FLOODS DEVASTATE QUEBEC

THE BRIDGE AT ST. JOSEPH DE BEAUCE USELESS IN FLOODS

Beauceville Hard Hit, Damage In Millions; 1200 Abandon Homes

BEAUCEVILLE, Que. — (CP) — A balmy, spring-like thaw brought flood devastation to parts of Quebec province during the pre-Christmas weekend.

Floods hit hard and fast at Beauceville on the Chaudiere River, at St. Rene de Goupil on the Matane River, at Matapedia at the junction of the Restigouche and Matapedia rivers and at St. Raymond on the Ste. Anne River.

The worst was at Beauceville, 60 miles south of Quebec City.

About 1,200 persons—a quarter of the population—abandoned their homes when the bloated river went on a wild, eight-hour rampage Saturday. More than 200 homes and business places were under icy water and battered by huge ice floes.

No one died, but the damage amounts to more than $2,000,000. A bleak Christmas is expected.

OTHER DAMAGE

Fifty homes were flooded at St. Raymond, 35 miles west of Quebec City, when the Ste. Anne River jumped its banks. Basements were knee-deep in water, but there is no immediate estimate of damage.

At St. Rene de Goupil, 235 miles north of Quebec City, the first flood of the Matane River in 11 years caused an estimated $100,000 damage. Twenty homes were evacuated temporarily, and road transportation was disrupted.

At the Gaspé Peninsula town of Matapedia near the New Brunswick border 225 miles northeast of Quebec City, the Restigouche and Matapedia rivers reached a flood height of eight feet. Many residents of the town of 2,000 left their homes until the water subsided.

It was called one of the worst floods in Matapedia's history. A CNR train was halted by washed-out rails, and passengers had to hike a half-mile to taxis to complete their trip.

River levels at all points were reported Sunday night to have returned to near normal. But the water left shambles everywhere. "Most likely to be heard clearly in Russia."

WARNS AGAINST PRIDE
 As he did last Christmas, the Pope affirmed man's right to self-defence, but he called on the governments of the world not to be misled by pride in a race for arms supremacy. The cost of an arms race is ruinous, he warned.

"Such quantities of material, such sums of money derived from savings and the result of restrictions and toil, such expenditures of human labor taken away from urgent need, are consumed to prepare these new arms.

Without calling them by name, the Pope endorsed the North Atlantic alliance, the United Nations and Western disarmament proposals, saying:

"The divine law of harmony strictly imposes on all rulers of nations the obligation to prevent war by means of suitable international organizations, to reduce armaments under a system of effective inspection, to deter whoever should aim at disturbing the peace with the most fully guaranteed mutual dependence between the nations which sincerely desire it."

In a clear reference to Russia's successes with space missiles, he cautioned:

"Let those who observe today's competition, therefore, know how to reduce the facts to their true proportions, and, while not rejecting approaches aiming at peace agreements which are always desirable, let them not permit themselves to be misled by records, often of very short duration, nor to be too much influenced by fears skillfully evoked to win the interest and support of others who may be glad to be connected with a class of man among whom the 'homer faber' (the foundry man) takes precedence over the 'homo sapiens' (the thinking man)."

"May the advantage, then, to the Christian man who, making use of the liberty of spirit . . . recovers in the objective consideration of events that peace and stability of soul which had its source in the divine spirit."

The pontiff delivered his message from his throne in the Vatican's Consistorial Hall after receiving the Christmas greetings of the College of Cardinals. Twelve of the cardinals were present.

Pope Pius, 81, strong of limb and clear of voice, delivered his speech at the end of a year during which he gave audiences to almost 1,000,000 persons.

ere's almost annual spring inundation, were caught by surprise. Few expected such a sudden rise.

The mayor was asleep when the flood struck. He leaped from his bed to find a foot of water on the floor of his home. He escaped in a rowboat with his son, and the rapidly-rising flood tide almost submerged his single-story home.

Part of the town was under 10 feet of water. Boats and canoes were used to rescue several trapped residents. One elderly couple was found half-unconscious in a smoke-filled room after the water smothered their stove.

Telegraph poles swayed before the water like trees in the wind. Ice blocks 25 feet long and six feet thick bludgeoned wooden homes, smashed windows and hampered rescue craft.

One ice cake floated into the parish church and scattered pews like bowling pins.

Then the water began to recede, leaving the community almost buried in ice. House-high piles of ice blocked some streets. Cars on the main avenue were encased in ice and mud.

The mayor's home was a total loss. His wife went back to see the damage, and found the Christmas tree askew and everything ruined. Similar scenes were being enacted elsewhere as families started to clean away debris.

Bulldozers were put to work. The town settled down to a cold Christmas. The homeless sought shelter in nearby towns. Roman Catholic nuns set up an emergency hostel in the town's normal school, located on a high point of land.

Missile Defence 7 Years Off

OTTAWA (CP)—Effective defence against the Intercontinental Ballistic Missile is at least seven years away, informants here say.

The ICBM travels some 5,000 miles in 20 minutes and at the top of its trajectory reaches a height of some 600 miles above the earth. The Russians claim to have test-fired one successfully.

The Canadian defence department has given top priority to the project aimed at finding a means of locating, tracking and intercepting an ICBM.

Canada is co-operating closely with the United States in this field. Defence against the missile will involve long-range radar which would not only detect the weapon but automatically trigger the anti-missile which would shoot it down.

Authorities say the period between perfection of the ICBM and the defence against it will be one of deadly peril for the West. And they now indicate that this period of danger may last for about five years.

Possession of an effective missile by Russia will mean that the location of U.S. missile bases will have to be so completely secret that they could not be knocked out in a surprise rocket attack.

Defence officials say they believe the West will lead Russia for the next three years in the field of Intermediate Range Ballistic Missiles—that is, those with a range of about 1,500 miles. They also say they believe Britain will disband its bomber force in three years when it obtains missiles in quantity.

What this means for Canada is difficult to judge. Presumably, Russia would be able to scrap its bomber fleet in the same time, leaving Canada without any purpose in producing a super-sonic jet interceptor.

However, Defence Minister G. R. Pearkes has said Canada likely will need an interceptor for the foreseeable future.

Peaceful Spirit At NATO Meeting Says Diefenbaker

OTTAWA — (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker Sunday told the Canadian nation that the peaceful spirit of the blessed season was with last week's NATO conference, "even as we discussed these grim realities which still stand between the free world and lasting peace."

These grim realities, which he outlined in the Commons Saturday, involved "colossal and gigantic" defence expenditures by the free world unless East-West disarmament agreement can be reached.

In his Sunday Christmas broadcast over CBC radio and television networks he elaborated on Saturday reports on NATO and extended his season's greetings to the country.

An hour after the broadcast he was on a train bound for Saskatoon where he will spend Christmas with his mother. Boxing Day he will visit his Prince Albert, Sask., home and afterwards he travels to the Bahamas for a brief vacation.

He said it was a happy coincidence the NATO summit conference in Paris was held just before Christmas. It was, in every sense of the word, a peace conference.

UNITY STRENGTHENED

"We faced the realities of international living in a spirit of informed realism; there was no suggestion in our counsels of defeatism or despair; we added to our strength by cementing our unity; and we face the future, whatever it may bring, without illusion and without fear—in confidence, faith and determination to preserve the peace and our freedom, come what may."

His warning Saturday in the Commons was the second this month that defence expenditures may mount in the next few years.

NATO Bases Ready In 18 Months

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme commander of allied forces in Europe, said Sunday he expects six to 10 squadrons of 15 missiles each to be placed in NATO countries.

He said the bases should be ready in a year to 18 months and the missiles and equipment will cost about $30,000,000 to $40,000,000 a squadron.

Norstad was interviewed on NBC-TV's Meet the Press program, filmed in Paris.

"In some countries, for many reasons, it may be more difficult to do this than in other countries," he said, "but I am satisfied that the military requirement can and will be met under the formula agreed by the 15 heads of government."

Asked if he thought the nations that accept the missiles risk retaliation, Norstad replied: "I think that in the event of a war that all of the countries of the alliance and perhaps some countries not of the alliance run the risk of attack."

He said, however, the missiles will "make the consequences of war far greater" and thereby add incentive to avoiding war.

Defence Minister G. R. Pearkes indicated Dec. 5 defence spending will have to be increased. Spending in the current fiscal year is $1,722,000,000, one-third of all federal expenditures.

The prime minister said this spending will become more colossal unless there is disarmament.

After his Commons report opposing Leader St. Laurent, in one of his most moving Commons speeches, said it is not sufficient to state objectives. What was necessary was actual conduct to give effect to the words.

CCF Leader Coldwell said his heart sank as he listened to Mr. Diefenbaker "because I could find nothing concrete that gave us any hope of peace."

The conference, which sought unity among the North Atlantic Treaty countries in the face of Russia's missile developments, adopted a two-way approach. The NATO chiefs of state approved the United States idea of basing intermediate-range missiles in Europe, and at the same time called for further disarmament negotiations with the Russians.

Russia already has indicated that it is not interested in a NATO-proposed meeting of foreign ministers to discuss disarmament. Soviet leaders called instead for a special United Nations session, or some other full-scale international conference.

The Eisenhower-Dulles broadcast will be carried at 9:30 p.m. AST by CBS-TV and all four major radio networks. ABC-TV will carry the program on film at 11:30 p.m., and NBC will show it at 12:30 a.m. Tuesday.

MEETING SCHEDULED

Eisenhower's schedule today included a meeting with the National Security Council, at which some aspects of the NATO meeting undoubtedly were scheduled for discussion.

Dulles told reporters on his arrival back here Saturday that the Atlantic pact meeting "took all the essential decisions for which we had hoped."

In response to questions, he said he did not feel "discouraged or unhappy" because the conference accepted in principle only the idea of establishing U.S. missile bases overseas.

He added: "We got everything we hoped for in that respect, in fact somewhat more."

Members of the committee lurked nearby and counted 923 persons passing by. Passerby No. 924 gave the carton a kick and it bounded into the street. A member of the committee gave chase, recovered the city's $10 bill, and the committee members went home.

The movement, the dispatch said, describes the Dec. 15 plebiscite re-electing Perez Jimenez to another five-year term as "the joke of the century."

Pope Asks Mankind To Halt Arms Race

VATICAN CITY — Pope Pius has called on mankind to halt the arms race lest it lead to disaster and endanger the fate of "the earth itself." He implied that he endorses the West's proposals for controlled disarmament.

In his 19th annual Christmas message to the world, the 81-year-old pontiff counselled Christians Sunday not to fear Russia's current triumphs in the Sputnik field.

Such records, the leader of the Roman Catholic Church declared, are "often of very short duration."

The speech, beamed to a host of lands by the Vatican's powerful new radio transmitter, is believed to be the most widely broadcast message in history.

A Vatican source Sunday night reported jamming on one of the papal radio's short-wave frequencies "most likely to be heard clearly in Russia."

As he did last Christmas, the Pope affirmed man's right to self-defence, but he called on the governments of the world not to be misled by pride in a race for arms supremacy. The cost of an arms race is ruinous, he warned.

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Parents who take their children to see Santa Claus at a downtown Los Angeles store may recognize the twinkle in Santa's eyes. He's movie comic. Little, bald, goggle-eyed Chester has been at the Santa business for nine years, and he loves it.

"You can't get tired when you see the wonderful, fresh faces of those kids," he says. "I talk to about 400 a day, sometimes as many as 500. But they're all interesting."

SOME ARE SHY

"Some of them hold back and are afraid to talk to me. Some get on my lap and can't say anything. I tell them to be sure to write me a letter and tell me what they want."

"I remember myself how excited I was about Santa Claus when I was young, how I tried to stay awake on Christmas Eve to see him. A child loses a lot when he loses his belief in Santa Claus."

I met Chester at his station and went to an executive office to talk, after he put up a sign explaining that he had gone to feed his reindeer. He unwrapped his mane of white hair, removed his beard and unbuttoned his red jacket.

HOT COSTUME

"I take a break about every hour," he explained. "No, we don't have a Santa Claus union; it's just my agreement with the store. I don't get tired, as long as the kids keep coming. But this outfit is so hot that I have to get out of it now and then."

Chester, born 71 years ago in Oskaloosa, Iowa, started in show business as a vaudeville monologist in Des Moines. His career took him through every phase of show business, including stock acting and clowning with the Al G. Barnes circus. When the circus wintered in Venice, Calif., in 1912, Chester got a job with Mack Sennett's new studio.

