World News In Brief

Kyodo news agency said the ship is expected to arrive here June 30 and leave July 1.

Mayhew, Minorca—(AP)—Sixteen Spanish soldiers died in the explosion of a 38-millimetre gun at a military camp 13 miles from the Balearic Island naval base, it was reported today. Thirteen others were severely injured. The blast occurred Friday during artillery practice.

New York—(AP)—Nathan L. Miller, 84, general counsel of the United States Steel Corporation and former governor of New York died Friday.

Miller had suffered a fractured hip in a fall last month after returning from a vacation in Arizona.

Tokyo—(AP)—The casualty toll in the heaviest air raid of the century in Kyushu rose to 75 dead, 130 injured and 108 missing today according to latest national police headquarters report. The downpour paralyzed transportation connecting north and south Kyushu, the southern Japanese island.

Washington—(AP)—R. Douglas Stuart of Chicago, conferred briefly with President Eisenhower Friday preparatory to taking up his duties as the new United States ambassador to Canada. Stuart told newspaper men he will leave Chicago for his Canadian post July 13. He has resigned effective July 1, as president of the Quaker Oats Company, and as treasurer of the Republican national committee.

Granby Resident Drowns In River

Granby—Fernand Desautels, a 20-year-old resident of this Sherbrooke County metropolis, was drowned while swimming in the Yamaska river with four friends.

According to information gained from his companions, Desautels was attempting to swim across the river, which passes through the heart of the city, when he was weakened by the current and sank halfway across.

Farm Board Will Provide Fair Prices Drew States

By ALAN DONNELLY
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Winnipeg—George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, said Friday that the national agricultural board promised in his party's election platform would establish farm prices "on a fair and sound basis."

The board would be independent and directed by leading farmers. Mr. Drew said in a speech prepared for delivery at the opening of his Western Canada tour.

"It would not simply be another voice for the minister of agriculture as the agricultural prices support board."

Mr. Drew replied to criticisms of his party's agricultural policies made earlier this week by prime minister St. Laurent.

The prime minister's suggestion that the proposed national agricultural board would bring socialized farming, said Mr. Drew, "had no meaning unless he intends to repeal the Farm Prices Support Act."

"Is that what he means? If he does not, then he is committed to the principle of fair support and should welcome the proposal for a sound and accurate method of arriving at those prices instead of the present form of system which has got the government and the farmers into so much difficulty."

The agricultural board promised in a Progressive Conservative government came to power would be independent, directed by leading farmers and it would obtain the day-to-day and month-to-month statistical information necessary to establish prices on a fair and sound basis.

Government members could not agree on what their agricultural policies were.

"While the Prime Minister was criticizing support prices for farm products in Ontario, the minister of agriculture was boasting about the amount the government had spent to help the farmers."

"While the Prime Minister was telling an Ontario audience that fair support prices for farm pro-

Big Surplus Is Shown In May Accounts

Ottawa—(AP)—The government produced a surplus of $120,820,000 in its May budget accounts, boosting the total for the first two months of the 1953-54 fiscal year to $200,246,000.

The May surplus, however, was down $20,700,000 from $141,515,000 last year and the two-month total was down $40,900,000 from $241,129,000. Finance Minister Abbott said in issuing the May statement of the government's financial operations.

"I have pointed out on many past occasions, based on long years of experience, the government's revenues in the earlier months of each fiscal year are always large, while expenditures are always much more heavily concentrated in the later months," he said.

For example, a year ago our surplus in the first two months was $241,000,000, yet we ended the year, as I announced a few days ago, with a surplus of only $24,000,000.

If we do not build up substantial surpluses in the earlier months of a year, a deficit for the year as a whole is inevitable.

Both revenues and expenditures were higher during May than a year ago. But the jump in spending resulted mainly from the inclusion of Canada's annual $25,000,000 Colombo Plan grant in the May accounts. Defence spending, which has caused increases in previous months, was down.

During May, budgetary revenues rose to $408,858,000 from $402,193,000 last year, bringing the two-month total to $678,632,000 from $667,512,000.

Expenditures during the month rose to $288,038,000 from $280,678,000, pushing the two-month total to $478,886,000 from $426,383,000.

Defence spending dropped to $122,432,000 from $122,895,000, with decreases showing in air force and army accounts. The army spent $25,193,000 in May last year, while the air force spent $53,359,000, compared with $57,860,000. Spending in the navy increased to $18,390,000 from $16,011,000.

Health department expenditures rose to $33,056,000 from $30,109,000, mostly because family allowances rose to $28,646,000 from $24,000,000.

But probably the most unusual rise was in the external affairs department where the inclusion of the $25,000,000 Colombo Plan grant boosted the department's spending $26,153,000 from $1,216,000 last year.

The Colombo Plan grant was included in the 1953-54 accounts near the end of the fiscal year.

Leader Of Opposition Party Beaten Up After Speaking Out Against Rhee's Policies.

Seoul—(AP)—The South Korean government today said Chough Byon' Ok, a political opponent of President Syngman Rhee, was under arrest by South Korean military police for his own protection.

Chough, a leader of the opposition Democratic Nationalist party, was beaten up by four young assailants Tuesday night, a day after he spoke out publicly against the anti-truce policy of Rhee.

Dr. Karl Hong Kee, director of the government public information office, said Chough was "under arrest by a certain organization."

Karl did not name the organization, but other officials said Chough was being held by military police of the provost marshal general's office.

Karl said "public antagonism became so serious that he Chough needed protection."

Bidault May Get Foreign Office Post

Paris—(Reuters)—Premier Joseph Laniel today began his talks with political leaders to form France's 19th post-war government.

He plans to have his cabinet list ready by tonight, before President Vincent Auriol's departure for Southwestern France.

Political quarters said Georges Bidault, Popular Republican, would remain at the foreign ministry. Laniel was also expected to give an important post to his friend, ex-premier Paul Reynaud, probably a ministry of state with the special task of looking after Indo-China.

Laniel's government will include Gaullists for the first time since Gen. Charles de Gaulle's resignation from the cabinet in 1946.

Laniel, a Moderate Conservative, solved the French cabinet crisis in his 37th day. The triumphant manner of his investiture Friday night, he received 84 votes more than the 314 needed for election by the National Assembly, will enable him to speak with considerable authority at next month's Bermuda conference with President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Churchill.

Laniel, 63, a millionaire farmer and industrialist, had the almost solid support of all but the Socialists and communists. But even the Socialists endorsed the main foreign policy lines he developed in his speech asking for investiture.

The cardinal foreign policy point, Laniel said, was fidelity to the Atlantic Pact. Point two was French readiness to seize every chance of talking with the Russians, "provided there is tangible proof of goodwill."

On the latter point Laniel appeared to be more in line with Eisenhower's cautious approach than with Churchill's advocacy of a four-power conference.

Seattle, Wash.—(AP)—A draft of 279 Canadian soldiers is en route to the Far East from this port, the army announced. The draft is made up of replacements on a man-for-man basis and represents no particular unit. The men will serve with units of the 25th Canadian infantry brigade in Korea and Japan.

Stork Pays Visit To Old Bombsite

London—(AP)—The stork visited a London bombsite today and two London bobbies were right on the job.

Police constables Richard Putt and Lewis Turner, patrolling the back streets of Stepney district before dawn, found Mrs. Ivy O'Neill, 32, lying on a vacant lot where German bombs knocked a house down in the war.

They phoned for an ambulance then raced to nearby houses to borrow towels and hot water.

The stork was ahead of the ambulance and, with the aid of the two policemen, Mrs. O'Neill gave birth to a boy on the bombsite.

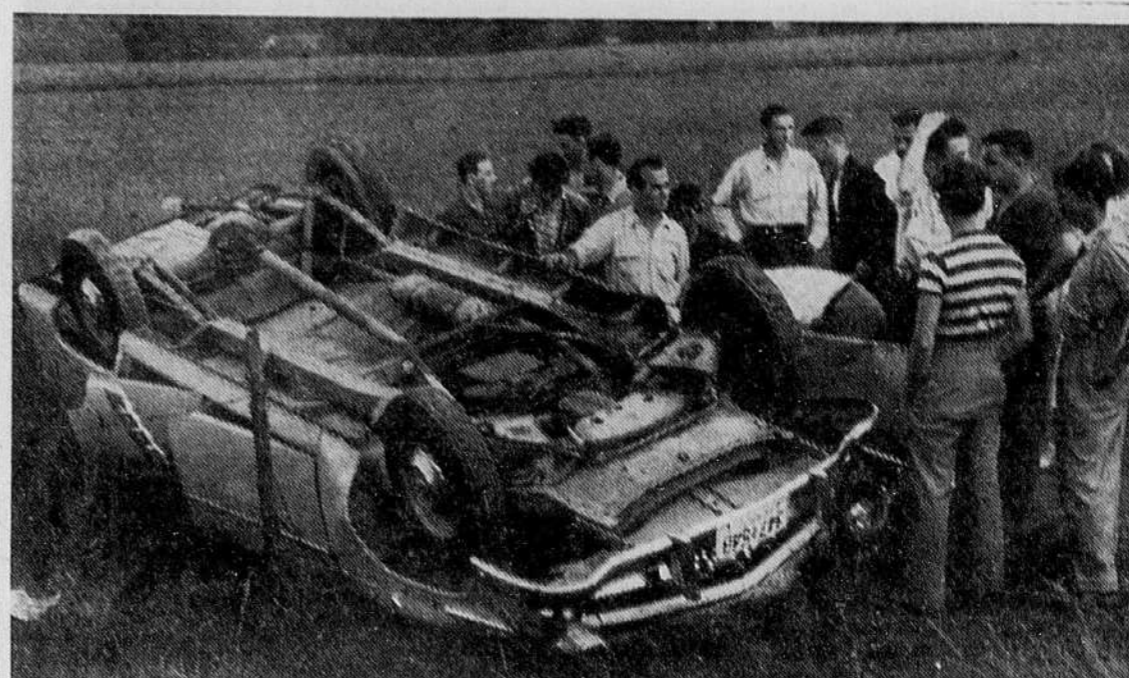

Mother and child were taken to hospital where they are getting along fine.

Musk Oxen Are Given Protection

Yellowknife, N.W.T.—(AP)—The Northwest Territories council, in a move to protect the herd of musk-oxen in the Thelon sanctuary in the eastern Mackenzie district, has increased the penalty for hunting the animals.

