ALL READY FOR THE EXHIBITION

Gates Will Open Week From To-Day.

MIDWAY WILL BE BETTER THAN EVER—ENTRIES LARGE.

A week from to-day the gates will be opened for the 23rd Annual Exhibition under the auspices of the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association. The directors feel that it will be the most successful ever held and have advertised it extensively throughout Canada and the United States. If the weather is only favorable it is only reasonable to expect that a record number will attend the fair this year.

The reduced rate of admission, five tickets being available for $1.00, will no doubt be the means of bringing a large number who otherwise would not come.

Live stock entries are coming in fast and the poultry classes are well filled. The Dairy Department will have a record entry. The agricultural, horticultural, maple and apary departments will show the usual good exhibits. The buildings this year will surpass any previous year being all well filled with new and interesting exhibits.

The Midway, re-organized this year, will prove one of the features of this year's fair.

Already twenty-five carloads of first class shows have been booked, headed by the great wild animal show which two years ago so captured the public. Other shows which will come here include Wild West Show, Diving Girls, Dog and Pony Circus and about twenty others, all high class attractions.

The five tickets for $1.00 remain on sale until Saturday night after which time they can no longer be procured. The price of admission there at the gate will be twenty-five cents at all times.

DYNAMITE PLOT FOILED

Six Men Placed Under Arrest at San Diego, Cal.

CARRIED RIFLES AND CARBINES AND HAD UNLOADED BOMBS.

San Diego, Cal., Aug. 24.—(Special)—In the arrest of six men at El Cajon late last night the police department believes a dynamite plot to wreck the new $1,000,000 Spreckels Theatre which the house was crowded at the opening performance last night and an attack upon the lives of Chief of Police J. M. Wilson and Captain of Detectives Joseph Myers have been foiled.

With a bundle of surveyor's stakes to throw off suspicion the gang carried a score of rifles and carbines and a heavy stock of ammunition, and a steel automobile trunk containing a dozen bombs unloaded, and camped out.

Seven men were in the party when it left Los Angeles for San Diego, yesterday morning. But Jas. Rooney, new recruit to the party, became frightened at their plans, deserted and when the party landed at Oldtown he was arrested on suspicion, and turned informer.

Five members of Industrial Workers of the World were arrested at their headquarters this morning on suspicion of complicity in projected dynamite plot and invasion of lower California.

NEW COLLEGE FOR ST. JOHNS.

St. Johns, Que., Aug. 21.—Judge Monet announced a few days ago in Mr. Langlois paper, Le Pays, that on his return from California in a fortnight or so whether he is proceeding on important business, he would call a public meeting to discuss the expediency of finding a non-sectarian college in St. Johns, open to French and English students alike. Many express the conviction that there is a legitimate opening for such an institution in this town.

CAPTURE OF WASHINGTON.

Washington, D.C., Aug. 24.—(Special)—August 24th is a memorable date in the history of Washington, for it was just ninety-eight years ago to-day that the British Army in command of Gen. Ross took possession of the national capital and applied the torch to the congressional library and a number of other public buildings.

SHERBROOKE'S POPULATION

Increase During Past Year Over 1000.

INCREASE IN VALUATION WILL BE OVER A MILLION. POPULATION OF 25,000 AT NEXT CENSUS.

Sherbrooke should have a population of 25,000 at the next census. Taking into consideration the increase in population during the past year, this would appear a conservative estimate.

The valuator is just completing their work for 1912, and their report will be absolute proof of the statements made through these columns with reference to Sherbrooke's growth. In conversation with the Record this morning, Mr. Millier stated that the increase in valuation would be over one million dollars. This does not represent the total amount spent in buildings, as all the new industrial plants, churches and schools are exempt. These buildings will amount to about $500,000.

When asked what the increase in population was, Mr. Millier stated that it was over a thousand. The books have not been completed, so this is just an estimate. It is said to be a conservative one, however.

Next year the population should increase even more, as several new industries will be in full swing and will require more help than the city can supply at the present time. Jencks Machine Company will require 250 more hands. The Canadian Brakeshoe and Sherbrooke Iron Works over a hundred, and other industries about three hundred more hands than they are now employing.

ALLEGED POLICE "FRAMERS" HELD

New York Officers Held in $10,000 Bail Each.

ARE INDICTED FOR FORGERY IN CONNECTION WITH THE ARREST OF ZELIG.

New York, Aug. 24.—Chas. C. Steiner and Jas. C. White, the policemen who were indicted by the Grand Jury in connection with the arrest of "Jack" Zelig, were arraigned before Judge Mulqueen yesterday. The two policemen, who spent Thursday night in the Tombs prison, pleaded not guilty to the indictments charging perjury and they were held in $10,000 bail. Judge Mulqueen gave them until Wednesday to change their pleas if they so desired.

DENIES "LEFTY LOUIE" IS FOUND.

Considerable mystery was thrown about a report emanating from the district attorney's office yesterday afternoon that Louis Rosenzweig, alias "Lefty Louie," one of the gunmen wanted in the Rosenthal murder, had been found in a suburb of a small Western city, "near the Rocky Mountains." A member of Mr. Whitman's staff was authority for the statement with the additional information that two detectives had been sent to get the man and would probably arrive here on Tuesday.

The report had hardly been circulated when prompt denial was made from the district attorney's office that "Lefty Louie" had been found. Whether this was a denial of expedience or fact could not be ascertained yesterday afternoon.

PRISONER RE-ARRESTED

Nap. Lacourse Escaped from Sherbrooke Jail in June, 1911.

WAS RE-ARRESTED BY OFFICER COWLING AT McLEOD'S CROSSING YESTERDAY.

Nap. Lacourse, who escaped from Sherbrooke jail on the 23rd of June, 1911, was re-arrested yesterday at McLeod's Crossing on the C. P. R., and brought to Sherbrooke in the evening. The arrest was effected by Officer Cowling.

Lacourse, when he escaped from jail, was serving a sentence for theft committed at Lake Megantic, to which place he belongs.

Lacourse was at work in the private office belonging to Mr. Laforce, jailer, and he got away by jumping through the window.

Mr. Laforce immediately notified the officers throughout the Townships to be on the lookout for the escaped prisoner and had them also furnished with the necessary papers.

Lacourse will appear before Judge Mulvena on Monday on a charge of breaking jail.

TWO MORE VICTIMS OF POISONED WHISKEY

Eleven Russian Workmen in all Have Succumbed.

TWO MEN CHARGED WITH SELLING LIQUOR HAVE BEEN REMANDED UNTIL AFTER INQUEST.

Rockefeller if his health will permit, and to recall George B. Cortlyou, Republican national chairman in 1904.

London, Aug. 24.—(Special)—King Nicholas of Montenegro has called out the whole of his army and there is great excitement on the frontier where fighting proceeds as though war had been declared, says the Daily Chronicle.

Both sides have suffered heavy losses wires the correspondent, who adds that the Russian ambassador is trying to settle the quarrel.

CAN COUNCIL SELL ELECTRICAL PLANT

Question Arises Out of Sale of Lennoxville Equipment.

UNDERSTOOD THAT LAWYERS CLAIM COUNCIL HAS THE RIGHT TO SELL.

The sale of the city's electrical plant in the village of Lennoxville, which has recently been sanctioned by the Council, is the subject of considerable comment.

The interesting point of the case is that the Council should be able to sell what the citizens themselves bought. The Lennoxville equipment was purchased by the City at the same time as the local plant. Now the Council decides to sell that portion of the plant located in Lennoxville.

