HEAVY CASUALTIES REPORTED IN BOMBING OF ADUWA BY ITALIANS

Despatch to London Claims Seventeen Hundred Persons Killed or Injured in Raid—Two Million Ethiopian Warriors Rushed to Front as Battle Is Reported Under Way at Province of Agame—Special Session of League Council Convoked to Seek Solution of Latest Difficulties.

Northern Ethiopia is aflame with battle while rumors fill the world waiting anxiously to see what action may be taken by the League of Nations and the powers to check the war between the legions of Rome and the tribesmen of Emperor Haile Selassie. Reuters quoted the Lion of Judah this morning as saying Italian airplanes in bombing Aduwa, scene of the Italian disaster in the war forty years ago, had struck a Red Cross hospital killing nurses, women and children.

The Addis Ababa correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Agency reported to London today that seventeen hundred persons had been killed and wounded in the Italian air bombardment of Aduwa. Italy officially denied the bombing.

While Selassie's two million warriors, officially mobilized, rushed toward their frontiers, a battle was reported progressing in the province of Agame.

In Geneva diplomats anxiously awaited the convocation of the Council while they received protests from both Selassie and the Government of Benito Mussolini.

In London crowds gathered in Downing Street as Anthony Eden, Minister for the League of Nations, departed for Paris and Geneva.

In Bournemouth the Conservative party unanimously adopted a resolution presented by Winston Churchill demanding the remedy of the "insufficiency of services for defence of the Crown."

Paris officialdom considering sanctions unavoidable were investigating means of keeping the conflict from spreading.

Demonstrations were reported from widely separated cities. Fifty Italian conscripts were mobbed at Toulouse, France. The Italian consulate was stoned at Sao Paulo, Brazil.

The Greek Government called up three military classes. Rome was quiet. Business was usual.

REPORTED ITALIAN TROOPS DEFEATED IN FIRST FIGHT

London, Oct. 3.—A Reuters News Agency despatch from Addis Ababa said today that Italian troops advancing toward Agame between Aduwa and Adigrat had been defeated.

IL DUCE CLAIMS ADVANCE IS DEFENSIVE MOVEMENT

Rome, October 3.—Italian troops marched into Ethiopia today in reply to the general mobilization proclaimed by Emperor Haile Selassie. The troops, it was announced officially, "have occupied some advanced positions beyond our lines." An official communiqué said the advance was a defensive movement against "a direct and immediate menace."

Il Duce's Fascist legions may have penetrated Ethiopian territory while their chief spoke to twenty million Blackshirts at home, assembled yesterday in a great, one-day test mobilization.

Officials did not indicate when the forward movement started, merely giving out the communiqué and denying charges by Haile Selassie in a telegram to the League of Nations of bombardment of Ethiopian villages by Italian airplanes. Ethiopia's claim of bombardment of villages causing casualties among women, children and aged is an old, much used expedient, the tendentiousness of which is evident, the Italian Government asserted.

The action started as a consequence of Ethiopia's imperial call to arms, the official communiqué said, and the High Command in Eritrea "received orders to act accordingly."

HAILE SELASSIE RUSHING TROOPS TO FRONT LINES

Addis Ababa, Oct. 3.—Italian military planes bombarded two Ethiopian towns today, killing and wounding a number of civilians, an official communiqué said, soon after Emperor Haile Selassie proclaimed general mobilization of his ten million subjects.

Ethiopian and Italian troops clashed in Agame Province, the communiqué reported, after destruction of property as well as death to women and children in bombardments of Aduwa—where an Italian expeditionary force was crushed forty years ago—and of Adigrat.

The Emperor, whose general mobilization order set his native followers on the march to the front, protested to the League of Nations, alleging a violation by Italy of Ethiopia's frontiers, and a rupture of the League Covenant.

The German News Bureau correspondent at Addis Ababa reported to Berlin that a battle was raging in Agame Province in southern Ethiopia.

The Reuters and Havas correspondent reported to London and Rome that the Italian Minister would leave Ethiopia tomorrow.

Selassie was reported to have sent four regiments of fifty thousand soldiers to Aduwa to meet eventual Italian attack near Mussa Ali.

Masses of Ethiopian warriors already held positions on distant frontiers of the empire, bordering on Italy's colonies of Eritrea and Somalia, where two hundred thousand Italian troops had been

ITALIAN MINISTER TO ETHIOPIA HANDED HIS PASSPORTS.

Addis Ababa, Oct. 3.—Luigi Vinci-Gigliucci, the Italian Minister to Ethiopia, was handed his passports today and will leave tomorrow. Early in the day, Emperor Haile Selassie proclaimed the general mobilization of his 10,000,000 subjects. When Vinci leaves the country he will go out on a special train guarded by Emperor's troops armed with machine guns and rifles to prevent any possibility of reprisals by the Ethiopians—who appear to be enraged by the bomb raid news—against the Italian diplomat.

NOT ENTHUSIASTIC OVER CANCER CURE THEORIES

New York, Oct. 3.—Experiments of Dr. Hendry Connell, of Kingston, Ont., in the treatment of cancer with an enzyme solution called "ensoi" were viewed with skepticism today by Dr. Francis Carter Wood, director of the Crook Institute of Cancer Research at Columbia University. He described the medical background of "ensoi" as "only another protein breakdown mixture which produces a toxic effect."

LONDON TO IGNORE MUSSOLINI'S ATTACK AGAINST BRITISH STAND

Large Crowds Mill Through Downing Street as Government Studies Next Move in Italo-Ethiopian Crisis—Foreign Office Spokesman Regards Bombing as Tantamount to Declaration of War and Probably Only Declaration that Will Be Made—Thousands of Britons Seek Service in London, Oct. 3.—Large crowds milled through Downing Street before the Prime Minister's residence today.

Street bulletins displayed through London declared: "Aduwa Bombed—Italians Advance."

Anthony Eden, Minister for League of Nations Affairs, was started back for Geneva by way of Paris to convince the League of Nations and France that the British policy was clearly and firmly in support of the League Covenant opposed to war.

It was stated authoritatively that no official attention will be paid to yesterday's speech of Premier Mussolini in Rome in which he said he did not believe the true Britons would approve of sanctions against Italy.

The British Government was officially informed from Geneva of Emperor Haile Selassie's declaration that Italian planes had bombed Aduwa with civilian casualties.

Authoritatively, it was announced that today's developments, if borne out in fact, constituted a violation of Article XV of the League Covenant under which nations must refrain from aggressive hostilities while the League is attempting to conciliate a dispute.

Prime Minister Baldwin was at 10 Downing Street when the news of Ethiopia's protest against the alleged Aduwa bombing arrived.

One well-informed source stated: "The bombing is tantamount to a declaration of war and is probably the only declaration of war that will be made. Things will happen now."

The newspaper headlines saying fighting had begun brought hundreds of new offers at the Ethiopian legation to enroll under the Ethiopian "banners" to fight against Italy.

Thus far, more than three thousand Britons have offered their services to Ethiopia through the London legation.

BRITAIN INCREASES NAVAL POWER IN MEDITERRANEAN

London, Oct. 3.—With the situation converted overnight from talk of theoretical war to an apparent actual outbreak of Italo-Ethiopian hostilities, Anthony Eden, Minister for the League of Nations, today gave instructions from the cabinet to throw the full weight of the British Government behind League machinery to isolate or to halt the conflict.

British precautionary naval movements continued.

An Admiralty list report from Aden, Arabia, said the cruiser Berwick and half of the eighth destroyer flotilla had arrived there. Aden is near Assab, where the first Italian advance into Ethiopia was reported from Addis Ababa.

The ships came from China stations.

With the reported outbreak of the war, British statesmen expected the League machinery at Geneva to be thrown into high gear.

British statesmen still regarded the present problem as essentially one for the League to handle.

"The dispute begins and ends at Geneva," authoritative sources said, "there it must be dealt with."

BRITISH LIBERALS BACK POLICY OF GOVERNMENT

London, Oct. 3.—There can be no possible doubt that it is the plain duty of the League of Nations to intervene in the Italo-Ethiopian dispute effectively Sir Herbert Sam-

LARGE INCREASE IN REVENUES IN THIS DISTRICT

Receipts at Local Office of Department of National Revenue $12,338.18 Higher in September than in Corresponding Period Last Year.

Sharp increases in both customs and excise tax collections during the past month paved the way for a $12,338.18 jump in collections at the local office of the Department of National Revenue during the past month as compared with the corresponding period last year, according to a statement issued today by L. W. Greenland, collector in charge of the Sherbrooke office.

Receipts for the past month totaled $106,398.18 against $94,154.79 for September, 1934.

Import duties for the past month amounted to $39,959.45 an increase of $8,778.45 over last year's total of $31,211.

The sum of $66,205.14 was received from excise taxes, principally the sales tax, compared with $61,820.70 in the same period last year, representing an increase of $4,484.33.

Excise duties declined from $1,067.28 last year to $273.38 in the past month, while sundry collections dropped from $55.75 to twenty dollars.

The total income for the first six months of the fiscal year stands at $559,595.34, an expansion of $45,517.37 from the receipts of $514,077.97 in the first half of 1934.

LENNOXVILLE THEFT NETTED CULPRITS $250

Burglars Forced Their Way into Premises of Federated Co-Operative Office During Night—Bored Hole Through Back of Office Strong-Box.

Breaking into the premises of the Federated Co-operative office, College street, Lennoxville, during the night, burglars cut a hole in the back of the office safe and made their getaway with approximately $250 in cash.

The burglars entered the building through a cellar window, and then made their way up to the office. This was carried to the warehouse, where a hole was bored through the back. The culprits were apparently well equipped to carry out their work. They made no noise and left the scene of the burglary unnoticed.

The theft was discovered this morning and A. M. MacKenzie, who is in charge of the Lennoxville branch of the grain company, was immediately advised. He notified Chief Tom Bower, of Lennoxville, and the latter immediately communicated with the Provincial Police Department in Montreal. Mr. MacKenzie said that approximately $250 was stolen.

Moscow, October 3.—The second section of the Moscow subway system is being excavated by thirty thousand workers. New tunnels at depths of 100 to 125 feet will be completed in 1937.

ANNUAL WINTER FAIR AND HORSE SHOW OPENED BY PRIME MINISTER

Sixth Annual Fall Classic Sponsored by Eastern Townships Agricultural Association Formally Opened Last Evening by Premier R. B. Bennett—Splendid Performance Witnessed by Fair-Sized Opening Night Crowd—Young Breeders Complimented and Encouraged in Address by Distinguished Guest.

His political campaign of secondary importance for a brief period, Prime Minister Richard B. Bennett last night visited the Arena and officially opened the sixth annual Provincial Winter Fair and Horse Show. Shortly after his arrival in Sherbrooke last evening, Premier Bennett drove to the Arena and declared the annual fall classic formally open as he had promised in telegrams to Alfred Wood, president and editor of the Sherbrooke Record, and Charles E. Howard, president of the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association.

