ET Liberals and PCs seek election alliance to upset area Socreds

Weekend meetings scheduled

Progressive Conservative supporters in Sherbrooke and Compton Frontenac are scheduled to nominate their candidates for the April 8 federal general election at conventions scheduled for the coming weekend.

The Sherbrooke convention will be held Sunday afternoon at a location not yet decided, while the Compton-Frontenac convention will be held at the Scottstown parish hall Saturday afternoon.

Decision to call the Sherbrooke convention was made last night following an announcement by Maurice Allard, former MP defeated in 1962, that he would not seek another term at Ottawa.

Mr. Allard made his statement to a delegation of party supporters which waited on him at his residence asking him to present himself again. Mr. Allard gave personal and business reasons for his refusal to accede to the request.

Most generally mentioned as the choice of the convention next Sunday is Wilfrid Caron, an East Sherbrooke market gardener long active in the party organization.

The probable candidate at the Compton-Frontenac convention is William Clifford, East Angus paper mill executive and defeated PC candidate in 1962.

Despite the fact that both Progressive Conservatives and Liberals are speeding up the nomination of candidates for the April 8 federal election, reports that the two older parties are seeking to form a common front in Eastern Townships ridings to dislodge Social Credit are gaining strength.

Reportedly unofficial negotiations to this end have been going on for two weeks. Generally the suggestions are that the PCs withdraw from the fight in the six ET constituencies held in the last House by Socreds in return for which the Liberals would give a free ride for the Conservatives in the two ridings — Stanstead and Brome-Missisquoi — they held last year.

Most older party organizers are agreed that the only hope for ousting the Socreds from the seats they won in 1962 is by some sort of an alliance between the major parties. But there the agreement ends.

One difficulty is that the Liberals have named their candidates in all ridings but Compton-Frontenac while the PCs have also nominated a number of standard-bearers. Those nominated are reluctant to withdraw from the race at this stage, even if their chances of election are slim.

THE CAMPAIGN TRAIL

Both parties ask for a working majority

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The Progressive Conservative and Liberal leaders appealed to the electorate Monday for an April 8 election result that would give their respective parties a majority in the House of Commons.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker, formally opening his personal national campaign in Winnipeg, called for return of a "clear majority of Conservative candidates in Ottawa—not a minority government to be throttled and strangled."

Lester Pearson said in Cooksville, Ont., the main issue is the creation of stable and responsible government and only the Liberals could form a stable majority government.

Social Credit Leader Robert Thompson predicted in Moncton, N.B., that there would be a continued minority government situation in the next Parliament, but declined to forecast how many seats his party would win.

Only party leader not actively campaigning Monday was New Democrat T. C. Douglas, who was in Ottawa. He was to fly to Toronto today for television work before resuming his trail on the hustings tonight at Guelph, Ont.

Also scheduled for Ontario appearances today were Prime Minister Diefenbaker—at Vineland near St. Catharines tonight—and Mr. Pearson—at Toronto and Port Hope. Mr. Thompson was to conclude a two-day Maritime trip with visits to Halifax and Fredericton.

At Winnipeg Monday, the prime minister told a crowd of 5,500 in the Civic Auditorium that his government would have introduced a budget giving new incentives to industry to provide new jobs if it had not been defeated in the House of Commons.

The government had intended to "relieve the (tax) burden where it is a drag on the economy." Businesses would have been given incentives to increase production, sales and research.

He blamed the Liberals for preventing the budget because they were afraid of it. Mr. Pearson said stable and responsible government meant "putting and keeping our financial affairs in order" and measures leading to a balanced budget and a better balance in Canada's international payments.

"This means that government expenditures not essential to economic growth must be kept to a minimum as long as we are in financial difficulties."

A Liberal government's program would be "an investment, not a handout" and designed to produce more activity, more production, more income, more revenue and more jobs.

Mr. Pearson also said that as prime minister he would be prepared to head Canadian delegations to the United Nations and the NATO Council in a continuing search for world peace.

Mr. Thompson told an informal luncheon in Moncton Social Credit would make only "a very small technical change" in the present financial system if elected "but it would make all the difference."

At Eastview, Ont., Deputy piro, a furrier.

Another problem is the inability of the party organizers to guarantee that the rank-and-file of the voters would go along with such an agreement. Liberals are fearful that the Tory supporters would remain away from the polls on election day in those ridings where the PC candidates withdrew. Similarly, the PCs believe the Liberals may be out-of-town when the polls are open in the other seats.

In an effort to strengthen an anti-Socred alliance it has been proposed, unofficially of course, that both parties support a slate of independent candidates. But here again, the question facing the politicians is: Which of the major parties would the independents support if they succeeded in getting elected?

Should either of the major parties secure a substantial majority in the next Parliament, the position of the independents might be of little concern, but in the event of a close race party leaders are fearful of what might happen should a minority government be forced to depend for its life on a group of independents.

They see little improvement in such a condition over that prevailing in the last House when the Diefenbaker administration was dependent upon Social Credit support.

But there are many factors that make the possibility of coalition candidates desirable to the older parties.

The first and foremost is that should there be even a minor decline in the vote given the Socreds next month there is a reasonable possibility that

Increased spending set for Nova Scotia

HALIFAX (CP) — Increased spending in almost every government department, including a $5,000,000 rise in education spending, was forecast in a tax increase-free budget presented in the Nova Scotia legislature Monday night by Finance and Economics Minister Smith.

A balance budget with record spending of $108,794,000 in the 1963-64 fiscal year was forecast—an increase of more than $8,000,000 over forecast spending for the current fiscal year.

Total government spending including sinking fund instalments of $3,000,000 is estimated to amount to $116,000,000, compared with revenue amounting to $115,000,000. To balance the books the government will take $1,000,000 from the hospital reserve fund and deposit it in general revenue.

Although no tax increase was included, there was a hint of things to come.

Mr. Smith said the province would take the full impact of additional assistance to municipal school boards in 1965, and it will "strain our resources to the utmost to meet this need."

The government has introduced legislation to provide increased grants to school boards. The cost to the government would be about $4,000,000 a year.

Mr. Smith said the $1,000,000 transferred to general revenue from the hospital reserve fund next year would absorb 25 per cent of the impact.

Mr. Smith's first budget since he became minister of finance and economics—a cabinet post created last year — contained good news for universities.

Bandits strike for $1,500 at gas station

GRANBY — (Staff) — Granby police Tuesday morning said they were "on the right track" and would probably apprehend by night fall the armed robbers who took $1,500 Monday morning for a Granby service station.

The robbery occurred at the station of Jean-Paul Brosseau on Frechette Street at 7:30 a.m., just after Mr. Brosseau had opened. He was about to count the money when it was stolen, police say.

Three men entered the station, one armed with a 32-calibre revolver and masked with a nylon stocking. Mr. Brosseau reported.

The armed man approached the owner in the office, while the other two held three employees at bay with clubs in the workshop.

While the armed man took the money from Mr. Brosseau, station employee Rejean Malo received a club blow to the back of the neck from one of the other robbers.

City seeks Lesage's aid to clear snow from river

By JAMES DAVIES
(Record staff reporter)

Sherbrooke city officials will seek the aid of Quebec Premier Jean Lesage in getting the army to clear the St. Francis River of the snow dumps that threaten the city with spring flooding.

Previous requests to army officials from the City of Sherbrooke have been ignored according to city services director Charles Langlois.

Council took the decision Monday night after being informed Monday by Mr. Langlois that Sherbrooke MPP Carrier Fortin had suggested the move after consultation with Army officials at Valcartier.

Council authorized Mr. Langlois Monday night to write to Premier Lesage asking him to put the request to the Army officials.

Mr. Fortin also informed the city officials that if the Army decided to come to the help of Sherbrooke the city would have to pay the complete costs of the operation in addition to being responsible for the lives of the men on the project.

City officials would give no estimate of the costs of such an operation, nor would they say when they expected a reply from provincial authorities.

Mr. Langlois said however that there may be no necessity for help if the weather continues as it is at present.

Mr. Langlois said that the huge mounds of snow heaped on the ice of the St. Francis River near the Joffre bridge are slowly melting and may present no flood danger after all.

He said that heavy precipitation over a period of one week or more could cause serious difficulty again.

City authorities decided to seek the help of the Army experts when they discovered that they could not dynamite a hole in the snowpile without risking the loss of the Aylmer bridge as a result of the onrush of material following the explosion.

The cause of the accumulation is the continual dumping of snow on the river throughout the winter by city employees.

Most of the city's snow is being dumped in the Magog River now, according to city officials.

The four Sherbrooke aldermen who spoke on the matter at council meeting unanimously favored consulting the army officials.

Alderman Gerard Berard said that since the operation would not be too expensive, and the advice sought was that of experts, that the city should proceed to get their help.

