British Election Meetings Are Marked By Rowdiness

Conservatives Willing To Reimpose McKenna Duties If Returned In Election

Sir William Joynson-Hicks Declares that if Conservative Party Is Returned to Power in British Elections It Will Again Put McKenna Duties in Force if Trade Union Leaders Request Such an Action—Election Campaign Is Warming Up Considerably Everywhere—Conservatives Are Making Most of Anglo-Russian Pact, Labor Leaders Are Holding Out Promises of Better Things to Come, While Liberals Are Advocating State Control of Minerals, With Operation to Be Carried On by Private Enterprise.

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, October 21.—The Conservative party, if it is returned to power in the general election next week, will reimpose the McKenna duties if trade union leaders ask for such action, Sir William Joynson-Hicks, Conservative, declared in a campaign speech at Isleworth last night.

"We shall impose the McKenna duties," he said, "in order to give some fairness between our own people and the Belgian and German nations."

He added, however, that the prospective duties would not be reimposed until trade union leaders asked for such a step to protect them against underpaid continental labor.

The election campaign is warming up considerably everywhere. The Conservatives are making the most of the Anglo-Russian pact and Campbell controversy issues; the Labor leaders are holding out promises of better things to come if they are returned with a majority; while the Liberals are advocating, among other things, state control of minerals, with the operation to be carried on by private enterprise.

The Conservatives have a new ally in Sir Auckland Geddes, former British Ambassador at Washington, who made an address at Blackburn, a Lancashire cotton town, today. This was the first active part Sir Auckland has taken in public affairs since his retirement from the Washington post.

MANY ELECTION MEETINGS WERE MARRED BY SCENES OF ROWDINESS—SOME BROKEN UP BY DISORDERLY CROWDS

(Associated Press Despatch) LONDON, Oct. 21.—(Cable) — Many of the election meetings last night marked by scenes of rowdiness and some of the meetings were broken up by disorderly crowds. A meeting called by the Conservatives in North Kensington, London, was practically taken possession of by young men wearing red ties and red scarves. The young men began singing the "red flag" the instant the Conservative candidate for North Kensington began to speak, and uproar ensued. The men in charge of the meeting called in the police. The presence of the police during the remainder of the meeting had a quieting effect, but they were not called in early enough, and the Conservatives had little opportunity to redeem the time lost. The meeting closed with the National anthem and the others singing the "red flag," both sides at the highest range of their voices.

Sir Laming Worthington Evans, Conservative candidate for Colchester, Essex, former Postmaster General, fared badly at a meeting held in his interest in the constituency last night. It was evident from the start that the gathering was largely hostile, and Sir Laming early resorted to the use of a microphone to make himself heard.

As the meeting progressed, or rather as the time advanced, the disturbances kept growing, and in several instances free fights were threatened. The noisy interrupters had a loud-voiced gong which they used with vigor until finally the stewards of the meeting captured it. Thereafter it was easier going for the Conservatives, but the meeting closed unsatisfactorily. As in the case of the meeting at North Kensington, the gathering broke up with a voice duel, one side singing the National anthem and the other fairly shouting the "red flag."

J. R. Clynes, Lord Privy Seal, was so annoyed with disturbers at his meeting in the Plating Division of Manchester, that he stood on a chair in the middle of the crowd in order to spot the disturbers. This bold move had the effect on the noisy ones.

WOMEN TAKING A BIGGER PART THAN EVER BEFORE

(Associated Press Despatch) LONDON, Oct. 21.—As the British election campaign progresses reports from many parts of the country emphasize the accuracy of one prediction made at the outset—that the women would take a bigger part than ever before.

Not only are there forty-one women helpers for every one of the men parliamentary candidates drawing big audiences, but the wives, daughters and sisters of the male candidates are taking to the platform in their behalf with great success, while the various political organizations are finding it difficult in some cases to employ all the women volunteers anxious to join in the fight. In some populous constituencies women helpers have been sent out in batches of fifty or more for canvassing tours, calling at every house until the whole constituency is covered.

The audiences at many political meetings contain a large percentage of women, who sometimes even outnumber the men. This has been noted especially in Plymouth, in one district of which Lady Astor is conducting a lively campaign for re-election.

Conservative candidate for Colchester, Essex, former Postmaster General, fared badly at a meeting held in his interest in the constituency last night. It was evident from the start that the gathering was largely hostile, and Sir Laming early resorted to the use of a microphone to make himself heard.

Over 177,000 Arrests For Violation Of Volstead Law Were Made In Past Three Years--Fines Total Eighteen Million

Violators of Liquor Laws in United States in Three Years Have Been Sentenced to Serve an Aggregate of Almost Seven Thousand Years—11,077 Automobiles and 444 Launches Seized—Statistics Were Announced Today.

WASHINGTON, October 21.—More than 177,000 arrests for violating of the Volstead Law have been made by the federal authorities during the past three years and violators have been sentenced in federal courts in that period to serve an aggregate of nearly seven thousand years, according to an announcement made today by Royal Prohibition Commissioner Roy A. Haynes.

The number of stills seized in that time has been more than 400,000 and the amount of liquor seized has been about 39,600,000 gallons, and 11,077 automobiles and 444 boats and launches have been captured by the federal authorities in their campaign against violations of the laws enacted in support of the eighteen amendment.

The fines imposed have aggregated more than $18,000,000, of which $12,300,000 has been actually collected and converted into the United States Treasury. More than 900 padlock injunction cases have been instituted and the heaviest penalty ever imposed in any one case for conspiracy to violate the law was a fine of $21,000 and a sentence of 20 years in jail.

Commissioner Haynes made public these statistics in an effort to convince the public that prohibition enforcement is becoming daily more effective. He asserts that improvement in curbing the outlawed liquor traffic is due to better co-operation between federal and local authorities. Imposition of jail sentences instead of mere fines on violators, more general use of the "padlock" on liquor nuisances, and steps taken toward stoppage of leakage of liquor from bonded warehouses to the illicit market.