Canada's premier citizen was accorded a royal welcome as he entered the gayly decorated Arena. Lined up in the spacious show ring were more than two hundred young breeders representing calf clubs throughout the province. There were many proud and happy youngsters as the distinguished guest, accompanied by Mr. Howard and Stephen Doherty, shook hands with each and every one. Naturalists and white pants, the youthful breeders presented a picturesque sight as they awaited their turn to grasp the hand of their country's Prime Minister.

"I have the greatest and most profound admiration for young breeders," Premier Bennett stated in addressing his youthful audience and the older spectators assembled to witness the opening programme. "You are making a much more important contribution to the welfare and development of your country than many public servants because you are rendering a great service to the present and the immediate future."

Paying high tribute to the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association, Premier Bennett said "It is a great privilege for me to open your Winter Fair and Horse Show. The relation of the horse to the development of the world cannot be exaggerated and there are few institutions that are serving a more useful purpose than the E.T.A.A."

Before receiving three ringing cheers from the young breeders he left to address a mass meeting in the 54th Armory. Premier Bennett humorously expressed his regret at being unable "to examine your exhibits because I have to exhibit myself in another part of your city."

Despite the counter attraction afforded by the monster political rally, the attendance last evening was very encouraging. A large proportion of the audience was the group of young breeders who are seeking the honor of representing their province at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto. Six from the two hundred and fifteen boys and five girls will be selected to make the trip after they have completed their tasks of judging dairy and beef cattle and swine.

This splendid work of developing the young breeders of today into the farmers of tomorrow is being conducted by the Federal Livestock Branch with the co-operation of the Provincial Department of Agriculture. The two men chiefly responsible for what is the largest calf club display ever in Sherbrooke are Stephane Boly and Adrien Morin.

Without exaggeration, the 1935 Winter Fair and Horse Show promises to be the most successful in the six-year history of the annual fall classic. There are nearly one hundred and thirty exhibitors, this year, representing the largest entry list since the Winter Fair and Horse Show was inaugurated in 1930. One does not have to be an expert judge of horsemanship to enjoy the evening entertainments, and citizens of Sherbrooke and the Eastern Townships should consider it a duty to encourage the Association by attending some of the performances between now and the closing programme Saturday night.

A high class and diversified entertainment was furnished the fair-sized audience last evening. The older spectators were as excited as the thrill-seeking youngsters, particularly when the hurdles were placed in position for the jumping events. These features, naturally the most appealing to the audience, failed to stifle the spectators' enthusiasm despite the many admonitions for silence over the microphone.

There were plenty of opportunities for the crowd to release its pent-up emotions. When an entry cleared the last obstacle faultlessly and was credited with a clean performance there was a spontaneous outburst of applause. Citizens in evening dress seemed to vie with the fun-loving youngsters in loudly expressing their feelings with hand-clapping and cheers. Even the hunters charged with faults received a sympathetic hand from the audience as their mounts guided them back to their stalls. It was a fine display of horsemanship and provided the maximum in thrills and excitement.

Noble, well-groomed animals provided the two judges, O. M. J. Ingalls, of Danville, and Alex Robson, of Montreal, with considerable difficulty before they distributed the awards. In some classes the entries

FRENCH WARSHIPS WILL ASSIST BRITISH FLEET.

Paris, October 3.—L'Oeuvre, usually well informed, said "The French fleet would come to the aid of the English fleet in any case if the latter was the object of an unprovoked aggression on the part of the Italian fleet." Widespread opposition to France's joining sanctions, however, was expressed in some sections of the press, most strongly in Rightist organs. A warning of a "veritable revolt" in France if the Government policy "leads to war on Fascism" was sounded by Henri Dekerblis in the nationalist Echo de Paris. He asserted French war veterans would refuse to "march against the sons of Rome."

MANY CHINESE LOST LIVES IN BLAZE SET BY PIRATES

London, Oct. 3.—A Reuters News Agency despatch from Canton reported today that at least 150 Chinese, including a troop of twenty-five actresses, perished in a fire aboard the motorship Sennen near Tungkwang, Canton River, after the ship was attacked by pirates. The despatch said the pirates fired the ship after raking the vessel with machine gun and rifle fire from the shore.

LEAGUE REGARDS DREADED WAR IN ETHIOPIA AS ALREADY UNDER WAY

Declaration of Mussolini Taken to Mean that State of War Exists Between Italy and Ethiopia Even if Not Officially Declared—Both Sides Protest Alleged Breach of Neutrality by Opponents to League—Haile Selassie Mobilizes Two Million Warriors.

Geneva, Oct. 3.—The dreaded war between Italy and Ethiopia started today, in the view of the League of Nations, with official Ethiopian reports of an Italian air bombardment of Ethiopian villages and a battle raging in Agame Province.

That a state of war existed, if not officially declared, was considered by League officials to be evident in a message from the Government of Premier Mussolini, referring to "the warlike and aggressive spirit" commented by leaders of Ethiopia "who have long been demanding war with Italy and who have succeeded in imposing war."

The League Council was officially convoked for an emergency session Saturday morning to deal with the conflict.

It was not announced immediately whether the League Assembly would meet this week to deal with the emergency.

BOTH PARTIES REGISTER COMPLAINTS WITH LEAGUE

Geneva, Oct. 3.—Northern Ethiopia is aflame with battle.

The Government of Ethiopia this morning cabled the League of Nations saying, "In the presence of the Italian military airplanes having bombed Aduwa and Adigrat, making numerous victims among civilians, including women and children, and destroying numerous houses."

"The battle is at present taking place in the Province of Agame. These facts occurring on Ethiopian territory constitute a violation of the Empire frontier and a breach of the covenant of the League by Italian aggression."

The Italians also sent a note to the League charging Ethiopian aggression at Mount Mussa Ali.

The Italian note cited a "general mobilization order by the Emperor on September 28" and as reasons for Italian concentration of troops in Eritrea says, "In the presence of the general situation the Italian Government finds itself compelled to authorize the Supreme Command in Eritrea to take the necessary steps for defence."

The news of the undeclared war in East Africa struck Geneva this morning with the League experts still giving the final solution of their draft of the history of the dispute.

League authorities described the Italian note as a justification of Italy's attitude in the Italo-Ethiopian crisis.

An official Italian spokesman said he had just telephoned Rome concerning Emperor Haile Selassie's allegation of a bombardment of Aduwa and that the only information he could get there was that there was nothing official available from Rome concerning such a development.

The spokesman added that it was only logical to suppose that events of a military nature would soon begin.

He explained the Italian note as being in the nature of an instruction to the general staff of the Italian colonies to take certain precautionary measures in view of Ethiopian mobilization.

Italian sources said Haile Selassie's telegram declared the air bombardment of Aduwa occurred today and that Adigrat, as well as Aduwa, was being bombed with a considerable number of victims among the civil population.

Italians also said the Ethiopian note asserted a battle had begun in another province believed to be Ogaaden.

Haile Selassie protested against these alleged acts as violations of treaties.

An Italian spokesman said he understood instructions had been sent to the High Command of Italy's forces in Northeast Africa, granting it complete liberty of action regarding what should be done under the circumstances.

GOVERNMENT POLICIES GIVE E.T. MANY BENEFITS, CLAIMS BENNETT

Prosperous Conditions in Sherbrooke, Granby and Magog Direct Result of Protective Tariff Introduced by Present Government, Premier Bennett Told Overflow Audience Here Last Evening—Declares No Tariff Agreement Will Be Negotiated Giving Foreigners Preference Against Canadians.

Nearly ten thousand Eastern Townships residents turned out to the Belvidere street armories last evening to welcome to Sherbrooke Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister of Canada. The large building was crowded to capacity and the adjacent squares and streets were literally covered with humanity, all gathered to hear the man responsible for guiding the country for the past five years give an account of his stewardship.

Despite its large size and great enthusiasm, the crowd was an orderly one. There was one lone interrupter and a couple of well-directed shots in this direction by Mr. Bennett soon removed this opposition.

First, the Government had done much and its policies had brought prosperity to the Eastern Townships. But its work was not finished, and he asked for a renewal of his mandate so that the work could be continued.

The Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act had resulted in millions of dollars being lopped off farmers' liabilities and the wheat policy had added $150,000,000 to the purchasing power of the western farmer.

The return of the Liberal party and the tariffs as contained in the Dunning budget would result in the closing of sixty per cent. of the factories of Canada, he claimed.

No treaty would be negotiated that gave the foreigner a preference over the Canadian in his own country, and:

Canada would not become involved in any foreign war that did not directly interest this country.

Previous to his Sherbrooke address, the Prime Minister made spoken by at Granby and Magog, in both of which towns he met large and enthusiastic audiences. At both places he pointed to the industrial development of the Eastern Townships as a living proof, more effective than figures, of the advantages of the Government trade and tariff policies.

At Magog, the Premier dealt with the Japanese trade situation at great length. Speaking in a textile town, he warned that if the Government had not imposed its current compensating duties, the country would have been flooded with cotton and other textile goods manufactured by labor receiving from thirty to seventy-two cents a day.

The Granby meeting was featured by a similar defence of the action taken by the Government in dealing with the industrial well-being of the country.

Mr. Bennett was in top form last evening, his statements coming out with machine-gun-like precision, his voice apparently as strong as when he spoke at Granby and Magog, speaking. Following the meeting, he entrained on the Halifax special for the Maritime Provinces, where he will deliver a series of addresses.

After brief preliminaries necessitated by the short time at his disposal, the Prime Minister launched into a defence of the record of his Government.

"Why," he asked, "have Sherbrooke, Magog and Granby been prosperous during the depression? The answer which I shall attempt to give you tonight contains the reasons why you should vote for the Conservative Government."

"What would have happened to Sherbrooke, Magog and Granby if the Government had not taken the action it did?" he continued in defending the drive of the Government to secure an export balance of trade. The answer to this he left to the crowd, which seemed to agree that the consequences of inaction would have been tragic.

His attack on the asserted trade policy of the leader of the Opposition was also enthusiastically received. The Liberal chief, in the opinion of the Prime Minister, wished to apply the "Golden Rule" in tariff matters. "He seems to think that we should lower our tariffs and let the other countries suffer in their consciences and lower their tariffs in return, just to be good fellows. But things do not happen that way in real life. You have to bargain and bargain hard."

"Our opponents appear to assume that the depression of the past five years was felt in Canada alone, that no other nation suffered from reduced export trade and unemployment. They would leave you to assume that all the damage has been caused since the advent of the Conservative Government in August, 1930. What are the facts?"

"Between 1929 and 1934 the total trade of the world fell off, not one-third, but to one-third of its high mark. In August, 1930, when we came into power the depression was just beginning. We were all still more or less prosperous on paper, but the country had an adverse balance of trade of $100,000,000 and

DECLARES U.S. SILVER POLICY IS A FAILURE

Oklahoma Democrat Prepared to Quit Silver Bloc Unless Silver Is Remonetized as Inflationary Measure.

