REBELS CONTINUE GUATEMALA BATTLE

World News In Brief

Vienna — (Reuters) — Communist Hungary and Indonesia have concluded a trade and payments agreement, Budapest radio reported Monday. Hungary will send Indonesian machinery, electrical goods for industry, drugs and chemicals, metals and light industry products in return for rubber, tin, tea, coffee and pepper.

Newfane, Vt. — (AP) — Mrs. Ely Culbertson, wife of the famed bridge expert, was granted a divorce Monday on grounds of "intolerable severity." Windham court awarded Mrs. Culbertson, the former Dorothy Baehne, care and custody of their 20-month-old son, Alexander. Culbertson's first marriage also ended in divorce.

Kingston, N.Y. — (AP) — An employers group Monday night announced settlement of a one-day strike of AFL laborers and hod-carriers which had halted work on a 75-mile stretch of the New York state thruway. Terms were not announced, but it was learned that the union would be granted a 12 1/2-cent-an-hour wage increase it had sought.

Moscow — (Reuters) — F. Fomley Lord, British president of the Baptist World Alliance, declared Monday he was "pleasantly surprised to find young people and men at Baptist services in the Soviet Union." Lord is a guest of the Soviet Council of Evangelical Christian Baptists on "a purely religious and friendly visit."

Halifax — (AP) — Two men, each claiming the other was the driver of the death car, appeared in magistrate's court here Monday on separate manslaughter charges.

James Pelham and William Latter, both of nearby Herring Cove, were charged in connection with the death of 12-year-old Raymond Specht, killed while standing on the side of the road.

The case was continued to July 19.

Identify Builder Of Egyptian Tomb

Cairo — (Reuters) — The empty tomb of Sakkara, opened last week, was built nearly 5,000 years ago for Sekhem-Khet, one of the successors of Zoser, founder of the third dynasty of pharaohs, it was disclosed today.

His name was found stamped on four far seals lying in underground compartments of the tomb, in an unfinished pyramid.

Zakariah Ganeim, the Egyptologist who discovered the step pyramid in 1951, had hoped to find the mummy of an ancient pharaoh when the tomb was opened this week.

This bitter anti-climax to two years of work at Sakkara, 15 miles from Cairo, was regarded here as the greatest archaeological disappointment of the century.

But the excavations yielded a large number of vases and vessels and animal remains and threw new light on the architecture of pyramids.

Officials have announced that the tomb will be closed at the end of June and work resumed at the end of the 1954 summer season.

Fourteen Feared Dead In Record Rio Grande Flood

Laredo, Tex. — (AP) — Police in this storied border city hurriedly evacuated residents of low areas today in the face of the Rio Grande's greatest flood.

Police said an expected 40-foot crest would send flood waters boiling into the business section of this city of nearly 52,000 persons.

Across the steadily-rising, rampaging boundary river the twin Mexican city of Nuevo Laredo abandoned attempts to sandbag the levee. Workmen started moving everything possible, including the population, to higher ground.

Police expected the waters to envelop the already-closed international bridge at any moment.

Thousands of people on both sides of the U.S.-Mexico boundary fled to the hills. Nearly 100 miles north of the Rio Grande, in the rich oil-and-cattle country of west Texas, 14 persons were believed dead after floods swept through Ozona, Tex.

Flood states five to 15 feet higher than ever before were expected in the border cities today.

Big Damage Verdict For Columnist

New York — (AP) — Author Quentin Reynolds today won a tremendous cash award as well as a moral victory in a federal libel action against newspaper columnist Westbrook Pegler.

An award of $175,000 levied against Pegler, the Hearst Corporation and Hearst Consolidated Publications, Inc., was believed to be one of the largest, if not the largest libel award ever made in a U.S. court.

The jury also awarded Reynolds one dollar to compensate him for loss of earnings, damage to his reputation and mental anguish suffered over the past four years from a defamatory Pegler column on which the $500,000 suit was based.

Reynolds in the course of the seven-week case had claimed he lost a fortune in the magazines and entertainment fields because of the Pegler column.

Federal judge Edward Weinfeld in charging the jury declared the column, published in 1949, was defamatory and libelous in itself as a matter of law.

He ruled them to "use your common sense" in determining what compensation was due Reynolds for his principal claims of injury.

In effect, the jury which had been deliberating since noon Monday decided he was not injured gravely at all.

The $175,000 was awarded as punitive damages, which the judge had explained took in "actual malice, ill-will, spite, hatred, intent to injure" and was also designed to prevent repetition of the offense and serve as a warning to others.

For Pegler it marked the end of a carefully cherished claim that he has never been successfully sued for libel. Previous libel cases have been settled out of court with Pegler claiming he has never been assessed a penny in settlements.

The jury divided its $175,000 levy among the three defendants: $100,000 against Pegler; $50,000 against the Hearst Corporation, which distributes the Pegler column to 186 newspapers; and $25,000 against Hearst Consolidated Publications which publishes the local Pegler outlet, the New York Journal-American.

Actually, because of a protective clause in Pegler's contract, the Hearst interests and not Pegler will have to pay the fine levied against him.

There was an immediate motion by Pegler's lawyer to set aside the verdict on the grounds of excessive damages being granted. Judge Weinfeld who will hear the motion Friday, granted a 20-day stay in the award.

The jury also announced it was deadlocked on a counterclaim filed by Regier which alleged Reynolds had libeled him in a book review published in the New York Herald Tribune nine days before Pegler wrote his Nov. 29, 1949, column.

In Pegler's column, Reynolds said he was depicted as a pro-Communist, a nudist and a man so unfeeling he would propose to a widow on the way to bury her husband. He said Pegler attacked his Second World War career as a foreign correspondent for Collier's magazine, called him "yellow" and "an absentee war correspondent."

That column, Reynolds testified, ended his 17-year association with Collier's and cost him $25,000 a year, made him "dead" in radio and television work. He estimated this loss at $52,000 a year and was responsible for his being cold-shouldered in Hollywood where he once earned $100,000 a year.

But an International Boundary and Water Commission spokesman, after a plane flight over the river, said:

"How much the river will rise after this crest passes is anybody's guess."

Back of the picturesque border river's churning, debris-laden crest were shattered bridges, flooded towns, and washed-out railroads and highways. Thousands were forced from their homes, but—except for tragedy-ridden Ozona—there had been no loss of life reported.

The rains, some up to 22 inches, were spawned by a hurricane which lashed the Texas-Mexican gulf coast for 12 hours last Friday.

Ahead of the rushing floodwaters lay the great international Falcon dam, dedicated less than a year ago by the presidents of the United States and Mexico. It was expected to keep the damaging floodwaters from the lush vegetable and citrus-growing lower Rio Grande valley and its big population.

Demand unconditional surrender of new ruling military junta.

Tegucigalpa, Honduras — (AP) — Col. Carlos Castillo Armas' anti-Communist rebels kept up their fight today to overthrow the Guatemalan government after demanding the "unconditional surrender" of their country's new ruling military junta of top army officers.

The Guatemalan radio reported Monday afternoon that insurgent planes had bombed the capital. Then the station went off the air.

A communique from the rebel headquarters made no mention of the bombing, but earlier rebel broadcast had warned that air strikes would be renewed unless Col. Carlos Diaz, the new "provisional president" and head of the junta, gave up.

Diaz, former army chief of staff, took over Sunday night following the army-forced resignation of left-wing president Jacobo Arbenz Guzman. The new military regime promptly outlawed the Communist party, but this failed to placate the rebels driving toward the capital from the Honduras border.

Twelve Hurt In Wreck At St. Agathe

St. Agathe, Que. — (AP) — A slow-motion collision between a passenger train and a freight caused injuries to 12 persons near here Monday night, but none was reported in serious condition.

The Canadian Pacific Railway trains crunched head-on north of this Laurentian town. The locomotives and several cars left the rails but all the passenger coaches remained upright.

A railway official reported that four of the 27 passengers, including a 75-year-old woman, aboard the north-bound train were injured, and two more taken to hospital. Five train crew members and three mail clerks also suffered hurts.

Train conductor Andrien Montreuil, 37, and baggageman Emurson Bullard, 39, were reported to have suffered fractures. Another trainman injured was E. W. Stenson, 58-year-old freight engineer.

Many of the passengers suffered merely a shaking up and superficial bruises. Miss Jovite Clement, 75, of Labelle, Que., suffered from shock.

The passenger train — No. 457 had left Montreal and was heading for Mont Laurier, Que., stopping at most way stations, when the accident occurred about 7 p.m. EDT. It had not reached full speed after stopping here when it collided with the freight.

All aboard were residents of Quebec province.

Railwaymen said it was fortunate the accident occurred near this town, where help was readily available, rather than in some isolated part of the Laurentians.

There was no panic among the passengers. Three St. Agathe doctors hurried to the scene.

Cause of the collision was not immediately determined, but one source said the freight had some heavy machinery switched to the main line.

Lethbridge, Alta. — (AP) — A 24-year-old veteran of the Korean War and father of two children was hanged today for the sex-killing of a housekeeper 15 months ago in Calgary.

Robert James Sim was reported to have showed no signs of emotion as he walked to the gallows for the murder of Mrs. Ghada Middlesteadt, 55-year-old YMCA housekeeper whose brutally-beaten body was found, March 8, 1953, near railway tracks in east Calgary.

He was pronounced dead 15 minutes after the trap was sprung at 12:15 a.m. MST. He spent his last hours in meditation with Capt. Samuel Nahmire of the Salvation Army and wrote letters to his mother and young wife.

Sim was convicted of murder Feb. 9 but a stay of execution was granted to allow for appeal. The appeal was based mainly on evidence of three psychiatrists to "alcoholic amnesia." But the Alberta appeal court ruled there was no evidence of insanity or drunkenness.

Washington — (AP) — Senator Pat McCarran (Dem.-Nev.) urged that the United States sever diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia and stop "the pretext" of dealing with it "as a recognized member of the diplomatic family of the world." Ending diplomatic relations with Russia, McCarran said "will give a thrill to millions of human beings, terribly tired of waiting, who are the victims of Communist aggression."

Capital Has Warm Welcome For Churchill

By WARREN ROGERS, JR.
Washington — (AP) — They came by the hundreds to have a look at him—perhaps the last—and he obliged with all the rugged grace of a mellowed old bulldog.

The cheered and applauded from the picket fence of the White House to the sleek lobby of the Hotel Statler to the austere gates of the British embassy.

"Attaboy, Churchill!" they cried, forgetting his knighthood, his 79 years and the decorum due the Prime Minister of Great Britain.

They cheered the man and the symbol—the living pink and white, brassy-sipping, cigar-chomping legend of British-American solidarity.

"I am quite certain," he told them at a luncheon press conference Monday, "that half the evils of the world can be prevented by going hand-in-hand together, and, if necessary, standing shoulder to shoulder."

Sir Winston had ignored his cold meat and potato salad luncheon to prepare his replies to the written questions submitted. His shell glasses slipped halfway down his nose, his lips pursed in concentration, he read the questions and sorted them in stacks in front of him.

A crowd of newspaper men and woman applauded and laughed as Churchill chuckled through another of what he called "one of my regular luncheons with the Washington press corps."