Since the city is responsible for flooding, said Ald. Everett Nicol all necessary precautions should be taken to prevent such an incident.

Alderman Antonio Pinard agreed, adding that he would not like to see a repeat of flooding that occurred in Brompton a few years ago.

Alderman Marcel Savard also approved the council decision.

GEORGES BIDAULT

Diplomacy storms predicted

LONDON (CP)—New diplomatic storms between Britain and France are predicted because the BBC Monday night broadcast a television interview with Georges Bidault, self-styled leader of underground forces opposing France's President de Gaulle.

After watching the five-minute taped interview, several members of Britain's opposition Labor party said they would demand a government explanation of how Bidault slipped into Britain.

At the same time Scotland Yard detectives, on orders from the home office, tried to determine whether Bidault, wanted in France on treason charges, still is in Britain.

Immediate reaction from Paris showed hurt surprise and some anger. A French foreign office statement said: "It is difficult to understand how the BBC can lend its support by giving publicity to a so-called political movement whose sole aim is the assassination of President de Gaulle."

Bidault, twice premier of France, sought at one point in the BBC interview to make an oblique comparison between his current fight and Winston Churchill's battle against the Nazis early in the Second World War.

When the 64-year-old exile was asked whether he really believes his "council of national resistance" can topple de Gaulle he replied, speaking in English for the only time in the interview: "I think our chance is better than the chance of Churchill in 1940."

Montreal and then sent home again, came out later.

A sheriff's officer issued a statement saying the hanging could not have come off in error.

"The sheriff always makes a final check with the attorney-general's office in Victoria and the justice department in Ottawa before carrying out an execution," the statement said. "The mistake would surely have come to light by then."

McMartin's family heard the same news report that shocked their son in his cell. They telephoned his lawyer, who phoned court officials.

Court Clerk James Hird was sent to Sheriff Frank Cotton's office with an official copy of McMartin's notice of appeal.

The hangingman was sent home. Nobody has been hanged at Oakalla since Leo Anthony Mantha, 32, of Montreal, died on the scaffold April 28, 1959, for the knife-slaying of Ordinary Seaman Aaron Jenkins, 23, of Codys, N.B.

Man is almost hanged by series of errors

VANCOUVER (CP) — Midnight has come and gone and so has the hangman.

And David James McMartin, 31, still lives in a cell just down the corridor from the elevator shaft at Oakalla Prison. The elevator room on the top floor is roofed over; a beam runs across the ceiling to support the rope.

It is the gallows.

In a bizarre succession of errors Monday, McMartin heard over a prison radio that he had an appointment in the elevator room to be hanged shortly after midnight for capital murder in the axe-slaying in Lillooet, B.C., last Oct. 11 of Mrs. Sally Bob, the woman with whom he had been living.

The report was a mistake. McMartin, convicted Dec. 2 still has an appeal to be heard, automatically in all capital murder convictions.

The full story of how the situation occurred, how a hangman was brought all the way from

Montreal and then sent home again, came out later.

A sheriff's officer issued a statement saying the hanging could not have come off in error.

Coal miners defy de Gaulle orders

PARIS (AP) — The bulk of France's 200,000 coal miners today defied President de Gaulle's orders to return to work and continued their strike for higher wages.

Reports from the government-owned mines and union officials said that between 90 and 95 per cent of the miners in the vast northern fields and in the Lorraine district in the east still refused to work.

The miners have been on strike since Friday. De Gaulle issued a decree during the weekend drafting them into government service and threatening them with fines or prison terms if they did not go back to the pits.

Monday 31,000 miners in Lorraine and others in southern mines rejected the back-to-work order and stayed out. Miners in the bigger northern fields, who have Mondays off, joined them today.

Charging that the draft order abridged the right to strike, many other unions scheduled sympathy strikes of 15 minutes or longer.

Electric power was cut off briefly in a large part of downtown Paris in mid-morning.

GET CHURCH SUPPORT

The Roman Catholic archbishop of Cambrai supported the strikers. Drafting workers will not solve the basic problem of inadequate wages, he wrote in a pastoral letter.

Six persons, including Alberta, are known dead, and one woman is missing.

De Gaulle's government so far has done nothing to enforce the back-to-work order.

The miners vowed to stay out until they got an 11-per-cent pay raise and a 40-hour week. They now earn $5.80 a day and work 46 hours. The government, which operates the nationalized coal mines, has offered a 5.7-per-cent increase spread over a year.

The government feared any yielding to the miners' demands would touch off demands for higher wages throughout France, and with it inflation.

Riot police were stationed throughout the coal-producing areas. They stayed on the sidelines during several local and orderly demonstrations by the strikers.

Under the normal draft procedure, the government's next step to get the strikers back to work would be to notify each personally by registered mail that he has been drafted to return to his job. Those who did not return then would be arrested and brought to trial.

Suspend mail

OTTAWA (CP) — All mail service to and from Finland is being temporarily suspended due to a strike of state employees in the Baltic country, the post office department announced Monday.

Mail addressed to Finland will not be accepted at local post offices for transmission to that country. The Finnish strike started Feb. 28.

us for the "pure fantasy." He explained the symbolism: The old man was the past, the astronaut was the future, the hotel was life, the desk clerk was death and so on.

It was not enough. The show opened on a long, long hotel corridor with a bride and groom in full regalia, the groom hunting frantically for the key to their room.

The whole hour was devoted to that hunt. Time and space were scrambled and telescoped. The bridegroom encountered a femme fatale who kept dropping senseless code notes. He went to play chess with an old man, and was shoved on to the lap of an old lady, who promptly turned to dust. He floated through space drinking tea with an astronaut. It was a real nightmare, without sequence or sense.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The

jet age has done more than make airports noisy. It has changed the habits of Hollywood stars, especially female. Recently this space has reported the visits of a number of one-time local residents, now living elsewhere.

There were grass widows Joan Fontaine and Ann Sothern, who prefer the bright lights and gaiety of New York; Olivia de Havilland, who chooses to live with her Parisian husband; Anne Baxter, who leads the pioneer life on the plains of Australia with her American husband. All return here to work, and, in Miss Baxter's case, to have babies.

Now we have Constance Towers, who commutes between Beverly Hills and Panama City. Another case of wifely devotion, since she is wed to Eugene McGrath, operator of a thriving insurance enterprise in Panama.

The tall, tawny singer-actress said she spends about five months of the year in Panama. The rest of the time she is playing in movies, stage musicals or supper clubs.

Right now she's doing a movie called The Long Corridor. It's a change of pace for her.

"Usually in films I have been the girl who stands on the porch and waves good-bye to the cavalry as they march off to battle."

This time she has the boys waving at her. She plays a strip teaser.

"A singing strip teaser," she adds. "She's kind of different. And it's certainly a different role for me. Fun, too."

To find the right method for her demanding role, she attended a local establishment called the Pink Pussycat.

"It was quite an education," she remarks. "One of the strip-teasers was called Georgia Raft; she stripped in a rocking chair. Another was Fran Sinatra; she did her work to Sinatra records like All the Way.

Ever Hear of a "DIURETIC"?

Maybe not. But you should know what a "diuretic" does. There may be times when you should use one. You likely understand how important the kidneys are in maintaining good health. Also that if the kidneys fail to function properly excess acids and waste material remain in the system. This may result in subsequent urinary irritation and bladder discomfort, often followed by backache, tired feeling and disturbed rest.

This is when the diuretic service of Dodd's Kidney Pills may be helpful. Dodd's act as a diuretic stimulant to help restore normal kidney action, and so relieve the systemic condition causing backache and tired feeling. When you are bothered by backache and tired feeling due to lazy kidney action you can depend on Dodd's Kidney Pills as many thousands have done during the past 70 years. Look for Dodd's at any drug counter.

Bishop's presents The Crucible

On March 7th, 8th and 9th the Dramatics Society of Bishop's University will present Arthur Miller's The Crucible under the direction of Arthur Motyer.

The Crucible, a stirring drama set in late seventeenth century Salem, Mass., concerns the accusation by seven young girls that Tituba, a West Indian slave of the local minister, had bewitched them. The play, centering around the panic resulting from the charge, draws a parallel between two periods of American hysteria, the Salem witch trials and the 'security trials' of social and political heretics conducted by Senator Joseph McCarthy in the earlier part of the last decade.

The Crucible is a drama of personal disaster and makes implicitly an eloquent case of the topic of intolerance spurred on to its evil ends by hysteria and that sense of conviction which attempts to destroy man's rights under the guise of decency and right-mindedness.

A number of the cast of last year's production, Shakespeare's The Winter's Tale, will be returning to the Bishop's stage.

