ANTI-AXIS FORCES IN BALKANS STRENGTHENING

British Envoys Confer As Turks Flay Axis Group

Gathering of Ministers to Yugoslavia, Greece and Bulgaria in Istanbul Called After Return of Turkish Minister from Moscow—Axis Powers Warned Turkey Will Be Tougher Nut to Crack Than Netherlands, Belgium and France.

Istanbul, Turkey, Oct. 18.—(P)—Preparations for a conference of British diplomatic representatives in the Balkan countries were reported being formed here today as the Turkish radio voiced new defiance to the Axis powers and their aspirations in the East.

Word of the impending conference was circulated following the arrival in Istanbul of George W. Rendel, British Minister to Bulgaria.

The British Ministers to Yugoslavia and Greece are expected to join Rendel and Sir Hugh Knatchbull-Hugessen, the British Ambassador to Turkey, in the next few days.

Axis diplomatic activity, meanwhile, was reported from Athens by the official Turkish radio, which said Premier-Dictator John Metaxas of Greece had received the German and Italian Ministers yesterday. There was no hint of the subject of their talk.

(In Moscow the German Ambassador, Count Friedrich Werner von Schulenburg, newly returned from Berlin, last night visited the Kremlin, where he was understood to have conferred with Premier Vyacheslav Molotov. The Turkish Ambassador to Moscow, Halid Akay, conferred with Molotov Tuesday.)

The Turkish radio warned the Axis powers last night that if they attempted a drive at the Dardanelles to Egypt and the Suez they would find Turkey a tougher nut to crack than the Netherlands, Belgium or France.

The commentator recalled the resistance the Turks offered the British in the Dardanelles in the last war and added:

"There is no doubt our resistance this time will be even stronger. Just as we depend on our army, so our terrain also has a special advantage for us. For instance, motorized troops can only move with difficulty here—and the Axis powers want a short war, not a long one."

The radio accused Germany and Italy of seeking to conquer Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Greece and said the Axis powers had warned Greece to reject Britain's guarantee of aid in certain conditions of attack or "she will be made to regret it."

(Reports from Bucharest quoted German circles as saying that 150 Nazi planes accompanied by eight hundred pilots, mechanics, crewmen and instructors were expected to arrive in Rumania today to augment a force of 150 planes already quartered there.)

Intensification of Sea Warfare Seen In British Admiralty Shift

London, Oct. 18.—(P)—Great Britain made two changes in the Royal Navy command today which the London press regarded as highly important.

Vice Admiral John C. Tovey, a destroyer expert and hero of Jutland, was appointed to the supreme command of the Home Fleet. The appointment generally was interpreted as a forerunner of intensified sea warfare. The new job corresponds to that held by the late Earl Beatty in the First Great War.

Admiral Sir Henry H. Harwood, hero of the Battle of the River Plate, was promoted to the post of Lord Commissioner of the Admiralty and Assistant Chief of Naval Staff.

Vice Admiral Tovey succeeds Sir Charles M. Forbes while Sir Henry succeeds Vice Admiral Sir Geoffrey Blake, selected for "a special duty" at the Admiralty.

Vice Admiral Tovey, at fifty-five is one of the youngest Admirals in the navy. As commander of the destroyer Onslow in the Battle of Jutland he attacked two German vessels, the second while his own craft was seriously damaged, and was awarded the Distinguished Service Order.

VICHY CABINET SUBJECTS JEWS TO FRESH BANS

Severe Restrictions on Employment of Jews and on Movements of Foreign Jews Ordered.

Vichy, France, Oct. 18.—(P)—The Petain-Laval Government today promulgated a statute forbidding Jews to hold any public office, to work on a newspaper, to teach or to hold the rank of officer in any branch of the armed forces.

The statute, which defined a Jew as any person with three Israelite grandparents, also forbade them to work in the motion picture industry. Action against the Jews was forewarned by a Government statement of policy last night which blamed them for contributing "in no small degree" to the French defeat by Germany.

The statement, while promising to respect the religious and property of Jews, described the measures as "indefinite." Continued on page 2, col. 2.

Britain Defers Opening Of Disputed Hong Kong Passage

Misinterpretation of Telegram by Colonial Official Cause of Earlier Announcement that Route Would Be Opened Simultaneously with Burma Road—Decision Awaits Consultation of British Leaders.

Hong Kong, Oct. 18.—(P)—Re-opening of this Crown Colony to the passage of Petroleum products and railway material to China has been postponed indefinitely, an official announcement said today.

Colonial Secretary N. L. Smith had announced yesterday that the Hong Kong route would be reopened to these goods at midnight last night simultaneously with the re-opening of the Burma road, "backdoor" supply route for Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek's Chinese armies.

Hong Kong was closed to petroleum and railway supply shipments to China last January 1 and was closer to munitions shipments July 17 when the Burma road was closed.

A communiqué said that the Colonial Secretary had based his announcement on his interpretation of a telegram received from London, but that he "now understands consideration is being given to the suggestion" that the Hong Kong closing was not limited by the three-month limit specified in the Burma road agreement.

"Local restrictions not only on munitions but on other specified articles have not yet been removed and will not be until the result of diplomatic negotiations is known," the communiqué added.

Protests against the opening of the Hong Kong route have been filed by the Japanese at both Tokyo and Hong Kong.

The Tokyo press has hinted that the re-opening of the Hong Kong route would be met with counter measures, and foreign circles had foreseen the possibility of a Japanese blockade.

Some foreign observers speculated that Japan might seek to nullify resumption of arms traffic over the Burma road by a formal declaration of war against China.

Were the Hong Kong route to China re-opened, most of the traffic probably would be carried by Chinese junks to unguarded coastal points to the North and transhipped inland by caravans, river craft and trucks.

RECORD ASSEMBLAGE OF TRUCKS
Rangoon, Burma, Oct. 18.—(P)—Traffic along the Burma Road, reopened to arms shipments to China last night, rose steadily today as fleet of munitions trucks, long in readiness, moved into Chinese territory.

A British army officer said he had never seen a larger assemblage of trucks.

NO IMMEDIATE LIFTING OF BAN
London, Oct. 18.—(P)—Colonial Office sources said the decision is being made in London today whether to lift the ban on shipment from Hong Kong to China of gasoline, oil and other non-war materials.

CLAIM WRITERS HEAD LISTS OF NAZI ENEMIES

Noted Author Declares that Creative Writers Are One of Chief Classes Menacing Hitler.

By TED FARAH (Canadian Press Staff Writer)
New York, Oct. 18.—(P)—Whatever new country Hitler conquers, the writers are the first against whom he directs the full impact of his brutal weapons, says Lion Feuchtwanger, novelist and poet.

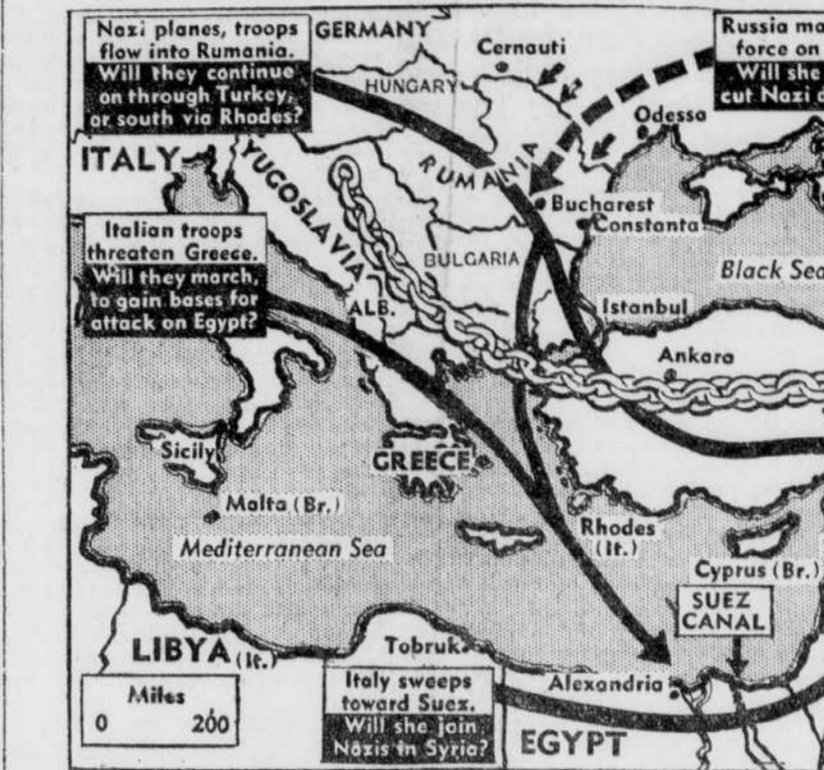

The German-born writer, hardly more than five feet tall, just arrived in New York after an adventurous escape from a Nazi concentration camp, spoke to 1,500 persons last night at a Pan-American dinner for writers in exile.