Electric And Gas Department By-Law Is Amended By Council--Motion Favouring A Change In Water Rates Was Presented

Alderman Newton's Amendment to Gas and Electric Department By-Law Met With Approval—Motion Passed that City's Sympathy Be Conveyed to Family of Late Hon. Dr. Pelletier—Mayor Brault and Two Members of Council Will Attend Funeral in Quebec Tomorrow.

TWO amendments to by-law 373, concerning the Gas and Electric Department, which were proposed by Ald. Newton and immediately adopted, composed the outstanding business transacted at the regular meeting of the City Council last evening.

The first amendment was that the following words be added to the end of article three of bylaw 373: "No discount will be allowed on current bills to customers having arrears unless these arrears are paid."

The second amendment states that: "Customers for electricity or gas who are not proprietors of real estate in the City of Sherbrooke shall be required to make a deposit sufficient to cover two months of service for gas or electricity, which amount shall be fixed by the Council on recommendation of the Electric Committee. That deposit shall be maintained in advance until the customers cease to take light or gas, unless they furnish a written guarantee from a real estate owner in the city assuming the responsibility for the payment of such bills."

Ald. Lacombe brought up the question of making changes in the present water rates. He said that recently he had received several complaints from different citizens regarding the water meters which the city supply to certain citizens. He said that he felt that ratepayers, so desiring, should have water supplied to them on the "flat system," and therefore made a motion to this effect.

Ald. Skinner was very much opposed to this motion, claiming that it was absolutely illegal to present such a motion before the matter had been brought before the water works committee and considered and discussed by that committee. "Let us act legally rather than radically," he said. "We have some two hundred and twenty meters in use, and we have received eight or ten complaints, so why should we make any changes," Ald. Skinner remarked. Following some discussion it was decided to refer the matter to the Water Committee for study.

The attention of the Council was called to the fact that a large sign board had been placed on the city's property at the corner of St. Edward Street and King Street West. This sign had been placed there by Mr. Cote, Advertising Agent, acting upon permission received from Ald. Langis. This matter was discussed by the Council, and it was decided that Ald. Langis did not have authority to give such permission.

Ald. Skinner moved and Ald. Newton seconded that orders be issued immediately that this signboard be removed. All the aldermen were in favor of this motion except Ald. Lacombe. Alderman Langis was absent from the meeting during the discussion and voting upon this question.

City Conveys Sympathy to Family of Late Hon. Dr. Pelletier. Ald. Tetreault referred to the recent death, in Quebec, of the late Hon. Dr. Pelletier, Agent General for the Province of Quebec in the United Kingdom, and a former resident and leading citizen of this city. He stated Sherbrooke had indeed suffered a great loss in this death, and he therefore moved that a letter from the Council be sent to the family of the late Dr. Pelletier conveying the sincere sympathy of the Council, and that furthermore His Worship the Mayor, accompanied by two of the aldermen, as representatives of the city, attend the funeral which will be held in Quebec tomorrow morning. This motion was carried and the Council arose for a moment in memory of the deceased.

Committees Submit Reports. Committee reports from Health, Road and Finance Departments were presented at the meeting, and the

RATEPAYERS TURN DOWN BY-LAW CALLING FOR $65,000 FOR FIRE DEPARTMENT; VOTING WAS LIGHT

Ratepayers Yesterday Approved of Four By-Laws Submitted to Them, But Turned Down By-Law for Fire Station Expenditure—By-Law 454 Called for Expenditure of $65,000 on Sheds, Garage and Alarm System—Only West Ward Was in Favor—Other Four By-Laws Authorized Call for Expenditure of $542,000, Divided Among Road, Gas and Electric and Waterworks Departments—Voting Was Very Light.

FOUR of the five by-laws calling for a total sum of $607,000 to be used for city improvements which were submitted by the council to the ratepayers were approved at the polls yesterday. The by-law that fell by the wayside was that known as by-law 454, calling for $65,000 to be used in connection with the building of sheds and garages, installation of a new alarm system and for apparatus at the new police and fire headquarters.

Apparently the chief objection to this by-law was the item of $29,600 for the proposed new alarm system, which a great number of ratepayers thought was a little out of the question. While the fire station by-law had a majority of thirteen votes, it was strongly defeated in the matter of valuation figures. In fact, it was only in the west ward that this by-law registered a majority.

The voting was very light and clearly displayed lack of interest in the city's affairs by many taxpayers. Of a total number of 2,110 ratepayers eligible to cast votes, only a little over four hundred went to the polls.

By-law 451 calling for the renewal of the loan of $90,000 for improvement to the electricity department by a loan of $80,000 by means of municipal bonds, was passed in every ward. There were 276 votes in favor of this by-law, while 135 votes were against it. The total valuation for was $4,396,052, while the total valuation against was $1,693,967.

By-law 452 which provided for the transfer of money to the tax department left over from other by-laws was also passed in all wards. There were 276 votes in favor of this by-law, while 126 voted against it. The valuation for and against this by-law was $4,373,599 and 11,587,024 respectively.

By-law 453 providing for the construction of sewers in different parts of the city was also passed, receiving 279 votes for and 128 against. The valuation for this by-law was $4,181.77, while the valuation against was $1,818,420.

By-law 454 providing for the completion of the new police headquarters and the only by-law which was defeated, received 195 votes in favor and 182 votes against it. The valuation against, however, being $9,404,623 was much higher than the valuation in favor of $2,361,101, and therefore the by-law did not pass.

By-law 455 providing for an extensive paving programme, work to be done in practically every part of the city, was approved of by the City rate payers, the by-law passed in every ward. This by-law received 265 votes in favor and 147 against, while the valuation against $2,001,150.