No question is raised as to the wisdom of their action in this connection, but it would be interesting to learn just how much the Council could sell without consulting the people. Could they sell the whole plant? It is understood that three leading lawyers have given their opinion that the Council has the right to sell the Lennoxville plant. To a "layman," however, it would appear only right that, once having bought anything of this nature, the citizens themselves should be consulted before the Council sold it.

WORKMAN KILLED IN MONTREAL

Montreal, Aug. 24.—(Special)—One man was killed and another was so seriously injured that he will probably die, when a big two-ton truck fell into the excavation where the C. N. R. tunnel is coming out on Dorchester street.

The dead man is unknown, only having started work a couple of nights ago.

New York, Aug. 24.—Colonel Roosevelt declared yesterday that "Senator Penrose's statement that 'Mr. George W. Perkins underwrote my primary expenses for $3,000,000 or any sum even remotely resembling it, is a deliberate and wilful falsehood, which he knows to be such when he makes it.'"

"Mr. Penrose," he added, "would do well not to attribute to others the infinite baseness which actuates himself."

ED. COMEAU CAPTURED

One of Prisoners Who Escaped From Sweetsburg Jail Again in Lock Up.

SAYS THAT HE LEFT QUARTERS THROUGH A DOOR THAT WAS UNLOCKED.

Sweetsburg, Aug. 24.—(Special)—Ed Comeau, who escaped from the jail here on Wednesday with another prisoner named Sargent, was again lodged in his old quarters in the jail last evening by High Constable Boisvert.

When the two men escaped, the High Constable sent word to all the officers along the boundary line to be on the lookout for them, as it was supposed they would make for the United States.

Yesterday forenoon Deputy Sheriffs Phaneas and Reardon, of Richford, Vt., received information that a man answering Comeau's description had been seen entering the house of one Tetreault. They then surrounded the house, and Comeau, finding that the officers were after him, jumped through one of the windows and made a break to get away. The officers were armed and threatened to shoot if he did not halt. On seeing the firearms Comeau submitted, and was taken to police headquarters.

High Constable Boisvert was notified and went to Richford. Comeau at first refused to return, saying that he would fight extradition. Later he decided to return with the High Constable, and Sweetsburg was reached about midnight.

Comeau will come up before Judge Mulvena to-day, and the charge of breaking jail will be added to the other two which had been previously preferred against him.

HOW PRISONERS ESCAPED.

Comeau stated after his arrest that he and Sargent left the jail through one of the doors which had been left unlocked.

This story of Comeau's is denied by the jailer.

SARGENT STILL AT LIBERTY.

Jack Sargent is still at liberty, but the High Constable has every reason to believe that he will soon be able to have him in confinement again.

INDUCTED INTO OFFICE OF BISHOP

Mgr. Gauthier, Montreal, Consecrated at Service in Cathedral.

NEW BISHOP IS ONE OF MOST ABLE AND ELOQUENT OF THE CLERGY.

Montreal, August 24.—(Special)—In St. James Cathedral this morning His Excellency Mgr. Stagni, the Papal Delegate, consecrated Mgr. Georges Gauthier, Rector of the Cathedral, as Bishop of Philopopolis and auxiliary bishop of Montreal, in succession to Mgr. Racicot, who resigned on account of ill health. The consecration ceremony took place in the presence of a large congregation of Catholic priests, prelates and laity of Montreal and vicinity.

The new bishop is regarded as one of the most able and eloquent of the French-Canadian clergy. He was born in Montreal in 1871 and was ordained by the late Archbishop Fabre in 1894. He spent the next two years studying in Rome and on his return to Montreal he taught for two years in the Montreal Seminary. His eloquence soon attracted attention and the Archbishop added him to the staff of the Cathedral in 1898. When in 1904, Archbishop Bruchesi created the parish of St. James the Major, with the Cathedral as the parochial Church, Rev. Canon Gauthier was made the Rector.

As far as can be learned the fire started near the ice house, and spread very rapidly. How it started is a mystery. Mr. and Mrs. Olivier and members of the family had just returned to the city, after having spent the summer there. Dr. and Mrs. Valmore Olivier and a friend were to have occupied the cottage for a few days. They were at the hotel when the fire broke out.

The tickets will remain in the hands of the vendors, the names of whom will be found in the advertisement columns of this paper, until to-night after which date they will all be returned and no more will be on sale. In this connection all those having tickets on sale are requested to make returns to the Secretary on Monday morning so that before the final rush of exhibition business they may be checked satisfactorily.

STOPPED THE BLOOD AT ONCE SAVED THE HORSE

Mr. Geo. Lucas, who lives at Wilton, Ont., has a good horse now that he would not have had without Douglas' Egyptian Liniment. He says: "My horse ran away and was so severely cut and torn on a barb wire fence that I believe he would have bled to death had my son not procured Egyptian Liniment and syringed the contents of a bottle into the cuts which stopped the flow of blood at once. This happened in August and I expected if the horse lived he would be a cripple for life, but thanks to the Liniment, scarcely a scar can be seen. All the people about here know how badly he was cut." PRICES AT THE SHERBROOKE MARKET

GREAT VOLUME OF BUSINESS ON MARKET THIS MORNING.

If the Sherbrooke Market can be taken as the pulse, and conditions throughout the Townships be judged thereby, it is evident that the farmers are prosperous. Never before has the market been taxed as it is at the present time. As an investment alone the $10,000 voted to the Market Committee should be spent at once. There is no question but that the present accommodation is not sufficient. Prices to-day were firm. Butter was higher than last week, and sold at 30c per pound. Vegetables in enormous quantities were available and 'round ready market.

To-day's prices were as follows:

HOVEY'S DESIRABLE LAKE PARK PROPERTY for SALE I desire to dispose of my summer home at Twin Pine Point, Lake Park. This property consists of two large and one small cottages. All are practically new and up-to-date in every particular. They are in an ideal location, having beautiful surroundings and the outlook from either direction is simply magnificent. There is a beautiful beach for bathing, being sufficiently shallow to be safe for children. The arrangement of the interior of the building is all that can be desired by any one. The finish being such as a home in town would be expected to have. There is a good, convenient stable, fuel house, ice house and a very commodious boat house. There is a good, well graded and cared for State Road to this property, making it very accessible. There is no more desirable summer home on Lake Memphremagog. BENJAMIN P. BALL, Owner, Derby Line, Vt. P.S.—This property is all in Vermont.

BELLEVUE PARK BUILDING LOTS The building activity in Sherbrooke certainly exceeds all records. Just think for a moment---Sixteen Residences erected in Bellevue Park this season. What will it be in a year to come? Is this not an Indubitable Proof that Bellevue Park is the only sub-division making headway, thereby guaranteeing the public of Sherbrooke that Bellevue Park Building Lots Are Second to None? Is this not an Indubitable Proof that Bellevue Park is, without a doubt, the Elite Residential Part of the City, and is recognized as such by the number of residences already built, and more to come? REMEMBER--Bellevue Park has its Electric Lights, Sewers, Water, and all streets are Sixty-six feet wide, also its magnificent boulevard, Eighty feet in width; a Church and Academy, a Convent now under construction. In fact Bellevue Park is a Second Model City by itself. Make Your Choice Before the Best Lots are Gone. Get Our Terms. DO IT NOW Sherbrooke Real Estate Company, 155 Wellington Street. Phone 549. W. OUR MOTTO—"Let the heathen rage."—Psalms.

THE SAND DUNES.
Here Nature sings her quaintest tunes
And dons her dearest robes of fairy
Among the sandy, wind swept dunes.

And to the listening reeds she croons
A cradle song elf-like and airy—
Here Nature sings her quaintest tunes.

And if you walk 'neath August moons
Of wraithlike forms you'd best be wary—
Among the sandy, wind swept dunes;

For Hecate chants her mystic runes
To charm us into paths contrary.
Here Nature sings her quaintest tunes.