He first found fame as one of the original Keystone Kops, has made hundreds of pictures since, including Greed, Modern Times, The Great Dictator and The Beautiful Blonde from Bashful Bend. Recently he was a regular in the Eddie Mayehoff TV series.

FRIEND'S IDEA

"A friend of mine had been doing it and recommended it to me," he said. "Nine years ago I heard that a store needed a Santa and I applied. I've been doing it ever since."

"It works out fine, because the picture business is always slow this time of year. Things don't pick up until after the tax season in March."

Chester said he earned as much as $3,500 a week as a comedian. I asked him how much he was making now.

"Not very much," he said, "but I'm enjoying it."

Fire Endangered Large Building

FRONTENAC STREET FIRE — Lt. L. P. Harton and members of the Sherbrooke Fire Department are shown shortly after emerging from the smoke-filled interiors of Morin's Shoe Repair shop and Dion's Coffee Shop early Sunday afternoon when a fire threatened the entire Strathcona block near the corner of Frontenac st. and Dufferin Ave. No one was injured. (Record Photo by Gerry Lemay)

Heavy smoke and water damage was caused to three business establishments by a fire which broke out in the Strathcona Block opposite the Court House yesterday afternoon and forced the residents of eight upstairs apartments to evacuate their quarters temporarily.

The three firms suffering loss were Sear's photographic studio, Dion's restaurant and Morin's shoe repair shop.

The actual damage from flames was comparatively light.

Luc Morin, operator of the restaurant, noticed the flames in the wall at the rear of his establishment adjoining Sear's studio shortly after three o'clock and turned in the alarm by telephone. Immediately upon arrival, the first detachment of firemen sent in a call for assistance, seven trucks in all answering the two alarms.

The heaviest damage was reported by Sear's Studio, owned by Miss Geraldine Hebert, where large quantities of sensitized paper and films in the dark room and an enlarger were a total loss.

Most of the damage to the Dion and Morin establishments was to the rear walls and ceilings.

At one time it was feared that the flames might spread to Milford's floral shop situated in the same building and hundreds of plants were removed to another florist's nearby.

Residents of the upstairs apartments removed most of their belongings, fearing that the entire building might be affected but before the all-out signal was given at 5.15, most of them were able to return.

Fire-fighting operations were under the direction of Captains Eugene Fortier and Henri Donahue and Lieutenants Leopold Harton and A. L'Heureux.

Last night about eight o'clock, a call was received for a fire in a woodworking shop, operated by la Menuiserie de Sherbrooke, on Versailles street, near the C.P.R. station.

As the two-storey wooden building and its highly flammable contents represented a special fire hazard, a second alarm was turned in. Firemen managed to confine the fire to the second floor of one section of the property.

Hold-up Hearing Of Louis Charles Set For Friday

Louis Charles, 26, of Sherbrooke, charged with $13,000 armed robbery of the Provincial Bank in Windsor Mills last Wednesday was remanded to Friday for arraignment in Court of Sessions before Judge Joseph Marier.

A formal charge was laid against Charles when he appeared before Justice of the Peace Jean-Marie Gregoire Friday afternoon.

Provincial Police have not recovered the missing $3,000 of the loot taken in the hold-up but are continuing their investigation. About $3,500 of the money was found last Thursday when Charles was arrested in a Courcellette St. apartment. The remaining $7,000 was uncovered hidden in two bundles beneath the beams of a bridge at Milby.

Holiday Season Advice Offered By Safety Head

Even the best drivers must be alert and cautious if they are to avoid accidents, according to Geo. B. Kenney, President General of the Province of Quebec Safety League. Frequently, fatalities result because the good driver does not consider the other man at the wheel who may be tired, intoxicated or just over-celebrating.

While everyone agrees that it takes two to create a collision, few people stop to realize that it also takes two to avoid one, Mr. Kenney added. During this time of year, when traffic accidents are at their peak, every driver should approach a highway or an intersection convinced that every other motorist is attempting to commit manslaughter or suicide.

This concern about the "other driver" should be evident throughout the Christmas-New Year's holiday season, Mr. Kenney said. At Christmas parties or entertaining, safety is promoted when hot coffee or some other alertness beverage is served as the parting drink. The friend who calls with Christmas gifts or who offers a "lift" home, will also be helped if he is persuaded to stop for a quick coffee-break.

It is safer to place your life in the hands of professional drivers and use taxis, busses and street-cars, Mr. Kenney concluded, but on those occasions when it is necessary to drive yourself, be equipped to battle the safe driver's three main enemies; alcohol, drowsiness and speed. Stay sober, be alert, drive slowly and watch the other driver, and you have a good chance of living to enjoy a Merry Christmas.

City Suffering From Epidemic Of Minor Thefts

Sherbrooke Police Chief Edmond Moreau declared today that an increasing number of minor complaints are being received from householders in the city about thefts from milk bottles and broken windows.

Furthermore, there has been a marked increase in the number of thefts from parked automobiles, most of them left unlocked or unattended he said.

Some few weeks ago Chief Moreau issued a statement regarding vehicles left parked on the streets at night and which had not been locked. In this statement he warned that people had no one but themselves to blame if they left an unattended vehicle with the motor running otherwise unlocked.

The first statement was issued after a similar outbreak when dozens of reports were turned in from citizens who reported items of clothing and equipment missing from their parked vehicles.

According to the chief's earlier statement, persons leaving their cars parked on the street at night should check that the ignition is off, the handbrake applied and the door and trunk locked.

Power Without Purges

As Russia's Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev, has moved steadily to purge or banish his rivals for absolute power, the world naturally has drawn parallels with the relentless climb of the late Joseph Stalin to full dictatorship.

But sober experts on the Soviet Union are raising major doubts that Khrushchev can in fact wield one-man power as Stalin did.

For one thing, he seems to lack the mental and physical makeup of the true dictator, for all his evident ruthlessness. Stalin presented to his enemies a forbidding mien that inevitably stirred fear. He seemed to keep himself in the grip of an iron discipline.

Khrushchev exhibits no such commanding authority. Too often he allows himself to be seen by key Soviet leaders and others for what he is — an aging peasant who likes to get drunk and horse around. In one breath he tells Americans "we will bury you." In the next he suggests a rocket duel with us to see who can fire a missile farthest.

Responsible elements in the Kremlin and other high councils, not eager to become involved in the inevitable mutual ruin of nuclear war, may see danger in the leadership of such a man. But the big second point is that for all his brushing aside of rivals, Khrushchev is not really purging in the Stalinist way.

He tends to lop off the top and leave the spreading tree beneath. Thus, though Marshal Zhukov is ousted, many in the Red Army who support him are still around.

The same can be said of his action against Malenkov, representing the bureaucratic-managerial class, and Molotov, representing the Soviet diplomatic corps. Many of the supporters still hold positions in the Soviet structure.

More than one expert says the bureaucrats and so-called technocrats now are the ruling class in Russia. Some note, too, that the intelligentsia, comprising writers, artists and the like, also looms larger than in Stalin's day. Stalin used the secret police as a powerful weapon against all rivals, including the army. Khrushchev humbled the police when he crushed his first rival, Beria. So today the army, like other rising groups, is not so easily managed.

To batter down all this competing power would require a blood purge of unexampled proportions. Many doubt that Khrushchev will ever launch it. They question if he has the power, the temperament, the energy at 63, or the will to defy an outraged world opinion.

A New Air Competitor

For four years the DC-7, with a top cruising speed of around 360 miles an hour, has been the blue ribbon plane of commercial aviation. But now it has a real competitor, the British turbo-prop Bristol Britannia.

Of course, by 1959 the jets now building will capture the championship of the commercial air. But meantime, Great Britain, humiliated by the grounding of its ill-fated jet Comets, can bask in new glory.

The Britannia, going into service soon on foreign lines flying the Atlantic and the route to Mexico, has been breaking speed records right and left. Not long ago one clipped 23 minutes off the fastest Atlantic crossing, making the run in eight hours and three minutes from New York to London. Another lopped two hours off the New York-Mexico City course.

Britannias are not new in international service, but they are new to North America. With their top cruising speed of 385, they mark a clear forward step. The British deserve congratulations for getting back into the competitive swim.

Film Industry Woes

One of the major film studios has cut its payroll numbers by 25 per cent, and there are dire predictions from Hollywood of worse things to come at all the big studios. Across the country movie attendance has fallen, with here and there bright exceptions.

Naturally enough, the blame for this falls heavily on television. More and more the impresarios of entertainment are coming to the conclusion that it isn't the standard TV fare which is causing the damage, but the old movies.

They've got the customers sleepeyed from staying up, and the movie moguls red-eyed from worry.

Some inquiries indicate, however, that TV doesn't deserve all the blame. A lot of people who don't watch "summer stock in an iron lung," as Shirley Booth calls TV drama, still have stopped going to the movies.

When the makers and distributors find out why, they may start to repair their shaky position. In this increasingly crowded era, it could be just the inconvenience — the traffic, the parking problem, etc. More likely, they aren't producing what the people want to see.

British Research Projects

Factories Run Without People

LONDON (CP)—Imagine a factory so completely mechanized and automated that no human labor would be required.

Imagine a machine that could recognize a man's handwriting and the sound of his voice and turn them both into printed words.

Such projects sound fantastic and yet Britain is convinced ways can be found to make the necessary electronic devices. Either by public enterprise by private industry, a massive army of scientific brainpower has been organized to keep the country at the forefront of industrial research.

In Canada, the Gordon economic commission found during 1956 hearings that Canadian industry's main weakness was in a lack of time and effort spent in basic research and development.

In many cases where an industry was controlled by United States investors, the research was done by the parent company. This didn't allow Canadian engineers and scientists much scope for industrial effort unless they transferred to the parent organization. Canada's effort in this field appeared to be concentrated mainly in the National Research Council and various other government bodies.

But here in Britain industry and government link hands to put every available ounce of energy into the scientific field. One company showing the Canadian trade mission through its plants, said that of its total 50,000 employees, some 10,000 did nothing but research.

"Britain earns over $12,000,000,000 a year from the export of goods and services," says the government's advisory council on scientific policy. "Any expansion of the economy and any increase in our standard of living will depend largely on the development of new processes and new products which we can sell in overseas markets."

All told, British industry and government employ about 200,000 persons on research and development and lay out a total of about $1,000,000,000 a year for this purpose.

Research goes on in government laboratories, in universities, and in a large group of laboratories supported by various trade associations and by the industrial companies themselves.

This work has paid off in many ways. It has kept its scientific brainpower at home, providing it with challenging problems. It has enabled Britain to overcome nuclear problems to harness the atom effectively for commercial power. It has provided her with some of the best electrical brain machines in the world.

These big electronic computers have completely mechanized huge payroll offices, making the whole process of computing a man's hours of work, his pay rates and the issuance of his cheque a mere machine process.

But Britain is not stopping there. In government laboratories attempts are being made so to harness the giant computers that do more and more factory operations, releasing human labor.

Scientists feel certain that much will be accomplished in this field, eventually reducing manufacturing costs.

And they think it is not too fantastic to believe that electronic machines can be made to replace the stenographer and secretary, having a machine "recognize" handwriting and speech and transfer them on an automatic typewriter to the printed page.

Jacoby On Bridge

PLAY SAFE IN RUBBER BRIDGE

Take a look at the North and South hands only. The deuce of hearts is opened against your three no-trump contract. How do you play the hand?

If the game is match point duplicate you should probably let the heart ride around to your jack and go out after everything that is not nailed down.

In rubber bridge you should go right up with the ace of hearts and insure your contract except against all four diamonds in the East hand.

Your second play is a club to your ace and then you take the diamond finesse. If it loses you will take nine tricks made up of five diamonds, two clubs and the major suit ace.

If it wins you will also take nine tricks because you will be too smart to return to your hand with the ace of spades in order to try the diamond finesse a second time. East might just have been cagey enough to hold off with the king and if you tried this play your whole hand would collapse.

Therefore you should continue to play safe for your contract by leading a low diamond from dummy and conceding a trick to the king.

Why did you take the ace of hearts at trick one? Look at all the hands and see what might have happened. East would take the king of hearts and shift to the queen of spades. Assuming that West remembered to unblock with the king you would lose three spades, one heart and one diamond.

WORLD POPULATION
(Buffalo Evening News.)
There are 2,800,000,000 people in the world today. In 1750 there were only 700,000,000 and 100 years later only 1,200,000,000. There are more than twice as many as there were 70 years ago. The upward spiral is so explosive that the world population is growing 17 percent, each decade compared with six percent a century ago. The peak hasn't been reached.

