Canvass of States Shows Public Opinion is Behind Him.

Controversy With Harriman Will Not Improve His Popularity in the Northern States.

Special to the Montreal Star.

New York, April 8.—That Roosevelt is stronger than ever with voters of the nation after his recent controversy with Harriman, that he is desired by a majority of states as the Republican candidate in 1908,and that there is danger of Democratic triumph if any other candidate than Roosevelt is chosen, is the consensus of opinion the Herald has received in a canvass of all the States in the Union outside the South. These questions were asked trusted correspondents in different commonwealths:

"Has the controversy with Harriman in any way impaired Roosevelt's popularity in your state?"

"Does your state favor renomination of Roosevelt in 1908?"

"Would Roosevelt be able to transfer his strength in your state to the candidate he favored?"

"Are there any evidences in your state of a movement to deliver its vote against Roosevelt and his policies?"

"More popular than ever," are the replies generally received to the first question.

On the second the general answer is "yes." In some states where there are "favorite sons," Roosevelt is second choice, but in the Middle and Western states the reply has been almost unanimously: "Roosevelt and no one else."

To the third question the general reply has been that the President cannot throw his strength to any other man.

To the fourth, answers are that, as yet there's no movement against the President, but it is probable that efforts will be made by his enemies to win various state delegations.

Taft is favored in many states as second choice, while Fairbanks is regarded by others as best conservative choice.

PRESIDENT'S BLOOD IS UP.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Washington, D.C., April 8.—Men who have talked with Roosevelt during the past week are convinced of the sincerity of his declarations that a combination of adverse interests has been formed within the Republican party for the purpose of thwarting his will, and whatever doubts they may have of the wisdom of his attitude is telling all or part that he has heard, they are inclined to the opinion that it is useless to endeavor to dissuade him from his present course.

The President's fighting blood is up and he apparently intends to conduct the campaign in a typical Roosevelt fashion. He believes in fighting fire with fire,and while some of his friends contend there is more smoke than flame, the President is disposed to see a great conflagration that threatens to destroy all he has accomplished.

THE EFFECT ON THE RAILS.

The storm had an impressive effect on the service of the Montreal Street Railway Company. The snow snuggled closely into the grooves and rendered progress difficult, with the result that there were repeated blockades, causing interruption and delay. At noon a car of the Windsor line jumped the rails at the corner of Inspector and St. James streets, and tied up the eastbound rails for twenty minutes. As the sweepers had been retired there were none to send out to clear the tracks, so that the cars had to depend upon their scrapers to remove the snow and this proved rather a difficult task.

The storm did not appear to extend far from Montreal. The Newport express arrived on time and reported that at Sutton there was sleet, but no snow was met with until near Montreal. The C.P.R. Ottawa train was twenty minutes late.

All the trains at the Grand Trunk station got in on time.

Died From Effect of Scalding.

Berthotel Bissonnette, 2 years of age, who was so badly scalded at his home, 290 Delisle street, on April 1, died yesterday as the result of his injuries. The case was disposed of to-day by the Coroner after hearing the circumstances. The evidence showed that the little fellow pulled a boiler of scalding water over himself.

Mrs. J. Martin, of Potsdam, N.Y., and Mrs. H. Collins, of Lisbon, N.Y., are in town to attend the wedding of Miss Mary E. Porter, daughter of Mrs. T. Rogers, St. Alexander street.

SISTER OF CARRIER HAS BEEN ARRESTED

Evidence Against Her of Killing Brother in Bush is Circumstantial.

Quebec, April 8.—The Coroner's jury in the case of Amedee Carrier, the boy recently murdered at St. Charles de Bellechasse, has found a verdict of wilful murder against the sister of deceased, Alexina Carrier, 15 years of age, and the accused was brought to town and locked in goal.

The girl absolutely denies any knowledge of the crime. So far the evidence adduced against her is circumstantial, and based on the fact that the whereabouts of everybody else in the vicinity were accounted for at the time the murder was committed. The police may have other evidence in view, but if so, are perfectly reticent. The boy, whose mother is a widow, left home in the morning to go to a sugar bush some distance from the house, and was found dead in a field over which the road passed by the accused, the same afternoon.

The accused girl says she saw him lying in the same place when going to school in the morning, but thinking he was playfully hiding himself from her passed on, and only went up to him on seeing him in the afternoon in the same position.

BARS STATE UNIVERSITIES.

Carnegie Fund Not for Teachers in These Institutions.

New York, April 8.—In response to a petition from Prof. Maurice Humon, acting professor of the University of Toronto, and Professor Henry T. Eddy, dean of the graduate school, University of Minnesota, members of the National Association of State Universities, urging that the benefits of the Carnegie foundation be extended to the universities of the states and provinces, President Henry S. Pritchett gives reasons why these universities should not share in the benefits of the foundation.

He says that, while it is clear that the teachers in the State universities have, as teachers, quite as good a claim to a retiring allowance as any other; and that, while it is just as desirable that they should have the benefit of such a system, yet it should not be through a private fund, but through an allowance established by the states themselves. The plea that a state provides grudgingly for its university, is not, he says, in his judgment, any reason why the board of which he is president should go to its assistance.

The purpose of the Carnegie foundation, he says, is to develop a system of retiring allowances in the higher institutions of learning in the United States, Canada and Newfoundland, in such manner as to serve the best interests of the general body of teachers.

DAIRYING FRAUDS TO BE STOPPED

New Brunswick Legislature Considers Measure for That Purpose—Land Plan for Settlers.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Fredericton, N.B., April 8.—The Legislature on Saturday took steps to put a stop to fraudulent practices of creameries in the province. Mr. Ora P. King, of King's County, had introduced a bill in addition to the Dairy Act, and included in its provisions is one requiring every factory to take out a stencil plate, with the value of the creamery ,and the number given the factory by the Agricultural Department so that it can be shown where the butter and cheese come from.

It was explained that some creameries have been importing cheap butter from Quebec Province, receiving it through their factory, and then stamping it creamery butter. In this way, poor butter costing ten cents or less per pound was placed on market for 28 cents to 35 cents per pound. The bill, which passed, requires that dealers must stamp dairy butter as such, and thus prevent this fraud on the public.

The House decided to reconsider the vote of Friday night, which killed the bill to allow Fredericton to dump crude sewerage in the St. John river.

Premier Pugsley introduced a bill to provide for the purchase of forty-nine thousand two hundred acres of land in Victoria County, owned by the New Brunswick Land & Railway Company. The province will likely pay 75 cents per acre, and the proposition is to open up for settlement this tract of land, which will be re-sold to bona fide settlers in one hundred lots at the same price, with cost of survey.

The Government is considering a proposition to build a new bridge across the Reversible Falls at St. John, N.B. There is a demand for facilities for electric cars to cross.

Schooners Get Through Ice Fields.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Quebec, April 8.—The steamer King Edward, which left port on Saturday morning for the Canadian Labrador, met with such heavy ice below the Isle of Orleans that she returned to port and made another start yesterday. Two schooners from one of the lower ports, which had managed to escape the field ice reached here on Saturday morning.

Cold Tablets Induce Poisoning.

Hamilton, Ont., April 8.—Rev. Dr. Nelson, pastor of Knox Presbyterian Church, was poisoned through taking some tablets which he had purchased for a cold. He was in a critical condition for a time, but is thought to be out of danger now. Examination showed the tablets contained coal tar products.

POISONED HIS OWN VALUABLE HORSES

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, April 8.—A rather peculiar case has just been cleared up by Inspector Rogers, of the Attorney-General's department. T. A. Hastings, a young farmer, living in the township of Innisfail, Simcoe county, in January lost two valuable horses, death, according to a veterinary, being due to arsenic. Supsequently two more attempts were made to poison Hasting's horses, paris green being plentifully scattered in the apple barrels, the wheat and oat bins, and in the mangers.

Pressure being brought to bear upon him, Hastings finally admitted that he had poisoned his own horses, as that his father would consent to his going west, in the belief that his son was a subject of hate and revenge in the community.

TRIED HARD TO END LIFE.

Insane Man Took Paris Green, and Then Attempted Hanging.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Mahone Bay, N.S., April 8. — While temporarily insane Hibbert Ernst, a middle aged man of Blackhouse, yestrday attempted suicide by taking Paris green and afterwards by hanging himself in a near by wood. He climbed a tree, but lost his balance and fell. While climbing the tree again he was seen and rescued before he had time to fasten the rope. Physicians brought him to consciousness in five hours, but his recovery is doubtful.

ELECTIONS IN ST. JOHN.

Ward System Will Be Used for the First Time.

Special to the Montreal Star.

St. John, N.B., April 8.—Nominations for civic elections in St. John take place to-morrow, and the outlook is that very little opposition will be offered to the present aldermen. The ward system is now operative, and two additional aldermen will be elected, the board in future consisting of seventeen aldermen. Mayor Sears will be returned by acclamation.

Commission Will Investigate.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Quebec, April 8.—Serious differences in regard to the management of Beauport asylum have occurred between Doctors Brochu and Marois, which accounts for the fact that the Provincial Government has named a commission consisting of Messrs C. E. Dorion, advocate and DoctorsWood and Villeneuve, of Montreal, to investigate matters.

ST. JOHN SHIPMENTS HAVE FALLEN OFF

Value of Exports Over Three Millions Behind That of Last Season.

Special to The Montreal Star.

St. John, N.B., April 8.—The last month of the winter trade promises to be a busy one with heavy shipments. Up till Saturday there were filed at the customs house cargoes for 89 steamships. These 89 vessels carried away Canadian products valued at $9,855,104, and foreign goods valued at $5,021,915, making a total value of $14,877,019. The cattle shipments were in the vicinity of 20,000 head, and grain shipments four million bushels. The arrivals to date were 103 steamships of 400,079 tons, made up as follows: 36 Canadian Pacific, 18 Allan, 21 Donaldson, 7 Manchester, 5 Head, 11 Furness, and 4 South African liners.

The value of exports to date is over three million dollars less than to the same date last year, the heavy falling off being due to the car shortage and unfavorable weather conditions in the West.

STREET CAR PREMISES FIRE.

New York Fireman Killed, Others Injured by Falling Wall.

New York, April 8.—Fire early this morning practically destroyed the car barns and power house of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company.

During the course of the fire one fireman was killed, and three others probably fatally injured.

The men killed and injured were fighting the flames from a second storey fire-escape on one side of the building when the wall fell, burying the men in the debris.

British Catalogues for Canada.

Canadian Associated Press.

London, April 8.—Referring to the announcement of the Postmaster-General in reference to cheaper rates to Canada for newspapers and magazines, the Yorkshire Post says, that while it is incumbent upon the home authorities to frame postal rates to encourage business with the Colonies, the latter may fairly be asked to relax fiscal regulations designed to exclude catalogues and publications of British manufactures.

Women Now In Finnish Diet.

Helsingfors, April 8.—The returns of the elections for members of the Finnish Diet show that 19 women, of whom nine are Socialists, have been elected. This is the first occasion that women representatives have been elected to any national legislative body.

COMMERCIAL UNION BEE STILL BUZZING

New York Sun Believes It Will Follow Disappointment From Britain.

Special to the Montreal Star.

New York, N.Y., April 8.—The Sun says:—"According to a telegram from London, Unionist and Imperialist statesmen, who are now backed only by a weak minority in the House of Commons, whatever strength they may have recovered in the metropolis and other municipalities, look upon the future of Canada as the most momentous question in international politics with which Great Britain is confronted at the present time. Most of the Liberal leaders on the other hand evidence no interest in the matter, and seemingly would not care a jot if the Dominion should separate from the Mother Country. We are justified, therefore, in inferring that during the term of the existing Parliament, which is likely to last until 1912, no effort will be made by the British Government to stop Canada from entering into most cordial relations with the United States, even though the relations should culminate in commercial union. Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that reciprocity in any form is no longer a living issue in Canada. That is doubtless true for the nonce, but the issue is certain to be revived the moment Canadian people become convinced that no important concessions are obtainable from Great Britain. About the futility of making any effort at the coming Colonial Conference, or on any subsequent occasion to obtain one concession of solid value to the Dominion, to wit, a British tariff change that should give a preference to foodstuffs imported from the colonies, there can linger not a trace of doubt among intelligent Canadians. Of course, manufacturers who have developed considerable home trade in the Dominion would not welcome the competition of the United States any more than they would welcome that of the Mother Country. The manufacturing interest, however, is already dwarfed by the agricultural, and the latter's overshadowing importance will daily become more unmistakable, as the immense capabilities of the grain- producing Northwest Provinces are turned to fuller account."

PREMIERS WILL BE GUESTS OF HIGHEST

Series of Brilliant Functions Will Be Held During Colonial Conference.

London, April 8.—A series of brilliant receptions on a magnificent scale are being arranged by all the well-known hosts and hostesses in London in honor of the Ministers attending the Colonial Conference. The first and foremost is the great reception which Lord and Lady Beauchamp will give on the opening day of the conference, April 15, on behalf of the Government.

In connection with this event numerous dinner parties are being given by wives of eminent Liberals, after which they will all go on to meet the Colonial visitors. On April 29, the Duke of Sutherland, as president of the Tariff Reform League, is holding a reception at Stafford House. His guests will include most of the well-known tariff reformers and Imperialists. On the same evening before this function the Colonial Ministers will dine with the Earl and Countess of Derby.

Under the auspices of the Victoria League, a big luncheon is to be given to the wives and daughters of the Ministers at Hyde Park Hotel, May 2. The Countess of Jersey will preside and Her Royal Highness Princess Louise, Duchess of Argyll, has graciously consented to be present.

Probably some Premiers and Ministers will attend one reception, while others attend another. Thus the Countess Carrington entertains the Australians on the same night that the Marchioness of Lansdowne receives the Canadians. This will probably be about May 22 or 23. On the whole, a gay time is in store for the delegates.

UNTIMELY STORM DETERS THE SPRING

Snow in Bulk on the 8th of April a Departure From the Usual Programme.

Snow on the 8th of April is not among the regular spring features in this part of Canada.

Yesterday, as well as on the previous Sunday, there were venturesome ones, who appeared out in all the pomp and glory of new spring suits without the friendly ulster,which,like the mantle of charity, covers many people's past. When the pleasures of basking in yesterday's warm spring sun were followed by an evening without frost, there were some who hoped that the returning song birds, the children playing marbles,and the yap of the street-vendor were not mistakn harbingers of the balmy season when baseball would come and the thoughts of youth lightly turn to love.

Without material change of temperature, without any collusion or combination with Jack Frost, snow started in this morning just as though it had never been here before. Not little crumbs, like the lingering breath of winter, but genuine big, soft flakes, continuing, too, as though this were St. Paul, or Chicago, or some other place, where they use even May snow for sore eyes. The fact that there was no frost makes it what is known as a warm or sugar snow, which has the property of melting any ice or snow upon which it falls.

Those who profess to know about these things say that such snow is exceedingly beneficial to the land, furnishing rich irrigation, betokening extra fine crops. It is gratifying to know that there are some who welcome it. Had there been a frosty underpinning and the temperature a few degrees lower there would by now have been excellent sleighing. As it is, the big flakes melt almost as fast as they fall, and a few hours' sun to-morrow would probably clear from the earth every trace of to-day's untimely fleece.

A STORM OF BYGONE YEARS.

Citizens must not begin to boast about this particular snow storm. The youth will want to make preparations for a tramp, while the facetious will enquire if there is any hockey match on to-night. But just as there is nothing new under the sun, so there is no record in this particular storm. It appears that away back in the year of grace, 1887, there was a tremendous snowfall. According to the veracious tale-bearer no less than three feet fell, and, indeed, it really was closer to being four feet. It was a grand storm, fine sparkling snow, beautiful crystals, all the panoply of nature graced that particular occasion. The tale-tellers decided that they woul do something to remember the hapening by, so on April 9, 1887, they set forth and organized a slide, using the hill of the Priest's Farm for the purpose. Some of those who participated in that April day sliding included Mr. "Tom" Paton, Mr. "Bob" Starke, and Mr. J. G. Ross. Later that particular place was used as the location for the slide of the Montreal Toboggan Club, and it was the scene of a great deal of enjoyable out-of-door entertainment.

THE DEPTH OF TO-DAY'S SNOW.

The local weather man was a bit grumpy this morning. He had carefully put away all his snow records, not having any thought that there would be need of them again this season. The books and measures were set aside for the coming of April showers. Think of his chagrin at being obliged to dust them off again and bring them out for use. Early in the morning the snow began to fall and the weather man set out his collecting apparatus. At 1 o'clock this afternoon he ventured to slip outside and have a look; 8.5 inches it said. "B-r-r-r-r!" said he.

THEY CAME, THEY SAW, THEY WENT

First of the Season's Crows Arrive Look Situation Over and Go South Again.

A good-sized flock of crows arrived up from the sunny South at breakfast time this morning, just about the hour when Montrealers were commencing to realize that the weather man was working in a misfit snowstorm on them. They did not like that sort of welcome, in fact resented it, and the leader called the crowd up for a consultation in a well-wooded garden in the vicinity of Church and Mance streets.

"This," said the boss caw caw, "is a cold, raw deal to hand out to a respectable flock of Crows. We have never failed at this season of the year to favor our Montreal friends with our caw caw chorus en passant. Year in and year out we have not failed to be courteously on time. Up from the balmy breezes of the Southbound for the woods of the Laurentians to pass the season with our Canadian friends, we have always come in the early days of April.

"We may be international birds of a feather, who flock by themselves, spending the winter in the United States and the summer in Canada, but we had not heard that there was any trouble between the two countries. True, we had heard that Sir Wilfrid would never, no never, go to Washington looking for favors, but we Crows have never meddled with politics and did not feel that there was any reason why we should be given the cold shoulder."

"Never mind," cawed in one of the outside ring at the conclave, "Mr. Bryce has been up here and is going to fix things up all right. This won't happen another Spring."

"But in the meantime, brother Crows, this is no time for the passing of facetious remarks. Here we are up against a real cold proposition. Look at the size of those flakes of snow which are falling. Can we stand that sort of thing?"

"Let's go and soak the weather man," suggested one.

"Why not interview some of the influential citizens?" proposed another.

"The Mayor might do something for us," came in response.

"I believe the chairman of the Board of Harbor Commissioners is the man who is doing things around here just now," chimed in another.

"Why not lay our views on this sort of thing before the Board of Trade," came from another quarter.

In the meantime, the snow flakes came down larger and thicker than before until the branches of the trees became perilously slippery. There was silence for moment or two. The conclave shivered and had scarcely heart enough left to get up a caw, caw.

Back to the South for me," said the leader, trying to put on a more cheerful tone on the prospects of a sunny hillside.

SEVERAL INJURED IN CAR COLLISION

Partial Wrecking of Five Street Cars Due to Two Accidents Last Night.

Two street car collisions—one at the corner of Notre Dame and Inspector street, Saturday night, and another at the corner of St. Lambert Hill and Notre Dame street — resulted in the partial wrecking of five cars, the removal of three passengers to the Notre Dame Hospital, and a shaking up for a number of others. The collision at the crossing of West Notre Dame and Inspector streets, at 11.30 Saturday night, was caused by a car of the Windsor and St. Lawrence line, running down Inspector street, colliding with a west-bound car on Notre Dame street. The motormen of both cars when they saw the danger applied the brakes, but it was too late to prevent the collision. Considerable woodwork and glass was broken in both cars.

Hector Racicot, 16 years of age, clerk, residing at 258 Amherst street, and Wilfred Brosseau, 18 years of age, machinist, of 449 St. Emilie street, St. Henri, were taken to the Notre Dame Hospital suffering from slight injuries.

In the collision between the cars at the junction of St. Lambert Hill and Notre Dame street last night, a dozen passengers were shaken up and Auguste Prevost, 47 years of age, living at 790 Berri street, taken to the hospital with a badly cut hand. The Notre Dame street cars going east were standing to allow a car of the Beaver Hall and Delorimier avenue line to turn into St. Lambert Hill. The wheels of the main truck of the latter car missed the switch, swinging the rear end of the car into the front of the first Notre Dame street car, and backing that into the second Notre Dame street car with such force that the two vestibules became interlocked and badly smashed.

The cars had to be taken to the repair shop before they could be pulled apart.

LIFEBOAT MEN SAVE WRECKED SAILORS

Schooner Blown on Rocks by Heavy Gale—Sealing Steamer Missing.

Norfolk, Va., April 8—Ten persons, two of them women, were rescued from death by Captain Etheridge and his crew of life-savers of the Nag's Head, N.C., station, when the four-masted schooner Louis Bossart was blown ashore by the heavy northeast gale that has prevailed along the Virginia-Carolina coast for the past forty-eight hours. The schooner was bound from New York to Giggins, S.C., for a cargo, and was swept out of her course by the storm. Shortly after midnight she ran on the beach, and was discovered by a coastguard from the Nag's Head station. On account of the high sea, no attempt was made to launch the boats. A line was shot over the schooner and the breeches buoy was run out. When the surfmen pulled in they were surprised to find a young woman as its passenger. She is the daughter of Captain Fletcher, of the wrecked schooner.

BLUECHER RESCUED THIRTEEN.

New York, April 8. — Nearly every vessel that has arrived from southern ports during the last week has brought some story of marine disaster wrought by the storm which raged off Hatteras during the last ten days of March. The Bluecher from Indian ports was no exception. Standing in disconsolate groups about her decks were a luckless 13, which the liner saved from their foundering barque the Gulfport, and rescued just as the shattered vessel was on the verge of plunging under.

SEALING STEAMER MISSING.

St. John's Nfld., April 8.—The sealing steamer Southern Cross, which left this port March 11th, with 172 men, has not been seen since, and it is feared she has met with an accident. The steamers Adventure and Panther, which came in yesterday, reported that except for the Southern Cross, the entire sealing fleet has been accounted for. It is thought that she may have been driven from the sealing grounds, and is now jammed in the ice floes far north.

WILL APPEAL TO MR. BRYCE.

Lake Champlain Fishing Trouble Will Be Referred to Him.

Washington, April 8. — Secretary of State Root has received a letter from Senator Proctor, of Vermont, protesting against the action of the Quebec authorities in licensing seining in Missisquoi Bay, part of Lake Champlain, in alleged violation of a promise to the contrary, said to have been made last year by Hon. Jean Provost, Quebec Minister of Fisheries. The matter will be called to the attention of the British Ambassador, Mr. Bryce, when he returns from Canada, by officials of the State Department.

At the State Department, it is stated that this is one of the many questions continuously coming up, along the boundary waters between New York and Canada, and that the Department is endeavoring to find some method of adjusting and disposing of it.

ANGLO-SPANISH ALLIANCE.

Meeting of Kings at Cartagena Thought to Foreshadow This.

Madrid, April 8.—King Alfonso and his mother, ex-Queen Christina, with a suite, including Prime Minister Moret and Count Salazar, Minister of Foreign Affairs, left last evening for Cartagena to meet King Edward and Queen Alexandra, who arrived there this morning on board the British royal yacht. The country is greatly interested in the meeting, which many regard as the initiation of an Anglo-Spanish alliance, although it is officially declared that the meeting will be informal. This visit will be followed later by a visit of King Edward to Madrid to repay the visit of King Alfonso to London.

TRAIN WRECKER AT WORK.

