TIGHTEN GRIP ON RUM-RUNNER AT THE BORDER

Ontario Government Will Increase Staffs at Windsor and Cornwall.

TORONTO, July 16.—To fight more effectively the illegal liquor sale and rum-running at border points, particularly in Essex county, the Ontario license commission, with the sanction of Hon. W. E. Ramey, Attorney-General, is changing its tactics. Large consignments will hereafter be seized and the one to whom the liquor was sent will be obliged to prove to the satisfaction of the officials, that it is for his own consumption. On top of that, Magistrates will be requested to go the limit and inflict the penalty of imprisonment on those found breaking the law. "Perhaps a few jail terms will bring the rum-runners to the understanding that this can't go on," said Hon. Mr. Ramey last night. Extra men have been stationed at the Essex border, and an attempt is being made to get greater assistance from the local authorities. Municipal officers there are criticized by J. D. Flavelle, Chairman of the license commission, and Mr. Ramey is not at all well pleased with their show of co-operation.

WATCH ST. LAWRENCE TOO

Next to the Essex border, the most trouble has been on the St. Lawrence River in the vicinity of Cornwall. More men are being added to the Provincial force working there. Rum-running is being carried on across the St. Lawrence with the same methods used in the Windsor district.

WATCH ST. LAWRENCE TOO

Hon. Mr. Ramey explained the change of methods last night. "Heretofore the policy has been to permit the consignees to take their shipments from the station and the test as to whether the liquor was being used legitimately was to visit the address of the consignee, and if the liquor was gone, a charge of selling was laid. The result was that in many cases the fines were paid, but the offenders got away with profits very likely of from five to ten thousand dollars.

TWO BIG SEIZURES ALREADY

Two big seizures have already been made under the new policy, one at Amherstburg, and the other one at Amherstburg of 7,000 cases, and one at Windsor, of 1,200 cases. The owners will be charged under the act and made to prove in court that they purchased the liquor for legitimate purposes. "If we are beaten," said the Chairman of the commission, "and have to turn the liquor back to the consignees, then we will watch what use is made of it, and if we find that it is disappearing quickly we will charge them under another section of the law with selling and make them prove they are not selling." He thought the new system would be very effective "because when they can't get their liquor they lose the whole investment."

WANTS COLORS OF CANADIAN BATTALIONS

Hopes that Government Will Send Flags to Adorn Wolfe's Monument.

(Associated Press Despatch)
LONDON, July 4.—In connection with the appeal which has been issued by the Dean of Westminster for £250,000 to save the Abbey from falling into complete decay, the Dean makes an interesting reference to the association of Canadian troops with the Abbey during the war.

"No account of the Abbey in war time," says the Dean, would be complete without a mention of the Canadian battalions and their colors. Being suddenly appealed to, whether we could shelter their colors in the Abbey while some artillery went to the front, I gladly consented on condition that the transfer was carried out with a regular service of prayer and worship. This was readily approved of. And so, to cut a long story short, we soon had a whole series of services at which officers and N.C.O.'s of Canadian battalions committed their colors into our keeping—and we laid them on the high altar with a short solemn service. We afterwards, in the presence of the officers and men, deposited the colors upon the monument of General Wolfe. After the armistice, one after the other, the officers of these battalions came back to claim their colors. Once again the colors lay upon the altar, and were restored with an office of prayer and thanksgiving, combined this time with commemoration to the men who had fallen. Wolfe's monument is now quite bare. Three years ago it was bright with some thirty or forty flags which we had taken temporarily in charge. There was much pathos in those color services.

"I cherish the hope that some day a couple of colors for the perpetual adornment of Wolfe's monument, in memory of the many which we kept there for three years. During all that time they were a spectacle of never-ending delight and interest to every soldier visitor, as well as to our English crowds."

DUBLIN, July 16.—A police patrol was ambushed near Lanesborough on Wednesday night, one officer being killed instantly by the first volley. His companion who was wounded, returned the fire of his assailants until his ammunition was exhausted, using the body of his dead comrade as a breastwork.

RESOLUTE FORCED OUT OF RACE BY ACCIDENT TO HER RIGGING, BUT WAS STILL IN THE LEAD

Shamrock Made Course in Little More Than Four Hours and Twenty-Four Minutes—Challenger Made Bad Start, Crossing Line Before Signal and Being Obligated to Round About—Resolute Lost Throat Halyard Before Reaching Turn—Second Race Will Be Run Tomorrow.

