. Mr. Stowell went to Mansville on Thursday, pleaded not guilty to the charge preferred against him, and was bound over to be tried before a jury at Sweetburg, the time of the trial to be decided later. Mr. Stowell gave bonds of $200 to appear at Sweetburg, his bondsmen being Messrs. Geo. Holmes and Frank Sowles, of Mansville.

"BLACK HAND" IN O. M. R. MURDER.

SOME ARE NOW OF THIS OPINION—DETECTIVES HAVE NO CLUE.

The detectives who were working on the O.M.R. murder case seem to have given up all hope of getting a clue that will lead to the conviction of the murderer. Some now believe that the murder was committed by an Italian and that it was the work of the "Black Hand." What strengthens this supposition is that the murder was similar to others committed in the United States, and which have been credited to the Black Hand.

REPORTED RICHFORD WILL LOSE NEW FLOUR SHEDS.

Richford, Vt., Oct. 20.—(Special)—It is reported here that Richford will lose the new C.P.R. flour sheds, and all Richford hopes the report is false. Word comes from Derby, Vt., that new flour sheds will be commenced there at once by the C.P.R., 1400 x 50 feet, and one story high. It has hitherto been considered that these new flour sheds were to be built here, but now it seems that Newport and Derby are to benefit by their being built at that point.

Harper of Montreal, who left yesterday for Granby, where he imagines there will be considerable work done along those lines in the very near future.

PENSIONS AND LEGACIES FOR COWANSVILLE CITIZENS.

Cowansville, Oct. 20.—Mr. James Sayers, finding that his ledger was slow in acting in the matter of arrears of pensions due to his father, the late William Sayers, overlooked the lawyer and wrote to the War Office in England on the 17th September, and received a prompt and favorable reply on the 14th. Mr. Sayers was a ship carpenter during the Chinese rebellion of 1845, so the pension runs away back sixty years, and will amount to something like $5000. Everyone hopes "Casey" will get his money.

RUGBY FOOTBALL AT WATERLOO.

Waterloo, Oct. 20.—(Special)—A very interesting Rugby match was played here on the Academy grounds Wednesday afternoon between the Academy eleven and a picked team from the town, which resulted in a win for the Academy team of 7 to 3. All arrangements for the match had been made by the Academy eleven, which was well looked after by the executive committee. The grounds were in first-class condition, and although it was quite windy and somewhat dusty at times, otherwise the weather was perfect and quite a crowd of our townpeople turned out to see an exciting game, which was indeed interesting to the finish. The game started about 3:30 p.m., lasting about one hour. It was apparently evident from the start that the town team were heavy enough to win, but they, as a team have lost their old-time vim and the young sprinters were too spry for them, although the Rev. Mr. Davidson, Principal Morey, George W. Galbraith, Will Dalton, the left-hand base ball writer and Lawrence and Captain Fessenden did some excellent work in the field. Mr. Dalton, early in the game sprained both thumbs, which came in contact with the hard side of some party's face. It was quite evident at the commencement of the last half of the game that the weight of years and lack of training was upon the town team, and point after point was scored against them. During the latter half the Academy team did some excellent work and won almost at will. The following is a list of the players which took part in the game: Town team—Rev. J. W. Davidson, Mr. Ernest Bouchard, Mr. William Dalton, Mr. Darcy Bouchard, Mr. Elmer Booth, Mr. Henry Parmelee, Mr. Arthur S. Maguire, Mr. Gordon Harvey, Mr. Ralph Eastman, Mr. F. Phelps, Mr. Lawrence, Mr. Donald Gibbs, Mr. H. Hayes, Mr. Johnnie Jenkins. Mr. Kenneth McKenny, of this place, made an efficient referee and gave splendid satisfaction.

FORTRESS AFLOAT IN BRITISH NAVY

THE DREADNOUGHT TO EQUAL ANY THREE SHIPS ON THE SEAS—A MIGHTY VESSEL.

London, Oct. 20.—The first keel plate of the Dreadnought, which will be the most powerful battleship in the world, has been laid at Portsmouth by Miss Douglas, daughter of the commander-in-chief at Portsmouth.

The Dreadnought will be a modification of a type recently designed by Sir Philip Watts. Her displacement will be about 18,000 tons.

