PROVINCIAL TREASURER WAS ON STAND TODAY

Hon. Jacob Nicol Denies He Ever Received Money For Granting Licenses

Provincial Treasurer Takes Stand and Reviews Transaction with Mr. Benoit Relative to Purchase of Property in 1920—Stated That He Referred Cote to Hon. Simard for Instructions Relative to Receiving a License and that He Had Done Nothing Himself—Messrs. W. Lazure and J. S. Couture, Associates of Hon. Mr. Nicol, also Gave Evidence—It Was a Cosmopolitan Array of Witnesses Who Gave Evidence During Session Yesterday Afternoon—Value of Affidavit in Face of Counter-Affidavit, Both Sworn by Same Individual, Is Matter Which Is Receiving Serious Consideration of Court.

THE value of an affidavit in the face of a counter-affidavit, both sworn to by the same individual, is a matter which is receiving the serious consideration of the court in the case of Nicol vs. Noel, which is now entering upon the third day. Yesterday's evidence showed that this is what occurred in the case of Victor Benoit, and the witness was put through a grueling cross-examination by Mr. St. Germain, K.C., counsel for the defendant.

During the course of the afternoon, a large number of witnesses were heard for the plaintiff, who contented himself with undertaking to establish that rumors that the Hon. Jacob Nicol had become associated with measures for the trafficking of liquor licenses, were current only subsequent to the date on which Dr. J. E. Noel had secured the affidavits from Wilfrid Cote, Ludger Roy and Victor Benoit.

It was a cosmopolitan array of witnesses who gave evidence during yesterday afternoon's session. Following closely upon the heels of Mayor Morris, there was an ex-mayor, Conservative and Liberal candidates, an ex-president of the Board of Trade, an alderman, a contractor, notaries galore, newspapermen, a city attorney, a detective, hotel operators, hotel clerks, and lawyers.

Hon. Nicol And His Business Associated Chief Witnesses At Court This Morning

Messrs. W. Lazure and J. S. Couture, associates of the Hon. Jacob Nicol, took the stand early this morning, and were called upon to explain the amounts of $750 and $200 paid by Benoit and Cote, respectively. Mr. Lazure observed that he had little to do with the actual transaction and confined himself to mentioning that the charges were reasonable. Mr. J. S. Couture detailed the Benoit account. He had been looking after this himself and showed that the greater portion of the account was for actions entered against Gagne, who refused to pay what Benoit claimed was a fair share of the profits. On another occasion Benoit held Gagne was not paying his full proportion of the repairs to the house, and finally an action was taken to dissolve partnership. Cross-examined by Mr. Alme Geoffrion, witness declared that the account for $750 did not include a single cent for work of any nature in connection with securing of a license, and further that nothing had been charged for any alleged advice given in this connection. Lazure stated emphatically that the amount charged was very reasonable, and further that the account had been very clearly detailed to Mr. Benoit.

Cross-questioned by St. Germain for the defence, Lazure failed to give a very satisfactory explanation of the accounting methods. The settlement of Benoit's account covered consultations extending over an indefinite period. Mr. Lazure refused to admit that any of the consultations insofar as he was concerned, was associated with licenses and, to his knowledge, Mr. Nicol had not held any.

Dr. Ernest Plante heard of certain rumors relative to trafficking in licenses and contended that he heard of same about the time the affidavits were secured by Dr. Noel.

Hon. Jacob Nicol took the stand and made a number of corrections of the deposition given at the examination on discovery.

Questioned by Mr. Geoffrion, he emphatically denied that he had ever received a single cent in connection with the granting of licenses.

Touching upon transactions with Mr. Benoit relative to the purchase of property in 1920, he said he was interested because the property was offered at a reasonable price and presented a fine real estate transaction.

Geoffrion—"You were not interested in politics?"

Nicol—"No."

Geoffrion—"You are a lawyer. You have been here long?"

Nicol—"Since 1905."

Hon. Nicol admitted being a member for Compton County, member for Richmond County, Provincial Treasurer, and being connected with the National Bank, Stanstead and Sherbrooke Mutual Fire Insurance Co., and the Sherbrooke Loan and Mortgage Company.

Geoffrion—"That is all you know about the Benoit contract?"

Nicol—"Yes, I heard nothing about it for a long time, and on my return from Europe I was surprised to hear I had been spoken of as Treasurer. I simply advised Benoit I would be glad to help him on with the money but I would have nothing to do with operating any concern."

Mr. Nicol detailed his associations with Benoit, holding that the contract was passed in 1920, prior to his entry in politics. Benoit claimed he was being persecuted by the chief of police. Hon. Nicol said he advised him that while it was preferable to get a recommendation from the council and the chief of police, it was not essential inasmuch as the Liquor Commission was entirely responsible for granting licenses.

He was very much surprised on his return from Europe to find that his name had been suggested as Treasurer. He undertook to furnish Benoit with the necessary money, but refused to be associated with the operation of any hotel.

Mr. Nicol commented upon the great possibilities of the legal profession, stating that on one occasion, when he had been away all month, he received, as his share of the returns, an amount three times as large as his remuneration as Provincial Treasurer.

Judge Globensky—"Have you ever enlisted your services to secure licenses?"

Nicol—"No. My office is continually filled with people from all sections of the province, asking about schools, etc., and as deputy, I must listen to them."

Mr. Nicol stated that he had referred Cote to Hon. Simard for instructions relative to securing a license. He had done nothing himself.

Lionel Forest, K.C., Called.

Hon. Nicol's evidence was at this point adjourned to hear that of Mr. Lionel Forest, K.C., who denied that he had ever told Dr. Noel that there were rumors circulating relative to Nicol's alleged trafficking in licenses.

Cross-examined by Mr. Paul St. Germain, K.C., Mr. Nicol admitted that he had an interview with Mr. Simard and Mr. J. H. Lemay relative to Gagne and Benoit. He said the interview was not arranged and he stated that insofar as he was concerned he did not care who was given the license.

Mr. St. Germain—"My information is that you had been supporting Mr. Benoit's application."

Nicol—"Absolutely not."

With the conclusion of Mr. Nicol's evidence, the case of the plaintiff was declared closed with the exception of hearing Mr. Arthur Bailargeon who is sick.

Defence Opened Case.

The defence opened its case with Dr. J. E. Noel on the stand. He stated he had been in Sherbrooke since 1883, and had unfortunately been connected with politics since 1911. He was President of the Liberals Association in 1919.

Asked what made him undertake to secure the affidavits Dr. Noel contended it would result in a lengthy review of conditions which would be to the detriment of the Liberal party.

St. Germain—"When did you hear of rumors which suggested the advisability of getting affidavits, and from whom?"

Dr. Noel—"I could not definitely state the time and the individual, but I remember Mr. J. H. Lemay, Sheriff C. E. Therrien and Gedeon Begin spoke to me before I under-

Another Important Affidavit In The Nicol-Noel Case

The following is the affidavit of Victor Benoit which was produced and discussed in the Nicol-Noel case in the Superior Court yesterday:

"Agreement passed between Victor Benoit, hotelkeeper, of Sherbrooke, and Jacob Nicol, lawyer, of Sherbrooke:

"If the said Benoit purchases the rights of Wilfrid Cote in a lease for a hypothecary loan passed August 11th, 1919, for the sum of $4,000, he undertakes to transfer same to the said Nicol for the same amount, and the said Nicol then becomes partner of the said Benoit, as Wilfrid Cote was formerly, and the lease passed in favor of the said Benoit, by Benoit and Cote, will remain in force. The said Benoit will have the right to receive the rent of the lunch cart, which will belong to him. It is understood that when the said Nicol will become Benoit's partner, both parties will arrange to make repairs to the hotel, and in this case new arrangements will be made.

"Dated Sherbrooke December, 1920.

"I, Victor Benoit, undersigned, duly sworn on the Holy Bible, declare the above document was dictated by Mr. Nicol himself to his stenographer and that he handed same to me himself. Mr. Cote did not accept the offer. Since, about February and March, 1922, the Hon. Nicol suggested to me that the only way to get rid of Cote was to have the property sold. I am to receive $100,000 from a timber limit," he said, "in the spring, and I will furnish the necessary money to buy the hotel and we will be partners in the hotel. Since I rented from Benoit and Cote it has always been the understanding with Mr. Nicol that he would furnish me the money to purchase a partnership with him.

"Sworn before me at Sherbrooke, October 16th, 1922. (Signed) Telephone Belanger, Commissioner of the Superior Court, District of St. Francis."

took the case."

Objections were raised by plaintiff to measures introduced by the defence to dig up old history, which was not directly connected with the present case. An amusing incident occurred when the discussion of the word "Chief" came up, inasmuch as it applied to chief of the Liquor Commission and leader of the Liberal party. Mr. Geoffrion observed that there could be many chiefs to a party and His Lordship Mr. Justice Globensky observed that a man was chief only as long as he was followed. There may be many chiefs he contended.