Patricia Young who gave such a powerful portrayal of the shrewd-tongued Paulina in the Tale will play Abigail Williams and Mary Ann Carswell, the ill-fated queen, Hermione, will be Elizabeth Proctor. Jack Rose, the innocent Polixenes of Winter's Tale is cast as Judge Danforth.

The Crucible promises to be a most exciting play and an emotional experience not easily to be forgotten.

BISHOP'S PLAY — Patricia Young as Abigail Williams leads seven young girls in Arthur Miller's The Crucible in an accusation that Tituba, the West Indian slave of Rev. Samuel Parsonage played by Robert Lawrence, had bewitched them. The play will be presented March 7 to 9 at Bishop's University by the Dramatics Society.

Urges approval of fund for industry

To deprive the City of Sherbrooke of the industrial fund proposed by city officials would constitute an economic setback for the community Alderman Paul Gervais said Monday night.

Speaking at the regular meeting of the Sherbrooke city council, Mr. Gervais entreated property owners to vote in favor of the creation of the $4,000,000 industrial fund at the referendum March 6.

Fire victim's condition is critical

A 74-year-old Sherbrooke resident is in "critical condition" in the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital following a fire at his Hertel Street house late Sunday night.

According to hospital officials Ernest Joncas of 2583 Hertel Street is suffering from burns to the face, nose, back and feet and is in critical condition.

Officials feared that the patient's age would complicate matters.

Mr. Joncas was taken to the hospital after being rescued from his home that was completely destroyed by a fire which according to Sherbrooke fire department officials started from a short circuit.

There were no other occupants of the house according to fire department officials who fought the blaze for 3 1/2 hours before extinguishing it.

There should be no fear on the part of the property owners that the fund will be misused, he said.

The City of Sherbrooke has an exceptionally good record on industrial loans, he said, and noted that it had operated with more efficiency than the Industrial Development Bank. There is no reason why the fund should not be maintained, he added.

Each individual loan is seriously studied by the industrial consulting committee and the council before being sent to Quebec for approval he said, and these precautions have proved ample.

Furthermore, any proposed loans are still subject to the scrutiny of three provincial bodies: the Quebec municipal commission, the municipal affairs department and the Quebec trade and commerce department, he added.

The industrial fund money will be used solely for the purpose on promoting industrial prosperity in the city, he said, and not for any other purposes such as bridges and paving jobs.

He assured the council that all money loaned, including the interest and financing costs are repaid to the city in full by the borrower.

"It would be humiliating for a city the size of Sherbrooke to be left without an industrial fund" he concluded.

Lennoxville wants reservoir tests

Lennoxville nice little town but main street is unsightly

"Lennoxville is a nice little town, but its main street is nothing to boast about," Alderman Frank Taylor observed Monday night during the Lennoxville council's consideration of a Main Street lot owner's application for a permit to pave.

B. Cohen Co. had written to the town saying it might turn its lot, now occupied by a taxi stand, into a parking business.

Councillors gave Ald. Taylor, in Ald. Sims' words, "no argument on that," and voted to withhold the permit till the Cohen firm submitted a plan of intentions for the lot.

"I've driven through town before I lived here and thought it looked a bit of a dump. Anything we do should enhance the street," Ald. Taylor said.

"Signs, for example, are ugly," Alderman Charles Lewis, police committee chairman, reported to council Monday that he had mailed letters to all ambulance companies operating in Lennoxville stating council's wish that ambulances be governed by normal traffic laws.

Canadian postal authorities want a map of Lennoxville, council was informed in a letter read to it Monday.

Mayor Mitchell took the occasion to urge councillors to think of finding $3,700 in the town budget for the making of a contour map by use of aerial photography. "We'll have to scratch somewhere," noted Ald. Constant Chailier.

Snow was plaguing at least two branches of Lennoxville's administration.

Police Committee Chairman Lewis reported having to have fire hydrants cleared of snow four times in February, and Mayor Mitchell said tests could not be made on the new town reservoir until its valve fittings were clear of snow.

The rock in which the reservoir was built proved harder than engineers expected. This explanation was given by Secretary Ken Herring for the cost of earth fill surpassing the estimate. More fill was needed because the reservoir could not be placed as deep as expected in the rock.

Council instructed its engineers to apply to Quebec for the grant that it is entitled to for its reservoir because of the fire safety use of the reservoir.

The Town of Lennoxville has removed 600 large elms which were declared dangerous, Mayor Mitchell reported to council Monday. Property-owners are advised if their trees are dangerous, and if they do not remove them within a time limit, the town does, he said.

Lennoxville town council Monday night refused to pay immediately a $3,163.50 bill from the contractor who is building a 250,000-gallon reservoir for the town.

The bill from Dorilas Grenier had been approved by the town's engineers, but council felt they did not have enough protection if the reservoir proved leaky.

Their contract with Grenier allows them to hold back 10 per cent of the payment on the $22,815 job during a one-year guarantee period.

But council decided Monday it didn't have to pay any bills until the reservoir had undergone water-tightness tests a month from now.

The contract with Grenier specifies that the contractor will fill the tank to its high-water level on completion, and no leaks must appear within 24 hours. Nor must the water have dropped more than a half inch.

Quoting the contract, Mayor Archie Mitchell said the contractor was responsible for faults in the reservoir within its first year of use, and had to make repairs if they were needed. If he did not, they would be paid out of the 10 per cent hold-back.

"The question is, would the 10 per cent be enough?" the mayor said.

Good education needs good teachers

The great teaching crisis that faced our primary and secondary school systems in Canada is no longer as serious as it was. Now, it is the turn of the universities.

But at the school level, there is developing a new kind of crisis that is not so much concerned with the quantity of teachers as with their quality. Education today is a far more complex business for the student than it used to be. Children coming to their parents with homework these days are finding that Mom or Dad just isn't up to today's curriculums. High school students in some experimental schools are doing university mathematics and not finding it beyond their capabilities. Recently, university science lectures were given to Grade Five children who surprised the lecturer by understanding a great deal if not the details of what he said.

Obviously, what our schools need now are not simply more teachers, but better teachers.

This week, throughout the Eastern Townships and the rest of Canada, Education Week is being observed. It is marked by a variety of school projects — career conferences, open house events and tours of one kind or another. The theme this year is "How about teaching? See how it's done." The idea is to arouse more public interest in teaching and so encourage more young people to take up the profession.

The official literature being put out concerning Education Week has made much about the need for more teachers, but not too much is said about their quality.

It is an unfortunate oversight. Teachers will be the first to admit that their ranks contain too many people who are not worth the salaries they are being paid, who do more harm than good, and who do not belong in a classroom. All professions contain misfits, of course, but in the teaching profession, it is particularly important that these misfits be weeded out as much as possible.

This process is one that appears to be beginning now. It needs to be pursued with speed and diligence. It needs, too, public support, because good teachers must be properly paid. Insofar as the teaching profession is prepared to police itself, the public should be prepared to pay the price. It is a small one compared to the benefits received.

Motorists distracted by billboards

Billboards along highways have long been blamed for distracting motorists and being the indirect cause of accidents.

A consulting firm, in a study of New York State's 559 mile Thruway, has concluded that there are more accidents in areas along the speed-way where there are signs and other advertising devices. Their findings were based on an investigation of accident reports for 1961 and 1962.

A few years ago, Quebec ordered that billboards be removed from its property along roads because they detracted from the beauty of the countryside. In doing so, the province was also performing a valuable service to motorists as the New York report indicates.

It is time, however, for private individuals to do their share. There is no doubt that some signs are necessary, but more taste should be exercised as to their size and their design. Huge, garishly-colored sign boards with a variety of blinking lights may be a delight to a motel owner or a restaurant keeper but rather than help to guide an auto driver to a place of enjoyment it could lead him to his death.

The motorist must be constantly on the alert to cope with driving conditions along the highway without having his attention drawn to the side of the road.

London-to-Brighton tramp resumed

The craze for the fifty-mile hike which, sponsored by Attorney General Robert Kennedy, is now sweeping the United States recalls one of the great annual events in England at the turn of the century. This was the annual London-to-Brighton walk, a distance of fifty miles.

Parties of walkers, amateur and professional, would gather at the Houses of Parliament. When Big Ben struck the hour of midnight, the hikers would start off, their goal being a clock tower in front of the English Channel resort. Generally only about one third the group arrived at their destination, the rest finding sanctuary at hotels and inns along the way.

The interference of two wars and the introduction of the automobile caused the disappearance of this great British tradition. But there are indications that the event may be revived.

Two weeks ago, nearly two thousand Britons of all classes, of varying ages and including a number of women, set out from Big Ben. Of this number 299 reached their destination within the twenty-hour limit imposed by Attorney-General Kennedy for the U.S. Marines' walk.

Few of the walkers had any special training, being ordinary persons out to walk for walking's sake.

