FUNDS WILL BE TAKEN FOR HOSPITAL

Money Subscribed for the Porcupine Sufferers Will Be Employed to Good Purpose.

Toronto, July 26.—A sum of $20,000, to be taken from the Porcupine relief fund and given towards the establishment of a hospital at Porcupine district. Such was the decision of the representatives of the Northern Ontario Fire Relief Committee and the Board of Trade Committee in their conference held to-day. In accordance with the original intention of the relief committee, at least one-half of the fund contributed will be set aside for the Porcupine fund, but additional apportionments were also made. The most important of these was the $10,000 for the hospital, the money to be paid to the hospital committee when the plans have been considered and arranged and maintenance provided for and meets with the approval of the Northern Ontario Fire Relief Committee. The sum of $1000 is to be set aside for the establishment of temporary shoots for school purposes in the Porcupine district and it will be remitted when the local committee learns through the Porcupine committee that the towns interested have arranged for the use of the money. In addition to the amounts already mentioned, the local committee has sent $500 to the New Liskeard Hospital for the care of the sufferers. In a comparative statement of the relief sent into Porcupine and Cochrane, it was shown that Porcupine received in cash $7000, whereas Cochrane received $5000. Supplies purchased for Porcupine totalled $4255.16; Cochrane $4266.01. Supplies donated to Porcupine from various Toronto concerns totalled $2599.70, while the supplies donated to Cochrane totalled $332.10. This statement shows that Porcupine received for relief from all sources in the form of cash and actual supplies a total of $13,855.86 and Cochrane received $5998.11, making a difference in favor of Porcupine of $4257.75.

MONTREAL HAS A PLAGUE OF RATS.

Montreal, July 26.—Montreal is suffering from a plague of rats and the trouble has become so serious that the municipal authorities have been asked to take a hand. The trouble is felt especially by owners of warehouses along the harbor front, who claim that a constant stream of rodents is coming from the owners and from the vessels in port, causing them heavy losses. Dr. Laberge, city health officer, has presented a report to the authorities outlining a plan of campaign to be carried on along scientific lines.

Standard of Quality

There is a standard of quality in everything, including public and private life, morals, and patriotism. The higher the standard the higher the level of living—a standard, therefore, is a thing no one need be afraid of. We hear little now of the standard for Whiskey, which made such a furor some years ago. The only firm still adhering to it are the Proprietors of the Mackie's Special Whiskey. It evidently pays them.

We are sole distributors for this celebrated brand in Canada.

QUEBEC, THURSDAY, JULY 27.

"THE UNALTERABLE FIXITY OF HIS PRINCIPLES."

"If we know the hearts and minds of our people at present, I think I am not making too wide a statement when I say that the general feeling in Canada to-day is not in favor of reciprocity. There was a time when Canadians would have given many things to obtain the American market; there was a time not long ago when the market of the great cities of the Union was the only market we had for any of our products. But thank Heaven, these days are past and over now. We are not dependent upon the American market as we were at one time."—Sir W. Laurier, 1899.

THE TIPPING SYSTEM.

So intolerable has become the tipping system that it is likely some day to effect its own salvation—or otherwise. Already there are indications of a growing protest against some of its exactions. St. Louis barbers have come to the conclusion that the abuse has greatly increased the number of men who shave themselves and has brought about a serious condition in their trade.

A writer in "Success Magazine" thinks that it is quite likely. "Neither would it be surprising," he adds, "to learn that many men take street cars to avoid the tip extortion of the cabmen; that people choose those restaurants, if they can find them, in which boys are not hired to stand at the door and exact dimes for hat checking; that travellers deliberately choose day coaches where they are safe from tip-hungry porters—in short that there is a general peevishness about paying twice for everything one gets."

It would be a great relief to travellers of moderate means to be delivered from the swarms of servants of all kinds who expect to be rewarded for the slightest service for which they are paid. The Americans are largely responsible for the tipping system and it is to be hoped that they will become so thoroughly sick of it that they will sweep it out of existence or at least curtail it within reasonable limits.

GERMANY AND MOROCCO.

Writing of the present critical situation in Morocco Mr. Stephen Bonsai in the New York Time attributes the flurry to the return of Monsieur Delcasse to public life and to the reluctance of French inventors to put their money in the Bagdad railroad so favored by Germany.

Germany's interest in Morocco is described in a few well chosen words by Professor Hans Delbruck, the editor of the Prussian Year Book, who says:

"Our people were occupied until the end of the year 1871 with the task of establishing national unity and independence, which the Western nations had already succeeded in securing centuries earlier, and were unable until our own time to take part in a great colonial policy in other parts of the world. Enormous tracts of America, Africa and Asia to-day speak English, Spanish, French or Russian, or are subject to these governments; even small states such as Holland and Portugal have considerable colonial possessions. The Germans have only been able at the last moment to bring under their sceptre a few fragments of insignificant extent and limited value. But from the first moment when we announced such an endeavor England, which already united under her crown a full fourth of the whole human race—four hundred million souls—has pursued our object with ardent jealousy, and has placed obstacle after obstacle in our way."

This, of course, as the Mail and Empire remarks, refers to the entente cordiale between France and England, which alone made French policy in Morocco effective. Had it not been for the alliance France could never have asserted her political supremacy in Morocco without a war, and even with British backing such a catastrophe was only narrowly averted. Prof. Delbruck goes on to demand, 'Is the great German people to permit itself to be permanently enclosed within its Continental frontiers, and from behind them to observe how England, France, Russia, the United States and Japan divide the world among themselves? The Fatherland, must larger be, seems to be the answer to this enquiry. Southern Morocco, with its Atlantic ports, its rich hinterland, is worth a good deal. Some day in Wilhelmstrasse the statesmen may decide that it is even worth a European war.'

THE EVANGEL OF RECIPROCITY.

Now that Reciprocity has passed on the other side of the border its advocates have evidently conceived the mistaken idea that it is fait accompli and have let slip some unguarded words as to their motives. President Taft, for instance, thanks Mr. Hearst, the Great Chief of yellow journalism in the United States, "for the energetic work of the seven Hearst papers, and of the members of his staff for their earnest and useful effort to spread the gospel of Reciprocity."

As is well known, there were two main reasons for the attitude of Mr. Hearst's paper. One was the desire to lay hands on Canada's raw pulpwood, the other was the hope of political union, commercial annexation, absorption, or whatever you like to call it. It spells the annihilation of Canada, the disintegration of the Empire and the aggrandizement of the States.

Nor is Hearst alone in his schemes. In the Northwestern Agriculturist we find the following: "We do not favor annexation of Canada. That is, we do not think that annexation could fail to work a hardship upon American farmers, since it would open up the entire Canadian Northwest to competition in American markets, with our present farms."

"But it is not at all necessary to be a prophet, to foretell that if commercial annexation (called reciprocity) becomes a fact, by the passage of the bill now pending, political annexation within the next decade, at least of western Canada, will be inevitable."

"We shall then favor annexation, for our farmers would have nothing more to lose and have something to gain, through bringing Canadians in to bear their fair share of national burdens for the support of our government, and the development of American institutions."

"If 'reciprocity' becomes a fact, hundreds of thousands of Americans will move into the Canadian Northwest. It will be an 'American invasion' and this will so inoculate the American spirit into western Canada that it will be more American than Canadian."

"It will be a peaceful but not less an irresistible Americanizing of Canada."

"It will not be the old campaign cry: 'Fifty-four forty or fight'; but it will be: 'Reciprocity brings annexation!' or 'Canadians sharing our markets share our taxes and our government,' or instead of 'Taxation without representation' as the acme of injustice, it will be: 'Representation and participation in our markets, without taxation is unfair to Americans. Come in or stay out!'"

"We may not want French Canada, but we certainly will seek American Canada (the West) if she secures our home markets. It is inevitable in the natural course of human events."

This American invasion of the west was first initiated by Mr. Sefton, but he always entertained the idea of keeping it under control, of balancing it with immigrants from other sources. Even so long ago as 1903 the Montreal Herald and the local apologist of the Laurier party were afraid that it would if continued prove a menace to our national life. And since then it has multiplied manifold.

KITCHENER IN EGYPT.

At last, it would seem, Kitchener is to have some employment worthy of the high administrative talents which he has displayed so long in the service of Great Britain and which he has been prevented from exercising for some time now, owing, it is said, to political jealousies in England.

