FINAL PLANS FOR REVUE PROGRESSING

Business Association of Westmount to Sponsor Show in Aid of Local Air Cadet Squadron

Plans are well under way for the "Victory Revue" to be sponsored by the Business Association of Westmount in aid of the No. 1 Westmount Squadron, Air Cadet League of Canada, in Victoria Hall on Saturday evening, April 25, commencing at 8.15 o'clock.

Under the direction of Miss Betty Speirs, the revue will feature a number of acts by pupils of the Betty Speirs-Peter Miller School of Dancing, as well as many of the headline shows put on for members of the armed forces by the Canadian Legion All Star Concert Party.

The entire net proceeds from the show will be used to purchase summer uniforms and other equipment for the Air Cadet squadron.

Wide public patronage of the revue is felt assured as the Air Cadet League of Canada, which now has an enrolment of thousands of boys throughout the Dominion, originated in Westmount, and residents generally take a deep personal interest in its progress.

Members of the squadron are now selling tickets for the revue and the business association urges the co-operation of citizens in assuring the success of the event.

All indications point to the fact that the show will be exceptionally worthwhile entertainment. It will provide the public with an opportunity to see many of the finest acts now entertaining the troops at military training centres throughout the country.

W. Boyd Robson, chairman of the association's publicity committee, stated yesterday that the complete program will soon be available. The local business body has now been working on the show for some weeks, he said. Donald Ross, chairman of the entertainment committee, is in charge of arrangements.

While the complete program is not available, acts from the Speirs-Miller School of Dancing include, "Degas Print," a ballet; "Cabaret Scene," an exhibition ballroom number featuring Miss Jean Barnes and Peter Miller; "Russian Scene," Peter Miller, Peggy Cooper and Theresa Landry in, "Tea for Two"; Nancy Telford and Peter Miller in, "Me and My Shadow," an acrobatic solo by Myra McNeil and Helen Palen.

Girls in the line will all be pupils of Miss Betty Speirs who have been giving concerts at army camps with the Canadian Legion All-Star Concert Party.

"So-Ed" Club Members Will Conduct Service

Several members of the "So-Ed" Club of Westmount Park Church will participate in the leadership of the evening service on Sunday. The worship will be conducted by Frank McPhee and Gordon Young, and Miss Margaret Norman will be the soloist. Bernard Ennals from British Columbia, a graduating student in Theology at McGill, will deliver the address. Four young ladies will usher.

Following the service on Sunday evening, in Webster Memorial Hall, adjoining the church, a musical program has been arranged. Rev. R. G. Katsanoff, D.D., and a group of sinners from the Church of All Nations will be the artists. An offering will be taken in aid of the Missionary Project of the Young People's Society.

At the morning service, the Minister, Rev. J. David Smith, will be in charge and will deliver the address.

Mayor Merrill Closes Hobby Display

Mayor Walter A. Merrill, K.C., officially closed the Westmount Y.M.C.A. annual Hobby Show when he distributed awards to prize winners on Saturday night. His Worship praised the exhibitors for the high quality of the many entries.

BOY IS FATALLY HURT WHEN HIT BY MOTORCYCLE

Raymond Roussin Struck As He Runs Into Street To Retrieve Ball

Nine-year-old Raymond Roussin, of 3042 St. Antoine street, was fatally injured when he was struck by a motorcycle when he ran into the street to retrieve a ball near his home at 6 o'clock Monday night.

According to Westmount Police, who investigated the mishap, the boy was playing with several companions in a lot near his home when the ball rolled out into the street. Running after it, the youngster went between two parked automobiles and stepped directly into the path of the motorcycle, which was driven by Arthur Bernatchez, 28, of 1532 Lagachetiere street east.

Bernatchez stopped immediately after the accident and went to the boy's aid, police stated. The victim was taken to the western division of Montreal General Hospital where he died about an hour later, apparently of a fractured skull. His body was taken to the morgue.

NEW SCIENTIFIC BOOKS NOW AT PUBLIC LIBRARY

Practical Works of Special Interest at Present Time Added to Shelves

A number of practical books, of special interest at the present time, have been added to the shelves of the Westmount Public Library. It was announced by Miss Kathleen Jenkins, librarian, this week.

A list of the new books follows: General science: Bliven, Bruce. The men who make the future; Chamber's technical dictionary, comprising terms used in pure and applied science, medicine, the chief manufacturing, industries, engineering construction, the mechanic trades.

Fisher, Clyde. The marvels and mysteries of science. Fox, H. G. Canadian law and practice relating to letters patent for inventions; for the citizen; a self-educator based on the social background of social discovery; Ketttridge, J. O., English-French and French-English dictionary of technical terms, two vols.; Leonard, J. M. The enjoyment of science; Levy, Hymen. Modern science; Needham, Joseph, ed. A background to modern science.

Tatcliff, J. D. Modern miracle men; Richards, H. F. The universe surveyed; Shepherd, Walter. Science marches on; the origin, progress and significance of scientific knowledge; Silverman, Milton. Magic in a bottle; Taylor, F. Sherwood. A short history of science; Thomson, Sir J. Arthur. The outline of science; a plain story simply told; Van Nostrand's scientific encyclopedia; Ward, Harold, ed. New worlds in science; an anthology; Watkey, C. W., ed. An orientation in science.

STARS AT WESTMOUNT HOBBY SHOW

BRIGADE UNIT PREPARING FOR 1942 DISPLAY

Westmount Unit Hopes to Stage Complete Exhibition of Boys Brigade Work

The annual display of the First Westmount Company of the Boys Brigade will shortly be taking place and this year the company hopes to include one of the most complete exhibitions of Boys Brigade work ever given. Plans are going forward for a banquet, preceding the display, the date of which will likely be the first week in June.

The following boys passed their swimming tests at a special advance meeting held Saturday afternoon: Corporal, Edwin Goring, Privates James Dugan, Robert Eastwood and Robert Krutz. The other swimmers will be examined on Saturday afternoon. The swimming team will enter the Battalion Relay Competition on Thursday night, under the Team Captain, Corp. Edwin G. ring.

The First Aid Class, under Lieut. Bob Beal's direction, is now ready to sit for examinations and it is expected a large majority will pass with honours. This test will most likely take place either on Friday if next week or the week after. As soon as the results are known, all boys passing with honours will be eligible to continue in the newly formed A.R.P. squad, developing a special National Service training.

The third squad was awarded the Challenge medal for the second time in succession. Lance Corporal James Wright has proven his squad to be most efficient.

PARADE IS HELD BY MOBILE AUXILIARY

The Westmount Company Auxiliary Mobile Police Force (C.P.C.) held its first drill parade in Queen's School on Tuesday night. Kenneth A. Wilson is the Officer Commanding, while other officers are Adjutant W. Boyd Robson, Roland Holbrook, second in command, and Claude Root and Ross Johnson, section leaders.

The next parade will be held Tuesday night.

GROUP TO MEET

The Ladies' Aid Society of Melville Presbyterian Church will meet for work at 2.30 p.m. on Tuesday, in the church hall, Melville Avenue.

Special Salvage Drives To Cease Temporarily

However, Westmount Campaign for General Materials Will Continue as Usual — Campaign Signs to be Taken Down for While

While the Westmount campaign to salvage all used materials that are beneficial to the prosecution of the war will continue as usual, the city will temporarily discontinue the special weekly drives for certain types of articles.

Thus far the committee has conducted special drives on two separate occasions, for each of the following articles: paper, metals, bottles and glass, rags, rubber, fats and bones.

However, while the salvage signs throughout the city will be taken down for the time being, the drive, which is run in co-operation with the National Salvage Campaign, will continue as usual and residents are asked to place discarded articles useful for the country's war effort, alongside their garbage cans on garbage removal days. The eight articles listed above are the most valuable for this purpose.

The following table shows the month-by-month quantities of salvage collected since the start of the campaign here:

Duty Of All Citizens To Cast 'Yes' Ballot M.P. Says In Address

MISSING GIRL FINALLY FOUND IN HULL, QUE.

Resident of Selby Street Had Been Missing From Her Home for a Week

Sixteen-year-old Beatrice May Jacques, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Jacques, of 117 Selby Street, who had been missing from her home for a week, was located in Hull, Que., last Thursday, her parents revealed.

The Westmount girl, who had been employed by the Northern Electric Company for a few weeks prior to her disappearance, apparently "ran away" with another girl, employee of that company whose name was withheld by police. The other girl was reported to be a year older than Beatrice May and her home is in the north end of the city.

Both girls had been reported missing since April 2 and had been sought by police and relatives without success until last Thursday, when Beatrice May walked into Hull Police Headquarters, explained who she was and asked that her family be contacted.

The girl apparently was penniless and "had enough of travel," according to information obtained from Hull.

Mrs. Jacques, who was notified by local police that her daughter had been located, telephoned to the Hull police station and spoke with her.

"The first thing she said 'Oh mother, I want to come home,'" Mrs. Jacques said, "I hope she's had her lesson."

Mrs. Jacques added that railway fare for her daughter's return had been sent to Hull and that she should be back today.

