

Over Half A Million For One Herd RECORD HOLSTEIN AUCTION

Extracts from a Holstein-Friesian Association news letter, dated November 13: "One of Canada's most famous Holstein herds went under the auctioneer's gavel of Senator Harry Hays, at the Hays Sale Arena Oakville, Ontario on November 12. "A crowd of 2,500, including cattlemen from 13 different countries, overflowed the Hays Sale Arena, according to Sales Manager Tom Hays.

Included in the above were 12 head which sold for at least $10,000; 22 head in excess of $5,000; 64 head at $2,000 or more.

School Boards Cut Ordered By Quebec

The Education Department has ordered the amalgamation of hundreds of Quebec school boards by June in order to streamline provincial education.

Jean-Marie Morin, minister without portfolio attached to the department, told Catholic school commissioners Saturday that Quebec's 1,000 boards must be reduced to 300, starting immediately.

If the boards do not do it themselves, he warned, the government will do it for them.

The move is aimed chiefly at rural areas where a school board may only administer a local elementary school. At the same time, another board will run the high school which has pupils from several localities.

Speaking at the annual meeting of the Federation of Catholic School Commissions, Mr. Morin said legislation will soon be enacted to clear up difficulties in amalgamation.

"In the mind of the department, regrouping must be completed or well on its way by the end of the school year," he declared. Both the government and the boards have studied the matter for years, he said, "so there are no longer any reasons to justify new delays."

"If, in a few months, the rate of amalgamation does not permit us to foresee a happy and early end," he added, "we will have no other course but to ask the government to impose the necessary regroupings through legislation."

Amalgamation became necessary as provincial education passed from religious to government control.

Mr. Morin also told the meeting that from now on, regional school boards — not the government — will be responsible for adult education. The Public Education Act will be amended along these lines, prior to Sellar's time and it he said, "so as to dissipate all doubt."

Mr. Morin also reminded school commissions to live within their means.

"Like others, they must learn to establish priorities and live within the means of the communities they serve," he said.

GERALD LANIEL SPEAKS OUT AGAINST THE IMPORTATIONS

The following is from Hansard and gives the debate by Mr. Gerald Lanier, M.P. for Beauharnois, in defence of imported goods to Canada and their effect on the Canadian economy.

TRADE
JAPAN — AGREEMENT ON QUOTAS
On the orders of the day: Mr. Gerald Lanier (Beauharnois): Mr. Speaker, I wish to ask the Prime Minister a question.

Could he tell the house if it is true that the Canadian government is ready to sign with Japan a trade agreement retroactive to January 1, 1968 to set up quotas on various imports from Japan, and particularly on textile products, as announced by some Japanese officials this morning?

Right Hon. P. E. Trudeau (Prime Minister): I am not a member of such an agreement. Mr. Speaker, but the hon. member might put his question to the Minister of Industry, Trade and Commerce.

Mr. Lanier: Mr. Speaker, I wish to put a supplementary question.

Before putting my question to the Minister of Industry, Trade and Commerce, I would like to ask the Prime Minister whether he agrees with me that this matter is as important as that of Biafra, because of the adverse effects which an increase in imports from Japan and Asian countries could have on the Canadian economy?

Mr. Speaker: Order. Would the hon. member put his question?

Mr. Lanier: — and that it should be referred to the committee on finance, trade and economic affairs, where representatives of the textile industry representatives of the textile and other industries concerned could be heard?

Hon. E. J. Benson (Minister of Finance): Mr. Speaker, annually we discuss voluntary quotas with the Japanese government. These quotas, when determined, are usually announced in the house by the Minister of Finance. We have been working on these voluntary quotas, and we have received representations from the textile industry. We have a long range study under way on imports from low cost countries, which I hope will be coming to the attention of the government in the very near future. When this report is received perhaps it would be the best document to refer to the committee referred to by the hon. member.

Mr. Lanier: Mr. Speaker, I wish to ask a supplementary question.

Even if the minister has consulted with the representatives of the textile industry, I would like to know whether the negotiators listen, nevertheless, to the representations made by the representatives of the Canadian textile industry, because these people come later to see the members of parliament and are not always satisfied with the arrangements?

Mr. Benson: I should like to indicate, Mr. Speaker, that these representations go on continuously. As a matter of fact, the Prime Minister and several members of the cabinet met with members of the textile manufacturing industry as well as labour representatives in the textile industry a few weeks ago.

Robert Hill Speaker
Chateauguay Valley Historical Society Hears About Robert Sellar, Huntingdon And The Early Days Of The Gleaner

On Saturday afternoon, November 16, members and friends of the Chateauguay Valley Historical Society gathered in the historic Masonic Temple in Huntingdon to hear the arrival of Robert Sellar, pioneer journalist in the Village of Huntingdon.

The Society was fortunate to have as invited guest speaker Robert Hill of Lorraine Quebec, who is presently writing his doctoral thesis on Robert Sellar and the Gleaner at McGill University.

In an interesting and informal manner Mr. Hill captured and held the attention of his audience with colorful prose and numerous examples of the letters scribbles and clippings and posters which Robert Sellar collected in his fifty-seven years as a rural journalist. Mr. Hill pointed out that there had been a number of newspapers in the area but the Gleaner outlived them. The Journal existed but was not the Journal's refusal to support the County's Member in the United Assembly of Canada East and Canada West which encouraged and convinced the Liberals of the area to establish their own Liberal newspaper. Robert Sellar was the man who accepted the editorship of that proposed paper.

In the very center of the old Village of Huntingdon, the banks of the Chateauguay near the site of the first homes and mills of Huntingdon, Mr. Hill recalled Robert Sellar's first sense of disillusionment upon reaching the Village after a tortuous journey by stagecoach from Caughnawaga. Yet despite his initial disappointment, the lack of financial support and the work of a fenian arsonist who burnt down the Gleaner plant in 1870, Robert Sellar persevered to become one of the leading Lower Canadian (Quebec) journalists of the time and a constant supporter of the Liberal principles he had so faithfully learned in the Old Temple in Huntingdon to World Sellar's support for the basic principles of liberalism regardless of race or creed won for him not only due recognition in the political world of his day but also a significant place in the history of Canada and particularly of the Province of Quebec. Unfortunately Canadian historians have not as yet accorded him his proper recognition but Mr. Hill's thesis, which he intends to publish as a book, will shortly and aptly remedy this situation.

WINTER SEEMS TO BE HERE
Following our snow storm of the past week, winter seems to have settled in and with a succession of storms, Friday evening saw more snow and wind added to the previous weather conditions and people stayed at home rather than take chances. Saturday was a little better but with roads and highways quite slippery in places. Some fog came up in the late evening. Sunday was better with a little warming spell that began to melt some of the snow and ice.

Later in the evening there were a few snow flurries and then a little rain. By Monday morning quite an amount of rain had fallen and was freezing on the roads and trees. However, as the day wore on the ice cleared and the rain stopped. Later in the afternoon rain again began to fall. Some school buses did not go out and in some schools the Chateauguay Valley Regional School buses were passing through Huntingdon away behind time and this was one

THE NEW RECTOR AND FAMILY

The Reverend John and Mrs. Serjeantson and son 'Nick'

The Gleaner was pleased late yesterday (Tuesday) afternoon when The Reverend John Serjeantson called at the office with the weekly Anglican Church advertisement. He was accompanied by his wife Carol and fourteen-month-old son 'Nick' (Joan Edouard). Glancing casually at the copy for the advertisement, we noted that Mr. Serjeantson's induction as Rector of the Parish of Huntingdon-Ormstown by The Right Reverend R. Kenneth Maguire, Bishop of Montreal, for tonight (Wednesday) and we asked for a family picture and brief interview.

Father Serjeantson was born at Dalhousie, India in 1936. His father, who died in 1959, was a professional soldier attached to the Royal Leicestershire Regiment. At the age of six months he moved with his parents to England where he received his high school education. In 1959, being of the adventurous type, he started to work his way around the world. When he came to Canada, he secured a position as a landscape gardener at near Hudson Heights.

Mr. Serjeantson's wanderlust came to a sudden end soon after his arrival at Hudson Heights. He found the residents of the community appealed to him and he developed great respect for them. While always a communicant of the Church of England, he wasn't a regular attendee at church services but he gradually became aware that the people of Hudson Heights took their religion seriously and the church was a part of their lives. After work one summer evening, he was convinced he should attend a Bible Study class. "I surprised myself by agreeing to go," Reverend Serjeantson laughingly recalls.

It was there the young man met The Reverend Cecil Royle, rector of the church at Hudson Heights. "I realized that this man and his parishioners regarded religion as something living within them," Mr. Serjeantson told The Gleaner. "I went to the public library and studied some books and not long after decided my ambition was to be a priest."

Mr. Serjeantson started his career that fall. He studied at Bishop's University from then until 1963 and obtained his B.A. at McGill and the Anglican Theological College he obtained his B.D. and L. Th. in 1966. He then went to St. Matthias Church in Westmount where he was assistant to Canon J. N. Doidge. He was ordained Deacon in 1966 by Rt. Rev. R. Kenneth Maguire, Bishop of Montreal and ordained a Priest in the Church of England on May 17th, 1967.

Part of the training of a theological student consists of working with an ordained priest during one summer vacation and, fortunately for our new local Rector, he was sent to Quebec City where he met and eventually married his most charming young wife, Carol. As mentioned, the couple has a son, fourteen-month-old John Edouard, known only as "Nick."

The new Rector for the Huntingdon-Ormstown parish is friendly and easy to talk with. We predict he will endear himself to young and old alike among his parishioners. He likes all sports, favoring swimming, squash, tennis and soccer. (We also predict he'll have to do a considerable amount of organizing if he expects any competition in some of those sports in the local area.)

Both are pleased with their new home. "We arrived on Saturday and have been 'moving in' ever since," Mrs. Serjeantson told us. The Rectory has been freshly painted and papered and she added "It's just as though they knew what we'd like."

ARTHUR MCINTYRE
HUNTINGDON YOUTH AIDS IN CAPTURING A BANK BANDIT

Bank robberies in Montreal are common occurrences, but capture of the holdups is less common and when someone from Huntingdon is instrumental in apprehending the thief, it really is news. The Gleaner takes pleasure in relating that Arthur McIntyre, 94 Wellington St., was one of four employees at the Mansfield and St. Catherine Branch of the Bank of Montreal who had that experience.

On September 13th, a man walked up to the teller in the bank and Art and the accountant, Mr. Eric Schmid of Pierrefonds, noticed him surreptitiously push a bag under the counter. Art immediately suspected something out of the ordinary but as he wasn't near a burglar alarm, it was decided to wait and act in a normal way. Their suspicions were soon confirmed when they saw the man had a revolver pointed at the teller. When the robber turned to leave with his sack of money, McIntyre and Schmid raced after him, shouting at him to stop. They were joined by the assistant accountant, Andy Grant, also of Pierrefonds, and by the bank messenger, Yvon Dubuc.

The gunman ran north on Mansfield with Art and his confederates in pursuit. The thief aimed his revolver at them in an effort to scare them off, but the pursuers narrowed the distance. Two passing City of Montreal policemen on motorcycles took up the chase and the bank employees and policemen converged on the thief simultaneously at a street corner.