FRECKLES AND LEGENDS.
(Saint John Telegraph-Journal.)
An East Bathurst woman has an unusual memento of her younger days—a bottle of rain-water that she gathered on May 1, 1924. Originally she had intended to use the water in making soap, for time-honored proverbs attributed wonderful medicinal and other qualities to the first rain to fall in the month of May. One such tradition, it is recalled, was that the first May rain would remove freckles.

Of Maestro

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP) — The life of 72-year-old Alexander Wallace has been dominated by a single musical creation—Handel's Messiah.

Founder and conductor of the 130-voice New Westminster Oratorio Society, Mr. Wallace will present the Messiah for the 25th time during the Christmas season.

As he has done for many years, he will sing in parts of the Oratorio. Only twice since 1932 has he failed to present the work. That was in 1933 and 1934 when he was ill.

"I suggested I quit and another conductor be appointed, but the group wouldn't hear of such a thing," he said. "They suspended activity until I was well enough to take over again."

First presentation by the group was in 1933.

AN OLD FASHIONED CHRISTMAS

How I long for an old fashioned Christmas
Like I knew in the dear yester-years
A day when loved ones gathered back home from far and near.
A day when little children met round the Christmas tree
And shouts of happy laughter made the old house rock with glee.

We'd go to church on Christmas morn and hear the choir boys sing.
Glad hymns of Adoration to greet a new born King.
When "Peace on earth, good will to man" Once more would truly reign.
And loved ones who are far away would be back home again.
And when the shadows lengthen, and lights are turned down low,
We'd gather 'round and sing the dear old songs of long ago.
We'd speak about the old days and friends we used to know
As we watched the flickering shadows as the firelight burned down low.

fashioned cheer.
Leaving happy memories to last throughout the year.
A day when loved ones gather back home from far and near.
And children's laughter fills our hearts with Merry Christmas Cheer.

Emily Millar, Drummondville.

THE GUIDING STAR

The Christmas Star is shining, the night is cold and chill,
But the shepherds saw a glory around a lonely hill.
And Angel voices speaking, bid them rise, and go
Down the hill to the village, to a stable rude and low.
For in that lowly stable in a manger, rude and bare
A mother placed her baby — a boy, with golden hair.
And still, down through the ages we follow the guiding star,
Back to old Judea, and that tiny Babe so fair.
For He was the hope of ages, our hope for years to be.
The Christ who was sent to save us and who died to set us free.
So, today we would remember the birthday of a King.
As Christmas carols fill the air and choir boys sweetly sing.

Emily Millar, Drummondville.

UK Economic Hopes Better Next Year

LONDON (CP)—Britain has all the appearances of preparing a major assault on the Canadian market.

Her ability to export is considered by experts to be better now than it has ever been.

Government defence orders have been reduced to release more machines and labor for export trade. Powerful industrial plants have sprung up from the ashes of the Second World War. Goods are being turned out on a scale never before attained in peacetime.

"Undoubtedly, we will produce more goods in 1958 than ever before," says Sir David Eccles, Britain's trade chief. "We have our eyes on Canada."

A big selling mission is being accumulated to move into Canada early next year. Industrialists are talking about advertising campaigns and new Canadian sales and servicing offices. Manufacturers who never before sold in Canada have suddenly become interested.

Typical is the comment of Sir Cecil Weir, chairman of the British Tabulating Machine Company, who told a reporter: "We've never had much to do with the Canadian market. Now we're definitely going to open up offices. We're going to get at it straight-away."

What has caused this sudden interest in Canada? At least two factors are apparent. First is the interest aroused by the British tour of the Canadian trade mission and Prime Minister Diefenbaker's suggestion of a switch of 15 per cent in Canada's imports from the United States to Britain.

The second is that Britain's industrial production—strength of her economy—now has reached a stage where the flow of goods appears to be larger than can be absorbed by her traditional markets.

She must therefore strive to increase her sales abroad or face the prospect of a shutdown of some of her machines and a growth in unemployment.

Britain not only is looking to Canada for increased sales but also to the United States and other countries. But the feeling among her leaders is that Canada provides the best immediate chance of obtaining a substantial increase.

Though on the over-all picture she exports more than she imports from the world, Britain traditionally has faced a deficit in trade with Canada. Last year Britain purchased some $800,000,000 worth of Canadian goods, but sold only $484,000,000 worth to Canada.

In 1958, the situation may tend to turn a different way. Britain has no hope of completely balancing trade with Canada, but she is confident she can narrow the gap. Her chances of doing so in 1958 appear better than ever.

Canadian importers have tended to criticize British exporters, complaining of slowness in the delivery of goods, of lack of British interest to fashion goods specifically for the Canadian market, of inadequate servicing of equipment by British technicians once intricate machines are purchased and transferred to Canada.

Thus, before the Canadian trade mission set out for Britain Nov. 21, the Canadian trade department filled in the background for members by making this comment:

"U.K. traders are frequently less than thorough in their activities in the Canadian market. . . there is a slackness of effort discernible . . . packaging leaves much to be desired where consumer goods are concerned. . . That criticism must have hit its mark, for when the mission toured Britain it found surprising improvement. That improvement may be even more apparent in 1958."

B.C. Food Supply Shortage
Giving Experts Headaches

By JONATHAN COLE
VANCOUVER (CP) — The increasing problems of feeding a swiftly growing population are giving headaches to British Columbia's economists and agricultural planners.

The province has never been able to take care of its food needs from domestic supplies with any particular comfort. Now, the experts say, a pincer movement threatens to close in on B.C.'s food-producing areas and make them more insignificant.

The most obvious side of the pincers is the population increase. Estimates of the B.C. research council are that the present population of 1,300,000 will double within 20 years. The province already imports most of its meat requirements. Such a population increase would require the import of several foods in which the province now is self-sufficient.

Urgency of the problem was drawn to the attention of the Gordon commission on Canada's economic prospects by Prof. W. N. Drummond of the Ontario Agricultural College and Prof. William MacKenzie of the University of Alberta. Now, B.C.'s planners are trying to work out a solution.

Tom McDonald, secretary of the B.C. division of the Community Planning Association, blames the reduction of farming land on subdivision for urban development, mainly in the two richest areas in the province—the Fraser and Okanagan valleys.

The rich dairy lands of the Fraser now produces 47.8 per cent of B.C.'s total agricultural output. The Okanagan, famous for its fruits, produces about 17 per cent.

Subdividers Drummond and MacKenzie estimated that some 14,000 acres have already been lost to farming in the Fraser valley. They indicated that another 40,000 acres of the valley's 436,000 acres of farmland are being lost.

A drawing on a turkey took place, with Mrs. M. B. Quillinan the winner.

Carols were sung, rounding out the pleasant party.

Beauty Queen,
Two Men Slain

GLASGOW (AP) — A young beauty queen and the two men in her life were found shot dead inside a parked car on a quiet Glasgow street Sunday night.

The body of dark-haired Joyce Meikle, 18, was slumped in the front seat beside television executive John Halley, 38, who lay over the steering wheel.

In the back seat, with a pistol beside him, lay the body of 18-year-old James Wands, an army cadet home on Christmas leave. He and Joyce had been sweethearts for years.

All three had been shot in the head, and police theorized that Wands pulled the trigger in each case, topping off the double murder with his own suicide.

They said Wands became jealous of Miss Meikle, winner of a recent beauty contest, and Halley.

U.S. And Russia Share Atom Data

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Willard F. Libby said Saturday night the United States has taken the first step toward an exchange of information with Russia on atomic fallout.

Libby, an atomic energy commissioner, said that Oct. 5 the AEC sent to Russia five samples of soil from different parts of the United States, giving the American analysis of how much strontium 90 it contains.

Russia, he said, is expected to send similar samples of Soviet soil, although it hasn't done so yet.

Libby explained that the purpose of the soil exchange is to determine the methods of analysis employed by each country so reports exchanged among them can be more clearly understood and analyzed.

Mike Todd Profits By Mistakes
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mike Todd, a man who profits by his mistakes, is staging a do-it-yourself party for the first anniversary of the Hollywood opening of Around the World in 80 Days.
On Dec. 22, 1956, the movie opened at the Carthay Circle theatre with one of Hollywood's most memorable premieres and parties. And last Oct. 17 Todd staged a similar party in Madison Square Garden—a party that has disillusioned him.
"I found that 18,000 people, plus 30,000 crashers are too many to handle comfortably for a party," he explained.
That's why uncounted numbers of Hollywood personalities will receive do-it-yourself party kits for private celebrations in their homes. The kits have hams, caviar, six bottles of champagne, plum puddings, cakes and even a long-playing album by a 100-piece orchestra.

Parents' Night Is Held At Sutton High School

SUTTON - "Parents' Night" was a pleasant, helpful occasion for parents and instructors at the Protestant High School, giving fathers and mothers an opportunity to inspect the classrooms and to hold talks with the principal and her staff regarding the school and home problems of the pupils. The parents received a most hospitable welcome and were then given free access to the various classrooms, where they viewed displays of the work of each class. A special feature also seen was two tables of toys collected by the children to be passed on to the Junior Red Cross as gifts for other youngsters at Christmas. The visitors met Dr. Harper, the principal and the other instructors and were served tea by members of the Domestic Science class. Decorations in the Christmas theme gave a festive air to the event.

Farm Forum Activities
IVES HILL AND DRAPER'S CORNER
The Ives Hill and Draper's Corner Forum were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Hughes on December 18. Eighteen members were present. The discussion reports were so varied that another decision will have to be reached as some understood it meant every family in the community and others thought only English speaking families. The business after the Green Leaf, minutes and other Forum literature were read, dealt with the Forum Christmas party to be held at Ives Hill Community Hall on December 28. Mrs. Stewart Cairns, Russell Nichol and Albert Cairns formed the committee. An invitation was given by Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Hughes to meet at their home in Lennoxville on January 6. Crokinole and 500 were played at several tables. All were glad to have Mr. and Mrs. Pomeroy present again after a holiday in Baltimore. Mrs. H. Hughes assisted Mrs. Burton Hughes in serving lunch.

The Doctor Says
Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.

GRADUAL, GENTLE THAWING IS BEST FIRST AID FOR FROSTBITE

In extremely cold weather the blood vessels near the surface of the body contract. This is nature's defense against too much coldness; it helps to prevent large quantities of blood coming in contact with the cold and chilling the entire blood stream.

There are difficulties, however, connected with this process since if the cold contact with the skin is continued, it may lead to frostbite. This has always been a terrible problem for Arctic explorers, mountain climbers, and for members of the military forces.

In ordinary civilian life it is less often a problem, though in northern sections, every winter brings its toll of frostbite victims.

The tip of the nose, the ears, the fingers and the toes are particularly susceptible to frostbite. Frostbite may come on slowly or suddenly, the latter especially if the wind is high. Often a stinging feeling is present at first in the exposed part, followed by a pleasant numbness usually without any pain.

When the white frostbitten area begins to thaw, swelling develops and the skin becomes pink. In severe cases, red or purple blisters filled with serum or blood may appear.

After the frozen part has thawed it may remain cold and lack feeling, later becoming swollen and purple. Death of the tissues may set in and the involved part separate from the rest of the body.

If frostbite does develop, thawing should be gradual in cool air or cold water. The practice of trying to rub snow over the frostbitten part is considered dangerous. Nothing warmer than the heat of the body should ever be tried, and a person who has been recently frostbitten should not go near a fire or into a fully heated room until the circulation has been thoroughly restored.

After thawing, the skin is not yet strong and there is special danger of causing infection by rubbing.

Some excellent results in treating acute frostbite with substances delaying blood coagulation have been reported. This, however, is a professional rather than a self-treatment measure.

When at all possible, it is best to avoid frostbite. If it does occur one should be careful to follow good principles of thawing to avoid unnecessary permanent injury to the frozen tissues.

15th Session Of Community School At Cowansville Closes With Party

COWANSVILLE.—Trinity Memorial Hall was the scene of the annual closing party of the Missisquoi Community School and as usual this was an enjoyable event. Although a number of teachers and senior pupils of the High School were absent owing to pressure of examination week, over 150 joined in the celebration.

There was dancing to recorded music and games, including well-organized and often hilarious charades. Some of the participants showed decided histrionic talent. The genial M.C. was Rev. John Peacock. Chairman Spencer Standish spoke interestingly and thanked all who had so generously given their time to instruct on the nine Wednesday evenings of the adult school. The instructors were presented with gifts as tokens of appreciation. Prizes were given for achievement in the Photography Class.