New York, October 3.—Senator Elmer Thomas, Oklahoma Democrat, and leader of the Senate currency inflation forces last night flatly characterized the Roosevelt Administration silver policy as a "failure," and forecast his desertion from the western silver bloc unless a definite stand is taken for monetization of silver.

Coupled with his warning of a collapse of the silver purchasing programme, Senator Thomas announced the determination of throwing his support behind the congressional silver bloc as an alternative method of achieving higher commodity price levels as a measure of inflation.

He intimated a "showdown" on the Government silver policy would come at Salt Lake City October 12 when a special Senate committee headed by Senator Key Pittman, of Nevada, nominal leader of the silver group, meets to investigate Treasury silver policies. Thomas is a member of this committee.

Aside from the bonus, Senator Thomas asserted the only "reasonable alternative" to monetization of silver as an inflationary programme was that of managed currency.

On the question of the bonus, Thomas made direct reference to the forthcoming presidential elections, "elemental political psychology," and the size of the bonus forces, in predicting passage of a measure authorizing immediate payment.

"If the President vetoes the bonus," he said, "we can and will, in my opinion, pass it over his veto."

was rapidly heading for inolvency. Oh, yes," he said, turning to an interrupter, "I was laughed at as a pessimist in 1928 when I declared in the House of Commons that the world was on the brink of a disaster.

"What we assumed power we were faced with this condition and we, as a Government, felt it our duty to secure for the Canadian producer his fair share of the domestic market." This, he said, could only be done by increasing the tariffs and keeping out foreign products, just as the other countries had been doing for several years. As a result of this action, 252 new factories employing 10,000 hands had opened. In addition, old mills were reopened and other mills doubled their capacity.

But the imposition of tariffs was not enough. New markets had to be created, and to this end trade treaties had been negotiated with France, Germany, Austria and many other countries.

Overhauling all else in the mind of the Prime Minister was the Imperial Trade Agreements which assured to the Canadian producer a preferred place in the greatest market of the world. This, he said, had taken considerable bargaining, but it was bargaining to the mutual advantage of all. There could be no altruism. The Laurier Government had tried it in 1897 by granting the Imperial preference, but their goodwill offering was accepted as such and nothing was received in return.

These agreements, continued Mr. Bennett, were the most important trade treaties signed in the history of the world, resulting in more Canadian products than ever before being sold in Great Britain. As a result of these agreements the exports of hosiery had risen from $134,000 in 1932 to $1,767,951 in the past fiscal year, machinery from $2,655,000 to $3,175,000, and meat from $4,000,000 to $25,000,000. "And yet Mr. King says that these agreements are a Tory conspiracy. By reasonable, just imagine General Hertzog of South Africa, entering into a 'Tory conspiracy' such as Mr. King describes in leading his opposition to these pacts.

"In normal times, any Government responsible for negotiating such agreements as these would be assured of power for at least half a generation. Show at least your appreciation, if not gratitude, for there is no gratitude in public life, by voting for those men who carried the burden in these dark times. Are you going to be fair, to be just? I have no personal feeling in this matter. We are not courting favors."

Here came a prolonged outburst of applause.

"Oh, it is no good to applaud. The only way is to mark your ballots opposite the name of the Government candidates I do not want you to cheer one way and vote another."

Here a passing reference to Mr. King brought cheers from a certain individual in the assembly.

"What is the name of them here?" retorted the Prime Minister. "Well, I came to call the sinners to repentance." And then he turned back to a review of the record of his Government's administration.

As a result of the policies of the Government, an adverse trade balance of $100,000,000 in 1930 had been turned into a favorable balance of $185,000,000 in 1935 and export trade had expanded to the point where Canada was fifth in the ranks of the export nations of the world, being exceeded only by Great Britain, United States, France and Germany.

"Mr. King," continued the Premier, "rose in the House of Commons when these agreements were signed and promised that if he was returned to power he would reduce the general tariffs fifty per cent. Do you know what this means? It just means that sixty per cent. of all Canadian industry would have to shut its doors for it could not meet the unfair competition from those countries with lower living standards and debased currencies. Now Mr. King has changed his tune. He promises a reasonable preference."

These Ottawa treaties had resulted in an increased export of eggs from $4,000 in 1932 to $394,000 in 1935, of bacon from $330,000 to $12,830,000, of apples from $6,500,000 to $2,700,000, of copper from $4,000,000 to $10,000,000 and of lumber from $5,000,000 to $15,000,000.

But the work of the Government was not complete, for it was not satisfied with the Empire agreements. It also desired a market in the United States and was negotiating a treaty to this end. An offer had been made covering some seven hundred items, but substantial favors are demanded in return. Here Mr. Bennett gave no definite promise.

WHEAT PRICES CONTINUED TO SOAR TODAY.

Winnipeg, Oct. 3.—As Italian troops advanced into Ethiopia today wheat prices advanced on the Winnipeg grain exchange. Futures soared 2 1/4 to 1 1/2 cents a bushel at the opening as heavy buying ensued following reports of the outbreak of Italian-Ethiopian hostilities. Trading was feverish as bulls renewed their upward drive which yesterday hoisted prices three cents.

The October option opened at 98-98 1/2 cents, November at 98 and December 98 1/2-97 1/2 cents. The May delivery was quoted at $1.02 to $1.02 1/2, its best prices since late in 1934.

This Government will never negotiate an agreement to give foreigners a preference over Canadians in their own country."

Turning from trade to agriculture, Premier Bennett declared that no government since Confederation had done as much for the farmer as the present administration. A heavy duty had been imposed against butter imports and other farm products to protect the home market whereas Mr. King had said, "Don't provoke them."

"I am for Canada," said Mr. Bennett, "and I scorn toadying to any other country."

One million dollars had been voted for equalizing and stabilizing the dairy market and extensive wheat market operations had been undertaken that resulted in an advantage of $150,000,000 to the western farmer. The Natural Products Marketing Act had been passed to give the producer a larger share of the consumer's dollar.

The Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act, another piece of farm legislation, permitted the farmer and his creditors to make an adjustment of their indebtedness so that the farmer could face the future with hope and confidence. Negotiations involving $70,000,000 indebtedness had been opened and arrangements included covering $40,000,000 liabilities. The principal of the debt had been reduced $12,000,000 and carrying charges by $2,000,000 annually. Before the end of the year he hoped for agreements involving $100,000,000, marking a writing down of principal of $25,000,000 and an interest cut of $4,000,000.

In addition, farm loans had been provided at low rates of interest on reasonable security.

For the worker, continued the Prime Minister, the Government had provided a sound unemployment insurance scheme, the eight hour day and the one day in seven of rest. "These," he said amid wild applause and support from the gathering, "are actual, not promises. They are on the statute books and not the political campaign books."

The rights of capital as well as those of the farmer and worker had been respected. A sound currency had been maintained. In the past five years not a bank had closed its doors nor an insurance company failed to honor the terms of its contract. A privately-owned central bank had been established, privately-owned to prevent it becoming the football of political parties. Refunding operations had been effected to reduce the interest charges on the national debt by $17,000,000 and maintain the credit of the country to the point where recently $20,000,000 was borrowed in New York at an interest cost of three-quarters of one per cent.

He defended his action in imposing dumping duties against Japan. This was done to protect the Canadian textile worker against goods produced by labor that was paid from thirty to seventy-two cents a day.

"I am a Canadian and proud of Canada," declared the Prime Minister in closing, "I have no personal purpose to serve at Ottawa. I could retire with honor and ease. But I prefer to serve my country which has done so much for me; much more than I deserve. This Government has not finished its work and it would be cowardly for us to give up power at this time.

"What I desire for Canada is peace, happiness and prosperity." Mayor Bradley, in welcoming the distinguished guest, praised the firm stand taken by the Government which resulted in Sherbrooke being able to retain the title of the Manchester of Canada.

The Sherbrooke County Conservative candidate, Dr. Warren W. Lynch, confined his remarks to welcoming the "illustrious" leader, declaring Mr. Bennett to be among the illustrious men of the world. His personal policy, he said, was to stand four-square with Bennett.

Following the Prime Minister, Hon. Sam Gobeil, Postmaster-General, dealt briefly with the closing of the United States markets to Canadian farm products and criticized the lack of action of the King regime in this regard. He also defended the Prime Minister's fight against Communism and opposed the repeal of Section 98 of the Criminal Code against subversive activity.

John Hackett, K.C., M.P. for Stansfeld, and Dr. F. J. Lafleche, M.P. for Richmond-Wolfe, also spoke briefly.

were ordered to go through their paces a second time before the red, blue, green and white ribbons were pinned on the heads of the noble steeds and they trotted around the ring to receive their well-merited tributes from the gathering.

The competition for the handy hunter trophy, donated by Mrs. Mann, of St. John, resulted in Judy, exhibited by Miss Nancy Murray, of Georgeville, carrying off major honors, with an entry from the stables of Miss E. Viau, of Montreal, finishing a close second in the field of nine.

The single roadsters, 14-2 to 15-2, event created considerable excitement. Polly Frisco, a spirited animal on Miss Viau's string, gave its driver considerable trouble in keeping it under control. Making two sharp turns, one of the rear wheels on the buggy failed to stand the strain and collapsed. The rig made several turns before the lopsided wheel became utterly useless. After changing vehicles, Polly Frisco returned to the ring and first prize was won by Silver Lady from the Magog stables of John Peters.

Two of Miss Viau's horses emerged victorious in the saddle horses over 15-2 and the light weight hunter events, while Lady Humewood, wearing the colors of the J. W. Nesbitt, Montreal, stables, was one of the three contenders for the high steppers over 15-2 contest. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Jamieson, of Lennoxville, had the victorious pair among the high stepping ponies under 13-1.

The touch and out jump, the final event on last night's programme, proved highly exciting. The eleven entries failed to negotiate the first three jumps in their initial attempts and were given a second chance. Evelyn owned by Earl Spafford, of Knowlton, was finally declared victorious, with Lady Helen, entered by B. J. Kruger, of Montreal, second.

There were several other attractions to the well-balanced entertainment. Happy Thought, owned by Miss Viau, with Fred Garpley as mount, gave a fine exhibition of the walk, trot, slow gait, canter and wrack, while the trained menagerie exhibited by Captain William Schulz, of Montreal, provided a comical as well as instructive touch to the programme.

Assisted by an attractive equestrienne, Miss Marion Knowlton, Captain Schulz, with his trained ponies, dogs and elephant through their paces and drew rounds of applause from the spectators. Responding promptly to all commands, the animals did many interesting stunts. Quartered in a tent outside the arena is a group of trained lions which Captain Schulz is exhibiting as part of his act.

The mule provided much amusement for the youngsters. Captain Schulz asked for six volunteers to ride the animal and there was a miniature army in the ring before the mule attempted to jump on the mule's back. The task proved no more difficult than it looked and some of the aspiring "cowboys" were unceremoniously dumped on the soft ground. The mule chased the youngsters in all directions and tried to bite pieces out of their pants. The climax came when one youngster, covering for his friends, lower regions and made a wild dash to cover his embarrassment.

