ANOTHER GERMAN PIRATE, THE MOEWE,
IS STILL AT LARGEBRITISH PASSENGER LINER APPAM SAILS INTO HAMPTON ROADS UNDER GERMAN FLAG—
MOEWE CAPTURED SEVEN BRITISH VESSELS.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 1.—Given up for lost days ago, the British passenger liner Appam plying in the West African trade, sailed like an apparition in Hampton Roads today, flying the German naval ensign and with her ship's company under guard of a German prize crew. She brought word of a mysterious commerce raider, the Moewe, which now roams the seas, and had board the crews of seven British merchantmen and Admiralty transports captured by the Moewe before she seized the Appam and started her across the Atlantic for an American port with Lieut. Hans Berge, of the German Naval Reserve, and twenty-two men in charge.

The Appam now lies off Old Point Comfort, under the guns of Fortress Monroe, waiting for the State Department at Washington to determine her status—whether she is a man-of-war subject to internment or a German prize. By tomorrow the customs authorities here hope to have orders to send the ship either to Norfolk or Newport News, where the anxiously waiting British civilians will be put ashore.

According to the story told with great reserve by Lieut. Berge to Collector of the Port Hamilton when he formally reported his presence in American territorial waters later today, the Moewe, captured the Appam bound from Darak, French West Africa, for Liverpool after a brief show of resistance on January 16, sixty miles north of the Madiera Islands. On board the Moewe then were the crews of five vessels, previously captured, all of whom were transferred to the Appam.

From all reports the raider is a converted German merchantman with a false vanvas fore-castle concealing a battery of guns of fairly large calibre. On Jan. 17, she engaged in battle an armed Australian trader, the Clan MacTavish, which she sank after an exciting combat with a loss of 15 men killed on the Clan MacTavish. The Appam, which was ten miles away at the time, in charge of a prize crew, steamed hurriedly back to the scene and rescued four members of the crew of the sinking Clan MacTavish struggling in the water.

Parts From Moewe.

Later under orders from the commander of the raider, Lieut. Berge headed his prize for an American port and parted company with the Moewe. Nothing has been seen or heard of the raider since, and the Appam steamed across the ocean on an uneventful voyage and reached the Virginia Capes at 5.45 this morning.

On board the Appam all told are 452 persons—the prize crew of 23; twenty German civilians who were on their way to England for internment; 138 seamen captured with the British ships; 116 passengers on the Appam and the Appam's crew of 155.

Lieut. Berge claims the Appam is a prize of war but government officials have not yet accepted this view. She had one mounted rifle aboard when captured, but this was removed by the Moewe and there were no guns aboard when she reached port, except small arms carried by the prize crew.

Exploits of Moewe.

On Jan. 10th the Moewe captured

REVENUE FROM CUSTOMS GROWSTHE EXPENDITURE ON ORDINARY
ACCOUNT HAS BEEN REDUCED.

Ottawa, Feb. 1, 1916.—The Dominion revenue from Customs in January amounted to $10,097,235 an increase of $5,068,027 or more than one hundred per cent. For the ten months of the fiscal year the customs collections amounted to $81,818,539, an increase of $17,959,712. These figures which were issued today confirm the expectation that the special war taxation would be sufficient to bring the revenues up to the required total. The financial statement of the Dominion from the beginning of the present fiscal year, namely April 1st 1915 to January 31st 1916 shows an increase in revenues from all sources of no less a sum than $30,000,000 as compared with the same period of the previous year. On the other hand, the statement shows that the expenditure on ordinary account has been reduced by $11,700,000 and the capital expenditure by the sum of $6,900,000 over those of the same period of the preceding year. Apart from war expenditure the increase in revenue on the one hand and the decrease of expenditure on the other show an improvement in the financial position as compared with the previous year of $48,700,000.

Of the increase in revenue $17,000,000 is due to customs, $3,500,000 to post office, $8,000,000 to railways and from special war taxes $2,500,000.

and sank the British steamship Farlingford carrying 500 tons of copper ore. Later on the same day she captured the British steamship Corbridge with a cargo of 6,000 tons of coal. The Moewe did not sink the vessel but sent a crew aboard and held her as a collier.

For three days the Moewe was inactive and then the British Admiralty transport Dromedary hove in sight on Jan. 13. She offered no resistance and was captured and sunk. Before that day was over, the raider had met and destroyed the British steamship Athor carrying 8,000 tons of general cargo, and the Admiralty transport Trader, with six thousand tons of sugar.

No ship of the enemy was sighted on the fourteenth but on the fifteenth the British steamer Ariadne crossed the raider's path and was sent to the bottom with her cargo of 5,000 tons of wheat.

Next day, Jan. 16, there appeared the biggest prize of all, the liner Appam, carrying 8,000 tons of general merchandise including a large quantity of cocoa. One or two shots were fired at the Appam, but there was no real fight.

Liner Arrives In American Waters With German
Prize Crew Aboard—Italians Repulse Austrians —Russians Worst Austro-Germans And Pursue
Turks In Caucasus

With a German prize crew on board, the British passenger liner Appam, picked up in West African waters, has been brought to Hampton Roads, creating a sensation greater than that aroused when the German auxiliary cruisers Prinz Eitel Friedrich and Kron Prinz Wilhelm ran the gauntlet of the British blocking squadron and entered Norfolk for internment.

The Appam brought into port the crews and passengers of several ships which had been sunk. There has been no determination as yet of the American government's course respecting the ship.

Fifty-four persons killed and sixty injured was the result of the raid of German airships over Norfolk, Suffolk, Derbyshire, Leicestershire, Staffordshire and Lincolnshire Monday night, according to the official report of the British government. In all 220 bombs were dropped from the aircraft, and considerable material damage was done.

Berlin reports that all the airships returned safely to their base.

Except for a German infantry attack north-east of Arras, which was checked by a fusillade of hand grenades thrown by the French, artillery duels and bombs have predominated on the western front. A single infantry attack near Monte Rombon where the Italians repulsed the Austrians, is the most important operation, aside from the usual artillery actions reported from the Austro-Italian front.

From Riga to the Stripa river there have been several infantry engagements in which the Austro-Germans were worsted by the Russians, according to Petrograd, but the fighting on this front also has been mostly by the big guns.

In the Caucasus around Lake Tortum and Khryskala the Russians are declared to be still pursuing the Turks.

Reports received in London announce that satisfactory progress is being made by the British and French forces operating against Germans in East and West Equatorial Africa.

In Montenegro and around Scutari, in Albania, the situation is quiet.

KAMERUN COAST LINE
IS CLEAR OF ENEMYNEWS IS RECEIVED FROM GENERAL DOBELL—FRENCH COLUMN GAINS SUCCESS—MANY GERMANS DESERT AND SURRENDER.

London, Feb. 1.—Successes for both the British and French forces campaigning in the Kamerun, the German colony in Western Equatorial Africa, are announced in an official statement given out today as follows:

"Further information from West Africa states that the French column under Lieut-Col. Faucon, occupied Eholowa (South Western Kamerun) on the 18th of January after meeting very slight resistance, while the British column under Major Coles engaged the enemy at Elabe, 20 miles to the north-east, driving back the enemy and taking thirteen German prisoners. No British European casualties were reported.

"Lieut-Col. Haywood, arriving at Eholowa, on the 24th, immediately took up the pursuit of the enemy, capturing Mafub, 17 miles to the south. He reports that he had 22 casualties and was advancing on Nkan. On the same day the enemy was driven from Ngat by the French who had fourteen casualties.

"General Dobell, telegraphing on January 25th, stated that he had received information that the Kamerun coast line itself was clear of the enemy. A report from Bata, on the Spanish Muni coast, states that there were over 700 German Europeans on the Spanish frontier. Many deserters from the enemy are surrendering to the British and French, fully armed.

"On the 23th, a company of Belgian troops arrived at Jaunde from duty on the French lines of communication."

RUSSIANS CRITICIZE U.S.
NOTE ABOUT SUBMARINESAMERICAN PROPOSAL WOULD HAMPER MORE HONEST CAPTAINS OF ALLIED FLEET AND FACILITATE WORK OF GERMANS.

Petrograd, via London, Feb. 1.—7 p.m.—The Novoe Vremya, in a leading editorial criticizes the American note on submarine warfare, characterizing the proposal therein as useless and incomplete and declaring that it would "greatly hamper the more honest captains of the commercial fleet of the Allies and greatly lighten the work of the Germans."

The Novoe Vremya says that the suggested rules would tie the hands of the Allies and at the same time "open tremendous possibilities for German misapplication" of these rules. It cites "German disregard for conventions."

Emphasizing the indefiniteness of the term "challenge" (warning) the Novoe Vremya says: "Von Tripitz would be able to order his men to challenge by merely showing the periscope for a second, and then sink the merchantman, while, some how, we think the Allies would be honest and send their challenge in a sealed envelope."

The writer goes on to say that on the challenge of a submarine a merchantman would be compelled to ap-roach, whereupon the Germans could sink her, and asks: "Who would be found to prove who was in the right? Did the merchantman attempt to run down the submarine or not?"

The Novoe Vremya continues: "The Allies have not sunk a single passenger ship; so why have these rules been thrust upon them? The Germans have already agreed not to sink merchantmen, but Secretary Lansing again puts before them the same proposition. What is his object?"

VESSELS COLLIDE
NEAR CAPE RACEONE IS THOUGHT TO HAVE SUNK—PROBABLY JAPANESE LINER.

Boston, Feb. 1.—Wireless messages indicating a collision at sea between two steamers at a point near Cape Race, Nfld., were picked up by several stations on the New England coast late tonight. The identity of the vessels was not disclosed. One was said to be sinking. The other ship, stating she was badly smashed, sent word she would stand by.

The vessel which reported itself sinking signed the message "J. T. D." According to wireless authorities this signature should belong to a Japanese vessel, other signs of the same group being identified with ships of the Osaka Mercantile Company. The messages from the second vessel were signed "W. I. A." which were not contained in available registry books.

The position of the steamers was given as latitude 43.46, longitude 46.57, a point in the vicinity of Cape Race, Nfld. It was to the wireless station at that place that the messages from the "W. I. A." were directed.

The messages, which were very fragmentary, indicated that the "W. I. A." was tending lifeboats to the other ship.

Soon after there came to the listening stations on this coast a low-powered succession of signals, which spelled out:

"I am sinking. Come and save me." This was signed "J. T. A." No response was heard, but somewhat later "W. I. A." sent a message ashore which said the second vessel was out of sight. Whether this was intended to record its sinking was not indicated.