And to the weary brings her boons
Of rest and pleasures salutary.
Among the sandy, wind-swept dunes.

So here, in fading afternoons,
I wander hand in hand with Mary;
Here Nature sings her quaintest tunes
Among the sandy wind swept dunes.

WE LOVE to ride on your street cars when the night is cold and wet and gloomy. Looping the loop at such a time is conducive to so much unaltered pleasure. You line up in the midst of a struggling mass of fake ostrich plumes and real hens' feathers. You perfectly formed feet immediately become the victims of rabid assaults from those fifteen inch tubgoats of some fair K.M., while you are endeavoring to the best of your ability in the protection of your lamps to bits off a goodly lot of decorative liddery. At last, you secure a foothold within the foyer of the car, grab your own, and sotto-voice murmurs to move up, and then you hit one corner of the loop. Your arm flies up and cracks some fair young thing in the beak, your lid falls off and you are queque peevd. You can't bore into the humane end of the car, and your feet are all chewed up. So what can you do? Why, you can always beat it, of course.

"THE PASSING SHOW."
To a casual observer it might seem as if we were living in a great metropolitan city, when one notes the gay parade hiked along Wellington street every evening. But if you were to get your "Billie Burns" instincts into keen working order, you would shortly discover that Wellington St. has its limits, and recognize individual beans and domes as they passed you on some twelfth or thirteenth circuit of your main thoroughfare.

OUR CANNERY.
B. W.
Don't you think the phrase "A very pretty wedding" is used too often? Would suggest that it be canned.
H. L. B.
RIGHT-O, old monk. Here she goes into the hushery.

WE NOTE that a certain teacher made a call on a certain town and in so doing overlooked the school. Now isn't that queer? It would look to us though, as if a great many schools were overlooked down the way by all branches of your hol' polloi. Why they don't even get..... but we said something about that last night.

A. E. M. of Lennoxville has written one of the best Pilgrim's Progresses a la Sherbrooke that we have lamped these many moons. We would print it in this column if we had the space, but we haven't. Shoot in something else, old top.

WHAT WOULD you do if a dishevelled individual with a wild, inhuman glare from beak and lamps, fiendishly assaulted you while on your peaceful way, accusing you meanwhile of maliciously dousing his literary aspirations? Such was the situation one evening this week when we heroically refused to print in this column a lot of bunk about the street paving situation. In the furtherance of this object, the afore-said unprincipled grafter even had the temerity to endeavor to slip us a two-dollar note, and it required the assistance of a ball bat, six rocks, and a heavy boot to induce the offender to change his mind. Three guesses as to the identity of the criminal.

PETE the bellhop at one of your hotels, has requested us to can this: "I haven't any change, boy; I'll see you downstairs later. What's your number?"

UNDERTAKERS' ads. are frequently grimly humorous, especially those which contain the windup, "Thanking you for past favors and hoping for a continuance of the same."

THE NEAR SIDE?
(From "The Streets of Ascalon.")
"I don't believe it! Anyway, I was passing, and I saw your shingle swinging, and I made the chauffeur stop on the impulse of the moment."

WE'LL be on deck at the Exposition next week, and we hope to see the whole family there.

YOU WILL, won't you?

David Bispham, the famous singer, when crossing the Atlantic, once got into conversation with the ship's barber, says "Did-Bits," "I 'open," said the barber, "that we shall 'ave the pleasure of 'earing yod at the concert tonight."
"No," replied the singer. "I've just finished a long and exhausting season, and within a few days I am to open in London. I have decided not to do anything on the voyage."
"It's the same with me," said the barber, sympathetically. "When I'm ashore I never looks at a razor."

A BARBER'S SYMPATHY.
David Bispham, the famous singer, when crossing the Atlantic, once got into conversation with the ship's barber, says "Did-Bits," "I 'open," said the barber, "that we shall 'ave the pleasure of 'earing yod at the concert tonight."
"No," replied the singer. "I've just finished a long and exhausting season, and within a few days I am to open in London. I have decided not to do anything on the voyage."
"It's the same with me," said the barber, sympathetically. "When I'm ashore I never looks at a razor."

WORK AT THE QUEBEC BRIDGE OPERATIONS ARE PROCEEDING WITH DAY AND NIGHT GANGS

Quebec, Que., August 23.—Work on the sinking of the caisson for the new Quebec Bridge is now in active operations, and operations are proceeding with day and night gangs. Messrs. M. P. and J. T. Davis are carrying on the work, which will provide for the building of the main pier for the structure. This caisson, which measures 90 by 180 feet, and 40 feet in height, has already reached a depth of 37 feet below the river bed, and the work is making rapid progress.

The number of men employed at the sinking of the caisson at the present time is 700. Out of this number there are 300 men commonly known as "sand hogs," employed at excavation work inside the huge box, which are divided into three shifts of one hundred or more at a time, and who work eight hours and rest sixteen.

These men, who are daily examined by a resident physician, must be in perfect physical condition to be allowed to work.

CROPS ARE BELOW AVERAGE IN BROME

Judges Say That Potatoes Only Make Good Showing.

FARMERS ARE NOW RAISING GRASS SEED, AND WILL SAVE MONEY.

Brome, Aug. 24.—(Special)—The judges, who have been going over the country judging the farm crops, report that the harvest this year will be a poor one. With the exception of potatoes all other crops are below the average of other years.

One judge reports that in his division the wheat is so poor that no crop was really worthy of a prize. The hay crop is not judged in Brome County, but instead the Agricultural Society gives a prize for a patch of seed hay. As a result of this nearly every farmer has a plot of hay seed. Farmers will, therefore not have to pay $9 and $10 per bushel for seed next season.

WILL NOT OBEY HOME RULE LAWS

SUCH IS THE ATTITUDE OF THE UNIONISTS IN ULSTER.

London, Aug. 24.—The Times says the covenant to which Ulster men will pledge themselves at the meeting on September 28, is that if Home Rule is enacted, they will not acknowledge the Parliament at Dublin, will not obey its laws and will not pay taxes.

It is expected the Privy Councillors will be the first to sign, and that those signing the covenant will number from 500,000 to 700,000. There is reason to believe, moreover, that the Unionist leaders at the meeting in Belfast on September 29, will announce the heads of the constitution which they will set up in the contingency of the enactment of Home Rule. The constitution will separate the judiciary as well as the assembly. Stories of an armed rising, the seizure of the Belfast Post Office, and other such plots are untrue.

RUSHING U. S. TROOPS SOUTH

Transport Carries Marines for Active Service in Nicaragua.

HOPE FOR REBEL DISSENSION UNTIL THE ARRIVAL OF TROOPS.

Washington, Aug. 24.—The State Department is urging the navy to get the transport Prairie started as soon as possible for Colon. The marines the ship is to carry for service in Nicaragua, however, cannot be concentrated before today.

The big armored cruiser California, speeding for Panama, has been ordered to put in at Corinto and land 340 bluejackets and her full detachment of sixty marines. After this the vessel will steam immediately for Panama to take on marines, who leave Philadelphia today on the Prairie. The California probably will arrive at Corinto Wednesday.

Despatches to the State Department are from twenty-four to forty-eight hours late in transmission. Each seems to indicate more aggravated conditions. Quicker transmission of official cablegrams probably will follow the arrival of the gunboat Denver at Corinto. The vessel is due there today or Sunday.

State Department officials are hoping the dissension in the rebels' quarters over the provisional presidency will keep up until the arrival of American reinforcements, as there is little to fear from combined attack while the rebels are at odds.

JAPANESE FORMALITIES END

Accession to the Throne is Now Completed.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE MIKADO WILL COST ONE MILLION AND THREE QUARTERS.