(Associated Press Despatch)
SANDY HOOK, N.J., July 16.—Great Britain gained her first toe-hold in forty-nine years on the America Cup, when Shamrock Fourth won the first race of the 1920 regatta after the defender, Resolute, had been forced out of the race by an accident to her rigging. The Resolute was leading by five minutes at the time of the accident, and the Shamrock completed the thirty-mile course in four hours, twenty-four minutes and forty-eight seconds.

The Resolute's broken gear can easily be repaired and the two yachts will sail the second race over the thirty-mile course on Saturday.

The Resolute lost her throat halyard before the turning buoy had been reached and withdrew from the race.

Shortly after ten o'clock yesterday morning, both craft hoisted the mainsail, with a light breeze blowing about six miles an hour from the southwest. The defender was the first to cast off her moorings, and was followed in less than a minute by the challenger. The yachts headed towards the starting point under a full set of windward sails.

At eleven o'clock, the weather continued clear with overcast sky. As both yachts came around the Hook, the Resolute leading, bells and train whistles joined in a deafening salute.

The Resolute remained the betting favorite throughout the preparations. Owing to the decision of Captain Nicholson to carry a smaller class topsail, the handicap of seven minutes and one second was reduced to six minutes forty-six seconds.

At eleven-thirty, the regatta committee hoisted the signal for a southwest by south course.

The fleet of boats and yachts crowded with spectators clustered around the starting point and drew a smoke cloud that screened the course from shore view.

The course carried the yachts from Ambrose Lightship to a turning point a couple of miles off Ashbury Park.

The Resolute reached the start at eleven-fifteen, and the Shamrock followed half an hour later.

BELT FROM LUSITANIA WAS FOUND IN DELEWARE

(Associated Press Despatch)
PHILADELPHIA, July 16.—A life-jacket bearing a strand of faded blonde hair and marked "Lusitania" was picked up yesterday in the Delaware River.

The accident to the Resolute coming on top of three other major mishaps earlier in the season, the loss of the mast off New Haven, the breaking of the jaws of the gaff and the carrying away of a top mast off Newport, had a tendency to somewhat shake the faith in the ability of the Herreshoff creation to hold together until the end of the season.

It is claimed, however, that yesterday's race has demonstrated that the Resolute possesses better weatherly qualities and that in the light airs she is several minutes faster up the breeze than Shamrock IV. It was on such a point of sailing and under such conditions that the challenger came out on top.

MRS. O. JEFFREY HOUSEWORK REPLEASURE TO HER

After What Tanlac Has Done for Her, She Feels It Her Duty to Tell Others.

"It was Tanlac that restored my health so perfectly and I feel I am only doing my duty every time I tell anyone about this medicine," said Mrs. Olive Jeffrey, 191 Seventh Avenue, Lachine, Montreal. "I was in bad health and had for three years before I began using Tanlac. My stomach was badly disordered and my appetite had become so poor that I could not bare enough to keep up my strength. I was troubled a great deal with gas on my stomach and felt bloated most of the time. I was dreadfully nervous and sometimes became so suddenly that I dropped everything I had in my hands. I suffered with a constant nervous headache and at times while trying to do my housework I gave out and had to stop and rest. "One day my husband brought me a bottle of Tanlac and advised me to try it. Well, I started taking it and it was surprising how I began to improve. My appetite seemed to return all at once and as I began to eat better and sleep better my other troubles started disappearing. The indigestion was entirely gone and it doesn't matter at all what I eat I can digest it perfectly. My nerves are as quiet as can be and am free from those awful headaches I have gained several pounds in weight and feel so much better than my housework is now a pleasure. Tanlac will always have my respect and gratitude and I am glad to tell what I can to pass the good news along. Tanlac is sold in Sherbrooke at Griffith's Drug Store and at Berger under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative (Adv.)"

SAY WATERWAY ONLY SOLUTION OF SHORTAGE

Backers Claim St. Lawrence Route Less Costly Than Needed Rolling Stock.