The Dreadnought will be armed with ten 12-inch guns of the latest type, each capable of throwing a 960 pound shell a distance of twenty miles, with a muzzle velocity of upwards of 2,500 feet a second.

What this means may be realized from the fact that the striking power of the new vessel will be as great as any three battleships of the ordinary type at such a range as that at which the engagement opened in the battle of the sea of Japan.

The long-range action during the late war taught the lesson that the main essence of a battleship is ability to strike crushing blows at a distance of five or six miles.

This Dreadnought can do, and as no other warship has hitherto mounted more than four 12-inch guns, there will be nothing afloat that can stand up against her in a sea action.

The Dreadnought will be driven by turbines at a speed of 20 knots an hour, and she will also, in spite of her great size, be able to pass through the Suez canal.

The new battleship will be strongly protected with steel armor, and in addition, to being the most powerful warship in the world, she will be built in the shortest time for it is expected that she will be launched in February.

VENERABLE STATESMAN.

SIR WILLIAM P. HOWLAND TO RE-NEW HIS OATH AS A PRIVY COUNCILLOR.

Ottawa, Oct. 20.—Mr. J. J. McGee, clerk of the Privy Council, left Wednesday for Toronto to administer the oath of a privy councillor to Sir William Pearce Howland.

Sir William, who is one of the fathers of confederation, is the oldest privy councillor in Canada, and is in the 94th year of his age, and it was a characteristic courtesy on the part of the prime minister thus to afford the venerable statesman the opportunity of qualifying to remain on the official list of the privy councillors as a member of "the King's Privy Council for Canada."

All the other members of the Queen's privy council have already taken the necessary oath of qualification.

REAL SPORT.

(From The Toledo Blade.) Driving the wolve from the door must have been as much fun to the McCurdy family as throwing twenty-dollar gold pieces at the birds.

SHOP EARLY TO-MORROW AND TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THE EARLY MORNING SPECIALS.

A Coaticook lady was sitting in a buggy before one of our stores on Main street last night. About midnight, all the worse for liquor, strolled along and stopping before the lady, one of them declared his intentions of shaking hands with her.

She, however, was not to be so easily won. She said she would not shake hands with a man who was so drunk. The man, however, was not to be so easily won. He said he would not shake hands with a woman who was so sober.

He then turned to the lady and said: "I'm minding my own business," said the lady, "You move on." The chap glanced at the raised whip and deeming discretion the better part of valor, staggered off to join his companions.

The rummage sale closes on Saturday and promises to be as great a success as former ones. The ladies in charge will be glad of any donations to be sent in immediately.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Tabor, of Portland, Me., spent Sunday last with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lovell.

Miss R. L. Parker has rented her house near the Barford Town Hall to a man named Charpentier. Her advertisement in the Daily Record was still hot, when the house was picked up.

It is high time that the Council took-up the matter of providing security to the townspeople against the freaks of small or large boys who persist in destroying property by throwing stones.

We mentioned in September how a house on Baldwin street had about twenty panes of glass riddled with stones. This time it is the windows of St. Stephen's Church. We can understand how the sound of breaking glass may amuse a boy, but it is rather expensive sport for the parties interested, and some way should be found for the winter.

We would not recommend anything of a drastic nature, but if the offenders were discovered and threatened, the evil might cease.

ONE WORRY HE HAS ESCAPED. (From The Atlanta Constitution.) In all the eighty-nine years of his busy life Uncle Russell Sage has never been worried and embittered by charges of tainted philanthropy.

"ON HIS UPPERS."

HOW did that slang phrase originate? "Wearly Willie" the tramp, usually wears worn-out shoes. But all worn-out shoes have the "uppers" (or portion above the sole), left in reasonably good condition. This is why "Wearly Willie" is said to be "on his uppers."

It is the soles of shoes that wear out too soon, and a pair of "uppers" re-soled always look "second-hand."

'Took a long time to discover a process of making sole leather that would wear as long as the uppers.

'Had to be tough as rawhide, but flexible, light, and practically water-tight.

'Quick-Oak' Sole leather is the nearest thing to it that has ever happened and it wears like hatter.

Put a piece of this "Quick-Oak" Sole leather in a pail of water over night and it will hardly be wet through in the morning.

Put almost any other sole leather in the same vessel and one hour will completely saturate it.

Consider the difference to your feet in damp weather, and to your purse all the time.