The Boy Scouts were in charge of seating the spectators and performed this task in their usual satisfactory style. Jim Sellers, of Montreal, again assisted the judges as ring master, while Chester Powers was back in his 1934 position of clerk. Glen Sampson and P. Bachand announced the names of the winners over the loud-speaking system, and two youngsters, Bugler Bob Whittingham and Boy Scout Harvey Jones, facilitated the task of the judge and ringmaster in their respective capacities.

The detailed results of the events on last night's programme follow:

ST. PAUL'S LADIES' GUILD HELD BUSY SESSION

Plans for several future events, including a novelty "birthday supper," occupied the members of the Ladies' Guild of St. Paul's Church, who were pleasantly entertained at yesterday's meeting by Mrs. S. O. Bell of Montreal, Lennoxville street. The president, Mrs. J. Hall, was in charge of the largely attended session. After the adoption of the minutes, the report in the Harvest Supper was presented. This year has been unusually successful, both socially and financially. In addition to planning a birthday supper, a card party in the church hall was arranged.

At the close of the meeting afternoon tea was served by the hostess, who was assisted in serving the dainty refreshments by Mrs. B. Thorne, Mrs. T. Wyatt and Miss Edith Smith.

HEAVY CASUALTIES REPORTED IN BOMBING OF ADUWA BY ITALIANS

massed by Premier Mussolini. Dedjazmach Youssef, Ethiopian Ras at Aussa, came with twelve thousand troops from Bati and Wollo provinces and Ras Kabbada came from Ifera with fifteen thousand warriors.

Dedjazmach Woadado came from Dessie with a force of twelve thousand men, as did Dedjazmach Enbakhro from Amhara Provinces of Sayent on the edge of the Danakil desert with a force of ten thousand. The Emperor's declaration came a day after the Government charged that Italy's Fascist legions had invaded Northern Ethiopia.

Feudal chiefs, dressed in lion skins, together with thousands of lesser warriors girded with swords and rhinoceros shields, listened with tense nerves and grim countenances to the solemn call to arms, believing the crucial moment in Ethiopia's national life had arrived.

Aides to the Conquering Lion of Judaea estimated that at least two million warriors of Ethiopia's ten million men, women and boys would answer the call.

The mobilization day dawned brilliantly and the hot African sun dispelled rain clouds enveloping the mountains and dried up the muddy streets.

The Emperor gave evidence of great emotion as he read the fateful words of the mobilization proclamation.

The booming of his lion skin mobilization drums, which had lain silent since Menelik routed the Italians at Adwa in 1896, echoed throughout Addis Ababa and were taken up by professional drumbeaters on the crests of mountains surrounding the capital.

Thence, the dramatic call to arms was sent reverberating across the roof of Africa, penetrating the frontiers of Egypt, the Sudan, Kenya and Somaliland, and re-echoing across the Red Sea.

Even along the borders of Italian Somaliland and Eritrea Haile Selassie's call was relayed by drumbeaters, town criers, and trumpeters, whose thundering signals aroused the Christians, Mohammedans, pagans and Jews, forgetting their religious differences, united in a determination to resist invaders.

Mounted couriers raced over arid deserts, across fields, and through ravines, heralding to nomadic tribes that the hour of war had struck.

ITALIAN LEGATION OBJECT OF MEXICAN RADICAL HATE

Mexico, D.F., Oct. 3.—A small group of demonstrators, shouting "death to Mussolini," stoned the Italian legation here last night, breaking several windows.

Police broke up the meeting, but made no arrests.

A demand to demand that Mexico break diplomatic relations with Italy in protest against that country's "provoking war" was started by the "Anti-Imperialist League."

with his car hooked to a freight train. After a meeting in Port Arthur tonight he will travel to Toronto, arriving there Saturday morning. He will go to Barrie for a meeting Saturday night and afterwards will go to Ottawa to spend Sunday.

Some inside history on wheat prices was disclosed last night by the Secretary of State Cahan at a Conservative rally in Montreal. He said that before the minimum price of 87 1/2 cents was set on September 7, the Government rejected a recommendation of the Wheat Board to peg it eight to ten cents higher.

"Mr. Bennett did not fix the price of wheat, minimum or otherwise," the Secretary of State said. "Legislation passed Parliament under which a Wheat Board was appointed which had the right to fix the minimum price at which they could buy wheat from the wheat grower without the grower being compelled to sell to the Board, leaving him perfectly free to sell in the open market at any price he saw fit."

The price of 87 1/2 cents a bushel, to become legal, had to be approved by the Cabinet, not by the Prime Minister alone, Mr. Cahan explained. "The Board suggested the price be set at from eight to ten cents higher than it was fixed, but the Cabinet Council felt it should not be fixed as high and finally the board fixed it at 87 1/2 cents and the Council approved."

J. S. Woodsworth, C.C.F. leader, has a busy day in Western Ontario, making four speeches. At London, he said he did not believe the next Government would be in power five years—"we in Canada are facing serious conditions in the next few years."

At Woodstock, speaking of war possibilities, Mr. Woodsworth said export of Canadian nickel should be prohibited. He had tried to obtain an embargo from Parliament but "there were too many people interested in International Nickel."

At Stratford, the C.C.F. leader declared: "I have never made any statement that the C.C.F. was not prepared to take office. In the present election there is a possibility we may be the official Opposition, but in any case we will exercise a great influence in the next Parliament. As soon as we have a working majority, we are prepared to take office."

Reconstruction Leader Stevens also had a busy day in Western Ontario. At Wingham, he said neither the Liberals nor Conservatives were prepared "to face the massed odds of Canada and say reforms must be made." The basic trouble in Canada was concentration of power, capital and credit in a few hands.

At Kincardine, Mr. Stevens said his party would accept no contributions "with strings attached to them" and no influence could be exerted for tariff changes. He said contributions were made to other parties' war chests in the hope of receiving tariff concessions after the election.

"Men have been fired from their positions because they dared to line up with me," the Reconstruction leader charged. "Has the time come when in Canada a man may not speak his political convictions?"

pilots of an air squadron which bombed Aduwa today.

The correspondent said there were fifteen planes in the squadron. He added that an Italian column crossed the Ethiopian frontier, headed toward Aduwa, at 6:30 a.m.—10:30 p.m. Wednesday, E.S.T.

Women and children were killed in the bombardment at Aduwa the correspondent said, and many houses were destroyed by aerial bombs.

He said the column penetrating Ethiopia from Eritrea had encountered advance Ethiopian troops about twenty miles north of the frontier and engaged them in a battle.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

PROMOTION AT

AYER'S CLIFF

Impressive Ceremonies Took Place at Annual Rally Day Services at Ayer's Cliff United Church.

Ayer's Cliff, October 3.—On Sunday evening a children's programme and promotion service was held in Beulah United Church by the Sunday School. The interior had been beautified by autumn leaves and flowers by the decorating committee, Mrs. G. R. Kendall and Miss Beulah Rexford. An excellent programme was prepared under the direction of Mrs. M. W. Johnston and Miss Mildred Paul.

Two choruses were rendered by the school, "Onward Marching" and "Lift Up His Banner."

Recitations were given by Richard Colt, Bruce Johnston, Barbara Beersworth, Phyllis Gothrop, Carol Pierce, Beryl Rexford, Pauline Gothrop, Barbara Brown, Phyllis Sherman and Beulah Smith. Rachel Whipple gave the interpretation of the "Beth's Rally Day" with motions.

A song, "We Are Little Builders," was given by the primary scholars and a motion song, "There Are Many Things We Love," was very prettily sung by Pauline Gothrop, Doreen Bell, Beverly Tyler, Murray Johnston, Robert Tyler and Jean Chadsey.

"Just a Couple of Buttercups" was nicely sung by Rachel Whipple and Beverly Tyler.

A two part song, "By Quiet Waters," was splendidly rendered by Lois Tyler, Irene Lavers, Merton Tyler and Malcolm Johnston. Smith, Phyllis Sherman, Carol Pierce, Evelyn Rollins, Iris Longway, Beulah Smith and Arlene Standish sang "Hosanna" and Miss Jessie Gibson and Joyce Rexford sang a duet, "Wealth of Bending Orchards."

The promotion service was the main item of importance when the various children passed through "The Gate of Promotion."

The welcome was given by Miss Arlene Standish and the song, "Open the Gate," was sung by Miss Jessie Gibson. Mrs. F. J. Brown, superintendent of the cradle roll department, bade good-bye to June Frappied, Barbara Brown, Priscilla Brown and John Lavers as they passed through the gate to the beginners and presented them with certificates.

Helen Crook, Robert Tyler, Jean Chadsey, Reta Richardson, Murray Johnston, Murray Baldwin and Ashton Gillingham were promoted from beginners to primary.

Beverly Tyler, Beryl Rexford, Arnold Whipple, Stanley Smith, Barbara Brown and Pauline Gothrop advanced from primary to juniors.

Miss Tyler, Reta Jones, Kathleen Collins, June Demers, Charlotte Whitcomb, Merton Tyler, Malcolm Johnston, Cyril Standish and Ronald Bell were promoted from juniors to intermediates and to them the right hand of fellowship was given by a senior intermediate, Frances Crook.

The superintendent, Mr. E. S. Beersworth, presented certificates to the last number on the programme was a Sunday Evening Camp Fire Scene. Seated around a camp fire, old hymns were suggested by some taking part. A special number asked for and which was much enjoyed was, "The Old Rugged Cross," sung by Leland and Wayne Mosher, who accompanied themselves with guitar and harmonium.

"Softly and Tenderly," was sung as a duet by the Misses Beulah and Joyce Rexford.

Mr. Beersworth, in his brief remarks, gave the names of those having a record attendance and it was found that five pupils have been present every Sunday during the past year. These were Miss Frances Crook, Kathleen Rollins, William and Wilmet Crook and Murray Johnston. Two have been present every Sunday but one, Evelyn Rollins and Cyril Standish.

Five were present all but two Sundays, Joyce Rexford, Helen Crook, Beryl Rexford, Fred Bell and Bruce Johnston. Merton Tyler has missed only three Sundays throughout the year.

YOUTH.

Julia A. Wheeler.

Lord, spare me youth,
Not youth of form or face,
I do not ask
Bright eyes, smooth cheeks nor grace.
That cannot be,
Too many years have fled
Of toil and care;
Too many tears been shed.
But spare me, Lord,
Young ears, and eyes to see
The Infinite,
In cloud, flower and tree.
In sun or star-flecked pool,
In glint of azure wing,
And in the wood thrush's song,
To hear an angel sing.

YOU PAY YOUR FARE WHEN YOUR SEAT MATE DOES NOT.

"Whilst up shooting last week," writes E. Leeds Nelson, an importing agent who handles English weaves in Montreal, "I met a railway conductor, and we naturally discussed the costly railway problem in Canada."