REV. FESENKO TO PREACH IN CHURCH HERE

Minister of Toronto Ukrainian Presbyterian Church To Occupy Melville Church Pulpit

A generation or more ago there came to Canada, particularly to the Prairie Provinces, a splendid type of immigrant known at first as "Galicians," but now by their proper designation of Ruthenians. Many of their sons and daughters occupy positions of influence and leadership in present day Canadian life. Already large numbers of their young men are in the armed forces at home and abroad.

The Presbyterian Church in Canada has always been interested in these people and has trained men from among them for her ministry. On Sunday evening at 7.30 p.m. in Melville Church the Rev. Michael Fesenko, minister of the Presbyterian Ukrainian Church in Toronto, will preach. Mr. Fesenko is the editor of a Ruthenian language newspaper in Canada which is giving good constructive Canadian and Christian guidance to all its readers. He is also the editor of a Ruthenian hymn book which is widely used not only in Canada but in the United States.

Gives Radio Address On Importance Of Affirmative Plebiscite Vote --Strong Non-Partisan Committee Is Formed Here

"A record-breaking vote should be polled in this plebiscite and that vote should be an overwhelming affirmative," Douglas C. Abbott, K.C., M.P. for St. Antoine-Westmount, stated in a radio address over station CFCF last night. "In St. Antoine-Westmount a strong non-partisan citizens' committee has been set up to secure a record-breaking 'Yes' vote," he declared.

Mr. Abbott outlined the steps being taken here to secure the highest possible turnout of electors and announced that transportation facilities would be provided for those unable to walk to the polls.

In a statement to the Examiner, the chairman of the committee, Ald. W. B. Scott, K.C., also urged a strong turnout. Persons should make it their duty to be in their constituency on voting day in order to cast a ballot, he declared. He also reminded electors that the ballots must be marked by a cross, only, as otherwise they will be void.

The complete text of Mr. Abbott's radio address follows: A week from next Monday, on April 27, the people of this country go to the polls to answer a very simple question—whether or not the Government of Canada, subject to its responsibilities to Parliament, is to be given a free hand to prosecute the war effort of this country in the way it deems best. In my view, there should be only one answer to that question and that question must be yes.

I do not propose to discuss any of the arguments which have been put forward as to the necessity or otherwise of holding a plebiscite. Personally I am one of those who sincerely believe that it is both necessary and desirable but whatever views the individual may hold on that question are now of little importance. The important thing is that every man and every woman in this country who is entitled to vote, should appreciate what that vote will mean, should realize the responsibility which the privilege of voting involves, and should cast his or her vote.

We are going through the most critical period of our whole history, everything we believe in, our very existence as a nation, is at stake, and if there ever was a time when the Government of this country should have and should exercise the widest possible powers now is that time. We must trust our own Government and our own Parliament to do only those things which are in the common interest of our country. As the Prime Minister said in his radio address last week—"If there are any who are not prepared to do so, who or what are they prepared to trust?" It sometimes seems to me as though there were not enough realization of actual dangers or enough sense of the real national peril with which we are faced. That I know is not entirely true but in this plebiscite the people of Canada are given an opportunity to show by their votes that they do appreciate the real gravity of the situation. That is why I say that the answer to be given on April 27 must be yes.

The citizen who votes yes assumes a responsibility in doing so. By voting yes responsibility is placed where it should be placed, on the elected representatives of the people and on the Government. On the other hand the man or woman who votes no assumes a grave personal responsibility. In effect such person is attempting to make an important military decision without any knowledge of a great many facts which of necessity can be known to only a few people. Without that information which the Government alone can possess, the man who votes no is saying that no matter what the circumstances may be, no matter what new dangers

TRADE UNIONS ARE DISCUSSED

An entertaining evening was had by the members of the Westmount Park Church Y.P.U. at the regular meeting Tuesday when the speaker was Betty Kobayashi, who spoke on "Trade Unions." Miss Kobayashi gave an instructive talk beginning with the early history of trade unions in Great Britain and their now prominent place in the life and government of the country. In the United States, she continued, Trade Unions have an ever-increasing voice in the industrial life. In Canada the labor movement is as yet comparatively young but is becoming an ever more vital part in the war effort.

She touched on the three main labour movements in Canada, the Trades and Labour Congress, the Canadian Congress of Labour and the Catholic Syndicate. The speaker emphasized the need for a strong labour movement as the best defence against Fascism and the only hope for democratic unity in the future. Christians, she said, have a particular in-

THE 40-MILE LIMIT

Motorists of good will, anxious to make personal sacrifices to further the war effort—and the great majority of local motorists fall in that category—will endorse the new 40-mile-per-hour speed limit to be enforced right across Canada. In addition to conserving gasoline and rubber, the new limit will greatly cut down the number of accidents on the streets and highways which, of recent years, have reached alarming proportions. Automobile clubs and automobile manufacturers to the contrary, the great majority of these accidents are due to excessive speed. No matter how well designed the steering apparatus of a car may be, and no matter how efficient the brakes, it is not these things that make driving safe—it is the human being at the wheel that makes a car dangerous or otherwise. And at high speeds few people can act quickly enough to make driving safe. The new speed limit, which is to be rigidly enforced, will forcefully demonstrate this in greatly reduced number of accidents.

LABOR RELATIONS, OLD STYLE

Conversation at the table turned to the subject of industrial disputes. The talkers were agreed that one of the faults in modern industrialism was that an employer in a large plant no longer had the intimate knowledge of his workers that employers possessed in the days of smaller towns and smaller industries. "When my grandfather was running our foundry back in the 80's," said one, "he knew every man in the plant, and everything about him. He settled his labor problems as they arose and felt himself perfectly competent to handle them without outside advice or assistance. "One such problem came up when he discovered that his blacksmith was regularly stealing material from the plant. The man was building a chicken house and each day, as he found time, he would make a few parts and throw them over the fence. Then in the evening he would bring a wheelbarrow and take them home. "The blacksmith was a good workman, but my grandfather couldn't overlook such flagrant dishonesty. The town constable was informed, and, waiting in ambush beside the pile of iron, was able to catch the culprit red-handed. "Next morning, after a night spent in the cells, the blacksmith appeared in the police court. My grandfather was also there. The charge was read. "Go on, plead guilty," said my grandfather, nudging the prisoner. "The poor man pleaded guilty, and was fined two dollars. My grandfather took two dollars from his pocket, paid the fine and walked out of the court with the blacksmith. "They drove back to the plant in my grandfather's buggy, not a word being said until they arrived. Then my grandfather said: "Now get back to work and let this be a lesson to you. If I ever catch you doing anything like that again, you'll have to pay your own fine."

HOW TO INFLUENCE SLAVES

The people of Europe conquered or controlled by the Nazis, come under three distinct categories in the unfolding of the "New Order" and treatment prescribed for their victims ranges all the way from politeness to women and children to the firing squad. In the first group is Poland "where military resistance continues after military occupation by German military units." And the brutalities prescribed for people such as the Poles, who have shown much ingratitide for Nazi protection, are now notorious in the blackest chapters of horror and murder in history. In recent months the Serbs and Yugo-Slavs and Greeks have fallen into this dreaded group of Nazi victims, and if the current unrest and signs of insurgence among some of the other dominated areas continues, "Group A treatment" may soon be the unhappy lot of others who have heretofore experienced less brutality. Notably in Norway, which has shared a "Group B" rating with France and Denmark in the Nazi persuasion program, many sections may even now be classed as incorrigible as the Poles and meriting the same barbarian treatment. Normally the "Group B" class finds their women and children courteously treated and generally the people are placated so long as any willingness to co-operate with the invader is in evidence. But provision is made for transferring whole cities and districts to "Group A" if they become recalcitrant. "Group C" is described as those countries "not occupied by the German army, but lying within the radius of its operations." In this class comes countries such as Hungary, Italy, Spain and others allegedly collaborating with the Nazis in the development of the "New Order." Here Nazi domination is no less real in the eyes of Berlin even though it is unofficial.

The worship service was taken by Gordon Young with the theme of "Spring." A sing-song followed with Dorothy Johnson leading and Elizabeth Webber at the piano. Informal games and refreshments closed the evening. An entertaining evening is assured next Tuesday when Dr. McNaughton will speak on "Socialized Medicine."

'Great Inheritance' Is Topic Of Sermon

At Westmount Baptist Church, next Sunday, Rev. Prin. Geo. G. D. Kilpatrick, D.D. of the United Theological College, will occupy the pulpit in the absence of the minister who is conducting special meetings in Winnipeg. In the morning Dr. Kilpatrick will speak on "The Great Inheritance" and in the evening his subject will be "Significant Omissions". # The Examiner's Hidden Titles Contest

The Westmount Examiner's Hidden Titles Contest is run with the kind co-operation of Mr. Godel, manager of the Westmount Theatre. Each week twelve passes are given to the six lucky winners who comply with the following requirements: Simply find the two "ads." in the current issue of The Westmount Examiner in which the names of the two feature pictures being shown at the Westmount Theatre during the first half of next week are hidden. Submit all answers to The Contest Editor, The Westmount Examiner, 2191 Hampton Avenue, using the special coupon provided in each issue for the purpose. Contestants must be over 16 years of age. Residents of Westmount, only, are eligible. All answers must be in this office not later than Wednesday, and the names of the winners will be published in Thursday's issue. A convenient coupon will be found elsewhere in the paper. The winners are drawn from among those who submit the correct answers, as, unfortunately, it would be impossible to give passes to every one submitting the right answers. The winners of last week's contest are as follows and their passes will be received in Monday's mail. Mrs. Alan Dale, 625 Cote St. Antoine road; Eleanor LeRiche, 78 Bruce Ave.; C. Maguire, 151 Hillside Ave.; Mrs. H. A. Rowlands, 25 Windsor Ave.; Miss Nancy Jack, 69 Selby St.; Mrs. H. Mudge, 267 Olivier Ave.