Drug patenting and high prices

The Restrictive Trade Practices Commission took five years to bring forth its report on the pharmaceutical drug industry.

The length of time tells much about the difficulty of this whole subject — as well as something about the care of the commission.

The commission, like everyone else, would like to see lower drug prices in Canada. Nothing is more annoying than to learn that the same drug sells at much lower prices in the United States or in Europe. The high cost of drugs can mean real financial hardship for many persons — or suffering.

The commission says that abolishing patents is the most effective way to lower prices, a contention that must yet be proved.

But let us not hear any more doctrinaire arguments from the drug companies on the glories of free enterprise in rebuttal to this far-reaching recommendation. There are curbs to free enterprise on every side because some things are more important than this abstraction. Indeed, a patent which gives an inventor a monopoly on his invention is itself a restriction on the enterprise of another to duplicate it.

Free enterprise and the profit motive has undoubtedly spurred the development of many of the new drugs. Yet free enterprise may also be wasteful. No more expensive way of distributing new drugs — many of which aren't really "new" at all — could be devised than the present method. The cost of distribution now greatly exceeds the amount being spent on research in this country.

The drug companies have much stronger arguments for insisting that patents are a necessary protection for genuine inventions. They can point out that the great discovery of drug research in Canada, insulin, was patented. Many feel that patent control also gave control over the quality of the drug. Nothing could be more dangerous than to throw away any means of quality control, especially in the early stages of a new product.

The drug companies can also say that research would suffer if patent protection was taken away. What initiative, they would argue, would there be for a company to spend millions of dollars developing a drug if it could be immediately produced by a company which had spent nothing?

But the best way for the companies to make that argument convincing will be to spend more in Canada on research than they are now. With one or two conspicuous exceptions, Canadian companies are doing precious little research.

There is a better way for the drug companies to answer the Restrictive Trade Commission — which was far from being unfavourable towards the drug industry — than to hide behind the facade of free enterprise.

AGED STEAMER GOES
LONDON (CP) — Consul, Britain's oldest paddle steamer, is being withdrawn from service. Built in 1896, the vessel has been making south coast pleasure trips for more than 50 years and was a patrol boat in the Second World War. The Paddle Steamer Preservation Society hopes to save Consul from the scrapyard.

Social Credit saved Alberta in 30's

Dear Sir

In reply to a letter in your paper of Feb. 26 signed Reader, I assume this writer is not in favor of the Social Credit government. It seems Reader is greatly in the minority, as the last provincial election (in Alberta) showed 61 seats out of 63 after 25 years of their governing.

Reader mentioned the bonds that come due immediately after the Social Credit party came in power, and there was no money in the treasury to meet the payment of the bonds. They applied for a loan from the federal government which was headed by Mr. MacKenzie King, premier of Canada. They were refused any loan. They then tried the Bank of Canada and were likewise refused. They were asked to throw up their hands, they refused to give up and promised to pay in full as soon as they could save enough money to do so, and they did just that. And they passed a law to protect the poor property holder from being put out of his home in such a depression as we had at that time.

Before the Social Credit government was elected in 1935, there were hundreds of ers who are now able to carry on. I lived in Alberta from 1913 until 1936. And I had my share of hardships. I sold pigs weighing 200 pounds for 24 cents per pound and sold young cows with calves along side of them for $10 a pair at an auction sale in 1935.

Reader says Aberhart was a spellbinder after the fashion of Caouette. I think Mr. Aberhart has been dead about 30 years. And if Mr. Caouette is in the same class as William Aberhart, that got Alberta out of the misery she was in for so many years, and if Caouette can do the same for Quebec, we should give him a chance. As the two old parties have had it since Confederation and don't seem to be able to improve conditions, I feel it is time for a change.

Eurocrats of Brussels — 2

Headquarters staff enthusiasm slowly being killed by overwork

By TOM A. CULLEN

There is talk of discreet efforts being made to marry off Hallstein, so that he will let up on the Eurocrats.

The Eurocrats are also underpaid. Most could earn much more in private industry than they are paid in Brussels, where their social security benefits are also minimal.

Critics find it hard to reconcile the penny-pinching stinginess of the E.E.C. with its wealth as an economic unit. It leads the United States in imports and its gold and dollar reserves are almost equal to those of America. Yet Hallstein's Commission slashed some 200 technical posts from this year's budget.

"It is like powering a Rolls Royce with a bubble-car engine and then expecting it to break speed records," was Eurocrat's complaint.

Despite these cheese-paring economies there is no lack of eager young recruits who are willing to work for less money to help build the New Europe. The European ideal is one that attracts young executive types, determined to break down the political and economic barriers which have led Europe from one war to another.

Gerald Waring REPORTING

OTTAWA — An election is the basic manifestation of the democratic process, and deeper than my professional cynicism of politicians and political machines is my awesome respect for our democratic system.

Any citizens of 21 years or more, saving those confined to institutions, may offer for election to the Commons.

Any citizen so elected may then become prime minister and rule the nation if half of his fellow Commonsers accept him as their leader.

Stripped to bare essentials, that is our system of democracy. The huge super-structure of party organizations and activities the clean postulates of our democracy like a benign tumor. It grew partly to make the system work better, for it is inconceivable that democracy of Athenian simplicity could function in our complex society. And it grew partly to facilitate the selection and election of able and ambitious leaders.

But it is worth while, I think, to stop in the heat of the political fray and reflect on the basic purpose of the election. It is to pick the best and women from among those who offer to serve their fellows in Parliament. Nothing more.

By nomination day, March 25, about 1,000 persons will have filed nomination papers and paid a $200. deposit, thereby becoming candidates for election on April 8.

The great majority will be motivated by a desire, perhaps not wholly altruistic, to serve their country in the Commons. And whatever their political beliefs, whatever their abilities, these persons I honor.

There will also be others who seek office or permit themselves to be nominated for less worthy reasons. Those who seek in the Commons for the money involved, I feel sorry for. If elected, they are likely to be overpaid even on an MP's inadequate $10,000. a year. Those who seek parliamentary seats for reasons of egotism and social prestige merit scorn. And those who are standing for purely partisan political purposes, accepting the certainty of defeat simply to enable their party to field a full or a nearly full slate of candidates, or to split the vote for partisan advantage, deserve no sympathy. They only delude the voters and compound confusion.

But despite partisan machinations and distortions, the system works well because of two strengths.

One is the solid common sense of the 10 million voters eligible to cast ballots on April 8. Lincoln's epigram still holds good: You can fool all of the people some of the time, and some of the people all the time, but you can't fool all the people all the time.

The other is the almost Darwinian political law of natural selection and survival of the fittest. Ballots have no compassion — nor should they have.

But how about June 18? you may ask. Surely the system failed then.

Not at all. Our MPs failed to cope with the practical problems posed by the unusual circumstance of no party having a Commons majority. Now they are being judged by their masters. Barring the slight inconvenience of a second election within a year, the system is working well to the end that those who failed shall be cast out, and replaced by others.

These others too may fail. The system cannot create human infallibility; it can only winnow the candidates for those best fitted to serve in Parliament.

Sherbrooke treasurer appointed to new post

Olivier Routhier, city treasurer, has been appointed to the newly-created municipal consulting committee of the provincial government.

OLIVIER ROUTHIER

The appointment was made by the Minister of the Department of Municipal Affairs, Pierre Laporte and announced to Mr. Routhier February 28.

As a member of the body, Mr. Routhier will be one of six appointees from the province to advise the Minister Laporte on problems pertaining to municipal affairs.

As the representative of the Municipal Finance and Administration Officers' Association on the committee, Mr. Routhier will be expected to "counsel the minister and to express his opinion to him on the questions or problems submitted by him."

The Sherbrooke city treasurer immediate past president of the M.F.A.O.A., will serve for a period of two years and expects to attend the first meeting of the body at the end of March.

EASTMAN —

Miss Beulah Galvin, on Feb. 24, visited her father, Mr. Andrew Galvin, at the Sherbrooke Hospital, where he is a patient.

Mr. O. C. Bowen was in Magog on Monday, Feb. 25, called there by the sudden death of his brother-in-law, Mr. Lester Stewart.

MOSCOW (AP) — Four more men have been sentenced to death for defrauding the Soviet government.

Pravda, the Soviet party newspaper, reports the four were leaders of a ring in Azerbaijan that made hundreds of thousands of rubles in illegal dealings in rags and waste paper.

Seventeen other members of the ring were sentenced to prison terms.

TORONTO (CP) — Movies—the ones that aren't on television—appear to be staging a comeback in Canada.

A survey of theatre operators in seven major cities shows box-office income is increasing steadily. The credit is being given to high-quality, first-run movies in many cases and to the growing popularity of European and so-called "art" films.