Arthur McIntyre was recently the recipient of the following letter from Mr. D. B. Peters, Senior Vice-President of the Bank of Montreal:

GRINDS AND MIXES FEEDS

The above photograph shows a new machine now being used in the Ormstown area. This machine is used to grind and mix feeds that the farmer grows. Special mixes are purchased from any feed dealer and are mixed right at the farm, thus eliminating costly transportation and bagging fees that are ordinarily charged. — Donald Gruer owns the above machine and is working with A. Beaulieu & Fils is now ready for business. The new machine is propelled by a tractor power take off and is not costly to run. Thus the farmer saves both valuable time and money. It looks like this machine might become the "in thing."

CVRHS Home And School Association News

Since the next meeting of the local Home and School will not take place until Nov. 28th and since we have little to report in this week's news, we shall make a few remarks about the Chateauguay Valley Regional High School Graduation Exercises, which were held on Saturday, Nov. 16th.

The graduating class numbered 119, not all of whom were able to attend the exercises. David Goodall, who not only topped his class at CVRHS, but who was among the first fifteen in the Province, who received top honors, was presented with the Reeves Scholarship and the Birks Gold Medal. The Woods

Mr. Lindsay Cullen. The mixed choir was a credit to the school as the members gave their utmost in the singing of "Lazy River", "Keep on Hopin'", and later on, "The Graduation Song".

The guest speaker was Dr. H. G. Dion, Dean of Agriculture and Vice Principal of Macdonald College. Dr. Dion told his listeners that the world demands the utmost from each person, he explained that we cannot all be experts, we cannot always get the right answers to everything, as indeed there are no RIGHT answers to many problems in our world of the 1960s. The Big Question, said Dr. Dion is of Social Values, where is Society (Continued on page 4)

OBITUARY

The Late Albert Hope

The funeral of the late Albert Hope who died at the Barrie Memorial Hospital on November 8, was held at the McGerrigle Funeral Home on Sunday afternoon, November 10.

Albert James Hope, son of James Hope and his wife Sarah Ann Wilson, was born at Beechridge, Que., on July 20, 1885 and attended the school at Hope's Corners. On September 30, 1919 he married Elizabeth McGregor Cameron of Howick and they lived on the farm where he was born, until 1921. At that time they moved to a farm on the English River near Howick, bringing with them his elderly father and step-mother who died there. Two sons, Harold and Raymond were born.

In 1939 he moved to Howick where he built his own home, having worked on many building projects with his carpenter-father. Perfectly bilingual, he was employed in various ways which involved meeting and helping both French and English speaking people, which he enjoyed more than farm work.

School children were in and out of the house, some as son the minister, Rev. John S. Anderson, chose the text from II Timothy 4:7 "I have fought a good fight." The message in the meditation that followed was a comforting, challenging and inspiring one to the mourners and many friends who gathered to pay their respects.

Interment was at Georgetown Cemetery. The pall bearers were: Donald McKell, Garth Harrison, Russell Stacey, Bobby Hope, William McArthur and Ivan Knox.

Predeceased by one sister, Annie, Mrs. Ben Stacey he is survived by his wife and two sons, Harold and Raymond, their wives and six grandchildren.

His final illness was a long and wearisome one but he put up a good fight. For that rea-

Nap. Parent Of Howick Enjoys Recent 88th Birthday Party

Mr. Nap Parent of Howick was invited to have supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Parent on Saturday evening of last week. Everything appeared to be as usual when he arrived early with his daughter Marie Anne but to his complete surprise it turned out to be a family party for 35.

At 9 p.m. a sumptuous meal was served which had been prepared by Mrs. Leo Parent and her daughter Mrs. Messier. Mr. Nap Parent and his daughter were seated at the head table, as he had celebrated his 88th birthday on Nov. 6 and she celebrated her birthday on Nov. 5. The table was centered with a beautifully decorated cake and candles and birthday greetings were extended to both of them.

Rene, eldest son of Mr. Parent, on behalf of the family presented to his father a luxurious man-sized recliner chair which he finds most comfortable. Happy Birthday was sung and he sang "Old Man" to show his fitness. Cards were played until 3 a.m. and Mr. Parent enjoyed every minute. After a few hours rest he was on hand to direct the choir at 9:30 High Mass, something he has been doing for 52 years, came Dec. 1.

Nap as everyone calls him, drove a taxi for 30 years and continues to drive a car, which he has done for 53 years. From 1910-15 he used a horse-drawn taxi. For 18 years by car, and horse in winter, he delivered mail on R.R. 1, Tullochgorum and Fertile Creek. His cheery manner and unfailing courtesy have made him a popular figure in this part of the country. We hope he enjoys many more happy birthdays.

Guests at his party were: Mr. and Mrs. René Parent of Verdun; Mr. and Mrs. Armand Choquette and family of Montreal; Mrs. Cecile Morrisseau of Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Urquhart of Chateauguay Centre; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Parent and family of Huntingdon; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Parent; Miss Rose Alba Santoiro; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Messier; Miss Marie Anne Parent of Howick.

HUNTINGDON, QUEBEC

This and That in Town

GERALD MURPHY — owner of G. W. Murphy Transport in Huntingdon, transported Herefords from two boxes to LA FERME RODA INC. at St. Anicet during the past week. One load consisted of 98 animals arrived about 7 p.m. Friday and a second, numbering 91, came in about the same time on Monday evening. Murphy Transport made eight consecutive trips to La Ferme Roda Inc. midway between Port Lewis and St. Anicet, for each shipment. The cattle, young and about half-grown, arrive from the Union stockyards of Manitoba (Winnipeg). When these beef cattle mature they'll eventually make gourmet table fare. (Uuhhhh Gerald, maybe you could drop one off here next time around?)

DID YOU KNOW — Ateo Thermostat Corporation Ltd. on York St., in Orléans now employs fifty local people? Mr. Warren E. Travis, manager told a Gleaner reporter that in a recent three-month period production exceeded that of the full twelve-month period following Ateo's arrival in Huntingdon.

ANNUAL MEETING — Chateaugay Valley Association for Retarded Children: Tuesday, November 26, 9 p.m. at Huntingdon Academy. (See advt. s.v.c.)

PORT LEWIS — Isn't that a tree nursery taking shape about a mile west of 'The Corner'? If so, it is a business that might do quite well in the community. Some people we know aren't exactly happy with salesmen who come around taking orders for delivery 'at the proper planting time'. Their concepts of the proper planting time for this area appear to be about six weeks too late. Anybody agree?

PARTRIDGE — don't always make news by flying into windows and shattering them. On Sunday, a friend called to ask if we wanted to see two which had killed themselves by diving into crust-covered snowbanks. . . both had suffered broken necks.

NOW THAT IT'S OVER — for the moment anyway — we'd like to congratulate the workmen responsible for snow removal in Orléans. That Bombardier plow had the sidewalks cleared in record time following last week's storm and the big plows had the streets open without delay too.

HOWICK — Government crews have been busy at the islands on Route 4 leading to the exits from the new section of highway leading to Thistown. It is hoped that this activity means lights will be installed soon.

WE HESITATE — but we think we should mention that our P.M. is happy with his new toy — a whistle.

SNOWMOBILES — The modern versions of the late Dr. H. R. Clouston's snowmobile (the first snowmobile in Huntingdon, we think . . . about a '28 Model A roadster equipped with skis and tracks) have been seen zooming around everywhere since last week's snowstorm. Would you believe some south of the border are souped up to go about 90 m.p.h.? We don't know if our pro Ken McNiece has any that fast, but we do know he has some of those stock black and yellow machines that don't get clouded out by any other stock models. An eastern Ontario friend recently told us that at a convention dealers were told there are more than 600 makes of snowmobiles on the market today and prophesied that within three years there would only be a dozen or less. Looks like snowmobiles are heading for the same course the automobile has taken . . . the 'Big Three' in cars and the 'Big Dozen' in snowmobiles. Of course owners know license plates are required for snowmobiles and needless to say they should be covered for P.L. and P.D. at least. Snowmobiling is the fastest growing winter sport in Canada and the U.S., according to statistics. Driving around the countryside after a storm like the one experienced last week we don't doubt that at every second or third farm in some areas one could be seen or heard. Enthusiasts are warned to prenez garde when the ice gets a little thick, however: those machines are plenty heavy and they don't float!

COVEY HILL — An Ayrshire cow was found butchered along Covey Hill Road a week ago. It had been shot through the head. Was this the work of some big brave hunter with too much giggly juice in his belly who mistook the cow for a deer or was it done by a common thief who wanted to fill his freezer with beef? Either way, it's a shame.

OH YES — 'George' phoned after our last issue and was quite pleased we'd mentioned Suzy. Problem is, he wants to know "Will you mark it in The Gleaner if Suzy gives me a black eye?"

AND THIS — Blue Bonnets must be losing its appeal. We've heard a rumor that Gerry, Leon and Jimmy along with wives Kay, Bev and Bev are making tentative plans to be on the spot when the Irish Sweepstakes are run next year.

CHATEAUGAY N.Y. — Now that he has some free time we understand "Doc" J. D. Sweet has joined the Huntingdon Curling Club. Bring along some friends, Doc! We'll have a Stars 'n Stripes rink to enter in out-of-town bonspiels. Maybe Elmer McCann would make a good lead?

OLD-TIME CURLER PASSES — Dave Higginson passed away since our last issue. Enthusiasts of yester-years will recall Dave was an avid curler for many years. When he wasn't on the ice, he delighted in 'Aces Wild' at the card table. (Death notice elsewhere).

SURPRISE — Was in a barn Sunday night and saw about fifty fine Black and White animals. The milkers were going, a radio and extra speakers placed here and there (even in the milkhouse) was keeping Bill posted on Les Canadiens. Engrossed in the game (not the cow he was stripping) he hadn't heard us come in and we watched a little fascinated as he s-l-o-w-l-y milked then speeded up like mad when it sounded like Les C's were going to score then back to a business-like speed at intermission. Trying to be heard above the radio and all the other sounds, we yelled "Hello there" and Bill jumped up so fast he almost knocked the big cow over. A couple of cats and a new dog came along and so instead of apologizing for half scaring him to death, we asked "How many cats ya got?" Answer, "About a dozen." Being assured chores were just about finished we decided to wait around and started counting cats: big ones, small ones, black ones, grey ones, orange ones, a white one, tabby ones . . . AND their kittens . . . we counted twenty-two. Now if cats were cows that fellow would have them named numbered, pedigreed and pussyfooted. So much for cats, here's more farm news:

ORMSTOWN — John K. Dickson reports that he recently sold his Balsam Lodge Farm at Ormstown to Mr. Edgar Thorn "Peter" Stanger, vice-president in charge of manufacturing of the Canadian Bronze Powder Works at Valleyfield. Many in the Ormstown area will recall that when figure skating displays used to be an annual event at the Ormstown Arena it usually headlined Peter Stanger and his figure skating class from Valleyfield. Mr. Stanger is a member of the Valleyfield Protestant School Board and is also a member of the Chateaugay Valley Regional High School Commission. Mr. and Mrs. Stanger's three daughters are all enthusiastic saddle horse riders and the ownership of a farm will allow them to participate in this activity to a great degree. The Stangers plan to take up residence at Balsam Lodge on May 1st, 1969.

BOBBY HILL'S talk to members of the Chateaugay Valley Historical Society on Saturday afternoon was worth hearing. Too bad more people couldn't attend.

MR. FRANCOIS E. CLEYN, member of the Canadian Economic Council will be the guest speaker at the weekly dinner of the Montreal Board of Trade on Tuesday, November 26.