EGYPT STANDS FOR COMPLETE INDEPENDENCE

Premier Zagloul Pasha Declares British Replied to His Request "With Refusal Without Proof or Justification."

(Associated Press Despatch) CAIRO, Egypt, Oct. 21.—The Egyptian Premier, Zagloul Pasha, was enthusiastically greeted in Alexandria last night upon his return from England, where he interviewed Premier MacDonald regarding Egypt's aspiration for complete independence. He admitted that he had returned without realizing these aspirations, but declared he was ready to sacrifice his life if necessary for his country's independence.

The British had replied to his request "with a refusal without proof or justification". It had been demonstrated that the Egyptians must remain solidly grouped under the banner of "complete independence for Egypt and the Sudan." "We will never admit, nor will those who come after us, that a single foreign soldier shall remain on Egyptian soil," the Premier declared.

SHANHAIKWAN SURROUNDED BY MANCHURIANS

Peking Government Forces Defended Northeast Section of City Against Repeated Attacks.

(Associated Press Despatch) MUKDEN, Oct. 21.—Manchurian troops have occupied the southern half of Shanhaikwan on the Chihli-Manchurian border, the town being almost surrounded, according to information received here.

Intense fighting is proceeding in Shanhaikwan, the Peking Government army defending a steep hill in the northwest section of the city against repeated assaults. The Manchurians hold the railway station, but the railway cannot be used as the government men have blocked the line by filling the cut through the Great Wall with huge blocks of stone.

SCOTSTOWN

Local hunters have not been very free with any recitals of recent luck or bad luck. But here is what a local scribe can swear to as having come under his observation one day last week.

Quite early in the morning one day in the middle of the week, right on Victoria street, the main street of the town, within less than a stone's throw from the post office or the Canadian Bank of Commerce, a local trader noticed right near his residence a partridge. It took but a minute for the trader to get his shotgun and bring down the game.

On the same day, within a half hour's drive from this quiet village, a large black bear was suddenly met by a driver coming round a curve in the road. Mr. Bruin was a little disturbed, as he was at the time travelling towards a nearby farm house, no doubt having in his mind some innocent young sheep that were at that time feeding on the hillside.

Mr. Bruin immediately reversed from the direction that he was going and disappeared in the woods close at hand. The witness of this act did not carry a license, so Mr. Bruin is still walking or running in the pleasant paths of liberty.

The chicken-pie supper, under the auspices of the Brill Ladies' Aid, was a great success. The perfect autumn evening brought large crowds from all the surrounding points, Eastman, South Stukely, Waterloo, Knowlton and Foster being well represented. All did full justice to the good things provided by the ladies. The pastor acted as chairman and the young people of the neighborhood gave a short programme consisting of solos, dialogues, recitations, readings, violin selections by Clinton McLaughlin and solos by Mr. Arthur Snodgrass, of the adjoining neighborhood, whose singing is always so much appreciated. The proceeds amounted to $93.70.

The following lines, entitled "The Ladies' Aid," were composed by Mr. Stanley Ellins during the evening:

That ministers would starve today
I've not the slightest doubt,
If from the parish of the Brill
The Ladies' Aid stepped out.

For they have endless tasks to do
If money must be made;
Each time they meet a bill comes through
Addressed The Ladies' Aid.

Apart from sewing you must know
There's numerous other jobs to do;
If all the parson's bills be paid
Then plan they must the Ladies' Aid.

An oyster or a chicken stew
Help to raise a buck or two,
So cooking they must surely do
The good old Ladies' Aid.

To catch the water from the roof
New eave spouts must be laid;
The money that must meet this bill
Comes from the Ladies' Aid.

So if a dollar you've to spare
Don't be the least afraid;
Just put it in an envelope,
Addressed the Ladies' Aid.

It is more easily digested than ordinary crackers and contains more real, body-building nutriment. SS. ANTHEMIS HAD GOOD SEASON.

It is understood that the patronage of the steamer Anthemis on Lake Memphremagog was very satisfactory this summer, indicating that the interest being taken in this attractive trip is very promising.

The Record has received the following letter from Mr. Chipp, of Georgeville, secretary-treasurer of the Memphremagog Navigation Company, which operates the Anthemis:

"We wish to thank the citizens of Sherbrooke and its districts, through the medium of your esteemed paper, for their loyal support during the season just closed, which we feel has been largely due to your kind co-operation and our own advertisement in your paper. From impressions made upon our patrons and certain projects now in negotiations, we are confident that "Beautiful Lake Memphremagog" is destined to become more popular with the tourist and holiday seeker, than it has ever been in the past."

C.N.R. CURTAIL SERVICE FROM ISLAND POND

Proposed Winter Schedule Meeting With Opposition at All Points Along Line Between Island Pond and Portland.

Mr. R. L. French, of Portland, Me., who was in the city yesterday, stated that much concern is felt on the Canadian National Railway lines from Island Pond to Portland with regard to the proposed winter passenger schedule which is to go into effect on December 28th. Mr. French states that it is understood in Portland that this schedule will discontinue all Sunday trains between Island Pond and Portland, and in fact between Sherbrooke and Portland.

For instance, he says, the last train into Portland over the Canadian National Railway will be at 7.30 p.m., Saturday night, and the next will be at 11.40 a.m. on Monday. The last one out of Portland will be at 5.25 p.m., Saturday, and the next at 7.45 a.m., on Monday.

Mr. French states that the matter is being taken up by organizations at all points along the C. N. R. from Island Pond to Portland, and that the Inter-State Commerce Commission is being appealed to.

Mr. French admits that he has strong personal interest in the matter as director of the main Dairy Incorporated, which buys large quantities of cream at points along this line all the way from Dixville to Portland. He states, however, that he is not alone in his protestations, and that the people are very much aroused and propose to carry their demand for some service on Sundays as far as possible.

