

Quebec Ayrshire Society Annual Field Day at Burnside Farms, Howick

(By Frank Napier)

The annual field day and picnic of the Quebec (Provincial) Ayrshire Society was held at Burnside Farms, Howick, Que., on Saturday forenoon and early afternoon August 9th. Fittingly so, that date and location was selected so that the Provincial Club might be able to pay tribute to the firm of R. R. Ness & Sons, Ltd., on the occasion of that firm's celebration of the founding of the Burnside Ayrshire herd seventy years ago by the late Hon. R. R. Ness O.B.E.

Several hundred Ayrshire breeders and their families practically every section of the Province were in attendance as guests of Burnside and the Howick-Huntingdon Ayrshire Breeders' Club of which Reg. J. Taylor is President, Robert E. Ness, Vice-President, and Rowland Ness, Secretary.

In addition a large number of Ayrshire breeders from the Maritimes, Ontario and several of the United States, who had come to Burnside for the 70th Anniversary Sale, also attended the Field Day. Also in attendance was George Templeton of Carnell Hurlford, Ayrshire, Scotland, who had "flown over" from Scotland to attend the National Ayrshire Sale of the day before, and the Burnside Anniversary celebration. One of Scotland's, longtime, most outstanding Ayrshire breeders, this was Mr. Templeton's fifth or sixth visit to this area and other parts of Canada and the United States.

After an address of welcome by A. Mitchell Ness of R. R. Ness & Sons Ltd., the forenoon was devoted to judging competitions with the following being amongst the Official Judges: Archie Roy and Gerald A. Roy, both of Howick; Hugh Pecham, Granby; Gilbert Macmillan, O.B.E., Huntingdon, and Prof. Alex R. Ness, Senneville. At the conclusion of the judging competition the now famous "Diamond" bull calf, Aylewards Royal Pride (imported), was paraded. This bull was specialy imported from England to be a feature of the United States Ayrshire Association National Sale but since he wasn't cleared from Quarantine by that time he was auctioned in absentia and was sold for $16,500.00 to a syndicate which includes Meredith Farm, Topsfield, Mass., and Tom Whittaker, Brandon, Vt. He is presently spending his necessary Canadian quarantine at Burnside. Incidentally, while he is a good individual his chief claim to fame (and expected potential breeding qualifications) is because his dam has to her credit 22,103 lbs. M., 967 lbs. F., 4.38% on twice daily milkings in 305 day periods. He also has a wealth of record backing on both sides of his pedigree.

At noontime the ladies of Howick Curling Club excelled themselves with the splendid picnic luncheon they provided for the large number of people in attendance.

Prior to the afternoon proceedings several heifer calves donated by local breeders for the benefit of the Provincial and District Clubs were auctioned for satisfactory prices.

The speaking programme was chaired by Adrien Garon, Secretary of the Quebec Ayrshire Society, and that part of the programme was spearheaded by Ian Watson, M.P., for Huntingdon, Chateaugay and Laprairie, in address of welcome to the district. He was appropriately thanked by J. Douglas MacKechnie, Secretary-Manager, Ayrshire Breeders' Association of Canada. The other Guest Speakers included S. J. Chagnon, Associate Deputy Minister of Agriculture for Canada.

According to schedule, this eminently successful event was terminated at Burnside Farm, in time for the Burnside Anniversary Sale, which was held across the way at Woodside Farm, unit of Burnside Farms, and of course the original home of the Ness family of Howick. F.N.

In the course of the conversation Mr. Walsh agreed to help put up the line. While the two men were about this task Mr. Walsh was stricken and passed away.

HUNTINGDON W.I. MEMBERS ENJOY PICNIC MEETING

Huntingdon W.I. met on Tuesday, August 6th, at the home of Mrs. Bernhardt, with the President in charge. As this was a picnic meeting only a few items of business were considered. The Secretary read a letter of appreciation from headquarters for the splendid contribution of Christmas stockings received. An invitation from Riverfield-Aubrey branch was received to join them on August 21st, when that Branch will observe its 40th anniversary. A letter from Macdonald College asked for information and suggestions re leadership courses, and also technicians' courses.

Weather was delightful and 40 ladies including a goodly group from Ormstown Branch thoroughly enjoyed a social time, playing games and testing their knowledge in 2 quiz games. Mrs. Bernhardt served delicious refreshments. On behalf of the Ormstown ladies, Mrs. McNeil offered a vote of thanks. All left for home feeling it had been good to have such an enjoyable outing.

The ladies were all very pleased to have Mrs. Carl Anderson with them once more. Mrs. Anderson broke her leg last October and has been confined to her home ever since. But now, although using crutches she is able to get around her home and enjoy an occasional outing.

Keith Dunn, $201.00; Lucien Dallaire, $189.45.

Hemmingford W.I. Holds Picnic

The August meeting of the Hemmingford W.I. branch took the form of a picnic at Lac Hermas. The honoured guests were grandmother, who were pinned with pretty corsages made by Mrs. E. Keddy and her helpers on the programme committee. Nine teen members and several visitors and children attended.

The weather favoured us and a picnic lunch was enjoyed beneath the shade of the pine trees. Our president Mrs. F. Greer welcomed everyone and then proceeded with a short business meeting. Aubrey-Riverfield branch are commemorating their fortieth anniversary on August 21st and an invitation has been extended to our branch to celebrate with them. This meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Stairs, and any member interested in attending should notify Mrs. Greer or Mrs. E. Keddy at the earliest possible date in order to arrange for transportation.

A questionnaire re Leadership Courses has been received from the Q.W.I. office and Mrs. Greer asked for suggestions to be brought to the next meeting.

A motion was passed to send a donation of $10.00 to the MacKay Institute in Montreal. Both French and English attend this school and this summer, leaders and teachers have taken the children to camp for six weeks where they learn, although handicapped, to swim and take part in other sports. The benefits derived from this are truly remarkable.

The latest word from Mrs. J. Robertson, Agriculture Convener, is that arrangements are up to date for the School Fair on September 5th. Donations of money will be most welcome. Mrs. Harris, Publicity, said she thought the members would be interested to know that Princess Alexandra is a W.I. member of the Buckinghamshire branch in England, for a wedding present they gave her a picture of an Elizabethan Bible cover which contained 52,000 stitches. Mrs. Harris also gave an account of the enjoyable bus trip to Val David arranged by the Cercle des Fermières. Three of our members attended.

As our School Fair is being held on Thursday, September 5th and requires a lot of preparation, the one meeting with Mrs. Manning showing coloured slides of her trip will be held in the High School one week later on Thursday, September 12th at 8 p.m. instead of Wednesday, September 4th.

A poem was read by Mrs. Harris entitled "Johnny's Opinion of Grandmother" and then a very enjoyable period followed in which games were played. The first one to find as many words as possible in the word "Grandmother" was won by Mrs. W. Clark and Mrs. Barr for which prizes were given. "Pass word" which has won great favour followed. The grandmothers displayed great agility in the "Potato" and "Three-legged" races. Mrs. F. Greer and Mrs. W. Keddy were winners of the "Potato" race and Mrs. Utton and Mrs. D. Laurie the "Three-legged" race.

Mrs. Greer voiced the appreciation of all present in extending a hearty vote of thanks to those responsible for such a successful outing. The meeting closed with a sing-song.

Grows Giant Cucumbers In Huntingdon

Simon Kruyk, who lives at Garden City, Huntingdon, believes in growing cucumbers of the "King" size variety. Shown in the above photograph holding a cucumber alongside a yardstick, the "cuke" measures 20 inches in length as seen by the measure. This was one of three cucumbers brought to the Gleaner office by Mr. Kruyk, although the others were about two inches shorter. He grew these cucumbers on a wire fence and on the ground and the seed originally came from Holland Cucumbers are usually grown in Holland in greenhouse, or hot house. Mr. Kruyk thought he would do a little experimentation and he certainly got good results. It might be said here that the European variety of cucumber is of this long type and the short ones familiar here, are not seen over there. Hardly ever are cucumbers grown outdoors as they

Royal 22nd Captured Chateaugay Valley Historical Society

More correctly, perhaps, the Chateaugay Valley Historical Society was captured by representatives of the Royal 22nd Regiment in the persons of Lt. Col. Berthiaume from Montreal and Major Renaud from Valley field.

The occasion was the society's meeting Friday night which adjourned well past midnight, and continued "in committee" until approximately two o'clock in the morning.

The group's lively discussion covered topics which ranged from a discouraging report reluctantly presented by Mrs. Wilhelmina Holmes regarding the problems associated with the acquiring of Leslie Rennie's museum store at Cook's Lines; to approval of the plans for this year's Ball; on through a discussion regarding progress at Allans Corners to the climax of the evening provided by disclosure of some of the plans made by the Royal

Burnside Anniversary Sale Draws A Large Attendance

(by Frank Napier)

The large attendance at the Burnside 70th Anniversary Sale was doubtless partly due to that during the forenoon and early part of the afternoon the annual Field-day and Picnic of the Quebec Ayrshire Society was also held at Burnside. Nevertheless there was a large number of Quebec Ayrshire breeders who would have been in attendance at the sale even if the Field-day had not been held; a very considerable number from Ontario, a few from the Maritime Provinces and several from several parts of the United States.

The sale was staged at the Woodside unit of Burnside Farms, Howick, Que., commencing at 3.30 p.m., Saturday, August 9, 1963, with Douglas A. Ness of R.R. Ness & Sons Ltd., as sale manager and Pedigree expert. The auctioneer was Tom Whitaker of Brandon, Vermont, with H. P. Higgins, Huntingdon, and John D. McCaig, Ormstown, as his ring assistants. The cattle were presented in excellent fit, and expertly so by several 4-H Club members. Thirty-three of the animals offered were from the Burnside herd and the other seven head by other district breeders, with the 49 head so offered bringing a total of $15,525.00 or a general average of $394.50. Included in that total were 36 head heifers for a total of $14,400 or a general average of $400, with 4 first and second calf heifers for a total of $1,375, or an average of almost $344.

Fourteen of the Burnside heifers are daughters of Carnell Never Fear and they brought a total of $5,680 or an average of $407. Six daughters of Hammonds Masterpiece, a son of the World Champ, producer Hammonds Top Primrose, sold for a total of $2,475, or an average of $412.50.

Altogether 29 head remained in the Province of Quebec, including six head purchased by Dr. J.R. Mercer, Deputy Minister, Quebec Department of Agriculture, for a total of $2,940, presumably for the Dairy School, St. Hyacinthe and the Ste. Anne de la Poutriere College of Agriculture Farms. Topping that group was Burnside Nature's Rival 3rd, by Carnell Never Fear at $700, also including Burnside New Kate, by Carnell Never Fear at $600, and Burnside mint, by Hammonds Masterpiece at $550.

Other Burnside highlighters remaining in the Province of insurance. The other overwhelming problem which threatens the acquisition is the matter of red tape due to the building's location in both the United States and Canada. While this very fact makes it even more important as a historical site, it enormously complicates both the acquisition and upkeep of the building.

Since the committee, primarily in the person of Mrs. Holmes is continuing to do what it can to pave the way for acquisition, no further repairs and changes might be necessary to obtain the Quebec included Burnside Nella, by Carnell Never Fear which went to J.P. Bradley & Son Lachute, Que., at $650. Mr. Bradley also paid $350 and $375 for two other Burnside animals.

W.O. Carcaud, St. Chrysostome, Que., paid $500 for Burnside Rosetta, and also paid $450 for Terrace Bank White Betty, consigned by J. Earle Ness & Sons, and $425 for Balquhider White Rose consigned by Archie Roy, Chagnon freres, Coaticook, Que. paid $510 for Burnside Nudist by Carnell Never Fear. Davies Bros., Huntingdon, Que., purchased two head at $350 and $395, respectively; Enece Scott, Granby, Que., 2 Burnside animals at $300 and $280, and a heifer consigned by Roland Pigeon, Vercheres, Que., at $275.

Owen R. Ness, Arvida, Que., took 7 Burnside animals for a total of $1,975 for the Aluminium Company of Canada Farm and other breeders in the Chicoutimi area. Two Burnside heifers respectively went to Armand Pelouquin, St. Victoire, and Laurent Bosquet, Granby, Que.

Two of the Burnside heifers went at $250 and $300 each to Austin Scottdale, Sussex, N. B., while the following Ontario breeders took one animal each: R.M. Goodrum, Gault, at $365; Orville Covell, Lombardy at $260, and J. Carlyle Watt, Lancaster, at $225.

Doctor Murray K. Dunsmore, Swanton, Vermont, purchased 3 Burnside animals for a total of $1,100, including Burnside Sunset, by Carnell Never Fear at $430; Burnside Miss Tulip at $410; Pine Knoll Tulip, at $340. He also paid $400 for Clear Brook Pam, a heifer consigned by Allan H. Wilson, Franklin Centre, Que. Dr. Tulip, St. Albans, Vt. also paid $350 for the heifer Burnside Martha.

In addition to the consigned animals mentioned, the other animals in that group also sold at good prices, including the top priced animal of the sale, Sous l'Ombre Ideal Nola, consigned by Laurant Bosquet, Granby, Que. By Burnside Beau Ideal from a daughter of Burnside Pathfinder, she went at $1,150 to Meredith Farms, Topsfield, Mass. Mrs. Lucille Davis, Fulford, Que., paid $500 for Alderwood Royal Brownie 2nd, by Alderwood Elegant, consigned by J. Gemmill Wilson, St. Valentin, Que. Jean Marc Briard, St. Elizabeth, Joliette, paid $325 for the heifer Rockford Sugar Lou 2nd, consigned by G.A. Roy & Son, Howick.

Robb Horse Makes Two Wins At Different Tracks Same Day

Sunset Lee, an eight-year-old trotter owned by Sherman and Keith Robb of Heather Acres Farm, Huntingdon, accomplished an unusual feat on Sunday.

