Court action menaces Canada-US car treaty

WASHINGTON (CP) — A double-barrelled threat against expanding imports of Canadian auto parts was signalled today by American competitors. Legal action is being taken today in federal district court here to force the United States treasury department to impose higher duties on Canadian imports, said an American industry statement. This is aimed at a system of Canadian tariff incentives inaugurated in November, 1962. But the statement also warned of intent to oppose through Congress an alternative Canadian-U.S. agreement now close to being signed. Negotiations started after American industry concern was expressed about the first arrangement. The arrangement would establish over a period of several years a free-trade formula in North American vehicles and original parts. Signing is expected any day now. The statement issued today

ILA chiefs seeking to end strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Top officials of the longshoremen's union, seeking a quick end to the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts dock strike, have launched a campaign to get members in the port of New York to vote again and approve a contract they rejected by a slim margin. The rejection triggered the strike by 60,000 members of the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) in ports from Maine to Texas. An estimated 200 ships are tied up in ports, and more are expected to arrive today. Estimates of losses to the national economy, including effects on related industries, range from $20,000,000 to $25,000,000 a day. Union leaders and Assistant Labor Secretary James J. Reynolds say the contract was rejected here last Friday because the rank-and-file misunderstood the contract. A campaign to sell the contract to the men was decided on at an ILA executive council meeting Monday, first day of the strike.

Montreal Metro cost increases

MONTREAL (CP)—The Montreal executive committee tabled a motion to city council Monday night asking for permission to borrow another $34,930,000 for subway construction. The loan would bring the cost of the subway to $213,700,000 from $178,770,000, the first indication the metro would cost substantially more than original estimates. Lucien Saulnier, chairman of the executive committee, told reporters the city expected to recover "a few millions" of expenses through sale of construction rights over stations and expropriated property not found necessary for the 15-mile, three-line subway. When the project stated in November, 1961, total cost was estimated at $132,000,000 for a two-line network. This was increased to $178,770,000 when the city decided to extend the east-west line and build a line under the St. Lawrence River to south shore communities with a stop at the 1967 world's fair site. Mr. Saulnier said the latest jump in cost estimates was caused by the 1963 increase in federal sales tax on construction materials, the increase in provincial sales tax last April and a 20-per-cent increase in expropriation costs because of higher-than-expected land values.

Sir John A honored Political barriers fall at Kingston ceremonies

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP) — Is Canada ready to break through its political sound barrier in a distinctive international stature between French and English will survive? Premier Robert's announced at the dinner that trans-provincial Highway 401, running from the Quebec border to Windsor, Ont., will be known as the Macdonald-Cartier Freeway. He said he will invite Premier Lesage to join him in opening it. Toasts were drunk to the Queen, to Canada, and to Macdonald, the latter diluted with the Skye Boat Song, played by pipers. Gifts of change purses, in the form of Scottish tams in the clan Donald tartan, were distributed by ladies in crinolines and lace. Before the banquet, the guests of honor drove to Cataract Cemetery under leaden skies and in a light snowstorm placed wreaths at the Macdonald family plot. Then they drove to Bellevue, his former home, which was bought by the federal government last year as a historic site and is to be restored. Mr. Diefenbaker addressed 1,000 senior students of Queen Elizabeth High School during the afternoon, recounting the coincidences of history that found parallel in Macdonald's and his own career. The ancestors of both had come to Canada after being driven off the land in the Scottish Highland clearances of Sutherlandshire in 1812, and both had suffered political defeats and internal party strife. In addition to renaming Highway 401 the Macdonald-Cartier Freeway, Premier Robert's announced a number of scholarships and exchange professorships honoring Macdonald. A joint announcement was made by the federal, provincial and municipal governments that the grounds between the old Kingston city hall and the Lake Ontario waterfront will be created a park in Macdonald's name. The work will entail removing Canadian Pacific Railway tracks and storage sheds. Ottawa is paying for restoration of the front of the old city hall, erected in 1844, the year after Macdonald was elected Kingston alderman.

No bathtub

LONDON (CP) — Housing Minister Richard Crossman, visiting two Canadian - built timber-frame demonstration houses at nearby Abbots Langley, was impressed with everything but the bathtubs. There were showers but no tubs. "That won't do for the English," he said. "We must have a bath." "You English like washing in your own dirty water," replied David Crinon, chief architect of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, Ottawa.

Trial uproar

TRAMORE, Ireland (Reuters) — There was an uproar and fighting broke out here today when nine men appeared in court in connection with an explosion that occurred during Princess Margaret's visit to Ireland. Persons in the courtroom began shouting "British imperialism!" when the judge left the bench after the nine refused to accept bail and were ordered held in custody for another week. The men, their relatives and friends scuffled with police. The scuffle developed into a general fight.

Nicosia blast

NICOSIA (Reuters)—A bomb explosion early today shattered windows of the Saray Hotel in the Turkish-Cypriot quarter of Nicosia, injuring a beggar sleeping in a car nearby. Monday night a bomb in an unoccupied bar shattered windows of shops next to a Nicosia movie theatre in the Greek-Cypriot quarter. No one was hurt.

Blast photos

Difficult course charted 1,500,000 new jobs required

OTTAWA (CP) — A challenging and complex economic course, studded with elusive targets, has been charted by the Economic Council of Canada in hopes of sending the country into the 1970s on a crest of prosperity. The course, by the council's own admission, is going to be extremely difficult to follow. About 1,500,000 new jobs must be created between 1963 and 1970; there must be a 50-per-cent increase in total real output, along with a 20-per-cent increase in real per capita income; the employment rate should be 97 per cent; there should be productivity gains of 2.4 per cent a year for each employed person, compared with one per cent from 1956 to 1963. "The magnitude of this challenge is indicated by the fact that we need to achieve, in these seven years, approximately the same increase in total employment that occurred over the previous 14 years," said the first report of the 28-member advisory council. The council, 18 months old, is headed by John J. Deutsch, a Saskatchewan-born economist who is a former assistant deputy minister of finance and vice-principal of Queen's University. Calling for strong, well-planned expansionary policies, the report said a large sustained growth in total effective demand is imperative if high employment is to be maintained. "An appropriate combination of strong expansionary policies is therefore required to generate adequate levels of demand both at home and in export markets in support of rapidly expanding employment." Mr. Deutsch declined to say at a press conference whether this was really expanded cuts in income taxes. "It's not the job of the council to lay out budgets," he said. "We lay down a kind of broad principle and a basic course of action." But he said the fiscal system should be designed in such a way that it will not inhibit growth. "Many of the challenges were laid at the feet of the government. Greatly expanded exports, particularly from the secondary manufacturing industries, were advocated along with a lessening of trade barriers, more export credits and stronger policies in fiscal, monetary and the labor-market fields. Policies must be "stronger than now," said Mr. Deutsch. The council also called for a "reasonable degree of price and cost stability" in the years ahead. "We are well aware of the fact that we are setting for the Canadian economy the task of maintaining as good a performance concerning price and cost stability under prosperous conditions, as that which was actually achieved over the last decade under conditions of relatively high unemployment and relatively slow growth." One of the most striking findings of the council was that about 1,500,000 new jobs must be created by 1970 to absorb the post-war "baby boom" and attain the "realistic objective" of 97 per cent employment. "Canada is moving towards one of the highest rates of labor force expansion in its entire history." An expected increase of 2.8 per cent in the 1965-70 period would be one-third higher than the average increase in the previous five-year period. The fleet serves as a safeguard against a major invasion of Singapore or the Malaysian mainland. "SITTING DUCKS" "If they come across the water in any force, they'll be sitting ducks," said a Malaysian official. But he pointed out that small guerrilla groups can, and do, slip across the Strait of Malacca. British Army Minister Fred Mulley toured the defence lines in Borneo and assured Malaysian officials of Britain's full support.

ASKS THE RIGHT MAN, GETS INAUGURAL BID — Melissa Lee Baron, 13, of Lakewood, Calif., who wanted to attend next week's inauguration in Washington and began her campaign by writing to President Johnson, holds the formal invitation she received—and the teddy bear she'll take along to Washington. It reads: "The Inaugural Committee requests the honor of your presence..." (AP Wirephoto)

NEED GROWTH CITES SEVERAL FACTORS

Mr. Deutsch told the press conference this was due to several factors. Demand for Canadian raw materials fell off sharply, there was a slowdown in investment, the premium rate of the Canadian dollar was "inappropriate" and Canada's best customer, the United States, was experiencing a slowdown. In setting an objective of 97 per cent employment — this would mean an average unemployment rate of three per cent of the labor force — the council said this was not necessarily the ultimate goal, but it did represent a realistic objective. Mr. Deutsch said if the economy exceeded its prescribed course, the unemployment average might be further shaved.

Greatest British fleet now protects Malaysia

SINGAPORE (AP)—Britain's biggest fleet is protecting Malaysia against the threat of an Indonesian attack. The aircraft carrier Eagle, Britain's most formidable warship, arrived Monday to join the Far East fleet of more than 70 ships. It includes the carrier Victorious, the commando ship Bulwark, guided missile destroyers and frigates. Defence preparations were being rushed ashore. The current goal is about 9,000 troops in North Borneo, where Indonesia shares a 900-mile jungle border with Malaysia. The troops are to include 500 hard-fighting Nepalese Gurkhas being flown from Hong Kong, beginning Wednesday. Helicopters are to shuttle half the Gurkha battalion to the border as soon as it arrives in Borneo. The rest will move up by truck and on foot. Any major Indonesian thrust is expected on Borneo, where intelligence sources reported a heavy build-up along the border.

RELATIONS 'CORDIAL'

"Vietnamese-American relations are now, as always, intimate and cordial," he declared. U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor strongly objected to the military purge, and the embassy suspended talks on plans to increase aid to South Vietnam's war effort against the Communist Viet Cong. Last weekend, however, American officials softened their stand, and a settlement was announced Saturday. In the settlement, the military said it had restored full authority to Huong and the civilian government and released the politicians it arrested Dec. 20. The legislative council was not reinstated, but the civilian government is supported to organize a national assembly in the future.

HUNT GUERRILLAS

Indonesian guerrillas have been landing in small numbers on the Malaysian mainland since August. Security forces are still hunting 11 guerrillas who landed Friday in a party of 24. The others were captured. In line with its announced withdrawal from the United Nations and its specialized agencies, Indonesia boycotted a session in New York Monday of the UN special fund's 24-nation governing council. But no attempt was made to replace the Indonesian second vice-president of the council. The United Nations takes the position that Indonesia's withdrawal is not official because no written notice has been filed. In Manila, Philippine President Macapagal's office announced that UN Secretary-General U Thant has asked him to try to persuade Sukarno to reconsider his decision to withdraw from the world body. Similar appeals to Indonesia from other world leaders have been fruitless.

Pays visit to city Y

The new YMCA National Council Regional Field Service Secretary for Eastern Canada is visiting the Sherbrooke YMCA today and tomorrow.

