N. KOREANS SPURN SURRENDER ORDER

World News In Brief

Tokyo, Oct. 11.—(AP)—U.S. Intelligence officers said today communist troops forced 49 South Koreans to dig graves and then shot and sabred them because they refused to fight against Americans.

Capt. Jack P. Lansford said 38 bodies were found in two mass graves. The story of the massacre was told by Kim Mun Kwon, a wounded survivor.

Los Angeles, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Fifty thousand strong, the American Legion paraded yesterday through downtown streets before a cheering, shirt-sleeved crowd that jammed sidewalks five and six deep. There were Legion delegations from Canada, Italy, the Philippines, Hawaii, France, Panama, Puerto Rico and a gaily-kilted group from Scotland.

Tokyo, Oct. 11.—(Reuters)—British and Australian troops today were racing United States forces toward Pyongyang, capital of North Korea.

The British brigade was reported nine miles north of the 38th parallel—erstwhile boundary between North and South Korea—on the flank of the main United States 1st Cavalry division thrust northward.

Paris, Oct. 11.—(Reuters)—Maurice Thorez, secretary-general of the French communist party, is ill, the communist party organ Humanite announced today. The newspaper said "our dear comrade has been ordered to stop work for some days."

Tokyo, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur today turned down "with regrets" a request by Tokyo correspondents of major world press associations to go with him to his Pacific conference with President Truman this week-end. An aide said the General turned down the joint application because a White House correspondent going with the President would provide ample news coverage.

Taipei, Oct. 11.—(AP)—News-papers today quoted an unidentified arrival from Shanghai as saying 10,000 persons have been arrested there by Chinese communists since Sept. 15.

The traveller said Shanghai's famous Ward Road jail, one of the largest in the world, is jammed with 4,000 prisoners.

Following the victories of the United Nations forces in Korea, the traveller said, anti-communists in Shanghai took heart. The wholesale arrests followed.

Hastings, England, Oct. 11.—(AP)—For the second year in succession, the postman today brought Mrs. Matilda Coppins birthday greetings from the King and Queen.

The reason: She is 108 years old and is believed to be the United Kingdom's oldest woman.

U.S. Divisional Commander Says, However, Defeat Of Reds Only Matter Of Time

Politics In Britain Are Deadlocked

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer
London, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Unless something spectacular emerges from the forthcoming Conservative conference, few observers will be able to resist the impression that a sense of stalemate still dominates British politics.

Technically, the split is real enough. A recent poll showed that public opinion is at least as evenly divided between the two big parties as it was before last February's general election. Any new appeal, which current guesses say may come next February, seems sure to be a toss-up.

Whether or not the ruling Labor party surrenders its present narrow majority, the victor's margin almost certainly will be too small to permit aggressive, controversial policies by the party in office.

The same sense of drift seems to overhang the major parties. Reports of last week's Labor party conference in Margate were virtually unanimous in agreeing that the proceedings were somewhat stale and negative. Labor, it would be fair to assume from these accounts, seems to be running out of steam.

In this 50th-anniversary year of its beginning as a political party, socialism for the first time is shorn of plans and slogans. Its stand on public ownership is reduced to the formula that certain industries are "in the field of eligibility" for nationalization if a re-elected Labor government should so decide.

"Whether the (policy) document leads to agreed socialist action, health minister Aneurin Bevan told the conference, "depends not upon the language of the document itself but upon the vitality of the socialist movement in Britain."

In other words, the Liberal Manchester Guardian commented, Labor "now feels it unsafe to define its objectives with precision." And the Sunday Times, strongly opposed to socialism, said "the Labor movement holds together for fear of falling apart."

If Labor really has reached a standstill, as most critics seem to think, the Conservatives aren't much better off. Try as they might, they cannot seem to find an issue which will arouse public opinion sufficiently to break the deadlock between the parties. In a recent by-election, the Conservative candidate complained that nationalization of iron and steel—perhaps the most pressing domestic issue now—does not stir the mass mind.

A possible conclusion is that the "middle" voter, numbed by 11 years of anything but specious living, confused by international issues which seem too big for any individual and conscious that utopia is always just around the corner, has given up getting excited about anything.

Three Allied Forces Are Pressing Forward In Direction Of Pyongyang, North Korean Capital.

By RELMAN MORIN
Tokyo, Oct. 11.—(AP)—North Koreans fought bitter no-surrender actions today against three allied forces striking toward the communist capital, Pyongyang.

The highest-ranking American on the fighting front, Maj. Gen. Hobart R. Gay of the 1st Cavalry division, said the communist forces are doomed and the taking of Pyongyang is only a matter of time.

"These cookies are beaten," Gay told war correspondents at Cavalry headquarters.

The allied forward groups comprising four South Korean divisions and most of the U. S. 1st Cavalry were inside Red Korea less than 100 miles from Pyongyang. They were driving on the capital from the south, southeast and east.

Communist Premier Kim Il Sung told the 10,000,000 people of North Korea in a broadcast message that they must not surrender.

"Our motherland is face to face with a grave crisis," Kim said, ordering his shattered troops to "fight until the final day of victory . . . overcoming all difficulties."

Kim's message was obviously an answer to Gen. MacArthur's second and "last time" surrender ultimatum of last Sunday, but the Premier did not mention it.

On the allied side, President Truman was scheduled to leave Washington late Wednesday for a week-end conference with MacArthur in the Pacific somewhere west of Hawaii—on an island or a warship. The place was not specified.

The President told a press conference Tuesday in Washington he would discuss what actions are needed in the final phase of the Korean war to assure "a unified, independent and democratic Korea."

As the momentous talks drew near, this was the front-line situation in communist Korea: On the east, two South Korean divisions were mopping up small holdout forces in the strategic east coast industrial port of Wonsan, 95 airline miles east of Pyongyang.

Southeast of Pyongyang about 100 miles, two other republican divisions were driving ahead on a 30-mile front. The South Korean 6th division captured Kumhwa, a major road centre, and drove several miles northwest.

West of this force, the U.S. cavalry drove several miles inside Red Korea on the closest approach to Pyongyang. Spearheads were within 80 miles of the capital but were meeting strong resistance. Other Cavalry columns fanned out to the east and west, seeking out holes in the Reds' border defence.

The broadcast of Kim's message, heard in Tokyo, again contended that South Koreans invaded communist North Korea June 25—the day the Reds invaded South Korea.

The U.N. decision to go into North Korea, he said, was "reached unilaterally (one-sidedly) . . . without allowing the participation of representatives of the Korean people."

South Koreans quickly denounced Kim's decision to continue the fight.

The vice-minister of defence at Seoul, Chang Kyung Keun, said: "It is a pity that Kim Il Sung cannot accept Gen. MacArthur's surrender terms because Russia would not allow him to do so."

"The North Korean communists are not fighting for Korea but for Russia," And national assemblyman Lee Chong Hyun said: "Let Kim Il Sung himself fight and die!"

Truman made it clear in announcing his plan to meet with MacArthur that the United States' only interest in Korea is to help create a peaceful and democratic state.

"We should like to get our armed forces out and back to their other duties at the earliest possible moment . . ."

Gay told correspondents that the opening phase of the U.N. drive into North Korea was satisfactory. He estimated the communist strike could throw as many as 25,000 troops into the fight for their homeland.

This is the remnant of the 150,000-man force faced with Chinese communist-trained and battle-hardened divisions they were able to muster for the invasion of South Korea.

Special Truck Will Process Human Blood

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor
Schenectady, N.Y., Oct. 11.—(AP)—A 32-foot refrigerated truck that will process human blood for medical uses was given its first showing today at the National Academy of Sciences meeting, held at the General Electric Company's new research laboratory.

The truck is the beginning of a new national blood program for the United States. It will be driven directly to donor's homes. In it, their fresh blood will be processed by new automatic machines that extract every vital substance. Only salt water is left when the robots finish. This water is nearly three-fourths of your blood.

The truck was demonstrated by Dr. Edwin J. Cohn, director of the Harvard University laboratory of physical chemistry, and a group of scientists who made the blood-separation discoveries.

Red Cross "blood mobiles" will travel with the truck, taking donor blood and five new whirling machines, known as centrifuges. The fresh blood first will have its red cells separated by a new process. The red cells will be preserved by new methods and will be given free to doctors for the many medical uses already made of red cells, and for research.

Next the white cells—your protection against infectious disease—will be separated. This is the first time that live white blood cells have been available in quantity. What they will be tried as medicine, and probably for replacing the white blood cells whose destruction is one cause of death from atomic bombs.

Next will come separation of

Special Force May Not Sail But Sailing Date Is Set

By DOUGLAS HOW
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Ottawa, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Arrangements have been made with the United States to ship Canada's special force across the Pacific, and even the sailing dates have been tentatively set for next month.

But the current feeling in Cabinet circles is that the force won't be going to Korea, at least not all of it.

The Cabinet meets tomorrow to have another look at a paradoxical situation fast approaching a head, but there is no sign that it will make any new decision about the destination of the force's 10,000 men.

Delay arises from continued fighting in North Korea—which could end any day—and the fact that the United Nations haven't yet informed Ottawa whether or not Canadian troops will be needed for an occupation role. In the meantime, the plan to send them to Korea stands.

The feeling here is that the U.N. will want at least a token Canadian force in the occupation for political reasons. Informed quarters say key Cabinet ministers now feel the whole force won't be going to

Western Allies Seek Military Power For U.N. Despite Russian Opposition

Plowmen Vie For Major Trophies

Alliston, Ont., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Major competition in the 37th international plowing match gets under way today with a number of British and United States plowmen vying with Canadian champions.

Today's international card includes nine open classes in stubble plowing with jointer plows, both horse and tractor.

The competition, sponsored by the Ontario Plowmen's Association, continues until Friday at the near-by Nottawasaga Valley farms. Events offering top prizes for Ontario plowmen—free trips to the United States and the United Kingdom—will be held tomorrow and Friday.

For a while yesterday it appeared that rainy weather might force postponement of the matches, but the intermittent rain turned out to be a blessing for the plowmen, damping down the sandy soil to the right consistency for good, clean furrows.

Some 6,000 spectators were on hand to view yesterday's special "local county" competitions. Eligible were competitors of any age or sex from the counties of Dufferin, Grey, Ontario, Simcoe and York, with winners advancing into international divisions.

Len Job, this year's Alberta champion, is here from Edmonton and has entered matches for each of the three days of international competition. Former British and Irish champions living in Canada now also are in evidence.

Among the first to appear was a former Irish champion, Pat Minnock, now 27, who won the championship at the age of 21. John Lindsay Brown is an Irishman of another color, three-time champion of Ulster, whose cups Lake Success, N.Y., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Undeterred by Russian opposition, the western allies redoubled their efforts today to give the United Nations General Assembly military power to repel aggression whenever the Security Council is deadlocked by Soviet veto.

Although disappointed that Soviet foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky's promised "partial support" turned out to be almost complete opposition, they planned strategy for an early vote. The expected adoption would mean the U.N. could never be caught short again by an emergency such as the Korean war.

They wrote off Russian obstruction as no more than they had expected. U.S. delegate John Foster Dulles, who is guiding the resolution through the U.N., said: "The important thing is to have armed units in readiness to act promptly to repel aggression. That Vishinsky rejects. This will disappoint all people who want positive action to strengthen the United Nations for peace."

Vishinsky based his objection to this point—and to most of the rest of the resolution—on the claim that it would undermine the authority of the Security Council, which he called "the foundation stone of the United Nations."

Only the Security Council, he said in the course of a 92-minute speech, has the power under the U.N. charter to control armed forces.

Almost half of the speech was devoted to a ringing defence of the Soviet use of the veto in the Council.

Maintaining that the Council is controlled by "an Anglo-American bloc," he declared that the veto "is a method of self-defence against a 'dictat' which other states, considering themselves all-powerful and glorious, attempt to foist on others."