The Weather

Toronto, Feb. 1.—The weather continues very cold in British Columbia and another heavy snowfall has occurred near the coast. The temperature remains low in the western provinces and has fallen considerably in Ontario and Quebec, while in the Maritime Provinces the weather is quiet mild.

Final reading was given to Sir Lomer Gouin's bill to legalize certain entries in the index of immovables of the town of Joliette.

The Road Question.

On a motion for an order of the House for copies of all correspondence between the municipality of the village of St. Thomas de Pierreville and the Roads Department, from 1912 to date, Mr. Sauve, Conservative member for Two Mountains, called the attention of the Minister of Roads to the fact that it was very important that he should secure the correspondence in question so that the House might judge the Government's road policy at its true value. He complained that although the House had passed a number of other motions which he had made for correspondence none of the copies desired had yet been produced.

Hon. Mr. Tessier said in defence of his department that everything was open to the member for Two Mountains. There was nothing to hide in the department and that he had given instructions that the correspondence asked for be copied which work was being carried out.

IMPORTANT CHANGE IN BOND CIRCLES.

N. W. Harris & Co., Inc., will in future be known in Canada Under the Name of Harris, Forbes & Co., Inc., Mr. R. A. Stephenson Continues as Manager in Montreal.

Montreal, Feb. 1.—(Special)—One of the most important changes made recently in Canadian bond circles is indicated by the following announcement:—

The Business and interests of N. W. Harris & Co., Inc., being identical with those of Harris, Forbes & Co., New York. The name of the former has been changed to Harris, Forbes & Co., Inc., Mr. Ralph A. Stephenson continues as Manager in Montreal.

The firms of N. W. Harris & Co., Inc., and Harris, Forbes & Co., have for many years past been looked upon as among the largest bond houses in the United States and the attention which they have given to the Canadian field has been especially important from the standpoint of the Dominion, inasmuch as it resulted in a ready market being found for a number of the larger Canadian, Provincial, Municipal and Corporation issues in the United States. It has always been recognized in Canadian bond circles that the fact that a firm of the standing of N. W. Harris was considering Canadian issues had quickly resulted in other large American houses giving attention to the opportunities offering in the Canadian territory and more especially in the last few years has been the means of Canadian issues finding a very ready market in the New York field.

On this account N. W. Harris & Co., Inc., and Harris, Forbes & Co., have always been looked upon as the pioneer American firms doing business in Canada. They have been in business for over forty years and have made a specialty of being investment bankers, always purchasing outright any issue that they were handling and placing it direct with corporations and bond investors.

360 remain under the care of the dispensary and will have to be turned away if we do not find any money to continue the work. From these, 208 improve, 80 remain in the same condition and 25 fall away gradually worn out by the terrible disease.

We gave this year 4271 quarts of milk, we could not give any fresh eggs and since a few months the milk itself had to be cut off, to our deep regret and because our sources would not allow it, but our patients must have felt sorry for their lost share of the 42,429 quarts of milk and the 2,197 doz. of eggs given since the opening of the dispensary.

4,000 paper sputum cups and 10,000 tissue paper handkerchiefs were distributed among our tuberculous patients, protecting effectively their families and the public against the virulence of sputum.

75 patients were discharged as being cured and left the dispensary requiring no more care.

37 were placed in homes or institutions, 21 (10 men and 11 women) in the Anti-tuberculosis Hospital; 6 men and 2 women at the Sacred Heart's Hospital and 3 men and 5 women in other institutions.

133 who were found to be free from tuberculosis were sent away since 1911, also 40 who could afford to pay. We have lost trace of 95 patients who left town or who ceased their visits to the dispensary without leaving their address.

62 tenements previously occupied by tuberculous patients were disinfected through the board of health of the city, on the request of the Anti-tuberculosis dispensary. 222 disinfections were made since February, 1911.

The visiting nurse of the League, Miss S. McGreevy together with the assistance given by the consulting doctors at the dispensary, made their requests, numerous visits to the slums and the poor tuberculous patients, giving advice and kind encouragement.

Three renowned physicians, Drs. J. Guérard, Alf. Drouin, O. Samson have given free consultations in this course of the year and we wish to thank them for their grateful patience.

Miss Lefavre (Geneva) continues to devote her talent to the anti-tuberculous cause. Her weekly paper keeps before the public the sanitary and anti-tuberculous topics.

We have still the assistance of a competent druggist.

Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen, as you will understand by the Treasurer's report our resources are exhausted and the dispensary will disappear if we do not find a way to rally to its cause, private or public charity.

FIGHTING WHITE PLAGUE IN QUEBEC

DR. SAVARD TELLS OF WORK OF ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS DISPENSARY.

At a meeting held at the Court House, on Saturday, by the Anti-tuberculosis League, the following report giving full information on the work done by the dispensary, in 1915, was read by Dr. E. M. A. Savard, director of this institution.

The eloquent figures will attract the attention of all those who follow the fight against tuberculosis in our city.

What was done in the last five years, with the assistance of the dispensary, developed on this subject a different way of thinking among our population, and we consider this as a great progress. In every state or community where this fight was begun, those who took an active part in the struggle, know that they had to work against ignorance, misery, unfavorable sanitary conditions, and worst of all, against the independence of their fellowmen.

Some difficulties cannot be overcome, others disappear and come to life again; but to show results under such circumstances indicates at least that some work has been done. To think that there is more still to prove that we perceive the difficulties of the task and the needs that look more urgent when they are studied more closely.

Dr. Savard's report was as follows: Fifth Annual Report of the Anti-Tuberculosis Dispensary.

Quebec, January 29th, 1916. Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen:—

I have the honor to bring before this Committee the 5th annual report of the anti-tuberculosis dispensary.

Last year, from January, 1914, to January, 1915, 313 tuberculous patients were treated in the dispensary. This year, from January, 1915 to January, 1916, 424-153 men and 271 women came to us in the following order:

|                 |        |           |
|-----------------|--------|-----------|
| January .....   | 40 men | 70 women  |
| February .....  | 48 men | 77 women  |
| March .....     | 56 men | 95 women  |
| April .....     | 43 men | 84 women  |
| May .....       | 44 men | 75 women  |
| June .....      | 39 men | 70 women  |
| July .....      | 30 men | 45 women  |
| August .....    | 34 men | 58 women  |
| September ..... | 41 men | 69 women  |
| October .....   | 48 men | 94 women  |
| November .....  | 50 men | 85 women  |
| December .....  | 45 men | 102 women |

These patients had 2772 consultations.

Among these 424 patients, 170 came for the first time, and brought up to 940 the inscriptions since the opening. From these, 148 (61 men and 87 women) were admitted as tuberculous, 22 were sent away as not being tuberculous, (7 men and 15 women) 42 who had come to the last period of the disease, died in the course of this year.

360 remain under the care of the dispensary and will have to be turned away if we do not find any money to continue the work. From these, 208 improve, 80 remain in the same condition and 25 fall away gradually worn out by the terrible disease.

We gave this year 4271 quarts of milk, we could not give any fresh eggs and since a few months the milk itself had to be cut off, to our deep regret and because our sources would not allow it, but our patients must have felt sorry for their lost share of the 42,429 quarts of milk and the 2,197 doz. of eggs given since the opening of the dispensary.

4,000 paper sputum cups and 10,000 tissue paper handkerchiefs were distributed among our tuberculous patients, protecting effectively their families and the public against the virulence of sputum.

75 patients were discharged as being cured and left the dispensary requiring no more care.

37 were placed in homes or institutions, 21 (10 men and 11 women) in the Anti-tuberculosis Hospital; 6 men and 2 women at the Sacred Heart's Hospital and 3 men and 5 women in other institutions.

133 who were found to be free from tuberculosis were sent away since 1911, also 40 who could afford to pay. We have lost trace of 95 patients who left town or who ceased their visits to the dispensary without leaving their address.

62 tenements previously occupied by tuberculous patients were disinfected through the board of health of the city, on the request of the Anti-tuberculosis dispensary. 222 disinfections were made since February, 1911.

The visiting nurse of the League, Miss S. McGreevy together with the assistance given by the consulting doctors at the dispensary, made their requests, numerous visits to the slums and the poor tuberculous patients, giving advice and kind encouragement.

Three renowned physicians, Drs. J. Guérard, Alf. Drouin, O. Samson have given free consultations in this course of the year and we wish to thank them for their grateful patience.

Miss Lefavre (Geneva) continues to devote her talent to the anti-tuberculous cause. Her weekly paper keeps before the public the sanitary and anti-tuberculous topics.

We have still the assistance of a competent druggist.

Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen, as you will understand by the Treasurer's report our resources are exhausted and the dispensary will disappear if we do not find a way to rally to its cause, private or public charity.

Two memorable tag-days, with the Provincial Government's and city's allowances, helped us to live as far as this day, but it seems very hard to ask any more from the public whose generosity has been highly taxed, especially since the beginning of war; so our only hope lies with the authorities. It seems that in the past five years, the dispensary helped the laboring class a good deal in pointing out the infected homes, in awaking our population to the dangers of this contagious disease. The dispensary allowed workmen to continue to support their families while they were following sensible treatment and receiving whatever help we could give, it helped poor tenants to obtain better sanitary conditions. The work already done has been profitable to the community and we think that the Provincial Government and the City Council in increasing their allowances would pass a popular measure and would insure the life of the anti-tuberculosis dispensary the continuation of highly philanthropic work among the laborers and the poor.

Pneumonia Finds Its Victims Weakened By Colds and Grip

This Letter Tells How to Gain Strength After Colds by Using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food—Pneumonia Is Prevented.

Epidemics of colds and grip are almost invariably followed by much loss of life from pneumonia. When the body is worn down by colds and the lungs weakened from coughing, pneumonia finds an easy victim.

Careful inquiry into many thousands of cases of pneumonia shows that this disease usually attacks the person who is tired and worn out, and who is therefore lacking in resisting power.

In this letter is described a case in which the patient was in the greatest danger of contracting pneumonia or some similar disease, but fortunately she sought the aid of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and was soon restored to health and strength.

Miss E. J. Buswell, Centralia, Ont., writes: "Last winter my mother contracted a bad cold. She was bothered with shortness of breath, wheezing, fevered and too sore to cough. Our doctor prescribed treatment which brought relief from these symptoms, but when she got up she was tired, always tired and weak. I got her three boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and she soon improved. Her eyes became clear and bright, the ashen hue left the face and she began once more to take up the reins and look after the household duties."

It is always wise to keep the vitality of the body at high-water mark in order that the attack of disease may be resisted. Rich, red blood is the greatest of germicides, and because Dr. Chase's Nerve Food forms rich, red blood it is a most effective means of preventing germ diseases such as grip, pneumonia and consumption.

