Extended Fighting Almost Inevitable In View Of Soviet

Official Government Communique Declares That Future Is Fraught With Extremely Serious Consequences if Japan Continues Provocative Policies—Heavy Losses on Both Sides Reported as Clashes Continue Along Soviet-Manchoukuoan Border.

Moscow, Aug. 3.—(P)—A Russian communique declared today that under existing conditions of the conflict with Japan along the Siberian border "further continuation of hostilities, fraught with extremely serious consequences, is regarded inevitable."

The communique, as quoted by Tass (official Russian news agency) coupled this prediction with a statement that since the very beginning of the conflict the Soviet Government has declared that it intends only to defend territory indisputably belonging to the Soviet Union.

A newspaper which reliably reflects official opinion recalled that the Government had indicated a willingness to redefine the boundary separating Siberia from Japanese Korea and Japanese-protected Manchoukuo.

The communique said further: "Beginning at dawn on August 2, Japanese troops resumed the offensive against the hill of Zaozernaya (Changkuifeng) located in Soviet territory. The fighting for this hill lasted the whole day."

"While Japanese troops were crossing into Soviet territory they were subjected to artillery fire and air bombing from the Soviet side which caused them tremendous losses."

"Reports on the flights of Soviet bombers over Manchurian (Manchoukuoan) and Korean territories, circulated by Japanese telegraph agencies and newspapers, is emphatically refuted by competent Soviet circles."

Soviet workers' resolution requested the government to administer "a most resolute repulse" and to let the Japanese general staff "learn what it means to poke their swinish snouts into our Soviet garden."

Although the nation thus gave free rein to patriotic indignation, it appeared significant that Pravda's editorial started with "if" war results, apparently meaning that Moscow still sees the possibilities of continuing hostilities to the frontier.

Both Russia and Japan claim Changkuifeng where heavy frontier fighting has been going on since Sunday.

Unless Tokyo should insist upon provoking a general conflict, it appeared here that there was a chance of returning to previous plans for putting the boundary dispute into the hands of an arbitration commission.

The Journal de Moscou, in discussing the commission suggestion, advised that "Japan, however, must not imagine it can attach 'absurd and unacceptable conditions.'"

"It would be difficult to believe that Japan really wants to launch a war against the U.S.S.R.," the paper continued, "when it is already up to the neck in China."

The Russian version of Changkuifeng fighting charged Japanese with starting the offensive, said they were shelled by Soviet artillery and bombed by Soviet planes with "immense losses."

The communique denied, however, that Russian planes had attacked Korean or Manchoukuoan territory, as detailed in a Tokyo army communique.

NEW PROTEST PLACED WITH SOVIET HEADS

Tokyo, Aug. 3.—(P)—The Japanese Government directed its second protest in twenty-four hours to Russia today, in an effort to end by diplomacy the bitter fighting along the Siberia-Manchoukuoan frontier.

A communique said fighting ended at 10 a.m. and that Russian troops had retreated some 1,500 yards from Japanese positions.

A "general lull" prevailed along the border following the engagement, the communique said.

The fighting still was in progress early today between large forces of well-equipped troops, with airplanes and tanks, and it was felt in authoritative circles that the exchange of fire marked the first round of the Far East's second conflict.

New Deal Supporters And Opponents Divided Honors In Four Primaries

Washington, Aug. 3.—(P)—Supporters and opponents of President Roosevelt's administration divided the honors today in four Democratic primary elections.

Senator Bennett Clark of Missouri, foe of the controversial Court Bill and other measures favored by the President, won a landslide re-nomination in that state. So did Senator George McGill of Kansas, loyal follower of the President.

Their victories were not unexpected, however, for both had the active backing of their state party organizations. President Roosevelt had taken no part in either race.

The same division extended to nominations for House of Representatives who have supported the President defeated their opponents, but in Virginia two avowed New Dealer backers lost out.

Representative Howard Smith of Virginia won a three to one victory

U. S. WAR OFFICIAL STUDIES B. C. HIGHWAY SCHEME

Washington, August 3.—(P)—An aerial trip to Alaska by Louis Johnson, Assistant United States Secretary of War, provided a hint today the administration was considering development of a great army air base in the Far North.

Johnson said he would leave about August 15 to inspect army posts and projects in Alaska, and at the same time would study the feasibility of both the base and of a projected all-weather road from the United States northwest through Canada to Alaska.

Paris, Aug. 3.—(P)—Police today closed five Montmartre cabarets after tourists reported they were beaten when they refused to pay 1,000 francs ($27) for wine ordinarily sold for 30 francs (81 cents).

Heavy Bank Offerings Halted Mad Gold Scramble In London

Political Uncertainty in Europe and Orient, Coupled with Wild Rumors of Dollar Devaluation, Caused Heavy Demand for Gold by Hoarders, Shooting Price Up to Highest Level Since April, 1937.

London, August 3.—(P-Cable)—The sudden scramble for gold was temporarily halted in the London market this morning when the Bank of England threw in heavy offerings to sell the dollar at $4.89 1/2 to the pound, the highest quotation reached since last April. Yesterday's closing rate was $4.90 1/2.

The Bank's action came after gold had reached 142 shillings half penny, also the best quotation in several months, and had a prompt steadying influence.

Financial interests professed to be mystified by the latest demand for the dollar and for gold, but generally were inclined to attribute it to continental gold hoarders and a crop of "wild rumors." The rumors in circulation were:

The powers adhering to the tripartite monetary agreement are planning general currency devaluation in terms of gold as a means of reviving international trade.

Reports the sterling-dollar rate will be allowed to find its level at the old par value of $4.86 2-3 to the pound; and possibilities of an open rupture between Russia and Japan over the present frontier dispute.

Other factors contributing to firmness of the dollar included increased demand for United States stocks on this side and improved commercial demand for the dollar.

Commenting on the latest market activity, the financial editor of the News Chronicle says "the dollar-sterling-gold triangle offers a vista of interesting developments."

"There is a strong body of opinion in the market which sees the dollar up to about $4.86 and the price of gold at 143 shillings or over," he adds, "Superimposed on these possibilities there are ever recurring rumors that the dollar itself will be devalued in terms of gold."

FRANCO CLAIMS NEW LOYALIST DRIVE HALTED

Incessant Bombardment by Insurgent Planes Said to Have Completely Disorganized Government Forces on Ebro River Front.

Hendaye, France, Aug. 3.—(P)—Spanish Insurgents reported today that incessant bombardment by hundreds of planes had halted abruptly the Government's Ebro River offensive in Catalonia.

The air raiders' curtain of fire was described as so intense that the militiamen were completely disorganized and unable to reform their lines.

Although dispatches from Government lines admitted a slight insurgent aerial supremacy, they insisted Government planes had been able to minimize the effects of Insurgent bombers.

Observers with the militiamen pointed out that the Government continued pouring men, tanks and artillery across the Ebro into the Gandesa sector despite almost a week of Insurgent efforts to cut pontoon bridges across the river and isolate Government troops.

The Government's new tactics of striking rapidly first in one sector and then in another forced Insurgents to create a mobile reserve in the rear, thus weakening front line defenses.

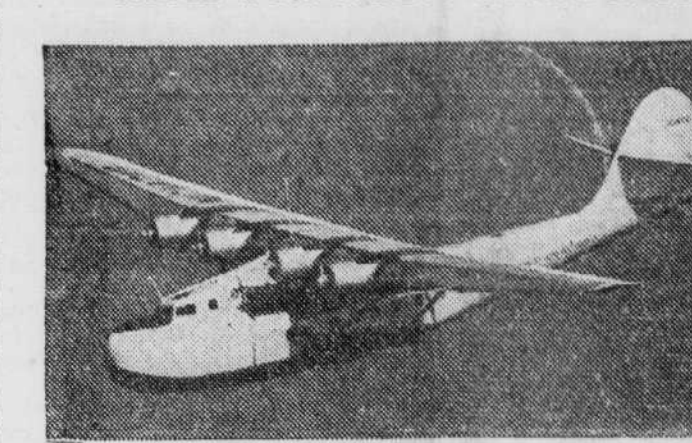

These shock troops were being moved to a position north of Gandesa—highway junction and General Franco's former insurgent district headquarters 150 miles southwest of Barcelona—to thwart a new menace against the Insurgents' left flank which the Government reported was ripped open with the capture of the heights of Pobla de Masalua.

THREE-DAY STRIKE ON LAKE SHIP ENDS

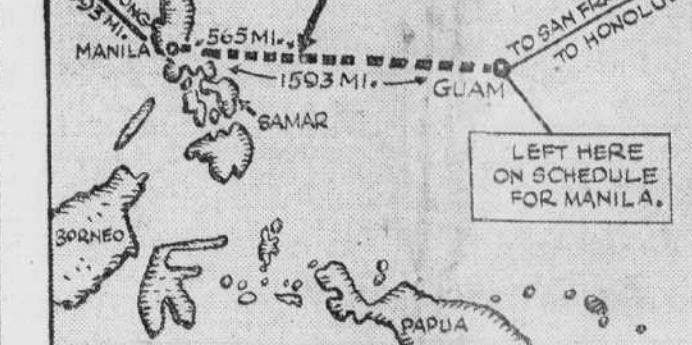

Milwaukee, Aug. 3.—(P)—A three-day strike on the package freighter Arthur Orr ended last night when representatives of the Canada Atlantic Transit Company accepted terms proposed by the Committee for Industrial Organization's national Maritime Union and the International Longshoremen's Union of the American Federation of Labor.

Nathaniel S. Clark, region director for the National Labor Relations Board, said the company agreed to rehire an employee whose dismissal precipitated a strike Sunday by members of the Arthur Orr crew.

HOPES FOR SAFETY ABANDONED

Long overdue on the 1593 mile trip from Guam to Manila, hopes have been virtually abandoned for the trans-Pacific flying boat, Hawaii Clipper, above. In the map below, the position of the craft when last heard from is shown 565 miles from the Philippine coast.