Attempts of this bloc to impose its will on the rest of the U.N., he said, and not the Soviet veto, was the reason the Security Council was often impeded in exercising its functions.

Vishinsky went on to demand that the seven powers sponsoring the anti-aggression resolution—Canada, Britain, the United States, France, Uruguay, the Philippines and Turkey—admit openly that its real purpose is "to liquidate the veto."

An overwhelming majority of the U.N. favors the resolution, first made public by State Secretary Dean Acheson Sept. 20. They are not believed to have been swayed by Vishinsky's speech.

King's Filly Wins Big Race

Newmarket, England, Oct. 11.—(Reuters)—The King's three-year-old filly Above-Aboard today won the Cesarewitch Handicap over a 2 1/4-mile course.

Ridden by E. Smith—who captured the race last year aboard Strathespey—she strode to the front two furlongs from home and outlasted a strong stretch challenge from Lord Astor's French Squadron, mount of champion jockey Gordon Richards.

Above-Aboard, shouldering 108 pounds, started at 18-1 in the 38-horse field and French Squadron—winning 118 pounds—at 100-8.

Mrs. E. Williams' Harlech, ridden by Charlie Elliott, was third at 22-1, also carrying 118. The favorite, Mrs. J. Lambert's 10-1 shot, Special, was unplac-

"Give Enough" Is Slogan Of Red Feather

First returns in the current Community Chest campaign have been received and although it is too early to establish a trend indications are that the public is responding wholeheartedly to the Red Feather appeal to "Give Enough."

Some of the earliest returns from individual subscribers were 50 per cent higher than the amount given by these same persons when the last Community Chest appeal was made.

That was 18 months ago and as the current campaign must cover an 18-month period a 50 per cent increase in previous donations is the minimum that is required if the objective of $45,596 is to be met.

Canvassers are concentrating during the first two weeks of the three-week campaign on the individual subscribers. The commercial and industrial concerns will be approached in the last week of the drive.

Seven local organizations will benefit from the Red Feather drive. These are the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A., Sherbrooke Library, Lennoxville Library, Boy Scouts, St. John Ambulance Association and the Salvation Army.

This is the only campaign staged by any of these organizations and it is the first appeal for funds for them that has been made since February, 1949.

The objective set is the minimum sum with which the organizations can carry out their work and if it is not met there will have to be some retrenchment of activities.

MacArthur, Truman Talks Will Cover Wide Field

By RUSSELL BRINES
Tokyo, Oct. 11.—(AP)—President Truman's forthcoming meeting with Gen. MacArthur is seen here as the prelude to a final clean-up in North Korea—and perhaps the birth of a broader and stronger American policy in the Far East.

This was the general interpretation placed today on the announcement of the forthcoming meeting this week-end somewhere in the Pacific. MacArthur's top assistants, however, declined comment.

In his first meeting with Truman, the U.S. commander in the Far East is expected to re-emphasize his long-standing views on the seriousness of the communist threat in Asia.

Communist pressure has intensified in Indo-China, which top military men here long have regarded a critical area. Communist heat is apparent also in other parts of Asia—an important target of the Kremlin, in the view of these commanders.

Announcement of the projected meeting recalled the 1944 conference of President Roosevelt, MacArthur and Admiral Chester Nimitz in Hawaii, when the final strategy of the Pacific war against Japan was decided.

The "final phase" of the Korean war, which the White House said will be discussed, appears clear.

Gold Subsidy Will Continue To Be Paid

Ottawa, Oct. 11.—(AP)—A government subsidy to encourage accelerated production of gold in Canada will continue to be paid in 1951, it is learned in informal quarters. The form and amount of the subsidy have not been disclosed, but it is indicated that there will be "little change" from the subsidy currently in effect.

A government announcement is expected shortly, and with it a statement indicating a steady increase in gold production in Canada during the three years in which the government assistance plan has been in effect.

It is indicated on a preliminary basis that gold production in Canada has climbed from 3,500,000 ounces in 1946, the year in which the subsidy was first introduced, to 4,100,000 in 1949 and an expected 4,600,000 ounces this year.

More than 86 per cent of that gold was produced by gold-mining companies receiving government assistance.

The subsidy is paid to those companies obtaining 70 per cent or more of their revenue from the production of gold. Some 111 mines have participated in the payments scheme, and it is indicated that these mines produced 3,143,825 ounces in 1948, 3,673,971 in 1949 and an expected 4,050,000 ounces this year.

It is indicated, too, that the assistance payments, which totalled $10,500,000 in 1948 and $13,000,000 in 1949, this year are expected to decline to about $9,200,000, principally because of the fact that payments were cut when Canada devalued the dollar in September, 1949.

Even though Finance Minister Abbott announced Sept. 30th—when the dollar was freed—that the gold subsidy would be fully restored, the net effect, this year, is

Rail Wage Talks Are Stalemated

Montreal, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The Federal government has been informed by Canada's major railways that no agreement has been reached in wage negotiations under discussion since Oct. 4, it was understood here last night.

Earlier yesterday it was learned authoritatively in Ottawa that the wage-hour dispute between the railways and unions representing rail workers may go within a few days to a government-appointed arbitrator.

This was borne out unofficially here last night. Sources close to the railways indicated that the government had been advised by letter that as both negotiations and agreement upon an arbitrator had failed, it was assumed that an arbitrator would be appointed by Parliament for under a law passed in 1947.

The Prime Minister's office, the Federal labor department and the Federal Cabinet office said last night they had not received any notification from the railways of the break-down of negotiations. It was understood in Montreal, however, that the notification had been mailed the government yesterday and would be in Ottawa today.

French Troops Prepare For Long Fight In Indo-China

By KENNETH LUKES
Hanoi, Indo-China, Oct. 10.—(Delayed) (AP)—The French army is feverishly pushing work on a web of permanent fortifications to hold 500 square miles of newly-conquered territory north of Hanoi.

In a 12-day offensive just ended, six battalions—about 4,200 men—cut a swath through a triangular region of flat ricefields 40 miles north of this chief city of North Indo-China.

(This action was south of the Cao Bang-Thakhe border region where five French battalions were almost completely wiped out during the week-end by communist-led Viet Minh guerrillas.)

Viet Minh forces dug pits and wide gaps in the road to block the French advance, and succeeded in making the route impassable for rolling equipment. The French had to make long hauls to replace the filler material.

Heavy mobile guards with automatic weapons and 40-millimetre guns were used to protect the construction gangs. About 1,000 villagers voluntarily helped, hauling dirt in straw baskets to fill the holes in the road.

Army construction units have started to build 30 medieval-type brick fortresses in the new territory. Five of the main positions are along the roadside. The others are four and five miles back from the road, located to cover each flank.

Peasants who fled and hid in the face of advancing French columns last week now have started to return to villages and are reappearing in the fields.

What appeared to be a deserted countryside a week ago has suddenly come to life in the last two days. There is no cheering for the French. No French flags are shown. There is no display of emotion one way or another by the Viet Namese.

The French army today circulated leaflets telling the populace of the capture of Thai Nguyen and of the French intention to occupy it permanently and protect the local people.

For the first time a foreign correspondent was allowed in the advance area in North Indo-China during a French offensive. The operation was typical of a series during the last year that has driven the main military force of Ho Chi Minh's guerrillas from the ricefields to mountain strongholds.

Successful as it was, its importance is limited because the new territory will be as difficult to hold against the elusive hit-and-run guerrillas as it was to take. No real dent was made in Ho's forces.

'FIFTY MOST FAN-MAILED STARS' LISTS ONLY FOUR OSCARS WINNERS
Hollywood — A trade paper's survey of the 50 stars who have received the most fan mail during the past six years overlooked an important point. Only four Oscar winners were on the list—Crosby, Gable, Jimmy Stewart and Spencer Tracy.

Here's the prize Hollywood quip:

It's ARMITAGE'S BAR-B-Q & STEAK HOUSE (Montreal Rd.) for FRIED CLAMS!

of the year:
Four-year-old Nora, daughter of always-traveling Bob Hope, walked into the office of the comedian's secretary the other morning and proudly announced: "Daddy slept at HOME last night."

Larry Parks had Jolson and Glenn Ford will have Ben Hogan. It's Glenn as Hogan in the golfer's film biography, "Follow the Sun," but Ben will be in there swinging for the long shots on the tees and the extreme closeups of his putting on the greens... Linda Darnell's escape from lah-de-gah glamour roles continues in "The Scarlet Empress." She plays a cripple, with a limp. Hedy Lamarr's lost "fools" reminded a Hollywood pal that she kept them hidden in a cigar box at her Beverly Hills home.

Actress Geene Courtney was told by an English actor that British Oscars are heavier than the Hollywood variety.

"Hamm," said Geene, "you people probably have more of our gold to spare than we have."

Ty Power and Linda Christian are trying to talk Darryl Zanuck into co-starring them in a movie. Two comedies are in the mill for Greer Garson at MGM. One will be a San Francisco period piece... Funny gimmick to "Father of the Bride." The baby slated for Liz Taylor winds up in a constant feud with Grandpa Spencer Tracy—bawling every time he sees him. Liz, by the way, has been seeing dermatologist about a serious skin condition.

Stop, Look—Why Listen?
Ava Gardner will be Julie in MGM's "Show Boat" but there's no definite word on whether she will do her own singing. Lena Horne's voice was dubbed in for the test that won Ava the part. Maybe the studio will try to get by with Ava's own pipes. But as Howard Keel observes, "Who's going to listen to Ava when they can look at her?"

Pia Lindstrom, Ingrid Bergman's teen-aged daughter, is now in junior high school. Inside word is that she was told about the Rossellini bambino this summer by her father and that the story hasn't altered the youngster's happy frame of mind.

There are nightly posies from George Raft in warbler Julie Wilson's dressing room, but the elephantine baskets of flowers are from a prominent California politician... Shirley Temple's almost-for-sure next husband, Charles Black, may be putting out feelers on a television acting career for himself. The adorer Shirley met in Hawaii put one over on the Hollywood mob by appearing as a nameless participant on Leonard Kingdon's "Classified Ads" video show.

Patricia Neal is about to get booming guns as Warner's golden girl candidate for top stardom. She draws the starring role in the studio's re-make of Edna Ferber's "So Big." Colleen Moore and Barbara Stanwyck played the role Ogden Glass, a former Bishop's College School student himself and now the school's new headmaster, is shown in the upper picture during the Thanksgiving week-end prize-giving exercises. The lower picture shows J. T. I. Porteous, of Montreal, being presented with one of the six major awards which he received. Making the presentation is Brigadier D. R. in past versions of the novel... Discount the talk of an any-day-now wedding for Virginia Field and Willard Parker. The estranged wife of the actor isn't in any hurry to go to the divorce court.

Very Logical
J. Scott Smart, who tips the scales at 260, will do a balloon version of Van Johnson in "The Fat Man." Smart almost hit movie fame as Jack Smart when he was under contract to old Universal in 1936.

"I played the stage doorman in '100 Men and a Girl' and I got a round of applause at the sneak preview. The next day my scenes were cut out. One of the executive's wives said that the audience applauded because they didn't like me."

Corinne Calvet is playing Danny Kaye's French sweetie in "On the Riviera" at Fox.

"Verree sexy," she said. "Every morning I get up, get dressed and go to the studio. The wardrobe girls undress me and zen I go to work."

The French pastry still has her troubles with English. She greeted a male friend with, "You look very diaper." The word, he assured the blushing Corinne, was "dapper."

RICHMOND
The Canadian Legion Branch, No. 15, of Richmond, Que., will sponsor a blood bank on Oct. 21st, from 3 p.m. to 8 p.m. It will not be necessary to have a special diet before attending the clinic.