His trainer, Tom Horton entered him to race in Richeleu Park, but as Mr. Horton was informed that his entry was not drawn for Sunday afternoon, he accepted an offer from Three Rivers Raceway to put him in the Invitation Trot on Sunday night.

However due to a misunderstanding Sunset found himself scheduled to race in the first race at Richeleu on Sunday afternoon and in the fifth race at Three Rivers on Sunday night. As his owners did not want to disappoint the racing secretary at Three Rivers, who had been kind enough to invite Sunset to participate in the Invitation Trot, they decided that the horse should start in both races.

In the race at Richeleu Sunset started from the 7th position so he was forced to race on the outside to reach the top. He won in 2:08.3. This is a new record for this trotter. It rained at Three Rivers all day Sunday, so Sunset started there on a muddy track against some of the best trotters at that raceway. This time he had to come from behind to win again in 2:12.

It is not known if there is any previous record of a horse winning two races on the same day at two different tracks after having been transported 30 miles between races.

Congratulations are due Sunset Lee and his owners. With out mishap Sunset will participate in the races at Huntingdon Fair.

Milk Producers Arbitrate As To Prices To Be Paid

Messrs. Eli Leblanc and Simon Chabot of Dundee, accompanied by Mr. Kenneth Fraser, attended a meeting in Montreal on Tuesday, at which the matter of setting the price of producers milk was to be discussed. Messrs Leblanc and Chabot were representing the Fry-Cadbury Producers Board and they were meeting with the Quebec Marketing Board for an arbitration award which is to be the outcome of the discussions. Mr. Fraser was to see the Minister of Agriculture and to intercede with members of the Marketing Board in an endeavor to have a better system of testing milk set up.

The members of the Fry-Cadbury Producers Board are anxious to have the price of milk paid to producers raised to a more equitable figure and have certain subsidies included in such price. They are asking for a higher price on their regular quota milk to Fry-Cadbury in Huntingdon and also for a higher price on surplus milk. Offers made have in each case set the price at below the figure being asked and this is not satisfactory to the producers. The Board is therefore to try and arrive at a satisfactory price if agreement can be reached and this is to be settled by arbitration under the authority of the Quebec Marketing Board. It should be known as soon as to the success of the efforts of these men in behalf of their fellow producers.

After many weeks of bargaining and discussing pros and cons the Parish Council have purchased a 1600 International Truck equipped with a two thousand gallon tank with intake and discharge pump and a 1 1/2 inch hose to add to the Ormstown fire fighting equipment.

Monday night was chosen as the time to test the new machine. Many volunteers turned out and the tank was filled with its own pump from the creek in eighteen minutes. This amount of water will last an hour using the spray hose. The tank can be filled in from five to eight minutes using the town pump and can be used as an auxiliary tank in an emergency. The tank was obtained through the efforts of the Mayor of Ormstown,

This column I hope will be of interest to all peoples of the district especially those who often wonder where are some of the bygone tales. Please send in stories of the past. I am sure they will be of interest to your friends.

The above photo is of the Dunsmore Furniture Store when occupied by Mr. A. A. Lunan, later became the home of the Masonic Lodge. My first recollection was when I used to go up and visit Mr. Dunsmore, look over the furniture, noting the initials on the price tags, which they stopped at Copenhagen to visit with Mrs. Ross.

Miss Doris Fraser of Boston, Mass., spent the week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Fraser.

Lewis and the above mentioned owners had no way of transportation. Mr. and Mrs. Lunan made the proposition that if the crew went to Church on Sunday morning a car was provided in the afternoon, this we accepted and as the road was not very good in wet weather we used many a detour, in doing so we gained experience in keeping a car going on poor roads. Franklin Centre
Franklin W.I.
The August meeting of the Franklin W.I. was held at the home of Miss Frances Eccles with Mrs. Lawrence Towns assisting. There were 13 members and 1 guest in attendance. The meeting was opened by the President with all present repeating the Ode and Mary Stuart Collect. The members answered the roll call by bringing in Cottons for Cancer.

The treasurer, Mrs. Leo Lewis, reported that $41.90 had been realized at the dinner served to the Chateaugay Valley Teachers' Association, also that the balance on hand to date was $232.49.

A report of the County President's meeting of June 24th, with reference to leadership training and technician courses was read and will be fully analyzed at the September meeting. A thank-you card was read from Mrs. Harold Steele thanking all members for the baby basket sent to little April.

The secretary was instructed to write Mrs. Edwin Keddy, Secretary of the Hemmingford Branch expressing thanks for a very enjoyable afternoon spent with them at their July meeting.

In July many members spent a day at the Botanical Gardens, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all. This event took the place of our July meeting. The secretary was instructed to write the School Board of the Franklin Intermediate School reminding them with reference to the erection of a school fence as all members feel it is a necessity as the school yard is so close to the road. Mrs. Willard Blair, convener of Home Economics, read an article on being born 30 years too late.

Miss Frances Eccles, Publicity Convener, gave a report on what had taken place at the Provincial Convention held at Macdonald in June, when Mrs. Leo Lewis and Miss Eccles attended also an outline of the guest speaker, Mrs. Gerda van Beekoff of Holland, President of the A.C.W.W. who was a most interesting and charming speaker. The president, Mrs. Lawrence Towns then welcomed our guest speaker, Mrs. Anna Bernhardt, who is no stranger to our branch and who spoke on School Fairs and stressed the importance of these fairs for school children and the interest shown by both boys and girls of all ages in the various phases of these fairs. Many helpful and valuable suggestions were given by Mrs. Bernhardt as the Franklin W.I. is most interested in starting a School Fair in our community. Thanks were expressed to Mrs. Bernhardt for her most interesting and informative talk leaving us with food for thought.

An invitation was read from the Aubrey-Riverfield Branch to join with them to celebrate the 40th Anniversary of their Branch.

The evening came to a close with coffee and refreshments served by the hostess.

STORMS
The storm story I wrote last week and in which I expressed our hope for no more like it, well, that just didn't happen, for since that time we have had two bad ones. The last seemed to be trying to out-do the one before it.

During the Sunday afternoon storm a bolt struck the cupola on the top of the old grist mill, shattering the wood and pushing out one wall. There happened to be a lightning rod on the top which I presume carried it to ground.

We were fortunate that the building did not take fire, for no doubt there is quite an accumulation of dust, an explosion would have been imminent, and with the wind that was blowing at the time, the results to the village could have been disastrous. So let's get that Volunteer Fire Department underway, and in operation without any unnecessary delay, next time we may not be so fortunate.

Naval Cadets Leave For Two Weeks Stay At Sydney, N.S.

A happy group of 20 naval cadets left Huntingdon late Saturday for a two week stay at H.M.C.S. "ACADIA" at Sydney, Nova Scotia.

Officials of Huntingdon Agricultural Society (Div. "A") signed a contract for a new horse barn to be erected in time for the annual Huntingdon Fair.

The record number of entries received for this year's Fair (August 29-30-31) in the livestock classes, especially cattle and horse departments, made the new barn a necessity.

The mammoth semi-trailers used to transport the reinforced beams for the new bridge at Huntingdon experienced considerable difficulty last Wednesday at Ormstown.

Seems a few Muskallong were among the fish found dead in the Chateauguay River when ammonia accidentally contaminated the water.

Housewives who excel in baking would be well advised to look at Page 27 in the Huntingdon Fair Prize List.

A couple of bad fires occurred last week-end, one reported in Franklin and one in Elgin.

The thieves who robbed Ormstown bank Friday, Aug. 2, were bold, but no more brazen than four youths in an Ontario car who tried to steal gas early Sunday morning from a car parked in the owner's driveway.

Work resumed on Monday in the Cley & Tinker departments that were closed down for annual vacation for the past two weeks.

ORMSTOWN — An enthusiastic group of Guides under the watchful eyes of Miss Heather McKell and Miss Karen McCartney left on Saturday for a few days at Morin Heights.

John Anderson Barn Burned

The barn on the farm of John Anderson burned to the ground Monday night, when a fire supposedly started by spontaneous combustion, broke out in the well filled hay mow.

It was learned that insurance will cover part of the loss. Mr. Anderson had the barn well cleared of machinery as he was in the process of remodeling his buildings.

The fire was discovered in time to remove the live stock. This fire makes a very interesting sequel to another article elsewhere in the Gleaner on the new fire tank purchased by the Ormstown Parish.

épargne les feuilles grâce au ROULEMENT LENT

Le Conditionneur à foins DION laisse aux tiges les feuilles riches en protéines — parce que ses rouleaux conditionneurs tournent plus lentement. Alimentés par un ramasseur exclusif, ils n'ont PAS à faire appel à la vitesse.

Les rouleaux à grande vitesse happent le foin. Les feuilles sont déchirées... sechent trop vite... se brisent ou s'écrasent. Il en reste bien peu pour vos bêtes.

Le Conditionneur DION soulève et buffe le foin. Les rouleaux à rotation lente ouvrent les tiges sur toute leur longueur sans les dilacer. Les feuilles restent aux tiges... ce qui veut dire qu'un DION vous fait faire plus d'argent... exclusif, ils n'ont PAS à faire appel à la vitesse.

Le ramasseur rotatif exclusif flutte sur les rochers et les obstacles. Les dents flexibles se redressent et s'écrasent leur place sans dommage. Les rouleaux exclusifs en acier, l'épaveur du bourrage, ouvrent les tiges uniformément sur toute leur longueur.

Les deux rouleaux sont entraînés par chaînes à roulements. Le Conditionneur à foins DION Modèle 710 coupe et conditionne en même temps avec la nouvelle faucille sans bielle. Le bec ouvre la faucille et la faucille se monte sur la chaîne. Andinoise également disponible.

COFFIN-HOOKER

The marriage of Mary Catherine (Trinker) Hooker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan M. Hooker of Ormstown, Que., to Mr. Harold Garth Coffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Coffin of Charlottetown, P.E.I., took place on Saturday afternoon, August 3rd at three o'clock in the Ormstown Presbyterian Church, the Rev. J. C. Hood officiating. Mrs. Lind-C. Hood played the wedding music and the junior bridesmaids of the Church Choir, George Barrington, James Hood, Donald McEwen, Kenneth Rember and Keith Tan-nahill sang "I'll Walk Beside You". Standards of white poms, white gladioli and greenery were used to decorate the church and white satin bows marked the pews. The bride, who was given away by her father, was in a gown of white poul de soie, a jacket of white Alençon lace, with high neckline and long sleeves with points over the hands, was worn over the fitted bodice, the skirt, fashioned with soft pleats in the back, fell into a slight train. Her elbow length veil was held in place with a bandeau

Young Girls Help in Work at Riverview Terrace Rest Centre

In many years Riverview Terrace Rest and Convalescent Centre has given employment to one or more school girls for four to six weeks of their summer vacation. This has become very popular with teenagers in this area and this summer the applications were so numerous that Miss Lillian Rankin, Res. Administrator, felt it was very fair to choose in order of application from time to time there were only a few girls who are really interested in "some day" entering a General Hospital for a nurse's training.

This summer Heather Stark younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicol Stark and Elaine Moore older daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Moore were accepted as "Candy Strippers" because they wear red and white uniforms. Following their physical examination they commenced July 2nd and will finish during third week of August.

These girls are not given any kind of training because their work has nothing to do with the medical side of this

In the top photograph Candy Striper, Elaine Moore is seen walking a patient around the grounds for exercise. These girls have been doing good work during a few weeks of the summer vacation and at the same time learning some worthwhile facts of nursing care.

In the lower photograph, Candy Striper, Heather Stark is shown working during the previous week to recreate a delightful domestic scene from the past — complete to the last detail of freshly baked bread on the table — all in a gentle atmosphere of lamp light showing the carefully collected group of antiques to perfection. The work to which the McCaig's and Royles had gone was greatly appreciated by members who saw it, and it is to be hoped that others will have a similar opportunity.

detail will be described at this time, although Mrs. Holmes reported on a variety of serious problems raised by this international character of the store.

A visitor of the evening, Mr. Patrick Wohler, President of the Verdun Historical Society, may have pointed to an excellent route to solution of some of these problems, when he suggested discussing the matter with the New York Historical Society.

The Commemoration Ball Mrs. Patricia Rae, chairman of the Ball committee, told, in her report, of the thorough investigation made to find the best site for this year's Ball. This had been a directive to Mrs. Rae resulting from last year's committee recommendation that larger quarters were considered essential, and that the demand for tickets this year, in view of last year's, would far exceed last year's. This recommendation was considered particularly valid in view of the importance of the Ball this year.

After exhaustive search of the Valley Mrs. Rae was asked to investigate the possibility of holding the Ball in Montreal particularly in a military or historic atmosphere. The consensus of opinion was that she had achieved her goal admirably in providing both military and historic atmosphere. Her recommendation was accepted unanimously after little discussion.

The 1963 Commemoration Ball will be held Friday, October 25th, at the Black Watch Armories in Montreal. Those attending will be guests of the officers' mess, will dance to music provided by the Black Watch band, will enjoy a sumptuous buffet served by the regiment's stewards, and by special arrangement will be able to examine the regiment's excellent museum.

crossroads, which has been made available to the Society, has had extensive work done to it, preparing the area as the site of an outdoor agricultural museum. A number of items of historic interest have been offered for display, and some may be in place very shortly.

The log barn which was dismantled last fall will be relocated soon. Philip Goodfellow architectural consultant to the society, undertook to recommend a site this weekend.

The proposed signs to be placed near the highway, providing the story of the Battle, have been delayed repeatedly. Now, however, inscriptions are ready for most of them and it is anticipated that erection will occur in the near future. These signs are most important since they will focus attention upon the whole area of the Battlesite.

Investigation is proceeding with regard to the feasibility of providing antique street lights for the Allans Corners area.

Essay Contest

In March simple instructions distributed to all Protestant and Catholic, all French and English schools in the three counties with notifications of cash prizes offered for the best six essays on the subject of the Battle of Chateaugay.