While no announcements have been made locally with regard to the winter schedule, it is understood that the condition that is likely to apply over the C. N. R. in Maine will not apply as between Sherbrooke and Montreal, but will apply between Sherbrooke and Coaticook, as the evening train on Saturday will stop at Sherbrooke and the afternoon train on Sunday will start from Sherbrooke.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Y.M.C.A. NIGHT CLASS.

Last night the young men's class of the Y.M.C.A. held their annual meeting, preceded by initiation of all the new members. The evening opened with a splendid workout on the floor, after which twenty new members were initiated into the group. After initiation, which was most amusing, six young ladies from the ladies' gym class served supper.

The chairman, Mr. Ray Hutchinson, called upon the general secretary to give an address to the boys, the subject chosen being "The Elements That Make for Success."

Mr. G. S. Sampson, chairman of the physical committee, gave an address in which he stressed the importance of the young men's class in the general Y.M.C.A. programme. In the course of his address Mr. Sampson made passing reference to the events transpiring at the international convention of Y's Men's Clubs, and spoke highly of the place and standing of the young men's group of Sherbrooke. The meeting then proceeded with the selection of officers, which resulted in the following appointments: President, Mr. E. Conley; secretary-treasurer, Mr. N. Lothrop; chairman of social committee, Mr. Ray Hutchinson.

A proposed constitution was then put before the club for approval, and after it had been read by the secretary, was unanimously adopted.

REV. A. BRIGHT GAVE TALK ON CITIZENSHIP

Was Speaker at Meeting of Sherbrooke Kinsmen Club Held Last Evening.

"The principles of good citizenship," was the subject of an address given before the members of the Sherbrooke Kinsmen Club at their regular meeting held last evening at the New Sherbrooke House by the Rev. Alfred Bright, B.A., minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

The first point taken by the speaker was that the public schools were among the greatest factors of good citizenship in any city. "The schools are the hope of the future. I think that many subjects now taught might be dropped, and other more important subjects bearing on the daily community life, taken up."

"Another great influence for good citizenship is the public press. Some opinions are that the press should reflect public opinion. Others hold that the press should mould public opinion. I am of the latter belief. The press has an immense influence in thousands of homes that should be wielded for the public good."

"A third principle of good citizenship is respect for the law. We ought to respect the law, even if we do not approve of them. It is one of the great ideals of British citizenship that we have a great and wholesome respect for the law and authority. One never hears of lynchings and such things in the British Empire."

"The intelligent use of the franchise is another factor of good citizenship. No community can be what it ought to be unless those who can vote do so honestly, intelligently and unselfishly. The ballot has an immense power in community life, and it should be properly exercised."

"We all should speak well of our city and we all should work for the moral health of our city. The city must be wholesome, sweet and clean if it is to be attractive. The city belongs to us and we should do all that we can to keep it up. We must not remain inactive, knowing of the blots and sores, but we must at once take steps to have them wiped out."

UNCLE JIM'S LETTER

Dear Corner Folk:—
When I saw it snowing on Monday morning I thought of the corner children and wondered if any of them were teasing for their sleds. The snow was not very good for sliding,

THE FAIRIES' COTTAGE.

Some little fairy folk were wandering about one day in autumn and it was quite chilly. They came to a seashore and there they found a big seashell. They decided that it would make a nice home, at least for two, so Bill and Dill took the seashell for their home, and we will read about it each day in the little verses that go with the pictures.

A great big Seashell sat on the shore, Empty it was and without a door.

Along a couple of Fairy Folk flew, And decided the cottage just nice for two.

was it? Boys and girls like to go sliding on the first snow, and some big folks like to go, too.

I heard a boy on the street telling his chums that he had some "dandy pumpkins" which he was making into a false face to wear on Halloween, and he said it was an "awful fierce one." So I suppose somebody will be frightened.

The mailman brought me only one letter this morning, so I will keep it until tomorrow when there will probably be others. There was a J.R.C. pledge with the letter.

We have some little pictures and verses which I think you will like. We will have them four days so it will be like a continued story. I hope you will read and enjoy the little story about the people who came to America many years ago. We shall have another fairy story this week, for I think the corner children like them. The corner uncle does.

When the J.R.C. group becomes large enough we may have a correspondence group. Would any of the cousins like to write to J.R.C. groups in a faraway country?

Hoping to hear from some of the corner boys and girls, and wishing every one a happy, busy week, I am Yours faithfully,
UNCLE JIM.

ONCE UPON A TIME

White Feather lived in a wigwam and wore a leather skirt. Her home was in the great forest of an unexplored country and she, the daughter of a chief, was virtually mistress of what she surveyed. Near the tribal dwelling lot flowed the river, the great river that wound its way through the woods and mysteriously into the still greater ocean. Some trading Indians had come at one time or another with tales of the ocean that was so big that no canoe could sail across it. Once Medono, the medicine man, had returned from a coast trip with news of a white sail far out upon the water. He thought it was a winged messenger of God and trembled at the sight. And now White Feather and all her clansmen stood transfixed in a similar awe, for coming slowly and gracefully up their own river was a strange vessel with a massive white sail. "God's messengers," cried the Indians and fell upon their knees.

The boat was anchored and a smaller boat lowered over the side. Three men in the small craft handled

DANVILLE, Que., Oct. 21.—A very pretty wedding was solemnized recently at the home of Mr. Oscar F. Blake, at St. Felix de Kingsley, when Miss Hilda May Turvey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Turvey, became the bride of Mr. Harry Oral Blake. The ceremony, which was witnessed by some thirty guests, was performed by the Rev. E. G. Warren.

Following the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served, after which the bride and groom left for their honeymoon trip.

The many useful and beautiful gifts which were received by the young couple testified to the high esteem in which they are held by their many friends.

WEMBLEY DEFICIT.

World Fairs, District Fairs and County Fairs never pay financially, so far as the balance of accounts as between receipts and expenses go. The great Empire show at Wembley is said to show a heavy balance on the wrong side.