THE FORUM

Conducted by HOWARD S. ROSS, K.C., D.C.L.

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this newspaper and it does not accept responsibility for them.

President Roosevelt's report on the first year's operations of the lend-lease program showed that $18,410,000,000 was appropriated for lend-lease to thirty-four nations. He also had authority to transfer $29,596,650,000 in military and naval equipment to those same nations—making the total available for lend-lease purposes for a single year $48,006,650,000. Of this amount $12,272,000,000 was allocated by the end of February; contacts had been let for $3,459,000,000; the amount spent had reached $2,570,000,000 and the actual exports were $1,100,000,000. Of this billion dollars' worth of exports, 29 per cent represented arms and the balance represented food and industrial materials.

That veteran, courageous and brilliant journalist Oswald Garrison Villard of New York, was recently honored at a dinner given on his 70th birthday. A large number of journalistic, literary, political and humanitarian leaders of his country attended. It must have been a great satisfaction to him (an outstanding and at times turbulent liberal) to discover the esteem in which he is held even by the conservative press. "We have often disagreed with him," said The Herald Tribune, "but we have welcomed the vigor of his point of view and the skill with which he has upheld it."

The New York Times, after avowing its "admiration, respect and affection" said that "Mr. Villard's intellectual rightness or wrongness at a given moment, such as 1916 or 1942, is for history to determine. What he has given us, for which we may be profoundly thankful, is the spectacle of a brave man who did and said what he thought was right without the least regard for his own selfish interests. We cannot run a democracy without such men, and there are never enough of them."

At height of the last war he invited me by a telegram to have breakfast with him at the Windsor Hotel. As soon as we met he told me he was held up for a short time at the border by immigration officials when they learned he was born in Germany. His father (one of the prominent railway executives of the U.S.A. in these days) and mother were tourists in Germany 70 years ago. The officials at the border asked Mr. Villard, Jr., about his mission to Canada and when told that he had an appointment with Sir Wilfrid Laurier at Ottawa and was to interview him for some U.S.A. journals. Needless to say the doors were opened wide and Mr. Villard secured one of the most important interviews granted by Sir Wilfrid during the days of War I.

The basic field manual of the U.S.A. army has been changed to read: "chaplains are officially addressed as 'chaplain' regardless of their grade." Msgr. Wm. R. Arnold, army chief of chaplains, frequently stated that he wishes to be referred to as chaplain despite his rank of brigadier general.

The Swedish Red Cross is sending a cargo of food to Greece to relieve starvation there. The food is to be obtained at Istanbul, Turkey. Chamberlain's JAPANESE GRAMMAR (the plates for which are owned by University of Chicago Press) which was first published in the eighties, is now in great demand in Britain and the U.S.A. Recently an order for 500 copies came from London.

Fred S. Huntley, of Kentville, N.S., 300 pound squire of Sable Island, in 1936, bought the 200 or more ponies now roaming the fog-splashed sand-dunes of Sable Island, from the Canadian Government. He brought 100 to Nova Scotia but several obstacles blocked further sales. He thinks his six year investment will now begin to pay dividends if permission is given to import his mid-gets. In Nova Scotia 40 years ago such ponies and Shetland Island ponies were prized possessions in many stables and quite a number were used in the coal mines—pit ponies as they are called. The Sable Island variety, tough and shaggy are about four feet six inches high and weigh about 700 pounds. Descendants of a shipload of thoroughbred French horses wrecked on that graveyard of the Atlantic several centuries ago, they have good blood in their veins. Mr. Huntley says it will take several months to train them so that they will be ready for use by the time motorists begin to feel the real pinch of tire and gasoline rationing. He claims Maritimers will soon be trading their eight-cylinder speed wagons for a two-tone pony job.

"Treaties may record peace, but do not make it. War may break down barriers to peace, but cannot create it. Peace is harmonious relations among humans. Good will toward men, expressed in action and attitude, is not a pious wish, but the essential condition of peace." —Arthur E. Morgan.

"Civilization has been condensed by science during the past half century till it is no longer a far-flung gas. We are no longer human molecules operating in our little independent spheres; we are parts of a pattern and our conduct must be modified accordingly." —Eugene T. Adams in "The American Idea."

It is said to be ten times harder to deliver a tank in Russia, China (and perhaps Australia) than to produce it.

Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia has invited the return of United Presbyterian missionaries.

Dr. Overholser, superintendent of St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Washington, D.C., and a leading psychiatrist recently stated that many defense workers in Washington are becoming nervous wrecks and psychopathic cases

CALVARY CHURCH NOTES

In Calvary United Church, on Sunday, the preacher at both services will be Capt. Rev. T. W. Jones, M.A., D.D. The theme of the sermon at the morning service will be "How Important is the Church? And Why?"

The Young Worshipers League and the Mission Band will also meet at the 11 o'clock hour. The Church School at 3 o'clock in all departments.

At 3 p.m. the Men's Own Brotherhood will hold a special patriotic session, which will be attended by the Sons and Daughters of England. The address will be given by Capt. Jones on "The Spirit of St. George in Britain Today".

At the evening service at 7.30 p.m. Capt. Jones will deliver an illustrated sermon on "The Historic Crusades" portraying with beautifully coloured slides the 700 year old attempts of the Church and the Christian peoples of that day, to win back the Holy Land from the Mohammedan Conquerors. Through these services the congregation of Calvary will share in the inauguration of The Empire Youth Week and "The Great Crusade" to which the people of the Empire are urgently called. The pictures will realistically portray many Mediterranean scenes that are in our thoughts today, including Malta, Cyprus, Palestine and other centres of both historic and present-day interest.

On Monday at 8.15 p.m. the Young People's Union will take part in the Co-operative Missionary Rally to be held in Calvary under the auspices of the Montreal Presbytery, with Hungarian, Negro and Chinese young people taking part in the programme. Tuesday the Red Cross Unit will meet from 10.30 a.m. to 4.30 p.m. with the evening branch at 7.30 p.m.

Wednesday, 8.15 p.m. the mid-week service for prayer and bible study. The Boy Scouts meet on Monday at 7.15 p.m. and the Cubs on Thursday at the same hour.

A series of short talks has been inaugurated dealing with the use and care of tools, how to use "dope" and glue, and how to care for models already built. Plans are also underway for contests to be held in Westmount Park, these contests will be open to Club members only. Attendance prizes are also given at different intervals, the first of which was won by Doug Creighton.

There is still room for a few more members and boys interested in becoming members should make their appearance at any of the Club meetings which are held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons.

Lord Halifax was recently granted by Philadelphia Divinity School the degree of Doctor of Canon Law.

In an address at the University of Georgia, Dr. Wm. G. Osburn, University of Chicago, professor, expressed his belief that the capitalist era is approaching its conclusion. He believes the present economic system will make the transition to a planned economy which might be described as "state capitalism."

Predicting an unprecedented union of business and government, with the state exercising dominant control, he said: "There will be 27,000,000 men to be demobilized from the armed forces and war industries after the war. This cannot be done without the Government assuming absolute authority."

A cautious woman read on her husband's tombstone (put there by his relatives): "Follow Me." She added: "To follow I'm not content Until I know which way thee went."

Mary's lamb school house is still in use at Sterling, Mass. where the real Mary — Mary Sawyer — lived and where her real lamb followed her to school.

Melville Presbyterian Church, Melville Ave., Westmount. Minister, Rev. Wm. Orr Mulligan, M.A., L.L.B., D.D.

SUNDAY SERVICES, APRIL 19th 11.00 a.m. "God is our Refuge". 10.15 a.m. & 3 p.m. Sunday Schools. 7.30 p.m. The Rev. Michael Fesenko, Minister of the Presbyterian Ukrainian Church at Toronto will preach.

Mr. Fesenko is the editor of an influential Ruthenian newspaper in Canada as well as the editor of a widely used hymn book in that language. He is a leader among a most important and loyal group of "New Canadians."

Dr. Mulligan will preach at the morning service. Visitors Welcome. Wednesday, 8.15 p.m. Prayer service.

GOOD PROGRESS IS REPORTED BY PLANE CLUB

Large Attendance Marked Meetings of New Group Held Last Week

Keen enthusiasm marked last week's meetings of the Westmount Model Aeroplane Club. After a solid week's work during the Easter holidays, the members have settled down to their regular three meetings a week routine. The attendance has been keeping up well with most of the available working space taken.