Bob Smith, who has been recently appointed to this position, will co-ordinate all aspects of the National 'Y' co-operative services with the Sherbrooke YMCA.

The visit of Mr. Smith to the Sherbrooke YMCA follows the reorganizational study of the National Council which in addition to the creation of regional field staff includes other changes in National Council's program, personnel and administrative functions, Art Wright, president of the Sherbrooke YMCA said.

Formerly a National YMCA Extension Secretary Mr. Smith now serves the region from Newfoundland to Ontario. In addition to the above assignment he will continue to be a liaison secretary with the 'Y's Men Movement and will also serve as the secretary related to the Extension Committee which now becomes a sub-committee of the Program Services Committee.

Born in Smiths Cove, Nova Scotia, Mr. Smith attended Acadia University and Gordon College, Boston, Massachusetts. Before joining the National Council in 1957, he served the 'Y' as Canadian YMCA War Services supervisor, Montreal Southwest Y, Montreal Central Y and Wolland-Crowland YMCAs.

36 sub-standard buildings razed by city in '64

A record thirty-six slum buildings having 70 apartments were torn down in Sherbrooke last year, according to a report from building inspector Aime Gagnon.

The total is composed of 48 East Ward apartments, 12 Centre Ward ones, six West Ward apartments, and four North Ward ones.

"The disappearance of these buildings was made possible through the cooperation of social services in the city, especially Sherbrooke welfare director, Charles Monfette," the report says.

"In most cases Mr. Monfette relocated families affected by the program.

"No demolition work was done until the buildings were completely evacuated.

"Only three of the proprietors involved in the program were reluctant to conform. In these cases the city did the demolition work itself."

Sixteen other buildings were demolished during 1964 for other reasons, such as making way for road extensions.

These buildings had a total of 42 tenements, of which 14 were in the West Ward, 10 were in the Centre Ward, seven were in the South and East wards, and four were in the North Ward.

By far the largest number of houses demolished (33 out of 52) were in the East Ward. The so-called Lauzon Village torn down last spring, accounts for many of these.

City hall employees get raises

Pay increases retroactive to the beginning of 1964 will give 743 Sherbrooke City Hall employees a total of $228,279, according to a report from city treasurer Olivier Routhier.

The increase is divided as follows:

- 287 employees of the public works, waterworks, sanitation, municipal garage, etc. will be paid sums totaling $66,757.
- 128 employees of the city hall, library, tourism office, as well as janitors etc. will be paid a total of $57,909.
- 128 members of the police department will receive $51,238.
- 116 employees of the gas and electricity departments will receive $29,782.
- 84 members of the fire department will receive a total of $23,493.

Gets month in jail for false cheques

A 20-year-old Coaticook youth was sentenced to one month in prison yesterday for cashing 10 bad cheques totalling $190.

Serge Tremblay was given the sentence, to run following another one-month sentence for car theft.

The cheques were cashed during November and December mostly in Coaticook. The first two cheques were for $5 to $6 but the last two were for $40 and $30.

Three youths, two from Sherbrooke and one from Greenlay near Windsor, escaped from the Bosville Protection Home in Montreal Friday evening.

As of yesterday they have not been found, reports Social Welfare Court clerk Gerard Bessette.

One of them, a 16-year-old youth from Sherbrooke, had been transferred to the Bosville home that day from the St. Valier centre, he says.

He had been sent to the detention home for many breaking-and-entering and car theft offences.

The other two youths, from Sherbrooke and Greenlay, are both aged 17. They had spent several months in the home and had recently returned from a one-week Christmas vacation.

The Sherbrooke youth had been sentenced to the school for 10 breakings and enterings and eight car thefts. The Greenlay youth had been sent to the home for car theft.

LET'S SING OUT — Sherbrooke's finest folk talent, 60 voices in all, will present a folk song hootenanny this Friday, 8 p.m., at Mitchell school, with the proceeds going to the Sherbrooke Hospital 1965 campaign. Sherbrooke High students TO GIVE HOOTENANNY FOR HOSPITAL

Sherbrooke's Mitchell School resembled a section of Greenwich Village last Friday, when local teenage folk artists, complete with twangy guitars, turtle neck sweaters, and ascots, gathered for a dress rehearsal to practice for their hootenanny to be held this Friday at Mitchell School.

The proceeds of the hootenanny are in aid of the 1965 Sherbrooke Hospital financial campaign, said Allan Fraser, emcee of the show, also one of the performers, and a student at Sherbrooke High.

"The 60 teenagers who will appear in the show this Friday night are all local teenagers," said Allan.

"Most of them are from Sherbrooke High," he pointed out.

On the program for folk fans are the Bak Trio; the Folk 84 (pronounced eight minus four) the Sherbrooke High Folk Club; Juanda and Sue; and Denise and Karolyn.

The hootenanny is presented as Sherbrooke High's annual presentation, said Allan.

"Last year the school presented an operetta, this year it's a hootenanny," said the young emcee.

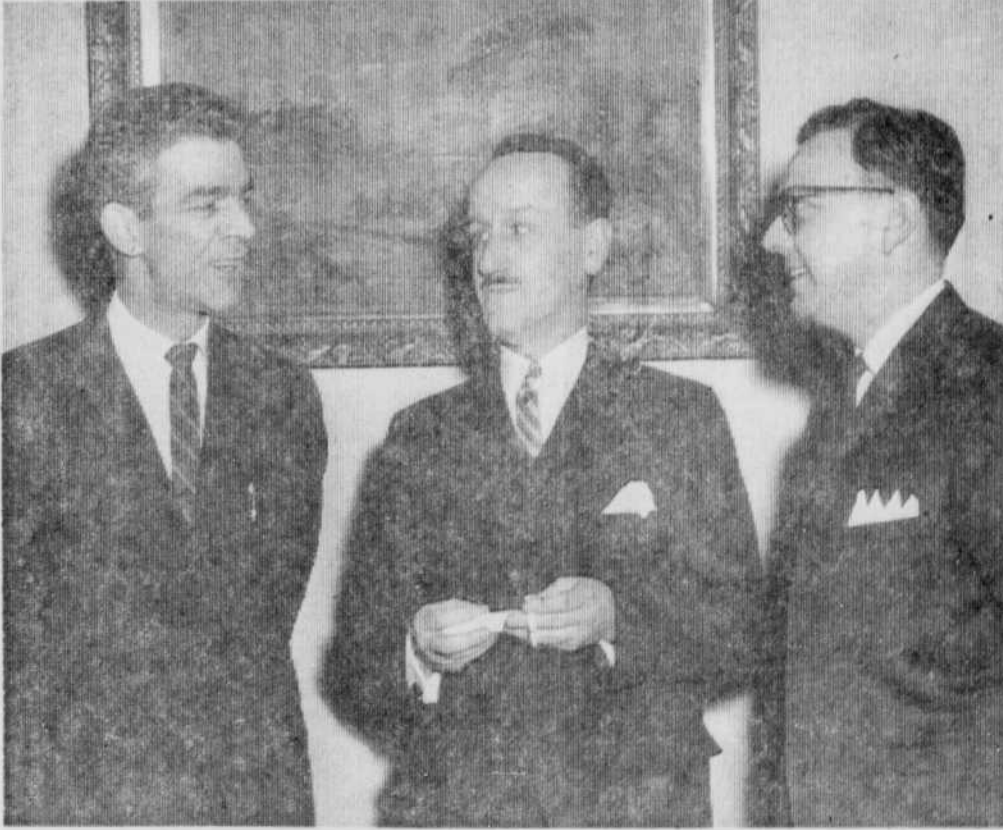

The show is under the auspices of the Sherbrooke High School music department. The director of the music department, Morris Austin, is the advisor to the group.

"We were having a milkshake downtown, when I and a few of my friends decided to get together with our guitars. Things got rolling, and here we are," Allan said.

"On Friday night at 8 p.m. Sherbrooke can hear the best local folk talent," he said.

"The tickets are moving fast so anyone who wants to come had better get there soon."

The teenage performers expect an audience of about 500 for the one night stand 90 minutes with about 50 ethnics, songs, and three or four guitars.

Construction permits below 1963 level

Permits for construction valued at $16,079,440 were issued in Sherbrooke during 1963, below the record level established in 1963.

Permits for $22,263,040 in construction were issued in 1963. However, the 1964 total is substantially higher than the 1962 and 1961 amounts. In 1962 $13,381,960 in building was approved. In 1961 $8,200,995 was approved.

The figures were given in the 1964 building report presented by building inspector Aime Gagnon to city council last night.

By far the biggest month for building permits was October, both last year and in 1963, the report shows. In October 1964 $4,103,750 in building was approved while in 1963 $5,625,630 was approved.

The next highest months in 1964 were February, when permits for $1,797,200 were issued, and June, when permits for $1,769,400 were issued.

For 1964, 433 residential permits were issued for $7,498,950 in building; 52 commercial permits were issued for $3,221,270; four education permits were issued for $2,091,000 in building; five religious permits were issued for $1,799,900; seven industrial permits were issued for $790,000; and 596 miscellaneous permits were issued for $678,320 in building.

In residential construction value the North Ward led, followed by the East and West wards. In the North Ward 132 permits for $2,951,000 were issued. In the East 184 permits for $2,357,750 in building; in the West Ward 112 permits for $2,128,200 were issued; while in the centre five permits for $62,000 in residential construction were issued.

Over two-thirds of commercial construction investment was made in the West Ward. Here 16 permits for $2,269,320 were approved. Total for the other wards is as follows: North, 16 permits for $572,450; East, 11 permits for $214,000; South, seven permits for $110,500; and Centre, two permits for $55,000.

The West Ward also was the location for six out of seven construction projects during 1964. Permits were issued for $763,000 there. The sole other permit was a $27,000 one, granted for the East Ward.

The West Ward also racked up the only large total for educational permits. It had two permits for $7,000,000 in construction, while two small permits for $82,000 were also granted in the North Ward.

The largest total for religious permits fell to the East Ward. It had one permit for $1,000,000; while the West had one for $577,000; the North had two for $202,900; and the Centre had one for $20,000.

In the miscellaneous permits class the East Ward led with 192 permits for $209,095 in building; followed by the North with 149 permits for $197,925; the West with 191 permits for $184,725; the South

Members of a temporary regional Protestant school board, forerunner of an Eastern Townships Regional School Board, were named at a meeting in Sherbrooke last night.

Representatives of the five regions of the board attended the meeting held in Mitchell school.

The regional school board has been created on a technically temporary basis because of legal delays which necessitate a two-month delay before the official board can be formed.

The nine members of the temporary board are as follows:

Sherbrooke, one member, Lorne Campbell, elected chairman of the board later in the evening.

Lennoxville, one member Keith Cathcart;

Stanstead, two members, C. H. Aikman, elected secretary of the temporary regional board, and H. Brookhouse;

Richmond-Danville-Asbestos, two members, T. Sweeney and S. Brigham;

Compton, two members, Don MacMillan, and E. Fidler;

Sherbrooke and Lennoxville, one member, K. Jackson.

