DECISION TABLED ON VICE INQUIRY

Two Contempt Charges Against Montreal Newspapers Disposed Of At Opening Of Report.

Montreal — (CP) — Mr. Justice Francois Caron of the Quebec Superior Court today entered a crowded court chamber at 10.35 a.m. EST to deliver decisions reached following a four-year inquiry into vice and corruption in Montreal.

At the outset, he said he wished to dispose of two charges of contempt of court, involving two daily newspapers — Montreal Le Devoir and the Montreal Herald.

He said an article in Le Devoir referring to defendants in the probe was a case of contempt of court. He fined the newspaper $100. Details of the article or the date of its publication were not given.

Mr. Justice Caron said a charge of contempt against Mayor Camillien Houde of Montreal as a result of a statement attributed to him in the Herald had not yet been proved.

A crowd gathered early near the doors of Room 24 in the Superior Court where Mr. Justice Caron had heard 374 witnesses testify on 10,000 charges that some of the city's administrative and police officials tolerated vice and corruption during the years 1941 to 1950.

Mr. Justice Caron was to read a summary of a 25-page judgment that took him 17 months to prepare following the conclusion of the inquiry.

Of the 62 charged during the inquiry, 13 now are dead.

World News In Brief

Farnborough, England. — (AP)— Britain disclosed Thursday it has set up an electronic brain as big as six houses to speed development of guided missiles and faster-than-sound aircraft.

The supply ministry said the calculator is one of the largest in the world.

Technically known as a "three-dimensional analogue computer," the £750,000 brain rapidly provides, for instance, altitude and speed data during theoretical pursuit of an enemy plane by a guided missile or supersonic aircraft. Scientists see the "chase" on a three-dimensional screen.

London. — (Reuters) — Some jet experts said Thursday night Britain's "Swordfish" delta plane may eventually pave the way for a bombed capable of flying faster than sound.

The new all-metal Fairey Delta II research plane, test-flown for the first time Wednesday, is belived to be the fastest jet plane in the world.

It has a long swordfish-like nose which can be lowered to give the pilot a better view. The all-metal plane's wings are also unusually thin. It is powered by a Rolls-Royce "Avon" turbo-jet engine.

Data obtained in researchs into trans-sonic and supersonic flying will be used in the design of future supersonic military aircraft.

London —(Reuters)— Archeologists have uncovered another ancient piece of statuary in London's newly-discovered Roman temple of Mithras. The find Thursday was uncovered by a workman as he dug around the north wall of the ancient Roman seat of worship. The two principal figures in the statuette were identified as Bacchus, Greek god of wine, and his mythological companion, Silenus. The statuette is 18 inches high.

Watertown, N.Y. —(AP)— The principal of Watertown high school said Thursday four youths had admitted to him that they threw the tomatoes at Senator Irving M. Ives here Tuesday night and wanted to apologize. Ives promptly accepted the apology. Ives was not hit by any of the tomatoes.

Tariff Cut Is Limited In Extent

Ottawa— (CP) —Four Canadian contracting and manufacturing associations said today they have been given assurances that tariff exemptions on equipment and material for the St. Lawrence river power project will be restricted to the early-phase coffer dams.

The associations said today that Trade Minister Howe had written them Sept. 15 that the government does not intend the tariff concessions beyond the coffer dams.

The concessions, under a joint arrangement with the United States, provide for refunding customs duty and excise taxes on material and equipment going into coffer dams which cross the international border on the river near Cornwall, Ont.

The associations said there had been concern over proposals that a similar arrangement be applied to all international aspects of the project. The lowest Canadian bidders on a coffer dam at Barnhart island had quoted foreign prices, on a tariff-free basis, for construction equipment and other materials.

The four groups which issued today's statement are the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, the Canadian Construction Association, the Canadian Association of Equipment Distributors and the Ontario Road Builders' Association.

Hold Protege For Assault On Nun

Boston—(AP)—A former convict confessed Thursday night, police said, to the savage beating of an elderly Roman Catholic nun who had befriended him as a child at the Italian Home of Children in the Jamaica Plain section.

He was booked as Thomas C. Vigliorolo, 31, on charges of suspicion of assault and robbery, and breaking and entry with intent to commit a felony.

Police said Vigliorolo, released in March from prison after a 10-year sentence for assault with intent to rape two women, will be arraigned in West Roxbury court today.

Meanwhile Sister Mary Valentina, 75, was recovering from the savage attack. The aged nun was struck repeatedly on the head and face.

Police quoted Vigliorolo as saying he knew the institution's money was kept in the nun's care and that when she stirred in her sleep, he beat her with his fists.

Early Talk Expected On Disarming

By WILLIAM HARCOURT

United Nations, N.Y. — (CP) — An early debate on disarmament was expected today in the wake of the first meeting at this session of the General Assembly's political committee.

The committee planned to elect its officers for the current session today and decide on the order of its agenda.

Debate on the Soviet proposal for a disarmament treaty is expected to follow — as well as be included with — the general debate on disarmament.

Another major item on the agenda is the United States proposal for development of atomic energy for peaceful purposes.

Other items include the colonial issues on Tunisia and Morocco, the Korean question and this dispute between Greece and Britain over the British colony of Cyprus.

But the chief interests in the UN centres on the disarmament problem, particularly since the recent Soviet proposal, regarded by many Western delegates as a forward step toward solution.

The assembly's special political committee also was to meet for the first time today to elect its officers and decide on the order of its agenda.

Issues before it include admission of new members, the South African racial segregation problem, treatment of persons of Indian origin in South Africa, and the problem of Palestine refugees.

Health Minister Martin of Canada, acting head of his country's delegation to the UN, is expected to outline Canada's position on disarmament early in the debate.

On the Russian proposal for step-by-step disarmament and prohibition of nuclear weapons, Canada so far has not gone beyond the attitude that the proposal "appeared to be" a step in the right direction, but needed clarification.

Similar attitudes were taken informally by the U.S. and Britain.

Mutiny And Dancers To Enter Case

Baltimore—(AP)—Mutiny on the high seas and Chinese dancing girls are involved in a federal court suit here by which Nationalist China hopes to collect insurance on seven ships now in the hands of Chinese Communists.

The China Merchants Steam Navigation Co. and Nationalist China are plaintiffs in the suit asking $3,016,825 from the National Union Fire Insurance Co., a Baltimore firm which insured the ships.

The seven American-built wartime Liberty ships were sold by the United States to Nationalist China in 1947, and three years later fell into the hands of Communist China.

The case has been pending about two years, but the insurance firm has refused to honor the claim because it contends the policies on the ships did not cover the circumstances, and it does not believe sufficient effort has been made to recover the vessels.

Six of the vessels are at the British port of Hong Kong, and have refused orders to return to Formosa, the Nationalist headquarters.

The seventh, the S. S. Hai Hsuan, is in Singapore, another British port, where efforts to reclaim her have met with failure.

The ship's captain, Hsueh Pang-Siang, described how his vessel, bound from Spain, with a cargo of salt for Japan, was in the Strait of Malacca, 20 miles west of Singapore, when his crew mutinued.

Under threat, he left the bridge and the crew took the vessel into Singapore. He said the crew then hoisted the Communist Chinese flag. The cargo of salt was later shipped to Japan.

The plaintiffs said the ship has been used since for "week-end trips by dancing girls and wealthy Chinese."

The testimony further revealed that Pang-Siang, who later tried to regain control of the Hai Hsuan, was refused help by British authorities in Singapore. Court records show the mutineers were brought to trial,, but the case was dismissed when the Singapore court said it lacked jurisdiction.

Bombay, India — (Reuters)—Prime Minister Nehru said Thursday that Asian nations are not trying to pit themselves against the West but could not "be made to participate in bitter conflicts" between East and West.

Russian Press Attacks German Armament Plans

Moscow — Reuters — Russia said today Western plans to rearm West Germany "threaten the peace of Europe" and added that Russian disarmament proposals have opened the way for agreement "on the most important problems of our age."

At the same time, in its official newspapers, the Soviet government again suggested four-power negotiations on the question of reunifying Germany.

The government newspaper Izvestia said the new Western alliance plan drafted at the nine-power London conference last week-end "will lead to such an aggravation of international tension as to increase the danger of a new war in Europe." It warned of the risks in "reviving German militarism" and attacked "the aggressive plans of the United States."

Izvestia said Russia stands for "a radical solution of the German question through conclusion of a peace treaty and thinks it possible for the four powers to resume consideration of the question of all-German elections."

The official Russian news agency Tass meanwhile criticized British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden for ignoring Russian Foreign Minister Molotov's proposals for new East-West talks on German reunification. It said there was no justification for a statement Eden made Thursday that Russia wants to establish "a Communist rule over Germany."

Molotov called for withdrawal of occupation forces from both East and West Germany and fresh negotiations on reunification in a speech in East Berlin last Wednesday. His overture, generally interpreted as an attempt to stall West German rearmaments plans, was rebuffed by Eden in a speech Thursday.

Nations Favor Extension Of Life Of Colombo Plan

Ottawa— (CP) —The week-long Colombo plan conference of ministers from 16 countries has shown strong indications that the $5,000,000,000 plan will be continued beyong 1957, the planned termination year.

The conference likely will end today and with the six-year plan at its halfway point, no formal decision is expected on prolonging the life of the plan.

Thursday, however, delegates from two of the 16 member countries, Britain's Lord Reading and India's Finance Minister C. D. Deshmukh, said they believe a second Colombo plan will be evolved.

The major interest in Thursday's meeting was the United States $1,000,000,000 program for disposing of its food surpluses in needy countries.

That program likely will be the main topic of a talk today by Harold Stassen, U.S. foreign aid director, at the closed ministerial committee meeting.

He has said his country will operate the food disposal plan in such a way that exports in Canada and other countries will not suffer.

Mr. Deshmukh told a press conference that the American offer should be "very useful" to India and other Colombo countries in south and southeast Asia.

"But we will not encourage taking free food from the U. S. if it means displacing normal purchasers from Canada and other suppliers," he said. It was to India's own interest not to disrupt world trade.

The Indian minister said his government does not think that the Russians or Chinese Communists are able to foil the Colombo plan by offering Asian democracies a better aid plan. Communists in India were opposed to acceptance of Western air but they were a small political minority with little influence on the people.

Other delegates commented on the U. S. food plan.

Canada's Finance Minister Harris said Western countries are gratified with U. S. assurances that it will not upset normal trading channels.

Lord Reading, Britain's chief delegate, told reporters that the plan is a new aspect of American aid and he would not comment until he had heard complete details from Mr. Stassen.

The U. S. delegation made public an address which its chief delegate, Samuel Waugh, had made to the conference. In it he said the United States does not want to disrupt normal world markets or depress prices.

As explained by Kenneth Taylor, Canada's deputy finance minister, the U. S. would accept local currencies for food exported under its surplus disposal plan. It then would use the major part of the proceeds for purchasing that country's goods, with a smaller portion turned over to the local government for investing in worthwhile economic projects.

Shannon, Ireland. —(CP) — The RCAF C-5 transport carrying External Affairs Minister Pearson and Defence Minister Campney home to Canada was forced to return to the airport here this morning after 10 hours over the Atlantic.

Half way to Newfoundland the plane met icing conditions and 70-mile-an-hour head winds, making the return advisable.

