Police Note "Hidden Titles" Contest Discontinued For Summer Few Mishaps During Week

Minor Smashes Comprise List — Two Victims, However Require Hospital Treatment

The number of traffic cases and accidents on the books at the local police station this week is quite in keeping with the quiet summer season, a few minor "routine" mishaps being the only items listed.

On Thursday afternoon of last week at the corner of Dorchester and Atwater, a bicycle driven by Albert Morley, Dorchester street west, suffered a few broken spokes and front wheel damages when it collided with a car driven by W. J. Wall, 571 Lansdowne avenue. Both vehicles, police learned, were proceeding west on Dorchester street, when the cycle turned south to go down Atwater without giving sufficient warning to the driver of the car, who was coming along shortly behind. Constable Rowe investigated.

On Sunday evening at about 9:30, W. P. Downey of 515 Grosvenor avenue suffered a fractured left leg, and various bruises and a cut when he was struck and knocked down by a car driven by Florian Levesque of Ansonville, Ontario. Police were informed that Levesque was driving north on Grosvenor avenue when Downey appeared from behind a parked vehicle and stepped into the path of Levesque's car. Levesque says he swerved suddenly to the right in an effort to avoid an accident but could not avoid striking Downey.

Taken To Hospital

Downey was taken to the Homeopathic hospital by ambulance, where first aid was rendered by Dr. Griffiths. Constable Lauzon investigated.

Sunday morning two tourists' cars collided on Sherbrooke street near the borders of N.D.G., and Edward M. Patch of Ottawa, suffered two broken small bones in his right wrist. Police learned that his car struck the rear of a vehicle driven by John Wm. Dunn, Syracuse, New York, and received damages to the radiator grill, front bumper, front right fender and hood, while Dunn's car suffered a damaged rear bumper and bumper frame. Patch was taken to the Homeopathic Hospital, where he was treated by Dr. Dorrance. Constable Williams investigated.

Tuesday a tram car collided with a motor car which stopped partly across the tracks on Sherbrooke street while the driver, Sam Finkelman, of Schumacher, Ontario, was asking a milk wagon driver nearby the road to Ottawa. Finkelman claims the tram motor-man did not sound his gong.

Turtle In Heart Of City Astonishes Police Force

In the course of a year's work police at the Stanton street station run across a good many surprising things, and the desk staff is pretty well hardened to the unusual. But Wednesday afternoon even they raised their eyebrows and scratched their heads, for something truly unexpected happened along.

A small boy, Gerald Prud'homme, of 13 Brooke street, came in with a leather zipper-fastened bag. In a piping voice he addressed some vague remarks to everyone in general and no one in particular about a find his daddy had made. Then he opened the zipper—and that was the surprise.

Out walked a large lake-turtle, fully eight inches long and quite healthy, as evidenced by his speed in walking across the desk. An amazed silence reigned for a moment, to be broken by cries of "Holy Smoke!" "Great Scott!" and other expressions.

The boy's father had found the creature in a garbage pail, according to a rather vague story given by the youngster. He also gave a somewhat hazy report of some boys having obtained the turtle at a picnic, bringing it back to town with fourteen others to provide somewhat cruel sport for the neighbourhood children. This particular turtle was the only one left.

Ideas of turtle soup were running through half a dozen brains, but Inspector Gough ordered the creature taken to the park and put under the tender care of Mr. McCreath. Detective Maxwell was appointed Chief Turtle Transporter, and departed in a police car for the Westmount Park greenhouse. And according to latest reports, the turtle now has found a happy home in the park pool, where it can cavort with the ducks to its heart's desire.

Last dogs and cats are common sights at the police station, but a turtle—well, it is a bit unusual, don't you think?

With this issue, The Westmount Examiner discontinues its popular "Hidden Titles" contest for the balance of the summer. Inaugurated last fall through the kind co-operation of Mr. Godel, manager of the Westmount Theatre, this weekly feature has proven a favourite with hundreds of Examiner readers during the past three seasons, and will be resumed again in September of this year.

Mail regarding the "Hidden Titles" contest far outshadowed in volume all the other correspondence received in our business offices. The Contest Editor had no simple task in sorting, examining and judging the multitudinous entries received every week. Those

J. A. Cameron Gough Named Is Feted By Director Of Co-Workers Association

Retired Assistant Auditor of Passenger Receipts Presented With Gifts by Office Staff

J. A. Cameron, retired assistant auditor of Passenger Receipts of the Canadian Pacific Railways, Montreal, and a resident of Westmount at 35 Burton avenue, was presented last week with a handsome suit case, a fishing rod and tackle, and a hand bag by Mr. C. B. Gordon, auditor of passenger receipts.

The presentation was made in the presence of the staff. Mr. Gordon paid tribute to the many years of loyal service to the company rendered by Mr. Cameron, and on behalf of the staff and himself expressed the hope that Mr. Cameron would find his years of well earned retirement many and enjoyable.

Mr. Cameron in reply thanked Mr. Gordon and the staff for their kindness, and expressed his appreciation of the full co-operation of his fellow employees which he had always enjoyed during his career with the C.P.R.

Mr. Cameron, who retired June 30th under the pension rules of the company, entered the service of the railway in July, 1896, as a clerk in the office of the auditor of passenger receipts, Montreal. In May 1920 he was made chief clerk, and in July 1926 was appointed assistant auditor of passenger receipts, which position he held till his retirement.

FUNERAL FRIDAY

Funeral services were held at the William Wray Chapel, University street, on Friday afternoon for Susan McAllan, daughter of the late Captain James McAllan, who died at her former home, 4836 Western avenue, on Thursday of last week.

Following the service, interment took place at Whitby, Ont.

passes to the Westmount Theatre, given as prizes, certainly proved coveted awards; and hundreds of residents in all parts of the city, from the north side of St. Antoine street to the austere realms at the top of the mountain perused the ads line by line weekly in search of the hidden titles of the current film hits being shown on the Westmount Theatre screen.