HUNTINGDON FISH & GAME CLUB — one of the most successful and oldest organizations in our community, the Huntingdon Fish & Game Club, held its annual reunion at the St. Francis Rod & Gun Club on Saturday evening. Leighton Watson, president, reports that 55 members and guests attended. Jasper Lamb and Ray MacMillan, both of Franklin, were the lucky winners in a drawing and Jasper went home with two 26-oz prizes and Ray with one. Leighton has promised to give The Gleaner a little of the history of this club; suffice it to say here it was founded many years ago by the late Cecil Stark's father, Jim. For many years it was limited to twenty members but a few years ago the exclusive organization voted to admit five more. Gerard Primeau of Ormstown is chairman of the executive committee, other members being Norval Blair, Purvis Hamilton, R. A. 'Buster' Donnelly and Aldridge Saumier. Their property is at Quinn Lake Maniwaki where the camp sleeps twelve sportsmen. Leighton tells us "None of our members shot a deer this season but we did see the fresh remains of a moose and a deer that wolves had killed. We're accustomed to seeing bears — we leave them alone and they leave us alone — but this is the first year we've actually seen wolves. We heard them howling even during the day."

CONSIDERING THE $35 government bounty on wolves fellows, maybe you should allow another half-dozen hunters into your club, they might kill off a few for you.

DORADO, PUERTO RICO — Bryce Lavigne, owner of 'THE CROSSROADS' at nearby Moira, N.Y. writes informing us that he found a copy of The Gleaner at the Dorado Hilton Hotel and Country Club there. The letter appears in the "Letters to the Editor" column. Thank you Sir and we trust Mrs. Lavigne and yourself enjoyed your vacation. Perhaps the party who left the copy of our newspaper at the Dorado Hilton will identify himself.

VALLEYFIELD — Narcisse Bedard, who carried on business at the former Simeon Beaudin general store at Howick Station, which was destroyed by fire on January 27, 1967, has been charged with arson in connection with the fire. Preliminary inquest has been heard in court at Valleyfield.

WEDDING — RUSHFORD-CARSON — ROCKBURN — A quiet wedding was solemnized in the Rockburn Presbyterian Church at 5:30 p.m. Saturday, November 16 when Florence Carson of Havelock and Mr. John Rushford of Chateaugay, N.Y. were united in marriage by the Rev. Howard Smith of Ormstown. Mrs. Eunice Trainer played the wedding music.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Clark of Chateaugay, Que., stood for the happy couple. The bride wore a three-piece aqua blue suit with beige accessories and a corsage of deep pink carnations. Mrs. Clark, sister of the bride, wore a deep pink dress, pink accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

After the ceremony the reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Farquhar, daughter of the bride. A lovely buffet supper was served by the hostess. Later the same evening another reception was held at Chateaugay, N.Y. by friends and relatives of the groom. Guests came from Montreal, Chateaugay, N.Y., Chateaugay, Que., Huntingdon, Havelock and Franklin Centre. The bride and groom will reside in Chateaugay, N.Y.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Mary Chesterfield, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Hay, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hay, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Beattie of Huntingdon; Mr. and Mrs. B. Fraser, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Churchill, Mr. and Mrs. Fergus Moore and Mr. Gaetan Tremblay of Hemmingford; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fraser of St. Lambert; Mrs. Jessie Arthur, Mrs. Irene Patenaude, Miss Fay Arthur and Mr. Raymond Belanger of Ormstown; Mr. and Mrs. André Noël of Chateaugay; Miss Sheila McLaren of Kenogami, and Miss Marion Nussey of Morely, Alberta.

field and trial has been set for October 1969.

NEW ARRIVALS IN OURTOWN — The Reverend John Serjeantson, his wife Carol and 14-month-old son 'Nick' John Edouard, have taken up residence at St. John's Rectory. Mr. Serjeantson will be inducted Rector of the Huntingdon-Ormstown Parish this evening (Wednesday) by the Rt. Rev. Kenneth Maguire Bishop of Montreal. (See elsewhere please).

OUR FLAGS — The Canadian Flag accustomed to being seen atop the flagpole at the fountain was moved to the park area near the Cenotaph for the Armistice Day service. It, or a new one, will be returned to its rightful place atop the pole in due course.

ART McINTYRE HONORED — Elsewhere in this issue is an article concerning Arthur McIntyre, a local young man who is Chief Accountant at the Mansfield and Ste. Catherine Branch of the Bank of Montreal. Congratulations, Artie!

MINI-SKIRTS, YES; RIGHT TO STRIKE, NO — It was three to one in favor of girls wearing mini-skirts to the office in a recent businessmen's poll reported in Office Equipment & Methods. 1,055 men out of 1361 businessmen polled at the Canadian National Business Show eagerly approved the question "Should girls wear mini-skirts at the office?" Answers to other questions: Should the right to strike in public services be abolished? 704 yes, 567 no; Could Canada survive economically without Quebec? 1,024 yes, 337 no; Should the United States pull out of Vietnam if the peace talks fail? 999 yes, 362 no; Should parliamentary proceedings be televised? 926 yes, 435 no.

Noyan — Several from this community attended the turkey supper on Saturday evening in the Lecture Room of the United Church, Clarenceville. A delicious supper was served and enjoyed by all present.

Mr. Edwin Lamb returned to his home here the past week after spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. William Warner in Barrington.

The Government Has Done It Again

INFLATION Inflation and Inflation — the Government is doing all in its power to bring it about.

In 1969 car licenses and driving permits are going to cost more. The license is going to cost one cent per pound the weight of the vehicle for pleasure type with a minimum of $20 which takes in compact cars. In the heavier type cars, the price of a license will jump from $29.70 to $41, plus an extra dollar for the plates. Driver's permits will go up from $5 for two years to $6. Various other types of vehicles, trailers, trucks, taxis, etc., are also due for steep increases.

It is quite plain that this will ultimately lead to. Large firms with fleets of trucks and other cars used in their business will eventually pass the increased cost onto the consumer in the price of goods, services, etc. and the result will be a round of wage increases being asked for. The Government is plagued by a shortage of funds and like the dying man and the straw is casting around for all manner of means to grasp an extra dollar. Motorists already taxed high in so many ways now have this to take. There have been protests by the various automobile societies and clubs that the matter should be debated in the Legislative Assembly and in the Legislative Council. This announcement of the increased license, etc., has come like a bombshell out of the dark. No previous warning of what might happen, just "Here is the increase." Ironically too, a Government advertisement is appearing in the newspapers urging motorists to get their licenses now and wear them proudly.

We wonder just how much the Provincial Government is short of funds.

Remaining also is the sales tax of 8 percent which has to be paid on the sale of all cars, new or used each time a transaction is made. We have always believed this to be an imposition. We can agree with the tax being paid on a new sale, but when it comes to taxing that same car in each and every transaction of sale it may pass through, then we think this is too much. The sales tax paid totally on such car could exceed the original price of the vehicle. In England, for instance, a substantial tax is paid on all new cars, but it is not paid on any further transaction.

No doubt it is a money maker for the Government and while the people allow it to go on without protest, it will continue.

The Government is supposed to help guard against inflation and get the economy back on a more even keel. It seems that it is doing everything in reverse and aiding and abetting inflation by bringing in these increases. Such in the end have further recoil by increasing the cost of everything they affect.

Whether the increase in licenses, etc., will have an effect of deterring the younger drivers and others from driving old cars, is something again — it might.

We visualize plenty of dissatisfaction with this latest move on the Government's part to squeeze another few dollars out of the public.

The Trouble With The Q. L. B.

THE strike of the Quebec Liquor Board Employees is a boring situation to most people and the Government would do well to get rid of its handling of liquor sales to the public. It would be better administered by private enterprise and with less bother all around.

This latest bit about sales to hotels and such is causing a stir in the Quebec House and as far as we can see it is a bit of political skulduggery to try and win favor. The employees on strike are those from the warehouses and liquor stores and some clerical staff. These employees do not make the "stuff" the Liquor Board offers for sale. This is done by the various distilleries who manufacture the various brands sold by the Quebec Board. There is no strike in their units. Therefore we see nothing wrong with the Quebec Liquor Board having these firms deliver orders direct to their customers. It is not as if the Board is trying to ship from its own warehouses. Strike, or no strike, has the Board not a right to keep its customers supplied if it is at all possible? We believe that any other business under similar conditions would try to keep its customers supplied. It therefore seems to us that a lot of fuss is being made about nothing.

True there are some illegal shipments being made and the recent seizure by our local R.C.M.P. is proof of that. This sort of thing is illegal because the persons doing it are not licensed to do so. The Liquor Board is fully licensed as are the distilleries and through them their delivery vehicles. While an enquiry has been launched as to the incident that has been brought to the notice of the Quebec Parliament, we believe there is more politics in it than anything else. The present Provincial Government is in a very insecure position and almost anything could topple it. The Opposition could wish for nothing better than for this to happen and bring on another election.

As stated we still think the Government is pussyfooting around in this strike question. It should make up its mind that the strikers either return at once on the conditions that have been offered, or else the matter of liquor sales will be turned over to private enterprise under license from the Board. Perhaps some of the strikers could be hired as inspectors to see that the sales are properly carried out, while a few could still be employed at the Board's warehouses, or orders could be made through the Board with shipments direct from the distilleries. It would remove one more strike threat.

A sort of threat that was issued by the Government a week or so ago said that taxes in Quebec would have to be raised in order to pay the wages asked by the Liquor Board employees. Money is being lost which goes to help pay for education and hospitalization. This being the case, then the Government should cast about quickly for an early ending to this serious situation. Certainly the taxpayer should not be called upon to pay to keep the Government liquor business operating. It would be better get rid of it. A Government is not required to go into any kind of business except that of governing the country.

Going? What are Man's Rights? How do we want Society to Grow? It is important today to have an opinion and more important to express it. He mentioned the highly verbal 10 percent of University Students, who are endangering Society simply because the remaining 90 percent do not express their opinions and do not vote on vital issues. This is the way our Society is dominated by the few, this is not the democratic way, this is the dictatorial way. If ALL young people do not have opinions and express them, there is no hope of Society going the way we want it to. Dr. Dion said "It is not how to make decisions it is when to make them. Such questions will arise as, Is the cost of a project going to be less than the benefit. It may not be easy to decide, but decide we must. The question is, which is wrong? The speaker then demonstrated his query with such posers as, "how much sugar is needed to sweeten a cup of coffee?" (an individual answer is the only possible one and the answer is not the right one nor is it the wrong one

I HATE NOVEMBER

Don't worry, I do not have a plan for writing an almanac of the months. But I'm almost certain that most people share my view of November. It is a real bummer.

It may be beautiful in Adelaide, Australia, with bikini babes on the beaches, and the sun belting down. But in the true north strong and free it's as sad as the wreck of a once beautiful woman with nothing left but good bone-structure and great black bags under the eyes.

It is suitably introduced by Hallowe'en, that night when the instruments of darkness have their fling, and people put razor blades in apples and caustics in candies.

It is a time when night comes early and surly, and we draw our shades and creep into the darkness of our souls, and contemplate with horror the five months ahead.

No wonder Guy Fawkes and the other guys in on the deal tried to blow up the English king and parliament on Nov. 5th, 1605 in the famous Gunpowder Plot. But it was probably so ruddy dank that they couldn't keep their powder dry.

No wonder World War I ended on November 11th. Even those tough and stubborn fighters, the Germans, couldn't face going through the rest of another nasty November.