The ministerial party and the RCAF crew went to bed at the airport here on arrival. They plan to take off again tonight.

Prospects Bright Today For French Approval Of German Rearmament Plan

Paris —(AP)— Premier Pierre Mendes-France faced a crossfire of questions today in the French National Assembly on the London agreement to rearm West Germany, but prospects still appear good for a favorable vote at the end of the debate.

Government supporters seek agreement on a resolution satisfying as many deputies as possible, and it is considered virtually certain that the final text will endorse the premier's work in London and express the assembly's confidence in his ability to negotiate the necessary formal treaties.

The vote may come late tonight.

Mendes-France asked for a blanket endorsement of the principles on last week's London agreements, which provide for inclusion of West Germany in the Brussels mutual defence alliance, admission of the Bonn government to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and West German rearmament under the control of the Brussels group and NATO.

The premier also demanded authority to negotiate the treaties carrying out these agreements at ministerial conferences to be held later this month. After the pacts are drawn up and signed, the assembly must vote on them.

The same general endorsement Mendes-France asked was given overwhelmingly Thursday to the London plan by West Germany's lower house of Parliament, the Bundestag.

German Socialists, holding 151 seats in the Bonn chamber, voted against the motion backing Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's pro-Western policy and the outcome of the London parley. Enough other duputies in the 478-member chamber favored the motion, however, to approve it with only a show of hands.

Mendes-France opened the assembly debate Thursday with an hour-long report on the London talks and the resulting nine-power agreement. He laid great emphasis on the security given France by Britain's pledge at the conference to keep four British divisions on the continent.

Britain, he said, had pledged only one division to the European Defence Community, the six-power European army plan killed earlier by the assembly.

Mendes-France's statement on the British commitment was challenged at once by former premier Paul Reynaud, a strong supporter of EDC. He said Britain had promised four divisions as long ago as April 14, when she hoped France would ratify EDC.

Mendes-France's supporters are expected to reply that the diplomatic promise Reynaud cited differed greatly from Foreign Secretary Eden's public pledge at the London parley.

Mendes-France already has said he expects to submit the defence treaty and a Saar settlement to Parliament as a package deal. He is scheduled to take up the dispute in direct talks with Adenauer Oct. 20, and hopes to be ready for ratification debates in the assembly by the middle of next month.

Dock Strike At London Continuing

London — (AP) — Several ocean-going merchant ships sailed out of the strike-paralyzed London harbor for secret ports today to unload precious food cargoes in danger of rotting away in their holds.

They left behind about 130 other vessels still waiting to be unloaded as the strike of 25,000 dockers and other port workers went into its fifth day.

Frantic owners gave secret sailing orders to their vessels jammed with perishable goods after dockers at other British ports refused to unload ships diverted from the London wharves. The food ships may be heading for ports on the European mainland.

Among the departing ships were Sweden's 3,817-ton Golden Ocean carrying a cargo of melons and grapes, and New Zealand's 9,500-ton Essex with 3,000 tons of meat.

Sir Walter Monckton, the Minister of Labor, was due to leave this afternoon for Blackpool to confer on the strike situation with Prime Minister Churchill and other government leaders attending the Conservative party conference.

The Churchill government has yet to make its first move towards ending the employer-worker deadlock.

The triple tie-up consists of:

1. A walkout by 7,000 members of the National Amalgamated Stevedores and Dockers, who have their union's official sanction. They demand revised working conditions and the right to decide for them-selves when they will work overtime.

2. A sympathy stoppage of 10,000 dockers of the Transport and General Workers union, which has refused official recognition of the original dispute.

3. A wildcat strike by 8,000 ship repair men, charging an employer breach of seniority rules in layoffs.

Dockers at Cardiff and Hull, two of Britain's other main ports, refused Thursday to handle cargoes on ships diverted from London.

Strike leaders said they had a similar pledge from union dockers in Amsterdam and Rotterdam, where other diverted ships were bound.

Floods End Drought In New Mexico

Roswell, N.M. — (AP) — A fertile southeastern New Mexico valley, a week ago desperately in need of rain, remained awash today from its most devastating flood in years.

The waters, pouring off the eastern slopes of the Sacramento mountains, left four known dead, three presumed dead and seven missing in its wake. It hit, to some degree, half a dozen communities and an untold number of farms and ranches.

The damage cannot yet be estimated, but it will run in the millions.

Prolonged heavy rains sent the waters tumbling into the Pecos valley, bringing swollen rivers, creeks and arroyos bubbling into parts of Roswell, Carlsbad, Dexter, Hagerman, Artesia and Lake Arthur.

By nightfall Thursday night the flood threat had eased considerably, and the streams of muddy water began to subside. But fresh rains in the mountainous area to the west were reported late Thursday night and officials continued a close watch.

The ripping waters damaged the Santa Fe railway tracks between Dexter and Hagerman and between Hagerman and Artesia. Service is expected to be restored by Saturday night.

The normally placid—and in recent days dry — Rio Hondo crested at 22 feet at its peak Thursday afternoon, pouring into the west end of Roswell up to seven feet in depth. An estimated 200 families were forced to leave their homes here.

To the south, in the Dexter, Hagerman and Lake Arthur areas, it confined its damage mostly to the agricultural areas. At Artesia, further to the south, it forced partial evacuation of one residential area.

Just a week ago there was a bitter controversy in this area over a state proposal to put meters on irrigation ditches to cut down on consumption.

Ike To Seek Election Of Republicans

Denver—(AP)—President Eisenhower, pictured as in a fighting mood in a tough battle, makes a "straight from the shoulder" television-radio appeal to American voters tonight to keep Republicans in the congressional drivers' seat.

The party's high command, privately concerned about the outcome of the November mid-term elections, is hoping the President's speech will—as Vice-President Richard Nixon puts it—provide "a tremendous shot in the arm" toward a GFOP victory.

The Denver White House is billing the address as "the greatest single effort" of the campaign to keep the Democrats from recapturing control of Congress for the next two years.

Toward achievement of that goal, the Republican national committee is footing the bill for putting Eisenhower's address on 158 TV channels and 534 radio stations from coast to coast.

The speech will be carried live over an augmented CBC-TV network and over the NBC and Mutual radio networks at 9:30 p.m. EST. Other TV and radio networks will play back recorded versions at various times later in the evening.

The White House says the TV live coverage is the most extensive for any political speech in history.

Eisenhower and Nixon will speak from the stage of Denver's 6,000-seat Municipal Auditorium at a big political rally arranged by the Colorado Republican organization.

Murray Snyder, assistant White House press secretary, said "the President's address will be his hardest hitting of the campaign and straight from the shoulder."

He added that it will be patterned after Eisenhower's Sept. 23 Hollywood Bowl speech, in which the President slugged hard for the first time in the campaign, saying a Democratic victory in November would lead to "stagnation" in government and a political "field day" in Washington.

About 20 minutes of tonight's TV-radio half-hour program will be taken up by Eisenhower's address, Nixon will speak for about five minutes. Originally the time distribution was the other way around—five minutes for Eisenhower, 20 minutes for the Vice President, who has been carrying much of the campaign load this year.

The switch in plans came after party leaders became concerned about the November outcome, and started calling for the President to take a more active role in the campaign.

On the Democratic side, Adlai Stevenson, 1952 presidential candidate, told a party rally in Wichita, Kan., Thursday night that the Republican campaign is a "1952 model," and charged the Eisenhower administration with "foolish boasts and broken promises."

Greater Use Of Maritime Provinces Ports Is Urged

By FORBES RHUDE
(Canadian Press Business Editor)

Halifax. —(CP)—The Maritime provinces must be more than a mere market place for goods from other parts of Canada.

The statement is from Mayor Richard Donahoe of Halifax, delivered Thursday to the final session of the four-day annual meeting of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

"We are all Canadians," said Mayor Donahoe, "and if one part is hurt it is felt by all Canada."

He urged that industrialists and manufacturers of central Canada, when they arrange imports and exports, make every effort to promote Canadian trade through Canadian channels.

"On the Atlantic coast," he declared, "our ports are our lifeblood."

The mayor's statements were in line with official declarations of the chamber which, the day before, had urged business men to use Maritime ports for shipments wherever possible.

Earlier, Frank M. Covert, Halifax lawyer, toted up in figures, the Atlantic provinces part of Canada. The figures were:

Population 1,600,000, or 10 per cent of Canada's people; percentages of Canadian production: Agriculture 5.7 per cent; forestry 11; fisheries 44; mining 4.6 manufacturing 4.5.

With these pep talks, the chamber ended a four-day annual meeting and set out to see more of the Atlantic provinces. One group went to Newfoundland, and two others visited Nova Scotia's Annapolis valley, and the southwest coast to Lunenburg.

Each carried in his pockets a summons, and each one was charged with an offence.

Each was charged that he had not visited Charlottetown and the rest of Prince Edward Island, and was commanded to appear there next June, July, August or September and answer to the Charlottetown centennial committee of 1955.

Delegates will spend Saturday in Saint John, N. B.

Today's Chuckle

"The cause of this fire was just plain friction," said the insurance adjuster.

"Waddayamean, 'friction'?" asked the wary houseowner.

Replied the adjuster, "It was caused by rubbing a $20,000 fire insurance policy against a $16,000 house."

Daddy Ringtail

For Uncle Bunkum

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, was sitting in the swing on the porch of the monkey house, high up in the top of the very tall tree, right in the middle of the Great Forest.

From away down the Elephant Path, he heard the noise of a firetruck. The firetruck was coming fast. The motor was roaring and the siren was making a siren noise.

"Uh-oh!" said Daddy Ringtail to himself. "It's the Monkey Catcher from the zoo!"

The firetruck came to a noisy stop in a cloud of dust. The chickens were frightened so much they jumped in the air with a flapping of wings and many loud cackles and squawks. Away they ran to the chicken house to hide.

"Beep! Beep!" said the horn of the firetruck, because the Monkey Catcher was beeping to get some attention.

Daddy Ringtail slid down to the ground. "Happy day, Mr. Monkey Catcher," Daddy Ringtail said.

"I am the Monkey Catcher, I am, I am," said the Monkey Catcher, "but I'm not trying to catch me a monkey today."

Daddy Ringtail smiled to hear it. The Monkey Catcher has a silly, stupid voice. "No sir," said the Monkey Catcher. "I'm not trying to catch anybody today. Today is Friday, and it's against the rules to try to catch me a monkey on Friday." The Monkey Catcher giggled his silly giggle, and he said he couldn't catch a monkey that day at all. No sir, he simply couldn't. Daddy Ringtail would have to come back another day, if he wanted to get himself caught to live at the zoo.

Daddy Ringtail laughed to hear his talk. Said he: "Monkey Catcher, I haven't come to see you today. You have come to see me."

"Oh," said the Monkey Catcher. Then he remembered he had come to talk with Daddy Ringtail, because Uncle Bunkum was sick at the zoo in his monkey cage. Would Daddy Ringtail please come and see him?

Yes, and of course Daddy Ringtail would. He said he would. Why, people always want to help a sick somebody who belongs to the family, and that's the story I'll tell you tomorrow. You'll be surprised, all right, all right, Happy day!

The bald eagle will not desert its young even if the tree on which they are nesting is in flames.