Every day we are learning more and more the value of preventive treatment. That is one reason why the sales of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food are increasing so enormously. People are coming to realize how much wiser it is to keep well than to try to obtain cure after some serious disease has gained a foothold. 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.50, all Dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

SAYS CANADA SHOULD HAVE
MEMBER ON WAR COUNCILMR. McLEAN OF SOUTH YORK ADVOCATES THIS—
MR. CHARLES MARCIL APPEALS TO PEOPLE OF ONTARIO—NATIONALIST SPEECH.

(Special to The Chronicle)

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—Today's parliamentary session was afforded by Paul Lamarche, member for Nicolet, who might be described as the last of the Nationalists as far as Ottawa is concerned. Lamarche opposed the Borden Government's naval policy and voted against Manitoba's boundary expansion. He is still regarded by the Nationalist Chiefs as one of his faithful followers; he undertook today to defend his allies in the House and he wound up with the announcement that he was opposed to the extension of Parliament. If the bill went through he would resign his seat on October 7th, the last day of the present Parliament.

Mr. W. F. McLean, of South York, advocated that Canada should be given the status of an national ally. Canada should have a member on the allied war council along with Great Britain, France, Italy and Russia. This was only her duty in view of the part she was playing. Canada should have a say in the strategy and the conduct of the war. She had been promised to be consulted with regard to the peace terms but it was better to be allowed a part in the making of the war rather than in the settlement at the close.

Hon. Charles Marcil

The third speech of the day was that of Hon. Charles Marcil, he is one of the most eloquent, cultured and polished speakers of the House. He made a moderate plea to the people of Ontario to find some solution of the present school agitation in that province.

He said that rightly or wrongly there was a feeling in Quebec that the minority in Ontario was suffering an injustice. It was undoubtedly having serious effect upon recruiting. He wound up "For the sake of the cause, for the sake of recruiting in Quebec, I plead with the people of Ontario to endeavor to put an end to this constant wrangling over the school question."

The final speech was delivered late at night by Hon. George P. Graham. Mr. Graham address had been awaited with some interest in view of the attack which his colleague, Mr. Pugsley had made upon him as a shell contractor. He stated that he had a small interest in the contracting company and was proud of the work they had done. He favored an investigation of shell contracts and restitution where such was called for.

Lamarche's Speech.

Mr. Paul E. Lamarche of Nicolet, in opening said he did not wish to refer to the hurtful or insulting remarks regarding French-Canadians which had been made during the course of the debate but he did wish to say a few words in defence of two Nationalists who had been subjected to attacks and charges of the greatest:

"YULETIDE IN FRANCE."

O little sprig of rosemary, I pluck you in the garden,
In this little Gallic garden, on this misty Winter's day.
I can hear the old rooks calling
And the distant shells are falling
But this little sprig of rosemary has borne my heart away.

O little sprig of rosemary you bear me through the ages
To the olden, golden Yuletides that our fathers knew of yore,
When the midnight Mass bell ringing,
Set the carol singers singing,
And sweet rosemary was scattered on the shining chancel floor.

O little sprig of rosemary, I hear the song and laughter
When the boar's head was carried in adown the armoured hall,
And the rosemary and bay
Were as sweet as new-mown hay,
While the merriment of Yuletide was uniting great and small.

O little sprig of rosemary, I pluck you in the garden,
And my heart is sore and heavy with the cares we have today,
For the Christ has been among us
And the Angel Hosts have sung us
All the happy songs of Heaven, but they sounded far away.

O little sprig of rosemary, as I pluck you in the garden,
In this little Gallic garden where the brave are laid to rest,
An English mother weeping
A sad, sad Yule is keeping,
Remembering one who once was the Christ-Child on her breast.

O little sprig of rosemary, I thank you for the dreaming,
In this hallowed, Gallic garden, on this misty Winter's day;
Your mission is to leave,
This poor earth with thoughts of Heaven,
When for those brave hearts that slumber here we fold our hands and pray.

APPAM'S STATUS IS PUZZLE FOR
U.S. AUTHORITIESIs She Prize of War or Converted Auxiliary Cruiser of German Navy?

PRISONERS GO FREE

Lieutenant Berge's Declaration
Involves Right to Change
Character of Ship.

Washington, Feb. 1.—Until it was decided whether the German commander aboard the British steamer Appam brought the ship to an American port as a prize of war or as a converted auxiliary cruiser of the German navy there will be no determination of the government's course respecting the ship.

When certain formalities have been complied with the ship's passengers, including several British colonial officials, will be released, and their disposition passed on by immigration authorities, any prisoners of war will be released, because international law permits no holding of war prisoners in a neutral country.

The United States then, finally, will have to deal with the German crew under Lieut. Berge, and if they are accounted in the Naval Service of Germans, as were the crews of the Prince Eitel Friedrich and the Kron Prinz Wilhelm, already interned at the Norfolk navy yard, they too, will be interned unless their ship goes to sea to run the cordon of British cruisers outside.

As to the disposition of the Appam herself, if she is held to be an auxiliary cruiser, her commander will have the option of putting to sea after a certain time to make repairs and take provisions. If she is declared a prize the situation becomes more complex, and in that event it is admitted that the United States will have to deal with probably the most novel question concerning its neutrality that has arisen during the war.

As one of the first steps, the problem probably would be referred to the neutrality board which is an unofficial body composed of James Brown Scott, former Solicitor of the State Department; Captain Harry S. Knapp, of the Navy General Board, and Captain J. H. Oliver, head of the Naval Intelligence Office. The board's findings, while merely advisory, have weight with the State Department.

It was pointed out at the State Department that there is much confusion in the treaties and provisions of international law on the subject of prizes; the right to convert captured vessels into auxiliary warships and the right of reclamation by the original owners of captured vessels.

Several Opinions Held.

One theory largely held is that title to the captured ship does not pass until a prize court has acted. Another opinion strongly championed is that title passes immediately after the capture is made providing the senior officer of the captors duly commissions one of his own officers or crew as the commander of the captured ship. The latter view is commonly accepted by the American navy and probably would be followed by the State Department, though Secretary Lansing said today he would have to take time to consider the important question involved before announcing a conclusion.

Assuming that the American naval view prevails, the initial character of the Appam after her capture as a prize would be established and were there no developments in the case officials would see their way clear to her disposition under article 21 of the Hague convention concerning the rights and duties of neutral powers in naval war.

This article permits prizes to be brought into a neutral port on account of unseaworthiness, stress of weather, or want of fuel or provisions. A prize must leave as soon as the conditions which justified its entry are at an end. If it does not, the neutral power must order it to leave at once; should it fail to obey, the neutral power must employ the means at its disposal to release it with its officers and crew and to intern the prize crew.

A subsequent article enlarges the powers of the captor of a prize so that he may bring the captured vessel into a neutral port "to be sequestered pending the decision of a prize court," but the United States at the time the treaty was made, expressly declined to accept this article and the debate at The Hague showed that the American position was strongly opposed to any such use of American ports as receptacles for prizes. It was pointed out that otherwise the United States would actually be made the base of operations by one belligerent against another. So if treated simply on the basis of a prize, without doubt the State Department would be governed by article 21 in the case of the Appam. This would involve notice to Lieut. Berge to leave Hampton Roads just as soon as he could take needed provisions or fuel, and make his ship seaworthy by absolutely necessary repairs. As sever-

NO ELECTION WANTED.

From Ottawa come occasional rumors of probable opposition to the government's proposal to extend the term of the present Parliament for another year and of an avowed intention on the part of several politicians to force a general election if possible.

There is only one thing to be said about the situation. A general election at this time would be nothing short of a national calamity. The great need and duty of the hour is to preserve unity at almost any cost until this terrible and engrossing war is brought to a successful conclusion. An election would surely give an appearance of discord. No matter how close and harmonious may be the understanding of the parties to render all assistance possible to the Allies, the cleavage which would be the result of party conditions might be interpreted elsewhere as a division regarding the war. And in the heart of political passion some of our public men might very well say things on the hustings which they would never say in an ordinarily calm and reasonable mood and which they would certainly regret having uttered later on. These utterances would be produced all over the world and perhaps give outsiders a false impression of the real feeling in this country. Anything that may tend to discourage our friends or to hearten our enemies must be avoided at any sacrifice. And we are sure that this will be the ground taken by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and those most intimately associated with him.

Apart from the above considerations, an election at the present time would inevitably lead to distraction and confusion in business and other circles. No business man wants it. No patriot does.

CONTRABAND BY

PARCEL POST.
Short paragraphs which appear from time to time regarding the British discovery of rubber or other contraband in parcels posted from America to Sweden, or regarding the Swedish detention of British parcels to or from Russia by way of reprisals, relate to a curious side-episode in England's blockade of Germany. Some time ago German sympathizers in the United States conceived the idea of breaking this blockade by means of the parcels post. An organization got to work, by means of which thousands of parcels containing contraband (chiefly rubber) were posted to addresses in neutral countries. A great many were sent to Sweden, largely to persons well-known as German agents. The British Government thereupon held up the mails, examined the parcels, and stopped the contraband. The Swedish Government protested very sharply indeed; and it resorted to the reprisals, which we have mentioned. It was able to do so, because Sweden is the thoroughfare, through which the mails between Britain and Russia at present pass.

There can be no doubt that the British Government was within its legal rights in the action which it took. According to the London Chronicle, the matter is regulated by a Hague Convention of 1907, and the following are the two articles referring to postal correspondence:—

Article 1.—The postal correspondence of neutrals or belligerents, whatever its official or private character may be, found on the high seas on board a neutral or enemy ship, is inviolable. If the ship is detained the correspondence is forwarded by the captor with the least possible delay. The provisions of the preceding paragraph do not apply in case of violation of blockade, to correspondence destined for or proceeding from a blockaded port.

Article 2.—The inviolability of postal correspondence does not exempt a neutral mail ship from the laws and customs of maritime war as to neutral merchant ships in general. The ship, however, may not be searched except when absolutely necessary, and then only with as much consideration and expedition as possible.

It will be noticed that this convention does not exempt neutral mailships from search or detention, but only stipulates for as much consideration and expedition as possible. Also it makes no reference to parcels post, but only to postal correspondence. The clauses in question were proposed at the Hague Conference by Herr Kriege, the legal adviser of the German Foreign Office and a permanent member of the Hague Court. In the course of the discussion he was asked the specific question, whether he intended to include parcels post in the limited exemption prescribed by Article 1. His reply was that he did not. The article was therefore passed on the understanding that things sent by parcel post are subject to the same treatment as ordinary merchandise. Sweden was a party to this convention, as were both Germany and Great Britain.