Winners in last week's final contest are as follows: Mrs. H. H. Pearson, 445 Victoria Ave.; Miss L. Johnston, 625 Victoria Ave.; D. Berry, 377 Victoria Ave.; Mrs. J. Bailey, 3105 St. Antoine St.; Miss W. Rice, 74 Somerville Ave.; Mrs. McGoldrick, 443 Claremont Ave.

Inspector of Westmount Police Department Elected to Board of Quebec Fire and Police Chiefs' Group

Inspector Walter Gough of the Westmount Police force was appointed a director of the Quebec Fire and Police Chiefs' Association at the closing of the convention held at Riviere du Loup last week. The convention lasted four days, and was attended by police and fire officials from all parts of the province.

Other directors appointed were Chief Paquette of Pointe Claire; Chief Bellmore of Three Rivers; Chief Grandmaitre of Riviere du Loup; Chief Mequet Dorion, and Chief Morin of St. Jean d'Iberville, Que.

Preceding the elections, reports of the various committees were read and put on file by Robert Harrington of Montreal, secretary-treasurer, elected later for his 12th term.

During the final business meeting of a sister association composed of wives of the police and fire chiefs, Mrs. Seguin was elected president; Mrs. Cyr, vice-president; and Mrs. Claude, 2nd vice-president with Mrs. Cadieux re-elected secretary-treasurer.

F. Thompson Dead At 81

Funeral Held Privately For Retired Drug Expert, Who Died at Home of Son-in-law on Sunday

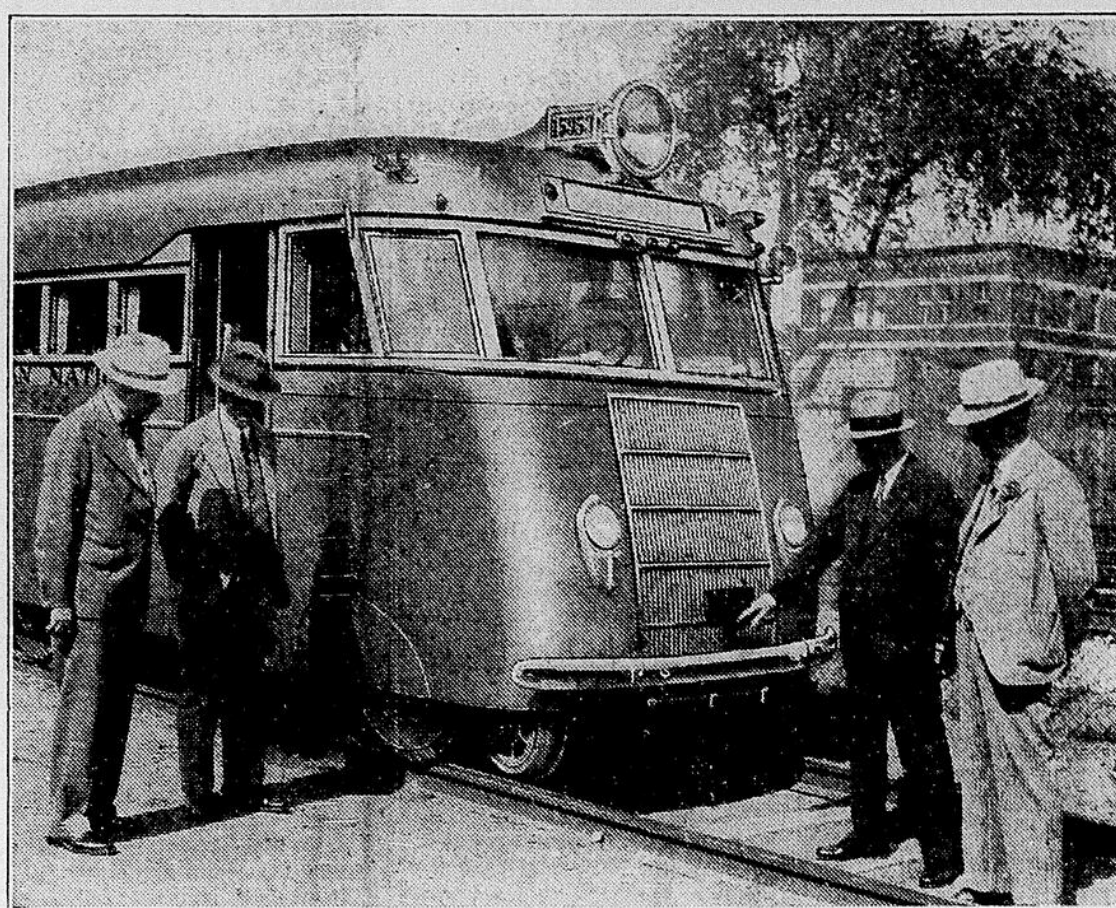

The funeral was held privately early this week from the chapel of Jos. C. Wray and Brother, Mountain Street, of Frederick Maltby Thompson, who died on Sunday at the home of his son-in-law, Alfred Martin, Montrose avenue, in his eighty second year. He had been ill for a long time.

A native of Montreal, Mr. Thompson was the son of the late Richard Maltby Thompson, of Nottingham, England. He was educated here, and started his business career with a Toronto wholesale drug company. For many years he was associated with the firm of Kerry, Watson and Company, wholesale druggists, which is now the National Drug Company. He retired from active business fifteen years ago.

He is survived by two sons, Richard, of Toronto, and Fred, of Montreal; and two daughters, Mrs. F. R. Waddington of London, England, and Mrs. Alfred Martin of Montreal. His wife, formerly Christina Elliot, whom he married in Peterborough in 1888, predeceased him in 1930.

Interment was made in Mount Royal Cemetery.