Referendum On Five Municipal Loan By-Laws Is Ordered For October 27

City property owners yesterday forced a referendum vote on the five by-laws which will authorize the city to borrow the sum of $2,150,000 for public works projects and repairs to the electricity department. These replace the two by-laws defeated last month. They have been divided up and presented in another form. Mayor Levesque set the polling date for October 27 next.

The League of Proprietors, who seem to have taken things into their own hands, were the ones who forced the referendum, as they did on the filtration plant project and the two loan by-laws which were defeated last month.

In several speeches throughout the hour long meeting the president of the League, Gaston Gendron, stated that the League was a legally cinstituted organization and not men who were out to criticize everything the Council undertook. He complained of the lack of co-operation of both newspapers, which he claimed, did not publish any of the items they submitted. "After all," he said, "we are here to educate the people."

Ex-Alderman Eugene Thibault asked several questions to why the aldermen were asking for money which had previously been voted as many as two times in the past. One example given by Mr. Thibault was Roy street.

One of the most radical speeches was delivered by Thomas Plante, who said that the League had previously sent a letter to the City Council asking that they resign "en Bloc" because they did not have the confidence of the citizens. He claimed that the Mayor and the Council were making to too many trips to cities and this was costing too much money. He also said that there were several Aldermen who were conspicuous by their absence. In particular he named Aldermen Sylvio Rousseau and Wesley Bradley.

The question of a city manager was also brought up. Members of the League said that this was a good idea but that they would not accept one named by the Council because this would not satisfy them.

Alderman Antonio Pinard spoke briefly saying that he has just recently been elected a member of the City Council and he felt he was doing his duty. He stated that he had no intentions of resigning unless the Council passed a resolution to the effect that they would all resign and then he naturally would be obliged to follow.

Alderman Gerard Berard, the only other Alderman, present at the meeting, gave several explanations on By-law 838, which will authorize the building of a municipal depot. This, he said, was absolutely necessary, as the city would be obliged to leave some of their machinery outside during the winter months. Something undesirable, since the City have a considerable amount of money invested in such machinery.

Noted Montreal Cartoonist Heard At Women's Club

By BETTY BRADSHAW

How a cartoonist goes to work, or "An - Illustrated Satire on Montreal Happenings," was the illustrated address given by Gordie Moore, Montreal Gazette cartoonist, last evening before the Women's Canadian Club meeting in the New Sherbrooke Hotel.

Mr. Moore, well-known among the Gazette readers especially for his satirical drawings on Montreal people, particularly the unpredictable tramway motorman, spent over three-quarters of an hour last night drawing quick sketches, adding caustic comments, and keeping the audience in virtual hysterics.

Gordie, as he is probably best known to his fans, started his address by explaining he had spent the past nine years studying the Montreal Man-On-The-Street, and the result of this study has been the daily topics for his cartoons. He said he had spent a long time drawing typical characters, and now it gave him great pleasure to be able to meet and address the typical characters who read his characters .

On a big blackboard, set up in front of the audience, Gordie commenced his drawings by showing that cartoonists had no order at all in the composition of their art. He illustrated this by first drawing a hat, then a hand, then a tie, shoes, neck, etc., until he had remarkably joined all the little figures together to make a man.

Expression, he explained was one of the most important assets of a cartoonist. If the characters had no expression, the whole purpose behind the drawing was lost. Anyone who has followed Mr. Moore's cartoons will well know that expression does play an important role in the gist of his drawings. Going on, he demonstrated how lines and curves could, by being drawn up or being drawn down, change a frown into a smile or into an expression of surprise.

He related to the audience how he had begun cartooning when he was in High School, in geometry class. This came about when he transformed the number six into a man and number two into a woman. The club members sat awe-struck as they watched the talented artist make a few quick strokes with his pencil around the number six and come up with a typical Gordie Moore man. Here, as throughout all the rest of his illustrations, Gordie showed the remarkable degree of perspective he had in his drawings. He was somewhat at a disadvantage when he was composing his characters, as he stood at the side, hardly being able to get the right slant on his drawing, but he repeatedly came up perfectly with his typical people.

These illustrations were just an introduction to his main topic of the evening, Torture Chambers. And, as might be expected of Gordie Moore, he stated he found the best example of a modern day torture chamber in the Every hunt has its rules. We have a hunt on now — for the return of our Lucky Dollars. We, too, have rules. There are only certain dollars one can hunt now. The others are out of their two-week season. No person working for the Sherbrooke Daily Record can hunt, and it is unlawful to ship Lucky Bills to us unless the name and address of the shipper and the consignee, together with full particulars of where and when the bill was trapped, be indicated in the letter.

The Lucky Dollar now in season is S/N 8563512. This will be around for two weeks for you hunters. There are ten other green species of game eligible right now too, so let's see who is the keenest hunter.

On each publishing day until further notice the RECORD will select and publish a serial number taken from a Bank of Canada one dollar bill. Persons having possession of these "Lucky Dollars" may redeem them for ten dollars each.

The bills whose numbers have been selected will have been put in circulation throughout the Eastern Townships immediately before the serial numbers are published.

Winners must produce the "Lucky Dollars" within two weeks of the first publication date of the serial number, and the winning bill or bills must be accompanied by the regular weekly Record Crossword puzzle (or reasonable facsimile) at least 50% correctly completed.

If you have in your possession a dollar bill bearing a serial number published in the RECORD, telephone "Lucky Dollars," the Sherbrooke Daily Record, LO 9-3636 and arrange an appointment to exchange it for your reward.

If you live too far distant from the Record to make this convenient, send your "Lucky Dollar" and the crossword solution, to "Lucky Dollars," c/o the Sherbrooke Daily Record 119 Wellington street north, Sherbrooke.

The Record will not be responsible for "Lucky Dollars" delayed or lost in the mail.

All serial numbers not matched by the deadline automatically become inactive, and no payoff will be made on them. All "Lucky Dollars" and all other dollar bills submitted by persons who do not qualify for the reward will be returned to the owners after the serial numbers become inactive.

Employees of the Sherbrooke Record Co. and their immediate families are not eligible to win rewards for "Lucky Dollars."

Tells How Home And School Club Can Aid Teacher

"Teachers are human beings and are entitled to all the amenities of life that you and I expect" declared Miss Catherine I. MacKenzie in her address to the members of the Lawrence Home and School Association at their first meeting held in the auditorium of Lawrence School. She went on to state that happily teachers are being fully accepted as citizens of the community now and that parents have a duty to make the teacher feel that she is accepted, both as an instructor and as a person. "Remember that when your child comes home complaining about the teacher that he is giving only one child's view—not that of the community. Home and School Association can help mightily by being a place for parents and teachers to meet socially, and not an opportunity for the parents to criticize the teacher," she said.

Supreme Court Upholds Verdict In Lessard Case

The Supreme Court of Canada yesterday upheld a decision made by Judge Hector Perrier in a Sweetsburg court in 1947, awarding damages of $24,500 to Maurice Lessard on behalf of three children whose parents were killed in a collision between their car and a Provincial Transport bus on May 4, 1946.

The case had previously been appealed in the Quebec Court of Appeals in 1953. This court upheld the decision of Judge Perrier as well.

The collision on May 4 took the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lessard and one of their children, Marie-Marthe, aged seven. The accident occurred at South Stukely. Mr. Lessard's brother, Maurice, was named tutor of the three remaining children, Lise, 5, Dianne, 3, and Dorothee, 2. He then took an action for $60,000 against the Provincial Transport Company, through his attorneys, Maurice Delorme and Albert Leblanc, of Sherbrooke.

The outstanding witness in the case was Ivan Boisvert, photographer for La Tribune, who was on the scene shortly after the accident and took pictures of the scene. In handing down his decision, Judge Perrier in 1947 said Mr. Boisvert's pictures were the most precise and accurate of the accident and a large part of the decision was based on these photos.

The Interest Grows

But None Of 940 Entrants In Current Crossword Puzzle Sent Right Answer

Things are looking up. Or maybe it is better to say, "The prize-money is looking up" for we have to add ten more dollars today, because we have no correct answers again. That makes a total of $60 without or $120 with a sales slip from Au Bon Marche.

We did have more hopefuls answering the contest this week, though. If you remember, last week we had 563 replies. This week we have gone a long way to double this number with 940 answers. Keep them coming. Maybe we will reach the 1000 mark yet.

A marked increase in letters is noted this week also. We are glad to get those letters, for it shows that some people read this little story we write each week. This week, for instance, we have a lot of varied comments concerning the suggestion from one of our readers that we charge an entry fee for each puzzle. Here is what one of our ardent puzzlers says.

". . . As for paying to send in the puzzle, I used to do the puzzles in England and we had to send ten cents with every puzzle we sent in. There were four puzzles, so we could try four times. Then if there was no winner, the ones with only one word wrong got the jackpot; two and three words out got half and then a quarter of the jackpot and 25 smaller prizes of a dollar were offered to those with four words out. But this is impossible here, as there were hundreds sending in to the contest over there. That's why they could give away the different prize money. They are too afraid to try here and if you started to charge on entries, there would not be anyone sending in puzzles at all, except for the few of us who do them because we like doing them. . . . I hope you don't mind my criticism of the rest of the people."

This is signed as "Just Another Puzzler, and I like doing them too." To you we say we don't care whether you criticize or not, and when you do, it makes the whole argument much more interesting.

Here is a controversial comment we received from one of our friends.

"Am trying my luck again this week at the puzzles. I've sent in a few now and again but have never won yet. Here's hoping this time. I enjoy the puzzles very much and hope they keep coming. I don't agree with paying the nickles. It would count up too fast."

We still get people interested in our puzzles for the first time. Here is a letter from one reader whom we really had hoped might have a little luck, but as you all

COMMENTS ON PUZZLE NO. 71

ACROSS:

4. WAD is best. Clue says "if lost". A WAD (a roll of bills) only if lost — yes; but a WAR means a financial loss whether won or lost.
6. BAD is the more comprehensive answer since a SAD experience is merely one variety of a BAD experience.
7. FORCED is an excellent answer, since FORCED necessarily implies hard work in making progress. To FORGE one's way can merely mean to make steady progress — possibly with the aid of natives who know the easiest way.
9. He might, of course, scorn a NOVICE, regarding him aloofly as a mere beginner. NOTICE, without qualification, is vague. If it is meme warning NOTICE that the old hand considers himself not to need he might just conceivably IGNORE the NOTICE, but why should he scorn it?
11. SKIP is best. Why stipulate "on an icy road?" The suggestion of danger is already present in SKID; but not in SKIP UNLESS in some special circumstance tending to cause mishap. "On an icy road", therefore, is a pointer to SKIP.
12. BENCH is best. The clue is unassailably true of both BEACH and BENCH — if you are ENJOYING the sunshine it must be nice to sit on WHATEVER you are sitting on. BENCH, however, is more APT. You can sit, walk, run, play or do whatever you like on the BEACH, and enjoy the sunshine; but a BENCH is SPECIFICALLY something to SIT on — thus of the two it fits the clue more snugly.
19. Necessarily true of BOLT, but not of BELT. Under combat or other special conditions, orders concerning the cleaning of such things as BELTS may be relaxed. A clean BOLT is necessary to the proper functioning of the rifle; so it would be a soldier's duty to keep this clean.
20. HEAD is the more comprehensive answer; many a HERD is many a HEAD. Rustlers did not necessarily steal a whole HERD at once, but HEAD would embrace ALL that they stole.
21. ROSE is best. "Not too difficult" implies perhaps A BIT difficult, but not too difficult. But surely it is child's play, and not AT ALL difficult, to cut a ROPE. To shorten a ROPE, the hem must be taken up — a minor feat of tailoring that would not, generally speaking, be too difficult.
22. There are jobs in which, because of danger, the rate of pay is high, and in the case of GREAT DANGER SPECIALLY high. A great DANCER does not work for a "rate of pay", but performs for contracted fees.
23. COIN is best. "May depend TO SOME EXTENT" is an understatement for CORN. Surely the value of CORN goes up or down depending VERY LARGELY on its condition. Normally the value of a COIN has little connection with its condition, but it MAY have, to some extent, if, for example, the COIN be a collector's piece.