Refreshments were served buffet style. Masculine hands managed the huge coffee urn, and the capable ladies in the kitchen kept the plates of sandwiches, squares, cakes, etc., replenished. For this beautifully arranged part of the evening, praise goes to Mrs. W. F. Catterson, one of the faithful members from Farnham, and to Mrs. L. Winch and Mrs. J. Peacock of Cowansville, both of whom are annually staunch followers of the courses.

Thus the Community School of Missisquoi closed the book on its fifteenth chapter: the year which recorded the highest enrollment to date, 176.

Instructors included Rev. Carl Gustafson, Rev. John Peacock, William Kennedy, Milton Kastello, Kim Ayan, Larry Perry, Richard Braut, Mrs. K. Winsor, Mrs. W. Goettel, Mrs. M. Sandison, Paul Tremblay, C.A., Mrs. C. Gustafson, Miss Monast, Mrs. S. Rodger, Mrs. G. Scott, Mrs. R. Viau, Mrs. G. Bown, Mrs. A. C. Tanner.

TRUCK SMASHES WINDOW
On December 10 the truck of Lucien Brunet of North St. backed into the large display window of Mademoiselle Shop and completely wrecked both it and its contents.

Mr. Brunet was alone in his truck, when a car crossed his path on South St. near the bridge and in front of the store. Momentarily Mr. Brunet lost control of his vehicle but managed to bring it to a standstill on the sidewalk, near the store window but not touching it. In attempting to drive back on the street however, he inadvertently backed up and crashed. Fortunately there were no pedestrians in the vicinity.

A new plate glass window was installed less than two days later.

ACCIDENT VICTIMS IMPROVING
Mrs. Paul Rowe of Cowansville, suffered a severe accident as she drove home from a shopping day in Montreal. With her was Mrs. W. H. Bieber of Sweetsburg. The roads were glassy and the visibility poor and although Mrs. Rowe left Montreal at 10:30 p.m., two hours later she was only at Marieville. The accident which occurred near the CBC Radio Station was a head-on collision with a car driven by Mr. J. Therberge who was killed instantly.

Both Mrs. Rowe and her passenger were thrown forward into the windshield which shattered. Mrs. Rowe suffered a broken nose, facial cuts and two fractured shins. Mrs. Bieber received a gash on her forehead which required six stitches, and a shattered kneecap. Both victims were unconscious. Provincial police had the car removed to a Marieville garage. Fortunately Dr. and children. The youngest is only a few months old and she is being cared for by Mrs. H. K. Damant of Cowansville. Mrs. Rowe is the wife of Dr. Paul Rowe, the local dentist.

Women's Groups

LENNOXVILLE W.I.
Lennoxville Women's Institute held its Christmas meeting in the club room, Queen Street, when Mrs. C. G. Skinner presided.

The secretary read Christmas greetings from the Provincial Q.W.I. office and other branches. Mrs. L. Parker, treasurer, gave a satisfactory report on the financial standing.

Conveners' reports were as follows:

Agriculture—Mrs. L. B. Pierce gave a list of types of greenery to use for Yuletide decorations, and precautions against fire.

Citizenship—Mrs. A. E. Abercrombie commented on the recent address on "Peace" given by Lester B. Pearson, winner of this year's Nobel Peace Prize. She also described the series of U.N.I.C.E.F. cards put on this year and read a Christmas message from the president of the Alberta Institutes.

Home Economics—Mrs. H. L. Wallace commented on the success of the handicraft course and noted the interest of several members in the new weaving and jewellery-making courses.

Welfare and Health—Mrs. W. Beattie reported that eight hours' work was done at the Cancer Dressing Station this month, when 570 dressings were made and a donation of used cotton was given.

Business included plans to pack the usual Christmas cheer baskets for sick and shut-ins, and to purchase U.N.I.C.E.F. cards for use in the branch. Fifty-two knitted squares were sent to W.V.S. by one member, and request was made for odd pieces of wool with which to make more.

Following adjournment, a contest was held in home-made candy with recipes. Mrs. E. L. Atto and Mrs. L. B. Pierce acted as judges and awarded first prize to Mrs. R. Maurice and second prize to Mrs. S. Parker.

Santa arrived, and an exchange of gifts was enjoyed. Mrs. W. Beattie led the members in carol singing, following which refreshments were served by Mrs. A. E. Abercrombie, Mrs. L. Hogge and Mrs. W. Beattie. A vote of appreciation was extended to the president for the Christmas tree and room decorations.

ST. GEORGE'S W.A.
The December meeting of St. George's branch of the W.A. held in the Parish Hall, Queen St., Lennoxville, was presided over by the president, Mrs. L. M. Watson.

Mrs. J. D. Jefferis stated more calendars had been sold this year than in previous years, 190 in the parish and 4,100 in the diocese. Mrs. E. L. Atto reported that thankoffering donations have also reached an all time high.

Mrs. T. J. Matthews, who has re-organized the juniors, and formed a new G.A. group, stated that the juniors are presenting a nativity pageant between Christmas and New Year, and are being assisted by some of the G.A. members. Mrs. Matthews also asked for donations of wool, even small lots, which the G.A. girls will collect to make into blankets.

A nominating committee was chosen comprised of Mrs. A. H. Baker, Mrs. R. C. McFadden and Miss Ethel Taylor, to bring in the slate of officers for the annual meeting to be held on the 10th of January.

The Font roll on display will be framed and placed in the church.

Mrs. L. V. Parent introduced the speaker, Mrs. D. C. Masters, who gave a most comprehensive talk on Japan, its historical background, and the affect upon the country and people.

Tea hostesses were Miss Annie Saunders and Miss Ethel Taylor.

Marriages

MULRAIN—SHUTT.

GRANBY—The marriage of Dorothy Mae Shutt, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Shutt of Dunville Ont., formerly of Granby, to Warrant Officer James Mulrain, United States Army, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mulrain of Boston, Mass., took place recently in the Chapel at Fort Monmouth, N. J.

Flowers arranged with greenery, and candles in candelabra adorned the Chapel.

The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. Richard Shutt of St. Johns, wore a suit of pale grey wool with a black hat, and carried a mink muff covered with white orchids.

Mrs. T. R. Brooks of Narberth, Pa., was matron of honor for the bride, and Captain John Kukla acted as best man for the groom.

Following the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Mulrain left for a short wedding trip, and Mr. Mulrain left soon after for service in Korea.

British Women To Receive Peerages

LONDON (CP)—British women, making gains in their campaigns to establish themselves in the surgery, the law office and the scientific laboratory, now have a dainty foot in the door of the House of Lords.

While the debate on the government's bill to create life peerages for women captures the headlines, less spectacular progress is being made by a growing number of pioneers in the professional field. And woman's battle for a place in industry and agriculture is all but won.

The army of Britain's working girls increases annually by 100,000. In the fields, factories and offices they work side by side with men in jobs in which a woman's presence would have been unthinkable a generation ago. Many others are carving out careers in politics and the civil service.

OLD BARRIERS
It is in the professional field that the old battle—cries for emancipation and equality of opportunity—are most frequently heard today. And there is a growing feeling among women that they have a better chance of being accepted on their merits.

Some of the old barriers are still there. One of a number of professional women interviewed by The Canadian Press, a doctor, said women still take second place to men because of the fear that they may leave the job to marry and raise a family.

But, as they show they have ability, as they are gaining more opportunities.

All the girls interviewed see greater roles in the future for women in the political and professional field, and believe that male prejudice about a woman's place is disappearing. On the other hand, one 26-year-old dentist says a similar prejudice exists among women themselves. Many of them still prefer to go to a male doctor or lawyer.

Women made a better showing than male students at Oxford, and in the Michaelmas bar examinations where the vast majority who sat for the tests were men.

STILL MINORITY
Although the number of women entering the legal profession is steadily increasing, there are only 335 among Britain's 18,000 practising solicitors. There are 14,000 women doctors and an increasing number are reaching executive posts in industry and government service.

The chief complaint among the girls interviewed is that the opportunity of further advance is limited because the intake of female students to universities is still far lower than the male enrollment.

They realize that those in authority are unwilling to risk giving long and expensive training to a woman who may give up work after a few years.

But the girls hope for recognition of the fact that there are plenty of women with enduring qualities who, given the opportunity, can combine a career with marriage and raising a family. In return, they feel it is up to women to prove their readiness to accept responsibility and to expect no privileges because they are women.

Part-time employment in all professions is what is needed, says one doctor. "In that way,

MANNERS MAKE FRIENDS

Giving a garbled message, or a wrong date, time or telephone number doesn't happen if you are considerate enough to write the message down as you receive it.

Beauty Tips

Many women are immaculate in their dress but overlook a cigarette breath. Just as in the case of bad breath from many causes, this should be avoided because it offends others. Usually mints, or even water, will help clear this away until one can brush her teeth or gargle.

Ruth Millett
Expert to the Contrary,
American Husband Is Fine

A man who is busy these days writing books for women and traveling the lecture circuit talking to them claims that the trouble with women is marriage, and the trouble with marriage is men.

This "authority" claims the American man is just an immature little boy who isn't up to the job of being head of a family. No doubt such statements appeal to a lot of dissatisfied wives.

Maybe some American husbands are immature. But aren't they the exception, rather than the rule?

Just look around you at all the husbands living in the suburbs and traveling long distances to work because they want their kids to have a nice yard to play in.

Look at all the hard-working men who spend their weekends as do-it-yourselfers so the family can have extra comforts and more pleasant surroundings.

Look at all the men who put big chunks of their earnings into life insurance and other means of making sure that their families won't be in want if anything happens to them.

Makes Sacrifices
Look at all the men who send their kids to summer camps while working in a hot city themselves, buy more labor-saving devices than they can afford so that their wives won't have to work so hard, and get in car pools so Mama can have the family car most of the time.

Look at all the men who work so hard trying to give their families "advantages" that they depart this life earlier than they might have if they had been a little more selfish and a little less eager to make life easier for their wives and children.

When it comes to husbands, American women are the luckiest.

women in the world. And let's not fall for any talk to the contrary.

The great majority of American husbands aren't immature little boys. They are fine men. And we women ought to be singing their praises instead of listening to anyone who tries to make us feel superior by running our husbands down.

Christmas Gifts Designed To Please Shoppers

OTTAWA (CP)—Christmas shoppers in the capital have little excuse to hem and haw when it comes to gift selection.

For the fourth consecutive year, the National Industrial Design Council's design centre here is featuring a display of well-designed Christmas gifts. All items cost less than $15.

More than 300 gift suggestions—ranging from a travelling birdcage to a four-way can opener—are shown on long, low tables in the centre's showrooms.

Items include toys, ceramics, sports equipment and kitchen gadgets as well as miscellaneous gifts.

EXPERT SELECTION
Loaned by local merchants and available from stores here, the gifts were selected by design centre staff and members of the toy testing committee, a group of toy experts working as a joint committee of the Canadian Association of Consumers and the Ottawa Citizens' Committee on Children.

Articles are numbered and a printed catalogue identifies each item, its price and where it is available.

Design centre officials say that since the display opened Nov. 28, the number of visitors has been running to as many as more than 400 a day. The exhibition ends Dec. 22.

A main motive behind the annual display is to show shoppers inexpensive but well-designed gifts.

This way, the cousin formerly in the arbitrary $2 gift bracket may drop to $1.50 or rise to $5—but she also may get a gift of good design that's more to her liking.

Scotstown Pupils Present Program At Annual High School Prize-Giving

SCOTSTOWN.—The Town Hall auditorium was filled to capacity for the annual school opening program and prize giving. The singing of "O Canada" preceded a word of welcome by the president of Students' Council, Earle Murray, and Richard Parsons, acting as master of ceremonies, opened the program.

Grade I contributed three songs, Yankee Doodle, John Brown and The Mulberry Bush. Grades III, IV and V gave three choral selections, The Maple Leaf Forever, The Keel Row and Pop! Goes the Weasel. Choral speaking, My Shadow and Presents was then enjoyed.

Grades I and II participated in folk dances, Klapdans, Pop! Goes the Weasel, The Grand Old Duke of York and La Raspa. Grades VI and VII combined in songs and choral speaking, Some Folks Do, Jonathan Bing Does Arithmetic and Little Bateese.

The first half of the program closed with two songs by Grade V girls, Whispering Hope and Tammy.

S.P.C.A. Branch To Be Formed At Boundary

ROCK ISLAND. — A group of men and women met at the Town Hall for the purpose of discussing and forming a branch of the S.P.C.A. at the Boundary Cillages.