FIRST ROAD-RAIL CAR PASSED THROUGH WESTMOUNT MONDAY

The first tests to be made in Canada of a new type of automotive vehicle which links highway and railway have now begun on branch lines in the three regions of the Canadian National System. The first of these "Auto-Railers" which will be tried out on branch lines in Ontario and Quebec, is now ready for service.

It was inspected recently by S. J. Hungerford, Chairman and President of the Canadian National, and a number of headquarters officials and was given a "road test" between Montreal and Lachine this week.

Photograph shows John Roberts, Chief of Motive Power and Car Equipment, pointing out to President Hungerford the flanged wheels which are let down or drawn up to change from road to rail operation. This operation is controlled from the driver's seat and requires only one minute's time. In the group (left to right) are N. B. Walton, Chief of Transportation, Mr. Hungerford, Mr. Roberts and R. L. Fairbairn, Manager, Passenger Service Bureau.

In addition to the three passenger road-railers one freight carrier for use on either road or rail will be tried out.

In announcing the purchase of this equipment Mr. Hungerford emphasized that the move was of an experimental nature and was intended to permit of tests being made on various sections of the system as to the adaptability of these cars for use in Canada. It is believed they will cut down operating costs very considerably on light traffic branch lines and at the same time give better service to the public dependent upon such lines.

George Garard Returns Home From Coronation

Westmount High School Student Saw Gorgeous Procession—Saw Searchlight and Fireworks Display of British Fleet—Flew to Paris—Many Points of Interest

Bronzed and enthusiastic, George Frederick Garard, Jr., of 349 Selby Street, has just returned from a trip to England, where he witnessed the Coronation Procession, visited countless points of interest in London and the surrounding country, and attended the Rally of Empire Youth at famous Albert Hall. A student at Westmount High School, where he will return in September to complete his matriculation course, he sailed from Montreal aboard the S.S. Montcalm on April 28th as a member of a party of 140 students from all parts of Canada, the group being under the direction of the Overseas Education League.

Mr. Garard has brought back a wealth of souvenirs, pictures, and mementos of the old country. His afternoon's visit to The Examiner's office this week was not sufficiently long to give one time to peruse the bulk of his material; a whole week end would be required to inspect and appreciate it fully.

The party arrived at London on the morning of May 7th, and went straight to King George's House, a hostel for boys where they stayed during their sojourn in London. During the few days before the Coronation, they were entertained by the Royal Empire Society, and by the Postmaster General, and were shown through London's huge General Post Office. The party were also allowed to inspect the underground electric railway which transports mail to and from various parts of the city.

The Procession

On the morning of the Coronation, the boys rose at 4 a.m., and by six were seated in stands facing the entrance at Buckingham Palace. The Canadian girls, a separate group under the same sponsorship, were dressed in blue skirts and white blouses with blue ties, while the boys wore grey flannel pants with maroon blazers and caps.

"Thus grouped together, the representation of Canadian youth in the vast crowd was quite outstanding, and was favourably commented upon by Mrs. Vincent Massey," said Mr. Garard. "Being located near the palace we saw the procession both leaving and returning, as well as the several appearances on the balcony of the Royal Family afterwards. We left the stand at 5 p.m., after seeing the most gorgeous and impressive spectacle which I ever was to witness."

Various Visits

Other visits made by Mr. Garard and the boys included Hampton Court Palace; the "B.B.C.", where they saw and heard a broadcast by the Empire Orchestra; an athletic meet at White City; the rally of Empire Youth at Albert Hall, attended also by the Duke of Gloucester, Stanley Baldwin, Alfred Noyes, the poet, and others; saw the state drive of The King and Queen to the Mansion House, attended the service of Empire Youth at Westminster Abbey, which was still in its coronation

Westmount's Appearance

The Examiner editorial department received a telephone call a few days ago from a gentleman who described himself as an American tourist. He had spent three or four days travelling about Montreal and district on foot, he said, and felt that the results of his observations as a seasoned traveller might prove of interest.

"I have just walked through the municipality you call Westmount," he declared, "and I want to say that in all my years as a traveller and globe-trotter, I have never seen a city with such beautifully kept parks, streets and lawns. I have visited cities and towns from coast to coast, in North America, Europe, Asia, Africa and Australia; many of these cities are certainly well kept and pleasant to look upon, but I can honestly say that Westmount is jumps ahead of every one of them."

We asked him to write a "letter to the editor" on the subject, which he promised to do. To date we have not heard from him again, but can accept his verbal remarks as being just as authentic as though in black and white and appearing above his signature.

Westmount has every reason to feel proud of her appearance. Well kept parks and playgrounds provide ideal resting and recreational spots in warm summer weather, and the co-operation of the residents in keeping their lawns and gardens well maintained provides an example for every other residential municipality in Canada to follow.

It is not a particularly pleasant task to do hard work in hot weather; but employees of the Parks and Roads departments can be observed even under the hottest skies, busily maintaining the city in its usual A-1 condition.

If certain other municipalities not so far away were to follow Westmount's lead, their general aspect would be greatly improved. The same can be said for municipal government also.

Community Singing Thursday

The first of a proposed series of Community Singings will be staged at the Westmount Athletic Grounds on Thursday evening, commencing at about nine o'clock.

Mr. W. Maxwell Ford, popular principal of King's School and well known song-leader, will be in charge of the singing.

A large screen will be erected following the regular weekly track and field handicaps, and the words of popular songs will be flashed on it to enable those unfamiliar with the songs to join in.

The public-address amplifier system will be used, and no admission charge will be made.

It is expected that a large number will attend, and the earlier one gets there the better the seat he will get. Those who attend the handicaps will have first chance for the best seats.

Mr. Ford led the still-talked-of singing on the night of the Coronation festivities at the Athletic Grounds May 12th, and certainly proved his ability to lead a large group in community music.