It's a month of soaring fuel bills, last year's rubbers vanished into thin air, mud and wet leaves tracked onto the clean kitchen floor. A month of putting on snow tires a day too late, storm windows a week too late and studying for exams, a month too late.

It's a gray month. This, in Canada is symbolized by Grey Cup Day. Isn't that appropriate? It couldn't have been a Lord Brown or Blue or Green or any of those distinguished names who donated our football cup. It had to be a Lord Grey.

Oh I suppose, for the lunatic fringe of our population, November has its merits. It's deer-hunting month, when one can go out and muddle around in the marshes for $10. The only comment I have here is that the deer population is steadily increasing.

Thanks to the incredible inebriety of most hunters, people like Skinny Wyoach, the deer are safer from hunters than the church is from tax-collectors.

And it's a grand month for those other nuts — the rainbow-trout fishermen. I can't think of anything, on those bone-shaking moist-laden November mornings, up to your navel in ice-water, more conducive to a long, happy life. Full of arthritis, neuritis, buritis and plain old rheumatism.

November has a certain grim charm for the misanthrope — the guy who wants everybody to be as mean as he is. For once, he knows everybody is as glum as he, which makes him glumly happy, or unhappily glum.

It's a month when every normal Canadian gets a rotten cold, which hangs on, with varying degrees of misery, until the 24th of May. It's the month when Christmas advertising reaches a zenith of stupidity.

It's a month when your kids quit university, when your roof springs a leak when your furnace decides it is worn out. When your old back-ache, stunned my summer's sun, starts to ache back. When your car's "fall tune-up" turns into a major overhaul.

It's a month when all your best-laid plans of September turn off agley and you realize you are running on three cylinders instead of the usual five.

It's a month, this year, when you had to lick a six-cent stamp for the first time in your life. And your poor old Yank friends had to choose, not Snow White, but one of the seven dwarfs.

I would say November is for the birds. But even the birds have enough brains to head south in October. Where does that expression "bird-brain" come from? I hate November. Toronto Telegram News Service

LEGION COMMENTS

by PAUL PATTERSON

The regular monthly meeting of Branch No. 81 Royal Canadian Legion was held at the Legion Hall, Fairview Road, Huntingdon, on Thursday night, November 14th.

At this meeting it was brought to the writer's attention that the wreath laid by Mr. Cecil O'Connor for the Maple Leaf Grange No. 11 Kensington, Quebec, was inadvertently left off the list of those laying wreaths at the Centaph which was published by the Gleaner on November 13th. Wednesday, is always a bad day for the writer particularly when it falls on the 13th. I would also like to note that Mr. Geo. Thompson thanked the guest speaker and Mr. Erle Martin spoke on behalf of the World War I Veterans present.

John Ykema Jr., who has supported the purpose and objects of the Royal Canadian Legion during the past several years and has given invaluable service. Voluntary assistance in connection with alterations and renovations of the Legion Hall and continues invaluable assistance to the Branch was bestowed Honourary membership in the Branch at this meeting. At each monthly meeting a name is drawn from a hat of the paid up members of Branch No. 81. If the member is present a sum of money is given to him or her if the person whose name is drawn is not present the sum is added to. At this month's meeting Dr. F. G. McCrimmon's name was drawn. However he was not present so let's see more of you at the December meeting and maybe one of you will go home with extra money for your Christmas Shopping.

... and he mentioned people with color blind sensitivity, and other instances which showed the young listeners that it is virtually impossible to set one's self up as an expert in some areas. Dr. Dion ended his remarks with, "Since there are so few experts, and I am not an expert on giving advice, I do not expect you will heed my remarks. BUT I am an expert on Soil and if you are ever in my class I expect you to remember something of what I say". Dr. Dion's remarks will probably be remembered long after many a speaker's words have been forgotten.

David Goodall delivered the Valedictory, and mentioned his pleasure at being privileged to attend the first year of CVRHS as one of its first graduates, but he said he and the rest of the class would not forget their formative years in the smaller schools and felt that those were the years that would forever be remembered as the "good old times".

Dundee

The November meeting of the Dundee Women's Inst-

tute was held at the home of Mrs. N. D. McPhee. For roll call each member had brought an antique or else told about one. Old dishes, sugar bowls, pitchers, a toy train, pepper corn grinder were on display and members discussed other antiques they remembered.

Mrs. H. Ferguson had received several packages of unbleached cotton from Simpson-Sears. Some she had made into garments for small children and others she gave

Letters To The Editor

Huntingdon, P. Que.
November 15th, 1968
The Editor,
Huntingdon Gleaner,
Huntingdon, P. Que.

Dear Sir: —
It was not my intention to comment on Mr. Clarke's most recent letter published in The Gleaner of November 13th, and I ask you, Mr. Editor to excuse me.

I would like to ask Mr. Clarke; how in the H-I can a person including yourself, relate his achievements or pre- pare his biography without using the letter "I" to express himself?

One of the best Presidents the United States of America ever had was criticized for using the letter "I" so often in his addresses to the nation; however, this did not prevent the late President Roosevelt from competing nearly four terms of office as President.

Mr. Clarke, it would be interesting to see just how many "I" would be contained in your biography. How about your personal biography in next week's issue of The Gleaner for their readers to digest?

Thank you, Mr. Editor, this is absolutely my last letter to you in this regard.

Yours very truly,

year a good number of leaves still repose under the snow as people were unable to remove them before that first bevy of snow flurries and then the first real snowfall. So it looks as if many people will be busy in the spring. Perhaps this is the better time when one is looking toward summer.

Eastern Breeders
Holstein Sale
Averages $550.00

The seventh annual consignment sale of Holsteins sired by bulls in the Eastern Breeders' Incorporated Artificial Breeding Unit at Kemptonville, Ontario, was held October 22 at Hays Sales Arena, Oakville, with 28 head bringing $15,660 for an average of $559, each. Prices were steady through out and the $559 average was achieved without the help of any particularly high sales. Twenty-four head were sold for export to Brazil, Mexico and U.S.A.

Top figure was $925 paid by James A. Walker & Son, Grimsby, for Kyleview Model, Rockman, a three-year-old daughter of the Class Extra sire, Selling Rockman. She was consigned by Howard Kyle, Wolfe Island.

A Brazilian, Otto de Mello, Sao Paulo paid $800 to M. G. McCuaig, Lancaster, for a daughter, Nic-A-Bar Master Prince.

Other good prices included: $775, received by J. Donald and Kenneth L. Gilgour, Shawville, Quebec, $750 received by Earl Baker, Bath; $750, received by J. Donald Baxter, Bloomfield; $725 received by Kenneth S. Thompson, Moria; $700 received by J. M. McQuham, Lanark.

21 bred heifers averaged $542, and seven milking females $610.

Rockdale President daughter Canadian Champion

A new Canadian Champion for milk production has been crowned. She is Ingholm Rag Apple, President, bred and owned by Clare & Harold Ingram, Ingholm Farms, Campbellford, Ontario, in Northumberland County, and she made her championship record as a junior two-year old in 305 days on twice-a-day milking by producing 21,026 lbs. of milk containing 791 lbs. fat and testing 3.76 percent butterfat. Not only is this a new Canadian record for milk but it is the second highest ever made in the class for total fat.

Continued on test for 365 days, the new champion produced 23,828 lbs. milk and 913 lbs. fat testing 3.23 percent. This record is the second highest for both milk and fat ever made in Canada.

Eastern Ontario Championship Show at Ottawa

A total of 160 head of Holsteins were shown by 51 exhibitors from the eleven counties of Eastern Ontario and adjacent Quebec. For the first time at this show, Kenneth A. Baker won the Premier Exhibitor award with Clifford and Ralph Thomson, Joyceville, the runners-up. This order was reversed for Premier Breeder. A close third for both honours was Ronald Barker & Sons, Portland.

Judge Eugene Nelson of Union Grove, Wisconsin, selected as his Grand Champion, the winning two-year-old heifer, Briarwood Melissa owned by C. M. Charland. This heifer is a daughter of Roybrook Telsar, a Holstein sire now owned in Japan. Judge Nelson called her "a tremendous heifer, of great scale and strength, with a long udder well suspended." Last year's Grand Champion Female, Finney Creek Susie Rockman Girl, a Rockman daughter, was named Reserve Grand Champion after heading a strong Ased Cow Class. She was also the top Holstein in the inter-bred best udder class where she stood second. Her breeder and owner is Clark McCuaig of Lancaster. She is tall, strong on top, with her udder tightly attached and walking well on a good set of legs.

Ken-Brook Ivanhoe, a Tara Hills Fond Ivanhoe son, took the Male Grand Championship for Kenneth A. Baker after heading the yearling bull class. This was a repeat of his Grand Championship win of a year ago. The Reserve Grand Championship went to the winning bull calf, Madawaska Citation Leader owned by Allan Boese of Arnprior.

The judge considered the class of three-year-old heifers outstanding and gave honourable mention for the championship to the winner, Ken-Brook Bessie, a Selling Petro daughter, owned by Kenneth A. Baker.

In second place was Locus Lane President Pietje, a President daughter shown by Ken Connell, Brockville, Ont., while Drummond Brothers of Smiths Falls, took third place with Rainbow Valley Petro Dina, a Very Good daughter of Selling Petro.

Women's Auxiliary Activities

The Hemmingford Branch of the Women's Institute held its November meeting in the Elementary School, with Mrs. J. Robertson presiding. The theme of the meeting was Health and Welfare, and the branch was privileged to have as guest speaker, Mrs. K. Faloan, president of the Women's Auxiliary of the Barrie Memorial Hospital. Mrs. D. McGregor, convener of Health and Welfare introduced the speaker.

Mrs. Faloan gave a brief history of the Women's Auxiliary which began in 1951 under the leadership of Mrs. C. Bryson. Since that time the group has grown to over 1100 members in the hospital area.

Some members are extremely active and carry out many duties; some not able to work actively, show their support of the principle and the efforts of the Auxiliary by paying the small membership fee.

The Auxiliary meets the first Monday of each month, with three general meetings in June, October and February, to plan their projects. Working in close cooperation with the hospital and with the medical staff, the Auxiliary has been able to purchase equipment needed by the hospital but not immediately available from funds received from the Province. It has helped with furnishings and draperies in the hospital. It operates the Hospitality Shop where families may purchase gifts for patients, and the Gift Cart, which travels through the hospital, providing a word of cheer to patients along with the small personal items they need. Anyone wishing to knit small saleable articles for the Shop, as their contribution to the work of the Auxiliary, may do so. The Bursary Plan, which assists student nurses in the initial expenses of their training, and some financial assistance throughout, has been a most successful and rewarding project over the years. Mrs. Faloan told of many other services provided by the Auxiliary, all on a volunteer basis. She invited anyone interested to become an individual member, whether able to be an active member or not, and extended an invitation to all to attend their Annual Bazaar to be held in early December, in Ormstown.

Mrs. J. Robertson thanked Mrs. Faloan for her fine explanation of the Hospital Auxiliary and its many projects.

Members brought to the meeting, Christmas gifts, and good used clothing to be taken to the Douglas Hospital. All were reminded to bring a small gift for our adopted patient at the Douglas, to the December meeting.

A brief report of the recent County Semi-Annual Board meeting was given. Special note was taken of the suggested plan to visit or phone-visit Senior Citizens, particularly W.I. members no longer able to attend meetings, to tell them of the W.I. and the projects that concern us now thus keeping them in touch with the organization.