Tokio, Aug. 24.—Yoshihito, the new emperor of Japan, yesterday completed the formalities connected with his accession to the throne. The concluding function was the reading by the premier of a special imperial edict to the members of the Diet assembled in extraordinary session. The document was textually as follows:

"I have ascended the throne of my imperial ancestors and expect to follow in the footsteps of the late emperor, obeying the guidance of my ancestors."

An appropriation of $750,000 to cover the expenses of the funeral of the late emperor was then introduced. The remainder of the cost of the funeral ceremonies, which will amount altogether to $1,000,000, will be borne by the emperor's private purse. The lying-in-state of the body of Mutsuhito is to be viewed by the entire diplomatic corps on Sept. 4, who will be admitted to the death chamber after an audience with the new emperor and empress.

LAWYER MAY GO TO JAIL

MR. JUSTICE DEMERS SO STAT-ES IN MONTREAL JUDG-MENT.

Montreal, Aug. 24.—"The court doth condemn said defendant to be imprisoned during one year in the common jail, unless cause to the contrary be shown on the 27th next."

Such was a paragraph from a judgment handed out by Mr. Justice Demers in reply to a motion moved on behalf of Mr. G. J. Brown to commit Mr. L. J. R. Hubert, a lawyer to jail for contempt of court inasmuch as he had failed to appear for examination on the 16th of this month in connection with an action against him by Mr. Brown, a 97-year-old man, to recover certain lots in Notre Dame de Grace.

His lordship's judgment recites the fact that Mr. Hubert had been examined on that day, he had been ordered to appear on the 16th.

MEXICAN REBELS COMMIT ATROCITIES

Attack Defenceless Men and Women in Northern Sonora.

RAILWAY BRIDGES BURNED AND RAILWAY TRAFFIC IS AT STANDSTILL.

Mexico, City, Aug. 24.—Reports from northern Sonora reaching here indicate that several towns have been occupied by the rebels of Orozco's command. In several instances the occupation was accompanied by atrocities upon defenceless men and women. Activities centre around the Hermosillo district, rebels being reported strung out from the limbs of the capital northward for twenty-three miles. Train service on the Southern Pacific between Nogales and Guaymas was suspended, and south of Poza all telegraph instruments were taken out by the company. In an effort to demoralize train service to the west coast, insurgents are burning bridges and ripping up rails between the border and Guaymas and Mazatlan. Officials of the Southern Pacific Company of Mexico have issued a statement saying that twenty bridges had been burned or blown up since Tuesday. Train service cannot be re-established and the small forces of Federalists stationed along the railroad cannot effect a junction until the rebel activities cease.

GATHERING OF THE CLAN MACLEAN

FIRST GATHERING OF SCOTTISH CLAN SINCE THE DEFEAT OF PRINCE CHARLIE

Glasgow, Aug. 24.—(Special)—Historic Duart Castle, known to all visitors to the Isle of Mull, was the scene to-day of the first national gathering held by any Scottish family since 1745. It was the reunion of the Clan Maclean, of which Colonel Fitzroy Donald Maclean, Bart., is the hereditary head. The Maclean family is represented in all parts of the world and is said to number not less than 25,000 members in the United States and Canada. Sir Allan Maclean, who held Quebec against the American forces of Montgomery and Arnold, was a member of the clan, as was also Colonel Allan MacLean, of Delaware, who fought valiantly on the side of the Americans in the Revolution.

RATE WAR IS PREDICTED

Will be Brought About by the Panama Canal Issue.

DIRECTORATE OF SUEZ CANAL ANNOUNCE THAT THEY WILL LOWER CANAL TOLLS.

Washington, August 24.—A rate war which might involve all the maritime nations of the world and which would resolve about the Suez and Panama Canal was predicted in Washington by the officials who have watched the development of world interest in the Panama Canal Bill now awaiting approval by President Taft.

According to the report that reached the State Department to-day the directorate of the Suez Canal has decided to reduce the rates through that canal.

In official circles this notice was regarded as the first retaliatory step against the free tolls provisions for American ships through the Panama Canal.

The announcement of the proposed reductions through the Suez appeared in conspicuous notices in American newspapers. The notice which aroused the most interest was to the effect that after the first of next year the transit dues in the Suez Canal will be reduced fifty per cent, bringing the toll for loaded ships down to 6.25 francs.

About two years ago he sold the Chateau to the present proprietor, Mr. Thos. Costello. He then built himself a cottage on St. George St., where he resided up to the time of his death.

FINE TALE OF THE SEA THIS

WOMAN SANG HYMNS WHEN ON RAFT IN MID-ATLANTIC.

London, Aug. 24.—Archdeacon Madden in a speech at Bridlington, quotes one of the officers of the steamer Mauretania as saying that when this steamer was crossing the Atlantic his attention was attracted one night by a woman singing on the water. He stopped the engines and called the captain. Nothing could be seen but a boat was lowered and rowed in the direction of the voice. The woman was singing "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." The sailors found the woman with a child in her arms tied to a raft.

She had been singing the hymn in prayer, as she was convinced there was no hope of herself and child being saved. She was taken aboard the steamer.

The date of this alleged occurrence is not mentioned.

WHERE FRENCH AGRICULTURE IS SEEN AT ABOUT ITS BEST

The London Times contains a correspondent's account of a visit to a Norman farm in the Pays de Caux, lying back from the Seine between Rouen and the coast. He writes:

We paid a visit to one of the large farms of the district, its size being exceptional even thereabouts, for the occupier, who is also owner, was cultivating three farms with a total area of over 1,000 acres. Our host was an exceptionally fine specimen of the modern scientific farmer, who had received his education at one of the great French agricultural colleges and had kept in touch with all the modern developments of practical agriculture. His principal holding, upon which stood an interesting house, parts of which dated back to the 14th century, was almost entirely arable, though he had laid down one large field to grass after the English fashion.

He worked on a four course system of sugar beet, winter clover, oats, though he found it impossible to grow ordinary red clover except at eight year intervals, and took alskie in the alternate shifts. As generally was the case of the district, the wheat was a little patchy from the autumnal rains and was showing the effects of the frosts and cold weather that prevailed about Easter-time. A very good season had been obtained for the oats which were just showing through; barley was not grown upon the farm because experience had shown that the sugar beet did not follow hayley as well as oats. Of both wheat and oats he grew several varieties in bulk because he made a specialty of a trade in seed corn; as a consequence in addition to his main varieties, chiefly Vimorin's, he also had a trial ground on which new varieties were being tested, amongst which were several of English origin.

All the farmyard manure was applied in the autumn to the land intended for sugar beet, which also received a heavy dressing of mixed artificial manures. A little nitrate of soda or sulphate of ammonia was also applied for the cereals—in fact the whole farm was intensively cultivated and maintained at a very high pitch of fertility. It was interesting to notice, both on this farm and others of the district, that it was the custom to sink pits down to the chalk, which was then drawn up and spread over the land, exactly the process that used to prevail on the chalk plateaux of Hertfordshire and Essex and has done so much to render the clay with flints there suitable for arable cultivation.

The land was very clean and the cultivation good; it was all worked on the flat by one-way ploughs, of which several ingenious types with reversing moulding boards were in use.

There was a plentiful supply of labor on the farm, most of the work being done by single men who are boarded and receive about £20 a year; but casual labor is also wanted for the sugar beet, and at the time of our visit gangs of women were in the fields dibbling sugar beet seed by hand. Our host claimed to get more regular plant in this way than by a drill, and as the women only received 15d a day and worked for long hours the total cost was small, being no more than about five shillings per acre. The sugar beet was not planted so closely as usual, larger roots being permissible than are required in the manufacture of sugar, for the beets on this farm were all converted into alcohol, and naturally the wider rows permitted of easier and cheaper cleaning. Our host had been one of the pioneers of industrial alcohol and had a thoroughly equipped distillery on the farm, the final distillation being conducted in a locked still so as to admit of complete control by the excise authorities.