"He was very strong in his denunciation of the pass system. From him I gathered that it was a much more serious affair than anybody realizes. He spoke of one particular pass which read, 'For Mr. So-and-So and three others,' which meant that this particular passenger could give a free ride to anyone he wished. 'I really think that if the different organizations would have their representatives pay each their railway fare, and then apply for a refund afterwards it might curtail the number of passes and save a substantial million for the much pressed railways. The same thing applies to members of Parliament or even to yourself—dear, dear me. Blanket passes do nothing but encourage free rides. It would be better to cut them out altogether and let everybody pay full fare.'"

In this my correspondent takes a rap at me, but for his information I may say that it is now the custom of most newspapers to pay their full fare on a contra account for reading matter advertising, and this custom prevails everywhere.

As for members of Parliament, they are so fearful about solving the railway difficulty, afraid of doing justice to the people and the railways, that they should be deprived of their passes and pay their transportation out of their mileage travelling allowance of fifteen cents a mile, which they draw and do not pay out. Further, Mr. Nelson says, and his thoughts are tinged with the suggestion from a man who has collected fares for twenty years—

"I also think we should study motor traffic in England and regulate our own accordingly, and thus tend to increase the amount of traffic on the railways. It would tend to lessen the terrific and unfair traffic which railways have to contend with. 'The right-of-way by the railways was bought and is maintained by them, whereas the motor traffic on our roads is being built and maintained mostly through revenue gained from taxes on the people.'"

"There is also the question of municipal taxes all through the country, which fall heavily on public utilities, and must a second time be extracted from the citizens. Each little council makes the railways pay taxes. Your own town gathers thousands of dollars this way. Why not oblige all municipalities to stand on their own feet and look after their legitimate revenues instead of being milked by the railroads. It would help considerably to reduce the railway deficits we now have."

Other suggestions made by Mr. Nelson incline us to think he is a sincere Liberal, but we do not print political propaganda free during an election period.

STANDING PAT ON THE OLD RULES AND OLD PARTIES.

Someone takes exception to the subscription of Charles B. Howard to the electoral proclamation of Luke M. Knowlton, the Liberal candidate for Bromfield in 1837, just ten years before Confederation. "Why does he wish to emphasize a 'resident representative' when his opponent is equally a resident of this city," wrathfully, asks one correspondent.

Mr. Howard says he is under the impression that his opponent was chosen and sanctioned by Senator Paffville, a Montreal representative of the Conservatives, and that the Senator brought with him a cadaverous little person named Coffin, who delivered a requiem whilst attempting a benediction on the choice by this delectable pair of organizers.

In the short and simple annals of all elections there are so many candidates, and so many figures in the quintuplet party choice that the people will seek safety in either of the two old parties, thus playing safe.

TO COUNTRY CORRESPONDENTS.

Much space is given to our country and district correspondence, and we have to admit that a great deal of it is dumb. It should not be. The correspondent at Beaver Meadow, or Billing's Mills, has the right idea, but he says that as there are only twenty-eight English residents at the rear of Mount Orford he cannot do more than one good letter a month. That was what he said. He has been doing two a month under tuition from the principal of O'Sullivan's Business College.

No person can sit in the house and write live news. One has to mix with people, hear the details, and sift them. The lazy correspondent is the one who fills her whole space with "personals," whereas the good one only uses personalities to hang news on, to clothe that person with interest. What a man or woman does is of more importance than who he or she just calls upon. There must be a mixture of news and personals, with news predominating. We had a correspondent a long time ago in a large town who never thought it worth while to do the Town Council.

Another time a correspondent from a village wrote an account of a burglary of a store and post-office in nine lines. A staff reporter took the item, used the telephone for three minutes, and in his story that night he related how the rascals were chased for forty miles by a member of Parliament, were so closely pursued that they abandoned the stolen car, the goods from the store, and scurried away on a trail that was twelve hours' cold when the pursuers caught up to and found the goods—everything but the postoffice money. That filled half a column of thrilling news.

Recently there was a regatta and sailing races on a lake, and the correspondent was busy writing up a pink tea. Missed the boat race.

Houses were burglarized in another village, and the correspondent missed that.

Like the sub-editor described it, "That correspondent could meet a big news item on the street, shake hands with it, and not even recognize it."

EDITOR'S NOTE BOOK.

Hon. Dr. Manion, who is one of the leading members of the Bennett Cabinet, should be recalled from the field of oratory, as he is doing his party a positive injury. In Edmonton, a C.P.R. city built by the Canadian Pacific, though traversed by the poverty-stricken Grand Trunk Pacific, Dr. Manion said that he was satisfied that a plebiscite on the railway problem would be "defeated two, three or four to one." The Minister of Railways is clearly out of touch with the mind of the people. He is immersed in bureaucracy and in the caboose, and does not take time off to hear what John Citizen thinks of the Old Man of the Sea. Carrying the Doctor, in the event of victory, would be like drawing a trainload of empties criss-cross the continent. The people ask for complete riddance from railway ownership, so long as they have the guidance of rates and policies. But in the meantime there should be a guidance of language, and a refraining from any new and bothersome slogans which may prove embarrassing in the future. The doctor is not noted for foresight.

WHAT EDITORS SAY

THE CANDIDATE AND THE NEWSPAPER.

St. Catharines Standard.

The Liberal candidate, A. E. Coombs, in his address at Merriton, complained bitterly that the Standard had closed its columns to his writings. In this respect the Standard has treated Mr. Coombs in the same manner as all other candidates in the riding. When Mr. Coombs went to Merriton he had first to hire a hall, when he talks over the radio he must pay the fees, so why should he be allowed to use the "Letters to the Editor" column for the free dispensation of political propaganda?

Mr. Coombs has been given the same privileges by this paper as all other candidates. He was the first to appear in the "Who's Who" of the candidates and his meetings are fairly reported. The advertising columns are open to Mr. Coombs as to all others and only free propaganda in the letter column has been denied him. Even through this latter column he was given fair treatment and only when he started to write propaganda was the column closed to him, which treatment would have been given to any other candidate.

The Standard disagrees with the Liberal policies, but there has been no attack on Mr. Coombs personally. The editorial page has not gone out of its way to attack Mr. Coombs, but upholds the Bennett policy in which the paper believes.

Advertising is the mainstay of The Standard. There are no free advertisements. Merchants are given news stories when they have news value, and are not permitted to advertise their goods in the "Letters to the Editor" column. The same principle holds good for political candidates.

ABSENTEES MAY CAST VOTES ON ELECTION DAY

New Election Act Makes It Possible for Any Fisherman, Lumberman, Miner or Sailor Away from Home on Election Day to Present Himself at Most Convenient Poll and Vote.

Ottawa, Oct. 3.—To take advantage of the new provision in the Election Act for absentee voters, persons must present themselves at polling places in the constituency in which they are located at the time of the election, it was explained today by Jules Castonguay, chief electoral officer. No special polls will be provided.

The new Election Act makes it possible for any fisherman, lumberman, miner or sailor away from home on election day to present himself at the most convenient poll and vote. After the ballots are counted, the returning officer telegraphs the absentee vote to the returning officer in the voter's home constituency so it may be counted.

It might happen particularly in the case of lumbering and mining operations that a considerable number of men would be working many miles from an established poll. It was suggested special polls might be provided but there is no provision in the Act for this.

Wives who are away from home with their husbands cannot vote unless they are actually engaged in one of the four industries. For example a wife keeping house for her husband at a lumber camp could not cast an absentee vote but if she were one of the camp's cooks, she could. Captains on boats often make the boats their homes during the navigation season. The wife in such circumstance could not vote except in her home polling constituency.

FAVOR USE OF SANCTIONS IF ITALY ADAMANT

British Labor Party Backed by Overwhelming Majority Policy of Urging Use of Military Sanctions if Necessary to Restrain Italy's East African Campaign.

Brighton, England, Oct. 3.—The Labor party yesterday backed with an overwhelming majority its executive committee's policy of urging use of military sanctions, if necessary, to restrain Italy's East African campaign.

The vote, taken by a card ballot at the party's annual conference, showed 2,168,000 for sanctions to 102,000 against.

FASCISM IS "GREATEST DANGER FOR WAR"

Brighton, England, Oct. 3.—A telegram from the Italian Socialist party, asserting "present events show Fascism is the greatest danger for war and a public enemy," was read at yesterday's session of the British Labor party conference.

The telegram, which was sent from Paris, paid tribute to British labor for backing a collective peace system.

NOMINATE TEN INVENTORS FOR U.S. "HALL OF FAME"

Man Who Invented Safety Pin and Claimants to Invention of Steamboat on List.

New York, Oct. 3.—A list of ten inventors, who claim credit for creating everything from steamboats to safety pins, has been submitted by the public for inclusion in New York University's "Hall of Fame," it was announced last night.

Foremost on the list are Robert and Cyrus Hall McCormick, credited with inventing the reaper; Dr. Richard Jordan Gatling, who built the first machine gun; and Lewis Edson Smith, inventor, whose accidental discovery of the vulcanizing process by spilling sulphur and rubber on a stove during an argument, is included on the list with the two claimants to the invention of the steamboat—John Fitch and James Rumsey.

Walter Hunt is nominated for inventing the safety pin—an accomplishment which took him fifteen minutes and netted him but $400.

The nominations are completed with John Ericsson, the great Swedish-born inventor, whose creations culminated in the "monitor," the famous "cheese box on a raft" which saved the Union navy from destruction by the Confederate Merrimac during the United States civil war.

The college of electors, which votes on the names submitted by the public every five years, said results of their poll would not be known until early in November.

Edinburgh, October 3.—The Scottish capital will again have a royal representative at the Armistice Day celebration on November 11. The King has appointed his son, the Duke of Gloucester, to act.

ANTI-SEMITIC DRIVE RENEWED BY NAZI PARTY

Jewish Notaries Deprived of Rights and Students' League Dissolved as Nazi Government Continues Fight Against "Reactionaries."

Berlin, October 3.—A relentless weeding-out of Jews from public and business life stimulated today the anti-Semitic drive in the Third Reich.

All Jewish notaries who had been permitted to continue their businesses on the grounds that they were old trench fighters, it was learned, have been deprived of their offices by a circular order.

Reichsfuehrer Hitler's newspaper Voelkischer Beobachter announced that the Koesener Student League—Germany's greatest student organization which had defied Government demands that it cleanse its ranks of non-Aryans—had "dissolved itself."

The newspaper reported: "Reactionaries lost their last stronghold among students with the end of their organization."

The anti-Semitic campaign had ebbed somewhat before these manifestations and after enactment of Hitler's laws by the Reichstag during the recent Nazi party convention at Nurnberg, depriving Jews of citizenship.

JURY DECLARES FORTIER DEATH IS ACCIDENTAL

Dr. Romeo Gregoire, of Asbestos,
Exonerated of Blame in Connection with Fatal Motor Car
Accident on Brompton Road—
Mystery of Murder of New-Born Baby Girl Unsolved.