Members expressed their appreciation of the kind invitation of the Cerele de Fermieres to attend a demonstration of Liquid Embroidery, which they had arranged. All who went to the demonstration had an opportunity to try out their artistic skill, and members displayed the sample pieces they had completed. The social hour and delicious refreshments which followed were greatly enjoyed.

Conveners reported several items of interest. Mrs. H. McAdam, Convener of Agriculture, discussed the recent increase in the consumer price of milk. The farm wives present noted that part of this increase was passed on to the farmer, as stated, but that the increase was then immediately taken away by higher charges for advertising and other items, with the result that there is no gain to the farmer at all. Education Convener read an article noting that the University of Alberta has instituted an Indian Language Course, for the teaching of Ojibway, the most-used Indian language, to English-speaking Canadians. Mrs. E. Keddy, Convener of Home Economics, reported that "boiling bag cooking" is being extended rapidly and this year half-turkeys are available in this convenience form in the United States, and coming soon to Canada. She noted that convenience foods are expensive, and are not a good buy for budget-minded homemakers. Mrs. H. Palmer, Convener of Publicity, reported that the Federal Government had given a grant to the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada to enable two leaders from Northwest Territories Women's Institutes to attend the recent A.C.W.W. Howard Billings High School Was Officially Opened Last Friday - Thousands Viewed It

The official opening of the new Howard S. Billings High School took place last Friday, when thousands of people gathered to witness the opening of the new building. The school, which is the largest in the Chateauguy Valley, was opened by Mr. Russell Mosher, Director General of Schools of the Protestant Regional School Board of Chateauguy Valley. Mr. Mosher was the first Principal of Chateauguy High School until he was succeeded by the present Principal, Mr. M. C. Tyler, just over five years ago.

There are approximately 100 "teaching stations" in the building complex, which is designed for an ultimate capacity of 2400 pupils and 140 teachers. Shops and labs of the technical and vocational guidance centre alone cost $425,000. Some thirteen shops offer the students the opportunity to study woodworking, industrial metal-working, electricity, electronics, automotive servicing and mechanics, machine work, air-conditioning and refrigeration, technical drawing, all at various levels of skill, depending on the needs and ambitions of the students.

Students of the school were located throughout the building as guides to the thousands who strolled through in wonderment. In the woodwork section, a pupil's work crew were busy demonstrating the construction of a full-size house. Construction of the enlarged facilities was underway for a year, and tributes were paid on all sides to the energy and skill shown by architect and contractors in meeting the construction schedule on time for school opening last September.

The addition to the school cost approximately $3,225,000 of which the Federal Government provided more than 50% of the balance coming from the Provincial Government and the local school board. The Federal contribution was made under the Technical and Vocational Assistance Program.

The library, capable of holding 30,000 volumes and presently holding 14,000 and growing rapidly, seats 200 students and offers pre-recorded lessons and data on tapes. Listening facilities are in 21 carrels - alcoves for individual study.

Other features include the Music Centre, with ten practice rooms and a chapel for the 700 Roman Catholic and 1250 Protestant pupils. Chateauguy did not possess a high school at all until seven years ago. Prior to that high school, students had to attend schools in the Montreal and Ormstown areas. Originally called the Chateauguy High School, the school changed its name two years ago to the Howard S. Billings, in honour of Dr. Billings, who as Associate Deputy Minister of Education, was largely responsible for creating the concept of regional schools. In seven brief years the school has quickly become one of the leading high schools in the Province of Quebec, and has been in the forefront of innovation and change, rivalled by few seats of learning in Canada. It was one of the first to house Protestant and Roman Catholic pupils under one roof, and last September again broke new ground by taking in 300 Caughnawaga students of Catholic, Protestant and Longhouse faiths.

The Howard Billings shares with the Ormstown Regional School the only Moral and Social Development programme, the Protestant counterpart of the two hours religious instruction for Roman Catholic students.

Official ceremonies were held in the 300-seat auditorium, which is far and away the leader of its kind in the Chateauguy Valley. The auditorium could only hold a small fraction of the guests, and the ceremonies were carried outside by closed-circuit television. This latter feature was NOT the most successful of a memorable evening.

Guest of Honour was Dr. Howard S. Billings himself. Dr. Billings was no stranger to the school named in his honour, as he has been a frequent guest at graduation ceremonies and other notable events at the school. Dr. Billings was introduced by Mr. Russell Mosher, Director General of Schools of the Protestant Regional School Board of Chateauguy Valley. Mr. Mosher was the first Principal of Chateauguy High School until he was succeeded by the present Principal, Mr. M. C. Tyler, just over five years ago.

Other special guests present were Mr. J. Blake, Chairman of the Regional Board and Commissioners T. Allan, C. Barr, R. A. Jobber, D. LePoidevin, B. McGerrige, E. Stranger, Secretary-Treasurer Peter Ross, former Commissioner Gordon Carpenter, now of Ottawa, Mr. Mosher, Mr. Tyler, Peter MacHardy, President of Student Council, Mr. L. McKesey, President, Teachers' Council, Mrs. E. Blenkorn, President, Home and School Association, Father Victor Dionne, O.F.M., Rev. H. Gould, Mr. Philip Godfellow, Architect, Mr. R. Cote, Contractor, Mr. Ian Watson, M.P., and Mr. George Kennedy, M.P.P.

REMARKS BY THE DIRECTOR GENERAL MR. RUSS MOSHER

INTRODUCTION TO DR. HOWARD S. BILLINGS

Chateauguy has for a number of years enjoyed somewhat of a reputation as a leader in education change, innovation and development. This complex which you are about to tour represents still another stage in our educational development. Its planning, construction, equipment and programme organization that goes with it, is the culmination of the efforts of numerous people. At this time I would like to pay personal tribute to some of them: The Planning Committee which worked so effectively in the determination of our needs; the principal, vice-principals and teachers who participated in the actual planning of various departments within the school; the regional office personnel who worked on the coordination of the planning; the architect who incorporated these plans into the overall structure; the Department of Education and its various directorates which reviewed plans and proposals submitted from us; the Regional School Board which at all times gave full support and assistance and, not least of all, the general contractor who developed from the plans this comprehensive high school in a record breaking period of time.

Tonight it is my happy privilege to formally introduce to you and to pay tribute to a most outstanding personality - one in whose honour this school is named.

Dr. Howard Stanley Billings retired only a little more than a year ago from the position of Associate Deputy Minister of Education of the Province of Quebec. He continues to reside in Sillery, a suburb of Quebec, where he has lived for the past 39 years. His curriculum vitae is contained in the souvenir programme which you have already received. I will leave it to you to read yourselves.

Though now retired, I know that Dr. Billings continues to follow with great interest many of the developments in education which he personally spearheaded over the years. The establishment of this comprehensive high school, as well as the one in Ormstown, represents a natural sequence of the direction in which he attempted to shape education long before the Parent Royal Commission was ever created. Early in the 1930's he led the move for the consolidation of the one-room schools which H. Gordon Green so aptly described in one of his novels. He continued to push for the consolidation and improve-

CHATEAUGUAY MINOR HOCKEY

Registration for the 68-69 hockey season in the Town of Chateauguy closed during the past weekend with the total number of boys slated to skate with town teams in the neighbourhood of 650.

The amount of interest this year far surpasses any previous season in Chateauguy and it appears that the Sports Center has sparked the increase in registration.

The important work of raising the money necessary to outfit these boys for the sport now becomes the number one item on the league's agenda and several methods are in the stage of preparation.

A booster club ticket will soon be sold for one dollar a piece, a skate sale is planned for Nov. 23rd at St. Willibrod's School and the many businesses around the area will be approached for financial support.

In the case of the skate sale the league hopes that many persons who have skates or other hockey equipment that is of no further use to them, will donate these items for the benefit of the league's coffers.

At the same time, persons wishing to sell these items may do so at the skate sale and the league will take a small part of the price to aid the boys of the town.

Information on the skate and equipment sale and donations to it may be obtained from Gord Kaye at 692-4409, Ross Hill at 692-9864 or from this corner at 692-0346.

Any questions regarding the coming hockey season will be answered to the best of our ability by anyone requesting it.

LETTER FROM SEIGNIORY PARK

by FERGUS HORSBURGH

The Storm

"The storm without might rain and rustle - Tam didn't mind the storm a whistle."

Weel, I'm sure ye'll a' ken wha wrote that. The lucky ones already home and those who stayed in town last Tuesday night well sit back at ease and not mind a whistle but those unfortunates caught out in the storm just had to suffer it as best they could. It is said this was the worst in fifty years and no one who lived through it will wish to see another like it for at least that long. Folk from the Chateauguy area were among those most affected with our full quota of abandoned cars and many weary hours to get home. A friend of mine has been hospitalized with carbon monoxide poisoning. With hindsight, the quickest way home would have been via Victoria Bridge - one who tried it says that his was the only car on the bridge - and that was as "early" as I am. Another got home the long way around via Lafontaine Tunnel and was still home hours before some who took the conventional route via Mercier Bridge. 2018 would be far too soon!

Ladies and gentlemen, we wish you to share with us and to be sure to fully acquaint our students with the honour we feel to be permitted to name our school the Howard S. Billings Regional High School. It is a name which denotes integrity, initiative, aggressive action to do a job that needs to be done and an acceptance of full responsibility for decisions made. It is a name which denotes firmness, strong leadership based upon knowledge and understanding; a name which denotes a broad range of human qualities with a strong sense of humility.

FEDERAL CONTRIBUTION TO HOWARD S. BILLINGS SCHOOL

IS $2,558,612

Ian Watson, M.P. for Laprairie, in contacting the Chateauguy Gleaner, indicated that very few of the public realized that there had been any Federal contribution to the Howard S. Billings High School. He underlined that the Federal contribution represented more than 50% of the total cost of this school, $717,634.00 of which $1,840,978.00 was contributed to the recently completed stage. These funds were transferred to the Province of Quebec and were administered by Quebec alone.

These important financial contributions by the Government of Canada are made under the Technical and Vocational Training Assistance Program and has already resulted, during the past three years, in payments of approximately $150 million for vocational school projects in the Province of Quebec. Under the present program a total of $374 million is available for vocational schools in the Province of Quebec.

Stagemasters 'Never Too Late' To Be Presented This Weekend

Don't forget to attend the Stagemasters' production of "Never Too Late" on Friday and Saturday, November 22 and 23, at the Parish Hall, rue Principale, Chateauguy Centre, at 8:30 p.m. This promises to be an excellent production so get your tickets now from Joan Levesque at 691-0671.

Producing a full length play always presents its problems and although everything usually goes off well the one fear that constantly haunts an amateur group who do not have enough members to be able to cast understudies, is the fear of illness or accident to a member of the cast, in the last few days of production.

In the past the Stagemasters have had some narrow squeaks but this time have had to face more than their share of troubles. The production crews have had to work without the guiding hand of a Stage Manager, as the members chosen to do the task had to drop out for personal reasons and a replacement for this vital job of coordinator could not be found. At it this was no enough fate stepped in with a second blow, a member of the cast (Moira McKenna) was taken to hospital this weekend for an emergency operation and no matter how bitter the blow was to the rest of the cast, it cannot possibly equal the disappointment Moira must be feeling after having attended rehearsals for six weeks, only to lose, in the last week, her first role in a three-act play for the group; a part which she had very much wanted and had really enjoyed.