DOWN:

3. Certainly true in the case of a LOCK; even when the water is at its lowest there must be enough to float vessels, and enough to make you very wet. A DOCK may be a DRY DOCK.
14. You naturally expect him to take points over a FAKE, since he will definitely want it to look good. A FACE is not necessarily a portrait or part of a major work — he may idly draw a FACE in his sketch-book without taking any particular pains over it or it may be an insignificant part of his picture.
15. A man who keeps putting off the WEDDING must be liable to criticism because it must be a known fact that he keeps doing so. Nobody necessarily knows when a man keeps putting off the WEEDING. He may mentally put it off from one day to the next, and then the next and perhaps even the next, and the garden won't look noticeably different.

They Spoke In French

We all have these lapses into the naive at some time or another. An amusing case occurred the other day in the Quebec report of Premier Duplessis's telephone talk with Premier Minister St. Laurent.

The conversation, the article divulged, was carried on in French.

Of course, the thought comes immediately: "In what tongue would it be carried on?"

The Prime Minister would, doubtless, have been surprised if Mr. Duplessis had opened his overture in English. The implication would have been obvious. And as for Latin both statesmen are probably more than a little rusty since their college days are fairly far behind.

It might be handy sometimes, we have thought, to have a few friends know Persian or Western Hindi. It would baffle fellow bus travellers or listeners on a party line. But then comes the sobering reflection that we haven't much that would rank high as a secret, anyway.

A Czar Promises The Broom

There was Will Hays who knew a thing or two about politics and became the morals' czar of the movies. There was Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, the white-thatched, crisp and characterful ex-jurist who exercised a similar sway and more over the affairs of the diamond.

Now, there is Judge Charles F. Murphy who has been appointed the czar — (commissar might be a more modern but a less popular term) — of the recently awakened comics' books industry.

Judge Murphy took the job, which promises to be comparable to the Augean stables labor of one, Hercules, only after consulting experts: his wife and three children. He has been given a $100,000 annual budget and a free hand by the publishers and he has gone on record with a worth-while resolution:

"I don't intend to let any family down in this job," he has promised, "and certainly not my own."

There will be a revolution in the comic books' industry if Judge Murphy, invested with the free hand, has his way. It may, indeed, be a little hard to recognize the strips. There will be no more horror and terror books, the judge has pledged; no more glamorizing of criminals, no more suggestive art. The industry will have to conform to the ordinary standards of good taste.

The tall, big-framed Irish-American plans to read everyone of the 350 titles himself. In which he is not to be envied — not yet.

The comic books' industry has bowed, wisely, before the gathering storm. It has a two hundred million-dollar a year business. It has given one dollar out of every two thousand taken in to be used in Judge Murphy's new court of correction.

Parents will reserve judgment until the Murphy results begin to show. If the clean-up process is anything like as thorough as is promised there may be a multitude of children to whose long-stimulated tastes the purged strips will seem rather anaemic — at least at first. Parents, however, will be afforded welcome relief and police and magistrates will have an easier time. The moral tone of countless communities will be raised.

The artists of the pen will have to resort to considerable ingenuity now that the fount of the baser passions threatens to be removed. The industry may have lower sales for a time but should be able to adjust itself to the more elevated atmosphere. The choice, evidently, was between the risk of having lower sales and the risk of having none at all.

In Passing

Boys and girls and many adults are accustomed to swopping stamps, birds' eggs and other collected articles. Now, the exchange system has become fairly common among zoos. An instance was provided the other day when Mayor Horace Boivin of Granby, speaking at Rock Island, reported that two brown bears have arrived in Granby from Switzerland in exchange for two Canadian beavers sent to Zurich.

A singular tribute to the calibre of a bank man was given by the Royal Bank of Canada the other days when it announced the appointment of Harold A. Channell as supervisor of branches in the West Indies. The appointment, the bank underlined, re-emphasized the importance with which the institution regards the West Indian area. The terms of the announcement do honor to the Boundary Community in which the Channell family has long been prominent.

Vancouver has had its fall of radioactive particles, following the Russian hydrogen bomb experiment in Siberia, and the city has been warned by Physicist Dr. Shrum, director of the British Columbia Research Council, that it may be the second North American target of guided missiles should World War Three break out. Seattle would be the first.

California, with its great port of San Francisco, has also been ear-marked by some speculative prophets as one of the first targets.

Now, the technical magazine "Nucleonics" has reported that the thyroid glands of slaughtered cattle originating in Florida have shown high radioactive counts, some as high as thirty-two times the normal. Florida is relatively one of the flattest of states and juts out into the water but how it could be especially affected by experiments in the Pacific and in Eastern Asia must be a mystery to some.

It just happens that the Canadian Pacific Coast, California and Florida are regarded, climatically, as among the finest portions of the continent. Which shows once more that something, even if only empty speculation, often occurs to mar near-perfection.

EMPLOYE GOES BERSERK
(Windsor Star)

Employers often have trouble with their employes. An employe may be inefficient, careless or just plain stupid. Such employes can put gray hairs into the heads of bosses.

But the trouble isn't always one-sided. Employes occasionally have trouble with their bosses. This is exemplified by an advertisement which appeared in an English newspaper. "Has any employer a rational job to offer a law graduate (27) being driven berserk by the inanities of 'management training' in a large firm already overstaffed with flunkeys," it reads.

Here is a well educated, presumably intelligent, man at his wit's end by being harried, tormented and badgered by an assortment of efficiency experts and bosses. And it is obvious some of those are mere supernumeraries, on the payroll just to make things miserable for those who are trying to do a job.

We wouldn't draw final conclusions from the advertisement, however. The man may be an irascible fellow who can't get along with anybody, including bosses. If so, the boss is to be pitied rather than he.

HOW MANY BOMBS HAVE REDS?
(St. Thomas Times-Journal)

A few days ago, Tass, the Russian news agency for the collection and dissemination of news, announced that the Soviet had exploded another atomic bomb. The news caused an authority in the United States to assert that Russia has so many powerful bombs that she could destroy the principal cities of the United States in a few days. Another authority replied with the statement that the United States had enough bombs to destroy every city in Russia in a few hours.

It seems to be a case of who is scaring who, but it may be of some interest to note that since President Truman announced the detonation of the first atomic bomb by Russia in September, 1949, Russia has now exploded six bombs in all—one per annum. On the other hand the United States has exploded 44 bombs, and Britain three.

These figures would appear to indicate that the Russians stockpile and the Russian progress in atomic weapons is not nearly as much as some people fear.

OBSTRUCTIVE SCIENCE
(Windsor Star)

Men who like to settle down comfortably at home, and light a cigar, pipe, or cigaret, will wish a certain British botanist had kept his big mouth shut. He has just proclaimed that tobacco smoke is bad for flowers. Kills them, in fact.

Down the years, unconsciously or by guile, man has built a protective screen around his smoking. If any tobacco ash dropped on the rugs, it was "good for them." And as for flowers, hadn't it been established that they absorb carbon dioxide (in which tobacco smoke is rich) and give off oxygen?

With a wife who smokes, this may be unimportant; but with the other kind it could be an essential defence mechanism. Especially if their folks are the kind who cough protestingly at every sign of tobacco smoke.

Now the botanist has challenged all that. That there is carbon dioxide in smoke, he doesn't deny. But he claims it also contains ethylene, an ingredient of illuminating gas and the exhaust fumes of automobiles.

It's enough to set some smokers thinking of a chair next to the furnace, if nothing better can be arranged.

CHILDISH PARENTS
Kitchener-Waterloo Record

Child psychologists come up with some queer ideas. For instance, they are advising parents to force themselves to think and act as children, to make children "feel at home." This is a childish idea, if there ever was one. Too many parents already act like children. If they don't soon start acting like parents, and enforce discipline as they should be doing, they will be bringing up a generation of children that won't be able to meet the demands life makes upon them.

RETARDED CHILDREN
W. L. Clark in Windsor Star

There are about 70,000 mentally retarded children in Canada. Wherever possible, special classes are arranged for these boys and girls. They are given training in keeping with their ability to pay attention and to absorb instruction.

Some of the 70,000 will never be able to care for themselves. They will require help always ,no matter how long they live.

Others will never develop a mentality greater than the ordinary boy or girl of 12. However, these children can be trained to take care of themselves and even to earn a livelihood within limits.

These mentally retarded children are one of the social problems of the day. And, they come from all sorts of families. Some of the most brilliant fathers and mothers are distressed to discover they are parents of a child who is mentally backward.

A Good Trick---if He Can Get Away With It!

Jacoby On Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY

ACCEPT ERRORS AS PART OF GAME

Nobody plays errorless bridge. You must expect to make an occasional error of your own, although it is to be hoped that you will make very few, and you must expect your opponents to stumble now and then also. When they do, be ready to take advantage of their lapses.

In today's hand, for example, West opened the king of hearts, and declarer made the sad mistake of winning immediately with dummy's ace. If you'd have made the same mistake, don't tell anybody. We'll see later on what is wrong with that play.

After making his mistake, South led a diamond to the ace and returned a heart towards the dummy. West naturally hopped up with the queen of hearts and returned. . .

Well, what would you return if you were West, to take full advantage of declarer's mistake?

When Clagett Bowie, the well-known expert of Towson, Md., had the West cards he saw that South was trying to get back to dummy in order to cash the top diamonds. There was only one way to keep South out of the dummy. Bowie returned the king of spades!

This sacrificed a trump trick, to be sure, but the sacrifice paid off. South could win six trump tricks and his three side aces, but these came to a total of only nine tricks. The defenders scored 10 points, thanks to Bowie's fine defensive play.

Now let's go back to South's play. As you see, good defense beats him if he wins the first trick in dummy with the ace of hearts. No defense can touch him if he refuses the first trick. And this is, of couse, the very best reason for refusing it.

If the defenders continue with another heart, South wins in dummy gets to his hand with the ace of diamonds, and ruffs a heart in dummy. He is now in position to cash two high diamonds in order to discard his last heart and a club. He must lose a trump trick, but he makes the rest, scoring game, rubber, and an overtrick.

If the defenders lead anything but a heart at the second trick, the ace of hearts remains in the dummy as an entry to the diamonds. For example, suppose West shifts to a club, which happens to be his best defense. South wins with the ace, clears the ace of diamonds out of the way, leads a heart to the ace, and cashes two high diamonds to discard a club and a heart. Now he cannot lose his contract, and if he makes the right decision he can make an overtrick.

CARD SENSE

Q—With neither side vulnerable, the bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
1 Spade	2 Clubs	Pass	Pass
Double	Pass	?