LYSANDER
Mrs. Philip Cox, of Quebec, and her sister, Mrs. Keenan, of La Toque, were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan McCrea, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard McHarg, of Theford Mines, were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Campbell and family. Other guests at the same home were Mr. and Mrs. Alger White, Miss Winnifred White, Master Sidney White and Miss Ethel McCrea.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Patterson and two sons, Francis and Donald, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Patterson. Mrs. H. Patterson motored to Danville with her son to spend an indefinite time.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan McCrea, Mr. Walter McCrea and Miss Ethel McCrea motored to St. Isidore, on way to visit Mr. Croteau's family, who had their house destroyed by fire last week. One little girl died in the flames. Mr. Bert Croteau, a brother of the McCrea girls, has taught the school for two years and resided at the McCrea home.

The Misses Florence, Pearl, Ethel and Ella Patterson, of Richmond, were week-end guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Patterson. Misses Florence and Ethel remained for a week, while Mrs. Patterson is visiting in Danville and Sherbrooke.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan McCrea and family were evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Campbell and family.

Mr. Walter McCrea, Miss Ethel McCrea and Miss Cora Campbell were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Egan and family.

The government bulldozer is in this vicinity now removing stones, etc., for the farmers.

EATON
Messrs. C. H. Picard and Alex Glen motored to Montreal, and were accompanied home by Mrs. Picard, Mrs. Glen and children, who had been visiting Mrs. Picard's sister, Mrs. J. D. Grimes, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Fuller, of Colebrook, N.H., Miss Velma Carson and Mr. S. Taylor, of Sawyerville, were calling on Mr. and Mrs. Picard.

WATERVILLE
Week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Burton were her cousin, Mrs. W. Golder, Mr. Golder and their four sons and little daughter, Betsy, of Gauntton, Mass.

Local Rotary Club Wins Praise From District Governor Cederholm

Rotary District Governor Ed Cederholm, of Tilton, N.H., paying his official visit to the local club last night, had words of praise for the manner in which the Sherbrooke Rotarians uphold the traditions and ideals of Rotary.

"I have nothing but compliments for the 100 per cent and over support which you give to the Rotary Foundation, for your attendance at assemblies and international conventions, for the excellence of your bulletin and promptness of your secretary and for the great contribution you are making to your own particular community," he said.

Referring to the convention of Rotary International held in Detroit some time ago, Governor Cederholm said he was particularly pleased with the splendid reports received of the vocational service session conducted there by Sherbrooke's Past President Douglas Stevenson.

He touched briefly on the contacts established at such conventions and gave an outline of the recent International Assembly in Chicago held for 201 incoming Governors. Headquarters for this Assembly are at the Edgewater Beach Hotel on the shores of Lake Michigan and delegates are addressed by the president of Rotary International as well as several other outstanding Rotarians.

The Governor mentioned the fellowship as well as the knowledge to be gained at these assemblies, stating that he was pleased to find himself flanked on one side by an incoming Governor from Japan and on the other by one from India.

"We must remember that there are four goals to be remembered in Rotary," he continued, and listed them as follows: Better informed Rotarians, importance of the individual Rotarian, Rotary Foundation and Rotary Extension.

Touching on the four services in Rotary he said, "As club service goes, so goes your club and stressed the importance of informing new members about Rotary. Vocational service, perhaps the most puzzling of them all, he added, is the spiritual side of Rotary and embodies high ethical standards, the efforts of every Rotarian. Community service is the fulfilling of community needs, and on this point, the Governor again congratulated the Sherbrooke Club for excellent work.

"International service seems perhaps a bit complex," he said, "but it consists in establishing contact with Rotarians of other lands and keeping in touch with them."

In conclusion Governor Cederholm reminded the Rotarians that the Club Motto "Service above self" is not an idle gesture but must be carried out to the fullest extent.

The speaker was introduced by Past District Governor George Ewing and thanked by Past President Gerry Wiggett.

Attending the meeting was one visiting Rotarian in the person of Joseph Shortt, of Belleville, Ont. President Evans Joslin, in the chair for the meeting, reminded the members that the Air Cadets have resumed their activities and urged them to attend some of the drills which are held on Friday evenings in the 53rd Armoury.

With the compliments of the Sherbrooke Club, President Joslin presented District Governor Cederholm with a book of raffle tickets for the forthcoming Rotary Fair, expressing the hope that he would be one of the winners.

Mrs. Pilton Heads Magog Committee

The Magog and District, Home and School Association recently formed a dramatic committee under the direction of Mrs. Jane Pilton, producer, Clifford Golden, chairman, Mrs. Barbara Martin, treasurer, Julius Richardson, vice-president, and Mrs. Ruth Reed, secretary. At present the committee consists of some forty members with promise of greater enrolment.

This group conducts social gatherings, monthly meetings, card parties and dramatic gatherings. The purpose of this committee is to raise funds for the building of a new high school in Magog.

Calf Rustlers Are Sentenced

Philias Riendeau, 30, of Coaticook, today was sentenced to one year in jail following his conviction on a charge of theft arising from investigation into a cattle rustling ring in the Eastern Townships.

The specific case for which Riendeau was arrested was the theft of two six-month old Ayrshire calves from the farm of Leon Patient of Ayer's Cliff last August 8.

Riendeau pleaded innocent to another charge that he was organizer of the rustling ring and was remanded for preliminary hearing on Friday.

Yesterday, Judge Edouard Boisvert sentenced Charles Emile Dube, 22, of Coaticook to nine months and Amedee Houle, 21, of Coaticook to six months for theft of cattle during August.

This pair was associated with Riendeau in the first theft, at Patient's farm. Other thefts with which they were charged were those of a $60 calf from Joseph Dupont at Barford, another $60 calf from Patient, two calves valued at $45 each, from Antonio Thibault of Barnston, and a $70 calf from Samuel McHarg of

Jailbreaker Gets Sentence Of Six Months

Sorel, Que., Oct. 11.—(C)—Ferdinand Dube, one of three men who staged night sorties to commit burglaries while serving terms at the Richelieu county jail here six weeks ago, was sentenced yesterday to six months in jail when he pleaded guilty to a charge of jailbreak.

The 22-year-old Cap de la Madeleine laborer, whose series of escapes touched off an inquiry that resulted in the suspension of jail governor Lucien Bédard last month, was escorted by two burly provincial police constables when he appeared in court.

Several other counts, including two more of jailbreak, two of burglary and one of illegal possession of a firearm, were laid against him before his last escape Sept. 15.

He was awaiting trial at the January term of the criminal assizes when he fled the century-old jail.

Dube first escaped Sept. 5 shortly after he had been sentenced to two years in penitentiary for theft of clothing. He later was picked up in Montreal on a charge of drunkenness and possession of a revolver.

Returned to the jail, he escaped again Sept. 15 and was finally captured in Parent, Que., three weeks later on a charge of burglary.

Operating under five aliases, Dube also is charged with breaking into two Sorel garages at a time when he was supposed to be in jail. Two inmates were jointly charged with him in connection with the burglaries.

The two other escapees — who returned to jail of their own free will after each night sortie — were Gaston Robidoux, 27, a convicted thief, and Donald Watso, 24-year-old Indian charged with murdering his grandfather. Both have been ordered for trial on the burglary counts.

City Employees Prevent Fire After Explosion

"Don't plug both outlets of a water front in a kitchen range" stated Director Percy Donahue today as he commented on a recent explosion.

This is fire prevention week. To date no fires have occurred, but an explosion which could have resulted in a serious fire had it not been for the quick thinking of three city employees occurred on Monday afternoon.

The explosion occurred at the home of G. P. Lamontagne, 212 Bowen South. Both outlets of the water front in the kitchen range had been plugged to prevent steam from escaping. The result was an explosion which blew part of the stove several feet away and left burning wood near the walls and floor of the home.

Three city employees, Armand Plette, Adrien St. Pierre and Joseph Leroux, heard the noise and rushed in and removed the burning wood—preventing a fire.

Blanchette Tells Of "Give, Take" In Defence Taxes

Toronto.—"We must be as willing to fight for prosperity and freedom at home as we are ready to fight aggression abroad," J. A. Blanchette, Compton - Frontenac M.P. and parliamentary assistant to the minister of national defence, said last night in a speech prepared for delivery to members of the Toronto Business Men's Club.

Every free nation of the world must be a living, dynamic proof that a democracy can be strong in the military sense and, at the same time, strong in its economy, and strong in its insistence of every individual's right to personal freedom and a decent standard of living, Mr. Blanchette stated.

The speaker said that Canada's defence program not only helps to insure world peace but strengthens the economic and social fabric of this nation's life.

"Defence has many by-products that are as interesting and important as they are little known," Mr. Blanchette told his audience. "This year we expect to place equipment orders for over $800,000,000 but more than half of all expenditures go to pay and allowances, pensions, clothing, food and other costs directly related to personnel and equivalent wages and salaries."

Mr. Blanchette said that national defence is in the catering business in a big way. It is also a big-time haberdasher. For clothing and textiles, we have placed, or are placing, orders amounting to $40 million in the current fiscal year.

"Orders for aircraft, this year, amount to $275,000,000," the member for Compton stated, "but while these planes cost the taxpayer a lot of money, this money keeps Canada well abreast in the kind of transportation that will be of ever increasing importance in the future, whether in war or peace."

Over $51,000,000 were paid to

Four More Baptist Evangelists Arrested, Sentenced In Val d'Or

Val d'Or, Que., Oct. 11.—(C)—Four Heronite preachers yesterday were fined with jail alternatives as the latest violators of Val d'Or's by-law forbidding religious street meetings without permit.

In recent weeks, 31 Regular Baptist evangelists have been jailed for similar action. The Heronites are a fundamentalist sect of the Protestant religion.

Gordon Beck, 21, and Lorne Mathewson, 30, both of Toronto, Robert L. Hussey of London, Ont., and Daniel Lassar, 21, of Bourlaimaque, Que., each was fined $40 and costs with an alternative of two months in the Abitibi district jail at Amos, Que.

Police magistrate J. L. Baillargeon said that if the convicted four choose the jail sentences and if costs of the action are not paid at the expiration of the two-months term, the convicted must serve another two months each.

The four pleaded innocent and appeared in court without counsel. They were convicted after a short trial.

In bringing down his judgement, Mr. Baillargeon said he had received many letters "invoking death upon me and my family as a 'judgment of God.'" He said he also had been called a dictator and "otherwise abused."

He added that he also had received a number of letters from Ontario residents who were neither Roman Catholics nor French-speaking Canadians, congratulating him on the fairness of the trials he had given members of religious sects.

"These make up for the others," he said.

Montreal, Oct. 11.—(C)—Rev. Joseph McClelland, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Val d'Or, said yesterday there is no religious persecution in his city although 31 Regular Baptists have been arrested there in recent months.

Mr. McClelland spoke before the annual meeting of the Montreal and Ottawa synod of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

"The Regular Baptists are a fundamental group and it is because of their beliefs that they have run into trouble with other Protestant groups and the Roman Catholic church," he said.

"You cannot work with those people, only for them. I can sympathize with the Val d'Or city council."

At the evening session Rev. Dr. John S. Bonnell, minister of Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church in New York city, told delegates that he believes "the greatest weakness of Protestantism is the unemployed potential of laymen in the churches."

A native of Prince Edward Island, Dr. Bonnell, who for some years held a charge in Winnipeg, is internationally known for his Sunday broadcasts over the radio as a regular speaker on the national vesper.

THE IMPLICATIONS OF DEFENCE PREPARATIONS

Though the step-up in defence preparations represents no more than a moderate additional burden on the economy, it does pose a difficult and serious problem of inflation, says the current Monthly Review of The Bank of Nova Scotia. Prior to Korea, the economic picture was one of high activity with an inflationary overtone, but tempered by the prospect that production of a number of important types of goods would soon catch up with or even pass demand. The results of the communist aggression in Korea were to throw the balance decisively on the side of inflation.

It is probably true that a large portion of the added demands which this summer pushed prices upward in the United States reflected the desire of businesses and individuals to protect themselves against the possibility of higher prices or shortages in the future. The massive plans for rearmament in that country were after all only beginning to be reflected in actual defence expenditures. But though some price advances may well have gone too far, the growth in defence outlays on the basis of present plans is going to continue for quite a long period and is a powerful force working to sustain and expand demands in the U. S. economy.