Creation of the temporary board will speed up work two months earlier, Frank Heath, advisor in school organization for the department of education, told the Record.

The permanent regional school board will be created by the provincial government in March.

No elections were necessary as the nomination made by school commissioners representing various regions within the regional board were not contested.

Work was started by the temporary board last night on the formation of a regional planning committee, a group that will make a detailed study of the region and its school facilities.

The planning committee will be composed of approximately 20 people, a cross section of society, said George Rothney, an inspector of schools in the St. Francis District, and an advisor to the regional board.

The regional board decided last night that the planning committee is to be composed of school administrators, teachers, members of the home and school association, the government employment service, representatives of manufacturing and industry, and other social groups.

The regional planning committee will make suggestions to the regional school board.

All but one school board in seven counties, the Hereford school board, are represented by the nine man ET regional school board.

The counties of Richmond, Drummond, Arthabaska, Wolfe, Stanstead, Compton and Frontenac are represented by the regional board.

Hereford has not officially notified the ET regional board that it will join, said Mr. Rothney. But he added that the Hereford board is very interested in the ET Regional School Board.

The name, Eastern Townships Regional School Board, was adopted by a unanimous decision, by the school commissioners present at last night's meeting.

The name, Eastern Townships Regional School Board, was adopted in December, and the name St. Francis Valley Protestant School Board was adopted, because it was noted that the Eastern Townships cover a larger area than is represented by the board.

The name was adopted by those present last night at the suggestion of George Rothney who said that the name Eastern Townships would be representative of the group. He said that this group takes in more of the Eastern Townships than any other regional school board.

Holdup suspect arrested

ASBESTOS — (Staff) — Provincial police in Montreal yesterday arrested a 22-year-old Kinsley Falls man, prime suspect in a gas station robbery which took place in this town last week.

The suspect was to have been transferred to the custody of Asbestos Municipal police this afternoon, Asbestos Municipal Police Chief Adrien Larribee told the Record this morning.

Chief Larribee said he would interrogate the suspect this afternoon, and that detailed information on further proceedings in the case should be available tomorrow morning.

Early last Thursday, a youth robbed an Asbestos all-night gas station of $50.

Pollution causing water shortages

Water, water everywhere, but it's becoming difficult to find some to drink.

That, to borrow part of a phrase from the Rime of the Ancient Mariner, is a rough picture of the water situation in the Eastern Townships.

We live in a part of Canada blessed with abundant natural waterways — both lakes and rivers. Yet, one by one, Eastern Townships communities are being forced to take steps to procure new and pure sources of water.

In most cases, the root of the problem is water pollution.

Easily accessible sources have become so badly polluted that they cannot be used for public water supply.

Sherbrooke has been forced to construct a 20-mile pipeline from Lake Memphremagog to the city, despite the fact we are situated at the confluence of two great rivers, the Magog and the St. Francis. But both rivers are so saturated with pollutants that they are useless as supply sources.

Now Waterville is contemplating a pipeline from Lake Massawippi to take care of its needs. Present sources are inadequate for both present and future needs. Nearer sources are polluted.

Sutton has had water problems.

Waterloo has experienced shortages.

Granby has been wrestling with the problem for some time.

Other communities are viewing the future with alarm.

The burgeoning growth of the Eastern Townships region in general has triggered the present situation. Small, spring-fed systems in many communities can simply no longer keep up with the demand.

But the population increase is not the cause of the water famine in the midst of plenty. Pollution is at the root of the problem. And we — the residents of the Eastern Townships who have allowed industrial, municipal and private waste to turn once pure waterways into foul dumps — are the villains of the piece.

We are now beginning to reap the harvest of several generations of neglect and short-sightedness.

The situation, in time, can be remedied. Spearheaded by the comparatively new Quebec Water Board, the provincial government has been engaged for the past few years in an anti-pollution campaign.

The first consideration, so far as Eastern Townships residents are concerned, is to make sure that those natural sources of water that are still pure enough for public consumption are kept that way.

The other need is the gradual cleaning up of those rivers and lakes that are polluted (where this is possible) and their retention in a pure state.

The attack is a multi-pronged one, ranging from the construction of municipal sewage disposal facilities to preventing waste from private summer cottages from being emptied into lakes and rivers. In this kind of approach, everyone must be made aware of the importance of its success.

In the past, extensive publicity and educational programs don't appear to have been effective. Perhaps now that very real water shortages stare so many ET communities in the face, the emergency nature of the situation will become more firmly impressed upon the public.

Plan is beautiful but very weak

Comfortably lolling in his armchair at St. Paul, Minn., one Warren E. Brant has evolved his own proposals to assure that what remains of English-speaking Canada be provided with a connecting link in the event that Quebec secedes from Confederation.

Even if one were prepared to adopt Mr. Brant's belief that Quebec will secede, which we do not, there are many other points in his proposals that indicate he is none-too-familiar with conditions in this country.

The basis of his plan is that a new province, to be known as Trans-Sylvania be created, which would include the Eastern Townships. Through this new province would run the railways and highways connecting Ontario with New Brunswick, thus assuring that English-speaking Canada remain one land.

Trouble is that virtually the entire area he envisages for the new province is predominantly French-speaking, even in the Eastern Townships. Despite its many English-sounding names, six of the 12 E. T. counties contain virtually no English and in the other six the proportion runs from barely 50 per cent in Brome to ten per cent in Shefford.

To compensate Quebec for its loss of Trans-Sylvanian territory, Mr. Brant would give that province a substantial slice of land on her Labrador boundary with Newfoundland.

Even if Premier Lesage were willing to accept the exchange, there is an individual in St. John's, Newfoundland, by the name of Joey Smallwood who might have something to say about the deal.

Mr. Smallwood has never been known as a Quebec appeaser and his actions in recent months make it apparent that something more than moral suasion would have to be applied if he were to yield any of his prized Labrador territory to a secessionist government of Quebec.

After all, Premier Smallwood won his greatest fame by bringing Newfoundland into Confederation, not for favoring the Balkanization of the continent.

Of course, there is one strong talking point for the Brant plan.

Sherbrooke might become the capital of Trans-Sylvania.

Japanese males losing domination

Japan, where a woman once walked three paces behind her all-powerful husband, apparently has been taken over by the weaker sex if the results of a recent survey of Japanese family behavior means anything.

The report of the survey, just published, reveals that 92 per cent of all Japanese husbands let their wives decide on all purchases over $15.

And, of the sorrow of the down-trodden North American men who are thinking of emigrating to Nippon as one of the last outposts of male domination, 85 per cent of the Japanese men shine their own shoes, 82 per cent cook their own breakfast, 75 per cent give prior notice when they intend to stay out late, 74 per cent take care of the children on Sunday when their wives shop and visit, 70 per cent turn over their entire paychecks and more than 50 per cent admit they are afraid of their wives.

For what it may be worth, it is interesting to note that the changes, more sweeping in the cities than in rural areas, have all occurred in the years since the American occupation.

But Japanese observers are not too inclined to say the Americans have been to blame for the changed picture of Nippon's domestic life.

One Tokyo commentator declares that Japan as a land where men were truly masters has been a myth all along. Maybe the real reason Japanese wives walk three paces behind their husbands, he said, was because the men were afraid to face them.

The Father of Confederation, ridiculed in life, honored now

Yesterday marked the 150th anniversary of the birth date of Sir John A. Macdonald, Father of Confederation and first Prime Minister of Canada. In the following special article, former Prime Minister John Diefenbaker, who has many times described Sir John as his ideal as a public man, discusses Sir John's perspective in the light of history.

(Written for Toronto Telegram News Service, Copyright 1964)

Sir John A. Macdonald, as has been the experience of other national leaders, condemned and ridiculed in his lifetime by political opponents, has in the light and perspective of history become a legendary figure and revered statesman.

His parents were driven out of Sutherlandshire, Scotland, in 1812 and went to Glasgow where he was born in most humble circumstances. After five years the family migrated to Canada, settling in Kingston. If I may be permitted to make a personal observation, my maternal great great grandparents whose home was some 15 miles from the Macdonald home in Lairk, were evicted at the same time and migrated to the Red River settlement under Lord Selkirk.

Macdonald has described himself in this way: "I had no boyhood. From the age of 15 I had to earn my own living."

Although limited by lack of formal education he decided to become a lawyer and after his call to the bar made an immediate reputation as counsel for the defence. He became interested in public life in his early twenties and became a councillor in Kingston and at 29 a member of parliament.

Thus began the service to his country of Macdonald, the father of his country and a politician and statesman of the first magnitude.

He was member of parliament for 47 years. He was Premier and Prime Minister for 29 years. He experienced the vicissitudes of public life. He had his victories and defeats. When he went into opposition in 1873 there were many who predicted that he would never lead his nation again. As with Sir Winston Churchill so with Macdonald. He was unbowed in defeat or adversity and resolute when political disaster seemed to have engulfed him.

Sir John followed his principles and the people followed him again in 1878 and for 13 years thereafter.

It was his genius that, with the cooperation of Sir Georges Cartier and others, made Confederation a reality. It was his determination to assure that Canada should extend as an independent nation from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

It was Sir John who moulded the form of our nation and in its early years taught Canadians to walk upright in pride and confidence when many were preaching the doctrines of separation or annexation to the United States.

Magnetic in personality, courageous in his adherence to principle, Macdonald inspired great affections and even greater hatreds. He was prone to refer to himself as ugly in appearance and this fact made him the joy of cartoonists. His shortcomings were given the widest of publicity. He met opprobrium with Lincolnesque wit and humour. It has been said that "warts appropriate for a giant would deface a baby." He knew that history proves that the faults and shortcomings of great men are often more attractive than the negative virtues of their critics.

Sir John possessed a fascinating personality. He was a simple man, rich in human sympathy and understanding. He trusted the people for he was a man of the people. He possessed — in unchallenged measure statesmanship marked by vision.

The horizons of his insight into the future viewed in the common cause with Great Britain voluntarily against her enemies. It is significant too that he referred to Queen Victoria as Queen of Canada. Sir John's national policies have their monuments even today to the present. He pressed for national development. His policies of railway expansion joined Canada from the Atlantic to the Pacific. In his social policies he was, to use his own words, of the progressive conservative philosophy.

As an example, it was Macdonald who years in advance of his time in 1872 legalized trade unions. And so I might continue if space permitted today almost 75 years since his death he looms larger perspective of today were almost limitless. Indeed he seemed to be in the Scottish expression, "More than a wee bit fey." He believed in the equality of the basic races and the BNA act was largely his handiwork. He believed in an independent Canada associated in partnership with the United Kingdom and other countries in the Empire beyond the seas. He was the first among statesmen of the British Empire to give utterance to the concept of the Commonwealth of British Nations. He vigorously asserted that Canada should have the right to act as an independent nation along with Australia, New Zealand and other nations yet to be formed — that Canada and these nations should be co-equals with the Mother country bound together by a common allegiance to the Crown.