We lately heard of him as being in complete charge of the administrative details of the coronation and no one was surprised that this event which implied the successful handling of millions of people, the taking care of an army of soldiers and the conduct of a procession unique in history, passed off without a single hitch.

But it was obvious that so great a man as Kitchener has proved himself to be, could not be wasted on any sort of glorified police duty and it surprises no one that he has been chosen to succeed Sir Eldon Gorst as chief administrator of Egyptian affairs.

The appointment has a large significance. It seems to verify in a remarkable degree what was frankly written not long ago by an English official high in the Egyptian service. He said: "Let us free our minds from cant. We went to Egypt to serve our own purposes and we intend to remain there for a like reason. The occupation should benefit the Egyptians and no one will deny that it has done so in the past."

That was the position taken by Lord Cromer, the best administrator that Egypt ever had. The situation in that country is rather peculiar. Really Egypt is under the sovereignty of Turkey but it has a government and a Khedive of its own. Back of these, however, stand the British, who rule the country, take care of its finances and deal justice on the right hand and on the left. It was Lord Cromer's idea that the Egyptians should only be given a hand in governing when they had given evidence of possessing some qualifications for doing so. Under Sir Eldon Gorst the strong hand relaxed and then for the first time arose a spirit of nationalism, discontent and revolt. With the advent of Kitchener Egypt goes back to the principles of Cromer. The world may be sure that Egypt will be governed justly, that life and property will be safe and that the country will be administered in capable fashion.

MEMORIES OF THE ENGLISH DERBY.

Some twenty years or so ago it was noted that a poorly named horse had never won the Derby, and since then the idea has grown up that unless a horse had a good name it was practically "hoodooed" out of it, and might as well not start. The winner of the 132nd renewal of this classic maintains the tradition, for Sunstar is not only a euphonious name, impossible to mispronounce, but it gives racing men an immediate clue to the colt's breeding, his sire being Sundridge. Nevertheless, England must be full of old sporting men to-day who will hear with astonishment that Sundridge has enrolled himself in the thoroughbred's Valhalla as the progenitor of a Derby winner, since Sundridge was never regarded as being anything more than a smart sprinter, and to win a Derby a horse "has to stay," that is to say, he has to be able to gallop a mile and a half, which only about one colt out of every fifty is able to do. Nor is Sunstar's ancestry more brilliant on his dam's side, since Doris was a selling plater that anyone could have bought for £150.

Waterloo Avenged.

The Derby as an institution is 132 years old, and was founded by Edward Stanley, twelfth Earl of Derby. Its value at first was small, and there was no special distinction in winning it, but gradually it came to be recognized as the most important racing fixture in the world, and from many countries came champions to measure strides with the best English colts of the year. Occasionally these foreign challengers have been successful. Hungary, France and the United States have been represented by winning horses, and an interesting entry in the present year was a colt owned by a Canadian. In 1865, when Count Lagrange won with the French colt Gladiateur, it was remarked that Waterloo had been avenged. Since then France has tried several times to duplicate the feat of old Gladiateur, but has not been able to come nearer than second. In 1876 a Hungarian colt named Kiber won, and in 1881 the United States scored a victory with Iroquois, owned by the tobacco magnate, Pierre Lorillard, and ridden by Fred Archer, who is supposed to have been the greatest jockey who ever rode a race. Archer won the Derby no fewer than five times. Twenty years later there was another American victory, for Volodyovski, though bred and owned in England, was leased by the late W. C. Whitney, of New York, and in his colors got home first.

Leasing a Winner.

It was also a leased victory that King Edward enjoyed with Minoru two years ago. In the Fall of 1908 the King's crop of two-year-olds was so unpromising that he had to choose between having no wearers of the Royal colors in the classics and leasing the racing prospects of someone else's horses. He chose the latter alternative, and from Col. Hall Walker leased, among others, Minoru, that won for him his third Derby, as well as the Two Thousand Guineas. On the whole, the year's racing that the King had from his hired horses was about the best since the memorable year when he won his second Derby with Diamond Jubilee, and also won the Two Thousand, the Eclipse and the Grand National, a feat never before equaled on the British turf, and not likely to be duplicated in the future. As regarding Derby winnings, the King stood, third on the list with three victories, as compared with four for Sir John Hawley and four for the Duke of Westminster. The Duke of Portland had two and Lord Rosebery three victories to their credit in the great classic, and probably the letter considers the breeding of Ladas, Sir Visto and Cicero the greatest triumph of his varied career.

A Sporting Event.

The conditions of the Derby make it very typical of racing generally, for all the elements of chance are present. The future starter must be entered before it is old enough to have shown any indication of its future quality, and successive payments are made until the owner has paid about $750 by the time of the parade on Derby Day. Twenty horses are thus entered for one that is considered good enough to start, and there are plenty of horsemen in England who have paid thousands of pounds into the stake without ever having a horse worth sending to the post. It is by means of these subscriptions that the stake is built up, there being practically no added money by the Jockey Club. Thus the owners are running for their own money, which usually amounts to something more than $30,000. In the past twenty years alleged Derbys have sprung up all over the world, wherever horses race.

OVER INSURING VESSELS.
 The question of the over-insurance of steamers cropped up when judgment was delivered by the Court of Inquiry sitting in London, to consider the circumstances connected with the loss of the steamship Cardiff Hall, on Miskhak Point, Russia. It seems rather an anomaly, says Syren and Shipping, that whilst it is a misdemeanor heavily punishable by fine and imprisonment for an individual not having an insurable interest in a vessel to effect a p.p.i. policy on her, it is quite open to an owner, with the consent of the underwriters, to insure his boat for a sum again as she is worth. The actual value, for example, in this particular instance, was taken at £11,250, yet the vessel was insured for £20,000, and this not merely with the consent of underwriters, but by their express stipulation. They refused to write the risk "all risks" at all unless the valuation was made at least £19,000, the object being, of course, to reduce their proportion in the event of a contribution in general average. The Stipendiary expressed his opinion that this is a matter demanding serious consideration by the Board of Trade.

BIG REWARD IS OFFERED

Steel Company Looking for a Gang of Swindlers Who Have Cleaned Up.

New York, July 26—An offer of $5,000 reward will be sent broadcast over the country to-morrow by the Swedish Iron and Steel Company of New York and New Orleans, for evidence that will convict two or more swindlers of a fraud by which $500,000 has already been cleaned up and which is still flourishing.

For seven years the swindle, known to the trade as the "two French swindlers," has been eating its way into the business standing of the steel importers, a body of men who annually bring into the country goods valued at $25,000,000, and so deep and widespread has the corrosion become that salesmen dealing in imported steels now report that they have difficulty in persuading their customers that they are honest men representing reputable firms.

The victims chosen have been always of first class financial rating. Some times they used only small quantities of steel in machine shops that were merely adjuncts to their business. They include candy makers, furniture firms, automobile manufacturers, weavers and spinners, mining companies, the tool trade, machine shops and countless others in New England, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Indianapolis, Brooklyn, New York, Buffalo and other big cities. Now the range has been extended to Arizona at one end and many Michigan cities, including Lansing, Detroit and Grand Rapids at the other.

A roar of anguish and mortification has followed the trail. Outraged employers have often discharged old and trusted employees merely for the satisfaction of taken it out on somebody. In essence the swindle was this:

Seven years ago appeared the "two Frenchmen," representing themselves as Count so-and-so and his secretary. Well mannered and well dressed they would visit a factory, office, pick their way daintily through the shops, compliment the superintendent on his progressiveness and then solicit a few orders for high class tool steel made abroad by the Count's father.

Trivial orders are often given almost casually, sometimes they are merely scribbled memorandums. While the Count engaged the superintendent, his secretary would dictate on the firm's stationary an order for some larger amount—sometimes a ton instead of a hundred weight—and walk out with a perfunctory signature. The order would be turned over to a supposedly innocent firm of jobbers, who, armed with the order would deliver an inferior quality of steel, worth perhaps 3 cents a pound and collect from 39 cents to 90 cents a pound. Usually they puzzled and shamefaced manufacturer would pay rather than fight through the courts a transaction that bore so good a surface color of bona fides.

Two years ago the Frenchmen found it was getting too hot for even their impudence. They vanished, but the game was too good to let die. It had never brought a prosecution or so much as an exposure, and now evidence is rapidly accumulating that it is being industriously pushed again, either by the two Frenchmen themselves or else students of their methods.