Mrs. Fulton Burial Held On Tuesday

Arlington Avenue Resident Had Been Active in Church and Charitable Work For Many Years

The funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon from her former home, 65 Arlington avenue, of Mrs. M. V. Fulton, widow of James V. Fulton, whose death occurred at her residence on Sunday. Interment was made in Mount Royal Cemetery.

Nee Mary Victoria McGregor, she was a native of Huntingdon, P.Q., daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James McGregor. She came to Montreal at an early age, however, and spent the greater part of her life here. Her husband who predeceased her ten years ago, was connected with the Royal Bank of Canada for many years.

A keen church and social worker, Mrs. Fulton worshipped at St. Andrew's, and had been active in many fields of charitable endeavour. She was also prominent in club work, belonging to both the Westmount Women's Club and the Women's Art Society.

She is survived by four sons, James, John and William, of Montreal, and Stanley of Toronto; and one daughter, Mrs. J. B. Russell, of Montreal. Five sisters and two brothers also survive.

Rev. Chas. G. Smith Addressed Rotary Luncheon Meeting

Pastor of Temple Baptist Church, Outremont, Recalled Trip to Attend Convention in Georgia—Made Many Witty Remarks—Winston Cogswell, Radio Singer, Entertained—All-American Football Star Visitor From California

"It was Socrates who said 'To Travel is to see; to see is to know; and to know is to be,'" declared Rev. Charles George Smith, of Temple Baptist Church, Outremont, in addressing members of the Westmount Rotary Club at their regular weekly luncheon in Victoria Hall. The subject of his address was "Marching Through Georgia," in which he told of a recent trip to attend a Baptist Convention in the south; Mrs. Smith interspersed his address with many witty remarks which brought roars of appreciation from his hearers. "Incidentally, 'Socrates' is 'Smith' in English," remarked the speaker.

Mr. Smith recalled the quotation "He who would bring back the wealth of the Indies must take the wealth of the Indies with him," and remarked that in order to enjoy properly the places one visits, one must take the spirit of co-operation and friendliness with him, and be ready to enjoy the pleasures and sights of far places.

"Georgia is a great Baptist territory," said the speaker, "about one third of the entire population adheres to the Baptist faith." He then described the nature of the state, it being a land of rich crops, lovely homes, and hospitable people. About half the population is coloured, he said.

"We were given a 'warm' reception when we got to Atlanta," said Rev. Mr. Smith, "warm being no idle term, as it was eighty-five degrees in the shade. Of course, no one had to stay in the shade, so we immediately registered at an air-conditioned hotel."

Georgia, maintained Mr. Smith, is the home of many famous people, including Bobby Jones, of professional golf fame, Ty Cobb, the great baseballer, and Henry Greely. Incidentally, he stated, "Henry Greely" is a popular name among the coloured folk, there being as many "Henry Greelys" in Georgia as there are "George Washingtons" and "Abraham Lincolns" further north.

Mr. Smith paid a visit to Savannah, another large Georgian city. It is an interesting fact that beside Savannah and Atlanta, there are no really large cities in Georgia, most of the communities being towns.

Many Colleges

There are many colleges in Georgia, he said, many of them being institutions of learning for coloured people. Incidentally, it is the home of coca-cola, popular soft drink. Mr. Smith stated that he liked Georgia so much that he planned to return there next month.

He was introduced by Rotarian Bert Cuthbert, and thanked by past-president Dr. J. Ken Carver. Dr. Chester Mead, of Bakersfield, California, who formerly was connected with a children's hospital here for three years, was introduced as a visitor by Rotarian Buckley. Dr. Mead was a member of the All-American Football team ten years ago.

Community singing was led by Rotarian Dick, with Percy French accompanying at the piano. Mr. French introduced Winston Cogswell, well known singer and radio artist, who sang "On the Road to Mandalay" and "You'll Get There in the Morning," which songs were received with loud applause.

BURIED ON MONDAY

The funeral was held on Monday from her late residence, 4721 Western avenue, of Margaret Moriarty, whose death occurred suddenly at Beaconsfield, P.Q., on Thursday. The cortege proceeded to the Church of The Ascension of Our Lord for service.

She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael Moriarty, and sister of Mr. J. E. Moriarty and Mrs. E. A. Ryan.

DOLL SHOW HELD

Under the direction of Miss M. Dafeo of the City's recreational department a doll show for girls was held Saturday morning in Westmount Park. Fifty entrants took part, and many fine dolls were shown.

Westmount CCF Boycotts All German-made Products

A boycott of all German-made goods has been adopted by members of the Westmount C.C.F. Club, and many of their sympathizers, it was learned from a high official of that group this week. This boycott is in sympathy with other C.C.F. organizations throughout the country, and the American Federation of Labour. The move to dispense with Nazi products was said to have gained approval of many persons and groups from coast to coast, and the move of the local club in joining this ban is said to have many sympathizers.

The move on the part of a large group of non-Jews recently to boycott German coal is doubtless the local stimulus for this action.

It was pointed out to The Examiner that the move is in protest of recognized Nazi methods, reported treatment accorded Protestants, Catholics, Jews, and the German people generally, and the Nazi system of government. These principles are against the tenets of labour bodies the world over, it was stated, and hence the boycott automatically goes into effect. In case of the overthrow of the Nazi regime and its substitution by a democratic form of government, the boycott would be automatically lifted.

During the summer the regular meetings of the local C.C.F. Club have been dropped, although the Executive meets on call at various times.

KIDDIES DAY AT BELMONT
Once again The Examiner "is treating", and Tuesday and Wednesday of next week will be hosts to thousands of happy children and their parents at beautiful Belmont Park where the children may enjoy an all-day picnic, the many attractions of a modern amusement park, and participate free in a drawing for a handsome bicycle, each day. Advance demand for coupons indicates that this year's event will surpass even last year's in popularity.