Sweden, like other neutrals, must recognize that the Allies are fighting for their lives; that the blockade is one of their main weapons against Germany; and that where they have a clear legal right they cannot be expected to waive it. It would be a farce, if they had to let contraband pass immune in virtue of such a transparent sham as the resort to the parcels post.

RUSSIA AND THE WAR.

Despite persistent German efforts to stir up strife in Russia and to spread mistrust among the Allied Powers, our great Eastern Ally is firm and steadfast as a granite rock. In the Tsar's inspiring New Year's message to his troops there is no sign of variability nor shadow of turning. "No peace without victory"—that is his watchword. Just as the indomitable spirit expressed in the Tsar's motto will encourage and hearten Russia, so it will cause chagrin and disappointment in Germany. Every Teutonic will has been used in the endeavor to estrange Russia from her Western Allies, and to induce her to conclude a separate peace. The tone and temper of the Tsar's message prove conclusively that these Machiavellian arts have been practised in vain. Russia, in spite of the valor of her soldiers, has sustained grievous losses in the war, but her unconquerable spirit rises with her needs. Time is on her side. In a country of her immense natural resources, predominantly agricultural, the wounds of war heal quickly, and the process of recuperation is swift. The shortage in munitions which hampered her armies so cruelly in the summer of 1915 has been remedied, and when the present winter is over she will be in a far stronger position than at any time since the first six months of war. Well may the Tsar greet the dawn of Russia's new year with high hope and confidence.

PAYING AN OLD DEBT.

In President Lincoln's armies during the war of the rebellion in the United States nearly 48,000 Canadian soldiers fought side by side with the Northern troopers. Their motives were three, sympathy with the Northern cause, a love for the paths of adventure, and the large bounties paid for substitutes by many citizens who were drafted. There is no doubt that most of them enlisted in the Northern forces because they were in sympathy with the emancipation of the negro slaves. The cause in the present war is the same, but tremendously larger and more important. We fight for the emancipation of the human race. An increasingly large number of Americans are enlisting in the armies of Canada. Most of them are doing so because they believe it is their duty to take part in the war on freedom's side. A few, of course, are actuated by a romantic interest in the picturesque side, and by the prospect of remarkable experiences, but the greater part of them are going to the front to fight for freedom, honor and justice, and in defense of the United States as well as the British Empire.

One whole regiment of 1,200 American born officers and men is being raised in Canada and others will be recruited from the American citizens of Canada. It is a pleasant thing to see so many American newspapers commenting on this with satisfaction, and calling attention to the fact that several New York regiments in the war of the rebellion had large numbers of Canadians in their ranks. Some of these American journals regard this large enlistment of Americans in the Canadian forces as only the payment of a debt the United States has owed Canada since the civil war.

As the war goes on, and the sin-ter nature of the Government schemes of conquest are more plainly seen by Americans, they realize more fully that if the Teutonic powers were victorious and could gain control of the sea, they would attack the United States. If Germany possessed a navy as large as the British navy, in addition to her army, the people of the United States would soon have to defend their homes against a German invasion. The possibility of the Germans winning, remote though it must seem to Americans, while we do not entertain it at all, has thoroughly awakened the more far-seeing Americans to the need of military preparation. A great many influential Americans are clamoring now for preparedness, and it is very needful. There never was a country of any importance so badly prepared for defense.

PRESS COMMENT.

Before the war Germany's overseas commerce was valued at approximately $5,000,000,000. Hamburg, its chief port—second only to London—handled half of this amount. No business is being transacted in it today. Germany's mercantile marine lying rusting at its wharves. Add to this the loss of comparatively all of its colonies and the tremendous wastage in men and munitions caused by the war, and some idea will be had of the enormous cost of its insane and futile attempt to dominate the world. —Hamilton Spectator.

Home-coming veterans of the brief expedition agree that the Ford peace mission failed because no one was big enough to handle the idea. The need of justifying the futile attempt to convert Europe from the sin of war leads them into the error of assuming that under the guidance of a great leader their "crusade" would have ended in victory. Ideas, if good, go of their own force. They make headway not merely because some individual enlists in their support. They are not destined to certain failure because a particular person of exceptional qualities does not present himself in the nick of time. No human being could have possibly saved the peace mission from ending as it did. It was the wrong idea. It was wholly impracticable. There was nothing to recommend it to people of common sense anywhere—either in this country, which is at peace and in possession of its normal senses, or in Europe, where the worst passions of uncivilized ancestors have been loosed. In ordinary times to send a shipload of nobodies abroad to promote war would have been equally effective. A dozen shiploads of assorted faddists, sentimentalists and peace philosophers would have produced no better results. It is not by such ill-conceived demonstrations on the part of outsiders that nations at war are induced to lay down their arms.—Toronto World.

IN AND ABOUT TOWN

WOUNDED SOLDIERS ATTEND CONCERT

RETURNED CANADIANS SPEND PLEASANT EVENING AT QUEBEC SNOWSHOE CLUB.

About forty wounded soldiers attended the concert of the Quebec Snow Shoe Club at their Club House last night, and judging by the hearty applause appeared to enjoy their evening.

A varied programme was carried out, several of the soldiers contributing to the evening's entertainment.

Mr. Huestis started with a musical dissertation on baritones and lovers, with one fish ball as a second course.

Master Bryce Scott and Miss Scott as Pierrot and Pierrette were applauded to the echo, and their trio with Pte. Courtenay was encored twice.

Mr. Liebling performed some very clever conjuring tricks, as a result of which one member kept his hand on his watch all evening.

The audience demanded an encore to "Rory O'Moore", sung by Miss C. Wiggins, and all joined in the chorus of "Keep the Home Fires Burning".

Mr. McManamy rendered two songs in excellent style, and banjo and mandolin duets by Messrs. Harrower and Fisher were much appreciated.

Amongst the soldiers there was found considerable talent, songs being rendered by Serg. Chapman, Ptes. Stuart, Courtenay, Calder, Shaw and Boal, whilst Pte. Harrison's exhibition of mind-reading was really marvellous.

Mrs. D. A. Scott deserved the hearty thanks of all present for her kindness in playing the accompaniments.

A pleasing feature of the evening was a presentation made to one of the Club's ex-presidents which took the form of a statuette bearing his favorite motto.

"RUNAWAY COUPLE" SCORES SUCCESS

ENJOYABLE ENTERTAINMENT IN ST. MATTHEW'S PARISH ROOM.

Before a fairly large attendance "A Runaway Couple" was given its first performance before a Quebec audience at the St. Matthew's Parish Hall last evening. The performers included most of those who took part in that other comedy "Facing the Music" given by the same company and which scored such a success at three different occasions.

"A Runaway Couple" like the comedy which preceded it, is rippling with amusing incidents that keep the audience in a state of almost continual laughter from beginning to end. The leading role was admirably filled by Mr. G. H. Harvey who from the early part of the performance had the ill-fortune of getting in the bad graces of "Miss Honoria Pansony" who suspected him guilty of a "horrid" offense. The mirthful part of the entire comedy was his unhappily knack of making matters worse while striving desperately to improve the more trying situations.

While the cast probably brought Mr. Harvey into a little more prominence than the other contributors all acquitted themselves in a most praiseworthy manner and shared equally in the success of the entertainment.

The cast of characters.

Horace Singleton . . . Mr. G. H. Harvey
Harry Bernard . . . Mr. R. McD. Symonds
Col. John Martin . . . . .

Miss Honoria Pansony . . . Mr. C. Scott

A second performance of "A Runaway Couple" will be given in St. Matthew's Parish Room tomorrow (Thursday) evening at 8.15 o'clock.

If Subject to Colds

Here is Good Advice

Don't load your stomach with cough syrups. Send healing medication through the nostrils—send it into the passages that are subject to colds and Catarrh. Easy to do with Catarrhazone, which cures a cold in ten minutes. Even to the lungs goes the healing vapor of Catarrhazone, all through the bronchial tubes, nostrils and air passages—everywhere a trace of disease remains will Catarrhazone follow. You'll not have colds, nor will you suffer from sniffles, bronchitis or throat trouble if Catarrhazone is used. Get it today but beware of dangerous substitutes meant to deceive you for genuine Catarrhazone. All dealers sell Catarrhazone, large size, two months treatment, costs $1.00; small size, 50c; sample size 25c.

MR. JOHN H. ROBERTS

ON THE WARPATH.

Is Opposed to Certain Clauses in Three Rivers Bill Concerning Temperance.

Mr. John H. Roberts, of the Dominion Alliance, was in the City yesterday and met Sir Lomer Gouin in connection with certain clauses in the Three Rivers bill. Mr. Roberts, acting for the temperance societies, is opposed to the provisions in the bill by which the Council of Three Rivers would compensate the hotel keepers who have lost their licenses. He is also opposed to any municipalization of the liquor traffic.

COURT OF SESSIONS.

At the Court of Sessions yesterday another charge was preferred against Benjamin Tanguay, who is accused of passing worthless cheques, and a remand was ordered. A charge against a man named Berthume for theft of copper was dismissed with costs.

Emile Weillbruner on a charge of false pretences pleaded guilty, and sentence was suspended by Judge Choquette on condition that the man leaves the city which he promised to do.

DEATH OF MR. T. DESSAINT

The death occurred yesterday of Mr. Thibureau Dessaint, deputy clerk of the Circuit Clerk and one of Quebec's best known citizens. He was over seventy-three years of age.

Deceased had been in bad health during the last two years and while his death was not unexpected yet it will be deeply regretted by his many friends.

Besides his bereaved wife, he leaves to mourn their loss, four sons and six daughters. Messrs. Emile, of Kansas City, Philippe, Beauharnois, Gustave, of the Q.R.L.H. & P. Co., Quebec, Raoul accountant, Quebec; Mrs. widow Emile Leclerc, Mrs. Clovis B. Picard, Mrs. Alfred T. Tanguay, Mrs. Gilbert Leblanc, Mrs. M. Gray, Ottawa and Miss Adrienne Dessaint.

Deceased was a brother of Mr. Alexis Dessaint former deputy for Kamouraska.

The funeral will take place Friday morning.

CAPT. SEFEROVITCH ADDRESSES MEN'S CANADIAN CLUB

MONTENEGRIN CONSUL TELLS HARROWING STORY OF COUNTRY'S WRONGS.

At the Men's Canadian Club luncheon held at the Chateau Frontenac yesterday Captain Seferovitch, Montenegrin Consul-General at New York, told in dramatic and impassioned manner a harrowing tale of the woes which his gallant countrymen and their dependants have endured in their fight for the Allied Cause. He assured his audience that the Montenegrins would never give up the struggle and predicted that the tide would soon turn in favor of the Allies. Had the Montenegrin King been a traitor, he said, he would never have been so warmly welcomed in France.