Fastest Train on Pennsylvania Railway Hurled From Track.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 8.—Train No. 83, eastbound, the fastest train on the Pennsylvania Railroad between Pittsburg and Cleveland, was wrecked near Hudson, Ohio., 123 miles west of here. None of the passengers were injured, but the fireman, who jumped, when the accident occured, was seriously hurt. According to the railroad officials, the train was purposely wrecked. A reward of $1,500 is offered for information leading to the identity of the wreckers and $5,000 if the information is furnished within forty-eight hours.

Civil Service Examinations.

Ottawa, April 8—General promotion examinations under the Civil Service Act will be held commencing Tuesday, May 7, next at the following points: Ottawa, Winnipeg, Montreal, Toronto and such other places as may be found necessary. Intending candidates may obtain information on application to the secretary of the Board of Civil Service Examiners, Ottawa.

Examinations of Candidates for admission as articled pupils or for commissions as Dominion Land Surveyors will be held at Ottawa, Toronto, Kingston and Calgary, beginning on Wednesday, May 1, next.

Tied Up With Anchor Ice.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, April 8.—The Ottawa Street Railway service was tied up for a couple of hours on Saturday, owing to ice in the tail race at the power plant. The E. B. Eddy mills at Hull were also stopped for a time, but no serious damage was done.

STRATHCONA WAS CHOSEN.

New Provincial University Will Be Established There.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Edmonton, Alta., April 8.—At a meeting of the Cabinet on Saturday the choice for site for the Provincial University of Alberta fell to Strathcona, the sister city of Edmonton across the Saskatchewan. Calgary put up strong claims for the honor, Premier Rutherford representing Strathcona constituency, stood out for his home town and was supported by Hon. W. T. Finlay, Medicine Hat, Minister of Agriculture. Edmonton was shut out of the field owing to the city having been chosen as the capital. Calgary has obtained the Normal School, upon which $125,000 will be spent.

The site for the university in Strathcona will probably be on the western boundary of that city on a magnificent headland, commanding a view of the river and valley. It will be made accessible to Edmonton by the C. P. R.'s proposed high level bridge which will connect the two cities. It is understood that the lunatic asylum will go to Ponoka.

YUKON COMMISSIONERSHIP.

Appointment of Mr. Ralph Smith Will Take Place Soon.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, April 8.—The appointment of Mr. Ralph Smith, M.P. for Naniamo, to be Commissioner of the Yukon, will in all probability take place about the time Parliament closes, and Mr. Smith will leave for the far north soon after. It is not likely that there will be many important appointments during the absence in London of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, but this is one to which it is understood the Premier gave his consent before he left.

Stanford White Sale Completed.

New York, April 8.—The sale of the furnishings and decorations of the home of the late Stanford White was completed Saturday, the receipts of the day's sale being $77,985, and the total for the entire sale reaching $125,805. The most important articles sold Saturday was a sample of the Grand Gobelin tapestry, which brought $10,500.

PROROGATION OF HOUSE.

Parliament Will Not Close Till on or After April 18th.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, April 8.—The earliest probable dates suggested for the prorogation of Parliament are Thursday, April 18, or Saturday, April 20. It is possible, however, that the session will last one or two weeks longer as there is a considerable amount of business still to be disposed of. The best indication that the session will close at an early date is that the committees will soon cease work. There may be only one more meeting of the Public Accounts Committee, the lumber combine committee will examine only three more witnesses. The Railway Committee has still a number of bills to dispose of but none of a very contentious nature. The final batch of supplementary estimates will be brought down this week by Hon. Mr. Fielding. It is said that the amount will be larger than usual, and will considerably swell the sum it is proposed to spend during the present fiscal year.

FAVORS DECENTRALIZATION.

Lord Aylmer Thinks That Such District Command Should Be Independent.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, April 8.—In the course of an interview on Saturday, Lord Aylmer, the retiring Inspector-General, was asked, as one who had witnessed all the changes, what he thought of the headquarters' staff. He said: "When I came into the department in '93, there were five officials besides the Minister, three messengers and a typewriter was a God send. And now—well, we have over 80 in our building and messengers aplore. Yes, I think our staff is efficient, but what I have been preaching for years is decentralization—that is, have each district command independent. In war, it would be ridiculous to have the forces in Vancouver or even Winnipeg, waiting for orders from headquarters. The sooner we in Ottawa get over the idea that everything should be executed here, the better."

KITTREDGE TELLS WHY HE TURNED DIRECTORS OUT

"I am Desirous of Having Full Control of the Club, and Do Not Want to be Hampered by Directors."

Special to The Montreal Star.

(By Malachi Kittredge, Playing Manager Montreal Baseball Club.)

Roanoke, Va., April 8.—"I desire to get along without a board of directors because I am desirous of having full control of the club, and Mr. Ascher will look after the financial end. I consider myself able to conduct affairs with the assistance of Mr. Ascher without a board of directors. A board of directors on a baseball club, in my estimation is a detriment instead of a help. They do a lot of good at times, but as a general rule baseball opinions vary a great deal and I do not care to be hampered by a body of men who differ with me

NO ASSISTANCE TO HIM.

Personally I like very much every member of the board and I regret that I cannot see my way clear to have them reappointed. After careful consideration of the matter I have arrived at the conclusion that they would be of no material assistance to me in running the team. My experience in baseball has shown me that too many people connected with the business or managerial affairs of a baseball team has been a great handicap to it, and I do not propose to be interfered with by any one in the management of the Montreal Baseball Club.

"Furthermore, if the players knew that they had a board to appeal to they would be going to them with their petty differences with me and it would keep me in hot water all the time. I am of the opinion that it is better to have one head to a ball team in order to maintain perfect discipline and that is the principal reason for not having a board of directors in 1907."

PRESIDENT HAGAR AND BALL DIRECTORS OUT

There are no longer any Montreal Directors on the Executive of the Montreal Baseball team.

The club is to be run in future here by Manager Kittredge, Mr. Fred Ascher, and another gentleman, it is said.

The Montreal directors have been summarily told that they were no longer wanted.

This was done about ten days ago, but the matter has been kept quiet since then, it accidentally leaked out to-day.

It appears that when Mr. Fred. Ascher, Mr. Frank Farell's direct representative, came here to look over the ground, he carried instructions to announce that the local Board of Directors would not be needed in future, and notified them to that effect.

It has been officially stated that this was done because Mr. Malachi Kittredge, the playing manager of the team, thought he could do better without them.

Mr. Kittredge, it is understood, seemed to think that he could do better work if the local management was left in the hands of himself, Mr. Ascher, and the other gentleman referred to.

The three directors who had been thus summarily told that they are no longer needed, are Messrs. Wally C. Hagar, president; and Messrs. Nicholson and Clarke, all gentlemen who have had the cause of baseball very much at heart, the two latter having spent both much time and money in trying to give Eastern League baseball a firm foothold in Montreal.

Mr. Nicholson is very ill, and Mr. Clarke could not be found, but Mr. Hagar admitted that he was no longer president, and that there were no longer any Montreal directors to the Montreal Baseball Club.

"When Mr. Ascher came here," he said, "he told me that he had been instructed by Mr. Farrell to say that it had been decided to do away with the local board of directors. That's all I know about it."

QUEBEC BOWLER DID WELL AT TORONTO

Toronto, April 8.—Thompson's Colts, of Chicago, in the five-men event at the International bowling tournament, broke the world's record, rolling 2,853. The former record was 2,819, made by the same team at Indianapolis five years ago. O'Leary's of Chicago, also rolled a good game, totalling 2,636, and winning second money; the five-men events being finished this afternoon. All the big scores were made on alleys 1 and 2.

Noonan, of Quebec, is high man to date in the individual, rolling 613. He was closely followed by Eddie Gebhard, of Buffalo, with 608.

O'Connell and Nimmo, of Detroit, still hold the record in the doubles.

In the doubles, Stolke and Woodbury, of Chicago, rolled 1,189, winning first money from Gebhard and Smith, of Buffalo, whose total was 1,177. Stolke and Woodbury rolled a very consistent game, the former totalling 595 and the latter 594.

HORSE BROKE LEG AT NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans, April 8. — Gould, a steeplechaser, who won many races here, broke his leg in the long course steeplechase at City Park. He was destroyed. The Lyric Handicap, $1,000, was won by Lancastrian, the favorite, by about six lengths. Summary:

First race, 4 furlongs, purse—Donna H., won; Emma G., second; Embay third. Time 48 4-5.

Second race, steeplechase, full course —Cleolin won; Lights Out second; Scarfield third. Time 3'54.

Third race, 7 furlongs—Morales won; Fantastic second; Gargantua third. Time, 1.25 4-5.

Fourth race, 1 1-2 miles, Lyric Handicap—Lancastrian won; Alma Dufour second; James Reddick third. Time, 2.38 2-5.

Fifth race, 6 furlongs, selling—Posing won; Wild Irishman second; Telescope third. Time 1.13 4-5.

Sixth race, mile, selling — Auditor won; St. Noel second; Bye Bye third. Time 1.41 3-5.

Seventh race, 6 furlongs, selling — Airship won; Orderly second; Tom Mankins third. Time 1.14 1-5.

Two Men's Big Score.

Atlantic City, N.J., April 8.—The first annual bowling championships of the National Bowling Association ended Saturday. New York, Philadelphia and Newark carried off the greater portion of the $6,829 prize money.

The Corinthians, of New York, won the five-man team championship, with a score of 2,814 pins. Tuthill and Nelson, of Brooklyn, were the two-men team victors, with 1,220, while Frank Sauer, of New York, carried away the individual honors by rolling 657.

EL REY SISTERS AT THE STADIUM

The appearance of the El Rey sisters to-night at the Stadium, in exhibitions of fancy skating, is eagerly anticipated by those who have seen former exhibitionse by these two little exponents of graceful skating.

These two little tots, aged respectively 9 and 13 years, are certainly very clever and graceful skaters, and their many unique and difficult feats on the little wheels have stirred many an audience to a high pitch of enthusiasm.

It may be safely said that their combination skating forwards and backwards, on rollers, is one of the best performances ever witnessed in Montreal.

As usual, there will be skating before and after the performance.

Looks Bad for Davidson.

Toronto, April 8.—At a meeting of the Canadian Association Amateur Oarsmen held here it was decided to affiliate with the C.A.A.U.

It was expected that some action would be taken in the cases of Harvey Pulford and other athletes who are alleged to have violated the amateur rules, but nothing was done. As a prominent member explained the situation, the association does not propose to borrow trouble and it will only go into the matter when the parties attempt to row. The feeling apparently is that the association is bound to exclude this element, although it will certainly have an injurious effect on annual regattas.

A committee, with Ed. Mack as chairman, was appointed to manage the regatta this summer at St. Catharines. The races, with the exception of the eights, will be rowed with a turn.

Big Soccer Match a Draw.

Newcastle, Eng., April 8.—The final game in the international series of Association football was played here between England and Scotland and resulted in a draw, the score standing 1 to 1.

Wales thus takes the championship for the first time in the history of the matches. An enormous crowd of people witnessed the game, it being calculated that 30,000 persons came here from Scotland alone.

AT THE AUTO. SHOW.

Snapsnot at some of the occupants of the Indian village in the annex.

AUTO AND SPORTSMEN'S SHOW OPENED WELL

The Cars, the Boats, the Hunting and Fishing Exhibits, and the Moving Pictures were Admired by Hundreds of Visitors.

Billy Bounce, he with the fine moustache, and the pleasant smile, was kept more than busy taking in tickets at the front entrance to the Automobile Show at the Arena Saturday night, and answering the questions that were fired at him by the sightseers.

It was the opening night, and although it was hardly automobile weather, there was a great crowd, which ran up into the thousands.

It was a fashionable crowd, too, and amongst the well-known people were Sir H. Montagu and Lady Allan, who not only are the happy possessors of a couple of the most expensive cars in Montreal, but have joined the Automobile Club of Canada lately.

AUTO CLUB OUT IN FORCE.

The members of the Automobile Club were present in large numbers.

They took their full share in the official opening ceremonies, and, although the latter were somewhat delayed by a misunderstanding, they took place with all the official solemnity that could be expected.

Although His Worship Mayor Ekers of Montreal was present, he had suggested that it would be more befitting the occasion if the chief executive of the good town of Westmount would open the show, and as the chief executive referred to, Mayor Galbraith, was ill, he delegated his duty to Councillor McGoun, who acquitted himself of the task with dignity.

He was welcomed to the show, right near the entrance, by Mr. Duncan McDonald, the president of the Automobile Club of Canada, with a few well-chosen remarks, and after expressing his appreciation at being selected for this very important function, he officially declared the show open. There was a luncheon afterwards.

THE NEWEST FEATURE.

The newest and one of the most popular features of the present show, was the exhibition of hunting and fishing utensils in the galleries, where the C. P. R., the Intercolonial, and the Grand Trunk Railways have some really very fine and interesting exhibits, which include trophies of the chase from gigantic Wapiti antlers to wolf skins ,and some magnificent specimens of mounted fishes .

There are also fine specimens of Indian tepees and log huts, and some realistic photo enlargements illustrating feats of fishing and hunting and depicting the places where the trout is caught and the deer is shot, in such enticing manner that one's mouth waters in looking at them.

VANDERBILT CUP RACE.

Another new feature is the moving picture show, which will be varied every night, although the main attraction, the Vanderbilt Cup Race, will be shown each evening.

To-night there will leave from Toronto an automobile special which brings a large contingent of Toronto people interested in autos, to the Show.

Amongst the prominent out of town motor men already here, are Messrs. Wm. Hyslop, of Toronto; John Westren, of Detroit; and F. Dey, of Buffalo.

As to the auto-car and auto-boat display, it is simply bewildering, and with the exhibits in the Arena proper and in the new annex, one can easily spend an entire afternoon or evening with profit and pleasure.

Grand Trunk Exhibit.

The Grand Trunk Railway System's exhibit at the Automobile and Sportsman's Show, is in the north-west corner of the balcony, and, as usual, is one of the features of the sportsman's end of the exhibition. In all the exhibitions at which the Grand Trunk have exhibited during the several years past, it has been conceded by visitors that their exhibit is generally the best, and the arrangements at the Automobile and Sportsman's Show here is not an exception. The space has been treated to harmonize with the general decorative effect of the interior of the Arena, and the color scheme is an olive green background with a red base. On this background bromide enlargements 1-2 to 6 1-2 feet are hung and which depict scenes in the several districts that appeal to the hunter, angler and tourist, and which are contiguous to the lines of the Grand Trunk Railway System. The Georgian Bay, the Magnetawan River, the Lake of Bays, Temagumi, Lake Nipissing and the French River, Algonquin National Park, are some of the regions that are exploited in Ontario, while the many beautiful spots that are found in the States of Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine and on the Atlantic Coast, are well represented.

In connection with these pictures a very handsome display of mounted fish and game is found, including the heads of moose, deer, bear, fox, coon, rabbit, fisher cat, ermine, grouse, several species of wild duck and other specimens of big game and wild fowl.

Anyone visiting the Arena during the Automobile and Sportsman's Show, should not miss seeeing this most attractive exhibit that is found upstairs in the north-west corner.

A 6 1-2 lb. black bass caught by Anna Held, the well-known comic opera star, is one of the special pieces that are being shown in the Grand Trunk exhibit. This bass was caught in the Belgrade Lakes, about twenty miles from the city of Lewiston, Me., and was loaned specially for this exhibit.

TORONTO PLAYERS ARE GETTING FAST

Special to The Montreal Star.

Cumberland, Md., April 7. — Billy Phyle and Mike Wotell reported to Manager Kelly, of the Toronto ball team on Saturday. And the team is now complete except for Woods.

In appearance and records the Torontos are getting to be a fast agregation. Of the pitchers, Mitchell, Hesterfer, and McGinley are top notchers. Rudolph and Moffatt seem the choice of the others. Connors, Frick, Flood and Fyle constitutes a hard hitting infield, and Kelly, Thoney and Wotell should lead the League as a fast and slugging outfield. A reliable catcher is the only necessity, and when the big leagues begin to discard their surplus materials next week, one likely will be secured, if Woods does not fall into line.

Lady Champion Married.

London, April 8.—Miss D. K. Douglass, champion lawn tennis (singles) player, was married at Ealing Saturday to P. L. Chambers. It is expected that she will not defend the title this year, which will deprive May Sutton, of California, of the chance of playing a rubber with the English expert, who was beaten by Miss Sutton in 1905, but who wrested the championship from the American in 1906.

HAD NEGOTIATIONS ON THE QUIET

Some new developments are promised in the amateur athletic situation of the Dominion.

It is, in fact, expected that one of the largest and most influential bodies of athletes in Canada, which is at present affiliated with the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union, will shortly leave that body, and join forces with the new Amateur Athletic Federation of Canada.

The body referred to is the Maritime Province Ameteur Athletic Association.

PRESIDENT HERE INCOG.

It is stated on the very best authority that either the president of the association or another of its most prominent officers was in the city incognito, and has been for a day or two, and that he has had several important talks and consultations with some of the most prominent officials of the new Federation, talks which have opened his eyes to the power and the usefulness of that body.

Towns No Longer Champion.

Sydney, N.S.W., April 8.—George Towns, the Australian oarsman, has forfeited his claim to the world's sculling championship to his brother, Chas. Towns, who has been challenged by Webb, of New Zealand.

RACING IN A BIG STORM YESTERDAY

Washington, April 8.—Racing in a snowstorm is almost a unique experience at the Bennings track in the spring meetings, yet Saturday the closing event was run in a flurry of snow that rendered it difficult to mark the horses on the back stretch. A raw northeast wind blew the entire afternoon, and the day was disagreeable. The attendance was large, however, and the card attractive.

Interest centered in the third running of the Washington Nursery Stakes for two-year-olds, $1,000 added, at four and a half furlongs. Wood Craft was a stagnant favorite at 2 to 1, but Billie Hibbs was a strong second choice. Billie Hibbs was rushed to the front by Jockey Smith, and won by six lengths, eased up, in 57 3-5. Guncotton got the place, and the favorite was third. Summmary:

First race, selling, 7 furlongs—Azelina won; Anna Smith second; Jack McKeon third. Time, 1.28 3-5.

Second race, Washington Nursery Stakes, 4½ furlongs—Billie Hibbs won; Guncotton second; Woodcraft third. Time, 57 3-5.

Third race, 7 furlongs—Cobleskill won; Pins and Needles second; Crumbling third. Time 1.30 3-5.

Fourth race, steeplechase, for hunters, about 2 1-2 miles—Ardette won; Essex second; Ordessu third. Time, 5.30 .

Fifth race, 5 1-2 furlongs—Lady Isabel won; Queen's Souvenir second; Blember third. Time 56 4-5.

Sixth race, 1 mile and 100 yards — Banker won; Waterdog second; Betsy Binford third. Time, 1.52. Blue buck also ran.

Intercollegiate Athletes.

Kingston, Ont., April 8.—The annual meeting of the Canadian Intercollegiate Athletic Union was held here on Saturday afternoon. These officers were elected:—

President, Prof. Shortt, of Queen's.
Vice-president, Rev. D. Bruce MacDonald, St. Andrew's College, Toronto.
Secretary, Prof. McLeod, McGill.
Board of reference, Prof. Delury, Toronto University; Prof. McLeod, McGill, and Prof. Shortt, Queen's.

The amateur rule was revised, principally for the object of simplicity. The union decided to get into touch with all the schools throughout Canada, and send a copy of intercollegiate athletic rules to every one. Major Lafferty, of the Royal Military College, was appointed to draft rules on swimming, boxing and fencing, and Dr. Tees, of McGill, and W. M. MacInnes, of Queen's, on track and field athletics.

Jenkins to Meet Steurs.

The Sohmer Park management have been working overtime of late, in trying to arrange the match for Friday evening next, between Tom Jenkins, ex-heavyweight champion, and Alphonse Steurs, the "Belgian Lion."

The big Cleveland man insists that the match be to a finish, and a wire was sent Jenkins last night telling him the Belgian had agreed to a finish match, if the rest of the terms were satisfactory, a final wire of acceptance is expected from the Cleveland man to-night.

WELLER AND REGAN TO BOX NEXT WEEK

Johnny Regan, the clever Ottawa lightweight, has been matched to meet Billy Weller in a fifteen round bout at the Shamrock Clubhouse next Monday night. Regan has a terrific punch in either hand, and he has all the local boys he has gone against into slumberland in short order. He believes that he can do the same with Weller, and the Ottawa boxer's admirers are willing to bet even money that he will knock the local boy out inside of a dozen rounds. There is no doubt he can hit harder than Weller, but it is question if Regan will be able to get in any of his terific punches, as Weller has a shade the best of it in cleverness, and is in better shape now than ever before. The bout is creating a lot of interest in local sporting circles, as efforts have been made for a long time to bring those clever boys together. Myer Stringer, the Scotch featherweight, and Bob Crichter, of Albany, will likely be seen in a six-round preliminary the same night.

Many Afghans are much offended at some of the Ameer's doings during his recent visit to India, particularly his dining with British officers, and, more than all, his being initiated into Freemasonry.

TO ENJOY A GOOD DINNER.

How to Avoid Distress and Indigestion After Eating.

Let us tell you how you can enjoy a good dinner, so that the heartiest meal will set well on your stomach and cause no unpleasant and disagreeable after-effects.

We will show you how to regain the appetite of your childhood and the enjoyment of food, so that it will taste as well as when mother cooked the dinner.

There is no hard work necessary to do this; no need of a rigid and self-denying diet list; no call for nasty and disagreeable medicines. Simply take a Mi-o-na stomach tablet before each meal and before going to bed, and it will so strengthen the stomach that before long a hearty meal will give you gratification and comfort, without the least fear of distress and suffering.

The strongest proof we can offer of our faith in this advice, is the fact that we give an absolute, unqualified guarantee (applying to two 50c boxes of Mi-o-na), that your money will be refunded unless Mi-o-na cures.

Mi-o-na is not a mere digestive, giving only temporary relief, but a specific for all diseases of the stomach, strengthening the digestive organs and making a permanent cure.

We absolutely agree that your money will be refunded should you buy a 50c box of Mi-o-na stomach tablets and not be satisfied with the results. Mi-o-na is sold by druggists everywhere, or will be sent by mail on receipt of price, 50c.

Write to-day for a free sample package, and also give us your symptoms, and one of the best known stomach specialists will give your case his careful and personal attention without charge. Booth's Mi-o-na Company, Buffalo, N.Y.

BIG POLICEMAN FROM LACHINE WITH NATIONAL

The Committee has Pretty Well Decided upon a Team, and it Will Have Laviolette and Several of Last Year's Players Again.

The Nationals will have a pretty good lacrosse team.

They haven't all their men signed yet, but it looks as if they would have all the best players of last year, and a few more.

Sauve, the popular street car inspector and crack runner, has signed, and so has a big policeman from Lachine, who will make one of the strongest men this year, it is expected.

Laviolette may play with them, and Gauthier, the little devil-may-care player, who made such a good impression last year.

The work on the new club house is progressing fast and everything will be ready for the opening of the season.

Old Tuque Bleue Snowshoe Club held Sixty-seventh Annual Dinner Saturday Night with Eclat

The sixty-seventh annual dinner of the Tuque Bleue Snowshoe Club, which took place at the Windsor on Saturday, was a great success. President Gordon Bowie did much to make the evening a pleasant one, and in this he was ably seconded by Mr. Wm. Doyle, the hon. secretary.