Alongside the distillery were immense sheds for holding the roots, sheds now empty because the distillation campaign is completed during the winter months. The pulp was all siloed in a simple stack silo and was sometimes mixed with the threshed husks and the straw from the rape, which has the advantage of keeping the mass rather more open and porous to air. Sour silage was produced, which, as usual, did not look very attractive food, but it was eaten readily enough by the cattle and indeed formed their only succulent food during the winter until the clover and rye were ready for them.

In addition to his seed corn business our host also possessed several sets of threshing plant which travelled and did the threshing for his neighbors, and it was interesting to see that he preferred English tackle, his engines also being of English manufacture.

Besides the crops a large herd of something like 100 head of the pure bred Norman race was kept upon the farm, pedigree stock, the young bulls of which were sold for breeding. The Norman race is a very fine breed of cattle which resembles the Herefords in frame as well as in the white faces and massive heads of the well bred specimens. It is, however, a dual purpose animal, kept both for meat and milk, and unlike the Herefords the true red color are not so much esteemed as a kind of yellow-brown color, deeper but somewhat akin to that of the Guernseys. Not only is the clear brown color found, but a large proportion of the animals are slightly brindled or fonce with a darker brown, as though there had in the past been some admixture of the Celtic blood which gave rise to the races of Brittany and the Channel Islands.

The great difficulty about cattle raising is the fearful prevalence of foot and mouth disease in this district. On our rounds we saw both the cattle being treated and found one fine cow dead in the field. The milk produced on the farm was converted into butter, for which purpose there was a thoroughly modern dairy with power-driven separators and butter workers, and a delightfully clean cream room in which the cream was ripened in shallow earthenware dishes, each holding about a gallon, our host having assured himself that he obtained a much better flavor in his butter by thus ripening it in small lots instead of in bulk. The separated milk that was not wanted for the calves went to the pigs, of which a large herd of pure bred Middle Whites was kept.

Lastly, the cider orchards constituted a considerable item in the farming, though at this dead time of the year we could only see the great power-driven mills and press, and the range of hogsheads in which the wine of the country was maturing. It will thus be seen that the whole establishment was run on lines which are much more familiar to the Englishman than those which prevail on the majority of Continental farms; and, much as we flatter ourselves about the efficiency of our own large farmers, the organization and business ability here displayed showed that our host had nothing to fear from a comparison with the agriculturists of any other country.

DEPARTING VISITORS

THE BIRDS PREPARING FOR THEIR JOURNEY SOUTHWARD.
 (Toronto Globe.)

The blackbirds are the first to organize for the long southern pilgrimage. Already in fifties and hundreds they are moving from swamp to swamp and from field to field, rising irregularly to pass houses, trees and other obstructions. Stirred by the restlessness that will soon culminate in an organized departure, they take unnecessary alarm in their feeding grounds, and hurry from place to place as if executing preliminary manoeuvres. The redwings have joined the assemblage from their matted nests in the bullrushes. There, while the proud father displayed his glowing crimson aquilets and sounded his shrill, modulating notes on a swaying stem, the mother, concealed by her streaked markings, brooded the growing family. From the safety of this inaccessible home the young have come forth to mingle with their experienced elders in anticipation of their journey to the unknown south.

The bronze grackle, with rich metallic purples and greens slightly dimmed by the advancing season, are mingling with the assembling migrants. Their harsh voices are the only sounds discernible as the flock swings by, for the redwing is inclined to relapse into silence as summer advances. The grackle have been nesting in the pines and other concealing trees. They are accused of nest-robbing, and their fondness for animal food seems to sustain the charge. But they are handsome birds of graceful outline, and now that they are preparing to depart all their offences and depredations will be forgiven. The rusty blackbirds are still in the north, for they are inclined to linger in their summer home long after their flocks have been organized. The family resemblance is so strong that a few stragglers might mix unnoticed with our own summer residents, but we need not expect them in abundance until they call on their serious journey.

It is strange that neither they nor the redwings ever induce the yellowloves to pass this way. In the Manitoba marshes and away to Hudson Bay the yellowloves associate freely with the rusties and redwings. But neither on their northward or southward journey can they be induced to make a detour along the valleys of Lake Ontario streams. That they are regarded as a disappearing race would make a visit all the more welcome.

The cowbirds from the nests of their deluded forest-parents are swelling the assembled flocks. Every young bird represents a destroyed brood and a season of worse than wasted effort. Some have been brooded and fed by chipping sparrows and have unfortunately demanded food when double the size of their foster parents. Some have been fed by industrious young warblers. The very nest among the matted leaves sometimes holds one of these usurpers, and there, as in tree or shrub, he precociously crowds out the rightful heirs and secures all the food collected by the deceived parents. A towhee's nest in the ground is occasionally invaded, and the extra egg that means the destruction of the rightful progeny is incubated with the rest. The usurper nest is never shared. The spurious heir must have all the room and all the food. He must be fed until he outgrows the nest, and after he has left it until mature enough and independent enough to desert his foster-parents and join with his negligent progenitors in swelling the assembling flocks. In the early dusk they pass overhead, moved by a common impulse, training for the long nights, when cities, mountains, valleys, and plains will be passed in dim panoramic succession toward the waiting warmth of the southern marshes.

ANNUITIES PAID BY GREAT BRITAIN

GREAT SUMS PAID YEARLY TO THOSE WHO DID NOTHING

Great Britain pays away between £25,000 and £30,000 a year in annuities and pensions, and the majority of the recipients have done nothing to deserve them. They get the money because they happen to be descendants of individuals who, long ago, received these annuities.

Among the largest of these perpetual pensions is that received by the Duke of Richmond and Gordon, which runs into £19,000 a year. The origin of this payment goes away back to the days of Queen Elizabeth, who received a duty of 1s on every chaldron of coals shipped out of the River Tyne and used in England. This duty was paid to her successors until Charles II. gave it away to the first Duke of Richmond. He and his heirs received it for more than a century, till in the time of George III. it was commuted for the present yearly sum, which is known in the Exchequer as the "Richmond shilling."

Another instance is that of the Schromberg pension which William III. bestowed on a favorite Hollander of that name for his military services. He granted the sum of £4,000 a year to his family in perpetuity, and though parts of it have been commuted or sold in a lump sum to the Government at different times, there is still paid out more than £75,000 yearly to persons who are in some remote way connected with the original Schrombergs. Another of the same King's annuities is still being paid to the heirs of Lord d'Auverquerque, Henry de Nassau, his heirs and assigns, forever, in consideration of his "many and faithful services," even though they were of a rather sinister political nature. Two thousand pounds was the original sum, but that has been commuted by successive heirs till at the present day, the year's annuity is reduced to £375 15s.

In the reign of Charles II. a duty upon imported wine was presented to the first Duke of Grafton, Henry Fitzroy. In the beginning of last century the then Duke commuted this duty for the yearly pension of £6,870, and his fortunate successors yet receive this ample income, for which they have done nothing.