By the July 31st, deadline from this entire area only two students had sent in essays for the competition. In the belief that not all the blame for this apparent abysmal lack of interest in the most important event in local history can be laid at the students' door, the committee was directed to consider extending the closing date for the essay contest, and in that event to ensure that students were aware of the contest.

as the Regiment de Chateaugay, direct descendant of the troops who fought under the command of de Salaberry in 1813. This famed soldier was in fact the first commanding officer of the regiment.

Lt. Colonel Berthiaume, who was representing General Fleury, had already assured the Society of the army's support in plans for the Commemoration. Major Renaud then outlined their plans which greatly impressed the group, since they account for a good deal of the time between their commencement at Chambly on the morning of October 19th, to their finale on the afternoon of October 27th.

Major Renaud stressed that so far as ceremonies at the Battlesite monument are concerned the Regiment wished to participate with the Society and not to take over the plans for the day's celebrations. He then went on to mention the 15 sub-committees which have been actively engaged for some time in preparations for the event.

Among the most interesting highlights of the Regiment's plans from the point of view of the Society, is the invitation Ball to be held on the same evening as that of the Society — thus presenting perhaps for the first time — two major balls being held concurrently to celebrate the same historic occasion. It is hoped that the health of His Excellency the Governor General will permit his attendance with Mme Vanier at the Regimental Ball. It is particularly appropriate that Mme Vanier is a descendant of de Salaberry.

Considerable discussion ensued regarding the need for close liaison with the Regiment, and the effect that integration of plans might have upon those envisioned by the Society. A committee consisting of Commemoration committee chairman Ian Watson, President Harry Cullen, Dr. John Davidson, and Messrs. Philip Goodfellow and Douglas Lambie was set up to work closely with Colonel Berthiaume and Major Renaud in detailing plans during the next ten days.

Delightful Moment From the Past Many of the members attending the meeting, despite the heavy rainfall, were able to visit the log cabin on the property of their host Robert McCaig. In this cabin, reputed to date back to the time of the Battle, Mr. and Mrs. McCaig and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Royle had laboriouscer at the present time is the lack of playing fields. However this should be remedied by next season. Following is the standing up to press time:

Table with sports results for various teams including Hearts, Rangers, Warriors, Legionnaires, and Wanderers.

Minor Football

All lads interested in trying out for Minor Football may do so by registering Saturday August 17 at the West End Soccer Field between 10 and 11 a.m. Mosquito ages are 8 to 10 by August 31/52; Pee Wee 10 to 12 by August 31/50; Bantam 12 to 14 by August 31/48. The Mosquito and Pee Wee teams have been entered in the Lachine and District League. The Bantams have not as yet been entered into a league. It is hoped that a league will be found for them to enter. If not, they will play exhibition games.

Minor Softball

Four teams have been disqualified in Minor Sport for having over-aged players — C.R.C. and St. Joachim each having two teams disqualified. It's hard to believe the length some people will go to have a winning team. I'm not saying that the Clubs knew that these boys were over-age but what I am saying is that a little more checking on the part of these Clubs could have prevented these boys from playing.

Boys who fake their age in order to be able to play ball in lower age groups do not know the meaning of the word sport and have little or no regard for their playing companions. Minor Sports has done its duty in disqualifying the teams. Now I would like to see the respective Clubs do their duty by suspending these lads from activities in their organizations for a limited time to punish them for the wrong they have done to their Clubs, and their fellow players. I sincerely hope that the parents of these boys give them a good talking to and in doing so explain the meaning of the word Sportsmanship.

A recurrence of such a thing could harm minor sport here in Chateaugay and also give Chateaugay a bad name elsewhere.

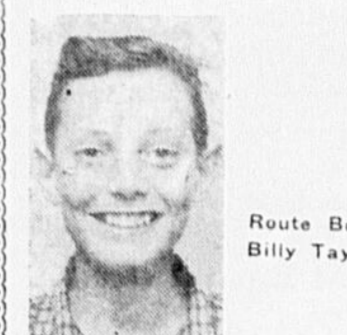

George and Hazel Young wish to express their deepest thanks to all their friends for their kindness during the recent illness and death of their daughter, Pat.

Our sincerest sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Furlong of the C.A.L. village. This was a double bereavement, within a matter of hours Kay lost her brother and then Kurt his mother. When speaking with Kay she asked if I would mention how thankful they were to their many friends and neighbours. There were so many who helped it would be impossible to thank each one personally.

The above paragraphs were partly written for last week's Gleaner but I just didn't have time to finish. My husband has been laid up with a slipped disc and wasn't getting any better so early last Monday morning Mr. Roland Talbot and I got him as comfortable as possible on a mattress in the back of his station wagon and off we went to St. Victor. A long trip to an old friend whom we knew could help. Two or three minutes under his capable hands and he was walking again. It will be a long time yet before he is really better but at least he's up a part of the day now.

There was a nasty accident on the highway one night last week when two young hitchhikers were hit by a car. There are conflicting reports as to their condition but I hope they're O.K. As to the driver of the car who hit them and the driver of the third car, I have a bit of advice if they should happen to read this — also to all others who use that part of highway 3. There are speed limit signs there and traffic lights, and those lights alone ought to be fair warning that danger is close. Since I've been driving I've had more than one person pass me and yell "Step on it!" I worked mighty hard with John Amyot only a few years ago for the speed limit of 30 m.p.h. — wouldn't I look sweet racing along there now!

NITRO NEWS

(Mrs. E. St. Onge)

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Charette, La Pointe Ave., on the arrival of a daughter, at Hotel Dieu Hospital, Valleyfield, last week.

I had such a pleasant surprise last week, when someone came in with a — "Hi, Beth, Remember me?" I surely did — Eileen Peterson with Pete and part of the family outside waiting in the car. It is fourteen years since they left Nitro, so saw many changes — but didn't forget to ask about many old friends.

Miss Penny Daoust returned to Ottawa with her cousin Dianne Canadian for a holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Armand Cyr and family have returned from a vacation — a motor trip along the Gaspe Coast and a visit with friends and relations at Maria. Claude stayed with his cousins for a longer holiday.

Gary Yates was nine years old last Saturday. On Thursday he asked his mother if he was going to have a party on Saturday and tears were mighty close when his mother said — "No — you are not going to have a party on Saturday!" This was quite true as she had planned the party for Friday! Part of their entertainment that afternoon was milling around Bernier's taxi and our car, waiting for the police to arrive. The road wasn't wide enough for Roger and I at the corner of Lapointe and Riverview. More than one old friend has told me that now I've had an accident I'm considered a "driver" — I wonder!

Annual Horticultural Show Held Last Saturday

(By Mrs. E. Bate)

The 29th Annual Horticultural Show was exhibited by Mr. D. Gosselin of the Station and last Saturday, August 10th, in St. Andrew's Memorial Hall, Chateauguy Basin. Mr. J. J. Mahoney, President of the Horticultural Society, feels the show was a success. Although there were not as many entries this year, exhibits staged totaled 171, with other non-competitive baskets and vases of flowers shown. The long dry spell in July and too much rain and wind all at once in early August no doubt contributed to the decrease in entries. For some other unknown reason no dahlias were entered in the show this year. However, many beautiful flowers, particularly the gladioli, with colors beyond description, and vegetables were quite a treat to the viewer. Mrs. C. A. Smith of Hamilton Ave., Heights, contributed a very large basket of every sort of flower grown in her garden and it was the center of attraction on the stage. Mr. E. Forrester of Drolet St., donated gladioli to the Society for the Auction. Ladies of St. George's Anglican Church served tea and refreshments during the afternoon. Judges were Mr. Frank Cave and Mr. James Kidd of the Verdun Horticultural Society. The best rose in the

The P.R.A. Story

(By M. Myers)

It was colossal, stupendous the field first then the fun started. The pitching was fantastic the base running out of this world some of the plays had the umpires "stymied". Such as when the pitcher used a grapefruit and the batter hit it, what would you call it? If the runner on first ran to second and the runner on second ran to first, how would you call it? But you will have to give the boys from Chateauguy credit, they fought hard and played well, the score, Molson's seven and Chateauguy Dragons two. The spectators got their money's worth and went away talking to themselves. This is something worth-while and very rewarding for all the work involved our hearty congratulations and sincere thanks to all those of Parkview Recreational Association and the boys from St. Philomene who contributed their time and effort to put this on. The ale boys took on.

Henri Richard's Fast Ball Team Draws Crowd

Great excitement prevailed in Delson Ball Park when Henri Richard and his Fast Ball Team came along to play against the All-Star Team of the Laprairie League. A large crowd welcomed the popular Hockey Star of the National League and everyone was most enthusiastic as they watched the game. To officially open the game, Henri Richard threw the first ball, Father Brault was the Batter and Mayor W. Boardman the Catcher. Henri Richard's team won by 8 to 0. Pierce and Gilles Legare were the very fine Pitchers. The All-Stars gave a good showing and were good losers. The young fry had a wonderful time collecting autographs.

More Nations Signing Test Ban Treaty — Step Toward More Likely World Peace

Premier Khrushchev, State Secretary Rusk and Foreign Secretary Home had hardly downed their celebratory champagne following signing of the limited nuclear test ban treaty, before the scramble to get on the band wagon was on.

At week's end more than 75 nations, including Canada, had signed the document, showing approval of the agreement as a step towards a more likely world peace.

Notable exceptions were France and Communist China, both of whom have rejected the agreement, and West Germany which has fears the treaty could be used to jeopardize the freedom of West Berlin.

East Germany was not hesitant and signed Thursday. As Moscow observers were predicting further moves to reach East-West accord will be months in the making, Rusk went to Germany to rally support for the treaty and for further negotiations to ease tensions.

The secretary of state was cheerful following his discussions with Khrushchev. It was expected he would receive demands from the Bonn government that the treaty not be allowed to pose a threat to West Berlin's status.

Similar demands were expected in regard to the Soviet leader's proposals to ease cold war tensions, an East-West non-aggression pact, reductions in military spending and ground inspection teams on both sides of the iron curtain to guard against surprise attack.

Khrushchev Jovial Following the signing, Khrushchev was at his most jovial and underlined this by allowing western reporters to enter his summer mansion for the first time.

China and Russia's disagreement widened with continuing charge and counter-charge and Russian, East European and Mongolian ambassadors walked out of a mass political rally in Peking.

The move followed accusations by Peking's vice-mayor, Wan Li that Russia was "selling out the interests of world peace" by signing the treaty. President Kennedy sent a copy of the treaty to the Senate and urged its approval saying the agreement was not conditioned upon any other

Notes and Jottings

FROM Robert Sellar's Historical Writings

As no overt act took place in the district of Beauharnois during the first year of the rebellion, it would be beyond the scope of this book to touch upon it, further than to note its influence upon what followed in the succeeding year. The rebellion of 1837 failed from three causes, 1st the cowardice of the leaders, 2nd the failure of the aid anticipated from the Americans, 3rd the decision at the last moment of the hierarchy to disown the revolt. The utmost clemency was shown to such of the leaders as were caught, none being executed, and a number, like Cardinal of Chateaugay, who was one of the members for Laprairie (the seigniory of Chateaugay was then part of that county), and Dr. Perrigo, were left untouched. Mercy to the vanquished was not mercy to the province, for had a stern example been made in 1837 there would have been no rising in 1838. The leniency of the government was misconstrued by the habitants into proof of its weakness, and the fellows who were set at liberty swaggered about the parish boasting that the bureaucrats did not dare to punish them. How the ignorance of the habitants was imposed upon by the demagogues who were leading them to ruin, it will suffice to state that many were induced to take up arms under the representation that the throne of William IV having been filled by Victoria, they ran no risk in rising against a girl. The leaders were guilty of worse than misleading a credulous tered. So very quiet and friendly were the Canadians, that the Old Country people were completely thrown off their guard, and believed that, in the catastrophe of the preceding fall, the insurrectionary idea had perished and that the French had become reconciled to the existing state of affairs. The calm, however, was so profound that it caused suspicion among a few, but none scouted the idea of a second rising being brewing more emphatically than Colonel Brown and Mr. Norval, and no other two in the district had greater facilities of knowing what was going on, or were more thoroughly acquainted with the Canadian character. The degree of deception used is indicated by men like them being so completely deceived. The providing of arms and material was a more difficult matter than the obtaining of recruits for the lodges, and for the means to purchase them the leaders depended mainly upon the Americans. All over the Northern States of the Union large meetings were held, at which resolutions of sympathy for the French Canadians "in their aspirations for freedom from the British yoke" were enthusiastically adopted, and in defiance of their own neutrality law, subscriptions were opened to buy arms and ammunition to make war against the United States with which the United States was at peace. Along the northern frontier, many of those American sympathizers formed themselves into secret societies, called Hunters' lodges, the object being to aid the French Canadians in their effort to convert Canada into a republic not only by collecting subscriptions for their respective military companies, to march to their support when the flag of insurrection was raised. These Hunters' lodges were most numerous in Vermont and in St. Lawrence county, N.Y. Despite the contributions of the Americans and the sacrifices made by a few of the Canadian leaders, the Chasseurs were indifferently provided with arms when the time of rising approached. What muskets they had were mainly old flintlocks that had been used in 1812, and these were eked out by daggers, pikes, and pistols. The pikes were made clandestinely by the parish blacksmiths. Stranger than even these rude weapons, was the boring of logs to make wooden cannon. If arms were deficient, the leaders had, by means of the Chasseur or Raquet lodges, undoubtedly secured a fairly organized body of men, and were thus in a much better position than when they took the field the year before.