"From the financial standpoint this is to be regretted; yet it is not of necessity a poor showing," remarks the Montreal Gazette. "On the contrary, it may well be an indication of how the Empire itself has grown since the exhibition of 1851, and, to this degree, be a positive certificate of merit. Soon after the Sydenham Exhibition, a meeting of the commissioners was held, at which it was pointed out that exhibitions of this kind would tend to bulk until they became unwieldy and mulct their promoters in a fiscal penalty. It was therefore proposed that future exhibitions should be divided into sections and held in accord with a limited list. In point of fact, out of six great exhibitions held in various parts of the world—such as at all can be compared with the enterprise at Wembley—not one of them has balanced the bill. The Paris affair of 1855 cost seven times the amount of the money received through the gate. At Vienna in 1873 the expenses were two million pounds in excess of the takings. At the Philadelphia Exposition of 1876, the financial loss was close upon a million pounds. At London, in 1862, and again at Paris, in 1867, so far as coinage profits were concerned, the promoters were on the wrong side of the hedge. The deficit upon the Wembley account, therefore, should not occasion any great surprise; seeing that the number of exhibits and exhibitors cover a vastly wider range than anything heretofore attempted, and collections made from the uttermost parts of the Earth have a significance alike in number, cost and effect that could not apply a few generations ago. Today conditions are such that the cost of organizing and gathering together the materials for an Exhibition of Industrial Arts is morally certain to outweigh any emoluments gained through the visiting crowds; and especially during the brief period allotted for show purposes. It is questionable whether a gigantic market itself on such a scale could be made to pay, let alone an enterprise where the vast majority of the exhibits are not for sale."

"Wembley has already achieved a good deal in this direction, and more is bound to follow. In the long run, and considering the Wembley Exhibition as a huge Empire advertisement with future prospects of trade returns, it may yet turn out a very real success."

THE COST OF LAWSUITS.

Some years ago the late Mr. Chicoque, of Sherbrooke, a member of the Quebec Legislature, and himself a lawyer endeavored to have a bill passed at Quebec to be known as the Conciliation bill. It was intended to do away with unnecessary lawsuits and thereby save the people a lot of money.

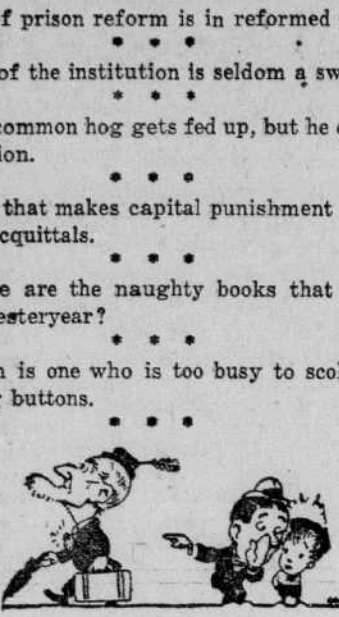

The proposal, however, never came into effect. This may have been partly due to certain unfriendliness on the part of the legal fraternity, but probably more on account of indifference on the part of the public. Some people like a fight in the courts and they always go in with a sense of the justice of their cause. The judgment and the subsequent costs accounts come in their turn but they are not anticipated in the initial stages.

The Toronto Mail and Empire reviews some really big court costs in which millionaires have indulged. "It is probable that more money has been spent in lawsuits than has been lost in horse racing, and there are people to whom one is about as fascinating a sport as the other," remarks this paper. "There is a case now before the American courts, that of the disposition of the estate of the late Jay Gould, that is said to have shattered all records for expensiveness, and it is still continuing, with the probability that it will continue for years, since there is no dearth of money and no dearth of lawyers. One of the counsel the other day, rising to rebuke another lawyer for his desire to read a certain document into the records of the case, observed that the trial was diminishing the estate at the rate of $41 a minute, or $2,500 an hour. However, Jay Gould left $80,000,000, over which several heirs are quarrelling. It is unanimously agreed by lawyers in that class that $500 a day is a reasonable fee for a good lawyer in court, and we presume that a four-hour session would be regarded as a day. It is recalled by the New York World that one of the largest fees on record, if not the largest, was that charged the pioneer retail merchant, A. T. Stewart, by Judge Henry Hilton. Stewart dropped in on the judge one day and casually asked him, 'Is it advisable to do so and so?' The lawyer answered equally casually, 'No,' and later on sent in a bill for $10,000, the conversation being represented as a 'consultation.' Some years ago it used to be said that the firm of Everts, Choate and Beaman did half the legal business of New York, and received about half the money spent in litigation. Once Edward Lauterbach was associated with the firm as counsel and later on discussed with Choate the fee to be charged his client. He mentioned what he considered a large sum, but Choate promptly doubled it. Lauterbach stared at him, with his eyes bulging. Then he gasped, 'Almost thou persuadest me to become a Christian.' Commodore Vanderbilt was once presented with a legal bill for $400,000. He did not directly question the reasonableness of the charge, but remarked coldly that if he paid he would not again require the services of the attorney. 'That does not matter,' was the cheerful answer. 'I intend to retire from practice when you have paid my bill.' In 1917 it was common gossip that Stephen H. Baldwin, of New York, had received a fee of $800,000 for settling a disagreement between certain of the Guggenheim brothers. The late Philander C. Knox is credited with having been paid $700,000 for doing seven days of uninterrupted work for the United States Steel Corporation. The fees are not outrageous in cases involving great sums of money for the lawyers can usually prove that they save or gain much more for their clients than they charge them, and that their rake-off is merely a reasonable percentage of money they have earned for those called upon to pay it."

B. & M. TO CEASE OPERATING ST. J. & L. C. RAILWAY

Road Has Been Running for Years Without Profit — Has Had Hard History.

ST. JOHNSBURY, Vt., Oct. 21.—After fighting a losing battle for years in their efforts to operate the St. Johnsbury and Lake Champlain Railroad at a profit, the Boston and Maine Railroad has stated that it would shortly cease to operate the road.