London, Aug. 3.—(P)—Emily Arkwell, seventeen, gave policemen and firemen some anxious moments today as she emulated John Warde, spectacular New York suicide, and defied attempts to rescue her from a ledge fifty feet above the ground.

Clad only in a nightgown, the girl, an inmate of the East Croydon Moral Welfare Home, climbed from her room to the ledge and threatened to jump if anyone went near her.

As a crowd gathered, firemen spread a jumping sheet and padded the street with mattresses and pillows collected from nearby houses.

Two extension ladders were run up to the ledge as the girl, clinging to the ivy-clad wall and shivering in the cold dawn breeze, again threatened to jump. The crowd missed a heart-beat several times as the girl swayed and almost fell.

But unlike the young New Yorker who plunged to his death from a seventeen-storey ledge, the rescue attempts had a happy climax. While the girl's attention was distracted from below, watchers reached out a window and seized her wrists.

She was taken to a hospital for observation.

LARGE GAIN IS REGISTERED IN INCOME TAXES

Collections for First Four Months of Fiscal Year Were $106,170,182, Compared with $86,455,368 in Previous Year.

Ottawa, August 3.—(P)—With increases recorded in nearly all districts, income tax collections during the period from April 1 to July 31 amounted to $106,170,182 compared to $86,455,368 in the corresponding period last year, Minister of National Revenue Hleay announced today.

Collections during July declined $68,023 to $4,648,705 from $4,716,728 in July, 1937.

Collections by districts in the four-month period follow with increases over the corresponding period of 1937 in brackets:

Toronto $37,670,623, ($7,058,222); Montreal $28,203,294, ($4,823,894); London $9,837,331, ($1,315,175); Vancouver $7,825,674, ($2,344,567); Hamilton $6,710,316, ($1,515,253); and Ottawa $5,821,289, ($715,552).

Other districts yielding over $1,000,000 from income tax collections were: Winnipeg, $3,142,223, ($879,703); Halifax, $1,468,008, ($204,872); Saint John, $1,290,206, ($451,900); Calgary, $1,126,138, ($206,359); Quebec, $1,007,819, (decrease $52,823).

CLAIMS GROUP OF WESTERNERS HALTED BRIDGE

In Making Plea for National Unity, Premier Hepburn Charges Western Politicians Organized to Prevent Several Ontario Projects.

Goldbridge, B.C., Aug. 3.—(P)—Premier Mitchell Hepburn of Ontario was en route to Vancouver by motor car today, leaving behind him a plea for handling of Canadian problems on a national basis, rather than on the basis of sectional interest.

In an interview last night, the Premier claimed "a group of Western Senators" and House of Commons members had brought about delay in the construction of the International Bridge at Niagara Falls, withdrawal of plans for export of 110,000-horsepower of electrical energy, and had attempted to hold up construction of an international bridge at Sarnia, Ont.

"We can best build up the Dominion of Canada, by those of us from the East and West applying our best energies to our own problems and refraining from interfering with the plans and policies of sister provinces."

PLAN TRANSCONTINENTAL RELAY RUN

Rochester, N.Y., Aug. 3.—(P)—Ten Rochester youths who want to "put their home town on the map" today began preparations to do it with a non-stop relay run from New York City to San Francisco.

The youth, high school students and all track athletes, plan to start from New York about August 15, run in relays twenty-four hours per day, behind an accompanying trailer, and reach the Golden Gate city in seventeen days.

ITALY EXTENDS ANTI-SEMITISM

Rome, Aug. 3.—(P)—The Government announced today all foreign Jews would be barred from Italian schools beginning with the fall term. A communique issued by the Government said:

"Beginning with the scholastic year 1938-1939 the admission of foreign Hebrew students, including those residing in Italy, to all Italian schools of all grades is prohibited."

At the same time it announced a new programme to increase the efficiency of the nation's armed forces. Continued on Page 2, Col. 2.

BRITISH GIRL IN DRAMATIC SUICIDE MOVE

Policemen and Firemen Able to Prevent Self-Destruction by Girl Posed High Up on Ledge—Placed Under Observation.

London, Aug. 3.—(P)—Emily Arkwell, seventeen, gave policemen and firemen some anxious moments today as she emulated John Warde, spectacular New York suicide, and defied attempts to rescue her from a ledge fifty feet above the ground.

Clad only in a nightgown, the girl, an inmate of the East Croydon Moral Welfare Home, climbed from her room to the ledge and threatened to jump if anyone went near her.

TWO MONTREAL MEN KILLED IN SEWER TRAGEDY

Stick of Dynamite Which Failed to Go Off in Previous Blast Believed Responsible for Fatal Montreal Explosion.

Montreal, Aug. 3.—(P)—A stick of dynamite which failed to go off on a previous blast was believed by authorities today to have been the cause of an explosion that killed two men and injured three others yesterday while working in an open sewer in the northwest end of Montreal.

Andre Noel, twenty-eight, was injured fatally when he drove his air drill into a rock where the dynamite lay buried from the previous blast and his thirty-eight year old companion Emile Bourde died a few minutes after the accident, his body pierced with broken pieces of steel and rebar.

The injured, Arnold Poirier, thirty-five, Paul Meilleur, thirty-one, and Leo Lesdair, forty-one, thrown to the ground by the force of the explosion, were released from hospital after treatment for shock and bruises.

The men already had set off one blast in the ten-foot sewer on Bay-clay street and were preparing for another when Noel's drill bit into a hole with the unused stick of dynamite.

Inquest will be held tomorrow.

DEFENCE STUDY OF ANTICOSTI ROUTINE MOVE

Hon. Ian Mackenzie Declares that Expedition of Air Force and Naval Officers to Anticosti Is Part of Long Range Defence Programme.

Banff, Alta., August 3.—(P)—Survey of Anticosti, strategic St. Lawrence River island, is part of the normal programme, previously planned, by Canada's Department of National Defence, said Hon. Ian Mackenzie, National Defence Minister here last night.

"We know the problems presented by Anticosti Island. We will now find out exactly what facilities it affords for a seaplane base for the Royal Canadian Air Force." Naval facilities will also be surveyed.

An expedition of Canadian Air Force and naval officers left Halifax Monday for Anticosti, bound for Illis Bay in H.M.C.S. venture, Canadian Naval Service Auxiliary schooner. Other officers left Halifax by airplane, flying direct to the Island port.

Mr. Mackenzie arrived in Calgary Tuesday morning, spent several hours in the Turner Valley oil fields, which, it has been reported, may be a source of supply for Empire aerial and naval fuel requirements in peace and war time, and in the afternoon motored to Banff.

Turner Valley is forty-five miles southwest of Calgary where crude oil in large quantities was discovered in 1935 and where producing wells today have a potential production rate of 52,000 barrels daily. It is one of the largest oil fields in the British Empire.

Mr. Mackenzie had no comment to make on his visit to the Valley field.

REFORMED MARKETS POLICY DEMANDED

Humboldt, Sask., Aug. 3.—(P)—The Humboldt constituency has an opportunity Thursday of "showing the Liberal Government at Ottawa that it demands an intelligent marketing policy with an adequate fixed minimum price for wheat," M. J. Caldwell, C.C.F. member for the Rosetown-Biggar federal riding, told an audience at Eylefield, Mr. Caldwell was speaking on behalf of Joseph Burton, C.C.F. candidate in the August 4 bye-election to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. J. C. King.

Japanese Order Air Raid Precautions As Boundary Impasse Is Intensified

Partial "Black-out" for Principal Districts of Central, Western and Southern Japan Imposed as Russia Seeks to Place Blame for Recent Border Clashes Squarely on Nippons—Fighting Reported Halted Early This Morning.

Russia sought today to place on Japan's shoulders responsibility for further conflict along the Siberian border as hostilities were carried into the fifth day.

Reporting fighting had ceased at 10 a.m., the Japanese claimed the Russian forces had retreated 1,500 yards. Moscow, naming Japan the aggressor, declared the enemy had been "subjected to artillery fire and air bombing" while crossing "into Soviet territory."

The Russian communique warned of "serious consequences" if the "provocations" continue.

Reports Russian planes had bombed Japanese Korea, including a bridge near Seoul, the capital, were denied both in Moscow and Tokyo. The Japanese Government ordered a partial "blackout" for Tokyo, Yokohama, and all of Central, Western, and Southern Japan as an air raid precaution. It will be effective nightly until further notice.

The Japanese Government sent its second protest in twenty-four hours to Moscow and announced it hoped to localize the trouble and settle it by diplomatic steps.

ROYAL FAMILY MAKE SEA TRIP TO NORTH

Great Yarmouth, England, Aug. 3.—(C.P.-Havas)—The Royal yacht Victoria and Albert, with the King and Queen and Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret aboard, sailed from here for Scotland today.

The Royal family had come to Great Yarmouth in the Victoria and Albert from Southwold, Suffolk, where the King yesterday fraternized and sang songs with working lads and public school students at a camp he founded for them in 1921.

The departure for Scotland was attended by some excitement. Two launches from the destroyer which is accompanying the Victoria and Albert crashed into a pier. After a brief delay, however, the yacht and its convoy got under way.

NEW ZEALAND SEEKS AIR RESERVE RECRUITS

Wellington, N.Z., Aug. 3.—(C.P.-Havas)—An appeal to young men to volunteer for the civil reserve service being organized for the Royal New Zealand Air Force was issued today by Defence Minister F. Jones, who emphasized the need for wireless operators.

FORMER DEPUTY SHERIFF NAMED REAL MURDERER

Eighteen-Year-Old Boy, Serving Life Term for Murdering Doctor, Names Former Law Officer as Actual Killer.

South Paris, Me., Aug. 3.—(P)—Paul N. Dwyer, eighteen-year-old convicted slayer of a country doctor, today named former Deputy Sheriff Francis Carroll as the man who committed the murder for which Dwyer now is serving a life sentence.