The council approved Friday a penalty on conviction of a fine of $1,000 to $5,000 or imprisonment of six months to one year.

The sanctuary, consisting of 15,000 square miles just east of the Yellowknife game reserve, was established in 1927. The few musk-oxen originally sheltered there have increased to a herd of about 1,000.

THE WEEK-END BEGINS: A blazing hot week-end opened ominously last night with the accident pictured above. Fortunately no one was killed in this mishap, but with hundreds of cars on the roads, the chances of serious accidents and death are great unless careful driving is the rule. The car pictured here belongs to Orville Biledeau of Magog and it was forced off the road at about 5 p. m. yesterday, on the Montreal highway not far from the city limits. Biledeau said another car cut him off, forcing his car onto the gravel where he lost control. The car plowed 70 feet across a field, knocking down a fence before it overturned. Benjamin Roy, also of Magog, was a passenger in the car and was brought to Hotel Dieu hospital with minor cuts. He was allowed to return home after treatment. Biledeau was not injured. Cecil Rhodes Anniversary Is Observed

Oxford—(AP)—This university city will see a sentimental pilgrimage next week to honor a man who even in the 20th century would remain at the forefront of the American colonies' break away from England.

He was Cecil Rhodes, born July 5, 1853. He gave his name to the Rhodes scholarships just 50 years ago.

University business men, educators and politicians from British Commonwealth countries and the United States who once studied here will reunite to pay their respects to the empire builder who set up a trust fund to try to weld together outstanding scholars of the English-speaking nations.

In the 50 years since 2,500 students have taken Oxford degrees under the Rhodes trust.

Rhodes, a hard-headed colonist who amassed a fortune in South African gold and diamond mines, hoped to broaden youngsters from the dominions and help young Americans understand the mother country.

He provided for 52 scholarships a year at Oxford, 32 from the United States and 20 from the dominions. Trustees later increased the dominion scholarships to 37. Canada gets 10 a year—one for each province.

Rhodes, who made no secret of his belief in the supremacy of English-speaking peoples, wanted to weld them into a power so great future wars would be impossible. He first envisioned a fusion into one empire—with the United States as an equal partner with England. But before he died in 1902 broken in health at 49, he had whittled his scheme down considerably. He finally decided the best way to bind Britain, her dominions and the United States was through education.

The Rhodes scholar, he insisted, must have moral character, political leadership, be athletic and show qualities of "manhood, truth, courage and devotion to duty."

Candidates must pass rigid tests before special selection committees.

Canucks On U.N. Honor Guard Say They Have Best Jobs In Army

By BILL BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Seoul—(AP)—Two Canadians here say they have "the best jobs in Korea."

They are Ptes. D. T. W. Smith, 21, and Stewart D. Lord, 24, both of Vancouver. A month ago they traded frontline bunkers with the 3rd Patricia for a lush job in Seoul.

Smith and Lord represent Canada at Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor's 8th army headquarters where they belong to the new United Nations platoon of the honor guard.

Their 37-man outfit, commanded by a sergeant from the Black Watch, comprises Commonwealth, French, Belgian, Netherlands, Thai, Ethiopian and other soldiers from a total of 13 countries. All retain their own uniforms, weapons, drills and customs.

There are three platoons in the guard, one from the United States Army, one from the Republic of Korea Army and the third representing the UN. After a one-month try-out the UN platoon has been accepted as a permanent part of the guard.

Canadian battalions will take it in turn to provide soldiers for a two-month assignment.

The two Patricias told The Canadian Press "the set-up is terrific."

Their Nissen-hut barracks, they said, "are better than Currie barracks in Calgary," let alone the bunkers of a month ago.

Torrential Rain Lashes Over Europe

London—(Reuters)—Torrential rains caused severe flooding in some parts of Europe Friday and threatened to spread to other parts of the continent which had blazing sunshine earlier Friday for the first time this month.

Switzerland had its heaviest rain in 20 years, swelling streams and threatening landslides. Churchbells rang in the east part of the country to summon all-able-bodied men to fight the floods.

Similar flooding was reported from southeast Germany.

Floods in England's lake district caused at least one death, when a 25-year-old man was swept away and drowned when a seven-foot flood swept through Troutbeck village.

In Glasgow, a sudden downpour flooded parts of the city.

France struck a happy medium with reports of "warm all over" and "perfect holiday weather" on the Riviera. But in Italy snow blanketed the northwest while two sunstroke deaths were reported from Palermo, Sicily.

Scandinavia lay baked and baked. North Sweden, lying near the Arctic circle, had its hottest day in 60 years.

More storms were forecast for Britain.

Mother And Child Saved From Pipe

Montreal—(AP)—A 33-year-old mother, snatched from the St. Lawrence river with her infant daughter after a wild trip through a huge pipe, was charged Friday with attempted murder and attempted suicide.

The child, 10-month-old Denise, was reported in critical condition in hospital. The mother, Mrs. Jeanette Roy, was refused bail in criminal court and preliminary hearing was set for July 2.

A police report, produced in court, said the woman threw the baby into the Lachine canal and attempted suicide by leaping in herself.

The mother and child were drawn into a 45-inch surplus pipe, which carries excess water into the river, were swirled along 300 yards through the pipe and ejected into the St. Lawrence.

They came out between the SS. Dingwall and a concrete pier, Deckhand Lawrence Young, 17, saw them in the oil-smeared water and called to Chief Officer Stewart Stevenson.

Stevenson let a rope down the ship's side and Young made his way down. He grabbed Mrs. Roy and held her, keeping her from being crushed between the ship and the pier.

Then Stevenson, although not recovered from a recently broken right arm, went over the side down a rope ladder. Between them, Stevenson and Young got the woman into a rope stretcher lowered to the deck.

Meanwhile, little Denise slipped between the pier and the ship and was carried downstream. An unidentified dock worker hooked the infant's clothing with a long gaff and held her until a sailor from a nearby ship could swim out and rescue her.

Lower Taxes Promised By Social Credit

By Canadian Press Staff Writer
Toronto—(AP)—The Social Credit program for the federal election campaign, featured by proposals for tax reduction and financial reform, was put before the electorate Friday night.

A conference of the Social Credit Association of Canada approved the program after a one-day meeting which lasted till late night, and Solon Low, national leader, expanded on its meaning in a broadcast address over the trans-Canada network of the CBC.

The program said Social Credit would make a thorough revision of the whole Canadian taxation system and "those taxes that are found to be restrictive in their effects upon productive enterprise will either be abolished or reduced in rate as a stimulus to greater production effort."

Mr. Low said the tax proposals would effect "an immediate reduction in the cost-of-living of no less than 15 per cent."

They would abolish all present sales tax, except the two per cent tax which supports old age pensions; and there would be further reduction in personal income taxes, with an increase in the present exemptions.

Under the party's financial policy, said Mr. Low, "a national monetary authority would exercise full control over the issue of money and credit under a specific policy laid down by Parliament.

Money would be issued at a rate necessary "to insure continued expansion of production and consumption, and to provide suitable and reasonable terms would be given to agriculture and industry to finance efficient production of goods required by the people; basic interest rates would be reduced; lower down payment and interest rates would be given to home ownership; the public debt would be systematically reduced. Also:

Consumption would be balanced with production by financing the equitable distribution of surplus goods and services so as to make full employment and full distribution in peacetime "the only possible insurance against depressions."

The program opposed "state socialism, totalitarianism and regimentation," and advocated "free competitive individual enterprise," and "the highest standard of Christian morality in politics and government."

Other program items included: Pensions for all aged and disabled citizens commensurate with Canada's ability to produce; new federal-provincial financial arrangements to ensure each province adequate revenues to discharge fully its constitutional responsibilities; an assured home market and export markets for farm, factory, mines, fisheries and lumber industries; adequate military and civil defence forces.

On trade, the program advocated "an international trade policy under which goods will be exchanged between nations on a basis of mutual advantage to all and through which the production of the world will be made available to feed and bless all humanity."

Mr. Low said the proposal of Progressive Conservative leader George Drew for a tax reduction of $500,000,000 "is quite possible and practical," but that it could not be accomplished by the "orthodox" means which the Progressive Conservatives would use, without reducing present services or imposing the defence effort.

"We Social Crediters can show Mr. Drew and the government exactly how, by wise management and through our Social Credit financial proposals, to reduce taxes by $500,000,000 a year without in any way reducing present social security payments or essential services."

Agreement With Provinces Possible Says St. Laurent

By JOHN LEBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Hamilton—(AP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent said Friday he is sure an agreement will be reached between the federal government and the provinces on constitutional issues.

He said that he is certain "that some day" they will agree on methods of amending the constitution in matters of joint federal-provincial interest. A 1950 conference of government heads in Ottawa failed to settle the question.

The prime minister's statement, at a picnic-type outdoor meeting in nearby Okaville, was an evident reply to a statement at Quebec Thursday by George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, that he regrets there are no plans for federal-provincial co-operation.

After the meeting in the riding of Halton the campaigning prime minister moved on into the Hamilton constituency late Friday.

Mr. St. Laurent toured five ridings—Peel, Halton and the three Hamilton territories in and around this industrial city.

He started off the day at Brampton in Conservative-held Peel riding by setting off his train and chatting with several of a group of 75 persons who met him at the station.

At Malton northwest of Toronto he inspected the big A. V. Roe aviation plant, including the assembly line of the CF-100 all-weather fighter. He watched the making and testing of Orinda jet engines and the final production of the planes, along with a demonstration of their firing power.

Mr. St. Laurent also bought himself a 49-cent lunch in Avro's cafeteria and sat down to eat with some 400 of the huge plant's 14,000 employees.

His lunch-table companions included Helen Wilson, financial secretary of the AFL machinists' union at the plant, other union officials and Crawford Gordon, Jr., Avro president.

From Malton, the Prime Minister motored to the town of Okaville, where he addressed about 1,000 persons in the town's park.

After his speech under a hot sun to the gathering, mostly youngsters just let out from school for the summer, Mr. St. Laurent handed out ice cream and popicles as the kids clustered around him.

It was a relatively leisurely day for the Prime Minister on this fifth day of his initial vote-catching swing through southwestern Ontario. He made only three speeches compared with days in which he has made as many as nine talks. At Okaville, he told the crowd he does not feel the government has betrayed the trust put in it by the people in the 1949 election.