Never, since the first train over the St. Johnsbury and Lake Champlain road was run from St. Johnsbury to Hardwick Jan. 1, 1871, up to the present day, has the road paid a single penny of dividends to any stockholder, either of former or present record, and, for many, many years the road has even failed to make operating expenses.

For years the Boston and Maine has operated the road at a loss paying the annual deficit out of other earnings of the holding company. The Boston and Maine management, it was stated had decided that it no longer could operate the road, and, was therefore, planning to turn the road back to a management of Vermont men, and would cease entirely from its control of the road.

This announced intention of the Boston & Maine, if carried out, will mean, in short, that the St. Johnsbury & Lake Champlain railroad, in all likelihood, will cease to operate. All train service, may be suspended, all of the men employed by the railroad may be thrown out of work, men now receiving or anticipating pensions may be cut off from the company's books and business in the towns now being served by the road may suffer to an incalculable extent.

The announcement of the contemplated action of the Boston & Maine made at a hearing before the Vermont public service commission held at the courthouse, here, came like a bombshell; entirely unexpected. Just what action would be taken by the stockholders of the company no one was willing to say. It is known, however, that a drastic reorganization of the management of the road will follow.

The announcement was made by Atty. Thornton Alexander of Boston, attorney for the Boston & Maine. He stated that it was necessary to reduce expenses by the elimination of such service as the traffic was not sufficient to support.

PRESS COMMENT

GOOD BUSINESS.
 (Hamilton Herald)
 Don't underestimate the value of the tourist trade. It is officially estimated that last year tourists left $136,000,000 in Canada.

ON BOBBED HAIR.
 (Brantford Expositor)
 A newspaper despatch says the Prince of Wales danced—eleven times in one night with a St. Louis girl who has thus far refused to bob her hair. When he gets back to the E.P. ranch he will probably refuse to look at any sheep that have been sheared.

THE BICYCLE REVIVAL.
 (Hamilton Spectator)
 Delegates to the seventh annual convention of the Canadian Bicycle Dealers' Association have made the discovery that it is not the advent of the automobile that wrecked the industry years ago, but lack of intelligent advertising, which, now being applied, is rapidly restoring the bicycle trade. Advertising is the great physician for sick and rundown businesses.

IN CALGARY SCHOOLS.
 (Calgary Albertan)
 The results of the recent examinations officially given by the Department of Education show that the Calgary schools are no better than the small schools in various parts of the Province, and poorer than some. When it is remembered that, except in the larger cities and towns, the high school pupil gets instruction in poorly equipped schools, with teachers giving instruction in all subjects, some teaching in both public and high schools, the result is not flattering to the Calgary schools.

NOT START AS CHIEF.
 (Winnipeg Tribune)
 Sir Arthur Currie would be welcome in the arena of public affairs, if so he desires to enter it. His record in the service of his country entitles him to a respectful hearing and high regard. But leadership, in peace, as in war, should go to those who earn it by displaying the qualities essential to it. Sir Arthur did in war. If he can in peace, his services are surely needed. But he would have to win his way in public affairs as he did in the war. He did not start his army career as Commander-in-Chief.

JAPAN SCORES A POINT.
 (Toronto Globe)
 The peace and arbitration plan of the League of Nations Assembly, which was nearly wrecked by Japan's sudden demurrer, has been saved, but at some loss.

The Japanese delegates have withdrawn their first amendment to Article 5 of the arbitration protocol which defines an aggressor State, and have assented to a reservation which has the defects as well as the merits of a compromise expedient. The original proposal of Japan sought to deny finality to any decision by the World Court which declared a dispute between two States to be non-justiciable because it referred to a purely domestic matter. The Tokyo Government, still smarting under recent legislation at Washington, had the immigration question at the back of its mind. Article 5, unless qualified, would brand Japan as an aggressor State if it refused to submit to the World Court any controversy it might have with another nation, or if it rejected the Court's verdict. The Japanese delegates sought to constrain the League Council to deal with such a case, regardless of the Court's position or judgment. Such a reservation would have undermined the whole structure which the Assembly has been building up.

BURY

A meeting of the St. Paul's W.A. was held recently at the home of Mrs. S. J. Prangley. There was a good attendance. The usual routine business and religious exercises were carried out under the leadership of the vice-president. Prayers were offered for the absent sick members. The talent money brought in already is in advance of last year. The annual social gathering of the Little Helpers will take place in the Town Hall on Saturday afternoon next, 25th inst.

On Thursday next at 7.30 p.m., a harvest thanksgiving service will be held in St. Thomas' Church, Bown, when Rev. (Major) Buckland will preach.

A meeting of the St. Thomas' Guild will be held on Saturday afternoon next at the residence of Mrs. Stanley Herring.

The St. Paul's Guild harvest supper was an unqualified success from every point of view. The supper itself was excellent and was well served. A pleasant social evening followed. The Rector thanked the audience on behalf of the Guild for their patronage and introduced each of the speakers, namely, Rev. (Major) Buckland, Rev. A. J. Vibert and Rev. E. M. Wilson. Father Desautel was unavoidably absent.

Musical selections were played by Miss Pansy Trombly and Mrs. Thos. Morrow. There was no sale of work in connection with the supper, but one will be held later. Proceeds from the supper were $104.

The appearance of St. Thomas' Church, Bown, has been considerably improved in having been painted. The Guild undertook the responsibility of paying for it. A nicely painted notice board with the name of the church and hour of service will prove itself very useful.

A Romance of the Spanish Main

CAPTAIN BLOOD
 By RAFAEL SABATINI

Copyrighted, 1922 by Rafael Sabatini.

"CAPTAIN BLOOD," a Vitaphone picture with J. Warren Kerrigan in the title role, is an adaptation of this thrilling novel.