In addition to the profound general influence of U. S. conditions in Canada, there is now the possibility of direct U. S. defence purchasing in this country on a considerable scale and until very recently there has been the extra inflationary pressure of a large speculative inflow of U. S. capital. And finally, there is the direct impact of rising defence outlays in Canada, which in turn are related in part to the needs of the European members of the North Atlantic Pact.

These added demands have come upon an economy which was already operating close to capacity and in which there was little surplus manpower. Defence demands will fall to a large extent on materials which, like steel and base metals, were none too plentiful before the Korean explosion, and on industries which, like those making machinery, automobiles and household appliances, were already busy. Canada could much more conveniently have accommodated a greatly increased demand for wheat, but the hard fact is that the new demands are for metals, specialized industrial capacity, skilled workers, and young men.

The Review points out that in an economy working close to capacity, inflation can do little good and will certainly do harm. Inflation offers no escape from the necessity of paying for the additional costs of defence. It simply distributes the costs through the process of rising prices, which in effect means that those who are unable to raise their incomes in line with higher prices and those who have savings in insurance, bank deposits, government bonds, pension plans and so on pay the bill. Though Canada has suffered less from inflation than most other countries during the past decade, there has been enough depreciation of the buying power of money even in this country to last for a long time.

The risk of inflation should be emphasized because the lack of a live appreciation of the danger could easily lead to a failure to develop and persist in the kind of policies which are needed to keep inflationary pressures in hand.

THE RUSSIAN PLAN FOR KOREA

To anybody who did not know the Russians so well, their "peace" proposals for Korea might be considered to have a faint air of reasonableness about them. They talk of new national elections to be supervised by a United Nations committee, after all United Nations armies have been withdrawn from Korea. They want the committee to include the countries bordering on Korea—in other words, Russia and China.

Luckily the rest of the UN already has recognized the booby-traps in this plan and gives no sign of accepting it. But the Russian motives behind it will be expressed in other forms, too. And we must be on guard to see them for what they are.

The Soviet plan for Korea is nothing more than an effort to salvage by diplomatic means what the North Koreans have lost in the field. The proposals were not made while the North Koreans were winning; only when they faced total defeat.

Furthermore, if the plan for elections were sincerely meant, it is obvious they could have been put into effect at any time in the past five years. It was not necessary to fight a war to win the privilege of holding such elections. If that balloting were held under Russian terms, it might well be disastrous for the freedom of Korea. With Russia and Red China on the suggested United Nations committee, the Communists could block every attempt to conduct honest, really free elections. Damaging delays would occur and Korea's future would be clouded in confusion.

There may be some in the United Nations who feel the West is merely prolonging the agony by keeping armies pressing Northward in Korea when an offer has been made to end the fighting. But it was not the West which resorted to arms; it was Russia. The Soviet leaders chose that field as the decisive one for Korea. That being so, the decision must now be taken there.

When the Communist armies have been fully crushed, then the UN must set about organizing the whole of Korea for real national elections, unfettered by Russian interference. It must give the country the unity it was intended to have from the start, and must boldly grapple with the tasks of economic reconstruction in that war-devastated land.

Nothing but complete surrender must be listened to from the Russian side. If that surrender is not volunteered, it must be enforced by weight of arms. And the Soviet Union must be barred from having the slightest voice in Korea's future.

For no proposal it could make would really be any different from this first peace plan. They would all have the same aim; to restore the "old order" in Korea by diplomacy, now that Russian efforts to upset it by force have come off so badly.

SHOULD OUR JUDGES ACT AS CHAIRMEN OF BOARDS?

The Ottawa Journal

Because of recent criticism of judges acting as conciliators in labor disputes (the Canadian Bar Association joined in the criticism) Mr. Justice Roach of the Ontario court last week withdrew from the chairmanship of a conciliation board in Toronto.

Thus is revived an old question: the propriety, or the wisdom, of judges acting on boards.

It is a question of some difficulty, good arguments existing on both sides.

Offhand, one might say that a judge, with his judicial training, must be the best possible person to reach a right decision in almost any dispute. Judges are trained to dig into facts, understand what constitutes evidence, know how to weigh evidence. And they are trained to be impartial.

On the other side, however, is this: No judge, no matter what his wisdom, or what his impartiality, can always reach a decision that is satisfactory to everybody, with the result that a decision by a judge not satisfactory to everybody is almost certain to bring the Bench into controversy, with the controversy weakening respect for it, and with its probity perhaps challenged.

That being true, what is risked when judges are asked to act on boards dealing with labor disputes, or on boards which have to do with questions of wide public controversy, is indeed great. For if there be one thing more than another which is or any free country should want to preserve jealously, to keep from suspicion by any group or class whatsoever, it is the integrity of the judiciary.

All in all, therefore, and weighing the pros and cons of the question, we should be inclined to say that it would be better if judges remained on the Bench.

CCL PENSION PROPOSAL AND THE COST

Toronto Telegram

Before adjourning their convention at Winnipeg the Canadian Congress of Labor delegates discussed extending the present system of old age security. They decided to ask for a system of pensions that will pay everyone $60 a month at age 65, but they do not wish the fund financed by an increase in the sales tax. On the latter point, at least, they showed good judgment. To finance old age pensions on the scale they propose by a sales tax would necessitate doubling the present eight per cent. rate and possibly placing it on foodstuffs. Any move in this direction would cause a big jump in the cost of living.

Discussions on increasing the rate of old age pensions and extending the benefits to everyone ought to take account of what is financially possible. The best way to look at the question is to examine the cost and its impact on the public.

Last summer the joint parliamentary committee on old age security was informed by government officials that to pay $60 a month to everyone at 65 would cost $793,008,000 in 1951, $988,200,000 in 1961 and $1,173,600,000 in 1971.

These totals become more comprehensible when they are compared with the revenue produced from the taxes being collected this year. Personal income tax this year will give the government about $600 million; Corporation taxes will possibly produce $650 million.

To finance the CCL proposal in 1951 would require (a) personal contributions to the fund that would be larger than the income taxes individuals are now paying, or (b) doubling the present corporation taxes.

We leave it to the reader to judge if either of these tax increases would be feasible.

Bronze Statue Of Indian Chief Recalls Early Days Of Foresters

Toronto, Oct. 11.—(P)—The Iron Teka stands patiently in the lobby of Toronto's original skyscraper while his followers build a new shrine to his greatness.

The Iron Teka, so named by the hundreds of office workers who daily throng past his feet, is a bronze statue of Oronhyateka, the great Indian chief and once Supreme Chief Ranger of the Independent Order of Foresters. It stands in the lobby of the Temple building at Richmond and Bay streets in the heart of the city's business district.

The building itself is a tribute to Oronhyateka, a full-blooded Iroquois born on the Brantford, Ont., reserve in 1841. It was Oronhyateka, as Supreme Chief Ranger, who in 1881 conceived the idea that the fraternal order should have the finest headquarters of any benevolent organization in the world.

The 14-storey building with its hand-cut stones was built in the years that followed. The waistcoat of the statue is of solid copper. The main lodge hall was decorated with gold leaf and the corridors lined with copper inlaid.

The building was sold recently for $1,000,000 to Benjamin Chester, S. Saltman and Philip Bookspan. The order is moving from the Temple building to new six-storey office at Jarvis and Charles streets in east-central Toronto.

The new building will not be ready for two years, but the owners say the Iron Teka may stay at his post in the lobby of the old building until the new one is complete.

The Foresters, who this year mark their 75th anniversary, have spread to the United States and Great Britain and their membership has climbed from 369 in Oronhyateka's day to 145,000.

The order has since lost most of its fraternal character and exists now mainly as an insurance company.

LOU PUT ON ICE BY PESSIMISTIC PETE

Larceny Lou was in to see me yesterday with a legitimate complaint. Here it is in his own words.

"I played with my wife in the club yesterday. We would have won it easily if it hadn't been for Pessimistic Pete. He sat South and I sat East on the hand that cost us the tournament. The bidding was short and decisive. Pete showed no pessimism and had no trouble bidding the diamond slam.

"My wife opened the four of clubs. Pete won with the ace, led over to dummy's ace of diamonds and returned to the king in his own hand. After a couple of groans because the trumps had not broken, Pete led the jack of spades and played the eight from dummy. By this time, I had made up my mind that Pete's ace of clubs was a singleton and that my only chance was to refuse to win that spade trick. Accordingly, I played the five of spades without batting an eye.

"The play almost worked. Pete went into one of his huddles and finally led the deuce of spades and finessed once more. All I could do was to take that trick; otherwise I would lose my queen of spades. I led a club back. Pete trumped high, entered dummy with the nine of trumps and discarded his three losing hearts on the three good spades. Curtains! "It is just your reputation biting back at you," I said. "I'll bet if an ordinary player had made your play Pete would have picked up your last trump before taking the second spade finesse and you would have set the hand. By the way, how did Generous George do?"

"He won the tournament, of course," said Lou. "The lucky so-and-so held the West hand but our old friend Hard Luck Joe played the hand against George. "George's partner also opened the four of clubs. Joe had no problem with the hand at all. He simply drew three rounds of trumps and finessed the jack of spades. Naturally, George, with his well known generosity, let it hold. Joe finessed again and George grabbed the queen, leaving Joe with three high spades in dummy and no way to get to them. Joe was down three and the top score gave George the tournament."

His most distinguished admirer was Edward VI who visited the Brantford reserve as Prince of Wales in 1869 and received an address from Oronhyateka, then a medical student at the University of Toronto. The Prince was so impressed with the Indian's personality that he invited him to continue his medical studies at Oxford as a royal protegee. After graduation Oronhyateka practised medicine at Frankfort, Ont., and London, Ont., until his responsibilities to the order demanded his full time. He died in 1907.

Hove, Sussex, England.—Cnoson by a marriage agency as the "perfect couple." Mr. and Mrs. Percy Walder live up to the billing. In a year of marriage they have never quarrelled.

"We have nothing to quarrel about," said Walder. "We have the same tastes and interests. In our experience this is the best way to find a partner."

Walder, a 44-year-old master plasterer, and Alberta Holly, 35-year-old audit clerk, were chosen by a panel of psychologists, psychiatrists, medical and social experts as the perfect couple.

They have only one difference of opinion. One is Conservative, the other Socialist. They don't discuss politics.

Letters To The Editor

FARM PROFITS

To the Editor:—In this reader's clipping-book there are many items from the editorial and news-columns, and I choose the following from your "Farm Profits" last summer, to flavor this little letter:

"Mr. Murdoch (M.P. for Essex East) emphasized a fact that is too often forgotten; that farming is still Canada's major industry. It certainly is to the advantage of everyone to have that industry in a healthy state, which can only be accomplished when it makes a profit. A sick agricultural industry would soon pass its ailments along in other segments of society. Some of the greatest Canadian industries are directly dependent upon farming prosperity. These include packing, processing, distilling and transportation as major examples. Others, such as the farm implement and automotive industries, only prosper if agriculture prospers." (Editorial, July 8.)

I was reminded of the above fine and factual picture when reading about the high 32,000 "manufacturing establishments" across the Dominion, and the origin of the raw materials which they process: Farm origin, 11,105 establishments; Mineral origin, 4,500; Forest origin, 9,800; Marine origin, 510; Wild Life and Mixed origin, 3,080. The message is too clear to be misunderstood by even your speediest or most casual reader? Even in terms of the market-place, it seems to me, the Divine injunction retains its validity: "Ye are brethren, one of another?" Certainly what is true within our own favored land is equally true in terms of World agriculture? Urban activities, naturally, win most of the spotlight; but what is too seldom remembered is, that the primary industries energize all the later operations!

The Record Short Story

SPRING RECITAL

By PAUL FOUQUET

I don't like to brag, but, after all, if it hadn't been for me Miss Wilkens might still be—well, Miss Wilkens. It happened two years ago when I was just a kid—14 to be exact. Being so much older and wiser now, I often wonder where I got the nerve to do it. But, anyway, I'm glad, for Miss Wilkens' sake, I did it.