MONARCH'S ACCOMPLISHMENTS.
 (New York World)
 Paris—A diplomat who is familiar with the personal fads and accomplishments of the crowned heads of Europe is authority for the statement that a musical concert given by their majesties would shape itself up as follows on the programme:
 Albert, King of Belgians, tenor. He knows Wagner by heart and plays as well as he sings.
 Ferdinand, Czar of the Bulgars, basso. He has a voice that appears to come out of the cellar.
 Emperor William of Germany, baritone. He is very fond of solos and choruses; also likes pickles, which put an edge on the voice.
 King Victor Emmanuel of Italy carries the air and is good at straight-away singing.
 Ex-Sultan Abdul Hamid of Turkey, accompanist. He plays the organ with the grace of a professor.
 King Alfonso of Spain, whistler and can fill in between the acts. Also, he dances.
 King George of England, conductor. He was never known to sing a note, but is excellent in handling the baton.

OLD AGE PENSIONS IN NEW ZEALAND.
 Wellington, New Zealand, Aug. 24.—Returns issued with regard to the administration of the old-age pension act show that 35,600 pensions, amounting in all to £3,567,000, have been granted since the act came into operation in 1899. The percentage of the cost of administration works out at £156. During the past year pensions to the amount of £406,000 were granted to 16,900 Europeans and 665 Maoris.

NOT KEEN ON GOLD COINS.
 Ottawa, Aug. 24.—The new five-dollar Dominion notes are proving quite popular. Already eight million dollars of these notes have been put in circulation. The public, however, is not making much demand for the recent gold coinage. The principal demand seems to come from British Columbia. The eastern public has been too long educated in the use of bills to want gold, and the principal request is mostly for souvenirs and curiosities.

TO RESTRICT SALE OF OPIUM.
 Simla, India, August 24.—The Indian Government has decided to modify the regulations respecting opium, with a view to reducing the internal consumption of the drug. The provincial governments, including that of Burma, have been asked to prohibit opium smoking saloons. It is proposed to increase the price of opium sold by the Government and to reduce the amount that an individual may legally possess.

PLEASE PUT THE FENCE RAILS BACK.

Dear Sir:—I would like to say that I have no objections to automobile drivers using our fence rails to pry their machines out of the ditches, etc. providing they will put the rails back. On several occasions they have pulled our fences down flat for this purpose, and gone off and left the rails and boards in the ditch causing no end of trouble by letting our own cattle out and letting other people's cattle in.

Thanking you for space, I am, Yours truly, A. W. BRADLEY, Lennoxville, Aug. 22.

RECENT EDUCATIONAL MEETINGS.

Editor of Record: Let us forget some of the facts brought out in the recent educational meetings, may I have space in your columns to bring them to the attention of your readers? I will do so without trying to explain these facts or even commenting upon them.

Number of female teachers with diplomas ... 813 881 Number of female teachers without diplomas ... 334 421 Average salary of male teachers with diplomas,

Table with 2 columns: Category and Amount. Rows include average salary of male teachers with diplomas in towns and country, and average salary of female teachers with diplomas in towns and country.

It will be noted that the average salary of female teachers with diplomas in the Protestant Elementary schools in the country parts increased only $40 from 1906 to 1911. Five years ago the average salary was $191. Last year it was $233. In Ontario during this same time the average salary increased from $311 to $430, an increase of $120.

Table with 3 columns: Province, per pupil, per head. Rows include Alberta, British Columbia, Manitoba, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Ontario, Prince Edward Island, Quebec, and Saskatchewan.

In many cases the increase in salaries in Quebec was due to increased Government grants and not to increased taxation.

Many municipalities are paying no more school taxes than they did ten or twenty years ago.

This fact is brought out from examination of the superintendent's reports which show that the majority of the Protestant rural school boards have not increased their contributions as a result of the largely increased government grants during the last few years.

The government grants have quadrupled, an increase of 400 per cent. If local taxation had increased ten or twenty per cent, the average salary for female teachers with diplomas might easily have been last year $300 instead of $233.

In many cases where untrained teachers are being employed it was shown that this is not due to a lack of trained teachers, but generally to a desire on the part of the school board to save money by engaging an untrained teacher, and sometimes to the "pull" of some untrained teacher on account of living in the vicinity of the school, being related to a school commissioner, etc.

With regard to school grants it appeared that some school boards have been losing money in trying to save it. I refer to the three special grants distributed among rural schools, whose boards pay every teacher (a) $100, (b) $125, (c) $150.

Some of these municipalities have lost these grants by paying one or two teachers only, less than the required amount. This has been brought about, for example, by keeping one or two schools open for four months only. They may be paying all the rest of their teachers $150 or even $200 but lose the grant on account of one or two short term schools.

The need of consolidating some weak schools is still urgent. Consolidation is now in vogue in thirty-two States of the Union. In Canada the greatest progress has been made of late in Manitoba. Pupils are being conveyed there as far as eleven miles.

While objections are almost always raised at the outset of an attempt to secure consolidation, these almost invariably cease when the plan is actually tried.

Several boards in the Townships have recently awakened to the value of consolidation. Some are conveying their pupils to elementary schools while some are securing a model school and conveying their pupils there.

It was clearly demonstrated at these meetings that great progress is being made almost everywhere on this continent in rural education. Unless we go forward we shall be left sadly behind.

Parents Decided He Could Not Be Cured. "Cuticura" Soon Made His Skin Perfectly Clear.

What appeared to be a water blister would form. When it broke, matter would run out, starting new blisters until the entire face, head and shoulders were a mass of scabs and you could not see a particle of clear skin.

He was treated for an outbreak twice a week and he got worse, if anything. We then called in another doctor and inside of a week the boy was all appearance cured and the doctor said his work was done. But the very next day it broke out as bad as ever.

THE ONLOOKER COMMENTS

Real Estate at Wholesale

The final personal link connecting our present time with the active operations of an association whose formation and existence, during a period of some eighty years, had a far-reaching effect upon this part of Quebec Province is removed by the demise of Mr. R. W. Heneker, for so many decades the representative of the British American Land Company in Sherbrooke. The Company's building on Frontenac street passed out of their list of holdings some time ago. They who remember the period of Mr. Heneker's residence, remember the pleasant garden which relieved the plain brick residence and stone business office, and the sense of age and stability that many years of establishment had given the property. For generations this company controlled the real estate business in St. Francis District, and only within the last few years have the directors found the maintenance of their office unnecessary.

The commissioners of the B. A. L. Company were all men of ability and prominence. In 1834 Hon. Peter McGill and Hon. George Moffatt accepted the first appointment of this nature. Then followed Mr. Arthur C. Webster. In 1837 Mr. John Fraser succeeded Mr. Webster, followed by Mr. A. T. Gault whose commission was given in 1844. In 1855 Mr. Gault gave place to the late Mr. Heneker who, from 1855, managed the local affairs of the Company.

The history of the Company, aside from its financial losses or earnings, is closely associated with the history of the Townships. Its immense holdings, obtained at a nominal price, made it the object of much complaint and dislike in several parts of Central Quebec and out of their 1,094,272 acres of land they were forced to return over five hundred thousand to the Government in 1841. At the present time it seems extraordinary that one company could have gained control of such an extensive tract of land under royal charter. But Canada was considerably a wilderness at that time, a colony to be settled and exploited, not supposedly a country where sufficient independence might arise to cause dissatisfaction at a priced exploitation and settlement. That the company assisted immigration is true. That it prevented immigration is also true, for the policy of the Government after 1841 was to grant free lands to settlers, while the Company would not, naturally, give away its valuable property. That some acute feeling arose is evident from two advertisements inserted in the St. Francis Gazette, in May, 1841. One publishes the fact that the Emigration Association of St. Francis District is preparing to meet immigrants with a list of free lands obtainable in the District, and urging farmers and land proprietors to help in the good cause by giving such lands as they could. The other states that the British American Land Company has town lots, mills and wild lands for sale to settlers, from five shillings per acre upwards, and particularly recommends the settlement of Victoria for persons of capital and ability. As the Land Company held enormous tracts of land, it is easily seen that the Emigration Society had a difficult task to perform. An editorial in the same issue commends the Society and remarks that "it must depend, in a great measure, upon the exertions of this association," whether the Eastern Townships received their share of immigration in Lower Canada, and continues:

"We observe it stated in the Toronto British Colonist, that the Canada Company has determined during the season, to pay the passage of emigrants from Quebec who intend to settle on their lands. Query, What is the British American Land Company doing to induce emigrants to the Eastern Townships?"