As he worked through the questions, he quoted from a speech he had made years before in England. Quoting himself, he confided, was a good idea. It not only saved you the trouble of making up something new—"also it shows what a far-sighted politician you are."

He also gave out with some political philosophy: "I am not going to choose between Republicans and Democrats; I want the lot."

"Politicians who can't have unpopularity are really not worth having. They look like it for a time, but afterwards you will find that you have had much the worst of the deal."

There was general agreement that he had lost none of his power over words—nor his charm with people.

He looked indestructible. But many watching him recalled he had already had two strokes and would be 80 next Dec. 3.

Churchill Speech Seen As Bracer For Geneva Parley

London — (Reuters) — Europe watched Geneva expectantly today to see whether the Eisenhower-Churchill meetings in Washington will breathe new life into the dragging Indo-China peace talks.

Action at Geneva has been stalled during the White House conference.

In London, the British cabinet met to study reports on the four-day meeting between President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Churchill.

The British press was overjoyed at the results of the talks—seen here as a diplomatic victory for Churchill—but other European reaction was mixed.

French Premier Mendes-France said he read the joint statement on the talks with "much satisfaction." The references to "Indo-China" would give France "a very valuable support in the negotiations it is pursuing," he said.

Earlier, however, Mendes-France declared the statement will not change his plans to reach a com-

Churchill Urges Patient, Friendly Examination Of Real Russian Intentions

By C. R. BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Washington — (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill today concludes his talks with President Eisenhower after recommending to the American people "a patient, cool, friendly examination of what the Russian intentions are."

There will be a joint statement today after he says farewell to the President and leaves for Ottawa for a 24-hour visit.

But it is unlikely anything in the statement will be more dramatic or significant than Sir Winston's remarks at a loudly enthusiastic press luncheon Monday.

There the aging Prime Minister threw off his years, presented the wartime Churchill to an audience of over 800 working journalists, radio and picture people and urged that all steps be taken to seek a peaceful co-existence with the Communist world.

But at the same time he said he and President Eisenhower had agreed to start planning for defense of India-China, should current peace efforts by France fail, and for preservation of the peace if a cease-fire is achieved.

Meanwhile he emphasized his belief that the great hope of world peace was in the maintenance of "the unbreakable unity of Britain and the United States."

Sir Winston and Foreign Secretary Eden are to fly to Ottawa this afternoon in a RCAF plane in company with External Affairs Minister Pearson.

Sir Winston and his party were entertained at the British embassy at dinner. Today they will pay a final call at the White House and leave after lunch for Ottawa.

In his speech and his replies to questions at the press luncheon Sir Winston said:

Temperature of Anglo-American relations is "normal." He believes in the "master thought" behind the Locarno Pact type of defensive agreement. The Locarno Pact of 1925 failed because the United States was not a participant.

The Russian people have more to gain by a quarter of a century of peaceful development in their own country than they would by pressing matters to a point where we would all be led into a situation which baffles human imagination in its terror but which, I am sure, would leave us victorious—victorious on a heap of ruins."

He still believes that a meeting with Eisenhower and the Soviet premier would be a good thing if properly planned and timed, and would not say what reaction he got from Eisenhower on this subject.

Chou En-Lai Continuing Burma Talks

Rangoon — Reuters — Chou En-Lai, visiting premier of Communist China, paid a secret call of homage today to the golden pagoda of Buddha on a hill overlooking Rangoon.

The call, seen only by a few worshippers because of press secrecy, came before Chou's second day of intensive talks with Burmese leaders. He will return home tonight.

Chou removed his shoes, as the usual mark of respect, before entering the high-spired shwe dagon pagoda, a shrine for Buddhist pilgrims throughout the world.

Monday night, the Chinese leader conferred for 3 1/2 hours with Burmese Premier U Nu. Officials refused to comment on the nature of their talk. Nu was expected to suggest a friendship pact on the lines of those Burma has with India, Indonesia and Pakistan.

The Burmese newspaper New Times, which often reflects the official attitude, said today that closer relations between Asian countries and Red China did not mean the free countries were "abandoning their neutralist stand for the Bamboo Curtain."

If Chou's visit led to the formation of a non-aggression pact so much the better. "It may pave the way for other states like Japan to make an overture of friendship to the people's republic," it said.

Rebels Take Indo-China Strongpoint

Saigon, Indo-China — (AP) — The French today announced abandonment of a strongpoint in central Viet Nam and admitted two days of Vietnamese ambushes had nullified their withdrawing troops badly.

The high command said French and Viet Nam forces pulled out last Friday from An Khe, 250 miles northeast of Saigon and 40 miles west of the China sea coast. It had been in French hands since 1946.

The French said their forces suffered "serious losses" in an all-day fight with the Communist-led Viet Cong and admitted two days of Vietnamese ambushes had nullified their withdrawing troops badly.

Damage Action For $54,200 Arising From Accident Being Heard By Jury

Hearings started yesterday morning before Justice William Mitchell and an all English jury in a $54,200 civil action suit brought against the Nicolet Asbestos Company by George Popoff, of Richmond.

The suit arises out of an accident which occurred on February 23 of last year when Mr. Popoff's 1948 jeep station wagon collided with an identical station wagon driven by Victor Hum, 27, of Windsor Mills and Richmond. Mr. Hum died in the accident and Mr. Popoff has been hospitalized ever since. The deceased was a geologist for the Nicolet Asbestos Company and was believed to be returning to Montreal at the time of the accident.

Passengers in Mr. Popoff's car were his wife, who was severely injured and Jerome Hayes, of Richmond, who was badly shaken up.

According to testimony given from his stretcher bed, Popoff, an interior decorator, said that he left for Sherbrooke at 8 o'clock on the morning of February 23, accompanied by his wife and Mr. Hayes and it was on the return trip that the accident occurred at approximately noon. Mr. Popoff, under questioning from Maurice Delorme, Q.C., representing the Nicolet Asbestos Company, stated that he saw Hum's car approaching from a distance of 300 to 400 feet, on a right hand, downhill curve going towards Richmond.

He stated that he tried to keep on the right hand side of the road and after the accident he did not remember anything that happened as he was knocked unconscious.

Jerome Hayes testified that he was sitting on the extreme right hand side of the front seat, and Mrs. Popoff was sitting in the middle. He said that the road was "bumpy all over." His testimony at the coroner's inquest, which was held the same day of the accident, was also submitted and in this Mr. Hayes testified that the car in which he was riding went over two bumps and deviated to the left. Both cars hit on the respective left sides.

Under cross examination from F. F. Barnard, Mr. Hayes said that he did not remember making such a statement at the inquest. However since he signed it he admitted that it should be true.

He was also asked if he remembered stating, shortly after the accident, that it had been caused by a blowout. He answered no. Mr. Hayes also gave a signed statement to a insurance investigator which was also submitted as evidence.

Dr. H. E. Bayne gave evidence of the extent of Mr. Popoff's injuries and the treatment he has undergone thus far, which has included two operations on his leg, which was badly fractured. He was asked by the defence counsel to submit a detailed account of his professional services rendered thus far.

Dr. Bayne stated that he would estimate Mr. Popoff's earning capacity loss at 33 per cent, after his full recovery from his injuries.

Evander Veilleux and Guy Blanchette are representing the plaintiff and Maurice Delorme and Edmund Barnard are representing Nicolet Asbestos Company.

Confirmation of the dates of the concerts for the next season have been received from New York. Paul Fortier, president of the Community Concerts Association has announced.

Leading off the concert season at the Granada Theatre will be the attractive recording foursome, the Philharmonic Piano Quartet, who will give a performance on October 12. This versatile group, two men and two ladies, have made many recordings and numerous concert appearances both in the United States and Canada.

Lois Marshall, the popular Canadian soprano, comes to town on Tuesday, February 15. And on March 29 a joint recital will be given by the husband and wife team of Eugene List, pianist, and Carroll Glenn, violinist. Both have given performances in Sherbrooke before but in individual recitals.

Roland Savoie Is New President Of Lions Club

Roland Savoie took over as president of the local Lions Club yesterday noon at the weekly dinner meeting held in the Picardie Room of the New Sherbrooke. He replaces Jean-Louis Gauthier.

Rene Robert was elected first vice-president, while Wilfrid Routhier accepts the position of second vice-president. Secretary will be Joe Begin, one of the older members of the club, while Guy Brousseau, a relatively new member, takes over as treasurer. The formal installation of the officers will be made next week.

President Roland Savoie read a letter asking for a donation to the Convention Fund, which will help send a float and band representing the province of Quebec at the Lions International Convention, which will be held in New York some time in July. To raise funds a field day was suggested, and Cecil Dunn volunteered to accept the chairmanship of the committee.

There being no further business the meeting was adjourned.

Final Rites For Rudolph Becker Held Yesterday

Funeral services for Rudolph Becker, husband of Amelia Becker, who died in his seventy-fifth year at the Sherbrooke hospital Friday, were held yesterday afternoon at St. Peter's Church. Rev. Canon Russell F. Brown officiating.

Mr. Becker was survived by his wife, two brothers, Phillip, of London, England, and Paul, of Sarnia, Ont., two daughters, Phyllis (Mrs. Everett E. Conley) of Kingston, Ont., and Fannie Elizabeth (Mrs. Maurice Biron) of Sherbrooke, and five grandchildren.

Born in London, England, Mr. Becker was a veteran of the the South African War, and came to Canada in 1903, serving with the Prince Edward Island Regiment in the First World War. He was married in 1904, and joined the staff of the Sun Life Assurance Company in Sherbrooke with whom he remained until his retirement in 1942.

Mr. Becker was a member of St. Peter's Church where he served a term as warden, a former Rotarian and member of the Sherbrooke Curling Club.

Bearers at the funeral were: Albert White, Albert Welter, Dr. T. J. Quintin, Edward Bradley, Carl Sors and Walter Sutherland.

Among those attending the service were: Thomas Oak, Fred Webster, Frank Pearson, Frank Cotterell, Lewis Rosenbloom, Forest Keene, Carl Ross, D. C. MacCrae, G. Thompson, William Richardson, Norton Baldwin, H. B. Johnston, W. H. Bradley, Q.C., Clarence Blake, Douglas Stevenson, Clifford Bryant, James Wark, Clinton Soles, D. J. Salls, Stuart Saunders, Ed Loomis, H. Marasine, Tom Keeley, Mr. and Mrs. S. McCaw, Mr. and Mrs. H. Grundy, Guy D. Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Bishop, Rev. F. R. Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Soles, E. J. Marshall, Lee Watson, and a representation from the local Sun Life office.

Ivan Dugre Officially Invested New President Of Local Optimist Club

Members of the incoming executive of the Sherbrooke Optimist Club were sworn in last night at the regular weekly meeting by governor-elect of District 28, Wendell Aske. Ivan Dugre officially took over his duties as new president of the club succeeding Paul Nadeau, who has held the same office for the past year.

In his final speech as president, Mr. Nadeau outlined the activities of the club during his term of office. First he mentioned that the club had enjoyed a very healthy financial year and they numbered among their accomplishments such things as the Optimist-sponsored hockey team, the Christmas parcels which were distributed by the club during the Yuletide season, the Knott's Gang Peanut Day and the Baseball week which was held during the month of April. Aside from these accomplishments, which all went to help their friend, "The Boy," they had numerous other activities such as the Sports Guide and the scrapbook, which brought their second prize in the international competition, at the recent convention in Houston and they numbered several social gatherings throughout the year.