"Quick-Oak" Sole leather can be had only in "The Slater Shoe," because The Slater Shoe Company control the supply of that brand in Canada.

Every genuine "Slater Shoe" now has a "Quick-Oak" Sole, and the slate-frame trademark is stamped with the price on the lining inside, $3.50, $5.00.

A WOMAN'S PRIVILEGE.

MRS. SHEEHAN CHANGED HER MIND ALMOST TOO LATE.

Niagara Falls, Oct. 19.—Mrs. Dan Sheehan of Niagara Falls, N.Y., dependent and half insane, attempted to commit suicide by jumping over the lady cliff of the gorge. She struck a ledge a short distance down the cliff, hung on and repented of her rash decision. After she had dangled in mid-air hanging by her hands for some time, and was summoned, she was drawn up safely by the hair from Hamilton. The Sheehan family came from some years before removing to the United States side of the river.

For Pleasant Dreams.

"It's not everybody I'd put to sleep in this room," said Mrs. J. to the staid and extremely nervous young minister who was spending the night with the family. "This room is full of sacred associations to me," she went on. "My first husband died in that bed, with his head right on those very pillows, and Mr. J. died sitting right in that corner. Sometimes when I come into the room in the dark I think I can see him sitting there still. My own father died lying right on that sofa under the window. Poor pa! He was a spiritualist, and he always said he'd appear in this room again after he died, and sometimes I'm foolish enough to look for him. If you should see anything of him tonight you'd better not tell me, for it would be a sign to me that there is something in spiritualism, and I'd hate to think that. My son by my first husband fell dead with heart disease right where you stand. He was a doctor, and there's two whole skeletons in that closet that belonged to him and half a dozen skulls in that lower drawer. Well, good night and pleasant dreams."—Tit Bits.

An Astute Lion.

A young lieutenant during an African campaign came one day upon a badly crippled lion. The great brute limped over the tawny sand on three paws, holding its fourth paw in the air. And every now and then, with a kind of groan, it would pause and lick the injured paw. When the lion saw the young lieutenant it came slowly toward him. He stood his ground, rifle in hand. But the beast meant no harm. It drew close to him. It rubbed against him with soft feline purr. It extended its hurt paw. The lieutenant examined the paw and found that there was a large thorn in it. He extracted the thorn, the lion roaring with pain, and he bound up the wound with his handkerchief. Then, with every manifestation of relief and gratitude, the animal withdrew. But it remembered its benefactor. It was grateful. And in a practical way it rewarded the young man. The lion ran over the regiment's list of officers and ate all who were the lieutenant's superiors in rank. Thus, in a few weeks, the young man, thanks to the astute animal, became a colonel.

Talk Turkey.

A man who makes it his business as well as his pastime to hear every public speech he can find the other day: "Public speakers and campaign orators do not always have time or occasion to explain phrases used in 'driving home' arguments. They must necessarily depend upon their audiences to see the point through apt applications of such phrases. I have one in mind—to talk turkey." It would not always do to explain that the origin of this is as follows:

Two men, an Indian and a white man, agreed to hunt together for a day and to divide the spoils. When the time came there was no difficulty in apportioning the smaller birds and animals, one of a kind to each. At last they reached the last pair, a crow and a turkey. "Now," said the white man, with a great show of fairness, "you may have the crow, and I'll take the turkey, or I'll take the turkey and you may have the crow."

"Huh!" grunted the Indian. "Why, you no talk turkey to me?"

The railroads will get for this shipment $12,500 in freight charges. Other expenses will bring the cost up to $50,000. It is expected the shipment will be over 500 head mares, poor judge of fruit.—Chicago News.

ENGLAND EXPECTS EVERY MAN TO DO HIS DUTY.

Simple words, yet, how far-reaching has been their influence for a hundred years! On the eve of the Nelson Centennial, and to mark the anniversary of Trafalgar, the Ladies' Aid and the Young People's Association of Plymouth Congregational Church, arranged an entertainment, on patriotic lines, to honor the memory of England's greatest naval hero, admiral, and victor.

In the afternoon an old-time "quilting bee" was held, when pretty flowered comforters were made for a sale later on.

Tea was served to the workers by the President of the Ladies' Aid, Mrs. W. A. Farwell.

From six to eight a substantial and delicious supper was served in the tea room, characteristic of "New" more than of "Old" England, but thoroughly satisfactory in every sense.