Ottawa, July 16.—Absolutely convinced that the transportation facilities of the United States are no longer adequate to the task of moving to their destination the natural and manufactured products of its citizens, the Detroit Board of Commerce has called fourteen States to take counsel together as to how best to advance the project for a Great Lakes and St. Lawrence River deep waterway to the sea. This St. Lawrence and Great Lakes Tidewater Congress will be held in the auditorium of the Detroit Board of Commerce from July 22 to 24, inclusive, and invitations have been extended to all Canadian Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce, as well as interested importers and exporters, to attend.

Representatives of these States include Senators and members of Congress, Governors and influential United States citizens in many walks of life. The topics to be discussed are various. The congress will inquire what commodities will have unimpeded movement by these waterways to and from the coast, and to and from foreign markets. There will be investigations to ascertain what new productions, now restricted, would be made possible; what resources, now latent, might be developed; what traffic, now languid, will be relieved, and what obstructions to its completion, have to be overcome. Other questions to be discussed include the following: Terminal and transfer cost, the power crisis.

CHINESE SENT OPIUM WEST IN EGG CRATE

Restaurant Keeper in Papineauville Escaped When Wanted—Police Scent Clue.

(Associated Press Despatch) OTTAWA, July 16.—The accidental discovery at Papineauville, Que., a few days ago, by the Canadian Express authorities, of a quantity of opium consigned to Calgary has furnished the Canadian Mounted Police with the knowledge of the avenue by which they believe quantities of the drug have been making their way to the west during the past few months.

For some time past, a Chinese restaurant keeper at Papineauville has been in the habit of consigning one, two or three cases of eggs at a time to a fellow Celestial at Calgary, shipped via the Canadian Express Company at the Montebello Railway station. There had been no suspicion attached to the shipments until one day last week, when one of the cases of eggs, forming part of a shipment, was found to be leaking. The express company officials opened the case to ascertain how many eggs were broken, when they found a large number of cakes of opium. The consignment was placed under seizure and the Canadian Mounted Police authorities were acquainted with the discovery. In the meantime the consignor apparently heard of the disclosure, as he has disappeared. Inspector Ramsay is conducting an investigation in conjunction with the Calgary authorities to see if the consigner there can be located.

ENGLISH DOCTOR DECORATED BY THE JAPANESE

Dr. Conder Has Been of Great Service to Japan in Engineering.

TOKYO, Japan.—The Institute of Japanese Architects recently celebrated in Tokyo the fifteenth anniversary of its reorganization as a judicial body and presented a pair of bronze vases to Dr. Josiah Conder, who came to Japan from England in January 1877, in response to an invitation from the former Department of Public Works, in recognition of meritorious service he has rendered toward the development of architecture in Japan. Dr. Conder was the pioneer teacher of foreign architecture at the College of Engineering when that chair was first established in Japan. The time was not yet ripe for architecture then, and only seventeen graduated from the college during his professorship of eight years. Yet none can deny that the foundation of foreign architecture in Japan was then laid.

As an architect and adviser to the Departments of Public Works, the Interior, Agriculture and Commerce and also for the special office of the

EMPLOY THREE THOUSAND MEN ON HIGHWAYS

Big Programme of Construction Outlined by Government Department—Scouts Seek Material.

TORONTO, Ont., July 16.—After the harvest, when farmers will not be busy, the Ontario Government expects to have over 3,000 men working on the 1,800 miles of Provincial highways designated by the Minister of Highways. The work at present being done is largely preparatory. The department is going into the matter systematically.

Some twenty or more engineers have been appointed to the Provincial highway system. Each will have a stretch of from 70 to 100 miles. Scouts have also been sent out to locate road material and find the best ways of transporting it to the highways. In the northern part of western Ontario there is enough "local material" in almost all localities for the work to be done. The southern portion some will have to be hauled in for the work. These material-finders are finding gravel where the local people did not expect it, and the outlook for this end of the work is most promising. Permanent highway is being laid for just a few miles near Hamilton, and again near Brantford, where main roads converge and make heavy traffic. Macadam has failed to stand the strain in these portions. Much repair work is being done, and some actual construction. However, the greatest construction is to be done following the busy season with the farmers. No difficulty is expected in getting farmers for road work during the idle seasons. This means work in many localities, as the farmers cannot be brought together in large construction gangs. They will work small or locality groups.