At present, aeroplanes of many types are being constructed while others are in the process of re-modelling. Peter Wilson is building a glider. Charles Caswell a Defiant and Jack Clement is re-constructing a contest model. Bill Taylor is making a new Blackburn Skua.

New members enrolling in the club during the past week include John Belcourt, Mac Henderson, Boof Forrest, Len Whitmore, Jack Cloutier, Jack Chaddock, Allan Rowlands, Kenneth Peters, Pierre Biron, Christopher Davies, Ken MacLeod and a new instructor David Fraser.

The new club was well represented in the Westmount Hobby Show where head instructor Derek Ramsay captured a first place in the flying model section and Alfred Howell took a first and a third in the solid models.

Instructor Ramsay has been kept busy during the week classifying the boys and recommending suitable aeroplane kits to them. An effort is being made to have all the less experienced members work on the same kind of models and in this way learn their work from the ground up, been inaugurated dealing with the use and care of tools, how to use "dope" and glue, and how to care for models already built. Plans are also underway for contests to be held in Westmount Park, these contests will be open to Club members only. Attendance prizes are also given at different intervals, the first of which was won by Doug Creighton.

Group To Present One-act Comedies

The Advent Dramatic Club, a rising group of young players, will present today and tomorrow, in the parish hall of the Church of the Advent, a studio evening of one-act comedies — "Boss by Strategy," "Hotel Red-mur" and "A Wedding." Proceeds will be divided between the war effort and the Church of the Advent, which is celebrating its fiftieth anniversary this year.

First Aid Course Ends At Shaar Hashomayim

The First Aid course for men and women which has been conducted by Dr. A. M. Vineberg, at Shaar Hashomayim Synagogue, for the past few weeks concluded its sessions on Monday evening, when examinations were written by those seeking to obtain the first aid certificate. An earnest effort is now being made to start a second course particularly for men. This group would specialize in those aspects of first aid most suitable for men.

Mrs. Bernard Finestone has announced that the Cultural Guidance Group which has been meeting under her leadership on Monday evenings has now concluded its work for this season. Many young ladies have attended the meetings and have enthusiastically participated in the activities.

The Hebrew Faculty is actively engaged in the preparations for the forthcoming Hebrew Educational Conference for Eastern Canada taking place in Montreal, April 16th-19th. S. Lerner is secretary of the Organizing Committee and Samuel J. Leibowitz, Acting Educational Director, will preside at the second session. Miss Luba Gordon will present a paper on problems of the first school year.

E. A. Friedman, chairman of the committee of movie entertainments has announced that the next program will feature "Ships With Wings." This film is a pictorial record of the heroic work of the British Fleet Air Arm and shows H.M.S. "Ark Royal" in action. The program will be shown on Sunday afternoon, April 19th, at 4 p.m.

At Junior Congregation Services last week Donald Kirk officiated for the first time. Others participating were: Jerrold Fineberg, David Robinson and Herbert Stream; Mr. S. J. Leibowitz read from the Torah; Eric May opened the Ark; called to the reading of the Torah were Morton Braunstein, Greville Janner, Maurice Phillips, Alvin Shiller and Morton Shulman; Trevor Fineberg vested the Scroll.

This Sunday morning pupils of Miss Rose Schwisberg's Hebrew class will present a playlet in Hebrew at the School Assembly in celebration of Palestine Day.

At the afternoon assembly, pupils of Miss Anne Goldenberg's Fifth Grade will present a playlet called "Then Moses Came Alone."

Herbert E. Siblun, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Morris Siblun, was called to the reading of the Torah last Saturday in celebration of his Bar Mitzvah.

Kurt Gottfried, son of Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Gottfried, will this Sabbath morning be called to the reading of the Torah in celebration of his Bar Mitzvah.

Lost and Found At City Parks

The following items have been found in the Westmount parks, most of them some time ago, and are now available at the office in the Greenhouse.

Kathleen Lamb of 4720 Lafontaine Street; one black pocket-book with identification card of Miss Marjorie Pereira, 347 Clarke Avenue; one black pocket-book with a bicycle license receipt paid by Ross Gillingham, 4825 St. Catherine Street; one brown pocket-book with the initials W. H. M. and the words S.I.D.D. Soccer Club; one wooden beaded purse, brown in colour with a zipper-top; one yellow bracelet; one school-book "Essential Latin" with the name Mori Flanders, 4042 Marlowe Avenue.

Frank

"I'm sorry, old man, but I make it a rule never to lend money. It ruins friendship."

"But why let that worry you? We never were what you might call wonderfully good friends, were we?"—Tit-Bits.

WESTMOUNT TEAM COPS JUVENILE TITLE

Right from the heart of Westmount the Golden Eagles flew into the Provincial Juvenile championship by beating Quebec Belueves. This team went fifteen games without a loss. The age limit is eighteen and they have a number of smart players eligible for junior ranks next year. Back row, left to right, D. Alexander (coach), N. Romney,

D. Mann, S. Beaulne, S. Provost, A. Lunny, J. Porter, R. Brennan, R. R. Read (President). Front row, left to right: F. Read (mascot), J. Peirson, J. Chenier, K. Kennedy, (behind the Johnny Bourque Trophy), H. Brodie, E. Read, L. Pocock and C. Laurendeau are missing from the picture. The trophy was donated by the Hon. John Bourque of Sherbrooke.

India Of Today Discussed By Speakers From Orient

"What is Happening in India Today" was the subject discussed at the Community Hall last week when Raghunath Rao, M.A., and James P. Hartley, B.A.Sc., gave a very interesting review of Indian affairs. The meeting was sponsored and arranged by the N.D.G. — Westmount Clubs of the C.C.F.

Mr. Hartley, who is a graduate of the University of B.C. and who has spent three years in the Behren Islands in the Persian Gulf and who has just recently returned from a brief visit to India said, "While fighting for freedom at home, we are always anxious to try and understand the fight for freedom that is being carried on by our Indian friends." Though India has always been noted as an agricultural country, its potential resources are amazing. India's iron ores alone produce 75% of the United States production, the Hydro-electro potentialities are 75 per cent of the United States, yet only 3 per cent of it is used. Oil, one of the richest prizes coveted by the Japanese, is amongst the largest in the world. One refinery alone produces more oil in one day than some of the largest in Canada produce in one month.

Speaking on India's Army requirements, he said that though only 2% is supported by modern industry, India can produce enough small arms, such as machine guns, small artillery, etc., to equip their army.

"Formerly," said Mr. Hartley, "I belonged to that academic group who thought rational caution, with education, was the best policy to adopt and believed without British help India could not afford to protect herself, but today I'm convinced self-government was a better proposition than the present imperialist capitalist system."

Raghunath Rao, who was formerly a Geneva correspondent on League of Nations matters for several Indian papers and is a graduate of the University of Edinburgh, for the past ten years been on the staff of the International Labor Office, said that he thought Mr. Hartley presented the Indian case so well there was little he could add to it, and he would repay the compliment by confining his remarks to presenting the British side.

Though Britain has been accused of suppressing and subjugating the people of India, it was not entirely the fault of the British people, but the fault of the present capitalistic system and as the capitalistic system was a universal curse, it would be unfair to blame England for India's plight. The British people in India share their sympathies with the natives and both look forward to the day when India will be one of the great free democracies of the world.

Some people believe India would negotiate peace with Japan or Germany, but such a thought is fantastic. India is definitely opposed to Japanese aggression and all her sympathies have been with the Chinese people who have for the past five years been fighting to keep Japanese aggressors from enslaving them. India is negotiating with England for freedom and he believed that that freedom will come eventually in the near future, but that it never would with Japan or Germany.

The Indian Army has risen from 214,000 to 1,500,000 men in one and a half years and, coupled with the fact that the Indian Army is raised entirely by voluntary means, there is absolutely no conscription. Mr. Rao knows, once given her freedom, India will rise up "en masse" like Russia and China and beat off the aggressors.

"Naturally we expect strong opposition. Opposition is the life blood of democracy and it was to be expected that England would put up a strong opposition, but there would be no opposition with Japan and Germany. Opposition in those countries was a criminal offence and the death penalty was the punishment meted out to those who oppose too strongly."

Walter Gordon, president of the N.D.G. Club, was in the chair.

STAMP AUCTION WILL BE HELD HERE TONIGHT

Westmount Club is Staging Sale in Aid of the Queen's Canadian Fund

With their annual exhibition, a thing of the past, the members of the Westmount Stamp Club are now occupied with their benefit Stamp Auction which is being held this evening at their Club Room in Victoria Hall. The auction is in aid of the Queen's Canadian Fund and will get underway at 8:00 p.m.

The annual exhibition which was held last Thursday, Friday and Saturday, was very successful, although inclement weather kept the attendance below last year's level. While the attendance was down this year, J. E. Pickering, president of the Club, seemed to feel that more interest than usual was shown in the exhibits.

Contributions to the benefit auction which is being held this evening were on display at two different places. Three or four frames were placed in the exhibition while numerous other frames were on display in one of the T. Eaton Company's windows Saturday, Monday and Tuesday.