The settlement of Victoria to which the Company invited persons of capital and ability, was one of the tragedies of immigration in the early part of last century. The village was near Scotstown and had about thirty houses, besides two or three public buildings, and over a hundred settlers were brought over, passage free, and settled here. The Company provided for them for a while, but when the settlers learned that they were to refund passage money and provision expenses to the Company and pay for their farms, they all deserted the village except a Dutch family. The buildings fell to ruins, and as the soil was poor, any one who came later could not be persuaded to settle on the site of the "Deserted Village."

Yet if there was opposition to the Company, time has shown that the efforts of its administrations often had excellent results. They attracted men with capital, opened up several industries and brought out many settlers who proved good citizens, and who assisted in opening up the unsettled parts of the country. They had obtained a monopoly at a time when royal charters to individuals were of frequent occurrence, and when the actual value of their holdings was not realized. Once the public mind grasped the situation there was immediate protest until the Government managed to get back a small slice of what had so easily been signed away. Even in our own time of widespread monopoly in commercial and financial interests, one cannot help thinking that an asset of over a million acres of salable land would be a nice backing for a real estate organization.

Where Are We Coming?

The situation existing in New York resulting from the murder of Herman Rosenthal, is fast becoming extraordinary. The arrest of Schepps, one of the conspirators, became occasion for a sharp contest between the New York police and District Attorney Whitman, as to the prisoner's custody, for it was feared that should police authorities get near enough to influence the man, the cause of justice would be interfered with. In short, to obtain justice, the city of New York has been obliged to range itself against its appointed guardians of the law. Having a police force paid to protect them, the citizens of the metropolitan city are protecting themselves against their protectors.

Such an anomalous condition of affairs cannot continue. The case of Lieutenant Becker may assist in awakening people to the fact that the system of police selection is far from satisfactory. Political preference and physical strength are not sufficient qualifications for the men who are chosen to guard the peace of cities. That the people of New York are not intending to be hoodwinked longer by their police force is demonstrated by their crowded meetings of public protest and clamor for investigation and reorganization. The motor car has offered a new opportunity for the criminal in the carrying out of his designs, as many instances besides those of the recent shooting of the New York gambler have shown. The sensational happenings connected with the work of the motor car bandits in Paris, has caused the head of the police of that city to institute a special course for the instruction of a criminal police brigade, which will grant certificates only to proficient students. In this move is found the solution of the whole difficulty in police selection. There should be adequate instruction, examination, and appointment on mental and moral, as well as physical qualification.

A Ruined Man

A tragedy recently occurred at Egst Bourne, England, which was accounted for by the principle, a murderer of several members of his family, in the explanation that he was "ruined." Having spoiled his own career he proceeded to exterminate his family, and, so inconsistent is human nature, felt possibly that his last act was to some extent heroic and virtuous.

This sort of happening is far from uncommon. The daily news chronicles many instances of the suicide, or murderer, who leaves the weak excuse that he is a "ruined man." The public may pass over the spectacle of the ruined suicide with pity, but when a man takes upon himself the killing of several innocent beings as a criminal conclusion to an unsuccessful life, it would almost seem that he must have deserved his misfortune.

"A ruined man" is an easy phrase. The man who listens to the pronouncement of his first sentence and feels the walls of a prison closing around him shutting him forever from the freedom of an unslandered life, will feel himself as a ruined man. With the earnings of many years gone, the financial wizard will stumble home to mutter the all engrossing news to a pampered family, that he is ruined. The political boss, the public grafter, will walk with bold face through the crowd, until a finger of scornful discovery drives them into oblivion, "ruined." The man who leads a double life, comes and goes fearlessly, until the day of discovery, ruins his reputation. The book-keeper will falsify accounts and spend his stolen gains with smiling countenance, until some keen accountant sends him the way of "a ruined man."

One might with reason conclude that discovery was the maker of ruined men. They may steal, live criminally, commit this or that illegal act, but "ruin" comes only when they are found out. There are thousands of men afraid of nothing the world has in store for them except the day of discovery, and against that day of reckoning they carry a handy revolver to spare them the taunts of their enemies and the tears of their family.

Yet a ruined man is actually but of one type, he who has lost self-respect. A man may go to prison, become penniless, have committed acts of which he is ashamed, but in the day of disgrace he is not ruined if he has preserved the power to feel interest in making a fresh effort. A man who falls under the weight of disaster is weak. A man who fears discovery of past acts of which he has learned to be ashamed, is human. A man who shrinks at a revelation of his crimes, lest he be forced to discontinue their perpetration, is the only truly ruined man. Financial bankruptcy, disgrace of any nature, cannot "ruin" a man, though it may darken his reputation. He is ruined only when his own sense of right and wrong has become so warped that self-respect is dead.

General Booth

As General Booth was unmoved by ridicule in the early days of the organization of his great religious movement, the Salvation Army, he may possibly not have rejoiced in the general public acclaim that rewarded his efforts in later years. He worked for the praise of but one Commander and nothing swerved him from the carrying out of the great purpose of his life. But whether he appreciated the change in public feeling to its fullest extent, the public gladly withdrew its unfriendly attitude when the actual proof of the great usefulness of the Army became evident. The world had to be educated by an object lesson in practical results, before the dream of the General was looked upon as other than a fanatical vision of a preacher in the streets.

On his death the world accords him the praise due a great and extraordinary personality. Scoffed at and ridiculed when first the Army took the street corner for a church, General Booth dies so honored that Westminster Abbey is mentioned as a fitting resting place for his body. The newspapers accord him the space given a great king's passing, and rank him among the greatest, if not the greatest of his time. The rich and the poor together pay homage to his genius.

And what of that innumerable army, living and dead, of men and women and children, who have groped out of a life of sin and neglect into something better and more worth living, because of the work of this man? As they crouched in their dark corners, the world, the church, and their fellows, passed them by. To such as these came the word of help, a glimpse of hope, and then an attempt to creep up to the light. In the funeral train of the honored leader of this great work, will follow, unseen, a visionary multitude of these souls, marching onward into a better day for the world. For such as these he lived, and his death cannot stay the climbing of their feet. In their redemption lies the triumph of his life's work, and its reward.

Sneak Thieves

Sneak thieves are unusually active in their operations in several sections of the Townships this year. So annoying has been their thieving propensities in one place that an association for the protection of the public against them has been formed.

Sneak thieves are hard to catch. They may be anyone from your neighbor to a passing tramp. Only continual deprecations can give any assistance in locating them, and usually sneak thieving is now here, tomorrow twenty miles away, and a week hence, here again. In trapping sneak thieves each man must be his own night watchman, and constable.

AN UNBREAKABLE
WILL AT LAST

Here's a Will That Cannot Be Disputed.

When a piece of machinery is so strong and simple that it cannot go wrong, it is often called " foolproof." The same thing might be said of the BAX Will Form but for the fact that a fool never makes a will, and he is the only man who does not.

Every man or woman of intelligence realizes the importance of making a will, even when the amount to be left is small. Some people, however, delay the matter because they do not wish to incur the expense of lawyers' fees or wish to avoid publicity. It is to these people that the BAX Will Form appeals. It costs only 35 cents, and there is no necessity for letting any person else know the contents of the will. With each form there is a specimen will made out correctly, with full instructions for your guidance.