Among those present were:—Arthur Lamalice, Montagnards; F. Goodwyn, Holly; W. G. Borland, Alert; V. Buchanan, President M.A.A.A.; G. B. Wheaton, Y.M.C.A.; Wm. Lea, Lachine; President Bowie, C. A. L. President Bowie began the speech-making by proposing the toast of the King.

"Our Sister Clubs" was proposed by Mr. L. J. Desrosiers, and was responded to by Mr. William Lea, of the Lachine; F. Goodwyn, of the Hollies; W. G. Borland, of the Alert, and Mr. Arthur Lamalice, of the Montagnards. The last named, in what turned out to be the speech of the evening, spoke about the new union of snowshoers of which he is the president, and after detailing its advantages stated that it was the intention of this new governing body to apply for affiliation to the A.A.F.

W. H. Coates then was sponsor for the toast of "Our Guests," and was responded to by Mr. G. J. Lithgow, the president of the M. P. A. A. A. and captain of the Red Cap Snowshoe Club, of Halifax; President Buchanan, of the M.A.A.A.; Bob Crealy, of the same club, and J. McCuaig.

The veteran and permanent hon. president of the "Tuque Bleue," Mr. Fisher, was the next speaker. He proposed the toast of "The Press."

The programme was finished by Mr. Campbell proposing the toast of the President, Mr. Gordon Bowie, which was drunk with Highland honors.

President Buchanan, of the M. A. A. A., announced the death of Dr. Drummond, and said that the M.A.A.A. flag at the club house would be hoisted at half-mast in token of sympathy.

The features of the evening was the splendid singing of the M.A.A.A. Glee Club, who had given their services, the recitation of V. Graham, and the songs rendered by Messrs. Bob Percy, who gave the new M.A.A.A. song, and Alec. Stuart, who gave the club song.

A letter of congratulation was read from the Holly Snowshoe Club of Winnipeg.

HAD THIRTY-TWO BOILS AT ONE TIME

Two Bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters Cured Him.

Imperfect organic action makes bad blood, so, too, bad blood, in turn, makes imperfect action of every bodily organ. If the blood becomes impure, poisoned or contaminated in any way from constipation, biliousness or any other cause, some especially weak organ must soon become diseased thereby, or the whole system may suffer in consequence.

Pimples, boils, blotches, ulcers, festering sores, abscesses, tumors, rashes or some serious and perhaps incurable blood disease may result. There is no medicine on the market to-day to equal the old and well-known remedy, for all cases of bad blood.

Mr. Ernest B. Tupper, Round Hill, N.S., says: "I think Burdock Blood Bitters a great medicine for boils. I had them so bad I could not work. I had thirty-two on my back at one time. I used only two bottles of B.B.B. and they completely cured me. I cannot recommend it too highly." Price $1.00 per bottle or 6 bottles for $5.00.

WAS IT A "CONSPIRACY OF SILENCE."

An Ottawa despatch states that the suppression of the Fowler scandals was the result of an "understanding" between the machine politicians of the two parties, in which neither Sir Wilfrid nor Mr. Borden had any share. Such a despatch is only in line with common suspicion founded upon evidence which lies on the surface of recent events. Mr. Fowler makes his "insinuations." They are not limited to one Minister; but are put bluntly in the plural. They are not even limited to the Ministers at all, but are said to have reference as well to private members supporting the Ministry. In the sequel, however, they bowl over but one man. He is a Minister; and, by a curious coincidence, the Minister who commands the Ministerial forces in the Province of New Brunswick where Mr. Fowler must feed his political ambition.

Then the stormy sea is calmed. The winds go down as if there never had been a tempest. Mr. Bourassa is elbowed to one side as no longer of any importance. The electricity is out of the cloud. If this does not point to an "understanding" between the parties, then the reading of political signs of the times becomes a very difficult business. Chance has, in such a case, usurped the methods of calculation; and "fortune" has changed her policy for once and "favored" the cowardly.

Now if there has been an "understanding" between the party "machinists" in this matter, a scandal ten times as grave and disgusting as that created by the original Fowler insinuations must result. It is bad enough in all conscience to have to admit it possible that a member of the Canadian House of Commons can get up in his place and insinuate immoral conduct against the Ministers without being called upon then and there—or, indeed, at any later time — to make good his words or eat them. But if it has come about that these insinuations against the Ministers have been kept alive by Mr. Fowler, turning a deaf ear to the popular demand that he "play the man" with sinister cynicism, while it has been callously bargained between the understrappers of the two parties that Emmerson should be sacrificed to him if he permitted the rest to escape, then the degradation of the nation will be complete if we countenance such trafficking in scandal.

The responsibility resting upon Mr. Borden—Mr. Fowler's leader—in the case is very heavy. He is the spokesman of an organization which stands to lose mightily in public confidence if the belief goes out that this bargain has been struck. Moreover, his organization—the Opposition—has before it already all the evidence necessary for action on its part. It is not concerned with the truth or the falsity of Mr. Fowler's charges, so long as Mr. Fowler remains mute. It knows that Mr. Fowler made the insinuations. They are down in Hansard. And it consequently is seized of all the information needful for it to possess in order to tell Mr. Fowler that he must follow up his insinuations or follow his insensible nose out of the party "caucus." This Mr. Borden would be perfectly justified in doing with the evidence in hand. This Mr. Borden ought to do as a duty to his party and to the country.

The Ministers may be able to weakly excuse inaction on the ground that they have no positive evidence of misconduct on the part of any their colleagues before them. Mr. Borden has all the evidence possible of the misconduct of one of his colleagues before him on the pages of Hansard. Having won the approval and even the admiration of the country by the promptitude with which he resented the Emmerson aspersions, Mr. Borden should now show an equal solicitude for the honor of his party when its vindication requires the arraignment—not of an opponent—but of one of his own followers.

DR. DRUMMOND.

The pen that wrote "The Papineau Gun" is broken. The sense of loss which has followed this news from Cobalt is not limited by any national boundaries or even by the circle of the hemisphere. Dr. Drummond was known wherever English is read as a master interpreter of the inner spirit of a people. He was no mere juggler with a dialect. He was a man—a poet—of rare insight; and that he wrote in a dialect was largely an accident. It was the requirements of the audience for which he wrote rather than his own necessities which suggested the superficial bait of a dialect.

That there is genuine feeling and power in many of his better known poems, everybody knows. Two of them—"The Papineau Gun" and "The Wreck of the Julie Plante"—were written before Dr. Drummond had attained his later popularity, and before, indeed, he seems to have discovered any vocation in that field of literature. They were given only a precarious newspepr birth, and—had they not been of exceptional vitality—would have speedily died the usual early newspaper death. But they could not die. Having once seen the light, the people demanded their re-printing again and again, and they thus lived on in private scrap books and in the memories of those who had happened upon the happy chance of their acquaintance.

Finally the remarkable popularity of these waifs, left to shift for themselves in the ephemeral world of journalism, seems to have suggested to Dr. Drummond that he had a vision which the people demanded that he should share with them. Any number of persons could write so-called French-Canadian dialect, but there seemed to be no one else who could see so far into the heart of things as to produce another "Papineau Gun." That had not lived because of the hand of the craftsman, but because of the soul of the seer. So Dr. Drummond finally opened his vision to us, and then—so far as popularity went—he came at last into his own.

The feeling of loss is that death silenced him so soon when so much more might have been expected from his pen. Yet it must not be forgotten that he has left us much. His poems fairly well cover the gamut of emotion in the field he has made his own. He could have amplified the work, no doubt, and thrown light upon the life he studied so sympathetically from many other points of view. But he has not died without leaving at least an outline of the picture upon which he was laboring; and it is an outline that will live. We sometimes are in doubt as to whether the work of contemporary writers will last much longer than the advertisements which puff their wares; but there is no doubt whatever in case of Dr. Drummond. As even the starvation diet of newspaper publication could not kill his first two poems, so with his more complete and better sustained work he will take his place without effort in that small and select company of Canadian immortals.

McGILL'S LOSS.

The course in engineering at McGill, so rudely stopped by the burning of the Macdonald Engineering building last week, is to be resumed at once. This is the gratifying announcement made to students who feared that they would have to return home to await the rebuilding of the structure. The fact that McGill was among the best equipped and foremost halls of learning on this subject in the world made the destruction of their engineering building seem like an appalling loss. It has been discovered, on going over the ruins, that the testing apparatus in the basement, among the most important of the plant, was in such a condition that after overhauling and cleaning off the effects of the water, it would be as good as ever.

Temporary arrangements have been made to house the students, and the work of rebuilding was commenced today. The blow that the university suffered is rallying to her support old friends and new admirers. Already word has been received from a former student offering to replace some of the valuable volumes lost in the library. Doubtless many similar gratifying evidences of practical sympathy will come in as the work goes on. Alas, there are records and results made and attained by some of the most distinguished men in their line in the world, which have been lost forever. In this respect the calamity is that of the continent and not of McGill alone.

We can only hope that in the coming building the skill and research of McGill University may demonstrate that a real fireproof structure can be made, and that only in such hereafter will the college authorities entrust such articles as could never be replaced if lost, and that buildings containing valuable records and expensive apparatus and priceless volumes will hereafter never be left unguarded at night, where, to say nothing of fire, "dust and moths do corrupt and thieves break through and steel."

The Toronto Globe to-day, according to our telegraphic advices, states in an editorial: "The Montreal Star commends Mr. Borden, leader of the Opposition, for his promptitude in resenting Mr. Emmerson's insinuation that others might be as open as he to charges of misconduct. Curiously enough the Star fails to see that it is Mr. Borden's special duty to get Mr. Fowler to put himself right by making specific charges instead of cowardly innuendoes against members of the Government. Mr. Fowler has succeeded in bringing discredit on the whole Opposition."

Mr. Emmerson's insinuations that "others" might be open to charges of misconduct were directed squarely against the members opposite him, of whom Mr. Borden, was one. Unlike the ministers against whom Mr. Fowler inveighed, Mr. Borden did not sit silent; to use a Globe expression, he "called" Emmerson's "bluff." The Star has not failed to "see that it is Mr. Borden's special duty" to urge Fowler to speak out. We have especially urged the Opposition leader—and we still urge him—to force his New Brunswick follower to act like an honorable man or withdraw from Mr. Borden's following.

While we are not unconcerned about the "discredit" Mr. Fowler has wrought in his own ranks, we are quite alive to some facts arising from his explosion that the Globe does not advance—namely—that one minister has withdrawn from the cabinet, that another's resignation will have to be made valid, and that the joint efforts of the Speaker of the House and of the Premier were not considered too important to "bottle up" the belligerent Bourassa.

MACHINE POLITICIANS KEEP ON THE LID

STATED THAT A "DEAL" CLOSED FOWLER CASE

Corrupt Elements Manoeuvring for Personal Advantage.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, April 8.—The impression is gaining ground that the Fowler case was closed up by a "deal."

It is only fair to Mr. R. L. Borden to say that he was in no way a party to the intrigue that has been going on. But it went on under his very nose, without his knowledge. Mr. Borden could have nipped the plot in the bud had he but called upon Mr. Fowler to make good his insinuation. But failing that course an opportunity was afforded unscrupulous machine politicians on both sides of the house—and belonging to both parties—to twist the present situation to personal advantage. Liberals agreed that Mr. Emmerson was to be thrown to the wolves; and so-called Conservatives have striven, in return, for reasons best known to themselves, to "save the faces" of other delinquents, and keep the "lid" screwed hard down.

As matters now stand Mr. R. L. Borden can yet save the honor of Parliament and foil the machine element of his own party by demanding that both Fowler and Emmerson substantiate or withdraw their allegations against the honor of ministers and members of the House.

Don't Stop At Small Streets.

To the Editor of the Montreal Star:

Sir,—Friday night, being on board M. S. R. car 594, I noticed that the running staff of that car was in a very great hurry and hardly gave time to people to get on or off their car, but the climax was reached when we crossed St. Denis street on Mount Royal avenue. Just as we were crossing, an old lady motioned and called to the conductor to stop at Rivard street, at the same time trying to get up, when she, as well as all of us, noticed the car was passing Rivard without stopping. On asking the conductor why the car did not stop he answered her that the car was not stopping at these small streets, and he took her over to the corner, and, by the way, to the eastern corner of Berri street.

Are Ministers Growing Lazy?

To the Editor of the Montreal Star:

Sir,—In your issue of April 3rd I noticed a short communication from Judge Forbes, of St. John, N.B., asserting that ministers of the present time are growing lazy. He tries to show the contrast between ministers of years ago to the present ones as to the amount of work performed. His words are, "Years ago he knew clergymen who thought nothing of holding service in one church on Sunday mornings and then driving many miles for the service in the evening; but nowadays men object to going even a few miles." In reply, let me ask, what is the present condition of the churches? Congregations having but one place of worship, the minister has to preach both morning and evening. I do not know of a single minister who escapes with one service a Sabbath. There are a large number of congregations where the minister has to preach in the main church in the morning, drive out to the country a number of miles in the afternoon to another church and return to the main church for the evening, thus giving him three services. He may teach a Bible class besides. He has at least one or two prayer meetings during the week. He is expected when possible to preside at Christian Endeavor. He must visit the sick, attend to baptisms, marriages, funerals, etc. Add to this what he has to do respecting the general work of the church—attending church courts, work on committees, etc. Where is there a class of men who are busier, more generous and self-denying than the ministers of the Presbyterian Church, and who are, at the same time, so poorly remunerated for their work? While travelling in days gone by was more difficult the present organization of the churches is more cumbersome, and that entails more work upon the ministers. The writer has known a large number of ministers, and he has not met one but has been faithful in the discharge of his duties. Let Judge Forbes exchange the bench for a scattered country congregation, and he will feel more leniently towards ministers. Let me add: Is it not folly to multiply preaching stations? Does it not encourage indolence in the people? Does it not alienate them from the main church?

When he arrived at the station he was much surprised to find that the 11.15 started promptly on time. "Well," said he to the conductor, "they libel you up north, where they say your trains are never on time, either coming or going."

"The Northerners are right," was the unexpected response of the conductor. "We never got a train off in time in our lives."

"Why, this train got off on time. It's the 11.15, isn't it?"

"Yes, my friend, it's the 11.15, but it's last Tuesday's 11.15. To-day's 11.15 won't start much befo' Monday, I reckon."

The Date 30 Years Ago.

April 1877.

The Late Mr. Jesse Joseph.

AT the meeting of the directors of the Gas company held yesterday, Mr. Andrew Wilson was elected President, but had to decline the office for private reasons. Mr. Jesse Joseph was then nominated and unanimously elected.

MR Jesse Joseph was in his life time one of the foremost business men of the Dominion and largely interested in many important commercial concerns and industries of the country. He was possessed of sound judgment. He very conservative in his methods. He was President of the Montreal Gas Company for close on twenty years and very much improved its financial position. He was also President of the Street Railway company for some years and was a director of the Montreal Telegraph Co. He passed away 24th February 1904. The late Mr. Andrew Wilson was a newspaper proprietor and printer, and by his industry and probity built up a remmerative and successful business. He died in the eighties.

The late Rev. Dr. Jenkins.

The quarterly meeting of the Montreal Presberty was opened in St. Paul's church this morning. The Rev. J. Jenkins D. D. Moderator in the chair. After routine business a long discussion took place over the laws of the General Assembly. The court took recess at one o'clock. The late Rev. John Jenkins D. D. L. L. D. was a graduate of Exeter College and Kings College London, was ordained to the ministery in 1837 and proceeded to the East Indies as a Missionary with headquarters at the city of Bungalore. After many years of useful service in the East he came to Montreal in 1847 and was Rector of St. James St. Methodist church for over six years, when he resigned to take charge of a larger congregation in Philadelphia, where he remained for ten years. He was called to St. Paul's church, Montreal in 1864 and ministered most faithfully to his flock for over ten years. He was an eloquent expounder of the scriptures and was highly esteemed and loved by his parishoners. He was Chairman of the Protestant Board of School Commissioners for Montreal for seven or eight years, when he retired from school work. He was an L. L. D. of McGill 1879 and a D. D. of New York University. He went to his long rest in the eighties, and is buried in his native land, England.

The leak in the reservoirs still continues and the great waste of water is causing much uneasiness to the officials of the Water Department and also the Fire Brigade. Mr. Lesage and his assistants are making every effort to find out the cause of the loss of water.

The late Mr. Lesage was the able superintendent and civil engineer of the water works for a long period and gave the best of his talent and time to improving the city water system. He held this responsible office to his demise in the eighties.

AGONY OF SORE HANDS

Cracked and Peeled. Water and Heat Caused Intense Pain. Could Do No Housework.

VERY GRATEFUL TO CUTICURA

"My hands cracked and peeled, and were so sore it was impossible for me to do my housework. If I put them in water, I was in agony for hours; and if I tried to cook, the heat caused intense pain. I consulted two doctors, but their prescriptions were utterly useless. And now after using one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment my hands are entirely well, and I am very grateful. (signed) Mrs. Minnie Drew, 18 Dana St., Roxbury, Mass."

World Gossip

DODGING THE INSPECTORS.

As this continent is the Mecca for the enterprising poor of less favored climes and countries and those where the density of the population has made it difficult for all to earn a livelihood, the task of the immigration bureaus of Canada and the United States has become a work rather of careful selection than of encouragement. So much is this the case that annually thousands of immigrants are turned away from both countries as being undesirable, and there are even exclusion laws against whole nationalities. Among these peoples practically excluded from the United States are the Japanese, ever since the recent passing of the law suggested by the agitation on the Pacific coast.

The Jap, however, is constitutionally an ardent believer in the good old adage that where there is a will there is a way; and, applying it to the subject of affecting an entry into the United States, it has led him to form a variety of ingenious schemes for the defeating of the exclusion law and its minions. Mr. Richard L. Ford, of El Paso, Texas, who spent Saturday and part of yesterday in this city, tells of one system which is being carried out on a large scale, and which has already enabled a number of Japanese to slip through the official barriers against them.

"The Japanese remind me a little of the lines of the Roman poet about nature," said Mr. Ford at the Queen's Hotel to a Star reporter, "if you put them out the door they come in the window. The door has been shut on them at San Francisco, so they come in through the window on the Mexican border. Ever since the passing of the new law they have been pouring into Mexico by the hundred, and they do not at all attempt to conceal their intention of remaining in that country only until it is possible for them to effect their entry into the United States.

Mr. Ford went on to state that at every little village on the Mexican side of the border there are dozens of Japanese simply waiting their chance to slip across into American territory. They are all headed for the United States, and they come across continually in small parties, or even singly. These Japs are located mostly between El Paso and the Gulf, and it is estimated that there are several hundreds of them.

"What is being done to stop this tide of surreptitious immigration?" was asked.

"Well, an inspector has been appointed especially for the work, and the staff of the department along the line has been increased. But the task is a very difficult one. It is impossible to prevent the Japs coming over the line, and, once they are over, it is no easy matter to catch them and deport them. The only practical method of meeting this new move on the part of Japanese immigrants is the adoption of the system which has worked so well in Canada—that is, the appointment of inspectors to examine at Mexican ports the immigrants who are heading for the United States. Of course, for this there would have to be a treaty negotiated; but I believe preliminary steps for such an agreement have already been taken."

THE SOUTH AND TEDDY.

In spite of President Roosevelt's disclaimers of any intention of accepting nomination for what would practically be a third term, his candidature is still widely considered as a probable factor in the coming general elections. People are even weighing just what his chances are, and what parts of the country would be for him and what parts against him.

Mr. Arthur Hedges, of Wheeling, W. Va., who is visiting in this city, is one of those who seem to think that Roosevelt will run again for the Presidency, and in a chat with a Star reporter yesterday he pointed out some of the likely happenings, in his opinion, of the coming campaign.

"The South will make a good showing in favor of President Roosevelt, if he consents to run," said Mr. Hedges, "for there has of late grown up there a very friendly sentiment towards him. And this feeling is a general one, affecting all classes. This personal regard for Mr. Roosevelt, irrespective of party and political lines, has so influenced the mass of the people that I am certain he would poll in the South the biggest vote ever polled by a Republican, and would even carry states that have formerly been strongly Democratic."

Mr. Hedges went on to say that in West Virginia almost every one was a strong follower of Teddy's. In Missouri he would probably carry the state even against Mr. Bryan. He might also win in Arkansas, and he stood a very fair chance of victory in Kentucky and Tennessee. Even in the so-called "solid South" the Rooseveltian party was a strong one, and he would certainly poll a large vote.

"Everywhere through the Southern States President Roosevelt's personal popularity is very great," concluded Mr. Hedges, "and it is due not only to his able and honest administration, not only to his personal magnetism, but also in some measure to the fact that his mother was a daughter of Georgia."

THE CHIBOUGAMOU REGION.

"The Chibougamou district is richer than either the Yukon or Cobalt," said Mr. Armand Tessier, of Roberval, in this city yesterday. "This has been shown conclusively by the reports of the engineers who have examined the region. When properly opened up it will be the finest mining camp in the world."

Among the minerals found in the region, Mr. Tessier enumerated large deposits of magnetic iron, and promising veins of gold, silver and copper. There is even a considerable quantity of the "cobalt bloom" which has made northern Ontario famous, and, indeed, it was this which led to the discovery of the richness of the region some few years ago.

"But though the worth of the metallic deposits of the Chibougamou are well known to mining men," said Mr. Tessier, "the difficulties of getting into the region, with its long and tedious canoe trip, has so far prevented people from flocking in as they should. This will be all changed when the new line from St. John to Chibougamou has been built; and then the district can be exploited even to greater advantage than Cobalt. Already in spite of its remoteness there are about three hundred and fifty men at work along the Chibougamou river, and more are coming in right along."

Mr. Tessier states that besides the mineral resources of the region there are magnificent pulp woods and fine sources of water power.

YOUTH TAKES TRIP WITH EASY MONEY

With Book of Stolen Express Orders He Is on His Way Across the Continent.

Escaping from the city with twenty blank express money order forms with the possibility of realizing fifty dollars on each is the exploit of James Selars, 19 years of age, formerly a trusted messenger boy of Mr. A. Davidson, druggist, Westmount. The boy is making a transcontinental tour, paying expenses en route by cashing the express orders which he took from his employer. Notification of cashed orders have been coming in at short intervals from Kingston, Toronto, Guelph, Niagara, Winnipeg to Mr. Davidson who is an agent for the Canadian Express Company. The youth is still at large, and the last intimation of his whereabouts was received by his former employer in the form of an order for $50 cashed at Vancouver, March 21.

Selars applied for employment at Mr. Davidson's store last October, and from that time to the date of his sudden departure from the city March 5 last, his employer had no reason to doubt the boy's honesty. One of his duties was to collect accounts, and in this respect he had always given the best of satisfaction.

Last December, when alterations were being made in Mr. Davidson's store, a Canadian Express Company money order book containing twenty forms disappeared. The message boy appeared to search as diligently as any one else for the missing book, but Mr. Davidson never saw it again, and until a few weeks ago he thought it had been mislaid or else that a workman in the store at the time had taken it. Being told of the disappearance of the book the Express Company at once notified their agents throughout the country to cash no orders, the numbers corresponding to those of the missing book. This, however, would not warn unsuspecting bank tellers from cashing such orders.