How the authorities obtained word of what was going on has not yet been fully revealed, but there is no question that the first definite information as to the extent of the danger was made known through the Catholic ecclesiastical authorities of Montreal. Apart from the consideration that they foresaw the second rising would be a second failure, and were anxious to prevent the impoverishment of their people, their act was one of self-interest. The rebel leaders by this time had imbibed American ideas of church and state, and had adopted as one of their measures of reform the abolition of tithes. Careful as the priesthood had ever been to identify themselves with the French Canadian nationality, sparing no effort to impress the habitations with their patriotic aspirations, they had no intention that they should be realized operations against the rest of it cost them the power to the province.

We welcome Mrs. Maude Gardner back and already many of her little friends have visited her.

A big welcome home to Olive Lowe and son Martin who arrived home by plane from a lengthy stay in England. Dad Glossop is coming along very well and we wish him a continued return to good health.

Caroline Hulshoff is back home accompanied by her little nephew Dwayne, (who is so grown up now) it's so nice to see you again Caroline.

Mr. and Mrs. René Emard and son Real, have returned from a week's holiday at Wildwood, New Jersey, on the ocean. On the way home they spent four days visiting Frontenac, Lake Placid, 1001 animals, North Pole where Real gave his order to Santa even though it is a bit premature. They all had a good holiday and Real won a huge stuffed poodle of which he is very proud. Glad to see you home, folks.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Jones are back after a very wet camping trip to Lake George, along with sons Michael and Scott. While on holiday Scott celebrated his birthday. Hope you had a good time despite the weather.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Jones Sr. received a surprise visit from Mrs. Jones' sister-in-law, Mrs. J. V. Lowe and daughter Velma of Long Island, N.Y. Mrs. S. Allan of Montreal visited too and got caught up on family news. The visitors left for home on Friday.

David Smith who was two years old on Aug. 11th, had Nanna Edna, Uncle Bob and Aunt-to-be Judy Danis out for a party along with his family. A banana cake with peanut butter icing was the highlight of the day. So glad you had a happy day, David.

Hope Linda Marshall, Cathy Small and Kathy Gourley have a wonderful time at Explorers' Camp. Be waiting for news, girls.

Hi everyone, welcome back vacationers, hope you all had a fine holiday. We are getting that much needed rain now, too much so, eh? There were quite a few flooded basements last week after the downpour we had.

Maplewood Presbyterian Church

The new church building is coming along beautifully and now that the organ is installed things are really taking shape. Mr. Smith, organist, would appreciate a large turnout on Thursday evening for choir practice. Anyone who likes singing and can carry a tune is invited to come along on Thursday evening and join in with the rest of the choir members.

Get Well Wishes

I'm glad to report that Mr. Bill Gill of McLeod Ave., is feeling much better after his recent operation. Bill was a very sick fellow for awhile, but his wife tells me that he is now well on the road to recovery. Hurry and get well Bill, your family sure misses you.

Best Wishes also to Mrs. Moore, mother of Mrs. S. Gross of McLeod Ave.

Mrs. Moore is visiting with her daughter and has been quite ill.

Get well wishes also go to Mrs. F. Navarro, sister of Mrs. H. Taylor of Hanley St.

Mrs. Navarro is now home after being a hospital patient, hope you'll soon be feeling good as new, Violet.

Birthday Wishes

A very happy birthday to the twins, Audrey and Alan Black of St. Francis Blvd. These two youngsters will celebrate their sixth birthday on Saturday, the seventeenth. Happy birthday also to Master David Cowper of Cardinal St., David will be four years old on Monday, August 19th. Related birthday greetings to Mrs. Janet Neal, who celebrated on Monday, Aug. 12th.

Welcome Home

Mr. and Mrs. C. Blenkhorn, Fay, Holly, Lynn, Dale and Cheryl returned home on Saturday from a wonderful week of camping. The Blenkhorn family travelled all through the Eastern Townships and Vermont, visiting farms and beautiful countryside. Needless to say everyone enjoyed themselves.

Welcome home also to the Neals of McLeod, Ed, Janet, George and Ian and last but not least, Mitch, the family pet dog. The Neal family mo-

VIGILANTIA

Chateaugay Civic Group (by Gilles Germain) Seven Months Left Before...

Recently, a man from Chateaugay visited a psychiatrist in Montreal and upon entering his office was asked to lie down on the sofa most of us are familiar with in cartoons. Soon he was completely at rest and didn't seem to have a care in the world. The psychiatrist sat beside him and proceeded with the examination.

First, he asked of what white reminded him "Black" replied the man. Then, of what cold reminded him, "warmth" was the answer. Next, of what drought reminded him. Without hesitating, the man retorted, "floods" and went on, "doctor, I visited my son, daughter in-law and brand new grand daughter. While out west the Neals visited many beautiful places and everyone agreed that this had been a very good holiday.

Horicultural Winners

Congratulations to the following winners in the flower show on Saturday: Mrs. J. Cashon, Verville, Mr. W. Cooper, Verville, Mr. L. Cowper, Mrs. E. Bate, Mrs. C. Harding and Master Bruce Hamilton. There were many more winners of course, but these people live in this district. Congratulations to all who won and to the losers, better luck next year.

Household Hints

Nylon curtains will retain body if powdered milk is used in the last rinse water. Prevent marks on the walls from furniture by cutting small squares from a sponge and tacking them to the furniture backs. Soft drink spills may turn brown if not treated at once. Sponge in clear water, then rub glycerine into the stain and let stand a half hour. Then launder the area with hot water and suds.

Outstanding Week
In many ways this has been the most outstanding week. The signing of the Nuclear test ban pact, which in itself is a great accomplishment, was achieved by great powers of the world forming a nucleus of world peace and understanding.

The sod turning ceremony took place on St. Helen's Island for the 1967 Worlds Fair, which we all hope will be a great success even though the reported expense will be enormous.

The cost of living went up again, and everyone may well ask when it will stop.

As if England has not had enough trouble of late, the London-Glasgow train was derailed.

Last, but a very sad last, we learned that the infant son

LETTER FROM SEIGNIORY PARK
(by FERGUS HORSBURGH)

Some of us have been concerned about hanging on to library books for so long, but there is nothing to worry about. The McLennan Traveling Library staff have summer holidays like everyone else, and will be back in Seigniory Park in September or October. You will be advised via this column of the date and time when these become known.

Great plans are afoot at the Club for the Labour Day weekend. There will be something for everybody during the last big weekend of the season. Details will be announced in good time.

Teenage girl members of the Club are busy rehearsing three times weekly for the Water Ballet show on Saturday, August 31st. The show, including precision-stroke swimming and formation swimming, will be illuminated with underwater lights and spotlights.

Seigniory Park youngsters were among those receiving Red Cross swimming awards last week. Mr. Ed Monar, Provincial Red Cross official, held a series of tests extending over two days, and passed some fifty boys and girls, who have been training all summer under the guidance of Lynn Butler and the other lifeguards. Further details are shown elsewhere in this Gleaner.

The Annual Flower Show at St. Andrew's United last Saturday had a smaller number of entrants than last year, which was disappointing. (Continued on page 10)

Congratulations go out to Mr. and Mrs. Bob Faust of 15 lunch, the evening drew to a close on Monday, close, much to everyone's regret. August 5th, Ida presented Bob. Our thanks go out to Mr. and family with a 8 lb. 11 oz. E. Pilon of Dow Brewery Ltd. daughter, a sister for Carol, and to the following C.H.O.A. Gilles and Jean. members who helped to make the evening possible: Mr. Les of the Gardens did it again. Harris, Mr. Roy Vetland, Mrs. They won an exhibition game last Thursday evening against the Gardens' Midget team. The score was 9-7.

At this time I would also like to tell you about the Squirts' assistant coach, Jim Lindsay. Here is a man who had never coached a team and knew very little about the game but he volunteered to help and ended up with a winning team. Like Coach Al Round, Jim is patient, yet understands his boys' needs. If there were more men like Jim who would lend a hand I'm sure a lot of hidden talent would manifest itself. Last week we talked of rewards from such a pastime as this. The greatest must be the feeling of knowing that you've tried something new and have been successful. Soon the softball season will be over and the hockey practices and games will be launched. When the call for volunteers is heard, why not give it a try?

Most members of the Chateaugay Home Owners' Association spent a very enjoyable evening at the Dow Brewery Reception Room on Thursday evening, August 8th. Mr. Larry Lefebvre, Dow's Master of Ceremonies, added to the fun with planned novelty dances in which the guests could participate. During the elimination dance, Mel Applebee tried his best to stay in the competition, but Jim Lindsay and his partner Mrs. Beverly Wedge of Chateaugay Centre were declared final winners.

The boys and girls of the Gardens district are excited over the plans for the Annual Field Day to be put on by the Ways and Means Committee of C.H.O.A. The day is especially designed to provide amusement and games for the young members of C.H.O.A., 12 years old and under. Prizes will be awarded to contest winners. Gifts will be distributed for the 5 year olds and under and, of course, refreshments will be served. All this will take place on Saturday, September 7th from 1-4 p.m. at the Langlois Rink Site.

Please keep in mind the following news item, too. On Sunday afternoon past, an emergency meeting of C.H.O.A. executives was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Vetland. Bill Soles, coach of the Chateaugay Dragons Baseball Team, was also an invited guest. The purpose of this meeting was to discuss and establish that our association support and co-sponsor a Softball Tournament with the Dragons' team. This tournament will take place on Saturday and Sunday, September 7th and 8th at Laberge Park. Keep your eye on this newspaper as I will keep you informed as more details are made available. This is a big week-end coming up, so keep it open and come out and support your local organizations.

There are three Boy Scouts in our area who have probably sworn off camping for a little while. Ross Murdoch, Patrol Leader, with Barry and Bruce Oliver attended the Scout Friendship Camporee in Malone, N.Y., held on August 2nd and 4th. The first day was pleasantly spent swimming, hiking, tracking and in pursuing various other interesting activities. A campfire was planned for the first evening, but threatening clouds made the boys a little less enthusiastic about this event. However, they did have the campfire but before long, the campers were as thus in danger when Hurricane force winds shelter-blasting is taking place.

The scouts' equipment and belongings were hurriedly hefted and so was the tent. The boys escaped uninjured but soaking wet. Other campers of course, provided shelter for our boys, whose tent was finally brought to rest up against a tree with everything inside topsy-turvy.

This was the third camping trip this summer for these boys and from all reports, it will be the last. Who can blame them? It certainly must have been a frightening experience.

Chinese Fried Rice — (Ch'ao Fan)
Heat pan, add 2 tablespoons oil, and fry 2 cups onions coarsely chopped, until brown. Add 2 cups cooked rice and sauté. Add a mixture of 2 eggs stirred slightly, 1 table spoon soy sauce, 1 teaspoon salt. Sauté until done. For variety add 2 cups chopped cooked meat (bacon, ham, shrimp, or left-overs) or green peppers, chopped, or peanuts shelled and roasted. Heat thoroughly. Serves 4 to 6.

Just as a note of interest I thought you might like to know how the Chinese cook rice — Wash 1 cup rice in cold water several times until the water poured off is clear. Add 1 1/2 cups cold water. Place in pot and cover. Boil over a hot fire until the water is evaporated. Do not stir while rice is boiling, otherwise rice will not stand out as separate grains. Keep warm until ready to serve with the cover on. One cup uncooked rice makes two cups of cooked rice.

Coffee Party
Mrs. Betty Quinn was the hostess for a very delightful Coffee Party held at her home on Wednesday morning, Aug. 7th, in aid of the Maplewood Presbyterian Church. Assisting were Mrs. Mary Muir, Mrs. Pat Roy, Mrs. Doris Campbell and Mrs. Barbara Gallagher. Mrs. Quinn wishes to thank all the ladies who attended and also a special thank you to her capable assistants. If any of you gals who attended are missing a white orlon cardigan with a Thistle of Nova Scotia label, kindly contact Mrs. Quinn and arrange to pick it up at her home.

The Molson Four Man Softball Team put on quite a display at St. Philomene ball park. Thursday, Aug. 8th, when they played against the Chateaugay Dragons scoring 8-2. No bit of soul searching take doubt those of you who attended this game will agree it was a "Spectacular Event." Many thanks to the Chateaugay Bakeries for their kind donation of bread and thank you Mrs. Barnabel, Mrs. Bozula, Mrs. Broomer, Mrs. Redmond, and Mrs. Lachapelle, who so willingly made up the sandwiches for the reception which was held after the ball game. (Thank you ladies.)

The Keep Fit Class which was mentioned in last week's column will be sponsored by "The Parkview Recreation, Ladies Auxiliary." (Apparently there was a little misunderstanding regarding this but now I think this will rectify matters.) Those of you who are interested in the above mentioned course, please get those letters out (or post cards) as soon as possible, the longer you delay doing this the longer we will have to wait to get started. You know, there's more to do than getting your names, when we do receive the approximate number of interested people we then have to make reservations for the school, also make definite arrangements with the Instructor, this all takes time. How disappointing it would be to find we waited too long and couldn't obtain the use of the school, and the Instructor had signed a contract elsewhere. As I mentioned last week let's get going. We need to have about 40 to 50 and I am sure we have that many here who are interested — am I right? Have received a few letters so keep them coming! One more thing I would like to mention and that is the cost of this course averages about 50 a week — a 24 week course $12. This is not in any way a profit making function... as a matter of fact we are (or will be) paying a certain amount. If I should decide to take this course I will be paying the same as you. If you wish to write me or phone me, my address is above and my phone number is 691-1580.

There are so many things we would like to do in the community, (by the word "WE" I mean you, your neighbour, all of us) I realize and so do you no doubt, that every new development goes through a certain amount of "growing pains" this is to be expected... it takes time. There's so much that can be done and must be done for the benefit of our community. We need parks for the little ones, a place for them to play in safely. We need a place where the older children can congregate, have their dances, take part in various inside sports, or learn handicrafts... such as painting, sewing, weaving, making wall plaques, wood work, etc. could go on and on, in fact there are 101 more things that could be done if we had the facilities.