A verdict of "accidental death" in connection with the tragedy that claimed the life of Gilles Fortier on September 8th last, and of "murder by person or persons unknown" in the case of the eight-day-old baby girl found floating in the St. Francis River at Bromptonville had been rendered by juries under Coroner Leonidas Bachand today.

The inquest into the baby girl murder was brief. It was held at Bromptonville last evening and lasted only forty-five minutes. Provincial Police detectives have so far failed to solve the crime, the various clues which they followed having led to naught. The report of Dr. Jean-Marie Roussel, medico-legal expert, of Montreal, was tabled. It indicated that the baby girl had died of suffocation, but had been dead before entering the water.

Dr. Romeo Gregoire, of Asbestos, was exonerated of responsibility in connection with the death of sixteen-year-old Gilles Fortier, killed on the Brompton road on the evening of September 8th last when struck by the doctor's car. The jury deliberated nearly half an hour before rendering their verdict. Dr. Gregoire declared that he was driving at about thirty to thirty-five miles an hour when the accident occurred. He was inside the city limits when he struck young Fortier.

Two cars were coming in the opposite direction, he said, and the glare of their headlights blinded him. He suddenly noticed three persons walking along the road, directly in his path. He said he swung his wheel to the left in an effort to avoid striking the people in front of him. He heard a crash. He did not see Fortier fall on his car. "I did not notice him until I had stopped my car and walked around to the front."

Dr. Gregoire travelled 1,067 feet before halting his car. All the time that he travelled the boy was hanging from the front of his vehicle. "What astonished the police and myself is the distance that you travelled before stopping," commented Coroner Bachand.

The doctor replied, "After the accident, I lost my head completely. It was only after I had travelled a short distance that I realized I had to stop."

Miss Isabelle Rancourt, seventeen years old, who resides on the Brault Farm, was walking with Gilles Fortier at the time of the accident. She testified that there were no cars coming from the direction of Brompton when the mishap occurred. "Gilles and I were talking. My young sister was walking behind us. Every now and then we would look back to see if any cars were coming."

Mr. Bachand. "Some cars may have been coming from the direction of Bromptonville and you did not notice them, being engaged conversing with Gilles?"

"How fast was the car that struck Gilles going?" the girl declared.

Other witnesses were Rita Rancourt, Constable L'Heureux, Aime Poulin and Dr. Lionel Groleau, of this city.

RECORD NUMBER OF BIRDS SHOWN AT WINTER FAIR

All Available Space Has Been Taken Up in Poultry Building to Accommodate Nearly a Thousand Exhibits—Largest Number of Birds in Ten Years.

The finest poultry show ever held in this district is an attractive feature of the four-day Provincial Winter Fair and Horse Show which was inaugurated in this city last night. All available space has been taken up in the large poultry building to accommodate the many splendid birds—eighty-seven different breeds—which are on exhibit. In fact, owing to lack of room many pens are accommodating two birds instead of one.

There are 966 birds on exhibit, double last year's total and the largest assortment in ten years. There are birds of every description and every color—big and small and medium; all splendid specimens of poultry, the pride of the breeders from the Eastern Townships and different parts of Quebec and Ontario provinces.

Howard S. Wright is superintendent of the Poultry Department. This unique exhibition, a colorful feature of the great show that Hon. R. B. Bennett opened last evening, is held under the auspices of the Sherbrooke Poultry Association.

M. W. Miller, of Bromes, is one of the oldest and largest exhibitors to take part in the local shows, and this year he has a wonderful display of birds. The biggest birds in the building are exhibited by J. A. Woodward, of Lennoxville, and J. E. Fontaine, of St. Guillaume. The former has a large White Holland turkey, and the latter an Emment gander—each weighing twenty-eight pounds.

George Booth, of Waterloo, owns the largest brood turkey on exhibit—a bird that tips the scales at twenty-four pounds. The smallest bird in the building is owned by H. Parker Wright and is a rose-comb black bantam. H. Parker Wright is a proud exhibitor indeed. He is comparatively new at the game—for he is only nine years old. This is the second year that he is exhibiting and he is full of enthusiasm. He is a lover of bantams, he confided to a Record representative yesterday afternoon, and he has three of these small, beautiful birds showing.

An attractive exhibit of White Flemish Rabbits—rabbits that are as white as snow—has been entered by Frank Hubbard, of Sherbrooke.

An attraction in the Poultry Building every afternoon and evening is a demonstration of wax plucking—the newest way of dressing fowl. This demonstration is staged by the Dominion Livestock Branch of the Department of Agriculture and is especially instructive.

George Robinson, of Actonville, poultry husbandman, began the judging of poultry yesterday morning and expects to complete his task by tonight. He has been highly impressed shown this year, not to mention the large number of entries that feature the present exhibition.

Principal exhibitors include J. E. Fontaine, St. Guillaume, showing water fowl, turkeys, ducks and geese; George A. Booth, Waterloo, showing different breeds of birds and ducks; Arthur Goodhue, of Lennoxville, water fowl and a few registered birds; J. Lagasse, Windsor Mills, Plymouth Rocks, Rhode Island Reds and Chanteclers; J. T. Levasseur, Three Rivers, Rhode Island Reds, Brahmas and Leghorns; Herman Hadlock, Iron Hill, fowls and water fowls; M. W. Miller, Bromes, large exhibit of dressed poultry; Plymouth Rocks and Rhode Island Reds; James A. Woodward, Lennoxville, turkeys, ducks and fowls; Ernest Taylor, Sherbrooke, Golden Wyandottes and Columbian Wyandottes; Frank Stalker, Kingsbury, Brown Leghorns; S. H. Salisbury, Bromes, Plymouth Rocks and Rhode Island Reds; Gerry R. Musher, Rock Island, Rhode Island Reds; Wright Brothers, Buff Rock, White Leghorns and Dark Cornish; C. J. Wright, Sherbrooke, chairman of the poultry committee of the E.T.A.

Will Whitecomb, Hatley, Orpingtons and rabbits, and Powell Snell, Granby, bantams.

The detailed results of the events on last night's programme follow: Handy hunters, nine entries: 1. Judy, exhibited by Miss Nancy Murray, Georgetown; 2. Miss E. Viau, Montreal; 3. B. J. Kruger, Montreal; 4. Miss E. Viau, Montreal.

Single roadsters, 14-2 to 15-2, five entries: 1. Polly Frisco, Miss E. Viau, Montreal; 2. Silver Lady, John Peters, Magog; 3. Lady Howard, Bad C. Howard, Sherbrooke; 4. Major W. Whitecomb, Hatley.

Saddle horses owned in Sherbrooke district, five entries: 1. Lady of Love, John Peters, Magog; 2. Evelyn Peavine, Dr. L. R. Boisvert, Sherbrooke; 3. Silver Lady, John Peters, Magog; 4. Jubilee Girl, W. H. Fuller, Sherbrooke.

High steppers over 15-2, three entries: 1. Lady Humewood, J. W. Nesbitt, Montreal; 2. Glen Ridge, J. W. Nesbitt, Montreal; 3. Seaton Stranger, W. Scott Draper, Compton.

FOURTH TROOP LADS MEETING.

Members of the Fourth Sherbrooke Troop of Boy Scouts are meeting at seven o'clock tomorrow evening in their headquarters in Trinity Church Hall.

The Scout Master and assistants hope that every member of the troop will be on hand for this session.

PUPILS HOLIDAYING WHILE TEACHERS DELIBERATE.

Class rooms in the Protestant schools of the city and throughout the Eastern Townships are deserted today. The pupils are holidaying while their teachers are in Montreal attending the annual three-day session of the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers of Quebec.

This body of teachers is composed of approximately 1,800 members, which includes teachers from all Protestant schools of the province.

Morning and afternoon sessions will be held and a large number of important educational matters are to be given consideration.

FINAL TRIBUTE TO MRS. E. GIROUX.

The closing scene in the life of a kindly lady was enacted in the Protestant cemetery at Windsor Mills yesterday afternoon just as the day was gradually drawing to a close and signs of twilight began to gather when the mortal remains of Mrs. Elizabeth Giroux, of this city, were tenderly committed to their last resting place.

A large gathering of sorrowing friends stood silently about the flower-banked grave as the casket was slowly lowered while Rev. Canon H. R. Bigg, rector of St. Peter's Church, Sherbrooke, said the committal prayers.

Family prayers were offered at the late residence, 16 Montcalm street, at two o'clock yesterday afternoon by Rev. Cecil King, curate of St. Peter's Church, following which the cortege proceeded by motor to Windsor Mills, where the funeral service was held in St. George's Anglican Church.

At the church the remains were received by the rector, Rev. O. Berry, and by Canon Bigg. The service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Berry, and Canon Bigg read the lesson.

Two hymns, "Abide With Me" and "Rock of Ages," were sung by a vested choir and the Nunc Dimittis as the body was being taken from the church.

The bearers, all old friends of the family, were Mayor A. W. Sykes, Dr. C. A. Tanner, J. G. Harley, J. W. Quinn, T. J. Proulx and Arthur Noble, all of Windsor.

The numerous and beautiful floral tributes and expressions of sympathy received by the family testified to the high esteem in which Mrs. Giroux was held and the general sorrow which is felt at her passing.

Possessed of a kindly nature, a sincere friend and sympathetic neighbor, Mrs. Giroux will be keenly missed by those who were privileged to enjoy her friendship.

Her going leaves a vacancy in the family home which time can never fill, yet with the sorrow of the parting there is the satisfaction of a life well spent and the memory of a loving mother to be cherished by her children.

HOW ELECTION NEWS IS GATHERED
It is the duty of the Record to collate the election returns and forward them to the distributing office of the Canadian Press in Montreal, from whence they go to every daily newspaper office in Canada.

As this work is done solely in the interest of the public, and no charge is made for the service or the information, all deputy returning officers in charge of each booth are expected to hasten the despatch of the poll results immediately when they are counted and known to them.

In the passing years some deputies do not realize that the duty of haste and accuracy has with them, whilst an occasional few are downright stupid about the need for speed.

The Bell Company and the tries: 1. Erif, Earl Spafford, Knowlton; 2. Lady Helen, B. J. Kruger, Montreal; 3 and 4, Miss E. Viau, Montreal.

TWO INJURED IN AUTO SMASH AT AYER'S CLIFF

Mrs. Adele Gaumont, Montreal, and Mrs. Leonard Ellis, Berlin, N.H., Confined to Sherbrooke Hospital — Car Hit Loose Gravel and Overturned in Ditch.

Two persons were severely hurt on the Ayer's Cliff-Magog highway yesterday afternoon when the automobile in which they were passengers struck a section of loose gravel and overturned in the ditch.

The victims were Mrs. Adele Gaumont, seventy-eight years old, of Montreal, who suffered a fractured right shoulder, and Mrs. Leonard Ellis, thirty-one years old, of Berlin, N.H., who has a severe cut on her head. Both were rushed to the Sherbrooke Hospital by ambulance. Their condition this morning was reported as satisfactory.