Hollywood—Hollywood on the Record: Will Rogers, Jr., on the reaction of his three adopted sons to his movie stardom:

AT THE PREMIER CINEMA

AT THE PREMIER CINEMA: Mitzi Gaynor and Dale Robertson are featured in the film Golden Girl which is showing at the Premier Cinema on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. The second attraction is The Brigand, with Anthony Dexter and Gale Robbins. Both films are in technicolor.

Never having thought of winning one, I won't be disappointed. The Academy Awards are murder. I went to four or five of them with Barbara (Stanwyck). It was a terrible thing for her, especially when she was up for 'Stella Dallas.' Nothing! I wouldn't want to go through that."

ROCHESTER, when asked if Jersey Joe will fight again:
"He will when I meet him."

BURT LANCASTER, about his role in "From Here to Eternity":
"The picture's about Pruitt, played by Montgomery Clift, not about Sergeant Warden, the role I play. But I'd rather be in a good picture in a secondary part than be the star of a picture that means nothing."

Slugged Way To Top
RICHARD BURTON, expressing surprise about his movie starring following his hit in "My Cousin Rachel":
"I never seriously thought I had a chance. I didn't think I looked good enough or could be a romantic leading man. All my life, in English movies and on the stage in London, I've played thugs."

IDA LUPINO, on her future as a director:
"I'm facing a serious problem because I'm a woman. But I think the major studios will come around in time. I think Jack Warner is one man who won't be frightened to take a chance on a woman director."

ROCK HUDSON, on his surprise appearance on TV's "This Is Your Life":
"It did more for me and my pictures than anything that ever happened to me. People who had never seen me on the screen wrote to say that they became interested after seeing me on television."

* * * * *

JOHN PAYNE, on actors being producers of their own films:
"It's good business these days. Sure, there have been actors who have lost their shirts, but the fact still remains that Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks made fortunes."

Marriages Comes First
Audrey Totter, explaining why she gave up "Meet Millie" on radio:
"I find that being a wife takes a lot of time. I found I wasn't home except on Sundays. So I gave up Millie. I hated having to do it, but my marriage comes first."

MARCIA HENDERSOON, who played Wendy to Jean Arthur's "Peter Pan" on Broadway:
"Backstage life with Jean? I never found her strange and I don't know how stories started that she wouldn't speak to the cast. She was kind and generous. Everybody adored her."

CHUBBY JOHNSON a character actor in "Calamity Jane":
"I like to think of myself as a pointer dog. A good supporting actor should point or call attention to the stars. If a character actor is not pointing, but spotlighting himself, he is not doing his job."

BRAD DEXTER, on why he's not turning down any good villain roles:
"I believe moviegoers love brutality. If a man is brutal to a doll, but charmingly brutal, men and women both go for it. It sells pictures."

Music For Youth Camp To Begin Its 6th Season

"Music for Youth," the summer music camp, located "on the Bluffs" of Lake Memphremagog, Newport, Vt., announces the inauguration of its sixth consecutive season under the directorship of Leona and George Seuffert, of New York City. The camp will be in session from July 4 to August 22, inclusive.

Mr. Seuffert has been associated with the New York City School System since 1931. He is also the director of instrumental music for Fordham University. Mrs. Seuffert, known professionally as Leona May Smith, is acknowledged to be one of the greatest cornet and trumpet soloists of this generation. She has been featured soloist with the Goldman Band, Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians, and solo trumpeter at the Radio City Music Hall. As a member of the National Orchestral Association, Miss Smith received the Gabrieliwitsch Memorial Award.

Among the faculty at "Music for Youth," in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Seuffert, are such notables as Es-lie Liebig, in charge of the vocal department; her associate, Dorothy Miller, of opera, operetta and radio fame; Hulda and Luigi Rossini, who will coach and conduct the opera and operetta workshops; Sam Appelbaum, noted violin pedagogue and string editor of G. Schirmer, who will conduct a special string clinic; Mr. Lawrence Bergan, director of woodwinds for the University of Alabama; and guest instructors from the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra, the Goldman Band, and the Philharmonic.

Dr. Edwin Franko Goldman, chairman of the advisory board of "Music for Youth," will conduct the season's final student concert on August 21. Dr. Goldman recently deeded a magnificent collection, including his complete press reel, autographed pictures and manuscripts of great conductors and composers, personal trophies, and a splendid musical library, to "Music for Youth," where they will be on permanent display.

Five performances of opera in condensed form for summer production are also scheduled for the 1953 season. Tickets to be given, all starting at 8:15 p.m., are listed as follows: July 11, "La Boheme"; July 25, "Madame Butterfly"; August 8, scenes from "The Barber of Seville," "Aida," and "Tosca"; August 22, "La Traviata"; and September 5, "Die Fledermaus." Featured vocalists will include Diane Monaco, Beverly Sills and Brooks Duntar. All minor roles, dances, and instrumental accompaniments will be provided by students at the camp.

Ghostly Comedy To Open New Season At Brae Manor

The opening production at Brae Manor Summer Theatre will be Gramercy Ghost, a gay, fantastic comedy. Most people have inherited property of some sort, but few have ever inherited a ghost. Nancy Willard did, and her reactions to the unusual situation make excellent entertainment. This play had a very successful New York run with Sarah Churchill and Robert Sterling in the leading roles. Claire Drew will play the leading part at Knowlton and will be supported by the resident company.

This week saw the first arrival for the season, James Maguire, a drama graduate of the University of Oklahoma, started to get Brae Manor ready for its 18th season. Mr. Maguire will replace David Haber, who has been Stage Manager for the Sadlers for the last five years.

Snow Shoe Club Is Theft Victim For Third Year

For the third consecutive year the Sherbrooke Snow Shoe Club has been broken into and looted. Club officials have not yet taken an inventory of the damage or missing articles but damage to the clubhouse itself may run higher than $150.

The robbery was noticed this week but may have occurred previously. Photos on the walls, electric light bulbs, valuable souvenirs and cupboards were smashed. Door locks were smashed and the cupboards and drawers were looted. Some valuable souvenirs may be missing.

The Sherbrooke Snow Shoe Club is located on Prospect Street, near the Sherbrooke Country Club.

The club does not operate during the summer months and this is the third consecutive summer that the club house has been entered illegally.

The culprits may have been children, since the thugs appeared to prefer to break articles rather than steal them.

Puzzle Replies Mount So Does The Money

Holiday time must surely be at hand. Otherwise why should so many of you be looking for the $40 prize that we offered this week for the correct solution to our crossword puzzle?

Last week, when 900-odd replies were received, we thought we had reached the limit, but the record was topped once again this week when 1,136 readers submitted solutions to puzzle number four.

We would like to be able to announce that at least one of those solutions was the correct one, but once again the puzzle has stumped everyone. This means that $50 will be at stake for the puzzle that is appearing today.

Many readers came very close this week, closer than they have on any previous puzzle, which leads us to believe that it won't be very many weeks before someone comes up with the correct answer. Several of you missed on only two or three clues this time and with a little more luck you may come up with the correct answer to puzzle number five.

Many puzzles were accompanied by letters and we can assure you that your comments are welcome. After all, when you have to open more than 1,000 envelopes and check every puzzle, it is a relief to be able to read your comments, whether they be favorable or otherwise.

Happily for us, most of you are taking this puzzle in stride.

A few of you have complained that your answers were better than the ones we are providing, but as we have said before, there really is nothing we can do about this as we, too, must abide by the rules and the answers that are appearing in the Record are the same as those that are being given to readers of many other papers elsewhere in Canada and England.

All we can do is give you our sympathy and express the hope that next week you'll do better.

"Mack," the Irishman we once accused of being a Scot, was in bright and early with his reply this week and though he did not send us a correct answer, he amused us with his remarks that "Hitchecock never kept me suspended as do you."

We don't intend to make a point of mentioning contestants by name, but we feel that special reference should be paid to J. O. Donigan of Magog, who casually confessed that he is 92 years old. Maybe some of the other contestants can top that record, but if so they didn't let us know.

Another name we want to mention is H. J. Wiggott of Red Bluff, Calif., who gets credit for being the "most distant" contestant of the week. Mr. Wiggott's answer was to last week's puzzle and arrived too late to be considered, but we appreciated it none the less. It wasn't correct, by the way, but it was a brave attempt.

Many of you indicated that even though you don't think your answers are correct you still enjoy filling in the puzzles. And many of you, too, added wistfully that the money would really be welcome at this holiday time.

One lady wrote wondering whether slang is used in the puzzles—suggesting that if a man is "lit" he will feel on top of the world. We really haven't seen enough of the puzzles to be able to say whether slang expressions are used, but as England is the source of the crosswords we doubt whether there will be any slang expressions.

The poets have had a field day in expressing their opinions and we are passing along a couple for the entertainment of the readers.

"If I didn't like working out puzzles I would throw these in the lake. But you fellows have got me guessing and I am really on the make.

"You have hazed my dither 'And dithered my haze 'Until I have gone quite mad. 'If I could I'd hit the jackpot, oh boy would I be glad."

Someone else wrote: "I have tried many a puzzle But 'twas all in vain. I hope to goodness. This isn't the same."

It was, but maybe next week will be luckier!

Action Against Provincial Police Ends; Case Taken Under Deliberation

The trial of the eight provincial police officers facing an action totalling $200,000, taken by eight persons claiming false arrest, medical expenses, after effects and damage to reputation, as the result of the Canadian Johns-Manville Company strike during May 1949, came to an end yesterday.

Mr. Justice Antonio Garneau, of Montreal, took the case under deliberation. Mr. Justice Garneau also gave the attorneys for the defense and the plaintiffs one month to file jurisdiction. The trial lasted some five weeks.

Lawyer Leon Methot, Q.C., of Three Rivers, who with his son Jean and Judge Redmond Hayes, Q.C., of Sherbrooke, represented the police, summed up the case yesterday.

Mr. Methot said that one of the plaintiffs, Gerard Chamberlain, admitted placing handcuffs on the provincial police. He said that at first Mr. Chamberlain did not agree that the statement produced in court was the one which he signed and not exact but stated that in the end the plaintiff admitted that what was said was exact and that the statement was true.

Mr. Methot said that many persons wanted to work during the Asbestos strike but that they were prevented from working, were abused and that some had their household and personal possessions damaged.

The plaintiffs committed perjury. A man like Jean-Paul Houle, a plaintiff, had been arrested previously for vagrancy and I find it funny that a man like him asks us for $25,000, and of that amount he claims $15,000 for damage to reputation."