One of the executive's main worries now is whether they will have time enough to auction off all the lots. Over one hundred and fifty contributions have been received and it will take some fast work to sell this amount in one night. It would seem like auctioneer Christopher Ellis will have his work cut out for him.

The auction will be held as part of the Club's regular weekly meeting, but the public is cordially invited to attend. A wide variety of stamps will be available including British Colonials, United States, foreign countries and Air Mail covers.

The list of officials helping in the auction, issued by president J. E. Pickering, include Christopher Ellis as auctioneer, R. J. Sutherland and J. E. Pickering as assistants; L. Flood and T. Hunt, clerks of the auction; R. H. M. Falls and T. Kearney, cashiers and Master Jimmie Barnes assisting at the door.

I. M. KONOWITZ WILL ADDRESS TEMPLE GROUP

Educational Director to Give Talk on "The Jewish Child and His Environment"

I. M. Konowitz, educational director of Shaare Zion, will speak Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the Temple Community House on the subject: "The Jewish Child and His Environment." An open forum will follow in connection with this closing meeting of the season. An exhibit of Jewish books, old and new, will take place.

On Tuesday, the Child Study and Parent Education group will hold their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. A. Popliger, at 2:30 p.m. Mrs. D.

St. Stephen's Senior Branch of the W. A. will hold a Rummage Sale, on Wednesday at 2 p.m. in the Parish Hall, Wexdale Park, Westmount.

G. Jassby will present a paper. The following are members of the 1942 Confirmation Class — Ann Walker, Yvette Kostoris, Ruth Carriek, Sylvia Marks, Deena Cohen, Roslyn Wolfe, Esmond Gordon, Hirsch Garfinkel, Bonar Stuart, Richard Bornstein. The parts for the confirmation ritual and ceremony which takes place on Shabbath are now being assigned to confirmants and parents are requested to make certain that nothing interferes with the confirmants attendance at rehearsal hours and Sabbath Services, Confirmation, Friday morning, May 22nd, Shabbath Day. Meeting of parents of Confirmants, Friday evening, after Divine Service, April 24th.

Arrangements are now being completed for the "Father and Son" annual banquet which takes place Sunday evening, April 26th, in the Community House. The program committee under the chairmanship of Lawrence Marks, promises an evening of fine entertainment for dad and lad.

PO. G. O'Neill Reported Killed

Pilot Officer Gordon Campbell O'Neill, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. J. O'Neill, of 489 Grosvenor avenue, who is now for official purposes presumed dead, according to an announcement received here Tuesday.

P.O. O'Neill, who was 21, joined the R.C.A.F. in June, 1940. He was sent to a training pool in Toronto and subsequently trained at Regina, Malton and Jarvis, Ont., and at Rivers, Man., where he received his commission before going overseas in February, 1941.

His parents were informed that he was missing in October of the same year, following air operations over Mannheim, Germany. At the time P.O. O'Neill was acting chief navigating officer, and it was expected orders for a promotion would go through in December.

"Don't take 'No' for an answer — unless that's the answer you want."

DEAN H. F. HALL TO SPEAK HERE

Henry F. Hall, B.A., L.R.E., Dean of St. George Williams College, will be the guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Westmount High Schools Home and School Association, to be held Wednesday evening, at 8.15 o'clock.

Following the regular business of reports and election of officers for the ensuing year, the meeting will hear a talk by Dean Hall on the subject, "High School and Life—A Problem of Adjustment." Dean Hall will divide his address into several sections, covering various aspects of High School life, in order to permit parents to ask any questions which might concern their particular problems and thus afford an opportunity for open discussion.

The meeting will be in charge of the president, H. E. McCrudden.

RECIPE GIVEN FOR DECORATION OF SPRINGLIKE ROOM

NEW YORK. — Recipe for a springlike room: Flower colors, abundant use of white, and yards and yards of chintz adorned with bright blossoms. With these ingredients one does, of course, need to work out a harmony; the homemaker who is not naturally a wizard at interior decoration can, however, plan her room around one of those groups of harmonized curtains, upholstery fabrics and rugs. And, of course, an inspection of the spring crop of model rooms about town with perhaps some additional friendly professional advice will help.

Just off the hands of the decorator are some flower-inspired rooms at Bloomingdale's, where the vernal spirit is given free rein. A new chintz, the feature of which is that pleasant old-fashioned flower, the garden petunia, serves as a good starting point. Available in white and a half-dozen pastel-tinted backgrounds, it is effectively grouped with solid-hued fabrics which repeat its several colors. Even the rugs have been coordinated with the chintz color scheme, and table linens and other home accessories may be had to agree.

Such a plan for room colors turns out to be charming in a bedroom for a young girl, a room which might also serve as a guest room. Here the petunia chintz is used lavishly; it forms a deep valance for the wide corner window and appears again in a flounce extending from the broad windowsill to the floor. The top of the round dressing-table stool and the bedspread utilize the same flowered material, and the double-flounced skirt of the dressing table, in petunia pink and petunia purple, is closely harmonized with it.

Packaged Wheat Germ Supplies Needed Vitamins

The ancient Romans fiddled away their time and never worried about missing vitamin B, so important to our well being.

We moderns can still get plenty of it by watching our menus, but enriching our meals with wheat germ is the easy and economical way to insure a steady supply, many nutrition experts say.

As late as grandmother's baking days, flour and breadstuffs still contained that rich store of vitamin B. As towns grew into cities, a few large mills took the place of the small local mills. This meant that the flour had to be transported greater distances. So for better keeping qualities the perishable wheat germ was removed.

After vitamin research workers had proclaimed wheat germ as one of the best natural resources of B1 (Thiamine) and also put it on the list of Vitamin B2 foods, one Canadian milling company rose to the occasion. "Why not stabilize wheat germ and put it into hygienic packages?" this company said. "The stabilizing will prevent the wheat germ from becoming rancid and the well wrapped package will insure cleanliness."

No Rancid Flavor

So today, we have a wholesome wheat germ to add that extra supply of vitamin B complex. There is no rancid flavor, no coarse bran—just the pure wheat germ in this packaged vitamin food!

Two tablespoons a day sprinkled over your cereal or salad, or soup will help prevent a deficiency of both these vitamins.

The ancients got their pep and energy in their daily bread. It's up to us to guard vitality through the proper choice of foods. Start with at least two tablespoons of wheat germ sprinkled over your porridge—or add it to other foods such as biscuits, muffins or hot

Provincial Chapter Hears Addresses At Annual Meeting

Mrs. Ramstad, secretary of the Norwegian Consul in Montreal, spoke on "Conditions in an Occupied Country" to the members of the Provincial Chapter, I.O.D.E., at their annual meeting held in the Mount Royal Hotel yesterday and today. Her talk followed the report of the war services convener, Mrs. D. L. Macdonald, yesterday afternoon.

This morning, the members of the Provincial Chapter, I.O.D.E., will hear Mrs. Philip Carrington, of Quebec, speak on the Mary Barrow Nursing Service in Gaspe, following Mrs. Martin Brown's report of the Chil dand Family Welfare Committee.

Allied Post Seeks Donations For Seamen

The Allied Post, which provides comforts for all our allied sailors, has issued an urgent appeal for the necessary funds and supplies to fill the parcels which are due to be sent off shortly to seamen.

The parcels are scheduled to be dispatched at the end of April. Funds are very low, it is stated, and the organization seeks donations of all kinds, warm knitted articles, cigarettes, chocolate, soap and other such comforts which may be sent to the Allied Post at Room 209, 1396 St. Catherine

Westmount C.W.L.

The Westmount Subdivision of the Catholic Women's League will hold its annual meeting on Friday, April 24, in St. Leo's School hall, at 3 o'clock. Officers' reports and reports of standing committee will be given, and the election of officers will be held. This will be the group's final meeting of the season, and will be for members only.

Sooner or later the man possessing a pull is ousted by the man who shows push.

EVERYTHING CONSIDERED

BY GERALDINE BRIETZKE

One of the most interesting indoor sports known to womankind is the re-arranging of furniture in a room. And in spring, when there is so much energy displayed by everything from crows to moving vans, women are apt to become more ambitious still, and consider the color cards issued by paint companies; they are also apt to stand for a long time in front of a store window, trying to get a mind's eye picture of the sitting room wallpaper and what those lovely drapes would look like against it.

You, too, probably feel like changing the appearance of some part of your house. Even if you've bought so many victory bonds and war savings certificates that they're bulging out of your strong box, perhaps you could afford to please yourself and your family by improving at least one room.

How about the maid's room? You still call it that, don't you, even though your last maid departed months ago? And, ten to one, you've let the room become a sort of unhappy attic, full of odds and ends, when it could be a nice little sewing room or study. Why don't you clear everything

Westmount Club Will Hold Annual Meeting

The Westmount Women's Club will hold its annual meeting tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in Victoria Hall.

Refreshments will be served under the direction of Mrs. Harry Griffin, and tea will be poured by Miss Muriel Dennis, Miss S. Gardiner, Mrs. C. B. Powter and Mrs. W. M. Hick.

For a playroom, rainbow curtains are cheerful and pretty. There's no subtle blending about them—you just sew foot-wide strips of bright, bold colors into longer strips, and hang them at the window. We wonder if anybody ever tried patchwork curtains? They would be novel, at least. Our real favorite, however, is monk's cloth, and after that, homespun, in a pale beige or biscuit shade.