During the first part of last March Selars, the message boy, complained of illness. As he did not appear at work on March 6, it was taken for granted that he had been confined to his room. Inquiries were made the next day at his boarding house, where it was learned that he had left the city the previous night. Before the week ended the missing forms had started to turn up on the instalment plan, most of them having been cashed for the full amount. Chief Harrison, of Westmount, has charge of the plans taken to bring Selars to justice. Photographs and descriptions have been sent all over the western provinces and states, and news of his capture is expected any time.

The Later Sister Elizabeth Curran.

Sister Elizabeth Curran, secretary-general of the Grey Sisters, at the mother house, Water street, Ottawa, died on Saturday, aged 63. She was a sister of Mr. Justice Curran. Her eldest sister passed away at the Grey Nunnery in this city thirteen months ago. Only a fortnight since her second sister, Mary of the Immaculate Conception, died at Ottawa. All three were members of the order of Grey Nuns and had careers of remarkable usefulness. The Rev. Elizabeth Curran was born in Montreal on 29th February, 1844. Receiving her education at Ottawa, she entered the community there on the 7th September, 1858. She made her vows in 1860, and has since been an able, active and zealous worker. The funeral will take place at Ottawa Tuesday morning.

Wife of Hon. Judge Dugas Dead.

Mrs. Dugas, wife of the Hon. Judge Dugas, of Dawson City, died at four o'clock Saturday morning at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. L. A. Herdt, wife of Prof. Herdt of McGill University, at 342 Sherbrooke St. Judge Dugas left this city for Dawson a month ago. It was the intention of Mrs. Dugas, then in the best of health, to follow him sometime during this month. She contracted a severe cold ten days ago which terminated fatally in pneumonia. Mrs. Dugas who was 62 years of age, was born at Nicolet, Que. Her maiden name was Miss Susan Harkins.

Attempt to Free Gurofsky.

The Montreal Hebrew Political Association is addressing a petition to Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, Minister of Justice, claiming that justice had not been rendered to Joseph William Gurofsky, who recently received a year's sentence in Toronto for having shot at and wounded an Italian. The petitioners are asking the Minister of Justice that sentence be reconsidered. The petition rests on the principle that when one's life is in danger resort to the use of a weapon is justified.

ABOUT COUGHS

Some Reliable Local Advice.

"In conducting a large drug business we naturally meet a great many people at this season of the year who suffer from coughs, colds and bronchial troubles.

"As these troubles are easily controlled if the right means is taken to cure them, we want to say to the people of Montreal that we guarantee our cod liver preparation, Vinol, will cure hanging-on colds, stubborn coughs, bronchial and lung troubles quicker than any preparation we have ever sold.

"This is because Vinol contains no oil or grease, to clog the system and upset the stomach, yet it does contain every one of the fifty odd medicinal curative elements actually taken from fresh cods' livers, with tonic iron added. Vinol is not a patent medicine; and you know what you are taking, so without reservation we recommend Vinol to cure coughs, colds, bronchial troubles, increase the appetite, build up the run-down, tired and debilitated, and create strength and renewed vitality for the aged.

"If Vinol fails to do what we say, we will refund every dollar paid for it."

—R. H. Bryson, Druggist.

THE KING'S VICE-CHAMBERLAIN.

The new Lord Allendale, who succeeds to an enormous fortune, will, of course, have to resign his office of Vice-Chamberlain of the Household, for that is always held by a member of the House of Commons. The duties of the office are practically nominal, and its holder generally acts as assistant Whip in the House. There is, however, one curious privilege which the Vice-Chamberlain enjoys, namely, that of handing the Queen to or from her carriage. Walpole in one of his lively letters to Marshall Conway, speaking of a visit paid to him by the late Queen Charlotte, says, "As I had been assured that her Majesty would be attended by her Chamberlain, yet was not, I had no glove ready when I received her at the step of her coach; yet she honoured me with her hand to lead her up the stairs; nor did I recollect my omission when I led her down again. Still, though gloveless, I did not squeeze the royal hand, as Vice-Chamberlain Smith did to Queen Mary." And in a note he thus explains this curious allusion: "It is said that Queen Mary asked some of her attendant ladies what a squeeze of the hand was supposed to intimate? They said 'Love,' then said the Queen, 'my Vice-Chamberlain must be violently in love with me, for he always squeezes my hand.

A STRANGE VILLAGE.

In Northern Persia, toward the Turkestan border, there stands, in the middle of an arid desert, one of the most extraordinary villages in the world. It is built upon a solitary hill, about a hundred feet high, rising abruptly from the plain, and is inhabited by about 500 people. Eydi Khast, as the hamlet is called, is as inaccessible as a feudal castle, for there is only one way of entering it—a hole in the wall a few yards square, connected with a mound across a yawning gully by a few planks, which are withdrawn at night, when the village is entirely isolated upon its precipitous hill. Shut up in this rabbit warren of a place, and remote from civilization in any shape or form, it is not surprising that the manners and customs of the inhabitants are peculiar.

For instance, they never use soap, rubbing themselves clean with sand; they never cook vegetables or meat, but eat them raw; and their beds, in the miserable boxes which they call rooms, consist of a quantity of straw, with a brick for a pillow. Once a week, curiously enough, a doctor comes to Edyi Khast to minister to any ailing inhabitants. This practitioner works in a highly original fashion, practising a kind of faith-healing. He carries no drugs whatever, but he writes mystic sentences upon slips of paper, which his patients proceed to swallow, with—according to all reports—the happiest results.

AIR SHIPS AND WAR.

Col. J. E. Capper, who is in command of the balloon section at Aldershot, England, is quoted as saying that "the British government for many months past has been making experiments with a view to a possible aerial war, and arrangements are already in progress for the formation of a home and attacking fleet of airships. Between 400 and 500 men are being trained for service in Britain's future aerial fleet. This aerial force will consist of balloons, kites and aeroplanes." He adds: "An aerial section to our army is not the mere hobby of ambitious inventors, but is an absolute necessity if we are to continue to hold the same position in the world which we do now. If once the British people really wake up and take an intelligent and businesslike interest in flying, machines we shall make great strides toward the construction of an aerial branch of our flying forces. I do not wish to prophesy, but in the future—perhaps some twenty years hence—airships will be so common that there will be legislation for them in the same way as there is now for motor cars and other road traffic."

HOME OF THE BOOK THIEF.

"Paris is the home of the great book thief," writes a correspondent from that city to a German paper. "It is just sixty years since Count Libri, a librarian of the National Library, fled to England, taking with him books to the value of 2,000,000 francs belonging to the library. He was sentenced in contumaciam to ten years' imprisonment, but never served a day and never returned the books. The directors had to purchase them from people to whom they had been sold and paid large prices for them. A similar theft has recently been discovered in the library of the Ecole des Beaux Arts. Here also the thief remains unpunished because he died before his crime became known. A good name covers much, and the thief, who was M. Thomas, an officer of the Legion of Honor, architect of the Grand Palais and recipient of the Roman prize, was at liberty to plunder the library at will. He was an enthusiast on the subject of old engravings and bibliographic curiosities, and could satisfy his desires in that direction without molestation on the part of custodians. "His method was to tear engravings from books, or to carry away the whole work. In this manner he acquired books and pictures to the value of about 200,000 francs."

CHIROPODY PARTIES.

Chiropody parties are the latest fad in Laken, Kansas. The Investigator, in speaking of them, says: After the first few meetings an organization was perfected to be known as the Lakin Sore Feet Club. It seems that they have dispensed with all secret and mystic symbols, a pass word not even being necessary to gain entrance to their meetings. They are known to one another by their walk. Immediately upon calling the chapter together the presiding officer gives a signal, when all present remove their shoes and hose, the time is then given over to comparing feet, giving experiences pertaining thereto, lauding their apostle and running foot races. Members of both sexes are eligible if upon examination their feet prove to be the worse for wear.

LARGEST PRINTED BOOK.

The largest printed book is a colossal atlas of engraved ancient Dutch maps. It takes three men to move it from the giant bookcase in which it is stored in the library of the British Museum. This monster book is bound in leather, magnificently decorated, and is fastened with clasps of solid silver, richly gilt. It is unlikely to be stolen, however, for it is nearly seven feet high and weighs 300 pounds. This, the largest book in the world, was presented to King Charles II. before leaving Holland in the year 1660.

Jones Was Found Guilty.

Hamilton, Ont., April 8. — Sidney Jones, arrested in Toronto a few days ago on the charge of attempting to blow up the boilers of the Hamilton Steel and Iron Company, was found guilty and remanded for a week for sentence. It was shown that Jones had a grievance against the company.

Swore He Was a Bachelor.

Toronto, Ont., April 8.—Frank J. Harrison, of Buffalo, whose numerous matrimonial ventures have been engaging the attention of Judge Winchester, was found guilty of perjury. His Honor held that the prisoner corruptly swore in his application for a marriage license in Toronto in 1904 that he was a bachelor.

FAMOUS ENGINE DISCARDED

Electricity Supersedes Steam in the Ogilvie Flour Mills.

Winnipeg, April 3.—Electricity is now the motive power which drives the Ogilvie Flour Mills in this city, and as a result their famous steam engine, one of the largest in Canada, now lies dormant. This engine was long regarded as one of the sights of Winnipeg, and even Royalty has gazed in wonderment at its massive proportions. This is a utilitarian age, however, and this king among engines has had to give place to the more concentrated, direct and powerful electric motor.

Among the many notable personages who have visited the Ogilvie Flour Mills are numbered Their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales and Their Excellencies Earl and Lady Grey. They were greatly impressed with the operations of this engine, which derived its supply of steam from a large battery of boilers, the little army of engineers and stokers adding picturesqueness to the scene. The power from the engine was communicated to the mill by means of a ponderous belt which also was a source of interest to sightseers.

The electrical equipment supplanting this milestone in the decadence of steam power was supplied by the Canadian General Electric Company and consists of a 1,200 h.p. motor directly connected to the shaft in the main mill and several smaller motors of 150 h.p. in the outlying premises. This direct motor connection with the shaft marks a new departure in mechanics and is regarded as quite a forward step. It does away with the belted or rope drive and supersedes mechanical clutches for connecting the revolving shaft with the motors. The beauty of this installation is that the mill runs smoothly seven days in the week and fifty-two weeks in the year without the attention of a single person other than to see that oil is supplied, while under the old system a little army of men were required to stoke the boilers and guard the engine.

In the new installation the old steam plant was left intact for an emergency, should there be any trouble with the river producing the energy. Trouble did arise with the water at Lac du Bonnet and recourse had to be had to steam for a short time. This served to exemplify the superiority of electrical energy over steam power. With the latter the speed varied to some extent with the pressure of the boilers, but with the electric power the speed was absolutely constant. Given a uniform speed, millers knowing the grade of wheat they are using can adjust their machines to turn out an even product, a consummation greatly sought after in milling. It is for this, among other reasons, that the palm is awarded to electric equipment, and the passing of the steam engine seems only a question of time.

EX-PRESIDENT MURDERED.

Paid Assassin Stabs Bassilias of Guatemala, in Street Car.

Mexico City, April 8.—General Manuel Lisandro Bassilias, former President of Guatemala, was assassinated in Calle Seminiaro, as he sat in a street car.

The car stopped and a young man about seventeen years of age, climbed aboard, and rushing at the General, stabbed him twice. The first blow severed the jugular vein, and the second cut his face. He died instantly. The assassin was captured. He gave his name as Yose Estrada, and his home as Oc..., Guatemala.

The members of the Guatemalan colony, many of whom formerly lived in Ocos, know of no such name, and do not recognize the youth, who is doubtless a paid assassin. The assassin was taken to police headquarters.

Bassilias was generally regarded as being strongly opposed to the present government of Guatemala. He was 62 years of age, and was a strong possibility for the next presidency of the country.

CZAR WILL NOT ABDICATE.

Sensational Story in London Paper Denied.

London, April 8.—Major James E. B. Martin, Comptroller and Treasurer of the Household of Prince Christian, father of Princess Victoria of Schleswig-Holstein, has authorized a denial of the report circulated by The Daily Mirror, of this city, of the engagement of the Princess to the Grand Duke Michael of Russia, which the Major declared to be "absolutely without foundation."

Crime is on the Increase.

Mr. Justice Kenna, in opening the Assizes for County Leitrim, recently, said there was an increase in the number of cases represented by the crime of intimidating threatening letters and notices. The county inspector had informed him that one district was in a very lawless condition, and that there were three families represented by twelve people who were wholly boycotted, and received police protection, and besides there were two other families who received partial police protection. "He also told me," added his lordship, "that one family exists in such a state of continual danger that there are three policemen quartered in their houses. To such an extent has the spirit of lawlessness developed that in one of the districts to which I have referred the postmen have twice been set upon, and letters forcibly taken from them."

MR. DELMAS OPENS ADDRESS TO JURY

Thaw Trial Has Reached Last Stage —Prisoner Is Counting on Acquittal.

THAW WILL GO TO SOUTH AFRICA.

New York, April 8.—Young Mrs. Thaw called on her husband in the Tombs yesterday. After her visit it was said that Thaw has made up his mind that he will be freed, and he has decided to go to South Africa with his wife. According to the keepers Thaw is having sent to the Tombs all the literature he can get on South Africa. He thinks it will be a good place for him to keep out of the limelight. His family has the idea he is going to Europe. He says that no matter where he goes his wife will go with him.

New York, April 8.—The Thaw trial has entered upon its last stage, and nothing remains but the addresses of counsel and Justice Fitzgerald's summing up. Eleven weeks have already been consumed in the trial, making it the longest in the history of New York's criminal courts. Mr. Delmas, counsel for the defence, began his summing up address at 2 o'clock.

Justice Fitzgerald was a few minutes late in taking the bench. When he did go, and before the jury had been brought into the room, District Attorney Jerome arose and said he would formally ask that the report of the commission in lunacy which declared Thaw sane, be not confirmed. He had no argument to offer.

Justice Fitzgerald quietly reached for the report which lay on his desk, and signed his name to it.

"The trial will proceed," he ordered.

The jury then filed into the box and Harry Thaw was called to the bar.

Delphin L. Delmas, of counsel for the defence, asked the clerk to call Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton the alienist who was on the stand when the trial was interrupted more than two weeks ago. Mr. Delmas wanted to get from Dr. Hamilton the opinion that Thaw was insane when he shot and killed Stanford White.

Mr. Jerome objected, and the objection was sustained.

After a moment's consultation with the other attorneys, Mr. Delmas said: "The defence rests."

"The people rest," said Mr. Jerome.

Justice Fitzgerald then announced that in view of the importance of the case, he thought it would be necessary to keep the jury together until the close of the trial. He therefore ordered that the jury be confined under the same conditions as existed at the beginning of the trial.

District Attorney Jerome suggested that as this would be something of a hardship on the jurors, who had had no notice of it, they should be allowed to go until 2 o'clock in order to arrange their affairs.

This Justice Fitzgerald agreed to, and a recess until 2 o'clock was ordered. Justice Fitzgerald asked the attorneys to submit to him in writing any requests they might have to make as to his charge to the jury.

Mr. Delmas announced that he would begin his summing up address at 2 o'clock.

Mr. Delmas began his address by quoting from a statement from District Attorney Jerome when he said: "We have no right to be here trying this man if the real facts were known." Delmas said he would ask acquittal on the written law of the State of New York.

BROWNE WINS APPEAL TO SUPREME COURT.

Washington, April 8.—That a fugitive from justice in the United States, who has been extradited from Canada on one charge cannot be imprisoned on another charge, was decided to-day by the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of Charles C. Browne, an appraiser of merchandise of New York, who three years ago was indicted and convicted in connection with the importations of Japanese silks.

POISON LURKED ON WALLS.

Evansville, Ind., April 8.—Mrs. Zachariah Watson, the third wife of a farmer in Posey County, Indiana, died a few days ago, and yesterday it was discovered that her death was due to the paper on the walls and ceiling of the parlor that she had cleaned two days before being taken ill.

Physicians believed she had been poisoned, but were unable to ascertain the cause until the wall paper was examined, and found to be impregnated with virulent poison. Watson's first two wives died the same way, their deaths occurring one and two years ago.

TRAFALGAR WENT ASHORE.

Davenport, England, April 8.—The British battleship Trafalgar went ashore to-day on the rocks off Devil's Point, behind the naval victualling yard at East Stonehouse, while proceeding to Plymouth Sound from Devonport.

Six tugs eventually succeeded in refloating the Trafalgar an hour after she went on the rocks. She was taken into the harbor, where she will be docked. There was a considerable quantity of water in her forward compartment.

COLLISION AT HUNTSVILLE.

Huntsville, Ont., April 8.—In a collision a few miles north of here this morning, about 5.30, between the North Bay express and a freight, one man, a brakeman named Richardson, of the freight, was killed, and two others, Conductor Wellington and Brakeman Meyers, both of the freight were injured. No passengers were hurt. The injured are in the General Hospital.

CANADIAN MAILS DELAYED THE EMPRESS.

The Empress of Britain which sailed from St. John with Her Excellency Lady Grey, the Premier, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and Lady Laurier, and Ministers for the Colonial Conference, on Friday night, reached Halifax at noon on Saturday. The steamer should have left Halifax about six p.m., but did not sail until ten o'clock it being detained awaiting the arrival of the Canadian mails, which left Montreal by the Intercolonial Railway at noon on Friday.

THE LATE HON. J. W. ST. JOHN.

HON. J. W. ST. JOHN IS DEAD.

Speaker of Ontario Legislature Succumbed to Appendicitis.

Toronto, April 8.—Hon. J. W. St. John, Speaker of the Ontario Legislature, died at the Toronto General Hospital at noon yesterday, after an illness of two weeks, death resulting from appendicitis. Deceased was admitted to the hospital on March 24. He was unconscious from 2 o'clock on Sunday morning until the hour of his death. The body was removed to the residence, 194 Dunn avenue.

A meeting of the Cabinet was held at the Parliament buildings, when preliminary arrangements were made for the funeral, which will be on Wednesday, in charge of the Government.

Interment will take place at Mount Pleasant Cemetery. There will be a service on Tuesday night in Parkdale Methodist Church. Later the body will be taken to the Parliament buildings, where it will lie in state in the Speaker's apartments on Wednesday morning.

The Legislature will meet for business as usual at 3 o'clock this afternoon, when Mr. Thomas Crawford will be appointed permanent Speaker. The House will sit on Tuesday and then adjourn till Thursday.

RUINED BUILDING WILL BE RESTORED

Prof. Bovey, dean of the faculty of applied science of McGill University, last night stated that the work of rebuilding the engineering building would be started at once. No plans for the new structure have as yet been prepared, the only thing decided on being that the old foundation will be used. The work of tearing down the standing walls and clearing away the ruins started this morning and the new building will be made fire-proof as far as possible and will be even better equipped than the old one.

Last week's disastrous fire will not affect the continuance of the applied science courses next season, and they will be resumed in September. It is the intention to fit out the basement, where the various testing laboratories are, with a temporary roof so as to enable the students to work there. These laboratories contain the heaviest of the machinery in the building, and the power comes from the Thomas Workman memorial building, which was not seriously affected by the fire. The machines are only slightly damaged and a few minor repairs will again put them in shape for use.

The question of the equipping of a new library will also be immediately taken up, for this branch is indispensable in carrying on the work of the engineering courses. Several substantial subscriptions for the purpose have already been received, one from an old student who has offered to replace several important volumes. No names were given by the dean.

The cause of the blaze has not yet been discovered. Dean Bovey stated that the electric current running into the building was shut off for the night and that an exposed wire could not have started it. Judging from appearance, the fire started on the top floor, and it may have been smouldering there for hours, but nothing can be said with certainty.

MISS ELLEN TERRY VISITS MONTREAL

Ellen Terry is in Montreal. After an absence of years the best known actress of the English-speaking stage is again in this city, where she has so frequently won such brilliant triumphs. There is, however, a touch of sadness which somewhat alloys the pleasure of Montreal playgoers at seeing her in their midst, and that is the reflection that the great actor and great man with whom she has always played here before is now no more that Sir Henry Irving has become merely a cherished tradition of the stage whose brightest ornament he long had been.

Miss Terry and her company arrived here last night from Toronto, where they had been playing a week's engagement. Though the trip is a long and somewhat tiresome one, Miss Terry bore it well. When seen about the hotel on her arrival, the great actress wore, as usual, a heavy veil, so that it was difficult to distinguish her features clearly. But her step was as light and her bearing as graceful as of yore. Her voice, too, in the few words she said, was wonderfully fresh and pleasant, and she seemed to be in no wise changed from the charming woman who played here about ten years ago.

Miss Terry expressed her pleasure at being once more in Montreal, but soon retired, as she was fatigued after her trip. Her manager, however, Mr. Carew, was more communicative and gave some interesting information about the great actress.

"Miss Terry has very little spare time," he said, "because she not only is busy with the work attending her performances, but also because she is engaged in writing her biography, which is soon to be published. She works at it every day and in fact keeps two secretaries busy."

Miss Terry has been very well pleased with her reception in this country so far, and she has thoroughly enjoyed her trip about it after an absence of so many years. Miss Terry is staying at the Corona.

FALL OF PUERTO CORTEZ.

Mobile, Ala., April 8.—Advices just received say that Ceiba, Honduras, is in the hands of the Nicaraguans.

A steamer which has just arrived here brings news that Puerto Cortez has fallen.

BODY OF LATE DR. WILLIAM HENRY DRUMMOND WAS BORNE TO REST TO-DAY WHILE THOUSANDS MOURNED HIS DEATH

Funeral Service was Conducted at St. George's Church where Rev. H. P. Plumptre Paid Last Tribute to Memory of Departed Poet—Floral Offerings were Among the Most Beautiful of Recent Years.

The funeral of the late Dr. William Henry Drummond took place at half past two this afternoon from St. George's Church to Mount Royal Cemetery.

The body of the well known doctor-poet-woodsman arrived in the city at 9.30, and, through the blinding April snowstorm it was taken to the church. Dr. Drummond's three brothers were all present and were the recipients of letters, telegrams and cables from all parts of the continent and Europe. The list of those who wished to express their condolences with the family is a very long one. Among those who telegraphed was Lord Grey.

Dr. Drummond numbered Pauline Johnstone among his intimate friends, and from her came this message: "He has crossed the last portage and to Canada's great loss of her most gifted son we add our own."

The body lay in a plain, but beautiful, black cloth covered coffin in the aisle near to the chancel. The inscription upon the plate read as follows:

INSCRIPTION ON CASKET.

William Henry Drummond, M.P.,
Born, 13th April, 1854;
Died 6th April, 1907,
Aged 53.

And falling, fling to the hosts behind:
"Play up! Play up! and play the game!"

These are lines from Newbolt's Lamp of Life in "Admirals All." How well the lines suited Dr. Drummond was a comment made by the hundreds who gazed for the last time upon the well known face. As a matter of fact they were copied from the original poem which was found in one of the pockets of the clothing Dr. Drummond wore at the time he was stricken.

Shortly after noon flowers began to arrive in great quantities.

The floral tributes were the most beautiful and numerous seen surrounding the bier of a Montrealer for many years, and were only equalled in recent years by the remembrances of the friends of the late Hon. Raymond Prefontaine. The most striking piece came from the town of Cobalt, where the genial nature of Dr. Drummond had impressed itself strongly upon the entire population. The only tribute that they could pay him to-day was in the way of an immense broken column of lilies, violets and yellow roses. Accompanying this was a card, bearing the words: "A tribute of love from his fellow-citizens of Cobalt." From the Fish and Game Club there was a pillow, and from the Canadian Society of New York a magnificent wreath. Laurentian Club, wreath. St. Patrick's Society, wreath.