You, South, hold: Spades 8-2, Hearts 9-7-3, Diamonds K-9-7-2, Clubs Q-10-5-3. What do you do?

A—Pass. You will probably take two clubs and a diamond trick on defense, and your partner's strong bidding indicates that he can take at least three tricks himself. Hence you will probably beat two clubs, and you may even murder that contract. Even if East makes two clubs he will not score a game for it, so little harm will be done.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades 8-2, Hearts 9-7-3, Diamonds 9-7-2, Clubs K-J-10-5-3. What do you do?

THIRTY YEARS AGO

It was not until MacDonald College noted the advantages of agriculture as a study and started courses in agriculture in 1911 and 1912 that the province of Quebec finally became interested in the subject. All this, said district agriculturist L. C. Roy, of Cookshire, speaking at a regular Rotary dinner meeting last night in the New Sherbrooke Hotel represents a major step in the history of agricultural progress.

A twenty-three-year-old cow, probably the oldest animal in the Eastern Townships, has given birth to twenty calves and has milked twenty-one years and is still going strong. The cow is the property of R. F. Graves, of Fulford.

Beware Of Bargains At The Door

Toronto—(CP)—This is the story of three housewives in a Toronto residential district who were cheated out of $115 buying inferior suiting material from a smooth-talking door-to-door salesman.

Partial happy ending was provided by Mrs. Michael Humphries, Canadian Association of Consumers textile expert, who proved in court the material wasn't all the salesman claimed. The money was refunded and the salesman's licence suspended.

Mrs. Humphries, who heads the research laboratory of a Toronto knitting firm, has some tips for housewives confronted with "bargains" at the door.

First don't rush into things. Salesmen of this type thrive on the quick sale, made and paid for before the woman has time to think.

In buying materials mixed with synthetic fibres such as orlon or dacron make sure the exact amount of the fibre is marked on a label or guarantee.

Door-to-door salesmanship is usually a "cat and mouse" game, Mrs. Humphries said. "Think before you make a major purchase and don't be afraid to put the salesman off and consult the Better Business Bureau on his status."

In this case the salesman represented himself as newly arrived in Canada with most of his capital tied up in a "prestige" imported fabric from England, containing orlon and wool. He softened the housewives by telling them he must sell the fabric fast because his wife was having a baby and needed the money.

Housewife No. 1 was a little dubious an hour after she bought the material and rushed it to her tailor. He said it wasn't worth making up into a suit—to too flimsy.

Later while driving in the city she saw the salesman polishing an expensive car in front of an imposing-looking house. She took the licence number and rushed into action.

She called Mrs. Humphries whom she had heard addressing her IODE chapter on textiles and asked her to analyze the material for orlon content. Then she went to the police who urged her to bring the case into court if the material didn't contain any orlon.

Tests proved that the material was a mixture of cellulose acetate and modified cellulose acetate—no wool and no orlon.

Can't Blame The Weatherman It's A High-Speed Robot

By DON WHITEHEAD

Washington — (AP) — A robot that can make weather forecasts better and faster than a skilled meteorologist is one of the exciting possibilities today in the world where men are struggling for a better understanding of what the weather is going to do.

This robot is a high-speed electronic computer which will move out of the laboratory into actual operation by the U.S. weather bureau next spring.

Meteorologists don't look for immediate sensational results, but they do expect that the weather man, with the robot's aid, will be able to predict more quickly and accurately whether cloudy or sunny skies will prevail tomorrow.

One reason for their optimism is this:

In testing the machine at the Princeton Institute for Advanced Study, scientists found the robot had produced a weather map which predicted a sudden storm the forecasters themselves had missed.

Since then, the machine has made other forecasts so successfully that the weather bureau has contracted for an operational model which is being built by the International Business Machines Corp. The machine rental will run around $400,000 a year.

This development doesn't mean the machine is going to replace the weather man. It means the weather man will have a more accurate basis on which to build his predictions.

Dr. George P. Cressman, one of the bureau's experts, talks of the machine with a sort of affectionate exasperation.

"Don't call this thing a 'brain' or a 'wizard,' because it isn't," he said. "Actually it's a stupid sort of creature. It's not creative. It hasn't the faintest idea what to do unless told. But if you tell it the right things, then it works.

The theory of forecasting weather by applying mathematics and physics was first conceived about a half century ago by an Englishman named Richardson. He worked out a set of equations for predicting the actions of the atmosphere. But, without high speed calculators and knowledge gained since his time, his theory didn't work out in actual tests.

The development of electronic calculators reopened interest in the Richardson theory, and after the Second World War a research program was initiated by the office of naval research. That program now has become a joint weather bureau-navy-air force effort.

In the laboratory a "model" of the atmosphere was reproducted by mathematical equation, taking into account temperature, pressure, wind velocity, humidity, etc. The complex operation has been described by the office of naval research in this way:

"In the preparation of a forecast, current analysed weather data received from the weather network is fed into the machine which then performs on the data a pre-set number of mathematical operations to give a pressure field 24 to 36 hours in the future."

The machine, in computing a 24-hour forecast for half the United States, makes 750,000 multiplications and divisions and 10,000,000 additions and subtractions and performs roughly 30,000,000 other operations in a matter of minutes.

When all the equations are fed into the machine by means of punched cards, it produces on paper a series of printed symbols which form the basis of a weather map.

Cressman and a good many others are hopeful that as experience is gained more and more complex models of the weather can be fed into the machine to produce better and better forecasts for interpretation by meteorologists.

NOISY SHIRTS
Christian Science Monitor

Those "loud" sports shirts really are talking. Recent laboratory tests prove that they "shout" in language which can be understood, at least by a microphone.

Writers have known of verbose fabrics, of course, since they first started being writers. What author has not discarded the phrase "her whispering dress" as a "cliche?" And many a quiet approach has been ruined in fiction by a tell-tale rustling of taffeta.

But this is the first time, surely, that men's wear has entered the talkathon. In tests conducted recently in a sound-proof room cotton broadcloth, denim, and linen were found to be among the chief noisemakers.

Maybe there is some sort of future in this. If materials can talk, maybe they can be trained to whisper that you're cool when the temperature soars. And it would be very useful to have your nylon shirt remind you that there's a letter in your pocket waiting to be mailed.

SLIM, THE HUMORIST
Ottawa Journal

The name "Slim" swung across our horizon the other day and it set in train a memory of a Slim who, a good many years ago, rode down a Calgary street on a pony on the eve of Stampede and was recognized by friends on the third floor of an apartment block.

They hailed Slim and in true Western fashion called "Come on up," and being the man he was he directed his pony through the apartment door and up the three flights of stairs, easy as that. He had a cosy visit with his friends and then tried to leave, finding that the pony was willing to go upstairs but wouldn't go down.

This dilemma was solved by someone remembering that a bachelor across the way was out for the night and had left his key behind. So they ushered the pony into the bachelor's bathroom and there left it. The next day a harried building superintendent and an indignant tenant got the pony out and turned it over to the pound.

Ever since then we have looked on the name "Slim" with the deepest awe.

Echoes Of Rubin Strike Heard In Superior Court

Hearings closed yesterday afternoon in a civil action brought against Michel Chartrand, a labor organizer from Montreal, by Armand Nadeau, Q.C., a local lawyer. The $5,000 suit was heard before Judge L. P. Cliche in Superior Court.

The suit arose out of a settlement allegedly made by Mr. Chartrand over a local radio station on or about March 24, 1952. This was the period of the Rubin strike and also election time for the position of Mayor of Sherbrooke, a post for which Mr. Nadeau was running.

Mr. Nadeau, through his attorney, Camille Messara, charged that Mr. Chartrand had malicious intentions when he said, knowing Evander Veilleux, was the lawyer for the Rubin Company, that Mr. Nadeau was company attorney and thus was against the workers. In another statement allegedly spoken over the same program, Mr. Chartrand said that the strikers were coping with the Police of Howard, and that after the election they would have to cope with the Police of Nadeau. Senator Howard was at that time Mayor of Sherbrooke.

Mr. Nadeau claims that because of these statements his name and practise were damaged.

During testimony yesterday Mr. Nadeau said that he was appealing to the support of labor, during his election campaign and Mr. Chartrand's statement about him being the lawyer of the Rubin Company damaged his chances considerably.

As to his practice he claimed that it also suffered because most of his clientele were from the laboring class. He said that several workers came to him after Mr. Chartrand's statements saying that he was not being honest with them, because they apparently believed his statement. In his suit he is trying to rectify the damage done to his name and practice by Mr. Chartrand's statement.

The case was taken into deliberation by Judge Cliche.

know by now, we had no winners.

"Well, here goes. This is my first try at your puzzles. Hope to win, as we could use a little extra money right now. My husband is unemployed at the present time, so here's hoping."

All we can say here, as to the other 939 people, is that we're sorry, but keep trying. Better luck next time . . . and by the way, hope that job turns up soon.

Another one writes. "You've heard the old saying — 'Always a bridesmaid never a bride.' — but that's the way most of us feel when we read the solution to the Record Crosswords; or one could say that we've 'missed the boat'. All of which adds up to — no luck at all. This isn't defeatism, it's just the natural reaction after a session with 'danger' and 'dancer'; 'bolt' and 'belt'; 'herd' and 'head', etc. etc., ad infintum and ad nauseam. The moving finger points and more often than not, it points in the wrong direction. Cheers, wrong direction. Cheers, Dears — and good luck to someone."

Here is a letter from an old-time Record reader, which we are pleased to receive. ". . . Wishing you the best of everything for your paper. I have received your Record for over 35 years and still watch every night for the boy to bring it. Once again hoping I have some luck — "It is really gratifying to know that we have still a few readers who have been our friends for as long as thirty-five years.

Instead of closing off this little "story" with something we have thought of, we feel this is as good as exhortation as anyone would expect to get and it is written by a person who seems never to get discouraged, for he signs his name as "Neverwon."

"Your crosswords are certainly a gamble, but tell me, who does not like a little gambling? I also find besides the gambling instinct it is very interesting, and I know that I for one would be lost without it. Therefore, fellow readers of the Record, show your appreciation by sending in your entries. You may win someday, and besides, think of all the fun you are having in the meantime. So, let us all put our shoulders to the wheel and keep the crosswords going."

Taipeh Criticism Of U.S. Act Grows

Taipeh, Formosa—(AP)—There was mounting criticism here today of reported United States action halting Nationalist attacks on the Red-held mainland.

The semi-official China News agency declared "the effect on morale and stamina of both military and civilians could be irreparable."

Nationalist officials refused to discuss the situation, but newspapers and many private citizens openly criticized what has been dubbed the "no retaliation" order.

The U.S. is reported to have suggested discontinuance of attacks on Amoy and other Red bases along the China coast opposite Formosa in an effort to make certain that American aid to the Nationalists is used for only defensive purposes.

The attacks began early last month after the Reds bombarded the Nationalist island of Quemoy, seven miles off Amoy. The daily aerial and naval attacks on Amoy and satellite bases stopped a few days ago, and there has been no official explanation.

Montreal streetcar. To illustrate this, he took the audience on a tour, through his drawings, of the Academy for Betterment of Streetcar Motorists. This trip, each stage of which he drew as he came to it, was the highlight of the address.