"A thin line of writers protects the cultural inheritance of all of us," he said.

"A few thousand writers form the moral front in this decisive struggle. The enemy knows this as well as we do, and this is why he persecutes this wretched little heap of writers with the whole force of his gigantic apparatus. Fascism sees in the creative writer the natural born enemy."

Resistance in the Balkans, from Turkey, Greece and Yugoslavia, may check Axis forces there in their southward plunge, apparently aimed at the British fleet base at Alexandria, the Suez canal and vital Iraq oil fields. Map shows likely aggression routes.

CANADIAN ARMY OPENS LARGEST OF WAR GAMES

Troops from Three Training Camps to Take Part in Exercises Along Ottawa River and in Montreal.

Petawawa Military Camp, Ont., Oct. 18.—(P)—The Ottawa Valley's week-long war games began today when three artillery regiments rolled out of this training camp, headed for Ottawa.

It was the biggest road movement of mechanized artillery in Canada since the war began. Scouts and despatch riders on motorcycles escorted the standard army gun tractors which pulled the field guns.

Tonight the gunners will spend the night in Ottawa before moving on to Lachute, Que., where extensive military exercises will be carried out.

The war games are being conducted by Brig.-Gen. G. E. McCuaig, Commandant at Petawawa.

Troops from Barrieffield Camp, near Kingston, and others from Ottawa and Montreal will take part in the manoeuvres. Barrieffield is sending a detachment of signallers to join the artillery at Ottawa. The Governor General's Foot Guards, an infantry battalion, also will join the Eastward-advancing force there.

The Victoria Rifles of Canada and the 3rd Motorcycle Regiment from Montreal will join the force at Lachute. Then the whole body of troops will manoeuvre along the Ottawa river.

PATROL VESSEL BOOSTS TRADE FOR NORTHLAND

Visit to Greenland by Nascope Results in Disposal of Bear Skins—Eskimos Prove Good Watchmen.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—(P)—Keen-eyed Eskimo fishermen along Hudson Straits are serving an Arctic patrol for Canada at war and they passed their first test "100 per cent," Maj. D. L. McKeand said today after his annual Arctic patrol as Commander of the ice-breaker Nascope.

Because of the possibility an enemy ship might some day enter the Straits, the natives were told to be on the lookout and notify Government officials if they saw a strange vessel, Maj. McKeand said.

One day a little Newfoundland coasting vessel, The Contingent came into the Straits with a motion picture part on its way to location. Ottawa knew the boat was to come into the Straits but the Eskimos didn't. The Contingent had scarcely come in sight of land when the natives brought news of her arrival.

Most posts in the Far North now are equipped with wireless stations powerful enough to send to a Government station which relays messages to Churchill. From there the messages are carried by land lines.

This year's 12,000-mile cruise by the Nascope proved that the Eskimo population in the Canadian Arctic. Continued on page 2 col. 4.

Adverse Weather Conditions Curtail Raids Over Britain

London, Liverpool and Midlands Town Were Principal Targets for Scattered German Raids During Night—Raiders Invisible in Clouds During First Daylight Raid Registered Today.

London, Oct. 18.—(P)—Invisible in the clouds over London, a number of raiding planes were heard this afternoon after sirens signalled the first alarm of the day.

The weather, clouds here and fog over the English Channel, had curtailed both British and German air operations.

During the night the enemy attacked with dozens of small groups of fighter-bombers. London, the Liverpool dock area and a town in the Midlands were the principal targets.

Dwelling houses bore the brunt of the damage, but first reports indicated that casualties were few, the Ministries of Air and Home Security announced.

The raiders came earlier in the night than previously and stayed overhead throughout, about eight operating at a time, in contrast to the former tactics of one hundred or more planes in an opening rush, followed by small waves.

Four German and three British planes were destroyed in air battle over England yesterday, the Government announced.

The Press Association said the raids against Liverpool and other Merseyside points during the night and early today represented one of the most widespread attacks for some time. It said, however, that the aerial campaign misfired somewhat, damage and casualties being slight.

The Association said a hospital and a school were hit while fire bombs were dropped in the grounds of another hospital and of a nursing home. A number of dwelling houses were demolished. A sanatorium also was struck, killing one patient.

Early raiders, it said, dropped showers of incendiary bombs in the hope of starting fires to guide subsequent raiders but efforts of firemen, police and wardens effectively countered the plan.

GERMANS INDIGNANT AT ROYAL AIR FORCE
London, Oct. 18.—(P)—Germany has resumed leaflet raids on Britain, this time lampooning Prime Minister Churchill in pictures showing him with a "Tommy gun" and captioned: "Wanted for Incitement to Murder."

"This absolutely criminal form of warfare, which is forbidden by the Hague Convention, will be punished according to military law." "Save at least your families from the horrors of war!"

URGES BRITAIN USE NEW FIGHTER CRAFT
London, Oct. 18.—(P)—The German Air Force's tactics of using fast fighter-bombers against Great Britain "will have the effect of hurrying into action our latest types of planes," the Press Association said today.

Ferocity Of British Air Attacks Led Germans To Forego Invasion Effort

Authoritative British Sources Reveal that German Troops Loaded on Ships on September 16 Were Forced to Abandon Channel Crossing as Result of Royal Air Force Bombardment Extending Along Entire Coast.

INVASION WEATHER
Dover, England, Oct. 18.—(P)—The first real fog of the season descended on the English Channel early today. It was so dense the sea was not visible from the beach.

Vichy, France, Oct. 18.—(P)—Maj. Gaetan Gallieni, son of Marshal Joseph Simon Gallieni who led the famous "Taxicab Army" which saved Paris from the Germans in 1914, died today at Cannes.

London, Oct. 18.—(P)—Authoritative aviation sources disclosed today that Royal Air Force bombers frustrated a German attempt at seaborne invasion of England September 16, forcing the Nazis to abandon the invasion ships "by the ferocity of their attack."

"After German troops were loaded on their ships preparatory to braving the Channel, R.A.F. bombers sped over and made their departure impossible by the ferocity of their attack," these quarters declared.

On September 16 the R.A.F. communicate told of a direct hit on a German warship, severe damage to an oil tanker and supply ship and the sinking of three supply ships and damage to others.

Also attacked that day were concentrations of war supplies, barges and shipping at Hamburg, Wilhelmshaven, Antwerp, Flushing, Ostend, Dunkerque, Calais, Boulogne and Le Havre—virtually the entire invasion coast of Germany and the occupied Low Countries and France.

Whether the pounding of German's invasion facilities was believed sufficient to cause the Nazis to give up their long-range plan, the aviation sources would not say.

The succinct account of the British success was given official status by the Air Ministry News Service which first reported it.

The service added the reliable neutral source" as saying that "On September 16 many German troops were embarked but were later taken off the ships because of the sustained offensive by the Royal Air Force."

If the Germans attempted invasion on dates other than September 16, the aviation sources said, the fact that it did not develop "can only be attributed to repeated performances of a similar nature by the R.A.F."

These quarters kept close silence on details of the September 16 engagement. The silence left only the R.A.F. communicate for a day to hint the place or places of the asserted German defeat.

They would not comment on the number of German casualties.

GERMAN INDUSTRY IS CRIPPLED BY RAIDS
London, Oct. 18.—(P)—The Royal Air Force's "master scheme of bombing Germany," the Air Ministry News Service said today, has "partially wrecked several war factories in Berlin, almost gutted the Berlin General Post Office and seriously affected rail and water transport as well as damaging great industrial plants over a wide area."

The information service said its statement was based on fresh information drawn from "reliable sources." Continued on page 2, col. 3.

INSPECTION OF EASTERN COAST DEFENCES MADE

Prime Minister to Spend Two Days Studying Army, Naval and Air Defences of Nova Scotia.