Asked by Prosecutor Ralph Ingalls if he had murdered Dr. James G. Littlefield, Dwyer answered "no."

"Did you see him murdered?" Ingalls asked.

"Yes sir, I did."

"Francis Carroll," Dwyer, a few months ago sent to prison for life after confessing the murder of Dr. James G. Littlefield, was said by Prosecutor Ralph M. Ingalls in his opening, to have taken the blame after death threats by Carroll, whom he described as a "vicious killer."

Head erect, Dwyer took the stand before the court, packed with an audience which included his former sweetheart, Barbara Carroll, eighteen, daughter of the man on trial.

Ingalls, who painted Carroll, a world war veteran, as a "visionary" killer who threatened to shoot the boy if he told the truth, had planned to place Dwyer on the stand yesterday, but, as his name was called, the youth faltered—stricken with indignation brought on from heat and nervousness—and had to be escorted from the courtroom. He quickly recovered, however.

THREE YEAR OLD NATURAL SWIMMER

State College, Pa., Aug. 3.—(P)—No one was more surprised than her parents when three year old Margaret Ann Hartie fell from a bridge across a creek and swam to shore unassisted. The parents said the water was deep and the current swift.

Stubborn Chinese Resistance Fails To Halt Japanese Drive On Hankow

Shanghai, Aug. 3.—(P)—Japanese troops were reported today to have overcome stubborn Chinese resistance within fifty miles of Nanchang, an important Chinese air base.

Severe fighting continued, however, along the railroad between Nanchang and Kukiang, strategic Yantse River point, 135 miles downstream from Hankow, provisional Chinese capital.

The Japanese were thwarted in attempts to crack the defenders' positions at Shaochen, the first town south of Kukiang, despite deadly air bombardments of Chinese lines on the north bank of the Yangtze.

At least one large scale aerial battle was fought in that area. The Chinese were reported to have cut Yangtze dikes 125 miles below Hankow to stop by flood the advance toward Hankow.

The Chinese press reported that twenty thousand Japanese troops, most of them withdrawn from the conflict in China, passed through Shanghai, near the border of Chihli province in Northern China and Manchoukuo, en route to Manchoukuo.

British shipping firms in Shanghai were reported by the newspaper China Press to have recommended that the British Government close British ports to Japanese shipping unless Chinese coastal and inland ports were reopened to British vessels.

The British firms were represented as charging that Yangtze navigation was closed to all boats flying foreign flags, the excuse being "military necessity" and that Japanese plans indicated an effort was Continued on Page 2, Col. 4.

U.S. Administration Convinced Row Will Conclude With Armed Truce

Washington, Aug. 3.—(P)—Men to whom the United States administration looks for guidance clung today to the conviction that the latest Russo-Japanese fighting was likely to conclude in an armed truce.

Regardless of pitched battles along the Manchoukuo-Siberia border, well-informed persons here are inclined still to view the clash as a local affair destined to be settled locally.

Neither Japan, embroiled with China, nor Russia, concerned over European threats and international problems, desires a general war at this time, in the view of several diplomatic and military experts here.

All observers, however, are ready to revise their judgment quickly if the boundary fighting shows signs of getting completely beyond control.

Official State, War and Navy Department comment has been limited to Secretary Hull's statement yesterday that the Government was observing with special interest the varying reports from Tokyo and Moscow.

Privately it was disclosed that months ago a detailed study of official reports from abroad had led to the conclusion, still held, that neither side wanted a conflict of the proportions of the 1904 Russo-Japanese war.

One official adviser, map in hand, noted that Changkung Hill, scene of fighting this week, was situated in territory that was in dispute before Japan occupied Manchuria in 1931.

Only about one hundred miles southwest of Vladivostok, Soviet Far Eastern metropolis, it overlooks and dominates the railroad serving the port of Rashin, which Japan has developed recently in Korea.

Neither side moved to occupy it until Soviet troops took possession recently, creating an incident like that of last summer in which troops and gunboats clashed on the Amur River.

Girl Pleads With King To Release Dog

London, August 3.—(P)—Hazel Hurst, twenty-two-year-old blind American, appealed to King George today to waive quarantine restrictions which prevent her from taking her Alsatian dog guide into England.

The need for autarchy was impressed upon Mussolini when the League of Nations imposed sanctions upon Italy as a punishment for its war on Ethiopia. Prior to that Mussolini had no thoughts about autarchy. Indeed, he felt Italy must be an importing nation because of her need for combustible oils, coal, iron, copper, wool, rubber and cotton. But since 1935 he has gone all out for autarchy.

First — because Italy hasn't the foreign exchange necessary for extensive purchases abroad.

Second — because, in case of a great war, Italy cannot afford to rely upon imports for her primary needs.

"Economic servitude means political servitude," Mussolini told his countrymen.

Water Power Replaces Coal. Tackling the fuel problem, the Italians developed as much as possible their best coal fields which are in Sardinia. It is hoped eventually to produce 3,000,000 tons annually, but this would only cover one-fourth of Italy's needs. So hydro-electric power is being intensively developed in northern Italy where the mountain streams have made possible the electrification of the railways there and also developed power for factories.

Like Germany, Italy is going in not only for increased production of artificial silk, but also artificial rubber and wool.

Count Volpi, president of the confederation of manufacturers charged with part of the autarchy problem, recently gave out figures showing the difference between 1934 and 1937. In the latter year compared with the former, production in various commodities had increased as follows: coal, 400 per cent; lignite, 150; bauxite (from which aluminum is extracted), 100; lead ore, 250; zinc, 300; 50 per cent, 450; benzol, 225; paper cellulose, 400; benzine, 210; hemp, 65; flax, 400; artificial silk, 100.

As a result of some of these efforts, imports of raw wool and cotton have fallen by half.

But these percentage figures can be deceiving. Thus, the production of iron ore increased by 100 per cent.

Heavy Bank Offerings Halted Mad Gold Scramble In London

Paris of Henry Morgenthau, United States Secretary of the Treasury, have revived them despite all categorical denials. The gold hoarding movement, therefore, looks like continuing. Some observers of the market suggest it has only just begun.

Gold worth $2,977,000 (about $14,885,000) sold at 142 shillings and a halfpenny an ounce—four and a half pence (nine cents) over yesterday's price. The demand came from all parts of the continent.

Conservative estimates placed the quantity of gold hoarded in London at $250,000,000 ($1,250,000,000). Yesterday's gold price was 141 shillings eight pence (approximately $34.75) an ounce — a figure not previously reached since April 12, 1937.

A communique said: "At recent meetings held by Il Duce with the Minister of Finance and the Chief of General Staff of War and Air a further programme to increase the efficiency of our armed forces was concluded."

It gave no other details. The ban on Jewish students presumably does not apply to the 47,000 Jews who are Italian citizens.

The Fascist race doctrine issued July 14 by a group of Fascist professors proclaimed Italians were an Aryan race and denied Jews were members of "the Italian race."

There has been no move, however, to exclude them from Italian citizenship.

CLAIMS SCHOOL INMATE BEATEN TO DEATH

Florence, Ala., Aug. 3.—(P)—Governor Ribb Graves had before him today a request from State Legislator George Jones to investigate the death of a fifteen-year-old inmate of the Alabama Boys' Industrial School because, Jones said, "it appears this boy was brutally beaten before he died."

Jones wrote the Governor yesterday after examining the body of Raymond Tetter of Florence, who died July 30 at the Industrial School at Birmingham.

Japan hoped to localize the trouble and settle it by the diplomatic steps, but the presence of large forces in the frontier area indicated the battle which began Sunday might be merely a prelude to major operations.

Those who held that a second conflict had begun in the Orient argued that Russia believed Japan was near financial exhaustion and a "now or never moment" had arrived to fight a preventive war to forestall attack by Japan in the future.

They contended also that Russia was fearful China would collapse should the Japanese capture Hankow and sever the Canton-Hankow railway, which is a Chinese munition artery.

Some Japanese believed the border trouble was merely a Russian effort to delay troop movements to aid the Japanese offensive in China against Hankow, the provisional capital of General Chiang Kai-Shek's Government, or possibly to cloak internal difficulties.

The first of the newest protests was delivered in Moscow by F. Miyakawa, Secretary to the Japanese Embassy, on Tuesday against "Soviet lawlessness." The Foreign Office spokesman announced.

The Ambassador to Moscow, Mamoru Shigemitsu, was directed to deliver the second protest personally today to the Russian Foreign Minister, Maxim Litvinoff.

He was instructed to ask Moscow to "take immediate steps to prevent a recurrence of such violence." The Foreign Office spokesman said he had "some information" that the border attacks were ordered by border commanders and not from Moscow.

No reply from Moscow had been received late today.

Today's fighting apparently was the most intense of the daily battles since Saturday.

Principal attack was at Shachofeng, a point near Changkung, and the army communique said, Japanese drove back the Soviet troops "in hand to hand fighting." The Russians reformed their broken lines and returned an hour later.

The communique listed a series of air raids attributed to Soviet planes since Monday, including a bombardment of the second port of the Korean side of the border, "causing numerous civilian casualties."

More than sixty planes were said to have participated in the Wednesday morning offensive against Kojo and Changkung, a prelude to the infantry attack.

The reports here indicated both the frontier forces were heavily armed, with modern equipment. The Soviet troops used small, speedy turned effective anti-tank guns.

The Russians have lost thirty of these tanks, eleven of them being captured intact by the Japanese, the War Office said.

ITALY MANUFACTURES OWN SUBSTITUTES FOR IMPORTS

Rome, July 30.—"Fara da Se; Fara da Se!" That is the new watch-word in Italy. It means, "Do it yourself!" It is the slogan for Italian autarchy—the attempt to make Italy free from the necessity of importing food and raw materials by making intensive use of what it has within its own empire and by inventing substitutes for things it has been importing.

