Winter Souvenir of Montreal.

MONTREAL, the commercial metropolis of Canada standing on the banks of the mighty St. Lawrence River, can be compared very favourably to the world-famed Winter resorts of Norway and Switzerland, and on the whole of the American continent it is unrivalled by any other city in the facilities afforded for the enjoyment of out-door life during the Winter months. The atmosphere, pure, clear and exhilarating, with an usually cloudless blue sky overhead, makes young and old alike keen to take advantage of the amusements so plentifully offered. Ski-ing, skating, snowshoeing, tobogganing, and sleighing, to mention but a few of the sports, all bring forth their admirers, and exert their magnetic influence on tourist and native alike.

The view from Mount Royal is indeed one of interest and beauty. The St. Lawrence, alive with shipping in the summer, now a silent but majestic field of ice, lies at our feet, and all around the Frost King has laid his silent but enchanting hand, while, below us, the mountain is alive with sleighs, toboggans snowshoers, etc., the merry laughter telling its own tale of the light-hearted enjoyment of the partakers in the various recreations.

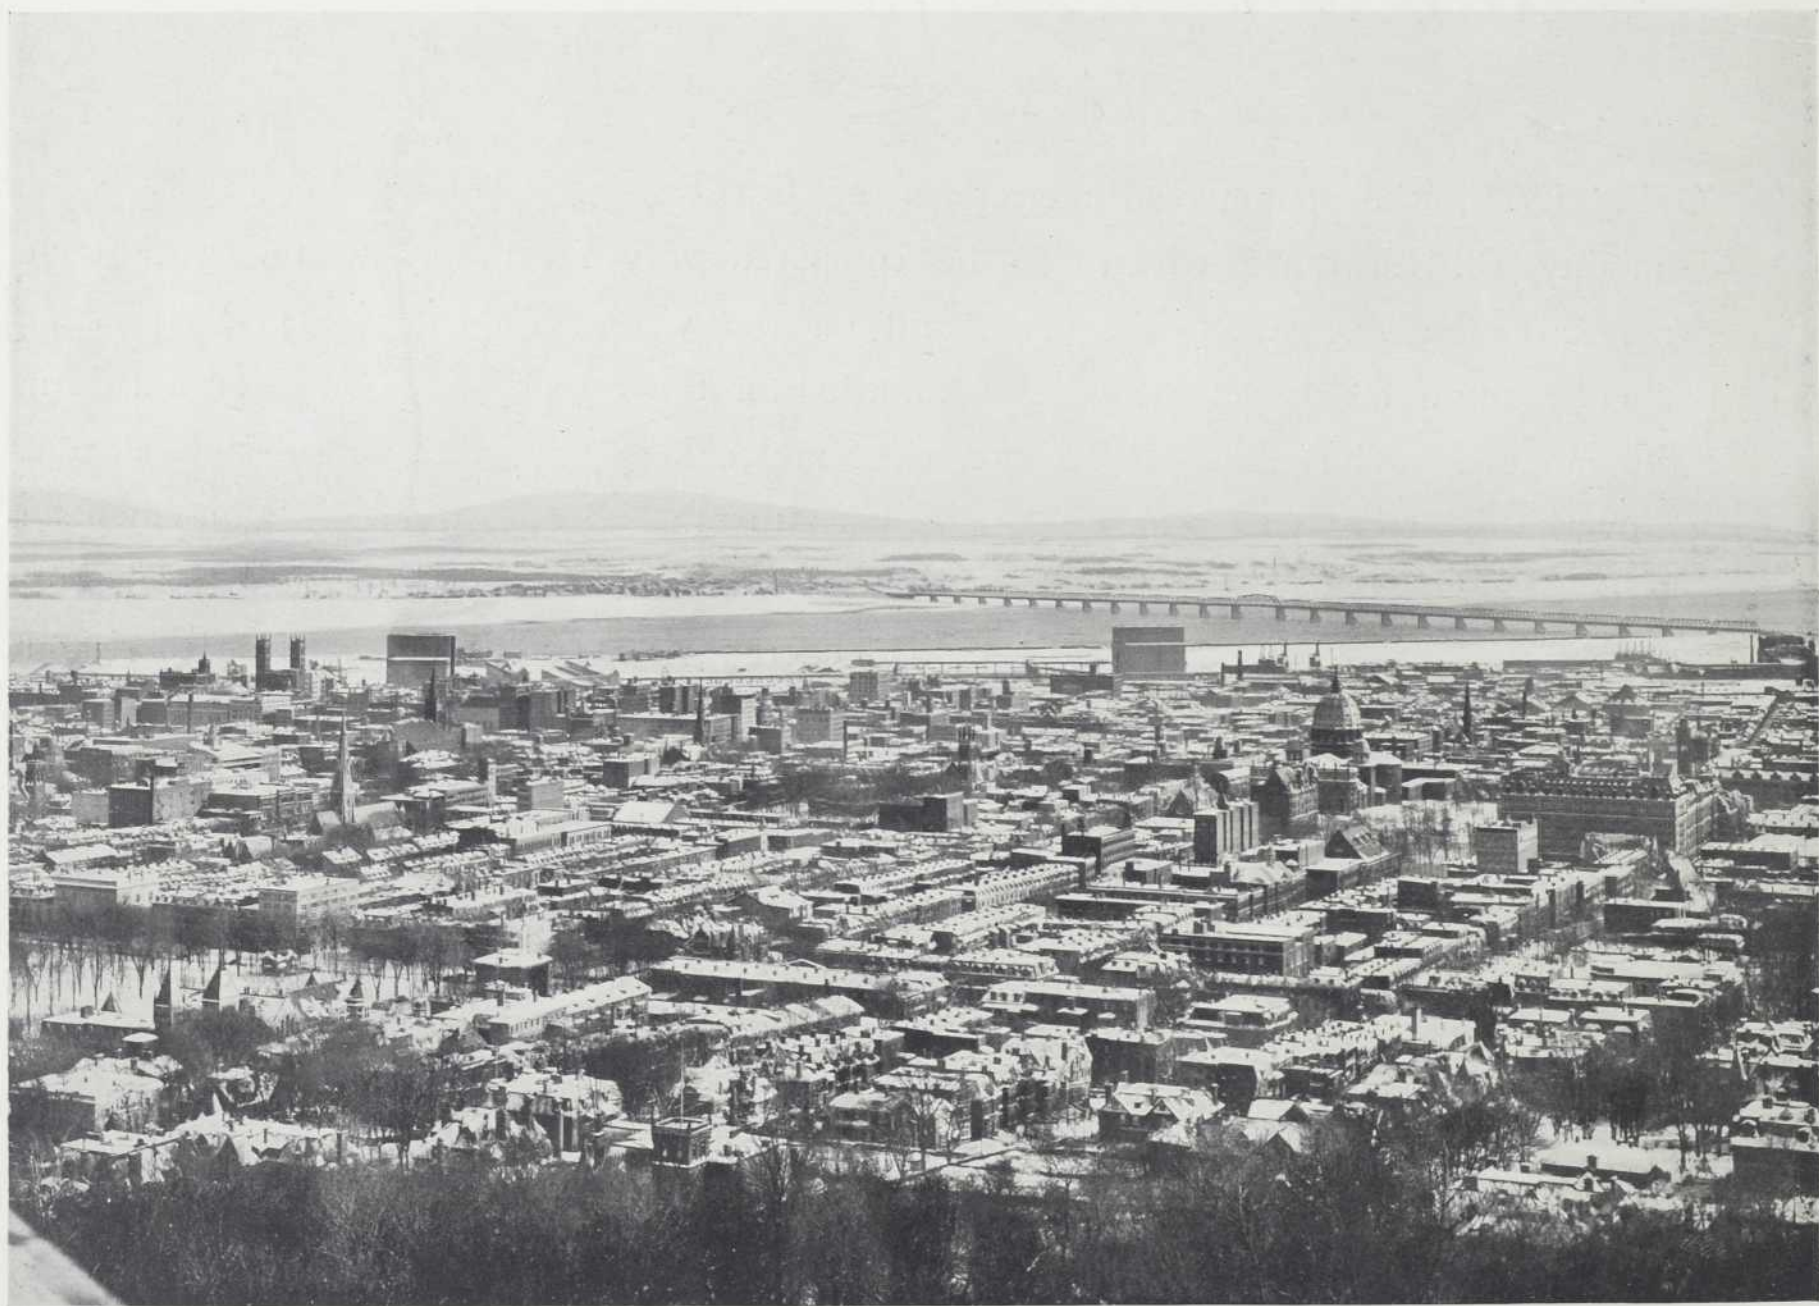

The illustrations in this book will give a good idea of the interest taken in the Winter Sports by performers and spectators alike, and of the very picturesque side of Montreal Winter Life.