NEW YORK (CP)—A long-awaited international narcotics smuggling trial came to an abrupt end two hours after the selection of a jury Monday when the four defendants suddenly changed their plea to guilty.

The four—John Papalia, 39, of Hamilton, Ont., and Frank Caruso, 51, Vincent Mauro, 46, and Salvatore Maneri, 49, all of New York—will be sentenced March 11.

Caruso, who has a previous narcotics conviction, could draw a term from 10 to 40 years, while the other three could draw terms from five to 20 years.

WINNIPEG (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker has asked for a clear Progressive Conservative majority in the April 8 federal election to carry out a made-in-Canada foreign affairs, defence and domestic development program.

It includes rejection of nuclear arms on Canadian soil in peacetime, continued striving for disarmament, tax incentives to provide more jobs through increased industrial expansion, job retraining to meet the effects of automation, vast urban redevelopment and a "proud, vibrant and free" Canadian nationality.

PARIS — Three men were locked in Fresnes Prison south of Paris today in cells bearing special red markings. The markings show the three have been condemned to death. Their crime was participation in the attempted machine-gun assassination of President de Gaulle last Aug. 22.

A military court condemned them Monday night, together with three other men sentenced in their absence. There is no appeal from the court's verdict.

The court ordered prison sentences for eight other men—ranging from life at hard labor to three years—after a five-week trial. There were no acquittals.

Churchill out LONDON (Reuters) — Sir Winston Churchill, now in his 89th year, Monday enjoyed his first "country" outing since the start of Britain's big winter freeze-up. Lured by the sudden change to brighter and milder weather, Churchill set out by car from his London home on a drive to Richmond — famous beauty spot near the capital. Churchill has been out of doors only occasionally since his fall at Monte Carlo last summer when he fractured a thighbone.

a candidate supported by both older parties could regain the six seats lost last year.

Another is finance. Both Liberals and Conservatives indicate that campaign funds will be meagre this year. The central treasuries were emptied in the 1962 campaign and there has been little opportunity for rebuilding the kitties. And any money that might be raised at the local level is far from sufficient to finance a campaign.

If the parties could prevent duplication of expenditures and could concentrate their available funds on a smaller number of ridings, their position would be improved materially.

And cash is essential for the older parties whose supporters do not have the enthusiasm of a new cause enjoyed by the Socreds and to some extent by the NDP.

As one veteran campaigner outlined it the situation is this: "These Socreds will work for nothing, will pay their individual expenses, will attend meetings and at the end of the rally will dish out one, two or five dollars to meet unavoidable expenses."

"If the traditional parties want work done they must pay for everything they get." Exactly where the fusion movement started is hard to determine, but many attribute it to provincial political organizations.

Both the Provincial Liberals and the Union Nationale are disturbed over the strong influence of Social Credit federally in this province. They believe that should the Socreds hold their own or register gains in the April voting, they may decide that the time has come for them to branch into the provincial field.

Obviously any setback for the Caouette forces next month would ease this danger, forcing the Socreds to limit their activities to federal politics if they wish to continue in business.

Despite the obvious difficulties in the way of effecting such a Liberal-Conservative alliance, sponsors of the plan are still convinced that there are strong possibilities it may come to fruition. However, the results of their efforts may not be known until nomination day, March 25.

Or, if you prefer, you can have a quiet chat with one of our salesmen. Either way you'll get the same information: the VW is built to take a beating. No rattles, no loose parts, nothing but solid car. (To make sure every Volkswagen is perfect, our factory employs 5,000 inspectors.)

But don't take our word for it. Take the VW for a ride and be your own inspector.

Try shutting the door with the window closed. It won't be easy because the Volkswagen is practically airtight. Try it again with the window open. You'll hear the solid sound of a car that's built to last.

Look under the dashboard and inside the door jamb. You'll find the same amount of paint we put on the outside: 4 coats. (We have to be ready for anything. Volkswagens are sold around the world and driven in every climate.)

Be our guest. Come in and kick it around.

Polly's pointers

by Polly Cramer

DEAR POLLY—Before hanging up wet blankets, string cardboard tubes (from paper towels, waxed paper, etc.) on your clothesline. Hang the blankets over them to prevent a line mark on the dried blanket.—MRS. W. G. S.

DEAR POLLY—I have so enjoyed and benefited from your column I would like the pleasure of being a donor as well as a recipient. I do lots of knitting and find that hand-made articles are usually outgrown or out of style before the yarn shows any sign of wear. Many people are unaware that yarn can be restored. To reuse wool from an old article (hand-made only) rip the garment and wind the yarn loosely into balls. Wind it around stiff cardboard cut to about 8 by 18 inches. Tie the skein at each end with a length of yarn and then slip off the cardboard. Wash the skeins as you would a sweater. Place them on a flat surface to dry. Do not hang up.—A. Y. C.

GIRLS—AND A. Y. C.—Your spirit of sharing is heart-warming. Let us all make a bow to each other for the many helpful hints which make this OUR column.—POLLY.

Share your favorite home-making ideas . . . send them to Polly in care of Sherbrooke Daily Record. You'll receive a bright, new silver-dollar if Polly uses your ideas in Polly's Pointers.

For and about Women

Ruth Millett

Bored? Try listening

"What is the most boring thing that happens to you?"

When a number of older men and women were asked this question, 70 per cent blamed their most boring interludes on others: visitors who stay too long, people who are forever talking about their grandchildren, people who talk interminably about their ailments, people who "know it all" and people who just plain talk too much.

If listening to others talk is the most boring thing that happens to an older person, it could be that the older person has lost his willingness to listen and wants to do most of the talking himself.

So, if you are in the old age group, it might be a good idea to check yourself now and then when you are in company to find out if you have quit trying to be a good listener.

How about it?

When you meet a new acquaintance, are you interested in finding out all about him? Or do you want only to tell him all about you?

When a friend has troubles are you willing to listen sympathetically while he unburdens himself? Or do you jump in and try to change the subject to keep yourself from being depressed?

When you are in a group of persons younger than you, do you listen attentively and with obvious interest to what others say? Or, do you just wait impatiently for a chance to interrupt and have your say?

When someone differs with you about a statement you make, do you resent anyone's daring to suggest you might be wrong? Or, do you look on it as an opportunity for a lively discussion?

If others cause your most boring moments, it could be that you are losing your interest in others and centering it all on yourself.

BRIAN JAMES, 1 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Kelsie of Lennoxville and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kelsie and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Davidson of Inverness.

Maple Copse I.O.D.E.

Mrs. J. E. Perry elected regent at annual meeting

At the annual meeting of Maple Copse Chapter, I.O.D.E., officers for 1963 were elected as follows: Regent, Mrs. J. E. Perry; 1st vice-regent, Mrs. C. G. Skinner; 2nd vice-regent, Mrs. Henry Snow; secretary, Miss E. F. Molony; treasurer, Mrs. Darcy Bennett; Educational secretary, Mrs. A. W. Preston; "Echoes" secretary, Mrs. M. O. Knutson; Services secretary, Mrs. R. C. McFadden; Standard Bearer, Mrs. G. M. Herring.

With the retiring regent, Mrs. Austin Scott, in the chair reports for 1962 were presented, showing a satisfactory year's work. The secretary reported a membership of 29, 3 of whom were life members, a life membership having been presented to Mrs. C. G. Skinner on her resignation as chapter treasurer. Two members of long standing had resigned for health reasons, Mrs. R. H. Fletcher who joined in 1930 and Mrs. E. L. Seale, in 1933. Both had served the Chapter long and loyally and they were greatly missed.

Nine meetings were held with an average attendance of 14. The Chapter was represented at the Remembrance Day ceremony and a wreath was laid at the cenotaph. Members attended both the Provincial annual and semi-annual meetings and the Chapter vote was carried to the National annual in Charlottetown by the Provincial president, Mrs. Donald Macrae. The regent had attended the reception in Montreal for the National president, Mrs. Peter L. Robinson, on Founder's Day, February 13, 1962, and at the annual meeting in April Mrs. Scott was re-elected as a provincial councillor.

The chapter was indebted to the United Church for the use of the Douglas Hall, to the Sherbrooke Daily Record for so regularly publishing monthly notes, and to Mr. H. C. Snow for acting as auditor.

Closing her report, the secretary paid a warm tribute to the retiring Regent who had done so much for the Chapter in her 20 years of membership, during which time she had served two terms as regent as well as filling other offices wherever her help was most needed.

The treasurer, Mrs. Darcy Bennett, presented the financial statement showing receipts of $541. Contributions were made to the Students' Educational loan fund, the Peace Garden, the Korean Fund, Overseas Relief and shipping funds, "Canadian Scene" and the MacLennan Travelling Libraries.