The need for autarchy was impressed upon Mussolini when the League of Nations imposed sanctions upon Italy as a punishment for its war on Ethiopia. Prior to that Mussolini had no thoughts about autarchy. Indeed, he felt Italy must be an importing nation because of her need for combustible oils, coal, iron, copper, wool, rubber and cotton. But since 1935 he has gone all out for autarchy.

First — because Italy hasn't the foreign exchange necessary for extensive purchases abroad.

Second — because, in case of a great war, Italy cannot afford to rely upon imports for her primary needs.

"Economic servitude means political servitude," Mussolini told his countrymen.

Water Power Replaces Coal. Tackling the fuel problem, the Italians developed as much as possible their best coal fields which are in Sardinia. It is hoped eventually to produce 3,000,000 tons annually, but this would only cover one-fourth of Italy's needs. So hydro-electric power is being intensively developed in northern Italy where the mountain streams have made possible the electrification of the railways there and also developed power for factories.

Like Germany, Italy is going in not only for increased production of artificial silk, but also artificial rubber and wool.

Count Volpi, president of the confederation of manufacturers charged with part of the autarchy problem, recently gave out figures showing the difference between 1934 and 1937. In the latter year compared with the former, production in various commodities had increased as follows: coal, 400 per cent; lignite, 150; bauxite (from which aluminum is extracted), 100; lead ore, 250; zinc, 300; 50 per cent, 450; benzol, 225; paper cellulose, 400; benzine, 210; hemp, 65; flax, 400; artificial silk, 100.

As a result of some of these efforts, imports of raw wool and cotton have fallen by half.

But these percentage figures can be deceiving. Thus, the production of iron ore increased by 100 per cent.

For instance... Italian scientists made this artificial wool bathing suit from about 25 quarts of cow's milk.

But as the original amount was small, 100 per cent increase did not come anywhere near meeting Italy's needs. Nevertheless, the government feels that it is on its way toward self-sufficiency.

Power House Struck By Bolt As District Lashed By Storm

Heavy Damage to Property and Crops Resulted from Severe Electrical and Rain Storm Which Raged Over District Yesterday Afternoon — Machinery in Power Plant at Sawyerville Completely Destroyed in Flames Which Followed Lightning.

Damage to property and crops was caused throughout the Eastern Townships by the severe electrical and rain storm which raged over the district yesterday afternoon.

A total precipitation of 1.34 inches was recorded by officials of the Dominion Experimental Farm at Lennoxville, as the first August storm gave notice that the month may follow in the steps of July in rainfall.

Greatest damage in any one locality was reported at Sawyerville, where a bolt of lightning struck the power house in operation at the saw and door factory owned by A. G. Hurd.

Machinery in the power plant was completely destroyed in the flames which followed the lightning, while the building in which the machinery was housed was almost totally ruined.

In Sherbrooke, lashed by wind and rain for over an hour during the latter part of the afternoon, little damage resulted. Lightning hit a signboard on the roof of the Walter Blue clothing plant on King street west, smashing the boards and reducing much of the sign to wreckage, and employees in the office of the firm said a flash entered the building. No one was injured.

Electric light lines on Prospect street were also temporarily disabled by the storm.

Crops throughout the storm-swept district suffered heavily and farmers were the heaviest losers. A large amount of grain and corn was levelled by the wind and beating rain and agricultural authorities stated the storm had resulted in more harm to crops than any previous one this year.

Slight damage was caused to a few of the city's electric light lines in rural areas, but only a few hours were needed to remedy the trouble.

SENTENCE IS METED OUT TO TAXI DRIVER

Napoleon Rene, Involved in Motor Car Smash-up Yesterday, Sentenced to $100 Fine This Morning on Charge of Driving While Intoxicated.

Pleading guilty to a charge of driving an automobile while in a state of intoxication, Napoleon Rene, a local taxi driver, who was involved in an automobile accident on King street west yesterday, was sentenced by Magistrate J. H. Lemay in Court today to a fine of one hundred dollars and in default of payment to one month in jail.

Rene was arrested by Municipal Police officers following an accident on King street west. His vehicle damaged two cars and a bread wagon and nearly smashed into a gasoline station. The victim suffered from a minor head injury and bruises.

Sentences will be imposed on Friday in the cases of Donat Boulanger and Laurier Labonte, two of a trio, accused of illegally conspiring with intention of defrauding the public.

The third, Lionel Cote, has registered a plea of not guilty and will be tried in Magistrate Court this week. The three men are accused of having distributed Mexican bills, which are very similar in appearance to the Canadian five dollar note.

Fifteen days in jail was the sentence imposed upon Elphege Dubuc, of Cleveland, who admitted driving an automobile without a permit and while intoxicated. The accused was arrested by Joseph E. Poulin, of Richmond, Provincial Traffic Officer for the district.

For selling alcoholic liquor illegally, Leo Benoit, was sentenced to one month in jail and costs and in default of payment to three additional months.

Ludger Harvey, arrested under a similar accusation, was sentenced to a fifty dollar fine or one month in jail.

INDIA SUBJECT OF TRAVELOGUE BY PROF. MILLS

Bishop's University Summer School Instructor Continued Series of Illustrated Lectures on Empire Last Night.

India, the glamorous country of the East, noted for the characteristic features of its geography, its history and its people, was the absorbing topic last night of Professor J. S. Mills' fifth in the series of illustrated travelogues on the British Empire in St. Andrew's Church Hall.

The six films exhibited by the Bishop's University Summer School professor were preceded by a revealing talk on the general features of this great part of the British Commonwealth.

The three main geographical features of India were taken up, commencing with the Himalayas, the great range of mountains that cuts India off from Tibet, making a virtual continent of the former. In this range is to be found the highest mountain and the greatest pass in the world—Mt. Everest and the Khyber Pass. The former has for years been a challenge to climbers and has defeated the five expeditions that have made the attempt.

The latter, controlled by Afghanistan, has for centuries been man's only land approach to India.

Professor Mills next described the greatest plain in the world—that about the Ganges River — where most of India's 350,000,000 population is concentrated and which is increasing by the fabulous figure of 3,000,000 every year. This population, Professor Mills revealed, constitutes seventy per cent of that of the whole Empire.

The Western Ghats, or steppes, are the third feature of the great range of eleven provinces, soon in the speaker's opinion to become a Dominion like Canada. Like the great plain, where tea is the chief product, producing the largest quantity in the world, the Ghats grow cotton. At the time of the American Civil War, England turned to India for the growing of cotton. That the country now is the second largest producer of this necessary commodity and from the industry has grown Bombay, the second city of Calcutta, which is the largest of India.

The good influence of England on the development of India was brought out by the speaker. Millions are the pictures that followed. Millions are spent on building dams to assure proper irrigation of tea and cotton each year and 40,000 miles of railway lines have been built making the export of tea, cotton, jute, coal and other products possible, besides another very important thing, the virtual impossibility of famine due to the speedy transport of supplies.

Professor Mills said that there are only two cities in India of over 1,000,000 population while there over 100,000 villages, where the life of the Hindu is concentrated. He also stated that ninety per cent of the people are farmers, working plots of land mostly between two and twelve acres.

The pictures showed much of the customs, splendor, riches, art, cities, religious rites and people of India. The final film was of an American plant expedition to Java, Sumatra and Ceylon.

BROOM FACTORY MAY BE MOVED TO SHERBROOKE

Reported St. Jerome Manufacturers Have Closed Plant with Intention of Coming to This City.

Sherbrooke may be the site chosen for the establishment of a broom factory which employs over a score of workers, according to W. L. McSwigan, building inspector. "Prospects are bright but I can't give you a definite statement that the plant will be established in this district," he said today.

Rumors of the establishment of the factory in Sherbrooke originated from a report that the Martel Company of St. Jerome, manufacturers of broom handles and chair rungs, had closed its plant and dismissed a score of workers with the intention of moving to this city.

Reason given for the moving of the plant is said to be the lack of natural resources in that district.

Mayor Marcus Armitage denied any knowledge of the rumor but expressed the hope that the reports were true. "I would have been informed of the affair," he said, "unless negotiations have been going on while I was away."

Mayor And Aldermen Highly Pleased With Reception At Saguenay Event

"Our presence at the ceremonies in connection with the Saguenay Centenary celebrations last week-end has had the effect of strengthening the bonds of friendship between Sherbrooke and the Saguenay District," said Mayor Marcus Armitage when interviewed at the City Hall on his return here yesterday afternoon with ex-Mayor Emile Rioux and seven of the city Aldermen.

The Mayor, ex-Mayor Rioux and Aldermen Alex Ross, Joseph Royer, Eugene Thibault, Henri Vincent, Alfred Cinq Mars, J. W. Genest and J. E. Lacroix, who were invited to attend the Saguenay Centenary celebrations, were greatly pleased with their trip and spoke highly of the hospitality and courtesy of the Saguenay people.

Declaring that the Centenary celebrations were a splendid success, the Mayor said that the Sherbrooke delegation had been warmly received and had had wonderful civic receptions at every community they visited in the Saguenay District. "We were impressed by the hospitality and welcome that the people gave us," he said.

Enthusiastically, the Mayor outlined the events and amusing incidents that occurred during their trip and described the historical pageant and parade held at Grand Bay on Saturday and Sunday. Over eight hundred persons took part in the pageant while representatives of about sixty parishes participated in the parade on the following day.

"The historical tableau, which was held in a large amphitheatre, illustrated the accomplishments of the pioneers and the development of natural resources of the Saguenay District," he explained. The spectacle, presented in a form of a color scheme, was witnessed by a large audience of approximately eight thousand persons.

"We greatly enjoyed the spectacle, which in my estimation was a brilliant success," he said. "The costumes were beautiful and the pageant an example of what amateurs could accomplish in dramatic performance."