Furniture is a big and expensive problem, but you could transplant a few surplus pieces from other rooms into this new room of yours, provided they don't clash. That hideous little table with the curly legs would be false economy if it worried your eyes as much in the new room as it did in the den; give it away and have an austere bare corner rather than that! You'd be surprised at the difference color can make, however, and a plain old chair could be nicely dressed up with paint-to match your new scheme; the humblest day bed could be made into an attractive sofa with the addition of a good looking cover and cushions.

Perhaps you could re-frame one or two old pictures to trim this re-discovered room of yours. How often have we seen pictures of shining fields and innocent country shacks, complete with waddling white ducks, enclosed in massive and vulgar gold frames that seem almost to ridicule the artist's subject? Apply the rest of simplicity to your paintings, and see if strong simple subjects aren't better looking with plain dignified frames.

We're not suggesting, you see, that you should go out and spend lots of money. It's ingenuity that counts in this business of the maid's room that is now the extra room, and you know as well as we do that it's fun improvise.

Men do their best when they are challenged by odds and subjected to sacrifice and trial, not when they are offered rich prizes with an easy road to reach them.

Beauty and You

by PATRICIA LINDSAY

Dressed in her attractive confetti lounging pajamas, this modern beauty sprays her skin with lovely fragrance, preparatory to a relaxing night at home.

How to Be Your Loveliest After Duty Hours

After the first spurt of doing your bit for your country along with your regular daily duties, you will find your enthusiasm will begin to dim. That is because we are creatures of habit and being accustomed to many free hours, it is difficult for Canadian women to suddenly go without any leisure. And we should not go without some leisure.

You must, of course, be loyal to your pledge to help, but you can if you will, so routine all your duties that you will have time for relaxation and fun. During those hours it is your woman's obligation to look your loveliest, for our men and children do not react well to a country full of tired-looking, harassed females who are so overwhelmed by the emergency that they have no charm or serenity left to radiate when it is vitally needed.

To Pep You Up
Let me suggest that you have on hand a few wonder cosmetics which will quickly revitalize your tired beauty and refresh your spirits.

For instance there is a rich, pine oil, of which only a tablespoonful or two is needed to make your hot bath one of luxury. In the clear green water, tired muscles relax and a tired brain is soothed by the stimulating fragrance which the heat causes to rise. Irritable members of the family will calm down if you give them such a tubbing!

To Conceal Facial Fatigue
Even the most strained face can be greatly beautified by a new cream which acts as a kind of camouflage. It is versatile enough to serve as a glowing powder foundation, to cover minor blemishes and annoying, large freckles. Such a product has long been needed to help women face life's little emergencies with perfect equanimity. Mothers please note—this cream is also suitable for the difficult teenage skin problem.

Then, of course, there is perfume—that old boost to one's morale. Treat yourself to a bottle of your favorite fragrance—one that makes you think happy thoughts when you sniff it. And don't forget to use it! Too many women permit their lovely scents to evaporate without getting any benefit from them at all. Nothing is more beautifully refreshing than a night at home, after a pine bath, dressed in an attractive lounging outfit, and scented with an exquisite fragrance. Try it!

WESTMOUNT WOMEN ORGANIZE COMMITTEE FOR SALVAGE WORK

Organized in order to educate Westmount women as to the importance of salvage collection in Canada's war effort, the newly formed Westmount Women's Salvage Committee has opened headquarters at 1215 Greene Avenue, Room 13.

The committee has zoned off the City of Westmount into four sections, with a view to conducting interviews with householders concerning salvage. To date, 35 apartment houses have been organized by the committee, and depots have been established in these apartment houses, with a regular salvage pick-up undertaken by the City of Westmount.

The committee room is open every day from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m., and on Saturdays from 9 a.m. until 12 noon. Helpers are needed, it is stated, in order that the work of interviewing and organizing may be carried on. The telephone number of the committee's headquarters is WI. 2539.

Mrs. E. B. Wallace, Jr., is chairman of the committee, and is assisted by Mrs. George Merry, Mrs. William Carter, Mrs. Harold Mills, Mrs. G. Fautoux, Mrs. R. Higgs, Mrs. G. M. Marshall and Mrs. Walter Newton.

An illustrative window display, showing scrap salvage is being exhibited at 4271 St. Catherine St. west, and another similar display will be opened this week-end at the corner of St. Catherine St. and Greene Avenue.

SOLDIER'S CALL IN OWN TONGUE STIRS APPLAUSE

Hungarian Violinist at Westmount Concert Addressed by Comatriot In Uniform

Sudden call in an enemy tongue from a soldier in His Majesty's uniform provided a dramatic interlude in the Westmount Women's Club monthly supper and concert to soldiers and airmen in Westmount Y.M.C.A. on Sunday night.

Miss Itholyka Gyarfus, noted Hungarian violinist, had just completed Brahms Fifth Hungarian Dance and was being pressed by vociferous clapping for an encore. She asked the audience for suggestions. From the rear of the hall came a request "Some more Hungarian music, please," couched in the Hungarian language. Miss Gyarfus replied in Hungarian, "I am sorry I have no more Hungarian music with me." The request came from a young Hungarian now serving in a Canadian regiment. The conversation was greeted with an outburst of cheering from the audience.

Technically, Canada and the rest of the Empire are at war with Hungary, since the Hungarian Government under the heel of the Nazis, has taken part in the war against our ally, Russia. Hungarians in Canada and elsewhere who are free to think and speak are under no illusions as to the fact of their country should Hitler emerge from the war as master of Europe.

After the concert Miss Gyarfus had a lengthy conversation, in English, with her young compatriot. Miss Gyarfus has done considerable work in playing at concerts held for men in uniform in this district.

On Programme
Others who took part in the concert were Misses Ellen Rathie, E. Murray and Miss Florrie Jenkins, vocalists; John Vrooland, baritone and Gail and Joan Reagle, singers and dancers. Two Irish soldiers only three days in Canada, sang a comic song. J. B. Speirs, of Montreal West, presided at the piano. Miss Betty Speirs was in charge of entertainment. Mrs. Harold Mills, chairman of the war work committee of the club outlined its activities and expressed appreciation of the work of Mrs. H. C. Holland, chairman of the hospitality committee of the club.

Miss Speirs entertained at the British Legion concert in the Queen's Hotel on Friday and acted as mistress of ceremonies at the Canadian Legion All-Star concert given at Joliette, Que., on Monday.

I.O.D.E. Meeting

LOYAL CITIZENS DO NOT HOARD!

Hoarders are people who buy and store away goods beyond their immediate needs.

They want to be in an unfair position over their neighbors.

Hoarders are traitors to their country and their fellow citizens, because by creating excessive and unnecessary demands for goods, they slow down the war effort.

There is no excuse for "panic buying" and hoarding. Everyone will have enough, if no one tries to get more than a fair share.

Hoarding must stop! Every unnecessary purchase makes it more difficult for Canada to do a full war job.

THERE'S A LAW AGAINST HOARDING

It is against the law to buy more than current needs. Violation of the law is punishable by fines up to $5,000, and imprisonment for as long as two years.

AVOID ALL UNNECESSARY BUYING — AVOID WASTE MAKE EVERYTHING LAST THE LONGEST TIME POSSIBLE

In cases where it is advisable for you to buy in advance of your immediate requirements—such as your next season's coal supply—you will be encouraged to do so by direct statement from responsible officials.

"Sergeant York" Shows History-making Decision

Gary Cooper was about as close to heaven as it's possible to get on a movie sound stage when he played a scene depicting a decision that made history.

The scene was for "Sergeant York," which is now playing at the Westmount United Theatre. and Cooper sat on the topmost crag of a man made mountain on a Warner Bros. studio set. There was a spiritual quality to the scene that made the eerie perch highly appropriate.

Dressed in the olive drab uniform of the American doughboy of 1917, Cooper sat on the rocky crag, looking out toward the cloud flecked sky backing. His campaign hat lay beside him, his tunic was unbuttoned, and in his hand he held a leather backed Bible. Except for a hound dog that lay curled beside him, he was alone.

Wispis of fog, released from compression cylinders, curled up from the valley before, stealing through the branches and wreathing about the tops of pine and fir trees. The sky backing, beyond the tumbled expanse of timber and mountain tops, brightened at first imperceptibly, then with growing swiftness. Powerful arc lights behind the painted sky were creating a sunrise that nature in her happiest mood might have envied.

The camera, mounted on a platform 40 feet high, was trained closely on Cooper as he looked out to face the dawn. He gazed long, and as he did, he seemed to be hearing inner voices.

At last his eyes dropped to the Bible in his hands. He opened the book, turned the pages until he found an apparently well-remembered passage. Then, haltingly, he read aloud: "Render therefore unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's."

Slowly, the tortured look of indecision in his face changed to one of firm resolve. Still holding the Bible, he rose and his full height was outlined against the brightening sky.