Mrs. Byron Jenkins, Rock Island, was elected president, Mrs. Richard Reynolds, Beebe, vice-president, and Ted Wadleigh, Beebe, secretary-treasurer. Directors are Albert Fregau, Q.C., Jack Kerwin and Everett Greaves all of Rock Island, W. E. Kendrick, Rock Island and George Buckland, Beebe will be investigators.

The papers for the charter were sent to Forest Keene in Sherbrooke, who in turn sent them for application to Montreal. It is expected these will be received early in the new year and presented at a public meeting.

The work of the S.P.C.A. is known far and wide. Much is done towards placing animals in good homes, the wounded and sick are taken care of in a humane manner or disposed of as the case may warrant.

This newly formed organization is worthy of support and it is hoped the citizens will make a special effort to attend the next public meeting.

CHRISTMAS PARTY

Forty members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Stanstead Frontier Branch No. 5 of the Canadian Legion met at the Del Monty for the annual Christmas party and get-together.

In the Christmas decorated dining room, a banquet table was arranged and centered with a miniature trimmed tree. A family style turkey dinner was served and over coffee, several of the members made brief remarks. Carols and Christmas songs were sung.

Two of Santa's helpers, Mrs. Joyce Jarvis and Mrs. Kay Miller, supervised the exchange of gifts from the gaily decorated tree.

Has Christmas Become Too Commercialized?

BY SIR B. BAXTER, M.P.

It is Christmas Eve and the tired shop assistants are so dazed that they can hardly distinguish between a doll and a dust bin. The newspapers as usual had urged the people to shop early but there is always the army of forgetful uncles and maiden aunts who have remembered just in time that they had forgotten all about Sister Susie and cousin John.

The harassed husband sits in his arm chair and wonders whether he really did send a Xmas card to his managing director. If to make sure he sends a second card he may look foolish, but if there is no card at all it is even worse.

The fact is that the only people who really understand Christmas are the children. Many years have passed since I was a child but even now I can recall how in Toronto, with the snow deep on the ground, my brother and three sisters would join me in a mad rush to the Christmas tree in the drawing room. And when we saw the wonder of it we just stood and screamed with excitement.

In no time my sisters were stripping or dressing their dolls while my brother and I were taking the mechanical toys apart to see what made them go. And at noon what further excitement there was when a great turkey was carried in for dinner — not a mere luncheon — and we ate until our very eyes protruded.

But that was in Canada where there was always snow at Christmas, or nearly always, and in the afternoon a man would arrive with a horse and sleigh complete with jingle bells. What is more the man would touch his hat to father as if we were the Royal Family. Why did we not know before that father must be as rich as Rockefeller? Look how he gives twenty-five cents to the man who brought the sleigh. Twenty-five cents just as if it were nothing!

I sometimes think that the art of life is to acquire knowledge without losing one's power of being surprised and excited. Give me a woman who, even when she is a grandmother, can remember her first long frock, her first roses sent by an admirer, and her first grown-up tears.

Yet beyond all this we have the spiritual meaning of the Feast. The word Christmas is so familiar to us and so commercialized that we almost forget that it marks the birthday of Christ. Yet the passing of the centuries does not lessen the awe and wonder of the Bible story.

Christ was born in a manger because there was no room at the inn. It is always so. The world of Caesar is never eager or ready to acknowledge the world of the spirit. But the angels sang their welcome to the new born Babe and the star of Bethlehem shone bright.

The realist shrugs his shoulders at the tale. What is this story of a Babe who was the Son of God? Was the Babe not born of woman? Why this old wives tale?

Thus the realist and the materialist thrust aside the Divinity of Christ. They will admit His genius, they will agree that the Sermon on the Mount is the greatest political document of all times. But the story of Divine Birth like the story of the Resurrection is just a legend magnified by the centuries.

How strange that the mature mind is so sure of itself, so certain that the realm of the spirit exists only in the imagination of the ignorant and the credulous. Yet when you put the man of worldly wisdom in the dock he is unable to explain the miracle of the creation.

In the beginning was God, thus says Holy Writ. In the beginning was protoplasm says science and from it through the story of time there emerged the fish and the beasts and finally man. If you grant them these points ask who it was that created the protoplasm, and they are dumb. In other words there is a point when the finite mind can no longer explain the mystery of life and its origin.

It is almost like a man claiming that music is created from the strings of a violin or the keys of a piano. There was music in the skies over Bethlehem when the angels sang. There was music in the wind and in the crying of the new born child in the manger.

The truth is that there comes a moment when logic, in its infinite assurance can go no further. In other words there comes a moment when the mind fails and when truth can only be found in the infinite.

I do not believe that man was created merely to live his allotted span and then return to the earth from which he sprang. Of all living creatures man is supreme and there is an instinct in him (as strong as life itself) to cross the frontiers and search for eternal truths.

God gave us His only Son to live, to achieve, to lead and to die and in His span of years to identify Himself with all that is good and enduring.

If you study Shakespeare's plays you will discover hundreds of words taken from the Bible. If you listen to an infant crying in the night, crying for the light, you will also hear the Infant crying in the manger.

To attain the heights of wisdom you must have the faith of little children, therefore you should see that little children are about you at Christmas Time — even if you must go to them — for theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven and innocence and wisdom.

There was a star that shone over Bethlehem while the shepherds watched their flocks and there came the voice of angels: "Peace on Earth, Good Will to men!" That is the message of Christmas Day. If there is good will among men there will be peace, and if there is peace we shall be as the children of God.

Look on the young and learn from them. They have no doubts, no hatreds and no fears. To be worthy of Christ's Kingdom we must become like little children.

That is why we wish each other a "Happy Christmas" when we see our neighbours across the street, for Christ came to earth to give us the happiness of love, and friendship and parenthood just as He came to earth to teach us the sublimity of sacrifice.

To the extent that mankind has followed Christ's teachings it has found peace of mind and spirit. To the extent that mankind has set aside the teachings of Christ it has found suffering and hopelessness. But where it has followed Christ's teachings it has moved into the land of the spirit which is eternal.

The story of Bethlehem is a dramatic one, a story that has held the imagination of mankind for centuries, yet it is also an arraignment against the selfishness of man. The Virgin Mary was heavy with child but there was no one at the inn who would give her room. No doubt she pleaded but the doors were closed against her.

Thus was born in a manger the Son of God, while the song of the angels filled the skies.

What about Christmas of this year 1957? Is there room in our hearts for Christ? Let us think on these things before we condemn the people at the inn long centuries ago as being so different from ourselves.

Little Girl Is Never Too Young

Little girls, like their mothers, need pretty party dresses for the holidays. And nowadays it's easy for the rankest amateur shopper to find just the thing to turn a small Cinderella into a Christmas princess.

Children's dress manufacturers are producing small wonders these days in the form of dainty dresses that look too pretty to be practical, but are made of new miracle fibers that wear like iron, can be dunked out in a wash-bowl and dry in a jiffy with every pleat, ruffle and lace trimming crisp and smooth.

Durable Glamor

There are nylon organdy party frocks that look like cowbells and are more durable than a cotton apron. There are new blends of orlon, dacron and other synthetics in dresses that look like wool.

LONGEST YEAR

Once there was a year which contained 445 days—or an extra two months.

Numa Pompilius supposedly created the Roman calendar in the seventh century B. C. Although revised several times, the calendar by Julius Caesar's time was two months behind the sun.

When Caesar set his experts to the task of revising the calendar in the 16th century, they found they had to meet the problem of catching up with the sun. So two months were inserted between the months of November and December for the year 46 B. C.

Egyptians Pioneers In Study of Time

The Egyptians were probably the first to develop any "exact" method of calculating time—about 4,000 B.C. they devised a "calendar."

The Christian era begins on January 1, in the middle of the fourth year of the 194th Olympiad, the 753rd year of the building of Rome and in the 4714th year of the Julian period.

The Jewish calendar reads 5717 in relation to 1956 A.D., since according to Jewish dogma and tradition the Creation antedated the birth of Christ approximately 3,761 years. The Jewish calendar was adopted during the 15th century.

Use of the notation A.D. (year of our Lord) was inaugurated in 879 by Charles III of Germany.

PARADE OF FIREMEN

Firemen have always been popular heroes in Japan because the construction of Japanese homes makes them fire hazards. So an annual feature of New Year's Day is the annual deomeshiki—parade of the fire brigades.

From The Pen Of E. T. Writers

THE INCARNATION

We proclaim the Incarnation of the Blessed Son of God Who, for sinful man's salvation, God so graciously bestowed; Swaddled in a Bethlehem Manger as a helpless Babe He lay. And was worshipped by some shepherds on that first glad Christmas Day.

Prophets long before had promised that Emmanuel would come, Being born of a Virgin and live in a humble home; But the date of that great event no one was inspired to say, Yet a few were looking forward to the Advent Christmas Day.

Shepherds in a field were resting, keeping watch over their sheep. When a dazzling light from Heaven all around them seemed to sweep; Then an Angel said unto them, "Fear not, for to you is born Christ, the Lord, Who is your Saviour, on this joyous Christmas Morn."

Suddenly a host of Angels broke forth into rapturous song, Which the Heavenly acoustics shall through endless years prolong; Their song glorified the Father, Whose Son, Jesus, had been born, In a little Bethlehem stable on that glad Christmas Morn.

Eastern wise men came and worshipped Him Who in the manger lay, For the Star which they had followed led them safely day by day; When it hovered o'er the stable where the Future King was born, They presented treasures to Him Who was born on Christmas Morn.

Memories Of The Past

As Told By A Horse Named Noel

AS TOLD BY A HORSE NAMED NOEL

You see I was born on Christmas Day, that is why I was named Noel, and here is my story. When I was very young, running around the pasture with my Mammy and Uncle Dick, it used to be such fun jumping, galloping and kicking up my heels. But often I was left all alone, as Bill, the farmer's son, would come and call Nellie, that's my Mammy you know, and Dick my uncle, and I was left all by myself. Oh yes, Bill was always kind to me, but often he took my Mammy and Uncle away, put a lot of straps and things around them, and a piece of steel in their mouths, and off they would go hitched to a wagon of some machine.

I would run and gallop along the big high fence, and call and call my Mammy to come back. When I got played out running, I'd just stand by the gate and often I cried. But wasn't I happy when after a long long time Bill brought them both back to the pasture again. I soon realized that my Mammy and Uncle Dick would always come back. Very often Bill's little brothers and sisters would come to the fence or gate to clap and stroke me gently, and give me carrots, candy and apples, or hands full of sweet grass. You see, I was over a year old then.

But sometimes, strangers would come to the pasture with Mr. Craig, that's Bill's Dad, you know. They seemed to take a lot of notice of me, Noel. I heard then, how I came to have such a lovely name. They would clap and pet me, and walk me up and down. Then one day, something was put on my head, called a halter, and I was taken out through the gate, and giving me some apple to eat, I was walked up into a big truck, and off we went. Was I ever frightened? I whinnied and called for my Mammy, and before I could understand anything, I was in a big box-stall, in another barn I had never seen before. Though the strange man was ever so kind to me, I cried and cried, till I thought my heart would break. Next day some new children came to see me, they petted me and were ever so nice.

After about one week, a strange thing happened, I was taken out of that other barn and put into the pasture, but where was my Mammy? I was ever and ever so frightened when they let me out of the truck. I jumped quickly away from every one, and galloped around the barnyard and called for my Mammy. Suddenly I heard her voice. But where, where was she. Mr. Craig opened the stable door and I rushed in, and then how my Mammy neighed and talked to me. At first I got a real fright when I saw her, as there were boards, posts, ropes and other things around her. She looked strange with something big on her right front leg. I learned later it was called a cast, but soon Mammy quietened my fears, and told me everything that had happened since I had been taken away from her.

When she saw me go out of sight in that big red truck, she raced around the pasture, and really went crazy for her baby-colt, and made a mad leap over a high wire fence. In doing so, she broke her right front leg very badly. When the Horse-Doctor came he told Mr. Craig it was no use trying to do anything, better just put her out of suffering. So Mr. Craig's son Bill, went to the house for a gun, and I know a gun when I see one... so I called and whinnied for my baby, and would you believe it, our little friends the girls and boys came running from the crying and screaming don't, don't please don't do it. They put their little arms around my neck, kissed my face and cried ever so hard, and I was crying too.