"The celebrations were mainly held in Grand Bay, Port Alfred and Baguville," he stated. "We were given a civic reception at each of these communities. We also visited Chicoutimi, Jonquiere, Kenogami and Caron Falls and were shown through the large pulp and paper mills which operate in some of those towns."

Apartment from making the inhabitants of the Saguenay District self-conscious of their history and traditions, the Mayor said "the Centenary celebrations will help in bringing about a better understanding between various parts of the Province."

The Mayor also commented on the scenic beauty and the points of historical interest which attract tourists to the Saguenay District every year.

After allegedly receiving treatment in a Sherbrooke private hospital, Mrs. Thomas McMurray, fifty-five-year-old resident of 4611 Henri Julien street, Montreal, is in a serious condition at the Radium Institute in the metropolis.

The woman gave an ante-mortem statement before Judge Gustave Marin yesterday in which she related her experiences while in the local institution. Her statement was taken in case she fails to recover.

Mrs. McMurray said she was at the Radium Institute in Montreal on June 10th and ordered to return ten days later for further treatment. In the meantime, she related, a friend had advised her to visit the private hospital in Sherbrooke. According to her statement, she remained at the hospital for several weeks, later being discharged and told to see a physician.

The case is being investigated by Provincial Police, who are said to be endeavoring to learn if the woman received maltreatment while a patient in the private hospital here.

HEAVY INWARD TOURIST TRADE AT ROCK ISLAND

Almost Five Times as Many Foreign Cars Entered Canada as Number that Left for Points Below Line Last Month.

Rock Island, Aug. 3.—Almost five times as many foreign cars entered Canada as the number that left for points below the line through the Customs and Immigration port here last month, according to figures released today. A total of 18,624 cars passed through, of which only 3,961 were outgoing Canadian automobiles.

Of all the motor vehicles registered, one came from far-off Shanghai, China, and another from Cuba. The two rival Southern States, California and Florida, were in a close race for numbers of cars represented—twenty-six and twenty-nine, respectively—these coming for sixty-day touring purposes.

Vermont alone sent in 2,141 cars on sixty-day permits and Massachusetts came second with 1,358 entries. In all, thirty of the forty-eight States were represented at the Customs House.

In-coming cars on sixty-day permits totalled 6,745. 7,707 came for a period of less than forty-eight hours and 211 came for other than touring purposes, in this case Travellers' Vehicle Permits being issued.

School Playgrounds Should Receive Greater Attention

Rotary Speaker Declares It Is Just as Important to Have Large and Spacious Playing Fields as It Is to Have Well-Equipped Schools — City's Public Parks and Lighting System Highly Praised.

Sherbrooke Rotarians were given food for thought at their weekly luncheon at the New Sherbrooke House yesterday, when Professor J. S. Mills, of Saskatoon, who is a member of the Summer School staff at Bishop's University, Lennoxville, spoke to them about his impressions of Sherbrooke, impressions which he has gleaned as he walked about the city streets and, with a friendly yet critical eye, studied the city and its people from various angles.

Professor Mills' address was interesting and unique. He was generous in his praise, yet he spoke freely, bringing out with equal force the angles of the community life which he felt should be criticized.

He had more praise than criticism to offer Sherbrooke, he thought, was just about as fine a city as one could desire. The scenic beauty of the city and of the Townships left little to be desired. In fact, although a traveller of considerable note, Professor Mills could see no logical reason why people of this district should have to seek rest and relaxation in foreign fields when the home scenes were so inviting and refreshing.

"You have everything your hearts can desire right here in Canada in your own Province and in the Eastern Townships," he told his hearers.

The stores of Sherbrooke, Professor Mills said, are as fine as those to be found in any other city. The schools are a community asset of which he citizens should be rightly proud, but he did feel, and he did not hesitate to say so, that the school playing fields had been lamentably neglected.

It was, in his opinion, just as important to have large, spacious playing fields adjoining each school as it was to have well-equipped school buildings. As an educationist, he would rather teach in a shack of a building with a large field surrounding it, than have a palatial building without any playing field.

If Professor Mills was a citizen of Sherbrooke he would take great pride in its parks. The city's public parks, he felt, were equal in beauty to any he had seen elsewhere. He also liked the idea of having these parks located in outlying districts rather than in the heat and turmoil of the business district. The municipal Parks Committee was given a big bouquet by the speaker. He thought they had done a specially fine job and he complimented them and the city upon the fine showing.

The clean streets of the city were also mentioned. In this respect Sherbrooke, he did not hesitate to say, took the lead over many larger cities, while the street lighting was a revelation after visiting Montreal, where he found the lighting system such that it was almost impossible to find one's way about after dark with any degree of safety or comfort.

If Professor Mills, who is a former Mayor and present Alderman of Saskatoon, had anything to do with the administration of Sherbrooke he would not hesitate to make drastic changes in the traffic regulations of the city. He was at a loss to explain how automobiles could get about the congested areas at such speed. What surprised him more than anything was the fact that citizens were not knocked down wholesale.

The city's buses were not held in very high regard by the speaker, nor did he speak in very flattering terms about the city's radio police. He thought the officers looked very stately in the cars as they cruised about the city, but he had not yet heard of any special achievements which might be attributed to them.

The plight of the poor citizen trying to cross the street at the corner of Wellington street north and Strathcona Square was also visualized. Not only was this a very dangerous intersection, but the only available haven of safety, a near-by grass plot, was set aside with the grave warning, in English and French, to "Keep Off the Grass." He amusingly referred to the fact, however, that if anyone should come to grief at this spot there were beautiful flowers in the Court House Square. "I really think," Professor Mills added, "that this is the most beautiful spot in town at which to be killed."

It was quite evident from Professor Mills' remarks that he is quick to observe conditions, and that he did not have to live in Sherbrooke a year or two before realizing its assets and also its liabilities. And what is more he was as prepared to criticize as he was to praise.

The speaker was introduced by Rotarian Leo Watson and the vote of thanks was extended by ex-Mayor (Continued on page 5, col. 4.)

Mayor And Aldermen Highly Pleased With Reception At Saguenay Event

"Our presence at the ceremonies in connection with the Saguenay Centenary celebrations last week-end has had the effect of strengthening the bonds of friendship between Sherbrooke and the Saguenay District," said Mayor Marcus Armitage when interviewed at the City Hall on his return here yesterday afternoon with ex-Mayor Emile Rioux and seven of the city Aldermen.

The Mayor, ex-Mayor Rioux and Aldermen Alex Ross, Joseph Royer, Eugene Thibault, Henri Vincent, Alfred Cinq Mars, J. W. Genest and J. E. Lacroix, who were invited to attend the Saguenay Centenary celebrations, were greatly pleased with their trip and spoke highly of the hospitality and courtesy of the Saguenay people.

Declaring that the Centenary celebrations were a splendid success, the Mayor said that the Sherbrooke delegation had been warmly received and had had wonderful civic receptions at every community they visited in the Saguenay District. "We were impressed by the hospitality and welcome that the people gave us," he said.

Enthusiastically, the Mayor outlined the events and amusing incidents that occurred during their trip and described the historical pageant and parade held at Grand Bay on Saturday and Sunday. Over eight hundred persons took part in the pageant while representatives of about sixty parishes participated in the parade on the following day.

"The historical tableau, which was held in a large amphitheatre, illustrated the accomplishments of the pioneers and the development of natural resources of the Saguenay District," he explained. The spectacle, presented in a form of a color scheme, was witnessed by a large audience of approximately eight thousand persons.

"We greatly enjoyed the spectacle, which in my estimation was a brilliant success," he said. "The costumes were beautiful and the pageant an example of what amateurs could accomplish in dramatic performance."

"The celebrations were mainly held in Grand Bay, Port Alfred and Baguville," he stated. "We were given a civic reception at each of these communities. We also visited Chicoutimi, Jonquiere, Kenogami and Caron Falls and were shown through the large pulp and paper mills which operate in some of those towns."

Apartment from making the inhabitants of the Saguenay District self-conscious of their history and traditions, the Mayor said "the Centenary celebrations will help in bringing about a better understanding between various parts of the Province."

The Mayor also commented on the scenic beauty and the points of historical interest which attract tourists to the Saguenay District every year.

WOMAN DYING AFTER ALLEGED TREATMENT IN SHERBROOKE

After allegedly receiving treatment in a Sherbrooke private hospital, Mrs. Thomas McMurray, fifty-five-year-old resident of 4611 Henri Julien street, Montreal, is in a serious condition at the Radium Institute in the metropolis.

The woman gave an ante-mortem statement before Judge Gustave Marin yesterday in which she related her experiences while in the local institution. Her statement was taken in case she fails to recover.

Mrs. McMurray said she was at the Radium Institute in Montreal on June 10th and ordered to return ten days later for further treatment. In the meantime, she related, a friend had advised her to visit the private hospital in Sherbrooke. According to her statement, she remained at the hospital for several weeks, later being discharged and told to see a physician.

The case is being investigated by Provincial Police, who are said to be endeavoring to learn if the woman received maltreatment while a patient in the private hospital here.

HEAVY INWARD TOURIST TRADE AT ROCK ISLAND

Almost Five Times as Many Foreign Cars Entered Canada as Number that Left for Points Below Line Last Month.

Rock Island, Aug. 3.—Almost five times as many foreign cars entered Canada as the number that left for points below the line through the Customs and Immigration port here last month, according to figures released today. A total of 18,624 cars passed through, of which only 3,961 were outgoing Canadian automobiles.

Of all the motor vehicles registered, one came from far-off Shanghai, China, and another from Cuba. The two rival Southern States, California and Florida, were in a close race for numbers of cars represented—twenty-six and twenty-nine, respectively—these coming for sixty-day touring purposes.

Vermont alone sent in 2,141 cars on sixty-day permits and Massachusetts came second with 1,358 entries. In all, thirty of the forty-eight States were represented at the Customs House.