The formal swearing-in was done by Wendell Aske who told the members of the new executive that they were taking on a great responsibility and they "had so much to live up to." Next year District 28 is sponsoring the international convention which will be held in Montreal. The governor-elect also announced that the Sherbrooke club were sponsoring a new club in Lennoxville in the near future.

In officially taking over office, President Ivan Dugre assured the governor-elect that the few words that he said would be a great help in the coming year and he also promised that the members would back him up to their utmost in any endeavor that the club undertakes.

He also congratulated outgoing President Paul Nadeau for the fine work that he has done throughout the past year in leading the Sherbrooke Optimist Club to one of their most prosperous years since their inception seven years ago.

Among the guests present were Hugh Crochetiere, Lieut. Governor of Montreal; Gerry McManamy, president-elect of the Rotary Club; Roland Savoie, president-elect of the Lions Club; Jack Dunfield, president of the Kiwanis Club, and Alderman Tony Pinard, who was representing Mayor Emile Levesque, and Robert Ricard, representing the Richelieu Club. Henry Mailhot, president of the Waterbury Optimist Club, was also in attendance along with several members of the same club.

The members of the new executive beside President Dugre, are: George Garand, Ken Ross and Paul Allard, all vice-presidents, Casey Vincent, Jules Dufour and Frank Edwards.

Severe Damage From Storm In Sutton District

Sutton, June 29.—Saturday's severe electric storm, which struck Sutton about nine o'clock in the evening, was accompanied by high winds and cloudbursts of rain and hail and in the space of one hour had left in its wake damage estimated at thousands of dollars within a radius of ten miles of the village.

Culverts and highways were washed out in several places, while many hay crops and gardens have been ruined. The highway between Sutton and West Brome remained closed until nearly noon on Sunday. Electricity was cut off for a few hours, but little damage was done to communication lines.

Accidents which might have ended in tragedy to four Sutton people were also the result of the storm. Mrs. Fordyce Ingalls, her daughter, Dianne, and Mrs. Sheldon Davis, were returning home from Cowansville in the Ingalls' light truck, when on the West Brome road the pavement over a culvert gave way under the wheels and the vehicle plunged down. The force of the water was so strong that the truck was turned around and carried down stream. Fortunately the passengers escaped with no injury except to their clothing. The truck, however, is a complete loss.

At about the same time, Robert Derrick, who was driving near Sutton Junction, turned off for another car and plunged off the side of the road in a spot where he had washed away. Mr. Derrick was not injured and the car was found to be in condition to proceed under its own power once it was back on the road again.

Perhaps the most severe property damage in the village was to the ice storage house, where the water rushed in, carrying away the sawdust packing and damaging a large portion of the ice. Firemen and Provincial and local police, as well as road crews, were on the alert all night in an effort to avert tragedy which might result from one of the worst storms in this vicinity in several years.

Children's Ball Game Brings Two Local Residents Before Court Of Sessions

A wedding anniversary, which was marred by a fight between two neighbours, was brought before Judge Redmond Hayes in Court of the Sessions of the Peace yesterday morning, exactly a year after the incident. Roland Charest will certainly have two reasons for remembering June 28, no matter what year it happens to be.

The action against Charest was taken by Edouard Auger. Both men lived on 8th Avenue in Sherbrooke.

The cause of the fight was the fact that Charest kept a ball belonging to some children playing in Auger's yard. According to evidence given at yesterday's hearing, this particular ball had been causing Charest considerable trouble as it has been thrown into his yard from Auger's several times and the accused had warned the children to keep the ball in their own yard or else they would lose it. Charest was working at the time on a truck owned by Paul Emile Gendron.

The warnings proved fruitless so Charest carried out his threat and put the ball in his pocket. This act brought Auger to the fence that separates the two houses. He asked if Charest had the ball and he replied yes. He also added that if Auger wanted the ball he would have to come and get it.

Both men then went to the front of their respective houses, after a few threats had been exchanged, and the fight was on.

Mrs. Leopold Bernier, who occupied the house opposite the two men, testified that Auger charged onto the sidewalk and several blows were exchanged. It appears that Charest got the best of his opponent after several clinches.

No date has been set for judgement.

Tree-Trimming Work Fatal To Waterloo Man

Waterloo, June 29.—A tree trimming job yesterday resulted in the death by electrocution of Rene Pouliot, 20, Shaw Street in Waterloo. Mr. Pouliot was married and had one child.

The accident occurred yesterday at noon when Mr. Pouliot was trimming branches around his home on Shaw street, with two brothers-in-law, Orel and Roland Prive. He was guiding the branches while the others cut them. One cut, wet, branch fell on a high tension wire and made a direct contact with Mr. Pouliot's hand, causing him to fall to the ground.

Doctors M. Katz and Leopold Larose were summoned to the scene along with men from the Southern Canada Power Company. Leopold Ledoux brought some resuscitation equipment and Police Chief G. Tremblay was also called. They tried to revive the man for an hour and a half before he was pronounced dead.

The inquest will be held today.

HIT BY BUS

Arthur Carrier, 64, of 69 Gillespie street suffered a fractured thigh when hit by a bus near his home yesterday afternoon.

He was taken to the Hotel Dieu by employees of the Larabee bus service where his condition is reported as good. He is under the care of Dr. Daigneault.

Churchill The Surprising

Prime Minister Churchill's Woodford constituents had assurances the other day that Sir Winston had no intention of retiring before the next general election due, normally, in 1956. John Harvey, acting chairman of the Conservatives of the riding, did qualify the statement by remarking that it was subject to the "natural limitation of health and strength."

Washington reporters have declared the British Prime Minister looked in better shape this time than he did when he last visited the United States. They found a younger-looking Churchill. The fact, coming after much talk of illness and decrepitude, was patently a surprise.

Sir Winston has been a storehouse of surprises throughout his long political career. So it may not be inapt to wonder just how much longer he will occupy No. 10 Downing Street. It is not likely he will follow in the steps of the late Mr. King, who was equally reluctant to resign his post of prime minister but retained his seat in the House, a retention some friends thought a mistake and which Mr. King may have regretted.

One could hardly believe there would be any wonder in the Churchill mind as to what he would do in the event of retirement. The Prime Minister's literary interests alone would fill the gap. The thought does remind one, though, of the Maritimes man, long noted as a parliamentarian and celebrated for his energy, who, reportedly, was offered the post of lieutenant-governor of his province, with its five-year term, when he was in the age neighborhood of four score years.

"That's all very well" was this statesman's reply to the invitation, according to a probably apocryphal story, "but what will I do afterwards?"

The "come-backability" of the man who led Britain to victory makes one almost wonder if the same speculation about his retirement will not be rife in 1955 and in 1956!

Sir Winston feels that he is needed more than ever, especially after the Geneva setbacks. May his hands be strengthened for his tasks.

No man in the modern history of Britain has earned the right more to himself decide the duration of his public service.

No Reluctance To Adopt Girls

Girl babies are apparently coming into their own in an adoptive way — at least in the Montreal district. The annual report of a society for the adoption and protection of infants shows that an exactly equal number of boys and girls, 602 of each sex, were placed in homes for adoption during the year. Legal adoptions were completed for 485 girls and for 447 boys.

This is a far cry from the days when small girls were considered a drug on the adoption market. It reminds one of the fact that, especially in earlier years, girl infants in eastern countries were so much at a discount that they were frequently thrown into a river or simply left to perish.

It is now realized, for one thing, that girls, as a rule, are easier to bring up than boys. They cause less trouble and are less demanding; are able to amuse themselves easier. And, as they grow up, girls can help the mother much more.

In the old days "it's a girl," caused a good many eagerly-waiting fathers to make wry faces. Today, hospitals report, many an expectant father expresses a preference for a girl. Which may simply be a sign that the pioneer days have passed and an era of more balanced perspective has arrived.

Moderation In Fishing

Not long ago seven visiting American fishermen were caught in Northern Ontario with 565 fish packed in ice in a false floor in the trunk of their motor vehicle. This number was more than six times their legal limit of 84. The fishermen were fined but not before they had vowed, according to a game warden, to tell their friends back home to "stay away from Ontario."

It happened that the seven visitors came from Ohio. They might have hailed from any part of the United States or Canada for fish-hogs are not limited to any one state or section.

The fishing season will soon be at its height in the Eastern Townships. Certain lakes have been re-stocked over the years, and especially, recently by enterprising fish and game associations with the co-operation of the provincial government. These organizations believe in planting as well as reaping; in stocking for the future while they fish today.

The greediness of a large number of "fish-hogs" could do much to offset these efforts.

Some of the Townships' waters already have the reputation of being fished out. Others are still prolific. They afford pleasure not only to local fishermen but have also a large share in bringing visitors.

A little consideration on the part of Townshippers and visitors alike will help to keep the angling reputation of our district. Those who wish to be home-arriving Santa Claus should restrict their gifts and not include illegal quantities of fish or game.

A Little Difficult

The Stanstead Journal, in a recent editorial, entitled "An Oversight — No Doubt," remarked: "One of our well-known daily papers devoted considerable space recently on its editorial page, complimenting our schools on their fine year books. We think they overlooked one of the finest when they failed to mention Stanstead College. The College Annual has been a masterpiece along this line for about half a century."

The Journal went on to note that Stanstead College had the misfortune to lose its entire magazine in the explosion and fire which destroyed the Lennoxville Press Building; that everything had to be rewritten and that the Stanstead annual was due to appear any day.

The Record has run such an editorial-page series, necessarily incomplete, on "some" Eastern Townships reviews which have made their appearance recently. It is a little difficult to understand how it was considered an oversight on our part to fail to include a magazine which had not appeared in print.

Press Comment

THERE SHOULD BE MORE OF THIS

The Ottawa Journal. When one night Mr. George Drew, Conservative leader, spoke to the Windsor Chamber of Commerce, the man who introduced him was that captain of the Liberal party, Mr. Paul Martin. And we need not doubt that Paul Martin, who has a way and tongue with him, did his part well and gracefully.

Perhaps we should have more of this. All well and proper that in politics we should have the sharp sword of controversy, dissent with conviction, but that does not mean that our politicians should not sometimes appear publicly together, reveal a measure of civility, show that in essentials they have a common aim.

One of its results, too, we feel sure, would be a regard for politicians as a class which now is not as high as it should be.

TOO FEW MYSTERIES

London Press Press. A party of British scientists has returned to Calcutta after a journey into the farthest depths of the Himalayas in search of the fabulous "Abo-minable Snowman" whose gigantic footprints have often been reported. Leaders of the party found no "Snowman" but say they are convinced that some huge beast does live somewhere within the valleys of the Himalayas. We are glad to hear this because there are too few mysteries left in the world today and too few heroic adventures beckoning. Even "darkest Africa" is being exposed to the white man's insatiable science. About the only secrets that elude us are those of the test tube, the microbe and the inter-planetary travel, quite a formidable challenge.