Mr. Cabana—"Yes your Lordship, the question of Liberal chief has attracted considerable discussion in Sherbrooke."

Judge Globensky—"Well let us say 'Chief of the Labor party.' (laughter).

Mr. Geoffrion objected strongly to the defence introducing the Lazure case when it was held that Mr. Lazure stated in open court, that liquor was being sold, through the commission, in car loads. Mr. Geoffrion held that even if the Commission had sold liquor it had nothing to do with the alleged charges against Mr. Nicol of trafficking

Belgian Government Will Shortly Bring Before France The Question Of Partial Withdrawal Of Forces In Ruhr District

The question will be discussed with the Paris Government as soon as the Ruhr situation is stabilized.

M. Jaspar, the Belgian Foreign Minister, in a recent speech in the Chamber, recalled the fact that France and Belgium were pledged to leave the Ruhr proportionately as the Germans fulfilled their reparations obligations. M. Jaspar said that neither would fail in their promise.

MANY SWINDLED IN U. S. BY REAL ESTATE SHARKS

Claims Foreigners During Last Few Years Swindled Out of $12,000,000 by New York Ring.

(Associated Press Despatch)

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Foreigners in the last few years have been swindled out of approximately $12,000,000 by a ring of real estate sharks selling undeveloped marsh lands within a fifty mile radius of New York. Jas. Wilson, deputy assistant district attorney, testified yesterday before the Joint Legislative Committee investigating immigrant exploitation.

Mr. Wilson stated that the sharks would supply free tickets for a Sunday inspection trip to a tract of land and would tell their guests that a lucky number would draw a lot. The lots, the witness continued, each was worth about ten dollars; and was covered by a blanket mortgage. Each guest won "a lot," but was charged $40.50 to cover legal fees for the transfer of the property.

HERBERT ASQUITH SHOUTED DOWN AT PAISLEY; BALDWIN TO ATTEMPT TO SPEAK AT GLASGOW TONIGHT

Vote of Women Uncertain in Great Britain—Canvassers Cannot Frame Anything Like a Close Estimate of Result of Polling on December 6—Many Anti-Labor Speakers Are Complaining that They Cannot Get a Hearing, Especially in Constituencies Where Communist Element Is Strong—Mr. Asquith Forced to Give Up Attempt to Address Paisley Meeting.

(Associated Press Despatch.)

LONDON, Nov. 28.—Election canvassers in Great Britain have found that a woman can keep a secret after all. They are complaining that while it always has been and still is possible to draw from the men some idea of how they are to vote, it rarely is easy, and in most cases is impossible to drag this secret from the women, consequently the canvassers cannot frame anything like a close estimate of the result of the polling on December 6th.

The women voters, the observers say, listen readily to the candidates, and are fond of asking questions, but they are far more reserved than the men in expressing their own opinions, and show no inclination to pledge themselves to support any party.

Commenting on this feature of the electoral campaign the Daily Mail says that women, as a new comer in politics, is less susceptible to party ties and traditions, and that it seems her view is more concerned with the domestic and bread and butter side of things than is the man's.

Premier Baldwin is going to Glasgow tonight to beard the radicals in their den, but whether his speech will be listened to is doubtful. Many anti-labor speakers are complaining that they cannot get a hearing, especially in constituencies where the Communist element is strong.

ASQUITH FORCED TO QUIT

Herbert Asquith was persistently shouted down last evening in Paisley, a few miles from Glasgow. A body of men calling themselves "the anti-parliament Communist federation" flourished a red banner inscribed "Hail Bolshevism—Russia," and every time Mr. Asquith began to speak a great outcry was raised. Ultimately quiet was restored for a short interval, but everything the speaker said was greeted with derisive comments. Attempts to put a resolution were defeated by the uproar, and Mr. Asquith was obliged to quit, while his opponents boomed and sang "The Red Flag."

Labor's latest prominent recruit, E. F. Wison, who was Mr. Lloyd George's chief adviser at the Genoa Conference and is the British representative on the permanent commission of the inter-Allied Supreme Economic Council, is addressing many labor meetings.

PREMIER'S SON ATTACKS THE GOVERNMENT.

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, Nov. 28.—Ignoring filial scruples, Premier Baldwin's eldest son, Oliver Baldwin, who professed socialistic views, made his first platform appearance in Buckingham last night in support of the labor candidate and denounced his father's Government, asserting that it had been in office a year and had done nothing but "twiddle its fingers."

There was nobody in the cabinet, declared the speaker, to tell the members to "get on with their job."

This remark was a particularly sharp slap at the Premier, who is nominally responsible for keeping members of his cabinet at their duties.

Concluding his attack, Mr. Baldwin said:

"Now the Government is talking about protection. The only protection I want is protection against a Government like that."

REQUEST REPORT ON SEIZURE OF BRITISH SHIP

British Government Asks for Information Regarding Seizure of Schooner Island Home.

(Associated Press Despatch)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—A request for information regarding the seizure by United States authorities of the British rum vessel Island Home, last week, off Galveston, Texas, has been received by the State Department from the British Embassy, it is learned.

The request has been forwarded to the Treasury Department for details upon which to base a report.

The Government legal adviser in the Island Home case under one of the Hovering acts, which dates originally from the Maritime Act of 1799, has since been continued in custom laws for scores of years, and at present is embodied in section 447 of the tariff act of 1922. It reads in part:

"It shall be unlawful to make entry of any vessel or to unlade the cargo or any part thereof elsewhere than at a port of entry."

Government legal advisers have held that the "unloading" of a cargo without a permit within twelve miles of the United States shore, the distance which it has long been the policy of the United States to assert jurisdiction in customs matters, is illegal, whether in the ship's boats or boats from the shore, if the purpose of the operation is the subsequent landing of cargo into the United States.

TWO DEAD IN TRAGIC FIRE AT ST. JOHNSBURY

Father and His Three-Year-Old Daughter Burned to Death—Another Little Girl Was Saved.

ST. JOHNSBURY, Vt., Nov. 28.—Alphonse Guyer and his three-year-old daughter, Dorothy, were victims in a double tragedy on Monday night which occurred when gasoline or kerosene used to light a fire in a stove, exploded, setting their home on fire.

The little girl was instantly burned to death by the flames from the burning oil. The father died at the St. Johnsbury Hospital, and another daughter, Genevieve, aged five, was badly burned about the face and one arm.

On his way to the hospital in the ambulance Mr. Guyer was able in a few disjointed words to tell his brother Gustave something of the fearful tragedy. The family had been away from home during the day and his first thought on entering the kitchen was to start a fire, supposing the fire was out he poured what he supposed was kerosene into the stove and was just applying the match when the can which he had placed on the stove exploded.

It is supposed that there was fire in the stove and enough to heat the contents of the cans.

Mrs. Guyer was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Eastman, the house adjoining hers, when the catastrophe occurred. Only conjecture can give the picture of the tragedy, for Mr. Guyer, though able to speak a little when the ambulance arrived, was not conscious long enough to tell the story of just what happened.

Evidently he was carrying the little girl when he entered the kitchen and sat her down on a low shelf as he prepared to start the fire. As the flaming oil shot from the stove and can it spread over the child and Mr. Guyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Eastman were seated in their parlor with Mrs. Guyer when suddenly, what appeared to be a huge torch, flashed past the front of the house and reappeared on the back porch.

The door opened and Mr. Guyer, his hair, clothing and arms aflame with the burning oil, rushed into the house. Mr. Eastman snatched up a blanket and succeeded in muffling him in it, but not before he himself was badly burned on both arms and hands.

Stanley Fay found the body of the child. He had entered the blazing, smoking room once and returned to the out-of-doors for air. But when someone said "There's a baby in there," he again went into the smoke-filled kitchen to join Earl Daniels and Theodore Boicash in their search for the child.

The fact that she was on the low shelf delayed the finding of her because the firemen naturally were searching about on the floor.

The whereabouts of the second little girl, Genevieve at the time of the explosion of the oil is unknown. She received burns about her face and along one arm, but they were not serious. She was taken to the home of a neighbor and kept there during the evening.

Stanley's ambulance carried Mr. Guyer to the St. Johnsbury hospital after first aid had been administered to his burns. At the time he could just speak a little and his hopes were held for his recovery. He died at four o'clock next morning.

The loss to the house has not been estimated as yet, but the flames spread so rapidly the kitchen, dining room and an upstairs room over the kitchen were wrecked. The quick and efficient work of the department prevented the flames from spreading to the outside of the building.

Mr. Guyer was an experienced automobile man and had been in the employ of Woodbury & Benoit for a number of years. He was 28, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Guyer.

Eight years ago he married Miss Eva Parrall, of Barnet, and they recently bought the home on Pansumpic Street, near Hasting's bridge, the scene of Sunday's tragedy. Their two daughters, Genevieve, aged 5, and Dorothy, the first victim of the flames, were born in St. Johnsbury.