Believe me, these are not "Pipe Dreams" eventually we will have these facilities to do the things mentioned. I get discouraged the same as you next one but I always remember my Dad often saying to me when I was a youngster, "Cheer up, things aren't always as bad as they seem, and remember, there's Always a Silver Lining." These few words have brought me comfort so often... He also believed in stressing the point that if we want something badly enough you work for it or work at it... this is part of my every day way of life. I portation for the players to and from the game so any of you fathers who are not busy that evening kindly call Mr. Watts at 692-9206 or Mr. Drake at 692-4295. The coaches are doing a wonderful job with our boys so let's all get behind them and show our appreciation for a job well done. Thanks to CFOX for publicizing our games. I hear there are so many more youngsters who want to play that a third financial assistance would come in and lend a helping hand.

Well that's all I have for you this week folks and in closing let me quote an ancient Chinese proverb, "If you rattle your chopsticks against the bowl, you and your descendants will always be poor."

On Saturday night I saw a good many of our local youngsters dancing and doing the "Lightening Rods." It was held on St. Aubin Street... and sponsored by the P.R.A. Auxiliary. The men of the P.R.A. certainly pitched in that night and gave a hand, they put up the P.A. system, spot lights, carried cases of soft drink, put up tables, and a number of other things. Could you imagine the women doing these things? The youngsters were so well behaved, no trouble at all, I had visualized little ones running all over my neighbours lawn and goodness knows what (this thought only occurred to me the afternoon of the dance). Seriously they were all a wonderful bunch and I only wish we could do this more often, they all enjoyed themselves so much. Of course there were prizes. The Spot Dance was won by Jim Ross and his partner Sidje Oolman, the younger group Spot Dance was won by Irene Smith and Charlene Myers. No doubt you all realize a dance isn't a dance unless there is a TWIST contest! So we classed these in various age groups. The winners in the primary, 7 years and under were Sandra Rennie and her partner David Thompson, Jr. 8 to 12; This was won by Amelia Agnew and her partner Allison Rowat. Sr. 13 yrs and over: winners were Deborah McEnroe and her partner Eric Pennell. Congratulations to all of you.

Don't forget the Corn Roast and Dance to be held soon. Where is all that local talent! Come on out of your shell and let yourselves be known. Anyone interested call me M. Myers 691-1580 and let's get together. Don't be "chicken." If it will make you feel better, I'll tune up my ukulele and try and join in. If I'm willing to give this thing a whirl, with my knowledge of music which is practically nil, surely you can do your part. We don't expect any of you to be professionals. Think of the enjoyment we can have. So how about it. M. M.

Linda Smith wishes to extend her sincere thanks to the girls on her softball team for their contributions they so willingly offered when asked if they would like to contribute towards a wreath for the late Pat Young. (I think you are a great bunch of girls, keep your heart where it is, you won't go far wrong?)

Congratulations to Eric Moyer of Beurling whose engagement is announced to Elizabeth Ann (Bonnie) Gillingham of Morin Heights, Que. The wedding to take place in the early fall. Best wishes from all of us.

Congratulations and best wishes are extended to Esther Jackson of Elgin Drive who will be united in marriage to Mr. Lee LeMay of Plattsburg, N.Y. The wedding to take place Saturday, August 17th, at 3:30 p.m. at St. Paul's United Church, Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Kuschling of Parkview, have returned home after spending their vacation at Chicago, Ill. Mrs. Brissemeister of Beurling has returned home after spending a holiday visiting her mother and sister also many friends in Heidelberg, Germany. "Absence makes the heart grow fonder" it did in this household. They were overjoyed with joy and excitement upon their arrival home — what a wonderful homecoming Mrs. Brissemeister must have received.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson of Cartier have their nephew Ronald Thompson staying with them for a while. Ronnie is from Clarenceville, Que. Hope you enjoy your vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Kennedy and family of St. Aubin St., returned home after spending a wonderful week at Cape Cod. They had a wonderful time — and do you know they only encountered 1, yes ONE day of rain. Can you imagine! All the rain we had here!

old Aug. 17th, happy birthday David, (thank you for helping us the other night). Birthday greetings are extended to Mrs. Taylor of Laurier, who celebrates her birthday, Aug. 18th.

Before I close my column for this week may I take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks to Chief Spinnard, of the Chateaugay Centre Police force for the co-operation and encouragement he gave us during the planning stages of our street dance. Thank you so very much.

Also to my many friends and neighbours on St. Aubin (the newcomers too) may I say a great big thank you for your kind co-operation and understanding when I came around to each one of you and asked your permission to put this dance on for the youngsters — thank you for the use of the outlets, some of you let us use your driveways — to you these things may seem very small — but by doing this you made it possible for those youngsters to enjoy themselves — thank you.

For laughs: Pop Kangaroo: "Have you seen our child anywhere dear?" Mom Kangaroo: "Help, Police, I've had my pocket picked!" "What ever happened to that man from the city you hired, while ago?" Huntingdon Fair Coming Up

ONCE again the time is coming around when Huntingdon Annual Fair will be held at the Fair Grounds in Huntingdon. This annual event is an important one as it provides an opportunity for town and country folk to test their skills in exhibition with each other. Being an Agricultural Fair it is primarily for the Country folk as it is their produce which fill show up to greater extent. This is particularly true where cattle, etc., is concerned.

As to the town folk, their contest will be in the Sewing, Cooking, Plants and Flowers, Vegetables and such like for they have these articles to show and try for the prizes.

The main thing is that the Fair is open to everyone, and the children can get in there too, if they wish. Certainly they will be there enjoying the midway, which by the way, this year, is catering especially to the children.

This being the case, Huntingdon Fair will provide something for all members of the family from town and country and provide a jolly old get-together. There is going to be fun at the Fair as well as the more serious side of showing off the prize animals. Two clowns will perform for the benefit of everyone each afternoon and evening and they should be able to keep everyone happy. There will be a chance for the children to show off their pets on Saturday afternoon, so this is an extra for the youngsters. A special stage show in the Arena on Saturday evening with a dance after the show will give a fitting windup to the three-day Fair. The dates August 29th, 30th and 31st.

On the evening of the first day, August 29th, the usual street parade will be held and in this connection entries are required for floats and such to make this another gala event. There is no doubt but what this parade does act as an excellent send-off for the Fair. The past few years the parade has been well presented and a number of excellent floats have made up the procession. It has been hard for the judges to reach decisions. It is hoped that this year's parade will be as good or even better than past years. So better get those entries in now as time is going on and the parade committee wants to know what to expect.

Exhibitors too should make up their minds, if they have not already done so, to enter early and to put in as many entries as possible. Don't forget, in order to enter, you must take out a membership so get this today and be sure of that. The Fair needs the support of everyone to be a success and there is no doubt that we can all support it in some way.

Call the secretary, Tom Brooks and he can give you all the information you need about the Fair. Do it now and don't wait until the last minute.

The Bridge To Be Completed About September Fifteenth

HUNTINGDON has been getting along without a bridge from Henderson Street across the Chateaugay River to Chateaugay Street for the summer months. While there has been some inconvenience and some traffic congestion at times, generally speaking it has not been as bad as was first supposed. The causeway built across the bed of the river for one-way traffic no doubt helped some, but this was not used to any great extent by traffic, at least, certainly not heavy traffic.

The bridge at Lorne Avenue came into greater use and has withstood the extra strain rather well considering it is no better a bridge than the one taken down at Henderson Street. No doubt in due course, this too will have to be replaced.

From the look of what has been completed to date of the new bridge, it should be a very imposing structure and one that will add much for our town. It has been needed for years now, due to the progress made and the amount of modern traffic. This bridge, leading as it does to Highway No. 52, is greatly used and by all types of traffic. The fact that it will be wider, will mean much in this factor. Previously it was almost impossible for two modern day vehicles to pass on the bridge, thus it was that one must wait on the other side until one had crossed. This will not be necessary when the new bridge is completed. It will be wide enough and to spare. A clearer view will be obtained at both approaches and especially when nearing Chateaugay Street. There is no doubt it will be much easier to get onto from Chateaugay Street from both directions due to the extra width. Here again this will be a great improvement. It is also possible that there will be less incline and this will be of great help during the winter season.

We shall all welcome the time when this bridge again becomes available for use and we shall welcome it with even greater enthusiasm because it will serve us much better in so many ways. It will add beauty to our town and be much neater, in addition to giving a clearer view in all directions. It should be less costly for upkeep.

There are still some doubts in the minds of some as to what will happen in the spring when the ice in the river breaks up and starts going out. Previously there had been no piers for the bridge, now there will be two and it is felt that these may cause an obstruction to the ice going out and this in turn will cause flooding. Well we had flooding this last spring such as had not been seen here for several years. By the time the bridge is completed, winter will not be long in arriving and then follows spring, so we shall not have to wait too long to get our answer.

Meanwhile let us enjoy the bridge when it opens and make the most of it. No doubt some special opening plans will be announced soon and some kind of program should be arranged as this is another important event in the progress of Huntingdon.

Compromise Can Work

CANADIANS have sent four minority governments to Ottawa in the 14 federal elections since the First World War. None has managed to last more than a year.

This has led some people to suggest that, as a nation, we lack the instinct for compromise needed to carry on for long with a government lacking a majority.

These same people like to point to some European countries where a clear majority for one party is unheard of, but where there through subtle negotiation minority governments are able to prolong their life for several years.

At the 56-day session just ended in Ottawa, the House of Commons approved creation of a department of industry which will help manufacturers open new plants and improve their products.

It created a $400,000,000 fund to provide low-interest loans to municipalities, and set up a $100,000,000 fund for the Atlantic Development Board which will concentrate on stimulating economic growth in the four eastern provinces.

It set up a 28-member economic council to work as a sort of super braintrust in plotting the course of future national economic development.

It also agreed to increase the salaries of MPs and Senators, and managed to find a way of turning over to the Senate full responsibility for the embarrassing matter of handling Quebec and Newfoundland divorces.

Possibly it is premature to draw any conclusions from this first session, and there is inevitable disagreement over how much it contributed to the solution of our problems.

But it seems reasonably clear that, whether we approve of the legislation, the Commons has shown that it can make the compromises necessary to continue the life of the government.

Of course, politicians are aware that many Canadians are tired of elections after two in 12 months and that anyone who forces a new vote now might be harshly dealt with by the voters.

But, even if some members of opposition parties are afraid of another election now, it still requires a degree of will to resist the temptation to go back to the people for another try.

Whatever the reason, there was compromise.

SUGAR and SPICE

By Bill Smiley

If you hear any rude noises while you're reading this column, pay no attention. It will merely be my stomach trying to remind me that I am not the Emperor Nero.

For the past couple of weeks, I've been trying to convince the old grocery-chute, through one orgy after another, that it could handle anything I chose to throw into it; half-raw steak on top of skunky beer, raspberries and ice cream on top of gin and lemon.

All I'm trying to say is that we poor people simply because we have some summer holidays, shouldn't start acting as though life were just a gay, mad whirl, a big bowl of caeviar. It's more like a blind stager, a bowl of cornflakes.

As our most recent carload of old-friend visitors fades into the exhaust fumes, and I wave a shaky farewell, I can't help thinking nostalgically of those good old days when I was a weekly editor, and had one week's vacation a year. Everything was so simple. You went to the editions annual convention, tottered home looking and feeling like a skeleton, and went happily back to work for another fifty-one weeks.

Now that I have those longer holidays that used to look so golden, I realize that man is a creature of toil, and is happier and better when he has his nose to the old grindstone, his shoulder to the foot planted ecstatically in that good, old familiar rut.

Lengthy summer holidays, and I say it with deliberation, are a menace to health, wealth, morale and marriage.

Take health. When my holidays began, I was in good shape. Just the usual smoker's back, crooked knee, touch of bursitis in the shoulder, and aching back. But clear of mind, steady of nerve. Today, I'm a wreck. My sunburn is peeling, my stomach is snarling like a scalded cat, and every time a car stops outside our place I run and hide in the attic.

My wife is in even worse condition. When holidays began, she was pale but perky. Today, she is brown on the outside, but a whimpering shadow within. And no wonder. Just the other day, for example, she was about to step from a dock onto the deck of a millionaire's cruiser. The gentleman, who can run eight companies with one hand behind him, can't run his boat. As she stepped, he put it in reverse, by accident.

And there was the Old Girl with only ten feet of air between her and fourteen feet of water. It was like one of those cartoon comedies in which the hero runs off the edge of a cliff and keeps running in the air for a second until he looks down. I might add that she didn't have her swimming attire on.

She'll never be the same girl. On the way to her watery welcome, she hit the dock a couple of good ones, losing about a foot of skin off her arm, and picking up a bruise on her nice tanned leg the size of a grapefruit and, next day, the color of a baboon's bottom. She's off millionaire boat drivers for life.

Take wealth. When we began these holidays, I had two months' salary to put me through the summer. At the end of one month, I had no month's salary and a session with the bank manager.

It seems that when you're working, you can't spend money. When you're not, you can't. Most people save up for their holidays and blow the lot on a glorious two weeks doing something, or staying somewhere, they can't afford. Try doing this for two months.

Take morale. Frankly after six weeks off the job, I have become a total slob. It rhymes, but it doesn't reason. My total accomplishment, on projects around the house, has been the erection of a twenty-foot clothes-line. The book I was going to write this summer has turned into a comic book. My wife laughs every time I mention it. Children imitate. When the kids see their old man lolling in a lawn chair looking at the trees, they lie down on the uncut lawn and do the same.

As for marriage, you can take it, too. Lengthy holidays put more strain on a solid marriage than drink, gambling or other women. I won't go into details. But lady, how would you like to run a motel without rates with one hand and try to direct a lazy, unshaven brute with the other? Dad, how would you like two months of togetherness with the old battleaxe? I leave it to your imagination.

If this is what a long holiday is like, I sure hope I die before I retire.

Provincial Capital Report

QUEBEC (CP) A minor Cabinet shuffle has given Quebec a new Minister of Revenue and realigned three other portfolios.