Clever as the swindlers are they seem now to have overlooked one point. Originally they represented themselves as agents of an unknown foreign company. Now, they have brought into the game an American company with a good name to protect. The result has been a vigorous campaign, which will be pushed to the end.

FRENCH PLAYWRIGHT

HAD ANOTHER DUEL.

Paris, July 26—Henry Bernstein, the playwright, fought still another duel to-day as the outcome of riots instituted by the members of the Royalists organization known as the "Camelots du Roi" at the Comedie Francaise, which eventually forced Bernstein's play "Apres Mo" off the stage. He was to have met the Royalist Lecour, who is now serving a three years term of imprisonment for assaulting former Premier M. Briand, but the Government refused to grant permission to Lecour to leave the jail, even temporarily, to carry out his engagement.

Maurice Pujo, another Royalist and member of the "Camelots du Roi," of which organization Lecour is vice-president, took the latter's place. The duel, which was with swords, was rapid and exciting. Bernstein scratched the forehead of his adversary twice, and was himself slightly wounded in the arm by Pujo. The seconds stopped the duel at the seventh bout. M. Bernstein's other encounters were with Leon Daudet and M. Terry only a few days ago.

MUST NOT SELL CIGARETTES ON SUNDAY.

Toronto, July 26—The selling of cigarettes on Sunday by a restaurant keeper was declared by Judge Morson today to be an infraction of the Lord's Day Act. Emil Brooker was convicted of this offence by Magistrate Kingsford some time ago, and appealed to the higher court that he had a license to sell meals on Sundays so he could also provide cigarettes. According to the evidence he had only sold his customers with smokes so the conviction was upheld. "The primary object of a restaurant," said the judge, "is to supply food, and I cannot hold that cigarettes are either food or refreshment. A person might, although I don't hold that he could, sell cigars or cigarettes as incidental to a meal, even if that meal consisted only of a sandwich or a piece of cake."

WE'RE ALL POLICE

Mayor Gaynor, in one of those humorous and brilliant letters that are making his administration memorable, told a New York man that every citizen had a right to arrest malefactors. The Mayor, commenting on this statement at a banquet in Brooklyn, said gravely:

"The public, any way, always unconsciously exercises a policing influence on the community's morals, but it does this not so much by running evildoers in as by running them down."

NO LANGUAGE LOVER.

Robert Underwood Johnson, the well-known poet and editor, declared at the University of New York's commencement that New York as a literary centre was ridiculous—that nowhere in this country was poetry more appreciated than in Boston, and nowhere less than in New York.

"In fact," said Mr. Johnson afterwards, "New York's love of poetry is about equal to the Earlham boy's love of languages."

"In my sophomore year at Earlham this boy was visited by his mother. 'Well, my dear,' she said to him, 'what languages have you decided to take up here?'

"I have decided to take up Pictish," he replied.

"Pictish?" said his puzzled mother.

"Why Pictish?"

"Only five words of it remain," said he.

THE MARBLE HEART

Frederick Trevor Hill, the brilliant novelist, is the secretary of the New York Association for Improving the Condition of the poor, and the other day at the Century Club, apropos of charity, Mr. Hill said:

"The best charity at this season is the children's country week movement. To see a pale, gaunt child of the tenements growing rosy and strong beside the windy sea or in the perfumed air of some old-fashioned garden is a joy, and they who will not help this charity seem to me as stingy as the Sunapee man."

"A Sunapee man was setting off on the Little Weetam for a week's holiday in Boston. The township beggar said to him on the pier:

"Japhet, ye might leave me a dime or so to drink success to yer journey."

"Sorry, but I can't do it," Japhet replied. "All my spare dimes I give to my mother."

"That's strange," sneered the beggar. "Yer mother told me ye never give her nothin'."

"Well," said Japhet, coldly, "if I never give my old mother nothing, what sort of a chance do you think you've got?"

OUR MILLIONAIRE

BOOK BUYERS

Dr. L. A. Baer, the Frankfurt expert, questions the genuineness of many of the books that brought such fabulous prices at the Hoe sale in New York.

"The millionaire buyers at this sale amused me," said Dr. Baer at the Grolier Club. "Before the Hoe incunabula, the Caxtons and Wynkyn de Worde, the millionaire buyers were like Hans Doodle before the modern street car."

"Hans Doodle, a farmer from the interior, paid a visit to Frankfurt, and was much impressed by the electric cars. On his return home he said:

"In the '90's I saw them drive the cars with an engine; back in 1904 they drove them with an iron rope under the street; but not till last week did I believe that it would ever be possible to whizz them along with a fishing rod."

"COWARDS WON'T WED US."

Reply of Young Women of Houston to Young Men's Plea.

(From the Philadelphia Record.)

Half the young women of Houston, Texas, and many other cities of the United States are of the same opinion that the same ratio of men are cowards. They place no restriction on vicinity, but the 50 per cent of the fair sex appear to be unanimous that half the young men in the country who don't ask some girl to wed them are moral cowards and shirking a Christian duty.

Recently Rev. Sam Haly of St. Paul's Church of Houston propounded to the young men of Houston the question, "Why do you not marry?" In return some original replies were received, the majority deploring their financial condition or the extravagance of the present-day girl. These criticisms the girls took to

FESTIVAL OF STE. ANNE

Great Crowd of Pilgrims Assembled at the Famous Shrine Yesterday.

The famous shrine of Ste. Anne de Beaupre was thronged yesterday with crowds of pilgrims, the occasion being the festival of Ste. Anne, the patron saint of the shrine. Imposing ceremonies were held during the day. Pontifical High Mass was celebrated by His Grace Archbishop Begin yesterday morning, who was assisted by Bishop Roy, and Fathers Garon, of Quebec, and Cloutier, of Chateau Richer. Sermons were preached in French and English, Father Manesse speaking in French, and Father Donohue, of St. Patrick's, in English. Nearly eight thousand pilgrims were present during the day.

DURAND & DURAND AT THE PALAIS ROYAL.

Large and enthusiastic audiences have attended the different performances of Durand & Durand this week at the Palais Royal. This comedy has made a decided hit with the large patronage, and with such a splendid bill of moving pictures as is offered, no better a place could be found to pass a pleasant hour.

QUEBEC CITY RIFLE ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Quebec City Rifle Association, which held its annual meeting at the Drill Hall on Tuesday evening, was a most interesting one. Owing to the absence of some of the leading members, the election of the full board of officers was postponed until Tuesday next. At this meeting the programme for the season will also be settled.

Mr. Edward Meek, the well known baritone of Chicago, has generously consented to sing.

NEW TARIFF BILL WAS DISCUSSED.

Washington, July 26.—The Underwood tariff bill had its first serious consideration in the Senate to-day with a vote upon it in prospect for the opening of to-morrow's session. The honors of the afternoon were divided between the two senators from Montana. Senator Myers, the new Democratic member, declared he would vote for the passage of the bill as it came from the House of Representatives. Senator Dixon, Republican, speaking from behind a desk piled high with samples of wool and woollen cloths, expressed the belief that no wool legislation should be passed at this session of congress, and that the revision, when taken up, should be based on the forthcoming report of the tariff board. Senator Dixon declared there is a real "joker" in the wool tariff, known as the "skirting clause." By permitting importers to discard all the rough parts of the fleece, he said, it reduces the actual protection to American sheep raisers from 11c to 5c.

Numerous conferences were held during the day in the Senate chamber and in the cloak rooms, in an effort to clear the situation for the numerous wool bills, and to come to some agreement as to the attitude the various factions would take. None of these conferences brought any definite agreement, however.

DELIBERATE SUICIDE.

Montreal, July 26.—What appeared to be a deliberate case of suicide occurred this afternoon when a middle-aged man jumped off Viau's Bridge into the St. Lawrence. Numbers of people were about at the time, but were unable to effect a rescue. The man was carried down the river for half a mile by the swift current before he finally disappeared.

CARPENTER'S STRIKE NEARING ITS END.

Montreal, July 26.—The carpenters' strike seems to be drawing to a close. Arrangements were completed yesterday whereby another hundred men, employed by one of the largest contractors, will return at the 35 cent rate, the basis of the union's demands. This leaves only a number of the smaller contractors to be dealt with.

The strike of 180 carpenters employed on the new grain elevator in the harbor, will be brought up in Parliament as the work is a Government undertaking. Mr. Alphonse Verville, Labor representative, has been instructed to take up the matter with a view to finding out why the so-called fair wage clause has not been observed.

OFFER CANDIDATURE TO MR. FORGET

Montmorency Conservatives Wish to Have Him as Their Representative.