The tables were prettily decorated, several having for center pieces miniature ships, reminiscent of the "Good Ship Victory," while the patriotic and naval idea was carried out in the tiny flag doyleys and the napkins folded ship-shape, and the menu card, which bore a ship's wheel and an anchor.

The menu comprised such appetizing dainties as baked beans and brown bread, doughnuts, pumpkin pies, etc., but the cider of 1805 was replaced by the fragrant coffee of a hundred years later. Candles, in silver candle-sticks, gave a soft and pretty light. The guests who thronged the tables, waited on by dainty maidens in white frocks with broad blue sailor collars. In charge of the supper-room were Mrs. J. R. Sangster, Miss Crosby, the Misses Fox, Nurse, Davidson, Hubbard, Pyles, Wing, Miller and Streeter, and Miss Hubbard, Miss Ransethman and Miss Hovey superintended the culinary department.

Shortly after eight the evening's entertainment opened in the Lecture Hall, which was decorated with much burning, mottoes, and above all with the flag that braved a thousand years the battle and the breeze.

The following programme was given with great success, and every number was highly appreciated. "Sketch of Nelson," read by Mr. W. S. Hopkins; "The Sea in England's Glory," Gordon Dinning; "On the Deep," Ernest Armitage; "The Revenge," (Templeton reading); Mr. A. M. Sangster; "Hearts made quartets," G. E. Read, and next grand final chorus, "Hail Britannia," which was joined in by all with patriotic fervor.

He has been in New Hampshire several days on his mission and has reported the discovery of gypsy moths as far north as Hampton Falls, not far from the old Whittier Home. The first evidence of the pest across the boundary line was found at Seabrook, whence the inspector moved north.

CASHED P. O. MONEY ORDERS NOT INTENDED FOR HER.—St. Johns, Oct. 20.—(Special)—A peculiar case of misrepresentation came to light Wednesday resulting in the arrest of a woman named Victoire Fontaine, of St. Johns, for obtaining money on P. O. money orders not intended for her. About three years ago a widow named Victoire Fontaine, of Iberville, sold a bateau to one Alexandre Hamel, of St. Jean des Chailions. Some time elapsed before the first payment was made, and then Hamel sent a remittance of $135.00, interest, with a letter stating what it was for, and that the balance due, $75, would be forthcoming in three payments, of $25 each. The letter was addressed to St. Johns, and was received by one Victoire Fontaine. She accordingly presented the money order for payment, but Postmaster Brossard demanded that she bring some one who knew her and who was known to him to identify her. She returned in a short time, accompanied by another woman who claimed the presenter of the money order to be the rightful Victoire Fontaine and for whom the money was intended. The money was then paid over to her. Some time after the subsequent payments fell due and were promptly received and presented for payment by the same Victoire Fontaine. Postmaster Brossard had no hesitation on these occasions to cash the orders.

The situation was finally revealed as a result of letters from the rightful Victoire Fontaine, the sender of the money. When charged with the offence, but said she had no means of restitution.

She was given a day to think it over, then arrested, and after a night in the cells produced a bank bond and made good the losses, and the case against her will not be proceeded with.

JUDGE HUTCHINSON HOLDS COURT AT STANSTEAD PLAIN.—Stanstead, Oct. 20.—(Special)—His Lordship Mr. Justice Hutchinson presided at the October term of the Circuit Court here on Wednesday. The following cases were heard and judgment rendered:

Napoleon Salls vs. Herbert Deline both of the Township of Stanstead. This was an action for $133.35, being for the value of a certain quantity of manure belonging to plaintiff, which he had purchased from Mrs. S. Eaton. The defendant came into possession of the property on which the manure was located before the same was removed, and according to plaintiff and defendant, refused to allow plaintiff to remove the same and used it himself. Defendant denied this. The evidence failed to support plaintiff's contention and the action was dismissed with costs against plaintiff.

Harry C. Jenkins, of Beebe Plain, vs. Alonzo D. Smith, of Stanstead Plain. This was an action for $29.35 damages. In the years 1901 and 1905 defendant leased a farm from plaintiff. Plaintiff claimed that defendant did not leave the farm and premises in the same condition in which he found them. This was denied by defendant who further pleaded that the defendant denied this. The evidence failed to support plaintiff's contention and the action was dismissed with costs against plaintiff.