Mr. Guyer leaves besides his wife and daughter his parents, nine brothers and sisters—Leon, of Rock Island; Joseph, of Claremont, N.H.; Alec, Gustave, Archie and George, of St. Johnsbury; Mrs. Millie Langlois, of Waltham, D.C.; Mrs. Mathilde Gauthier, and Mrs. Dorra Gauthier, of St. Johnsbury.

Mrs. Guyer, who had gone to a neighbor's to telephone, reached the house just as the explosion occurred. She rushed to the home of T.J. Moshier, nearby, to call help, and in her haste beat on the window with her bare hands, breaking the pane and receiving a bad gash in one hand.

The hand of tragedy has rested heavily on the Guyer family. A few years ago Fred Guyer, a brother, fell from a St. Johnsbury building on which he was working. Another brother, George Guyer, the well-known St. Johnsbury hackman, was prostrated by a stroke of paralysis two weeks ago. A niece died Sunday in a brother-in-law, Joseph Gauthier, husband of Mrs. Mathilda Gauthier, of Prospect avenue, succumbed to an illness of consumption. Joseph Breason, the Lyndonville man who was so badly hurt in an automobile accident on the Wheelock road early in November was a brother-in-law of Gustave Guyer. It will be remembered that immediately following Mr. Breason's accident, Mrs. Breason was injured by the accidental discharge of a gun, the shot entering her back.

Mothers Should Not NEGLECT BRONCHITIS In The Babies

Mrs. E. Langdon, Kingston, Ont., writes:—"My baby boy had bronchitis when he was two weeks old, he recovered from the attack but took it again several months later, and on account of the severity I was almost panic-stricken to know what to do for him. My mother advised me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, as she had used it for several years with splendid results.

I got a bottle, and after I had used it I could see a decided improvement in him; after several bottles he was completely relieved.

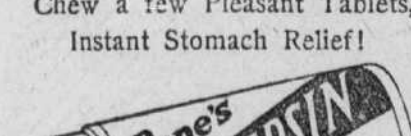

My boy is now two years old, and he has never had an attack of bronchitis since.

As a mother, raising a family, I am very grateful to know that I have found a real remedy for bad colds and bronchitis, as it lifts care and anxiety from an anxious mother's shoulders."

Butler, Wellington Street South, was found by friends in the woods about twenty miles from Gould after he had been lost for five or six hours on Sunday night. Mr. Butler, accompanied by a friend went out hunting on Sunday, and in a dense woods they became separated. Mr. Butler found himself alone in unfamiliar country when night came on and rather than wander aimlessly about in the thick forest, he stayed where he was. When he did not return, his friends became alarmed and instituted a search for him, finally finding him about six hours later, none the worse for his experience.

DEBATE ON PROTECTION IN ENGLAND AT BISHOP'S COLLEGE. A large audience, which included many interested citizens from both Sherbrooke and Lennoxville, gathered in the library of Bishop's College on Monday evening to listen to the debate on protection in England and the benefits or evils to be derived from a protective tariff argued by the students of the college. Prof. E. E. Boothroy acted as chairman and made a few introductory remarks. He regretted the absence of Mr. A. C. Skinner, of Sherbrooke, who is keenly interested in the Debating Society. The resolution was as follows: "Resolved that this house favors the imposition of a protective tariff in England at the present time." The affirmative was argued by Messrs. R. Earls, leader; B. J. Cohen and Rev. A. E. Legge, of the faculty of arts, while the negative was upheld by Messrs. D. D. McQueen, leader; C. E. Sauerbraut and E. Douglas, of the faculty of divinity. The affirmative based practically all their arguments on the fact that the only possible solution to the economic crisis which faces England today is the immediate application of a protective tariff to relieve the unemployed by fostering the home industries. Many of the points put forward by their opponents were ably refuted by the negative supporters, who based their arguments on the statement that free trade was one of the fundamental principles of British economics. They showed by statistics that the percentage of the population unemployed in 1913 was only two per cent., while today it is fifteen per cent. The total imports for 1913, they stated, were greater than any of the last three years. Mr. S. P. Smith, M.A., headmaster of Bishop's College School, gave his decision in favor of the free traders. Mr. Smith complimented all the speakers on their able arguments.

PRESENTATION TO MR. NEIL DINNING. At the meeting of the Court of Deacons of the Plymouth Church, held last evening at the Congregational Parsonage, Dr. G. E. Read, on behalf of the court, presented to Mr. Neil Dinning a handsome gold-headed cane in token of the high esteem and regard in which he is held by his fellows. The occasion of the

LENNOXVILLE FINAL ARRANGEMENTS FOR UNVEILING OF SOLDIERS' MEMORIAL.

A meeting of the sub-committee of the soldiers' memorial committee was held last evening to prepare a line of action to be submitted to the general meeting of the whole committee on Tuesday evening, December 4th, in the town building. It was reported that the construction of the granite work of the monument is now finished, that three of the four bronze plates are ready, and that the whole will probably be completed inside of ten days. A suggested programme for the unveiling ceremony was outlined and, subject to the approval of the general committee, will be at once worked out to a successful conclusion. Colonel A. H. McGreer, Principal of Bishop's College, will give the chief address, and General D. C. Draper, of Sutton, has consented to officially unveil the memorial. Funeral of Mr. George Povey. On Sunday morning there passed away in the person of Mr. George Povey, one of Lennoxville's oldest landmarks, deceased having reached the advanced age of eighty-one years. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon from his late home on College Street to St. George's Church, where the service was conducted by Rev. W. R. E. Wright, pastor of the church. The choir sang the hymns, "Nearer My God to Thee," and "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," and at the conclusion of the service, the motor procession took its way to Malvern Cemetery, where interment took place. The officiating bearers were borne by George Pennington, William Paige, Chas. Crawford and William Reed. Although the request was made that flowers be sent there were friends who took this method of showing their sympathy. The chief mourners were the widow, Mrs. George Povey, four children, Monica, James, Ruth and George; a brother, Mr. John Povey, of Sherbrooke, and his three sons, George, Fred and Thomas Povey; Mrs. Pankhurst, mother-in-law, and Mrs. Gibbs, niece, of Montreal.

The late George Povey was born in Swindon, Berkshire, England, coming first to Montreal and Sherbrooke and finally settling in Lennoxville forty years ago, where he has ever since resided. Here he established a business as a baker, which vocation he followed until the time of his last sickness. Few business men will be remembered by a larger number, particularly boys and young people, to whom his pastry shop was for many years a favored spot. In habit he was domestic and home-loving, finding in his immediate surroundings the scope of all his aims and affections. He will be greatly missed from the family circle, where the loss of a husband and father is sincerely mourned.

W.M.S. Meets. The monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society was held yesterday afternoon at the parsonage. The attendance was good, two new members being received. In response to the appeal for funds for the Margaret Craig Memorial in Tokio, the sum of twenty dollars was handed in. Arrangements were made to pack a bale of clothing for the Deaconess Home in Montreal, during the coming month.

presentation was the seventy-fifth anniversary of his birth, which occurs today. Dr. Read spoke of the long connection which Mr. Dinning has had with the church and the church's work, and the appreciation felt by all for his services in various capacities. Dr. Read offered the congratulations and hearty good wishes of the Court of Deacons to Mr. Dinning upon this occasion. In replying, Mr. Dinning expressed his complete surprise at the event and his great appreciation of the token of the regard of his fellow members. He referred to the early days of his connection with the church, and dwelt especially upon his work as Sunday School teacher. Following refreshments, the meeting was brought to a close.

STREET CAR RAN ACROSS STREET. About seven o'clock last evening a street car proceeding along Wellington Street jumped the tracks near the Record Office and, turning at a right angle, struck the curb in front of Woodard's store. The damage done was not of a serious nature, some glass being broken. Both tracks of the Sherbrooke Street Railway were blocked for a time until the car was pulled back on to the rails. The accident was said to be due to the strenuous efforts of the motorman to avoid a collision with an automobile crossing on to Wellington Street from Meadow Street. The too sudden application of the brakes evidently threw the street car from the rails. Only the high curb saved the front of Woodard's store from being considerably damaged. The automobile, which was driven by Dr. Lemieux, of Weedon, struck the side of the car as it swerved across the street, but was only slightly damaged.

Young People's Corner

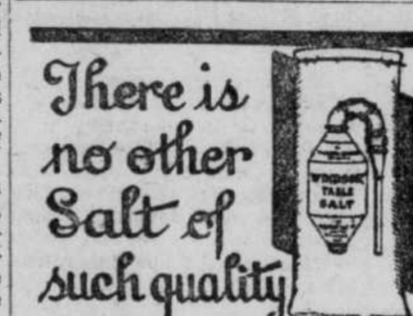

Uncle Jim's Letter

Dear Corner Boys and Girls:— We have a letter today from Grace who has been one of our good cousins, also a J. R. C. lone member last year, and we have a new cousin who is very welcome to the corner. We would all enjoy seeing those mink, Arthur. They must be interesting little fellows. You also have some fine pets. I hope Madame Parrot does not learn any naughty words. Sometimes they pick up bad words much quicker than good ones, but they should not be blamed too much, as they must hear them first to be able to repeat them. There are some other lone members at Stanstead and if you are in the same group I hope you will work and study J.R.C. rules together. I am sorry to learn about that corn, Grace. Did you put out any scare-crows? Sometimes the crows are too clever to be frightened by poles with old coats and hats on them. They surely are destructive birds and though they do good in some ways, they must be driven from the grain fields. I am very fond of pigeons, and I have enjoyed the story about the ones who carried the good news and were given recognition for their work. The story will finish tomorrow and then we will have one about our flag, which tells us many things we all should know about it. If we are to show our loyalty to the flag we can do it much better by understanding the "why and wherefore" about it. I have a large bundle of letters waiting for their place on the corner table, so I will not take up too much space with mine. Best wishes from UNCLE JIM.