Setting, circumstances, situation all were true to the facts of Alvin York's life. A conscientious objector to war on religious grounds, York was drafted into the army after his application for exemption had been refused. Recognizing his complete sincerity, his battalion major talked over his problem with him, then granted him a furlough.

"Go home to your Tennessee Mountains," the major told York. "Think things out. When you come back, if you still feel the same way, I'll recommend your exemption."

On just such a mountain crag as that on which Cooper sat, York kept an all night vigil, and with the coming of the sunrise reached his decision. It was a decision that gave America her greatest soldier hero of the first World War expeditionary force.

Bette Davis Stars Masonic Players In Kent Comedy To Present Drama

"Stand back, I have three different deadly contagious diseases."

That's the dialogue with which Monty Woolley, portraying a world-famed literary lecturer, greets club-women gathered to meet him at the railway station in "The Man Who Came to Dinner," the comedy coming to the Kent on Saturday.

It's the dialogue, too, delivered at the very beginning of the film, which gives us the key to the man—a querulous, crochety, but unbelievably witty man of the world who has dedicated his life to shocking conventional and fuddy-duddy people wherever he finds them.

He finds them in this instance in the persons of Billie Burke, a lion-hunting hostess and her husband, Grant Mitchell a pompous, middle-westerner who stands for everything that is anathema to Woolley.

They come to know a lot about Woolley's ability for insulting before the picture's through because they make the awful mistake of inviting him to dinner, and scanned the landscape. Then he straightened up. Yessir, there was unmistakable evidence of fungus—the captain hadn't shaved.

"It's those civilian defenders down at the drug store," he steamed. "They won't sell me a tube of shave cream unless I turn in a used one—and there isn't a used one to be found!"

The captain disappeared into his office, but the executive officer approached my desk.

"Teletype Washington," he ordered. "Teletype the Secretary of the Navy and arrange some sort of priority for our men. The Admiral will be here for general inspection tomorrow, and if this continues we'll look like the Byrd Antarctic Expedition after two years in Little America."

And so it was that one of the minor chapters in the current conflict came to a successful conclusion for the United Nations. Washington responded with amazing speed, and tonight the captain and I will shave once again. Further communications will be issued at a later date.

The members of the Masonic Study Club, associated with Westmount Lodge No. 76 A.F. & A.M. are producing a play in Victoria Hall, Westmount on April 21 and 22, the proceeds of which are to be given to the Quebec Masons' War Relief Fund.

In this masonic play, "1759," written by A. J. B. Milborne, and to be presented under the direction of George M. Brewer, the founding of the Craft in Quebec by the soldier masons serving in Wolfe's Army and the election of a Grand Master to preside over the lodges in the garrison is dramatically presented.

In the first Act, General Monkton holds a conference to discuss range for the defence of the newly captured City. The second act is more directly concerned with the life and activities of the three comrades, Miles Prentice, the Provost Marshal of the Army, "Sandy" Simpson and "Jamie" Thompson of the 78th Regiment (Fraser's Highlanders) with a touch of Irish wit and humour added by the vivacious Captain Knox of the 43rd Regiment. The hopes and schemes of these four brethren come to fruition for, in the final act, the meeting which they planned is dramatized. General James Wolfe, the gallant young hero, who gave up his life on the Plains of Abraham, is much in the minds of the various characters, and his spirit pervades each scene.

NOW AT KENT

Bruce Cabot, Reginald Gardiner and George Sanders sense trouble ahead in this tense scene from Walter Wanger's "Sundown," the romantic adventure romance which is now playing at the Kent Theatre on the same program with "Louisiana Purchase," starring Bob Hope, Vera Zorina and Victor Moore.

Claudette Colbert Stars In "Remember The Day"

"It's the best play I have seen in ten years!" So wrote George M Cohan after he had seen "Remember the Day" on Broadway, adding his tribute to that of thousands of others who saw and loved this poignant drama conceived by Phil Higley and Philip Dunning.

20th Century-Fox immediately perceived the play's potentialities, and sought to obtain the screen rights. When it was announced that the film company was going to film the play, speculation was rampant about who would play the central figure.

Claudette Colbert settled all discussion when she picked "Remember the Day" from several offers as the one picture she wanted to do. Turning from recent topflight comedy roles, this versatile actress climaxes her career with her unforgettable portrayal in this memorable love story.

Cast for the important role opposite Miss Colbert was handsome John Payne, who has been gathering laurels for himself in such outstanding pictures as "Sun Valley Serenade" and "Week-End in Havana."

Two juveniles in the featured supporting cast give excellent accounts of themselves — young Douglas Croft, a recent discovery, and Ann Todd. John Shepperd plays the role of Dewey Roberts, while Jane Seymour is the only member of the film cast who played the same role in the stage production.

SAN DIEGO, California—America's tube shortage is rapidly approaching the danger mark—and I'm not speaking of the tubes, friend.

Navy regulations require all hands to shave daily, unless prevented by something tantamount to an act of God. While mustaches and chin feathers are occasionally tolerated, a face full of fuzz doesn't elicit with the powers that be. If our boys in Singapore and Corregidor find time to shave, surely there is no excuse for laxity among men temporarily at shore stations—that's the way they reason.

Thus it was, in pursuit of official duty, that I found myself last night at the notion counter of a drug store near our present station. My face was fuzzy, and in my hand there lay a quarter.

"Tubes of shaving cream, please," I asked the lass who approached.

"Yuh gotta tube, sir?" she queried.

"What do you mean, have I got a tube? If I had one I certainly wouldn't be here now."

She scratched the tip of her sun-tanned nose.

"Gotta have an old tube or I can't sell you a new one," she explained. "Government order. Preserves tin, or something."

"Listen, lady," I argued, "I don't have an old tube but I do need a new one. I have to show up for duty in an hour properly shaved—or else. Now, can I please have that tube of shave cream?"

"Sorry, I gotta have an old tube. It's not my fault—"

BASEBALL, LACROSSE LOOPS WILL OPERATE HERE UNDER MUNICIPAL SUPERVISION

Organization meetings for four municipal league will be held in the next two weeks. It was announced today by recreation supervisor Jimmie McCormick.

Baseball and Pee Wee softball gatherings will be held this week while senior municipal softball and midget lacrosse is scheduled for next week.

The baseball meeting is slated for tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock in the Greenhouse. It is hoped to operate midget and bantam sections again this year. The bantams will be run for teams around the same calibre as the bantam

B hockey teams the past winter. The league itself of course hinges on the possibility of obtaining the Atwater Park diamond to play the games on.

The Pee Wee softball meeting is scheduled for 10.30 this Saturday morning. This league is for players eighty pounds and under. Last year the teams were allowed to use two players weighing up to ninety pounds. This will be one of the points to be decided on at the meeting. All games are played at Westmount Park on Monday, Wednesday, Friday afternoons and Saturday mornings.

The Westmount Senior Municipal Softball League will hold an organization meeting on Friday evening, April 24th. This league had a very successful season last year and prospects appear very bright for this summer. There are five probable entries at the present time. The Royals last year's titlists, Artie Mann's Dodgers and three Air Force teams. An effort will be made to round out a six team loop.

A meeting will be held on Monday, April 27th, to discuss the possibilities of organizing a midget lacrosse league. The games would be played on Westmount Park starting in May. Lacrosse sticks are available for the players and it is thought that such a league would be very popular. A weight limit for players will be imposed. In addition to teams wishing to enter the league, coaches and managers with experience in the game who would care to help out are also asked to attend the meeting.

Those who give up essential liberty to obtain a little temporary safety deserve neither liberty nor safety.

Butterfly Farm Busy in Britain

Even butterfly farming is being developed to help on Britain's war effort.

To protect this year's tomato crop from the White Fly pest, a greenhouse has just been reserved at a butterfly farm in Kent. Here the pest will be introduced in order to breed its parasite, a tiny ichneumon fly. Tomato leaves covered with White Fly eggs, carefully inspected, will then be distributed among tomato growers to safeguard the crops of this valuable contribution to the country's food supply.

The butterfly farm is also sending out batches of eggs of the Winter moth to test the value of fruit tree sprays. Last year it bred hundreds of yellow butterflies to help Sir Frederick Gowland Hopkins, the octogenarian scientist, in his experiments to find a cure for pernicious anaemia.

Y ATTENDANCE ON INCREASE DURING MARCH

Attendance records for participation in the various physical activities at the local Westmount Y.M.C.A. show that the month of March has been one of the busiest of the entire Fall and Winter season. The Business Men's Class topped the list with the highest average attendance of any other group. The Business Girls' Class ranked highest in the ladies' division. The Rotary Boys (sponsored by Westmount Rotary Club) had the highest monthly average among the boys classes.

During the Easter holidays the Y facilities have been used morning, noon and night. Special physical events in the gym and pool helped to keep the boy members active. The swimming meets and boxing match held in conjunction with the annual Hobby Show attracted capacity crowds.

Considerable interest is being shown in the semi-private learn-to-swim classes which are to begin in the near future. Both boys and girls between the ages of 7 and 10 are signing up for the special instructional periods. The opening date will depend upon weather conditions. There will be two periods a week for each group.

Physical Fitness Through Exercise And Diet

(This is another in a series of health articles by P. M. McFarlane, Physical Director at Westmount Y.M.C.A.)