Mr. G. H. Russell and family, of Detroit, sent a wreath; Mr. Frank Lawson, London, a wreath; Mr. and Mrs. P. St. George, a cross; N. P. Benso, a harp; J. R. Russell, a wreath; Mr. N. Richot, an anchor; Mr. W. J. Robin, a sheaf; Senator and Mrs. Dandurand, a wreath; Dr. Grace Ritchie, England, and Dr. Frank England, a wreath; Mr. and Mrs. C. R. G. Johnston, a wreath; Miss Grace Brown, cut flowers; Mr. and Mrs. Graham, of Edinburgh, a wreath; Mr. C. E. Gudewill, a wreath; Mr. Charles Cox, Toronto, a cross; Mrs. Sodden, a cross; Mr. and Mrs. Aml, Ottawa, a wreath; Mr. and Mrs. Agnew, a sheaf; Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson Brown, a cross; Mr. F. R. Clergue, Sault Ste. Marie, a pillow; Drysdale family, a wreath; Mrs. W. K. George, Toronto, a wreath; Mr. Warner Moore, cut flowers; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morse, roses; Mr. J. Bevin Giles, a cross; Mr. and Mrs. George Goodwell, of Germany, wreath; Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Pease, a wreath; Nurse Barhan, violets.

The service was in charge of Rev. H. B. Plumptre, assisted by Professor Howard, Dr. Rexford and Rev. Mr. Elliott. The references to the deceased were of a fitting character to the unassuming life he led and were in keeping with the words of Rev. Mr. Elliott at yesterday morning's service. He said:

"There is a vacant pew in this church this morning, and we are all conscious of the loss, and not we only, but this city and this country, wife and beyond.

"A man of wholesome life, of simplicity of character, of generous instincts, of passionate love of nature, of manly sympathy for manly men, has gone forth in the full vigor of his manhood, and his passing is like the sun going down at noonday.

"William Henry Drummond has left behind him a clean and wholesome memory to those who knew him personally, and he has touched the hearts of thousands who knew him not. He has enriched the literature of this country by many poems that are alike creditable to heart and head. He has taken us into the homes of the simple folk of this province and stirred our hearts in love for their homely virtues, their domestic happiness, their simple faith, their reverence for holy things, and with subtle humor he has made us laugh with, but never at them.

"He has contributed one more link to the chain which binds men together in unity of love for what is high, and true, and of good report."

Frequently during the service the words of the speakers could not be heard because of the sobbing of those who had loved Dr. Drummond in life and mourned with his bereaved family in death. As soon as the service was over the coffin was closed and the last sad scenes followed.

The chief mourners were: Mr. Chas. Bartley Drummond, son; John J., Geo. E., and Thomas J. Drummond, brothers; George Drysdale Drummond, John Morris Drummond, Gerald Drummond, Kebin S. Drummond, Thomas E. Drummond, and Louis Sheltain Drummond, nephews.

The pall-bearers were: Albert Carvell, Dr. J. H. Springle, William Doull, William Davidson, William Agnew, G. F. C. Smith, P. W. St. George, Dr. H. R. Craig, J. S. Brown, J. T. McCall, all of Montreal; William C. Robinson, New York; Frank H. Clergue, Sault Ste. Marie; Dr. Ami, Ottawa; Henry Cockshut and W. F. Cockshut, M.P., Brantford; Stephen C. Lowe, Boston;

Among those present were: Dr. James McGovern, Dr. G. Lapthorn Smith, L. A. Boyer, Henry Hamilton, Sneaton White, Charles Knight, W.W. Craig, Dakers, Cameron, H. Bevan Giles, Canon Chambers, Frank J. Curran, Duncan Robertson, Dr. E. J. C. Kennedy, Edjar Judge, J. Hamilton Ferns, Mr. Justice Davidson, A. A. Stann, Mayor Ekers, Ald. H. B Yates, S. H. Ewing, A. H. Ewing, S. W. Ewing, C. R. G. CANADA LOSES HER MOST POPULAR CITIZEN.

Special to the Montreal Star.

New York, N.Y., April 8.—The Evening Sun says:—

"By the death of Dr. Drummond Canada has lost her most popular citizen. Our people will join with their neighbors on the other side of the line in mourning the passing of a writer who put into his books, as no other did before him, everything that was characteristic of the most interesting side of the old life of the Dominion. Dr. Drummond never regarded himself as a professional man of letters. But there was no snobbery in this. He wrote to amuse himself, and because he could not help it. His friends had the greatest difficulty in persuading him that French-Canadian poems that had passed from hand to hand, and were known everywhere, from the clubs of Montreal, Quebec and Ottawa to lodges in the vast wilderness, had any permanent value. At last, out of sheer weariness and good nature, he consented to empty his desk. The result was the volume entitled "The Habitant," which, to the astonishment of the author, was reprinted in this city no less than twenty-six times in ten years. The popularity of that volume had no effect on Dr. Drummond. He never wrote a line because there was a demand. He went on as before, a hard-working medical man, and then highly successful in mining, he was to the last the same kindly, genial, modest giant who deserves a high place among doctors who have been great writers as well. The bell of none of these country churches that he loved ever tolled for a man who will be more justly or longer mourned.

FAMILY RECEIVES MANY MESSAGES OF SYMPATHY.

Among the many telegrams and letters received by the members of the family were the following addressed to Mr. George E. Drummond:

"The Canadian people have sustained a severe loss in the death of your brother pray accept and convey to his widow and family my deepest sympathy."

R. L. BORDEN.

"Extremely grieved at death of your eminent brother, and join his numberless admirers in deepest sympathy to you and yours."

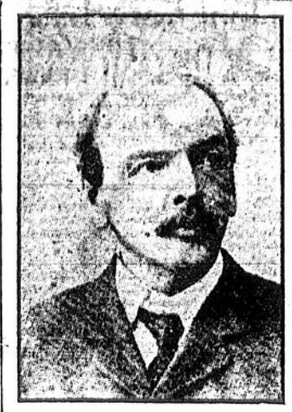
JOINT COMMISSION WILL BE APPOINTED

Washington, April 8.—It was officially admitted to-day that a treaty had been drafted between the United States and Great Britain providing for the appointment of a joint commission which will consider all of the complex questions connected with the water boundaries between Canada and the United States. This will include such questions as the disposition of the waters of the Great Lakes; the regulation of the use of water at Niagara Falls for power purposes and the whole general subject of fisheries regulations, not only for the Great Lakes, but for the Atlantic and Pacific States. The treaty will require the approval of the United States Senate to become effective, but it is possible that an arrangement in the nature of a modus vivendi will be reached between Secretary Root and Ambassador Bryce in the near future.

Running Rights to Halifax.

Halifax, N. S., April 8.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier is credited with saying during the course of a conversation with Mr. A. M. Bell, president of the local Board of Trade, just before the departure of the Empress of Britain, that the Canadian Pacific would soon be allowed to run into Halifax.



DR L. S. JAMESON.

JAMESON WILL TAKE PROMINENT PART

London, April 8.—The fourth Colonial Conference, which will assemble here April 15, promises to be the most interesting and most important yet held, although the absence of Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, the ex-colonial secretary, whose imperialistic enthusiasm gave the movement its greatest impetus, and the death of his personal antithesis, the bluff and picturesque Richard Seddon, premier of New Zealand, will be greatly felt.

Preferential trade looms up as the largest subject in the preliminary talk; while the colonists are anxious to give the Mother Country advantages, they chafe under the one-sided arrangements, which yielded them no return. Premiers Laurier and Deakin have already gone on record to this effect, and the tendency of colonial opinion seems to be voiced by the following resolution, which Premier Jameson promises to introduce at the conference:

"This conference, while adhering to the principle of preferential treatment for products and manufactures of the United Kingdom, desires to impress upon His Majesty's Government the opinion that the continuance of such preferential treatment to British producers and manufacturers is largely dependant upon the granting of some reciprocal privileges to British colonies."

IMPERIAL DEFENCE.

The next thorny question is that of imperial defence, on which greatly conflicting opinions are expressed. The inherent difficulty of the problem will be to draw the distinction between Great Britain's position as a European power and as the mother country of a great colonial empire. Thus, it will be argued, Great Britain could not expect the colonies to bind themselves to assist her in any European war in which they were not concerned, whilst at the same time, under the existing conditions, any colony could embroil Great Britain in war without incurring any but the moral obligation to come to her assistance. The idea is to endeavor if possible to arrive at some agreement or alliance insuring consultation and co-operation in any conflict arising from causes outside of purely European politics, all parties thereto contributing men and money for a common defence upon a population and revenue basis.

Dr. Jameson intends to propose the organization of some plan whereby contributions from each colony should be equitably fixed on the condition that colonies be represented upon the Imperial Council, at which questions concerning the peace of the Empire shall be discussed.

MAMMOTH FERRY STEAMER LAUNCHED

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, April 8.—Amid a large assemblage, consisting of the leading men of the city and officials of the Grand Trunk Railway, Miss May Fitzhugh, of Montreal, daughter of the third vice-president of the Grand Trunk, christened "Ontario No. 1," the new car ferry steamer intended to ply summer and winter between Cobourg and Charlotte, N.Y.

The launching which took place at the yards of the Canadian Shipbuilding Company, passed off successfully in every respect. Miss Fitzhugh was accompanied by Miss Loud, daughter of the freight traffic manager, and several Toronto ladies. The conventional bottle of champagne was suspended from the bow of the vessel by long silken ribbons, of yellow, white and black, and promptly at 3.30 p.m., in the presence of three thousand people, the wedges were struck, and as the boat glided down, with the Union Jack waving at bow and stern, Miss Fitzhugh smashed the bottle on the starboard bow, and the vessel was duly named.

PERSONALS.

The Misses Hanson, of Montreal, were in Kingston last week.

Mr. and Mrs. James Elmsley left Friday evening for Atlantic City.

The engagement is announced of Mr. Harry Lacker, of Quebec, to Miss Matilda Summer, of Montreal.

Doctor and Mrs. Edward O'Connor, Bishop street, have returned from Summerville, South Carolina.

Mrs. Arthur Joyal (formerly Miss Alice Delorme) will receive for the first time since her marriage Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon at her residence, 20 Ste. Famille street.

Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Miss Maude Jenking to Mr. Thomas Saunderson, which is to take place in the American Presbyterian Church on Wednesday afternoon, April 17, at 4 o'clock.

Mrs. Norman Stuart Lesslie, Mrs. Arthur Flower March, Miss Mabel Gildersleeve, and Miss Bessie Gordon, are expected in town to-day from Kingston, and will take part in the Badminton tournament, which will begin on Wednesday.

The marriage took place at 53 Mansfield street, last Wednesday, of Miss Kate Robineon, daughter of the late Mr. D. W. Robinson, of Glen Robertson, Ont., to Mr. James W. Harper, son of the late Rev. J. Harper, of St. Alberts, Ont., Rev. James Fleck officiating. Miss Bertha Robinson, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Mrs. W. D. Robinson, brother of the bride, acted as best man. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Harper left on a trip to Toronto.

USE OF FRENCH IN OFFICIAL RECORDS

Matter Again Brought Up by Mr. Lavergne—Lord Aylmer's Retirement.

Special Staff Correspondence.

Press Gallery, House of Commons, Ottawa, Ont., April 8.—The first strike has been averted by the new Labor Disputes Investigation Act.

This announcement was made this forenoon by Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux. The instance was the labor trouble at Springhill, N.S. The general manager of the mines had applied for a reference under the act, said Mr. Lemieux. The deputy minister had in consequence advised the employes as to their legal position under the act, and the men had promptly yielded. Mr. Lemieux read a telegram from Mr. H. McInnes, of Halifax, announcing that all the men had returned to work and that no mention had been made of either open or closed shop, which was the subject of the dispute.

Following the Minister's announcement the western mine troubles, particularly at Tabor, Alberta, were called to the attention of the House by Mr. John Herron, of Alberta, but in this case Mr. Lemieux did not have much pleasant information to impart. The Minister hoped to make a statement later in the day. An application for a reference under the act was en route to Ottawa, but not yet received. Mr. F. H. Sherman, from whom Mr. Lemieux has heard on behalf of the men, claimed, said the Minister, that the Government should prosecute the employers for the lockout which, it is claimed, exists; but Mr. Lemieux declared that the enforcement was left to either party to the dispute as was any other law.

Mr. R. L. Borden announced his absolute dissent from this doctrine, which he characterized a departure from the doctrine announced by the Minister during the debate on the act. If this were the policy of the Government the act would be largely shorn of its value.

LORD AYLMER'S RETIREMENT.

Col. Hughes asked the acting leader of the government for a statement regarding Lord Aylmer's treatment. Mr. Fielding regretted his inability, owing to the absence of the Minister of Militia, to give more than a statement of the records.

"What are the ages of Lord Aylmer and Col. Vidal?" asked Mr. W. H. Bennett.

"I am informed that Lord Aylmer is 65 and Col. Vidal 62," replied Mr. Fielding.

"And will the people have to bear the cost of pensioning Col. Vidal in a year or so?" queried Mr. Bennett.

"Sufficient unto the day is the good thereof," was Mr. Fielding's final word.

THE USE OF FRENCH.

The campaign which Mr. Armand Lavergne opened formally earlier in the session for more general use of French in the various branches of the Government service he renewed in a series of questions to various ministers. Four departments were involved and a statement was made on behalf of each.

For the Post Office he was informed by Mr. Lemieux that postal rates, money orders, post office savings bank cheques and general directions and publications were issued in French as well as English, but that the present postage stamps contained sufficient information to prevent any error.

Mr. Fisher replied that the statistical year book had been translated into French and would be issued shortly.

Hon. W. S. Fielding, for the Minister of Railways promised that I.C.R. timetables would be printed in French but as Minister of Finance declined to make any change in the country's money, which, he pointed out, had been the same ever since 1867.

WATER MAIN BURST IN THE WEST END

Once again it has been demonstrated that the water supply of the City of Montreal is inadequate.

Saturday afternoon one of the big thirty-inch water mains on Atwater avenue, situated one hundred feet south of Notre Dame street, loosened up, or rather burst, and there followed a stream of water which threatened to rival in proportions the magnitude of the mighty St. Lawrence. Before the water was turned off numerous cellars and basements were flooded, the street gullies not being able to take care of the immense flow of water.

When it was found that there was trouble with the pipes action was immediately taken, and the pumps were stopped. This was necessary in order to find which of the four mains had given out. This process lasted for about an hour, and the work of finding the broken pipe was started. This work went on all night, and Sunday as well. When the break was located, excavations were started, but this work was necessarily slow, owing to the frost in the ground.

Yesterday the citizens of the uptown districts were for a considerable time without water, and those who indulge in the luxury of a Sunday bath were obliged to resort to a "basin wash" or go without. As it was Sunday there was no appreciable increase in the amount of sales made by the owners of those uptown palatial houses where is distributed the "cup that cheers."

Citizens were at a loss to understand the shortage of water, and the telephone wires into the City Hall waxed warm, with comments not at all complimentary to those who are responsible for this part of the civic administration. Thousands of people gathered within the vicinity where the water was thrown up from the bowels of the earth to form a stream the width of the road, and anywhere from three to four feet deep. The road was completely blocked for hours. The people residing in that part of the city will probably suffer damages to the materials placed in their cellars, such as coal, wood, etc., but there are very few large commercial houses or shops in that district, and consequently the damages will not be as heavy as if the accident occurred in a more densely populated and commercial centre.

Superintendent Janin, of the Water Works Department, stated to the Star that the trouble was more extensive than at first believed, and that it would be twenty-four hours or more before the difficulty would be remedied. The residents of the uptown districts are in some cases without water to-day, while others are receiving their water with a very low pressure. This state of affairs will undoubtedly continue for the entire day.

CROWN ORDERED TO PRODUCE PAPERS

Mr. Justice Fortin on Saturday granted the application of Mr. N. K. Laflamme counsel for Alex. Duclos, charged with attempted murder, to force the Crown to produce all papers and documents under which Duclos was held as an inmate of the asylum at Longue Pointe.

Up to Saturday last, the impression had been that Duclos was being detained at the asylum merely in pursuance of the order of Mr. Justice Lavergne, after Duclos had been acquitted on the ground that at the time of the shooting he was not responsible, that the prisoner be held for action by the Attorney-General. When the writ of habeas corpus was first applied for in January, it was stated that the alienists were making an examination into the condition of the patient, and time was given them to report. When their report was delayed, another move was made toward pressing the habeas corpus, but before the question could be argued, Duclos had started on his little excursion to the neighboring state of Vermont. It was therefore a great surprise to Mr. Laflamme, on Saturday, when Messrs. D A Lafortune K. C., and F. W. Hibbard, K. C., produced in court an Order-In-Council, passed on January 3rd 1907, in which it is declared that in view of the fact that Duclos has been declared insane by competent medical authority, he must be detained.

Mr. Gustave Lamothe, K. C., who represented the sisters, declared that his clients relied on that warrent of the Order-in-Council to detain Duclos.

Mr. Laflamme immediately applied for a writ of certiorari, to compel the Crown to produce the report of the "competent medical authority" who pronounced Duclos insane, after the two reports of Dr. Villeneuve, superintendent of the asylum, who had pronounced Duclos sane. Mr. Laflamme declared his conviction that no such report could be produced, and added that if no report existed the order-in-council was equivalent to the notorious "lettres de cachet" which had been used for oppressive purposes in the old days in France.

Mr. Charles Lanctot, deputy attorney general, was in court and followed the proceedings closely. The two Crown Prosecutors vigorously opposed the issue of a writ of certiorari, but Mr. Justice Fortin declared that the prisoner was certainly entitled to know on what grounds he was being held in an insane asylum. The writ was ordered to issue, returnable on Wednesday. Meantime Mr. Lanctot, the deputy attorney-general, will conduct an investigation into the repeated escapes of Duclos. It is said that two of the guards proved faithful, and that this will explain the escapes.

CANADIAN CLUB EXPRESS SYMPATHY

At the Canadian Club luncheon, today, Messrs W. D. Lighthall and Louis Frechette, C.M.G. moved, seconded by Messrs. E. F. Surveyer and S. M. Baylis, that a resolution of condolence be sent to the family of the late Dr. Drummond, expressing the sorrow of the organization in the loss they had recently sustained. The resolution was unanimously carried.

The Rev. Abbe Choquette, of the Seminary of St. Hyacinthe, was the after luncheon speaker, he choosing as his subject "The Reserve Power of the Province of Quebec." The main reserve power of the province, said he, was water. Nowhere in the world was the water power so strong and plentiful as right here, ready and waiting to be harnessed and made use of. There was no coal in Quebec, and no possibility of ever finding any, but water was many times more valuable.

The volume of water in the St. Lawrence River is many times greater than that of Niagara, and the value of that power is incomparable. It would take 30,000 tons to coal to produce 1,000,000 horse power every twenty-four hours. Where were the coal fields which could possibly produce that amount, while the waters of the St. Lawrence could give out that amount of power with the greatest of ease just as long as the lives of man.

MARKET STEADY IN THE AFTERNOON

The selling was more energetic after mid-day, especially in Reading, Union Pacific and Smelting. The entire market fell away materially in sympathy.

A sharp but incomplete recovery occurred later in the afternoon. St. Paul and Smelting were the only stocks that returned to their high morning prices. The rise in the rest of the list halted before the average approached Saturday's level. Burlington sold at an advance of ten points, and Illinois Central and Chicago and Alton 1 and 1 1-4 respectively.

STILL RIGGING C.P.R. STOCK IN WALL STREET

Advanced Early When the Rest of Market was Going Down.

POWER AND STEEL FEATURES LOCALLY.

Detroit Easier—Copper, the Metal Takes a Good Rise in London Market.

Canadian Pacific stock still seems to be under the thumb of the Wall street manipulators, and they hoisted that stock when the bulls in the other issues were fighting declines.

Pacific was the only international in London to open higher.

In Wall street it started 1-2 below the closing, at 173 1-2, and then jumped 2 3-4 to 176 1-4. On the next two sales it was down to 175.

This is not the first time that Pacific has been made to work out of line with the rest of the market, and the erratic way the stock has been moving makes it about the most puzzling issue on the list for the traders to fathom.

The Hill stocks were lower, Great Northern selling at 136 1-2. Union was off to 140 3-4, after selling at 142.

To-morrow is "ticket day" in London, and it is just possible that a few more small failures may be announced during the course of the week.

The settlement, however, in view of the recent marked advance in prices, is not looked upon with any great apprehension.

News bearing upon the general financial situation was scarce and the tension in the Roosevelt-Harriman situation is easing up a bit.

It is safe to say, however, that President Roosevelt is thoroughly aroused and mad clean through.

His shock at the disclosures and his charge of a $5,000,000 conspiracy, which was laughed at from one end of the country to the other, will not tend to put him in an amiable frame of mind.

THE LOCAL LIST.

The Montreal market ruled on the quiet side but the tone was fairly firm. Power opened lower at 92 and moved up to 92½.

Dominion Steel was in demand again and some 350 shares sold at 21 to 21¼.

Detroit has eased off but was dull and there was only one sale of 25 shares at 76¾. Toledo was firm.

DOMINION COAL.

The Dominion Coal Company has just located a six foot seam of coal at Lingan and operations will be begun at once on the sinking of a shaft, and the addition of another colliery to the already extensive system. This will make the tenth owned and operated by the company.

TWIN CITY STOCK.

Earnings of the Twin City Railway Co. continue steadily growing. The only adverse influence against this stock writes Jaffray & Casseis, is the attempt of the city of Minneapolis to force the sale of six tickets for 25 cents. The charter is very clear that the Company's fare is to be 5 cents. As the litigation will involve only the interpretation of a written contract, the expense should not be an important item."

Bar silver in London was 30 3-16 pence, up 1-8.

RISE IN COPPER.

Copper in London was very strong. Spot was £99 10s, an advance of £2 5s. Futures, £99 5s, advance £1 10s.

Amalgamated Copper stock in New York sold around 96 1-2.

CANADIAN PACIFIC.

In regard to the sudden weak spell shown by C. P. R. on Saturday, the N. Y. Post says: "It was thought to mean the early arrival from the other side of a good deal of stock. The price was largely held up prior to to-day by the common belief that the floating supply was so small that there might be another drive at the shorts, as was the case last Monday."

THE "SOO" LINE.

The "Soo" line extends through four States, in each of which an agitation for a two-cent passenger mileage rate is being carried on. One of the reasons for the failure of the directors to increase the dividend was the fear of the influence of such an action upon the State Legislature in connection with the rate reduction campaigns.

CHEAP MONEY ARTIFICIAL ?

That Is the View Entertained by Some at Present Time.

A few Montreal observers, although they are in the minority, have expressed the opinion that the decidedly cheap money in Wall Street is somewhat artificial.

The N. Y. Journal of Commerce takes this view and says: "There is a suspicion that the money market has been under manipulation for a week or ten days by the largest financial interests in the country. 'When money becomes naturally easy, sell stocks,' is a maxim now quoted by critics who have closely followed the trend of events over a long period of years. A 1 per cent. call money rate in the the first week of April is phenomenal—so much so that color is lent to the bold assertions that the Standard Oil group has bent its whole energies in marking down the cost of loans, the raison d'etre being a desire to liquidate securities absorbed last month to protect the market. The behavior of the stock market does not falsify this theory. Notwithstanding that the whole financial and stock market atmosphere has been wonderfully clarified there are still lurking fears that the improvement has been more apparent than real."