It was Macdonald who, in the face of strong opposition at home and abroad, inaugurated the system of High Commissioners to the United Kingdom. The Statute of Westminster which was passed 40 years after his death embodies many of the ideas for which he stood in his day. He foresaw that Canada and other nations within the British family, though free to do otherwise, would make common cause with Great Britain voluntarily against her enemies.

It is significant too that he referred to Queen Victoria as Queen of Canada.

Sir John's national policies have their monuments even today to the present. He pressed for national development. His policies of railway expansion joined Canada from the Atlantic to the Pacific. In his social policies he was, to use his own words, of the progressive conservative philosophy.

As an example, it was Macdonald who years in advance of his time in 1872 legalized trade unions. And so I might continue if space permitted today almost 75 years since his death he looms larger

Gerald Waring REPORTING

OTTAWA — Had Lord Alington's daughter not married Lieutenant Commander Marten, there might not have been anyone in Cricheil Down with enough resolution to stand up to the Agricultural Land Commissioners when the time came to do so.

And in that event the extraordinary chain of circumstances that now involves the Canadian government and Prime Minister Pearson might never have occurred.

It all started in 1937 when 725 acres of farmland at Cricheil Down in Dorset were condemned to the Crown for use as an RAF bombing range — of which 328 acres were owned by His Lordship. In 1949 the range was declared surplus to defence requirements, and was transferred to the Agricultural Land Commission for use or disposition.

A number of Cricheil Down farmers, including Comdr. Marten as steward of his wife's estate — Lord Alington having died — requested, and were promised, that the land would be put up for tender on a rental basis. Then, despite this undertaking the commission decided to have the land farmed as a unit.

Comdr. Marten was more than annoyed; he was downright angry. He protested to MPs. He wrote the minister. He got up a petition. He went to London to see the minister — and the upshot was a public inquiry that vindicated Marten in his position, and strongly criticized the arbitrary, underhanded and irresponsible actions of a good many bureaucrats.

This expose of the Land Commission left such a smell that a year later the Eden government decided it might be prudent to take a good hard look at the ways that all of its administrative tribunals were carrying out their responsibilities. It appointed a committee of 16 headed by Sir Oliver Franks to make this study.

The committee's report in 1957 made many recommendations, but none more important than that dealing with appeal. For the protection of the subject's right to redress from arbitrary and unjust rulings by tribunals that were laws unto themselves, the committee urged establishment of an overall appellate tribunal, from which a further appeal would lie to the courts on points of law.

This hits home in Ottawa, where MPs and others have long criticized an identical lack of appeal from Canadian tribunals to any higher authority save the minister.

Then the Glasse royal commission on government organization, appointed in 1960 by the Diefenbaker government, looked into the operations of our administrative tribunals like the Tax Appeal Board, the Board of Transport Commissioners, the Tariff Board and the Immigration Appeal Board.

Probing with full knowledge of the Cricheil Down and Franks inquiries, the commissioners recommended that the government launch a full-blown inquiry into our quasi-judicial organs of government.

"We are considering," Prime Minister Pearson said on December 31, "the recommendations of the Glasse commission dealing with the procedures of adjudicative boards . . . A special study is going to be made . . . to bring about uniformity . . . both in regard to how they function and the nature of appeals from their rulings."

When you throw a stone into a still pond, concentric wavelets spread ever outward. Cricheil Down was that stone — and Commander Marten threw it.

TODAY IN HISTORY

Amelia Earhart, a U.S. woman aviation pioneer, set a record of 18 hours, 16 minutes for the 2,400-mile solo flight from Hawaii to California 30 years ago today—in 1935. Born in 1898, she learned to fly against the wishes of her family and later achieved fame as the first woman to cross the Atlantic by air—as a passenger in a flight from Newfoundland to Wales in 1928. During the First World War she served as a military nurse in Canada.

She died attempting a round-the-world flight in 1937 when her plane vanished in the South Pacific. 1955—Canada and Japan signed an agreement on trans-Pacific air routes.

Briefs on education sought by committee on district planning

SUTTON — The planning committee for the study, development and presentation of plans for the Protestant Composite Regional High School for the judicial district of Bedford invites suggestions, submissions or briefs which deal with educational developments within the district, it has been announced.

The Planning Committee for the study, development and presentation of plans for the Protestant Composite Regional High School for the Judicial District of Bedford has four active sub-committees in operation. The work of two of these is virtually complete, said D. A. Brown, secretary.

The sub-committee on pupil population reports that their estimates establish that 1874 students are expected to be enrolled in grades seven to eleven in the District for the year 1967-68, and by the 1971-72 school year there will be an estimated student population of 1848 at the same level.

The further breakdown of requirements for academic, commercial and vocational facilities is under way, Mr. Brown said.

"An ambitious, objective and progressive philosophy has been prepared for submission to the regional board and school administrators, on which to build the policy of the new school," he said.

"Our committee will welcome any suggestions, submissions or briefs which deal with the development of the new educational unit for the District of Bedford, which responsible and representative groups, within the districts Municipalities, wish to submit for the committee's study and consideration."

Canadian supper planned

COWANSVILLE — (Staff) — The students section of the Columbian Club of the Knights of Columbus will sponsor a Canadian Supper, January 16.

The supper will begin at 6:30 p.m. and be served until 8 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall, on Christophe Colomb Street.

The supper and following dance is open to club members and their friends. The age range is 15 to 20 years. The club comprises of some 125 English and French speaking members.

There are also activities for the youth at the hall on Sunday afternoons. It is hoped that in the near future a sleigh ride will be organized and a regular broomball court set up in the hall, said Marcel Paquette, Knights of Columbus member and chief organizer of these activities.

Kiwanis president ski-does and golfs

WATERLOO — (Special) Meet the new president of Waterloo Kiwanis Club, Jean-Claude Remy.

As the picture shown below proves, he has one winter hobby, that is ski-doing.

He and his pretty wife, the former Raymonde Dupont, like nothing better than to get out on the fields or side roads on a sunny day and zoom over the snow on their ski-doo.

When ski-doing is past Mr. Remy takes to the golf links in his spare time.

Claude Remy is practically a new comer to Waterloo. He arrived in May, 1962 and settled in his own business Remy Automobile Limited. The automotive field was always his line of business.

Born in Verdun in 1925, Claude was educated at the Ecole Supérieur Richard in the city. On graduating he joined the Canadian Army in 1943. He was attached to the R.C.E.M.E. He was discharged in 1946, as a sergeant. The young man continued in the automobile business in which he was experienced. This eventually brought him to Waterloo.

Mr. and Mrs. Remy have one son, Jean Claude Junior.

The new president of Waterloo Kiwanis Club, likes to meet people. With these assets he carries on the achievements of the service club with its motto "We build."

Record number of permits given for homes

GRANBY — (Special) — The office of technical services for the city of Granby issued 18 permits for construction and the repairs valued at $127,000 during the month of December, 1964 it was learned. Nine permits were issued for the construction of new homes at a cost of $104,500 thus making a record for construction of houses since 1960.

Eugene Brodeur, building inspector for the city has given this report: 15 houses in 1954; one family dwelling in 1955; four houses giving five dwellings in 1958; one house in 1959; one house in 1960; 10 houses, giving 11 dwellings in 1961; four houses giving four dwellings in 1962; three houses in 1963; two houses giving two dwellings in 1964; nine houses in 1964.

One permit was given for a commercial business amounting to $12,000 for a gas station. The value of the permits for repairs amounted to $7,500.

Warden missionary home on furlough

By ALICE BUCKLAND (Record correspondent)

WATERLOO — Brother Andrew Lucas of the Order of Marist Brothers is home on a month's furlough from Rhodesia. He is making his headquarters with his sister, Mrs. Antheim Ares in Warden and visiting the numerous members of his family. Brother Andrew, 43 years old, has been stationed in Rhodesia since September, 1948. He belongs to this part of the Townships and has served in the mission fields for many years.

Brother Andrew was born in Rimouski, one of the large family of Joseph Lucas. The family came to Warden Heights on a farm when he was a baby. During depression years the father lost his farm and after some hardships, he and his sons built the house still belonging to the family.

The boy, Andrew showed talent and was educated for a teacher by the Marist Brothers in Ibergville. There are three of these orders in the Province of Quebec, Ibergville, Levis and Lake St. John.

When talking to Brother Andrew, it is hard to believe his mother tongue and all his instructions were in French. He speaks English with only a slight accent.

English is the official language of Africa. The boys in the boarding schools are taught English at once and from grade four the classes are completely in English. The secondary school where Brother Andrew teaches the tests are set at Cambridge and sent back to England to be corrected.

The slides and snapshots Brother Andrew brought back show a very modern school with classrooms comparing to the best schools here. The buildings are one - storey and spread over an area. It is cooler, with greater air circulation in this type of architecture, said Brother Andrew. A new section has just been completed.

Brother Andrew told of many experiences he had. One frightening incident was when he was picking ripe oranges off the tree. His helper called out "Don't touch, brother, there is a serpent!"

Still, he couldn't see the reptile, only the dark branches. As he reached out again, he just missed being struck by one of the "branches" a poisonous snake curled around the tree.

He told of meeting Father Paul Emile Jolin of Waterloo, who is in Nyasaland, now called Malawi.

Souvenirs he brought for his sister included a handsome carved ebony elephant with ivory tusks and baskets, hand woven of reed and sisal, the latter product taken from a plant resembling a cactus and used in the manufacture of rope.

His boxes of colored slides were the most interesting of all.

It was not always as up-to-date and convenient at this school in Que Que. (The name is sounded like Kwa Kwa). Four Marist Brothers first came here in 1939, bought land and built. They started right in the bush, cleared land, made their own brick and put up everything themselves, with the help of African workers who built the walls. The brothers did their own electrical work and put on the roof.

St. Joseph's College opened in 1953 with two teachers and 11 pupils. The games of cricket and soccer proved to be a great drawing card for the boys at first. Thirty pupils were enrolled by the end of the year. Today there are 200 boarders and 11 brothers on the staff. Ninety-five per cent population of Africa is receiving education, said Brother Andrew.

Brother Andrew speaks of the natives as "the coloureds". "This class has not enough money to send many boys to school, in spite of the extremely low board, 25 English pounds a term (about $75.), no tuition is charged. Sons of Indian business men fill in the numbers. Thirty European boys are enrolled for 1965," he said.

Que Que is an industrial and mining town. One of Africa's oldest gold mines, employing 2,000 men is located here. Iron and steel are main industries. "Men from India in business have the money to send their boys to a good boarding school," said Brother Andrew.

It was interesting to learn about the climate and type of land in Rhodesia. Brother Andrew says it is not too hot at his location — semi - tropical weather with cool nights. The cold season is from May to July, with the hottest weather in October and November. The teachers wear white cassocks all the time, except when working on the land. Good roads showed up in his photos with cultivated land and a background of mountains.