The whole thing came about this way. Each Spring, without fail, for—well, for the last 25 years, ma says—Miss Wilkens, who was our small town's only piano teacher, had her pupils play in a recital at her studio. A nice little party followed, with lots of those cream and homemade cakes. Those recitals meant an awful lot to Miss Wilkens. That day she always seemed so happy, fluttering about like a busy little hen.

As you've probably guessed, Miss Wilkens was a rather tiny person, with hair that was slowly turning a nice gray, though she wasn't really old, hardly even middle-aged. Her eyes were very blue and bright and when she smiled she was almost beautiful. All of us pupils worshipped her.

I can tell you a bit of Miss Wilkens' early life that I learned from Ma. She was an only child, and when a little girl showed quite a talent for music. When she was 18 she went to New York to study the piano seriously. But after two years she suddenly came back. For a long while something seemed troubling her and she was very moody. I know what it was but I can't tell you just now and spoil the story.

The year after she returned her parents died and, not because she needed the money—the Wilkenses were pretty well off—but just because she was so sad and lonely, she began teaching music. As time went on, she gradually became her old cheerful self again.

Well, in about February of two Winters ago, Miss Wilkens was already getting us ready for the Spring Recital. She always liked lots of time to prepare so everything would be just so. One evening, returning from choir practice—she was also the organist of our own little church—she was struck down by a hit-run car and taken to the hospital suffering from bad internal injuries. The doctors said it would be many weeks before she could leave the hospital and resume her work.

I went as often as I could to see her to try to cheer her up. What she must have gone through from that awful accident didn't seem to bother her so much as the fact there would be no Spring Recital. She took that disappointment terribly to heart. I couldn't figure out who she should feel so bad about it, and Ma tried to make me understand.

"Sally, some folks set great store by something that doesn't seem of much consequence to others. Like those recitals. To us, they're—well, nothing but a bunch of youngsters trying to play a couple of pieces well on the piano; but to Miss Wilkens—why, I imagine they're the brightest spots in her rather dull life." "Golly, Ma," I said, kind of thinking out loud, "didn't it make Miss Wilkens awfully happy if that recital could take place anyhow?"

Ma gave me a quick, sharp look. "What do you mean, Sally? Now don't go cooking up some wild scheme in that crazy head of yours!"

But now I was completely carried away with my sudden idea. "But, listen, Ma. Miss Wilkens is coming home at the end of the month. That's just about the time the recital was set for. Why couldn't we have it anyhow—I mean, after she rests up a while, I could get the kids to practice up on their numbers, and being the oldest and the best player, maybe I could help them along with them. It'd be like a surprise welcome-home party for Miss Wilkens. And since you'll be staying with her—Ma often did practical nursing around town—you'll be able to get things ready at the house without Miss Wilkens catching on."

Ma gave her head a doubtful shake. "Well, I don't know—I'll have to think it over."

Mr. Mannerling didn't come to the recital. Everything was all over and Ma and I were washing the party dishes in the kitchen when he arrived. Ma let him in. Miss Wilkens was softly playing a Chopin Nocturne on the piano.

I guess I'm going to be an awful sentimentalist when I grow up. Anyway, I was very curious to see Miss Wilkens and her former teacher together after all those years. So while Ma got busy preparing tea for Mr. Mannerling, I had chance to peek into the living room.

They made such a pretty picture, Miss Wilkens and Mr. Mannerling, sitting there side by side on the sofa, his two hands holding one of hers. Miss Wilkens was as fluttery as a young girl with her first date.

"I was a fool, Isabel, dear," Mr. Mannerling was saying to her. "It was only after you abruptly stopped your lessons that I fully realized how very much you meant to me. But when I tried to reach you at your boarding house I was told you'd left, leaving no forwarding address. I've lived in the hope that some day, some where, I'd find you again."

"I was very much in love with you, David," Miss Wilkens said softly. "But hopelessly, I thought. That's why I ran away. I—I tried so hard to forget you, but—but couldn't."

Just then Ma yanked me back into the kitchen. But I'd seen and heard enough to know what was what.

THE END.

Local Resident To Be Extradited

Papers for the extradition of Emile Leblond, 30, of Sherbrooke, wanted by United States police on a charge of possessing counterfeit money, were signed today by Mr. Justice Cesaire Gervais.

Police said that Leblond passed 63 false $20 United States bills in Burlington, Vt., last January, purchasing cigarettes with them. He then brought the cigarettes, 710 cartons, back to Canada.

Arrested here, Leblond appeared before Judge Edouard Boisvert last February and was fined $200 and costs for smuggling.

In the United States he will face five charges arising from the possession of counterfeit money.

on the main road.

The eastern-column thrust five miles into North Korea, driving northeast toward Yuga.

Capt. W. K. Hopkins with the westward thrusting cavalry, said the Reds "retreated so fast we couldn't keep up with them."

AP correspondent William J. Waugh, with the Cavalry, said men, women and children lined the streets of Paechon cheering the arrival of Americans.

In the centre of the 145-mile front, fighting flared around Yongsong, Chorwon and Kumsong. South Korean troops seized Kumsong, 20 miles inside Red Korea.

AP correspondent William J. Waugh, with the Cavalry, said men, women and children lined the streets of Paechon cheering the arrival of Americans.

North Korean civilians voluntarily worked at repairing bridges and carrying supplies, but the Reds still had parts of the city's outskirts under fire.

Intelligence said the Reds still were moving supplies to the front. Three 100-truck columns were sighted going south and east from Pyongyang Monday night and Tuesday.

South of the border, isolated groups of communists still were kicking up trouble. One force of 1,100 was attacked Tuesday near Taejon.

Allied fighter-bombers softened targets ahead of the advancing U.N. forces. Heavy and medium bombers teamed in striking night traffic on highways spanning out from Pyongyang. An air force spokesman said they shot up four different columns.

Peiping radio warned that communist China would not "stand idly by" as U.N. troops cut into North Korea. But its broadcast of a ministry of foreign affairs statement, heard in London, gave no hint of any action communist China might take.

Rain Extinguishes Laurentian's Fire

St. Catharines, Que., Oct. 11.—Heavy rain yesterday helped about 125 volunteers firefighters put out a rampaging fire which burned out close to 10 square miles of forest near this Laurentian mountains village, 40 miles north of Montreal.

Origin of the blaze which started Saturday was not immediately known although officials believed it might have been caused by careless campers or hunters in the area.

A number of cottages were in the path of the blaze and three were destroyed. Furniture from other summer homes was moved. None was reported injured in the fire.

Firefighters said the forest fire had been checked about two miles from here and seemed to be dying out. Embers continued to smoke, however, and crews remained on the spot in case of further outbreaks.

Paul Masnick Signed By Montreal Canadiens

Montreal, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Managing Director Frank Selke of Montreal Canadiens announced last night that Paul Masnick, husky young forward from Regina, has been signed to a two-year contract.

Masnick will be in the lineup when Canadiens and Chicago Black Hawks open the National Hockey League season here Thursday night.

Masnick, 19, starred with Regina Juniors last season and has shown since Canadiens opened their training camp. Although a centre in junior hockey, Masnick has been playing at right wing for the Montrealers.

Selke also announced that goalie Gordon Bell and defenceman Roly McLenahan, obtained recently from Hershey, have been optioned to Buffalo of the American Hockey League. Both are subject to immediate recall.

Mrs. J. Nagel Dies In Crash

Belleville, Ont., Oct. 11.—Mrs. John Nagel of Regina died in hospital last night after doctors waged a desperate battle to save her life.

She and her husband were injured early yesterday when their car, en route from Sherbrooke, Que., to Scotland, Ont., crashed into another vehicle on the crest of a hill near here in a driving rainstorm. She suffered brain injuries and severe shock.

Her husband received a broken hip, cuts and shock in the crash. He and Robert Slavin of Belleville, driver of the other car, still are in hospital.

The Nagels were driving from Sherbrooke to meet Mrs. Nagel's mother.

Rumors Have Rickey Going To St. Louis

New York, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The Daily Compass said today that Branch Rickey "is going to the St. Louis Browns as the new president and club owner in a deal financed by the American League."

In St. Louis, however, Bill De Witt, president of the Browns, asserted: "You can put this down. We don't plan any changes in the operations of our club and Branch Rickey isn't buying it. It's not for sale."

Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, recently contracted to sell his Brooklyn stock to William Zeckendorf, New York real estate man. Since then there have been many rumors as to his future plans.

In the story written by Herb Goren, the Compass said: "American League tycoons, sensitive to the basic second-dimension weaknesses in their structure, in spite of top-level superiority, are ready to purchase a controlling interest in Brownie stock and turn it over to Rickey in order to acquire his services."

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Arthur A. Mac-Aulay, who departed this life October 9th, 1950, on Thanksgiving Day.

Our loss was his great gain.

Signed by his family,

MARGARET, THYRA, ROD, WAYNE,

ANNE, JOHN AND CUYLER,

Gould, Que.

"POOLE" In sad and loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, Mrs. George C. Poole, whom God called home five years ago on October 11th, 1948.

To your grave we often go.

When sad and sore depressed,

How much you meant to us dear mother,

Will never be known by others.

Forever remembered by

MR. AND MRS. C. W. CURTIS,

Sons-in-Law and Daughter,

SANDRA JEAN CURTIS,

Granddaughter.

LAMB—In loving memory of a loving husband and father, Claude Lamb, who passed away October 11th, 1941.

Thoughts drift back to bygone days,

Life goes on but memories stay.

Best remembered by

WIFE AND DAUGHTER, BERNICE

Danville, Que.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank all my kind friends for their thoughtfulness when I was ill, for my sunshine, help, cards, letters and those who called on me. Your kindness will always be remembered by me with appreciation.

MRS. NELSON VINCOUR

I wish to express my deepest appreciation for the many kindnesses expressed in different ways by neighbors, other friends and relatives, during my stay in the Montreal General Hospital. To each one I extend a very sincere "Thank You".

Best remembered by

FLORA H. PAUL

Ayer's Cliff, Que.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all those who were so kind in helping us in any way during the recent death and burial of our dear husband and father; especially do we wish to thank the Rev. Mr. Denton, Dr. Lowry, the bearers, the choir, Mrs. Marie Phillips for the solo, all those who loaned cars, sent flowers and food; also we wish to thank the ladies who so generously came to the house to assist. Your kindness will always be remembered.

The Doctor Says

MANY CANCER PATIENTS
SAVED BY SUCCESSFUL
REMOVAL OF LUNG.

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.
In 1933 Dr. Evans Graham of St. Louis removed a lung from a fellow physician who had a cancer.
The patient was cured and has remained in active practice ever since. The next year a 3 1/2-year-old girl had a lung tumor removed in Baltimore. This child recovered without difficulty and lived to be eight years old when she died of an accident but without any trouble from the tumor.

Since that time many, many people with cancer or other tu-

More of the lung have undergone this operation. The results are as-tonishingly good. In one group of patients for whom this operation was done, more than one-third were alive, well and leading active lives months or years later. Because cancer of the lung is always fatal, unless it is removed, the operation is well worthwhile.

The most important factor in the treatment of cancer of the lung — like that of cancer elsewhere — is time. Delay is not only serious but often fatal. For this reason a person who has a chronic cough, the cause of which cannot be readily explained, should not put off going to the physician.
Fortunately, an X-ray of the lung is of great help in making an early diagnosis.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Baldwin, of Arcadia, Calif., arrived here on Saturday to spend a week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. W.
Baldwin. They plan to start back on Monday of next week, when his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin, will return home with them to spend the winter.

The many friends of Miss Flora
Paul, will be interested in knowing that she has returned to her home, accompanied by her nephew, Rev. Cyril Watson, of Ham-stead. Miss Paul spent ten days in the General Hospital, under observation and also visited her nephew and niece, Dr. R. L. and Mrs.
Watson and Janet.