In-coming cars on sixty-day permits totalled 6,745. 7,707 came for a period of less than forty-eight hours and 211 came for other than touring purposes, in this case Travellers' Vehicle Permits being issued.

Belated Action

The announcement at Victoria that the British Columbia Government had formally transferred Indian reserve lands in that Province to the Dominion Government means the belated settlement of a long standing dispute between the two governments over the boundaries of various reserves and the title to sub-surface rights on the reserves.

This dispute goes back almost to the entry of British Columbia in Confederation and finally in 1912 a commission was appointed to study and report on it. Like most commissions, its work was to little purpose and with the customary speed of Government negotiations, no action was taken to implement the commission's report until 1929 when an agreement was entered to settle the matter. Then came delay until the recent action of the British Columbia Government, which was taken by students of legal affairs to mean the terms of the agreement are being implemented at last.

Generally this involves a conveyance by the Province to the Dominion of all the rights it possesses or claims to lands within the reserve boundaries set out in the agreement, the lands to be in trust for the Indians.

It is to be sincerely hoped that the other provinces will take a hint from the British Columbia Government and conclude a settlement of the many problems which are now dividing the federal and provincial administrations and threatening the unity of the Dominion.

Seeing Ourselves As Others See Us!

Professor J. S. Mills told the Sherbrooke Rotarians just what he thought of Sherbrooke, when he addressed the Club at its weekly luncheon yesterday.

His remarks, brimful of humor, contained much common sense and he gave his hearers much food for thought. Professor Mills, who comes from Western Canada, is a former mayor and present alderman of Saskatoon, and is engaged in school teaching.

Several weeks ago he came to Sherbrooke to lecture at the Summer School at Bishop's University. Since his advent to Sherbrooke he has been walking the streets of the city, but not blind to what was going on about him.

Yesterday he decided to tell the people of Sherbrooke what he thought about their city. And what he had to say was listened to with keen interest, for behind his remarks one could detect the reasoning of the scholar, the appreciation of the traveller and the observations of a man who was keenly alert to what was taking place about him.

He spoke simply, but he told his hearers about everyday things right in their own city which they had failed to realize existed or did not appreciate.

It was quite evident that Professor Mills would take away with him very pleasant memories of this city. He was most generous in his praise and what criticism he had to make was offered in a most kindly and considerate manner.

He spoke in high terms of the city parks and the fine band stands. He specially liked our system of having the public parks in the outlying parts of the city, rather than in the heart of the business districts. The school buildings, he felt, were a real asset to the city, but he quite frankly said he thought our school playing grounds were deplorably neglected by being too small to meet the demands. The school grounds, in Professor Mills' opinion, were equally as important as the schools themselves. His opinion of the Radio Police was not very high. And as for the traffic situation on the city streets he thought their must be a half dozen or more undertakers on the City Council, otherwise such carelessness would not be tolerated.

Speaking as a man who had travelled extensively, Professor Mills was loud in his praise of the natural beauties of Sherbrooke and of the Eastern Townships. He knew of no place in the world where nature had been more lavish than right here in the Eastern Townships.

Professor Mills is not the first visitor to the Eastern Townships who has been impressed by the beauty of this section of Quebec Province. Nor is he the first to warn us that we should take full advantage of what we have.

We pride ourselves on the beauty of the Eastern Townships. We tell ourselves about it, but we plan no united action to make our Townships known to others.

It is not by each city or town council working by itself that we will get results. It is by united action and inter-county co-operation alone that we can sell the beauties of the Townships to outsiders.

We lack a representative publicity bureau which would advertise the Townships as a whole. The Eastern Townships Associated Boards of Trade, in conjunction with the individual Boards of Trade and the city and town councils, could do much to stimulate tourist traffic in this section.

A rich tourist business could be developed. The entire Townships could profit. Thousands of tourists could enjoy an ideal holiday amid most inviting and refreshing surroundings. If the right leadership was given, the movement could be launched and there is no doubt but that the results would be surprising.

Proper publicity of the Townships has long been lacking. We are not getting our share of this important business considering what we have to offer.

Let us boost the Townships by boosting our tourist business.

The North Country Celebrates

The early days of next week will see Abitibi, the Queen of Northwestern Quebec en fete on the occasion of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the foundation of the settlement.

Even in a young country like Canada, a quarter of a century is a very brief period of time, but the development of this section of the Dominion in that period surpasses that of many other districts in a full hundred years. It is a far cry indeed from the straggling settlers and the scattered lumber-camps which marked the district at the outbreak of the war to the thriving communities which mark the county today.

The frontier settlements have given way to thriving towns surrounding the giant paper mills and the large metal mines which provide the means of livelihood in the district.

In marked contrast to the development of many frontier sections of the United States, the growth of the North has been of an orderly nature. Lacking the violence so often associated with the wild west, a strongly organized police force and system of justice accompanying the influx of settlers. This may have removed some of the picturesque associated with the vigilantes and the Texas Rangers but it has served to place the county on a more solid foundation, so that Abitibi and its neighboring towns of the northland may look forward to even greater progress in the twenty-five years to come than they have experienced in the quarter of a century which has passed.

SHIPS

Ships coming home in moonlight seem to be Not ships as much as clouds; their ghostly sails Drift by the tide-washed reefs as though from sea They brought the tropics and the nightingales. And to some rumorous music do they creep. Creep past the reefs, cloudy and almost still. Until at last along the tides of sleep They rest at anchor by some quiet hill.

But ships come home at noonday seem alive With banners and with shoutings, all sails furled They breast the foam and suddenly arrive From the four quarters of a gleaming world, Sun washed and radiant as if no stars Or moonlight ever fell on decks and spars.

FOREIGN PRESS

IS THERE A NEW CZECH CRISIS?

(New York Post) Deladier, at a banquet in his honor, last week, repeated France's pledge to stand behind Czechoslovakia. Pertinax, one of the best informed of French commentators on foreign affairs, reports that this was no utterance at random.

In a story written for the North American Newspaper Alliance, Pertinax declares "reports received by the Quai d'Orsay during the last few days make it clear that the international crisis of two months ago may be reopened at any moment, following the taking of a brutal initiative by Germany."

Goering and Goebbels, Pertinax says, have been reproaching Hitler for timidity, telling him that "he was unduly impressed by the great show of firmness that the French and British Governments managed to set up. They insist that behind that screen there was hardly anything but divided counsel and helplessness and a public opinion imbued with pacifism and that, anyhow, the great German dynamism would have proved irresistible."

France is tied to England's apron strings, but England is also tied to France. If Deladier maintains a strong position, the British must support France "unless it be ready," Pertinax writes, "to tolerate that Germany should overwhelm France and seize on the latter's territory bases of aerial attack against London and English industrial centres."

A strong stand saved the Czechs once. They won't be saved from the German tidal wave by weakness now. Two thousand miles of Atlantic, fortunately for the American people, separates them from this conflict. But England and France, with the Nazi menace at their door, must stand firm or surrender. We can keep out. They can't.

"ONCE A GERMAN"

(Johannesburg Times) It becomes evident that a German diplomatic representative in another country, whether an ambassador, a minister plenipotentiary, an envoy extraordinary, or a consul, or acting in any other capacity, can consider himself entitled (and indeed may even be encouraged to regard it as a part of his duty) to "make propaganda" as openly as well as apply on behalf of Germany (that is, the Nazi Party), in spite of the fact that such acting may well be held to constitute an abuse of the diplomatic immunity and the diplomatic privileges accorded to him by the country to which he is accredited. In view of the known organization of activities of this kind and kindred nature, both in South-West Africa and in the Union itself, it would appear to be advisable for the Union Government to institute an inquiry into the whole position without further delay. What is the object of these activities? What, ultimately, do they portend?

WHY WAR DEBTS ARE UNPAID

(Argonaut, San Francisco) Thoughtless people, among them a number of journalists whose understanding of world economics should be of much better calibre, continue to belabor the government for its failure to collect the war debts owed to the United States by practically every allied nation, as well as the vanquished countries. These critics assert that instead of armament buying, Europe should pay its debts. Often an analogy is drawn comparing a debt a private individual owes to his neighbor, citing the unethical behavior of such a debtor who would purchase an automobile or take a world cruise instead of settling his obligation.

Based on such comments, a great deal of bitterness and misunderstanding has grown up in the United States because of the unpaid war debts. Some clarification of the subject may be worthwhile. One expert on this subject says that Europe has not paid its war debts because we do not permit it to do so. This may sound unbelievable, but what are the facts? In the first place, there are three methods—and only three—by which the war debts to the United States can be paid. One is by the transfer of gold by the debtor to the creditor. But this method cannot be used for the very simple reason that we already own, together with France, more than two-thirds of all the gold in the world. The balance remaining in debtor treasuries is insufficient even to adequately protect their currencies in foreign exchange markets, as witness the periodic "flights of capital" from those countries.

A second method of payment is by accepting goods and products from the defaulting nations. But we refuse to do this because we already have a surplus of American-produced goods and products to permit huge imports of such competitive products would bring an immediate and sharp break in domestic prices. Therefore, this method of paying the war debts is, of course, out of the question.

A third method remains, but it is even more impracticable (if not entirely unworkable) than are the other two. This remaining means of settling is for the debtor nations to acquire, in the foreign exchange markets, sufficient American dollars to hand over to the United States Treasury in settlement of the debts. But the only available dollars in foreign exchange channels (apart from a negligible amount of speculative funds) are funds moving to balance commercial and financial transactions in the orderly course of international trade and commerce. The total amount of such floating dollars is so small that it is compared with the total war debts. Moreover, if a debtor nation attempted to bid for huge amounts of American currency in foreign exchange markets, the dollar would promptly rise to abnormally high levels, which in turn would result in huge losses to American exporters, whose world markets would be at once gobbled up by competing nations.