Mr. Methot pointed out that Houle said only one policeman hit him and that was Det. Armand Binette, not a defendant. But a man who died a couple years after the strike.

Mr. Methot pointed out that one of the plaintiffs, Joseph Beaudoin, claimed he was at home, sick, and that he was not on the highway on May 6. "The police saw him on the highway and identified him as one of the men who tried to injure them. He must have been very sick if you believe his story because the next morning he was up good and early and went to the restaurant for 'ice cream'". During the trial Mr. Beaudoin said he went to the restaurant, under which was a committee room for the strikers, to purchase a coke and ice cream.

The injuries the plaintiffs claim they received were not serious, only minor cuts and bruises but the police were handcuffed, kicked, punched, slapped and cursed.

The defense attorney said police cars were damaged, heavily and one of the defendants, Lt. Emile Contant, had his arm broken in a scuffle with the strikers. He also mentioned the fact that Det. Andre Labbe, brother to one of the defendants, Inspector General Norbert Labbe, had been hit over the head with a hammer and spent several days in hospital.

Mr. Methot said the strikers assembled in the basement of the church hall, held parades and had sticks, stones, iron pipe, crow bars, hammers, sling shots, nuts and bolts and other items. The police seized these items and they were used as exhibits during the trial.

Mr. Methot said the plaintiffs failed to identify properly the police who are alleged to have beaten them.

The plaintiffs committed perjury, they are fortunate that they were not held responsible for their acts and the complaints should be dismissed", Mr. Methot said.

The action taken against Jean-Marc Godin, of Asbestos, who is alleged to have told one of the plaintiffs, Jean-Paul Houle, to drop the charges, that the government always won their cases and that the lawyers were costing him too much money, was postponed indefinitely.

Local Air Cadets Leave August 8 For Summer Camp

Thirty-three local Air Cadets will leave Sherbrooke on August 8, to join other squadrons to form a contingent who will spend two weeks training at the RCAF station in Aylmer, Ont.

The squadron is formed of local boys of sixteen and under who have in the past year attended regularly the Air Cadet classes at the Radar Unit. There they are taught radar and the modern techniques of flying along with drill.

This camp enables the future airmen to acustom themselves to life in the Air Force and its discipline. The cadets will sleep in tents, will be given daily lectures, and have organized sport. Flying time will also be given the cadets, which will give them rides in many makes of airplanes.

They will return to Sherbrooke on Aug. 23. The contingent will include cadets from Montreal, Quebec, Shawinigan Falls, Three Rivers and other provincial centres.

Colorado Canal Named After Ex-E. T. Resident

Ed. F. Munroe, uncle of Percy Dunbar, Durham Street, Sherbrooke and at one time a resident of Melbourn Ridge, through the industry of his efforts over the past 20 years as a leader in the construction of the Colorado Big Thompson system was rewarded for his efforts recently when the canal, upon completion, was named after him.

The canal named in his honor will be known as the "Ed Munroe Gravity Canal," according to a resolution passed by directors and stockholders of the North Poudre Irrigation Company.

Mr. Munroe, a rancher owning a 37,000 acre tract of land at Fort Collins, Colorado, masters herds of 1000 head of cattle and 3000 sheep. He has been a director and president of the North Poudre Irrigation Company for 30 years and director of the Northern Colorado Water Conservancy District since its organization in 1935.

Mr. Munroe took a leading part in organizing the Conservancy District, which made the contract with the U.S. Reclamation Bureau for construction of the Colorado Big Thompson system. A few years ago he was instrumental in a change in the plans for conveying project water from Horseshoe Reservoir to the North Poudre Irrigation canal.

Mr. Justice Barclay said that "on the whole" the trial judge dealt adequately with the real matters upon which the defence was based—whether the woman's death was accidental and whether Ford's statement was true or false.

SCHOOL FRILLS—In some city schools, and towns too, insistence has been laid on large auditoriums as well as extensive recreation facilities and too little thought has been given to the fundamental needs of teaching.

Five New Members Are Added To Paton Manufacturing Co. 25-Year Club

Canada's textile industry needs more than ever today the skill and experience and reliability of men and women who have been a long time in the industry. A. F. Anderson, director of Paton Manufacturing Company Limited, said here last night.

Principal speaker at the annual dinner of the Quarter Century Club of Paton's, Mr. Anderson welcomed five new members and said that the gathering of some 70 club members and guests was an indication of "how fortunate Paton's has been in its employees down through the years."

"Imports are rising and our low tariff rates are almost an invitation to any country, trying to get rid of surplus or distress merchandise, to dump substantial amounts of it here."

He said that sales were hard to make and products had to be perfect in quality or customers would shop elsewhere. People today would not buy textiles or textile products simply because their fathers and mothers had bought the same kind.

Colorado Canal Named After Ex-E. T. Resident

The Birthday Club, operated by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Sherbrooke Hospital, yesterday celebrated its second anniversary by presenting the hospital with an attachment for the anaesthetic machine used in case-rooms.

Presenting the gift was Mrs. G. A. Rockwell, convener of the Club, while others present were Mrs. K. C. F. Mills, President of the Sherbrooke Hospital Ladies Auxiliary; Dr. E. A. Cooper, Chairman of the Gynecological and Obstetrical committee in the Hospital; Miss Clara Aitkenhead, Director of Nursing; H. C. Allnutt, Hospital Administrator, and Miss Thelma Graham, Head Nurse on the Maternity floor.

The birthday club was instituted with the first baby born at the new hospital after all patients had been moved from the old building by June 23, 1951.

Last year the Birthday Club celebrated its first anniversary by presenting the hospital with a resuscitator.

These conditions, he said, called for the utmost in skill, experience and reliability on the part of textile workers and nowhere were these qualities more present than among members of Paton's Quarter Century Club and similar organizations in the industry.

"Canada's textile industry today is facing what it is very existence," Mr. Anderson said. "Recent years have seen revolutionary changes in textile materials and manufacturing methods and in public demand for textiles and textile products."

"There is every prospect of even further changes in the immediate future," he continued, "and Canadian producers and workers must remain alert in mind, flexible in organization, up-to-date in every respect if they are to survive the fierce competition for the consumer dollar that is a feature of today's business conditions. Particularly must there be mutual confidence and co-operation between workers and those charged with the responsibilities of the management end of the business. There must be a realization that neither side gains by making unreasonable demands or imposing unreasonable restraints upon the other."

COMMENTS ON PUZZLE

NO. 4

Analysis of more difficult clues.

ACROSS

- FEATS is best. FEATS can stir our emotions, certainly. FEARS are, in themselves, emotions.
- PACK is best. Normally a march is conducted at a moderate pace which should be "packed" with a soldier unduly carrying a PACK a long way can be extremely uncomfortable.
- SING is best. Since SINK and swim have opposite meanings, it is literally impossible to SINK while you are swimming.
- INSURED is best. Since the whole object of being INSURED is to get some form of compensation when the occasion arises, INSURED is a particularly strong answer. Compensation when a man is INJURED is very much a matter of circumstance. (Is he "INSURED" for instance?)
- TASKS is best. "Completed" applies more naturally to TASKS "Produced" or "turned out" would be better for TASKS.
- DECENT is best. Comparatively few phonograph records are sold entirely because they are RECENT. There is normally a good demand for RECENT records, including any such ones as may also happen to be RECENT.

DOWN

- DERISION is best. He will not resent a DECISION as such, it would have to be "bad" or "unwelcome".
- PLANTED is best. Whatever he may be PLANNED, he will not be in the position to suffer disappointment until he has got further and actually PLANTED them.
- PATH is best. A BATH cannot be widened, it must be left as it is or changed altogether. If a PATH is too narrow, it may be little you can do about it.
- HIT is best. With most people, being HIT is just the normal state of affairs. Being a HIT can certainly make a man feel "on top of the world".
- FAR is best. A person is unlikely to get FAR if he isn't properly fed. He doesn't require to be properly fed to get FAT, which he is more likely to do by being unwisely fed.
- TRUCKS is best. TRUCKS actually carry things themselves. TRUCKS merely contain things, and are themselves carried.
- DOPE is best. It is a substance which can be dangerous, and upon which a strict check should be kept, thus a doctor will naturally be very careful when measuring it out. The precise amount of many ordinary DOSE of medicine is not critical.
- SIDE is best. It certainly wouldn't be natural to SIDE with such a person; but you may well RIDE with him for "diplomatic" reasons, or because you have no choice.
- NEXT is best. NEXT means nearest "time, place or degree" which "couldn't be much closer". FEET is part of you, not close to you. VEST or BELT, not at all close to something NEXT to you.

RATHER STRONG WORDS

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent has done little to enhance his prestige by breaking away from his usually moderate and considered utterances by declaring during the course of his opening address that the days of depression would return to Canada unless the Liberals were returned to power. This is another way which some speakers of both parties have a habit of saying that when a Liberal (or Conservative) party is in power there is always prosperity; when the Liberal (or Conservative) party is in power there is always a depression.

That is nonsense, because if that were so the people of Canada from generation to generation would have noticed the difference, and long ere now would have voted so consistently for one party that the other would have passed out of existence.

It is silly for a political candidate, whether he be a cabinet minister or a back bencher, to make an extravagant claim for his party which is absurd on the face of things. It implies that all the wisdom and statesmanlike acumen are to be found on his side, while the opponents are intellectually bankrupt. That sort of men don't run for Parliament in Canada, and even if they did, the electors would notice it at once and vote against them.

As a matter of fact the depression of the nineteen-thirties occurred during the term of office of the late Prime Minister Mackenzie King, who was not even aware that it had set in. He denied in the House of Commons that there was any serious unemployment in Canada, and a few days later he stepped off the train at Winnipeg he was greatly surprised to find a demonstration by several thousands of unemployed awaiting him. And Mr. King was the type of leader who frequently claimed that only a Liberal government could make Canada prosperous. He even went so far as to say that the Second World War might be lost unless he and his party were re-elected.

Jobless men in the mass are inclined to blame the government of the day for depressions, and the result of the ensuing election was that the King government was thrown out and a Conservative government under the late Prime Minister R. B. Bennett took its place. But individual governments have usually little to do with depressions. Bad times are invariably due to world conditions over which governments have little or no control. Hence it was that Mr. Bennett's term of office was an unhappy one, and the same experience befell the regime of President Hoover of the United States. Both were very able statesmen and were the victims of world circumstances.