St. Joseph's College has its own farm, cattle and vegetable gardens. They make their own butter and even ice cream, about two gallons a day which they sell at their tuck shop.

2 years for jail blaze

SWEETSBURG WARD — which is separated only by a Montreal man who has made many appearances in the local Court of Sessions on a wide variety of charges recently appeared yesterday for his final sentencing. He was originally to have appeared before the Court of Criminal Assizes but his case was advanced to Monday.

Roland Mainville was sentenced to two years in penitentiary, to be served concurrently with all other sentences recently received. Judge Patrick Delaney pronounced sentence.

By JAMES McALLISTER (Record staff reporter)

Mainville was sentenced on three charges this week; attempting to set a fire, setting a fire and committing public mischief.

The charges arose from an occurrence at the Sweetsburg jail on October 25, 1964. Mainville 32, of 352 Levesque Boulevard, Montreal pleaded guilty to setting a fire in the prisoner's clothing store-room at 10.15 a.m. on Sunday, October 25. Officials of the jail said it was caused by a cigarette thrown into the store-room. They said the cigarette was thrown in by Mainville from the adjoining washroom, which is separated only by bars. The fire, it was proved, was set for the purpose of escape. An estimated $3,000 damages were caused to the building and apparel, during the blaze, said court officials and it was necessary to evacuate prisoners from one side of the prison to municipal police cells in Cowansville because of the smoke.

Eight appear on liquor charges

SWEETSBURG — Eight persons appeared in Sweetsburg court Monday morning on a variety of liquor law offences. Four were sentenced, two cases were postponed and two persons pleaded not guilty.

Maurice Langier of Hotel Marjolaine, Eastman pleaded guilty to selling liquor after hours and was sentenced to a fine of $200. In default of payment three months in prison.

Roland Veilleux of Restaurant Bluebird, of Farnham pleaded guilty to selling liquor other than that specified in his permit.

He was sentenced to a fine of $200 and costs. Mrs. Aurele Bilodeau pleaded not guilty to a liquor law offence which she is accused of committing at her Brome Hotel, Brome, Quebec and her case was postponed until February 1.

Hotel in Farnham was sentenced to a fine of $100 when he pleaded guilty to a charge of selling to minors.

Guy Brossard of Venice pleaded not guilty to a charge of selling on Sunday without meals at his Hotel Savoie. His trial was set for February 1.

L. Daniel of Yamaska Hotel, in Cowansville pleaded guilty to selling to minors. He was sentenced to a fine of $100 and costs.

Mrs. Georgette Circe of Venice, proprietor of the Latin Quarter, pleaded guilty through her husband. As she was the licence holder, however, the court would not accept the plea of her husband and her case was postponed until a later date.

Roger Gladu pleaded not guilty to a liquor law offence and his case was postponed to March 8.

VAGABOND — A man appearing in the local court of Sessions Monday, and whose last known address was given as Sherbrooke, was pronounced a vagabond and was sentenced to 15 days in jail.

It was learned that Joseph Lucien Gaudreau had a long record of previous offences, involving loitering, drunkenness and disturbing the peace.

The vagabond charge was laid when he was arrested in Roxton Falls for loitering in various doorways in the village late at night.

A second man appearing on the same charge, that of loitering in doorways, pleaded guilty to the charge with explanations. His explanations were quelled and he, Emile Doyon of Notre Dame de Paix, was sentenced to 15 days.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plates dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little PASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "false odor breath". Get PASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

Yule services at Scotstown

SCOTSTOWN — The Christmas Sunday morning service of St. Andrew's United Church was conducted by Stanley Beerworth of Coaticook. The organist, Mrs. J. B. Scott, played beautiful selections of Christmas music. Carols were sung and three Christmas stories were told. Miss Mary Gaulin rendered the hymn, I Heard the Bells of Christmas.

The Christmas communion service at St. Alban's Anglican Church, conducted by Rev. W. Walker, was well attended by congregation members and out-of-town visitors. C. Sanders, of Montreal, was organist and a large choir added to the enjoyment of the Christmas carols. The beautiful cut flowers on the altar were in memory of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Pope, placed there by their family.

Rev. E. Hale conducted the Christmas Sunday service at St. Barnabas Anglican Church Lake Megantic.

Upwards of seventy children and their mothers of the three Protestant churches were entertained at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church Hall where they enjoyed a Christmas party, playing games, singing carols and listening to the Christmas Story told by Rev. R. Bhe. Refreshments were served and the arrival of Santa Claus, with gifts and candy for each child, brought the party to a close.

Special Christmas services were held in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church with Rev. Robert Bhe officiating. Christmas music was played by Mrs. Maurice Auray at the organ. The Sunday School pupils took special parts in the morning service. In the evening all enjoyed the carol service.

For and about Women

Annual Meeting

U.C.W. officers elected

The annual meeting of the Lennoxville United Church Women took place recently with the president, Mrs. S. Rowe, in the chair. A short service of worship on the theme, A Light to Lighten the Gentiles, was conducted by Miss E. Bassett. This was followed by an interesting program on Brasilia, the new capital of Brazil, presented by Mrs. A. B. Lovelace. In her illustrated talk, Mrs. Lovelace gave the members glimpses of the great contrast between the elaborate architecture of the capital and the slum-dwellings of the surrounding countryside.

Various items of business were dealt with, including the distribution of funds raised throughout the year. Reports of the year's activities were given by the five Unit Leaders and the chairmen of standing committees. These include the following money-raising projects: A Family Square Dance, a Strawberry Social and Band Concert, Harvest Tea and Sale, rummage sales, a Sugar-on-Snow Social, Musicales and Tea, catering for various functions etc. The U.C.W. as a whole sponsored the Silver Tea, the Spring Thrift Sale, and the very successful Christmas Bazaar.

Community and social services also played an important part in the year's activities; sales of used clothing were sent to church headquarters; volunteers provided for the Cancer Dressings Clinic; gifts of money and food, made to needy families; and a contribution sent to the Canadian Save-the-Children Fund.

U.C.W. members were responsible for several functions within the church. Supper was served to youth leaders and the choir, and refreshments at various congregational gatherings.

A special evening service was conducted by the president and members of the executive, and the Christian education committee sponsored training sessions for Sunday School teachers and other leaders. Delegates from the Lennoxville group attended several Presbyterian rallies and the United Church Summer School for Women.

Among the interesting programs presented at both the monthly Unit meetings and the general meetings, were an illustrated talk on an Indian Mission; a number of excellent slides of a trip to the Holy Land; discussions on Christian citizenship, stewardship, etc.; a Hobby Show, musical programs and many others. Short but carefully-planned services of worship on various timely themes opened each meeting.

Many other activities were included in the reports given, the president concluding by expressing thanks to the members for their co-operation during the year.

Rev. A. B. Lovelace took the chair for the election of officers for 1965. Mrs. G. Bryant, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the following slate, which was accepted unanimously: Past president, Mrs. S. Rowe; president, Mrs. A. B. Lovelace; vice-president, Mrs. N. Flint; recording secretary, Mrs. F. Ross; treasurer, Mrs. D. Baldwin.

Chairmen of standing committees are as follows: Citizenship and social action, Mrs. F. Hicks, Christian Education etc., Mrs. E. Warner and Mrs. J. Williams; finance, Mrs. D. Baldwin, flowers, Mrs. N. Smith and Mrs. G. Bird, membership, Mrs. A. Hodgman, press and publicity, Mrs. H. McLeod, program, Miss E. Bassett, social functions, Mrs. S. Snow and Mrs. W. J. Fuller; stewardship and recruiting, Mrs. T. A. Judson, supply and social welfare, Mrs. K. Baldwin and Mrs. W. Van Horn, literature, Miss F. McCurdy, manse, Mrs. D. Hadlock.

Following a vote of thanks to the outgoing executive, Mrs. Lovelace took the chair and dealt briefly with new business, including the 1965 budget. Members were reminded of the Induction Service for U.C.W. officers, which was held at the evening service on Jan. 10, and of the congregational meeting on Jan. 25. After adjournment, refreshments were served by the members of Unit 2.

Personal

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. William Peak, of Hamilton, Ont., will be pleased to learn that they are progressing favorably following a car accident. Mr. Peak has been released from hospital, Mrs. Peak's injuries necessitating a longer stay.

Marriage

FARER — IGNATIEFF
TORONTO — On Saturday December 26, 1964, in the Russian Orthodox Cathedral, Toronto, Ont., with Rev. B. Brightling and Father John Diachina, officiating, the marriage took place of Mika, only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Dladimir Ignatieff, of Rome, Italy and of Beechmore, Richmond, Que., to Tom Joel, only son of Dr. and Mrs. Louis Farer, of Manchester, N.H.

Today's recipe

Robert Carrier is food editor of the London Sunday Times and also of London Vogue. He approaches eating with infectious enthusiasm and likes to cook and entertain in his London home. You would enjoy yourself at his table. He's likeable and experienced, as his particularly fine new book, "Great Dishes of the World" reveals.

Amusingly, this international gourmet (he was born in New England) likes his American meat loaf. "But serve with chilled sour cream, hot curry sauce or red wine sauce à la bordelaise," he advises. "Experiment with different flavor accents. Make your Sunday meat loaf a taste event!"

(For red wine sauce a la bordelaise—use a package of brown gravy mix or a can of brown gravy. Add finely chopped shallots or chives, 2/3 cup red wine and finely chopped parsley. This is our suggestion, not Robert Carrier's.) But this is his recipe for Meat Loaf from his illustrated "Great Dishes of the World."

MEAT LOAF

(Serves 8)
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
1/2 cup finely chopped celery
2 cloves garlic, finely chopped
2 tablespoons olive oil
4 tablespoons butter
2/3 cup red wine
2 to 4 slices bread
1 pound finely-ground raw beef
1/2 pound finely-ground raw veal
1/2 pound finely-ground raw pork
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
Ground allspice
1/2 teaspoon rubbed thyme
2 bay leaves, crushed
2 eggs, well beaten
Tomato or Chili Sauce
Sauté finely-chopped onion, celery and garlic in olive oil and butter until transparent. Add red wine and simmer gently for 5 minutes. Trim crusts from bread; dice; add to wine mixture and pour mixture over ground meats. Mix well and season with salt, pepper, allspice, thyme and bay leaves. The seasoning should be rather sharp. Stir in the beaten eggs and put in a well-greased baking dish, or pat into loaf shape on a greased baking tin or oiled board, and bake in a slow oven (325 degrees). Baste from time to time with a few tablespoons of heated wine. Cooking time: a minimum of 1 hour. Serve with tomato or chili sauce.

Luce - Tetreault wedding

CRANSTON R.I. — The marriage of Lorraine, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John B. Tetreault, of Cranston, R.I., to Mr. Wilfred Luce, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Norman Luce, of Moe's River, took place recently in Cranston.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, John Tetreault, wore a floor length gown of Chantilly lace, with a bouffant skirt and chapel train, the bodice having a scalloped neckline and long sleeves. A rhinestone coronet held her elbow length veil of tulle illusion in place. She carried a bouquet of carnations and lilies-of-the-valley.