A convention of Conservatives of the County of Montmorency, held on Tuesday last, decided to offer the candidature of the county for the next federal elections to Mr. Rodolphe Forget, M. P. for Charlevoix. Those present at the convention decided to have petitions circulated in every parish of the county for the signatures of electors, and last evening these petitions were signed by hundreds of electors of the county, who are anxious to have Mr. Forget as their representative at Ottawa.

COURT OF SESSIONS.

Yesterday morning a defendant was charged in the Court of Sessions with driving his automobile at faster rate than the law allows. After hearing the evidence the Court took the case en delibere.

SMALL FIRE.

In a store owned by Ed. Demers, situated on St. Joseph street, a fire broke out yesterday morning that did damage to the extent of about $200. The firemen were summoned and soon had the blaze under control.

BROKE A LEG.

Yesterday morning a sailor named Otto West, belonging to the steamer Tiger, which is discharging coal for the Dominion Coal Co. in the Louise Dock, fell on the deck of the vessel and broke one of his legs. He was conveyed in the ambulance to the Hotel Dieu.

RECORDER'S COURT.

Ald. Cote and Goulet had nine prisoners, charged with drunkenness, before them in the Recorder's Court yesterday. Four of them were fined $1 and costs or two days' jail each; one $2 and costs or eight days; two $5 and costs or a similar imprisonment; one $2 and costs or four days, and one was discharged.

CONSTABLE HAD A SEVERE TUSSE.

Constable Frank O'Byrne had quite a tussle with a prisoner last night. A call was sent to the station from St. Paul street, where a man who had limbed too freely was occupying his time in smashing up the furniture in his boarding house. The constable had lots of trouble with the man, and they made a rather rapid descent of a couple of flights of stairs, but when the end was reached the constable was on top and he finally landed his man in the station.

KNOCKED FROM HIS CAR.

While a conductor in charge of a street car going west on St. John street yesterday afternoon, was on the running board of the car, collecting fares, a cart laden with stone passed close to the car and knocked him off. He fell to the ground and had his head badly cut. He was taken into the grain store of Colvin & Co., where he received medical attention at the hands of Dr. Bedard, and later was conveyed to his home. Besides receiving the cut on his head he suffered a severe shaking up, but his injuries are not likely to prove serious.

FUNERAL WAS LARGELY ATTENDED.

Many were the friends and acquaintances, who yesterday assembled to pay a last tribute of respect to the memory of Miss Mary Ann O'Brien, whose funeral took place from her late residence in Champlain street to St. Patrick's Church and Cemetery. The church was heavily draped in black, and the solemn requiem mass was celebrated by Father Woods, assisted by Rev. Fathers Lawlor and Healey, as deacon and sub-deacon. A large choir was present and rendered the musical portion in a feeling manner. The final prayers at the grave were said by Rev. Father Healey. The chief mourners were the deceased's brother-in-law, Mr. J. Kenny, and nephew, Mr. M. Mackay, of the C.P.R. Telegraph staff, Montreal. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Colton, M. Huck, Ed. O'Connor, Sr. Jos. Huck, J. O'Brien and J. Murphy.

DEATH OF MRS. J. B. FORSYTH

Her friends were greatly shocked to hear of the death of Mrs. Forsyth, wife of Lt.-Col. J. B. Forsyth, Collector of Customs at this port, which occurred rather suddenly yesterday morning at her residence on the Gomin Road. The deceased took ill the previous evening, and breathed her last a few hours afterwards. The late Mrs. Forsyth was the only daughter of the late T. B. Anderson Esq., a former President of the Bank of Montreal, and was one of Quebec's most highly esteemed ladies. Her death will be deeply mourned by a large circle of friends throughout Canada. She was of a most amiable and charitable disposition and was dearly beloved by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance. Until a short time ago the late Mrs. Forsyth was the voluntary organist of St. Michael's Church, Bergerville, and in common with her respected helpmeet took a deep interest in the welfare of St. Michael's and the Anglican Church throughout the diocese. To the bereaved husband much sincere sympathy will be extended in his sad affliction, in which the Chronicle anxiously desires to join.

ANNUAL MATCHES 8TH ROYAL RIFLES

Will be Held at St. Joseph de Levis on Saturday, 5th August.

A very important committee meeting of the 8th R.R. Rifle Association was held on Tuesday night, when several matters of importance were brought up, principal amongst which was the drawing up of the programme for the annual meet and the deciding upon a date on which to hold same.

The date finally decided upon was Saturday, 5th August. The programme is a very fine one and one that should please all the members, principally the second and third class shots, who have been well looked after, owing to the generosity of Mr. Wm. Price, M.P., and Col. Wm. M. Macpherson, who have contributed very generously in this respect. The programme will be announced in a few days.

All entries must be made in writing to the Secretary, P.O. box 21, on or before August 3rd.

The Secretary is also receiving entries for those intending taking part in the P.Q.R.A. meet, which entries close here on Saturday. Lt.-Col. W. H. Davidson has very generously offered $50 towards defraying the expenses of green men who intend taking part at the meet. This offer of Col. Davidson's is sure to be taken advantage of, and it is expected that the Eighth will have a number of new men taking part.

VEDRINES WINS 1,010-MILE FLIGHT

Flying Time From London to Edinburgh, 363 Miles, Was 378 Minutes 48 Seconds.

Edinburgh, Scotland, July 26.—While the welcoming cheers of tens of thousands of the air that bore him, Jules Vedrine, the French flyer arrived here leader in the second stage of the 1,010 miles circuit of England and Scotland for the London Daily Mail's $50,000 prize.

The first stage flown on Saturday was from the Brooklands' aviation field, outside London, to Hendon, 20 miles; the second, from Hendon to this capital, 343 miles.

When Vedrine gracefully descended here, his arrow-like monoplane had pierced the 363 miles from Brooklands in the actual flying time of 6h 18m. and 48s.

Beat Railway Flyer's Time.

The man in the air had beaten by nearly an hour the time the crack train, the Flying Scotsman, makes between London and Edinburgh.

Following Vedrine's, a splendid second, came another gallant Frenchman, Beaumont (Capt. Conneau), whose actual flying time from Brooklands was 6 hours, 30 minutes, 25 seconds.

James Valentine, an Englishman, was third in the contest, in which men of seven nationalities started. Valentine had a thrilling experience. Contrary winds balked him, he was nearly blown into the Firth of Forth, yet he flew the 363 miles in 7 hours, 27 minutes.

No other competitor descended here from the very start at Hendon Hippodrome this morning it was a fierce struggle between Vedrine and Beaumont. By a mistake of the timekeeper Beaumont, who should have started second, got away first. Vedrine, after some excited gestures, sailed away a few seconds later. Thousands witnessed a splendid spectacle as the two airmen sped across the aerodrome at such a pace that they were soon lost to sight. Beaumont, who was flying higher, was quickly overtaken and when Harrogate, 182 miles from Hendon, was reached Vedrine had gained another few minutes. This was repeated in the stages from Harrogate to Newcastle, sixty-eight miles, and from Newcastle to Edinburgh, ninety-three miles.

Prize for Valentine.

Valentine, worthy competitor of the Frenchmen, was third to arrive at Harrogate. He won the prize of silver plate offered for the first Englishman to complete this stage. He was delayed for an hour at Harrogate and made a slow trip to Newcastle, having by mistake landed outside the town instead of at Gosforth Park, the official landing place.

Weymann, the American, lost his way and descended at Leeds. Trying to start again he broke an alighting wheel. Although still delayed at Leeds, Weymann refuses to be despondent.

Capt. Cody, once an American, reached Harrogate. Of the thirteen others who completed the first stage Saturday, C. C. Patterson in a "Baby" Graham-White biplane and Louis Reynolds retired. E. Audemars withdrew after making three false starts at Hendon, and the rest either failed to get away from Hendon or descended before making Harrogate.

The three leaders announce that they will start on the next section of the race at daylight to-morrow. Vedrine is confident of reaching Bristol before noon.

ST. PAUL WANTS $12,000 FOR KELL

Barney Dreyfuss Not Sorry That He Paid $22,500 For Marty O'Toole.

President Barney Dreyfuss of the Pittsburgh Pirates, declared to-day he was not sorry that he had been compelled to pay $22,500 for Marty O'Toole, the star pitcher of the St. Paul aggregation of the American Association. The price, the largest by $10,000, ever paid for the services of a single baseball player, is likely to remain for years.