RED "PEACE" MOVES

Two weeks ago the Soviet Government had made a series of swift diplomatic moves which looked like a new kind of "peace offensive" that might be more divisive to the western allies than its predecessors. Yet, the Christian Science Monitor continues, today the effect appears less than one might have feared. Moscow's offers either have not found takers or been heavily discounted in a bear market. It is not that the western countries do not desire peace; they are just looking a little deeper than the label.

To Turkey, for example, the Kremlin suggested revision of the Montreux convention about the Dardanelles, using abandonment of some old territorial claims as bait. The Turks, schooled in a few centuries of this sort of thing, have let the matter lie, observing that there is plenty of time for such a conference and that other countries are concerned.

Meanwhile, their military officials have completed the first joint staff talks with those of Greece and Yugoslavia under the recently completed Balkan Entente. These looked toward more effective distribution of troops for defense along the borders of Soviet satellites.

Police restrictions in Austria had been eased by the Russian occupation authorities and diplomatic amenities had been restored between Moscow and Marshal Tito at Belgrade. Yet the only obvious result of these actions to date seems to be an agreement by Yugoslavia to let 26 Soviet military vessels, now docked in Vienna, move down the Danube to the Black Sea for repairs. This withdrawal looks like caution on the part of the Russians and a gain for Austria.

Then there is the matter of the much-advertised concessions to East Germany which were found to conceal an unpaid 10 per cent increase in "work norms" for East German workers. This led to the week of costly riots not wholly suppressed even by Soviet tanks. Altogether, the Soviet visage has been grim for so long that people are not quickly disarmed when it attempts a smile.

CONGRESSMEN ARE IN A JAM — BUT NOT THE KIND YOU THINK

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
Washington — (NEA) — It's warming up in Washington, and if you think matters in your nation's capital are in a jam, (1) you are right and (2) the flavor is blackberry.

The Hon. Homer D. Angell, Republican representative from Multnomah County, Ore., which includes the city of Portland, supplied this flavor the other day when he made a speech on the subject of "Oregon Wildcross Blackberry Jam."

The Honorable Angell did more than this. He — But let Representative Angell tell it in his own words in a speech that will no doubt go down in history as a worthy rival to the oratorical outbursts of the late Sen. Huey Long of Louisiana, on the celebrated subject of "Corn Pone and Pot Likker."

"I have caused to be placed on the tables of the House restaurant a sufficient quantity of this very delectable jam for every member to have the opportunity to sample it," the congressman announced.

To make a long story short, he did and they did. And the gentleman from Oregon received many yippee compliments from his colleagues on the quality of the wildcross blackberry jam produced in his district.

Representative Angell got in all this fine free publicity for the Willamette Valley under "permission to address the House for one minute, and to revise and extend his remarks and include therein extraneous matter."

The extraneous matter included "The Story of the Bees, the Bears and the Berries." This is where the literary quality of the undelivered part of the congressman's speech comes in. And just to show you what weighty issues prey upon the minds of the lawmakers these days, "The Story of the Bees, the Bears and the Berries," is given herewith and in full.

Sample Of Folklore And Advertising

If the title sounds as though it had something to do with telling little children about the facts of life, it is not the facts of life but other facts of life. As a contribution to American folklore and advertising, this one belongs in the book:

"Kushnowaga, chief of the Mid-Columbia Indians, sat on his mat in front of his teepee on the hillside, pondering speculatively on the movement of covered wagons that crossed the rocks of Wyoming far below. The year was 1855. Kushnowaga was 22 years old, precociously young for a medicine man of such great wisdom.

"He thoughtfully inhaled the delicate fumes of Kinkinick from the long amber-colored pipe. First he gave the strange white visitors (a slight understatement, the Quinote salmon to give them strong bones. That was the greatest gift that Wantaonka, the Great Spirit, gave to man.

"Wantaonka also gave love to the red man so that people could live in friendly fashion with each other, but first he gave the symbolic fruit of love to the black furred people which Yakimahs call DeYun, the white man's bear. Behind all this is a spirit of universal good will.

"The fruit he gave the bears, the Yakimahs called Olallie DeYun, the blackberry of the bears, and the Romans called it Rubus Ursinus, which means the same thing in Latin, as any high school student knows.

Best Speech In Congress That Day

"So the Great Spirit gave the berry to the bears, who shared it with the Indians who shared it with Mr. A. W. O'Connell's grand uncle, Mr. Clarence O'Connell, in 1872. Clarence shared it with his nephew, Dennis O'Connell, who shared it with Pleasant Valley's own Mr. A. W. O'Connell (no place else wants him).

"Then the bees and the birds as well got into the act and an Italian bee flitted from a wild blackberry blossom, stung an outraged Mexican on the cheek. He lit on a boysenberry blossom on Mr. O'Connell's hillbilly patch on O'Connell Creek in Pleasant Valley. He sipped contentedly. He buzzed lazily. He fell asleep.

"The pollen went to work, starting a chain reaction of atomic force.

"A berry fruit formed. The seeds ripened and fell. Then the rains came, imbedding the seeds in the rich fertile, warm earth, nurtured in the bosom of Mother Earth. The sun gave it life, and that is how O'Connell's wildcross blackberry was born in 1944 in Pleasant Valley.

"The fruit of this glorious vine is reputedly delectable (good) on waffles or hotcakes and crisply fried ham with succulent mouthfuls of O'Connell's jam."

So that's how the congressmen in far off Washington got a chance to sample the jam grown in Representative Angell's district, and there wasn't a better speech delivered in Congress that day.

USE OF COFFEE RISING IN CANADA

Kitchener-Waterloo Record
In the last 20 years Canadians have been stepping up their use of coffee. Americans are great coffee drinkers. The fact that the beverage pendulum has been swinging in that direction over here is due in some measure to American influence. But there are other factors too, that have played an important part in upping coffee sales in Canada. Higher incomes, the growing popularity of the coffee break, the introduction of new devices for brewing coffee and the impact of advertising have combined to increase the use of coffee.

An article in Foreign Trade, published by the Department of Trade and Commerce, points out that at the turn of the century the value of coffee imports was less than $500,000. In 1952 the value reached over $50,000,000. About seven pounds of coffee were imported for each person in Canada, almost double the pre-war consumption.

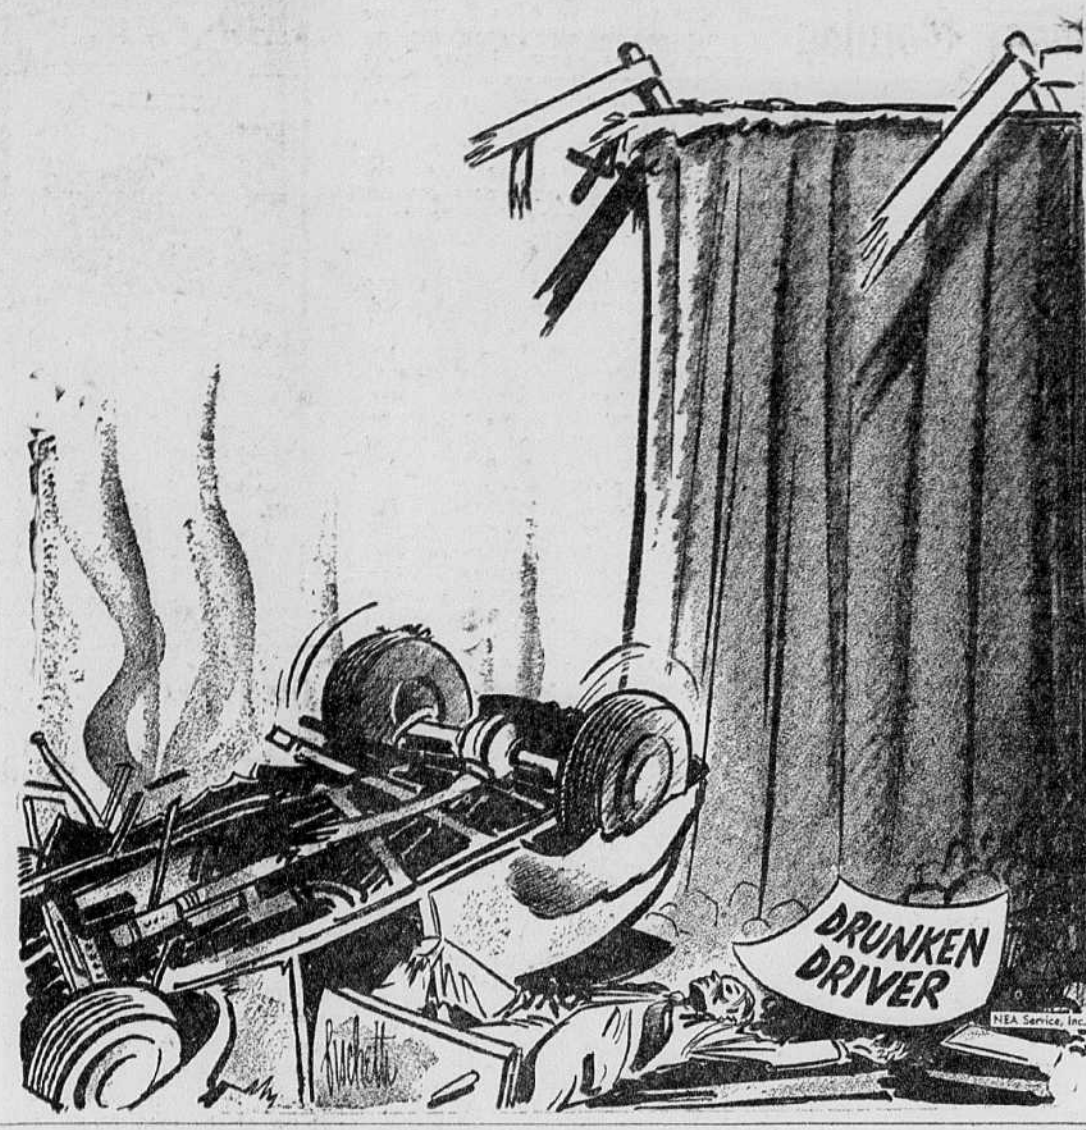

Of the 98,000,000 pounds imported by Canada last year 72,000,000 came from Brazil and Colombia, the two giants in the coffee world.