Little Noel, you could never imagine what happened next. The Doctor, Mr. Craig, Bill and others, talked and talked. I really did not know what they were saying, but would you believe it, Bill took the gun back to the house and left it there. You have no idea the job it was for the men to get me into the barn, and fix this heavy thing on my leg. They called it a Cast, and after many, many months, my leg will be mended. The men were all so kind and gentle with me.

But without you Noel my little one, I had no heart to live, simply couldn't eat, and I was getting weaker. Mrs. Craig was in the other day. She comes in often, they all do, every day. Anyhow, I heard her say, "I don't think Nellie will pull through unless you bring Noel her colt back home so she can see him often". An that's how it came about that you are back home with me again. Now I'm so happy, I'm going to eat, live and get strong and run in the pasture with you and your Uncle Dick again. I always knew most people are good, and our family the Craigs are the best in the world. Now, what I have just been telling you, happened years and years ago. My Dear Mammy got

Manpower Problems
Face Britain In '58

LONDON (CP) - The British government, committed to ending national service by 1962, may find manpower problems much more perplexing in the next few years than deciding how best to keep up in the international race for satellites, more powerful nuclear weapons and longer-ranged and more accurate guided missiles.

The planned switch to a pattern of all - professional armed services means that in the next five years the three services, particularly the army, must attract an additional 30,000 or more volunteers each year. On the present showing, the prospects are not too hopeful.

Senior defence officials admit they are "disappointed" by the lack of response to recruiting drives. Even the Navy, already close to all-regular status, is feeling the pinch. One enterprising officer has promised a week's leave to every sailor bringing in a recruit.

COST BIG FACTOR
The crux of the problem is money. Since 1950, Britain has concentrated on developing a big array of new weapons. Cut off from United States atomic secrets, she developed her own atomic and hydrogen bombs plus a V-bomber strategic air force to carry them. Some of her tactical nuclear weapons and short-range missiles are considered superior yet produced by the United States.

Such projects have bogged up a substantial portion of the defence budget, which this year totals some $1,500,000,000, leaving little for provision of new barracks and married quarters, better uniforms and other recruit-attracting amenities.

Indications are that the government now intends to treat amenities as a matter of urgency, but it is questionable whether the country's economic position will allow a broad - based improvement program to proceed with sufficient speed to overcome the present apathy. A long-promised pay increase is expected to be delayed for some months.

EYE CANADIAN UNIFORM
However, a decision is expected by next spring on a new army uniform. The war office is understood to be paying close attention to reports that British soldiers describe the Canadian uniform as "the last word in how to equip a soldier for his work."

Besides heralding the end of national service, the defence white paper presented to the Commons last April announced plans for cutting the armed services to some 375,000 men - the present level is 650,000. It put the emphasis on highly trained mobile forces equipped with the most modern weapons with the overriding principle being prevention of war through deterrent weapons.

The Army's present strength is about 335,000 all ranks, but only one-fifth of this number can be classified as regulars. The war office estimates that more than 22,000 regulars must be recruited annually for the next five years to reach the target of 160,000 men in 1962. The Army is establishing a highly-mobile reserve in Britain that can be airlifted to reinforce the relatively small forces to be retained in Germany and the Middle and Far East.

Hardest hit by the changes are 36 of Britain's most famous regiments, now being merged into 18 units. It means the disappearance of cap badges, traditional hall mark of each regiment's spirit of individuality, known in England for more than 100 years.

The Navy, present strength about 100,000 all ranks, is cutting down to its 1962 target strength of 75,000. The main naval elements will be based on a small number of carrier groups, each composed of one aircraft carrier and a number of supporting ships. The last battleships have been scrapped and even large cruisers will eventually be replaced by smaller warships, some equipped with guided missiles.

CUT RAF STRENGTH
The Royal Air Force, present strength 215,000, is being reduced to about 140,000. It will be equipped with pure - jet Comets and long - range Britannias to transport the Army's mobile reserve. Britain also is developing a "stand-off" bomb - a powered guided bomb that can be launched from a conventional bomber hundreds of miles from all better, and we lived many happy years together. Now she has gone to that Heaven where all good horses go, my Uncle Dick has gone there too.

Tractors, trucks and cars do most of the hard work and long trips that we horses used to do. Nowadays, I just take the children and young folk driving or horseback riding, sometimes sleigh-riding, just for the fun of it. I sometimes hear people say: "The world is getting worse." "But we horses don't agree with that. We feel the world is a better place for people and horses to live in than it was long ago. The Craig children who were all fond of horses, often told us, "There is a Heaven where all good horses go, where we shall all meet again." "Til then. . . Good-Bye. Your Friend Noel, The Horse.

The manpower targets plus the decision to close down the huge naval dockyard at Hong Kong, leaving Singapore as the last major British bastion in the Far East, indicate the manner in which Britain is slashing defence expenditures.

Ironically, naval cuts come at a time when many observers are suggesting the country should channel her major defence effort into the naval service, especially the submarine fleet.

Their argument is that Russia's startling advances in the field of intermediate and inter-continental ballistic missiles make the American and British strategic bomber bases in Britain particularly susceptible to surprise attack. They suggest that the time is fast approaching when it may not be possible to protect even missile bases on such a narrow stretch of land as the United Kingdom.

Instead, they suggest there is a strong case for building up a fleet of atomic-powered submarines for use as missile launchers.

Friends of Mrs. Jack Jung of Windsor, Ont., were shocked to learn of her death on Saturday, she was talking on the phone to her brother, Mr. O. Daugherty, of Bury just the evening before. Mrs. Jung, formerly Persis Daugherty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Daugherty formerly of Bury spent most of her childhood here. She had been in poor health for some time. Immigration Greatest Since '13; Down For '58

By JOHN E. BIRD
 Canadian Press Staff Writer
 OTTAWA (CP) — Immigration to Canada this year is expected to reach between 280,000 and 285,000 — greatest since 1913 — but likely will fall to between 165,000 and 170,000 in 1958.

Officials in Ottawa base their forecast of a decline in 1958 on current estimates of the ability of Canada to absorb immigrants next year.

After two years of rapid expansion, the Canadian economy began to show a slower rate of growth toward the end of 1956, and in the current year moderation in demand for goods and services brought about a levelling in economic activity. Most economists do not anticipate any major strengthening of economic activity next year.

WAIT FOR CABINET
 The cabinet has not yet considered in detail the immigration pattern for 1958. The number admitted will be determined in the light of economic, labor and social conditions anticipated next year.

The current winter unemployment situation likely will be reflected in a reduced flow in 1958.

The bureau of statistics estimated in November that 208,000 Canadians were without jobs and seeking work at Oct. 19, a rise of 14,000 in a month. Forecasts have been made that the unemployment figure may be some 500,000 by next March.

If unemployment rises to the forecast of 500,000, the government likely will reduce immigration next year. Past experience shows a big decline in immigration following winters of greater-than-usual seasonal unemployment.

WOULD REDUCE FLOW
 The flow also would be cut by dealing a decision on 1958 immigration targets until late January or February. The immigration department requires about three months to set machinery in operation for arrival of newcomers. In years of high employment, tentative targets usually are set by the end of December for the following year.

Arrival of some 285,000 immigrants this year will mean that 1957 will be the fifth biggest immigration year this century.

The record was 400,870 in 1913. The three other years in which immigration exceeded 285,000 was 1910 with 296,839, 1911 with 331,288 and 1912 with 375,756.

About 50 per cent of 1957 arrivals will be made up of immigrants from Britain and Hungarian refugees.

By the end of the year the total for British immigrants is expected to reach 115,000, greatest number since 1913 when 150,000 arrived. Arrivals of Hungarian refugees will be about 33,000.

At the end of November 35,797 Hungarian refugees had arrived in Canada, including some 3,000 who landed in December, 1956. About 300 have found it impossible to adapt themselves and have returned to their homeland at Canadian government expense.

The flow of British immigrants and Hungarian refugees was the most significant aspect of 1957. It was highlighted by the arrival of large numbers of professional people, technicians and persons skilled in a variety of trades for which there is a sharp demand.

Arrivals reached a peak in the spring and early summer of this year. After July 31, landings of unsponsored immigrants was restricted in line with previous policy of preventing immigration adding to the fall and winter unemployment problem.

Persons from the United Kingdom, France, Ireland and the United States still could come.

Gilles Dube Tallies Winner As Beavers Edge Meteors 5-4 Saturday

Playing-Coach Leo Michelin Paces Victoriaville To 5-1 Victory Over Drummondville In Sunday Fixture

DRUMMONDVILLE — Victoriaville Canadiens paced by their playing coach, Leo Michelin, with a hat-trick upset the Rockets 5-1 in a closely fought tilt here yesterday afternoon. The win moved the Canadiens into sole possession of third place in the standing two points behind the Sherbrooke Beavers. It was the only game played in the circuit as the other two, slated for Richmond and Magog, were postponed for lack of ice.

The fixture was a hard fought battle and the score was no indication of the play. The Rockets just couldn't get clicking and Ron Hamel kept matters pretty well under control. He was having one of his better days.

The Rockets failed to capitalize on their breaks around Hamel's net. Thirteen penalties were doled out but only one figured in the scoring. There was no scoring in the first frame but in the second four goals were registered while in the third frame two were potted.

Michelin opened the scoring in the middle session right from the faceoff. Aubry evened the count a minute later but goals by Michelin, his second, and Boisvert out the Canadiens out in front. Boisvert's tally came when they had a player in the cooler when he got away from the whole Drummondville team to coast in on Joe Lacoursiere.

The third period saw Michelin complete his hat-trick when he beat Lacoursiere on a solo effort. Just before the frame ended Boisvert got his second goal of

Manager Lane Offers Minoso $40,000 Contract

HAVANA (AP) — Aiming to line up one of baseball's perennial holdouts as quickly as possible, Cleveland General Manager Frank Lane tempted Minnie Minoso Friday with a $40,000 contract for 1958—the most lucrative in the Cuban star's eight-year career in the big league.

Since it called for a reported $5,000 increase over what he received from the Chicago White Sox last season, Minoso is expected to sign within the next few days.

Lane termed the move "another demonstration of our willingness to pay the highest players."

Minoso, 34, was acquired from the White Sox Dec. 4 in a four-player transaction that also shifted infielder Fred Hatfield to Cleveland and transferred veteran pitcher Early Wynn and outfielder Al Smith to Chicago. Minoso's batting average last year was .310. He batted in 105 and had 18 stolen bases.

Detroit Rallies In Final Half To Edge San Francisco 49'ers 31-27; Meets Cleveland Browns Sunday

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Can Detroit Lions beat Cleveland Browns in Sunday's National Football League championship game?

"Sure, why not," asserted Lion quarterback Tobin Rote. He had just engineered a 31-27 comeback victory for his club over San Francisco 49'ers Sunday in their playoff for the Western Conference title.

It was in like lambs and out like lions for Detroit as the 49'ers built up a 27-7 lead with two minutes and 22 seconds gone in the third quarter only to falter and fail.

San Francisco quarterback Y. A. Tittle pitched touchdown passes of 34 yards to R. C. Owens, 47, to Hugh McElhenny and 12 to Billy Wilson, Gordy Soltau added three conversions and two field goals.

Then, trailing by 20 points, the Lions roared back. Tittle fumbled and Bob Long recovered at the San Francisco 27. With fourth down at the 20, Rote passed complete to Hopalong Cassidy at the six. Two plays later former Ottawa Rough Rider Tom Tracy boomed over from the one.

GETS ANOTHER ONE
Less than two minutes later Tracy, a 210-pound reserve full-back playing for the injured John Henry Johnson, raced 59 yards to score and Jim Martin's conversion made it 27-21.

On the last play of the third period, Rote hit end Steve Junker for a 37-yard gain to the 15. Tracy crashed for 10, Rote for three and Gene Gedman scored, Martin converted and Detroit led for the first time 28-27.

Later Martin added a 13-yard field goal.

Rote, subbing for the injured Bobby Layne, gained only 82 yards passing in the first half and the Lions picked up only 25 on the ground. But in the third and fourth quarters Rote added 132 passing and the team rushed for 104.

Locals Post First Win Over Leaders In Close Game; Meteors Awarded Game Over Rockets By Executive

ASBESTOS — A third-period goal by playing coach Gilles Dube of Sherbrooke gave the Beavers a 5-4 victory over the Meteors here Saturday evening before 1,118 fans. The game was originally scheduled for next Thursday but the teams through mutual consent advanced it.

It was the first meeting of the season between the two top clubs in the Massawippi Valley Hockey League. The win allowed the Beavers to close the margin over the leaders to two points.