The material for this article was taken from an abstract by W. F. Christie, M.D., which was published in "The Physiotherapy Review." The article is to deal with the problem of obesity.

Once fat is formed within the body, the only way of reducing it seems to be to make the body burn it. There are two methods of doing this: one is to increase metabolism by means of drugs, which is dangerous; the other is to cut down the body's supply of fuel from outside sources, which, if wisely done, is safe.

Take first the question of drug treatment. Drugs cannot reduce surplus fat unless they are pushed to the extent of causing ill-health.

Violent muscular exercise is not a safe way of reducing those who are overweight. Stout subjects have little cardiac reserves; on slight exertion they become short of breath and develop a rapid pulse rate. To run them up and down tennis courts or make them climb mountains is to court disaster.

Deep massage is another popular "cure." How can it dissipate the patient's fat? It is said that it does so by rupturing the cell membranes of fatty globules and allowing the oil to escape into the subcutaneous tissues but even if it does actually rupture cell membranes the oil will be reabsorbed from the injured site and deposited again elsewhere.

Sweating bath, such as Turkish and radiant heat baths, remove a pound or two of water from the body, but the water is replaced by the next few drinks.

Cold increases the metabolism, but the amount of fat which can be lost by taking a cold bath in the morning is negligible. Hippocrates' cure for corpulence was cold baths, exposure of the naked body to the open air, and certain dietetic restrictions. Of course, he knew perfectly well which of the three was the most important. From this day till ours dieting has been, and still is, the most important single factor in the cure of obesity.

Dieting: By dieting, fat can be removed quickly or slowly. The weight loss is "rapid" when it exceeds 3 lb., and "slow" when it is less than that amount. Rapid weight reduction is more dangerous than slow reduction, as it is apt to cause muscular and cardiac weakness. Subjects who have reduced rapidly neither feel so fit, nor look so well, as those who have done it slowly.

Army English

Actual warfare doesn't dim the Army's sense of humor. From an unidentified source comes a Glossary of Staff Phraseology which deserves more than passing notice. There's a good deal of it, but these excerpts will give you an idea:

"With reference to—" (Whether it has or not, this letter must begin somehow). "Submitted for information" (this means nothing to me but it may to you). "I approach the subject with an open mind" (completely ignorant of the whole subject). "Under consideration" (papers temporarily mislaid). "Under active consideration" (propose instituting a search for the file). "Have you any remarks?" (can you give me an idea what this is all about?). "Snowed under" (able to take only an hour and a half for lunch). "This will be borne in mind" (no further action will be taken until you remind me). "You will remember" (you have forgotten, if indeed you ever knew). "In due course" (never). "All orders issued by my predecessor are to remain in force" (I haven't read them yet, but shall take the first opportunity of altering them). "As you know" (as you didn't know)....

Rumor, of all evils the most swift. Speed lends her strength and she gains vigor as she goes. She has a hundred tongues, a hundred mouths, a voice of iron.—Virgil.

Gossip is a sort of smoke that comes from the dirty tobacco pipes of those who diffuse it; it proves nothing but the bad taste of the smoker.—George Elliot.

Milwaukee Journal: Unless MacArthur's brave fellows in Bataan can prove they are farmers, our august Senate is sorry but there is really little it can do.

Duty of Citizens . . .

may arise, he is not prepared to allow the Government to use the armed forces of this country in the manner which the Government believes will most effectively protect his own children and his own home. Personally I should hate to assume such a responsibility.

But the citizen who is physically able to go to the polls and who falls to do so, assumes a responsibility almost as grave as the one who votes no, in fact he is allowing the issue to go by default and that is what I fear most. Unless the people of this country realize the vital importance of the issues involved I am afraid, that through indifference, resentment, some personal inconvenience which may be involved, or the like, many people may fail to cast their votes. This must not happen and that is why I say to everyone of you who may be listening to me, let nothing stand in the way of your going to the polls on Monday, April 27, and voting yes.

One of the most potent weapons in this war or in any war is civilian morale and I am convinced that today no single factor could do more to arouse our people and give them confidence than that a record breaking vote be polled in this plebiscite and that vote should be an overwhelming affirmative. I should like to think it could be unanimous; that of course is impossible; but let us see to it that the margin is so great as to leave no shadow of doubt in the minds of our own people, of our friends or of our enemies as to where we stand.

Such a result will hearten those gallant Canadians now serving in our armed forces, it will give encouragement to those charged with the heavy responsibility of directing our war effort, it will demonstrate to those fighting with us that Canada is determined to place no limitation on her effort to achieve victory, and it will show our foes that we mean to fight until that victory is achieved.

I should like to say a word now about arrangements for taking the vote. Starting last Monday morning and continuing all this week, enumerators, both men and women, under the direction of the returning officer for each locality, are visiting every home and taking down the names and addresses of every qualified voter. Generally speaking, all British subjects, men or women, who have lived in Canada for twelve months or more and who will be 21 years of age on or before April 27 next are entitled to vote. Enumerators will leave a slip at each house for all voters, notifying them exactly where they are to vote, and these slips should be retained until after voting day.

Every effort will be made by the enumerators to list every voter, but if through absence or other cause a voter's name is omitted, that person will still be entitled to vote upon producing his or her registration card and upon being vouched for by some other voter whose name appears on the list.

The polls will be open from 8 o'clock in the morning until 8 o'clock in the evening. I imagine that, as usual, the greatest rush will be between 8 and 10 in the morning and 5 and 8 in the evening. For this reason I would urge those of you who can conveniently do so, to vote during the middle of the day in order to avoid congestion at the polls during the rush hours. In St. Antoine-Westmount a strong non-partisan Citizens' Committee has been set up to provide information to assist the voters and to help to secure a record breaking "Yes" vote. You know, of course, that the leaders of all the major political parties in this country have publicly asked for a "Yes" vote and that there can be no question of party politics or party allegiance in this matter. Mr. R. S. White, who for many years represented St. Antoine-Westmount in the House of Commons at Ottawa, is acting as Honorary Joint Chairman of this Committee with myself.

The active Chairman of the Committee is Mr. W. B. Scott, K.C., and Mr. Arthur F. Bell is Honorary Secretary. The Committee has established headquarters in Victoria Hall, where space has been made available by the City of Westmount, and a large number of voluntary workers, both men and women, has already been enrolled. Many more will be required, particularly on polling day, and I would ask that anyone who is willing and able to help should get in touch with Committee Headquarters in Victoria Hall; the telephone number is Fitzroy 7462. In addition to the Committee Headquarters, special information booths are being set up throughout the district and to assist those who, by reason of age or physical infirmity, would have difficulty in getting to the polls, the Committee plans to have a number of cars available on polling day. Naturally under existing conditions everyone who can do so should make their own arrangements to get to the polls and only those who would otherwise be prevented from voting should ask for transportation. If you do wish a car to call for you please notify Committee Headquarters before polling day giving the time that will be most convenient for you. I repeat the telephone number is Fitzroy 7462.

In General, every effort will be made to get out each vote and if you are uncertain as to where to vote or want any information about the plebiscite, get in touch with Committee Headquarters or call at the information booth nearest to your home.

The Committee is receiving active support from all the Service Clubs and women's organizations in the Division, including the Westmount Rotary Club, the Westmount Women's Club, the Westmount Business Men's Association and the Westmount Catholic Women's League. All the Branches of the Canadian Legion are actively working for an overwhelming "yes" vote and are impressing upon their members that this plebiscite is a matter of extreme national importance.

You can help too by rousing interest among your friends and acquaintances and by urging them to be sure to turn out and cast their votes. Remember it is the aggregate vote that counts and the affirmative demonstration must be made as impressive as possible. Remember too, that some people don't understand just what is involved in the plebiscite. These people require your help, your explanations. Do your part by explaining to as many as possible of your friends and acquaintances just what is the issue at stake. For example, if you meet someone who says that Canada's first duty is to defend Canada and that he proposes to vote "No," point out to that person that a "Yes" vote does not mean that Canadian defences will not be maintained, it means that we must be in a position to defend ourselves by fighting the enemy where and how in the opinion of those in authority he can best be fought.

I have no doubt as to what the result will be. I am convinced that the answer will be an overwhelming yes both in my own constituency and throughout the country but to achieve that result every one of you, men and women, must realize your individual responsibility by turning out and voting "Yes." By doing that we can demonstrate to each other and to the rest of the world that we really mean what we say when we talk about fighting to save democracy.

Thar's Gold In Them Ducks, Maine Finds

AUGUSTA, Me. — Instead of going "duck shooting" the boys may be "prospecting" for the wily birds in the future if many more finds are made like the one uncovered at the University of Maine recently.

While analyzing the contents of duck stomachs to trace feeding habits, etc., Inland Fisheries and Game Research Director Joseph H. Stickney found a tiny piece of metal which State geologist Freeman Burr identifies as gold nugget.

The best theory so far is that the bird swallowed the nugget while picking gravel at the mouth of some stream or that it was attached to a piece of pyrite which the duck took aboard for digestive purposes.

Scallops move through the water by opening and clapping their shells together.