Mrs. A. W. Preston, Educational secretary, reported prizes and calendars given the Lennoxville school as well as a 5th library table for a junior grade, the Marthe L. Stewart memorial bursary awarded to Lynn Ross, and a pupil from Grade XI sent to the United Nations Seminary at St. Anne de Bellevue.

"Echoes" secretary, Miss M. O. Knutson, noted that the Chapter was 100% subscribing to the Order's magazine and gave one gift subscription.

Mrs. R. C. McFadden, Services secretary, with her assistants, Mrs. George Sutherland and Miss Florence Wark, had sent 116 articles to headquarters, collected 50 Christmas gifts for the Verdun Hospital, shipped over 200 paper-back books to Canadian troops in Germany, supplied cigarettes and candy to local veterans and milk to a needy family. Following an annual custom, a Christmas parcel had been sent to an old couple in England.

Programs were arranged for by Miss Grace Stevens, World Affairs convener, at 6 meetings, while members, under Miss F. Wark, convener, provided refreshments each month. "Tea money" made possible gifts of flowers to absent members and Mrs. R. C. McFadden sent cards of sympathy to the sick and the bereaved.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS Following the reports, the election of officers took place and the newly elected regent conducted a short business meeting at which the regular monthly happenings were reviewed.

The treasurer's funds had been increased by proceeds from the current marathon and the Founder's Day luncheon; the Services secretary reported a further 30 articles of knitting received and another parcel of books sent to Germany.

Mrs. McFadden made grateful reference to non-members who helped with knitting, Mrs. E. L. Atto, Miss Grace Rothera, Mrs. R. A. Pariseau and Mrs. Savage.

Nominations for National and Provincial Councillors were voted on: Mrs. R. H. Gibb, Mrs. Austin Scott and Mrs. Cecil Skinner being named.

Youth agencies criticized by social worker

TORONTO (CP)—Canadian recreational youth agencies are described as "sterile, unimaginative and antisocial" by social worker John Farina.

"Our young people enjoy winter activities, yet we put them in swimming pools and gyms instead of outdoors."

Mr. Farina told the National Council of Jewish Women: "Any child at all creative is considered abnormal. If all the key chains Canadian children made in arts and craft classes were piled up, we'd be the first country to get to the moon."

"There is little room for the nonconformist in our society. Programs today prepare youth for an idealized life . . . the sort their parents want for them. We must make room for honest rebellion in our young people."

Mr. Farina, staff member of the University of Toronto School of Social Work, was speaking on how the community attempts to meet the needs of youth in its agencies.

Rock Island Jets meet Richmond at Border Arena tomorrow with second tilt in Richmond Friday

The final series of the St. Francis Intermediate "C" Hockey League which gets underway Wednesday night at the Border Arena promises to be a real thriller. This year's opponents, Rock Island Jets and the Richmond Braves, tangle for the second consecutive year.

The teams have met eight times during the regular season and broke even in the win-loss department. If the season's play is to be an indicator, then the home ice will be an important factor in the finals.

The Rock Island Jets picked up 3 of their 4 victories in the regular schedule while the Richmond Braves repeated the feat by coping 3 of their 4 encounters with the Jets. However the Jets have slightly edged the Braves in the goal scoring department bagging a total of 33 against the Braves' 26.

Both clubs are confident of victory and especially the Rock Islanders, who are fresh from a stunning upset victory over the Magog Aces in their section of the semi final series. Down three games to one, the Jets rallied to sweep the last four encounters and gain entry into the finals.

In the other division of the semifinals the Richmond Braves disposed of the Windsor Paper Makers in four straight games enabling them to have somewhat of a rest period before the opening of the finals.

The inevitable question arises did the lapse of time help the Richmond team or will they be rusty as a result of inaction? This question among others will be answered Wednesday night at the Border Arena in Rock Island. The series shifts to Richmond on Friday and back to Rock Island on Sunday.

Wayne Cook paces Bury to 51-47 win over Bishop's Seconds in ETABA series, one game tonight

Bury posted a close 51-47 decision over Bishop's Seconds over the weekend in the first game of the two-game total-point semi-final series between the two ETABA squads.

One game is slated tonight when Molson's Independents take on Lennoxville Grads in the second tilt of their semi-final series at the LHS gymnasium.

Bury and Bishop's Seconds clash Wednesday night in their second fixture at Lennoxville High, game time 8:15, and Bishop's must win the game by at least four points if they want to keep their playoff hopes alive.

Wayne Cook paced the victorious Bury team to their close win with 14 points to his credit. Bury came out of the first frame of the tilt with a seven-point lead, outscoring their hosts 27-20 however, in the final half, the Seconds came through with better basketball to outpoint the Bury squad 27-24.

Darcy Harrison was close behind leading scorer Wayne Cook for Bury with 11 points while Jimmy Barter followed up with 10.

For the Seconds, Ken Taylor, a freshman who played for Asbestos - Danville - Shipton last year, set the pace with 14 points with Mike Leveque and B. Aitkin getting 12 each.

Bury: W. Cook (14), D. Harrison (11), J. Barter (10), B. Aitkin (12), J. Head (6), G. Livingstone (3), D. Stockwell, J. Piper, A. Haller, S. Butler, Total - 47.

Enjoy Skiing

By ANNE HEGGTVET

Once again another ski season is slipping quickly away. There are a few lucky people who will undoubtedly head for New Zealand, South America and other exotic places but most of us will endure the summer trying to believe that water-skiing is almost like snow-skiing.

Others, like myself, having given tennis a whirl, tried sailing and there we found a certain kinship to winter skiing!

Befitting a final discussion on skiing (which this is), we should run through the "putting away" of our favorite "boards." Earlier this winter, Lois Baron, of Montreal, asked how to care for her ski equipment before the season starts. It is best to do all the work now and then next fall little or no work is required.

CLEAN BASE
First of all, clean the base of your skis with fine steel wool, removing any wax, gift or grease. Chips or gouges can be easily repaired with the correct type of plastic. (Your ski shops can help you.)

Touch up chips on the tops of the skis with lacquer or plastic. The topsides of metal skis can be lightly sanded then varnished to look like new.

To prevent rust from forming on the steel edges, coat them with paraffin or cover with tape. A block can be put between the skis for storing but it should be just the size of the actual camber of the skis.

The safety bindings should be dismantled and greased before next season, and don't forget to wax your ski boots and place in a boot press. That's it! Thank you for your questions. I hope this column has been of some help to you. If you run into any spring skiing problems, please write me care of this newspaper. Until next year, Ski Heil!

END OF SERIES

REMEMBER WHEN . . .

Saskatchewan's Ernie Richardson rink from Regina won the Canadian curling championship at Quebec four years ago today.

Beavers at home tonight to Granby Vics

Clash in second game of finals, Dube crew holds a game lead, both clubs will be at full strength

Sherbrooke Beavers will be at home this evening to the Granby Vics in the second game of the finals of the Eastern Provincial Hockey League. The Beavers hold a one game lead in the best-of-seven affair having posted a close 2-1 victory over the Vics Sunday in Granby.

Following tonight's game the teams will return to Granby Thursday evening in the third fixture and back in Sherbrooke next Sunday. This is a game affair and the team emerging with the first four victories will be declared the champions.

If the teams are tied after sixty minutes of regular play they will immediately swing into a ten-minute overtime period and after that if they are still deadlocked they will rest ten minutes before resuming the sudden-death overtime. First goal to decide the issue.

If Sunday was any indication then the fans can expect a close checking battle. Both clubs played it very close Sunday waiting for the breaks and tonight's tilt should be another similar affair.

In the semi-finals the Vics dropped both their games in Sherbrooke. They went down to a 7-5 loss in the first while in the second they dropped it 5-3. The first game the Vics just couldn't get untracked but no doubt Coach Bedard will have his charges going all out to even the series with a victory.

In Granby the Beavers, in the semi-finals, dropped both their games but pulled a surprise by coping the first game Sunday. The Vics were favored since they were playing on their home ice but now they will have to come up with a terrific performance tonight in order to even the series.

The Vics possess plenty of experience and are well balanced. No club can relax at any time and foolish penalties will prove costly as with the man advantage each club can connect as they have the players who can capitalize on their breaks.

Whittingstall netting the puck at 7:50 and Dubreuil putting Richmond ahead 3-1 at 15:50. Carrier got his second at 9:40 of the second period and Dubreuil scored his second at 11:15 of the second frame. This was all the scoring in the period and Flyers took a 5-1 lead in the game. The third period saw two more goals scored with Carrier completing his three-goal performance at 5:23 and Tanguay getting the last goal of the game at 14:46.

This ended the series, won by the Flyers, and they are well on their way to the Junior B Championship in the Connie Dion loop.

Flyers won the title a few weeks ago well ahead of their nearest rivals, the Asbestos Mill team. They lost only three games all season and are favored to take the next and final series for the championship.