Low in the whispering silver reeds The breeze is sighing; The nearby waterly wakes, And night is dying.

The dragon fly above the lake Her net is waving; High in the apple blossoms' list The oriole's grieving.

The myria blossoms on the mead Are sleep forgetting; The birds, with tender matin, call The world to waking.

A STRING OF BLUNDERS.—(From the Columbia Stars, Jan.)—"There has been a great mistake made," says Mr. McCurdy, "about the Mutual Life of Canada. The president of that is quite evident, and we are much mistaken if the policyholders of the Mutual Life do not let the president know that the mistake is in supposing the company's treasury to be a grab-bag for a bunch of gratters."

Suppose a man saves $50 in a year and puts it in the bank.

At the end of the year he dies. His wife has $50 for the funeral, doctor's bills and dozens of other expenses.

Suppose the man had bought a Mutual Life Policy. His widow would then have received $1,000.00 or more, according to the terms of the policy.

If you should die, would YOUR wife receive $50.00 or $1,000.00?

MOUNTAIN XIEW FISH AND GAME CLUB.

Scotstown, Oct. 20.—(Special)—The annual meeting of Mountain View Fish and Game Club was held on Wednesday evening in Roy's Hotel at Scotstown, the President, W. L. Bowman, in the chair.

The Treasurer's report showed a substantial balance on hand for the current year, after paying all expenses. This was applied to reduce the debt on the Club House.

The following officers were elected for 1906: Hon. President, Dr. Austin M. D.; President, W. F. Bowman; Vice-President, M. J. Mooney; Sec.-Treas., R. Scott; Executive Com., Messrs. F. G. Roy, J. T. Martin, Leo Roy and E. C. McKay.

JUDGE LEMIEUX MAY PRESIDE AT ST. JOHNS.—St. Johns, Que., Oct. 20.—(Special)—It is understood here that the criminal term of the King's Bench which opened at St. Johns, on Monday, will be presided over by Mr. Justice Lemieux, of Sherbrooke. Mr. Justice Paradis, who has presided, is not in very robust health, and the strain of a three weeks' term would probably be too much for him under present conditions.

MR. MONET'S APPOINTMENT AS VIEWED AT ST. JOHNS.—St. Johns, Oct. 20.—(Special)—The news of the appointment of Mr. D. Monet, to the prothonotaryship of Montreal district is received here with great satisfaction. Considerable local interest attaches to the appointment, inasmuch as Mr. Monet has been practicing his profession here for a number of years, and for the past year or so has resided here most of his time. During this time he has made many friends who will regret to see him leave St. Johns. The consensus of local opinion is that the appointment is well deserved and that from the point of view of ability, the Government could not have made a happier choice.

The president of that is quite evident, and we are much mistaken if the policyholders of the Mutual Life do not let the president know that the mistake is in supposing the company's treasury to be a grab-bag for a bunch of gratters."

Measured Up to the Mark.

The late Lord St. Heller, better known as Sir Francis Jeune, better president of the divorce and admiralty court extended over many years, was the only judge in London who cycled. His other hobby was gardening.

As president of the divorce court Sir Francis Jeune saw much of the tragedy of life. Yet when he was asked what impressed him most in his experience in that sad place he promptly replied:

"The goodness of human nature." His friends say that there was not even a tinge of cynicism in his nature. He was always in high spirits and his wit was sunny rather than caustic.

He was once reproached by a legal friend for joining prayers at the archbishop's court, where they had gone to impugn its competency in a certain case. He instantly defended himself.

"But I prayed without prejudice," he said merrily.

Sir Francis Jeune's habit of prayer was undoubtedly acquired from his father, Dr. Francis Jeune, at one time bishop of Peterborough. It lasted through life and contributed alike to the great lawyer's practical common sense and to his sympathetic insight.

Method in His Motion.—"The public is easy," said a Wall street man. "I have seen men and women hug and nurse worthless stocks as Washington White nursed his watch."

"Washington White? Oh, he is a colored man."

"One day a friend met him on an underground train. The friend sat down beside him. Washington was rocking himself to and fro in a curious way, something like a man with the colic."

"How do, Washington?" said the friend.

"How do, Calhoun?" said Washington, and he still rocked to and fro.

"The friend regarded him curiously. 'You ain't sick, Washington, be you?' he asked.

"No, indeed, Calhoun," was the reply.