BILL AND COO A story about Pigeons. "What came next?" asked Rob, much interested. "I suppose they popped the two pigeons into a big pigeon-pie and had a good Thanksgiving dinner." "No, indeed," answered Bill, indignantly. "The victorious Venetian fleet were not ungrateful. The story of how the good news was brought was told to the Doge of Venice, who ordered that the pair of doves should be brought to the city in great honor, and that they should be allowed to choose a building site for their nest, and that they and their heirs should forever be fed at the city's expense. The pigeons choose the front of St. Mark's Church for their home, and there we, their great many times great-grandchildren are living today." "People say," added Coo gently, "who had not spoken before, "that the little boy who comes out into the Square every day at noon to feed us is a descendant of that other little boy who six hundred years before so generously gave up his pigeons to carry the news." "Stuff and nonsense," cried Bill, scornfully "don't mix fact and fancy, Coo, and besides you didn't give me time to tell Signor Rob that the three poles which he can see standing in front of St. Mark's are trophies brought from Candia and have been placed there to commemorate Venice's victory over that island." Bill, having finished his story began to look about him for more bread crumbs, but Coo, not content that she had not been allowed to do her share in the talking, flew gently in at the open window, and lighting on Rob's pillow, whispered these few words in his ear. (Concluded tomorrow.)

The Multiplication Of Bathtubs

Homer, writing nearly a thousand years before Christ, of the Trojan war four hundred years earlier, mentions polished marble bathtubs. Cordova, capital of the Moorish empire of Spain, had 900 public baths in the eleventh century. But the first bathtub in America was imported from England about 1820, and the first one built in this country was made in Cincinnati in 1842, of mahogany lined with sheet lead. Eli Whitney, the inventor of the cotton gin, imported the English tub, and was so proud of it he kept it outside his house in New York City, alongside the front steps, and had it carried into the house when he wanted to use it. A bathtub was installed in the White House in 1851, to the delight of President Fillmore. This was a great advertisement for the new convenience, but opposition arose against its use from a surprising source. Even the medical profession were bitterly opposed to it. They said it was dangerous to bathe, especially in cold weather, the councils of many cities forbade the use of the bathtubs without a medical order. Now it is said there are two bathtubs to every one automobile in the country. Some change since 1840. We'll say so!

Come in and let us show you our line of up-to-date bathtubs and bathroom equipment. At the same time we will tell you where you can buy the new non-skid bath soap.

HON. JACOB NICOL DENIES THAT HE EVER RECEIVED MONEY

ing in license. He held the two incidents could not be related. Even Mr. Lazure made the remark, he contended that they could, in no way, be held to apply to Mr. Nicol.

Mr. Lazure's Declaration Re Liquor Selling.

St. Germain—"But Mr. Lazure declared in open court that the Liquor Commission was selling liquor by the case and by the car loads. He is Mr. Nicol's associate and that is why we want to prove it."

Judge Globensky—"Mr. Nicol is not a member of the Liquor Commission."

St. Germain—"No but he is a member of the firm of Nicol, Lazure and Couture. We want to show the causes which brought about the enquiry."

Judge Globensky—"The enquiry is being conducted upon the conduct of Mr. Nicol and not upon the conduct of the Commission, as outlined by Mr. Lazure."

Defense Did Not Insist Money Received by Nicol.

Mr. Cabana spoke to the court at length on the reasons which made

VICTOR BENOIT WAS ON STAND FOR PRACTICALLY FIVE HOURS—COUNTER-AFFIDAVIT ADMITTED BY COURT AND FILED—MANY WITNESSES WERE CALLED DURING DAY

Victor Benoit was again on the stand when the session re-opened yesterday afternoon and, during the closing minutes of his five hour evidence, he was put through a grueling cross-examination. Witness stated that when he mentioned that Mr. Nicol told him he would get a license in spite of the council or the chief of police, he meant that Mr. Nicol held that it was not within their jurisdiction to grant any license and that it was entirely up to the Commission, as the law had been changed.

Mr. Aime Geffrion produced a counter-affidavit, signed by Victor Benoit, which was objected to by the defence on the grounds that it was posterior to the case. It was admitted by the court and filed. Under cross-examination, Benoit admitted it had been prepared by Mr. Lazure, and that it had been prepared because he, witness, had been deceived by defendant. He was asked how he could swear to two affidavits which were contradictory and witness claimed the first one was erroneous. He added that Benoit, Cote and Roy also gave affidavits.

Mr. Benier Picard, notary, observed that he had been advised of certain affidavits secured by Doctor Noel, which claimed to prove that the Hon. Mr. Nicol had been trafficking in licenses, but he was unable to give any dates or state who told him.

Mr. F. S. Kugg, member of Frase, Rugg, Mignault and Holtham, stated that he had first heard of the case a few days before the action was taken. He had been advised of the incident by his partner, Mr. Chas. Mignault. Cross-examined, he admitted that the rumors were such that they might injure a man, politically, professionally and socially.

Mr. Chas. Mignault, advocate, advised that he became acquainted with rumors, to the effect that Nicol was making money out of licenses, during the month of October 1922. On being questioned he stated he had been advised of the rumors by Mr. Benoit, the official stenographer. He had also read about the matter.

Ex-Mayor Hebert in Witness Stand.

Mr. F. H. Hebert, ex-mayor and ex-president of the Board of Trade, acknowledged having heard rumors to the detriment of the Provincial Treasurer. Dr. Noel had spoken to him about them saying that Nicol disposed of licenses and making reference to a "famous" meeting between Nicol, Tobin and Mitchell at the New Sherbrooke House. Noel had said Nicol was a dangerous man, and had added that a movement should be undertaken for the public good to remedy the situation. He observed that Noel had told him Nicol was being paid for securing licenses, and mentioned specific cases which he could not remember. He held that Noel had also told him of the affidavits but that he immediately disinterested himself from the incident, as both plaintiff and defendant had been good friends of his.

Under cross-examination, Mr. Hebert admitted that lawyer Couture was his son-in-law. With regard to his own business Mr. Hebert emphasized the fact that he had never paid a cent to Nicol or his associates for his own license and that he had never approached Nicol or his associates with regard to same. Mr. Hebert admitted that he had once been a Conservative candidate in the Provincial elections and, as a matter of fact, his opponent was another witness, Sheriff C. Therrien. His Lordship Mr. Justice Globensky jokingly remarked, "that will not discredit you."

Mr. Edouard Boisvert, city attorney, of the firm O'Bready, Panneton and Boisvert, stated that notary Gervais and Dr. Noel had spoken to him about Nicol's alleged trafficking in licenses. He had been stopped in the corridor outside the offices of Belanger and Benoit and shown one of the affidavits which he did not even read.

Reviewed Effort to Get Back Affidavit.

Mr. Neron, former clerk for Victor Benoit, and now detective in the United States, dealt largely with the account of Nicol, Lazure and Couture, for services rendered to Mr. Benoit. He held the fees were ex-it advisable and even necessary to include this evidence. He contended that the defence did not base its action entirely upon Mr. Nicol's alleged dealing in licenses, but also dealt with the public and party moral which was injured. He contended that the defence had never asserted and did not assert that Mr. Nicol had received actual payment of money for licenses.

His Lordship contended that no individual had a right to make a private enquiry as to the doings of another.

St. Germain—"Is your Lordship rendering his judgment?"

Judge Globensky—"No, I am merely disposing of this point. The objection raised is maintained."

Mr. Noel then related how he had asked Mr. Tobin, M.P., to arrange an interview with Mr. Nicol, to discuss political matters. This was before the question of affidavits came up. Mr. Tobin arranged for a meeting at his residence one Sunday in October, but Mr. Nicol failed to turn up.

Mr. Noel then wrote to Nicol and Tobin but Nicol never answered his letters. It was after that when he saw Benoit, Charest, Breton and Theriault, the actual date being October 3rd. The court adjourned at 12.30 p.m. with Mr. Noel still on the stand.

ceedingly reasonable and swore, as far as he knew, nothing had been paid for a license. He reviewed the visit to Dr. Noel's office in company with Roy, Cote and Benoit, when an effort was made to get back the affidavits.