Arpin scored the Asbestos goal at 2:40 in the first period. Carrier scored his first goal at 6:08 of the first period with around him so the pitchers will pitch to him.

"To reach 400, a player must hit a year when the good pitchers slip a little and the young pitchers are not quite ready. He must play in a park that is suited to his style of hitting."

"A fast man can pick up anywhere from 20 to 30 infield hits throughout a season. This year I hit .406. I got nine infield hits, the most I ever made in any year. In 1957, when I hit .388, I was 38 years old and could hardly run at all. I don't remember getting a single infield hit."

"And the reason I was able to hit .400 that year was because of a broken ankle in spring training."

"It was actually a chipped bone. All I could do during the first two weeks of the season was pinch hit."

"I must have got about eight or nine pinch hits in that time. I was hitting well over .400 when I finally got into the lineup and I just kept on hitting. I didn't go below .400 at any time during the season."

"Mantle and Aaron already have hit .360 or better. All you need is 20 more hits."

The essentials for a 40 hitter were listed by the retired slugger, now serving in the Red Sox organization in the dual capacity as executive vice president and batting instructor.

NEEDS LUCK
"First, he must have outstanding ability. Second, he must have lots of luck. By that I mean avoid injuries and batting slumps. Third, he must have the right circumstances, such as having good players

Canadian colleges to stage their first national basketball and hockey tournaments

TORONTO (CP)—Mention in the United States — or some parts of Canada for that matter—that you saw the Badgers whip the Buckeyes.

Those within earshot will know you have witnessed a football game in which the University of Wisconsin has drubbed Ohio State.

But, mention in Canada that Acadia University may win a berth in the Canadian College Basketball Tournament at Assumption.

To avoid an embarrassing blank stare, you should quickly explain that Acadia is at Wolfville, N.S. and Assumption University is at Windsor. You might also mention that both schools are known as basketball powers in their respective provinces.

U.S. colleges, with their elaborate athletic scholarship systems, huge student bodies and rich television contracts, are a major part of their country's sports program.

But there is a "who-cares" attitude towards college sports in Canada.

ARE AWARE OF IT
Nobody is more aware of this than the Canadian colleges and they aim to do something about it.

Their first big pitch for national recognition will be made at Windsor and Kingston March 15-16.

Canada's colleges will stage their first national tournaments — hockey at Kingston and basketball at Windsor — as a result of their new Canadian Intercollegiate Athletic Union, formed two years ago to promote college sports.

Maj. W. J. (Danny) McLeod, athletic director of the Royal Military College and secretary-treasurer of the CIAU, says this is only a start.

"Two college football bowl games, national swimming and track and field meets and a national barrier race are also being planned," he said Monday.

Art Ditmar, Stengel's big mistake in 1960 World Series, may be back with Yanks, in camp on trial basis

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Art Ditmar, Casey Stengel's "big mistake" of the 1960 World Series, may be back with the world champion New York Yankees when the major league baseball season opens this year.

The big right-hander was Stengel's choice to pitch the first game of the '60 World Series against Pittsburgh. He lasted just one-third inning yielding three hits and three runs. Stengel, then in his last season as manager of the Yankees, started Ditmar again in the fifth game. This time he was knocked out in the second inning.

Later Stengel admitted he had made a "mistake" in not starting southpaw Whitey Ford in the first game. Ford pitched two shutouts against the Pirates, but was not available for the deciding seventh game won by Pittsburgh 10-9.

Ditmar was traded to Kansas City and later released by the A's because of arm trouble. Now he is in the Yankee camp on a trial basis.

Ralph Houk, who succeeded Stengel as Yankee manager, said he was impressed by Ditmar's first performance, when he retired 12 of the 13 batters he faced.

INJURY BUG BITES
There were several injuries Monday as the major league clubs drilled for the opening of the exhibition season Saturday.

won the western title in that berth.

Maj. McLeod, a fine hockey player in his own right a few years ago, is working with Pat Galasso, athletic director of Queen's University, as co-host of the hockey tournament.

LEAGUES WILL ATTEND
Four of the country's major intercollegiate leagues — the Maritime Intercollegiate Athletic Association, the Ottawa-St. Lawrence Intercollegiate Athletic Association, the Ontario-Quebec Athletic Association and the Western Canada Intercollegiate Athletic Association — will send representatives to each tournament.

Champions of each of the four associations will meet in a knockout tournament to decide the first Canadian college 'amps in history.

McMaster Marlin, who will represent the Ontario - Quebec association — known sometimes as the Intercollegiate Senior League — were undefeated this season. Major McLeod lists them as favorites.

Rev. David Bauer's University of British Columbia Thunderbirds, who tied Canada's Trail Smoke Eaters 1-1 earlier this season, will represent the West.

The Ottawa-St. Lawrence and Maritime winners have not been declared. Ottawa University, Sir George William University, Sherbrooke University and RMC will meet in a playoff tournament to decide the Ottawa-St. Lawrence representative this weekend. Playoffs are still going in the Maritimes too, but the University of New Brunswick, unbeaten in league play, is favored.

A McMaster - UBC hockey meeting would create a lot of interest. The thunderbirds will be Canada's Olympic representatives next winter.

LANCERS WILL LEAD
The Powerful Assumption Lancers, hosts for the basketball tournament, will represent Ontario - Quebec and UBC has games for Baltimore last year, twisted his right knee during batting practice. Joy Face, Pittsburgh relief ace, had his right ankle swell up after being hit by a foul tip off his own bat.

Both were told to take a couple of days off.

Catcher Chris Cannizzaro of New York Mets broke the ring finger of his right hand and is expected to be out for a month. Washington infielder John Schaive, leading candidate for the third base job, sprained his left ankle while attempting to bunt in a squeeze play.

Meanwhile, Rocky Colavito, slugging outfielder, finally came to terms with Detroit Tigers for an estimated $54,000. Matty Alou, utility outfielder with the San Francisco Giants, signed for a reported $11,000.

Fleming and Douglas fined buy Campbell

MONTREAL (CP) — Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, said Monday he has decided the automatic $75 fines assessed to both Kent Douglas of Toronto Maple Leafs and Reg Fleming of Chicago Black Hawks are "adequate disciplinary action" for their prolonged brawl in the Leafs' 6-3 win at Toronto last Wednesday.

Quebec Open to be held at Sherbrooke Country Club

First time in history of tourney that it is held outside of Island of Montreal, takes place July 12-13

The Quebec Open, golfing classic of the Province of Quebec, will be held at the Sherbrooke Country Club on July 12-13, stated Pete Leblanc, director of the Province of Quebec Golf Association, at a press conference held yesterday afternoon at the Country Club. Ed Martin, chairman of the match committee, and Aime Bergeron, club captain, were also on hand for the meeting.

This is the first time in the history of the tournament that it has ever been held off the Island of Montreal but the officials of the PQGA decided it would be a good move and that in the near future it could be expected that others would follow suit.

Pete Leblanc, who has been working over a year or so in an effort to obtain this for the Country Club, was pleased with the decision reached by the executive. The Open is the top golfing event of the Province and will draw the best professionals and amateurs.

It is open to all affiliated professionals and amateurs, with handicaps of five or under. The tourney is used also as a trial for amateurs trying for a berth on the Quebec Willingdon cup team. The other two tournaments are the Duke of Kent and Alexander of Tunis.

The Hull-Ottawa district is included in the Province of Quebec Association and no doubt a strong contingent of players will be on hand from the Capital.

The professionals aren't restricted and anyone in good graces of the PQGA can compete. This is an Open event and there are no limits as to pros but they must be bona fide members of the PQGA and the USPGA if they wish to play.

Joe Leblanc, pro at the Sherbrooke Country Club, is the only amateur ever to win this event. He was playing out of Whitlock Golf Club in 1955 and won a berth on the Willingdon Cup team.

E.T. juvenile, junior, senior badminton championships slated for Sherbrooke High March 9-10

There will be plenty of activity at the Sherbrooke High School the weekend of March 9-10 as the juvenile, junior and senior badminton championships of the Eastern Townships will be played.

Usually the juveniles and juniors hold their tournament separately from the seniors but hoping to add more interest to the tournament the organizers have decided to hold all events the same weekend. For this reason competitors are requested to be on time for their matches.

The juveniles and juniors are asked to be ready to play at 8:30 a.m. Saturday and the seniors in their events will be late Saturday afternoon. The seniors, "A" and "B" classes are asked to be on hand at noon Saturday and the finals will be played Sunday. Finals will start at 1 p.m. Sunday. Once again the popular senior-junior tournament for men's doubles and ladies' doubles will be held. This consists of a senior playing with either a junior or a juvenile.