These being the facts, it is readily understood why the war debts are in an entirely different category than is a debt owed by one individual to another residing in the same country. If there was only one world currency, if all international monetary boundaries were eliminated, and all trade barriers wiped away, then the war debts could be paid as individual debts are paid, but not otherwise.

Another fact in connection with these unpaid war debts is that during the past twenty years, since the war, the past twenty years, since the industry and trade has sold to those nations at a profit exportable surplus production totaling more than twice the combined amount of all war debts, including interest. Indeed, the profit alone on these transactions has exceeded in volume the total war debts. Consequently, even if the debts are never paid, the money with which they could be paid, were it not for the natural barriers described above, has been used to purchase American exports to such an extent that the debts could be completely written off and we would still be on the "long end."

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

OBLIGATORY FINESSE, OLD WHIST FAVORITE, STILL A HANDY PLAY

E. A. Knight, of Jackson, Miss., had little to spare over his opening bid, but when West overcalled and North came in with a free bid, Knight was able to find a perfectly logical rebid in his near-minimum holdings.

The hand was played by Knight, with Jason H. Floyd, of Senatobia, Miss., as his partner, in the recent Southern Tournament at Birmingham, Ala., where some of the strongest players in the south competed.

North did not have to make a call, even to protect a very big hand. South as West had kept the bidding open. Hence his hand must have substantial values.

Knight, with two certain spade stoppers and a fit in hearts with the honor, ventured two no trump, and North with a very good hand raised to three. When the dummy went down, Knight was confident that the vulnerable West must hold both missing aces. He must find the club ace only singly guarded in the West hand, and thus be able to limit his

Contract Problem (Solution in next issue)

South opened the bidding with one spade. His partner passed. East doubled, and West bid two clubs. East then arrived at a contract of four hearts. DISILLUSIONMENT

When I was young a fairy-tale book
Companioned me to every nook,
Till gladly under its magic spell
In blissful belief I fell.

And dwell in a castle, with turrets high,
Where heart never knew an ache or sigh;
There soft I strayed through sun-flooded halls,
With gilded ceilings and tapestried walls,
Where none remembered, from sun to sun,
That foolish lessons were left undone;
The morn was full of the sky-lark's song,
And never a day for me too long,
And well I knew a prince so gay,
On a jewelled steed would come some day.

Oh rude was the waking, tears and wails,
They took away my fairy tales,
Such stories, they said, were all untrue,
Life held realities, work to do.

It mattered not they were given to me
By them in all sincerity;
It mattered not a young joy died that day,
And simple childhood passed away,
Yet still I stray down memory lane,
To glimpse my golden castle again,
But only a mist comes up to me,
Then, oh, little house I come back to thee.

Contract Problem (Solution in next issue)

South opened the bidding with one spade. His partner passed. East doubled, and West bid two clubs. East then arrived at a contract of four hearts. It looks as if East can end play South and force him to lead a diamond. If South defends the hand correctly, however, the contract will be defeated. How would you defend with the South hand?

IN THE WOMEN'S SPHERE

Modes And Manners

Question: "Married couples are supposed to be separated at a dinner party. How about seating engaged couples? Is it proper for them to sit together?—H. N."

Answer: Yes. A thoughtful hostess always arranges to have engaged couples sit side by side. Question: "No one suspects that I have been going out with a fellow who works in my office. As he is giving me a friendship ring for my birthday, I am wondering if this is the time to tell the office gang that he is my beau.—D.F."

Answer: If both of you value your jobs and hope to continue at them as efficient workers, my advice is to keep your social relationship private and your business relationship strictly business. They don't mix well together.

PRESIDENT AND SHIRLEY TEMPLE TRADE AUTOGRAPHS, 3 TO 1

America's ace glamor girl, Miss Shirley Temple, came to town this other evening and the vigil set over the moppet movie queen was virtually a quarantine.

For several weeks, the Manhattan ballyhoos of the film firm where Shirley works had the quakes at the thought of her arrival. They had been instructed "Mum's the word," and the less said about Shirley the better.

But it seems that as soon as Shirley left the Executive Mansion it suddenly occurred to the President that one signature was not sufficient. A few minutes later, a special messenger from the White House appeared at Miss Shirley's suite in a Washington hotel. Could Miss Shirley possibly see her way clear to granting two more autographs to the President and keep him out of trouble with Sistic and Buzzie? Shirley assented graciously. And the Presidential day was saved.

When someone, incidentally, asked the most endearing of all the screen's children if the President liked her, she replied simply and without prevarication, "I really don't know. But I liked him."

The reluctance to have Shirley subjected to interviews in New York may, in part, be based on the experience the little lady had with a news hawk in Washington, even though Miss Temple took the situation in her stride.

It appears that this casual interviewer drew a silver case from her purse in the course of the chat and politely asked Shirley, "Won't you have a cigarette?" For a long second, the corps of harried publicists present bore homicidal tendencies in their hearts. But then Shirley spoke up. "I'm sorry," she drew out of her own accord, "but my doll has no bad vices."

And so we hope that those who manage Shirley's public relations relish that interview. Besides being a born flirt, she'll top them all, conversationally.

And speaking of the President's presence in New York, the more advisable.

So America's diminutive sweetheart was rushed from Grand Central Terminal to her hostelry by an indirect route almost as intricate as those planned for the President when he is en route to his town house.

COWANSVILLE FIELD BRIGADE RETURNS HOME

Summer Training Period for Seventy-Fifth Battery Completed After Ten Days' Camping at Petawawa.

Cowansville, Aug. 3.—With the return of the firing detachment from Petawawa Camp, the 75th Field Battery ended its first year of complete training since organization last year. During the past winter, schools of instruction were held, followed by recruit drill and indoor training. In the spring field work was carried on, concluding with inspection by Brigadier Alexander, and approval of sending a selected detachment to camp.

The selection was quite a task as it meant taking thirty men from a total strength of nearly sixty. Finally, on July 15th, six officers and thirty gunners left town, stopping in Montreal during the evening, dinner being served at the Windsor Street Station of the C.P.R. The evening was spent in sightseeing around the city, and many favorable comments were received as to the conduct and bearing of all ranks.

Following inspection by the district staff, and by Lt.-Col. James G. Samson, commanding the 27th Eastern Townships Field Brigade, the Battery boarded a special military train, in company with the three other batteries from the district (Coaticook, Rock Island and Magog), as well as units from Quebec City, Gaspe, Levis, Halifax and other points.

Petawawa Camp was reached about 7:30 a.m. on Saturday. After breakfast, camp equipment was drawn, medical and pay inspection passed and all settled down to camp life. During the afternoon, training commenced with gun drill, laying and lectures.

On Sunday, church parades were held in the forenoon, and the afternoon left free for sports. Monday included mounted drill and firing with aeroplanes reporting the fall of shot and Tuesday firing with observers close to the falling shells, correcting the gunners' aim. Wednesday the Battery held its first shooting under its own control and Thursday afternoon, all night, and Friday morning was spent out on the firing ranges, the gunners erecting temporary shelters. They fired during the night on telephone messages, rocket signals and other orders at the same time preparing a firing programme for daybreak, when a barrage was shot by twelve batteries in unison, followed by batteries firing individually.

Friday afternoon was devoted to sports and on Saturday morning the Battery fired its competitive programme, turned in its camp equipment, drew pay, and left camp by special train, reaching Cowansville at noon after a short pause in Montreal for breakfast and church services.

The Battery earned and received high praise at camp from the permanent instructors for its drill and shooting and while complete results will not be published until all batteries in Canada have completed their training, it is known that the Battery surpassed all others in its group, as well as many other batteries who have been organized and followed training for years.

While at camp, the finals of the Brigade football championship were held, resulting in victory for the local Battery, they becoming the first holders of the challenge trophy donated by the Brigade Commander, Rock Island were the semi-finalists, with Coaticook and Magog finishing third and fourth respectively. Upon arrival at Cowansville, the Battery was greeted by a host of friends and escorted by the town band to the Armory, where they were dismissed. Training will be resumed in the fall, after inspection of equipment and promised betterments of quarters have been completed.

W.C.T.U. MEETING
"If one-quarter of the money spent on drink were devoted to larger purchases of milk the farmers would get ten times more value than they now get from hops and barley," according to Lord Snowden. The above extract from one of this statement's addresses was read at the July meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union meeting held at the home of Mrs. Leon Stowe.

Another authority, Dr. Oliver Lohr, noted Michigan pathologist, was also quoted. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, speaking at Ottawa, said, "It is unthinkable that people who have not their faculties should be permitted to endanger the lives of others, and if anything can be done to minimize this terrible drinking evil, we should do it."

These and many other quotations from these addresses were read opposing the licensed liquor traffic. The sixty-second Psalm was read as the Scripture lesson.

ENO KEEPS YOU COOL
If this hot weather leaves you limp and exhausted, it's a sure sign of an overheated body. The natural thing to do is to take an effective alkalinizing corrective like Eno's "Fruit Salt", which gently removes sluggish wastes which overheat the body, neutralizes excess acid and cools you through and through.

Eno contains no sugar, nothing harsh or harmful and forms no habit. During the hot weather drink Eno morning, noon and night, or whenever you feel the need for a refreshing alkalinizing drink. Its pleasant "Fruit Salt" tang drives thirst away instantly, right away you feel clean and cool deep down inside.

Eno is the original alkalinizing corrective and for years and years Eno in water has been the favourite refreshment among white residents in the sizzling tropics. It's a natural way to keep cool!

CONSECRATION IS MARKED AT WAY'S MILLS

Fiftieth Anniversary of Consecration of Church of the Epiphany Solemnly Commemorated.

Way's Mills, Aug. 3.—The fiftieth anniversary of the consecration of the Church of the Epiphany, Way's Mills, was solemnly commemorated on Thursday morning, July 28th. Holy Communion was celebrated at eleven o'clock at a choral service. The celebrant was Rev. Canon A. R. Kelley, assisted by Rev. Canon G. H. A. Murray.