Captain Seferovitch also prophesied that the day was not far distant when Rumania would throw in her lot with the Allies.

Captain Seferovitch said in part: "We have received news from several different sources in Europe speaking about treason on behalf of the King Nicholas of Montenegro stating that he has sold his country to the enemies. As a Montenegrin I know better, that the King and the people of Montenegro are not of those who have falsely and intentionally tried to dishonor our Sovereign ruler and the people of Montenegro. In order that the people of Canada, should know the whole truth, how bravely the poor Montenegrins have fought in this war, I will give them only a few details of our condition."

"The Montenegrins have been at war for all of five hundred years against the Turks, and after the peace of 1878 they had still to fight and skirmish around their border with the brutal neighbors, the Turks and the Albanians. Therefore, since they existed as a State they have never had peace. The land is rocky and poor, no agriculture, no industries, at all, and they have lived always the poor frugal life. When war was declared against Turkey in 1912, Montenegro fought side by side with Serbia against Turkey and then against Bulgaria. There was just a few months of peace, and whilst we were healing our wounds from the above mentioned wars, war broke out again against Austria. Since the beginning of this war we have again fought side by side with our brethren, the Serbians. At the beginning of the Balkan war our population amounted to about 300,000 inhabitants, with an army of 20,000 fighters, plus 10,000 more which arrived from America, that is, a total of 30,000 men divided into five divisions of all ages between 10 to 60."

"As soon as hostilities started against Austria, we gathered all our strength together and our army succeeded in reaching again the number of 30,000. This is the height of the strength that we have reached at the beginning of the last war."

"Our artillery was composed of few batteries which were sent us by the French. These batteries were of the old model 15 centenary calibre black powder, and, when bombarding Louthen, the enemy could easily discover us and they proved to be unfit to oppose any invasion of our lost stronghold. The rest of the artillery were what we had bought from the Italians after they were put out of commission in 1896 from the fort of Livorno, and three rapid fire batteries donated from the Serbians to us after the capture of Kumanovo from the Turks. The infantry had old Russian model repeating guns and some of the guns that we had taken from the Turks and some of the Austrian model guns that we have taken from the enemy. Ammunition on account of its age proved in a majority of cases to be a failure. The uniforms were of all patterns and kinds, and many a man for lack of proper clothing had the same patched and repatched so that his appearance would have inspired a feeling of pity.

"A fortnight after the declaration of the war against Austria there was no flour to be bought in any of the little markets of Montenegro. I know instances where the army fighting in the trenches has been left four days without bread. Bread has been the cry of the Montenegrin people for centuries and in fact our Mother Russia has always sent us wheat in time of peace because the land was undergoing famine. If the Montenegrins insisted upon having Scutari, and if they got it for the second time, they have sacrificed so many lives by taking it; it is because Scutari itself economically is more valuable than the rest of the country, and that we can—out of Austrian warships and aeroplane attacks—come in contact by way of Medua, with Allies, that we can get help from them in food and other war supplies."

"I am asking anybody that has a heart, no matter what his religion, to tell me if, under such conditions, which are true, a nation as small as Montenegro could have resisted the enemy. Surrounded on two sides by the allied Teutons, upon the other side cut off from communication by the Austrian fleet, which is looking for an opportunity to sink any boat that would approach our coast with provisions, having on the South the Austrian population of the Albanians, what can anybody expect but destruction. And, still, I feel proud to say that notwithstanding all, the little army which is left of the Montenegrins is defending our last stand."

is a soldier and a poet, has already reached the age of 75 years and has fought many a battle. He loves his people and his people love him."

"We are dividing with our brethren, the Serbians, our sufferings, and we will stand by them as they have stood by us, until the Lord will give us peace again and restore us to our old homes. There are many children, women and old men who have died in consequence of starvation, and the accounts which are reaching New York from those who have returned from some parts of the theatre of war, are amazing."

"I know a man who has wandered through Albania during ten days living exclusively on bad bread and onions and he was glad to have even that so as not to die of hunger. There is nothing that you can buy with money. The agricultural conditions in the mountains of Montenegro and all over the Balkan States are like those around here, that is, the ground is covered with deep snow and this makes the escape of the people very difficult."

"The Montenegrins being Christians, they are not yet discouraged as to the final victory."

"As a people they are sober, healthy, and rather retiring. They are very intelligent, and the first quality is that they all have been splendid soldiers, and faithful to the Holy cause. The loss of the Loutchen is to Montenegro the value of a diamond as big as the mountain itself."

Under the distinguished patronage of His Honor the Lieut.-Governor and Mme. LeBlanc, the well-known baritone, Mr. Frank Rowe, gave a recital last night at the Chateau Frontenac in aid of the "Prisoners of War Fund." There was a very large audience, who, judging from the hearty applause which followed the rendering of each item, appreciated the different songs.

In his interpretation of the wide range of songs in the programme, Mr. Rowe displayed high artistic ability, and his enunciation was a special feature of his rendition of the numbers. Mr. F. D. Blais, who accompanied, also gave very much pleasure to all in his playing. The programme follows:—

Tonight's game at the Arena:
Laurentides versus Montagnais.

Though the Sons of Ireland and Montagnais have a clear lead in the race for the City League flag, neither having as yet met defeat, there are all sorts of possibilities in the coming games.

Laurentides meet Montagnais tonight at the Arena, and it is just possible that last year's champions may take a brace and put it over the leaders who have taken some of their best players of last season's championship team away from them. Montagnais cannot afford to lose as it will mean the relinquishing of their share of first place for the time being at least.

Both Crescents and Emmets have shown that they must be reckoned with and there is no doubt that both these clubs will be contenders for the title. St. Patrick's and Laurentides are not altogether out of the running and even if they have not a championship outfit they will have a big say in the way the championship will go for with practice in team work and shooting they should make a much better showing than they have to date. St. Patrick's have only sustained one bad beating, their first of the season, and they almost defeated Montagnais—only losing out in overtime.

The Laurentides also have sustained but one bad beating and that may be chargeable to the fact that their manager was absent that evening and two of their best men were not in the line-up. Tonight, Manager Cote expects to have a strong team in line and a big effort will be made to down the sturdy Mountaineers.

McNaughton Leads Scorers.
The following table of goal scorers shows that George McNaughton, the speedy center player and captain of the Sons of Ireland has Tommy Smith and Joe Malone tendencies and tops the list with eleven goals. George Carey, of the same team, is next with seven, and John Doyle, the Emmet cover point, follows close on with six, which is pretty high scoring for a defence man.

Th list follows:

| Team:                         | Goals. |

QUEBEC WILL BE WITHOUT SMITH

CAPT OF LOCAL TEAM SUSPENDED AND CANNOT PLAY AGAINST OTTAWA.

Quebec will have to tackle Ottawa tonight minus the services of Tommy Smith, their captain, and one of the best goalkeepers in the league.

Manager M. Quinn wired us last night from Montreal stating that President Quinn had suspended Smith for throwing his stick in the last Toronto game in Quebec. Under the new ruling in the N.H.A., a player throwing his stick in the final period is banished for the balance of the game, fined fifteen dollars and suspended for the next game. Smith gets presented with all of those little tokens for his rash act, though he did not in any way deflect the puck or detract from Toronto's chances of scoring by his action. However, "Rules is Rules" as they say in the rural districts and though the loss of Smith will be a trying one to the Quebecers, they are not altogether in the best of shape after the grueling game which the young Torontos gave them, yet the Quebec manager is hopeful that the rest of the boys will rise to the occasion and humble the mighty Senators on their own ice.

WANDERERS HERE

ON SATURDAY.
Wanderers have a hard game tonight when they meet the Canadiens. But Odie Cleghorn, Roberts and Billy Bell may be back in line again and though the Red Bands were defeated quite handily by the Toronto outfit with a weakened line-up, there may have been a good deal of generalship in taking a chance in a far better position in the league standing, and it will be interesting to watch what Wanderers will do tonight. That is, if Cleghorn, Roberts and Bell are in shape again.

Quebec must take the Red Bands into camp here Saturday night, come what may. Even if the locals lose to Ottawa, this loss would not be nearly so costly as defeat at home with Wanderers. A large crowd is expected to attend Saturday's fixture here, as Wanderers will make a big try to remain in the running.

CHAMPION'S RINK WAS DEFEATED

E. L. GARNEAU'S TEAM WON MATCH FOR THE BOSWELL TROPHY.

The match for the Boswell Trophy at the Victoria Curling Rink, was played on stiff ice, but nevertheless was a keen contest. Champion's team, the defenders, were handicapped by the fact that his players have had little practice together since some weeks, due to the illness of one or the other of his rink. Mr. Norris being unable to play last night was, however, replaced by Mr. Allerton, who played a splendid lead.

E. L. Garneau's team started with a long lead, which he retained to the finish, notwithstanding the splendid play of the defenders.

Defenders. W. J. Allerton, F. O. Judge, H. E. Price, Geo. Parent, F. J. Home, A. W. Colley, W. S. Chamoun, E. L. Garneau.

Challengers. W. J. Allerton, F. O. Judge, H. E. Price, Geo. Parent, F. J. Home, A. W. Colley, W. S. Chamoun, E. L. Garneau.

Won by E. L. Garneau, by 10 shots.

NEW YORKERS AGAINST BOUT

MORAN-WILLARD FIGHT NOT FAVORED BY MANY GOTHAMITES.

New York, Feb. 1.—Even if the contemplated Jess Willard-Frank Moran heavyweight match is made for New York, it is extremely doubtful if the authorities will allow it to take place.

Fred C. Wenck, chairman of the Boxing Commission, is not in accord with the promoters, he says: The bout has all the earmarks of being a prize fight instead of the boxing or sparring exhibition which the law allows. Also, the concern with which Jack Curley, manager of Willard, is trying to arrange the affair makes it seem that Curley is to be promoter and manager of both contestants.

That being the case, it does not seem probable, it is said, that the authorities will stand back and allow some of the patrons to be hoodwinked.

It is a bad match for New York for many reasons. A ten-round, no-decision affair such as it would have to be is not any kind of contest wherein the heavyweight champion is a contender, especially when the contender is demanding a fortune for just his appearance.

With no danger of losing his title, he is likely to dance through the ten rounds much in the manner Freddie Welsh has been doing since given the decision over Willie Ritchie in London two summers ago.

Clergy is Objecting.
Many of the clergymen of New York have expressed themselves as being against the match, and undoubtedly, if the men are advertised to fight here, there will be so much agitation that the affair will be forcible called off.