ROSSLAND SHIPMENTS.

Shipments from Rossland for the week were: Centre Star, 1,930; Lerol, 2,695; Lerol No. 2, 490; White Bear, 70; total, 5,185.

C. P. R. DIRECTORS AMUSED

At a Discourse From One of the Wall Street Bears.

Several C. P. R. directors were greatly amused at a clipping from a New York paper widely circulated around the "street." It was this:

The bulls in Canadian Pacific may awake to the fact in May or June. Western Canada has had the most disastrous winter of a generation, and the Canadian railroads must spend untold millions repairing the ravages caused by the trade paralysis of the railroads and terrible havoc by floods and washouts. It will take five months to repair the ravages of winter on the western end of the C. P. R., and meanwhile widespread congestion of business prevails.

"The railroad management is at its wit's ends to put things in shape to handle the passenger and freight traffic now offering, and when summer and fall business begins chaos must come again."

Said one director: "With that increase of $453,000 for the last ten days of March we started going. Watch the earnings from now on."

"SOO'S" ONE MILLION LOAN.

Lake Superior Corporation's Loan With Ontario Government.

According to a Philadelphia despatch banking interests there have received information from Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, that the Ontario Government has agreed to renew $1,000,000 Canadian Improvement Co. notes held by them which become due on May 1. While the rate of interest which the renewed notes will bear is not yet officially known, it is stated that the company had to pay considerably in excess of 5 per cent. which was the rate when the loan was made. The new rate is said to be about 7 per cent.

LABOR IS VERY SCARCE IN EUROPE.

Conditions Were Tending Towards Easier Money When He Left Other Side.

Mr. E. B. Osler, M.P., a director of the Canadian Pacific Railway has just returned from Europe. Asked about the movement in C. P. R. stock, Mr. Osler said:

"There has been rather a severe money stringency in Germany. The Germans are large holders of C. P. R. stock and of other American securities and it is quiet possible that there may have been a good deal of forced selling."

Mr. Osler added that, in Europe, C. P. R. stock was practically held as an investment purely, the speculative element being inconsiderable. As to the recent sharp fluctuations in the shares, he explained that, as there was not much of the stock floating around, outsiders were at times able to take advantage of the situation to try the effect of manipulating.

"There has been an immense increase in business the world over," said Mr. Osler, M.P., in explaining the cause of the money tightness in Europe.

"In Egypt, for instance, the whole cry is that labor cannot be obtained. The editorials in the newspapers there are full of comment on this particular situation. The price of labor has gone away up, but still the supply cannot at all fill the demand."

Mr. Osler said that at the time he sailed home from England there was a feeling in financial circles that conditions were tending towards easier money.

Speaking of industrial conditions in Britain, he said there was a great demand for skilled labor, but for ordinary common labor, the demand was almost as poor as it had ever been.

$41,000,000 of U. S. Gold in Canada

According to figures just compiled the holdings of American gold in Canada are as follows:—

Held in Dominion Treasury	$29,494,298
Held by Chartered Banks	11,320,323
	$40,814,621

The report gives the amount held by the banks as 57.56 per cent. of their total specie. In the Treasury the proportion of American coin is considerably higher, being nearly 80 per cent. of the whole.

EX-JUDGE DOHERTY ELECTED.

Will Go on the City and District Savings Bank Directorate.

Hon. Charles J. Doherty, ex-judge of the Superior Court will represent the O'Brien estate holdings on the directorate of the City and District Savings Bank, replacing the late Sir William Hingston.

The Board of Directors is now complete and is as follows: J. A. Ouimet, Hon. R. Mackay, H. M. Molson, R. Boulter, R. Archer, M. Burke, Hon. R. Dandurand, A. P. Hebert, G. W. Moncel, N. De Lisle and Hon. C. J. Doherty.

MR. LAIRD WILL TAKE A REST.

Alexander Laird, General Manager of the Bank of Commerce, who has been confined to his home for the past week on account of a temporary physical breakdown due to overwork, has been advised by his physicians to take a three months rest in Europe. He will sail in two weeks.

THE TWIN CITY DIVIDEND.

The following wire came from Minneapolis:

"Directors of Twin City Rapid Transit are expected to act on the dividend on the common stock very shortly. From the best-informed quarters here it is believed that the regular quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent. will be declared. The report that the dividend may be reduced is not taken seriously by local officials of the company."

EVEN TORONTO LOST.

(Financial Post.)

Locally some bears were twisted in C. P. R.

BANKING CHANGE.

Mr. Eade Chadwick, accountant of the Imperial Bank, at Montreal, has been transferred to Toronto.

(Toronto Star.)

It is announced that Cobalt has already made ten millionaires. Are you one, of them?

MR. LAWSON'S TRIP.

(Boston Globe.)

Although it is generally known that Mr. Lawson is going to make a European trip, he has not received any message yet from Mr. H. H. Rogers hoping that he will not be seasick.

OPINIONS ON THE MARKET

Burnett & Company.—Market moving very naturally and reaction quite healthful. Think market a buyer on every substantial reaction.

J. B. Picken.—Money continues easy in London and hopes are entertained that in the near future a reduction will be made in the Bank of England rate.

A. O. Brown.—There was no pressure of long stocks and specialists generally claimed to have very few selling orders on their books. At the moment the outlook is for irregularity, but with general conditions favoring a further advance.

E. & C. Randolph.—There was no special news but there is beginning to be talk about damage to wheat in the south-west, about more trouble from the Union Pacific investigation, about the high price paid by the Erie for its money and about the probability of more note issues. It seems, however, as if the reaction were merely a natural one after a very rapid advance.

TOPICS OF THE STREET

Just 62 new shareholders were added to the Montreal Street Railway books between March 14th to March 27th.

"In a similar period," said the president to-day, "I never remember such an influx of new shareholders.

"All the talk we have about investment buying on our local exchange is by no means exaggerated.

"A good many thousand shares of all kinds of stocks have been taken from the market since the break."

Summing up the Cobalt situation in a nutshell it is found that twenty-two mines in the camp have shipped ore. They are:

Nipissing	Jacobs
La Rose	Drummond
Hudson Bay	Savage
McKinley	Nova Scotia
Silver Queen	Violet
O'Brien	Green-Meehan
Colonial	Red Rock
University	Temiscaming
Buffalo	Lawson
Coniagas	Townsite
Trethewey	Right-of-Way

Among the mines which will likely ship ore very shortly are the following:

Silver Leaf	Shamrock
Boston Cobalt	Keewatin
Davis Corsolidated	Peterson Lake
Beaver.

Of the twenty-two shippers twelve are dividend-payers as follows:

Nipissing	McKinley-Darragh
Buffalo	Right-of-Way
Trethewey	La Rose
Silver Queen	O'Brien
Foster	Drummond
Kerr Lake	Coniagas

Mr. Rodolphe Forget was telling some friends Saturday about a peculiar incident on board the Kaiser Wilhelm II. on the way back.

A big German-American, who, in Mr. Forget's opinion, must have tipped the scales at 250 pounds, was standing at the rail looking at the ocean when he turned to the man next to him and said: "I guess I'll take a swim."

With that the fat man, who was something of an athlete, cleared the rail and dived into the water.

As the Kaiser was humping along about 20 miles an hour the fat man was soon a mile in the rear.

"But they got him," said Mr. Forget. "No cork ever performed on the water like that fat man.

"He wanted to make the swim a daily performance, but the captain couldn't see the joke, and the aquatic wonder was locked up in the cabin for the rest of the trip.

"When we landed the fat man was rewarded, for he got his picture in some of the New York papers."

Mr. Forget said that they got the market quotations on board, but thought that the wireless apparatus was out of order when it gave some of the C.P.R. quotations during the squeeze in that stock.

It is still believed by many on the "Street" that Mr. J. H. Plummer will combine a little business with recreation, and will endeavor, while on the other side, to see if there is a possibility of financial support for the Steel Company's coal area plans.

It will take a pot of money to develop areas, and only the insiders know just now how it is proposed to meet the problem.

SEVERAL NEW BRANCH BANKS.

The Merchants Bank of Canada has opened a branch at Tofield, Alta.

The Metropolitan Bank has opened branches at Amelasburg, Parkdale, and Toronto, at the corner of Queen street East and Lee Avenue.

The Quebec Bank has opened branches at Inverness, P. Q., and Cache Bay, Ont. The latter is a sub-agency to the Sturgeon Falls Branch.

BANK OF MONTREAL'S SUIT.

The Fowler-Ryan Lawsuit to Be Reopened in Toronto.

Toronto, Ont., April 8.—The Fowler-Ryan lawsuit which attracted so much attention some few days ago is to be reopened.

Notice has been served on counsel for Mr. Ryan for leave to move to appeal the case direct to the Court of Appeals against the decision of Judge Clute, declaring that the bank could not assign its accounts and collaterals to another.

It will be seen that this proposed move is to pass over the divisional court and to go direct to the court of appeal. The case excites a great deal of interest.

INVESTORS PICKING THEM UP.

Henry Clewes puts it this way: "Stocks are likely to become scarcer than money—just the reverse of what has been the case for the last six months. This is due to the fact that at least 150,000 shares a day were taken out of the market in small lots and paid for in full during the ten days of very low prices. This aggregates 1,500,000 shares, and, together with a still larger amount bought in 100-share lots of investment, has relieved the previously overburdened market of the stocks that were thrown overboard by foreign and American frightened holders."

NEW ROYAL BANK BRANCH.

Toronto, Ont., April 8.—It is stated on good authority that the Royal Bank this year will erect a seven story building on the north side of King street east between Yonge and Victoria. The cost will be $200,000. A Massachusetts firm has the contract, and everything is to be completed within a year.

FALL AND RALLY IN STOCKS.

How Market Has Recovered From the Big Slump.

The extent of the slump and subsequent rally in stocks is shown in the following table compiled by the N.Y. Post: In some cases about half the loss has been regained:

	Decline.	Recovery.

MONTREAL NOW STANDS TENTH IN BANK CLEARINGS

Montreal and New York Only Two Important Cities to Show Decrease

FOR THE FIRST THREE MONTHS OF YEAR.

Most Cities in Canada Show Good Increases Over Same Time Last Year.

Montreal stands tenth in the list of cities of the continent reporting bank clearings.

For the first quarter of the year our clearings show a decrease of a little over $10,000 000, while New York and Montreal were the only cities of importance to show a falling off.

Canadian clearings for the first three months of the year are as follows:

Wheat Recovered Its Lost Ground

Chicago, Ill., April 8.—May wheat sold from 76 1-2 to 77 1-2 and July from 78 1-2 to 79 5-8, compared with 76 1-4 and 78 3-8 respectively at close Saturday. This market recovered all the ground lost Saturday. It developed that the rains generally skipped Kansas and Oklahoma as well as Nebraska, save for fringe of light fall in eastern part. Bug reports were more numerous and sensational than at any time heretofore. B. W. Snow, the crop expert, finding them plentiful in southern tier of counties in Kansas and chinch bugs fully matured and developed unusually early for this pest and therefore a great menace. Actual damage was reported by experts in Missouri. Foreign news was generally bullish. Russian shipments were less than half those of last year's. Much of the day's business was in the way of covering by local shorts of wheat put out Saturday, but there was also a large and expanding commission trade. Winnipeg receipts wheat 178 cars against 145 a year ago. Missouri April report makes wheat condition 94 against 82 last December, and 91 by the Government. State condition last 85; June 77, and crop 36,000,000 bushels. Acreage sown last fall 5 per cent. larger. Eighty-eight per cent. oats area sown, some corn been planted, 30 per cent. been ploughed. Secretary Coburn says to-day: Kansas wheat never in better condition.

CANADIAN FLOUR AND PRODUCE FOR THE ORIENT

The English Representative of Old House Going to West.

Winnipeg.—W. C. Barrett, representative in the Orient of the Butterfield & Swire Shipping Company, of London, England, is in the city, having come direct from Liverpool. He leaves for Vancouver on Monday. Mr. Barnett has been stationed for seven years in the East, with headquarters at Shanghai and Hong-Kong.

Mr. Barrett chose to return to his old station by way of Canada in order that he might pass through the North-West to acquire some idea of the possibilities of the country. Greater interest, he says, is being taken in the shipping relations of the Orient with the Pacific Coast, and the desire to acquire Canadian flour and produce is making itself felt both on China and Japan. Mr. Barrett attributes this to at least two causes, the first being the natural demands of increased population for many necessary food articles which are most conveniently obtainable in Canada. The second cause, owing to the boycotting of American goods among Chinese and Japanese because of the recent strained relations resulting from the immigration question, Especially in Japan is the feeling strong regarding this point, and the people are endeavoring to curtail their importation of articles grown or manufactured in the United States.

Mr. Barrett also spoke of the movement from the British Isles to the Canadian West, the result of years of advertising which Canada had received in Europe were now beginning to make themselves felt and while during the last few years it would be as nothing compared with that of the coming few years, provided present prosperity continued. It was evident to both England and Scotland that the Canadian West was beginning to attract more well-to-do people, and not only could there be expected a large quota of Britishers during the next two years, but a superior class as well.

ANOTHER ADVANCE IN OIL.

Cleveland, Ohio., April 8.—The Standard Oil Company to-day put up quotations on all grades of refined oil 1c cent per gallon. Quotations on gasoline and naphtha are unchanged.

WHEAT EXPORTS INCREASE.

Wheat and flour exports from the United States and Canada this week were the largest thus far this year, showing an increase over last week of 1,305,000 bushels. Corn exports also show a gain of 1,072,000 bushels over last week, but show a decrease of 186,000 bushels compared with a year ago.

Bradstreet's figures of the week's wheat and flour exports compare as follows, in bushels:

	1907.	1906.	1905.
April 5	3,460,872	2,165,816	886,017
March 29	2,707,566	1,542,552	988,609
March 22	1,878,614	2,293,012	1,044,595
March 15	2,080,034	2,018,237	985,742

February 8	3,319,930	3,247,939	987,775

THIRD SERIES WOOL SALES.

London, April 8.—The arrivals of wool for the third series of auction sales amounted to 283,000 bales, including 160,000 forwarded direct to spinners. The imports last week were: New South Wales, 2,500 bales; Queensland, 1,100 bales; Victoria, 2,400 bales, Tasmania, 5,400 bales; New Zealand, 33,100 bales; Cape of Good Hope and Natal, 5,900 bales; various, 3,700 bales.

MOLASSES MARKET WEAK.

Cable advices received from Barbadoes report the market for molasses weak, and note a further decline in prices of 2c per gallon to 15c per gallon, including puncheon. This makes a net decline of 3c per gallon during last week. The weakness is said to be due to the fact that there is no demand from Canada or Newfoundland for the product.

COFFEE FUTURES DECLINE.

New York, April 8.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at unchanged prices to a decline of 5 points, owing to the rather disappointing French cables. Sales were reported of 13,000 bags, including: May, at 6.85c; July, 5.75c; August, 5.60c; September, 5.50c; December, 5.60c to 5.70c; March, 5.65c to 5.75c. Spot, quiet. No. 7 Rio, 7c; No. 4 Santos, 8c. Mild coffee, quiet; Cordova, 9 to 12½c.

FOREIGN WHEAT MARKETS.

London. — Market quiet, but steady; foreign wheat showing decline of 6d; flour in good demand at full rates.

Paris. — Wheat quiet. April, 22.95; July and August, 23.10; weather cool and fair.

Liverpool.—Wheat market steady. No. 1 Northern Manitoba 6s 8d to 6s 8½d; No. 2, no stock.

Futures—Wheat quiet; May, 6s 4½d; July, 6s 2¾d.

Antwerp.—Wheat steady.

Mr. Frank C. Loring, Consulting Engineer of the Trethewey, said the other day in a newspaper interview that the cost money in the camp would in the end be made out of the low grade ore which is now being cast aside as too poor to ship to smelters. This ore must be treated by concentration. Cobalt Concentrators, Limited, will be the first plant to operate in the camp.

You can have an interest in the company at a price that means a good sure money-maker. See the concentrator in operation at 75 Adelaide street west. Send for circular. 4.5.

COAL SITUATION IN WEST CRITICAL

General Strike May Be Declared—Springhill Miners Return to Work.

Ottawa, April 8. — Matters are critical in the coal situation in Alberta. The dispute rests on the old principle: Shall the operators employ any but union men? The miners will not work with non-union men, while the owners assert that they will not discriminate between non-union and union labor. The miners claim the operators have already violated the letter as well as the spirit of the industrial labor bill by the lockout declared at Lethbridge and at Taber. Lethbridge and Taber are not concerned in this immediate discussion, since each has a separate agreement, but there is a suggestion that the alleged arbitrary act of the operators in closing the Taber mine in defiance of the industrial disputes act may result in the further ignoring of this legislation. If this is done it is expected to precipitate a very grave condition and cause prosecutions under the act. Both sides assert, however, that they have obeyed the law and will continue to do so. The trouble involves 4,000 men.

A tie-up now, with the two new provinces on the wave of tremendous prosperity, spell ruin to many people.

President Sherman, of the United Mine Workers, of America declares that although the new act relating to compulsory investigation of disputes before calling strikes or lockouts is now in force, the Canada West Coal and Coke Company, operating the Taber Mine, had locked out all their employes not willing to work ten hours a day, on April 1, without any appeal, as laid down under the act.

MR. LEMIEUX'S STATEMENT.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux made the following statement: "We have advised both the operators and the men what course to follow. The impression among the miners is that the Government ought to prosecute the proprietors of the Taber mines for what is called a lockout. The Government has nothing to do with that matter: If the men wish to invoke the provisions of the law they can do it. All that they have to do is to go before a justice of the peace and get out a summons against the proprietors if they have declared a lockout before asking for an arbitration board."

MINERS RETURN TO WORK.

Halifax, N.S., April 8. — A committee representing Pioneer and Mechanics Lodges of the P. W. A. waited on the Cumberland Coal and Railway Company at Springhill on Saturday night and informed the management that the men warted to return to work this morning. The reply was that they were satisfied that they should do so. A joint meeting of Mechanics and Pioneer Lodges was held on Saturday afternoon, when seven men who yet remained outside, but whose fees had been fixed, were initiated. This being done, it was reported that every eligible man in the works was a member of the order.

THEIR VALUE IN SHEEP.

When the late Shah of Persia visited London not long ago he is said to have amused himself at a dinner in a ducal residence by appraising the beauty of the ladies present in terms of sheep. Thus for a blonde Countess he said he would give 1,200 sheep; for a tall, slim, Baroness he said he would give 2,000 sheep; for a peeress of middle age he said he would give 250 sheep, and so on. Finally the Shah came to the beautiful Mrs. Willie James. Everybody waited in anxious silence to hear the old heathen state her value in sheep, for she is thought to be the most beautiful woman in London. The Shah looked at Mrs. James tenderly. He shook his head and sighed. "This lady," he said, "is out of the question. Neither I nor any other man in the world owns as many sheep as she is worth."

Design by May Manton.

5509 Misses' Corset Cover and Petticoat.

FOR DAINTY GIRLS.

The really dainty girl takes a keen pride in fine and well-fitting underwear, and is always glad to add to the stock by making such garments as come within her powers. The corset cover illustrated is among the newest and also the simplest, and while exceedingly attractive, requires very little labor. It is made of flouncing, and consequently is already finished at the upper edge, requiring only that the seams be closed and ribbon threaded through beading or through openings in the design to regulate the size. In this instance the petticoat is made of cambric, and the flounce is made of embroidery to match the corset cover, but whether or not this is the case is entirely optional, as the flounce can be made of the material trimmed or in any way that may be liked. The foundation of the skirt is five gored, and there is a little ruffle at the lower edge. For a girl fourteen years of age will be required 1¾ yards of embroidery 14 inches wide for the corset cover; for the skirt 2¼ yards of material 36 inches wide, with 3½ yards of embroidery 14 inches wide. A May Manton pattern, No. 509, sizes 12 to 16 years, will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of ten cents.

THE PATENT "INTERLOCK" PIN-BLOCK

IN many pianos iron bolts are used to assist in holding the different sections of their pin-blocks together. This is unscientific, faulty, and therefore objectionable, and is one of the reasons why so many pianos require tuning so frequently.

In the Mason and Risch piano, instead of metal bolts, the pin-block is held by a series of "Interlocks" made of end-wood, each being sunk into the top as indicated in our illustration.

Through the use of these wooden "Interlocks," which are covered by our own patents and are exclusive to the Mason and Risch piano, it is a mechanical impossibility for the pin-block to be adversely influenced by changes of temperature.

MASON AND RISCH

The Piano with a Soul

We have never known one of our pin-blocks to split, warp or loosen.

This is because the "Interlock" being of the same material (wood) co-operates with the other sections of the block, expanding and contracting evenly with it according to atmospheric conditions, whereas in ordinary pin-blocks, the iron bolts being of different material, do not conform to these local conditions, and as a result separation of the joints frequently takes place and the value of the piano as a musical instrument is destroyed—it cannot possibly be kept in tune.

Just why these things are true is told in our literature. It's a very interesting story. Send for it.

The DOCTOR

by RALPH CONNOR: Author of THE MAN FROM GLENGARRY: THE PROSPECTOR

CHAPTER XXIII.—Continued.

Failing with Fahey, the allied forces tried another line of attack. "Mexico" and the organization of which he was the head were instructed to "run him out." Receiving his orders, "Mexico" called his agents together and invited their opinions. A sharp cleavage immediately developed, one party led by "Peachy" being strongly in favor of obeying the orders, the other party, leaderless and scattering, strongly opposed. Discussion waxed bitter. "Mexico" sat silent, watchful, impassive. At length, "Peachy," in full swing of an impassioned and sulphurous denunciation of the doctor, his person and his ways, was called abruptly to order by a peremptory word from his chief.

"Shut up your fool head, 'Peachy.' To hear you talk you'd think you'd do something."

A grim laugh at "Peachy's" expense went round the company.

"Do something?" snarled "Peachy," stung to fury, "I'll do somethin' one of these days. I've stood you all I want."

"Peachy's" oaths were crude in comparison with "Mexico," but his fury lent them force. "Mexico" turned his baleful, gleaming eyes upon him.

"Do something? Meaning?"

"Never mind," growled "Peachy."

"Git!" "Mexico" pointed a long finger to the door. It was a word of doom, and they all knew it, for it meant not simply dismissal from that meeting, but banishment from the company of which "Mexico" was head, and that meant banishment from the line of the Crow's Nest Pass. "Peachy" was startled.

"You needn't be so blanked swift," he growled apologetically. "I didn't mean for to —"

"You git!" repeated "Mexico," turning the pointing finger from the door to the face of the startled wretch.

With a fierce oath "Peachy" reached for his gun, but hesitated to draw. "Mexico" moved not a line of his face, not a muscle of his body, except that his head went a little back and the heavy eyelids fell somewhat over the piercing black eyes.

"You dog!" he ground out through his clinched teeth, "you know you can't bring out your gun. I know you, You poor curl You thought you'd sell me up to the other side! I know your scheme! Now git, and quick!"