WILLIAM IS WEARY OF THE SIMPLE LIFE

WIERINGEN, July 16.—William Hohenzollern, the former Crown Prince of Germany, soon will demand of the Dutch Government that he be permitted to emerge from his voluntary exile.

Through friends in other countries he is quietly and painstakingly ascertaining where he can go, if permitted to leave Holland, and is trying to find out in what country would be welcome.

William, jun., would prefer to return to Germany, not as a ruler, as a simple citizen. Discreet unofficial inquiries made in Washington as to whether he would be permitted to enter the United States as a private citizen.

I learned this today when I called on the Crown Prince at his home in Oosterland. "Surely the Dutch Government cannot intend to keep me here, and surely the Allies would insist on such a thing," he said. "I should like to go to the United States," he said finally. "If I do not return to Germany, I would prefer to go to America. Obviously I could not go to France, nor to Spain, nor Belgium. There is always Spain, of course."

NO SHORTAGE OF SUGAR BUT HIGH PRICES

Dealers Do Not Expect Any Change in Ruling Prices for Sugar and Canned Goods.

"Plenty of sugar if you've got the price," is the verdict expressed by many in talking about the present sugar condition. A good many gloomy remarks regarding the important work of canning have been heard, for it seems that the inevitable "if it isn't one thing, it's another" applies to fruit and sugar. That there is a plentiful fruit crop this year, is heard on every side, but the problem of putting it away for future use is a leading "topic of the day" regarding the shortage of the local sugar supply, statements of wholesale dealers show that the price is the only thing to worry about.

G. T. Armstrong and Sons, the largest local wholesale dealer in this district and high quality of dail and almost hourly diet, (taking into consideration the amount suppose to be resumed in ice cream and candy) have received a fairly good supply of sugar since the first of June, and give out the statement that they have had no difficulty in meeting the demands of customers. They also state that they have experienced very little difficulty in getting canned goods, and that there is no danger of a shortage this year. The cost of these goods has been increased more by the shortage of labor, boxes and shipping facilities, than through sugar prices, but many housewives do some deep thinking before they bring the empty "sealers" from their cupboards, and on account of said prices. A leading grocer, when asked about canned goods and sugar, said: "No shortage of either at present, and do not expect to have any difficulty in getting a supply to meet the demand." "Higher prices? Well I think they have reached the summit, in both cases." As an incentive for thrifty housewives to conserve strawberries, of which there has been a bountiful supply, the merchant sold strawberries at 25 cents a basket, and sugar at 22 cents per pound, through the strawberry season, stating that he considered it good business. The opinions of other merchants, wholesale and retail, confirm the above, and although the price of sugar is one of the big drawbacks of the fruit canning season, it may be left safely in the hands of the Eastern Townships L. S. W. to take care of the winter fruit supply.

through the country, a noticeable feature is the presence of women and girls—and children, too—in the hay fields, and an inclination comes to exclaim, "Bravo, you are surely doing your bit." Then an after-thought comes, "How many girls and women, not nearly so strong and healthy as those who pitch and toss the 'fodder' and guide the horse rake through the rows of sweet smelling hay, are standing from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. beside a loom or other machine in a steaming hot factory?" But there are few who are not willing to give the women on the farm credit for the help they render in the busy harvest season, which is also to them a very busy one.

The lines of the well-remembered poetry, "For men must work, and women must weep," has been adapted to the present-day sentiment in the form, "For men must work, and women must work too, or there'll be cause for weeping," and applies most suitably to the harvest season.

CHANGE OF TEMPERATURE MUCH APPRECIATED.

A general cooling-off process has been going on in the atmospheric doings, and today, people are fairly well able to exist, while collars and complexions are gradually resuming their normal appearances. The cool air and breeze of last evening was most refreshing after the humidity of the past two days and the present position of the mercury will be appreciated very much with hopes that it will remain so.

The temperature records at the Experimental Farm since Wednesday morning are as follows—highest 85, lowest 62, Thu. day 76—80, and this morning 64, showing a drop of 21 degrees.

Our rulers will best promote the improvement of the nation by strictly confining themselves to their legitimate duties, by leaving capital to find its lucrative course, commodities their fair price, industry and intelligence their natural reward, idleness and folly their natural punishment, by preserving peace, by protecting property, by diminishing the price of law, and by observing economy in every department of the state. Let the government do this, the people will assuredly do the rest.—Lord Macaulay, 1830.