The new Minister is Eric W. Kierans, former president of the Montreal and Canadian Stock Exchanges, who is Liberal candidate at a byelection Sept. 25 in Montreal Notre-Dame-de-Grace.

The other changes: Georges Lapalme has given up his post as Attorney-General to give his full time to his other portfolio of Cultural Affairs.

Rene Hamel, Labor Minister since 1960 becomes Attorney General. Carrier Fortin Minister without portfolio since 1962, becomes Labor Minister.

The changes were announced by Premier Lesage, who also called a special session of the Quebec Legislature Aug. 21 to set up the administrative machinery to process Provincially Federal loans to municipalities.

Mr. Lesage said he expects the special session may take two days, but he disclosed no details of the proposed legislation.

In one of his last acts as Attorney-General, Mr. Lapalme said the Government will ask the Quebec court of appeal — to rule on the legality of magistrate's court.

Mr. Lapalme said the legality of the court, which has 60 judges in the Province, has been questioned in legal circles for a number of years.

Meanwhile, Youth Minister Paul-Guerrin Lajoie has been touring the Gaspé Peninsula, talking to people concerned with its arguments in favor of setting up a Provincial Department of Education headed by a Cabinet Minister.

A Bill to set up the Department was introduced at the last session of the Legislature but was withdrawn temporarily to give time to interested bodies to study the Bill and propose specific amendments. Deadline for submitting amendments is Sept. 1.

At Ste. Anne-des-Monts, Mr. Gerin-Lajoie said a student taking a technical course must be considered the equal of a student in a classical college, not inferior to him.

"Trade Courses", he said, "are not for those who can't do anything else. A real trade course is for youngsters with technical aptitudes.

"We must get it out of our heads that some courses are for a certain class of people. All courses must be available to every boy and every girl in the Gaspé, and elsewhere in the Province of Quebec."

At Gaspé Village, Mr. Gerin-Lajoie said the proposed Education Bill will guarantee the religious characters of Quebec schools and will maintain both the Roman Catholic and Protestant school systems.

The French-language Roman Catholic majority would maintain the guarantees now held by minority groups in the Province.

He estimated that in the Gaspé a total of $18,000,000 would be spent in the next four years to expand the educational system at all levels.

Speaking to another group at Chandler, he said that French-speaking Canadians can play a top-rank role in the scientific and technical development of North America.

He told a group of Protestant

Curling Trophies Donated
A grand sporting event was witnessed at the Huntingdon Chateau on Monday evening when the district curlers were the recipients of one of the finest gold cups, Mr. W. Earl Moffat, of Providence, R.I., a former Ormstown resident and a frequent visitor in the Chateaugay Valley is himself a most active curler and does all he can to create more interest in the popular winter sport. On his arrival here this summer Mr. Moffat stated that he had a cup to offer the district curlers and another for the Ormstown curlers.

Although the temperature had reached a high level on Monday, it did not keep very many of the active curlers from attending this gathering at the Chateau. Riverfield, Ormstown, Huntingdon, English River, Aubrey and other curlers were present and greatly appreciated Mr. Moffat's donations. Dr. M.R. Stalker, president of the Ormstown Curlers, thanked Mr. Moffat for his donations and felt sure the trophies would create much interest in the local and district games.

Judicial Reports
There is recorded in detail in the Superior Court Judicial Reports of the Province of Quebec for the months of July and August a case in which Eric C. Martin of Huntingdon was the successful plaintiff. In these reports are only cases of unusual interest in the annals of law in the Province of Quebec and ones which set more or less of a precedent. In view of this fact there is an honour attached to the appearance of this case in the Superior Court Judicial Reports.

Original Land Title Sought
The Municipality of Dundee was formed in 1855. At this time the farmers paid an Indian land lease on the Oliver Durocher and the Municipality of Dundee extinguished the Indian title by paying $50,000 for the land, the valuation of which was set by valuers whom the Municipality decreed that the best bid paid $50,000 to extinguish the Indian Rights on acre and the poorer land in the whole district.

Report From Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) Members of the Commons and Senate are enjoying a two-month summer recess after sweating through the 56 days of the first session of the new Parliament. But this doesn't apply to Prime Minister Pearson and most of his cabinet.

They remain about as busy as during the session that was marked by unusually tense debate, long and bitter for a post-election session.

Issues which must be determined by the cabinet during the recess lasting until Sept. 30 are controversial and explosive. They include the preparation of legislation to impose government trusteeship on five maritime trade unions, Canadian acquisition of nuclear arms from the United States, the government's contributory pension plan, federal relations with the provinces and Canadian-American agreement on the long-delayed Columbia River power development.

Prime Minister Pearson told reporters following a cabinet meeting: "I don't think any government ever faced a forthcoming session of Parliament with more problems to deal with, economic and every-accordance with that price. A rate was then levied on the farmers of the Municipality to cover the sum of $50,000 over a period of 20 years.

Recently Mr. A. Leblanc sought a loan from the Provincial Farm Credit Bureau in order to qualify he had to produce a clear title to his land. It now appears that there is no record of his land having been purchased in the beginning of the Department of Indian Affairs.

A delegation composed of Messrs. Albert Fraser and Oliver Durocher will endeavour to remind the Department of Mines and Resources that Mr. Leblanc should automatically have his original title because the Municipality decreed that the best bid paid $50,000 to extinguish the Indian Rights on acre and the poorer land in the whole district.

other kind."

Much Work Done
During the 56 days of the session Parliament approved 13 government pieces of legislation, including seven relatively important bills. It also approved 24 private bills, including one to streamline Parliament's divorce machinery, and set up committees to inquire into defence policy, drug prices and safety, and election laws.

Most of the economic measures outlined in the speech from the throne were approved including the contentious 11-per cent sales tax on building materials and production machinery. This was scaled down to start at four per cent.

Other legislation passed during the session provided for:
1. A new department of industry to assist manufacturers in opening new plants, increasing efficiency and improving design of their products. The department will recommend special programs of aid for high-employment areas.

2. Establishment of a 29-member Economic Council of Canada to report on long-term trends in the economy and to plan corrective measures.

3. Creation of a Municipal Development and Loan Board with a $400,000,000 capital fund to be used for low-interest loans to municipalities on large works projects with a high labour content.

4. A $100,000,000 fund for the Atlantic Development Board, which will recommend special projects and programs to develop the Atlantic Provinces.

Also passed was a bill to increase MP's annual pay to $18,000 from $16,000 and to $15,000 from $14,000. All federally-appointed must be reached by both judges received salary boosts, countries on all aspects of the range from $4,100 to $3,000, multi-million-dollar project.

A private member's bill to streamline divorce procedure. American negotiations will be perhaps the most unexpected accomplishment of the session. Once these were made by the judicial officer of the Senate U.S. for Canada's share of the to hear divorce cases from power to be generated down Quebec and Newfoundland stream by American power the only provinces without plants.

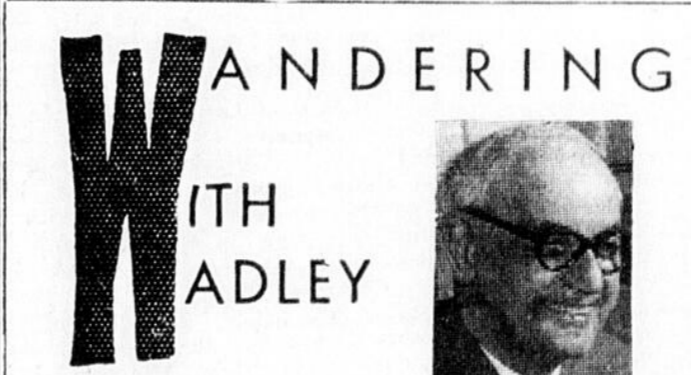

A special committee has been established by the cabinet to develop machinery for collective bargaining between the government and its employees.

During the week Mr. Pearson and Opposition Leader John Diefenbaker exchanged sharp words over the explosive shipping situation.

Mr. Diefenbaker blamed the government for endangering member committee that will have the job of drafting the laying action to put unions blueprint for bargaining machinery under trusteeship. He also described president Hal Banks, Prime Minister Pearson said of the Seafarers International Union (and) as a friend of the to establish in the public Liberal party.

"We should not have ad collective bargaining and arbitration without action on the

WANDERING WITH ADLEY

I am now running out of relatives and have just reached the last of them, my sister Alice and her two daughters Ethel and Dorothy. You may have noticed the frequency with which I mention the name of Dorothy. Well, it is just because I am somewhat plagued with them whichever way I turn and I have another one to face immediately when I get back home.

Sister Alice is a few years older than I am, lively as an almost repulsively long memory. It has been nothing but a succession of "Do you remember" ever since I got here and most of the "remembers" revolve around my many childhood misdemeanors. I do wish that they would recall, with equal clarity, the many, many times when I was such a good little boy.

It took me some time to notice it and even then I had to be prodded before I became aware of the almost complete absence of the old and familiar iron railings which, in times gone by, lined the streets of England. It turned out that they had all been taken down melted and used again in school officials at New Carlisle that the Roman Catholic and Protestant school systems have been too far apart in the past.

"I would perhaps go as far as to say that the two systems do not know one another," he said, adding that the Royal Commission on Education had recommended more co-operation between them.

"But, while seeking closed co-operation, the commission made it very clear that it did not intend complete integration."

nitions of one kind or another during the war.

The scars left by the bombing of London and the large area surrounding it are gradually being healed by the erection of new buildings and many large blocks of attractive-looking apartments. These latter are, for the most part, erected by the local councils and rented by them to families who were bombed out during the war and to others who are being moved from so-called slum or overcrowded areas. These areas will, in turn, be razed and re-developed by the building of more blocks of apartments. The amount of new buildings in progress, both commercial and dwelling, is really amazing and, to those misinformed people who might have gathered that old England is on the way out, let me say that, from what I have been able to see nothing could be further from the truth.

For several years I have been claiming that the so-called lamb imported into Canada from another Commonwealth country is not lamb at all but is really a more mature and tougher meat generally called mutton. I venture to say that if you ask your butcher for mutton he will tell you that he sells nothing but lamb. Both he and you are misled. Since I came to England I have not seen mutton but in every butcher shop I see hanging up, nice, juicy, pink and light weight shoulders and legs of real lamb, both English and imported. They are little more than half the weight and far more tender than the stuff we get and so, when I get back, I am going to make life miserable for somebody. In fact, I have already written to the boss of one of our grocery shops to ask him to stop selling mutton and to start selling lamb.

Betty Cairncross Recounts Her Recent 4-H Club Experiences

Following is an account of the experiences of Miss Betty Cairncross of Howick, who was one of the 4-H Club members who went on the recent exchange plan. She went to Lindsay, Ont. and here is her story of the trip.

I left from Dorval Airport on Tuesday, July 9. Arrived in Toronto, where the Agriculture Representative for Lindsay and the girl I was to stay with, met me. We drove to Lindsay, where the home of James E. Graham. In this district there were all Holsteins and some farmers kept pigs. There were no Ayrshire cattle at all.

The first host family there was a girl 18, who is going to Guelph this fall, and a boy 20, who was President of Kawartha Junior Farmers. Eleanor took me to different farms to see 4-H Club calves. The farms are much the same as in our community but they ship their milk by bulk truck. The principal of Lindsay Collegiate Institute took Eleanor and I on a tour of the largest and best equipped school I have even seen. While I was in Lindsay, there was a Junior Farmers' Square Dance Competition.

One afternoon we went to the farm of George McLaughlin, who was judge of the Holsteins at Ormstown Exhibition this year.

By Tuesday I was situated in another home, about 12 miles from Lindsay, that of Ivan Anderson. There were two girls, one 15 and one 20, who was in 2nd year Home Economics at Guelph College. She took me to Guelph one day and showed me the college.

On the weekend the Andersons took me to a friend's cottage on one of the lakes around Parry Sound.

I would like to thank all those who helped make this trip a success. The Royal Bank of Canada and The Agronomes.

I had a wonderful time and I hope the plan continues so that other members may get to see the provinces.

in said paper. Complaint was lodged about beagle dogs owned by people who reside in Valleyfield during the week but keep their dogs in Elgin all the time. Dogs are fed once or twice a week but appear lonesome and annoy neighbours at night by barking. This doesn't seem fair that the owners leave for Valleyfield and are able to get their sleep while the neighbours here are kept awake by barking dogs. The board discussed same and suggested that a petition be drawn up and signed by as many neighbours as are bothered by the dogs and are interested in declaring said dogs nuisances.

Massena - Ogdensburg - Syracuse Airplane Taxi Service Inaugurated Monday, July 15th

Scheduled airplane taxi service between Massena, Ogdensburg and Syracuse was established Monday, July 15th.

Stanley E. Britain, President of the newly formed UpState Airways Inc., reports that a twin engine Aero Commander Aircraft will be used.

Three round trips Monday through Friday between Massena, Ogdensburg and Syracuse are scheduled by UpState Airways. Charter services, Seaway air cruises and air ambulance services will also be offered.

"Scheduled air taxi service or third level airline service, while a new concept in this area, has been expanding at a rapid rate throughout the United States," Mr. Britain said. "Latest statistics show 18 companies currently operating successfully. Scheduled air taxi services are designed to complement and connect to scheduled airline services, are of equal importance to the people in the big cities as to the businessman in the smaller communities," Mr. Britain pointed out.

"Need for commuter-type air service is becoming much greater because of the decentralization of industry into the smaller communities. Areas without such air service have stagnated as big business is reluctant, despite inducements of other types, to locate or expand in areas without fast, convenient air services available. UpState's role is to provide the fast, convenient local service between the Seaway Valley and Syracuse to connect to Mohawk's regional services, and American and Eastern Airlines trunk services."