Holding firmly to the tradition that "the show must go on" the Stagemasters turned for help to Marsha Strike and she, like a real trouper, stepped in without a moment's hesitation to take over as a replacement for Moira, thereby earning the heartfelt thanks of every member of the cast and Director, Rita Bittle. Marsha will now be playing the role of Grace, Edith Lambert's best friend and there will no doubt be many residents of Seignior Park who will want to turn out and support Marsha for her generous gesture in saving the show by undertaking a role with less than one week to go before the production goes on.

PROVINCIAL AUTHORITIES REPULSED IN CAUGHNAWAGA

Mr. George Kennedy, M.P.P. for Chateauguy County, has appealed to Mr. Ian Watson, M.P. for Laprairie for Federal Government help in the problem of air pollution caused by the burning of car wrecks at the service station on Routes 3 and 4 within Caughnawaga territory.

Mr. Kennedy pointed out that not only was the air pollution a menace to the public health, but that a deterioration of property values was likely to result. Any potential purchaser of property in the nearby Chateauguy was bound to have second thoughts once he witnessed the clouds of black smoke.

Mr. Kennedy informed The Gleaner that Provincial authorities had been ejected from the Service Station while on a visit to the proprietor, "ils ont été expulsés par des moyens auxquels le courage d'homme ne pouvait apporter aucune résistance."

On another occasion a visit to the Caughnawaga Band had been met with a frosty reception.

Mr. Kennedy said that it was unacceptable that the actions of these involved should be to the detriment of the entire local population. It was invalid to claim that ownership of the property exempted the garage from its responsibility to avoid being a public nuisance.

Mr. Kennedy asked Mr. Watson for help from the Federal Government, since the Province has no jurisdiction over Caughnawaga territory.

The unsightly smoke on Routes 3 and 4 has been a common sight for many years, and was the subject of a recent petition organized by Dr. Klaus Minde of Seignior Park, Chateauguy.

Dolphins

The Nursery School's scheduled trip to the Alean Aquarium was postponed when it was learned that the dolphins were not going to perform last Friday. I suppose even dolphins must have a day's rest sometimes. The trip was rescheduled to today, Wednesday.

Homeowners

Once again it was S.R.O. at the Club last Saturday night when Chateauguy Homeowners Association held a Hard Times Dance. This was a great fun evening one of the many happy features being a free for all conga to the tune of Bobby Gimby's "Canada". The Chateauguy Homeowners are centred in Chateauguy Terrace and Gardens, but their constitution permits members from all other areas in Chateauguy. How about a mover with the Seignior Park Home Owners Association?

Rear Wiper

Many is the time I've wondered why cars did not have a windscreen wiper at the rear as well as in front, but for the first time last week I actually saw one. Presumably this was a gadget added by the car owner himself, but why should it not be a standard feature, especially in our Canadian winters when rear view vision is often zero even in a very mild snowfall?

New License Plates

It's that time of the year again, and deliveries of application forms for renewals of registration have started. The new price charged is a basic one cent per pound of automobile, representing an average increase of approximately 35% over last year. Wouldn't it be nice if just something came DOWN in price once in a while? What a dream!

Santa Claus Parade

Apparently nothing is being done in Seignior Park about organizing a visit to the annual Santa Claus Parade in Montreal on Saturday. This is a great pity as the annual treat has been much enjoyed by children and parents alike for several years now.

Jobber Home and School

One casualty of last week's storm was the Military Whist Drive of the Jobber Home and School Association. The Drive has been postponed until November 26th. Object of the whist is to raise funds for a TV aerial to be donated to the school. The H. and S. has already raised half the sum of money required and the whist is expected to send the amount over the top. The Association will hold a skate sale on November 30 - details to be given to parents via their children.

CHATEAUGUAY JUNIOR B TEAM HONORED

The Chateauguy United Junior B soccer team was honored at a banquet at the Rustik Restaurant in Chateauguy, last Friday evening, for their outstanding play during the 1968 season. The Junior B squad which rose from a last place finish in 1967 to become the top B team in Quebec the following year, won league and playoff honors and remained unbeaten until their loss to Hamilton in the Eastern Canada Finals in the steel city.

The Chateauguy boys then regained their winning stride to capture the President's Cup on their final outing in Montreal.

Many guests were on hand for the occasion, including Jean Guy Bedard, President of the Quebec Minor Soccer Federation, Mayor Joseph Laberge of Chateauguy and his counterpart from Chateauguy Centre, Richard Sutterlin. Also in attendance was P. J. Despatie, Sports Director of the Town of Chateauguy and a leading supporter of the Junior B team.

Presentation of the League Championship Trophy was made to team captain Robert Corry by Mr. Bedard, while the President's Cup was handed to Mrs. Al Johnson whom Mr. Bedard termed a "soccer widow" in regard to the busy schedule of team coach Al Johnson.

St. Edward's Beauharnois Notes

Guest preacher this past Sunday was the Rev. Dr. R. Lennox, Principal of Presbyterian College, Montreal. Dr. Lennox is no stranger to St. Edward's and was warmly welcomed back. Hymns sung included "God of Mercy, God of Grace", "Lord God the Holy Ghost", and "Lead Us, Heavenly Father, Lead Us".

The recent Christmas Fair sponsored by the ladies of the Church was most successful, and thanks to all those who worked to make it so.

A future event to be noted is the Christmas Choral Service, December 15th, at 7:30 p.m. The Choir will lead at this special Service. Plan now on attending.

A telegram was received from Mrs. Chateauguy advising that they have arrived safely in Truro, N.S.

If you reside in the Beauharnois area and are not affiliated with any Church, why not worship regularly at St. Edward's? You will receive a warm welcome.

A friend's house and on that score we would like to sincerely thank each and every person who opened their homes to the many stranded persons whom the road crews forgot. A special thanks to our benefactor in Ville LaSalle and we promise to stop sending him our mosquitoes next summer.

Around our Town, only the efforts of a few Aldermen including our own Phil Bonneau made the roads passable. The contractor who cleans our streets apparently did not notice the snow and failed to reach this section until late Wednesday evening, when the aforementioned gentleman convinced him that snow had fallen.

That was some opening at the Howard S. Billings Regional High School last Friday and that is some school. If only our children will realize just how lucky we all are.

Talking about the opening of the school, a contractor spent most of Friday afternoon spilling earth on McLeod St. and only the prompt action of Phil Bonneau prevented the evening from becoming a muddy one. Phil forced the cleaning of the street during the late afternoon and certainly his efforts made the opening of the school more pleasant.

The bazaar held last Saturday at Maplewood Presbyterian Church was a great success and certainly the persons who were behind the booths made it so. It was most enjoyable to browse around and see such a pleasant group of dedicated workers and to enjoy their kind consideration of the many children who spent the afternoon there.

The recent opening of a barber shop in the Place Chateauguy was met with mixed feelings. One young fellow informed us that he hoped the place shut down because in previous days, his mother would not let him cross D'Angelo Blvd. alone, but now he had no excuse not to get his hair cut. Ah well let's not criticize the kids, we just wish we had that much hair.

Mr. Johnson was himself honored by the presentation of a personalized desk set on behalf of the parents of the boys who formed this outstanding team. The team was paced through the season by the high scoring duo of Bobby Baylis and Arthur Drake, but their successes were above all a genuine team effort and Al Johnson is deserving of the plaudits of all for his job of moulding the boys into a winning team.

With the tremendous improvement registered by the boys over their 1967 showing it appears that Chateauguy has become a major power on the soccer scene and perhaps we may soon be treated to a Dominion Championship.

On Election Night in Chateauguy Centre on November 4th, it was announced that incumbent Alderman Marcel Reid had lost Ward 2 to newcomer Gilles Gaudreau by 199 votes to 197. As was to be expected, Mr. Reid asked for a judicial recount.

The result was a rare and fantastic coincidence. When Judge Maurice Perron of the Provincial Court in Valleyfield made the recount, he announced a tie, 195 votes to 195.

By law the tie-breaking casting vote must be cast by the Chief Municipal Returning Officer. Town Clerk Laurier Legault had been appointed to that office and he cast the vote in favour of Mr. Marcel Reid. Mr. Reid had served as Ward 2's Alderman since 1964, and his latest victory gives him a seat on the Council for three years.

Federal Contribution To New Youville Polyvalente Will Be Over Two Million Dollars

Ian Watson M.P. for Laprairie has announced that the Federal contribution to the new Secondary Regional School to be built by the Youville Regional School Commission in Chateauguy Centre will be $2,400,428.00. Federal contribution will take the form of payments to the Quebec Government, who will administer the expenditure of this sum.

These important financial contributions by the Government of Canada are made under the Technical and Vocational Training Assistance Program and has already resulted, during the past three years, in payments of approximately $150 million for vocational school projects in the Province of Quebec. EDUCATION IN THE VALLEY

No. V-10

Considerable interest, as well as a great deal of anxiety, has been expressed on the concept of the junior colleges now being planned for introduction to English-language students in the near future. The first of these "CEGEPs" known as Dawson College is planned to open in Montreal next September. Following is a copy of an address recently given by Mr. C. G. Soutimay, Acting Secretary, Dawson College.

R. D. Mosher, Director General, Ladies and Gentlemen: "Members of the Board of the Directors of Dawson College are most appreciative of the interest and encouragement that has been forthcoming from so many of the members of Q.A.P.S.B. and Q.A.P.S.A. We are counting upon your continuing resourcefulness and assistance as we do our utmost to prepare comprehensive, pertinent and exciting programs for the students that will be enrolling in our College in September 1969.

As you know, our College is non sectarian in character and we plan to develop our own personality thru course offerings that will grow out of the demands of the community. The curriculum is intended to provide a broad base of instruction in a college level milieu. With guidance from a professional, the students will build "electives" around their "core subjects" to form individual timetables suited to their own personalities and ambitions. As they progress thru the courses of study, at their individual rates of progress the selections can be altered with a minimum of lost time or make-up. There will be instruction in the humanities, the fine arts, the social sciences, the physical sciences, an exposure to technical disciplines and they will develop an understanding of commerce. Several approaches to each subject area will be provided - introductory courses and the more specialized or selective courses. Just as a university student determines the number of courses that he feels he can successfully undertake in a given semester, so our students, with the aid of their guidance counsellors, will prepare their individual timetables. They will begin to identify their own aptitudes and special abilities and to correlate these, and their ambitions, with life patterns and vocational opportunities. Thus a maturity, a confidence and a dedication will be developed as they choose their paths of specialization.

The Montreal Board of Trade and the Montreal branch of the Canadian Manufacturers Association have already told us that they have committees ready to assist us in establishing a dialogue with business and industry, thru which we will develop the liaison so necessary when preparing meaningful and pertinent programs that will provide our students with the desired concepts and knowledge. Thru this liaison, we will also create a means of following the graduates thru the early years of their careers so that we may assess the value and effectiveness of our programs.

All of the universities have indicated a willingness to assist Dawson College in the development of course material and in varying degrees, to co-ordinate their efforts with those of the college. It is frightening to learn how much of our secondary school program is now deemed to be inadequate and even not relevant to life, by the average student. We believe

Chateaugay News Notes

A recount of votes in the Centre's Ward 2 was held in Valleyfield and it now appears that incumbent Marcel Reid will represent the voters for another term.

Parking regulations in both Town and Centre, during the winter months are in effect right now. It is forbidden to park motor vehicles on any streets and public places for longer than three hours during the night. If you are having out-of-town guests to stay over, make sure their cars are either in your driveway or that of a kind neighbour thus eliminating a costly ticket.