SAILING OF THE "NASCOPIC"
Perhaps the most unusual steamship departure of the year is the annual sailing of the Hudson Bay Company's Nascopic from Montreal early each July. The Nascopic carries supplies, missionaries, police, scientists, and three or four tourists to the sub-Arctic, reaching a latitude within a thousand miles of the North Pole. Her annual voyage of some 12,000 miles takes three months; she makes over forty calls.

The Nascopic sailed from Montreal last Saturday morning, while several hundred persons visited the wharf to bid her good-bye. Many of these people came to see relatives off to the Arctic—relatives whom they would not talk to again for years—and they stood on the deck wistfully watching the little ship until she was far down the river. The thoughts in the minds of these people must have been kin to the thoughts of the early residents of Quebec as they watched the last ships leave for France before winter's tight grip settled over the land.

The Nascopic is a small ship, but she draws a heavy draught—over twenty-three feet when loaded. At most of her ports of call, stores are landed by tender—stores ordered a year previously. There is a story told of a northern factor who took a hankering for tinned kippers and wrote out an order for a case of them. But his writing was poor, and when he opened the case delivered to him the following year he was amazed to find it filled with tin dippers. His order for kippers was filled the following year.

The Nascopic carries a varied cargo, and a varied passenger list. Several dozen drums of oil and gas occupied most of the deck space. On top of the drums were several small boats consigned to places whose names suggest bleak barren headlands under the northern lights. Among scores of crates and bags piled into her hold and in every nook and cranny on deck were bags containing the Christmas mail, and boxes of Christmas pudding. Her passengers were few—a small detachment of Royal Canadian Mounted Police, a missionary or two, members of a government expedition off to explore the rivers of Baffin land, members of the geodetic survey, two movie cameramen, returning factors and their assistants, etc.

Incidentally, the Nascopic carries to the Arctic magazines, books, newspapers, toys, games, etc., provided through the cooperation of local residents, The Monitor, and the Young Men's Canadian Club.

GO ALL BRITISH AND USE LIMES ON SUMMER MENUS

Delicious West Indian Fruit Has a Subtle Flavour That Delights a Gourmet's Palate

Did I ever use fresh limes? If you haven't done so, don't lose another day but try yourself to your favourite purveyor and get a dozen of these delicious citrus fruits that are all too little known in Canada.

If you have ever been fortunate enough to take a West Indian cruise, you have already grown to enjoy and appreciate that subtle flavour which lends such distinction to dishes and drinks down there but if you can't betake yourself to Montserrat or Jamaica, there isn't any reason why you shouldn't bring that much tropical charm to bear on our more than tropical heat during these July days.

Patriotic you may be but few of us carry our loyalty so far as to eat things we don't like just because they're Empire products, but when you can combine patriotism and good taste—ah! In the language of the day, "then you've got something." And when in addition to being patriotic and to giving your family something they will like, you find that you're sparing your pocket-book, and providing precious vitamins and minerals to the diet at a minimum of expense, the lime is just what you need.

A scientific analysis of the juice of the West Indian lime shows it has:

Total solid matter	8.64
Sugar	0.70
Citric acid	5.60
Mineral matter	0.35
Potash	0.12
Phosphoric acid	0.065

And just in case that doesn't mean a thing to your non-scientific mind, the citric acid content of the lime combined with a low sugar content makes it particularly good for diabetics and for those suffering from blood and liver disorders. Hot lime squash is considered a specific for colds and fresh lime juice would be a good morning appetiser for anyone, but especially for those who have liver trouble. If you're addicted to the morning orange juice, try squeezing the juice of half a lime into it and enjoy that little tang which makes it just the thing for a hot morning when you've found it hard to sleep.

Using the Lime
For culinary purposes its uses are unlimited; as a flavour for puddings, sauces, jams, jellies, marmalades, and salad dressings it is unexcelled. As a garnish, it is delightful. In the West Indies where fish is so plentiful, it was always served with segments of lime which you squeezed over boiled, fried or baked fish not only for flavouring but to remove any greasiness which fish sometimes has. I like it, too, on honeydew melon or cantaloupe. A squeeze of lime seems to bring out the flavour of the melon. I also use it in tea and in my pre-breakfast cup of hot water.

For summer drinks, the lime is at its very best. A horse's neck, made with dry ginger ale, the juice of a lime and the peel of a lemon, makes a refreshing and soda make an excellent combination for all manner of drinks.

You may even use lime juice for beauty purposes. Put some in the last rinsing water when you wash your hair and see how lustrous and shining it will be. Use it as a mouth wash, or to clean your teeth and use it, diluted, on your face and neck as a bleaching agent. You'll be surprised at the results.

Bottled Lime Juice
In order to have a supply of this mottled sunshine for use throughout the winter, it is a good plan to buy limes in the summer months when they are plentiful and inexpensive and bottle the juice. To achieve the best results, the limes should be kept in a cool place for two or three days. The juice should then be strained through fine muslin and poured into small bottles. Care must be taken that the bottles are perfectly dry. Fill them nearly to the top and carefully pour in enough pure olive oil to form an air-tight layer over the surface. Cork tightly and set in a cool, dark place. When the lime juice is required, choose a bottle containing just as much as you need, for the juice does not keep long after exposure to the air. Dip in a small piece of cotton rag on a skewer to absorb the oil. You will then find the juice as good as when bottled.

Lime Punch
8 cubes sugar, 2 oranges, 2 limes, 1½ cups water, cracked ice, slice of pineapple, 2 crystallized cherries. Rub the cubes of sugar over the rind of the oranges and limes. Then put the sugar in a bowl and pour the juice of the limes and oranges over it. Add the water and serve when the sugar is melted, chilling with plenty of cracked ice. Put in pineapples and cherries at moment of serving. Serves four.

Southern Limeade
Make a sugar syrup of 1 cup water and ¾ cup sugar. To 2 tablespoons of this syrup, placed in tall glass, add the juice of one lime and generous cubes of ice. Fill with soda water and serve with slices of lime.