Miss Rosemary Tetreault, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Mr. Arthur Tetreault, brother of the bride, acted as best man and the ushers were Mr. Kenneth Luce and Mr. Raymond Luce, brothers of the groom.

Guests attending the wedding and reception in Cranston, were from Moe's River, Coaticook and Connecticut. Mrs. Gertrude Sullivan, wearing a blue silk suit, assisted in receiving the guests.

The couple left on a honeymoon through New England, the bride wearing a light green nylon suit.

Mr. and Mrs. Luce have taken up residence in Moe's River.

Varied designs shown in pants

NEW YORK (AP) — When women wear the pants in the family, men should laugh, believes designer John Weitz. They will, too, if their wives wear the pool-side pants he prescribed at Sunday's fashion press show.

Yellow cowboy suits with chaps of giant red desert flowers, a scaffold jump suit, lustrous fringe pants and a bodice made modest by a single bow were some of the costumes created to get grins if not but-faws.

Weitz, who is the husband of actress Susan Kohner, heartily approved the ancient sport of poking fun at ladies' wardrobes. "A man may roar 'good gawd what's that,' but he is secretly amused at his wife's verve," said Weitz.

His pool-side pants are fringed, ruffled, and puffy with posies. Bare midriff and stretch pants that cling to the strategic spots are bold but not bad.

"Some pants for women are cut so that they look wonderful while she stands, but are awful when she sits down," said Weitz. "Other pants are great at right angles but not vertically."

FINDS THE SECRET?

But Weitz found the secret of good cut in the suits worn by men on scaffolds. These he makes for ladies are brilliant colors worn with fancy shirts that men on scaffolds would never wear.

Romance was the theme of the spring collection by Luis Estevez and there were more heart-shaped necklines than on valentines. Bias-cut dresses that were seamed on the midriff in sunburst fashion skimmed lightly across feminine figures.

Puppets sunny or sad keep kids occupied

Preschool children often feel lonely after all the excitement and attention of Christmas is over, especially if they have older brothers and sisters back at school. They wander aimlessly about the quiet house and complain, "Nobody wants me. Nobody wants to play with me."

On such days your child needs your attention, and he needs you to do things with him. Making puppets is a good project for a mother and child, and is particularly interesting to a lonely, unhappy child. Three and four year-old youngsters are imaginative and creative, and get great excitement out of hunting up items to make them. All a hand puppet needs is a head and clothes; your hand and fingers make its body.

An easy, interesting to practice on is a turn-about puppet. This puppet has been found useful by United Church Sunday school teachers when a child is unhappy in the Sunday school nursery. The puppet has a happy face and a sad face. Sunday School teachers also use it to illustrate a lesson on happiness and sadness. You can show your child how unhappy he looks when he is sad, and how cheery he looks when he is happy.

Here are the things that you will need to make a turn-about puppet:

- puppet head and neck
- puppet dress to cover child's hand while he holds the puppet

Materials you will need:

- large white cotton sock
- cardboard tube about 1 1/2 in diameter and 1 1/2" long

To make the puppet perform, insert first finger and middle finger into its neck, and thumb and small finger through slits in the dress. A puppet makes a wonderful "pretend" friend. A child can make it talk and do many things including playing. Once the child has mastered the turn-about puppet, there are many things that he can use to make puppet heads such as apples, oranges, potatoes, gourds, old tennis balls, plastic bottles with round bottoms etc. He can use buttons, beads, raisins, hard peas, or shelled peanuts for eyes. Corks or bottle caps make good noses. Of course, faces can be crayoned or painted on, but children find it much more fun to use their imaginations. Yarn, string, wood shavings, paper, excelsior, feathers and even macaroni can be used for hair.

Pain in back? you bet!

A doctor in Chicago, an authority on backs and what makes them ache, says housewives suffer from backache more than any other group because they must bear up under tension caused by the "little frictions of everyday life."

How about looking for the things he loses around the house instead of yelling at a busy wife. "What did you do with my slippers?"

How about noticing when his wife seems to have had an unusually trying day, and offering to take the family out to dinner—or at least to help with the dishes?

How about offering to do at least some of the family's errands when he is at home?

He might consider doing the small repair jobs the first time his wife asks him instead of probably wishing the doctor had his wife make him instead of doing those little everyday frictions. Sympathy is fine for an aching back, I'm sure. But I'll bet you're giving a child a back is an occupational disease. "Yes" or "No" answer instead would appreciate a little help of saying, "Go ask your mother around the house even more."

1st female civil engineer in U.S.

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—The U.S. federal government has a shapely blonde who may wind up in charge of a highway construction crew this summer.

She is Judith A. Carlson, first female civil engineer to be employed by the U.S. bureau of public roads.

Her credentials include degrees in mathematics and engineering from Michigan Tech, love of the outdoors and a penchant for detail that has won her plaudits from engineering colleagues.

"Perhaps some day, but I don't think I could ever find enough to do as a home-maker," said the attractive 25-year-old engineer. "I like to be kept busy."

A year of programming work in the computer department of an electrical equipment firm in Arizona convinced Judith she could never be happy chained to a desk.

The roads bureau hired her last June at a starting salary of $7,050 a year and assigned her to its regional office at the New Jersey State capital.

Among other things, she and other federal engineers co-ordinate interstate road planning—from the design through construction stage. Her first few months have been spent largely in brushing up on administrative procedure.

The next phase of the training program has particular appeal for her because of her love of the outdoors. She'll be assigned to Portland, Ore., in the spring to an office which supervises building roads in national parks and forests.

Fashion Tips

NEW YORK — Dull days of winter depressing your fashion spirits? Well, you can look forward to a high-spirited colorful spring.

Spring fashions presented at showings of the New York Couture Group have emphasized the importance of color.

Soft pink tweed spun into a cardigan-jacketed suit or new peach tweed in a lightly fitted suit were shown by Junior Sophisticates for days when the weather is suit-able.

Questions readers ask

Q—Is it true that wine makes blood?
A—That's an old-fashioned myth. No, there is no single food alone that makes blood. But don't let that fact spoil your enjoyment of wine. Just eat an adequate diet, too.

News flashes from around the world

TORONTO (CP)—A study committee of Atomic Energy of Canada Limited has proposed the building of a facility—the most powerful of its kind in the world—for advance reactor research, a spokesman for the federal agency said Monday.

The facility is a particle accelerator called a separated orbit cyclotron which would be used primarily to generate intense beams of neutrons for research that might lead to new nuclear power generators.

It would cost about $65,000,000 to construct, said the spokesman, and about $7,500,000 a year to operate.

This is more than three times the cost of an accelerator recommended to the government by the Canadian Association of Physicists in 1958 and turned down a year later on the ground of economy.

OTTAWA (CP)—A director of the French Canadian Educational Association of Ontario said Monday French Canadians in Ontario want the same educational rights and privileges as those of the English-speaking Protestant minority in Quebec.

Dr. Seraphin Marion of Ottawa, author of several French literary works, told Rotary the Ontario government's plan for compensatory grants to the separate schools was a great victory but still provides nothing for Catholic high schools and colleges.

Dr. Marion criticized those who said unity of language is essential to harmony in the country. Not unity of language

NOW FOG - The Greater Vancouver area, just getting over one spell of bad weather, was greeted by another this week. Fog, seen here covering Lions Gate Bridge over the entrance to the harbor, combined with ice to make traffic hazardous. The fog and ice were to continue into Tuesday. The area is still getting over three weeks of snow and freezing temperatures. (CP Wirephoto)

Daughter of Border couple tours Athens and Holy Land

DERBY LINE - Miss Dolores Begin, daughter of Mrs. Corinne Begin, Derby Line, and the late Mr. Alfred Begin, spent the Yuletide holidays in the Holy Land.

Miss Begin with two teachers left Frankfurt, Germany, on December 12 and returned there on January 12.

Their first stop was in Athens, Greece, where they saw the places of interest in the city which dates back to the 16th century.

Next stop was Beirut, Lebanon, where they proceeded to Dog River and Byblos, the ancient Phoenician city dated at 3000 B.C. They also visited the temple, citadel and ruins by the sea. They drove into the Lebanese mountains and saw the beautiful panorama from the 4,800 foot Baidar Pass. At Baalbeck they saw the temples of Venus, Jupiter, and Bacchus, and the Constantine Arch.

On December 24 the party left Damascus, Syria, the world's oldest continuously inhabited city, by plane for Jerusalem. On Christmas Eve they proceeded to Bethlehem for Mass at the Church of the Nativity.

Christmas Day in the Holy City they visited the Mount of Olives, Church of Pateroster, Chapel of Ascension, Garden of Gethsemane, the Church of All Nations, the site of Rachel's Tomb, the Shepherds' field and the birthplace of Christ. Continuing on they saw the Al Aqsa Mosque, the Wailing Wall of the Jews, the Citadel Tower of David, the site of King Herod's place and walked through the old bazaars.

In the days to follow they saw many more places in the Holy Land, the Way of the Cross and Pilate's palace. They approached Petra, a fantastic city built by the Nabatean Kings 2500 years ago cut out of rose red rock, by horse back.

In Egypt they rode by camel to the great Cheops Pyramid built by 200,000 slaves in 30 years, of enough stone to build a road from New York to San Francisco.

They stopped overnight in Cairo, flew along the Nile River to Luxor, then sailed across the Nile. They then drove to the Valley of the Kings, and visited the Egyptian Museum.

Miss Begin was also fascinated by the costumes and customs of the natives, and describes the people as being friendly and helpful.

A music instructor of the personnel of the United States Air Force in Frankfurt, Miss Begin gave piano recitals at several of the stopover places during the tour.

Four Parishes join in service at Iron Hill

IRON HILL - Four parishes combined at the carol service, which took place at Holy Trinity Church on the evening of Dec. 27.

The special service concluded the observance of the 100th anniversary of this church.

A male choir and organist rendered the carols, in which the congregation joined.

The guest speaker was Rev. Allan Cameron, of Clarenceville.

The ten lessons were read by the following: Gordon Marsh, Kenneth Miller, and Mrs. Matland Johnson, Bromie; Leonard Glover, Maurice Jolley, and Reid Cook, West Bromie; Albert Smith, Sutton Junction; Selwyn Mason, Grant Hall, and Frank Morley, Iron Hill.

Earthquake blamed for landslide

HOPE, B.C. (CP)—Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi says he "concludes" an earthquake caused a gigantic slide that killed four persons near here Saturday.

The minister made further inspections in a helicopter Monday of the cracked mountain and debris-filled valley 110 miles east of Vancouver.

"It looked like some giant stood on top of the mountain and split it with an axe like you would split a block of wood," he said in an interview.

"There is absolutely no reason, other than a quake, for a slide to take place in this area."