An Unexpected Ending

Editor's Note: A short story with plenty of human interest and an unexpected ending appears in this year's Mitre, the student publication of Bishop's University. It is from the pen of Carl MacCallum and is reproduced here:

VILAS

A bent, mole-like structure of a man — Vilas M. Tate. A human coagulation of repressions, frustrations and open submission to his betters, who happened to be anyone with a barking voice and crushing glance.

Vilas Tate never admitted in all his thirty-seven loyal years at the plant office that his middle name was Marmaduke. If anyone asked him what the "M" represented he was going to give a streamlined answer like "Marty" or "Mugsy" with a smug twisted smile. That was the way the celluloid heroes at the Bijou did — but no one ever asked.

He disliked his work which forced him to sit Bob Cratchet-like eight hours a day in his cubicle. He wanted to leave but where could he go? What else could he do? Only three more years to wait for the pension. Then he could retire on his weekly contributions and squirm out from under the thumb of Mr. Dalton, Big Voice of the Upper Office. How he hated that man who called him upstairs several times a month for the sole purpose of receiving pleasure from watching him cringe. Mr. Dalton would issue a barrage of disparaging remarks about Tate's work and character, loud enough so that those in the outer office could hear. The result produced an echo of servile snickers that fell cuttily on those stooped shoulders, and they sagged just a little more.

One Thursday a large air-mail letter came for Mr. Tate. He opened it inquiringly and began to read. The shock made him slightly sick with stunned joy. Now he could quit his job tomorrow if he felt like it, and he did! His first impulse was to spread the news, but no, he thought. Tomorrow he would make the announcement with studied vengeance and superiority.

That evening after a bachelor supper of rye bread, cucumbers and tea he took the calendar off the wall and began to write on the back with a pencil stub. This was his inauguration speech for the most exciting chapter in his life. There were to be no slip-ups in what he was going to tell the boss in the morning.

Friday morning V. M. Tate sauntered into the Upper Office noticeably late (through the front door, mind you!), sporting his go-to-funeral suit. Voluminous clouds of smoke trailed behind him from a cigarette, his first since he was fifteen.

Without knocking, he entered Dalton's office, leaving the door open. "What are you doing up here?" asked Dalton, incredulous.

Gaining confidence Tate sneered "I quit," in the best Alan Ladd tradition. Quickly, in a shaky manner of practised superiority, the tale of the inheritance of his uncle's prairie farm and oil rights was told. Proof in the form of the lawyer's letter was haughtily displayed.

"Yes, I remember you mentioning this man," said the manager, very seriously. Then, with a bark like a St. Bernard he burst out laughing, spraying the large blotter on his desk with flecks of spittle as he fought for air so he could laugh some more. The swivel chair squeaked rhythmically as he shook. Vilas looked on owl-eyed, his confidence gone.

"Boy, are you gullible!" chanted "I-came-up-from-the-bottom" Dalton through the last few trickles of laughter. "I happen to be your J. P. Botts, Q.C." A friend of mine re-addressed the letter to you from out west. You don't mind, eh, Tate? After all, it's just a joke." Again the liquid hissing sound of air exhaled through clenched teeth as the annoying laugh erupted. A cadenza of supporting snorts drifted in from the eavesdroppers in the outer office.

"I won't fire you Tate, you're a good morale builder," chuckled Dalton. Now seriously, "But you've wasted enough time this morning, get back to work."

Naked to the derisive glances of the obsequious prisses and yesmen, Vilas shuffled through the office and descended the stairs. His mind was numbed with thoughts of his eager stupidity and the cruel humor of the manager. He mounted to his perch on the stool, blinked, picked up his pen and began scratching away as the four cubicle walls shrank in about him.

What Other Papers Say

CANINE LOYALTY

Windsor Star

The loyalty of a dog to a man long has been regarded as the epitome of the relationship between animals and men. And the loyalty of a good dog to a good man often is much deeper and more lasting than the loyalty of man to man.

There have been countless examples of this, but one of the finest is being commemorated by a medal bestowed England by the National Canine Defence League on a collie sheep dog, His master, a shepherd, disappeared on the moors late last year. Three months later, when the body was found, the collie was still beside him — emaciated and weak from hunger but too loyal to leave.

When we compare that to the recent case in Northern Ontario when a fine dog was found chained to a tree in the woods, having died of starvation, it makes us shudder to think what kind of a master that dog had.

"NOT UNTIL THE MOON TURNS BLUE"

The New York Times makes this ringing affirmation: "There will be no deep conflict between this country and Britain: Not until Moscow adopts the Golden Rule as its sole policy, not until the moon turns blue — and not then."

This we must all believe. And believe it does not mean, need not mean, and must not mean that Britain and the British Commonwealth must always accept the U.S. point of view; always, as is inevitable when men are free, there will be approach to different things in different ways. But this different approach, this espousal of different remedies for the world's unease will never be permitted to bring the fateful consequence which the London Economist this week described graphically: "If the Grand Alliance goes the way will be nothing left for any of us but to say our prayers."

DEATHTRAPS

Toronto Telegram

Two boys aged three and four, cousins, were found dead a few days ago in an old refrigerator, left a few hours earlier in the yard of a junk dealer in New London, Conn. Unable to open the door from the inside, they had suffocated. This year's list of such fatalities almost began in February, when a boy was trapped for 18 hours at Toledo, Ohio, but survived. Several Ontario municipalities have passed by-laws prohibiting anyone from leaving iceboxes outdoors where children have access to them, unless the locks are removed. Reeve Hall, upholding North York's enactment, said 25 children in Canada and the U.S. had suffocated in iceboxes in 1953. Bylaw or not, parents and dealers and everyone else concerned ought to do their part to halt this needless waste of life.

FUN FOR MOSQUITOES

A localite had a few friends in one evening not long ago to witness some special event on television. The lights were all out. A couple of the guests complained of being bothered by mosquitoes. "Don't worry," said the host. "I'll fix that in a jiffy." He went out to the darkened kitchen and secured what he thought was one of those insect bombs, with which he sprayed the living room quite freely, squirting quantities of the stuff here and there with abandon. After the TV show was over, lights turned up on a strange scene. What was supposed to be an insect bomb had contained aluminum paint. The refurbishing job cost a reported $800!

blame. Some of the best eating places are small establishments where a good housewife, who happens also to be a good cook, is in charge. Often these meals put to shame those dished up by many so-called "professionals." Of the home-made variety, they are appetizing, filling and well served.

Some of the worst meals are in restaurants which are professional in status but which are known mainly for their ability to ruin good food.

THE WRECKER

Christian Science Monitor "Unsuccessful marriage" would be a more accurate term than divorce in any discussion of domestic difficulties. Divorce is but the surface symptom, the recordable effect of what often are many underlying causes. And the grounds given for divorce reflect the statutes of the state of residence as often as they state the actual facts.

For instance, "general indignities" is more likely to be offered as the grounds (where divorce laws permit) when something much uglier is the cause. On the other hand, in the few states where law recognizes only the ugliest grounds (as adultery in New York) the divorce statistics may present a deceptively solid picture. In some states drunkenness of itself is not a legal ground for divorce.

The "allegations" presented in support of the legal "grounds" come nearer to disclosing the facts. And a recent study of such allegations presents an alarming index to the frequency with which excessive drinking breaks up family ties.

Of 1,434 divorces analyzed by the Philadelphia Bar Association excessive drinking appeared as a causal factor in more than 300.

This same sample was further analyzed by Prof. William H. Kephart of the University of Pennsylvania. He found that drunkenness was alleged more frequently than any other reason except desertion and indignities — both legal grounds, often used to cover a multitude of sins. He found also that social groupings whose divorce records show a high incidence of excessive drinking also show a high incidence of divorce on whatever grounds. And other studies of desertion and of the occasions of family quarrels (the stuff of which divorces are made) more than bear out the Philadelphia findings.

Manifestly drink can wreck homes as well as cars.

Jacoby On Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY

BIDDING IS GOOD, BUT OH, THE PLAY

The bidding of today's hand was very good, but that's more than I'm willing to say for the play. South's opening bid of two no-trump shows balanced distribution, every suit stopped, and a count of 22 to 24 points.

North, with 10 points in high cards, knew that the combined count was from 32 to 34 points. Even though 33 points is usually needed for a slam, North hoped that his five-card suit and his two aces would be good enough material for the slam.

West opened the deuce of clubs, wisely declining to lead away from any high cards. Declarer saw that he had 11 tricks in high cards and that he could make his slam contract if any finesse succeeded.

After some thought, declarer won the first trick in dummy and finessed the queen of hearts. This lost to the king, and back came another club. South ran the rest of the clubs, ending in dummy, and wondered whether to finesse the ten of hearts or try the finesse of the queen of spades.

He finally decided to finesse the queen of spades on the theory that East was likely to have one of the two missing kings. This finessed also, and South was set at his slam contract.

The contract was, of course, ice cold with proper play. Declarer should run all our four clubs to begin with, discarding the low spade from his hand. He then takes two diamonds, with the king and the nine, thus stripping out all the clubs and diamonds from the two defenders' hands. Having thus set the stage declarer leads a low heart from the dummy and finesesses the ten. South doesn't much care whether the finesse wins or loses, since even though West can win the trick, he is compelled to return a heart or a spade. Either return gives declarer a free finesse for his twelfth trick.

MISTAKE FOR BLANKET

Fort William Times-Journal. A young man was trying to thumb a ride on the highway not far from Toronto. He had had a blowout and wanted to get to a garage for help. None would stop. Finally in desperation he lay down on the road, believing that such a stunt would stop a car. The driver of the next car thought his human form was an old blanket on the road. The young man was killed instantly.

Silly? Maybe. But we prefer to think of the young man as a victim of the modern trend of speed and urgency. To get fast action, impulsively he adopted a measure he believed would bring him what he wanted.

Americans Strong Favorites To Monopolize Ladies' Tennis At Wimbledon; "Little Mo" Rated Tops

Wimbledon, England.—(P)—The girls have the Wimbledon spotlight all to themselves today and all knowing people figure champion Maureen Connolly will lead a quartet of Americans into the semi-finals of the all-England tennis championships.

It will be the biggest upset of the tourney if she doesn't. Ever since the Wimbledon championships were revived after the Second World War, the United States has provided both finalists in the women's singles and most of the semi-finalists as well.

This year the battle to get through the quarter-finals will be fought out among six American girls—Miss Connolly, Doris Hart, Shirley Fry, Louise Brough, Mrs. Margaret Osborne Dunt and Miss Betty Pratt—and Angela Mortimer and Helen Fletcher of England. Miss Mortimer is seeded sixth and Miss Fletcher seventh.

Miss Mortimer plays Miss Brough and Miss Fletcher meets Miss Hart. Nobody gives the British girls much of a chance against the hard-hitting Americans. Miss Hart, last year's finalist, is seeded second and Miss Brough fourth.

Neither are Mrs. Dunt's chances rated very high against mighty "Little Mo" in full cry after her third title and running and hitting the ball harder than even Mrs. Dunt. 1947 Wimbledon winner, is back here after an absence of two years. She's had easy passage so far but her game has appeared rusty at times.

The men's seedings have not followed true to form. Monday, defending champion Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, rated fourth, was eliminated by Budge Patty of Los Angeles and Paris, the 1950 champion and seeded seventh, 7-5, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2. And Australia's Lew Hoad, No. 2, fell before Jaroslav Drobny 6-4, 6-3, 6-3.