The special preacher was Rev. Canon C. R. Eardley-Wilmot and other clergy present were the rector of the parish, Rev. H. W. Parry, Rev. W. W. Smith and Rev. A. F. G. Nichol. The music was under the direction of Mrs. J. A. Macdougall and the beautiful little church was filled with worshippers.

After the service the Ladies' Guild served lunch in the community hall, of which about one hundred partook. The rector thanked the visiting clergy for attending, and special thanks were proffered to Canon Eardley-Wilmot, who came from Levis for the occasion and delivered a most inspiring sermon.

An interesting address was delivered by Mr. Ernest Davidson, of Michigan, son of Mrs. W. H. Davidson, of Libbytown, who recalled the building and dedicating of the church, and traced its early history down to the present time.

The names of the incumbents from the opening of the church to the present day are as follows: Rev. J. Eames, 1837-1851; C. H. Brooks, B.A., 1852-1859; A. E. Whatham, 1859-1869; N. Bayne, 1869-1900; B. Watson, M.A., 1900-1909; J. M. Bradshaw, 1910-1915; I. N. Kerr, M.A., 1915-1923; C. R. Eardley-Wilmot, M.A., 1923-1928; W. W. Smith, M.A., D.D., 1928-1936; H. W. Parry, 1936-.

The rector read a letter from Rev. I. N. Kerr regretting his inability to attend due to ill-health and a most interesting letter from Rev. Hollis Corey, of Hilo, Hawaii, who recalled the early days of the church and commented on several of the earliest of the incumbents with grateful remembrance.

After expressions of thanks to the speakers and hearty applause for the ladies who provided such a delicious repast, the proceedings were brought to a close with the National Anthem.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just stays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, weak and the world looks pink.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes these good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and safe, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of cathartics but have no cathartic or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

KNOWLTON LADY LED IN E.T. TOURNEY

Miss Gardner Posted A Ninety-Four Gross

Two Thetford Mines Golfers Trained Yesterday's Leader by One Stroke—Heavy Cross-Wind Hampered Ladies Competing for Championship of Eastern Townships.

Miss Gardner, of Knowlton, and Miss Duncan and Mrs. A. Penhale, of Thetford Mines, waged a three-way battle for the leading position in the opening day's play of the thirty-six hole tournament for the ladies' championship of the Eastern Townships.

Although the Sherbrooke Country Club course was in excellent condition, a heavy wind was sweeping across the fairways, making it difficult to control the flight of the ball.

Miss Gardner came in with a ninety-four for the eighteen holes, a very creditable score, while Miss Duncan and Mrs. Penhale trailed her by the slight margin of one stroke, each having ninety-fives.

Mrs. Penhale had a net score of eighty, to carry off a prize for the lowest total in the silver division on opening day, while Mrs. Arthur Kerridge, of Sherbrooke, posted the lowest net in the bronze division.

Yesterday's detailed scores follow:

CELLAR-PLACE PHILS REVEAL FORM REVERSAL

Jimmy Wilson's Lads Have Been Knocking Off National League Titans with Startling Frequency.

Philadelphia, Aug. 3.—(P)—"The Old Gray Phils, they ain't what they used to be."

That's Manager Jimmy Wilson's explanation of his Lilliputians' sudden transformation into Gulliver-crushers. The cellar-place National Leagueers have been knocking over baseball titans so frequently of late that Wilson was asked what got into the worm to make it turn.

"We're a different bunch than at the start of the season," said he in the tone of someone who's just renounced bad habits.

Then why do the Phils stay at the bottom?

"We won't if we keep on playing like we are now."

The Phils had just finished dusting off Cincinnati's prodigious Johnny Vander Meer for the fourth or fifth time in as many starts. They lost the game and Vander Meer was credited with winning, but they lost in the ninth inning after pounding the no-hit wonder off the mound.

It was a tough defeat for the spunky underdogs in the yellow-trimmed gray uniforms. A single and a double off Johnny put tying runs on the bases with one out. Another hit, a run, and John was yanked.

So were the Phil's teeth. They lost three to two.

"Why, we're playing as well as any team in the league right now," Wilson said. "We're at the bottom all because we got off to a bad start. Unfortunately, that happens nearly every year."

Manager Jim said his batting and fielding strength had improved vastly since the acquisition of Buck Jordan at third and Phil Weintraub at first. But his whole team is better, he believes.

New York, Aug. 3.—(P)—If Fred Apostoli and Young Corbett don't open the Garden's indoor season October 3, they'll settle their mid-summer dispute in the same arena November 18. Believe it or not.

There's a tall one going the rounds out at Hobbs, N.N., that Ernie Lombardi's nose is so long he can light a cigarette, stand under a shower and not get the coffee rack wet. Izzat so, Schmo?

LOCAL OUTFIT NOW AHEAD OF THREE RIVERS

Hammondmen Alone in Fourth Place as Trifluvians Lost to St. Hyacinthe Last Night—Sorel Trounced Drummondville.

Sherbrooke lost a fine chance to move into third place last night when their scheduled game against Granby Red Sox was rained out, but the league standing, figured on a percentage basis, shows them in fourth place today since Three Rivers dropped below the .500 mark by losing six to two to St. Hyacinthe.

Three Rivers, Aug. 3.—(P)—Behind the steady pitching of Clisset, who limited the locals to six singles, St. Hyacinthe collected nine hits to trounce Three Rivers six to two yesterday.

Two hits and a base on balls gave two tallies to the visitors in the third frame. They added two more in the next inning with three hits coupled with two errors by the locals. Three bases on balls and one hit in the eighth brought two more runs to the visitors.

Sweeney started at the bat for the visitors, getting three hits, including a double, out of four trips to the plate.

Score by innings:

St. Hyacinthe 022 020—6 3 2
Three Rivers 100 100—2 6 3

Batteries: Clisset and O'Flaherty; Robinson, Choquette and Duay.

SOREL PAWED WITH TIGERS

Drummondville, Que., Aug. 3.—(P)—On the strength of a seven-run rally in the opening inning, Sorel coasted to a ten to three victory over Drummondville.

The first inning rally came on seven hits, two of them homers by Tony Murphy and Sime. In the eighth inning, Sime clouted out his second four-bagger of the day.

Bourassa, on the mound for Sorel, chalked up his seventh win of the season against one loss.

Score by innings:

Drumville 011 010 000—3 6 1

RING FANS ARE UNINTERESTED IN TITLE BOUT

Advance Sale for Armstrong-Ambers Triple-Decker Championship Fight Extremely Poor—Inner Circle Predicts Thrilling Scrap.

New York, Aug. 3.—(P)—It appears the astute Mike Jacobs finally has been sold a pup in his big triple-decker championship fight between Henry Armstrong and Lou Ambers next Wednesday night.

Two days of morbid investigation reveal the great fight public isn't much interested in the little guys. Even with three titles on display and one of the lightweight actually involved, the fans are indifferent.

Perhaps it's the heat. The fight looked like a stem-winder when it was arranged. If for no other reason, it offered Armstrong the unheard-of opportunity of adding the lightweight crown to his featherweight and welterweight tiaras.

But now, nobody seems to care. The advance sale has been so poor that there have been persistent reports Jacobs would plaster on a postponement. Mike, however, vows there will be a fight a week from tonight if there's nobody but him and the users to lend voice.

There was an abortive attempt to stir up a controversy the other day. Ambers' manager threatened to claim the welterweight title if Lou won. The Armstrong camp didn't enter into the spirit. Eddie Mead, Henry's pilot, fanned himself a moment and said "It doesn't matter, because Ambers isn't going to win."

But there are a surprising number of boxing's inner circle—managers, trainers and the like—who think it will be a great fight. Unfortunately for the gate, these gents do not buy tickets.

Cubs Trimmed Giants, Moved Nearer Second

Chicago Cut New York's Margin in National League—Indians Crawled Up on Yanks as Ruppert Rifles Dropped Close One to Detroit Tigers—Dodgers Took Pair from "Gas House Gang".

At least two major league clubs have learned recently, if they didn't know it before, that a good ball team isn't quite enough to win a pennant in the kind of races the two big baseball circuits are staging this season.

There's no doubt New York Giants and Boston Red Sox are good ball clubs, but they're some distance from the top right now and Managers Bill Terry and Joe Cronin are working hard and spending freely in an effort to remedy matters.

Giants remained five games behind Pittsburgh's National League-leading Pirates despite a seven to nothing licking by Chicago Cubs yesterday, but that was only because Pittsburgh took a three to one setback in Boston when Johnny Lanning came up with a four-hit game. Cubs, however, cut New York's margin over them to one and a half games.

Similarly the Red Sox didn't trail any ground to Yankees, still trailing by five and a half games after their seven to four loss to Cleveland. That was because Yankees dropped a four to three decision to Detroit Tigers. Cleveland thus gained a four-game margin over the Red Sox.

The strengthening moves so far have been the purchase of Second Sacker Bill Cissell from Baltimore by the Giants and possibly the unexpected suspension of Cliff (Mountain Music) Melton. Terry refused to give any reason for suspending his sophomore left hander who has been belted out three times running, but he act shows he means business.

The moves toward improvement didn't show in yesterday's games. Cissell fielded ably for the Giants but didn't get a hit. The Giants made only two while the Cubs smacked Carl Hubbell and Dick Coffman for twelve, including homers by Stan Hack and Billy Jurges.

Brooklyn Dodgers regained fifth place in the National League by one-point margin over Boston when they won two games from St. Louis by six to two and nine to three. Johnny Vander Meer's return to form helped keep Cincinnati Reds on the Cubs' heels as they downed Philadelphia by three to two.

Washington gained a five to three victory over St. Louis Browns in a game protested by the losers after umpire Harry Geisel had suffered a broken wrist in a collision with Billy Sullivan. The Chicago White Sox beat the Athletics by eight to four.