"Then why in the name o' common sense, mah friend, am you rockin' yo'self to and fro this a-way all the time?"

"Washington White made no pause in his regular oscillations as he said: 'Calhoun, you know Jerome McWade? Well, he done sold me a silver watch for free dollars, and if I stop a-movin' like dis yere de watch don't go no mo'.'"—New York Tribune.

What He Wanted.—"Gimme a little polar bear," said the man in the basement restaurant to the waitress who, having brought him a glass of water, had stopped to get his order.

"Polar bear's all out," she replied, with a far away gaze that went past his head without seeing him.

"Got any 'iced watermelon?" "Yeh. Want some?"

"No, not if you've got it. How about that pickled tongue?"

"S' all right, D'ju want that?" "Not any for mine. I'm married. Well, I don't see anything here on this bill that's cold enough except hot pan-cakes and coffee. Hurry 'em along, will you? They are bound to be cold by the time I get 'em."

The waitress swept away, still without seeing the customer. He called her back.

"Here," said the customer, "that was just a joke. I want a boiled dinner. What'll you take to laugh the next time I get funny?"

"Chloroform," said the waitress as she started for the kitchen.—Chicago News.

Sympathetic Painter.—The language of hints is Greek to children, as a rule, and they interpret it after a simple fashion of their own.

"Where have you been all the morning, Dick?" inquired Mrs. Sampson of her ten-year-old son.

"I've been down by the old sawmill watching a man paint a picture," replied Dick, whose chubby countenance was decorated with paint of various colors.

"I'm afraid you must have bothered him," said Mrs. Sampson as she began to scrub her son's besmirched features.

"No'm, I didn't bother him a bit," said Dick in a moment's intermission between the applications of soap and water. "He was interested in me I could tell by the way he talked."

"What did he say?" inquired Mrs. Sampson.

"He looked at his watch," replied Dick, "and told me he knew it was most my dinner time. He knew a boy of my age must be hungry, he said, for he'd been a boy himself."

Unavoidably Detained.—Judge—You are sentenced to twenty years in state prison. Have you anything to say? Prisoner—Yes, your honor. Will you please send word to my wife not to wait dinner for me?—Elegende Blatter.

Something Lacking.—Friend—She is an ideal soprano. Manager—Well—er—she would be if her disposition were as sweet as her voice.

AT DAWN.—'Tis morn and o'er the distant vale The dawn is breaking; Within the dusky forest's dell The birds are waking.

Upon the face of purple hills A bluish is stealing; Among the thrush's Song is pealing.

Low in the whispering silver reeds The breeze is sighing; The nearby waterly wakes, And night is dying.

The dragon fly above the lake Her net is waving; High in the apple blossoms' list The oriole's grieving.

The myria blossoms on the mead Are sleep forgetting; The birds, with tender matin, call The world to waking.

A STRING OF BLUNDERS.—(From the Columbia Stars, Jan.)—"There has been a great mistake made," says Mr. McCurdy, "about the Mutual Life of Canada. The president of that is quite evident, and we are much mistaken if the policyholders of the Mutual Life do not let the president know that the mistake is in supposing the company's treasury to be a grab-bag for a bunch of gratters."

ROOSEVELT IN CONFEDERATION CAPITAL.

(Boston Transcript.) President Roosevelt's tour of the South for the purpose of promoting the unity of the sections began today, and the first speech of his missionary effort was delivered at Richmond. In the capital of the former Confederacy, he drew naturally upon the valor of the Confederate army and the earnestness of the conviction that impelled it. That portion of the address was in one sense local, but in a wider sense national, for the military qualities and the individual earnestness displayed by the soldiers of Lee were American. The great struggle in which the sections met in battle was emphatically an American war not alone from its occasion and its scene but from the moral characteristics of the combatants. The President anticipates but a little while the coming of the time when Americans without abating their conviction of the righteousness of the Union cause, will look back upon the valor and devotion of the soldiers of Grant and Lee with much the same feeling that makes Englishmen of today equally proud of the fiery charges of the Cavaliers and the steady courage of the Cromwells.

Subtlety. "If I told you that a millionaire once said I was the apple of his eye, what would you say?" "Comedian. I should say he was a poor judge of fruit."—Chicago News.

STAY AT HOME YOUNG MAN:

Sherbrooke's M. P. Speaks To Ploughmen.