"I believe O'Toole will make a success with the Pirates from the start," said Dreyfuss. "Rube Marquard, the $10,000 beauty," seemed to have had his head turned when he created a flurry. As soon as they got his head down to normal size, he showed he was a wonderful pitcher. But I see a bigger future for O'Toole. He is a bigger man, a greater pitcher, and one who will be able to step in and help Pittsburgh without taking a couple of seasons to become adjusted to the big league way of doing business."

O'Toole's plea with Dreyfuss to buy Bill Kelly, his battery partner, is said to have been pathetic. The pitcher, almost with tears in his eyes, pleaded with Dreyfuss to buy Kelly, if he could possibly see his way clear to do so. The men are almost like brothers in their affection for each other.

"It was Kelly I came here for in the first place," said Dreyfuss, "for I was not sure I would be able to land O'Toole. The fans need not be surprised if I land him, too. I can use another good catcher mighty well."

It was declared Dreyfuss already has offered $10,000 cash for Kelly, but it is said Owner Lennon refused to consider less than $12,000, which in itself would be a record-breaking price for a backstop.

O'Toole was one of the star pitchers of the New England League in 1909, being the mainstay of Brockton that year. His spit ball and coolness under fire earned him a trip south with the Boston Red Sox of the American League in the spring of 1910, but the team was so well stocked with pitchers that he was sold early in the year to St. Paul of the American Association.

MANAGER DOOIN HAD LEG FRACTURED.

St. Louis, July 26.—Manager Dooin of the Philadelphia National baseball team, sustained a fracture of his right leg when he collided with Oakes, of the local club, in a close play at the home plate in the fourth inning to-day. Physicians at the hospital tonight announced that Dooin will be probably unable to play again this season.

RESULTS OF WESTERN GOLF CHAMPIONSHIPS.

Detroit, Mich., July 26.—Two 37 hole matches, one in which Mason Phelps, the Western champion, defeated Henry Heyburn, of Louisville, and the other which gave Robt. A. Gardner, of Chicago, the Yale athlete, a victory over J. B. Schlotman, of Detroit, made the second round of match play in the western amateur golf championship on the Detroit Golf Club links to-day one of thrills and brilliant competition. Favored by luck which enabled him to halve the 36th in five, Phelps holding a beautiful 25 foot putt, claimed the extra hole 3-4 and put the Kentuckian out of further competition. In the Gardner-Schlotman match, the latter evened matters up when he won the 36th hole 4-5, but he promptly fell down on the extra three putts for a five while Gardner holed in 4.

PLOUGH HORSE STILL MAKING A RECORD

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 26.—The greatest crowd assembled at a race meeting in this city since the famous Allerton-Nelson match in 1891, to-day saw Tommy Murphy's graduated plough horse R. T. C. repeat his triumph at Indianapolis and Kalamazoo and capture his third great stake in as many weeks, when from a high class field, he won three of the four heats necessary to determine the winner in the 212 trot for the Furniture Manufacturers $10,000 stake.

R. T. C. was easily the best of the field and won the first two heats as he willed making his drive from the turn into the stretch in each instance. In the third heat the gelding broke badly while passing the quarter and Murphy rated him along in last place, aiming only to beat the distance flag. Belvasia, Lewis Forrest and Al Stanley made a great finish of this heat, noses apart. In the final heat R.T.C. got all the worst of the start, but came around in characteristic fashion on the far turn and under the wire beat out Belvasia in spectacular fashion.

Areo Leyburn led nearly the entire route in the first heat, but the best Geers could do was to finish 3rd and thereafter was always well back. To achieve his victory R.T.C. had to step a full second and a half faster than his best time in the $10,000 Paper Mills Stake at Kalamazoo last week.

PRINCETON BOYS SAVE DROWNING BROTHERS.

Flat Plain, N.Y., July 26.—Had it not been for the aquatic prowess of two younger brothers, both Princeton students and one of them tackle on last year's Varsity football team, Clarence and Amos Bissell, of Newark, N.J., would have gone down to death to-day in Otsego Lake, Cooperstown, in the embrace of a drowning man whom they were trying to rescue.

Clarence and Amos had swan to the aid of Pasquale Valecci, who had been attacked by cramps while bathing. As they got within his reach the drowning man grasped Clarence by the hair and Amos by the throat. The three went down together.

Addison, who played tackle on Princeton's football team last year, and George Bissell heard the cries of nearby workmen and rushed to the water and plunged in. They reached the struggling trio and with difficulty separated them. Valecci was dead and Clarence and Amos Bissell were nearly exhausted but were revived when taken ashore.

NOTES FROM TADOUSAC

Hotels Are Filled With Summer Guests—Visitors to Murray Bay.

The golf links at Tadousac on the Lower St. Lawrence, at the entrance to the Saguenay River, have been greatly improved this season and rank second to none at any Canadian resort. Comte and Comtesse de Lersle-Comte de Paris have been spending several days at the Hotel Tadousac which is filled with season guests.

Mr. Jno. Ross and Mrs. Ross, of Montreal, who spent the winter cruising along the Mediterranean in their superb steam yacht, Sheelah, arrived at Tadousac a few days ago and received a royal welcome from their many friends summering there. Tea was served on board in the afternoon to a number of the Tadousac cottage at Sydney, N.S. Mr. Ross, Jr., is soon expected to pass through Tadousac en route to their summer home at Sydney, N.S. Mr. Ross, Jr., is Rear Commodore of the St. Lawrence Yacht Club and is well known in yachting circles in Canada and the States, having captured many trophies. This summer Mr. Ross hopes to capture a good specimen of "tuna," a fish which frequents the icy waters of North East Nova Scotia. For a number of summers he has been endeavoring to land one of the gamy fish with the assistance of the rod alone, a feat which no one has yet ever accomplished in the ken of Canadian sportsmen. Considering that an average sized tuna weighs from 100 to 300 pounds, one may readily appreciate the difficulty incidental to capturing one of these monsters of the deep without the use of harpoon or landing net. Keen interest awaits the result of his efforts although naturally his fellow fishermen scout the idea of his being able to accomplish the feat. The Ross family is one of the most prominent of Montreal, where father and son are prominently identified with banking interests.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lafleur, of Montreal, are at Tadousac for the summer. Mr. Lafleur, who is a King's Counsel, was one of the arbitrators in deciding the recent Mexican boundary question.

J. W. Cook, K.C., with Mrs. Cook, is another addition to the lawyer's set at Tadousac, where they recently arrived from Montreal after a delightful day's journey by boat.

Mrs. Justice Dunlop and the Misses Dunlop, of Boston, have arrived at Tadousac for the season. John Moir, of Boston, is also a late arrival.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnathan Dwight and Jonathan Dwight, Jr., of West 72nd street, New York, are as usual spending the summer at Tadousac.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Herbert Adams, of New York, are late arrivals at the Tadousac Hotel.

Dr. and Mrs. F. F. Christiania and their son and Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Howell, of Ithaca, N.Y., are spending the summer at Tadousac.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Tomkins, of Warrington, Va., where they are prominent in the hunting set, are recent arrivals at the Tadousac Hotel. Tadousac has been very active of late with many social affairs between the members of the hotel and cottage colony. Mrs. McLeod Yuile gave a tea on the verandah of her cottage on Wednesday to a few friends and Mrs. McDougall has also been one of the week's hostesses.

Mrs. Chipman, of the Tadousac, gave an afternoon affair in honor of the birthday of her niece, Miss Gladys Wainwright, and Mrs. Evans, the wife of Dean Evans, of Montreal, was a hostess of Tuesday, when she gave a delightful tea for her guests, Mrs. Hudspeth, of Lyndhurst, Ont.

Mrs. Wm. Price, who is with her family at her Tadousac cottage for the summer, is entertaining Miss Carter and Miss Flo Price, of Quebec. Miss Price has lately returned from the Coronation.

Mrs. Harcourt Smith, of Quebec, has taken Mrs. Dale's villa near the little French Church for the summer and is there with her family. Mrs. Dale, who has come from New York to spend so many seasons at Tadousac, will be missed from the colony.

Dean Evans, Mr. Kilvert and McLeod Yuile have just returned from Plunger's Bay, where they went on the yacht L'Esperance for a few days fishing. They had great luck and brought a fine catch of tommy cod and sea trout.