He depicted such incidents as the training of the conductor's well - known expression when handed a five-dollar bill. He took the spectators through the classrooms of the musical section, where the conductors were tuning up for the popular chorus of "En Avant, En Avant, Push Up In Front"; through the recreation centre, where the conductors were practising their Frankenstein expressions, to be used when a passenger, through his own forgetfulness, was forced to come back and ask for a transfer; and through the homicidal section, where the motormen were all seated at switches, and when a whistle went, they were to pull the switch which shut the door and the one with the most heads caught in the tram door was the winner.

Practise at seeing how fast one could drive a tram, packed with passengers, was given and the number of passengers left standing at the end of the run would be scored against the operator.

Several other amusing incidents in the training of a streetcar man were depicted, which all led Gordie to say, how he got away with his satire on the Montreal Tramways, without being given the "boot", was a mystery to all. Hoping he might explain his connection with the company, the club-members listened intently, but Mr. Moore disappointed them all by still keeping it as one of the great wonders of the world.

Other characters he depicted were the Montreal taxi-drivers, with their feet chained to keep them from opening doors for passengers; the waiters with their overly-large hands; the Montreal garbage men whom no one imagined what they couldn't do with a brand new garbagecan; the theatre ushers, who had never been told what to do with their flashlights; the wrestlers, who turned into first-rate actors; the smugglers, with their package of margarine tightly closed in their little hot fists; the motorists who suffered from air sickness, caused by the Montreal roads; the 1915 model cars, travelling around the city streets, not as a novelty to the times, but because the driver had been looking for a parking spot for all those years; the typical clubwomen members, with the old man left at home doing the dirty dishes, their colossal hats and the frustrated male guest at the meeting, juggling a teacup on his bony knees; and finally the Saturday night bath, originating from a few lines drawn around a question mark and ending in the somewhat risque human female.

Gordie was introduced by Mrs. R. I. McCabe, of the entertainment committee and thanked by Mrs. Bruce Bishop. After the ovation had died down at the close of the address, Mrs. J. A. Donald, president of the club, announced that the drawings done by Mr. Moore during the evening could be taken home on a first-come, first-serve basis and Mr. Moore was flooded with requests to autograph his masterpieces.

It was announced that the next meeting would be held on Thursday, October 28, when Phoebe Erskine McKellar, in costume, would give an address on different stages of Canadian history. Seated at the head table last night were: Mrs. J. A. Stewart, Mrs. R. I. McCabe, Mr. Moore, Mrs. Donald, Mrs. Bruce Bishop, Miss Mary Milford and Mrs. F. Steben.

Further Charge Is Laid Against Two Local Youths

In a brief appearance in Court of the Sessions of the Peace this morning Graham Emery and Douglas Paulette were arraigned on a charge of breaking into Rosenbloom's store on Wellington street on the night of July 30-31. They allegedly took merchandise valued at $2,061, which was made up of suits, socks and other goods. Both men chose a preliminary hearing which will be held on October 14. Bail in both cases was reduced to $1,500.

Real Sauve and Arthur Cadieux were sentenced this morning to one year in the penitentiary on each of nine counts of stealing outboard motors. The sentences are to run concurrently.

Another man, Donald Logan, failed to appear on two counts for the same offence. His bail of $950 in property was ordered confiscated and a warrant issued for his arrest.

Yesterday Romeo Cote was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary for the beating of Alfred Mathieu last Thursday.

Hurricanes Hit Tour Of Guards Band

Montreal—(CP)—The director of the touring Irish Guards Band said Thursday night "an act of God" in the form of hurricanes Carol and Edna forced the band to cut their United States tour short.

Capt. C. H. Jaeger said in an interview that two weeks before they were to play at Boston and Providence, R.I., hurricane Carol swept up the American east coast. Then, three days before the performance, Hurricane Edna had a crack.

"Naturally enough," Capt. Jaeger said, "the people of those fair cities were more interested in bailing 15 feet of water out of their basements than in hearing the Irish Guards band."

The British army band leaves here Sunday by air, with passage home paid by the Canadian National Exhibition. It came to Canada in early August to play at the CNE in Toronto and was then due to tour the U.S. until about mid-October.

Capt. Jaeger said their American promoter faced heavy losses after the Boston and Providence engagements and the band was forced to cancel some of the other dates.

After this "we appealed, as a military service, to the Canadian army, offering to play concerts in return for food and shelter," Capt. Jaeger said.

Since picked up by the army the band has played concerts for servicemen, the public and Community Chest drives at London, Ont., at Camp Borden and Montreal.

"We's just been sort of singing for our supper," he said, adding that "none of the band has received a penny for the performances."

PC Situation In BC Is Unaltered

Victoria — (CP) — Deane Finlayson, provincial Progressive Conservative leader, said Thursday night that the visit to British Columbia of George Hees "altered nothing" in the party's provincial-federal jurisdictional dispute.

Mr. Hees is national president of the Progressive Conservative Association.

In a prepared statement Mr. Finlayson said an agreement reached with Mr. Hees at a recent Vancouver meeting has fallen through because Mr. Hees could not overcome "federal objections."

He declined to elaborate.

The Victoria Colonist says the objections "came from only one of the three Progressive Conservative members of Parliament in B.C., Howard Green of Vancouver-Quadra, who refused to have anything to do with the provincial association."

Provincial Conservatives were split into two camps last May when the B.C. executive passed a motion of non-confidence in federal leader George Drew.

Members of the national faction now are forming new associations in federal ridings in B.C., leaving the provincial field to the pro-Finlayson group.

Wolfgang Mozart, famous composer, was buried in a pauper's cemetery and the location of his grave is unknown.

SIR JOHN SHERBROOKE CHAPTER, I.O.D.E.

The response to the appeal for toys for children in needy areas of the world was most gratifying, Mrs. Bruce Bishop, regent, told the Sir John Sherbrooke Chapter of the I.O.D.E., at their meeting on October 5. The contents of the parcel received were: 24 books, 12 puzzles and games, 26 soft toys (animals, dolls, etc.,) 12 metal toys and 18 miscellaneous articles. The sum of $10 was voted to help buy an X-ray machine and films to be used in Korea. The prevalence of tubercolosis in this war-torn land makes this a most worthwhile effort. It is to be known as the "Korea Project of the I.O.D.E."

Money was also voted to finance a Christmas parcel for a prisoner in England.

The Commonwealth and Empire Fund which paid for the first translation of nursing textbooks for Hindustani now supports a nurse from Pakistan, Miss David, studying at the University of Toronto. It is hoped in the future to bring a doctor for study in Canada. Five dollars was voted to this fund.

One dollar was voted to buy films for distribution, particularly to rural areas of Canada. Four copies of "A Queen is Crowned" have been purchased from this fund.

Ten pounds of pocket editions have been sent by Mrs. E. W. L. Arnold, to Canadian troops in Germany.

The Sir John Sherbrooke Chapter will make cancer dressings on Friday in future.

Mrs. A. W. Tinmouth has consented to act as Educational secretary for the remainder of the year.

The Chapter's rummage sale, to be held at the Market at 2 p.m. on Friday, October 15, will be convened by Mrs. S. Carter.

East Farnham Couple Feted On 25th Anniversary

East Farnham, Oct. 8—Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thomas were guests of honor at a surprise gathering, held recently in the United church parlor.

The recreation, conducted by Mrs. Stuart Hawke, included two contests and a mock wedding. The first contest was "A true romance" written with the highlights of the original courtship and marriage in jumbled letters. The second was guessing old familiar songs by having the pianist, Miss Grace Shufelt, play only a few notes of each song.

The guests of honor were then escorted to the lace covered table, decorated with a lovely wedding cake, and yellow tapers and white phlox in the containers used at the original wedding twenty-five years ago. Seated also at the table were their two children, Gerald and Margaret, and the bride's mother, Mrs. Alma Grubb. The toast to the happy couple was proposed by Rev. Gerald Fee, of Cowansville, and was responded to by both the bride and groom.

Farm Forum Off To Early Start

East Clifton, Oct. 8.—The East Clifton Forum members turned out with their usual interest for the coming fall series by meeting several weeks early. Mr. and Mrs. Graydon Montgomery were hosts for the evening.

The choice was so varied, it seemed for a while there might have to be two or three evenings.

The meeting was chaired by Mrs. Desmond Bain. A friendly cup of tea brought the evening to a close. This get-together was a pleasant reminder of the Monday evenings that are to come with National Farm Radio Forum broadcasts heard while grouped together in each other's homes.

Rev. And Mrs. Richards Welcomed To Cookshire-Bury Pastoral Charge

Cookshire, Oct. 8—The United church congregations of Bury and Island Brook joined with the Cookshire congregation and a large number of friends from the surrounding district on Tuesday evening, Sept. 28, in tendering a reception for the Rev. T. D. Richards and Mrs. Richards. Mr. Richards was formerly stationed in the pastoral charge at Flint, North Wales, and will now be in charge of the Cookshire-Bury pastoral charge, which includes Island Brook.

The church was beautifully decorated with baskets of gladioli and autumn flowers and a church service was held at 8 o'clock. The full choir was in attendance and led in the singing of the hymns, "The Church's One Foundation," Spirit of God Descend Upon My Head" and "Lead On, O King Eternal." Mrs. D. MacRae was at the piano.

The Rev. Mr. Gustafson conducted the service, the Rev. H. Boomhour offered a prayer and the Rev. J. Butler read the Scripture lesson. Mr. Gustafson welcomed Mr. Richards and his wife and baby on behalf of the congregation of the Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbytery.

The Rev. Mr. Hatt preached an impressive sermon. He stated that we were living in an age of confusion, ethical and social standards were being lowered and that dissatisfaction of all kinds existed,

The churches, down through the ages, have promised peace and goodwill to all people, but we have been smothered by wars, international hates and jealousies. We cannot do without God and God cannot work without us. He needs our co-operation to help bring about His promises.

There are many interpretations of God but the biggest sin of the people today is that they have too small a view of the church and the interpretations of the part it plays in our daily work. We need enlarged ideas of God, and we must be prepared to help in His great work by being "fellow laborers with God," as set forth in the 1st Book of Corinthians.

Following the church service a social hour was held in the church hall. The following spoke words of welcome and brought greetings, the Revs. Butler, Boomhour, Gustafson, Everett, Mrs. L. MacLeod, Messrs. C. M. MacRae, H. V. Burns and Canon Dunn, representing the Anglican Church.

The Rev. T. D. Richards thanked each and every one for their many acts of kindness and the cordial welcome. He also thanked those who were responsible for extending him an invitation to become the minister in this pastoral charge and said that he would, to the best of his ability, seek to prove worthy of this confidence and faith placed in him.

The Rev. Mr. Everett thanked the ladies of the congregations who prepared and served such delicious refreshments.

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH W. A.

The Women's Association of Trinity United church held a meeting at the home of Miss Louisa Elliott on Monday evening, Sept. 27, with ten members in attendance.

Routine business was then transacted. The members will be decorating the church for Thanksgiving Sunday, and they will be on hand to receive donations of flowers, fruits and vegetables on Saturday afternoon, October 9. Contributions from the members or friends in the congregation will be gratefully received.

Following adjournment the hostess served refreshments, assisted by her mother, Mrs. R. Elliott.

Bishop's And Athletics Clash Tomorrow At 2.00 p. m.

College Football Opens Saturday With McGill Hosts To Queen's; Als Meet Riders Over Week-End

The college football season, with cheer leaders, bands and pretty co-eds to brighten the scene in Toronto and Montreal, starts Saturday as the Big Four pro league heads into the second half of its schedule with two arch rivals on the spot.