By C. R. BLACKBURN (Canadian Press Staff Writer)
Halifax, Oct. 18.—(P)—Opening his first tour of Canada's wartime Atlantic coast defences, Prime Minister Mackenzie King set out today on a two-day inspection of army, naval and air force activities in Nova Scotia.

The Prime Minister, looking forward to first-hand view of the seaboard's war machinery, was to devote the first day to the air service and the army, in that order. Tomorrow was to be given over to the navy, afloat and ashore, with a visit to the huge military camp at Debert, squeezed in before Mr. King's departure for Ottawa late in the day.

First call of today for Mr. King, who arrived here by train last night from Quebec, was a visit to Government House to pay his respects to Lieut.-Gov. F. F. Mathers. Then he was to go to the Legislature Building to meet Provincial officials and cabinet members.

Seven Montreal Convicts Staging Sit-Down Strike On Chapel Roof

Montreal, Oct. 18.—(P)—Seven convicts of St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary today maintained a perch on the roof of the prison chapel where late yesterday afternoon they began an unexplained sit-down.

Prison authorities withheld comment on the situation, but from other sources it was learned they had asked Ottawa for instructions before taking any action against the men. Royal Canadian Mounted Police, as well as Provincial and Montreal City Police, were also informed.

According to a member of the Provincial Police, one of the demonstrators was the same convict who, more than a year ago, staged a similar sit-down for three days on the top of a chimney at Kingston Penitentiary in Ontario. It was said at that time he was protesting his transfer from St. Vincent to Kingston. Later he was sent back to St. Vincent.

Resident of St. Vincent de Paul, a village on Ile Jesus near Montreal, said penitentiary authorities apparently had strengthened the guard posted for the roof after they laid off duty late yesterday afternoon did not return to their homes.

More than twelve hours after the group began its strange demonstration, the men still held their positions on scaffolding previously erected on the chapel roof by other convicts doing a repair job. Throughout the chill autumn night, shivering in their light prison work clothes, they had ignored guards' commands to come down.

Once during the night, one of the prisoners stripped off his jacket and set it on fire. The men huddled over the blaze to warm themselves. Early this morning a drizzle of rain began falling.

Aside from the cold, the men appeared to be bothered by hunger. Spectators outside the prison wall said they shouted several times last night: "We're well, but we're hungry."

The convicts began the demonstration late yesterday afternoon, just before the supper hour. They pushed for the roof after they laid off work in the prison yard, climbing a ladder to reach the scaffolding. Later, wardens removed the ladder when the men remained adamant in their refusal to come down.

After reaching the roof, the convicts shouted to villagers on the other side of the wall and began singing and dancing. A crowd soon gathered outside, Motorists stopped their cars on a highway passing close to the prison walls to watch the

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT TO DEATH WHILE HUNTING

Wilfred Godbout, Thirty-Six-Year-Old St. Adolphe de Dudswell Resident, Met Death at Hands of Companion at Silver Lake.

A short hunting trip into a nearby woods resulted in the death of Wilfred Godbout, of St. Adolphe de Dudswell who was accidentally shot to death by a deer. The accident occurred about 8 o'clock yesterday morning at the head of Silver Lake.

Hilaire Audy, fifty-two years old, and his son, Amede, both of St. Adolphe, called on their friend, Godbout, earlier in the morning to go hunting, but he declined the offer. About a half hour later Godbout decided that he would follow his companions who had already entered the woods.

The thirty-six-year-old victim was accidentally shot by Hilaire Audy when the latter heard something rustling in the bushes. Thinking it was a deer because his son was in another section of the woods and Audy did not know that Godbout had decided to come, he levelled his rifle and fired. When Audy realized that he had shot his friend he rushed to the village of St. Adolphe de Dudswell, about two miles away for help.

Upon returning to the scene of the tragedy, with Dr. L. Jutras, of Marlebois, and Rev. Father Lucien L'Heureux, they found Godbout dead. The shot had been fired from a distance of fifty feet and had entered the left shoulder, passed through the chest and emerged through the right shoulder.

At approximately 11.30 o'clock that same morning a coroner's jury presided over by Dr. Albini Menard, of Garthby, rendered a verdict of accidental death recommending that hunters be more careful in future.

This is the first hunting fatality of the season in the Eastern Townships.

The deceased leaves to mourn besides his widow, formerly Anna Desmarais, three children, Gaston, ten, Paul-Emile, nine, and Marthe, five.

Today's decree stated that persons with only two Jewish grandparents will be considered Jews also if they were married to a Jew. The employment restrictions were not imposed upon Jews who were decorated either in the last war or before the French surrender, or who "rendered distinguished services" for the Fatherland in any sciences or other fields. A second decree fixed the status of foreign Jews in France, giving department prefects the right to confine them in concentration camps or places of fixed residence.

MRS. N. H. SLACK PASSED AWAY AT KNOWLTON

Wife of Retired Manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Knowlton Will Be Buried at Windsor Mills Tomorrow.

Knowlton, Oct. 18.—In the passing of Mrs. Norman H. Slack, whose death occurred at her home here shortly before noon yesterday, Knowlton lost a popular and esteemed resident who enjoyed the love of the community.

Mrs. Slack came to Knowlton ten years ago, following her marriage to Norman H. Slack, who was then Manager of the Knowlton branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Although she has not enjoyed especially good health for several years, Mrs. Slack always took a keen interest in church and community activities and was always a most charming hostess.

She was born in Windsor Mills, the daughter of the late M. Giroux and his wife, the late Elizabeth Morey Giroux. She received her education at Windsor Mills and prior to her marriage was employed in the office of the Canada Paper Company. Later moving to Sherbrooke she was connected with the offices of the Quebec Central Railway until the time of her marriage.

Mrs. Slack is survived by her husband; two brothers, William Giroux, of Berlin, N.H., and Albert, of Quebec; and by four sisters, Mrs. Walter Hunter and Miss M. Giroux, both of Sherbrooke, Miss Minnie Giroux, who resided with her sister in Knowlton, and Miss Doris Giroux, of Montreal.

Funeral service will take place at Knowlton at one o'clock tomorrow afternoon, followed by interment at Windsor Mills.

Ferocity of British Air Attacks Led Germans To Forego Invasion Effort

Continued from page 1. The Ministry's review of the R. A. F.'s achievements was issued after a night during which the offensive against Germany was suspended. "Last night owing to unfavorable weather conditions all our bomber operations were cancelled," said a communiqué.

The News Service summary said that "fire started by R. A. F. bombers during an attack on the Lehter railway station (in Berlin) apparently burned for many hours and smoke from it covered a large area of the capital."

"One traveller, setting out from Berlin for a town in the Rhineland, had to spend three days instead of the customary twelve hours on the journey," it declared.

"On the Mittelland Canal traffic was interrupted for five days after the destruction of two sluice gates," and on the Dortmund-Ems canal "the East wall immediately North of the old aqueduct had been broken," said the service.

At Hamburg, the News Service said, "Five ships are said to have been sunk in the harbors during one raid. At the time this news was gathered only seven out of the seventy-five cranes on the quay were working."

The News Service added that "confirmation has been received of damage done to petrol and synthetic oil plants at Pöhlitz near Slettin."

At Bitterfeld large aluminum works "were closed for some weeks after a heavy raid," it said, and in the Rhineland, "the Westphalia Electric Works have been so badly damaged that it will be some time before they come into full operation again."

At Bremen, the factory "has been almost completely destroyed by bombs" and at Wismar "one hangar was completely gutted and all aircraft inside destroyed."

Among other examples of the R. A. F.'s effectiveness was cited the case of a tanker which "had to postpone its visit to Slettin (seaport for Berlin) as the petrol load it was to have shipped was not available."

From the same source the service learned that "on the night of October 2 a large ship, fully loaded with grain, received a direct hit, caught fire and still was burning two days later."

On the Dortmund-Ems canal, the news service reported, there are two fresh bomb craters on the East embankment while in the harbor loading installations and barges moored nearby have "all been damaged."

Some railway passengers report they have "had to change more than a dozen times on what was previously a straightforward trip and even then there were long delays outside some of the stations," the News Service added.

HONOR PUDNEY FAMILY ON EVE OF DEPARTURE

St. Paul's Men's Club Hold Farewell Party for Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Pudney and Family Who Are Leaving Sunday.

The official opening of the St. Paul's Men's Club for the 1940 season took the form of a farewell party held in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Pudney and family, who are leaving Sunday to reside at Chalk River, Ont. The President, A. Morris, welcomed the large gathering composed chiefly of members of St. Paul's Church.