Neron related how Dr. Noel had visited the Hotel des Voyageurs and purchased a package of cigarettes. "He engaged Mr. Benoit in conversation, but was afraid to say much on account of my presence. Mr. Benoit assured him I was his right hand man and Dr. Noel then continued his remarks. Noel observed that Nicol wanted to make Benoit lose his license and, after examining the account from Nicol, Lazure and Couture, held that it was exorbitant and that it did not include the cost of a license, he had been robbed. Noel then mentioned that Cote had paid $3,000, Bailargeon about $500. It cost him $500 because he was a Conservative organizer."

Roux—"It costs them more." (Laughter.)

Neron—"Noel said Nicol had received the money for granting the license. I presumed it meant paid to him. Noel said he would take the account and put it in his safe and, if necessary, he would show it to the Prima Minister. It was to be used on behalf of Benoit in case Nicol opposed his license. The following day Benoit told me he was in a "lad corner" as he had gone to Nicol's and signed an affidavit which he did not quite understand. I then went with Benoit to Dr. Noel's hospital where Benoit asked for the affidavit back as he understood it was to be used in a campaign against Nicol. Noel told him that he could have it back if he wished to associate with vice and "casualties" but that he would remember. He also said that Nicol had acquired complete control of the Sherbrooke patronage and that the deputy had threatened to resign, further that he, Noel, would get Nicol out of the Cabinet within two weeks."

Roux—"Did you see the affidavit?"

Neron—"No he would not show it to me. I would have liked to have seen it. The first time I saw it was when Mr. Benoit and I went to the court. Noel again told us that the account was extravagant and that if the license was not paid for, Nicol had overcharged. He wanted me to give an affidavit with regard to the account, as I had settled it."

Roux—"You refused to sign the affidavit?"

Neron—"Yes I refused to sign. He said he had mentioned nothing about the incident and that it was Nicol who was a public liar, as it had been proven at the New Sherbrooke House before Tobin and Mitchell."

Roux—"You returned to Noel's?"

Neron—"Yes five or six days later with Cote, Roy and Benoit."

Roux—"What for?"

Neron—"To get affidavits, as I was working for Mr. Benoit."

Roux—"What happened?"

Again Visited Dr. Noel.

Neron—"Cote was the speaker. Speaking to Dr. Noel he said: 'I thought you were honest, but you are a deceiver. You are a Judas. You said Sauve was carrying on a campaign against Nicol.' Noel admitted he had said this merely to secure an affidavit. Cote spoke very loud and the doctor threatened to put us out. He wanted to get the police, but we refused to go. Noel said that we did not understand him and that it was up to all good Liberals to help Mr. Nicol. He then went on to say that the public liar was enriching himself at the expense of the licenses and that within a couple of weeks he would be out of office. He then gave Cote his hand and told him he was pleased to see his stand and find him so frank. He also spoke of Tobin and Mitchell, said Nicol was the black sheep and would have to get out. Cote told him that the soles of his shoes were cleaner than Noel's heart. Referring to the affidavits Dr. Noel said: 'I can assure you that I cannot change it, but I can only use it in the manner you desired it should be drawn up.'

Neron then explained the cases which had been included in the bill from Messrs. Nicol, Lazure and Couture, for services rendered. He contended that the bill was very reasonable as Benoit saw Mr. Lazure or Mr. Couture nearly every day for a long period, and then every second

Social and Personal

Mr. H. H. Ingram, of the Magog House, has gone to New York, where he will spend a few days.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Methodist Church met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Shorten, Laurier Avenue, a large attendance of members and four visitors making a pleasant gathering. Mrs. Green, the president, was in the chair for the usual business routine, and arrangements for the Christmas sale were completed, conveners being appointed for the various departments. At the tea hour the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Pearce.

The regular meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's Church was held yesterday in the vestry of the church with a good attendance of members. Mrs. Price presided, and after the devotional exercises, reports were read by the various secretaries, showing much progress in the active work of the society. The treasurer's report showed that the amount of the annual thank offering was this year somewhat in excess of the amounts for previous years. Other business matters were discussed and arrangements for a birthday tea and musical to be held on Tuesday, December 4th, were made. The affair will be held at the home of Mrs. Andrew Macdonald, Prospect Street, and its purpose is to raise funds for the current expenses of the society. Miss Margaret Macdonald gave an interesting talk on "The Women's Missionary Society, the Handmaid of the Church," following which the meeting was closed by the Mizpah benediction.

day. He held that whenever he went with Mr. Benoit he had never seen Mr. Nicol. The costs had been due to three cases, one to secure a division of the profits with Gagne, a second one to compel repairs to the tavern after the license had been received and a third one to dissolve the partnership with Gagne. The latter had been settled out of court.

St. Germain—"Why did Gagne and Benoit not agree?"

Neron—"Difference as to character."

City Employee Admits he Has License.

Mr. Horace Hebert, employed in the city accounting offices, stated that the first he knew of the incident was when Mr. Benoit spoke to him about it and mentioned that Nicol would have to resign. Hebert admitted he had a license, but it did not interfere with his duties as a city employee and he merely acted as supervisor. He denied ever having told a Mr. Dixon that he was certain of getting his license for the coming year, and that he would be the only one in his district. He explained that the license holders had met and felt that there should be fewer licenses and an effort was to be made to keep them down. He denied ever having paid Nicol or his associates a cent for his license.

Many Called to Give Evidence.

Mr. J. S. Tetreault, notary, and chairman of the Finance Committee, advised that he had full cognizance of the rumors and had heard Dr. Noel had secured affidavits detrimental to Mr. Nicol. He was unable to state who told him or give any definite dates. He admitted that his offices were formerly adjoining those of Messrs. Nicol, Lazure and Couture, but denied he had been advised of the incident by any of the members of that firm.

Mr. Leon Lacombe, ex-president of the Board of Trade and ex-Grand Knight of the Knights of Columbus, had heard the rumors circulated but was unable to specify any particular dates or state whom had spoken to him.

Mr. Elzear Bernard, prominent member of the Board of Trade, remembered hearing the rumors discussed, but did not know by whom. He admitted that he was not alone in his business, for which he had secured a license, stating that Mr. J. A. Bouthillier, of the local Commission store, was a partner.

Alphonse Breton, clerk for Mr. Arthur Bailargeon, had seen Dr. Noel enter the store and talk to Mr. Bailargeon, but was too far away to catch the trend of the conversation.

Mr. Ludovic Charest, contractor, heard Bailargeon tell Dr. Noel that he had never paid a cent for his license.

Dr. J. A. Ledoux stated that the first he had heard of the incident was when one of the doctors at the hospital came in with the information that a "big political scandal was about to be exploded" and that Dr. Noel had secured certain affidavits which were detrimental to Mr. Nicol. He added that he had heard the names of Cote and Roy mentioned.

Mr. Leonidas Bachand, notary, had heard rumors circulated, but could not give anything definite as to dates or persons.

Mr. C. A. Robidoux, managing editor of the Tribune, observed he had heard frequent rumors that Dr. Noel had secured affidavits detrimental to Mr. Nicol, but did not remember the names or the time.

Mr. A. W. Reid, city editor of the Record, stated that he had secured the information which had appeared in the "Record" and "Gazette" and which had also been sent over the "Press wires." He observed that the rumors had first come to his knowledge shortly prior to the action being taken, and that he had interested himself in trying to get a copy of the affidavits purely for newspaper purposes. His information had been secured through legal circles.

Mr. A. B. Dugal, city chief accountant, stated that he had heard the rumors on the streets. He was unable to give any specific dates or name the persons who had supplied the information.

Dr. H. A. Leblanc, of Magog, was in Sherbrooke this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Langlois, Minto Avenue, entertained last evening at a pleasant card party of four tables. The prizes were won by Miss Mary Roy, Mrs. E. Rodrigue, Mrs. Larrievie, Mr. J. Roy and Mr. Bouthin. Dainty refreshments were served during the evening by the hostess assisted by Miss E. Roy.

The Young Ladies' Guild of Plymouth Church was pleasantly entertained last evening at the home of Mrs. J. G. Ranshousan, London Street. There was a good attendance of members and the president, Miss Fales, was in the chair for the usual business routine. Sewing was continued, and it was decided that the play which the members had been rehearsing would be left until after the holidays, when it will be produced. A social hour was enjoyed, during which dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

A kitchen shower is always an enjoyable event, for the scope given the guests in the way of gift-giving is almost without bounds, and last evening's kitchen shower for the Baptist Church was a most enjoyable event. The Ladies' Aid decided that an evening shower would allow a good number to be present, and their decision was a happy one. The spacious assembly hall in the new church was filled with visitors early in the evening, and the table holding the gifts was a centre of attraction. On it were noted various dishes so much needed in serving suppers, teas, etc., including platters, pitchers, glasses, trays, vases, soap and towels, with a regular downpour of salt and pepper shakers, and a most acceptable cash donation. The president, Mrs. Jones, expressed her deep appreciation for the generous donations, and the officers and members joined in providing a pleasant evening for all present. An attractive programme was provided under the supervision of Mrs. Hadlock, of Lennoxville. Musical numbers were contributed by Miss Liddell, Miss MacIntyre, Mrs. Dalton and Mrs. Salter, vocal solos; Mr. Wilson, of Toronto gave a saxophone solo with Mrs. Norcross at the piano; Mr. Elwood Hunter, a cello solo with Mrs. Hadlock accompanying; the Misses Nan Holgate and Dorothy Saunders a piano duet, and Miss McCaw a piano solo, each number receiving hearty applause. Mrs. Hadlock, Mrs. Norcross, Mrs. Salter and Miss Gertrude Gilson acted as accompanists for the soloists. Excellent refreshments were served at the close of the musical programme, and during the early part of the evening several people inspected the interior of the new building, which is fast nearing completion.