The command came sharp like a snap of an animal's teeth, while "Mexico's" hand dropped swiftly to his side. Instantly "Peachy" rose and backed slowly toward the door, his face wearing the grin of a savage beast. At the door he paused.

"'Mexico,'" he said, "is this the last between you and me?"

"Mexico" kept his gleaming eyes fastened upon the face of the man backing out of the door.

"Git out, you curl!" he said, with contemptuous deliberation.

"Take that, then."

Like a flash, "Mexico" threw himself to one side. Two shots rang out as one. A slight smile curled "Mexico's" lip.

"Got him that time, I reckon."

"Hurt, 'Mexico'?" anxiously inquired his friends.

"Naw. He ain't got the nerve to shoot straight." The bartender and some others came running in with anxious faces. "Never mind, boys," said "Mexico." "'Peachy' was foolin' with his gun; it went off and hurt him some."

"Say, there's blood here!" said the bartender. "He's been bleedin' bad."

"Guess he's more scared than hurt. Now let's git to business."

The bartender and his friends took the hint and retired.

"Now, boys, listen to me," said "Mexico" impressively, leaning over the table. "Right here I want to say that the doctor is a friend of mine, and the man that touches him touches me." There was an ominous silence.

"Just as you say, 'Mexico,'" said one of the men, "but I see the finish of our game in these parts. The doctor's got the boys a-goin' and you know he ain't the kind that quits."

"You're right an' you're wrong. The Doc ain't the whole Government of this country yet. His game's the winnin' game. Any fool can see that. But we hold most of the trumps just now. So for the present we stay."

As the meeting broke up "Mexico's" friends warned him against "Peachy."

"Pshaw! 'Peachy'!" said "Mexico" contemptuously. "He couldn't hold his gun steady at me."

"He's all right behind a tree, though, an' there's lots of 'em round."

But "Mexico" only spat out his contempt for anything "Peachy" could do and went calmly on his way, "keeping the boys in line." But he began to be painfully conscious of an undercurrent of feeling over which he could exercise no control. Not that there was any lack of readiness on the part of the boys to "line up" at the word, but there was no corresponding readiness in pledging their support to the "same old party." There was, on the contrary, a very marked reserve on the part of the men who formerly, especially after the lining up process had been several times repeated, had been distinguished for unlimited enthusiasm for all "Mexico" represented. They "lined up" still, but beyond this they did not go.

The editor of The Pioneer, too, became conscious of this change in the attitude of the men he had always counted upon to do his bidding at the polls. "It's that cursed doctor!" he exclaimed to McKenty, the Member for the district. "He's been working a deep game. Of course, his brother's putting up all kinds of a fight, but we expect that and we know how to handle him. But this fellow is different. I tell you I'm afraid of him."

"Pshaw! He hasn't got any backing," said McKenty.

"How?"

"Well, he hasn't got any grease, and you can't make anything go without grease," McKenty spoke out of considerable experience.

"That's all right as an ordinary thing, but the doctor has grease of another kind. This library and clubroom business is catching the boys all round."

"I've heard about it," said McKenty. "I guess the Government could take a hand in libraries and institutes and that sort of thing, too."

"That all right," replied the editor. "Might do some good. But you can't beat him at that game. It isn't his libraries and his clubs altogether or chiefly, it's himself and his work. He's a number one doctor, and night and day he's on the road. By Jove! he's everywhere. He's got no end of stay, confound him! I tell you he's a winner. He can get a thousand men in a week to back him for anything he says."

McKenty thought deeply for some moments. "Well," he said, finally, "something has got to be done. We can't afford, you and I, at this stage to get out of the game. What about 'Mexico'?"

"'Mexico'!" exclaimed the editor, breaking out into profanity. "There's the weakest spot in the whole combination, just where it used to be strongest. The doctor's got him, body and soul. Why, 'Mexico' 'd be after him with a gun lm he stayed anywhere else when he visits town. The best in 'Mexico's' saloon isn't quite good enough for the doctor. No, sir! He's got a line on 'Mexico,' all right."

A Great Embroidery Sale

12,000 yards of Loom Ends to Clear

Tuesday will be an embroidery day here, for these goods will assuredly dominate any other offering of the day. At prices far below the cost of actual making, we secured from a large Swiss maker his surplus stock, consisting of about 12,000 yards of fine embroideries, comprising a tremendous variety of patterns in widths from 1-4 to 27 inches wide. A few of them not up to our standard—we had to clear all or none—which are worth in stores where such goods are sold from 5c to 10c a yard. We will clear them at 1c a yd.

But most of these embroideries are of a fine quality, such as bears the Ogilvy stamp of merit.

We have marked them as follows:

5c yard Goods we sell regularly at 15c to 25c. | 10c yard Goods we sell regularly at 25c to 55c.

25c yard Goods we sell regularly at 40c to $1.00.

50c, 75c and $1.00 a yard—

All marked proportionately low, the $1.00 goods being sold regularly at $1.75 to $2.75 a yard.

Goods are on show in St. Catherine Street window. See them and convince yourself that these exceptional values are REAL.

All in lengths of 4 1-2 to 6 3-4 yards, and we cannot cut goods, except above 25c a yard.

No 'phone orders accepted, and we cannot guarantee mail orders being filled, as we anticipate a total clearance on Tuesday.

NEW DRESS GOODS

FOR HORSE SHOW TOILETTES

Smart new costumes for the Horse Show should be planned immediately. Every tailor and dressmaker in the city is "burning the midnight oil" to cope with orders already in hand, so it is imperative that you select your material without delay. Come in on Tuesday.

These captivating new weaves will help you to decide.

We will show a specially imported range of grey and white striped Taffetas, which are the season's success in New York for tailored suits, $1.00 yard.

New Worsted, in various combinations of brown, grey, champagne, navy, black and fancy effects, $1.00 to $1.50.

Also a very rich silk and wool Eolienne, with satin stripe, an exquisite fabric, in navy, new brown, silver, black—$2.25.

Then we have a new range of shadow checks and plaids, in various combinations—$1.00, $1.25, $1.50.

Ground Floor. See window display.

A SPECIAL IN TRUNKS

When you buy a trunk don't study its appearance alone, think of the handling it will receive in the hands of the express man. We've brought out a trunk which for general efficiency, strength, appearance and price is without an equal.

It has a strong frame, with iron bottom and rollers, strong iron-bound corners, good lock and bolts, with strong tray and hat box. In the following sizes—

32 inch $3.50
34 inch $3.75
36 inch $4.00

Regular $5.30 Lace Curtains for $3.80.

As usual each Monday brings a special weekly offering in our Rug and Curtain Department.

This week it's a cable net curtain 3½ yards long by 52 inches wide,—

Has a plain centre with a motif scattered through it.

Motif is made in the form of a fleur-de-lis surrounded by a floral scroll.

Netting is very fine, strong, and uniformly woven.

Inside border is made in a floral scroll design with dotted netting and open-work lace.

Outside border has strong overlocked stitched edge which prevents curtain from tearing when stretched.

This is an exceedingly handsome curtain—good enough for any room.

It looks as well as many curtains sold for three times the price.

With each pair we give a girdle and hooks worth 30c.

Price of curtain $5.30 reduced to $3.80 this week.

TRADE PREFERENCE IN THE WEST INDIES

Views of Halifax Board of Trade on Subject Presented to Premier.

Halifax, N. S., April 8.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier was handed a memorandum by the Halifax Board of Trade expressing their opinion as to the attitude the Prime Minister should assume on the subject of the tariff relations of Canada and the West Indies.

"The Boards of Trade of Montreal, Toronto, St. John and Halifax in February last organized a delegation to the West Indies to discuss trade matters generally and to ascertain in what respects the business between Canada and West Indies is capable of being more fully developed. The gentlemen who went as representatives of the above boards have returned and report a very cordial desire on the part of the merchants in the West Indies to give Canada as large a share of their business as possible.

"Our delegates, in the course of the various discussions which took place, took the opportunity to discuss that inasmuch as Canada had granted to British goods lower rates of duties than those charged to foreign, the British West Indies might adopt the same way, as the application of our British preference had increased our imports from Great Britain and her colonies.

"This idea was on the whole favorably received, though some doubt was expressed that the Home Government might not approve of the principle. It is felt that if Canadian goods were granted a preference in the British West Indies it would be of very great advantage to this country, and would enable a large trade to be done in agricultural products, such as flour, oats peas, etc., which are now sent here from the United States.

Sir Robert Bond, premier of Newfoundland, was also a passenger by the Empress of Britain.

THERE WILL BE NO RUSH.

Three Weeks' Delay for Man Wanted in Old Country.

Winnipeg, April 8.—Henry Douglas Anderson, charged with theft from the Manchester branch of the Bank of England, was committed for trial. The magistrate read the evidence taken in England.

It will be three weeks before the prisoner will be taken to England. He must be kept here 15 days, and after that papers be sent to Ottawa and returned before the prisoner can be taken away.

Skull Crushed on Pavement.

Paris, Ont., April 8.—Robert McNaught, of South Dumfries, received fatal injuries in a run-away. His horse became frightened at the subway on Grand River street, by a train and dashed down the long hill at break-neck speed, crashing into the iron drinking fountain and breaking it right in two. The man's head struck the pavement with terrific force, and his skull was crushed. He died soon after.

LAWSON MINE IS ATTRACTING MOST ATTENTION

With Shares at $150 the Mine Will be Capitalized at $7,500,000.

COBALT IS TO GET A PURE WATER SUPPLY.

The News of the Cobalt Camp—Montreal River Now in Dangerous Shape.

A despatch from Cobalt states that the town probably will obtain a supply of pure water from the Clear Lake River. Several of the mines are willing to cooperate with the town in this enterprise. Pipes have been placed on the ground to run a main sewer down the gully, which runs north and south through Cobalt.

Mr. W. J. Morrison, manager of the Cobalt merger, was in the city on Saturday and expressed great faith in the Montreal River district. He stated that he intended, along with a number of others to "grub stake" certain prospectors, who would start just as soon as the most of the snow is off the ground.

A letter from New Liskeard, dated April 1st, says there is still about three feet of snow in the vicinity of Larder Laker, and that consequently it is still very difficult for any work to be done. There are seven camps around the southwest bay, while fully sixty parties are operating in that neighborhood alone. Since January a small town of about twenty-five dwelling-houses, with a sawmill, has some into existence there. The Reddick people, on the north-east arm of the lake, are installing a large steam plant for prospecting purposes. One boat and two gasoline launches will be put into operation just as soon as the ice breaks.

The working headquarters of the Davis Consolidated Mines Company will be at Ville Marie. Work will begin on April 15th, and Mr. C. E. Nord will be superintendent. A reduction plant for the treatment of ores will be ready in July. It is expected that about one hundred men will be employed by that time. The sum of $25,000 has been set aside for preliminary operating expenses.

Cobalt despatch says: Superintendent Madden, who is in charge of the operations at the Peterson Lake mine, reports a second vein uncoverd and running parallel with the first vein from the Nipissing side and only eight feet distant from the first vein. The ore taken from the new vein is very rich, and, according to experts who have examined it, will run as high as $2,000 to the ton.

A despatch from Toronto says that as a result of the settlement of all lawsuits over the famous Lawson Mine at Cobalt it has been decided to take out forthwith a charter for a company with a capitalization of $5,000,000. One-quarter of this stock, of the face value of a million and a quarter dollars is divided between Thomas Crawford Samuel Clark, Charles Millar and G. W. Bedell.

The second block, which is about a quarter of the stock, will go to the Northern Exploration Company, which includes Cal. Hay and associates, and also Lawson after whom the mine is called.

The remaining half goes into five parts, owned by the two Timmins brothers, the two McMartin brothers, and their associate, Dunlop. Some of the shares are to be placed on the market for working expenses if necessary, and an agreement in this respect is being fully drawn out. It is expected that any stock sold will bring at least $1.50 a share, so that the value of the mine to-day may be put at $7,500,000.

A special despatch to the Globe from Cobalt says: "A big strike has recently been made on the Townsite Mining Company's property, situated near the McKinley-Darragh and Buffalo mines. Cross cutting has just commenced at the 55-foot level, and the big vein has been struck, the percentage of argentite in one nugget being 87 and the ore taken out was valued at 20,000 ounces to the ton by the superintendent. The argentite lead is quite the most remarkable in the camp, and the rock is heavily shot through with leaf silver. Two cars of ore have already been shipped and eleven more car loads are ready. All this ore is low grade.

J. E. Clark, superintendent of the Cobalt Development Company, was in the city on Saturday, arranging properties. He stated that he expected to have a steam plant put in at once and to obtain good results in the near future. The company had 12 men at work on the claim north of the Temiskaming and Hudson Bay properties.

E. Cronyn & Company, members of the Toronto Stock Exchange, in a circular, after pointing out that mining stocks, except Nipissing and Conigas, have sold off since their last letter, say: "Various rumors have been circulated disparaging some of the other mining companies. One or two directed against Foster to us seems to be entirely without foundation, and to be the work of speculators not connected with the company, who desire an opportunity of buying the stock at a cheaper price. Prices may get cheaper, but that the boom in Cobalt is only deferred we are satisfied."

The Montreal River is now practically closed to prospectors from the outside, as the ice is almost rotten. All traffic will have to be across country, and under present conditions the trip will be extremely arduous, not to say dangerous.

DEPLORED TONE OF BUSINESS MORALITY

Rev. Dr. Chown Inveighs Against Those Who Hide Business Sins Behind Religious Ardor.

At the Dominion Square Methodist Church yesterday morning, Rev. Dr. Chown, of Toronto, Secretary of the Temperance and Moral Reform Society, preached a strong sermon, emphasizing the low tone of business morality prevailing in Canada at the present day.

Dr. Chown's text was from St. John, 10, 10; "I have come that they may have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." The difference between the present conception of life and that portrayed by the gospels, was pointed out in a vivid manner. The worst offenders against the moral laws were not the drunkards and sensualists, but the smug, sly knaves, who by their ardor in the church work were endeavoring to hide the sins of their business life.

"There are in Canada many men, who are to-day praying for liquor prohibition, and for foreign missions, who are sweating their dividends out of the thin blood that flows in the veins of their underpaid employees," said Dr. Chown, who went on to illustrate known cases of where employers of labor in Canada, were sapping the lives of their employes by long hours and small wages, while they were growing more wealthy each day.

LABOR CIRCLES.

The regular weekly meeting of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners will be held to-night in St. Joseph's Hall.

According to the labor men activity prevails in all branches of manufacturing and building, and many of the manufacturers are making additions to their plants to keep up with the demands.

The concert and ball in Dionne Hall, on Saturday evening, under the auspices of the Leather Cutters' Union, was a successful affair. There was a large attendance.

Plans for the coming May Day demonstration were further discussed at yesterday afternoon's meeting of the Socialist Labor party. Delegates were present from all the affiliated clubs in the city and speeches were delivered by leading members of the party.

Eight new members were elected at Friday night's meeting of the Plasterers's Union. Nearly all the members were present, and there was much enthusiasm. The prospects for a busy season are good, and the union was reported as being in first-class condition.

Messrs. Joseph Ainey and J. A. Rodier were the principal speakers at the meeting of striking carpenters and joiners of Sorel yesterday afternoon. The strikers are determined to hold out for their demands and seem to be confident of success.

Pastoral on Laws Governing Marriage

The sermon was replaced yesterday morning in all the Catholic churches by the reading of the pastoral on the laws of the church governing marriage. The decree is to be read in all churches on the Sunday following Easter Sunday.

Dr. McQueen Fell Off Train.

Winnipeg, April 8.—Dr. A. McQueen, graduate in medicine of Edinborough University, fell off a train coming into Winnipeg on Saturday night and was instantly killed. He was from the Old Country. He was about 40 years old and leaves a wife and family in Scotland. It is said that he was on the platform of the train and snatched at his hat, which had blown off.

To Honor Salisbury's Memory.

London, April 8.—An official circular proposes the commemoration of the services rendered by the late Marquis of Salisbury during the thirteen years of his office as Foreign Minister. It suggests the erection of a statue in the Foreign Office itself on the vacant pedestal at the foot of the grand staircase opposite the statue of the late Earl of Clarendon.

Japan's settled accounts for the year ended March 31 show a surplus of revenue over estimates, while outlays have decreased owing to the rapidity with which the army and navy are being reduced to a peace footing. No further loan will be necessary this year and perhaps not next.

A rare opportunity is herewith offered to investors in one of the largest and most promising mining propositions ever laid before the public.

LOCATION

The properties of the Company are situated in the Province of Quebec, just opposite the famous Cobalt District, and are eight in number, comprising in all about 1575 acres of rich mineral lands, carrying gold, silver and iron. Also 60 acres in the Famous Township of Coleman, Cobalt.

On one of the properties is a Calcite vein, extending up the mountain several hundred feet, and is four feet wide, which property assays high in silver.

On another of the properties is a bed of Specular Hematite ore 42 feet wide and traced about 600 feet in length.

Mr. Milton Hersey, M.S.C., Provincial Analyst, Montreal, assayed a sample of this ore which gives the following analysis:

Iron	68.33 p.c.
Phosphorus	0.00016 p.c.
Sulphur	0.18 p.c.
Titanium	none

The Company has authorized 100,000 shares to be sold at 40c per share, the proceeds of which will be used to start active development work. This first issue is positively the only stock that will be sold at 40c.

Mrs. D. A. Hart, Sherbrooke street west, is leaving shortly for New York and Atlantic City, where she will meet her sister, Miss Harline David, who has been spending the last two weeks there.

The marriage of Miss C. Louise Fraser, daughter of Mrs. Donald Fraser, to Dr. Charles K. P. Henry, of Westmount, has been arranged to take place Tuesday, afternoon, April 23rd at the residence of the bride's mother, 70 University street.

Mrs. J. Henry Hodges, jr. (formerly Miss Ruth Nolan), will receive for the first time since her marriage on Tuesday afternoon, April 9th and on Wednesday afternoon and evening, April 10th, at the residence of her sister, Mrs. S. Wilkins P. Hodges, 4 Prevost avenue, Viauville.

A pretty but quiet marriage was solemnized in All Saints' Church, Peterborough, by Rev. William Major recently, when Miss Mabel Adelaide Rickey, daughter of Mr. George Rickey, was married to Mr. Ernest Alexander Welch, son of Mr. Thos. Welch, of Otonabee. The bride, who was unattended, wore a tailored suit of grey cloth with hat to match. She also wore the bridegroom's gift, a pearl necklace and pendant. Mr. and Mrs. Welch left on the morning train for Port Arthur, where they will make their future home.

The following Canadian visitors registered their names at the Canadian Government Offices, 10, Rue de Rome, Paris, during the week ending March 23: G. Latourelle, J. and Mrs. Hebert, A. V. and Mrs. Roy, Mrs. W. C. and Miss Buckley, A. Tourangeau, Montreal; E. Denechand, Mission City; Miss E. Girgras, Stolyoke; E. Daulne, E. Colclough, L. V. Kuig, Montreal; F. Dawes, Woodstock, Ont.; C. and F. Desjardins, Montreal; Rev. H. J. Beaudry, Sherbrooke; A., Mrs., and Miss J. Bawlf, Miss M. McKay, Winnipeg; F. Le Bailly, Montreal; Mr., Mrs., and the Misses McLennan, Cape Breton; A. W., Mrs. J. C., and Miss L. Stevenson, Montreal; W. J. Rose, Winnipeg; O. Normandin, Dr. J. A. Mireault, Montreal; Mr. Justice and Mrs. Townshend, Halifax; J. E. Forslund, Mr. and Mrs. O'Meara, Winnipeg; Mr. Justice and Mrs. A. Chauveau, N. Lavoie, Quebec.

CLEANED UP OVER TWENTY MILLIONS

Harriman and Friends Made Fortune Out of Operations in Alton Properties.

Springfield, Ill., April 8.—Attorney-General Stead has handed Governor Deneen an opinion on the dealings in the Chicago and Alton Railroad properties within the last few years by E. H. Harriman and some of his financial associates, including G. J. Gould, James Stillman and Mortimer L. Schiff. The opinion is a response to a request communicated from Governor Deneen, March 22, soon after the return of Governor Deneen and Mr. Stead from a conference with President Roosevelt at Washington, in which the Attorney General was asked what his conclusions were on the matter, and what action, if any, was contemplated by the legal department of the State.

After setting out at some length the various acts to which the railroad corporations and properties forming the Alton system were subjected, Attorney General Stead concludes that there is not the least doubt that a civil remedy exists against a large portion of their holdings.

Mr. Stead inclines to the belief that the remedy lies with the company itself, or, in the event of its refusal to act, with some one or more of its stockholders. This conclusion, however, is not final, for the Attorney-General specifically states that if he should become satisfied, upon further investigation, that an effective remedy can be enforced by the state, he will not hesitate to institute proceedings. No option is expressed as to whether the members of the Harriman syndicate are criminally liable under the statutes of Illinois. According to the figures set out in Mr. Stead's opinion, Mr. Harriman and his associates made a total profit of $24,648,600 out of their respective operations, involving the Alton properties. As a result of this enormous profit to themselves, the railroad companies comprising the Alton system are thrown into hopeless bankruptcy.

The indebtedness of the companies, as shown by the figures in Mr. Stead's opinion, has been increased a total of $80,646,218 since they fell into Mr. Harriman's hands.

Of this amount only $22,500,000, according to Mr. Harriman's own testimony, the Attorney-General says, was incurred for improvements, betterments or extension of the roads.

MR. CHARLES W. STRINE DIED IN BOSTON.

Mr. Charles W. Strine, well known in threatrical circles and the newspaper world, passed away at the Boothby Hospital, Boston, on Saturday, after a short illness. Mr. Strine was taken with appendicitis and was operated upon, but from the very first his recovery was looked on as most unlikely. Mr. Strine was a native of Philadelphia, and was well known in Montreal, both in and out of theatrical circles.

He began his life's work with the Philadelphia newspapers, and for a number of years was connected with several of the large dailies in that city. Later on Mr. Strine left the newspaper world to take up the management of theatrical productions. During Bernhardt's last visit to America and Canada, Mr. Strine was her manager, and his last visit to Montreal, was with H. B. Irving, son of the late Sir Henry. After the completion of this engagement Mr. Strine went with Conried in the management of the Metropolitan productions. During the San Francisco earthquake, Mr. Strine was in that city together with his wife and little child. He was there for the purpose of completing arrangements for the production of the Conried operas in that city.

MASTER OF THE ROLLS.

Sir Herbert Hardy Cozens-Hardy, who succeeds to the historic office of Master of the Rolls, and will now have the right of walking in procession immediately after Lord Alverstone, is a curious contrast to some of the old-fashioned lawyers who have preceded him. The first Lord Lyndhurst, for instance, was a great advocate and strikingly handsome man; but Sir Herbert never was a very great orator, and it would be absurd to pretend that he is handsome. He will be seventy next year, and so he dates from the time when Nonconformists were excluded from Oxford and Cambridge; but he found scope for his keen intellect at University College, London, of which he is a fellow. His practice at the Chancery bar was enormous, and in Parliament he was a useful but silent member. He has a place in Norfolk, Letheringsett Hall, and his eldest son has adopted his father's profession.

AN IMPROMPTU BELL.