The will made on the BAX Will Form is positively legal and indisputable. See that the name "BAX" appears on the form.

For sale by all druggists and stationers at 35 cents, or sent on receipt of price by the BAX Will Form Company, 275 College St., Toronto.

I want to say to the people of Toronto and elsewhere that "Fruit-a-lives" is my only medicine and has been for the last four years. VERMONT IS FOR PROTECTION

Opposed to any "Tinkering" With The Tariff.

BELIEVED THAT THIS FEELING WILL HELP THE REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN.

St. Albans, Vt., Aug. 24.—If Woodrow Wilson expects the Democrats of Vermont to cut down the Republican majority in the State on Sept. 3, he and his running mate, Governor Marshall, would do well to keep quiet between now and that time upon the question of the tariff. Vermont is a strong protection State. The bitter hostility evinced here among the farmers toward the Canadian reciprocity treaty showed very clearly that there has been no great change in the public sentiment of the State. Being close to the line Vermonters though the proposed reciprocity arrangement with their northern neighbors a great damage to the farm industries of this State. Not only are they opposed to reciprocity with Canada, but having narrowly escaped that, with the aid of Canada, they are inclined to be afraid of taking any chances with men who wish to tamper with the whole tariff schedule. People complain of the increased cost of living and they have the feeling that some of the duties of the present tariff can be reduced to the advantage of the general public without injury to the farmers and other industries in the State.

THE GLOBE CONSOLIDATED

PROPERTY IN WHICH E. T. INVESTORS ARE INTERESTED SHOWING UP WELL.

Eastern Townships shareholders in the Globe Consolidated Mining Co., of California, will be interested in the following lettergram just received, dated, Redding, Cal., Aug. 18th, 1912:

F. M. Craig, Sherbrooke, Que.

"Owing to break down at old mill and repairs needed, cleaned up for twenty-four days' run of four hundred and five tons, average value eighteen dollars and forty cents per ton. Have two hundred and sixty-six ounces of bullion valued at four thousand four hundred twenty-nine dollars. Work on new plant progressing satisfactorily."

(Signed) J. H. Hooper, Superintendent.

The above shows a saving of $10.93 per ton from ore treated by amalgamation in addition to the concentrates saved for future treatment, and which by reports from the mine assay office carry values of $218.00 per ton.

No. 2 tunnel has been extended something over 300 feet since work was commenced this spring, and the average value of ore developed the entire distance, from samples taken regularly every four feet, and an average of five feet wide, is $35.23 per ton.

Work is being rushed on the new plant which will have a capacity of 100 tons of ore per day, and about 50 men are regularly employed on the work. It is hoped that the new plant will be ready for operation by January next.

Market Column

DAIRY PRODUCE

BUTTER MARKET QUIET BUT STEADY AT THE DECLINE.

Montreal, Aug. 24.—There has been a quieter feeling in the butter market during the past week owing to less enquiry experienced from the Northwest and the Coast. There has been some trading, however, in creamery butter, finest Townships having changed hands in car lots at 26c to 26 1/2c, which are about the prices ruling a year ago. Fine creamery has changed hands at 25 1/2c and seconds at 25 1/2c. About 7 cars of butter were shipped to the Northwest and the Coast last week. Vancouver, it is said, will require considerable supplies before the new make of New Zealand butter will be available to any extent, and consequently this market will have to be drawn upon till then. There is very little demand for dairy butter, and the receipts of Manitoba dairy butter referred to by us previously move off slowly at from 21 1/2c to 22 1/2c as to quality. The tubs which this butter is packed in run very uneven, being large and small, mostly the latter, and are anything but neat and desirable.

CHEESE MARKET QUIET, BUT HOLDERS FIRM.

Montreal, Aug. 24.—The volume of business this week has been comparatively small, with sales of finest Western at 13 1/2c, holders generally asking 13 1/2c without getting it. The market is in that condition that in order to do business to any extent, lower prices would have to be accepted.

The country markets, however, keep up pretty well owing to competition in securing a better quality of goods, August and September cheese being considered the best long keepers of the season. This is one reason why holders are not over anxious to accept current cable offers, but prefer to hold for a later market. Still there has been some business in early made goods at a shade under outside quotations. The sale of a lot of Eastern Townships white was reported at 13 1/2c, and a lot of 350 boxes half white and half colored at 13-16c.

Quebecs have been placed at 12 1/2c to 13c for fine, to finest and seconds at 12 1/2c to 12 3/4c. The weather in England favors a good make and similar conditions rule on this side. The demand is chiefly for Eastern goods owing to their lower cost. The offerings at the Peterboro board sold at 13 1/2c to 13 3/4c the latter figure ruling.

These figures show an advance of 1/2c to 3/4c upon those paid three weeks ago, but they are fully that much better value in quality, and hence the competition between local and Montreal buyers at this week's board.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

PRICE OF EGGS ADVANCES.

Montreal, Aug. 24.—There has been an extraordinary demand for eggs during the week, completely cleaning up the receipts from the country. Some of the wholesale houses have had to break into their fall storage stock. There have not been any American eggs come into the market this week. Prices show an advance of about two cents per dozen on all grades owing to keen competition between buyers at country points.

We quote selects 28c to 29c. No. 1 storage 26c to 26c. Straight receipts 24 1/2c to 25c. There is not much inquiry for second grades, which can be obtained at 26c per doz.

BEAN MARKET QUIET.

Montreal, Aug. 24.—The bean market continues quiet. Stocks are light and of inferior grade. Prices are purely nominal at $2.75. There are quite a few hand picked imported beans on the market which can be purchased at much lower prices. The crop prospects for Canadian beans are not very bright.

GOOD ENQUIRY FOR HONEY.

Montreal, Aug. 24.—There has been quite an enquiry for new honey, but none of the wholesale houses have any supplies. A few small parcels have been shipped into some of the leading retail grocers.

MAPLE PRODUCTS QUIET.

Montreal, Aug. 24.—The market is quiet, maple syrup bringing 7 1/2c to 8 1/2c in tins as to quality and 6 1/2c to 7c in wood. Maple syrup has sold at 9c to 9 1/2c.

THE GRAIN TRADE

MARKET WAS QUIET BUT STEADY.

Montreal, Aug. 24.—Corn—The market is quiet No. 3 yellow in bags being quoted at 83c to 84c in car lots. In Chicago corn closed 5 1/2c Dec. 5 1/2c May, and 7 1/2c Sept. Oats closed at 32 1/2c Dec., 35c May, 32 1/2c Sept.

Oats—The market is firm and higher No. 2 C.W. selling at 47 1/2c to 48c and extra No. 1 feed at 47 1/2c to 48c. Oats closed in Chicago at 32 1/2c Dec. 35c May, and 32 1/2c Sept.

Peas—The market continues quiet. Choice peas $2.25 to $2.35 but very few are to be had.

Barley—New malting barley is quoted at 80c. Feed do. 60c to 63c as to quality.

HAY AND STRAW MARKET

PRICE DROPPED DURING WEEK.

Montreal, Aug. 24.—There has been a more liberal supply of new hay come on the market this week which has had a tendency to reduce prices on new hay, which is selling this week at $12 to $13 for No. 1 grade; $11 to $11.50 for second grade and $9 to $10 for third grade and clover mixed. These prices show a decline of about two dollars per ton. There has been no change in old hay, which is held for $17 to $18 for No. 1 grade, $16 to $16.50 for No. 2 grade, and $12 to $12.50 for No. 3. Cable advices from England do not show much change, the quotations being as follows: Liverpool 100s, London 100s to 102s, Bristol 93s, Glasgow 90s to 95s, Manchester 100s.