During the meeting, which was opened by community singing under the leadership of H. Hulet, Mr. and Mrs. Pudney were lauded for their work in the community and genuine regret at their departure was voiced by a number of the members present. Rev. O. Berry, on behalf of the gathering, remarked that in Mr. and Mrs. Pudney they were losing not only faithful church workers but personal friends. He also referred to the former's work as choir master and to the latter's work as secretary.

The speaker then called upon Mr. Morris, the President, who, in a short address, thanked Mr. Pudney for his services in the past and asked him to accept, on behalf of the members, a lunch service kit.

On behalf of the Ladies' Guild, Mrs. George Haworth, the President, presented Mr. Pudney with a large bouquet of roses, while Miss V. Woodleton, President of the Young People's Society, presented Miss Mabel Pudney with an appropriate gift from the young people. A gift was also presented to Sydney Pudney, Jr., by Hampton Schofield on behalf of the Servers' Guild.

J. Drew, the Parish Warden, and T. Oak, the retiring warden, expressed the regret of the congregation at the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Pudney and family. Charles Taylor, with Mrs. Taylor at the piano, sang "My Task," while B. Thorne recited "The Sunset Bridge."

Also contributing to the evening's entertainment were H. Hantley, who told a few stories, and Mr. Pudney, who sang "There'll Always Be An England."

Refreshments were served under the able convensership of Mrs. S. Robinson, who was assisted by Mrs. Haworth, Mrs. T. Oak and Mrs. Slater.

Canadian Army Opens Largest Of War Games

The "skelton" will be one of Canada's most famous cavalry regiments, the Royal Canadian Dragoons from St. Johns, Que., now using motorcycles and armored cars instead of horses.

After billeting overnight at Lachute the whole formation, including the "enemy," will move into Montreal for a huge parade. Monday morning the troops from Peta-awa, Ottawa, and Barriefield will head for home, spending Monday night in Prescott and Brockville.

Military officials say the war games are not in the form of a sham battle, since they are a one-sided operation with all the power on one side. They are intended to train troops in march discipline, orderly movement of motorized units, mobility in attack, and field operations. There will also be scope for practice in reconnaissance by motorcycle units.

Patrol Vessel Boosts Trade For Northland

Continued from page 1. formerly estimated at 7,000 persons, is on the increase. Maj. McKendall said. Danger of the native population dying out is no longer a serious one.

He said fur trapping in the Arctic was poor last winter. The principal fur is white fox and the number of these animals runs in cycles of about five years. Last winter was the bottom of the cycle and there were many indications foxes would be more abundant this year.

This year the Nascoptic stopped at Greenland with supplies, starting a trade which will help the Canadian Arctic. The Nascoptic annually brings down many Polar bear skins which are not selling well on the Canadian market this season. The Greenlanders bought the entire supply to be used for clothing.

The Greenlanders also were keen buyers of cribbage boards and other carvings made of walrus tusks. In addition, the Nascoptic took North an order from San Francisco for four hundred pounds of walrus ivory, tusks and teeth, which the North was able to fill.

CONFESSION OF HEBERT QUOTED AT SWEETSBURG

With Jury Removed, Lawyers Argued Over Testimony of Provincial Police Officer—No Session this Morning.

Sweetsburg, Oct. 18.—Proceedings in the trial of Clarence Hebert, of St. Albans, Vt., who is charged with the murder of his wife, the former Phyllis Upton, of Queph, Ont., were scheduled to continue at one-thirty o'clock this afternoon following a recess this morning because of the absence of Mr. Justice Louis Cousineau.

Highlight of yesterday's Court session was the testimony of Detective Henri Pinard, of the Provincial Police, who told the Court that the accused had written a declaration which added that the accused described it as "The story of how I strangled my wife in the woods."

Pinard's testimony was given during the absence of the jury, and while the jurors were out the presiding judge heard arguments from counsel as to whether the declaration should be admitted as evidence.

The witness added: "I saw that he was taking a lot of time to write and I asked him what he intended to write. Hebert answered: 'This is the story of how I strangled my wife in the woods.' He wrote a postscript to this effect at the end of the written declaration, and signed, and swore to the truth of it."

The declaration was allegedly written last December, shortly after the body of the 25-year-old woman was found under a clump of bushes near Granby, Que. She had disappeared about eight months previously.

Pinard said that Hebert's first declaration had been given to Detective Gustave Massue while Pinard was in Guelph seeking information on the case. "When I got back from Guelph to Sweetsburg," added the witness, "Hebert had given himself up to the police and was introduced to me then."

It was while Pinard, Massue and Hebert were comparing the written declaration with information that Pinard had obtained in Guelph that Hebert wrote his "postscript," the witness testified.

Pinard denied having obtained the alleged confession by illegal means. "Before obtaining a confession from Hebert, when he asked for my fountain pen, I suspected him so little that I told Massue: 'This man has nothing to reproach himself about,'" Pinard added.

The witness said he had never told Hebert that it was better to tell the truth and that he had never tried to intimidate him. Pinard added that he had never offered the accused anything whatsoever, as had been testified by previous witnesses. Trial is continuing.

FATHER DIVINE ACQUIRES NEW RURAL 'HEAVEN'

Twenty-Five-Room Turreted House Near Tarrytown to Become Personal Residence of Negro Leader.

New York, Oct. 18.—(P)—There was rejoicing today up Harlem way over Father Divine's new "Heaven," the finest yet, standing like a feudal castle on a knoll 425 feet above the Hudson. The river in exclusive Tarrytown, N.Y.

This new "Heaven," which has a twenty-five room turreted stone residence and seventy acres of landscaped grounds and orchards, is directly across from the estate of the Duchess of Talleyrand, the former Anna Gould and daughter of the late Jay Gould, railroad builder.

Other large estates nearby include those of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Edwin Drexel Godfrey, retired New York merchant, and Alfred McEwen, prominent New York businessman.

John Lamb, Father Divine's white secretary, said the Negro spiritual leader would use the new home as his personal residence. An operating staff of thirty to forty "Angels" will move into the house as soon as furnishings are obtained.

Deeds on file at White Plains show that $36,000 in cash was paid for the estate, occupied until a year ago by Leo S. Bing, New York real estate operator.

There are eleven baths in the house and garages for seven automobiles. The glory of the house is the master bedroom which, Lamb said, will be Father Divine's headquarters. It is thirty-three by twenty-one feet.

Britain Defers Opening Of Disputed Hong Kong Passage

Continued from page 1. China, supplies for Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek's armies started pouring in the early darkness today after a three-month stoppage made as a gesture to Japan by Britain in the hope a settlement between Japan and China might be reached.

Observers believe that the immediate result of the re-opening will be release of large stocks of arms and ammunition, now stored in Western China, which had to be kept there for three months as a reserve against the possibility that the road would remain closed.

The Chinese press and Government officials agreed, however, that the political significance of the re-opening overshadows immediate material benefits.

Inspection of all branches of the Eastern Air Command was next on schedule. The Prime Minister first planned to go to the Command's headquarters here and then cross the harbor to survey activities at the seaplane base and flying field with Air Commodore N. R. Anderson, Chief of the Command.

Returning to Halifax, Mr. King was to tour the coastal land defences with Major-General C. F. Constantine, commanding Military District No. 6.

In the evening, he will be guest at a Provincial Government dinner with high officers of the three fighting services.

The Navy tour will start early Saturday at the dockyard here. Commodore G. C. Jones, Officer Commanding the Atlantic coast, will escort the Prime Minister through his establishment, on land and water. Mr. King hopes to inspect one of the United States destroyers recently transferred to the British and Canadian navies for air and naval base sites.

Later in the day, he will drive seventy-five miles to Debert, site of one of the Dominion's largest military camps. From there, he will board a Westbound train in the afternoon, expecting to reach Ottawa late Sunday night or early Monday.

Mr. King originally had intended to visit Newfoundland and New Brunswick points, but pressure of official business caused him to abandon these parts of his trip for the time being.

On his way to the seaboard, he inspected Valcartier Camp in Quebec, where he was guest of the Earl of Athlone. He left Quebec Wednesday night, travelling in his special car.