But top-seeded Tony Trabert of Cincinnati brushed aside Mervyn Rose of Australia 6-2, 6-2, 7-5 to join Drobny, Patty and Ken Rosewall of Australia in the semi-finals.

Drobny And Patty Upset Wimbledon's Seeded List By Defeating Seixas And Hoad; Trabert Rated Favorite Now

Wimbledon, England.—(P)—Jaroslav Drobny and Budge Patty turned Wimbledon's seeded list upside down Monday with quarter-final upsets of Lew Hoad and Vic Seixas.

The efforts of these two, seeded 11th and seventh respectively, in what amounts to the world championships of amateur tennis, greatly enhanced Tony Trabert's chances of adding the Wimbledon title to his American championship.

Trabert, the top-seeded player, breezed past Australian Mervyn Rose, 6-2, 6-2, 7-5 to lead the way into the semi-final round. Only one other Australian was left to oppose Trabert as 19-year-old Ken Rosewall eliminated his countryman, Rex Hartwig, 6-3, 3-6, 3-6, 6-3.

The day's big news, however, was that Hoad, the second-seeded player, and Seixas, the defending champion rated fourth, had the daylight whaled out of them.

Drobny, 32-year-old Czech-born Egyptian who makes his home in England, trounced Hoad, 6-4, 6-3, 6-3.

Seixas, the defending champion, lost 7-5, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2 to Patty, 1950 Wimbledon champion from Los Angeles.

In mixed doubles Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., and Jacqueline Kermina of France were defeated 6-2, 6-3 by M. A. Otway and Miss J. F. Burke of New Zealand.

Lorne Main of Toronto and Vancouver and Mrs. L. Alvaresen-Rigollet of Switzerland defeated Philippe Washer of Belgium and Mrs. Heather Brewer of Bermuda, 7-9, 6-4, 6-4.

Bell Replaced As Ottawa Manager

Ottawa.—(P)—Les Bell, manager of Ottawa Athletics since the start of this season, is being replaced by former major-league Taft Wright, who has been used in the outfield by the International League club for the last two years.

The change was announced Monday night by Bernie Guest, farm director of Philadelphia Athletics. Ottawa is a Philadelphia farm club.

Guest said Bell will be used as a scout and farm supervisor for the parent Athletics in the Pennsylvania-New Jersey area.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT
New York.—(P)—The morale of the Yankees is extremely high as they return from a successful swing through the west and prepare to work on the bedraggled Red Sox in Boston today. Those of their number who passed through here seemed to be under the impression that they had a sixth straight championship as good as sailed away.

This is a strange attitude, inasmuch as Casey Stengel's club still is three games back of the pace-setting Cleveland Indians, but then the Yankees can never be judged by ordinary standards. They think they're only going to have to work a little longer and harder than usual this time to win their usual world series cheques.

Tribute Tiring?
The two out of three they took from the Indians over the weekend, topping off their 9-4 western jaunt, apparently convinced the champs that they still have what it takes to capture one under the impression that they had a sixth straight championship as good as sailed away.

The Sox hustled a lot harder against us than the Indians did. That Paul Richards has really got those fellows steamed up—when they play us, anyway. The Indians still look like the Indians to me. Al Rosen's a great hitter, but he can't play first base. He's hurting them. His reactions don't seem as fast as when he was playing third.

Saved Best For Yanks
Privately, the individual Yanks claim that the only reason the tribe is on top now has been its ability to fatten up consistently at the expense of the second division clubs, such as 11-1 over Boston and 9-2 over Washington. Manager Al Lopez, they point out, has been able to do a lot of this with his second-line players while resting his aces and saving them to use against the Yanks and White Sox.

By comparison, the Yanks stood only 5-4 over Boston going in to today's game and were trailing Washington 4-5. There is nothing wrong about the method the Indians are using, the Yankees hasten to add. It's just that they like to point out that the leaders have not been able thus far to break even with either the Yanks or the White Sox, trailing them, respectively, 5-6 and 3-5 in games. They believe that this inability to beat their two chief rivals will hamstring the Indians in time.

Wehmeier 1-4 vs. Surkont 6-8.
St. Louis at Cincinnati night
Beard 0-0 vs. Nuxhall 3-1.
Chicago at Milwaukee night
Minner 5-5 vs. Wilson 4-0.

Prize-Giving

And Recital By Music Students

The students of Miss Norah H. Leonard, B.A., F.M.C.M., held their annual closing recital and prize giving ceremony at St. Patrick's Church Hall.

The program began at 7.30 and the students immediately proved to those present that they had spent much worthwhile time, studying and practising under Miss Leonard for the past year.

The evening's entertainment opened with "O Canada," sung by the chorus. Each student then came forth and played his number, the order in which they appeared is as follows:

Elizabeth Ann Reynolds, Claude Dion, Linda Ogrzylo, Bonnie Everett, Jo-Anne Katadotis, Dorothy Alcorn, Nancy Stewart; Thomas Pick, Penny Soper, David Barnack, Margaret Gelinias, Patsy Phillip, David Cooper, Joan Smith, Judy Goodson, Kay Bean, Judy Rockwell, Lyndall Clark, Kay Phillip, Katherine Simpson.

In the Interlude, a rendition of "Au Clair de la Lune" was presented. Soloists were Claude Dion and Margaret Pearson.

When the program resumed, the remainder of the forty-five participating students furnished the audience with the equally enjoyable second part of the performance, with the order as follows:

Valerie Rawlings, Frances Allen, Margaret Pearson, Dawn Palmer, Robert Bousada, Marilyn Jones, Judy Sinclair, Lois Sawyer, Gary Richards.

Janet Sangster, Karen Pike, Magreta Allen, Louise Katadotis, Donna Price, Marcia Calhoun, Sarah Pearson, Marilyn Gelinias, Montague Barnes, Elizabeth Philip.

Barry Smith, Patsy Rose Robinson, Faith Clark, Sandra Taylor, Sarah McLennan, James Sangster.

Following the recital, the presentation of prizes and reports took place. F. L. Pearson, in presenting the reports, congratulated the pupils on their fine performance, and mentioned Miss Joan Leech who had acted as accompanist.

Miss Patricia Anne Willard and Miss Nyla Pike assisted Miss Leonard, was presented with a bouquet of red roses by Bonnie Everett, in recognition of the time she had spent with her pupils in the past year.

The list of the students in their respective classes is as follows, the top name in each class being the pupil ranking first, the others are named in alphabetical order.

Preparatory Grade — promoted to Grade I — Jo-Anne Katadotis, Dorothy Alcorn, Claude Dion, Bonnie Everett, Linda Ogrzylo, Elizabeth Ann Reynolds, Nancy Stewart.

Tomorrow Night

Most Dangerous Of Traffic Year

Tomorrow night will be one of the most dangerous nights of the year on Quebec highways, Mr. Dyotte, secretary general of the Province of Quebec Safety League, stated today. Thousands of Canadians will be heading for lake, mountain and seaside resorts to begin their holidays and thousands more will be starting out for a long holiday week-end in the country.

If more of these drivers would stay at home tomorrow night and start out Thursday morning, the number of accidents would be reduced, Mr. Dyotte added. Safety figures prove that fatigue is a great cause of highway accidents, and this factor would be reduced if people had a good night's sleep before they began their journeys.

The end of a hard day's work in office or factory is no time to begin a long drive, Mr. Dyotte said. Those who must leave tomorrow night, however, should take some simple precautions. If they are going to travel more than 90 or 100 miles, the driver should take along a thermos of hot coffee. Or the family should be prepared to stop at a roadside stand about half way to their destination and have a cup of coffee or some other alertness beverage.

The driver is drowsy, he should pull to the side of the road and get out and stretch his legs. Too much hurry may not only delay arrival for a few minutes but forever. Even if it is raining, the driver should keep his car window open and breathe deeply. He should remember to dim his lights when another car is approaching.

Fatigue is the big enemy of highway safety, Mr. Dyotte emphasized and those who stay out tomorrow night should remember that they have one strike against them already if the driver is tired. Keeping him alert, but not by back-seat driving, should be a family duty and may help keep driver and family alive.

Vatican Ready To Reform Calendar

Rome.—(Reuters)—The Roman Catholic church will not oppose a reform of the present calendar, if the reform is based on sound reasons, a writer in the Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano said Monday.

The writer, Jesuit Father Daniel J. K. O'Donnell, director of the Vatican's astronomical observatory, dealt in his article with an Indian government proposal for calendar reform.

India is to propose that the reform be discussed by the United Nations economic and Social Council meeting in Geneva today.

The reform would adjust the lengths of the months giving the year four equal quarters. The last day of the year—and in leap years the day after June 30—would be "extra" days not belonging to any week or month.

"It cannot be denied that the desire for a fixed date for Easter is becoming more widely felt," Father O'Donnell said.

CPR Earnings Registered Record Drop

Montreal.—(P)—The Canadian Pacific Railway Monday reported a drop of $5,625,732 in gross earnings last month compared with the same period in 1953.

Gross earnings for the month were $35,699,588 compared with $41,325,320 in May, 1953. Total gross earnings for the first five months of 1954 were $170,445,714, down $20,309,922 from last year.

The railway said the May decline in gross earnings was the largest of any month this year.

Despite the decrease, net earnings were up over a year ago. Net earnings for May, 1954, were $1,852,789, an increase of $117,247 over May, 1953. The decrease was made possible by a $5,742,879 decrease in working expenses.

Net earnings for the first five months this year totalled $6,663,138, compared with $8,231,522 for the same period a year ago, a decline of $1,568,384.

than dry ice, but a little goes a long way.

Rain makers using one or the other of the materials usually charge farmers three cents an acre for "seeding" clouds over range land, 20 cents an acre for wheat land.

If an area suffers from too much rain, cloud-seeders believe "over-seeding" may be the answer. They say that with over-seeding it may also be possible to sidetrack rainclouds, break up small thunder clouds before they can brew tornadoes and clear fogs from airports.

The theory of over-seeding is that if enough artificial nuclei are fed into a cloud, all the water in it will be used up in making very small crystals, none of which will ever get big enough to fall as snow or rain.

CCF Corporations Always Topic In Western Province

By WILL CHISLETT
Regina—In or out of session, the CCF government's crown corporations are a source of major political controversy in Saskatchewan.

Wherever people discuss governmental problems of this agricultural province, the eight corporations and the 12 enterprises they control usually come up. There have been many debates in the legislature on the CCF's entry into business.

The government has set up 18 enterprises since assuming office in 1944. Six have closed, four after piling up substantial losses. The government also controls power and telephone corporations inherited from the former Liberal administration. One corporation, the government finance office, administers financing of all but power and telephone corporations.

The CSCF operates an air service into northern Saskatchewan and a bus company which has a monopoly on provincial routes. A timber board regulates cutting and sale of timber from crown lands, some of which goes to government owned box factory at Prince Albert.

An insurance office looks after the government's compulsory automobile insurance plan. Another insurance firm does extensive business in Saskatchewan and has been authorized to underwrite in Montana. There is a brick and tile plant at Estevan in the northwest, a printing corporation responsible for government bookbinding, and fish and fur marketing agencies. A trading division has stores at northern posts.