Mr. John W. Hunter spent two days in Inverness and Plessisville on business.

Mr. Alfred C. Koeler has been appointed Cockshutt dealer and is stationed at Lennoxville. All wish him success in his new venture.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Sloggett, of Mississippi, and Mr. and Mrs.
Wayland Mosher, of Toronto, Ont., were tea guests of Mr. and Mrs.
Carl Mosher.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Monette and family motored to Cowansville.
The annual Farm Forum Rally of Missisquoi County, will be held in the Memorial Hall, at Stanbridge East, on Wednesday evening, October 18.

"Tubby" Cummings, who makes his home with the Crandall family, motored to Montreal.
Messrs. Neil Baker, Archie Sager, and Burt Crandall, attended an auction sale at Farnham's Corner.

Miss Jean Corey, Mr. and Mrs.
Neil Baker, Miss Lois Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Sager and Miss Carol Sager attended a turkey supper at the Anglican Church Hall, in Bedford.

with lights and mirrors called a bronchoscope is invaluable. This instrument can be passed down the windpipe to that part of the lung which is shown to be suspicious by the X-ray. Then a tiny bit of tissue can be removed, pulled out through the bronchoscope, and examined under the microscope. This will give the diagnosis of cancer.

Cancer of the lung is probably increasing more rapidly than any other form of cancer. Until medical science has learned of some way of preventing cancer or of treating it medically, it is encour-ing to realize that this disease, even though located in what appears to be a part of the body hard to get at, still can yield so successfully to surgery. Some patients have been cured of lung cancer and have been active and enjoyed good health for as long as 17 years. But those who delay are

Careless Personal Habits Cause Majority Of Fires

By BOB SCHARFF
Written for NEA Service

There is one chance in a hundred that there will be a fire in your home this year — and one chance in twenty that you'll have a home fire during the next five years. But how can you protect your home against fires? It's simple—be careful.

Careless personal habits cause most fires. Thoughtless discarding of lighted matches and smoking materials alone is responsible for nearly 30 per cent of all fires. Use of gasoline or other inflammables for cleaning clothing, open fireplaces without fire screens, leaving matches where children may reach them and that old bugaboo, smoking in bed, all take their toll in damage and lives.

One out of every four fires is caused by defective heating plants. A yearly check-up of the complete system, furnace to chimney, is essential.

All heating plants, pipes or appliances should be at least 18 inches away from any wall or burnable material. Heaters, including stoves, should be on insulated metal, cement or other incombustible bases.

Walls and stoves should be protected by asbestos sheeting or other insulating materials listed by Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc. Clean the chimney every year and repair it promptly when cracks or loose mortar appear. Never force a furnace to get more heat. Consult your heating man about increasing its efficiency safely. Empty hot ashes into metal containers—never into wooden boxes.

Another potential fire hazard is your electrical wiring and appliances. Constant watch should be made for deterioration of wiring and flexible appliance cords. In older houses have the wiring inspected by a licensed electrician. Be sure your fuses are of correct amperage for your circuits — 15 amperes usually are right and don't tamper with the "safety valve."

Memorize and heed these fire safety precautions.

Since the majority of home fires start in the basement, install a device there to warn you the minute a fire starts. Alarms can be had for $5 to $20. Fire extinguishers should be placed at the head of each stairway, in the kitchen and the garage. Remember fire extinguishers must be checked and refilled periodically.

Another frequent cause of fire is spontaneous combustion. The only protective remedy is to clean out accumulated junk and rubbish from basement to attic.

When a fire breaks out in a home, the first thing to do is to get everyone out of the house. If there are any rooms in the house isolated from the stairways or other exits, these should be equipped with a chain ladder or even a rope tied to a radiator.

Turn in an alarm after everyone is out of the house. Then turn your attention to bringing the fire under control. True, the first few minutes of a fire are the most important, but it is even more important to clear the house of all persons.

THOUSANDS trod here yesterday

Now, while guests sleep, their footprints disappear as mops slide over the impervious, unblemished surface of linoleum. An occasional waxing and polishing and the tough, resilient cork, bound in springy, oxidized linseed oil, shows no trace either of grit-covered soles, or of the passing years... So easy on the Maintenance Account... as well as on the feet! Then, too, in its large range of dignified colours and effects, it lends itself to harmony with any "period" scheme... at once decorative and tactfully directive... Adaptable! Linoleum plays its efficient, unobtrusive part also in the floors of restaurants, theatres, office buildings, hospitals, churches... and private homes.

Sutton, Oct. 11.—The marriage of Jean Ethel, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Reid, of Sutton, to Mr. Hollis Page, took place at St. Andrew's Church, Sutton, on Saturday, September 2, at eleven o'clock.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a street-length dress of light blue taffeta with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Burton Page, sister-in-law of the groom.

Mr. Burton Page acted as best man for his brother.

The reception, immediately following the ceremony, was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Later the happy couple left by motor for a short trip, the bride travelling in a red suit with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Page took up residence in West Sutton.

PECK—POW

Granby, Oct. 11.—An interesting marriage took place at the United Church, Granby, on Saturday, September 23, when Miss Doris Gertrude Pow became the wife of Mr. Jack Talmage Peck, of Toronto, Ont. Rev. E. D. Mitchell, of Waterloo, officiated and Miss Florence Stewart played the wedding music. Gladioli in pastel shades and autumn flowers and greenery were used to decorate.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, Mr. A. W. Pow, was gowned in white slipper satin with full skirt ending in a short train, leaving a deep net yoke, and long sleeves tapering to a point over the hands. Her veil of tulle illusion, of three-quarter length, was draped from a small embroidered crown. She carried a bouquet of red roses and baby's breath cascading with tiny rosebuds in long satin streamers. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, the gift of the groom.

She was attended by her sister, Miss Muriel Pow, who wore baby-blue sheer over taffeta, with cap to match and carried a colonial nosegay of blush pink carnations and baby's breath. Her only ornament was a pearl choker, the gift of the bride.

Mr. Gordon Pow, brother of the bride, acted as best man. The ushers were Messrs. Donald Harvey and Eric Johnson.

The reception was held in the Princess Sweet's Hall, which was decorated for the occasion. The bride's table, centered with the wedding cake, which was made and decorated by her aunt, Mrs. Lillian Miltimore, was flanked by candles in silver holders.

The bride wore a going away costume of green jersey under a short lamb coat, a grey hat and shoes and green accessories.

The out-of-town guests included Mrs. Lillian Miltimore, the Misses Joan, Cleona and Linda Miltimore, Mr. and Mrs. R. Miltimore, of Sutton, Mr. D. King, of Cowansville and Mr. M. Grenier, of East Farnham.

BROWN—NUTBROWN

The marriage of Iris Gertrude, daughter of Mr. Earl Nutbrown and the late Mrs. Nutbrown, of Lennoxville, to Richard Raymond Brown, also of Lennoxville, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brown, took place on Saturday afternoon, September 16, at three o'clock, in the United Church, Lennoxville, the Rev. N. A. McLeod officiating. Mr. Llewellyn Jenne performed the wedding music, and Mr. Fred Fox sang "I Love You Truly" during the signing of the register.

The church was beautifully decorated with white, pink and yellow gladioli. The guest pews were marked with white satin ribbon and pink Picardy gladioli.

The bride, given away by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white slipper satin fashioned with a shirred fitted bodice, long tight sleeves and a full skirt made in three tiers of lace over satin. Her floor-length veil of tulle illusion fell in folds from a coronet of pearls to be in Mexico or Arizona while Mr. Ewing completes the book on which he has been working for some time; in February he will join the staff of Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass., and begin work on another book. Mr. Ewing is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Ewing, of Sherbrooke.

Mrs. Estelle Clemen, of Berkeley, Calif., and Dr. Margaret Poole, of Dighton, Mass., cousins of Mrs. W. D. Buchanan and Mr. Buchanan, Frontenac Street, and Mrs. Katie Morrison, of Scotts-town, sister of Mrs. Morrison, have returned to their respective homes, after having spent a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan.

white carnations, and she carried a shower bouquet of bright red carnations. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls, the gift of the groom.

The matron-of-honor, Mrs. Curtis Robichaud, cousin of the bride, wore a floor-length gown of pale blue lace over blue satin, with a matching bandeau and she carried a colonial bouquet of pink gladioli and blue lily-of-the-Nile.

The two little flower girls, Carol Robichaud and Patricia Rothney, cousins of the bride, wore Katie Greenaway dresses in blue or gandy, with matching bandeaux and they carried baskets of pink sinias and white scabiosa.

The best man was Mr. Burnel Lyonnais, and the ushers were Mr. Weston Nutbrown, brother of the bride, and Mr. Merrill Bishop, brother-in-law of the groom.

The reception was held at the home of the bride, attended by forty guests. The bride's table was covered with a white linen cloth and centered with a three-tier wedding cake.

The bridal couple received congratulations under an arch of evergreens, interspersed with pink and white carnations, and the rooms were decorated with pink, white and yellow gladioli and white asters.

The gifts to the matron-of-honor were gold earrings; to the flower girls, pearl bracelets; to the best man, a leather billfold, and to the ushers, tie pins.

The wedding gifts consisted of silver, crystal, linen and cheques. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Brown left for a motor trip to Southern Ontario, the bride travelling in a beige wool gabardine suit with brown accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown will reside in their new home, Mountain View, Stanstead Road, Lennoxville. Among the guests were friends and relatives from Montreal, St. Hyacinthe, Kinnear's Mills, East Farnham, Foster, Compton, Eaton Road, East Angus, Massawippi, Sherbrooke, Lennoxville and Huntingville.

Friends here were sorry to hear of the tragic death of Master John Brady, of Lennoxville, and extend sympathy to the bereaved parents and other relatives in their sorrow.

two children, of St. Jovite, were week-end visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Brady. Other visitors at the same home were Mrs. Bernard and Miss Kavanaugh, of Montreal.

The death of Dr. R. A. Rajotte, of Drummondville, was a shock to this community. Dr. Rajotte was well known in this part, having run as Liberal Member for Drummond County on several occasions, thus addressing political assemblies held here from time to time. A large number from here attended the funeral services in Drummondville.

W. A. Holds Meeting At Foster

Foster, Oct. 11. — The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. Fred Lacey, one Tuesday afternoon.

The opening exercises included the members prayer and "Litany" and the "Lord's Prayer" repeated in unison, and the president, Mrs. A. Griffin, occupied the chair and extended a warm welcome to all present and also to a visitor, Mrs. A. V. Beale.

The minutes of the August meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Crowhurst, and were approved, and the roll call showed fourteen members present.

The treasurer, Mrs. Code, reported that $107.00 had been sent to various obligations and a receipt had been received from Mrs. Gurnston for the same.

The corresponding secretary read an appeal for volunteers to sell greeting cards, but it was decided to ignore it as one of our own members does this same work, and Mrs. Young also had on display the church calendars for 1951, which will retail for forty cents this year and these will be purchased at the annual Deaneys meeting, which will be held in St. George's Church, Granby, on October 11.

As to date no new Dorcas secretary has been appointed to replace Mrs. W. G. Knowlton.

It was voted that October 24 will be the date for our fall rummage sale. Members will go the preceding afternoon to price and arrange all articles and the sale will start on the following morning at nine o'clock and continue until 4 p.m., with no afternoon tea as in former years, but at 8.30 p.m. there will be a card party in the Town Hall under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary. Mrs. Griffin, Mrs. Code, Mrs. W. R. Durrell, Mrs. Young and Mrs. Price very kindly offered to donate the prizes for same and all members will co-operate in bringing food.

In the course of the afternoon two beautiful cards were signed by all present with their good wishes to Mrs. H. H. Scott and Mrs. E. W. Taylor, who have been ill.

One new member was gladly received into the Auxiliary. Mrs. Crowhurst furnished a reading from the study book, "Down Over Japan," and Mrs. A. L. Young will continue the reading at the next meeting. No further business arising from the meeting was closed with the Benediction given by Mrs. A. M. Hunter.