NEW MINISTER GIVEN WARM WELCOME HOME

Montreal, Oct. 18.—(P)—Hon. Hector Perrier, Quebec's newly-appointed Provincial Secretary, was greeted on his arrival here last night from Quebec City by more than two thousand Liberal supporters. He was accompanied by Premier Adelaard Godbout and Roads Minister T. D. Bouchard.

Making his first public address as a Cabinet Minister, Mr. Perrier promised he would work in the interests of the Province and that any reforms in the present educational system would be undertaken only after consultation with his Cabinet colleagues.

ALL PHASES OF NATIONAL LIFE UNDER REVIEW

Publication of 1940 Edition of Canada Year Book Announced by Bureau of Statistics.

The publication of the 1940 edition of the Canada Year Book, published by authorization of the Hon. James A. MacMillan, Minister of Trade and Commerce, is announced by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

The Canada Year Book is the official statistical annual of the country, contains a thoroughly up-to-date account of the natural resources of the Dominion and their development, the history of the country, its institutions, its demography, the different branches of production, trade, transportation, finance, education, etc.—in brief, a comprehensive study within the limits of a single volume of the social and economic condition of the Dominion. This new edition has been thoroughly revised throughout and includes in all its chapters the latest information available up to the date of going to press.

The 1940 Canada Year Book extends to over 1,200 pages, dealing with all phases of the national life and more especially with those susceptible of statistical measurement. A statistical summary of the progress of Canada is included in the introductory matter. This gives a picture in figures of the remarkable progress which the country has made since the first census of the Dominion was taken in 1871, sixty-eight years ago.

In the present edition, a complete list of special articles and of significant historical or descriptive text that has not been subject to wide change and is therefore not repeated, is given following the Table of Contents. This list links the 1939 Year Book with its predecessors and indicates the extent to which the "Year Book" must now be regarded as a series of publications rather than as a single volume.

Persons requiring the Year Book may obtain it from the King's Printer, Ottawa, as long as the supply lasts, at the price of $1.50, which covers merely the cost of paper, printing, and binding. By a special concession, a limited number of paper-bound copies have been set aside for ministers of religion, bona fide students and school teachers, who may obtain copies at the nominal price of 50 cents each.

PRIEST FETES 50TH JUBILEE OF ORDINATION

Rev. Father Irene Lavallee Guest of Honor at Reception and Dinner Held at St. Charles Seminary.

Fitting tribute was paid to a long and distinguished career when Rev. Father Irene Lavallee, a former curate of the Richmond and Compton parishes and for a time a professor at St. Charles Seminary, was the guest of honor at a celebration yesterday on the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood.

In the morning Father Lavallee was tendered a reception in the Seminary auditorium and received the congratulations of the student body and members of the faculty on this special occasion. Rev. Father Arthur Sideleau spoke for those present and lauded the fine example which the guest of honor had set as a priest. He also stated that during his charges at Richmond and Compton Father Lavallee had been responsible for many boys coming to the Seminary to take up their studies. The speaker himself had been one of several boys in Compton who were prompted to enroll at the Seminary and later on three of the group, Father Sideleau, Rev. Canon Joseph Veilleux, Superior of the Grand Seminary, and Rev. Father Arthur Audet, professor at the Seminary and director of the seminarians, entered the priesthood.

Following this reception a dinner was held in honor of Father Lavallee with Mgr. Philippe Desranleau, Bishop Coadjutor of Sherbrooke, presiding. Earlier in the day Father Lavallee had officiated at a special jubilee mass in the college chapel.

Born in this city, Father Lavallee entered St. Charles Seminary as a student on the day of the official opening of the institution in 1875. He was then six years of age. His primary, classical and theological studies were all pursued there. He retired two years ago and now resides at Richmond.

Sherbrooke Experienced First Snow Flurries This Morning

Sherbrooke and district experienced the first snow flurries of the fall today, and at noon the flakes were falling steadily, bringing with them an assortment of wet feet and multi-colored umbrellas. The overcast sky gave indication that a fall of considerable duration might be expected.

Officials of the Lennoxville Experimental Farm were unable to say definitely that this was the first snowfall to be experienced in the Eastern Townships, since it had been reported that several inches had fallen in the Megantic district some time ago.

The snow this year made a belated appearance, compared to its debut in 1939, when a half-inch fall was recorded on September 25. The following day 1.7 inches fell, and in October there were two snowfalls, 80 falling on October 17 and a half-inch on October 28.

Thirty-three degrees, one at five freezing, seems to be the temperature that brings snow. This morning a reading of thirty-three degrees was taken at the Experimental Farm, while on September 25 of last year, when snow fell during the night, the maximum temperature was seventy-nine and the minimum thirty-three. Again on September 23 the minimum temperature was thirty-three degrees, with the same condition prevailing on October 17, although on October 28 the minimum was thirty-five degrees.

A total of 2.20 inches of snow fell in September of last year and in October 1.30 inches fell. Barometers in the district started to fall rapidly at about four o'clock yesterday afternoon, indicating a sudden change of atmospheric conditions, with accompanying high winds.

Residents of Sherbrooke greeted the flurries with mixed emotions. While to some the snow brought visions of a long, cold winter, with its accompanying fuel bills, draughts and chills, to skiers and skaters it gave sweet foretaste of the pleasures that will be theirs when winter really arrives.

Lake Megantic Man Is Sentenced To Seven More Years In Penitentiary

Joseph Blais, of Lake Megantic, will spend the next twelve years in the St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary as the result of additional prison terms meted out to him in Magistrate's Court this morning by Judge J. S. Couture when he entered pleas of guilty to two charges of arson and one of damaging an automobile.

Blais was condemned two weeks ago to five years in prison for having set fire to property owned by the Megantic Pulp Company. This morning he received two three-year sentences and one one-year term, all to be served non-concurrently and in addition to the original five year penalty.

The three year sentences were for having set fire to a lumber yard at Chatham, causing damages estimated at $300, and for firing timber land belonging to Ludger Lavigne also in Chatham. Damages in the latter case amounted to $100.

GRANBY POLICE INVESTIGATING THEFT OF COINS

Valuable Collection Stolen from Home of Keyworth Cowley—Culprits Entered Through Dining Room Window.

Granby, Oct. 18.—Police reported today that they are pressing an investigation into the theft of a valuable collection of coins from the home of Keyworth Cowley, son of the late Dr. D. K. Cowley, but that as yet no trace of the culprits had been found. The coins, numbering over 2,000 and some dating back several hundred years, were contained in a three-foot high cabinet equipped with revolving glass doors. The burglar entered the Cowley home through a dining room window and carried out the heavy cabinet through the kitchen door.

A neighbor told police that she had heard an automobile near the Cowley home at about two o'clock in the morning but had not suspected anything unusual. In addition to the coins, police said, the case contained a number of Confederate American bills.

The collection was started by Mr. Cowley's grandfather and added to by the late Dr. Cowley.

I.O.D.E. BRIDGE PARTY SUCCESS AT LENNOXVILLE

No Prizes Awarded So Entire Receipts Could Be Turned Over to Chapter for War and Charitable Work.

Mrs. M. G. Stewart, Regent of Maple Copse Chapter, I.O.D.E., Lennoxville, received the many guests who patronized the most enjoyable and highly successful bridge party held by the Chapter last evening in the St. George's Parish Hall.

Cards were played at twenty-five tables, some games taking place at the homes, and donations received brought the receipts to a very satisfactory sum. Mrs. L. V. Parent and Mrs. George Doak acted as joint conveners of the event, and they are due much credit for the splendid success achieved. They were assisted by other members of the Entertainment Committee, namely, Mrs. J. B. Winder, Mrs. F. R. Pattison, Mrs. A. T. Speid and the Misses Margaret Abbott and Cora Davis.

In order that the total amount raised might be turned over to the I. O. D. E. for their war and charitable work, on prizes were given, and later some articles, which had been very kindly donated, were sold at auction and added to the receipts.

At the conclusion of the games delicious refreshments were served by the committee in charge.

A. Y. P. A. PLANS FALL ACTIVITIES

Mayor Labrecque And Aldermen On Visit To N.P.A.M. Training Camp

Accompanied by Aldermen Eugene Thibault, Maurice Desorme, Alfred Cinq-Mars, Armand Fiset and J. O. Charrier, Mayor Joseph Labrecque this morning paid a visit to the newly-constructed N.P.A.M. training camp situated just outside the city limits on the Drummond Road at the invitation of the camp commandant, Col. J. S. Bourque, M.L.A.