GREATER PROSPERITY

Windsor Star
Speaking in Montreal the other day, a New York advertising executive, Mr. Arno H. Johnson, expressed some thoughts that all timid people would do well to paste in their hats. "We could talk ourselves into a depression," he said, "but a relatively small increase in purchases would bring even greater prosperity than we know now."

He was not speaking of purchases in terms of over-extended credit, but rather of those backed by adequate spending power. Certainly the effects of this stimulus would be felt in every store, in every factory, and right back to primary industries where raw materials are produced. Mr. Johnson's comments are to a great extent borne out by experience acquired during the depression. For Canada, the relatively small increase of $1,000,000,000 in national income was enough to mark what then was called the turning of a corner, into better times.

Epitaph: "Bottoms Up"

Three Gardens

By REV. B. S. MURRAY, M.A.

In the summer time Gardens are lovelinesses in which to be still and think things through. To be invited to "Come into the garden" is, to me, always a pleasure. I like this out-of-doors room. It matters not whether it is a few square yards behind a crowded city dwelling or in an appropriate country setting. It's a garden and I am near God's heart.

There, too, I am a part of Life's long procession for, since early days, our rude forebears have been co-workers with God in planting, sowing and caring for Gardens — and accordingly acquired qualities of faith, hope and great expectations. You'll also find adventure and fun; work and health; peace and happiness; beauty and usefulness. And quiet, too, in this little bit of Paradise where we can find God's heart and perchance musing, so grasp the meaning of happy growing things, the mystery of open bud and floating seed, that we may weave it into the tissue of our faith in life eternal. Tongues in Gardens? I hope you will hear a Voice bidding you to seek steady root and cultivate those traits which brighten under adversity with the perennial loveliness of hardy borders. Don't you agree that Gardens are lovelinesses? Happy is he who finds God in the cool of garden.

THE CHURCH

In the second garden, The Christian Church, you are certain to find God. It is sufficiently large to include all sorts and conditions of people, irrespective of race, creed or what-not. It is international, universal, catholic.

At its heart is a special plot marked—The Word of Life—the Bible which "is like a garden with flowers bright and fair and every one who seeks may pluck a lovely garland there" (Ps. 139: 17). There are directions how to grow "love, joy, peace, long suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, years, by sweat of brow, head and heart—these three—have contributed towards making Canada a garden of the Lord (Gen. 13: 10). God reward them!

Beautiful and productive as the Canadian garden is, there are unfortunately such weeds as pride, enviousness, bigotry, hate which, if not controlled, will produce lawlessness and discord, nationalism, pride and arrogance thereby preventing our being a brotherland, offering equal right to all and special privileges to none.

Basking in the afterglow of the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II, and full of hope for another glorious Elizabethan era, let us Canadians, exhibiting the spirit of service, love and mutual forbearance, resolve to remain, if the Lord wills, a people strong and godly, peaceful, happy and free, loyal to the Throne and Empire and true to ourselves and God for aye.

Wake up Canadians! Rededicate yourselves to living the brotherly life in word and deed, everywhere, in all fellowships. Our national reward for this adventure may well be peace and prosperity with a continuation of "honourable industry, sound learning and pure manners." And further, ours is the high privilege of witnessing for God among the kingdoms of the world, to the advancement of God's glory and the good of all mankind.

Let us rise to noble thought, and acknowledging our indifference, our selfishness, narrowness, and lack of appreciation of our British heritage, go forward, with faith in God, ourselves and humanity, determined to play the man for Canada and the cities of our God. (2 Sam. 10: 12) Let us do this with full abandon "and the Lord do that which seemeth Him good."

THE MEMBER'S JOB

We cannot expect all members of parliament to be nation builders, but we have the right to demand that they act for the good of the country as a whole and not for their own little corner of it, be it east or west.

Stockholm. — (CP) — The Swedish agriculture minister, Sam Norup, accepted an invitation from the United States government to study farming methods in America. He will be accompanied by the undersecretary for agriculture, O. Hegrelus.

By OSWALD JACOBY

WEEP NO TEARS OVER FOE'S BONER

Sometimes you get the chance to make a fine play only because an opponent has already made a mistake. That shouldn't spoil your enjoyment. It's pleasant to make your contract after sparking play by both sides, but you shouldn't weep bitter tears if your chance for the contract has been given to you by an enemy's mistake. In today's hand, after brief but energetic bidding, West opened the king of clubs and continued with the ace of clubs. South ruffed the second round of clubs with the deuce and immediately led a low trump to dummy's ace and a small trump back towards his hand. East made the mistake of playing a low heart on the second round of trumps, hoping that South would go up with the king. As it happened, however, South was clever enough to make the safety play of finessing the ten of hearts. West naturally discarded a club on the ten of hearts, thus revealing the trump break. South switched immediately to diamonds, knocking out East's ace. East couldn't return a club, for then dummy would ruff. "Any other return gave South a chance to draw one more trump with the king and then run good tricks until East got ready to take his trump trick. South deserved credit for the finessing of the ten of hearts and also for the rest of the play. East could have defeated the contract, however, by playing the jack of hearts on the second round of trumps. If South allows East to hold the trick (the best play), East returns a club. South dares not ruff in his own hand, since then East will

THE MATURE PARENT

NERVOUS UPSET, NOT DIVORCE DECREE, IS WHAT HURTS CHILD

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

A certain psychiatrist fell for the propaganda which promotes the idea that children of legal divorce have to be disturbed children.

Trained in respect for realities, she made a point of checking back on the records of some 1000 disturbed children with whom she had been professionally involved. To her amazement, she discovered that few of their parents had been legally divorced. But they had been what the psychiatrist, Dr. J. Louise Despert, calls "emotionally" divorced.

So in her new book, "Children of Divorce," Dr. Despert reverses the propaganda in the following words: "It is not divorce, but the emotional situation in a home, with or without divorce, that is the determining factor in a child's adjustment."

This is an encouraging statement for thousands of divorced parents who are retarding their own development as well as Jimmy's adjustment by clinging to guilt and self-contempt for their marital failure.

So long as Jimmy's divorced parents retain the idea that their decree can destroy him, they are going to be apologetic and defensive toward him for getting it. Whereas, the fact is Jimmy cares little about marriage licenses or divorce decrees.

What scares Jimmy in all situations is that two people whom he needs to trust permit fear, contempt and anger to direct their attitudes and responses to each other.

For divorced parents to accept the propaganda that their decree threatens Jimmy with emotional disaster weakens their recuperative power at the very time they need it. To their personal hurt it added terror for Jimmy. "You take your freedom," says the propaganda, "at the cost of Jimmy's happiness."

Fredom from fear, contempt and anger is a spiritual right. Sometimes, we have not been wise enough to be able to claim it in the environment of someone who feels such emotions toward us. We have had to physically remove ourselves in order to deal more efficiently with our own fear, contempt and anger.

This is failure. We dare not delude ourselves about that. However, we dare not let ourselves for it either. If we do, we just support resentment for the person who seems to have been responsible for it.

But the only real failure we can possibly experience is the refusal to learn from failure. Dr. Despert makes this point. She suggests that it is quite possible that Jimmy can profit from our failures if we make brave use of it. She suggests it is not our mistakes that disturb Jimmy, but the attitudes we make toward them.

SHOOT STORY

Winter Evenings

By RUTH K. KENT

Evvy liked winter evenings best because then she had time to do her fancy work. Before she married Bill her days were filled by the office and evening she had to care for mamma . . . winter and summer. Now she had to sprinkle the lawn on summer evenings, but winter . . . last year she made that green needlepoint cushion she and Bill were so proud of. It was sacred to Evvy . . . almost like a child.

This winter she was making seats for the dining room chairs, and they were coming along nicely until the Harpers moved in next door early in January. Kathy Harper was tall but she seemed daintily beside Evvy's five feet. Kathy could twist her indulgent husband, Curt, around her finger. And her eyes often wandered across the fence after that first day she came over and gushed, "That gorgeous Wedgwood! You wouldn't sell it?"

Evvy wouldn't. But the Italian pottery bowl and the tiny flowered picture frame and the blue pitcher found their way to Kathy's living room. Everything seemed to look better in Kathy's living room.

Kathy raved about the needlepoint cushion. Afterwards Bill said, "I'm surprised she didn't get it, too."

Then Kathy started bringing over Curt. "Let's have some bridge," she suggested.

One evening Kathy said, "Let's play for money."

Evvy glanced at Bill, but he did not move.

"Quarter a corner," Curt said. Bill got that defensive look. "You'll have to work for it."

Bill was an accurate player, but Kathy had a way of taking all the tricks the way she took everything else. Mostly with her chatter. Bill couldn't concentrate. Kathy started bringing over her indulgent Curt.

They had a way of putting when she lost. That made Evvy secretly afraid that Bill was letting her win. So the needlepoint lay rolled in the new basket. "I'll work on it next week," Evvy would vow.

But next week was always the same. Except that Curt Harper sort of faded out. Sometimes Evvy and Bill would want to go to a movie. Kathy invited herself along and sat on the other side of Bill.

Mamma always said to Evvy, "If you'd get mad once in a while, people wouldn't push you around." Evvy was getting mad.

One evening when she was out making coffee she heard Kathy in the living room coaxing Bill for something. She'd lost her dollar . . . probably trying to coax it back. Kathy's laughter tolled a knock in Evvy's heart.

Evvy hurried in. Kathy cried, "Don't you dare, Bill . . ." and reached for Evvy's needlepoint cushion, ready to plop it on Bill's head. "You put that pillow back," Evvy shouted. "Don't you dare touch it."

Bill took the pillow gently. "Ah, ah . . . no touch."

Evvy slammed down the tray. "Nobody touches that pillow. Least of all you, Kathy Harper. That's one thing to keep your hands off."

They stared at her. Evvy realized she'd been screaming. "I don't want coffee," Kathy said. "I have to go."

"Too bad," Bill said. "Give me my pen."

She threw Bill's fountain pen at him. "Take it, stingy," she said. The door slammed.

Evvy crumpled to a chair. "I . . . got so mad . . ."

"You sure did," Bill reached for a cookie. "She won't be back."

Evvy started to cry. Maybe Bill'd go calling on Kathy now. "How could I?"

Bill's eyes narrowed. "She was pawing your pillow."

"I don't care for myself," Evvy cried. "But now you can't play bridge."