Among enthusiastic golfers at Tadousac are Dr. Dwight, of New York, Dr. McKechnie, McLeod Yuile, Mr. Kilvert, Mr. Reynolds, Dr. McAuley, of Montreal, the Misses Dunlop, the Misses Williamson, Miss McDougall, Miss Nutter, Miss Anna Ewan, Miss Aryell and Miss Haywood, of Montreal and Quebec.

David S. Kerr, of the firm of Marwick, Mitchell & Co., New York, is with Mrs. Kerr spending the summer at the Tadousac Hotel.

Hon. Justice Dunlop has had as guests this week Miss Boswell, of Scotland, and his brother, C. H. Dunlop, of Liverpool, England.

Miss L. Green, A. Beaujeu, J. A. Belleisle, and Jules Garneau, of Quebec, are late comers at the Tadousac, where Hon. N. Garneau, Mrs. Garneau, Madame Garneau, Miss Bertha and F. H. Garneau are spending the season. Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Ross with four children are also here from Quebec and Mr. Chas. Pope, of Ottawa, is at the Tadousac for a month.

The Lower St. Lawrence, which is so popular a country with vacationers, has welcomed many distinguished people during the past week and recent arrivals at the Manoir Richelieu have included Charles Klein, the playwright, with his guests, Archibald Selwyn and George Wright, of New York, and Master Klein, who have had a delightful cruise in Mr. Klein's motor boat, the O Kay. They join Mrs. Klein at the Manoir Richelieu, where she has been spending a fortnight with a friend, for her second season. Mr. Klein and his friends have really had a wonderfully interesting cruise which began in New York and included the Hudson River, Lakes George and Champlain and the St. Lawrence River from Montreal to Murray Bay, in all a journey of several hundred miles. The journey may be continued up the Saguenay to Tadousac and Chicoutimi. Following this the party will return to Merriwold Park, Sullivan Country, New York, for the remainder of the season.

Mr. Klein has been working very hard on a new play and is stealing these few days recreation from his work before returning to his workshop to finish what promises to be the greatest play he has yet written.

FASHIONABLE WEDDING IN ENGLAND.

London, July 26.—Robert Vernon Harcourt, a grandson of John Lothrop Motley, the American historian and diplomat, was married at Beaconsfield to-day to Marjorie, daughter of W. S. Cunard, a member of the Trans-Atlantic Shipping Company. The bridegroom is a member of Parliament for Montrose burghs, a son of the late Sir William Vernon Harcourt and a brother of the colonial secretary. A romance attaches to the marriage, as their engagement which had existed for a long time, known only to themselves, was broken off early last year, only to be subsequently renewed.

REVOLT AGAINST PARTY LEADER

Raised at the Dinner to Earl of Halsbury in London Last Night.

London, July 26.—The banner of revolt against the party leadership was raised to-night at a dinner given in honor of the Earl of Halsbury which the Extremists among the Unionists intended should be a demonstration of their strength. Several hundred Unionist peers, Unionist members of the House of Commons and party workers filled the largest dining hall in London and cheered the policy of resistance.

The Earl of Selborne, who is credited with being a candidate for Lord Lansdowne's place as leader of the Opposition in the House of Lords, presided, and conspicuous among the diners were the Duke of Bedford, the Duke of Northumberland, the Duke of Westminster, the Duke of Marlborough, the Marquis of Salisbury, Viscount Plims, Baron Amphil, Lord Hugh Cecil, Austen Chamberlain, Frederick E. Smith, M.P. for the Waltham division of Liverpool, and the Rt. Hon. George Wyndham, who was Chief Secretary for Ireland in 1900-05, with a seat in the Cabinet in Mr. Balfour's Ministry, 1902.

The younger Unionists and tariff reformers composed the bulk of the company. A letter from Joseph Chamberlain was read, in which he said: "I heartily support the object of the meeting. The country owes a great debt to Lord Halsbury, since in this crisis of its history he has refused to surrender his principles."

The Earl of Selborne said that the House of Lords were trustees to the people for their powers and rights under the constitution. He concluded amid cheers: "In this crisis each peer has an individual constitutional responsibility, which is above all party ties. If his conception of his duty differs from that of his leaders he must obey his own, not theirs. Our duty is to stand by the amendments unless and until we are outvoted."

"The division in our party," continued Lord Selborne, "is on the single issue of the creation of peers. When that issue is past the party will close its ranks and fight for the restoration of the constitution and repeal the parliament act."

Lord Halsbury was given a great ovation. He spoke with his customary vigor. He said that Lord Lansdowne had declared in the House of Lords that if the bill passed no institution, nor the Crown, nor the union, nor the church, nor political liberties would be safe.

"If that is the effect, and I solemnly believe it will be, are we justified in standing aside when we might vote against the bill?" asked the speaker. "Ought we to evade the responsibility? If it is right to do it, we ought to vote for the bill. If it is not right we ought to do the utmost in our power to resist it. If one of the authors of this outrage on the constitution were to be impeached, and the impeachment properly presented, what could be said of those who, knowing what was to be done, did not vote against it?"

Austen Chamberlain made a stirring speech. When he had finished, there were cries of "the future Prime Minister." A hard reference to Premier Asquith was greeted with shouts of "traitor!"

Mr. Chamberlain said it was unthinkable that a great historic assembly like the House of Lords, with its fine traditions behind it, should acquiesce in the surrender of its constitutional rights and national duty.

ENJOY YOUR VACATION

By drinking CLAIRE-FONTAINE. That hurried lunch and irregular meals, later on may have its effect on your system. A bottle of CLAIRE-FONTAINE after your meal will regulate your system and help your food to digest. See what the Post Master of St. Pierre Charlesbourg has to say about it.

St. Pierre, Aug. 10, 1909.

I was a victim of dyspepsia for some time, and was reducing in weight daily. My doctor ordered me to take nothing but milk and Vichy water as I could not digest food of any kind. I was persuaded by Mr. Timmons to try CLAIRE-FONTAINE mineral water in my milk in place of Vichy. I did so after a lot of persuasion, and after its use for a short time I began to feel a crave for food. I began to eat a little meat and vegetables once a day, and now I can eat almost anything in the line of food, and everything I eat digests with me. I give this statement to thank Messrs. M. Timmons & Son for the good they have done me by their advice to try the water, as only for it I firmly believe I would not be able to-day to attend to my business.

THE CURSE OF THE NATION IS CONSTIPATION"Fruit-a-tives" Alone Cures This Disease

A famous scientist states that Constipation, or non-action of the bowels, causes more deaths than all other diseases combined. Constipation inflames the Kidneys, ruins digestion, is the foundation of Rheumatism, poisons the blood, causes Headaches, Neuralgia, Nervousness and Insomnia.

Constipation is caused by a weak or sluggish liver. Bile, the only purgative of the body, is secreted by the liver, which in turn should pour out into the intestines sufficient bile to move the bowels. Unless the liver is active, there cannot be enough bile to move the bowels regularly, and Constipation is the result.

"Fruit-a-tives," the famous fruit medicine, will always cure Constipation, because it acts directly on the liver—relieves the congestion—increases the quantity of bile—and strengthens the bowel muscles.

THE ROMANCE OF A PEARL

Interesting History of Brilliant

Gem in Necklace of Queen Alexandra.

The most brilliant pearl in the wonderful necklace that the Dowager Queen Alexandra wore at the recent coronation of her son, George V., came from the Wabash River, and was found by "Jumbo" Adams, a convict, who is now serving a sentence of twenty-one years in the Illinois Penitentiary at Chester.

The Queen's necklace is famed for its beauty, and has long been known for the rarity of the gems that compose it. But the central or pendant pearl lost its lustre, or became what is known to the trade as "dead," and the court jeweller was almost in despair until he heard that a gem had been secured by Tiffany's that was just what he wanted.

There was no haggling over the price asked, which was high up in the thousands, and the convict's pearl became the property of the queen mother of England. At court functions and amid pomp and splendor it gleamed and glowed in all its wonderful purity and thousands paid tribute to its loveliness—and "Jumbo" Adams lay in a felon's cell in the Chester Penitentiary, and cursed the day that it fell into his possession as he opened the dirty mussel "on the banks of the Wabash, far away."

Three years ago "Jumbo" Adams lived at Mount Carmel, Ill., and made a somewhat precarious living by digging mussels, selling fish and doing odd jobs of felling timber for portable sawmills. He was 25 years of age, and had a wife and three children. He had been to school but little, and his small world was the river, his home and the saloon. When he sold a load of shells to the button factory or earned a bit of money in some way he went first to the saloon and drank all the liquor he could hold; then he staggered home and his family got what was left. Day after day and year after year this was his programme. Up to this time he had never had as much as $20 in his possession that he might call his own.