It was the only game of the weekend for both clubs as their Sunday tilts were postponed. The Beavers were slated to meet the Richmond Braves and the Meteors were booked to travel to Magog to take on the Aces. Lack of ice at both places caused the postponements as both rinks have natural ice.

METEORS AWARDED GAME WITH ROCKETS

At a special meeting of the executive the game played last Tuesday between the Meteors and Drummondville Rockets was awarded to Asbestos. The decision was taken when it was discovered that the Rockets had used three players who had not been passed by the league.

Following the meeting a vote was taken by the teams and the three players, Ken Biggs, T. Yawley and J. Aubry, were accepted and permission was given to the Drummondville club to use them.

In Asbestos Real Rousseau opened the scoring in the first frame when he batted home a rebound from Parr and St. Cyr. It was the only marker of the frame. In the middle session five goals were registered with the Sherbrooke Beavers coming out on the long end of the count to give them a 4-2 edge at the end of the frame. Richard Champagne notched two but Ray St. Cyr, Gilles Dube and Pierre Langlois put the Beavers back in the top spot.

The third period saw both teams go all out and time after time the goalies were called upon to extend themselves to keep their cages clear. Perron reduced the Beavers' margin when he teamed up with Champagne just a few minutes after the start.

Richard Champagne came up with his third goal of the evening when he finished off a play with Jack Illick and Marcel Forgues to even the count 4-4. Right after the faceoff Gilles Dube came up with the winner when he picked up a relay from St. Cyr. He deked the defense and then slid the puck into the near corner to catch Bergeron completely off guard. It was the nicest of the evening.

Asbestos: Bergeron, Forgues, Michelin, Champagne, Illick, Perron, Moore, Allard, Vachon, Lussier, Claude, Bisson.

Sherbrooke: Dube, Parr, Robidas, Dube, St. Cyr, Rousseau, Blais, Bedard, Beaudoin, Langlois, Ricard, Edmond, Benoit.

Hershey Bears Still Continuing Hot Pace In American League, Take Two From Providence And Buffalo

It might be better for a fan interest standpoint in the American Hockey League if Hershey Bears would take it easy on their five rivals now and then. But the Bears have no such intentions.

Take the weekend's results for example. When it appeared that Cleveland Barons or even Providence Reds might close in, the Bears up and down two games. They smacked down the Reds 5-4 in overtime Saturday and then whipped Buffalo Bisons 6-2 Sunday night.

Cleveland beat Buffalo 3-1 in its lone game with the result the Barons today are 11 points back of the Bears while holding a four-point margin over third-place Providence.

Rochester Americans split their weekend games, shutting out Springfield Indians 2-0 Saturday and then losing 5-2 to Providence Sunday night.

BAGS THREE GOALS

Veteran right winger Dunc Fisher scored three goals, including a third-period tying goal and a sudden-death overtime winner, as Hershey overcame Providence. Ed Shack, Bruce Carmichael, Ted Hampson and Zello Toppazini counted for the Reds with Len Haley and Bob Solinger backing up Fisher.

Hershey's outburst against Buffalo was supplied by Solinger, with two, Willie Marshall, Fisher, Haley and Obie O'Brien. Bob Hassard and Frank Martin got the Buffalo tallies.

Freddie Glover scored twice for Cleveland against Buffalo Saturday. Steve Kraftcheck got the other Cleveland goal and playing coach Harry Watson was the lone Bison marksman.

Third-period goals by Noel Price and Stan Smrke gave Rochester its shutout over Springfield. Sunday, Andy Branigan, Ray Cyr, Bruce Cline, Hampson and Toppazini scored for Providence with Joe Lund and Ab McDonald replying for Rochester.

Rangers Stop Canadiens 4-2 And Wallop Leafs 5-2 For Weekend Wins

Red Wings Take Two While Montreal Bumps Boston 4-1; Hawks Stopped Twice; Howe Picks Up Two Points

New York Rangers are back in business today as a first-place contender after the kind of weekend performance that puts Stanley Cup-vision in coach Phil Watson's head.

New York won both its games for the third time this season and showed the scoring power Watson hopes will bring a Stanley Cup for the first time since 1939-40.

Rangers, only a week ago nine points behind the league-leading Montreal Canadiens, have cut the edge to four points by beating Montreal twice and tying Boston Bruins in four days.

Rangers were joined as double winners by Detroit Red Wings, winners of eight of the last nine National Hockey League titles but hobbling in fifth place for most of this season. Wings boosted themselves into a tie for third by beating Chicago Black Hawks 5-3 Saturday at Chicago and 2-0 Sunday at Detroit.

LEAFS, HABS VICTIMS

New York defeated Montreal 4-2 Saturday at Montreal, their fifth victory in seven games with Canadiens, and beat Toronto Maple Leafs 5-2 Sunday in New York.

Toronto and Boston tied 3-3 Saturday in Toronto and Montreal defeated Boston 4-1 Sunday in Boston to complete the weekend schedule.

Rangers have been beaten only once by Montreal. Saturday's scorers were Andy Hebenton, Camille Henry, Jack Evans, and Danny Lewicki.

Don Marshall and Phil Goyette were the Montreal marksmen. Ranger goalie Marcel Paille was outstanding, stopping 42 Montreal shots, 22 in the last period.

Toronto led New York twice Sunday but couldn't beat Paille after the first period. Dave Creighton paced the winners with two goals while Larry Popein, Parker MacDonald and Lewicki each scored once.

Billy Harris and Frank Mahovloch scored for Toronto.

Montreal's third line starred as Canadiens bounced back from Saturday's defeat and whipped Boston Sunday. Andre Pronovost scored twice and Claude Provost had a goal and two assists. Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffroy scored Montreal's other goal. Real Chevrefils spoiled Plante's bid for a fifth shutout, tallying with just more than five minutes left in the game.

Bruins carried a 3-2 lead into the third period Saturday before Tod Sloan's 10th goal gave Leafs a tie. Dick Duff and Mahovlich were Toronto's other scorers. Johnny Bucyk, Bob Armstrong and Vic Stasiuk were the Boston marksmen.

Gordie Howe scored a goal Saturday and assisted once Sunday as the Wings bombarded Chicago goalie Glenn Hall and piled up two victories. The shutout was Terry Sawchuk's second of the year.

Other Wing snipers Saturday were Jack McIntyre, Johnny Wilson, Don Poile and Forbes Kennedy. Chicago marksmen were Ron Murphy and the defence team of Jim Thomson and Gus Mortson, two of the lowest-scoring defencemen in the league.

Sunday Alex Delvecchio and Norm Ullman trigged the goals in the last three minutes of the second period for the 'game's only goals.

Bob Zuppke Of Illinois, One Of Most Inventive Coaches In U. S. Football History, Dies At 78

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Bob Zuppke of Illinois, one of the most inventive coaches in American football history, is dead.

Affectionately known as "Little Dutchman," Zuppke died Saturday at 78 in hospital. Cause of death was prostatic cancer, complicated by high blood pressure and a long-standing heart ailment. He suffered a serious stroke in 1955.

Zuppke retired as Illinois' football coach in 1941 after 29 years of service.

Honorary pallbearers at his funeral Tuesday include Harold (Red) Grange, the "Galloping Ghost" who became Zuppke's most famous pupil; George Halas, owner of Chicago Bears who played for Zup at Illinois; Ray Eliot who succeeded Zuppke as Illinois head football coach, and star players and captains of Illinois teams through the Zuppke era.

Zuppke was known as the master of the upset and rival coaches feared and respected him. He produced seven Big Ten titles for Illinois and his teams won 151 games, lost 80 and tied 12.

WAS UNPREDICTABLE
Fritz Crisler, Michigan's athletic director who coached the 1939 Wolverines, said Zuppke was "The coach I most dreaded to meet on the playing field. He was inventive and resourceful and you never knew what he was going to do."

After his retirement, Zuppke turned to farming and his hobby of painting. For a while he served as an advisory coach to Chicago Bears but had to give it up because of ill health.

Sharp-tongued and quick of wit, some of his observations included:

"Good losers. I don't like 'em. Show me a team of singers about a defeat and I'll show you a team of punks. I want bad losers."

"If you are too old to play, you try to coach."

"Football is a great kicking game. However, the kickers are in the stands at $3.60 a seat."

"If you cannot do anything well, try to become an executive."

Matane Edges Rimouski 3-2

MATANE, Que. (CP)—Matane Red Rocks jumped into second place in the Quebec-New Brunswick senior hockey league today with a 3-2 decision over the leading Rimouski Maple Leafs.

The game, played before 1,800 fans, was the best of the season. Lucien Gilbert rifled home two goals for the Red Rocks after Bob Rioux and Bob Goulet scored first period goals for Rimouski. Rollie Bildeau scored the Matane winner late in the third period, giving the Red Rocks their sixth win against seven setbacks.

A second game, scheduled for Amqui, was postponed when Campbellton Tigers were unable to pass the flooded area of Matapedia, about 14 miles west of Campbellton. The game will be played at a later date.

The league will swing back into action Thursday with Matane playing the Beavers at Amqui. Friday the Amqui club will visit Campbellton and next Sunday Campbellton will be at Matane and Rimouski plays at Amqui.

Baseball's Frank Shaughnessy Sees 12-Team Major League Setup With His Present Playoff System Used

NEW YORK (AP)—In 54 years in organized baseball F. (Shag) Shaughnessy of Montreal has been at various times a major league player... a coach... a field manager... a club president... a club owner and a league president.

Today, at 72, Shaughnessy is in his 21st year as head of the International League and one of the most respected among baseball's officials. In recent weeks he has helped carry the ball for the minor leagues in their efforts to curb the television of major league games into the minors' territories.

Shaughnessy is perhaps proudest of having devised the minor league playoffs which bear his name.

"It was in 1933," he recalled, "when I was business manager of the Montreal club that I came up with the idea. Most of the teams in the International League were losing money. One of the clubs was way out in front and the fans were losing interest."

PLAYOFFS FOR MAJORS
"The other clubs started to get panicky. They began selling all of their good players and the others began losing interest. We had to find some way to make it worthwhile for the players to put out and to have the teams fighting for four places instead of just for the pennant."

Shaughnessy believes the future of the majors is in a 12-team setup spiced with a touch of his.

Aston Villa Buys Gerry Hitchens

LONDON (AP)—Aston Villa, fighting to stave off relegation to a Second Division, Friday night paid a £23,000 transfer fee to Cardiff City for 23-year-old centre-forward Gerry Hitchens.

It was the second big transfer deal last week. Thursday, Manchester United laid out £25,000 to Doncaster Rovers for Irish international goalkeeper Harry Gregg.

Hitchens was top scorer for Cardiff last season.

Whitby Dunlops Sign Edwards

Whitby, Ont. (CP)—Whitby Dunlops Thursday announced the signing of goaltender Roy Edwards, 20, from Windsor Bulldogs of the OHA-NOHA senior A series.

He joins John Henderson on the goaltending staff of Dunlops, Canada's representatives at the world hockey championships in Oslo Feb. 28 to March 9.

Manager Wren Blair said Edwards will make his first start with Whitby today against Cornwall Cheviots in Whitby.

Canadiens' Penalty Timekeeper, Bob Rochon, Has Had Some Tough Nights During His 15 Years In Box

MONTREAL (CP)—Chicago's fiery Ted Lindsay, sitting in the penalty box one night with Maurice Richard of Canadiens, leaned over and said with a snarl to the Rocket: "I'll fix you, you French pea-soup."

That's the sort of conversation Robert (Bob) Rochon hears during National Hockey League games at the Montreal Forum. An NHL official since 1937, Rochon for more than 15 years has served as penalty timekeeper in Montreal NHL games.

From the box at one side of the rink, Rochon, 60, conducts his statistical work, recording the names of penalized players, violations and times.

ACTS AS BUFFER
When players from opposing teams are sent off for fighting, the stocky, 165-pounder sits between them while they cool off.

"The job isn't nearly so hazardous as it appears," he said. "Most of the players are real nice fellows, even when they're in the box."

"A few, of course, habitually kick up a fuss. And sometimes, in the heat of a fight, I'm pushed and shoved around a bit. But I've never been punched or struck deliberately."

Some of the milder penalty box banter between players might run this way:
"I'll get you for this."
"Am I supposed to be frightened?"

"If I were you I'd skate with my head up."
Lindsay and New York's Lou Fontinato, Rochon considers high among the league's bad men and Gordie Howe and Red Kelly of Detroit, the "most gentlemanly."