The 1,000 young Canadians from Sherbrooke and district stationed at the Drummond Road training centre changed their civilian garb for the King's uniform last Thursday to begin their thirty days' compulsory training under the National Resources Mobilization Act. The men in this group are the first to be called up as draftees and consist of the 21, 22 and 23 year old class. Almost all are 21, but in a few districts it was necessary to call up older men.

The programme for the first six days called for fifty-three instruction periods, each lasting from thirty-five to forty-five minutes. The men have eighteen periods of drill, and six periods of physical training, one each morning. There are sixteen periods of rifle training, four of bayonet training and six of gas protection drill. Two lectures are given on military discipline and one on infantry organization.

The daily training programme begins at six a.m. with reveille, a snack and physical training with breakfast soon after seven a.m., and the morning drill parade beginning about eight o'clock. Dinner is at 12.15 and the two-hour afternoon drill parade starts at two. Supper is between five and six.

The local camp is one of eight in Military District No. 4. Others are established at Farnham, Hamitzdon, St. Hyacinthe, Sorel, St. Jerome, Valleyfield and Joliette. In all there are 6,500 men in Military District No. 4.

Steps have been taken for the spiritual welfare of the men stationed at the various camps. Each four company centre, accommodating 1,000 men, has three chaplains, one Roman Catholic, one Church of England and one representing one of the other Protestant denominations. The smaller training centres have at least one full-time chaplain and the attendance of others on part-time

THE BRITISH FLEET STILL SUPREME

The inherent superiority of the British sailor over any opponent has been brought strikingly to the fore within recent days in widely separated parts of the war theatre against both Italian and German opponents.

In certain quarters, fear was expressed that the entry of Italy into the conflict would provide a serious menace to the British seapower in the Mediterranean, especially as Mussolini was represented as declaring war in an effort to give his admittedly strong and modern fleet a chance to prove its glories as his soldiers had done in Abyssinia, and his air force in Spain. But to date, the only honors which they appear able to achieve are in connection with races. In battle, even when they hold overwhelming superiority in weight and gunpower, they take hopeless trouncings, one glorified British destroyer, classed as a cruiser, managing to sink or rout eight Italian craft in a single day. The submarine strength has been much diminished under British activities, while in turn a British submarine has seen fit to enter an Italian naval base, sink two merchantmen anchored there, shell the port with the small gun which it mounted—and then get away in safety.

Across Europe, those units of the German fleet which have managed to elude the blockade of Germany proper are finding tough going, two naval vessels and three merchantmen being lost in an encounter with British submarines, while neither Nazi gunboats or shore batteries were able to prevent the British shelling the coastal invasion port of Dunkerque.

Great Britain has always placed its chief faith in the ability of the Fleet to keep open the sea lanes and blockade the enemy, and certainly nothing has occurred to date to indicate that this faith was at all misplaced.

AN APPRECIATED GESTURE

The unknown United States citizen who donated $5,000 to the annual campaign of the Sherbrooke Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society to aid in the war effort of the Dominion has done more to indicate the true feeling of the people of the United States than all the would-be leaders of public opinion who are prepared to present their views to all and sundry at any time.

The individual making the presentation, whoever he may be, is deserving of the thanks of the Canadian people who are able to realize the true meaning of the old saying of "A friend in need is a friend indeed," the gift being even more appreciated owing to its anonymous nature.

The donor under such circumstances makes the gift from an honest conviction as to the rightness of the cause to which he is subscribing. He can have no axe to grind nor can he be seeking publicity and public acclaim, which is in marked contrast to the desires of many of the isolationists.

LINDBERGH AGAIN REBUKED

If persistence were in itself a virtue, Charles Augustus Lindbergh could proclaim himself as one of the most virtuous men in the world today, but unfortunately for his reputation, persistence must be expended on behalf of a reasonable cause if it is to receive its just reward. It is on this point that the Lone Eagle becomes somewhat of a public nuisance in his continued harangues on the wonderful points of the Nazi regime and the continued criticisms of democracy and those nations which seek to preserve it.

That his dissertations are having little effect on United States official opinion is evidenced in the statement of Attorney-General Robert Jackson, who characterized Lindbergh as the foe of democracy. Commenting on the Lindbergh speech, Jackson declared: "It was significant that his only reference to democracy was a sneering reference to the effect that the public was being harangued about it. It was significant that his speech, so perfectly calculated to undermine confidence in American leadership, was delivered just on the eve of America's muster of its man-power for selective service.

"No speech, in its timing and substance, could more perfectly have served the purpose of those who would weaken the morale of democracy and undermine the spirit of our defence effort.

"We are witnessing the most ominous gathering of forces against freedom and democracy that has been seen in my time. Even though these enemies of democracy gain no foothold as a result of our elections, the drawing together of powerful groups making common cause under such common slogans is still an ominous development."

Another public man who found little use for the remarks of Lindbergh was Louis A. Johnson, former Assistant Secretary for War, who called the address a plea to "sacrifice the principles in which the United States was built" to "appease Germany and Japan and to stop helping Britain."

Answering the claims that the United States should adopt a policy of strict isolation, Johnson pointed out that the country went the limit in this respect but that it did not prevent the dictators from meddling in the domestic affairs of the Western Hemisphere.

Commenting on a passage in Lindbergh's speech in which the aviator asserted that the country's present leaders "have alienated the most powerful military nations of both Europe and Asia," Johnson said:

"If it is 'alienating' strong powers to say that we do not like persecution, torture and murder; if it is alienating European nations to say that we do not propose to have plots against us in our own borders, or against friendly republics in this hemisphere; if it is alienation to say we disapprove the reckless violation of treaties and flouting of every principle not only of law but of decency—then I suppose we ought to plead guilty.

"But if Col. Lindbergh thinks that American independence involves acceptance of these, or that our independence no longer permits Americans to stand for honor, integrity, kindness and decency in international relations, he has misconceived the independence for which Washington fought, which Jefferson, Madison and Andrew Jackson defended, which Lincoln preserved."

Whether the United States will actually enter the war or not only the future will determine, but when it does make the decision, it will be on the basis of "honor, integrity, kindness and decency" as advanced by former Secretary Johnson and not on vacillating subservience to the dictators as advocated by Lindbergh.

FOR CIVIC IMPROVEMENT

With the employees of the Municipal Parks Department turning their attention from outside maintenance to the shops and the manufacture of supplies and equipment for next summer, one suggestion might be reasonably forthcoming. Although seeking to impress upon the citizens the advantages arising from keeping the streets free from debris, the civic officials have failed to provide receptacles or containers for this refuse. Thus the individual citizen, unless he wishes to carry the useless articles around in his pocket, has nowhere to throw his empty cigarette or match box or chocolate bar wrapper except the street gutter.

The winter months would provide a splendid opportunity for the permanent employees of the Parks Department to turn out a considerable number of these refuse boxes. But there is no need to wait until spring to distribute them. Refuse accumulates as rapidly in winter as in summer and the officials would be well-advised to place the boxes at convenient places as soon as they are completed.

The cost would be comparatively small while the advantages to all concerned would be great.

CANADIANS MUST AID DOMINION'S WAR EFFORT

(Le Monde Ouvrier, of Montreal). If, by patriotism the Canadian labor element submits to a rate of wages which to it appears less than sufficient, it intends that the competent authorities shall apply all possible measures that will assure the stability of living costs and that they are not wholly subjected to the demagogic fantasies of the everlasting law of supply and demand.

If our Government cannot guarantee that stability, our workmen will be stupid, to say the least, if they do not demand increased wages immediately and take constitutional and all other proper means to obtain them.

But we believe that in this critical period everybody will count it a duty, and that all workers will honorably keep their word to do their utmost to help the war effort while the Government has the courage to regulate our economy in a way that will maintain a permanent compatibility between current wages and the cost of living.

BETTERMENT IN QUEBEC'S AGRICULTURE URGED

(La Presse, of Montreal). Nothing can alter the fact that these post-war problems will be complicated and difficult. A new world from which will arise new economic conditions will succeed a world now threatening to crumble beneath the most dreadful catastrophe of all time. Like all social classes, the farmers will have to surmount numerous obstacles and adapt themselves to new circumstances. At that time the forces of unity will be held to them, enabling them to avoid the crisis which followed the Great War. This unification of rural energy now constitutes one of the principal preoccupations of those who direct Canadian agriculture.