An attendance of twenty-four members and four visitors provided a happy gathering for the meeting of the Young Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's Church, held last evening at the home of Mrs. Raymond MacDonald, Stanley Avenue. The meeting was opened with the usual devotional exercises, the president, Mrs. Cathcart, being in the chair, and a brisk business session followed. The chief item of business was the report of the recent Old Folks' Concert, one of the most successful entertainments given by the young ladies. The financial report showed that the clear receipts from the concert totalled one hundred and thirty dollars, which the officers felt was most gratifying. Heartly votes of thanks were accorded various helpers and the president wished to extend, on behalf of the Aid, deep appreciation to all those who took part in the programme, and who assisted in any way toward the success of the evening. Other items of business received attention, after which a pleasant social hour was participated in by all present. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Bright, Mrs. A. MacDonald and Mrs. Malcolm MacKay, Mrs. Cleveland presiding at the tea table.

CITY BRIEFLETS

JUNIOR CHAPTER OF I.O.D.E. ORGANIZED

At a gathering of young ladies held last evening in the Art Building, a junior chapter of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire was organized, numbering among its members a large number of the young girls of the city.

Mrs. G. L. Hume, regent of the Municipal Chapter and head of the order in the city, was present, together with Mrs. W. S. Fry and Mrs. W. A. Farwell, who explained to the young ladies the principles and ideals of the order and great field of endeavor which lay open to them, challenging their efforts.

Officers for the new chapter were elected temporarily. Mrs. K. B. Jenckes was chosen regent, and Mrs. D.C. McRae and Miss Marion Parker were elected as first vice-regent and second vice-regent, respectively. Miss Edith Holbrook was elected secretary pro tem, and Miss Alice Wilson was chosen treasurer. Miss Charlotte Jenckes was elected as educational secretary, and Miss Edna Palmer was made standard bearer.

The name of the new chapter has not yet been decided upon, but will be selected at a later meeting.

LIBRARY CAMPAIGN STARTED.

The campaign to raise two thousand dollars for the Sherbrooke Library was opened today, and several subscriptions have already been reported to the committee.

A meeting was held last evening in the library, at which final arrangements were made. A large number of new members have been secured and considerable interest is being shown in the campaign.

The need of funds for the library was emphasized. The institution is conducted upon a very meagre annual income barely sufficient to meet current expenses, and not enough to provide for that expenditure upon new publications and repairs, without which no library can maintain its standard of usefulness and its position as a true benefit to the community. The library is a public institution, supported by the public, and maintained for the benefit and education to the public. Its value to the community cannot be challenged, and with more generous support its sphere of usefulness can be widened and extended to an unlimited degree. A well-equipped and up-to-date library is, it was pointed out, an absolute necessity for the welfare of the community, especially the younger generation, to whom it is the only source of information on many subjects of vital interest to them.

Some one hundred and fifty cards were distributed to various canvassers last evening, and strenuous effort is to be made to secure a total number of subscriptions which will exceed the objective of two thousand dollars.

LITTLE BOY DIED FROM BURNS.

The funeral of the little two-and-a-half-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Omer Vallee, Galt street, was held yesterday and was attended by a number of friends of the sorrowing family.

The circumstances surrounding the child's sad death, which occurred at the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital on Sunday afternoon, are tragic.

On Friday the little lad was playing, in company with some other children, in his mother's kitchen. Mrs. Vallee was at work in the kitchen, and in the course of her duties she placed a tin filled with boiling water upon the floor. She turned away for the purpose of filling another pail with the hot water, and in a few seconds when her attention was removed from the pail upon the floor the unfortunate child fell into the scalding liquid.

The little fellow was taken to the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, where, in spite of every care and attention, he passed away on Sunday shortly after noon.

An informal investigation was held by Coroner Bachand into the circumstances surrounding the affair, but the evidence was such that a formal inquest was deemed unnecessary.

REMAINS OF FORMER SHERBROOKE BOY BROUGHT FROM BOSTON FOR BURIAL.

The funeral service of the late Mr. Oliva Beaugard, of Boston, was held Monday morning at St. Michael's Cathedral, and was largely attended. The requiem mass was sung by Rev. Father Tetreault, with Revs. Parent and Camirand as deacon and sub-deacon. The soloists were Messrs. Proulx, Precourt, Bachand, Archambault, Caron and Hebert.

The funeral director was Dr. St. Pierre, and the bearers were Messrs. E. Precourt, F. Griffith, H. Couture, A. Gendron, J. LeBlanc and H. Audet. The principal mourners were the three brothers, Messrs. George and Arthur Beaugard, of this city, and Mr. Henry Beaugard, of Montreal; Messrs. Laine and J. O. Archambault, brothers-in-law; Messrs. Roger Archambault, Albert Laine, Donat Martin, Lucien Hebert, Jean Paul Laine, Rosario Couture, nephews, and several cousins. The cortege was followed to the Cathedral and cemetery by several professional and business men, relatives and friends in this city, and from out-of-town.

The casket was covered with beautiful floral offerings, and many designs, masses and spiritual bouquets were also sent by relatives and friends. Among these was a large wreath on a stand from office friends in Boston, while others were sent from the Fraternity of Railroad Employees.

The remains of the late Mr. Beaugard were accompanied by Messrs. Fred J. Schultz and John Dewar, respectively, the above orders of which the deceased belonged, and who conducted the last rites of their orders over the body of their comrade Sunday evening.

The deceased was the son of the late Mrs. Beaugard.

HUMIDITY WAS SUBJECT AT THE ROTARY CLUB

Mr. G. D. MacKinnon Gave Interesting Talk on Heating Conditions and Moisture Necessary for Good Health.

Mr. George D. MacKinnon was the speaker at the regular session of the Rotary Club at the New Sherbrooke House last evening. The subject of his address was "Humidity as applied to the heating of dwellings, offices and factories." Mr. MacKinnon has devoted a great deal of time to the study of this subject, and many of his observations are set forth in the following address:

"I have for some years been interested in one subject which I have felt was of sufficient importance to warrant consideration of the members of this Club for a short time and through them, to those less fortunate.

"The subject on which I am going to say a few words is on 'Humidity,' particularly in connection with the heating of homes, offices and factories, for I fear from my observation, very little thought is given to this important matter and you will, I hope, excuse personal references. Some four or five winters ago, we found at home that our furniture was going to pieces and concluded that the air must be too dry. I was also painfully aware of the fact that our doctor seemed to figure on so much of my monthly salary for we were continually sick, particularly with colds, bronchitis, tonsillitis, etc. I, personally, was also troubled with very dry skin which produced a very uncomfortable feeling. The house was heated with hot air and the furnace was equipped with a water tank, but like the great majority, as I have found, this tank was never used. At this point, however, I decided to try it out and was surprised to find that I could evaporate a couple of buckets of water a day and that my work repairing furniture, etc., ceased to a considerable extent. The health of the family also increased considerably.

"When I built on Portland Avenue, I had a hot air heating apparatus installed as I considered that the most desirable system for this climate, besides being considerably cheaper than steam or hot water, and I specified that the furnace should be equipped with a water tank. This, however, was not done and after considerable experimenting, I devised an automatic arrangement, which I had installed. I had nothing city, and spent his boyhood here. At the time of his death he was chief clerk in the office of the N. Y., N.H., and Hartford Ry. Co. in Boston. Besides the above mentioned relatives, he is survived by five sisters, Miss Josephine Beaugard, Mrs. Laine, Mrs. Archambault, Misses Albertine and Eva Beaugard, all of whom have the sympathy of their friends in their bereavement.

EXCELLENT REPORT GIVEN AT W. A. MEETING.

At yesterday's meeting of the W. A. of St. Peter's Church the chief item on the programme was the report given by Mrs. Selveright of the conference of the Dominion Board held recently in Halifax, N.S., which Mrs. Selveright attended. Mrs. James MacKinnon presided, and the usual routine was carried out before Mrs. Selveright's report was given. The delegate spoke in glowing terms of the visit to Halifax, the places of meetings, the hospitality and the conference in its entirety. She made reference to St. Paul's Church, in the hall of which the sessions were held, as a beautiful edifice and one of the oldest in the Dominion, and to the fine addresses given during the sessions. One of these was the illustrated lecture by Dr. Westgate, who brought several important matters before the assembly. He warned the W. A. workers against curtailing their work in any way in the Northwest, where "we have blazed the trail," he added.