A delightful social interlude was enjoyed around the tea tables, where Mrs. Lacey had furnished refreshments, and at its conclusion Mrs. Griffin extended a hearty vote of thanks on behalf of all those who were present for the enjoyable time spent.

Huntingville W. C. T. U. Honored Miss Lois Nutbrown With A "Shower"

Huntingville, Oct. 11.—A delightful miscellaneous shower given by the members of the Huntingville W.C.T.U. took place at the Community Hall, one Wednesday evening, in honor of Miss Lois Nutbrown, who entered the hall to the strain of the "Wedding March," played by Mrs. Ernest Harrison.

Mrs. A. Fairbrother made and presented the bride-to-be with a corsage of tiny yellow rose-buds and pink and white sweet peas. Mrs. Ernest Wilson, aunt of the bride and groom, escorted Miss Nutbrown to a yellow, white and pink decorated chair. A mock marriage caused much merriment when enacted by Mrs. Ernest Harrison, minister; Mrs. Wendell Harrison, bride; Mrs. Lillian McClure, groom; and Mrs. Parker Lyonnais, bride's father; Mrs. Archie Fairbrother, played the "Wedding March."

Mrs. Henderson conducted two contests, the winners were, Mrs. Wallace Wingate, and Mrs. Lennox Bowers. The bride-to-be was assisted in unwrapping the numerous, attractive and useful gifts, by her cousin, Mrs. Curtis Robichaud.

After the gifts were passed around to be admired, the guest of honor graciously extended her thanks to all and invited them to visit her in her new home.

The bride's table was covered with a white linen tea cloth and centered with roses.

Seated at the bride's table were Mrs. Ray Nutbrown, of the Eaton Road, and Mrs. Ernest Wilson, and Mrs. Curtis Robichaud. Several members assisted in the serving of the refreshments.

A SHOWER

Miss Iris Nutbrown, prior to her approaching marriage, was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower, when Mrs. Ralph Broadhurst entertained at her spacious home for the bride-to-be.

Upon the arrival of the guest of honor to the strains of the "Wedding March," Miss Nutbrown was given a parcel containing a toy duck, the tail feathers held the direction which sent the bride-to-be on a "Treasure Hunt," revealing many lovely gifts in various places of the attractive rooms.

After each gift had been unwrapped and passed around, Miss Nutbrown graciously expressed her thanks to the fifteen guests assembled in her honor. The tea table covered with a linen cloth centered with a rose bowl, containing one exquisite bloom.

Mrs. Ernest Wilson, aunt of the bride and groom, poured tea and the hostess served a delicious fruit salad.

Mrs. E. A. Orr and Mrs. Kenneth Orr, of Milby, attended the shower.

General Notes

District Governor A. E. Cadman Of Montreal Honored Cowansville Lions Club With An Official Visit

Cowansville, Oct. 11.—As usual when dignitaries make a tour of inspection the Lions were on their best behavior as they met at the Ottawa Hotel to receive their District Governor, Alfred E. Cadman, of Montreal, and if the Governor was hoping for a good impression of the Cowansville Club he should have had it for during the course of the dinner several announcements were made to prove that the Lions are alive to the needs of their community.

Governor Cadman is no stranger to the Cowansville Club, having visited it on more than one occasion accompanied by many Lions from Montreal. His address "Canadianism and Lionism" was delivered with such clarity, and understanding that one could not help but be proud of his connection with the Lions.

He stated that from the first World War in 1914 that the tendency of men was to rely more and more on the government to provide for them rather than on their own private initiative. During World Wars I and II, soldiers serving their country were provided with housing, clothing, food, etc., which destroyed their own sense of responsibility.

Today in the Communist dominated parts of the world many people are denied the right to private thinking, and initiative. Our western civilization, our way of life, is in great danger from those states where Communism thrives. With the democratic world comprising only 10 per cent of the people our aim should be self reliance, and hard work to oppose those larger forces, whose aims are to dominate, and to destroy us.

Lionism presents an opportunity to men for self expression, to meet and to work with other men of good principles. With an organization of over 8,000 clubs in 29 countries of the world, and with aims and objects formed only for the good of mankind, and 400,000 members of this organization cannot help but be an influence for good. The newest club in the organization was recently chartered in Helsinki, Finland, right under Joe Stalin's nose. "Canadianism and Lionism" are two "isms" worth while.

The announcement was made that, acting on a wish expressed by Mr. L. Paul Hurlbise, while addressing the club on Sept. 12, a key to the Town of Cowansville has been mailed to our sightless friend, who is the Mayor of the Village of Chateau d'Eau, over the signature of His Worship L. B. Brault, Mayor of Cowansville, and with the sanction of the Town Council to all of whom a vote of gratitude is passed by the Lions. While Mr. Hurlbise will never be privileged to see his key he will know it is there as an expression of goodwill from the citizens of Cowansville, whom the Lions trust will contribute generously toward the coming annual drive, in October, to assist the C.N.E.B.

For five years perfect attendance at meetings special chevrons were presented by Governor Cadman to Lions Howard Hastings, Donald Barker, Guy Cousins, Carl Brock, Bill Peasley, and Spencer Henderson, and especially mentioned in this connection was "Lioness" Emily Cousins, whose constant presence at the piano is truly the making of good meetings.

The meeting was under the direction of the President, Howard Hastings. The speaker was presented by Lion Spencer Henderson, and thanked jointly by Lions Carl Brock and Bill Parry.

GOLF CLUB END SEASON

To mark the end of a very successful season of the Cowansville Golf Club, a supper was held on Saturday, September 30, when 100 guests were present.

After supper the chairman, Colonel W. F. Miller, spoke about the Club's activities and in his remarks he mentioned the many improvements that had been made to the clubhouse and grounds. He also said that the membership had been the highest this year, in the history of the club. That he hoped it would continue to grow. He expressed on behalf of the directors, sincere thanks and appreciation to Bruck Mills Limited and Vilas Furniture Co. Limited, for their generous donations and co-operation throughout the season. He thanked all the members who had made various contributions to the Club during the years. He specially thanked the directors, the various committees, Mrs. Roberts, Mr. W. Lickfold, Mr. G. Sharran, Mr. H. Johnson, the ladies' committee and Mr. and Mrs. Roland Boucher.

Colonel Miller presented Mr. and Mrs. R. C. McCormick with the first prize in the afternoon's event of a mixed two ball foursome; second prize went to Mrs. L. Wilkins and Mr. H. B. Higgerty; third prize, to Mrs. H. B. Higgerty and Mr. A. G. Pryde. Colonel Miller introduced Mr. T. C. McCormick who presented the trophies that were won during the season, and extended his congratulations to the following:

Mrs. L. Wilkins, Ladies' Club Championship, Mrs. H. B. Higgerty, runner up; Mr. Graham Sherman, Club Champion, Class A, Mr. Wilfrid Dussault, runner-up; Mr. Joseph B. Brown, Club Champion, Class B; Mr. Douglass Marchesseault, Club Champion, Junior; Mr. John Wood, winner of the Barker Trophy; Mr. Raymond Brown, winner of the Watt Trophy.

The match between the president's and vice-president's teams was won by the president's team and the Miller trophy was presented to Colonel Miller.

Congratulations were extended to Mr. W. Lickfold for having won the Eastern Township Senior Trophy.

Colonel Miller thanked Mr. McCormick and presented lovely gifts to Mr. and Mrs. Roland Boucher in appreciation of their work on the

WATERVILLE

The Ladies' Aid of the Waterville United Church held its regular meeting in the Church Hall, with Mrs. Preston Ingham as hostess. The meeting was called to order by the president, Miss Bertha Parkinson. The "Lord's Prayer" was repeated in unison. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Davidson, and approved. Letters of thanks were read from two members and the Sherbrooke Hospital Auxiliary. Mrs. Kenneth Spafford gave a report for the Sunshine committee on the number of visits,

MONDAY MORNING COACHES AT WORK AGAIN

The Sherbrooke Saints played their first hockey game of the season Sunday in Chicoutimi and went down to a 5-1 trimming at the hands of Rolfe Hebert's Saguenays, and the "Monday morning coaches" went to work right away.

It seems that "our second-guessers" have the team finishing in the cellar this year and they haven't seen the boys in action yet. Wonder what it will be if the club should drop a few more? I guess our expert coaches will have them out of the league entirely.

Let me say this: No team that finishes as champions of a circuit can expect any help from their opponents, and after losing players such as Reg Sinclair, Bill Heindl, Eddie Bush and Ray Barry it will take a little time to get back on a solid basis. Coach Ivan Dugre and Business Manager Forest Keene realized that and they are doing their best to try and get together another good team.

Their rebuilding was dealt a severe blow when they lost Bobby Fillion, who was claimed by New Haven, and so now they must look elsewhere for help. Ray Barry has been put up for waivers, and if it goes through he will be sold to Edmonton. Heindl is still with Saskatoon, and only time will tell about his future. Bush and Sinclair are both lost for good. Big Eddie needs an operation on his knee, while Sinclair is doing very well for himself with the New York Rangers, and we wish him all the luck in the world.

Nine players are left from last year's squad and around these Coach Dugre is building his team. Some of the boys reported to camp with a little too much avoirdupois and are having quite a time getting rid of it but the local pilot expects they will be hitting their stride soon.

As for picking the team apart I think we should at least give them time to settle down before doing that. It is a long winter, and after their showing last year I believe we owe it to them. They came through in fine style and gave us our first Quebec Senior Group championship and reached the finals of Eastern Canada, and the least we can do is ride along

Braves And Senators Battle Over Irvine

Montreal, Oct. 11.—(P)—Whether Jack Irvine will play with Ottawa Senators or the Quebec Senior Hockey League or lineup with Valleyfield Braves again this year was discussed last night at a closed meeting of the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association.

No decision was announced and the A.H.A. will hold another meeting tonight to discuss the question further.

Irvine, veteran Q.S.H.L. defenceman, received a "conditional release" from Ottawa last year to play for Valleyfield.

Now Tommy Gorman, owner of the Senators, wants Irvine back, but Arthur Vinet, owner of the Braves, maintains the player is Valleyfield property.

Both owners and Irvine appeared before the A.H.A. tonight. Irvine has said he wants to play for Valleyfield.

Others attending the meeting were Q.A.H.A. President W. Durand, Q.S.H.L. President George Slater and Q.A.H.A. Secretary Frank Dillo.

Chicago Downs Braves, Joannette Is Injured

Valleyfield, Que., Oct. 11.—(P)—Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League last night defeated Valleyfield Braves of the Quebec Senior League 5-3 in an exhibition game.

Roy Conacher and Bill Mosienko each scored two goals for the Blackhawks while Don Morrison tallied the other.

Valleyfield scored all its goals in the third period of the game. Larry Kwong, Jean Paul Bisillon and Bert Larivee.

Harry Lumley made 17 stops in the Chicago nets while Paul Leclerc handled 30 shots for Valleyfield. Braves centre Rossie (Kittling) Joannette suffered a knee injury in the second period when he collided with Chicago defenceman Jack Stewart. Joannette left the game but extent of his injury could not be established.

The bright point of the game for the locals, considering the status of both teams I think the A's have what it takes, but it will be a few seasons before things will look up for the locals as it is pretty hard to compete against such seasoned aggregations as the Montreal teams present. It seems to be a case of too much power for the local amateur outfit but at least the A's kept fighting till the last and that is something, although the odds were against them the whole way, which can't be denied.

The Sherbrooke Country Club held its closing dinner and dance Saturday evening followed by the presentation of prizes. Around sixty attended the dinner, which is a small number, but on the other hand it was a bad week-end. Thanksgiving, and the majority of people taking advantage of the nice weather to travel.

The members who attended the closing had a real good time according to all reports. The prizes and trophies were presented to the winners and the season was officially closed although some of the boys are still playing and no doubt will if the weather holds up for awhile.