In his speech to the Catholic Union of Cultivators recently at Ste. Anne de Beauport, Abel Marion, its President-General, underlined this fact in pregnant terms. "Agriculture," he said, "should be considered as a basic industry in war-time, and the farmer must envisage, from now until the end of the conflict, and perhaps even after the war, a host of new problems and complications.

"I cannot find words strong enough to voice the urgency of Quebec farmers uniting to study together their particular problems, to seek the most practical solutions and impose their will within the limits of justice and charity. We must unite now. Tomorrow may be too late."

BRITISH WOMEN DO GREAT WORK

(St. Catharines Standard). Hats off to the women of Britain! In various auxiliary services, they are directly helping the army, the navy, the air force, ambulance corps and nursing organizations. Others are taking the place of men in public jobs—mail carriers and bus conductors, for just two examples.

The Women's Voluntary Services, the WVS, has the largest membership, which totals more than 630,000. Some work full time, some part time on a variety of jobs. They mend soldiers' clothes, collect salvage, sew and knit, handle refugees, distribute gifts and visit hospitals. In their work they wear a green serge uniform.

As in the World War, there are the "Wrens"—the Women's Royal Naval Service. Women in this organization probably number 6,000. They wear navy blue uniforms with a tricorn hat.

Another organization is the WAA—Women's Auxiliary Air Force. Women in this service operate teleprinters, wireless sets, do accounting work, serve as sick-bay attendants and cooks. They wear sky-blue uniforms.

Women are in great demand as cooks in all the services. They receive special training to make them familiar with large-scale cooking methods. In the ATS—Women's Auxiliary Territorial Service—large numbers of cooks are required. This service also attracts numerous women and girls who serve as typists, orderlies, and in many other jobs. The great majority in the ATS are girls of 25, although there are many women up to 43 years old.

Then there is the Auxiliary Fire Service, whose members do scores of jobs to help regular firemen. They drive ambulances at all hours and in all kinds of weather. Woman of the AFS wear a dark blue uniform with red badges, a peaked cap, and trousers.

Another group aids raid wardens. They also wear a blue uniform with red touches and trousers. Officers wear a smart "tut" hat.

The women of Britain are helping to fight this war in numbers that were not equaled in the 1914-18 conflict, and they are accomplishing their tasks as one would expect, with vigor and determination.

When the history of the present war is written the women in Britain, as well as all Allied countries, will be given a large measure of deserved credit for the victory.

GERMANS PLAYING FOR KEEPS

(Ottawa Journal). Germany no longer even pretends that her aim in the conquest of the small European countries is anything but brutal conquest.

Thus a German organ in Warsaw, printing of course what is told to print, declares magniloquently that Norway and all the Scandinavian countries "will remain always in the power sphere of the Great German space," says "there is no longer justification for the independent existence of states of the small nations."

What this means is clear. If Germany were to win the war the small states either would be incorporated directly within the Reich, or they would be so enchained with economic and political ties that they could not call their souls their own.

That process is, of course, already under way. It is admitted frankly in Berlin that the independent Duchy of Luxembourg is being taken over, and the French provinces of Alsace and Lorraine. So diligent is the campaign to "Nazify" Norway that an administration they can control. Sweden will share the same fate if the Germans win.

Denmark, Iceland and Belgium, France, Switzerland, and the Balkans, can expect no real independence in the future if Hitler dominates Europe.

Nothing illustrates better than this monstrous situation the nature of the evil thing which has come out of Germany. Scandinavia and the Low Countries in particular asked nothing of the world but to be let alone. No one of them had any more thought of making war on Hitler than of sailing to the moon. In their efforts to be strictly neutral they leaned so far backwards as to give the Germans an actual advantage. But this did not save them when the Germans decided to strike—the German lust for conquest knows no bounds in decency or gratitude.

BOMB SHELTER ETIQUETTE

(Saturday Night). Dr. Charles Best, of Toronto, who when he is not busy trying to transfer a diabetes cure from animals to humans is usually hard at work promoting the friendship of the English-speaking peoples, has a first-hand story from a London friend who has a family bomb shelter. A few weeks ago it became evident that this bomb shelter was going to have to be used quite frequently and for a considerable amount of time, and Dr. Best's friend installed enough sofas and easy chairs to make it comfortable for all the members of his family and household, including an elderly maid-servant. The latter persistently refused to do anything when in the bomb shelter except sit bolt upright with her hands folded in her lap.

The family implored her to relax and take things easy, as they were doing, and to lie down and get what rest she could. They could not get her to consent to do so, nor could they find out the reason for her unwillingness. Finally the mistress of the house made a last appeal, on the ground that the spectacle of the elderly maid-servant sitting there in such obvious discomfort was undermining their morale, and would she please be good enough to lie down like the rest of them?

"No, mum, I couldn't do it," was the reply. "It's too much like mixed bathing."

PERFECT BLOCKING GIVES DECLARER HIS NAME CONTRACT

Here is a nice hand played by A. R. Dick of Philadelphia, a member of the winning amateur team-of-four this year.

The opponents cashed the first two club tricks and Dick ruffed the third. He then cashed the ace and king of diamonds and ruffed a diamond, West discarding his last club.

Next followed the king and ace of hearts and a third heart. West won with the queen, and saw that to lead trumps would be fatal, as dummy held the good ten of hearts. So West tried leading the heart eight and East dutifully ruffed with the jack of spades. But South won with the ace, then finessed against West's queen to win the last three tricks.

The east player criticized West for discarding his last club instead of a heart. But Dick pointed out that that discard made no difference. If, at the end, West held a club besides his three spades, the club lead would let South ruff and then lead his last diamond, to which East would have to follow suit.

Declarer's threat in every variation is to cross-ruff until he has lost two trumps in each hand. If of their insight at all times, night and day.

WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION HELD SUCCESSFUL "MITEE" TEA

Under the sponsorship of the Women's Association, an unusually attractive tea and sale was held yesterday afternoon in Plymouth Church Hall, the special feature being the display of 221 pairs of mittens, made by the women of Plymouth Church during the summer holidays.

Mrs. W. G. Cross, Mrs. G. D. Wadsworth, Mrs. Walter S. Sutherland and Mrs. Fred J. Sangster were hostesses for the delightful social event, the many guests attending being intensely interested in the splendid exhibition of mittens, which will help many deserving children and adults from having cold hands this winter.

Presiding at the lovely tea table centered with yellow chrysanthemums and snowballs, were Mrs. G. Elery Read and Mrs. F. A. C. Gossage, the hostesses themselves acting as waitresses.

Candy was sold by Mrs. Hubert Johnston, aprons by Mrs. J. C. Mead and Mrs. John Robertson, and home-cooked food by Mrs. S. H. Gallinger and Mrs. C. A. Beaton.

ST. PETER'S W. A. MEETING

An unusually enjoyable meeting of the Evening Branch of St. Peter's Women's Association was held Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Marion Tomlinson, Cresce Street, with the President, Mrs. M. L. McFadden, in the chair.

Members listened with satisfaction to a report given by Miss Susan Davidson, who stated that 651 articles had been sent in a bale last week to Grosse Isle, Magdalen Islands, from this branch. This bale had included two complete layettes.

One of the chief items on the agenda was the making of tentative arrangements for the Christmas sale which will be held on December 7th. Members were asked to bring in as many finished articles for the sale as possible at the next meeting, which will be held at the home of Mrs. John Gimes, London Street. An unusual idea is being prepared by the members for this event, in what is known as "aquariums." Glass bowls, in which will be placed moss, flowers, etc., will be offered for sale. These will no doubt prove to be an outstanding feature of the Christmas sale, since besides being beautiful, they will last for about six months, it is understood.

Those present relaxed after the business had been disposed of and listened with much enjoyment to a room written by Minnie Hollowell Bowen, entitled "Lans Deo," read by the President, and two articles read by Miss Tomlinson from the "Hanon News Letter," a pamphlet written by missionaries in China. Dainty refreshments were served informally by the hostess, Miss Tomlinson, as a climax to the meeting.

ANSWERS

- 1—No. Bad manners and bad business.
- 2—Not unless you honestly believe the friend can do something to put a stop to it.
- 3—Say something good about him.
- 4—No. It makes him appear to be a smart-aleck.
- 5—Yes. It is just as bad for a small-towner visiting city friends to say "I don't see why you live in such a big place" as for the city person to say "I don't see how you can stand to live in such a small town."