When Prince Bismarck first went as the representative of Prussia to the Federal Diet at Frankfort, Prussia was of very small account compared with Austria, and Bismarck found that he was treated with indifference at his hotel. He drew a room which had not even a bell, and when he complained, he was told that what was good enough for other travellers was good enough for the Prussian delegate. Bismarck said no more, but early the next morning the hotel was startled by a tremendous explosion. The landlord came rushing into Bismarck's room to know what was the matter, and was told that as there was no bell, the Prussian delegate had arranged with his valet to fire a pistol whenever he required his services. Bismarck got his bell without delay.

A WOMAN'S ORDEAL

DREADS DOCTOR'S QUESTIONS

Thousands Write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., and Receive Valuable Advice Absolutely Confidential and Free.

There can be no more terrible ordeal to a delicate, sensitive, refined woman than to be obliged to answer certain questions in regard to her private ills, even when those questions are asked by her family physician, and many continue to suffer rather than to submit to examinations which so many physicians propose in order to intelligently treat the disease; and this is the reason why so many physicians fail to cure female disease.

This is also the reason why thousands upon thousands of women are corresponding with Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. To her they can confide every detail of their illness, and from her great knowledge, obtained from years of experience in treating female ills, Mrs. Pinkham can advise sick women more wisely than the local physician.

Read how Mrs. Pinkham helped Delle. Emerentienne Montreuil, of 114 Latourelle St., Quebec, Que.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I suffered for eight months with what the doctors called prolapsus, which caused great weakness all over my system, with faint dizzy spells. I kept growing weaker and weaker. I tried several medicines which they claimed would cure my trouble, but nothing was of the least benefit until I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and this helped me so rapidly that I could hardly believe my good fortune. I would gladly have paid $25.00 for that first bottle, for it started me on the road to health, and five bottles cured me. I am most grateful for my splendid, robust health, and shall certainly recommend the Vegetable Compound in glowing terms to all my friends and acquaintances, for it is deserving of all the praise I can give it."

Mountains of proof establish the fact that no medicine in the world equals Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for restoring women's health.

CURIOUS SURVIVALS.

England has no lack of curious survivals. In Atherstone, Warwickshire, from time immemorial, a game or football has been played in the town streets on Shrove Tuesday, and the shops are closed while it is in progress. There is an older custom at Westminster school, where the boys "toss the pancake" in the presence of their relatives, the teachers and a gathering of "old boys." The ceremony is curious and stately. When all is ready the school cook marches into the great hall, bearing the pancake in a pan, and preceded by the dean's verger, who carries a mace. Then the cook throws the cake over one of the beams and the boys rush to get the biggest piece, at the recent ceremony one zealous contestant falling bodily on the pancake as if it had been a football. Before it is quite reduced to atoms the headmaster calls time and the boy with the biggest scrap in his possession wins a guinea.

There Is Scotch and Scotch

There is good Scotch—there is also ordinary Scotch not to say worse. Bottles are imitated, labels are counterfeited, but something that nobody will ever imitate is the OLD SCOTCH LIQUEUR, with gilt edge virtues, the famous which warms the system, renovates it and protects against the changes of the weather. It dispels sadness and drives the spleen away; it is pure, strong, mellow.

ST. AGNES PARISH TEMPERANCE WORK.

A new total abstinence society was formed yesterday afternoon in St. Agnes parish, under the presidency of the pastor, Rev. Father Casey. In the course of his remarks he expressed his pleasure when, after the splendid sermon by Father McPhail, over six hundred men came up to the altar and took the pledge.

The formation of a total abstinence society was the natural result of such an effort in the cause of temperance, and it was seconding the express wish of His Grace, the Archbishop, that each parish form a total abstinence society. He congratulated the large number who so willingly decided to form a society to carry on the good work begun by Father McPhail. He announced that the new hall in the rear of the church would be ready for the meetings of the society by the middle of May.

The following named officers were elected for the first year: James Easton, president; J. F. Quinn, vice-president; T. Cudahy, second vice-president; James Doran, secretary; L. A. McDonald, assistant secretary; P. Phelan, treasurer; John T. Kelleher, marshal; D. Edmonston, W. A. Jefferson and James Fyfe, trustees. The officers of the society were empowered to draft a constitution to present at the next session. The meetings will take place on the first Sunday of each month.

CARPETS.

Furnishing your rooms with carpets means more than covering the floors. Many ladies actually cannot sit in a room if the color tones are out of harmony, hence the advisability of consulting such expert carpet men as those at the dry goods store of Messrs. Jas. A. Ogilvy & Sons, St. Catherine street west, corner of Mountain street. Their announcement on page 11 of this issue of the Star gives much information of interest.

MANY BALLOTS WERE FORGED

Special to The Montreal Star.

New York, April 8.—The International policyholders' committee, in a statement made public to-day by Manager George B. Scrugham presents affidavits to support the committee's charges of fraud in the recent insurance elections. Mr. Scrugham gives names of policyholders whose ballots had been forged. Representatives of policyholders' committee have been gathering these affidavits for weeks and it is said cases of forged ballots have been uncovered in more than half the States in the Union. The committee will use its information as the basis for civil and criminal proceedings. District Attorney Jerome, it is understood, will consider the matter as soon as the Thaw trial is out of the way.

10000 Yds. Purchase of Braids

Sale Begins Tuesday at 8 a.m.

We have just closed out the entire stock of Dress Trimmings and Vesting Braids of a leading importer at a ridiculously low price, considering the demand there is this season for Braids as Dress Trimmings.

They are now on view in our show windows, and, judging from the comments of people who have seen them, though the quantity is large, they will doubtless all be sold early Tuesday, especially in view of the unprecedented low price we have put on them. So we advise anyone desirous of securing some of the phenomenal bargains to come early. Come as soon as the doors open. We cannot, of course, fill mail or telephone orders for these trimmings.

5c A Yard — FOR FANCY DRESS TRIMMING AND VESTING BRAIDS in every shade you could possibly desire, including black. Hundreds of different styles, width, assorted from the narrowest to the widest, with bands, guipures and insertions. Trimming Braids that under ordinary conditions would retail at 25c, 35c, 50c, 75c, $1.00, yes, and $2.00 a yard, some of them. Not more than ordinary retail quantities to any one customer. None to the trade.

has taken the city by storm. Of course we cannot extend this opportunity much longer, as our expert alteration hands are high paid people. However, during this week we will continue, in addition to the very special values we are now offering in Ladies' and Misses' Tailored Suits, to alter them to fit, Free of charge. This includes all suits from $5 to $50.

Has it ever occurred to you, that this store is more than a place in which merchandise is bought and sold?

It not only reflects the spirit of progress, shows convincingly the superiority of modern store-keeping, but it also teaches practical economy. It brings the customer in closer touch with the producer, for we seek in every way to eliminate the in-between profits.

"Never let yourself be hurried, or worried, or flurried." This is a good rule of conduct in April weather. Otherwise one is likely to complete the gamut of rhymes and "be buried." You never can tell just what the weather at this time of year is going to do at any given time, though you can be morally certain that it will do a little of everything in a very short space. The proper, and, indeed, the only way, to meet it is to adopt the attitude of "passive resistance."

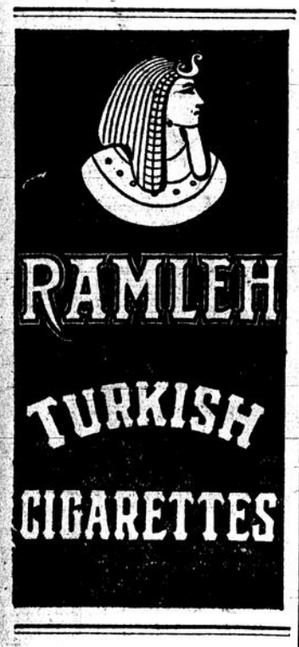
Late Mr. Alphonse Christin.

A man who had played a prominent part in the political events of the past thirty years died yesterday in the person of Mr. Alphonse Christin, advocate, who was sixty years of age. Always a strong supporter of the Liberal party he contributed by his pen and speech to the triumph of that party. He was more prominent, however, in his earlier days, having been one of the leading workers in the elections preceding the accession of the party to power. The funeral will take place on Tuesday, the departure from the house, 154 St. Denis street, for St. James Church, being fixed for 8 a.m.

Fell Fifteen Feet Uninjured.

Jote Brophy, the two-year-old daughter of Lawrence Brophy, clerk of St. Antoine Market, fell on Saturday afternoon from one of the upper windows of Brophy's residence in the uper part of the east end of the market to the wooden awning over the St. James street sidewalk, a distance of fifteen feet. The little tot was not seriously injured.



Avoid Stencil and Bogus Pianos.

A stencilled piano is one which bears some other name than the manufacturer of the instrument. Sometimes a great composer's name is used and at other times the name of some local piano dealer, sometimes a name in imitation of some great maker. It is safer to buy an instrument bearing the maker's name. This is a guarantee of good faith on the part of the manufacturer and proves that he is not ashamed of the product of his factory.

J. W. Shaw & Co, are the only large piano merchants in Montreal, who make the pianos bearing the name Shaw, right here in Montreal in their own factory. When you buy a SHAW you get a genuinely well made, reliable instrument without paying middlemen's profits.

THE TORREY MEETINGS AT ST. JAMES METHODIST CHURCH HAD FULL CAPACITY ATTENDANCE YESTERDAY

The Revivalist Brings Many Penitents to Their Feet —The Theatre-going and Card-playing Kind of Christians—The Singing is a Special Feature at All Meetings.

In appearance a prosperous business man, possessing a voice with a decided twang, a preacher of the intimate method; one whose sermon is conversational rather than forsenic. Such is Rueben A. Torrey, D.D., leader of the revival movement which gained local inception from two meetings held yesterday in St. James Methodist Church, St. Catherine street west.

The opening of the revival was in the afternoon when a congregation of 2,300 persons, men and women, found seats in the edifice. At night the seating capacity of the building, 2,500, was altogether occupied, while there was an overflow into the aisles. In addition to those seated in the main body of the church there was a choir of 200 singers present at each gathering, so that in point of attendance, at least, the beginning of the work proved auspicious.

Knowing some revival mannerisms, one would look for an appeal of the hammer and tongs variety from Dr. Torrey. Naturally a revival is associated with extreme measures. It is an onslaught upon established citadels of sin, and hardened consciences are not worn down without the use of extraordinary attack. Ordinarily this is done by varous means, and a not infrequent one used is to hold over the sinner the fear of punishment in the world to come. Dr. Torrey showed no inclination to resort to such methods in the opening of his revival work. His first sermon was devoted to an appeal to men and women to stir themselves out of ease and thoughtlessness and become soul-winners; his second sermon was a direct question; pertinently "are you on the road to Heaven, or to hell?"

Meeting Dr. Torrey, one might infer that he was the head of some banking institution, perhaps a railroad man; in fact anything rather than a preacher and a noted revivalist. Save for his clerical cut of clothing, there is not much about him to impress the spectator that here is one who is a specialist in soul-saving. This expression is used because of the frequent use by Dr. Torrey when he makes the appeal direct that men and women should be soul-winners. By his oft-repeated request; by his occasional reference to some of the more intimate methods of the work, and to the various plans originated to win the spiritual to the better way, Dr. Torrey sets himself down to be a specialist in his own particular calling, therefore a specialist in soul-saving.

The voice of the preacher is that of the New Englander. It is not always so, but more frequently it moves along so modulated and so twanging as to make one believe that this is the voice of the preconceived Yankee. The tongue seems to linger lovingly on "u" sounds and there is frequent recurrence of nasals. It is a clear voice, readily able to reach all corners; a voice of excellent carrying powers and clearness of enunciation, so that it is possible at all times to understand what is being said.

Charlotte Bronte described a popular divine of her day as being of "moderate intellect, a moral standard not higher than the average, some rhetorical affluence and great gilbness of speech." What Dr. Torrey's mental attainments are could not be gathered from his sermons of yesterday. He may be, doubtless is, erudite, but this could not be judged from the matter given. He showed fluency it is true, and had no difficulty in rapidly quoting extracts from the Scriptures as served his purpose, adding chapter and verse. The subject matter was confined to plain every day facts. Simplicity is, after all, the most direct and the most eloquent means of reaching the multitude, but how this particular exposition of the method would appeal to thinking men and women it would be difficult to consider. If immediate results mean anything there was some return. After listening to Dr. Torrey in the afternoon, fifty persons, men and women, stood up and said that they had been "touched by Jesus," and that henceforth they would live their lives so that they should be examples to the less fortunate and so that others would be won over. At night a similar number of persons said that they, too, had felt the influence. This is the direct and immediate result. What the lasting result will be is a matter too remote for present consideration. Dr. Torrey expresed some satisfaction at the work done, but added that it was the smallest number he had seen arise during his recent experience.

USED THE REVIVAL METHODS.

Dr. Torrey uses the revivalist method in his sermons, a method general in these particular spiritual activities much about him to impress the spectator that here is one who is a specialist in soul-saving. This expression is used because of the frequent use by Dr. Torrey when he makes the appeal direct that men and women should be soul-winners. By his oft-repeated request; by his occasional reference to some of the more intimate methods of the work, and to the various plans originated to win the spiritual to the better way, Dr. Torrey sets himself down to be a specialist in his own particular calling, therefore a specialist in soul-saving.

It is not always so, but more frequently it moves along so modulated and so twanging as to make one believe that this is the voice of the preconceived Yankee. The tongue seems to linger lovingly on "u" sounds and there is frequent recurrence of nasals. It is a clear voice, readily able to reach all corners; a voice of excellent carrying powers and clearness of enunciation, so that it is possible at all times to understand what is being said.

Charlotte Bronte described a popular divine of her day as being of "moderate intellect, a moral standard not higher than the average, some rhetorical affluence and great gilbness of speech." What Dr. Torrey's mental attainments are could not be gathered from his sermons of yesterday. He may be, doubtless is, erudite, but this could not be judged from the matter given. He showed fluency it is true, and had no difficulty in rapidly quoting extracts from the Scriptures as served his purpose, adding chapter and verse. The subject matter was confined to plain every day facts. Simplicity is, after all, the most direct and the most eloquent means of reaching the multitude, but how this particular exposition of the method would appeal to thinking men and women it would be difficult to consider. If immediate results mean anything there was some return. After listening to Dr. Torrey in the afternoon, fifty persons, men and women, stood up and said that they had been "touched by Jesus," and that henceforth they would live their lives so that they should be examples to the less fortunate and so that others would be won over. At night a similar number of persons said that they, too, had felt the influence. This is the direct and immediate result. What the lasting result will be is a matter too remote for present consideration. Dr. Torrey expresed some satisfaction at the work done, but added that it was the smallest number he had seen arise during his recent experience.

much about him to impress the spectator that here is one who is a specialist in soul-saving. This expression is used because of the frequent use by Dr. Torrey when he makes the appeal direct that men and women should be soul-winners. By his oft-repeated request; by his occasional reference to some of the more intimate methods of the work, and to the various plans originated to win the spiritual to the better way, Dr. Torrey sets himself down to be a specialist in his own particular calling, therefore a specialist in soul-saving.

The voice of the preacher is that of the New Englander. It is not always so, but more frequently it moves along so modulated and so twanging as to make one believe that this is the voice of the preconceived Yankee. The tongue seems to linger lovingly on "u" sounds and there is frequent recurrence of nasals. It is a clear voice, readily able to reach all corners; a voice of excellent carrying powers and clearness of enunciation, so that it is possible at all times to understand what is being said.

What the lasting result will be is a matter too remote for present consideration. Dr. Torrey expresed some satisfaction at the work done, but added that it was the smallest number he had seen arise during his recent experience.

USED THE REVIVAL METHODS.

Dr. Torrey uses the revivalist method in his sermons, a method general in these particular spiritual activities whether called revivals or missions, that is the anecdotal method. Every point must be illustrated by a story. Dr. Torrey in story sounded like a Yankee monologue. It is an effective method and its illustrative qualities are excellent.

He opened his afternoon sermon by explaining the reasons for the present movement in Montreal.

"If we win a few or many hundreds to a saving knowledge of Christ," said Dr. Torrey, "that will be a great thing. But if we stir up hundreds of Christians to go out and become soul-winners themselves with an ardor and enthusiasm and ability they have never manifested before, that will be a blessing to this city for months and years to come. Therefore, my text to-day, and the keynote of this mission during the coming four weeks, will be the verse from Proverbs 11-30, "He that winneth souls is wise," or as the revised version says, "He that is wise winneth souls."

Dr. Torrey gave a resume of what men would consider to be the wisest of each particular class, but in none could he discern a man so wise as the one who saved souls. "The man who wants to be wise in the eyes of God should make soul-winning the business of his life. Mark what I say, the business. Some men make it incidental; it should be the business. I do not mean by this that all men should consider themselves gifted with a call to the ministry; but that they should live with the thought of how to win souls.

From this Dr. Torrey argued the reasons why men should become soul-winners. Because Christ left standing orders for His Church for all time, "Go ye into all the world and make disciples of all the nations." Therefore, whoever was not bringing souls to Christ was disobeying His orders, and it was for them to consider whether in so neglecting their duty they were acting as friends of Jesus.

Because soul-winning was the life work of Jesus Christ. His work was "To seek and save that which was lost." If that was not the absorbing work of any person's life what right had he to call himself a follower of Christ?

Soul-winning was the duty of every professing Christian because it was the work which produced the most beneficial results. "He that saveth a soul from his way shall save a soul from death."

To save souls from death was a great thing? "Death is a hideous thing? It is an appalling thing? I hate death. It came into my home and brought out of it a sweet soul. Death is an enemy. Thank God, for Christians, it is a conquered enemy." The difference between physical and spiritual death was shown.

The mutability of things being demonstrated, Dr. Torrey proceeded to deal with his desires. "It doesn't pay to shine down here. It does pay to shine for ever and ever in Heaven above, but you can't shine there without being a soul winner."

Further story led to the concluding portion of the speaker's sermon. When he had ended he appealed to those who felt themselves touched to rise and proclaim their salvation. The invitation was repeated and repeated until fifty in all were standing. This number Dr. Torrey then gave benediction to, and he also called for a blessing for those who had remained seated, hoping that their struggle would end gloriously.

THEATRE-GOING AND CARD PLAYING.

At night, Dr. Torrey approached some of the Methodist aversions, theatre-going and card playing. "Are you a theatre-going, card-playing, low-necked kind of a Christian?" he asked. That persons should go to church on the Sabbath, even to communion, and, perhaps, teach a Sunday school class, then during the week give way to the spirit of worldly frivolity, was, to Dr. Torrey, most reprehensible.

The subject of this sermon was the question addressed by God to Adam: "Where art Thou?"

"When sin enters our hearts," said Dr. Torrey, "we seek to hide it from God. Men will give you their reasons for being sceptics, agnostics or atheists, but in many cases of denial of God, it is explained by men's desire to hide themselves from the discomfort of His acknowledged presence."

Such a question as this had to be considered scripturally. The only chart and compass in the voyage through life towards eternity was the Bible. "If you steer your course," said the speaker, "according to your own feelings, according to the speculation of the petty philosopher or theologian, according to anything but the book of God, you steer your course to shipwreck. Any hope that is not founded on the clear teaching of God's word is absolutely worthless."

On this question had to be considerde another: Are you on the road to Heaven or to hell? for the Bible told us that these were the only two roads. Or, again, if members of the assembly were professing Christians, it also included the question: What kind of Christians are you?

THE REVIVAL CHOIR.

An interesting feature of the revival movement is the singing. To accommodate the augumented choir, some 200 voices being required for each service, the choir gallery and communion rail in the church have been built over, and a strong platform erected there. This rises up to make room for the singers. In front it is guarded by a rail, covered with red bunting. In front again is an unguarded platform, and in the centre a raised rostrum. Here the leader of the choir and, later, the preacher stood. The structure may seem most unchurchly, but it served the purpose in a most efficient manner.

As the choristers entered they were directed to their places by Mr. W. G. Taylor, who had done the preliminary training. As Mr. Charles Butler, who is with Dr. Torrey, is in charge of the singing, his plan was followed out. The men, bass and tenor, were seated in the middle of the platform from top to bottom, the sopranos to the left of the men and the contraltos to the right. The choir proved earnest and enthusiastic and for the particular demands answered the purpose excellently. To open the meeting, Mr. Butler appeared. Mr. Butler is young in appearance and seems to have little of the evangelical about him. He is rather the college man, and such a chap as one would set down as manager of the football club or the track team. He is thoroughly hustling in his methods, brisk and busy. "Let's sing," said he, coming to the front and stepping on to the rostrum, "but first let us have a blessing."

After the invocation of the blessing, Mr. Butler called for No. 188. This was sung by the choir. "That's splendid, that's splendid," commented Mr. Butler. "Now let's have every voice. If you haven't been singing when you go to church, begin now. Let's all have a good time." The second verse being concluded. "Now let's hear how the ladies' voices will sound in the third verse. Now, all the ladies voices." The ladies having sung the third verse very acceptably, Mr. Butler remarked: "We won't sing the last verse. We're just getting acquainted now. Let's turn to No. 160. I'm going to sing the chorus through.

"Now listen while I sing." Mr. Butler sang in a charming voice. First the chorus, then a verse and the chorus. Then the choir sang, after which the gallery was asked to sing. The gallery singing sounded like a solo, with an accompanied chorus, with very much piano. This was noticed by Mr. Butler. "I'm sure you've got another soloist in the gallery. Let the brother stand up and sing. Who will sing a solo? Yes, you sing it," pointing to a man near the front. Yes, yes, that's the man. Stand right up and sing. I'm sure you can. Well, give him a book. Oh, come on, sing. Well, then, the three of you men sing." There was no response from the man or his two neighbors, but Mr. Butler was not to be nonplussed by a trifle. "Well, I'll sing it." This being done Mr. Butler asked all in the gallery to sing. This was accomplished with great improvement. "I knew you'd like that song," said Mr. Butler. "It's got the gospel in it. Now who'll stand up and sing it. Some one sing. I'll give an autograph copy of the hymn book to any one who will sing. Any man and woman? Ah, I knew we'd find some body." At that moment a man and a woman stood up in the gallery. "Well, we'll have a duet." The pair started off and sang through a verse. "Fine, fine," said Mr. Butler. "I see the man has a book, so I'll give an autograph copy to the lady." The man standing in the gallery answered "The book's not mine. I borrowed it." This sally is greeted with laughter and applause from the congregation. "All right," laughingly ly responded Mr. Butler. "Dr. Torrey will give the book."

The book in question is one of the number of a volume of revival hymns, edited and collected by Daniel B. Towner and Charles M. Alexander. It was this particular book over which there was some friction in Ottawa, owing to the persistence of Dr. Torrey and Mr. Alexander that this book and it alone should be used. It is a copyrighted volume, selling for a moderate price, but if large numbers are sold there should be quite a profit on the venture.

Previous to the opening of the service an elderly man walked up to the door leading to the choir gallery. "I would like to get a couple of books for friends of mine," said he. "Of course, you won't sell them to-day." Receiving an affirmative answer, he proceeded "That's right, that's right. I remember sixty years ago in Ireland that a man invited some people to have tea with him on Sunday. When the people got there the man found he had no bread in the house. So he went out and bought some. But his friends wouldn't eat the bread because it was bought on Sunday." The sanctity of the Sabbath was evidently a subject on which the elderly man had strict opinions. "Why, for fifty years I have not taken a walk on the Lord's Day, and I wouldn't get in one of those things, the street cars. That's what I think of the Lord's Day."

The first almanac was printed in Hungary in 1470.