Lime Ginger Cup
Place in a tall glass 4 tablespoons cold tea, the juice of one-half lime, 2 tablespoons sugar, and 2 or 3 bits of preserved ginger. Stir well, mix in 2 tablespoons cracked ice and fill up the glass

Letters To The Editor

The Editor,
The Westmount Examiner,
Dear Sir:

I notice that the Rotary Club is keeping up the good work this year in keeping the Westmount boys off the streets, also to train them in good sportsmanship.

They play all sorts of games at Staynor Park, then twice a week they go to the Y.M.C.A. for swimming.

All this is under the competent supervision of Mr. Green, this being his third year in charge of the boys.

A Citizen.

Westmount Baptist Church Notes

In continuing the morning series on "The Seven Churches of the Apocalypse," Rev. J. A. Johnston will speak on: "Thyatira—The Church That Tolerates Jezebel." The corruptions of Christianity introduced by this 'Woman' are still with us. Mr. Johnston will discuss the twin perils of Paganized Christianity and Christianized Paganism.

In the evening service the theme will be: "What the Bible Says About—Failures Who Get a Second Chance." The illustrations will be those of a Playboy, a Run-away and a Coward.

Services are held morning and evening throughout the summer. The Mid-week Fellowship Assembly is held on Wednesday at eight o'clock.

CALVARY CHURCH NOTES

On Sunday in Calvary United Church, Dorchester St., at Greene Avenue, Westmount, the Minister, Rev. T. W. Jones, will continue the special series of summer themes of sermons preaching in the morning on "Scenes along the Highways with the Master of Life" and in the evening on "Incidents at the Wells of Water in Scripture Stories."

The third sermon in each series on Sunday will be: 11 a.m., The Emmaus Road, and 7:30 p.m., The Wells of Service.

These services are brief, bright and worshipful. Visitors are heartily invited to join the members of Calvary congregation in sharing these seasons of spiritual inspiration and worship.

The minister, Rev. T. W. Jones, will be available for pastoral ministry to any requiring his services throughout the month of July.

Col. Hon. J. L. Ralston, K.C., a resident of Holton road, was elected a director of the Dominion Textile Company on Wednesday of this week.

A new policy in the treatment of patients at mental hospitals in Ontario, may revolutionize the care of such unfortunate. Farm homes are selected in the province where certain curable patients are "boarded out." Here under direction of members of the hospital staff, recovery is hastened because of the quiet and contentment to be had there as compared with the facilities of the hospital usually too crowded. The cost of caring for mental patients not only is reduced by this plan but families taking them find a much-needed income from this source.

Managing Director of Mount Royal Hotel Told of Sidelights and Experiences in Hotel Business

The hotel industry provides one with a splendid opportunity to observe human nature; no other business brings so many strange quirks of personality into play, declared Vernon G. Cardy, managing director of the Mount Royal Hotel, in addressing the weekly meeting of the Montreal Rotary Club on Tuesday at the Windsor Hotel. "Intimate Sidelights on the Hotel Profession, old and new" was the topic of Mr. Cardy's address, and he traced briefly the growth of the hotel industry in this country, in addition to relating many humorous anecdotes concerning hotel users.

Hotel happenings brought into view many facts of behaviour that could in no other way be so conveniently studied, and gave the hotel man an exceptional opportunity of becoming an expert in human affairs, said Mr. Cardy. Since the largest incoming group arrived hungry and none too well rested after a night on the train, the morning shift in a hotel required the tact of an ambassador and the self-control of a Ghandi. Sometimes the hotel man pondered as to why the average traveller demanded greater comfort in a hotel than he was used to at home; usually it was found that the most appreciative guest was the housewife who readily understood the difficulties involved.

Sizing up a guest as he registered called for close discrimination. Contrary to general opinion, the well-managed hotel did not try to sell a guest a more expensive room than he wished, since this might prevent the guest from returning for another visit. The average guest, however, was easily satisfied, and the slogan that "the guest is always right" was an unwritten law religiously observed.

"Assigning rooms to everybody's taste is another problem of magnitude," said Mr. Cardy. "Rooms are reserved by wire and letter, then plans are changed and not one in one hundred troubles to notify the hotel. Yesterday we had 250 reservations and 600 guests registered; today we had 450 reservations and the total registered for the day is 300 incoming guests."

One should not grumble, said the speaker, when travellers forgot about their reservations, and they forgot everything else under the sun. Hats, razors, false teeth, evening clothes and diamond rings were all returned by the hundreds. At the other extreme there were the few suspicious people who

Junior Lyceum Gives Cultural Entertainment

In an attempt to meet the demands of parents and educators who have found difficulty in providing proper entertainment for their children the Canadian Junior Lyceum is making a very serious effort to provide worthwhile young people's programs of every type, presented by the finest professional adult artists, adapted to the needs and enjoyment of children.

The Canadian Junior Lyceum is an attempt to bring more laughter, beauty and new interest into the lives of boys and girls. Every local child should have the finest cultural opportunities—such as are ordinarily available only to those living in a few large cities.

The selection of the programs has been based on the thought that children's entertainment should be on as high and artistic a level as that of the best adult attractions. They should be not only harmless and wholesome, but stimulating to the imagination along creative lines, and an encouragement to the artistic development of the young person.

Definite plans and dates will be available shortly, and in the meantime interested organizations and individuals may obtain further information by communicating with Mr. Harry Halperin, Canadian Junior Lyceum, at 5374 Esplanade avenue, Montreal.

Nearly eight million miles of driving through Chicago streets without a fatal accident is the record established last year by 1,500 milk wagon drivers employed by one concern, reports the Public Safety Magazine.

were unduly willing to believe that hotel employees were dishonest. Employees who had access to guests' rooms could not be more carefully selected if they were handling the hotel's own cash, he said.