Bill scratched his head. "I thought you couldn't live without her. You mean . . . ye gods . . . I was doing it for you." He fingered his pen. "Well, she didn't get everything from us."

Evvy smiled. Kathy didn't get anything, really. She laid her head on Bill's arm. "I'm going to finish that needlepoint now."

Home And School Program Report

As final column until late in August when we hope to resume activities, we are giving you information re Home Climate Plays "Scattered Showers", "Fresh Variable Winds"—and "High Pressure Area".

These plays will be of particular interest to branches like Lennoxville and Magog, where ground-work has been done through study groups and lectures on mental hygiene.

The scripts can be obtained from Macdonald College Adult Education Service, Macdonald College, Quebec, for $1 a copy and 50c for discussion guide manual.

Every town has citizens interested in amateur dramatics—so get your scripts now and get working so that you will be ready to produce one play this autumn.

Remember you will need a discussion leader, so write Mrs. C. Sheppard, 5554 Coolbrooke ave., Montreal, who is secretary of Parent Education Committee, and will do her best to supply you with a competent leader.

Parents, with few exceptions, want to do the best they can for their children. Today, that means being alert to the new knowledge and understanding of child growth and child care and especially to recent ideas about personality development. Because these are different from many of our traditional beliefs and long accepted practices, parents are often faced with acute perplexities over what they should do, and how they should deal with the "normal" activities of growing children and adolescents.

At school age the child "goes forth" into the large world. He begins to live in society and to meet the demands of other people and impersonal organizations. At this time, the close, intimate and dependent relationship of the child with his parents must be enlarged to include other relationships, which bring new problems for the child and his parents. To live in this larger social world, the child has to learn more and more in direction, more and more capacity to make judgments and decisions in these "extra family" situations where his parents are not present. Many of the conflicts arise from the child's seeing how other families live and rear their children and his desire to do as his playmates do.

The larger world of school and playground is very demanding. The child's standing in his own age group depends upon meeting their standards of behaviour of speech, of fairness, of unfairness. The rules of "niceness", of cleanliness and politeness, for manners and for obedience, which guided him in the home, begin to lose their former meaning and importance. What seems to be happening is that the child is struggling to reconcile what he knows to be good, desirable conduct with what his age group demands as the price of his "belonging". At all cost he must be "in", have the acceptance of his playmates and not be out on the fringe or ignored.

Many parents have not learned to put into words the understanding and sympathy they may feel for the boy caught in these perplexing and always unhappy situations.

The discussion period which will follow the play and in which the audience is asked to participate, will be along these lines and we hope it may be stimulating to better understanding of our children's basic needs.

Will Branches who have not christened suggestions for use in this column please do so in time for late August. Thank you.

Plan To Include Bury In Your Dominion Day Activities

Bury Prepares Gay And Full Program For Annual Dominion Day Celebrations

Bury. — The citizens of this little Compton County village are presently getting ready to roll out the red carpet of welcome again for the thousands of visitors who annually throng here for the Dominion Day celebrations for which Bury has achieved renown.

The Bury Athletic Association in collaboration with local residents has worked long and arduously to justify their slogan that "all roads lead to Bury on Dominion Day." They are now busy completing every detail in readiness for the big day.

The new outdoor dance pavilion, covering an area of 6000 sq. feet is nearing completion and will be ready for the big dance which winds up the day's festivities. This promises to be a great attraction to those who like to dance. Les Beaulieu's well-known orchestra will furnish the music. In the event of rain, the Town Hall will be available. Flags, bunting, and decorated properties add an attractive note of gaiety to the town's appearance on this occasion.

A baseball match between Sawyerville and Bury, at 9.30 a.m. gets the day off to a good start.

At 12.30 the mammoth street parade leaves its starting point at the C.P.R. station and takes its course through the main streets, returning finally to Memorial Park where the various floats, decorated cars, bicycles, horse-drawn and comic rigs will be judged and awarded prizes.

The Canaan, Vt. High School Band of 30 pieces will be in attendance all day.

Full course meals will be served in the dining hall under the capable management of Mr. and Mrs. Desruisseaux. They will also serve soft drinks, sandwiches and coffee at the dance. The Desruisseauxs have earned a well-deserved reputation as caterers through long experience in catering to the Ayer's Cliff and Cookshire fairs, the Sherbrooke Exhibition and Winter Fair. Refreshment booths on the ground will provide light lunches as well as ice cream, soft drinks, etc.

Swings under the trees will keep the children amused and happy.

A program of sports and special events takes place in the afternoon.

One special event that creates interest is the Horse Shoe pitching which attracts many enthusiastic fans, both local and out-of-town. This event is in charge of Gerald Huot and his committee.

The ladies' Rolling Pin throw is another event that draws a crowd of spectators. A novelty event this year is a pillow fight on a pole with the contestants blind-folded. Special prizes will be given as usual to the oldest man and the oldest woman on the grounds.

Among the many prizes and trophies offered on this occasion is a special trophy known as the Victor Jewkes Trophy awarded to the athlete of the Township of Bury with highest aggregate of points.

Early evening features a concert, replacing the former Amateur Hour. This is under the supervision of Miss Palmer with Mrs. Russell Dougherty and Mrs. Cloutier assisting.

A big fireworks display which promises to outdo all those of previous years, will be followed by the big dance, a fitting climax to an eventful day.

Under the capable direction of Mr. Ronald Stokes, the various committees are as follows:

Dance committee: R. N. Mayhew, chairman, I. L. Batley, W. A. Bishop, D. H. Harrison, K. D. MacDonald.

Park committee: T. G. Stokes, chairman, A. J. Barter, Ivan Barter, Wm. MacDonald, Wm. Gaulin, Peter Matheson, Reynard Atkins.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

Helen is quick to do a favor for a friend. But she spoils it all by making such a point of the fact that she is putting herself out for the other person. Before Helen has forgotten the favor and quit mentioning it, the other person wishes Helen hadn't bothered. When you do a favor for another make light of it at the time and never mention it afterwards.

Or you may get resentment where you expected appreciation.

(AF) Camp Borden, Ont., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Claricoates, of Leicester, England, took place in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Scotstown, on Saturday afternoon, June 6, at half past two o'clock, the Rev. J. W. Smith officiating. The wedding music was played by Miss Lillian MacIver, and the soloist, Mr. Henry Moulard, of Milan, sang "O Perfect Love" before the ceremony, and "Because" during the signing of the register. The church was decorated with lilacs and yellow and blue spring flowers and the guest pews were marked with blue and yellow satin bows.

The bride, given away by her father, wore a French blue nylon marquisette gown over blue taffeta, with trimming of daisy medallions, and a small blue hat with veils and matching veil. Her accessories were French blue and white, and she carried a bouquet of red Sweetheart roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Edwin Echenberg, of Sherbrooke, as matron of honor for her sister, wore a costume of sunset yellow styled similarly to that worn by the bride, with yellow and white accessories, and she carried a nosegay of yellow carnations and sweet peas.

Mr. Edwin Echenberg acted as best man, and the ushers were Messrs. Leslie Armstrong and Fred Caton, all of Sherbrooke.

The bride's mother was attired in a street-length dress of navy sheer over navy and white taffeta, and she wore a hat of navy straw with yellow rosebuds, yellow rosebud corsage, and blue and white accessories.

The reception, catered by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion, Branch 210, was held in the church hall, decorated in blue and yellow, with blue and yellow flowers on the tables. The bride's table was set with the three-tier wedding cake, made by Mrs. Woolley, and flanked by ivory tapers in crystal candlesticks. Toasts were proposed to the Queen, to the bride and to the matron of honor, and were ably responded to. Following the reception the guests proceeded with the bridal party to the Boy home, to view the wedding gifts.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Claricoates left for their wedding trip to New York City and points in New England, the bride travelling in line a navy coat, with white medallion hat trimmed with sequins, red and white accessories, and a corsage of white gardenias.

KNOWLTON

Colfax Rebekah Lodge, No. 29, held a special meeting in the L. O. O. F. Hall, on June 17, when the initiatory degree was conferred on two members by Morning Star Rebekah Lodge of Newport. The work was beautifully exemplified and the degree team received numerous congratulations on the work, during the course of the evening.

The noble grand, Sister Helen Ling, was in the chair and conducted the meeting. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Sister Pearl L. Windle, and were approved.

The treasurer, Sister Agnes McClay, gave the Financial Statement and also reported that the net proceeds of the dinner served were $175.

It was announced that the arrangements for the card party in aid of the Knowlton High School Band were completed and that the party would be held on Friday evening, June 19.

Sister Sadie Price, of Verdun was welcomed to the Lodge as a member by transfer certificate. For the good of the order, Sister Dorothy Ransom, on behalf of the Lodge, presented, Sister Pearl E. Windle and Brother Sam Windle with a beautiful basket of flowers on the occasion of their 40th wedding anniversary. A beautiful cake made and decorated by Sister Muriel Melnis, in their honor was served during the refreshments period.

Remarks were listened to from several of the members and an invitation to attend a meeting with Morning Star Lodge, was extended by one of the visiting sisters. Brother Windle expressed their thanks and appreciation for the gift presented them.

Lodge was brought to a close in ritual form and refreshments were served.

THE UNITED W. M. S.
The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church took place at the home of Mrs. George Cote, on Wednesday afternoon, June 17, with the president, Mrs. E. H. Gray, in the chair.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved and several sick calls were reported as the roll call was answered.

Mrs. Gray gave the treasurer's report in the absence of that officer.

Miss Lucia Knowlton reported that $30. had been realized from the food sale.

Reading points were collected by Mrs. Donald E. Miller.

It was decided to pack a parcel at the next meeting to be sent to Miss Ada Sandell, in Korea.

Mrs. H. L. Hastings, Mrs. R. W. McCutcheon and Mrs. Watson, were appointed to take charge of the W.M.S. sales table at the garden party on July 15.

The theme of the June meeting was "Adventuring In Bible Study" with the topic for the worship service being, "The Holy Bible." The hymn "Father of Mercies, In Thy Word" was sung after which the president, Mrs. Gray, read the scripture passage Psalm 119: 129-136, which was followed by Prayer and meditation.

A short play, "Adventuring In Bible Study" was then presented, with Mrs. H. L. Hastings, Mrs. George Cote, Mrs. H. W. Spencer, Miss Lucia Knowlton and Mrs. Elton Bockus taking part.