Former Pivotman Will Be Sold To Edmonton Providing He Is Waivered Out; Saints Arrive Home Today

Ray Barry has been put on the waiver list and if he is granted permission will be sold to Edmonton, stated Forest Keene, business manager of the Sherbrooke Saints Hockey Club, yesterday afternoon.

The Edmonton team agreed to the price asked by the local club but he must be cleared out of the league by the waiver list. If he is claimed by any team in the circuit he must play for them or be suspended. If any team fails to claim him at the waiver price he may then be sold to Edmonton, but this looks improbable as some other teams are looking for players.

Others attending the meeting were Q.A.H.A. President W. Durand, Q.S.H.L. President George Slater and Q.A.H.A. Secretary Frank Dillo.

Coach Dugre put his team through their final workout at St. Hyacinthe this morning and the squad will arrive in town this afternoon. Tomorrow noon they will leave for Shawinigan Falls to tangle with Bucky Buchanan's Cataracts in their second start of the season.

The Saints will hold their first practice on the local freeze Friday afternoon at 4:00 and the fans will have an opportunity of seeing them in action for the first time this year.

8,250 Tickets For Grey Cup Game Put On Sale; Remaining Ducats To Be Distributed In Same Manner

Toronto, Oct. 11.—(P)—The Canadian Rugby Union today offered for sale some 8,250 tickets for the Grey Cup game here Nov. 25.

The remaining 19,250 will be distributed—as in past years—through the various teams of the Eastern and Western Football Leagues.

Each of the unions represented in the East-West final—the Western Interprovincial and the Big Four or the Ontario Rugby Football Union—gets 30 per cent of the approximately 27,500 seats in the newly-enlarged Varsity Stadium.

(These unions divide their share as they see fit: so many to each of their clubs, often according to the clubs' local standing.)

In addition, another 10 per cent goes to the league whose team is runner-up for the Eastern Canada title.

The 8,250—the final 30 per cent—are the ducats which used to go to ticket agencies for sale to the public.

This year the C.R.U. is handling

Toronto University Cracks Down On "Commercialized" Football; Other College Heads Back Stand

Toronto, Oct. 11.—(P)—The University of Toronto today led Canada's Eastern universities in a firm stand against "professionalism" in college football.

The move followed disclosure by President Sidney Smith of an abortive alumni plan to lure "promising football players" to Toronto with cash. He said the University "officially opposes" any such scheme.

He was backed by the heads of the Intercollegiate Football League's three other members—McGill, Queen's and the University of Western Ontario. All denied any university backing of player-subsidization plans.

Dr. Smith said a group of unnamed Toronto "old grads" wrote to a select list of graduates asking contributions to "persuade" football players to enroll at varsity. "Any project to subsidize players, however unofficial, will be officially opposed," Dr. Smith said. Football is an accepted part of college life, "but we of the University must never forget that it is an educational institution."

Dr. Smith added:

Casey Stengel Signs New Two-Year Contract At Figures That Could Be As High As $75,000 To $85,000

New York, Oct. 11.—(P)—Casey Stengel signed to manage the world champion New York Yankees for two more years today at a salary that could run as high as $75,000 to $85,000 a year.

Old Casey, a fabulous success with two pennants and two series victories in two years, explained his new contract in typical Stengel-like gestures.

"It's not $75,000," he said with a wink. "It's not $85,000, like some of you fellows been guessing. But it could be that."

What did he mean by "it could be that?"

"If I do good work," he said, "I can get it if I want it. No, we can't have the pennant. It's not attendance. Maybe, they've just got to like me."

Best guesses are that the new agreement calls for a basic $65,000 with a bonus agreement. "One thing more," said Stengel. "If anything comes up that I desire to leave because of my health or anything else, I can do it."

Stengel, preparing to leave for his Glendale, Calif., home where he hopes to "lay dead for a month," talked freely about his

Local Fans To Name Favorites For Award

The hockey fans of Sherbrooke will be given the opportunity this season of casting votes for the players in the Saints' lineup they judge to be the most valuable on a per-game basis. This voting campaign similar to the one conducted in Montreal by the NHL Canadiens will be left entirely to the fans.

Their ballots compiled after every home game will decide the "Player of Distinction" of Sherbrooke Saints. The winner will be awarded the Lord Calvert Trophy at the end of the season.

The ballots will be found in the Saints' program. The fans hold the exclusive right to jot down the three players they feel were the most effective on the ice for Sherbrooke. The votes are to be placed in the various Lord Calvert ballot boxes located at the various exits of the rink.

Three points go to their first choice, two to the second, and one to the third selection. Announcement of the voting progress will be made weekly in local newspapers.

This voting campaign started last year in Montreal proved to be a tremendous success. It was first experimented with the Montreal Alouettes, Dominion Football Champions. From there, the idea was carried into the Canadiens' Hockey Club, Maurice Richard emerged the "Player of Distinction" in hockey and Virgil Wagner the people's choice in football.

Both were awarded the Lord Calvert Trophy by Jack Clifford. The voting scheme in which the fans play the sole role was renewed again this year by both the Canadiens and Alouettes. Following an inquiry into other cities, it was learned that the fans there were just as rabid as those in Montreal and showed considerable interest in being allowed the right to act as judges.

It was decided after consultation with various officials that Sherbrooke, Quebec, and Chicoutimi be afforded the opportunity of having the "Player of Distinction" voting campaign this season. All agree that it would bring the fans into closer contact with the team and the players' performances on the ice.

Bill Ezinicki Arrives Unexpectedly, From Winnipeg; Signs His Contract

Toronto, Oct. 11.—(P)—Bashing Bill Ezinicki came back to Toronto today, but his stay was brief.

The sturdy winger checked in after an unexplained absence from the training camp of Toronto Maple Leafs, whose National Hockey League opponents have been unwilling recipients of his bone-rattling bodychecks in the past. Last night he checked out for Leafs' Pittsburgh farm club in the American Hockey League.

Bashing Bill's return to his familiar right-wing spot with the Leafs will depend on his ability to play himself back into shape with the Hornets against A.H.L. opposition.

When Ezinicki signed his contract yesterday for an unannounced sum, it brought to an end one of the most unusual holdout cases in hockey.

Three weeks ago, when he failed to report to the Leafs' training camp for pre-season conditioning, Ezinicki said in an interview he wasn't feeling in shape for hockey.

Today, the Toronto club's managing director, Conny Smythe, said: "Ezinicki had some personal problems that have worried him. But now he's ready to play hockey for Maple Leaf Gardens."

Ezinicki was smiling broadly as he emerged from a four-hour contract conference with Smythe and Hap Day, the Leafs' assistant manager. "It's up to me now," he said. "I guess I'll have to go to work."

He said that after playing in the Canadian open golf championship at Montreal in August he lost 20 pounds, dropping to 152 from his normal 170-odd. Now he's back to 168, close to playing weight.

The difference between major and minor league contracts in some cases is $1,000 a season.

However, Smythe indicated it might not be too long before Bill will get a call to Toronto.

He said: "When he's in shape he can be of use to the Leafs because we still haven't found that extra man we need. Ezinicki seemed to have known in his own mind that he wanted to play for the Leafs."

Dean McBride Goes To Sydney Millionaires

Sydney, N.S., Oct. 11.—(P)—Sydney Millionaires, building for defence of their Maritime senior hockey crown, announced addition of two new defencemen last night.

They are Dean McBride of St. Catharines, Ont., who played with Quebec Aces last year, and Laurie Mays, a reinstated professional from Winnipeg.

N. H. L. Season Opens This Evening As Rangers Visit Red Wings And Canadiens Meet Chicago Tomorrow

The annual autumnal practice of big-time sports crowding each other for attention—post-mortems on baseball's world series and post-season trades competing with the exploits of rugged footballers—starts in earnest tonight. The National Hockey League horns in with a face-off on its 70-game schedule, earliest inaugural in history.

It's a United States open—Detroit Red Wings playing hosts to New York Rangers—but all six clubs swing into action before the week is out. The sideline experts figure Detroit's talent-rich Red Wings to clean up in championship style again, but the coaches, including freshman pilots at Toronto, Chicago and New York, aren't going out on a limb.

Another opener is carded for Thursday at Chicago, where Eddie Goodfellow unveils his revitalized Black Hawks against Montreal Canadiens.

It seems, at this point, that there just isn't a team strong enough to challenge Tommy Ivan's Motor-City skaters, who beat the Blue-shirted Rangers in the Stanley Cup finals last April. But the Detroit coach predicts no runaway as last season.

"The league is better balanced," Ivan said, "and we can expect a six-team race. Our club is in good physical condition. I don't think the trade with Chicago has made us any weaker."

One of hockey's greatest players swaps sent veteran defenceman Jack Stewart, goalie Harry Lumley, forward Pete Babando and fighters last night.

Toronto—Alan McFater, 138-4, Toronto, decided Jean Richard, 138, Montreal (8).

Salt Lake City—Joey Maxim, 186, Cleveland, decided Bill Peterson, 210, Portland, Ore. (10) (non-title).

London—Bobby Boland, 122, Dundee, Scotland, decided Danny O'Sullivan, 122, London (10).

But behind that one idea seemed to be a little mixed up."

Before heading for Pittsburgh, Ezinicki reported for a medical examination. He was accompanied on his trip by Day.

When Ezinicki said at Winnipeg he wasn't in shape, Smythe asked him to report to a doctor there for examination. Nothing further was heard from him until yesterday when he came to Toronto by plane and phoned Smythe.

farmhands Don Morrison and Al Dewbury to Chicago. In return, Detroit received centre Metro Prystai, wing Gayle Stewart, defenceman Bob Goldham and goalie Jim Henry.

The deal apparently has bolstered both teams. The Red Wings have added extra scoring power to their already-fearful attack, and the Black Hawks have plugged their porous defence, a long-standing weakness.

Johnny Gottselig of the Chicago front office is extremely high on the trade. The one-time stick-handling great says the Hawks "will launch the season with the best defence in the League. Why, in eight exhibition games we've held the opposition to 20 goals while scoring 65."

Neil Colville, rookie coach of the Rangers, is less optimistic. "I don't think we'll finish first or second," he said. "We have a good chance for third. It'll be between us and Boston, but that Detroit is the team to beat."

Colville, Goodfellow and Jean Primeau of Toronto all are in their first year as N.H.L. coaches. Dick Irvin is a hold-over at Montreal, while Lynn Patrick shifted from New York to Boston.

Primeau, successor to Harry Day, who has moved up to assistant general manager, naturally won't go out on the limb.

"In a new coach in pro hockey," he said, "And I don't want to predict where we will finish."

"I will say this, though. The Leafs came within an eyelash of eliminating the Red Wings from the playoffs and we have strengthened our club at two or three positions. Yes, I like our club."

The Canadiens' Irvin agreed with Ivan that the League is better balanced. The league will be "tougher," Irvin said, "with Chicago strengthened and Boston better. Then there's Detroit's showing on the All-Star game. We've lost Durnan and Reardon. Otherwise there is little difference in our team and I recall when they came up people were wondering if they would make good. Our youngsters can do the same in time."

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT
JOHNS-MANVILLE HOME ABLAZE BUT NEIGHBOR'S SAFE

Time was when one house on fire and a stiff breeze imperilled a whole community! But with the ever-increasing use of Johns-Manville Cedargrain Siding Shingles for exterior walls and J-M Duraestos Shingles for roofs, this dreaded menace is passing out of existence.

J-M Cedargrains are made of asbestos and cement, two minerals that won't burn, won't rot, and practically speaking, won't wear out. Designed to blend perfectly with any type of architecture, Cedargrains are obtainable in five strikingly beautiful colours: Redtone, Greentone, Brownstone, and Dover White. All are effectively charming in new building or remodeling.

J-M Cedargrains never need painting for preservation; their upkeep is as thrifty as their low first cost. For free folder on Cedargrains, write Johns-Manville—Sun Life Bldg., Montreal—or see your J-M dealer.