Even more travellers found themselves in trouble because they were not suspicious enough, which was the chief reason why hotels must maintain a sizeable competent force of detectives. The management, however, was not half so much interested in the guests' morals as in safeguarding their lives and property.

At the outset of his address Mr. Cardy spoke of the growth of the hotel business in this country. The first inn in Canada was established at Quebec in 1648, and the first one in Montreal was opened by La Salle in 1688. During the French regime hotelkeepers were under stringent regulations, and travellers between Montreal and Quebec had to be content with the accommodation at wayside farmsteads. The first hotel of prominence came into being here in 1815, occupied by Bonsecours Market.

May's Starting Midsummer Sale

May's Rite-Fit Ladies' Wear at 1219 Greene Avenue are today commencing their Midsummer Sale and are offering many worthwhile values to the ladies of Westmount. May's has been established in this district for over twenty years and has become well known to local residents for their policy of quality merchandise at reasonable prices. This store has built up an enviable reputation for courtesy and a wide assortment of ladies' dresses and accessories may be purchased here.

May's policy of holding only two sales a year, their regular annual sale which takes place in February and the Midsummer Sale which commences today, is the customers' assurance that the merchandise on sale is of the highest quality and is not second rate goods bought purposely to sell at cheap prices. It will pay you to visit May's and make your selection before stocks are depleted. See advertisement on page four of this paper.

Women's Benefit Ass'n At Picnic

A much appreciated picnic was given to children and junior members of the Women's Benefit Association by Montreal Review No. 1, W.B.A., at Belmont Park last Thursday. The children assembled at the entrance at 11.30, where they were met by Mrs. Edythe Hutt, president of the review. Children over five were each given a strip of tickets for the various amusements while the smaller children received toys. There were over a hundred present, many of whom remained during part of the evening. Among the W.B.A. officers who assisted Mrs. Hutt were Mrs. Rachel Herbert, Mrs. Jane Rost, Mrs. Alice Clarke, Mrs. Emma McCann, Miss Lydia Sweeney, Mrs. Rose Fuller, Mrs. Frances Pickering, Mrs. Catherine O'Hanley.

Observance Is Asked Of Quebec Laws

No Hunting of Birch and Spruce Partridge or Sharp-tailed Grouse This Fall

W. R. Bulloch, M.L.A., in a communication to The Examiner, calls attention to the fact that there will be no partridge hunting this fall as the department of Mines and Fisheries has issued a memorandum prohibiting the hunting, killing or taking of birch and spruce partridge or sharp-tailed grouse.

The communication reads in part: "The Honourable Minister of Mines and Fisheries, in a memorandum, dated June 11, 1937, sets forth:

"That birch and spruce partridge as well as sharp-tailed grouse are threatened with total extinction in Our Province, due to certain parasites or other causes more or less well known;

"That their natural enemies have not decreased in the same proportion, thus accentuating the danger of extermination;

"That certain other provinces of Canada and states in the United States have deemed it advisable to prohibit entirely the hunting of same for a period of one or more years;

"That, under such circumstances, it is likewise expedient to prohibit the hunting of these birds here.

"In conformity with article 7 of the Game Laws.

"Therefore, he recommends that it be prohibited to hunt, kill or take birch or spruce partridge as well as sharp-tailed grouse, until such time when conditions having improved, the Government shall deem it advisable to permit the hunting of same."

WHY STANDARD TIME?

In 1888, Charles F. Dowd, a school teacher at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., induced the United States government to adopt the system of standard time zones—Eastern, Central, Mountain and Pacific. Before that year accurate time keeping was in a state of chaos and confusion, cities and localities setting their clocks and watches by what was known as "sun times," requiring constant changing with the season, as well as when travelling east or west.

Liberty is not a means to a higher political end. It is itself the highest political end.—Lord Acton.

Where slavery is there liberty cannot be, and where liberty is there slavery cannot be.—Charles Sumner.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD PICTURES EVERYBODY LIKES

The amateur who took this picture gave thought to it. The boys are his sons, but the appeal of the picture is universal.

THE statisticians tell us that there are now millions and millions of camera owners—more than a million right here in Canada alone—but how many of them take pictures that really qualify as pictures, such as might be chosen to adorn the walls of a home other than their own, is a question.

Some judges of amateur snapshot contests aver that scarcely one person in a couple of thousand submits pictures of genuine pictorial quality or having the saving appeal of storytelling human interest. Others say that often most of the pictures are so good in these respects that they have difficulty in making decisions.

Perhaps the verdict depends as much upon who the judges are as upon what the pictures are. All of them concede that from the standpoint of photographic quality—correct exposure and proper focus—the average of amateur photographs is high. In that sense there is no doubt that thousands of amateurs take good pictures but with respect to evoking general appeal, it must be admitted that not all give evidence of attention to artistic composition, thought in the choice of subject, or care for the right moment to snap the shutter. The result is pictures that are commonplace in their appeal to others. Usually such pictures are personal to the picture taker, such as a close-up of a beloved infant with no qualities to distinguish it from snapshots of a thousand other babies.

To win snapshot prizes, camera users need to take pains to plan their pictures or at least exercise judgment in selecting a viewpoint.

setting, and saw the throning chair, the Crown, the Orb and Sceptres, the State Swords, etc., and the Archbishop of Canterbury preached a most inspiring sermon.

On May 19th after a busy week the party left for Portsmouth and was taken out to sea, seeing the destroyer "Blanche," and the battleships "Hood," "Rodney" and "Nelson". The boys saw the famous Naval Review by His Majesty the King during the day, and the marvelous Searchlight and Fireworks display at night. "We were treated royally and shown over the entire ship, and were berthed in the Commander's quarters," explained Mr. Garand.

The following day the boys came ashore and went to Hanworth Air Port, Middlesex, where Mr. Garand had luncheon with the Captain of the port. Following the meal, Mr. Garand was taken for a flight over the city of London in one of the new model Monoplane de Luxe planes, which travelled at a speed of 175 miles an hour.