Mrs. Jack Brown, of Berlin, N.H., was driving the automobile when the accident occurred. Striking a section of loose gravel, the car swerved suddenly and Mrs. Brown lost control. The vehicle ploughed into a ditch and overturned.

C.P.R. telegraph offices offer close co-operation in careful collection of all the returns in each of the electoral ridings in the Eastern Townships.

Even today some deputy returning officers are in arrears—one is Asbestos particularly.

TRAVELLER HAD UNCOMFORTABLE NIGHT.

The Night Officer at police headquarters put the telephone receiver back on the hook and turned to the two constables who had invaded the snugness of his den. "Here, men," he said, "I have a job for you."

It was exactly midnight. Outside, a cold autumn wind was blowing. "Just got a message that an automobile, filled with merchandise, is parked on the Brompton road a short distance beyond the city limits. It looks as if some piece had been robbed and they are carting away the merchandise. You better run down and see what is doing."

The two constables, slipping into warm top-coats, jumped into the police car and sped away in the direction of the Brompton road.

They soon found the parked car. It was stationed on the side of the highway. The stabbing ray of a flashlight disclosed it was filled with merchandise.

But the stabbing ray of a flashlight disclosed something else—inside the car his coat collar turned up, sprawling uncomfortably, a man was sleeping.

The light awoke him, dazed him. He sat up, blinked. He heard the constables' order to come out—and he came out.

"What's all this about?" one of the constables asked.

The stranger, shivering, asked the constables the same question.

It looked like the beginning of an argument.

"A man can't even get a decent night's sleep around here," the stranger, evidently very disgruntled, muttered.

It took several minutes before the story was straightened out. The man, producing identification papers, said that he was a commercial traveller from Montreal. He had had his car repaired yesterday, and the cost of the repairs had taken his last penny. He was broke—flat broke. "I couldn't go to a hotel," he explained, "so I thought I'd sleep in my car."

"All right," the law agreed—"sleep in your car. You're welcome to that."

The constables went away. The commercial traveller re-entered his automobile to resume his interrupted—and cold—sleep.

CUBS SHUT-OUT TIGERS BEHIND ACE MOUNDSMAN

Lonnie Warneke Allowed Only Four Safeties as Chicago Scored Three to Nothing Victory Over Detroit in Opening Game of World Series Yesterday.

Detroit, Oct. 3.—They had to see them to believe them, the Detroit Tigers of Mickey Cochrane, and now it is up to Tommy Bridges, one of the finest curve ball pitchers in the American League, to stop these impudent Chicago Cubs if they are ever to be stopped short of baseball's world championship.

Detroit listened to all those stories of Charley Grimm's young upstarts, of their twenty-one game winning streak that salted away the National League championship in the stretch, of the fire and dash, ease and nonchalance of youth, but you cannot expect people who fought "Dizzy" Dean and his St. Louis roughnecks through seven bitter games only a year ago to be worried by a lot of youngsters, even if the youngsters are good.

But now the Tigers know, and unless Bridges can do something today against thirty-six year old Charlie Root, the oldest man on the Chicago club, the 1935 World Series will head for its three-game session in Chicago tomorrow with the American League champions hanging on the ropes.

There is a terrific suspicion abroad that they are ripe for a long count right now, but no one will come out and say that definitely until Bridges, who beat "Dizzy" Dean last fall in St. Louis, has had his fling.

Tommy may not get around to it today, because the weather may be blowing alternately hot and cold, dry and wet, for the past couple of weeks, has turned weepy again. The skies looked like the Tiger worshippers—about to break into tears at any moment. Showers through the night, and more forecast today, left some possibility of a postponement before the battle shifts to Chicago.

If that happens the clubs will stay right here until the second game has been played.

With one fall to their credit, thanks to the brilliant pitching of Long Lou Warneke, now the undisputed hurling champion of Arkansas, the Cub kids are on top and plan to stay there. They knew Warneke, pitching brilliantly, would shut out the Tigers at St. Louis, by three to nothing, allowing but four hits, handcuffing the sluggers who tore the American pennant race apart.

The Chicagoans have their fingers crossed today, however. There may be trepidation—if these young, high and hard-riding baseball cockades know anything that approaches concern—in the hearts of the Cubs today, but the Tigers probably will never know it from anything they can see. There is another awesome portent for them on baseball's wall. In the five World Series in which the Tigers have played, they have never won the first game. In four of them they did not win the last game, either.

They lost yesterday, before slightly less than 45,000 backers who rate their ball team higher than Boston does the Cabots and the Lodges, and they lost their own Arkansas hero, Lynwood "Schoolboy" Rowe, pitching ball that might have been good enough against any but a Warneke at his best.

Rowe's control was perfect. He fanned eight. He made a bad throw for an error in between a first inning double by Augie Galan, a sacrifice and another single by Gabby Hartnett, the balance wheel of the youthful crew. It means two runs and the ball game, although Frank Demaree slapped a fast ball far up into the left field seats for the third run, just for good measure, in the ninth frame.

The Tigers might as well have stayed home for all the impression they made on Warneke. The lanky veteran, a big cut of tobacco bulging one cheek, his face as expressionless as Joe Louis' and just as cold, calmly put the crusher on them as thoroughly as ever the negro drilled his left hook home. Lonnie's speed ball sang over the corners, his crackling curve and screwball dipped around the edges.

Except for one spell of wildness in the fourth stanza Warneke had the Tigers "topping" most of their shots with his sharp-breaking "screwball." He climaxed his superlative performance by equalling a World Series record with eight assists. Rowe, employing a sharp-breaking curve and a fine change of pace, allowed only seven hits, but was the victim of his own as well as his team's jittery defence. The "Schoolboy" got better as the game went along, but it did not do him any good as the Tigers failed to seize any of their scattered scoring chances.

Warneke made his first World Series triumph a shutout after finishing the regular pennant season with seven successive victories. His last game before the series was a two-hit shutout of the Cardinals, so that he has yielded only six hits in his last thirteen innings against the two clubs that were battling it out just a year ago for the world championship. It was a job that justified all the hopes of the Chicago rooters and convinced the experts that Warneke will mean an edge for the National Leaguers no matter how the series goes.

Between the first and last innings the Cubs were not particularly fearful to Rowe. The "Schoolboy" well known dislike for the kind of chilly breezes swirling through the park may have contributed to his shaky start, but he quickly settled down to match Warneke's best for the next seven frames. Rowe had the Cubs swinging lustily at his curves most of the afternoon, but they could not afford to let go from the heels after gaining the lead. They had men on base in every inning except the fifth and seventh.

The Tigers were charged with three errors as compared with five misplays in the opening game a year ago, but their performance was not calculated to stir the enthusiasm of the crowd. The American Leaguers were not only erratic on defence but they did not exhibit anything resembling a batting punch. The nearest to a scoring shot came in the second chapter when Fox took a toe-hold and belted one of Warneke's fast balls against the left field screen. The drive came within a foot of clearing the barrier for a home run.

The official box score for yesterday's game follows:

SIDELIGHTS ON FIRST GAME OF SERIES YESTERDAY

Detroit, Oct. 3.—Al Schacht, who used to team with Nick Altrock, leading the band which from mid-morning yesterday until game time played for the bleacherites, many of whom had been in line for more than sixteen hours. The roar which greeted the Tigers as they raced onto the field for their war-up...

Photographers, more photographers and then more movie men...

First gathering in front of the Tiger dugout and then the other...

The white car which drove to the front of the Bengal dugout...

Discharged a number of persons, among them George Raft, the actor, and then moved smoothly out.

"Babe" Ruth, looking plump and more prosperous than ever...

Talking to newspapermen in the press box, a big cigar in his mouth, a white carnation in his lapel standing out against the brown-checkered topcoat and cap he jauntily wore.

Frank J. Navin, Tiger president, coming slowly into the office...

His very grin when an office girl asked him how he "liked the game" and his short "...Not so good"...

He undoubtedly felt better when he saw the statistics showing 47,391 persons paid they way into the park for the opener.

MRS. MOODY DEFEATED IN MIXED DOUBLES PLAY

Berkeley, Calif., Oct. 3.—Henry Culley, of Santa Barbara, and Nancy Lyle, of England, scored a 6-4, 6-4 victory over Mrs. Helen Willis Moody and Bud Chandley in a fourth round mixed doubles match of the Pacific Coast tennis championships yesterday.

Mrs. Moody, whose triumphal return to tennis heights this year at Wimbledon over her international acclaim, played well as did her opponent, but they were outclassed by the Culley-Lyle team.

Miss Lyle, English Wightman Cup team member, followed her doubles victory with a third-round win in women's singles over Margaret Osborne of San Francisco, holder of the Canadian singles title. The scores were 7-5, 3-6, 6-1.

Key Stammers, also of the English Wightman Cup squad, advanced to the fourth round in women's singles with a 9-7, 6-2 conquest of Gussie Raegenor, of San Francisco.

BOWLING

UNDEFEATED BROWNS LEAD KAYSER LEAGUE RANKING

The Browns assumed leadership of the Julius Kayser House Bowling League by scoring their second straight three-string victory last night. After blanking the Maroons in the opening game of the schedule last week, the Browns kaisminded the Purples last evening to keep their record intact.

The Violets jumped into the runner-up berth, a single string behind the pace-setters with a two to one decision over the Oranges, while the Blues and the Pinks are today on even terms in third place. This tie was created when the Blues won the odd game in three from the Pinks last night.

Three entries, the Blacks, the Whites and the Maroons, are deadlocked for fifth position in today's standing with three wins and a similar number of losses. This situation arose from the following results: Blacks took two strings from the Grays; Maroons won three strings from the Greens, and Reds won two strings from the Whites.

Armand Bourguignon, captain of the Blacks, captured individual honors. His single-string total of 180 and three-string aggregate of 453 were "tops" for the evening's activities. The duel for this week's "consolation" prize was between Roy Coombs and F. Goupil, the latter underscoring Roy by a margin of eight pins.

Charles B. Howard His Short Address.

Good times and good Business in this country of ours have been synonyms of Liberal rule in Canada, ever since William Lyon Mackenzie broke the tentacles of the Family Compact.

The disturbances of fiscal affairs have been continuous for five years. The establishment of a Bank of Canada to control exchange was but a $5,000,000 flea bite in a $200,000,000 loss of trade and a continuous loss in railway management.

Conservatives may try to conserve, but Liberals are go-getters and builders of commerce.

The bread line was in evidence first in 1921, when the Liberals took hold of the Government and steadily built up the greatest era of prosperity that Canada has ever known.

Canada's trade this year is but $1,400,000,000, and it had crossed the $2,500,000,000 figures when the people decided to change horses in the face of a depression.

It will be the Liberals who will start that rebuilding in 1935, as soon as Mackenzie King is returned to power. He is a performer, not just a promoter.