When that annoying chatter which is being spread regarding a ten-round decisionless bout between Jess Willard and Frank Moran was published, no one gave a moment's thought to that New Orleans date. That "New Orleans date" consists of an agreement made by Tom Jones for Willard to fight Fred Fulton. The champion was signed up to fight Fulton next month, but there was a postponement when the match did not seem to catch on.

It was hoped that Fulton would make a sensational showing against Dan (Porky) Flynn in their scrap in the Crescent City last Friday night. From all accounts the battle was anything but a thriller, and, according to reports, won't help to boost any gate receipts in a Willard-Fulton mingling.

Up To Promoter Burns.
It is possible that under these conditions the champions may be able to back out of the fight; in fact, it's a certainty every effort possible will be made to cancel the engagement. On the other hand, if Tommy Burns insists upon Willard going through with his contract there will be nothing left for him to do but to fulfil the obligation during Mardi Gras week.

While this affair will be in statu quo, Isaac Dorgan, Moran's manager, will be busy receiving challenges galore from Charley Weisner of New York.

Sporting Notes

Tommy Smith will have to watch tonight's game in Ottawa from the side. It will be a hard blow to Tommy, who always plays a fine game in the Capital, and the Quebec Club.

Livingstone went back to Toronto to lead the rural gentlemen of that district, that the weak spot on his team in Quebec was in goal. Now, gentlemen of the jury, you've heard the evidence, and have seen Mr. Lesueur perform here Saturday last. What is your verdict?

"We find Lesueur not guilty, and would recommend that Mr. Livingstone remove himself from the management of the Toronto team and the 'weak spot' would cease to exist."

Lesueur played magnificent hockey here last Saturday. The winning goal was scored from a long shot which struck Randall on the arm and glanced into the opposite corner of the net. No goalkeeper can be in both corners of the net at once. And Mr. Livingstone also informs the Toronto public that the refereeing was very good in Quebec. Sure—he had no kick.

The C. P. R. bowlers were beaten by the pin smashers from the Can. Nor. Ry. As Harry DeGuise would say: "Another case of the superiority of our 'rolling' stock."

Commercial League hockey at the Grande Allee Rink tonight. The new league is going well, and there is as much excitement over the games as in the senior circuits.

Laurentides and Montagnais clash at the Arena tonight. Should Laurentides win, the Montagnais will slip down into second place. But—they'll have to go some to down Letourneau's outfit.

Wanderers may cause a surprise tonight. The results may be something like this:

Wanderers beat Canadiens; Ottawa beats Quebec.
But you can turn them around anyway. The man who bets says: Ottawa and Canadiens.

Quebec will likely line up with Joe Malone in center, and Crawford and Marks on the wings, with McDonald in reserve.

If the Bulldogs can only get an even break in luck around the goal, they ought to trim Ottawa. The locals have lost millions of chances when they had only the goaler to beat.

The Discharge and Pay Office of No. 5 Division will meet in a duck-pin match Thursday night. The Pay Office boys are trying to find some kind of a game at which they can assert their superiority over Colonel Sharples' staff.

Duck-pin is a most erratic game, and there should be some scoring.

The N.H.A. offside rule is certainly ridiculous in many ways, and the Montreal News suggests a general revision of all regulations. There is no doubt, that much could be done which would improve the game and also give the referees a better chance to do their work.

Popular Pastime, No. 340: Listening to the Movie Fan who knows all the names of the photoplay actors enlighten all these around, whether they want the information or not.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 1.—Outfielder Paul Smith was today sold to the Montreal club of the International League, by the Pittsburg National League club. Smith was secured from that club by a draft last fall.

COMMERCIAL MEN PLAY TONIGHT

TRIPLE HEADER IN COMMERCIAL LEAGUE AT GRANDE ALLEE RINK.

Three games in the Commercial Hockey League will be played this evening at the Grande Allee Rink.

The first is scheduled for 7.30, between the Canadian Northern Railway team and that of the Public Service Corporation.

At 8.30, Samson & Filion will line up against the Mechanics Supply Co. team, and at 9.30, the hockey stars of Terreau & Racine will endeavor to outshine the representatives of the Q. R. L. H. & P. Company.

The results of the N.H.A. games, Quebec vs. Ottawa, and Wanderers vs. Canadienne—will be bulletined during the progress of these Commercial League matches.

RING GOSSIP.

Concerning boxing in Montreal, Beck's Weekly says:

The attendance at the recent bout here between Battling Levinsky and Silas Green indicates that Montreal is a good boxing town, providing that high-class attractions are furnished. Promoters who had tried and failed, to interest the public with mediocre cards or worse, had begun to despair. The appearance of Levinsky, however, attracted one of the largest houses in recent years and the promoters can take heart again.

Montreal boxing fans are discriminating, however. They will not patronize bouts between unknowns, or third or fourth-raters. Show them a first-class boxer, and they'll go to see him. No others need apply.

Quebec is in a similar position. If first-class men are brought on here, the sport will thrive.

AT THE THEATRES

"SARAH BERNHARDT AT HOME" THE FEATURE AT THE AUDITORIUM.

A great interesting film showing the "Divine" Sarah in Her Home.

"Sarah Bernhardt At Home" is certainly the most attractive title for a film that any producer could have found. There is more in the film than the United Film Company is to present at the Auditorium for the last three days of the week, as Sarah Bernhardt appears in that film in her intimacy. Any person seeing that film can judge the great tragedienne at her value, for she is shown as she really is at home; that is, one sees the "Divine" Sarah herself and not the make-up of an actress.

That masterpiece is in two reels and the Auditorium has booked with it for the last three days of the week a very interesting drama and a comedy that is the line of the strongest competition Charles Chaplin ever had. The star of the two reel film is Pincus Rainbow and the film itself is called "Pincus at the flat."

There are some situations in that picture that not only rival but surpass some of the best comedies produced. Other theatres have advertised Pincus by saying he is not "Chaplin" and have had the success of their career with his films. He is the greatest impersonator in film today.

The prices will be 10c and 15c for evening performances and 10 cents for matinees.

"THE REGENERATION" THE FEATURE AT THE OLYMPIA.

A Fox Masterpiece for the Three Last Days of the Week.

"The Regeneration," the Fox masterpiece on the bill at the Olympia for the last three days of the week is the masterpiece of that company and the productions of Fox presented in this city so far are known as the best in circulation.

Some wonderful scenes of this film have cost the company thousands of dollars and the way they are presented have made a reputation that cannot be repeated for the producers.

ACCOMPLICE OF KOENIG IS TRIED

HE FURNISHED HIM WITH INFORMATION REGARDING SHIPMENTS TO ALLIES.

New York, Feb. 1.—Frederick Schlenkl, formerly employed as a clerk in the National City Bank here, was placed on trial today on a charge of having furnished Paul Koenig a list of the bank's private telegrams and other documents relative to shipments from New York to the Entente Allies. Koenig, former chief of detectives of the Hamburg-American Steamship Company and after the outbreak of the war, reputed head of the German secret service in this city, is alleged to have given Schlenkl a bribe.

Koenig was arrested by the Federal authorities a few weeks ago on two indictments and on January 11th, surrendered to the State officials on a charge of having corrupted Schlenkl. He was released on $1,500 bail on the latter charge.

The Federal indictment against Koenig alleges that he instigated a plot to blow up the Welland Canal in Canada, and also that he sent German spies into Canada to obtain secret information of the movements of troops.

Schlenkl's written confession of his relations with Koenig, made soon after his arrest, was admitted in evidence at the trial today.

ANOTHER GERMAN PIRATE, THE MOEWE, IS STILL AT LARGE

The Moewe approached the liner flying the British ensign and exchanged salutes with her. When she was close enough to cross the Appam's bow she ran up the German flag and lowered the false forecastle disclosing her armament. The detailed story of the capture still is untold as no one has come ashore except Lieut. Berge and no one has been permitted to go aboard except those officials whose duties required them to do so.

No one knows where the Moewe came from, except the prize crew aboard the Appam, nor where she went after the battle with the Clan MacTavish. Apparently all of the operations revealed by the arrival of the Appam took place in the vicinity of the Canary Islands. The Appam did not sight a single British or French man-of-war from the time she parted company with the Moewe until she entered Hampton Roads. The regular crew operated the ship under German guard. She is said to have flown the British flag until she reached the three-mile limit.

When the Appam dropped anchor in Hampton Roads she was boarded by the quarantine officer, Dr. H. W. McCaffery and given a clean bill of health. Soon afterward Lieut. Berge came ashore and called upon German Consul Von Shilling, and together they went to the office of Colonel Haynes, commandant of Fort Monroe, to pay an official call. The commander of the prize then reported by telephone the arrival of the vessel to Collector of the Port Hamilton of the Norfolk-Newport News district and later he came to Norfolk and made a statement of facts to Mr. Hamilton for transmission to the Washington officials.

Just what the commander said to the Collector about the treatment he desired from the United States has not been revealed and will not be until Washington has passed on the case. Mr. Hamilton accepted his word as a naval officer that he would not attempt to move the liner from her anchorage, or permit anyone to come ashore pending further instructions.

Lieut. Berge said the Appam arrived short of both fuel and provisions and that there was not enough food aboard to last through tomorrow. Mr. Hamilton gave permission to take on a quantity of stores tonight.

Among those on board are fifteen women and many children, the exact number of which has not been determined.

Sir Edward Meriwether, Governor of Sierra Leone, a British province in West Africa and his wife are passengers. There are also several officers of the British army and navy.

Hair Often Ruined By Washing With Soap

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulified coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulified coconut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

SAYS CANADA SHOULD HAVE MEMBER ON WAR COUNCIL

category. Let us have justice for all whether English or French."

The member for Nicolet defended the Nationalist organ which, it had been stated in the House last week, should be suppressed. He reminded the House that the Journal, Canadien, had once been suspended and its director imprisoned. But when the case had been carried to London the release of the director of the paper was ordered and he had later been made a Judge. The Quebec Mercury of 1816 had been an analogous case. Mr. Lamarche asserted that no matter with what intensity the Nationalist Chief had expressed his opinions he had "never found a word or a line in it which might directly or indirectly lead one to suppose that either Le Devoir or its Director wished otherwise than for a complete victory of the Allies over Germany."

Mr. Lamarche then turned to the Government's proposal for an extension of the Parliamentary term, expressing his unqualified opposition to this measure.

The proposal is simply an expedient, said the Member for Nicolet. "It arises on the part of the Government from fear of the judgment, from fear of rendering an account of the political concubinage which has been in existence for the last five years. As far as I am concerned, neither the Government of Canada nor the Government of Great Britain can make me a member for a single day longer than the term assigned me by my electors. I intend, if the Parliamentary term is extended, to resign my seat, such resignation to become effective on the date of expiry of the old term. I do not think the people will endorse the government's proposal to vote a new term for itself."