Another interesting address was that given by Miss Shaw, who told of experiences in Japan during the earthquake. She referred to the fine spirit manifested by all the nobility, the Moslem Red Cross women, and the mission workers in general. One incident touched upon is a story in itself—the fact that in one factory where five thousand girls were working, locked in, no effort was made to let them out of the building. They were simply abandoned to their fate.

Mrs. Selveright reported on several important matters connected with the Auxiliary work, such as the pension scheme, finances, etc., all of which was listened to with marked attention, and which left its inspirational mark on the minds of the members present.

"Just here I would like to say a few words about humidity itself. Humidity is really wetness of the air and is measured as a percentage of saturation. Air at zero contains one-half grain of moisture per cubic foot when completely saturated, while air at seventy degrees contains about eight grains or sixteen times as much as does air at zero and varies almost directly as the temperature above thirty degrees. The average summer humidity is about sixty per cent, or as we sometimes say, there are sixty degrees of humidity, and it is noticeable that there are so very few cases of colds and other throat troubles during that season; the worst seasons for them being the fall and winter. The heating of our houses has, in my opinion, a great deal to do with this situation at this time of year.

"During the winter we take into our houses zero air and heat same to about seventy degrees. This air, when we take it in, contains one-half grain moisture per cubic foot when saturated. Now, what is the condition of this air at seventy degrees? If no moisture were supplied, the heated air would be almost bone dry. Fortunately, however, there are leakages into the house from the outside. There is also steam from the cooking in the kitchen, taps and basins from which there is evaporation and a considerable amount from the bodies of those in the house, so that in an ordinary house, without evaporation pans, etc., the average humidity is from fifteen to twenty per cent, instead of about sixty per cent, which should be provided for health. The consequence of this is that the pores of our skin, our throats, mouths, noses, etc., dry up and cannot function as intended, and our bodies are unable to resist attacks of germs, resulting in illnesses of many kinds.

"Then take the case of heating a house for comfort. Our bodily temperature is approximately 98 degrees. Now, if we have water at 98 degrees and add water at 50 degrees, we naturally expect the mixture to be colder than 98 and hotter than 50, so it is seen that any temperature below 98 is really a cooling rather than a heating one so far as our bodies are concerned. We note, too, that evaporation produces cold. If, for example, we should pour ether on our hand, a feeling of immediate relief for heat would be produced. Use alcohol and water and the result; gasoline still less, and water still less, but in any case we feel the change in temperature quite readily, particularly in the case of the volatile substances. We also feel the change in temperature if, after taking a hot bath, we expose ourselves to a dry atmosphere even at 70 or 75 degrees temperature, but not in a moist atmosphere, showing that it is evaporation rather than temperature, which defines bodily comfort. So it is found that if the humidity be maintained at about 60 degrees in the house, a temperature of 65 degrees is more comfortable than a temperature of 75, or even eighty without humidity. There is not the chilly feeling so frequently experienced.

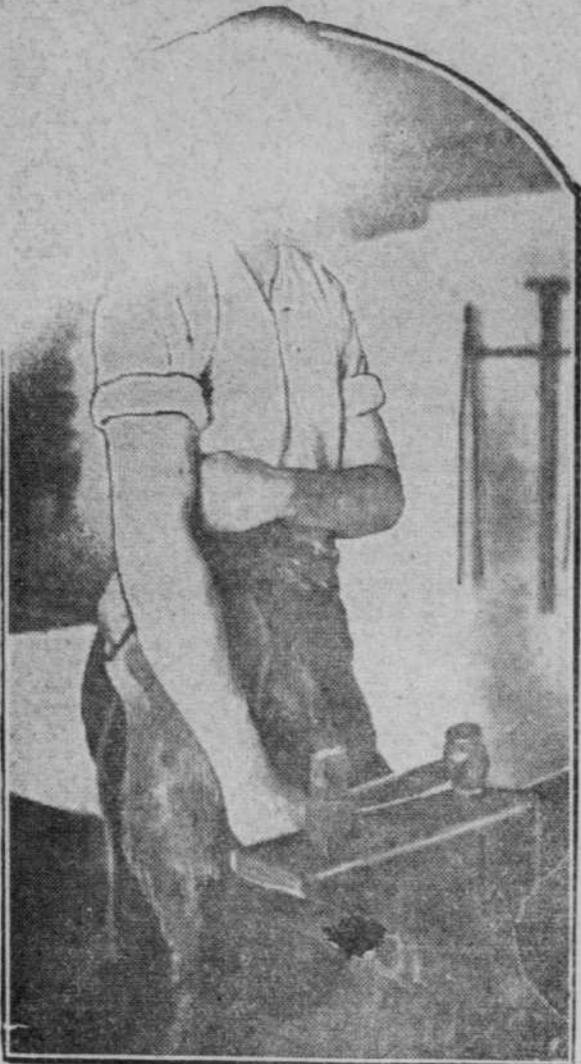

"In the case of hot air heating systems, it is possible to control this humidity as well as may be desired, and the apparatus is a very simple one, inexpensive and easily installed. It consists simply of an evaporating tank, preferably of cast iron, placed on top of the furnace inside the galvanized lining and connected by means of a pipe to a trap tank fixed on the outside of the furnace, which tank is provided with a ball float valve, used in a toilet tank and this connected with the water supply. This is necessary when you consider that in an ordinary house from ten to twenty gallons of water should be evaporated daily, a ten-roomed house should have about fifteen gallons. Unfortunately, steam and hot water systems do not lend themselves so readily to humidifying apparatus, although there are producers of special forms of apparatus which tend to accomplish the desired results, but not nearly so readily as in the case of hot air heating systems.

"Manufacturers in many lines have realized that for the sake of their products as well as their employees, they must keep their plants properly regulated and air conditioning has become very favorable known.

"It is a noticeable fact that employees of these air conditioned apartments are not subject to winter sicknesses to the same extent as others not so well provided for. It is also a noticeable thing that women and men employed in laundries where they are living all day in a moist atmosphere, are not subject to colds, and this is also true of women who do their own cooking and spend a good deal of time in the kitchen over steaming pots and pans. You have also all remarked on the fact that washerwomen can work over a hot tub and then go outside in the cold winter weather to hang out clothes, without taking cold.

"Then there is the increased efficiency of employees and others living in humidified atmosphere. Henry Ford, for example, found that in his executive offices, the efficiency had increased to such an extent that he had the system extended to his entire plant."

PRESS COMMENT

MILLIONS FOR PROHIBITION.

President Coolidge's message, according to dispatches from Washington, will recommend an appropriation of $28,500,000 for the construction of a great fleet of swift small cutters and motor cruisers to be used in running down rum-runners. That sounds like business. The sum to be asked for is a pretty big one, but if prohibition is to be enforced in the United States, liquor smuggling from foreign countries must be stopped. It is admitted that the smuggling business is flourishing now, largely because of the inadequacy of the facilities for combating it. If the President's recommendation is allowed, the Treasury Department will have vessels enough to maintain a gordon around the entire coast line of the United States.

FINE WORK OF BRITISH UNIVERSITIES.

It is a wonderful work which the British Universities Committee is accomplishing in helping to meet the countless tragic needs of their fellow students in the various European centers of learning. During the last three years some 20,000 books have been sent to a number of universities, as well as many gifts of food, fuel, clothing, books and instruments to individuals. Still the situation almost beggars description, and a campaign is now being organized to raise a minimum of $5000 for further urgent relief. One writer on this subject was declared that if the youth of the world can be won to such a task of cooperation, mutual understanding, and mutual respect, there is hope for the future. And in this statement is much truth.

THE WORK OF THE BOGUS DOCTORS.

It now appears that the State of Connecticut has three hundred suspicious death certificates on its hands as the result of the scrutiny which has been compelled by the developments in the case of the death of a veteran soldier under alleged malpractice. The proceedings against the man Sutcliffe have brought to a focus an appalling amount of medical malpractice, revealing the fact that two hundred persons have obtained license to practice medicine and surgery in Connecticut who have never undergone anything like recognized or adequate training. It has been revealed that an "institution"—that is, a pretended medical school which has no actual existence as a school—has been granting pretended degrees at the national capital, under the direct aegis of the Congress of the United States. The matter of these bogus degrees and irregular practice has become a national scandal.

TREE-PLANTING IN THE WEST.

While the forests of Eastern Canada are being rapidly used up or destroyed, it is encouraging to note that the Western prairie is losing its character of a treeless country. It is pointed out in Canadian Forest and Outdoors, Ottawa, that from 1901 to 1923 70,000,000 seedlings and cuttings have been distributed free among prairie farmers. As a result this distribution there are now about 40,000 shelter belts. Settlers say that the value of each of these belts is from $500 to $6,000. These woodlands not only provide shelter against winds and give other solid advantages, but add greatly to the attractiveness of the country. There is no surer way of increasing the national wealth, whether measured in dollars or in the pleasures of life and the cultivation of the sense of beauty.