They went, of course. For one thing the Spaniard had force to compel them; for another a ship, which he announced to be sinking offered them little inducement to remain.

They stayed no longer than was necessary to enable Miss Bishop to collect some spare articles of dress and my lord to snatch up his valise.

As for the survivors in that ghastly shambles that had been the Royal Mary, they were abandoned by the Spaniards to their own resources. Let them take to the boats, and if they did not suffice them, let them swim or drown. If Lord Julian and Miss Bishop were retained, it was because Don Miguel perceived their obvious value. He received them in his cabin with great urbanity.

Urbanely he desired to have the honor of being acquainted with their names.

Lord Julian, sick with horror of the spectacle he had just witnessed, commanded himself with difficulty to supply them. Then haughtily he demanded to know in his turn the name of their aggressor. He was in an exceedingly ill-temper. He realized that if he had done nothing positively discreditable in the usual and difficult position into which Fate had thrust him, at least he had done nothing creditable. This might have mattered less but that the spectator of his indifferent performance was a lady. He was determined if possible to do better now.

"I am Don Miguel de Espinosa," he was answered. "Admiral of the Navies of the Catholic King."

Lord Julian gasped. If Spain made such a hubbub about the depredations of a runaway adventure like Captain Blood, what could not England answer now?

"Will you tell me, then, why you behave like a damned pirate?" he asked. And added: "I hope you realize what will be the consequences, and the strict account to which you shall be brought for this day's work, for the blood you have murderously shed, and for your violence to this lady and to myself."

"I offer you no violence," said the Admiral smiling, as only the man who holds the trumps can smile. "On the contrary, I have saved your lives..."

"Saved our lives!" Lord Julian was momentarily speechless before such audacious impudence. "And what of the lives you have destroyed in wanton butchery? By God, man, they shall cost you dear."

Don Miguel's smile persisted. "It is possible. All things are possible. Meantime it is your own lives that will cost you dear. Colonel Bishop is a rich man; and your mildred are no doubt also rich. I will consider and fix your ransom."

"So that you're just the damned murderous pirate I was supposing you," stormed his lordship. "And you have the impudence to call yourself the Admiral of the Navies of the Catholic King? We shall see what your Catholic King will have to say to it."

The Admiral ceased to smile. He revealed something of the rage that had eaten into his brain. "You do not understand," he said. "It is that I treat you English heretic dogs just as you English heretic dogs have treated Spaniards upon the seas—you you hobbers and thieves out of hell! I have the honesty to do it in my own name—but you, you perfidious beasts, you send your Captain Bloods for what they do. Lake Pilate, you wash your hands." He laughed savagely. "Let Spain play the part of Pilate. Let her disclaim responsibility for me, when your ambassador at the Escorial shall go whining to the Supreme Council of this act of piracy by Don Miguel de Espinosa."

"Captain Blood and the rest are not admirals of England!" cried Lord Julian.

"Are they not?" How do I know? How does Spain know? Are you not liars all, you English heretics?"

"Sir!" Lord Julian's voice was harsh as a rasp, his eyes flashed. Instinctively he swung a hand to the place where his sword habitually hung. Then he shrugged and sneered: "Of course," said he, "it sorts with all I have heard of Spanish honor and all that I have seen of yours that you should insult a man who is unarmed and your prisoner."

The Admiral's face flamed scarlet. He half raised his hand to strike. And then, restrained, perhaps, by the very words that had cloaked the retorting insult, he turned on his heel abruptly and went out without answering.

MEXICO STATE IS IN REVOLT OVER ELECTION

Sinaloa Has Refused to Recognize Election of Calles as President of Mexico—Claim Fraud Resorted to in Election.

(Associated Press Despatch) NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 21.—According to copies of El Universal, Mexico City newspaper received here, the state of Sinaloa, one of the most powerful northern states of Mexico, has refused through its governor and congress, to recognize the election of Plutarco Elias Calles, as president of Mexico, and has flung out the banner of revolt.

Sinaloa is the native state of General Ganel Flores, candidate for president in opposition to Calles. The Flores faction has charged that wholesale fraud and ballot box stuffing were resorted to by the Obregon-Calles faction.

Jacob Franks Declares Murderers of His Son Must Never Get Their Freedom.

(Associated Press Despatch) CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Plans for a trust fund that may be used after his death to oppose any efforts to free Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, have been announced by Jacob Franks, father of the boy they killed.

"The murderers must never get freedom," he declared. "A lenient governor, a shrewd lawyer, an indifferent people—and their liberation would be the matter of only a short time, unless provision were made to combat any effort to get them out of Joliet."

"I don't know how long I shall live. During my life I will fight any move to defeat justice. After my death the trust fund will be available."

ELECTION WILL BE HELD SOON IN GERMANY

President Ebert Orders Dissolution of Reichstag on Request of Chancellor Marx.

(Associated Press Despatch) BERLIN, Oct. 21.—The Reichstag was dissolved by President Ebert last evening. After futile efforts to construct a bourgeois bloc which would definitely control a safe majority in the Reichstag, Chancellor Marx appealed to President Ebert for a decree of dissolution and writs for new elections.

The refusal of the Democrats to participate in a ministry which extended only in the direction of the Nationalists proved the deciding factor in the Chancellor's decision to abandon the negotiations, especially as his own party also was in open revolt against any pact, which would drive the Socialists into opposition.

As was the case in the spring campaign, the Dawes report will again be the outstanding issue in the forthcoming elections, in that the Democrats and Clericals will demand the continuation of Germany's foreign policies along the lines enunciated by the retiring Cabinet and which were wholly dictated and shaped by the issues revolving around Germany's acceptance and fulfillment of the Dawes plan. In this both bourgeois parties have the active support of the Socialists.