Seismologists at the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory in Victoria said two small tremors "in the general area" were detected on their recording equipment, one at 3:56 a.m. and the other at 6:58 a.m. PST.

The slide rumbled through the half-mile-wide valley 10 miles east of here between 4:45 a.m. and 6:30 a.m.

Mr. Gagliardi estimated that 15,000,000 cubic yards of debris filled the valley. He said that was equivalent to about 30,000,000 to 40,000,000 tons of rock, earth and timber.

Searchers have yet to locate the bodies of Dennis Arlitt, 23, and Mary Kalmakoff, 21, both of Pentiction, who were caught in the slide.

Autopsies were performed on two bodies dug from rubble near the east side of the 1 1/2-mile-long slide that covered the southern trans-provincial highway to a depth of up to 400 feet. They showed that Thomas Starчук, 39, of Aldergrove, B.C., was crushed when he was hurled from the cab of his hay truck and that Bernie Lloyd Beck, 27, of Pentiction, B.C., suffocated.

The two still to be uncovered were believed to have climbed into the cab of a tank truck that was stalled by a preliminary slide.

Traffic to interior and Okanagan points is being routed through the Fraser Canyon section of the Trans-Canada Highway.

The incident occurred at Roxton Pond. He, it was learned, also had a long record of similar offences, including drunkenness.

FALSE CHEQUES

Francois Mainville of Granby pleaded guilty to cashing a number of false cheques in the city under another's name. His sentence was adjourned until next Monday.

The cheques were signed with the name Maurice Lapointe, of Granby and were cashed at a caisse populaire there.

He also pleaded guilty to theft of two cartons of cigarettes and a small radio, valued at $20. He has been in jail since his arrest January 5.

ASSAULT

Victor Plante 55, of Valcourt was found guilty of assault upon a fellow car driver and was sentenced to a fine of $50 and costs.

The incident arose from an auto accident which had occurred weeks before and the insurance was too slow in sending in final payments to satisfy the other driver, whose name was not mentioned, so Plante listened to his arguing as long as he could and then decided to seal matters with a right to the nose.

He was taken to court on a charge of assault, with the other man saying he had a broken nose.

The judge decided that since Plante was the most injured in the car accident both men were now about even.

CASE POSTPONED

Claude Auclair of Granby pleaded not guilty to a charge of damaging property and to another of disturbing the peace in a Granby Hotel on January 2 and his case was postponed until next week.

He was accused of causing $136 damages to the hotel grill.

Andre Auclair of Granby pleaded not guilty to two charges involving the damaging of property in the Roxton Pond Hotel on January 2. His trial was adjourned until next Monday.

Highland band goes civilian

Former members of the 24th RCME Squadron Pipe Band were reformed into a civilian unit at a meeting held last evening at the William Street Armory.

The band will now be known as the Eastern Townships Highland Band. Officers elected at last night's meeting are as follows: President Ibhry Nutbrown, vice-president Bill Matthews, secretary Gerry Wheeler, treasurer Jim Moore and publicity director Ted Anderson. Quartermaster for the unit and responsible for all band equipment was Scott Sanderson.

The band, a twenty member unit with full Highland dress, will now be available for engagements in Canada and the U.S.A. Contact man for the unit will be Ted Anderson and further information can be had from him by calling Sherbrooke 562-9013. The unit is open to the youth of the district who are interested in becoming pipers. Pipe-Major Andy Fort is the piping instructor for the unit.

Private duty nurse rates up

The Sherbrooke Hospital group of private duty nurses has announced that rates to patients will increase on Jan. 15, from $16 to $18 per eight-hour tour of duty.

Mrs. Hazel Morrison, speaking for the nurses on the hospital private duty registry, made the announcement this morning.

South Bolton

Rev. Brett Sutton, held a Service of Holy Communion, in the church here on Dec. 27, with the junior choir singing a carol.

Mr. and Mrs. Weston, and Mr. and Mrs. James Macgregor, Jimmie and Roslyn, St. Lambert, attended the church service here and afterward were guests at the Cameron-Bloomfield home.

Mr. and Mrs. Salisbury and daughter, Jessie, Verdun, spent Christmas weekend with Mr. Elwin Gaylor. The Misses Besie and Doris Gaylor, Waterloo, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Davis and Mr. Gaylor Davis were also present.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Davis entertained several relatives at their home on Christmas Day.

Capt. and Mrs. Sabinisky and sons, St. Lambert, are spending several days at their cottage. They entertained Mrs. Sabinisky's mother, her brother and his family, and Mr. Morfee on Christmas Day.

Mr. Walter Durrell, and Mr. Kent Durrell and family spent Christmas in Waterloo with Mr. Keith Durrell and family.

To study Richmond apartments

RICHMOND - (Special) - Paul V. Delaney, Industrial Commissioner for the Town of Richmond will head a five-man commission that will look into the possibilities of setting up an inquiry into apartment building development. The commission presented a resolution to Town Council at its January meeting and the commission was created.

With Mr. Delaney are Andre Greigore, Ivan Gagnon, Claude Brouillette and Paul Desmarais. Their mandate will consist of four projects. Complete a report on the actual situation as far as apartments are concerned; consult with experts in view of preparing a master plan for the future construction of dwellings which will contain apartments as well as others containing single-family homes; find a means of financing such a project; establish one or several sites for these projects.

Up to now, the newly-formed commission has held two meetings and studied different projects which will be presented to council for its approval.

Frederick Allan Martin of Richmond, Vermont, pleaded guilty to dangerous driving and was sentenced to a fine of $25 and costs. He is arrested at Abercorn, Quebec.

Jerry Kowalsky of Bedford was sentenced to a fine of $10 and costs when he pleaded to driving over a long period with a defective muffler.

They showed that Thomas Starчук, 39, of Aldergrove, B.C., was crushed when he was hurled from the cab of his hay truck and that Bernie Lloyd Beck, 27, of Pentiction, B.C., suffocated.

The two still to be uncovered were believed to have climbed into the cab of a tank truck that was stalled by a preliminary slide.

Traffic to interior and Okanagan points is being routed through the Fraser Canyon section of the Trans-Canada Highway.

Highland band goes civilian

Former members of the 24th RCME Squadron Pipe Band were reformed into a civilian unit at a meeting held last evening at the William Street Armory.

The band will now be known as the Eastern Townships Highland Band. Officers elected at last night's meeting are as follows: President Ibhry Nutbrown, vice-president Bill Matthews, secretary Gerry Wheeler, treasurer Jim Moore and publicity director Ted Anderson. Quartermaster for the unit and responsible for all band equipment was Scott Sanderson.

The band, a twenty member unit with full Highland dress, will now be available for engagements in Canada and the U.S.A. Contact man for the unit will be Ted Anderson and further information can be had from him by calling Sherbrooke 562-9013. The unit is open to the youth of the district who are interested in becoming pipers. Pipe-Major Andy Fort is the piping instructor for the unit.

Private duty nurse rates up

The Sherbrooke Hospital group of private duty nurses has announced that rates to patients will increase on Jan. 15, from $16 to $18 per eight-hour tour of duty.

Mrs. Hazel Morrison, speaking for the nurses on the hospital private duty registry, made the announcement this morning.

Hawks' Bobby Hull on way to rich season

If Chicago wins all he will pick up $12,750 in bonus money but odds are against him, has 12 point lead

MONTREAL (CP) — Bobby Hull could earn as much as $12,750 in official bonus money this season if he and his Chicago Black Hawks teammates pick up all the marbles.

The odds are against Hull making such a sweep of the National Hockey League's prize money, but his current scoring blitz creates the possibility. In any case, he should cash at least $6,250 worth of NHL cheques.

Hull appears to be a cinch for All-Star honors and the scoring championship, which could mean as much as $4,000. As a leading contender for the Hart and Lady Byng trophies, he could pick up another $3,000.

The other $5,750 worth of icing on the cake depends on the success of the Black Hawks as a team. If the Hawks finish first in the league, he picks up $2,250 and should then win the Stanley Cup. Hull earns $3,500.

Unless Hull suffers a complete collapse, he should make a minimum of $6,250—a total of $2,000 as an All-Star, $1,500 for leading the scoring race at the halfway mark and winning the title at the season's end, $1,500 as the NHL's Most Valuable Player (Hart Trophy) and $250 should the Hawks finish fourth.

CASHED IN ALREADY

Hull is one of three players who have already cashed bonus cheques this season, receiving $500 for leading the point parade after 35 games. Other beneficiaries were Stan Mikita, second in scoring for $250, and goalie Charlie Hodge of Montreal, a $250 recipient as the Vezina Trophy leader.

When the All-Star and trophy leaders are announced shortly, Hull should be in line for another chunk of cash. Add to this his regular salary and the incentive clauses placed in his contract by the Hawks management.

The record book may have to be rewritten this season, but so will Hull's bank book.

Closest to Hull in the NHL scoring "chase," according to official statistics released today, is teammate Mikita, who picked up five points last week. Hull earned four, including his 34th and 35th goals, to run his total to 57 points—12 more than Mikita.

Norm Ullman, Detroit, scored his 19th goal and registered three assists to hold third place with 39 points. Tied for fourth with 34 points each are Phil Esposito, Gordie Howe, Claude Provost and Pierre Pilote.

Toronto's combination of host the Teachers.

CLIPPERS LOSE THEIR SECOND

Meanwhile, Bishop's Seconds jumped into a three-way tie for the ETABA league lead with Molson's and Bean Clippers by virtue of their 67.33 win over the latter club.

Superiority on the court was seen in Bishop's, as the Clippers offered a lacklustre contest. With their two top pointgetters, Mills and Pariseau, sitting on the bench by half-time, the Clippers were at the mercy of their visitors.

Ken Flewwelling hit the strings for 16 as high scorer of the game, as well as leading the JVs to victory. Other Bishop's players to hit the twin bracket include Taylor and Dinning with 11 each and Whittaker tallying 12. Best for the Clippers were Bob McMurray and Ken Pariseau each giving 11.

Clippers will have a chance to redeem themselves in showing and standing. Thursday evening at Magog, seeking sole possession of the top spot.

Bishop's JVs: K. Flewwelling 16, G. Whittaker 12, K. Taylor 11, I. Dinning 11, B. Dennis 9, B. Forward 6, R. Aitken 2. Total—67.

Bean Clippers: B. McMurray 11, K. Pariseau 11, J. Mills 5, M. Wilcox 2, E. Norton 2, B. Smith 2, J. Wray, M. Allatt. Total—33.

Dickie Moore hopes to be back soon

TORONTO (CP)—Left-winger Dickie Moore, his back injury healed, skated Monday and said he hopes to be playing for the Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League within two weeks.

Moore, 34, suffered an injury at the base of his spine in a game in New York a month ago. He rejoined the Leafs Friday, 3½ pounds lighter than when he reported in September.

New Orleans loses AFL All-Star tilt

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston, hopeful of becoming the permanent home of the American Football League All-Star game in 1966, found itself today host of a game a year earlier than expected.