CANADA AND MEXICO.

A comparison of the different conditions on the two frontiers is interesting. Between the Gulf of Mexico and Southern California, along a border line about one-third of that which runs along the 49th parallel, there are twelve forts, 8,250 soldiers and 450 officers. On the northern boundary, between the United States and Canada there is not a single fort nor a solitary garrison, and there has not been for one hundred years. And what is more, the longer these conditions prevail between the two nations, the more remote does armed conflict seem to grow. It is encouraging to see that wherever the question of disarmament along the Mexico border has been taken up, it has been approved by the public. The people are sound at heart on both sides. The abolition of the forts and garrisons would cement friendship and do more to make Mexico feel gratified than any written treaty, however felicitously worded.

THINKS CANADA IMPORTS TOO MUCH.

In the six months ending with September the exports of Canadian produce amounted to $463,769,440, which is $65,536,144 more than the value of Canadian products imported in the corresponding six months of last year. In the same six months the merchandise entered for consumption for consumption in this country amounted to $464,330,317, which is $100,419,581 more than the value of goods entered for consumption in the corresponding six months of last year. In the period therefore the country's external trade increased both on the export side and on the import side, but on the import side $34,883,437 more than on the export side. The six months' import exceeded the six months' exports by $10,570,877.

The large growth in our imports is mainly to the credit of the United States. As to our exports nearly one-third of them is contributed by one group of merchandise, namely wood, wood products and paper. These the United States wants, and so puts no tariff obstacle in the way of getting them into the country. In the six months in question the exports of these amounted to $140,000,000 as compared with $107,000,000 for the corresponding six months of 1922.

SCHOOL REPORT AT KNOWLTON: GENERAL NEWS

Reports of Meetings and News Notes from Knowlton and District.

KNOWLTON, Que., Nov. 28.—The quarterly meeting of the trustees of the Pettes Memorial was held in the reading room on Saturday morning with all members but one present. Mr. J. E. Fay presiding in the absence of the president. General routine business was proceeded with and plans made for the winter months.

Invitations are out for the opening of the "Heroes Memorial High School" at Cowansville. The banquet will be held on Friday evening, December 7, at eight o'clock. Cowansville is to be congratulated on the erection of such a fine building, also the appropriate name, "Heroes Memorial," which they have applied to it.

Mr. Scott Emerson, of Enlagna, who is attending Knowlton High School, was taken violently ill Friday noon on the street and was rushed home in a car.

Mr. Felix Brouillette has been spending the past week in Montreal with relatives.

Master Stevens Lynch, of Sherbrooke, was a week-end guest of his great-grandmother, Mrs. S. W. Foster, at "Nestledown," also calling on some of his friends and classmates while here.

Messrs. George T. Harris, of Montreal, and Harry Carmichael, of Cowansville, were among the week-end guests.

Mrs. A. C. Paintin returned on Saturday evening from a few days with her sister, Mrs. Hartley, and family in Montreal.

Mr. James Carmichael has had a fine Marconi radio installed, Mr. J. H. Russell superintending the installing.

The Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church met with Mrs. L. M. England on Tuesday afternoon. There was a large attendance of enthusiastic workers. One of the educational features of this gathering is the study book which is reviewed and presented in condensed form by readers, Mrs. Hagar and Mrs. England gave a review of the first chapter. The purpose is to give an intelligent idea of the work and the fields occupied, and to keep before the mind those sections of the world that are untouched and are crying for light, as well as those which are sitting in darkness and are contented to do so. Mrs. E. M. Taylor read a piece entitled "The Society of Folded Hands," a story of societies that have no aim, and Miss L. Knowlton read an appreciation of the life of Margaret Craig. The sum of $9.75 was given by the members towards the building of the Margaret Craig Memorial building in Japan. The original was destroyed by the recent earthquake there. Margaret Craig had spent the nineteen best years of her life for this home. Also $7 was contributed towards the sum needed for a sale of flannelette for making up for needed cases of local or distant cases of need. Many contributions were brought by the ladies of groceries, canned goods and useful garments for the Bethany Home, Montreal. The box, however, will not be packed for a week, and many others who may desire to contribute may have the privilege. Refreshments were served. The collection taken totalled $2.20.

The report of Knowlton High School first term examinations follow. (*Indicates pupils unranked or absent.)

THE BRITISH ELECTION. The election campaign has now entered its final phase, with all candidates in the field. Conservative, Liberal and Labor are fighting for power, and present predictions are that all three parties may find themselves in the next parliament with fairly equal strength.

The many three cornered fights add to the confusion of the situation and incidentally to the expense, the cost of the election being estimated at £2,000,000.

Even should the present Government be returned, it is not certain that it will be able to put through its tariff proposals as within Conservative ranks are a number of free traders and still more who have not endorsed the protectionist platform.

The battle is being waged with more than the usual vigor and, because of the divergent policies of the parties, the result is likely to have an important influence upon British industrial and political life.

CANADA AND IMMIGRATION.

The working out of Canada's new immigration policy will be watched with interest. If this country could receive and absorb half a million new comers annually the forward march would be resumed in earnest. In 1913, the year before the war, the immigration movement to Canada reached 402,432. Even in 1914, the number was 384,878. Then followed the years of the war and then the period of reconstruction, Canada's immigration figures being as follows:

Table showing immigration figures from 1915 to 1919. Columns: Year, Immigrants, and another column with numbers.

In the face of this diminishing immigration, there has been an increased emigration to the States due to industrial activity and high wages across the line.

The present Dominion Immigration plan, the results of which will be shown in 1924, may be summarized as follows:

The Hon. James A. Robb, Minister of Immigration and Colonization, has announced an open-door policy for those immigrants to Canada who are likely to succeed and for whom there is a demand. He has intimated that any adequate immigration policy must recognize that while Canada requires increased population, quality rather than quantity must count; that British immigration must hold first place in the programme, and that the selection of Canada's new settlers must have due regard to physical, industrial and financial fitness and the Dominion's powers of absorption. Facilities will be offered for the immigration of such skilled and unskilled labor (other than agricultural) as Canada may require from time to time. As the British Isles alone cannot furnish a sufficient quota of the agricultural classes, efforts will be made to encourage immigration from certain areas of the continent of Europe and from the United States. In co-operation with the British Government, under the terms of the Empire Settlement Scheme, it is proposed to afford assistance to those of agricultural and houseworker classes from the Mother Country. Careful attention will also be given to assisting those placed on the land so as to ensure their success. To this end the Soldiers' Settlement Board has been brought into alliance with the Department of Immigration and under the same Minister. Most of the restrictive regulations found necessary during the reconstruction period have been cancelled and the flow of immigration, as far as possible, made natural and not arbitrary. Operations are being extended with a view to encouraging the migration of the largest possible number of the classes which Canada can now absorb.

Canada's prosperity depends upon the continued development of her resources. An increasing population is necessary for this. A steady and increasing flow of immigration is, therefore, a feature inseparable from Canadian progress and prosperity.

DEATHS REPORTED
DEATH OF MALCOLM A. SMITH, SEATTLE, FORMERLY OF WINSLOW.
 Malcolm A. Smith, 4038 12th avenue N.E., University District, Seattle, died after an illness of only ten days at the Seattle General Hospital on November 17. In an effort to save his life an operation was performed which seemed to help for a few days. Then his condition changed suddenly and a second operation was found necessary. For a time he seemed relieved, but gradually lost strength until he died.
 His malady was a baffling case of diabetes that failed to respond to the insulin treatment, or anything that medical science could do.
 Funeral services were held at the University Undertaking Parlors on Wednesday, November 21 at 7:30 p.m. The sermon was preached by Rev. W. E. McLeod, D.D., formerly of Winslow, and an old acquaintance. Misses Mae and Hazen McDonald, daughters of Mr. Norman McDonald, of Winslow, sang several appropriate selections.
 On November 22 Mrs. Smith started with the body of her husband for Barre, Vt., the final resting place. After a short stay there and in the Eastern Townships the widow will return to Seattle, her permanent home.

Mr. Malcolm A. Smith was born fifty-three years ago at Winslow, Que. After marrying Christie Effie McDonald he lived on a farm in Lingwick for several years. Selling out there he moved to Butte, Montana, where he resided six years; then a short time in Tonahvale, Nevada, before moving to Seattle ten years ago.
 Of five brothers two are still living, John, at Gould Station, and Murdo, at Lomita, Cal. The three sisters are located as follows: Mrs. Ross in Hartford, Conn.; Mrs. Richer in Springfield, Mass., and Mrs. Johnston in Boston, Mass.
 Mr. Smith was a highly-respected citizen, with a wide circle of friends in Seattle and wherever he had lived. He was a man of high ideals, well informed, of unimpeachable character and always ready to help his fellowmen.