The Grand Opening of the Billings High School was held last Friday and from this reporter's point of view, was beautifully organized both inside and outside of the buildings. Our guide in the school was a young chap, John Fisher, a Grade eight student. He deserves commendation for his efforts and his politeness was quite a treat. Being somewhat hampered by crutches (still) the writer was unable to view all the displays and cover much ground, but what was observed was fabulous. A student need never leave that school without knowing something worthwhile to earn a living. May we offer our congratulations to the organizers of the Opening and all involved in any way with the smooth operation of events. A vote of thanks goes to the Town of Chateaugay Police force for their adept handling of traffic. There were hundreds of cars and thousands of people to cope with not to forget another snowstorm.

Speaking of snowstorms — the Town Council were able to have a quorum for their meeting on Tuesday, November 12, despite the traffic hang-ups and snafus. Ald. Phil Bonneau was appointed pro-Mayor for the next three months.

Also at the above meeting, the Committees for various Town services were formed. See names and details elsewhere.

The Town is to purchase a strip of land on Maple Blvd. to provide an entrance to the Arena now under construction. The purchase price is eight thousand dollars plus 1968 municipal taxes, and measures 87 feet in width and in depth, 185 feet.

A serious accident occurred at the junction of highways three and four last Friday morning shortly after eight o'clock. A car travelling at a high rate of speed smashed into the side of Lauson's general store severely injuring two men both residents of Valleyfield. A local doctor was on hand to administer aid until the two men could be taken to hospital by ambulance. An eye witness to the accident, just missed being struck by the car as it careened across the intersection.

Last Tuesday's storm marooned hundreds of Chateaugay residents in various areas on and around the island of Montreal and caused untold agony to many wives who had no idea whether their spouses had been in accidents. Some were fortunate enough to get to a telephone, others were able to stay with friends and relatives, but it is a storm that will be remembered by many for years to come. We recall the terrible February ice-storm of a few years back. As we write this column on Monday morning we are in the midst of another storm. This time it's freezing rain.

Town Police did not receive a single call last Tuesday during the storm to report accidents either major or minor. There were a number of cars left where they "conked" out or slid into ditches, but all in all it was a very quiet day at the police station in the Town of Chateaugay.

In a traffic mishap last Friday, Nov. 15, the driver of a car, Miss Carole Allard, of 228 Lake St-Louis Road, Lery, was injured when her car skidded struck a stairway at 599 Youville Blvd., and continued on for fifty feet before hitting a tree. The accident occurred at 12:04 a.m. near the old bridge over the St. John River. Miss Allard was taken to Lasalle Hospital by the Lery police. One passenger in the car escaped injury.

A Volkswagen car was stolen last Friday from the parking lot of the Lafontaine Tavern on St. Jean Baptiste Blvd., and had not been recovered as of 12 noon on Monday.

EDUCATION IN....

that the students' attitudes rather than their IQ's have been responsible for their lack of interest and active participation. Course material must be very relevant to every day life. The activist approach is called for, without an ivory tower attitude toward the subject area. It is hoped that the student will be encouraged to believe that learning without commitment is useless. Education must be a very personal experience and assembly line concepts must not be allowed to creep into our program. Although I do not approve of their selected manner of expression, perhaps the pre-ment courses of study. Real education must not be something apart from what happens in the classroom. The name of the game is education and development for a fully, exciting and creative life.

Our charter embraces a college of approximately 3,000 students with an initial freshman year of the order of 1900. A prototype college was envisaged from the start and it was realized that we would be able to accommodate a small percentage of the high school graduates that will be eligible for such instruction at September 1969.

In the hope of making it possible for a much larger group of students to enjoy college level training next fall, we considered the feasibility of operating a multi-campus college for the first academic year. This would have been undertaken in co-operation with the universities and other existing institutions that might be disposed to contribute a portion of the required accommodation and facilities. The Dawson College academic dean would have controlled and been responsible for the quality and content of course instruction, at all campuses, and the teaching staff would have been engaged and paid by Dawson College.

Had it been possible to develop a consensus quickly — this approach would have offered several advantages, including an equality of opportunity and a preferred means of training the teaching staff for not only Dawson College, but also for the other colleges that soon should receive charters for instruction in the English language. It would have also removed, to a very large degree the tremendous problem posed in the selection of a representative freshman class from the anticipated large group of applicants — with the ensuing hardships, inequalities and frustrations. Such a consensus was not forthcoming.

We now plan on developing a prototype college in keeping with the mandate of our charter, probably operating at several sites during the initial years, and cooperating fully with any and all institutions that may wish to participate with us in jointly offering college level training to as many applicants as can possibly be accommodated next September.

The college was established by order in council on September 1st 1968, and during the last six weeks the board of directors have met upon six occasions to formulate policy and organize the structure of the college. On two of these occasions, we have met with the members of the College organizing committee of Metropolitan Montreal, augmented by several individuals who have shown special interest in our problems and are contributing toward the solution of them. This is our resource pool from the English community.

At the last of these gatherings we began a dialogue with students in the universities, and we find that we have much to learn from those who are now experiencing frustrations and difficulties, which we hope to eradicate with our envisaged program. In fact, officers of the student organization UGEQ sought us out and offered their assistance and comment. Within the month, we hope to have our planning advanced to the point that we can open dialogue with guidance counselors and students in our secondary schools.

We have just now reached the point in our development where our initial program is becoming settled and a mandate for the Director General formulated. We will be actively seeking candidates for this very important post immediately. A high caliber administrator with a record of successful management and exhibited leadership is sought.

A leader among men who is committed to the principles enumerated in the Parent Report for the "Institutes" and who desires to pioneer in the development of a new, veritable and exciting opportunity for about 80% of the graduates from our secondary schools, who are finding that their training for life is not at all adequate.

We need administrators — teaching staff — detailed courses of study, adequate facilities and much more — and all of it very quickly! It is our intention that the program will be organized and initiated by the Director General and the staff that he will engage for the purpose; and yet we cannot afford a delay in action pending this appointment.

In order to develop a headquarters support that will be available to the Director General upon his appointment, as acting secretary of the College, I opened an office at Room 14, 1260 University Street four weeks ago, in a furnished facility made available to us free of charge. Typewriters and calculating machines have been supplied upon the same basis, by a leading manufacturer. We now have a business address and have been preparing files on candidates who have already offered their services for administrative and teaching assignments, and we are beginning to acquaint the public with our aims and program.

This week a professional educator joined our staff as a consultant in the person of Mr. G. A. McArthur, whom you will recall as a charter member of the Supreme Council of Education and the retired Director General of the North Island Regional School Board. Mr. McArthur is presently engaged in inspecting commercial properties that are now available to us and appraising how well each might be used to advantage for our purposes. It is very evident that much additional space and new facilities will be required to provide a satisfactory answer to the several thousand eligible applicants that can be expected to be interested in college level training next fall.

Dr. E. Pounder of McGill University is being relieved of many of his responsibilities so that he is able to devote upwards of 50 percent of his

Chateaugay Minor Football Highlights

The recent snow has put next season before the opening of the official games in ball season in Chateaugay and prevented completion of plans for an exhibition All Star game between the best of the house league and the Pee Wee travelling teams.

Plans were in the formative stage during the past week with the actual game date to be set for last Sunday at La Bergerie Park and the game promised to be a fine showing for the league's finale.

It now appears that the game will be staged early time to Dawson College affairs. He has agreed to act as chairman of our Curriculum Committee which is now functioning.

Several professional educators and individuals in industry have expressed a desire to join Dawson College staff as soon as assignments that will take advantage of their potential contributions have been identified.

Much assistance has been forthcoming from the English community and from the Directorate of College Education. There is so much to be done and time is certainly not on our side; but so long as we can enjoy the confidence and trust of the English community and receive their active support and their endorsement of our program, we will push on in planning as comprehensive a curriculum as it will be possible to offer our initial freshman class in September 1969.

ST. GEORGE'S NOTES

Last Sunday's special music presentation was very well received by the congregation at both the 9.30 and 11.15 a.m. services. The girls and boys choirs sang the anthem, "Thou didst leave Thy Throne," with some solo parts sung by va-

Chateaugay Old Timers Hockey

The old timers will hold a dance at the Rustik Restaurant in Chateaugay. Tickets are available from League President, Roland Gaudet and everyone is welcome. Last week's games produced some particularly fine play, but the outstanding single achievement was made by Mohawks Bingo Ernst who gathered furthering its reputation as the "friendly association" in the Town of Chateaugay.

Perhaps the most exciting announcement from the group is their plans for a New Year's Eve dance at St. Willibrod's School Gymnasium. Ticket sales are limited to 200 couples and you are urged to reserve early. The price includes a buffet dinner, all you can drink, a five piece orchestra and all the trimmings necessary to insure your enjoyment.

Plans are underway for chartering buses to transport persons to the Santa Claus parade in Montreal at a reasonable cost. The parade takes place on November 23rd and reservations must be confirmed soon in order that the association may provide space for everyone interested. Prices will range between 50 and 75 cents per person.

A sale of Christmas Trees will commence at the pool site on Craik St. on December 6th and your support for this effort is needed. The prices will be competitive with other locations, and the sales will be handled by the members of the association.

Following is a list of the C.P.O.A. executive body from which information on all the aforementioned items may be obtained.

President, Carlos Lindsay, 691-0517; 1st Vice Pres. Ken Semper, 691-1301; 2nd Vice pres., Ralph Cox, 691-1293; 3rd vice pres., Marcel Beaulne, 691-0670; Secretary, Frank Roper, 692-0934; and Treasurer, Ed. McAleese, 691-1372.

A reminder to members that the five dollar membership fee is now due and you are requested to remit early to Chateaugay Property Owners Association, P.O. Box 126, Chateaugay or to Ed. McAleese, 177 Ville Marie, Chateaugay Center.

seven assists in his club's 7-0 win over Mercier. Bingo, who with seven minutes followed by R. Ledue and P. Brisebois with six apiece.

Old Timers action continues every Sunday evening at 8 P.M. at Lasalle Arena and it would certainly please the teams to have a large turnout from Chateaugay. At present the most popular team attendance-wise is Mercier.

Bingo's seven assists came on scoring plays by George Henlock, who counted four and on the single markers from the sticks of Richard Asselin, W. Deer, and John Brisebois. B. Hamilton continued his fine efforts in the Mohawks' nets to earn the shut-out.

On other action, Columbia downed Permacon 5-3 on the strength of Len Fuller's hat trick and singletons by Andre Legault and Brady. For Permacon, Bill Butler notched a pair and Gauthier added the other.

Len Fuller continues to lead the scoring parade with 15 points made up of nine goals and six assists and Bingo Ernst is in second spot with 12 points on three goals and nine assists.

B. Hamilton of Mohawks also retained his top spot in the nets with only six shots eluding him in five games, and holds the league's only shut-out. In the penalty parade, P.

Nomination importante

Nous apprenons par le courrier que M. Achille Guérin, fils de Mme Exora Guérin de Huntingdon Sergent dans les Forces Armées Canadiennes, présentement stationné à Gander, Terre-Neuve a été promu récemment. Il devient assistant-administrateur du représentant résident du Programme de développement des Nations Unies en Guinée, Afrique. Cette nomination vaut pour deux ans, et M. Guérin devra résider dans la capitale, Conakry.

Le sergent Guérin est marié à Louise Longtin de Montréal et le couple a une fille, Hélène. Il recevra son licenciement des F.A.C. avant de prendre son poste soit avant la fin de novembre. Sa famille le rejoindra l'été prochain. Félicitations.