Joe Foss, league commissioner, pulled the Eastern and Western Division All-Stars out of New Orleans Monday after Negro players complained of racial discrimination in the Louisiana city.

Twenty Negro players refused to participate in the Saturday game, saying they were denied cab service and refused admission to night clubs in the French Quarter.

The contest will be played in 35,000-seat Jeppesen Stadium Saturday.

The players began converging on Houston Monday, and by today nearly all were on hand for the opening workouts.

Oakland, which also has hopes of being the All-Star game's permanent host, and Houston were the cities bidding strongest for the game after the league turned its back on New Orleans.

A 50,000-seat stadium is scheduled for completion in Oakland by 1966. Houston's revolutionary stadium is to be completed this spring.

The AFL owners' meeting also was switched to Houston, and expansion of the league will be one of the topics. The weekend's developments set New Orleans' hopes for a pro football franchise back several years.

"If they walk out," said promoter Dave Dixon on the eve of the players' withdrawal, "this blows pro football for New Orleans."

Bishop's Girls and JVs post wins in E.T. cage fixtures last night, Grads lose 18-17, Clippers dumped Bishop's entries in the E.T.W.B.A. and Eastern Townships Amateur Basketball Association emerged victors last night, both moving to the top of their respective leagues.

Marjorie Swan tallied the lone winner at the foul line in the women's tilt during the last seconds of their game with the Grads. The free throw gave the Purple and White an 18-17 verdict as well as a share at the top of the standings.

Bishop's maintained a 10-7 lead at the half and never looked back, but fought to stay ahead during these last minutes, as the Grads slowly inched their way up the column.

Mary Waite was the high scorer of the game, but in vain for her eight points added to the Grads' losing cause. Pointgetters for the winners included Marjorie Swan with six, followed by Wendy Christmas, Ann Warner and Joan Turner, each adding four.

Judy Wood and Sandra Hughes completed the column for the Grads with six and three respectively. Grads' forward Mary Waite offered an excellent showing offensively in the tilt.

Bishop's Girls have two games in hand over their partners in the standings, having played three and won as many. Their fourth encounter will be Wednesday evening as they

HARNEY GOES SUNDER WITH 30-FOOTER — Paul Harney has this reaction as he sinks a 30-foot putt for a birdie-four on the 13th green en route to his victory yesterday in the $70,000 Los Angeles Open. The shot put him eight under par—the same margin with which he won the tournament with a 72-hole score of 276. The Sacramento, Calif., tournament veteran began the final round with a two-stroke lead and finished ahead by five. (AP Wirephoto)

Dr. J. Hibbard's rink post 11-7 win over Charlie Warner's quartet to cop second round of BC playdowns

Dr. John Hibbard guided his Sherbrooke rink to a 11-7 win over Charlie Warner's Lennoxville foursome last evening to win the second round of the double-round knock-out of the British Consols District playdowns.

In the opening round between the five rinks the Lennoxville quartet pulled through with straight victories over their opponents. In the second round last evening it was their first loss while Sherbrooke emerged without a setback. Danville, Windsor, Border, Lennoxville and Sherbrooke took part in the playoff.

Nelson Lothrop, chairman of the playdowns, will issue a special playoff in order to determine a winner to represent the Eastern Townships in the Provincial playdowns which takes place in Quebec City in February.

Dr. Hibbard's rink got off to a good start when he picked up two points. Skip Warner missed a take-out and the local rink counted one more. Lennoxville got singles in the third and fourth ends. In the fifth Skip Warner missed a double take-out and the Sherbrooke foursome picked up a big three for a 6-2 lead.

Lennoxville came back with one but when Dr. Hibbard made a nice draw he got two. Skip Warner came up with a nice take-out and count two but in the next end when Lennoxville missed Sherbrooke registered their second three-end and went ahead 11-5.

Sherbrooke got three in the house but Skip Warner cut them down but his stone rolled out. Skip Hibbard put it back but this time Warner took it out and stayed to count one.

In the following end the skips had their mates keep the house clear but Lennoxville had the last stone and counted one for a 11-7 count coming home. In the last end it was the same thing, clearing the house, and finally when Lennoxville ran out of stones they conceded the match.

Montcalm, Magog senior girls post wins in SBL with same 22-21 score, Perpetuel-Secours takes twinbill

MAGOG — It was a matter of two games and the same score in Sherbrooke Basketball League action Sunday. Magog defeated Marymount senior girls 22-21 here while Montcalm edged LPS with the same result in Sherbrooke.

Marymount's agony of defeat came in the last seconds of their overtime period as Kerry Lee notched the winner at the foul line for Magog. A 19-19 result after regulation time forced the extra three minutes during which both clubs held a chance of victory.

Meanwhile, Montcalm girls managed to subdue LPS during the second half, outpointing Ste. Famille. The junior clubs then 10-7 for their lone point winner, Donna Timmins cut game with LPS pulling the strings for eight in their win, while Nicole Dufresne dominated the sheet for LPS with six.

Aes well, the opening junior match between Marymount and Mitchell saw the latter club accept defeat, 25-21. A halftime 13-11 score was maintained in Marymount's favor to the end, with Mitchell gaining slightly on their visitors.

Marymount's Lamarche hit the highest with 17, followed by Margo Fletcher, of Mitchell, who tallied 11.

In the only twinbill played over the weekend, LPS seniors and juniors swept a pair from the second half, outpointing Ste. Famille. The junior clubs took to the floor in the first game with LPS pulling the strings for eight in their biggest upset of the season, with 16.

ET Ski conditions

Only two Eastern Townships ski centres were in operation today, both using artificial snow. They are Mt. Sutton and Hillcrest in North Hatley. Tows are operating in the artificial snow areas.

Their senior compatriots exhibited just as strong a showing in their 63-11 win, with Claude Perrault and Rick Nuthrown sharing the scoring honors. Nuthrown's 22 points led the others, with Perrault following with 16.

THE WORLD OF SPORTS

Richmond Flyers pick up two wins over weekend, wallop Magog 9-1 and knock over Lake Megantic 5-1

RICHMOND — Flyers came up with two wins over the weekend in the Connie Dion Junior B hockey loop to take over third place temporarily.

Their 5-1 win over Megantic Friday night was coupled with a 9-1 shellacking given to the Magog Aces here Sunday. Ronald Dubreuil collected a hat-trick and added three assists to pace the Flyers. His teammates, Jacques Leclerc and Bert Rouleau, got two goals apiece. Others went to Terry Whittinghall and Michel Raymond. Richard Desgaines got three assists in the game.

Magog's lone marker was scored on a penalty shot at 12:45 of the third period by Guyette.

The first period ended 1-0 for Richmond and they scored four in the second to take a 5-0 lead. They made it 6-0 in the third period until Magog scored and three more markers gave the Flyers the 9-1 victory. The game was not without penalties, however as 22 were handed out by referees, including four majors in the third period. Flyers had eight minors to ten for Magog.

In Friday's tilt, goalie Jacques Plasse handled 46 shots in the Flyers' win over Megantic. He played as well Sunday but had less work against the Magog Aces.

Normand Tetreault scored twice for the winners in this 5-1 victory over the third-place club. Other goal-getters were G. Breton, Michel Raymond, Bert Rouleau, G. Talbot averted a shutout by scoring the lone Megantic marker early in the third period.

This evening Flyers travel to Waterloo for their next scheduled game.

Capelton lady entertained at birthday parties

ROCK ISLAND — While spending the Yuletide holidays with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Batchelor, in Stanstead, Mrs. Otto Giroux, Capelton, observed her 75th birthday on Dec. 31.

That afternoon another daughter, Mrs. Lloyd Kezar, entertained a few friends for cards. The refreshments included a decorated birthday cake presented to the celebrant by Mrs. Kezar.

On behalf of Mrs. Giroux's immediate family, she was presented with a set of luggage and other gifts from her friends.

The preceding evening, Mrs. Goff Probyn, Stanstead, entertained friends for an evening of cards. The refreshments served by her daughter, Miss Arlene Probyn, also included a birthday cake which was presented to Mrs. Giroux with good wishes.

While here with Mr. and Mrs. Batchelor, Mrs. Batchelor entertained a few friends on the afternoon of Dec. 28 to meet Ms. Giroux. Cards were played and afternoon tea was served.

Coaticook

The members of the Coaticook Fire Department distributed 70 baskets of food to needy families during the pre-Christmas annual event.

Friends of Mr. Irvin Waldron will be sorry to learn that he is a patient in the local hospital, having become ill at the New Year.

Mr. Paul Truchon is on a one month sick leave from his work on doctor's orders.

Mr. Guelph Parker, who spent a few days in a Sherbrooke Hospital, is in good health and is back at work.

Mr. B. C. Lemoine has been a patient in a Sherbrooke Hospital for a few days undergoing treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McAlpine, St. Hyacinthe, spent a few days visiting friends here during the holiday. They stayed with relatives of Mrs. McAlpine at Rock Island. Mr. McAlpine, who was choir director at Sisco Memorial United Church for several years, attended the morning service on the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Turnbull, Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Beerworth, and John, Lennoxville, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Brunelle were New Year's Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Beerworth and family.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Rosenberg have been visiting friends in town for a few days.

The installation ceremony for the new Legion and Ladies' Auxiliary officers will be held on the evening of Jan. 23. The ceremony will be followed by a social hour.

Mrs. Olive Burroughs, Ayer's Cliff, was a guest of her sisters, Mrs. Stan Cromwell and Mrs. Stanley Beerworth, on Jan. 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rosser and family, Montreal, were guests of Mrs. Rosser's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ciley, for the holidays.

Winner of the Coaticook Baseball Club Fifty-fifty draw was Gertrude Bougie.

A car failed to make the turn at the corner of St. Jacques and Gendreau Streets on New Year's Eve, striking a light and plunging that area of town into darkness for a time. Workmen have been busy for a couple of days replacing the broken pole. The car was damaged considerably but the occupants were unharmed.

The thirty elderly patients at the Coaticook Hospital enjoyed the annual program of Christmas songs by the pupils of the Stanhope Convent, under the supervision of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Hospital. Assisting were Father Albert Carbonneau, St. Jean Church, Father Lucien Olivier, Mrs. Armand Benoit, vice-president of the Auxiliary, Mrs. Andre Samson, Miss Kathleen Bellisle, Mrs. Oswald Menard, and Miss Louise-ette Begin.

East Angus

Mr. and Mrs. Ransom Hayes spent the New Year season as guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ian Gregory, Quebec City.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Hall and family, Beaconsfield, spent the New Year's vacation as guests of Mr. Hall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Hall.

Mr. George Marchant and Mrs. Roy Martyn were in Port Arthur to attend the funeral of their brother, Mr. William Marchant, which was held on Jan. 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rowland were New Year's guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Rowland, in Chateaugay.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hall and family, Bracebridge, Ont., spent the New Year's holidays with Mrs. Jessie Hall, Miss Audrey Hall and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Beattie.