The two-game series between Hamilton Tiger-Cats and Toronto Argonauts is on top in the Big Four Saturday and Monday and it could make or break either club. The two encounters are the big ones in the east's Thanksgiving week-end menu of seven games.

The defending champion University of Western Ontario Mustangs clash with the University of Toronto Blues in the college opener at Toronto while the promising Queen's University Gaels and McGill Redmen usher in the season at Montreal.

The Tiger-Cats and Argonauts clash first in Hamilton Saturday and then come back at each other on Thanksgiving Day in Toronto. Montreal Alouettes and Ottawa Rough Riders also tangle in two games, in Ottawa Saturday and in Montreal Thanksgiving Day.

The second-place Sarnia Imperials and winless Toronto Balmy Beach meet Monday at Sarnia in the only game of the three-team Ontario Rugby Football Union.

In the Big Four the Tiger-Cats and Argonauts have the task of making the race interesting to watch now that Montreal has made a runaway of first place and Ottawa has little hope of making the two-team playoffs. The Tiger-Cats and Argos are in a tense battle for second place and a double victory this week-end for Hamilton could just about shatter the play-off chances of the Argos. Ticats now leads Argos by two points.

The clubs broke even in two previous games. The Tiger-Cats won in Toronto 17-8 but the Argos came back in Hamilton to win 21-7.

Ottawa's Rough Riders, who have won only one game in seven, are reported to have come up with something very "hush hush" to throw at the leading Alouettes. But it will have to be pretty good to stop the league-leading Als.

WESTERN PICTURE

A more definite playoff picture in the Western Interprovincial Football Union may develop after four scheduled games are decided this week-end.

Winnipeg and Saskatchewan now hold down first place with 16 points apiece in 12 games. Next is Edmonton with 12 points in 10 games, followed by Calgary with 10 points in an even dozen outings. B. C. Lions, with a single win in 10 games, bring up the rear.

The luckless Lions will be hosts to the Stamps in Vancouver on Saturday while Blue Bombers entertain Edmonton. Monday's action will see the Lions in Calgary and Eskimos meeting Saskatchewan Roughriders in Regina.

Winnipeg coach Al Sherman regards the Saturday night clash with Edmonton as a "big one." Edmonton will likely be at full strength for the week-end and will attempt to overhaul the league leaders.

Ferguson To Run In New Orleans

New Orleans — (AP) — Track chairman L. Dibenedette of the New Orleans Mid-Winter Sports Association said North Ireland's Vic Milligan has joined Wes Santee in entering the Sugar Bowl's international mile.

Dibienedette said Dr. Roger Bannister will not be in the race but Rich Ferguson of Toronto is expected to accept.

He said Bannister's hospital duties do not allow him to train regularly nor to travel overseas.

Dibenedette said he still hoped that John Landy of Australia would come to the race here to engage Santee.

Ferguson placed third to Bannister and Landy in the British Empire Games mile in Vancouver this summer.

Three Rivers Invade Quebec For Week-end

Quebec — (CP) — Mayor Wilfrid Hamel will usher senior football into Quebec City Saturday when Quebec faces Trois-Rivieres Braves at Municipal Stadium in an eastern division match of the Quebec Rugby Football Union.

The game will be the first in Quebec since the eastern section of the ORFU was disbanded five years ago. The eastern division was revived this year and moved from intermediate to senior calibre.

French-speaking fans will be given a play-by-play explanation of the game over a public address system.

The Braves will attempt to average a 7-6 defeat by Quebec at Trois-Rivieres three weeks ago. They have split in two encounters with Sherbrooke Athletics, the other entry.

Chicago Cubs Buy Two Players

Chicago —(AP)—Chicago Cubs Thursday bought a Western League all-star shortstop and an outfielder rated the Western's fastest runner from their Des Moines, Ia., affiliate.

The shortstop is Ed Winceniak, 25, who batted .282, collecting 31 doubles.

The outfielder is Solly Drake, 23, who broke his collar-bone trying a diving catch early last season, but after a month's idleness came back to bat .282. Drake, Negro speedster who has been a pro only two seasons, won by three yards in a special 100-yard race to determine the fastest Western League player.

Pittsburgh Ties With Cleveland

St. Thomas, Ont. — (CP) — Pittsburgh Hornets of the American Hockey League came back with two goals in the third period to force a 3-3 tie with Cleveland Barons, league champions, in an exhibition game Thursday night.

Willie Marshall paced Hornets with two goals. Frank Mathers got one. Ron Spong, Cal Stearns and Billy Ford tallied for Barons.

Meet At Municipal Stadium In Benefit Game For Ray Tremblay; Both Teams In Good Condition

Sherbrooke Athletics and Bishop's University football club will clash in an exhibition tilt at the ball park on Saturday afternoon at 2:00. This is a benefit game for Ray Tremblay who was injured in the season's opener.

The game will serve as a tune-up for both clubs and both Ken Jackson, of the A's, and "Beef" Ross, rival coaches, report their teams in good shape with no injuries from week-end tilts.

Bishop's this year possesses a light fast team and will be out gunning for their second win as they trounced R.M.C. last Saturday to the tune of 12-0. Their main attack will be an aerial display with swift running end plays.

The game should be a thriller as there has always been keen rivalry between the two teams and this doesn't seem to be an exception.

The entire proceeds of the game will go to the Athletics' quarterback, Ray Tremblay, who suffered a severe dislocation of the ankle and foot in the first game of the season. His leg will be in a cast for a month, and at present he is at his home in Montreal.

Sherbrooke's team is a bona-fide amateur group with the proceeds of the advertising in the program going to buy equipment. The travelling expenses and meals of the club are paid by the players themselves and a number of the boys travel from Montreal and other parts to play here. Any hospital expenses come out of the players' pockets which is the main reason for the benefit game.

Buses will leave the corner of King and Wellington to the park and there will be coffee, sandwiches, etc., on sale.

Kickoff time is 2:00 and even if it rains or snow there is room for 1,500 people under the roof of the park and the game will be played.

Today we are going to do a little talking about the cinderella entry in the District of Bedford Senior Basketball league for this coming season and tell just a little about the folks that made their entry possible in their jump from intermediate to senior ranks.

Years ago Bedford used to be one of the major entries in this District of Bedford set up. When Everett Dennison, now at Lennoxville High, was principal of Bedford they used to have one of the finest basketball teams in the Eastern Township school area. Fellows such as Pete Palmer made Bedford a name to be conjured with in both hockey, track and field.

However with the advent of centralization and compulsory school laws Knowlton, Granby, Cowansville, and Waterloo forged ahead of Bedford in enrolments, and with more students and more teacher supervision they put out much stronger teams than Bedford could muster. So that year in and year out the Bedford boys and girls competed gamely fought to the last minute whether the score was close or not and were a real credit to their school but they won very few games.

The principal was the only male member of the staff. He taught, was his own secretary, and in his management of school affairs had very little time to devote to athletics.

Then came the awakening. Bedford's new Home and School Association, full of zing, stepped in to take over. They furnished a coach, dug up some of the fellows with cars to supply transportation and brightened up the dingy playroom gym, and straightened up the rickety baskets as well as they could be straightened. Things began to look up for the teams and they actually began to win games under the fine guidance of Rev. T. F. Duncan. Fellows like Ron Corey began to click with the result they tied Knowlton, the perennial intermediate champs, and then went on to beat the brains out of the purple and white at Granby in a neutral floor game for the championship.

Last Friday this year's team defeated the old boys led by Ron Corey and Cheesman, 25-17, and you can depend on the fact that they are not going to be leaning Lulus for any team in the senior league at home or away. They have a couple of boys who can really hoop that ball through the ring in Denny Cheek and Falcon. Then they have some up and comers in D. Hewett R. Martin, E. Rhicard, R. Harland, J. Gasser, E. Brown and P. McGregor. Besides that the school has in Bruce Kirwin, their new principal, a real sports enthusiast. Russ Blinco, of stellar athletic fame, has volunteered to officiate a few of their games. Now if they could do something about that moth eaten antiquated gym Bedford High would really be a behive for sports.

Chaff . . . Gordie Wright, ye olde former athlete from Knowlton High, is present in the Royal Victoria Hospital in Montreal quite ill from a glandular throat infection, and if you boys and gals don't inundate him with get well cards I'm going to be very disappointed in you . . . Bob Miller and Kay Miltimore were surprised partied in Knowlton last Saturday night with Kay getting an electric kettle and Bob a travelling bag . . . Friday night with his new bride at Iron Hill . . . Arthur Wright, out of the forces and home from Germany to help build a new home for his dad.

Ty Cobb Being Sued For $100,000

Oroville, Calif. — (AP) — Baseball immortal Ty Cobb was sued other ex-ball player in Butte county superior court Thursday.

Richmond Legion And Valcourt Win In Darts' League

Richmond, Oct. 8. — The Valcourt darts team is at it again and they have won their third straight game, this time over the Richmond Darts Club. The game was played in Valcourt and the score was 21-19.

In the only other game played the Richmond Legion continued their fast pace, gaining their third victory also at the expense of the Asbestos team. This game was played in Asbestos Sunday afternoon, wih Legion coming out on top 22-18.

The game at Valcourt had two teams from RDC in a two out of three playoff round between Gerry Laflamme and D. Ostiguy with Alex Dancause and Fred Roberts. This round was won by the Dancause-Roberts team. Both teams had won four out of five rounds and the Paul Belair-Erole Gagne team of Valcourt won five in a row. The RDC winners played a 2-3 round with the Belair-Gagne team which the Valcourt team won.

After 39 rounds had been played, Valcourt had a close edge of 20-19 and went on to win the final round to take the game 21-19.

Sunday's game in Asbestos had two Legion teams winning four out of five while three on the Asbestos club won three out of five. A Snow with H. Hills and E. Fuller with H. Kydd were the Legion's best teams while S. Sears with R. Filion, E. Demers and A. Spenard, and B. Mills with W. Olney played the best games for Asbestos.

The Snow-Hills team won the playoff over the Fuller-Kydd team. Sears and Filion won their round from Mills and Olney while the Demers-Spenard duo defeated the S.-F. team to qualify against the Legion winners. The Legionnaires won the round and the game 22-18.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT

New York—(AP)—The football coaches who were moaning a year ago that the United States college game had gone to the dogs with the abolition of the two-platoon system are still dissatisfied. But they are resigned to playing with a single unit. They know it's here to stay. One of them said privately a few days ago:

"We're not playing anywhere near as good football, but at least we're equally bad and I doubt that the spectators notice any big difference.

"There just isn't enough time to each defence. We've got to bear down on the offence and hope that the boys were taught how to tackle somewhere back in their youth and that they have enough stamina to hold up when the other side gets rolling. It might be a long time before you see another major team go through an undefeated season."

Charlie Dressen, who is going to manage Washington Senators, was amused at reports that Cleveland Indians were surprised at the brilliant fielding of Hank Thompson at third base.

"That guy always was a great third baseman," Charlie said. "One of the few mistakes Leo Durocher ever made was when he kept trying to make a right-fielder of him. I remember telling my Dodgers for a couple of years that as long as Leo kept fooling around like that we didn't have anything to worry about."