Mr. Britain pointed out that UpState is interested in expanding service to other communities in the Seaway Valley, citing Potsdam as a possible stop because of the rapid expansion of educational and commercial business in that village. Prior to inaugurating such service, it will be necessary to make certain improvements to the existing airport so that reliable service can become a reality. Other operating personnel of UpState includes Emerson E. Cheeseman, Vice-President; Donald T. Mageean, Chief Pilot; Douglas Raven, Director of Maintenance.

This group has an aggregate of 75 years of aviation experience.

Serving in the U.S. Air Corps from 1944 to 1946, Mr. Britain joined the John Robillard Flying Service at Ogdensburg as soon as he returned from military service. In 1947, he joined the Stewart Flying Service in Massena. He became the fixed base operator and airport manager in Massena in 1956. Professor Higgins, a character in "My Fair Lady" whose knowledge of dialects was such that he could tell within a quarter of a mile where a man lived by listening to him talk, and who taught his star pupil, Eliza, to pronounce correctly "The rain in Spain falls mainly on the plain", is a man we would like to have known. A specialist in accents, pronunciation and vernacular, he might have answered questions that have plagued us for a long time.

Why has any language so many different dialects and pronunciations, depending upon where a person lives. Is this due to geography, and if so why? Or environment, or whether or not a man is born to a certain class, or what? Take the letter R for instance. Why do westerners in Canada and the United States sound their Rs as though they were made of rocks, and easterners, residing along the Atlantic seaboard especially around Boston, never use them at all? And what makes a Scot manipulate the letter like the roll on a drum?

When we first came to live in Canada, the sounds of certain words, pronounced differently to what we were accustomed, didn't exactly jar our ears, but they certainly made them tingle. Never for a moment, did we presume that our pronunciation was correct (for who can dare say one man's speech is right and the other fellow's wrong?), but when Canadians pronounce the second A in "garage" and "jamas" like the A in "cat" we can't help remarking on it. Another thing, Canadians seem to have a fondness for the letter U. They say the words "film" and "elm" as "fium" and "elum". Here, in the Valley, we love to hear people say "food"; it sounds like "fould" as in "could" and "Merrill" and "barrel" comes out "Merl" and "barl".

No, we have no quarrel (or is it quar?) with how a person chooses to speak. What is annoying, however, it is to run into a blind alley, as it were, by a pronunciation new to us, like the time, in London, when we were directed to Beecham Street. At least, that is what it sounded like on the telephone when an English friend invited us to her flat for tea. Half the afternoon was spent retracing our steps along King'sbridge and a dozen side streets in a vain attempt to track down Beecham. Finally we dug out the road map with a rare display of canniness born of desperation, we hit on the idea of singling out a street, the only one beginning with the letter B. The sign post read Beauchamps Street. "Beaucham" was found, at last! Later, over a cup of tea, we had a good laugh with our friend and discussed such words as Worcester, Marjorie, banks and Chomondeley, and asked each other how they ever came to be called Woster, Marshbanks and Chumly. A few summers ago, we were motoring to Toronto on Route 401. It was west of Kingston where a segment of the new road was still under construction and traffic was rerouted to the old highway, when we had another experience, similar to the one in London. Traveling alone with no "navigator" to assist us and the setting sun making it difficult to watch for oncoming signs, we began to have doubts as to whether or not we had missed the turn back to the new road. There was only one way to find out, and we pulled up to the next gas station.

"Where is the turn for 401?" we asked a fourteen-year old youth whose oral cavities were stuffed with gum and adenoids. "Mileprode," he said. "Pardon?" "Mileprode," he repeated, and pointed in the direction streets in a vain attempt to track down Beecham. Finally we dug out the road map

Summer School For United Church Women

Several ladies from this area are expected to be in attendance when the Summer School for United Church Women opens on August 20, at Macdonald College. This will be the second Summer School held by the Montreal-Ottawa Conference United Church Women.

Her main address will be "Concerns of United Church Women". Mrs. S. Ralph Collins, who spent much of her active church life in Africa, will lead the Bible Study. Rev. R. Douglas Smith, B.A., B.D., D.D., Chairman of the Board of Home Missions of the United Church of Canada will speak Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Arthur Midgley, B.A., will lead the Music and Drama. Mrs. R. Douglas Smith, president of the Montreal Presbyterian United Church Women will moderate a panel discussion. Others on the staff are Past Dean, Mrs. B. K. Wasson, Dean-Mrs. J. M. Harrington, Associate Dean-Mrs. A. Stewart Allen; Business Manager-Mrs. E. C. Knowles; Literature-Mrs. T. E. Carnochan; Hostesses are Mrs. F. D. Shonkwiler and Mrs. A. S. Allen.

The Summer School will start with registration at 1:30 p.m. in Stewart Hall of Macdonald College. Registrar is Mrs. J. K. Brady, 1700 Russett Road, Elmwood Acres, Ottawa 8. The ladies of the United Church Women of United Church, Ste Anne de from the glove compartment. There was no Mileprode. The boy's arm, however, had indicated that we hadn't missed the turn, so we thanked him and drove off. Another mile and we saw the familiar green and white sign with the arrow pointing to 401. The mystery was solved. What we had understood as Mileprode was really "mile up the road!"

This experience reminds us of another story which, while it doesn't exactly fit the category we are discussing, is so closely related to it that we think it sufficient reason to record. A friend, motoring through Maine, one summer, became lost and stopped at a small roadside restaurant to inquire the way. A middle-aged woman, her hair slicked in a tight wad at the back of her head, came out to the car. "You go on a piece," she explained, "till you come to the first road (pronounced fust rud) going to the left. Got that? Well, count that as nuthin' and take the next right." Like all good Maine folk, she gave more than she was asked for!

To return to the subject. We wonder how Professor Higgins would explain the slow, honey talk, peculiar to the southerner. Would he point out that the famous southern drawl reflects the leisurely, lazy life necessary in a warm climate, or would he say the reason was due to an ability to imitate English, as spoken by the negroes — the thousands of Africans imported to the southern states during the 18th and 19th centuries? And what about a certain breed of New Yorker who has a date to meet his "goil, Poil" at the corner of "toityoid" street? A liking for "ois"; he has no difficulty until his car needs a quart of oil when he'll settle for "erl" every time. Let's have the answer to that one, P.H.I.

If there are any Professor Higginses among our readers who can answer some or all of the questions we've set down we would be most pleased to hear from them. Meanwhile, enough of these question marks — it is high time to rejoice Elza and brush up on "The rain in Spain falls mainly on the plain."

Wandering With Wadley

chains about it. And, before I forget it, the price paid by the consumer here for lamb is no more, if as much, as we pay for the more leathery article.

As you are, no doubt, well aware, a scandal, both political and moral, has erupted here in England and during the past few weeks. The daily newspapers have had a field day and they are getting the last ounce out of the daily court proceedings dealing with the somewhat immoral goings-on of some prominent public figures. On the home-going commuter trains everyone's eyes are glued to the pages which record the day's proceedings in court and there are bulging eyes as they hit the juicier bits. I would not be the least surprised if I heard of some of the commuters overshooting their destinations through being so absorbed in their reading.

Memories of the war constantly crop up as I move around and just a few minutes ago my sister remarked, just in passing, that at one period of the war when the bombs and rockets were falling thick and fast, they did not have a single piece of glass in their windows for a year and ten months. Just imagine! The windows were covered with brown paper, one section of which was made semi-transparent in some manner in order to let in a little light. And all their neighbours were in exactly the same plight for the same length of time. "Of course" she said "we were lucky. The people in the houses two blocks away were blown to pieces." This family had a billiard table in their front room and they slept under that every night while the raids were on.

This sister Alice, who has just celebrated her 70th birthday is nothing if not fort-right in her observations and questions and asked me, after she had read some of my earlier contributions to The Gleaner: "Do they pay you for this?" This will make Keith blush to the roots of his hair.

Yesterday, as part of her birthday celebration, we were driven by her son Alfred (about 60 or thereabouts) to visit her daughter Molly at their farm at Elham, Kent. It was a lovely day after a few early showers, the countryside was beautiful and, on one stretch of the road, Alf got up to a speed of 90 M.P.H. I was rapidly developing heart trouble both from personal fear and from whatever bad effect it might have on my sister. It was all wasted because she did not turn a hair. On the way down we stopped for lunch at a village pub known as the King's Head. It was built in the 1500s and looks it. And this will floor you. My sister and I rather fancied tea instead of coffee for after lunch and, to our amazement, that request was met with flat refusal on the grounds that tea was never, repeat never, served on the premises. And this, mind you, in England! No wonder the place is going to the dogs.

Talking of the 1500s, it seems to me that every place I visit was built in the 1500s or thereabouts and that there has been no construction of note ever since that time. Any building less than one hundred years old is not as yet, so to speak, dry behind its ears and is, therefore completely ignored. And so, when I mention that back home in Montreal, there is great deal of fuss made, if they try to pull down a hundred year old building, they look at me as if I were entirely bereft of my senses.

It will all have happened long before you read this but my brother George is in for a shock when I return to his home tonight. You will remember that he is the bloke who within five minutes of my arrival at Waterloo Station, asked me how long I was going to stay. Well, he will have good cause to ask me again tonight for (I can see the abject look of misery on his face now) it may be for more than a week. Fortunately his wife Jean is more able to hide her true feelings and I can butter her up a bit by carrying her groceries home when we have done our morning shopping. Let me enlarge on that subject for a little while. Although so called "Super Markets" are being developed they are, as yet, but small counterparts of

McClatchie - Caldwell Wedding At Huntingdon

The marriage of Millie Dorothy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth A. Caldwell of Huntingdon, Que., to Mr. Kenneth Arthur McClatchie, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. McClatchie of Huntingdon, Que., took place on Saturday, August 3rd, 1963, at 2:30 o'clock in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Huntingdon, the Rev. William E. Black officiating.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. Ethel Smellie, "The Lord's Prayer" and "Perfect Love" during the signing of the register. Baskets of white hydrangeas, summer garden flowers arranged with greenery, and candles in candelabra were used to decorate the church.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was in a floor-length gown of bridal white Capri nylon chiffon over taffeta, fashioned with a fitted bodice having a portrait neckline and sleeves ending in points over the hands, the bouffant skirt having inserts of Alencon lace and cup sequins. Her shoulder-length veil of tulle illuminated was held in place by a circlet of seed pearls and crystals and she carried a cascade bouquet of American Beauty roses. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Miss Shirley Caldwell, maid of honor for her sister, Miss Judy Graham, and Miss Judy Caldwell, sister of the bride, as bridesmaids, wore in matching waltz length frocks of aquamarine nylon chiffon over taffeta, fashioned with fitted bodices, having scoop necklines and sheer elbow length sleeves, full skirts applique with roses of the same shade at our enormous stores. Most of the butchers, bakers, grocers, fishmongers and the like are still individually owned and the British housewife can, in most cases, go just around the corner to do her day to day shopping. And so the pavements (sidewalks to you) are thronged with the ladies, their prams, their children and their shopping carts. They have a fine old time shopping and snapping the latest bits of gossip and only break it up when they realize they must dash home and put the tea kettle on once again.

To my amazement and gratification, my brother George has been most genial and hospitable on this return visit of mine. Only once has he casually asked as to the anticipated length of my stay. Just one more instance of the display of British phlegm the face of adversity or frustration or both.

Tomorrow I move on once again, this time to have a long week-end with friends in Kent. Bob Mallory, my host, was one of the shining lights of the British Army Staff in Ottawa during some of the war years and was a constant and welcome visitor to our apartment at that time. Since then he has been seen in most parts of the world where British troops are still stationed and has acquired both high rank and the O.B.E. in the process.

For a whole week after that I am going to get lost in London. Apart from knowing where I will be staying, my family has no knowledge of what I will be doing and I intend to keep them in the dark. It is quite possible that some of my activities will not be recovered in this paper but will be reserved for recalling at stag parties and the like. It is almost needless to say that I fully expect to be closely and persistently queried by my family when I emerge from this self imposed "retreat" but I will resist all their pumpings to the bitter end.

A Visit To The Land Formerly Owned By Henry Coulter of Hinchinbrook County

Today in Sarah Coulter's chair I sat and, quietly rocking there, I journeyed backward to the day When Grandpa Harry came to stay Within the rough Canadian woods Forsaking Northern Ireland's moors. His daughter Hannah and John, her brother Had lands assigned each by the other Well back from Dundee's easy shore. They crossed the level valley's floor And in the foothills Appalachian They found, by freedom's inspiration, Mid limestone rocks, some stoney soil That could be cleared by daily toil For planted wheat and corn a-plenty To feed ten children; nay, 'twas twenty. For John and Hannah each did marry To spread the tree of Grandpa Harry.

Outside the room wherein I sit I see a raven blackly flit With spreading wings and croaking cries. The swallows balance on the wires Awaiting signs that flight implies. Though August heat suggests the fires Of mating youth as in the Past, But change will come and now at last Of Sarah's brothers none remain, I pen these lines to make it plain, And love of land has had its day — Their children all have moved away — And whip-poor-will may hold his sound As twilight closes o'er the ground Where Clear Brook murmured neath the stringers Once hoisted hard by Coulter fingers. Its branches lopped, its trunk decayed, The tree has fallen in the glade.

A Family Re-Union

HEMINGFORD — A happy family re-union, celebrating the meeting of sixty-four members of the Fern's family, took place on Friday evening, August 9th. It was originally planned to hold a picnic supper at Lake Hermas, but the continuous downpour of heavy rain all evening drove everyone indoors to the comfort of the United Church Hall. Here tables were set up, picnic baskets unpacked and the large "family" settled down to a pleasant evening of, in several cases, getting acquainted. The idea was first thought of when Mr. Randall Cleland, with his wife and family, came to spend a week's vacation with his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cleland of Montreal, who are staying in the village for the summer months. Randall, who hails from Rochester, N.Y. had met very few of his relations, and it just so happened that other members of the family from Los Angeles were also here on holiday. So the invitations were rapidly sent out and grandchildren and great-grandchildren of Robert Ferns, who farmed on Route 52, west of the village, came from Mooers, Ormstown, Franklin Centre, Montreal, Rochester, and Los Angeles. From Hemmingford came Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barr and family, Mrs. Celia Edwards and family, Mr. Fernie Beattie and family. Everyone agreed it had been an excellent idea and all had an enjoyable time.