Finding the Pearl.

Then one day he went down to the point where the White River joins the Wabash in its winding rush to swell the Ohio. It was very early, the sun was just coming up, not another pearl fisher was in sight, and "Jumbo" was just recovering from a prolonged spree. But nature seemed to be smiling forgivingly, and the heart of "Jumbo" Adams beat with a resolve to lead a better life. In telling of it afterward he said he communed with himself to the effect that if he could only find a pearl and get a start he would forever after lead a good life. He said he almost prayed to find a pearl. He strode slowly toward his dirty little flat-bottomed boat with his head bent and his thoughts on his failure in life.

Just before he reached the boat he stooped and picked up a big, ugly black mussel. Mechanically he pulled out his knife and pried open the muddy jaws. In one hand he held the gaping shells, and then with the forefinger of the other he probed amid the quivering mass. Suddenly his finger struck an obstruction nearly as large as a marble. He pulled it from its fastening on the side of the shell. Then he brushed the pasty covering from it and the chief of the Alexandra pearls gleamed and glowed and first made glad the heart of "Jumbo" Adams. At first he feared it was but a trick of the imagination, and he could hardly believe in his good fortune. He went on to the boat and bathed his head in the cooling water. As his head became clearer he looked again at the pearl. It was still there, and when he again rubbed it on the sleeve of his coarse shirt it was brighter. Then "Jumbo" Adams knew that fate had given him the chance that he had always hoped for. He was "rich," not as the trust magnates reckon riches, but as they are considered by the poor fishers who dwell by the banks of the Wabash and know only of the good things of life in fitting dreams.

With his dull face shining with an unwonted luster, "Jumbo" Adams walked along the bank of the river till he came to the big road that leads into the principal street of Mount Carmel. Behind him came the sound of wheels, and pretty soon Dr. McCoy, a well-known physician and pearl buyer of Mount Carmel, drove up. The doctor had been out early to call on a patient, who had been taken suddenly worse, and he was lonely. He asked Adams if he wanted to drive into town. The man said he did, but his thoughts were on his find, and he said little. Finally the doctor asked him if he had ever found any pearls. Adams replied that he had one at the moment. Dr. McCoy asked to see it, and Adams passed it over. The doctor rubbed the gem with a silk handkerchief, noted that it was of the rare rosebud variety and saw that it was perfect.

"What will you take for it, 'Jumbo'?" he asked.

The first figures that came into the mind of Adams were 800, so he promptly answered:

"I'll take $800 to get this pearl."

He had no idea what it was worth, and was prepared to fall to any figure that the buyer might set. But Dr. McCoy did not hesitate and try to lower the price. He drew a big wallet from his pocket and counted $800 on the seat of the buggy between them. "Jumbo" Adams took the money in his trembling fingers and turned over his find to the new owner. Twenty-four hours later the pearl passed into the possession of Louis Wilson, a pearl buyer of New York, who paid $2,500 for it. He in turn sold it to Tiffany's, then the English royal jeweller secured it, and now it shines in the necklace of Alexandra.

The lucky pearl fisher drank all day in celebrating his luck, and then some of his friends took him to his home. When he recovered he provided for the immediate wants of his family, but did not get anything extra, and his faithful wife wore no new dresses and his children got no dainties as a part of the celebration. The best of the money went to the saloon day by day, and "Jumbo" devoted his attention entirely to getting drunk.

One morning he walked down to his boat and found the empty shell that had contained the pearl. He picked it up and carried it to his home, intending to keep it as a souvenir to show visitors, but one of his companions was waiting there to take him again to the saloon, and he tossed the pearl shell into a barrel of others and went away. The writer plunged his hand into the barrel and drew out the shell which is produced here. It may have been the shell that contained the famous pearl. But the story is not yet ended.

"Jumbo" Adams continued to drink on the proceeds of his find, and he and Charles Pate, his boyhood chum and manhood friend, had many a spree together. One night they went to a country dance, where the fun was fast and furious, and where many of the participants were drunk. In the midst of the festivities Adams and Pate quarreled about some trivial matter, and Adams shot Pate dead. He was arrested, tried and sentenced to the Penitentiary for twenty-one years. The poor, tried wife tearfully took leave of him, and the sobbing children clung to his hands as the sheriff led him away to begin his sentence. This is why "Jumbo" Adams curses the day that the pearl came into his possession. It brought him only ill luck.

Judge Green, a leading lawyer of Mount Carmel, is working now to secure a parole for the man, that he may return to his family, for the wife and children are sorely in need of his help and the people of the city feel that he suffered enough in the three years that he has been a convict. It is thought when the facts are laid before the Board of Pardons the parole will be issued.

EMOTIONAL FRENCHMEN.

The difference between the character of the rather unemotional Anglo-Saxon race and the very emotional Frenchman is well shown by two stories which are told of M. Casimir-Perier, who was chosen President of France to succeed M. Sadi-Carnot. He is said to have resisted all entreaties to be a candidate until his mother was sent for, and M. Burdeau laid the case before her.

She listened, and told him that having his story in mind, and, being inspired by affection for her son, she declared to him that his grandfather, the great man of the family, would have told him to stand thereupon she walked out of the room, and her son gave way to her wishes.

It must be remembered that in France, not only in books, but in actual private life, the mother is a person even more sacred than elsewhere, and far more habitually looked up to as an authority by even middle-aged men. Such an appeal would not have been made here in America; but in France it is thought the most natural thing in the world, and everybody likes M. Casimir-Perier there, as they must everywhere, the better for his deference to his mother's wishes.

The old story relates to his reception of the news of his election. The President of the Senate, M. Challemeil Lacour made the formal announcement to him. The scene, though formal, was private. There was a little speech, then "pale" filled with a profound sense of the tremendous responsibility placed upon him by his fellow-citizens, when M. Challemeil addressed him, he wept and the two men embraced each other.

But tears are not thought unmanly under much less provocation. Heroes weep upon the stage in the most trivial circumstances, and, elsewhere than upon the stage, tears are merely accepted as an evidence of a proper sensibility of character.

Judged by the French standard, M. Casimir-Perier's tears meant no more than a warm pressure of the hand would have meant in this country.

HOLLAND AND BELGIUM UNITED.

Brussels, July 26.—The opinion in authoritative circles is that the visit of Queen Wilhelmina to King Albert and Queen Elizabeth of Belgium which began today will prove more than a simple act of courtesy. Belgium and Holland feel that the time has come for them to reach an agreement to act jointly in the event that international difficulties threaten the invasion of the two countries. The possibility of a European conflict is openly discussed. A great crowd cheered the Queen as with her consort, Prince Henry, she was driven to the palace.

NEW YORK & NEW HAVEN ROAD GIVES BOND.

Providence, R. I., July 26.—A decree was entered in the Superior Court to-day under the terms of which the Southern New England railway is to give a bond of $50,000 to the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad to indemnify it against any loss sustained by reason of an injunction which the Grand Trunk secured last week. The bond is to be filed on or before Aug. 5.

The injunction restrains the New Haven road from proceeding with the construction of its proposed freight houses at Woodsocket, which, the Grand Trunk claims, are for the purpose of blocking the new road's entry into this state. The injunction will be effective until Sept. 16, when a hearing will be given in the Superior Court to determine whether the land is necessary to the Grand Trunk or to the New Haven.

POPE SHOWS IMPROVEMENT.

Rome, July 26.—The Pope was better to-night, his temperature being nearly normal. The doctors, however, refused to set any date upon which he might resume his audiences.

INSTRUCTIONS TO CUSTOMS AGENTS

Issued by United States in Connection With the New Reciprocity Agreement.

Washington, July 26.—Instructions for the administration of so much of the law as is effective until the whole agreement is ratified by the Canadian Parliament were telegraphed to customs collectors along the Canadian border to-day.

The new regulations provide for proper identification of the imports to prove that they are of Canadian origin and the State Department has been asked to instruct consular officers in Canada to add their certificates to the declarations of the importers.

Until the Canadian Parliament ratifies the agreement, only section 2, which covers wood pulp, paper and paper board, will be effective. The regulations under the new law provide free entry to all such imports from private lands or from crown lands, provided no export tax has been levied. British Columbia, Ontario and Quebec impose export duties on wood. New Brunswick will do so after Oct. 1.