There is no question that Dressen believes he could have won Brooklyn another flag, but he refused to blame his successor, Walt Alston. He said it could have happened to anybody.

"Alston knew the players who had been with him at Montreal," Charlie explained. "One of their biggest stars gets the sulks about 10 times a season and isn't worth a damn for days at a time. I had learned what to say to him to snap him out of it. Walt didn't know how."

Suspend Student After Incident

Toronto — (CP) — Ryerson Institute of Technoolgy Thursday suspended for a year a student held responsible for dropping a steel goal post on the head of fellow-student Al Warson during a fracas after a football game in Guelph last week.

The provincially-sponsored trades school did not release the name of the suspended student.

Student social activities were suspended after the football game incident.

Maurice Richard Paces Canadiens To 4-2 Win Over Hawks With Two; Red Wings Nip Maple Leafs 2-1

The National Hockey League has begun a new 70-game schedule and the opening reel went the way the pre-season pipers called it.

The defending champion Detroit Red Wings, in search of an unprecedented seventh-straight league championship, nipped Toronto Maple Leafs 2-1 before 10,200 in Detroit Olympia's opener Thursday night.

At Montreal, 14,500 watched Canadiens, runners-up last season, roll 4-2 over Chicago's revamped Black Hawks with Maurice (Rocket) Richard scoring twice and assisting on the other two goals.

The first page still isn't written. Boston Bruins and New York Rangers don't see action until Saturday night. But what came out in the openers indicates it's a reasonably safe bet Red Wings and Canadiens will not be easy to push out of the one-two places they occupied last season.

RICHARD TOPS

Richard was the outstanding performer in Montreal. The four points he picked up got him away to a fast start for season scoring honors — a title that has always eluded the veteran winger — and his two goals boosted his all-time total to 386.

Rookie centre Jackie Leclair, a 25-year-old from Quebec City who took over the centre spot vacated by retired Elmer Lach, and defenceman Tom Johnson handled the rest of Canadiens' scoring. Jacques Plante, replacing retired Gerry McNeil kicked out 18 Hawk shots. Leclair worked with Richard and Bert Olmstead and set up one of Richard's goals and that of Johnson.

Hawks, under coach Frankie Eddolls who succeeds Syd Abel, showed plenty of fight but couldn't match the speed and smooth team work of Montreal. Newcomer Red Sullivan and Jerry Toppazzini handled the Chicago scoring.

SKINNER DEBUT

At Detroit, Red Wings, ran to eight their string of consecutive opening-game victories and got new coach Jimmy Skinner off to a good start. Skinner took over from Tommy Ivan this season when Ivan went to Chicago as Hawk general manager.

Leafs haven't won a regular season game on Detroit ice since Nov. 2, 1952, a string of 14 games, and Detroit hasn't lost a home opener since 1938.

Metro Prystai and Marcel Pronovost, Red Wing regular last season, provided the scoring punch while Howe, the league's leading scorer for the last four seasons, was robbed four times by Leaf goalie Harry Lumley, then shot wide on another scoring chance.

Sid Smith scored for King Clancy's Leafs at 15:42 of the final period while Wings were a man short. They threatened to even it several times but time ran out.

The league moves into full swing Saturday night with all six teams in action. Chicago is at Toronto, New York makes its debut at Detroit and Boston comes out at Montreal.

Royals Buy And Sell More Players

Montreal — (CP) — The Montreal baseball club Thursday announced a second series of player deals designed to protect the men from the baseball draft.

The Royals of the International League have sold the contracts of righthanded pitchers Art Fabbro and Joe Carbonaro to St. Paul, Minn.; those of pitchers George Thomas and Carol Beringer, who were optioned out last season, to Fort Worth, Tex.; that of Bod Ludwick, lefthanded pitcher, to Mobile, Ala.; and of third baseman Clyde McNeil, to Elmira, N.Y.

The Royals also purchased the contracts of the following: catcher John Bucha from St. Paul; shortstop Jasper Spears, and pitcher Robert Hoffman from Mobile; pitchers Frank White, Ralph Butler and Joe Stanak, outfielder Eddie Moore, and infielders Mike Korchek and Norman Sherry from Fort Worth; pitcher Robert Craig from Newport News, Va.; pitcher Don Brate from Elmira, and pitcher Diedrich Weigand from Pueblo, Colo.

The Royals had previously sold three players' contracts and bought three others.

Chiefs Stop Louisville 1-0 To Knot Series At Two Games Each; Meet This Evening In Fifth Tilt

Syracuse, N.Y.— (AP) —Ivan "Ike" Delock goes to the mound for the Louisville Colonels in quest of his second little world series victory against the Syracuse Chiefs tonight. If he is successful the American Association winners will need only one more victory to wrap it up.

This is a key game for both teams in the best-of-seven series. The Chiefs, International League victors, tied it at two games apiece Thursday night with a 1-0 triumph behind Jim (Bear) Owens' two-hitter.

Either Jack Sanford or Lefty Jack Spring will get the call for the Chiefs.

The player's pool was completed with Thursday night's game. It came to $28,943.09 and the winning team will collect 60 per cent of it.

The Chiefs got the only run of the game in the first inning. Don Richmond and Marvin Blaylock singled in succession. Johnny Blatnick grounded to third-baseman Frank Malzone, who tried for a double play. His throw pulled second baseman Lew Damman off the bag and Richmond scored.

American League Owners Meet On Tuesday To Decide Fate Of A's; Tommy Richardson Is Mystery Man

Chicago—(AP)—The meeting of American League club owners in Chicago Tuesday to try to decide what is going to happen, if anything, to their poor relatives, the Philadelphia Athletics, could be a stormy one.

At present, the man of mystery in the bidding for the club's franchise is Tommy Richardson of Williamsport, Pa., president of the Eastern League and a member of the A's board of directors.

He is a mystery only to the extent that nobody seems certain if he really has the backing of wealthy friends to the tune of $3,750,000 to match the bid of Arnold Johnson, the Chicago financier who wants to move the A's to Kansas City.

The persistent and tireless Johnson, meanwhile, is waiting for reports from his corps of engineers, contractors and architects on whether there will be time to double-deck the Kansas City stadium to accommodate 35,000 fans before the season starts in April.

"If there isn't time, I'll withdraw my offer," declared Johnson. "Sept. 15 to 20 was supposed to be the deadline for starting work."

Johnson also said he expected to pay "a reasonable amount" to the New York Yankees for their Kansas City American Association territory. The Yankees had threatened to join the Washington Senators and Detroit Tigers to block the proposed shift to Kansas City unless payment for territorial rights was adequate.

Six of eight league clubs must approve a franchise switch.

Roy Mack has strongly opposed his baseball pioneering father, Connie, and brother, Earle, to sell to Johnson.

Norkus Looking For Big Three

San Francisco — (AP) — "Chiller" Charley Norkus and his manager, "Ghee" Laico, are aiming their pugilistic sights on the "big three" of the heavyweight boxing division.

The three men are Don Cockell, English champion; Nino Valdes, Cuba's best, and the champ of all, Rocky Marciano.

Norkus racked up a seventh-round technical knockout over Charley Powell of San Diego in their nationally-televised fight here Wednesday night.

"We're looking for Cockell, Valdes or Marciano now," manager Laico said Thursday in an interview.

"Norkus will take on Cockell and Valdes in turn to prove his right to a title fight. If they keep us out of the picture, we may give Powell a return match if he wants one."

FAVORED AREAS OF ALL GAME

9-18

REGARDLESS OF WHAT GAME YOU SEEK, IT WILL, BY CHOICE, BE IN THE BEST FOOD, SHELTER AND TEMPERATE AREAS. SUCH AREAS ARE LOCATED ON SOUTHERN SLOPES, WHERE THE DIRECT SUNLIGHT GROWS MORE FOOD AND OFFERS WARMTH IN COLD WEATHER. THEY MAY BE ONLY SMALL, OPEN PATCHES IN THE TIMBER, OR COVER MANY ACRES IN SIZE. EASTERN AND WESTERN SLOPES ARE NEXT IN FAVOR. NORTH SUNLESS SLOPES ARE POOREST, ALTHOUGH YOU MAY SEE MANY TRACKS WHERE GAME HAS CROSSED. IF BIRDS AND SMALL GAME ARE ABSENT, YOU WON'T FIND LARGER GAME.

Teams Four Winners Home; $71.55 Top Price Of Evening In Quinella; Another Card Slated For Tomorrow

Fred Direct and Beth Song put on a finishing drive last night in the third race and their backers picked up the tidy sum of $71.55 for a $2.00 investment on the first quinella on the mid-week program of the Sherbrooke Racing Club. Tomorrow evening another eight class event is slated to take place with post time at 8.00.

On Sunday afternoon the local club will present their first attempt at a five-mile race. This feature was booked for last Sunday but rain forced postponement and the Club has listed it for again. The same number of entires, eighteen, are slated to face the starter for the $1,200 purse.

In the second quinella, in the sixth, Caledonia Ann and Miss Gisele Bing were the favorites and the small figure of $10.00 was all their backers picked up. The daily double, with Dewey Axworthy in the first and Caledonia Ann in the second, paid $25.65 as the combination was the choice of the field.

Allie Truax, the property of L. H. and M. B. Branch, of Lyndonville, Vt., with Percy Lynaugh at the reins copped the top figure on the straight ticket when the ten-year-old mare paid $26.30 in the fourth race. It was kind of an upset as the bettors didn't figure the American mare in the money. Driver Lynaugh also came home first in the final race on the card.

Jody Grattan came through in the fifth to finish second and her backers were rewarded by $15.90. Buddie Miller, owned by B. A. Mullins of Knowlton, took the high on a show ticket, in the second, when the sum of $12.30 was paid.

Driver Suspended

In the fourth race Driver F. St. Denis drew a week's suspension from the judges when he interfered with Paul Hauver's Janie Hutch. After leaving the gate, St. Denis, who was in third position, tried to pull ahead of Janie Hutch, in the pole, but he cut too suddenly and only the quick reaction of Driver Hauver averted a serious mishap. This caused three other horses to break their stride and the judges handed down the suspension.

Tomorrow evening another well-balanced card is on the program and the fans should have plenty picking to do in order to come out in front. On Sunday afternoon, commencing at 2:00, eight classes will be on tap besides the five-mile feature. This is the first held at the local track for several years and the club decided to sponsor one.

PRESTONE BRAND ANTI-FREEZE

Without the complete protection of "Prestone" Brand Anti-Freeze, you may suffer the expense of serious cooling system damage this winter or even next summer after the anti-freeze has been drained and replaced with water and rust inhibitor.

Remember—a 'substitute' anti-freeze just might get you through the winter without cooling system freeze-up. But freeze-up is less than half the hazard of winter engine operation. Many cases of summer engine over-heating problems are caused by inferior anti-freeze protection during the previous winter.

"Prestone" Anti-freeze protects the cooling system against freeze-up, rust, corrosion, acid contamination, clogging, seepage, deterioration of metal and rubber parts. That's complete protection!

It always pays to insist on "Prestone" Anti-Freeze. Don't accept 'substitutes' —not if you're looking for guaranteed, complete protection, the kind that only "Prestone" Anti-Freeze can give.

WARNING!

You may be told that other brands are 'just the same as' "Prestone" Anti-Freeze. It isn't so! Insist on "Prestone" Brand and you can get it—anywhere!