Just what will be the slogan of Stressemann's People's party and the Hertig-von Tirpitz party cannot be foreshadowed. It is plain from the progress of the inter-party negotiations conducted by Chancellor Marx during the past six weeks that both Democrats and Clericals bitterly resent the double dealing with which they charge the leaders of the People's party and which is said to consist of a secret promise to Hertig that the Nationalists would be definitely received into the Government and given leading Cabinet posts as a reward for their partial support of the Dawes plan when it came up for final acceptance late in August.

The Chancellor exhausted every expedient at his command in order to avoid new elections, but the confusion thrown into the situation by Stressemann's party through its espousal of the Nationalists and its open affront to the Socialists made further parley impossible.

ELECTION TO BE HELD ON DECEMBER 7 (Associated Press Despatch) BERLIN, Oct. 21.—The German general election will be held on December 7, it was definitely announced today.

QUEER ELEMENT IN CONNECTION WITH ROBBERY

Woman Who Was Robbed Disappears—Watch and Ring Were Stolen.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Apartment bandits operating with methods similar to those used in the robberies of Edith Bobe, Dot King and Louise Lawson early today invaded a fashionable building at 100 Central Park south, and with unusual daring, robbed Mrs. Helen Heyworth of a $500 platinum diamond ring, and Alfred Hannan of 240 West 58th street of a $400 watch.

A strange element in the robbery is the departure of Mrs. Heyworth and Mr. Hannan from the apartment house soon after the police arrived. Reporters who reached the scene at about one a.m. saw Mrs. Heyworth get away in a car that bore a license plate number corresponding to that issued to Mrs. Gerald H. Dempsey, daughter of former Justice Morgan J. O'Brien.

Mystery surrounding the robbery was still further accentuated when Detective Inspector Coughlin said that a photograph of Mrs. Heyworth corresponded closely to one of Mrs. Helen Patterson Heyworth, fiancée of "Dapper Don" Collins, the international crook.

Hannan is a grandson of the man who founded the show business of that name.

The three bandits forced an elevator operator at the point of pistols to take them to the seventh floor. There they entered Mrs. Heyworth's apartment and lined two men and two women against a wall with hands held high. Their escape was as easy and dramatic as their entrance. The victims and the detectives who investigated have sought to cloud the affair in secrecy, refusing to discuss it in any way.

Hannan, who is said to be wealthy, is married and has two children. He owns three motor cars, his secretary refused to wake him this morning to discuss the robbery.

The robbery occurred at about 12.15 a.m. Mrs. Heyworth had returned to her apartment half an hour before from dinner with friends living on Park avenue. As she approached the apartment building she noticed that three men were walking behind her. They were well dressed, young and seemed to be paying no attention to her.

TRADE MUST BE DEVELOPED IN EVERY QUARTER

Vancouver Board of Trade Urges Transportation Outlet for the Peace River District.

(Associated Press Despatch) VANCOUVER, B.C., Oct. 21.—Premier King, before whom the Vancouver Board of Trade yesterday laid their memorial urging a transportation outlet for the Peace River district, said "it is a question of raising the money for these large undertakings. However, we recognize that trade must be developed in every quarter if the country is to grow and the public debt paid off. Our railways need the opening up of all the new country we can develop. But we have only a half dozen supporters in Parliament elected from the west, and our eastern supporters are inclined to question work that we undertake out here when they have no public works carried on in their ridings for ten years on account of the war."

SUGGESTION MET WITH PREMIER'S APPROVAL (Associated Press Despatch) VANCOUVER, B.C., Oct. 21.—Suggestion by Ian MacKenzie, M.L.A., soldiers' advocate in pension appeals, that they might undertake madamus proceedings in the court to compel the board of pension commissioners to abide by the decisions of the Federal appeal boards established on recommendation of the Ralston investigation commission, met with Premier King's expressed approval yesterday.

"That is a splendid idea," said the Premier, "go ahead and try it out."

The incident occurred while the Premier was receiving a series of deputations on re-establishment and pensions matters.

(Associated Press Despatch) SASKATOON, Sask., Oct. 21.—W. H. Paulson, Saskatchewan candidate, was elected to represent the constituency of Wynyard in the Provincial by-election yesterday. PLEA FOR REMOVAL OF RESTRICTIONS AGAINST TEACHING OF FRENCH

Senator Beaubien Declares Language Is Question that Separates Ontario and Quebec.

(Associated Press Despatch) TORONTO, Oct. 21.—An eloquent plea for the removal of the restrictions against the teaching of the French language in the schools in certain parts of Ontario was voiced by Senator Charles Philip Beaubien, of Montreal, before the Young Men's Club of the Toronto Board of Trade, Canada, said the speaker, had never been faced with such grave problems as existed today, and in searching for the solution of these problems the closest harmony was desirable between the great races which composed the population of the country. Language, he said, was the question that separated Ontario and Quebec, because the French tongue was banished in some parts of Ontario.

KEEN FIGHT IN ONTARIO OVER LIQUOR VOTE

Opposing Workers Are Feverishly Canvassing Every City and Town to Arouse Their Followers.

(Associated Press Despatch) TORONTO, Oct. 21.—Only two questions appear on the present plebiscite ballot, 2,000,000 of which have been printed, and on the answer returned hangs the fate of the Ontario Temperance Act, introduced by Premier Hearst in 1916 as a war measure, and the question of the sale of beer and spirituous liquors in sealed packages under government control.

Twenty-four hours only remains for the opposing workers, who are canvassing every city, town and borough, to arouse their followers, and as the hour for the test of strength approaches the number of meetings have been increased by both factions.

Will Ontario join the ranks of the western provinces and revert from its hitherto dry policy? This is a question which can only be definitely answered on Thursday evening when the ballots are counted.

Bearing in mind that in 1919 with a slightly different form of ballot, the O.T.A. was upheld by a majority of two to one, while approximately 80,000 of those who opposed the repeal of the O.T.A. voted in favor of government control, the opponents of the act have waged a strenuous battle in the present campaign.