Enterprises closed were a woolen mill at Moose Jaw, a fish board which operated filleting plants on northern lakes, a tannery and a leather products division which made shoes.

These four enterprises, plus the box factory and the brick and tile plant which still are running, had run up a total deficit of $1,639,000 by March 31, end of the last fiscal year.

These are the cumulative deficits: Fish board $364,264; shoe factory $82,727; tannery $70,036; woolen mill $830,390; box factory $18,920; brick and tile plant $269,861.

Two other corporations which closed ran up a total profit of $485,000. They were the corporation set up to sell war surplus—$90,699—and an organization to handle housing—$395,094.

The auto insurance plan was $1,881,000 in the red at the end of last year.

The so-called "CCF corporations" are financed by yearly advances from the finance office. No interest is charged. The Liberal opposition contends interest should be charged because corporations gain revenue directly from the public, the basis on which the federal government operates the Canadian National Railways.

Provincial Treasurer C. M. Fines says advances should be interest-free because they are share capital—the system used by the federal government in financing the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation which receives no direct revenue from listeners.

Liberals also claim they are kept in the dark about many important matters on corporations and state it is hard to assess their true standing. Government leaders in refusing information on certain corporation activities at the last session of the legislature charged Liberal members sought details which would aid private competition.

The CCF enterprises were set up under the crown corporations act which gives the government the right to bring under state control and business or industry falling within its jurisdiction. Only one, the box factory, was expropriated under the act and that after a labor dispute. Other enterprises have been organized individually or bought from private hands. Total investment, the government says, has been $10,500,000.

Mr. Fines says the experimental industries designed to use Sas-

B.C. Woman Proves Real Executive Of Lumber Firm

By KEN METHERAL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Quesnel, B.C.—A slim, attractive brunette is proving daily that men have no monopoly on British Columbia's rough, tough lumbering industry.

Ten years ago Mrs. Dorothy Ritson's chief concern was her home and the welfare of her son Jimmy. Today she is a top executive for a lumbering enterprise that annually cuts and ships $1,000,000 worth of lumber to domestic and export markets.

Dot Ritson describes her position as controller of the H. J. Gardiner Lumber Company as that of "a glorified bookkeeper."

But veteran lumbermen admit she can "handle any job" from driving a truck to high finance as good or better than any man.

Dorothy was a bride of 23 with a two-year-old son when wartime labor shortages gave her an opening in the company founded by her father, the late H. J. Gardiner. With her three brothers, Alfred, Herbert and Harry, all serving in the armed forces, she offered to lend a hand in 1943. She has been working steadily ever since.

Her first job was driving a 12-ton logging truck hauling fresh-cut logs to the company mill. Quesnel business men still speak of the skill and daring of the dynamic, 115-pound woman as she man-handled the big trucks over rough, dangerous mountain trails. Soon she was helping to run operations in the woods and keeping the firm's records straight.

Her father, who walked into the Cariboo country from Vancouver with a pack on his back in 1899, established the company with the first sawmill to operate in the Quesnel area.

Today his daughter is controller of a widespread operation that last year marked 8,000,000 board feet of lumber. The company operates a number of portable sawmills in the woods, its own fleet of trucks, a subsidiary planing mill and has its own airplane to allow executives to keep in close touch with operations.

As controller, Mrs. Ritson is in charge of credit, financing and accounting. Her brothers have taken over active management of the woods and mill operations and her husband, Jack, is in charge of the planing mill.

Mrs. Ritson sees a bright future for the Cariboo district in the announced plans for extension of the B.C. owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway from tidewater at Squamish, B.C., to Vancouver and construction of a natural gas pipeline from the Peace river district. "Extension of the railway into Vancouver will be a great boon for the lumber industry," she says. "It will allow us to compete for the first time in the Prairie market and give more competitive rates in the United States."

Both the rail and pipeline developments should spark development of secondary industries in the Quesnel area and bring to the women of the interior more of the amenities of city life, she adds. "It will be wonderful to have the convenience of gas for cooking. And no furnace to stoke when hubby's away—oh my."

Mrs. Ritson thinks Canadian katchewan products have proved "expensive" with losses higher than expected. On the other hand, he says, government enterprises have brought opportunity to employment, service and manufacturing potential to Saskatchewan.

The government insurance office in 1950 reduced its fire-loss premiums 40 per cent, and private companies followed suit. It went into Montana at rates 20 per cent below those current. John J. Holmes, state auditor, in a recent interview in Regina, said the government firm has brought about a "very substantial" reduction in Montana insurance premiums.

Opponents have blamed the collapse of the closed corporations on poor planning and management. But Mr. Fines, in winding up affairs of the woolen mill during the last session of the legislature, said the condition of the Canadian textile industry in general was responsible for the closing of that corporation.

The fish board went under after three years of low fish prices and reported opposition from fishermen who were forced to sell their catch through it. The brick and tile plant was recently closed for five weeks after a shortage of orders developed and inventory piled up. The government says it may be closed again this fall if the same situation occurs.

BOLTON CENTRE—

On June 10 Mrs. William Marsh gave a birthday party for John Wayne Davis, the occasion being Mrs. Marsh's 93rd birthday and John Wayne's 10th birthday. Five boys were present, including Leonard Davis, of South Bolton, Larry Eldridge, Robert Marsh, Stanley Davis and John Wayne, of South Bolton. John Wayne's cake was trimmed with ten candles. Others present were Mrs. Marsh's sister, Mrs. Clare Gaylor, of Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Marsh, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Davis, of Bolton Centre, and Mr. and Mrs. George Paige, of North Troy, Vt.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Davis were Mrs. Gaspard St. Pierre and two children, who stayed a week, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Willey, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barne of Knowlton, Mr. Susie Patterson, of Austin, Mr. William Marsh and Mr. Richard Marsh, of Bolton Centre.

The many friends of Mr. Russell Marsh are pleased that he is able to go back to work after his recent illness.

Mrs. L. Gauvin was taken by ambulance to Sweetsburg Hospital. She has now been transferred to the Royal Victoria Hospital in Montreal. Her many friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Masters William Hamby and Bruce McQueen, of Montreal, are spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Peasley.

Mr. Roy Peasley, of Knowlton, was a recent guest of his mother, Mrs. Emma Peasley, and called on other friends here.

Mr. Homer Thompson, of Saskatoon and British Columbia, has been a guest of his sister-in-law, Mrs. H. Cousens, and Mr. Cousens.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cousens and Miss Shirley Cousens were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harve Cousens.

Mrs. Thomas Cousens is spending a week with her cousin, Mrs. Adl Hartson, in Orleans, Vt. She was motored there by her son, Mr.

Donald Cousens, Mrs. Harve Cousens and Miss Ella McGill.

Miss Jean Cousens, of Montreal, is spending a couple of weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Cousens.

Mr. William Fisk is a guest of his daughter, Mrs. Shilson, in Lachine. Mrs. Fisk was a guest for a few days of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Fisk in Lennoxville.

Mrs. Reginald Peasley entertained for Sunday dinner in honor of her husband's birthday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs.

Lyndon Peasley and family, of Sherbrooke, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Elston, of Glen Sutton, Mr. and Mrs. Katharine Peasley and family, Mr. Ellis Peasley, Miss Mary Lou Peasley, Mr. and Mrs. William Elston, Miss Mary Paige, Master Jimmy Elston and Mr. Delmar Elston, of Bolton Centre. All report having spent an enjoyable day.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Boucher, of Pigeon Hill, daughter Esther and granddaughter Judy were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Peasley.

Dominion Day stands for all the many rights that we enjoy as Canadians.

TCP Re-powers Your Engine

TCP, a Shell-discovered additive blended into Shell Premium Gasoline, sets free the captive power formerly locked in by lead and carbon deposits. It's the greatest gasoline development in 31 years.

Acts so fast it repowers your engine before you've finished your second tankful.

Did you know that up to 15% of your engine's power is actually trapped . . . that you are paying for power you aren't getting?

The reason is this: Every gasoline sold today contains deposit-forming compounds. And, as gasoline is burned, lead and carbon deposits form on the walls of the combustion chamber and on the tips of the spark plugs. In the combustion chamber these deposits become red hot, especially when you are accelerating, and set off the gasoline-air mixture before the piston reaches its proper firing position. Power works against you, not for you. This condition is called pre-ignition and it not only wastes power and fuel—it is also responsible for a most severe kind of knock—engineers call it "wild ping."

These deposits also cause power loss by short-circuiting spark plugs, causing them to misfire when you need power most.

Now, however, there is a way to release the imprisoned power in your engine—and quickly!

It's Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP, the greatest gasoline development since the discovery of tetraethyl lead. TCP actually repowers your engine by changing the character of the engine deposits. In the combustion chamber it "fireproofs" them so they cannot glow and cause pre-ignition. And, because it makes the deposits nonconductors of electricity, spark plugs no longer short-circuit—they fire on time. Power works for you—not against you.

By the time you have finished your second tankful, you'll be getting up to 15% more power. But remember—because these deposits are constantly building up, continued use of Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP is essential to retain its full benefits.

Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP is available only at Shell dealers.

*Shell's trademark for this unique gasoline additive developed by Shell Research. Patent applied for.

KEEPING A COOL HEAD—Sleeping cool on a hot summer night can be accomplished, according to the New York manufacturer of this pillow. Made of non-allergic vinyl plastic, it supposedly has the right grooves, curves, lumps and bumps to fit the shape of the human head and keep it relaxed. A small amount of water put inside the inflated pillow keeps it cool.

EASTMAN—

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Booth and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Booth called on Miss Lillian Phelps at the Furlong Rest Home in Waterloo.

Mr. and Mrs. John Matthew and daughters, Priscilla and Judy, of Bedford, Vt., spent a week with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Matthew.

District Rally Of Guides, Brownies At Drummondville

Drummondville, June 29.—On Saturday, June 5, the Richmond Division Guides and Brownies held their annual rally, which, despite the weather, was a great success.

The Brownie Revel was held in the auditorium of the Drummondville High School. It was a day of fun and surprise, not only for the Brownies but for their leaders too. Mother Goose and her helpers, in costume, started the day teaching simple handicrafts. Later the children were thrilled with fairy stories, singing games and little dances. At four o'clock cookies and soft drinks were served, followed by an exciting treasure hunt, which ended with prizes for all.

Meanwhile the Guides were having an equally enjoyable time at the health camp, directly across the river from the town. The theme of their program was "A week-end in camp." By 11 o'clock tents were pitched and campsites laid out with an excellent display of camp gadgets in evidence.

A surprise activity competition was introduced, centred around life in camp. At lunchtime hot drinks were made over campfires, despite the rain. In the afternoon there was a woodcraft competition, based on Tenderfoot and Second Class tests. This had to be held indoors, but by five the weather had cleared and around a roaring campfire the girls continued their singing competitions.

As the campfire slowly died to embers, the divisional commissioner, Miss Alice Dresser, presented the competitive shield to the 1st Asbestos Company, with the highest points. Windsor Guides followed a close second.

Provincial officials present were Miss Muriel Davies and Miss Joan MacGillivray, who judged the competitions. Miss Davies as deputy-commissioner, brought greetings from Provincial Commissioner Mrs. Leslie.