The age limit for juveniles is 16 and the age limit for juniors is 18. Trophies and prizes will be presented at the High School immediately following the finals of all events Sunday. The entry fee for juniors and juveniles is 50 cents per event while the fee for seniors is $1.50 per event.

The perpetual awards in the senior events, Bayne, Blue, Baldwin, Cleveland and Munster Trophies will be at stake. Spectators are welcome, there is no admission charge and several exciting matches can be assured, both by the youngsters and the seniors.

Smoke Eaters have bye in opening round

STOCKHOLM (CP) — Canada's Trail Smoke Eaters will play three evening games and four afternoon games in the world hockey championships opening here Thursday.

By the luck of the draw, Smoke Eaters will have the first day off and play their opening game against West Germany at 4 p.m. Central European Time 10 a.m. EST Friday. The next day they meet East Germany two hours earlier.

Smoke Eaters have Sunday off, then meet the U.S. in their first night game on Monday, March 11, at 8 p.m. CET 2 p.m. EST. They have another evening game March 12 when they come up against the tough Czechoslovakian team.

Trail has a free day before tackling Finland at noon CET 6 a.m. EST March 14. They meet the world champion Swedish team in their final night game March 15, then have another day off before facing Russia in the final game March 17 at 4 p.m. CET 10 a.m. EST.

Marshall back on top in AHL

NEW YORK (AP) — Willie Marshall of Hershey is back on top of the American Hockey League scoring race. Marshall, who led back in January, regained first place last week by scoring six points to boost his season total to 78.

League statistics released today show Marshall with 78 points on 31 goals and 47 assists.

Bill Sweeney of Springfield, the defending champion, scored only two points and slipped to second with 76. Hank Ciesla of Cleveland, came through with a 10-point week and jumped to third with 75, one ahead of Johnny McKenzie of Buffalo. Cleveland Morton of Hershey scored four goals in one game and tied Art Stratton of Buffalo for fifth at 73.

Stratton continued to lead in assists with 55 while John Ferguson of Cleveland and Jimmy Anderson of Springfield remained deadlocked for the most goals at 32.

Denis DeJordy of Buffalo kept his spot as the No. 1 goalie with an average of 2.73 goals against him in 56 games and his teammate, Ed Van Impe, led the league with 166 penalty minutes.

GETTING READY — Coach Mutt Dussault, centre, is seen talking things over his players while holding a workout in preparation for the Eastern Townships Junior playdowns. The St. Francis, champions of the Sherbrooke Junior Hockey League, will meet Thetford Mines Thursday evening in Sherbrooke in the first game of a two-game total-point series. The second will be played in Asbestos on Sunday and the winner of this series will clash with Granby champions.

Richardson's rink serious at retaining title

BRANDON, Man. (CP) — The first two rounds of the Canadian curling championships, which opened here Monday, showed Ernie Richardson's Regina rink is deadly serious about retaining its title.

The cool and canny foursome scored a pair of overwhelming victories to serve notice they will not be easy to dislodge.

Beating Manitoba's Hersh Lerner 16-4 in the afternoon, they came back to outclass John Pike of Grand Falls, Nfld., 11-4 in the night draw.

The Richardsons have won the championship three times and are out to make it four, one more than any other rink in the event's history. Ken Watson of Winnipeg and Matt Baldwin of Edmonton also were three-time Canadian champions.

Three other rinks scored double victories Monday—Bob Mann of Hanover, Ont., Ian Baird of Kentville, N.S., and J. McShields of Calgary.

A fourth rink, Glen Harper of Duncan, B.C., also is undefeated, but played only in the second round. It got a bye in the opener.

WINS EXTRA-ENDER
Harper's only game, against Bill Kent of Quebec, was the only extra-end contest of the day. Harper had to draw to Kent's shot rock biting the right edge of the four-foot circle to preserve his 10-9 victory. Kent had squared the match with three on the regulation 12th end.

Two rounds — morning and afternoon — were scheduled today in the round-robin championship. In the third round, Saskatchewan was drawn against New Brunswick, Northern Ontario against British Columbia, Alberta against Newfoundland, Manitoba against Prince Edward Island and Ontario against Nova Scotia. Quebec had the bye.

In the fourth round, it was Newfoundland vs. Prince Edward Island, Ontario vs. Saskatchewan, British Columbia vs. Nova Scotia, Northern Ontario vs. Quebec and Alberta vs. New Brunswick. Manitoba had the bye.

Ontario's Mann downed Doug Gaherole of Northern Ontario 8-4 in the second round after beating Quebec 11-6. Nova Scotia's good start was accomplished when Baird defeated Newfoundland 14-6 in the opening round and New Brunswick's Don Mix 11-6 Monday night.

Shields gave Alberta a share of the lead with an 18-7 win over Manitoba at night after a 10-9 win over Doug Cameron of Prince Edward Island in the afternoon.

Northern Ontario downed New Brunswick 13-5 in the other first-round match.

ARENA PACKED
More than 4,000 fans packed into the Wheat City Arena for both rounds.

Lack of heat in the arena kept the ice extremely keen and led to some strange action on one sheet, where a hard take-out shot at one end was liable to rebound as much as two feet.

On two occasions in his match with Richardson, Pike drew laughter and applause from the crowd as he attempted to sweep the rebounding granite back out of the front of the house.

His is the oldest rink in the 11-round championship, with an average age of 43, and the pace set by the champions began to tell.

In both his matches, Richardson was finished two ends ahead of the other games, averaging about two hours and 40 minutes a game. The rest took longer than three hours.

Big M leads NHL in goals but Howe top man

UNSUCCESSFUL BID — Bobby Rousseau (15) of Montreal Canadiens fails to score against goalie Terry Sawchuk of Detroit Red Wings during Saturday night's National Hockey League game in Montreal. Other player is Pete Goegan (18).

MONTREAL (CP) — Big Frank Mahovlich of Toronto, who currently leads the National Hockey League with 33 goals also has scored more winning goals than anyone else—eight.

Another good man in a pinch is Chicago's scrappy centre Stan Mikita. Seven of Mikita's 29 goals this season have been winners.

Ranked third in the game-winning department is Mikita's teammate Bobby Hull, who has scored the winner six times and the tying goal twice. Parker MacDonald of Detroit also has six winning goals to his credit.

Official NHL statistics released today show Detroit veteran Gordie Howe, who has placed among the top 10 scorers for the last 14 seasons, leading the current race by five points.

Howe picked up two goals and seven assists last week for a nine-point gain and a total for the season of 73.

RUNNERS-UP BUNCHED

Mikita is second with 68, one point ahead of New York's Andy Bathgate. Mahovlich ranks fourth with 66.

Fifth is Johnny Bucyk of Boston with 62 and sixth spot is shared by Hull and Boston's Murray Oliver, who have 61 each.

Montreal goalie Jacques Plante took a six-goal lead in the Vezina Trophy race last week, then blew it again when Detroit slaughtered Canadiens 7-1 Saturday.

Glenn Hall of Chicago leads the goaltenders with a goals-against average for the Black Hawks of 2.47. Canadiens have had an average of 2.57 goals a game scored on them. Toronto is third with a 2.69 average.

Detroit leads the league in penalties with a total of 800 minutes, paced by defenceman Howie Young, who alone has accounted for 216 minutes. Young now sets an NHL record every time he steps into the penalty box. He broke the former season record of 202 minutes last month and still has nine games to play.

WINDSO

Baden-Powell week got off to a good start with the Scouts taking their Basic A training in Drummondville, Feb. 16. This was a training course for both pack and troop scouters with Tom Cumby A.C.M. attending the pack scouters course and Doug Willard, S.M., and Ted Robinson, A.S.M., attending the troop scouters.

This is the first time that this course has been run by members of the St. Francis Valley District. The Troop Scouters course was conducted by Bill Houghton, A.D.C., of Sorel, and the pack scouters course run by Bernard Templeman, of Drummondville, a member of the provincial training team. He was assisted by Jim Leckie, A.D.C., Windsor, Wes Jones, A.D.C., Drummondville, and Roy LeDrew, C.M., Danville. All together, 27 leaders took training at this all day course.

Dear Mr. McVetty,

We are very pleased that your company chose the town of Bury in which to locate your Cedar Fence Plant. We are sure that you will like our town and the area around it. There is a great deal of Cedar in and about Bury and for many years there has been very small demand for it.

We have studied the schedule of Cedar that you plan to purchase as well as the prices you plan to pay for it. They are fair and should yield a good return to timber owners and woods operators. Therefore, we know that you will have a great many people wanting to furnish you with Cedar according to your requirements.

You can depend on us as well as the people of this area to cooperate and work with you. The fact that your company is located here should do a great deal for the local economy.

Very truly yours,

INDUSTRIAL COMMITTEE OF BURY
Chairman, Raoul Turcotte.