WILDEST BRAWL
He said the wildest hockey brawl he has seen erupted in the penalty box during the 1944-45 season. It involved Montreal's Murph Chamberlain, Ken Reardon, Ray Gettiffe and Phil Watson; and Adam Brown, Joe Cooper and Johnny Marsek of the Black Hawks.

"That was a real donnybrook," he recalled. "Fists and sticks flew in all directions. My hat was knocked off, but I wasn't even scratched. I got out of there in a hurry though."

All the participants have since retired from the playing ranks. Several, however, are still active in hockey executive capacities.

An NHL elder from point of service, Rochon said present-day players have just as much ability as the old-timers, but there isn't as much "spirit of competition" in the league now.

"The players are not as hungry anymore. They don't have the same fierce love for hockey. Nowadays, many just play because of the big money."

Rochon became a league official after a minor hockey career as a player, coach and later executive in various Montreal leagues. He was a goal judge before he assumed his present post.

Tangvald Wins Transatlantic Race For $1,000

ANTIGUA, Leeward Islands (Reuters)—American yachtsman Peter Tangvald laced happily in the sun today after winning a transatlantic race for $1,000.

The Los Angeles sportsman called his 2,800-mile solo run "a very nice trip" as he awaited the arrival of his English opponent, Edward Allcard, at this British West Indian island.

Tangvald arrived at English Harbor Saturday morning after leaving Las Palmas, Canary Islands, Nov. 20. He and Allcard decided to race for a $1 prize after discovering both were headed this way.

But when Tangvald got off his 45-foot Windflower, he found local citizens had added two prizes—a bottle of rum and a kiss from a local beauty.

Both Tangvald and Allcard, aboard the 36-foot Sea Wanderer, agreed to sail single-handed. The Windflower carries more sail than its opponent but Allcard's yacht has an auxiliary engine.

For Allcard the race was only a stage in a lone voyage around the world.

England Calls Upon One Of Smallest Players In History To Fill Boots Of International Star, Stan Matthews

By KEN METHERAL
LONDON (CP)—England has handed the biggest pair of boots in soccer to one of the smallest players.

And Bryan Douglas, a five-foot, five-inch, 136-pounder from Lancashire, gives every indication of finding them comfortable. Douglas is the man chosen to fill the outside right position on England's international forward line, graced for so long by the veteran of football artistry, Stanley Matthews. It is the toughest assignment in soccer, for Matthews is universally acknowledged as one of the game's all-time greats and holder of more than 80 England "caps."

PROVES SKILL
Douglas, who doesn't even play for a first division club, virtually clinched permanent possession of Matthews' old spot with a brilliant performance in a recent international against France. England won the match 4-0 and every goal was the direct result of a near perfect pass from Douglas. After the match, the French coach, Albert Boiteux, said with true Gallic candor "Douglas is even more dangerous than Matthews."

It was a mother's pride in her son that sent Douglas on the road to soccer glory. The slender, pale youngster had been a star in school and corner-lot games in his native Blackburn, but professional scouts felt he was too fragile for the rough and tumble of big-time soccer. Mrs. Douglas disagreed. She wrote to the second division Blackburn Rovers, describing her son's talents in such glowing terms the club gave him a trial and signed him the same day.

Douglas' fine play is one reason the Rovers currently are staging a neck-and-neck struggle with Liverpool for leadership of the second division.

VALUED PERFORMER
Some first division clubs have been casting long eyes at the wiry 23-year-old with a transfer price of £20,000 and more reported. Says Blackburn secretary Reg Taylor: "We couldn't be tempted at any price. Our target this winter is to get back into the first division. We wouldn't take the town hall for Bryan."

John Paul, sports editor of The Star, says Bryan already has most of Matthews' tricks—"and more hostility as a marksman." John Camkin of The News Chronicle, writing about the game against France, says: "Young Bryan was the very image of the great Stanley Matthews. Indeed, in some ways, he was a better Matthews. . . . It is rare to find such maturity in a player so young."

The Paris Journal puts it even more succinctly: "Stanley Matthews can now tend his garden knowing that his place has been ably filled."

Maritime Marksmen Piled Up 103 Goals In Weekend Play; Biggest Output Saw Amherst Win 13-9

Scorers piled up 103 goals in seven weekend Maritime hockey games but standings in most leagues remained virtually unchanged.

Biggest output was at Amherst where the hometown Ramblers trounced Summerside Aces 13-9. The teams scored 10 goals in the third period, Ramblers getting six.

The win moved Ramblers to within two points of Charlottetown Royals who lead the Maritime Senior Amateur Circuit with 14 points. The Aces trail Royals by six. Amherst's Gerry Ross rapped in two goals to take over the league's scoring race.

Dickie McDonald and Leonce Guadet each scored the hat trick to help Bathurst Papermakers trip Fredericton Capitals 11-9 in a North Shore, N.B. League game. Papermakers, playing at home, extended their first-place lead to four points. Ray Bennett and Charlie Chase each scored three for the Capitals.

The second-place Caps were minus five regulars including playing coach Tim Bliss.

Big Moose Morrison blasted four goals in 14 minutes of the first period to power Glace Bay Miners to an 11-3 romp of Sydney Millionaires and tie North-side Combines for the Cape Breton League lead. The Miners and Combines each have 18 points in the tight, three-team loop, four more than Millionaires.

In the only Nova Scotia Armed Forces League contest, pace-setting Stadacona Sailors continued their winning ways by edging Greenwood RCAF Bombers 9-7. Tommy Thompson was Stad's big gun with four goals.

In the Truro District Circuit, North River Aces clipped Shubenacadie Lions 4-1 and Hilden Owls shaded Debert Satellites 2-1.

At New Glasgow, the hometown Scots took over first place in the Antigonish-Pictou-Colchester Junior League with a 14-4 routing of Stellarton Royals.

George Chuvalo Claims Canadian Heavy Title

TORONTO (CP)—Matchmaker Jack Allen said Thursday George Chuvalo, 20, of Toronto will claim the vacant Canadian heavyweight boxing championship whether or not he beats Julio Mederos of Cuba. Allen is promoting the fight here Dec. 30.

Chuvalo, who has had 11 professional fights, recently was ranked leading contender for the title by the Canadian Boxing Federation. James J. Parker of Barrie was ranked second and Bob Cleoux of Montreal third.

Manager Lane After Kuenn Or Richardson

HAVANA.—(AP)—Frank Lane new general manager of Cleveland Indians, said Thursday he still is hopeful of landing second baseman Bobby Richardson from New York Yankees or shortstop Harvey Kuenn from Detroit Tigers.

Lane is visiting Havana to check with his manager, Bobby Bragan, who also manages the Almendares team in the Cuban League, on the progress of several Cleveland players and farmhands.

Lane also expects to start contract talk with Minnie Minoso, veteran outfielder picked up by Cleveland in a deal with Chicago White Sox. Minoso is playing with Mariano Tigers of the Cuban League.

Ted Williams Wins Slugging Championship

CHICAGO (AP)—Boston's Ted Williams, winner of his fifth American League batting championship with .388, today was certified for the slugging crown with the highest major league mark in 16 years, .731.

The slugging title is determined by dividing total bases by the number of times officially at bat. Williams in 1957 hit for 307 total bases in 420 trips, including 38 homers, 28 doubles and one triple in winning his ninth slugging title.

New York's Mickey Mantle, voted the league's most valuable player last season, was second in slugging with .665, followed by Washington's Roy Sivers with .579.

Mantle drew the most bases on balls, 146, of which 23 were intentional. Williams was next with 119, including 33 intentional, high in that department.

Dizzy Dean Plans To Quit His Job As Broadcaster

LOS ANGELES.—(AP)—Dizzy Dean says he plans to quit in 1958 his $62,500-a-year job as CBS broadcaster of the major leagues' Game of The Week.

Dean's three-year contract expires at the end of the 1958 season. Since he will be 47 Jan. 15, he wants to make next season his last "because I believe the time to live is between 45 and 60."

"If ever I'm going to enjoy life, it's my time now," said the former St. Louis Cardinal fireballer. He owns a five-acre grapefruit ranch in Phoenix, Ariz., which last year yielded 3,000 crates, just enough to keep "Ol' Diz" busy in his spare time.

Kingston Still Waiting For Hall Of Fame

KINGSTON, Ont.—(CP)—Alderman George Webb said Saturday the Kingston hockey hall of fame committee will have to act immediately if a hall is to be built here.

Webb said he was told by general manager Frank Selke of Montreal Canadiens that Selke will put a motion before the National Hockey League board of governors in January asking that the hall be located in Toronto.

The Kingston committee has been planning a hockey hall of fame for several years. Last year the Canadian National Exhibition opened a national sports hall of fame in Toronto with one section devoted to hockey.

JANSEN'S NINE — Larry Jansen, the New York Giants' pitching star of the late 1940's and early '50's, proudly poses with his nine in Portland, Ore. Jansen will be a triple threat with that Pacific Coast League team next spring pitching and coaching, and if the box office needs it, the family can buy tickets. The Jansens are, left to right, Larry and the missus, Eileen, and Darleen 17, Dale 15, Sandra 14, Shirley 12, Kathleen 10, Allyn 8, Gregory 6 and Robert 2½.

Wolverhampton Blanks Everton; Charlton Wins

LONDON.—Injury-hit Charlton Athletic rammed home seven goals in the second half Saturday for a 7-6 victory over Huddersfield Town in a thrilling English Soccer League match.

The thrill-a-minute contest overshadowed even the First Division championship race in which Wolverhampton Wanderers defeated Everton 2-0 and moved into an eight-point lead over West Bromwich Albion.

Huddersfield led Charlton 2-0 at halftime. The Londoners had lost centre Malf Derek Upton 15 minutes after the start because of a shoulder injury.

Charlton's 10 men came out fighting in the second half but soon found themselves down 5-1. Then came the fantastic rally with Charlton pulling back to 5-4, levelling at 5-5 and going ahead 6-5 in the 80th minute. Huddersfield made it 6-6.

Centre forward John Ryan got Charlton's winning goal in the last minute. Eleven goals came in the second half with Charlton winger Johnny Summers scoring five times.

Manchester City nosed out Sheffield Wednesday 5-4 while Tottenham Hotspur won 4-2 at Chelsea. Champion Manchester United won 4-0 over lowly Leicester City.

West Bromwich Albion lost 3-0 at Newcastle.

Captain Billy Talbert Is Still Undecided About His Doubles Team For Davis Cup Match With Aussies

MELBOURNE (AP)—The old man United States doubles team of Gardner Mulloy and Vice-Seixas—their total age is 78—had an impressive workout Friday in preparation for the Davis Cup challenge round.

They beat Australian professional Dinsy Pails and young Barry Mackay in a pressure match at Kooyong Stadium 6-2, 7-5, stopping with the score at 4-4 in the third set.

"No special significance can be attached to this match," team captain Bill Talbert said. "It was merely a match to give the players a tough test. I still have not fully decided what doubles team I will use against Australia. Mulloy, 44, and Seixas, 34, appeared the certain doubles combination when the Australian tour began but Mulloy's play against the Belgians in the interzone finals was so disappointing there appeared a likelihood he would be replaced by young Mackay of Dayton, Ohio, in the challenge round.

However, the veteran from Coral Gables, Fla., co-holder of the Wimbledon championship with Budge Patty, played much better in Friday's match. He still has a good chance of keeping the job although Talbert has said doubles pairings will not be decided until he sees developments of the first singles matches next Thursday.

Billy Vessels Interested In Returning To Esks

EDMONTON.—(CP)—The Journal says Billy Vessels is "definitely interested" in returning to professional football and "Edmonton is at the top of my list."

The Journal says Vessels, named Canada's most outstanding football player in 1953 while with Edmonton Eskimos, said in a telephone interview from his home in Miami, Fla., he has not been approached by Eskimos about a 1958 contract. But "his first, and only, consideration is Edmonton."

Vessels played for Baltimore Colts of the National Football League in 1956 and now is a salesman with a home-building firm. He was declared a free agent after quitting Baltimore near the end of the 1956 season.

HOCKEY BIG SEVEN

Gordie Howe of Detroit scored a goal and picked up two assists in weekend National Hockey League action to advance to within one point of the individual scoring leadership held by Henri (Pocket Rocket) Richard of Montreal Canadiens.

The Pocket Rocket, who went pointless, has 35 points made up of 15 goals and 20 assists. The Red Wings' star now has the same number of goals and 19 assists.