Mr. Marcil's Speech.

Mr. Chas. Marcil, Bonaventure, said that as the premier Overseas Dominion of the Empire Canada had duties, when war broke out, which could not be neglected.

Mr. Marcil traced the history of the Nationalist movement in Quebec and read the resolutions drafted by its Leader and subsequently adopted as the platform of the party. Those resolutions, he said, "show what we have to contend with in the Province of Quebec when a party instills into the minds of the people the idea that they have no obligation to Great Britain outside their own country."

Canada Must Share.

He asserted that in the present war the principles of humanity and civilization were threatened and there was nothing for Canadians to do but assume a share of the burden. In Ottawa, Mr. Marcil continued another obstacle to recruiting had to be met. The Nationalist party, the Legislature of Quebec, the Hierarchy of Quebec and newspapers in the province, rightly or wrongly, held the opinion that the minority in the province of Ontario was not being treated fairly.

"I do not want to say who is to blame for this unfortunate school question," said Mr. Marcil, "but it is a condition which should not exist. I am told that it is a difference between the French and the Irish." The Irish people should not forget what the French citizens of the country had done for them.

"Is there not a way to bridge the chasm?" asked Mr. Marcil. "I ask it when mothers spend nights guarding a school in Lower Town, and when children go to the City Hall clamoring that their teachers be paid. We have the argument that this is an English-speaking province. So much the better, I know that there is no injustice which cannot be remedied under the British rule."

He said that King Edward VII. had brought about the Entente Cordiale, which was the basis of the Allies' resistance in the present war. "Why," he asked, "cannot the same thing be done in Canada? Why cannot French Canadian children be allowed to learn French? We want all Canadians so far as possible to know the two languages."

"One thing, he said, 'you cannot take away from a man and that is what he receives from his mother! French children will speak French, no matter what legislation you pass. It is an unfortunate thing if one of the official languages of Canada is to be quarantined in one province. If this difficulty was bridged, it would help us immensely recruiting.'"

NO U-BOATS IN AMERICAN WATERS

ONE WAS THOUGHT TO HAVE ACCOMPANIED THE "APPAM" ACROSS.

New York, Feb. 1.—The British Consul-General here today notified British shipping to be on the lookout for German submarines in American waters, but the warning was later said to have been withdrawn as needless. Information received at the consulate led to the belief that a submarine had accompanied the captured steamer Appam on her voyage across the Atlantic, but according to Captain Gaunt, British naval attaché, the information was not considered authentic.

"We were informed today," said Captain Gaunt, "of the possible presence of German submarines near the American coast and considered the information sufficiently authentic to warrant sending out a notice to shipping. Later the source which had given us our information explained that it was erroneous and we decided to withdraw the warning."

SEPARATE SCHOOLS IN CITY OF OTTAWA.

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—That the city, especially recognizing neither the separate school board nor the Ontario School Commission, should use the separate school taxes collected last year to pay the teachers in the schools, was the suggestion made to the Board of Control this afternoon by a large deputation, including many women, headed by S. M. Genest, chairman of the old separate school board. The mayor promised that the board would give serious consideration to the suggestion.

Speaker Landry of the Senate and Senator Belcourt supported the request. Teachers who don't recognize the Ontario government commission have not been receiving payment for their services.

HYPHENATE PLOT WAS FRUSTRATED

MEN WITH DESIGNS ON BELLE VILLE BARRACKS, CAUGHT IN TIME.

Belleville, Ont., Feb. 1.—Three men, Abraham Frank, alias "Silver," his son, Benjamin, and William Cohen, who were arrested here a few days ago on suspicion of designs against the barracks of the 80th Battalion, and the gas works adjoining, were today sent back to Chicago, where they are wanted by the police. All three waived extradition. Abraham Frank was returned in custody, the other two going back as witnesses. The trio, who were accompanied by two women, had about $2,000 and it was ascertained that $1,000 was to be deposited to their credit in a Belleville bank, for what purpose is not known.

The arrests here was due to the fact that a woman saw two men outside the gas works and overheard one of them who had climbed the wall say that it would be a hard job, but would likely be successful. The men who were recent arrivals were consequently arrested.

PRO-GERMANS IN BERLIN, ONTARIO.

London, Ont., Feb. 1.—Prof. F. V. Reichardt, the German born pro-British lecturer, stated here today that the trial of Walter Meyer, of Berlin, Ont., charged with sedition by Lieut.-Col. Lockhead of the 118th Battalion, had been blocked by a member of the Dominion Parliament, who, he said, took a petition to Ottawa asking that the charge be dropped.

REVIEW OF TIMBER TRADE DURING YEAR

1915 COMPARES FAVORABLY WITH OTHER YEARS, UNDER THE CONDITIONS.

Farnworth & Jardine's annual timber circular issued at Liverpool last month remarks in part on the trade during last year as follows:

The volume of business in the Timber Trade of Liverpool, other Mersey ports, and Manchester Canal, during the past year compares favourably with previous seasons, considering the adverse conditions under which it was conducted, owing to the continuance of the great European war. Imports, under the circumstances, were on the whole well maintained. Steam tonnage was restricted, and chartering difficult, but Sailing reappearing in considerable numbers were eagerly taken up, and to some extent supplied the want, especially in the Canadian trade. The demand in connection with Government requirements continued steady, and fairly active, but the general demand was rather quiet, many consumers being occupied in other special work; still, notwithstanding the many drawbacks, congested quays, restricted transport facilities, &c., the deliveries were fairly satisfactory. Stocks all round are on the moderate side—of some articles light—but it is satisfactory to note the stock of Spruce Deals is much in excess of the same time twelve months ago. Values: steadily advanced, and now rule very high, some of the leading articles extremely high, and the dearest ever recorded. Ocean Freights, strong and advancing throughout, reached exorbitant rates, and for the coming season are a great problem. Shippers would be well advised to act with great caution.

Canadian Woods.—Quebec Yellow Pine Timber.—There was no import to Liverpool, but Manchester received moderate quantities. The demand very restricted, but the deliveries exceeded the import, and stocks are now moderate. Waney Pine.—First Class: The arrivals were largely on Merchants' account to Manchester, and mostly moved into consumption; demand exceedingly quiet; stocks are light; values high. Second Class did not find much favour, and the present stock appears adequate. Square Pine and Red Pine.—Practically no movement. Oak.—Logs.—The entire import, slightly more than the previous year, went to Manchester, almost entirely on contract; the deliveries were fairly satisfactory; available stocks are light. 2nd Class Oak is in poor demand. Elm.—(Square Rock).—Owing to the difficulty of obtaining freight space to Liverpool, the moderate import went to Manchester. There was good enquiry, and values are very high; stocks are not too heavy. Round Rock Elm met with good enquiry at full rates; stocks are moderate. Ash.—Square is seldom enquired for. Quebec Birch.—Logs.—Arrivals on a more liberal scale than last year, viz., 191,000 cubic feet, against 90,000 cubic feet in 1914. The demand was fairly good throughout the year at advancing prices, but present stocks are sufficient. Planks and Boards.—Steady demand at full rates, although stocks are higher compared with this time last year, they are not too heavy. Maple.—Logs.—Enquiries have been for good sound round fresh logs of large dimensions. Flooring (Planed).—A fairly large business done; stocks are moderate, and values advancing. Sycamore, Chestnut, &c.—Little enquiry.

Quebec Pine Deals.—The arrivals of Pine Deals, Boards, Red Pine, &c., were about on all fours with last year. Pine Deals of all grades met with fair demand, more especially towards the end of the year, at very full rates; the consumption slightly exceeded the import; good Sidings moved more freely into consumption, and the heavy stock carried over from the previous year considerably reduced. Red Pine Deals and Boards arrived to about an average extent; satisfactory consumption, and stocks are not heavy; prices are higher. Spruce Deals.—Compared with the year 1914, the import was very heavy, amounting to upwards of 15,000 standards, largely of unsorted quality; the demand continued strong throughout the season, and practically the entire quantity goes into consumption; stocks are light; values very high.

New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, &c. Timber.—St. John and Other Ports Pine has not been imported. Birch.—Logs from St. John, N.B., and Halifax N.S., &c.—The arrivals amount to 95,000 cubic feet, as against 124,000 cubic feet during the previous season; the demand has been steady at advancing prices, partly due to the continued rise in freights; stocks are light, totalling 16,000 cubic feet. Birch Planks came forward freely, and met with good reception at full rates; stocks appear ample. Birch Squares.—The demand is limited.

NEW YORK MARKET.
(Canadian Press).
New York, Feb. 1.—In explanation of today's sudden and general recovery of the stock market from its protracted pessimism various reasons and theories were offered. Primarily, it was declared, that the purport of President Wilson's recent speeches had been misinterpreted, that they had not been intended to convey a sense of immediate danger, but rather to awaken a feeling of patriotism in latent quarters.
Moreover—and this was the reasoning of the bulls for long accounts—it was evident that standard stocks had been oversold to levels where technical conditions on the bear side were no less vulnerable than they had previously been for the constructive account. In any event, prices rallied easily from low levels of Monday, which marked the minimum of recent weeks.
It is not improbable that a partial cessation of foreign liquidation and some more remarkable statements of railroad earnings, notably those of the Pennsylvania system, were factors too strong to be ignored. Weekly reviews dealing with industrial conditions also were taken into the reckoning.
Ralls and other investment issues participated less extensively in the rise than did certain of the specialties, but the breadth of the movement left little doubt that its impulse, in part at least, was derived from substantial sources.
United States Steel, which on the previous day, fell to 79 7/8, its lowest quotation in over three months, was easily the leader, transactions in that stock aggregating a very large percentage of the whole. Steel rose to 82 1/2, an extreme gain of 2 1/2. Crucible Steel was next in activity and ahead of United States Steel in the extent of its advance, rising four to 78, while other war shares reflected more confident buying.
Bethlehem Steel, on very few sales rose 15 to 46 1/2, with 2 to 5 point gains in oils, coppers, motors and a score or more of miscellaneous issues, while Industrial Alcohol rose 16 1/2 to 160 1/2 and Cuban American Sugar 20 to 196. Altogether, it was a disastrous session for the short interests, whose urgent covering of contracts added to the day's business.
Total sales amounted to 735,000 shares.
Bonds were steady with further heavy trading in Anglo-French 5's at 95 1/8 to 94 7/8. Total sales, par value, $4,800,000.