COOKSHIRE—

Mrs. Vernal Cook, Miss Beverley Gilbert and Mr. John Vander Leden spent Sunday in Montreal with Mr. and Mrs. Stockwell Day and family.

Miss Weston and Mrs. Vernal Cook were visiting Mrs. Frank Judge, at Abbotsford.

St. Johns Down Indians For Third Straight Time 8-6

Brown And Bartunek Pace Hitters; Bill Onuska Hits Homer In Final Frame To Give St. Johns Victory

Rallying in the bottom half of the ninth inning to tally three runs the St. Johns Canadians made it three straight over the Sherbrooke Indians in a hard fought game to register an 8-6 decision.

The win enabled them to reduce the margin and put them within close distance of the two top clubs in the circuit. The Quebec Braves were shutout last night 8-0 by Three Rivers while Drummondville posted a double win over the Miners of Thetford 13-10, 11-5.

This evening the Indians traveled to Quebec to open a three-game series with the Braves. The first two tilts are booked in the Capital City and on Thursday night the teams will meet at the local park in the third tilt of the affair.

At St. Johns the Indians built up a 5-1 lead by the end of the sixth inning. Bob Stephens drove out a homer in the first frame for one run. In the fourth Fishback drew a walk and Jerry Bartunek connected for a single for the Indians' second tally. Dick Brown hit a round-tripper and in the sixth Fishback drew another free pass and Bill Williams hit a triple and came home on Bill Williamson's sacrifice fly. In the eighth Williamson walked and scored the final run for the Indians when Brown hit his second double of the evening.

In the eighth the Canadians came to life and registered four runs. Long and Onuska hit homers with one man aboard while Smallwood drew a walk and was driven home when Reidler and Stair connected for singles.

In the ninth Stan Long opened with a hit and Solomko was issued a walk and to end things Onuska hit his second homer of the evening to give the Canadians a 8-6 verdict over the Indians and make it three straight.

Dick Brown lead the hitting parade with three-for-four while Jerry Bartunek picked up two. Stephens had a homer while Bill Williams connected for a triple to complete the hitting for the locals.

Guy Durocher Retains Tennis Crown

Guy Durocher, last night only took an hour to dispose of Jean Drouin at the Fraser street courts and retain his Sherbrooke Junior tennis crown.

The 17-year-old player, who is seeded second nationally, played like a champion as he disposed of his Megantic opponent, 6-0, 6-2, 6-1. In the four matches which were necessary to retain the championship Guy only lost eight games.

Margot Poulin had little trouble in winning her fifth straight women's championship. Her rival, Mariette Chevalier, forced her to play to the limit before she finally won out 7-5, 8-10 and 6-4.

Contrary to what the score may indicate, the boys' final proved to be one of the most interesting of the tournament. Durocher scored most of his points on spectacular place shots and only three double faults, all committed by the loser, marred last night's performance.

The young Sherbrooke player easily assured himself of the first set victory but Drouin started the second one like a lion. He won the first game in five exchanges, and it was only in the fifth game when he had advantage of service, that Durocher went ahead. During the rest of the match, the champion played perfect tennis to win.

LEGION, NO-CLAIMS
Post Victories In Games Last Night
Two games were played last night in the Sherbrooke Senior Softball League, at Dufresne Park.

In the first game a six run rally by Legion in the fourth inning assured their victory over Sherma. Morin and Marcoux sparked Legion's victory by hitting two solid home runs. Winning pitcher was Carmichael and the loser was Rene Pepin. The Legion made three errors while Sherma committed one.

In the second game a sudden six run rally by the cellar dwelling Lennoxville team forced the game into overtime. Howie Ashton, veteran hurler from the Snowdon Fastball League, replaced Gagne in the 7th to hold the underdogs to a scoreless overtime inning. Eddy Rolex came out of his batting slump to connect with a homer that brought in two runs in No-Claims eighth inning surge. Guy Pelletier, fiery third baseman also connected with a four bagger in the fifth.

Yanks Favored
The Dodgers have had their ups and downs, but manager Walt Alton thinks the team finally has jelled. The feeling is that if the club can sweep the series, the road will be cleared for its third straight flag.

The American League race, too, remains far, far up in the air. At the moment, the schedule favors the Yanks. Through July 11, the world champions take on the second division teams in 14 games while in the same period, the Indians and White Sox will be at each other's throats eight times.

No regular games were scheduled Monday, but in exhibitions Binghamton of the Eastern League defeated the Yanks 5-2; St. Louis turned back their Rochester farm hands 3-2; Boston stopped the Pittsburgh 10-2; Philadelphia Phillies edged the Athletics 3-2, in seven innings, and Cincinnati dumped the Tigers 6-2.

Marlene Stewart Posts Wins In First Two Rounds In British Ladies' Open Golf Championship
Ganton, Eng.—(P)—Marlene Stewart settled down after a bout of apparent nervousness Monday and marched through the first and second rounds in defence of the British women's open golf championship she won a year ago.

The freckle-faced, 20-year-old redhead from Fonthill, Ont., recovered her usual composure after trailing by two strokes at the turn to win a 3-and-2 first-round victory over Miss Anne Scarsill of Yorkshire, England.

Then, as she warmed up, she swept through a 7-and-6 win over Mrs. Ruth Ferguson of Manchester without losing a single hole.

Today Marlene has what might be called her big test in the opening round of the British Empire and Commonwealth Games Federation inscribed on top.

Player Excited; Pants Backwards
Baltimore — (P)—Dick Kryhoski, Oriole first baseman, had a big day for himself Sunday against Philadelphia Athletics.

A rifle-shot single of the glove of an A's pitcher drove in the run that gave Baltimore a 4-3 win in the 11th inning of the first game of a double header. The Blind Bear walloped a line drive in the ninth to win the nightcap 3-2.

"Gee, I'm so excited I can hardly put my clothes in," Kryhoski said later in the dressing room.

He pulled up his trousers. They were on backward.

Bill Barr Leads Qualifying Round In Turnbull With 73; Eighty Take Part In Annual Event At Country Club
More than eighty players took coming weeks for the eventual winner. George Beaulieu, winner of last year, was an automatic qualifier.

George Beaulieu, Gene Gingras, Gordon Glass, Doug Thorpe, John Mathias, Warren Spafford, Raoul Boisvert, Dr. Philippe Lasse, Dr. Real Lafond, Frank Simms, R. Portelance, Leonard O'Donnell, Pete LeBlanc, Gaby Gosselin, Bill Barr, Laurie St. Onge, Alphonse Turgeon, Jack Guay, John Mathias, B.H. Coates, Jimmy Planché, H. Young, Alex Davidson, H. Emmerich, Fernand Cauchon, Donat Greigore, G. Johnston, Yvan Cote, Eddy Blouin, Roger Bourgault, Dave Crockett, Fernand Delisle, One of the gratifying results of the tournament last Saturday was that the larger number of qualifiers for the Turnbull competition is made up of newcomers and new members at the Country Club. The Turnbull competition was originally put up just for the particular purpose of providing a competition to give the newcomers a chance to prove themselves and this year the large turnout of members made it necessary to have real good net scores to qualify. Only net scores of 74 and under qualified, whereas in other years the net score ran as high as 81 and 82.

QJHL Fixes Salary Limit
Montreal — (P)—The Quebec Junior Hockey League Monday cracked down on runaway salaries and fixed a maximum of $60 a week for next season.

There was no official indication as to how high salaries of some of the prospective young stars have reached but one informant said "you can do your own guessing" and that $100 would be wide of the mark in some instances. There has been no maximum until now.

A league spokesman said the move was made to cut down drastically on expenses and to help clubs that have found the going tougher and tougher financially in an effort to keep pace with zooming salaries for junior players.

Club representatives at Monday's meeting dealt also with the league's financial statement and discussed other matters. Another meeting has been set for Quebec City, with the tentative date July 15.

MONDAY'S FIGHTS
New York: Cisco Andrade, 135, Compton, Calif., knocked out John Digilio, 140, Bayonne, N.J., 10.

Ayer's Cliff W. I. Makes Plans For County Meeting

Ayer's Cliff, June 29 — The Ayer's Cliff Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. W. M. Bliss, with Mrs. Stanley Cooper as joint hostesses. The president, Mrs. Lyle Thompson, conducted the meeting.

The roll call, "The greatest change in the country since I was a girl," reminded all of the many improvements in travel, electricity, household appliances, soap, etc.

Mrs. Cooper, corresponding secretary, had received an appeal for knitted squares for Greece. Two letters of appreciation were also read.

Mrs. N. Pierce reported that she had not received any applications so far for the Stanstead County scholarship. This is open to anyone entering teachers training.

Mrs. J. E. MacVicar, read articles from the C.A.C. bulletin, dealing with permanent pleats in skirts and silver cleaners.

Mrs. Wilfred Raymond, circulated a petition for compulsory pasteurization of milk in Quebec Province.

As Ayer's Cliff is entertaining the county in August, committees were appointed to plan and prepare the supper. August 4 was chosen as a probable date. Mrs. MacVicar, Mrs. M. B. Thompson and Mrs. Ruth Waite were appointed to plan the menu. Mrs. R. Merrill was chosen as delegate with Mrs. Raymond as alternate.

It was decided to cancel the regular July meeting and hold only an executive meeting.

August 3rd, was the date set for the arts and crafts exhibit, to be held in the school. The committee, Mrs. R. G. McHarg and Mrs. MacVicar, will be pleased to receive contributions from any who has skill in any handicraft.

A highlight of the meeting was the presentation of a corsage by Mrs. F. A. Johnston to Mrs. Glen Little, who has had 34 years continued membership in the Women's Institute.

Mrs. Stanley Cooper, delegate to the convention gave a very interesting and detailed account of her trip. Mrs. Thompson thanked Mrs. Cooper for her fine report.

The guests welcomed by the president, Mrs. L. Thompson were, Mrs. Ezra Woodard, county president, Mrs. Neil Brevoort, of Beebe, Mrs. Davis of East Angus and Mrs. R. M. Thompson.