Congratulations upon the passage of the measure kept the White House telegraph wires busy all day. Messages came to the President from friends all over the world. Secretary of War Stimson and General Clarence R. Edwards, close friends of Mr. Taft, cabled their congratulations from Panama; Secretary of the Navy Meyer and former Secretary of the Interior R. A. Ballinger sent warm messages.

Andrew Carnegie sent the following message from Skibo Castle: "Cordial congratulations upon deserved success of your noble neighborly policy. Now for treaties; secure these, then rest. No other worlds to conquer."

From James J. Hill came the following message: "My warmest congratulations for your steadfast support of Canadian reciprocity. Its success will greatly benefit whole country without injury to any part."

One of the shortest messages was from J. C. Schmidlapp of Cincinnati, Ohio, a warm friend of the President, now in Europe. He cabled one word: "Shake."

COCAINE HABITGROWING IN MONTREAL.

Montreal, July 26.—The feature of the annual report of the superintendent of police for the year 1910, which has just been made public, is the letter dealing with the increasing use of cocaine in Montreal. Chief Campeau says in part:

"In submitting the annual report of the operations of the police department for the year 1910, I think it my duty to speak of the increasing use of cocaine which is spreading among the younger element of the city especially.

"Since July last, the police of Montreal have made over 150 arrests on charges of using or selling the drug. This number is alarming, and the attention of the authorities is drawn to this fact particularly.

"Offences are repeated in more than normal proportions, and this is due to the facility with which one can procure the poison and the brazenness of those who sell this pernicious product."

HARD WORDSFROM CHIEF SECRETARY.

Northampton, Eng., July 26.—Augustine Birrell, Chief Secretary for Ireland, making reference here tonight to the recent crying down of Premier Asquith in the House of Commons, said: "The language hurled at the Premier's head in the House of Commons would have disgraced a gambling hell or a thieves' kitchen. It was a cold-blooded, as well as an organized orgy of stupidity and ruffianism."

POLICE ATHLETESAT MONTREAL.

Montreal, July 26.—The work of the visiting athletes was the feature of the annual police games to-day. Holmes, Bowie and Adams of Toronto, and Coombes of Hamilton all figured in the results, showing up particularly well in the weights and middle distances.

Holmes was the first in the 16-pound hammer and second in the 56-pound event, and in the caber tossing. Bowie captured first honors in the 16-pound shotput, second in the broad jump, second in the running hop-step-and-jump and third in the hurdles, and third in the hammer throw. Adams won the quarter and took second in the 880 and 220, while Coombes won the half-mile and captured second place in the quarter. Gordons captured the five-mile team race.

CANADA RAISED TO PROVINCE

Important Change in the Redemptorist Order in the Dominion.

Montreal, July 26.—A change in the Redemptorist Order came into effect to-day whereby the Order in Canada, which had been a vice-province of Belgium, was raised to the dignity of a province of Canada. The Provincial is Father Lemieux, of Beau-pre.

The change means the taking over of three houses formerly under American jurisdiction—those at Toronto, Quebec, and St. John, N.B., and their union in one province with six Canadian houses, Montreal, Beaufort, Ottawa, Brandon, Hochelaga and Yorkton.

The change was made to-day on account of this being Ste. Anne's Day, the fete of the patron saint of Canada.

BAD SCALPS

What Parisian age Will Do.

A bad scalp is no credit to anyone, especially when it can be remedied by consistent use of Parisian Sage, the great scalp and hair tonic.

The cause of dandruff is a germ. Parisian Sage will kill these pests in a few days and thereby remove the cause of baldness.

Falling hair is caused by the dandruff germ. By killing these Parisian Sage at once restores vitality to the hair roots and commences a vigorous growth.

HURT BY FALL OF ROCK.

A workman on the line of the new Quebec and Saguenay Railway was brought to town yesterday by the Q. R., L. H. & P. Co. and taken to Jeffrey Hale's Hospital, having been badly hurt by a fall of rock at Cap Tourmente.

PARISIAN SAGE GROWS HAIR.

If the roots are not gone, Parisian Sage will grow hair and make it healthy and luxuriant. Stops itching scalp after one or two applications, in fact is guaranteed by Henry Willis to do this or your money back. Fifty cents a large bottle.

LIBERAL CAMPAIGN IN MONTREAL.

Montreal, July 26.—A Liberal campaign was launched here to-night at a meeting of the St. Louis Liberal Club. Mr. Robert Bickerdike, M. P., and Mr. Godfrey Langlois, M. P., were the chief speakers. A resolution was unanimously passed offering Mr. Bickerdike the federal nomination for the St. Lawrence division and it is understood that he will

CALL FOR A MONTREAL CLERGYMAN.

Montreal, July 26.—At a meeting of the Montreal Presbytery in Knox Presbyterian Church, the principle business dealt with was a call from Livingstone Church, Montreal, to the Rev. John Pate of Lancaster, Ont.

The Rev. W. R. Cruikshank, M. A., ex-moderator, was called to preside owing to the absence of the moderator, the Rev. Prof. Fraser.

The call from Livingstone Church in favor of the Rev. John Pate of Lancaster, Ont., was largely signed, and the congregation were stated to be very enthusiastic in their desire to secure Mr. Pate's services. The Presbytery sustained the call and ordered it to be transmitted to Mr. Pate. In view of his acceptance the following arrangements were made for the induction which will be held on Aug. 17: The Rev. W. R. Cruikshank to preside; the Rev. S. G. Brown of Hemmingford to preach; the Rev. A. G. Mackinnon of Lachine to address the minister, and Mr. Walter Paul of Montreal to address the people.

Belleville, Ont., July 26.—The body of Joseph Bouey, a young man who came here on Monday night on an excursion from Deseronto, was found this afternoon by a party who grappled for it in the vicinity of the wharf where he was supposed to have fallen into the bay. The body was sent to Deseronto for interment.

Halifax, July 26.—Wm. M. Sedgwick, of Middle Misquodoboit, inspector of licenses for Halifax, and one of the best known men in Nova Scotia, died suddenly to-night. He had gone upstairs to retire. Soon afterwards his family below, hearing the sound of something falling, went up and found Mr. Sedgwick dead on the floor. Mr. Sedgwick was one of the Conservative candidates in the Provincial elections of 1906 and was a brother of the late Justice Sedgwick of the Supreme Court of Canada. A son, Rev. W. H. Sedgwick, now in this Province, is Minister of a Presbyterian Church in Ontario.

POSTMEN WILL LOOK SWELL

Natty Shirts and Invisible Suspenders for the Summer Months of Heat.

If a nice-looking fellow with a natty shirt turns up at your door some morning shortly, do not be surprised. He may not be the Governor, and he may not be the King. But he may be an important man all the same. The Federal Government hat at last consented to recognize that there is such a species of population as postmen, and believing there was some "pap" for somebody in the proposition decided to spread itself. However, the shirt-waists have been found impossible, and it has finally fallen to the lot of a Toronto firm to clothe them. The Toronto Telegram gives a line on the new summer dress as follows:

In a local factory the shirts to be worn as part of the summer uniform of the letter carriers are being rushed through, and are expected to be delivered to-morrow.

Light blue in color, with turned down collars and brass buttons, the shirts will have a natty appearance. Invisible suspenders are to be worn.

Shirtwaists were refused consideration when it was found they would work up from the waist and bunch in an unsightly manner. Also the gathering string produced an uncomfortable feeling.

FRANCE AND SPAIN AGREE

Two Countries Come to an Understanding in Regard to European Difficulties.

Paris, July 26.—A closer understanding between France and Spain appears a probability, both countries being anxious to avoid difficulties growing out of clashes between the respective authorities in northern Morocco. Definite arrangements are likely to be published within a few days.

The Temps pointing out that the Germans seem to be astonished at the closeness and vicinity of French opinion, remarks that as usual the Germans are incapable of understanding that their proceedings are of offensive to France and directly harmful to the end they seek.

"Germany thought that the despatch of a warship to Agadir was all that was necessary to bring about the arrangement they had in mind," says the Temps. "By a singular error of psychology they are confounded in finding that they have spoiled everything."

The Journal des Debats considers the existing tension inevitable and says that it need cause no surprise. When the opposing points of view have been made to stand out clearly the situation will be easier.

"Germany asks as compensation," says the paper, "territory about equal to the whole of Morocco. If he makes a more reasonable claim France will be ready to listen."