NEW YORK CLOSING LETTER.
McDougall & Cowans, Stock Brokers,
No. 116 Mountain Hill, Quebec,
Phone 1402-1403.
New York, Feb. 1.—The market held strong throughout the day, the price advances being general and of good proportions in many issues. Mexican Petroleum was strongest amongst the industrials on reports that the Western Oil Corporation would soon be effected, and it will be taken in.
Among the railroad stocks, Erie was an active and strong feature, but the highest grade issues all showed the effects of accumulation around the recent low prices. The American Can annual report showing between 5 and 6 per cent earned on the common was disappointing to the market, but it was said that this did not include any profits from war.

orders and it was considerably better than last year. Evidence that the technical position had been considerably improved was evident through the day. Whether today's upturn is more than a natural reaction in a liquidating market remains to be seen.
Total sales, 721,000; Bonds, $4,502,000.
CLOSING MARKET LETTERS.
By private wire to Breen & Gourdeau, Stock Brokers, 63 St. Peter Street, and 6 Sault-au-Matlot Street. Phone 185.
Chicago, Feb. 1.—Wheat—Early today liquidation was resumed and wheat was easy. Buying by commission houses, some of which was credited to exporters took the surplus off the market and prices quickly reacted. The local element continued bearish, but are likely to make little progress pressing the short side with most of the wheat in the hands of shippers and exporters.
Corn—A reiteration of short crop in the Argentine with further reduction in the estimate of exportable surplus started a reaction in corn. The strength in wheat was also reflected in this market and with only moderate trade, the trend also of prices was upward.
Oats—Advanced with other grains, but had further support of the seaboard in the morning. Cash demand shows improvement from both domestic and exporters.
New York, Feb. 1.—The pressure under which stocks labored yesterday was not apparent in today's session of the market and values in consequence underwent improvement. This improvement was largely attributable to an adjusting of short covering, although a partial reinstatement of long accounts liquidated yesterday by timorous holders was also credited as a contributing factor to the advance.
The fact that a broader view was indulged over-night of President Wilson's remarks a few days ago on preparedness was the basis for the better feeling today. However, the day's news developed nothing new in the general situation. While the undertone to the market was better, there was no altering of policy by the general public toward stock market participation just yet.
Sales: Stocks, 720,916; Bonds, $4,862,000.

CLOSING LETTER.
By private wire to Breen & Dupuis, Stock Brokers, 11, 13 and 15 Sault-au-Matlot Street. Tel. 1596.
New York, Feb. 1.—The market closed very weak last night, but opened at a rebound this morning and continued to show strength and an improved tone all day. There was something in the buying and generally speaking, it looks as if this wave of liquidation which has been dragging along for so many weary weeks, if not months, had about spent its force. Of course, this cannot be proven as a fact for several days yet, for after a decline such as we have had in the last three days a rebound was inevitable, the test probably will come towards the middle of the week, but fundamentals continue good, or at least they do as we see them, and we do not believe we are going to get actively mixed up in the great Euro-

BILINGUAL QUESTION.

Quebec, Feb. 1st, 1916.

To Editor of The Chronicle.

Dear Sir,—Judging from the correspondence which has lately appeared in your valuable daily and from what you have yourself published on the matter, it now looks as if the bilingual school question in Ontario would soon be amicably settled, or that something will be done to come to an agreement. What a boon this would be for all the right-minded people of this great Dominion of ours and how our country would gain in its good reputation abroad! I have often thought that if the Ontario Press men could only read our papers as we read their (our bilingual school system gives us, among many others, that advantage), and acquire a general knowledge of our literature, they would soon form an adequate idea of the mentality of the people of this province, and be in a position to give their readers the facts as they really are, and what an amount of prejudices and misrepresentations would thus be avoided. Four years ago, being in the West, I had occasion to converse, while crossing the Rocky Mountains, with a Saskatchewan citizen on topics relating to the history of Canada, and when I came to state the prominent part the Catholic clergy and our people had taken in the critical periods of 1775 and 1812, and what credit we may claim for the preservation of this country to the British Crown, my fellow traveller was agreeably surprised, and avowed that "he knew nothing about this." How many in Ontario really ignore what they imagine to know about us and our province, for want of coming to see by themselves or for want of proper information, or what is still worse owing to misrepresentation of facts. There is one particularly that requires to be dispelled from the minds of too many people, that is the false impression that the French language in Ontario would be taught to the detriment or instead of the English. The French people would be the first to suffer by this. But what is more inconceivable and what, nevertheless, some people think, is that the French in Ontario dream of some dark plot of domination for the future in some way or other. No such aim has ever haunted their minds, I need not add. I endorse here with pleasure the following from the "Presbyterian Record," on the Ontario school question: "There is nothing to be afraid of in the prospect of this Province being, to some extent, bilingual." Our brothers in Ontario simply wish to be free, have the control of their schools and teach both languages simultaneously, so as to preserve their own and learn English for their wants in life. "The desire of the French to speak and perpetuate their mother tongue is not only natural, but unobjectionable," writes again the "Presbyterian Record." This freedom is not too much to expect, and if the minority in Quebec did not enjoy that liberty, which is after all, but a right founded on nature, they would certainly fight for it with reason. Surely we ought to be able to settle this educational difficulty in an other way than by German methods, and thus confer on our country the benefits of peace and mutual satisfaction. One point certain is that Canada's prosperity and the contentment of its people will be impeded as long as troubles of the kind of the Ontario school question will be afloat.

As for those who absolutely refuse to be enlightened and who think that

SAGE TEA DARKENS HAIR TO ANY SHADE

DON'T STAY GRAY! HERE'S AN OLD-TIME RECIPE THAT ANYBODY CAN APPLY.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. When ever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and abundant.

Banquet is Given for Educational Classes and Committee.

On Monday Evening the lecture hall of the Y. W. C. A. was the scene of a most interesting gathering, and one which marks an epoch in the history of the Educational Work of the Association. The occasion was the first Banquet given for the Educational classes and committee; at least one hundred and fifty young girls and young women, all of them members of one or other of the classes, sat down at the prettily decorated tables. The scene in the flag draped, brightly lighted hall was an inspiration. The Camp Fire girls, in their becoming Indian costume, made a charming bit of colour; while the rows of bright eager girls, so fresh and workmanlike in their white "middies" made one realize what a place the physical work of the Association is taking in the life of the young women of Quebec.

An excellent program of toasts, speeches and "stunts" had been arranged. Miss Fraser, the "Chairman" for the evening, after a short review of the work of classes and committee, then called upon Mrs. West to prepare the first toast—the King—which was heartily responded to by the singing of the National Anthem. Miss Gillespie, in a short and humorous speech, proposed the Educational Committee which was ably seconded by Mrs. Elkins. Miss Atkinson, whose deep interest in every branch of Association work especially in all that concerns the welfare of our Young Women is well known was most fitly chosen to propose the health of "Dr. Douglas and the New Gymnasium". In doing so Miss Atkinson asked the girls to remember that Dr. Douglas' generous and spontaneous gift was not to the Board of Management but to them and to every Young Woman in Quebec who in the future would take advantage of the great opportunities for self-development that the gymnasium and swimming pool would afford.

Miss Anna Chapin Ray, whose love for Quebec and Quebec people has made her as one of us then gave the girls a short talk on the part they may play in the world's work, that since all avenues of work were now thrown open to young women, it was no longer man's work, nor woman's work that counted, but efficient work. The "Classes" were proposed by Mrs. Darlington who has shown an unflinching interest in all the advance work of the Association. One of the most interesting features of the evening was the part taken by the younger members of the different classes. In proposing and responding to various toasts, their short concise and practical remarks showed what a hold Association work has already taken upon them. The Educational Work began on a very simple way some three years ago, it has slowly but surely developed along the lines followed by our sister Associations in all large centres. The Educational Committee greatly appreciates the response that their efforts have received from the Young Women of Quebec, and one lasting impression received from Monday evening's social gathering with its cheery wholesome atmosphere of good comradeship, was the spirit of mutual help and sympathy that exists between all the members of the classes and the committee.

One cannot close a report of this kind without calling the attention of the Quebec public to the splendid work that is being carried on by the general secretary, Miss Thompson, and by Miss Edwards the physical director. Through their quiet unselfish efforts the four fold aim of all association work, the physical, mental, moral and spiritual development of young women is making itself felt in our midst.

POPULAR YOUNG LADY MARRIED

MISS HILDA LOVE WEDDED TO LIEUT. D. G. MACLEAN.

Yesterday morning at St. Andrew's Church the marriage took place of Miss Hilda Maude Armour Love, youngest daughter of the Rev. Dr. A. T. and Mrs. Love to Lieut. Donald George MacLean C.A.S.C., youngest son of the late Rev. Archibald MacLean, D.D. and Mrs. MacLean of Blythe, Ontario.

The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. George Love, and was attended by her little niece, Miss Hildette Freeland as maid. Lieut. Douglas Weir was in attendance on the groom.

The ceremony was conducted by the Rev. Doctor Love, father of the bride, assisted by the Rev. S. T. Martin, M.A. Pastor of Chalmers' Church. The bride looked pretty in her travelling costume of Alice blue velvet, ermine furs and white hat. Owing to the wedding being a quiet one, no invitations were issued. Mrs. MacLean is one of Quebec's most popular young ladies which was evidenced by the presence of so many people attending the service.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the happy couple returned to the Manse where the wedding breakfast was partaken of. The presents to the bride were numerous and valuable.

Amongst those the bridegroom received was one from his brother officers, consisting of a beautiful silver salver, with the inscription "From Brother Officers of the 3rd Detachment, C.P.A.S.C."

Lieut. and Mrs. MacLean took their departure on the 1.30 train in the afternoon for the West, where the honeymoon is to be spent.

Missed By Censor

Good morning! Don't you wish this were a good old time winter?

Mr. John Roberts is in town. When John Roberts comes in John Barleycorn goes out.

"What is the fifth commandment, father?"—asked little Johnny who was studying his lessons.
"Honor thy father and mother, my son," replied the knowing parent.

It is hard to know nowadays whether a man is under the weather or just slipping.

Some strange things happen under the head of Routine Business.

It's easy to become a professional man this year. Just have a private bill passed at the Legislature.

URIC ACID IN MEAT CLOGS THE KIDNEYS

TAKE A GLASS OF SALTS IF YOUR BACK HURTS OR BLADDER BOTHERS.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a table spoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

SIR ERNEST SHACKLETON

Interviewed at his home in London, Dr. Shackleton the father of Sir Ernest Shackleton, stated that no news had been received of the Expedition.

It will be remembered that Sir Ernest Shackleton left in the early months of the war to attempt the crossing of the Antarctic Continent. It was not expected that news of the party would reach home before February or March in the present year. It will be interesting to learn Sir Ernest Shackleton's views of the war upon his re-emergence from the Antarctic wastes.