Radicals talk and destroy; Socialists protest and preach; Reconstructionists never construct. But the Liberals quietly go out and create business by friendly trade and barter.

I believe in the ability, the integrity, the wisdom and sincerity of the Rt. Honorable Mackenzie King, whose forbears triumphed over the Family Compact, and opened Canada to the world trade as a great nation.

The Liberal technique is to work gradually, soundly, solidly, just as all profitable trade grows. They know trade and commerce, and do not try to lambaste their prospective customers with bombastic threats of force. The steady, sound, solid trade built under Liberal Government is the true Canadian and the regular British way, just as we Lumbermen are doing to-day.

There are no dramatic elements in business, and mighty little Romance. It's dogged that does it.

The Liberals of England built Britain with shops and trade, with tax-free food, whilst the Tories drank tea, shot pheasants and hobnobbed with the great and the near great. The Socialists aired their fancy doctrines in Hyde Park, as they are doing yet, as they are doing in Canada.

The Liberals to-day represent action, whilst the Conservatives have been trying with reaction and indulging in mongrel theories.

There is a time and a place for every line of thought and action. To-day we need Mackenzie King and his government of action.

I proudly say that I am with Hon. Mackenzie King, The Man of Action.

Charles B. Howard.

Charles B. Howard

asks your support for his re-election as the Liberal representative for Sherbrooke City and County, under the Leadership of Mackenzie King, a lineal descendant of the first Great Reformer who undertook a Crusade for the Freedom of the People from Dictators and Rough Riders.

Mackenzie King inherited his character and his liking for Responsible Government by the people for the people.

Lasting, permanent Reforms, tried and true, will take us out of the Slough of Despond and place us on the Road to Prosperity.

Our Stumbling Railways and crippled Transportation system will be treated with sane and sensible business system, yet preserving their national aspirations.

We bring to you a unified political party, one which in national unity will return to Canada all its industries in stability and strength—thus giving back to every man his job, his self-respect, his self-confidence.

That I guarantee you—if on the 14th you Vote for Mackenzie King and who asks you now and who regrets that time does not permit a personal call.

Charles B. Howard,

WINTER FAIR and HORSE SHOW

The Vegetable Kingdom and Proof of Fruit.

The Horse Show of an Evening is a bower of Beauty — but in the afternoon you can picture to yourself the most luscious fruits that ever graced an exhibition in these our Eastern Townships.

Or, you can look over the Poultry Building and see all the Birds of every feather — the pure breeds of great variety, each bird preening its feathers and cackling or calling for your admiration.

It is a Winter Fair such as has not been dreamed of — ever before.

All for one admission 25c

The Crowds — have you ever felt the thrill of the crowds — the gay crowds whom you may see, and yourself feel unseen as a spectator? It's a glorious place to go.

There's much to talk of—not to speak of a confidential chat on "How are the elections going?" There are folks from everywhere. It is as though you make a week's tour of the Eastern Townships and saw the people worth while.

Today — tonight — and every day and night up to the week-end—and you never before gained so much for a little quarter dollar — that we promise you.

Hon. R. B. Bennett opened the Show — and he complimented the President and Directors on a show that had only begun to show.

Be sure you do not miss it—for if you do you'll be sorry for a twelvemonth.

It is just a two-minute walk from the Arena to the Farmers' Delight — their biggest and best in Fruits and in Vegetables.

Thirty seconds across from the Arena to the Poultry Show.

Sherbrooke citizens yesterday extended a royal welcome to Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister of Canada, when he came here for the dual purpose of opening the Sherbrooke Winter Fair and Horse Show and of addressing an overflow crowd at the 54th Armory in the interests of the Conservative party.

At Magog, where he spoke late yesterday afternoon, the Premier was met by a cavalcade of some twenty cars from Sherbrooke, headed by motorcycle police, and all accompanied the distinguished visitor on the last lap of his journey.

On arrival in Sherbrooke, a short parade was held through the principal streets, after which the Premier was the guest of a number of miers was the guest of Dr. W. W. Lynch and a number of supporters at a private dinner at the Magog House.

The first item on the evening's programme was a visit to the Exhibition Arena where Mr. Bennett gave the opening address. This was followed by a visit to the central committee room, from which point a new parade was organized. The party then proceeded to the Belvidere street Armory, where several thousand citizens from all parts of the district greeted the Prime Minister and his associates.

Following the meetings, the Premier left at 10:15 p.m. for the Maritime provinces.

VANDALS BROKE INTO HOUSE AT NORTH HATLEY

Robbers Caused Considerable Damage and Made Quite a Haul at Summer Cottage of I. O. Blake.

North Hatley, Oct. 3.—The Blake Cottage on the lake front at North Hatley, right in the midst of the most important summer colony in this favorite suburban district of Lake Massawippi was broken into last week. This beautiful summer home had only been closed a few days, and I. O. Blake and his family had hardly gotten settled in their New York home when the vandals broke into the place, did considerable damage and selected the things they fancied. It was just the sort of burglary which might easily be solved and traced if there was any competent police protection. This should be accorded to summer residents if the town is to preserve its popularity among the best people. The residents are up in arms, for such robberies recur every season, and few are ever traced.

The Blake family have been residents of North Hatley for many years. Last spring the homes of Mrs. H. L. Bond, of Baltimore, and that of Rev. Dr. Powell, of the same city, were broken into and hundreds of dollars worth of damage was done, much of it just pure malice. And it is not long since the home of Mrs. Alex Hutchison was badly smashed up, and a lot of valuables were stolen.

Something should be done, and the residents are asking the Mayor to appeal to the Mounted Police. They claim that no attention is paid to their reports by the Provincial Police unless a cash payment is made. That is, they must buy justice and protection.

The Village Council has appointed a night watchman, but the thievery is chiefly done by the rogues in the early morning or the evening twilight, the villains creeping along the shore by boat. It is suggested and may be carried out that a vigilant committee, acting in close co-operation with the farmers and outside residents be organized, and equipped with good stout whips and ropes. The trees will do for posts.

The guilty fellow would not be given the chance which was given to the thief who was in refuge at St. Elie d'Orford, but his fingers left him to go and get a warrant for his arrest. When he returned the rascal had loaded up his car with as much loot as it would hold and had vanished.

MANY ENJOYED CHICKEN PIE SUPPER

The Willing Workers of St. James' Church held their annual chicken pie supper in the parochial hall with an extra large attendance. The hall and tables were tastefully decorated with an abundance of autumn leaves and evergreen, which were donated by Mrs. Fred Tinsley, while Mrs. Staes arranged them. Besides the delicious chicken pies, the tables were laden with all sorts of good things to eat and were presided over by members of the society, who were assisted by the young folks, with Mrs. Staes as general convener.

A delicious fruit cake made by Mrs. C. B. Gittens, was drawn for by Mr. Jack Patterson and Mrs. Husband, necessitating a draw. Mrs. Husband was the lucky winner. Following the chicken pie supper a service was held in St. James' Church for the induction of Rev. F. B. Staes. Archdeacon Charters, of Sutton, took the service which was very impressive. Rev. ST. LOUIS SOCIETY WOMAN IS NAMED IN KIDNAPPING

Mrs. Nellie Muench Identified as "Finger Woman" in Abduction of Wealthy Doctor.

Mexico, Mo., October 3.—Mrs. Nellie Muench, St. Louis society woman, averted her gaze here as a state's witness identified her in court as the "finger woman" in a 1931 abduction. Adolph Fielder, 515-pound former justice of the peace, was positive in his identification. The witness who appeared here with a body guard of deputy sheriffs, armed with sub-machine guns, testified Mrs. Muench had frequented a St. Louis resort he formerly conducted, and had appeared there with Angelo Rosegrant, Bart Davis, Felix McDonald, Tommy Hayes and Tommy Wilders, alleged participants with Mrs. Muench in the kidnapping of Dr. Isaac Kelley, wealthy St. Louis specialist.

Fielder said that Mrs. Muench, during meetings in the resort, mentioned several possible kidnapping victims, and when Dr. Kelley was decided upon, said "she could get the information to get Mr. Kelley out at night."

The day opened with a choral celebration of Holy Communion in St. Augustine's Church, the celebrant being Rev. Sidney Wood, the priest-in-charge, who was assisted by Rev. H. O. N. Belford, B.A., Rural Dean. A helpful devotional address on the ministry of women was given by Rev. William C. Dunn, L.S.T. of St. Felix-de-Kingssey.

Immediately after the service a business meeting was held in the church hall, Mrs. Callis, the Deanery president being in the chair. Various reports being presented, all of which showed good progress.

Lunch was served at the parsonage by the members of the Danville branch, and was followed by a meeting which was attended by over fifty church members of Danville, Richmond and Melbourn, Drummondville, Kingsley and Asbestos. Addresses on various departments of the work of the society were given by Miss Twose, of Sherbrooke, educational secretary, Mrs. Sims, of Grand' Mere, Diocesan Deanery secretary, and Miss Stevens, of Lennoxville, secretary of Junior branches. INSTITUTE AT MILBY STUDIED SCHOOL PRIZES

Immigration and Back-to-the-Land Movement Also Debated at Regular Meeting of Milby Women's Institute.

Milby, October 3.—The regular meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. B. Urwick with Mrs. Kendall as joint hostess. The president, Mrs. E. A. Orr, presided and the meeting was formally opened by all repeating the Club Women's Creed in unison, after which a discussion was held regarding school prizes to be given in Huntingville, Milby and Ives Hill schools.

Mrs. R. W. S. Nubrown gave a paper on "Immigration," suggesting that all Institutes work together on the question of "Back-to-the-Land Movement," which proved to be very interesting. The roll call was answered by each member naming their favorite author and making comments on same.

A card party was discussed and Mrs. Raymond, Mrs. Yates and Miss Deware were named to act as committee.

A paper was given by the convener of education and better schools on "Farmfolks Go Musical," after which Mrs. Raymond read a paper on "Highlights of National Women's Committee Work." Marconi

The Greatest Name in Radio

Marconi is more than a name. It is radio itself . . . and has been since the dawn of the century when the then unknown young inventor startled the world with the modern miracle of "Wireless Telegraphy."

Radio has travelled far since that memorable date. Today it knows no boundaries for the genius of Marconi has spurred it forward step by step in all its branches, piling climax upon climax and crowning them with the masterpieces of engineering, design and performance now offered for your 1936 entertainment. There are AC and DC Receivers in both Console and Mantel Models, each an undisputed leader in its class because it is Marconi inspired and Marconi built, from start to finish.

All Models from $69.95 to 239.50

BUILT... not merely assembled... by MARCONI

The more you consider this statement the more significant it becomes. For it means that the genius of Marconi has gone into the design and actual manufacture of every unit in each Marconi Receiver. The huge Marconi plant, fully equipped, and staffed by specialists, and backed by the matchless research facilities of a world-wide organization, BUILDS Marconi Receivers.

Which is one explanation of Marconi leadership through the years; one reason why you can always depend on a Marconi Receiver for full-time performance.