COUNTY'S M.L.A. APPLYING FOR INCREASED GRANT.

At the banquet at Lennoxville, Wednesday night following the annual matches of the Sherbrooke Ploughmen's Association, prominent citizens of the county addressed the gathering of farmers and others.

Dr. Worthington, M.P., in responding to the toast of his health, congratulated the members on the success of the meeting that day. He thought that the young men ought to be encouraged to stay on the farm, and not as was the case in England, and not their leaving for the large centres. He referred also to the exodus of young men from this section to the Northwest, and stated that they could succeed as well here as in the west, and drew the attention of his hearers to an item which appeared in the Halifax Record the other day of two young men from the maritime provinces having walked all the way back from Manitoba to Sherbrooke until they received assistance to take them to their homes by rail. He referred in a humorous vein to the fact that they should continue to prize for the ploughman having the largest family, for in this respect they were far behind their French-Canadian friends, and it was essential that they should have some one to take up the work of the farm.

Dr. P. Pelletier, M.L.A., thanked the company for the hearty manner in which they had drunk his health. He had made representation to the Government for assistance to the ploughing associations in the county, for he realized the good work that was being done by them. When the grant came along he would give the different associations what each got an equal share. This was the first time he had had the pleasure of being with them, and he called the chairman to witness that he would have a cup up for competition next year.

Mr. R. Ness, Howick, was the first to reply to the toast of the judges. He gave some valuable advice to young men, as to how they should study ploughing and take lessons from their elders. As President of the Council of Agriculture, he would have a grant for ploughing associations, for that body recognized what was being done in this direction. He thought a grant could be more easily secured if the different associations were formed under one organization to be known as the County Association. He had been with them now for several years and witnessed each year progress in the good work, which he would not fail to report to the Council of Agriculture.

Mr. William Bell said that the work which they had judged was first-class, and in some instances it was difficult to arrive at a definite conclusion.

Mr. Alex. Ames replied to the toast of the president and directors of the E.T.A.A., and said that speaking for the directors and himself, they were pleased to offer a cup for competition because their society was dependent upon good farming to produce the stock and produce for exhibition. He also spoke in favor of the Belvidere and Sherbrooke Societies amalgamating. It would, he thought, be productive of a greater incentive for good work.

"Our Sister Societies" was responded to by Mr. James Ellis, President of the Belvidere Ploughmen's Association. He favored amalgamation, and thought as his society was a limit that it would join with the Sherbrooke Ploughmen's Association. The other toasts were Mayor Smith, of Lennoxville; the President, Mr. Morris, and Mr. C. S. White, the Secretary, all of whom spoke in fitting terms.

Fire Damp.

"Fire damp" and "after damp" words brought into terrible prominence in many disasters in mines, presages the older English sense of "damp"—vapour, and especially noxious. Precipitation where the word came from philology does not know, but the earliest instance of its use is quoted by Dr. Murray's dictionary as Caxton's (1480)—"after the dragon shall come a goot, and ther shall come out of his nostril a damp that shall broken hunger and grete deeth of people." Bacon is one of the writers of his time who speak of the "damp" of mines. "Damp" gradually came to be applied to visible vapors, such as evening mists, and the transition to the sense of moisture is obvious. But in "damping down" a furnace one finds a relic of the verb "damp" in the sense of "suffocate."

Muscle as Medicine.

Place the tips of the first, second and third fingers of your right hand on the artery that runs along the main bone of your left arm (where the doctor usually feels your pulse) and sing a tune the time of which is the same as the rhythm of your pulse (the last time I tried this on myself the first four or five pulsations I felt instantly suggested "March On, Christian Soldier"); then change abruptly to a slow tune—say, "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," rendered adante religioso—and, lastly, burst out into the liveliest "Yankee Doodle" you can sing, and if you carefully observe your pulse at the end of each performance you will notice that the action of your heart has been affected in every case by the tempo of the music you have sung.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

CHURCH BLOWN UP.

Pittsburg, Oct. 18.—The first Presbyterian Church, at McKee's Rock, a west-end suburb, was blown up by natural gas about noon, Monday, and the entire building demolished. The explosion is said to have been the result of a leak in the basement of the building, which was sought by the janitor by a lighted candle. David Lender, the janitor, was badly burned by the flash of flame, and was caught under the crumbling walls, but was not fatally hurt. The loss was about $5,000.