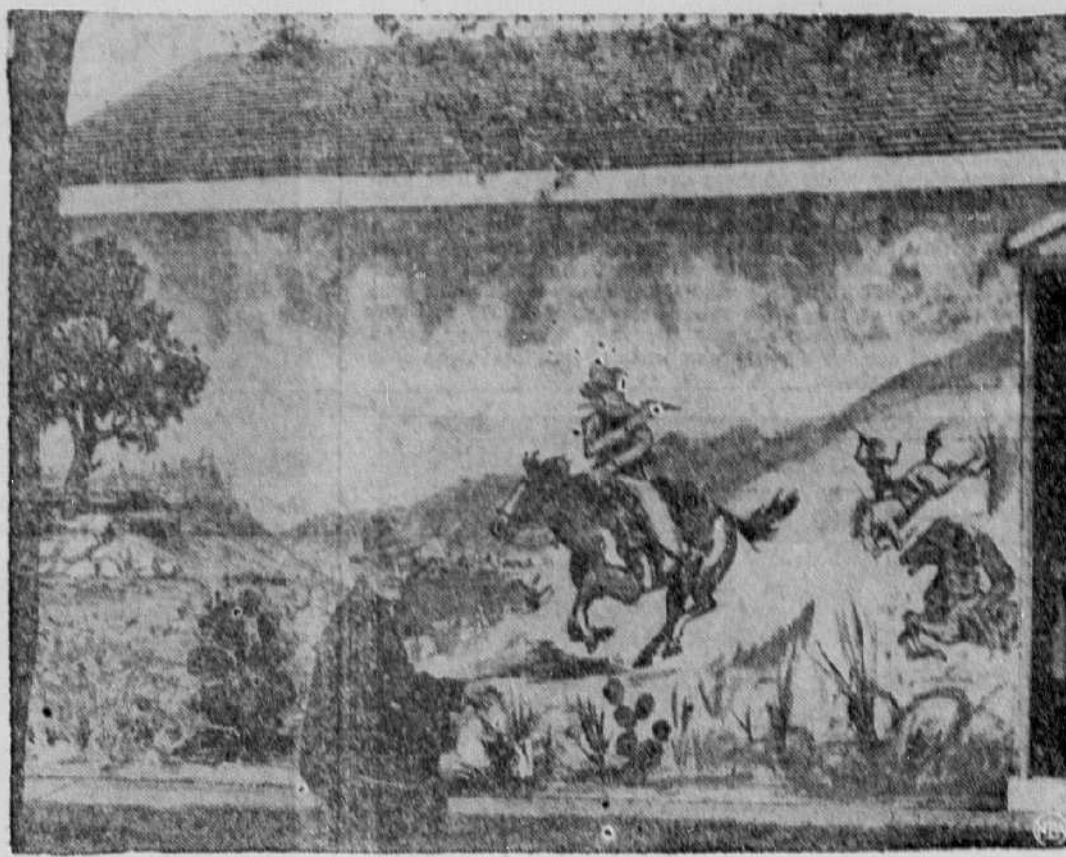

After adjournment a buffet lunch was enjoyed.

Waterville Guild Meets At Home Of Mrs. J. B. Hopcraft

Waterville, June 29th — The regular meeting of St. John's guild was held at the home of Mrs. J. B. Hopcraft on Wednesday evening, June 16, with a very good attendance.

Rev. Mr. Harrison conducted the devotional period.

The President, Mrs. H. Loomis, was in the chair, and the minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. C. E. Burton.

The treasurer, Mrs. Fred W. Ayer, gave a very gratifying financial report of the play "Mama's Baby Boy."

Several business items were discussed, among which was the installation of an Oil furnace in St. John's Church.

Mrs. Errol Beliveau, Convenor of the Gift Fund, reported that a gift of flat silver had been sent to Miss Mary Parrish, whose marriage to Capt. Charles Mackie, of the Ferry Command, took place on Saturday, June 19th, in Vancouver, B.C.

The meeting adjourned and a social half hour was enjoyed.

Refreshments were served from the candle-lit dining-room where Mrs. Robert Grey poured tea at the attractive table, covered with an ecru linen cloth and centred with a bowl of spring flowers.

Miss Irene Parsons and little Miss Jane Hopcraft assisted the hostess in serving. The Guild will resume its activities in September.

Landscape Colors for your home!

48 100% PURE House Colors
from Nature's Own Palette!

Now you can add the beauty of nature to the outside of your home!

The 100% Pure House Paint color range has been extended to a total of 48 colors, including the "Trend and Forecast" colors selected and added on the basis of actual color-preference sampling at over 100 Canadian stores. Each is carefully formulated to maintain the Martin-Senour Tradition of quality and color-fastness.

Each is fortified with alkyl resin, for easier application, greater durability, longer beauty. They're ready-mixed for exact matching, carefully blended to enable you to follow the modern trend, and use the colors of nature's own beautiful landscape on the exterior of your home!

NO SECOND COAT NEEDED WITH "SOLO-COAT" WHITE!

When white is needed, use Solo-Coat White, Canada's finest quality house paint which gives you "2 Coat Painting With 1 Brush Stroke!"

Covers most old painted surfaces in one coat instead of two because it has double the hiding pigment. The second coat is actually built-in! It's treated with a special toner to give it new warm radiance. It's alkyl-fortified for improved spreading qualities, greater flexibility, outstanding resistance to fading.

A single coat of Solo-Coat White actually outlasts two coats of ordinary paint, actually welcomes dirty weather, because each rainfall leaves it cleaner, fresher looking, whiter than ever!

Boating Can Be Lots Of Fun --- Or It Can Be Lots Of Woes

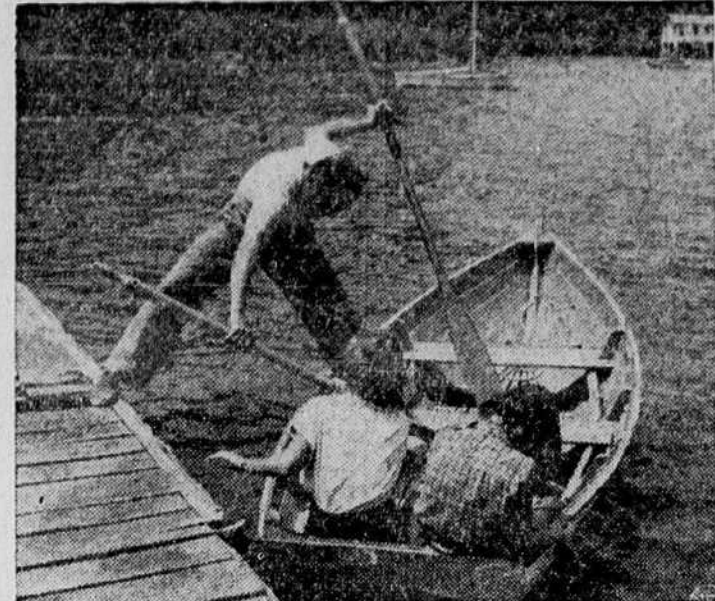

It all depends on you. If you learn a few basic things about handling a small boat, your vacation or weekends afloat will be pleasant—and SAFE. Last year hundreds of people were drowned in boating accidents, many of them due to ignorance of boat handling or carelessness. No one knows how many uncomfortable, but non-fatal accidental dunkings were suffered. The American Red Cross conducts regular classes to teach its members water safety. Illustrated here are three common traps for the unwary amateur sailor. One thing the Red Cross stresses—if your boat or canoe capsizes or fills with water—stay with it. It will not sink, even with an outboard motor attached. Many good swimmers die in boat accidents every year because they leave the boat and try to swim to shore.

If you want to lose your motor overboard, this is a good way to do it. Have boat moored securely while putting motor aboard.

Match your motor to your boat. This boat, with much too large a motor, is extremely unstable and therefore dangerous.

He's not asking for trouble—he's begging for it. Don't board boat encumbered with oars. Step into bottom, not onto seat.

Scottish Knitwear Town Noted For Fine Cashmere

By RON EVANS

Canadian Press Staff Writer

Hawick, Scotland—This little "boom town of the border," in the Cheviot hills, 5 miles south-east of Edinburgh, is teaching Britain a lesson in economics.

For Hawick pronounced hoik, is noted for cashmere and other knitwear garments and it's proving that quality craftsmanship, plus modern selling and production methods, can pull in thousands of dollars from exports.

The 25 Hawick knitwear and hosiery firms employ only 3,500 of the town's 17,000 citizens, but in the last five years they have earned almost £10,000,000 in exports to Canada and the United States.

As Sir Norman Kipping, director general of the Federation of British Industries, said recently: "Hawick, in relation to its size, is responsible for the greatest volume of exports of any town in the United Kingdom."

FULFORD—

The W. A. of the United Church met at the church grounds on June 24 for the purpose of spring cleaning the church. Eleven willing workers were present and cheerfully did a good job of cleaning, after which a business session was held. This was the last meeting of the Women's Association until re-opening in September.

Latest news from Mr. E. Woodard, who is a patient in the B.M.P. Hospital, in Sweetsburg, is that he is progressing favorably.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Clarkson, of Sutton Junction, were Sunday guests of the latter's mother, Mrs. Edson Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Davis were calling on Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hayes, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick O'Keefe and sons, Messrs. Tom and David Darby, of Detroit, are guests of Mrs. O'Keefe's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Wright.

Mrs. Poulin and sister, and two friends of Montreal, were guests of Mrs. A. MacKinnon on Sunday.

Presentations were also made by Mr. James McBurney, on behalf of the High and Low Forest Farm Forum, of gifts of money to Mr. and Mrs. William Lowry, of Lennoxville and Mr. and Mrs. Lyndal Lowry of this place. Both replied, thanking the Forum for their kindness.

Lunch was served by the hostesses, assisted by several others.

A Red Cross meeting was held at the home of Mrs. John McBurney, with nine members, four visitors and several children present. Five crib quilts were put together and some sewing done during the afternoon. The business meeting was presided over by the president and opened with prayer. The minutes and correspondence were read and other business taken care of. As this was the last meeting until fall, it was decided to have the next meeting on September 8, the place to be decided later. Lunch was served by several of the ladies.

Mrs. A. Bidgood, of Richmond, has returned home after visiting her brother, Mr. Chester Mackay, and other relatives.

Mrs. Modeste Clemond, of Cookshire, is spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. Y. Nadeau.

Misses Laura and Annie Pratt, of Colebrook, N.H., Miss Margaret Wilson and Miss Esther Brazel, of Sawyerville, were recent callers of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Forgrave and Mr. and Mrs. V. Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Leech, of Westmoreland, N.H., spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Frank McConnell.

Mr. Russel Thompson, Mr. James Thompson, Mrs. Clive Thompson, Mrs. Eltra McVety and Mr. Newton McVety were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Stevens in Guildhall, Vt.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clark, of Ladner, B.C., spent a week with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McBurney.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Smith and Wayne, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. John McBurney. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Twyman and family were visitors at the same home.

Although figures on Canada's share in the Hawick sales are not available, Canadian traders are well known in the little town that lies at the junction of the Teviot and Slitrig rivers.

Canadians generally come looking for the fine cashmere twin sweater sets which are Hawick's biggest dollar winners. Almost 100 per cent of the cashmere products made here are sold in the U.S. and Canada.

Oliver and his salesmen are looking for even better sales soon in North America. The Hawick firm recently signed Christian Dior, famed Paris fashion designer to create high-fashion cashmere sweaters for the Canadian and formation available on these new U.S. markets. So far the only creations is their price—$50 each.

Friends Honor Bride And Groom At High Forest

High Forest, June 29. — Mrs. Wehdell Ward, Mrs. F. French, Mrs. Harry Graham Jr., and Mrs. Lyndal Lowry were hostesses at a shower at the home of Mrs. Lowry, for Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Maddiss, the former Miss Jean Lowry, who were recently married.

About seventy guests were present and enjoyed cards, games and music.

Mrs. Frederick French presented Mr. and Mrs. Maddiss with several gifts and wished them success and happiness. The happy couple thanked everyone for the gifts and good wishes and invited all to visit them in their home in Sherbrooke.

Presentations were also made by Mr. James McBurney, on behalf of the High and Low Forest Farm Forum, of gifts of money to Mr. and Mrs. William Lowry, of Lennoxville and Mr. and Mrs. Lyndal Lowry of this place. Both replied, thanking the Forum for their kindness.