En congrès
Les commissaires de la Régionale Salaberry participent du 13 au 16 novembre au congrès de la Fédération des Commissions Scolaires de la Province de Québec, qui se tenait au Reine-Elizabeth. Le thème du congrès était: La Commission Scolaire de demain, aujourd'hui. Il en ressort principalement que voulu ou non le regroupement deviendra un fait accompli d'ici 1970. Nous espérons qu'on nous communiquera des détails additionnels que nous nous ferons un plaisir de publier puisque cette question devrait intéresser tous nos lecteurs.

Un retour profitable à plusieurs
La mode l'a décrié et les dames et demoiselles adoptent de nouveau le port du chapeau qu'elles avaient délaissé depuis quelques années. Et c'est bien ainsi surtout avec la saison froide: il y aura moins de sinusite, rhumes et gripes et fronts gelés. Sans compter que les modistes et chapeliers de l'industrie du chapeau doivent se réjouir, avant d'être déçus par les "vaches maigres" dans leur domaine. Les responsables de la mode font donc d'une pierre deux coups et même trois puisque les dames y retrouvent beaucoup de féminité.

M. NAPOLEON PARENT

M. Napoléon Parent de Howick avait célébré ses 88 ans le 6 novembre, tandis que l'aniversaire de sa fille était le 5 du même mois. Un magnifique gâteau ornait le centre de la table. On offrit des vœux aux deux héros et M. Parent prouva sa joie en exécutant "Old Man". René Parent, le fils aîné lui offrit au nom de la famille, un magnifique fauteuil de repos qu'il trouve très confortable.

Puis on joua aux cartes, comptant buffet froid jusqu'à une heure avancée, paré par Mme Léo Parent et M. Parent s'amusant beaucoup. Après quelques heures de repos, il était à son poste pour diriger la chorale à la messe aux places d'honneur, lui de 9:30, à l'église paroissiale.

Est-ce définitif?
Les journaux de fin de semaine nous informaient que le danger de grève générale des enseignants est à peu près écarté. Pourvu que les négociations continuent dans le bon sens, chacun s'en réjouira certainement. La situation tendue des derniers mois crée un malaise dont tous se ressentent. Professeurs et étudiants sans exception.

Pour être éligibles les joueurs doivent demeurer à Huntingdon ou fréquenter les écoles de Huntingdon. Cette année l'Association organisera 14 équipes de hockey soit 210 joueurs; 6 équipes de Pee-Wee pour les garçons nés en 1956-57 et 30: 4 équipes de Bantam pour ceux nés en 1954-55 et 4 équipes de Midget pour ceux nés en 1952-53.

Les parties se joueront le soir de 6 à 9, du lundi au vendredi et le samedi avant-midi.

Les personnes intéressées à devenir instructeurs ou arbitres, sont priées de communiquer avec l'un des membres de l'Association.

Michel Mainville, sec. de l'Association.

Sujet de conversation
L'annonce par le gouvernement de l'augmentation du coût de l'enregistrement des véhicules, nous fait réfléchir. Dans une autre colonne, l'opinion de la majorité: un autre moyen d'encourager l'importation au détriment des compagnies canadiennes; ou une façon de plus de plumer le citoyen à petit revenu.

Le Père Desmarais sera ici le 26 nov.
Il ne faut pas lui en vouloir, c'est la faute à Dame Nature qui l'a empêché d'être au rendez-vous mardi soir dernier.

Mais ce n'est que partie remise puisque ce confierencier dynamique sera parmi nous mardi soir prochain, soit le 26 à 8 heures du soir à l'Ecole Notre-Dame. Cette soirée est une organisation du Cercle de Fermières local dont les dirigeantes vous invitent à profiter. Nous n'avons pas souvent l'occasion d'entendre un psychologue de cette trempe et il ne faudrait pas la manquer quand elle se présente.

L'entrée est libre, une raison de moins pour s'abstenir.

Ca bouge à Ste-Barbe de Hockey Mineur de Huntingdon

Cette paroisse voisine connaît depuis quelque temps un regain d'activités dont le point de départ semble être l'équipe sacerdotale nouvelle.

Ainsi nous apprenons cette semaine que des cours de catéchèse pour adultes débuteront sous peu. Les intéressés n'ont qu'à s'inscrire en s'adressant au presbytère.

Aussi jeudi soir dernier un groupe de 50 personnes se rendait en autobus au Forum pour assister à une joute de hockey. La gaieté régnait à l'aller et au retour et les chants en chœur étaient à l'ordre du jour. Une soirée intéressante pour tous les participants, bien que leurs favoris n'aient pas réussi à remporter la victoire.

Un autre projet d'envergure s'il vous plaît est en voie d'organisation. Il s'agit d'un évènement paroissial; c'est dire que plutôt que de retourner chacun chez soi après la messe de minuit, les paroissiens se réuniront pour partager un repas; devons-nous dire un festin, si on songe aux talents culinaires des cordons bleus. Sans doute, ce sera une occasion de joie pour tous et nous sommes assurés d'avance que ce sera un succès.

Aussitôt que la température le permettra, la patinoire sera ouverte, au plaisir des jeunes et moins jeunes qui ne manqueront pas d'en profiter. C'est dire qu'il y a du pain sur la planche pour les gens de Ste-Barbe qui ont ainsi l'occasion de vivre vraiment en communauté paroissiale.

Round Byre and Ring

(By Frank Napier)

From Illinois

In this instance it was what might be called a "Pat on the back", instead of a "Kick in the pants", which latter we writers, fair or good, often receive.

On Saturday last I received an unexpected letter from Raymond Kerr, a member of the staff of Illinois Breeding Co-operative, Hampshire, Illinois, U.S.A. He did not indicate his status or forte with the said A.I. Co-operative organization, but we are aware that the latter is one of the largest of its kind in the Mid. Eastern States.

A gratifying paragraph in that letter reads, in part: "I get a lot of news of my home district from The Gleaner, and your column in same, for which I must say, in both instances: Thanks a Million."

Since he didn't specify that the said letter was in a personal way, and since it was really to myself as writer of "Round Byre and Ring", and since others will doubtless be interested in what Raymond Kerr wrote, we are taking the liberty of reproducing parts of his letter.

In preface to the above quotation, he wrote: "You may not remember me as I have been away from the Howick-Huntingdon area quite a few years. My parents live in Howick, and we were at W. C. Wylie's during the depression years. (Ed. note: He is of course referring to the former Glen Elm Farm of the late W. C. Wylie, in his day one of this area's most outstanding Ayrshire breeders, with the World Champion Nellie Osborne of Elm Shade as a product of that herd.)"

"Mother was a Peddie, cousin of the late Mrs. R. R. Ness, and her mother was a McArthur, thereby a cousin of the late P. D. McArthur of Cherry Bank, so that gives me deep roots in the Ayrshire cattle fraternity."

(Ed. Note: His father is also a member of one of the old Howick livestock families. Following his service he was employed at Mount Victoria Farms of T. B. Macauley, and as manager of J. E. Chandler's (Executive Assistant to the late T. B. Macauley) own farm, both at Hudson Heights, Que. He was subsequently manager of the Belgian Horse division of E. C. Budge's famous Thornecroft Ayrshire Cattle and Belgian Horse Farms of Ste. Genevieve. Following the death of E. C. Budge, the Thornecroft Farms were purchased by H. J. O'Connell and Mr. Kerr carried on in charge of the heavy horses until his retirement to Howick, a few years ago).

Continues Raymond Kerr: "I was on my way to Scotland when I noiced in The Gleaner your mention of Mort Butcher's death. I worked at Glen-afton back in Wartime and was treated like one of the (Butcher) family. I had known Mrs. Butcher from our school days, back at Hudson Heights. Dad worked at Mount Victoria when we were kids; then I was in the barn there for a while, when the first Rag Apples were born. My Uncle, Norman Peddie, was Herdsman, at that time."

"When I was in Scotland, a few weeks ago, I attended a meeting in Stranraer, at which event Mr. Watson-Steele addressed the Dairy Farmers of Wigtownshire — about which, and Mr. Watson-Steele's record of achievement you made reference in your column several weeks ago."

"This was my fourth trip to that country, so I am getting well acquainted in Wigtownshire and other Scottish areas. My host on that occasion was James McKetrick of Low Clanyard, in turn a close friend of John McColl, the President-elect of the Ayrshire Society of whom you made mention a few weeks ago."

Royal Dairy Show
"On October 21st", continues Mr. Kerr, "we — Jim McKetrick, John and Jean McColl, and myself — few down to London to see the Dairy Show. The Ayrshire cow class of over 30 cows was really worth the while; one of them had milked 99 lbs. at the show. The Ayrshires stole the show, winning all the top honours."

About Aylewards!
"I had another pleasant meeting with Mr. Watson-Steele at the time of the Royal Dairy Show", continued Mr. Kerr, and like many more am wondering how he gets all that production with his Aylewards herd."

"We visited Aylewards three years ago, and enjoyed that afternoon very much. While we didn't reach there until around 2.30 p.m. Mrs. Watson-Steele served us a delicious dinner; then by 5 o'clock we met her in the cow barn helping with the milking. We were told that she had done the milking for ten years continuously except for a short spell when she was hospitalized a few months ago."

"Mr. Watson-Steele told us, in Stranraer, that he had put a cow dry when giving 60 lbs. per days. This is very unusual."

"No one had the nerve to ask him for his feeding secrets. I heard that one farmer had stolen a sack of his grain mixture, but as far as I could learn he didn't gain any knowledge in that respect."

"We will naturally be watching to see how Aylewards' bred animals do in this country. The first bull, or one of the first, was housed at Curtis Candy (A.I. Breeding Co., of Illinois). He was rather a big disappointment, because his semen, was very low in live sperm. I understand, however, that there are several of his daughters, in the U.S. from Natural services."

(Ed. Note: Those who attended the Quebec Ayrshire Society's annual Field Day at Burnside Farms, several years ago, will recall having seen and inspected that bull. Purchased by a group of U.S. Ayrshire breeders, including Tom Whitaker, he was quarantined for the regulation period at Burnside, prior to his being accepted for entry to the U.S. Another Aylewards bull is in A.I. Service in New Brunswick, and another in Quebec. However, their A.I. progeny have not yet reached their milking stages.)

"Here, in Illinois", continues Mr. Kerr, "there are comparatively few Ayrshires, but I inseminated one last week, River Bow Smile 2nd. When I was with the former, Fowler McCormick's Glen Urquhart, herd there were several River Bow cows in same" (Ed. Note: River Bow is the name of the old established Ayrshire herd of Archie Kains, Byron, Ont.). Finally, Mr. Kerr wrote: "Did you know that the Peddie family come from Fife-shire and the Kerrs from Beith?"

"This was my fourth trip to that country, so I am getting well acquainted in Wigtownshire and other Scottish areas. My host on that occasion was James McKetrick of Low Clanyard, in turn a close friend of John McColl, the President-elect of the Ayrshire Society of whom you made mention a few weeks ago."

OBITUARY

The Late Haddon Kerr
The funeral of the late Mr. Haddon Kerr who died at the Barrie Memorial Hospital on October 30, was held at the McGerrigle Funeral Home, Ormstown on Friday, November 1, at 2 p.m.

Arnold Haddon Kerr, son of William Kerr and his wife Janet Sinton of Fertile Creek Road, was born on December 12, 1892. On June 7, 1922 he married Margaret Pearl Hamilton.