Low Cost Cuts of Meat Can Be High Nutrition Value

BY MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Service Staff Writer

Good meat at low cost is part of our Canadian home defense economy. And beef presents greater variety in low cost cuts than any other meat.

New findings of scientists reveal meat is a complete source of protein which builds and repairs muscles and keeps firm flesh on the bones. Meat also contains essential vitamins, especially the Vitamin B group, which includes Vitamin B<sub>12</sub>, necessary for growth, appetite and protection against certain diseases.

Your butcher can offer many excellent and low cost cuts of beef. These include: chuck, shank, brisket, flank, plate, round, rump, and the so-called beef specialties, such as brains, heart, kidneys, liver, tripe and ox tails.

BEEFSTEAK PIE

Two pounds rump, pie paste, chopped onion, salt and pepper, sliced potatoes, butter or other fat, flour, egg.

Cut meat into strips 2 inches by 1 inch. Place in saucepan with bone and just cover with water. Simmer about 1 hour. Line sides of baking dish with pastry. Put in layer of rump strips with few very thin slices of onion; season. Add a layer of sliced raw potatoes dotted with bits of butter. Alternate these steak and potato layers until dish is full. Thicken gravy in saucepan with browned flour and pour into pie. Put on top pastry covering, brush with beaten egg. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) about 30 minutes or until quite brown.

Weekly Letter to Farmers

W. S. RICHARDSON, Assistant to Superintendent, Dominion Experimental Station, Lennoxville, Que.

From ancient times the plough has been one of the symbols of agriculture. In the old days, a crooked stick was used to stir the earth, while today our ploughs of iron turn the sod and leave the fields in a condition only dreamed of by the first farmer.

Matches and every farmer should take enough interest in the basis of his art to either take part in the match or at least attend and try to learn something that will help him produce better crops at home. Matches are usually held this month, because this is the season of the year in which most of the ploughing on the farm should be done.

ROUGH RIDERS AND ARGOS IN CRUCIAL TILT Undisputed Possession of First Place in Big Four at Stake on Ottawa Gridiron—Montreal Goes to Hamilton.

The East's leading football teams get all mixed up tomorrow in two games that should unscramble the picture somewhat and present a clearer view in looking for the section's champion.

The main battles are at Ottawa, where the champion Rough Riders confidently await the charge of Lew Hayman's double-blue brigade, and at Toronto, where Balmie Beach will see if it's true what they're saying about the Battery Boys from Sarnia.

Two tougher games to call in involve the four clubs which have yet to get a victory. The Tigers make a stand in their Hamilton lay against Montreal while the O.R.F.U. schedule against Camp Borden in the University of Western Ontario stadium at London.

The clash between Riders and Argos should be the day's feature. Hayman's Argos know they can't match the burly champions on the ground, and that Sammy Sward will outkick Jim Pollock or Earl Schick, so the prospect is that they'll try every diabolical play in a book filled with them to overcome these deficiencies.

Without a serious injury, the Riders hit the spot all primed to pick up just where they left off in eliminating the Toronto club last season. Their ground tanks, Tony Golub and Murray Griffin, especially, might find themselves surprised at the way this Argo line gives way at times.

Mr. J. L. Heath, of North Hatley, Mr. F. D. Heath, of Baie Comeau, and Mr. W. W. Heath, of Lennoxville, were visitors at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. W.M.S. MEETS IN RICHMOND CHURCH HALL

Women's Missionary Society of United Church of Richmond and Melbourne Hold Thanksgiving Meeting.

Richmond, Oct. 18.—The W.M.S. of the United Church of Richmond and Melbourne held their Thanksgiving meeting in College Street Church Hall. The meeting opened with the hymn, "Fight the Good Fight," after which Mrs. George Chamberlain took charge of the devotional period.

Following closely the topic, "The Life Abundant," she pointed out that it, and the spirit of Thanksgiving, are inseparable, and strengthened her remarks by quoting passages from St. John's gospel and verses from the hymns, "Jesus Thine Joy of Loving Hearts" and "Oh! Love that Will Not Let Me Go."

The business period followed and minutes of the September meeting were read by Mrs. Tanner. It was decided to hold the regular meetings on the second Monday of each month and final plans for the rummage sale were made. A committee was appointed to arrange and place donations.

The literary convener reminded the members that subscriptions to Missionary Monthly are due in November. The supply convener asked for a box of gifts to be sent to Columbia House before Christmas. The friendship convener reported four sick calls, eight friendly calls, two visits to "shut-ins" and letters written to hospital patients for September.

The study period was taken by Mrs. Chamberlain from "Men of Africa." Very interesting sketches were given by Rev. J. T. Tucker, D.D., on his experiences with the African people. Mrs. McRae spoke on the work done at the Currie Institute and the Means School for girls at Dondi. The need for more doctors for hospitals there and more missionaries, there being only thirteen to work among five hundred villages, was also stressed.

Thank-offerings were received from members present and left open until the end of October in order that those not in attendance might participate. The meeting closed with prayer and the Mizpah benediction.

"Air-blitz" or no "air-blitz", the BBC are carrying on and have recently enlarged their programme of transmissions to Canada. Every day approximately 6 hours of broadcasting will cross the Atlantic from the hub of the Empire. Not all these programmes will be carried locally — but all can be tuned in via short wave if you have a new Marconi receiver.

Overseas stations come in DIRECT—clear and strong—and Marconi super bandspreading eliminates complicated tuning. Keep abreast of world events with a new Marconi—visit your radio dealer and arrange for a demonstration. He will allow you a generous amount for your old set and extend liberal terms.

FIFTEEN CLASSES JUDGED AT HORSE SHOW

Large Crowd Attends First Showing Of Red Cross Horse Display

Demonstration by Platoon from Sherbrooke Fusilier Regiment, C.A.S.F., Highlights Interesting Programme—Sherbrooke Horses Collect Several Firsts—Jumping Events Popular.

Taking advantage of an opportunity to kill two birds with one stone, some 2,000 people filled the Exhibition Arena last night to view the opening night's performance of the Canadian Red Cross Horse Show.

Judging in fifteen classes was carried out last night by Donald Black, of Aubrey, Que., and C. E. Taylor, of Cookshire, and, in addition, a crack platoon from the Sherbrooke Fusilier Regiment, C.A.S.F., under the command of Lieut. Douglas Bradley, gave an exhibition of arm and foot drill.

In addition to ribbons, the winners in the various classes received cups and prizes donated by a number of local and out-of-town residents.

Victorious in the recent Regimental competition, the platoon from "C" Company of the local C.A.S.F. unit scored a distinct hit with the large crowd.

On their second appearance, however, the soldiers showed what they could do, and the smart manner in which they handled their rifles in arm drill and executed their various marching movements made a marked impression.

Several firsts were scored by Sherbrooke entries, Miss K. Goodfellow's Dainty Maid carried off the honors in the class for saddle pony under twelve hands, ridden by child twelve years and under.

Competition was keen in the jumping events, Lady Helen, entered by G. L. Bruck, of Montreal, won the performance jumps over course No. 3.

The detailed results follow:

Refuses Contract Of $3,500 To Handle N.H.L. Encounters

Except for Dispute with Bill Stewart, Former Manager of Black Hawks, National Hockey League Is Ready for Opening November 2—New Arrangement Regarding Signing of Players Made with C.A.H.A.

New York, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Except for a minor dispute affecting the National Hockey League's corps of referees, everything was in readiness today for the opening Nov. 2 of the League's 1940-41 season.

The last of the usual glut of pre-season business matters was dealt with yesterday at a meeting of the league Board of Governors, headed by President Frank Calder.

Stewart, in summer an umpire with the National Baseball League, has been at odds with the N.H.L. since last season and Manager Art Ross of Boston Bruins was delegated by the Board, at his own request, to attempt to reach a settlement.

Ross told his fellow Governors he believed Stewart acted hastily in rejecting the contract, and if he now wants to sign it he must say so.

The meeting authorized Calder to sign the new agreement with the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association under which the professional body will pay up to $500 for signing an amateur.

The sum of $250 will be paid to the C.A.H.A. or other amateur bodies affiliated with the International Hockey Association, when an amateur signs any professional contract, and an additional $250 if the player signs with one of the seven clubs of the N.H.L.

Calder decided that Black Hawks had a better claim to the services of Garnet Betts of Winnipeg than did Montreal Canadiens.