The presentation stressed the fact that modern woman can find in the Bible direction for her life and food for her spirit; that there is dynamic truth within the Bible relevant to and adequate for our needs.

That renewal of Church and National life to-day may wait upon a rediscovery of Biblical truth; that it is not enough to read about the Bible, its truth confronts only those who read and ponder it themselves.

Mrs. Donald Miller read an article written by the Archbishop of York, and a discussion period followed, when various ways and means were brought forth on the reading of the Bible to-day in the home as well as in study groups.

The hymn "O Word of God, Incarnate" was sung and the meeting closed with the benediction after which the hostess served tea.

Sponsored by Colfax Rebekah Lodge and in aid of Knowlton High School Band, a delightful card

Bride-Elect Given Shower At Canterbury East

Canterbury East, June 27. — A very happy event took place on June 13, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Goodwin, when a miscellaneous shower was given in honor of Miss Jean Buchanan, now Mrs. Robert MacDonald, a popular bride-to-be.

The hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Irving Elger, Mrs. W. S. MacKaskill, Mrs. Arnold MacKenzie and Mrs. Milton Goodwin.

As the guest of honor entered the rooms to the strains of the wedding music, she was escorted to a decorated chair by Mrs. MacKenzie, who presented her with a corsage.

Miss Buchanan was the recipient of many beautiful gifts. She was assisted in opening these by her mother Mrs. Wilbert Buchanan, and the mother of the groom, Mrs. Ross MacDonald.

The guest of honor thanked her friends in a few well chosen words. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses assisted by Mrs. Ruel Annesley.

Over thirty guests were present

2.18 Trot Stake Takes Place Tomorrow Evening At 8.30

Lucien Dugre's Stable To Compete In $1,000 Event; Eight Races On Both Cards; Ladies Free This Evening

A well matched field of six starters will face the opening gate tomorrow evening in the 2.18 Trot (Conditioned) Stake in the main feature of the Sherbrooke Racing Club week-end card. Seven other races are slated on the program which will commence at 8.00.

In the Stake Trot Lucien Dugre will send two horses to the wire. It is the first time this season that any members of the Gold and Blue stable take part at the local track. Mickie Volo and Autocrat will carry his colors while Star Boy will be teamed by Louie Praught and owned by another local owner, Dr. R. Veilleux. Prelate is the only American starter and he will be driven by F. Pike. In the BB Pace for a purse of $500 eight horses have been drawn and this class should provide plenty of action before a winner is declared in both heats. In the CC Pace for a purse of $400 another field of seven horses will compete for the top money prizes.

In the first and second race for purses of $250 and are only one dash eight horses will start in each class. The majority of these horses have seen previous action over the smooth surfaced oval and the wagers should have no trouble picking a winner although several of them have come through in first place in their various starts.

Gerry Brooks Retains Top Spot In "Player Of Distinction" Voting; Hobson And Diers Lead Local Squad

The official scorers of the eight Provincial League cities today kept Gerry Brooks of Three Rivers still in the lead in the "Player of Distinction" voting for the Lord Calvert Trophy although only three points separate the first six players.

Brooks has accumulated 24 points to hold down the top perch while Stan Glenn of Quebec and Ted Toles of Three Rivers have moved to within one point of the league leadership. Toles made the biggest gain of the week spurring from fifth into runner-up position with 23 points.

Bob Kurtz of Thetford Mines jumped from a fifth-place tie into third spot, only two points out of first in the very tight "Player of Distinction" race. Deadlocked for fourth position are Paul Bletz of Granby and John Werner of Quebec with 21 points apiece.

Bletz boasts the most first-place selections, a total of seven so far this season. Newspapersmen around the Provincial League circuit give three points to a first-place vote, two for second, and one for a third. At the end of the season the player with the most points of the league will be awarded the Lord Calvert Trophy. Separate awards will be made to winners in each city.

The "Player of Distinction" voting is so close that careful attention is given to the balloting in each city. League statistician Albert Vidal is in charge of the voting totals as forwarded to him by all league scorers.

Bob Kurtz of Thetford Mines is also in the thick of the race for the Calvert honor with 20 points followed closely by Bob Diers and Clell Hobson, both with Sherbrooke one point behind. Diers failed to add any points this week after his points were bumped from 10th into third spot last week.

Thus, three other youngsters will go home with a much cherished souvenir of his ball game. The sale of the "Knot-Hole" badges is going on strong, and if the reports to date is any criterion, a record will be established this year. No doubt that the good turnout furnished by the young Sherbrooke players is an added attraction for the youth of Sherbrooke. Many a parent will want to accompany his boy, or his girl, to the games.

The Optimist Club has undertaken to supervise the kids at the ball game and members will be on attendance at each game to see that the youngsters are supervised properly and that every facility is given them to enjoy the game.

So let's all go to the game Monday night and let the youngsters remember their opening night.

BOXING PROGRAM AT WINDSOR TONIGHT, 8.30

Sherbrooke Edged By Three Rivers

There was little activity on the Provincial Baseball League front Friday night, with only two games scheduled. Both were tight squeezes, St. Johns Canadiens shading Granby Phillies 5-4 and Three Rivers Yankees edging Sherbrooke Indians 8-7.

At St. Johns, the Canadiens were held to six hits but they came through in the pinches to chalk up their decision. It was a four-run opening inning that turned the trick. Burke, starting Phillies' pitcher, was charged with the loss while Rivera went the route for the victors.

At Three Rivers, eight runs in the lucky seventh spelled the difference between victory and defeat for the Yankees.

Sherbrooke got nine hits off Baker and played errorless ball but the big seventh proved too much, despite only seven hits off Underwood and Nayman and an error affaid.

St. Pat's Stopped By Lennoxville For First Defeat

Lennoxville Athletics edged the St. Pat's Indians 4-3 in a regular fixture of the Eastern Townships Amateur Baseball Association. It was the first loss of the season for the Indians in the regular schedule.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2:00 the Athletics will tangle with Compton while tomorrow night at the Municipal Stadium at 7:30 they will pay a visit to the Indians.

In Thursday's tilt Bruce Smith connected for the only run-tripper of the game with one mate aboard. In the opening frame St. Pat's shoved three runs across for an early lead but the Lennoxville team stalemated the score in their half of the frame.

The winning run came in the second inning after Forgues, St. Pat's hurler, had issued three walks. He then struck out two but Charlie Clark came through with a single to drive the winning run home. Lennoxville collected nine hits while the Indians had seven. Neil Bennett curling for the Athletics account for seven via the swinging method while the Indians hurler got six.

MINOR BALL LEAGUE RECEIVES DONATION — Pat Timmons, on the right, president of the Omega Alpha Club is shown presenting a cheque to President Ted Anderson of the Sherbrooke-Lennoxville Minor Baseball League. Paul Leger, secretary-treasurer of the Club, is in the middle, watching activities.

President Anderson is seeking donations for his youngsters who are playing organized baseball for the first time. All the funds raised by this method will be used strictly to buy equipment for the kids.

MINOR BASEBALL MOVES INTO MUNICIPAL STADIUM
The Sherbrooke-Lennoxville Minor Baseball League will stage a doubleheader this afternoon at the local ball park at 1:30 and the youngsters are really looking forward to playing at the Big Park. This is the first time that the kids have had an opportunity to try out on a regular infield and this should help them in turning in a better game.

This is the first year that a Minor Baseball League has been organized in Sherbrooke and after watching the kids in action there is no doubt in our mind that it is worth all the time and effort put in by President Anderson. Ted was named head of the league at the beginning of the month and he has certainly gone out of his way to see that the youngsters have everything to make the league a success.

The money for the loop has been raised by special donations and those who have so generously handed out the money deserve a lot of credit. We are sure that the loop could not have been in operation if it had not been for those good-hearted individuals.

All the cash raised is being spent on the youngsters in buying bats and the odd balls, as the majority of the baseballs come from Lewis Matlin of the Indians. Lew has given Ted numerous bats and balls and if it were not for this we are sure that quite a few times the kids would have been forced to play with old balls.

President Ted has bought special T-shirts for the different teams from the money collected but still a lot more is required to keep the league rolling during the summer months. The youngsters are really taking a big interest in the loop and each day President Ted is receiving telephone calls from more kids who want to play. But with limited funds it is impossible to increase the circuit this year.

We think that this is one cause which really deserves all the backing that it receives. It keeps the kids busy practicing and playing and it doesn't give them much time to get into mischief and that is worth a lot.

To President Ted Anderson and his coaches, managers and umpires, who give their time free-of-charge, we figure that the City of Sherbrooke owes them a lot of credit for operating the league. It is worth all the work and we think that many of our sports-minded people should be willing to give a little towards keeping it in operation. Anyway if you have a few spare minutes drop up to the ball park this afternoon and see the future stars in action.

A boxing card is being held tonight in Windsor and from looking over the list it would seem that the pugilistic fans will be in for a real evening of pleasure. No less than five Golden Glove champions will be seen in action and this should supply plenty of excitement.

The promoters have arranged for a special bus to leave the terminal at 7.30 and will return immediately after the fight. So fans if you love boxing this is a chance of seeing some very good bouts.

Marlene Stewart, the 19-year-old golfing miss from Fonthill, Ont., really made a name for herself and Canada this week when she copped the British Women's Open Amateur championship at Porthcawl, Wales. Marlene is the first Canadian to take the tourney in its 60-year history and at her age it makes it that much more outstanding.

She left no doubt in the minds of the people who followed the match and at the end of the first 18-holes she was six up on her Irish opponent. In her home town she is known as "Little Ben" after the great Ben Hogan.

She competed against the best players from New Zealand, Scotland, Ireland, Wales, Belgium, England and the United States and came through with flying colors which adds all the more prestige to Canada.

A team of golfers representing the Eastern Townships will square off against a squad from the State of Vermont tomorrow afternoon over the 18-hole layout at the Champlain Country Club at St. Albans, Vt. This is an annual event which was started last year and it really has turned into a big event.

It is a two-match affair with one game in the States and the other at the Country Club. It is a fourball match with three points for each match and the team emerging the victors in the two-game tourney is awarded the John-Mansville trophy. A strong team is going down this time and we think that they will give a good show of themselves. So good luck boys.

We're glad to hear that Jacques "Montreal-Matin" Beauchamp is back at his desk once again after a brief stay in the hospital. Jacques is one Montreal writer who, in our estimation, always gave our local hockey club a decent break.