A Birthday Tea

On Friday afternoon, August 2nd, the United Church Women of Wesley-Knox Church held a very successful Birthday Tea at the home of Mrs. A. L. Stewart and Miss Winifred Stewart. More than thirty guests and members were welcomed by the President, Mrs. Stewart, who, when for our benefit. There are not too many who appreciate the show. There was not a lot of damage done on the Gore. Mrs. Matt Gilligan's house was struck in one of the first storms. The door was blown completely off the refrigerator, the curtains and several plastic items were ruined, fortunately, the fire did not start on anything that might have smoldered and eventually caused a fire and real damage. On Tuesday night past the lightning made a direct hit near Nelson Anderson's home and the little black goat, Lucy, who had taken shelter near a fence was killed. While this is not a great financial loss, it is a sad one, for Lucy was a friendly, affectionate little creature and the children will miss her very much.

Shower in Honour of Martha Morin

HOWICK — Mrs. H. Birchmore and Mrs. N. Fletcher were joint hostesses at a miscellaneous shower given in honour of Miss Martha Morin of Lacolle, at the home of Mrs. Jean Fletcher, on Thursday evening.

After opening many useful gifts, the bride-to-be thanked everyone for their kindness and good wishes extended to her. Games were played and refreshments served while a social hour was enjoyed. Mrs. A. Morin and Mrs. W. Watson poured tea and coffee.

Mr. and Mrs. Emus Patenaude entertained last Sunday in honour of Mrs. Alex Patenaude, Havelock, who was celebrating her 79th birthday. Dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Patenaude, Miss Jeanne Patenaude, Mr. Regis De nault, Miss Lauree Patenaude, Mr. Lorenzo Patenaude, Miss Suzanne Patenaude from Havelock and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Patenaude, Aubrey.

Pupils from Grades 5-8 at the French Schools had a wonderful afternoon last Tuesday when they went on a sight seeing tour and picnic arranged by teachers Mrs. E. Patenaude and Mrs. Marcel Lemieux. At 1.30 about 40 young people boarded Mr. Slewin's bus and they were on their way. First to the Paul Sauvé Centre for a swim at the Maurice Richard Arena. Then a tour of St. Joseph's Oratory which proved to be most interesting and many things will be remembered. After such a busy afternoon they were ready to enjoy lunch around the picnic tables provided at the Oratory, before starting the return trip.

That same day a group of 45 Grade 9-11 students from Howick, who attend school at Ste. Martine, went by Provincial bus to the Oratory, leaving at 6.30 p.m. and returning at midnight. They viewed the many interesting sights and attended mass. This tour has been arranged annually for the past 35 years by Mrs. Adol phe Bourcier, except last year when she was in the hospital. We are sure the young people appreciate Mrs. Bourcier's kindness.

Howick Ladies' Curling Club served refreshments at the Field Day and Cattle Sale held at Burnside Farms on Saturday. Mrs. Stella Gourley con- venter of the entertainers' committee for the 1963-64 season, had a sort of preview on a big scale of what awaits her when the curling season opens. Over 300 had lunch and the sale of sandwiches, doughnuts, coffee and soft drinks continued during the afternoon when many more came for the sale. Ice cream was donated by the Ness family.

The ladies had a busy day preparing sandwiches and serving together between seasons. The ladies were glad to know they had cleared well over $125.00. Traffic was heavy on Tul lochgonum Rd., with a wedding (Miss Bilette) and sale on the same day.

Miss Laura Robertson spent an enjoyable holiday at Cranberry Lake, N.Y.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Ness spent an enjoyable 10 days visiting their daughter at Toronto and Barrie, Ont. They motored home with Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Warnica, who were overnight guests, before going on to Prince Edward Island where Mr. Warnica was judging cattle.

Mrs. Jim Watson and son Bruce of Cornwallis, N.S., spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm Brown.

The electric storm about noon on Sunday caused considerable damage in the Village. The main pump at the Water Works went out of action and was taken to Montreal by Bill Brown as soon as possible. It was 11.30 p.m. before the damage could be determined so Mr. Brown came home and returned to the city at 6 a.m. Monday.

In the meantime the auxiliary pump could not be used as the water in the reservoir might be needed in case of fire. The siren blew but it was for a stove pipe fire at the Mendicino home in the Irish Concession.

LE CONCILE ET LES MISSIONS

Le CONCILE: "c'est le mot qui revient au début de toutes conversations; qui intriguait tous les esprits, qui sonnait comme un chant d'espoir. On veut savoir et les questions pleuvent. Nos frères séparés y portent autant d'intérêt que les meilleurs catholiques. Cette curiosité est une excellente disposition. On a donc compris que l'Eglise en concile n'est pas seulement le Pape et les Evêques, mais toute cette immense masse de chrétiens, dont les évêques ne forment qu'une minorité, agissante et dirigeante, mais minorité quand même. Le Concile s'est réuni dans l'intérêt de la masse pour apporter quelque chose à cette masse. Elle même doit contribuer en se disposant à recevoir, et cette curiosité éveillée est une disposition reconfortante. Celui-là cependant, qui a l'insigne honneur de participer plus directement au Concile, ne s'hazarda pas à traiter d'un tel sujet sans un sentiment de crainte et de timidité. L'auguste assemblée n'est pas terminée, elle ne vient que de débiter. La question missionnaire n'y a même pas été abordée. En trop parler serait s'exposer à devancer le Saint-Esprit, dont les inspirations sont tellement nécessaires, et aussi, tellement différentes des raisonnements trop humains d'après C'est Pie IX, je crois, qui lançait une de ces boutades dont il était coutumier: "Dans tout concile, il y a trois phases: 1. la phase de Satan qui s'efforce de jeter la confusion; 2. la phase des hommes qui cherchent la lumière dans le raisonnement; 3. la phase du Saint-Esprit qui enfin éclaire et inspire." Nous n'en sommes pas encore rendus à cette phase du Saint-Esprit, bien que Satan ait été fort déçu par l'incomparable charité manifestée en cette première session. On voudra bien ne pas attendre de nous trop de précisions. Nous nous bornerons à ouvrir les perspectives d'espoir que fait naître le Concile par rapport aux missions. De fait il est un merveilleux signe d'espoir, comme une aurore qui éclaire des horizons chargés de nuages. Le Concile a mis l'espoir au cœur de tous. Les non catholiques nous le disent. L'espérance prend sa source dans la charité: c'est parce que Dieu est charité que toutes Combien y aura-t-il de braves à la marche des jeunes travailleurs ?

Samedi prochain, le 17 août 1963, départ à minuit au parc St-Jean-Baptiste de Dorion. 11 heures p.m., feu de camp. Oui, une marche annuelle des jeunes travailleurs, environ quinze mille, pour quoi cela, quand on peut se balader en automobile, en autobus en motocyclette, etc? Les Hébreux ont marché durant quarante ans dans le désert et pourtant, il devait y avoir chevaux et ânes pour les transporter. Durant les guerres, les soldats marchent. C'est la base des exercices militaires. Et c'est curieux, comme il y a beaucoup de pèlerinages à St-Jacques de Compostelle en Espagne durant des semaines, et cela à pieds; les pèlerinages à Rome au temps des années saintes ne se font pas toujours en auto, avion ou autobus, etc. Des milieux étudiants de Paris font leur pèlerinage annuel à Chartres.

La marche est le sport de tout le monde. C'est nécessaire de marcher si on veut se maintenir en forme. Mais c'est fou de marcher, quand on peut s'y rendre autrement. C'est imbécile de danser toute la soirée, quand on peut jouer aux cartes, jaser tranquillement, ou simplement aller se reposer dans un lit bien chaud. La marche de samedi soir prochain à quelque chose de plus que de la marche. C'est nécessaire de marcher si on veut se maintenir en forme. Mais c'est fou de marcher, quand on peut s'y rendre autrement. C'est imbécile de danser toute la soirée, quand on peut jouer aux cartes, jaser tranquillement, ou simplement aller se reposer dans un lit bien chaud.

Des nouvelles de l'O.T.J.

C'est par un Bingo que l'O.T.J. d'Huntingdon metait fin à ses activités estivales. Depuis le début de juillet, le Comité de Direction, dont M. Laurent Nadeau est le dévoué président, le Coordonnateur, M. Florian Tardif, les moniteurs, M. Maurice Pilon, M. Michel Mainville et Mme Thibault, leurs assistants, Yvon Nadeau et Diane Primeau consacrent soit leurs jours, soit leurs soirées à occuper les jeunes et les moins jeunes inscrits à cette organisation.

Enfin, le 8 août, le bingo afin de permettre au trésorier, G. Dompière, d'administrer les finances avec autres choses que de l'encre rouge.

Les enfants et les parents qui les accompagnent passeront ainsi une soirée agréable tout en touchant quelques fois des espèces sonnantes et trébuchantes comme: Robert LeDuc qui fut l'heureux gagnant d'un bon d'achat don du MARCHÉ BAYARD, et Nicole Lettre gagnante d'un panier de provisions greueset de "MAGASINS I.G.A."

Mais durant la soirée les yeux des jeunes étaient rivés sur deux magnifiques bicyclettes (l'une rouge, l'autre bleue, on ne fait pas de politique à l'O.T.J.) qui devaient être tirées au sort afin de récompenser l'assiduité aux T. de J. Prometteur, c'est bien, tenir, beaucoup mieux. Il fallait se procurer ces deux récompenses et l'Oeuvre n'est pas riche. Quels moyens prendre alors? toujours le même: la générosité des hommes d'affaires de la ville. Encore une fois on s'est fait quater. Quelques marchands locaux furent approchés et grâce à ROLLAND LAVALLÉE et LALONDE VILNAS, ROMAIN MENARD, OMER SAUMIER, BRAITHWAITE BROS., RENE DECLOITRE, JACQUES L'ECUYER, MARCHAND FRESNES, BLUE GAS PROPANE W. E. LEFEBVRE REGD, LOISELLE et LEGAULT, l'organisation put honorer ses promesses et deux enfants possèdent aujourd'hui une bicyclette toute neuve: ce sont Jacques Lettre et Louis Ricard.

L'O.T.J. félicite ces heureux gagnants et remercie chaleureusement ceux qui ont si généreusement contribué à leur procurer une aussi belle récompense, c'est donc, au moment où j'écris ces lignes, calme plat à l'O.T.J., mais on n'y a pas posé un point final, ce n'est que des points de suspension. L'automne arrive, on se remet à l'oeuvre — Alors, Au revoir en septembre prochain.

Prés de 50 concurrents ont participé aux Régates de Beauharnois

En dépit d'une température inclemente, les organisateurs du soixante-septième gala nautique de Beauharnois réussirent à présenter plus de la moitié de leur programme dimanche dernier, sur le lac St-Louis.

En effet, les régates annuelles de Beauharnois, annoncées pour le 4 août dernier, débutèrent vers deux heures de l'après-midi et furent vite interrompues à cause d'une violente tempête et d'un vent de 50 milles à l'heure sur le lac St-Louis, qui menaçaient de tout chavirer.

Malgré cet inconvénient, on comptait près d'une centaine de concurrents qui attendaient la belle température afin de participer aux différentes épreuves de la journée et une foule record sur le Parc Sauvé.

La distribution des prix eut lieu immédiatement au cours de la soirée au Club Nautique de Beauharnois.

Pour le bénéfice de nos lecteurs, on trouvera ci-dessous la liste des différents concurrents qui s'étaient inscrits dans les diverses classes au programme ainsi que le résultat des courses de dimanche dernier.

Aurons-nous l'Ecole Maternelle ?

Plusieurs mamans d'enfants de 5 ans ou devant avoir 5 ans d'ici le 31 décembre, commencent à s'inquiéter. Pourquoi envoier leur enfant à la maternelle en septembre? L'entrée aurait déjà été faite; il faut faire vacciner l'enfant, acheter des vêtements.

Vous vous rappelez sans doute qu'à la fin-juin, il avait été décidé, à la réunion de la Commission Scolaire, d'ouvrir une classe de maternelle en septembre. Il ne restait qu'à trouver un local et une institutrice qualifiée pour cette classe.

ORDO EGLISE ST-JOSEPH HUNTINGDON

Liturgie — 11e dimanche — Introit: Lorsque je crie vers le Seigneur, il exauce ma prière. Lorsque mes ennemis s'approchent de moi, il les réduit à néant, car il règne depuis toujours et demeure éternellement. Confie au Seigneur ta destinée; c'est lui qui te soutiendra. Accueille ma prière, ô mon Dieu; ne méprise pas mes supplications; tourne vers moi ton regard et exauce-moi (Ps. 54). Comme un jardinier diligent, le Seigneur nous a placés près de la source de toutes grâces: l'Eglise, notre mère, qui nous distribue les sacrements. Aller à la messe, aller communier n'est pas seulement remplir une obligation mais témoigner que nous avons soif de Dieu. Le jour où nous l'aurons compris, ce jour-là, nous serons vraiment prêts à servir l'Eglise, nous y deviendrons des membres actifs qui s'enrichissent les uns les autres des dons qu'ils ont reçus.

Gradual: Lord, keep me as the apple of Your eye; hide me in the shadow of Your wings. From You let my judgment come; Your eyes behold what is right. To You we owe our hymn of praise. O God, in Zion; to You must vows be fulfilled in Jerusalem. Humbly, we would expect God to manifest Himself in His almighty power. But that is not God's way. He is a loving Father, and as today's Collect Prayer proclaims: "It is chiefly by forbearance and mercy that you manifest Your almighty power, O God."