On May 24th he attended the Empire Day Service in St. Paul's Cathedral, and sat only a short distance from Their Majesties and other members of the Royal Family.

Other visits and features included trips to the Inner Temple; service in the Round Temple Church; visit to Morris Motors Limited work at Cowley, and entertained to dinner in their Athletic Clubhouse; witnessed "Changing of the Guard," visited Parliament Buildings and climbed tower up to "Big Ben"; attended the Royal Tournament at Olympia; visited British Science Museum and National Geographical Museum; visited as a guest for several days Culford Grammar School, one of the most beautiful spots in England, having a 410 acre estate near Bury St. Edmunds, Suffolk, and visited ruins of St. Edmund's Abbey; also visited major colleges of Cambridge University, Guildhalls of Lavenham, etc.

On May 25th-28th, Mr. Garand flew to Paris and was met there by John Lorimer, son of Alderman Lorimer of Westmount, who is studying chemistry in France. He paid a visit to the Exposition, and says "I was proud of, and impressed by, the Canadian building."

He also visited relatives on the Isle of Wight and Osborne House, where Queen Victoria died, Carisbrooke Castle, where King Charles 1st was imprisoned prior to his execution. He paid a brief visit to Southampton, and saw the Queen Mary and the Seaplane Caledonia which later flew to Montreal, and the R. A. F. Seaplane base. On July 3rd, he boarded the S.S. "Empress of Britain," and arrived back home July 9th.

"The welcome and hospitality extended to us wherever we went in England was simply marvelous and something which we shall never forget," says young Garand.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SUNDAY SERVICES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, July 18th, is "Life."

The Golden Text is: "Now that the dead are raised, even Moses shewed at the bush, when he calleth the Lord the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. For he is not a God of the dead, but of the living: for all live unto Him." (Luke 20: 37, 38)

The following correlative passages are selected from among those comprised in the Lesson-Sermon to be read from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:—

"Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not high-minded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy; That they do good, that they be rich in good works, ready to distribute, willing to communicate; Laying up in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come, that they may lay hold on eternal life." (1 Timothy 6: 17-19)

"Mortals claim that death is inevitable; but man's eternal Principle is ever-present Life" (Science and Health, page 312).

Continuous 3 Hour Dance Programmes

At nine next Saturday evening CKAC will broadcast three hours of continuous dance music—Molson's Saturday Night—under the direction of Lloyd Huntley, whose orchestra is now featured on the Mount Royal Hotel's new Normandie roof. This is the fourth of a series of dance programmes that will run every Saturday all summer. It is meeting with considerable popular favour among vacationists, who are assured each week-end of uninterrupted dance music during the long evenings.

Sidney, Fonda Teamed Again In New Film

As a result of hundreds of fan letters received by the studio, Sylvia Sidney and Henry Fonda, the screen sweethearts of "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," will be seen together again in "You Only Live Once," the new Walter Wanger production which is now at the Westmount until Saturday, opening Sunday at the Seville, and then following at the Monkland.

"You Only Live Once," Wanger's first production for release through United Artists, is the starkly human drama of a woman whose boundless faith in the man

Bright Comedy Of Spring Is "Call It A Day" Film

What the balmy breath of Spring's first day does to slumbering hearts is the theme of a delightful comedy-drama entitled "Call It A Day," a Cosmopolitan production released by Warner Bros. which opens on Sunday at the Westmount United Theatre, following at the Seville and Monkland.

The subject is appealing. As a stage play, "Call it a Day," ran for a couple of years in London, then for more than a year in New York. With the broader sweep of the camera, it is much better as a picture than it was behind the footlights.

Big, good-looking Ian Hunter plays the part of a well-to-do Britisher. His wife is Frieda Inescort, noted London and Broadway actress. They have been married 20 years and are pretty much in a rut.

Then there's a daughter of 18 she loved made her stick to him though the hand of every man was against him and he was hounded to the ends of the earth like a hunted animal.

Great Cast
 Barton MacLane, Jean Dixon, William Gargan and the late Charles "Chi" Sale are featured in the stars' support, while other important roles are played by Warren Hymer, Margaret Hamilton, Guinn "Big Boy" Williams, Jerome Cowan and John Wray.

The story is an original from the pens of Gene Towne and Graham Baker and was directed by Fritz Lang, who directed the unforgettable "Fury," "M," "Metropolis," and other films which made film history.

Leon Shamroy is credited with the impressive photography and Alexander Toluboff designed the sets.

Psycopathic Picchianis Coming To Belmont Park

The Psycopathic Picchianis are coming to Belmont Park next week and with their arrival the Carthage amusement park returns to the fun-thrill combination which made Will Morris and Bobby outstanding attractions early this season. On Sunday Les Kimris who combine charm, beauty and supreme thrills conclude their two week engagement and the fun-making, thrill-providing Picchianis arrive at the park Monday morning.

Eight in number, the Picchiani troupe has developed an entirely new angle on springboards. Starting in their special act, "The House That Never Gets Built," or "The Sidewalks of St. Antoine Street", they pack together an attempt at house painting and renovating and a series of aerial acrobatics that reach a sweeping crescendo with their world-famous two-high, three-high and twisting torso performance.

Hailing from sunny Italy each member of the company is dressed in the attire of a different nation, and they enact the characters to be seen on any day on Montreal's picturesque waterfront. With the skill attained by long experience in the circus, amusement parks and great state fairs, with occasional jaunts into vaudeville and motion pictures, their repertoire in tumbling and acrobatics offers a complete library of the circus artist's craftsmanship.

This week end Les Kimris will be the feature outdoor attraction, there will be dancing in the river-side dance pavillion and Sunday afternoon another in the series of girls' softball games will be played in the park. With fair weather promised for Saturday and Sunday.
